ZINC PLANT MAY COME TO NELSON

W. McA. Johnson and Other Experts Leave New York

SUSPEND PLANS IN UNITED STATES

Description Given of Electric Smelting Method by Inventor.

W. McA. Johnson of New York, inventor of an electric process for the smelting of complex zinc ores which W. R. Ingalls, the zinc treatment authority, declares has reached such a stage in advance of the work of the Dominion government at the Fairview smelter that it is advisable to await his further results, will arrive in Nelson on Sunday night, accompanied by other prominent men in the zinc smelting world, with a view to looking into the question of locating a plant here.

A wire to this effect was received yesterday by J. E. Annable, president of the board of trade, in response to an invitation sent on behalf of the board. The telegram is signed by Byron E. Eldred, president of Johnson Electric Smelting, Incorporated, and states:

"Invitation accepted with thanks. Leaving here Wednesday. Scheduled to arrive Nelson Sunday evening with Mr. Johnson, Dr. Struthers, Dr. and Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Eldred. We wish to avoid delay and have temporarily suspended plans for United States plant which was practically completed before Dr. Barlow suggested Nelson as a possible location. Will come prepared to lay matters fully before you for quick and final action, trusting that an equitable and mutually advantageous situation may be evolved."

Dr. A. E. Barlow, formerly of the Dominion geological survey, is a lecturer in the mining department of McGill university, who has had much to do with the zinc question. Dr. Struthers is a mining man of prominence in New York. He is one of the best known members of the American Mining institute.

Describes Process

In a paper read before the Canadian Mining institute at its annual meeting this year, Woolsey McAlpine Johnson of Hartford, Conn., described his process for the reduction of complex zinciferous copper and lead ores in the "Johnson continuous electric zinc furnace." In his paper Mr. Johnson said:

"Scientifically, the underlying chemical principles of the process are correctly grouped and related, and I am happy to say that, after many years of earnest study and experiment, the process is now a technical success. This fact is attested not only by those who have been concerned with the development of the work to its present state of efficiency, but also by the judgment of many high-class engineers and metallurgists who have seen the furnaces in operation and have studied the process in all of its details.

"As a result of ten years of specialized study and experiment I have finally devised a combination of chemical reactions heretofore never grouped together in one operation, whereby complex zinciferous copper-lead ores of high metallic values, containing also silver and gold, can be economically smelted. On account of the high zinc content, an ore of this kind, with rare exceptions, cannot be profitably treated by any other chemical or metallurgical process in use today; and I therefore claim that I have established a new art in the metallurgical field.

Outlines Method

"The process as applied to zinciferous copper-lead ores, is briefly as follows:

"1. Rough roasting, to expel a large part of the sulphur until it does not exceed (say) from 5 per cent to 6 per cent. This roasting is an ordinary operation and can be done in general practice at a cost of less than $1 per ton. If the original ore or concentrate is high enough in sulphur, it can be roasted by sulphuric acid manufacturers at little or no charge to the metallurgist, and the cost of this preliminary treatment would then be reduced to that of freight and handling only.

"2. Preheating and pre-reducing the ore with admixture of soft coal, so as to reduce much of the iron oxide to metallic iron (spongy or pyrophoric iron) which is necessary in the subsequent treatment in the electric furnace. More than half of the heat required for the chemical reactions is supplied very cheaply in this preheater.

"3. Final reduction to metals in the continuous zinc furnace to decompose the sulphides of zinc and lead, forming (a) metallic zinc, which is volatilized and collected in the condenser, (b) copper-matte and (c) lead-bullion, which are collected in the bottom of the furnace and (d) molten slag which floats on the top of the matte in the most important step in the process.

Johnson Electric Furnace

The present Johnson continuous electric zinc furnace, as installed at Hartford, has an exterior form of a cube about 5 ft. on the edge, resting on a heavy iron plate supported by four piers. The bricks of the furnace

BLAME INDUSTRIAL WORKERS FOR FIRE

Revelstoke Railway Contractors Lose Ten Thousand When Camp is Totally Destroyed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REVELSTOKE, B.C., April 29.—Bruce & McQuire, Canadian Pacific railway subcontractors, who are working on double tracking operations west of here, are inclined to blame the Industrial Workers of the World for the firing of the camps last week-end.

Their camps, which are 20 miles west of Revelstoke, were set on fire and totally destroyed. It is stated that the contractors recently had some little trouble with the members of the Industrial Workers of the World organization, and it is believed that the fire was started in revenge. The loss was about $5000 in actual property, with probably as much more in delay and inconvenience.

KETTLE VALLEY LINE OPEN EARLY

Canadian Pacific to Run Trains Beginning of Next Year—Hope Cut-Off Later.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 29.—"I think that Mackenzie & Mann are to be congratulated on their choice of partners," said Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, today.

The remark of the biggest railway man in Canada was brought out in response to an inquiry if he had seen the announcement that the Dominion government had agreed on terms by which the Canadian magnates were to get a bond guarantee of $45,000,000.

He said the Canadian Pacific railway would be operating trains on the Kettle Valley line, which will afford a short cut to Kootenay-Boundary, the Okanagan and Hope, by the middle of next year, and that it was expected that a service would be started by way of the Nicola valley branch and Spence's Bridge early in 1915 to be utilized until the Hope mountain cut-off is finished.

With reference to further double-tracking on the British Columbia division the president said the company would postpone additional work along that line until the Kettle Valley branch was finished.

The sections which are being paralleled east and west of Kamloops and west of Revelstoke are now nearing completion and are expected to be ready for the heavy mid-summer traffic.

"Is the Canadian Pacific railway contemplating the electrification of other sections of its line in addition to the Rogers Pass tunnel and the Rossland-Castlegar branch," Sir Thomas was asked.

"We will probably electrify a few miles each side of the big tunnel, but have not decided on any definite policy with regard to other sections," he said.

CALL CAUCUS ON BOND GUARANTEE

Liberals Will Decide Today on Action to be Taken on Canadian Northern Bill

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, April 29.—It is not likely that the debate on the government's Canadian Northern railway aid proposals will commence until next week. Forty-eight hours' notice of consideration of such a resolution is required.

The Liberal caucus to determine the attitude of the party has been called for Thursday morning. Much depends upon the decision of the opposition. A determination to fight the proposals would probably mean that the house will not rise until June. So far as can be learned, a large number of opposition members are in favor of a fight, but whether the caucus will be unanimous on that point remains to be seen. At any rate there is certain to be considerable discussion of the details of the proposals and many days will elapse before they are disposed of.

It seems to be practically settled that the bill to amend the Railway act will not be proceeded with this session. There is also an unconfirmed report that the redistribution bill which is still the subject of considerable disagreement in the special committee appointed to fix the boundaries of the constituencies, may be left over.

FORMER GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA SERIOUSLY ILL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, April 29.—John Douglas Sutherland Campbell, Duke of Argyll, is suffering from double pneumonia and his condition is said to be serious. He was taken ill a week ago at Kent house, East Cowes.

The Duke of Argyll was governor-general of Canada between 1878 and 1883. Since 1892 he has been governor and constable of Windsor castle.

VISIT NEW RAILWAY HOTEL.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

CALGARY, Alta., April 29 — Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Vice President George Bury of the Canadian Pacific railway, visited the Palliser hotel which the company will open for business June 5 and formally open on June 18. The new hotel represents an outlay of $2,000,000 and is one of the finest establishments of the kind in the west.

STARVING, BUT CONTINUE STRIKE

(Western Associated Press Special Cable)

LONDON, April 29. — The building trade employes have rejected the terms of settlement offered by the masters by a vote of 23,000 to 2,000. The strike will therefore continue, though 20,000 people, mainly noncombatants, have been long on the verge of starvation.

ALL ASIATICS ARE NOW BARRED

Chinese Cannot Enter by Paying Head Tax

WILL KEEP OUT HINDU HORDE

Tourists, Students, Merchants only Classes Allowed to Land.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 29.—Asiatics of all races will be barred from entry into Canada under an interpretation of order-in-council 897, details of which were made public today to representatives of trans-Pacific lines by Malcolm R. J. Reid, superintendent of immigration.

The new interpretation has made the order-in-council applicable to Chinese, Japanese and Hindus and will become effective on May 31.

The entry of laborers, skilled and unskilled, as artisans into British Columbia was prohibited for a period of six months. At the expiration of that time the order was extended for another six months, or until September 30. This order keeps out all labor under the head named, both white and yellow, but there was some misapprehension as to how it would affect Chinese who were prepared to pay the head tax of $500.

Under the ruling received today, Chinese will not be allowed in at all except certain classes, such as tourists, students or merchants. The possession of $500 for the head tax will avail them not at all, and the bars will be as rigidly enforced against Chinese, Japanese and Hindus as against white labor. The Hindus are already almost barred under orders-in-council, which call for a direct route and the possession of $250.

The new ruling will strengthen these orders-in-council and a shipload of Hindus coming on a chartered vessel direct from Indian and each having the money qualification will be kept out of the country as classes of labor prohibited. Notice was today served upon the Canadian Pacific railway and the Blue Funnel line, which handle all the oriental trade here.

THREE BRIGADES FIGHT BLAZE AT BATHHURST

Loss Approaches Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars—Bucket Brigades Risk Lives.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BATHHURST, N. B., April 29.—After destroying nine business buildings and 19 houses the fire, which broke out yesterday on St. George street, was still smouldering today, though its progress had been arrested after damage estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000 had been done. So rapidly did the blaze spread that at one time it was thought the whole business section of the city would be consumed.

With the arrival of engines from Newcastle and Campbellton by special trains an enormous quantity of water was thrown on the flames. Volunteer bucket brigades were formed and willingly risked their lives in saving goods. Most of the buildings were completely destroyed.

MADE SIX THOUSAND ON SALE OF POSTOFFICE SITE

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, April 29.—The public accounts committee today inquired into the purchase by the public works department in 1912 of a site for a postoffice at Fort Francis, Ont. It appeared from the evidence that an option on a property was secured for $10,000 by a young man named Anderson, a clerk in the office of A. D. George, county crown attorney, for whom he was mainly acting.

A few days later it was sold to the government for $16,000. The government had no knowledge of the option and in making the purchase acted on the certificates of its architect at Winnipeg that $16,000 was a fair and just price.

CANADIAN JUDGE HEARS DEBATE ON ULSTER

TO RETAIN DUTY ON POTATOES

Hon. Martin Burrell Speaks for Protection of Canadian Farmer—Why Menace Was Barred.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, April 29.—The commons spent practically the entire day talking about potatoes. The discussion was commenced on Tuesday night when the tariff resolutions were taken up by W. S. Loggie, Liberal M.P. for Northumberland, N.B.

He moved just before the house rose for the abolition of the Canadian duty on potatoes and for the free admission of American potatoes after the United States had abolished the present embargo. Under the new Wilson tariff the United States government reduced the duty on potatoes from 25 to 10 per cent and made provisions for the free admission of Canadian potatoes when the duty on this side of the line was reduced.

The principal speech in support of the Loggie motion made today was by F. B. Carvell, Carleton, N.B. He maintained that the free entry of the Canadian article into the United States would mean an immense increase in the production of potatoes in his native province. He urged the minister of agriculture to do everything possible to bring about the removal of the American embargo.

The proposal was opposed by both Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, and Hon. Martin Burrell.

Mr. Burrell thought the proposal of Mr. Loggie an extraordinary one. He considered it a declaration that the United States was insincere when it placed the embargo on Canadian potatoes. On behalf of himself and the government he objected to the proposal to take off the duty of 20 per cent on an article produced so largely in Canada. The 10 per cent duty which had to be paid on potatoes entering the United States amounted to only 5 cents per bushel and it would be better for Canadian exporters to pay this and keep their own protective duties intact.

Mr. White said the resolution, if adopted, would permit the importation free of potatoes from the British empire and from favored nations. Mr. White claimed that the embargo was really put on to prevent Canadian potatoes from entering the American market. If the amendment was adopted the chief result would be that the embargo would be made perpetual through the influence of Maine and New England farmers There was a lively tilt between Mr. Carvell and Mr. White over the home market, in which Mr. Carvell described Mr. White's claims in regard to it as "nonsense" as far as potatoes were concerned.

Mr. White retorted that if he would visit Ontario or Quebec he would find the home market was not nonsense. It was the appreciation by the Ontario farmer of the home market that defeated reciprocity.

"The election was won on money and ne temere decree," retorted Mr. Carvell.

Mr. White said he did not propose to bandy words, but he would like to point out that Sir Wilfrid Laurier came out for a moment for free food, but backed up on account of the fact that Liberals representing rural constituencies were opposed to it.

Mr. Loggie's motion was rejected on a vote of 60 to 33.

Menace Immoral, Indecent.

A further statement in regard to the exclusion of the Menace from the Canadian mails was made by the postmaster-general at the opening of the house this afternoon in reply to a question from Edmund Proulx of Prescott. Mr. Proulx asked if the postmaster-general had received a copy of a resolution passed by the Montreal county lodge of the Loyal Orange association, protesting against the exclusion of the Menace.

In reply Mr. Pelletier read a letter which he had written to the Montreal lodge. In it he reviewed the reasons given by the deputy postmaster-general in a memorandum already published for the exclusion from the mails of the American issue of the Menace. The reason given was that the Menace published "immoral, indecent and scurrilous things."

Canadian Paper Admitted.

"As to the Canadian Menace," proceeded the postmaster-general's letter, "the proprietor was told that the same rule would apply. The publishers came out with a leading article in large type acknowledging that we were right and undertaking not to pub-

FEARFUL STORMS SWEEP LAKES

Steamer and Crew Sink in Gale off Duluth

LIFE SAVERS COULD NOT VENTURE OUT

Many Boats Are Long Overdue--Entry Lights Out--No Fog Signal.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

DULUTH, Minn., April 29.—The steamer Benjamin Noble is lost off Duluth and 19 men are dead. Wreckage was found on Park point. Life savers are unable to launch a boat because of the high seas. Not a man reached shore so far as is known.

With the finding of the pilot house of the lake freighter Benjamin Noble life savers abandoned hope that the boat was still afloat or that any of the 19 men known to have been aboard were saved. Captains of vessels reaching this port since the storm, which raged from late Monday until noon today, confirm the theory that the Noble was wrecked early Tuesday morning instead of Wednesday night. The list of dead or missing includes:

Capt. John E. Iznahardt, aged 31 years, Milwaukee.

First Mate George R. Longlary, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Chief Engineer A. C. Edgar, Fort Clinton, Ohio.

Steward John Coleman, Oswego, N. Y.

Fireman Otto Guntch, Toledo, Ohio.

Fireman William Goulett, Toledo, Ohio.

The other members of the crew probably never will be identified. It was reported here today on good authority that Irwin Francombe, youngest son of the owner of the Noble, was aboard.

The Noble was valued at $145,000 and insured for $120,000.

Her cargo consisted of 2,900 tons of steel rails for Duluth. She left Detroit on Wednesday morning and passed through the Soo locks on Sunday. The Noble was of 1,481 gross tons, 239 feet long and 42 feet beam, of steel construction.

Capt. Frank Goodrow of the lumber steamer Norwalk, which arrived here this afternoon, was in sight of the Noble from early Sunday until Monday afternoon. The Norwalk reached Duluth at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, just before the storm reached its height, and the Noble should have reported in about an hour later.

Foundered in Deep Water.

A patrolman of the Duluth police force found two hatch covers on the beach which have been identified as belonging to the Noble. They were near the spot where life savers later found a number of oars, hatch covers, rafts and the pilot house. The general belief is that the Noble missed the Duluth entrance and struck the point and foundered in deep water.

In addition to the high seas last night there was a heavy snow and the Duluth entry light was out. Up to this evening no bodies had come ashore. The fog signal was not in operation either.

The steamer Minneapolis nearly was wrecked early this morning at the same place while trying to find the entry. The first attempt brought her almost on to the beach, half a mile from the canal. In turning to go in to the lake, the boat nearly foundered and lost a large cargo of lumber on her deck.

Other Boats Missing.

Four other boats, the W. H. Truesdale, Willis King, F. Heffelinger and Sheldon Parks, are long overdue and have not been heard from up to a late hour tonight.

The D. Z. Norton, for which fears were expressed, docked at the Great Northern ore pier tonight after a heavy passage. The storm abated enough early this afternoon to permit life savers to resume their work, but up to a late hour tonight no bodies have been discovered.

Meet Terrific Gales.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 29.—Only two steamers arrived at the Soo downbound during the last 24 hours. The Glenmount reported the gale terrific coming down Lake Superior.

Snow and rain made it impossible to see anything and the northeast wind lashed the waters into a fury which threatened the craft.

Nothing has been heard from the steamer Buffalo or the wrecking party which left for it this morning, although there is no apprehension as to their safety. During favorable weather it was figured the steamer could have been released by noon, but so terrible has been the gale, with blinding snow and rain, that the work of lightering her could not be carried on.

TOLL REPEAL BILL REPORTED

Simmons Amendment Declaring Waives no Sovereign Right Only Change in Committee.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, April 29. — The house bill to repeal toll exemption for American ships passing through the Panama canal, with the amendment proposed by Senator Simmons, declaring that by repealing exemption the United States waived no sovereign rights of the canal was reported to the senate today without recommendation by the committee on interoceanic canals.

The vote on the motion to report the Simmons amendment was made by Senator Thomas and was carried 8 to 6. A motion by Senator Bristow to report the house bill adversely was lost 8 to 5.

COMPROMISE ON HOME RULE LIKELY

Leaders of Both Parties Make Conciliatory Speeches in Commons—Asks Canada for Funds.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, April 29.—A compromise on the question of home rule for Ireland seemed today nearer than ever before. There exists a strong belief in parliamentary circles that the conferences would shortly be resumed.

The commons discussed the Ulster crisis again today when it wound up the two days' debate on Austen Chamberlain's motion for a judicial inquiry into the government's "plot" to crush the Ulster covenanters. The motion, which was virtually a vote of censure on the cabinet, was eventually rejected by a party vote of 344 against 264.

An atmosphere of great solemnity and restraint overhung the house throughout the debate. The growing belief that civil war in Ireland is a reality which cannot be escaped if the Irish home rule bill becomes law as it at present stands seems to have influenced members on both sides of the house as it has the newspapers supporting both parties. During the past week the press of both opinions has become more conciliatory in tone than it has been at any previous stage of the discussion.

Carson Makes Proposition.

Sir Edward Carson today accepted the overtures made yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who had invited Sir Edward Carson to make an attempt to compromise the home rule question on a federal basis. Sir Edward reiterated his detestation of home rule and repeated his offer that if Ulster were excluded from the bill "until this parliament shall determine otherwise,"

THINK PRINTING COSTS TOO MUCH

Senators Declare Dominion's Annual Bill of Five Million Might Be Pruned.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, April 29.—In the senate Senator Power called attention to the publication and distribution of government books, reports and documents. Last year, he said, stationery and printing cost the immense sum of almost $5,000,000 and it was a question whether the country got value for that expenditure. It was desirable that the statutes should be issued as soon as possible after each session, when the law, as a rule, became effective, but as a rule the book of statutes was not issued for four months after each session. The laws were in effect, but the public could not learn what they were.

Senator Dandurand suggested that money could be saved in printing and distribution if bluebooks were not distributed until senators, members and other persons in the list applied for them.

Senator Davies favored pruning the printing cost and showing more discrimination in distribution.

Senator Lougheed said he would direct the attention of the secretary of state to the matter. The appearance of the statutes had always been notoriously delayed. He could see no reason why the more important statutes should not appear in the Gazette soon after they had been sanctioned. Parliament was largely responsible for the great mass of printing. It would be well if a joint committee considered the question of further limitation.

Sir William Mackenzie-Bowell said he agreed with Senator Dandurand's plan of distribution on application. An investigation in the United States resulted in $1,000,000 a year being saved on printing.

MEXICO CITY, April 29.—The port of Manzanillo, on the west coast, was bombarded yesterday by an American warship, according to a telegram received today by Gen. Blanquet, Mexican minister of war, from Gen. Jose Mier. According to Gen. Mier's message the warship entered Manzanillo harbor at 4 p.m. on April 28.

At 4:30 the telegraphers left their posts, carrying their instruments with them, and at 5 o'clock the bombardment began. The telegram says that the wharves and adjoining buildings were destroyed by shell fire.

Make Peace Efforts General

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The scope of the mediation plans for the settlement of the Mexican crisis was suddenly broadened tonight so as to include the entire range of Mexican affairs—not alone the critical issue between the United States and the Huerta regime, but also the conflict between the elements of northern and southern Mexico which have rent the republic for many months.

This significant agreement in the mediation program followed the receipt late today of a formal acceptance by Gen. Carranza, chief of the constitutionalist forces, of the principle of mediation, as proposed by the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Argentine and Chile.

Earlier in the day the mediators made another decisive move in asking the United States and Gen. Huerta to agree to an armistice by which all aggressive movements would be suspended pending the outcome of the negotiations. The mediators confidently expect both sides to accept the armistice proposal. A separate proposal for an armistice as between Huerta and Carranza will also be made and with its acceptance all the warring elements throughout Mexico, as well as the American forces, would maintain a military status quo.

May Not Raise Huerta Question

The American government tonight had not made formal reply to the first proposal of the intermediaries for an armistice but it is understood one will be made within the next 24 hours. In formulating an agreement to suspend hostilities, the American government, however, will stipulate that Americans in interior points of Mexico are to be afforded every protection.

It is suggested in some quarters that the question of the elimination of Huerta need not be raised by the United States in any of its proposals, regarding it as a question between the Huerta and Carranza elements.

To Close Foul Prison.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

VERA CRUZ, April 29.—The fortress of San Juan de Uloa, notorious for centuries as perhaps the foulest prison on the American continent, has been ordered by Rear-Admiral Fletcher to be completely vacated immediately.

When the American sailors and marines occupied Vera Cruz there were in this prison, which is constructed in the form of a little island in the harbor, 400 prisoners, most of whom were confined for political offences. Three hundred of these men already have been released or transferred to other prisons, but there remain 116 and these are to be sent elsewhere.

Rear-Admiral Fletcher's decision to remove all prisoners from the fortress was reported after an inspection had been made by Commander H. O. Stickney, inspector of the port.

Instruments of Torture Found.

The inspection by the American authorities verified the tales that have been written and told for generations of the terrible conditions prevailing there. Many dungeons were below the water line when the tide was running in, at which time the inmates, many of whom were half blind on account of their long incarceration in semi-darkness, were drenched. Other dungeons were so constructed that it was impossible for the victims to lie

BOSWELL RANCHERS ASK FOR MARKET DAY BOAT

Social Club Brings Successful Season to End With Dance—Church Council Members Named.

(Special to The Daily News

BOSWELL, B. C., April 29.—On Sunday afternoon was the monthly meeting of the Boswell-Kootenay Lake union, which was well attended. A resolution was passed requesting the Canadian Pacific railway lake and river service superintendent, Capt. J. C. Gore, to arrange a market day service once a week between Boswell and Nelson, to make the trip and return during the day. This would prove of considerable advantage to local ranchers, who would visit Nelson frequently could they make the return trip in a day, it was said.

Roland Ellis left on a visit to Nelson on Monday evening.

On Friday, April 17, a dance was held in the schoolhouse, Mrs. J. J. Malone, Miss Edna Malone and Mrs. Spruce being the guests of the evening. J. H. Smith carried out the duties of master of ceremonies for the evening.

On Sunday, April 19, Rev. J. S. Mahood conducted morning and evening services in Boswell. At the close of the evening service a meeting of the congregation was held, with Rev. J. S. Mahood in the chair. K. Wallace and B. W. Smith were re-elected as members of the church council and C. S. Bourne was elected in the place of Mrs. A. Kennedy, who has resigned. It was decided to alter the seating arrangements to be more convenient, and to continue the evening services, which were discontinued during the winter months.

On Monday morning Mr. Mahood paid a visit to Cloverdale and christened the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tangye.

B. W. Smith returned from Proctor, where he had spent the week-end, on Monday morning.

Mrs. Spruce, Mrs. J. J. Malone and Miss Edna Malone, who have been the guests of Roland Ellis over Easter, left for Nelson on Sunday evening.

On Tuesday last the Canadian Pacific natural resources representative, T. Heeney, together with S. A. Browage and Ald. James Johnstone of Nelson, inspected several orchards in the district.

NAKUSP TO HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHT

New Settlers Arrive—School Attendance Large—Road Work to Begin—Extend Telephones

(Special to The Daily News.)

NAKUSP, B. C., April 29.—An electric light engine has arrived to supply the town with electricity for the first time. George Jordan is the owner and it is expected that a service will be installed within a month or so.

A severe storm swept over the bay here Monday, doing considerable damage to the telephone lines and cutting off communication with down river points. Boat houses were damaged and blown away from their moorings but the wind subsided late in the afternoon. Even the well built Canadian Pacific railway wharf was torn from its anchorage and was partially afloat.

Several new families have arrived in town to settle permanently during the past few days. They are Mr. and Mrs. Croft, Mr. and Mrs. Raisbech of Arrow Park, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson from England and others. Mr. Croft has taken over the Columbia house and will conduct a private boarding house. Mr. Raisbach is in charge of the Canadian Dominion company's office on Bay street and Mr. Robertson has purchased land at Fosthall.

There are now 86 children actually attending the Nakusp town school, an increase of one over last month. It is most likely that an additional teacher and a third room will be required with the beginning of next term. At Glenbank, at the outskirts of the town, there are 42 in attendance.

Satisfactory progress is being made with the instruction of children for a Maypole performance on May 1. Mrs. Bulger has charge of the entertainment and it will be the first of its kind held in the town.

The Dominion government launch Marion has been sent by rail to Kootenay lake, where it will be used by the resident engineer, J. P. Forde.

A meeting of the Conservative executive was held in the exchange rooms on Saturday night, when matters of importance were discussed and acted upon. There was a good attendance.

It is expected that road work will be started by the provincial government within a few days. Superintendent McLean of New Denver visited the town and proceeded to Edgewood, returning here on Wednesday when some announcement will be made. Assessor Brown of Revelstoke also passed through the town on his return from Nelson.

The Women's institute is holding an afternoon and evening sewing school at the exchange rooms during the coming fortnight. Madame Grohe is the instructress, appointed by the provincial government. A class of 12 is held at a time.

Mrs. F. W. Jordan, accompanied by Miss Jordan, returned to her home at Edgewood on Saturday.

L. J. Edwards, agent for the Canadian Pacific railway here, has returned from his trip to the old country, which occupied two months.

Mr. Rothwell, inspector of fire insurance boards, from Vancouver, paid a business visit to town proceeding to Nelson.

It is likely that telephonic communication will be installed between Robson and Deer Park, on the lower lake, during the coming summer. Estimates are being prepared, the result of which should be known at an early date. The Nakusp-Edgewood line will be thoroughly overhauled within the next few weeks, the appropriation having already been made.

It is said that a large new departmental store will be erected by the Nakusp Trading company on Slocan avenue shortly. It will be the largest building of its kind in the town.

Spraying season is about over, the orchards looking nice and fresh. The season is at least three weeks in advance of any during recent years.

President Heathcote of the board of trade has issued a circular letter to the members urging them to take an interest in the town's welfare by getting together for the public good. The council meeting will be held on Tuesday and the regular board meeting on May 12. A clean-up day is spoken of.

P. A. O'Farrell, the well known writer and admirer of Kootenay scenery, went south on Saturday, returning here on Tuesday.

PROCTOR, B. C., April 29.—The secretary of the Proctor and District Conservative association has heard from R. F. At a meeting of the directors of the Proctor and District Farmers' institute last evening at the residence of S. S. Fraser, the president, who was in the chair, two alterations in the existing rules proposed by the government were discussed. The first suggests that the annual meeting of all farmers' institutes shall be held not later than the second Tuesday in January and the second that the president or secretary of every institute shall be ex-officio delegates to the farmers' institute convention. Both matters will be brought up at the general meeting of the institute to be held in Gallup's hall on Monday next at 7:30 p.m. All applications for feed should be sent to the secretary, E. Watson, on or before that date, and he is also open to receive orders for sugar. Price lists for feed can be seen at the local postoffice.

It was decided to appoint a committee of three in addition to the president and secretary for arranging particulars for the boys' and girls' potato growing competition, for which it seems likely that there will be at least 15 competitors. All competitors must send in their names to the secretary on or before May 4 and will be allowed to attend the general meeting on that date. GURNEY-OXFORD

Gurney-Oxford Baking

Worthy of the Art of a Chef

The average woman abhors having to spend all her time in the kitchen striving to accomplish some new dish in baking. But when she can have a range like the Gurney-Oxford, cooking becomes a pleasure and a fascination because of its consistent assured success.

The heat of the whole range is controlled by one lever, called the Economizer, with remarkable ease and effect.

The oven is entirely surrounded by a perfectly even heat of any degree required for any kind of baking. Pans of biscuits, light rolls, or cakes, all cook evenly with a delicate, golden brown crust without having to be constantly changed around next the heat as in other ranges.

This perfect Gurney-Oxford oven encourages a woman to attempt delicious and unusual recipes of her own invention. Her reputation for being a "splendid cook" is at once established.

The Gurney-Oxford Economizer regulates the exact degree of heat which is directed through the oven by the Divided Flue Strip with perfect evenness in every corner. The fire is held low on a Special Reversible Grate which burns every coal to a white ash. There is a lift-up Broiler Top to expose the full fire, and a smooth polished surface that requires no black lead. The Warming Closet is big enough and strong enough to hold a whole dinner service.

This Gurney-Oxford is the range for women of to-day.

BIG CROWDS WATCH FIGHTERS TRAIN

Rivers Creates Splendid Impression With Crowd—Lucca's Friends Confident.

Several hundred admirers or "the manly art" yesterday afternoon watched Mexican Jack Rivers and Charlie Lucca, who will be the principals in tomorrow night's 15-round boxing exhibition, go through their training stunts. Long before the time for the commencement of his work Rivers' training quarters at the Hume were crowded with eager fans anxious to get a line on the Mexican and by the time that the little fighter had commenced to warm up there was scarcely breathing room in the neighborhood.

Rivers created a splendid impression with the crowd and after watching him perform several were willing to offer real money on his chances with the fighting Italian. Rivers' infighting is all that can be desired, according to critics, and with an aggressive sparring partner like Street to put him through the rounds all that he has in him is brought out in the workouts. Rivers carries a wicked short jab in both wings that was making the railbirds sit up and take notice yesterday.

Lucca in his quarters at the new Grand hotel put in a lot of hard work and is showing up speedier than ever. He has a lot of friends and it would take a lot to convince them that he could not make away with the Mexican.

The boys will go through their road and gym work again today and will then lay off until tomorrow night, when the local fans should be treated to 15 rounds of boxing.

Mrs. S. B. Scott leaves on Thursday evening to join Mr. Scott at Regina where they are making their home.

Mrs. A. B. Chandler leaves on Thursday for an extended trip east. She will visit friends in Regina for two weeks before leaving for her home in Perth, Ont.

The funeral of the late John Boyle took place on Tuesday afternoon from the undertaking parlors, thence to the Sacred Heart church where the funeral service was held, Rev. Father McIntyre officiating. Deceased was a member of the football team here and both Trail and Rossland teams as well as a number of friends, attended the funeral. The pallbearers were J. Errington, J. Mathews, S. Swan, M. Tyson, T. Wallace and J. Gendle. The deceased leaves a father, four sisters and two brothers in Glasgow.

Mrs. T. S. Gilmour will not receive on Friday.

Dr. Gunning returned last evening from a few days' stay at Halcyon.

Ray Doell, who has been attending McGill at Vancouver, returned last evening and will spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. C. P. Doell.

At the police court this morning William Kean was charged with giving liquor to Phil Leduc, an interdict. The evidence showed that Kean procured a large gin bottle and other bottles on Saturday and Sunday. Last night it was claimed Kean and James O'Brien called at the Leduc residence and threatened Leduc if he gave evidence. A warrant has been issued for O'Brien's arrest and Kean's case was adjourned till tomorrow. Meantime the latter is in jail.

Mr. Blackman of Trail spent the afternoon in the city.

Another successful whist drive and dance was held in Knights of Columbus hall last evening.

CANADIAN ARCHIVES.

The other day The Daily News commented on the excellent work which is being done by the archivists, as revealed by the second volume on Canada's constitutional history published by them not long ago. It contains many documents of much value. On perusal the first volume will be found to be of even greater interest and value from an historical standpoint. The period which is covered by volume one is more interesting in original documents than is the later volume.

While volume one contains many interesting documents relating to the whole period covered by it, 1759-1791, its chief value and interest lie in the papers which it contains relative to the cession of Canada by France to Great Britain and the many documents which it has bearing on that change of allegiance and upon moulding the institutions of the country in accordance therewith. These documents are very numerous, dating from the articles of capitulation at Quebec bearing date September 18, 1759 (the text of which is in French, accompanied by an English translation), and the articles of capitulation at Montreal bearing date September 8, 1760 (the text of which is also in Franch and is accompanied by an English translation). From these they continue downwards, including such important papers as the following: The treaty of Paris bearing date February 10, 1763 (in French with an English translation); papers relating to the establishment of civil government in the territories ceded to Britain by the treaty of 1763, to the Constitutional act of 1791.

A knowledge of these documents is necessary to anyone who would know Canadian history during thi formative period.

So great has been the demand fo this volume that it is already out of print. To meet the requests for copies which can hardly fail to follow public knowledge of the value of the work the government should order that a reprint be made.

THE C. N. R. AND GOVERNMENT AID.

The proposals of the government in regard to aid to the Canadian Northern have been brought down to the house of commons by the solicitor-general, and are now before the country for consideration. They reveal that much careful and anxious thought has been given to this important matter.

From a telegraphic summary of their provisions it is difficult to come to any definite conclusion regarding them, and the way in which they meet the needs of the company while safeguarding the country, and even with their full text before one, some time and careful thought would require to be given to such an intricate and large proposition before one would dare to pass an opinion upon them. The present position of the country in relation to this company is largely a heritage from the Laurier government; it would not exist but for the action of that government.

While money came to Mackenzie & Mann easily and they were the spoiled children of fortune, they embarked in numerous outside enterprises, always in the expectation that "tomorrow shall be as this day and much more abundant." When the financial stringency came they found that they could not dispose to advantage, if at all, of any of their enterprises, and could not stop their then pending work, and they had to incur large indebtedness.

The government's proposals for meeting this indebtedness and to permit Canadian Northern railway operations to go on and to be carried to completion, contemplate the squeezing out of the common stock of the company of a large quantity of water. Whatever criticism there may be of the proposals laid before parliament, this much can be said, that it is an easy matter to be wise when one has not the responsibilities of official position. The whole matter has had, there is no question, the careful consideration of the solicitor-general and the members of the government generally. The railway operations of the company cannot be permitted to cease and the government apparently has considered how to make this application for assistance a finality.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The arrival of 100 brides-to-be in Canada means work for the parsons.

There is once more hope of a peaceable and satisfactory solution of the Irish Home Rule question. May it not be a vain hope this time.

All classes of Asiatic laborers are to be barred from Canada, for the present at least, by the Dominion government. The people of British Columbia say "Hear, hear!"

Potatoes were the subject of discussion at Ottawa yesterday, maritime province members being responsible for its introduction. Herrings will probably be up for discussion today.

The Orangemen of Ulster are appealing to the Orangemen of Canada for financial assistance in their fight against Home Rule just as the Home Rulers a few short years ago used to appeal to the Irishmen of the United States for help of this kind.

The senate yesterday discussed ways of cutting down the government printing bill. One way some members of the house of commons could assist would be by speaking only when they have something to say. Many of them now appear to talk for the sole purpose of having their remarks reported in Hansard.

The admission of Mr. Honore Mercier to the Quebec government recalls to mind one of the darkest periods in that province's political history, the time that the father of the new minister was premier. Young Mr. Mercier, however, cannot be held responsible for what occurred then. The act that he is the son of the late Honore Mercier should not be held against him.

THIS DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The ancient British seaport of Bristol, from which the Cabots and many other adventurous mariners sailed on voyages of discovery, justly prides itself on its connection with the new world, and takes frequent opportunity to remind all whom it may concern that it looks ever westward. A tangible memorial of this fact is the Cabot tower, which stands above the harbor on Brandon hill.

The roll of the honorary freemen of the city contains other evidence that Bristolians "think imperially," for upon it the statesmen of the overseas dominions are well represented.

Upon this date in 1907 the colonial premiers who had come to England to attend the imperial conference were admitted to be honorary freemen of Bristol, conspicuous amongst them being the present leader of the opposition (then premier of Canada), Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G.C.M.G.

Ten years earlier, however, soon after assuming office, Sir Wilfrid had already represented his native land in England, in Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee celebration, and was then accorded a leading place, not only in the "state procession of all the colonial dignitaries," but in popularity with the British public.

AT THE THEATRES

Few people ever consider a telephone operator as a personality but simply as part of the mechanism by means of which family affairs and business secrets alike are conducted with no thought of insecurity. Such a state of confidence on the part of the public speaks well for the well defined ethical code of the system. The story of the dramatic sensation "The Woman" is woven inseparably into the system of the telephone, with a little operator as the heroine. Through her is given the phone girl's side of the situation as she sits at her switchboard and connects the fate of great and small enterprises. Miss Verna Felton and the Allen Players will appear at the opera house on May 4 and will present "The Woman" as their first production.

are bound together by 4-in. "I" beams and tie-rods having heavy steel springs at the ends to compensate for expansion and contraction. The outer construction of firebrick surrounds the interior hearth or crucible of magnesite brick. This crucible, in which the smelting reactions occur, has interior dimensions of 35 in. by 40 in. by 7½ in. in height. At the bottom of the crucible is a water-cooled tap-hole for the molten matte and lead-bullion, and at a proper distance from the bottom is another water-cooled tap-hole for the removal of the molten slag. Four copper-covered carbon electrodes 5 in. in diameter are attached to the bus-bars by water-cooled clamps. These electrodes, supported by chain tackles, project through the arched roof of the furnace into the crucible. Hoppers for the introduction of ore, flux and reducing material are situated at the top of the furnace near the electrodes. At one side near the top is a brick-lined flue to carry the vaporized zinc and furnace gases to the condenser in which the zinc is collected in molten metallic form; and the escaping gas, chiefly carbon monoxide, is burned in a steady flame as it escapes through small orifices into the air.

Furnace Operation

"The mechanical operation of the electric furnace is simple. The charging of the ore, flux and coal, the tapping of the copper-matte and lead-bullion and slags from the furnace, and the collection and tapping of the molten zinc from the adjoining condenser call for specially skilled labor. The temperature of the furnace at all times is under absolute control, and the reactions are carried out at the will of the operator. On account of the high temperature used, the slags are very liquid and there is practically complete separation of the matte and reduced lead from the slag. An average analysis made by the Ledoux Laboratories in New York, of 6,000 lb. of electric furnace slag, while treating zinciferous lead-copper material, gave: Zin., 0.65 per cent.; Cu., 0.12 per cent.; Pb., none; Ag., 0.15 oz.; and Au., 0.00 oz. per ton. The metallic content of this slag is so low as to be almost unbelievable.

Chemistry of Operation

"The ores to be treated in the electric furnace are crushed to proper size, roasted to proper content of sulphur and blended to give a mixture of the following range of composition: Zinc, 15 to 40 per cent.; lead, 5 to 30 per cent.; copper, 1 to 5 per cent.; iron, 10 to 20 per cent.; sulphur, 3 to 7 per cent.; silica, 10 to 30 per cent.; alumina, 3 to 5 per cent.; and lime, 3 to 7 per cent. A type mixture would contain: zinc, 30 per cent.; lead, 10 per cent.; copper, 2 per cent.; iron, 15 per cent.; sulphur, 4 per cent.; silica, 15 per cent.; alumina, 3 per cent.; and lime, 6 per cent. This blended material is then mixed with about 15 per cent. of soft coal and carefully charged into a muffle preheater of the Hasenclever type, fired with soft coal and carefully deoxidized at a final temperature of from 850 deg. C. to 1040 deg. C., which is just below the reduction-temperature of zinc oxide. The deoxidized material is then fed continuously into the electric furnace, which is of the buried-arc type. The electrodes are submerged in the slag and the charge. Care must be taken that there is no local heating, called 'hot spots,' or local cooling, called 'cold spots' or 'freezing' of the slag in the fusion zone, which should have a temperature of from 1225 deg. C. to 1250 deg. C.

"In the reactions the carbon is derived from solid carbon, carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons. The hydrogen comes from the hydrocarbons. The relative percentages of CO and CO2 in the furnace gases will depend on the physico-chemical condition of the charge. There are also other chemical reactions which need not be given here.

"From 90 to 99 per cent. of the Fe2O3 is reduced to the metallic state.

"The charge, after the desired reactions have taken place in the preheater, is fed through the hoppers of the electric furnace direct to the smelting zone in which chemical reactions occur under the influence of the electric current.

"As a result of these reactions, the sulphur combines first with the reduced copper and then with reduced iron to form copper-matte, which collects some silver and gold and settles to the crucible. Similarly the reduced lead, in molten metallic form, collects the rest of the silver and gold, forming a base-bullion, which settles in the crucible and collects below the molten matte. The silica, lime, iron oxide (and alumina and magnesia if present) combine to form the slag, which, being specifically lighter, floats on top of the matter. The zinc which is reduced to the metallic form is immediately vaporized at the temperature of the furnace and passes to the condenser at the side, where it is condensed and collected in a molten condition. The slag is deoxidized and desulphurized and the matte is made so metallic that no sulphur vapor is given off at the temperature of the fusion zone. Under this condition the gas from the furnace is so pure that when it reaches the condenser the zinc vapor changes directly from the gaseous condition to the liquid condition, and molten zinc is formed with little or no blue powder.

"The condenser consists of elongated iron vessels lined with fire-brick having movable covers to facilitate cleaning and capable of being heated or cooled. If sufficient surface be provided and enough time allowed, the zinc vapor will condense satisfactorily to the molten metal. The uniform manner in which the chemical reactions occur in the smelting furnace is shown by the steadiness of the flame of burning carbon monoxide as it escapes into the outer air from the prolongs of the condensing vessels. This flame has the appearance of that of a Bunsen burner in a laboratory.

Blue Powder

"Electric zinc smelting without good condensation, as is sometimes practiced in Norway and Sweden, is not commercially profitable under American conditions. Suppose, in treating a charge containing 70 per cent. of zinc, that 40 per cent. of the vaporized zinc be condensed in molten metallic form (spelter) and 60 per cent. in the form of 'blue powder.' This corresponds to a condensation-factor of 40 per cent. and represents some of the smelting done in Norway, where electric energy is so cheap that the inefficiency of the practice is unimportant commercially. In the first smelting there would be produced 200 x 70 per cent. x 40 per cent. equals 560 lb. of metallic zinc, and 2000 x 70 per cent. x 60 per cent. equals 840 lb. blue powder. This blue powder is subsequently resmelted to produce metallic zinc and more blue powder, and so on. Assuming a constant condensation-factor of 40 per cent., the final reduction of all the blue powder produced in treating 2000 lb. of 70 per cent. material would involve the handling of 2087 lb. of this material.

"The treatment of material containing 30 per cent. of zinc in the Johnson electric furnace having a condensation-factor of 90 per cent. in place of 40 per cent. as in Norway, shows a remarkable gain and shows for the final reduction of all the blue powder produced in the treatment of one ton of ore, a handling of only 66.6 lb., as contrasted with 2087.2 lb. in the practice in Norway and Sweden.

"Blue powder oxidizes readily, and the oxide so produced requires energy to rework which increases the cost per ton of extracting zinc from ore or residues. Moreover, the blue powder itself is dangerous to handle on account of its explosive character.

"Blue powder is produced in several ways:

"1. By the existence of certain physical conditions at the time of condensation, such as sudden cooling to a temperature below the melting point of zinc. The product made in this manner is called 'physical' blue powder.

"The coating of the minute particles of metallic zinc with sulphide is a discovery of our own, and was not known in the art prior to the issue of our Canadian patent, No. 146, 234, Feb. 26, 1913. In this patent there is a description of the metallurgical principles underlying the Johnson process, particular stress being laid on the manner of purifying the furnace gas, which is deoxidized and desulphurized in the smelting-fusion-zone of the furnace. The rescending particles of metallic iron and metallic copper, made in the preheater, have so strong an affinity for the oxygen and the sulphur that they immediately combine with these elements and carry them into the matter and the slag.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

"Conditions which limit the field of electric zinc smelting in Norway and Sweden do not hamper the Johnson process as applied in America, for," Mr. Johnson said, "one-half of the quantity of heat units required can be supplied in the preheater by the use of cheap coal. Also, low grade material can be treated more cheaply per ton of material than can high grade.

"A comparison of the efficiency of the Johnson electric zinc furnace with that of the ordinary retort practice leads me to feel that the present European practice is all wrong. The higher the grade of the ore, the cheaper it is to treat in the retort furnace, while with the electric furnace, the lower the grade of the ore the cheaper it is to smelt.

Smelting of Complex Zinc Ores

"As applied to complex zinciferous ores the Johnson process is cheaper than the retort process, and it has the additional advantage that the copper-matte and base-bullion produced are tapped from the furnace and directly cast into a merchantable form. In the retort furnace, the residues carrying copper, lead, etc., require retreatment before the metallic content can be marketed. Furthermore, the loss of metallic values in the slag of the Johnson furnace is phenominally low, a fair average being 2 lb. of copper and 2 lb. of lead per ton of slag produced. Silver and gold losses also are reduced to a minimum. By careful furnace control, I believe that the slags in our electric furnace can be made to run continuously even lower than this, containing less than 50c of metallic values per ton; and with special care, if desired, this figure can be still further reduced to 20c or even to 10c per ton.

"Let us compare the Johnson electric furnace process with the coal- or gas-fired retort furnace processes for the treatment of zinc ores. For successful smelting in the ordinary distillation retort furnace the ore must contain a high percentage of zinc and must be free from notable amounts of silica, iron, lime, lead and copper. Moreover, if the ore is a sulphide it must be 'dead' or 'sweet' roasted for the almost complete elimination of the sulphur, say, to one per cent. or less, which is a comparatively costly operation. These requirements limit the classes of material which can be successfully treated in the retort furnaces for zinc.

"The Johnson electric furnace process has no such limitations. Furthermore, it possesses many commercial advantages over the retort distillation processes, notably:

"1. It can treat successfully ores containing iron, lime and silica.

"2. It can treat successfully ores containing copper, lead, silver and gold, collecting these valuable metals at once in merchantable form; the zinc as spelter, the copper with some of the silver and gold as matte and lead with the rest of the silver and gold as base-bullion.

"3. The labor cost per ton of material treated is less than that of the retort furnaces; and

"4. In the first stage of the preliminary treatment the roasting need be carried on only until the sulphur content has been reduced to from 4 to 6 per cent., which can be done quite cheaply as compared to a 'dead' or 'sweet' roast.

"5. Finally, in the retort furnace the cost per ton of treating low-grade ores is higher than that of high-grade ores; whereas, in the Johnson electric furnace, the opposite is the case, which is an immence advantage since it greatly broadens the field of application.

Mechanical Concentration of Zinc Ores

"The Johnson process will have a direct bearing on the mechanical preparation of zinc ores, since, by its application, ores containing iron, lime and lead can be smelted. This will naturally tend to simplify and shorten the present methods of ore-concentration. There will be less regrinding and elaborate and expensive systems of concentration can be eliminated or modified so as to give better results for the electric furnace at a minimum cost. Crypto-crystalline lead-copper-zinc ores, which are not now amendable to concentration methods, can be smelted by the electric furnace process, and many ores now undesirable for the retort-plant will become valuable for treatment in the electric furnace.

Lead Smelting

"Startling as the statement may seem, it is nevertheless true that the Johnson electric furnace promises to become a more important factor in lead metallurgy than it will in zinc metallurgy and this is particularly pertinent for the treatment of zinciferous copper-lead ores with or without gold and silver, which may carry so large a percentage of zinc as to prevent profitable treatment in the lead furnace of today.

"A word concerning the relative cost of the heat required is here in order. The Johnson process as applied to ores or slag containing lead and copper, with possibly (and preferably) silver and gold requires a careful treatment on the preheating furnace to a temperature of about 1000 deg. C. and a subsequent smelting in the electric furnace at a temperature of about 1250 deg. C.

"Assuming the amount of fuel required in the present lead smelting furnace to be about 15 per cent. of the weight of the ore and flux charged, with coke at $6 per ton the cost of the fuel would be 90c per ton of charge—which is equal to the cost of the fuel and electric energy required in the preheater and the electric furnace.

"The strongest points of the Johnson process are:

"1. The loss of valuable metals by volatilization and dust is practically nil; de natura rerum.

"2. The loss of valuable metals in the slag is at a minimum, since the intensity of the reducing action prevents chemical loss in slag, and the high temperature of the smelting zone yields a very liquid slag, which being quiescent in the furnace permits an almost perfect settling out and separation of all entrained matte or bullion thus preventing mechanical loss. As contrasted with the present art of smelting lead-copper ores in the shaft furnace the saving of these metallic values from the slag in the electric furnace amounts to from $1 to $1.50 or something more per ton of ore treated.

"3. And of greatest importance is the saving in the electric furnace of 85 per cent. of the zinc of the furnace charge. This great advantage opens up a field of operation which stuns the mind by its magnitude.

"In lead smelting in shaft furnaces as practiced today, the presence of zinc makes the ore a bete noire. Not only is all the zinc lost, but so difficult does it make the smelting that penalty charges of from 30c to 50c per unit are levied for percentages above a given quantity, usually 10 per cent.

Penalty Versus Credit

"Our results show that on smelting an ore containing 20 per cent. of zinc the total zinc loss on the slag is somewhat less than in smelting a 35 per cent. ore, and our tests show that, under these conditions a loss of 2 per cent. is recovered as spelter by us, for 30 K.W.H. per unit of 20 lb. at a cost (with energy at 3 mills per K.W.H.) of 9c. This 20 lb. of spelter is worth at the smelter $1 gross or 90c net—so that instead of a penalty levied by the lead smelter of from 30c to 50c per unit for zinc above 8 or 10 per cent., the treatment by the Johnson process will give a credit of nearly $1 per unit of zinc in the ore above 2 per cent. This differential advantage will in many instances amount to from $10 to $15 per ton in the value of the ore.

"The statement has been made authoritatively that the value of the zinc lost annually in the slags of copper and lead furnaces of the United States amounts to at least $30,000,000, which is two-thirds the actual value of the total quantity of primary spelter produced in the United States from domestic ores during the year 1912. A large part of this great loss of zinc in the waste slags can be prevented.

"The commercial possibilities of the Johnson process are extraordinarily great. In the United States alone there are untold thousands of tons of zinciferous ores containing metal values ranging from $25 to $50 or more per ton, which cannot now be treated profitably by existing chemical or metallurgical processes. There is too much zinc present to permit of profitable smelting in a lead or copper furnace, and there is too much base metal, iron or lime, present for profitable treatment in the retort furnace for zinc. These zinciferous ores are left in the mine or the deposits are undeveloped awaiting the advent of just such a process as I have invented. There are also thousands of tons of waste slimes and other products of the mechanical concentration or ores which can be profitably treated by my process.

"Finally, apart from the financial returns which will result from the development and extension of the process, it is to be borne in mind that it will be a great factor in the future conservation of the mineral resources of the world, since it permits the extraction of both base and precious metals from material which, on account of its zinc content and complex character, is now thrown on the dump and wasted, or the ore is left in the mine undeveloped."

NEWS OF THE MARKETS

SHORT INTERESTS HURRY TO COVER

Marked Improvement in Sentiment in London—Canadian Railroads Stronger.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable)

LONDON, April 29.—The stock market improved sharply today, forcing the bears to scramble to cover. The top prices were reported early in the afternoon but thereafter the market was irregular, owing to the lack of business. The news from Mexico was helpful.

The settlement concluded fairly smoothly. There was one small failure, that of Stapleton Smith, who was a jobber in the industrial market. His liabilities are small. No further defaults are expected. Consols were buoyant and closed at 75¼. The new scrips hardened, the Dominion of Canada being quoted at ¼ premium and the City of Montreal at ½ discount. Everything sympathized with the buoyancy in consols. Paris repurchased considerably. Canadian Pacific rose to 199, despite the March statement of earnings, but New York sold in the afternoon and the close was 196. Grand Trunk railway showed fractional changes and was irregular. The March statement was better than expected. The half yearly meeting of the shareholders was not cheerful but A. W. Smithers, chairman of the board, expressed confidence that the Canadian government would deal honorably with the freight rates situation.

Hudson's Bay was supported and closed at 9½. South American tractions were repurchased. Dominion Steel rose one.

The intended guarantee by the Dominion government of the Canadian Northern railway bonds is much liked here and removed the market's anxiety as to the future of the Canadian Northern railway. The news was not known early but after its arrival Canadian Northern railway 5 per cent income debentures rose to 80 from 75½. Call money touched 3¼ but closed 2 per cent, the settlement and the month-end pressure being strong in the early part of the day. The Bank of England again loaned heavily. Bill rates were easier, the three months' rate being 2⅝.

ADVANCE IN NEW YORK HALTS SHARPLY

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, April 29.—The advance in stocks was halted today. The market drifted idly through the session, losing quickly a slight early advantage and toward the close the tone became heavy. Extensive covering on the advance of the preceding two days made the position of the short interest less vulnerable and stocks were supplied more freely. Distinct weakness developed in a few spots but the average loss was small.

The market was no longer dominated by Mexican affairs. The probability of a considerable delay before a definite settlement is reached diminished immediate interest in the situation which was less of a factor than at any other time since hostilities began.

The late decline in the market was influenced by the weakness of a few stocks such as Canadian Pacific railway and the Gould issues. Rock Island common and preferred sold at low levels. The collateral bonds also made a new low mark, slumping down more than two points to 31¼ on reports that the next interest payment would not be met. Missouri Pacific dropped to 15½. Canadian Pacific railway was supplied freely by Berlin and Amsterdam, although most of the foreign operations were on the buying side.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,890,000. U. S. 2s coupon declined ¼ and Panama 2s coupon and registered ½ on call.

CANADIAN PACIFIC NET LOSS TWO AND QUARTER

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MONTREAL, April 29.—The stock market opened steady, owing to firmness in the stock market at New York and the announcement of the government aid to the Canadian Northern railway. Substantial gains were recorded in the opening transactions and the market held firm through the first hour. The buying demand, however, fell off when New York turned easier and Canadian Pacific railway began to sag. The noon level was not far from the early high, though, and the general tone was steady. A late fall in Canadian Pacific railway again infused an element of uncertainty into the afternoon market. The close at 189¼ locally left a net loss of 2¼ as the day's change, against an early rise of ¾.

On the Canadian Pacific railway reaction the balance of the list became extremely dull. There was some selling of iron, which depressed that stock to 25. Power, 1¾ higher at 223¼ in the morning, lost half of its advance. Richelieu, one of the most active stocks of the morning when it rose two points to 102, was inactive in the second session, but closed slightly easier offered at 101¾. Brazilian was steady, retaining all but ¼ of an early rise of 1¼. In general, however, the tendency was to lower prices pretty well all through the list.

GRAIN

PREDICTS WHEAT WILL DROP TO SEVENTY CENTS

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WINNIPEG, April 29.—Cables from Liverpool were exceptionally higher which caused prices here to open ¼c higher for all months, advancing a further fraction on May and July. Later a decided weakness occurred which to a certain extent was influenced by the report that J. Patten, the grain authority at Chicago, had said that he expected wheat to go to 70c per bushel. The high promise of the winter wheat crop of the states continues unimpaired; while there is no activity in export trading.

At Liverpool, however, cargoes of Manitoba wheat were in better demand, while Russian orders were firmer. No Indian offers were on the market.

Trading in futures on the Winnipeg market was active on the weakening values, a fair volume of business being turned over.

American markets were stronger at opening on the stronger cables but heavy breaks occurred later.

Oats and flax were steady and the demand quiet.

Winnipeg closed ½ to ¾c lower. Minneapolis closed ¾ to ⅞c lower. Chicago closed ½ to ¾c lower.

Liverpool cables closed ⅛ to ⅜c higher, while continental markets were irregular. Paris closed 1 to 1½c lower; Berlin ⅛c advance; Budapest and Antwerp unchanged.

Cash wheat closed ⅜ to ¾c lower for contract grades. Cash oats closed ½c lower for 2 c. w. Cash barley closed unchanged to ¼c higher. Cash flax closed ¼c lower for all grades.

Closing prices: Wheat—May 91; July 92⅞; Oct. 87¾.

Oats—May 35¾; July 36¼.

Flax—May 1.34¼; July 1.37⅝; Oct. 1.38⅝; Nov. 1.37½.

Minneapolis—May 89¼; July 90⅝; Sept. 86⅝.

Chicago—May 91¾; July 85¾; Sept. 85⅛.

BUTTER DEMAND SLACKENS

lish this kind of obscene and immoral literature in the future. They were told that the ban would be lifted, but if they did not keep their promise the privileges of the mail would be withdrawn from them.

"If I were to forget," added the postmaster-general, "that I am postmaster-general for all Canadians, Protestants and Catholics alike, and if I were so bigoted as to think of excluding Protestant newspapers from the mails, there are others than the Menace which would be much more worthy of my attention in this respect, but the law does not say a newspaper will be excluded from the mails because it is strongly Catholic or Protestant, and consequently I have no right to bar any of them from the mails. The law and regulations do say, however, that no newspaper, Protestant or Catholic, shall be obscene, immoral or scurrilous, and it does not seem possible to me that you and I, as Christian gentlemen, should disagree in a matter like this."

Considers Technical Education.

E. M. Macdonald inquired whether the government intended to take any steps this session to carry into effect the recommendations of the technical education commission.

"The whole subject," replied the premier, "has been under careful consideration and has been taken up with the governments of the different provinces. The house will be duly informed of any legislative action which may be contemplated."

The minister of justice informed Hon. R. Lemieux that the government had under consideration the appointment of a commission to revise the criminal code.

Burnham Again Denies Story.

J. H. Burnham, West Peterboro, rose to a question of privilege to take exception to the statement that he left the Conservative caucus because he was not in support of the government's proposal with regard to the Canadian Northern railway. He declared that he was ready to support it and there was no excuse for the statement.

The debate on the resolutions introduced by W. S. Loggie of Northumberland last night in favor of free potatoes was resumed this afternoon on motion to go into committee on ways and means on the tariff schedule of Hon. W. T. White.

UNION LIFE DIRECTORS MAY BE TRIED IN ENGLAND

Trial of Simons, Millichamp and Hughes at Toronto Is Postponed —To Extradite Evans.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, April 29.—A new situation has developed in regard to the prosecution of the directors of the Union Life Insurance company as a result of which Harry Simons, K.C., George E. Millichamp and Dr. T. G. Hughes, now out on bail, will not be placed on trial at the present sitting of the assize court. Pollman Evans, the promoter, has not yet arrived from France and in view of the action instituted in London, England, by Right Hon. John Burns it may not be necessary for Evans to travel so far as Canada in order to stand trial on the charges preferred against him.

Since the president of the board of trade made the statement in the British house of commons that criminal proceedings arising out of the Union Life investigation were in contemplation Crown Counsel du Vernet has referred all inquiries in regard to the case to the attorney-general's department, at whose instance the trial of the three directors here is being traversed to the next assizes.

It is just possible that an indictment may be framed in London on which Evans could be extradited from France to England.

RECOVERS SIGHT WHEN STRUCK ON NOSE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, April 29.—A remarkable case of sudden recovery of sight through being struck on the nose by a piece of wood, is that of Henri Germain, an employe of the marine and fisheries department, who resides at Beauport.

Mr. Germain has been practically blind for two years past, following a severe attack of rheumatism. He was chopping wood when a piece struck him on the nose. This severed a vein and as a result Mr. Germain lost much blood. Immediately after he discovered that he could see distinctly.

instead of the six years' period which Premier Asquith had offered, he would submit the proposal to the people of Ulster.

Sir Edward declared all he wanted for Ulster was such terms as would conserve the dignity of the Ulstermen and their civil and religious freedom. He concluded that, in case the home rule bill passed, it would be his earnest prayer that the government of the south and west of Ireland would prove so successful that it would be to Ulster's interest to join and form a united Ireland.

Asquith Also Conciliatory.

Premier Asquith concluded the debate with an eloquent speech, which contained the statement that his offer of temporary exclusion of Ulster counties from the operation of the home rule bill for a period of six years remained open. He said he considered Sir Edward Carson's statement a most important one and he recognized and reciprocated its spirit. A settlement, he declared, could not be successfully negotiated by bargaining across the floor of the house, and the questions at issue could not be settled behind the backs of the men of Ulster or of the rest of Ireland.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, who spoke before the premier, said the premier must recognize that the calamity facing the country was so awful that some way to peace must be found at any cost. He continued:

"If the premier does seek for peace we on this side of the house will do anything in our power to make a peaceful solution possible."

A. J. Balfour, former Unionist premier, in a moving peroration to his speech, justified Ulster in making civil war. He said his public life had been devoted to the cause of the union between Great Britain and Ireland, and concluded:

"If, in order to avoid the incalculable horrors of civil war we must set up a separate parliament in Dublin I shall think it marks the failure of my whole life's work."

Asks Canada for Help.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, April 29.—Lieut.-Col. Scott, grand master of the Orange association for British America, has received today from Walter H. Long, M.P., of the Union Defence league, the following cable:

"I have the authority from the grand master of Ireland to appeal to you, as the grand master of Canada, for financial help which he believes you will be good enough to give to the cause of Ulster. Contributions will be gladly received by me."

Says Civil War Talk Absurd.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, April 30.—The proceedings in the commons yesterday baffle unpartisan observers, the majority of whom endorse the view of the Times that the party divergencies are so small as to render the talk of civil war absurd. The previous night they had viewed Mr. Churchill's offer as equivalent to bridging the gulf separating the home rulers and the Ulsterites. Now they are baffled in consequence of Mr. Asquith's repetition of the offer of a limit of six years' exclusion for Ulster when Sir Edward Carson has reaffirmed that Ulster's ultimatum is that any fixed term whatever must be deleted from the offer. Nevertheless politicians maintain that the peace atmosphere continues, generally assuming that the indications of a rapproachment are sufficient to justify the belief that a settlement will be reported when the home rule bill reaches the house of lords.

Austen Chamberlain Next Premier?

Bonar Law's offer for a resumption of the "conversations" between the leaders on the front benches excites the greatest speculation regarding the internal relations of the Unionist party. Bonar Law's preferment to the position of leader of the opposition when A. J. Balfour resigned was admittedly planned to relieve the Unionists of the necessity to decide between Austen Chamberlain and Walter Long. It was then agreed that Bonar Law was unlikely to become premier of the next Unionist government, his being a stop-gap role. Meanwhile, Bonar Law, while admirably playing the Ulsterite Unionist game, has compromised himself badly. Walter Long's continued and frequent illness disable him from accepting the onerous duties of the premiership Therefore Bonar Law's specific naming of Austen Chamberlain as the mouthpiece of the Unionist voice, instead of himself, is taken to indicate a decision by the Unionist party that, as the elections are possibly not far distant, the future premier must reach the limelight.

Austen Chamberlain has been notably moderate and fair in his frequent interpositions in the parliament and platform contributions to the Ulster conflict. Another view taken of Bonar Law's self-effacement is that he being the most prominent leader of the opposition, Asquithian attacks on him might negative the chances of peace which at the present moment are better than they have ever been.

Six Year Limit to Go.

The Standard in a remarkably fair summary of the present position says:

"The Unionist leaders, facing the horrors of civil war and bloodshed, have resolved to work genuinely for a settlement, despite the awful power they have at their disposal for smashing home rule government forcefully. Wednesday's debate marks an historic turning point."

Although apparently unsurmountable difficulties beset the settlement of the problem, the Nationalists, although uneasy, are disinclined to shatter the present fair hopes of peace. They are satisfied that they can obtain large powers of self-government by consent and are prepared to rely on time to bring all Ireland under one administration. It is forecasted that in the final settlement the six years' time limit will disappear, but that the government's balloting power will remain, thus enabling any county of Ulster to at any time vote itself within the Dublin parliament.

NINE KILLED IN STRIKE BATTLES

Many Others Injured in Fight Between Soldiers and Men in Colorado—General Walkout Threatened.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

DENVER, Colo., April 29.—Colorado's industrial war today claimed a total of at least nine human lives.

At Forbes seven mine guards and one striker are dead, with two other strikers believed to have been killed.

At Watsonburg one officer of the militia hospital corps was killed and one officer and two enlisted men wounde

The Forbes camp was a scene of desolation, practically all the mine works being destroyed by fire.

The strikers opened their attack in force. With the women and children of the camp barricaded in the mine stope, the guards, under the personal direction of Superintendent Nicol, responded spiritedly.

Fighting that practically encircled the town continued for five hours at Watsonburg between strikers, militia and mine guards.

Threaten Nation With Strike.

PITTSBURG, Kans., April 29.—Unless President Wilson takes immediate steps to investigate the strike situation in the Trinidad, Colo., district strike, the district local of the United Mine Workers of America in session here, will ask that a general strike of mine workers throughout the country be called.

This statement was contained in resolutions adopted by the convention today with instructions that they be telegraphed to Washington. They also stated that in the event of the president's refusal, they would ask John P. White, as president of the United Mine Workers of America, to use his influence to have called a general strike of all bodies affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

down. Ancient devices of torture were discovered and there was evidence that these had recently been in use.

Among those held in confinement were men once of prominence, but whose names have been almost forgotten; men who had been there so long that their minds were blank, and men so enfeebled by the treatment they had received as to insure their transfer to hospitals instead of to prisons.

The appearance of the prisoners was pitiable. Emaciated skeletons, they stumbled forward to thank the American officers for their delivery. Long beards in many cases were matted over dirty countenances on which once the fashionable element of the federal capital had looked, for many of those imprisoned were once prominent in society, in politics and in the army.

Each succeeding administration perpetuated the ancient fortress as a prison.

Commander Stickney today was ordered to take over the prison, with its shops and everything else pertaining to it. Such shipwork as has been required by Mexico's navy has been done there.

Brake on Monroe Doctrine

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, April 29.—Le Temps today declares provisional President Huerta can find, in the mediation of the South American republics an opportunity to withdraw honorably from a situation which could not last long without mortal danger to Mexico. Huerta must make a sacrifice for the salvation of his country.

At the same time, the Temps goes on, the efforts of the three South American republics toward mediation assumes importance in the future. These republics see in the expansion of North America a danger which it will be necessary to ward off. South America has too long been divided against itself and its action today in regard to Mexico indicates that in the future it will act as a brake to the exaggerations of Monroeism and the encroachments of North American imperialism.

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE TO TAKE

It will help those who have Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

There are other "old enemies" similar to the one mentioned in this testimonial. Kidney and Bladder Troubles are always enemies to good health. As soon as you start to take GIN PILLS these ailments begin to disappear. It is the same in cases of Lumbago, Sciatica and like complaints. This letter illustrates the benefit of GIN PILLS.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6th.

"I have been a sufferer from Lumbago for some years past and during Christmas week had a very acute attack which confined me to the house. About the latter part of April, I met your Mr. Hill and mentioned my complaint to him. He advised me to take GIN PILLS. I have been taking them at intervals during the early part of the present winter, and up to date have had no return of my old trouble—in fact, I feel better than I have for years and think that my old enemy has vanished for good and all." How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one cup of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily prepare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe, if the genuine Pinex is used. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you, if you ask him. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN GETS GOOD START

Two Hundred and Seventy-seven Dollars Collected First Day—Canvassers Dine Tonight.

"What may be considered a flying start that points toward the fulfillment of our endeavors," was the way Harry Ballantyne, western field secretary for the Y.M.C.A. in Canada, who is here to conduct the financial campaign for the local institution, described the first day's work of the committees touring the city. Of the 18 committees only nine reported at the meeting held last night and among them they had collected $277 on the first day's canvass, which is considered an excellent showing for the first day.

Between 350 and 375 names have been picked for canvass by the members of the teams, and these will be personally interviewed during the next three days.

A meeting of the members of the canvassing teams was held last night in the association, when considerable enthusiasm was demonstrated, and this evening the members of the canvassing teams will sit down to dinner at the Y at 6:30 o'clock, when it is expected that plans for a whirlwind climax to the campaign will be made.

The teams reporting yesterday and the amount of their collections were: A. T. Walley and R. J. Winter, $39; T. D. Stark and C. F. McHardy, $42; L. M. Bobo and C. W. Clayton, $10; W. O. FIRST AID CLASS SHOWS ABILITY

Y. M. C. A. Members Entertain Large Audience—Junior and Senior Members Take Part.

Last night the Y. M. C. A. provided its friends with an evening's splendid entertainment and a record crowd was on hand and left thoroughly well satisfied and each one present went away to speak favorably of the entertainment for this evening when it will be repeated and another banner crowd is looked for.

The gymnasium floor was transformed into the scene of a construction camp along the line of the Canadian Pacific railway in the early eighties and the representation of the entrance to the Rockies was very complete including the tents, surveying instruments and the usual impedimenta of a railway camp.

The idea of the sketch entitled "A Construction Camp" was to embody in action the various practical gymnasium activities of the season including "first aid to the injured," pyramid work and resuscitation of the drowning. The first portion of the program was provided by the junior members of the "Y" gymnasium classes who by their smart appearance and still smarter drills and displays with clubs and bars as well as springboard high jump, created the most favorable impression. The first item was marching and counter marching by the junior school leading up to the display of single clubs. Next came a display of iron bars by the senior school embracing group formation and pyramid work. Following this was one of the most enjoyable items of the evening, the high jump by the juniors, Leonard Thompson and Willard Wade tied at 5 ft. 6 in. amid much applause. Medicine ball and basketball, relay races completed the first part of the program

During the interim H. Ballantyne who is in Nelson in connection with the Y. M. C. A. financial campaign, made a short and telling appeal for the financial support of the "Y" friends.

The first aid class of the association was given ample opportunity to demonstrate its adeptness to the work. A sufferer from a burn was the first victim to be treated, then came a case of resuscitation from drowning and finally numerous wounds resulting from the explosion of a stick of dynamite were treated.

Tumbling, acrobatic work and an exhibition of pyramid building concluded the program which had been ably arranged through the efforts of James Thompson, physical director of the institution.

LOOKS FOR ELECTION IN ONTARIO END OF JUNE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, April 29.—The Mail and Empire will say tomorrow:

"Although it is understood the Ontario government has not taken the matter of a provincial general election to a decision, the Conservative members left for their homes today anticipating an early and short campaign. The absence of any official information causes a strong opinion that the two parties will be facing each other in the last week of June."

'Good Pay'

Small profits, quick returns. That is how the modern grocery store is run. The price of commodities is kept down by the "Cash" and the "Good Pay" customer. It is those who over-order and run an account on from month to month that pull up the price to the rest of the general public, and of course, themselves. They are a nuisance to society.

There's a blue envelope with your account from us. Are you going to be a "Good Pay?"
