CAPTAIN MUST GIVE EVIDENCE

Skipper of Mount Temple Summoned to Washington

OPERATORS TOLD TO SELL NEWS

Marconi and Wireless Operator Give Evidence--Rivalry Between Systems

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—To learn why a nearby steamer did not offer aid to the sinking Titanic and to fix the exact hour at which the lost liner was warned that she was in the vicinity of dangerous ice, Senator Smith, chairman of the senate committee investigating the disaster, today summoned three important witnesses. They are J. P. Moore, captain of the steamer Mount Temple, which passed within a short distance of the Titanic when she was in extremity, and the captain and wireless operator of the liner Californian, which sent the warning. All will be put on the stand tomorrow.

Summonses were issued for the master and operator of the Californian, while the announcement that Captain Moore would appear was contained in a telegram from Acting Premier Foster of Canada. Captain Moore's story probably will be heard first, for his ship is due to sail from St. John late on Saturday.

Inquiry Split.

A new method of examining the members of the crew of the Titanic has been adopted to insure greater despatch. The men are anxious to return to their homes in England. Accordingly, each member of the committee today undertook the examination of a group with the intention of releasing such as had nothing of importance to tell to the committee. The others will be placed on the stand. The names of those to be held were not made public.

Virtually, the entire day was given over to questioning Mr. Marconi, inventor of the wireless telegraph and head of the company bearing his name. Both the Titanic and the Carpathia were equipped with the Marconi apparatus.

Marconi's Evidence.

Guglielmo Marconi, chief of the Marconi Company, Limited, today told the senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster that he had authorized the wireless operators of the Carpathia and the Titanic to sell stories of the great catastrophe for publication. Marconi explained that in giving consent for the sale of these stories, he had not attempted in any way to prevent general information of the wreck. He denied any knowledge whatever of wireless messages sent to the Carpathia operators telling them to "keep your mouths shut" and "hold out for four figures." These messages, one of them signed "Marconi," were picked up by the United States battleship Florida the night the Carpathia was coming in and forwarded to the secretary of the navy. Mr. Marconi declared he never authorized the message but did give consent that the operators could receive money. Early in his testimony Mr. Marconi told of the repeated attempts he had made during Sunday, Monday and the days following the tragedy to obtain information.

Senator Smith said to Mr. Marconi: "I would like to have your own best judgment as to whether the custom established by Operator Binns in the Republic disaster of selling his news and the privilege you gave to Gottam in the Titanic disaster had anything to do with our failure to hear this information and deprived this house of the details of this horror?"

Mr. Marconi said he did not think so and repeatedly insisted he had not attempted to suppress the details of the horror.

Wireless Operator.

Harold Cottam, the wireless operator on the Carpathia, was re-examined.

"Did you receive a wireless from the United States ship Chester?" he was asked. "Several, asking for a passenger list," said Cottam. "I took the messages to the captain and he replied to the Chester later, stating that the names of survivors already had been forwarded. He told the Chester that all but the third class passengers had been sent and that the Chester could have them if wanted."

"Did you know the message was from the president of the United States?" "No, it was only signed by the commander of the Chester. He asked once about Major Butt."

Cottam said he worked almost continuously from the time of the rescue until the Carpathia docked. He said he was not in communication with the Marconi company that day and that on the day of the landing he received no messages from Marconi, Sammis or anyone of the company. "I did not receive any messages from any officer of the company that day," he said.

Senator Smith read the "Keep your mouth shut" telegram but the witness said he did not know of it. He did remember, he said, the receipt of the message signed by Sammis, promising the operators "money in four figures" for their story and "not to talk." He said that Brooke took it and he did not discuss the matter with him. "I got a message asking me to meet Mr. Marconi at the Strand hotel," said Cottam.

"Did you keep your mouth shut?" asked Senator Smith. "Certainly."

"There was a persistent demand for news, was there not?" "There was, but I was busy taking messages for passengers and in sending their messages. The captain told me to ignore passing ships and to refuse all calls for details. We had the passengers to look after."

Cottam said that when he arrived at the New York dock he went to the Strand hotel, but could not find Mr. Marconi or anyone connected with the company. He waited around the hotel and later called Mr. Marconi on the phone. Cottam said he had sold his story but that he had not received anything for it yet. He said he talked only to a reporter and had been told that it was all right for him to tell his story. He did not talk about money from the story, relying on the message from Engineer Sammis.

Asked whether there was any rivalry or enmity between Marconi operators and the operators of other systems Cottam said there was some feeling.

Senator Smith asked if any feeling existed between the operators on the Titanic and the one on the Frankfurt, which was said not to have responded promptly to the Titanic's C. Q. D. call. "No, sir," said Cottam, "furthermore, the C. Q. D. should have been signal enough for the operator to have reported at once the distress of the vessel."

Cottam told Senator Smith that he would have answered the operator of the Frankfurt the same way that the Titanic did, "Keep out, you fool," had it been his place to, when the Frankfurt operator answered the Titanic's C. Q. D. call 20 minutes late.

"When only two hours is between life and death," said Cottam, "20 minutes is a long time. I don't know what else but fool to call a man who was so foolish as to interfere with other communication to answer a C. Q. D. and ask what's the matter 20 minutes later."

When the committe resumed Senator Smith asked Mr. Marconi: "I desire to ask whether an officer, director or employee of the International Mercantile Marine, after the collision asked you to enjoin silence on the Titanic operator, Bride or the Carpathia operator, Cottam as to the time or the manner in which the accident occurred?" "No request was made and no order was issued to stop any message. No such instructions of any sort or manner ever were issued."

The witness was excused and the session adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Smith's Statement.

Senator Smith made the following statement:

"I desire to state that some rumors have reached the committee that there is friction and lack of harmony among the members of the sub-committee and I have the concurrence of my associates that the statement is absolutely untrue. Personally, I have never heard of the slightest friction. We are all proceeding in our own way to get at the facts. I wish to say further, that we have determined to hear the members of the crew of the Titanic. It has been thought necessary because of the large number of these men to proceed with the hearing without the attendance of the public, each member of the committee examining his quota of these men. This is done to expedite the hearing."

ANOTHER CALGARY MAN LOST ON TITANIC

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, April 25.—H. Enida Olive, of the firm of H. Enida Olive Company, Limited, of this city, wrote this morning, stating that he feared his brother, Ernest Olive, had lost his life aboard the Titanic when she went down. According to Mr. Olive, his brother wrote him when he was leaving the old country that he was about to sail on the Titanic. The letter reached here yesterday and that is all the information that has reached Mr. Olive to date. The name of his brother does not appear among those saved. Ernest Olive was to have gone into business with his brother on arrival here.

DATE IS SET FOR NELSON ABBOR DAY

Need for Weed Inspector to Be Urged on Council.

CAN GET SHADE TREES TOMORROW

Association Sees Need for Betterment of High School Grounds.

Tuesday, May 7 will be Arbor day, the Nelson Improvement association at a meeting last night deciding that this date would be the most convenient for the merchants and general public for the annual cleaning up of vacant lots, lanes and other places where refuse has accumulated. The mayor, who has left the fixing of the date of Arbor day to the improvement association, will be asked to declare the day a public holiday.

Want Weeds Eradicated

It was decided that the city council should be urged to take strong measures for the eradication of noxious weeds in the city, members of the association urging particularly the destruction of dandelions and thistles. It was suggested that a weed inspector should be appointed and that his duties should include the taking of measures to have cut down all noxious weeds on vacant lots in order that the seeds might not be blown on to other property. The owners of the lots so dealt with should be charged with the cost, it was said.

Signs to Points of Interest

The council will also be asked to place on the main streets receptacles for rubbish and signs directing visitors to such points of interest as Cottonwood Falls and Houston and Connaught parks.

That heavy fines should be inflicted on persons allowing chickens, cattle or other animals to run at large on the streets was the concensus of opinion, some of those present also speaking of the damage caused by cats and dogs.

Criticize High School Grounds

Other matters discussed were the need for the improvement of the high school grounds, the possibility of improvement of the upper portion of Silica street by using ashes collected in the vicinity for grading purposes and the desirability of doing away entirely with fences between gardens and streets or in the alternative the use of a single row of gas piping was advocated by several members of the association.

It was announced that tomorrow was the last day upon which the shade trees which are being distributed free by the association could be secured and it was arranged that a man would be present at the exhibition building where the trees are stored from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Want Reports by Monday

A request was made that all chairmen of ward committees should hand in reports and recommendations before Monday to J. H. Lawrence, secretary of the association, in order that any matters which should be brought before the city council can be mentioned at the meeting on Monday night.

Those present were W. R. Jarvis in the chair, H. H. Currie, A. J. Dill, John Fraser, A. W. Nagle, J. M. Montgomery, J. W. Wilkinson and Stephen H. Hoskins.

PRESIDENT OF DISTRICT EIGHTEEN RESIGNS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LETHBRIDGE, April 25.—Every camp in district No. 18, United Mine Workers of America, is stirred this week over the news of the resignation of President W. B. Powell, who for almost three years has held that position. The news came as a shock as there had been no previous intimation that the president had any intention of resigning. His action was purely a personal move, so far as can be learned, although it is impossible to learn if there is any ulterior motive behind the action of the chief official of the organization.

Mr. Powell says he will go back to the mines and work as a miner.

WINNIPEG WATER SUPPLY FAILS—FACTORIES CLOSE

(Western Associated Press.)

Winnipeg, April 25—A shortage of water is handicapping this city at the present time, so much so that manufacturing concerns are forced to shut down their plants and insurance companies threaten to cancel their policies. City well No. 5 which gives 5,000,000 gallons a day out of a total of 7,500,000 gallons is disabled the pumping apparatus being out of business. Strenuous efforts are being made to repair it.

PREPARING FOR MACKAY BENNETT

Precautions Taken to Prevent Rush of Curious Crowd When Bodies Arrive.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HALIFAX, April 25.—To prevent a crush of a curious crowd the militia department has acceded to a request that the cable ship Mackay Bennett, with its dead, dock at the Gun wharf. This is the most carefully guarded military property in the city and no visitors are allowed within its precincts at any time unless the business they have on hand is fully made known to the sentries in charge. Entrance to the Gun wharf is obtainable only through a narrow gate and no crush of people there would be possible. Application for the use of the wharf was made to Brig.-Gen. Drury and by him referred to the proper authorities for a final decision. This was given and the Titanic's dead will be landed there. Only such as seek admission for the purpose of identification of the dead will be allowed inside this military property, where the ordnance for the garrison is stored. There is no covered enclosure there yet large enough for the disposal of the 200 or more bodies that the Mackay Bennett is bringing, but this may be provided by the erection of large tents or the building of a temporary roof. The Gun wharf is about a half mile from the railway station. The White Star line agents here believe that the cable ship sailed for Halifax this forenoon. If she is not delayed by bad weather or fog she should, therefore, be due here by Saturday night. It is believed that the Minia is now in touch with the Mackay Bennett by wireless.

FERNIE SLANDER CASE DISMISSED

Appeal by Secretary of Miners' Union Thrown Out—New Trial Is Refused.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 25.—The action alleging slander, brought a year ago by Anthony Carter, secretary of the miners' union at Fernie, against W. G. Barclay, storekeeper of that place, and which the trial jury dismissed, was brought to the notice of the court of appeal by C. W. Craig, acting on Carter's behalf. Craig wanted a new trial ordered.

The action arose over an arrangement between the union and Barclay at the time of the strike, whereby Barclay was to supply goods to the strikers, payment to be guaranteed by the union. Carter alleged that Barclay had told some friends that Carter had asked for a "rake-off."

This allegation was denied by Barclay, who said he had merely mentioned that he had had an interview with Carter in reference to supplies for the men.

S. S. Taylor was prepared to argue on behalf of Barclay, but without calling on respondent's counsel the court announced they were agreed that the jury had acted properly in dismissing the case and refused to grant a new trial.

OTTAWA, April 25.—Hon. Frank Cochrane has asked J. T. Payne, controller of statistics in securing his information this year in regard to lake navigation, to secure in addition to the usual data the freight rates charged.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED ON ARMAMENT BILLS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Berlin, April 25—The government today suffered defeat on the bills for increase of the army and navy. Although the bills were read a first time the combined National, Liberal, Radical and Socialist parties which are dissatisfied with the government's proposed method of financing the measures and desire the imposition of an inheritance tax in order to provide the necessary funds, succeeded by a majority of two in having the bills referred to a special committee for study.

STORY OF MOUNT TEMPLE OPERATOR

Lying on Bed When Heard Cry for Help.

MOUNT TEMPLE RUSHED TO SCENE

Says Vessel Was Twenty Miles Away When Titanic Sank.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 25—T. J. Durant, Marconi wireless operator on the Mount Temple, now lying at Sand Point, tells the following story of the wireless calls he picked up from the sinking Titanic. Mr. Durant explained that on the Mount Temple there was never any great necessity for the operator to sit up late at night for all that he never retires much before midnight, passing away the time either writing letters or reading. It was owing to this habit that he caught the "C.Q.D." message of the Titanic. Said he: "I was lying in bed reading with the telephone over my ears at 10:25 ship's time, or 12:11 New York time, when I caught the first call. Immediately getting out of bed I answered, asking the position of the stricken ship. This was sent back with the addition 'Come at once, have struck berg.' As soon as I got the message I notified the captain who at once doubled the watch of firemen below, called all hands on deck and changed the ship's course toward the position of the Titanic. Then I went back to the instrument. I did not call the Titanic again because other ships, which I judged to be closer, were working and I did not wish to jam them. At 12:21 I heard the Carpathia answer the "C.Q.D." calls of the Titanic and heard the operator on that ship give his position, adding 'Have struck berg; come to our assistance at once.' At 12:34 I heard the Frankfurt answer the appeals of the Titanic. That ship asked 'What is the matter with you?' The answer was 'We have struck an iceberg; please tell the captain to come quick.' To this the operator of the Frankfurt replied 'O.K., will tell the bridge right away.'

"All this time the "C.Q.D." message was being sent out incessantly from the sinking liner and at 1:06 I heard thd Olympic answer the call. To this steamer the Titanic said: 'Captain says get your boats ready, going down fast by the head.' Five minutes later the Frankfurt struck in with 'Our captain will do for you.'

Titanic's Last Reply

"At 12:21 the Olympic sent another message which the Titanic answered saying, 'We are putting the women off in the boats.' Another five minutes of anxious waiting passed when the agonized 'C.Q.D.' again cut the air accompanied by the words 'Engine room flooded.' Out of the darkness the Olympic again asked 'How is the sea around you?' to which the reply was 'The sea is calm.' Another four minutes passed when the operator on the Frankfurt asked the Titanic 'Are there any boats around you already?' To this there was no reply and two minutes afterward the Olympic sent a message to the Titanic which the latter barely acknowledged by the code words 'R.D.' That was the last message I heard and I presume the flooding of the engine room had put the wireless out of commission.

Delayed by Ice

"Meantime, everything that was possible was done on the Mount Temple. All hands were on deck, the boats were swung clear of the davits and the gangways and ladders were got ready to lower at a moment's notice. It was not until 4:30 that we arrived at the position of the Titanic having been much delayed by the thick field of ice. At that time we saw no sign of the ill-fated ship nor any wreckage. At 5:11 I had a call from the California and told them of the disaster and gave the position in which it occurred. Soon after the Frankfurt also called me. About 40 minutes later we saw the Carpathia and California with the Russian steamer Birma. There was also a tramp steamer cruising about and apparently going in the same direction as us, but as she had no wireless instrument and never approached near we could not find out what she was. As soon as I saw the Carpathia I asked for news of the Titanic and if she had seen anything but got no reply. Other ships asked the same question but she kept silent to all. It was not until 8:30 that the Carpathia gave out anything and then only the information that she had picked up 20 boats. There was not a word as to the number of survivors. At the time I received the first message I would judge the Mount Temple to be 50 miles from the Titanic's position and when the big ship went down there was still 20 or 25 miles between us."

Captain Will Testify

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 25—Capt. Moore of the C.P.R. steamer Mount Temple, left tonight for Washington to give evidence before the senate committee regarding his action on the night of the Titanic disaster. He feels keenly what he calls the false and cruel stories that he refused to go to the Titanic's aid and anticipates no difficulty in proving to the investigators that everything possible was done to reach the sinking ship.

CAPTAIN GIVES STORY EMPHATIC DENIAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, April 25.—The following telegram was received by a local paper in reply to a request for a statement on the story of Mr. Zurich, now in the west, regarding the Mount Temple's having ignored the Titanic's signals of distress:

"West St. John, N. B., April 25.—Absolutely no truth in passenger's statement. (Signed) Moore, Master S. S. Mount Temple."

Saturnia Miles Away

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 25—Capt. Taylor of the Saturnia, said tonight that his ship was more than 400 miles away when the Titanic sank.

ISMAY CONVICTED BEFORE TRIAL

Feeling Aroused by Senate Enquiry Causes Anxiety in Official Circles —Goes too Far

LONDON, April 25.—The British public is displaying considerable resentment at the course which the American senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster is taking with regard to the detention of the British subjects and the manner of their examination. The matter is being discussed everywhere and the attitude generally is taken that J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, and the crew of the Titanic were convicted before trial.

The subject is one of great anxiety in official circles as it is feared that, should the senate committee condemn the company and the crew its action would give rise to ill-feeling between the two peoples. Thus far, the British foreign office has simply asked Ambassador Bryce for information relative to the inquiry. The dissatisfaction of the public might be alleviated if it had a clearer idea as to the scope of intention of the American investigation. It is admitted that the senate has a perfect right to inquire into the death of the Americans but it is felt that the committee is going far beyond this.

WILL REORGANIZE TRADE COMMISSION SERVICE

OTTAWA, April 25—A complete reorganization of the trade commission service is being worked out by Hon. G. E. Foster, assisted by Richard Grigg, commissioner of commerce. There will be a reallottment of territory and probably a number of new appointments. At present there are five vacancies, namely, at Paris, Berlin, Shanghai, Havanna and Amsterdam.

REFUSED TO AID TITANIC VICTIMS

Says Mount Temple Could Have Reached Liner in Time

CAPTAIN FEARED TO FACE ICEBERGS

Passenger Here Says Steamer, Hove to, Would Not Heed Distress Signals

While in possession of wireless messages which told him that the Titanic was in distress, that the women and children had been taken off in lifeboats and that the giant liner was sinking Capt. Moore of the Mount Temple hove to and in spite of the entreaties of his officers to go to the aid of the 1,600 persons who drowned, kept his steamer stationary five miles from the scene of the foundering of the leviathan. This was at about 2 o'clock in the morning in plenty of time for the Titanic to have been reached and the passengers and crew rescued.

Speaking carefully and with an obvious desire to place the situation in its true light and with absolute fairness to Capt. Moore, W. N. Keurvorst, a passenger on the Mount Temple, last night made this declaration at the Grand Central hotel. His information, he said, was secured through the Marconi operator on the boat.

Blames Captain

"If there is any person that should be punished for the frightful loss of life in the Titanic disaster it should be Capt. Moore," he asserted.

"I was awakened when the first message telling of the distress to the Titanic was received," he said, "by the noise of the preparations for the launching of lifeboats, by the increased speed of the engines and by the signal bells sounding in the engine room to which my stateroom was in close proximity. The night was very clear; we could see for miles.

"Capt. Moore rushed his boat toward the scene of the wreck but when we got within from three to five miles of the Titanic he stopped the engines on account of the nearness of the icebergs, several of which I saw. The captain gave as his reason for refusing to approach nearer to the sinking boat that he was not going to risk the lives of his 1,600 passengers. By wireless he received a message stating that the women and children had been put off in the lifeboats while another message told him that the Titanic was sinking."

Officers Wanted to Aid

At this time it was not more than 2 o'clock, Mr. Keurvorst stated, so that the Mount Temple could have reached the White Star liner some time before she sank if the captain had permitted it.

"The officers, the Marconi man said, wanted him to go to the big steamer but he refused to do so and told them that he was not going to risk the lives of his 1,600 passengers in order to save others."

The Mount Temple stayed hove to until about 5 o'clock when a wireless from the Carpathia conveyed the information that the lifeboats had been picked up.

Thinks Facts Should be Known

"I am telling of what I know now because I have not seen the true facts yet stated in the papers," said Mr. Keurvorst, "and I think that everything in connection with the disaster should be placed before the public. I am not saying that Capt Moore was guilty; I am not his judge, but what I know should be made public."

Mr. Keurvorst sailed from Antwerp on the Mount Temple. He had been on a visit to his home in The Hague after two years in England and some years in Chicago. He is now on his way to Fruitvale where he expects to go into the ranching business.

TORNADO BLOWS TRAIN FROM TRACK

All Cars Overturned by Furious Wind Storm—Scores Injured by Hurricane

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PONCA CITY, Okla., April 25.—Mrs. Mary Crooks was killed and several persons were injured, none fatally, and a score or more buildings were demolished by a tornado which struck the place late today.

Train Blown Away

OMAHA, Neb., April 25.—Twenty-nine persons were injured, one of them, James Davis, perhaps fatally, when a wind storm broke here and struck the Union Pacific passenger train No. 35, a mile west of North Loup, Neb. late this afternoon. The entire train, the engine excepted, was blown from the track and all the cars were overturned. A mile of telegraph line was blown down, cutting off direct communication with larger outside cities for several hours.

Jews Take Refuge In Wild Beasts' Cages

(Western Associated Press.)

FEZ, Morocco, April 22—Delayed in transmission—The Jewish quarter of Fez presents a lamentable spectacle as a result of the recent pillaging and looting by the revolting populace and mutinous Moorish soldiers. On the occasion of the preceding ravaging of the quarter, the scenes enacted did not approach in horror and devastation those which occurred last week. Of 12,000 Jewish residents of the capital no fewer than 7,000 have been rendered homeless by fire and those now have taken refuge naked and hungry in the garden of the sultan's palace.

In Wild Beast Cages

Hundreds of emaciated human beings are huddled together there in empty cages of the sultan's menageries and these are surrounded by cages containing wild animals which, maddened by the sight of human flesh, fill the gardens with their roarings. When they attacked Mellah, the Jewish quarter, the people composing the infuriated mob, chiefly were bent on pillage. They tore the clothing from men, women and children, and these, shrieking with terror, raced for refuge into the palace grounds. The mob then sacked and burned at its leisure, destroying everything which came in its way. The synagogues were wrecked and the sacred books and parchments torn and burned. Articles too heavy to be carried off, like beds and furniture were hacked to pieces and then piled in the streets and set on fire.

Naked Corpses

The streets are pictures of desolation. Here and there are to be seen naked corpses of persons who were struck down while trying to escape from frenzied Moors. At the French, British and other consulates bread is being supplied to starving refugees and the consuls are endeavoring to find some kind of shelter for the homeless. The bodies of French officers, a number of whom were killed in the recent fighting, have not yet all been found among those recovered.

Terrible Torture

They suffered terrible torture. The corpses were mutilated in a horrible manner. One of the assistants of Col. Loryish confessed that the Moorish women were the ringleaders in his murder. They tied the colonel's arms and feet and then slowly stabbed him to death with poinards. Many arrests of Moorish soldiers and citizens of Fez have been affected. The prisoners will be tried by court martial.

Premier Borden's Speech By Telephone

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, April 25—Representative journalists from all over the United States and Canada were brought together tonight at the annual banquet of the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' association, held in the ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The telephone played a prominent part in lending both variety and novelty to the progrem. President Taft, although actually in Boston, addressed the assembled gathering over the long distance wires of the American Telegraph & Telephone Co., his voice being distinctly conveyed to each guest by means of a receiving instrument. In like manner, Premier Borden of Canada addressed the guests by long distance telephone from Hot Springs, Virginia, Intermingled with these addresses were songs over the telephone wires from the various theatres.

At the tables were seated over 700 guests, among them Thomas A. Edison and Alexander Graham Bell. Speaking from the Arena in Boston, where he addressed a political meeting, President Taft sent a message to the diners. He said::

"I shall not weigh my message to you with an expression of my respect for the concentrated power in this country that you gentlemen represent. The safety of the country lies in the fact that you neutralize each other, and in the growing conviction of the country that truth is not in you but it lies between you. I am not thereby consigning you all to an Ananias club, however strong your desire for close association under some banner, but I am explaining to you how each one of you saves the country from the rest. I shall stop now in order to avoid any fancied explosion of my boom, for I wish to give no one of my supporters any excuse for rating me as a dissolving view and kissing me a farewell with sweet compliment.

"My dear fellow craftsmen, engaged with me in uplifting society at so much per, good night; pax vobiscum."

Premier Borden of Canada spoke over the long distance telephone from Hot Springs, Virginia. He spoke on the responsibility and opportunities of the uncorrupted press and expressed the hope that Great Britain and America would always unite in a common effort to attain the highest standards of civilization.

TAKE COMMAND FROM CAPTAIN

Officers of Mount Temple Considered Advisability of Deposing Captain to Aid Titanic.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

STRATHCONA, Alta., April 25.—What may amount to be a very serious charge against Captain Moore of the C. P. R. liner Mount Temple, which passed close to the Titanic during the four hours preceding the ill-fated steamer's sinking, is contained in a statement made here this morning by E. W. Zurich, who crossed from Antwerp on the Mount Temple. According to Mr. Zurich, passengers heard of the Titanic's distress at 12:51 o'clock Monday morning when the wireless call for help was caught.

Captain Moore altered the course of his vessel at once and headed for the Titanic, lifeboats being swung from the davits meanwhile and other preparations made for lending assistance. The northern course was not held long, however, says Mr. Zurich because of great fields of ice looming up ahead. It was reported among the crew and passengers that Captain Moore refused to make further efforts to penetrate the floes, asserting that he could not afford to take risks of endangering the 2,000 souls aboard his ship.

The statement of Dr. Quiterau to the effect that passengers and crew believed they could see the lights of the unfortunate Titanic is borne out by Mr. Zurich. With two companions he disobeyed the captain's orders, which forbade passengers entrance to the upper deck at the time. He is fairly positive that they saw the masts of the Titanic and is not ready to accept the assertion that their ship was at least 40 miles from the wrecked liner at the time. At any rate, he said, the Mount Temple might have reached the spot before the Titanic sank and this opinion seems to have been entertained by others on board. In fact, says Mr. Zurich, is was rumored among the crew that the ship's officers had even discussed the advisability of taking temporary command from the captain and making an effort to answer the wireless calls for help which were being received. Their vessel sighted the Carpathia next morning and they kept in touch with wireless communication to land and were conversant with the whole story of the wreck even hearing that Captain Smith and two officers had shot themselves. Where this information came from out of the Atlantic adds mystery to the already most peculiar circumstances surrounding the first wireless reports of the disaster.

MUCH LAND PLANTED AT MIRROR LAKE

(Special to The Daily News.)

MIRROR LAKE, B. C., April 25.—G. B. Mathew and J. H. Stubbs were here on business connected with the ss. International.

William Wilson of the Kootenay Ice & Fuel Co., of Nelson, spent a day here last week.

Howe Fillmore has returned to his ranch at Twin Bay after spending the winter in Idaho.

John Archer has opened up work with a gang of men on the government road between the Gravenstein ranch and Fletcher creek.

The "Read' 'extension of the Kaslo & Mirror Lake railroad is now nearing completion, under the direction of Eston Leet. As soon as this is finished Mr. Leet will open up his camp at Twin Bay. From that point the government road to Woodbury creek will be rushed to completion this summer if possible.

A. T. Davis spent most of last week in Spokane under treatment for his eyes, with Dr. Veasey.

Andrew Leet and A. J. Curle are both making extensive additions to their clearings on the Kaslo-Mirror Lake road. Mr. Curle will have his land nearly all planted in a few days. This, with what was planted last year, will make a splendid orchard in a few years, and Mr. Leet's orchard will not be far behind it.

Quite a large amount of new planting of apples, cherries and strawberries has been made here this year. Messrs. Milton, Jekill, Read and Link have all made large plantings of strawberries, while almost all of the ranchers have added some apples and cherries to their original plantation.

PROCTOR NOTES

(Special to The Daily News.)

PROCTOR, B. C., April 25.—Howard Swain sold the largest half of his estate in Proctor to G. C. Bagly of Vancouver. It comprises a nice ranch, orchard and house.

Mr. Evans of Sunshine Bay completed the sale of his ranch last week and intends leaving shortly for the coast.

The government crews are all busy. One under A. A. Ballard on the road between Proctor and Harrop, one on the Narrows creek, and one under Clarence Ogilvie upon the other side of the river.

The water gauge indicates a rise of over four feet since the first of the month, or at the rate of two inches per day.

Dr. J. T. Ferguson, D. D., paid a visit to Proctor this week in connection with church work.

Rev. Thompson T. Reekie was a visitor here on his return to Kaslo from Cranbrook.

DELAYED PROSECUTION OF HARVESTER COMPANY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Correspondence relative to the proposed dissolution of the International Harvester company, forwarded to the senate yesterday by Attorney General Wickersham, contains a letter written on August 22, 1907, by President Roosevelt to Attorney General Bonaparte, directing the attorney general not to begin a suit for the dissolution of the corporation under the Sherman law until he had been advised further by the president.

"SHUT UP" WAS REPLY TO BIRMA

Offered to Assist Carpathia, But Given no Word of Thanks—Different Wireless.

LONDON, April 25.—The British press is carefuly refraining from any word of comment on the evidence given before the senatorial committee in Washington, all of which is published in the fullest detail and eagerly read and discussed. The interest of the general public is becoming more intense as a result of the testimony. It had been expected that the British inquiry would open in London next Monday or Tuesday as soon as the first batch of survivors arrived on board the Lapland, but it is now considered possible that the attention of the witnesses in Washington may delay the inquiry here. The anxiety of the public for a most searching inquiry increases hourly with the extraordinary evidence submitted already.

A deep impression has been produced by the unexpected revelation of the possibility that all the Titanic's living freight might have been saved had the Californian, Parision and perhaps other boats in the vicinity had efficient and continuous wireless service. This revelation is likely to lead to a strong agitation in favor of placing more wireless operators on every ship.

Rivalry in Wireless.

In this connection an extended story of the steamship Birma's experience is published in the Daily Telegraph, which makes strong complaint that after heroic efforts to reach the scene of the disaster and the most elaborate preparations aboard to receive and succor the expected survivors, and being asked by the Carpathia to "stand by" when the Birma proceeded to offer provisions to the Carpathia, the latter's only wireless reply was "shut up." The Carpathia, according to the story, subsequently steamed away without a word of thanks and refused to give a word of information of any kind. The writer explains that this was due to the fact that the Birma was provided wih a different wireless system than the Carpathia.

Investigators Ignorant.

The Times, in an editorial, concedes that the American inquiry has had a good effect in hastening the inquiry in England by overcoming official lethargy, but adds that to the question as to whether the Washington inquiry is of the kind best calculated to attain knowledge and enable all nations to apply thorough-going remedies, it must frankly be said that sober opinion in England answers the question in the negative. The editorial proceeds to accuse the American investigators of remarkable ignorance of everything pertaining to nautical affairs and of a seeming impulse to find and punish the scapegoat rather than of a desire to discover the weak points of a system and apply fitting remedies.

"Americans," says the Times, "cannot fail to appreciate the feeling in England that the Titanic was a British ship, flying the British flag, and that the accident happened on the high seas and not in American waters, and finally, the investigation of personal conduct and responsibility therefore belongs to the duly constituted British courts. Parliament naturally will object when the inquiry tends to enter the sphere in which British legislation ought to be supreme."

SOUP KITCHEN IS REPLENISHED

Negro Member of Industrial Workers Gets Six Months for Vagrancy —Police Active

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

YALE, B.C., April 25—Under the stimulus given by the committment to the assizes yesterday of Edward Collins, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, on a charge of participating in an unlawful assembly, Provincial Constable last night arrested Charles Nelson, secretary of the I.W.W. here on the same charge. District Organizer Hyde, who arrived last night, has temporarily assumed Nelson's duties. He addressed over 100 strikers last night and told of collecting $2,200 in aid of the strike. The soup kitchen which has been very bare for several days, was replenished and the bread line had a gist of baked bread.

Six Months for Negro

The sensation of the day in court was the sentence to six months with hard labor given John Peterson, a negro member of the I.W.W. on a charge of vagrancy. Magistrate Webber after sentencing the prisoner, issued a sweeping order to the officers to gather in all persons found wandering without visible means of support. This order may result in sensational developments within the next few days.

Luke Mendico, a Montenegrin leader of the raiding party who cleaned out five camps on April 13 and 14, was also committed for trial and left for Westminster shackled to Collins and in company with the negro, an insane man and two officers.

Move to Ashcroft

Six prisoners remain to be tried on the charge of intimidation. After disposing of these cases the court will remove to Ashcroft to try 47 cases there. In all probability Secretary Nelson will be remanded until after the disposal of the Ashcroft cases. Martin Welch, the contractor, stated last night that every station man on his work has made over $3 per day and most of them at least $150 a month, clear of all expenses.

REFERENCE IN BIG CASE ADJOURNED

Paulson vs. Hathaway Case, Concerning Much Valuable Land Near Creston, Not Yet Settled.

On the ground advanced by James O'Shea, for the plaintiffs, that the exhibits in the case had been praeciped, sent to Vancouver and had since been unobtainable, T. M. Bowman, registrar of the supreme court, yesterday granted an adjournment of the reference in the suit Paulson vs. Hathaway. Costs in the application were allowed the defendants.

For the defendants R. S. Lennie put up a vigorous fight against the application for an adjournment and stated that the action was held in May, 1909, the appeal was heard in the fall of the same year, the judgment of the court of appeal was settled very shortly afterward and from that time until the present the defendants had been anxious to proceed with the reference, the conduct of which was with the plaintiff under the judgment.

He declared that the plaintiff had taken no steps to have the reference proceeded with although the property concerned comprised some 6,000 acres of land near Creston, estimated to be worth from $100 to $250 per acre. The defendants were prevented from doing anything with the land as the plaintiff under the order of Mr. Justice Martin had been practically appointed a receiver. He had the management and control of the property and Mr. Lennie contended that he, Mr. Paulson, had attempted to get the accounts passed in the absence of the defendants while they were on a trip to Honolulu. The date of the reference yesterday had been peremptorily set and Mr. Hathaway had come from San Francisco at great expense.

Mr. O'Shea regarding the exhibits said that they were ledgers and original vouchers and that he could not have copies of them.

The registrar pointed out that if he allowed the reference to go on he would have evidence from the defendant only and none from the plaintiff and decided to adjourn the hearing, to take place at Vancouver at a date to be set.

GOOD LUCK SAVED CALGARY STATION

Dynamite in Dangerous Condition Found by Policeman in Stray Grip.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, April 25.—Just what portion of the Canadian Pacific depot would have been in ruins this morning and how many lives would have been sacrificed if a professional baggage wrecker instead of a policeman had removed a grip that lay in the centre of the waiting room floor yesterday afternoon will never be known. Unprotected in the grip lay two big sticks of dynamite, greasy and in the most dangerous condition possible. As it was, only miraculous luck prevented an explosion.

In a few minutes a young man who spoke bad English and claimed the name of Nickola Adoriski, confronted the officer and told him that his grip had been stolen. He was taken below and identified the valise which held the explosive as his. In the grip was also a towel and some soap that had been stolen from the company.

Nickola was summarily arrested and the dynamite was taken off to police headquarters. This morning Nickola claimed that he bought the towel and that he found the dynamite and caps and fuses beside the railway track near Field. He claimed that he did not know what dynamite was.

UNITED STATES CIVILIZATION IS NOW ON TRIAL

LONDON, April 26—The public continues to make liberal contributions to the relief funds of the sufferers from the Titanic disaster. The Mansion House fund has reached $720,000. The Daily Mail, $150,000. The Daily Telegraph $100,000, and other funds are growing in proportion.

Several morning papers severely attack the American inquiry. The Standard hopes that there will be a speedy termination of the investigation at Washington. Senator Smith it says, "is rather less qualified for such a task, than any individual picked up in an American street car."

The Morning Post says: "A school boy would blush at Senator Smith's ignorance," and adds "Honest Americans will feel with shame that not merely the White Star company but American civilization is on trial."

OLYMPIC IS STILL DELAYED

Strikers Satisfied With Seaworthiness of Boats But Demand Dismissal of Non-Strikers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SOUTHAMPTON, April 25.—The White Star steamship Olympic, the firemen of which went on strike yesterday, has been obliged to spend another day and night off Ryde, Isle of Wight, the passengers aboard amusing themselves with kite flying and other pastimes.

The strikers were satisfied today of the seaworthiness of the Berthon boats by a practical demonstration but they demanded that the company should dismiss the firemen that had remained aboard when the strikers quit the ship. The company refused to do this and the strikers will meet tomorrow to decide whether they will return the Olympic.

Meanwhile the company has secured 250 firemen from Sheffield and others from Liverpool and Portsmouth and there is expectation that the steamer will sail at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

STATEMENTS DISTORTED

BERLIN, April 25.—Phillip Heineken, managing director of the North German Lloyd, today published an appeal asking the public to suspend judgement on the Titanic disaster until the Anglo-American investigation have been finished. He asks the public to disregard the reports received from America which are unbelievable and contradictory. He utters a warning particularly against accepting the statements of passengers which he says, are distorted under the influence of strong emotion. He criticises the press for publishing indiscriminatedly such reports and quotes with approbation the recommendation of the British admiral, Sir Arthur Cyprian Bridge, to improve the bulkhead system rather than to increase the number of lifeboats.

FINANCIAL AID FOR SETTLERS

The recently instituted Natural Resources Branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway company has already demonstrated in a marked manner its usefulness, not only to the company but also to Canada as a whole. One of the latest evidences of this is furnished by the plan which has been adopted of advancing money to settlers on the prairies. The idea, briefly, is that to anyone living on a rented farm, who is married, has certain possessions consisting of household furnishings, livestock, etc., and who purchases a quarter section or more of the Canadian Pacific land grant, paying one-tenth of the purchase price in cash, the company through its Natural Resources branch will lend $2,000 for the erection of buildings, the planting of his first crop, etc. This money will be repayable, with interest, in annual instalments made at the same time as the deferred payments on the purchase price of the land; in other words, the situation, practically, is that any experienced married tenant farmer who possesses certain means is placed in a position which, under ordinary circumstances, enables him to become a landed proprietor and thus assures to him and his family an early competency.

With one or two good crops a man who takes advantage of this offer of the Canadian Pacific Railway company should find himself in a position such as he could not attain through many years of tenant farming. No one will appreciate this offer more than those for whose benefit it was made, whether they be tenant farmers in Canada, the United States, the Old Country or any other part of the world. The result should be the rapid settlement of the Canadian Pacific Railway company's lands in Alberta and Saskatchewan, thus aiding in the development of these provinces and of the Dominion as a whole.

But while it may be that a plan of this kind is particularly adapted to the settlement of prairie lands, there is no reason why a similar arrangement would not prove a most effective means of developing portions of British Columbia, particularly the Kootenay and Boundary districts. A proposal somewhat on the lines of that of the Canadian Pacific Railway company in respect to their prairie lands has been made to the provincial government and The Daily News understands is now under consideration. It is not for The Daily News, or for anyone else to say what policy the government is likely to adopt in this matter, but it can say that the idea is one worth the most careful consideration of the honorable the minister of agriculture at Victoria and his colleagues.

This Date in History.

There will be a great celebration today at Essen, in Westphalia, Germany, in commemoration of the centennial of the birth of Alfred Krupp, the great cannon manufacturer, whose name has become a synonym for death and destruction as exemplified in the modern science of war. How many souls have been hurled into heaven, or elsewhere, by Krupp guns, the statistics do not state, but enough that the Emperor of Germany will today pay tribute to the memory of the man who made the cannon that enabled Prussia and her allies to overwhelm France. The House of Krupp is still the greatest gun manufacturing concern in the world.

Today's celebration at Essen is a joint one, for it was only a short time before Alfred Krupp was born, April 26, 1812, that his father, Frederick Krupp, the inventor of the art of making cast steel, established his little two-man foundry in Essen and laid the foundation of the great structure of today. Frederick Krupp had been a grocer, but was induced to invest his money in a foundry by two brothers named Von Kechel. The experiments of the latter were unsuccessful, and Krupp dissolved the partnership and began experiments on his own account. At length he managed to produce a satisfactory metal, but when he died he left as a heritage to his son only the secrets of his imperfect process of making steel and a small forge that employed two workmen. Alfred Krupp, whose centenary is observed today, was the real inventor of what is now known as the Krupp process, by which steel is cast in large masses. The name of Krupp first became internationally famous during the Franco-Prussian war, the cannon from his foundry proving vastly superior to the guns of the French. Within a short time all the powers of the world became patrons of the Krupp gun factory, and the inventor became about the wealthiest man in Germany, and one of the richest in the world. He repeatedly refused the letters of nobility offered him by the Hohenzollerns, and was still plain Alfred Krupp when he died in 1887. His son, Alfred Krupp, succeeded him, but he too died 10 years ago, broken-hearted, it was said, over terrible charges that had been made against his moral character. The German emperor spoke in defense of Krupp's memory at the funeral.

Members of the Independent Order of Oddfellows throughout North America will celebrate today the ninety-third anniversary of the order. Today is the birthday anniversary of David Hume, in 1711; of Artemus Ward, humorist, in 1834, and of John Clark Ridpath, historian, in 1840.

BANK OF MONTREAL CALGARY'S FISCAL AGENT

CALGARY, Alta., April 25—The Bank of Montreal was appointed fiscal agent of the city at a special meeting of the council this afternoon. The bank agrees to float all debenture issues and to provide the municipality with funds until such times as bonds are negotiated. The same arrangement was had with this bank last year. The bank is to receive 5 per cent on all money advanced.

BENEFIT SMOKER IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

Concert in Aid of R. L. Douglass in the Armory Attended by More Than Four Hundred.

The Armory was filled with between 400 and 500 persons last night at the benefit concert and smoker in aid of R. L. Douglass, quartermaster sergeant of the Rocky Mountain Rangers, who has been confined to the hospital for the last three months. Nearly $300 was realized from the smoker, which was said by all present to be a pronounced success.

The smoker was under the auspices of the 102d regiment, the Legion of Frontiersmen and the Veterans' Brigade. C. G. Broadwood of the Legion of Frontiersmen occupied the chair.

Soon after the doors were opened the hall was filled to its capacity with men who wished to do something for their comrade, and all through the evening "standing room only" was the only accommodation in evidence.

The program was long and varied. It included numbers from William Mills, E. H. Smith, Mr. Vance, A. J. Cornish, E. Lupton, Leslie Crauford, C. R. Waller and D. O. Thomas; violin and piano duet, Messrs. Lupton and Cheshire; bagpipe selection, D. MacCleary, and Messrs. Cornish and Lupton, vocal duet. B. G. Morey was accompanist.

Three three-round boxing bouts were pulled off during the evening and were well received. The first was between J. Berry and H. Wilson, with J. Holland as referee. Some good samples of the pugilistic art were seen in this encounter and it was hard to decide which got the best of it. By common consent the points were equally divided. Berry later gave a novel exhibition of skipping.

J. E. Mills and Fred Robinson made a second pair of boxers and had some lively tilts. Joe Holland and Albert Thomas appeared later and were well matched. A raffle for the value of a photograph at one of the city studios lent some excitement toward the close of the evening and finally C. Grizzelle was a winner.

The different organizations in charge of the smoker were represented by Lieut. G. C. Mackay and Lieut. E. Robinson, 102d regiment; Captain and Officer Commanding W. Holmes and Lieut. C. Sutcliffe and Lieut. A. Bennett, Veterans' Brigade, and C. G. Broadwood, D. O. Thomas, R. W. Hinton and Leslie Crauford, Legion of Frontiersmen.

VIENNESE INVESTS IN FRUIT FARM

Frederick Smith Buys Tract on South Shore Because of Beauty of Kootenay.

Frederick Smith, formerly of Vienna, Austria, has bought from D. A. Boyd of Proctor two parcels of land, 5½ and 7½ acres in extent respectively, on the south side of the west arm and intends to develop them as a fruit farm. The sale was put through by Toye & Toye.

Mr. Smith bought this land as a result of correspondence while he was in Europe and when he came to the Kootenay district he decided to live here for its beauty. He says that it is more beautiful than Switzerland even, with which he is quite familiar.

The land just sold is part of Mr. Boyd's original holdings of 160 acres. This is the third piece to be sold after it was subdivided in the past month.

ORATORS DESCEND UPON CALGARY

Civic Officials Not Alarmed by Threatened Increase of Population—No Street Speaking

CALGARY, Alta., April 25—"If Calgary will not allow free speech on her streets, we will have 6,000 men there before the end of the month." The man who carries this story is Frank Hill, who arrived from Lytton, B.C. this morning. Hill called and had a seance with Mayor Mitchell and Chief of Police Cuddy. So far as is recorded neither of the city officials fell on the neck of the visitor.

The advice which was given to him was that they should secure a hall or vacant lot and hold their meetings there. The mayor was strongly opposed to crowds gathering on the street corners, so he advised that the meetings be held on vacant lots, in a park or a hall.

Chief Cuddy also had a conference with Hill and the officer stated that there would be no meetings allowed on the streets. He also suggested renting a hall or using some vacant property.

Hill is accompanied by 14 others of the brethren, eight of them speakers from away back, Hill declares, and there are five of them that can take the stump or soapbox.

HOUSE OF LORDS DEBATES ENQUIRY

Minister Says Senate Has Not Violated International Law—Makes New Precedent

LONDON, April 25—The house of lords took its turn this evening in questioning the government on the subject of the senatorial inquiry at Washington into the Titanic disaster.

Earl Stanhope remarked that the inquiry seemed to have only two grounds of justification. The first was that the steamship company concerned was not altogether British but partly American. If that were so it would obviously create a very extraordinary situation because it struck at the root of the position of the mercantile marine in time of war as to whether the vessel belonged to a neutral or a belligerent power. The only other ground was based on the terrible loss of life. If that were given as a reason for the inquiry at Washington, obviously other nations whose citizens were passengers on board the Titanic would be justified in holding similar inquiries. Earl Stanhope said that he could imagine nothing more terrible to the survivors than attendance at a series of inquiries in different countries. He was anxious to know whether the evidence given before the senatorial committee would be admissible at the inquiry here and expressed the opinion that evidence given at the first investigation was of course far more valuable and dependable than evidence given on a later occasion. He considered that unless the evidence given in the United States were admitted at the inquiry in this country Great Britain would obviously be penalized.

Feeling in England

Earl Stanhope agreed that the American inquiry could be left to the good sense of the American people. The international relations between this country and the United States, he said were so friendly that no international question could possibly arise. There existed, however, he said, a certain amount of feeling in this country on the subject of the American enquiry although it was not so strong or forcibly worded as would have been the feeling in America if the Titanic had been an American ship and Great Britain were holding an inquiry concerning American citizens.

Earl Stanhope feared that there was danger of a precedent being set up and should some other power with which Great Britain's relations were not so friendly, attempt to detain British citizens under similar circumstances it might become serious.

No Violation of Law

Viscount Morley of Blackburn, lord president of the council, on behalf of the government, said: "There is no doubt that any state may institute an inquiry about the wreck of a foreign vessel in which the lives of its own people have been lost without any departure from international law, although we are not aware of any such case having arisen heretofore. Communications have not been addressed on the subject to the government of the United States nor have any been received from any other power by us."

Lord Morley pointed out that all the evidence given in the United States would be available at Lord Mersey's inquiry and continued: "As to the detention of witnesses powers of that kind existed in most countries, but it is obvious that where such powers exist they should be exercised with full consideration for the witnesses themselves and the necessities of any inquiry at home. We cannot and do not suppose that the committee of the senate will overlook that necessity." Lord Morley deprecated discussion, saying that it would premature and would do no good, whereas it might be prejudicial.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, leader of the opposition, said he quite approved of the American inquiry, although he admitted that it was unusual. The circumstances he pointed out were wholly unparalleled and continued: "America has the right of insisting on a prompt inquiry into the loss of the Titanic as it is clear there are better chances of obtaining trustworthy accounts while the events are still recent."

CALGARY SCHOOL BOARD TO ISSUE DEBENTURES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, April 25.—The school board decided today to issue 40-year 4½ per cent debentures to the amount of $975,000, to be expended this year in the erection of new schools and the purchase of sites. Six new buildings will be erected at a cost of $800,000 and six new sites purchased, costing $175,000. The new buildings will add 70 rooms to the present school accommodation. One school of 18 rooms will cost $175,000. The others will be of 12 rooms. All buildings will be of Calgary sandstone, uniform with other schools. Every school in the city is overcrowded and every new school will be occupied as soon as completed.

FRICTION AT OTTAWA

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, April 25.—When the commission investigating the law branch of the house of commons finishes its work there will likely be important reforms calculated to remove the friction which has existed and which is said to have gone so far that certain people in the branch proposed to arm themselves with revolvers. The head of the branch is Major A. H. O'Brien, and his assistants are Dr. J. K. Foran, A. G. Troop and Mr. Loucks. While the story of armed hostility is treated rather jokingly there is no question of strained relations. Speaker Sproule regarded the tangle as necessitating the advice of experts and so W. D. Hogg and Prof. Adam Shortt were sent to investigate. They have not reported as yet.

Accommodation to be Nearly Doubled in Anticipation of Increased Activities from Railroad Work

Directly the C.P.R. announces that it will commence the construction work that will be necessary in connection with the standardization of the Kaslo & Slocan railroad, the building of a new wing to the Kaslo hospital will be proceeded with.

W. V. Papworth, secretary-treasurer of the hospital, made this announcement at the Hume yesterday. The addition will be utilized to accommodate the nurses, doctor and other members of the hospital staff who at present are quartered in the main building.

The new wing will thus permit the present building to be used entirely for patients and the present accommodation of 15 beds will be increased to 25 beds, said Mr. Papworth.

MICHIGAN SENATOR IN LIMELIGHT

Senator Smith Has Impression That Icebergs Are Composed of Rock —Queer Questions.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, April 25.—Chairman Smith's conduct of the Titanic investigation is again the subject of special despatches to some of the morning papers. The Daily Express describes the "backwoods man from Michigan" as "basking in the limelight."

The Daily Telegraph gives the following report of the part of the proceedings when Fifth Officer Lowe was under examination:

"You knew you were off the banks of Newfoundland?" queried Senator Smith, slowly and solemnly. "We did," said the witness, laconically.

"And the fact that you knew you were off the banks of Newfoundland did not impress you?" said Senator Smith, in tones of great surprise. "Not a bit,' replied the officer.

The witness would not even commit himself to the statement that he knew the ship was in the vicinity of the ice district, and said later, rather apologetically, "You see, sir, this was my first trip across the North Atlantic."

"Have you seen or heard about ice anywhere?" thundered Senator Smith. "Why, yes," replied the witness, calmly, "I've seen it off Cape Horn."

"Where do icebergs come from?" queried Mr. Smith. "From the Arctic and Antarctic regions," replied the imperturable officer.

"How do you know?" rejoined the chairman "I read about it at school," said the witness.

The next question convulsed the audience with laughter. "Now, Mr. Lowe," said Senator Smith, "of what is an iceberg composed?" The chairman evidently had some inside knowledge up his sleeve and the ribald merriment evidently aroused him. "Don't let us have confusion," shouted the chairman, "and above all, I won't tolerate any demonstration." Then he proceeded: "Don't you know, Mr. Lowe, that an iceberg consists of rock, earth and other substances?" Mr. Lowe confessed that the information was new to him and added: "There is a general impression that it is entirely of ice."

The whole tone of the Telegraph's report, which occupied four columns, is calculated to put the senate inquiry in an unfavorable light.

TEARS SHED AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Whole Congregation Profoundly Affected at Solemn Tribute to Railway President

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, April 25—A most impressive memorial to the late C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk railway, was held in the American Presbyterian church today, when the edifice was crowded with a congregation including citizens of all ranks.

Five special cars came down from Toronto any many people arrived from other cities also. The service was the most profoundly affecting one ever held in Montreal and long before the close practically the whole congregation was in tears.

The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Johnston, assisted by Rev. Dr. McWilliams, Archdeacon Kerr and Principal Peterson. The Dead March in Saul, Chopin's Marche Funebre and other solemn music was played and the hymns sung included the favorites of Mr. Hays. Dr. McWilliams, who knew Mr. Hays intimately, delivered the address in which he eulogized the deceased as a man of singularly fine character and a great simplicity and purity of life, whose loss was a calamity to Canada.

The five minute period of mourning when all traffic was at a standstill was observed here as in all other parts of the system.

SCORES OF STEERAGE PASSENGERS DROWNED

(Western Associated Press.)

WINNIPEG, April 25—That scores of steerage passengers, including women and children were drowned like rats on the lower decks because they had been assured by the ship's officers that the Titanic was in no immediate danger, is the statement made here today by Ole Knorman and J. M. Northless of Burneng, Norway, who were among them. Both men were on their way to Edmonton, near which Knorman had a farm for three years. When the shock occurred the steerage passengers were much alarmed and rushed to the upper decks in all states of negligee but were there met by the officers who partly by persuasion and partly by threats, accompanied by revolver shots into the air, herded them back below decks. A resolute handful including Knorman stood their ground and were saved.

BANKER WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS

(Special to The Daily News.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 25.—Although ordered to be extradited to Idaho to face a charge of signing false balance sheets of the State Bank of Commerce of Wallace, strong efforts are to be made by S. S. Taylor to prevent Bernard F. O'Neil, ex-banker, from being extradited by United States officers. O'Neil's counsel has filed with the supreme court an application for a writ of habeas corpus, also an application for certiorari proceedings. The applications are to be heard probably by the supreme court tomorrow.

THINK STEAD'S BODY RECOVERED

Error in Wireless Probably Led to Incorrect Name Being Received —Interesting Theory.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, April 25.—That the body of W. T. Stead, the English journalist and author, has been recovered by the Mackay Bennett, but through a freakish error in wireless transmission the name of another was reported to the White Star line offices in New York, was one of the theories of a person familiar with the Morse code or alphabet yesterday.

The only flaw that might be picked in this theory is the fact that the middle initial of Mr. Stead does not appear in the name that is believed to have been intended for that of the noted journalist. The name that was received at the steamship offices and which is believed now to have been intended by the wireless operator on the Mackay Bennett for "W. T. Stead" was received by the land operator as "W. Vear." Operators who are not in constant practice lose a bit of the ordinary hand motion of a hard worked telegrapher; they make what is called in the telegraphic profession "combinations."

For instance, the letter "V" is a combination of the letters "st"; one that would be readily mistaken by even an expert operator, unless he could follow the context of the message. The letter "e" is self-evident, as is also the letter "a." The letters "d" and "r" are similar in this respect; "d" is a dash and two dots, while "r" is the dot, space, two dots. It is well known to telegraphers that a heavy-handed operator often lingers too long on his dots before the space in the letter "r," thereby making a perfect dash, which would mean a "d," and vice versa some operators make the dash in the letter "d" too short, so that it is read for a dot, which in this case would give "r."

The following diagram giving the above deduction as it would be given over the wires by use of the Morse tells its own story and shows the plausibility of the theory referred to:

W. T. Stead
.-- ...-..- -..
W. Vear
.11 ...-..- ..

The fact that no such person as "Vear" was known to be on the Titanic and remembering the number of names of survivors on the Carpathia in which the wireless men made errors the theory seems probable.

LONDON HONORS DEAD PRESIDENT

(Canadian Associated Press.)

Hays. The congregation included Earl Grey, A. W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk, Sir E. M. Jackson, Sir Felix Schuster, Lord Welby, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir T. Skinner, F. C. Water, C. McL. Brown, E. Williams Taylor Hon. L. Guest, Sir W. White Hon. I. J. Turner, W. L. Griffiths, J. Obed Smith, C. F. Just, Sir E. Coates, J. Smithers, H. Deer, Col. Sir E. Brace; J. H. Hastam, Regina, F. W. Stobart, Winnipeg, Major Beny, David Drummond, N. P. Colcock, W. P. Bull, W. H. Wordman, representing the White Star line, Sir W. Oster, Capt. Hanson and Hon. Maud Pauncefote. The service opened with sentences taken from the Anglican burial services, the full choir being present and the hymns including "Now the Laborers' Task."

The vicar, Rev. Donald Bayne, in a brief address sketched Mr. Hays' character, alluding to his enterprise, which had brought the Grand Trunk railway to its present position and incidentally mentioned that Rev. E. E. Carter, whose predecessor the speaker was in Whitechapel parish, had also perished in the wreck. All the London employees of the Grand Trunk railway attended the service, the offices being closed for the afternoon.

MARKETS

VEGETABLES ARE COMING IN LATE

Prices Are Higher Than at This Time Last Year—Meat Prices Are Somewhat Lower

The local market yesterday was almost unchanged from last week, the only variations in prices being in creamery butter, tomatoes and apples. The meat prices were unchanged.

The vegetable market is slightly later than last year and for this reason prices have no had their usual drop at this season. Until local product comes in there will be no fluctuation.

The meat prices this year are slightly easier than last year, which was exceptionally high owing to the hard winter on the prairies, but this year promises to have no such scarcity.

ON WALL STREET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Trading on the stock exchange today was characterized by relative backwardness in the leading issues, but this was largely offset by further activity and higher prices for many specialties. Reading was about the only one of the speculative favorites to show more than a fair degree of strength and animation, rallying up to 170¼, its highest since 1909, and leaving all other stocks far behind in volume of dealings.

Over a score of issues embracing the industrial equipment and metal or copper shares took part in today's movement, foremost being American Can, common, in which the manipulation of recent weeks was resumed on a very extensive scale. The stock rose to 39½, as against 37 in the early part of the month.

Peoples Gas rose 5 points on a favorable court decision in Illinois.

Total sales, par value, $2,179,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT TURNS OUT IN GOOD CONDITION

Stood Out all Winter and in as Good Condition as if Threshed Last Fall

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Alta., April 25—Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, who returned from Claresholm last night, speaks very optimistically about the crop prospects in Alberta this year. Winter wheat in the southern part of the province, he says, has come through the winter in splendid shape and is growing nicely. Seeding is well forward all over the province and the land is working up very well. While in the southern part of the province Mr. Marshall saw a number of threshing machines working and stood beside some of them. The wheat has stood out all winter in the stook and is threshing out in first class condition and is just as good as if it had been threshed last fall. Owing to the delayed threshing in many districts last fall, not much plowing was done and Mr. Marshall said as a result the farmers were showing too much tendency to drill in their spring wheat on the stubble. Provided there is lots of moisture this season the crops on stubble will probably turn out well, but stubble cropping will not give the wheat as good a chance in case the summer is a dry one.

UNIVERSITY PRESENTS CITY WITH SPACIOUS PARK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Alta., April 25—On condition that the property be kept up by the city as park lands, the governors of the University of Alberta are planning to turn over to the city all that portion of the university grounds from the brow of the river bank to the water edge. One of the conditions on which th's will be done, it is understood, is that the bylaw giving the city the right to purchase the golf links from the Hudson's Bay Co. is carried. If this bylaw, to be voted on May 7, passes, and there is every reason to believe that it will, the city will have an immense park centrally located. It will stretch from hillside to hillside on opposite sides of the river and if the property at present owned by the university is presented to the city, will contain over 200 acres of land, the most of which is wooded.

Mrs. Devorkin shot Horovitz, trailing him here from her Massachusetts home. She charged that Horovitz had known her as a girl and that on stories growing from the friendship her husband had divorced her, according to the Jewish rite. Since the tragedy the woman has given birth to a baby boy, now about two months old.

All those participating in the gymnastic displays this evening have worked hard to make the exhibition an entire success, and the officials of the Y.M.C.A. cordially invite all friends of the association to come and witness what has been accomplished in the work of the physical department during the winter season. AT THE THEATRE

At the Starland will be shown many subjects that will be sure to please. What little book is kept weighted with lead? What is the most jealously guarded volume in the world? What volume, through the weight of the very lead aforementioned, may be cast overboard when capture threatens, and hence speedily and easily sunk? Why, none other than the naval signal code book, and it is of this book that a new film called "The Signal Code" treats. A whole fleet of battleships was employed for it. The code book is stolen from a young officer by a young woman in the employ of a foreign nation. "In the Northern Woods" is a melodrama of love and rivalry among the lumberjacks in the north woods. The picture is well acted and very interesting. "The Will of Providence" is a comedy drama dealing with the adventures of a miser's hoard. The old man before he died sewed his money in the lining of his coat with a note leaving the money to the one who chanced to find it.

"A Red Cross Martyr" or "On The Firing Line of Tripoli," is one of the celebrated Vitograph company's notable features. Its scenes are laid in Tripoli; one would pick them out as Vitograph scenes anywhere; they having the same quality as that which made the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" a fine picture. The picture is a large one containing cavalry, infantry, artillery, etc., and also large numbers of Arabs full of stirring heart interest and great battle scenes. Other subjects included in the program are "True to His Duty" and "Erratic Power," English subjects, and "Pathe's Weekly," which portrays many items of interest.

SHUDDERS TO THINK OF NARROW ESCAPE

J. E. Taylor Might Have Sailed on Titanic—Delighted With Old Country Roads

"Canada is becoming more and more a field for both immigration and capital from Britain," said John E. Taylor who returned from a three months trip to the old country along with Alex. Cheyne, on Tuesday evening. The interest taken in this country, according to Mr. Taylor is increasing every year.

Mr. Taylor came within an ace of returning by the ill-fated Titanic and in fact passed through the very ice fields in which the liner sank. He was in New York when the news of the disaster was received.

"We left Nelson on Jan. 21," said Mr Taylor, "and stayed at Calgary Winnipeg and St. Paul before embarking on the Celtic at New York on Feb. 1 We landed at Liverpool on Feb. 10 and almost immediately went to Glasgow. We only stayed there a short time but before we left, we inspected the street car system, which is reckoned one of the best. I thought, however, that the cars of Aberdeen which we visited next, were the cleanest and most up to date of any in the old country although they cannot be compared with the cars used in America because of their different style.

"From Aberdeen we went north to Inchgreen, the home of Mr. Cheyne's father and mother, seven miles from the village of Maud. We put in three weeks on the extensive homestead. Mr. Cheyne, Sr., is one of the best known cattle breeders in the county, his specialty being Polled Angus.

"We next visited Edinburgh and struck south to Sunderland and Newcastle, at each of which places we saw all the sights that were available to tourists. We stayed in London ten days inspecting the tube system while there. Another visit to Aberdeen finished out trip as far as the old country was concerned and we sailed on the Carmania on April 6.

"I shudder when I think how near we came to sailing on the Titanic. We had booked to sail on the Lusitania on March 30 but she was unable to get into drydock after a delay of a week. They finally cancelled her altogether and we thought of booking by another boat. Then they put on the Carmania in her place but if the Titanic had been sailing before April 6 I am sure we would have gone by it.

"We came home by New York, Buffalo and Hamilton, where I stayed at my former home for a few days. While in Calgary I met R. A. Brown, former city electrician in Nelson. He now has a force of 380 men working under him.

"You ask me what my impressions of the old land are? It is certainly a beautiful country. In its class, I don't think there is one that can compare with it. They have magnificent roads there such as are unknown on this continent. It is possible to motor for miles through a delightful country and I can think of no more enjoyable pastime.

"The people there are kind and they seem to take more out of life than we Canadian do. They go in for enjoyment more and their home life seems to be the backbone of the nation.

"We enjoyed the fine buildings there likewise the quaint streets and the picturesque historical spots. In fact I came away with the impression that I could do with another year to spend in England and Scotland, and I wanted to go back again right away.

"The roadbeds of the railways are much better than in this country and the trains run much more smoothly than here but that comes with age. But I like the railway cars here better than the little ones used in the old country. Level crossings on the railway are besides unknown there and consequently accidents from that cause are unheard of.

"Everybody you met in England asked you for information about Canada. They were thirsty for it. The Canadian government building is beseiged with enquiries.

"I saw the British Columbia exhibit in Salisbury House and Nelson and Kootenay advertising in a prominent place. There is a picture of the city of Nelson at the entrance measuring nine feet by two feet. The only difficulty, I was told, was that there was not enough advertising matter of Nelson and vicinity, so fast had it been grasped.

"I have no doubt that the tide of immigration will increase and that the money that flows into this country will also increase. Investors are looking more than ever to Canada but they want a sure thing and they are beginning to realize that Canada has everything they want in the way of inducements. Australia is spending much in attracting the immigrant with the result that it is now cheaper to go to Australia than to Canada but Canada offers more to the wage earner and she is holding her own.

"Of course I am glad to get back to Nelson again and I come back more than ever decided that there is no prettier place under the sun, with equal improvements as Nelson has. We have got the natural location for a fine city and it only needs the developing."

How Build Today To Replace the Worn-out Parts of Yesterday?

Each day thinkers use up cells of the Brain.

Each day active workers destroy cells in the nerve centres.

If the food lacks the things Nature demands for rebuilding, Nervous Prostration and Brain-fag result.

Suppose a bricklayer tried to build a wall and the boss furnished brick, sand and water, but left out the lime?

Suppose you eat plenty of albumin and take sufficient water, but neglect food which contains Phosphate of Potash?

Nature cannot rebuild gray matter in nerve centres and brain without, Phosphate of Potash which binds together albumin and water to make it.

Phosphate of Potash, as grown in the grains by Nature, is more than half the mineral salts in Grape-Nuts

PLAN RESIDENTIAL CLUB FOR GIRLS

Advantages of Home Life with Opportunities to Learn Domestic Science Will be Provided

To provide a residential club for girls in Nelson is the object of a movement which has grown out of the Young Woman's association, an undenominational organization formed last winter through the efforts of Mrs. E. S. Logie and which has met with unqualified success.

It is planned to secure a commodious residence fitted up and furnished very much on club lines. A guarantee for a moderate rate of rental for the building has been secured by Mrs. Logie from the Home Mission board of the Presbyterian church in Toronto in order that the institution may be placed on a sound financial basis at the commencement.

"We intend to provide home life for girls in the city and to arrange for classes in physical culture, home nursing and domestic science in connection with the institution," said Mrs. Logie yesterday.

"So much has been done for the young men of Nelson yet up to the present the young girl who is away from her home people has been neglected. The young man has several places in which he can spend his spare time to advantage but for the young woman very little has been done.

"It's just a home place that we intend to provide—a place where the girls can read, write or have little parties for their girl friends if they wish."

It is intended to ask the women of Nelson to aid in providing the furnishings for the club and with this object in view invitations will be sent out to the various woman's organizations and societies in the city asking their co-operation and sympathy in carrying the project to success. That there will be more than sufficient girls anxious to enjoy the benefits of the club is assured by the applications already received by Mrs. Logie. The institution will be entirely undenominational.

NELSON BUILDINGS IMPRESS MINISTER

Hon. Thomas Taylor Sees, in Substantial Construction, Work Worthy of Capital of Kootenays.

"Nothing in my opinion could be a more sure indication of the rapid growth of the city of Nelson than the large amount of building operations which are at present in progress—and I am still more pleased to notice that the structures in course of erection are to be of a permanent character. It seems that the day of frame business buildings is at an end and that the city is about to assume that metropolitan appearance which should be a characteristic of the capital of the Kootenays," said Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, who last night paid the city a flying visit and was shown by T. M. Bowman some of the building work that is being carried on here.

Mr. Taylor is on a short tour of inspection of some of the chief points of the interior and is delighted with the start that has been made in the improvement to the roads throughout the province which this year will be carried on to a greater extent than previously in the history of British Columbia. On his way from Revelstoke he passed through the Slocan and was very much impressed by the evidences of rapid development and by the progress that has been made in the road construction which in this and other sections of the province has earned for him the title of "Good Roads Taylor."

Last night Mr. Taylor conferred with W. R. Maclean, M.P.P., regarding public works improvements in Nelson city. He leaves this morning on the Crow boat for Spokane, as the absence of Premier McBride in the old country makes it necessary for the minister of public works to return as soon as possible to the capital.

C. P. R. THROUGH TO KASLO BY FALL

William Hunter Expects to See Work on R. & S. Rushed—Bright Outlook for Slocan.

"I understand that the C. P. R. will rush work on the K. & S. and I would not be at all surprised to see the line through from Three Forks to Kaslo this fall," said William Hunter, M.P.P., at the Strathcona last night.

In Mr. Hunter's opinion the Slocan never faced a period of greater prosperity and steady and comprehensive development than at present. "The Standard, Van Roi and Slocan Star mines are examples of the remarkable era of development that is taking place in the district," said the member for Slocan. "It is stated that the crosscut on the No. 6 level of the Slocan Star has been driven for a distance of 850 feet and it is expected that by October 1 the ore shoot will be encountered. Those in close touch with the property believe that the striking of the ore shoot on this property will mean the commencement of ore shipments on a basis exceeded by no other mine in the country.

At the Payne mine," continued Mr. Hunter, "the water which caused the big slide on the C. P. R. track has gone down sufficiently to permit of the recommencement of work and the Rambler-Cariboo is making preparations to erect the mill on the C. P. R. spur between Bear Lake and Three Forks.

"I understand," he said, "that the capitalists interested in the Lily B. mine, near Slocan city, are now inspecting the property with a view to carrying on development on a larger scale.

"Many other properties are being worked and there is evidence of a coming influx of capital so that I believe the present year will be the greatest from a development point of view in the history of the Slocan," concluded Mr. Hunter, who returns to Silverton this morning.
