NEW GOVERNMENT FACES REBELLION

Three Governors Refuse to Recognize Adminstrtion

MADERO'S BROTHERS ORGANIZING ARMY

United States Government Still Prepared for Intervention

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21—It is certain that the new administration in Mexico must deal with a new revolution in addition to the remnants of the old one. Three governors of states in the republic formally have refused to recognize Provisional President Huerta, and two or three others are doubtful.

Governor Carranza of Coahuila, with 1200 men, is working with Emilio and Raoul Madero, brothers of the deposed president, who are at San Pedro, Madero's old home near Saltillo, which is Carraza's base. Jose Gayou, former governor of Sonora, offering him 3,000 men and two million pesos to restore Madero to office. Governor Maytorena has telegraphed the senate and provisional President Huerta, repudiating the new administration. The governor of Yucatan, ignorant of the death *of Gustavo Madero, has wired him of*fering the services of 1,200 men and an amount of money to assist in the revolution.

What will be done with ex-President Madero has not yet been determined. Juan Sanchez, Madero's private secretary, is a prisoner at Puebla. It was reported today that he had been shot, but the report proved untrue.

Diaz Will Return

General Porfirio Diaz, ex-president of the republic, who has been in exile in Europe, is coming home. There is not the slightest danger that he will again mix in the politics of Mexico but his enforced exile is ended. Word was received today from Paris that within a short time General Diaz will again be in his private residence in Cudemasta, an interested spectator of the development of the new regime.

President's Busy Day

It was a busy day for President Huerta and the new cabinet. While yesterday was the day of organization, today was one of felicitation, and the *inauguration of the multitudinous af*fairs of the government. Scores of commissioners, official and otherwise, visited the national palace to pay their respects to the new president. Men went to the palace who had not been seen there since Porfirio Diaz went out of office, among them General Garcia Cullerar, who was Diaz' chief of staff.

Men who had been political prisoners until yesterday, were among those seeking an audience, all wandering, during the period of waiting, about the ancient salons, looking for chances. They found one notable one, and that was the absence from the walls of the portraits of Porfirio Diaz. Already steps to remove the discarded pictures from the museum have been taken in hand.

Felix Diaz was among the callers, an interested spectator at the official reception of the government commissions. His only participation, however, was that of a private citizen, a role he has assumed. He is not idle, though. Already he and close friends have set in motion the machinery and the party formed for his political campaign, which it is hoped by the new administration will be finished in a short time.

Has Difficult Task

There is no good reason to believe however that President Huerta will find the task of pacification simple or particularly short. The awe inspired by cannon doubtless will have a repressive effect in the capital, but many with whom rebellion has become more or less a profession, will probably continue the strife. Disquieting reports also continue to arrive from the interior from the disgruntled governors and political leaders in many parts of the republic.

General Pascual Orozco, jr., is ex*pected to arrive here soon* and espouse the cause of the new administration, but it is considered not improbable many others will refuse to support the government.

The most concerted action undoubtedly is that concerning Governor Car*ranza in the state of Coahuila, where* two brothers of the deposed president are organizing a force with the purpose of wresting the government from Huerta and avenging the death of their other brother, Gustavo.

As a nucleus of their army they have a force of irregulars and are said to be able to augment this number with considerable numbers of other recruits. In the south it is not improbable that Castello Brito, the governor of Campeechi, will support an anti-government movement.

The stake for which both sides will play is the support of General Emilinao Zapati, who controls far too many men to be ignored. The government claims to have the advantage as Zapati has expressed a willingness to cease fighting, asking only for a change in the governorship in the state of Morelos.

Diaz is Here.

In the capital General Diaz continues the popular hero. The playing of "The Felix Diaz March" in the restaurants is still the signal for applause.

Provisional President Huerta's peace program, as outlined to the newspaper men, if carried out, means merciless repression if repression should be necessary. In effect it is a promise to use the iron hand policy employed so effectively by Porfirio Diaz when he was president.

What was talked of by Madero and Suarez and their wives, who were permitted to see the prisoners for the first time today, is not known. The guards, out of consideration, busied themselves on the opposite side of the room from the two couples, but they say that it was plainly evident that the prisoners and their wives were deeply affected.

Just outside the door and along the wall were mounted machine guns. Today probably will be the last interview Senoras Madero and Suarez will have with their husbands. The two women attempted to see President Huerta but on account of the press of official business he was unable to receive them. An appointment was made for an interview for tomorrow.

That either ex-President Madero or ex-Vice-president Suarez will be exe*cuted is not probable, but a group of* deputies will make an earnest effort to fix upon Madero the responsibility for the alleged disappearance from the national treasury of much money.

The first reception of the diplomatic corps was held today. President Huerta, replying to a brief address made by Ambassador Wilson, said that earnest efforts would be made to restore peace as quickly as possible.

The senate today voted to suspend debate on the hundred million pesos loan.

Will Restore Peace.

COAL EXHAUSTED BURNED WOODWORK

Vessel's Fierce Fight With Atlantic Storm—Allan Liner Three Days Overdue.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 21.—So fierce and continuous was the gale encountered by the steamer Batiscan on her three weeks' journey from Antwerp that her entire supply of bunker coal was consumed in mid-ocean and to save her from being wholly helpless, the fires had to be fed with timber chopped from the woodwork of the ship by the crew. By using this fuel they succeeded in bringing the Batiscan to safe anchorage in Halifax harbor tonight. She will bunker 150 tons of coal before proceeding to Delaware breakwater with a light cargo. She is a modern self-trimming collier and chartered by the Dominion Coal company.

The Allan liner Mongolia, three days overdue from Liverpool, arrived tonight. No word had been received from her until today, when fears for her safety were dissipated.

LORD CHANCELLOR COMES TO MONTREAL

Has Secured Consent of King to Leaving England—Guest of Bar Association

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Viscount Haldane, the lord high chancellor, will be the guest of the American Bar association and will deliver the address at the annual meeting of the association which is to be held at Montreal, Sept. 1, next.

The lord chancellor, as soon as he received the invitation which was tendered through Frank B. Kellogg, expressed his personal desire to accept, but as he is the holder of the great seal of state he had to secure the consent of the King to leave the country during his term of office. This he has now received.

In formally accepting the invitation of the bar association, Viscount Haldane write:

"I esteem the invitation as an exceptional honor and I look forward to the pleasure of meeting the great lawyers of the United States and Canada."

GALICIAN TRIES TO SHOOT CONSTABLE

Fires Revolver at Pedestrian—Pursued and Shot by Policeman in Edmonton

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 21.—Police Officer Gregg had tonight a revolver pointed in his face and the trigger pulled by a drunken Galician named J. Dineto. Fortunately the gun missed fire. Dineto then started to run and the policeman shot him down, wounding him in both legs with two bullets.

The adventure took place about 7:30 o'clock in a dark alley off Namayo avenue. Dineto had been creating a disturbance in the district and discharged his revolver at a pedestrian whom he narrowly avoided wounding. Officer Gregg, who was on his beat nearby, started in pursuit and ran down his man after a short chase, when Dineto attempted to shoot his pursuer and was shot down in turn.

ITALIAN ROBBED ON STREETS AT VANCOUVER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 21.—Shadowing their fellow countryman through the busy crowds that thronged Hastings street yesterday afternoon, two Italians caught up with A. Giovanni about 7 o'clock last evening, grabbed a bank roll which contained $1,320 in bank of Montreal bills, and made a safe getaway before the alarm was given.

PROMISE FERRY; TAGHUM BRIDGE

Both to Be Included in Provincial Estimates

TO BEGIN WORK ON YMIR ROAD

Fred A. Starkey; Board of Trade Delegate to Victoria, Returns With News

Taghum bridge and the ferry at Nelson will be completed this year, work on the proposed road between Nelson and Ymir will be carried on and hopes are entertained that additional links in the section of the trans-provincial highway between Nelson and Cascade will be built during the coming summer.

This was the information brought by Fred A. Starkey from Victoria, who went to the capital as a delegate from the Nelson board of trade to support the Rossland and Boundary people in their demand for the completion of the section of the trunk road from Rossland to Cascade and through to Nelson.

Delegates from the other cities who went with Mr. Starkey were Mayor Deschamps of Rossland, Mayor McLaine of Greenwood and Jeff Davis, former mayor of Grand Forks. C. I. Archibald of Salmo also accompanied the delegates in their interviews with the members of the government.

James H. Schofield, M.P.P.; J. R. Jackson, M.P.P.; W. R. MacLean, M.P.P.; Ernest Miller, M.P.P.; and Lorne A. Campbell, M.P.P., the local members for the districts immediately concerned, gave strong support to the delegation, said Mr. Starkey yesterday.

After the delegation and the local members had presented their case for the completion of the Nelson-Cascade road and had emphasized the large amount of revenue which is paid by the district to the provincial coffers Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, said that he could not give a promise that the road would be completed this year, but the members of the legislature concerned expressed their intention of doing as much work as possible. The delegation pointed out to the government that under present conditions some of the most important districts were without road connections and that the trunk highway from Nelson to the Boundary was an absolute necessity to the progress of the district.

Bridge and Ferry Promised.

The minister, however, gave the definite promise that the bridge at Taghum and the ferry at Nelson would be built this year, that provision for both projects would be included in the estimates. He explained that the delay in the construction of the ferry was due to a change in the type of machinery to be used. An order had practically been given for the building of the ferry, but it had had to be withdrawn on account of the machinery difficulty. This had now been overcome and the work would be proceeded with at an early date, said the minister.

During the interview with the prime minister, Sir Richard McBride, Mr. Starkey emphasized the serious situation on the west arm which was due to there being practically no means of communication between Nelson and the north shore when the lake froze over. He also urged the need for the construction of the bridge at Taghum and the completion of roads leading into Nelson. The premier promised to bring the matter to the attention of Mr. Taylor, and to use his influence toward the rapid completion of both bridge and ferry.

Mr. Starkey said that he had been informed by the member for Ymir, Mr Schofield, that included in his appropriations for this year's work in that district was an estimate for work on the road between Nelson and Ymir.

While at the coast Mr. Starkey supported the lumbermen in their interview with the government, when changes in the proposed new timber legislation were advocated.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Moose Jaw, Sask., Feb. 21.—Three thousand settlers will be booked direct from the British isles during 1913 by the National Land Company, which has an office in Manchester, England. This is the information received today by T. Winfield, local manager of the company.

These new settlers will all be agriculturalists with capital. The company, which has a number of other branches in western Canada, will bring out thousands more to their branches at Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton, Medicine Hat, Winnipeg, Kamloops and Lethbridge.

EMPRESS DOWAGER OF CHINA DEAD

Attended Only By Chinese Doctor — Had Symptoms of Appendicitis —Removing to Inner City

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PEKING, Feb. 21.—Ye Hon Na, empress dowager of China, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning. She was the widow of Emperor Kwangsu, who died on Nov. 13, 1908.

The empress had been ill only a few days. The actual cause of her death is unknown, but it is said the symptoms of her ailment resembled appendicitis. She was attended only by a Chinese doctor.

The former imperial family was about to remove to the inner portion of the forbidden city in order to make room for the government in the eastern portion.

Ye Ho No La was a daughter of Kwi Siang, a Mancnu general. She married Emperor Kwangsu in 1889. She was 48 years old and the niece of the late empress dowager, Tsu Hsi.

Tsu Hsi, who always had hampered the Emperor Kwangsu with attentions, made the most important event in his life the choosing of his bride. As a preliminary she picked out about 200 candidates and set the members of the board of rites to work inquiring into the horoscope of every one of them. When these "officers who inquired into heaven" had selected about a dozen likely candidates from the lot, Tsui Hsi had them come and live at the palace until by her observation of their characters at first hand she could pick out the most fitting one. The choice fell upon Ye Ho Na La. The marriage ceremony was performed with great pomp.

With the death of her husband and the dowager empress, Tsu Hsi, within two days of each other in 1908, Le Ho Na La became dowager empress. With the accession of the baby emperor, Pu Yi, a son of Prince Chun, and the commencement of the reform movement which resulted finally in China becoming a republic, Ye Ho Na La never had the say in government.

Ye Ho Na La abdicated on February 12 last year with Emperor Pu Yi and the other members of the Manchu dynasty.

It appears that the dowager recently showed symptoms of oedema and occasional periods of an acute illness resembling appendicitis. The government, considering the dowager's condition serious, telegraphed for the emperor's guardian, who arrived in Peking on Friday morning.

On Friday the dowager became seriously ill, suffering from vomiting and fever, at 1 o'clock this morning she became delirous. At 2 o'clock she was unconscious and died peacefully at 2:30 o'clock.

There are rumors that the dowager committed suicide, owing to the impending transfer of the imperial family to the western portion of the city, in order to give accommodation to the government in the eastern quarter, but while the preparations for the departure appear to have excited the dowager, she showed a happy willingness to hand over the eastern palace to the government.

OFFERED BIG BRIBE TO RELEASE THAW

Superintendent of Hospital Offered Twenty Thousand Dollars for Liberty of Thaw

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Dr. John W. Russel, superintendent of the Mattewan State hospital for the criminal insane testified today before Governor Sulzer's committee of inquiry that he had been offered $20,000 if he would release Harry K. Thaw. The offer he said, was made during the latter part of 1912 by a lawyer, whose name he could not remember in an "up-town hotel" in New York city, and was refused.

This testimony was developed during an investigation of reports that William F. Clark, secretary of the committee, recently had requested Dr. Russell to release Thaw on the ground such action was desired by Governor Sulzer. The governor himself had stated earlier in the day that he had authorized no one to make such a request.

Dr. James V. May, chairman of the state hospital commission, who followed Dr. Russell on the stand, told of having been approached by Clarke several days ago with the same request. Dr. May said he told Clarke that the commission had no jurisdiction over Thaw as the hospital in which he is confined is under the supervision of the state prison department. Dr. May told the governor of the incident and the governor at the time said he would not interefere in the Thaw case, and had not authorized anybody to say he would.

Clarke when sworn today, denied having told Dr. Russell or Dr. May that the governor wanted Thaw released.

Dr. May testified that Dr. Russel had expressed the opinion to him that Thaw was not a paranoiac, but was suffering from a form of mental unsoundness which is spoken of as constitutional inferiority.

Clark, under oath, declared that Dr. Russell had remarked to him that Thaw was "perfectly sane."

The committee plans to continue the investigation next week.

Governor Sulzer said tonight that he had ordered the commission to go to the bottom of the matter and spare nobody.

GALICIANS FACE STARVATION

Factories Closed, Thousands Unemployed—Bad Harvest and War Scare Ruin to Country

VIENNA, Feb. 21.—Thousands of persons in Galicia, the poorest of Austria's provinces, are threatened with starvation. The bad harvest has caused a shortage of the food supply of the peasantry of the country districts, while in the towns the war scare has brought trade and industry to a standstill. Factories are closed and thousands are without employment. In Lemburg, Gracow, Stanislaus and other cities, the suffering is so great that the authorities are distributing bread from place to place. The municipality funds for this purpose have been exhausted, however, and a deputation has arrived in Vienna to appeal to the government for aid. The president of the council of minister has promised that sufficient support will be given to the country for the distribution of food.

ASSOCIATION TO GUARANTEE EGGS

Poultrymen Seek Means for Protection

TO USE CARTONS AND DATE PRODUCT

Declare Rancher and Consumer Injured by Importations from South

Commencing with threats to boycott produce dealers alleged to be handling Washington eggs under the description of "new laid," and selling them for the same price as the local product, the West Kootenay Poultry and Pet Stock association at its meeting last night concluded by deciding to take steps toward introducing a system for rubber stamping eggs sold by members of the organization and putting up the product in cartons bearing the guarantee of the association.

A district selling agency, although not regarded as practicable under present conditions, was mentioned as being the logical outcome of the plan.

Although there was a difference of opinion as to the best means of protecting the local poultryman and preventing the consumer from being sold eggs which were older than they appeared, the association members appeared to be united in the belief that eggs from Washington had been imported to Nelson in considerable numbers and sold as fresh eggs at the same price as those grown locally, and really fresh, with the result that both poultryman and consumer had suffered, the former through the cut in price which had taken place, and the latter through being frequently unable to buy eggs which were strictly new-laid.

George Horsted though that the solution of the difficulty was to educate the consumer to buy eggs from the association members. To accomplish this end it would be necessary for the association to make arrangements for placing a distinguishing mark on the eggs.

Wants Grading Legislation.

C. Gansner suggested that legislation governing the grading and marking of eggs was needed. He made a motion to the effect that the secretary should take this matter up with the provincial association and was seconded by A. G. Nock. The resolution passed.

Speaking of the need for protecting local poultrymen, R. C. Tavistdale suggested that each member of the association might be supplied with a rubber stamp with which he could date each egg. Any egg which proved to be inferior could be returned to the producer. In that way the association would establish a reputation for supplying eggs of first quality with the result that good prices could be demanded.

Mr. Gansner said that he had not found that grading eggs and placing them in attractive boxes had secured him any increased price. "Our kick is that stale eggs from Washington are being sold as fresh eggs and competing unfairly against our eggs."

"What we should do is make use of the grocers instead of letting the grocers make use of us," was A. G. Nock's summing up of the situation as he saw it.

Have to Play Square

It was suggested by Mr. Tevistdale that if the eggs were stamped and put up in cartons it might be advisable to arrange with some local merchant to handle the association product.

Mr. Horstead agreed that this might be arranged. "But getting the trade is one thing and holding it is another. We have got to play square with the public and send out eggs which we can guarantee. For instance, if some one has a batch of eggs in an incubator that would not hatch out he must not attempt to sell them. Of course I don't say that any member of this association would do that kind of thing but I am told that it has been done."

Mr. Nock thought that the association eggs should be described as "new laid" rather than "fresh." Any egg was fresh as long as it didn't stink, he believed.

Mr. Gansner saw in the credit system a condition which would prevent the union making a success of selling to one store. Too many ranchers were tied up to stores by credit accounts for groceries and liked to sell their eggs where they bought their supplies. He believed in stamping the eggs and selling them to all stores.

Mr. Horstead explained that with the stamp system each member of the association would have a separate number. If he sent out eggs that were not as youthful as they purported to be he would be warned once or twice and then thrown out of the organization.

Wants Local Market

John Hyslop saw in a local public market for all ranch produce the only real solution of the problem. One should be established for the sale of fruit, eggs butter and everything else that ranches in this district produced, he declared.

Mr. Horstead thought that Nelson would not get a local market until there were roads and bridges which would enable the ranchers to drive into the city with their produce.

"We can educate the public to buy our eggs on account of their quality at the present prices first and then get name when the demand has been established," remarked Mr. Ramsden.

Mr. Horstead pointed out that if the eggs were stamped by the rancher the storekeeper would be connelled to turn them over early so that they could not be held for an increase in price and consequently deteriorate as had happened in some cases.

On motion of Mr. Ramsden, seconded by G. H. Fraser, the secretary was instructed to secure prices for rubber stamps, cartons, etc., and report to the annual meeting on the third Friday of next month.

Those present: C. G. Johnson, president; George Horstead, secretary; N. M. Cummins, G. Curtis, H. Lawrence, L. Gansdel, C. A. Lehmark, Frank Deacon, W. A. Robertson, T. Tidy, A. Wood, T. J. Rock, John Hyslop, R. C. Teviotdale, C. Gansner, A. G. Nock, A. G. Shaw, R. Ramsden, G. H. Fraser.

CHICAGO ISOLATED—WIRES DOWN UNDER LOAD OF SLEET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—This city was all but isolated from the outside world today. Wires for a radius of many miles went down under their load of sleet. Most railroads were without wires out of Chicago, and only a few had one or more. Brokers were without wires all day and press and other telegraphic business was greatly congested.

GOVERNMENT WILL PENSION FAMILIES OF EMPLOYERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Lord Mayor of London announced today that Premier Asquith had informed him that the government would propose to parliament that funds from the national treasury be appropriated for the dependents of the late Captain Scott and his four companions who died in the Antarctic. The amount, the premier said, would be sufficient to secure to the dependents the pecuniary position they would have held had the disaster to the explorers not occurred.

CHINAMAN MURDERED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NO WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Motion to Extend Vote to Women Defeated Two to One—Women Disapointed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., Feb. 21.—In the legislature today the resolution of Donald Munro, M.P.P., of Carleton county, for permission to introduce a bill to amend the New Brunswick Election act so as to give women the same right to vote at provincial election as they enjoy in municipal elections was defeated, 21 to 10. Premier Flemming and Hon. Mr. Wilson were the only members of the government supporting the resolution.

Hon. Messrs. Grimmer, McLeod, Landry and Murray opposed it. Many ardent suffragettes from St. John were at the capital lobbying for the bill and were sorely disappointed at the result, particularly as all they asked was that the franchise be extended to widows and spinster property owners.

CASTRO AND MYLIUS UNWELCOME GUESTS

Decision of District Court Would Restrict Immigration Service, Declares Secretary Nagel.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—It was definitely decided today that the right of Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, and Edward F. Mylius, convicted in London of libelling King George, to remain in the United States as visitors will be contested by the government in the highest courts.

"If the decision of the United States district court at New York is sustained in these two cases," declared Secretary Nagel today, "the power of the immigration service to exclude aliens from this country will be materially restricted. If an immigrant, as in the case of Castro, is given the right to refuse to answer pertinent questions touching his eligibility to enter, how is the government to ascertain facts upon which to determine the admissability of an alien under the law? If libel is not a crime involving moral turpitude, as decided in the Mylius case, what is moral turpitude? Under some circumstances stealing might even be considered a political rime and in some cases stealing is a crime involving moral turpitude. The immigration servivce might as well close shop in dealing with many cases if the decisions are upheld."

At first it was intended to appeal directly to the supreme court, but questions of procedure may make it desirable to go to the circuit court of appeals.

GOVERNMENT AID IS UNLIKELY

Congress Not Favorable to Scheme for Official Celebration of Peace Centennial

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—Attention has been drawn to the progress made in the United States in regard to the proposed celebration of the centennial of the signing of the treaty of Ghent. A large committee has been organized in the United States to make the arrangements for this celebration and it has approached the federal authorities with a request for government aid. As a result of this application a bill, drawn by Senator Root, was presented to the senate authorizing the president to appoint a committee to conduct the commemoration and appropriating a sum for the preliminary expenses of the commission.

This bill was passed by the senate and was transmitted to the house of representatives. It is now understood here that the prospects of the bill are deemed unfavorable by observers in Washington. For one thing, the house of representatives has referred it to its committee on foreign relations and this committee is said to be indisposed to report it. Should the committee take this course, the measure will fail and will have to be introduced afresh in the next congress. In the next congress the senate as well as the house will be Democratic and official documents received here go to show that the present Democratic minority of the senate opposed the bill. Senator Bacon, who is understood here to be destined to be the chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations after March 4, signed the minority report adverse to the passing of the bill and the report is couched in strong language.

RESUME DEBATE ON NAVAL BILL

Labor Minister Presents Good Case for Government

LIBERALS WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

Agreement Reached for Division on Tariff Amendment Next Week

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—The excitement which attended the discussion of the Miller case and the commitment of the recalcitrant to prison on Thursday was entirely lacking in the house today, where the order of business was the resumption of the discussion on the second reading of the naval bill and J. G. Turriff's amendment thereto. A couple of good speeches were made, however, the one on the government side being delivered by Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, while A. K. McLean, the junior member for Halifax, ably upheld the Liberal side of the house in an effort of over three hours' duration.

Mr. Crothers marshalled all the leading arguments in favor of the government proposals and made special references to the attitude of the laboring classes to war.

Mr. McLean expressed the personal opinion that if a contribution is made it should be made in money and not in ships. If ships were decided on, however, there should not be a string attached to them.

The Liberals state that they propose to continue to fight the government plan, but have agreed to have a division on the Turriff amendment some time next week. They say that other amendments will follow either on the second reading or in committee.

During question time W. A. Buchanan asked when the report on the ranching in the west would be ready. Hon. Dr. Roche said it was being printed.

W. E. Knowles was inormed that the government was considering the advisability of taking up as a government measure Mr. Aikens' proposed amendment to the Land act.

Hon. Dr. Roche's bill to amend the Volunteer Bounty act will be taken up on Monday.

A bill to incorporate the Canadian Accountants' association *met with op*position in committee of the whole and at the suggestion of the finance minister was held over for further consideration. The minister thought this advisable in view of the fact the promoter of the bill and the chairman of the private bills committee were both absent.

It was explained that the measure proposed to provide for salaried accountants who do not come under the present act. H. H. Stevens of Vancouver took objection to the bill on the ground that present regulations were entirely too lax and he strongly opposed another association of accountants.

MILLER TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

Prisoner Determined Not to Answer Question—Treated as Prisoner on Remand.

OTTAWA, Feb. 21—R. C. Miller, who was committed to Carleton County jail by parliament last night, was removed to that institution a eight o'clock this morning. He was accompanied by two Dominion policemen and the deputy sergeant at arms, Bowie, who was delighted to get rid of the prisoner of state.

Governor Dawson, of the jail, accepted the writ of the Speaker of parliament committing Miller to his care. He was of the opinion, however, that he should be treated as a prisoner on remand, and not as an ordinary criminal. Miller was, therefore, placed in the remand corridor and will be allowed a certain amount of liberty. He will be allowed to have his meals sent in to him, but wines and cigars are barred.

Those who have come into contact with the prisoner say that he is determined not to answer questions put to him by the Speaker, and that he will serve out the parliamentary term if necessary. He proposes to take up a course of historical reading, a subject in which he is interested. He has already made arrangements to give his wife power of attorney to sign cheques. He is not without hopes that his term of imprisonment will be a short one, and that his counsel, A. B. Harvey, K.C., will take habeas corpus proceedings before the high court with the object of securing his release.

Counsel is now working on the case, but formal application will, in all probability, not be made to the court until the beginning of next week.

MY FREE TRIAL TREATMENT MAY CURE YOU

Kingston, Ont., June 6th, 1909.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—I feel so very much better after using the 10 days' treatment of ORANGE LILY you were kind enough to send, that I will not require any more. In fact, I feel entirely well, and it is now a month since I stopped using the treatment. (Miss) F. W. T.

Similar letters to the above are not infrequent, though, of course, such cases are not of long standing. Most women who have suffered for any length of time will require to use ORANGE LILY longer than the Trial Treatment in order to effect a complete cure, but in every case they will be perceptibly benefited. Further, the benefit will be permanent whether they continue to use ORANGE LILY or not. It is not taken internally, and does not contain any alcohol or other stimulant. It is an applied treatment, and acts directly on the suffering organs. In all cases of women's disorders, these organs are congested to a greater or less extent, and ORANGE LILY will relieve and remove this congestion just as positively and certainly as the action of ammonia or soap on soiled linen. It is a simple chemical problem, and the result is always the same, a step towards better health and complete cure.

In order that every suffering woman may prove its good qualities, I will send enough of ORANGE LILY for 10 day's treatment, absolutely free, to each lady who will send me her address. MRS. FRANCES. E. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT. 10

Column for Wage Workers

By R. P. Pettipiece.

The Carpenter's union of Parsons, Kas., have submitted an agreement to the employing contractors, which calls for an advance of five cents per hour, to take effect on April 1. The present scale is 40 cents per hour. Reading, Pa., carpenters have asked for a minimum wage of 45 cents per hour, with an eight-hour day, to take effect on May 1. Their present scale is 35 cents per hour with a nine-hour day.

Typos of Buffalo, N. Y., have signed a three-year contract with the publishers of all German newspapers under its jurisdiction for an increase of $1 per week for all members. Printers of Harrisburg, Pa., have also secured an agreement whereby hand compositors receive an advance of $2.25 per week, the new scale being $17.50 per week. It was also agreed that piece-work on newspapers of this city would be abandoned on Jan. 1, 1915. The increased scale was based on a four-year contract.

Every man employed by the Pacific Electric & Gas company at the gas plant in Fresno, Cal., went out on strike recently, because four of their number had been discharged without explanation. As a result of the strike the supply of gas was exhausted and at noon Fresno housewives were unable to cook their meals. Shortly after the noon hour an agreement was reached between the strikers and the manager of the company and the men returned to work. The four discharged men were reinstated.

After a few days idleness the stereotypers union of Springfield, Ohio, won their strike against the Crowell Publishing company. The victory means a $2 weekly increase and recognition of the union. The new scale will give helpers $23, finishers $25, and molders will receive $27 per week.

The motormen and conductors of Lancaster, Pa., have been granted an increase of one cent per hour over the existing rates.

The tailors of Peterboro, Ont., have received an advance in wages of 15 to 20 per cent of the present scale.

A board of arbitration has decided to fix the wages of the lumber handlers of St. Clara, Cal., to $3.37½ a day for nine hours work.

Arizona has recently adopted a law that prohibits any alien from being employed on any public work within its jurisdiction.

British Sailors' and Firemen's union has issued a manifesto embodying a resolution ordering the members to refuse to sail with the non-union men after a set date.

There will be 22 members of farmers and trades unions holding seats in the next session of the Colorado legislature.

Meridian, Miss., unions are advocating the establishment of a local tuberculosis camp and hospital.

Nationalization of the coal mines and railroads of Great Britain is the object of the English labor unions.

The paving cutters recently voted to make the eight-hour day universal in their organization. At present about 25 per cent of the members are working nine hours a day.

One thousand boys, earning about $2.50 weekly, have been thrown out of employment in the Rhonda valley, Wales, by the new Coal Mine act, which prohibits employment of boys under 14 years of age.

The United Kingdom has more women workers than any other country in the world in proportion to population. Among them are no fewer than 616,000 dressmakers.

The state of New York has 125 factory inspectors, and women hold such positions for factories of all kinds where women are employed. They are required to enforce rigid laws as to sanitation, ventilation without drafts, the prohibition of overcrowding the workers, and comfort while at work.

There are 969 local unions with a membership of 75,914 in the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union.

Seven shillings ($1.68) per day, is the minimum for the laborer in many parts of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia and Tasmania.

Only five states in the United States require physical examination of children entering industries, and only one state, Massachusetts and one county, Gilford county, N. C., have a regular system of medical inspection of children in factories.

The Philadelphia & Reading railway has agreed to pay its engineers by mileage instead of the trip. This is the outcome of long negotiations between the company and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Carpenters of Quincy, Ill., have been successful in signing agreements with all but three of the firms in that city.

Two thousand textile workers of Roulers, Belgium, have been out on strike since December, on account of a lockout. They demand 10 per cent increase in wages, while the employers are only willing to grant seven per cent in some branches.

It would now appear that the strike of the Vancouver halibut fishermen will soon be settled. The original demands of the men were for one cent and a half a pound for all fish caught by them. This was an increase of a half cent. They have now compromised with the company on a basis of one and a quarter cents a pound. The only contention now is the recognition of the union. The settlement of the strike in Seattle will no doubt influence the situation in Vancouver. The company issued a report that the strike had been settled, but the story proved false, the men not having accepted the terms of the owners. Boats have been sent out manned by non-union crews, but although there may be good men outside the union, the result of these expeditions would not substantiate that statement. The boats returned with disgusted captains, a more disgusting catch and a seasick crew.

The trades and labor council of Vancouver has 50 organizations on its roll with an aggregate membership of close upon 8000.

"Hello" girls, to the number of 3000, employed by the Bell Telephone company of Boston have formed a union, chartered under the electrical workers affiliated with the American Federation of labor. Increases in wages, improved hours and general working conditions, has been the result of their organization. There is great need for organization in this occupation and if the girls employed by telephone companies throughout Canada ould see the benefits of organization they could better their conditions, and it also stands to reason, if girls of Boston have been so successful in establishing and maintaining an organization, that girls in Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver and other cities throughout Canada can do the same thing.

What Salt Do You Use?

Few of us realize how much salt we eat. Food without Salt would not keep us alive—in fact we would quickly starve to death on food that contained no salt. The fact that we put salt on all meats and vegetables—in bread, cake and pastry—soups and sauces—butter and cheese—goes to show the importance of using an absolutely pure Salt.

Salt in its natural state is impure. By our method of treating brine, and by evaporation, we are able to remove this impurity, the most dangerous ingredients being gypsum, sulphite of lime or plaster of paris.

WINDSOR SALT

is made in the most modern Plant in America, equipped with the latest special machinery for refining to the highest degree of Purity. There's nothing in it but salt—just PURE CLEAN SALT.

Ask any grocer for his best salt, and he will give you WINDSOR SALT every time, not because it costs more—it does not—but because the grocer knows that Windsor Salt pleases his customers. It is the standby in all Canadian Homes.

REGAL FREE RUNNING SALT

Always Dry—Always Free Running

Canada's leading table salt put up in an air-tight, germ-proof paraffin-coated pure wood fibre carton. This carton is the most sanitary on the market, protects the salt from dust, dirt, moisture, and odors which contaminate bag salt and which any exposed salt will absorb. Happenings In The Heart Of The British Empire

King George, whose deep interest is well known in all matters connected with the British royal navy, gave proof of his appreciation in the action of his loyal New Zealand subjects in presenting a battle cruiser to the empire fleet by making a special journey to Portsmouth to inspect the vessel, the New Zealand, which arrived from Plymouth on the previous day to his majesty's inspection. A week later the vessel started on her maiden cruise of 40,000 miles, which will include a visit to New Zealand, so that those who made the gift may have an opportunity of seeing the first British cruiser provided by an oversea dominion.

Melody Ends in Tragedy

It is seldom that tragedy and melody are brought into such close contact as occurred on the stage of the Brighton hippodrome a few evenings ago when Auguste Van Biene, the great composer and player suddenly ended his remarkable career. As a boy of 17, now 46 years ago, he was playing a 'cello in Hanover Square, London, one day when by his wonderful power on that instrument he attracted the attention of a passer by, in the person of Sir Michael Costa, England's greatest musical conductor. On being asked why he was playing in the gutter the boy, who was near starvation, replied, "Because I am hungry." Sir Michael took him home, fed him and gave him a place as 'cello player in the Covent Garden orchestra. Van Biene made a vow that as long as he lived, on every anniversary of his deliverance from starvation he would give a performance on the exact spot in Hanover Square and collect money on behalf of the music hall benevolent fund. The haunting music of "the Broken Melody," his masterpiece, was composed while Van Biene was travelling by rail from Brighton to London and was performed by the composer 6000 times with inspiring effect in theatres all over the world. This was followed by another of his compositions, "The Master Musician," in which the great master played three solos, the last of which was that of "Home, Sweet Home." As the last notes of that refrain died away Van Biene fell back in his chair and the curtain was rung down without the large audience realizing that a tragic end had so swiftly followed his last performance. It is a curious coincidence that he should have died in the same town that Sir Michael Costa ended his days a few years ago.

Wren's Masterpiece Endangered

The verdict of the London County council has been given with regard to the Southwark to Cheapside, London tram subway scheme, which according to the opinion of some of the greatest living engineers in England would, if carried out, prove to be a grave danger to Wren's masterpiece, St. Paul's cathedral. The construction of the tramway at the east side of St. Paul's churchyard will not be carried out and the persistent warnings which have appeared in the Daily Mail columns for the past 10 years, have proved successful.

For some years the practice of rifle shooting has been growing in favor among a large number of English women and at the Imperial Rifle club headquarters in London recently a team of eight women competed in a match against a team of picked men and were only beaten by the narrow margin of five points, the total scores being, men 781, women 776.

The quality of the markmanship was of a high order, one lady making a highest possible, three only missing it by one point, while the other four members of the team scored from 95 to 98 per cent of the points obtainable.

Pills for the World

In giving evidence before the select committee on patent medicines in London, Sir Joseph Beecham stated that last year his firm manufactured upwards of 50 tons of pills, advertised as "worth a guinea a box." They represented a turnover of $1,500,000 and that the firm spent last year in advertisements throughout the world the sum of $500,000.

From Duke to Comedian

A proof of the great change in the social life of London society has just occurred by the sale of No. 23 Berkley square, for many years the town residence of the Dukes of Sutherland, to one of England's most popular musical comedians. Seymour Hicks, in an interview stated that it was unknown to him who the vendor was, that his wife and he saw the house was in the market, thought it was a nice place and concluded to purchase through the agent.

British Suffragettes Disappointed

The death of the Franchise bill in the British house of commons, by its withdrawal by Mr. Asquith, has aroused the fury of the suffragettes. Window smashing to the extent of many thousands of dollars a day, wholesale destruction of letters in post boxes throughout the country and the partial destruction by a bomb explosion of an unfinished country residence near London, being erected by the chancellor of the exchequer, has been the result.

Sports

An international rugby football match between England and France was played at Twickenham, England, in the presence of 12,000 spectators. The Frenchmen played a far better game than the score indicates and in the end England won by one goal and five tries (20 points), to nothing for France.

A draw was the result in the 20-round boxing competition for the feather-weight championship of the world, together with a purse of $7500 and a stake of $500 a side, the contestants being J. Driscoll, of Cardiff, Wales, the holder of the title and O. Moran, of Birmingham, England, and the scene of the encounter being the headquarters of the National Sporting club in London.

Struggle for Mastery of Lake Ontario

INVADERS CROSS ICE GRIPPED STREAM

Battery Stormed and Guns Silenced--Schooners and Gunboats Captured

(By Frank Yeigh)

The first conflict of 1812-14 recalled by this brief historical series found us on the upper lakes, at the island of Mackinaw, or Michillimackinaw, and recalled the victory of July 17, 1812.

The second took the reader to the Detroit river, and the capture of Fort Detroit, under Brook and Tecumseh, on August 5, 1812.

The third was localized on the banks of the Niagara river, and on the slopes of Queenston Heights, where the important engagement of October 13, 1812, was fought, resulting in the death of Sir Isaac Brook.

And now, in the fourth of the series, the scene changes to the St. Lawrence and a new environment. Following the battle of Queenston Heights came the struggle to obtain the mastery of Lake Ontario. The game of war is now to be fought for time on the water, instead of on land. Chauncey, at the head of his fleet of seven vessels, patrolled the lake for the immediate object of capturing the "Royal George," a British vessel of 340 tons. Once sighted by the enemy during the night, an exciting chase was made but the little craft reached Kingston in safety, taking refuge under the batteries of the old limestone town. A lively battle followed between the fleet and the guns of the fort, ending in the retirement of Chauncey without having captured his prey. It was the last time Kingston was beseiged during the war, the result probably of the effective defence made on this occasion. In the succeeding days Chauncey sank the "Simcoe" just before it reached port at Kingston, and also captured a schooner and Capt. Brook, brother of Sir Isaac, who was on board, and who had with him the plate and effects of the dead general. The American naval commander promptly paroled his prisoner and restored the property.

APPEARANCE OF FORT OSWEGATCHIE IN 1812.

The St. Lawrence now became the chief theatre of action, both contestants patrolled its banks and watched the passing craft with closest scrutiny. The attack on Gananoque was one of many sorties made by the United States troops, a little force of less than half a hundred civilians retreating before a much longer detachment of United States troops.

Further down the river Prescott and Ogdensburg faced each other, both being regarded as strategic points. Ogdensburg was the scene of many raids. Colonel Lethbridge occupied Prescott, and with a force of two companies and the Canadian Fencibles and 40 men of the Newfoundland regiment, together with two small gun boats, attempted to capture the fort at Ogdensburg. The guns of the battery below the fort were first silenced, but the attack ended in failure and Lethbridge retired to the Canadian side, with a loss of three killed and four wounded.

A few months passed by during which many minor engagements occurred in different parts of the country. Both countries indeed were in a foment, reinforcements were arriving from England and the West Indies, and further preparations were made for the defense of Canada. New battalions of militia were formed and other efforts made to cope with the increasingly serious situation.

The American authorities at Washington planned an advanced campaign for 1813, including the capture and subjection of all of Upper Canada above Prescott, the destruction of the shipping at Kingston, the capture of Kingston and York, and operations against Fort George and Fort Erie.

As has been said, the aggressive policy of the United States toward the eastern part of Upper Canada had been directed from Ogdensburg, under Capt. Forsythe, who engaged his troops in a series of petty attacks, which Kingsford characterizes as "predatory excursions principally directed against property and the liberty of the individual."

The freezing of the St. Lawrence at this point made it easy to cross the river on the ice and to reach undefended points on either shore. Brockville suffered from one of these attacks, a single sentry on duty in the straggling village fell wounded, a number of the inhabitants were taken prisoners and the food supply seized. Complaint was made under a flag of truce against this type of attack, but Forsythe replied by suggesting that the two forces should try their strength on the ice.

McDonnell, being now in command of Prescott, was eager to attack the American stronghold, but Sir George Prevost, arriving on his way from Montreal to Kingston, first vetoed the suggestion, but compromised by consenting that a demonstration might be made, but without following it up with a real attack.

Early on the morning of Feb. 22 M'Donnell, with five guns, and nearly 500 regulars and militia, started across the ice-gripped stream, which is here one-hand-a-half miles wide.

The adventure was a dangerous one from many points of view. The Canadian leader has left on record the fact that the ice undulated as they marched; sometimes cracking with a loud noise as if about to disintegrate, and threatening every moment to precipitate the entire force into the icy waters.

The troops marched in excellent order, artillery guarding both flanks. As the southern shore was neared, the little force was the centre of a dangerous cross-fire, which, however, failed to stop their progress. The left column was the first to gain the bank, which held an exceptional depth of snow, but as the result of a brisk bayonet charge by the 120 men of the Eighth regiment, their leader captured some artillery and drove the infantry into and from the little town. The retreating enemy occupied the houses along the way, from which a heavy fire was kept up, and it was only with the help of the field pieces that they were dislodged and compelled to flee to the woods.

Attack on Fort

The fort at Ogdensburg was the objective point of the little Canadian army. A demand was made for its unconditional surrender. Capt. Jenkins, of the Glengarrys, who led the attack on the battery, held to his post though wounded in both arms, until through the loss of blood he succumbed, and was carried from the field, followed by the retreat of the detachment after losing some prisoners.

McDonnell's peremptory summons being disregarded, the eastern battery was taken and another silenced. The final charge immediately followed by the men of the Eighth and the militia. The fort was abandoned to the invaders and Ogdensburg became one of the captured strongholds of the enemy.

As the diminutive army found its way into the fort the garrison, estimated at from 500 to 1000 men, fled and took refuge in the nearby forest, the fugitives being unpursued by their victors. Such was the fate of Ogdensburg. The contest lasted only an hour. Seventy-four privates were taken prisoners, some schooners and gunboats captured, as well as several guns, and a large quantity of military and ordnance stores. Two of the guns oddly enough were 12 pounders captured from Burgoyne in 1777, during the Revolutionary war. One wonders where the ancient cannon now are. The loss among the British and Canadians was eight killed and 52 wounded, while that among the American forces has never been ascertained.

While the capture of Ogdensburg was not in itself as dramatic an event as the taking of Detroit or the Battle of Queenston Heights, yet it had an importance all its own and seriously affected the plans and movements of the United States troops. General Pike, who was destined soon after to lose his life, in the capture of York, came on the scene immediately following the contests with a force of 5000 men, but finding no cover left for them by M'Donnell's attack, they continued their march westward along the lake short to Sackett's harbor. In the opinion of Kingsford, the arrival of this large force at Ogdensburg gives ground for the supposition that an attack was planned from Ogdensburg on Prescott and thereafter on Kingston, and but for the capture of the American stronghold at Amherstburg their plans would probably have successfully carried.

It raises the question of what might have been, but the actualities of the situation were that Kingston and its neighboring towns on the banks of the kingly river were thereafter safe from attack or invasion, and the boast was made possible, at the conclusion of the war, that the attacking country had not permanently secured a foot of land in the land they aimed to conquer.

NELSON WINS IN TAME EXHIBITION

Hockey Match with Rossland is Ragged but Exciting in Spots—Overtime Play Necessary

Nelson hockey team last night defeated the Rossland septet in the final game of the West Kootenay league after the tamest and most ragged game of the present season. Both teams fielded weakened lineups and the interest in the game did not run very high at any time. The Nelson boys played the Rossland aggregation to a standstill in the opening stages but in the latter stages the locals became careless and the Golden city representatives were not slow in taking every advantage of Nelson's laxities and before the final bell sounded the score was tied at five goals apiece. Six minutes of extra play were necessary before Nelson registered the winning tally. There were no exceptionally bright spots in either lineup but both goalers played consistent games.

The first period opened with Nelson the aggressors and for over three-fourths of the period the puck novered round the red and white citadel. Not before six minutes had elapsed was the puck lodged in the net and in that time Harry Bishop notched the first tally of the performance. A couple of minutes later Jack Grant put Nelson two up by putting the puck past Lynn from a scrimmage in front of the net. Pooley was benched about this time for what the referee termed too aggressive checking. Bishop annexed another in five minutes and everything looked like a one-sided score in Nelson's favor. Rossland now made a series of rushes on the Nelson goal which resulted in their first goal, registered by Keefe just before the gong rang.

The second spasm was a little more evenly matched through lack of effort on the part of the locals, who were resting, it seemed, on their substantial lead. Bishop tallied No. 4 for Nelson in 10 minutes and Grant repeated in two minutes. Rossland then tallied two more before the end of the period in six and two minutes respectively, which made things look rosy for them. The period ended with Nelson 5 Rossland 3.

Rossland opened the third period with a rush and before long had registered two more, tying the score. The first was made in eight and the second in two minutes. No further scoring took place despite the utmost efforts of either side and the third period closed with the teams on an even footing, five goals each.

In the extra time Nelson woke up and played all round Rossland, Bishop tallying in six minutes and winning the game.

The game was very clean did not give much work to Charlie Taylor and Fuzzy Fenwick, who handled it. R. N. Ball and G. Brown were the timekeepers, while J. Whitehead and P. Larson acted as goal umpires.

The teams took the ice as follows:

NELSON		ROSSLAND
Boyes	Goal	Lynn
Atkins	Point	Arbuckle
Bishop	Coverpoint	Odell
Grant	Rover	Stephens
W. Ferguson	Centre	Keefe
Murphy	Left Wing	McLean
Pooley	Right Wing	Ellars

REVENGE SECURED BY CRANBROOK

Fernie Defeated in Intermediate Game —Both Teams Play Good Hockey —Cranbrook Heavier.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B.C., Feb. 21.—Fernie and Cranbrook intermediate teams played their second game at the arena rink tonight before a couple of hundred very enthusiastic spectators, when the locals to the tune of 4 to 1 defeated the septette from the coal mining town and wiped out the defeat they received in the latter city last week. The game was fairly fast throughout, but as in the case of nearly all games played in this district this season showed a lack of team work. The visitors were greatly hampered by the extra weight of their opponents and this was largely responsible for the score, for without a doubt they played as good hockey as the home team.

First Period

Fernie got the draw and rushed, but their shot went wide, McNabb playing point for the locals secured the rubber and though hard checked took it all the way down the ice and scored on a nice corner shot. The play remained very even throughout, both goals being hard pressed frequently. McKay near the close took the puck from a scrimmage and scored. All the players were quite ready for their five minutes' rest.

The second period opened the same way, but the visitors were too light to stand up against the body checks of the Cranbrook defence. Weight told again when the locals would make a rush as they would generally get within shooting distance, when it was up to Hovan in goal to save the situation. McKay was the goal getter for the locals on a pass from Powers. Dudley, the fastest representative from Fernie, in a splendid individual rush passed three men and bulged the nets on a close shot. This ended the scoring for the period. The locals were tired and the visitors afraid of their weight.

In the last period the visitors made several brilliant rushes in an endeavor to even up, and gave Heard a chance to prove his worth as a goal keeper. McKay procured the rubber at centre ice and with considerable difficulty worked his way to the nets and scored. The game for the last 10 minutes was rather tame

GERMAN PRINCES BEGIN ATHLETIC TRAINING

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—Three young German princes, Joachim, son of Emperor William, Sigismund, nephew of the emperor, and Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, will shortly begin active training in track and field athletics. The three today became members of the Berlin Sport-club. This is taken as an indication of the interest shown by the imperial family in the next Olympic games which are to be held in Berlin.

SHOULD TAKE THEIR MEDICINE.

Time appears to be amply justifying the view of those who held that the Old Country government made a fatal mistake when it gave in to the hunger strike of militant suffragettes. Encouraged by the weakness of the government, these viragos, as their leader, Mrs. Pankhurst, announced yesterday, are now ready to venture anything short of murder, believing that the authorities will not dare mete out to them the punishment of other criminals guilty of lige offences.

The latest instance of the length to which these vote-crazed women are prepared to go is the blowing up of Lloyd-George's country home and the declaration of Mrs. Pankhurst that she had incited this crime and encouraged its commission.

While perhaps it may appear presumptuous to advise from this distance, at the same time the suggestion is offered for what it is worth that women who place themselves in the category of ordinary criminals for the purpose of advancing the suffragette cause and then try to avoid their just punishment by means of the hunger strike, might upon conviction be sentenced to jail for short terms, say a week, ten days or two weeks, and should be allowed to starve themselves during their imprisonment. By the time their sentences had expired most of them would be so weak that they would not bother people again for a few days. In the meantime an eye might be kept upon them so that they might be rearrested and the program repeated as often as the ladies desire. b

It is sincerely to be regretted that women who might otherwise be respectable members of the community should so far forget their sex and the ordinary rules of civilized life as to place themselves beyond the pale of public sympathy and within the clutches of the law. Having done this, they should expect only the rigor the law and should not object when it is applied to them.

What the Press Is Saying

Col. Lowrey's Logic

We would rather be a frog and live upon the scum of a cedar swamp, than have a wife who was a suffragette.—Greenwood Ledge.

The Boy on the Farm

Giving the boy on the farm an interest in the produce of his work is the surest method of impressing upon him the fact of its profitableness. There comes to him a sense of personal responsibility, and he realizes that upon his exertions depends the elements of profit and loss. Left to his own devices, he soon learns to extricate himself from difficulty, each of which he begins to look upon as a part of his education. Seldom does a man who has had this kind of handling in his youth voluntarily leave the business of husbandry.—Rochester Herald.

To Safeguard the Girls

The latest novelty in the way of matrimonial legislation is a movement to have all proposals of marriage declared invalid unless made in writing. Should the plan be enacted into law, no breach-of-promise suit could be brought upon a verbal proposal. Young ladies at summer resorts would have to carry with them blank forms that could be filled out as promptly as dance programs. Otherwise they might lose the catch even after hooking him.—St. Thomas Times.

Typhoid Versus Pure Water

It pays to provide a pure water supply. Chicago's typhoid fever death rate for 1912 was 7 per 100,000 inhabitants, the lowest in the history of the city. This figure is among the lowest of American cities, and is close to the low records of leading European cities. As late as 1891 Chicago was a typhoid fever ridden city, with a death rate of 173.8 per 100,000. Something over $62,000,000 has been devoted during the last 14 years to the protection of the water supply, the improved quality which has reduced typhoid.—Hamilton Times.

A taxicab caught fire in New York. The flames reached the gasoline tank. The two passengers, who had come a long ways, tumbled out. The fire department was summoned. "Play on the meter!" shrieked the distracted driver to the firemen. "Never mind the cab—play on the meter!"—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

This Day in Canadian History

A hundred years ago when the "War of 1812" was causing loss and misery on both sides of the frontier even the coming of winter did not stop the fighting. In the district where the St. Lawrence makes the boundary between Canada and the United States the forming of ice on the river only made raids and counter-raids the easier. Early in 1813 Brockville was attacked by American troops from Ogdensburg, and 52 of the inhabitants of the little town were carried off. But the day of reckoning was close at hand. On Feb. 22 a British force, including men of the famous Glengarry Light Infantry, crossed the ice from Prescott to Ogdensburg, and after a sharp fight captured that place with many prisoners, 11 guns and much other booty. The troops were led by the valiant Highlander, Major Macdonell, but another officer of the Glengarry Light Infantry, Capt. Jenkins (formerly of the 104th New Brunswick regiment) greatly distinguished himself, cheering on his men, though he was frightfully wounded, till he fell exhausted from loss of blood. "Two stands of colors" were taken in the fight and were sent to England "to lay at the Prince Regent's feet."

the country was made evident today in a conversation provisional President Huerta had with the newspaper men.

President Huerta declared that no matter what the cost should be or who the men who paid for it, peace would be restored in Mexico. He stated it was his ambition that when he left the presidency people would say of him: "He has restored order throughout Mexico; made safe the investment of money and rendered secure the lives and interests of all, both foreigners and Mexicans."

Calmly and dispassionately President Huerta outlined his program for the use of the army in restoring and maintaining order. He admitted that in many parts of the republic where the news of the change in government had not been received all was not in accord with peace. To these sections, he said, he would send emissaries in an attempt to bring about order, and if necessary troops would be despatched to them to inform the people of the government's desires.

Declared Unmuzzled Press.

The president said he favored a free press in Mexico, saying that even antagonistic organs were desirable, since from them the administration might learn of evils that otherwise might be hidden.

An emissary of President Huerta left today for Saltillo, capital of the state of Coahuila, bearing a letter to Governor Vestiano Carranza, who is reported to be raising an army to fight against the new government. In this letter a final effort is made to secure the governor's adhesion to the new regime. A train loaded with troops also is on its way to Saltillo from the capital and in the event that Governor Carranza maintains his attitude against President Huerta these men will be used against him and his followers.

It is reported that Juan Sanchez Azcona, private secretary to ex-President Madero, has been put to death at Puebla. There is no confirmation of the report, but it is generally believed to be true. Azcona was arrested at Apizaco while fleeing from the capital and taken to Puebla.

General Felipe Angeles, former commander of the army operating at Cuernavaca, and General Joaquin Fausto Beltran, former commander of the federals at Vera Cruz, are to be subjected to an inquiry by the military court. General Beltran will be tried for the part he played in attacking Vera Cruz last year at the time of the ill-starred uprising fomented there by General Diaz. He is accused of misuse of the white flag in capturing Vera Cruz and making a prisoner of General Diaz, who later was brought to the capital and remained incarcerated until the recent revolt, which ended in the downfall of Madero.

It was charged at the time that Diaz' revolt failed because Diaz believed that Beltran's forces would join him. Beltran and his men, under a flag of truce, were permitted to enter Vera Cruz and Diaz was seized by the federal commander and placed in prison.

General Angeles will be tried for failure to obey an order by General Huerta to report to the palace with his forces on the last day of the recent fighting in the city. General Huerta intended to get Angeles to the palace as a part of his plan for ending the battle. Angeles is confined in the same room in the palace with ex-President Madero.

Senora Madero, wife of the ex-president, and Senora Suarez, wife of the ex-vice-president, today for the first time since their husbands' arrest, were permitted to visit them in the palace. The conferences lasted one hour and were private. When the women left the palace they appeared to be deeply apprehensive as to the fate of their husbands.

MADERO MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD

President's Brother Shot by Soldiers Without Justification—Onlooker Relates Story of Tragedy

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21.—"Don Gustavo did not attempt to escape. He started to run only after his executors opened fire. I saw with my own eyes the awful murder. It was terrible, terrible."

This is what a close witness to the official, but now repudiated, execution of Gustavo Madero said, describing the killing of the brother of the deposed president. The man is a Mexican. He was visiting his brother, an army officer at the rebel barracks in the arsenal, and both were present when Madero was riddled with bullets. Huerta, Diaz and Blanquet each denied today having ordered Madero's execution, and, as indicated yesterday, found refuge behind the stereotyped protest that they did not approve of killing him.

The shooting of Madero took place in one of the court yards in the presence of a score or more civilians and 50 to 60 of Felix Dias' soldiers.

"The doors of the arsenal," said this witness, "were open all night and I went there about midnight to visit my brother. We sat discussing the outcome of the revolt until nearly dawn, about 4 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The several court yards within the arsenal were lighted by electricity besides the moon was bright.

"Just as I was leaving I happened to think that I had not looked about at the damage done by the bombardment, so my brother started to walk about with me. I asked him if it was true that Gustavo Madero had been brought to the arsenal. 'Yes,' he replied, 'I brought him here myself in the afternoon, but I don't know where he is confined.'

"We were walking into one of the large court yards when I noticed a group of men on the opposite side. I could make out one officer in uniform in the centre of the group. On our side of the yard next to the street was an open gate.

"'There is Gustavo now,' said my brother, pointing to the group. Gustavo wore a light suit. He was bareheaded, so that I could see his face plainly in the moonlight. In one hand he held his hat, and with the other he was wiping his forehead with a handkerchief.

"We stopped a moment to see what was going on. 'Perhaps they are releasing him,' I said. 'It looks that way,' responded my brother. We saw Gustavo put his hat on, wave his hand to the men with whom he was talking, and start toward the portal leading to the street. Fifteen or 20 feet from the group he turned half way round, as though to say something to the men behind him. There was no audible command that I could hear, it seemed as though what followed must have been pre-arrangement and that he had no warning.

"I watched him proceed toward the portal with firm and easy tread. He had not gone half way when I saw the soldiers raise their rifles. The shooting was begun by one or two. Then more joined and kept up a fusillade. At the first shot I jumped back into a doorway, but could see perfectly.

"None of the first bullets struck Madero, for he turned his head toward the levelled rifles. Then he ran. He had not taken two steps before he staggered and fell to his hands and knees. He tried to crawl, struggled up and stood erect, and with his dying strength, staggered almost to the portal before he finally collapsed under the rain of bullets. He fell on his face, with one hand holding his handkerchief folded and his body. Some of the soldiers came and turned the body over so that the face looked up to the moonlight. His clothing was literally soaked with blood.

"As soldiers carried the body to the other side of the court yard, I heard one remark that Madero had attempted to escape. The statement was false, I saw it all. It was a murder in cold blood. The sight sickened me and I came away. Today my brother told me they buried Madero's body in the arsenal grounds.

States May Intervene.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Intervention of the United States government to secure justice, or at least a fair trial for fallen President Madero of Mexico, as announced by Secretary Knox at the cabinet meeting today, was an unexpected development of the state department's policy in regard to that republic. As late as yesterday it was understood that no departure would be made from the policy of non-intervention. It appears, however, that this understanding was based on the natural assumption that the newly established Mexican government would observe the amenities of civilized warfare in its treatment of prisoners of either high or low degree and when the killing of Gustavo Madero gave ground for genuine apprehension for the fate of the ex-president it was felt that the time had come to stretch forth a restraining hand.

The administration feels that it has not in any manner departed from its policy of strict neutrality. Its action was purely impersonal and probably would have followed as surely had General Diaz been captured by Madero and threatened with death without the process of law. The fact is, though not officially admitted, that in an unofficial manner the state department did bring to bear influences which saved Diaz from death when he was captured by General Beltran at Vera Cruz last fall. It is believed that the Mexican people themselves, after the heat of combat is over, will be the first to express gratitude to the United States government for preventing the lacing of such a spot upon the reputation of their country as would follow what would amount to the murder of a deposed president.

It is recalled in some quarters that the action of the administration in the case of Madero is precisely the reverse of that taken 46 years ago when President Andrew Johnson refused to intervene to prevent the shooting of the unfortunate Emperor Maximillian, who was by a singular coincidence, betrayed by the military leader, General Lopez, who was his main reliance. In that case, however, it is pointed out that Maximillian was in Mexico greatly against the will of the United States, and also that he was tried by a legal tribunal in the form of a court martial.

While it is hoped that the Huerta government will be able to draw to its support all of the revolutionary leaders of the north and south, there is continuance of the military and naval policy of preparedness. Pursuant to this the first and fifth brigades of the army remain under preparatory orders for foreign service, and the three army transports which are due to arrive at Galveston early next week, will be retained there, ready to embark troops at a moment's notice.

TWENTY BILLS GIVEN ASSENT

Government Will Endeavor to Protect Purchasers of Townsite Lots—Misrepresentation Condemned.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 21.—Some 20 bills which the legislature has considered and passed this session are now law of the land, the lieutenant-governor having given royal assent to them this afternoon.

During the afternoon session the bona-fides of some townsite propositions that are placed before the public was the subject of discussion. The premier and the attorney-general both agreed that there is a great deal to be condemned in the manner in which some of these are represented, especially to investors at a distance. At the same time they pointed out how difficult it was for any government to frame legislation which would cover the case adequately, discipling the seller and protecting the purchaser who in most cases was taking a chance on his investment turning out well.

That the government will do all it can to prevent th's sort of thing in case of any townsite in which the province has a quarter interest, the house was assured. In addition an amendment is to be brought down on Monday which will give purchasers in townsites that have not been subdivided or where the sub-division has never been registered, a right of action against the vendor.

A policy has been decided upon by the government in the matter of North Vancouver townsite sub-division where the province's interests was never provided for, and in reference to which the executive was waited upon last summer by a large deputation. An amendment is to be placed in the land act which will allow all who filed their deeds before March 7 of last year to secure registration, the province waiving its rights.

The strongest and surest point in favor of "Salada" Tea is quality. Never in the history of a product have the Canadian people given such a sweeping endorsement of merit as has been accorded "Salada." One out of every five Canadians drink it, and this number is steadily increasing.

TARIFF WALL AGAINST CANADA

Pressure Being Brought to Bear on Democrats—United States Factories in Canada.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Renewed efforts to frighten the ways and means committee into believing that prosperity in the United States will be ruined if competition is not provided for from Canada, were made upon members of the ways and means committee today. Now that the members of the committee have temporarily discontinued their hearing, people from all parts of the country are seeking interviews with them in their rooms and in the corridors of the capitol, begging each member to use his influence to keep up the wall against Canada.

The argument was made to Chairman Underwood today that Canada is really becoming more prosperous than the United States, and it was pointed out specifically that the commercial and industrial conditions in St. Johns, Quebec, consular district, during 1912, were markedly good and progressive. It was argued that the field crop was abundant, the yield of the hay probably exceeding that of the previous year, and that if the tariff bars were lowered Canada's surplus would be dumped on the United States. The point was made that the United States is fast becoming a consuming country and unless something is done to encourage the American farmer the nation will be buying much of its food from Canada.

It was further argued that the American manufacturer is going to locate in Canada and that already the Singer Manufacturing company's business has increased materially on the strength of tariff reduction, and new machinery has been installed during the year to meet increased demands of foreign and domestic trade. The Cluett-Peabody company is another American concern which is doing a big business in Canada, and it is asserted that once a lower tariff is put into effect many other American industries will go over the line into the Dominion.

In fact, more than $2,000,000 worth of American capital is invested at St. John alone, and this, it is said, ac*counts largely for the industrial pros*perity and commercial importance of the town's district.

The brief says that during the past *year two new American companies es*tablished plants in St. John and that still others have announced their intention of going to Canada if the Democrats lower the tariff.

AGREED WITH BABY

This Mother Found The Right Food For Her Baby Girl.

Mrs. Arthur Prince of Meaford, Ont., writes, on Sept. 12th, 1911: "Some time ago, you were good enough to send me a sample of Neave's Food. Baby liked it so well and it agreed with her, so I am using it right along and think it is excellent.

"I have a friend with a very delicate baby. She cannot nurse it and has tried six different foods, but it does not thrive at all—is always sick and troubled with indigestion. I strongly recommended your food. Will you please send her a sample?"

Mrs. Prince wrote again on Sept. 27th, 1911. "My friend's baby has grown wonderfully. I can scarcely credit it. Her next baby, which she expects in five months, will be fed on Neave's Food right from the start—she thinks it is so good."

Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Baby" by writing Edwin Utley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Agent for Canada. (Mention this paper.)

WINDOW SMASHERS DRAW SIX MONTHS' SENTENCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst's assumption of full responsibility for the bomb explosion at Lloyd George's country residence, and her confession that she conspired with and incited her followers to carry out the scheme, have been seized upon by the authorities as the grounds for her prosecution.

Half a dozen suffragette window-smashers were sentenced today to six months' imprisonment. All pledged themselves to a hunger strike.

Mixed Reception

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, who has declared that she was responsible for the dynamite explosion which recently wrecked the house in Surrey of David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, met with a mixed reception at a meeting held tonight in the Chelsea Town hall under the auspices of the Woman's Social and Political union.

Human Life Alone Sacred.

When Mrs. Pankhurst appeared on the platform she was greeted with groans, hisses, yells and cheering and only a large force of police in the hall prevented the hostile section of the audience from attacking her. When she left the hall Mrs. Pankhurst twitted the authorities for being afraid to take advantage of her assumption of responsibility for the blowing up of Mr. Lloyd George's house and send her to jail. She declared that, short of taking human life, the militant suffragettes intended to do everything possible to settle once for all the the political status of the women of this country.

COPPER SHARES SUPPORTED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 21.—Money was strong in demand today despite the payment of $15,000,000 on account of maturity treasury bills. Discount rates were firm. The stock market ruled dull and easy. Sao Paulos and Argentine rails and copper shares were steadily supported, but Mexican rails were weak. American securities were quiet and featureless during the forenoon. Later New York and Berlin offerings depressed the list and made the closing easy. Canadian Pacific was weak.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC BELOW PAR ERIE TOUCHES BOTTOM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—There were a few weak spots in the stock market today but the general movement was narrow and trading was dull. Speculative demand was bearish. Trading fell off to nominal proportions at times and price movements of the majority of the important stocks were hardly worth recording. Southern Pacific broke below par for the first time since 1904. Large amounts of the stock changed hands at around par, but eventually the price yielded from its recent level and sold down as low as 99. Southern Pacific has been the object of steady bear attacks since the terms of the Herriman dissolution were made known.

Liquidation in active stocks continued, although the effect on the general list was negative. Weakness of low priced railroad stocks was a feature of the dealings. Erie sold at 28¼, the bottom price since 1911. Southern, Wabash, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Western were also heavy. The petroleum stocks declined sharply.

The downward tendency in the bond market continued today. Total sales, par value, $2,000,000. United States 2's declined ⅛ and 4's coupon ¼ on call.

ABRUPT DROP IN DOMINION IRON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—Liquidation of Dominion Iron, a large proportion of it coming from Toronto, was the outstanding feature in the Canadian stock markets today. On selling of a little more than 100 shares the price dropped abruptly early in the day from 54 at the close on Thursday to 51½ before any support was met. After touching this new low for some 18 months, iron rallied slowly and showed a recovery of 1 point. About 1,200 shares came out in the first session.

In the afternoon the stock was dull and steadier, holding between 52½@52¼ and closing at the former price with a net loss of 1¾. The general tone of the market inclined to heaviness as a result of Canadian Pacific's decline abroad and its failure to make any rally in New York. Canadian Pacific opened at a decline of 2 points from last sale on Thursday and held within the narrow range of ½ point all day. At the close the price was back to the opening of 229½, with the final quotations for the day showing a range of about 1⅝ lower than the previous day. Montreal Power showed more resistance to the usual sympathetic influence of a Canadian Pacific decline and opened unchanged at 224¾. Later, Power fell back 1½ but recovered ½ of the loss later. Shawinigan, on the other hand, was firmer, selling at 137@137¼, and closing at the latter price bid as compared with 136 on Thursday. Textile continued to meet support and closed virtually unchanged at 95⅛. Detroit and Cement likewise showed little change.

WHEAT MARKET QUIET OPENING PRICES STEADY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—Trading on the wheat market was quiet again today, the dullness being added to owing to telegraphic troubles caused by storms south of the line. Opening prices were, however, steady, being unchanged to ¼c higher on the steady Liverpool cables, but weakened later on the favorable weather reported over the United States winter wheat belt. Closing prices were ¼c lower and Budapest 1⅜c up. American markets opened unchanged to ¼c lower and showed weak in the latter part of the session. Winnipeg prices opened unchanged to ⅛c lower, and closed ⅝c lower for all months. Chicago opened ⅛@¼c lower and closed ¼@⅜c lower. The cash demand at Winnipeg was only fair, while offerings were very light and export traders were indifferent. Prices were ⅛@⅜c lower for contract grades, off grades were also lower.

Oats were quiet but prices generally firm, while flax showed weak. Cash flax closed 2⅛@2⅜c lower for No. 1 N. W. and No. 2 C. W. respectively. Flax options closed 1¾@2c down.

WOOL GROWERS ASK ASSISTANCE

Anxious to Secure Entrance to English Market—Grading System Needs Revision.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—A deputation representing the Southern Alberta Woolgrowers' association, waited last night on Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, requesting that the department give the association assistance in securing a better system of sorting and grading their wool for market.

It was pointed out that this year they would have a very heavy clip, and they were getting very low prices. They felt that one of the chief causes was the fact that their system of sorting and grading was not such as met the requirements of the British and eastern Canadian manufacturers. They are particularly anxious to secure an entrance to the English market and asked that they be given some assistance.

They presented an interesting table of figures as to the number of sheep, the yield and the prices. R. C. Harvey of Lethbridge, president of the association, acted as spokesman.

SUFFRAGETTES THREATEN KING

Militant Women Should be Treated as Criminal Lunatics, Urge Their Opponents

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 21.—The public attitude toward the suffragettes for their window smashing and mail box outrages and similar actions has been shown by every shade between angry indignation and hilarity. Their latest performance at Walton Heath and Kew Gardens seems to be awakening the people to something like a realization that the woman suffrage movement is drifting toward universal terrorism with a possible sex war as its eventual outcome. This view is helped not a little by the discovery through interviews, that the non-militant woman suffragists refuse to condemn these outrages. The suffragettes have gone so far as to direct their efforts at the royal family, who, indeed, up to the present, have entirely escaped annoyance, although, it is said that the King and Queen were recently greatly affronted by a suffragettes agent who got into the private grounds of one of the royal residences. The matter was hushed up by the direction of the King lest the militants should benefit by the advertisement. It is owing to the violence of the suffragettes that the list of those to be presented at the courts at Buckingham palace are being scrutinized more closely than ever. It is well known to the police that the militants planned to make a hostile demonstration when the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra appeared at the opening of the session of parliament in that sovereign's reign and to wake up the present sovereign is the most cherished object of the suffragette campaign.

Queen Mary, whose views on the status of women are pretty much the same as those of the late Queen Victoria, regards the militant movement with detestation. The efforts of those who are responsible for the safety and comfort of the sovereigns are commensurate with her anxiety.

The newspapers in varying degrees of warmth censure the latest violence, but while some urge that while the women firebugs and instigators of outrages of this kind, such as Mrs. Pankhurst and Mrs. "Gen." Flora Drummond, should be treated as criminal lunatics, others lay all the blame on those who withhol dthe franchise from women. The plain man without any political axe to grind is getting impatient with the whole business. He would instantly stop what he regards as senseless liberation of convicts just as soon as they refuse to eat food. He would let the hunger striker go hungry until they were weak enough to be admitted to the prison infirmary and handed over to the doctors. He believes that few of the women would go that far.

Home Secretary Blamed.

Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, is greatly blamed for his bad handling of the whole subject of the women's campaign. He is recognized as a good lawyer, but many persons regard him as a flabby sensationalist who is not fit to be home secretary, and declare that a strong man in the home office would put down the trouble in a short time.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst, who is practically exiled in Paris, goes a step further than her mother did at Cardiff on Wednesday night, when she told an interviewer yesterday that they (the sympathizers) would use any and every means in their power to achieve their end. In reply to a question as to whether the suffragettes were not afraid of being looked upon as anarchists, she said:

"Not at all. Men use explosive bombs for their own purpose. They call it war, and the throwing of a bomb that destroys other people is then described as glorious and heroic.

"Why should women not use the same weapon as men? It is not only war that we have declared, we are fighting for a revolution."

Proud of Militants

LONDON, Feb. 21.—"Gen." Mrs. Drummond, on being invited to state her views on the suffragette outrage at Kew Gardens when the tea pavilion was burned, said that both the arrested women had been voluntary workers at the offices of the Women's Social and Political union, adding:

"We are proud of such women. We have got an ample reserve of militant women to carry on our campaign indefinitely. We shall go as far as the government goes. People will soon realize who is to blame and then the government will be compelled to grant our demands."

The tea pavilion was a wooden building of the Swiss chalet pattern. Like other buildings on the grounds it had fire extinguisher apparatus. The fire started in the box in which the hose pipes were stored. The flames swept up the walls in a flash, and within 20 minutes the pavilion was a blazing ruin.

It is said that the arrested women wore men's clothing under their skirts, apparently with a view to escaping in that disguise.

In the neighborhood of the burning building cards were found, hysterically worded, demanding votes for women. One of them read:

"Peace on earth, good will to men—when women get the vote—two voteless women."

Another Blunder

The suffragette incendiaries, however, again blundered in their main object, which appears to be the cause of much irritation to members of the government. The tea pavilion is leased by the board of works to a firm of caterers and the property is insured, so the direct financial loss will fall on the insurance company, unless, as is possible, the financial provisions of the riot act may be invoked.

Band of Wasps

"The Wasps," is the name of the latest band of recruits to the suffragette legion. Their sole mission is to go to church attired in black, relieved with brilliant orange scarfs, in order to "demonstrate spiritually," against the injustice to English womankind. The real title of this new band is the "New Spiritual Militancy League." Mrs. Lillian Sauter, sister of the novelist and dramatist, John Galsworthy, is the temporary honorary secretary.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

BUILDING STOOD EXPLOSION WELL

Damage was Chiefly to Roof and Windows—No Further News From Brilliants

Although the dynamite explosion at Brilliant on Thursday created such a severe loss of life and limb among the 12 Doukhobors who were in the building the place itself, which is constructed of cement, suffered comparatively little damage, remarked Dr. Gilbert Hartin, coroner, yesterday.

The windows were broken and the roof, which is composed of metal, was damaged but the walls appeared uninjured by the explosion.

John Sherbinin, business agent for the Doukhobors society, was in Nelson yesterday, but said that he was unable to give any further particulars of the tragedy. He had no information as to whether the death roll had been increased from the two who were killed at the time the dynamite exploded on top of the queen heater, and did not know anything of the condition of the five men who were severely injured.

He explained that he had not visited Brilliant since the tragedy.

All the injured are being attended at Brilliant by their own people.

AT THE THEATRES

The curtain goes up next Wednesday at the opera house on the banner attraction of the season, "The Girl From Tokio" is to be here that evening, and the curiosity of theatre goers as to the nature of the show will be gratified. It is said to be one of the tuneiest, laughiest evening farces comedies ever written, and a large company of artists selected especially for their adaptability take advantage of every opportunity contained in the dialogue to hold the attention of the audience from the very rise of the first curtain. A refreshing feature of this comedy is the fact that it is not necessary to set through a long first act before the story commences to unfold itself, for one of the most amusing scenes ever witnessed in a legitimate comedy presents itself at the very start, and the situations and complications follow each other so rapidly that the audience is kept in one paroxysm of laughter. Sale of seats opens on Monday.

The pictures of the durbar in India, when King George and Queen Mary were proclaimed emperor and empress, are creating intense excitement in London and New York. Like scenes from the Arabian Nights, the gorgeous spectacle of the durbar is presented with its hosts of distinguished personages, king-emperor, queen-empress, princes and rajahs of India, chieftains and officials, thousands of British and Indian soldiers, and many hundreds of thousands of the people of that mighty empire, all attired in glowing colors of kaleidescopic hues.

PARIS IN GRIP OF JACK FROST

Steeplechasing Cancelled on Account of Frost—Skating in Open Air.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Steeplechase racing at Auteuil yesterday was cancelled owing to the severity of the frost. Today it was warmer, the maximum being 39. The weather is cloudy and northeasterly wind continues.

The nine artificial lakes in Paris and the neighborhood are covered with thin ice, and skating in the open air is already possible on the specially frozen rink at the Buffalo velodrome.

There are several victims of the cold, including a girl of 15, found unconscious in a suburban train. Fruit is endangered by snow and rain. The outlook in Paris is cold and cloudy. Furs and ulsters will be needed for some time.

RIVER AND LAKE ICE VERY THIN

Believed that Navigation Will Open on Great Lakes Month Earlier as Consequence

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—That the season of navigation will open a month earlier this year than usual, on account of the mildness of the weather and the lack of ice in the rivers and lake is the statement of Marine Inspector Davies, who is in the Capital.

"The ice on the St. Lawrence and on the lakes is very thin," he stated, "and consequently navigation will open much earlier, by April 1, I expect, instead of May 1, as is usual. This will make the water traffic heavy during the earlier part of the year. I question whether it does the trade any real good, as a slack time is bound to come in the summer when navigation opens so much ahead of time, and boat owners do not like to have their vessels on their hands with no freight to carry."

COBOURG, Ont., Feb. 21.—George Kennedy, son of James Kennedy of Harwood, was shot and killed today in California, where he has been living. A telegram received by his relatives did not give particulars, but it is understood that his slayer later turned the weapon on himself.

A MOTHER'S DUTY TO HER DAUGHTER

Requires That Her Blood Supply be Kept Rich, Red and Pure

Every mother who calls to mind her own girlhood knows how urgently her daughter is likely to need help and strength during the years between school days and womanhood. It is then that growing girls droop and become fragile, bloodless and nervous. Nature is calling for more nourishment than the blood can supply and signs of distress are plainly evident in dull eyes, pallid cheeks, aching backs, a languid step, fits of depression, headaches and a dislike for food. These signs mean anaemia—that is bloodlessness.

The watchful mother takes prompt steps to give her girl the new, rich blood her system is thirsting for by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood and transform unhappy anaemic girls into robust, happy bright-eyed young women. No other medicine has ever succeeded like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because no other medicine can make that new, rich, red blood which brings health and vitality to weak, bloodless systems. Miss Mamie Krouse, Conetown, Ont., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. I had been a sufferer for almost two years from anaemia, and seemed, no matter what I tried, to be growing worse. I was very pale and seemed bloodless, suffered from frequent headaches, the least exertion would leave me completely tired out, and I was very much discouraged and fretful. At last I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got a half-dozen boxes, and by the time they were used I was feeling much better. A few more boxes fully restored my health and I have since been well and strong and able once more to enjoy life."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The local Canadian Pacific railway shops are running at present on an eight hour schedule. The working hours are from 7 a.m. to 12 and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., making eight hours in place of nine hours daily. The shops are closed all day on Saturday.

As the attendance at last night's meeting of the British Columbia Mining association was not, in the opinion of those present, sufficiently large to make it desirable to discuss the important matters which it had been proposed to bring before the gathering, adjournment to the call of the chair was taken.

The February meeting of the University club will be held in the board room of the public school this evening. Dr. E. C. Arthur will give the address of the evening, the subject being, "The Wonders of Modern Surgery." Special reference will be made to the work of Dr. Alexis Carrell of the Rockerfeller Institute, who this year received the Nobel prize for his researches in anatomy and physology. A good attendance is anticipated.

NELSON MAN NAMED PRESIDENT

F. S. Hall Heads District Sunday School Association—Teachers are Granted Diplomas

What were regarded as excellent and very satisfactory reports from the Sunday schools of Nelson district were received at the afternoon session of the Nelson District Sunday School association's annual convention, which was brought to a close last night. Reports were received from the local Presyterian, Baptist and Methodist Sabbath schools, and Harrop, Robson, Crescent Valley, Gutellus, Salmo, Ymir, Proctor and Fairview schools from which the following statistics were compiled:

Total officers and teachers	99
Primary scholars	531
Intermediate scholars	198
Adult scholars	120
Cradle roll	89
Home department	20
Total enrollment	1057

F. S. Hall Named President

The convention elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—F. S. Hall.
Vice-president—A. B. Stanley
Secretary—Gerald S. Rees.
Treasurer—J. H. Allan.

A. D. Clyde was again unanimously appointed superintendent of the teachers' training department.

The afternoon session opened with a devotional and song service conducted by T. H. Fry, assisted by Mrs. P. Benson. The meeting was addressed by Rev. F. H. Graham on "God's Call to Service." He laid special emphasis on the benefits of the work to the children who were attending the school, which was greatly appreciated by the Sunday school workers.

A "round" conference was held under the directorship of Rev. T. W Williamson and many vital questions came up and were dealt with.

A. D. Clyde of West Robson, gave an address on "The Needs of Our District," and pointed out the necessity of a superintendent for each of the primary missionary and temperance departments of the school work, and the suggestion resulted in a motion by Harry Amas, seconded by Rev. E. S. Logie, that officers be appointed by the incoming executive. The motion passed unanimously.

A committee was appointed to bring in any matter which had the welfare of the Nelson Sunday School district at heart. It resulted in a resolution which was, in effect, as follows:

"Whereas the notice of this convention has been called to the conditions prevailing throughout the Kootenay in regard to social conditions, gambling, the licensed liquor traffic and Sabbath desecration, which are nothing short of appalling;

"And whereas great disappointment has been experienced in the attitude of the municipal and provincial authorities in regard to the demand for the enforcement of law;

"And whereas the weakening of the moral sentiment of the people occasioned by these associations, has resulted in a general retarding of the religious work in the whole region, inducin laxity in regard to Sabbath observance, and the retirement of many men and women, formerly zealous, from active Christian service, and stirring others to open hostility to religion;

"And whereas the religious forces have only in a slight manner sought to relate themselves to the great industrial problems of the day, which are approaching a crisis at the present time in the Kootenay, which will probably demand the attention and the force of public opinion to effect a settlement on a just basis;

"Therefore be it resolved: That this convention request the executive committee to take such steps as will result in the assembling of a convention of the religious forces of the Kootenay country from all the Sunday schools church boards of government, women's church organizations, men's brotherhoods, young people's societies, temperance organizations and all other societies in sympathy with the object of bettering conditions in regard to the matters as set forth in the preamble."

This resolution was moved by Rev. A. E. Smith and seconded by A. D. Stanley and carried unanimously by the convention.

At the evening session teacher's diplomas were presented to the following teachers, who have duly passed the required examinations. The presentations were made by Rev. I. W. Williamson to A. D. Clyde, Miss Gladys Clyde, Miss V. Fowler, Miss Jessie Clyde, George Clyde, A. O. Fowler, Miss Ida Home.

Rev. Dr. A. P. McDiarmid, ex-president of the Baptist college at Brandon Manitoba, addressed the gathering on "The Dignity of the Sunday School Calling." Dr. McDiarmid stated that the Sunday school teacher was engaged in moulding the subtle forces of personality.

A vote of thanks was passed by the convention to the citizens of Nelson who had entertained the delegates, to the church board for the use of Trinity church and to the Nelson Daily News for the reports which had been made of the meetings.

Miss Madelon F. Thomson delighted the convention at the evening session with a solo.

They cure constipation, indigestion, expel worms, break up colds and make teething easy.
