MARRIAGE MUST BE BY PRIEST

Otherwise Marriage of Catholics Void by Quebec Law

CONSTITUTIONAL POINTS ARGUED

Expected that Hearing on Lancaster Bill Will Conclude Today

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 29—Even if two Roman Catholics were to publicly declare their intention of marrying so that it was known from one end of the province of Quebec to the other that they would get married, but not before a priest, the parties almost repudiating their church, and such a marriage were to take place, it would be null and void and no marriage under the Quebec law. This was brought out in the argument before the supreme court today by P. B. Mignault, K.C., counsel appointed by the Dominion government to oppose the enactment of the Lancaster bill. Mr. Mignault maintained that the publication of banns and the presence of the parish priest of the parties was necessary and that publication elsewhere than in the parish was of no avail as a marriage under the circumstances of the two Roman Catholics by a non-Catholic, clandestinity such as this was contrary to law. "I submit that Mr. Justice Charbonneau is wrong in his judgment when he says that no nullity is declared," stated Mr. Mignault in dealing with this point.

Constitutional Point

The third days argument on the marriage reference proved to be of a most interesting nature. It saw the completion for the moment of the side affecting the laws of Quebec and the resumption of the argument affecting the broad constitutional and jurisdictional points by I. F. Hellmuth, K.C. who for the opponents of the bill, followed by Mignault. Mr. Hellmuth claimed that the Lancaster marriage bill was aimed boldly at the rights of the provinces and that the promoters declared their intention of usurping rights by asking for legislation enabling the Dominion to declare its power to deal with solemnization. Incidentally, Mr. Hellmuth announced that he had merely been asked by the Dominion government to represent the opponents of the bill and had no instructions whatever from the government, any announcement or attitude which he was taking being solely on his own initiative. There is a probability that the hearing will conclude tomorrow.

R. C. Smith, K.C., and A. Geoffrion, K.C., representing the province of Quebec, are still to be heard, while Wallace Nesbitt and Eugene Lafleur for the promoters will have the privilege of replying.

Mr. Mignault argued that the object of the Quebec marriage law is to prevent clandestinity in connection with marriages and that this is fully guaranteed by the publication of banns. He also contended that the conquest of Canada did not abrogate the civil laws although it did not make changes re civil laws. Mr. Mignault who had been speaking for five hours had not concluded when court rose for luncheon at 1 o'clock.

Treaty of Paris

Resuming his remarks after recess, Mr. Mignault took up the treaty of Paris. He said that this treaty and its clauses superceded capitulation. "A treaty is a contract between two governments," he said, "while articles of capitulation are an agreement between a government and the inhabitants. In other words, capitulation is a pact between the conqueror and the inhabitants of the country. Free exercise of their religion to all orders of Christianity was given under the articles of capitulation. A free exercise of religion was guaranteed."

A photographic copy of the articles of capitulation will be secured from the archives by Mr. Mignault at the request of the chief justice and submitted to the justices. There are certain erasures the court wishes to take under advisement.

Marriage a Sacrament

"Marriage, according to the doctrine of the Roman Catholic church, is a sacrament, the rights of the administration of which are given exclusively to priests of the Roman Catholic church and if any interference is allowed with the sacrament it will interfere with the articles of capitulation," asserted counsel. "The object of the law is to prevent clandestinity" counsel continued, "and if, as contended by Mr. Lafleur, a non-Catholic can marry Catholics without publicity or publication of banns, then I say, the law has failed in its intention."

Counsel then took up consideration of section 127 of the Quebec civil code relating to the impediments. This clause contains the words "or other causes" after specifying relationship as an impediment. These words Mr. Mignault maintained, were intended to recognize all canonical impediments without attempt at enumeration.

"It is absolutely beyond question that clandestinity is an impediment under the meaning of this clause," he declared. "It seems to me that it would be idle to say that such an impediment is more in words than in essence. It was intended to recognize it as an impediment under the canon law as it undoubtedly is."

Justice Idington—I do not see how you stretch clandestinity so far as to cover the ground we are to look into.

Mr. Mignault—Your lordships are asked whether the marriage of two Roman Catholics is null and void unless contracted before a priest.

Justice Idington—Supposing two well known people, Roman Catholics, declared their intention and it was known from one end of the province to the other that they would get married, but not before a priest, almost repudiating their church as it were?

Mr. Mignault—Of course, the question assumes they are still Roman Catholics?

Justice Odington—Yes, how can you bind them when clandestinity does not cover their condition?

Mr. Mignault—Clandestinity consists in marriage before anyone but the parish priest. The same case would apply as if they were prohibited by degrees of relationship.

Justice Duff—Then the presence of their parish priest is essential?

Mr. Mignault—Yes.

Chief Justice—Then there can be no publication of banns except in the church to which the parties belong?

Mr. Mignault—Publication elsewhere is of no avail. The words of the Council of Trent have the effect of making this an impediment.

Chief Justice—Mr. Justice Charbonneau in his judgment said that nullity is not declared.

Mr. Mignault—I submit that Mr. Justice Charbonneau is wrong when he says that.

Counsel produced two certificates from the vicar general of the province of Quebec certifying that the decrees of the Council of Trent were read at least once a year in every church in the province of Roman Catholic religion.

On concluding Mr. Mignault was congratulated by the chief justice on the lucidity of his argument.

Following Mr. Mignault, Mr. Hellmuth, K.C., of Toronto, for the opponents, took up the constitutional aspect of the question involved and the jurisdiction as contained in questions 1 and 3, and submitted to the court that the absolute validity of marriage depends upon the observance of the law of the place of celebration and not only involves the Dominion or provinces but the people of other countries who are continually coming into this country.

"I maintain there can be no marriage unless the requirements of the local law are met," Mr. Hellmuth stated and quoted many authorities in support of his contention.

International Law

International law entered very largely into Mr. Hellmuth's discussion of the question of the constitutionality and jurisdiction of the federal parliament and the provincial legislatures, counsel showing a great breadth of knowledge and answering with great readiness and force the queries from the justices, who continually plied them.

"I cannot find anything stronger than this," he said in reference to one citation. "It goes clearly to show that there can be no common law marriage under English rule."

Justice Idington—What about Scotland?

Mr. Hellmuth—I was about to say with the exception of Scotland.

Chief Justice—What, would you say that Scotland is under English rule?

Justice Duff—I guess you had better say British. (Laughter.)

"I challenge any dispute to the proposition that there must be solemnization," continued Mr. Hellmuth. "There must be gone through forms and ceremonies as are prescribed by the law of the place. There is no law by which the parties can be married except by their consent.

Mr. Hellmuth then attacked directly several of the provisions of the Lancaster marriage bill, which he claimed were aimed at the rights of the provinces. "The promoters boldly say

PETTIPIECE IS NOT GUILTY

Jury Brings in Verdict of Acquittal After First Disagreeing—Out Three Hours.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 29.—After being out three hours the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case against R. P. Pettipiece and six others for alleged unlawful assembly. They first reported a disagreement but were sent back by Justice Gregory and 10 minutes later returned agreed upon acquittal. The defense was that the meeting was privileged and not disorderly until after the police had attempted to disperse the crowd.

Pettipiece in his own behalf, J. H. McVety, labor leader, and James McMillan, secretary of the Vancouver Building Trades association, were the chief defense witnesses. All three had, the week previous to the demonstration, interviewed the premier and attorney general.

"I had only time at the meeting to say that we had seen the attorney general and as a result of our representations public works would be started that would give employment to 3,000 men," testified Pettipiece. "Then the deputy chief interrupted me. Half an hour after leaving my house I was in jail. I could not have been on the grounds five minutes."

He had gone to the grounds, he added, expressly to let the men know the result of the conference at Victoria. There was no trouble until the police arrived. McVety, McMillan and others corroborated Pettipiece.

TO MAKE BOXES NEAR CRESTON

Canyon City Lumber Company Plans Extensions

RESAW ADDED TO MILL MACHINERY

Fruit Growers Develop Thousand Acres of Logged Off Lands

Arrangements are being made to add machinery to the equipment of the Canyon City Lumber company's mill near Creston for the manufacture of boxes for fruit and other produce, according to D. W. Briggs of Portland, Ore., president of the company, who was at the Hume last night.

The company expects to supply the Creston district, which is becoming a heavy consumer of apple boxes, and also to find a big market in other parts of the district. The Canyon City factory will be the only one between Nelson and Cranbrook, said Mr. Briggs. Included in the box factory machinery will be a "pony" planer and a printing plant.

Improve Mill Machinery.

Although the demand for lumber in the prairies is not very brisk, said Mr. Briggs, the mill is in steady operation and has recently been improved by the installation of a new Berlin re-saw, which will increase the output and reduce the percentage of waste lumber in manufacturing operations.

Of the 2,000 acres of logged-off fruit land which has been subdivided by the company about 1,000 acres has been sold in 10-acre blocks, upon which the majority of the purchasers have located and are clearing and planting, said Mr. Briggs.

NEW ZEALAND WILL EDUCATE FARMERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 29—The government of New Zealand intends to educate young farmers in the future. The cabinet has allotted a large sum for the immediate erection of apprentices' quarters at the experimental farm outside Wellington. The lads will be instructed by officers of the agricultural department. After three months training a slight remuneration will be paid, increasing in proportion to the degree of industry and ability shown by the students.

TRAINMEN REQUEST ANOTHER CONFERENCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 29—The Brotherhoods representing the trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen employed by the Pennsylvania railroad on its lines east of Pittsburg and Erie today sent a letter to S. C. Long, general manager of the company, requesting another conference to discuss grievances presented by the brotherhoods. Mr. Long a few days ago sent a letter declining the request that the steam railroad men be placed on electric trains running out of New York city. Should Mr. Long decline to grant another conference or grant the demands the men ask, the questions will be referred to the men employed by the company for further action. It is said that about 25,000 men are involved. George H. Sines, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, said today that two of the principal questions in dispute refer to the electrification of some of the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad and the reduction of wages of brakemen in Pittsburg.

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 29—After being sentenced at Victoria to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary on six different charges of theft, R. Glasebrook was brought over to Vancouver and appeared before Magistrate Shaw in the police court today to answer to four similar charges. Although he has received sentences of 50 years the latest sentences will also run concurrently with those which he received at Victoria.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, May 29—Coal dealers state that the usual summer reduction in the price of coal will not be made this season. Last summer coal was $6.50 per ton but the winter price of $7.25 will be retained, with the possibility of a further increase to $7.50 as a result of the new railway rate now under consideration by the railways. Next winter's price may go to $8 per ton.

CAPTAIN LORD NOT RELIEVED OF COMMAND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Liverpool, May 29.—General Manager Roper of the Leyland line today positively denied the report from Boston that Captain Lord of the Californian, blamed by the senate committee for having failed to proceed to the rescue of the Titanic, had been relieved of his command. He admitted that the Californian was at sea under another commander but explained that this was because Captain Lord had to be kept on shore to testify before the British commission investigating the loss of the Titanic.

FOREST FIRES BLAZE IN NEWFOUNDLAND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

St. Johns, Nfld., May 29.—Rapidly spreading forest fires have been raging over extensive areas near the pulp mills of the A. E. Reed company since yesterday noon and several large fires have started along the railway line. The telegraph lines have been burned west of Norris Arm and no reports have been received from there. Property owners are applying for additional insurance. Several villages lie in the path of the flames.

CARPENTERS VOTE ON NEW SCHEDULE

Decision Is Against Giving Active Support But Another Meeting to Reconsider May Be Called.

At a mass meeting in Miners' Union hall last night the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated carpenters voted against giving active support to the new schedule of the Federal Labor union calling for a reduction from a nine-hour day to an eight-hour day for laborers, for $80 a month for an eight-hour day or $90 a month for a nine-hour day for teamsters and for an increase from $3.50 to $4 a day for plasterers' helpers and hodcarriers, but as some of those present at the meeting afterward decided that there had been some misunderstanding with regard to the resolution of the trades and labor council on the previous evening a second meeting of the carpenters may be called for this evening.

UNKNOWN MEN BLOWN TO PIECES

Enter House Used to Store Powder—Unaware of Contents They Light Fire

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., May 29—Two men thought at first to have been murdered, were found on the G.T.P. tracks at White station near Reddit on Sunday. Provincial Constable Orser and Coroner Brandon received notice on Monday and at once went to make an investigation. They have not returned as yet but word has been received that the men whose identity is unknown at present entered an old powder house where the engineers or contractors had stored several kegs of powder and lit a fire, being unaware of the contents of the various packages. The explosion which followed blew the bodies up near the tracks where they were found by the section men. The bodies are in an advanced stage of decomposition from being exposed to the rays of the sun on Sunday and it is very possible that their interment will be ordered at once by the coroner.

DRYDOCKS ON CANADIAN COAST

British Admiralty to Maintain Two Dreadnoughts and Four Cruisers in Canadian Waters

OTTAWA, May 29—An interesting rumor is in circulation as to the naval proposals which it is said are likely to be made by Premier Borden and his colleagues to the admiralty. It is said that Canada will propose that the British admiralty maintain naval units of two dreadnoughts, four cruisers and auxiliary vessels on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, Canada to pay for the upkeep of these two units. Canada under these proposals, it is said, will provide large drydocks on both coasts. Of course, Premier Borden declines to discuss the report and intimates that the government will have no official announcement to make in regard to the navy until the admiralty has been consulted.

GREAT BANQUET TO LIBERAL LEADER

Arguments of Last Election Rehearsed—Accepts Verdict of People.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, May 29—Surrounded by Liberal leaders from practically every province of the Dominion and enthusiastically cheered by hundreds of his most ardent admirers, Sir Wilfrid Laurier tonight spoke of the Liberal party as rising superior to the crushing defeat of last September and gaining day by day in prestige and power. Passing lightly over Liberal defeats since the Conservative regime entered upon its career at Ottawa the leader of the federal opposition evoked loud applause from his solid Liberal audience. Sir Wilfrid promised to fight till the last and attacked the Conservative ministers for abandoning principles for office.

As a tribute from Liberals of the whole Dominion to their aged leader, who remained in command in the hour of defeat, when no other seemed fit to lead the disorganized forces of the party, the banquet tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the Montreal Reform club at the Windsor tonight was an unqualified success. As a political move the organizers expect from it far reaching results.

A Liberal banquet on such a scale as that which took place this evening is quite unparalleled in the history of the city. Probably never before has such a gathering of Liberal leaders as that which met tonight to honor Sir Wilfrid been in attendance at a single function. Leaders of Liberal governments from several provinces where the party is in power sat side by side with their less fortunate brethren who lead Liberal oppositions in such provinces as possess such organizations. Practically all of the last Liberal cabinet were in attendance, the exceptions being Hon. Messrs. Cartwright, Oliver and Paterson while among the speakers were many of the young members of the party who have already become noted at Ottawa. Telegrams of regret were received from Premiers Sifton and Scott.

Nearly 600 were present and the capacity of the dining room was overtaxed, but no one failed to hear Sir Wilfrid's address for his voice was full and clear and never wavered during his long oration. His address was a fighting speech, a speech which while touching on defeat dwelt more on anticipated victory.

Elabbrate preparations had been made to record Sir Wilfrid's speech an innovation at Montreal banquets. Sir Wilfrid was severe in attack and his comments were listened to with great interest. In fact, at only one time during the entire speech did interest flag and that was when he launched into a long discussion on reciprocity reviewing once more the whole question, the declaration of former Conservative support, the charges of change of front for political ends, the declaration that the Liberals met defeat not because of the main issue but through a heterogenous collection of elements, the treacherous union of Borassa and Borden, the unreasoning sentiment of Ontario, the race cry in Quebec and other allegations.

The Guest of Honor

It was 9 o'clock when the banquet commenced and nearly 10 before Sir Wilfrid was introduced by President Garneau of the Reform club in an address which paid full tribute to the guest of honor.

Now that eight months had passed since the last election, Sir Wilfrid declared that the time had come to look at the whole matter and consider what were the value of the objections raised to the main issue of reciprocity and what policy was now to be followed, since it was far enough removed to be considered without bias. "I need not tell you," he said, "that on the Conservative side froth and fury took the place of argument and reason and that they represented reciprocity as the first step toward annexation, and that the contest was represented as one between the British and American flags for supremacy in Canada."

Accepts Verdict.

Proceeding, Sir Wilfrid pointed out that there were great problems confronting Canadian development. Among these was that of securing larger markets for Canadian products. "I believe that reciprocity would have largely solved this problem," he continued, "but I am a constitutionalist and I accept the verdict of my fellow citizens, but the problem is still there and in even more acute form."

The problem existed in the East while in the western provinces larger markets were an indispensable necessity. Canada had been pouring population into the western provinces and the problem was, where would the crop go?

Continuing, he pointed out that the conditions which caused Mr. Foster to go to Washington, after getting the consent of three great railways. Mr. Foster had to have the consent of the corporations. He went to Washington and got permission from the interstate commerce commission to ship grain south on the same terms as to Port Arthur. This was Eulas Foster who made the welkin ring at the want of Canadian patriotism on the part of the Liberals in seeking a similar outlet.

Mr. Foster's dealing with the problem was not a solution; it was only a makeshift; the problem would be there again. Sir Wilfrid pointed out that the only effort of Mr. Foster to secure larger markets had been the making of a treaty with the West Indies.

"And, horror of horrors," he ejaculated, "he negotiated his treaty in secret. I am not blaming him for that. We will judge the treaty when he brings it down. But how he did rail at my friend Mr. Fielding for conducting his negotiations in secret."

Mr. Foster's West Indies treaty would not solve the problem. He was reminded of Beau Brummel, who declared when he was asked if he was a vegetarian, "Yes, I once ate a pea." The present government, said Sir Wilfrid, were solving the problem of larger markets to the extent of one pea.

"During our first session we brought down the British preference, but the Borden government is content with one pea. It can destroy but it cannot construct."

"I claim in defeat no gratitude from the Liberal party," said Sir Wilfrid. "I have given it my life—and a long life it has been—but whatever measure of success that party has attained under my leadership I claim neither gratitude nor merit for. The merit was not due to me, but altogether to the excellence of the principles we represented and to the able assistance I have always received from those who were and are still with me.

"It has been said that we have come out of the shadow of defeat. Perhaps, if I had been as wise a man as I might have been and had followed my own inclinations on the morrow of September 22 last I should have gone back into private life and handed over the reins to a younger and abler man.

"I am the servant of the people. And it was simply owing to the wish of those with whom I was associated that I should continue at the post that I did so—again I am the servant of the people. It matters not to me what is the post assigned to me. I am ready to serve as captain in the forces or as a private in the ranks and whatever post is assigned to me I shall in the future, as in the past, give to it the best that I have in me. In the words of the Canadian people my orders were not to win or to lose, but to fight, and fight I will. (Loud cheers.)

"Fight I will, and so will you—so shall we all fight, in the sense under which fighting is meant under the British constitution; shall fight with malice toward none, with charity toward all, and with firmness toward the right as God gives us to see the right.

His White Plumes.

"We are met perhaps under the shadow of defeat, but today I come before you and feel as undaunted as ever. I asked my friends in the last contest to follow my white plumes, and never shall they say that I showed the white feather. (Loud cheers.)

"I have often said that it is our privilege to live under the British constitution, undoubtedly the best method devised by man for the government of men. The basis of British government is party government, and it is the spirit of party government as a British institution that there should be an alteration in the administration by the different parties in the population. Taken aright party government may be the highest profession of public duty.

"But party government may become nothing less than a mere scramble for office, and that is the charge I have to make today against the men now in office at Ottawa. If there are any Conservatives in this audience, and there must be a few, they might say that charge is too sweeping. But I speak by the book when I say that not later than last session we were told that they were looking not to principles but to office, and on one occasion one of the ministers, Hon. Mr. Monk, had on one side his office and

SHAKEUP IN CIVIC DEPARTMENTS

Men Drawing Large Salaries in Montreal Absent Attending to Personal Affairs

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Montreal, May 29—The board of control will take steps to make a general shake up among the civic departments. The head of the drawing department was so much annoyed today with fault that was found with him by Mr. Janin, chief engineer, that he informed this officer he was willing to leave the city's empoy in a months time.

In the case of the drawing department, the compaint of Mr. Janin was that the head draughtsman was often absent and that plans were unduly delayed. In the office of the chief engineer it is known that there is dissatisfaction. In the office of the city surveyor matters are no better and to this are due the complaints frequently that they cannot get reports promptly from this source.

It is an open secret also that the law department is shortly to be remodelled. In certain other departments it has been learned by the controllers that men drawing large salaries are absent attending to outside duties of a personal nature. A section of the city council is aready taking advantage of this state of affairs and is attacking the board of control, trying to prove that its administration is a failure.

RESOLVED TO FIGHT TO FINISH

Question of Nonunion Labor Now Divides Parties to Dock Strike.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 29—The hopes for a speedy settlement of the dock workers' strike were dissipated tonight by the refusal of the shipowners to accept the government's invitation to meet the representatives of the men at a joint conference of the board of trade on Friday next. This decision was reached by the London ship owners dock labor committee this afternoon and was announced in a letter to Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, in which they state they fail to see where any good can arise from attending such a conference. The letter reads:

"Last autumn two agreements and an award were arrived at. One of the agreements was directly under the auspices of the ministers of the crown and bore their signatures. The first agreement was immediately followed by cessation of work; the arbitration award was ignored, and the final agreement was only tardily accepted. All of these have now been set aside and the workers called out without any notice to the employers. The shipowners have no confidence and no assurance that any negotiations that will take place will have any greater reality or be more permanent."

Fight to Finish

Apparently the ship owners are resolved to fight to a finish relying upon the government to afford protection to whatever workers are employed. This course is indicated by a resolution which was adopted at a special meeting of the London chamber of commerce today in which the right of employers to engage either non-union or union labor is affirmed and the government urged to afford adequate protection to all those who are willing to work. A similar resolution was also adopted by the Corn exchange and the Baltic Mercantile & Shipping exchange.

The main issue now dividing the two parties concerns the status of non-union labor. The employers insist that they shall be free to employ whom they please. The strike leaders are equally determined not to consent to any settlement which will compel the men to work with non-union men. In an interview tonight Chairman Potter of the Shipping Federation said: "We are now determined that the men shall work on our terms, not we on theirs. All agreements which have been entered into have been broken by the men; we must now protect ourselves."

International Politics Absorbing European Attention—Russia's Attitude Puzzling—Trade Excited.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 29.—For the moment international politics are absorbing European attention. Premier Asquith's visit to the Mediterranean to meet Viscount Kitchener and his subsequent visit to Bizerta are causing people to ask, "Does it mean Anglo-French alliance, or will Anglo-German relations improve?" Russia's immediate aims are still puzzling everyone. There is now less hope of an early end of the Turco-Italian war. Still no fear is felt over any spread of hostilities this year.

The Berlin bourse settlement this week is expected to end smoothly, but the settlement at the end of June is feared, as it is almost certain to produce great pressure.

Germany is bidding for loans here for two months at high rates.

English trade is very excited.

The stock exchange on opening after the Whitsuntide holidays has been very inactive.

Reports are current that Austria-Hungary is wishing to enter the international banking syndicate that is to lend China the millions she so urgently needs. Arrangements for the entry of Russia have not yet been concluded. The weather is still very dry, yet recent rains, though insufficient, are lessening fears regarding food for cattle, and also crops.

MALTA'S DEFENSES MUST BE STRENGTHENED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 29.—"Council of war does not describe tomorrow's important and unprecedented meeting at Malta. Council of peace is the true designation," said an official of the foreign office, speaking of the conference with Premier Asquith, Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty; General Hamilton, Vice Admiral Prince Louis Alexander of Battenberk, and Lord Kitchener, to be held this week at the chief coaling station of the British Mediterranean fleet.

"The meeting is significent of two facts," this officer continued. "The first is that the present is a look about you government. The second is that the chiefs of the empire finally realize the necessity of abandoning attempts to check German naval development. The corollary is that Britain must strengthen its defences in the Mediterranean."

DETROIT STREET RAILWAY DISPUTE SETTLED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DETROIT, Mich., May 29.—By a majority of 2,999 votes the members of the Street Railway Employes' union have decided to accept the offer made by the officials of the D. U. R. for the settlement of differences that have been pending between them for several months. The agreement between the men and the company was signed yesterday by President Mahon of the international association, President Anderson of the local association, and Business Agent Burns on the part of the men, and by President Hutchins and General Manager Brooks on the part of the company. The agreement is not for three years, as desired by the company, nor for one year, as desired by the men, but is drawn in such a way that it cannot be opened up again until both parties to it consent to a renewal of negotiations for different terms. The officers of the employes' union are inclined to think that this means there will be no more trouble for some time to come. The agreement takes effect at once.

PREMIER WILL GO TO ENGLAND NEXT MONTH

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 29.—Official announcement is now made that Premier Borden and Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, will go to England, sailing on June 28, and arriving in London July 4 or 5. The object of the visit is to confer with the imperial government and one other member of the cabinet whose name is not yet announced will go also. It may safely be assumed that the empire question and Canada's part in the naval defense of the empire will figure prominently in the discussion, notwithstanding assertions to the contrary of the Liberal press.

TEXAS FOR WILSON

HOUSTON, Texas, May 29.—A solid delegation of 40 members instructed for Woodrow Wilson was elected to the notional Democratic convention last night by the Texas Democratic convention. INSURRECTION NOT OF RACIAL ORIGIN

Rebel Generals Have Two Thousand Mounted Negroes to Oppose Government Forces.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HAVANA, May 29.—Since the beginning of the insurrection in Oriente news from the front never was so meager as it was yesterday. The intelligence reaching Havana was confined to indications of increased boldness on the part of the insurgents, as evidenced by their successful attacks on the villages of Ramot de las Yaguas and Yerba Guinea, where they defeated the rural guards and captured a sergeant and seven privates, together with arms and ammunition. These two places are about 20 miles to the northeast of Santiago and are within the zone of the operations in which national and insurgent forces are now face to face. It is believed that General Mendieta is simply holding his ground until the arrival of the commander in chief of the Cuban army, General Monteguado, with strong reinforcements, when a general forward movement will be begun. All the provinces except Oriente, according to the latest reports, are free from any signs of disturbance. General Figueroa, a prominent negro leader, declared that the insurrection was not of racial origin, which would be an impossibility, he added, on account of the affectionate relations which have always existed between the Cuban blacks and whites. He attributed the movement to the ambitions of dissatisfied individuals, and he thinks also that it was instigated by foreign interests. General Figueroa gave it as his opinion that the government was fully capable of repressing the rebellion. It is now unquestioned that Generals Estenoz and Ivonet have under them 2,000 mounted negroes to oppose the concentrated government forces, more than half of whom are armed with rifles and revolvers, the remainder carrying machetes.

MINISTER WANTS TO STOP SUNDAY RECREATION

(Special to The Daily News.)

COLEMAN, B. C., May 29.—Sunday *ball playing has brought forth the in*dignation of the Rev. D. G. Watkins-Jones, the recently arrived Anglican minister at Coleman. The reverend gentleman journeyed to Blairmore last Sunday afternoon to hold service there and a ball game between Pincher Creek and Blairmore proved a greater attraction to many of his parishioners. He has now placed himself on record that it is his intention to fight Sunday games to the finish in this district, and with this object has posted a notice drawing attention to the Lord's Day act, which states that "all public games or sports and the business of amusement or entertainment is prohibited," and that it is the duty of both municipal and mounted police to see that the laws are observed; also that any officer who neglects to do his duty should be promptly reported. The players are very indignant at the action of the reverend gentleman. Most of the players are miners of the amateur class and they claim that is the only day in the week in which they can take outdoor recreation and breathe God's pure air. It is also openly expressed that they will continue their matches, as they are not making a "business" of the game, nor for any monetary consideration whatever.

Preacher Accused.

The case of the lay preacher of Coleman, who ran away with the wife of a local painter, leaving him with a large family of little ones, will be heard at Lethbridge this week. The charge is laid by the husband, and is that of alienating his wife's affections. It is creating great local interest.

Pincher Creek beat Blairmore on Sunday last in a nine inings game by 6 to 4.

PUBLIC OPINION MISLED, SAYS CUBAN PRESIDENT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HAVANA, May 29.—That public opinion in the United States is being much misled by false reports in regard to conditions in Cuba is the feeling of President Gomez. Today he handed the following signed statement to the Times correspondent:

"To the Editor of the New York Times: It is but natural that newspapers should seek sensational news. To many the failure to obtain such news is a disappointment, and, of course, the result is that false reports have been published in the United States, misleading public opinion.

"You have a special correspondent in this city. He can easily communicate with Santa Clara by telephone. He can likewise telegraph to Oriente province or he may travel wherever he pleases. No matter what means he may utilize to seek information he will find that with the exception of the region comprising Guantanamo, San Luis, Palma, Soriano and La Maya, perfect tranquility prevails.

"I now have 9,000 men in the disturbed district and they will be divided into small groups in order to actively pursue the scattered bands of rebels, who, up to the present time, have avoided by every possible means all encounters with the government forces.

"I sent 1,200 additional men to the scene yesterday and I expect to have within a few days a strong force in the field under the command of Major General Monteagudo.

(Signed) "JOSE M. GOMEZ,
"President of the Republic of Cuba."

TWO FACTIONS HOLD SEPARATE CONVENTIONS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 29.—President Taft's Texas supporters yesterday refused to participate in the state convention dominated by the Roosevelt forces, marched away be*fore the time settled for convening,* and held a separate convention. Each convention chose eight delegates at large to the national Republican convention and declared for its favored state and national leader.

The Roosevelt delegates were elected at the convention held in the appointed place and composed of delegates selected according to the call of the state executive committee, namely, one from each county. Roosevelt sup*porters claimed representatives from* 169 counties of the state's 249. The Taft delegates were elected at a convention organized on the basis of one delegate for each 100 votes cast for Taft in 1908. This convention claimed delegates from 203 counties and polled 1,014 votes. The Roosevelt convention adopted the majority report of the executive committee on temporary roll, while the Taft convention added that signed by two of the 31 members of this committee.

GUESS NOW FIXES ON SIR HIBBERT TUPPER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 29.—Sir Hibbert Tupper is being mentioned as the successor of the late Judge Mabee as chairman of the railway commission. The position has not yet been offered to him, but it has, it is understood, been under consideration. Whether he would be willing to accept or not is unknown, as he has an enormous law practice in the west. However, he is looked upon as a likely man for the place as he has a wide knowledge of railway law and has been a close student of Canadian railway developments.

SUMMER SCHEDULE ON MAIN LINE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, May 29—Announcement was made this morning of the new CP.R summer time card which will go into effect on June 2. While the service introduces a number of alterations to the present schedule the most noticeable is that in connection with the Imperial Limited, both east and west bound. After June 2 the Imperial Limited between Winnipeg and Calgary and vice versa will consist of sleeping coaches only. This means that passengers wishing to travel in coaches within these points on the night train will have to go on No. 61 westbound which will leave Winnipeg at 10 p.m., one hour ahead of the Imperial Limited. The same arrangements are effective eastbound from Calgary. This is the first solid sleeping car train to be run in Canada.

QUEEN INTERESTED IN FISHER'S FATE

Killed Employee Who Stole Gem—Now Forms Part of Queen's Necklace.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., May 29.—Jumbo Adams, who is serving a 20-year term in the southern Illinois penitentiary for killing Charles Jones, may be pardoned through the efforts of Queen Mary of England.

Adams was a pearl fisher. One day while his workmen in boats on the Wabash river were opening clam shells in search of pearls, one of the men found an unusually beautiful and large gem and slipped it into his pocket. Adams asked for the pearl and the accused man attacked Adams with a knife. Adams pulled a revolver and killed his assailant.

The gem was recovered and the proceeds were used to defend Adams. A New York pearl buyer bought the stone for $1,200 and sold it to a London jeweler, who later disposed of it to the royal family and now the pearl is the center jewel in the queen's necklace. She has learned the story of the pearl and has been in communication with Adams' lawyer and the tone of her letter indicates that she will aid in securing his pardon.

DELEGATES CHALLENGED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—It was definitely announced at the Taft headquarters here yesterday that a challenge would be made before the national Republican convention at Chicago of Roosevelt's claim of two of the 26 California votes in the national convention. The two delegates were elected in the fourth district (San Francisco) and the contest will be based on the following convention rule:

"In no state shall an election be so held as to prevent the delegates from any congressional district being elected by the Republican electors of that district."

The California law provides that all delegates, including those at large, shall be elected by the party electors of the state at large and conforms with the national convention rules in that it provides that district dele*gates must be selected or nominated* from the districts which they are to represent in the convention.

FAVORS OPENING PANAMA CANAL TO RAILROADS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Secretary Stimson told the senate committee on interoceanic canals yesterday that he favored permitting railroad-owned steamers to use the Panama canal under regulations of the interstate commerce commission. The secretary declared that he would not exclude railroad-ships before wrong had been committed, any more than he would have a child killed because it was threatened with the mumps. He favored the same tolls for domestic and foreign vessels, provided it did not violate any treaty relations.

BRESNA-HENS ARE STRONG ON THE SLUGFEST THING

(By "Gravy")

While Roger Bresnahen's St. Louis Cardinals haven't shown up strong so far this year, something sensational may be expected from them today if they live up to precedent. The Bresnahens have become famous for their slugfests and batting rallies, and when they once get a good start there is no harder team to stop in either league. Three years ago today the St. Looey club pulled off one of their batfests with Cincinnati as their victim, chasing in a mere matter of 11 runs in the initial inning. Ewing, Gaspar and Karger were the twirlers for the Reds, and the half of an inning lasted just 35 minutes. Cincinnati was again the goat in a great batting rally of the Cardinals a year ago today at Robison Field in St. Louis. When the Bresnahens went to bat in the last half of the seventh, the score was 8 to 2 in favor of the invaders.

There is one thing about Roger's lads—they are never discouraged and play the game until the last man is out. Griffin thought he had the game already put away in the ice box, but he had another think coming, and it arrived with a vengeance that drove him frantic with rage. Suggs was pitching for Cincy, and had been twirling a good game until that fatal seventh. Oakes was the first Cardinal up and he swatted a safe one. Bliss followed with another and Geyer hit a safe single to right. Oakes came in. Score, 8 to 3, still in favor of Cincy. Huggins singled, filling the bases, but Hauser bunted and Bliss was caught. One out. There was still three men on bases, and Ellis brought in two of them. Griffin called in Suggs and sent Gaspar to pitch.

Things got no better fast for Cincinnati. Gaspar hit Koney in the ribs and the bases were again filled. Evans scored two more men. Smith smashed out a single and brought in two more runs. Oakes, who had started the trouble, came to bat again and was hit by a pitched ball. Bliss sent a blisser to centre, bringing in a couple more Cardinals. Geyer batted a piffling roller, but Altizer booted it. Huggins singled, bringing in Bliss. Shortly after the obsequies ended, the Cards having made nine safe hits, had two men hit by pitched balls, got one man to first on an error, with a total of 12 men on bases and 10 tallies. Altogether it was some game.

SPORTS PROVE ATTRACTION TO COLEMAN CITIZENS

(Special to The Daily News.)

COLEMAN, B. C., May 29.—The principal attraction at Coleman on Empire day was a Crows Nest Pass *league game between Michel and Cole*man, when the footers from the west were decisively beaten in a well-contested game by a score of 2 to 0. The previous week Coleman sent a weak team to Michel, when the latter climbed two points at Coleman's expense, but on this occasion no mistake *was made, the strongest team avail*able turning out. The game was seen by a large crowd.

Quite a large number attended the traps, where the Gun club held a series of matches. The weather was not of the best, a blustering and changeable wind preventing any records in "killing" the clay birds. The first event, at 15 birds, drew out 12 entries, W. L. Bridgeford being top scorer after tying with W. Murr; Bridgeford's score was 11 and Murr's 10. Third prize went to Charles Prisuch with a score of 8.

The match for 25 birds drew an entry of 11, Charles Prisuch winning with a "kill" of 15 after a tie with W. S. Paris, 12, Bridgeford being third with 11 and Mike Wisla and Joe Voiny being close on his heels with 10 each.

*The second match at 25 targets re*ceived an entry of 12, Carl Supta winning with a score of 16, Albert Supta second with 15 and Albert Yagus third with 13.

In the second match at 15 birds Albert Yagus was the winner with 11, A. J. Joseph second with 10 and Albert Supta and W. L. Bridgeford tied for third money with 9 each. On the shootoff Bridgeford "killed" four out of five, Supta three.

There were 10 entries for the 15-bird sweepstakes. A. J. Joseph first with 13, W. Murr second with 11, and Albert Yagus third with 10.

During the afternoon a wrestling match was pulled off at the opera house before a large crowd, the contestants being Louie Satora and Jimmy Larrigan. Both the men are local and are in the lightweight class. The match was the result of a wager, *Larrigan agreeing to throw his oppo*nent four times in 30 minutes in the catch-as-catch-can style. Betting opened at even. The result was a complete surprise to all present, as Satora proved to be by far the more skillful. He secured three straight falls in 15 minutes, the first from a *half nelson, the second from a cross*buttock and the third from a hammerlock.

JUNIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

The game is called for 4:15. All players are requested to be on the grounds as soon after 4 o'clock as possible.

R. M. R. TO MEET MOOSE FOR THE FIRST TIME

The R. M. R. will meet the Moose football team tonight for the first time in this year's league. The game is called for 6:30 o'clock sharp and a fast exhibition of football is expected, the Moose representatives saying that they will spring a few surprises. The lineup of the R. M. R. team is:

Jardine, who holds an old country certificate for refereeing, will preside.

THURSDAY, MAY 30

A SLANDER OF CANADA

In another column is printed a letter from one F. Williams, dated from Nelson, B.C., April 3rd, and published in the Bexhill-on-Sea Observer of May 4th. This letter we submit to the many old country people who have taken up their home in Canada and particularly throughout British Columbia within the past few years.

To those who live in the country and know conditions here Mr. Williams' statements will be taken at their true value, the vaporings of a slanderer of the country in which he is residing, and in which he is making as good a living as it has ever been his luck to enjoy. But to the people in the Old Country the positive statements made must necessarily carry some weight, although the gross exaggerations contained therein must become apparent to any one on second thought.

In the first place it is perhaps not necessary to refer to Williams' statement regarding Canada that "It is not a place for an Englishman—that is, if he has been used to decent surroundings." As Mr. Williams knows, if he is not entirely lacking in understanding, there are thousands and even hundreds of thousands of Englishmen in Canada, living as well as, and in many cases better than they ever did in their native land. They are prosperous, happy and imbued with a love of their adopted country scarcely less strong than their affection for the land of their birth and for the Empire as a whole.

Perhaps the most extraordinary statement of all the extraordinary statements by Williams is that in reference to "the great number of asylums there are all over the country full of emigrants who have gone mad on discovery of the true facts when they reached here." A more absolutely mis-statement than this would be hard to imagine. It is quite true that there are in Canada, as there are in every other civilized country in the world, a number of lunatic asylums. It is also quite true that there are in western Canada a number of these, three, which have been in existence for some years, one at Selkirk, Manitoba; one at Brandon, Manitoba, and one at Coquitlam, British Columbia, while another is in the course of erection at Ponoka, Alberta. These institutions, however, do not contain any larger proportion of the population of Canada lying between the Great Lakes and the Pacific ocean, than do similar institutions in other modern countries, while the proportion of recently arrived Old Country emigrants confined within their walls is so small as to be entirely negligible.

The Williams' statement that the reason Englishmen cannot get on here is because they will not live like pigs, and that if a man gets a job on a farm he is expected to sleep with the horses and cattle, is simply another falsehood, born of the desire to injure the part of the world which he at present dishonors with his presence.

When he starts to talk of prices, Williams is most unfortunate in his selection of articles. He quotes 30 cents as the price for a 1 lb. jar of Crosse & Blackwell's jam; 15 cents for a package of Black Cat cigarettes, and 15 cents for a 1 lb. loaf of bread. Crosse & Blackwell's jam sells at 25 cents for a 1 lb. jar, while a 7 lb. can sells for $1.25. The price of bread instead of being 15 cents for a 1 lb. loaf, is 10 cents for a 1 lb. loaf, two for 15 cents, four for 25 cents, or 16 for $1.00. Advantage of these last prices can be obtained through the purchase of tickets, each good for one loaf. On the item of Black Cat cigarettes, which perhaps is to Mr. Williams the most important, he hit the mark at 15 cents per package, although two packages may be obtained for 25 cents.

As to whether a man is better off in England on 25c a week than he is in Canada on £5 per week, there are thousands of Old Countrymen in this district who would be quite willing to testify.

The statement that there are thousands of unemployed here who would be glad of the chance to get home again, is as false as it is possible for a statement to be. No man who is willing to take his chances, as any and every man must be in a new country, need be without employment in western Canada, a country undergoing a development such as perhaps has never before been witnessed in any part of the world.

In connection with this Williams' matter there is one bright spot, that is his statement that "I am waiting till I get enough dollars together, then back to England I go." The people of Nelson, as well as those of Canada generally, it may be said, would very much prefer the absence of a man of Mr. Williams' calibre to his presence in the city or country. If all that is necessary to take him out of Canada is the securing of sufficient dollars to pay his passage home, there will be found many in Nelson willing to contribute their share toward his expenses out of the country. The Daily News for one would be only too glad to make a substantial contribution to any such fund. While this method of dealing with Mr. Williams is perhaps the least troublesome that could be adopted, there is open another method that might prove even more efficacious, that is prosecution for slander; that might at least have the merit of forcing the offender either to acknowledging the deliberate inaccuracy of his statements, or of punishing him as he deserves to be punished.

This Date in History.

"Voltaire est mort!" was the cry that went up all over France just 134 years ago today, May 30, 1778, and the nation was plunged into sorrow. If the king had died the populace would have cheered his successor, but for Voltaire there was no successor. Supreme alike in history, poetry, satire, philosophy, fiction, the drama, he was more than "the greatest literary man of his time, or perhaps of all time," as Victor Hugo called him. He held a more commanding position in political history than any other man of letters. After his long exile at Ferney, in Switzerland, he returned to Paris in his eighty-fifth year, there to receive a popular ovation that was without precedent. Then he died, and a funeral procession of 100 miles was the tribute of his countrymen. Today Voltaire is still the greatest national hero of a nation that honors the pen above the sword. In Paris alone there are seven magnificent statues of Voltaire, as compared with four each of Richelieu, Victor Hugo and Alfred de Musset, three each of Moliere, Joan of Arc and George Sand, and two each of Beethoven and Chopin. It is worthy of note that Voltaire, with all his other achievements in the domain of literature, was the originator of the modern mystery or "detective" tale. His novel entitled "Zadig" was the predecessor of "Sherlock Holmes" and the host of other stories of that class.

The first steerable balloon was tried in Berlin 30 years ago today with considerable success, but it was disabled by an accident in the second experiment. The steering apparatus was a helical system of vanes worked by machinery. Santo-Dumont, Count Zeppelin and other inventors have since greatly improved on that first dirigible balloon. Holmholtz was the first to suggest, in 1872, that balloons might be steered, if moving slowly. The principle on which balloons are based was first formulated by Albert of Saxony, an Augustine monk, in the fourteenth century. In 1783 Joseph and Stephen Montgolfier made a successful ascent in a fire balloon, and a few months later, in the same year, M. Robert and Charles made the first ascent in a hydrogen balloon at Paris.

The Human Procession

From out of Africa comes the word that the "Mad Mullah," Mohammed Abdullah, the shepherd lad who became a prophet and a leader, as well as a warrior, is preparing to take the field in a holy war for the glory of Islam. At one time rumored dead, the "Mad Mullah" is now declared to be very much alive, with all the ferocity of his wild nature flaming in hatred of the Christians who have sought to replace the Crescent with the Cross in Tripoli.

Today is the thirteenth day of the month Jomhardi II, in the year of the Phophet 1330, and the forty-fifth birthday of Mohammed Abdullah. He who is now the head of the fanatical Moslem tribes of eastern Africa was, in his boyhood, a herder of sheep in the deserts of Somaliland. He was an orphan, and for his labor under the tropic sun was given a tiny mud cottage in which to sleep, scanty food, and blows. There he might have remained had not a moslem missionary chanced upon him. Finding the lad possessed of a remarkable intelligence for one of his years and opportunities, the missionary took him to Berberd, where he was taught Arabic, Latin and English, and a smattering of modern arts and science.

A finished scholar, Mohammed Abdullah returned to the interior, where he began to preach a holy war against the Christian infidals. Italy and England had divided Somaliland between them, and ruled with an iron hand over the natives. Abdullah appealed both to religion and patriotism in his harangues before the tribesmen, and it was not long until the "true believers" were excited to a frenzy in their hatred of the invaders. Open warfare was not declared until Mohammed Abdullah had returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca. It was in 1899, at the head of an army of men as fanatical as himself, that he raised the banner of revolt. Calling himself the Mahdi, the "expected one," he attracted thousands to his standard, while these tribes that held out for fear of the vengeance of the "infidel" he subdued by force. For months, with truly Fabian tactics, the "Mad Mullah," as the English dubbed him, refused combat with the British troops. Then came a three-day battle, in which both sides suffered heavily, after which the Ab*dullah resumed his former tactics.* The British gave chase, but the "madman" kept always a little ahead, luring them on, until illness and thirst and fever forced the English to give up the pursuit. Reinforced, they returned, only to be administered a crushing defeat by the Moslems. In 1903 there was another battle and again the "Mad Mullah" was the victor. The following year a big force was sent after Abdullah, and the dervishes, realizing the hopelessness of conflict, separated and scattered to the four winds. As soon as the army was withdrawn, however, the "Messiah" was back in the field, ravaging and slaying. In the end the British abandoned the field, retaining only the town of Berbera, and the "Mad Mullah" was left in supreme control of the interior, the real king of the Somalis. A scholar as well as a fighter and a fanatic, Mohammed Abdullah is a lover of poetry, and his favorite verse is this, from the Moslem war-song:

Fear in our country dwelleth not, in mountain or in wold;
In every corner of our land croucheth a lion bold.
'God is Most Great!' we shout in rush and charge on field of fight;
We're Ottomans! our lives we give, our gain is glory bright."

MEASLES OR SCARLET FEVER

To the Editor of The Daily News, Nelson, B. C.

Sir: Would you be good enough to allow me sufficient space in your valuable paper to bring to the attention of the citizens of Nelson, particularly the parents, a matter that seriously affects the health of the community? I refer to a disease that is very prevalent in the city and which seems to be a cross between German measles and scarlet fever, but in some cases being straight German measles and in other cases genuine scarlet fever. At the present time we are undergoing the inconveniences of quarantine owing to our little girl having scarlet fever. We attribute the cause to the fact that a little boy in her class at school, who had had the so-called German measles and returned to school as soon as he was well enough to do so, was found to have, by the health inspector, the almost invariable sign of scarlet fever, namely, desquamation or the flaking off of the skin. Another boy was found playing with little ones whose skin was coming off in flakes an inch long. Now, no blame can be attached to the health inspector either of the school or city, for they can only deal with those cases that come to their attention, and with those they deal promptly. It seems to me that the only persons that can cope with the situation are the parents themselves, and if they fully realized what dire results are likely to follow scarlet fever, both to their own or their neighbors' children and particularly during the period of desquamation, they would see to it that their little folks were isolated and every precaution taken so that the disease might be stamped out.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, and trust that now that the matter has been called to the attention of all your readers, that all care and every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread of one of the most treacherous of diseases.

NELSON OVERRUN WITH SCUM OF ALL NATIONS

Slanderous Statements Published in English Paper From Resident of Nelson—Is Going Back

Dated from Nelson, the following letter signed F. Williams, appeared in the Bexhill (England) Observer:

To the Editor of The Bexhill Observer:

Sir—Having seen by your paper that there is a bit of an argument going on in your town over this country, I should like to have a say in the matter. First of all I agree with what Mr. G. W. Rolfe says about it. It is not a place for an Englishman—that is, if he has been used to decent surroundings. This place is overrun with the scum of all nations—Russians, Norwegians, Swedes, Chinese and Japs—who undersell the white man in the labor market and who live in filthy surroundings. Canada boasts of having no workhouses, it is true, but they do not tell you of the great number of asylums there are all over the country, full of emigrants who have gone mad on discovering the true facts when they reach here.

I should like "One Who Knows" to have a go at it here. He would soon take his return ticket; that is if he had money enough left. Canada is all very well when studied from the depths of an arm chair, but it is nothing to the real thing. I am waiting till I get enough dollars together, then back to England I come.

The reason that Englishmen cannot get on here is because they will not live like pigs. If a man gets a job on a farm he is expected to sleep with the horses or cattle; it is only the "Dagoes" that will do it. Has "One Who Knows" ever heard of the tramway here in Nelson?—two rusty lines standing about 18 inches up from the road, with planks put down every now and then to allow other traffic to pass from one side of the road to the other. Then how would he like the prices that he would be charged here?—30 cents for a jar (1 lb.) of Crosse & Blackwell's jam, 15 cents for a packet of 10 Black Cat cigarettes, and 15 cents for a 1 lb. loaf of bread the latter purchased at Moose Jaw right in the heart of the wheat growing district. A man is better off in England with 25s a week than he is here with £5 a week. There are thousands of unemployed here who would be glad of the chance of getting home again, and they are not afraid of work, whether it is spelt with a capital W or a small one.

I should like to insert this in your paper, so as to put the facts before your readers, for I consider that "One Who Knows" but who has never been here, should get a bit farther from the "apron strings" than he is at present before he starts to criticize other people who have had practical experience I shall look forward to your paper to see if this appears. I was shown your paper by a friend who has it sent from home regularly. Apologizing for troubling you. Yours truly,

F. WILLIAMS.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION WANTS ITS MONEY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 29.—At the great Young Men's Christian association whirlwind campaign for $250,000 four years ago, there were promises of payment made which have not all been fulfilled; in fact the fund is still $25,000 short of the promise. Now the Young Men's Christian association is taking legal process against those who did not fulfill their word and is making Ottowans pay what they owe. Today five of the prominent Ottawans paid up rather than appear in court and the Y. M. C. A. threatens to bring up other examples of broken faith if the amounts are not paid forthwith.

DIRECTOR HEILER RESIGNS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

STRAUSSBURG, Germany, May 29—Director Heiler of the Grafenstadt locomotive works whose support of the French propaganda in Alsace-Lorraine led to the boycotting of the works by the government railroads has resigned. Sharp criticism of the boycott in the Alsacian diet evoked the emperor's remarks at a banquet early in May at which he is reported to have said that if the political situation in Alsace-Lorraine continued he would smash the constitution of that province to fragments.

WHITE LOCKS STILL WAVING

on the ither side the principles he had laid before the people of Quebec as the inspiration of his life and said he was riveted not to principles but to office. We have heard in the past of men riveted, bolted and barred to principles. Mr. Monk is not one of that class. It is only a year or so ago that Mr. Monk was before the people of this province, giving an example to its young men, when they were told he was the one man of all others in the representation of the province at Ottawa who could be depended upon at all times to stand by his principles and trusted. He was tried and found instead of adamant to be of the softest clay.

Question of Reciprocity.

"A few months ago I appealed to the people of the country on the question of reciprocity. In this province at all events, it was not the question of reciprocity which was uppermost in discussion. There were other issues which had perhaps no cause to be brought up, but which were introduced. If we were defeated it was not upon the main issue which was submitted to the country as far as this province was concerned and perhaps in Ontario also. We were defeated by the most heterogeneous combination of elements which bind together people for destruction but which would not hold together for construction. (Applause.)

"We had against us the Conservative party led by Mr. Borden, which was natural. Then we had against us another wing led by Mr. Monk, and the Nationalists led by Mr. Bourassa. We had against us the jingoes led by I don't know who, and if we can believe the words of Mr. Burnham, the Ne Temere decree had no small part in our defeat."

Old Arguments

Sir Wilfrid then launched into a long review of the reciprocity negotiations conducted by his government and gave a resume of practically all the arguments that were heard so frequently during the last federal campaign. The declaration that the Conservative party had always been in favor of reciprocity and had been unable to attain it and had only opposed it when the Liberals secured an agreement was made again and again.

"It is an open secret which everybody at Ottawa knows," declared Sir Wilfrid, "that in the caucuses held by the Conservative party to ascertain whether or not the convention would be accepted there was a great searching of hearts before they finally decided to oppose the treaty. But when it was finally ascertained that Mr. Sifton and a few other of the Conservative-Liberal members from Toronto were opposed to that treaty, from that day the Conservative party made up its mind to oppose the agreement and the party turned as complete a somersault as was ever seen at Barnum's circus.

"That was the attitude of the regular Conservative party headed by Mr. Borden. What was the attitude of the dissentient Conservatives headed by Mr. Monk? You people of Quebec province know that during the last election campaign the question of reciprocity was not discussed by the followers of Mr. Monk. They were concerned specially with the naval question and the Manitoba school questions which we supposed had been settled 12 or 15 years ago, so far as the federal government was concerned. But they said that the Laurier-Greenway settlement was no settlement, but that if they went back to power there would be a real settlement of the question.

"You heard also their pleadings to the people that if only the Laurier government was defeated the naval law could be wiped off the statute books. That was the attitude of Mr. Monk and his dissentient Conservatives."

As to the Nationalists Sir Wilfrid said that he could not see any difference between their policy and that of the Conservative party, yet they unite with the jingoes of Toronto who took the attitude that the naval policy was not satisfactory, one side objecting that it was too strong and the other that it was not strong enough.

Spending Money

Continuing Sir Wilfrid said that it might well be that the Borden government was too busy otherwise. It was busy spending money. "It reminds me of a young rake who has unexpectedly fallen heir to a large estate long administered by careful hands, and, dazed and bewildered by his sudden fortune, buries his hands deep in the treasury scattering it with riotous extravagance to make up for the long period of forced abstemiousness."

When the government was not spending money it was making dismissals and appointments. Office holders had descended upon it thick as locusts in Egypt.

The other day Mr. Foster surrounded, beset, buttonholed and suffocating uttered the cry of despair "This is a damnable system." "It is when it is damnably administered," added Sir Wilfrid amid laughter.

Naval Question

The Liberal chief then turned his attention to the naval question. He traced the history of it from its inception and directed attention to the diverse positions of Messrs. Borden and Monk upon it. Although they both differed they combined in assuring the electorate that if they were returned to power they would repeal it right away. But they had done nothing yet. On behalf of himself and the Liberal party he declared adhesion to the Laurier naval policy.

Nothing New

Sir Wilfrid referred to the famous Taft letter to Roosevelt regarding reciprocity in which he said he looked upon reciprocity as tending to make Canada an adjunct of the United States. "It was to be expected," he said, "that such a letter would be taken up by all who were opposed to reciprocity, it was natural that the Conservative party should so take it up. It was seized by the Conservative party with glee and quoted as a justification of their attitude. But there was nothing new in it. We were familiar with all it contained and had heard the word adjunct before from the Conservative orators. In fact Mr. Taft in that letter only repeated what had been said by the Canadian jingoes and admitted he had borrowed both the idea and expression from the Canadian Tories.

"I want to discusse that question in my position under heaven, because I am satisfied notwithstanding that letter that we were in the right. In that letter Taft candidly admits the arguments of the Canadian Tories and he evidently thought that if the Canadian people could use such appeals to passions and prejudice of the Canadian people against reciprocity it might also appeal to the passions and prejudices of the American people in favor of reciprocity on both sides of the line, and the feelings which politicians not actuated by the highest motives will appeal to."

Thinks Taft Wrong

Sir Wilfrid said that while in the United States he had refused to express any opinion as to the Taft letter. "But now," he said, "for my part I wish to say that I am surprised that a man of the eminence of Mr. Taft should borrow such shallow rhetoric from the Canadian jingoes. And the funny part is that this letter which has been so seriously taken by the Canadian jingoes did not convince my friend Theodore to whom it was addressed. He did not share the idea that reciprocity would make Canada an adjunct of the United States.

"You have the fact that Roosevelt had no idea that reciprocity meant anything like annexation and is not Roosevelt as good an authority for Canada as Taft? You have your choice and I take the Roosevelt idea which is more in accordance with the idea of commercial reciprocity in trade.

"But reciprocity was opposed in the states as much as in Canada. The American lumbermen, farmers and fishermen opposed it as strongly as the Canadian Tories. Moreover it is an open secret that during the heat of the contest when every nerve was strained to win, the special interests in the United States joined hands with those in Canada to defeat reciprocity and sang lustily 'God Save the King' while they whispered to each other 'God save our monopolies and trusts.'

Resembles Gladstone

"In a country like Canada," concluded Sir Wilfrid, "we cannot solve our national problems from the point of view of one province. We have to take into consideration the whole common people and appeal to the best instincts of them all, whatever may be their race, creed or language. History teaches us that it is often the fate of reformers to suffer penalty for their courage and foresight. When Gladstone moved to give justice to Ireland and alleviate conditions under which the Irish people suffered for centuries he paid that penalty for his courage and foresight. He suffered loss of friends and popularity and power. Yet deep in the ground he had sown seed. It was not for him but for us to see its fruition in the eternal gratitude not only of Ireland but of British subjects all over the world. In our humble way and our modest sphere we have put some seed in the ground. It is not easy to champion causes which are not immediately popular. We, too, have suffered for our courage and foresight. We too have lost friends and popularity and power. But for my part, I regret nothing. The seed is sown and still germinates. Perhaps, happier than the great Gladstone, it may be my lot to see the seed sprout, develop and bear fruit."

Other speakers included Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier Murray of Nova Scotia, N. K. Rowell, leader of the opposition in Ontario, who declared that in his province the people wished to take their part in the defence of the coasts and trade of the country; Hugh Guthrie, M.P.; Thib. Rinfret and A. K. McLean, Halifax.

they intend to deal with solemnization." he stated.

Justice Idinglon—They have not attacked the wider side of the question. I submit that the act does not intend this and that another construction and the only one can be put on it than you suggest.

Mr. Hellmuth—The Dominion in effect says to the provinces in this bill, you must give any man the authority to solemnize marriages. Here we have at once the Dominion stepping into the provinces' work and telling them to give authority to anybody or everybody to celebrate marriages.

Justice Idinglon—I submit that it is not so.

Changes Provincial Law

Mr. Hellmuth—If this act is passed by parliament, it will mean that the provincial laws will be changed and will amount to as much as saying that the Dominion government can alter provincial laws.

Justice Idinglon—What is the meaning of the power of parliament?

Justice Anglin—Surely it has power to impose and dispense.

Mr. Hellmuth—The Dominion parliament has the sole power over divorce and marriage with the exception of a piece carved out, as it were, with regard to the solemnization.

Mr. Justice Duff—Suppose a marriage was contracted say at Toronto, not according to the laws of Canada between two French subjects, would legislation passed by the French legislature make the marriage valid in the eyes of the Canadian law?

Mr. Hellmuth—No, my lord, it could not go so far.

Justice Idlingon—Surely the Dominion parliament has the power to decide marriage?

Mr. Hellmuth—If solemnization rests with the province then way should the Dominion ask for this power? It must rest with the legislature to discharge this duty.

In reply to a query from one of the justices, Mr. Hellmuth said he was hampered by no instructions from the government which had retained him to represent the opponents of the bill.

"I have no instructions and am given an absolutely free hand," he stated, "and any statements I may make are not to be taken as coming from the government but from myself in the discharge of my duty."

Mr. Hellmuth was continuing his argument maintaining that it rested with the legislature to deal with the question of solemnization when the court rose for the day.

KOOTENAY FRUIT SOON ON MARKET

Price of Strawberries is Expected to be High—Washington Fruit Now Being Sold

Fruit from Kootenay ranches is expected to be on the market about June 10, according to present indications. The price of strawberries will at first be high, being rated about $5.45 wholesale but will go down fast with the incoming of large quantities of fruit.

Strawberries now being sold are the Hood River variety grown in Washington, but these will give place to local product in a week or two. Cherries are now being sold from California but they are at their ripest and will soon be out.

BIG INCREASE IN EARNINGS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, May 29—Canadian Pacific has gone 10 months of its fiscal year up to the end of April and has a gain of over $5,000,000 in net earnings to show for the work in that period. This is an average gain of slightly over $500,000 per month, and with the present month of earnings this rate will be likely considerably exceeded. As a matter of fact, the April gain was $958,777, so that there is every reason to feel that the current year will smash all records to pieces. Trading in Richelieu was a feature of the forenoon with the price fluctuating between 122½ @122, with a rally to 122¾. In the late trading yesterday the price sagged to 122 on the announcement of the new stock issue to close up the merger deal, part of which is on a cash basis.

Canadian Pacific had a rally in the afternoon, doing better than in the forenoon at 267¼. Richelieu was quieter at 122¼@121¾ with rights at 4¼@1⅝. Sao Paulo climbed up to 246 and Rio was steady around 146⅝. Cement was soft at 29¼. Power was 206¾. Converters continued strong at 46½. Steel was 67 and Car & Foundry 75.

COPER STOCKS OVER PAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 29.—Americans in London showed fair amount of irregular strength after trading for the new account began. The general market acted better and consols showed a good rally. Copper stocks mere ⅛@⅞ per cent above parity. Rather unexpectedly, the loaning rate on American stocks at the carry-over was 4½ per cent as against 4 per cent last time. With the bank rate at 3 per cent this indicates a more extended bull position than most people had supposed. Money was in good demand. Foreign houses expected to buy stocks moderately on balance.

NEW YORK MARKET GROWS ANIMATED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, May 29.—The stock market today awakened from its torpor of the early days of the week and became decidedly more animated but at the expense of values. A combination of liquidation and short selling, influenced perhaps by unfavorable railroad earnings, caused a sudden reversal from the steadiness of the opening. By noon practically every leading issue was under yesterday's lowest price. On the other hand, Canadian Pacific, which rose almost 4 points at the opening, showed a net gain approximating $1,000,000 for April, and Northern Pacific and Central of Georgia also made good gains. The setback in the securities of the southwestern roads, which went so far as to affect some of the bonds, seemed to have its origin in the belief that the recent floods in the Mississipi valley must affect the earnings of the lines traversing the stricken territory.

Crop news was less satisfactory, despatches from Kansas and Nebraska reporting further damage from winds and lack of rain. In Iowa half a crop of winter wheat is likely to be harvested, but Missouri advices were more favorable. Monetary conditions here inclined to greater firmness today especially in the long maturities. Losses of local banks to the sub-treasury thus far this week are fully twice as large as a week ago. A broader market for commercial paper was noted with increasing purchases by New England institutions. Berlin made no further demands on this market, the scene having shifted to Paris according to statements of international bankers. London was a buyer here of about 25,000 shares on the early decline purchases, including Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific and some miscellaneous issues. There is not little anxiety in London in connection with the coming settlement, the carryover for Americans ranging from 4 to 5 per cent.

DECLINE IN WHEAT PRICES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, May 29.—The feature of the wheat market today was the decline in prices and general heaviness in the face of higher cables and numerous bullish reports on crop conditions in the States. The volume of business in options was extremely light and opening prices were ⅛c lower to ¼c higher and without support. July declined ⅝c from opening, finally closing ¼@½c higher.

Minneapolis opened lower for all months and closed ⅝@⅞c lower. Chicago opened higher on all months and closed ⅝@⅞c lower. Chicago May oats closed 2⅛c lower. The cash demand here was quiet and offerings were light; export enquiry was fairly active. There was a very poor enquiry for oats and bids were a shade weaker. May flax sold at 3c higher. There were 250 cars in sight for inspection.

FERNIE APROVES TWO OF FOUR BYLAWS

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B.C., May 29.—The election held on Monday at which the city submitted four proposed by-laws to raise funds for improvements to streets, electric light plant, fire hall and park, drew a small vote, and but two of the four received the necessary two-thirds vote. The proposition to raise $15,000 for improvement and extension of the electric light system was defeated, 47 for to 39 against. The vote on the $10,000 for park improvement was 44 for, 43 against. The $10,000 for street improvement carried by a vote of 53 to 32, and the $5,000 for an addition to the fire hall carried by 58 to 29.

The $10,000 voted for streets added to what the provincial government is doing in the immediate neighborhood of the town on the roads will make a great change in the condition of the streets and roads.

The expectation that much better rates on light and power can be had as soon as the Bull river plant is in a position to supply the current, no doubt had something to do with the light vote for that proposition, and the feeling that it would not be wise to add to the present debt in order to improve the park defeated that by-law.

W. G. Barclay, manager of the Crow's Nest Trading company, returned from Victoria yesterday.

Mining News

LEAD AND ZINC IN WISCONSIN

Three and a Half Million Was Value of Output Last Year—How Ore Values Run.

The value of the mine output of lead and zinc in Wisconsin for the year 1911, according to J. P. Dunlop of the United States geological survey, was $3,582,006. The value of the production in 1910 was $3,188,460, so the increase was $393,546.

The lead concentrates sold declined from 5,608 tons in 1910 to 4,359 tons in 1911. The sphalerite concentrates sold increased from 89,232 tons to 93,963 tons, and the zinc carbonate concentrates declined from 5,269 tons to 5,035 tons.

The metal content of the lead concentrates was 1,060 tons less than in 1910. The recoverable zinc content of the sphalerite and carbonate of zinc concentrates increased 2,847 tons over that of 1910 and the value was $480,120 greater.

Benton, the largest producing district, had an increased output of both lead and zinc concentrates. The value of the output from the Hazel Green district doubled that of 1910 and placed that district ahead of Platteville.

There were 4,359 tons of lead concentrates produced, valued at $229,465. The sphalerite production was 93,963 tons, which brought $1,529,123, and the output of carbonate zinc was 5,035 tons, which was sold for $74,143.

NO ATTEMPT TO CORNER COPPER

Big Producers Are Not Storing Metal, Declares George L. Walker—Market in Good Condition.

BUTTE, Mont., May 29.—"The thing that has attracted my attention more than anything else connected with the copper industry of late is the statement in many of the eastern newspapers that copper is being stored and manipulated by the producers in order to force the price fictitiously high," said George L. Walker, the Boston authority on copper, who has been in the city for the past two weeks. "During my visit of the past few months to the plants of the great copper producers of the country I have not found a pound of copper that is being held. At the present time the producers are taxed almost to their full capacity to keep up with the demand, and I am certain that the consumption today greatly exceeds the production.

Uses Expanding.

"The production of copper for the next year will exceed the production of last year by more than 150,000,000 pounds, but the commercial uses of the metal have so expanded that more than this increase in production will be necessary to meet the demand. The coming year will witness a great expansion in the electrification of railroads, for instance, and the uses of electricity in the way of greater illumination and electric signs will be broader than ever in the history of the country. Our foreign demand for copper is steadily increasing, and unless something unforseen happens I anticipate a greater general use of copper in manufacturing and arts than ever before.

Price High Enough.

"Compared with the advance in the price of other commodities, due to the general increase in wages and the increased production of gold, 16 or 17 cents is not too high for copper, but at the same time it is a price which gives the producer a good margin of profit. I would not like to see it advance over 17 cents, but I fear that it may. I believe that an effort will be made by the more conservative producers to hold it down to that figure. Copper is different from wheat, corn or cotton, and its advance is not governed by the same principle of supply and demand. There may be several construction companies, for instance, which have been given a contract requiring a certain amount of copper. They go to the selling agencies or the producer and find that there is just enough copper on hand to satisfy one of the contracts. The contractors bid up the copper and the highest bidder gets it. Everyone of the contractors could be supplied from the normal production in the very near future, but they are not content to wait. Thus it is seen that the demand in this instance is not abnormally greater than the supply.

Foreign Buyers.

"The average price of copper during the past seven or eight years has been between 14 and 15 cents a pound, based on drawing an average from the extreme low price of about 11 cents and the high price of 26 cents five years ago. Around 12 cents a pound a great quantity of the metal was bought by foreign manufacturers, who will buy any commodity when it is cheap and hold it in reserve. At the same times these foreign consumers are steady buyers of the metal today and are not drawing heavily on their reserve stocks.

"The copper surplus is being reduced steadily and I believe that the metal market is in good position and wil remain satisfactory for some years to come.

"Alaska will never become so important a producer of copper as to greatly affect the supply. It is now producing about 20,000,000 pounds a year. The porphyries are important, but it is not probable that any new properties of this class will be discovered within the next few years.

"I am exceptionally pleased with what I have seen of the copper mines of Butte and the camp is more and more deserving every year of its place as the greatest copper camp in the world."

PLAN DEVELOPMENT OF BAYONNE CLAIMS

William Maher and James McKiernan of Vancouver and Alex Stewart of Nelson to Make Inspection.

On their way to the Bayonne camp, where they will inspect the Echo group and the Josephine group with a view to making plans for development during the summer, William Maher and James McKiernan reached the city from Vancouver last night and registered at the Madden.

On the Echo group, which is owned by Mr. Maher and Alex Stewart, extensive ground sluicing will be carried out.

What will be done on the Josephine group, in which Mr. McKiernan is interested, will not be decided until after an inspection of the property has been made. The Josephine adjoins the Bayonne mine.

DRIVES CROSSCUT AT EUREKA MINE

E. R. Davidson Expects to Tap Ore Body at Depth by First of July.

By July 1 E. R. Davidson of Spokane expects the crosscut tunnel which he is driving on the Eureka mine near Sproule's on the Kaslo & Slocan line will reach the ledge. The crosscut is now in 200 feet and it is estimated that another 40 feet of work will be necessary before the main ore body is reached.

At the Strathcona last night Mr. Davidson, who has the property under bond from J. C. Ryan of Spokane, expressed the opinion that development of the Eureka would open up a very valuable mine. Seven carloads of high-grade ore had been shipped from the upper workings, he said, and gave good smelter returns. Much of this ore was practically from the surface and the balance came from shallow tunnels. The crosscut is being driven to tap this ore at depth.

DEFRAUDS GREEK LABORERS

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 29.—For having perpetrated a series of mean frauds on Greek laborers C. M. Larson, from Washington state, was sentenced by Judge McInnes. Larson had received small payments from foreigners for land in Washington which he represented he had the right to sell, showing the purchasers false maps and forged credentials.

WATTS' LUMBER MILL RESUMES OPERATIONS

(Special to The Daily News.)

PROCTOR, B. C., May 29.—The news of the sudden death on the 28 inst. of Mrs. F. L. Orr, wife of Captain F. L. Orr, reached here last night. Captain and Mrs. Orr left Proctor about three months ago to visit their home in Bourshaw, P.I.E. The captain returned a few weeks ago to take charge of the steam ship Moyie and Mrs. Orr was to follow about the first week in June. The trip and visit had every evidence of being beneficial to Mrs. Orr. Her death was very sudden of heart disease. Two small children are left without a mother. The interment is to take place at Bourshaw.

Tom Marks paid a visit to his newly acquired ranch at Proctor and gave instructions regarding clearing; also for the building of a bungalow.

T. Carmen is assisting Tim Hughes in his tonsorial establishment.

The Watts Lumber company resumed operating their mill here this morning. The mill has been closed during the winter. A few large booms await cutting and the work promises to be steady throughout the summer.

CLARK FORCES CLAIM MAJORITY OF DELEGATES

(Western Associated Press.)

BUTTE, Mont., May 29.—There was no apparent break among the delegates when the Montana state Democratic convention assembled today. The Clark forces claim a majority of delegates for their candidate. Several county delegations are instructed for Clark but there is a strong undercurrent in favor of an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The most important contest that is expected to develop is a fight between R. R. Purcell and T. J. Walsh of Helena for places on the national delegation. Lewis and Clark county delegation, of which both men are members, were instructed to vote for Purcell and under their instructions Walsh will be compelled to vote for his opponent.

Walsh was a candidate for United States senator for Montana before the legislature last June, and the contest today is regarded as the first test of strength between Purcell and Walsh in the contest for the seat now occupied by Senator Dixon, which will be filled next year.

MINOR CHANGES IN BOAT TIMES

Kuskanook Will Arrive Twenty-five Minutes Later and Make Fewer Calls en Route

Changes of a minor nature in the times of boat arrivals will be brought into force Sunday with the summer schedule of the Canadian Pacific railway. Instead of the Kuskanook arriving at 7 o'clock in the evening it will get to Nelson 25 minutes later or at 7:25. This is brought about by the Crow train making connections with the Spokane train and getting to Kootenay Landing 25 minutes later.

Steamers will also change their ports of call after Sunday as well. The Kuskanook, performing the Nelson-Kootenay Landing service will stop only at Balfour, Proctor, LaFrance, Davie, Boswell and Sanca except that on Sunday she will when flagged or to discharge passengers stop each way at Willow Point, Molly Gibson and Harrop.

The steamer Kokanee performing the Nelson-Kaslo-Lardo service will stop only at Willow point, Cedar point, McDonald, Russell, Farrington Molly Gibson, Bradley, Kokanee, Hallet, Harrop, Sunshine, Begg, Fraser Proctor, Balfour, Baker Queens Bay Kootenay Bay, Crocker, Coffee creek Ainsworth, Cedar creek, Woodberry, Riondel, Twin Bay, Archer, Mirror Lake, Kaslo, Murphy creek, Schuletty creek, Schroder creek, Fry creek, Gardiner, Lost Ledge creek, Argenta and Lardo.

The steamer Moyie, operating on the Nelson-Crawford Bay route will stop only at the points shown above for the steamer Kokanee between Nelson and Proctor, and between Proctor and Crawford bay she will call only at Queen's Bay, Kootenay Bay, Gray's creek and Crawford Bay.

On the Arrow lakes between West Robson and Arrowhead calls will only be made at Arrowhead, Halcyon, St. Leon, Pingston creek, Fosthall on Tuesday and Saturday northbound only and Nakusp, West Demars, Forest Glen, Rock Island, Arrow Park, East Arrow Park, Mackinson, Graham, Burton City, Needles, Edgewood, Van Houten, Lakeside, Renata, Deer Park, Syringa creek, East Robson and West Robson.

On Slocan lake between Slocan City and Rosebery calls will only be made at Rosebery, New Denver, Silverton, enterprise, Evans creek and Slocan City.

The establishment of calling ports as outlined above will enable the various steamers to make better time and to maintain their schedules, and this will no doubt be appreciated by the travelling public particularly those persons who live at some distance from Nelson and who find it necessary to come into the city frequently.

OVERSEAS CLUB LEADER IN CANADA

Club Is Largest Non-Party Patriotic Organization in Empire—To Visit Nelson Shortly.

We sailed wherever ships could sail,
We founded many a mighty state;
Pray God our greatness may not fail
Through craven fears of being great.
—Tennyson.

(Motto of the Overseas Club.)

Evelyn Wrench, the founder and organizer of the Overseas club, arrived in Montreal from London today, accompanied by Miss Wrench, on a tour through Canada in the interests of the club, says the Montreal Star of May 22. A reception with the object of giving members of the local branch and others an opportunity to meet him will be held in the Y. M. C. A. on Dominion square on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Wrench will give an address.

All those interested in imperial problems, from an entirely non-party standpoint, are cordially invited to be present.

Although only founded in August, 1910, the Overseas club is already the largest non-party patriotic institution in the British empire, Mr. Wrench hopes that one day it will have as large membership as the German Navy league, which numbers over 1,000,000. It now has branches all over the world, wherever English is spoken, the total membership being 87,000, of which 30,000 belong to the 75 branches in Canada. One of the primary objects of the club is to maintain absolutely the supremacy of the British empire. The "members' creed" is as follows:

"Believing the British empire to stand for justice, freedom, order and good government, we pledge ourselves as citizens of the greatest empire in the world, to maintain the heritage handed down to us by our fathers."

The objects are given as follows:

1. To help one another.
2. To urge on every able-bodied man the necessity of being able to bear arms.
3. To draw together in the bond of comradeship the peoples now living under the folds of the British flag.
4. To insist on the vital necessity to the empire the British supremacy on the sea.

Membership in General.

Mr. Wrench addressed a large meeting of members in New York on his arrival there a day or two ago, and he says there was also a meeting of members on board the Mauretania. Almost every British ship on board has members among the crew and officers. The club is absolutely non-sectarian and non-political, and its members in Canada range from laborers to Premier Borden. Earl Grey is keenly interested in it, and has given Mr. Wrench letters of introduction to many leading men in this country. He has also asked Mr. Wrench to present on his behalf an engraved copy of Millais' "Boyhood of Raleigh' to every branch in Canada.

It is hoped, Mr. Wrench says, to bring the membership in Canada up to 100,000. Each branch, he explained, has local automony, and it uses its own judgment as to the best way to foster the aims of the club. A great point is made of fostering the celebration of Empire day, and there are frequent meetings for the discussion of empire topics and to keep alive the sentiment of patriotism. The membership in all parts of the world is growing at the rate of 800 a week. The flag of the club is a Union Jack with the monogram "O. S." superimposed.

Mr. Wrench is expected to reach Nelson shortly.

FEW CANADIANS IN RAILWAY STRIKE RIOTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., May 29.—Of all the men who were prosecuted or arrested on charges of lawbreaking during the recent Industrial Workers of the World strike on the Canadian Northern only four were native born Canadians, according to the report made to the attorney general by T. B. Shebotham, who was engaged to represent the crown in these prosecutions. Of the four Canadians one came from Nova Scotia, one from Quebec and two from Ontario. A few of the others were natives of the United States, but most of them were Europeans who had come first to the States and then to this country. Prosecutions were begun April 18 at Ashcroft and carried on almost daily until May 22, when Whitehead, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World at Lytton, received six months sentence for breach of the sanitary regulations of the provincial board of health. On that day the police could say for the first time since the strike began that there was not an Industrial Worker of the World in the strike zone.

A Friend At the Breakfast Table

Thousands of old-time tea and coffee drinkers now use

POSTUM

TRANSFORMATIONS

Curious Results When Tea and Coffee Drinking Are Abandoned

It is almost as hard for an old tea or coffee toper to quit as it is for a whiskey or tobacco fiend to break off, except that the tea or coffee drinker can quit and take up Postum without any feeling of a loss of the morning beverage.

When Postum is well made and served with cream, it is really better in point of flavor than most of the coffee served nowadays. To the taste of the connoisseur it is very like the flavor of fine, mild Java.

A great transformation takes place in the body within ten days or two weeks after the tea or coffee is left off and Postum used. The reason is that the poison to the nerves—caffeine—has been discontinued and in its place is taken a liquid food that contains the most powerful elements of nourishment.

It is easy to make this test and prove these statements by changing to Postum. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Something New
To Please the Men

"Where on earth do you get so many different patterns?" asked a gentleman after choosing two Fit-Reform suits.

"In England, mostly," he replied.

In the great mills of Leeds, Bradford and Huddersfield, where the choicest patterns are created and the finest worsteds, flannels and serges are woven.

We get the pick of the mills—the "cream" of the new and exclusive effects.

These are the materials in our two, three and four button sack suits. They are patterns entirely new to this city and shown only in the Fit-Reform wardrobe.

If you want to see something entirely new and distinctive, stop in and see these Fit-Reform suits.
