VIENNA BUILDS FORTIFICATIONS IN FEAR OF MUSCOVITE ATTACKS

Galicia Has Been Swept Clear of Austrians Except at Masked Fortresses--German Gasoline Supply Cut Off, Soon Making Great War Engines Useless

TEUTON TURNING EFFORT ON NIEMEN RIVER ENDS IN RETREAT OF INVADERS

Fighting Is Ferocious--Success of Germans Would Have Severed Railroads--Russians Advance on Retiring Enemy--Assaults on Polish Fortress Ineffective--Teutonic Positions Taken

VIENNA, Sept. 30, via Paris, Oct. 1, 2:15 a.m.—The news of the beginning of the Russian invasion of Hungary is exciting the greatest apprehension throughout the monarchy, despite the official assurances that the action is without importance and should give no occasion for anxiety.

The work on the fortifications around Vienna is being rushed and an official warning has been issued to the public against entering certain areas.

The Asiatic cholera is spreading rapidly, cases being reported daily in Vienna and in various districts of Hungary. Scores of cases already have been found in Galicia whence the disease has spread to other parts.

Cuts off German Liquid Fuel

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

PETROGRAD, Sept. 30.—The Germans have retired from the Niemen and failed on the only roads to the flank of the Niemen defensive.

In Russia there is a disposition to attribute the failure to defeat the Russian troops to the presence of Germans with the Austrian forces. The latter everywhere have fought with steady bravery that has cost the Russians dearly and, like all courageous foes the Austrians have won the respect of the Russians who have opposed to them in the field.

The Russian successes have also cut off the motive power for the many of Germany's fighting engines. One of the principal results obtained by the Russian raid into Hungary across the Carpathians is the cutting off of the last possible supply to Germany of mineral oils, without which Zeppelins, armored motor cars, guns and traction engines become pieces of dead metal.

Austrians Claim Success.

LONDON, Oct. 1, 5:30 a.m.—According to an official message issued in Budapest, and according to a Rome despatch to the Exchange Telegraph states that the Hungarians have recaptured Uzsok Pass in the Carpathians.

Austrians Swept from Galicia

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Russian armies continue to sweep through Galicia and, according to a Rome despatch tonight, that province is cleared of Austrian troops. What is more is that the field armies of Austria have either gone into the fortress of Przemysl and Cracow or retreated to the south and west.

The Russians have come across the country in great parallel lines, and, masking Przemysl, have swept the country clear as far as a line drawn from Duklao, in the south, to the neighborhood of Rzeszow in the north, while other forces have pushed their way through the passes of the Carpathians into Hungary. They have only to go a little further to get possession of the railway that runs from Sandec through the mountains to Lubla and through the heart of the country to Budapest.

If they accomplish this they will be able to join hands with the army which is approaching Cracow. According to Petrograd correspondents they intend to treat Cracow as they did Przemysl and continue their march in Silesia.

Fighting on Niemen Ferocious

In the meantime they have for a week been fighting the Germans along the river Niemen between Kovno and Grodno and have thus far held them in check while reinforcements have been reaching them. The battle is described as being a ferocious one but no details have been allowed to reach here. The German object in sending a strong force in this direction is an attempt to cut the railway line from Warsaw, through Vilna and Grodno to Petrograd.

Semlin, the important Austrian town opposite Belgrade, which the Servians captured several weeks ago but evacuated when the Austrians threatened them in another quarter, is officially stated again to have fallen into Servian hands. This will relieve Belgrade from the almost incessant cannonading to which that city has been subjected.

Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia, is coming within gunshot of the Servian and Montenegrin armies, which are gathering around in the hope of adding that city to their conquests.

Struggle in Rainy, Cold Weather.

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A Petrograd despatch to the Daily Chronicle says:

"To the west of Grodno lies the big pine forest of Agustow, 24 miles long and 36 broad, intersected by a canal connecting the Niemen with the Vistula and surrounded with lakes.

"Through this forest in rainy, chilly weather the Germans, who the other day tried to force the passage of the Niemen northwest of Grodno, are retiring, while the Russians are advancing and attacking the Germans on the flank, apparently with the object of cutting their communications. A little further south the Germans are dealing a frontal attack on a small fortress which commands the only negotiable passage across the swampy district. So far the attack has proved unsuccessful at this point.

"The attempted German advance in a southwesterly direction has been checked, but still further south in Silesia, along the frontier of the Piotrkow and Kalisz governments in Poland, the Germans are greatly strengthening their forces and, according to a Russian official statement, are preparing for active operations.

Germans Try Turning Movement.

"In all this curious shuffling, this hurried work and these marches and counter-marches of the Germans along the Polish frontier, a certain plan is becoming dimly visible. The German and Austrian armies together constitute one big army extending from Galicia to the Baltic and connected through Cracow. The left flank of this army in Galicia is scrambling under the unceasing blows of the Russians' battering rams and the Germans are apparently trying to neutralize the effect of the Russian advance on the southeast by a turning movement on the Russian right to the north of Warsaw.

"So far, this attempt has failed and the reported preparations for an advance in Silesia may be intended to create a diversion with the object of facilitating a more northerly movement.

"In Galicia the Russians continue to advance, occupying important strategic points, picking up battalions of vanquished and exhausted prisoners, artillery munitions and stores and finding at every step evidence of the thorough disorganization of the Austrians. The latter have at no point had time to re-form their army. Their retreating regiments are a jumble of men belonging to various units, utterly lacking in cohesion and clinging together merely for safety during flight."

Russians Repulsed, Berlin Says.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A statement issued in Berlin today and received here through the Marconi company, follows:

"The Russians, in trying to cross the Carpathians in small columns and break through into Hungary, have been repulsed everywhere. As these operations are a great distance from the main theatre of war the maneuvers are unimportant, but if the intention was to create disquiet among

LONDON, Oct. 1, 4:15 a.m.—The Times says today that it is able to give from a thoroughly trustworthy source the text of an order issued by Emperor William to his army on Aug. 19 It follows:

"It is my royal and imperial command that you concentrate your energies for the immediate present upon one single purpose and that is that you put forth all your skill and valor to exterminate first the treacherous English and walk over General French's contemptible little army."

GENERAL WING AMONG WOUNDED

Officer Who Distinguished Himself in Many South African Battles Appears on Casualty List.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, Sept. 30, 10:15 p.m.—The official report of casualties among British officers in despatches under date of Sept. 23 and 24, from general headquarters, includes five killed, 25 wounded and four died of wounds.

Among the wounded is Brig.-Gen. Frederick D. V. Wing, commanding the 13th division of royal artillery. He won distinction in the South African war, where he took part in many important operations and the defense of Ladysmith.

Brig.-Gen. Wing has commanded the 13th division of the Royal Horse artillery since 1913. He was born in 1866.

During the South African war he was six times mentioned in despatches and took part in actions at Telana Hill, Farquhar's farm, Botha's pass, Alleman's nek, in addition to the defense of Ladysmith and the operations in Transvaal and Orange Free State. During the last six months of the war he was in command of the mobile column.

FRENCH CANADIAN CORPS PLAN WIDER

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—The proposal to form a French Canadian regiment for active service will probably widen into a much larger scheme. The promoters met this morning and discussed the details of a plan to form a brigade of French Canadians, commanded and completely officered by men of that race and consisting solely of French Canadians.

This will mean that instead of enrolling 1000 men for service the recruiting officers will try to raise over 4000 men.

Col. Joseph Landry, commander of the 5th military division of Canada, will probably be the commanding officer chosen.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—The story below of the departure of the Canadian troops, published in the Montreal Star under the correspondent's signature, is preceded by a caption declaring that it was written some days ago and withheld from publication.

QUEBEC, Sept. 30.—Quietly the transports slip into the docks. Quietly the hawsers are unloosed and the great gray ships steam up or down, awaiting the word to lift anchors and sail toward the sea.

At Valcartier the long troop trains come hurrying into the city and down to the basin. Up on the terrace women stand and watch, wondering which ship bears the loved one to whom they have said good-bye. Today the headquarters staff moves on board and the correspondents who are to accompany the Canadian expeditionary force across the water also must find their places on the transports.

When this is read the transports will be far out to sea, and with them will be a fleet of long, grim cruisers, protecting them from any vagrant German warship that may be panhandling along the lanes of the north Atlantic.

It took nearly a week to complete the embarkation. The month of rumors had come to an end and the camp knew a week ago that any day would see the commencement of the movement. All that delayed it was the arrival of the transports and they were closing in from east and west. The entire routine of the camp had undergone a great change. The min-

BOMBARD OUTER ANTWERP FORTS

Belgians Claim Attacks Have Been Repulsed, Retake Malines—Alost Set on Fire by Foe.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Germans have begun an attack on the outer forts of Antwerp. For two days they have been shelling forts Waelhem and Wavre-St. Catharines, which cover the road from Malines to Antwerp. Behind Waelhem are the waterworks that supply Antwerp, but even the destruction of these would not be fatal to the fortress as a good supply of water has been provided for from other sources.

Concerning the progress of this attack, the official reports give widely different accounts.

The Belgians say the German advances have been repulsed and that their shells have had no effect on the forts.

On their part, the Germans declare that the Belgian sorties have been driven back. It probably will be some days yet before the Germans bring the full force of their artillery to bear and not until then can it be judged whether the forts can stand the fire of big modern siege guns.

The Germans have agreed not to damage or destroy historical monuments or churches if the Belgians will agree not to use them for military purposes.

Belgians Retake Malines

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Malines has been reoccupied by the Belgians, says the Antwerp correspondent of Reuters. His despatch continues:

"The Germans today renewed the bombardment of Lierre, a manufacturing town nine miles southeast of Antwerp, and Heyst Opdenberg, a town near Lierre.

"At Lierre the tower of the church of St. Gommarius, the convent of the Blanc sisters and some houses have been struck by shells and four women have been wounded. Most of this district has been completely deserted by the civilian population."

The church of St. Gommarius, one of the finest late gothic churches in the kingdom, was begun in 1425 and completed in 1527. Recently it was restored. Three of its fine stained glass windows were presented by Emperor Maximilian.

Bombard Alost, Set It Afire

LONDON, Sept. 30, 5:50 p.m.—A Central News despatch from Antwerp says:

"The Germans again bombarded Alost and set fire to the town. Fierce fighting is raging at various points along the whole line."

This order, which is to be filled within ten days, will cost France approximately $750,000.

Eight representatives of the French government here declared they were authorized to buy 100,000 horses with an expenditure of about $12,000,000.

SAYS AUSTRIAN VICTORIES MANY

Germans Soon to Have Great Victory in France—This Is the Truth, Archduke Declares

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, via Amsterdam and London, Sept. 30.—Archduke Frederick of Austria, commander-in-chief of the Austrian army, today issued the following order:

"The situation of the Germans and Austrians is favorable. The Russian offensive is beginning to break down. We, with the German troops, shall beat again the enemy already beaten at Krasnik, Zmostow (both towns in Russian Poland), Insterburg and Tannenberg (the last two places named in East Prussia).

"The German main army without hindrance has penetrated deep into France, where a new and great victory is imminent.

"Internal dissatisfaction, insurrections and lack of food threaten our enemy in the rear, while the dual monarchy and Germany are united and have full confidence of fighting out to the end this war which was forced on them. This is the truth about the situation.

"Archduke Frederick."

BERLIN BEGINS TO SHOW IMPATIENCE

Signs of Disgust Are Seen at German Capital—Austrian Military Expert Grows Critical.

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A Rome despatch to the Post brings a report of conditions in Berlin and Vienna as follows:

"The Berlin correspondent of the Messagero reports that there is growing disgust on the part of the residents of Berlin at the situation and impatience with the local bulletins. Gen. von Hindenberg's plan of an attack on Russia's Baltic provinces is considered a mistake so late in the season.

"A telegram from Vienna describes the situation in the dual monarchy as aggravated by the spread of cholera, especially among the Polish soldiers and refugees.

"Col. Baron publishes another important criticism of the military situation. The eminent critic considers that every day increases the Austro-German difficulties on the eastern frontier and that the German staff is embarrassed to know whether to employ its main forces against France or to save Austria from rout."

SACRIFICE OF THOUSANDS OF MEN FAILS TO STEM ADVANCE OF FRANCO-BRITISH

Allies' Commanders Husband Lives of Men as Much as Possible, But Troops Do Not Flinch When Costly Frontal Assaults Become Necessary--Turning Move Against Von Kluck Develops Rapidly

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 1, 3:20 a.m.—A Rotterdam despatch to the News says:

"Despatches from the south indicate that preparations for the retreat of the German right have already begun. German troops have been observed coming from the north of France toward Tournai and Mons, prepared to cover the main army in case of retreat."

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 1, 4:23 a.m.—A despatch from Ghent to the Express, dated Wednesday, declares that the Germans have built five heavy pontoon bridges across the river Meuse between Givet and Namur, apparently for the purpost of facilitating their retirement from France.

All their wounded, the despatch says, have been removed from Brussels.

Both German Wings Recede.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FROM THE BATTLE FRONT, via Paris, Sept. 30, 6:30 p.m.—This was the seventh day of hard fighting along the 150-mile front from Somme to the Moselle and yet there is no definite indication that the historic battle is nearing a finish. There are, however, signs that the Germans are receding before a forcible and sustained pushing from the allied armies, especially on their western and eastern wings while the centre, where the Germans are more strongly entrenched than at any other point with heavy artillery, remains almost stationary.

It is generally concluded by French military men that some important move must soon be made by the Germans, who have found it impossible to stem the advance of the allies, though they made the sternest and most desperate resistance, sacrificing thousands of men daily.

The German wings appear as though folding back on the centre, leaving the sole loophole for a backward movement by way of Rethel.

Supply Base Endangered.

The Germans' main supply base at Juniville, which is protected by heavy masses of troops, as it is absolutely essential from the German standpoint that this place shall be held for the revictualing of the German armies in northeastern France, appears to be placed in a somewhat precarious situation with its single line of railroad.

The line of battle has changed considerably since the beginning of the actual contact between the two great armies, whose numbers and real positions it is not permitted to make public.

The front now presents sinuous windings, looping inward and outward at various points in a country which everywhere is wonderfully adapted to defense.

The allies' commanders are husbanding their men's lives to the greatest possible extent by keeping them from frontal attacks on positions where the Germans are in advantageous situations but whenever the plan of campaign necessitates direct attacks the French and British soldiers go forward cheerfully with the utmost confidence in their leaders.

Likely to Compel Retreat.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30, 10:01 p.m.—The nineteenth day of the battle of the Aisne finds the allied armies pushing with all the strength they can bring to bear in their great effort to outflank the German right wing and force it back from its line of communications through Belgium.

There is evidence that this movement is beginning to tell and unless something unforeseen happens, this portion of the German army must fall back to another defensive line.

The French official report issued this afternoon says the action continues to develop toward the northward; so that the French left must now be pushing toward Cambrai, as yesterday it was in the neighborhood of Albert. The turning movement against the German right is developing rapidly, the report says.

Even further north than this the French cavalry is operating and last week a German force which was sent to Orchies, 16 miles southeast of Lille, to punish fractireurs for an alleged attack on a German hospital at that place, met with superior forces and had to fall back.

Germans Admit Advance on Wings.

The Germans, too, admit that they have been unable to arrest the French advance against their right and also that the allies have advanced on their right front. Indeed there seems to be some agreement in the official reports of the belligerents on the events in this part of the battlefield.

The German reports refer to an advance of the allies, while the French communications says that a vigorous attack made by the Germans on Tracy le Mont, northeast of the forest of Argonne, was repulsed with heavy losses. Of course, these reports may refer to different incidents but they neverthless agree that advantage is with the allies.

In the centre from Reims to the Meuse, the armies appear still to be waiting for the outcome of the fighting on the wings, as there has been a lull in the battle there.

Get Behind Foe.

Between the Argonne and the Meuse and again in Woevre, there has been more fighting, where the French claim to have made slight progress and and to have advanced at several points, especially to the east of St. Mihiel.

The French staff is sparing with its information. It is evident that the forces which advanced to Toul to oppose the Germans who crossed the Meuse near St. Mihiel have succeeded in getting behind the small contingent of invaders who had successfully carried out an attempt to bend the French line at this point. Other offensive movements by the French between Verdun and Toul were, however, according to the German report, repulsed.

In Lorraine and in the Vosges there has been no change in the situation and here, too, the armies seem to be awaiting the result of the geater contest going on further west where, British military experts believe the allies have at last firmly set the claws of their left in the German right wing under General von Kluck.

Advance South of Woevre

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 30, 11:17 p.m.—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"The general situation is satisfactory. There has been no change of any account on the front except to the south of the Woevre, where we have occupied Seicheprey and advanced as far as the slopes of Rupt de Mad."

NAMES INDIAN PORTS OPEN TO FOREIGNERS

Is Precauton Against Spies and Is Not Connected With Any Fear of Rebellion.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Despatches today announcing that Great Britain had named Rangoon, Calcutta and Madrid as the only ports through which foreigners can enter India were explained at the British embassy as another precaution against the widespread campaign of German espionage in English territory. The same step has been taken in regard to the entrance of aliens into the British islands. British officials said the action had no connection with based reports of fears of the fomentation of a rebellion in India.

CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND AN APPEAL

On August 27, on the recreation grounds, the entire population of Nelson district, assembled to bid Godspeed to our Volunteers, solemnly pledged itself by acclamation to relieve the relatives and dependents of our soldiers when in need. Since then an organization, nation-wide, has been called into existence, and is presided over by His Royal Highness the Governor-General, with His Majesty the King as patron.

This organization, the "Canadian Patriotic Fund," is empowered: "To collect, administer and distribute a fund for the assistance in case of need of the wives, children and dependent relatives of officers and men, residents of Canada, who, during the present war, may be on active service with the naval and military forces of the British Empire and Great Britain's allies."

On the call of our lieutenant-governor, the citizens of Nelson and district, on the 18th of September, elected an executive committee. This committee hereby urgently calls upon the district at large to redeem the pledge given to our soldiers. A scheme is being considered to enable all, without exception, to contribute to these much-needed funds. The manner of collecting the contributions will at an early date be laid before the citizens at a public meeting.

Meanwhile the committee is ready to receive all contributions, which should be addressed to the secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. H. D. Benson, manager of the Imperial Bank, Nelson, B. C.

MINE DESTROYS ITALIAN VESSEL, MAY CAUSE WAR

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The sowing of floating mines by the Austrians to harrass the French and British warships in the Adriatic has resulted in the sinking of an Italian fishing boat and the Italian government has entered a protest at Vienna. The incident has created bitter feeling in Italy, where it is said the mines have drifted from the Austrian to the Italian side of the Adriatic and have terrorized the fishing industry, which is the chief resource of the region.

The Marquis San Guiliano, foreign minister, who was one of the best friends of the triple alliance in Italy, is seriously ill and Premier Sanandria has taken charge of the foreign office. It is suggested in London that this might bring about some change in the policy of Italy. The premier is said to be in favor of Italy joining the allies, to which the Marquis di San Guiliano was strongly opposed.

Thought Mine Was Cask

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 30, via Paris, 7 p.m.—Details of the destruction of a fishing boat off Rimiene by a floating mine show that the fishermen mistook the mine for a wine cask, which they sought to recover.

Throwing out a line they drew the supposed cask toward their boat and when it touched the craft an explosion occurred. The boat was blown to pieces and all the nine men on board were killed. Members of other fishing crews in the vicinity were injured by flying splinters.

Naval experts express the opinion that hundreds of mines from the Austrian coast are floating toward Italy and as a consequence all steamship lines operating to Dalmatia, Montenegro, Albania and Greece from Italian ports have suspended sailings. Ships which have been operating between Italy and Constantinople and other Black sea ports have limited their trips to stops at Saloniki and Dedeagatch.

Seafaring interests demand that the government require prompt and thorough satisfaction from Austria.

ROME, Sept. 30.—An Italian torpedo boat is reported to have been sunk by a mine between Venice and Comachio, in the Adriatic sea. There is no official confirmation of this.

Hurry Manufacture of Guns.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, via Paris, Sept. 30.—Factories manufacturing big guns are working night and day to finish the supply of modern cannon which has been obtained for the army.

It is expected that within a short time the whole army will be provided with these cannon.

An order has been issued to hasten the preparation of the supply of provisions and ammunition for the troops.

Signor Monti Guarniere, deputy from Pesaro, recently called on the ministry of war for an explanation of the delay in the manufacture of cannon ordered from Italian firms.

It was semi-officially statel that the question concerned 87 field batteries.

He states the proposal to organize a new militia regiment in Berlin is being pushed with enthusiasm. The first night the lists were opened 200 volunteered.

FOMENT TROUBLE IN BRUSSELS CITY

Germans Provoke People With Object of Getting Excuse for Destroying Belgian Capital.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Chafing under control of the Germans, the residents of Brussels are growing hourly more surly, according to a courier who arrived in London today from the Belgian capital, which place he left yesterday morning. He reports that there have been several riots and although the Germans threaten to shoot the ringleaders, they refrain from doing so after deliberation.

"However, the Belgians give ample evidence that sooner or later they will rise up in arms against the enemy in their midst," the courier said. "There will be a big outbreak in Brussels in the near future if the Germans do not stop their overbearing tactics and when that does occur the Germans will fire the city. Prominent Belgians I have talked with declare it will be impossible to control the populace should the provocation continue, despite the fact that the Belgians believe these provocations are all planned to give an opportunity to destroy the city on the pretext of a reprisal."

One particular form of provocation, he said, is the marching of Belgian prisoners through the streets of Brussels while German soldiers taunt them. The incarceration of M. Max, mayor of Brussels, has intensified the Belgian feeling. When the news of the torpedoing of the British cruisers reached Brussels no pains were spared to let the population know about it.

MAJOR RIGBY POPULAR WITH HIS COMPANY

The 12th battalion of the Canadian expeditionary force, of which 116 members of the first Kootenay-Boundary contingent form G company, are in command of Col. McLeod, according of Basil N. Aylmer, son of Lord Aylmer of Queens Bay and a member of the contingent from this district, who has written to a Nelson friend.

"All the boys have a good word for Major Rigby, whom everyone likes. He is a good officer and that means a great deal in this game. George Paterson is scout in our company," continues Mr. Aylmer in his letter.

"I think our company will make a name for itself if it ever gets into action, for the boys look like a game lot and can all shoot very well. I don't know what we would have done without the fruit the Nelson people gave us, for on the train on the way down we only had two meals a day. The boys all know their drill pretty well and will get the rough edges off in England," he concludes

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gasses and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken tonight straightens you out by morning—a 10 cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. WAR VINDICATION OF CHRISTIANITY

All Deplore Hostilities in Abstract but in This Case They Are Just Says Bishop Farthing.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—"The present war is not a reflection on our Christian faith but a vindication of it," said Bishop Farthing in the course of an address before the Soldiers' Wives League this morning.

"In the abstract,' said his lordship, "we all deplore war. We are told frequently that war is contrary to the Christian faith, but our attitude is tha the present war is the vindication of Christian principles. If we condone wrong when we have the power to prevent it, are we not equally guilty with those who do the wrong? If it is cowardice to see the weak individual oppressed, it is also national cowardice to stand aloof while the weak nation is oppressed. We are bound to suffer sometimes, nations as well as individuals, for the cause of righteousness."

LONDON, Sept. 30, 10:17 p.m.—The fighting along the East Prussian frontier, in which the Russians have been successful in extending their front 150 versts (99 miles), has resulted in the repulse of all the German attempts to force a passage of the river Niemen. This statement is contained in a despatch from the Petrograd correspondent of Reuters.

EMPEROR WILLIAM EXTREMELY ILL?

LORD ROBERTS IS EIGHTY YEARS OLD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Lord Roberts is 82 years old today. It has been over 60 years since he fought in the Indian mutiny and 10 years since he resigned as commander-in-chief of the British army. Just now he is hard at work encouraging recruiting, inspecting new regiments and collecting field glasses and saddlery for use at the front.

When Great Task Begins

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Lord Roberts, in an article in the Hibbert Journal, urges the people not to underestimate the power of Germany with its 66,000,000 people.

"I cannot help thinking," he writes, "that the great task of subduing that nation will begin when we, with our French, Russian and Belgian allies, have driven the Germans into the heart of their own territory.

"May I give a word of caution to my fellow countrymen against the unsportsmanlike practise of abusing one's enemies. Let us avoid what Kipling during the Boer war described as 'killing Kruger with our mouths.' Let us rather devote all our energies to defeating our foeman by the superior fighting of British soldiers in the open field.

"When we read the charges against the German troops let us remember that gross charges, absolutely untrue, were brought against our own brave soldiers fighting in South Africa, but whether the charges are true or not let us keep our own hands clean and let us fight against the Germans in such a way as to earn their liking as well as their respect."

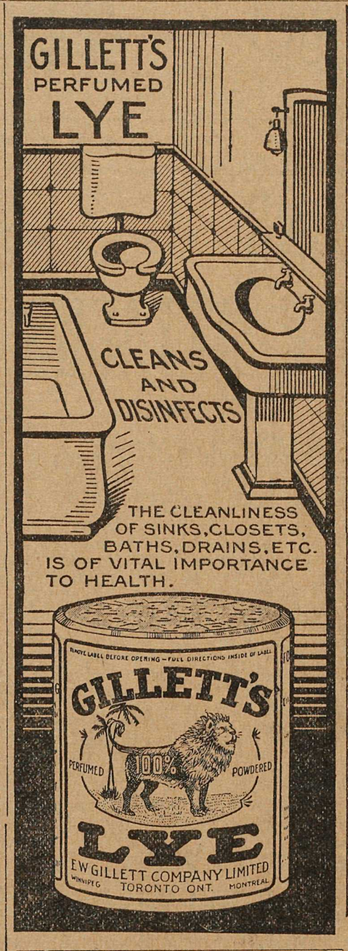
Other high scores for the afternoon were: T. Keith, 92; R. W. Hinton, 91; and J. Teague, 91.

NEW BRUNSWICK TOWN SUFFERS IN BIG FIRE

CENTREVILLE, N. B., Sept. 30.—This village suffered severely from fire early this evening. The fire started in a dwelling occupied by a crew engaged in railway work, gained headway before it was discovered and before brought under control it had completely destroyed Burt's hotel, the Bank of Nova Scotia and several dwellings. The loss is about $50,000, practically covered by insurance.



CONDITIONS FOR INVESTMENT GOOD

Improvement Is Noted—Inquiry for Bonds Increases—Heavy Gold Shipments to Ottawa Planned.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Foreign exchange continues to be the main feature of interest in the financial situation as evidenced by today's further abrupt decline in bills on London, announcement that the projectors of the $100,000,000 gold pool contemplated an early shipment of gold to Ottawa in connection with foreign obligations and that large exports of cotton have recently been made since the relaxation of high rates.

Investment conditions are showing further improvement, this fact being demonstrated by a steady, moderate increase in inquiry for bonds.

Interesting sidelights on the domestic monetary situation was afforded by the proposed sale of $40,000,000 of 6-month and 1-year 5 per cent notes by the New York Central railway to a syndicate which is to take them on a 7 per cent basis. Other financing of like character for several large transportation companies is under negotiation.

October interest and dividend payments for the railroads, industrial companies and various utilities aggregate $73,987,000 against $96,621,000 in the same quarter last year. The reduction is largely the result of numerous reduced or suspended dividends brought about by the European war. Demand for commercial paper is also at a standstill but this condition is certain of rectification, so bankers believe, before the end of another fortnight.

Many stock exchange loans falling due tomorrow are to be renewed at 7 per cent, according to rumor, but in some instances the 8 per cent rate is likely to prevail.

Absence of domestic demand for finished products in iron and steel is being neutralized in a measure by an increase of foreign orders.

The United States Steel corporation is now booking export orders in much the same volume as before the war but the outlook is admittedly discouraging. Reports of a coming wage reduction in that industry lack of confirmation in authoritative quarters.

Private advices to the effect that an agreement has been reached for the protection of the London stock exchange, preparatory to the resumption of business, was accepted as a natural corollary of the approaching termination of the British moratorium.

Wore Number Thirteen on Official Cap for Fifteen Years—Woman Probably Will Die.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 30.—Motorman Charles Gaell, who for 15 years has worn an official cap marked "No. 13," was killed at noon today in a street car collision in South Vancouver. He was in charge of a car which was struck by a runaway flat car whose brakes had been released by school boys. Of five passengers aboard one escaped unhurt. One injured was a Chinaman who was afraid to jump and who suffered a few scratches. The other three were father, mother and little daughter of the James Green family. The father was badly bruised the mother sustained a fractured skull and will likely die and the little girl's leg was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

BELGIUM WOULD NOT STOOP TO DISHONOR

British Foreign Under-Secretary Refutes Statements by German Minister—Agadir Affair

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Francis Dyke Ackland, parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs, refutes statements made by the German secretary of state, Herr von Jagow, in an interview recently issued at Berlin "that England had provoked poor Belgium to make resistance."

"This leaves it to be inferred," says Mr. Ackland, "that Belgium, if unprovoked, would really have allowed herself to be trampled upon. It might have been thought that the nature of the resistance offered by Belgium would be enough to prevent such a libel on a gallant foe.

"An official statement issued this week by the Belgian government conclusively proves that there was no provocation from England or anybody else to make Belgium maintain its rights. The Belgian government at the time of the Agadir crisis did not hesitate to warn the foreign ambassadors, in terms which could not be misunderstood, of its intention to protect the neutrality of Belgium by every means at its disposal."

The under-secretary calls attention to Herr von Jagow's statement that Germany did not violate Belgium's neutrality until the night of Aug. 3-4, but on Aug. 2, Von Jagow says, Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary, promised the French ambassador the full support of the English fleet if the German fleet attacked the French coast.

"The German minister," comments Mr. Ackland, "suppresses the facts that already on July 31 Sir Edward Grey had asked the French and German governments if they were prepared to engage to respect the neutrality of Belgium; that France immediately gave the required engagement and that Herr von Jagow said he could not answer and that the answer ultimately received was 'no.'"

TO CUT OFF FOE'S SUPPLIES IS OBJECT

Britain's Action in Holding Up Neutral Ships Carrying Cargoes for Germans Is Justified

(Special Cable to The Daily News and New York Times.)

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The important question of preventing or permitting the shipment of supplies which might be ultimately destined for use by the enemy through neutral Holland is now before the British government.

It also forms the basis of diplomatic negotiations between Great Britain and the United States and The Netherlands.

The question is of immense importance because it is no small part of the allies' plan to force Germany to its knees by cutting off its supplies. Therefore England must decide upon a definite policy concerning the treatment of cargoes carried into Holland under a neutral flag.

England's decision will be against permitting anything which might give aid or comfort to the enemy from going into Holland and her naval forces are already being used to prevent such procedure. England's point of view is readily seen by critical observers, who consider England right in stopping cargoes, even though it may later be penalized in prize courts, for if such stoppage of supplies should lessen the duration of the war even by a single day, England will save itself practically all damages, as the war is costing nearly $5,000,000 daily.

The British navy has arrested about a score of vessels flying the Dutch flag. Some of these have come from America, bearing American cargoes. That is where the United States state department has come in and there has been a rather lively exchange of views on the subject, although the whole negotiation is being conducted in the most amiable manner imaginable. The British foreign office, being keenly desirous of affording to American shippers the minimum amount of inconvenience and interference, is being guided in imposing restrictions only by the laws of self-preservation.

Among the vessels now held in British ports are the steamers Rotterdam and Potsdam. They are filled with American cargoes sold by Americans to the Dutch government and to commercial agents in Holland.

England has asked Holland to give a guarantee that nothing on board Dutch boats will ever reach Germany. This Holland refuses, holding that no government is required to give such a guarantee but she has offered England every facility to make investigations in Holland as to the bona fide nature of the shipment.

In the meantime many shipments of foodstuffs which Holland needs for its own consumption are being shipped in the name of the government, which is an adequate guarantee that they will not be sent to Germany.

FIREWORKS EXPLODE KILL FIVE IN CHICAGO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—H. B. Thearle, president of the Pain Fireworks Display Company of America, and four employes were killed today by an explosion which destroyed the company's plant.

In addition to Thearle, Florence Hill, stenographer; E. M. Connor, salesman; Roland H. Wolf, shiping clerk, and Joseph Johnson, an electrician, were killed. John Costello, an office boy, was blown through a door into an alley and may die.

Firemen tonight thought that other bodies might be under the debris in the flooded basement. The explosion took place in the steel and concrete vault of the building, in which $5,000 worth of fireworks was stored. The vault was supposed to be fireproof, but it was blown to atoms. A pillar of smoke 500 feet high rose over the ruined building. Adjoining office buildings were shaken and damaged. Many persons were injured by broken glass.

The explosion, it was said, might have been caused by a spark from wiring which Johnson, the missing electrician, was adjusting.

TURKS MUTINIED ON BRITISH SHIP

Plotted to Murder Captain and Family and Seize Vessel—Thought War Declared

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A tale of alleged mutiny on the high seas by Turks who had heard that Turkey had declared war on Great Britain was told in the Tombs court today by Capt. Stewart of the British tramp steamer Isle of Mull, which arrived here yesterday from South American ports.

At Barbadoes the Turks in the crew received news that their country was warring on England. They refused to work after the ship got under way again, according to Capt. Stewart, and held whispered conversations in the forecastle.

One night the master frustrated an attempt to murder himself and his family and seize the ship, he said.

Capt. Stewart then placed the ringleaders in chains. As the alleged mutiny was not committed within the three-mile neutrality limit, the Turks arraigned today were ordered kept in a court prison until the case should be brought to the attention of the British consul-general here. Capt. Stewart said he would ask the consul-general to have the Turks transferred to one of the British cruisers off this harbor for trial on a charge of mutiny.

The penalty for conviction for mutiny under the British naval law is death, according to Capt. Stewart.

EXPEL MEMBER FOR BEING UNPATRIOTIC

Vancouver Man Is Expelled From Board of Trade—Disturbance When He Repeats Statements.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 30.—T. A. Fee, one of the prominent real estate dealers in this city and a member of the board of trade, was expelled from that organization tonight for having used expressions that were considered unpatriotic.

The allegation was that Mr. Fee stated he hoped the time would soon arrive when Canada would be under the control of the United States and that John Bull had never done anything for him.

The meeting was one of the most uproarious ever held. At times the 200 members present were all shouting at the same time and it was with the greatest difficulty that the secretary could be heard reading Mr. Fee's letter of explanation.

In this letter the writer reiterated his statements which created fresh disorders and someone started to sing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

So keen was the feeling that no one would descend in the elevator with Mr. Fee at the conclusion of the meeting.

RAILROADS MUST NOT RECLASSIFY

Proposed Change Is Refused Permission by Commission—Affects Shipments From East.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—A telegram was received today from A. D. Cartwright, secretary of the railway commission, stating that the appeal of boards of trade and commercial interests against the three railways' proposed reclassification of rates on mixed carloads from eastern and western Canada had won. The full text of the judgment is not available, but the telegram was as follows:

"On the hearing in Montreal on Sept. 24 and for reasons set out in judgment being mailed, order follows restoring mixed carload arrangement on groceries and dry fruits, also liquor from distributing points west of and including Port Arthur; also from eastern point to western destinations.

"Restoration to take effect Oct. 1."

HEARST LIKELY NEW PREMIER OF ONTARIO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—In well informed Conservative circles here it was said that Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of lands, forests and mines, would be the new premier of Ontario. As it appears now, the situation is that no temporary expedient will be adopted in filling the vacancy caused by the death of Sir James Whitney but that the selection of a premier will be permanent, but there will be no caucus of Conservative members.

The names generally mentioned today were I. B. Lucas, the provincial treasurer, and Hon. Mr. Hearst, with the latter the favorite.

It is said that Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals at Ottawa, will be a factor in the cabinet reconstruction before many days. Anxiety to find a strong hand that can hold the diverse interests of the Conservative government together has compelled the old members of that party to look to its former cabinet member for effectual aid.

METHODISTS REACH NO DECISION ON TIME LIMIT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—Although there was a lengthy discussion when the Methodist general conference adjourned tonight no decision had been reached on the question of whether the time limit for the pastorate should be extended or the four-year term left as it is.

An amendment to change the time limit from four to six years was voted down, as was another to extend the term to five years.

BIG NEW COPPER COMPANY FORMED

Two Million Dollar Corporation Will Develop Voigt Camp Properties—Eastern Men Interested.

(Special to The Daily News)

PRINCETON, B. C., Sept. 30.—The Similkameen Consolidated Copper company is the name of the new company formed to take over the entire Voigt property on Copper mountain. The company has a present authorized capitalization of $2,000,000, which will be increased to a total of $20,000,000. The president of the company is W. S. Ayres of Hazelton, Pa., who is also chief consulting engineer. Among others of the company are W. E. A. Wheeler, Robert McKenzie, H. H. Baker and L. Barker of New York, Dr. G. A. Harrington, Hazelton, Pa.; Robert Barron and L. G. Frankan of Scranton, Pa.; A. Mitchell and John C. Law of Carbondale, Pa. During the past week, in company with E. F. Voigt, they have made a close examination of many of the mineral claims comprising Voigt camp.

Messrs. Ayres and Law, mining engineers, have spent several days examining tunnels, shafts and open cuts. Both have been on mining and constructive development work for large interests throughout the west and they are amazed at the enormous depth and width of rich ore bodies in the Voigt group. The copper ore assets are believed beyond the total capitalization and will afford reserves for 75 years.

Active operations will begin as soon as possible with a large force of men and by next summer it is confidently expected to have 10,000,000 tons of ore blocked out. Mr. Voigt retains a large interest in the corporation and will have charge of development work.

With the new company actively launched and the British Columbia Copper company operating in Princess camp the future for mining in Princeton district is looking well.

FIVE MINERAL CLAIMS ARE RECORDED HERE

Five new mineral claims have been located in Nelson mining district and recorded during the past week at the office of the mining recorder. The new locations and their locators are:

THE FRENCH-CANADIAN BRIGADE.

The proposal to send a brigade of French-Canadians as part of this country's contribution to the Empire is one of the most striking things in connection with the present struggle.

Somewhere over one hundred and fifty years ago Canada was ceded to Great Britain by France after a protracted period of struggle. Since then a new nation has grown upon this continent, proud to claim a place in the British Empire, but a large part of whose people naturally has continued to cherish the traditions of its French forefathers.

Now in France's hour of supreme need it is proposed that a brigade of four thousand loyal Britishers of French descent should go to her assistance in addition to the thousands upon thousands of Can[illegible] of the various races which [illegible] the country's popula[illegible] already volunteered [illegible]

[illegible]nch- has a [illegible]s to be [illegible]pen that [illegible]ay with the [illegible]umber of four [illegible]adians to the aid [illegible] suggested.

[illegible]RVICE TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

[illegible]e British Columbia Fruit Grow[illegible] association has performed a ser[illegible]e to British Columbia by issuing a [illegible]oklet entitled "British Columbia [illegible]uit." It contains much instructive [illegible]formation concerning the fruit [illegible]rown in this province and its general [illegible]irculation should assist in extending the market therefor, which is the object sought.

In undertaking this campaign the British Columbia Fruit Growers' association gives striking evidence of its business acumen and its progressiveness. No business or line of endeavor can succeed in these days without advertising and the fruit growing industry is no exception to this rule.

A well-considered and properly sustained campaign will bring gratifying results to the fruit growing industry of this province as it will to any other business or iindustry.

COMMUNICATION

CHARGES INCOMPETENCE AND MISMANAGEMENT OF UNION

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir: The explanation of Mr. Raymond T. Hickes, manager of the Kootenay Fruit Growers' union, in your issue of Sept. 24, regarding prices realized for strawberries is on a par with the statement of sales sent out by him to patrons—very indefinite. Mr. Hickes quotes at considerable length from a letter of some agent to another agent regarding fruit forwarded by still more agents, which in itself is one explanation of why there is nothing left for the grower.

I was not, as Mr. Hickes assumes, referring to any particular 24 crates that were reported to have been received in bad order, even though another shipment of the same picking, shipped at the same time, was received by a reliable firm on the prairie in fairly good order, but to every consignment shipped through the union and to the extremely unsatisfactory returns in the aggregate.

In a circular letter dated Aug. 1 sent out by Mr. Hickes to the growers the following statement occurs: "The demand, owing to the continued financial stringency and the poor prospects for the wheat harvest, has been very weak," and again, "As soon as it was reported that strawberries were arriving in poor condition shipments were switched to Nelson but it was found that they would not stand shipment even the short distance from the ranches." By referring to Mr. Hickes' letter it will be noticed that his Edmonton agent quotes prices of $4 and $4.50, which does not indicate a weak market. Moreover, by checking my returns on fruit shipped to a reliable firm, I find that the prices remained fairly steady and uniform and I may also add, very satisfactory, and as far as berries being too soft to ship even as far as Nelson I would simply say that of the berries shipped outside of the union to the prairies none arrived in such condition but what they sold for $2.50 and this price only applied to one consignment, all the others ranging considerably higher. To my mind that circular letter was nothing more nor less than an apology for incompetence and mismanagement in the selling of fruit by the union.

The statement of sales sent out to patrons by the manager of the union is still more evidence of the same and is suggestive of—several things. Nothing more is given than a mere memorandum of crates received with an amount set opposite each item, and the grower is left to speculate as to whether this amount represents the total received for the fruit or the sum he may expect to receive, sometime, or possibly the balance he is supposed to pay to the union. In any event there is an indefiniteness that is very unsatisfactory and very suggestive.

I might also refer to the opening paragraph in the circular above referred to which reads as follows: "It is advisable that an explanation should be made of the low prices secured this season for ALL shipments of small fruits to the prairie." Will Mr. Hickes explain how it is that he cannot get a satisfactory price for any of his consignments when a private shipper can and when, notwithstanding commissioners' reports or anything else, the market quotations given in the daily papers on the prairie indicate a fairly good demand for soft fruits?

I have not taken this matter up publicly because of any antipathy to the manager of the union but simply because I realize that the fruit industry in this locality is in a deplorable condition and the methods of doing business by the Kootenay Fruit Growers' union appears to be a contributory factor to that condition.

Surely the results obtained would indicate that some different system carried out in a business-like method should be adopted so that the grower may at least receive a small recompense for his labor.

DR. REAUME RESIGNS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—Hon. Dr. J. O. Reaume resigned as minister of public works of the Ontario government tonight, tendering his resignation to Dr. Pyne as acting premier.

Now that Sir James is dead and a cabinet reorganization imminent he considered himself free to drop out and leave to the new premier, whoever he might be, the way open to make his own appointment.

It was not a question of finding a seat, he said, as several had been offered to him, but he preferred to turn his attention to something else than politics.

THOUGHT BRITISH ACTION BELLICOSE

Germans Hear Explanation of Closing of Dardanelles—Declare British Officers Admit Use of Dumdum

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—By Wireless to Sayville, L. I.—Reports made public here from Constantinople assert that owing to the bellicose attitude of the British warships cruising near the Dardanelles, Turkey has closed this waterway.

The people of Holland are described in Berlin as excited by the reported capture of Dutch ships by the British.

The Rotterdamsche Corant declares that Great Britain is showing utter disregard of the rights of neutral states. It says The Netherlands steamer Sophia, from Rotterdam for New York, was captured by British warships in the channel and taken to Lowestoft.

The British minister at The Hague, it is related, has admitted that a British aviator flying over The Netherlands town of Maastricht dropped a bomb, thus breaking the existing neutrality.

A story has been given out in Berlin to the effect that Col. Gordon and Lieut.-Col. Neish, British officers attached to the Gordon Highlanders and now prisoners of war in the hands of the Germans, confessed in the course of an official examination that the British government had supplied dumdum bullets for them to use in automatic revolvers.

Albert Ballin, director-general of the Hamburg-American line, has published an article in the Hamburger Nachrichten in which he says the British money market will be discredited by the moratorium for a long time to come.

Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, has published in a Swedish newspaper an account of his observations during his recent tour through Belgium and certain parts of France occupied by German troops.

Mr. Hedin was commissioned by the government to make this trip. He says the people in these districts have returned to their homes and that they praise the splendid discipline of the German soldiers.

BRITISH CRUISER TAKES MANY SHIPS

Raids German Port in Africa—Captures Gunboat and Places [illegible] in Commission

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The admiralty announces that the British cruiser Cumberland has captured off the Kamerun river in West Africa the Hamburg-American liner Arnfried and the following merchant steamers: Max Brock, Kenapa, Amsinck, Paul Woermann, Erna Woermann, Henrietta Woermann, Aline Woermann, Hans Woermann and the Jeanette Woermann.

All were in good order and most of them contained general cargoes and considerable quantities of coal. The European crews have been removed as prisoners but the native engine room hands are being retained.

The gunboat Soden has also been captured and has been placed in commission, while it is expected that the floating dock and the Herzogin Elizabeth, which have been sunk, can be raised.

It has heretofore been announced that because of the deadly climate of the place the British would not disturb the colony. The announcement of the admiralty, however, indicates that the British naval forces have visited the place and captured the German steamers assembled there.

MACKENZIE KING TO WORK FOR ROCKEFELLER

Former Canadian Cabinet Minister to Carry Out Labor Investigation Hearst Newspaper Declares.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—According to the New York American, John D. Rockefeller, whom some Socialists assail as the enemy of labor, is preparing to spend a goodly share of his vast wealth for the cause of labor.

The American learns that th[illegible] Rockefeller foundation, endowed wit[illegible] $100,000,000, has chosen Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, former Canadian minister of labor under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as a special investigator of labor conditions. The scope of his work is understood to be as wide as the continent of North America.

Whether or not the clash of his great coal interests with the miners has anything to do with the movement could not be learned last night. Inquiry by the American only developed the fact that the Rockefeller foundation has been making a far-reaching preliminary inquiry into the most practical method of conducting labor research and that Mr. King has been selected as one of the most prominent experts in this line of work.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district of which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

PATRIOTIC ORDER ORGANIZED HERE

Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire Will Have Nelson Chapter —Meeting Enthusiastic

The nucleus of Nelson chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire was organized at a largely attended and representative meeting of women of the city held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. F. Cochrane. Mrs. L. A. S. Dack, for some time a member of the order, was elected regent pro tem. of the chapter, while Mrs. A. L. McCulloch was elected secretary pro tem.

Twenty-four intending members signed the roll and it was decided to elect the permanent officers of the chapter at a meeting to be called at a later date.

Mrs. Armbrister, for years a member of the order and at one time regent of the chapter in Nassau, Bahamas, addressed the meeting yesterday afternoon and her remarks were received with enthusiasm that augured well for the future of Nelson chapter. She explained the objects of the order and the constitution and read for the enlightenment of the women present an address which had been made by Mrs. Albert Gooderham of Toronto, president of the national chapter of the order, dealing with the work that was being accomplished by the organization.

Many of the women of the city who were unable to attend the meeting by letter signified their intention of joining and it is expected that when the next meeting is held the membership will have swelled to over the 100 mark.

ARTILLERY HAD ARDUOUS TRIP

euvers had been canceled. At the ranges all was still. The crackling of thousands of rifles no longer was heard echoed against the wooded hills. Instead, the thousands of men who were taught how to pack and carry their kit prepared to leave, rifles were collected and packed away and inspections of equipment were held.

The artillery moved first, that is, after the remounts, several thousand of which were driven to the city previously. This was no simple operation and an epic might be written of the experiences of the men who brought those animals down the long winding valley road. It had been raining in a desultory manner for two days. Though the camp had felt little discomfort, the roads had become softened and, never the best for heavy guns, were little better than plowed fields.

Artillery Has Trying Trip.

Headed by a band playing the air that every man in camp knew, the air that is rarely heard except when troops are on the march, the guns in one long line rolled along the road. Thousands took up the words, "It's a long road to Tipperary."

Three hours later the second brigade moved out. Major Mills and Major Dodds rode along beside.

What a road! Darkness came early that night and with the darkness came the rain. The roads became muskegs, canals. The darkness that covered the Egyptians wrapped itself over the land. The landmarks were blotted out. Men and horses, soaked by the downpour, strained their eyes to see what might be just ahead. But it was useless. The leaders felt about for the road. When they were ankle-deep in mud they thought they were on it. When they were up to their knees they were certain. There was nothing to do but go on. There was no shelter, there was no hope of light for hours. And the rain continued.

Fall Into Bogs—Trodden by Horses.

Horses fell; they were helped up and urged forward. The heavy guns skidded into the ditches and washouts that were caused by the steady rain; the drivers urged them out. Men climbed down in that horrible mess of water and sand and weeds and put their shoulders to it. An animal stepped sideways and began to fall. An officer was riding him. Quietly, almost slowly, the horse's right feet sank in the bog. The officer slid, too. When they found him his face was buried. Hands full of mud were lifted out of his collar.

Up ahead a horse reared. The column was sliding down a hill. The man on the animal was thrown. The horse behind planted a heavy foot on the man's head. In some way the column was stopped and the bleeding, unconscious figure was extricated. His scalp was torn almost off. One could not ring up an ambulance. The body, and it was felt that it would be a corpse before aid was found, was found, was placed on a limber and the leaders got again under way. It all took about a minute.

Then for hours, until Quebec was reached, the rain fell on the bandaged head and inert form. He is on board ship now. That little accident did not stop him.

There will be no forced march in the campaign that is ahead with greater hardships than that night's journey to Quebec.

Was Stupendous Achievement.

It was a stupendous achievement considering the little training the horses and the men have had. And yet that was not all.

Dawn had come when the guns rumbled over the bridge that crosses the St. Charles. Then up a bit of hill and on St. Paul street and the rest was easy going. The people of Lower Town saw them pass. The people came to their doors and windows and shouted words of cheer and hope and with widening eyes remarked on the number of guns. And then the dock was reached.

The men were tired, wet and hungry. Mud encased them like a garment and under the mud was their great heavy clothes, dripping puddles where they stood. At the dock was the ship on which they would sail. All they had to do before going to bed was to load all the horses, the guns, the limbers, the equipment and themselves.

They did it. All morning and well into the afternoon they worked. Finally the last piece was stowed in the hold. Every man went to his bunk. In five minutes practically every one was fast asleep. Some of them forgot, with the novelty of having nothing to do, that they were wet. They slept in their clothes.

This was the big, picturesque movement. The infantry came in by train. It had been planned that they should march down, but the roads made this impossible. Battalion after battalion slipped into the trains and in an hour were at the dock, where the transports were awaiting them.

Every Entrance Guarded.

Every entrance to the basin is guarded and a pass is necessary to get through. Getting a pass is as easy as getting gold for a five-dollar note at the bank. All the telegraph and telephone lines have been cut. Mail is being collected from the boats but is being held until it is thought wise to release it.

Many have been the pathetic scenes. At first relatives and friends believed that they would be able to visit the transports to say a last farewell. When they learned that there could be no pass issued, when they learned that the ship would sail and that they, far upon the terrace, would have to wave their hopeful farewell, the tears came. But tears availed them nothing. They faced a stern and imperative rule.

A ship slips away from the dock. Around the bend of the river another is coming to take its place. At any moment the summons may come. And then the transport on which the correspondents will sail will be the last to leave the port, the fleet will move out, will go on down the river, sailing into the east to a destiny unknown.

BRITAIN PAYS FOR COPPER SEIZED

Shipment From United States Was on Way to Krupp Gun Works in Germany.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Great Britain's intention to seize goods which may be classed as conditional contraband of war, specifically consigned for Germany, Austria or even when such shipments are carried in American ships and consigned to neutral ports, was announced at the state department today by Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador.

The ambassador called to explain despatches stating that two cargoes of copper shipped from the United States to the Krupp gun works in Germany via Holland had been seized and diverted to England. He said the copper was to be used in connection with the manufacture of torpedoes and it came distinctly under the classification of conditional contraband. Payment for the full value of the cargo had been remitted to the American shippers and it is understood a similar course will be pursued in such cases in the future.

Earlier in the day the senate had passed a resolution introduced by Senator Smoot asking the state department to report whether the British government was interfering with shipments of American copper in neutral ships to Rotterdam.

No announcement was made as to what the attitude of the department would be toward Great Britain's action. Some officials, however, were inclined to think there was no ground for claiming there had been a violation of international law.

Deserters

Artemus Ward, the famous American humorist, whose humor sometimes was a lance-thrust, once said that he was willing to sacrifice all his first wife's relations on the altar of his country. Many a man has been willing to let others do his fighting for him—willing, also to share the rewards of peace and victory. Men of this type belong to the deserter class.

In Canada are hundreds of business firms striving with all their might to make better times for themselves and their communities. To them all honor.

But there are other firms—manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers—who are "standing pat," "playing safe," doing absolutely nothing to build up business. They are mere lookers on, not participants in the valorous struggle of their brethren to maintain and establish good times.

Look about you and you will find in the advertising columns of this and other newspapers many messages from firms with a sturdy confidence in the future.

DEPARTMENT HAS ISSUED BOOKLET

To Increase Consumption of British Columbia Apples Is Object—Union to Get Supply

A sample copy of the booklet being issued by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' association for the purpose of fostering an increased consumption of British Columbia apples in western Canada has been received by the manager of the Kootenay Fruit Growers union.

The booklet, which has been prepared under the supervision of R. M. Winslow, chief horticulturist at Victoria, opens with an article dealing with the reasons why British Columbia fruit should be given first preference in western Canada. It points out that a more perfect flavor is obtained in the apples of this province on account of the cooler and later season and the fact that the apples shipped from the province to points in western Canada or other parts of the Dominion are tree developed and not picked green and ripened in transit or in storage as are the fruits of some of the other districts of the Dominion.

It also deals with interprovincial trade, calling upon the people of the western provinces to co-operate in this matter. Twelve million dollars' worth of agricultural products are imported from the prairie provinces to British Columbia annually, it is pointed out, and in return but $1,600,000 worth of fruit and vegetables from this province are consumed on the prairies. A considerable amount of this great difference could be wiped out, it is pointed out, if the people of the prairie provinces would co-operate in a campaign to foster interprovincial trade.

The progress made by the fruit growing industry in the province is also dealt with in the booklet.

Jam making and canning recipes are given and a table of what varieties of British Columbia apples to use and when to use them concludes the treatise.

Several thousand of these booklets are being applied for by the Kootenay Fruit Growers' union and a copy will be placed in every box of grade 1 apples handled by the union.

INDIVIDUAL BOXES FOR OLD COUNTRY

Provisional Orders for Car of Apples Being Taken by Kootenay Fruit Growers' Union

Enquiries having been received by the management of Kootenay Fruit Growers' union from so many sources as to whether it is the intention of the union to this year ship a car containing individual boxes of apples for friends in the old country as has been done during the past few years, Raymond T. Hickes, manager of the union, states that provisional orders are being taken on the understanding that they be filled only if it is found possible to ship to the old country at a reasonable rate. Mr. Hickes states that those placing provisional orders with the union will be notified in plenty of time to admit of their confirming or withdrawing their orders.

If it is found possible to make the shipment the car will leave Nelson about the third week in October, states Mr. Hickes.

OPPORTUNITY FOR THIS DISTRICT

Market for Mine Props Obtainable in Old Country—Millions of Feet Required.

An urgent and immediate order for 100,000,000 feet of pit or mine props has been received on this continent from Great Britain, according to figures and information received in this city by representatives of the railway companies from their export departments and the deputy minister of trade and commerce. The supply of these necessary articles to the coal mines of the United Kingdom which is usually received from Norway, Sweden and Russia has since the outbreak of the European war been almost entirely shut off and in view of the fact that so many of the props are used it is said to be immediately imperative that shipments be made from this continent to the old country.

That it is an excellent opportunity for this district is the general belief among those who have discussed the matter for not only from a business but also from a patriotic standpoint the lumbermen of the province, it is believed, should lend their assistance in an effort to prevent any hampering of the work of the mines in the old country during this crisis.

The quality of timbers desired are hemlock, spruce and tamarack poles about five or six feet long and from three to six inches in diameter, such as are used in considerable quantities in the coal mines along the Crow's Nest Pass.

Enquiries have been received in this district direct from the South Hetton Colleries of Sunderland, England and shiploads of the props will be required. The matter has been laid before the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' association whose head office is in Nelson and those desirous of taking the matter up individually are asked to communicate with F. C. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce.
