COOPERATION IS FIRST ESSENTIAL

Ontario Apple Grower Gives Evidence

BRITISH COLUMBIA MEN TO BE CALLED

Proper System of Marketing Needed--Express Companies Rapped

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 6.—The agricultural committee of the house of commons had a considerable amount of light thrown on the apple trade in general when it called upon Dr. Daniel Johnson, president of the Ontario Fruit Grower's association, as a witness this morning. Dr. Johnson was clear in his statements and outspoken in his condemnation of certain conditions which he declared as militating equally against producer and consumer.

The lamentable conditions which prevailed last year, with one quarter of the apples rotting in Western Ontario, while western consumers paid exorbitant prices in an ill-suplied market, he said were due to the following conditions:

The great lack of co-operative methods among the growers except in a few counties.

Discrimination of western railroads in favor of American fruit.

Lack of a proper system of marketing fruit.

High freight and express rates from Ontario to the west with a slow service and no stop over privilieges.

The use of barrels instead of boxes for packing apples.

The committee was plainly impressed with the testimony of Dr. Johnson, particularly with respect to the freight rates west and it was decided to call traffic officers of the railway commission to explain the discriminations that are charged against Ontario fruit.

Dr. Johnson told the committee that he believed fully 25 per cent of the apples in western Ontario would waste this year, while consumers would pay a high price. This, he said, was due to peculiar circumstances.

Central Packing House Needed.

The farmers, he said, got from 50 cents to $1 a barrel, some more, some less. He instanced the case of a woman in his own county who was offered $125 for her whole orchard. She secured admission to a co-operative association and received $1.35 per barrel, giving her a profit of $700. He believed a central co-operative association would be a great benefit. He believed the central packing house was the best system, far ahead of orchard packing.

Dr. Johnson said he had never had success in shipping apples to England. He had always lost money on such shipments and he believed the experience of other dealers was the same.

He believed the English market was a good one and that something should be done to care for it. The western market was also a good one because the western people were willing to pay the price. They estimated that they were buying 60 per cent of their fruit from the United States today. Ontario growers should come to the box method.

Dr. Johnson lamented the amount of poor fruit shipped west.

"I was in the west three years ago," he said, "and I was ashamed to say I was an Ontario fruit grower when I saw some of the fruit that had been shipped out there. I am in favor of inspection at the point of shipment."

Hon. Martin Burrell gave warm praise of the work of the co-operative fruit association. "I believe more has been done by the co-operative associations in Norfolk and all these other counties, than any other agent known of," he said.

Marketing Great Problem.

Dr. Johnson also praised the work of the district representatives of other fruit districts. Marketing was the great unsolved problem. He did not think so much of co-operation in handling orchards. Every farmer should look after his own orchard.

Better transportation was one reason why American apples had found such a market in western Canada. For instance, American shippers had a rate of 13 cents a barrel between Medicine Hat and Winnipeg, while Ontario shippers paid 79 cents over the same distance.

"We should have co-operative methods in the east," said Dr. Johnson, "and we should have co-operative methods of delivery in the west. American railways encourage the shipment of American fruit in the west, while we suffer slow transportation."

Mr. Bowman of Huron thought the railway comission should look into the railway rates charged on Ontario fruit in the west.

Dr. Johnson said thousands of barrels of Ontario apples went to waste because there were no stop over privileges.

Charges Rate Discriminiation.

"We, of Ontario, are losing the trade of Alberta and Saskatchewan through railway discrimination," said Dr. Johnson. The point with regard to rates which he mentioned led to a long discussion, the general opinion being that the railway commission should take action.

Express rates, said Dr. Johnson, were killing the trade in peaches, plums and tender fruits. The express rate on fruit from Sarnia to Winnipeg was $2.90 a hundred while from Forest to Winnipeg, 23 miles less distance, the rate was $4.60 a hundred. The express rate on fruit from Forest to Sarnia was 30 cents for 100 lbs. Flour was shipped from Forest to Boston at half that rate. Fruit inspectors should be also in a position to prosecute railways that throw fruit around and made it unmarketable, he said.

WILSON THOUGHT TO CONTROL ACTION

President-Elect's Attitude Expected to Have Important Bearing on Panama Canal Question.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—President-Elect Wilson's attitude on Panama canal tolls and free passage for American coastwise shipping is expected to have an important bearing upon the senate's action on the Root amendment proposing the repeal of the free ship provision of the bill passed last August.

While the Democratic national platform advocated the remission of tolls to coastwise vessels, a number of leaders in the anti-free passage fight think some Democrats may be willing to vote for the repeal of the provision now, so the subject may be left over until Prof. Wilson takes the chair.

The Root amendment will be taken up by the senate committee on interoceanic canals tomorrow. Senator Root will be heard later. It is probable this hearing will be given to advocates and opponents of the provisions.

While advocates of the Root amendment do not count upon securing enough votes in committee to favorably report it, the proposal probably will come before the senate either upon a minority report or upon the demand of some senator.

WED FOURTH COUSIN VOWS NULLIFIED

Montreal Couple in Predicament—Ask Permission to Appeal to Privy Council.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—The marriage of fourth cousins dissolved on the plea of consanquinity was again before the court of review this morning. The husband and wife, Tremblay and Depatie, were both members of the Roman Catholic church and were married according to the rules of the church. Some time after the marriage the parties discovered that they were related as fourth cousins. The marriage was thus invalid according to ecclesiastic law as no dispensation had been granted. The husband appealed to the ecclesiastical authorities and the marriage was declared to be null. He then took the case before the civil court at Sorel, and the ruling of the ecclesiastical courts was maintained.

The court of review held a similar view. This morning the proceedings were confined to a formal application for leave to appeal to the privy council and a motion for the fixing of security for costs. The application was held over until Tuesday.

BUSINESS MEN WANT TREATY RENEWED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 6.—The chamber of commerce today adopted a resolution calling on the president and senate of the United States to renew the arbitration treaty made between this country and Great Britain in 1908. The treaty expires on June 5 next.

TURKISH LOSSES FIVE THOUSAND

Bulgarians Win All Along Line at Gallipoli

FOREIGNERS MAY NOT LEAVE CITY

Balkan Allies Refuse to Establish Neutral Zone at Adrianople

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—News from the seat of war is meagre. Vague reports of fighting in Gallipoli and along the Tchataija lines have been received but no details enabling one to judge of the character of the operations.

The fact that the Bulgarians appear to be moving their positions westward along the Tchataija lines seems to show that they realize that there is a possibility of an attempt to outflank them but so far there is no confirmation of the rumors that the Turks are moving troops by sea to the neighborhood of Rodosto and Miadi.

The reports indicate that the Turks have met a reverse in the Gallipoli peninsula, but no word has been received as to whether the main forces have yet been engaged as it is assumed that the Turkish lines at Bulair and across the neck of the peninsula are well defended by modern works, which should offer resistance. Fighting at this point should bring the rival fleets into the operations, but no naval movement has been reported.

Dr. Daneff, head of the Bulgarian delegation, returned to Sofia today. The ambassadors of the powers had another meeting in London this afternoon.

Turks Lose Heavily.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—A Constantinople despatch to the Daily News says that heavy fighting has been going on for two days in Gallipoli and that the Bulgarians have won all along the line. The Turks, on their own admission, have lost 5,000 men. The fighting began on Tuesday. The Bulgarians advanced from Kadikui toward Kavak, which the Turks occupied. The fight lasted until evening when the Turks retired to Bulair. Another Bulgarian force on the Marmora coast occupied Myriophyo.

It is reported that the Bulgarians, before leaving Rodosto, burned all the military buildings.

The grand vizier, Mahmoud Shefket Pasha, in his recent visit to the front is understood to have met General Savoff, the Bulgarian commander.

Foreigners May Not Leave.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SOFIA, Feb. 6.—The ministers of the powers in Sofia today communicated to Premier Guichoff the request of the consuls at Adrianople for permission for foreigners to leave the town or for the establishment of a neutral zone for their protection.

Premier Guechoff declined to accede to the request. He said, in explanation, that there was no precedent for foreigners leaving a beseiged place under similar circumstances and there were weighty reasons why Bulgarian headquarters could not grant such permission nor could a neutral zone be established, as no guarantee could be given that shells would not accidently fall within the zone, and consequently difficulties would be created for the troops engaged in the operations.

Main Turkish Force Retires.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The main body of the Turkish troops has retired behind the main line of defence at Gallipoli, according to a despatch to the Daily Telegraph.

A Constantinople despatch says that the Bulgarians attacked the Bulair forts but were compelled to retire to their old positions.

The Turkish cruiser Messuidieh, with two torpedo boats, has sailed for the Black Sea, apparently to cover the landing near Midia of troops from Trebuscond.

Renew Peace Efforts.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—A Constantinople despatch to the Daily News says there are rumors of heavy Turkish loss in Gallipoli, but Mahmoud Shefket Pasha has given assurances that only unimportant skirmishes have occurred. Regarding the reported renewal of the peace negotiations, the grand vizier would only say that the powers were continuing their efforts in favor of peace, but that the situation was not clear.

SUMMONS CONFERENCE OF PROVINCIAL PREMIERS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 6.—The Saskatchewan government has, in pursuance of a resolution adopted at the last session, taken the initiative in asking for the summoning at an early date of another session of the interprovincial conference of premiers to consider the legislation now before the house of commons empowering the federal government to undertake the work of construction and improvement of highways in various provinces.

MINISTERS SPEAK ON NEW MEASURES

Important Acts Before British Columbia Legislature Explained—Amend Fire Insurance Act.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 6.—Pithy speeches by Hon. H. E. Young, Hon. W. J. Bowser and Hon. Price Ellison in explanation preliminary to the second reading of the bills respecting local improvements in municipalities, for the amendment of the Fire Insurance act and with regard to the establishment of a system for the registration of vital statistics and the regulation of crematoria gave varied and special interest to the otherwise routine proceedings of the local legislature today.

In each case the ministerial explanation was short, clear and so convincing that the several bills forthwith took second reading without objection or criticism. One other feature of the afternoon's proceedings which calls for special mention centered in the presentation by message of a bill for the amendment of the act of last session establishing and incorporating the University of British Columbia by extending by three years the period within which the government may select lands for university purposes. The statute to be amended provides that lands reserved pursuant thereto shall be selected within six years from April 25, 1907, for subsequent administration and disposal under the provisions of the Land act. The amendment contained in the bill now receiving parliamentary attention prescribes April 25, 1916, as the expiry date for such selection.

Bills Advanced a Stage.

A considerable portion of the sitting was devoted to routine advance of business. Reports were received from the private bills committee stating the rules to have been complied with in connection with the bill to readjust the boundary between the township of Richmond and the corporation of Point Grey and also recommending that the time limit for the presentation of private bills to the house be further extended to Feb. 13, which latter recommendation was adopted by the house upon the rules being necessarily suspended in this connection.

Mr. Ellison presented the annual report of the bureau of information and there were advanced a stage the bills to correct clerical errors in the Bulkley Valley Official Map act, to amend the Revenue and Civil Service act, making provision for the appointment of an auditor general and defining the functions of the treasury board, amending the Strathcona Park act and the Landlord and the Tenant act and for the creation and establishment of the new Mount Robson park as well as the bill for the validation of certain bylaws of the corporation of North Cowichan.

RAILWAY PAYS COMPENSATION

Up to Three Thousand Dollars Paid Victims of Thanksgiving Disaster or Their Relatives.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 6.—Compensation ranging from $25 to $3,000 has been paid by the Canadian Pacific railway in the cases of all seven of "A" company of the 48th Highland regiment who were killed or injured on Thanksgiving day in the wreck at Streetsville Junction when a troop train returning from the annual sham-fight collided with the Detroit flyer.

There were, in all, about 45 claimants for damages and in all but three instances settlement was left in the hands of a committee of three officers of the regiment. The cases that remain to be settled are the three most seriously injured and these, when the real extent or permanency of the injuries has been ascertained will likely entail heavy compensation.

The widow of Murdoch, who was killed, was awarded $3,000 by the Canadian Pacific railway. The relatives of Bannatyne, the other victim, received slightly less.

MILLION AND HALF FROM WILDCATTING

Government Action Against Mining Promoters Costs Seventy Thousand Dollars—Millions of Shares Sold.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The Wisner case, which grew from the recent government campaign against wild-cat mining stocks, went to the jury today. It has been on trial in the federal court for two months and has cost the government $70,000. One hundred and three witnesses have testified, coming from almost every part of the country.

The defendants, A. L. Wisner and John J. Meyers, constituting the firm of A. L. Wisner & Co., are accused of using the mails to defraud by the sale of worthless mining and oil stocks. A government expert testified that the firm sold more than 17,000,000 shares in 40 different companies and received from investors $3,048,268. These investors, it is charged, lost everything.

The federal attorneys contended the total production of the mines and oil wells exploited by the defendants were $278,505, while the expenses were $268,635. Nevertheless, it is charged, $80,379 was paid out in dividends, leaving about $1,400,000 to Wisner and Meyers.

ARE HUMAN TORCHES.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Prince Albert, Sask., Feb. 6.—Mrs. John McLeod and an only child tonight had a narrow escape from burning to death when an oil lamp exploded. Rushing from the house with the baby in her arms, McLeod managed to reach a neighbor's house before giving up. Both were a mass of flames, but these were quickly extinguished, and while seriously injured and in the hospital both will recover.

ROSSLAND WINS INTERNATIONAL

Beats Fernie in Best Game of Carnival

SPECIAL TRAIN TO NELSON TONIGHT

West Kootenay Champions Meet Crows Nest Septet--Golden City Cubs Victors

Arrangements were made yesterday by Dr. M. J. Vigneux, manager of the Nelson senior hockey team, for a special train which will leave Rossland for Nelson tonight at 11 o'clock. Visitors to the carnival will leave here at 9:30 this morning.

It was thought that there were many people in Nelson and between this city and Rossland who desired to see part of the carnival but who were unable to give the time that would be required under ordinary conditions. With the dual object in view of "boosting" the carnival and of making the trip a convenient one for Nelsonites and people residing between the two cities Dr. Vigneux therefore arranged for the special train. He advertised it last night through boys on the street, the picture shows and skating rink.

Tonight Nelson will play Fernie in the final game which is to decide the winner of the British Columbia championship series. This match promises to be one of the fastest and most exciting of the carnival, especially as Fernie proved victorious over the West Kootenay champions in the first round of the International contest.

Another game today which will prove of interest to Nelson residents will be the contest between the ladies' teams of this city and Rossland. It will take place this afternoon. The local girls will line-up: Goal, Dora Jordan; point, Lillian Foote; cover, Gwen Cummins; centre, Gladys Foote; rover, Betty Batts; right wing, Della McLaughlin; left wing, Lillian Oates; spares, Mrs. J. Turner and Elsie Thompson. Mrs. M. J. Vigneux will accompany the team as chaperon.

With the Nelson visitors to the carnival the team will leave on the Rossland train at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Rossland Team Champions.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Feb. 6.—Rossland tonight beat Fernie three goals to two in the best hockey game of the carnival and won the International championship. Both teams dished up some splendid hockey and the fans went wild with delight when the home team scored the winning goal in the last period.

This afternoon the Rossland juniors beat the Nelson cubs by a score of 5-3 in a good hockey exhibition.

Skating, curling, horse races and other winter sports were on the program today and delighted the crowds of spectators which are growing larger as the carnival progresses.

In the afternoon Nelson beat Trail by a score of 6-3.

Rossland International Champions.

The final round of the International hockey series was played tonight. The largest attendance of hockey enthusiasts since the opening of the carnival viewed this game. The weather conditions were very favorable and the men all in the pink of condition. The game was started at 8:31, with both teams determined to do their best. They appeared evenly matched and played seven minutes before a goal was scored by Thrasher for Fernie.

This game did not start as clean as usual. One minute after this goal was scored, Ulrich was on the fence for two minutes. Three minutes later both Ulrich and D. Ross were on, Ulrich for two minutes and Ross for one minute. Three minutes later, Wallace made a clean rush up the centre of the ice and raised one more for Fernie. From then until the end, both sides showed some pretty good hockey but there were not any more goals in this period which ended 2-0 in Fernie's favor.

Between the first and second periods there was a race, lady and gentleman skating together. There was only one entry, George Trevaro and Bernice Post. They skated the distance around, making some good time and took the prize.

Shoot Through Net.

The second period started on time with all men on the ice. They rushed the puck around some four minutes, when Lynn shot the puck so hard it went through the net. The Fernie team did not think it was a goal and asked for a new umpire and Michelly came on instead of Valentine. About one minute after this Ulrich got struck on the chest with the puck, which made him sick for a minute. When they resumed and had been playing for a minute and a half, Milne was put on the fence for two minutes and just as he was arrested, Rochon scored a goal for Rossland, tying the score. The pace now set was terrific and two minutes later McQuinn was on the fence. Just after he went back on the ice Ulrich was brought to the fence for 2 minutes; 15 seconds later the second period ended with the score 2-2.

Between the second and third periods a one mile skating championship was put on, Williams of Trail hockey team winning easily by two laps. Smith of Trail was second and G. Trevora third. The starters were A. Waring, C. Griffith and W. Prest.

The third period started with Ulrich on the fence for one and one half minutes. About five minutes after the start McQuinn's foot got hurt and he had to go off and D. Hoss was put off to even up. Ten minutes time had been used up when Ulrich made a fast rush and scored for Rossland and now the crowd went wild, showing where their hearts were.

From now on words cannot describe the scene, for faster hockey one would have to travel and see a lot of games. Both teams were good and it would have been taking big chances to have bet on either team, but time favored Rossland and the gong sounded before any more goals were scored. The referee, Fenwick, was kept very busy with off sides and as far as could be seen, he did not show any favoritism.

The line-up:

	Position
Rossland		Fernie
	Goal
Cosgriff		Cadden
	Point
D. Ross		Wallace
	Cover Point
J. Ulrich		Milne
	Right
R. Rochon		McWha

Mayor of Essex Awakens in Time to Rescue Inmates of Burning Residence—They Jump.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 6.—Dr. Bowle, mayor of Essex, was awakened shortly after 2 o'clock this morning by the cracking of flames. Rushing from his house in zero weather clad only in his night clothes, he found the home of his neighbor, E. Wall, ablaze. Mrs. Wall and her two young children were trapped in their bedroom. Summoning Dr. Brien, Mayor Bowle stood beneath the window, and in his arms caught the two children who were tossed from the second storey window by their mother, who then jumped, suffering a badly sprained ankle.

The Bowie residence, the butcher butcher shop and the home of the Walls were burned and the drug store of R. Tweedles damaged by the blaze. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

MIGHT IMPROVE LEMIEUX ACT

Sir George Askwith's Report to England Is Generally Favorable—Would Make Changes.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Sir George Askwith, chairman of the industrial commission, who went to Canada last August on behalf of the British government to investigate the industrial disputes act, with a view to its introduction, takes generally a favorable view of the measure in his report presented to the board of trade. In regard to the application of the act to Great Britain, Sir George says:

"The intent of conciliation is the more valuable portion of the act and an act on these lines, even if the restrictive features which aim at delaying a stoppage of work were omitted, would be suitable and practicable for this country."

EAST AWAKENS TO NEED FOR PUBLICITY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 6.—The scarcity of farm help and the general decrease in rural population of York county is arousing the York county council to unusual action and the publicity committee is strongly in favor of a vigorous publicity campaign for the purpose of pointing out the advantage of the country.

Government Anxious to Facilitate Public Business--Resume Debate Friday

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—The first sign of the determined tug of war in the commons in connection with the consideration of the government's resolution authorizing the expenditure of $35,000,000 on three dreadnoughts came tonight. The debate was resumed shortly after the house met at 3 o'clock, and was still under way at midnight when there was talk of an all-night session in order to bring the discussion on the resolution stage to as near a conclusion as possible. The speakers between 3 o'clock and midnight were Hon. Charles Marcil, who moved the adjournment on Tuesday night, E. M. Macdonald of Pictou and D. Mackenzie of Cape Breton, who at that hour was still speaking.

Mr. Marcil, who spoke until 5.30, dealt more particularly with the constitutional aspect of the question, claiming that the proposal of the government would involve the serious question of a departure from the satisfactory relations which have so long existed between Canada and the mother country. He claimed that the government had no mandate from the country, and that the question should be submitted to the people before a final decision was reached.

Mr. Macdonald spoke for three hours and a half and dealt with practically every phase of the question. He said that there was no middle course in regard to the matter. The issue now before the country was one of a policy of direct contributions or of a Canadian navy. One contribution would lead to others.

Shortly after midnight Mr. Mackenzie moved the adjournment of the debate, but Hon. Robert Rogers, who was leading the house, would not agree. He said that only two speeches had been disposed of and promised to listen attentively to Mr. Mackenzie until he was through.

At 12.45 Mr. Mackenzie concluded speaking and Mr. Martin of Regina moved the adjournment of the debate. Mr. Rogers agreed and the house rose. He said the naval debate would be continued on Friday.

Busy at Question Time.

E. M. Macdonald said he had noticed in a cable dispatch that the progress of the bill introduced in the British house dealing with imperial naturalization had been delayed owing to certain objections by the Canadian government. He asked the minister of justice for an explanation.

Hon. C. J. Doherty said that the last communication which had been sent by the Canadian government was on Dec. 4, 1912. At that time it was understood that certain amendments to the bill suggested by the Canadian government had not been dealt with. The government had no later information in reference to the matter.

During question time W. E. Knowles of Moose Jaw asked how many inspections were made during the months of June and July, 1912 by Homestead Inspectors Shields, McLaren, Erratt and Rathwell.

Hon. Dr. Roche replied that they had made 23, 34, 47 and 72 respectively during the period mentioned.

C. A. Wilson of Laval asked if the commission appointed to examine into the affairs of the law branch of the house of commons had made its report, and if so what were its recommendations.

Premier Borden replied that W. D. Hogg, K.C., of Ottawa, had conducted an inquiry into the law branch and had made a report which was under consideration.

W. F. Cockshutt was informed by the minister of labor that the report of the royal commission on technical education was not yet finished, but that it was likely to be completed early in March.

J. H. Sinclair asked if it was the intention of the government to compensate the persons formerly interested in sealing off the British Columbia

Back Great Britain In Panama Canal Dispute

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 6.—British Columbia's legislature will next week debate the policy of the United States government in respect to the international use of the Panama canal, the subject being introduced in the form of a resolution expressive of British Columbia's approval of the attitude adopted by the imperial government. The resolution, which will undoubtedly be adopted with unanimity will be moved by the premier, Sir Richard McBride, on Monday in terms as follows:

"Whereas, according to the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of 1901, as expressed in rule 1, clause 3 it was agreed by the United States that the Panama canal should be open to the ships of all nations upon terms of perfect equality;

"And whereas, by act of congress passed in August, 1912, vessels owned in the United States and engaged in the coastwise trade are to be exempt from all canal dues.

"And whereas, such discrimination would obviously operate to the isadvantage of British vessels engaged in the carrying trade of the Pacific coast, and whereas, in July, 1912, the British government entered a protest against the preferences granted by said act of congress to American vessels and again in November renewed the protest and requested, failing other means of settlement, that the question should be referred for arbitration to The Hague tribunal in accordance with the provisions of a treaty with the United States in 1908.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the legislature views with great satisfaction the attitude assumed by his majesty's secretary for foreign affairs in upholding the rights of British and Canadian shipping in the use of the Panama canal, and expresses the sincere hope that the negotiations which have been undertaken may speedily result in a just and amicable settlement being reached."

W.A. Anstie Resigns As Secretary To Lumbermen

The annual meeting of the Mount in Lumber Manufacturers' association will take place this morning at 10 o'clock in the board of trade rooms, and will continue in session throughout the whole day. The business of the day will be the usual routine, followed by the election of officers and the presentation and consideration of reports on the past year's operations and the outlook for the coming year. It is also understood that representations will be made to the Dominion government regarding the need for protection on the lower grades of lumber.

The position of secretary of the association until this time held by W. A. Anstie, who is retiring to accept a directorship on the Forest Mills, Limited, will be filled. About 35 or 40 lumbermen from all parts of the interior are gathered in the city for the meeting. In the evening the lumbermen will be hosts at a banquet at the Hume hotel to the members of the Nelson Board of trade and the delegates to the associated boards of trade annual convention.

STRASSBURG PEOPLE VICTIM OF HOAX

Garrison Turns Out to Welcome Kaiser, Streets Decorated, Army Mobilized When False Telegram Arrives

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—The garrison at Strassburg was the object yesterday of a practical joke, as a result of which the troops paraded in honor of an expected surprise by the kaiser. The emperor, as a matter of fact, was a long way from Alsace-Lorraine, having spent the day in the opposite corner of the empire, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the rising of East Prussia against Napoleon at Koenigsberg.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning a telegram was received by the military governor at Strassburg from Weissnburg, a few stations east of Strassburg, advising him that the supreme war lord was on his way to the garrison and that, having left his train, he would proceed to Strassburg by motor car. The governor was directed to warn the garrison and assemble it for dress parade at Polygan, the famous drill ground outside Strassburg.

The populace was greatly excited. It was known that the kaiser was due at Koenigsburg today and the report of his unexpected visit to Strassburg was immediately followed by the mobilization of the sixteenth army corps, "The Watch on the Rhine," or at least a trial mobilization.

Preparations were hurriedly made to welcome his majesty who would arrive, the telegram stated, between 11 and 2 o'clock. All the officers and men of the garrison who were away from the barracks were hastily summoned, donned parade uniforms and marched to Polygon.

The military governor, accompanied by the viceroy of Alsace-Lorraine, Count Wedel and Prince Joachim of Prussia, the kaiser's sixth son, who is studying at Strassburg university, repaired to the military airship station attached to the garrison. A Zeppelin airship was made ready to ascend in order to greet the kaiser from the air.

In the meantime the city of Strassburg had become gay with bunting on all the public and private buildings. Flags were flying. People streamed to the parade field. At last the military authorities realized that some one had played a joke on them, and abruptly departed. In a message from Strassburg tonight it is said that the perpetrator of the hoax is a discharged army paymaster named Wolter, who was bent on gaining immortality after the manner of "Captain Kopenick." It appears that Wolter arranged in some way, as yet unknown, to have a telegram sent to him from Weissnberg, and then, disguising himself as a telegraph messenger, delivered it at military headquarters.

COASTWISE TRADE FAVORED MONOPOLY

Minnesota Congressman Declares Free Tolls Provision Would Lose Pacific Trade to United States

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—"There is no other monopoly in the country that has had so many favors showered upon it as our coastwise trade," declared Representative Frederick C. Stevens of Minnesota, member of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, speaking last night at the second annual dinner of the Northwestern society.

"Free tolls on the Panama canal favor only the big business and are against the small business. Free tolls would forever doom our merchant marine.

"Big interests," he continued, "would be the only people who could afford to charter ships. I believe that if no tolls are charged to our ships a feeling will grow up against American vessels of commerce at every port on the Pacific ocean and they will find that they will have lost the business of the Pacific ports."

John Hays Hammond, president of the Northwestern society, said America produced a surplus of manufactures and "there must either be a retrenchment in our industrial activities, or we must depend on the exploitation of foreign markets."

He suggested five ways of doing this, namely:

"Investigation of foreign markets with a view to determining their demands—by securing more direct and more speedy lines of communication and transportation, by the investment of American capital in the development of foreign industry, by the formation of American banks in foreign countries, by the establishment of commercial schools or commercial departments in the universities of this country."

KAISER'S SON AIDS IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT RESCUE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, Feb. 6.—Prince Eitel Fritz, the Kaiser's second son, acted as rescuer in a serious railway accident on his way back from the Royal christening at Bucharest.

His train ran into a standing freight train near a wayside station in Hungaria. The petroleum tanks in the freight train caught fire and seriously burned two passengers on the express. A freight train guard was killed. The prince, who was unhurt, jumped from his car, and in an unconventional costume took an active part in the rescue work, never resting until the dead brakeman was removed from the wreck and the two other victims had been carried on stretchers to the station. He then dictated a telegram to the kaiser, telling him of the accident and his escape.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

Till This Recipe Was Tried—Cure Followed in Five Hours.

A prominent medical man, who suffered with a severe cough and cold on the lungs, often being kept awake all night, and weakened by loss of sleep, finally discovered a simple formula which will cure any cough in five hours by the clock. It is a laxative tonic cough syrup which can be made at home by anyone and the formula is here given for the benefit of those who pass sleepless nights in painful paroxysms. Those who have tried it say it is magical, and beats any high-priced, slow-acting cough medicine ever sold.

Mix in a bottle one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age. This will tone up and rid the system of deep-seated coughs, every time.

MONKS FIGHTS OVER DIVINITY OF NAME OF "JESUS"

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—While the question of the form of government to be arranged for the Mount Athos community of monks is still a subject of discussion by the powers it is apparent that an early decision is urgent, if the following despatch to the Times from Saloniki is correct:

"Serious disorders have occurred in one of the smaller Russian settlements on Mount Athos as a result of a discussion whether the name "Jesus" is or is not divine. The monks divided into two parties, one of which chased the other from the monastery. A spread of the disorder is feared."

LONDON AGITATED OVER DE FOREST CASE

King Edward, Duke of Fife and Earl Grey Resigned Because Friends Were Blackballed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—London has an unusually interesting topic of discussion in the resignations of Chancellor Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill from the Reform club, and the threats of Sir Edward Grey and Lewis Harcourt to follow suit because of the blackballing of Baron DeForest, member of parliament, who was put up for election by the two first named ministers and was supported by the two last.

Consideration for the personal feelings of Baron DeForest has been allowed to fall into the background in the interest taken in the action of the ministers on the discussion of the question whether a man is justified in removing his name from the membership of a club because a candidate whose election he supported is blackballed.

It is pointed out that King Edward did not resign his membership in the Royal Yacht Squadron, although it is a well known fact that that organization refused to have anything to do with two of his friends, despite his majesty's assiduous canvassing of members.

Are the members of the present cabinet, some ask, more sensitive than the late monarch. It is recognized, however, that the cases are not entirely parallel, for in a political club like the Reform club, where membership is regarded as a reward for political service, the leaders of the party certainly have some justification in withdrawing if the candidate they wish to favor is refused admission.

Baron DeForest is in goodly company if rejected. Cecil Rhodes was blackballed by the members of White's club, and thereupon King Edward, then Prince of Wales, the Duke of Fife and Earl Grey resigned.

Whites has never quite recovered its lost prestige. Whites also blackballed such men as Lord Randolph Churchill and the late Lord Lytton, while Gladstone was refused admission to the British club at Biarritz. Glaring instances of this kind have often caused an agitation for the modification of the rule obtaining in London clubs, by which one blackball in four or five white ones is a cause for the rejection of a candidate.

WELSHMEN SING IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Show Glee Over Passage of Disestablishment Bill—John Williams Leads National Anthem of Wales

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—An extraordinary scene marked the final passage of the Welsh church disestablishment bill through the house of commons last night by a government majority of 165. For the first time in the history of the British parliament the members of the house joined in a chorus of songs within the precincts of the house while it was still sitting. This occurred in the inner lobby just outside the open door of the house.

Immediately after the announcement of the division the Welsh members came hurrying out, flushed and excited, and, led by John Williams, the ministers' representative, began to sing with great fervor in Welsh, "Land of Our Fathers," the Welsh anthem.

A cry of silence was followed by still louder demands, "Go on." Encouraged by this exhortation Mr. Williams raised his voice again, and about a dozen Welshmen joined him in the singing. The lobby was crowded at the time with members who gathered around, surprised and amused at this departure from parliamentary decorum. At the close the Welshmen gave loud cheers.

The bill was afterward sent to the house of lords and read a first time. The measure has been considerably modified since it was introduced. Roughly, it may be said that, while the government has won over disestablishment the church has won over disendowment. After the bill becomes law the church will continue to receive $1,015,000 out of its present annual income of $1,300,000.

STUDENT WANTED MONEY SO BECAME BURGLAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—"I wanted some money and this was the scheme I planned to get it," exclaimed 16-year-old Arthur Stickle when taken to the police station at East Toronto tonight on charges of shopbreaking and wounding. Later he was released on $1,000 bond furnished by his father.

Stickle last night broke into a branch of the Central Business college, which occupies the flat above the Dominion bank at Queen street and Lee avenue, and which he had been attending for several months as a student. When he discovered that he had been trapped he wounded Fred Swann, the caretaker, who received three ugly gashes on the head. Swann succeeded in overpowering him. The caretaker found him trying to pry open the principal's desk.

BRITISH GOVERNOR SCORES MERCHANTS

Claims Gibraltar Chamber of Commerce Acted Without Proper Thought in Making Protest

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The British governor of Gibraltar Sir Archibald Hunter, recently issued an order against workmen employed in the dock yard and residing in Spanish territory passing through the town on their way to and from work. The chamber of commerce petitioned the governor to rescind the order as prejudicial to the shopkeepers. Sir Archibald called a meeting at which he delivered a speech, reprinted in the official gazette, in which he said:

"The chamber of commerce thinks of nobody but themselves, but this fortress is not maintained purely in commercial interests. The chamber takes no time for reflection. I do nothing without careful study and without devoting deep thought to cause and consequence. It would have been better if the chamber of commerce had taken time to reflect. This town is like the Augean stables. You remember the action taken by Hercules in connection with the stables. I make no pretense to be Hercules, but I do claim to know what I am talking about, and am determined to exact order and decency here from everybody who comes into the fortress I command. Let everybody understand that I do nothing without careful reflection and without devoting deep thought to the cause."

SUBSTITUTE BRAIN OF DOG FOR THAT OF DISEASED MAN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 6.—The brain of a dog was transferred to a man's skull at the university hospital here yesterday. W. A. Smith of Kalamazoo had been suffering from an abscess of the brain and in a last effort to save his life, this remarkable operation was performed.

Opening his skull the surgeons removed the diseased portion of his brain, and in its place, substituted the brain of a dog.

Smith is resting comfortably and the surgeons say he has a good chance of recovery.

MANITOBA LOANS TO IMMIGRANTS

Provincial Government Will Pay Passage Money of Farm Hands and Domestic Servants

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—There was a very full attendance at the opening meetings of the agricultural societies yesterday. Over 150 delegates registered during the afternoon and a number of others are likely to do so this morning. The minister of agriculture, Hon. George Lawrence, was the principal speaker at the evening meeting.

The minister spoke of the general increase in interest in mixed farming, but declared that it was not being carried far enough in view of the fact that 50,000 sheep had been imported by one firm during 1912 to supply the west with mutton, while the total flock of the province did not exceed 42,000 head at the present time. Again 7,000,000 pounds of butter had been brought in during the past year, some of it all the way from New Zealand, and 25 carloads of foreign eggs had been consumed in Winnipeg alone and four carloads in Brandon. These importations should not be, all such foodstuffs should be raised in the province. To stimulate mixed farming, the government this year increased all grants to livestock associations though the amounts they were able to give were still far below what the work required.

Mr. Lawrence stated that while the province had been getting a fair proportion of the immigration for the past year, it was his ambition to greatly increase the tide and he had persuaded the government to permit his opening provincial emigration offices in England, Ireland and Scotland and as soon as the house rose he would proceed to the old country to locate these offices. These offices would endeavor to induce good farm help to emigrate. He had addressed a letter to the secretary of the Grain Growers association stating that he would set aside $5,000 as a loan and that men whom the grain growers agent approved of, but who had not the money to pay a passage, would have their passage paid out of this fund and when the man landed in Canada and got to work the grain growers would repay the loan to the government and collect from the farmer who received the help.

Further, he had set aside an additional $5,000 on which farmers who were not members of the Grain Growers association could draw for payment of the passage money of suitable laborers, giving security to the government for repayment in the same way.

The men were not to get the whole benefit of this scheme. It was intended to bring out domestics in the same way.

SYLVIA THREATENS TO GO ON HUNGER STRIKE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was today sentenced to pay a fine of 40 shillings or 14 days imprisonment for her part in the suffragist disorders at the house of commons on Jan. 28.

"I shall not serve the sentence if I can possibly help it," she said. "I shall do a hunger trick."

It is expected that an anonymous friend will pay her fine and obtain her release, as has been done in the case of several other suffragette leaders recently. Sylvia is a younger sister of Christobel Pankhurst, who, notwithstanding the many reports of her presence in England, remains out of reach of the police.

At the trial of Sylvia Pankhurst, and other suffragettes today the prisoners asserted that "General" Mrs. Drummond was maltreated by a policeman outside of the house of commons. On behalf of the commissioner of public works it was stated that the matter had been thoroughly investigated and it had been found that Mrs. Drummond fell down and a policeman had picked her up.

THREE WIVES PLEADED AGAINST BIGAMY SENTENCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Although all three of Isadore Steinburg's wives pleaded for him today, he was sentenced to a year and a half in the prison for bigamy. Steinburg had admitted the possession of two wives, but he explained that he had married the second so that he might use her dowery to send his first wife back to Russia. The first Mrs. Steinburg, he said was homesick and consented to this plan. An officer who investigated this story told the court today that it was untrue, but he unexpectedly found a third wife, who was in court today with the other two.

Wives No. 2 and No. 3 stated that they did not blame Steinburg for seeking a new mate because his former maritial experience had been so unpleasant.

Good fruit was ruined continually by careless handling.

"It all comes to this," he said, "that one quarter of the western Ontario apples went to waste while the western consumers were willing to pay high prices. The western Ontario growers were not organized and no dealers came to them. Meanwhile, we are facing tremendously high freight rates to the west and the railroads do not supply us with cars. The Grand Trunk actually has less refrigerator cars than cargo; the Canadian Pacific railway has about 100 more but there are less refrigerator cars in Canada 10 years ago."

Pilfering, he said, was a serious problem with the express companies. They threw fruit around and smashed it recklessly. The railways were not so bad. The railway commission should be given power to deal with pilfering and rough handling. The board should also deal with claims standing more than three months.

Organization Important.

Mr. Burrell believed with Dr. Johnson that co-operative methods and better transportation facilities were the two chief needs of the fruit industry. With a better system of distribution he believed that five times as much fruit could be marketed in the west. He suggested that the committee continue its work by calling practical fruit growers from Nova Scotia and British Columbia. This will be done at once and officers of the railroad commission will also be asked to explain freight rates in the west. The minister emphasized the value of an educational inspection. The farmers should be shown the proper way to pack fruit as well as punished when they packed fruit dishonestly or improperly. He thought that organization all through was the only way of dealing with all the difficult problems that faced the fruit growers. There was also a need of a system of diverting cars of fruit as is done in the California fruit trade.

In regard to the proposed rates of freight and express, the minister expressed surprise that there should have been delays in hearings by the railway commission and in the commission acting, that were complained of by Dr. Johnson and the members of the committee. He strongly commended the arguments that had been made by Dr. Johnson and believed that a continuation of the investigation, so as to take in all the fruit growing districts of the Dominion, should be held.

SHOW SIGNS OF OBSTRUCTION

coast and in the waters of the Pacific for the losses sustained by them owing to the stoppage of pelagic sealing. Would the government name a commission to determine the amount of compensation?

Premier Borden replied that the matter was under consideration.

Resumes Naval Debate.

The naval debate was then resumed by Hon. Charles Marcil who adjourned the debate on Tuesday evening in the middle of his speech. He spoke at some length, giving many quotations from the speeches of prominent statesmen of the past to demonstrate that in matters of this kind the people of the Dominion should control their own affairs.

The loyalty cry, he said, had been worked to death, loyalty to Canada was the question which imposed itself upon Canadians now. It was because he was a British subject that he regarded the proposed contribution as a false move. It would not contribute to the maintenance of the supremacy of the British empire, but was almost certain to have an effect just the reverse. Canadians must not even allow the suspicion to get abroad that contributions or tribute could be raised in Canada at any time. The Canadian people and parliament would be unanimous if they would agree to carry out the policy decided upon by parliament in 1909. No one could say that the present proposal was receiving the unanimous support of the Canadian people. In the house of commons there was a strong and almost unconquerable opposition to the proposal, not because of the money involved but because of objections taken to the great principle at stake.

E. M. Macdonald, who continued the debate, referred to the action of the prime minister in instructing his followers not to speak any more on the resolution stage of the debate. He said there had been no effort on the part of the government to press this matter in spite of the fact that it had been urged that the emergency was great. Hon. W. T. White, who had been in public life for a year and a half, had promised the house a speech which was to save the empire. But apparently it had been called off. Then the house was to have heard from Hon. W. B. Nantel, who before the last election had denounced all naval projects. Now he was wrapped in silence. There were others on the government side of the house in exactly the same position.

Mr. Macdonald thought that the government's proposal was one which might imperil the good relations between Canada and the empire which had obtained up to the present time. It was a straight issue, he said, between a policy of contribution and a Canadian navy. Instead of doing their duty like Australia, Canadians were proposing to give up their status as a nation and to become subservient to any country within the empire.

Mr. Borden had once stated that his chief objection to a policy of contribution was that it would tend to sever the relations existing between Canada and the mother country. In order to obtain power and to secure the support of a reactionary element he had broken his word to parliament and the people. If Canada was to obtain any measure of greatness within a reasonable time it could only be done by the adoption of the policy proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Macdonald turned his attention toward the minister of inland revenue, Hon. W. B. Nantel, whom he accused of inconsistency in the matter of naval defence.

"The minister of inland revenue," he declared, "reminds me of a certain chancellor of the exchequer in the time of Peel, of whom Disraeli said 'he is like a fly in amber. One wonders how the devil he got there.' Mr. Macdonald said from 1867 to 1900 the record of the Conservative party had been one of inaction in the matter at issue.

He traced the record of the late government and wound up by saying "We have a record but they have nothing."

Mr. Mackenzie of Cape Breton, who followed with a long speech, said that the people of the Dominion would not approve the action of the government in declining to discuss this pertinent question. The supporters of the ministry had been muzzled and gagged and the government would realize before long that it had made a mistake because the proposed contribution involved probably the most important constitutional question which had ever come before the Canadian parliament for its consideration.

SHIPPING MEN OPPOSE WIRELESS

Some Claim Federal Bill Is Too Exacting—Provisions Are For Safety of Passengers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 6.—The government bill respecting wireless telegraphy on Canadian vessels was before the marine committee today and met with the protests of the shipping interests, especially those operating on the great lakes.

Hon. J. D. Hazen presented an amendment to the bill to accord with the views expressed in the reading. The effect of this would be to render wireless compulsory on vessels licensed to carry 50 or more people, including crew, plying 200 miles; on vessels licensed to carry 25 or more passengers plying more than 90 miles, and on vessels carrying 500 or more and plying more than 20 miles.

The apparatus must be capable of transmitting and receiving messages night and day over 100 miles and have a competent operator.

The section does not apply to river steamers on the St. Lawrence between Father Point and Port Orient.

The minister explained that clause C was meant to cover such trips as between Digby and St. John and also heavy traffic between Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara. The cost of installation and operating would be $100,000, which did not seem to justify the objections as to expense, considering the benefits accruing.

Francis King, K. C., for the Dominion Marine association, favored any reasonable enactment, such as the original bill provided, where the limit was 200 miles and 50 passengers. He denied that it would be of any benefit in case of boats plying to Niagara, which were almost always in close touch. The Hamilton and Toronto boats travelled along the lake shore.

C. J. Smith of the Richelieu & Ontario company developed the points made by Mr. King, and stated that his company always had a boat under steam at Toronto, and if the regular steamer did not arrive the emergency went after her. Only in one case in three years were the passengers seriously delayed, and in that case wireless would not have been a benefit. Little fog was experienced.

Mr. Hazen explained that the third clause affected only 14 vessels, nine on the east coast, three on the lakes and two on the Pacific.

The Canadian manager of the Marconi company explained that his concern was no close corporation. It was willing to sell its apparatus to ships or furnish money to operate them. Mr. Smith thought that a wireless telephone system would solve the difficulty.

"I do not think that invention workable," said Deputy Minister Desbarats.

B. R. Hepburn, M. P. for Prince Edward, a steamship man, saw objection to the bill in that the companies might withdraw their vessels from certain routes if wireless had to be installed.

SOCIETY BURGLAR DIED AFTER JAIL BREAKING

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Feb. 6.—The body of Herbert Repsold, known as the "perfumed burglar," who escaped from San Quentin penitentiary on January 10, while the state board of prison directors in executive session were considering the question of his parole, was found today on a marsh two miles from the prison. It is believed he committed suicide. Resold, who was the son of a Sacramento wine merchant, whose estate awaited settlement, was sent to San Quentin to serve 15 years after he had baffled the police of California cities for many months in the role of a society burglar.

CANNOT SUBPOENA DURING SESSION

Sir R. Forget Immune From Examination as Witness For Ten Months In Each Year.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—The rights and privileges of a member of the Dominion parliament were raised this morning in the course of argument before Mr. Justice Beaudin in the practice court.

A long series of motions were before the court arising out of the proceedings which Sir Rodolphe Forget, M. P., has taken against shareholders of the Banque Internationale. The proceedings are to recover certain sums of money claimed by Sir Rodolphe on behalf of his Paris brokerage office, as being due to him on stock exchange speculations.

Mr. Genest, who represented Sir Rodolphe Forget, brought up the question of the right of his client to be his own witness in cases in which he was personally interested. Mr. Genest contended that Sir Rodolphe had such a right.

This brought Mr. Geoffrion, K. C., to his feet with a query whether Sir Rodolphe was prepared to give evidence before the court as a member of parliament. It was asked could Sir Rodolphe be compelled to testify while the house was in session. To hold the case over until the end of the parliamentary session, it was added, would probably mean a delay of 10 months.

"I a member of parliament is only to give evidence when the house is not in session," Mr. Geoffrion remarked, "it means that it will only be for a two months period during the year. For the remainder of the year parliament will either be in session or the courts will be closed for the holidays."

It was suggested to ask Sir Rodolphe if he would be willing to appear and counsel agreed on this course. Argument on 16 motions occupied the attention of the court for a considerable time. The petitioners, who are the shareholders of the Banque Internationale, against whom Sir Rodolphe has taken action, ask that full bills be given the alleged indebtedness. The motions were all taken on delibre.

Judgment was also rendered in five other similar cases ordering the required particulars to be furnished.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7.

MAY AFFECT FRUIT INDUSTRY.

President-elect Wilson's declaration of war upon trusts may prove more far-reaching than some people had expected that it would. For example, the question has arisen as to whether or not under it the organization of fruit-growing associations such as have made a success of that industry to the south would not come under the prescription of the law.

This point has attracted the attention of the Washington fruit growers and the situation is being more or less generally canvassed. The point upon which everything would hinge would be as to whether an organization for the co-operative marketing of fruit would not amount to a conspiracy in restraint of trade, for, it is generally recognized, one of the effects of organization is to yield better returns to the producer. Whether or not this, at the same time, means higher prices to the consumer is the point to which interest would attach.

It is quite possible that Mr. Wilson's proposals will not prove as sweeping in character as some expect them to, for, owing to the peculiar character of the industry, co-operation is absolutely essential to the successful growing of any kind of fruit. Anything which would prevent co-operation in the marketing of fruit would destroy an industry, and probably in the long run place the consumer in a worse position than he would have occupied under a system of co-operative marketing on the part of the producers.

SUGGESTS SOLUTION, BUT DOES NOT GO FAR ENOUGH.

In today's issue is published a letter from Mr. Robert Main, in which he undertakes to deal with the problem of how best to settle this country. His proposition that the government should undertake the clearing of the land, and should hire incoming British settlers to do the work, and afterwards sell them the land at reasonable prices on the face of it, is worth consideration.

The idea is a good one, but why limit its application to Old Country immigrants? Why should not the benefit of such a policy be open to native-born British Columbians or to any others now resident of the province, or why should it be denied to *Canadians or to British subjects gene*rally, or even to any other desirable class of settler? Surely treatment cannot be asked for British immigrants from the Old Country that is denied British subjects generally, including Canadians and British Columbians. The British immigrant is of sufficient calibre, both mentally and physically, to hold his own and succeed where any other immigrant or white man can. Why, then, should he be singled out?

Would it not be pretty much in the nature of an insult to say to the incoming British immigrants that owing to their inability to succeed of their own efforts, the government is willing to step in and give them special assistance which is denied to everyone else?

There is no doubt, hoyever, that if such a policy were made to apply generally that it would be the means of inducing many good settlers, Old Country-born and otherwise, to locate on the land, and thereby assist in the development of the province's agricultural resources, thereby contributing to their own and the general prosperity.

So much for Mr. Main's proposition.

In his letter presenting it, however, he has conveyed several false impressions which are liable to be wrongly interpreted. His reference, for example, to booklets and pamphlets, which he says are being spread broadcast and which are not in keeping with the facts—as far as they apply to the Nelson Publicity Bureau, and it is the only publicity bureau to any extent in the Kootenay and the Boundary, is altogether wide of the mark. Nowhere in the literature being sent out from Nelson can Mr. Main or anyone else find any promise to men of employment in mines or in lumber camps. On this point the Nelson Publicity Bureau has been particularly careful. At the same time, it might be said, in passing, that most men who come to this country, prepared to take their chances and rough it when necessary, generally succeed, whether they be homegrown British or any other stock.

Mr. Main also appears to question British Columbia's resources and to make special complaint that the Britishers, as he calls them, are not given special treatment here. There is no object in arguing with Mr. Main as to the richness of British Columbia's natural resources, and it is not necessary to repeat that there are others as well as nativeborn Old Countrymen who are equally entitled to consideration, although he would confine it to the latter.

It is a matter of regret that in presenting a proposition, capable of being developed into a successful undertaking, Mr. Main has in some instances taken wrong ground and in others perhaps so worded his letter as to give an incorrect understanding of his position. But the fact remains that some system of governmental assistance in the clearing of land and the development of agricultural resources of the province would be distinctly in the interests of British Columbia, and it is to be hoped will be taken up at an early date.

What the Press Is Saying

Another Mystery.

The "limit" in litigation has been reached by a citizen of Georgia who has brought suit against a telegraph company for failure to deliver an important message to him. The Georgia citizen had killed a negro. A friend wired him, advising him to leave the state. Delay in the delivery of the message caused his arrest, and now he has entered action against the careless telegraph company. The real mystery is why anyone should find it necessary to flee from Georgia for the trivial misdemeanor of killing a negro. —Toronto Mail and Empire.

Distributing the Grant.

The very marked common sense methods that have been adopted in connection with the distribution of the government's grant for agriculture will be features of Hon. Mr. Burrell's bill that will receive commendation. At first sight it might appear that division of the appropriation to the provinces on a straight population basis would be the best method, since then all Canadian citizens would share alike. On the other hand, it might very reasonably be argued that those provinces having large population stand least in need of the government's practical assistance, and that to the sparsely populated provinces there is the greater need of lending a hand.—London Free Press.

"Approach and Glean."

Just before leaving America, Miss Violet Asquith consented to see some reporters from New York newspapers. She told them that in Great Britain the pressmen were allowed to approach and glean what information they could, but not allowed to ask questions on matters proposed by themselves. The New York papers are still fighting for breath over the "approach and glean" part of it. Imagine a Hearst representative "gleaning."—Amherst Daily News.

Efficacy Illustrated.

The practical value of the parcels post system was shown in an experiment which was made at Washington the other day. Representative Murdock had a parcel mailed to him from Portland, Oregon. It was mailed at Portland at 10 o'clock on the morning of January 17, and reached his office in the capital at 11 o'clock on January 23. The package was a can of razor clams, and it cost only 36 cents to send, while it took but 25 hours longer to cross the continent than a passenger travelling on the very best trains. —Montreal Star.

This Day in Canadian History

The last address penned by Sir John A. Macdonald to the "Electors of Canada," bears date February 7, 1891. On *the night of February 2 after "the re*port advising the dissolution of parliament had been agreed to in council," he sat up till a late hour outlining this address. In it he congratulated himself and the country upon the improvement in the status of the Dominion "in the eyes of the world" since the beginning of his premiership in 1878; upon the inauguration of the "national policy," the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway, "forming an Imperial highway to the east," and vigorously he animadverted against the policy of "unrestricted reciprocity," insisting that it would probably lead in the end to the annexation of Canada by the United States. "As for myself"—so begins the concluding paragraph of the address—"my course is clear. A British subject I was born—a British subject I will die!" With his old impetuosity, regardless of failing strength, he threw himself into the conflict—and won—but the struggle cost him too much. For the remaining few weeks he had again and again to fight off recurrent attacks of illness, and on June 6, 1891, he died.

The Weather

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—The area of high pressure which covers the western provinces and states has become more pronounced, while pressure remains low from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. Snow has fallen locally in southwestern Ontario and western Quebec, and snow flurries have occurred on the southern Saskatchewan. Temperatures have fallen from the great lakes eastward and the weather throughout the Dominion is generally fine and cold.

COMMUNICATION

ENCOURAGING SETTLERS

To the Editor of The Daily News,

Sir: As spring is approaching many besides myself are no doubt receiving enquiries from the old country as to the advisability of coming out to British Columbia. Most of those enquiries come from young men who wish to find employment and go in for farming. They are the best the old country can produce, ambitious, with a desire to prosper and be a credit to their parents and their country. What is being done to encourage them? What have we got to offer them? Every one agrees that settlers are wanted; the country is crying out for them; booklets and pamphlets are spread broadcast proclaiming the glorious country, vast resources, etc. We have our "publicity bureaus," distributing literature, expounding the great wealth of our mines, timber and fruit land. The booklets also affirm that employment can be had in those mines and lumber camps, but as the majority of our would-be emigrants desire to go in for farming or fruit growing, it would be unreasonable to expect them to bury themselves in a mine or lumber camp, as many are unfitted for such work. It has taken years of labor for many of these fellows to save enough to be able to emigrate and now that they are prepared to come, what answer have we got for these enquiries. It would not be to the interest of the province to tell them to stay where they are. Well then, we can only say that "employment is not guaranteed. You will have to take your chances and rough it like the rest of us. You may get a job on a ranch, or you may have to pack your blanket from place to place and get a meal where you can." This will no doubt discourage many of them and this country loses many good settlers. Australia and other countries pay passage and guarantee employment and surely this province, the richest of the rich, (so we are told), could do something to solve this vital problem.

It makes grants and concessions to big corporations, spends large sums in education, surely the genuine settler, who after all is the backbone and real asset of the country, should be considered in this program. The name British Columbia implies a white country, but if it were Chinese, Russian, Swede or Italian Columbia it would not be misnamed, for all the consideration the Britisher gets at its hands.

Surely there are some wise heads in the country who would devise some scheme to encourage those young fellows to come out and settle up our valley. Could not the government have 20 or 30 tracts of land throughout the province consisting of from 300 to 500 acres each with accommodation for 30 to 50 young fellows on each to work and clear up the land at a fair wage, with the option of buying from five to 10 acres of said land at a fair price? I am sure that some such scheme with details properly worked out by practical men, would encourage many of the best men in England to come here. They would be a credit to the old country and also to this and to themselves.

THE BOARD OF TRADE AND THE C. P. R.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir: I have observed with close attention the several conferences of the Nelson Board of Trade with the Canadian Pacific railway officials anent desired improvements in Nelson and district especially touching the construction of the last gap in the all-rail line from the prairies. The most astonishing feature of these conferences is the amount of desirable information that the board seemingly made no effort whatever to obtain from the company. The only really valuable fact elicited at the last meeting was Mr. Peters' assurance that no "cut off" would be built south of Nelson, an assurance by the way that was hardly needed by any one familiar with the topography of the district. It is obvious that trat any east and west through line in southern British Columbia must of necessity follow the course of the Kootenay river from Kootenay Lake to the junction of the Kootenay and Columbia rivers at Castlegar. Engineering difficulties practically preclude any other all-Canadian route. Nelson's position is, therefore, assured. It will always be on the southern main line of the Canadian Pacific railway, also of the Canadian Northern and possibly later of the Grand Trunk Pacific. What really should concern Nelson and the whole Kootenay district just now pertains to the intentions of the Canadian Pacific railway regarding the "missing link" in the all-rail route from Proctor eastward. Mr. Peters' contention that the construction of the Proctor-Kootenay Landing line at the present time would accomplish no good purpose can not be logically denied. Indeed, he might have gone farther and said that it never should be built. The distance between the two points is quite short with no serious engineerinng difficulties to encounter. It is therefore fair to infer that if the company deemed the construction of this link advisable it would have been built long ago without prompting from boards of trade or other outside sources. As the Canadian Pacific railway is obligated to eventually complete an all-rail line it is apparent that they have reasons other than the mere cost of this link for delaying its construction. That reason might easily be and very likely is, the probable selection of an alternative route.

Some months ago a map was published in the Winnipeg Free Press and also, I believe, in England, showing the route of the company's new short trans-continental line from Winnipeg to Vancouver via Weyburn, Lethbridge, Crows Nest, Nelson and Hope. Much of this line is already built and in operation and most of the remainder under contract or at least definitely located. The main purpose clearly is to secure the shortest practicable line to the coast. To accomplish this unnecessary detours on parts already built, must be cut out. The map referred to draws a nearly straight line from Cranbrook to Pilot Bay, via Marvsville. It is said that the saving in distance on this route between Cranbrook and Nelson, as compared with present detour by way of Kootenay Landing, would amount to about 80 miles. Though the grades may not be good, much of this difficulty could be overcome at a cost probably mod*erate in comparison with the advan*tages to be derived by such a large reduction in distance, as well as opening up a new traffic-producing country, rich in timber, mineral and agricultural resources. Incidentally it would solve the Canadian Pacific railway's present problem with regard to Crawford Bay service.

If the map referred to indicates the intentions of the company it fully explains and justifies their reluctance to build the Proctor-Kootenay Landing link. Strange to say no one at the board of trade conference, so far as published reports show, asked Mr. Peters any questions as to the company's plans in this direction, information exceedingly valuable to Nelson and the whole Kootenay country.

Looking at the matter in the light of the geographical and topographical situation it is reasonable to believe that it is only a question of time when this cut-off will be built. Thousands of people would like to know when.

It is also obvious that when the Kootenay-Arrow Lake branch of the Canadian Northern, now under construction to Lumby, reaches Nelson and Kootenay Lake via West Arm, it is not likely that they will make a long detour either to north or south end of the lake in order to link up with their lines in Southern Alberta, a short direct line to Cranbrook being far more probable. The same contention holds good with regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific shou'd the Crow's Nest Pass be selected by that company.

As there is no ice difficulty on Kootenay lake the maintenance of a ferry service to carry trains across the lake would not be a formidable matter. The distance from Proctor to Pilot Bay is only some three or four miles, or from Queen's Bay to Kootenay Bay about the same or less. At the latter point, completely sheltered from the north, an excellent harbor could be easily constructed.

It is possible that the Canadian Pacific railway may not feel disposed to seriously take up the question of building this cut-off until pressure from competition induces them to do so. That time may not be very far off. It is rumored that the Canadian Northern will in the near future look carefully into the situation, both as to the route and harbor facilities on the lake.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN BEATON CASE

Deceased Married Revelstoke Girl Recently—Had Spoken of "Ending It," Evidence Shows.

(Special to The Daily News.)

REVELSTOKE, B. C., Feb. 6.—The coroner, Dr. Hamilton, of Revelstoke, returned tonight from Beaton, a small fruit growing village on the Arrow lakes, some 60 miles away, where he had been summoned to hold an inquest into the death of Gordon Nellis. Nellis and his brother were proprietors and managers of the Beaton hotel, and only a few months ago Nellis was married to a Revelstoke girl. On Monday afternoon Gordon Nellis was found dead, shot through the head.

The inquest was held on Wednesday and a verdict "that Gordon Nellis, the deceased, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head," was brought in. The body was brought today to Revelstoke and will be interred tomorrow. The evidence showed that deceased on several occasions had been heard to say vague words about "ending it." No one was in the building or heard the report at the time of the shooting. Deceased was a native of Ontario and 27 years of age. He had lived in the Lardeau country about nine years.

SOIL OF NORTHERN ONTARIO FOUND GOOD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 6.—The questions submitted by R. R. Gamey, the member for Manitoulin, in regard to the conditions in Northern Ontario, were answered in the legislature this afternoon by Sir James Whitney in the absence of Hon. W. Hearst, the minister of lands, forests and mines.

First, however, Mr. Gamey sought opportunity to repudiate the suggestion of a Conservative newspaper that he sought to embarrass the government. He not only had no such desire, he declared, but he felt confident that prompt answers would be given by the government.

Sir James said the government had no intention of investigating the statements made by Dr. F. Fernow in regard to the soil of northern Ontario and the doctor was not in any way connected with the government service, nor employed by it.

As a matter of fact, said the premier, 70 or 80 samples of the soil of the clay belt had been sent to the Ontario agricultural college for analysis at various times and the analyses had been in most cases entirely satisfactory. In answer to the question as to what the government had done in the matter of exploiting the northern country Sir James said that an office had been opened at Cochrane and J. W. Whiston was in charge of the work of publicity and development at this headquarters.

ICE HOCKEY DRAWS RECORD CROWDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—The growing popularity of ice hockey is attested to by the large attendance recorded at the various games played so far in Vancouver and Victoria.

At the capital the seating accomodation of the arena has been sold out for every game and standing room has been utilized, making the average attendance at the Victoria games range over 4,000.

In Vancouver the tremendous seating accomodation of the arena was packed to the doors. The crowd on Tuesday night, it was announced today, was 500 short of the record attendance at the opening game of the season when 7,200 spectators witnessed the play. No other city in the Dominion has seen such a large attendance at a hockey game as at the game here on Tuesday for the simple reason that no other rink in the Dominion will come within 1,500 or 2,000 of accommodating that many spectators.

WILSON DEFEATS M'LEOD IN FINALS OF CRANBROOK BONSPIEL

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, Feb. 6.—The second annual bonspiel of the Crows Nest Curling association wound up this afternoon when P. E. Wilson of Cranbrook defeated N. T. McLeod of Lethbridge in the finals for the Walker trophy. Cranbrook retains the Hogarth cup as well, while Lethbridge captured the Grand Challenge and Magrath silverware.

WOLGAST SPARS FOR MATCH IN FRISCO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PORTLAND, Que., Feb. 6.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, who has been spending some time in Portland, stated today he had accepted Coffroth's offer to meet Tommy Murphy in a 20-round fight in San Francisco on Feb. 22 in place of Joe Mandot, provided the promoter will guarantee him $10,000 and expenses. Wolgast also said he had received an offer from New Orleans to box Jack Britton or Joe Mandot in that city some time in March.

ROSSLAND WINS INTERNATIONAL

rink won first prize and H. W. Atkinson, second. The make-up of these two rinks were: Lead, S. Patterson, 2; Rev. Mr. Kinney, 3; R. Timms, skip. A. A. Williams, lead; F. Graham, 2; M McKenzie, 3; R. Walker, skip.

Nelson Wins 6-3.

The second series of the British Columbia hockey championship was played between Nelson and Trail this afternoon, Nelson winning by a score of six to three. The carnival management must congratulate themselves upon the very fine hockey put up at their rink, as they certainly got the real thing this afternoon.

The game started with about 450 spectators present. This is not quite as many as have attended the other games, as a large number were waiting to see the game tonight between Rossland and Fernie.

There was a smart rush by Nelson to Trail's territory as soon as the puck was started out and from then on it was rushed hard until the finish. Nelson made the first goal after eight minutes' play. After this the game went along two and a half minutes, then Callin made a long run and scored for Trail. Two minutes late Taylor got one in for Nelson. The play after this grew a little faster and neither side was able to find the net during the next seven and a half minutes, when the gong sounded the end of the first period. Hacking was on the fence three minutes after the game started for a minute and Callan was just going to the fence as time was called.

The second period started sharp on time with Callan on the fence to serve one minute. Bishop got a nice one in for Nelson one minute after the start and again four minutes later Cochrane scored for Nelson. Trail tried to even up some and worked very hard, but it was eight minutes later before they managed to slip one in on Nelson's goal, Williams being the lucky man this time. Just then Jewell was put on the fence for one minute. Two minutes later Taylor made a good shot for the Trail goal and landed one more for Nelson. No more goals were scored in this period and just as the gong sounded Callan was again being led to the fence. The score was 5-2 in Nelson's favor at the end of this period.

Third Period Fast.

The third period was just as fast or faster than the other two and also started on time, with Callan on the fence to serve two minutes. The first goal in this period went to Trail six minutes after the start, Saunders landing this one. The pace grew hot, but the Nelson boys held their lead. Jewell decorated the fence about the middle of this period, getting two minutes for rough work, and five minutes later Callan was up again for roughness for three minutes. It seemed as though no more goals were to be scored, but Fenwick managed to find a space between the goal posts large enough to squeeze in one more for Nelson just before time was called. The total score was six to three in Nelson's favor.

Both Taylor and Fenwick were hurt during this period, but with a little delay were able to continue in the game.

Lineup:

Trail.	Position.	Nelson.

ROSSLAND JUNIORS BEAT NELSON

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, Feb. 6.—The hockey match between the Nelson and Rossland juniors resulted in a win for Rossland with a score of 5 to 3. The first goal was scored by Hender of Rossland after 10 minutes' play. Eight minutes later Rowe scored one for Nelson and two minutes after Forteath scored another one for Rossland and Miller of Nelson scored one a few minutes later and tied the score, thus ending the first period.

The second period started with a rush, and the puck was kept busy around Nelson territory. About 10 minutes of the first part of this period the boys were working hard and fast, but they did not score a goal until after 15 minutes of play, then Stevens scored for Rossland by a long rush down the ice. Next it was Nelson's turn, Rowe finding the net, there by tying the score again. The game now became too fast for the Nelson goalkeeper, and he let Hender score another for Rossland, and before anymore could be made the gong sounded.

The third period began sharp on time and was very fast from the start but it was only a few minutes before Boyle scored one for Rossland, then the game got a little rough, Stevens being put on the fence, and a few minutes later Ogenski also decorated it. Stevens was on the fence twice after this, but there were no more goals scored and the game ended with the score: Rossland 5; Nelson 3.

Horse Races.

The third scheduled horse race of the carnival was run this afternoon. There were six entries for this event. The result: Ginger, owned by Mr. Chenoweth of Rossland, first; Happy, owned by J. Plester, second; Morning Blue Eye, owned by Mr. Woodero, of Colville, third.

Public Holiday in Trail.

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 6.—Mayor Thom of Trail has declared Friday afternoon a civic holiday so that the merchants and clerks will be able to atend the Rossland carnival.

NOT ILLEGAL TO CHARGE FEE FOR BOXING BOUTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Feb. 6.—The city council has sought the advice of the solicitor on the matter of the by-law which prohibits the charging of admission to boxing bouts. He says that a sparring match which is intended only as an exhibition of skill in boxing and conducted under proper police restrictions would be perfectly lawful and he does not see anything illegal in charging a fee.

TRAIL SENDS CURLING RINK TO ROSSLAND

(Special to The Daily News.)

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 6.—Trail sent one curling rink to take part in the carnival bonspiel at Rossland. The following are the curlers: F. W. Brown, L. F. Tyson, J. A. Mackinnon and J. Williamson (skip).

The Fernie hockey team was billed to play at the local rink on Saturday, but the game has been postponed until next week, as the Fernie boys play in the Boundary and have to go there on Saturday's train.

W. Reese, manager of the Trail senior hockey team, journeyed to Rossland, accompanied by F. S. Willis and G. Murray, today, to witness the hockey games at the carnival.

BATTLER COULD NOT KNOCK OUT SORENSON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 6.—"Battling" Nelson, wearing his wedding diamond inside his glove, for 10 rounds tonight did his utmost to knock out Jack Sorenson, the local lightweight, and failed. Nelson walloped, uppercut and clashed his opponent ceaselessly the entire distance, scoring three knockdowns, but could not produce the extra ounce to end the bout.

AMERICAN COMPANY MUST PAY BRITISH INCOME TAX

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The house of lords today dismissed the appeal of the American Thread company against the judgment of the court of appeals in the matter of income tax in Great Britain.

Last February the court of appeals confirmed the judgment given by the kings bench division of the high court of justice in February, 1911, declaring that the American Thread company, which is incorporated under the laws of the state of New Jersey, is liable to an income tax in Great Britain on profits amounting to $900,000.

ROBERT GLOCKLING DEAD.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 6.—Word was received in Toronto this afternoon of the death in Indianapolis of Robert Glockling, president of the International Union of Bookbinders. Mr. Glockling had been ill for some time. He lived nearly all his life in Toronto and was active in labor matters here. He held various positions in the trades unions and was president of the trades council.

DENOUNCES GOVERNMENT FROM STRANGERS' GALLERY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—A suffragette scene occurred in the house of commons tonight. While a division was being taken, H. D. Hartsen, a well known Socialist and Liberal, shouted from the strangers' gallery denunciations of the government's treatment of the women and, together with another similar disturber, was ejected.

NAME LICENSE AND POLICE BOARDS

Rossland, Fernie, Slocan and Revelstoke Commissioners Appointed—Want Sanitarium Taken Over.

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 6.—The provincial government has made the appointments of city boards of police commissioners as follows:

Rossland—Ald. Thomas Embleton and C. F. R. Pincott.

Fernie—Ald. Samuel Graham and G. G. Moffatt.

Slocan City—Ald. Edward J. Grant and H. D. Curtis.

Revelstoke—Ald. William O. Abraham and Edward Trimble.

The newly named license commissioners for these several cities are:

Rossland—Ald. Thomas Embleton and C. F. R. Pincott.

Fernie—Ald. W. J. Morrison and G. F. Johnson.

Slocan City—Ald Edward J. Grant and H. D. Curtis.

Revelstoke—Ald. J. Guy Barker and Samuel Sutherland.

The appointment has also been announced of Henry Devlin of South Wellington as an inspector of mines, and that of James Thomas of Sheep creek as deputy mining recorder for the Nelson mining division, with sub-recording office at Sheep creek, vice Robert Pierce, resigned.

Pound districts have been constituted by the provincial authorities for Elko, Balfour and Mission.

Two separate deputations today waited upon the provincial executive, the first being composed of the board of management of the King Edward sanitarium at Tranquille, who renewed their request that the government take over and operate the sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis in the Kamloops district. In the event of the government feeling itself unable to take over the institution a grant of $150,000 is sought. While intimating that it is extremely improbable that the government will assume control at Tranquille in the near future, the executive promised sympathetic consideration of the representations made.

The second deputation was representative of the architect's profession, the mission of these visitors being to explain the details of the incorporation bill which their association has before the house and to which such exception has been taken that its passage is distinctly improbable. The premier and his colleagues were urged to exert their influence in favor of the measure and the arguments advanced in this behalf were promised consideration.

STRIKING TRIBUTE TO DEAD CHIEF

Large Crowd Attends Funeral of Constable Rooke—Seventy Masons Attend Ceremony at Dauphin.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DAUPHIN, Man., Feb. 6.—The funeral of the late Charles Rooke was held this afternoon from his residence. Chief E. J. Elliott and Harold Edwards came up from Winnipeg to attend the funeral, which was in charge of Vermillion lodge No. 68, A. F. and M.

The first part of the service was held in the lodge room, the brethren, about 70 in number, then marching to the residence, where services were held by Rev. Mr. Willey of St. Paul's church. The funeral then proceeded to Riverside cemetery, where the Masonic service was held.

E. R. Jarvis, Capt. W. B. Sifton, J. F. Hafenbrak, W. H. Sutherland, W. J. Leach and J. M. McLeod were the pallbearers. There was a very large attendance and the number of floral tributes paid silent but impressive testimony to the esteem in which the late chief provincial constable was held.

BOMB EMPLOYED IN BROOKLYN STRIKE

Officers Injured When Infernal Machine Explodes During Demonstration Favoring Garment Workers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A mob demonstrating in the interest of the garment workers on strike from shops in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn employed a bomb as a weapon in their renewed warfare that the police tried to check today.

Edward Hartman and John Hopp, two special officers guarding a shop affected by the strike, were seriously hurt by glass and scrap iron contained in the infernal machine, and were taken to a hospital. They were knocked senseless when the explosion wrecked the front of the building, precipitating a panic among the operatives. A police sergeant and five patrolmen were beaten by the mob.

BUY OUTRIGHT CENTRAL PACIFIC

Union Pacific Must Sell All Southern Pacific Stock—Dissolution Agreement Made

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Plans for the dissolution of the Union Pacific Railroad company and the Southern Pacific company, as decreed by the United States supreme court, were announced in detail tonight after a protracted session of the directors of the two companies. The terms are said, in a statement issued jointly by the roads, to have the approval of the department of justice at Washington, and the agreement now awaits confirmation of the court in the federal district where action was originally taken and by the railroad commission of the state of California.

In accordance with recent intimations the severance of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific results in Union Pacific's absolute purchase of the Central Pacific, which has been the basis of contention between the two principal roads of the Harriman system.

The agreement also provides for the sale of all the Southern Pacific stock held by the Union Pacific at 98⅝ per cent, with accrued dividend to the stockholders, common and preferred, of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, other than Union Pacific & Oregon Short Line.

It is understood that a syndicate has been formed under the lead of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and their foreign connections to finance the sale of the Union Pacific holdings of the Southern Pacific, amounting to $126,000,000.

Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific company, in discussing the sale of the Central Pacific stock by the Southern Pacific company, stated that while the directors have not decided what disposition to make of the money thus received, a considerable part of it will be needed in the near future to pay for extensions, for equipment and for additions and betterments. The amount is sufficient to take care of future requirements, he said, without increase of fixed charges.

DOES NOT ACCUSE CABINET OF IMPROPER CONDUCT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The postmaster-general has refused the Marconi company's request that the agreement for a chain of imperial wireless stations be treated as no longer binding on either party.

W. R. Lawson, the financial journalist, giving evidence yesterday before the Marconi committee, denied that in the articles he had written there was any intention to suggest that the cabinet ministers had been guilty of improper conduct. He thought the fact that Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi company, was a brother of Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, gave the company an unfair advantage over its competitors. He did not suggest that the attorney-general took a part in the negotiations.

FINDS THAT LIVES WERE LOST THROUGH BREAKING LAW

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—The report of R. A. Pringle, K.C., the commissioner named to inquire into the wrecking of the steamer Mayflower on the Madawaska river in October last, entailing the loss of nine lives, was tabled in the commons today. Mr. Pringle finds that the Mayflower was running absolutely contrary to law, the owner not having obtained the certificate required by the statutes to carry passengers. The vessel was also running without a qualified master. He charges the government officials with laxity in allowing the Mayflower to carry passengers. He says that M. E. Davis of Kingston, the inspector responsible for the disaster, should have taken steps to stop the running of the Mayflower or to have notified the department so that the minister could have directed some person to take the necessary steps to seize the boat.

The commissioner finds that Captain John Hudson was perfectly competent to take charge of the Mayflower on the night of the wreck. He suggests that an official of the department of marine and fisheries should be charged with the duty of seeing that no vessel is permitted to carry passengers without having first fully complied with the law.

WANTS SPECIAL ELECTIONS FOR MICHIGAN JUDGES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 6.—If the state legislature passes the recall bill of Representative Glassner, Democrat, the methods of judicial election in Michigan will be revolutionized.

The bill provides that circuit and supreme court justices of the state be chosen at special judicial elections, on strictly non-partisan ballots. It is proposed that they hold office for life unless removed, for cause, by popular vote.

The recall provisions of the bill provide that the judges shall hold offices for two years immune from recall, and if after that period recall proceedings are started and the jurist exonerated by popular vote no similar proceedings can be started against him until four years have elapsed.

PRICES ADVANCE—CLOSE FIRM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 6.—Money was dearer and discount rates were firmer in sympathy today. The stock market was dull and uninteresting most of the day, but speculative issues closed a fraction harder. Nigerian tin shares were firm and the features, Consols and gilt-edged securities sagged on the congestion of new issues and the poor bank statement, and copper shares finished weak in sympathy with the metal. American securities opened quiet at irregular price changes, but later in the forenoon advanced under the lead of Canadian Pacific railway. Light realizing followed and values declined, but New York supported the list in the late trading and prices again advanced and closed firm.

SPECULATIVE STOCKS DULL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The favorite mediums of speculations, by which stock market conditions are gauged, remained virtually on a dead level today. Some of the less active issues moved more widely, but operations in the stocks which make the market were perfunctory. Interest lagged and the volume of business fell off considerably. Sentiment was still bearish, but traders on the short side were held in check by fear of over-extension of the short interest. In the opinion of some traders bear commitments have reached proportions which might spell discomfort for the short interests. Traders on the long side were disposed to await developments and the market was allowed to drift.

There was some further selling of the coppers, which were heavy throughout the day, but the losses were only fractional. The copper group was influenced by a further break in the metal market in London and by reports of substantial concessions in the domestic market.

The Harriman shares moved in an uncertain way, being influenced by varying reports concerning the dissolution. Expectations of a definite announcement of the dissolution plans were effective in restricting trading not only in Union and Southern Pacific, but in the market as a whole. Weakness cropped out among a number of the specialties. Union Bag & Paper preferred alone was down two points. Pennsylvania, which has been heavy recently, displayed a better tone.

Engagement of $1,000,000 gold for South America brought up the total outward movement this year to over $20,000,000, and in view of prevailing conditions in the European money markets further exports are expected.

Business was well distributed in the bond market, but the tone was uncertain. Total sales, par value, $2,150,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

PRICES STRONG, DEMAND GOOD ON WHEAT MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—Prices were strong on the wheat market, although trading in options was quiet and a very light volume of business transacted. Opening figures were ⅛c higher for both months on the stronger Liverpool cables and reports of severe weather conditions over the United States wheat belt. Further advances occurred following the opening, the gain for the day being ⅝c for May and ½c for July.

Liverpool cables closed ¼c higher, with steady undertone, while continental markets were unchanged to lower. American markets were unchanged to ⅛c higher at the opening and held steady until near the closing, when prices showed stronger. Minneapolis opened unchanged and closed ⅜c higher for all months. Chicago opened unchanged to ⅛c higher and closed ⅜c to ⅝c higher.

The cash demand was fair and offerings practically nothing, while exporters were buying all they could lay hands on. Prices were ⅛c higher for contract grades, off grades being also on the advance.

There was a fair demand for oats and prices were on the up trend, while flax was quiet and bids weaker, closing 1c to 2c lower for cash, and options 1⅞c to 2c down.

WOODROW WILSON NOT ON WATER WAGON YET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)
OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 6.—Woodrow Wilson, president-elect of the United States, is shown by a local incident to be somewhat of a diplomat.

After his election an Ottawa lady, a member of the W. C. T. U., wrote to him, expressing regret that he was reputed to "take occasionally a little wine for his stomach's sake," and hoping that he would mend his way and become a bright and shining light on the good ship "Total Abstinence." She added, however, some pretty compliments, to which Professor Wilson fastened, as seen by the following reply:

"My Dear Mrs. ——: Allow me to thank you most warmly for your kind letter of congratulation. I appreciate it very much indeed. It is very delightful to have friends think of me in this way and I hope that their confidence in me will not be disappointed. Sincerely yours

(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

But the new president said nothing of the wine.

ROYAL ELOPEMENTS HAVE BEEN MANY

Romantic History With Rope Ladders, Wild Flights, Loss of Positions included, Could be Written

If it were possible to write the full story of royal elopements it would certainly be one of the most remarkable and fascinating volumes in the library of romance, for there is scarcely a royal house in Europe which has not furnished princes and princesses to contribute their love-adventures to its chapters.

Cupid was never in a more romantic and capricious mood than when he planned that runaway-match between the Infanta Josephine of Spain, great-aunt of King Alfonso, and the obscure journalist and poet, Guelya Rente. Rente, who was earning a scanty livelihood as a newspaper reporter in Havana, lost his heart to the pretty daughter of a rich Cuban planter, and had the audacity to ask her father to smile on his suit.

"Be off, sir, with your insolence," was the planter's contemptuous answer; "when I want a husband for my daughter I shall not seek him in a penny-a-line journalist."

"And, I, sir," retorted Rente, stung to fury by the insult, "when I find a wife I will not seek her in the house of an obscure planter, but in a King's palace."

Rente shook the dusk of Havana off his feet, and went to Spain, where, after a long and bitter struggle against ill-fortune, he began to win fame as an author and poet. Several of his most graceful poems were dedicated to the Princess Josephine, who, struck by their charm, summoned the young author to the palace, and found him even more fascinating than his verses. And one day Spain was startled and horrified to learn that the Infanta and the poet had eloped together, and had been secretly married at Valladolid.

The Orthodox Rope Ladder

Equally romantic was the love-adventure of the Infanta Isabella of Spain who came under the spell of the handsome Polish Count Gurowski whilst living with her father at Eaghien, near Paris. In despair of securing her father's approval of her wooer, the love-sick Infanta escaped from the house by means of a rope-ladder in the middle of the night, and was driven as fast as horses could gallop, towards the coast, whence they crossed to England in a fishing-boat. The union, however, turned out unhappily; for when the count died, just 20 years ago, he had been separated from his royal wife whose extravagances had brought her to the verge of destitution.

Of the love escapades of the Bonaparte princesses, many entertaining stories are told; for the ladies of Napoleon's house, unlike other more royal princesses, scorned to stoop to lovers whose blood was not blue. Caroline Bonaparte, during her long widowhood in Trieste, was wooed by a Major Macdonald, whom she treated with much condescension, though she ultimately married him. "It would be a course of much friction," this superlicious lady once said to her lover, "to be openly your wife were the emperor restored to France. A weakness for you would be quite admissable, but not a marriage. The Macdonalds, I own, are as well born as the Bonapartes but they have not climbed so high and have not part or lot in dynastic families."

A Haughty Princess

It was, by the way, another Bonaparte princess who, when a hope was expressed that she would consent to a marriage with the heir to the principality of Monaco, answered: "I might have a weakness for him, as a woman of my rank might have for her footman. But marry him! Never, never!" And yet, Marie Louise, who as Napoleon's wife, had worn the crown of empress, stopped even lower for she became the wife of the one-eyed and impecunious Count von Nipperg.

Fifty years or so ago the Grand Duchess Olga, the beautiful favorite daughter of Czar Nicholas I., was on the point of eloping with a handsome young lieutenant, Barjatinski, when at the last moment her swain's heart failed him. Dreading the emperor's anger, he made a clean breast of the whole affair to his majesty, with the result that the impulsive young princess was married post-haste to the disreputable Prince Charles of Wurtemberg, while the faithless lover was rewarded by such rapid promotion that he was a field-marshal before he reached his 50th birthday.

Not many years have gone since the Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria shocked every court in Europe by running away with Baron Seefried a young infantry lieutenant, and cousin of the chief executioner to the government of Vienna. For two years the princess's infatuation for the young officer had excited alarm; but all efforts to control the wayward young lady proved futile. One day she and her lover vanished from Munich, and shortly after, news came that they had been married by a village priest in the Italian Alps.

Undignified Conduct

Even more headstrong was the Princess Amelie of Bavaria, who not content with a single elopement, actually ran away with four lovers, thus creating a record in royal love-romances. It is probably some extenuation for such shocking conduct that the princess was scarcely responsible for her actions, as was often evidenced; not least, when one day, at the Court theatre at Munich, she startled the audience by sitting on the balustrade of the royal box with her feet dangling over the pit, a position of doubtful elegance which she varied by sitting astride.

One of the eccentric Amelie's daughters, the Princess Elvira, was the heroine of a runaway marriage with Count Vrona; another Princess Elvira of Bourbon, created a sensation not long ago by eloping from Rome with an almost unknown artist; while the Dowager Duchess of Genoa, mother of Queen Marguerite of Italy, left her husband to run away with an artillery officer, whom, after she had become a widow, she married.

There is, however, no royal family of Europe which can compare, in romances of this description, with the house of Hapsburg. Mesalliances seem to run in the Hapsburg blood as has been abundantly demonstrated with very recent years. One of the most romantic of the many stories told of this family is that of which the Archduke John was the hero, early in the last century. The Archduke, when returning from Italy to Vienna, stopped at a small Syrian village for a change of horses and postilion.

A Love Match

To his great annoyance no postilion was available. The prince was furious, the innkeeper in despair, when the difficulty was happily solved by the postmaster's daughter, who appeared in postilion's dress and volunteered to drive the Archduke to the next station. Here was all the elements of a romance—a susceptible prince and a beautiful maiden, whose charms were enhanced by the masculine garb she wore and the romantic character she had so courteously assumed. The Archduke John was not proof against such a combination of assaults on his heart; he promptly fell in love with the fair postilion; and, as his wife and Countess of Mefan, she had not reason to regret and adventure, which, no doubt, she thoroughly enjoyed, quite apart from its romantic consequences.

Less happy was the experience of the Archduke Leopold Ferdinand of Austria, who not long ago renounced his exalted rank and his country to wed Mlle. Adamovics, a singer; and, as Leopold Wolfling, to lead, as he fondly anticipated, an ideal life with his bride in Switzerland. "I do not, and never will," he emphatically said to an interviewer at the time, "regret the step I took in throwing up all empty honors to marry the woman I love. I am very happy, and pity those who are forced to contract political alliances. In the same circumstances I would do the same again."

But the idyllic life for which he gladly made such great sacrifices was not to be his. When Frau Wolfling joined the colony of "Nature's Children," began to wear sandals and a sack-shaped garment, to dispense with the help of servants, and restricted her husband to a diet of bread and fruit, with occasional vegetables, romance was killed. The ex-archduke objected to such an extreme form of the "simple life," and solved his difficulties by wooing and winning Fraulein Maria Ritter, a charming young lady who had filled the useful, if not exalted, role of domestic servant.

The Archduke Ferdinand Carl, the younger brother of the heir to the Austrian throne, found a wife in Mlle. Czuber, the lovely daughter of a professor at a Vienna polytechnic; the Archduke Francis Ferdinand married a countess very much his inferior in birth; the Archduke Henry and Ernest created great scandal by wedding lowly-born brides; and the Archduke Ernest mated with a ballet-dancer, whose son by him was, not long ago, head-waiter of the New York restaurant at Buda-Pesth.

Recent Royal Romances

A few months ago society was deeply stirred by the announcement that Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, cousin to the German emperor, was about to marry Mme. Marie Sulzer, an actress of no great beauty or histrionic gifts, although the alliance meant a sacrifice of three-quarters of a million sterling, the loss of his army rank and banishment from the court. Prince Oscar of Sweden, as is well remembered, gladly sacrificed his right to the throne, his duchy of Gothland, and a substantial annuity in order to wed Miss Ebba Munch, one of his royal mother's ladies; Prince Alexander of Battenberg jilted the sister of the Emperor William in order to lead Mlle. Loisinger, an actress to the altar; and Prince Nicholas of Nassau, brother of the reigning Duke of Nassau, found a bride and happiness, more prized than rank and riches, in the daughter of the Russian poet; while the daughter of this mesalliance was wooed and won by the Grand Duke Michale of Russia, and, as the Countess of Torby, leads an ideally happy life with her high-born husband.

One of the most recent of these royal romances is that of Prince Alexis, one of Germany's proudest princes, and nephew of the Queen-mother of Holland. Last year, while taking the cure at Wiesbaden, the prince was introduced to Fraulein Langenfield, daughter of a Cologne tradesman, and became so rapidly infatuated with her beauty, grace and charming vivacity that within a fortnight he had won her consent to be his wife. In vain did his august relatives oppose the match; the prince was adamant. He renounced his birthright; an income of £10,000 a year, and going to England with his lady-love, was united to her in the unromantic environment of a London registry office.

Workhouse Shelters a King's Consort.

Nor are kings any more immune than princes from these caprices of Cupid. King Alexander of Servia lost his throne and his life as the price of his mad infatuation for Draga Maschin, the young and charming widow of a mining engineer; and the third Napoleon, as we all know, made an empress of the granddaughter of a wine merchant. Even the late Leopold, King of the Belgians, proved that in the seventies a King is not proof against the seductions of beauty; for, a few years ago, he married, in the private chapel of the Chateau of Laeken, Mme. Vaughan, daughter of a caretaker of Louvain, who became the mother of two of his children; and not long ago a London workhouse sheltered an old lady who for years had been the wife of Charles XV., King of Sweden.

When a girl of 17 this lady was told by her parents that she was to be married. She assented, and, although she had no previous knowledge of her husband, her marriage was a happy one. Her husband was handsome, refined, and devoted. Her only trouble was his frequent and prolonged abscenses which he attributed to business.

After some years had passed happily, and she had become the mother of four children, a lawyer appeared, and told her that her husband, who was the King of Sweden, was compelled on political grounds to break off the liason, but that he would provide for her and the children by a very liberal allowance.

The heart-broken woman, wishing to sever all connection with the past, went to London, where, after some time, she married an Englishman. She entrusted all her money, including a large sum which the King had left her on his death, to this second husband, who ran off with it, and left her to face poverty. After struggling vainly to maintain herself, she had been glad to find shelter in one of the workhouses.

PIONEER OF ROSSLAND FOUGHT WITH CUSTER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 6.—Saturday afternoon a last tribute of respect was paid the memory of James A. Ryan, when a large concourse of his acquaintances gathered in the undertaking parlors to attend the obsequies over his remains. An impressive service was held by Rev. L. A. Burch. The pallbearers were James A. McKernan, William Maher, J. J. Lynch, F. W. Johnson, Charles Foss and M. Hoban, all of whom had been particular friends of Mr. Ryan. The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes.

As is not uncommon with pioneers of this stamp, the history of Mr. Ryan, could it be compiled, would be replete with interest. In his young manhood he was a scout in General Custer's command during the Indian war which resulted in the death of that famous commander on the Little Big Horn in Montana. Later, he took to prospecting and his ventures in British Columbia, both as a prospector and investor, placed him in an independent financial position.

He was one of the pioneers in Rossland, and his investment of the funds secured in that camp, made in Sheep creek property, justified his expectations in mining as a business. About four years ago he opened a real estate office in Vancouver, but after about a year retired from active business. In his death the community has lost a good citizen and his numerous business and social acquaintances a tried and true friend.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalties thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns shall be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to a Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

RENTED HOUSE; CLAIMS OCCUPANT STOLE PICTURES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The absorbing dispute over the ownership of the Gainsborough portrait of Lady Anne Burton still occupies Justice Darling's attention, his court being turned into a veritable picture gallery in the effort to unravel the mystery.

W. F. Burton, of Burton Hall, county Carlow, claims that the disputed picture formed a part of his collection at Burton hall when he leased the latter place to C. J. Engledow. The allegations are that Engledow removed the picture which was later sold at Christies as the property of the late William Allen for $42,000, the purchasers being Agnews, the well known art dealers, who are now being sued in conjunction with the executors of the Allen estate.

Mr. Burton in his remarkable testimony accused Engledow of stealing 18 or 20 picture, including a Murillo worth $400,000.

BANDITS CALL WITNESSES LIARS; FLOUT JUDGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Paris, Feb. 6.—The trial of the motor car bandits was contiued yesterday. The method of defense adopted so far by all the prisoners consists in giving flat denials of the statements of the presiding judge and accusing the witnesses of mendacity. The Parisians are somewhat disappointed. They expected a braver fight on the part of the bandits, whom a section of the press has portrayed almost as heroes.

DONCASTER LOST PRESTIGE THROUGH BANNING "TOM JONES"

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Doncaster Town council strongly protested against the action of the library committee in banning Fielding's "Tom Jones."

The mayor today moved a resolution appointing a special committee to look into the committee's methods. Doncaster, said the mayor, had suffered loss of prestige through the action of the committee. The resolution was passed. It transpired during the debate that "Tom Jones" had enjoyed an unprecedented run in Doncaster recently.

She's a Wonder, is Mrs. Edwards, when she gets going in the kitchen. She pops that home-made Irish soup of hers on the stove to boil, and then gets to work.

Out come all the little bits of cold meat and cold potatoes. Into the stewpan they go. Over them she pours the boiling soup. And in half an hour or so she's turned out a tasty, appetising stew, piping hot and ready to serve.

It's real Irish. Made from prime beef and the finest Irish vegetables. As there's no strong added flavouring it will blend perfectly with any other soup or made dish.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS

5c. per packet.

Edwards' Desiccated Soups are made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

WHITE ELEPHANT TEA FRUITVALE IDEA

Novel Entertainment Given at Neilson Residence in Aid of Women's Auxiliary Funds.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FRUITVALE, B. C., Feb. 6.—Mrs. W. Neilson, entertained the members of the Women's Auxiliary to a "white elephant" tea on Friday afternoon last. After tea was served a table was brought into the room on which were laid the white elephants. This, of course, provoked much merriment. The idea of a white elephant tea is this: The guests take with them something they would like to be rid of or that they have no use for and which thus becomes a white elephant to them, and in turn as they draw their numbers are entitled to a choice of the articles on the table, and for which they pay whatever price has been decided on beforehand, each one paying the same amount, 25c, 50c or whatever it may be. In this instance every one was perfectly satisfied with the elephants they chose, but which had become a white elephant to the donor. The proceeds of this novel afternoon's entertainment were in aid of the Women's Auxiliary funds. Mrs. Hansen of Meadows, who was visiting at Mrs. Neilson's rendered selections on the piano, while Mrs. Neilson and Mrs. Greenwood contributed soup.

The monthly business meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held on Friday afternoon next at the residence of Mrs. R. J. Bush.

NELSON NEWS OF THE DAY

AT THE THEATRES

A most interesting program of five reels, embracing scenic, education and comedy subjects, is being shown tonight at the Gem theatre. Among the items, British and American, are the following: "Boys' Life in the Duke of York's School," "Training the British Bluejackets at Whale Island," "The Pineapple," "Pathe's Weekly," "Murray the Masher," and "Warwick's Chronicle." "Monte Christo," one of the most powerful and picturesque romances ever penned, the pictorial triumph of the Selig Poloscope company, will have its first display in Nelson on Monday next, Feb. 10, at the Gem theatre.

PROCTOR SHOW SUCCESS

(Special to The Daily News.)

PROCTOR, B. C., Feb. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Phillips of the Tom Marks Theatrical company, assisted by local talent, gave another successful concert on Tuesday night, in the Proctor hall to a crowded house P Coles was in good form, his songs being "Off to Philadelphia," and "Three Little Beggars." Miss Tarling's sweet voice was perfection, her best songs being, "Ashore," and "I Like Your Apron and Your Bonnet." Mr. Pigeurou's violin solos brought forth encores. F. J. Sammons recited "Corporal Dick's Promotion," by Sir A. Conan Doyle, and Rev. C. Reel gave an Irish reading, but the leading star was W. L. Phillips, down for six numbers on the program, each song receiving an encore. His best song was "The Lobster," the character and the song suiting his style admirably.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will leave Proctor this week to join their company at St. Paul.

KASLO MAN HAS SMASHUP WHEN TEAM RUNS AWAY

(Special to The Daily News.)

KASLO, B .C., Feb. 6.—When James Speirs got to the top of the hill on Tuesday night after his work was done, he remembered that he had intended to take A. Carney up to his home, so he turned the horses which he was driving, and came down town again to bring his friend home. The horses started to run when on the hill and succeeded in getting away, and came tearing down town at full speed, smashing the cutter across the middle. They took the front bunk along with them and the rear one dropped off at Mr. Whellams.

The government thermometer registered two degrees above zero this morning. The temperature on the hill was lower, the thermometers there showing two degrees below.

Joseph McGuffie was a passenger on the boat Tuesday.

Allen W. Anderson will leave on Thursday for a trip to Vancouver.

HORSES KILLED BY ROSSLAND TRAIN

Chinaman Loses Team—Old-Timers Will Hold Annual Reunion Tomorrow Evening—Good Program.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Feb. 6.—Yesterday while standing near the railroad crossing on St. Paul street two horses, valued at $300, and belonging to Moin Fong, a gardener, took fright at the train and ran dashing into it. They were instantly killed. The accident delayed the train an hour.

The annual reunion of the Old-Timers' association will take place on Saturday with a matinee in the afternoon, which will be free for the women and children and a smoking concert in the evening. At the concert in the evening the following program will be rendered:

Address of welcome by the mayor, Elks Quartet of Spokane; song, T. Cadwell; song, J. Sherman; song, J. Cox; instrumental music, Loux Brothers; song, A. M. Betts; song, L. Roberts; song, Mr. Bostock; song, W. Jones; song, T. Rolph; instrumental solo, S. Forteath; song, W. Lawson; song, T. Gilmour. The chairman will be J. Belton and the committee J. Cocking and N. Nicholson.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVES SUCCESS AT SLOCAN CITY

(Special to The Daily News.)

SLOCAN CITY, B. C., Feb. 6.—On Tuesday evening St. Paul's church gave a very successful concert in the Odd Fellows' hall under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary society. For some time past the members had been working hard to make the evening a success, and Tuesday's performance amply repaid their efforts. The hall was crowded with an appreciative audience, Rev. J. C. Mitton being in the chair.

Solos were sung by Miss A. M. Winterbotham and C. Clay, T. Jameson, H. Nye, W. Parkins and Rev. J. C. Mitton. Mrs. W. Pinchbeck, Mrs. H. Nye and Miss S. Walker sang two trios and a double quartet rendered "Sweet and Low" very pleasingly. A chorus of ladies and gentlemen sang several numbers and Mrs. H. Pendry and Miss W. R. Clay gave recitations.

The program ended with a comic farce entitled "Arabella's Poor Relations," after which lunch was served.

On Tuesday evening after the concert a very enjoyable dance was held in Odd Fellows' hall. Among those present were many who had taken part in the program earlier in the evening.

BUILDS NEW BUNGALOW AT DEER PARK RANCH

New School House Will Be Built in Spring—To Let Contract For Clearing.

(Special to The Daily News.)

DEER PARK, B. C., Feb. 6.—J. J. Threckeld and F. Clark of Winnipeg arrived here last week to make this their headquarters for a year or two at least. Mr. Threckeld, who is the owner of the subdivision of Deer Park, is having a nice bungalow erected on the lake front, which is nearing completion and will be a credit to the place.

J. P. Forde, Dominion government district engineer, was here on Tuesday in connection with the construction of the wharf.

F. Clark made a business trip to Nelson on Tuesday.

Logging operations under the supervision of Mr. Stevens have been in full swing since sufficient snow has fallen for teams to haul the logs to the chutes.

A new school house will be built here in the spring. The board has matters now well under way and if nothing unforeseen happens will soon be in a position to take definite action.

C. W. Sterling is asking for tenders for the clearing of 15 additional acres of land, five of which are on the Brooklyn and 10 on the Deer Park side of the lake. The completion of the wharf has been delayed, owing to some shortage of lumber.

REVELSTOKE FEDERAL BUILDING TO COST HUNDRED THOUSAND

(Special to The Daily News.)

REVELSTOKE, B. C., Feb. 6.—Revelstoke citizens are jubilant over the federal appropriation of $50,000 for building a new postoffice here. Already a site has been secured and work on the building will now be rushed. It is expected that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and that there will be a further appropriation in next year's estimates. This new building will include a customs as well as a postoffice.

About 19 members of the local Snowshoe and Ski club took a tramp up the Big Bend as far as the canyon on Tuesday. They had lunch at the Turnross lumber camp. The party returned at 5 p. m., having travelled over 10 miles. It was under the command of Capt. W. J. Brown.

The local Political Equality league has received word that Sir Richard McBride has arranged to meet the woman's delegation presenting the suffrage petition on the afternoon of Friday, Feb. 14.

J. C. Veitch, teller of Molson's bank, is being transferred to a branch of the same bank in St. Thomas, Ont. Mr. Veitch has been a resident here for four years.

Mayor T. Kilpatrick returned from the coast last Sunday.

K. G. McRae, the local merchant, returned from Vancouver on Saturday and reports that Mrs. McRae, now in the hospital at Vancouver, is rapidly recovering.

Engineer R. Rogers, accompanied by Mrs. Rogers, left here this week on a visit to the coast.

Samuel Parsons, the well known Canadian Pacific railway brakeman, and Miss Rose Wilkins, both of Revelstoke, were married a few days ago in Vancouver.

HALCYON RESORT BUSY

(Special to The Daily News.)

HALCYON, B. C. Feb. 6.—Mrs. William Boyd left on Monday for a six weeks' visit to relatives in San Francisco.

James Rooke of Grand Forks stopped over yesterday on his way to Salmon Arm on business and brought a fine set of brass quoits, a present from Mr. McKie of Grand Forks, who cast them specially in his foundary as a gift to the Halcyon Sanitarium from which he derived so much benefit when totally incapacitated by a severe attack of rheumatism two years ago.

Last night was the coldest of the winter here, the thermometer registering two above zero.

Arrivals: M. Kerrigan, wife and child, Revelstoke; C. J. Lund, Vancouver; W. Thatcher, Three Forks; I. L. Henreux, Arrowhead; E. T. McDonald, Vancouver; William F. Alexander, Revelstoke; W. Hardman, Revelstoke; I. B. Cressman, Revelstoke; G. Morris, Silverton; A. Larson, L. P. Nelson, Nelson; Victor Erickson, Summit Lake; F. E. Camm, Nelson, James Rooke, Grand Forks.

SNOW CRUSHES ROOF; BURIES MACHINERY

(Special to The Daily News.)

SLOCAN CITY, Feb. 6.—Recently, after an exceptionally heavy fall of snow during the night, the big building belonging to the Ontario-Slocan Lumber company fell in with the weight of snow. It is estimated that some thousands of dollars worth of machinery was buried under the fallen roof, but efforts are being made to remove the debris.

Owing to the amount of snow in the woods operations at the lumber camps of William C. E. Koch have been temporarily suspended. The flume which is being built is now nearing completion, and it is expected that in the springtime activities will be resumed.

Last Sunday Rev. J. C. Mitton conducted two services in the Church of England, and next Sunday it is expected that H. W. Stevinson will hold a service in the Presbyterian church.

W. Buckholz of the steamer Slocan has been unable to leave his home since Monday, when he was taken ill.

Among those who came in to Slocan for the concert on Tuesday evening were: Mrs. H. Gurney, Miss and Mr. Clay, John Wafer, T. Jameson, R. Reynolds, R. Macmillan, F. Binish and J. Konke.

The Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, are busy preparing for their Valentine social to be held on Feb. 14.

J. A. MUIR PRESIDENT FRUITVALE CONSERVATIVES

(Special to The Daily News.)

FRUITVALE, B. C., Feb. 6.—The annual meeting of the Conservative association to elect officers for the ensuing year was held on Tuesday evening and was largely attended. Four new members were enrolled. J. H. Schofield, M. P. P., and Robert F. Green, M. P., were elected honorary president. J. A. Muir and S. Brewster were returned to office of president and vice president, respectively by acclamation. Those elected on the executive were G. W. Hogarth, H. Colebrook, W. R. Mellard, R. J. Bush, D. B. Gillespie and F. Reiman.

FRUITVALE MAN CUTS LEG —CHILD BREAKS ARM

(Special to The Daily News.)

FRUITVALE, B. C., Feb. 6.—A. J. Mills met with a very nasty accident last Friday while felling logs in the bush. The head of the axe broke off and struck him in the leg, inflicting a deep flesh wound, but it is healing nicely.

Mrs. T. H. Seymour and children left last week for Calgary on a visit to her parents.

Mrs. W. Neilson is on a visit to friends in Rossland during the carnival.

Miss Brewster returned home on Monday after spending a very enjoyable time with friends in Rossland.

R. A. Aldersmith spent the past week end in Rossland.

Gracie, the bright three-year-old daughter of C. H. Mason, fell off a chair and broke her arm last week, which necessitated her being taken to Ymir hospital to have it set. She is now at home and appears not in the last troubled over carrying her arm in a sling.

Born, on February 3, to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mason, a daughter.

TO TEACH POOR CHILDREN FARMING

Saskatchewan Agriculturists Want Government to Divert Grant—Weeds Costly—How to Keep Cattle.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SASKATOON, Sask., Feb. 6.—Prof. T. N. Willing of the college of agriculture delivered an interesting address this morning before the convention of agricultural societies at the college speaking on the problem of weeds, and how they should be destroyed.

"The great loss to farmers," he said, "is not from weeds mentioned in the weed ordinance, but from nasty plants with which familiarity leads to the carelessness.

"Weeds might be classed as stimulants, an overdose was no good."

"The weeds adds to the cost of transportation of grain."

The speaker showed test tubes of grain which he had secured from the grain inspector's office at Winnipeg, and which showed the percentage of screenings to be found in the average car submitted for inspection. The tube of wheat showed nine per cent screenings, oats 11 per cent. and flax 16 per cent.

"All this foreign matter," he continued, "had to be paid for in transportation and last year's crop would me 4,000 cars more than the grain would require."

Prof. Willing advised the cleaning of grain at the time of threshing as a preventative measure. Sheep were the most valuable agency to keep down the weeds. At the close of his address he conducted a round table conference at which he untangled the knotty problems of a number of the delegates, dealing with the various weeds. The sow thistle were referred to as prevalent in Manitoba and likely to spread shortly to Saskatchewan.

To Educate Poor Children.

S. A. Greer of Moose Jaw introduced a motion requiring that the provincial summer fair be moved from Regina to be given in the provincial cities as desired. Dr. Sparling of Saskatoon introduced a second motion to abolish the grant to Regina fair of $4,500 and to have the money devoted to sending children of poor parents to the college of agriculture. The latter resolution was carried and the former was dropped.

Dean Rutherford of Saskatchewan university delivered a most effective address on the dairy situation. "All persons are anxious to improve their herds and it is an easy matter to do so if you know how. Owners of herds naturally expect the best prices for the best specimens. We bought six three year old heifers whose dams are good enough to sell for $1,000 each so you see we have made a good start.

"This is the way to start; buy a few good ones, as good as you can. The record of the bull must be considered, his pedigree, the milk production of the dam, the conformation of the bull itself and its record as a producer. A really good bull is expensive and I would advise co-operation if possible so that a number of farmers can get together and buy some really good animals," he said.

"The stable accommodation must be good; fresh air so that the red blood may surge through her system is essential to a cow.

"Some say a stable is too cold, but look at the coats on the cows; notice them feed and you will see they are healthy. I would rather have them in a stable too cold than in one too warm. Regularity in feeding, watering and milking is something the dairy herd appreciates. Feed cows the amount they need, study their individual wants and figure out just what amount and kind of feed they do best on. We salt every day with every feed, but rock salt continually in the manger is all right.

"Our mixture is brewer's grains, barley oats and screenings from flax and bran. We feed any cow that is fresh and giving a fair amount of milk, eight to 10 lbs. We increase this as the milk supply increases. Keep the feeding of roots and ensilage as far from the milking as possible," was his advice.

Thomas Acheson of the Canadian Pacific railway, who followed, explained the reason why the railway companies were anxious to encourage the dairying business. Their experience in Manitoba had taught them that land continually cropped played out and that wheat shipments fell off. He dwelt upon the fact that butter and eggs were being shipped into the prairie market. He stated that within the next three years the Canadian Pacific railway will have over 100 demonstration farms.

OLD COUNTRY MAN INVESTIGATING

Touring Dominion in Interests of Intending Settlers—Proceeds to Coast Before Returning to Scotland.

Louis Oscar Gallaucher, official passenger agent of Gourock, near Glasgow, Scotland, arrived here last night from Lethbridge. Mr. Gallaucher is touring throughout Canada studying the conditions best suitable for prospective settlers from the old country. The attractions of Canada for tourists are also engaging his attention. He proceeds to Vancouver and Victoria before returning to Scotland. Mr. Gallaucher has now been over three months in Canada, and has obtained many practical hints that will be of special value to those purposing taking up homes in the west. He is thoroughly convinced of the splendid opportunities that Canada offers for the right class of newcomers.

INITIAL SHIPMENT OF HAZELTON ORE TO TRAIL

(Special to The Daily News.)

HAZELTON, Feb. 6.—The first shipment of ore from the Hazelton mining district reached the city last week on the Grand Trunk Pacific train and went south to the Trail smelter Saturday evening. This initial shipment came from the Harris Bros' mine at the interior centre and consists of an entire carload, and is the first step in what bids fair to be a flourishing business that will increase in volume with the next few years.

Angus Stewart, the well known railroad contractor and mining man, who is heavily interested in the Silver Standard mine, has just returned from Hazelton and is authority for the statement that that property is getting ready for a large shipment for the south.

Arrangements have not yet been completed with a smelter for treatment of the same. At the present time sacked ore is being hauled on sleighs with four-horse teams in five-ton loads. Excellent progress is being made with the work on account of the splendid weather conditions prevailing just now.

COMMITTEE SANCTIONS TWO NEW WESTERN RAILWAYS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—The railway committee of the commons today reported two railway bills which give parliamentary sanction to a couple of ambitious western railway projects.

One bill incorporates the Calgary, Edmonton & Fort McMurray Railroad company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000 and headquarters at Edmonton. The company proposes to construct a railway from Calgary to Edmonton, thence to Fort McMurray, then following the Athabasca river to Chipewan, thence northerly by the most feasible route west of Slave river, passing near Fort Smith to Fort Resolution, on Great Slave lake. The company also proposes to construct a branch line from Fort Smith to Fort Vermilion and another from a point on the Red Deer river to the town of Red Deer.

The second bill reported incorporates the Northwestern Railway company, with a capital stock of $2,000,000 and headquarters at Ottawa. It proposes to build a line from Regina westerly to Tuxford, on the Canadian Pacific railway, thence to Red Deer, with a branch line to Battleford and Fort Mackay.

MINER KILLED

(Special to The Daily News.)

NANAIMO, Feb. 6.—John K. Davidson was fatally injured while at work at the mines yesterday. He died last night in the hospital here. Davidson was struck by a fall of rock and his back broken. He was a native of Scotland, aged 38, and leaves a wife and two children in Scotland.
