RAIDS BY GERMAN TROOPS ON BRITISH ARE REPULSED

Four Hun Airplanes Are Brought Down

FRENCH RETAKE BIG PORTION OF SALIENT

Repulse Onslaughts and Spring Successful Surprise Attack

(By Associated Press.)

Aside from several sectors in the region between Soissons and Rheims and in the Champagne near Mont Cornillet, little fighting of moment is taking place. The German war office asserts that east of Mont Cornillet the French have been compelled, under a heavy assault, to give up ground they gained last week. The French official communications mention no fighting east of Mont Cornillet, but report that a German attack to the northeast was easily repulsed.

There is still considerable artillery activity on the part of the Germans in various sectors of the lines in Belgium, especially near Reninghe, Pypegaale and Lizerne, and lively hand grenade fighting between the French and Germans near Steenstraete.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 24.—Today's official statement reads:

"We captured a few prisoners in the night as the result of patrol encounters south of the Scarpe. The hostile artillery was active in the neighborhood of Croisilles and Messines."

German Raids Fail.

LONDON, June 24—Tonight's official statement reads:

'Hostile raids were attempted this morning southeast of Gravelle and southeast of Armentieres. In each case the enemy troops were caught under our fire and failed to reach our trenches.

"The enemy's artillery was active today in the neighborhood of Havrincourt wood, north of the Scarpe and in the neighborhood of Messines.

"In the air fighting Saturday two German airplanes were brought down, one driven down out of control. Another hostil machine was brought down in our lines by our anti-aircraft guns. One of our airplanes is missing."

French Prevent Attack.

"The activity of the two artilleries has been somewhat lively in the region of Hurtebise and Craonne. South of Juvincourt our counter-batteries stopped a violent bombardment of our lines and a German attack which was in preparation in this region was prevented, the troops being unable to leave their trenches because of the violence of our fire.

"In the Champagne we easily repulsed an attack northeast of Mont Cornille. In the direction of Auberive we carried out a surprise attack and brought back some prisoners."

PARIS, June 24.—Tonight's war office statement reads:

"In the region of Vauxaillon a spirited counter-attack by our troops enabled us to retake the greater part of the salient held by the enemy northwest of Moisey farm.

"The artillery action was quite active in the Hurtebise sector and on the left bank of the Meuse.

"Belgian communication: Saturday night enemy forces bombarded our positions at Dixmude and Steenstraete and Hetsas. Today the artillery activity was pronounced near Reninghe, Pypegaale and Lizerne. There was lively bombing near Steenstraete and the Ferryman's house. Our aviators brought down an enemy machine, which fell between Zande and Zevrot."

Says French Evacuate Ground.

BERLIN, via London, June 24.—Today's war office statement reads:

"Western front: On the British and Belgian front, the coast and St. Quentin canal there was nothing unusual about the fighting yesterday. There were strong waves of fire north of Warneton and directly south of the Scarpe. British reconnoitering advances were repulsed.

"In the Vauxaillon sector and southeast of Filain and also on the western bank of the Aisne and in the western Champagne and the left bank of the Meuse the artillery activity was strong at times.

"The effect of our concentrated fire compelled the French to evacuate the ground they gained June 18 and June 21 east of Mont Cornille. Our reconnaissances discovered that heavy losses had been sustained by the enemy.

"In the Wyteschaete salient we shot down three captive balloons. The enemy also lost three airplanes."

BERLIN, June 24.—The supplementary communication issued by the war office this evening says:

"There has been lively artillery activity at only a few points on the front."

RUSSIAN ARMIES TO BE MAINTAINED

War Minister Against Disintegration—Says His Orders Are Will of the People.

PETROGRAD, June 24.—"Russia is following an independent foreign policy, and the government unconditionally forbade Russian troops to disembark at Athens," said Minister of War Kerensky during the debate in the all Russian congress of soldiers' and workmen's delegates council Saturday on the subject of war aims.

Regarding the army, the war minister said:

"My orders are the expressions of the will of the majority of the Russian democracy. As long as I remain in office I will not permit the disintegration of an army which should be strong and which should not allow Prince Leopold of Bavaria and this new Socialism to threaten us with divisions and heavy artillery."

Referring to Finland and Ukrania, M. Kerensky urgently appealed to the people of those regions not to break their union with Russia in the struggle for common happiness and liberty.

"The dismemberment of Russia," said the minister, "would involve their ruin."

SINN FEINERS AGAIN BREAK OUT

Hoist Red Flag On Court House At Cork

FIERCE RIOTING OCCURS IN CITY

Convention Denounced As Political Trick To Bar Independence

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CORK, Ireland, June 24.—The Sinn Feiners were active here early this morning, when they smashed the windows in numerous recruiting offices and, by means of a fire escape, hoisted the reublican flag on the court house flagstaff and smashed the scales held by the figure of justice over the court house. They committed many other acts of violence.

The Sinn Feiners at a big meeting today passed resolutions denouncing the national convention as diplomatic attempt on the part of the government to place Ireland in a false position and prevent the fulfilment of Ireland's claims to sovereign independence. The resolution demanded that the executive convene the council to express the opinions of the people and elect representatives to a peace conference.

Fierce Rioting Occurs

LONDON, June 24.—The Chronicle's Cork correspondent, in a message received late Sunday night, says fierce rioting is going on in Cork, following Sinn Fein disturbances early Saturday evening and Sunday morning. A child was reported killed.

RUSSIA WILL NOT MAKE SEPARATE PEACE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, June 24.—All thought that Russia will conclude a separate peace must be set aside, declared Albert Thomas, French minister of munitions, on his return to Paris last night from an extended trip to Russia. An offensive by the Russian army is both a material and moral possibility, in his belief, but he declined to speculate as to when such a movement might be expected. The military organization problems are in a fair way toward solution and the situation as regards Russia's financial and other difficulties is improving every day.

U. S. FOOD CONTROL BILL IS CARRIED

Adopted in House by 365 Votes to 5—Has Far-Reaching Prohibition Provisions.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The administration food control bill giving the president broad authority to control the distribution of food, feed and fuel for war purposes and appropriating $152,000,000 for its enforcement and administration, was passed by the house last night after far-reaching prohibition provisions had been written into it. The vote was 365 to five.

Prohibition provisions adopted would prevent use of foodstuffs for the manufacture of alcoholic beverages and would give the president authority to take over for war purposes all liquor now on hand. The bill now goes to the senate, where it probably will be substituted early this week for a similar measure already under consideration. Leaders hope to get the measure to conference by July 1.

HEROES HONORED WHILE GUNS BOOM

Canadians Decorated for Bravery At Vimy

LIEUT. MACDOWELL IS AWARDED V. C.

Little Ceremony Conducted During Intense Artillery Duels

(By Canadian Overseas Correspondent)

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 24.—There has been a marked increase in artillery fire all along the Canadian front during the last 24 hours. Early this morning the Canadian guns began to hammer Coulotte, Avion and Mericourt, and a heavy barrage was thrown upon the enemy's front line and gradually moved toward his support trenches. This startled and aroused the German artillery commander. About 11 o'clock the enemy turned on a very creditable barrage of his own, using guns on all parts of his line with extreme range. For two hours the guns on both sides, after their exhibition of barrages, continued a lively bombardment, but no infantry movements followed.

While the cannonade was in progress the ceremony occurred behind our front of the presentation of the decorations conferred upon heroes of the Vimy ridge battle belonging to one of the Canadian divisions whose duties prevented their attendance at the recent investiture by his majesty the King in London. Oen of the recipients was Lieut. Macdowell, who won the Victoria Cross for his gallantry in capturing machine guns and mopping up the enemy dugouts.

ITALIANS DRIVE BACK AUSTRIANS

Repulse Attack and Carry Fighting Into Enemy's Ground—Inflict Heavy Casualties

By Associated Press.)

There has been further sharp fighting in the Trentino region of the Austro-Italian theatre, but no changes in position are reported. On the Asiago plateau there has been considerable artillery activity, apparently with the Austrians the aggressors. To the northwest the Austrians delivered an attack in the Cordovole valley at Mont Sittsass. The Italians not only repulsed the atack, but themselves took the initiative and drove back the enemy, inflicting heavy casualties on him.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ROME, June 24.—Today's war office statement reads:

"Last night one of our patrols reconnoitering in the eastern Pajsna valley encountered a large detachment at Bellassi and compelled it to retreat.

"The enemy artillery was particularly active Saturday on the Asiago plateau.

"We put out of action another enemy gun on Mont Ortigora.

"On the upper Riodi and in the Cordevele valley early Saturday morning, the enemy after intense artillery preparation attacked advanced posts on Mount Settsass. The attack was promptly stopped and a counter attack quickly drove back the enemy with considerable losses.

"In an air fight an enemy airplane was forced to land within its own lines near Mount Armentera, in the Sugana valley."

TALK DESCRIBED AS PLAYING WITH FIRE

Premier of South Africa Condemns Republican Move Engineered in Country.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CAPETOWN, June 24.—Gen. Louis Botha, premier of the Union of South Africa, was repeatedly applauded in a speech delivered at Robertson, Cape Colony, dealing with the resolution passed in the house of assembly last week condemning republican propaganda in South Africa. South Africa's future, said Gen. Botha depends upon cooperation of the two white races. The premier declared that the talk of a republic was like playing with fire, and urged that it cease. It was to South Africa's interest to maintain the constitutional connection with Great Britain. The country now would be in the greatest difficulties but for the British fleet, he said in closing.

EXPLOSIVES ARE SEIZED IN NORWAY

Secreted by German Agents in Cases With Object of Blowing Up Steamers

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 24.—The seizure of a quantity of explosives which has just reached Christiania, Norway, from Germany, and the arrest of three foreigners have been officially confirmed, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

The police are continuing the investigation and when the details are known another iffical communication will be given out, it is announced.

The Tidens Tegn says that one thousand kilograms of explosives were seized, including a number of infernal machines. One of the men arrested is Aaron Reutenfels, a German citizen born in Finland, who declared that the bombs were intended for use in Finland.

According to the newspaper, however, the infernal machines, which were enclosed in cases resembling lumps of coal, were to have been placed in Norwegian ships in the bunkers. The plot probably explains the loss of many Norwegian ships, which were supposed to have been mined or torpedoed.

The affair has been discussed at a secret meeting of the storthing, but the official investigation is still incomplete. One report says Reutefels will be compelled to leave Norway.

URGES AGGRESSIVE POLICY BY NAVY

Churchill Deprecates Greatly Superior Forces Waiting Idle Till German Fleet Emerges

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 24.—Winston Spencer Churchill, in an article in the Sunday Pictorial, demands an aggressive policy for the vast surplus fleets under the allies' command, especially since America's entrance into the war.

"The allied navies," he declared, "have today at least two dreadnoughts for every one at the disposal of Germany and Austria, and in addition more than four old battleships to one of the enemy. But the superiority in weight of metal, modernity and tonnage is far greater even than these immense figures imply. Are we really to be content to see this vast mass of about 200 warships wait idle on the off chance of the German fleet emerging to fight uhtil peace—perhaps an unsatisfactory peace—is declared?"

FEAT PERFORMED BY RUSS TROOPS

Surrounded by Austrians, But By Using Grenades and Bayonets Escaped Without Losses

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PETROGRAD, June 24.—Today's statement reads:

"In Galicia, in the region of Graebkovco, an enemy scouting party attempted to get information of our position but was dispersed by one of our companies.

"In the region of Presovce an Austrian company surrounded our scouting party. The commander of the party assembled his men and by the means of bayonet fighting and the use of grenades they succeeded in breaking through and returning to their trenches without losing a single man. On the remainder of the front and on the Rumanian front there were fusillades.

"Caucasian front: Fusillades and engagements between advanced detachments have occurred.

"Aviation: On the Baltic sea, June 22, six enemy seaplanes carried out two raids on the southern extremity of Ostrama Ezell, dropping 38 bombs on ships lying in the roadstead and on the shore batteries. No casualties or damage was caused. The attacks were repelled by the fire of our fleet and sea batteries."

DR. PATRICK THROWS GLOVE TO CALDER

Calls on Saskatchewan Minister to State His Attitude on Conscription Question.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

YORKTON, Sask., June 24.—At a large political meeting addressed by Hon. J. A. Calder and Dr. Patrick here last evening, Dr. Calder was challenged by Dr. Patrick to declare his attitude toward conscription. Mr. Calder said the Dominion government had made a great mistake at the beginning of the war, when the entire man power of Canada should have been conscripted. The raising of an army should not have been left to volunteers, but conscription of men alone was not sufficient. It was the government's duty to conscript the wealth of the nation also.

Canadian Leader Replies to Borden Message

DECLARES NEW DRAFTS IMPERATIVE

Vote On Conscription Unlikely Till Next Week

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 24.—The Canadian Associated Press is informed that a cablegram signed by many Canadians resident in London was being sent to Sir Robert Borden expressing approval of the adoption of compulsory military service for reinforcements for the Canadian forces in France. Only civilians are being invited to sign the message.

OTTAWA, June 24.—The prime minister received the following cablegram from Gen. Sir Arthur Currie in response to Sir Robert Borden's message of congratulation, sent last week, on Gen. Currie's appointment to the command of the Canadian army corps:

"I sincerely appreciate and am deeply grateful for the kind message of congratulation from myself and colleagues. My pride in commanding the Canadian corps is surpassed only by my determination to serve it in such a manner as will ensure its splendid reputation being maintained and as will merit the approval of my countrymen. I note with special gratification your assurance that the troops in the field can reply upon Canada giving them all necessary support. They have given their blood freely to maintain their nation's honor and now confidently expect that the full fruits of their sacrifices will not be prejudiced. It is an imperative and urgent necessity that steps be immediately taken to insure that sufficient drafts of officers and men are sent from Canada to keep the corps at its full strength."

Vote Unlikely Till Next Week

OTTAWA, June 24.—The debate on the military service measure, it is expected, will last most of the week, and there is a possibility that it will not be possible to take a division until the early part of next week. The number of members who desire to speak is still large. The list includes a large number of French-speaking members on both sides of the house, many of whom will address the house in their own language.

Urged at Saskatoon

SASKATOON, Sask., June 24.—Following a public meeting tonight, a resolution urging conscription was carried on the motion of Donald Maclean and P. E. Mackenzie, Conservative and Liberal candidates, respectively, in provincial elections. The resolution reads:

"Resolved that this meeting urges the conscription of the whole resources of the Dominion in man power and wealth to the winning of the war and pledges itself to support selective conscription to secure the country's maximum effort and earnestly desires that legislation to this end should be enacted at the earliest possible date."

An amendment offered by A. M. Eddy, Labor candidate, called for conscription of wealth first, but was denounced. At one period in the meeting it looked as if a riot would follow, but

ELECTION HELD TO TEST PUBLIC FEELING

Reforms Promised by British Government Chief Planks in Ex-Soldier Candidate's Platform

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LIVERPOOL, June 24.—Lord Stanley, son of the Earl of Derby, and Frank Hughes, an ex-soldier, were nominated yesterday to oppose each other for the vacancy in parliament for the Abercrombie division caused by the elevation of Col. Richard Walmsley, who was created a baron by King George, June 17.

The contest for the seat has assumed the character of a test of public satisfaction with the government.

Mr. Hughes' platform embraces fair treatment for former service men, who, after having been discharged from the army or the navy, now are being reexamined with a view to being incorporated again into the fighting forces; suppression of war profits and the restoration of the workingman's beer. On all of these points the government has promised reforms, but, especially in the industrial districts of the Midlands and the north, there is a demand for immediate action.

CANADIANS TAKE GUNS AND REPULSE ATTACKS

Fighting of Past Week Reviewed—Portion of Trenches Won Consolidated

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, June 24.—The following communication was issued by the Canadian war records office today:

During the last week no infantry actions on a large scale have occurred. Since the extensive raid during the night of June 8-9, the enemy has shown little offensive activity. On the morning of June 12 a Canadian raiding party took possession of four enemy guns near La Coullette. In this enterprise our troops also captured two machine guns, together with a large supply of bombs. Later in the morning of the same day a small party of Canadian infantry attacked and captured an enemy concrete strong point and machine gun positions north of the Souchez river and also a portion of the hostile trench system. These trenches now have been consolidated.

During the early part of the night of June 12-13 the enemy attempted by a counter-attack to retake positions captured from it during the day. Our artillery opened up and the enemy's infantry, who appeared half-shaken by our barrage, was driven back by machine gun and rifle fire.

Our patrols have been active and several minor encounters occurred, in which enemy parties have been dispersed by our machine-gun fire.

During the week hostile artillery fire has been somewhat spasmodic and less active than usual. We have carried out our usual program of harassing by fire, both with artillery and machine-gun fire, the enemy during the night.

Much work has been carried out along the whole Canadian front in connection with the improvement of our front positions and rear and lateral communications.

The weather has been intensely hot during the period under review, thus making life in the trenches extremely trying.

PROVIDES FOR MORE BEER AND SAVES GRAIN MALTED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, June 24.—The temporary relaxation in the existing restrictions on brewing will not provide any additional malting of grain, according to a statement issued by the ministry of food. No barley has been malted, says the statement, since February, and no more will be malted until after the coming harvest. The effect of the contemplated relaxation will be to accelerate the production of beer so as to meet the demands of the approaching harvest time.

Arrangements also have been made for reduction in the specific gravity of beer, thus enabling a larger quantity of light beer to be provided without any corresponding increase in the use of grain already malted.

Had Boils for Six Months

B.B.B. DROVE THEM AWAY

When the blood becomes impure the very first symptoms which manifest themselves are a breaking out of various forms of skin trouble such as boils pimples, sores, etc., and to get rid of these troubles you must cleanse the blood thoroughly with a good blood remedy.

Thousands of people from one end of Canada to the other have used it during the past forty years, and have nothing but words of praise for its cleansing properties.

Mr. Rufus Beers, Upper Main river, N. B., writes: "I want to say a few words about your medicine Burdock Blood Bitters. I had boils for over six months and was sometimes so bad I could not work. I tried lots of cures but nothing would drive them away for good until I took B.B.B. In a short time I was all better. It is a dandy medicine. I keep it in the house all the time."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont., but so well and favorably is it known that there are many imitations on the market. See that our name appears on the wrapper.

Methodists Urge Conscription

HALIFAX, N. S., June 24.—The Methodist conference for Nova Scotia, in session at Spring Hill Saturday, adopted a resolution favoring the conscription without referendum and declaring also for the conscription of the clergy. The resolution reads:

"This conference places itself on record as in favor of selective conscription without any referendum. We also favor the conscription of money and labor, and the nationalization of all our national resources and of our public utilities. We also express our disapproval of any benefit to clergy being extended to the ministers of our own or any other church in this time of national crisis. Our ministers are ready to take their places as men with those of all other professions and to serve wherever our government considers them to be able to render the best national service."

Senator Landry Urges Lawful Methods

MONTREAL, June 24.—Senator Landry, one of the leading figures in the Ontario bilingual controversy, counselled lawful methods in opposition to the government military service act tonight in connection with St. Baptiste day services.

The senator was presented by the St. Jean Baptiste society with a gold medal in recognition of his services to French-Canadians in connection with the bilingual difficulties at Ottawa.

Speaking of conscription Senator Landry remarked that as he was still a senator he advised his hearers to wait for a few days and then they would know how a French-Canadian could vote on that question without fear. He would not only vote but he would give his reasons as well. All he desired to say for the present was to advise all concerned to regard the situation coolly and without waste of energy in demonstrations, and further, whatever was done should be within the law.

"Petition and keep on petitioning," said Senator Landry, "and let the government hear from you in that way."

His closing words were:

"The contest is legal so long as the law is not passed, and when the law is passed there may be other measures to take which it would be unwise at present to reveal."

Suffered With Heart For Ten Years

WOULD NEARLY SMOTHER

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The uncertain and irregular heart action causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Nerve and Heart Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, and tone up the nervous system so that the cause of so much anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wapella, Sask., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I feel that it is only right for me to let you know what your wonderful remedy has done for me, and in a very short time, too. I had suffered terribly with my heart for nearly ten years, could scarcely do any work and would nearly smother at times. I had many remedies, some only relieving me for a time. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt so much better I kept on using them and can truthfully say I feel like a new woman.

'I would advise anyone with heart trouble to use them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont.

ANDERSON AND BAYLEY FIGHT TO A DRAW

Former Makes Much the Better Showing in Bout for Lightweight Championship of Canada

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VICTORIA, June 24.—Referee Davies decided that Joe Bayley and Harry Anderson had fought a drawn battle after 10 rounds at The Willows here Satusday night, advertised as for the lightweight championship of Canada. Bayley was distinctly fortunate in not losing the decision. Anderson had the advantage on points up to the seventh round. It was a case of a boxer against a fighter, and there was too much clinching throughout the contest to make it interesting. Anderson from the seventh round on had it all his own way. Excepting one round, Bayley showed little aggressiveness.

TECUMSEHS GET EASY VICTORY FROM OTTAWAS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, June 24—Tecumsehs defeated Ottawas, 13 to 44 at the Island stadium Saturday. The rain which held the attendance down developed into a downpour before the end of the game. The field was very slippery and the game was, consequently, ragged and uninteresting. The Capitals put in their best efforts, but could not hold the Indians at any stage. Page, in the Ottawa goal, handled many shots despite the baker's dozen that evaded him.

MEETING FAVORS SELECTIVE DRAFT

Cranbrook Speakers Tell of Need for Reinforcements—Will Erect Memorial for Soldiers.

(Special to The Daily News.)

CRANBROOK, June 23.—Five hundred persons attended a public meeting at the auditorium and voted unanimously in favor of conscription. When the vote was taken not one member of the audience registered his opinion against the proposed enactment of compulsory service in Canada. A resolution favoring selective draft conscription as presented by N. A. Wallinger, seconded by Alderman A. A. McKinnon, was carried. A copy was forwarded to Sir Robert Borden, prime minister of Canada.

A. C. Harshaw presided. In opening the meeting the chairman asked the audience to spend two minutes in silent and solemn meditation in memory of the brave heroes who had fallen fighting to preserve the liberties of mankind. He then called upon the audience to sing "Nearer My God to Thee."

The chairman stated that 56 invitations had been sent to the leading citizens, including lady speakers, irrespective of political leanings. He said that the meeting was strictly non-political, and had been called for the purpose of ascertaining the feelings of all classes with regard to the burning question of conscription. Any person wishing to speak for or against would be welcomed on the platform, he said, and given a courteous hearing.

The Rev. Father Macquire, O. M. I., wrote he could not attend, that the teachings of his church were that all must obey those in authority, but did not care to discuss the conscription question before the meeting at the present time.

R. E. Beattie could not attend, but wished to go on record as strongly in favor of conscription.

In moving, seconded by Mrs. John Laurie, a resolution to provide a permanent memorial to the soldiers of East Kootenay, A. E. Watts said that as so many ladies were present with sons and husbands in the fighting line, some of whom had made the supreme sacrifice, and many were wounded, it would be appropriate if one of the mothers would second the resolution. Cranbrook occupied the proud distinction of having sent more volunteers than any other district in proportion to its population, and it is only fitting and proper that those left behind should be willing to pay a tribute of respect and admiration to those fighting our battles. The resolution, which was carried, was:

That this meeting of the citizens of Cranbrook district, wish to show their highest esteem and admiration for the volunteers who have joined the armies fighting for the liberty of mankind, and the oppressed nations of the earth.

It is resolved that the citizens of this district be invited to subscribe to a permanent memorial which will stand through the ages to come to keep the memory of the brave before posterity.

That the proposed memorial shall be a large metal obelisk, that upon one side shall be engraved in relief the Baldwin Locomotive Makes Gain of 6⅝—Coppers Are Also Prominent—Rails Quiet.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, June 23.—Opening on irregular prices on relatively small operations, today's short session soon developed strength in all directions under the guidance of equipments and similar war issues. The only notable exceptions were shippings and Saxon Motor, the latter recording an extreme decline of 8 points to 15 and rallying little more than half of the loss.

Baldwin Locomotive was the strongest feature at a gross gain of 6⅝ points to 72⅞, virtually all of which was retained. American Locomotive rose almost three points and United States Steel rushed forward in the later dealings to 130¾, a gain of over 2 points.

Bethlehem Steel, new shares, Crucible, Gulf States, Midvale steels, Great Northern Ores and Colorado Fuel finished at advances of 1 to 2½ points. Coppers, Oils, Industrial Alcohol and Malting preferred embraced the other prominent and strong issues at variable gains. Rails were unusually quiet, some better known shares failing of actual quotation. Total sales of stock, 320,000 shares.

Unusual heavy dealings in Liberty bonds at par to 100 2-50 helped create more favorable sentiment.

CENTRAL SCHOOL AT ROSSLAND DESTROYED

Fire Brigade Responded Promptly to Alarm But Could Not Save Building

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 24.—At 3:25 Saturday morning a fire broke out at the Central school. The fire department responded promptly, but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a small stove in one of the class rooms. The amount of insurance is only $7500.

Mrs. W. J. Devitt returned Friday evening from a month's visit to the coast.

G. Owen is in the hospital suffering from a cut in his head caused by a piece of partition falling while he was working on a building which he was pulling down.

A delightful time was spent at the closing of Miss Velma Smith's school by the children who have been attending for the past term. They enjoyed all kinds of dainty things to eat and the thing most enjoyed by all was the presentation to their teacher, Miss Smith, of a dozen sterling silver teaspoons.

G. A. Lafferty left Saturday morning for the coast.

(Special to The Daily News.)

FORT STEELE, B. C., June 24.—George Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Crowe of Fort Steele, was recently awarded the Legion of Honor by France for carrying provisions under heavy fire. A few months ago he was awarded the D. C. M. for bravery.

In a letter to his parents he says: "We are in a good, clean, dry camp. It's such a great relief to get out for a few days rest after being in the danger zone for so long. I saw Johnnie last night, also Tommie Chisholm, and a few more of the boys from around Fort Steele. They are camped just a little way from here. Well, mother, you asked me in one of your leters how long the war would last. I have heard many different tales about it, and most all of them wrong. But I do believe that the Germans are getting very tired of it and will soon realize that there is only one way for it all to end and that is victory for the allies. Johnnie says you worry about me. Now don't do it, because I am getting along fine.

'We had a pretty tough time for a while putting Fritz on the run at Vimy ridge."

STOCKS

In order that we may be better able to attend to our clients' interests we will endeavor from now on to get from New York daily the "high," "low" and closing prices on the more active stocks dealt in by our clients.

This may probably mean cutting from our present list some of those we are now carrying.

We believe that with the resumption of work at the coal mines that local stocks should advance.

We believe that this is a good time to buy.

WHEAT VALUES GO UPWARD AT CHICAGO

Improved Conditions Regarding Vessel Room Available For Shipments Cause Advance

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, June 23.—Improved conditions as to the amount of the vessel room available for shipments to Europe helped to lift wheat values today. The market closed firm, 3 to 4 cents net higher, with July at $2.14 and September at $1.84. Oats closed ¼ to ½ lower and provisions ranged from 10 cents decline to a rise of 20 cents.

It took but little buying to bring about advances in the wheat market. The fact that offerings of the new crop were for the most part somewhat above the current level of prices gave advantage to the bulls. It was said also that Canadian holders were firm. In addition to reports of an easier outlook for a sufficiency of ocean tonnage, the encouragement to purchase came from official predictions of an unexpectedly small crop in Kansas. A leading expert here, however, who has just returned from a tour of that state, expressed ridicule for the Kansas report both as to acreage and yield.

TRADING IN STOCKS IS STILL DULL AT TORONTO

Steamships Common the Most Prominent Issue—Steel Issues Are Irregular

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, June 23.—The local stock market had an inactive short session today, with but few features and with the aggregate trading small. Steamships common was the most active stock with a turnover of 318 shares. It regained ⅝ of its loss of Friday, rising to 44⅝ and closing at the high. The steel stocks were irregular. Steel of Canada opened at 58¾ or unchanged, but on subsequent dealings the price yielded to 58⅜. Iron, on the other hand, advanced ¼ to 62⅛.

In the bond section the third war loan was most active and the low point of 93¾ was again reached. Total sales of the third issue amounted to $17,000 par value.

ACTIVITY CONFINED TO FEW STOCKS AT MONTREAL

Slight Gain Made by Dominion Iron—Civic Power is Also in Fair Demand.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, June 23. — Stocks were influenced to but a slight degree by the rise in industrial issues at New York today. The undertone of the market was good with fractional improvement in the few leaders like Steamship common, Iron, Scotia Steel and Cement, but business was again quiet and the market lacked breadth. Iron took rank as the most active stock, with a turnover of about 700 shares, on which the price rose ½ to 62¼ and closed at the best. Next to Iron, Civic Power was the most active stock, with only 200 shares changing hands, and the price was unchanged at 76. Cement was quiet but ¾ higher at 63, and Scotia Steel closed 99¼ bid against 98 on Friday.

The rest of the business was quite featureless. Detroit, Brompton, Canadian Car, Macdonald and Steel of Canada were unchanged in price on a nominal volume of business. Dominion Bridge sold at 125, against the year's lowest quotation of 127. The stock has almost disappeared from the list, and the nominal character of the market at the present time is shown in the wide spread of quotations on Saturday, 125 bid, 140 asked. The third war loan fell ¼ to 93½ on Saturday, total sales, par value, $52,800.

"FRATERNIZING" APPEARS TO BE AT AN END

There are many signs of an awakening of activity on the Russian fronts. The indications are that the armies on both sides are feeling their way in preparation for an offensive or to discover if the opposing forces are about to attack.

"Fraternizing"—the insidious game by which the Germans hoped to break down the Russian fighting spirit—is at an end. For some days the Russian reports have shown that any enemy patrols which have approached their lines have been given a hot reception, while Russian patrols which have gone out into no man's land have been on stern business bent.

On the Caucasian front it is improbable that much fraternizing between the Russians and Turks has occurred. Russian troops in that region have been distant from the influence of the extremists at home and for centuries there has been little but enmity between the Muscovite and the Turk. Yesterday's report shows that engagements between advance forces have occurred in this area. Fighting on a large scale is likely to be resumed in the Caucasus earlier than on the main front.

THAT MUCH-DISCUSSED MINING BILL.

When Hon. William Sloan's mining bill was before the legislature The Daily News pointed out some of its weaknesses and dangers. Some were inherent in the very principle of the bill, others were matters of detail. Similar criticisms were made by mining men all over the province, and especially by the prospectors the bill purported to aid.

Now, according to a report of a Trail meeting addressed last week by Mr. Sloan and J. E. W. Thompson, M.P.P., these criticisms were "answered" by the rather childish expedient of charging The Daily News with misrepresentation. That charge is not true. In not one single instance was the bill misrepresented by this paper.

If any evidence of that were required it lies in the fact that in consequence of the criticisms towhich objection is now taken by Mr. Sloan and Mr. Thompson, many changes were made by the government with the object of removing the ground for criticism. In some cases the amendments tended toward making the bill less dangerous to the industry. The "blue sky" provision, for example, originally would have permitted an engineer to block any deal between any parties if he did not like the terms. Now interference can only come in cases when stock is being sold on deliberate misrepresentation. That was an improvement in the bill that was brought about as a direct result of criticism.

Then there is the case of diamond drilling on properties without the consent of the owner. Defenders of the bill say that this can only be done with the approval of the minister. That does not alter in the slightest degree the fact that under this bill a debt of $10,000 or $15,000 or $25,000 can be charged against the property without the consent of the owner. When this is pointed out the minister says that anyway he intends this to apply to the iron regions at the coast. If that is so, why should the clause be in general terms covering the whole province? The provision is in the bill and as long as it remains there—even if the minister now intends it to be a dead letter law except at the coast—it will have the effect of making prospective investors afraid that the government may step on to their properties and pile up big diamond drilling charges against them without their consent. It should be repealed or amended to say what the minister now says he intends it to mean.

SLOW WORK BUT SURE ON THE WESTERN FRONT

Thoroughly organized attacks by the entente troops on the western front are meeting almost invariably with complate success. Equally thoroughly organized German attacks are failing to achieve any but minor successes and any ground gained in this way is soon retaken by means of entente counter-attacks.

It is slow work and about it there is still more of the strategy of attrition than of deliberate attempt to drive forward quickly into Germany. But the battles which are being fought by Gen. Nivelle and Gen. Haig are far more costly to the Germans and far less costly to the allies than would be a general assault designed to sweep the enemy back over his own border. And they are infinitely safer.

Nevertheless, the Germans are almost daily being thrown a little nearer to their own territory. When the entente guns finally begin to batter German towns and destroy German property the Hun will be very much more inclined to accept peace terms which will guarantee the preservation of freedom in the world than he is today.

SEEMS RATHER CONFUSED

E. W. Nesbitt of North Oxford seems rather confused in his views on taxation of wealth. Speaking on May 15 last he said that Sir Thomas White's tax on profits was so heavy that "if his aim is to stop big business in Canada he is going the right way about it." Speaking last Friday Mr. Nesbitt said that he would vote for conscription on the second reading but would reserve the right to oppose it on the third reading unless the government brought down in conjunction with the conscription measure a bill for the further taxation of wealth.

War taxes are very properly being levied by the government most heavily on those who are best able to pay them, and Sir Thomas White, in his plan of continuing and expanding that policy to meet war financial needs is following the right course.. But Mr. Nesbitt in givin gthis conditional support to conscription leaves open a back door through which he can vote against conscription later by merely saying that he does not like the details of the government's policy of taxation, which he has already criticised on the ground that it takes too much from "big business." Taxation questions are a legitimate subject for discussion, but they should not be used as a means of confusing the issue as to whether Canada is going to reinforce its soldiers at the front or desert them.

TWO BRITISH COLUMBIA MEN GO TO THE SENATE

L. W. Shatford, member for Similkameen in the provincial legislature, and A. E. Planta of Nanaimo have been called to fill British Columbia vacancies in the senate.

Mr. Shatford is well known in the interior of the province and at Vancouver. He has represented Similkameen since 1903. A level-headed business man, Mr. Shatford is experienced in public life has a knowledge of British Columbia and Canadian affairs that will prove invaluable in the work to which he has been called.

Mr. Planta has served something like 15 terms as mayor or alderman of Nanaimo and is one of the best known residents of Vancouver island. He has been prominent in public affairs for many years and is an ex-president of the British Columbia Union of Municipalities.

In Senator Planta and Senator Shatford, British Columbia will have two strong representatives in the upper house and in the broader Canadian questions which are the chief matters that have to be dealt with at Ottawa they will prove to be sturdy upholders of policies that make for the maintenance and strengthening of the imperial connection and development of the Dominion along sound lines.

Russia is in greater need today of organizers of statesmen.

It is a pity that Sinn Feiners, who apparently want a separate peace for Ireland, could not be given a taste of German rule.

"Transition" ministry is a good name for the governments which are being formed every other day or so in Austria.

The first business of the house of commons at Ottawa is to put through the conscription bill and it is satisfactory to note that nothing else is being allowed to interfere with it.

Winston Spencer Churchill's suggestion that battleship and cruisers might be used for carrying supplies looks roseate, if his plan is confined to vessels which might not be needed if the German navy crawled out of its hole.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING.

Call U. S. Soldiers "Sammies."

A day or two ago you seemed to be in a quandary as to the name for the American soldier. We canont well call him Yankee John or Johnny Yank, so why not compromise on "Sammy," for Uncle Sam? Then we'll have the British Tommy, the French Polly and the American "Sammy."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Strike Soldier Off List.

Will the politics of Manitoba never lose that bitterness which has been responsible for so many rough-and-tumble political battles in that province? It does not seem so, even the war appearing to have no perceptible effect on the politicians. Col. Bradbury, Conservative M. P. for Selkirk, is absent from the country on military duty, and at the revision of the voters' lists at Selkirk, the other day, his name was objected to by the Liberals on the ground that he is an "absentee" and it was struck off. Surely that is not "playing the game."—Calgary News-Telegram.

SHALL CANADA GO ON FIGHTING?

It is an insult to the honor and to the self-respect of the Canadian people to suggest that a referendum is necessary to decide whether they are prepared to continue this war. Yet that is what the proposal put before the Ottawa house of commons amounts to in plain language.

Either Canada is in this war to win it or she is in it to desert her allies at the most critical moment. If she is in the war to win it she must fight. If she must fight she must have men. If some of her men will not do the duty which the dictates of humanity and the very basis of their citizenship impose on them they must be compelled by the state to whom their allegiance is due.

To suggest that instead of this compulsion being exercised the same citizens who ignore their duty should be asked to decide whether they will perform it or not is a proposal which only an opportunist in politics playing a party game to the exclusion of the national interest would consider for a moment.

There are 760,000 men, single men, in this Dominion, most of whom presumably have had no urgings to fight the Evil Beast that has wrecked and ruined the homes of innocent people, sent millions to the tomb and committed every barbarity that science united with ruthless cruelty can devise. These are to be invited to say whether they will remain at home in comfort while the lion-hearted of the nation fight on day by day in dust and mud and blood and unimaginable beastlinesses, with the Gate of Death ever yawning to receive them—fight on that we here in Canada may be saved from scathe and even from discomfort.

Canada's little army—for compared with the millions of Britain and France our Canadian army is a little one—this little army is to go on bearing the burden of the war daily decreasing in numbers, daily adding to the white wooden crosses that fill the quiet cemeteries of France in such terrible numbers, its members are to continue going from hospital to trench with wounds new-healed, doing double spells of duty with bitterness in their hearts because they believe their brethren at home have forgotten them—this little army is to be left to live or die without help or reinforcement because party politicians who should be leaders of the people, think they see how delays and procrastinations and referenda may be turned to partizan account.

The spectacle is deplorable. It is one that no true Canadian can contemplate without asking himself: "Are these the men who less than three years ago talked glibly of the 'last man and last dollar' from Canada—are these the same men who when now asked to give 100,000 men out of 760,000 say, 'We must see what the slackers themselves think about it.'"

Happily the conscience and honor of Canada are not in the keeping of her politicians but in that of her noble sons who daily face German shells yonder in that inferno beyond Arras. When they are asked to move forward to support their hard-pressed comrades they do not say, "Let us take a referendum on it." They go and do their duty. And the people of Canada, we know, will not be less ready to do their duty also. They have already made clear by every means open to them that they want conscription and that they want it at once. The best of all parties and of none have spoken with no uncertain voice. Those who speak otherwise are seeking to seduce Canada from her duty and if the people of Canada are given the opportunity of pronouncing on such conduct they will know what to do.—Vancouver World.

PRICES OF FOOD IN BRITAIN DISCUSSED

NEWCASTLE, England.—At a special meeting convened by the Newcastle labor representations committee and the war emergency workers' national committee, the food question was under consideration. David Adams, Newcastle, presided. A long resolution was moved by Walter Hudson, M. P., urging the government to purchase all essential imported foodstuffs, and to control home-grown foods. It was also advocated ,that these supplies should be placed on the retail market at prices which would secure to the consumer the full benefit of government action; that the sale of foodstuffs should be regulated on a family basis, and that bread and flour should be sold at prices not exceeding 6d. per quartern loaf, any loss being borne by the government. The resolution also called for the commandeering of ships and the control of all transport facilities, the institution of central food control committees, and setting up of food vigilance committees by labor organizations. Two years ago, Mr. Hudson said, they had demanded that the government should provide for the proper feeding of the citizens. Instead, however, doles in wages of war bonuses had been given, but that had not helped the position, as after each dole prices jumped up and left the position worse than before. What they wanted was a reasonable price for bread, so that it would insure to the poorest an equal opportunity with the rich of buying it. Mr. Hudson also urged the necessity for an adequate supply of food for industrial workers.

Robert Smillie, president of the Miners' federation, who spoke in support of the resolution, saida deputation had recently discussed with Mr. Kennedy Jones, among other things, the question of municipal kitchens, the potato supply and sugar distribution, but in the six weeks that had since passed, nothing had been done in the matter. Not only must they have control of necessaries, Mr. Smillie continued, but they must own the land which produced them. They had no intention of seeing the rich have plenty while the poor starved. The government, he said, could be moved if the people showed themselves united; but, he added, if it could not be moved, why not do what the Russian people had done? The Russian revolution was brought about by an official shortage of food, and he did not believe the people of Great Britain were prepared to see their children starve while there was food in the country.

After some discussion the resolution was passed.

"How's your garden getting along?"
"Not at all well. The missus has quit working in it entirely."

RETURNED SOLDIERS ARE LEARNING TO FARM

While Private Citizen Smith and Private Citizen Brown are discussing and wondering "whether the returned soldier will go in for farming," Private Soldier Smith and Private Soldier Brown are—doing it.

Not till the able-bodied men return can be told how many soldiers are likely to take up land and farm it. The chances are that the number will be large, if the men are convinced that the schemes for helping them will be so developed and worked as to offer a clear hope of success.

A census is now being taken among Canadian soldiers overseas, and on this it should be possible to base an estimate of the number of agriculturally inclined. The card issued for the purpose by the national service commission includes spaces to be filled up with each man's name, age, unit and rank, regimental number, post office address before enlistment, and province. Each soldier is then asked to answer the following questions:

"Which are you, married, single or widower?"

"Name ahd address of last employer before you enlisted?"

"How many dependents have you? State relationship, sex and age of each."

"What were you working at?"

"Have you a trade or profession? If so, what?"

"Is your old position open to you on your return to Canada in fit condition?"

"Do you wish to take your discharge in Great Britain?"

"Do you propose to make your home in Canada after the war?"

"Do you wish to take up farming as an occupation?"

"Have you ever worked on a farm? If so, how long?"

"How much money do you expect to have at your disposal on your return to Canada?"

"Do you desire to take advantage of any available scheme of assisted agricultural settlement?"

"If so, what province do you prefer to settle in?"

"And would you, if necessary to gain experience, work for prevailing wages on a farm after your return, providing your dependents were in the meanwhile given the same support as they now receive?"

Meanwhile, the men already back among us are those who have been invalided home. Men recovering from an illness, or disabled seriously enough to prevent their return to the firing line, do not at first feel like taking up the strenuous life of a farm,

Nevertheless, the vanguard of the military farming force is already on the spot. Several months ago, four returned soldiers in Alberta enrolled provincial agricultural schools, at Vermilion. Today, the records of the military hospitals commission show that 75 men have had their applications granted for agricultural training, besides several passed by the disabled soldiers' training boards and awaiting the commission's approval. Of these 75, as many as 37 are in Alberta, 22 in Saskatchewan, 14 in Manitoba and the other two in British Columbia. A considerable proportion are specializing in farm mechanics.

The training board, it may be explained, consists of a vocational officer, a medical officer, and a third member, generally representing the provincial commission established to help returned soldiers in finding employment. When a man is found unable, owing to any effect of his service, to take up his former occupation, he may claim the privileges of the government's reeducation scheme. That is, he is entitled to receive free training for a new occupation, along with free maintenance for himself and his family while the training lasts, and for a month longer.

The number of returned men who have gone out on the land independently is unknown, but is probably large. For instance, the Medicine Hat branch of the Alberta provincial commission sends the names of 11 returned soldiers in that district alone, who are known to have taken up agriculture. Their nominal disabilities are most varied. Two suffer from shell shock; one has defective eyesight; one is short of two fingers. Three, including a man with one hand, are at work on their respective fathers' farms, and a fourth has gone to the farm of another relation. Three have homesteads of their own. One of these, by the way, intends taking a course of instruction in gas traction engineering presently. Three men are working for other farmers; and one has taken up fruit and chicken farming in British Columbia.

A similar story, doubtless, might be told of many other districts.

To provide for the increasing number of returned soldiers desiring an agricultural training, the government of Alberta has arranged to keep one of the provincial schools of agriculture in operation throughout the year. In the ordinary course these schools are closed from April 1 to November 1.

The school chosen is situated at Olds, 58 miles north of Calgary, on the Edmonton line. There the men will receive twelve months' instruction, with the option of taking it either continuously for a summer and a winter, or in two winter courses separated by an interval which they can spend on a farm.

In Saskatchewan, the commission has made arrangements by which the returned men will be trained at the agricultural college of the provincial university at Saskatoon. Courses of instruction, shorter and more intensive than those provided for ordinary students, have been planned for the ex-soldiers.

In Manitoba, the military hospitals commission has taken over the old agricultural college at Winnipeg. There soldiers will be able to get instruction and practise in many branches of land work.

Poultry-raising will probably be taken up on a large scale there with the cooperation of the Produce Association of Canada. A deputation from that body visited the commission in Ottawa the other day and pointed out that there was a considerable field for partly disabled men at the marketing end of the business—for example, in egg testing and grading, and in the grading and packing of poultry.

The old college at Winnipeg is equipped with greenhouses, for winter gardening. There is also a machinery hall, 100 feet square, where men will be taught to use and repair farm machinery of all kinds. Men thus qualified are in great demand, especially in the west, where tractor farming has been developed on the largest scale. Winnipeg representatives of big implement houses are cooperating in the work of instruction by the free loan of tractors, threshing machines, gasoline, engines and other modern farm appliances.

The great reeducation centre for Ontario, at Guelph, just taken over as a going concern by the military hospitals commission from the provincial government, is fully equipped for the most thorough agricultural training. The property covers 850 acres, nearly all available for this use and a great proportion of it already under cultivation. There is a large greenhouse for gardening under glass; a model dairy barn; up-to-date machinery, and live stock of all kinds complete the equipment for animal husbandry.

THE COLONIAL POTATO

Marcus C. Pettingell, a veteran expressman of Danvers, while confined to his home recently, dug into the history of the potato in Essex county and learned some very interesting facts.

According to his research the first potatoes were raised in an Andover garden by Nathaniel Walker in 1719. In 1732 he found that a half bushel of potatoes was worth six shillings.

The general introduction was slow, and as late as 1750 any person raising as many as five bushels was the subject of general inquiry as to how he could dispose of such a quantity.—Boston Post.

CANADA, NOW AND FOREVER, ONE AND INDIVISIBLE

Canada is in the British Empire to stay.

Quebec is in Canada to stay.

The British Empire is not going to be disrupted.

Confederation is not going to be smashed.

Canadians of French origin should not listen to Le Croix or any other journal that writes nonsense about taking Quebec out of confederation.

The only way that any Canadian province will ever get out of its place in the national unity of the Canadian peoples is to fight its way out.

Quebec, of all provinces, is most vulnerable to sea power. Quebec would have to buy a navy and organize an army if Quebec undertook to withdraw from confederation. Quebec could fulfil all of Quebec's obligations as part of the Canadian nation at a much smaller outlay of blood and treasure than Quebec would have to expend in an attempt to establish Quebec's status as a community apart from the Canadian nation.—Toronto Telegram.

"Well, Rastus, I hear you are working again. What business are you engaged in?"

"I'se done be engaged in de mining business, sah."

"What kind of mining are you doing, gold, silver or diamond?"

"I'se doing kalsomining, sah."

"How is your wife making out with those onions she is rising in a flower pot?"

"They're drooping. Stirring the soil with a hairpin was all very well, but I don't think perfume from an atomizer is the sort of irrigation they need."

"There's a man planting potatoes," said Farmer Corntossel, "when he ought to be playin' golf."

"You don't approve of gardening?"

'Yes, I do. But if he'd go ahead and play golf he wouldn't be spoilin' good potatoes that somebody could use."

names of all who have died for their country, on one side the names of the wounded on other sides the names of all who have volunteered.

That the names of all subscribers shall be published, a list shall be engraved in parchment and deposited in the marble crypt.

Endorses Selective Draft.

M. A. Beall stated he believed wholeheartedly in selective conscription as the only adequate means whereby the forces at the front could be maintained at full strength. He thought the measure should not be mixed up in party politics because the safety and good name of the nation was of vastly greater importance than the safety and good name of any political party.

He said it was sometimes heard that this was not Canada's war. He hoped there were not many in Cranbrook who held that view although he knew of some. The belief was also held by many that we were merely helping the mother country, doing our bit to support her as part of the British Empire. He pointed out that the original plan of the German campaign contradicted this view—that this plan of campaign had been under preparation for over forty years and they had figured on not one chance in a hundred of its being defeated, but they had miscalculated on four chances—the stubborn defense of Belgium, the declaration of war by England, the unexpected determination of the dominions across the seas to stick to the mother land, and the indomitable courage of the "contemptible little army" in which Canada had played so brave a part. He then briefly reviewed the plan of campaign, the seizure of Paris and defeat of France before the Russian armies had time to fully mobilize, followed by the crippling of Russia so as to put her out of the running and then the attack on England, after which the main aim and object of the German campaign—colonial expansion—and Canada was one of the big plums they were after. How, then, could it be said this is not Canada's war? It was as much Canada's as England's war and the freedom and security we were today enjoying was due to the unexampled bravery of our lads at the front.

He did not believe there was a single anti-conscriptionist of any intelligence who deep down in the bottom of his heart did not feel that conscription was the only adequate means by which those brave lads could receive the support they were asking for.

B. E. Howard said: I am strongly in favor of conscription. I believe the whole west is, and you do not need any exhortation from me. But in the east only the non-conscriptionists are holding meetings to express their views and it is time conscriptionists did some of the talking. I am not a partizan, but such few votes as I have cast happen to be Liberal.

Cites Examples of Allies

After encouraging men to enlist all over Canada, it is not the intention now to go down in history as deserters, said Mr. Wallinger. This would certainly be the case if we allowed any effort on our part (after promising every man and dollar) to support the men at the front, to fail because we were afraid to enforce selective conscription.

"The arguments against conscription, such as disturbance of business, farming and other affairs hold very little fact when we take into consideration what France, England and their allies, and even the central empires have done.

"Are the Canadian women one whit behind their sisters of other countries. No! Canada has gained a reputation that is wholly admirable in this war; does she really desire to lose all this by a paltry, miserable political shuffle that will properly deserve the opprobrium and curses of history."

Mrs. Annie M. Laurie said, "that whilst she always had a horror of conscription, the time has come when Canada must have it if the war is to be won, and believed it would work perfectly if wise exemptions were made.

"There are plenty of men in Canada who can easily be spared, who would never volunteer. They think it is not Canada's war. 'Wake up, men,' it is very much Canada's war although it is being fought on the field in Flanders. Thanks to those brave souls who kept the enemy at bay until England could get her army across the channel."

A. E. Watts said: "The answer of the people to the question of selective conscription will have a far greater influence on the future destiny of Canada than is generally imagined, if the slackers, traitors and their followers have their way the prestige of Canada will be gone for ever, Canada will stand alone in degraded isolation amongst the civilized nations of the world, a defaulter in her duty to humanity, a shameless betrayer of her sons who have won for her a brilliant fame not equalled in history, ancient or modern. Are we to barter that fame for shame and disgrace?

"Will the people permit the infamous betrayal of the boys at the front at the instigation of the traitors of Quebec and their supporters who declare they are ready to betray and even fight the saviors and protectors of their motherland, France. Is Canada to be dominated by such paltroons? Are the people of this Dominion to be the slaves of such black hearts? Can we forgive the once eminent politicians who pander to such ingrates who forget their land of birth."

Call for Men Imperative

Dr. F. W. Green, dwelt briefly on causes of the war. He could not say that the voluntary system of recruiting in Canada had been a failure, but the call for men to carry the war to a victorious end having passed all estimation, it seemed the only solution to obtain men to fill the gaps was that the situation should be studied by a body of men which could determine what industries were essential only and what men could be spared. Cranbrook district had enlisted over 1000 men from all callings—railroad, mining, lumbering and civilian—and these were the men that were asking for assistance.

Lieut. W. S. Santo said he was pleased to have the opportunity of expressing his views on the greatest question of the day—conscription—before the people and noted that no part of the press even published a valid reason or excuse why conscription should not be enforced. At this critical period, why do the people wish to wait until it is too late or to be forced to render their services? Whilst Canada has done much she will not have done her duty until the last man has responded to the call. As a soldier beyond military age for active service, I am willing to place myself in whatever capacity I am capable to fulfil in defense of my country.

Alderman A. A. Mackinnon briefly addressed the meeting and expressed himself in favor of conscription.

Mrs. I. Baxter said that although she had not prepared a speech she was anxious to express herself strongly in favor of conscription.

Charles A. Cock said that until recently he had been strongly opposed to the idea of conscription and had hoped it would not be needed, but when voluntary enlistment fails there is no other course open. The blood of men, many of whom we knew, whose spirit pervaded this hall in which we are sitting, and thousands of others from all over the Empire called aloud for conscription that the sacrifice they have made may not be in vain, upon this may rest the winning or losing of the war.

J. F. Hutcheroft said he would like to state that there was no necessity for a new conscription law as one was already in force in Canada which was quite sufficient, that the people of Quebec were loyal to Canada and it was not right to criticize them in the manner which had been done by some speakers, that it was understood that those who preached conscription did not want to go themselves, and further that the meeting had been called to consider conscription and not memorials to soldiers, most of the talk had not been about conscription.

Dr. Green, in reply, said that the speaker was wrong in his remarks about those speaking in favor of conscription not being willing to go. To his personal knowledge several speakers on that platform had volunteered and were anxious to go, but being physically unfit they were not accepted and he himself was waiting for the call and was ready to go.

WHAT ITALIAN SOLDIERS HAVE DONE IN ALBANIA

ROME.—Signor Eugenic Chiesa, a member of the Italian chamber, has on his return from Macedonia, made some interesting statements on the condition and efficiency of the Italian troops in that country and on the policy which Italy is following in those regions. Little news has been heard up until now about these troops as the post to Macedonia has been running only every 25 days. The Italian navy, said Signor Chiesa, had done great things at Valona, at Santi Quaranta and at Corfu. The air service both in Macedonia and Albania had done wonders. In Albania the cavalry had carried through some brilliant raids and the occupation of the large region now controlled by the Italians had been successfully begun. The army had built roads, bridges and all kinds of constructive works. In Albania a network of roads of over 400 kilometres in length had been made and 125 schools had been opened. The most important work of all was construction of a highroad, which by way of Santi Quaranta, Delvina, Leriscovic, Erzeke, Koritza and Florina connected the army of the East with the Adriatic. Florina can now be reached in two days by motor from Santi Quaranta. All food for the Italian troops in the Balkan peninsula comes from Italy with the exception of meat, which is furnished by England and distributed to all the troops in the Macedonian army by the French. The Albanians, particularly the Mohammedans, are on good terms with the Italians and a certain number of Albanians are working under Italian officers to help the regular troops in policing the district, this measure having been made particularly necessary by the fact that bands of marauders have been organized by Austria under Austrian officers.

Signor Chiesa was very favorably impressed with the morale, the discipline, vigor and powers of endurance shown by the Italian troops and by the excellent relations which existed between them and the rest of the allied army. Gen. Sarrail, Gen. Gilman and the Prince of Serbia all spoke in the highest terms of the ability of the Italian officers and of the courage and steadiness of the men. Signor Chiesa noted that the Italian soldiers and the reconstituted Serbian army were on especially good terms. In Saloniki Italian elementary, higher and commercial schools have been established and branches of the Dante Aligrieri society, a Society of Mutual benefit and a chamber of commerce are being formed. The only thing which Signor Chiesa deplored was the state of Italian exchange, the Italian lire being only worth three-quarters of its free value in Saloniki. An Italian postoffice has been opened at Corfu and it was hoped that a more frequent communication with Italy might be established, so that the soldiers might be more in touch with their own country.

The Idea Naxionale, commenting on Signor Chiesa's journey, says that if more democratic members of parliament would follow his example they might have a democracy in Italy which would not measure the universe from the point of view of its own narrow experience and prejudice, but more competently from an acquaintance with real facts. One good thing which will result from the war, says the same paper, is that they will have in Italy, as in France, England and America, a democracy which knows something of international questions in their own history.

W. P. Freeman, supervisor of the soldiers of the soil camp at Creston, has returned from a visit to Creston, where he was engaged in completing terms of contracts by which the boys will be engaged as harvesters of the fruit crops.

LARGE WILDFLOWER EXHIBIT EXPECTED

The rose show committee states that a large showing of wildflowers collected by children is expected at the show this year. The flowers will be exhibited in bunches and must be ticketed with cards bearing the botanical and common names.

QUITS INSPECTORATE FOR BUSINESS LIFE

To accept a position as manager of a Vancouver fruit firm, R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturist, has resigned his position in the department of agriculture. He will sever his connection with the department with which he has been connected in his present position since February, 1909, on July 7.

Hon. John Oliver, minister of agriculture, in accepting the resignation, expressed his feeling of personal regret and his best wishes for Mr. Winslow's nature.

Mr. Winslow is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural college, Guelph, Ont., and to his work here he brought a thorough training and knowledge of the fruit growing industry. For the past year he has held the office of the chief inspector of fruit pests in an efficient manner, and since 1910 he has been the secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' association, in which capacity he has done a great work on behalf of the fruit growers of the province. The fact that Mr. Winslow will be connected with the organization of fruit distributors will be appreciated by the growers, as his knowledge of conditions in this province will be valuable alike to his principles and to the growers.

WRITE OTTAWA FOR YOUR COAL

Large Users Should Furnish Details of Requirements to Fuel Controller Magrath

OTTAWA.—C. A. Magrath, controller of Canadian fuel supply, has returned from Washington, where he has been consulting with the American fuel controller, Mr. Peabody. Mr. Magrath says that the American authorities are dealing with the fuel situation in the thorough manner in which the difficult problem requires. They have opened a bureau and obtained the services of mining and transportation authorities.

Mr. Magrath states that at Washington he found a friendly feeling for Canada and a disposition to deal fairly with the Dominion in the matter of fuel. Mr. Magrath does not think that Canada will have any great difficulty in obtaining the quantity of anthracite required, if the transportation companies are able to distribute it promptly to the points in the Dominion where it is required.

The supplying of bituminous coal presents a more difficult problem. The shortage of Montreal's supply from Nova Scotia, and the curtailment of the production in Western Canada due to labor troubles have made it necessary for this country to draw more largely on the United States than last year. While production in the United States has not materially declined, the demand there has increased.

Mr. Magrath says that he needs immediately a precise statement of the bituminous requirements of Canada for the coming winter. He desires every Canadian consumer of bituminous coal to immediately write him at Ottawa stating the quantity of coal he has been consuming and the quantity he will require during this summer and the coming winter. Total quantities and the monthly requirements should be stated.

Any consumer who wants to ensure his supply is advised to state his requirements without delay and state them accurately and honestly.

HOW ITALY DEALS WITH FOOD PROBLEM

PARIS—The Journal publishes an interview which a representative of their paper has had with Signor Canepa, the Italian minister for food control during his visit to Paris.

Signor Canepa stated that they, in Italy, had already been confronted, in a more acute form, with all the economic difficulties which France was experiencing. It had rested with his department to decide what measures should be taken to overcome these conditions. Two months ago he had instituted two meatless days in the week, and at the same time had ordered that only 50 per cent of the normal consumption of meat should be allowed in each commune. He thought it probable, said Signor Canepa, that it would be necessary to introduce flour composed of a mixture of wheat, maize and rice. Sugar had been rationed, and the daily allowance per head of the population fixed at 15 grammes. Each commune had been left free to arrange the details of the distribution for itself. The manufacture of all kinds of pastry, jams and biscuits that contained sugar had been forbidden. All these decisions had been arrived at, said Signor Canepa, after the most careful study of every aspect of the problem which had to be solved. He had never, he stated, considered private interests in the slightest degree in the matter. Although it was inevitable that some cases of hardship should arise, the essential thing was to ease the general situation. To rely simply on a system of restriction would be of no use, said the minister. The whole machinery of the economic system had to be dealt with and be brought as near perfection as possible.

He had not hesitated to requisition supplies in certain cases, for instance fats and oils, and the result had been very satisfactory. Sometimes ingenuity could overcome the difficulty caused by the shortage of some article. For instance, they had in Italy since the first of May made sugar mixed with saccharine which had three times the sweetening properties of ordinary sugar. They had lacked coal, but Italy possessed certain lignites, which though less combustible than coal, still were not to be despised. He and his colleagues had themselves taken that matter in hand and overridden the slowmoving methods of the bureaucracy, and in four months the use of lignite the use of lignite had been lignite had been quadrupled. "Action, that is everything," were the words with which Signor Canepa closed the interview.

NEBRASKA GIRLS TO TEACH WOMEN

LINCOLN, Neb.—One hundred and ten of 260 young women in attendance at the state university school of domestic science have volunteered their services free of charge to go out upon the farms and into the small towns of the state to show the women the latest methods of canning and preserving fruit. Canning is regarded as very important because of the part it plays in preventing a food shortage. Training schools will be held in 30 Nebraska towns during the summer at which volunteers in the demonstrating work will be trained.

In all of this teaching of canning only a single simple method that will apply to the preservation of all kinds of fruits and vegetables is being shown. This is the cold-pack method.

J. J. WALKER

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

It is one that every housewife, no matter how limited her equipment, can use. A wash boiler with a false bottom composed of three 10-cent wire trays is all that is necessary for the process. The aim is to teach workable methods, not fancy canning. Most of the 260 girls who attended the school took their lessons in private kitchens or makeshift laboratories, owing to the lack of equipment at the university. Many of them were without previous experience, but after a few trials were able to do the work successfully.

The university extension school will send men through the state into towns where electricity is available for the purpose of teaching women the Gore method of preserving fruits. These men will also hold training schools at various points where others who will volunteer will be instructed. At the experiment station here the method has been thoroughly tested and found to meet all requirements. In the experiments six trays three feet long and 18 inches wide were used, together with an ordinary electrical fan. On the trays were beets, rhubarb, spinach, asparagus and other early garden products. The trays were fitted with wire screen bottoms and one wire screened end. The other end is open. These were placed in stacks, the fruits and vegetables having been previously sliced and strewn in them. The fan was then placed at the end of the pile so that a stream of air constantly plays over the contents.

Prof. C. W. Pugsley, in charge of the experiments, said that the fruits and vegetables yielded up from 85 to 90 per cent of their moisture within 24 hours. Heat applied in drying, as in most processes, causes chemical changes and a consequent loss of flavor. If heat is not used and the product allowed to dry naturally, the nutritive value is greatly lowered and the flavor largely lost.

"Practically all rruits or vegetables may be successfully dried by the Gore method," says Professor Pugsley. "Even the color may be preserved by dipping in a salt solution. When properly dried and rehydrated, it is difficult to tell them, either by looks or taste, from the fresh product. The rehydrating requires a two-hour soaking in water to restore the moisture lost. The trays cost but a trifle and the electrical current charge for a 24-hour run of the fan will range from 5 to 8 cents."
