BRITISH STRIKE SETTLED

AGITATORS BEHIND THE GARY RIOTS

SHERIFF REPORTS THAT SITUATION IS BEYOND HIS CONTROL.

ELEVEN COMPANIES OF THE STATE MILITIA ORDERED OUT

Steel Strike Enters Third Week; Companies to Attempt to Start Plants Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 5.—Sheriff Barnes of Lake county has reported to Governor James P. Goodrich that agitators were inciting the striking steel workers to riot and that the situation was beyond his control on account of being unable to obtain sufficient deputies. He also reported that trouble was developing between negroes and whites.

Governor Goodrich last night ordered 11 companies of state militia to East Chicago and Gary. The troops will have headquarters in East Chicago. They are under command of Adjt. Gen. Harry B. Smith. The governor's action followed an appeal by Sheriff Barnes of Lake county and Mayor Hodges of Gary.

Strike Enters Third Week

PITTSBURG, Oct. 5.—As the steel strike entered upon its third week, the union workers prepared to "dig in" for a siege, while the steel companies arranged to make another attempt to start up idle plants tomorrow. Through page newspaper advertisements and appeals the companies have put forth efforts to get sufficient men back to start up some of the works that have been suspended.

Secretary Foster of the strike committee said he was confident that the companies would fail and that the ranks of the organized men would hold firm.

Preparations to begin operations tomorrow have been made in plants at Weirton, Monnessen, Braddock, Rankin, Sharon and Pittsburg. In some instances companies will not make an attempt to start up until sufficient men indicate their desire to return to work to properly operate the plants.

Strikers are now looking toward Washington for important developments this week.

Tomorrow night the steel workers' national committee will meet with the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to discuss strike finances. The industrial conference called by President Wilson is also scheduled to meet at the national capital.

Rioting on Saturday

GARY, Ind., Oct. 4.—Serious rioting broke out today when thousands of steel strikers and others hurled bricks and stones, fought the police, deputy sheriffs and city firemen, injuring probably scores. The local company of militia was notified by city officials to be ready for duty.

No shots were fired. The fighting spread virtually all over the south part of the city. The hospitals were soon filled with the injured, and the jail, too, was filled with men arrested.

The trouble started when strikers were leaving a union mass meeting. Several thousand strikers who were at the meeting and others on the streets were involved.

The immediate cause of the rioting the first serious disorder here since the strike was called September 22, was the presence of a number of nonstrikers on a street car on their way to the steel mills to work.

Sticks and Stones Fly

The car was halted at Tenth avenus by a passing Michigan Central train. The trikers began to hoot and jeer the men on the car, according to police, and soon sticks and stones began to fly.

The first policemen on the scene were overwhelmed.

Then a second riot call brought the remainder of the police force, about 100 men. These were followed by nearly 500 special policemen, the firemen and between 200 and 300 special deputy sheriffs.

The fighting continued. Men with broken heads, cuts and other injuries were hurried away to the three city hospitals.

The strikers and their sympathizers numbered several thousand, it was estimated, and against such forces the police and special officers were unable to make much headway.

Rain Aids Authorities

A rain aided the authorities in quelling the disturgances and the rioters were finally dispersed. Shortly after 7 o'clock Mayor Hodges issued a statement announcing that the police had control of the situation. At that time 50 men had ben taken into custody.

Incomplete reports to the police showed that 40 to 50 persons had been injured, four of them policemen. None were fatally hurt, according to reports.

At the strikers' meeting preceding the

SUICIDE SUSPECTED OF TWO VANCOUVER MURDERS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 5.—A desperado known in Los Angeles under the name of Nyland, and in Vancouver as Geo. Leaf, who killed himself in Los Angeles last Sunday to avoid capture after a gun fight with the police, has been identified as the man held responsible by the local police for the murder here 13 months ago of Thos. J. Roberts and Harry Eamen, who were shot in a card game. The man's real name is thought to be Lehtenen. Finger prints taken of him in Lethbridge, where he broke jail, and sent on to the Los Angeles police lead to the identification.

AMENDMENTS UP AT WASHINGTON

Final Vote on Peace Treaty Expected Before the First of November

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—With the disposition of the peace treaty expected by November first, congressional leaders are discussing prospects of closing the extra session which began May 19 so as to have a month's rest before the regular December session begins.

The amendment relating to Shauntung is to be taken up tomorrow with a vote expected in a few days. Amendments by Senators Johnson, California, and Moses, New Hampshire, Republicans, to equalize votes of the United States and Great Britain in the league of nations are to follow. Leaders hope that by the middle of next week all amendments will be disposed of. Reservations then will be considered.

President Wilson's illness may have an effect on the treaty situation. It is not expected to cause any substantial delay in considering the pact while the amendments are before the senate, but when reservations are reached the president's counsel is necessary as democratic leaders have not had opportunity to discuss with him what reservations would be acceptable.

Three important bills—for enforcing prohibition, restoring prewar rate making authority of the interstate commerce commission and to penalize hoarding and profiteering—are in position for final enactment by congress this week.

The prohibition enforce conference agreement will be presented to the senate tomorrow. It has been suggested however, that transmission for the bills to the president be deferred until his condition improves. In this connection the possiblty of veto of the interstate commerce commission rate making bill is being discussed.

GERMANS ATTEMPT TO RECALL ARMY

Memorandum Says Pay, Supplies and Munitions to Baltic Troops Have Been Stopped

PARIS, Oct. 5.—(Havas)—Germany has delivered to Gen. Dupont, commander of the inter-allied mission at Berlin, a memorandum declaring that it has recalled Gen. Von Der Goltz, commander of the German troops in the Baltic provinces and Lithuania; has stopped pay, supplies and munitions to the German troops there and is doing everything possible to bring about the withdrawal of the German soldiers in accordance with the demand of the supreme council.

Gen. Von Eberhard has been appointed in place of Gen. Von Der Goltz to take charge of the evacuation. The memorandum insists that Germany has exhaused its means of coercion and requests the appointment of an allied commission to visit the Baltic provinces and verify this fact.

HUGE CORPORATION TO ASSIST EUROPEAN JEWS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Plans to organize a reconstruction corporation capitalized at $10,000,000 to aid in the economic rehabilitation of Jewry abroad, were made at a meeting today of the joint distribution committee of the American fund for Jewish war sufferers. The corporation it was announced, hopes eventually to "restore the Jews in Europe to their former self supporting basis." Pending the formation of the new corporation, the committee decided upon two preliminary steps—the first to appropriate $200,000 for the organization of an express company for forwarding packages to Poland, and the second to appropriate $200,000 for the immediate purchase of food to be sent abroad.

It was announced that there are 5,000,000 Jews in the war stricken countries of eastern Europe who would be in a state of total or partial dependence during the year.

VANCOUVER GREETS GENERAL CURRIE

Sir Arthur Declares Scale of Pensions to Crippled Veterans Needs Adjustment

VANCOUVER, Oct. 5.—Gen. Sir Arthur Currie was yesterday welcomed back to British Columbia with a warmth and enthusiasm, which left him no minute to himself from his arrival in Vancouver at 9 o'clock in the morning until the conclusion of a public ball in the evening in honor of the Canadian commander and all other war veterans here.

The program included: A civic reception, in the course of which Gen. Currie was presented with a silver tea service and an address, and Lady Currie was presented with a silver tea card case from the Women's Canadian Club; an address to the Canadian Club at noon, and a visit to New Westminster, where Sir Arthur saw a lacrosse match between New Westminster and Victoria.

To the Canadian Club Gen. Currie described the part of the Canadians in the last hundred days of the war during which, he said, half of Canada's 64 Victoria Crosses were won. Gen. Currie expressed his delight at being in British Columbia after a five years' absence and closed with an appeal for support of the forthcoming victory loan.

In an interview Gen. Currie declined to express an opinion on the proposed cash bonus for veterans.

"Of course," he said, "the scale of pensions needs adjusting. I have been horrified to find cases of men crippled for life, to a greater or less degree, in receipt of paltry sums which are not anywhere near sufficient to keep them from starvation. These things must and will be changed."

Danger of Forgetting

Quoting Col. A. D. MacRae's great war poem "In Flanders Fields," Gen. Currie, speaking at the Canadian Club Saturday, referred in simple, manly and soldier-like language to the danger which existed of forgetting the debt which Canada owed her soldiers, the dependents of those who had been killed or who had died on active service, and duty in respect to present day conditions.

"The torch which 50,000 Canadian dead have flung to you," declared the commander impressively, "must be caught and held high aloft. If ye break faith with those who sleep in Flanders Fields," he quoted. "Is the full significance of those lines apparent to every Canadian? Canada's heroic dead are today looking into your souls and asking you if you are taking the torch they flung; to care for the dependents and the disabled and to perpetuate that magnificent spirit of Canadianism which shone so gloriously throughout the period of the war. We must fight that selfish, self centred spirit, which I regret to say has insidiously crept into the lives of some of us," said Sir Arthur "and we can do less than hold high as an example of virtue and heroism in our national lives, those who sacrificed themselves to duty that the world might be free. Let us bring up our children on the milk of devotion and sacrifice and teach to them the history of Canadian effort, abounding as it is with the laurels of great accomplishing, or great conquering and noble purposes which sustained itself through a period which has been the darkest the world has ever known."

It was amid a great outburst of cheering that the first soldier of Canada rose to speak, following the brief but meaningful introduction of President Spencer, of the Vancouver branch of the Canadian Club.

GIFTS TO WILSON OF "INSIGNIFICANT" VALUE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Gifts received by President Wilson while in Europe were of "very insignificant" value, Secretary Tumulty said today in announcing that he had prepared and would submit today an answer to the resolution of Representative Robert Emberg, Illinois, asking as to reports that the gifts were valued at $1,000,000.

The most valuable present, Mr. Tumulty said, was a gold casket, which contained a certificate of citizenship from the city of London.

King George gave him a book.

PROVINCE DEEPLY IMPRESSED PRINCE

Says "Goodbye With Much Regret to British Columbia;" Sends Message to Government and People

VICTORIA, Oct. 4.—Telegraphing from Medicine Hat, the Prince of Wales has sent the following message to the Lieutenant Governor:

"To the government and people of British Columbia.

"I am saying good-bye with much regret to British Columbia today, and I wish before I leave to tell the government and people of Canada's far western province what great pleasure my too brief visit has given me. I have long looked forward to seeing this splendid country for myself, and I knew before I came the gallant character of its men, many of whom were comrades of mine at the front.

"I can now say that most sincerely that the the rich experiences of the last 10 days never will be effaced from my memory. I have been enabled to grasp something of the nature of your resources and of the splendid energy with which you are developing your great timber, fishing, mining and agricultural industries.

"I have been deeply impressed with the splendid scenery of the country which, go where one may, makes so constant and irrestible an appeal to the eye and mind. But my strongest and longest memory will be those evidences of generous hospitality, of fine loyalty to British institutions and of inspiring optimism which I met everywhere. With such characteristics I am sure that the people of British Columbia will successfully grapple with and solve the problems with which they are or may at any time be faced.

"I cannot think without emotion of the deep sacrifices which you have made in the terrible ordeal through which our empire has just triumphantly passed. The instant and universal response of your people when the challenge came in 1914 was n t less marked than their valor and skill in the great and bloody test of war. With you I honor the memory of those gallant men whose death for their country's sake has brought mourning to so many homes. I hope and trust, ndeed I feel sure, that the sacrifices and suffering of the dead and of the living will not have been in vain and that British Columbia may ever be a strong and prosperous member of the great Canadian Dominion under the British Crown.

HOUSE SESSION ENDS THIS WEEK

Soldiers' Committtee Expected to Report to House Before Prorogation

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Apart from unexpected developments parliament is almost certain to prorogue on Friday next. Business before the house can be disposed of without much trouble, but matters affecting soldiers' civil re-esablishment are till before a special committee and another special committee will on Monday commence considerati n of the bill providing for the re-classification of the civil service.

It is considered impossible for the committee to deal with the detailed schedules of re-classification and the presumption is that it will pass the general clauses of the bill, approve the classification and leave the working out of any further modifications to the board, which under the direction of Mr. Clarence Jamieson, one of the civil commissioners, has been working on the revision of the classification as it was tabled in the commons toward the end of the regular sesson.

The soldiers' committee is expected to complete the taking of the evidence within three days and makea report to the house before prorogation.

SAYS LABOR LAWS VIOLATED

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—Charges that employers are trying to force them to accept lower wages than the scale fixed by the Manitoba minimum wage act, and that they are also being required to work 11 and 12 hours a day, were made by members of the local cooks' and waiters' union and the matter will be brought before the authorities unless some change is made.

LONG CONFERENCE YESTERDAY ENDS IN A COMPROMISE

SARNIA CITIZENS ARE READY TO EJECT IVENS FROM CITY

SARNIA, Oct. 5—The alleged statement of Rev. Wm. Ivens, of Winnipeg strike prominence, that he would brave the storm of Sarnia citizens by coming here this week, has caused prominent residents to form themselves into a "Citizens Safety Committee," who state that their duty is to prepare for his arrival. At a meeting held Sunday, it was announced that Ivens would not be allowed to speak in Sarnia if there was any way possible to keep him from doing so. Members of the citizens committee stated that they would take matters into their own hands.

WILSON MAY HAVE TO QUIT OFFICE

President's Condition So Serious That He Is Likely to Become An Invalid

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Wilson's illness has cast a deep gloom over Washington, which is intensified by the knowledge that his condition is far more critical than the rest of the country has been led to believe. The first inkling as to the serious nature of his illness came when Dr. F. X. Dercum, noted alienist, was called into consultation. Up to that time there had been a general misunderstanding of the president's ailment except among the newspaper correspondents who were on the western tour and witnessed some incidents which foretold the collapse that came at Pueblo, Col.

From the most reliable sources it is learned that those surrounding Mr. Wilson's bedside feel that his condition is desperate, so extreme, in fact, that no recovery can be expected to progress beyond invalidism. It was said today by one regarded as reflecting the inside of the White House that should Mr. Wilson survive the present illness he will not be able again to take the reins as president.

Showed Irritation at Salt Lake

It was known to his most intimate friends that he had been laboring under great stress for weeks before the breakdown came. The first evidence that the strain was telling came in his speech at Salt Lake City, when he exaibited some feeling over applause given by the audience at the wrong period in his address. This is said to be the first straw the correspondents had that the long struggle was telling.

Mr. Wilson appeared to recognize that his strength was failing and it was about this time that he remarked, when felicitated on his marvelous constitution, that his constitutian had long before been exhausted and that he was living on his bylaws.

This good-natured answer, accepted at the time as a fine example of the president's humor, is now regarded as a bit of pathos giving expression to Mr. Wilson's first realization that his physical and nervous energy was at the verge of collapse, and that the fight in which he had thrown all of his great powers for more than a year must soon be abandoned so far as his own personality was concerned. The record of his tour from the time he left Washington, reflects ever-varying moods. Up to the time he reached Spokane he appeared to be undergoing conflicting emotions. The audiences were not always as large or as enthusiastic as had been expected, and before the middle west had been passed it was seen that the public mind was either indifferent or cynical. It was ascertained that too many of those who turned out to applaud were approving only the principle carried in the league of nations covenant, the number of them favoring some modifications or reservations to the pact in which Mr. Wilson felt such keen pride of authorship.

First Cordial Reception at Spokane

The first reception that struck his party as being wholehearted was at Spokane, and from that time on until the train left Los Angeles to return to the middle west the president was in the finest spirits, except for some depression created by the tragedy at Portland in which one of the newspaper correspondents and a citizen of Portland were killed.

The depression which marked his demeanor before the party reached Spokane seemed to return as the train rumbled on over the long stretch of desert to Salt Lake. There again were recognized the same psychological conditions that were so noticeable in every assembly at the outset of the trip. In Colorado the reception was more than ever lacking in that warm hospitality which was met everywhere along the coast, where residents of the small towns and the canyons turned out after the midnight hour to cheer the presidential train, though it never slowed down, or in

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 5.—With dramatic suddenness in the quiet of the London Sunday afternoon, it was announced that the great railway strike which appeared to have brought the country almost to the brink of revolution, was settled and that the workers would resume work as quickly as possible.

The terms of the settlement are in the nature of a compromise.

The settlement was the result of a long conference today between a trade union delegation, including representatives of the railwaymen's union, Premier Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law.

Prior to this there was a cabinet meeting.

It is conceded on all sides that the settlement is the outcome of the efforts of the executive of the transport workers federation and men like Arthur Henderson and John R. Clynes, who throughout have set their faces steadily against the idea of a sympathetic strike until every possible avenue of mediation had been exhausted.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

First—Work shall be resumed immediately.

Second—Negotiations will be resumed on the understanding that they shall be completed before the end of the year.

Third—Wages will be stabilized at the present level until September 13, 1920, and at any time after August first they may be reviewed in the light of circumstances then existing.

Fourth—No adult railwaymen in Great Britain shall receive less than 51 shillings per week while the cost of living is 110 per cent above the prewar level.

Fifth—The railway union agrees that their men will work harmoniously with the men who returned to work or who remained at work during the strike. Nor shall there be any victimization of strikers.

Sixth—Arrears of wages will be paid on resumption of work.

Loss Estimated at $250,000,000

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Business men are inclined to estimate the total loss to the nation through the strike as approximately £250,000,000 according to the Daily Mail.

The bills to be paid by the government probably will amount to £1,000,000 for each day of the strike.

The loss to industry is far greater; perishable goods in many cases were destroyed, many workers stopped operations, almost all export trade ceased and orders were lost through the uncertainty of conditions.

The railwaymen who were out eight days, spent £300,000 strike pay, the emergency funds of the national union of railwaymen being depleted to that extent.

BELGIAN KING GOES TO BOSTON

Attends Mass Meeting of American War Veterans at New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of the Belgians, with the Crown Prince and other members of the royal party, left here for Boston at 12:01 a. m. today to begin their tour of the United States.

On the eve of his departure for Boston, King Albert last night attended a mass meeting of American war veterans in Madison Square Garden and there received the plaudits of those who themselves had fought on the battle scarred soil of his own country.

Cheered by thousands of young Americans who honored him, not alone for his royal purple, but for the gallantry he had displayed on the field of honor, as well, the King accompanied by Queen Elizabeth and the Belgian Crown Prince entered the great auditorium after 10 o'clock. Twelve wounded service men—four from both the army and marine corps—acted as a guard of honor to the King and sat near him on the platform. Among the speakers were Franklin Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Brand Whitlock, American Ambassador to Belgium, and Col. Henry D. Lindsley, chairman of the Legion National executive committee, who in an address of welcome paid tribue to the feats of valou performed by Belgium and her gallant monarch.

The King arrived at the Garden after attending a dinner given in his honor. At the dinner were diplomats, officers of the army and navy, representatives of the clergy and men prominent in all fields of activity. But there was only one woman present. She was Evangeline Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation Army, invited especially because of the courage and energy of the little band of trained workers she had led across shell torn fields on the very heels of the fighters.

There was a solemn moment when, after a toast had been drunk to the King and three American cheers given for the royal visitor, the monarch arose and proposed a toast to President Wilson, now lying ill in the White House.

Albert Meets Mercier

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—King of the state and Prince of the church, Albert of the Belgians and Cardinal Mercier worshipped today under the vaulted dome of Holy Cross cathedral. The two most heroic figures of the little land which was the earliest prey of Germany, met here for the first time upon the soil of the land which succored them. The towering figure in khaki of Lieutenant General and the venerable prelate in his crimson robes of office, each in his own way, typified a courage which was unconquerable. The one inspired his armies on the field to deeds of valor, while the other kept the faith which lighted the fires of hope in the hearts of a tortured people.

The scene within the cathedral was unique in the annals of the western world. It might have been a reproduction of a medievel painting. The cardinals sat upon their thrones and with them the king, his queen and heir apparent as was their royal right under the laws of the church. As he royal Belgians entered the cathedral o worship at a solemn pontificial high mass, they were met at the communion rail by the primate of their people. Cardinal Mercier greeted them affectionately and then presented them to Cardinal O'Connell of the archdiocese of Boston, who escorted them to the guilded chair upon the left of his throne at the right or epistle side of the altar. Behind them sat the Duke of Brabant. At the left, or gospel side of the altar, was a second crimson throne upon which sat Cardinal Mercier. Cardinal O'Connell read a formal greeting to the Belgians.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Harvard University conferred upon the king the degree of doctor of laws.

'WE MUST GET DOWN TO THRIFT'

Toronto Banker Says His Hope for the Future is in Coming Victory Loan.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—A local banker, discussing the general situation, offered these pertinent comments:

"Nearly all forms of business are prosperous; some of them are buoyant, there is no doubt that people are spending money freely; in fact, I would say rather too freely.

"Business men look at the increased volume of their turnover and see great increases from month to month, but, as a matter of fact, owing to the higher prices, the increase in quantity is not as great as it would appear.

"We must get down to thrift, that is the only thing that will save us.

"My hope is in the coming Victory Loan. If these bonds are well absorbed by the people of Canada, the lesson of thrift will be again learned, and we will be on the way back to a sounder basis in personal finance."

HELENA GIRL DIES OF BURNS

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4.—Alice Duffy, age 15, died in a hospital here at 2 o'clock this afternoon from shock and serious burns received while assisting Sister Clarissina in starting a fire in the kitchen of St. Joseph's Orphan's home this morning. Sister Clarissina was painfully burned about the hands and arms in attempting to extinguish the flames which were consuming the child's clothing and is herself in the hospital.

WILSON MAY HAVE TO QUIT OFFICE

any way acknowledged the popular recognition.

No accurate account it is understood has ever been published of his speech at Pueblo, which compelled Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the White House physician, to assert his authority and cancel the balance of the trip.

Partly Due to Disappointment

The melancholy which characterized the last 1500 miles of the trip before Pueblo was reached is said to have held possession of the distinguished patient through all the terrible days since the return to the White House last Sunday. His illness is plainly the result of disappointment as much as nervous and physical strain.

Mr. Wilson has suffered far more disappointment than any one excepting those immediately surrounding him have comprehended. His first disappointment came when he was unable to achieve in the peace conference more than a small measure of what he announced would be his demands before he left Europe last December. He was humiliated by failure to have the covenant framed openly and aboveboard, as he had set forth in his message to congress on January 8, 1918.

Then the futility was seen of even presenting the demand contained in his second point, which was for freedom of the seas. Mr. Wilson expected to be able to write into the peace treaty every one of these principles and apparently had made the mistake of attaching too much credence to the acceptance of this program by other nations who were bound about by secret treaties of which he knew nothing at the time.

It was the best he could get and he came back feeling that he had been partially defeated in Paris, with a worse struggle ahead of him at home. When he returned to this country last February there were only three senators irreconcilably opposed to the league of nations covenant, Borah of Idaho and Poindexter of Washington, Republicans, and Reed of Missouri, Democrat. The balance of the senate was inclined to follow his leadership if certain changes were made in the tentative draft of the league covenant as then submitted.

Although he went back to Paris and secured some of the changes, when he landed at Washington in July he found that instead of there being three senators irreconcilably opposed to the league of nations covenant there were at least 20, while all of the rest of the Republican senators, with one lone exception, McCumber of North Dakota, were determined to write reservations into the treaty and have them concurred in by the other signatories to the pact.

Democratic Senators Mutiny

The unsatisfactory receptions after the train left Los Angeles, were not the sole cause for the depression which overcame Mr. Wilson. He was keenly disturbed by the telegrams from Senator Hitchcock received at many points along the route, advising him that several senators on the Democratic side were on the point of mutiny. Dr. Grayson's admission that at the best it will be a long time before Mr. Wilson can give attention to administrative affairs is leading high officials to give consideration as to the procedure necessary in event that he is prevented from discharging the duties of chief executive for a protracted spell. The organic law offers the only guide.

The Constitution, besides providing that the vice-president shall succeed to the presidency in case that the office becomes vacant, also provides that in case of inability

REPATRIATION OF DEPENDANTS

Free Transportation Will Not Be Supplied After December 31, Except in Special Cases

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Headquarters has warned all men in the Canadian overseas forces on indefinite leave, awaiting repatriation with dependents, to report immediately to the discharge depot at Buxton.

They are also notified that free repatriation for dependents will not be allowed after December 31, except where statutory declaration is made showing that it was impossible for those concerned to proceed for Canada before that date.

This does not refer to men who have taken discharge in the United Kingdom, therefore it does not effect men on whose behalf, an appeal is now being made to the government for repatriation at the public expense.

REEVE PAYS FOR SLIGHT TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS

SWIFT CURRENT, Oct. 5.—P. M. Frissen, reeve of the rural municiupality of Rush Lake, was taken in hand by the citizens following the departure of the Prince of Wales and compelled to salute the flag and sing God Save the King. The alleged action of Frissen which caused the trouble was his neglect to bare his head when he stood on the railway platform as the band struck up the National Anthem. Chief Inspector Parker of Scotland Yard, who is with the Prince, severely reprimanded him.

HE FEELS FINE IN THE MORNINGS NOW

Cameron Eats Better, Sleeps Better and Works Better After Taking Tanlac

"Yes, sir, I can recommend Tanlac for it set me right several months ago and I have been in the pink of health ever since," D. Cameron, who made this statement while discussing his experience with a Tanlac representative, recently, living at 621 Cambia street, Vancouver, and is fireman at the Northern Construction Company's Shipyards. Mr. Cameron has made Vancouver his home for th past thirty years and is known to hundreds of people throughout the city.

"It has been more than a year now," explained Mr. Cameron, "that I lost my appetite and my stomach began troubling me. For eight months, that is from the time my trouble first started until I got relief by taking Tanlac, I suffered more than I can find words to tell. My stomach was so upset that at times I could not even bear the sight of food. Many a time I have had to get up and leave the table without eating anything on account of being nauseated. What little I did manage to eat at any time would sour and bloat me up so with gas that I would have to unbotton my vest and let my belt out in order to get a good breath. And sometimes this gas would cause my heart to palpitate so hard and fast that I could almost hear it and I would get so dizzy that I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling and hurting myself. I also had pains under my heart that almost cut off my breath and was so nervous that the least noise would startle me. I could never get a good night's sleep and would get up in the mornings so tired and wornout that I felt absolutely unfit for work.

"But my lucky day came around at last, when some of the boys down at the shipyards, got to telling me how Tanlac had helped them and persuaded me to try it. So I did and the results have been nothing less than remarkable. After using three bottles—and that was sometime ago—I was feeling as strong and well as I ever did and I am still feeling that way. I picked up eight pounds while taking it and am still holding on to that increase. My appetite is so big that meal time comes too slow for me and I don't believe anyone in Vancouver has a better stomach than I have. I am never troubled any more with gas, palpitation of the heart or shortness of breath and I never have a pain or a dizzy spell. And sleep; why, I never wake a single time during the night and I always get up in the mornings feeling fine and I don't have that tired, no account feeling any more. Tanlac has certainly done me a world of good and I ready at any time to reccomend it."

STAKES DRIVEN FOR BIG CONCENTRATOR

Plant for Ores of Consolidated Rossland Properties to Cost Three-Quarter Million.

All the stakes have been driven on the site that will be occupied by the great concentrator which the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada is about to build at Rossland, to treat the milling ores of its Rossland properties, the decision to build at Rossland rather than Trail having been taken last month.

The concentrator will have a capacity of 1500 tons per day and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $750,000.

An experimental plant has been used to solve the problem of the Rossland ores, and is successfuuly treating them, and the big concentrator will embody the principles successfully applied in this plant.

It is reported that the walls of the outlet through which the ore will leave the workings for the concentrator will be lined with concrete.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Corn advanced in price today, notwithstanding that considerable weakness prevailed at the outset. Gossip that a bill would be introduced in congress to restore the import duty on corn was to some extent responsible for the advances. Prices closed firm, ¼ cent to 1¼ cent higher with December 124 to 124½ and May 122 to 122⅛.

Oats gained ⅛ to ⅝ cent. In provisions the outcome ranged from 30 cents decline to a rise of 50 cents.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—The outstanding feature of the local stock market on Saturday was the spectacular rise in the price of Lyall. The opening was at 110 for a small lot. The stock rose rapidly with more than four points between sales to 137, and just before the close 145 was bid with no stock offering under 150. About 2100 shares of the stock changed hands and the net gain amounted to 27½ points. The largest net gain elsewhere was made by Carriage Factories common, which rose five points to 22. The preferred sold at 54 to 55, closing unchanged at the latter price.

St. Lawrence Flour; Laurentide and Ames Holden made gains on relatively small transactions. The milling stock rose 2¾ to 11¾. Laurentide up 2 to 230 and Ames Holden rose 1¼ to 91½ a new high.

Mining and Markets

DELPHINE GROUP AT WILMER IS BONDED

Extensive Scheme of Development to be Undertaken—Activity at Toby Creek.

Reopening of the Delphine silver-lead property, and the undertaking of an extensive scheme of development on it will be events of the immediate future, Randolph E. Bruce of Wilmer having given a bond on it to parties who propose to start work at once.

A statement to the effect was made by Mr. Bruce, when in Nelson at the end of the week.

This old group is situated on Delphine mountain, about a mile and a half from the wagon road, on the north fork of Toby creek. There are various workings on the property, the principal system consisting of a 30-foot shaft with a right drift 146 feet long, reaching the surface by an incline raise, and a left drift 70 feet long, a shallow winze being sunk from this level and other drifts carried from the foot of the winge.

The original ore body is stopped out but the character of the formation leads to the conjecture that the vein carries other ore bodies at no great distance. Ore shipped in the old days ran $100 to the ton in silver and lead. The Delphine has been idle for many years.

There is considerable mining activity in the Wilmer district, aside from the properties actually shipping, and work is proceeding steadily on various groups. Various properties in and around Toby Creek that are now being developed, are expected to ship ore to Trail the coming winter.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—The feature of the local egg situation this week was the weaker feeling which developed in the market for selected and No. 1 stock, with consequent reductions of prices. There has been no change in the condition of the market for strictly new laid eggs.

A stronger feeling has prevailed in the butter market and the market for cheese continues fairly active.

Cheese, finest easterns 25.

Butter, choicest creamery 56 to 56¼.

Eggs, fresh 68; selected 61; No. 1 stock 56 to 57; No. 2 stock 52 to 54.

Potatoes, per bag, car lots $1.50 to $1.60.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Oct 5.—Trading on the Toronto stock exchange this morning consisted chiefly in dealings in small lots, and changes were mostly fractional. Toronto Paper was the strongest issue and added 2½ points to its recent series of gains by selling on Saturday at 91, finishing at 90½. Dominion Canners closed at 53¾, a decline of 2¼ from the level of the previous sale a few days ago. Dominion Steel moved narrowly between 69 and 69¼, closing at the latter quotation, a net gain of ⅛. Spanish River at 55 was up ⅛, while Steamships, at 62⅞, and Canada Bread at 24¼, showed declines of similar fractions. Maple Leaf, ex-dividend three per cent, was traded in at 197, a gain of one point. Winnipeg Railway, for which 35 was bid last Friday with 40 asked, was dealt in at 40 on Saturday, reflecting to a small extent the decision of the utilities commission to admit an advance of fares to six cents. The War loans were dull with no noteworthy changes in prices.

LONDON WOOL SALES

LONDON, Oct. 5.—In a special descriptive sale of wool today, 23,000 bales were offered. There was a good demand at from five to 10 per cent under the previous prevailing at the regular wool auctions. During the recent auction, the United States bought 120,000 bales, 78,000 bales went to the continent and 54,000 bales were purchased by the trade.

STOCKS RECOVER RECENT LOSSES

Rails Are Conspicuous Features on Renewal of Midweek Demand

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Stocks recovered in variable degree today from the sharp renewal of the previous session, extensive short covering and some buying for the long account being induced by the better news concerning President Wilson's condition.

Rails were conspicuous features on a renewal of the mid-week demand. Crucible Steel recovered part of its recent setback, rising an extreme of 12 points, affiliated shares gaining two to seven points while United States Steel advanced about 1½. Oils made appreciable gains on the strength of Mexican Petroleum, tobaccos were hesitant, and American Woolen, motor subsidiaries and several of the food group made irregular advances, the market closing with a confident and strong undertone.

Sales amounted to 475,000 shares.

Another moderate increase of actual reserves in the clearing house statement brought the total excess of that item up to almost $40,000,000 against the deficit of $53,000,000 reported a fortnight ago.

Bonds were firm, several of the speculative rails following the course of allied shares, especially Southern Pacific. Liberty bonds were steady, internationals featureless. Total sales (par value) $6,750,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

"Wee MacGregor" DRAG SAW
THE ORIGINAL LIGHT WEIGHT PORTABLE, GASOLINE OPERATED DRAG SAW & POWER PLANT
(Frequently Imitated Never Equalled)

The "WEE MacGREGOR" Drag Saw is an inexpensive practical and proven machine, peculiarly adapted for the rapid and accurate cutting of wood under any conditions, on land or water. With equal facility and proportionate rapidity it will cut the small or large log up to seven feet in diameter. Depending upon size and character it will cut from either green or dry logs, 20 to 30 cords of wood a day.

So light is its weight it can easily be carried from one point to another. One man can move it on the log and two men from log to log. It has sawn a 2-foot log in 50 seconds, a 4-foot log in 3 minutes and a 6-foot log in 6 minutes. Its operating cost for gasoline, oil and grease is approximately 4 cents a cord.

Full operating instructions are furnished with each machine, and its mechanism is so simple it can be operated and kept in order by any person. Its power can be harnessed to the feed cutter, the pump, the circular saw, the churn or the separator.

We carry in stock at all times in our Vancouver Warehouses a full line of service parts. In case of emergency there is no long wait for delivery.

THE LABOR REPRESENTATIVE ON BOARD OF COMMERCE

James Murdock of Toronto who has been appointed to the Canadian board of commerce has been, it is pointed out, an outstanding figure in Canadian labor circles for many years. He took a prominent part in establishing the Canadian railway adjustment board in 1918 which did so much to ensure and maintain harmony and cooperation between railway companies and their employee For a year past he has strongly held the view that the cost of living should be controlled, and if possible, reduced, and that increasing wages only would never solve our labor problems. For the past 14 years, Mr. Murdock had been an officer of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and during most of that time the chief Canadian executive. He is a resident of Toronto. Two of his sons were in the war, and both are in the medical services. A fearless champion and leader in demanding full measure of justice for workingmen, he has, with equal determination, insisted on labor recognition of obligations undertaken.

BUILDING UP THE PROVINCE

It will have been noted that the Conservative convention at Vancouver and the Conservative leader devoted themselves rather to voicing constructive policy than to destructive criticism of the Oliver government.

There is plenty of room for criticism of the Oliver administration, but probably the Conservatives felt that the people were attending to that. The failings of the present government at Victoria are known in every part of the province. In any event there is ample time in which the opposition can fulfil its constitutional function of criticising the government.

The important thing before the convention was to announce the policy upon which the Conservative party would appeal to the people for support at the next election. That policy is constructive. It is directed toward building up the province, building up provincial revenues, increasing the wealth of the people, and placing British Columbia in the position which its natural wealth and the energy and ability of its people entitle it to hold.

That is what is needed. British Columbia can be built up by applying the common sense business principles which ensure progress.

A RECORD OF WONDER

Is there a right understanding of the financial miracles worked by Canada in the world war? Here was a nation in 1914 that had never faced the burdens of competitive armament, that had no right understanding of the meaning of income tax, as it is known in Europe. It was a nation of peace-loving and peaceable folk. Only in the cities could be found well-organized and efficient militia battalions, and the club-spirit made them a success. A few officers devoted themselves to military study, but speaking generally the soldier was an infrequent person.

In a moment, almost without warning, this Canada was plunged into war, and in a few months was facing an extraordinary expenditure approaching a million dollars a day. But the credit of the Dominion was good. The exploits of the army and the spirit of the people at home strengthened that credit in New York as in London, and so long as money was available in the world's markets Canada could secure all that was necessary.

But the financial pressure became heavier. The United States entered the war and all the resources of the republic were mobilized for its own needs. Then the government decided to appeal to the war-spirit of the Canadian people. A year ago the minister of finance offered for sale Victory Bonds to an amount of $350,000,000. The country in a burst of pride and enthusiasm subscribed over $800,000,000, an average of $75 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

Now another loan is before the nation. Again the appeal is to the pride and enthusiasm of the folk whose sons and brothers made that corps d'elite commanded by General Sir Arthur Currie. The needs are as pressing as ever. The soldiers must be paid and cared for. The facts are clear. The nation will respond once more with eagerness and ardor, thus completing a cycle of miracles which have staggered the financial world.

TOLD IN RHYME

SEAGULLS

(Kadra Maybi, in New York Times)

There is a sailor legend
Men tell by the waning moon
(And I heard them laugh as they told it
Tonight in the deck saloon!)

That whenever dies a sailor,
On the deep sea or on shore,
There comes to the birds of the ocean
One gray seagull the more.

What eye has found their nesting,
By beach or cliff or bar?
What heart has guessed their questing,
'Twixt sand and sea and star?

And men who know the wonder
Of boundless blue and breeze,
Would they hold with the walls of heaven
Or the shade of earthly trees,

So I know that the sailor legend
Is true, and there come again,
When the gray gulls slant to seaward
The souls of sailor men!

RUSSIAN CONFESSES TO POLITICAL MURDERS

STOCKHOLM, Oc. 5.—Hadui Lashet, one of the sixteen Russians arrested here charged with belonging to a political murder band with at least three murders to his credit, made an unresreved confession of giult at the re-hearing of the case yesterday. Versions of the story current here in which a beautiful Russian girl was mentioned as the lure by which the victims were enticed to the scene of their death, differed, as to whether the murder band was acting under bolshevist or anti-bolshevist colors, but Hadui Lashet in his confession adhered to his previous statements that the murders were of a political character and were directed against bolshevism.

ITALIAN STEAMER FIRED ON BY SLAVS—STORY CONFIRMED

BARIE, Italy, Oct. 4.—The report that the Italian steamer Epire with 200 Italian troops and other passengers aboard, was fired on by Jugo-Slavs from Rondons Island, near Cattaro, September 30, is confirmed.

Only a few shots were fired against the steamer, then only about 100 yards from the shore, but a cavalry soldier who is in the hospital with a bullet in his leg attests to the truth of the incident.

ITALY MAY RATIFY PEACE TREATY BY ROYAL DECREE

ROME, Oct. 5.—The semi-official tribunal says that the ratification of the peace treaty by royal decree is imminent.

GIRLS AT FIUME ENTICE SOLDIERS TO AID D'ANNUNZIO

FIUME, Oct. 5.—Legions of Fiumian girls are enticing soldiers to desert from the ranks of the Italian army forces stationed at Abbazia and other points on the Armistice line in order to increase Gabriel D'Annunzio's army of occupation.

In Fiume there is much gaiety and fraternizing between the soldiers and the townspeople. In the evening the streets are crowded with soldiers and girls walking arm in arm.

ALBERTA OFFICIALS ARE BUSY AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Prominent visitors at the capital at the present time include Hon. Charles Stewart, Premier of Alberta, and Hon. C. R. Mitchell, a member of the Alberta cabinet. Mr. J. D. McArthur of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway, is also here, and the reports in the corridors of parliament are that assistance for Mr. McArthur's railway enterprise is being sought from the dominion government. It was generally understood that the dominion government had been asked to take over this road and make it a part of the Canadian National Railway system, but nothing ever came of the proposal.

Hon. Mr. Stewart tonight stated to the Canadian Press that the visit of himself and Mr. Mitchell chiefly concerned matters in connection with irrigation agreements between the federal and Alberta governments. There was also the question of relief which would be needed for some settlers, although conditions in regard to food had improved considerably in the past two weeks. Mr. McArthur intimated that he was in Ottawa in connection with the Edmonton, Dungevan and British Columbia railway.

BURNHAM OUT FOR TARIFF STATEMENT

Takes Exception to Premier Borden's Pronouncement of Policy at Caucus

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—J. H. Burnham, Peterboro, has handed in for the order paper a resolution which deals with Sir Robert Borden's recently reported pronouncement of policy.

M. Burnham cites in full the report from the Ottawa Morning Journal, in his resolution and proceeds as follows

"Whereas, the above report of the recent governent caucus appeared in the Ottawa Morning Journal, on October 2nd, and,

"Whereas, in the above reported pronouncement of policy and in the official announcement by the premier not one word concerning plain or protective tariff appears and no mention of the same is made.

"Therefore, in the opinion of this house, it is desirable that the leader of the governent should know that a proper degree of protection is necessary to the progressive and well balanced development of Canada, and that no policy ignoring the protective principle in a Canadian tariff will be acceptable or for the general benefit of Canada."

STEAMER IN DISTRESS

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—A call immediate assistance was received from the steamer Lake Gravett at the naval radio station here tonight. The message said that the seamer, which is bound from Howey, England, for Portugal, was in urgent need of coal, and because of heavy weather, was unable to reach a coaling station. Her position at 6:20 p.m., was latitude 44:05 north, longtitude 48:27.

SONG OF THE SHIRT HELPED MAKE PUNCH

Few poet-lovers but are familiar with Thomas Hood's song to the toiler, "The Song of the Shirt," which has been translated into more foreign languages than any other poem written by Hood. This poem was first printed in the London Punch on December 16, 1843, and created a sensation in London, and it was soon reprinted throughout the British Empire, and shortly thereafter it was reproduced practically throughout the world.

"Good Living"

There is quite a story connected with Hood's composition of the "Song of the Shirt." On October 25 it was brought to the attention of the poet that a wretched woman named Biddell was charged at the Lambeth police station with having pawned articles belonging to her employer. It was shown that she made trousers for seven pence a pair, and the utmost she could make was seven shillings a week, which her employers looked upon as "a good living for a woman who had herself and two infant children to support."

This case attracted a great deal of attention at the time, and two days later the London Times had a powerful editorial on the incident. Punch quoted from this "leader" with stinging additions—probably by Douglas Jerrold—the following week. Hood, whose sympathies were stirred by suffering, penned his "Song of the Shirt" and sent it to Punch, his wife saying as the package was done up: "Now mind, Hood, mark my words, this will tell wonderfully! It is one of the best things you ever did!"

Mark Lemon, who was at the time the editor of Punch, recalling the receipt of the manuscript in later years, said that the author accompanied it with a note, saying that the lines had already been rejected by three papers; that he feared it as not suited to Punch, and leaving it to Lamon's discretion whether to put it in the paper or in the waste basket.

The confidence of Hood's wife in "The Song of the Shirt" was justified. The poem in Punch created a sensation. It was copied in the Times and other journals, and as M. H. Spiermann has put it, in sympathetic appreciation of Hood as a contributor to Punch, it "went through the land like wildfire."

The historian of Punch claims that the publication of "The Song of the Shirt" trebled the circulation of that journal. It may be said also to have trebled Hood's fame and popularity at the time."

Tires Led the way to Better Hose

THE hose industry stretches back into the early days of rubber history.

For year after year rubber hose had been built upon the immature principles of those early days.

But Goodyear has developed new and higher standards of hose efficiency.

Just as broad-visioned Goodyear chemists and engineers cut loose from tradition and built tires in a better way, so have they built industrial hose.

Old processes—obsolete methods have been forgotten. Only those processes, formulae and methods proved by service tests and experiment to be best enter into the manufacture of Goodyear Industrial Hose.

Hose linings which do not crack or harden have been developed.

Outer covers with an exceptional degree of toughness to withstand the wear of severe industrial service—another distinctly Goodyear feature.

In a word, Goodyear has built better hose. Original cost did not count if greater final economy and increased efficiency were a sure result.

You cannot know how far short of complete satisfaction ordinary hose falls until you experience the greater perfection of Goodyear Industrial Hose.

Give Goodyear Hose a trial now. There is a particular Goodyear Hose for every industrial purpose—water, steam, pneumatic tool, air drill, railway, fire, suction, etc.

Phone, wire or write to the nearest branch for a man trained in hose problems to study your needs. No obligation.

WHITE SOX LOSE THE FOURTH GAME

stop of Collins' hard hit ball, and Liebold was run down between second and third. Weaver's out ended the rally. Thereafter, Ring held the game in the palm of his hand, with his fingers crossed. He allowed one more hit in the sixth, a base on balls in the seventh, another hit in the eighth and his last pass in the ninth, but these outcroppings never gave the Reds a moment's real worry.

Victory in Fifth

The story of the Red victory belongs to the fifth inning. In no other round did they get a runner past the initial sack. Sharp fielding, Cicotte's sterling pitching and two sharp double plays tell the story of the innings other than the fifth. Rousch started this momentous round by dumping the ball in front of the plate, and was out on a hairline decision. Duncan bounced an awkward one toward Weaver and Cicotte grabbed it, but, in his haste, threw over Gandil's head. That started the debacle. Schalk, who gets into nearly every play, retrieved the ball, but Duncan was safe on second. The timeliness of the Reds' hitting was again in evidence, Kopf singled to short left, Jackson taking the ball on the bound as he ran forward. Duncan was tearing for the plate. Jackso threw perfectly for the plate and it looked like a certain out when Cicotte, whose nerves, by reason of his previous error, seemed out for an altitude record, interposed his mitt, evidently to make a play on Kopf, and, deflected the ball. Duncan counted and Kopf established himself on third. Neale then doubled just out of reach of Jackson, scoring Kopt. Wingo and Ring grounded out, ending the inning and the scoring. The fifth game of the series will be played here tomorrow and the sixth in Cincinnati Monday, unless the weather interferes.

VERY GOOD AUDIENCE ENJOYS "PADDYWACK"

The story of "Paddywack," or "The End of a Perfect Day," was presented by the Colonial Comedy Company at the opera house on Saturday evening to a fair sized audience.

The story is of an Irish girl who was left an orphan, and an adventuress who claimed to be a relative and schemed to get the money the girl's grandfather left behind. The grandfather left a chair to "Paddy," which, unknown to her, contained this money, and which the adventuress found in the last act. Considerable love and comedy combined to make the story interesting. Miss Camille Purdy as "Ileen" the adventuress' daughter, but of an entirely different character from her mother, was good. Miss Mae Milton as "Paddywack" handled her role admirably. The following was the cast:

Lord Sutton—"The Stranger," Mr. George Waring; Miriam Heritage, "Paddywack," Miss Mae Milton; Vicar Mayfield, "The Guardian," Mr. Lynton E. Athey; Shorty Long, "An American Jockey," Mr. George Norman; Ileen, "Daughter of Mrs. Chesterton," Miss Camille Purdy; Mrs. Chesterton, "From London," Miss Eva Barclay.

DUCK HUNTING TRIP FOR PRINCE

Royal Visitor Spends Quiet Day at Regina; Walks About the City

REGINA, Oct. 5.—The second day of the Prince of Wales' visit to Regina was necessarily a quiet one for all concerned. Divine service at St. Paul's church in the morning was attended by the Prince and several members of his suite, the Prince being in his uniform of Captain in the Welsh Guards. After luncheon at Government House the Prince visited the hospitals. He made his way through a big crowd which had assembled at the hospital gates without being noticed, because he elected to walk over to the hospital, while other members of the party arrived in motor cars. Later he went down town to open the new Great War Veterans building. The ceremony was quite informal and proceeded in the cheeriest possible atmosphere, the Prince in mufti making himself very much at home amongst the veterans.

The weather today is very pleasant and the Prince walked nearly everywhere he went, finally dismissing his motor car and walking through the suburbs back to Government House at the dinner hour. The enthusiasm of the Regina people has been steadily growing. The Prince arrived here Saturday afternoon. Formal ceremonies at the parliament buildings yesterday were brilliant and were attended by huge crowds. The spirit of the crowd who were attending the informal functions in connection with the visit was very warm. The popularity of the Prince of Wales is assured in one more city of the west.

Before leaving Monday for a duck shooting expedition on the Qu'Appelle lake near here, the Prince will inspect the Mounted Police barracks, which are the headquarters of the service in Canada.

The next formal visits in the Prince's itinerary are Brandon and Portage la Prairie on Friday, Oct. 10, on which day he will reach Winnipeg to begin his second stay in in that city, remaining four days.

Perth Amboy, N.J. — "For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills." — Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 524 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

ADVOCATES RIBBON SHOW AT NELSON

Professor Cale Says Poultry Breeders Should Have Honor Competition Every December

"If I might give a word of advice to the poultry fanciers of the Nelson district, it is, that they go in strong for an annual winter show at Nelson." The speaker was E. B. Cale, the well known poultry judge and editor of Vancouver, who left Friday night for the coast.

"In years that the district show comes to Nelson, concentrate on that, to make it a world-beater," said Judge Cale. "But in the off years send a good representative to your district show, wherever it is, but go in locally for a good ribbon show at Nelson.

"To keep everybody up to the scratch and full of interest, and to gain recruits for the poultry industry, and keep your association at its maximum efficiency, an annual winter show is essential. Considering the number of good flocks of pure bred birds in and around Nelson, it should be just play to get out the entries for a fine ribbon show every December, once the competitive interest of the breeders was aroused.

"It is at your local show that the layman first gets inoculated with the poultry germ, it is there that the beginner learns what is the correct type for his variety, it is there that the more experienced man brushes up his knowledge of points from year to year watching the judge hang the ribbons. Any good district ought to go in for an annual show, but Nelson of all others, because it is the leading community of the territory and because there is no doubt about the Nelson district having the birds.

"A ribbon show is not designed to bring in so many outside entries as a show with a lot of prize money, and only a man who knew he had real good birds would send any great distance to a ribbon show. A few extra good specials should be offered, to make it an inducement for outsiders to send the cream of their birds. But the great bulk of the entries will be from your local breeders, who are under no particular expense to show, except for entry money, and who will feel repai by the ribbons they win, and the knowledge they gain, or the orders they receive, in return for their small outlay.

"I should think the business community would feel interested in such a show, for every annual fixture made permanent in the city tends to attract other gatherings, and to build up the community as a convention centre. So, it would not be difficult to get the special prizes required."

Judge Cale, who is both a poultry and a live stock man, officiated at the Nelson, Creston an dNew Denver fairs. He is no stranger here, and the year that Nelson had the big show of the British Columbia Poultry association, he was here with his string of birds as an exhibitor.

SPECIAL MEETING BOARD OF TRADE

Minister of Mines Expected to Make Statement Tonight on Zinc Plant Matter

A special meeting of the board of trade is called for tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of meeting Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines.

The subject to be discussed is the experimental zinc plant at Nelson which was operated by Thomas French of the French Complex Ore Reduction company, with funds provided by the province. It is understood the minister will make a statement on the government's position in the matter.

Mr. Sloan spent the weekend in Slocan.

MOTOR TRAFFIC IN WINDERMERE HEAVY

Publicity Alone Needed to Bring Flood of Pleasure Seekers, Says Mr. Bruce

Tourist traffic in the Kootenay-Columbia valley reached unprecedented proportions the past summer, according to Randolph Bruce, the Wilmer mining magnate, who left Nelson Saturday morning for Wilmer. Mr. Bruce was at Trail Friday.

Discussing tourist trade, Mr. Bruce was enthusiastic over the possibilities of expansion in this direction, stating he was convinced that publicity alone was needed to induce a great influx of pleasure seekers to the scenic wonderland of the Kootenays. Outside of residents of the Kootenay, few know, Mr. Bruce said, of the wonderful scenery and many places of interest within easy access of the motorist, or even that the district can be reached with every comfort by road or rail.

The Banff, Windermere road, now nearly completed, will open up another large tract of country and will offer additional attractions and facilities for viewing the country of the Rockies.

THURSDAY IS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Dominion Proclamation Sets Date for Clean-up Campaign Throughout Country

Loving subjects in Nelson are asked, by the terms of a Dominion proclamation, to observe this Thursday, Oct. 9, as Fire Prevention Day, by means of a general clean-up of combustible rubbish, by exercises in the schools, by inspections of fire conditions in inhabited buildings, and by any other means that is suggested.

The proclamation reads in part as follows:

Whereas it is shown by reliable statistics that the amount of the average annual loss of property by fire in Canada exceeds $20,000,000, the loss for the year 1918 being in excess of $30,000,000 and that there is in addition a large annual unappraised loss from forest fires which if unchecked threatens to greatly impair, if not to entirely destroy, our heritage of forest wealth;

And whereas there is also every year in Canada a deplorable loss of human life as a result of fire;

And whereas it is desirable for the well-being of the nation that a greater regard for the sanctity of human life be inculcated; that the material wealth of the nation be so far as possible conserved, and that every agency which tends to needlessly dissipate or destroy human life or property be vigorously opposed;

And whereas it is authoritatively estimated that at least 75 per cent of the fires occurring are preventable by the exercise of proper care on the part of the indiyual citizns, and that therefore a corresponding proportion of the annual loss from fire can be avoided;

And whereas it is desirable, in order that the attention of the public may be directed to the extent of the preventable loss of life and property from fire and the best means of controlling it, that one day of the year be set apart and properly designated for the dissemination of such information and the giving of such instruction on fire loss and fire prevetion as may be practicable,—

Now know ye, that we, by and with the advice of our privy council of Canada, have thought fit to appoint and do appoint Thursday, the ninth day of October, in this present year, as "Fire Prevention Day," and we do recommend to all Our loving subjects that, on that day,—

Suggested Procedure

1. All dwellings and their surroundings be carefully inspected by their occupants and all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fires removed.

2. All public buildings, stores, and factories be inspected and cleared of rubbish.

3. Fire drills be held for the children in all schools and for employees in all large stores and factories.

4. Special instructions on the subject of fire prevention be given by the teacher and by municipal officials in the schools and that such appropriate literature as may be made available be distributed to the pupils.

5. All legislation and regulations enacted or issued by the municipal officials, and that by public authorities dealing with fire prevention be given publicity by the municipal officials, and that by public meetings or otherwise as may to them seem fit, they endeavour to impress upon the citizens the national importance of safeguarding life and property from loss of fire.

Of all which Our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

WEDDINGS

SULLIVAN-CARSON

The wedding took place on Saturday morning at 7.30 o'clock at the convent chapel of Alfred George Sullivan of the staff of the Rutherford Drug company, to Miss B. Carson, of Halifax, N.S. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father J. A. Althoff of the Church of Mary Immaculate.

The bride, who wore a brown tailored suit with georgette crepe blouse, turquoise blue vest and hat, was attended by her sister, Miss K. N. Carson of Halifax. The groom was supported by J. O. Paterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will take up their home in Nelson.

DEVELOP YOUTH ON LINES OF NATURE

Says Mr. Westman to Large Audience; Complete Man Will Have Soul Alive With Passion

In a very clear and forceful address last night before a packed congregation Rev. J. P. Westman of Trinity Methodist church brought out the necessity of training the child and future man in such a way as to unfold his nature rather than to try to drive him along an arbitrarily chosen path.

Genius, Mr. Westman explained and illustrated is simply a working out of what is written, and "we carry with us what we did, and learn," he said. "The child, trained in the right way will not depart therefrom. Still a clear conception of life values must be got if the youth is to develop into a worth while man. Gold is not equal to greatness. Moral, not material worth is the real test

"A fine equipment alone is not sufficient," said the speaker. "One must have feeling. Passion is power, and no man is truly alive until his soul is filled with a forceful desire that proves itself in acts."

ST. PAUL'S RALLY DAY SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED

Large attendances at all services marked the rally day at St. Paul's Presbyterian church yesterday. The church was full for the morning service, while in the afternoon there was a large attendance of the children of the Sunday school and their parents.

At the evening service Rev. D. T. McClintock, minister of the church, spoke to the young people on the subject, "Let No Man Despise Thy Youth," in which he exhorted the young people to aim high. Theirs was the period of enjoyment and it was becoming more and more realized that enjoyment was entirely as essential to the training of the youth as play was the child. However, it was necessary that the mind of the youth be guarded that he or she might not place enjoyment as the supreme desire. There should be a definite ambition to attain a position in life always in view. It was this that gave lift its enthusiasm, and when that enthusasm was gone life was hardly worth living. He asked that youthful enthusiasm be instilled more into the work of the church.

A special musical program was rendered during the service, which was contributed to by Gunner Graham and the Great War Veterans' Band.

MRS. HARRITT RECOVERING FROM BLOOD POISONING

Summoned by telegram to Poplar Point, Man., on account of the serious illness of his wife, who had contracted blood poisoning from a contusion on her right ankle, J. W. Harritt locomotive engineer, sends word back to Nelson that Mrs. Harritt, after undergoing two operations, is now well on the road to recovery. At first the bruise was considered of no importance, and was given home treatment, and it was 10 days before the symptoms of blood poisoning appeared.

Mrs. Harritt went to the prairie a month ago to visit her old home.

Why Every Canadian Will Buy Victory Bonds

TRIUMPHANT, Canada emerged from the war, a nation great in arms and great in trade, a nation respected and admired by the world.

And Canada will continue to hold high her head.

Our obligations to the heroic dead, to the crippled and disabled soldiers, and to the men who were so fortunate as to return, will all be met.

That is Canada's duty.

To fulfill it, every Canadian will do his part.

Canadians will keep the machinery of prosperity humming, the factory chimneys smoking, the sea and lake ports bustling with activity, and the surplus products of farm and factory going forth to Great Britain and other lands.

But to accomplish all this more National Working Capital is needed.

The money is here, but it is in the hands of individuals rather than in the hands of the nation. It is in the savings banks, loan companies and generally scattered throughout Canada. For instance, our deposits in banks and post offices have increased in five years from one billion ($1,086,013,704) to a billion and three-quarters ($1,740,462,509), an increase of nearly two-thirds of a billion ($654,448,805).

The people will loan their individual savings to the nation to be used as National Working Capital in maintaining our commercial prosperity.

Every man and woman from every walk of life is interested in maintaining this prosperity. Therefore, every man and woman from every walk of life is personally interested in making the Victory Loan 1919 an overwhelming success.

It will serve to keep Canada in its present place, far up in the vanguard of World Progress.

Victory Loan 1919

"Every Dollar Spent in Canada."

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

WHITE SOX LOSE THE FOURTH GAME

Fiery Clan From Banks of Ohio Need but Two More Victories to Tuck Away Championship

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Cincinnati now needs but two more games to take the world's championship to the banks of the Ohio. Chief Moran's red-legged National leaguers today defeated the Chicago White Sox in the fourth game of the series, 2 to 0.

The path ahead of the American leaguers is strewn with rocks, broken glass, and sown with Canadian thistles, in the view of followers of the game, for they must win four of the remaining games, to win the bunting, and dare not lose two, and in the opinion of unprejudiced experts it ought to be easy to drop two to a club going like the Reds are.

Today's defeat was a sore blow to the locals, for they had hoped that as the Reds had won two straight games on their home grounds, the Sox would do likewise. The 3 to 0 victory of the locals yesterday aroused enthusiasm to a high pitch, and the attendance today, 34,363, heaviest of the series, attested the aspirations of the Chicagoans.

Cicotte Responsible

Eddie Cicotte, who was driven out of the box in the opening game at Cincinnati, held the Reds to a five hits and issued no passes, but two of those hits came in one inning, and in that inning he bunched two errors, which proved costly.

The regular order of things brought Jim Ring into the pitcher's box for the Reds, but the fact that he allowed but three hits, which were scattered, was somewhat marred by the fact that he passed three Sox batsmen on wide ones and hit two others. The fielding back of him was nothing short of superb. This was particularly noticeable in the second and third innigs, when it was a question whether the big right-hander would collide with the aviator who was performing above or join the list of baseball idols which Garry Herrmann is offering his loyal following in Cincinnati.

Rath Opens With Hit

The day had been hot up to the time the game started, but from then on it was cool and spectators quickly hustled back into their coats.

Cicotte was cheered as he walked to the mound and there was a noticeable silence as Rath, the first man up, singled to short left. Daubert, however, hit into a double play and Risberg went out and played left field long enough to gather in Groh's exaggerated pop.

It was one-two-three in the Sox half also, with Ring showing a world of speed which kept the locals popping them up. Liebold, first up for the Sox, sent up a high one which drifted in the breeze so that Daubert was kept hopping backward for some time before he grabbed it. Collins popped up to Rath, while Duncan raced back and gathered in Weaver's long fly in brilliant fashion.

In the second Cicotte's twisters could not be kept on the ground, Roush, Duncan and Kopf flying out in order. In their half the Sox appeared more threatening than at any other period. Joe Jackson, who regards hairpins as the ultimate in bringing good luck, carried four new ones as he came to bat, and the hairpins delivered a clean double to center. Felsch sent him to third by the sacrifice route. Then Ring did one of two things—he either became wild or played a bit of the most daring strategy, for he walked both Risberg and Schalk, filling the bases. This brought Cicotte to the plate. His desperate swing caught the ball far up the handle and he was not at first.

Lose Chance for Score

The next opportunity of the locals to score came in the succeeding round. Liebold lined to right along the foul line, but Neale captured it with a catch that was sheer banditry. Collins was hit by the pitcher and tore down to shecond when Weaver grounded out to Daubert, unassisted. Jackson hit Rath, but his hairpins were still working and he camped on first while Rath was juggling the ball and making a hurried throw. Collins meanwhile reaching third. Felsch, however, was unable to produce a hit and another local hope was interred. The Sox never threatened again, save remotely in the fifth, when Groh's error, a wild heave to first, placed Liebold on second, with one down. Groh made a wonderful

WHITE SOX LOSE THE FOURTH GAME

Fiery Clan From Banks of Ohio Need but Two More Victories to Tuck Away Championship

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Cincinnati now needs but two more games to take the world's championship to the banks of the Ohio. Chief Moran's red-legged National leaguers today defeated the Chicago White Sox in the fourth game of the series, 2 to 0.

The path ahead of the American leaguers is strewn with rocks, broken glass, and sown with Canadian thistles, in the view of followers of the game, for they must win four of the remaining games, to win the pennant, and dare not lose two, and in the opinion of unprejudiced experts it ought to be easy to drop two to a club going like the Reds are.

Today's defeat was a sore blow to the locals, for they had hoped that as the Reds had won two straight games on their home grounds, the Sox would do likewise. The 3 to 0 victory of the locals yesterday aroused enthusiasm to a high pitch, and the attendance today, 34,363, heaviest of the series, attested the aspirations of the Chicagoans.

Cicotte Responsible

Eddie Cicotte, who was driven out of the box in the opening game at Cincinnati, held the Reds to a five hits and issued no passes, but two of those hits came in one inning, and in that inning he bunched two errors, which proved costly.

The regular order of things brought Jim Ring into the pitcher's box for the Reds, but the fact that he allowed but three hits, which were scattered, was somewhat marred by the fact that he passed three Sox batsmen on wide ones and hit two others. The fielding back of him was nothing short of superb. This was particularly noticeable in the second and third innigs, when it was a question whether the big right-hander would collide with the aviator who was performing above or join the list of baseball idols which Garry Herrmann is offering his loyal following in Cincinnati.

Rath Opens With Hit

The day had been hot up to the time the game started, but from then on it was cool and spectators quickly hustled back into their coats.

Cicotte was cheered as he walked to the mound and there was a noticeable silence as Rath, the first man up, singled to short left. Daubert, however, hit into a double play and Risberg went out and played left field long enough to gather in Groh's exaggerated pop.

It was one-two-three in the Sox half also, with Ring showing a world of speed which kept the locals popping them up. Liebold, first up for the Sox, sent up a high one which drifted in the breeze so that Daubert was kept hopping backward for some time before he grabbed it. Collins popped up to Rath, while Duncan raced back and gathered in Weaver's long fly in brilliant fashion.

In the second Cicotte's twisters could not be kept on the ground Roush, Duncan and Kopf flying out in order. In their half the Sox appeared more threatening than at any other period. Joe Jackson, who regards hairpins as the ultimate in bringing good luck, carried four new ones as he came to bat, and the hairpins delivered a clean double to center. Felsch sent him to third by the sacrifice route. Then Ring did one of two things—he either became wild or played a bit of the most daring strategy, for he walked both Risberg and Schalk, filling the bases. This brought Cicotte to the plate. His desperate swing caught the ball far up the handle and he was not at first.

Lose Chance for Score

The next opportunity of the locals to score came in the succeeding round. Liebold lined to right along the foul line, but Neale captured it with a catch that was sheer banditry. Collins was hit by the pitcher and tore down to shecond when Weaver grounded out to Daubert, unassisted. Jackson hit Rath, but his hairpins were still working and he camped on first while Rath was juggling the ball and making a hurried throw, Collins meanwhile reaching third. Felsch, however, was unable to produce a hit and another local hope was interred. The Sox never threatened again, save remotely in the fifth when Groh's error, a wild heave to first, placed Liebold on second, with one down. Groh made a wonderful
