THINK TENEMENT BOMB FACTORY

Four Killed, House Wrecked, by Explosion

DEAD HAND GIVES CLEW TO CAUSE

Is Apparently That of Person Who Was Connecting Infernal Machine.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 5.—In the wreck of the Lexington avenue tenement house wrecked yesterday by the premature combustion of a powerful explosive which killed Arthur Caron and three other people, the authorities today found evidence that Caron's apartment was a centre for the distribution of inflammatory literature which was printed there, and at the time of the explosion it was apparently a bomb factory, filled with the ingredients of deathdealing missiles.

A small printing press, revolutionary pamphlets and circulars, an electric dynamo, two electric batteries, cartridges and bits of steel were among the things uncovered in the search, which tends in the opinion of the police to show an anarchistic plot.

Two of those killed in the wrecked apartment were prominent agitators who were to be placed on trial in Tarrytown tomorrow on charges of disorderly conduct in connection with the campaign of demonstrations inaugurated against John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as a protest against his attitude in the Colorado coal mine strike.

The body of the fourth victim of the explosion was found today. It was that of Charles Berg, known in Industrial Workers of the World circles as "the big Swede," an associate of Arthur Caron, who was also killed. The other victims were Charles Hanson and Mary Claves. The woman lived in an apartment next to the one occupied by Caron and his associates.

Find Electrical Machinery

Especially interesting was the discovery by the police of anarchistic literature and electrical machinery in the ruins of Caron's room.

It was the assertion of Industrial Workers of the World leaders that Caron was not a member of that organization, having recently been refused admission. They declared that the Industrial Workers of the World had nothing to do with the explosion.

A gruesome but suggestive piece of evidence uncovered was a severed hand which clutched two small pieces of wire made ready for connections. The authorities believe that the owner of this hand was in the act of making an electrical connection for one of the bombs and battery when the explosion occurred, and he was blown to pieces, leaving the hand a mute witness of the manner in which the tragedy occurred.

Alexander Berkman, anarchist, and an assistant with Emma Goldman in the publication of Mother Earth, an anarchistic paper, who was questioned at length by the police yesterday, tonight declared that none of the dead men was a member of the Industrial Workers of the World and that the agitation they had done was conducted in behalf of the striking miners in Colorado.

He said that a number of anarchistic organizations were already making plans to hold an impressive public funeral on next Sunday afternoon.

A party of sympathisers, including Berkman, will go to Tarrytown tomorrow to attend the trials of the Industrial Workers of the World agitators.

No unusual precautions to guard the Tarrytown courtroom have been taken. Sheriff Doyle stated tonight that he did not anticipate any trouble from the friends of those who were to be arraigned.

John D. Rockefeller went to church this morning at Pocantico Hills. He motored to church, but insisted on walking back to his estate accompanied only by his superintendent. There were no Industrial Workers of the World agitators about the place tonight and the guard on duty at the estate had little to do.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 5.—Information has reached here that the Duke of Connaught will arrive in Victoria on Aug. 20 and will probably make a stay of a week's duration. According to present plans he will be accompanied by the duchess and Princess Patricia. Government house has been placed at the disposal of the viceregal party during the visit. Twenty rooms have been engaged at the Empress hotel from Aug. 20 to Aug. 27.

His presence in British Columbia will coincide with the driving of the golden spike on the Grand Trunk Pacific on Aug. 15, a ceremony which he has been invited to attend but what his intention is in this matter is not known.

The governor-general will not visit the Yukon though it is possible that he may go as far north as Prince Rupert and make a trip over the completed portion of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

ONE DISMISSED THOUSANDS QUIT

Eight Thousand Men Strike at Great British Gun Factory at Woolwich—Closed Shop Issue.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 6.—The strike which began in the Woolwich arsenal on Friday over the dismissal of one man has spread with such rapidity that the great government gun factory was silent and practically deserted this morning. With such determination has the case of this one man been taken up that nearly 8,000 men have already ceased work and from 5,000 to 7,000 others may be involved today.

The trouble arose over the employment of a non-union laborer. The union executive recently issued instructions that if any man were called on to take part in a job in which non-unionists had been employed, he should refuse to take it. The first man to be called on was instructed to erect a machine on a concrete foundation which it is alleged was laid down by nonunion men. He refused and was discharged and the strike began.

A recount is being asked by the Conservatives and it will probably be held by the county judge this week.

FRENCH SUFFRAGISTS CARRY OLIVE BRANCHES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, July 6.—The feature of the French suffragists' demonstration here Saturday was the absence of the police, who are usually indispensable at manifestations in the French capital. Another distinctive feature was the large number of advocates of the franchise for women who carried olive branches.

The procession was headed by brass bands and numbered about 1,000, but a large proportion of those who marched were merely afternoon strollers.

NOT INVITED TO FUNERAL, ANGRY

Austrian and Hungarian Nobles March Alone

MADE THREAT TO RESIGN OFFICES

Family of Chotek Exalted as Hapsburgs Say Friends of Dead Duchess.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

VIENNA, July 6.—The restricted number invited to the funeral service over the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife in the imperial court chapel Saturday, although attributed solely to the limited accommodation, gave great umbrage to many titled friends of the couple who were not invited.

As a protest against their exclusion about 120 members of the nobles in Austria and Hungary, some of them being privy councillors and court chamberlains and nearly all holding court offices, decided to march in the funeral procession from the Hofburg to the railway station. This coming to the ears of Prince Montenuvo, chamberlain of the emperor's court, he hastily summoned a ministerial council to decide upon what action should be taken to prevent a demonstration, but the council, when informed that the nobles concerned would resign their offices if interfered with, decided to do nothing. Consequently when the nobles appeared, many of them wearing their official uniforms, the police made way and allowed them to fall in behind the hearses.

Say Duchess Dishonored

Those who joined in the protest also resented the discrimination manifested in the court ceremonial against the late duchess on the ground of unequal birth with the Hapsburgs. They point out she was a member of the ancient Bohemian family of Chotek, with a standing equal to their own.

Emperor Francis Joseph has written an autograph letter to the Austrian and Hungarian premiers, in which, after referring to the assassination of the archduke and duchess, says:

"If anything can comfort me in this heartfelt sorrow, it is the innumerable messages of sincere sympathy which reached me in the last few days from all sections of the populace."

BISHOP AGAINST FORCIBLE FEEDING

Head of London Diocese Says He Opposes Militancy and Government's Methods

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 6.—Mrs. D'Acre Fox, the suffragette leader, after interrupting the service at Westminster Abbey today with a protest against forcible feeding, was rearrested under the "Cat and Mouse" act.

The Bishop of London, who recently visited Holloway jail to investigate the conditions of the imprisoned suffragettes, writes a long letter to the Times explaining his attitude on the suffrage question. He says that he is strongly opposed to militancy but is anxious that the government's own weapons should not be tainted; that he strongly opposes forcible feeding and believes it should cease. He contends all analogies drawn from the forcible feeding of insane prisoners are false when applied to resisting and struggling women and that the process is "incompatible with Christian civilization." In conclusion the bishop says:

"Our sympathy should go out to the great law-abiding army of women who for years have endeavored to obtain the vote by "constitutional means."

JOSEPH MARTIN TO RETURN TO CANADA

Troubles With Liberal Party in England End With Decision to Live in Dominion

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, July 6.—Joseph Martin stated yesterday he would sail on the Aquitania Saturday to reside permanently in Canada. He will remain a member of the commons for East St. Pancras until the next general election.

A certain amount of friction has existed for some time between Mr. Martin and his political chiefs and a section of his supporters in the constituency over the independent attitude he adopted over certain questions, notably when he voted against the government on the "Marconi Question." In this connection he offered to resign his seat and fight on his own account, but received an intimation from the chief government whip that in such case an official Liberal candidate would not be brought forward against him.

DAME MORIN MAY AGAIN COMMENCE LIBEL ACTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, July 5.—The libel case of Dame Rebecca Chiniquy Morin, wife of Prof Morin of McGill university, against Joseph Begin, publisher of La Croix, which has been dismissed on a technicality by the court of review, will likely come before the courts again for rehearing.

The plaintiff, who is a daughter of the ex-priest Father Chiniquy, was awarded $3,000 damages against the newspaper in question on account of an alleged libelous article published in La Croix, but on an appeal being taken to the court of review the decision of the lower court was upset because the plaintiff had not been properly authorized by her husband to sue.

MABEL TO JULIA

Dear Julia:

I heard you speak at the club last week, and I enjoyed the little talk more than I can tell you.

Next time you have anything to say about household efficiency, I want you to take up the question of advertising.

Does every woman understand what an important part the reading of newspaper ads plays in her scheme of home economy? If I hadn't been a persistent ad reader from the start, I wouldn't have such a happy, cozy home today—neither would you.

Ever,
Mabel.

CHINA MARKET FOR APPLES, LUMBER

Oriental Millions to Consume Canadian Produce

FOSTER TO IMPROVE TRADE SERVICE

University Men to Be Trained to Increase Canada's Commerce.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 5.—That the Chinese are now clamoring for the luxuries of civilization and that they will provide a wide market with their millions of population for Canadian goods of a varied range, is the statement contained in a report of Trade Commissioner Ross of Yokohama. Dr. Ross states that the celestials are expressing a desire for articles which they see others use and that, once the fashion is set, a large demand will set in for special kinds of goods and articles.

Among the Canadian products for which he states a ready market can be found in China are lumber, fish, flour, condensed milk, apples, heating stoves, railway construction materials, ale and beer, shovels, picks and cheese.

It is said that such goods as are sent for sale in the Chinese market should be marketed with a distinctive trade mark which would strike the oriental mind and which should be continued unchanged after the fashion of its use had once been set.

To Train Commissioners.

For some time Sir George Foster has had under consideration the question of raising the status of Canada's trade commissionerships in other countries. Canada has, of course, no consular service of her own but, in common with other dominions beyond the seas, utilizes the services of British consuls in foreign countries.

However, where there are Canadian trade commissioners these to some extent fulfill the functions of consuls, and with the growth of Canada's importance abroad it is becoming the more necessary to appoint as commissioners men of the highest qualifications.

Sir George Foster therefore proposes to appoint to these positions as vice-consuls the best available univers*ity men, but before going to their re*spective posts they will undergo a special training in the department of trade and commerce at Ottawa and will be given opportunities to study the needs and necessities as well as the industrial conditions of Canada from coast to coast.

AMEND BILL TO LEAVE ULSTER FREE

F. E. Smith Forecasts Action of Lords—Carson Declares Men of North Are Ready.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRISTOL, England, July 5.—Frederick E. Smith, M.P., one of the Ulster Unionist leaders, speaking at an anti-home rule meeting last night, said that the house of lords would so amend the amending bill as to make the exclusion of Ulster terminable only when Ulster said "we want to come in."

Carson Wants No Limit.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, July 6.—Speaking at Herne Hill yesterday Sir Edward Carson declared his determination to go on to the finish in the Ulster matter. The people, he said, did not sufficiently realize that the home rule bill had been passed and that it could be passed into law upon presentation to the King. He presumed the ministers, as straightforward, honest men, would tell the King the position and that if he signed the bill there would be serious commotion in the north of Ireland, and if he did not sign it there would be serious commotion in the south of Ireland.

"Ulstermen," said Sir Edward, "have been making ready two years and they are now ready. They want no makeshift government—they want no six-year limit, no county limit. The sands are running out and I am being pressed forward and I am prepared to go forward. I go to Ulster next week and I hope still to have the token of peace. If not, we must rely on ourselves, and we will. I will not shrink from it."

The immigration officers had to bring the five to the detention shed here. Three attempts have been made to put them back on the Komagata maru, but the Hindus on the vessel refuse to allow them to get on, threatening to kill them. The trouble arose when the five complained to their friends here that Gurdit Singh was not giving them decent food.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 5.—A flat denial that Great Britain had brought pressure on the United States in connection with Panama tolls was made last night at the banquet of the American society by Viscount Bryce, former British ambassador at Washington. Lord Bryce said that he had simply advised his government that "if the president thinks it right to repeal or go to arbitration he will do it."

Lord Bryce added: "No country in the world has a stronger desire than the United States to do what is right and honorable."

Walter H. Page said the last letter to the Washington government regard*ing the Panama tolls was written by* Ambassador Bryce before the end of the Taft administration.

HILLCREST MINE CONDITIONS GOOD

Only Gas Found Was in Small quantities

EXPLOSION WAS OF HUGE FORCE

Witness Says Never Saw Sparks After Cave-in But Smelt Sulphur.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HILLCREST, Alta., July 5.—Just one month previous to the Hillcrest explosion the pit committee consisting of F. Pearson, president of the Hillcrest union; J. S. Quigley, superintendent of the mine; George Powder and James Gurton, two miners, made a report in the pit committee report book which was entered in the enquiry Saturday as evidence. This report, which is accepted as official by the miners themselves, states that the committee had entered all the roadways, airways and working passages of sections 1, 2 and 3 of the mine and found ventilation good, conditions good and a little gas in numbers 41 and 42. This latter is considered but a circumstance, as at almost any time some little gas could be found in the mine. That no report was made as to dust conditions carries with it the assumption that this feature is covered by the phrase "conditions good."

Two fire bosses—Dan Briscoe, who had charge of the mine the day before the explosion, and Charles Ironmonger, who was in the mine at the time of the explosion, were examined on Saturday. Their evidence was to the effect that Hillcrest mine was an ideal one to work in. Gas was never prevalent to any abnormal extent, ventilation was good, and the mine could not be classed in any way as a dusty one.

No Standing Gas

William Campbell, for the crown, deduced from them during cross examination, that at times floating caps of gas existed, but no standing gas. The former is a collection of gas which travels with the ventilation and which the whole safety lamp is susceptible to, while the latter exists in pockets and is stationary. Briscoe admitted that he had observed travelling caps some months previous to the explosion, but not lately, and they were found both in the cross-cuts and dead ends. These were overcome by ventilation. He had never heard any complaints from any of the miners regarding gas. He had never had any complaints regarding an undue amount of gas or dust in the mine at any time. Asked as to whether as fire boss he had ever refused to fire a shot in the mine, witness replied that he did when he observed the travelling cap of gas he had spoken of. The three successive days after the explosion he had gone into the mine and always found the gas conditions about normal, although the ventilation system was practically out of business in the lower workings.

Questioned by J. R. Palmer, acting for the miners, witness said the mine was closed the two days previous to the explosion, and he was made to admit that gas might accumulate to a greater extent under such conditions. He admitted that in addition to the prevalence of gas, an undue amount of dust might influence him in refusing to fire a shot, but he had never heard of any official forbidding the firing of shots on those grounds. During his shift he had sometimes found it impossible to examine all the airways in his district and he had talked with his superiors with the object of getting assistance, but he had never secured this.

Asked if he had ever experienced a blow-out in the mine, witness said he had not even heard of one. A blow-out, he explained, was a pressure of gas forcing out the coal.

Explosion Force Tremendous

Colin Macleod, having in mind the fact that the explosion drove out the 12-foot blind ends and drove the tank in No. 1 stope 200 feet, asked,

"Do you think it would be practicable to put in any stoppings that would resist the force of the explosion?"

Witness—No, I do not think so.

Mr. Briscoe said that he had plenty of time to examine all his district provided nothing extraordinary turned up. He described the ventilation as good. It was about 400 cubic feet per man per minute. The law required 200 feet.

Mr. Macleod—You say you refused to fire shots when you observed this travelling cap of gas. What percentage of gas was there?

Witness—Three and a half to four per cent.

Macleod—From 9 to 10 per cent. is the amount to cause an explosion.

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Briscoe would not call the mine a gassy one, as evidence of gas was immediately reported to the management and remedied. He believed every precaution was taken by the mine management to prevent explosions. No miner, he said, had ever come to him and reported the existence of gas in dangerous quantities.

No Indication of Gas

John Ironmonger, fire boss for 18 months and on duty at the time of the explosion, was then examined by Mr. Campbell. He said he made an examination of the mine on the day previous to the explosion and found no indication of gas or anything to cause apprehension. During the morning before the disaster he fired five shots and none of them were defective. He had never seen sparks following a cave in, but had noticed an odor as of burn*ing sulphur immediately following.* This was about eight months ago in the old workings.

ROBSON RECEIVES OFFER OF LOW PRICE SUGAR

Farmers' Institute May Meet at Syringa Creek in August—Many Visit the District

(Special to The Daily News)

ROBSON, B. C., July 5.—The monthly meeting of the Robson Farmers' Institute was held in the Columbia hotel on Thursday evening, and considering the busy season of the ranchers, especially those engaged in shipping small fruits, was fairly well attended.

A communication was received from the Kootenay-Columbia jam factory offering the members of the institute, as is done elsewhere, the season's supply of granulated sugar in quantities at a minimum cost. It was pointed out that the season's sugar supply was practically absorbed for this year. The thanks of the institute was tendered for the offer.

A communication was received from the department at Victoria offering prizes for an essay to be prepared and sent in by December 1 next. No definite action was taken.

The matter of the holding of next month's meeting was discussed. An invitation was received a short time ago by members of the institute residing at Syringa creek, who were present, stating that they would like to have a meeting of the institute held there in the near future. It was thought at the meeting on Thursday night that this could be made possible for the August meeting, and the secretary was instructed to communicate with the Syringa Creek members with this end in view.

The steam tug Dorothy Symonds of Nakusp tied up at the Robson dock on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. David Calder and their two sons, David and Arnold, of Edgewood, are visiting Mrs. Calder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry.

Penticton won from Oroville with a score of 9 to 2, but in the finals Peachland won with a score of 9 to 7. Penticton had a big lead in the first half of the game, but did not succeed in maintaining it.

The news spread like wildfire through town and in a short time the entire hill was covered by anxious people. As soon as the accident occurred the Granby officials, with C. M. Campbell, superintendent, at their head, began the most strenuous efforts to remove the ground and put their big electric shovel at work as well as every man that could be used.

Mr. McDougall has been with the Granby company for nearly 12 years. Mr. Tatham has been a resident of the camp since it was opened and leaves a family. Mr. Riordan has been with the company for a long time.

NELSON WINS ALL BIG EVENTS AT REGATTA

CREWS BEAT VANCOUVER, VICTORIA, PORTLAND AND COEUR D'ALENE IN SENIOR RACES A S WELL AS IN JUNIOR CONTESTS —CREATES NEW RECORD—TO ARRIVE HOME TONIGHT WITH SIX TROPHIES

(Special to The Daily News)

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, July 5.—By winning the senior singles, senior doubles and senior fours yesterday and the junior events in the same classes on Friday and Thursday, Nelson crews were victorious in every race in which they entered at the Coeur d'Alene regatta, beating oarsmen from Victoria, Vancouver, Portland and Coeur d'Alene.

At the regatta yesterday T. D. Desbrisay won the senior singles easily.

The banner event of the day, the senior four, was easily won by Nelson by six lengths. Four crews entered the race, the others being Victoria, Vancouver and Coeur d'Alene. Portland withdrew its entry on account of the illness of two of its men. Nelson and Victoria fought for first place during the first quarter. At the half mile Nelson had two lengths and was in the centre of the course with Coeur d'Alene's bow behind. It was a procession to the winning post for Nelson. Victoria and Coeur d'Alene fought hard for second place and Coeur d'Alene forged ahead at the finish line; Victoria was third and Vancouver last, about a quarter of a mile behind Nelson.

In the singles, Desbrisay took the lead in ten strokes and won easily by ten lengths. The Vancouver entry was second and Coeur d'Alene third.

Desbrisay then rowed double with Eddie Murphy, pulling away at the start, and Nelson finished, rowing easily, seven lengths ahead of Victoria, with Portland third, Vancouver fourth and Coeur d'Alene half a length in the rear.

It rained steadily all afternoon, but a crowd of 500 turned out.

Nelson brings home six trophies, having been the winner of first place in every rowing event and making a record which is without parallel. The Nelson crews will arrive home on the Crow boat Monday night with E. B. Butler, the Toronto sculler.

Nelson's time in the four-oar race for the mile and a half was 7.40.

HARVARD EIGHT WINS AT HENLEY

Takes Historic Grand Challenge Cup in Splendid Race Against Boston Crew

HENLEY, July 5.—Harvard second eight, rowing with splendid judgment, yesterday defeated the Union Boat club of Boston in the final of the grand challenge cup and secured the coveted trophy for the United States for the first time in its history, which dates back to 1839.

Boston got away with the lead and kept it for a short distance, but then became ragged. Harvard thereupon overtook it and soon put its shell in front and rowing in perfect form kept a good lead to the finish.

The Harvard crew received a great cheer as it passed the stands, the English collegians attempting the Harvard yell and starting a laugh which rippled along the course.

Harvard's victory is popular in England as English oarsmen assert that it is a vindication of the English style, which they say Chanler took from Eton to America.

The Harvard crew was composed of: Bow, L. Saltonstall; J. Talcott, H. H. Meyer, H. S. Middendorf, J. W. Middendorf, D. P. Morgan, Louis Curtis; stroke, Charles Lunt; coxswain, H. Kreger.

VANCOUVER HOLDS MANN LACROSSE CUP

Western Team Wins Final Game of Series Against Brampton—Angry With Lally

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 5.—Another challenger is awaited for the Mann cup, the Vancouver Athletic club defeating Brampton at Athletic park before 5,000 people by 6 goals to 2 and turning the adverse margin of one of the first games into a three-goal lead on the series.

A couple of years ago it would have been a joke to talk of 5,000 people attending an amateur game of lacrosse. This attendance on Saturday was a gratifying sign that though the professional game is down in the dumps, the national game has still a big and enthusiastic following and the same old-fashioned game of stick handling still comes second to no other form of sport on the coast.

The Brampton Excelsiors could not be regarded with the complacency which has been felt when other challengers had made their first bow. Instead of being smitten Brampton had done the smiting, and it looked as is the silverware was about to be carried back to the place of its origin in the east. Naturally the jubilation was all the greater when the Vancouver Athletic club reasserted the supremacy of western lacrosse.

This result was achieved by three changes in the Vancouver Athletic club team, all of which seemed to make for strength, and by improved condition.

There is not the least doubt that the Brampton team stepped on the field in the first game in far better shape than the western lads, but they had little over the Vancouver Athletic club on that side of the account this game. Vancouver played brilliantly, clearly outplaying the headlengers in the last three quarters. The total goals on the series was Vancouver 10, Brampton 7. The line-up:

V. A. C.		Brampton
Davis	goal	Campbell
Gillanders	point	Williams
Campbell	cover	Berham
Mason	1 def.	Mullish
R. Painter	2 def.	Warren
Carter	3 def.	Blaine
Adams	centre	Stevens
J. Painter	3 home	S. Proule
Hill	2 home	Ashley
Gilmour	1 home	Marr
Freedham	0 home	Davis
Wright	1 home	Charters

Vancouver officials announced today that they will immediately take steps to have Joe Lally deposed as Mann cup trustee. All the western lacrosse organizations are indignant at Lally's action in refusing to allow Kendall to play on the ground that he was a professional.

Joe Lally Explains

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CORNWALL, Ont., July 5.—Joe Lally says the reason the trustees objected to the playing of Kendall for Vancouver was that, according to Kendall's own statement, he had received travelling expenses to go from Kelowna, B. C., to High River, Alta., to play lacrosse and that his expenses were paid while there. This, says Lally, brands him as an out and out professional.

The Best Advertisement We Know of is a Satisfied Customer

And the latter is a "feather in our cap" of which we are justly proud. It is the printer's reward for work well done. The forethought, care and correctness in style which we put into the production of Printing for others might just as well be put into yours, and it would add another satisfied customer to our list and incidentally be another "feather in our cap." It has been our constant aim to live up to our reputation as "producers of high grade printing" and still keep within reasonable lines with regard to what it costs the customer.

Your printed matter is one of the principal promoters of your business, and therefore should be just as good as the article or articles you are placing before the public. You need the kind of printing we turn out. Give us a trial.

NELSON ROWING CLUB'S SUCCESS

The Nelson Rowing club is to be congratulated upon the success of its representatives at the regatta at Coeur d'Alene which closed Saturday. To have won every event in which they were entered at an athletic event of the kind is unique and demonstrates beyond question their superiority over their competitors.

It is nothing more than natural, however, that Nelson should succeed in rowing contests. Nowhere else in the country is there a sheet of water so suited to rowing as is Kootenay lake and it would be indeed surprising if the young men growing up in the midst of the healthful surroundings of this part of British Columbia did not turn their attention to water sports. In the past Nelson has achieved many successes on the water, but nothing so marked as at Coeur d'Alene within the past few days.

Next week the representatives of the Nelson Rowing club who won so sweepingly at Coeur d'Alene will have an opportunity of competing with other crews—with the best in the Pacific northwest—and while it can hardly be expected that they will then achieve the same measure of success they can be depended upon to worthily uphold Nelson's honor. In their efforts in this direction they will have the best wishes of the people of Nelson generally.

THE KRAFCHENKO PETITION

The Dominion government has just been called upon to deal with a petition asking for the reprieve of John Krafchenko, who was found guilty of murdering the manager of a bank at Plum Coulee, Manitoba, during an attempt to rob that institution. The government's decision, it has been intimated, is against any interference with the course of justice.

With such a decision, so long as the law remains as it is, there can be no fault found, notwithstanding the fact that 10,000 people, most of them weak sentimentalists, signed the petition to the government asking that the sentence of the court should be commuted.

There may be some question as to whether any crime, even murder, justifies the infliction of the death penalty, but the law as it stands so reads and as long as it does it should be carried out.

Either the infliction of the death penalty provision of the law of Canada can be justified or it cannot be. Whether it can or not is a question which might well be argued out in parliament. This much, however, can be said, that if the infliction of the death penalty can be justified there have been altogether too many commutations of such sentences within the past few years. The law should be enforced so long as it remains on the statute books.

The question whether a murderer shall suffer the death penalty for his crime is not one that should be settled through political pull on the part of a defending counsel or on the strength of petitions signed by people without thought or through sentimentalism.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Nelson should be proud of its rowing club and should support it generously.

The success of the Nelson Rowing club at Coeur d'Alene means that the regatta will be one of the best features of the Chahko Mika celebration.

So far as rowing is concerned the Nelson boys are for the time being "Lords of the North."

Only one week in which to make final arrangements for Chahko Mika. Let everyone turn to with a will to make it the success which it should be.

In the midst of the decorations and other preparations for Chahko Mika launch owners should not forget that a decorated launch parade is to be one of the evening features. Everyone who owns a launch should make an effort to do something in the way of decorating their craft for the occasion.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

Fireside Fishermen.

This is the time when the fireside fisherman ceases to read the classics of his favorite sport. He puts the last drop of oil into his several complicated patent reels. He stows away his lines with care. He ties a string around his book of flies. The poles are in their covers, the dewdads and jewsinflickers in the minnow bucket. They are all to go away in the depths of a closet or in a corner of the attic until next spring when the April skies proclaim the time of fishing at hand. You see, the fireside fisherman doesn't fish. Perhaps he has at some time in the past, or has some intention of doing so at some indefinite time in the future. His fishing is an indoor sport, a sort of periodical intoxication of imagination. He loves the touch of well made equipment as a cat loves the stroke of a human hand. He loves to possess everything that goes with angling, even to the useless and incumbering mechanisms that make fishing difficult. He is the mainstay of the sporting goods dealer. And if he can help it, he never wets a line. This might roughen it and muddy it.—Toledo Blade.

The Ideal Income.

As his income grows, grow his expenses. He wants a little more than he has. It is the definition, the description, of a man. Those who earn everything they have, dream in their hard-worked way of something they need not earn. Those who have enough without working for it work, sometimes, for more than enough. Enough? It is a word we must never pronounce. Remembering this, we adapt our Disraelian maxim to the needs of a new age and define the ideal income as the one you have already.—London Times.

Best Food for the Money.

According to investigations just completed at Harvard, oatmeal possesses the highest food value of any of the commoner restaurant offerings, considering the price as well as the quality of nutrition. Second comes pork and beans. Even pie—restaurant pie—has a high standing. At the bottom of the list tomatoes are placed, worth less at their price than any other form of restaurant fodder.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Another Lady Thinks "Fruit-a-tives" Greatest Tonic In The World.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913.
I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" because they did me an awful lot of good. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but they did all that your advertising claims for them, and as I said before, I cannot speak too highly for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other medicines, that I am glad to say so and I trust that some other woman may start taking "Fruit-a-tives" for I know the results will be all that you claim".

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF TIME ON BLACK BEAR

Having obtained an extension of time on the Black Bear group of mineral claims, situated at Sproule's siding on the Kaslo & Slocan railway from the owners, J. B. Bremner, Ovid Poulin and H. L. Jackson of Ymir and E. Peters of Nelson, on account of the backward season, J. J. Hennessy, who is operating the Jennie Bell at Ymir passed through the city recently en route for Kaslo. He was accompanied by Mr. Poulin.

STRIKE ORE NEAR YMIR

(Special to The Daily News)

YMIR, B. C., July 5.—Word has been received in town from the Virginia mining claim that a large body of high grade ore has been struck. The claim is owned by T. Wilkinson and G. Walker, both of Ymir.

Messrs. Thrum and partners have left with supplies for the Old-Timer mine. They expect to take out a shipment of ore.

INTERESTED IN SPOKANE GROUP

C. P. Hill, Director of Hillcrest Collieries, Will Visit Sheep Creek Silver-Lead Proposition.

With the view of looking over the Spokane group of mining claims on Sheep creek, with which he is identified, C. P. Hill, locator and formerly managing director of the Hillcrest coal mines at Hillcrest, Alta., and managing director of the Pacific Coast collieries on Vancouver island, is visiting the district. Mr. Hill reached the city from Montreal Friday night and registered at the Strathcona.

Mr. Hill was on his way to Sheep Creek to look over the Spokane group, which is a silver-lead proposition that is at present being worked by the Leib brothers, and he expects to return to the city tonight or Tuesday, when he will leave for Victoria. He expects to spend the greater part of the summer in the west, where he has large interests, and will again be in the district later in the year.

Mr. Hill is an old-timer in this district, his first location in the Kootenay having been at Libby creek and in the vicinity of Kootenay Falls, Mont., where he worked for many years a number of mining properties. He located there in 1888 and since that time has prospected the length and breadth of Kootenay and the Boundary. Port Hill on the Columbia river is a former place of residence of Mr. Hill; after him the townsite is named. He located there in 1892 and was for 10 years collector of customs for that port. The town of Hillcrest, Alta., is also named after Mr. Hill.

BOXERS ARRIVE FOR CHAHKO MIKA

Weeks, Lucca and Marshall Here—Three More Tonight—Lucca Will Work Today.

Frenchie Vaise of Renton, Wash., until Dominion day, when he lost on a decision to Johnny O'Leary at Vancouver, champion lightweight boxer of the Dominion, is expected to arrive in the city tonight to commence preparations for his bout on Wednesday of Chahko Mika week with Charlie Lucca, the well known little Italian lightweight of this district. Vaise will be at the Hume, which will in all probability be his permanent headquarters.

Dick Marshall of Fernie, who is to act as sparring partner for Billy Weeks, reached the city on Saturday night and is at the Grand hotel. Marshall is signed to meet Frank Street of Spokane in a preliminary bout to the Vaise-Lucca attraction.

Frank Street and Hector St. John of Spokane are expected to arrive tonight. They will act jointly in the preparation of Lucca for his mill. F. Osneatto, Lucca's old manager and trainer, is expected in the city shortly.

Lucca is daily doing a lot of roadwork and this afternoon will commence on light gymnasium work in the yard at the rear of the Grand hotel. He will commence his workout at 4 o'clock and the public is invited to attend. The time will be taken up with punching the bag, skipping the rope and other gymnastic exercises.

WILL ENTERTAIN WINNING OARSMEN

Large Crowd Expected to Be on Hand for Home-Coming—Luncheon at Hume.

All of the members of Nelson's conquering rowing crews who participated in the regatta at Coeur d'Alene, where they cleaned up the honors in every event in which they were entered, will return to the city tonight with the exception of Eddie Murphy, international champion in the junior singles and a member of the winning crew in the senior doubles, who reached the city last night.

A large deputation from the rowing club as well as a contingent of the boys' supporters will be on hand at the arrival of the Crow boat tonight to give them a welcoming home. They will be met with autos and driven through the city before going to the Hume hotel, where they will be entertained at a luncheon. Speeches and a musical program are being prepared for the luncheon and any desiring to attend the affair are asked to notify George Benwell, proprietor of the Hume, today.

INVITE BRAMPTON TO PLAY NELSON

Unsuccessful Challengers for Mann Cup Will Be in Nelson Thursday Evening.

If the management of the Brampton lacrosse club can be induced to have its team remain in Nelson over Friday the lacrosse enthusiasts and residents of the district may be given the opportunity of seeing a real classy exhibition of the national game. Word was received in the city on Saturday night that the Brampton boys, who proved formidable but unsuccessful challengers for the D. D. Mann gold cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of the world, against the Vancouver Athletic team of Vancouver, would reach Nelson on Thursday evening en route east, leaving on Friday morning on the Crow boat.

Immediately on receipt of the information the Nelson boys discussed the matter and last night wired to Vancouver asking that the Brampton boys stay over for a game on Friday. The local boys are confident that they would be able to make the Brampton Mann cup challengers extend themselves sufficiently to provide a good game.

RIFLEMEN TO COME FROM KAMLOOPS

Deputation Will Be Here for Interior Shoot—St. Denis Sixth in Grand Aggregate.

Paying a tribute to the manner in which they had been entertained by the members of the rifle association at Kamloops during their visit on the occasion of the annual shoot of that association and with the assurance that at least six riflemen from Kamloops district would be in Nelson for the annual shoot of the Interior of British Columbia Rifle association during Chahko Mika week, George B. Garrett of Greenwood, president of the interior association, and D. St. Denis of Nelson, a member of the executive of the association, returned on Saturday evening from Kamloops.

Nothing was left undone during the stay of Mr. St. Denis and Mr. Garrett in Kamloops that would tend toward increased comfort for them, they said.

That Pte. I. H. Lehmann of Kamloops, the veteran rifleman, who attended the interior shoot last year and carried away with him The Daily News and Bankers' cups, would be again in attendance at the shoot was the definite assurance given during the visit to Kamloops. Among others who will attend will be Norman Morrison, formerly of Slocan; Lieut. Weldon and possibly Capt. Clarke, Bandmaster Loughton and Lieut. Sjquoist. A very much larger attendance would have been ensured from Kamloops and the Okanagan, in the opinion of Mr. St. Denis, if the shoot in Nelson had been set for any other time but in the midst of the berry and other fruit harvests in that district, while a great many from that district are to attend the provincial meet at the coast which is held the week after the interior shoot.

Both Mr. St. Denis and Mr. Garrett were well up among the money winners at the Kamloops shoot and Mr. St. Denis gained sixth place in the Grand Aggregate. The Grand Aggregate was captured by Capt. Archer, Capt. Clarke, second; Lieut. Sjquoist, third; Pate. Lehmann, fourth; Sergt. Smith, fifth.

Mr. Garrett yesterday attended the shoot at Balfour, while today he will proceed to Cranbrook to discuss the rifle meet with the members of that association. On Wednesday he will visit Creston, returning to the city on Thursday, where he is expected to remain until after the shoot of the interior association.

While at Kamloops Mr. Garrett and Mr. St. Denis distributed a large number of the prize lists for the local shoot.

TELLS HOW TO FEED FOR EARLY WINTER LAYERS

The following article on "Feeding For Early Winter Layers," by Mrs. R. W. Chalmers of Thrums, appears in the Successful Poultryman:

At this season every one is trying to hurry on the young stock whether intending them for layers or table use. Almost the first question every visitor we have asks is: What do you feed them? And as that means your success or failure to get next winter's eggs, it is a very important matter; stint the young chickens in any way in food or space or in roomy clean quarters, and neither you nor they will ever get over it. To get winter eggs begin now if you have not already done so, when about six weeks old (especially with the light varieties) you can pick out the cockerels; if at all possible separate them from the pullets, and however intensive your methods of keeping chickens may be, do try to give the pullets and breeding cockerels free range. We feed regularly four times a day. Begin about 5 a.m., earlier if you like. You will not be at all likely to be ahead of the chicks—they will be waiting for you, even the very little ones will be ready for you, though they will slip back to bed for another nap after they have eaten and this will help them grow. Start the bigger ones scratching in some fine litter for some wheat, as even a chicken should work for its living and not eat the bread of idleness. If it can possibly be managed give them all the skim milk they will drink. They will take quite a lot, but you will find it profitable. Try at least to give them some every day. They will not then need beef scrap and will mature rapidly and begin laying early. Another very important matter is to feed oats. One slight drawback to this is that the young stock do not care much for plain oats, just as in our young days oatmeal porridge was not greatly appreciated; a little sugar and cream made a great difference to the porridge, and if you will take the trouble to boil the oats till soft and add a little salt, then dry them off with a little bran and shorts and feed in a crumbly condition you will be surprised at the difference it will make to the chickens; in fact, all the difference between plain porridge and cream and sugar. We feed this about 11 a.m., and even where you have a few hundred chickens it is not a difficult matter. Put the desired quantity of oats in a pail (a straight sided tin pail with a lid is admirable for the purpose), pour enough boiling water over to well cover the oats. They will swell out a lot. Let them stand in a warm place on the stove for a good many hours. If you wish them quickly put your pail directly on the fire and boil for half an hour. This is not expensive feeding and the result will pay you for any extra trouble. We have always had our pullets lay at from five to six months with this feeding. When we house them in the fall we then feed beef scrap and they soon settle down to winter laying. Oil cake meal is also a great help and is not really expensive if fed at the rate of a teaspoonful a day to an adult bird, it is so very concentrated. We feed a mash just barely moistened with skim milk between 3 and 4 p.m., then grain for the evening meal, and be sure to give them all they want. If we want to do good, steady work we need to eat wisely and well; and if we expect to get a comfortable income from our chickens, they must be well fed every day at regular hours. To the poultryman especially do the words of the old book apply: "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet and it tendeth to poverty. The liberal soul shall be made fat."

Surely the wise man knew about chickens.

REUNION OBJECTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Committee Describes What Is Meant by Old-Timer—Misapprehension Exists About Affair.

To allay some misapprehensions which have arisen as to the objects of the old-timers' reunion which is to be held in Nelson during Chahko Mika week, and more particularly to set aside any misunderstanding regarding the qualifications of an old-timer, the old-timers' committee of the carnival makes the following announcement:

"The end in view is primarily to do honor to the pathfinders of Kootenay and the Boundary. These naturally divide themselves into three classes: Those who came during the placer mining rush of the sixties and who are guests of honor; those who took part in the survey and construction of the Canadian Pacific railway in the eighties, and the men who were concerned in metalliferous mining in the eighties and nineties.

"Every effort has been made to secure the names of survivors of these different epochs and to notify them of the meeting, but necessarily many have been overlooked, as the committee had to depend on one or two men in each community to furnish the information and there could easily be omissions as well as an overlapping in the lists.

"No lists have been made of old-timers now resident in Nelson. The committee trusts that these will consider themselves hosts of their old tillicums and that they will without delay register their own names in the book kept for that purpose and thereafter do all in their power to make it pleasant for visitors. Indeed, the success of the reunion is dependent chiefly on these men, who have a large acquaintance outside and who therefore can best make those from outside points feel at home.

"The qualification of an old-timer is that he be considered an old-timer by the community in which he resides. It is impossible that a pioneer of, say, Creston could have been in his town as long as, say, a pioneer of Wild Horse, but the idea is the same; they were both builders. So that anyone who has been in the province long enough to have caught the old-time spirit should join in and help.

"Above all, the idea that he was slighted because he received no special invitation or notification should not be allowed to act as a deterrent to anyone. The committee has done the best it could."

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES GIVE PLAYLET HERE TOMORROW

In the basement of the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening the members of the Ladies' aid of that church will present a one-act comedy entitled "Mohawk Crossroads Ladies' Aid." The play will depict an old time ladies' aid meeting and is brim full of comedy from the rise of the curtain. Songs and instrumental selections will be rendered during the evening by local talent.

The Business Concern Which Advertises in A Good Clean Up-To-Date Newspaper Like The Nelson Daily News, Is Entitled to Your Dollars. Spend Your Dollars With Them.

Every advertiser in The Nelson Daily News, or those who may later on become an advertiser in this paper, assumes that the prospective purchasers know about what they want in the line of merchandise, therefore, with them quality comes first. Then comes the desire to have the people know about it.

They all have some particular feature connected with their business whereby they are quite sure they can serve the customer just a little better than some one further down the street may do; a brighter, more pleasant store to trade in, a little better delivery system, goods bought at a closer price for the benefit of their customers and in many ways, perhaps, a little superior, and of course they are anxious to tell the people about it.

They fully realize that no matter what the public's dealings with store keepers are, it wants the best service possible, at the closest price possible, consistent with good goods and fair dealing; and this is applicable to any line of trade and profession. It matters not whether it be the window cleaner, shoemaker, or the grocer, butcher, baker, lumber dealer, fuel dealer, blacksmith, clothing man, dry goods man, tinsmith or banker, in fact all lines of business come under the critical eye of the probable purchaser.

Dealers know that they depend upon the public patronage, therefore they proclaim the superior points in what they have to sell.

People used to spend their dollars without much thought as to what they were getting, or what the value might be, or what they were getting in return for their money, but it is different now.

The public is educated, the public is informed, the public chooses, picks and specifies.

That's why the readers of The Daily News get from the advertising columns daily, information which helps the man or woman purchaser to draw a sharp line between the known and the unknown business concern.

Know what you want, Mr. Buyer—then select almost any business house or firm in the columns of a good newspaper and you are pretty sure to find the right thing, the right concern, at the right price.

To the business interests of this growing city, I would ask you to study and think over these talks and I believe you will agree with me that all that is said is generally quite true.

FOR IMPROVEMENT OF ARROW LAKES

Survey Preparatory to Expenditure of Large Grant Secured by R. F. Green Will be Made

Among the grants for Kootenay riding secured by R. F. Green, M.P., at the recent session of parliament was one for $150,000 for dredging the Columbia river, particularly the narrow channel between the upper and lower Arrow lakes.

In connection with this work Harry F. Muerling has left for Burton, where he will take observations for guidance of the government engineers in laying out their plan of operation. Mr. Muerling was engaged upon this work last season and it is to complete what he then started that he has been re-engaged.

The plan of the government is to dredge an 8-foot channel which will be confined within a certain width, thus giving as far as practicable an even flow and at the same time preventing the formation of ice in winter which has interfered with navigation in the past. When the proposed dredging has been completed it is hoped that it will be possible to navigate both Arrow lakes all the year around.
