AIRMAN MAKES SPLENDID FLIGHT AT FRUIT FAIR

Hon. Price Ellison Gives Opening Address

EXHIBITS SET NEW HIGH STANDARD

Long List of Attractions Today--Floral Section Is Striking Feature

Made memorable by the first aeroplane flight in Kootenay the 10th annual Nelson fruit fair which was opened yesterday by Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance and agriculture, proved successful beyond the most optimistic hopes of the management and provided for the crowds of visitors who surged through the exhibition buildings and over the grounds one long feast of edification and amusement.

Two minutes before 2 o'clock the big 60 horse power 8-cylinder motor in Walter Edwards' Curtiss biplane commenced to throb and at one minute before the scheduled time the machine shot across the grounds and rising gracefully over the fence and telephone wires at the east end, the nervy aviator began the flight which is likely to prove historic in the annals of Kootenay.

The airship shot at a 60-mile an hour clip over Fairview, past the Hume school and shipyards to a point about three miles up the lake. Still rising, Edwards steered across the water and then, making a beautiful turn, commenced his journey back to the city, keeping close to the mountains on the north side of the lake.

Makes Skillful Landing.

He passed the grounds, drove a short distance west and then shot back in front of the grandstand, dropping within a few score feet of the spectators on the grounds as he again shot eastwards. He made another trip up the lake and flying back close to Nelson mountain, made a pretty turn over the C. P. R. flats and swooped like a great hawk to the grounds. The landing was one of the prettiest in the history of aviation and was made rapidly but without the slightest error in the manipulation of the planes which direct the course of the machine. He was in the air nine minutes.

A huge crowd gathered around Edwards to shake his hand and congratulate him upon the nervy exhibition which he had given and upon the skill which he had displayed in negotiating the treacherous air currents between the mountains and gulches on each side of the lake.

After Records Today.

Although complaining of a headache and stating that the air up above was frightfully cold, Edwards said that the air currents were not as bad as he had feared. He showed later in the day, however, that he did not relish the trips which he will make this afternoon and tomorrow, declaring that if he had known the topography of this district he would never have signed his contract to fly here. "The chances are too great," he said, "and if my past eight months' record of no accidents is broken while I am here, I shall not be particularly surprised." Today he plans to make a new record for mountain flying.

Build Storage Warehouse, He Says.

Strongly urging the citizens of Nelson to erect a large addition to the present fair building, with a basement underneath, which would give storage room for 30 or 40 carloads of apples, so that the fruit might be kept until the middle of winter when the best prices could be secured, Hon. Price Ellison in declaring the fair open averred that the markets of the world were open to Kootenay apples, which today were more profitable than oranges.

The minister of agriculture, who was received with loud cheers, prefaced his address with the remark that some of his audience knew that he came from Okanagan, but that they must have assumed that he came from Missouri and wanted to "show" him. Seeing was believing, and as minister of agriculture and one of the pioneers of a great fruit section he wished to congratulate his hearers upon the splendid display. Conditions in Kootenay were very similar to those prevailing in the Okanagan, excepting that in the former district irrigation was not needed, which was very much in its favor. The exhibits were so excellent, he declared, that the fruit might have been grown in the Okanagan. He realized that the exhibits were particularly good in view of the time of the year, as the winter fruit would not be at its best for at least three weeks.

Do Not Glut Market.

Speaking of the need for co-operation, Mr. Ellison said that it was no good growing the best fruit unless facilities were secured for placing it on the market in good condition. He urged growers not to attempt to cut each others throats by reducing prices and touched upon the importance of refraining from flooding the market in the fall with winter fruit, which could be held over until the best prices could be realized. "If you did not glut the market in the early fall, if you had storage facilities, it would mean that you could get your own prices later." Newtown Pippin apples from the Yakima district of Washington last winter brought $2.65 f. o. b. Yakima, whereas the local growers probably did not receive much over $1 or $1.50 for the same fruit sold in the early fall.

It had been brought to his attention by Mayor Annable that the fair directors were contemplating enlarging the present building, to put another story under it and raise it up. "Don't do that," he urged. "Build another structure with a large basement on one side or the other of this building. In the basement you can store from 30 to 40 carloads of apples and in this way secure the storage facilities which are necessary if you want to get the highest prices for your winter apples."

Ranchers need not be afraid that they could not secure cash during the time that the apples were stored, he declared, as the banks would always advance money to the man who had carloads of fruit stored for the market.

Would Pass Money Bylaw.

He referred to the substantial sums which had been granted by the government to the agricultural association and declared that a structure where the splendid produce of the district could be displayed to the best advantage should be erected. "Do the right thing, pass a money bylaw and put up a building which will anticipate the requirements of this district in the near future," he urged. The future of the district would be greater than his hearers anticipated and they need not be afraid that they would erect a building on a scale too large for the requirements of the early future.

"The markets of the world are open to you. The Canadian Pacific railway has said that it will meet the American railroad rates on fruit to the old country, so that you know that you can compete," said the minister.

Big Prices in England.

While in England he had not seen very much British Columbia fruit on sale, but that which he saw brought extremely satisfactory prices. He saw winter bananas quoted at one shilling each and five Newton Pippins sold at four shillings and sixpence. The cheapest fruit from the United States which he saw in England sold at a 40-pound box for 16 shillings and sixpence, so that British Columbia, whose fruit was of higher quality, need not be afraid of competition from south of the line.

Last year the Okanagan shipped a carload of apples to England and the lowest price realized was $4 per box. Freight charges were $1 a box, leaving a price to the grower of $3. And some of the boxes, he said, sold as high as £1 1s, or about $5, while the provincial government sold some exhibition fruit for £1 5s a box. "Apples, good apples, are worth today more than oranges," he asserted.

RICHARDSON FOR WIDER MARKETS

Has Accepted Nomination in Macdonald—Free Agricultural Implements.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—R. L. Richardson has announced his acceptance of the nomination for the constituency of Macdonald tendered him at a convention held in Carman two months ago. He announces that he accepts the platform of the Reciprocity and Free Trade association, and makes a strong plea for wider markets. He advocates a gradual increase in the British preference "until free trade exists between the motherland and her Canadian daughter." He also stands for "free agricultural implements and a steady tariff reduction on all the necessities of life."

Hon. Frank Oliver will take part in the Macdonald campaign in support of R. L. Richardson. He will speak at a meeting in St. Francois Xavier on Thursday evening and in St. James on Saturday evening.

BABY WILL TAKE NAME OF CAR

Is Born on Train on Way to Toronto—Passengers Give Baby First Present.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Elora Kerr is the name of a little one born yesterday on the Canadian Pacific railway car Elora, enroute to Toronto. The mother is Mrs. R. Kerr, wife of the assistant postmaster at Regina, and she was on her way to her Toronto home, Silver Birch avenue. Mrs. Kerr was taken ill at Coldwater, and Dr. Farley, of Trenton, a passenger, was called in attendance. The physician was afforded the privilege of naming the newly born and all agreed that the name of the sleeper would be appropriate. On the arrival of the train here an ambulance met Mrs. Kerr, who was accompanied by her sister. The passengers in the sleeper gave the mother $10 as a gift from her baby's first associates.

PILOT DEFIES KAISER WILLIAM

Tells Engineer to Take No Notice of Emperor's Signals—Made Official Pilot.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 24.—An amusing anecdote concerning the Kaiser, said to have been told by a member of the German Yacht club, is published in Excelsior. One day as the imperial yacht was entering a Norwegian port the Kaiser, impatient at the slowness of the vessel's speed, himself rang the bell indicating "increase speed." To the Kaiser's amazement the Norwegian pilot rushed to the telephone and cried to the engineer to slow down and take no notice of the bell. The Kaiser looked at the man who dared to speak thus in his presence and to the pilot said: "Go and put yourself under arrest."

"I shall not leave this place," replied the old man, firmly. "The ship is under my guidance, and I take orders from nobody, not even an Emperor."

The officers looked on in silence, for they knew that the pilot had the nautical regulations in his favor. Great was their surprise, however, when they saw the Kaiser quit the bridge, leaving the pilot alone. The next day the Kaiser, who had recovered his good humor, decorated the old sailor and named him his "official pilot in Norwegian waters."

RED HAT FOR MONTREAL ARCHBISHOP

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

London, Sept. 24.—Canada is to be granted a cardinal at the next consistory, according to the Milan correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, in the person of Mgr. Bruchesi of Montreal. The pope's decision, he says, is largely due to the encomiums which have reached the vatican respecting the archbishop's masterly ability as displayed at the Eucharistic congress held at Montreal.

CANADIAN LINERS TO CARRY GUNS

New Ships Will Have Cruiser Sterns—Will Make Speedy Passage—Ready for War.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—What is nothing less than a new departure in the construction of ocean-going liners is being undertaken by the British companies responsible for the Canadian service. The ships which have lately been constructed, as well as the ships which are to be constructed in the immediate future, are to be built with what are known as cruiser sterns. This means that the vessels will have extra speed, steadiness and steering control. So far these sterns have been confined to the navy. The new departure which it is believed has been undertaken by the companies in conjunction with the admiralty and the Canadian government, aims at the creation of a fleet of liners which, in the event of war, could be converted into cruisers. The Alsatian and the Calgarian, two steamers of 18,000 tons, which have been laid down by the Allan line, and the Empress of Russia and the Empress of Asia, the two ships of 15,000 tons which are being completed for the Canadian Pacific company, have been constructed on the new method. If the scheme is adhered to, it is understood that the new fleets of these two lines will be able to complete the Atlantic passage from Liverpool to Halifax in four and a half days. The other details of construction have not been allowed to become known, but it is not impossible that the example of the German liners may be followed in the matter of gun emplacements and the actual carrying of guns themselves, which could be mounted on the receipt of a wireless telegraphic message.

UNIONIST TACTICS SHEEREST BUNKUM

So Daily Chronicle's Correspondent Describes Agitation in Ulster—Will Be No Fighting.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Daily Chronicle's special correspondent, who is accompanying the Unionist leaders in their anti-home rule campaign in Ulster, thus refers to the "performance of the "Unionists' circus."

"The performances, of course, are not meant for the benefit of the British people. They are organized for the purpose of intimidating the government and misleading the British electorate. Not a single vote in Ulster has been turned or will be turned if the performances went on until Christmas.

"There will be no fighting. Khaki uniforms and dummy rifles have frightened nobody. These God-fearing loyalists never fight unless they are at least five to one and the enemy are unarmed. All these threats about resistance, all this talk about dying in the last ditch in the defence of our liberties are the sheerest buncombe."

GREAT BRITAIN DID OPPOSE LOAN

United States Co-Operated—Believe Foreign Supervision Over Loans to China Necessary.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A statement published here to the effect that nothing was said by the British government to the negotiators of the new Chinese loan in the nature of a prohibition of the loan, is denied. It is learned that on the first intimation to the foreign office of the negotiations bearing on this loan, the promoters were informed that if they proceeded with it they would be acting in direct opposition to the wishes of the government against the transaction. A statement on this subject given out by the foreign offices, makes reference to the instructions which the government recently gave to the British minister at Peking, Sir John N. Jordan, to oppose the loan. The United States and Great Britain co-operated in this opposition, objection to the loan being based on the belief that foreign supervision was necessary over the expenditure of loans granted to China.

DEATH COMES TO LIBERAL NESTOR

Sir Richard Cartwright Dies at Kingston Home.

PICTURESQUE AND STRONG FIGHTER

Leaders of Both Parties Pay Tribute to His Memory, Kindly and Considerate.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 24.—Sir Richard Cartwright died here today.

Sir Richard Cartwright was born at Kingston, Ont., December 4, 1835. He belonged to one of the old Tory families of upper Canada and in the early days of his life gave an individual support to the late Sir John A. McDonald. Since the period of the "Pacific scandal," 1873, he acted with and was a member of the Liberal party, first under Mackenzie, then under Blake and finally under Laurier.

He was minister of finance in the Mackenzie administration, from 1873-1878, and subsequently, while in opposition, was the chief spokesman for his party on fiscal subjects.

He developed in debate great powers of oratory, superior to those possessed by all the public men of his time, save, possibly, the late Hon. W. M. Macdougall and Sir G. W. Ross.

His speech in seconding the vote of thanks to the volunteers who served in the northwest rebellion in 1885 is still regarded as one of the masterpieces of parliamentary eloquence. More recent speeches from him, both in the commons and senate, including that creating the Quebec battlefields commission in 1908, more than sustained his previous high reputation in this respect.

From July 1896, he was minister of trade and commerce in the Laurier administration. He was government leader in the senate since January, 1909. He was regarded as the last member in active public life of Mackenzie's "old guard." During Sir Wilfrid Laurier's absence in 1897, 1902, 1907 and 1911 he was acting premier. He was appointed delegate to Washington to promote better relations between Canada and the United States in 1897. He proposed a joint commission and represented Canada in a joint high commission in Quebec, 1898, and in Washington in 1898-99. In 1902 he was appointed a member of the privy council. He was called to the senate by Earl Grey in 1904. In 1908 he carried a measure in favor of old age annuities.

Funeral on Thursday.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 24.—The funeral of the late Sir Richard Cartwright will take place in the family residence, "The Maples," at Cartwright's Point, on Thursday afternoon to St. Mark's Anglican church, where Rev. O. G. Dobbs of Brockville, a cousin of Sir Richard will conduct the service. The interment will be made in Cataraqui cemetery.

Picturesque Figure.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—On all sides in the capital there are heard expressions of regret at the passing of Sir Richard Cartwright, Liberal leader in the senate. He had for a long period been a picturesque figure and a strong fighter for the principles which he strenuously maintained for 50 years. In point of years and public service it could be truly said that he was the Nestor of Canada's parliament. His death came as a surprise in view of the vigor exhibited by him during last session. On the very last day of the session he delivered one of his old-time attacks, brimful of sarcasm and distinguished in its form by chaste and beautiful English.

Failing Eyesight.

Sir Richard suffered from failing eyesight and rheumatism, which prevented him from taking as active a public part in affairs as in former years, yet his voice never lost its power nor his arguments their sting. His senate colleagues often testified to his charm and courtesy of manner in private life. Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave the following tribute this afternoon: "I have lost in Sir Richard one of my oldest personal friends. I was associated with him for more than 30 years. As leader of the party my relations with him were at all times most cordial. If there arose between us differences of opinion, it was never difficult to satisfactorily adjust them. Sir Richard was a very strong man, but those only who were intimately associated with him knew of his chivalrous nature. He was a patriot, a

LIBERAL SPLIT—ELECTIONS ARE IMMINENT

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Yorkshire Post, which ranks very high among provincial newspapers, affirms confidently that there will be a general election almost immediately. It states that the only real difference of opinion is whether it will be before or after Christmas.

"It is not impossible," the Post says, "that we are on the eve of a Liberal split regarding home rule, which may not equal that of 1886, but still will be very serious."

GERMANY LOSES CHIEF DIPLOMAT

Sudden Death of Ambassador to Great Britain

WAS STRONG MAN OF KAISER'S REALM

Deplored Sending of Famous Kruger Telegram--Favorite of Emperor

(Western Associated Press.)

BADENWEILLER BADF, Germany, Sept. 24.—Germany's most brilliant diplomat, Baron Adolf Marschall Von Bieberstein, died here today after a short illness.

The baron who had occupied the position of Germany ambassador in London only since May, this year, had come here to take a course of alkaline water treatment and was in comparatively good health until a week ago. Then he suddenly fell ill and rapidly became worse until he died today. The baron had suffered from an attack of influenza earlier in the year and his death is attributed to the effects of that malady and to his strenuous work in London since his appointment to the embassy there.

The baron who was a native of Badf, was 70 years old. Baron Marschall Von Bieberstein was regarded as one of the most accomplished diplomats of his time and since the death of Bismarck, he has been considered as Germany's "strong man."

The baron in fact, stepped into the shoes of Bismarck when the latter left office in 1890, becoming on April 1 of that year, secretary of the state of foreign affairs. During his term of office he conducted the negotiations with many foreign powers for commercial treaties which have been in force ever since with some few modifications.

In 1894 he became Prussian minister of state and three years later the emperor, recognizing his ability as a statesman, appointed him ambassador to Turkey. He remained at Constantinople over 14 years, but was often called to Berlin to confer with the emperor, not only in regard to Turkish affairs, but in connection with Germany's general foreign policy as well. It was often hinted that the baron practically controlled the emperor's entire foreign policy. He was strongly in favor of the extension of Germany's dominions in all parts of the world. His views were so well liked at court that he was often mentioned for the imperial chancellorship.

Regret in London.

(Western Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Real sorrow is felt in official circles here at the death of the German ambassador whose sincerity of purpose was never questioned. Undoubtedly Baron Von Bieberstein was honest in his purpose to bring about closer relations between the two countries and he hoped by frankness to clear up misunderstandings. Possibly the most outstanding figure in European diplomacy he brought to his new duties a unique reputation for strength of character and honesty of purpose. His appointment was regarded as most significant and his death is deplored by every friend of peace.

For several years he was regarded with suspicion by Englishmen as part author of the famous Kruger telegram sent by the Kaiser in a fit of irritability at the time of the Jameson raid, which came so near provoking an Anglo-German war and which was promptly met by the mobilization of a special British fleet squadron which cruised the North Sea under secret orders. But later revelations have shown that Von Bieberstein acted the part of balance wheel and greatly modified the original tenor of the telegram the sending of which he deplored.

MANUFACTURERS IN CONVENTION

Cabinet Ministers Among the Numerous Delegates.

PREFERENTIAL TREATY APPROVED

Protection of Commerce a Businesslike Precaution, Transportation Needs.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—The forty-first annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' association which opened this morning with an attendance of about 400 delegates, spent a very busy day at the morning and afternoon sessions, transacting important matters pertaining to the association's work while in the evening the delegates were the guests at a brilliant reception given by the Ottawa Valley branch of the association at the Chateau Laurier. The guests were received by Senator and Mrs. Edwards and included a number of the cabinet ministers and well-known men in business and political life. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Hopewell on behalf of the corporation and by W. H. Rowley, chairman of the Ottawa branch in the morning, after which a number of reports were presented, including that of the secretary, G. H. Murray, the publication committee and the treasurer, George Booth, Toronto.

The report of the commercial committee presented during the morning caused an interesting discussion into which a criticism of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries throughout Canada was brought, it being alleged that they encouraged their directors to purchase supplies and fittings on the other side of the boundary.

During the afternoon, Nathaniel Curry, president, read his annual address which contained many important recommendations and which was heartily received by the members present.

The address was distinctly the feature of the opening day of the convention. He dealt in a masterly way with such important matters as trade extension, labor and compensation, transportation, reciprocity and imperial defence and reviewed the growth of Canada's industrial side as shown by the returns of the last census. In his address the president said:

"It is a pleasure to note that our government has opened the way for a freer movement of trade between Canada and the British West Indies. If the treaty of mutual preferential trade that has been concluded is followed up, as we are told, it will be, by the inauguration of a steamship service adequate to the needs, I look for material benefits to the Dominion as a whole, but more particularly to Ontario, Quebec and the maritime provinces. Let us hope that the negotiations now pending with Australia for a similar treaty of preferential trade will come to a successful issue.

"Let me say just a few words on the naval question that is now so prominently before us. As businessmen it should be our constant aim to face business issues in a businesslike way. The protection of our commerce upon the high seas, is a business pre*caution, for the nation as a whole to* adopt, comparable in all respects with the business precaution which our municipalities adopt in affording our property police protection. We do not look to the motherland to provide the latter, nor should we continue to leave ourselves entirely dependent upon her for the former. The fact that circumstances have compelled us to accept her protection in the past is all the more reason why we should make haste to relieve her of that responsibility now that we are in a position to do something for ourselves.

"The so-called German peril may be a reality or it may not, I do not know, nor do any of us know. We sincerely hope it is not, for war of

Signing of Covenant to Be Elaborate Ceremony

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BELFAST, Sept. 24.—From an oratorical viewpoint today has been comparatively quiet in the Ulster campaign, Sir Edward Carson and F. E. Smith, the chief leaders, both resting and reserving themselves for the strenuous events in the coming few days. Baron Willoughby de Broke, who was a strong supporter of the "No surrender" policy during the debate on the veto bill in the house of lords, was the moving spirit of the demonstration at Dromore, which had all the features of previous campaign meetings—a guard of honor for the principal speakers, a torchlight procession and similar attractions. Meanwhile unceasing activity is displayed in the preparations for the great day, September 28, when it is expected 500,000 persons will sign the covenant to oppose home rule to the end. The organizers resemble a military general staff. There is a council to give directions and many staff and subordinate officers to execute them. There are generals of division and brigade commanders in the different districts.

Tons of packages of the covenants are being mailed tonight to all parts of the province, entailing heavy work on a special staff at the postoffice. The signing of the covenant on Saturday will be an elaborate ceremony. After a solemn service in Ulster hall, Sir Edward Carson, with his colleagues, the Belfast corporation, the harbor commissioners and city magistrates, will march to the city hall, escorted by guards of honor from the Orange lodges. Additional guards, numbering 2,500 men, will be provided by the Unionist clubs in five shifts of 500 each, to keep the precincts of the city hall during the period of receiving signatures. All the guards of honor will wear dark clothes, red, white and blue armlets and carry five-foot staves surmounted by a small Union Jack.

After the ceremony, the same guard will escort Sir Edward Carson to the steamer sailing for Liverpool, in which city a similar demonstration on Monday is projected. As the steamer proceeds down Belfast lough huge bonfires will be lighted on the hills. A regular army of signallers will be employed Saturday to transmit the news of the day's doings to every corner of the province by heliograph and lamp signals from church spires and mountain tops.

Judicial Committee Is Bond of Empire

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The lord chancellor, addressing his former constituents at East Lothian yesterday on the occasion of his receiving the freedom of the town of Dunbar, declared that important as were the strategical considerations which were drawing the empire together at the present moment, there were other great bonds of union, the most important of all, and never greater than at the present time, he said, was the affection with which the dominions overseas regarded the crown. There was another consideration, perhaps, less obvious, with which he had to do, the judicial committee of the privy council. That was the most real link in the empire and one that had not received the attention it deserved.

"I hope," said Lord Haldane, "it may be given to me to make an effort such as I tried to make in military matters, toward developing still further the importance of this supreme tribunal. We do not desire to meddle with the affairs of the dominions, but we think that if we provide them with an absolutely impartial court brought together the best way we can they will come to welcome it.

"Last summer the month of July had been devoted to the hearing of Canadian appeals exclusively. They had put their souls into the business and he thought they had made a success of it. For Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa and for every part of the British empire that chose to resort to that unique and remarkable tribunal, which was like no other in the world, it has been doing magnificent work for many years and they desired to develop it."

He had a bill before parliament for that purpose and he hoped the commons would show great interest in it.

CALLS POPE ASSASSIN

ROME, Sept. 24.—The vatican newspapers protest against the speech of Deputy Podrecca on Saturday during the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the occupation of Rome, when he declared that the pope was an assassin, as "in his name Catholic Spain asssasinated Professor Ferrer, the martyr."

The pope does not seem to be worried over the vulgar abuse. Today referring to the speech he remarked to a friend: "Well, they have called me many names before, but this is the first time they thought of calling me an assassin. As a matter of fact, I did everything that was possible to save Ferrer, but failed. At any rate, I am an assassin in good company, as Podrecca also called Pius III., Pius IV. and Pius IX. assassins, so I must not complain."

ENTRIES DOUBLED AT CRAWFORD BAY

Second Fair Is Great Success—Record Attendance—Competition Keen —Prize List.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRAWFORD BAY, B.C., Sept. 24.—The second annual horticultural show was held here on Thursday in the public hall and the directors of the local Farmers' institute who carried the thing through are to be congratulated on the entirely successful results with which their efforts were crowned, special thanks being due to the president, J. McGregor, and the secretary, W. W. Mooney, and F. G. Fauquier of The Needless was sent in by the provincial government to judge the exhibits. Needless to say, his decisions gave absolute satisfaction all around.

There were several conspicuous improvements over last year's fair. The number of entries showed an increase of over 100 per cent. The improved quality of the exhibits was equally marked, especially was this the case with the apples and the packing of same, the latter fact being due to the packing classes held here by the provincial government during the last winter.

The weather also was all that could be desired, which partly accounts for the record attendance at the show. Mention should also be made of the support accorded by the adjoining settlement at Grey Creek in the matter of entries, and a number of visitors came in from that point.

Competition in all classes was very keen, especially was this so for the best box of Wealthy apples, which, after much consideration on Mr. Fauquier's part, was awarded to Burden & Watson's box with a margin of only half a point over that belonging to J. E. Houghton. The remainder of the prize list was as follows:

Apples.

Box Wagner apples—First, Burden & Watson; second, T. Oliver.

Best box apples, any winter variety—First, John Olson; second, J. E. Houghton; third, W. Linton.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, B. C., Sept. 24.—The double suicide which ended the lives of young Inthout and his wife in Calgary last Friday night caused much interest here. The couple were married in Spokane on Aug. 20 and Inthout has been working as a telegrapher in the Great Northern station here until a few days ago, when he was discharged. They left here for Calgary last Thursday night. The father of the young woman passed through here today enroute for Calgary to take charge of his daughter's body. UNWRITTEN LAW SNEED'S DEFENCE

"I Guess You Are Dead," Remark After Firing Second Shot Into Boyce.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 24.—Al Boyce begged John B. Sneed not to shoot him again after he had fallen on the street here Sept. 14 riddled with buckshot, according to the testimony of Earl Jackson, a witness to the killing at the habeas corpus hearing of Sneed yesterday. He further testified that Sneed immediately fired again and, then looking down at the victim, said: "I guess you are dead."

The state endeavored through testimony of the sheriff to strengthen its contention that the killing was premeditated. An attempt to introduce testimony relative to the Boyce-Sneed elopement of last fall was objected to by the state. The defense waived the matter. State's attorneys say that the attempt to introduce the elope ment feature indicated that Sneed's defence on the charge of murder would be the unwritten law.

At the hearing, Sheriff Burwell and 20 special deputies followed the court's order religiously to search for arms all those who sought admission to the room.

State witnesses of whom there were 48, were to be introduced first. There were 13 witnesses for the defence. The hearing will be continued four days. Attorneys and friends of the Sneed and Boyd families have gathered here in large numbers.

GRAIN BLOCKADE IS INEVITABLE

Crop Movement Nearly Fortnight Later Than Last Year—Elevator Capacity Insufficient.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24—The Grain Growers' Guide will say today:

A grain block is unavoidable. All signs point to a congestion in the movement of the grain this fall far worse than that of last fall, and winter—bad as it was. The exceptional rainfall during the harvest has delayed cutting, as well as threshing. The weather last fall was unfavorable and the movement was greatly delayed. But the grain at this time last year was moving in triple the volume it is at the present time, and this season's crop is considerably in excess of the 1911 crop. During two weeks ending September 21 there were only 1,228 cars of western spring wheat passed inspection, as against 4,482 last year. The continued rain of last week, which visited all three provinces, delayed threshing still more, and the crop movement will probably be from 10 days or two weeks later than last year. With these facts in hand it is imperative that every effort be put forth to meet these most exceptional conditions. The railways will not be able to handle the grain that is offered them. There is not enough elevator capacity to accommodate the immense quantity of grain that cannot reach the lake front before the close of navigation. Since the doors to the southern market are closed and locked the best remedy in sight is to have through railway rates to the south. These through rates were in force for a time last winter and afforded a great deal of relief. But they were not put into ef*fect soon enough nor did they remain in* force long enough. It is the plain duty of the Dominion government and the three transcontinental railway companies to make arrangements at once.

BROTHERHOOD IS NEEDED IN TRADE

And Essential to World Peace, Says Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Brotherhood as an essential in perfecting international trade relations and world peace was dwelt upon today by Secretary of Commerce and Labor Charles Nagle in an address of welcome to the visiting delegates to the fifth international congress of the chambers of commerce. "What we want to establish," said Mr. Nagel, "is such a relation, so intimate commercially and subsequently, socially, that no country a party to our congress will permit controversy, because it cannot afford to have it. In my *judgment, results of just such con*gresses as these are far more important than agreements arrived at as a result of diplomatic negotiations. You represent legitimate self-interest. The questions today throughout the world are largely industrial. Controversies that arise will originate from that interest and if you succeed in establishing the rules of the game that will obtain in your dealings, the main cause of friction and controversy will have been removed."

Greetings also were extended to the congress by Governor Foss on behalf of the state, Mayor Fitzgerald for the city, Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, and Edward A. Filene of Boston, vice president of the international congress. President Canon Legrand responded for the congress, speaking first in French and then in English.

With a report on the reform of the calendar, particularly as to the establishment of a fixed day for Easter, read by President Canon Legrand, the formal program was taken up.

Fixed Day for Easter.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Commercial, industrial, judicial and civic subjects of far-reaching interest will be discussed by delegates from all parts of the world, who have assembled in Boston for the sessions of the fifth international congress of the chambers of commerce. Forty foreign countries, including Russia and several Central and South American republics never before represented will have a part in the congress. Seven hundred delegates of national and international prominence, and nearly all leaders in the commercial life of their home cities, will attend. Programs for their use have been prepared in 16 languages and notes of all discussions will be transcribed in many tongues. The first three days of the congress, which will open on Tuesday and continue through Saturday, will be devoted to business; the latter part of the week to local sightseeing, after which a tour of nearly a score of cities will be begun. Charles Nagel, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, will represent the United States and will deliver an address of welcome, and on Thursday evening President Taft will be the speaker at the congress banquet.

The establishment of a fixed day for Easter, previously discussed by the congress, will be among the matters considered. The congress at Milan in 1906 disclosed a wide range of opinion on the subject. The commercial bearings of the mobility of certain holidays will be recurred to and more definite views on long agitated calendar reforms will be heard. Special interest is indicated in the proposition for a calendar year of precisely equal divisions and sub-divisions, with each day of the month always the same day of the week, made possible by taking New Year's as a day outside the regular cycle of dates and the following day as January 1. These subjects will be presented in a communication from Louis Canon Legrande of Mons, president of the congress. The cost of living and the desirability of an international conference on the subject will be advanced in a report by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale university. Other subjects for consideration include: The establishment of an international court of arbitral justice for suits between individuals and foreign states; the unification of legislation relating to checks; international postal reforms in view of the next conference of the Universal Postal union in 1913; commercial statistics and the immediate institution of an international office; the desirability of an international conference upon the validation of through-order-notify bills of lading and of legislation and other means for making the system more effective; the desirability of international uniformity of action in the matter of consular invoices.

Official recognition was extended to the Boston congress by a resolution of congress. Under this resolution the United States sent invitations to the governments of the world in addition to the business organizations. Appropriations totalling $150,000 have been made by the state of Massachusetts, the city of Boston and individuals for the entertainment of the visitors. Starting on September 30 the foreign delegates will visit Buffalo, Detroit Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Washington and New York. On October 20 the party will sail for home from New York. The first session was held at Liege, Belgium, in 1905. In 1906 the meeting was at Milan, Italy; in 1908, at Prague, Austria, and in 1910 at London. The membership includes commercial and industrial organizations of all nations. Delegates to the biennial conventions are of two classes—the official delegates designated by the respective nations and those appointed by business organizations affiliated with the congress. The Boston chamber of commerce, under whose auspices the present international congress is held, is said to be the largest commercial organization in America. It has nearly 5,000 members.

The foreign representation by countries is as follows: Argentine Republic, 2; France, 19; Austria-Hungary, 44; French colonies (Algiers), 2; Germany, 88; Hungary, 22; Greece, 2; Belgium, 12; Guatemala, 2; Brazil, 7; Holland, 6; Honduras, 2; Italy, 58; Japan, 5; Mexico, 3; Norway, 17; Panama, 2; Peru, 5; Portugal, 5; Romania, 1; Russia, 8; Sweden, 6; Switzerland, 3.

British empire: England, 61; Aden, Arabia, 1; Australia, 2; Bahamas, 4; Canada, 12; Ireland, 2; New Zealand, 10; Scotland, 8; South Africa, 3; Tasmania, 2.

Chile, 8; China, 8; Colombia, 2; Cuba, 1; Ecuador, 2; Turkey (Europe), 8; (Asia), 5; Africa, 1.

AIRMAN MAKES SPLENDID FLIGHT

gress at Lethbridge next month, Mr. Ellison explained that the government had offered to pay transportation expenses on exhibits from various parts of British Columbia both to and from Lethbridge and urged this district to send an individual exhibit. Cranbrook, he said, proposed to erect a booth at a cost of $1,200 at the congress, where a display would be made for publicity purposes. "I tell you this so that you can get into line and get some cheap advertising through placing your agricultural resources before the practical men from all parts of the world who will attend the congress," he said. "If you want to make an exhibit send in an application for space; there is plenty of time. If Cranbrook can do it, why can't you?"

He referred to the fact that last year two carloads of Nova Scotia Gravensteins which were picked too early and which consequently were not a patch on those grown in Kootenay, had been shipped into Fernie, and declared that this district should supply the Crows Nest market.

Disappointment at seeing only one exhibit of honey was expressed by the minister, who spoke of the profit which the rancher could derive from this source.

With regard to the floral exhibit Mr. Ellison declared that he had never seen such a splendid display at any of the many agricultural exhibitions he had attended.

Tribute to W. R. Maclean.

"You have a new member here, W. R. Maclean, and if he keeps up his present lick with the department of agriculture you are going to be well represented. He appears to me to be already a past master, because he got a promise from some of the ministers at Victoria without their knowing it, and I felt duty bound to honor it, so that already you are $1,000 better off through your member. In this connection I should like to say that Nelson people should help themselves more than in the past and I hope that this is the last time that the agricultural association will make a call on the government for special assistance."

Remarking upon the absence of teams at the rear of the fair grounds the minister said the reason, he supposed, was that Nelson had not yet secured the bridge between the river and the north shore of the west arm. He referred to the letters which had been received at Victoria urging upon the government the need for the construction of the bridge, and said that he had declared "If there is the population to justify it, then I don't care about the cost." It was up to the people of the district to press the matter on the attention of the minister of public works and the speaker would be glad to do all in his power to assist in that matter or in any others.

Fruit Exhibition is Revelation.

Never has the exhibition building presented a more delightful appearance than when Mayor Annable made a brief address of welcome.

Box after box and plate after plate of apples and other fruit in the centre of the building offered a veritable feast to the eye and must have proved a revelation to the scores of persons from the old country and distant points on this continent who were given for the first time an opportunity to realize what Kootenay can produce. Many had seen apples at fairs of international interest in the east and in the old country, but few had cast their eyes over such a mass of gorgeously colored fruit as that shown yesterday. It was color that was the great feature of the displays which were in greater number than on any previous occasion in the history of the fair.

Number of Displays Record.

In nearly every section the number of displays set a new record. Poultry, vegetables, field produce, dairy produce, home baking, jams and jellies, painting and other art work women's work and children's work exhibits are all unusually numerous and of exceptional interest. The mineral display although not as large as on some previous occasions contains some remarkably fine specimens of ore.

Floral Display Striking.

Throughout the afternoon and evening one of the chief subjects of eulogy was the floral section which was declared to be the largest and most advantageously arranged that has ever been seen here. The whole of the annex is devoted to this feature and has been made a real wonderland of sweetly scented blooms and gloriously hued foliage. At night time, when the electric lights, which have been specially installed for the occasion were turned on, a most striking effect was produced.

Asters, sweet peas, dahlias, carnations, roses, geraniums, hydrangeas nasturtiums and crysanthemums are the flowers predominating but scores of others are to be seen.

Some of the most striking exhibits are the asters shown by Mrs. James Johnstone and Mrs. Hugh Ross, the dahlias displayed by Miss H. M. Nelson, G. S. Hawthorne and D. Irving, the roses shown by T. A. Airey and a remarkably fine display of sweet peas for which Mrs. C. W. Young won first prize.

Miss Nellie Annable won first honors with a display of cosmos for the basket of cut flowers arranged for decorative effect, and Miss Bealby came a close second with a delightful basket of crysanthemums.

As usual the table decorations are of exceptional beauty, Miss Bealby winning first honors and second prize going to Mrs. G. A. Hunter who used pink sweet peas to great effect. Lightness and delicacy of arrangement are features of the winning table.

Among the attractions in front of the grandstand that which drew most applause was a wonderful display of gymnastics by the Ishikawa Japs who give a performance which has the double merit of being novel and extremely difficult of accomplishment. Some of the "stunts" pulled off by the four wiry little gymnasts are little short of marvelous, Paul & LeRoy aroused much amusement with a humorous gymnastic act. A third vaudeville act will be seen today, the Idianis troupe arriving last night after having been delayed during their journey from the east.

This Afternoon's Program.

In addition to the aeroplane flight at 2 o'clock today and the three vaudeville acts this afternoon's program will include log sawing and log chopping contests, a ladies' quarter mile horse race and a half mile open horse race. In the evening the drilling contest will be continued.

Much interest was displayed by the public in the exhibition of manual training work given by boys from the Nelson schools. A good business was done by the Ladies' Hospital aid which served refreshments at a booth at the west end of the building and in the gallery.

Horse Race Exciting.

Excitement ran high during the three heats of the Shetland pony and the local horse races. Fergie Wilson carried off first honors in the pony event and Otto Feitz, riding an animal owned by Mayor Annable, came in second. J. Riley, mounted on another pony owned by the mayor, was the other entrant, but did not finish. The winner kept well to the track, but the other two animals sturdily refused to run straight and in two of the heats had to be prodded toward the winning post with scantlings and other forms of encouragement.

Scottie McDonald has a whirlwind in Cyclone, the horse which carried off the local event, the Nelson Transfer company's Buck, grabbing third place and Herbert Glenn's Hackney coming in second. The time was 30 seconds for the quarter mile.

Cyclone with Ray Bard up, won the first heat in a canter with Buck ridden by Bert Smoke, coming in second. Greying, owned by W. Cooper and ridden by C. Spears, left the track and Jack Leslie on Hackney fell when his mount collided with a dog.

In the second heat Cyclone again cantered home with Hackney in second place and Buck coming in third. Hackney beat Buck by about two lengths in the final heat for second place.

Officials in charge of the races were W. J. Toye, W. J. Brodie and S. Burnside.

Drilling Contest Opens.

The first team in the drilling contest which opened last night and will be continued this evening was McKenzie & Matson of the Van-Roi mine at Silverton. They drilled 35 5-16 inches. Other entries are Morrison & Faulds of Greenwood, Erickson & Johnson Bosun ranch; McMillan & Conley, Slocan City.

Hon. Price Ellison, the mayor and council and a number of other prominent visitors were brought to the exhibition building by the City Cab company which made a striking parade of its vehicles. The city band, which rendered selections throughout the day, took part in this procession.

D. P. Kane of Kaslo was judge in the fruit section and J. T. Pargeter of Nanaimo, judged the poultry displays. Prizes in these two sections were:

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25

THE LATE SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT

The death of Sir Richard Cartwright, chronicled this morning, removes from Canadian public life one of its most picturesque figures. He has been more or less prominently before the people since before Confederation. He was a member of both Liberal administrations that have governed in Canada, and held office through the entire life of both, an honor enjoyed by no other man. In the days of the Mackenzie government, 1873 to 1878, he held the office of minister of finance and during the time between the latter year and the advent of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to power in 1896 he acted as chief financial critic of the various Conservative governments which held power in that period of Canada's history.

It was undoubtedly as chief financial critic of the Conservative administrations that Sir Richard loomed largest in the public eye. His fierce philippics against what he regarded as the extravagances, the mistaken policies and the corruption of his opponents in power reverberated from one end of the country to the other. In fact, so strong were his descriptions of the awful condition of the country under Conservative rule that he was dubbed by those not friendly disposed, "Blue Ruin Dick," an appelation which ceased to be applied only after the doughty knight had again assumed the duties of office as minister of trade and commerce in the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

But leaving aside any partisan view of his public career, all must recognize in the late Sir Richard Cartwright a great Canadian, a man of whose production the country may well feel proud. His was a long life of public service, given according to his views of the country's best interests. His name will always occupy a place in the history of Canadian confederation, and particularly in that portion relating to the time when our present wide Dominion was being welded into one harmonious whole.

MAKING FRUIT GROWING A SUCCESS

A point which was urged upon fruit growers at the opening of the fruit fair yesterday by Hon. Price Ellison, minister of agriculture, and emphasized at last night's banquet, was the necessity of those engaged in the industry devoting their energies to the production of the very best market varieties of apples and to the proper packing of these when grown.

Kootenay, it was pointed out, could grow fruit equal to the best, and there was a ready market for all the fruit of this class that could be produced. What was necessary was that the fancy varieties, good appearing and luscious, but of poor keeping and shipping qualities, should be avoided and strict attention paid to the production of apples of recognized commercial value, which could be placed upon practically any market in the world, where they would command the highest possible price.

Put briefly, the advice tendered the fruit growers was to cut out the frills and devote their attention to the utilitarian. This is advice which should be taken to heart by every fruit grower and everyone who contemplates embarking in that industry. If the proper attention is paid to the growing of apples of the right sort and with a proper system of co-operation in marketing, fruit growing in the Kootenays will within the next few years achieve a success in this line greater than is even dreamt of by many. But everything depends upon those engaged in the industry. If in their operations they exercise that business acumen that is essential in any line of human activity there need be no question of the result.

Mrs. Blase—"Goodness! Where is he?"
Mrs. Wayupp—"He has gone out incog. to pay a bill."—Puck.

"Well?"
"Well, seeing as they have got $38 out of me in four days it ain't such a mystery after all."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

In moonshine districts, where the whiskey looks like water and is drunk like water, strange ideas prevail as to what intoxication really is. In a village on Saturday afternoon, a man lay in the boiling sun in the middle of the road with an empty bottle by his side. "He's drunk; lock him up," the sheriff said. But a woman interposed hastily. "No, he aint drunk," she said. "I jest seen his fingers move."

The Weather

TORONTO, Sept. 24—A widespread rain area which yesterday covered the middle Atlantic states has since spread into Ontario and western Quebec. In the Maritime provinces the weather has been fine with moderate temperatures, while in the west it has been fair and cool with heavy frosts in most parts.

BAD ROADS ARE WORST TAXATION

So Declares Hon. Price Ellison at Fair Directors' Banquet—Speakers Discuss Question.

"Bad roads are the worst taxation that can be placed on any community," said Hon. Price Ellison, minister of agriculture and finance, when responding to a vote of thanks tendered him at a banquet given by the directors of the fair last night.

During the evening several speakers pointed out the need of good roads for Nelson. Mayor Annable congratulated the members on the success of the fair, which, he said, would undoubtedly have been greater had Nelson not been handicapped in the matter of roads. Many ranchers and farmers would not come to the fair because they could not get in by road. This disadvantage was to a great extent due to the government, which did not give the assistance it might. He congratulated the department of agriculture on the good work it was doing and thought if the department of public works paid attention to the question of roads and bridges the whole community in the district would be greatly benefitted.

F. A. Starkey, president of the associated boards of trade, complimented the mayor for having touched upon the road question. Without further assistance from the government he thought that it was a question whether the people in the outlying districts would continue to support the fair. Considering what Nelson was up against, he thought the government grant was very paltry. Good roads would enable farmers and ranchers to drive into the city and their value could not be over-estimated. "The fact is," said Mr. Starkey, "we are not in touch with the government. We appreciate the visit of the honorable member, but if the minister of public works would come and see for himself we should get far more financial support."

G. O. Buchanan of Kaslo agreed on the importance of good roads. The speaker congratulated the directors upon having increased the value of the prizes. He thought it would be a great advantage to the Kootenay fruit growing industry if special prizes were offered for fruit taken from ranches of say 100 or more trees of one variety.

William Blakemore said Nelson certainly was deserving of every support and he hoped the minister of finance would not make any mistake in giving agriculture in this district very liberal support. He was convinced, from the evidence given during the Doukhobor investigation, that to make fruit growing a permanent success ranchers must grow the best high-grade fruit that could be produced in the district.

Referring to the road problem, Mr. Ellison said he deeply sympathized and would do all he possibly could. He thought that if the minister of public works had been present something definite in the nature of a promise would be forthcoming, because he would realize the great benefit that would accrue. "Show the minister of public works that your new roadway is going to become an inter-provincial road," said Mr. Ellison, "and you will have a strong lever in getting what you want."

Other speakers were Ernest Miller, M. P. P., who in a brief and effective speech invited those present to attend the Grand Forks fair; W. R. Maclean, the local member; James Johnstone, the first president of the fair; R. G. Clark, Dominion fruit inspector, and G. Horstead, secretary of the fair.

thorough gentleman and a charming man."

Premier's Tribute.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—Premier Borden today paid a warm tribute to the late statesman:

"The death of Sir Richard Cartwright comes as a shock to those who have been his colleagues in parliament, whether on one or the other side of the house of commons," said the premier. "He has been a great figure in the public life of Canada for more than 40 years, and no one can forget his strong personality, his wonderful power in debate or the wonderful contrast between the extreme kindliness of his disposition in private life and his great command of attack and invective in debate, whether upon the hustings or in parliament. He was in every sense a great parliamentarian, thoroughly versed in constitutional procedure and entirely familiar with the development of parliamentary government in Canada. I recall one instance which will illustrate the kindliness of his nature and his innate courtesy. A few years after I had become leader of the opposition in the house, Sir Charles Tupper, not then a member of parliament, came by the invitation of the speaker and took a seat on the floor of the house. These two men had been redoubtable protagonists on opposition side for many years and had engaged in an attack upon each other with a vigor which is seldom witnessed in these later days. As soon as Sir Richard saw Sir Charles he made his way slowly (for he walked with great difficulty by aid of a cane) through the passage back of the speaker's chair in order to greet his old antagonist.

"To Lady Cartwright and the members of the family the sympathy of all Canadian citizens will be extended in the fullest measure."

Kindly and Considerate.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—A worthy tribute was paid by Hon. J. A. Lougheed, who in his capacity as Conservative leader in the upper chamber was closely associated with Sir Richard Cartwright, both as government leader and leader of the Liberal opposition in the senate.

"No man," he said, "could have been more courteous, kindly or considerate. No one better observed the amenities of debate or set a higher example of parliamentary decorum or in the conduct of public business on the floor of the house. As a debater and as an orator of the old school of clear thought and chaste language he had few, if any, peers. He was, with the exception of Sir Charles Tupper, the last survivor of the 'old guard,' and his name must always bulk large in Canadian history. He was a typical gentleman of the old school, a statesman rather than a politician."

Mr. Lougheed, the government leader in the senate, will be present at the funeral in Kingston, the premier being unable to go on account of his engagements to speak at the Canadian manufacturers' banquet this week. Today a wreath of flowers was sent to Kingston on behalf of the government and another wreath has been sent on behalf of the senate. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the former cabinet colleagues of Sir Richard are also sending floral tokens.

Sir Wilfrid will attend the funeral if his engagements to speak at the manufacturers' banquet on Thursday night do not prevent. A number of the Liberal ex-ministers will also go to Kingston for the funeral.

The death of Sir Richard Cartwright leave eight vacancies in the senate to be filled before the session opens. His successor as Liberal leader in the upper house will probably be ex-Speaker Dandurand.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE AT GRAND FORKS

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Sept. 24.—James Miller, for the past summer employed on construction work on the new Canadian Pacific railway bridge near the Granby smelter, but now working on another bridge a mile east of the city, endeavored to commit suicide today by taking 220 grains of morphine. He was brought to the Cottage hospital in this city and at a late hour tonight is still alive, with a possible hope of recovery. It is stated that Miller has been brooding over some troubles for the past month and these evidently worked on his mind so strongly that he thought he had lived long enough. He is 35 years of age and has a brother residing at Spuzzum, B.C.

any kind is a calamity to be avoided at all costs save that of national honor. But if we are unanimous in this point, we should also be unanimous as to the wisdom of being prepared to defend ourselves in emergency however great. Instead of temporizing with vain surmises we should rather pay heed to the actions of those who are charged with the responsibility for providing that defence. If criticism can be obviated and party feeling assuaged by the government taking into its confidence the leader of the opposition and his lieutenants, so much the better. By all means, let such a conference be had and had quickly. But in any event let us have action; let us sink our individual likes and dislikes to the end that something may be accomplished, and placing all politics aside, let us unite in the performance in what is plainly our duty and so declare to the world at large that at least we are a nation."

Transportation Great Need.

Reverting to matters more directly concerning the manufacturers, Mr. Curry touched very briefly upon the labor situation and the friendly relations that on the whole they had been able to maintain with their employes "The great need of Canada today, as I see it, is not wider markets, but an equipment and service that will enable us better to supply the demands of the home market. In other words, what we want is transportation, more transportation and better transportation. The railways are striving manfully to meet the situation, millions upon millions are being poured into improvements that we sometimes forget to give them credit for. But relief cannot be had in a dy. It is apparent that the west must have more railways and more equipment to bring the grain to the elevators at the head of the lakes. There the storage will have to be increased and so on throughout the entire system.

"Canadian ports will never enjoy a development commensurate with the growth and prosperity of the rest of the Dominion so long as they are saddled with the insurance incubus. Already they have suffered irreparable injury because of business that should not be permanently diverted to the United States and if the remedy is much longer delayed, it may give our competitors an advantage from which we can never recover."

A good deal of interesting discussion centered around the report of the insurance committee at the afternoon session. The report said that Canada is becoming a more attractive financial field for insurance companies throughout the world. There are now 79 companies with interests in Canada. Of these 29 are Canadian, 23 British and 27 United States and foreign. Though the number of companies has increased abnormally in Canada during the last few years, yet the volume of business of these companies has not increased proportionately. As a matter of fact, the increase of business has been little more than the increase in 1905.

EYES

The McCormick System

Substitutes mathematics and common sense for guess-work and juggling. We may set our prices by diagnosis, but we analyze before we treat. In our examinations we get much more information than others, with less worry to the patient. McCormick methods strive for the least possible discomfort from the start. They successfully relieve without painful or dangerous treatment the following troubles, among others:

Granulated lids
Wild hairs
Cross eyes
Weak eyes
Most cases of bad vision
Aching eyes.

Headaches, dysmenorrhea and many other troubles caused by eye strain.

Many people are irritable because their eyes are weakening and irritating their nervous systems. We relax the nervous system and build up the supply of energy. This enables us to succeed in eye troubles that baffle others, no matter how often they have been to Europe, etc.

The proof is in the results. We guarantee in many cases considered very, very serious by others.

WIN AND LOSE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—The Red Sox won and lost in a double-header with the New York Highlanders. New York won the first game, 5-2. Boston won the second, 3-1, scoring two runs in the eighth inning, after which the game was called on account of darkness. O'Brien and Caldwell had pitched through a duel until the second game was decided in Boston's favor, largely on doubles by Hendricksen and Lewis. Bedient was hit hard by the Highlanders in the early innings of the first game, while Boston could not bunch hits off McConnell. Captain Wagner was presented with a loving cup, two feet high, and Bedient was given a gold horseshoe in the first game. Each struck out immediately afterward.

RAILWAY CAMPS CLOSE DOWN

Shortage of Labor and Supplies Delaying Construction on Grand Trunk Pacific.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—Investigation just made by a representative of the Tribune, a newspaper of Fort George, shows that comparatively little work is being done or will be done this winter on construction on the Grand Trunk Pacific between that town and railhead west of Edmonton. On account of a shortage of labor and supplies many of the camps have been closed down. It is now estimated that it will take a year to build west from Edmonton as far as Shuswap river. Supplies are short in the north country because all the river steamers have been either wrecked or stranded in low water.

STRIKING LABORERS PRESENT DEMANDS TO MAYOR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Sept. 24.—Striking laborers represented by a committee of six, waited on the mayor and commissioners this morning and laid before them their demands for an increase in pay from 30 to 35 cents an hour, an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime. While there was a little discussion of the new scale asked, neither the commissioner nor the mayor gave the men any encouragement, merely referring them to the council.

NOBLEMAN BUYS PRINCE RUPERT LAND

Another Sale Under Negotiation in Saskatchewan—Liberal Member Buys in Nova Scotia.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—One of the largest individual land sales ever effected in this country has just been completed here. The purchaser is Lord Joicey, a famous coal mine owner and one of the wealthiest Liberal peers of Great Britain. His lordship has purchased nearly 24,000 acres of mixed farm and dairy land in the vicinity of Fort George, for which he paid $450,000. Captain Hulton, who was responsible for the Sutherland and Desborough deals, is negotiating for a sale to a Dutch merchant 50,000 acres in Saskatchewan.

Buys in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, Sept. 24.—A large tract of land, including a number of farms in Pictou county, Nova Scotia, has been purchased by a representative of Hon. Rupert Guiness, M. P., of England, through the Nova Scotia government's department of industry and immigration. The intention of Mr. Guiness is to place a number of young Englishmen on the property and eventually enable them to acquire ownership. If the scheme works out Mr. Guiness will extend it. The purchase of the property covers crops, stock and implements.

DEATH OF CENTENARIAN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

COBOURG, Ont., Sept. 24.—The oldest resident of Northumberland county, Charlotte Potts, wife of the late G. F. Bull, has just died at her home in Brighton at the age of 101 years, 7 months and 13 days. Of her family of nine children, six daughters and three sons, only three are living. One is Manlius Bull of Winnipeg. Mrs. Bull was born in Plymouth, England, and emigrated with her father, a ship carpenter, to Canada about 1814. She lived under six British sovereigns.

Gildea's left arm and left leg were severed from his body and he died 20 minutes after the accident occurred.

(Special to The Daily News.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—On the wheat market trading was dull and quiet in futures although prices were stronger on the unfavorable weather in the three provinces for threshing operations. The opening features were ⅛@⅜c higher, following which the market was steady and fluctuations narrow. American markets opened erratic and undecided, but following the opening held steady while Liverpool cables were ⅛c lower at closing. Winnipeg closed ⅛@¼c higher, Minneapolis, ⅜@⅝c higher and Chicago ⅛@⅜c higher. There was a general advance of ¾c in corn and ¼c in oats.

CONSOLS DECLINE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Money and discount rates were quiet today. The stock market was quiet pending the settlement tomorrow. The mining carryover today was arranged at unchanged rates. New business was small. Consols declined and foreign securities were unsettled owing to the Balkan situation. Home Rails and Kaffirs advanced in the afternoon and Canadian Rails were in quiet demand during the day.

NEW YORK MARKET MAKES NEW RECORD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—After backing and filling within a narrow range for the first four hours today the stock market suddenly resumed its upward course in the last hour, incidentally establishing more high records for the year. Amalgamated and Anaconda went to their best figures since 1910 as a result, in a large part, of the increase in the Anaconda quarterly dividend from 50 to 75 cents per share. Inasmuch as Amalgamated owns Anaconda it will profit materially by the higher dividend. The balance of the list moved in harmony with the coppers although some of the standard railroad issues were relatively backward. Reading and Lehigh Valley were in demand toward the close with equal strength.

London sold 15,000 shares here principally coppers and steel. The monetary situation at that centre was responsible for some uneasiness although discounts were unchanged. Call money rose to 5 per cent again here but most loans were made under that rate. Time money was easier. Practically all dates shades ¼ per cent.

POWER CONTINUES ACTIVE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—Trading in Power continued active in the afternoon and buying of Textile was resumed on a scale sufficient to advance the price from 76 to 77. Power opened strong around 229¾@230 and later sold at 229½. Torails moved up to 144½ and Canadian Cottons to 52½, a new high mark. The balance of the list showed small changes. A block of 500 shares steel was taken a fraction down at 64½. Detroit was easier at 73½. Richelieu 117 and Cement 27⅛. Laurentide sold at 241, equal to 266, a new high mark.

MINING NEWS.

SURVEY TRAMWAY FOR EUREKA MINE

But Construction Has Not Been Decided Upon, Says Acting Manager of Copper Company.

Surveyors are making a preliminary survey for the proposed tramway for the Eureka mine on Eagle creek, which is under bond to the British Columbia Copper company, but it has not yet been definitely decided to proceed with construction, stated Frederick Keffer of Greenwood, acting manager of the big Boundary copper company, at the Strathcona.

Twenty-one men are at present engaged on thoroughly prospecting the property, said Mr. Keffer, who left yesterday for the L. H. mine near Silverton which is also under bond to his company. Extensive prospecting is being carried out at this property. A wagon road is being built to provide a means of transportation for supplies.

COLONIAL TO SHIP ORE STEADILY

Payne Is Now Using Machine Drills—Slocan Star Vein Is Looking Well.

(Special to The Daily News.)

SANDON, B.C., Sept. 24.—A. J. Copeland, who owns the Colonial, is in town, putting on more men and getting things in shape to ship steadily this winter. They have 10 inches of good ore.

The Payne mine is now working with machine drills. George W. Clark, the superintendent, has had considerable trouble in getting his machinery shipped in, but he now has everything in *working order and is making good head*way with the long tunnel.

There are no new developments at the Slocan Star. The vein is looking well, with a little galena scattered through. They are not yet under the ore shoot they are driving for.

The Hope mine shipped a large car of ore last week.

The packers are now bringing down ore from the Reco mine.

W. M. Bennett, who was in town, says the buildings at the McAllister mine on North Fork are about completed. He went up to the Mountain Con, where they are driving a long tunnel.

Alex Smith, of the Surprise mine, was in town. He has 3,000 feet of lumber to be hauled up to the mine. Since the long raise was broken through steady development has been going on. No ore will be shipped until the work mapped out has been done.

SILVER HOARD SHIPS THIRD CAR OF ORE

(Special to The Daily News.)

AINSWORTH, B.C., Sept. 24.—Another car of high grade ore left here on Thursday last on the steamer Kokanee, consigned by the Silver Hoard mine. This is the third car shipped. All the ore has been taken from the crosscut at the 50-foot level.

W. S. Hawley, manager for the Silver Hoard, states that they have not *taken out any ore except from the cross*cuts and that when they commence stoping that they will be able to take out from 10 to 20 tons a day.

E. R. Davidson, manager of the Eureka mine at Kaslo, passed through here on Saturday morning from Spokane. He was joined by W. S. Hawley and E. E. Ward of the Silver Hoard.

The large cables for the new tram line are now being hauled into place. This tram line extends from the No. 1 mine to Cedar creek and is being built by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company.

Telephone connections are now completed between the No. 1 mine, the Highland mine and the Cedar creek mill. It is expected that connections will be made with the town shortly.

Another car of ore from the No. 1 mine is now ready for shipment. This is the 22nd car shipped during the present company's operations.

DIAMOND DISCOVERIES IN BELGIAN CONGO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRUSSELS, Sept. 24.—In a report on the recent discovery of diamonds in the Belgian Congo, it is said that the largest discoveries were made in the Kassai district near the Portuguese frontier. Six hundred were found there by the Compagnie Forestiers et Miniere, which combines the Societie Generale de Belgique and the Guggenheim-Ryan company of New York. The stones, if not so valuable as those of the Kimberley mines, are probably more valuable than those found in German southwest Africa. British prospectors have also made important finds in the Katanga district and smaller finds along the Mu*teadale river.*

MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE ON WAY TO WEST

INDIAN HEAD, Sask., Sept. 24.—The Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, spent today in Indian Head, inspecting the Dominion experimental and forestry farms. He ex*pressed himself as well pleased with* the extent and the quality of the yield, not only on the experimental farm but throughout the district. He left tonight for Calgary accompanied by Mrs. Burrell in the government car "Ottawa," enroute to British Columbia, where he will accompany the governor general through the Okanagan district.

PRIESTS CENSURED BY VATICAN

Accepted Pensions From Republican Government in Portugal—Action Scandalous, Declares Pope.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 24.—The vatican has just issued a strong censure of the Portuguese ecclesiastics who have accepted pensions, on the disestablishment of their sees, from the government in Lisbon. When the republican government separated church and state, it sequestrated the livings of a great number of priests. Eight hundred of these accepted the pensions offered them by the government, in consequence of the loss they had suffered and addressed a letter to the vatican in which they explained that they had done this in what they considered the best interests of the country, considering it better to acknowledge the republic rather than to withdraw their spiritual services from the people. The censure of the vatican is of the strongest nature. It declares their action to be scandalous and their position impossible, implying, as it does, a recognition of the iniquitous law of separation which has been solemnly condemned by the holy see. What action the priests will take in these circumstances has not yet been divulged.

OLD WATCH HOUSE BEING DEMOLISHED

Recalls Memories of Early Days—Find Pipes Buried With Victims of Plague.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Rarely does a new tourist season come around but visitors look in vain for some of the "sights" of old London described in the guide books. They are all gradually disappearing. Now the old London watch house, adjoining St. Bol tolphs churchyard in Bishopsgate, is being demolished.

The history of the quaint little building is somewhat prosaic, considering the stirring times of its earlier existence. Nevertheless, it carries with it interesting memories of a time when the men engaged in the policing of London carried their lives in their hands more often than they do today. It is one of the last institutions of the kind in the city and when it gives place to modern business premises a link with the past will be missing. Erected in 1771, while James Townsend was alderman at Bishopsgate ward, it was enlarged in 1829. John Yerbury took over the old building in 1865, when it was decided to build a new police station and vacate the watch house. His son and grandson, W. H. Yerbury and S. H. Yerbury, were unaware of the enlargement until a few days ago, when it was revealed through the uncovering of an inscribed stone by the workmen. "There used to be cells when we came here in 1865," remarked S. H. Yerbury to visitors, "but of course they passed away during reconstruction for business purposes. The cells in the basement are now a cellar. The fountain in the churchyard used to be beside the old watch house, close to the front of the railings in Bishopsgate, but it was moved owing to the spray splashing foot passengers. In the watch house, I believe, was simply a house of detention for drunks who wanted to get into the city and who were not admitted. They were kept here until next morning, when they were taken down to Old street and tried."

Mr. Yerbury has found a lot of old clay pipes on the site. He says that according to one authority these were used by those engaged in the burial of the victims of the London plague, and that they were buried with them.

HALF MILLION WORKERS TO STRIKE IN BELGIUM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRUSSELS, Sept. 24.—A great general strike is projected by the Socialists of Belgium in support of universal suffrage amendment to the constitution. Hostilities against the government which has resolutely set its face against the desired legislation will begin in November.

Half a million workers, it is calculated, will be involved in the strike, which it is proposed, shall last six weeks at a cost to their funds esti*mated at $10,000,000.* The railways, the postal and telephone services, mines, docks, arsenals, factories and workshops of all kinds are to be involved in what promoters contend will be a bloodless campaign. Women seem as earnest as the men in the propaganda, which reaches throughout Belgium. Promises of substantial financial support have been received, the committee officials aver, from the United States, France, England, Germany, Sweden and elsewhere and arrangements have been completed according to the same authorities to send 40,000 children to temporary homes in the north of France on the declaration of the strike.

They will go there on account of the state of the Kaiser's health. A high official of the German court has arrived at Nervi to complete the necessary arrngements.

EXPERT WILL INVESTIGATE POSSIBILITIES FOR TOBACCO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—Tobacco culture is being extended to British Columbia. The first trial of the crop was made last year in the Okanagan valley. The yield and quality were so satisfactory that a considerable acreage was put in this year. The minister of agriculture's attention has been called to the possibility of developing a tobacco industry on the Pacific and he is sending F. Charles, the Dominion tobacco expert, to make an examination and report on the tobacco possibilities of British Columbia and setting in the way they should go those who have started with tobacco.

RIVER NAVIGATION IS SOON TO CLOSE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PEACE RIVER CROSSING, Alta., Sept. 24.—River navigation on the northland streams is fast drawing to a close. On Friday morning last the Grenfell left Peace River Crossing for Vermillion on her final trip down stream for this season. The Hudson's Bay boat followed suit on Sunday, both steamers being filled for one voyage up stream on their return.

Up river navigation beyond St. John finishes now for this year, owing to the remarkably low state of the water.

NATURAL GAS TO SUPPLY PRINCE ALBERT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PRINCE ALBERT, Sept. 24.—A party of officials and officers of the Prince Albert Oil & Development com*pany today visited the scene of bor*ing operations going on near here for natural gas. The trip followed the passing of the bylaw on Saturday, granting this company a 20 years franchise to supply the city with gas exclusively. The indications so far in evidence at a depth of 500 feet, are of the best and those behind the proposition are confident of locating very *soon one of the most remarkable na*tural gas wells yet discovered.

SON, DRIVING TRUCK, RUNS OVER FATHER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—Samuel McDowell, the aged father of Sergt. Jim McDowell of the city police force, was run over, sustaining fatal injuries by automobile truck No.105, driven by his son, Samuel McDowell. He was riding beside his son on the truck when the machine skidded throwing him violently to the ground. Before he could rise the left hind wheel of the vehicle had passed over his body.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Col. Clement Jacobs, for 17 years director of the Salvation Army emigration to Canada has been appointed director of the Bontead colony of the Salvation Army, an enterprise with a chequered career. The appointment is adversely criticized on the ground that Jacobs lacks knowledge of agricultural matters.

FEAR FOR FATE OF SAILING VESSELS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 24.—Great anxiety is felt for the safety of three sailing ships outward bound from Sydney and Newcastle and reinsurance has been made at a high figure. The bark Fido, 159 days out from Sydney to Falmouth, is quoted at five guineas per cent. The Celtic Glen, 86 days out from Newcastle to Iquique, 20 guineas; the Mount Carmel, 103 days from Sydney to Iquique, 10 guineas.

PREMIER'S NAVAL SPEECH AROUSES MUCH INTEREST

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Premier Borden's speech at Montreal has aroused considerable interest here, several of the newspapers having long special despatches. The Pall Mall Gazette says nothing is more significant than the fact that among those demanding that the naval issue be divorced from party politics in Canada are Macdonald of the Toronto Globe and Dfoe of the Winnipeg Press, both leading organs of Liberal opinion.

PICKPOCKETS BUSY AT FAIR GROUNDS

"Hold Tight to Your Bags, Ladies," Says Chief of Police—Man Loses Pocketbook.

Pickpockets were busy at the fair grounds and in the exhibition building yesterday and Chief of Police Young last night issued a warning to those who attend today, advising them to watch their pocketbooks and jewelry. He made special reference to ladies' handbags, which he said were a particularly easy mark for the light-fingered gentry.

Yesterday afternoon a woman complained that she had had her bag filched and a man reported that his pocketbook had been stolen.

The police are watching the men whom they believe to be the guilty persons and hope to land them in the cooler if any more depredations are attempted. Several plain clothes men are aiding the city force in looking for suspicious characters.

AINSWORTH MINISTER RETURNS TO TORONTO

(Special to The Daily News.)

AINSWORTH, B. C., Sept. 24.—T. G. London, who has filled the pulpit here for the summer months, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday. Mr. London has been a very faithful worker here with the Sunday school and church work and the congregations are sorry to lose him. He will return to Queens university at Kingston where he intends to resume his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd of Proctor called here on Saturday last in their launch. They visited the hot springs and a few old acquaintances. Mr. Boyd is manager of the Proctor Motor Boat & Launch Livery. J. J. Greenlee returned to Proctor with them.

William A. Moore, who has been spending his vacation here for the last two months, started out on Saturday on his return trip to Montreal where he will take his fourth year in medicine.

Miss Anna McKinnon left here on Thursday last bound for Vancouver. She will visit Sandon and Three Forks while on her way.

One of the finest football matches ever witnessed was played on Thursday last at Bluebell between the Bluebell boys and the Proctor aggregation. The game was free of roughness and quite fast, resulting in a score of 3-1 in favor of the home team.

Many from here intend visiting the Nelson fruit fair. The most talked of feature on the program is the flying of the aeroplane.

The work of putting in the new cement floors in the basement of H. Giegerich's departmental store is now completed and arrangements are being made to put a new cement foundation under the rear warehouse. When this is completed coal bins will be made to hold several cars of coal, which will immediately be put into stock.

A large consignment of trunks, suitcases and club-bags arrived on Saturday for the new department in H. Giegerich's store.

VICARAGE BUILT BY VOLUNTARY LABOR

New Clergyman for Edgewood Will Arrive Next Month—Tenders for Telephone Construction.

(Special to The Daily News.)

EDGEWOOD, B. C., Sept. 24.—The temporary vicarage for the accommodation of Rev. Mr. Montgomery, the incoming curate of the Episcopal church in Edgewood, is now nearing completion. It has been built entirely by voluntary labor, and the result is a credit to those who have given time and labor in its erection.

Rev. Mr. Montgomery is expected to arrive from England early in October.

A meeting of the directors of the Edgewood Rural Telephone company is to be held in the office of the Edgewood Estate company on Saturday evening, 28th inst. The material for the erection of the pole line through Fire Valley is now on hand, and tenders will be called immediately for construction.

Grant Davis has placed a contract with McLeod & York, builders of Nelson, for the immediate enlargement of the Edgewood hotel. The plans involve the addition of some 20 new rooms which include a large private dining room, sitting rooms, new kitchen, bath rooms and new and larger bar arrangements. The new hotel as completed will have a frontage of almost 70 feet on the lake front, with a fine veranda 10 feet wide running the full length. The entire improvements as outlined involve an expenditure of between $5,000 and $6,000.

A. York, Nelson contractor, has recently been installing extensions and improvements to the post office and J. W. Banting's store. Mr. Banting reports a marked increase in the amount of local business within the last few months, the post office returns now running into big figures.

Angus McIntosh is busy with the construction of a new house and barn on the corner of Valley and Cedar streets. He is putting up sufficient buildings for the housing and accommodation of his land-clearing outfit.

F. W. Ford is arranging a hunting party for the first week in October. Dr. Church and other visitors are expected to join, when a week's camping in the Gold mountains will be enjoyed.

Alf Williams and W. B. Johnston returned from the hills the end of the week reporting very good sport with deer and bear. After spending the week-end in town they returned on Monday.

An informal dance was held in the Banting hall on Saturday evening. There was a fine attendance including the new family recently arrived. A very enjoyable time was spent till a few minutes past midnight.

Rev. P. S. Grove held divine service in Edgewood on Sunday noon and evening. The congregation at the Church of England is constantly growing.

Henry Murton with his wife and family of five arrived in edgewood the latter part of the week and are now staying at the Edgewood hotel while preparing to move into their newly finished house. J. W. Ford has been in communication with Mr. Murton for almost two years and during that time has carried out for him clearing, planting and building, so that now on arrival in the country the family is able to take up their immediate residence on their own property, which next year will be in condition to produce a very fair return. Their arrival is a distinct acquisition to Edgewood inasmuch as the family are musically inclined, Miss May Murton holding degrees in the Royal College of Music and the Royal Academy of Music.

Dr. Basil E. Church arrived in Edgewood at the beginning of the week on a three weeks' visit, coming via Revelstock from Minchinhampton, Gloucestershire, England. He expressed himself as delighted with the scenery and apparent resources of the great country through which he had passed, the Arrow lakes making a particular appeal to him. While here he will make arrangements for the further development of his property and the building of a bungalow to be in readiness next spring.

J. W. Ford's launch "Edgewood" left at noon on Monday for West Robson with a party of visitors for the Nelson fruit fair. A few days will be spent in Nelson during which time the new arrivals will have an opportunity of inspecting the agricultural resources of the Kootenays.

Word has been received from Rev. Mr. Donaldson, Presbyterian minister of Edgewood, who is at present under treatment in the Kootenay Lake General hospital, to the effect that he is entirely cured and expects to be back in Edgewood among his friends once more next Wednesday. In high terms he speaks of the way he has been treated by all at the hospital, praising matron and nurses for their ability, attention and thoughtful care to all under their charge.

A Few Days without Tea or Coffee

may show you exactly what causes your trouble.

It's worth more than a ton of tea or coffee to feel well and comfortable again.

It's easy to quit tea and coffee when there's a good, rich, steaming cup of in its place; and the Postum puts one a long ways ahead on the Road to Wellville, because it supplies the food elements that rebuild the system tea or coffee has broken down.

These are eternal facts, proven by trial.

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY BACK IN MONTREAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy returned from his annual inspection trip to the west today "Everybody in the west appears satisfied," said the C. P. R. president "and there is no reason why they should not be, for the farmers of the west are the richest agricultural people in the world. The grain crop will be a bountiful one, but the wet weather is retarding the harvest and delaying the movement of the crop and this will mean a very short shipping season. We made ample preparations for the harvest before it is ready, and under the existing conditions we can only do the best we can. I do not anticipate the difficulties some of our friends are predicting regarding the movement of the grain from the west. Of course, there will be a tremendous rush—I trust we will always have that—but with a reasonable degree of patience, everything will work out all right in the end."

CARDIFF LAW SOCIETY OPPOSED TO WOMEN LAWYERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 24.—The law society of Cardiff is opposed to women practicing law. A resolution in favor of the admission of women to the bar was defeated at the annual meeting of the society today. The resolution also urged the council of the society to support a bill that is to be introduced in parliament enabling women to practice. The chief ground for this opposition was that competition by women would be injurious to men who practice law.

AT THE THEATRES.

Last evening the popular Wheeler Players produced to a well pleased audience at the opera house the well known dramatized novel of Rex Beach's "Friends." Miss Chamberlain excelled herself and the whole production was well staged and costumed. The company is a well balanced one and as a rule rendered excellent support to the leading lady. The specialties between acts were good and and the company should draw good audiences for the rest of the week. New plays will be presented each evening and on Saturday there will be a special matinee.

Subjects of more than ordinary interest are included in the program at the Gem theatre this evening. In "Motor Boat Races" is a picturesque view of the little wave splashes exceeding the speed limit on the high seas. "Strides of Fish Life" is a very interesting series of aquarian pictures, focussed right on the bottom of the sea. "Bergen, Norway," a portrayal of the beauties of nature. "The Girl Bandit's Hoodoo" present Kalem's two-star commediennes in a novel farce, and "The Miller of Burgundy," Selig, is a picturesque drama of modern day peasantry.

NO MORE CORNS

No More Dangerous Paring.

Nobody needs to suffer from corns since "Exterminator" was invented. Millions apply this little plaster. The pain stops instantly. Then the "Exterminator" gently loosens the corn. In few days the whole corn comes out—root, callous and all.

"Exterminator" has done that for millions of corns, without any soreness, any trouble, any delay or discomfort.

Common treatments mean just a brief relief. "Exterminator" ends the corn. Paring a corn just removes the top layer. The main part is left to grow, and in millions of cases paring causes infection.

All those methods are wrong. Soon or late the corn must be removed. Why trifle and delay? "Exterminator" removes it in four days. In the meantime you forget it.

Please prove this—for your own sake. It is the only right way to treat corns. If not satisfied money back.

"Exterminator" corn plaster, 50 cents package. Sold by John Swan, Sandon, B.C., Canada. 139-1a.w-10

COMPETITION FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Architects Invited to Send Plans for New Government Buildings at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—The architects of Canada and the empire are to be invited to submit plans for a new departmental building or group of buildings to be constructed along the bank of the Ottawa river west of the parliament buildings. The land has been acquired by the government and the former owners are now being settled with by agreement or arbitration Space is urgently demanded by the departments of the government in Ottawa which have been scattered through the office buildings of the city in an effort to find room for them The late government was about to erect a big office building on Sussex street, but before a contract could be let, they lost authority to close the bargain.

Some years ago the Liberal government had a competition among architects for a departmental building. The prizes ran up into the thousands and most of the architects of Canada competed. The results were disappointing. Of a score of plans submitted three were awarded prizes, but none were thought good enough to build from. It is stated that Canadian architecture has made great progress since that time and that such a competition today would produce some splendid designs.

It is probable that the first prize will be $25,000 and the competition will be limited to architects and architectural firms of Canada and Great Britain.

WANT TO CLOSE PICTURE SHOWS ON SUNDAY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Owing to the preferential treatment extended by the London county council to picture show theatres, whereby they have been granted permission to remain open on Sundays, a strong objection has been raised by those who consider that such permission should not be granted and that no places of amusement should be allowed to remain open on Sunday.

The institution known as the Imperial Sunday Alliance, has written a long letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury, urging his grace to give them his support in taking such measures as will result in the closing of the picture show theatre.

ARBITRATORS AWARD IN FAVOR OF MINERS

The wage of four shillings and seven pence a day will be continued and not reduced and other work will be given those miners who are unable to earn wages.

MORRISON CANDIDATE IN MACDONALD

Will Be Representative of Conservative Party in Approaching By-Election in Manitoba.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—At the Conservation convention for the constituency of Macdonald, Alex Morrison of Carman was chosen as the candidate of the party for the election which falls on Oct. 12. Mr. Morrison is president of the Conservative association of the constituency and is a prominent farmer with distinctly protectionist leanings. His name has been mentioned for some time in connection with the vacancy and it was thought that a representative of the farmers would make a better showing than some one from the city. The meeting was afterwards addressed by the nominee, Sir Redmond Roblin, with Sanford Evans and Aime Benard, M. P. P.

Many Horses Entered—Fifteen Event on Second Day—Fair Opens on Thursday.

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Sept. 24.—Eight horses have already reached Grand Forks and a score more are expected to reach the city tomorrow to take part in the two days' race meet being held here Thursday and Friday in connection with the fall fair. The entire program of races is already filled, entries coming from Spokane, Nespelium, Colville and Republic, Wash., Midway and Keremeos and the fair directors have decided to add an additional race to the program—a 2:40 trot. The free-for-all trot or pace for a purse of $300 will be one of the nine track events of the first day and is arousing a great deal of interest locally. The first half of the relay race will also be pulled off the first day. For the second day there are 15 events on the program.

The fair will be officially opened at 1 p. m. on Thursday by Hon. Price Ellison, provincial minister of agriculture who will also inaugurate the race program. The entries for the exhibition indicate that they will far exceed in number that of any previous fair in this city.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR TRAIL FAIR

Good Attractions Arranged—Rossland Board of Trade Sends Large Exhibit—Special Train.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Sept. 24.—Trail's second annual fruit fair promises to completely eclipse the show last year. The management have gone to considerable trouble to obtain the best entertainment available. The entries are larger than ever anticipated and all that is now necessary is decent treatment from the weather clerk. The Rossland board of trade sent down a large exhibit this morning which had been got together by President J. S. Deschamps and A. J. Long. There is a special train running from Rossland to Trail every afternoon at 1:45 p.m., which is likely to be well patronized.

The annual meeting of the Union Co-operative shareholders will be held on Sunday evening, Sept. 29, at 7 o'clock.

H. M. Hammford is in town making arrangements for the coming of Prof. W. B. Batty, who will give demonstrations with radium, liquid air and wireless telegraphy.

Mrs. A. M. Betts has returned from a four months' trip to the east. Mr. Betts met her at Revelstoke and accompanied her home.

Mrs. Dan Thomas and Mrs. H. J. Senecebox leave tomorrow morning to be the judges of fancy work at the Trail fair. From there they will proceed to Grand Forks and Greenwood to act in a similar capacity.

Mrs. John Fluhrer went to Trail last night on hearing of the accident to her brother, Mr. Hoefer.

The Baseball club and city band will give a dance in the armory on Friday, Sept. 27. The music will be good, as Conductor Charles Miles has intimated that he will put on his full band on that occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton of Toronto, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, leave for the coast cities tomorrow from where they will go back to their home in Toronto.

Bert Hunter, of Hunter Bros., is in town from Spokane.

Rev. H. W. Simpson is expected to return from the old country on Thursday next when he will again assume his duties at St. George's church.

The Moose entertainment will take place in Oddfellows' hall tonight, not the Miners' Union hall.

RESPONSIBILITY WITH RETAILER

Chief Inspector Under Fruit Marks Act in City—Act Will Be Enforced.

G. O. Baxter, chief inspector under the Fruit Marks act, for Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, who has been in Nelson for the last couple of days acquainting himself with conditions in the fruit growing sections of the Kootenay, speaks interestingly of his work. Since his appointment to the position in June last he has been engaged in reorganizing the fruit inspection staff of the three provinces over which he has been placed in charge.

With the object of seeing that the act is properly enforced inspectors are now stationed at Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton, on the prairies, and Kenora, Ontario. The inspectors at each one of these districts attend to the duties of their position not only in the city in which they are located, but also in all the adjoining smaller centres.

In connection with the inspection of American fruit coming in Mr. Baxter says that it makes little or no difference whether this is marked according to the Canadian Fruit Marks act when shipped across the border. Under that act the responsibility rests with the retailer. Section 321 of this act, for example, provides:

"321. No person shall sell, or offer, expose or have in his possession for sale, any fruit packed,—

(a) In a closed package and intended for sale unless such package is marked as required by the provisions of this act.

(b) In a closed package, upon which package is marked any designation which represents such fruit as of,—

(i) Fancy quality, unless such fruit consists of well grown specimens of one variety, sound, of uniform and of at least normal size and of good color for the variety, or normal shape, free from worm holes, bruises, scab and other defects, and properly packed.

(ii) No. 1 quality, unless such fruit includes no culls, and consists of well grown specimens of one variety, sound of not less than medium size and of good color for the variety, of normal shape and not less than ninety per cent free from scab, worm holes, bruises and other defects, and properly packed.

(iii) No. 2 quality, unless such fruit includes no culls, and consists of specimens of not less than nearly size for the variety, and not less than eighty per cent free from worm holes, and such other defects as cause material waste, and properly packed.

(c) In any package in which the faced or shown surface gives a false representation of the contents of such package; and it shall be considered a false representation when more than fifteen per cent of such fruit is substantially smaller in size than, or inferior in grade to, or different in variey from, the faced or shown surface of such package. I-E VIII, c27, ss 5 and 7, 6 E VII, c15, s. 2; 7-8 E. VII, c55, s. 8."

The only way in Mr. Baxter's opinion that the provisions of the act can be made to apply to American fruit is through the retailer, who, as shown, is liable for any contravention of its provisions. In this connection he points to the fact that American growers very often consign their shipments to themselves. A shipment may arrive and within a few hours be disposed of to retailers, in some cases even before the inspectors know of its arrival. In such cases it would be impossible to proceed against the vendor as it is impossible to proceed against the grower on the other side of the international boundary line. By making the retailers responsible the government, by the enforcement of this law, has made certain the proper grading for American fruit offered for sale in Canada.

Mr. Baxter added that every reasonable measure would be taken to enforce the Fruit Marks act in its entirety and to this end he and his inspectors under him were devoting their best energies. So far as the Fruit Marks act provided protection for the Canadian consumer and at the same time the Canadian producer, both would have it.
