DRIVEN TO DEATH BY CROWD'S JEERS

Aviator Takes Air in Faulty Machine

WIFE AND CHILD WATCH ACCIDENT

Had Met With Accident on Previous Day—Crashed to Earth

MORTON, Kan., Sept. 1.—J. J. Frisbie, the Curtiss aviator, was killed by a fall at the Morton county fair. Frisbie met with an accident yesterday and only went into the air today when driven to do so by the jeers and taunts of the crowd. Frisbie fell about 100 feet and the engine of his aeroplane fell on him, crushing his left side. He lingered for about an hour before he died.

Frisbie has been giving exhibitions at Elmwood park for several days. Yesterday his machine worked badly and he fell 40 feet, but beyond bruises and a shaking up was not injured. He was skeptical about the ability of his machine to stand another flight today and announced that he would not take the air today, but when this statement was communicated to the crowd there was an angry demonstration. The spectators shouted and howled "fakir" and refused to listen to explanations. It was then that Frisbie announced that rather than have the big crowd leaving with the impression that he was a fakir he would take the air.

He ascended without difficulty, but in attempting to make a turn the plane dropped and Frisbie lost control. As he came crashing to the earth the spectators could see the aviator trying to right the machine, but as it approached the ground one of the wings crashed into a barn and the biplane, glancing off, struck the earth with Frisbie underneath.

Frisbie's wife and son and little girl were with him and witnessed the accident. Mrs. Frisbie fainted when she saw her husband falling. Tonight she bitterly denounced the action of the spectators in forcing her husband to make the flight with a disabled machine. Frisbie is well known among aviators here, being a participant in the recent big meet at Chicago.

TORONTO HAS CANDIDATE FOR WESTERN POSITION

TORONTO, Sept. 1—Who will succeed Vice-president William Whyte, as general manager of the C.P.R. in the west? This question is causing considerable gossip among local employees. Many names have been mentioned. The one most spoken of is that of Charles Murphy, at present general master of transportation. Mr. Murphy was formerly in charge of the London and Orangeville divisions, with headquarters in Toronto.

WILL EXHIBIT AT NELSON FAIR

Fruit Ranches About Rossland Are Laden With Good Apples—Rossland Cherries Excellent.

F. E. Armstrong of Rossland, who was in the city yesterday stopping at the Hume hotel, gives a graphic description of what is being done in his town in the line of mining and ranching. He states that the mines there are today shipping through the Trail smelter the gold that is being used in the new gold coinage at the Ottawa mint. Besides this the mines are shipping trainloads of ore to Trail, the product of which when refined is being shipped to Japan and China.

Regarding fruit growing Mr. Armstrong declared that there were trees in the Rossland district at altitudes of from 3,400 to 4,200 feet which were so heavily laden with fruit that four and five props had to be put under the branches. The Rossland cherries, he thought, were the best in the world, and mentioned the fact that a party of people from the Annapolis valley in Nova Scotia that was visiting there this summer preserved a quantity to take east with them to show what the Kootenay was doing. Many of the ranchers there had announced their intention of having good exhibits at the Nelson fruit fair September 26-28, and all had the most optimistic view on the showing that would be made when the prizes are awarded.

Realty, Mr. Armstrong continued, was moving well, especially since the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company had taken over the Le Roi mine, which gave the people a feeling of permanancy which had induced them to acquire their own property, build good houses and cultivate magnificent gardens.

EXPRESS CASHIER HAS DISAPPEARED

Clothes and Canoe Found Near Five-Mile

EFFORTS TO OPEN SAFE UNAVAILING

Richard Reilly May Have Been Swallowed by Waters of Lake

That the waters of the west arm of Kootenay lake have claimed another victim is indicated by a canoe and the clothes of Richard Reilly, cashier at the local office of the Dominion express company which were found on the shore near Five Mile point yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Reilly was last seen in Nelson on Wednesday morning, when he appeared to be on his way to the boat houses on the waterfront. Later, when he did not put in an appearance at the office and it became known that the boat was missing some anxiety was felt, especially by the officials in the express office, as Mr. Reilly was the only man who knew the combination of the safe, in which some thousands of dollars in cash and money orders was stored.

Inquiries were made in all directions and there was an unsuccessful effort to open the safe, but no trace of the missing man was discovered until yesterday, when John Simpson, provincial constable, went up to Five-Mile and brought back the clothes.

Money in Pockets.

They were found on the beach beside Reilly's canoe, and consisted of a man's complete dress with the exception of a hat which it is said the missing man seldom wore. In one of the pockets of the coat was a wallet containing nearly $60 in cash. No other valuables were found.

Yesterday further efforts were made to open the safe, but it was impossible to find the combination, while J. H. Matheson spent over five hours with drills and a hammer in the hands of an assistant in an endeavor to force open the repository. These attempts to obtain access to the safe were not relinquished until nearly 11 o'clock last night and will be continued today.

No tracks were discernable beside the canoe, having been effaced by the movement of the water.

TROOPS CALLED TO QUELL RIOTS

Food Agitation in France Still Continues—Octroi Taxes Induce High Prices.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Premier Callius today discussed with the minister of commerce and the minister of agriculture measures which are to make lower prices of food possible. Among the measures under consideration are the importation of meat and live stock and the suspension of various taxes. Nothing, however, will be done until a fuller inquiry has been made into the grievances which in many cases are capable of local correction.

Price of Butter.

Owing to the heavy municipal taxes butter at Lille, one of the centres of disorder, is 44 cents a pound, while at Rennes, in the department of Ille-Et-Vitaine, it is 27 cents a pound. The prices of all eatables are generally in proportion, the high cost being largely due to octroi taxes.

Processions, town meetings, the sacking of shops and violence in numerous places in the northern departments continue.

All-Night Riots.

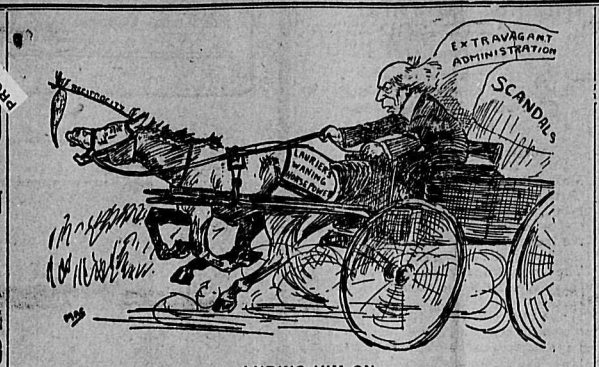
ST. QUENTIN, France, Sept. 1.—Rioting broke out here yesterday evening over the high price of food and lasted all night. A regiment of infantry and a squadron of cavalry called out to quell the disturbance were unable to cope with the mob, which plundered shops in widely separated streets at the same time. The cavalry frequently charged into the crowds and several of the cavalrymen were pulled from their horses and beaten. Twenty of the rioters were taken to the hospital severely injured.

Put Up Shutters.

LENS, France, Sept. 1.—Trade is completely at a standstill here today owing to the fear of expected food riots. Shutters have been put on all the shop windows.

WINNIPEG STILL GROWING.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Building permits for August were announced today. They show an increase of $862,150 over the same period of last year. The total has now reached $13,281,650 for eight months.



LURING HIM ON

NELSON SLATED FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy States That Heavy Traffic Makes This Necessary—Pleased With Hotel

Sir Thomas Shaughnessey, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, who, with other officials of the road, is making a trip of inspection of the western lines, arrived in the city last night on the steamer Moyie. The party leaves this morning at 9 o'clock on a special train for Rossland and Trail. After a few hours' stay there they will leave for West Robson in the afternoon and go through to the coast at night, taking in Vancouver and Victoria, and returning to the east by way of the main line.

That improvements and extensions to the system in the Kootenay would have to be made shortly was the statement made by Sir Thomas when seen by a representative of The Daily News. On his trip through the lakes he stopped off at the new hotel which has this summer been erected by the company at Balfour, and which is to be opened on September 8. Sir Thomas was much pleased with the building but declared that he thought it much too small for the accommodation of the hundreds of visitors who will make Kootenay their summer home.

"Traffic along the route through the Crow's Nest pass and the lakes," he continued, "has been immense during the past two years, and while I cannot promise anything definite, it will certainly not be long before an enormous amount of money will be spent here and in the vicinity." On other matters Sir Thomas would not talk.

Those who are traveling with the president are R. B. Angus, Montreal; W. D. Matthews, Toronto; H. S. Holt, Montreal, directors. E. T. Galt, Montreal; George Bury, general manager, Winnipeg; J. G. Sullivan, assistant chief engineer, Winnipeg, and F. F. Busteed, general superintendent of British Columbia, Vancouver. Captain Gore met the party at Kootenay Landing.

R. H. Stewart, managing director of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company of Trail, met the party in Nelson.

Passes Through Cranbrook.

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 1.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy passed through Cranbrook at noon today on his annual inspection trip. Superintendent Uren accompanied him over this division to Kootenay Landing, from where he goes to Nelson and will go through to the main line. His special train returned again tonight to Macleod and will go west on the main line to meet him at meet him at Revelstoke.

SUICIDE AT FERNIE

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 1.—A man named John Vaudey, about 35 years of age, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid tonight in the house of Bessie Smith, a keeper of one of the houses in the restricted district. From papers found on his person by Coroner Bleasdell it seems that Vaudey came from some place in Saskatchewan. He arrived here about Aug. 16. No inquest will be held as the bottle from which the poison was taken and the glass used by Vaudey were found by his side, and Dr. Anderson pronounced the cause of death to be as stated. The man had been quarrelling with the Smith woman who, with the other inmates of the place, had left the house some time before and found the man dead when they returned.

RIFLE SHOOT AT SLOCAN CITY

Nelson Crawford Bay and Slocan Marksmen Will Meet at Labor Day Shoot.

Riflemen from Nelson and Crawford Bay will go to Slocan City on Monday for the big annual shoot at that city when teams from the three places will fight for two shields which are being put up for competition.

The team from Nelson will be composed of members of the 102nd regiment; the Crawford Bay Rifle association is sending a team, while the home team will be selected from the Slocan Civilian Rifle association.

One contest will be the shoot for a perpetual shield, won last year by the Slocan team. On Monday the holders will have to defend the trophy against Nelson. All three teams will shoot for the second shield.

Today the last shoot for the Dominion government salver will take place at Slocan City. Captain H. L. Fife, with an average of 93 out of a possible 105 for the three shoots which have already taken place, is practically certain of victory.

RANCHER BUILDS EXPENSIVE HOUSE

Fruitvale Man Lets Contract for Five Thousand Dollar Residence—Nelson Man Builder.

W. Brewster, a new-comer from Prince Albert, who purchased a 10-acre ranch at Fruitvale has given James Dancy the contract for the erection of a residence which, when completed, will cost over $5,000 and which will be the equal of any ranch residence in the district.

The house will be two story and basement. In the basement will be a den and large space for storage purposes and for a boiler and heating plant. The parlor, dining room and kitchen will be on the ground floor and on the upper floor three bedrooms and a bathroom will be located.

A big veranda is specified for the front of the house, while at the side there will be a balcony and another veranda.

Contracts for heating and plumbing have been let to E. K. Strachan; for painting and papering to A. E. Bennett and for tinwork to the Nelson Hardware company. The building is being wired for electric lights.

BUSINESS IS GENERALLY GOOD

In West Merchants Are Awaiting Information Regarding Harvest—Railway Earnings Increase

NEW YORK, Sept. 1—Dispatches to Dun's Review from branches of R. G. Dun & Co., in leading trade centres of the Dominion of Canada give the appearance of considerable increase of activity in both wholesale and retail lines at numerous points.

Montreal reports that with cooler weather retail trade is more active and that wholesale dealings exhibit noticeable improvement especially in dry goods. The fall millinery openings have been well attended and the business transacted is ahead of last year. In groceries sugars and teas continue to advance. Leather still drags and stocks are accumulating.

At Toronto wholesale trade has been more active, the national exhibition now in progress having greatly stimulated business. The millinery trade is particularly good and the movement of dry goods is very encouraging. Groceries are fairly active with canned goods very strong, while there is a good demand for hardware and metals Hides are steady and supplies ample. Ontario wheat is in good request for export.

London reports that general trade is holding well, though merchants are buying conservatively. Seasonable weather at Hamilton has stimulated retail trade and summer stocks in most places have been considerably reduced. Local manufacturers are well supplied with orders and labor is going well.

In the far west and northwest conditions are somewhat quiet, merchants generally waiting more definite information regarding harvest results.

Winnipeg reports that summerlike weather has occasioned a lull in retail trade, but building operations continue very active. At Regina the heavy influx of harvesters has helped retail business in all lines and a marked increase is generally noticed. There is, however, some anxiety in regard to outlying districts because of frosts. Edmonton reports that harvest is general this week and every indication points to satisfactory results. Trade, however is quiet while awaiting for actual developments.

The gross earnings of Canadian roads reporting to date for August show an increase of 17.4 per cent as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period last year. Commercial failures in the Dominion of Canada for the past week numbered 30, against 23 last week and 24 in the same week last year.

BREWERY BURNT BY INCENDIARY

Fifty Thousand Dollar Fire Last Night

BLAZE STARTED BACK OF BUILDINGS

Fire Fighters Narrowly Escape Death— Tremendous Crowd Gathers

Fifty thousand dollars damage was done by the firebug last night when a blaze which he lighted at the back of the old brewery building destroyed that structure and gutted the brewery itself, a four-story building on Latimer street.

The outbreak was discovered by the Misses Gigot, who reside in the residence adjoining, and spread with such rapidity that the old brewery building was doomed by the time the wagons from the upper and lower stations arrived at the scene. Every hose was in operation a gang of men bringing the hand cart with an extra length from the small station on Cedar street to assist in the effort that was made by the fire fighters to quell the flames.

But the heat of the blaze in the old building soon overwhelmed the stream of water that was being poured as a preventitive measure on the new four story structure which contained the stock and machinery to the value of over $30,000 and the flames broke out in several places at once.

The flames lighted up the city for many blocks and the blazing fragments of wood which were flying in all directions proved a source of the greatest danger to the residences on all sides of the brewery. That a general conflagration did not ensue was due to the fact that there was little wind and to the efforts of citizens who, perched on the roofs of the residences soused the houses with streams of water from small hoses.

The residence of E. F. Gigot, who with Mrs. Gigot, is absent from the city, was saved with difficulty and most of the furniture was removed. The office of the brewery which stood in front of a shed between the old brewery and the Gigot residence, was considerably damaged by smoke and water and the shed itself was almost consumed by the flames.

Fire Fighters Escape Death

The fire fighters worked like Trojans. The heat from the fire was terrific and after the first few minutes huge pieces of burning timber were continually falling. Firemen Sims and Valentine had a very narrow escape, Valentine's helmet being struck from his head by a burning beam which must have weighed over a ton while Sims also escaped by inches.

The fire broke out at 11:30 and drew what was probably the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a blaze in the city. Rushing from their beds and on to the street in the scantiest of light attire some of the women from nearby residences were terror stricken and a few were hysterical.

The old brewery building was one of the first structures to be erected in the city and was built about 1892 by the late Robert Reisterer who came here and started up the brewery with his nephew, Julius Reisterer. As the business grew it attracted more capital and about 1900 the four story building was erected.

The business is at present being carried on by the Nelson Brewing Co., which has for some years paid dividends of 25 per cent. William Gosnell is manager.

The greater part of the loss is covered by insurance.

SASKATCHEWAN CROP HALF CUT

Threshing Has Commenced on Portage Plains—Average Yield Is High—Labor Sufficient.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—It is estimated today that half of the Saskatchewan's wheat crop is cut. In Manitoba the percentage is even higher. Accurate estimates from Alberta are lacking but most recent reports announce harvesting operations well under way. A large proportion of the oat crop has also been cut. Threshing on the Portage plains has commenced and it is anticipated that the beginning of next week will find threshing pretty general. In the few places where grain has been threshed it has been found to average from 20 to 25 bushels per acre, but it is impossible to make a general estimate from the isolated returns. The 40,000 men required to handle the crop are now on the ground and it is estimated that the crop will be harvested without damage from any direction. Average temperatures last night were above 50.

NO SPRINKLING OF LAWNS TODAY

The large quantity of water used at the fire last night has lowered the supply in the reservoir and Mayor Selous requests that citizens will today refrain from sprinkling lawns and gardens and will otherwise economize in the use of water until the reservoir supply has regained its normal height.

EVICTION NOTICES SERVED ON MINERS

FERNIE, B. C., Sept. 1.—Eviction notices were served upon the miners occupying company houses at Coal Creek and Michel by the Crows Nest Pass Coal company yesterday afternoon. Thirty days is the limit given the occupants to vacate. This action has been expected and has caused no excitement. The union officials have nothing to say regarding the action.

LEADERS HOLDING MANY MEETINGS

Political Discussions Are Held Over All Canada—Mr Borden's Huge Audience.

COOKSHIRE, Que., Sept. 1.—R. L. Borden and his lieutenants adjourned from Victoria hall here today and converted an intended indoor meeting into an outdoor one in order to satisfy several hundred people who could not find room within. Mr. Borden was, of course, the chief speaker, but was supported by Hon. P. Leblanc, Hon. C. J. Dougherty, Dr. W. L. Shurtleffe, K. C., and Frederick Cromwell, Conservative candidate in this riding.

Imperial Issue.

LAKE MEGANTIC, Que., Sept. 1.—R. L. Borden wound up one of the busiest days of his eastern township tour tonight, addressing a large meeting from the veranda of the hotel. It was the fourth meeting which he addressed during the day, the Conservative leader taking in Cookshire, Waterville, Scotstown and this village in quick succession.

Here on the boundary line separating Quebec from the state of Maine, the tenor of Mr. Borden's address was entirely on the national and imperial grouds, which the opposition advanced for rejecting reciprocity. Canada, he said, had achieved a great feat of nation building. Was all our vast heritage to be handed over to the tender mercies of our good neighborse to the south?

Oliver at Fort Saskatchewan.

EDMONTON, Sask., Sept. 1.—Hon Frank Oliver tonight made his first speech of the campaign outside of his own constituency. He spoke at Fort Saskatchewan in favor of W. N. White.

Tomorrow night he will be at Lloydminster. Next week he will assist J. M. Douglas in the Strathcona constituency. The retirement of ex-Premier Rutherford from the contest has resolved itself into a straight party fight and the minister of the interior has decided to give considerable time to outside constituencies. On Wednesday evening next he will hold a mass meeting with Premier Sifton in the rink here.

Meeting at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Three thousand Winnipegers assembled tonight in the Walker theatre here at the meeting called in the interests of the candidature of Alex Haggart, Conservative nominee for the Winnipeg seat in the federal house. The speakers were Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, W. S. Evans, mayor of Winnipeg, and Mr. Haggart himself.

Sir Wilfrid at Charlottetown.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Hardy arrived in Georgetown at 10 o'clock after a very rough trip during which the premier was indisposed. On arrival they proceeded by train to Montague, where upward of 2,000 people attended a meeting in a heavy downpour of rain. At 5 o'clock thep proceeded to Charlottetown, dined at Government house with the local politicians and then proceeded to the big arena, where 6,000 people were assembled, the largest number of persons seen in this city for years for a similar demonstration. Sir Wilfrid spoke at some lentgh and was cordially received.

Clifford Sifton Speaks

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 1—Hon. Clifford Sifton tonight addressed a large audience at the Arena rink. He was preceded by Robert Nathan of England who spoke from an imperialistic point of view, deploring the effect of reciprocity on the empire. A. W. Foster, candidate in King's against Sir Frederick Borden and Senator McKenna, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Sifton.

WINNIPEG POLICE BUSY.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—A new record for police activities is shown by August statistics issued today. During the month 1,315 cases were disposed of in the court. Of this total 570 were for various forms of inebriacy.

CASE IS WON BY RAILWAY

Leave Granted to Expropriate Coquitlam Lands

COMMISSION STILL IN SESSION

Nelson Case Not Yet Reached. Great Northern Must Reduce Rate

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Leave to proceed with the expropriation of large areas in the vicinity of Coquitlam for shops and yards was given to the Canadian Pacific Railway company this morning by the railway commission. The application of the company was opposed by S. S. Taylor and J. S. McKie on behalf of the property owners affected. Many of these owners had formerly given options on their land to agents of the railway, but later fought specific performance under the options in courts and won their cases, fraud in obtaining options being alleged. They asserted before the commission today that in addition to the area about two miles long and 2,700 feet wide which the company showed on the plans other property in the neighborhood was also in the possession of the C.P.R. and the Coquitlam Terminal company, said to be closely allied. This land they claimed was not for shops and yards purposes only, as mentioned in affidavits of Sir William Whyte, but was for townsite and industrial locations, which are not covered in the appropriation clauses of the railway act.

In giving judgment Chairman Mabee stated that he did not think the area in the plans too great and there was no evidence to show that the affidavits were outside the entire facts of the case. He made the order conditional upon the determining of the litigation as affecting optioned land. There is no condition respecting the other property desired.

The Great Northern Railway company was ordered by the commission this morning to reduce its 11-cent rate on fresh meat from the Sapporton plant of the Vancouver-Prince Rupert Meat company to Vancouver and also furnish fitted-up cars. Complainant asserted that a 5-cent rate was offered with a full supply of fitted-up cars if the plant was built at Sapparton. Later the rate was raised to 11 cents and the railway company asserted that it was not required to furnish other than ordinary refrigerator cars. The old rate is to stand for a year, in which time the company had leave to present statistics to show that the 5-cent rate is not remunerative.

MEETING HELD AT BURTON CITY

Conservative Candidate Given Hearty Reception—Evils of Reciprocity Are Pointed Out.

(Special to The Daily News.)

BURTON CITY, Sept. 1.—A. S. Goodeve was given a most flattering reception by the ranchers on Thursday morning. His speech, which was eloquent with its obvious sincerity and by the force of its arguments held the audience for over an hour. Mr. Fauquier occupied the chair and in his introductory speech said that he had an interesting instance of how reciprocity would work. He had been shipping fruit to the prairie and while in competition with the American market he received $1.75 profit, but as soon as they stopped his profit went up to $3.50. At present the duty is 3 cents per pound. What would happen if this duty were taken off?

Mr. Hunter, provincial member, also spoke and affirmed that money circulating in a country is best; one dollar in a country is worth five going and coming. He asked why, if we want preference, do we not have preferential tariff with the mother country, which is a far better market than the states?

Mr. Goodeve, who was heartily received, said he was glad to have the opportunity of meeting the ranchers of Burton, for the things he would discuss were vital to their interests. He said that the government without a mandate from the people has tried to reverse the policy of the nation. One of the most prosperous nations in the world had been built up and now a few men would undertake to gamble with its resources. His attitude to the whole question was that he went unpledged to Ottawa and has used his own judgment, and if he made errors they were errors of judgment and not of heart. Last parliament was one of the longest. What had been done? Nothing of any value. Why? They were standing around waiting to see what the president of a foreign nation was going to do about reciprocity. The position was debasing to our national pride. He spoke about the crop of scandals and affirmed that the time would come when there would be no maladministration of public affairs. Open discussion was necessary. He then touched on the Asiatic question. Notwithstanding the will of the people of British Columbia, Mr. Fielding in a letter to the emperor of Japan had said that he proposed to continue the agreement as it was eminently agreeable to the government. This free immigration of Japanese places them in a position of privilege compared with the people of the United Kingdom. He denounced the government and said that even Dr. King was ashamed to be identified with them, for he had been at pains to point out that he was running as a reciprocity candidate and not as a Liberal.

Speaking about the fruit industry, he said that $4,500,000 worth of fruit was produced last year in the Dominion. $4,000,000 worth was exported. Where to? $29,000 to the United States, and eight times as much to the mother country. The value of land is the value of its products. What if the fruit industry is destroyed?

In conclusion he reminded his hearers that no great country was ever brought up on dollars and cents. We had grown up with great national traditions, grown up under the folds of the Union Jack, and any commercial agreement such as was proposed would mean that ere long we would be gathering for protection under the stars and stripes.

At the close Mr. A. A. Burton, at whose house the meeting was held, proposed cheers for the king, the chairman, Messrs. Hunter and Goodeve. The meeting made a profound impression.

If a knife is slightly heated it will cut bread and cake much more easily.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING AT MOYIE

Reciprocity Pact Condemned by Speakers—Scandals Under Liberal Government—Committee Rooms

(Special to The Daily News.)

MOYIE, B.C., Sept. 1—The local Conservatives held their first public political meeting here last evening. The occasion was the grand opening of their committee rooms which were gayly decorated with flags and bunting to show their loyalty and belief in the British connection. The meeting was called to order at 7:45 p.m. by the chairman J. A. B. Macdonald. In his remarks he invited all, irrespective of party to make use of the hall until the end of the campaign, to discuss the questions of the day. Speeches were then delivered by Judge Ryan, J. P. Fink and George T. Thompson all of Cranbrook.

Judge Ryan, in opening his remarks spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Goodeve as a man, dealing briefly with his record in the house at Ottawa, quoting from Hansard. He then dealt with the labor question criticizing the government about the poor way in which they had handled the situation in the Crow's Nest. He then turned his attention to reciprocity condemning the proposed agreement as detrimental to the interests of all Canadians.

J. P. Fink followed, and in a brief speech gave his reasons for opposing the proposed agreement. He named a large number of American firms who under the present system had to build factories on this side of the line, in order to compete with the Canadians, claiming that in the event of reciprocity being endorsed by the people the manufacturing would be done in the United States.

George T. Thompson closed the meeting. He severely criticized the coast Liberals, who were principles in the recent scandals in connection with the Chinese immigration, and also the party at Ottawa, who he claimed were shielding one of their cabinet ministers. He then dealt in a straightforward manner with reciprocity, which was followed closely by the large number present. The singing of the national anthem and cheers for Mr. Goodeve, closed a very interesting meeting.

Settler Meets Five on Trail—Accident While Plowing—Wind Storm Does Damage.

(Special to The Daily News.)

BOSWELL B. C., Sept. 1.—While following the plow engaged in breaking some recently cleared land, H. Beaumont met with a painful accident. A stone was thrown up with considerable force and hit him in the mouth, most of his teeth being knocked out and the rest loosened.

Messrs Walters & Pascoe have put some excellent work into the house and stables they are erecting here for R. Ellis. The work will be completed in a day or two.

Price McDonald, J. P., has returned from the Bayonne country to his residence at Sanca. While walking along the trail recently he reports having met no less than five cougars. Carrying no rifle with him at the time he was unable to bag any. It will be remembered that a fine mare belonging to Mr. McDonald was killed last February by one of these animals. A petition was gotten up at the time asking the government to increase the bounty. Cougars in this district have multiplied tremendously and are playing havoc with the deer and other game.

Henry Stevens has left his house at Midge Creek, where he has been staying for some little time and is now working on his claim situated about two miles from the mouth of Goat creek.

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnstone and family, with Miss Dodd of Thrums, have been camping here for 10 days or so, they have enjoyed excellent sport, the fishing especially, which at Granite creek they found splendid. On Saturday a nasty wind storm came from the north. Some little damage was done, part of the roof of W. Ginol's barn being demolished and most of his sweet corn blown down.

A most enjoyable picnic was held on Wednesday last the occasion being Miss Angelia Wilson's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bartley gave a garden party to a few of their friends on the 27th, the orchestra, small but sweet, being much appreciated.

The maximum temperature recorded at the Dominion government meteorological station for the week ending Aug. 27 was 78 degrees on the 24th and the minimum 46 degrees on the 21st.

PLAY AT CORNWALL.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 1.—The Capital versus Cornwall lacrosse match will be played at Cornwall as scheduled on Saturday. Another conference was held between the two clubs this afternoon, at which it was decided to play. The principal hitch in connection with the proposed cancellation arose over the fact that both teams would have violated the constitution by not finishing out their schedules. Had they done so Cornwall wins would have been thrown out and Montreal would have been credited with a victory at the factory town three weeks ago instead of a loss.

WILLING TO TAKE LESS FOR FRUIT

Liberal Candidate Willing to Suffer Ill Effects of Reciprocity—Supports the Pact

(Special to The Daily News.)

PHOENIX, B.C., Sept. 1—Dr. K. C. McDonald, Liberal candidate for Yale-Cariboo and D. A. Macdonald of Cranbrook, addressed a meeting at the opera house on Tuesday. Considering the industrial conditions here there was a fair sized and attentive audience. The speakers seemed pleased at the courtesy extended to them. J. E. Thompson, leader of the local Liberals was in the chair and introduced the Liberal standard bearer. There seemed to be an absence of enthusiasm caused to some extent by the unsettled affairs in the camp.

Dr. McDonald opened his speech with a reference to the dissolution. He failed to see any immediate necessity for it and threw the entire blame on the opposition. He made the assertion that even if redistribution had preceded the dissolution it would have resulted in a majority of the new seats returning supporters of the government. He quoted the usual reciprocity history and appeared to think that what was good enough then was suitable for the present. He charged the Vernon News with deliberately twisting his statements and denied he was ever an opponent of reciprocity. The candidate emphatically stated that the fruit industry of British Columbia required no special consideration; it was quite able to meet successfully any competition. Personally he was quite willing to accept the lower price for the fruit on his farm. Reciprocity would benefit the whole of the Dominion; if it did not at once it would later. Reciprocity was favored he said by the Maritime provinces, Ontario and the prairies. He made no reference to Quebec.

The other speaker denounced the press of both sides for their inaccuracies and said their statements were wholly unreliable. He mentioned the Nelson Daily News as an offender. Commenting on what he called the annexation bogey, he quoted a few arguments he said he had heard some Conservatives make. One was the example afforded by the German confederation and the other the confederated states of the American union.

SUCCESSFUL BALL GIVEN AT ARROW PARK

(Special to The Daily News.)

ARROW PARK, B. C., August 31.—A very enjoyable dance was given on Wednesday night in the Arrow Park town hall, by C. Haddon of this town, who is fire warden for this district. It was attended by over 80 guests and was in the nature of a farewell to Miss Agnes Semple, of Vancouver, who has been spending a holiday in the district. The Hall was tastefully decorated with flags, floral favors were distributed to all the guests and an excellent supper at midnight was enjoyed by all. In fact the whole affair reflected great credit on the energy and good taste of our host. He and W. Richardson of Burton City provided brilliant dance music, relieved by Miss McLaughlin of New York City, who has been recently appointed teacher at Burton City. Sid Leary as master of ceremonies again proved his skill in helping make the dance a success.

R. L. June conveyed a party from Burton City in his launch, including his wife, Mrs. Lane, Miss Lebaix, Miss Sloan and Messrs. A. Burton, Jones and Leary. One of Robert Stevens' teams conveyed another merry party of nine by road, in charge of J. Liness, among them being W. A. Calder and J. Cooke (Edgewood). Nakusp was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird and the Watchan by B. Dieker and J. Porter. Quite a number of Arrow Park residents rolled up, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway, Mr. and Mrs. Rogerson, Mr. and Mrs. James, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolle, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. McFarlane. The spacious hall in which the dance was held reflects great credit on the enterprise of the townspeople; built just a year ago it is now practically self-supporting, is used as a school and boasts a fine piano. The lumber cost $500, the labor was given and after the first payment to the Kootenay Orchards, Nelson, for the two town lots on which it is built, the company gave the trustees a clear title to the land. By means of dances last winter the outfit has gradually been paid for, a small charge being made and the proceeds divided into thirds, going to the cost of the pianist, the hall, and the piano, respectively. It is certainly an object lesson to other communities of successful co-operation. The host is indebted to Mrs. F. G. Fauquier for some beautiful flowers presented by her for the occasion.

White pepper is preferable to black for seasoning chicken soup.

Crisp celery should be served with cold meat. It is a nerve tonic.

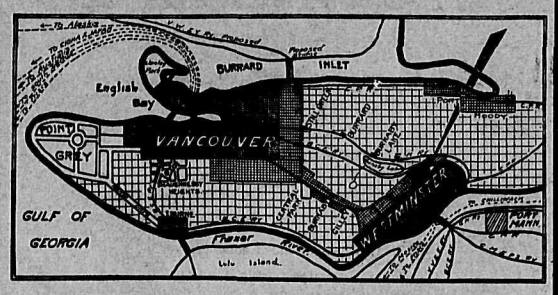
Look At It



This little peninsula designed by the Creator to be the site of one of the worlds greatest cities.

Just as there is only one London, one New York or one Paris, so will there be only one Vancouver on the western coast of America.

As regards great natural wealth, beautiful surroundings and healthful, enjoyable climate, none of the above cities compare with this new wonder of the 20th century.

If ever the time was ripe for investment, it is now and Vancouver presents an opportunity for the small investor beyond all others.

Ten dollars to $20 per month with an extension of time and a guarantee to refund full amount paid if on account of sickness or misfortune it is found imposible to carry out agreement.

Surely there is no excuse.

Last year the owners of this land divided in profits over fifty million dollars. Last year Montreal owners divided up seventy millions. Montreal is twenty-five years older than Vancouver and during all these years to come Vancouver will be yielding investors as much or more every year.

One or two lots in that part of Burnaby between the cities will provide for your future.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FRUITVALE, B. C., Sept. 1.—Dr. J. H. King, the Liberal candidate, and W. B. Farris spent Monday in the valley and held an open-air meeting at 1.30, which was well attended. Both speakers spoke at some length.

Miss Winnifred Bourke of Nelson came in on Monday's train for a week's holiday and is staying with Mrs. N. J. Bush at Rosemount.

A general meeting of the members of the Church of England was held at the schoolhouse on Friday evening and was well attended. O. Thorne took the chair. MAY BE THIRD MAJOR LEAGUE

Decision of National Baseball Commission May be Taken as Indication Of This Move.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept 1.—In a finding minus all ifs and ands and plain and firm, the National Baseball commission today not only rejected every demand upon it by the American association, but went farther in stating that if the American association was not to operate under the rules of organized baseball, that teams would be placed in every city on that circuit. While no mention of a league to do battle with the American association was made, it was implied to an extent that could not be misunderstood.

The American association is given until Sept. 10 to give an answer to the secretary of the commission, and upon the answer will hinge the question that now stands out paramount in the minds of baseball men, namely, "will there be a baseball war?"

In its findings, the commission took particular pains to place the brunt of the worry on the shoulders of the American association, and it is now up to this body as to whether or not there will be war.

President Chivington said: "I intend to call a meeting of the American association in the very near future, and until this matter is taken up by the league, I cannot say what will happen."

LAKE FOREST HORSE SHOW.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 1.—Chicago society is looking forward with keen interest to the twelfth annual Lake Forest open-air horse show, which is to be held tomorrow on the grounds of the Onwentia club. The exhibition this year promises to be more interesting than any of its predecessors. Polo ponies, saddle, coach and driving horses are among the different classes to be exhibited.

WON IN THE NINTH.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 1.—In an excellent game here last night the locals beat the C. M. Payne team 4 to 3. It was baseball all the way and with Gus Thompson and Roosevelt as pitchers few hits were made. The game was won by good ball in the last half of the ninth, when the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of the visitors. A walk, a sacrifice and an error got a man on first and second, and Morgan slammed out a two-bagger.

BOTH ARE READY FOR BIG MATCH

Gotch and Hackenschmidt Have Both Put in Their Last Hard Day's Work.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 1.—George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," who meets Frank Gotch for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship here Labor day, put in his last hard training today. At that the aspirant for the championship did not work as wrestling fans think a man should work on the eve of the most important mat bout in recent years. A long grind on the road, a swim in the lake, a few minutes on the mat with Dr. Roller, his chief trainer, and Koch, his German helper, and some work on the weight machines completed the hard training.

Today Hack will do a little road and gymnasium work. Tomorrow he will loaf all day and Monday will decide whether he is to be beaten again, as he was in his last match with the Humbolt farmer, or whether he is to be crowned the wrestling champion of the world. If he does win, Hack will have proven the wisdom of a training course practically unique in the wrestling game. Never before has the aspirant for the world's championship done anything like the hard training that was to be expected from a man engaged in the hardest bout in years, and against an opponent whose strength and cleverness is world famous. Hack's defense against such a course of training, is that he has been working for years in anticipation of this go, and he did not need hard work to prepare himself.

SICK HEADACHES AND NERVOUSNESS

"Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured Me.

LAKELET, ONT., May 12th. 1910.

"It is my firm belief that every woman should take "Fruit-a-tives" if she wants to keep herself in good health.

Before taking "Fruit-a-tives", I was constantly troubled with what is commonly known as "Nerves" or severe Nervousness. This extreme Nervousness brought on the most violent attacks of Sick Headache, for which I was constantly taking Doctor's medicine.

Constipation was also a source of great trouble for which the Doctors said "I would have to take medicine all my life" but "Fruit-a-tives" has banished these troubles and I am a well woman.

When I started taking "Fruit-a-tives", I took four at a time, but have reduced the dose so that it is only necessary for me to take one in a week, and that one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet every week keeps me well". MRS. FRED GADKE.

It is wonderful how quickly women get better when taking "Fruit-a-tives". These famous fruit tablets relieve headaches and tone up the whole nervous system. They regulate the bowels, strengthen the stomach, stimulate the appetite, and take away that pain in the back. Pale, weak, nervous women should always use "Fruit-a-tives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

RECIPROCITY AND THE FRUIT GROWERS

Platform advocates of reciprocity in Kootenay are asking the fruit growers of this section to vote for the pact entered into with President Taft by the Ottawa government on the grounds that the result, if reciprocity goes into effect, will not be to kill the industry, in support of which they say that their opponents do not make any such claim. The position of the advocates of reciprocity is put forward in words as follows: "The most that is claimed by those who oppose the pact is that the industry will be affected." Because the opponents of reciprocity do not say that the pact will kill the fruit industry of this section the advocates of the measure think that the fruit growers should be thankful and should therefore vote for Dr. King, the candidate of the government which introduced this issue in Canadian politics.

The fruit growers of Kootenay, however, probably know their own business as well as do these gentlemen who are taking upon themselves to advise them how to vote. Fortunately the fruit growers are on record on the question of reciprocity. On February 9 last, at what was undoubtedly the most representative meeting of fruit growers ever held in the Kootenay, strictly non-partisan in character, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the fruit growers of the Kootenays have invested heavily in developing orchards, relying upon the government of Canada to maintain existing tariff conditions as affecting their products, or in case of any modification affecting fruit, to benefit to an equal extent by modification of the tariff on other articles affecting the cost of production of fruit; and

Whereas, the cost of production in this district is increased by the fact that labor and all supplies are higher by reason of a generally protective tariff, and by the distance from the eastern Canadian manufacturing centres, than it otherwise would be; and

Whereas, the industry being as yet in the early stages of development in this district, the costs are higher than in the older established districts in Washington and Oregon, from where the fruit comes in competition with ours, while there is nothing in the proposed reciprocal arrangements to reduce the cost of production; and

Whereas, the reciprocity arrangement with the United States would remove the protection which we now enjoy, and would doubtless lower the net profit (taking as an instance, on our apples by the duty, viz., 13 cents per box); and

Whereas, our orchards have been planted with varieties more suitable to the Canadian markets, which are our best market, under our tariff system, and it would be impossible for us to take advantage of the market for special varieties of fruit in the eastern cities of the United States, which would be open to us by the reciprocity arrangement, without in most cases sacrificing existing orchards and developing new ones; and

Whereas there is no compensating benefit to us in the proposed reciprocity arrangement, and the result will be injurious and unjust to us;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we the fruit growers of the Kootenay in mass meeting assembled, do protest against the proposed reciprocity arrangement as regards fruit being put into force, and do respectfully request the government of Canada not to make such reciprocal arrangements regarding fruit at this time.

This is the position of the fruit growers of the Kootenay and Boundary countries in regard to reciprocity in so far as it affects them. And still there are men going about this country asking the fruit growers of these two sections to vote for reciprocity. Are not such appeals an insult to the intelligence of the fruit growers of this section?

I bought a horse with a supposedly incurable ringbone for $30. Cured him with $1.00 worth of Minard's Liniment and sold him for $85.00. Profit on liniment, $54.00.

EDITORIAL NOTES

For party or for country?

Goodeve and a resounding victory.

Canada, a nation within the empire.

Goodeve, the ablest representative Kootenay ever had at Ottawa.

Goodeve, the man who has brought Kootenay's name to the front at Ottawa and throughout eastern Canada.

Canada is at the parting of the ways. She must turn either toward London or toward Washington. Which direction do you prefer she should take?

The people of Kootenay should send to Ottawa a man whom they know is sound on the question of a white British Columbia. That man is Mr. A. S. Goodeve.

In Hon. William Templeman the advocates of reciprocity in British Columbia have a leader who is prepared to sacrifice all the other standard bearers of his party in the province if he can only make sure of his own reelection.

In Mr. A. S. Goodeve Kootenay has had for the past three years a representative in parliament who has taken a leading place at Ottawa. Why not reelect him?

The people of Kootenay owe it to themselves to make their verdict against reciprocity so emphatic that no one can question their views on the matter.

If Sir Wilfrid Laurier's other cabinet ministers deserted the party's candidates in their respective provinces, as Hon. William Templeman is doing in this, how could the government expect to be re-elected.

In 1898, 1899 and 1907 Sir Wilfrid Laurier thanked heaven that the days when reciprocity was necessary to Canada's welfare had passed. What is it that in 1911 has brought them back?

Advocates of reciprocity are telling the people of Canada to vote for their pockets in this election. If the people of Kootenay do this they will vote against reciprocity.

How is it that Hon. William Templeman does not come up to the Kootenay and explain why it was that if the government of which he is a member, was determined to have fruit put on the free list it did not also insist upon the same arrangement in regard to lead and zinc?

Mr. Martin Burrell is deserving of the unanimous endorsation of the people of Yale-Cariboo for the good work he has done at Ottawa during the past three years.

One of the most advanced pieces of labor legislation that has been introduced into the house of commons for some years was the bill providing for an eight hour day on all Dominion public works. This measure was supported by Mr. Goodeve but was killed by the government of which Dr. King is a supporter.

Is it because Hon. William Templeman thinks there is no possible chance of the election of any of his party's candidates on the mainland of British Columbia that he is leaving them to their fate in order to devote all his time to his own campaign in Victoria.

Press Comment

Mr. W. F. Lance, a senator from British South Africa, at present visiting Toronto, declares that the whole empire is watching Canada at this juncture, to see whether or not Canada will be true enough to their race to defeat any measure calculated to weaken the imperial bond. This is an appeal that will strike home to the hearts of all loyal Canadians of whatever political stripe. Just now we are not only under the eyes of all Britons everywhere. All enemies of the British empire are also anxious concerning our decision on Sept. 21.—Toronto News.

The Toronto Globe's New York financial special of the 20th inst. says that there is a feeling of discouragement in business circles. There is no feeling of discouragement in Canada. Why tie up with a discourage nation?—Victoria Colonist.

The issue before Canadians today is the same as that upon which the general election of 1891 was decided. Then it was called commercial union. Now it is called reciprocity. Both lead to the same goal—continentalism.—St. John Standard.

Ten Years Ago.

(Extract from the Nelson Daily Tribune of Sept. 2, 1901.)

Anthony Madden returned to Nelson last evening after an absence of several years spent in the northern gold camps. Latterly he has been stationed at Cape Nome.

S. A. Kelly, manager of the Kootenay Cigar company, has left for Ottawa. He will be married at the capital on Saturday next to Miss Constance Fletcher, daughter of Dr. James Fletcher, Dominion entomologist.

W. E. Wasson, city treasurer, left last evening on a holiday trip to his home in Norwood, Ont. A number of the civic staff were at the wharf to see him off and as a testimonial to the good feeling they bear toward him James McPhee presented Mr. Wasson with a brick house. This testimonial is to be presented in installments, a brick at a time.

This Date in History.

This is the day of the anniversary of the great fire of London in 1666, which, starting in a baker's shop on Pudding Lane at 1 o'clock in the morning continued for four days, burning 13,000 houses. It was this fire that stopped the ravages of the Plague of London which, during the year of 1665, carried off 68,596 souls. A violent east wind augmented the flames once they were started. Two days later the wind fell somewhat; the following day the flames slackened, and the next day were checked by houses being blown down by gunpowder. The distress of those made homeless by this calamity was great. The river swarmed with vessels filled with persons carrying away such of their goods as they were able to save. Some fled to the hills of Hampstead and Highgate, but Moorfields was the chief resort of the homeless Londoner. The people bore their trouble heroically, and Henry Oldenberg, writing to the Hon. *Robert Boyle on Sept. 10, said, "The citi*zens instead of complaining, discoursed almost of nothing but a survey for rebuilding the city with bricks and large streets."

COMMUNICATIONS

STORAGE OF DYNAMITE

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Kindly allow me space in your paper for the following: Seeing that none of the citizens of Nelson, and, especially those who live in the vicinity of the fire hall, have taken up the matter of the recent fire, I for the future protection of my own life as well as that of others, wish, through the columns of The Daily News to make public the dreadful calamity which might have befallen us on the night of the fire at the city tool shed in which was stored a box and more of dynamite, 60 per cent, with some cans of gasoline. Had it not been for the two boys sent by Providence and the heroic and prompt action of the fire brigade in getting the flames under control before they reached the powder, the lives of many might have been lost and much damage done to property. Are not the city authorities responsible for the danger with which we were threatened? I live across the street from the fire hall and was alone in my house on the night of the fire. Looking out of my window I saw sparks flying over the roof of the fire hall and knowing that the city kept powder there, though not aware of the quantity, I tried to dress quickly in order to warn those in the vicinity to run to a place of safety, but seized by fright and bewilderment, I could not move. I have asked Mayor Selous why there was a box of dynamite and other combustible substances allowed there, and how many pounds of dynamite the law allows the city or any citizen to keep inside the city limits. Our worthy mayor does not know and lays the blame on the city engineer. I also interviewed our city solicitor on the matter. He says he does not know how much powder can be kept within the city limits and told me there was not enough in the building to do any harm, adding that if the fire had reached the powder it might not not explode, it might have just burned out. We can derive from this that the lives of hundreds depended on the word might, and a very short space of time.

Now I call upon the citizens, and especially those who can thank God that we still live, to consider why the city should be allowed to break the law to such an extent.

MRS. ANNA BARTLETT.

PATIENT SUFFERING FROM FUMES OF GASOLINE

BRANDON, Man., Sept. 1.—Harry Grant, a C.N.R. employee, was brought from the west on the Saskatoon express just after noon today and *is now lying at the hospital in an un*conscious condition. He is supposed to have been in that condition for at least 18 hours and his case is most peculiar. Dr. Edmison, the C.N.R. surgeon, who was attending the patient, could not say positively, when he saw the man upon arrival at the hospital, what was the cause of his sickness. The doctor says he thinks he was overcome by gasoline fumes and was unconscious for several hours before he was found.

Grant occupied a shack at a water tank on the C.N.R. near Kipling. In the shack is a gasoline engine and tank of gasoline. He appears to have become unconscious while the engine was running, for it ran on until the oil was run out and then stopped. Some persons happened to go into Grant's shack late Thursday evening and found the unfortunate man. Word was at once sent here, and instructions were given to send Grant to Brandon. Grant is a married man, about 40 years of age. The doctor thinks he will recover.

MENTAL FACTOR IMPORTANT IN FIGHTING DISEASE

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 1—During the course of his presidential address before the British Columbia Medical association, Dr. Weld said, referring to the fight against tuberculosis:

"The governing body of the Tranquille sanitarium is working hard to widen its field of usefulness and various anti-tuberculosis societies have done much to aid but much more is required. The provincial government is now recognizing its responsibility to some extent but I firmly believe that the institution should be entirely controlled, equipped and maintained by the state. Municipalities should contribute toward the maintenance of their own indigent patients if an equitable arrangement could be worked out."

Dr. McCallum of London, Ont., said more attention should be paid to the mental factor in diseases and treatment as the nervous system controlled every organ of the body. Christian Scientists, not believing in material things, went too far for there were material as well as mental elements in disease.

FIRE AT KASLO

(Special to The Daily News.)

KASLO, B.C., Sept. 1.—An alarm of fire was sounded at 11 o'clock this morning when the house occupied by George E. Cole caught fire. The fire department turning out pressed two delivery rigs into the service and were on the ground in a very short time. The house is on the bank of Kaslo creek and just outside of the part of the city served by the water system and nearly an eighth of a mile of hose was laid to the place but by that time the fire had about finished the place. The students of the public school, on seeing the blaze and smoke, hastened to the place and were the means of saving nearly all the furniture as they were near the place and got started in their work before the fire had got very far advanced. The house was owned by John Calender.

DRY FARMING PROCESS PROCURES GOOD CROPS

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Sept. 1—That dry farming methods when properly followed, are successful has just been demonstrated by Professors Briggs, Kearney and Shantz of the department of agriculture, who, in behalf of the department, have completed an investigation of the dry farms in this valley. Professor Briggs, before leaving this city, stated that in all of the travels of the committee it has not seen either irrigated or non-irrigated farming which produced better results than were to be found on the dry farms here, in the face of the fact that the year has been one of severe drought

The Woodmansee and Webster farm of 5,000 acres is producing 2,400 acres of Turkey Red wheat that will average not less than 40 bushels when threshed. This result is obtained under dry farming tillage methods, and the use of 30 pounds of seed to the acre.

C. H. Woodmansee of Rexburg, Idaho, one of the owners of this ranch, has been invited to address the sixth International Dry Farming congress to be held in Colorado Springs October 16 to 20, explaining the methods, both of tillage and business, utilized on the great ranch of this company. The company will also make an exhibit at the exposition held in connection with the congress. Mr. Woodmansee is said to be one of the most exacting farm operators in the west, and is able to tell at the close of each year to a fraction of a cent the cost of plowing, harvesting and handling his crop.

In this vicinity the government men found 50,000 acres of dry land grown grain that will run from 30 to 50 bushels to the acre. In addition to this the valley is now harvesting 150,000 acres of diversified dry-farmed crops all of which are producing heavily. The valley already has about 200,000 acres of dry-farmed land under what is known as summer tillage or fallow, which will be seeded this fall.

Bacon fat may be saved and used to fry fish in. It gives the fish a good flavor and keeps it from falling apart.

When ironing pongee it is well to iron it without sprinkling. It will take longer, but the result will be more satisfactory.

If a tiny pinch of soda is put into a saucepan in which fruit is being stewed less sugar will be needed to sweeten it.

A few paper clips are invaluable in the sewing basket, for they may hold together scraps, pieces of patterns and bits of lace.

Irons should, before every washday, be scoured thoroughly with soap and water and then dried immediately with a soft rag.

Tea and ground coffee should be kept either in a tin or glass vessel, covered with a lid, and should always be tightly covered.

It is expected that the lingerie gown will continue to be worn through the winter for indoors affairs.

WILL EMPLOY GANG DURING WINTER

Dredge For Employment on Columbia To Be built This Winter at Nakusp.

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, B. C. Sept. 1.—After a long and painful illness, Fergus J. Hayes died at his residence on Friday. Deceased was a most respected member of the local community, and has been for a long time an employee of the C. P. R. shipyard. Some 18 months ago he was compelled to relinquish his vocation through illness, had sought the most renounced medical aid, to no avail, leaving a young wife behind, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rushton, of Brouse. The respect with which the deceased was held by the townspeople, and the sympathy evinced toward his widow, was manifested in the number attending the last sad rites, it being the largest funeral ever seen in the town. The floral offering was large as it was beautiful The Ladies Aid, Woodmen of the World, Shipyard employees, Messrs Chittenden, Stobo, McDougald, Blades, Rushton, Dougal, Funcke, Hambling, Wensley G. Jordan and Gardner, and Mesdames Muirhead and Moffatt. The Presbyterian church was crowded to overflowing, many standing, while others were compelled to remain outside. Rev. Allan Wilkie officiated and Dr. Lavell presided at the organ.

The Liberal meeting last week was well attended, the speakers, Dr. King Mr. Mcdonald and Mr. Farris being listened to with attention. Mr. Macdonald's address defended the Liberal policy and especially the reciprocity pact. The audience was good naturedly inclined..

Mr. Mills, mechanical engineer for the Dominion government was here today and selected a site on the foreshore from the C. P. R. for the immediate construction of a new large dredge for service on the Columbia river. It is found that the present craft is too small for the heavy work it has to encounter. This will give employment for a large gang through the winter. A barge will also be built in connection with the dredger, and material as far as possible, will be purchased locally.

Another boat house has just been completed by Contractor Crowell, for Mr. Sherlock of Lethbridge and Demars, and towed today toward its moorings among the others. This makes the sixth structure of its kind in town, all recently built. Mr. Sherlock spends the summer months at Demars, and leaves with his family for Lethbridge tomorrow.

J. A. Slade, of Demars, has been called to the old country on the death of his father, to settle up the estate. He will be absent about three months, and sails on the Empress of Britain on Sept 8.

A dance was given by Mrs. Daniells, of Sunnyside, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sherlock, who are leaving for the winter. Quite a number of Nakusp people went down in launches for the event.

Mr. Rothwell, manager of the Canadian bank of Commerce, is enjoying his holidays, being relieved by Mr. Purdy of Greenwood.

Much regret is felt at the departure at an early date of Mr. McEutcheon, the popular teller at the bank, who is being transferred to another town.

The building activity still continues in town, many pretty homes being in the stage of development. Land clearing is also active an impetus being given by the opportunity to burn by permit at last.

Here is an objection offered to Life Insurance but easily met by our policies—I may be forced to let the policy lapse from financial difficulties and through no fault of my own.

Here is the answer—Our automatic non-forfeiture clause provides for this. After a policy has been in force three years it has an actual cash value sufficient to carry the policy for some time. This value increases every year. This is only a stronger reason why you should insure today. Your opportunity is now.

CEMENT SLAB WALK FINISHED

But Vernon Street Sidewalk Will Not Be Open for Traffic Till End of Month

In front of the city hall yesterday a gang of men were at work constructing the cement crossing which the council decided to build at that place. The work will be finished in a few days.

The grading on Hendryx street, near Baker is also in progress and the work on Vernon street near the Hume hotel is completed with the exception of the installation of the prism lights and the street grading. The cement sidewalk, however, will not be open for pedestrian traffic until near the end of the month when the forms will be removed from under the slabs which form the sidewalk and the concrete and steel will carry the weight.

If this style of sidewalk proves as satisfactory as is anticipated it will prove that there is available a cheap means of constructing cement walks over the majority of the deep hollows in the city and it is expected that many citizens will adopt this method of improving their property and the appearance of the streets.

THINKING ABOUT ELECTION DAY

The day is almost here boys, it's on the 21st,
When all the foes of Canada are going to do their worst
To cripple all the industries and make a name for Taft,
And place our land forever under Yankee trusts and graft.

And every Grit and traitor beneath Old England's flag
Will stand around and listen and hear the Yankees brag
How they handed us the lemons and killed our home-grown fruit;
A man who'd vote for such a deal is certainly a "beaut."

He ought to be transported to that land that's to the south,
And live among the Yankees and forever shut his mouth;
And never tell a living soul, and never more come back,
And never let his mother know he smoochthe Union Jack.

Let them have their King from Cranbrook,
We'll stick to England's King,
And resolve to vote for Canada, and foster everything
That will cause her wheels of industry to make a busy hum,
And none of us can ever say "We put her on the bum."

Then cheer boys for the Empire and let the Yankees squeal;
Let's bind ourselves together with links of love and steel,
And never be a sucker for foreign friend or foe,
"Stand shoulder to shoulder" and help the Empire grow.

J. H. CROWE.

One of the new frills which is detachable and goes down the front of the blouse has battlements of embroidery at the inner edge. There is a buttonhole in each one which is put over a button on the blouse. The frill is double with the upper one shorter than the lower one.

The length of the new sleeve has not been settled. The great Paris designers show long sleeves, short sleeves, bell sleeves, tight sleeves and puff sleeves with about equal favor.

Investment vs. Speculation

There is a Wide Difference Between Investing and Speculation

The Majority of People Think They Are Investing When They Are Practically Speculating

The average investor places his money in securities with the idea of profits by the legitimate earnings for the use of said monies.

You are purely speculating when you purchase commodities with the idea of benefitting by an increase in the market for that commodity.

Have you considered the prospect of increasing your capital however small? Carrying the possibility of increasing the same in a safe conservative way, without the possibility of loss? This is a fundamental law of nature We or you are not prepared for sermons usually—a word to the wise is sufficient.

Look Into Sheep Creek ---Just Sheep Creek

We recommend the purchase of Sheep Creek Townsite Lots.

They are going fast and we suggest your co-operation.

We are purely councillors not advisors. But respectfully remark: it will pay you to use your money in this direction and we are prepared to help you and show you how.

Our services cost you nothing. Come in and talk it over with us. Take time by the forelock.

We Advise Conservative Investment at

Sheep Creek! Sheep Creek!

It is just such a small investment as we suggest at Sheep Creek which has virtually plunged scores of men you know into financial comfort.

At Sheep Creek you are practically buying in town. There is no trouble about examining this property. Trains are at your disposal daily both from Nelson and Spokane morning and afternoons and automobiles take you direct to Sheep Creek Townsite Lots.

Vancouver division No. 101, Street Railway Employees' union, will be represented at its own international convention at St. Joseph, Mo., by Fred A. Hoover, a delegate of the central labor body and a director of the Vancouver Labor Temple company. The division will also have a delegate present at the Calgary convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in the person of W. W. Burrough. Both conventions open on the 11th inst. The Street Railwaymen's organization, covering suburban lines, is well into a membership of 1,000 and increasing rapidly. Next to the Western Federation of Miners it is the best example of an industrial union in British Columbia. It is also contributing some bright young men to the labor movement.

Edmonton, Alta., has a municipally-owned and operated street railway system. But, as under any other form of ownership the employees have learned that it is necessary to organize to protect their interests, hence Division No. 569 of the International Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America is the result. The organization meeting was fathered by the central labor body, the committee being Secretary T. H. Clark, J. A. Kinney and Del. Woodward. The provincial officers elected are: President, A. J. Campbell; treasurer, A. McCullough; warden, H. Montgomery; conductor, A. Montgomery; sentinel, A. McCready. Affiliation with the Trades and Labor council was at once decided upon and Delegates Campbell, Ferrier and Clark were credentialled. In anticipation of some of the demands of the new union the civic authorities have already "voluntarily" made a few concessions to the street railway employees.

Splendid progress is now being made on Vancouver's new Labor Temple, and it should be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

The striking building tradesmen in Paris recently pulled off something new to unionists in Canada. They declared a general strike for a nine-hour day, and were locked out for some weeks. Then, all at once they surrendered to the terms offered by the bosses; and returned to work. But as soon as the nine-hour workday was up they quit en masse. The nine-hour day resulted. The workers get what the workers take.

The 12th annual convention of the California State Federation of Labor has been called for Oct. 2, at Bakersfield. The Washington State Federation of Labor will convene at Spokane in January next. Washington and British Columbia will exchange fraternal delegates; the former meeting a week or two before the latter.

The coal miner's strike in the Crow's Nest valley has made it impossible for the unionists to run a Socialist candidate in the Kootenay federal riding on Sept. 21. J. W. Bennet, editor of the District Leader, (Fernie), was slated for the ticket, but the strike handicap has prevented the raising of sufficient funds to wage a campaign at this juncture. It looks now as though the Vancouver constituency would be the only one in British Columbia contested by the Socialist party.

R. A. Rigg has been nominated as the working class candidate in Winnipeg, with the endorsation of the central labor body.

Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor is circularizing affiliated unions, central bodies and state federation of labor on behalf of the McNamara brothers, now incarcerated at Los Angeles as officers of the Structural Iron Workers International union, on a charge of dynamiting the Times office. The latest letters so addressed says: "Our men must be defended. Kidnappers must be punished. Friends are needed to prosecute the detectives who assume that workingmen have no rights worthy of respect. Burns and his conspirators are to be prosecuted to the full limit of the law. Eminent counsel have been employed to defend the McNamaras and prosecute the kidnappers. Organized labor and its friends are urged to contribute to the full limit of their ability. Inherent rights of union men must be preserved, no matter what the cost."

R. J. Brown, president of Calgary Typographical union, No. 449, and a delegate to the San Francisco convention, was in Vancouver for a few days en route home last week. He took advantage of the occasion to renew a number of old acquaintances, and get a line on the probable number of delegates from the coast to the Congress convention, which opens in his home town on the 11 inst. Mr. Brown is slightly dubious of the prospects of Calgary unionists being able to do justice to the visiting delegates owing to the delightful uncertainties which have come thick and furious throughout western Canada for the past few months, not the least of which is the coal miners' strike nearby. Arrangements, too, for an excursion to the National park at Banff were balked by the C. P. R. Local difficulties in the building trades, and other causes so well known to unionists, all contributed to the obsstacles in the way of the reception committee. However, it is felt that the congress will do the movement good and result in a general awakening of interest in the work of the congress at Ottawa and other legislative centers. Mr. Brown edits a once-a-week labor page in the Morning Albertan.

Clarance Darrow has earned a reputation for himself in the defense of union men victimized by the United States industrial ruling class. He has had enough experience to warrant the acceptance of some of his conclusions. Here is one of them: "Against the effort of employer and the laws of trade to replace the skilled with the unskilled, the intelligent with the ignorant, the strong with the weak,, the man with the woman, and the woman with the child—against the tendency of the market to lengthen the hours of labor, to furnish cheap and unsafe tools and insanitary conditions of toil, there is but one aggressive, substantial force in modern society today. That force is trade unionism. Through all the changing years the working classes have supported and built up their unions in the face of powerful influences, in the face of legislatures and courts; in spite of starvation and jails; in evil repute and good. They have clung to them as the one thing which stood between them and the bondage from which they came. And just as persistently have the employing class, as a class, sought from the beginning by every means at their command—by public opinion, the press, legislatures, courts and jails—to destroy these workingmen's organizations. And while we admit their shortcomings have been many, we must realize that all of their methods have been borrowed from their employers; have been brought about by the natural instinct to preserve life in a fierce competitive industrial struggle; a brutish struggle which is not ethical, but which is selfish to the core."

The display of power recently made by the railway workers of England has evidently inspired the railway workers of some of the systems of the United States to greater efforts towards unity of purpose and action. Press dispatches indicate that there is likely to be an endurance test pulled off on this continent at no distant date unless increases of wages commensurate with the cost of living are forthcoming. While the old country railroaders are probably the poorest paid lot of workers of their kind on earth, relatively the railway workers on this continent do more work for less money than their old country brothers. Closer unity of all railroaders is about due in America.

Federal Labor union No. 13197, New Westminister, has affiliated with the British Columbia Provincial Federation of Labor and Secretary James Groves is arranging to assist the executive in securing data for the presentation of its reports to the January convention at Victoria. The membership of the Royal City Federal union is evidencing a keen interest in legislative matters, and appreciates the value of law-making provided, of course, there is also workers' representatives to back it up, after enactment.

James C. Watters, president of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, and at present doing a little organization work for the Calgary convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canadá, is now in the Crow's Nest Pass coalfields territory, leaving Fernie last Saturday. After meeting the executive committee of District 18 of the United Mine Workers, Mr. Watters feels confident that the affiliation of the miners for the Federation is assured, in time for representation at the next convention. The Fernie Trades and Labor council is sort of hibernating these days, the strike having driven practically all tradesmen out of camp for the time being. Mr. Watters expects to reach Lethbridge today. The representation of the miners at the congress convention is an unknown quantity at present, owing to unsettled conditions prevailing.

W. C. Steadman, secretary of the parliamentary committee of the Trade Union Congress, aged 60, died last week in old England, after a life of usefulness to his class and little reward for himself. The cause he espoused, however still lives and begets successors to fill up the ranks and continue the struggle.

"The iron syndicates of Germany and France having reached an agreement among themselves over Morocco's iron mines, they notified their respective governments to wash off their war paint."

The few straggling locals masquerading under the title of the Canadian Federation of Labor, and better known to international unionists as the "nationalists,"' are gradually dropping their affiliation with the per capita tax dodgers, and lining up with the world-wide trade organizations of the working class. There isn't enough of them left to hold a funeral this year, let alone a convention.

The unionists of Chicago, by referendum vote, have joined the long list of those who will refuse to "parade" on Labor day; only two out of 50 unions voting in the affirmative. In Edmonton, Alta., a parade of work-horses will be held instead of the usual exhibition of slaves. Outside of Winnipeg few western Canada unionists will be a party this year to mixing it up on Labor day with a bunch of laundry wagons, butchers carts and advertising floats for the bosses.

The postmaster general of Canada has announced that a parcel post system will soon be inaugurated in the Dominion; with enough restrictions, however, to give the express companies a chance to continue business in the same old way.

Samuel L. Landers, organizer in Canada for the United Garment Workers of America, has cut loose in Montreal and appears to be making good. He is holding open-air meetings and talking to the poorly-paid male and female garment workers en route home from their slavery with results that are anything but satisfactory to the exploiters, and Montreal police authorities. Mr. Landers also appeared before the board of control and urged that proper fire escapes be provided for the hundreds of men, women and children employed on sixth and seventh floors with absolutely no protection in case of fire. The board promised to investigate, and the factory inspectors seem to have been awakened from lethargy. As a political acrobat Samuel has no peer; but it must be admitted by all that when it comes to stirring up a bunch of unorganized garment workers he has the goods and delivers them. Unionists of the west will wish him every success in his endeavors at Montreal.

Victor R. Midgley has been elected as a delegate from Vancouver trades and labor Council to the Calgary convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. Mr. Midgley represented the council at last session of the American Federation of Labor at St. Louis, Mo.

Victoria, B. C., unionists are endeavoring to have the civic authorities establish an employment bureau, to offset the evils of the employment offices, now so common and offensive in coast cities.

Port Arthur, Ont., has stripped the venere from its municipal "government" and placed a manager on the job. "The new officer will have much the same power as the manager of any other corporation," says the Daily Press. No fault can be found with the innovation, but surely it goes to corbororate the contention that "governments are but executive committees of the ruling class." As a matter of fact the principal is sound, and with workingclass shareholders and directors to appoint the "manager," the plan ought to work out all right. It should largely eliminate a lot of tinkering by petty ward politicans. It might be borne in mind, too, that the relation of wage-workers towards a municipal corporation are about the same as to any other corporation. Their attitude, therefore, should be about the same. Workers, however, have much to gain by taking an active part in the selection of "managers" wherever possible, be the limitations what they may.

Phil Obermeyer (Hamilton Herald) is usually in touch with the inner workings of the eastern labor world, and frequently guesses right. Here is what he has to say concerning the coming convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at Calgary: "The appointment of a permanent secretary of the Trades Congress of Canada will likely be a live question at the Calgary convention."

J. William Wilkinson, president of Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, has been elected by the Canadian membership of the Amalgmated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, as one of three delegates to represent the Canadian district at the Calgary convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, opening on Sept. 11. Mr. Wilkinson is also a candidate as Canadian delegate of the Amalgamated to the Norfolk convention of the American Federation of Labor in November next.

TEMPERATURES SATISFACTORY

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—There was very little fresh in the situation today. The weather map was a good one, although scattered showers of a light character had fallen. Temperatures were in nearly every case satisfactory. The question of reciprocity is coming in for a fair share of conversation and it is undoubtedly having its effect on the market. The foreign market was bullish, but the market was dull and heavy after yesterday's heavy business.

October opened strong at 98⅝ split, or ⅜c higher, and spent most of the time around the 98⅞ level, rising to the 99 point about half an hour before the close, finally closing at 98⅞, or ⅝c higher. December opened at 97⅞, closed at 98½, or ¾c higher after a ⅜c range. The cash wheat business was dull today. The market was still out of line for export.

Oats did not make much progress after their advance yesterday, October closing at 39⅞ split or ⅛c higher after a narrow range of ⅛c. December closed at 39¾ split or ⅛c split higher after a ⅛c range.

STOCK PRICES HARDEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 1—The demand for stocks was sufficient today to advance the level of prices quite generally and many of the active issues rose from one to two points. Trading was on a much smaller basis and the market had more of a pre-holiday appearance than on any other day since the turmoil brought about the heavy liquidation, which began early in August. Stocks apparently were in small supply and advanced easily whenever a moderate demand appeared.

While it was believed that the largest interests on the short side had not changed their positions, it was evident that contracts were being covered by many traders. Advances were recorded in most cases at the open and were maintained through the session. Lehigh Valley which was forced down abruptly by the heavy selling of a few days ago developed strength today. Minneapolis and St. Louis added three points to its recent advance in connection with this movement; a report which lacked confirmation was circulated to the effect that a project was on foot to link the Hawley system with a Canadian road, thus forming a new route from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and the southeastern seaboard. Chesapeake & Ohio was another strong point in the railroad list. I ts gain was due to the declaration of the regular dividend following reports of the possibility of a reduction in the rate. The government cotton report, showing a September condition below the ten year average caused a temporary setback on the stock market, but its influence was not pronounced for private advices had to some extent prepared the market for today's report. Trading in Standard Oil was brought to a halt on the curb today by the closing yesterday of the transfer books of the corporation for dissolution proceedings in accordance with the decree of the supreme court. It was impossible to form any intelligent idea as to the worth of the Standard Oil of New Jersey stock divested of its subsidiaries. For the stock of the "ex-subsidiaries" 350 was bid and it was offered at 450. The traders could not reach a common basis and no business was transacted in the shares.

Reported movements of currency during the week indicate a cash loss by the banks of $1,000,000 on account of heavy transfers made today. It is probable that the actual condition of the banks as reported in tomorrow's statement will disclose a larger loss. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $1,310,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

IRELAND AND ROYALTY.

Project of Royal Residence is Favorably Received—Blackrock Council Leads Way.

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—At the last meeting of the Blackrock urban council the project of a royal residence in Ireland was mentioned, and the council, which has a majority of Nationalists, passed unanimously a resolution declaring that a residence should be provided for the members of the royal family in Ireland as in Scotland. The views of the Blackrock council are held universally in Ireland. The proposal for a royal residence in Ireland has certainly been suggested in the highest quarters. It is common knowledge that the King and Queen were deeply impressed and gratified by the warmth of their reception in Dublin. The idea of a royal residence here is believed to find favor with them. So far, however, no definite steps have been taken to acquire such a residence. It is known that there are several handsome properties in Ireland which could readily be secured for this purpose, but while general inquiries have been instituted no direct overtures have been made to the owners of any of these places. The situation is that the idea of a royal residence in Ireland is acceptable, but that no urgency is felt to exist about its execution. Indeed, the proposal, even if found to be practicable, is not likely to mature before the next royal visit to this country.

Large hats have returned to their own again; the small round hats are not sufficiently becoming to the majority of faces, and in the late summer everyone wants as much shade as possible.

COMMUNICATION BY HELIOGRAPH

Boswell Arranging System of Signals—Lamps by Night—Fishing Good—Polling Stations

(Special to The Daily News.)

BOSWELL, B.C., Sept. 1—Fishing has been excellent recently. S. J. Cummings has had good luck with the salmon, having caught eight within a short time, his largest being a very fine one of 13 1-2 pounds. But the proudest individual on Kootenay lake was Mrs. Cummings when she caught a 9 1-2 pound salmon and landed it on the foreshore of Mr. Quinn's ranch.

Mr. Quinn is working very hard at the clearing of his ranch and has already a large piece cleared up.

The party from Idaho who were in camp at Midge creek for so long this year, being so pleased with the place intend returning next year and have engaged the services of Henry Steffens as guide for the season. He is to build a shack up the mountain above his claim on Goat creek, during the fall for the accommodation of the party when they cross the lake for mountain expeditions. The scenery away back is so extremely beautiful one wonders such a scheme has not been put in hand before, but now it has been started it is intended that everything shall be done as thoroughly as possible to encourage American visitors whose visit has put quite a nice sum of money in circulation in the place.

S. J. Cummings during his recent visit to Nelson did much work in connection with the general expressed wish at the recent meeting of the Boswell Kootenay Lake union to have a polling station at Byworth ranch for the coming election. He found that Sanca, the polling station for the last election, was not on the returning officers' list of polling stations for this election and that Boswell voters were expected to go to Sirdar, a trip of 17 miles by boat and five miles by rail each way which would occupy a whole day, the alternative being Fairview which is in the Ymir riding, the journey to which would break into three days for the recording of their votes. The result of course, would be that out of the 15 voters it is doubtful is more than two would record votes.

Raymond T. Hickes having enquired carefully into the necessary details of the bringing in of the telephone to Boswell, reluctantly coming to the conclusion that the expense would be greater than the united communities of Boswell and Crawford Bay could stand at present, is working oh another scheme for communication with the outside world in a quicker way than by mail and is enquiring into the possibility of communication by heliograph by day and lamp by night with either Pilot Bay or the most progressive community Queens Bay, to both of which places there is a completely uninterrupted view. The same apparatus could be used for calling the boat in.

The period of the year at which the need of such communication is felt is the winter when owing to slips and slides on the Crow, the C.P.R. boat is frequently delayed. If residents could know the time at which the boat might be expected long and most wearisome waits at the landing would be prevented.

The list of the names of the children who will attend the school if one is established at Boswell having been filled in and forwarded as required to the superintendent of education an inspector will now look into the application.

ESKIMOS ARE GOOD TRADERS

Huskies Now Demand Top Prices for Their Curios—An Amusing Incident

At Fort McPherson, the most northerly fur trading post in Canada, this amusing incident occurred last summer. A lady tourist, who was making a collection of native curios, had provided herself before leaving civilization with a small outfit of beads, needles, etc., with the hope of bartering them to good advantage with the aboriginals. Seeing some ivory carvings in a "husky" tent, this lady intimated that she wished to acquire them, and offered in exchange first a few packages of needles, and then some beads, both of which were inspected and then decorously handed back to her with a shake of the head.

After some talking the Esquimau said he would sell for a pipe and some tobacco. This looked easy, as the curios were cheap at $6 to $7, and the lady went to the Hudson Bay company's store and bought $1 worth of tobacco and a 50 cent pipe. These were handed to the "husky," who courteously looked them over, and then handing the pipe back remarked: "Tobacco good, pipe no dam good." The upshot was that the lady had to invest $5 in a pipe to obtain the coveted curios.

The most sought for article of Esquimaux manufacture is the ivory cribbage board, made out of a walrus tusk. These make both useful articles and handsome ornaments. The sides and ends are usually covered with carvings of wild animals, such as walruses, whales, foxes, wolves, etc., and this work is in many cases extremely well executed.

A few years ago these cribbage boards could be bought for a comparatively trivial sum, but now, owing to a number of tourists having paid absurd figures for them the price has mounted to an almost prohibitive figure, from $50 to $100 being asked for almost any specimen, while for an unusually well carved board an Esquimaux will not accept less than $125.

Other sought after articles produced by the "huskies" are bead and shell earrings, soapstone candlesticks, sealing spears, ivory fishhooks and sinkers, and patchwork mats manufactured from a mixture of splices of wild goat, seal and deerskin, sewn together in a regular and not unbeautiful pattern.

The trade with the Eskimo is conducted on somewhat different lines to that with the Indians. For a number of years past whaling schooners hailing from San Francisco have made their winter quarters at Herschel Island, so as to be able to commence hunting these valuable mammals as soon as open water appears. Their crews have dealt largely with the Eskimos in furs and curios, paying them small prices, and in return selling them flour, bacon, tea, etc., for considerably less than the mere cost of transporting such articles into the country by the McKenzie river route. However, the schooner owners, finding that but little of the profit accruing from the transactions found its way into their pockets, have largely put a stop to the carrying of goods for trading purposes.

As a result a considerable number of the Eskimo make their way by first open water from Herschel Island and the country east of the McKenzie river delta to the trading posts on the lower river. On arrival they barter their furs for whatever pleases them, and then something special—a sewing machine, steam tug, or what not—catches a husky's eye, and he at once wishes to purchase it. If it is not for sale he at once orders one like it to be brought in next year. This the trader interested agrees to accomplish, and the question of price then comes up. Now the price is not put to the native in dolars, as that would not involve a sufficiently remunerative transaction. Instead the trader says—in taking an order for a phonograph, for instance, "You must bring me five lynx skins, twenty white foxes and two mink." "Very good," replies the husky, and the deal is closed. He arrives at the post the following summer with the pelts called for, and he is an angry man if his phonograph has not turned up.

A short time ago an Eskimo purchased a steam tug, which he is now an adept in operating, and was charged therefor 100 white foxes, two No. 1 silver foxes, 30 lynx and 50 mink. As the vessel cost but $1,200 at the point where sold, the transaction was by no means unprofitable.

If a spoon with which a cereal is served is first dipped into the cream pitcher the cereal slips from it easily without sticking.

When using cornstarch or arrowroot for thickening, always wet it well with cold milk or water before stirring into the hot liquid.

Cider vinegar, which poses in the stores as "apple vinegar," is the best for all salads. It should be clear and very pale in color.

To clean pewter, first wash it in very hot water, then rub it with fine silver sand, and, when it is quite dry, polish with leather.

If a colored cotton gown has faded it can frequently be made perfectly white by boiling a long time and then hanging in the sunshine.
