EUROPE MAY TODAY BE CAST IN THROES OF WAR

On Germany and Russia Rests Fateful Decision

MOBILIZATION IS NOW GENERAL

Russia, France, Germany and England Secretly Are on War Footing.

LONDON, July 31.—With peace hanging by a slender thread it is the opinion that today will see the die cast. Upon Russia and Germany depends the decision as to whether Europe is to be hurled into the throes of a struggle which will involve every great power of this continent.

Russia is declared to have mobilized a huge army of 2,000,000 men; France and Germany are reported to be secretly organizing their armies and fleets for the struggle which it is feared may break out at any hour. Already it is rumored that Russia has practically declared war on Austria, that invasion of Austria is imminent, while the belief is general in official circles in Berlin that the rulers of that country have decided upon drastic steps in support of its ally, Austria.

Great Britain is mobilizing her army, including part of the territorial force, and her fleet is ready for action.

Diplomats are pessimistic.

Germany Prepares for War.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—Early this morning comes news that the German cabinet, presided over by the emperor, at Potsdam until midnight and that a censorship over the telegraph lines is being imposed at Berlin.

This is interpreted as implying preparation for German mobilization and a few hours will probably decide whether Europe is to be involved in universal warfare. It is fully expected both at London and Berlin that Sergius Sazanoff, Russian foreign minister, will reply to Germany's demand for an explanation to the effect that Russian mobilization has already been ordered and cannot be canceled. In the event of Germany mobilizing it is believed that Premier Asquith will immediately ask parliament to sanction a large vote of credit as a necessary precaution.

War Risks Soar.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—War risks insurance reached almost panic rates here yesterday. Five dollars per cent was paid on specie from the United States on the liners Oceanic, St. Louis and Bluecher.

Peace or War Decision Near.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—A Berlin correspondent fears there is little to be hoped from Sir Edward Grey's mediation proposals and declares that the question of peace or war is to be decided within a few hours.

Expect Russia to Declare War.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says it is believed that Russia will declare war against Austria tomorrow. The despatch adds that if this should be the case it is understood that the emperor will go to Moscow to deliver a pronouncement in the Uspensky cathedral.

Russian Mobilization General.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—A St. Petersburg correspondent declares that, designed as only partial, the Russian mobilization is general and absolute and sailors of the Baltic and Black Sea fleets have been ordered to hold themselves in immediate readiness.

A Warsaw correspondent say that although officially there has been no mobilization order issued, the military authorities are in charge of the railways.

This Is Fateful Day.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 31.—The following is part of a cable from Berlin which was stopped by the censor when half sent:

"Berlin, July 30.—Europe's fateful day will be tomorrow, according to predictions. There is every sign that tomorrow the decisive word, peace or war, will be pronounced.

"The whole of Germany is wholeheartedly preparing for action. There is no doubt that Germany has made up its mind to take drastic steps. First, St. Petersburg will be asked why Russia is arming as long as neither Austria nor Germany threatens her. Everything will depend on Russia's reply, but it is understood the least evasive or insufficient answer will cause the kaiser to mobilize his army and fleet over night. The question will be asked tomorrow and reply is expected tomorrow evening.

"It is believed the wording of the question to Russia was settled this afternoon. The chancellor presided at the cabinet meeting, where the same

MILITANTS AGAIN RAID KING'S PALACE

LONDON, July 30. — Mrs. D'Arcy Fox and other militants today raided Buckingham palace in a further effort to present a petition to King George. They were arrested before they had got far within the precincts of the palace. A third woman meantime had chained herself to the railing around the grounds and was in the middle of a speech when she was arrested.

RAILWAY TAKES FIRE PRECAUTIONS

Eight Motor Speeders on Patrol Duty —Endeavor to Keep Loss at Minimum

Since the commencement of the dry spell eight motor speeders have been placed in commission in this district by the Canadian Pacific railway in order that preventive measures may be taken immediately in case of forest fires resulting from sparks from locomotives along the right of way of the railway, according to R. D. Prettie of Calgary, head of the forest department of the railway, who was at the Hume yesterday.

These motor speeders follow each train that leaves the city, states Mr. Prettie, and in this way the danger from fires resulting from the sparks from locomotives is reduced to a minimum.

"Vice-President Bury has stated," says Mr. Prettie, "that fires along the railway lines must be prevented, and every precaution has been taken. The Canadian Pacific railway is working in co-operation with the provincial government in its fire prevention work, and a large force of men is employed in this province and throughout the Dominion keeping a lookout for outbreaks."

Mr. Prettie spoke of the danger in this district at the present time and of the care that should be taken by ranchers, surveyors, prospectors, campers and others who were in the woods. He pointed out cases where serious fires had resulted from the careless casting aside of a match or a cigarette. Few large fires had been reported in the west so far this season.

The work of the railway company in this district is in charge of J. F. Barrett, who has a force of patrolmen working under him. Mr. Prettie will leave on the Crow boat this morning for the Crows Nest en route for Calgary.

The Great Northern railway is taking similar precautions in this district.

BELIEVE IT IS RELIC OF LOST STEAMER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., July 30.—The finding of a battered steering wheel similar to those placed at the after deck of lake freighters has convinced local marine men of the wreck of the steamer Liefield.

The wheel was picked up on the shore about 15 miles east of here by the tug George Young and is about 4 ft. in diameter.

The Liefield was lost with all hands last November when bringing a cargo of rails to the head of the lakes. No trace could be found of her after the storm and it was supposed that as she rushed down the slope of a big wave her cargo dragged her to the bottom.

COBALT MINING MAN THOUGHT TO BE SUICIDE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 30.—B. C. Wolfram, manager of the West Dome mine at Porcupine, was found dead in his room in one of the hotels here last night with a bullet wound through his head.

The presence of a large revolver suggests suicide. Wolfram had been in the Cobalt camp for seven years as prospector and manager of the Morgan-Cartwright company in the Temiskaming and other mines. He was unmarried.

FIND BODIES OF CHILDREN OF LATE COMMISSIONER REES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, July 30.—Word has been received at Salvation Army headquarters of the recovery and identification at Rimouski of the bodies of Capt. Madge Rees and Lieut. Harding Rees, children of the late Commissioner and Mrs. Rees, who were accompanying their parents to England on the Empress of Ireland.

The body of Capt. Myers of the staff band has also been recovered.

EMPRESS OF RUSSIA MAKES RECORD TRIP

CANADA WOULD NOT HESITATE

MILITIA COUNCIL DISCUSSES PLANS

Rainbow's Northern Trip Delayed--German Cruiser Coming Up Coast.

That Nelson and District Veterans' association would be prepared, in the event of hostilities being declared which would involve the mother country, to take steps to organize a corps from Nelson and district was the announcement made last night by Charles J. Archer, secretary of the local association. Although a meeting of the veterans has not as yet been called many of the members have discussed the matter among themselves and are only awaiting the declaration of hostilities before taking active steps.

The local association has a large membership, including many veterans of the South African campaign.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 30.—In the event of Great Britain being drawn into a general European war it is believed the organization and training of Canadian volunteer units will at once be proceeded with. At the time of the South African trouble nothing was done until after British arms suffered several reverses or until it had been demonstrated that the British forces were up against a much more serious task than had been expected. Should Britain become involved in the European conflict there will be no question as to the seriousness of the conflict. The fate of the Empire would be involved and the organization of Canadian volunteer units undoubtedly would be proceeded with at once and placed at the disposal of the war office. These forces, it is believed, would at first be sent to British garrison towns to reinforce regiments where they would receive additional training before being sent to the front to fight the trained veterans of Germany and Austria.

Discuss Canada's Part.

Discussing the existing situation as it affects Canada, the Journal says:

"What part is Canada to play in the terrible war drama threatening the world?

"Political, military and financial circles in the capital today are asking that question and guessing at the answer. The air is thick with rumors and conjectures of all kinds. All eyes are watching London. In political circles there is a growing belief that Sir Robert Borden will cut short his vacation at Muskoka and return to Ottawa. Another rumor is that if the war continues the government will call a general election this autumn, appealing to the country for immediate financial aid in defence of the Empire.

"Col. Sam Hughes hurriedly returned from Lindsay today and summoned a meeting of the militia council. While no official statement of the purpose of the conference was handed out it is learned that it was for the purpose of discussing the European situation.

Canada Cannot Remain Out.

"On all sides the attitude of Canada, in case Britain is involved, is being discussed. The prevailing sentiment on all sides is that if the Empire gets in the fight Canadians cannot remain out of it. That Canada is at war when the Empire is at war is an axiom accepted by both political parties.

"Under just what circumstances the Canadian government would offer troops to Britain is a matter for the government to say. There is the precedent of the South African war, although the present crisis would be of more vital importance if England were compelled to interfere."

The Citizen says:

"It is improbable that in the event of that emergency an extra session of parliament would be summoned, as there is always statutory authority for such unforeseen outlays, but it would likely mean a fall session of parliament in place of the announced intention of having it early in January.

Government Already Preparing.

"Of course, there will be no action by the government until something more definite develops and only if England is drawn into the fight. What is being done now is to survey the conditions as they obtain in the Canadian regular and volunteer militia and the present situation as regards instantaneous mobilization in the event of British participation.

"There is some suggestion that if parliament were summoned the naval bill of 1913 would be reintroduced and enacted. That there is any such intention is, of course, speculation."

Postpone Rainbow's Trip.

ENJOY SIMPLE LIFE AT BANFF

Viceregal Party Spends Holiday in Driving, Fishing and Golf—Only One Reception.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BANFF, Alta., July 30.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Princess Patricia and members of the viceregal party are spending their holidays at Banff in orthodox fashion. Yesterday afternoon their royal highnesses spent a couple of hours driving around the park and this morning Princess Patricia was out before breakfast for a horseback ride. This afternoon will be either spent at the golf links or at Lake Minnewanka, where a fishing lodge may be set up for the duke. The party will live the simple life here and from present indications there will not be more than one reception in the viceregal suite at the Banff Springs hotel.

MAKE COMPACT ON HOME RULE

Agreement Has Been Temporarily Reached Between Government and Opposition is Belief

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—A Belfast correspondent sends a report that late last evening an agreement was reached in connection with the proposed home rule amending bill. The compact is declared satisfactory to the Ulster Unionists, but it is still believed to be of a temporary and contingent character.

The new arrangement relieved immediate anxiety on the score of Ulster and affords a possible basis of ultimate settlement. No more contentious business will now be taken up in the commons until the tension is over.

Averts Civil War

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—An agreement has been reached on the home rule amending bill, thus averting danger of civil war in Ireland, according to a semi-official announcement. It was stated that the government and opposition have settled their differences.

GERMAN STOKERS THREATEN STRIKE

Object to Atlantic Liners Carrying Austrian and Servian Reservists to European Ports.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 30.—If Austrian and Servian reservists are allowed to book passage on the German steamships which sail from here for European ports the firemen on the vessels threatened tonight to strike

Oilers and firemen on the Vaterland, a Hamburg-American liner, due to sail on Saturday, met in a local theatre tonight and appointed a committee to visit the ship's captain tomorrow, requesting him not to carry Austrians or Servians from this country. The committee will make similar representations to the captains of the Kronprinz Wilhelm III. and Prinzess Irene of the North German Lloyd line.

Speakers tonight pointed out that if Germany engaged in conflict they would be called upon to serve and that German ships should not carry homeward bound Austrians and Servians and perhaps thereby add to a possibility of Germany becoming involved.

WILSON ATTEMPTS TO PREVENT STRIKE

President of United States Takes Role of Mediator in Great Railroad Dispute

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, July 30.—President Wilson has intervened to prevent a strike of 55,000 engineers and firemen on all railroads west of Chicago. Mediation by the federal board having failed, the president today requested the members of the board, the general managers' committee and the representatives of the men to confer with him at the White House on Saturday. His invitation was immediately accepted.

If the president cannot persuade the employes to arbitrate, a strike will be called Wednesday or Thursday, it is said. In addition to the engineers and firemen, 100,000 oilers and wipers may be involved.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 30.—Binders are at work on the spring wheat in the Warner district on the land of F. C. Leffingwell. A yield of 15 bushels per acre is expected.

BUILD PONTOON TO CROSS RIVER

Wild Enthusiasm for War Prevails in Austria--Servians Claim Victories.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, July 31.—A Vienna despatch says the Austrians crossed the Danube 18 miles east of Belgrade and the river Save 10 miles to the south. Belgrade has been captured and is now occupied by Austrian troops and the force which invaded Servia at Semedria is advancing along the road which leads to Osipanica and ultimately to Nish.

The occupation of Belgrade was carried out without serious difficulty.

The invading troops crossed the river party by means of the remnants of the railway bridge which was blown up by the Servians and partly by a pontoon bridge, constructed under its cover, and approached the Servian capital from the south. Scattering forces advanced by a steep hill, driving the Servians before them. The Servians retreated, partly along the road leading to Groka and partly toward Popvicks. The losses on both sides appear to have been comparatively light.

The invasion of Servia at Semindrida was a more difficult task. The Austrians built a pontoon bridge under cover of darkness from an island in the middle of the Danube where the channel narrows to 200 yards and the current is swift. The construction of the bridge was a hazardous operation. The work was perceived from the Servian shore and the Servians opened fire. The attacking forces were aided by artillery and infantry along the south shore of the island and succeeded in completing the bridge, over which they passed.

Doubt if Belgrade Occupied.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—With the exception of official reports from Vienna, given in the briefest form and thus far dealing with the bombardment of Belgrade and the capture of several Servian vessels on the Danube, little reliable news has been received here concerning the course of hostilities.

Numerous reports are current that battles are in progress at various points, including one from Milan that a heavy engagement is raging south of Belgrade, but, according to a Servian official, all attempts of the Austrians to cross the river have been repulsed and the reports of the occupation of Belgrade are considered premature.

Reports Belgrade Occupied

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—An Athens despatch says that it is understood that the Russian warship Tereto, in port at Corfu, has received news by wireless that Belgrade was occupied by the Austrians after heavy fighting and that 200 Austrians and 100 Servians were killed.

The seaport of Catarro, in Delmatia, has been occupied by the Montenegrins, according to the same despatch. Catarro is protected by the Montenegro mountains and has importance as the commercial outlet of Montenegro.

Belgrade Repulses Austrians.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BELGRADE, July 30.—The Austrians opened a heavy cannonade in their second attack on Belgrade at 11 o'clock last night. The guns of the Austrian monitors and the batteries at Semlin fired until 2 o'clock in the morning. Several buildings were damaged.

The Servian guns replied only occasionally. An Austrian gunboat was badly damaged.

An attempt by the Austrians to cross the river was repulsed with severe losses by heavy infantry and machine gun fire. The rifle fire lasted until 4 o'clock. There were no Servian losses. The Austrians made several other attempts to cross the rivers Save and Danube, but were everywhere driven back. It is reported that they intend to renew their bombardment of Belgrade today.

Take Servians Prisoners.

VIENNA, July 30.—The following official despatch was received tonight:

"About midnight machine gun fire was opened from Belgrade and in reply the Austria-Hungarian monitors bombarded the city. At 1 o'clock the powder magazine in Belgrade blew up. At dawn the Servians made another unsuccessful attempt to destroy the bridges.

"As shots were fired from the Servian custom house on our troops our artillery was trained on the building, which was quickly demolished. This was followed by the sound of rifle fire.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

CHARTER SPECIAL BOAT TO AUSTRIA

To Leave Canada for Front on Transport—Amnesty for Deserters—Serbs to Go Also

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 30.—The official proclamation of the partial mobilization order issued by the government of Austria-Hungary is published here today in the Ukranian Voice and other papers of the nationalities concerned.

The men concerned in the mobilization are being informed by announcement cards in addition to the mobilization order. The order promises that expenses of traveling will be paid.

The proclamation promises a full amnesty to all those who will immediately return home. This embraces those who are considered as deserters and who did not show up for conscription.

It is difficult to obtain any information regarding the number of Servians in western Canada, although orders of mobilization have been issued to them. There are not any Serbs in Winnipeg, but Moose Jaw and Regina number quite a few among their cosmopolitan population.

Sixty North Winnipeg Austrians leave for the fighting front next Wednesday. Their tickets have been purchased as far as Montreal.

At that port they will be mobilized by the consul-general of Austria, who is arranging, it is said, with the Canadian Northern railway for the charter of a special transport steamer.

The offence is punishable by imprisonment for a term ranging from one month to a year, as well as a fine of $10 to $2,000.

RAILWAY DISPUTE SHOWS NO SIGNS OF PROGRESS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, July 30.—Mediation of the controversy concerning wages and working conditions of 55,000 engineers and firemen on 98 western railroads entered its tenth day today with no change apparent in the situation.

The federal mediators indicated, however, that they had hopes of winning the consent of the employes in an agreement to arbitrate. The engineers and firemen before the federal mediators were appealed to had refused to consider arbitration.

Mobilization of Army Progresses Swiftly

FLEET HELD READY TO ATTACK ENEMY

Parties Drop Differences--Present United Front in Hour of Crisis.

LONDON, July 30.—In spite of carefully worded statements by the war office declaring that only "the usual precautions" are being taken, it is considered to be beyond question that the British navy and army, including a portion of the territorial force, are being swiftly mobilized and being placed on a war footing in readiness for the European conflagration which for several days has been impending and which tonight appeared to be almost inevitable. Peace and war are in the balance, Premier Asquith declared today.

Additional forces are being rushed to the east and southeast coasts to strengthen the defences against invasion, all shipping which approaches at night is entering ports under the glare of searchlights from the fortresses and the harbor of Portsmouth has been practically closed to private craft.

From Ireland soldiers are being drafted into England, the British warships on the Mexican coast have been called home, the position of the first fleet which yesterday sailed under sealed orders is known only to the admiralty, and police are being utilized to fill the places of soldiers who have been taken from guard work to assume their regular duties. It is assumed the fleet is so placed that it can strike a deadly blow at the empire's enemies in event of hostilities.

In the crisis which faces the Empire all parties have united and present a solid front to the world. Liberals, Unionists and the Irish parties have dropped all contentious matters in order that the government may not be embarrassed by domestic matters in dealing with the greatest crisis in the history of the British empire.

With the exception of the London Daily News, the Manchester Guardian and other papers classed as belonging to the "peace at any price" section of the Liberal party the press of Britain, including the London Daily Chronicle, is generally following the lead of the Times in the view that England must, if necessary, take up arms to prevent Germany from crushing France.

Britain Quietly Prepares for War

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 30.—The British navy is preparing for war at a moment's notice, and the British army is quietly and swiftly preparing. The war office throws cold water on the word "mobilization" and has issued another carefully framed official notice to the newspapers that only "the usual precautions" are being taken.

Nevertheless every step necessary to place the land forces on a war footing, except the summoning of the territorials to arms, has been taken. All the territorial officers received orders today to be prepared for a call to duty.

A large section of the engineers' staff of the territorials has been ordered on duty. It consists of electricians, mine layers, bridgebuilders and searchlight and lighthouse experts. Some of these forces are being sent to Ireland to replace the engineers of the regular army, all of whom have been withdrawn from that place for duty in connection with the land defences, particularly on the eastern coast.

Police Replace Soldier Guards

Every officer and private of the regular establishment on leave has been recalled. The only reason for absence accepted is serious illness.

All the police on leave have likewise returned to duty, some of them to replace the soldiers guarding the military stores and stations who are needed elsewhere.

The forces at Aldershot have been reinforced by various forces from other points and a battalion of the Duke of Cornwall's regiment which was about to embark for Hongkong has been detained.

The searchlights of the eastern coast whose office is to guard against a surprise invasion and which usually are manned by skeleton staffs, are now fully manned, largely by territorials. Coastwise steamers report the lights all along the coast as being in operation last night, playing their lights on every incoming and every outgoing vessel.

Fleet Location Mystery

None but the admiralty, which is in constant touch through wireless at Whitehall, knows the whereabouts of the first fleet, which left Portland yesterday, but it is a safe presumption that the fleet is in a position close to the channel, where it can strike the north sea in the event of hostilities.

The crisis could not have come at a more convenient time, for the navy has just been through a review on war footing, which took the place of maneuvers this year.

A notice has been issued virtually closing Portsmouth harbor to private

NUMBER OF MEALS HAS BEEN INCREASED

London Times Has Article on Evolution of Feeding Times—Dinner Once Taken Early.

One of the most outstanding yet scarcely recognized features of social life in England today is the way in which during modern times we have increased the number of daily meals, says the London Times. So marked is this that there might be ventured the thesis that the higher, or at least the more complex, a social organization the greater the number of feeding times per diem. In support might be cited the evidence that it was only with the nineteenth century that three meals a day became the accepted custom of the country. Dinner and supper are what may be called the two primary and statutory meals, and how these have developed into the modern routine of meals forms a curious bypath of history.

Down to about the fifteenth century dinner was served between 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning and supper between 3 and 5 in the afternoon. These were the only meals of the day, for breakfast was no more than the morning draught of ale or wine with a crust of bread on rising. It was with no more refreshment than this that Pepys, as also his predecessors and successors, began the day's work at 5 or 6 o'clock in the morning, very much as the artisan and laborer today still does with a cup of coffee at home or the rum and coffee of the early opening public house.

There being no breakfast, dinner was served proportionately early, the mediaeval hour being 9 a. m. Under Elizabeth the court and nation at large dined at 11 and supped about 6. Gradually and curiously these hours advanced and in the seventeenth century dinner was served at 1 o'clock in the fashionable circles, though until 1752 the under-graduates at Oxford and Cambridge still dined at noon. Under Anne 2 o'clock was the dinner hour and the forward movement continued, assisted by the growing fashion for chocolate to be served on rising and the habit of not rising so early. Though George II refused to dine later than 2 o'clock the fashionable hour was 3 to 4 o'clock. These innovations had many distinguished opponents. Pope complained to Lady Suffolk for asking him to dinner as late as 4 o'clock and threatened to refuse if he were again invited at such an unreasonable hour. Horace Walpole mournfully objected to dinner at 4 because it prevented him beginning his evening until 6 o'clock.

With dinner served at what had formerly been supper time and supper served at 10 or 11 o'clock, a morning meal became a physical necessity. About the end of the eighteenth century breakfast accordingly came in as a definite meal. Then began the era of famous breakfast parties—a more formal and sociable adaptation of the levees at which nobles and notables had received visitors while making their morning toilet. In brilliance and company breakfast rivalled dinner. There was not only talk but entertainment. Tom Moore declared breakfast was the meal for poets, and Macaulay, an inveterate breakfaster-out, asserted: "You invite a man to dinner because you must do so—but to breakfast because you want to see him. If a man is a bore he never gets an invitation to breakfast." Yet even granting the rigorous enforcement of Macaulay's dictum, the social success of these morning parties is frankly incredible to us of this generation which is of the same opinion as the worldly-wise mother whose daughter declared that she would only marry a man who was brilliant at breakfast. "My dear," said the matron, "you will be thankful if he is decently civil."

At these famous breakfasts the fare was of the simplest kind. Even at Holland house, the temple of luxury the meal consisted only of tea, coffee, eggs, rolls and butter. Roger, the poet-banker, provided the same fare. The varied and substantial breakfasts of today came in when society discovered the Highlands where the keen air and long day's sport demanded stouter preparation. These "Scotch breakfasts" excited great surprise when introduced into London, and Motley, the American historian, confessed himself amazed at their Gargantuan character. "When I reflected that all these people would lunch at 2 and dine at 8 I bowed my head in humiliation and the fork dropped nerveless from my grasp."

For, not content with instituting breakfast, the nineteenth century having postponed dinner until evening, proceeded to punctuate the interval by the insertion of lunch. Like breakfast, luncheon began modestly. An American visitor to London in 1810 noted the custom of a visit to a pastry cook's about noon "for a slight repast of buns, tarts, etc., and a glass of whey, at a cost of about 6d or 8d." But this refreshment expanded—as is the habit of refreshments—into a meal scarcely distinguishable from dinner. Yet the habit grew so slowly that a writer in 1855 described lunch as "hardly a recognized meal. It is one, however, that ought not to be neglected." Nor has it been, for with the growth of London and the rise of the suburbs, the early breakfasts and late dinners necessitated by the journey to and fro has made a midday meal essential to the city worker; while in social circles luncheon has taken the place of breakfast as an entertainment, without, however, affecting breakfast as a meal.

Even with lunch well established, appetite remained still insatiate and interpolated afternoon tea. The "4 o'clock" which some 30 or 40 years ago was a fashionable innovation, is now an institution among all classes. Even in city offices and business houses the cup of tea with biscuits is an accepted and acceptable feature of the afternoon, though what the merchant or banker of 50 years ago would have said to such an infringement of commercial routine is not difficult to imagine. The introduction of women typists in offices was responsible for the custom, though no such reason underlies the tea interval, which is now a recognized, but not entirely appreciated interval in county cricket.

Incidentally the institution of afternoon tea, which, by the addition of sandwiches, etc., to the original bread and butter has become in itself not negligible as a meal, led to the still further postponement of dinner so that 8 or even 9 o'clock is no unusual hour. In this as in so many other social customs, the lead was given by the late King Edward as Prince of Wales, and it may be recalled that when he invited General Gordon to dinner after his return from the Sudan, the general begged to be excused as at the hour named he was always in bed.

Dinner has thus been placed within hailing distance of midnight, so that entering the theatre at 9 and leaving soon after 11 man has discovered that supper is a social opportunity is not a physical necessity. So much is this the case that to escape the time limit placed by the law on supper at the Savoy or the Carlton, there has been the recent remarkable opening of night clubs for which no modern parallel can be found. Entirely different from the night clubs of other decades and doubtful reputation the modern supper clubs are of high social standing. They are the latest and most striking phrase of our modern solicitude for a good digestion and the multiplication of meals. Instead of the hurried supper at hotel which must evict its guests at 12:30, supper is taken quietly and with full leisure at the club. Nor does the already extensive, dietetic program for the 24 hours end there, for a club breakfast is served at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning.

It is really an amazing record of meals for a day. With complacence we contrast the simple, short, light dinner of today with the heavy banquets of long-drawn courses of not many years ago. There is almost a note of asceticism in our self-approval. But though we may boast of our lighter meals it must be remembered that we eat twice the number of times a day that our ancestors did. The bedside cup of tea with a biscuit or bread and butter leads to the substantial British breakfast, the satisfactory lunch, the refreshing afternoon tea with dinner as the climax of the day, the after-theatre supper and on occasions the 4 a. m. breakfast of ham and eggs which is now an indispensable feature at both public and private dances. Yet with so sustained a ministration to the needs of the flesh, slenderness is the characteristic of the present generation of English men and women. The gross indulgences at two heavy meals a day has given place to dainty yet satisfying trencher-work at short intervals. With civilization man ceased of course to eat only when and because he was hungry, but it almost seems that today we try to be hungry because it is fashionable to eat as often as possible.

CANADA'S CREDIT NOT ADVERSELY AFFECTED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 30.—That Canada's credit has not been adversely affected by the European situation is shown by the fact that yesterday was an exchange in currency between the Canadian finance department and England of about $500,000, on which the Canadian government made a profit of between $15,000 and $20,000.

"It is customary for us to make a profit on the rate of exchange between Britain and Canada," said one of the finance department, "but occuring as it does at the present time, when the whole of Europe is threatened with war, the rate of exchange speaks well for Canada's status."

Delegation Waits on Cabinet Ministers at Ottawa and Urges Action Regarding Unemployment

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 31.—A deputation representing the social service commission, the builders' exchange, trades and labor council, the city council and other local bodies, waited on the government today to strongly urge that active steps be taken at once to relieve the present unemployment in various parts of the Dominion and to prevent worse conditions during the winter of next year.

The cabinet ministers present were Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. T. W. Crothers, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. J. D. Reid and Hon. W. B. Nantel. The government was asked to establish labor bureaus in all the large centres and to find employment through public works or otherwise for the men now unemployed. One suggestion was that they be put to the improvement of lands which could afterward be sold to those coming to settle on the farms at a reasonable price. It was remarked that when the government was able to help the Canadian Northern to the extent of $45,000,000, it should be able to do something for the unemployed.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, acting premier, replied that the government had given and would continue to give serious consideration to the question of government unemployment bureaus and also that of finding some means of relieving the distress caused by unemployment. The government, he said, should not be criticized for aiding the Canadian Northern railway, but should be given credit for doing something that would aid in the condition of the unemployed. Whatever other criticisms might be aimed at the bill, this was one of its best features and was one of the primary reasons for passing it. The government would do what it could to provide the largest possible amount of employment during the coming year.

from England and from the crew of the cruiser Niobe, with a party of 50 national volunteers from Vancouver and Victoria, the Rainbow is now waiting with steam up in Esquimalt harbor. A week ago she was in Vancouver attending to the case of the Hindus' steamer Komagata. Since then she has been in drydock and is in as good cruising and fighting condition as she will ever be.

To Wait for German Cruiser.

An inquiry this morning at Esquimalt regarding her date of sailing was answered with the information that she is all ready, merely waiting for a wireless operator who will arrive from the east on Friday. It is said here, however, that she may be held after that date in view of the presence on the coast of the German cruiser Leipsig, which 10 days ago was reported in Mexican waters. The Leipsiz is on a training cruise and it also happens that a former Vancouver steamer, the Cetriana, is now employed as a tender for her. Early last week the German vessel was at Mazatlan. She is about the same weight a war vessel as the Rainbow and in the event of hostilities between Britain and Germany perhaps the most natural thing for her to do would be to make a raid against British Columbia coast cities. The Rainbow is the most effective defensive unit which the British Columbia cities would have to depend on.

Guard Nova Scotian Coast

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HALIFAX, N. S., July 31.—Preparations for the defence of strategic positions in Nova Scotia against raiding foes are proceeding here. The garrison was hurriedly mobilized this afternoon and 400 men of the Royal Canadian artillery manned the outer forces of the local defences. The Royal Canadian infantry which was at the Aldershot instruction camp 100 miles away was ordered back and is due tonight. A detail of 125 infantrymen leaves this morning for Canso to protect the Hazel Hill cable station. Another detail of 125 men left for Cape Breton to guard the cable station and collieries there.

There are about 3,000 Austrians in Cape Breton, working in the industries there and the authorities anticipate possible trouble from this source. It is generally expected three regiments wil be ordered out today for test purposes. In the scheme of defence for the Halifax fortresses the city artillery regiment mans the main torpedo batteries in several of the smaller forts while the heavy guns in the outer forts are manned by the regulars.

May Muster Today

The 63rd Rifles and the 66th Fusiliers also have stations assigned them in the general defence plan. While the headquarters office will say nothing officers of the militia corps anticipate a muster today for the purpose of seeing how quickly the city regiments can get on duty. Details of the army service corps, ordnance corps and medical corps are to accompany the detachments to Canso and Cape Breton.

The Canso detachment of the Royal Canadian Rifles, in charge of Capt. Langford, leaves by the government steamer Stanley at 6 o'clock this morning. The detachment for Sydney, in charge of Capt. Costin, leaves by train at 7 o'clock.

South African Veterans Ready.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 30.—Active preparations are being made by Austrians and Servians, of which there are a few here, as well as Frenchmen and Germans, to go home in case their services should be required. The Austrians and Germans are holding themselves in readiness for the word to start east, while the interest among the Greeks is equally intense.

On the other hand, a movement has already started among the South African campaigners, of which Capt. A. J. B. Melish is the president, to prepare for active service should Great Britain need them. While no official intimation has reached here, certain it is that old army men are standing by waiting for the word to go to the aid of the motherland.

The commanding officer of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, Col. Edward Leckie, has issued a notice, in view of eventualities, inviting recruits for the regiment so as to bring it up to its full strength and it is expected that the commanding officers of other local militia units will follow their example.

Col. Hughes Calls Conference.

OTTAWA, July 30.—Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, proposes to be prepared in the event of Great Britain becoming involved in a general European war.

The minister arrived this morning from Lindsay and immediately held a conference with the officers of the militia department. While nothing was given out subsequent to the gathering it is safe to assume that the department has already had inquiries from the British war office as to the whereabouts of imperial officers at present in Canada, either on duty or on leave of absence.

FRIDAY, JULY 31

WILL BE AT EMPIRE'S COMMAND.

Another twenty-four hours has passed without any real indication of what is to be the outcome of the situation in Europe, although despatches would indicate that the prospects for confining the struggle to Austria and Servia are even less bright than they were yesterday.

As matters stand the question as to whether there is to be a general war is to be decided to a large extent by Russia or Germany, or both. A decisive move by either or both will precipitate a contest into which practically all the other nations of Europe will be drawn.

Just what the understanding is between Russia and Servia no one but the diplomats of these two countries knows. Servia has apparently been holding her own in the preliminary fighting which has taken place between the forces of the two countries, a fact which does not tend any too much toward limiting the field of operations, for she can with better grace demand Russia's active assistance than if the Austrians were carrying everything before them.

While many reasons exist why Russia should stand by Servia, she also has scores of her own of years' standing which she would like to settle with Austria and perhaps the opportunity of doing so may not for a long time to come be so favorable. Germany, on the other hand, is not only Austria's ally but there is also bitter jealousy between her and Russia. If Russia takes Servia's part Germany will take Austria's and the struggle will begin.

That the situation is critical in the extreme and that the grave possibility of war is now generally recognized is attested to by the military and naval preparations going on in Great Britain. Even the coolest heads in the Mother Country apparently realize the possibility that within a few days Great Britain may be engaged in deadly war. In the emergency political differences have been forgotten and if the worst comes to the worst it will be an undivided British nation and an undivided empire which enters the lists.

The most sincere hope of every Britisher should be that a general war may be averted. But if events force Great Britain into participation in war Canada and the other overseas dominions will rally to the Imperial standard as loyally as they did at the time of the South African war. The resources of the overseas dominions in men and money will be at the empire's command.

THE BATTLE OF LUNDY'S LANE, JULY 25, 1814.

Saturday last, July 25, was the one hundredth anniversary of one of those events which give us just cause of being proud that we are Canadians, for it was the centenary of the battle of Lundy's Lane, when the Canadian troops and those of the United States met in battle—the most decisive engagement of the war of 1812-14 and the last battle in which the forces of the two countries have engaged.

The causes of the war are thus stated in Duncan's "The Story of the Canadian People":

What had happened so often during the French period reoccurred in 1812; a European war gave rise to hostilities in America. In Canada each province was intent upon its political strife, but at the rumor of war each was quick to take up arms in Britain's quarrel.

Almost all Europe was at the feet of Napoleon. Britain alone was a stumbling block in the way of the proud conqueror. To the removal of this obstacle the emperor devoted all the resources of the French empire. Hoping to ruin British commerce, he issued the "Berlin Decrees," closing European ports to British ships and declaring the ports of the British isles under blockade. Britain replied by orders-in-council requiring the vessels of neutral powers to touch at British ports and to pay duty before trading with European countries. These restrictions bore heavily upon the United States, whose ships were engaged in an extensive carrying trade. Almost immediately the American government retaliated by passing the Non-Intercourse act, stopping all trade with either France or Great Britain until the restrictions were removed. The bitter feeling of the United States toward Great Britain was increased by the action of the latter power in seizing and searching American ships for deserting seamen. Finally Great Britain withdrew the orders-in-council and made amends for any injustice done in enforcing the "right of search." It was not too late to avert war, and all differences between the two nations would have been removed had it not been for the Democratic party in American politics. The Democrats were in sympathy with Napoleon and eager to snatch Canada from Great Britain while the latter was fully occupied with the European struggle. The government of the United States declared war on June 18, 1812, although the reasons for so doing were much weaker than they had been four years earlier.

The war was continued with varying success—generally, however, in favor of Canada—until 1914. To quote again from the said volume:

In the Niagara peninsula there took place the most decisive struggle of the campaign. Forced back from Chippewa, where they suffered heavy loss in a rash attack on a strongly defended position, the Canadian forces, raised by reinforcements under Gen. Drummond to a strength of twenty-eight hundred, faced an army of four thousand Americans. A road lying within hearing distance of Niagara Falls, now famous as Lundy's Lane, became the scene of the last great battle of the war. From 5 o'clock until midnight the fight continued. Amid the darkness the combatants fought for the most part hand to hand, so that the loss on both sides was heavy. The fortune of battle swayed from side to side, but victory at last rested with the Canadians. The enemy, leaving their dead and wounded on the field, fled through the darkness to Chippewa. On the following day, throwing their heavy baggage into the river and destroying the Chippewa bridge, they continued their flight to Fort Erie. The American loss at Lundy's Lane was eleven hundred; that of the Canadians nine hundred.

Both sides were now ready for peace. On December 24, 1814, the treaty of Ghent, which formally closed the war, was signed. Both sides to it suffered greatly. The net result of it to Canada was that, "when the war was over a new spirit prevailed from Halifax to Michillimackinac. Upon the battlefields of the war the Canadian nation had its birth. This unity, born of a common danger, was to find its political fulfilment a half century later in confederation."

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

Longest Battle on Record.

British statesmanship is endeavoring to set up a home rule government in a country which has been fighting one battle for 224 years, and it is small wonder that there are two armed camps there now.—Chicago Tribune.

Rents Tumbling.

Rents are dropping in Montreal. They are tumbling everywhere, and landlords are learning a lesson. It is that high rents, quicker than anything else, will kill a city. They put an end, sooner or later, to any boom.—Kingston Whig.

Willing Workers.

"On every committee of 13 there are 12 men who go to meetings having given no thought to the subject and prepared to accept someone else's lead. One goes having made up his mind what he means shall be done. I always make it my business to be that one." This is what Joseph Chamberlain said of himself. He instanced a truth which is evident in every organization. Usually one man leads, and the others, because they are unprepared and uninformed, follow in the rear.—Lethbridge Herald.

Sensible Summer Wear.

Canadian men are slaves to convention. They are imitators—not originators. The man who takes off his heavy, sodden coat on the street on a hot day is a hero. The man who comes out in a white suit isscanned carecare-out in a white suit is scanned care-We want in this country a movement, a strong, authoritative movement, for common sense dress in summer. White suits should be worn more. Clubs formed by men who agree to wear white suits would help.—Montreal Mail.

Abe Jinkins, who was a cripple and dependent on the charity of his warp-natured brother, old Doc Jinkins, led purty much a dog's life of it fer years and years. Every night him and the doc uster play chess together and every night he let doc beat him as sorter payment fer his board and keep. But it uster rankle him somethin' fierce ter have ter be licked and

Every night fer a week he made that crusty brother of his'n look like an amateur chess player and at the end of every game he gloated over the old man. Then he died—but you bet he died happy. Abe had ter wait a long time fer satisfaction, but it was some satisfaction when he got it!

question was discussed. Now that diplomacy's last possible step has been taken there is nothing to do but await Russia's reply."

Germany and France Mobilize.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

PARIS, July 31.—It was announced here last night that a movement toward mobilization by Germany will mean corresponding action by France. Both nations, however, are secretly mobilizing.

Report Russian Invasion Begins.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—A report has been received that the passports of the Russian ambassador at Vienna were handed to him on Thursday morning and that Russia is reported to be invading Austria.

Think Report Likely True.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—No confirmation here can be obtained of the report about the Russian ambassador at Vienna, but experts think it probable.

Germany Addresses Russia.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 30.—While the news of the actual developments in the Austro-Servian conflict is indefinite, news is coming in from the capitals of Europe showing activity in the direction of preparations for war, but hopes are yet entertained of averting a general struggle.

Germany has addressed a note to Russia requiring an explanation of Russia's mobilization and in the absence of a satisfactory reply it is feared that Germany may take steps to mobilize also. It is understood that on the failure of his conference scheme Sir Edward Grey invited Germany to suggest some way out of the difficulty and all eyes are now turned to the German emperor as the man upon whom Europe's fate depends.

It is believed that if the German emperor desires it, peace will be maintained. The German view is that it behooves Great Britain and France to bring pressure on Russia to allow the two principals to settle their differences without outside interference.

Every Nation Takes Steps.

In the mean time every nation in Europe is taking active steps to be prepared for any eventualities.

The Telegraph's correspondent at Vienna, who is often the mouthpiece of the Austrian government, says that Sir Edward Grey's mediation proposal must not have the object of modifying the peace terms agreed upon by the belligerents.

"The Austro-Servian conflict in all its phases from the wording of the note to the ratification of a peace treaty," he says, "is deemed to be a matter which concerns those states alone, just as Count von Arehnthal, the late Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, refused firmly to discuss the annexation of Bosnia-Herzegovina with any power but Turkey, and accepted the suggestion to come to a conference only on the express condition that this question should be eliminated from the list of topics to be dealt with.

Means War is Inevitable.

"So will Count von Berchthold decline to admit of any conference between Austria and Servia when the conditions of peace are being settled, signed and ratified."

If this correspondent's statement represents the Austrian policy, as probably it does, war with Russia appears inevitable.

Think Germany Spars for Time.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—A St. Petersburg correspondent says that partial mobilization has been ordered by Russia and is confined to the army corps along the borders of Austria.

Prolonged diplomatic conferences at St. Petersburg, adds the correspondent, have been devoid of practical results.

The persistent unanimity of Austria's and Germany's views and responses to Russia's despairing appeal for a hearing, he says, compels the unwilling conclusion that all this diplomatic effort has been mere by-play to gain time. Hardly any doubt exists that Germany will now throw off the mask and openly mobilize.

Belgian War Excitement Grows.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BRUSSELS, July 31.—War excitement increases and the Belgian government intends to call to the colors three or perhaps five more classes of reservists, numbering about 65,000 men. The exportation of horses, automobiles or other vehicles, oil or products of oil has been prohibited.

Along the border horses and vehicles have been requisitioned in large numbers.

The forts at Liege, Namur and Antwerp are being provisioned and troops are being lodged in schools and private houses. The people are conserving stocks of food, fearing war prices.

The governmental archives are ready to be shipped to Antwerp and the king has postponed his proposed visit to Namur. He is in frequent conference with his ministers.

Issues Special Notes.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERNE, July 31.—The Swiss government has authorized the issuance of 20-franc notes on account of the international situation.

Vienna Pessimistic.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, July 31.—Opinion concerning Russia's attitude in the Austro-Servian situation is becoming extremely pessimistic. The feeling of pessimism was strengthened today by the news of Russia's preparations, which was regarded here as meaning a complete mobilization of the Russian forces. It is well known here that the peace efforts of European diplomacy will not succeed if Russia considers her long fostered plans at last ripe for realization.

Russia Has Two Million Armed

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.—The Russian government officially notified Austria and Germany today that she had ordered partial mobilization of 14 army corps. These corps number 1,120,000 men.

With these forces on a war footing, Russia has more than 2,000,000 men in the field. Officers necessary for reserves have been notified to report to their stations immediately.

With the czar presiding, a meeting of the entire cabinet was held at Peterhoff today. This meeting is regarded as the most important one in the history of modern Russia. Official announcement as to the outcome is awaited with tense anxiety.

Holland Calls Out Reserves

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

THE HAGUE, July 30.—Holland today called all the army reserves, frontier guards and coast guards to the colors.

France Takes Financial Steps

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, July 30.—The French government has issued a decree limiting withdrawals from saving banks to 50 francs ($10) for each depositor. Withdrawals can be effected only on two weeks' notice.

The Bank of France has decided to place in circulation 20-franc and 5-franc notes, for the purpose of relieving the difficulties of commerce arising through the disappearance of gold and silver.

Czar to Take Command

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—The streets of the capital were overflowing again last night with enthusiastic subjects and patriotic demonstrations continued without cessation. The British and French embassies and the Servian legation are surrounded by crowds of cheering Russians, who apparently have been stirred to a high degree of patriotism by the war spirit which prevails everywhere and the report that the emperor, in case of hostilities, is to take command. This feeling has extended also to the distant workmen's sections of the city.

RIFLEMEN PLEASED WITH COAST SHOOT

High Scores Were Hung Up During Week—Fred Weir Will Go to Ottawa

Delighted with the treatment which had been accorded them at the coast and at the success of the annual shoot of the British Columbia Rifle association, the members of the team which during the shoot at Vancouver last week flew the colors of the Nelson Legion of Frontiersmen Civilian Rifle association have returned to the district. The team was composed of H. Murray, R. C. Ingils, H. J. Inglis, Crawford Bay, who were at the Hume last night; R. W. Hinton and F. Weir, Nelson; and F. G. Morin, Trail.

Nearly every member of the team was well up among the money winners at the big shoot and in the team matches the representatives of the local association finished well up in competition with the crack coast aggregations. All during the shoot the weather was ideal and the scoring was high, which made it very creditable to land any of the money.

F. Weir did not return with the remainder of the team but will go direct from the coast to the annual shoot of the Dominion of Canada Rifle association at Rockliffe range near Ottawa.

The Crawford Bay members of the contingent were in the city last evening and will return to the bay this morning.

It is expected that within the next few weeks two teams from Nelson will visit Crawford Bay, where they will shoot against the Crawford Bay team. D. O. Thomas, captain of the local association, is looking after arrangements for the proposed visit.

WINNIPEG MAN MAKES REMARKABLE RIFLE SCORE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 30.—The most successful meeting in the history of the Manitoba Provincial Rifle association closed today with the prize money pretty well distributed. The conditions were ideal for good shooting on all three days and some good scores were recorded. The feature of today's shooting was the remarkable performance by Charles P. Burns, a Winnipeg shot, who made the wonderful score of 202 out of a possible 210 in the second stage of the lieutenant-governor's event.

The Ottawa grand aggregate, the blue ribbon, goes to Sergt. A. Denholm of the 79th Cameron Highlanders, Winnipeg, who reached the fine total of 479.

The McMeans team shoot was won by the 95th Saskatchewan regiment with the score of 186. The 90th team of Winnipeg cleaned up most of the team events. The cadets showed fine form in their shoot during the afternoon.

TAN, RED OR FRECKLED SKIN IS EASILY SHED

To free your summer-soiled skin of its oiliness, muddiness, freckles, blotches, or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercolized wax, which can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine, powder-like particles. Gradually, the entire cuticle is absorbed, without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way.

If the heat tends to loosen and wrinkle your skin, there's an effective and harmless remedy you can readily make at home. Just let an ounce of powdered saxolite dissolve in a half-pint witch hazel and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and smoothes out the lines, making you look years younger.

Where to Spend Your Dollar How to Spend Your Dollar

You have all experienced misfit clothes and misfit other things too numerous to mention.

How about misfit purchases?

Careless buying frequently results in extravagance and disappointment. This comes from putting off your shopping until the last minute.

It comes also from not knowing definitely what you want or what you need or where to get it.

Shoppers themselves are largely responsible for the ill-humor of salespeople.

You have doubtless seen men and women shopping who had no idea of what they ought to buy. After taking up one or more salespeople's time fussing and fretting and jumping from one thing to another, they buy something that does not suit or fit or please.

All of this might be avoided by preparing before hand. A few minutes' careful reading and studying of The Daily News and its advertisers appearing in the paper will inform the mind and turn a disagreeable shopping tour into a pleasant afternoon. The happiest shoppers are those who read the advertisements in The News and other good newspapers.

They save time, money and worry. Why not avail yourself of a ready-made local market? Why not trade and deal with the businesses of all kinds that appeal to your patronage through the columns of a good newspaper?

CANADA LINE WOULD BE PREY TO WARSHIPS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, July 30.—The Canada line, operated by the North German Lloyd shipping pool and for which the White Star company is agent in Montreal, is affected more than any other local shipping company by the present European situation. The Canada line vessels fly the German flag and are of German registration.

"The moment there is a rupture between Germany and any other European power we will be advised by cable," said a prominent White Star official today. The Canada line vessels would be prey for the belligerent war vessels, he added, and there is no doubt the scheduled sailings between this port and Hamburg would be interrupted indefinitely.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS PLAYERS BEAT GERMANS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 30.—Anthony F. Wilding and Norman Brooke, the two Australian tennis stars, scored the first two points in the semi-final round of the preliminary series of matches here on the turf courts of the Allegheny Country club. Wilding was the first to take on Oscar Kreuser, the second string man in the singles of the German team, the latter being beaten by 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. In the other match Otto Groetscheim, captain of the German forces, went down before Brookes, 10-8, 6-1, 6-2. The doubles will be decided tomorrow.

WANDERERS HAVE BIG LEAD OVER TORONTO ELEVEN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 30.—With but two wickets to fall to close its second innings and only 36 runs ahead of the Wanderers team's first innings, the Toronto Grace church eleven has a hard road to travel tomorrow when the Wanderers team goes to bat for its second innings. Only a marvelous stand by the last two Toronto wickets and a complete rout of the Wanderers can give the visitors any hope of a win, but they are fighting every inch of the way on a forlorn hope. The Wanderers scored 153 on the first innings of which Tom Smith made an excellent 57. Clogg 37 not out, for the visitors in the first innings, and Delehanty not out 21 in the second were the features of the visitors' play.

It has Ended 60 Million Corns

This little Blue-jay is removing a million corns a month.

It is doing that for hundreds of thousands who used to doctor corns in old ways. And every one of those legions of people would gladly tell you this:

That Blue-jay stops pain instantly. That the corn comes out in 48 hours without any pain or soreness.

That Blue-jay is applied in a jiffy. And from that instant one forgets the corn.

That the corns never come back. New ones may come, but the old don't reappear.

Think of that, you who pare corns, you who use old-time methods. A famous chemist, in the one right way, has solved the whole corn problem. And that way—Blue-jay—is at every drug store waiting for your use.

Don't you think it time you tried it—now that sixty million ended corns owe their fate to Blue-jay?

NEW YORK SLUMP IS TREMENDOUS

Standard Stocks Tumble From Six to Seventeen Points—Export More Gold—War Risks Higher.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Developments in the European financial situation caused great activity on the stock exchange today. Liquidation began at the opening and continued throughout the session, with business in greater volume than at any time in several years. The total overturn amounted to 1,325,000 shares, with maximum losses ranging from 6 to 17 points in the more influential issues, while a few specialties fell off even more.

Selling from foreign sources probably aggregated one-fifth of the day's operations, but no definite figures were available because of the conditions which accompanied the movement. Lowest prices were reached in the final hour on announcement that Germany had served an ultimatum on Russia. Prices crumbled from sheer weight of the offerings and the large number of "cash" transactions testified to the extreme demands of the situation.

In addition to the news from abroad there were vague rumors as to home conditions. It was the intention of the clearing house commission to hold a meeting of routine character, it was said, but because of conditions it was deemed wise to postpone action.

Another contributing factor of adverse character was the continuance of gold shipments to London and Paris in the face of a further advance in "war risk" rates by the insurance companies.

The Standard Oil company, to allay any alarm, offered large sums of call money at prevailing rates, which were slightly above yesterday, with another hardening in long maturities.

Foreign exchange was demoralized, it being practically impossible to negotiate bills between this and European points at the more excited moments of the day.

The bond market was extremely weak, losses ranging from 2 to 6 points. Total sales, par value, $4,475,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ODESSA, July 31.—The bourse has been closed for three days. The greatest activity prevails in the corn market.

WOOL TUMBLES

SYDNEY, Australia, July 30.—Competition was greatly restricted at the wool sales here today as a consequence of the European crisis. The better descriptions were quoted at 10 per cent lower, while the inferior qualities showed an even greater decline. The bulk of the wool offered was withdrawn.

LONDON PRICES MERELY NOMINAL

Bank Rate Rises One Per Cent—Four Additional Failures Occur on Exchange.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 30.—Quotations in the stock market here today were purely nominal, jobbers declined to make bids or ask prices on any active issue and the market was at a practical standstill.

The business was rather more active than yesterday. At the end of the day prices were nominal and the cessation of publication of the list was under consideration. Consols were weak and off one-half point. The market closed at the lowest, the depression being later accentuated by the increasing gravity of the international situation. Four further failures were announced, one of which was important. Dreinberg & Co., a house with large foreign connections, was the largest of the four. Notification of the postponement of the Paris settlement relieved many houses and made the markets feel much easier.

An advance in the Bank of England rate was made today, as expected, by 1 per cent to 4 per cent. The 3 per cent rate had been in effect since Jan. 29 last when it was reduced from 4 per cent. The present rate is not unusually high. Last year the rate was never below 4½ per cent. Under normal conditions there would have been a reduction this spring, but strengthening of gold reserves by the continental banks led the Bank of England to protect itself by holding to a high rate.

It is impossible to predict later movements of the bank rate. France is expected to draw money from the bank and if the demand of that country is large the rate is likely to be raised almost immediately. Should any of the great powers become involved in the Austro-Servian difficulty almost any rate would be possible. The quotations for call money and bill rates were just nominal today.

The prices given on international stocks showed decreases ranging from ½ to 4½ points. Amalgamated Copper, Canadian Pacific railway, Steel and Union Pacific were the losers of more than 3 points on the prices obtained, while Union Pacific was down more than 4. Canadian Pacific railway touched 171 but closed at 164. Grand Trunk railway was lower on fears of reduction in the dividend on the second preferred stock. Brazilian, as usual, relapsed. The exchange rate is demoralized and stands now at 15-32.

WHEAT SOARS ON WAR DEVELOPMENTS

Flour is Already Up Fifty Cents Per Barrel—May Close Chicago Pit—Trading Wild

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 30. — Winnipeg wheat opened 6c up, oats ¼c, flax ½ to 1c up.

Liverpool cables were of such a character, indicating serious developments in Europe, that a sharp advance in wheat on this side was inevitable, and the market was extremely strong and active, and the volume of trade transacted was large.

Oats made a sharp advance in sympathy with wheat, and flax was steady during the early part of the session, but at noon had a sensational decline of 10c. Both July and October options sold here at the dollar mark; December at 98½c.

There was a rumor current here that the Chicago board of trade will be closed if the fury of speculation there is not abated.

The cash market is practically demoralized, but some trade was done in 1 and 2 Northern. Flour is practically up 50c per barrel, but likely to go higher tomorrow.

Receipts were 76 cars inspected and 170 in sight.

Liverpool closed 5½c up.

Winnipeg close: Wheat—July 99¼; Oct. 98⅜; Dec. 97.

Oats—July 40¼; Oct. 40½.

Flax—July 1.56; Oct. 1.59¾; Nov 97⅝.

Minneapolis—July 97; Sept. 95⅝; Dec. 97⅛.

Chicago—July 94; Sept. 94⅛; Dec 1.61; Dec. 1.56.

Flour Trade Demoralized

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, July 30.—The flour trade is demoralized and a sharp advance is now inevitable. As a matter of fact, flour quotations in both Winnipeg and Minneapolis are practically withdrawn from the market. One of the big western mills advertised a 50c per barrel advance this morning. This was really merely a feeler.

The president of one of the great milling concerns said:

"With wheat practically at $1.00 per bushel we shall be forced to raise prices, but we do not want to establish a new basis on a market like today. Right now we do not know just where we are, for wheat fluctuates 2 or 3 cents in as many minutes. The market will steady itself in a day or two."

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR IS BEST KNOWN BACHELOR

It is rather curious that some of the most charming men in the world should be confirmed bachelors, although it is indisputable that they enjoy the society of the fair sex.

When one examines the alleged reasons for their failure to take themselves wives one is bound to admit that reluctance to break away from established habits seems to be the likeliest explanation.

The best known bachelor is Right Hon. A. J. Balfour. The ex-Unionist leader's studious habits and the extraordinary way in which politics have engrossed his life for the last 30 years have dismissed thoughts of marriage from his mind. Also the fact that he has always had a delightful sister to look after his interests and preside over his table has been an additional inducement to him not to change his bachelor life. There has never been any suggestion that he found himself uncomfortable in the society of the opposite sex. Indeed, his frequent attendance at social functions is rather a proof that he finds the ladies attractive.

Is Woman Hater.

After Mr. Balfour the most discussed English bachelor is Lord Kitchener. In his case the belief has long prevailed that Britain's agent in Egypt has been a woman-hater, and certainly he has never shown any great disposition to be attracted by them.

The known fact that Kitchener has never sought the society of the fair sex is sufficient reason for them to court his company. There is great curiosity to discover why so fascinating and handsome a soldier is proof against the lure of feminine beauty.

Ambition Chief Influence.

Nevertheless, it is the most utter rubbish to describe the hero of Khartoum as cherishing any dislike to women. In his case ambition has had the strongest influence over his life, and if a man of his reserve would speak frankly it would be found that had he met the right woman in the right social rank he would have married her.

The wealthiest bachelor in the world is undoubtedly Alfred de Rothschild. Bachelors are very rare among his race; his single state therefore all the more marks him out for comment.

In his tastes, his mode of life and his temperament he is the bachelor by choice. The busy world of finance, collection of rare curios and paintings, the opera, and his own private band have satisfied all the needs of his nature.

M. Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, is a confirmed bachelor. An entertaining man, of homely habits, he would have made an ideal husband. Diplomacy, however, seems to have absorbed all his interests and left him a lonely man in the great Albert Gate mansion, which is his official residence.

Another diplomat who has never married is the Marquis de Soveral, the great friend of the royal family, formerly minister for Portugal at the court of St. James, and King Manuel's most trusted confidant.

Preferred His Books.

The Bishop of London has celebrated his fifty-sixth birthday without entering the holy bonds of matrimony. In his case, a certain studious turn of disposition seems to have been the main reason for negativing marriage.

Dr. Ingram varies his lonely bachelor life with golf, cycling and fives, but the absence of the joys of the benedict is reflected in an ascetic line of thought that produces books of the type of "The Men Who Crucify Christ."

Sir Thomas Lipton is a millionaire bachelor whose friends still hope that romance may yet give color to a remarkable career. Lipton, according to the explanation he himself has vouchsafed, has never met the right woman.

As for Sir Thomas Dewar, 13 years Lipton's junior, he is a bachelor mainly because he seems to have made up his mind never to marry, and to choose recreations that help toward this end.

A young man who is spoken of as a likely bachelor is the Hon. Neil Primrose, the very talented and good-looking son of Lord Rosebery, who was left a fortune of $1,000,000 by his aunt, Miss Lucy Cohen.

STAVANGER, Norway, July 30.—The Norwegian aviator Lieut. Gran, who was a member of Scot's antarctic expedition, made a successful flight over the North sea today from Croudin bay, Aberdeenshire, landing at Keip, near this place. He accomplished the flight of 320 miles in 4 hours and 10 minutes.

RAVAGES OF WORMS FELT IN DISTRICT

Cut and Army Worms Do Damage—Spray Recommended—Agriculturists Sow Cover Crops

Ravages on nearly all manner of vegetables and fruit trees are being made by army and cut worms in some sections of the district, states M. S. Middleton, assistant provincial horticulturist, who returned to the city yesterday morning after a tour through East and West Kootenay and the Boundary. The foliage on both vegetables and fruit trees are being attacked by the worms, which destroy them entirely if preventative measures are not taken.

As a spray against the deprecating worms, Mr. Middleton recommends 2 to 2½ lbs. of arsenate of lead to 40 gals. of water. This sprayed on the plants which are being attacked will kill the worms. If the worms attempt to climb the trees and attack the foliage the use of tree tanglefoot is recommended by Mr. Middleton. A small band of the tanglefoot should be wrapped around the trunk, which will prevent them climbing.

The sowing of cover crops is occupying the attention of agriculturists in the district at present, states Mr. Middleton, and many of the ranchers already have their cover crops sown. Leguminous crops, such as the hairy vetch and Canada field pea, are the best for sowing among trees in the orchards, states Mr. Middleton, while general cover crops such as rye, oats and fall wheat are also being sown. In some cases where available potash is required for the soil, rape and cowhorn turnips are being used.

"The present time is the best for sowing cover crops, the earlier the better. The crops should be sown deep with the use of a disc harrow," concluded Mr. Middleton.

He will leave on the Crow boat this morning for East Kootenay, where he will make a further inspection of the district and the work which is being conducted at the experimental farms.

Britain Presents United Front

Two Germans suspected of being spies were arrested in the Isle of Wight today and are detained in jail.

The political force or the country is also mobilized almost solidly, presenting, in Premier Asquith's words to the commons today, a "united front."

The remarkable sight was witnessed today of Premier Asquith and Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, who a few days ago were on terms of personal as well as political hostility, driving in the same car for a consultation with Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs. The prime minister announced in the commons that the amending bill to the home rule bill would be dropped for the time being by the consent of all parties—all parties including the Irish Nationalists and the Covenanters.

Bonar Law said:

"In view of the premier's announcement, that peace and war are in the balance, domestic differences must not prevent our presenting a united front in the councils of the world," and added a word in behalf of Sir Edward Carson, Ulster leader, to the same effect.

Irish Forget Differences

The spectacle of a solid front in support of the government by all sections of the Irish in the commons was even more remarkable than the reconciliation of Mr. Asquith and Bonar Law. The traditional sentiment of the home rulers that England's extremity is Ireland's opportunity was buried when the Irish members murmured "hear, hear," to the premier's plea for unity.

Not only the home rule question, but all measures likely to arouse party or international hostilities have been sidetracked. These include the naval vote, which inevitably excites discussion of Germany's policy, and the vote for imperial defence. Nevertheless there is a strong, though apparently a minority, feeling that Great Britain should maintain neutrality, whatever comes. The peace section of the Liberal party, which through past years of strained relations with Germany has worked for reconciliation and which often has been called "the little Englanders," is taking a strong stand against the war. Its spokesmen in the press are the Manchester Guardian, one of the most powerful papers in England, and The Daily News, which is owned by a rich Quaker family named Bradbury.

The Guardian said today:

"Rather than be guilty of this madness, there is no constitutional measure of revolt which Englishmen ought not to use who think more of their duty to their country than the real or imaginary interests of Russian autocracy".

It regrets that the Times is for war and still is regarded in Europe as speaking with the voice of the British foreign office.

The Labor party also opposes war unitedly. Its members in the house today adopted a resolution praising Sir Edward Grey for his attempts at mediation.

"The Labor party hopes that on no account will this country be dragged into a European conflict in which, as the premier has stated, we have no direct or indirect interest."

The resolution calls upon all the labor organizations to oppose war vigorously.

Socialist societies in several cities have held meetings of protest against the war.

The Dutch reservists in England have received telegraphic instructions to return to Holland forthwith.

The Cunard steamship company denies the report printed in the United States that the Aquitania has been commandeered for war service.

Applications for passports at the foreign office this week have exceeded all regords.

Admiralty Warns Colliers

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CARDIFF, Wales, July 31.—The British admiralty has sent the proprietors of the collieries notice warning them against shipping coal and has notified them that all coal is liable to be taken by the admiralty under emergency contracts. The admiralty agents have asked tenders for steamers ready to sail immediately on charter of 15 days or longer. All the crews must be British.

War Office Asks Secrecy

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 31.—The war office last night sent a request to 11 newspapers to refrain from publishing all news of British naval and military movements.

Provision Prices Leap Upwards.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—The price of bread and other provisions is leaping upward simultaneously with every addition to the gravity of the situation abroad. The fear of interference with the transportation of Baltic cargoes has increased the price of foreign flours 50 cents and bakers have already decided to raise the price of a quarter loaf one cent on Tuesday next It is believed, however, that there will be no great variation in prices if the war is localized. However, if the Russian production is stopped only Americans will be left. Shippers here are jubilant over the American record crop and feel that America can help the old world more than ever before. Canada, too, will assist, but there will be no corn from Australia until January. Argentina and India have little to spare. Provincial markets in England report a rise in the price of English wheat of from $9 to $10.50 since Saturday. The normal price is about $8. Russian butter and Danish bacon is from $1 to $2 higher at wholesale, adding 2 cents a pound to the retail cost of butter here. The shortage of provisions in Paris and Vienna is due chiefly to the eagerness of housewives to lay in a big supply in case war causes famine.

Thus an artificial rise in prices will be cause. All the continental cities are really well stocked with food at present and there is no danger of a genuine shortage for some time.

May Float War Loan.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—Speculation was rife all day yesterday over the possibility of a big credit vote being passed next week for the use of the various departments of the government concerned in a possible European war. The returns would be largely shared between the admiralty and the war offices.

Even precautionary measures such as those being now undertaken have involved a tremendous expenditure.

WINNIPEG, July 30.—A grain exchange cable from Liverpool today states that the British reserves have been ordered to mobilize, and that the Aquitania, the biggest British liner, has been ordered to Portsmouth.

Reserve Territorials Called Out

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 30.—The British war office tonight explained the calling out of several sections of the special defence force of Great Britain as follows:

"It was in accordance with the ordinary routine when precautionary measures are put into force. Only the special reserve sections of the territorial force are being employed and no other territorials are involved in these measures."

Sink Party Differences.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, July 31.—To close up ranks that all may face any common enemy and to sink party differences when danger of a catastrophe threatens is the advice tendered by all the Unionist press this morning.

The Times and other great metropolitan dailies declare that if Germany mobilizes and France follows suit this country must instantly prepare to support her friends. The duty is elementary and the action is even demanded for self-preservation.

FALL OF BELGRADE MATTER OF DOUBT

"During the Servian attempts to blow up the bridges 16 Servians were captured by our men and taken to Petervardien.

"It is rumored that serious disturbances have broken out in New Servia, where the non-Servian elements are reported to have refused to enter the army."

Capture Austrian Spies.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, July 30.—The Servian legation here received a message tonight from Nish saying the bombardment of Belgrade was resumed by the Austrians at 6 o'clock this morning. Shells were directed at the principal streets of the city. The telegram added that several Austrian spies had been captured by the Servians.

Little News From Front

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, July 30.—The only news thus far received from the Servian side concerns the damage to the Semlin-Belgrade bridge. This bridge was regarded as neutral and its destruction is considered a breach of international law.

A semi-official despatch tonight concerning the movements of the Austrian forces says:

"The covering line of our troops on the river Drina has been pressed forward to the main arm of the river. There was some fighting during this advance but not of a serious nature. One man on the Austrian side and about 10 Servians were killed. Bands of Servians vainly attempted to harass the Austrians at Bjelina."

Frenzied Crowd Cheers Emperor

A crowd estimated to number 30,000 had gathered at the station and cheered the emperor with frenzied loyalty. The emperor appeared to be in better health than for a long time past and was deeply moved with the warmth of his reception.

Cafes, restaurants and other resorts are now deserted in the evenings while the main streets are filled with singing and cheering processions.

From all parts of the monarchy comes news of old officers and soldiers volunteering for active service. The volunteers number men of Bosnian origin who display patriotism equal to that of the Austrians.

PLANS OF PRINCE OF TECK ARE DISCUSSED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, July 30.—No confirmation can be obtained here of the report from London that Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck will leave for Canada so as to reach here about the time the Duke of Connaught returns from the west, about Sept. 7. The despatch stated that the object was to allow the new governor-general an opportunity to discuss certain matters with the duke before the latter departed. It is definitely stated, however, that the usual practice will be carried out and that the present governor-general will leave Canada just before the new governor-general arrives.

The Duke of Connaught will sail from Quebec on October 21 or 22 and Prince Alexander will arrive on Oct. 23.

The plans were decided before the royal party left for the west.

The half-year's report shows they saved the sum of $559.65, distributed as follows: Interest, $159.55; Bonus on Goods Purchased, $1,000.08; carrying forward to a reserve fund $400.00, making a total to reserve of $650.00 for the past 12 months. The people who are forever complaining about the high cost of living should certainly make every effort to get into this institution, and thereby take advantage of getting their goods at wholesale prices, plus the cost of handling.

FIRST APPLES ARE SHIPPED BY UNION

Good Prices Being Received—Prairie Agents Feature Kootenay Fruits at Exhibitions.

The first shipment of apples to be made this season through the Kootenay Fruit Growers' union was made during the earlier part of this week and steady fruit shipments are now being made through the union by the growers of the district. The apples are Yellow Transparents and $2 a box net was the price obtained by the shippers for the first, and though the price has already dropped a little it remains fairly firm.

The union's agents in the prairies are making exhibitions of Kootenay fruits at the various fairs in that section. At Regina an excellent exhibit of cherries and other small fruits was made, while preparations have been completed for an exhibit at the Saskatoon fair, which will open shortly.

EXPLAINS ONTARIO COMPENSATION ACT

F. Bancroft of Canada Trades and Labor Congress Gives Address on Labor Legislation

F. Bancroft, vice-president of the trades and labor congress of Canada, last evening addressed a public meeting in Miners' Union hall on the new workman's compensation act of Ontario. The speaker said that experts considered this piece of legislation the best of its kind on the North American continent and compared favorably with any in the world. He said that the act was based upon the principle that victims of industrial accidents and their dependents should receive compensation and that the cost of this compensation should enter into the cost of production in the industries of the state.

He explained that should a married workman be killed under this act the widow would receive $20 per month for life and each child under 16 years of age would be paid for at the rate of $5 per month until the age of 16 was reached. In case of permanent injury a man would receive 55 per cent. of his earning capacity at the time of the accident for the remainder of his life. If temporarily injured he would receive the same percentage of his earning capacity while laid off. Should he be injured in such a way that he would only be able to undertake work which paid less than his former job he would receive 55 per cent. of the loss in earning capacity. The law applied to women as well as to men.

The industries of the province were grouped and each group taxed according to the number of accidents in that group the preceding year, the amount of taxation varying directly with the payroll. This fund was administered by a commission of three men.

IMPERIAL YEAR BOOK GIVES FULL STATISTICS

Canada and Empire Given Full Consideration in Work—Compilation Took Three Years

A copy has reached the office of The Daily News of the Imperial Year Book for Canada for 1914-15. The book consists of 576 pages of valuable and useful information regarding the Dominion. It is the work of one man and was three years in the process of compilation and was issued on Dominion day, making it a sort of national birthday book.

Statistics of nearly every nature in connection with the Dominion since Confederation in 1867 are given within the two covers of the book and wherever possible the statistics are given in 10-year periods. Clear classification has been aimed at in every section of the book and progressive sequence has been sought all through. For instance, the provinces come in the order of their admission to Confederation, the universities in the order of their formation, the self-governing Dominions start with Newfoundland, which is the oldest, and the smaller units of the empire are arranged in the usual order of the continents—Europe, Asia, Africa and America.

The statistics used in the compilation of the work were secured from the official blue books of the Imperial Dominion and local governments and all financial figures are given in dollars, and, except where stated, $4.86 is taken as the equivalent of one pound sterling. Wherever the figures are obtainable, Canada's trade with other parts of the empire is given. To business men and others who desire the latest statistics of the Dominion and empire in permanent and handy form the work will prove a boon and it is the first book dealing scientifically with the empire published in Canada.

Information and statistics are given in the book under the following heads: Calendar of national and imperial events; viceroys, governors and lieutenant-governors of the empire; list of agents-general of the Dominion in London and of Canada's trade commissioners and commercial agents throughout the world; diplomatic and consular corps, Confederation, imperial authorities, Canadian government, electoral statistics, ministries, government departments, king's privy council for Canada, judiciary, Canadian trade, railways and canals, finance section, post office, fisheries, Marconi wireless system, shipping, criminal and divorce statistics, militia and defence, Dominion lands, immigration, Canadian Indians, labor, customs, inland revenue agriculture, naturalization, minerals, commissions, titled Canadians, churches and religions, education, press, sport, societies, provinces and the empire at large.
