RECRIMINATION, NOT OLIVE BRANCH

No Tendency to Conciliation in Coal Strike

SHIP MINE HORSES TO PRAIRIES

Train Crews Will Be Laid Off --Fifteen Hundred Non-Union Men Idle

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B. C., April 2.—The elapse of two days since the declaration of the strike in the coal fields of the British Columbia Crows Nest Pass and Alberta shows the strike to be complete, there being, so far as the local officials of district No. 18 of the United Mine Workers know, not a union mine worker at work in the mines of this territory, with the exception of Corbin, which is under the special agreement. Beside the union men out, about 5,500, it is estimated that 1,500 non-union men have been obliged to quit, through the properties discontinuing operations.

Miners Departing.

Locally, Fernie is emptying of employes of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company, while on the Coal Creek tipple are long lines of cars containing 1,600 tons, the coal raised by the last shift on Friday night. This, with care, will last the company some time for keeping the pumping machinery going and the colliery in order. The company has reduced the force of engineers and pumpmen to the minimum, and is arranging to immediately ship 250 of the mine horses to the prairie.

Indignation at Bellevue.

There has been no communication with Bellevue, where the miners had an indignation meeting billed for this afternoon, to protest against the action of the West Canadian collieries in posting a notice that after April 1 the occupants of company houses would be required to pay rent in advance. There is, however, great indignation here over that move, the company's action being considered unwarrantably harsh in view of the fact that the colliery has not been operating since the great disaster, while it is also held that the company has showed a singularly want of feeling, considering the circumstances, which are fresh in public memory. Some, at least, of the 19 widows created by the disaster are still company tenants. C. Stubbs, vice president of district No. 18, owns 150 acres at Bellevue, on which, if required, tents can be erected. It is probable that the miners will invite ejectment proceedings.

No Disturbances.

No disturbances have occurred at any point, so far as known, and the reports regarding the military are generally discounted.

No more in the direction of conciliation, by either party, has yet been recorded, J. D. McNiven, fair wage officer, not having received application from either operators or men for a conciliation board. Mr. McNiven, also, has received no further communications from the department of labor. The next developments will probably be in connection with the meeting of the district executive here tomorrow, and in connection with a meeting of the executive of the Western Coal Operators' association which, it is understood, will be held shortly. Instead of the olive branch, recriminations are in the air.

President's Statement.

James Ashworth, president of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company, tonight issued the following statement:

"Apparently the impression has become very widespread that one of the important points upon which the conference at Calgary split was that of a 'closed shop' at the mines of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company, and that impression seems to indicate that this company is endeavoring to secure something which it had not under the agreement which expired Friday night. So that that impression, which is erroneous, may be corrected, I desire to say that the mines of this company never worked under a 'closed shop' agreement. The record of the proceedings which terminated early in 1909 by James D. Hurd, then general manager of the company, withdrawing from the Western Coal Operators' association, and making an agreement covering the mines of this company only with district No. 18 of the United Mine Workers of America, then represented by Messrs. Sherman, Galvin, Carter, Biggs and Whitehouse, show that Mr. Hurd arranged with the union officials to publish in the Labor Gazette a clause known as the 'discrimination' clause, which provided that no discrimination would be shown against union or non-union men. Mr. Hurd, in so doing, followed a precedent established in 1907, when a similar clause had been published in the same paper. After the agreement was signed the clause in question was duly published in the Labor Gazette.

"As this understanding was questioned by the miners' representatives, Mr. Hurd was asked to state his recollection, which he does by telegram, and therein says:

" 'Both miners' representatives agreed that we should have the exact discrimination clause as agreed to with other operators.'

"The arrangement made with the other operators is a matter of record open to all, and covered by their printed agreement.

"This should make clear the fact that the miners' officials are preventing the discussion of a new agreement on insufficient grounds, and that the vital question at issue is whether the advance in wages shall be 5.55 or 12 1-2 per cent.

"The operators made the offer of the 5.55 per cent advance to save a strike or suspension of work, but this offer was not taken into discussion by the representatives of the miners, who moved for adjournment sine die."

Mr. Carter Replies.

Mr. Ashworth's statement was shown to A. J. Carter, secretary-treasurer of district No. 18, whose subdistrict contains half the total number of men affected. Mr. Carter said:

"Mr. Hurd, I am told, is in Alabama. It is a pity Mr. Ashworth has not given out the text of his telegram to Mr. Hurd, as that might throw some light on Mr. Hurd's remarkable reply.

"At the time in question the Crows Nest Pass Coal company, under Mr. Hurd, withdrew from the Western Coal Operators' association and made an agreement with us, on the basis of giving us as nearly absolute a closed shop as the law would allow. There were certain legal difficulties in the way of an absolute closed shop. Our working agreement was of this nature, that in the case of engineers or men requiring certain qualifications, if men quit, and there were no union men at hand to employ, we would not object to his taking on non-union men. But for all the ordinary operations of mining he was to employ only union men. That was actually in force throughout the two years in practice.

Shall Not Discriminate.

"Now, the discrimination clause of the Western Coal Operators' association which Mr. Ashworth claims we have been working under provides that the union shall not discriminate against non-union men. If that was in force, will Mr. Ashworth please produce from the company's letter book a single letter to the district executive requesting that the union put into force its side of this alleged compact? Mr. Hurd, a remarkably able business man, was manager of the company for five months after the agreement was signed and he never wrote us a line on the subject, nor yet has Mr. Ashworth.

"Furthermore, will some one inform me what object the union could possibly have in accepting a discrimination clause in the case of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company, and in refusing it in the case of the Western Coal Operators' association, considering that at the Macleod conference both operators and men agreed on the principle that the agreement then under negotiation should involve neither increase in the cost of producing coal nor decrease in the men's earning power? It is only logical to conclude that we had some inducement to make an agreement with the company apart from the matter of wage schedules.

"Let me quote, too, from the stenographic report of the Calgary conference, to absolutely settle this point. On March 6 Mr. Stockett, president of the Western Coal Operators' association, was asked this question: 'Do you consider the present agreement between the Crows Nest Pass Coal company and district No. 18 is a closed shop agreement?' His reply was: 'I would reply to Mr. Stubbs' question by quoting his own statement before this meeting, that the agreement he refers to was a closed shop agreement, and that almost half of the district were working under a closed shop agreement. In our opinion it is ambiguous, and in order that there may be no misunderstanding we will accept Mr. Stubbs' statement that it is a closed shop agreement.'

"To Mr. Stockett we then replied that his statement was not definite enough and, at the request of Mr. Stubbs, Mr. Stockett amended his statement by making it to read: 'As near a closed shop agreement as it was possible to make it.'

"As to the sine die adjournment Mr. Ashworth refers to, the records will show it was mutual.

"It is not true that the dispute is on the wage matter alone. There are many matters involved, two of which are major ones. One of these is that of wages. The other is that of shop, which we desire to remain as at present, in the forms in which it is covered by the recent agreements in the several territories covered."

REBELS ARE SHOT DOWN LIKE RATS

Diaz Troops Pay Surprise Visit to Rebel Camp

NO SENTRIES OUT AFTER ORGY

Not Expecting Attack, Officers Give Dance—Fugitives Shot Down

CHICHUAHUA, Mexico, April 2—Thirty-four rebels were killes and many were wounded in a clash between a detachment of 350 federal soldiers and 150 insurrectios at Aldama on Friday night. The insurrectios are said to have been shot down like rats in a running fight following the attack by the federals. The Diaz soldiers declare they lost only four men killed, two of whom were lieutenants.

The rout followed an orgy which the insurrectios staged after they had marched into Aldama without resistance early on Friday. Not expecting attack the officers issued invitations to a dance and then began killing off 20 head of cattle, announcing that they were preparing the beef for the support of 1000 rebels encamped some distance south of the city of Chihuahua. At the dance both the rebels and their guests drank heavily and late in the night the insurrectios pitched their camp in a grove near the edge of the town. No sentries were out when the federals launched their attack and few of the rebels had their guns. They fled toward the town and were shot down as they ran. Among the rebel dead are Captains Francisco and Jose Portillo, brothers.

Bombs in Dance Hall

EL PASO, Texas, April 2—Early this morning three bombs were exploded in a dance hall near the soldiers' quarters in Juarez which destroyed the place and killed and maimed a number of people. The garrison was immediately ordered out and Gen. Navarro rushed to the scene. Soldiers surrounded the wrecked building and have effectually prevented the disclosure of any particulars.

Rurales are patrolling Juarez and communication between Juarez and El Paso has been cut except by telephone. People in Juarez were ordered off the streets immediately and the rurales and police began patrolling the disturbed quarter. A heavy guard was stationed at the state prison and along the main thoroughfare leading to it. A report gained circulation that the bombs were exploded against the walls of the prison to wreck it.

A short time before the explosion two Americans had trouble with negroes at the race track in which shots were fired, one of the Americans, Jesse Burchell, being wounded, but not fatally. The other American, whose name is not given, also was injured. Three officers, members of Gen. Navarro's staff are said to be among the injured. No arrests have yet been made.

FOUND DEAD ON ICE

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., April 2—Roger Genereux, of this district, aged 35 years, was found dead on the ice under the Canadian Northern bridge over the Saskatchewan river at an early hour this morning. On Friday evening he had been drinking around the city with a number of companions and it is supposed either that he fell by accident between the ties of the bridge or that there was a drunken brawl which resulted in his death. The police are now investigating the whole case and an inquest is to be held on Monday. Genereux was a member of one of the oldest families in the Nation settlement and had been working all winter in the lumber camps at Big River. His pay check was found on the body.

SUICIDE FOLLOWED BY SCENE OF PANIC

While Searching for Body Gas Explosion Shakes Building and Inflicts Terrible Burns

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 2—The striking of a match to light the way in a dark hall in a hunt for the body of Ole Otten, 35 years old, who had taken his own life a few moments before, caused a terrific explosion from gas shortly before midnight last night in the residence at 2307 6th street south, that resulted in terrible burns to four persons, one a woman, and shattered every pane of glass in the house, tore doors from their hinges and shook pictures and dishes to the floor. The accident is one of the most weird in the history of Minneapolis police annals. Penned in a narrow hall filled with flame and sickening fumes a crowd of men and women fought and trod on the man's body that was blown from the bath room where his life had been taken.

The south side police station was notified shortly before 11 o'clock that some one had taken his life in a bath room at 2307 6th street south. Sergt. Knoudson was sent to the place. He found Patrolman Eklund preparing to enter the house. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stone, the latter a sister of the deceased, and some neighbors, were waiting to follow the officers. The body was in the bathroom at the rear of the hall on the second floor. The policeman had his electric flash light and in advance of the crowd. As he reached the bath room some one struck a match; no one will admit doing it. The explosion followed instantly and the roar followed by screams and terrific yells brought the neighbors to the scene. Tossed about by the terrific force the unfortunate people lost their sense of direction and stumbled into the bath room, dashed against doors and fell over the body on the floor. The flashlight of the officer saved the situation from what might have been a den of insanity.

STRIKE MAKING FARMERS UNEASY

Shortage of Coal May Decrease Acreage of Breaking in Alberta—Weather Favorable

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 2—Snow fell yesterday and today, being exactly what was required for both winter wheat and spring seeding. The precipitation for three months this year is the largest for several years and twice that of the same period last year. Seeding operations are general all over southern Alberta. Harrowing and discing and plowing on broken land is being prosecuted to the full extent. In ten days or two weeks steam plows will be breaking the sod. The increase of spring wheat is hard to judge and the amount of breaking will depend largely on the supply of coal for the engines. The strike is making the farmers very uneasy. Many gasoline engines are used but chiefly on land already broken. In spite of the strike there will be a large increase in acreage.

INVESTIGATE PLAGUE CONDITIONS

PEKIN, April 2—The Chinese authorities have made elaborate preparations for the international medical conference which will begin at Mukden tomorrow for the purpose of investigating the plague situation. Doctors of many nations are in attendance, some American delegates and several Russian women.

ASQUITH'S BROTHER-IN-LAW IN NELSON TODAY

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 2.—Lord Glenconner and party of old country capitalists, who have been on the coast for the last two weeks, have left for the east. The journey will be made via the Crow's Nest Pass, the party expecting to arrive in Nelson Monday night.

SUDDEN DEATH IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, April 2.—Mrs. Bella Ross, aged 38, of the northern section of the city, died suddenly this morning. She was taken ill on a car while on her way to church. She was removed to her home, but died before medical aid arrived. Apoplexy was the cause. She came from Orillia and the remains will be shipped east for interment.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We all desire to see the cars running again—and in what more effective manner could we boost the city of Nelson—than by buying Nelson Street Railway stock?

All citizens are vitally interested in this matter and we now invite all to become interested in the company; we should all be owners of the system. Now is your opportunity. The shares are $1.00 each, par value and they can be paid for in four installments. Subscription lists are open at the office of the Western Canada Investment Co.

The stock, we believe, is a good buy. It should be a dividend payer from the start.

REPUBLICANS PLAN CAMPAIGN

Tack Obnoxious Amendments to Reciprocity Bill

PUT MANUFACTURES ON FREE LIST

Sauce for the Goose Is Sauce for the Gander--Extend Principle

WASHINGTON, April 2—The plan to be pursued by the Republican opposition to the Canadian agreement bill was announced yesterday upon the authority of regular and insurgent republican senators to be that of endeavoring to secure amendments in the bill whereby many manufactured articles that are products of the United States and Canada shall be transferred to the free list. This course is said to be based on the idea that on a straight vote, if it were taken at any time in the senate, the majority would be in favor of the passage of the measure.

Add Amendments

The senators opposing the bill do not believe it would be possible to defeat it on a straight vote and their only hope is to place in the measure such amendments as will make it especially obnoxious, not only to the Canadian authorities, but to the manufacturers in the industrial centres just as it is now claimed the measure is distasteful to the farmers of all the border states. In speaking of the course to pursued, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, who is a member of the finance committee, said:

"We have only one sure and effective way of attacking this obnoxious Canadian agreement bill and that is by giving protectionists in the manufacturing centres the same kind of treatment they propose in the agreement shall be given to the farmers. We Republicans in the agricultural states are protectionists and we insist that a full measure of protection shall at all times be accorded agricultural products as well as manufactured products. If there is to be any departure from this established policy of the Republican party it must apply to manufactured goods as well as to agricultural staples."

To Reduce Woollen Duties

The Republicans in the senate are expressing the opinion that within a reasonable time the Canadian agreement bill will pass the house without modification. This bill will pass with practically the entire vote of the Democrats in the house and with a majority of the Republicans. It is the expectation of the Republican leaders in both houses, however, that the Democratic committee on ways and means in the house will not forward a bill making radical changes in the wool and woollen goods schedule before the Canadian agreement bill is acted upon. The principal feature of the wool bill to come from the ways and means committee is said to be the abolition of all specific duties in the wool and woollen goods schedule and the retention of ad valorem rates of duty. So far as can be learned the insurgent Republicans from the agricultural states are as much opposed to such radical reductions in the wool and woollen schedules as they are to the Canadian agreement bill.

LEG BROKEN BY FALL OF ROCK

Large Force of Men Clearing Right of Way for Aerial Tramway to the Standard Mine

(Special to The Daily News.)

SILVERTON, B.C., April 2—A serious accident occurred today on the new flume which is being constructed by the Standard Silver-Lead Mining Co. Some loose rock, apparently hidden by bushes became suddenly dislodged and came down on some of the workmen without warning. J. A. McInnes sustained a broken leg and other injuries. Superintendent Riebel, who narrowly escaped being caught by the slide, had everything possible done to allay the suffering of the injured man.

New Aerial Tram

A large force of men are now at work clearing the right of way for the new aerial tramway to the Standard mine, an dalso are pushing the work of flume construction. The company has fitted up offices in the Wakefield building of this place and are preparing to rush the work of construction of the mill, power plant, etc.

The Van Roi mill is now running steadily, and turning out a fine product of both lead and zinc concentrates and development at the mine is now going on rapidly, the working force being gradually increased.

WANTS CANADIAN NORTHERN

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 2—The board of trade has decided to go after the Canadian Northern to bring the proposed line into the town of Taber instead of crossing the Belly river about five miles east. The board will call a meeting of the boards of trade in southern Alberta to form an associated board convention on April 14.

THROW BOMBS

MUSCATINE, Iowa, April 2—Three bombs were thrown early today at the homes of button workers who have taken the places of some of the 3000 button factory employees who have been on strike for five weeks. No one was hurt but the houses were damaged. A reward was offered for the bomb throwers.

STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 2—With 4000 carpenters and cabinet makers on strike there is a possibility of a walkout by the 40,000 men of the building trades in the city. A rejected demand for more wages and shorter hours caused the walkout of 4000 carpenters and 600 cabinet makers today. The former demanded an increase of from 60 to 65 cents per hour and the latter 40 cents an hour for a 40 hour week.

PREDICTS ELECTION FOR NEXT AUTUMN

Attorney General Anticipates That Public Opinion Will Force Government to go to the People

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 2.—At a Conservative rally Attorney-General Bowser expressed the opinion that public opinion would force the Dominion government to go to the people for pronouncement on the question of the endorsement of the reciprocity treaty with the States, probably during the autumn. He thought Sir Wilfrid would seek to have the struggle fought before there was a redistribution of seats with resultant additional power for western Canada.

At the same meeting H. H. Watson, M.L.A., referred to the possibility of Premier McBride entering the field of Dominion politics, expressing the hope that his services could be held by the province, but should the premier seek a wider field the speaker thought British Columbia had a good man for his successor in Attorney-General Bowser.

MARCH QUIET MONTH ON 'CHANGE

Speculation in State of Suspension—Last Month Dullest for Seven Years.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The day's vibration of prices of stocks and the small arc traversed by the movement is evidence of the state of suspension in which speculation is held at present. Uncertain opinions over the future course of events account partly for the inertia, which was so pronounced as to make March the dullest month of any since the spring of 1904. Total sales of stock on the exchange in May of that year were 5,228,000 shares; in the month just ended the total was 6,789,000. On March 27 sales were 149,000 shares, the lowest total in three years.

The approach of the end of the supreme court's recess and the nearness of the date on which the new congress is to assemble make restrictive influences which doubtless account for much of the dullness. Confidence is expressed that the speculative fabric is fortified by long anticipation against a supreme court decision unfavorable to the corporations in the anti-trust cases. The question of the scope of congressional activity at the special session, however, especially toward tariff revision, supplies one obvious motive for refraining from speculation. The hesitating course of trade indicates another motive in explanation of the present waiting attitude. The strong money position on the other hand continues to be a helpful factor, the comptroller's abstract of national bank reports for March having gained unusual interest, owing to the comparison with the same price last year, when the reports first gave the alarm over an inflation of banks' credits.

The growth of $155,000,000 in the loan account since January and the large proportion of that increase covered by New York banks' loans point unerringly to the conclusion that the recent bank loans are largely concerned with the flood of flotations to high grade securities which has been going on since the first of the year. The building up of the banks' percentage of reserves and the accumulation of money to a point which depressed money rates to an unusual degree show that some curtailment of enterprise must have gone with the improvement of the banking position. This is corroborative of other indications such as decreased railroad earnings, a shrinkage of bank clearings and a falling off in steel orders.

SPANISH CABINET HAS RESIGNED

Republicans and Clericals Celebrate Joyfully

COURTMARTIAL LAW CAUSE OF DOWNFALL

Premier Feared Revolution—King Hopes to Reconcile Factions

MADRID, April 2.—The cabinet of Premier Canalejas resigned yesterday. The resignation was due to a dilemma in which the ministry was placed by the debate on the Republican motion in favor of a revision of the courtmartial law which resulted in the condemnation of Francisco Ferrer, founder of the modern school. It seems likely that Canalejas will remain premier, although he will probably alter the makeup of his cabinet.

Wild Celebrations.

MADRID, April 2.—Republicans are tonight wildly celebrating the downfall of Canalejas' cabinet, who resigned today after the premier had been in conference with King Alfonso. The resignation of the ministers, while attributed to the clever engineering of Rodrigo Soriano, the Republican leader, in forcing a debate on the revision of the death sentence of Prof. Ferrer, is in reality, it is believed, King Alphonso's surrender to the Clericals.

Clericals Joyful.

At any rate the Clericals are as joyful as the Republicans, and especially declare that the overthrow of Canalejas marks an end of the vigorous anti-church policy of the government. On every hand the story is heard that Alphonso turned his back on the premier after having promised Canalejas all of his support.

Feared Revolution.

The crisis came when Minister of War Azarnar demanded that the Ferrer debate be suppressed at a time Soriano was forcing it. Canalejas refused to interfere, fearing that such action would precipitate a revolution, whereupon the ministry disintegrated, the premier announcing the decision to resign in a body. A majority of the members of the cortes support Canalejas and believe a military cabinet will start a revolution. The king hopes to reconcile the disputants tomorrow, but permanent agreement between the factions seems remote and trouble seems imminent.

The mere fact that the king's advisors issued a statement following the resignations that the government was not menaced in the least is an indication that it is alarmed and took this means of trying to allay public fear.

The Canalejas cabinet was formed February 9, 1909, and was reorganized three months ago. It is rumored here tonight that General Weiler has been charged with the task of forming a new cabinet. Confirmation of the report could not be obtained.

Three Thorny Questions.

ROME, April 2.—The report that Senor Canalejas had been commissioned to form a new cabinet is not welcomed by the vatican, but at the same time it holds the opinion that his new lease of power will not be long. The vatican officials base their beliefs on the fact that there are three questions of grave importance which confront the new cabinet. These are:

First, the Moroccan situation: second, the budget, with a large loan that may be difficult to float, and third, the associations bill, which, it is said here, is opposed even by those outside the religious congregations.

Sydney Fisher minister of agriculture, to succeed Dr. William Saunders, who recently retired as director of experimental farms. An order in council confirming the selection of Mr. Grisdale was passed at a meeting of the council on Saturday. Mr. Grisdale has devoted his life to a study of agricultural matters. He was born 40 years ago at St. Marthe, Que.

FOR SALE AT GREAT SACRIFICE

FRUIT RANCH TWO MILES FROM NELSON

Must Be Sold by April 10. Immediate Possession. Submit Your Offer

This is one of, if not the most highly developed, fruit ranches in the Kootenays today. It consists of one hundred and twenty-five acres, situated about two miles from Nelson, west of the city, and at the point where the lake narrows down into the Kootenay river. The property is reached by launch, rowboat or canoe, a pleasant means of transportation, the distance being short.

On the southern boundary of the property, a wagon road, running from Nelson out to the city power plant traverses the ranch. A road running through the property connects with this road. . On the northern side the Canadian Pacific railway with its four trains daily passes the entrance. The ranch is separated from the lake by the railroad but the intervening strip is only one hundred feet wide. Passenger trains stop to pick up the fruit and freight is picked up from and dropped at the front entrance. There is also a siding for loading cars, this siding being reached by a road through the property.

Of the hundred and twenty-five acres, there are probably seventy acres fit for thorough cultivation. The remainder is extremely picturesque, but as it is mostly rock it would not be of much use for anything except for quarrying, the granite being considered the finest in the district. The C. P. R. is quarrying close by and use the stone on all important work on this section and the main line. The rock is considered valuable for the fact that it serves to increase the heat on the soil below, by the reflection of the sunlight on warm summer days, and for this reason small fruits are earlier than on most other ranches.

The orchard is practically the most extensive of those already in bearing. It has 2,200 trees, 1,500 of which are apples of the best known varieties, including both early and winter apples, varying in age from three to ten years; 360 of these are bearing and a large number will come into bearing the next year or two. There are also 60 pears 25 of which are bearing heavily; 100 plum trees in bearing and 500 cherries, 125 of which are bearing. The cherries from this orchard are considered the finest in the district, the spot being exceedingly favorable to cherries. The varieties are of the best. Forty peaches have been set out and eight are bearing. One acre is in strawberries and raspberries, half an acre in gooseberries and in currants. In addition from five to eight acres can be utilized for vegetables, the soil being especially adapted.

The buildings on the property meet present requirements. There are two small houses, one 12x23 feet, two stories, and one 10x23 feet, one story. There is also a small packing shed, stable, large hay barn, pig and chicken house and root cellar, the whole valued at about $1500.

The water supply is assured, both by a good well and by a system of pipes running from a reservoir which is fed by springs. There are also two good streams running through the property.

Out through tthe acreage where the young trees are set timothy and clover are growing in abundance and yield heavy crops. There are about 13 acres under thorough cultivation and 12 in young trees which has not as yet been thoroughly cultivated but is sown to clover and timothy. The whole place is fenced.

The soil is the finest of fruit soils being the deep red, sandy loam of the Kootenays. Five acres is a black vegetable mould, which is excellently fitted for vegetables and is now used for same. Trees are also planted in this soil and are thriving well.

There is an abundance of cordwood on the property, giving a fuel supply for many years to come.

The ranch is in excellent pro-ducing condition. All the trees are in a healthy condition and have been carefully looked after this past year. This is an excellent opportunity to get a good income bearing property—one of the few in this district.

The nearness to the city enables one to easily procure help in the busy season and it carries with it many advantages. The views are excellent and as Nelson looms closely in the foreground, one feels almost within the city limits.

DRIVES HOME SOME STREETCAR POINTS

J. A. Irving Points Out Many Advantages of Early Resumption of Street Railway Operations

One of the most enthusiastic supporters of the Nelson street railway and an ardent believer in its value to the city from an advertising and general utility point of view is J. A. Irving, vice-president of the Nelson Improvement association and president of the Nelson Conservative association.

Speaking of the directors' campaign which is now under way to raise an additional $10,000 he said on Saturday: "I hope that every citizen of Nelson who has the welfare of the city at heart will give his hearty support to the company. It is true that great demands, which have been most generously met, have been made upon the pockets of the merchants and business men of the city during the past three years but the street railway is an enterprise of such importance to Nelson that I believe the directors' campaign will be successful.

"That the tram should be in operation again at an early date is important for many reasons. First, there is the general convenience of the public, especially those who life in Fairview and the uptown portions of Nelson. Another reason is that the operation of the tramway would be a great step towards popularizing the city park near the shipyards, which is one of the most beautiful spots for a public park and resting spot in the country. With street cars running at frequent intervals be*tween Nelson and the park I have no* doubt that it would attract hundreds of visitors every afternoon during the summer. At present it is practically unknown because of its comparative inaccessibility.

"The third reason is that a city with a street car service gives the visitor a far better impression than one which merely can show the tracks over which the cars used to run.

"Yet another advantage to be gained by the early resumption of the street railway operations would be the increase in property values in Fairview and the southern sections of the city which would inevitably follow. The person living ten blocks or so up the hill from Baker street enjoys better air, as magnificent a view as can be obtained anywhere in the province—I might almost say in Canada—and at present lots can be purchased at a very reasonable price. It seems therefore to need nothing but a street railway system in operation to make the uptown streets to the south the favored residential portion of the city.

"Finally there is the immense advertisement which the possession of a street railway gives to any city," concluded Mr. Irving.

PROVINCIAL VOTERS LIST CLOSES TODAY

All Registrations Must be Made by Five O'clock This Afternoon at Court House—Qualifications

The provincial voters' list closes this afternoon at 5 o'clock and those who wish to be placed on the register at the next court of revision on the first Monday of May must have their declarations in the hands of Stephen H. Hoskins, registrar of voters, at his office in the court house before this hour.

If this step is not taken today it will be impossible for those who are not already on the list to quality before the first Monday in November. As there are a large number of persons in Nelson who have not yet registered Mr. Hoskins is expecting a rush of declarations at his office before the list closes this afternoon.

Every male resident of the province who has been in British Columbia for six months and in Nelson riding for one month, who is 21 years of age and a British subject is entitled to the franchise. A personal declaration before Mr. Hoskins or some other properly qualified person is, of course, necessary in every instance before a name can be placed on the list.

SUCCESSFUL SMOKER GIVEN AT TRAIL

Farewell to Prominent Members of the Union—Deer and Grouse are Plentiful

(Special to The Daily News.)

TRAIL, B.C., April 2—A most successful smoker was given in the Union hall on Wednesday evening by the members of the Trail Smelter union in honor of the departure of William Forrest and James Burdette, who left this week for Alberta, the latter on Thursday evening and the former on Friday evening. Both gentlemen have always been prominent in union circles, Mr. Burdette being president of the local union for this term. Throughout the speeches of the evening both men were eulogized for their many sterling qualities and regret was expressed on every hand at their departure. In replying both men expressed regret at leaving Trail and the many good, whole souled fellows they were leaving behind. However, they considered they were benefitting their positions in the new field of labor.

The program was a lengthy one and consisted of songs, speeches, etc., during the course of which refreshments were served. Among those making speeches were W. K. Carpenter, who acted in the capacity of chairman, W. Hasketh, D. Delois, J. A. McKinnon, L. Cameron, C. Shields, J. Forrest and H. Byrnes. Those contributing songs were Harry Ellard, H. Stone, W. Evans, E. Morgan, A. Bevan, George Castell, J. J. Haley, T. Carruthers, Frank King, D. Graham and W. Thompson. Everyone had a good time and the meeting did not break up until a late hour.

Deer are plentiful in the valley, and all signs point to an abundance of grouse this season.

VOTES FOR WOMEN MOTION TRIUMPHS

Suffragettes Win Mock Parliament Debate at Y. M. C. A.—Many Ladies Enjoyed Fine Speeches

Those who were fortunate in being present at the meeting of the Y.M.C.A. literary and debating society on Saturday night were treated to one of the most enjoyable and instructive evenings imaginable. It took the form of a mock parliament and the bill before the house was an "act to amend the Provincial Elections act of 1903-04, whereby men only have the right to vote.

The bill was ably introduced by Hon. Mr. Rutherford, member for Taraflats, and a lengthy discussion followed, taken part in by all the members of the government and the opposition. In spite of one of the government members signifying his adverse attitude to the bill and after much animated discussion the speaker decided in favor of the government.

A large number of ladies were present and seemed to be very much pleased that the suffragette movement appeared to be gaining some foothold in Nelson.

This is the last meeting of the society for this season, which has been a most successful one in every way.

Those who spoke last night were:

Government—Mr. Rutherford, Taraflat; Mr. Edwards, Passmore; Mr. Hall, Hall Siding; Mr. Beeston, Aintworth; Mr. Stark, Suggar Mountain; Mr. Leith, New Scotland; Mr. Waters, Bonnington; Mr. Acheson, Point Grey.

Opposition—Mr. Willian, Slow Khan; Mr. Playle, Courtland; Mr. Farris, Apohaqui; Mr. Small, Shortend; Mr. Ferguson, Sprouts; Mr. Smillie, Nechaco; Mr. Ballantyne, Pickee; Mr. Patrick, Mamphremagog.

Speaker—Sheriff Tuck.

Clerk—Alex. Cheyne.

Rapid Advance in Lake Burnaby Acreage

News-Advertiser, March 12: During the past week enquiry and sales of land around the south side of Burnaby lake, adjoining the new electric line has easily left all other districts in the rear. In consequence of which values have risen gradually from $1500 to $2000 per acre and it is considered good buying at these advanced prices by shrewd and experienced dealers in acreage. The south shore of lake Burnaby is undoubtedly destined to be one of the choice residential spots of Greater Vancouver, where values will steadily improve. Vegetation is rank and the fortunate ideal home seeker who secures his settlement beside the peaceful waters of this beautiful lake will be envied in the future. Already in anticipation of the early opening of the new electric line many new homes are being added and more contemplate building as soon as the line is in operation, which is only a matter of a few days now. When it is remembered that this district is but 20 minutes from the centre of the city via the new route, with its many superior advantages over other districts of a similar distance, some idea as to the future of this district may be gained. Many new roads, sidewalks and other municipal improvements are also under way which when completed will put lake Burnaby south in the first ranks of Greater Vancouver's rapidly developing suburbs.

For three years we have steadily advised all our clients to invest between Burnaby lake and New Westminster. We stated repeatedly that values were too low compared with South Vancouver, North Vancouver and other districts.

Values have steadily advanced with the growth of New Westminster, but during the last three months everything in the locality has almost doubled in value.

This is no boom by real estate agents, but is caused by the immense amount of development taking place everywhere.

The greatest factor is the new B. C Electric line from Vancouver to Chilliwack via Burnabylake. This line will be opened in a few days and will be the scenic air line between the cities. No grades, fast palatial cars, and the rush to secure homesites on beautiful lake Burnaby and Deer lake between the cities is bound to send prices skyward.

We are just putting on a new addition of 300 lots adjoining New Westminster city limits. The new carline runs through it. There will be a station on the property. Every lot commands a view of the carlines, railways, manufacturing district, the Fraser and Port Mann just across the river. It is in all respects a splendid investment, bound to increase very rapidly in value. Get particulars.

MOOSE JAW IS NOT OUT OF WESTERN LEAGUE

MOOSE JAW, April 2.—The president of the Moose Jaw baseball club tonight sent the following telegram to President Eckstrom of the Western Canada Baseball league, at Lethbridge:

"Do not pay any attention to newspaper reports. Moose Jaw is in the Western Canada league to stay. Grounds have been provided which was the only difficulty. Will wire deposit in a few days.

(Signed) "J. W. PENNINGTON."

An arrangement has been arrived at whereby the Moose Jaw team will be able to play on the old grounds temporarily until the exhibition grounds can be got into shape and until the street cars are ready to operate, about the middle of July.

Baseball fans are somewhat put out by an article in the Leader of this morning which accuses this club of getting out from under on account of the expense. They say this does not come with very good grace, as Moose Jaw had to bear part of the expense of keeping the Regina franchise alive last year and have always met all bills without flinching.

KOOTENAYS BEAT Y. M. C. A. TEAM

Have All Best of Saturday's Game, Though Only One Point Ahead at Close.

By two ties to one goal the Kootenay Rugby club succeeded on Saturday, after pressing their opponents hard throughout the match, in beating the Y. M. C. A. aggregation. Although the score was only one point in favor of the victors they far outplayed the Y boys, the great majority of the play being within 25 yards of the losers goal. On several occasions there was scrum after scrum within a few yards of the Y goal and it seemed almost miraculous that the Kootenays did not completely run away from Captain Seaman's team. But the score was only 6-5.

The Y. M. C. only really got away at all during the beginning of the second half, when for a few minutes they gave the Kootenaians some tough tussling before the pigskin finally went back into its accustomed position on the Y side of the center line.

For the Y boys Seaman played well in spots, though he did not seem to be in his usual form; Ebutt put up a nice game and little Brown displayed his usual science but was unfortunate enough to be knocked out of the game toward the end of the final half as a result of a sprain to his left knee, caused when he gamely but unsuccessfully tackled Thomas. Hopkins, Ellis and Swannell also did yeoman service for their team.

John Teague made his first appearance of the season, playing on the Kootenay lineup. Although obviously out of practice he gave evidence of becoming one of the team's most reliable men. Belcher as usual outclassed everything on the field, and Gravenor and Treby-Heale put up a remarkably fine fight. Clark brought off the only real, live tackle of the afternoon when he brought Roberts into contact with mother earth early in the second half in a manner which drew forth the loud plaudits of the crowd, which was of considerable dimensions. Thomas put up his usual steady, reliable game, while the warhorse Stubbs, playing fullback, although somewhat uncertain in the first period, did good work toward the end of the match. McKenzie proved himself a useful addition to the team and Appleyard and Clyne were towers of strength.

Kootenays Score First.

The Kootenays got first blood, Townshend getting across the line in a rough-and-tumble scramble early in the match. Shortly afterward the Y got ahead, Ebbutt scoring in similar style. Seaman converted magnificently, placing the elongated pill over the goal from a most difficult corner shot. The half ended 5-3 in favor of the Y though the play was all against them.

After a number of scrimmages close to the Y goal line Gravenor dragged the leather across for the Kootenays before the second half had seen more than 10 minutes, and that ended the scoring, though the Y. M. C. A. had difficulty in staving off a much worse defeat before time came.

Leslie Crauford refereed with perfect impartiality and with a stringent regard to the rules which drew forth three rousing cheers in his honor at the close of the match. The teams lined up:

Kootenays—Stubbs, fullback; Appleyard, Treby-Heale, Wood-Taylor, McKenzie, three-quarters; Roberts and Belcher, halves; Clyne, Guille, Thomas, Hill, Teague, Gravenor, Townshend and Clark, forwards.

Y. M. C. A.—Whitebread, fullback; Balmer, Roberts, Seaman and Hewitt, three-quarters; Ellis and Brown, halves; Harrison, Wright, Swannell, Fish, Ebbutt, McVicar, Hopkins and McQuaine, forwards.

DARK BLUES WIN VARSITY RACE

Cambridge Beaten by Three Lengths Over Famous Putney Course—Both Crews Below Average

PUTNEY, England, April 2—Oxford won from Cambridge in the annual eight oared intervarsity race over the Putney course yesterday. The dark blues were heavier and favorites though Cambridge had the advantage of weather and position. The day was perfect and the course almost flat. Oxford led from the start and won by three lengths in 18 minutes 29 seconds which is a record for the race. The previous record was 18 minutes 47 seconds made by Oxford in 1893 and duplicated by Cambridge in 1900. This is Oxford's 37th victory, Cambridge having won 30 contests.

Last year Oxford with a lead of three lengths finished in 20 minutes, 14 seconds. The year before Oxford won by three and a half lengths in 19 minutes and 50 seconds. According to English practice the time of the defeated crew was not taken.

Excursion steamers flying the light and dark blue colors were packed with people and the largest array of motor boats ever seen on the course dashed about. There was a great turnout of old oarsmen. The Prince of Wales and Prince Albert in cadet uniforms followed the race in a motor boat. They were cheered along the line.

Experts R.C. Lehman and Guy Nickalls considered both crews below the average. Oxford won the toss and chose the Surrey side. At Beverly Brook Oxford was leading by nearly a quarter length, rowing 37 to Cambridge 38 to the minute. At Crabtree the dark blue boat had increased their lead to three-quarters of a length, but Cambridge was gaining slightly at this point. R. C. Bourne, however, here put in some fine work with the result that his boat held a lead of two lengths. Off Doves Cambridge spurted and closed up the gap, Arbuthnotts setting a stroke of 34 to Oxford's 33, but he appeared to be tiring. At Thorneycroft, Oxford was leading by a length and at Strattonlentry by two and a quarter which they easily maintained to the finish.

TRIANGLES DOUBLE SCORE.

The game in the Y. M. C. A. Basket Ball league on Saturday morning was between the Circles and Triangles and resulted in a win for the Triangles by the score of 6 to 3.

SPORTING SPOTLIGHTS.

The accident to Brown on Saturday afternoon in the rugby match was most unfortunate. Those who have watched his fine performances on the field last fall and this spring will be glad to learn, however, that Dr. L. E. Borden, who attended him on the grounds, does not think the injury will keep him out of the game for long.

Rugby players in the city are lucky in having the services of such an efficient and absolutely fair referee as Leslie Crauford at their command.

The high school is expected to have a pretty fast lacrosse team in the field this summer. They expect to organize earlier this year than usual in order to get the full advantage of early season practices.

CLEARING LAND AT PERRY SIDING

New Stumping Machine Doing Good Work—Dyke to Preserve Land From Water.

(Special to The Daily News.)

PERRY SIDING, April 2.—The flats are practically clear of snow and the clearing of land is now started in earnest.

Those of the ranchers who have orchards are hard at work pruning and getting the spraying machinery ready. Incidentally, Mr. Schonberg is demonstrating that the demonstration train was worth while.

Mr. Avis has now got his new stumping machine at work and is clearing up land in great style.

Osklund & Carlson are anxiously awaiting their new stump puller, which should arrive this week.

Mr. Nixon is planning some dyking which will place 10 acres of the richest land in the province beyond all risk of damage by high water.

Mr. Greenwood is back to his farm again after spending the winter on a logging contract in the Little Slocan.

The poultrymen of the neighborhood are fixing up their incubators for a fresh campaign. They mean to enlarge operations for they count it a reproach that Nelson should consume a single case egg.

Mr. Hamilton has just imported a breeding pen of fine Houdans, direct from the most famous American breeder of this great French fowl. Quite a little interest has been manifested in this Leghorn-raising place in the odd looking but beautiful birds.

Land lookers are beginning to come around. It will be hard for them to find a better place for investment, for prices hereabouts are still fairly low.

It is rumored that a place close to the Siding has changed hands at a good figure.

Another surprise party was brought off here the evening of March 30. Mesdames Ostlund and Carlson were the parties surprised. As the surprisers carry with them great quantities of sandwiches, pie and cake, the outrage is not particularly devastating, but nevertheless the bachelors of the neighborhood are getting a little nervous in case some of them should be the next victims.

SPLENDID SAMPLES OF ORE FROM BLUE BIRD

(Special to The Daily News.)

TRAIL, B.C., April 2—Ed. Bosquet, locator and part owner of the Blue Bird mine in the south belt, about one mile from the Union avenue station in Rossland, is showing some splendid samples of ore from the mine. At present seven men are working on a 150 foot tunnel to tap the main shaft and have only about 30 feet more to go. The tunnel will drain the mine of all surface water and will also furnish a pure air supply. There are two veins and after the tunnel is completed a crosscut will be started to locate No. 1 vein. The samples were taken from No. 2 vein, which is 16 inches wide. A recent assay of samples from this vein showed: Gold, $23; silver $50; lead, $13 per cent,; zinc, 10 per cent, and iron 27 per cent. At present Mr. Bosquet is devoting all his time to the selling of stock which is being liberally taken up by Trail speculators. Mr. Bosquet is secretary of the company and Lyman Cartier of Spokane, is president.

BURTON CITY NOTES.

F. B. Schooley of Everett, Wash., who has purchased land near Burton City, is expected to reach the city with a number of settlers this week.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."

are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

THE FRUITGROWERS ASSOCIATION

The fruitgrowers of the Kootenay have had some experience with co-operative associations which teaches emphatically the need for hearty and general support and for good management.

They have also had even more experience which teaches emphatically the necessity for a co-operative association.

Now, once more, such an association is being formed or, rather, is getting under way.

If it is not a success, there will be little prospect of another such attempt for some years. Any further effort to organize such an association would be confronted with the discouragement and, perhaps, the estrangements, resulting from the failure of the present undertaking.

Yet a successful co-operative association there must be if the fruit growing and agricultural interests of the district are to thrive as they should.

The failure of the present association would be something like a calamity. Its success would be a benefit equally marked. There is no reason why it should not succeed. It has been well begun, and all that remains now ,to bring about results, is for all concerned to take an active part in its operations and an active interest in its management.

At the approaching general meeting a strong board of directors should be elected, thoroughly representative of the ranchers. Local and personal feelings should be forgotten and the whole organization carried on upon a broad minded basis so as to include a support as widespread, united and all-inclusive as possible.

And then,—to paraphrase an old saying—the fruitgrowers should stick together, for if they do not they will be "stuck" separately.

A LESSON FROM VIRGINIA

When Confederation was a recent achievement, Canada was often spoken of as the New Dominion, the reference being to Virginia which was known as the Old Dominion.

Virginia was the first English speaking colony in North America and for three centuries it was chief of them all. In the time of Washington it was the wealthiest, the most populous and the most powerful of them all.

When the American civil war came on, Virginia had already fallen from her former estate. A writer whose book was published about 1850 gives a notable description of districts in that state which had relapsed into a desert condition. He speaks of stately mansions and great churches, built as if to last for centuries but now abandoned within fifty years of their erection,—surrounded by weeds and overgrown with profitless vegetation.

The reason given was the exhaustion of the soil upon which they had depended for their prosperity. The tobacco crop had been to them at one time what the wheat crop is now to the prairie. It had brought marvellous wealth. But in exporting her tobacco Virginia had been exporting the fertility her soil. No local manufacturing industry had been built up, no forms of diversified agriculture such as might restore or preserve the productivity of her lands.

Presently in the older settlements along the sea coast, the soil began to fail. It would not pay to grow crops with fertilizers in competition with the newer districts where the soil was still virgin. Other districts in Virginia and in the neighboring states became the hope of the planter. Today a good deal of tobacco is still grown in Virginia but it is from limited areas and under special conditions. In population and wealth Virginia is now a third rate state.

THE ANKLE SKIRT

Harry Furniss, the celebrated contributor to Punch, occasionally writes in a serious vein. In a letter to the London Times, he protests against the frivolousness with which others have mentioned what has been termed the harem skirt but which he would call the ankle skirt.

He sees in it the possibility of the emancipation of women from what he describes as the dust gathering skirt, clinging and awkward. The Bloomer costume, designed in the inartistic Victorian days, was far from beautiful but he sees no reason why a graceful form of the divided skirt, less voluminous than for riding and gathered at the ankle, should not become the customary garb of women.

Feminine costume is a subject that The News approaches with trepidation. Mr. Furniss's heroism is to it a matter rather for admiration than for imitation. The News will not venture to express any opinion as to how women should be arrayed. But it may be mentioned that the association of ideas by which the undivided skirt is regarded as appropriate to her while the divided garment is regarded as appropriate to man, is largely artificial and local.

The kilt is a short skirt. It was worn by Roman soldiery. A similar skirt is commonly worn by men in Greece. Our immigrants from Austria and Russia arrive wearing a longer kind of skirt which forms the lower part of their overcoats. On the other hand the divided garment is worn by women in countries in southeastern Europe and the neighboring parts of Asia which are so very sensitive as to appearances that until very recently the women did not allow their faces to be seen except in their own homes and among their own families.

Gentlemen,—My daughter, 13 years old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly that it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years.

COMMUNICATIONS

MALE VOICE CONCERT.

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir: Happening to be a visitor in Nelson for a few days last week, I spent Wednesday evening at the opera house, the occasion being the first annual concert of the Nelson Male Voice Party, under the direction of Lewis Roberts, and it certainly proved to be the greatest musical treat that I have met since I came to live in British Columbia. The capital city of the Kootenays is to be congratulated on the possession of so much vocal musical talent, but it is with points in connection with the concert other than those of musical ability that I should like in a most friendly spirit to criticize, purely in view of making suggestions which, if carried out at future concerts would, I believe, receive general approbation.

One of the most important points to consider in making a concert successful is the selection of the songs to be sung by the solists and the choruses by the choir. It occurred to me that the 17 items forming Wednesday's program with the exception of the first and the last were decidedly of the sentimental type, most of which were pretty and good of their kind, but sentimental songs and choruses, however well rendered, lose their charm, in the ears of the audience, if they follow one another in quick succession for two or three hours. This, I think, was manifest on Wednesday evening when toward the end of the concert a patriotic song, "The Hearts That Beat in Ireland," was sung as an encore and was received with tumultuous applause, and I think that the introduction of more of this class of song would certainly add to the enjoyment of those attending future concerts.

In the next place, would it not be a great advantage to the exceedingly well balanced choir of tenors and basses if a few well-trained boys' treble voices were added to the Nelson male voice party? I have known this done with the greatest success in other similar societies.

Again, to add a further variety, would it not be well having an accomplished orchestra present, that the accompaniments to the choruses should in future be orchestral instead of as at present on the pianoforte only? Then, as a matter of minor detail, I think the appearance of the stage throughout the concert would be greatly improved if seats were arranged for the members of the choir and occupied by them whilst those portions of the concert in which they are not engaged were being carried out. A lady or gentleman soloist on a large and otherwise unoccupied stage does not look well from the auditorium, and in conclusion might I suggest the advisability of some one being appointed to prevent the reoccurrence on future occasions of what proved to be of considerable annoyance to many of the audience in the balcony—a number of boys who were old enough to have known better made so much noise continuily moving about, talking and even whistling that some of the best parts of the concert were entirely spoiled. GEO. F. ATTREE.

BEEKEEPING

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Being interested in the study of bees I read with interest Mr. Johnstone's lecture on bees. I also read Mr. Hirst's letter of March 30.

Mr. Hirst contradicts Mr. Johnstone by saying: "A working bee cannot produce a queen, nor can an egg once laid for a worker ever become the larva of a queen. An egg to produce a queen must be laid specially for the production of a queen and always in a queen cell in the first place."

I should like to quote a few passages from a lecture by W. B. Webster, B.B.K.A. who is one of the greatest experts in beekeeping. He says:

"The duties of the mother bee, miscalled the queen, are of paramount importance in a hive. She is the life; the success or non-success of the colony rests entirely upon her prolificacy or non-prolificacy.

"Each of the many thousands of workers, or hundreds of drones owes its existence to this bee; she is the mother of the entire colony.

"Remove a queen from a hive and after a short period has elapsed the bees will run about searching for her, not looking much beyond the actual entrance; but soon they will settle down and commence constructing queen cells over several young worker larvae.

"These will be fed very plentifully with a specially prepared food, called by bee keepers "royal jelly" and by this course of feeding will in the space of 16 days from the time the eggs—which otherwise would have produced workers—were laid, produce virgin queens. As her duties are simply the reproduction of her species, a bee keeper will note the absolute necessity of having young and vigorous queens in his colonies.

"Remove a queen from a swarm and place them in a hive furnished with eggs and young larvae, the major portion will stop, but place them in an empty hive without the queen and they will return to the parent stock. Hence a knowledge that without a mother they perish causes them to follow a queen, but only when they have no means of rearing another."

So taking the authority of Mr. Webster, Mr. Hirst must surely have been misled in his statements.

Irrigation Is King

Some land needs irrigation; some land does not; but all land produces more fruit and gives quicker results with irrigation than without.

We know of no better subdivision in Kootenay than the irrigated land at where we have left a few producing orchards and about a dozen unimproved tracts for sale. The latter will cost from $12 to $40 per acre, only to clear and fruit trees will come into bearing quicker than elsewhere.

All close to railroad station, postoffice, school, hotel and store, and price of land includes water system for irrigation and domestic purposes on each tract.

TEN YEARS AGO

Extracts From The Nelson Daily Tribune of April 2, 1901.

Colonel Topping is paying Nelson a visit and his old friends here are complimenting him on his robust health. There are not many in the city now who knew the colonel when he was one of the pioneer storekeepers here, but nearly every one has heard of his connection with the Le Roi in the Rossland camp.

Mrs. Goodrow and five children camped themselves in the mayor's office on Saturday and held the fort all the afternoon. Mrs. Goodrow explained that her husband was undergoing a term of imprisonment in the provincial jail and in the absence of the bread winner the staff of life was scarce in the household. The heads of the Goodrow family have been more or less in trouble with the police since their advent in this part of the country. One of their favorite enterprises was to sell liquor without a license.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATIONS UNITE

Junior and Senior Associations at Cranbrook to Form One Body—Officers Elected.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B. C., April 2.—A goodly number were in attendance at the special meeting of the Junior and Senior Conservative associations held Wednesday evening in Lester Clapp's hall. A letter from A. E. Watts stated that he would be unable to be present and in his absence the president of the junior association, George H. Thompson, acted as chairman. He stated the object for calling the meeting was to consider a resolution made a week previously which strongly favored the uniting of the two associations.

Several members of both organizations spoke strongly in favor of the proposed change and when put to a vote of the meeting the motion carried unanimously. The constitution and bylaws of the Central Conservative association were then adopted.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. president, Thos. Caven, M. P. P.; president, J. D. McBride; vice president, G. H. Thompson; secretary-treasurer, A. Grace; executive committee, J. P. Fink, D. J. Johnson, J. B. Hall, Ira Manning, W. A. Rollins, Dr. Rutledge, together with the officers. Five of this number will form a quorum.

R. T. Brymner of the Bank of Commerce was in Moyie yesterday.

Jack Armour and Jack Kennedy are starting up a pool room and cigar store in the building recently occupied by A. C. Pye.

The following proclamation, signed by Mayor Selous, inviting W. P. Tierney, who is leaving the city shortly for Vancouver, to a farewell meeting with his many friends in Nelson at the Strathcona hotel on Wednesday, April 12, is being circulated:

Canada, Province of British Columbia.
To William P. Tierney, Greeting:

We command you, that all business being laid aside, and all excuses ceasing, you do in your proper person appear before your many friends, in and for the county of Kootenay on Wednesday, the twelfth (12th) day off April now next ensuing, at the hour of eight in the evening of the same day to hear the testimony of your tillicums, at the tavern, locally known as the Strathcona hotel, in our loyal city of Nelson.

And this you are in no wise to omit on penalty of the sure loss of most of your friends.

Fail not at your peril.

Witness, Harold Selous, mayor of the city of Nelson, this first day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

RECRIMINATION, NOT OLIVE BRANCH

The United Mine Workers of America and 6,000 men along the Crows Nest line are out of work at the mines. It will not be long before a large number of railway crews will be moved or laid off. The only mine in the Western Canada Coal Operators' association working is the McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke company at Carbondale, near Coleman. The mine was idle all winter and both men and company want to work on a special arrangement by which the company will operate, the whole output to be contracted for in Spokane, so that it can not supply the shortage for other companies. Should it do so or should the C. P. R. exercise the privilege of taking coal en route the men will be called out immediately.

To Break Association.

The miners expect the companies to sign up individually and thus break the operators' association. The companies will take advantage of the strike to overhaul and improve plants.

Miners Refused.

Manager Kidd of the Western Canadian Coal company, which is not in the Western Canada Coal Operators' association, offered to renew the old agreement, but the miners refused to accept. The mine was not running full force and about 200 men quit today. The Eureka Coal company, at Taber, agreed to pay the new scale and made a temporary agreement. The Alberta Consolidated company is working. It is non-union.

SURVEYING LAND FOR RESIDENCES AT PROCTOR

(Special to The Daily News.)

PROCTOR, B.C., April 2.—F. P. Hulley of Wattsburg arrived here on Monday.

F. A. Martin arrived here on Thursday from Nelson and is employed by Sharp & Co. here.

Mr. Bookham, who has a ranch near here, visited Nelson on Wednesday.

Dramatic Entertainment

A dramatic entertainment is shortly to take place in Balfour in aid of the Balfour rectory fund, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. A strong cast of talented amateurs have been got together; rehearsals are already under way and the prospects look very promising for an entertainment of an unusually high order in the amateur line. The date of the production will be announced in the near future.

The many friends of Mrs. Dousemberger will be pleased to hear that she has quite recovered from her recent illness and returned from Nelson recently where she has been receiving hospital treatment for some time.

Clearing Land

T. G. Holmes has the contract for clearing some five acres of land belonging to J. W. Ford, about one mile from here. This land is adjoining the land owned by Mr. Holmes and is a most valuable property.

Appleton Bros., who own a ranch near here, have commenced preparations for putting in their spring crops.

For Summer Residences

Mr. Green, who owns a tract of land about one mile from Balfour, is having some of his land surveyed this week with a view to having it placed on the market at once. It is an ideal location for summer residences.

J. W. Bourne, who is an old resident here, expects to leave in about two weeks for Dawson, where he has accepted the position of engineer on one of the river steamboats.

Headley Craven of Pilot Bay was a Proctor visitor this week. He returned home on Wednesday on the Kokanee.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary in connection with the Church of England here, was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. G. Gallup. The attendance was unusually large and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent in sewing and different kinds of needle work. The ladies intend holding a sale of fancy and useful articles in June and they are working toward this end. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served and it was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Smellie in two weeks' time.

J. Burns, Jr., was here this week inspecting the work being done on the ground of the C.P.R. hotel at Balfour.

The company of Boy Scouts which was organized here last summer by Rev. Mr. Reed will meet again on Saturday for drill, and it is expected that a much larger attendance can be obtained this year.

D. H. MacLaurin, inspector of schools for this district, arrived here on Friday and inspected the Harrop and Proctor schools.

Mr. Leece of Nelson arrived here on Tuesday and spent the week visiting the different ranches in this vicinity. He is much pleased with the activity displayed by our local ranchers and has given them some valuable advice.

DIES ON LADDER

WINNIPEG, April 2.—Thomas Broad, a retired civil servant, formerly in the Winnipeg postoffice, was stricken with heart failure on Saturday evening while removing storm windows from his residence, 123 Furby street, and fell from a ladder about 15 feet to the ground. It is believed he was dead before he reached the foot of the ladder. He came from Lindsay, Ont., about 22 years ago, and retired six years ago. He leaves his wife, one son and three daughters, two brothers and one sister, all in the west.

WHEAT STILL FALLING

WINNIPEG, April 1.—Another day of weakness and reselling by exporters marked the career of wheat. Winnipeg May sold down to 89⅝, hung at that figure for a considerable time and later advanced to 89¾, but was again beaten back to 89⅝ at which point it closed, being a drop of ⅝c to ¾c from Friday. July dropped ⅝c and October ¼c. There was a moderate cash demand. Oats showed more activity than at any time during the week. There was considerable pressure to sell at the opening. The tone of the market was weak, the close being 33⅝ or ⅝c under Friday. Immediately after the close 33½ was bid and 10,000 bushels sold at that figure. Later oats were offered freely at 33¼ on the curb. Chicago May oats closed at 29⅞ or ⅞c under Friday. American wheat markets were all lower and very weak in tone.

BUSY SCENES ON ST. JOHN WHARVES

Harbor Crowded With Vessels—Cargo of Rabbits From Australia—Many Immigrants.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 2—Never since St. John became the chief winter port of Canada has there been as much activity at any one period on the waterfront as during the present week. There are seven steamship berths at West St. John, and on Tuesday eight steamships lay there, besides two on the east side of the harbor and one lying in the stream. The C. P. R. liners Empress of Britain and Mount Temple, the Allan liners Tunisian and Sardinian, the Donaldson (Glasgow) liners Athenia and Cassandra, the Australian liner Wakanui, the South African liner Kaduna, the Head (Dublin) liner Bray Head, the Manchester Spinner and the Cuban line steamer Whitefield were in port, and the movement of freight and passengers caused unusual activity along the wharves. The steamship Mount Temple broke the season's record for passengers to the port, having 1,537 immigrants from London and Havre. A large portion of these people were Galicians for the Canadian west. The season's business at the winter port, both for passengers and import and export freight, is expected to make a new record. There will be great activity for several weeks to come, until the St. Lawrence route is open again for navigation.

Cheaper Power.

If present plans to provide the city of St. John with electric power at a great reduction on present cost should materialize within the next year or two, the result would be a rapid increase in the number of factories. No city in Canada is better located for the easy and cheap gathering of raw materials at all times of the year, and there are equal facilities for the distribution of finished products. It is now believed that very cheap power can be secured by transmitting it from water powers, the chief of which is at Lepreaux, about 25 miles from the city. The New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Power company, with $1,500,000 capital, is seeking legislation to this end. It also asks power under certain conditions to increase its capital to $3,000,000. It is believed that by the construction of storage dams and other devices sufficient power can be secured to revolutionize the conditions of industry in this respect in the city of St. John. The St. John manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, C. H. Easson, is one of the incorporators, and Toronto capital is also represented. The bills and bylaws committee of the city council are conferring this week with the company's representative.

Another big power scheme will be before the legislature of the province at this session. The St. John River Electrical Power company seeks incorporation and authority to construct a dam across the river at Pokiok, above Fredericton. It is stated that an English concern which proposed to erect a mammoth furniture factory at Fredericton is interested in this project, which would involve an immense outlay, as provision would have to be made for the safe passage of nearly 150,000,000 feet of logs through the dam every spring. This scheme will be strongly opposed. It is to be noted, however, that the question of utilizing waterpowers to provide electric energy is exciting more interest in New Brunswick at the present time than ever before. The Grand Falls Power company is expected to begin development work this year.

Cost Ten Millions.

Will the contract be let this year for the construction of a railway 210 miles long, from Grand Falls down the St. John river valley to the city of St. John at a cost of about $10,000,000? This has become a live issue with the receipt by the legislature last week of the report of Engineer D. F. Maxwell, who surveyed the proposed route. For many years the people of the St. John river valley, one of the richest portions of the province, have urged the need of a railway, and at every election campaign it has been an issue. A portion of the upper region of the river valley is served by the Canadian Pacific railway, with its branches, but the demand of the people is for a line from Grand Falls to St. John, 210 miles, to make connections with a transcontinental system. Engineer Maxwell estimates that such a road from Grand Falls to a terminus at St. John Harbor East, where the Grand Trunk Pacific will have its terminals, would cost about $10,000,000. If the line connected with the C. P. R. at Westfield it would cost less, but would not give the desired through connections and competition. A bill providing for the operation of the valley road under certain conditions as part of the Intercolonial railway is now before parliament, and the question is also before the New Brunswick legislature. It is regarded as probable that the Canadian Northern railway will reach St. John by the valley route, making the third transcontinental railway to have a terminus here.

A very important lumber deal has just been completed by which the newly formed Maritime Lumber Co., Ltd., with a capital of $500,000, has taken over the business of the Thomas Nagle Lumber company. The new company has a federal charter and is composed of New Brunswick and Quebec men. Thomas Nagle has been made manager. The company has offices in St. John and Montreal and will open offices in Toronto and New York.

The customs records show that 68 steamers from St. John in the winter port trade took export cargo valued at $15,066,692, which shows an increase when compared with a like number of cargoes last season. Another $10,000,000 or more will be added before the season ends.

The James Pender company of St. John have received an order for wire nails from Rarotonga, Cook islands, in the Pacific. This company already have considerable trade in Australia and New Zealand. James Pender, who has just returned from a tour of the West Indies, states that there is a fine opportunity to enlarge Canada's trade with the islands, but a better steamship service is needed.

Among the cargo of the steamer Wakanui, which arrived at St. John recently from Australia via Cardiff, was a car of frozen lambs and a car of frozen rabbits from the commonwealth for the Montreal and Toronto markets.

PURITY AND POWER GAS REQUIREMENTS

Fuel Supply Should be Watched Carefully to Insure Economy

A local motorist, being interested in determining what kind of gasoline is the most economical for use by the thousands of autoists in Cleveland, has consulted on of the foremost experts in this line, with the result that he is convinced that two principals must be followed in the selection of a proper gasoline, i. e., purity and power.

Purity is obtained by refining a gasoline so perfectly that all carbon, water and dirt is removed, of which there is always a large percentage present in the crude oil. Imprities clog the cylinders, impeding the action of the piston, thus cutting down the power of combustion. Carbon, water and dirt, having no explosive power, act as a preventative to the proper running of the engine and render perfect combustion impossible.

power, therefore, is lost in a gasoline containing foreign substances. A dry gasoline, that is, one free from all impurities and greasy substances, will produce the most power, and as it leaves no deposits in any part of the engine or its connecting parts, is, therefore, the most economical to use.

Refiners who are noted for the marketing of the highest grade of gasoline for automobile use have found that purity can only be obtained by a special double-refining or redistilling process. It has been proved that by the double distilling process all impurities can be removed, it being impossible to obtain this result by the ordinary old-fashioned single refining process. It may further be said that gravity has nothing to do with power. It is dryness and purity of the product that denotes quality and gives results.

To properly test a gasoline as to its efficiency it is necessary to run a machine for some length of time, using nothing but the product to be tested, in order that the effect of its use on the working parts of the automobile may be accurately determined.

Owners of cars can considerably lessen their repair bills, from the fact that the machine does not have to be taken down every few months, by using an absolutely pure, dry, double-distilled gasoline.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TOBACCO GROWING

Mr. Holman Sends Seed and Directions for Planting to Secretary of Local Farmers' Institute.

L. Holman, manager of the Kelowna cigar factory and one of the most successful growers of tobacco in the province, was appointed to lecture throughout British Columbia before the various farmers' institutes, but was unable to reach Nelson owing to a sudden attack of sickness, writes to George G. McLaren, secretary of the local institute, sending written instructions for the preliminaries necessary for successful tobacco raising, together with sufficient seed to plant six acres of land.

Mr. McLaren will be pleased to supply at his office on East Baker street any one desiring to grow some tobacco this season with a quantity of seed.

Mr. Holman's instructions are as follows:

Frame for one acre, size 3x24 feet.

Size of board for back of frame, 14 inches wide.

Size of board for front of frame, six inches wide.

This frame to be planted into the ground one inch deep to prevent any air getting in.

Position for bed, should face south and be sheltered from north. Soil should be rich and loamy and well pulverized.

To sprout the seeds: Make a small bag 3x4 inches of some woolen material; put the dry seed into the bag and soak the bag in lukewarm water thoroughly; squeeze the water out of it and roll the bag up in more woolen material and keep in a warm place, about 75 or 80 degrees. This soaking should take place twice a day (the seed should be stirred up and loosened in the bag while soaking) until the seed sprouts, which it should do in about seven days. When sprouted, the seeds will show white specks. As soon as it has sprouted it is ready for sowing.

To sow the seed: Get a pan that will hold about four or five quarts of sand and mix the sprouted seed thoroughly with the sand (which should have previously been well sifted) and then sow this mixture of sand and seed as evenly as possible by hand over the bed.

Then with a garden rake, rake it over once about one-quarter inch deep. Then with a garden roller or, lacking that, a board, stamp or roll it as solid as possible. It should then be thoroughly watered and the bed be then covered over with a light sheeting (costing from 10 to 12 cents). The bed must be carefully looked after and must never be allowed to become in the least dry. The seed should show up in from six to seven days. Keep the seeds covered at least two weeks, night and day, to give them a chance to become well established before opening during the day time.

OVER ONE HUNDRED STUDY CAKE ICING

Women's Institute Watches Demonstrations by Miss Cowap—Praise for Provincial Government

The Nelson and District Women's institute held a most successful meeting in the K. P. hall Saturday afternoon. About 100 were present. The president, Mrs. James Johnstone, presided. Miss Bealby opened the meeting with a much appreciated violin solo.

Considerable business regarding the sewing classes, which are being conducted in the Eagle hall under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Flint, was discussed. Five of these lessons have been terminated and this week five more lessons are to follow. The young girls of Nelson and the district are especially invited to be present at these classes and receive assistance in cutting and fitting their own garments. The classes will be continued every night until Friday, inclusive, commencing at 7.30 o'clock. At 8.30 o'clock a special demonstration, lasting half an hour, will be given each evening on the following practical points:

Monday—(1) The proper way to put a placket in a dress skirt; (2) how to finish a dress skirt at the bottom.

Tuesday—An ill-fitting ready made shirt waist will be made to fit.

Wednesday—Fitting a skirt and putting a band on the skirt, also sewing hooks and eyes on the same.

Thursday—Draping waist on a tight fitting lining.

Friday—Putting in pocket and flap in a tailor-made jacket.

The president gave a short address, pointing out that these classes were not so much for the individual members to learn speed in their sewing, as they were for them to learn the proper way for them to do their work. The proper way, she said, was always the easiest way. Nelson now had a very well dressed community and soon would have a much better dressed people. She thought it would effect a great saving on the male purse, as labor of all kinds was so very high in the west.

Nelson was one of the first towns in British Columbia to establish these classes, under the auspices of the women's institutes. It would not be long before other towns would follow. The provincial government had shown its willingness to send a competent woman to teach sewing to those institutes who ask for it, and the members of the Nelson institute appreciated very much this movement to help the women of the province. Mrs. Johnstone also praised the members and officers for their willingness to help, and she was sure the work for women would forge ahead under such competent guidance.

Mrs. Cowap then began making the filling for her layer cake, which looked very nice indeed and was named Vienna filling. The cake was also iced with two kinds of coats or ornaments. The first, on the body of the cake, was white in color and called Water icing. The trimmings were pink and looked like little maple buds all around the cake, and in the centre were the words, "Happy Birthday." This was named Royal icing.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Singer Sewing Machine company for kindly loaning three machines for the sewing classes. The machines were especially praised by the individual members, who have been using them during the past week; to Reginald Howe, of the Ringrose Electrical company, who has also been exceptionally kind to the members of the institute in placing electrical plates for the cooking devices.
