PART OF ULSTER TO BE EXCLUDED

Liberals in Revolt at Reported Agreement

GENERAL ELECTION TO FOLLOW BILL

Extraordinary Scene in Mr. Justice Darling's Court--Witness Box Bewitched.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—It is circumstantially stated this morning that an agreement has been arrived at on the Ulster problem. There will be a partition of the Ulster counties Down, Antrim, Derry and Armagh, with an area of 3,326 square miles and a population of 794,272 Protestants and 351,372 Roman Catholics, will be excluded from the operation of home rule, while Donegal, Tyrone, Fermanagh, Cavan and Monaghan, with an area of 4,958 square miles and a population of 96,606 Protestants and 339,444 Roman Catholics, will be included in the rest of Ireland under the self-government plan.

The completion of the settlement of the terms depends upon the question of handing the customs and postal duties to the parliament at Dublin.

It is said that a condition of the Unionist acceptance of the scheme will be a general election immediately the compromise bill is passed.

This would kill the Welsh disestablishment and the plural voting bills and consequently the bitterest opposition is anticipated from the advanced radicals, but this could doubtless be overcome by a promise that these measures would be at once passed upon the return of the government to power.

Liberals in Revolt.

Although it will be fully six weeks before Mr. Asquith's statement on the home rule compromise is made, there are growing signs of revolt in the Liberal ranks on the belief that the premier contemplates the exclusion of Antrim, Derry, Down and Armagh from the operation of the home rule bill for a number of years.

The leading government organs say some such solution is contemplated. It is suggested that court influences have made themselves felt and there will be much suspense in Liberal circles until Mr. Asquith makes his declaration.

Meanwhile the results in the pending by-elections are expected to have considerable weight with him in deciding the line to take. In spite of the talk about compromise, it looks as if the bill will have to be forced through.

Witness Box Bewitched.

An extraordinary and remarkable series of events occurred in Mr. Justice Darling's court of the King's bench division yesterday. So strange and peculiar were they that great secrecy had been preserved and none of the London newspapers either yesterday afternoon or this morning mentioned the occurrence.

A member of the plaintiff firm in the case of Davis company vs Pigache, who is suing for the money involved in a stock exchange transaction, had just completed his evidence, and was being cross-examined by a prominent barrister named Clausen, when suddenly the witness turned deathly pale and before anyone could reach him he lapsed in a dead faint on the floor. He was taken out and followed on the stand by Mr. Satterthwaite of the London stock exchange, but only a few seconds after the cross-examination began huge beads of perspiration had broken out on Mr. Satterthwaite's face, he turned white and faintly asked the judge for water and a chair. The case was stopped for a few minutes while the witness recovered from his faintness. The next witness was the official assignee of the stock exchange, and he was not under cross-examination for more than a few seconds when he staggered, clutched at the rails of the witness stand and gasped, "My God, this place must be bewitched." He then fell back fainting.

Mr. Justice Darling immediately ordered a search to be made of the witness stand and the vicinity and discussed the mysterious happenings with counsel, but nothing was discovered. The fainting fits occurred in each instance just as Mr. Clausen began his cross-examination.

Bust Pleases King.

After attending the Rugby match between England and Ireland on Saturday the King, accompanied by the Queen and Princess Mary, went to Drury Lane theatre and witnessed the pantomime. This is his majesty's first visit to a pantomime since his accession to the throne, and he evidently enjoyed it. On Sunday afternoon their majesties visited Sir George Frampton's studio and inspected his busts of themselves, which will be added to the collection of statuary in the Guild hall.

The King was so immensely pleased that he immediately commanded that his bust be immediately sent to the Royal academy exhibition.

LINER IN DISTRESS STEAMER TO RESCUE

Has Hundred and Forty-seven Passengers Aboard—Propeller Broken, Unable to Proceed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The French line steamship Niagara, from Havre for New York, is in distress about 130 miles off Ushant, the westernmost of the islands off the coast of Britany, according to a Havre Lloyds representative.

The wireless says the Niagara has lost her starboard propeller and one blade from the propeller on the port side. Much anxiety is felt for the safety of the liner, and a steamer has gone to her assistance.

HAVRE, Feb. 15.—The French liner Niagara, which is returning to port disabled, has on board 147 passengers, of whom 46 are in the first cabin. The steamer Bordeaux has been sent to assist her. It is believed the captain of the Niagara found it impossible with his broken propeller to make headway against the high seas. The Niagara sailed from Havre on February 7 for New York, with 147 passengers aboard.

MURDERED BOY IS SAID TO BE JEW

Ritual Murder Case Causing Excitement in Russia—Red-headed Man and Lamplighter Disappear.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

KIEV, Russia, Feb. 15.—The murder of the boy at Fastoff, which was, it is alleged, committed for ritualistic purposes, is assuming the dimensions of the Beiliss case. As in the earlier tragedy, stories of mysterious characters have been introduced, such as a "red-headed" man and a "lamplighter," both of whom have disappeared. The Black Hundred and the Union of Russian People are showing their old time anti-Semite activity.

The minister of justice, M. St. Chegiovitoff, and other judicial officials, have arrived at Kiev and are sifting the evidence. On their arrival they were acclaimed by deputations from the Union of Russian People and the Two-Headed Eagle organizations.

The leaders of the Black Hundred, after first asserting that the victim was a Christian, subsequently declared that he was a Jew, and that he had been murdered by Jews in connection with the Beiliss case, for the purpose of disproving the allegations that in the so-called ritual murders, Christians were invariably selected. Newspaper correspondents are thronging to Fastoff.

Pashkoff is still in prison, as is also the Russian peasant, Gontcharuk, who is said to have been seen with the boy on the day of the murder.

ATTEMPTING RESCUE PERISHES IN FLAMES

One Killed and Eight Injured in Fire that Consumes Minneapolis Pickle Factory

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 15.—A shipping clerk's life, eight employes and firemen more or less severely burned or scalded, and damage exceeding $100,000, was the toll exacted in a fire which today destroyed the six-storey plant of the Northern Manufacturing company, pickle and vinegar manufacturers. The shipping clerk was William P. Howe, a 65-year-old employe, who had been with the firm nine years, and he was seeking a girl worker whom he believed still remained in the blazing building. The girl was Rose Schultz, who had been carried out by M. C. Cousins. Both Miss Schultz and Cousins suffered burns on hands and face.

Among the injured the greatest sufferer was John Wanderson, assistant engineer of engine company No. 1, who was so badly scalded that he may lose his sight.

The fire, the cause of which is unknown, started in the basement near the elevator shaft, up which shaft it traveled with rapidity, so that in a few minutes the interior of the building in the vicinity of the elevator was a seething furnace. It being an off-afternoon, there being only 16 employes at work, most of whom were on the ground floor. When the alarm was given they rushed to the exits and all got safely out, though several were burned about the hands and face.

The aged shipping clerk, who was working on the first floor, was helped out by other employes and firemen. Once in the open he became alarmed for the safety of the Schultz girl and before they could stop him he rushed back into the furiously burning building. He was never seen again, and his body is believed to be buried in the ruins.

The pickle plant, which is situated at 420-422 Third avenue, was owned by John S. Brewer. The stock, valued at $60,000, will be a total loss, while the building, worth $50,000, may yield a little salvage.

Damage to the extent of about $5,000 was done to the neighboring structure.

IMPORTANT BILLS TO BE INTRODUCED

Doukhobor Legislation and Irrigation Act Coming

BUDGET SPEECH MAY BE POSTPONED

Report of Commission on Agriculture to Be Tabled This Week.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 15.—Although the fourth week of the present session of the legislation has closed there still remains a considerable amount of legislation to be brought down in the house.

Up to the present time there has been 25 public and 18 private bills introduced, and of this number only three have passed their third reading. They are the acts authorizing the payment of expenses to the members sitting on the railway commission, the act ratifying the agreement between Victoria and Esquimalt regarding the construction and maintenance of a joint sewer, and the act to amend the Canadian Northern Pacific Extension act. Of the remainder, 15 public bills and six private bills have passed their second reading, and seven public and 12 private bills are still in their first stage.

Among the important bills still to be brought down are the Doukhobor legislation, the Irrigation act, the Trust Companies act, the amendments to the Education and Land and Agricultural acts and the railway legislation.

Although a motion is on the order paper of the house that it will go into supply next Thursday, it is generally conceded that another postponement of the day for introducing the budget speech will be agreed to when the matter again comes before the house.

The royal commission on agriculture report is practically ready and will, it is expected, be brought down next Wednesday or Thursday.

BARGES SINK—OCCUPANTS RESCUED FROM WAVES

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Advices from Orient Point, L. I., told today of the safety of 11 persons, including four women and two children, who were on four barges which broke loose from the tow of the tug Pliny Fisk on that vessel's trip up Long Island sound in the storm. At 2 a.m. on Sunday the barges broke away from the tug near Bartletts reef and soon sank, the crew and women and children taking to a dory. At 5 p.m. yesterday L. L. Latham and other residents of Orient Point saw the dory drifting in the surf and hauled the famished and exhausted occupants ashore.

WORRIED OVER TRIAL COMMITS SUICIDE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 15.—John F. Kennedy, state treasurer, committed suicide shortly after noon today at the Murkeen hotel, where he had lived with his family for about a year. He was found in a small lavatory off the hotel ballroom with his throat cut and an open razor laying on the floor beside him. His jugular vein had been severed and death occurred before a doctor arrived.

A flash of temporary insanity induced to worry over his impending appearance before a grand jury where District Attorney Whitman had been conducting a John Doe graft investigation, is said by his attorney to be the only reason that can be assigned for the act.

Riotous Scenes in Tokio Parliament—Member Attacked is Taken to Hospital.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TOKIO, Feb. 15.—Five naval officers, including a rear admiral, are held in confinement in the navy department pending the organization of a court-martial in connection with the naval scandals.

In the lower house riotous scenes occurred on the floor yesterday during the discussion of the taxes.

During the course of the evening a man not a member of the house came on the floor and assaulted a member, who was taken to a hospital. The man was arrested.

Charged With Bribery.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TOKIO, Feb. 15. — Vice-Admiral Keishe Fujii, formerly Japanese naval attache at Berlin, and Capt. Sawa Saki, have been ordered before a court martial on a charge of bribery in connection with the alleged naval corruption. Admiral Baron Saoto, minister of marine, made this announcement on the floor of the house of peers today.

Allegations have been made that Admiral Fujii and other officers received illicit commissions for influencing the allotment of admiralty contracts in favor of a German firm.

The naval scandal has been used as a weapon by certain opposition groups in an effort to discredit and overthrow the ministry.

Many mass meetings have been held in protest against the government, and riotous scenes have occurred on the floor of the lower house. Members of the diet have been attacked, while attending the house and today the minister of the interior, Kari Hara, had a narrow escape from injury. Two men leaped into his automobile in an attempt to assault him, but were seized by detectives.

BRITISH RAILWAYS STIFLE ABILITY

Appointment of American as Manager of Great Eastern Blow to British Pride.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The appointment of Henry W. Thornton, general superintendent of the Long Island railway, as general manager of the Great Eastern Railway company, continues to be the subject of comment by the newspapers and those interested in railway affairs.

"Great Britain has not, in many years, sustained such a shock to her pride as that sustained by the announcement of the appointment of Mr. Thornton," said the Sunday Observer prefacing a couple of columns of opinions which are to the effect that something must be wrong with the system of promotion in the British railways.

George J. Wardle, M. P., editor of the Railway Review, declares that if the statement of Lord Claude Hamilton, chairman of the Great Eastern, that it was impossible to find a capable Englishmen for the position is true, it is the greatest reflection on English railway management made in recent years, but he declares that the statement is not accurate and there is plenty of ability in the ranks of British railway men, but that most of it is stifled and does not get a chance.

William Whitelaw, chairman of the North British Railway company, does not consider that there is any dearth of first class young railway talent in the country.

Sir Charles Bine Renshaw, chairman of the Caledonian railway, thinks that one of the difficulties in raising good railway men in Scotland is slowness of promotion.

The Westminster Gazette concludes severe criticism of Lord Claude Hamilton by refusing to believe that Englishmen, who are the pioneers in railway construction, are incapable of managing the Great Eastern.

PROVISIONS OF ICEBOUND TUG ARE REPLENISHED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BONNE BAY, Nfld., Feb. 15.—Officers of the United States naval tug Potomac, icebound off here, said today that they had on board 20 tons of coal and food enough for 15 days. Additional supplies were taken over the ice to the Potomac today.

Mariners, familiar with ice movements in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, believe it will be necessary to abandon the tug as the ice is rough and heavy and the chances of saving the vessel are uncertain.

The Tango Has Changed The Dress Modes

Fashion is quick to catch the newest craze and translate it into terms of material, or form, or color.

Just now all the world is talking Tango and half the feet in the universe are keeping step to the newest jingles.

So fashion is appropriating the popular Tango which makes interesting news.

The tendency is apparent in the new shoes, the new dresses, the new ribbons, down the whole roll call of attire. Artists are interpreting the spirit of the dance in different ways.

The most authentic news of the unusually interesting changes is to be found in the advertising columns of live, daily newspapers like The Daily News.

Advertising that tells about things of such human interest as these is no dry reading. It is as interesting as it is instructive and profitable.

Up-to-date people are those who keep posted on the news the advertising has to tell.

NIAGARA FALLS SPREADS DISEASE

Smallpox Scattered Through State of New York

THIRTYNINE HOUSES UNDER QUARANTINE

Those Who Carry Disease Into Cities to Be Prosecuted.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Lax methods of dealing with small-pox are responsible for 105 cases in Niagara Falls, and the spread of the disease to nine more cities and villages within the last week, according to Dr. Lindsay R. Williams, deputy commissioner of health.

Thirty-nine houses in Niagara Falls are now under quarantine, he said, and 22 patients are being cared for in the quarantine hospital.

"Until Dr. Herman J. Biggs, the health commissioner, took charge of the situation," said Dr. Williams, "the lax methods of control had resulted in the spread of the disease to 27 cities and towns. People came and went from Niagara Falls without thought of danger. It takes from 16 to 18 days for the disease to develop, consequently isolated cases have appeared in many surrounding localities.

"Within the last week cases have been reported from many towns in the western part of the state. Consulting physicians of the department have visited all these places and diagnosed the cases under suspicion as true cases of small pox. These cases have all been traced directly to Niagara Falls."

The department is waging a campaign against the disease throughout the state, whether or not cases have been reported. Through the newspapers people are warned that to bring a contagious disease knowingly into a city is a crime and will be prosecuted.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

GUYAQUIL, Feb. 15.—Notwithstanding the bombardment by Federal gunboats and heavy artillery of Esmeraldas, the capital of the province of the same name, the city still remains in rebel hands. Government forces remain to the north and south of the city with the intention of surrounding the insurgents. It is believed that a decisive battle will occur next week.

Communication with the fighting zone is difficult. The news is sent by steamer from Esmeraldas down the coast to Bahia Caraquez and from there telegraphed to Guayquil.

Dr. Leonce Manouvreiere, of the college of France, who has made a study of the brains of countless celebrated men, has just completed an examination of Bertillon's brain. He considers the weight all the more remarkable because the organ was shrunken and anaemic from a long and exhausting sickness.

IMPORTS FROM NEW ZEALAND HEAVY

Demand for Beef and Butter May Exceed Supply—Three Hundred Boxes Gum on Way.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—During the past year, writes the Canadian trade commissioner in New Zealand, there has been a substantial increase in New Zealand's imports from Canada. In 1912 the total was $1,196,051 which increased to $2,262,595 in 1913.

The Niagara, which is on her way from Auckland to Vancouver, is bringing 20,026 boxes of butter, 1,371 quarters of beef, 877 carcases of veal, 1000 carcases of lamb, 1,000 carcases of mutton, and 300 boxes of gum.

If the demand for beef and butter is maintained, says Mr. Beddoe, it will exceed the supply. The demand for these commodities is heavy.

In the month of December last, no live cattle were imported by Great Britain from either Canada or the United States, according to the latest trade reports. The supplies imported from Canada last year was 74 per cent less than in 1912.

A new record has been set up in Manchester for the importation of grain. Canada's shipment of cheese decreased 73,769 cwt. from 84,978 cwt. in 1912. Canada sent no eggs or butter during the year.

NEW PARTY IS WARMLY GREETED

Noise of Rattles and Whistles Drowned by Cheers—Stones Hurled at French ex-Premier.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

HAVRE, France, Feb. 15.—What politicians consider to be one of the most exciting electoral campaigns of the third republic was opened here today by the Briandist party, a new political organization composed of many Republican senators and deputies. The object of the Briandists as stated by its organizers is to put the good of France as a whole before the considerations of party. Aristide Briand, the former premier; J. Louis Barthou, also a former premier, and a host of leaders, addressed a gathering of more than 3,000 enthusiastic followers.

Opponents of the movement had prepared a warm reception for the speakers. Thousands of whistles and rattles had been distributed to young dockmen and laborers, but the authorities had drafted reinforcements of gendarmes, who maintained comparative order. The whistling and noise of rattles was drowned by the cheering.

As M. Briand passed through the streets from the station to the meeting hall a few stones were thrown, but the ex-premier was not harmed.

REDISTRIBUTION NEXT MONDAY

Debate Likely to Be Academical—Maritime Province Members Will Again Press Claims

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—The second reading of the redistribution bill will be moved in the commons on Tuesday by Premier Borden. As the premier has accepted the general principles laid down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in connection with the Redistribution bill of 1903, the expectation is that the discussion will be of a somewhat academical nature. Maritime provinces members will no doubt take advantage of the last opportunity offered to press their claims.

No official announcement has yet been made as to the make-up of the committee of seven, which will have charge of the readjustment of the boundaries of the constituencies. The expectation is that for the Conservatives Hon. Arthur Meighen and R. B. Bennett will represent the west.

STORM KING RULES IN NEW YORK

Worst Blizzard of Decade Sweeps Eastern States

PEDESTRIANS BLOWN ABOUT LIKE CHAFF

Liners Heave to, Four Thousand Passengers Delayed--Million Dollars Damage.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Fully score of deaths, damage of more than $1,000,000 and an almost entire paralysis of traffic by foot, by street car and by other vehicles this afternoon was the partial toll of havoc wrought by the greatest blizzard of a decade, which for 20 hours swept the eastern states. Howling across the country on a wind which at times reached 84 miles an hour, the snow caused a practical blockade of human activity, which ceased only this afternoon at 1 o'clock when the lowering skies lightened in hue and the sun fitfully broke through the clouds.

Throughout the whole storm area an average of more than a foot of snow fell. On the sea conditions were even worse than on land.

All up and down the Atlantic coast vessels fought against the fury of the blizzard, lying to wherever it was possible in sheltered coves until the strength of the storm king waned. Off Sandy Hook more than a dozen vessels, containing 4,000 America-bound passengers, hove to in the gale. Every one of them was covered with ice and their crews fought to keep them head-up to the raging wind.

Just at noon the howling gale reached its height in New York. At that time fully a dozen deaths had been reported, either directly or indirectly, from the storm. So great was the wind velocity that surface cars were practically put out of commission, automobiles could barely plow through the drifted streets, and horses absolutely refused to face the storm. Pedestrians were blown across the streets like so much chaff, and street traffic throughout the city was decreased probably 75 per cent from its normal.

Liners Delayed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Many smaller steamers are reported one to two days behind schedule.

BELLEVUE TEAM LEAVES ICE

Game at Blairmore Ends With Dispute—Spectators Express Disapproval of Official

(Special to The Daily News.)

BLAIRMORE, Alta., Feb. 15.—The Bellevue hockey stars visited Blairmore on Friday night and played the second game in a series of three for $100 purse. The match was witnessed by a record crowd and with a good sheet of ice a good game was expected. For the first 15 minutes the game was slow and then with a rush the Blairmore team started toward the visitors' goal, and with some fine combination enabled Turcott to score the first goal. After the puck left the centre the game took a faster pace and Bellevue equalized.

In the second period both teams again scored and finished with 2—2. Then started an argument between Cleveland, of Coleman, judge of play, and the referee, Cliff Church, of Blairmore. The referee claimed that Cleveland persisted in blowing the whistle for imaginary offsides and that when one of the Blairmore players made a rush for the Bellevue goal the judge of play was seen to come in contact with him causing him to lose the puck, thus enabling Bellevue to score two goals. The second period ended with hoots and groans.

The same thing occurred in the beginning of the third period and the climax came when Turner, of Blairmore, took the puck almost the whole length of the rink and when within 15ft. of the opposing net Cleveland blew for an offside. The referee refused to go on unless the judge of play left the ice, but the visitors did not agree and left in a body, thus ending what might have been a very good game.

POOR BLOOD

Cause of Disease. Druggist Tells of Best Remedy for It.

Pure healthy blood is a most essential factor to good health.

Poor, thin, devitalized blood may be caused by a weakness of the digestive organs, an accumulation of waste matter in the system, an inactive liver or lack of exercise.

Whatever the cause the best remedy we know is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It will purify and enrich the blood, tone up the digestive organs, give you a hearty appetite and create strength.

A case has just come to our attention from Gulfport, Miss. Mrs. Armelice Saucier says: "For months I was in a run-down condition and my blood was very poor. I had taken several medicines prescribed by physician but they seemed to do me no good. Vinol was recommended and from the first bottle noticed an improvement. I continued its use and now feel as strong and well as ever."

If you have the slightest indication of poor blood take Vinol. If it fails to help you we will give back your money. Wm. Rutherford, Druggist, Nelson, B. C.

AMERICAN LEAGUE WILL OUST MURPHY

Ban Johnson Indignant at Release of Johnny Evers by Cub Management.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 15.—"The American league has declared war," said Ban Johnson today. "We will stop at nothing to eliminate the present management of the Chicago National club from organized baseball. It is to mind that President Tener of the National league and Garry Herrman, president of the National commission, be clothed with absolute authority to remove from the National league any club owner held to be a detriment to the game."

Johnson, roused by Charles W. Murphy's threat to take legal action against him, today broke the silence he had maintained since the joint league conference in New York, and outlined his plan to maintain between the major leagues the good understanding which, he said, was menaced by the present conduct of the Cubs' management. The American league, he intimated, was prepared to go to the length of changing the National agreement of favoring the formation of another big league. "I am clothed with absolute power by the American league to remove any club owner who is a detriment to the organization," declared Johnson. "The heads of the National league should have the same power."

Johnson said the entire baseball world was indignant that Evers should be dropped a few days before the team started on its training trip.

"Nothing could be more harmful to baseball," he declared. "Evers had been just before sent south to look over the training quarters and had been commissioned to sign a number of players, men whose signatures I doubt Murphy could have obtained without the aid of Evers. Of course, Evers was dropped in accordance with the provisions of his contract and he should have known what he was signing before he signed it. But we do not want that kind of thing in baseball. We want perfect confidence between players, owners and the public."

Murphy late today said he had not heard from his lawyers of the subject of the threatened suit against Johnson. He reiterated, however, that the suit would be filed.

A movement against patronizing the Cubs was begun today by followers of baseball, who have been aroused by the discharge of Johnny Evers. More than 150 employes and members of the board of trade signed a petition to confine their support of the game to the American and Federal leagues.

GOAL KEEPER'S GOOD WORK SAVES WORSE DEFEAT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—Torontos won from Ontarios in the National Hockey association game here on Saturday night by 3 to 1. Sammy Hebert's good work in goal for the Ontarios was the outstanding feature of the game. He received a cut three inches long on the left side of the face, just above the lip, by the puck. Despite the wound he resumed play as soon as it was stitched up.

RYAN MAKES NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR SHOT PUT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A world's record for the 28-pound shot put, 36 feet, 8½ inches, was made by Patrick Ryan, unattached, and the world's record for the 75-yard hurdles, 9 seconds, equalled by John J. Eller of the Irish-American Athletic club at the games of the latter club at Madison Square Garden here last night.

A new American indoor record was made in the 1,000 yard invitation run for the McAlpinan trophy, Thomas J. Halpin, of the Boston Athletic association winning in 2:15, four-fifths of a second better than the record of A. R. Kiviat.

The former world's record in the shot put event was held by Dennis J. Horgan, 36 feet, 3 inches. In the two-mile scratch race, W. J. Kramer, Long Island Athletic club, defeated Hannes Kolehmainen, of the Irish American Athletic club. The time was 9:32¼.

Kiviat dropped out at the end of a mile and a half. Cornell defeated Yale in the two-mile intercollegiate race in 7:59 1-5.

QUEBEC SNATCHES VICTORY IN OVERTIME PLAY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, Feb. 15.—One of the most exciting and hardly contested matches seen here for many months was that which took place last evening, when Quebec succeeded in defeating the Wanderers after seven minutes' overtime play, 7 to 6.

The play was even for the three periods, and a remarkable part of the contest was that in each period each team scored the same number of goals, the contest ending 6 to 6. Although the teams were evenly matched up to this time, the overtime was all Quebec's, as they were nearly the whole time in Wanderers' territory.

NANAIMO, B. C., Feb. 15.—In the final match for the British Columbia Rugby championship Nanaimo defeated Victoria on Saturday by a score of 14 to 0. Victoria clinched the championship a fortnight ago and fielded a weak team against the home team.

EXPECT MANY TO GO TO TRAIL

Special Train Will Leave Nelson at Six Thirty for Smelter City—Vital Game Tonight.

The management of the local hockey club will meet this morning to arrange for a special train which will tonight carry the members of the local hockey team and their many supporters to Trail where the local boys will meet the Smelter city septet in the first game of the West Kootenay Hockey league series in which the local team has figured in two weeks.

Besides being the first game to be played in some time it will also be one of the vital games of the league series for the winner will have a good start in the lead in the race for the league championship. Both teams have two victories to their credit over the Rossland boys in the series and in Nelson in the only game played by these two teams this season the result was a draw of three goals each, after one of the hardest fought battles and most exciting games ever witnessed in the city.

The train will leave Nelson at 6:30 o'clock sharp which will allow the employes of the various offices and stores to catch it and it is expected that in point of numbers the crowd which will go to Trail tonight will surpass that which left on the last special to attend the final for the British Columbia cup at the Rossland carnival.

CANADIENS WIN FROM OTTAWA

Gruelling Game Played by Eastern League Leaders—Players Drop from Exhaustion

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—With players dropping in their tracks, some from exhaustion and others from rough play, the Canadiens and Ottawas struggled for nearly seven minutes' overtime in their scheduled National Hockey association fixture at the aerna Saturday night before the flying Frenchmen earned the decision by a single goal. To Dubeau, staggering from exhaustion, goes the honor of scoring the only goal of one of the most gruelling contests ever witnessed in the history of hockey in Montreal.

The play was marked by more rough tactics than any witnessed in Montreal in years. The penalty sheet showed $89, one of the largest amounts ever collected by the National Hockey association, more than half being against the Ottawa players.

Being coached to "get the man, never mind the puck," Ottawa players threw many opportunities away in an effort to carry out their instructions. Leseur's spectacular work in the nets saved his club often.

Gerard drew three majors for persistently going after Lalonde, who will likely be out of the game for the remainder of the season, suffering from a badly dislocated shoulder. Broadbent deliberately cut Payan over the head and each was given a match penalty. Gardner had his right knee badly hurt from a bad check. Laviolette was injured by coming in contact with the fence. The attendance was 6,800. Line-up:

Canadiens		Ottawas
Vezina	goal	Leseur
Dubeau	defence	Shore
Lavoilette	defence	Merrill
D. Smith	centre	Gerard
Lalonde	wing	Darragh
Gardner	wing	Broadbent

The tour will extend over 10 weeks, the players arriving in Canada in May.

Jones will outline the itinerary for the British officials and arrange his eastern schedule upon his arrival in Montreal on March 1 from the old country. F. O. B. Hawes, secretary of the English association, will also make the trip.

The tour will be financed by the Vancouver magnate. Mr. Jones adds that the English football association officials have assured him that they will permit the English cup finalists to tour America next year.

VETERAN EDDIE PLANK ATHLETICS' ONLY HOLDOUT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—Eddie Plank, the hero of the final game of last year's world's series, holding New York down with only two hits, has returned with his contract unsigned to Connie Mack, manager of the champion Athletics.

The veteran pitcher was offered the same salary he received last year, but wants an increase. Connie Mack say she cannot grant the request.

So far as can be learned, Plank has not threatened to join the Federals, but has simply asked for an increase. Plank is the only member of the champions who is holding out for more money.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—The weeding out process in the various competitions in the Winnipeg bonspiel is nearing its end and tonight there are only four undefeated rinks, headed by McDougall, of the Winnipeg Granites, who has won all games without a loss, then McAskill, Gladstone, Man., and Jacob, of Winnipeg, St. Johns, with nine wins, and Alexander of the Granites, with five wins.

DOOR OPEN FOR APERTURE SIGHTS

Changes to Be Enforced at Bisley Meeting Announced—Bullseye to Be Smaller

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Presiding yesterday at a crowded meeting of the National Rifle association, which controls the Bisley meeting, Lord Cheylesmore, the chairman, in his opening remarks announced that the only changes that had been finally decided upon regarding this year's Bisley regulations were the following:

1. The war office requirements regarding sighting shots.

2. Regarding targets, in match rifle competitions the targets will have a central of 24-inch diameter, to be marked, which will count six. In service rifle competitions, the bullseye at 500 yards will be reduced from 18 in. to 16 in.

The chairman announced that the meeting will be held from July 13 to July 25, inclusive.

Although nothing was said about the aperture sight, the vital point for Canadians, it is understood from the remarks of the chairman that the door is still open and that for this year, at least, the service rifles would not be barred.

ROSSLAND AGAIN HANDED BEATING

Trail Takes Lead in Race for West Kootenay Championship—Ice Was Soft and Heavy.

(Special to The Daily News)

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 15.—By defeating Rossland here Saturday by the score of 6-1 Trail jumped into first place of the West Kootenay Hockey league. About 300 spectators witnessed the game. Owing to the regular passenger train being derailed and leaving Rossland at a late hour a large number of the golden city supporters were unable to attend. The ice was rather heavy, due to the recent soft spell, but the local management decided it best to pull off the match if at all possible, as there are still two more league games to be played here.

Despite the fact that the ice was heavy a very good game was dished up to the fans. Both teams were out to win and played hockey all the time, never allowing themselves to use dirty work, only one man decorating the fence.

The red and white were outplayed at all times, and Goal Keeper Vanetta had an easy time. Rossland's only goal was tallied near the end of the last period, when Sexsmith essayed a rush, beating out the yellow and black's net custodian. The smelter boys also increased their record of goals, making a total of 73 scored by them this season, with 32 against them.

In the first period the game was rather slow and the players were continually falling, due to the sticky ice. However, after five minutes' hard play Mercer succeeded in landing the first tally for Trail. Play was anybody's for 8½ minutes, when Fraser found the net again. Shortly afterward time was called, with the score board reading: Trail 2, Rossland 0.

The second period was faster than the first and both teams worked hard, but Rossland failed to get past the Trail defense, while Cook in goal for the golden city had a merry time, as he was called upon to stop a number of shots. During this period two lively scrimmages took place in front of the visitors' goal, but the red and white managed to clear both times. Nine minutes of play resulted in Haddock scoring for Trail and Saunders repeated in 45 seconds. This ended the scoring of the period, with Trail 4, Rossland 0.

The third period was the fastest and many fine rushes and brilliant plays were witnessed, but both teams' efforts were futile until Atkins broke away and scored. Time 11 minutes. Two minutes later Saunders ended the scoring by notching Trail's last counter. Shortly before time was called Sexsmith, with a pretty piece of stick handling, beat out Joe Vanetter for Rossland's lone goal. The teams lined up like this:

Rossland.		Trail.
A. G. Cook	goal	Vanetter
McCammon	point	McDonough
Corbett	cover	Atkins
Sexsmith	rover	Fraser
A. T. Cook	centre	Haddock
*Griffith	right	Mercer

*Cosgriff replaced Griffiths in the second period.

Referee, A. J. Ellis, Rossland; judge of play, L. Grant, Trail; goal umpires, W. Cliff and J. Wilmes, Trail; timekeepers, A. W Sprague, Rossland, and W. Reese, Trail.

Weather conditions are very favorable for the league game here on Monday evening with Nelson the visitors. A tie game was played between these two teams before and a fast game is looked for.

SLOCAN VALLEY RANCHERS ENJOY PLENTY OF SPORT

That there is plenty of game in the Slocan valley is indicated by the fact that last fall two boys killed seven deer and toward the end of the season killed five more, the venison being used to replenish the family larder. A brush wolf and six cougars were killed by the same hunters during the fall.

WESTERN HORSES WIN FORT WILLIAM ICE RACES

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Feb. 15.—Western horses were again successful in the ice races Saturday. Nellie G., owned by Miss McGee, High River, won the free for all trot with a purse of $400 in 2:21½; Alpha Bell, owned by Al Vance, Calgary, won the class A purse, $200 with Al Dirret, owned by J. Bell, Winnipeg, second. Time 2:21¼.

MUCH INTEREST IN HOCKEY SMOKER

Fully Three Hundred Expected to Attend—Will be Held in Opera House.

Probably never in the history of the Nelson Hockey club has there been so much interest taken in a smoker under the auspices of the club than is being manifested in the smoker tomorrow night which will be held in the Nelson opera house and which those in charge of arrangements expect to be attended by fully 300 guests.

The committee on arrangements has met with ready response on the part of musical and entertaining talent for the big affair and songs, dances, recitations, boxing- bouts and refreshments will be features of the evening.

The city band has consented to attend and will render airs during the evening and besides the committee is preparing for several novel features which will not be disclosed under any circumstances until the evening of the affair.

Among those who have contributed towards the smoker are: G. G. Peters, P. Burns, Nelson Brewing company, J. C. Thein, Nelson Wine and Spirit company, Fernie Brewing company, Thorpe & Co., Sherbrooke hotel, Queen's hotel, Hume hotel, Nelson Club Cigar company, Semahore pool hall, El Nor Cigar company, Bush brothers and A. Macdonald & Co.

A boosters' club will also be organized tomorrow evening which will serve as a nucleus for a similar club next season.

LOCALS IN SHAPE FOR GAME TONIGHT

Regular Lineup Will Probably Represent Green and White at Trail—Had Week's Rest.

In the hockey game at Trail tonight the Nelson hockey team will in all probability be represented by the team that has done so well on the iced arena previously this season for the green and white. Although the boys were pretty badly battered up after the strenuous week at the Rossland carnival they have been rested up pretty well since that time and the majority of them have entirely recovered from the severe jolts received in the four games that they played in one week.

Ernie Hacking has been working out of the city for the past week, but will be in for the game and will accompany the boys over on the special. Charlie Taylor has recovered from his collision in the final game in Rossland and Harry Bishop was probably never in better condition than right now, so that the forward line will be intact and will keep the Trail defence working overtime. Cadden in goal, Ross at point and Oliver at rover are all in shape for the game, leaving McKay as the only doubtful member of the team, but "Dad" felt pretty confident last night that he would be able to hold his own with the rest of them and it will be a great relief to the fans if the genial but scrappy little cover point man takes the ice at Trail tonight. McKay's daring, aggressive methods of protecting the local nets have made him a prime favorite with the crowd and if he did not figure tonight he would be sorely missed.

McQuinn, the new man in the club roster, has not yet been signed the requisite 15 days and will be unable to figure in the game tonight, but it is expected that in the next game played on local ice McQuinn will make his debut in a green and white jersey.

Don't Grow Bald, Young Man

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care of.

It's a safe ten to one bet that the young man who uses PARISIAN Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one.

Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness.

PARISIAN Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent vociferous dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using PARISIAN Sage.

It is not a dye, mind you, neither does it contain poisonous sugar of lead or even sulphur. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and for the same reason.

Use delightful, refreshing PARISIAN Sage; it nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every user a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottle for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get PARISIAN Sage.

CONSUMERS AND FOOD ECONOMY

Blame for the great increase in food prices has been placed on the farmer for not producing more; on the middlemen for their unnecessary number and their unreasonable tolls, and on the retailer for marking up too large a rate of profit, says the Toronto world. Now comes Cheston Starkey, a Philadelphia truck farmer, with the charge that neither the growers nor the intermediaries between them and the consumer are chiefly responsible for the high cost of living. The consumers themselves, he maintains, are responsible because they use up money in their insistence that everything they purchase be brought to their door and because among them are large numbers who do not pay their bills. "If the delivery department could be done away with," he says, "and if every grocer would promise not to give any credit, prices could be knocked down immediately and everybody would be happier.

Some part of the responsibility for high prices must be assumed by the consumers. Telephone orders have taken the place of personal shopping, and the delivery wagon has put the market basket out of business. A general system of credit carries a percentage of bad debts ultimately recovered from the customers that pay. But making all allowance for the prevalent inclination to evade personal trouble it may be doubted whether the re-establishment of the market basket would effect any considerable reduction in the level of prices unaccompanied by the elimination of the other factors that have contributed to the upward movement. It is unsatisfactory, for example, to find, from the last report of the United States secretary of state for agriculture, that while 1912 was a record year for crop value the record for production per acre has fallen. This may be partially due to the weather that adversely affected certain of the states, but the evidence that soil fertility is decreasing can hardly be disregarded, pointing, as it does, to the need of more intensive cultivation.

In a bulletin recently issued by the same department, it is remarked that scientific research, interpreting the observations of practical life, indicates that a fourfold mistake in food economy is very commonly made. First, the costlier kinds of food are used, when the less expensive are just as nutritious and can be made nearly or quite as palatable. Second, the diet is apt to be one-sided, in that foods are used which furnish relatively too much of the fuel ingredients and too little of the flesh-forming materials. Third, excessive quantities of food are used; part of the excess is eaten, often to the detriment of health; part is thrown away in the table and kitchen wastes, and finally, serious errors in cooking are committed. Unfortunately, "it is the poor man's money that is most badly cooked at home." If this is an accurate appreciation of the domestic situation in the United States, the housewife, quite as much as the farmer, requires proper scientific training, and it is the schools that must provide this for the benefit of the housewives of the future.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

Contrasted Effects.

When Woodrow Wilson speaks softly and sweetly, Wall street shivers and shakes. When Roosevelt roared and threatened Wall street grinned. —Montreal Herald.

Concerning Cigarettes.

The whole human race smokes cigarettes. Among the richest and most intellectually and physically virile races the consumption is largest. It may be desirable that their manufacture and sale in Canada should be prohibited by law, but such action would certainly make Canada a freak among the nations, and presents difficulties that might well appal a stouter heart than that of a lone member of parliament.—Winnipeg Telegram.

Rising Farm Value.

A large number of farms have recently been sold in Wellington at about $95 per acre. The price of farm land is on the up-grade in this country and these same farms will soon be around the $100 per acre mark. They are worth it, too. — Guelph Mercury.

Brotherhood of Nations.

The society which we call the world is being reorganized by powerful forces. There will be more and more co-operation not only within the British empire, but all over the world. The other day representatives of the nations met and considered plans for increasing safety at sea. The United States agreed to patrol that part of the Atlantic which is infested by icebergs. Acting together, the nations could organize a life-saving service which would make the Atlantic route almost as safe as Yonge street. This is not a dream. It illustrates the actual forces and tendencies of the age. —Toronto Star.

SIR WILFRID AND AUTONOMY

When the mother country sighed,
Weary with her heavy task,
Shielding of an empire wide,
But for aid too proud to ask,
Daughter states stretched out their hands,
Free-will offerings from the free,
Helping hands from distant lands
Tribute paid spontaneously.
Canada was deeply stirred;
Her loyal sons were moved to aid,
But only party strife was heard
And honor in the dust was laid.
Loyal Canadians to a man
Blushed to see their efforts balked.
Sir Wilfrid marshaled all his clan
And the people's measure blocked.
Tribute! Tribute! was the cry;
Autonomy! Autonomy!

But when Taft, with cunning deep,
Deftly laid his adjunct scheme
From our latent wealth to reap
With his continental dream,
Why did not Sir Wilfrid cry:
Autonomy! Autonomy!

WILD MOB FIGHTS AGAINST PRIEST

Parishoners Refuse to Allow Him to Enter Church—Over Hundred Injured in Riot.

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 15.—Seven persons were seriously injured and nearly 100 others hurt here today as a result of a riot that resulted when 25 policemen attempted to aid Sheriff Swanson in carrying out the order of Judge W. A. Funk, of the circuit court, that the Rev. Stanislas Gruza be placed in charge of St. Casimers Polish Roman Catholic church.

The mob was composed of about 2000 men and women, and after fighting two hours, they were successful in blocking the effort of Father Gruza to take possession of the church. Father Gruza was transferred to the parish a year ago, but the parishioners refused to accept him. The matter was taken to court, when Judge Funk ordered the sheriff to place Gruza in charge of the church.

UNCONSCIOUS MAN TO BE HANGED

Kept Alive for Execution by Injection of Liquid Food—Mind has Completely Collapsed.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 15.—Jasper Collins, the Missouri youth who is to die on Tuesday for the murder of John Benson, may go down to his death and know nothing about it. Reason has departed from him and for three days he has lain in a state of coma, his mental faculties having suffered a complete collapse. His physician has been unable to restore him to consciousness and he has been kept alive by the injection of liquid *foods. The police are making ar*rangements to place the condemned man in a chair over the gallows trap and from this, probably with no knowledge of what is being done, he will be dropped into eternity.

AT THE THEATRES

At the Starland tonight an exceptionally good program is offered, Miss Moran will entertain by singing "When I'm Dreaming of Erin I'm Dreaming of You" and "I'm in Love With the Mother of My Best Girl." The feature is the two-part society drama, the "Black Mask." The story revolves around two clever persons, society thieves, who come in contact with each other at a masked ball, where both are trying to get possession of a certain diamond necklace. There is a keen match of wits throughout, finally ending in the woman assisting the man to escape from prison by returning the jewel to its owner. Afterward they start life anew.

At the Gem theatre tomorrow night Bronco's great two-reel feature, "Grandad," a superbly acted drama featuring an old man and a very clever little girl in heart-stirring scenes will be produced. A Vitagraph scenic and drama, "The Price of Thoughtlessness" and "Canals of Venice," will be shown. Some beautiful scenery is shown in these pictures, and last, but not least, is "One Round O'Brien's Flirtation," a rip-roaring comedy. The management also wishes to announce that it has taken a new picture service, the Mutual film service. This with the general film service makes the strongest picture service that it is possible to get, it is stated.

THE MEDICINAL MICROBES

An interesting experiment in the field of what may, perhaps, be called microbic therapeutics is being made by a Minneapolis doctor. It is, as the doctor himself insists, only an experiment and will require far wider test before any safe general conclusions can be drawn. The experiment consists in the use of a mould in the treatment of diphtheria. This minute little organism, which occurs in nature as a parasite on the fly, is placed in the throat of the diphtheretic patient and allowed to go there. According to Dr. Ten Broeck's experience, its growth causes the destruction of the diphtheria bacillus and thus brings about a cure of that disease. Its early use also helps to prevent the spread of infection. He has treated a number of cases successfully with his mould achula muscaris, and without the use of antitoxin. He finds further that the mould itself is quite harmless, and can be readily removed from the pa*tient's throat after it has done its* work, by the use of an antiseptic gargle.

It is perhaps worth noting in this connection that some time ago pure cultures of a lactic acid-forming bacillus had quite a vogue for spraying into certain forms of diseased throats —perhaps they have yet—the theory being apparently that the lactic acid germs acted in very much the same way as Dr Ten Broeck's mould, viz., by killing out the disease germs. It is quite within the bounds of probability that these medicinal microbes may eventually come to hold almost as important a place in therapeutics as do the so-called internal police of the body, the white blood cells or phagocytes. Attempts to make new applications of them are incidents of very general interest.

A CHEERY OLD BUNCH

Forty Chicago septuagenarians have formed themselves into a "Club of Borrowed Time." With the object of outwitting Father Time, the following rules were drafted for the guidance of members by their president, A. T. Hemingway, himself, says the Express correspondent, a man of 75:

Remain a boy till the end of time.
Be married.
Be moderate and temperate in all things.
Read your Bible.
Smile when you retire, smile when you awake, smile when things go wrong, and keep on smiling.

Bond, a wealthy man, living in Lyndhurst, Hampshire, was reported to the police today. Bond, who is 23 years old, hired a motor car and a chauffeur on Saturday afternoon and compelled the driver to make a wild ride of 30 hours' duration through the counties of Wiltshire, Dorset, Hampshire and Somerset, holding pistols at the man's back and threatening to shoot if he dared to stop without permission.

By similar threats he compelled various garages in different towns to deliver petrol for the motor without paying them for it.

Bond was found tonight in the garden of his residence holding a revolver in each hand. A posse of policemen, who had been tracing him, surrounded and arrested him.

London Not Interested.

A canvass of the London constituencies in which the by-elections are being held by a representative of the Sunday Observer, the chief organ of the Ulsterites, reveals the fact that the question of Irish home rule is not a live question amongst the people in the north and east of London.

The Observer admits that the best card of the Unionists to play is the unpopularity of the insurance act among the casual laborers. The investigation revealed an entire lack of interest in the possibility of the civil war in Ireland, the east and north enders being more interested in their own daily bread than in possible happenings across the Irish channel.

J. L. Garvin follows his article of last week with another under the heading "The Way Out," in which he advocates the exclusion of Ulster pending a federal arrangement.

Sir Henry W. Lucy, the well known parliamentary writer, says that the impression left on parliament by Mr. Asquith's speech was that the premier was prepared to exclude Ulster. "Mr. Asquith secured the advantage of six weeks before he will be obliged to lay his cards on the table. This leaves full opportunity for further conversations "which may be counted upon to overcome Mr. Redmond's scruples."

Great Political Cause.

"The friendship between Great Britain and America is the greatest political cause in the world," says the Sunday Observer, commenting on the appeal of the Duke of Teck for a $250,000 *subscription to enable the British com*mittee to carry out its program in connection with the peace centenary.

The Observer, while admitting the excellence of the British program, asks what has become of the proposal to place a memorial to Washington in Westminster abbey. It thinks that the project ought to have gone forward and would have influenced British-American friendship "like a stroke of imaginative genius."

H.R.H. Princess Arthur of Connaught has not appointed her lady-in-waiting, but Lady Irene Denison, an intimate girl friend, attended her at Friday's court.

NEARLY FLUMMOXED HOUNDS

A fox in South Berks nearly "did for" a whole pack of hounds recently. Reynard when started by the hunt made for a cutting on the Great Western railway between Sonning and Twyford. This was a cutting extending about a quarter of a mile between walls eight feet high. The fox jumped into the cutting and managed to scramble up the other side. The hounds, which were close up, followed him over the eight-foot drop into the cutting, but were slated by the opposite wall and soon as trains were heard in the distance great excitement prevailed. A huntsman galloped along the line to a signal box and two express trains were pulled up within a few yards of where the hounds had congregated. The hounds were driven to a place of safety, and the trains proceeded.

FROZEN TO DEATH, WEALTH IN CLOTHES

Septuagenarian Found Dead—Two Thousand Dollars Secreted in Clothing—Taken Suddenly Ill.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 16.—Olaf A. Moyen, aged 76 years, was found frozen to death at his home near Wolford, with over $2,000 in cash secreted about his clothing. Much of the money was currency securely sewed in the lining of his coat, while several hundred dollars were concealed at the bottom of his trousers, in a compartment created by folding up the cloth.

Moyen evidently had been taken sick while working about his home, and when the fire had died out he was frozen, being found lying across his bed.

TEMPERANCE LODGE IS FORMED AT BLAIRMORE

(Special to The Daily News.)

BLAIRMORE, Alta., Feb. 15.—F. C. Atkins of Lethbridge spent several days in Blairmore this week and on Sunday night addressed a large gathering in the opera house in the cause of the Independent Order of Good Templars, of which society he has lately been appointed organizer for southern Alberta. Mr. Atkins put before the public the necessity of forming a branch of the Independent Order of Good Templars in Blairmore. He also pointed out the work which is being done by this society in the cause of temperance. On Monday evening a number gathered together in the Miners' hall for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of forming a lodge of the I.O.G.T. In this town. J. C. English, chaplain of the grand lodge at Edmonton, was present. At the end of the meeting a charter application form was passed around and signed by over two-thirds of those present. On Tuesday an additional 15 names were added to the list. The organization ceremony took place on Tuesday night, with the business of the evening. The following officers were elected for the first quarter: Past chief templar, Mrs. E. Keith; chief templar, G. F. Wycherly; vice templar, Mrs. F. M. Pinkney; chaplain, J. F. Hunter; secretary, H. Pinkney; assistant secretary, Miss V. Keith; financial secretary, Miss B. Evans; treasurer, T. P. Baker; marshal, E. L. Eckmier; deputy marshal, H. Keith; guard, J. B. Harmer; sentinel, A. J. Victory lodge of Blairmore, and its members will meet every Friday night in the Miners' hall on Victoria street.

The management of the Blairmore opera house will hold their first roller skating carnival in the opera house on Tuesday, February 17. Prizes will be offered for the best dressed person, the best comic dress and to the one wearing the most becoming mask.

ELECTRICITY FOR STERILIZING

In recent experiments at Columbus, Ohio, alternating currents of high frequency were successfully used in sterilizing milk. Through metallic vessels serving as electrodes the milk was passed in thin streams. A sample of milk containing 19,500,000 bacteria to a cubic centimeter, as shown by cultures, was thus treated for 15 seconds, after which it showed but 6,000 bacteria. Milk artificially infected with diphtheria germs was completely sterilized by the same method. The chemical character of the milk was found to be in no way altered.

HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Removes the Scum from the Tongue, Sweetens a Sour, Gassy, Bilious Stomach; Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels Without Gripe or Nausea

If headachy, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folks believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids and that these portions are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartic pills. They shrink from the after effects—so they postpone the dose until they get sick then they do this liver and bowel cleansing in a heroic way they have a bowel washday. That is all wrong. If you take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight, you will never realize you have taken anything until morning when all the poisonous matter, sour bile and clogged-up waste will be moved on and out of your system, thoroughly but gently — no griping—no nausea—no weakness. Taking Syrup of Figs is a real pleasure. Don't think you are drugging yourself; it is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, and constant use can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other Fig Syrup offered as good should be refused with contempt. Don't be imposed upon.

SAYS THAT BEES ARE COLOR BLIND

Their Only Visible Colors, Savant Declares, Are Yellow and Blue—Experiments Show It.

It was recently explained by Sir William Ramsay that everybody is to a certain but differing extent color blind, which is to say that there certain hues which one may distinguish but which one does not place in the right order among the gamut of colors.

Some people are blind merely to two colors and are normal for all the rest. Sir William Ramsay is himself an example of this idiosyncrasy and it is probable that any two persons have exactly the same color visions. But the commonest form of color blindness is that which perceives green and red merely as different shades of grey, and there are reasons for believing that this is form of colored blindness shared by many orders of animals because, as Prof. Washburn has pointed out, one can never be sure that the animal tested is not making its discriminations on the grounds of differin brightness of line rather than on actual difference of color, and there is some evidence that this is actually the case among mice.

But a series of very interesting experiments have lately been made by Prof. K. von Frisch, of Munich which seem to show that whatever color sense may be possessed by bees the ability to distinguish red as red is not comprised in it. Von Frisch carried on his experiments on bees in the open air near their hives and by aid of what is called the food preference method he found that one day's training was not enough to enable many hundreds of bees to distinguish between blue and gray.

The distinction rested on the material inducement to remember (and distinguish) that whatever was colored blue was sweet and whatever was grey (though he employed 3 shades) was not sweet. In the same way they were taught later that yellow indicated sweetness. But no amount of training was ever able to teach von Frischs' bees that there was any difference in color between red and black. The bees are totally color blind to red.

Another experimenter in animal behavior, Miss Christine Ladd, Franklin, induced Prof. von Frisch to undertake some further experiments to ascertain whether, this being the case he could not find a certain blue-green which is exactly complimentary to red, to which also the bees would be color blind.

Von Frisch has tried the experiment. He believes he has found the idea to be true and that there is certain bluish green (as it would seem to normal eyesight) which bees *by no possibility can learn to distin*guish. This seems to show that bees are color blind in the ordinary acceptance of the term: their blindness resembles the ordinary form of red-green blindness, and their vision, like that of many human beings is dichromatic instead of tetrachromatic, their "visible" colors being yellow and blue.

ELECTRIC FAN EVIL

Though the electric fan brings refreshing coolness to hot places, it does not ventilate a closed room, and Langlais and Satory, French experimenters, have found that the ordinary fan tends to lessen the air's purity instead of increasing it, the stirring up of dust being probably responsible for a large addition to the bacteria.

During dancing in a ballroom the number of bacteria per cubic yard of the air rose from 4,000 to 720,000. For ventilation an ozone generator may be used with the fan, or an exhaust fan may be placed in a hole in the outer wall so as to pump out the ventilated air, when, of course, fresh air will take its place.

YANKEE GIRL AGAIN ON SHIPPING LIST

Sends Over Hundred Tons to Trail Smelter—Lone Bachelor Produces Ore.

Two mines in the Kootenay-Boundary district shipped ore to Trail smelter last week for the first time this year. The Yankee Girl mine at Ymir, which is being operated by the Hobson Silver-Lead company, a Spokane corporation, shipped 113 tons. Shipments have been held up on account of the condition of the roads. The other property shipping for the first time this year is the Lone Bachelor, a silver-lead mine in the Sandon district.

ZINC EXPERT GOES TO ENGLAND

En route he expects to stay off at Ottawa.

MICHIGAN WANTS TO INFLICT TONNAGE TAX

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The fact that citizens of Michigan control only 10 per cent of that state's vast copper resources, while the remainder is owned by interests in Boston and elsewhere, is the explanation offered, in a report before the senate from Secretary Wilson of the department of labor, of the growing sentiment among the people of Michigan in favor of levying a tonnage tax on all copper mined in the state.

Though strongly combated by the mining companies, the secretary's report said, this sentiment is undoubtedly growing, the people believing they are entitled to more of the benefits derived by the eastern capitalists from the exploitation of the state's resources than they are now receiving.

NAPOLEON AND SCIENCE

We think of Napoleon as the great Lord of War, the butcher of human lives, the builder of a great empire built only to fall even before the death of its founder.

It is well to remember, says the Scientific American, that his genius was great in also other more lastingly fruitful fields. He was not only a great warrior, but also a great statesman—and as such he did not fail to realize the importance to the community of arts and sciences.

Writing to the astronomer, Oriani, from Milan, which he had entered in triumph, Napoleon said:

"The sciences which do honor to the human mind and the arts which embellish life and perpetuate great achievements for posterity, should be especially honored under free governments.

". . . I invite the scholars to meet and give me their opinions as to the means that should be taken, and the needs to be fulfilled, in order to bring new life and activity into the sciences and the fine arts. Those who wish to go to France will be received with distinction by the government. The French people set a higher value on the acquisition of a skilled mathematician, a celebrated painter, or a distinguished man of any profession, than upon the possession of the largest and richest city."

VISIBLE COPPER SUPPLY DECREASES

Condition of Copper Trade Healthy—Record Consumption Expected This Year—Outlook Promising.

(Special to The Daily News)

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 15.—It is learned from an authoritative source that sales of copper in December and January aggregated approximately 300,000,000 lbs. The price has advanced to 14 7-8 cents and some good authorities expect that the metal will be established on a 15-cent basis in the near future. The market has been active recently, with heavy buying by foreign interests and a materially increased demand from domestic consumers. While the export movement for the month of January showed a large increase, deliveries to domestic consumers did not come quite up to expectations, and it is not improbable that the Copper Producers' statement, to be published next week, will show that there was a further increase of 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 lbs. in the American surplus last month.

The domestic copper consuming trade is undergoing a very marked improvement at present, and consumers have been heavy buyers during the past week or two. There is every indication, therefore, that the Producers' report covering February, March and April will show considerable decreases in surplus supplies. Notwithstanding the increase of more than 11,000,000 lbs. in exports there was a decrease of more than 8,000,000 lbs. in the visible supply at all foreign points during January. This indicates that the heavier purchases of copper for European account represent an actual increase in current consumption.

If European consumers, believing, as they do, that the price of copper will be much higher a year or two hence, are taking advantage of the prevailing lower money rates to purchase heavily for the future, their activities may force the market a cent or more higher immediately. It probably will be three months before we are back to a normal volume of consumption in this country, and it is hardly likely, therefore, that the metal will sell materially above 15 cents before April.

The present state of the copper trade is very healthy and satisfactory. A number of the large producers are sold from 20 to 60 days ahead. There is no curtailment of production under way, except such as has been forced by the Lake Superior strike and the war in Mexico. The Rio Tinto strike has been settled. The prospect is that this will be a year of large production and that consumption will be much heavier than ever previously in the history of the trade. The outlook for the metal market is a most promising one, but it is quite possible that the domestic demand will continue somewhat below normal for two or three months longer.

BEATRICE MINE WILL BE WORKED

H. Y. Andersoh Now in Control of Property—Will Develop It This Year

Plans have been completed for resuming development early this year of the Beatrice mines at Camborne, in the Lardeau country, announced H. Y. Anderson, who has secured control of the property, last night.

The Beatrice mine is one of the best known properties in the Lardeau district and is stated to have a splendid showing of ore. Some three years ago Mr. Anderson shipped out over 300 tons during the winter.

SLOCAN STAR MANAGEMENT MODEL OF EFFICIENCY

The proceedings of the second annual meeting of the Slocan Star Mines, Limited, presented a model of mining business efficiency and completeness of information for the shareholders as to the finances and results of development work. Such candid presentations by directors of companies will do more than anything else to instill public confidence in mining as an investment, and the members of the board and officers of the company are to be congratulated on the work they have done. To the president, R. S. Lennie, too much credit cannot be given for the admirable manner in which he handled the financial and business affairs of the company from its inception, and his work gives every promise of demonstrating a profit-earning and dividend-paying mine owned largely by British Columbia investors and successfully managed by a British Columbia board of directors and officers.—Mining, Engineering and Electrical Record.

LONDON IN NEXT CENTURY

The London society gave a dinner at the Waldorf hotel, at which Sir Aston Webb, C.B., R.A., gave an address entitled "London of the Future," which was followed by a discussion in which Sir W. Ramsay, Sir Boverton Redwood, Sir J. Crichton Browne and others took part, says the London Times.

Sir Aston Webb, R.A., in his address, drew a dream picture of the London of 2014, a London from which smoke and dirt had been banished, and the waters of the Thames were so clean and pellucid that fishing for salmon and trout was carried on from embankments which lined both sides of the river, and there was a salmon weir at London bridge. The bridge itself was like a street, with fine shops and beautiful houses on either side, and helped to make Southwark as valuable as the Strand. After he awoke from his dream a friend reminded him that the most picturesque features of many cities were their bridges with houses on them, and that the great revenue of the Bridge house estate committee of the city corporation arose originally from the houses on old London bridge. St. Paul's cathedral was still standing, and was safe for centuries. A law had been passed that no sewers or tunnels should pass within 150 yards of it. Party no longer entered into municipal politics, and so the south side of the river was embanked and many other things were done which formerly were left undone. The county council buildings by Westminster bridge were now used as government offices; while close alongside was the imperial parliament buildings, where the parliament of the empire met and thought imperially once every three years. (Laughter.) Along this south embankment were other splendid buildings and picturesque warehouses arched over the roadway in accordance with a report prepared by the London society. London university was where it was in 1914. In the Imperial college all the museums were located, and his guide said that South Kensington had gone rather out of fashion as a residential quarter, and the houses down Exhibition road and Queensgate had been turned into hostels for students. (Laughter.) He asked why everything looked so bright and clean, and was told that this was because they had done away with the smoke and only used smokeless materials.

Flat Roofs and Aeroplanes.

In Southwark there was a green square with a statue to Sir William Richmond, put up in gratitude by the government. (Laughter.) Southwark had been rebuilt and the roofs of the houses were flat, and here the people sat in the summer evening on their roof gardens, looking at London twinkling in the evening sun. His guide explained that aeroplanes had been forbidden over London because they were apt to drop unpleasant things, and occasionally drop themselves, and they became a nuisance. Cannon street railway bridge and the bridges at Ludgate hill and Charing Cross had been taken down, and the old glass railway terminal also. Instead, two big terminal stations had been built, one for south and one for north London, and they were connected by a tunnel. The house of lords, his companion said, was stronger than ever. (Laughter.) In a bird's-eye view he obtained of London, he noticed that besides the railway tracks out of London there were great arterial roads, stretching out in all ways. They were 120 feet wide and there were two divisions, one for slow-moving traffic and one for swift traffic. The tramways had been done away with, and the people of that day had wireless telegraphy, wireless telephones and wireless electric light. There was a belt of green around London, a sylvan glade formed out of various town-planning schemes, and on Primrose hill there was a great monument to Shakespeare.

His companion told him that all these things were arranged now by a ministry of art, who, assisted by a large committee of artists, had such matters referred to them. The housing problem had settled itself to a large extent, for, with the increase of facilities for getting in and out of London, people moved out further from the centre. Other improvements he saw and heard of were a central government of London, which was better than we had today. In fact, this country, like France, had realized that art was a great asset to any country and any city. On the west side of Trafalgar square was a great building occupied by the ministry of art, and over the portals was inscribed in bold letters, "Erected by the British Government to the Glory of British Art." But he awoke from his dream to hear his friend saying that it was impossible to improve London; that it was too huge, too dirty, too smoky.

NEWS OF THE MARKETS

BOOM IN STOCKS IS ANTICIPATED

Speculation Is Reviving and Investment Continues Active—Canadian Issue Well Received.

(Western Associated Press Special Cable.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—A canvass of the brokers reveals a general maintenance of the belief that there will be a widespread stock market boom this year. A sharp levelling up of home stocks forced by cheap money has initiated most booms in the past and this feature has been most prominent for the past month.

Investment continues active and the new issues were absorbing much buying power. Prospectuses for new capital aggregating $14,000,000 will be established tomorrow. The Ulster fears having been checked for the time being, speculation is reviving. It is generally admitted that a movement to exclude the Irish home rule scheme would dissipate the last feature of the restraint, and would give full play to cheap money and the underlying confident. The retirement of one big issuing house on the stock exchange is one view that changes are ripening that could best be used with free funds.

Paris is the weak spot. The bourse distrusts Premier Caillaux, but the government is not likely to survive the elections in May, if it lasts until then. A more stable government and the floating of loans releasing the large funds stocked up would bring Paris into line before the middle of the year.

The stock markets on Saturday were cheerful, but anything but brisk. Consols were not so strong and closed at 77 1-8. It is understood that nearly half of the South African loan for $20,000,000 has been subscribed and then only at 3-8 discount.

Eighty per cent of the Canadian steamship lines issue of debentures to an amount of $6,500,000 is reported to be unsubscribed and the offer stands at 3 3-4 discount.

Canadian Pacific railway was dull and closed at 221 3-4. Grand Trunk railway advanced from 1-2 to 1 point on repurchases; brokers recommend the company's 4 per cent debentures at 97 1-2 as first-class security for investment.

Land shares were steady and Canadian industrials firmer in places.

LITTLE CHANGE IN BUSINESS SITUATION

Quiet But Generally Improved Condition Throughout Dominion—Railway Earnings Show Falling Off

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Little change has occurred in the business situation in the Dominion of Canada, according to despatches received by Dun's Review from offices of R. G. Dun & Co. located in the leading trade centres, although the movement in some lines has been stimulated by the cold weather now generally prevailing.

Montreal reports rather quiet conditions. The dry goods travelers are making favorable returns and are sending in a fair amount of orders for spring merchandise, while the movement of groceries is up to the average. Clothing, however, is in only moderate demand and sales of shoes are not very active. Leather and hides are dull, but firm.

At Toronto a more cheerful feeling now prevails owing to the growing ease of the money market. Merchants are making preparations for a lively spring trade and orders are already coming in with some freedom for dry-goods, footwear, clothing, groceries, hardware and other staples. Some lines have been considerably benefited by seasonable weather. Lower temperatures and snow have helped local retail trade to some extent at Hamilton, though there is no particular activity in evidence. In the far west and northwest favorable weather has prevailed and a fair volume of trade is reported.

There is a better demand for winter merchandise at Winnipeg owing to more seasonable weather, and while stocks are rather heavy, it is believed that they are being rapidly reduced, demand being stimulated by special sales.

Little complaint is heard, except in certain lines, and the general opinion is that the outlook is encouraging.

Quiet conditions prevail at Edmonton, although colder weather has been of some benefit to the situation. Not much change has taken place as yet at Calgary, but indications are regarded as favorable and the merchants are preparing for a good spring trade.

General conditions are more encouraging at Saskatoon than they have been for some time, and while jobbers' sales do not show much increase notable confidence is expressed in the future. Retail business at Regina is fair and in wholesale lines sales are fully up to those of a year ago.

Wintry weather at Moose Jaw has helped the sale of seasonable merchandise, and merchants are encouraged by the fact that they will not carry over as large an amount of heavy goods as expected a while ago.

Vancouver reports but little change in general conditions and retail trade is quiet.

Gross earnings of all Canadian railroads so far reporting for the first week in February, show a falling off of 23.7 per cent., as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period a year ago.

Commercial failures in the Dominion of Canada this week numbered 51, as against 57 last week, and 34 the same week last year.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LOWER ON NEW YORK MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Speculation ran largely to the specialties yesterday, and for a time good progress unward was made in this section of the list. C. P. R. turned weak in the late trading, dropping about 2 points. Rock Island pfd. was again under pressure and touched a new low record at 10¾. The decline of these stocks helped on a general reaction.

Trading was begun today in the new Southern Pacific convertible fives which brought 105⅝. Total sales par value $1,335,000.

MARKET OPENS STRONG BUT CLOSES WEAKER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—The Montreal market opened with a further demonstration of strength on Saturday morning, and new high levels for the movement were reached by leaders like Montreal Power, Laurentide, Shawinigan, Toronto Railway and Textile. Profit taking combined with weakness of C. P. R., which fell two points in the New York market and closed at the low, brought about a reaction which eliminated most of the early gains and in some cases converted them into losses.

Laurentide's sensational rise of six points Friday, was followed by a further outburst of strength at the opening on Saturday and on an aggressive demand the price rose to 187¼, nearly two points above the high of the previous day. With the rest of the market it became reactionary before the close, but the close at 185½ left a net gain of ½ on the day.

Textile rose two points to 83½ and was unaffected by the late reaction.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO AGRICULTURISTS

(By John T. Bartlett.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 15.—A drop in potatoes is prophesied.

Penticton's poultry show had 200 entries.

Joseph Thompson is the new president of the British Columbia Dairymen's association.

Not barley, but fine-ground oats, is suitable for pigs under five months.

John Harris of Chaserver is a poultry exhibitor who has won many prizes this year.

British Columbia Ayrshire breeders have organized with S. H. Shannon of Cloverdale president.

One of the features of the annual ball of Delta Farmers' institute was an exposition of the tango. It made a decided hit.

Fruit growers of Mission and Hatzic are considering amalgamating with the Poultry and Dairymen's association for co-operative selling.

In the arid belt in which Kamloops is situated over 250,000 bushels of grain was grown and shipped the past year.

With the operation of the Canadian Northern railway, Sir Richard McBride stated recently, 800 new markets would be open to British Columbia fruit growers and ranchers.

W. T. McDonald, provincial live stock commissioner, states that the importation of milk from Washington state, fell off 500,000 gallons in 1913. The increase in local production was very encouraging.

English fanciers have discovered that much freedom in the open air greatly improves the plumage of poultry. Some, it is stated, even allow their valuable birds to roost outdoors at night.

The parcels post service went into effect last week. Curiosity is manifested as to the extent to which farmers will use it in forwarding butter, eggs, etc., to towns within a 20-mile radius of their ranches.

J. C. Ready, provincial soil and crop instructor, has announced that in connection with the small demonstration farms seed corn and alfalfa seed will be distributed to farmers this year.

E. and F. Raper of Chilliwack, with a record of 45.1, won the cream competition, and W. Barker of Chilliwack, with a record of 81.9, won the milk contest, conducted by the dairying association this month.

The British Columbia Dairymen's association endorsed the tuberculin test of the provincial government at the Chilliwack convention, but asked for an increase in compensation to two-thirds on a valuation of $150 for grades and $250 for purebreds.

Lime is injurious to strawberries, but helps bush crops. Oats do not take kindly to it, but wheat and barley do. Table beets respond very readily to it. Before making heavy applications of lime to any field, therefore, one should study its effect on contemplated crops.

The leader in the international egg-laying contest at Victoria is the Ranguiru pen of White Leghorns from Otaki, New Zealand. The three months record is 323 eggs. White Wyandottes belonging to Dean Brothers of Keating, V. I., lead the weight varieties, with a record of 301. January was an unfavorable month for record making, there being 19 days of rain, three days of snow and considerable severe wind.

There was a time once—it is passed now—when people conjectured what the agricultural possibilities of the Bulkley, Skeena, Nass and the many small valleys of British Columbia were. One settler in the Kitsumgallum valey, R. Brown, has grown timothy averaging seven tons to the acre, cabbages weighing 30 lbs., and other crops in proportion. Lettuce planted in the fall was headed two weeks after the snow went off. Sweet corn planted on May 20, 1913, was four feet high and tasselled on August 9. The annual rainfall in this district is estimated at from 40 to 50 inches, with two to three feet of snow. The season is about two weeks behind that of the southern end of Vancouver island.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS ATTEND SERVICE

Over One Hundred and Twenty-five Knights and Sisters in Attendance —Commence Jubilee Week.

A week of festivities on the part of the Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters and affiliated orders to commemorate the golden jubilee of the inception of the order was commenced yesterday and the members of the Nelson lodges observed the occasion by attending divine service last evening at St. Paul's church, where Rev. E. S. Logie preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion. There were fully 125 Knights and Sisters in attendance at the services.

Mr. Logie took for his text Leviticus, 25:9—"Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubilee to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month; in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet to sound throughout all your land."

"Time needs to be jewelled else it becomes an appalling monotony," stated Mr. Logie at the beginning of his remarks, and he went on to explain that jubilees were a necessity to mankind to break the monotony that inevitably comes in all walks of life. Without a jubilee or some kind of relaxation life lengthened out into years of sameness and lost all its zest.

He referred to the year of jubilee established in Israel, one year in every 50, when captives were liberated, prisoners released, property restored, and there was a general restoration of heart and hope among the people of the land. A jubilee was important at the present time to the economic, social and moral well-being of the people just as it was to those ancient days, he said. It was a periodical time for rectifying all the disorders that might creep into the state, so that in the end there should be no poor among the people of God.

A year or time of jubilee was a time of hope, a time for new beginnings, new beginnings for the whole nation. He closed with an appeal to those who thought it necessary to make a new beginning now during the week of jubilee.

PASSENGERS LEFT STEAMER CANNOT ENTER HARBOR

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 15. — The steamship Carmania, from Liverpool for New York, anchored outside the harbor today, the captain declining to enter. The tender did not dare to venture outside and 501 passengers and 1,000 sacks of mail must wait for the Olympic on Thursday.

The Arabic, which arrived about the same time as the Carmania, entered the harbor and took her passengers aboard in a comparatively smooth sea.

WHY GREAT MEN ARE USUALLY SMALL

All ages and races have held the belief that big men generally have little wits. Dr. Charles Mercier, on his recent lecture in London on heredity, stated that this common belief is correct and gave interesting scientific reasons for it.

It was no accident that Caesar, Napoleon, Nelson, Wellington, Grant, Lee, Edison were of moderate size or under-sized. The greater the mind the smaller the body, is the rule. Charlemagne is a rather notable exception. Seated, Charlemagne was bigger than the average, but standing he was shorter.

Dr. Mercier states that the brain and all the rest of the body are rivals through life, each demanding the lion's share of the nourishment supplied by the blood. The brain apparently has no limit to its demands, and when it gets a chance it starves the body to build itself up. The precocious child is almost invariably under-sized. This means that the brain has taken advantage of the body.

It is usually noticed in regard to precocious children that a time comes when their marvellous mental development ceases. They not only cease to make further gains on their fellow school children, but usually lose their previous gains.

It is a bitter disappointment to parents, who believed they had given birth to a genius. They usually bring the child to a brain specialist. The physician, if he is wise, points to the child's physical growth and knows that nature has suddenly called a halt to the greedy exactions of the brain.

The only way to prevent the brain from helping itself seems to be to reduce the circulation in the head, and this is the case with rapidly growing children. Usually the life of a child is a series of periods in which developments of the brain alternates with development of the body.

When nature allows the brain to get more than its usual share we have at maturity an unusually capable mind at the expense of either an under-sized body or one that is weak. The large, brilliant man is usually sickly. The giant is notoriously weak-minded.

A small body does not mean an active mind. The child may have been borne with not enough capacity for development to supply either mind or body. Sickness and poor food may starve them both.

Good heredity, on the other hand, aided by proper food and care, may result in an extra able mind in a body bigger and healthier than the average. But the genius will always be small and the giant always a mental pigmy.

THE NILE IS LOW

It is expected that this year the Nile level will be very low, and the government has been engaged in studying the best measures to be taken to minimize its bad effects.

It has been decided to distribute water from the Assuan reservoir after the dry season, that is after Feb. 10; to start summer rotations on and after March 22, six days water and 12 days stoppage, subject to the requirements of each locality, and to fix on the districts where rice can be cultivated only after the total area under cotton cultivation has been ascertained.

In other words, it is expected that scarcely any rice will be cultivated next year, as it is thought that the water available will scarcely suffice for the cotton fields.

WELFARE OF PEOPLE LUMBERMEN AND FORESTS

MINISTER EXPLAINS NEW FORESTRY REGULATIONS—BILL BASED ON KNOWLEDGE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA CONDITIONS—WILL INCREASE REVENUE, FOSTER INDUSTRY AND CONSERVE WEALTH OF PROVINCE

(Special to The Daily News.)

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 15.—Speaking on the new Forestry bill in the legislature on Saturday, Hon. W. R. Ross said:

"A bill has been introduced and is now pending before this legislature which will settle the vexed question of royalty re-adjustment. This royal*ty re-adjustment bill, for which I am,* and am glad to be, personally responsible, does these three things: It gives a fair and just measure of certainty to timber licence holders and, therefore, stability to our lumber industry. It somewhat increases present returns to the government from timber royalty, and provides for greater and greater increases in the future; but the most fundamental thing in this bill lies in its recognition of the right of the people of British Columbia to share in the increasing value of their own timber property.

"This bill is the product of several years of agitation and of more than a year of definite consideration of this whole royalty problem. This consideration has involved a thorough and practical investigation by the forest branch of my department into lumber values and lumber costs, whose difference, less a margin of fair profit to the lumber operator, spells stumpage values.

"The consideration of the royalty question has involved in the aggregate weeks of discussion. It has been approached by the government with fairness and unflinchingly, and I am glad to say that it has been approached with a remarkable measure of fair dealing by most of the lumbermen themselves.

Fundamental Policy

"Now I shall devote a few minutes to setting forth in a somewhat human, rather than a severely official way, just how I personally have approached this whole problem. I have never looked upon this question of royalty increase as a mere question of money raising. I have looked upon it rather as a fundamental question in public forest policy. To me it has had three great purposes in view, not the object of taking from the industry the highest possible money revenue. These three great purposes are as follows:

"First, so to settle this royalty question as to ensure to the highest practical degree the welfare of all the people in British Columbia as far as the forests contribute to their welfare, and that is very far.

"Second, so to handle this question that the government co-operates to the fullest legitimate extent in establish*ing and maintaining a permanent and* profitable lumber industry in our province; and, third, so to handle this matter as to make forest conservation not a remote but a nearer and more probable thing upon all timber limits.

"For, in the last analysis, the test of the success of the forest policy of this government will lie, not merely in the present productiveness, but still more in the future productiveness of the forests themselves.

"We have in our province vast areas of mountain forest land suited best to forest purposes. It is obviously the direct duty and responsibility of our government to keep that forest land under productive growing forests, and that conclusion has been ever prominent in my mind in this whole royalty matter.

"You will observe, therefore, that the increased revenue from the forests provided for by this bill, has been treated as less important than other and more vital public considerations. That the bill will increase revenues is a happy result; but I would consider it an unhappy result were it accomplished by violation of any one of the three great principles I have just set forth; the welfare of the people, the welfare of the lumbermen and the welfare of the forests.

"I say with some pride and pleasure that this bill is not the result of the application to British Columbia whole*sale of some plan worked out in some* other country. I have taken into account the approach which all other countries have made upon this problem of disposing profitably of the public timber. From some I have gained help, from others I have gained nothing, but in the aggregate this bill typifies the independent, original consideration of our home problem. It is not a borrowed measure, taken from somewhere else with the hope that it may fit our local conditions. It is a bill drafted in British Columbia, based on a knowledge of British Columbia conditions, and my belief is that it will work to the satisfaction of British Columbians.

"I think I may say without exaggeration that this is not merely a royalty measure. It is a forest conservation measure which has been augurated by this government in recent years. First came the inauguration of our forest branch, which is already an alert, efficient instrument, directed by alert, efficient, zealous men, in the development, protection and wise use of forest resources.

"Now comes, as I hope will come, the passage of this royalty bill, which settles, and settles definitely, and settles fairly, the uncertainties which in recent years, both for operator and investor, have disturbed somewhat the stability of the finances of our lumber industry.

"I hope that in the years to come, and not in the remote years either, we may take further great steps forward in our forest conservation policy. That policy, as I see it, has these great objects in view: To protect our forests, to get them wisely and profitably used, and to keep them coming. The last calls for a fair and reasonable measure of practical forestry. I have some plans for that which I think I will get, with profit to the lumbermen, the better assurance of a second crop upon the timber limits, and within a year I shall be ready to announce those plans. But before doing so I will discuss them, and modify them if necessary, and if I am convinced of the wisdom of the modifications, by working them out with the British Columbia lumbermen themselves.

"I see no reason why British Columbia should not lead all other parts of North America, and even our progressive friends to the south of us, in practical forest conservation. I realize that we will have to move quite rapidly to accomplish that result. But I am entirely willing, in fact I am eager, to enter into such friendly rivalry with forest conservation as our goal.

"Now, I will discuss in some detail not only the policy but also the plan of the Royalty Adjustment bill, and I will strive to be neither too technical, nor to fail to take up concretely and definitely, the procedure for which this bill provides.

Scale of Royalty

"The royalty bill comprises these four things: It fixes the royalty increase for 1915, and establishes a level of lumber prices on which future increases will be based. It provides seven five-year periods for royalty adjustment; and it provides that for each of these periods a given percentage of the price increment for lumber shall be added to the royalty. This percentage is 25 per cent. for the first five years and rises gradually to 40 per cent. for the last five year period. The fourth of the accomplishments of the Royalty bill is to re-adjust the rentals between the coast and the interior, and fix them for the whole period of the act. I will now take up each of these four principles separately, for which the bill provides, and their application, and will attempt—so far as practicable—to forecast their results.

"First, the royalty increase for which the bill provides takes effect on Jan. 1, 1915.

"The bill provides that these increases shall be, for coast lumber from the present royalty of 50 cents to 75 cents, an increase of 50 per cent. This increase, however, is not applied arbitrarily, but is the result of raising the royalty on different classes of logs in a proportion which puts the highest increase on the best logs, and no increase at all on logs of such low value that the increase would mean that they would be left lying in the woods. That plan is the particular application of the broad principle of forestry. To encourage the utilization of low grade material which otherwise might be wasted, and charge a fair rate of increase upon high grade material which in any case would be utilized, because in utilizing it lies the chief margin of profit in logging.

British Columbia Scale

"The royalty increase in 1915 provides that in the interior royalty shall be increased by the use of the British Columbia scale instead of the Doyle. That means an increase of probably 15 per cent. in royalty to the government, and as far as I and my advisors can figure it out is an equitable adjustment for royalty between the coast and the interior. In the central and northern interior, regions of great prospective timber development, the government has imposed in the Royalty bill a royalty charge of 65 cents per thousand feet board measure. This, again, in my best judgment, fairly represents the relative conditions as to lumber values in that region, as compared with the interior and the coast.

"These three increases take place in 1915, and hold good for five years, or until 1920. Then comes the first readjustment, based on increase in the actual lumber price of $18 fixed by the bill. But, before we take that up let me say a word about the general level of this royalty increase for the first five years.

"'Are they too high?' might ask some men of open mind who had not been fully informed. The central facts of this adjustment must be kept well in mind. In my judgment they are not too high; they merely take up a certain amount of slack, and they impose upon the industry so small an increase for its raw product that they cannot fairly be claimed to disturb existing financial conditions. They pre-suppose—as any reasonable man must pre-suppose—that this period of depression through which we have recently passed, and from which we are already emerging, is a temporary thing. They pre-suppose that in British Columbia, as in the rest of the world, the price of lumber will not continue to fall spasmodically, and that the general tendency will be up and not down.

Not Mere Money Raiser

"'Are they too low?' another open-minded man might ask. My belief is they are not too low. They might have been higher, for the government had the whip hand and they might have been two or three times as great and still have been well within the limits of our power. But, as I have said before, this plan and policy of royalty re-adjustment is not merely a money raiser for the present, not a financial emergency measure to wring the uttermost farthing out of the lumbermen. Moreover, I say this with strong conviction, based on impartial investigations: the financial condition of our lumber industry at present is not a very rosy one. I can say this, that in the aggregate some of the mills are making a little money and some are losing a little money, but the general average, and I am speaking from knowledge of the facts, is to break a little better than even, that is at the present moment. A little better than an even break; that is in general the lumberman's situation today. If that were made by ill-considered royalty increase mere an even break, or a little below an even break, the result would be to deal a body blow to an industry not altogether upon its feet, although rapidly approaching that condition. War, grave financial stress, some unforeseen demand for public funds in the interests of the public, might suggest some such step, but we face today no such condition.

"Now I will take up the progressive increase in royalty based on percentages of the price increment above the base level selling price of $18. As you will observe, these increases are made subject to the result of governmental investigations, and are applied at the end of each five years, to hold for the next five years. Therein lies the great principle around which hangs this bill; the principle that the government, the people and the lumbermen are co-operators in an industrial enterprise, the principle that there will be frequent readjustment based on the actual facts, timber royalty will keep pace with the growth in lumber values. So far as I am aware no such principle has ever been enacted before on so broad a scale by any other nation. In it lies not merely the great solution of the royalty question, but also the new principle of disposing of other public natural resources, which will live, it is my earnest hope, and which will also form the basis for the right handling of other similar policy questions by our government.

"You will observe that the government began by taking for the first five years 25 per cent. of the increment in the selling price of lumber over $18. This is true profit sharing. The government says to the lumberman in this bill: 'We will play fair with you, the more you get for your product the more we will charge. But we will not take all of the added increment, we will take a fair part, leaving to you good returns for your enterprise, your capital investment and your risk. If the price of the product does not go up we will take no more than we are taking now. We will play fair.'

"Now, to take up the fourth provision of the bill, which adjusts and fixes the rentals for the whole period.

"'Why fix the rental?' the open-'Why not leave that open? What's the minded uninformed man might say, use of tying it up for such a period?' To such a man my answer is this: Every British Columbia lumberman is fairly entitled to have the rentals fixed during the period of the royalty re-adjustment bill, and during the period that his profit is shared between the government and him.

"Now, just to touch upon a few things more before I conclude my remarks. What, you may ask will be the general effect in revenue, present, and future, of this bill? To that I make this reply: Coincident with its enactment this will will increase our timber royalty by somewhere between $50,000 and $60,000. By 1924, if the annual lumber cut increases on an average at the conservative figure of 5 per cent. per annum and lumber goes up moderately to $21 per 1,000 feet, this bill will have increased our royalty revenue to close on $2,500,000 a year. After that it will go further, but that is far enough to estimate. That makes us fairly good stewards of the public interest.

"For when we face the facts and turn from politics we are in the last analysis, mere stewards of the people. That is my conception of my task as minister of lands. Timber is merely one of the great resources with which my department deals. There are other great resources, the water and the land itself, of which I must also be a faithful steward. At some time in the not distant future I shall announce publicly what I hold to be the right and adequate policy of my department in land matters. That will be, so far as it lies in me to make it, a practical policy, because a policy is worth nothing unless it is carried out. It will be, so far as I can bring it about, a broad policy, because we face broad problems. It will not be an ideal policy, because ideal policies do not work; it will not ride rough shod over traditions, or over practical considerations; it will face facts and deal with actual conditions. But while it will not be an ideal policy it will be a policy through which will run the golden threads of practical ideals. For a public policy without those threads is a futile and a sorry thing. The forward light at the masthead, my friends, the jewel in the setting which surrounds it, the soul in a man, the heart of things—the world would be a sad place without them.

"And so with public policy; it must have soul. It must have body too, an efficient, alert body with which to do its work. And without the soul, without the vital spark, without the sense of public service for the public good no policy will stand, nor should.

"Not an ideal policy, but a policy based upon ideals; that is the kind of policy at which I aim for the lands department of this great province."

SINGS CHARMS OF CHAHKO MIKA

Another Nelson Poet Composes Lay to Carnival—March Will Be Played at Hockey Smoker

At the hockey club smoker tomorrow night "The Chahko Mika March," composed by H. G. Reddish, of this city, will be played by the members of the Nelson Mandolin club. Mr. Reddish has also composed a song entitled "Chahko Mika," for which the music has not yet been composed, but it is expected that the music for it will be ready and that it will be sung at the dance to be given by the Mandolin club on Feb. 27.

"CHAHKO MIKA" (YOU COME)

From nested vale, where fruitous
apple orchards bloom,
And verdant hills, whose breezes
tingle,
'Mid sceneries bright, of a haven free
from care or gloom,
Where purling streams and Alpine
beauty mingle,
The Kootenays send the world a greeting, "Chahko Mika"!
Carnival of summer's glorious sunshine hours:
"You come," is the lay we sing,
Welcome, too, the friends you bring,
Gaily pass the "Pipe of Peace" 'neath
festive bowers.

To pastimes sweet, 'mong its tow'ring
crags and pine trees tall,
Where Nature seems her gifts to squander,
And mirrored lakes, whereon dainty
launches rise and fall,
And shadowed nooks were merry
lovers wander,
The Kootenay zephyrs sound the tocsin, "Chahko Mika!"
Nelson echoes, clothed in fair-time
vestments gay:
"You come," just for friendship's
sake,
Welcome from our board partake—
Care not, while you pass the fleeting hours away.

Dancing Chorus

Hurrah for Chahko Mika, Nelson's jubilee,
Everyone is welcome, all from cares
be free;
Start the celebration on light fantastic toe,
There'll be fun for all, or big, or small,
At Nelson's Chahko Mika.

CHARGES OF HERESY FRIVOLOUS, SAYS PREACHER

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Christ church cathedral, this morning said he had never for a moment believed in the possibility of a split in the Anglican church over the Kikiyu incident. It was not a question of upsetting old faiths, but the formation of a united native church in Africa to combat strong Mohammedanism.

The preacher took issue with Dr. Weston, the Bishop of Zanzibar, who has preferred charges of heresy against the Bishops of Mombaza and Uganda, who took part in the conference. The charges of heresy, he thought, were of the lightest and even frivolous description.
