ANOTHER SMASH AT GERMAN LINE BY BRITISH IMMINENT

Big Guns Bombard Enemy's Positions

HUNS ATTEMPT RAIDS BUT FAIL

Near Havrincourt Foe Gets Back Ground Only to Lose it Again

(By Associated Press.)

In Belgium the British big guns are continuing to bombard the enemy evidently preparing the way for another smash at Crown Prince Rupprecht's front. The infantry activities here and also to the south of France are mainly in the nature of raiding operations. Near Havrincourt the Germans have by sharp attacks regained some lost ground but later lost it again.

LONDON Sept. 2.—The British official communication issued tonight says:

"Attempted enemy raids last night at two points northwest of Lens and also southwest of La Bassee all were repulsed with losses. Both artilleries were active today east of Ypres. Little flying was possible yesterday a rain and high wind preventing but during the previous night our airplanes carried out bombing operations actively against hostile airdromes and railway stations.

"In an air raid one German machine was destroyed. Two of our machines are missing."

British Raid Successful

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The official report from British headquarters in France on Saturday night reads:

"Early Saturday morning we carried out a successful raid east of Wytchaet and bombed the enemy's dugouts. We inflicted casualties with machine gun fire on his garrison as the Germans attempted to escape across the open southwest of Havrincourt.

"A hostile raiding party was driven off without loss to our troops.

"Yesterday the weather cleared for two hours for the first time in five days and normal activities were resumed. In the air fighting one German machine was brought down in our lines. Another was driven down out of control. One of our airplanes is missing.

"The number of German prisoners captured by the British armies in the month of August was 7279, including 158 officers, making a total of 10,697 prisoners, including 234 officers, taken by us since the morning of July 31.

"During the last month we have taken 308 guns, including six heavy guns also 200 machine guns and 72 trench mortars. These figures are exclusive of prisoners and munitions captured in Flanders by our allies."

British Retake Positions

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The official statement from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

"Saturday evening enemy forces made a heavy bombing attack against the advanced position southwest of Havrincourt, which he failed to reach the previous night. After a sharp fight our troops at first were compelled to withdraw and later they recaptured the posts with slight losses. The hostile artillery has been active during the night east of Ypres."

French Capture Trench

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"Northwest of Hurtebise we engaged the Germans, conquered and captured an enemy trench on a front of 200 metres. A German counter attack delivered this evening was not able to reach our lines under the vigorous fire of our artillery.

"In Champagne area, south of the Butte des Meisne, we encountered a strong enemy attack and took many prisoners, including the officers commanding the detachment.

"On the south bank of the Meuse river there was artillery fighting on the whole region north of Hill 304 and Le Mort Homme."

Artillery is Active

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was great artillery activity near Hurtebise in the Champagne along the Verdun front in the sectors of Hill 304, Hamokneux and Beaumont."

Berlin Claims Success

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The German official statement on operations on the wester nfront today reads:

"Army group of Prince Rupprecht; In Flanders the vigorous artillery duel continues in the Duns and on both sides of Ypres. Apart from forefield engagements there was some infantry activity.

"Front of the German crown prince: The French after violent artillery fire at Hurtebise attacked with strong forces. The enemy, who scored initial success, was thrown back by our counter attacks.

"Attacks by the enemy south of Corbiney broke down with heavy losses. Before Verdun it was quiet during the day, but the artillery activity revived considerably during the evening.

"Front of Grand Duke Albrecht: An undertaking by Bavarian storming forces on the Rhine-Marne met with full success. With sanguinary losses the French lost some prisoners."

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PETROGRAD, Sept. 2.—Two foreigners, supposed to be Germans, who were found to be placing explosives on the Kiev railroad were beaten and trampled to death by a mob of soldiers at Kiev when they refused to answer questions. The men were found to be carrying plans and secret documents and large sums of money. When they refused to reveal their identity or to answer questions the soldiers attacked them.

WILL SACRIFICE CATTLE FOR GRAIN

England Likely to Entirely Depend Upon America for Meat Supply at End of War

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—As a wartime conservation measure, England and Wales planned to use more than 2,000,000 acres of grazing land for the planting of grain, an official statement received here by the food administration announces. The agricultural problem is such that cattle are to be sacrificed for grain in the present emergency, and the end of the war will find England almost entirely dependent upon America for solution of the meat problem.

POLAND TO BE GIVEN SELF-GOVERNMENT

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 2.—According to the Cologne Gazette, the first step toward the self-government of Poland has been taken. From now on justice will be handled in the name of the Polish nation and judges.

BRITISH WIN NAVAL BATTLE

Destroyers Drive 4 Mine-Sweepers Ashore

FOE DESTROYER IS CAPTURED

Two German Airplanes are Downed--Hun Subs Also in Fight

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 2.—A naval engagement occurred Saturday morning between British and German mosquito craft off Nyminde, off the west coast of Jutland. British destroyers attacked four merchant armed trawlers and drove them ashore. All four trawlers seem to have been sunk.

A despatch says the British continued to bombard the trawlers after they grounded, capturing their destroyer.

About 100 German seamen were landed, many of whom were severely wounded. Medical assistance was sent from Runkiobing, the nearest large town. One rumor has it that 100 dead have come ashore, but apparently it is a distorted version of the fact that about 100 men reached shore.

The German craft were presumably engaged in patrolling and minesweeping to clear the route for German submarines. German airplanes and submarines, according to one account, took part in the fight.

A semiofficial Danish report says four German trawlers were driven ashore near Rinkiobing and the crews landed. The remainder of the fleet of German armed trawlers fled to the south.

According to various statements, the German trawlers continued to fire after seeking refuge inside Danish territorial waters. The British raid appears to have caught not only the trawlers, but several submarines. The latter were compelled to submerge so hastily that the members of the crews were unable to enter the hatches and were left swimming in the water.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 2.—The demoralized remains of the German trawler fleet which was attacked by destroyers in the North sea made off to the southward, scattering and sending wireless messages for assistance as they ran. In the course of the encounter that ensued a German airplane was brought down and another machine was sent into the water.

The German armed fleet, confident in its protection by zeppelin observation and the proximity of a supporting squadron, has of late worked in the boldest fashion in sweeping clear the route for submarines and has been extending its operations northward. Frequent reports from the Danish coast towns mentioned the sighting of warships and zeppelins daily patrolling. Yesterday's experience seems likely to make the Germans more cautious and to that extent interfere with their submarine workings.

AIRPLANES AGAIN RAID ENGLISH COAST

Cross East Kent But Don't Stay Long —Casualties Believed to Be Small.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A German air raid on the coast of England tonight was announced by the official bureau. Bombs were dropped as the airplanes crossed east Kent. The text of the statement reads:

"Hostile airplanes crossed the east Kent coast at 11:15 o'clock tonight. They flew seaward a few minutes later. A few bombs were dropped. The casualties are believed to be small."

Five Slightly Injured

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Press despatches from the southeast coast reported only one airplane engaged in the raid. None of the five injured are in a serious condition. The raid lasted only a few minutes. The night was brilliantly clear with a full moon.

The session, which was broken up by the police Saturday under orders from Governor Lowden, was given full protection today on instructions from Mayor William Hale Thompson to Chief of Police Schuettler.

NATIONAL PRESS SERVICE OPENED

Marks Notable Epoch in the History of Canada

PREMIERS SEND WARM MESSAGES

Unanimous in Saying Must Have Beneficent Effect on Nation

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Today marks the formal opening of the Canadian National News Service, operating under the name and charter of Canadian Press, Limited. It is fitting that it should be made the occasion of the interchange of congratulatory messages by the premiers of the provinces of the Dominion farthest east and west; for hitherto they have been severed—in a news sense—thus limiting the expression of their respective public opinions.

Between the maritime provinces and British Columbia nature has set formidable barriers, preventing the free interchange of news by leased wire. Even between Ontario and Quebec, on the one hand, and the prairie provinces on the other, no free flow of news day and night has been possible, because of the thousand miles of wilderness along the north shore of Lake Superior.

The "three great gaps,' as they have been termed, comprise the belts of unproductive territory between St. John and Montreal, between Ottawa and Winnipeg and between Calgary and Vancouver. The united effort of the Canadian daily press to establish a truly Canadian nation-wide service failed and came to naught when confronted by the grave problem of carrying day and night leased wires over these wide stretches of unproductive mileage.

Wil Cooperate with A.P.

The new association has been fortunate enough to make reciprocal arrangements with the Associated Press of America whereby not only will the new services of that association be recognized as the most comprehensive and efficient in the world, but what is of outstanding importance to Canada and the development of the Dominion, a full service of Canadian news will, for the first time, be placed at the disposal of the daily papers of the United States.

Premier Borden Paved Way

But last winter, when Sir Robert Borden came to realize that herein lay a great insistent task of national unification and the decision of his government to come to the aid of the daily publishers of Canada was implemented by the inclusion by the minister of finance in his estimates of a sum for that purpose, the path was open for the attainment of the present happy goal.

The prime minister has honored the new service by a message over his own signature. Other messages of congratulations have come from E. F. Slack of the Montreal Gazette, president of the Canadian Press, Limited, which are printed below, exchanged over a great stretch of wire nearly 5000 miles long, physically uniting Sydney, Cape Breton with Victoria, Vancouver Island, and including in the one circuit Halifax, Moncton, St. John, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, the head of the lakes; Winnipeg, the city of the prairie, Nelson, in the Kootenay, and Vancouver.

Including both day and night wires, the new association will operate nearly 12,000 miles of leased wire, and employ between 80 and 90 expert telegraphers, in the interchange of news between all parts of the Dominion.

Borden Congratulates

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The inauguration today of a national press service by the Canadian Press, Limited, records a notable epoch in Canadian newspaper achievement, and the service itself cannot fail to have a vital influence in the national life of the Dominion. It should be the means of bringing into closer touch widely spread communities, make their people more familiar with the ideals and aims of other provinces or districts, assist in bringing mutual understanding to all, and thus aid the growth of a national conscientiousness and a truly national spirit. The press of Canada could have no higher purpose and could engage in no nobler work.

"I extend my warmest congratulations to the men who made possible the Canadian Press, Limited. They have my sincerest good wishes for the success and extension of the national press service.

Of Greatest National Importance

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—"Great national good should arise from the operation of the Dominion-wide service which the Canadian Press, Limited, is operating today. Not only will the papers throughout Canada be in a position to give their readers a more complete budget of news by the publication in their columns of reports of happenings in the maritime provinces, in Ontario and Quebec, in the great prairie provinces and in British Columbia, but in so doing they will be performing work of familiarizing the citizens of provinces widely spread with current news peculiar to each section, thus leading to better understanding. HUN HORDES ARE PRACTICALLY KNOCKING AT GATES OF RIGA

Russians Apparently Unable to Stem Advance--Great Port and Arsenal on Baltic Beset on Three Sides

ENEMY ONLY 12 MILES AWAY AT ONE POINT--PETROGRAD GRAVELY MENACED

Capture of Riga of Strategic Value to Germans, Giving Control of Railways Leading to Russian Capital. In Southern Moldavia Desertions from Slav Ranks Cease--Troops Hold Back Enemy

(By Associated Press.)

The Germans are knocking virtually at the gates of Riga, and with the Russians apparently unable to withstand their advance, the great port and arsenal on the Baltic and the head of the railway line running to Petrograd, is best on three sides by the enemy, on the west in the Lake Babit region, on the southwest near Hitau and on the southeast along the bank of the Dvina river a scant 15 miles distant from the city. In the latter region the Germans after a heavy bombardment won the bridgehead famed as the scene of many sanguinary engagements and crossed the Dvina river. Thence they shaped their course northward along the water way toward Riga, with the Russians counter-attacking but unable to hold them.

Some 20 miles southwest of Riga, along the railway line running from Mitau to the seaport, the Germans have begun a new offensive. Here a big battle is in progress but in whose favor it had not been made evident by the Russian and German official statements. Nothing is contained in either pertaining to Lake Babit, where they were last reported standing, 12 miles west of Riga.

The capture of Riga would be of great strategic value to the Germans controlling the railways at the head of which stands Petrograd which is in great jeopardy and lies 300 miles in the way the crow flies.

In southern Moldavia the Russians, fighting near Fokshani in conjunction with the Rumanians, evidently have ceased their desertions and again are facing the enemy. Here, according to Berlin, they have delivered heavy counter-attacks against Field Marshal von Mackensen. Near Braila, southwest of Galatz on the Danube, the Germans were repelled in an attack on the Russian positions.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 2.—German officers and troops have crossed the Dvinsk river and are nearing Riga, advancing in a northerly direction, successfully repelling Russian counter-attacks, the war office states today. A German offensive in the northern sector of the Russian front in the direction of Mitau southwest of Riga, has commenced.

Foe Repulsed in Rumania.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The official statement from the Rumanian war office dated Thursday reads:

"Between the Dneister and the Doftana valley there was no action of importance. Between the Doftana and the Oituz several enemy attacks were repulsed. In the sector north of Ireshti fighting is proceeding. On the remainder of the front to the Black sea there have been artillery bombardments and patrol activity."

The statement reads:

"Western front: Yesterday, after strong preparations, the Germans crossed the River Dvina near Kull, south of Riga, and occupied Kupfermamer and developed their success in a northerly direction. Our troops counter-attacked them without success.

"Thursday the enemy also assumed the offensive in the region of Mitau. The battle is still progressing.

"In the region of Velick-Kukhary last night enemy forces let loose several gas clouds, and they launched an attack but not with large success. He was repulsed by our reserves, who have now arrived. After a short time the enemy again loosed gas clouds, not accompaying them by an infantry attack. In the Volynski after the bombardment of our position by chemical shells, the enemy assumed the offensive in the region of Zubilnotor, south of the village, and succeeded in breaking into a few of our trenches, but was driven out by a counter-attack."

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen ousted the Rumanians from positions in the hills northeast of Fokshani on the Rumanian front today after heavy fighting, army headquarters announced today. There has been an increased artillery activity along the Dvina on the Russian northwestern front and further south in the Smorgon and Baranovichi regions. The text of the statement reads:

"Eastern war theatre: On the Dvina, notably near Illukst and also near Smorgon and Baranovichi, the fighting activity was livelier than it had been owing to the unfavorable weather.

"North of the Kovel-Lutsk railway our reconnoitering troops were able to observe the success of our mine throwing and artillery fire in the enemy's trenches. Prisoners were taken.

"Near Tarnopol and Husiatyn, Russian raiding detachments were repulsed in hand to hand fighting.

"Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen: In the mountains north of Fokshani, German forces drove the Rumanians from a strongly defended hill position. Near Maxieni, on the lower Sereth, German and Bulgarian storming parties broke into Russian positions and returned with a large number of prisoners."

Are Vacating Bridgehead.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The supplementary war office communication issued tonight reads:

"German corps have crossed the Dvina river southeast of Riga. Under their pressure the Russians have hastily commenced to vacate the bridgehead on the western bank of the river."

SOUTHERN RHODESIA HONORS MEMORY OF EARL GREY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—A cablegram from Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, says that a memorial service for the late Earl Grey was held in the cathedral there on Saturday in the presence of the administration of the protectorate. All shops and offices were closed out of respect.

RUSSIA TRUSTS GEN. KORNILOFF

Vice-Premier Denies Reports of Movement Contemplated to Supersede Commander

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PETROGRAD, Sept. 2.—In an official statement issued today, Vice-Premier Nekrasoff denies all reports that there was in contemplation a movement to supersede General Korniloff of the Russian army. On the contrary, the vice-premier declares, the present government is in complete accord with Gen. Korniloff, whose stipulations already have been carried into effect, while others are under consideration. The government, adds the statement, has complete confidence in Gen. Korniloff, who keeps clear of political intrigues and maintains complete personal neutrality.

Borse Savinkoff, the acting minister of war, will shortly confer with Gen. Korniloff regarding the measures the commander considers imperative to prevent further disaster.

BULGARIAN ATTACK ON VARDAR FAILS

Enemy Driven from Positions Recently Occupied—Greeks Carry Out Successful Raid

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Sept. 2.—An official report on operations in Macedonia reads:

"August 30 a new enemy attack against the Vardar sector preceded by a powerful artillery action was repulsed. During the night a counter-attack by our troops drove the Bulgarian forces out of the last trench elements where they had maintained themselves.

"August 31 a violent artillery action occurred at the Cerna bend on the Serbian line, and in the region of Doiran a surprise attack enabled the Italians to bring back 30 German prisoners, one of them an officer.

"Greek troops made a successful raid in the region of Mowina, on the right bank of the Vardar.

"An enemy airplane was forced to land near Lake Doiran in an engagement on Aug. 30. West of Nonte the Serbians captured 71 prisoners and two machine guns."

Says Italians Driven Back

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—"In the bend of the Cerna an Italian battalion near Paralovo attacked the enemy. German troops drove back the enemy and captured prisoners. At Doboropolje several Serbian attacks broke down, as did several French attacks west of the Vardar, before effective fire of our forces."

British Attack by Surprise

PARIS, Sept. 2.—"Between the Vardar and Lake Doiran the British troops have carried out several surprise attacks, in the course of which they took about 10 prisoners.

"Around the position consolidated on Aug. 30 by the Serbians, northeast of Monastir and at the Cerna bend, there has been violent artillery action."

Italians Raid Hill Top

ROME, Sept. 2.—"In Macedonia, on Friday, in conjunction with other contingents of the allied artillery in the east, our troops, after short artillery preparation, raided the summit of Hill 1050, in the bend of the Cerna, capturing some score of German soldiers."

ARMED POLICE CHARGE PARADE

Arrest Two of Anticonscriptionist Crowd That Steals Rifles from Montreal Store

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—With drawn revolvers a squad of police officers charged an anticonscriptionist parade after they had smashed a plate glass window in Alexander Levine's second-hand store at 437 James street and taken a dozen rifles from the store. Emile Lefbreve, 18 years old, and William Sheehan, 22 years old, were arrested. The police recovered most of the goods stolen.

Antis Disagree; Meeting Falls Through

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—The anticonscription meeting called for 8 o'clock tonight at Jacques Cartier market square did not take place, due, it is said, to a disagreement in the ranks of the antis. A crowd of at least 5000 gathered at the square, and when it became known that no meeting would be held, about 300 boys rallied together and marched up town to the house of Hon. Albert Sevigny, where they threw stones at the house but were routed by the police and beat a hasty retreat. Little or no damage was done. There is considerable feeling here against Mr. Sevigny, whose vote was polled in favor of the Military Service act.

MEIGHEN MAINTAINS COMMISSION JUSTIFIED

Answers Criticism by Opposition of Estimates Covering Cost Macleod-Tellier Inquiry.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Consideration of the vote of $5500 in the supplementary estimates aroused criticism of the Macleod-Tellier commission in the house of commons Saturday. The vote was to cover the expenses of the commission.

Hon. Arthur Meighen said that of this amount $4500 had already been expended, divided as follows: Expenses of one commissioner, $731; of the reporter, $698; counsel, $2156; secretary, $600; rent of offices, $215; incidental, $100. There yet remained, he said, the expenses of the other commissioner and a few incidentals.

The question was immediately raised by the opposition as to the authority under which parliament was called upon to pass the vote. Mr. Meighen claimed that the commission had been formed under the authority of parliament.

"Under the authority of this government," Sir Wilfrid remarked.

M. Meighen—By the government acting under the authority conferred upon it by parliament.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley said he could not see how the report of a commission had anything to do with the gentleman who was not at the time the head of the department of Canada. Mr. Pugsley added that at the time to which the inquiry referred Hon. Robert Rogers was a minister of the present government.

"You might as well," said Mr. Pugsley, "investigate the conduct of any member of this house when he was in charge of some other office."

Is of Present Importance.

Mr. Meighen—We take the ground that the previous conduct is a matter of present importance while the gentleman concerned is still a minister of the crown.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier contended that this was not the position taken by the Conservative party in 1909 when the Landry report reflecting on Mr. Pugsley came up in the house and for a time the discussion was diverted to the attitude of the government and the opposition on that day in regard to that matter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier contended that if the ex-minister of public works was not satisfied with the report of Justice Galt he could apply to the council.

Mr. Meighen argued that the Macleod-Tellier commission stood to review the Galt commission.

The opposition members contended that the Macleod-Tellier commission was not a higher court, but its findings were merely the expression of opinion of two eminent men.

ITALIAN AIRMEN FLY OVER VIENNA

Drop Pamphlets Telling Austrians of Victories Won—Troops Make Further Gains

(By Associated Press.)

On the Italian front, General Cadorna's forces have extended their gains in Brestovissa plateau, on the slopes of Monte San Gabrielle and west of Gorizia, and have taken additional prisoners. Five Italian airplanes have flown from the Italian front over Vienna and dropped pamphlets, telling the Austrian people of the victory of the Italians.

Hun Troops Rushed to Front

UDINE, Italy, Sept. 2.—German troops appeared for the first time on the Carso front Thursday morning, according to Austrian prisoners. The Austrians are rushing reiforcements to the Italian front from the Russo-Rumanian front, the prisoners say.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, Sept. 2.—Italian troops Saturday extended the positions they occupied on Thursday and Friday last in the Brestovizza valley and on the Carso, the war office announced today. Additional prisoners and much more war material and war munitions and five trench mortars were taken. Austrian counter-attacks at various points were repulsed.

In the Stevole region, detachments of Alpines reoccupied the advanced post that was abandoned on Aug. 27 at an altitude of 3500 metres and captured the entire Austrian garrison there. The text reads:

"On the Julian front, Saturday, the fighting was not very intense. The Austrians were repulsed on the south edge of the slope of San Gabrielle, north west of Tivoli and east of Gorizia. Our airplanes executed a heavy bombardment at Monte San Gabrielle. At Gabriji, east of Monte San Gabrielle, the enemy light artillery repeatedly shelled a field dressing station, causing some casualties.

"On the Carso the positions occupied on Thursday and Friday were extended with the capture of other prisoners and a considerable amount of war material.

"Above Belluno an enemy machine was brought down in an air fight.

"In the upper Sebru valley, in the Stevole region, parties of the Alpine force, in a brilliant attack at a height exceeding 3500 metres, have reoccupied the advanced post abandoned Aug. 27, capturing the entire enemy garrison."

Airplanes Fly Over Vienna

ZURICH, Sept. 2.—Five Italian airplanes made a flight over the Austrian capital today. They passed over the Austrian lines without being observed and flew straight to the Austrian capital, where the aviators dropped pamphlets informing the people of the city of the great Italian victory.

HUN PRESS SLATES PRESIDENT WILSON

Makes Bitter Comments on Reply to Pope Benedict's Peace Proposals

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace note was published generally yesterday and the editorial comment attacks bitterly Mr. Wilson's attitude. The Lokal Anzeiger says:

"President Wilson declines the pope mediation with the same mass of swollen phrases with which he has already satiated the German people. We are told that the war is not being waged against the German nation but against their 'masters.'

"The absolute mendacity of Mr. Wilson's phraseology becomes apparent when his dictum as to the rights of nations who are capable of shaping their own destinies, is opposed to the wish of the German people to be governed by these very 'masters.' Mr. Wilson, therefore, does not intend to give us our liberty but to deprive us of liberty to arrive at our own decisions.

"For that matter this whole mass of words has for its sole purpose the expression of the intention to prolong the war at any price. In this resolve, Mr. Wilson, who is fighting for the freedom of mankind, orders peace meetings stopped and that the speakers be arrested."

TWO DESPERADOES STILL AT LARGE

Men Wanted for Murder Believed Ringleaders in Dynamiting of Lord Athelstane's House

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—The two desperadoes, Joseph Leduc, alias Haldfield, and Henri Monette, alias Girard, who are wanted to answer charges of murder, rape and attempted murder and who are being hunted by the Dominion police, assisted by detectives from the provincial and Montreal forces, were still at large at a late hour tonight. It is believed by the authorities that Leduc and Monette were the controlling spirits in the dynamiting of Lord Athelstane's summer residence at Cartierville, and lived at a house near the arsenal. Young Elie Lalaumiere, the anticonscriptionist orator, who is being held by the police in connection with the dynamite outrage, is regarded as a small factor in the plot to kill and destroy property of conscription favorers.

U.S WILL RATION NEUTRAL COUNTRIES

Exports Administration Board Will Hold up Food Cargoes for at Least Two Months.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—Indications that the United States intends to ration the entire European neutral countries in the strictest fashion were seen yesterday in the admission that the exports administration board has disapproved of an arrangement suggested by the Dutch minister here and the Belgian relief society for division between Holland and Belgium of the Dutch grain cargoes held in American ports.

The export board, it was learned, will let no food cargoes go to any neutrals for at least two months or until the American government has ascertained its own requirements for the year and the size of the crops that are to be harvested.

Andrew Burke, aged 12, fell from a haystack on his father's farm in Gorham, Ont., on to the prongs of a fork which was standing upright with the handle in the ground, and was killed.

Sugar Beet Cultivation In Alberta

Acres of Sugar Beets.

Irrigating Sugar Beets.

IT is perhaps not generally known that the sugar beet is one of the best growing crops in Western Canada. Not only does this crop grow well, but there is no doubt that with the necessary labor and capital one of the most successful industries in Canada can be built upon the cultivation of beets for sugar.

In Southern Alberta alone the area suitable to the growth of the best kind of sugar beets is greater in extent than any two of the largest producing districts in the United States. That more has not been heard of the possibilities of this crop in Alberta is undoubtedly due to the success of the farmer in grain growing and stock raising. But, just as a higher quality of grain, with larger yields, is produced in Western Canada than in the older districts, so sugar beets grown here generally contain a higher percentage of sugar and yield a greater tonnage to the acre than those grown elsewhere. Tests made with beets grown under irrigation from five different kinds of seed at the Dominion Government Experimental Station at Lethbridge showed a yield of 17¾, 16⅛, 15½ and 9¾ tons per acre, with a sugar percentage of 15.84, 19.42, 17.85 and 16.25 respectively. In the same district crops without irrigation yielded 9½ to 12¾ tons per acre from the same seed. Even better results have been obtained from beets grown under irrigation in the Eastern and Western Sections of the Irrigation Block of the Canadian Pacific Railway, east of Calgary, Alberta. Beets with a sugar content of twenty percent have been grown there in successive years, and growers there are confident that this high percentage can be maintained with large crops. It is safe to say that practically any soil capable of producing such grain as is produced in Western Canada will produce satisfactory sugar beets, even though the results may not be so gratifying as those achieved with irrigation.

More than twelve years ago the possibilities of sugar beet production in Alberta had been recognized, and in giving evidence before a committee appointed by the Dominion Government to enquire into the tariff on sugar a representative of the Raymond Sugar Company, Raymond, Alberta, stated that at that time the company had already demonstrated that the beet sugar industry, under proper conditions, could be developed to an enormous extent in Alberta, and that the general conditions, etc., compared very favorably with those existing in the States of Utah and Idaho, which at that date were two of the largest producing districts in the Union.

Combined with the live stock industry, sugar beet cultivation builds up prosperous districts more quickly and substantially than probably any other mode of commercial development. The feeding value of the beet pulp and tops needs no comment. As a rotation crop for the cultivation of soil values there is none better.

In regard to seed production, it is believed that a superior quality of seed can be produced in Alberta in marketable quantities. The soil in the Eastern Section of the Irrigation Block is admirably adapted for the growth of beets for seed, which will, no doubt, develop into one of the most important branches of industry.

A word as to the markets will be interesting. In 1915, the consumption of sugar in Alberta was approximately 42,000,000 pounds, in British Columbia 33,000,000 pounds, in Saskatchewan 50,000,000 pounds, and in Manitoba 43,000,000 pounds, making a total for the Western Provinces alone of 168,000,000 pounds. The total production of sugar in the whole of the Dominion amounted to 37,000,000 only. A large market is, therefore, right at the door. Alberta alone has an area sufficiently large to produce sugar for the needs of Western Canada, and also to export large quantities. This is undoubtedly one of the future industries of Western Canada, especially in the districts where irrigation is practised.

SAYS COMMISSION WAS JUSTIFIED

"It seems absurd," said Mr. Pugsley, "that this government should appoint a commission to review the opinion formed by a commissioner named by the provincial government to inquire into certain transactions in the administration of the province. It seems quite unwarranted. I think the government of Manitoba could tomorrow appoint another judge to express his opinion on the Macleod-Tellier report and what a farce it would be. Who would be the final judge?"

Mr. Carvell said that if the government had the power to appoint two judges why could it not, in the event of a judgment not suiting them, appoint three judges to review the judgment of the two judges.

The solicitor general said that it was hard sledding to argue that the chief justice of New Brunswick and a retired judge of Quebec formed some sort of a court of appeal from a high court judge of Manitoba.

Has His Own Opinion.

It was violating every piece of common law from Blackstone down to the present day for a court of appeal to interfere in questions of fact unless a charge was very flagrant. The judge in a lower court had opportunity to watch the demeanor of a witness.

In the Macleod-ellier commission the two gentlemen apparently did not have time to read all the evidence and they said "We find differently."

"I have my own opinion as to the value of their findings," Mr. Carvell added.

"I want to know for what reason this country is asked to pay $5500 to meet the expense. I understand these commissioners acted without salary. From personal information I know that one commissioner was acting without salary. But why appoint counsel? Counsel to assist the gentleman whose conduct was under investigation and not counsel for the country. There were no witnesses called, there was no argument, the public did not know what was taking place. Who on earth did counsel represent unless the gentleman whose conduct was under investigation? Does the government expect the country to defray the expenses of counsel for Mr. Rogers? That is what it means. I think we should have a pretty clear explanation from the attorney general who employed these gentlemen and the reason why the country is called upon to defray the expenses of the gentleman whose conduct was under investigation."

Hon. Charles Murphy wanted to know what authority the government had to pass this item of $5500. The matters considered by the Macleod-Tellier commission had nothing to do with the Dominion government. Mr. Murphy quoted from the order in council appointing the Macleod-Tellier commission in support of his contention.

A. K. Maclean contended that the Macleod-Tellier commission had been named by the government without the consent of parliament. The investigation had cleared up nothing. The province of Manitoba had not recognized it. He moved that the amount of $5500 be struck from the estimates.

Parliament Responsible.

R. B. Bennett said that parliament was responsible for the honor of its members. After the findings of Mr. Justice Galt, Hon. Robert Rogers had asked for an investigation by two reputable judges. In this case the government had determined that the minister was entitled to another hearing. Mr. Bennett said that Mr. Rogers should have been represented by counsel before Mr. Justice Galt. "But seeing in his own innocence, he had not thought this necessary."

Parliament being the custodian of its own honor must always be prepared to defend its member. The members of the opposition should put themselves in the place of Mr. Rogers. Mr. Justice Galt had made several statements that were proven false. In justice to parliament the charges had to be investigated.

Mr. Carvell suggested that the item be tabled until thoroughly investigated

In regard to the findings of the Galt commission, affecting Mr. Rogers the government could have adopted two courses, said Mr. Meighen. It could have turned its back on it or have it reviewed by a commission higher in status and more disinterested. This was done, because there was no means of bringing the matter before a regular court. Had this course not been pursued Mr. Rogers would have been denied the rights of an ordinary citizen of Canada.

Says Statement Unjustified.

Mr. Meighen said that Mr. Carvell had no right to say that the Macleod-Tellier commission had been appointed to whitewash Mr. Rogers. There was nothing in the judicial records of the members of the commission to justify any statement characterizing them as whitewashers. The commissioners were named because they were disinterested and not likely to be affected by local atmosphere.

The opposition, Mr. Meighen went on to say, asked why the government should pay counsel for Mr. Rogers. The government was not paying counsel for the ex-minister. Mr. Rogers had his own counsel. The item was to pay counsel provided by the commission.

Mr. Meighen said that the account had been submitted to the department of justice and the deputy minister had found it to be fair and reasonable.

Mr. Carvell—I have no hesitation in saying that if the people of this country had been represented or if Mr. Justice Galt had been represented the findings would have been different.

Mr. Carvell—He was not appointed to bring out the facts at all. He was appointed to assist Chief Justice Macleod. My contention is that you did not appoint anyone to bring out the other side of the case.

There was no one to hear the other side. Mr. Rogers had representation there.

Mr. Meighen—Do you say that he should have appointed counsel to represent the view of Mr. Justice Galt? If that is so, then we should have appointed counsel to represent Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Carvell—Why try to cover this thing over with little technicalities? I can quite understand that so long as that finding stood Mr Rogers was not properly a member of the government. Something had to be done, but the government took no means whatever to try to see if Mr. Justice Galt was justified in his views.

Claims Appointment Imperative.

Mr. Bennet argued that in view of the finding of Mr. Justice Galt, the government had to furnish a tribunal where the evidence could be impartially considered and they had to make it a tribunal of justice. This tribunal found from the evidence submitted that the Galt commission was not jus-

MAY BUILD CULTUS CREEK MINE ROAD

District Engineer is Instructed to Make Estimate—Leaves Tomorrow to Make Survey

Present indications are that the provincial government does not propose to complete the Bayonne wagon road this year, but that work will be done on the seven and one half miles of road from Kootenay Lake up Cultus creek to the summit.

F. L. Macpherson, district public works engineer, has received instructions from the coast to make an estimate of the cost of this work and he will leave for Cultus creek to morrow morning.

A. G. Langley of Revelstoke, district mining engineer, made an inspection of the mining properties in the Bayonne district recently in response to a request that the Bayonne road which was commenced last year should be completed out of the $150,000 which remains of the Campbell appropriation for building roads to mining properties.

CORN PRICES SHOW SLIGHT DECLINE

Buying is Chiefly on Resting Orders—Wheat Sells Above Government Price Limits.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 1.—Corn futures showed an easy tone. Holders of abundant stocks offered satisfied their shorts seemed to have satisfied their wants. Preholiday dullness prevailed in view of the two days' closing over Labor day. Frosts in the northwest were generally ignored, though with cooler weather coming, they were expected to be a bullish factor. The buying was mainly on resting orders. The close was weak, ⅜ to 1⅛ lower with December at 1.11½ to ⅝ and May at $1.07¾. Oats finished ⅜ to ¾ lower. Provisions advanced with a firm undertone and a moderate shipping demand.

There were light offers of cash wheat and a fair demand, with some sales above the government price limits. The government will not prohibit buying and selling until next Tuesday and sales to millers probably will begin Sept. 10. No delivery of wheat of September contracts were recorded today.

As nothing further had been heard, the owners of the schooner believed she had been sent to the bottom with all hands.

OVERSEAS SOLDIERS CAN SEND MAIL POSTAGE FREE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—A memorandum issued by the militia department today reads:

"It may not be generally appreciated throughout the country that by order in council, which was passed on July 20, provision was made that all letters posted by members of the overseas forces in France, England or elsewhere addressed to friends or relatives in Canada will be forwarded free of postage and untaxed.

"This step was taken in cooperation with the British government, which has extended similar privileges to all members of British forces serving in the various theatres of war."

There is no prohibition now on the export of potatoes from Ireland, and consequently there is no glut in the markets.

CANADA'S BIG ZINC PRODUCER.

The power house, pipe lines and tramway terminal of the Sullivan mine at Kimberley, B.C., the premier zinc ore producer of Canada. The Sullivan in point of tonnage has this year produced more than one-third of the total output of mines shipping to the Consolidated company's smelter at Trail. It has shipped 87,309 tons, up to the end of the third week of August, or approximately 90,000 tons for the first eight months of the year. Most of this is zinc ore, which is treated at the Consolidated company's electrolytic plant, which is one of the chief single sources of supply to allies of refined zinc for munitions purposes.

NATIONAL NEWS SERVICE IS IN OPERATION.

Canada's new national news service went into operation last night. It links the Atlantic to the Pacific coast by a system of leased wires and will result in vastly improving the facilities for the transmission of news and views throughout the country. The new service has been made possible by the Borden government, which has made an appropriation to pay for leased wires through such districts as that from Toronto to the head of the Great Lakes, which are known as "dead stretches" because of the lack of population en route. The government has made an appropriation because it realizes that rapid and easy communication of an impartial and accurate news service from one end of the country to the other is the greatest single force for bringing about a sympathetic understanding in the east of the problems and sentiment of the west and vice versa.

The readers of The Nelson Daily News will receive the benefits of the new service, which will grow increasingly valuable and complete as, during the next few months, it becomes completely organized. A leased wire service is costly, but it is only by means of such a service that a newspaper can keep its readers thoroughly informed on international and national developments. In this connection it may be mentioned that The Daily News is published in the smallest city on the continent, from the standpoint of population, which is served by a full leased wire telegraphic service.

THE THREATENED FALL OF RIGA

Indications are that the fall of Riga, the Russian seaport which has been so ably defended during the past 18 months against the German forces which have attacked its lines of defense from the west and south, is to be expected.

Despatches speak of its importance as the head of several lines of railroad, but it is doubtful if its position would assist the Germans very greatly purely because of that fact. The enemy could progress no farther along the railroads than the Russian line, wherever that might be established. Riga would be of immense importance to the Germans as a port of supply if they could hold complete control of the gulf of Riga and connection with German ports through the Baltic.

If any considerable number of Russian warships have been bottled up in the port by German mines or submarines lying across the mouth their situation will be critical if Riga falls into the hands of the enemy.

CLOSURE RULE SHOULD BE MORE GENERALLY APPLIED

There has been a lot of pother about the invokation of the closure rule at Ottawa, in order to get on with public business, but most speakers, if they tried, could say all that was worth saying in the 20 minutes provided by the rule. The best and most business-like speech of H. H. Asquith's career was delivered in 20 minutes. Lincoln spoke slowly and deliberately, but few of his speeches delivered at ordinary speed would occupy more than a third of an hour. Sir Thomas White's last budget speech was delivered in 20 minutes and he said all that it was necessary to say.

Of course it is harder to prepare a short than a long speech, just as it is harder to condense thought into a short article than to write a long one. "I haven't time to write more concisely," was the reply of one of America's most famous writers, the late editor of the Brooklyn Eagle when he was asked why he wrote such long articles.

Oratory purely as such no longer is in favor except at debating societies. The modern public wants to know what a man has to say. It hasn't time to listen to beautifully worded oratorical exhibitions of knowledge of the dictionary. What a man says counts more than the words in which he clothes it.

CANADA GETTING THE WORLD'S BEST CABLE SERVICE

Discussion of the inauguration of the Canadian national news service would be incomplete without reference to the splendid service of cable and American news which is supplied to the Canadian system by the American Associated Press. The Associated Press is easily the greatest news gathering institution in the world. It has correspondents in every city of importance in the world, its service of European news having won recognition as being without parallel for accuracy, reliability and the wide field which it covers.

For some years the Canadian Press served by leased wire has had the advantage of the use of the Associated Press service. This arrangement will continue under the new conditions, which, however, provide for a more complete reciprocal service of Canadian news to the Associated Press for distribution to the newspapers of the United States.

Win the war.

A French deputy approves of President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposals and wants France and the other allied nations to concur in it. They did so before it was despatched. The United States is not playing a lone hand in this war.

Inauguration in Canada of a national service with a coast-to-coast leased wire brings nearer of consummation the establishment of an all-imperial news service which will bind together still more closely the component parts of the Empire and the motherland.

Sir Robert Borden's announcement that another revision is to be made in the scale of pensions will meet with general approval. The scale has already once been revised upward since the war began. The existing scale was agreed upon by a committee of members of both parties and was passed unanimously by the house, but conditions have made a further increase essential.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

The Nasty Man

The stink bug has made its appearance at Kaslo and Nelson this summer. My, oh my, if it had only been Blairmore and Coleman, for instance, we would have been sore tempted to remark something about birds of a feather flock together, or something of the sort.—Creston Review.

On Moderation

Moderation in the presence of just fury is itself an injustice. If a pacifist says to me, "My child is being crucified in the market place," and I answer, "Indeed?" it is every bit as bad as if I answered "Hurrah." The children who have been crucified were not the pacifist's children, and this doubtless explains a great deal. But in persons of a less tranquil temper even someone elses child crucified for fun produces a degree of moral decision wholly incommensurate with what is called moderation.—New Witness.

Lord Nelson's Tactics

We think that undue stress is laid on the "defensive" character of our naval strategy, since in every great engagement that has taken place our fleet has been the aggressor, and on more than one occasion our admirals have displayed an audacity quite in keeping with the Nelson tradition. Do not let us forget that Nelson himself never tried to break into Toulon or Cadiz. His views on the imprudence of risking ships against powerful shore defenses are on record, and if he were in Admiral Beaty's place today, is it to be supposed that he would hurl the grand fleet against the batteries and mine fields of Cuxhaven, Wilhelmshaven or Kiel, admittedly the strongest coast defenses in the world?—The Navy, London.

Not a Matter of Sentiment

Western Canada is for winning the war because the west has already done so much that any hint of backing up is received with alarm. And that is why Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not acceptable as a leader. It is feared that his opposition to conscription would result in a slackening of Canada's efforts, and there are grounds for such a suspicion. Western Canada has had much to thank Sir Wilfrid for in the past, but this war isn't a matter of sentiment. It must be won at all cost.—Lethbridge Herald.

Weary Willie—Say, did you hear of the lucky job that Tomato Dan got?

"Dear father," wrote the American girl, who was taking a holiday in Spain. "I'm engaged to seven dukes, five marquises, four barons and a don."

Foaming at the mouth and with visions of the awful end that is in store for a bigamist, the old man cabled: "What ever have you done?"

A few hours later a reply arrived: "Don't be alarmed. He's a Spaniard."

FORMER NELSON C. P. R. AGENT DROWNED WHILE BATHING

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—R. C. Barker, C. P. R. agent at Summerland, was drowned in Okanagan lake this morning as the result of a bathing accident. He was formerly chief despatcher at North Bend, Nelson and Revelstoke for the C. P. R.

A PACIFIST WHO IS FOR WAR

Now this conflict seems to me, whatever its origin may have been, to have developed into a rising of liberal peoples throughout the world, determined on safeguarding their slowly builtup liberties against a nation, or rather a system, arrogant in its viewpoint, intolerant of the rights of others and brutal toward the weak and oppressed. I am still against the war they wage, but I am for war to end such war and such autocracy everywhere, and to drive forever from such minds all hope of dominating mankind.

And now that I am in the midst of it all, what I shall see before it is over, here or in Russia or in France, I do not know. But I do know that in these first weeks in Washington I have become aware of a prodigious tonic force that is sweeping over this land today, to work here changes similar to those it has worked in England and France, changes toward more democracy and brotherly cooperation, not only among fellow countrymen but among fellow countries too. I believe there are changes coming soon that will deeply disturb all tories who exist in every land that will effect tremendous transformations in the social, political and industrial life of the modern world—and that these will be the result of this war, which is rapidly changing before our eyes into a world-wide revolution.

And so I who was a pacifist have turned away from my old faith. But I who was a democrat, am still moving toward my goal.—Ernest Poole in McClure's magazine.

THOUGHTS ON A BATHING BEACH.

I sit upon the shining sand
Beside the sounding sea,
And sights I cannot understand
Come flitting o'er the lea—
Unsainly sights which give me pain
In my anatomee.

Long, lean and lanky gnarled legs
With knots upon the knees,
And trunks like piccolos or kegs
Come wafting through the breeze,
And arms like reeds and hands like hams—
I gaze on all of these.

Yon woman in her bathing suit
Upon the shining sand,
When on the street I thought her cute
And now upon the strand
Where are those lissome, luscious curves?
I cannot understand.

And yonder man—if man it is—
I saw him yesterday,
And marveled at his beauteous phiz—
And watched his shoulders sway—
But now within that bathing suit—
His shoulders—where are they?

And so upon the shining sand
Beside the brimming brine
I sit and watch those ghastly sights
And painful thoughts are mine—
I sit and wonder why it's called
"The human form divine."

ATTACKED BY THE PRESS, FRENCH MINISTER RESIGNS

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Jules Steege, minister of public instruction, has taken over temporarily the ministry of the interior in place of Jules Malvey, who resigned Friday.

In a letter M. Malvey gives as the reason for his resignation press attacks against him. He declares that the silence imposed by his official duties prevented him from refuting newspaper attacks in opposition to him and he wishes to have his freedom in order to reply.

M. Malvey's successor as minister of the interior will probably be announced Monday or Tuesday at a cabinet meeting.

GRAND FORKS SHIPS FIRST CAR OF APPLES

Mrs. G. D. Clark Buried at New Westminster—Forest Fires Kept Under Control

(Special to The Daily News.)

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Aug. 31.—The Grand Forks Growers Cooperative association has shipped out its first car of apples this season to Edmonton. It consisted principally of Yellow Transparent, Duchess and Red Astrachan apples and Transcendent Crabs.

The body of Mrs. George D. Clark, who died on Tuesday morning after an illness of several months, was taken on the noon train to New Westminster, where interment took place. A short service was held in the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock, Rev. M. D. McKee officiating, and appropriate music was rendered by the choir. Places of business in the city were closed today from 11 to 12:30 as a mark of respect to Mrs. Clark.

CRANBROOK NOTES

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 2.—Mrs. James Beech and children returned last week from Wasa, where they have been spending the summer holidays with Mr. Beech.

While at Wasa, Mrs. Beech received word that her mother, Mrs. P. Barr of Lindsay, Ont., had died suddenly, due to prostration caused by heat. Mrs. Barr was 65 years of age and was predeceased by her husband three years ago. In addition to Mrs. Beech of this city, the deceased leaves to mourn her loss three daughters and a son—P. A. Barr of Gooderham, Ont.; Mrs. W. Buker of Namaka, Alta.; Mrs. W. Hare of Calgary, Alta.; and Mrs. W. Curry of Haliburton, Ont.

The serious forest fires which have been raging at Glenlily and Skookumchuck are being held under control and have not been permitted to spread to any great extent. A crew of 70 men is engaged at the international boundary line besides the American crew.

The Cranbrook and Kimberley baseball teams will meet at the Labor day celebration at Kimberley Monday.

KASLO DELEGATES FOR CRANBROOK APPOINTED

KASLO, B.C., Sept. 1.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's institute held Friday, Dr. Calvert gave an interesting and instructive talk on photography and members responded to the roll call with a favorite quotation. The delegates appointed to go to the conference at Cranbrook were the president, Mrs. Millington, and Mrs. Patey.

A successful lawn social was given by Mrs. F. E. Archer and C. B. White on their lawns last Wednesday afternoon in aid of the prisoner of war fund, under the auspices of the Women's institute. About $42 was raised for this cause.

School will open on Tuesday, with S. L. Scott principal of high school, assisted by Miss G. Maxwell. D. L. Murphy will be in charge of the public school, with Miss Bell, Miss McKenzie and Miss Riddell in charge of the other departments.

ing of the gulf which now separates east and west should be rendered easier by the dissemination of Canadian news throughout the land. The west will know the east better, and the east will understand the hopes and ambitions of the great provinces west of the lakes.

"I consider the Canadian Press, Limited, has undertaken a work of the greatest national importance and a work from which the greatest benefits should accrue and in which they have my best wishes for the success of which such a national effort is entitled. "J. A. LOUGHEED."

Manitoba Premier Satisfied

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—Premier Norris said:

"This is a happy occasion in the history of the Dominion. Everything that brings us nearer together, that tends to unite our somewhat scattered elements, is for the good of Canada as a whole.

"As premier of what is, geographically speaking, the central province of the Dominion, I feel that this direct and important news link with our brethren of the maritime province and of the Pacific coast must make for better understanding and greater cooperation in attacking our mutual problems.

"At this juncture it is a matter of high national value that the people of the west should thus be brought into closer communication and sympathy with the people of Ontario and of Quebec.

"All success to the Canadian Press, and may the high ideals of its inception long continue to inspire it."

Provincial Headquarters' Message

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—"The daily publishers of Vancouver and their staffs, with the British Columbia manager and his assistants, assembled at bureau headquarters for British Columbia and the Yukon, and having as their guests the attorney general of the province, the mayor of the city, officers of the board of trade and Canadian club, and the superintendents of the Canadian Pacific and Dominion Yukon telegraph systems, send greetings on the happy inauguration of a national cooperative news gathering system for Canada. The Pacific coast publishers facilitate with their brethren of central Canada and the Atlantic seaboard on the inception of an enterprise fraught with such promise for the unification of the Canadian people.

"JOHN NELSON,
"Director for British Columbia."

Press At Capital Confident

VICTORIA, Sept. 2.—"Hearty greetings from the newspapers of British Columbia's capital to the publishers of Canada on the opening of the new national service of the Canadian Press, limited. We feel confident that this is the beginning of a new era in Canadian unity.

"VICTORIA TIMES and
"VICTORIA COLONIST."

Board of Trade Congratulates

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—"The Vancouver board of trade extends hearty greetings to all cities of the Dominion linked up today by the inauguration of the Canadian National news service.

"B. W. GREER, President.

Is Mighty Step Forward

REGINA, Sept. 2.—"The inauguration of a Dominion-wide national news service with a complete circuit of leased wires day and night from ocean to ocean serving every day newspaper in Canada is an event not only of nation-wide, but Empire-wide importance. It is another and mighty step forward in the strengthening of confederation.

"Canada as a country of untold wealth in natural resources is handicapped by reason of the fact its small population is scattered along a narrow strip of territory spanning a continent. Naturally, therefore, communication is difficult and expensive. But when, in addition, the population is broken into various groups spread one from another by geographical barriers the problem of exchanging the news of each section with the other becomes unusually difficult.

"Those great national barriers have served to prevent the development of that community of interest and national spirit so essential to the upbuilding of a united nation, while to the newspaper men of Canada, desirous of obtaining a daily exchange of Canadian news, the difficulties must have been well nigh insurmountable. That the daily papers of the west have given such an admirable news service in the past speaks volumes for their enterprise and patriotic endeavor.

Time Peculiarly Fitting

"During 50 years of confederation our statesmen have devoted their energies to bridging these great natural gaps by lines of railway at enormous public expense. It is, however, peculiarly fitting that in this jubilee year of confederation there should be inaugurated a national news service based on a continuous system of leased telegraph wires which will keep all the people of one province in constant touch with the activities, the ambitions and the trend of thought of the people of all other provinces. In extending congratulations to Canadian Press, limited, on its great undertaking and patriotic effort and wishing it every success, I am confident that in the hands of the newspaper men of Canada and by the circulation of more information of the east among the people of the west it will serve to remove and prevent many misunderstandings, thereby breaking down old antagonisms and creating confidence and sympathy where too often in the past there has been suspicion and distrust.

W. M. MARTIN."

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—E. F. Slack, president of the Canadian Press, Limited, issued the following message in reference to the inauguration of the new Dominion press service:

"The national news service, inaugurated today by the Canadian Press, Limited, is the result of seven years labor. It is not necessary here to dwell upon difficulties encountered and successfully combated. They are not matters of public interest.

"Briefly this is what has happened as the result of the labor. Every daily newspaper in Canada, with but a few small exceptions, has been connected by a leased telegraph wire with every other Canadian newspaper office and with the head office of the Associated Press in New York. Over 6000 miles of telegraph wire have been leased for this purpose. Between 80 and 90 of the fastest telegraphers in Canada have been employed to man them. The Canadian papers which would receive the service had also bound themselves to give the Canadian Press, Limited, all the news they received for themselves. To sift this news for the general public interest is the duty of the editorial staff. Whenever anything happens of uncommon interest and news of it reaches the nearest papers, it is at once telegraphed to every paper in Canada.

"This is the day of cooperation and it finds the newspapers of Canada in the van. The Canadian Press, Limited, has but a nominal capital and makes no profits, furnishing its services to its members at cost, and even in some instances at less than cost.

"With this goal achieved there is another in sight, a press union of the British Empire on the same lines of broad cooperation. The press of a country is its eyes and ears. The more efficient it is in despatching its mission the less danger there is of misunderstanding.

"It is my profound belief that the nationalization of the news service of the Canadian press will in years to come be recognized as one of the milestones in the history of Canada."

HALIFAX, Sept. 2.—(By Transcontinental Leased Wire.)—"On behalf of the people of Nova Scotia, I gladly avail myself of the courtesy of the Canadian Press, Limited, on the occasion of the inauguration of its own service from coast to coast to send our warm congratulations to you and the people of British Columbia.

"The Canadian Press, Limited, is to be congratulated. I believe that it promises great profit to all Canada. It will be a new link between the east and west and a potent link in bringing them in closer touch with all sections of our vast country and creating a better understanding, and will foster that spirit of unity which was never so essential to the welfare of our country as at the present time.

"G. H. MURRAY."

Greetings from Sunset Gateway

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—"Upon the inauguration of the Canadian national news service, the mayor and citizens of Vancouver, the sunset gateway of our Dominion, extend greetings to the cities, citizens and newspapers of the prairie provinces and eastern Canada and desire to express the hope that a closer understanding and a greater solidarity of national sentiment may result.

"M. McBEATH, Mayor."

Should Promote Civic Pride

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 2.—"President Slack, Vice-President Macklin, officers and members of Canadian Press, Limited:

"The new service bringing the municipalities of Canada into closer touch should be a factor in promoting civic pride and emulation in civic achievement. I heartily congratulate all concerned with the organization, which should mean the promotion of a more solid public opinion in the Dominion.

"A. E. TODD,
Mayor of Victoria."

"The Victoria board of trade extends hearty greetings to the publishers of Canada upon the inauguration of the Canadian national news service, which it believes to be a long stride toward the completion of Canadian unity.

"JAMES FOREMAN, President."

Link Rings True

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2.—To President Slack, Vice-President Macklin, officers and members Canadian Press, limited:

"From east to west the circling word has passed,
"Till west is east beside our land-locked blue;
"From east to west, the tested chain holds fast
"The well forged link rings true."

BACKACHE SOON DISAPPEARED

Could Not Do Housework Till Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed Cause.

Fort Fairfield, Maine.—"For many months I suffered from backache caused by female troubles so I was unable to do my house work. I took treatments for it but received no help whatever. Then some of my friends asked why I did not try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and my backache soon disappeared and I felt like a different woman, and now have a healthy little baby girl and do all my house work. I will always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. ALTON D. OAKES, Fort Fairfield, Maine.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened and read by women only.

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unfailing flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

"TEAM WORK"

The Football Team that makes the winning score is the team that works together.

The Business House that declares regular dividends is the one which has reduced Team Work to a Science.

The Retail Merchant who can say "I push Nationally Advertised Goods" is signed up with the Winning Team for life.

He stops figuring long profits on unknown brands. He never loses customers through substituting. He turns his back on the difficult, old-fashioned, expensive methods of "playing it alone."

He sees his customers more often. The ring of his cash register is more frequent. He earns the reputation of selling quality goods. For the manufacturers who spend thousands of dollars advertising their products dare not jeopardize their investment with doubtful quality.

He earns the reputation of being progressive. He has in stock what his customers see advertised in their newspaper. He sells what his customers want and plays the modern merchandising game of rapid turnovers on goods already half sold for him.

He combines his store, his stock, his windows, his advertising with the powerful efforts of the big National Advertisers and their highly organized marketing facilities, and follows the line of least resistance toward the goal—"BETTER BUSINESS."

WILL SERVE SOFT DRINKS IN BARS

Local Hotelmen Will Feature Two Per Cent Beer When Prohibition is Enacted.

While the majority of Nelson hotelmen are undecided as to what they will do with their barrooms when the prohibition act becomes effective, they express the opinion that they will serve soft drinks in them, "featuring" two per cent beer.

According to the law near-beer must not contain more than 2½ per cent alcohol, but the government analysis is declared to bear out the contention that if it is carried beyond a certain length of time the percentage would climb above that mark.

A couple of local hotelmen state that they will probably close up their houses for renovation when the law becomes effective.

AT THE THEATRES.

At the Gem Today.

The adventures of an eastern heiress among the rough herdsmen of the west form the basis of the story of the new William Fox photoplay, "The Beast," in which Anna Luther and George Walsh are features, and which is to be shown at the Gem today. Miss Luther is the innocent little eastern girl, Mildred Manning, who, on a tour through the west with her father, falls in with Del Burton (George Walsh) and is taken prisoner by him, after he fights a gun duel with two other men. He takes her to his cabin and nurses her back to strength after she has succumbed to the excitement of the adventure. When she is well and strong once more, he sends her to her father and the tour is continued. Some time later Burton pays a visit to the east. He is wealthy now and society lionizes him. He meets Mildred but she does not recognize him in the costume of city life. The awakening comes when he appears at a masquerade ball in his western clothes. Then she realizes who he is, and the old feeling of love returns to her heart.

TO ENFORCE ORDER ON CANNED GOODS

Tinned Vegetables Must Not Be Sold —Provisions of the New Regulations.

The order in council prohibiting the sale of canned vegetables is effective throughout the Dominion. It has been published in the Canada Gazette and will be enforced by the authorities. The order follows:

Whereas the food controller for Canada submits that he is advised that the canners of the Dominion of Canada are not able to supply the demand for canned vegetables for the coming season; that there will be a great supply of fresh vegetables on the market, and that an embargo upon the use of canned vegetables would work no hardship on the consumer while green and fresh vegetables are available and would stimulate the consumption of fresh vegetables, making a market for same, and also conserving the supply of canned goods for later use,—

Therefore His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, under and in virtue of the provisions of the War Measures act, 1914, is pleased to make the following regulations and the same are hereby made and enacted accordingly:

I. On and after the twenty-fourth day of August, 1917, and until further notice, except as hereinafter provided, the sale and purchase of peas, beans, tomatoes, beets, celery, corn, spinach, rhubarb and pumpkins, preserved in cans, glass jars or any other container, commonly known as "canned vegetables," is prohibited.

II. The above regulations shall not apply:

(a) When such vegetables are sold by the manufacturer to the wholesaler, jobber or retailer; or by the wholesaler or jobber to the retailer; or

(b) When such vegetables are to be consumed in lumber camps, mining camps, construction camps and dining cars, provided that they will be consumed within said lumber camps, mining camps, construction camps and dining cars, and not resold.

(c) When such vegetables form a part of the contents of a can, glass jar, bottle or other container, and are sold as soups, catsup or pickles.

III. It is provided, however, that the food controller for Canada may grant licenses permitting the sale and consumption of said "canned vegetables" in such cases as he deems necessary or expedient.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

CHAPLAIN EXPRESSES SINCERE SYMPATHY

Rev. J. H. White Tells Widow That Husband Was Respected by Officers and Comrades.

Rev. J. H. White, chaplain with the unit in which the late Pte. R. L. Langill of Nelson was attached when he was killed in action in France, writes Mrs. Langill that her husband was a good, faithful young man, well liked by all his officers and comrades.

"I deeply regret having to confirm the sad intelligence already sent you of the death of your husband, Pte. R. L. Langill, who was killed in action on the evening of June 26," writes the chaplain. "So far as I have been able to find out he was engaged in a salvage party and was hit by a piece of shell. He was taken immediately to the hospital, where he died. His remains were reverently laid to rest the next day in the military cemetery at Villus-un-Bois. His grave is marked and will be cared for.

"Your husband was a good, faithful young man, well liked by all his comrades and officers and in your sorrow you have at least the comfort of knowing that he did his best and gave all that a young man could give for his home and country and the freedom of the world. I desire to express my deep personal sympathy with you in the loss of your dear husband and I pray that God will comfort and sustain you in this most trying time."

NELSON WILL HAVE WIN-WAR MEETING

Conference Names Committee to Make Arrangements—Veterans Urge Need of Conscription.

Nelson is to have a "win-the-war" meeting similar to those which have been held at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and other of the chief cities of the Dominion. A committee consisting of Mayor Annable, Ald. J. A. McDonald and Mrs. Donald Guthrie was appointed at a conference Saturday night at the Returned Soldiers' club to make the necessary arrangements for the meeting.

The chief speakers at Saturday's conference were Lieut. W. J. Claridge of Fernie and Capt. Spencer of North Vancouver, two returned soldiers. Fred Roberts, a Nelson returned soldier, was in the chair. Lieut. Claridge spoke of the necessity of conscription to reinforce the men at the front, some of whom had been fighting without rest for nearly three years except at such times as they were in hospital recovering from wounds.

Capt. Spencer explained that the purpose of the win-the-war meetings was entirely nonpolitical. At this time all politics had to be dropped in order that the energies of the people of Canada might be concentrated on winning the war as quickly as possible. He told of the need for conscription and for securing the support of all the win-the-war people of the country for the bill.

FACTORY OWNERS AID IN HARVEST

Some in Ontario Send Hands to Farms and Pay Them Difference in Wages, Says J. R. Hunter

"In order to supply labor for the farms of Ontario, which have the best crop in the history of the province, some of the owners of factories, munitions and otherwise, are sending their employees into the fields and paying them the difference between the wages paid by the farmers and those the hands were receiving in the factories," stated J. R. Hunter of Nelson, who returned Saturday from a visit to his old home in Nova Scotia and to friends in Ontario and other parts of the east. Mrs. Hunter and son accompanied him

"Farmers in Ontario not only have good crops, but they are receiving prices higher than have ever been realized before," said Mr. Hunter.

He mentioned eastern people did not seem to know the reason for the reduction in shell orders. The British government has decided to send no more orders for certain classes of shells and to reduce the orders for some other sizes.

Everyone had a different reason to offer, from the theory that Great Britain had accumulated huge stocks of certain of the shells and could make enough to maintain the supply, to the expectation of an early end to the war. "Everyone has a different theory," said Mr. Hunter.

BAKERS CONSERVE WHEAT; WERE SOLD OUT SATURDAY

Nelson bakers on Saturday carried out strictly the injunction of the food controller to so govern their output of bread that it would not exceed the actual daily demand, thus avoiding any waste through over production from the ovens. One Nelson man, who had been out of the city, experienced the effect when he went to every baker in the city Saturday night and found that not a loaf was to be purchased. The whole day's supply had been sold out. Today is Labor day, hence he could not buy any until Tuesday morning. Friends who happened to have a few extra loaves filled the breach.

ILLEGAL PAYMENT DID NOT PASS SCHOOL AUDITOR

It is pointed out in connection with the illegal contract for the Fairview school board on which E. Romaine, a trustee, received payment of $42.50, that payment of this sum had not passed the school auditor.

The audit of the school books, it is explained, is made annually only.

DUCKS SCARCE AND FLY OUT OF RANGE

The duck shooting season did not open very auspiciously in this section on Saturday. The number of shooting parties was not large and as far as can be learned the bags of birds were very light. The ducks in this district are yet quite small and as one hunter put it, "exceedingly unsociable," flying well out of range of guns. Very few of them are in evidence yet.

NOT ENOUGH PRODUCE TO SATISFY BUYERS

Potatoes and Green Corn were particularly Scarce on Saturday's Market.

There was not enough produce on the market Saturday to satisfy the demands of the buyers. Potatoes and green corn were particularly scarce.

Potatoes sold at 6 pounds for 25 cents, and $4 a sack; beans at 10 cents a basket; ducks, alive, $1 to $1.50 each; grapes, grown under glass, 40 cents a pound.

Showers early Sunday morning had the effect of somewhat settling the forest fires in this region and they are now all well in hand, E. B. Prowd, district forester, stated yesterday. Reports from all regions where fires are burning are favorable, he said.

The Salmo and Big Sheep creek fires are being successfully coped with and the latest blaze to break out in the Sproule creek country is so much subdued that only one patrolman is on watch.

SOLDIERS AND NEGROES CLASH

Fighting Occurs in Streets of Lexington—City is Being Patrolled By Military

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 2.—The streets of Lexington are being patrolled by armed, mounted and foot soldiers of the Kentucky national guard and the city has augmented its police patrols as a result of a series of outbreaks between negroes and soldiers.

The street fighting was the culmination of a series of disorders between soldiers employed at the edge of the city and negroes who have been flocking to Lexington during the week from a farm nearby. One negro was taken to a hospital in a serious condition, while numerous other blacks received injuries. The soldiers escaped with minor bruises.

tified in its findings. Parliament had nothing to do with the administration of the tribunal, but it had something to do with the conduct of its members.

Mr. Bennett compared the house with a club inasmuch as it had the right to expel any member guilty of improper conduct.

Mr. Bennett amused the house by drawing up a possible situation in the event of Sir Wilfrid Laurier being called upon to form the administration.

"You could not hope to govern the country," he said, "with the Carvells, the Copps and the Mackenzies."

"I have heard," said Sir Wilfrid, "that the prime minister wanted to get Mr. Carvell," a remark which aroused opposition cheers.

Hon. William Pugsley said that he agreed with Mr. Carvell that there should be discussion before the amount was voted. In closing Mr. Pugsley said he had nothing to say as to the innocence or guilt of the ex-minister of public works, but he did think this bill should not be paid. The finding of the commission was simply the opinion of two eminent gentlemen.

Passed on Division.

At 6 o'clock Mr. Meighen suggested that the item be allowed to go through on the understanding that the opposition would be given a chance to dis*cuss the Galt finding before the end* of the session.

Mr. Carvell at first objected on the ground that he always had been opposed to discussing the Galt report in parliament and because he objected to the payment of this bill.

On the suggestion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier it was finally agreed to pass the item "on division." The house then adjourned.

Supply bills were read a first time, covering amounts already voted in the estimates for $51,681,871 and $4,821,217, the latter being on the supplementary estimates.

In reply to a question by Hon. Frank Oliver, Sir Thomas White said that the government had no official information as to the British government being unable to purchase bacon and lard in Canada.

Every dry day adds to your risk. In case of loss the cost of material and labor has materially increased—for a few dollars a strong corporation will carry your load. Can you and your family afford to be without protection?

If your home is modern and in Nelson and sixty feet from your neighbor it will only cost you $12.00 per thousand for three years, or $4.00 per thousand per year. In other words you would have to pay for 125 years before you would pay out what you would get back in case of a total loss.
