FORT WILLIAM RIOT--TWO SHOT

Police Repel Attack With Revolvers

ONE MAN KILLED ANOTHER WOUNDED

Mob Attempts to Release Hungarian From Custody--Street Railway Strike

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FORT WILLIAM, May 11.—Fighting to keep out a wild-eyed mob who were struggling to rescue an imprisoned Hungarian from the small coal dock police station, the local police tonight shot Mike Smorak and badly wounded John Fulk.

The fracas was the outcome of a street riot, in which a derailed street car was attacked by a crowd of sympathizers of the street car employes, now on strike. The car had swerved off the track and coming to a stop at the sidewalk was smashed by a crowd who had been worked to a frenzy by the excitement which was aroused at an early street parade and a general mass meeting. In the midst of the uproar the police were called out. Peter Landi, a Hungarian, was arrested and hustled through the surging mass to the coal docks police station, a frame building, situated in the heart of the foreign quarter. The crowd which had assembled outside the station raised an uproar, which continued to gather, fresh voices soon being added to the turmoil about 2,000 husky foreigners.

They were not strikers, but sympathizers who had listened to inflammatory expostulations earlier in the day, and friends of Landi, who were stirring up their compatriots to rescue the imprisoned rioter. About an hour after the arrest of the Hungarian the general attack was made. A stone was hurled through a window, and the crash of the glass was the signal for a general attack and a hail of missiles crashed against the front of the building, breaking down the door and breaking every pane of glass in the front wall. A piece of cordwood nearby provided further ammunition, and after the first volley the mob made an ugly rush for the entrance, intending to drag out their man.

Police Sergeant Taylor and five constables lined up at the doors and a volley was fired into the air by the policemen, and with a yell the mob rushed for the building, the front ones pushed on by those behind. Then came another volley. The crowd rolled back again, but left Smorak dead and Fulk near the doorway with a bullet in his leg. Meantime a hurry call had been sent to the central station and an ambulance was sent down by the station constable. The crowd, however, by this time had enough and they allowed the prisoner to be taken to the station and hurried up town.

The crowd gradually dispersed into the darkness and there was no further rioting. All the street cars were stopped about 9 o'clock.

Quiet at Port Arthur.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., May 11.—Although no untoward event took place here today in connection with the street car strike, large crowds wandered in the south end of the city, but the activity of police keeping them scattered prevented any outbreak.

Every Car Stops.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., May 11.—Every street car in the Twin Cities stopped running at 5 o'clock this morning owing to a decision reached at midnight last night to strike for a raise in wages of from 4 to 6 cents an hour and new working conditions.

CALGARY MILL TO BE ENLARGED

Brackman-Ker Business in British Columbia and Alberta Bought by Western Canada Mills.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 11.—The assets and good will of the Brackman-Ker Milling company in Alberta and British Columbia has been acquired by the Western Canada Flour Mills, Limited. The deal involves about $1,000,000. S. A. McGaw of Winnipeg, now in this city, said the assets acquired from the Brackman-Ker Milling company comprise the oatmeal mill at Edmonton, the oatmeal and flour mill at Calgary, the oatmeal mill at New Westminster, and the oatmeal mill at Victoria. It is the intention to enlarge the Calgary mill immediately to a capacity of 1,500 barrels daily.

PATTERSON'S ELECTION CONFIRMED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MACLEOD, Alta., May 11.—Robert Patterson, the Conservative candidate was elected at the recount yesterday of the ballots cast at the provincial election. The majority given by the returning officer was 31, but 14 Patterson ballots were thrown out today because they had pencil marks on them.

MARKS BEGINNING OF NEW ERA

Peace Celebration Delegates' Worldwide Invitation

APPEAL TO ARMS IS ANACHRONISM

Century of Peace Affords Example and Ideal to World

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, May 11.—The nations of the world are urged to join the United States, Great Britain, Australia and the municipality of Ghent in making the celebration of 100 years of peace among English-speaking peoples signalize a new era of international goodwill. The invitation was issued today by the international conference now in this country arranging this celebration for December, 1914. The American secretary of state and the British secretary of state for foreign affairs were asked to transmit the invitation of the governments.

Following is the manifesto of the conferees, the representatives of Great Britain, Newfoundland, the United States, the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia and the municipality of Ghent, who are to take part in the celebration which marks the hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking people:

"We invite such co-operation to the end that it may be made clear and unmistakable to public opinion everywhere that the time has come when international rivalry and differences, though numerous and severe, may be settled without the horror of war. Although it be unreasonable to disregard the possibility of conflict arising in the future out of partial misunderstanding, yet we gratefully recognize that the chances of misunderstanding have been largely eliminated by the facilities of modern science.

"Great Britain has been a colonizing nation and the United States has drawn, too, the population of various elements from different countries and from different states. Therefore, a century of peace between Great Britain and her dominions beyond the seas, on the one hand, and the United States on the other hand, touches directly both the interests and the imagination of every land to which Great Britain's sons have gone, as well as those of every nation from which the present day population of the United States has been drawn. This celebration will not only close a century of exceptional importance, but it will call attention to an example and an ideal that we earnestly hope may be followed and pursued in years to come. What nations have done, nations can do.

"We respectfully request that his Majesty's secretary of state for foreign affairs and the secretary of state of the United States transmit this invitation throughout the world to the governments of the world in order that both by the participance of the governments and by the co-operation of men of goodwill in every land this celebration may be so carried out as to mark not merely the close of 100 years of peace among English-speaking peoples, but the opening of what we sincerely trust will be a fresh era of peace and goodwill between all the nations of the world."

Another Peace Conference.

BERNE, Switzerland, May 11.—French and German parliamentarians to the number of 218 met this evening with the object of improving Franco-German relations. A resolution was unanimously adopted against "patriotic excitability," and demanding a decrease of armaments. The resolutions continued: "The conference warmly supports the proposal of American Secretary of State Bryan relating to arbitration, and requests that disputes between France and Germany shall be submitted to the Hague."

The fact that only 33 Germans were present, compared with 185 French deputies and ministers, caused some comment.

BRIEF CYCLONE DOES DAMAGE NEAR MOOSE JAW

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Moose Jaw, May 11.—Within sight of Moose Jaw a cyclone travelled over four farms this morning, leaving sundry damage in its wake. No permanent buildings were blown over, but outhouses, wagons and buggies, etc., figured in the losses. A valuable dog of one of the farmers had a stick blown through its neck. The cyclone died out after racing seven miles, and was about half a minute in duration.

BIG STRIKE ENDS

BRITHEN, Germany, May 11.—The strike of 60,000 coal miners in this district, which began on April 21, has been called off by the men's trade union, owing to the hopelessness of attaining the schedule.

FRIEDMAN IN HIS TRYING DAYS

This is a picture of the famous German scientist (in the centre) when he arrived in Toronto to make a second injection in Toronto patients of his tuberculosis killing serum-of-the-turtle. His first appearance was like the welcoming of a great victor; on his second it was a very reserved expression of reception he received. His work has received much criticism since his last visit, and many doubts cast upon its efficacy. From left to right—Dr. Divinelli, his new assistant; Dr. Friedmann; D. G. Arnold, legal adviser.

Fort George Station Dispute Is Settled

(Special to The Daily News.)

OTTAWA, May 11.—After a two-days hearing and an additional two days consumed in digesting the voluminous details the railroad commission yesterday handed down its decision in the now famous Fort George station case. The application of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad to place a station on the eastern part of the Indian reserve, located at the junction of the Fraser and Nechaco rivers in Central British Columbia, and to name the station Prince George was refused. The application of the Natural Resources Securities company, limited, and George J. Hammond of Vancouver for a station on the western part of the reserve adjoining the Fort George townsite and for the station to be named Fort George, was successful. The decision orders the Grand Trunk Pacific railway to place its station in the western part of the reserve, 3,000 feet east of the townsite.

The railroad was represented by W. Biggar, K.C., H. H. Hansard, W. D. Hogg, K.C., A. Fripp, R. B. Bennett, K.C.

The Natural Resources company by George J. Hammond, and the citizens of Fort George were represented by R. A. Pringle, K.C., Clive Pringle and George F. Henderson, K.C.

The contest for control of what is now known as Fort George dates back four years. George J. Hammond of Vancouver secured from the original stakers the land that is now embraced in the Fort George townsite. Prior to the crown grants being issued the Grand Trunk Pacific railway entered a protest claiming that this particular land was needed for railway and townsite purposes. The provincial land department at Victoria, however, upheld the original stakers. The land was then subdivided into building lots, streets were graded, sidewalks built, buildings erected and the rapid increase of population indicated the speedy growth of a prosperous city.

The general policy of the Grand Trunk Pacific Development company, the subsidiary company which exploits the townsites in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, is to give the owners of property a 50 per cent interest in the townsites in interchange for a clear deed to their property.

Negotiations were opened between the Natural Resources Security company of Vancouver, the owners of the Fort George townsite, and the Grand Trunk Pacific Development company, but were never consummated, owing to the demands made by the railroad. The Indian reserve adjoining the townsite on the east was then purchased by the railroad from the Indians through the Dominion government for $200,000. The railway company then announced that it would place its station on the eastern part of the reserve, over a mile and a half away from the town of Fort George, and that the name would be changed to Prince George.

The application for the registration of the Indian reserve as Prince George was last week refused by Attorney-General Bowser of Victoria, and his decision was today upheld by the railway commission.

The victory of the Hammond forces in winning both for the name and station location brings to a close one of the most spectacular townsite fights in the history of western Canada.

The news of the successful outcome will be enthusiastically received by all owners of Fort George property and those interested in the development of the interior of British Columbia.

TWO PRINTERS BURNED TO DEATH

Chatham Planet Office Destroyed by Fire—Three Employes Have Narrow Escape.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHATHAM, Ont., May 11.—Two men were burned to death and three others had very narrow escapes when the Chatham Planet office was completely destroyed by fire between 9 and 2 o'clock on Friday. Alex McDougal, foreman of the composing room, and Robert Birch, a linotyper, have not been seen since the fire was discovered and there is little doubt but that they were burned to death. Charles Hicklin and H. Premo, pressmen, and Arthur Cartier, linotype operator, had narrow escapes, but managed to get out of the building. The office and plant were completely destroyed, with a loss of $75,000; insurance $50,000. The flames broke out in the stockroom at 9 o'clock, shooting up the elevator shaft and the fire spread to the composing and press rooms. The five men were working together in the room and had to run for the windows. It is thought that McDougal and Birch were overcome by the heavy smoke from the ink before reaching the windows and fell back into the flames.

Cadet-Sergt. J. W. Logie of the Royal Military college, Kingston, son of Lieut.-Col. W. A. Logie of Hamilton was drowned with another cadet, A. L. Smith of Hamilton. The canoe has been found.

TORCH AND BOMB WOMEN'S WEAPONS

Suffragette Outrages in Three Kingdoms

FARRINGTON HALL NOW IN RUINS

Bomb Found in Dublin Theatre--Riots in Hyde Park

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—Another suffrage riot occurred in Hyde Park this afternoon. The Men's League for Women's Suffrage had asked permission to hold this meeting, but was refused. After a half hour's endeavor to get a hearing the league gave up, and the speakers were about to withdraw, when the crowd broke through the ranks of the police. The wagon was overturned and partly wrecked. The police had difficulty in protecting the speakers, and eventually had to escort them to the station for protection.

In the meantime a suffragette planted a flag on the Park lane side of the park where the fashionable people promenade, and started speaking. Men destroyed the flag and jostled the woman until the police rescued her.

Rev. Howard P. Truscott, vicar of St. Anthony at Hatcham, which was destroyed recently, held service in the public hall today, and spoke lengthily in regard to the fire. He said:

"There is no use to talk to me about flashes of lightning or gas. Some person did this with malicious intent."

He said he had received hundreds of letters, some of them from suffragettes, who deplored such a case.

Another House Burned.

A large unoccupied house at Beckham, outside of London, this evening was burned after three hours. The fire was attributed to the suffragettes. The firemen were alarmed at finding a bomb in the burned building.

Statue Defaced.

Another suffragette outrage is reported from Preston, Lancashire, where a white marble statue of the fourteenth earl of Derby in Miller park has been smirched with tar.

Two More Bombs.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 10.—Two more of the now familiar bombs with which the militant suffragettes were going to scare the British parliament into giving the parliamentary franchise to women were discovered this morning. One of them was found in the passengers waiting room at the busy Lime street railroad station in Liverpool and the other in the sorting room of the postoffice at Reading.

The fuse of the Liverpool bomb had been lighted by the perpetrator of the outrage, but had died out before it reached the gunpowder. The bomb consisted of a tin box filled with gunpowder and iron nuts, and the long fuse was laid in the centre.

Bomb in Theatre.

DUBLIN, May 10.—A tin cannister containing 42 gun cartridges was found tonight in the lavatory of the Empire Palace theatre. The cartridges were padded all around with cotton saturated with oil. A cord all oil soaked was attached to the cannister, and the cord was burning when the bomb was found. A girl formerly employed at the theatre was arrested. Nothing is known, however, that would connect her with the suffragette movement. Later in the evening an alarm clock to which a bomb was attached was found in the telephone box of the police office on College Green. An examination failed to disclose any explosives.

John Dillon, M.P. for West Mayo, surrounded by a band of suffragettes opposite the Mansion house on Saturday, told them he would vote against them every time.

Early on Sunday morning Mr. Dillon's residence was bombarded with stones. Nine windows were smashed.

Three women were also arrested on the charge of breaking the fan lights of the premises of the United Irish league about the same time.

Proof of Incendiarism.

DUNDEE, Scotland, May 11.—An examination of the ruins of Farrington hall, which was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, has revealed ample proofs of incendiarism. The chief constable has received by mail a copy of the paper The Suffragette inscribed "Farrington Hall—a Protest Against British Tyranny. Blame Asquith & company." The mansion, which was the property of Henry McGrady, a former provost of Dundee, will require $100,000 to rebuild.

HUNDRED KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Saloniki, May 11.—Two Bulgarian military trains came into collision last night between Drama and Buk. One hundred persons were killed and 300 injured.

PETITION BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

Railway Companies Ask Authorization of New Trackage—Application for Municipal Railway.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 10.—At a meeting of the board of railway commissioners on May 14, 1913, the following list of cases will be heard:

Application for a municipally-owned railway from Fort Garry to Winnipeg, Man., in connection with the matter of a subway occasioned by the Canadian Northern railway cut-off, Winnipeg.

Application of the Canadian Pacific railway under petition 246, for an order authorizing it to construct its new trackage in railway yard in North Transcona, across the city of Winnipeg's transmission line in lot 58, Kildonan, Man.

Application of the Canadian Pacific railway under sections 227 and 237 for authority to construct the tracks of its Bergen-northeasterly branch across the highway known as the West Kildonan road, and also the tracks of the Winnipeg Electric Railway company in the municipality of Kildonan, Man.

Application of the Canadian Pacific railway under sections 227 and 237 for an order authorizing it to construct temporary tracks on its Bergen-northeasterly branch across the East Kildonan road and also across the tracks of the Winnipeg Street Railway company, already constructed along the said road where it crosses lot 58 of the parish of Kildonan, Man.

FINAL DIVISION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

Liberals Will Fight Naval Bill to Bitter End—Warm Debates Anticipated.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 11.—The naval bill having successfully made its stormy passage from the committee of the whole house, speculation is now centring on what is likely to occur on the third reading, which will be taken up on Monday or Tuesday. There is no doubt that the Liberals will move the six months' hoist and that the amendment will be debated until the closure rules are again offered. The final division will be late on Tuesday or Wednesday night; then there will likely be more scenes.

It is stated tonight that there is a strong probability of a parliamentary post mortem, as an aftermath of the early Saturday session, and that Deputy Speaker Blondin will be the central figure. The Liberals, it is said, will charge that the rules are changed according to the dictation of the house. This the ministerial members will deny, with the probable result that the debate is liable to wax warm.

NARROWLY ESCAPES FATE OF TITANIC

Strikes Iceberg in Dense Fog—Surrounded by Bergs Heard But Not Seen.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, May 11.—Collision with an iceberg in a dense fog was the experience of the Chiltern Range steamer while on her voyage from Hull to Montreal. Her bow plates were badly dented by the glancing blow she struck to the berg, and standing away to the eastward after the collision the steamer was surrounded by icebergs that could be heard but not seen. The escape of the vessel comparatively without damage seems to have been nothing short of miraculous.

"No, we did not reverse the engines," said the captain, in an interview, "or I should not have been here to tell the tale. We just slid off the berg, as it were. Had the engines been reversed there probably would have been trouble.

"What I was most afraid of was that the underlying spur of the iceberg might rip the ship open, as was the case when the Titanic struck. When the ship slid away we went to the eastward, but very slowly. We stood away to the eastward till dark, and lay all night with the engines almost stopped. We were surrounded by icebergs."

ONTARIO FRUIT CROP DAMAGED BY FROST

London, Ont., May 11.—Reports from all sections of western Ontario tell of damage to early fruit by the frost. J. C. Harris, one of the Ingersoll experts, says that in his opinion the apple crop has been scarcely hurt. He says damage is more likely to occur when the fruit is "filling." At this stage the trees are not so susceptible to frost.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW STEEL BARGE

Second This Year for Kootenay Lake Service

VICE-PRESIDENT BURY VISITS NELSON

Notes Increase in Mixed Farming--Country Makes Steady Progress

Announcement that a contract had been let for a new steel barge for use between Kootenay landing and Proctor, the second to be built for this run this year, and for the construction of a new steamer on similar lines to the Nasookin, and for a steel tug, both for the Okanagan lake service, was made on Saturday night by George J. Bury, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, who arrived in Nelson by special train from the Boundary district. Among those in the private car Manitoba with the vice-president were J. G. Sullivan, chief engineer of western lines; A. E. Stevens of Vancouver, acting general superintendent of the British Columbia division; W. O. Miller, superintendent of the Nelson division, and Capt. J. C. Gore, superintendent of the inland lake and river service.

Spending the night in Nelson, the party left on the new steamer Nasookin at 9 o'clock yesterday morning for Proctor. From that point the vice-president's car was taken on a barge to Kootenay landing, Mr. Bury travelling with it.

Mr. Stevens returned to Nelson.

On his way from Vancouver the vice-president and party travelled via Okanagan lake, driving from Penticton to Midway by automobile. The party travelled from Midway to Nelson on the special.

Tenders in for Big Tunnel.

Tenders were in for the construction of the Rogers pass tunnel, 5 2-16 miles in length, said Mr. Bury, and a contract would be let in due course.

Oil burners are in use on the main line between Field and Kamloops and the necessary equipment is being prepared for the installation of the system for trains operating between Kamloops and the coast, said Mr. Bury.

Increase in Mixed Farming.

During his trip of inspection through Kootenay and Boundary Mr. Bury noticed that the country seemed to be making steady progress, and he was glad to observe that the people appeared to be going in more and more for mixed farming. Mining, he remarked, seemed to be on a steadier basis than for years past. "Western Canada as a whole seems to be progressing on a more solid, conservative basis year by year," he remarked.

"The roads in British Columbia are splendid. The government seems to be doing a great work in the road improvements which are being made," said Mr. Bury, speaking of his automobile trip from Penticton to Midway.

IMMIGRATION FLOOD ROLLS TO COAST

Thousands of New Comers Reach Calgary—Two Trains in Three Sections.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., May 11.—This has been the busiest day ever experienced at the railway depot in Calgary. No fewer than eight trains from eastern ports arrived here with settlers from the old country. It is estimated 5,000 persons passed through here. The majority went right through to the coast and north. Many went north and a number stopped off in Calgary. Two trains, the Imperial Limited and the Vancouver express, came in three sections, while the Soo train also came in three sections. The reason for the great influx of new settlers was the arrival at ocean ports of a large number of ocean vessels at the same time. There were huge crowds at the depot all day to welcome friends. Of all the thousands who came in only seven went to the immigration hall.

FIRE AT TRENTON.

TRENTON, Ont., May 11.—Miller & Co.'s canning plant, a branch of the Dominion Canners, was destroyed by fire today. The plant consisted of three long wooden structures.

Mining Settlement Is Wiped Out By Explosion

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 11.—The explosion of 500 sticks of dynamite in the Union Coal company's mine No. 1, three miles from Masontown, Pa., at 10 o'clock today, practically wiped out the little mining settlement, killed three and injured 40 persons, 20 of them seriously. The cause of the explosion is not known. Of the dead, only one has been identified. Her name is given as Mary Boss. Her head was blown off. The other two men were in the magazine when it exploded and were blown to pieces.

The general store, the residence of an official of the company and 25 small buildings were made uninhabitable and the residents were forced to move to another mining camp.

SALMO TO HAVE NEW STATION

New Water Tank to Be Built at Erie —Woman Deported—Lumber Camp at Meadows.

(Special to The Daily News.)

SALMO, B. C., May 11.—Stone for the foundation of the new depot to be erected here by the Great Northern is being unloaded, and the carpenters arrived on Friday. Before commencing the depot the gang will built a water tank at Erie.

Constable McLaren drove to the Motherlode mine on Friday to bring in a man wanted by the Canadian immigration officers for an alleged breach of the Immigration act. This man arrived in Salmo in company with a young woman, whom Immigration Officer O'Neil discovered to be here for immoral purposes. She was brought down to Waneta from Nelson on Friday morning by Mr. O'Neil and held in the detention house there until the same evening, when she was brought to Salmo in order that an investigation might be held. It was proved, however, that the young man was quite innocent of any criminal intent, and the woman was deported.

A new lumber camp has been established at Meadows, and about 40 men are busily engaged in getting out poles.

W. R. Salisbury has been sworn in a justice of the peace.

J. H. Schofield, M.P.P., in the course of a conversation lately, stated that Salmo was to have a small debts court in the near future.

Mrs. P. Helsby and Mrs. W. R. Salisbury left for a few days' visit to Spokane on Friday.

Mr. Cawley left on a trip to the Pend d'Orielle country.

Several complaints have been received by the provincial constable as to the insanitary condition of the dwelling occupied by the Chinese population of Salmo. Acting under instructions of that officer, steps have been taken to remedy the nuisance.

James Harrison, who has been in the hospital at Ymir for the last four months suffering from a fractured limb, left Salmo for Spokane today.

About 50 pupils are at present in actual attendance at the public school.

Miss May Curwen and Miss Barclay drove to Salmo from Erie on Saturday.

A. Watkins has entirely renovated and remodelled his barber shop, which now presents a very tidy and attractive appearance.

A case of whooping cough is reported in town.

The water is rising rapidly in the North Fork of the Salmon river, and a general washout is expected.

Rev. E. D. Grant of Ymir gave a very entertaining and instructive illustrated lecture in the schoolhouse on Wednesday night. Many excellent views of India, Africa, Ireland and British Columbia were shown.

EMPIRE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED AT BURTON

(Special to The Daily News.)

BURTON, B. C., May 11.—A meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday to discuss plans for May 24 (Empire day). It was decided to arrange for a picnic, which has become an annual affair in Burton. The island, it was agreed, was the most suitable place to hold the festivities, arrangements being made to drive to and from that place both morning and afternoon. In order to raise funds for the church charges will be made for admission. Refreshments will be free.

Miss Siples returned from New Westminster on Saturday last, accompanied by her son, Mr. Malcolm of Hanley, Sask.

Mr. Giddings occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church here on Sunday, May 4, in the absence of J. Hanill, who was conducting services at Arrow Park.

W. Burgess has rented Paul Guidon's ranch for the summer months.

Sidney Leary has greatly improved his lots by starting a lawn and planting trees.

J. H. McCormick has been busy during the past week planting and pruning trees for E. Chiles and R. Islip.

Mrs. Robert Stevens gave a card party in honor of Miss McDevitt on Saturday, May 3. A very enjoyable time was spent, Mrs. Eades winning the ladies' first prize and Mr. Pearce the gentlemen's first, while the consolation prizes were gained by Mrs. R. Thompson and Mr. Jack Siness.

Mr. Gollistein, the representative of Macmillan & Co. of Vancouver, was in town this week.

R. S. June has been on the sick list this week, but is on the road to recovery.

Mr. Colvin, the representative of Leckie & Co. of Vancouver, was in town on business a few days ago.

A meeting of the Women's institute was held in the old schoolhouse on Wednesday, when the chair was taken by Miss McDevitt, the vice-president, in the unavoidable absence of Mrs. C. Marshall, the president. A paper on flowers and gardening was read by Miss McDevitt, and final arrangements made about obtaining the various utensils and things needed to be used by Mrs. E. Norman in demonstrating the canning of meats, fruits and vegetables on May 15. Mrs. F. B. Atkinson of Nelson will lecture the same evening on modern housekeeping and hygiene in the home. It is hoped that a big effort will be made by all to attend these meetings.

Dr. Mossman of Nakusp inspected the school here on May 6.

Mrs. Masters of Westley has arrived in town on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. Lane.

A meeting of the Burton Cannery company is announced for Tuesday, May 13, at 7 p.m., when it is hoped all interested will attend, as there is important business to arrange.

NINE CHARGES OF MURDER

Twenty-seven Cases on Criminal Docket for Clinton Assizes—Spintium on Trial.

(Special to The Daily News.)

LILLOOET, May 11.—Nine murder charges from this judicial district will be heard at the coming Clinton assizes. This number constitutes an undesirable record for British Columbia, outside of the coast cities. Date of the assizes, or appointment of presiding judge have not yet been announced.

In addition to facing a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of Provincial Constable Kindness at Clinton, Paul Spintium and Moses Paul will be arraigned for the slaying of Ah Wye. Spintium will be confronted with a third capital charge for the murder of William White.

For having, in a fit of jealousy, fatally stabbed his sweetheart, Miss Minnie Martin, James Antwine will appear in the dock. Antwine's crime was committed at a dance at Stone creek, near Lytton. For the brutal outrage and murder of the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Inkster of Ashcroft, a young Swede named Henry Jorgenson will be tried for his life. Complicity in the violent death of an Indian at 150-Mile will bring "Red" McColville and Jack Watts before the court, charged with murder.

Twenty-seven cases will comprise the criminal docket, according to present indications. Included will be the charges against former Provincial Constables Mulligan and Boner for having robbed an Italian at Ashcroft.

PROPOSE CHANGES IN BOAT SERVICE

Capt. Gore Visits Queens Bay—Raising Funds for New Church—Lending Library.

(Special to The Daily News.)

QUEENS BAY, B. C., May 11.—At a recent meeting of the Queens Bay Fruit Growers association it was announced that Capt. J. C. Gore, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific railway's lake and river service, was willing, if it was the desire of the members, to visit Queens Bay and receive a deputation to discuss the present boat service to Nelson and obtain from them suggestions, the carrying out of which would enable residents to visit that city and return home the same evening. A cordial invitation was sent and on Tuesday last Capt. Gore arrived by the steamer Kokanee and was met at the wharf by Lord Aylmer, Major Budd, R.A., and Messrs. Foster and Attree. A change in the service on Tuesdays was suggested which, if the details can be carried out, would not only give Queens Bay the desired day trip, but would benefit Crawford bay, Grays creek, Kootenay bay and intervening points in the same way. Capt. Gore promised to do his best to meet the wishes and necessities of the largest number of settlers possible.

A meeting of the Queens Bay branch of the Woman's Auxiliary society was held at the residence of Mrs. Mahood on Wednesday last, when matters connected with the proposed church at Queens Bay were discussed. The ladies are raising the necessary funds and it is hoped that at no distant date a suitable building may be erected in the settlement. At the recent annual conference of the Woman's Auxiliary society, held at Nelson, the Queens Bay branch was represented by Miss Paffard, the president, and Mrs. Harry Scott-Lauder, the honorary secretary.

Bert Byley, one of the earliest settlers in Queens Bay, who underwent an operation last week at the Nelson hospital, is reported as making a very satisfactory recovery. It is hoped that he will have sufficiently recovered to return to his home at Queens Bay next week.

George Porteons, a rancher of Queens Bay, is now on his way to Edinburgh, Scotland, from which city he came to British Columbia about two years ago. After a short stay he intends to return to his ranch and will be accompanied by his father and his sister, who propose making Queens Bay their future home.

A branch of the government lending library was recently established at Queens Bay and has supplied a long-felt want of the ranchers.

Information has been received that government road work will be started at Queens Bay next week and a new road will be constructed from the southeast corner of lot 8 to lot 4, about half a mile in length. It has not been decided what improvements are to be made in existing roads, many of which are needed. The ranchers, who have now got through most of their spring work, planting, pruning and plowing, will probably supply all the labor required on the new road.

WATERFRONT IS HIVE OF INDUSTRY

Extensive Improvements to Telephone Pole Yards—London Clergyman on Visit—New Settlers.

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, B.C., May 11.—The season of enterprise and industry has opened up in full earnest in and around Nakusp. The waterfront is a veritable hive of industry covering a space of over a mile in extent. The fleet of tugs and towing launches engaged in the logging transportation are like so many busy bees plying here and there with their valuable cargoes, the result of a winter's work of some 200 loggers. It thoroughly impresses both the old resident and the casual visitor that there is a great deal doing at Nakusp and around its magnificent bay, and that there is a bright promise for its future destination.

The Lindsley Brothers company, the largest telephone pole firm possibly in the world, have made extensive alterations in their yard, practically making a new installation throughout, at an expenditure of $25,000, to cope with their ever increasing business. Today Nakusp possesses the greatest pole shipping point on this continent. A better pole cannot be found and there are millions of them yet untouched, which means so many million dollars yet to reach Nakusp as they are cut and shipped to all the provinces of Canada and the states of the American union. This firm alone will ship from Nakusp during 1913 600 cars. Nearly a mile of new railway trackage will be laid into their new yards; a slip, operated by a steam engine and endless ropeway, has been constructed, 1,000 ft. long, and the yard itself will have a storage capacity of three times the quantity of poles the old yard possessed. A cook house for the men has been built close by, and in fact everything in line with the large volume of business they carry on has been done to facilitate the business.

Rev. Mr. Lawlor, rector of St. Peters church, Eaton square, London, England, visited Rev. S. H. Phillimore here last Sunday on his way from Australia to London. He regretted his inability to visit Edgewood, the clergyman at which point is supplied by funds donated by the congregations of the church at Eaton square.

Dr. and Mrs. Mossman left for Victoria, where Mrs. Mossman will consult Dr. O. M. Jones, she having been in a poor state of health for some time. Dr. Pumrose Wells of Creston will relieve Dr. Mossman here during the latters absence. Mrs. Pumrose Wells also arrived this morning.

Several new settlers have arrived during the past week, one bringing a car of effects from Indiana to Arrow Park.

Capt. Carver, R.N., with his valet, has arrived from England to settle at Crescent bay, where he has purchased 38 acres of land from the Canadian Development company. It is his intention to clear the greater portion immediately.

Mrs. D. A. McFarland, accompanied by Miss McFarland and Miss Jill McFarland, arrived on Tuesday and occupy the residence of H. L. Rot for the summer.

F. W. and Mrs. Jordan are vi Vancouver.

Born, at Nakusp, on Tuesday, M a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. T. H hart, of the Leland hotel; also a s Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Howell.

H. L. Rothwell leaves today business trip to Nelson.

HORSE SHOW ENDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, May 11.—Surpassing all of its predecessors, the fourteenth annual Montreal horse show was brought to a close at the arena on Saturday night, when all attendance records were broken. The improved quality of the horses shown was another feature widely commented upon.

CITY SOCCER SEASON OPENS

First Game of Series Will See R.M.R. and Y.M.C.A. Aggregations Clash This Evening.

The Nelson City Soccer Football league season will be opened tonight, when the R.M.R. and Y.M.C.A. teams will clash at the recreation grounds at 6 o'clock.

A fast exhibition is expected. The Y.M.C.A. team includes a number of new players and football dopesters find it hard to calculate just what strength they will show. The R.M.R. have undoubtedly a strong lineup and will take a lot of beating from any of the local teams. The teams will line up as follows for tonight's game:

WEATHER BAD BUT AVERAGE IS GOOD

Riflemen Turned Out in Strength Yesterday—Six Hundred Yards Too Much for Some.

At the shoot of the Legion of Frontiersmen Civilian Rifle association yesterday owing to the heavy rain at 6 o'clock there was no shooting in the early morning, but a fine turn out of 11 members appeared at 9 o'clock. In spite of the rain and the gale of wind an average of 75 was made, being five more than that of last week.

The 600-yard range was the graveyard of many ambitions, but the scores made augur well for the future. Several new members were present and there is evidence that the Legion's first team will be a strong one, with little between it and the second. In fact there are hints that last years team will have a hard fight to beat a team chosen from the rest.

The captain hopes that three teams may compete in the match between the associations affiliated with the Interior of British Columbia association, which will hold its annual shoot on the Nelson range from Aug. 12 to 15, when it is hoped that eight outside teams will be present.

The scores yesterday:

	200	500	600	T'l

HEAVYWEIGHT HOPE ON WAY TO CALGARY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MOOSE JAW, Sask., May 11.—Luther McCarty, white heavyweight hope, was in the city for an hour on Saturday. He is on his way to Calgary, where he meets Arthur Pelky in Tommy Burns' arena on the afternoon of Victoria day. The big fellow looks in fine physical trim and stated that he anticipated little difficulty in handing the Calgary heavyweight a sleeping punch. With McCarty were his manager, Billey McCarney, Al Norton, his chief sparring partner, and four others.

CATCH CHAR AND RAINBOW

G. A. Roy, Dr. M. J. Vigneux and E. Doucette caught between 40 and 50 pounds of char in the west arm yesterday.

Fishing was fairly good at the Slocan pool, but no large catches of rainbow trout were made. A. M. Johnson had good sport, Scotty Williamson landed three and E. B. Milward and a friend brought in a dozen.

TENNIS TEAM ARRIVES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 11.—A. B. Jones and Horace Rice, members, and E. W. Hicks, manager of the Australian tennis team that will compete in the preliminary for the Davis cup next month, arrived in New York last night from Australia by way of California. They were met by S. N. Dost, chairman of the team, and held a conference to arrange for their stay in the United States. The team will probably proceed to Philadelphia for a week's play before going to Boston.

SCORING LOW IN OPENING OVAL MATCH

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—The opening match at Kennington oval, which, owing to inclement weather, never got started until yesterday morning, resulted disastrously both to the home team and visitors. Northampton batted first and were only able to compile 43 runs, while Surrey could only register 58 before being all out.

Match Drawn.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 11.—In the second innings Northampton was all out for 72, East getting 30 and Thompson 24. Surry scored 40 for seven wickets. The match was drawn.

Sporting Comment

The city soccer league season opens tonight when the Y.M.C.A. and R.M.R. clash.

Big Bill Moss, who last year pitched for Rossland, is pitching some ball this year for the Washington state college nine.

Breaking 191 birds out of 200, E. J. Chingren, the well known Spokane shot, led the field at the Los Angeles Gun club shoot on Saturday.

"Hap" Myers, "Bill" James and "Bert" Whaling, all Northwestern league players last year, are making good this season with the Boston braves.

Wilbert Robinson, the New York Giants' coach, recently sold his Baltimore cafe for 15,000 iron men.

Every time a dub heavyweight wins a match in the east he is immediately placed in line for a bout with Luther McCarthy. They don't think much of the white champ back there.

Rumors emanating from New York are to the effect that Manager McGraw will turn over Josh Devore to the Indianapolis club.

The lacrosse team will commence its evening practices tomorrow evening.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, predicts a great year for his organization. "The weaker clubs are stronger," adds Ban.

Jean Dubuc, the Detroit Tigers' pitcher, says that no one taught him to throw his puzzling slow ball. Jean says he is his own teacher.

McGraw says Cooper, his young outfielder, looks better to him now than Tris Speaker did seven years ago when he saw him first in Little Rock, Ark.

Bert Humphries is the only player living in California and Pennsylvania at the same time. He lives in California, Pa.

RANK OUTSIDER WINS JUBILEE HANDICAP

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—The twenty-seventh great jubilee handicap was run yesterday at Kempton park for a purse of $63,000, over the Jubilee course of 1¼ miles, and won by a rank outsider, W. Hall Walker's four-year-old bay colt Absolute, by Gallinels-Cherry Lass, 6 st. 12. Starting at 33 to 1, A. F. Bassett's Talan Hill, 6 st. 2, 100 to 8, finished second; P. F. Heyburn's Cigar, 8 st. 3, 20 to 1, third, and D. McAlmont's Bachelors Hope, 8 st. 10, 4 to 1, was fourth.

CHALONS DISTRICT DEVASTATED BY CYCLONE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, May 11.—The Chalons district for 25 miles around Vietry le France, was devastated by a cyclone last night. There was a violent hail storm and the ground was covered a foot deep with hail, which injured a large number of persons. Two aviators on a flight from Rheims reached home against the storm and reached the ground just as it broke. Both machines were wrecked and one pilot was injured.

DELEGATES VIEWS IRRECONCILABLE

Friction Between Bulgaria and Greece —Turkish Peace Delegates Arrive in London.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—The Turkish delegates arrived in London for the peace conference. Despatches from Sofia indicate that the Turks are trying to delay the convention of peace by refusing to accept the peace terms drawn by the ambassadorial conference. The Bulgarian government, however, has notified Greece of its determination to permit no further delay in the signing of the peace treaty.

Friction between Bulgaria and Greece still menaces them. A mixed commission appointed by the government with the object of reconciling the rival claims over the disputed territory in Macedonia has failed to reach an agreement. The two sets of representatives have arrived at an opposite and irreconcilable conclusion.

QUARTER MILLION LOSS IN INCENDIARY FIRE

BOSTON, May 11.—Fire, carried on a high northwest wind, burned property on both sides of the Mystic river in Charlestown today, causing a loss of about $250,000. The fire, which was started in a pile of lumber on the wharves of the Export Lumber company, was one of a series of waterfront fires, and incendiarism is suspected.

MONDAY, MAY 12.

BRITISH SOCIETY ON TENTER HOOKS.

A person reading and believing much of the British and European news matter published in the papers of the United States would thereby be led to the conclusion that Americans abroad are the cynosure of all eyes, the glass of fashion and the mould of form.

An example of this is afforded by the following from a syndicate "cable" letter, going the rounds of the American press, in which the work of the United States embassy in London is discussed:

Another question which will soon come up for settlement at the embassy concerns the clothing which Walter H. Page, the new ambassador, will wear on dress occasions. Whether to shine in gilt, braid and brass buttons or seek the spotlight even more by wearing conventional evening clothes at daylight functions—a problem that has given many a diplomat a headache—is to be settled by Mr. Page himself. He will have precedents for choosing either horn of the dilemma. The government allows him to use his own discretion in the matter, but fashionable London is awaiting his verdict with unsparing eyes.

Without meaning any disparagement to Mr. Page or to the United States, one can imagine the anxiety with which the British aristocracy, the ambassadorial representatives in London, the King's cabinet ministers, and even royalty itself are awaiting Mr. Page's dictum as to the proper style, in his opinion, for dress occasions at the court of St. James.

AN OPPOSITION ARGUMENT SHATTERED.

In the discussion in the House of Commons on the naval bill the Opposition took strong exception to Right Hon. Winston Churchill's views as to the difficulty of successfully establishing in Canada at present a shipbuilding industry capable of constructing battleships of the Dreadnought class. In this connection, as the official records show, special emphasis was laid on the success which had attended the operations of the Fore River Shipbuilding company, a Quincy, Massachussetts, concern, the argument being that if such a plant could be made a success in the United States a similar one in Canada should do equally well. At the time it was pointed out by Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine, and others that the Fore River plant had not been a success. This was strenuously denied by Opposition members, particularly by Hon. William Pugsley, who appeared at times to assume the leadership of his party during the debate just ended.

Just how close to the truth Mr Pugsley and his friends were in this matter is shown by the following reference to the Fore River Shipbuilding company, which appeared in the issue of Monday last of the Boston News Bureau, one of the leading financial publications of the United States:

The proposed passing of control of the Fore River Shipbuilding company to the Bethlehem Steel company emphasizes anew the tremendous handicap under which American shipbuilding companies operate. As an independent manufacturing proposition, standing upon its own feet, the Fore River has been unable to win financial success. On the other hand, it should have a distinct value as a cog in the wheel of the Bethlehem system.

Many investors will ruefully recall that it was just about nine years ago that the old Fore River Ship & Engine company succumbed, and was reorganized into the present company. With about $1,250,000 of new capital the new company was started on its way.

A peculiar feature of the Fore River situation is the fact that the $4,800,000 capitalization when the present company was formed in 1904 represented actual cash that had been plowed into the property, while reorganization interests bought the property for $1,000,000 at auction. The plant at Quincy embraces about 110 acres, and is believed to have an annual output 60,000 tons of ships and material of a value of $9,000,000.

The present developments in Fore River's career lend timely interest to the question whether it is possible for an American shipbuilding enterprise successfully to compete with foreign builders.

What is here said bears out the views expressed by Mr. Churchill as to the difficulty of establishing in Canada shipbuilding plants capable of handling the construction of Dreadnoughts. It will be noticed that the annual capacity of the Fore River plant, 60,000 tons, is about equal to that of three Dreadnoughts, while in addition the plant turned out annually $9,000,000 worth of other goods.

In spite of an annual output of this kind the Fore River plant could not be made pay. How, then, could a similar plant in Canada be expected to be a success, for, as will be noted, it is pointed out by the Boston News Bureau that the history of the Fore River plant is that of shipbuilding in the United States generally?

What the Press Is Saying

The Chief Robber.

Who is the chief robber?
"The tariff," said the importer.
"The lawyer," says the litigant.
"The politician," says the municipal reformer.
"The liquor dealer," says the Prohibitionist.
"Any employer of labor," says the Socialist.
"The landlord," says the Single Taxer.
"The middleman," says the producer.
"The government," says the taxpayer.
"The producer," says the consumer.
"The labor union," says the employer.
"Everybody," says everybody else.

Senate Is On Sufferance.

For a long time it has been apparent that the senate is allowed to exist on sufferance by the people. Were the naval bill thrown out of the senate, an issue involving a constitutional change which has been dormant through lack of interest would become important again.—Ottawa Journal.

Martial Music.

The Passing of the Fit.

A rural family doctor says that, when he began to practice, a family with less than four children was exceptional, while now it is a rare thing to find more than that number. On the whole, the original population is rather growing less than more, and the country is fast passing into the hands of the French. The same story is true in other parts of the land, where it is foreigners who are replacing the British breed. We are simply exhausting our energies to develop a land for other people. We hear a good deal said, in these days of exigencies, about people that ought not to get married, and the necessity of providing laws that will prevent the multiplication of the unfit, but very little about the fact that the fit are passing off the face of the earth. It is not those races that marry early, and as a matter of course, which are most liable to degeneracy.—Montreal Witness.

This Day in Canadian History

During the Revoutionary war immense sums were spent by the representatives of the British government in keeping the Indians in good humor. John Allen, the agent of Massachusetts sent to rouse against England the tribes of the St. John river country—then part of Nova Scotia—complained that "the great advantage the Britains has" in dealing with the Indians through "their large and good supplies puts me in the greatest difficulty how to act," and in the same letter added "as to the goods, they merely scoff at it, the British goods is so superior." The same story of British generosity to the red man comes from Fort Niagara. For instance, Col. Bolton, who was in command there in 1778, wrote under date of May 12, in that year, "I have drawn a bill for £14,768 9s 5d in favor of Mr. Pollard" a merchant at Niagara—"for sundries furnished the savages, which Major Butler thought absolutely necessary, nothwithstanding all the presents sent to this post last year." In the following year, another Indian account at Niagara amounted to nearly £6,000, but apparently the goods for the Indians were purchased for the government "at a most exorbitant rate from traders."

The Weather

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, May 11.—Pressure is highest tonight over the lower lakes, while the low pressure region is from Saskatoon to the Missouri. Rain has been almost general today in Saskatchewan and light showers have occurred in New Brunswick and locally in Nova Scotia. Very cool weather prevails throughout the greater part of the Dominion.

PREVENTABLE DISEASES.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir,—Why should Nelson not be free from preventable diseases, situated as it is in one of the healthiest spots possible, having invigorating mountain air, pure water supply, beautiful surroundings, no extreme cold or extreme heat and no swamps?

In the city at present are scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, mumps, whooping cough, etc., and these all have serious complications. They have not recently broken out in our midst, but years ago; they are known as preventable diseases. No wonder mothers are indignant at the present state of affairs. Have they not to bear the brunt of the prevalence of these contagious diseases? Besides their manifold household duties, they have the anxiety and care of their sick children heaped upon them, not to mention the fatigue caused by sleepless nights. As for the children how they are made to suffer simply because proper precautions have not been taken to stamp out these diseases, as has been done in numerous other cities.

Doctors, nurses, and mothers are expending a tremendous amount of energy taking care of these preventable diseases. If a small part of that energy were spent in an effort to put them out of existence Nelson would soon be recognized as a most desirable city to live in.

Would it not pay the city a hundred fold to employ a physician to do nothing else but enforce strict quarantine, thorough disinfection and enforce the use of all known means to prevent unnecessary suffering.

The solution of having a city almost free from contagious diseases is very simple—strict quarantine and thorough disinfection.

If the contagious diseases are allowed to continue we can hope for nothing but more and more of them, because the children's systems are being depleted, therefore more susceptible to all contagion.

The Daily News deserves great credit for its fight for a clean city but more than that is needed—a campaign against preventable diseases "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

HARD WORK ONLY SPECIFIC FOR LONG LIFE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—The splendid nonagenarian, Sir Charles Tupper, arrived in London on Thursday night and yesterday talked with a representative of the Chronicle about his beloved Canada. Sir Charles is now the sole survivor of the 32 men who met in Quebec in 1864 and laid the foundation for the Dominion. He said: "I have no specific for long life save one—hard work. I have never known anything else. My only holidays have been in train and crossing the Atlantic. This last was the sixty-fourth time I crossed it. The first time I came to England was in 1840. I crossed the Atlantic in a brig of 160 tons. We were 40 days getting from St. Johns, Newfoundland to Lough Foyle, Ireland.

"Canada's climate is one of her great advantages. It makes men. If you study the history of the world you see that it is men from the cold north who have always ruled it. The southern races have always gone under. Then you must remember that the United States wouldn't have had its 10,000,000 negroes were it not for the warm southern states and these are increasing in those states, while native American white men are decreasing. We have been saved from that great problem. We are becoming the greatest highway between the east and west. We will soon have three transcontinental railways at work and we must remember that New York is 1000 miles nearer Asia by way of Canada and Vancouver than any port in the United States. Our relations with the United States are now better than they ever were.

Hundreds of thousands of people from the United States come over into Canada every year and settle down."

TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT FOR BIG PRIZE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—James V. Martin, who heads a pilot's license for the air and a master's license for the seas, announced on his arrival from the Hawaiian Islands that he would attempt to cross the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland next month in competition for Lord Northcliff's prize of $5000 for the first aviator to make the passage inside of 70 hours. With him will be his wife, formerly Lillian Irvine, who says she was the first English woman to fly.

The air line he will attempt to follow is 1635 miles long, and he expects to make a non-stop flight in a specially built French aeroplane.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCES NO NEARER SOLUTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—Three great mysteries are being investigated in this country at the present time, two by Scotland Yard and the other by lawyers. All are concerned with persons who disappeared. They are:

1. The mystery of a young German found shot in Toulon. The strange movements in London of a man answering his description, the shadowing of him by another German and inquiries for him by a woman, make this mystery of unusual interest.

2. The mystery of Amyas Briggs, a barrister of the middle temple and nephew of Sir Forest Fulton, recorder of the city of London.

3. The mystery of W. R. Lidderdale, bank manager at Somerset, who disappeared in 1892. On Wednesday when the case came before the probate court Justice Dean decided that further inquiries were necessary before Lidderdale's death could be presumed, and the lawyers in the case are searching widely for information about a Miss Vinnidar and for an equally mysterious yacht, the Foresight, and for various persons, mentioned in the case.

CONDITION OF DUCHESS STILL VERY GRAVE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 11.—The possibility that the Duke of Connaught will not return to Canada increases owing to the health of the duchess. Although the medical bulletins describe a slight improvement it is known that her condition is very grave and it will be a long time before the duke can leave her side.

The announcement on Tuesday that his successor had already been selected need occasion no surprise since the condition of the duchess is such as to make a long interregnum undesirable.

Information of the selection of Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, which comes from a reliable source may be surprising, but it will least astonish those who are cognizant with the case. It is well known that antagonism exists between Lloyd George and Mr. Harcourt, which found expression on Jan. 8, and he would hardly care to take over the legacy of the speculative budget by which he would stand to gain nothing, with a chance of loss of reputation if the future justified his predecessor's hopes.

"I AM SATISFIED I COULD NOT LIVE

If It Were Not For "Fruit-a-tives", The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

FENAGHVALE, ONT., JAN. 29th, 1910

"For thirty five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. No matter what remedy or physicians I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure. About 2 years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give them a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives", I am satisfied I could not live" JAMES PROUDFOOT.

Mr. Proudfoot is one of the prominent farmers of Prescott County and has been Treasurer of Caledonia Township for years. "Fruit-a-tives" is sold at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. by dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CONDUCTORS DEAL WITH COMPANY

Ignore Conciliation Board in Whose Hands Grievances and Demands Had Been Placed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, May 11.—According to a statement made at the offices of the Canadian Northern railway, the Order of Railway Conductors on the line, who have had their grievances and formulated demands before a board of conciliation in this city, have been in communication direct with the officials of the company, and a settlement of the dispute is probable.

A high official of the company added that he thought the matter was practically settled to the satisfaction of both parties and no unreasonable demands had been made. The basis of the proposed settlement has no bearing at all on the findings of the board and the proposals which are being considered before the board.

FALLS FROM TRAIN—CONCUSSION OF BRAIN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, May 11.—A man named Marlowe is in the general hospital in a critical condition suffering from concussion of the brain, the result of an accident near the Grand Trunk Pacific shops. He has not recovered consciousness since, being taken to the hospital about 6 o'clock on Saturday morning, and consequently has been unable to give any account of the accident. He is believed to have fallen from a train.

Poultry Keeping in the Kootenays

Building Up a Poultry Business

(W. N. Scott, Nelson, B.C.)

It is self evident that building a poultry plant and building a poultry business are two vastly different things. Both the plant and the business are visible expression of the business capacity of the proprietor. The average poultry man is in a vastly different position to the city merchant. With him, one of the most important factors in the building up of his trade connections is the location and general attractions of his store. Located on a main thoroughfare, he is able by judicious window dressing and the display of special advertising matter, to keep his particular claims always before the public. No longer does he turn out the lights from his front windows as he once did at closing up time. He realizes that to keep his goods incessantly on view, day and night, does more good than a spasmodic advertising splurge. A man may reduce his stock or get rid of shop worn goods by "fire" sales, "closing out" sales and other quick turn over methods, but he depends upon his steady, consistent work to build up his trade. I repeat again that the average poultryman is in a vastly different position. He cannot afford to locate on the main street and not always even in the "rhubarbs". Probably nine-tenths of the people with whom he does business have never seen his poultry or his ranch and a large proportion don't even know the proprietor, either by sight or reputation. From this, it can readily be seen that if a man is to do more than a strictly utility business of selling eggs and dressed poultry to the tradesmen, he must go after business in a businesslike way. I used the term "building up" at the head of this article and advisedly so, for a paying poultry business is not a sporadic mushroom growth. Personally, we are glad it is not, as there are enough social parasites in every get-rich-quick vocation, without encouraging any more to enter the poultry industry. It takes patient plodding, persistency, and strict adherence to a few essentials.

1. Establishing a Trade Connection—The fundamental basis of an established business is not the sale of so many dollars worth of goods yesterday and so much more today, important and all as that may be. The fact that you entirely supply a man's needs today is only the initial step. You must reckon on that need recurring next month or next year or what is still better, create that need by giving him something so much better in value than he has or can get elsewhere, that he looks you up when he wants to buy. When his neighbors or friends are looking for the same stock he may be the medium of directing a valuable order your way. If so, acknowledge it in some tangible form. He may have done so out of friendship for you or the purchaser, but a rebate on his next order, or a setting of eggs gratis will not hurt you and you have established a connection that may be wide in its ramifications. He is not only pleased himself but tells his friends that you have allowed him a commission on the order he turned your way. The result is that the other fellow also keeps his eye peeled to do business for you. There is a vast difference between making a "sale" and making a "customer," also between doing business yourself and doing it with the co-operation of your customers.

If you advertise 13 eggs to the setting, you will not lose anything by putting in 15 or an extra pullet on a large order.

2. Don't Knock Other Breeds or Breeders.—If breeding fancy poultry be a gentleman's profession, its business should certainly be based upon professional ethics. A great many customers don't know exactly what they want, but they all want the "best" breed. There is no "best" breed strictly speaking, all have their faults and their virtues. If you don't keep what a man wants, if he knows what he wants, dont knock his idea, but send him with your card to some one who has. Maybe next week the other man will have an enquirer for your breed and he will return the compliment. Last fall I directed two enquirers for Buff Leghorns to a man in Revelstoke. He never acknowledged my courtesy, but this spring, I had two enquiries for Reds from Alberta, that I traced back to him. The strength of your superstructure is dependent upon the breadth and depth of your foundations. Society is so inter-related and interdependent that, while legitimate and keen competition is the life of trade, yet if the social fabric is to stand the stress and strain of a commercial crisis and years of "tight money," it is just as essential to carry the good will and co-operation of your competitors as that of the purchasing public.

3. Specialize.—How much could be written on this subject? In my judgment, after many years close contact with the poultry industry, I would unhesitatingly say that it is the fundamental basis of building up a successful poultry business. How long could a merchant hold his connection who ran a grocery this year and dry goods next? There are a few men like Shoemaker who can run a department store in poultry and cater to every want and whim of the public, but my observation has been that while a novice may go to a "every variety" breeder for a start, that the following year when he gets wise and wants better stock he patronizes a specialty breeder. Looking over the Canadian Poultry Review which I have taken for years, I see very few names now among the advertisers who were there then, but it is significant that every one who has made good has been a specialty man. It takes time, of course, but in time amid the flotsam and jetsam of poultry enthusiasts, there are certain names that stand out prominently whenever even a bred is mentioned. My ex-Ontario readers will recognize "Wyandotte Morton," "Minorca Marshall," "Buff Leghorn Cornwall," and "Brahma Partlo," while Becker gives one further and has specialized on "males" in Brown Leghorns.

It's a risky thing taking up a new breed. If it has real merit and strong specialty clubs and advertising behinds it, it may put you in on the ground floor, but I find for one who hits the ground floor on such a proposition there are 10 who hit the cellar. I could venture several successful breeders with a good business, who were caught in the Columbian Wyandotte boom, who worked hard and long to establish its claims, but who went down when the boom burst.

4. Advertise Judiciously.—It will be readily recognized that, where any business is not of a commercial character that the bulk of the orders must come through the mail. This necessitates steady and persistent advertising and this is just where the average beginner falls down. He expects large returns at once and when they don't come he quits and nails his coffin lid down tight. Consider for a moment the position of the would-be purchaser. He picks up a paper or a poultry journal, and sees a whole string of "ads" offering, say, White Leghorns. All the advertisers are unknown to him, but he has seen one of their ads constantly, always changed every month and offering its stock in attractive form. He may single it out in preference to the others and place an order. Maybe he sees so many, all making about the same superlative claims that he writes the lot, asking for further particulars. We get dozens of such letters and know our correspondent has probably written just the same to a dozen others. Now is your chance to interest him and show your tact and originality Some time ago I wrote an American breeder of large reputation and extensive business about some stock. When I read the reply I very quickly recognized one element at least in their business success. It was a two page reply which started off as follows:

"My dear Mr. Scott,—You don't know how much pleasure it gives me to tell you about my birds," and then followed a nice free and easy chat about their individual merits. Needless to say my correspondent was a lady, as no man could ever get off so much gush to a total stranger of the opposite sex, unless he belonged to the "pink tea" type I referred to last week. While I did not enthuse enough to send an order I certainly could appreciate the enthusiastic tone of her reply. Her business capacity was further evidenced by receiving her mating list this spring. She had noted my name on her enquiry list and followed up six months later. If some men I know would let their wives run the business part of the poultry for them, they would do considerably more business.

NEW DRESS FOR GIRL.

Girl's Russian dress consisting of a coat blouse and a plaited skirt joined to an underwaist. Brown woollen was used for this design, with collar of red broadcloth edged with soutache braid. Fancy buttons and a red belt and cuffs trimmed to match the collar complete the design. This dress will be most desirable for growing girls. It is simple and comfortable. The skirt is joined to an underwaist to be made of lining and overlaid with material at its upper part to simulate a yoke. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 4½ yards of 36-inch material for a 12 year size.

Each pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper. In some cases the illustration contains two patterns, each number representing a different pattern. In such cases 20c should be enclosed.

MINING ACTIVE IN GOLDEN CITY

Nest Egg in South Belt to Be Operated by New York Capitalists, Represented by Charles Dempster.

Rossland is looking forward this year to one of the most productive years in its history from a mining point of view, stated J. S. Deschamps, mayor of the Golden city, who was at the Strathcona last night.

In addition to the heavy operations of the big companies in the north belt it is expected that there will be considerable activity in the south belt, said Mayor Deschamps. Two properties in that district which are to be operated are the Richmond and the Nest Egg. Charles Dempster, acting for New York capitalists, will operate the latter property.

MONTREAL MARKET DEAD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, May 10.—Today's stock market has one distinction, that of being the dullest today of the year. The turnover of 1,700 mining shares, no bonds, and only 1,700 shares of stock cut the trading low for the day. C.P.R. sold at 241 for 100 shares, a decline of ⅝ from the last sale on Friday, but the bid price was back to unchanged, 241⅝, at the close. Brazilian, the tone being dull, was dealt in to the extent of only 75 shares, with the price 94¾, or ¼ lower than Friday's close. Textile showed no change on the day at 89 but the bid price was advanced ¼ from Friday to 89¾. Iron rose ¼ above the week's highest to 51 but was offered at 50¾ at the close, a slight recovery from the Friday market. The inactivity of Power for the day was a fair indication of the market's general condition of apathy, the bid price of 225¾ at the close showing no change. Quebec Railway at 17½ and Detroit at 75 maintained their best levels of the week. Tuckets, common, eased off a small fraction to 53¾. Penmans, preferred, was unchanged.

The stock mentioned in the foregoing comprised all in which dealings ran into a full lot or more. Dullness and firmness were accepted as inevitable and caused no surprise. Trading locally is lacking through restrictions imposed by tight money markets. London was closed over the holiday and New York continued to drift aimlessly. Outside influences were therefore negative.

MONEY EASY IN LONDON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, May 10.—Disbursements by the government have brought about easiness in money. Discounts were inclined to be weak but there is no demand for long dated bills owing to fears of stringency in the United States in the autumn. A stiffening in Berlin accounts has been ignored here. On Tuesday there will be available in the open market £840,000 South African gold, most of which is expected to go to the Bank of England.

BEAR ATTACK ON COALERS IS SUCCESSFUL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, May 10.—That the department of justice, as reported from Washington, is to institute further proceedings under the anti-trust law against certain of the coal-carrying roads made the stocks of the companies the target of speculative attack today. traders succeeding in hammering down the coal carriers to a materially lower level, the declines ranging from one to 4½ points. The effect of the sentiment of this movement was increased by continued liquidation of investment stocks, some of which touched the low point of several years. New York Central sold under 98. Low prices were made by nearly a dozen stocks. In the face of these influences, the prices in general held up fairly well. The trend was downward, but losses in most cases were insignificant. The foreign markets were closed, and the lack of London buying still further restricted activity here, buying being the lightest of many months.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,908. United States 4's registered advanced ¼, the 4's coupons ⅛ and the Panama 3's ¼ on call.

WHEAT PRICES STRONGER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, May 10.—There was an improved tone in the wheat markets and prices were decidedly stronger. The influencing factors were a better continental demand, stock cash demand at Minneapolis and the need of rains over the northwestern states, while unfavorable weather was reported in France. The Liverpool market was closed for the Whitsuntide holiday. Winnipeg opened unchanged to ⅛c higher and closed with a gain for the day of ⅝@⅞c. American markets opened unchanged to ½c higher and showed stronger during the greater part of the business hours. Minneapolis opened ⅝@⅞c higher and closed ⅞@1c higher. Chicago opened unchanged to ¼c higher and closed ½@c higher.

The cash demand in Winnipeg was not good and offerings were fair, while export business was inactive.

Oats and flax were both stronger. Oats closed unchanged to ⅛c up. Flax closed ⅝c higher on all trades.

GRAIN IN ELEVATORS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 11.—On May 2, according to statistics furnished by the department of trade and commerce, 13,402,921 bushels of wheat were in store at terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William and public elevators in the east, as compared with 16,967,870 bushels on May 3, 1912. Of all grains the amount in store was 28,084,307 as against 23,014,550 in 1912.

CUBAN SUCCUMBS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, May 11.—Stanislaus Zybisco won his handicap match at the Rideau rink tonight, defeating Alla Vincent in 16 minutes and then downing Caseaux in 26 minutes. He threw the Cuban with a double, following a full Nelson, while Caseaux succumbed to a body scissors. The wrestling was fast and exciting.

BRUCE WHITE TO GREAT SLAVE LAKE

Nelson Man Will Investigate Reported Discoveries of Silver-Lead in Fort Resolution District.

(Special to The Daily News.)

EDMONTON, Alta., May 11.—Bruce White of Nelson, B. C., a mine operator of wide experience and original locator of the Slocan Star mine at Sandon, B. C., is in Edmonton outfitting for a trip to Fort Resolution, on the south shore of Great Slave lake, where he will explore for silver and lead during the summer. Fort Resolution is 800 miles north of Edmonton and well within the Arctic circle.

Reports of enormous deposits of silver-lead in the vicinity of Fort Resolution, a post for the Hudson's Bay company and other fur traders, have drifted into Edmonton at various times during the last few years, but until this time the new field did not attract the attention of experienced operators. Samples of ore brought to Edmonton and assayed at several laboratories, including the testing department at the University of Alberta, show a high percentage of lead, with silver in commercial quantities.

The only obstacle to mining in the district now is the matter of transportation. The Canadian Northern Railway company has a line to Athabasca Landing, 96 miles from Edmonton, and the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia Railway company is building a line to the north Pacific coast by way of Grouard, at the head of Lesser Slave lake.

"My associates and myself are prepared to make a thorough exploration of Alberta's hinterland," Mr. White said, "and we shall make a determined effort to ascertain the extent of the mineral resources of the north country."

Mining men who are acquainted with Mr. White's operations say that if the ore exists in quality and quantity as frequently reported a new era will be opened in the development of a district that until the present time has been for a century the stamping ground of fur hunters and Indians, also that a definite statement from him as to the merit of the resources will be accepted in the mining world as an assurance that the field is worthy of extensive development.

Mr. White has ample means to carry on operations, in the event his quest is successful. He is a heavy stockholder in the Slocan Star mine, which has paid large sums in dividends and is still regarded as one of the most valuable silver-lead properties in the Dominion. He was also heavily interested in the Mollie Gibson mine, near Nelson, which property he managed up to the time it was acquired by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company.

Speaking of the silver-lead mining situation in Canada, Mr. White said that an entirely new face looms up by the likelihood that the United States government will reduce the duty upon lead and lead products, "and," he added, "we may look forward to very extensive development of the known lead resources in British Columbia as well as organized search for new mining fields throughout the coast provinces and Alberta."

Mr. White expects to leave Athabasca Landing for the north country at the opening of navigation. He will send his supplies in scows, probably travelling with them. He will be accompanied by an Indian pilot and helpers.

CROWS NEST COAL COMPANY OPERATIONS PROFITABLE

After a series of unsuccessful years the shareholders of the Crows Nest Pass Coal company were pleased to have reported to them at the annual meeting that the year 1912 was decidedly profitable, the annual statement showing net profits of $471,454, which, after deducting the debt balance brought forward from 1911, leaves a credit balance of $419,423. Net profits were at the rate of 7.58 per cent on the paid-up capital stock.

DISLOCATED ANKLE 5 MILES FROM HELP

Prospector Suffers Dangerous Accident on Forty-nine Creek—Crawls to Ranch After Two Days.

(Special to The Daily News.)

TAGHUM, May 11.—Vernon Record, a young prospector, who has been engaged in developing some mineral claims on Forty-nine creek, eight miles west of Nelson, was the victim of an accident about two weeks ago which might have resulted more seriously had it not been for his nerve and courage.

Mr. Record had gone up the hill back of his cabin and at the time of the mishap was dragging a log of wood down the trail. While thrusting a branch out of the way the log suddenly rolled against his left ankle in such a manner that it became badly dislocated, the foot turning bottom upward alongside his limb.

Suffering great pain, and there being no one within a mile or more, Mr. Record crawled to his cabin and was an entire day getting the joint back in place. So intense was the pain while attempting to reduce the dislocation that the sufferer fainted away several times.

After two days alone Mr. Record managed to crawl on his hands and knees to the Linblad ranch, about two miles distant, where a conveyance was secured and he was taken to the Laviolette ranch, and there he has been confined to his room since. He expects to be able to walk on crutches early this week. All swelling has subsided and he believes that the injury will not be permanent.

FOUND GOLD NUGGETS IN CHICKENS—STAKES CLAIM

CHATTAROY, Wash., May 11.—Gold has been found on the property of Dr. J. L. Smith. For months past Dr. Smith has been buying chickens of J. C. McClintic, who lives on the property, and there were always colors and sometimes quite large nuggets found in their craws.

A few days ago, while digging post holes McClintic found a flake of gold one-fourth inch in diameter.

W. R. Dwyer, who owns the adjoining property, refused $9000 for his place.

SCOTLAND'S OIL FIELD

In spite of the competition of American and Russian oil, the little Scotch oil field, in which the oil is obtained only after much labor from a poor shale, has managed to survive to the present day. The field is about six miles in width, and stretches from the Firth of Forth, near Dalmeny, Binshaw and Tarbrax. Until 1862 the oil was obtained from the boghead cannel coal, which yielded up to 120 gallons of crude oil per ton. At that time the supply of boghead gave out and since then a shale has been the only source of supply, and this yields but 40 gallons of oil per ton.

Until the importation of American illuminating oil into England, the price of oil was high—60 to 85 cents a gallon. But in 1864 it began to fall and soon reached a 25-cent or 30-cent level. And furthermore other petroleum products, lubricating oils, wax, etc., of which the Scotch distillers had had a monopoly, began to come in at ruinously low prices. In spite of all this, by consolidation, and labor-saving devices, and ingenious economizers of various sorts, the Scotch producers have managed to keep their heads above water and increase their output. In 1871 their total production of crude oil was about 25,000,000 gallons; while at the present time it averages somewhere in the neighborhood of 70,000,000 gallons.

It now looks as if the military authorities might take possession of the field, which is near the new naval base at Rosyth and keep it as a reserve, in case of war. The growth in the use of oil as a warship fuel might render even so small a supply as that from the Scotch shales a thing of vital importance to England, if the Russian and American fields were closed to her.

LONDON NO PLACE FOR BLONDES

Dr. Arthur Latham, a well known London physician, told the Smoke Abatement society the other day that the London atmosphere had a very pronounced darkening effect upon the complexion. He did not go so far as to say that it would change a pronounced blonde into a brunnette, but did declare that "fair people who came to London gradually became dark". He could not prove that the sooty air caused any increase in the death rate (although he believed such to be the case), but this matter of complexion alone should cause the ladies to lend a willing hand to the Smoke Abatement society. Another speaker said that if soot was deposited all over the county of London as thickly as it came down in the heart of the city, there would be a yearly rain of coal in the county amounting to some 72,000 tons—that is, enough to supply 36,500 families with two tons apiece.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

LABOR COMMISSION VISITS BOUNDARY

Will Be in Rossland Saturday and Trail Next Week—Comes to Nelson Later.

The provincial labor commission will hold a session at Phoenix tomorrow, and on Thursday will sit in Grand Forks. A meeting will be held at Rossland on Saturday and on Tuesday of next week the commission will take evidence at Trail. This will complete the present itinerary, which included points throughout the Okanagan and the Boundary. The commission is taking evidence on all matters affecting labor conditions in the province and the government will be guided very largely by its report in the passing of future legislation.

A session of this royal commission will be held in Nelson within a few months. All persons interested are invited to attend. The members are H. G. Parson, chairman; Messrs. McKelvie, Harper, Stoney and Jardine, F. R. McNamara being secretary.

GIVES HINTS ON ROSE GROWING

Local Man Tells How Best Results Can Be Secured—How to Plant.

Following are hints on successful rose culture by a local flower fancier:

To get the best results from roses they should be planted in the soil that is most suitable for them; that is, a soil of yellowish brown coloring, of good depth, and containing a fair quantity of clay soil. Roses never do well on light, gravelly soil, and heavy clayey soils want several years' good working before the best results can be obtained.

If the garden ground is not good steps should be taken to improve it before the roses are put in. The best way is to dig thoroughly several times in the fall, and then trench, so that as great a surface as possible is exposed to the elements, and then digging again in the spring will bring the soil into good condition for planting. New gardens with good soil require no manuring; light soils should have cow manure dug in at least 18 inches deep; heavier soils are best treated with ordinary straw stable manure.

Planting.

It is most important in planting that the holes should be dug large enough to take the roots when they are spread out. Cut off all bruised and broken ends with a sharp knife; the cuts will quickly heal and small fibrous roots form. Another most important point is to plant deeply enough. It is most necessary that the part of the plant where the rose proper joins the stock should be buried at least one or two inches, or this, the most vulnerable part, is liable to be damaged in severe weather. Roses like an open, sunny position, though a few climbers do fairly well in shady places.

Pruning.

If roses are grown for exhibition they should be pruned harder than if merely for garden decoration. Cut out all weak, sappy growth and any growing across the centre of the tree, and cut back the remaining shoots according to circumstances, the weakest, say to two or three buds, and the strongest to five or six. In newly planted roses all shoots should be cut back hard if a good plant is desired. Always cut back to a bud pointing outward so that resulting shoots do not grow across the centre of the tree. Commence the cut on the side of the shoot opposite the bud in an upward direction, the knife coming out just above the bud.

Newly planted climbing roses should be cut to within three or four buds of the base. These will eventually burst into vigorous growth and lay the foundation of a splendid plant. In subsequent years, however, they do not need this drastic treatment, but must be treated carefully, as the best and most flowers are produced by the one year old shoots. The way to keep a climbing rose in full vigor is to remove the growths that have already blossomed, and the best time to do this is soon after the flowers are over.

Roses are benefited by a mulching of manure after pruning; the manure should be dug in a few weeks later. Chicken manure should only be used after it has been placed in a heap in a shed and turned over every few days for three weeks, and then should be mixed with an equal quantity of soil.

A WANT AD HINT

If the householder with property to rent or sell only knew the value of the Wants he would let the Want columns care for his real estate right along. In the first place the commission is nil in comparison with that usually paid for such work, and, in the second place, the results are quicker, because the Want Ad agency reaches a greater number of people and reaches them daily, than any other medium.

If you have that house of yours for sale or rent and it has been idle a long time and thereby has been a drain on your resources, why not try a Want Ad just as an experiment?

Patronize The Daily News Want columns today and your house will be sold or rented in a very short time, maybe tomorrow.

NAME DIRECTORS FOR ROSE SHOW

Nelson Improvement Association and Women's Institute Members to Form Board.

On Saturday evening the committee of the Nelson Improvement association appointed to nominate the rose show directors met in the office of John Toye and the following were appointed: Mrs. H. Mackenzie, Mrs. F. Moore and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, representing the Women's Institute; Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Mrs. James Johnstone, M. R. McQuarrie, J. E. Annable, E. K. Beeston, William Shackleton, J. H. Wilkinson, W. J. Toye and William Stubbs of the Improvement association.

The president of the association wishes to remind the district representatives that at the meeting on Wednesday evening next a report of the condition of the various portions of the city after the Arbor day cleanup is expected from them.

NOT MUCH HUSTLE ABOUT EGYPTIANS

Newspaper Man From Land of Pharoahs Struck by Business Methods in This Country.

The marked contrast of the business methods of this country and that of the land of the Pharoahs is what has struck R. S. Milward, late of the editorial staff of the Egyptian Gazette," even more than the thermometer chart.

"The amount of hustle that is put into one minute's business is enough to last the average Egyptian a life time," he said at the Hume last night.

The Gazette is published in Alexandria. It is a six to eight page daily, and the only one published there in English. The type is all set by hand, chiefly by Italian compositors who do not understand a word of English, and even the press work is accomplished by man power, relays of natives being engaged to grind off the edition.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETINGS ARE ARRANGED

Following are dates of meetings of the Women's institute which are to be addressed by Mrs. E. Norman and Mrs. F. B. Atkinson, provincial government lecturers:

Greenwood—May 12.
Burton City—May 15.
Nakusp—May 16.
Kaslo—May 19.

It is hoped to start a branch at Robson, where a meeting may be held between May 12 and 15.

LETHBRIDGE MAN IS FERNIE CHIEF

Will Succeed Broughton Hale—Seduction Charge Will End in Matrimony on Pay Day.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FERNIE, May 11.—The police commissioners held a meeting in the council chamber of the city hall on Friday to consider the matter of appointing a new chief of police to succeed Chief J. Broughton Hall, whose resignation takes effect on the last day of this month. Their choice was J. C. Brown, who has been on the police staff of Lethbridge for the last four years. He was acting chief in that city for four months and considered that he was entitled to a permanent appointment. As the commissioners of that city did not engage him for the position he will enter the employ of Fernie and will take charge of the local force on June 1.

Mike Kusma of Hosmer, who was arrested on a charge of seduction some six weeks ago and later released on $600 bail, was before his honor Judge Thompson this morning. He was found guilty of the offense and was given until 2 o'clock this afternoon to make up his mind whether he would be married or spend a terms of years in prison. When the hour came he was on hand with the lady in question, they having decided to marry, but wished to postpone the wedding until after pay day, so that they could do it in proper style. His honor agreed and Kusma will be wed before May 31.

E. S. Corbett, accountant in the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been transferred to Kamloops and will leave as soon as his successor arrives.

CRANBROOK INSTITUTE HEARS LECTURE ON TUBERCULOSIS

(Special to the Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, B. C., May 11.—This enterprising city has a very live branch of the Women's institute, and despite the unfavorable weather, which after a morning of brilliant sunshine, turned to a heavy downpour of rain, nearly all the members were present at the meeting held on Friday afternoon. In consequence of the inclement condition of the weather it was decided that the lecturers, Mrs. Norman of Mirror Lake and Mrs. Atkinson of Nelson, should give both the demonstration of the canning of meats, vegetables and fruits and the lectures at the one meeting, as many in from the country would not be able to return after the afternoon session.

The president, Mrs. Leaman, made a few introductory remarks and introduced Mrs. Norman, who handled her subject in the usual masterly way. The greatest interest was evinced in her methods of canning, which have won such admiration and many prizes, and which are so simple and satisfactory.

Mrs. Atkinson, who has had long and wide experience with social conditions in England, spoke with convincing earnestness on tuberculosis, the nature of the disease, how it spreads, and steps in the prevention of it, showing how the mothers' and home-makers' duty and sphere is to endeavor to follow the simple rules of hygiene, to realize that the greatest destroyer of germ life is sunlight and pure air, that sanitation, ventilation and good drainage, burning of all refuse matter and absolute cleanliness must be carried through, and the destruction of the house fly be prosecuted to the utmost.

Mrs. Atkinson made an earnest appeal to all mothers to realize their high calling ad responsibility in giving to their country and empire an offspring pure, healthy and strong, to which end the Women's institute work had for its aim and object.

The kindness and consideration shown the lecturers was very great. Mr. Gill, whose wife is an active member of the Women's institute, planned an automobile ride for them and took them in his own car a spinning ride of 20 miles and more, showing this busy city at its best from the high ground around.

Mrs. Norman and Mrs. Atkinson returned to Nelson on Saturday and leave early on Monday morning for Greenwood and the Arrow lakes district.

WORK AT OTTAWA FOR THE LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY

For a number of years until a few months ago, the work of the live stock and health of animals branches of the department of agriculture at Ottawa was carried on under one head. The work embraced a very extensive field, involving an expenditure of a sum annually of considerably more than $250,000.

According to the annual report of the united branches for the year ending, March 31, 1912, just issued, three more or less distinct lines of effort are carried on. A well organized system is in operation to protect the live stock of the country from disease, not only guarding against its introduction from abroad, but by preventing the spread of infection already existing among Canadian herds and flocks. In this division regulations are enforced to deal with such diseases as hog cholera, tuberculosis, glanders, dourine, mange, anthrax, sheep scab and rabies, any of which uncontrolled might cause very serious losses to the farming industry.

The meat inspection division seeks by wise regulations, carried out by an extensive, well trained staff to prevent diseased or otherwise unwholesome meats from being sent from one province to another or out of the country. It also compels operators of food canning establishments to maintain their factories in a sanitary condition and to put up only sound goods. During the year reported it is shown that 6151 carcasses of cattle, 241 of sheep, and 2832 of hogs, as well as many portions of carcasses and 12,072 lbs. of poultry were condemned. The report names the diseases and conditions responsible for these losses.

The work of the live stock branch is shown to be of an entirely different character. In a number of ways efforts are made to throw light upon the paths of the stock raisers and to encourage the extension and improvement of the live stock industry. Reference is made to a comprehensive investigation of the market conditions affecting wool and mutton carried on by a commission. To improve the light horse stock of the country bonuses are paid to owners of thoroughbred stallions used for service. To assist dairy farmers in ascertaining where high producing breeding stock may be secured, a record of performance has been established for purebred dairy cattle. The report just issued shows that 861 cows entered for test for this record during the year.

In addition to the report of the veterinary director general and live stock commissioner, the volume which contains almost 500 pages including many illustrations, embodies 24 appendices including reports of officers and a number of publications that have appeared as separate works including report No. 4 of the record of performance, bulletin No. 15, of the live stock branch, the report of the third general convention of the National Live Stock association, the report of the National Record committee, and others. The selling price of this blue book is fixed at 40 cents, but provision has been made for supplying copies free to those who apply for them to the chief officer of the publications branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa.

BEARS TOO NUMEROUS

Prof. W. S. Franklin of Lehigh university, in Science, calls attention to conditions in the Yellowstone National park which he thinks should be remedied. One of them is a relatively minor matter and has to do more with the comfort of visitors than with their safety. The park bears, he says, have become an unmitigated nuisance (a criticism, by the way, made by many other travellers), and "nine-tenths of them should be killed off at once," if the park is to be continued as a show place for human visitors.

The most serious of his criticisms, however, has to do with a certain grotto at Mammoth Hot Springs, into which parties of tourists, 20 or 30 at a time, are taken. Within 100 yards of this grotto is an opening through which a gas carbon dioxide issues. It flows into a small depression, in which two or three dead birds are usually to be seen. This is the gas which fills old wells and often causes the death of persons entering them without first testing the air. If by any chance, says Professor Franklin, a crevice should open and this stream of gas be turned into the neighboring grotto, the next group of tourists would almost certainly go the way of the dead birds. His demand that the air of the grotto be tested every morning during the tourist season certainly deserves the attention of the park management.

COUNT ARTHUR LIVING

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.—Count Michael Cassin, a brother of Count Arthur Havlotch Cassin, who was Russian ambassador to the United States from 1898 to 1910, died in St. Petersburg on April 28. The death of Count Michael gave rise to rumors that Count Arthur had died but the former ambassador is now living in France and has not visited Russia for several years.

THE OIL BELT OF PAPUA

In his presidential address before the Australian Association for the Advancement of Science, Prof. T. W. E. David referred to Mr. Carne's discovery in Papua of an extensive belt of oil-bearing sandstones. The commercial possibilities of the discovery were, he thought, large. These oil-bearing strata appeared to be an extension of the great Burmese oil belt, which runs through Sumatra, Borneo, Java, Timor and New Guinea. For both scientific and commercial reasons, therefore, Papua presented a most inviting field for the explorer and prospector.

He will go to Kaslo to inspect the work on the Kaslo & Slocan line on Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian association will be held tonight in the association building at 8 o'clock. The president, Fred Irvine, will preside at the meeting and reports will be received from the chairmen of the various committees, the president of the board of directors, and the general secretary, and the financial statement from the auditor. The names of the eight directors nominated by the nominating committee will be voted upon. A special meeting of the directors has been called for 7:30 o'clock to consider the financial statement for the year.

Twelve Boy Scouts, accompanied by C. W. Busk and Thomas Brown, on Saturday morning crossed the lake in a launch, selected the location of the trail to Pulpit rock and the beginning of the trail to the summit of Mount Nelson which the boys have arranged to prepare. Wood for the bonfire which is to lighted on Empire day was secured and the party, which took lunch on Pulpit rock, returned to the city about 4 o'clock. A launch was supplied free of charge to the party by the Nelson Boat & Launch company which will also provide a launch on the next two Saturdays when the boys will complete the work. They appeared to enjoy the first outing thoroughly.

CHEERFUL NEWS

For Feeble Old People.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

A grand niece of Alexander Hamilton over eighty years of age once remarked: "Vinol is a god-send to old people. Thanks to Vinol, I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I have ever used."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble, old people, and create strength we will return your money. Rutherford Drug Company.

READS PAPER ON PANAMA CANAL

E. K. Beeston Foretells Benefit to This District of Opening of Great Waterway.

One of the most important contributions to the deliberations of the University club was the address of E. K. Beeston, secretary of the board of trade, on Saturday evening. The subject of the address was the probable influence of the opening of the Panama route upon the great west of Canada. That a great influence was bound to be felt was to be inferred from the vast preparations being made by all the great coast cities of the east, west and south. Shipyards, ships, drydocks, wharves, coaling stations all form part of a dozen great improvement plans, he said.

Tolls are live national and international questions. Railway rates are being subjected to keen revision. Railways are being straightened, double-tracked, grades cut down, and all made ready to meet the competition of water carriage. The distances by water from Vancouver to Halifax will be double that by rail, but rail freight costs 10 times as much as water freight.

Consequently, the farmers, miners, lumbermen, merchants and manufacturers of western Canada would have to decide between the eastern and the western routes. Some place there would be a dividing line, a sort of watershed, draining Canadian inland trade to the Pacific coast on this side, to the Atlantic coast on the east. Calgary believed the line would lie to the east and was making huge efforts to become established as the western gateway to the wheat section, as Winnipeg was the eastern gateway.

The full effects of the new route would not be felt at once, for much remained to be done to secure its full advantages. Two geographical facts would tend to give Kootenay, and especially west Kootenay, a great importance under the new conditions. One was the better rail route through the Crow as compared with that of the main line. The other was the presumptive navigability of the Columbia river after certain necessary improvements, mainly in the state of Washington. In that day Robson would be a sea port, a rail terminus, 636 miles from Portland.

Loyalty would surrender to commercial advantage and deny its own treason, and our products will be exported through an American port. Yet it was not thought that the ports of New Westminster, Vancouver and Prince Rupert would suffer, said Mr. Beeston, so immense would be the volume of trade.

The western portion of this fertile belt would annually produce 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels of grain; mining would grow with the advent of lower freight rates for the ores; lumber mills would increase their cut; improved methods of cold storage would make the route available for the prairie beef and the fruit crop of this province.

Production and manufacture would gravitate to this corner of the Dominion. Immigration would be attracted. Farm values would rise. Towns would grow into cities. Tourist trade would increase, and Kootenay from being one of the most beautiful and charming sections of the Dominion would go on to become one of the richest and most important corners of the empire.

CANADIAN PACIFIC WILL LEASE LINE

Application to Be Made by Kettle Valley and Shaughnessy Companies.

Notice that on June 9 application will be made to the board of railway commissioners on behalf of the Kettle Valley Railway company and the Canadian Pacific Railway company for a recommendation to the governor-in-council for the sanction of a lease of the former company's lines to the Shaughnessy company has been issued by E. W. Beatty, solicitor for the two companies.

ST. BONIFACE BY-ELECTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, May 11.—Nominations for the provincial constituency of St. Boniface have been fixed for May 21 with the election on May 28. The by-election has been necessitated by the elevation of the present member, Hon. Joseph Bernier, to the cabinet as provincial secretary.

SUPPORT PROPOSAL TO FORM Y. W. C. A.

Provisional Committee of Nineteen Decided Upon to Make Preliminary Arrangements.

"A fitting climax to Mother's day," which was yesterday celebrated in the churches of the city, was the way in which Rev. A. E. Smith characterized the well attended mass meeting of citizens last evening in Trinity Methodist church, at which further steps toward the establishment of a Y.W.C.A. in the city were taken. The following resolution, moved by J. E. Annable, and seconded by J. W. Holmes, was unanimously passed:

"That the meeting of citizens of Nelson believes that a Y.W.C.A should be established in the city, and that we do hereby endorse the steps thus far taken by the board of the Young Women's club and other ladies of the city at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday afternoon last."

A provisional committee of 19 members were also agreed upon to carry forward the work in connection with the establishment of the institution the committee to consist of the board of the Young Women's club, together with the conveners and secretary of the finance and house committees, already appointed, and two men from each church in the city to be appointed by the pastors.

Rev. A. E. Smith opened the meeting with a review of the objects and need of the proposed institution. Financial aid had been promised from outside the city, he said, and the object of the meeting was to discuss the matter further, and by thus taking the matter in hand to further advance the proposition.

Mrs. E. S. Logie, president of the Young Women's club, said that the Young Women's club had financed itself, and had been conducted without a paid secretary since September last. She thought that great work could be done by the proposed institution in Nelson, and that now was the time to organize it. A paid secretary should be obtained, she said, and probably one could be secured who would act a the dual capacity of secretary and housekeeper. She reviewed what was done on Tuesday last at the meeting in the Y.M.C.A., and stated that the women did not wish to enter into the proposition without the co-operation and advice of the men.

Before the meeting closed Mrs. Logie stated that the women and others interested did not wish the impression to get abroad that large subscriptions would be asked locally. She stated that small donations of about $1 would be asked to provide for the furnishing of the institution. She thought that the house which might be secured could be comfortably furnished by the local subscription.

Mrs. W. O. Rose acted as secretary of last evening's meeting, and the following occupied the platform: Mrs. E. S. Logie, Rev. A. E. Smith, Rev. C. W. King and Rev. E. S. Logie.
