HOPED DEFEAT OF GOVERNMENT WOULD BE EASY

Spartacans Had Plans Made

FIGURED ON FIVE DAYS

Intended to Declare Country Soviet Republic

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BERLIN, Saturday, March 8 (Associated Press)—The Spartican leaders in Berlin strike movements have formed a detailed plan for the overthrow of the government within a definitely defined and brief period, it is shown by Spartican papers captured by the government forces. Among these documents was an elaborate plan for the Spartican general staff, mapping out the course for the insurrection and showing that it counted upon bringing the Berlin revolt to a triumphant conclusion in five days, the movement to culminate in the proclamation of a soviet republic.

The leaders were aware that the government would throw a strong force of troops from Berlin, but they counted upon winning over various organizations.

Their plan named the Alexander Platz, adjacent to police headquarters, as the rendezvous upon the declaration of the strike.

To Get Police Quarters.

The first days' objective was the capture of police headquarters and the Spartacans were so confident of accomplishing this that they had already for distribution printed pamphlets announcing the capture of headquarters and the defection of the government troops, the letter announcement predicting the defection of the sailors and the Prussian guards.

The second day's objectives were the imperial palace, the reichstag, and the Unter Linten district. The third day's objectives were the chancellor's palace, the war ministry and other ministerial buildings.

The fourth day was to effect the capture of the railway stations, the newspaper district; while the fifth day was to complete the capture of the city with a climax reached by the proclamation of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

Plan Failed Utterly.

The plan failed because the outside regiments proved absolutely incorruptible and of high fighting qualities.

The casualties, although they had not been definitely established at the writing, will probably prove greater than those of the January revolution. The Berlin morgue, to which the civilian dead were at first transferred, became filled to overflowing during the course of Friday and other morgues had to be improvised. After their loss of the police headquarters, the Spartacans organized a new centre of resistance in the northeastern section of Berlin, but the government forces last evening and today were working slowly through this district, following the mine throwers and now and then dislodging their opponents from the barricades and other points of resistance.

Artillery fire was also heard occasionally from the western suburbs, where the Spartacans had attempted to start a new revolt. There was some sniping and roof fighting also reported from various disturbed sections of the city.

Even the Radicals, however, were admitting today that the revolt and the accompanying general strike were doomed to failure.

Street Cars Still Idle.

The subway was running today, but the street cars had not resumed operations because of the difficulty of protecting them.

The telegraph lines leading out in the country are working very poorly because of the destruction of several wire conduits. Transmission of messages was also hampered repeatedly by the strikers cutting off electric lights.

Reign of Terror

BERLIN, Monday, March 9.—(By Associated Press)—Litchenburg, the northeastern suburb of Berlin, was today the centre of the Spartacan resistance. A virtual reign of terror prevails there.

The Associated Press received a report from government headquarters this afternoon that a band of Spartacans, late on Saturday, stormed police headquarters in Lichtenburg and shot all the officers on duty. Today military operations against the in-

Hold Down Tight Committee's Power

VICTORIA, March 10.—The holding of a provincial prohibition convention at Vancouver has turned general attention to the work of the legislative public accounts committee which at the instance of opposition members has been delving into the question of the audit of the prohibition department accounts. Controller General Mouat was before the committee last week and in reply to questions put to him by Opposition Leader Bowser admitted that, although W. C. Findlay took office in November, 1917, and the fiscal year ended on the following March, there had been no audit of his books, nor any inventory of his stock until December of 1918. As a result of the audit and inventory, belated though they were, the scandal leading to the dismissal of Findlay was discovered. It came about through the finding of a copy of a letter in Findlay's records, said the controller general. Mr. Bowser was about to question the controller general as to how long after the finding of this letter copy, Findlay had been dismissed and also as to some of the circumstances surrounding the letter in order to clear up the suspicion of higher-ups, but the committee majority barred the way to further inquiry, taking the ground that the committee could not conduct a prohibition inquiry in view of the decision of Mr. Speaker Keen when he declined to accept a motion for a select committee for the purpose because it meant the expenditure of public money and only the government could bring in such a motion. It was also contended by the Liberal members of the committee that the probe of the public accounts could only extend to the accounts for the fiscal year 1917-18, and not after that date.

Wanted Scope Widened.

The conservatives promptly proposed to get the scope of the committee widened so that its inquiry could be brought up to date. Controller General Mouat said that, despite his own suggestions, Findlay was permitted to go ahead with a set of books different from those used in other departments. Finally, after the audit and the subsequent scandal, Mouat put in a system of counter check books in the government liquor stores in order that there would be some tab kept on the stocks. Assistant Controller General Wright was before the committee, but he refused to answer most of the questions put to him, as a result of which the chairman scored him severely.

Boat Purchases.

The subject of boat purchases has been quite prominent on the legislative order paper during the past week. Some of the purchases of the government have been rather interesting, particularly because of the sudden necessity for repairs in the case of each craft purchased. For instance, there is the old boat, Beaver, which formerly ran between New Westminister and other points on the Fraser. It was owned by the C. P. R. A man named Jackman of Victoria, a former liquor dealer, optioned it from the C. P. R. at $8,000, and offered it to the government at $10,000. Somehow or other the company got wind of the offer and declined to continue the option, eventually selling the boat itself to the government for the $10,000. The Beaver was to be used as a ferry between Ladner's Landing and Woodward's Landing on the Fraser, but has been on the repair ways for over a year. The total cost has run up to $26,000, with another $10,000 to follow and it has not yet made a single run as a ferry.

$15,000 on Alterations.

Then there was the ninecar ferry bought from the Great Northern for R. G. E. service at a price of $18,000. It was altered to an eleven-car barge, an increase of two cars capacity at a cost of $15,565. A steam tug was bought in Seattle for the P. G. E. service for $24,000, plus duty of $7,800. It has been on the repair ways since its purchase and the repair bill has already reached $11,117.

Replies to order paper questions show that the land settlement board in 1918 loaned $165,150 to farmers of the province. The salaries and expenses of the commissioners run up to $30,000 for the same period.

Sir Sam Comes in for More Criticism in House at Ottawa

SMITHERS OF G.T.P. INDIFFERENT, OPINION

Sir Thomas White, in House, Reads Correspondence From Railway Officials

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, March 10.—Parliament started off the week's work with an unusually busy day. The proceedings were marked by ministerial announcements and explanations of more than ordinary importance and the continued debate on the address included an interesting speech by Maj. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, and some spirited attacks by Major Cooper of Vancouver South, on Sir Sam Hughes, in reply to the ex-minister's criticism of the overseas military authorities.

Some interest, however, centered in Sir Thomas White's explanation of the government's action in appointing a receiver under the provisions of the War Measure act to operate the Grand Trunk Pacific.

"Under existing legislation," said the acting premier, "it is not possible excepting under proceedings for foreclosure for sale to have a receiver appointed for a system such as the Grand Trunk Pacific. The government, therefore, was confronted with what was regarded as the imperative necessity in the national interest of providing for the uninterrupted operation of the system. It was found that the War Measures act gave the government a complete jurisdiction for the action which it took."

Sir Thomas summarized the order-in-council under which Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways, was named receiver, and read correspondence which passed between himself and the chief of the officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Smithers Indifferent.

The correspondence showed that A. W. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors had declined to come to Canada to continue the negotiations because the government had given no sign of an intention to depart from its original position, although the company had made a fresh proposal involving a very big reduction on the first offer.

Sir Thomas White in reply said that Mr. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors, had showed an attitude of "indifference to the continuance of negotiations."

"Confirmatory of this," continued the acting prime minister, "is the peremptory notification to the government on Thursday last, without previous intimation or discussion that the Grand Trunk Pacific would on March 10, discontinue operations entirely, regardless of consequences to Canada through interruption of traffic over a system so extensive and important."

Previous to his explanation of this matter, Sir Thomas White was able to announce that the government of Great Britain has decided that there shall be in the future no restrictions against imports from the Dominion.

Major-General Mewburn, in the course of his speech, announced that the Siberian force would return to Canada soon. He said that if the expectations of the department of militia were realized, the Canadian soldiers will all be home by August and stated that the question of the granting of a Canadian medal to Canadian soldiers and to next-of-kin who lost their lives in service is being considered.

Speeches by Joseph Demers, St. John Iberville; H. A. Mackie, Edmonton, and H. S. Des Lauriers, Montreal, brought the session to a close for the day.

Hon. N. W. Rowell moved the adjournment and will be the first speaker Tuesday.

White Reads Letters.

Sir Thomas White read to the house copies of previous letters which passed between Mr. Scott and himself. On Feb 25, Mr. Scott wrote as follows:

"Referring to our recent conversations, I am in receipt of a cable from Mr. Smithers stating that in the anticipation of receiving the balance of the appropriation of $7,000,000, viz.: $951,911 to apply for interest on Grand Trunk Pacific debentures stock due March 1, payment was duly advertised. In consequence, however, of the remittance being complied with the condition that it is to be used only for operating obligations, the company will be unable to meet the interest on the first proximo, and a situation will result.

"I respectfully beg to draw your attention to the matter in order that the actual position and possible consequences may be fully appreciated."

On Feb. 2 Sir Thomas replied to Mr. Scott as follows:

"I beg to formally acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 25th instant which you personally handed to me in

ANXIOUS OVER TRADE QUESTION

Liberal Leader in British House Says United States Is Capturing Much Business

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, March 10.—Sir Donald McLean, Liberal leader in the house of commons, today asked for a definite statement concerning the government's trade policy. Sir Donald said the entire business community was in a state of unrest and uncertainty and that he desired to know what trade could be done and under what conditions. The United States, he added, was doing a large business in markets formerly British in Asia and South America and that Japan also was capturing trade. Sir Donald said he had been informed on creditable authority that something approaching guarantees had been given some industries for maintaining prices at a certain level for three or four years, including the great soap industry.

Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of reconstruction, answering Sir Donald, said the policy of the government was that no import restrictions would continue to be imposed on goods coming from any part of the Empire without the consent of the war office on raw materials required and industries.

Manufactured articles would be subject to restrictions until Sept. 1, Sir Auckland continued, when the case would come up for revision. There would be no restrictions, he said, on exports to non-blockade countries or manufactures. The government, he declared, hoped this policy would enable the country's trade to recover and become greater than in the past.

35 000 RESTIVE IN SOUTH YARDS

Official Says Disturbances in Frisco Yards May Result Seriously Within a Few Days

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Announcement by R. H. Brotherton, special industrial examiner for the shipping board, that between 35,000 and 40,000 men may be idle here in a few days as the result of present labor disturbances in the shipyards, and a reported "lockout" of a large number of boilermakers in Oakland for taking the Saturday half holiday were today's strike developments in the San Francisco bay region.

All of the 9000 or more now out here were made idle because of difficulties over the Saturday half holiday. Most of the men were dismissed by their employers for their refusal to forego this half holiday.

ARREST LAWYER AND ANOTHER MAN ON CROOKED LAND COUNT

REGINA, March 10.—Alexander V. Darrach, barrister, Winnipeg, and John B. Ward, of Abbey, Sask, were arrested today by the provincial police and will face a preliminary hearing tomorrow before magistrate MacEachern charged with each registering a mortgage for $4000 against the land of James F. Gaud, of Abbey, Sask, without having proper authority, also with not having accounted for monies collected on these mortgages. The charges arise out of two powers of attorney which Gaud gave and which, it is alleged, he revoked so far as Ward is concerned.

SAYS MEN WERE ANXIOUS TO RETURN

CALGARY, March 10.—Private W. H. Clarke, late of the 89th battalion and the son of the late Commissioner S. J. Clarke of Calgary, superintendent of the Banff national park, and Private P. O'Reilly of the 56th battalian, who arrived back home the other day, fully confirm the statement as to the cause of the trouble at the Kinmel park camp, Rhyl. It is just a matter in connection with transportation. Both these men also state that much of the blame attaches to those in charge of the official papers; it is quite a common thing for these, by some means or other, to be mislaid or lost and this is much resented by the soldiers. Another feature in connection with the trouble is that men who have never been to France have been given the preference over those who have been in the trenches for four years or more.

Private Clarke and Private O'Reilly knew Gunner William Hinney, who is reported one of the casualties in the riot, quite well. They state that Hinney was a fine type of man and has seen long service in France. Like others, he was naturally anxious to get back home. His was one of the cases, they state, where his papers were lost. It would appear from what these men state that there is a complete absence of system at Kinmel park.

SAYS IRELAND SHOULD STAY

Plunkett Believes Erin Ought to Have Self-Government, but Better Remain in Empire

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

BOSTON, Mass., March 10.—Sir Horace Plunkett of Dublin, in an address to the state senate today, said that self-government for Ireland was necessary, but that for the present it would be better for Ireland to remain a member of "the commonwealth of nations known as the British Empire."

Sir Horace said he believed a settlement of the Irish question would be reached presently, and that the labor movement in England and other countries would have some influence upon the destinies of his country.

"The Irish question," he said, "can be solved only by Irishmen."

AIRPLANE FALLS IN MUD; 7 PASSENGERS UNHURT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 10.—A government airplane en route to Philadelphia from the Standard Aircraft company here, plunged to the ground with seven army officers on the outskirts of the city today. First reports said no one was injured, the machine landing in a bed of mud alongside a stream.

WANT TO KNOW ABOUT 10 PER CENT PAYMENT

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

CALGARY, March 10.—Calgary veterans have been made exceedingly angry at an incident which occurred today in which a married veteran was turned down when he applied for land without paying the 10 per cent of the purchase price, in spite of the promise made by S. Maber of the settlement board that this 10 per cent would be waived in case of married men. It now appears that Ottawa had no intention that this should be done. The veterans tonight sent a hot wire to the board at Ottawa demanding to know if this 10 per cent is to be really waived or not.

The veterans also denounce what they term an apparent collusion between the government and the Hudson's Bay company to retain certain lands from settlement. It appears that veterans in applying for this land can get no satisfaction either from the Hudson's Bay company or the government officials here as to the exact status of this particular land.

PASS 14 BILLS IN WINNIPEG

Others Are Given Second Reading in Manitoba Legislature During Evening Session

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WINNIPEG, March 10.—Fourteen bills were passed and fourteen given their second reading at the sitting of the legislature tonight, among the latter being the legislation to provide for the transmission of electrical power in the province, a bill establishing an industrial research bureau, a bill to sanction the borrowing of capital expenditures amounting to $12,672,000, and a bill to amend the amusement taxation act which lifts the theatre seat tax and deprives by that amendment the province of from $12,000 to $15,000 annually. In regard to the latter Hon. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer, explained that it was considered somewhat unfair that this tax should be imposed inasmuch as in cities the municipality had a tax. It had also been found to work a hardship in country districts, he said.

In moving the second reading of the capital expenditures bill the provincial treasurer informed the house that two issues of $500,000 each at 5½ per cent had been sold at par and accrued interest owing to what he described as the satisfactory state of the money market now.

The act respecting the soldiers' land settlement board, given second reading on the motion of Premier Norris, gives the board power to purchase or expropriate land within the jurisdiction of the legislature of Manitoba.

Before the house adjourned F. J. Dixon, Independent member for Winnipeg Centre, moved his resolution, asking the legislature to declare itself in favor of public ownership of all natural resources. The debate was adjourned on motion of A. J. Lobb, Lockwood.

The bills passed included the amendment of the Workmen's Compensation act and the registering and licensing of produce dealers.

100,000 MEN FOR DEFENSE OF GERMANY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, March 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The supreme war council today finally adopted the military terms of German disarmament. These provide for an army of 100,000 men enlisted for 12 years.

Representation Question.

PARIS, March 10.—By the Associated Press)—The supreme war council settled the dispute in the recent question of the small powers on the financial and economic commission, by deciding to leave the question to the representatives itself, thus eliminating all contention between the European and Latin American countries as to proportion of representation.

This decision was reached on a report of M. Pichon, French foreign minister, which recommended that nations, like Brazil, Panama and Cuba with special interests involved in the actions of these committees, which had taken some part in the war, should, in any case, be represented.

The small nations had asked that their representation be increased to 10 members, in order to satisfy all parties. The council decided to increase their representation to seven members on each commission to be selected by the council itself.

Switzerland's Outlet.

PARIS, March 10—The waterways commission today discussed the question of navigation of the Rhine, which involves a settlement of claims by Switzerland for privileges that country has never enjoyed. Eventual possession by the French of Alsace-Lorraine would give Switzerland claims to the right of navigation forever. Plans for deciding the right and the building of lighthouses, also came up for consideration.

PADEREWSKI ASKS FOR AID FROM ALLIES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

POSEN, March 10.—Premier Paderewksi arrived here Saturday to explain to the inter-allied mission the critical position of the Poles on the Lemberg front. He insisted that it was necessary that immediate aid be given them by the entente in the way of material and munitions.

The fall of Lemberg, the premier declared, would produce the most painful impression among the Poles and strengthen the extreme left of the opposition in the diet to the Paderewski government.

EXPLORERS RIDE ON ICE FLOE

N. W. M. P. at Dawson Say Storkerson On Way to Ottawa After Time in Beaufort Sea.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

DAWSON, Y. T., March 10.—Northwest Mounted Police who arrived here with advices from Herschel Island and Fort McPherson, bring word that Storker Storkerson, assistant to Stefannson of the Canadian Arctic expedition, is en route from Herschel via Fort Yukon, to Ottawa, travelling with dog teams and toboggans. After Stefannson left Herschel a year ago for Ottawa via Dawson, Storerson and five men left Barter island, March 25, 1918, over the ice on an expedition into Beaufort sea. After an eight months trip they arrived back on the mainland near the mouth of the Colville river on Nov. 7. The object of the expedition was to ascertain the direction of the ice drift and to gather other scientific data. The party travelled 250 miles north of Barter island, where they established a permanent camp on a huge ice floe 30 miles long by 7 wide and from 50 to 100 feet thick. On this ice they drifted 100 miles west, 70 miles north and 50 east, apparently drifting somewhat in a circle, so that when leaving the ice island they were approximately in the same position as when they first got on it.

REDUCE WAGES ONE CENT AN HOUR IN SHIPYARDS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10.—Effective as from March 1, a reduction in wages of one cent an hour in all local shipyards and contract shops will take place, resulting from the award handed down by Adjuster W. L. MacDonald, based on the cost of living clause in the Robertson agreement, under which these shops are operated.

The basic rate of pay in the local yards and contract shops to Feb. 28 was $6.24 a day and this will be reduced under the new award to $6.16 a day.

CANCEL ENGAGEMENT OF GERMAN OPERA COMPANY

NEW YORK, March 10.—At the instance of Mayor Hylan and Police Inspector Enright, who decided that the projected performances might provoke disorder, the management of the Lexington theatre today cancelled arrangements for a series of German operas, the first of which was to be presented tonight.

A committee of soldiers and sailors bearing a petition signed by 2000 persons, had called on the mayor, demanding that the signing of the operas be prevented.

DAWSON, Y. T., March 10.—Mounted police returning from the Arctic say that Fort McPherson reports the poorest fur harvest ever known.

WOULD CHANGE LABOR POLICY

Vancouver Delegate at Calgary Conference Says Let Party Be Out for Action

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

CALGARY, Alta., March 10.—The resolution submitted on Monday morning by V. R. Midgley of Vancouver at the convention of the British Columbia federation of labor came somewhat in the nature of an earthquake, but, nevertheless, after a lengthy discussion which lasted until shortly after 4 p. m. it was carried unanimously. The resolution, which is appended, calls for a complete and radical change in policy and calls for the building up of a labor party that will be out for action Follwing is the tert of the resolution:

"Whereas, great and drastic changes have taken place in the industrial world, and, whereas, in the past the policy of the British Columbia federation of labor in sending its executive committee to Victoria pleading for the passage of legislation which is never passed and would be futile if it were, is now obsolete if it ever were useful; therefore be it

"Resolved, that this convention lay down as its future policy the building up of organizations of workers on industrial lines for the purpose of enforcing, by virtue of their industrial strength, such demands as such organizations may at any time consider necessary for their continued maintenace and well being, and shall not be, as heretofore, for the purpose of attempting to persuade legislative assemblies to amend, add to or take from existing statutes allegedly called labor laws, and be it further

"Resolved that the committee on constitution and law be instructed to amend the constitution of the British Columbia federation of labor in addition to the policy herein laid down."

Attack on Policy

David Rees, vice-president of the trades congress of Canada, remarked that it was a direct attack on the policy of the British Columbia federation and ought to be referred to the committee. Mr. Midgley denied that to be the case, but rather it was a matter of reconstruction. He was supported in his opinion by Delegate Harris Olman, representing the loggers, who thought the question a vital one that should be decided at once.

Delegate McVity of Vancouver said that the resolution was tantamount to confessing that political action was a failure.

At the afternoon session Midgley again returned to the attack and referred to the uselessness of a good deal of the work done in the past. Acts were passed that were not carried out and referred to the Factories act, which was being continually violated. Delegate Stevenson, representing the carpenters of Vancouver, said he was tired of the so-called political activities of the British Columbia federation, and Delegate Alexander of the steam and operating engineers told of some bitter experiences of some of their men. Delegate Sinclair favored the resolution if we are to accomplish anything. The world is in the process of being levelled out, and reorganization is certainly necessary, but emphasized the point that much work was to be done before the resolution can be carried into effect.

Delegate Nixon of the shipwrights agreed that the party needed action and asked what had labor done in the past.

WEEKS BEFORE YARDS BUSY

Machinery to Be Repaired and General Disorganization to Hinder Work at Coast

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—Although tomorrow is the time set for re-opening the shipyards of Tacoma, Aberdeen and Seattle, following the calling off of the strike of metal trades workers which began Jan. 21, shipyard owners at conferences today estimated it would be several weeks before the yards again will be in full swing.

Rain and bad weather conditions and lack of usage, it was said, will necessitate a large amount of repairs to machinery in the yards.

Contract shops, not so affected by weather conditions, were expected to be in full blast Tuesday. Conditions in the wooden shipyards were uncertain. Uncompleted ships, it was said, would be given first attention.

LEMIEUX SAYS GRANT AMNESTY TO OBJECTORS

OTTAWA, March 10.—In the opinion of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux amnesty should now be granted to religious, conscientious objectors to military service. He has given notice of a resolution to this effect which he proposes to have discussed in the house. Another resolution by Mr. Lemieux calls upon the government to take adequate means to foster and develop our trade with France.

Mr. Lemieux also proposes that newspapers, magazines, trade journals publishing articles destined to influence public opinion shall be compelled from time to time to publish sworn statements setting forth the names of the owners, managers, editors, stockholders, bondholders and any other person having an interest in the publication.

Mr. Lemieux intends evidently to institute a debate in the house on the question of bank mergers, as he has given notice of a resolution asking for details as to all mergers authorized since October 1, 1911. Mr. Provost is asking for a return giving the number of French-Canadian members of the Canadian expeditionary force killed at the front, or died of wounds, since the beginning of hostilities to the present date.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Downed Spruce Inquiry.

The spruce inquiry proposal of the opposition leader did not get very far in the legislature last week, the government refusing to adopt it by a vote of 29 to 12. Mr. Bowser had desired the appointment of a select committee to investigate a complaint that J. R. Morgan & Co. had been allowed a spruce permit on property which was to be crown granted to James Adam. The Morgan firm had originally negotiated with Adam for the spruce, but later got a permit direct from the government and Adam thus lost about $5000, that being the proposed purchase price during the negotiations.

Hand One to Gioima.

Pte. Gioima had the unique distinction this week of being one of the very first men in a British Columbia legislaturue to have a notice of resolution refused by the the speaker, so that it never came before the house at all. His motion was that the house express the opinion that it had been wasting too much time in petty partizanship and political philandering and should at once take up the important problems of the day. Mr. Speaker Keen decided that the motion was a reflection upon the dignity of the house, hence it never appeared upon the legislative order paper.

Lieut. Hanes had no luck at all last week. Day after day he brought up reslutions asking for P. G. E. inquiries of one sort or another, or else dealing with returned soldiers issues, but with almost monotonous regularily they fell by the wayside. Either Mr. Speaker Keen ruled them out of order or else the majority defeated them. The North Vancouver member declares that he intends to persist, however.

The new soldier member, Kenneth Duncan, of Cowichan, has made his appearance in the house. His seat had originally been with the soldier party. Later it was moved over to the government side. When he took his place in the legislature from overseas he promptly had his desk moved back to a position with the other soldiers, declaring that he was elected as an independent soldier candidate, and not as a government supporter. There are now eight Conservatives, five soldiers, one Socialist and a couple of Independent Liberals in the legislature, as arrayed against about 30 regular government supporters.

One of the most interesting bills of the session is the new initiative and referendum measure. As a measure it has had a troubled course, meeting many opponents and but few supporters. The opposition leader said that it was cumbersome and ineffective. There were so many trimmings about it that it could not be used and in any event the principle was entirely unBritish because the duty of preparing and passing legislation should lie with the men chosen for that task. They should not "pass the buck" back to the people. It was paper legislation of the worst kind, he contended, and its principle would go a long way towards destroying responsible government, although there was doubt in his mind, he said, if it would ever be used. He went into the bill in detail to show that any referendum initiated under it could not become law before 1922, and possibly 1923. One thing it lacked also, he said, and that was the recall. If only there was some provision for a recall then the people are large could follow out the natural sequence and recall the present administration. Mr. Bowser said he would be quite willing to have a 75 per cent petition made obligatory for this so sure was he that the recall would be successful. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, Socialist, said that the measure was a fraud in every way. In principle it was bad, in practise it was worse.

Several other members scored the new baby bill. Attorney General Farris and J. S. Cowper have been its defenders so far. The attorney-general, who mthe opopsition leader had described as the wicked member of the government, took up the question of expense and said that simply because an initiated referendum might cost $150,000 as Bowser had claimed, was no reason why the people of the province should not have the right of direct legislation if they cared to exercise it. If the percentage of petition and vote were too high in the measure they could be changed, he pointed out.

WINNIPEG CIVIC WORKERS WANT INCREASED WAGES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OFFERS $50,000 TO GO ON FIRST ATLANTIC FLIGHT

NEW YORK—"Fifty thousand dollars has been offered by a prominent business man for the privilege of being carried as mechanic in the first trans-Atlantic flight made in an airplane," said Henry Woodhouse, a member of the board of governors of the Aero Club of America, in an address before the American Geographical society.

"I am not at liberty to make his name public," he added, "but I might say that he is a progressive business man, experienced in the manipulation of gas engines, who is so enthusiastic over the proposed flight that he deems this sum reasonable for the distinction of being permitted to attend to the motors on this historic occasion."

The subject of Mr. Woodhouse's address was, "The Trail of the Airplane," in which he reviewed the development of aircraft from the time of the first experiments by the Romans and Chinese up until the present day.

He lauded the plans made for Capt. Bartlett's arctic expedition, where airplanes will be employed in exploration of the unknown arctic regions. He also told about the large dirigibles being developed by the British, that are capable of carrying 100 tons of useful cargo and which, it is hoped, will be able to travel 10,000 miles without descending.

PLAYFUL SEAL MISTAKEN FOR DROWNING DOG

GREENPORT, N. Y.—While crossing the harbor here a few days ago Lawyer Le Roy E. Raynor of this place saw what he supposed was a dog swimming in the water and drew his boat near, intending to take the animal aboard, because it was a long distance from shore and the current was strong. As the boat approached the animal disappeared, coming to the surface at the stern. Again the lawyer went for the "dog," and again it disappeared. The third time the animal came up Mr. Raynor discovered that he had been playing hide and seek with a handsome specimen of the fur seal, very rare in these waters. Before he reached shore he saw the seal joined by a mate.

SOME STRENGTH SHOWN ON MART

Lion's Share of Brisk Day's Business Transacted in First Part of Session, Losses Being Recorded Later

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, March 10.—Wall street manifested a degree of confidence and exuberance today, compared to the demonstration witnessed Saturday, although the movement seemed to derive its chief impetus from professional sources.

The great bulk of the day's operations occurred in the first two hours, later dealings being marked by caution and consequent realizing, which provoked varaible recessions and a few net losses.

U. S. Steel and some of the standard rails yielded to a greater extent than specialties and speculative shares as a whole. Steel became hesitant after publication of the February tonnage statement, disclosing another large decreas in unfilled orders and ended at one point loss.

In addition to United States Steel, a very considerable proportion of the dealings comprised allied industrials and equipments, shippings, motors and other accessories, coppers, tobaccos and oils.

The latter made the better showing in the main, making higher quotations when other leaders were showing the effects of profit-taking. Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch and Texas company registered extreme gains of 3 to 6 points.

Sales amounted to 1,250,000 shares. Bonds failed to keep pace with the rapid movement in stocks, the tone as a whole being irregular, both for domestice and foreign issues. Total sales, $11,150,000.

Old U. S. bonds unchanged.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted.

Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling, that makes breathing difficult and sleep impossible.

Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, with which is combined wild cherry bark and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Miss Margaret Landly, Bristol, P.E.I. writes: "I am writing to tell you the benefit I have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

"Last fall I took a severe cough and cold in my head. I was unable to do anything. At night I could not sleep but cough, cough all night long. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and before the second bottle was used I was entirely cured and I have found this the best cough medicine I can buy.

CANADIAN STEAMSHIPS IN DEMAND AT TORONTO

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, March 10.—Pronounced weakness in Canadian Cement and demand for Canadian Steamships preferred with a resultant advance in price were the features of the trading on the Toronto stock exchange today.

Cement which with a turnover of 1150 chares contributed more than half the deals in stocks opened at 68½. Free offerings forced a recession to 66½ at which the stock closed 2½ points down. The action of the stock indicated inside selling.

CANADA COPPER CORPORATION HAVING HEAVY HAULING DONE

PRINCETON, B.C., March 10.—The Star says: Some tremendously heavy loads have been hauled up to Copper Mountain on sleighs this winter. Advantage was taken of the good sleighing to get the compressors and other machinery of the Canada Copper Corporation up at the mines so that it can be installed and be ready for operation by the time the high power line is built and the "juice" is ready to be turned on.

The load which broke all records was hauled last week by one of W. S. Garrison's outfits. It was a piece of electrical machinery and weighed nine tons. It was hauled by 10 horses most of the way, but 12 were on a part of the time. Gus Clerf was the "skinner" and the big load was taken through without a mishap. The start was made from Princeton at 7 in the morning and Voigt's Camp was reached at 3 in the afternoon, the distance being about nine miles. But most of the next day was consumed in getting the load over the remaining three miles between Voigt's and Copper Mountain.

A 12-ton compressor wheel, in two sections, made two other comfortable loads of six tons each. Each of these loads was hauled by six horses, or an average weight of a ton to the horse.

In Ottawa three hundred store clerks, including man women, formed a union. They complain of too long hours.

CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE GIVES STRANGER WELCOME

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—When the stranger comes to Philadelphia he may expect varied modes of entertainment. KILLS MOUNTAIN LION THAT MEASURES SIX FEET

VENTURA, Cal.—Joe Thompson of the Thompson ranch in the Ojai was fixing a fence one day and turned around to find a mountain lion crouched and staring at him. He had no weapon and fearing the cat was about to spring, grabbed a couple of handfuls of gravel and flung them at him. The cat walked away. Fifteen minute later the animal was shot and killed by Jim Thompson. The beast measured six feet from tip to tip.

"DRY" U. S. WILL SEE MUCH CRIME, JUDGE BELIEVES

NEW YORK.—The prohibition and drug laws were denounced by Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan in West Side court, who said there is more crime in this city than ever before and added that conditions would be worse when pohibition shall have become effective.

Magistrate Corrigan had just heard the case of Minnie Gilbert, 22 years old, charged with having narcotics in her possession. After expressing sympathy for the prisoner, whose attorney admitted she was an addict, Magistrate Corrigan said:

"It is not the person that uses the drug who is to blame. It is the rate of a doctor who gives prescriptions to poor devils who have the habit. I do not think half the doctors have any other kind of patients. The law is a farce and a joke. It is similar to the Sullivan law, under which a person cannot have a revolver in his home to protect himself against burglars.

"There is more crime in New York city since the Harrison and Sullivan laws went into effect than ever and when prohibition comes it will be worse. Drug addicts will increase from 25 to 50 per cent. This city will then be as other cities since prohibition went into effect, and we will be pestered with Bolsheviki meetings on every corner.

"What I have mentioned are the three farces—the Harrison law, the Sullivan law and prohibition. They all aid in crime."

Hamilton city council instructed the tax collector to take any legal means necessary to enforce the payment of back taxes.

Sixteen new members were added to the Kitchener board of trade roll of 210.

FINDER TAKES OWN REWARD; IT WAS A BOX OF CANDY

IMPERIAL, Cal.—While returning from a visit to Pasadena recently H. L. Elsworth, rancher, residing near this city, lost a grip while his car was bumping over rough spots in the road to the valley. It contained much valuable jewelry, including a diamond ring, a gold watch, cotton warehouse receipts, and other personal property worth several thousand dollars. Among other articles there was also a box of fine candy intended for a member of Mr. Ellsworth's family.

The suitcase was missed upon Mr. Ellsworth's arrival home. In the mail next morning came a letter telling of the finding of the grip by a Banning resident. Mr. Ellsworth requested the property to be sent to him at Imperial When the suitcase arrived it contained every article of value—except the candy.

GERMAN FAMILIES FEAST WHEN HORSE BREAKS LEG

THE DALES, Ore.—Food conditions are such in Germany that even horse meat is relished as a rare delicacy, according to a letter received here from John W. Heintz, who is stationed with the American army of occupation at Eitelborn, Germany.

"Food is pretty scarce in Germany," he writes, "especially meat. One of our horses broke a leg a few days ago and had to be shot. All the people in town came out with knives and baskets and took away every particle of the horse, bones and all. Nothing was left except a few blood stains."

Who Have Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Muskoka Man Tells How After Four Months' Illness. He Found the Remedy for All His Ailments.

Larchwood, Algoma, Ont., March 10.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills did me good and I want everybody to know it." So says Mr. Cyrus Correll, a well known farmer living near here.

"I was sick for four months," Mr. Correll continued, "My trouble started from a combined cold and strain. I suffered from Neuralgia, and had pains in my back. I was often dizzy.

"My sleep was broken and unrefreshing, I was tired and nervous and I had a nasty taste in my mouth in the morning. I was depressed and low spirited, I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, and there was a heavy dragging sensation across the loins.

"I didn't bother with the doctor. I had Dodd's Almanac with me, and I sent right off for two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Before I had taken half a box I began to feel better. Now I want everybody to know how good I feel, and that Dodd's Kidney Pills did it."

Mr. Correll's sypmptoms are all symptoms of kidney trouble. He struck right at the root of the trouble by treating the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. That's why he got such good results, and got them so quick.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a national reputation as a kidney remedy. Ask your neighbors about them.

Good Rubbers Mean Foot Comfort, Shoe Economy and Health Protection

Why are they comfortable? Because in the Dominion Rubber System brands, you can get just the size and shape of rubbers to perfectly fit every pair of shoes.

That is one advantage of having a great organization like the Dominion Rubber System to study your needs. With factories and service branches all over Canada; and with experts in constant touch with the leading shoe manufacturers, the Dominion Rubber System is able to make and supply your dealer with every style of rubbers required.

How do Rubbers economize on shoes? They protect shoes against slush and rain—make shoes wear longer and hold their shape better—and enable you to wear old shoes in bad weather.

Is it necessary to speak of health protection? With the epidemic of "Flu" so vividly in mind, and the warning of physicians to keep the feet dry, surely no one will run the risk of going without rubbers on wet days!

When you choose rubbers, ask for one of these brands:

"Jacques Cartier" "Merchants" "Maple Leaf"
"Granby" "Dominion" "Daisy"

These trademarks guarantee quality; and behind these trademarks is the Dominion Rubber System, a power of protection to every pair of these guaranteed rubbers.

DAYLIGHT SAVING FOR THE DOMINION.

There are indications that considerable opposition to daylight saving is being developed in the rural districts of Ontario and that this opposition is being voiced by members in parliament from some of the Ontario constituencies.

There is no sound ground for these objections, which are founded more upon prejudice than reason.

Daylight saving has worked out to splendid advantage now that it has been tested as a Dominion-wide measure. It proved equally successful in the United States and Great Britain and in both those countries will again be in force during the coming summer.

The government at Ottawa should not hesitate to make the daylight saving measure, which was brought into effect under the War Measures act, a permanent measure, effective annually without having to be dealt with each session by parliament. It is safe to assert that in a few years the opposition to the measure will have dwindled to practically nothing.

UP TO BRITISH COLUMBIA TO GET IN LINE.

Throughout the Dominion there is increasing realization of the necessity for scientific investigation of natural resources and practical stimulation of industrial development. Since its inception, these have been outstanding policies of the Canadian Reconstruction association. Now both Manitoba and Alberta are taking practical measures to put these policies into effect. In Alberta the provincial government has established a department of industry under the Hon. A. G. Mackay. Its chief function will be to determine by investigation what industries can be successfully and profitably established in the province and to encourage the development of natural resources. In Manitoba, after a conference between the cabinet ministers and representatives of the Manufacturers' association, the industrial ad development section of the Winnipeg board of trade, Lieut. J. W. Wilton, M. P. P., and others, the government has decided to create a commission to investigate the natural resources of the province and to encourage the establishment of industries.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE THAT OF A BARGAINER.

The allied world regarded the acceptance of the armistice as virtually an unconditional surrender. But Germany does not speak the language of a vanquished foe. It uses the terminology of bargain. It continues to drag in Mr. Wilson's fourteen points, with insulting reflections on the good faith of the allies, while seeking to twist some of their general principles to defeat the two specific points as to Poland and Alsace-Lorraine, an intolerable method of interpretation. The protest against investigations looking to the return of stolen French and Belgian machinery is another example of the German attitude. Recent reports from Poland indicate that Germany's contentions as to the disturbance there are not based on facts. There have been no open German threats to renew hostilities, but there have been covert hints that raise the suspicion that at least some Germans in high places are still unregenerate in heart. But this will accomplish nothing. The possibility of dividing the allies has passed.

The Cleveland Americans are now speeding on their way toward New Orleans to start training for the season. Surely spring is coming.

President Wilson really ought to be given a day off to tell the world what he thinks of these filibustering Republican senators, or perhaps a day would not be enough, says the Montreal Star.

Reports of conscientious objectors going to jail for refusing to fight and the fact that Willard and Dempsey seem to be unable to find a place to fight completely upsets the old saying about men being alike.

It's an ill wind that blows no good for the farmer these days. If Hoover is anywhere near right in his forecast, the balmy days are not yet passed for the grain grower, who may now look for wheat prices to be around the $2.50 mark.

When Corp. Jensen got stuck in the mud in No Man's Land and his life was in jeopardy, Pte. O'Neil was one of those who volunteered to go after him. Later O'Neil got into a bad fix and Jensen saved his life. The boys over there learned to know real comradeship, to render real service and better understand life.

COMMUNICATION

WANTS NAMES OF CADETS WHO SERVED WITH COLORS.

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir—I have received a communication from the inspector of cadets for M. D. No. 11, asking me to supply him, for the information of headquarters at Ottawa, as soon as possible, with the names of any cadets or ex-cadets who have served or enlisted in the C. E. F.

I am, of course, able to supply the necessary information with regard to the present cadet corps, but there was a cadet corps in connection with the Nelson schools some six or seven years ago, of which I have not been able to obtain any records. It is most probable that several members of that corps are or have been serving in the forces in some capacity or other, so I shall be pleased if you will allow me to make it known through your columns that I shall be most happy to receive the names of any that have so served, together with the unit in which they served and any other information likely to be of interest in this connection.

Your truly,
CHARLES W. BUSK,
Instructor C. C. No. 695.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

(Vilda Sauvage Owens in New York Times)

Be humble, O America! Let not
The idle boast, the weak vainglory, blot
The fair white page of our achievement. Let Us not in this triumphant hour forget
The years we, hesitating, held aloof,
While nations trembled 'neath the cloven hoof.

Forget not Belgium! With unerring blow
She hurled her slender body 'gainst the foe,
And, bleeding, writhing, paid the awful toll,
To save a world and her immortal soul.
Forget not France! Unfaltering she came,
Unfurled her banner, crying Freedom's name.
For four long years she flashed her fiery sword,
And checked the onslaught of that barbarous horde.
Bare are the fields where sleep her hallowed dead,
But God has planted poppies on each bed.

Forget not Britain! With her little band
Of "Old Contemptibles" she took her stand,
And, fearless, faced an overwhelming foe,
Met thrust with thrust and blow with furious blow,
Till, spent with toil, yet heeding still the call,
She smiled at death, her back against the wall.

Be humble, O America! Our dead
Lie proudly side by side with those who bled
That liberty might live. Be it our pride
We came not quite too late, but turned the tide,
And led the way to victory! Thank God
That in the bloody path we, too, have trod;
That in Gethsemane we, too, have stood;
That of the consecrated, crimson flood,
That spread beneath the shrapnel's blighting show'rs,
One splendid, brave, redeeming drop was ours.

COLD STORAGE.

In the same compartment as a well known comedians was one of those nervous old ladies who travel in fear of collisions.

At every jolt or sudden stop she cried out: "Have we left the metals? Is it an accident? Are we going to be killed?"

Presently she addressed the comedian: "And you, sir, are you not afraid of railway accidents?"

"Not I," replied the funny one, reassuringly. "It has been foretold that I am to die on the scaffold."

The nervous lady changed carriages at the next station.

THE WAR IS NOT OVER.

Democracy will wait. Democracy will give Russia her choice to carry the war to the outer world. Democracy will give unrepentant Germany her chance to make common cause with Russian Bolshevism. Only if chances are grasped by Russians and Germans will democracy consent to fight. This is the sentiment of the majority of leaders at Paris, and France must acquiesce. At the Princes Islands Russian Bolshevism will make its worthless promises; at Paris or Versailles German representatives will wrathfully assent to the terms which are now being formulated. "The war is not over till it is over." As yet the war against Germany is not even technically over, while the war against Russia has never even been begun. Germanism and Bolshevism are very much alike. The world democracies think and talk only of peace; while Germany nourishes her hate and dissembles and the Bolshevists wax stronger and more zealous with every new indication that the allies too greatly dread the task of cleaning Russia's Augean stables.

MARRIAGE MARKETS

(By Henry De Halsalel in the London Daily Mail.)

Marriage in the land of kultur has ever been a sordid affair of barter. In all large German towns there are certain places and certain days where and when members of the middle and well-to-do classes assemble for the purpose of arranging bethrothals.

Army officers, heavily in debt, roues whose health has been ruined by debauchery, manufacturers threatened with bankruptcy, merchants and officials in monetary difficulties—all these seek matrimonial partners suitable for their particular requirements. Such assemblies are aptly known as "marriage markets."

In Germany it is absolutely necessary that a woman desiring a husband should possess a "dot," and the larger the dot the better chance she has of finding the man. Money will always compensate the German for any defect of physique or character; and the unsatisfactory state of affairs arising out of these ill-assorted and sordid unions is indicated in statistics. For the period of 1897-07, the number of divorce petitions in the fatherland was 20,340, as against 965 in England for the period 1900-1910.

But not all German marriages are arranged in the "markets." The advertisement columns of the press also afford useful media. Frequently these matrimonial advertisements are the only items of humor appearing in the Berlin principal news sheets; but no German deems them humorous.

The Teuton father, too, has often a graceful touch in advertising an unneeded daughter. Thus a notification from the Berliner Tageblatt:

"I have an excellent daughter to marry, who refused many good offers when young. She is now 29, and I would give a good dowry to a suitable husband, a tradesman if possible, or well-to-do artisan if pious and averse from alcohol."

What, one wonders, would an Englishwoman (confessing to 29) have to say if she found that her parent had advertised the fact that she was no longer young; and what sort of a reception would await the pious, teetotal workman when he presented himself?

PEACE AND THE GARDEN

(By Edith Stevenson Rutherford in Canadian Horticulturist.)

Altogether it was a good year, and as always my garden was a source of pleasure and comfort. Indeed, I do not know how I could have borne all the horror and misery of the war had I not been able to forget it sometimes when working among my flowers. And now that the war is over shall we not need more to learn the lessons taught among the peace and beauty of a garden. One of the most dominant notes in all the soldier writings I have seen is the stress laid upon beauty, the beauty of nature especialy. Canada has been to our boys across in blood-stained multilated France a pleace they remembered as beautiful, and to me it seems like a sacred trust to encourage the love of flowers and gardens; of beauty herself, all over our dear land. We must learn that riches and power can never be such a force for good in the lives of our children as the memory of a childhood spent in a lovely garden.

WAITED THEIR CHANCE

The Poles are at last united; they have a government and they are willing to create adequate defenses. When they are in this situation Germany promises to attack them. If in these circumstances America, France and England do not hold Germany back with a grip of iron they are unworthy to be called the champions of freedom. When Germany struck down Belgium at the beginning of the war we had at least the excuse that we were not ready. Now that she proposes to strike down Poland at the end of the war we have no longer that excuse. We were unable to prevent the one crime. We can prevent the other. And if it is not done history will say that the allies not only permitted this crime which Germany now contemplates but shared in it.—London Morning Post.

He—Don't act the fool.
She—There you go. You want a monopoly of everything.

DON'T ROCK THE BOAT.

Great Britain has led the world in the race for constitutional government. It is peculiarly her duty to see that the welfare of the world, which was the object of the war, is not lost in general disorder. Every class and individual must exercise during the armistice the same self-restraint and self-sacrifice practised to attain the overthrow of Germany. The motto for today is, "Don't rock the boat." Let it not be written of us in the future that we fought like heroes and threw away the results like fools.—London Daily Express.

FALLS 700 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Tied Rope Around His Body to Prevent Slipping, and Falling Rock Cuts It.

PRINCETON, March 10.—The Star says: Ole Adolph Bjorkman, employed at Camp 10 on W. P. Tierney's Copper Mountain railway construction work, met with his death in a peculiar manner last Wednesday. He was starting some rock work near the top of an almost perpendicular cliff, and had tied a rope around his waist to prevent him from falling. While standing on a narrow ledge at his work, a large rock above him became loose, fell on the rope and broke it and the man dropped, slid and rolled nearly 700 feet down the precipitous mountain side. His body was badly crushed and bruised. The remains were brought to Princeton by D. M. French, undertaker, and an inquest was held today.

Deceased was born in Sweden 41 years ago, and was single. The accident happened close to Copper Mountain on the Honeysuckle mineral claim, owned by Thos. Day of Princeton.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

SIR SAM COMES IN FOR CRITICISM

my office here. I note what Mr. Smithers states in his cable as to the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company being unable to meet the interest due on its securities on March 1. With reference to the balance of the appropriation of the vote of $7,500,000 by parliament the sum of $923,311 was paid to your company on your certificate No. 10, dated Jan. 28, 1919, duly approved by the acting deputy minister of the department of railways and canals. This certificate expressly states that this sum is on account of a cash deficit in the operations of the company from April 1 to Nov. 30, 1918, inclusive, and is required to enable the company to meet its operating obligations. The small balance of the vote, amounting to $28,000, will, I understand, be required for the same purpose. There seems no doubt that the deficit in operation should have priority over all other charges.

"I have already informed Mr. Kelly, president of the company, and yourself, that it is not the intention of the government to ask parliament to provide a further vote for the Grand Trunk Pacific railway while our negotiations with the Grand Trunk remain in their present unsatisfactory condition. As I indicated to you, it will be for the board of directors of the Grand Trunk railway to determine the question of their responsibility in respect to the interest maturing tomorrow upon securities guaranteed by their company."

Sir Thomas said that had the government not had power under the War Measures act to appoint a receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the entire system of the Grand Trunk Pacific would now be at a standstill.

Hon. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, in resuming the debate on the address, described in detail the object and reason of the Siberian expedition. He said that in the spring of 1918, when it was organized there was a desperate situation. The exiled Czecho-Slovak army was then in dire stress and a gloomy view was taken of the outlook on the western front unless the eastern front was reorganized.

There was real possibility of the Germans breaking through the British lines to the sea and defeating France. Accordingly, General Mewburn said, while he and Sir Robert Borden were in London they were asked that Canada should assist the allies in sending a small force to Siberia. After full consideration it was felt that Canada could not very well refuse and it was decided to send a force of 5000 Canadians.

He went on to say that the object of the force was to help the Russian people, to prevent the Germans from exploiting Russia, to divert German troops from the western front; to prevent Germany getting access to supplies and stores in Siberia, of which there was abundance, and to help the Czecho-Slovaks. The armistice was signed and then the question arose as to whether Canada should continue to send her men across.

After some indecision, it was decided that in view of the undertaking of the Dominion and the importance of the work to be done, the force could continue to go forward.

4434 Canadians in Siberia.

At the present time, said General Mewburn, there were 4434 Canadian soldiers in Siberia. The balance of the force was still in Canada and was being demobilized as rapidly as possible. The men who were in Siberia would be brought home at an early date, only those remaining who desired to do so.

Sir Sam Hughes asked whether any of the soldiers in the Siberian expeditionary force were draftees.

General Mewburn replied that he understood that a number of them were, but none of them were forced to go to Siberia. The composition of the forces was originally started on a voluntary basis, but it had been found necessary to supplement it with a number of draftees, who had been willing to go to Siberia instead of France. The original idea in returning the men to Canada, said General Mewburn, was to give priority to long service men and married men. Then, on the reorganization of the corps, it was decided to return the men by units.

When the armistice came into effect there were overseas 275,288 troops. Up to the present there had been practically 100,000 brought over and demobilized and it was expected that all the men would be back by August.

List of Decorations.

The minister of militia presented a list of decorations won by members of the Canadian force in the field It was as follows:

Victoria Cross, 61; Distinguished Service Order, 605; Military Cross, 2312; Distinguished Conduct Medal, 1453; Military Medal, 7785. The question of giving a medal to all members of the Canadian expeditionary force was, said General Mewburn, under consideration.

He recommended that the government should issue to mothers and wives who had lost sons or husbands in the war, a silver cross, which might be known as the "Cross of Sacrifice."

In answer to Sir Sam Hughes, General Mewburn said that he understood that Canadians enlisting with imperial units would receive the same consideration with regard to pensions, gratuity and war decorations as those who enlisted with the Canadian expeditionary force.

Graves of the Dead.

General Mewburn stated that he had received a cable to the effect that arrangement had been made for the removal of the bodies of all Canadian soldiers buried in Germany to France before the Canadians left Germany. Canadian soldiers, he said, would be buried in single graves at the expense of the imperial government. The imperial graves commission insured that the graves would receive perpetual care and perpetual honor.

P. R. Du Tremblay asked the minister the reasons why a French-Canadian brigade had not been formed.

General Mewburn replied that there were not sufficient French-Canadians available, without disorganizing the fighting troops.

General Mewburn in reply to A. B. Copp, said that a small garrison force of not more than 250 men was kept in each military district.

Colonel Peck, V. C., wanted to know whether anything was being done to preserve the graves of Canadian soldiers, which had been trampled over by the German soldiers in their advance and retreat.

The minister of militia replied that a large force was at present engaged in such work and no doubt it was being attended to.

W. K. Baldwin, Standstead, criticized the government's housing scheme, saying it would be more to the point to devote the money the government proposed to spend on houses to the development of our natural resoures and our industries.

Scores General Sir Sam.

Major R. C. Cooper, Victoria south, made a strong attack upon Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, and defense of Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian commander. He also made some remarks concerning Col. John A. Currie, North Simcoe, who commanded the Toronto Highlanders. He had read with extreme disgust the defense of Colonel Currie by General Hughes in the Canadian commons.

Major Cooper remarked that General Hughes had said he stood for saving the lives of the boys.

"Did he give this matter consideration?' 'asked Major Cooper, "when he placed the Ross rifle in the hands of the troops."

Major Cooper spoke of the work of the Canadian artillery at Cambrai, where they had captured more than 7000 prisoners and 200 pieces of artillery, and said that although General Hughes had spoken of it as a tragedy, he thought that there was room in Cambrai for an epic. So far as Mons was concerned, he said, that on Nov. 9, 1919, the Huns were in retreat with the Canadians approaching Mons.

In the neighborhood of Mons there was no determined resistance met with. Mons was captured in the early morning of Nov. 11. The total casualty list was 75 of all ranks and they took 100 unwounded prisoners. He said it must remain indelibly in the memory of every soldier who fought there and it was a fitting end to the great deeds of the Canadian corps.

General Hughes, said Major Cooper, had said he could not find a returned Canadian soldier who woud not curse the name of the officer who ordered the attack on Mons and the result of this had been that people in Canada believed Sir Arthur Currie had given the order to attack Mons and the result was wholesale murder.

The Remark in London.

Mr. Cooper explained that whoever was responsible, Canada and the Canadian corps were just a cog in the wheel. With regard to General Hughes' charge he said:

"A sergeant would not have made the foolish statement made here."

Major Cooper resumed his speech at the evening sitting of the house. He referred to Sir Sam Hughes' criticism of the action of the Yorks and Durhams at Cambrai. Sir Sam was quoted a few days ago as having said at London that the Yorks and Durhams threw away their Lee-Enfields and ran because of "bum ammunition."

As a matter of fact, the Durham light infantry took over part of the trenches of the 8th battalion and subsequently evacuated it.

Sir Sam had quite omitted to say that the Durhams were part of the Northumberland brigade which had only been in France two days. It was not true that they ran away. The Durhams retired in perfect order, according to orders and Major Cooper went on, "I saw them cut to pieces, leaving their dead behind them in swaths."

Of the 410,052 Canadians who served overseas, 15,750 won decorations and mentions. He would suggest that the government made to Sir Arthur Currie a monetary grant of generous proportions in recognition of his services. As a memorial to the men who had fallen, Major Cooper suggested the creation of scholarships similiar to Rhodes scholarships.

The scholarships would go in the first instance to the young men, who, owing to the war, had lost one or more years. The children of soldiers should follow next. At the end of a certain time, the scholarship should be turned over to the public for their children. Were the scheme endorsed by the federal, provincial and municipal governments an opportunity should be given to the people to subscribe. Major Cooper was of the opinion that a capital of $60,000,000 or more would be obtained. Such a sum would be adequate for the education of between 1000 and 1500 children a year.

The end of the great war was in sight, but it was the duty of the country to prepare for future wars. The training of the children in the schools should be carefully gone into, more now than at any time if Canada is to be confronted with war, they would be ready.

Every one should be made liable to service and it should be regarded as the pride of everyone to serve.

Touching the question of aliens, Major Cooper criticized the granting of so many fishing licenses in British Columbia to men of alien origin.

Pension System Faulty.

With regard to pensions, Major Cooper suggested that the present system was faulty. He was of the opinion that provincial boards should be established to look into the case and suggested that the soldier who was living in the city might be entitled to a higher pension than a man in the country, whose expenses were not so high.

He was prepared, said Major Cooper, to support total prohibition for one year, because he believed the question should be banned at the present time. After a year the people should be allowed to decide this question.

H. A. Mackie, of Edmonton, said he agreed with Dr. Clark in regard to western tariff isses. Members of the opposition had talked of low tariff. Let them come and submit their program, indicating on what commodities they would impose a lower and what a higher tariff.

Mr. Mackie was of the view that the Dominion government should do something for education.

"We lock up," added Mr. Mackie, "we handcuff, we strangle and judges impose long terms as an example to others. But the government should see to education just as much as it sees to the punishment of criminals or national defense."

The debate was adjourned by Hon. N. W. Rowell at 11 o'clock.

KILLS NEWARK MAN'S WIFE; TRIES SUICIDE

NEWARK, N. J.—Stephen Carrigan of Newark, who for a year and a half has appeared as a trouble-maker in the affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hicks of Newark, according to the story told to the police, shot and killed Mrs. Hicks in front of her home and turned the gun upon himself. He was taken to the city hospital with a slight scalp wound.

Mrs. Hicks was 21 and three months ago left her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks effected a reconciliation a few days before the murder, but Carrigan persisted in his attention. He called on Mrs. Hicks and invited her to take a walk. Mrs. Hicks called in a friend, Mrs. Walter Peterson, and all three left the house. At the corner they met Mr. Hicks and turned back.

As they reached the house again Carrigan is said to have drawn a revolver and shot Mrs. Hicks in the back as she ran up the steps. He fired three shots, two of which took effect.

Pointing the gun to his head he fired again. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken under guard to the hospital. There he made a statement to detectives in which he said: "I shot her because I loved her."

Carrigan has a wife and two children in Pennsylvania. Mr. Hicks said that the man was a relative of his wife by marriage and that he had repeatedly tried to stir up trouble in the family.

LONG ISLAND IS ANXIOUS TO BE SEPARATE STATE

NEW YORK—Will Long Island ever be made a separate state? Eventually; so why not now, say many of its residents. The agitation to make a separate state of this geographical entity is not something new. In fact the agitation started three-quarters of a century ago. It shows no sign of dying as yet and the enthusiastic adherents of the idea will tell you quite emphatically that it wil not die until after it has successfully achieved its goal. Long Islanders know that the only way to get home rule is to have the island established as a separate commonwealth.

Long Island, the metropolitan area of New York City, and "up-state" are the three widely diversified geological factors of the Empire state. New York city has experienced the urgent need of a certain amount of divorce from the rest of the state for its own protection. It now has a sort of interlocutory decree with an indeterminate period attached. What it wants is an absolute divorce.

To achieve this separation is the object of two bills now before the legislature. One provides for making New York City, with its five counties, a separate state. Another one provides for including all of Long Island and the southern tier of counties near New York City.

RELEASE—AND THANKS.

LONDON.—Officers in England who have been demobilized are receiving from the army council a letter, bearing the signature of Sir Reginald Brade, informing them that they are disembodied," and adding:—

"I am also to take this opportunity of conveying the thanks of the army council for your services to the country during the late war, and for the excellent work you have done."

It is a compliment from official quarters quite unexpected, and the more acceptable, therefore, on that account.

Achille Robert of Hull, a civil servant, was arrested, charged with surreptitiously obtaining civil service examination papers and offering them for sale to a friend.

PHOENIX WINS FAST GAME

Although Nelson Scored 3 in First Few Minutes Visitors Carry Off Honors—Score 5-4

Phoenix hockey team, winners of the boundary league, added to their laurels last night at the local rink when they defeated the Nelson aggregation by a score of 5 to 4. The game was lively all the way through and while combination work on the part of the Nelson team was not played to full advantage, possibly due to the lack of practise, they made it interesting for the Phoenix boys, especially on the start, when Nelson scored three in fast succession. All the way through the Nelson goal tender was called upon to stop many hard and fast shots, but opportunities were lost by shooting long ones.

McCammon, Ellemgreen and Piper wert in the limelight as the hustlers for the visitors.

In the opening of the first period Grant started with his usual rush. Oginski got the puck and scored Phoenix tightened up and both sides checked hard. The visitors put them in fast, and the goal tender for the local team stopped two or three bulls-eyes. Ogenski again got hold of the puck and by a swift rush across the whole length of the ice scored the second goal, and a moment later scored No. 3. Towards the end of the period the play became wild with Phoenix shooting long, high ones. The period ended with the score 3-0, and Nelson on the long end.

Second Period

In the second period W. Armstrong scored for Phoenix. Then G. Matthew scored another for Nelson by a pass from behind the goal, and after Forrester had stopped several hot shots by the Phoenix players Piper managed to get another tally for the visitors. Simons got in some good work for Nelson during the period.

Phoenix played the Nelson boys off their feet towards the latter end of the period and one Phoenix man was ruled off the ice for rough checking. Forrester continued to hold his own against the shots which were rained on him by the visitors. McCamman scored one by a fast rush down the ice, making the score 4-3. The fourth goal for Phoenix was marked up by Mussato, which tied the two teams. The game got very fast with both teams going strong, although the odds were on Phoenix.

In the third period both teams were working hard and fast for the honors, but neither could make a goal until near the bell, when Mastberg of the Phoenix bunch shot the deciding goal, making it 5-4.

RAILWAYS WILL HAVE TO GIVE REASON FOR RATE

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, March 10.—Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Dominion board of railway commissioners, will require of the railways a justification of the increase in passenger rates against which the board of trade has protested.

On Feb. 10 the railways revised their method of computing returned fares. Prior to February the system was to charge two single fares and deduct one-sixth for a return rate but under the present system only one-tenth is deducted which, according to the board of trade, gives the railways an additional increase of $3,000,000.

A date of hearing for the railway commissioners has not been set.

AT THE THEATRES

Feats of Aviators Basis of Picture Story.

Now like a firefly in very truth is the daring aviator who, far above the battle-scarred lands, darts hither and thither upon his mission. He is the eyes of the army. He is taking a place in this war that makes it different from any other war, if it were not already different from other wars in history by reason of its enormous proportions and the fearful weapons of destruction employed.

In "The Firefly of France," the new Paramount picture starring Wallace Reid with Ann Little, which will be shown at the Starland theatre Wednesday and Thursday, the work of an intrepid birdman forms the basis of the story that sets the blood tingling and makes one of the most interesting pictures that has been seen here in many weeks. Donald Crisp did the directing. The scenario is by Margaret Turnbull and the story, originally published in the Saturday Evening Post, was written by Marion Polk Angellotti.

THOUGHT GOLD TOOTH GREW IN SOLDIER'S MOUTH

LONDON—A soldier in East Africa wrote from a remote village that he was much puzzled recently by the marked interest in himself shown by the natives. First the "mayor," in a much worn dress coat and a fancy red waistcoat (worn outside the coat) arrived and walked round and round the Englishman at a spot where he was superintending the erection of a "wireless."

Later the native gentlemen requested that in the afternoon he might bring his friends, which he did, to the number of a dozen, and they, like he, proceeded to walk around the soldier, peering curiously into his face. In the evening they returned with food offerings. And the reason of this flattering attention turned out to be a gold tooth which they imagined must have grown in my friend's mouth.

FOUR HOLDUPS IN FIVE DAYS IN BUTTE, MONT.

BUTTE, Mont.—The fourth holdup in five days occurred when two men enteed the Little Queen restaurant in South Arizona street yesterday morning at 1 lo'clock, and held up the proprietor, Oeter Vedalis, by menacing a knife, and got away with $20 in change and bills.

George Levich, alleged by the police to be one of the pair, was later arrested by Detective Cussick after Vedalis had pointed him out as the man who held a butcher knife to his ribs.

Vedalis told the police the two men entered his cafe and ordered him to throw up his hands, using knives in a threatening manner.

Levich was arrested in Butte a month ago on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

NATIONAL LEAGUE UMPS ENGAGED FOR SEASON

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, March 10.—National league umpires of last season have been reengaged for 1919, John Heydler, president of the league, announced here today. Robert Emslie, who began umpiring for the league in 1891, will serve his twenty-ninth consecutive year.

Specks Floating Before His Eyes

When specks start to float before the eyes, when everything turns black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you may rest assured that your liver is not working properly.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to stir it up by the use of a medicine that will clear away all the waste and poisonous matter from the system and prevent as well as cure all the troubles arising from this accumulated mass which has collected in the system.

Keep the bowels open by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no liver trouble of any kind. They will clear away all the waste and effete matter which has collected and make the liver active and working properly.

Mr. John R. Morrison, Grand River Falls, N.S., writes: "Several months ago I was troubled with a sour stomach and had specks floating before my eyes. I took five vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, which cured and cleaned my blood before any length of time. I told my friends about it and they got some, and they, too, find themselves different since they took them. I recommend your pills very highly."

Milburns Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CANADIENS ON WAY WESTWARD

National League Champs Leave Montreal for Coast, Where They Will Play.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, March 10.—Players of the Canadien hockey club, champions of the national hockey league, left tonight for the Pacific coast to participate in the world's series with the winners of the coast hockey league. Ten players and owner George Kennedy of the club, were given a send-off at the Windsor Station tonight.

The club will play some exhibition matches on the way to Vancouver, the first game to be played at Regina on Thursday night and the next at Calgary on Friday night.

Owing to the lack of time, the invitation to play matches at Fort Williams and Port Arthur were declined.

Canadiens will reach Vancouver on Sunday morning and will rest up before going into the world's series. The championship of the coast league will not be decided until March 14, when the play-off between Seattle and Vancouver will be played. These clubs meet in a home and home series, and the winners will meet the Canadiens.

If Seattle wins, an exhibition game will be played on Monday night, March 17, with Vancouver, and if Vancouver wins, the first game in the series will be played Tuesday night, and an exhibition game will be played at Seattle after the series is completed.

The men who left tonight are at the top of their form and with the two matches on the way to Vancouver should remain in good condition.

Those in the party include, Vezina, goal; Hall and Corbeau, defence; Newsy Lalonde, centre; Pitre, wing; Berlanquette, wing; and Malone, Odie Cleghorn, McDonald and Souture, spares.

The game will likely be played alternately under western and eastern rules, the latter with six men a side and the former with seven.

REGINA WINS ABBOTT CUP

1935 See Capital City Patricias Defeat Winnipeg Lutherans by Brilliant Playing—Score 3 to 1.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., March 10.—Nineteen hundred and thirty-five persons jammed their way into the arena rink tonight to see the Regina Patricias and Winnipeg Lutherans play the second and final game at the two-match series to decide the location of the Abbott memorial cup for the coming year. Tonight's game saw Regina win a brilliant battle by a score of 3 to 1 and this coupled with their win by 5 to 4 on Saturday last gives them the possession of the much wanted cup by a score of 8 to 5 on the round.

The rink was jammed to capacity and the crowd which attended reminded all those present of the halcyon days when it was the easiest thing in the world to fill whatever rink was available for hockey purposes. Not since the great battle between the Vics and the 68th battalion team for the southern division championship has such a crowd attended a match in this city. Every seat in the house was sold out early in the day and there was not a single inch of space left when the face-off was held exactly at 3 minutes after 8 o'clock.

The class of hockey this crowd saw was deserving of a monster gathering. Two teams which for gameness had never been excelled, contested like tigers for the complete 60 minutes and the match was so keenly contested that it was in doubt right up to the end.

During the third period Regina had quite a lead on the round, but so dangerous were the Winnipeg men that the locals could not afford to cease their vigilance for a moment.

Pace was the shibboleth of both clubs, and the fast pace which was set by the clubs early in the fray did not diminish as the match wore on. In fact the end of the game saw speed as great as at any time during the progress of the set to. Hockey brains was also conspicuous this evening and the teams, evenly matched, strained every nerve to get the advantage.

Line-up.

Regina	Position	Winnipeg
Brown	Goal	Sinclair
Wingham	L. Defence	Buckingham
Hackney	R. Defence	Woodman
Harding	Centre	Goodman
Duttkowski	L. Wing	Stephenson
Conrad	R. Wing	Patrick

Referee—Rolla, Regina.
Judge of Play—Rooney, Winnipeg.

Summary.

First Period — Regina, Crapper, 10:05.

Second Period—Winnipeg, Patrick, 14:45; Regina, Hackney, 4:45.

Third Period—Regina, Duttkowski, 8:06.

BOWLING TOURNEY.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 10.—Today's competition in the two-men and individual events of the American bowling congress tournament started at 11 o'clock today and, although several pairs completed their scheduled strings, the 1205 hung up by J. McGovern and A. L. Wilson, Toledo amateurs, was not threatened, the first two hours.

Palma, of Toledo, collected 265 in his first game for the highest single game thus far.

CLEVELAND, March 10.—The first detachment of the Cleveland American league baseball club left here tonight for New Orleans, where they will do their spring training.

BROWN IS VICTOR.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 10.—Frankie Brown of New York gained a popular decision over Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, in their ten-round fight here tonight. In the third round Brown knocked the champion down with a left to the jaw and in nearly every round the New Yorker had the advantage.

VANCOUVER WINS RUNAWAY GAME

Five Thousand Persons Kept in Continual Uproar When Coast City Beats Capital, by Score 11 to 8.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10.—With the score 8 to 6 against them, nearly half of the third and final period of the game over, and substitutes on the ice working for their two regular defense men, who were resting up for the play off games with Seattle, the Vancouver Millionaires kept 5000 persons in a continual uproar as they ran in five scores tonight before the whistle blew. The final score was Vancouver, 11; Victoria, 8.

It was the biggest scoring game of the season and though rather loosely played in spots, it was just the kind of nip and tuck battle some fans like to see, being very much akin to a ninth inning baseball rally. Moreover, it was a fitting finish to the greatest hockey schedule ever played through. The teams took the ice for the third period with the score 5 to 5 and although Vancouver secured a one-goal lead in two minutes and 20 seconds, Tobin for Victoria evened it up in two minutes and 14 seconds, and the Aristocrats, by two pretty displays of combination, in three minutes more were two goals up and many a fan thought the islanders had the game tucked away when they saw Uksile and Irvin take the places of Griffis and Duncan.

But the Vancouvers once more demonstrated their ability to come through in the pinches, and the big crowd again took heart when Cook, on a pass from Taylor, scored in 30 seconds. Then came seven minutes of perhaps the fastest hockey seen this winter, even if not the tightest, with both Lehman and Murray stopping them with monotonous regularity and neither team able to score. There was less than five minutes left to play and Victoria defence seemed invincible and their forward line going like demons.

Then started the finish that stood the fans on their feet and kept their eyes glued to the play as if the world's championship was at stake.

But Vancouver was not done and a couple of minutes later gave their supporters something to really enthuse over, when Harris took another bullet shot at Murray on a pass from Cook and put the home crew in the lead. Taylor took the puck down again in half a minute, passed to Cook and there was another goal.

Line-up.

Vancouver	Position	Victoria
Lehman	Goal	Murray
Griffis	L. Defence	Patrick
Duncan	R. Defence	Clem Loughlin
Cook	Rover	Wilf Loughlin
Taylor	Centre	Oatman
Stanley	R. Wing	Tobin
Harris	L. Wing	Marples
Irvin	Utility	Genge
Uksila	Utility	Dunderdale

Summary.

First Period—Vancouver, Harris, 1:45; Victoria, Oatman, 8:33; Vancouver, Harris, :52; Victoria, Oatman, 2:03; Vancouver, Taylor from Griffis, 3:03.

CALGARY GIRLS PUT IT ALL OVER VANS

VANCOUVER B. C., March 10.—Calgary women Regents tonight defeated the Vancouver lady Towers in a hocky game that was replete will spills and comedy. The score was 2 to 0. The victory gives Calgary the inter-provincial championship, they they having beaten the other femalnine hockeyites of that province.

The game, refereed by "Tommy" Phillips, was played between periods of the Vancouver-Victoria contest and was of two periods.

The first goal was the result of an individual rush by Mrs. P. Moore, although her teammates checked the opposing players. The second was of vaudeville vintage, one of the Vancouver girls shooting into their own goal in the excitement of the moment.

Of the two teams the visitors were noticeably more experienced, but both factors participated in the humiliating spills that occurred. The victors will be entertained by the local team tomorrow afternoon and evening.

CLAIM NICK TOOK $100 BOND FROM UNCLE IN TRAIL: JAILED

Alleged to have stolen a $100 Victory bond from his uncle in Trail and then having sold it in Nelson to a broker, Nick Contini, an Italian, was arrested in Nelson last night by Chief of Police Thomas H. Long and lodged in the city jail.

Chief Long was notified by the Trail police at 7 o'clock last evening to look out for the man and arrest him. Contini came into Nelson on the afternoon train and registered at one of the hotels, where he was found by Chief Long and taken into custody about 8:15. The chief searched him and found in his possession $64 and a ticket to Winnipeg. Contini, it is said, expected to leave for that point this morning on the Crow boat, but instead will be taken back to Trail today to face trial on the theft charge.

He had recently been discharged from the American artillery. He came to the city in uniform, but changed his clothes at a hotel.

20,000 LONGSHOREMEN QUIT WORK IN U. S.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, March 10.—In sympathy with the strike of Marine workers here against private boat owners, nearly 20,000 longshoremen quit work today, refusing to handle freight distributed to piers by boatmen or non-union workers.

CENTENARY OF KINGSLEY IN JUNE

Memory of Preacher-Novelist to Be Fittingly Honored, Says London Report.

LONDON.—The memory of Charles Kingsley, the preacher-novelist, who died on this date in 1875, is to be signally honored next June on the occasion of the one hundred anniversary of his birth. To the general public the name of Kingsley is perhaps best known as that of the author of "Westward Ho." But in his day he was celebrated as a preacher of socialistic doctrines and an ardent advocate of social reforms, many of which have since become accomplished facts.

Kingsley was born in Devonshire and was the son of a country parson. He is said to have preached his first sermon when he was four years old, and his mother kept it as a curiosity. In this young Charles said:

"Nobody can tell how the devil can be chained in hell. If humanity, honesty and good religion fade we can to a certainty get them back by being good again. Religion is reading good books, doing good actions and not telling lies and not speaking evil and not calling young brother a fool."

Six months after graduating at Cambridge Kingsley was settled as curate at Eversley, which place continued to be his home during the remainder of his life. In working at Eversley Mr. Kingsley began to realize the need of a Christian socialism in England. With this decision he took his place in English life as a parson, a politician, an author and a strenuous worker to save souls.

He wrote for the working man under the title of "Parson Lot," and told him that he must free himself from his own wicked inclinations before he could pass from under the cruel power of bad social conditions. His strongest stories dealing with the subject of osicialism in its highest sense are "Yeast" and "Alton Locke."

Kingsley was made canon of Westminster shortly before his death, and is buried in the famous abbey. Once when a friend wished him a long life Kingsley said, "Ask for me anything but that. Let us live hard, work hard, go a good pace and get to our journey's end as soon as possible."

On the side of a range of hills and overlooking Biddeford bay now stands the town of "Westward Ho," which was named for Kingsley book, that told of the adventures of Sir Amyas Leigh during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. In the town of Biddeford there is a ptaute of Charles Kingisey, whose memory is held in tender pride.

Kingsley was only 20 when he met Fanny Grenfell, and she was the love of his life. He found in her a constant inspiration, and from a study of her he came to the conclusion "that every woman who has made a moderate use of her time is far beyond man n true philosophy."

USE AIRPLANES FOR ADVERTISING

English Writer Says They Can Be Used Effectively for Displaying Names of Commodities.

LONDON.—A writer in the Daily Mail says: As commercial aviation develops, so will advantage be taken of it for new methods of advertising.

A low flying airplane is a very good medium for displaying the name of any commoditity, because an airplane, even when comparatively near the ground, is visible over a very wide area, and will still, for some time to come, attract a considerable amount of attention.

Commercial firms will no doubt have their machines decorated in a particular way and painted a definite color, just as certain firms now decorate their delivery vans; or else they will have the name and trademark of their goods clearly displayed.

The aircraft of large transport companies may conceivably have their lower and upper wing spaces "let," and on these may be painted such lettering as the lessee decides. The wording on the upper wing, and the top part of the tail, will be intended to be seen by passengers in other air vessels passing above.

At night the same names may be outlined in rows of small electric lights, the power being obtained from the light dynamos operated by a baby propeller. These words of light will be quite clear to those below and from the point of view of familiarizing a proprietary or firm name they will be good advertising.

For Air Travelers.

There is another point of view, however—that of the air travelers looking down at the ground.

Very probably fields below the main air routes will be hired by advertisers, who will display in enormous white letters the desired name, or will have vast canvas posters, several square areas in area.

The night traveler, too, will be greeted by a hundred light signs in the world below. He will see words which flicker and flash from one color to another; words which are spelled out letter by letter only to vanish and to begin again.

It is likely, too, that the American device of moving electric light pictures may be used. At one place the man on the bridge of the aerial liner may see far below in the blue depths of the night a monstrous child of light lift to its lips again and again a glittering cup of some popular beverage. At another place he may be welcomed by the portrait of a beautiful girl who puffs leisurely at a scintillating cigarette.

The dropping of leaflets, of course, is likely to be a very popular form of publicity, because for a time any literature dropped from the air will be snatched at with eager curiosity.

This rain of pamphlets and papers of various sizes and colors thrown overboard from airplanes will probably assume such proportions that it will choke the gutter and disfigure the streets in many towns, so that it will become a public nuisance and may have to be forbidden by law.

TELLS STORY WHILE GIRL ACTS AS AUDIENCE

BERKELEY, Cal.—"Good evening," greeted Miss Julia Tarlton when she was awakened by a burglar crawling through her bedroom window at the home of Mrs. Sybil Denman, Sierre street, where she was a guest.

"Shut up or I'll plug you," replied the burglar. He passed through the room into the other part of the house, but presently returned. "Don't you turn on the light or I'll get you," he warned.

In telling of the affair, Miss Tarlton said: "He sat down at the head of the bed and tried to put his arm around me. I objected, and insisted on getting up. He brought my bathrobe and slippers, and then we talked in the dark for nearly two hours. He told me all his family history, said he was divorced from his wife, and that his mother would fall dead if she knew he was a robber. Finally he went out of the window."
