FOCH AT SPA WILL TELL GERMAN WHAT IS WANTED REGARDING DANZIG LANDING

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

AMSTERDAM, March 30.—In response to Germany's note on the subject of Danzig, Marshal Foch has offered to give personally, at Spa, to a German plenipotentiary fully empowered to decide, within 24 hours, full particulars and required guarantees concerning the landing of General Haller's troops.

The German government, according to the Berlin advices, has decided to send Mathias Erzberger as plenipotentiary to meet Marshal Foch.

Landing Anyway

PARIS, March 30.—(Havas)—The Temps today says that the allied and associated powers seem to have disregarded the German objections concerning Danzig and to land by force if necessary Polish troops a this Baltic seaport.

But this move, says the Temps, would not necessarily imply in the mind of the allies the union of Danzig to Poland. The newspaper adds that concerning the question of the Polish frontier, the allied governments seem inclined to create about Danzig a neutral state in order to avoid attaching this part of the coast either to Germany or to Poland.

Would Fight Again

COPENHAGEN, March 30.—The Vienna Volkes Zeitung's Budapest correspondent says the Hungarian government has offered to ally itself with the German government against the entente, according to a dispatch received here.

A telegram of the Wolff bureau says, however, that nothing is known in official quarters of Berlin concerning such an offer.

Bring Up Guns

LONDON, March 30.—(British Wireless)—In addition to reinforcing the garrison at Danzig, the Germans according to advices received here, are said to be mounting guns along the Prussian coast near that port.

Mangin in Command

PARIS, March 30.—The extension of the authority of General Mangin, who, according to reports, will be chosen to direct the allied operations against Hungary, to include the Polish army, will be ordered by the allied military authorities, says Le Martin, in order to establish under one command a front of the Baltic sea to the Black sea.

Leave Budapest

LONDON, March 30.—Reuter's Paris correspondent sends a report received from Presburg to the effect that the allied mission of Budapest has started for Belgrade.

Communists Plundering

COPENHAGEN, March 30.—Communionist troops invaded German West Hungary but were repulsed after several conflicts with the inhabitants, according to a dispatch from Berlin, quoting the Vossische Zeitung as stating that a deputation from West Hungary arrived Friday in Vienna to report to Secretary of State Bauer, concerning the invasion. Many houses were pillaged and burned.

Bolsheviki Revolt Spreads

PARIS, March 30.—(Havas)—According to news from a German source says the Temps, the Bolsheviki revolt recently reported in Bessarabia has progressed to the Danube.

CANADAS' TRADE COUNCIL TOPIC

Research Organization Discussed Question of Investigating Industrial Fatigue—Grants for Assistance.

OTTAWA, March 30.—The research council at its recent meeting dealt with the question of an investigation into industrial fatigue in Canada on lines parallel to the investigation which is now being conducted in England for the British industries. It has appointed a committee for this purpose of which Professor McLeod of the university of Toronto will be chairman. The committee will include the professors of physchology in Manitoba, Queen's, McGill and Dalhouse, Major William Tait, representative of labor and of the manufacturers association and a woman interested in women's labor. It will endeavor to obtain data to decide the question of maximum efficiency of the worker as determined by the number of hours of labor and the conditions affecting different industries.

Grants for assistance to researches in a number of industrial problems were made, one of the more important of which is to go to Prof. W. F. Thompson of the university of Saskatchewan for the continuation of his experiments in breeding a variety of wheat that will ripen earlier than the marquis wheat and will be completely resistent to rust, which is a menace to the wheat industry in western Canada.

If this object is obtained, the result will be a revolution in wheat growing in the west.

Another grant was made to the biological board of Canada for conducting investigations in the bacteriology and chemistry of the curing of fish. This industry is carried on in Canada at present on more or less empiric lines, and in consequence, the product is not always uniform, nor is it of such a character as to develop a market in Canada that cured fish should have. The aim of the investigation to be undertaken is to determine conditions under which the product will reach a high degree of standardization equal to, if not exceeding in this respect, the best product of the fish curing industry in Great Britain.

Arrange Awards.

The council has instituted 10 bursaries to be awarded to graduates in science who desire to qualify for a career of research in Canada.

The government has appointed Sir George Garneau, acting chairman of the Quebec utilities commission and titular professor of analytical chemistry in Laval university, and Prof. W. L. Godwin, dean of the school of mining of Quebec university, members of the honorary advisory council, for scientific research.

Prof. Godwin succeeds Prof. Kirkpatrick of Queen's university, who recently resigned his membership in the council.

WINNIPEG, March 30.—Rev. McCartney Wilson, of Calgary, was the preacher at Knox church's 47th anniversary today.

SAYS BONDS ARE STRONGER

Lord Milner Declares That Comradeship of Trenches Is Not Forgotten.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, March 29.—(Reuter's)—Lord Milner, interviewed by Sunday Express and replying to the interviewer's suggestion that signs of impatience were appearing in the dominions, admitted there was a centripal tendency in the Empire today with Britain and the dominions thinking of their own affairs, but this was purely temporary. Not merely the bloodshed on the battlefeld, but the fact that hundreds of thousands of men of the dominions have lived among us for four years, had strengthened the sense of real brotherhood which could never be destroyed. This tendency was reflected in our constitutional machinery. The dominions' premiers had been called to the councils of the war cabinet. This temporary expedient must become a permanent policy.

"In every administrative act you must think of the dominions as friends and relatives," said Lord Milner. "The British Empire is not a delian league. We are free and equal members of the community and while we have no hostility to friendly and foreign nations, still we will give the preference in all things of our own families."

Lord Milner welcomed the decision immediately to relax trade restrictions within the Empire, pointing out that he was not responsible for them. Preference was a much wider thing than a mere matter of tariffs. Every nation in the Empire ought to settle its fiscal system on its own merits and then give preference to the others. Such preference embraced emigration, shipping, cables and finance. Emigration should be directed, firstly, to the dominions; secondly to the United States as a great free country with like ideals. Lastly, to other countries, like the Argentine. The government and colonial office believe in strengthening our own dominions, our own friends, and our own trade first.

Similarly, as regards shipping, cables, wireles and finance, the aim of the centre of the Empire ought to be to help sister communities before anyone else. A committee of the cabinet should be created to deal specially with imperial issues and foreign policies. The premier, colonial and foreign Indian secretaries and probably to secretary of war and the first lord of the admiralty would be ex-officio members of such a committee. Only ministers could attend when the need arose. There would also doubtless be a committee of the cabinet for home affairs, while the whole cabinet might meet as before to consider any issue involving the fate of the government. The imperial committee of the cabinet should be open to statesmen of the dominions must permanently sit in the imperial committee and must be closely in touch with representatives of their own odminions.

The only way to solve this puzzle was that when the dominions premiers cannot be here, they should have prominent members of their governments present to take their places. Thus the representatives will speak authoritatively at the councils of the Empire and be up to date in his own home politics.

Such a committee could have no direct executive power except with the assent of the British people, but it would have the greatest influence in shaping our policy."

WARN SOUTH TRIBE

CAIRO, March 30.—Reuter's)—The western Bedouin tribes have been warned that they must remain in their own localities and will be punished if they move eastward. A general warning also has been issued, that if the railway line be damaged, the neighboring village will be burned.

FAST TIME FOR GRAIN EXCHANGE

Winnipeg Deputations to Meet City Council Tonight to Urge Adoption of Daylight Saving.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, March 30.—Winnipeg's relation to daylight saving depends on the action of the city council before whom the issue will be directly brought tomororw night by deputations from the greater Winnipeg board of trade, the Retail Merchants' association and other bodies concerned in the commercial life of the city. It will be pointed out that the large firms of the city, the board of trade, and the grain exchange, intend to regulate their busines by the new schedule, whether the city adopts it or not, and the result from the confusion, not only in business, but the domestic life of the community wil be pointed out.

So far as the railway shops are concerned it was definitely stated on Saturday afternoon, that action there awaits the conclusion on the matter to be arrived at by the city council.

The matter will not go through the council, however, without a strong fight from Mayor C. F. Gray.

GERMANY TO PAY OVER 150 BILLION FRANCS INDEMNITY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, March 30.—The Intransigeant prints the report that the indemnity which Germany must pay for the damages of the war has been fixed at a figure between 150 billion and 250 billion francs. The yearly payments will increase as Germany's economic life revives.

THOUSANDS OF REFUGEES FLEE FROM HUNGARY

BUDAPEST BUSINESS NOW UNDER COMPLETE CONTROL OF RADICAL SOVIET GOVERNMENT.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, Saturday, March 29.—Following the practice put into effect by the Russian soviet government at Moscow, bank presidents in Budapest have become mere figureheads, while soviet clerks administer the business. Rents are no longer paid to landlords, but to the government, which is represented by the janitors. The stores have been nationalized and the heads of factories have been replaced by those elected by the workmen.

The banking business is being handicapped, under the new regulations. No one is allowed to draw out more than $100, except in payment of salaries.

Thousands of refugees are traveling toward Vienna. All deprived of their belongings at the frontier, if they attempt to pass the border without being searched.

Members of the wealthy class have resolved to stay in Budapest and await events.

There are but two classes in Hungary, aristocrats and peasants. The republic seemingly is more Russian than German.

Count Karolyi's position has not been damaged by the new regime, according to political observers, who say he cleverly vacated his position as provincial president by shifting responsibility for the course of events to the allies and then urging resistance against the entente, which resulted in a union of the social Democrats and the communists.

In Czecho-Slovaki it is reported that uprisings have occurred. News of the Hungarian Bolshevism has spread rapidly and the revolutionary spirit in west Ukraine and Rouania is said to be increasing.

SPEEDING THE WORK

Reparation Subject Has Been Knotty

PARIS, March 30.—Persistent efforts to speed up the work of the various councils and commissioners preparing details of the peace treaty, resulted in better progress during the closing days of the past week.

The most important results will be attained during the present week is predicted by those in a position to speak, including the disposition of the Monroe doctrine and reparations, the two subjects which have been the main obstacles to the completion of the treaty.

Review Subjects

It is learned that there has recently been a revival of certain propositions and arguments which have tried the patience of some of the participants in the deliberations, but apparently new ideas have been exhausted and there are signs of the rapid approach of the end of the discussions. Therefore, it is expected President Wilson, whom some of the French newspapers as well as some of the British papers have held responsible for the delays, is about to exercise the power which goes with the responsibility to make an end to these delays.

The most stubbornly contested subject was that of reparations and it is suggested that the delay in this case cannot be charged up to the United States, but rather to the pre-election promises of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau to make the Germans pay the whole cost of the war, which have led to some embarrassment because of the present inability of the enemy to pay more than a fraction of the enormous indemnity that will be required for that purpose.

However, real progress should be made in bringing about an agreement on the total amount of the indemnity and the terms of payment on a basis of painstaking studies of the exact state of German industries and resources at the present time and prospects for the future made by the financial commissions of the conference.

Study Covenant.

Although President Wilson has stated that the league of nations covenant did not delay the progress of the treaty because the work of the other commissions was equally essential to its completion, the subject has been the cause of much anxiety during the past week. The desire of the United States delegates to safeguard the Monroe doctrine and to insert other amendments of the commission to be submitted at a preliminary meeting of the conference.

The meeting of the commission on Thursday however, gave the finishing touches to the formula which it be believed is satisfactory to the council of four, and a plenary session will likely be held Saturday.

It has been decided to avoid controversy over the guarantee of religious freedom by remitting the subject to special treaties, which must be made with all new states and that have arisen through the war.

The Japanese delegates are expected to complete their record by calling for an expression of sentiment by the council of four and perhaps the plenary conference upon the consideration of equality before the law of all nations in the league of nations.

Signs of Near End.

Signs that the directing forces of the conference look for the early completion of the first peace treaty are found in the preparations now going on at Versailles for a meeting of the peace conference of its representatives with the German commissioners.

Privately, confidence is expressed by the leading delegates that the Germans will sign the treaty, though not of course, without strenuous objections over many details.

It is realized that, unless handled discreetly, out of such an incident as an attempt to land Polish troops at Danzig, a serious rupture might follow. But it is understood that the Germans are to be given assurances that these troops will be landed in small detachments only and will be immediately transferred into Poland, that there will be no attempt to seize the city until the armistice, nor at all, unless the peace treaty to which the Germans subscribe deprives them of that port.

TROUBLE IN KOREA IS GROWING STEADILY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30—Demonstrations throughout Korea are growing stronger, 32,000 persons having been imprisoned; one hundred thousand have been injured including children and Christian churches, schools and stores have been closed according to a cablegram received today by the headquarters of the Korean national asosciation here from Rev. Hyun Soon, special representative of the Korean independent union at Shanghai.

It was not generally known that the clocks were to go ahead Sunday morning, and it caused considerable confusion for a time. Lots of persons were not sure if their church service was to be held under the old or new time and numerous calls at the residences of the ministers resulted. Part of the churches stayed to the old time.

Phone Girls Busy

Telephone operators were kept busy straightening out the worries of those wanting to know if the city was going to save the hour of daylight each day. "What time is it?" was the question of the day. And when central gave the answer some asked, "new or old," "fast or slow," "which time?" But it was "The" time and central said so.

Trail smelter changed to the new time yesterday and the council of that city Saturday posted notice to the effect that the time would be changed today.

CANUCK CHEERS ANZAC; ANZAC CHEERS CANUCK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, March 30.—(Reuters) A stirring scene typical of intercolonial comradeship cemented on the battlefield occurred in Liverpool recently when the steamer Scotian, packed with homeward bound Canadians, was leaving the port and passed transport moored in the dock crowded with Australians. Cheers and counter cheers echoed along the riverside wharves as the comrades from the Great Bear and the Southern Cross bade a long farewell while the bands played the "Maple Leaf" and "Auld Lang Syne."

ONTARIO CITIES FALL IN LINE

Toronto City Hall Clock Pushed Ahead—Hamilton Is Debating and Divided

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, March 30.—Daylight saving goes into effect in many cities in Ontario Monday morning and Saturday's indications of a general movement in this line were added to by further reports today. Toronto's city hall clock was advanced an hour at 11 o'clock tonight and the citizens tomorrow will adopt the summer time. The Toronto postoffice began the daylight saving today.

St. Catherines was one of the leaders here in the movement for summer time, that city beginning it this morning.

The people of Hamilton are divided on the question of moving the clock forward. Many of them will go back tomorrow morning on the new time and many others will stick to the old time. It is likely that the city council will hold a special session Monday night to settle the question.

FORMER ARCHDUKE FRANCIS IS JAILED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

GENEVA, March 29.—Two persons dressed as peasants, who were trying to cross the Hungarian frontier into Germany were betrayed by their hands, which were out of keeping with the costumes won. Their finger nails were manicured and the hands generally clean and showing no signs of hard work.

The Socialist commandant, Herr Keszetholg, sent the arrested men to Budapest, where they were identified as former Archduk Joseph Francis and a former millionaire named Julius Ommeich. Bela Kun, the former minister, ordered both men imprisoned.

LORD MAYOR DIES

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MANCHESTER, England, March 30.—John Makeague, lord mayor of Manchester, died suddenly at the town hall yesterday.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, March 30.—The clash of opinion between parliament on one hand and the railways, backed by the urban centres on the other, as to the advisability of adopting daylight saving, is to be dealt with by the board of railway commissioners.

Must Tell Why.

The board on Saturday afternoon in a somewhat lengthy judgment calls upon the railways to appear before the board on Tuesday morning, April 1, and justify their action in issuing a circular advancing the time of all railway clocks at 2 o'clock this morning in order that railway timetables may coincide with those of United States railways.

It is the duty of the board to give effect to that opinion to the fullest extent possible without inconveniencing the traveling public, or making accidents possible.

The situation at Ottawa will be further complicated by the fact that the city council, at a meeting on Saturday afternoon decided to adopt daylight saving, commencing on Tuesday.

Parliament Alone.

Should the railway commissioners not order the railways to adopt standard time, parliament may be the only institution at the capital running on standard time. The opinion is somewhat generally expressed, however, that parliament would find this so inconvenience in many ways that despite the views held by the majority of its members the legislators would eventually decide not to lag behind the city and the railways.

Board's Side of It

MONTREAL, March 30.—The Canadian railway war board will make strenuous opposition to the coming attempt on Tuesday to have the Dominion railway commission overrule the railway war board's daylight saving order to the railway companies of Canada.

"The claim that this board is trying to impose daylight saving in the whole country by ordering railway timepieces set one hour ahead is absurd," said General Secretary Newell last night.

300 Trains Involved

"We exchange rail traffic with the United States at over thirty frontier points. Over 300 passenger trains a day cross at these points. Since the United States has set its clocks ahead the American time for sending and receiving Canadian passenger trains moves an hour ahead. We must make corresponding changes. Otherwise the southbound passenger across the border passes his connection by one hour and the northbound passenger has to wait an hour on the boundary line. In place of deranging all train services in Canada, we have adjusted ourselves to the American time by advancing our clocks one hour."

LETTS WIN AGAIN.

STOCKHOLM, March 30.—After a violent battle along the Mitau-Tukkum railway, the Lettish forces defeated the Bolsheviki, capturing Kammern and Kalnzem.

NAVY AS EMPIRE SHIELD MUST BE READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY, SAYS BEATTY

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—England's navy must be prepared for the future, said Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty, speaking here today on the services of the navy during the great war.

"The navy learned many lessons during the four a a half years just passed," he said. "We made many mistakes, and it is our business today to see that these lessons are taken to heart and that we shall not again be found in such a state that we have the face the greatest crisis with improvised methods, working hand to mouth."

Tribute to Citizens

Admiral Beatty paid a tribute to the efforts of Liverpool citizens, in furnishing the 10th squadron which during the war maintained the blockage of Germany

"That blockade," he said, "was one of the most important factors in bringing about the defeat of Germany. Its maintenance demanded seamanship of a high order, with vigilant, untiring devotion to duty. Stretched across the waste of waters from west of Hebrides to the Arctic ice, these ships kept their watch and ward in weather that had to be experienced to be understood. These mariners had also to contend with an enemy which appeared in many guises. Raiders masqueraded as peaceful merchantmen, blockade runners exercised every strategy to evade detection, and the submarine was a constant menace.

Muct Benefit

"We of the navy know full well our own defects and it is our business to efface them to avoid the repetition of mistakes, from which we suffered in the past.

"The navy is today what it has been for the past 20 years, the support of Great Britain ad the Empire. That support must be kept sure by clear thinking and concerted effort on Scientific lines.

"The navy is a shield and not a rattling sabre. The navy and the mercantile marine have learned to know and respect each other as never before. It must be their care to foster and strengthen that feeling, so that in future and for all time, the royal navy and mercantile marine together will provide a sure shield which will enable the Empire to continue to prosper."

He is believed to have been killed while fixing the switch at the smelter.

Mr. Jones was well known in the district, having worked for the British Columbia Telephone company here in May and June of last year. He was also employed by the city for a time, and previous to that worked for the B. C. Electric at Vancouver.

YOUNGSTERS TO BE GARDENERS

Eight at Meeting Enter Names for Competition — Mrs. Rutherford Speaks to Children.

Eight children Saturday afternoon entered their names for the garden competion at a special children's meeting held by the Women's institute. Those who entered their names for competition were Eric Ramsden, Jessie Knox, Edith Wood, Anna Schlegen, Beryl May Johnson, Roy Johnson, Owen Berry and Gordon Mackenzie. That few children attended the meeting was attributed to the fact that there were two matinees at the picture houses, a Junior Women's auxiliary tea and other attractions claiming the attention of the youngsters. Mr. Romain's address was postponed.

Mrs. William Rutherford, president of the institute, gave a short talk to the children on the starting of their gardens and on birds. She offered a prize to the child who at the end of the summer, had got the largest number of names of birds they had seen during the season.

During the meeting Miss Ethel Morrison and Miss Laurene Dunham gave pianoforte solos.

Copies of the rules of the garden competition were distributed among the children and read as follows:

"Size of garden not to be limited. The cultivation of garden must be entirely the work of the competitor. Vegetable gardens must contain the following varieties: Beets, carrots, lettuce, corn, potatoes, dwarf beans. Flower gardens will be judged on the excellence of plants and artistic taste displayed. No restrictions are being placed on the number or varieties of flowers cultivated. Prizes will be awarded according to the number of entries in each class.

GERMANY WILL WHINE A LOT

soon as the text of the preliminary peace is adopted by the great powers the German plenipotentiaries will be instructed to proceed to Versailles, where they will be quartered in a hotel commandeered by the city. Preparaations for their accommodation will take three weeks, and it is not believed that the meeting of the Germans and the representatives of the allied and associated powers can be held before the day after Easter.

Would Quit Work

COPENHAGEN, March 30.—Herr Stoessel, member of the majority Socialist party, addressing the council of soldiers and workmen at Bromberg, Prussia, according to the Berlin Tageblatt, threatened that if the entente powers enforced an oppressive peace the workers of Germany would cease work and let the allies come and make what they wanted themselves.

"We, in the executive committee," Herr Stoessel is quoted as saying, "are resolved that in given circumstances we may follow the example of Hungary. We also can ally ourselves with Russia."

Saar Valley Question

PARIS, March 30.—The council of four has given fresh consideration to the question of the Saar valley and it is believed that the council has virtually settled upon a plan to permit Germany to retain political sovereignty while France will be given economic control of the mineral resources in that section for a limited time, supposedly based upon a time allowance for the settlement of indemnity.

HELP KEEP THE GAME LAWS

Nelson Rod and Gun Club Urges Strict Enforcement of Regulations in Province.

That prompt reporting of all cases of illegal shooting and fishing in the district be undertaken by every member of the Nelson Rod and Gun club was the opinion of a meeting of the club held last Wednesday evening.

It was proposed and carried that every member joining the club should pledge themselves to assist the game wardens in carrying out their duties and it was also further agreed that each member should constitute himself a game warden and should give his word to report every offense that came to his notice and do his utmost to stop the poaching and the killing of game out of season which is known to exist in the district.

The question of illegal fishing out of season was also discussed and the club is determined to bring the offenders to court and make a public example of them. A member also reported that wild duck were shot on the lake near Nelson on Christmas day, but the offenders had a fast launch and made a get-a-way. Steps have now been taken with the convenience of the phone which is now established between Nelson and Kaslo to have the matters reported promptly and lookouts are established every few miles so that the offender will not have much chance to escape.

Wild Rice.

A discussion was started on the growth of wild rice and other feed for wild fowl and it was decided to make experiments in certain favored spots.

It was decided that a suitable button should be procured to denote membership and samples will be on view for adoption at the next meeting.

A license of $1 for fishing the waters of the Kootenay Lake had been previously proposed, but from letters received it appeared that the cost of collection and enforcement was prohibitive.

Those present still favored the idea and it was felt that the members of the club could enforce the tax, as it would tend to keep the fishing on a more sportsmanlike basis.

A deputation of the young men of the city attended the meeting and requested that a junior club be formed, affiliated to the parent society and the idea was favorably accepted and steps will be taken to accede to the request.

Several members from Proctor and Balfour attended the meeting and gave information with regard to the working of the club.

Letters were read from various members of parilament in reply to letters sent by the secretary, promising to give assistance to matters of importance brought to their notice.

DRINNAN OF G.W.V.A. VISITS THE CITY

Provincial Secretary of the G. W. V. A. States Desires of Veterans' Organization.

It is necessary to explain what the G. W. V. A. stands for as an organization, said Walter Drinnan, provincial secretary for the G. W. V. A., who was at the Hume last night, while on a tour of the interior.

"There are many returned soldiers out of work at present," said Mr. Drinnan. "Some of these, after the strenuous time they have had during the last four years, feel the need of a rest, while others are so incapitated that they are unable to resume their former occupations. The unrest caused by this needs calm deliberation and the attention of experienced heads."

Mr. Drinnan has been north as far as Anyox and through the Okanagan and Similkameen districts, speaking to returned soldiers, and he says that everywhere he went he found a strong desire among the veterans to be united in one big body. He has at the same time intervied many of the big employers of labor and large organizations and they were all willing to do everything in their power to help the returned soldier.

SOCIALISTS WIN.

BERLIN, March 20.—The Independent Socialists triumphed in the election of the workmen's and soldiers' councils for the second congress of workmen and soldiers' council by winning nine seats to five for the majority socialists and two for the Democrats.

The council voted to take steps to secure the immediate release of George Ledebour, th former Social Democrat leader, who was taken into custody during the recent Spartacan disorders.

MURDER AND LOOT IN EGYPT

Seven British Officers Found Dead in Van After Train Was Attacked

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, March 30.—(Reuter's)—Official communications referring to the outbreak in the southern provinces of Egypt have been relieved from Cairo and say that a train from Luxer was attacked at Munich on March 15 and partially sacked. The bodies of seven murdered British officers were found in the guard's van.

A crowd at Benisouef on March 15 invaded the courts during their sitting and drove out the officials and tried to get hold of the British judge. Failing their object, the demonstrators wrecked various government offices and attacked Mudiria, but were driven back by a small body of Indian troops on March 18.

Some British residents at Fayoum concentrated in three houses which had been put in a state of defense against the Bedouins, who were looting the town. Next morning a train arrived from Couth, bringing ladies and officers returning from leave. Further parties of Bedouins and others arrived March 17 and 18, and looting continued. The garrison was relieved on March 18 and the residents, except those electing to remain were sent to Cairo. A large force of Beduoins at Medinet, in Fayoum, persistently attacked the garrison on March 19, but were eventually driven off with 400 casualties.

NEW SCHEDULE BEING FRAMED

Government Railways and Employees Meeting in 'Peg for Five Weeks Issue Statement.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, March 30.—H. F. Lawrence, general charman of the grevance committee of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (Canadian government railway employees), and Robert Dyke, occupying a like position for the employees of the Canadian National railway, together with representatives from Fort Frances, Transcona, Winnipeg, Brandon, Dauphin, Prince Albert, Regina, Edmonton and Calgary have been in the city for the past five weeks in neanrgotiation with the management of the Canadian National railways for the arrangement of a combined working schedule for the two roads.

Messrs. Lawrence and Dykes interviewed tonight, made the following statement:

"The employees of the Canadian government railways have had a schedule which recognized the union and stipulated wages in the majority of cases, were higher than those paid on the Canadian Northern railway. The committee after a general examination of the rates paid the Canadian Northern employees, for the average salary of clerks, etc., was in the majority of cases, around 30 per cent less than those in the employ of the Canadian government railways holding similar positions and who are covered by a signed schedule. Inasmuch as the Canadian government railways has now taken over the Canadian Northern railway, the opinion of the employees is that if salaries are higher on the Canadian government railways, the salaries of the Canadian Northern railway should be brought up to the same level. These are concrete cases in which the employees are paid $22 a month more on the Canadian Northern than corresponding positions on the Canadian government railways.

Upon presenting these rates with a demand for increases for all employees on both roads we are informed by Assistant General Manager Cameron that the rates asked for were exorbitant, and, further that the company would not grant any increase other that that provided in the supplement No. 7 of the McAdoo award.

At the conclusion of the interview, Messrs. Lawrence and Dykes stated that they were compelled to break off negotiations and that on Tuesday next they will leave for Ottawa to take the matter up with the minister of labor and the minister of railways.

FIRM TONE SHOWN ON TORONTO MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

TORONTO, March 30.—A firm tone was shown on the Toronto stock exchange Saturday morning and while the trading was scattered, the majority of issues finished with net gains.

Smelters was the most active stock, the turnover amounting to 135 shares, the price rising to 27¼. Dominion Iron was ¾ higher at 61¾, and Steel of Canada 1½ up at 64¾.

In the utility group the most striking feature was transactions in Toronto Railway at 45½. Brazilian was stationary at 53⅛ and Winnipeg Railway at 48. The war loans were not active apart from a fair volume of dealings in the 1933 Victory issue, but the tendency continued strong.

CORN PRICES LOWER

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, March 30.—Although corn averaged lower in price most of the time Saturday, weekened coverings by shorts gave the market a rapid upturn in the last hour. Closing quotations strong, 1¾ to 3 cents net higher, with May 1.47⅜ to 1.47⅝, and July 1.38½ to 1.37¼.

Oats gained ¼ cent to 1½ cent and provisions 40 to 90 cents.

SMELTERS ARE ACTIVE ON MONTREAL MARKET

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

MONTREAL, March 30—The Montreal stock exchange interested itself Saturday morning mainly with Smelters and Steel of Canada, trading in each of which went well over the 1000 share mark, helping to make the total trading for the half session one of the best for the year.

Steel of Canada was most active of the two, some 1780 shares changing hands. The opening was 64½, but the bulk of trading was at 65, with the close at that price. It was considered that the advance was predicted on the financial statement to be published soon.

Buying of Smelters, which amounted to 1360 chares, advanced the price a fraction to 27¾, but the close at 27¼ reduced the net gain to ⅛

Dominion Steel was strong with a net gain of ¾ at 61⅞. Trading elsewhere was not particularly active.

Bonds were relatively quiet with prices unchanged to fractionally higher.

The exception was the 1923 Victory, which eased a small fraction to 100⅝. Canada Rubber 6s sold ½ up at 95½.

Sales: Shares 5748; bonds, $93,400.

OLD TIMER LOOKS BACK ON DAYS OF LONG AGO

To have a mysterious stranger walk into his cabin with a loaf of breaf under his arm and a packet of butter in one hand, sit down and eat breakfast uninvited and at the conclusion of the meal announce that he was looking for a lost silver mine at Mill creek, was the experience of J. C. Bolander of New Denver, one of the pioneers of the Slocan mining district in the days of long ago.

How this caused a sort of stampede to look for the lost mine and how, when it was found, it contents turned out to be crystalized lime, are told by Mr. Bolander.

"I had just sat down to supper in my little cabin, which stood on the bank of Slocan lake, where now stands the New Market hotel," he said, "when in came a stranger, a man about 50 years of age, medium height, dark complexion and very heavy set. He had a loaf of bread under his arm and a pound of butter in his hand.

"How is the coffee?" he inquired.

"Good, and lots of it," I said.

He laid the bread and butter on the table, went over to the cupboard, got a knife, fork, tin cup tin plate and then without further invitation drew up a three-legged stool that was handy, the only thing in the chair line we had at the time. He poured himself a cup of coffee and started in.

"He cut two slices of bread and offered me one, which I politely declined.

"I distinctly remember I had bacon and beans and a nice, fresh bannock. I also had a quart can of maple syrup, which was very high priced at that time, and he he made it very low in the can.

'He would put a piece of bread and butter in the tin plate, then take the can of syrup and deluge the bread and butter with the syrup. Then with his fork sop it around before eating. Then there would be a little syrup left in the plate that would require more bread, and then more of my maple syrup.

"At last I was getting nervous, as I thought he was a little too fresh.

"'You seem to be fond of syrup,' I said.

"'Yes,' he said with his mouth full of bread and syrup, while the sweet stuff was running down from the corners of his mouth.

"At last he took a big swig of comfee to wash it down, and then he took a breathing spell.

"'Do you know,' he said, ' had a hard time to make the bread and syrup come out even.'

The Lost Mine.

"At last the meal was finished and the dishes washed and put away and we filled our pipes and settled down for a smoke and he told me this story:

"'My name is Jim Hayes. I am a locomotive engineer and blacksmith. I was sent to you by Judge Sproat, the father of your recorder here, Alex Sproat.

"My business in the Slocan is to locate a lost mine. In the early days, during the Cariboo excitement, a party of prospectors was heading for that country; they were from Colville in Washington, and were traveling up the west bank of Slocan lake.

"When they got to a certain creek they turned up the creek to make a short cut and they stumbled on a rich silver-bearing lead.

"They did not stop to locate, but they made a map, and blazed trees, so it could be found.

"I have the map. Judge Sproat, Mr. Farwell and others in Nelson are putting up the grub for this trip. I have located the creek, it's right opposite New Denver and called Mill creek. I have been to their old camp and was part way up the gulch.

"Now that is the story as he told it.

"'Can you row a boat?' he asked me, between puffs of his short-stem clay pipe.

"Hays," I said, "I can pull a boat with the best of them; I was born on the Ohio river, where all the boys are taught to handle a boat as soon as they are big enough."

"'I am glad of your being able to handle a boat, for this is a secret trip.'

"It was then near midnight, and as Hays had his blankets, I took him in my carpenter skiff and told him to make his bed in the shavings.

"Now, in the carpenter shop there was a dozen old prospectors and they had heard all of our conversation as the two buildings joined.

"The next morning, after breakfast, Hays suggested a trip to Silverton to see if I could row a boat. I tell you he did test my skill. He had an old flat bottomed boat such as us boys on the old Ohio used to call a "Yankee pine." He kept the trips up for a week until my hands were all blistered.

"All at once Hays disappeared. He did not say anything about going and I had forgotten all about Hays—all but my can of maple syrup, and Hunter and McKinnon were out of syrup and I could get no more.

"One evening Palma Augrignon (or Pete) came to my shop with the information that there was two boxes of groceries down to the lake in his batteau consigned to me; they were from Nelson. Three evenings later Hays and his "Yankee pine" hove in sight.

"'Did you get the groceries?' he asked.

"He told me they were for the trip after the lost mine.

"In the boat with him was the late Bob McTaggart, who later lost his life when Dune Grant's hotel burned at Silverton.

"Bob was going with Hays on the trip. I was to row them down to Silverton then cross over the lake and hug the shore as close as I could until we reached Mill creek, then come back the same route alone.

"I received my instructions how to look for them when they got back, so as to get them back to New Denver.

"The boys had caught on that we were going that night, so Hays told me in order to throw them off he would substitute, and he had another party to put them over.

"As a parting salute Hays said to me, 'Mum is the word, don't let a living person know.'

"'All right,' I answered.

"The next morning I dropped into Hunter and McKinnon's store and Mr. Hunter said: 'Did you put the boys over the lake last night?'

"'What boys?' asked I.

"'Come! come!' said he; 'we stand in on that deal.'

"I learned that every one in camp was wise to the fact; while I had been keeping the secret and almost dying to tell it.

"They were gone four days and I thought it time to be due; so I started in at night to watch for them.

"On the seventh day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Alec Sprout, the recorder came into my shop and stood by my bench.

"Well, Alec, what is it?" I inquired.

"'The boys are over there, don't you know?'

"It was raining hard and they were firing off a rifle and shouting to beat the band. We soon had them over, and after they got dry clothes and a good meal they made for the record office.

"I did not get to see Hays until after midnight, when he came home to sleep.

"'Throw your tools away, he said, 'you are a millionaire.'

"My feathers commenced to droop, as that was more than I could stand. They had brought about 8 pounds of samples, had been gone seven days, and lived a part of the time on Porcupine and got nothing. The samples were crystal lime.

"I heard of Hays once after that. He was still hunting for the lost mine."

EXPORT CANADIAN GLASS TO EUROPE

Canada has taken the uniquoe position of an exporter of window glass to Europe, as a result of the rather quiescent state the domestic market and the great demand for glass in Great Britain and France. Shipment has been made within the last week of 120,000 square feet of window glass, approximately three acres, which will be taken for use either in England or will be reshipped to France. Canada has been in the past a heavy importer or glass, principally from Belgium and Great Britain, before the war and more recently from the United States. Large quantities have been imported from the latter source during the last three years. The uncertainty which has decome a feature of the Canadian building trade at present has rather retarded sales of glass, and a surplus was on hand which was available for export.

Hindrances to Production.

The Canadian industry has been under a severe handicap during the war, since most of the skilled glass workers brought over from England engaged in military service. This made it impossible to maintain production at a maximum. The return of these men from overseas is expected during the next three months and their arrival can reasonably be expected to be attended by a greater production of glass. Canadian labor has been employed at the Thorold plant and has been found to be quite satisfactory, but the places of the fighting men have been held and when the entire working force is employed an increase in output will be a logical outcome.

Under ordinary conditions it would be impossible to produce glass in Canada for export to Great Britain in competition with the British product. Stocks of glass in the United Kingdom are understood to be quite low. Very large numbers of skilled workmen were taken into the army and the major part of the output of the glass companies was war material. As many as half of the employees of the St. Helen's works were engaged on the production of dry plates for aerial photography. The British excelled in this branch of industry, and they were called upon to supply the French and American forces as well as the British. Huge quantities of dry plates were required for the extensive system of aerial observation that was perfected by the Royal Air force.

Extraordinary War Needs.

The production of many millions of glass eye pieces for gas masks also diverted the attention of the glass manufacturers from their regular work. War needs had to receive first consideration, and commercial production was merely of secondary importance. Stocks of window-glass were drawn upon very heavily in consequence of the damage caused by air raids. The supply depots situated in various parts of England were called upon with no notice to provide great quantities of glass to repair damage caused by aerial bombers. The manufacturers were thus made aware of Hun atrocities before the press had given the information out to the public. Through these reasons the stocks of glass in Great Britain is very small, and is thought to be inadequate for current demands until production is again speeded up.

High ocean freight rates have hitherto made it impracticable to ship glass from Canada to Great Britain. The recent reductions in rates have made it possible to praticipate in such export trade. Shipments were halted for some time until it was decided whether the material should go to France or to England. While an order of the size indicated would be relatively small with the production at the rate and with a healthy domestic demand being met it takes on rather more importance when the home demand is rather slow, as it is at present.

The probability that building operations will be more active when the season becomes more advanced would make it appear that the demand for glass for 1919 would be fairly good. It is tacitly admitted in building trade circles that nothing approaching a building boom is expected this year, and that costs of all materials, as well as wages, will have to be revised downward before such extreme activity will eventuate. A moderate amount of building, and as a consequence a moderate demand for glass, is expected for this year. A larger percentage of the domestic demand for the better grades of glass can now be met by the Canadian-made products, judging from the surplus that is now on hand in warehouses. The competition from continental producers of glass will again have to be met. The Belgian industry will not be producing for export for some time to come, in all probability, and the labor conditions in that country may be vastly changed as compared with the pre-war standards.

VENTRILOQUIST HIMSELF SAYS SAYS IT IS A TRUE STORY

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—"Please let me down easy, mister," came a deep voice, apparently from the casket, as Andrew J. Wilson, a negro employed by a Long Beach transfer company, was engaged, with another workman, in unloading at a freight station there a coffin containing a body that had been shipped to Long Beach for burial from a town in the middle west.

Wilson was just letting his end of the box down, with about two feet to go. He let it fall the two feet with a bang, and with a flying start he sprinted down the street.

Police Sergeant Clyde Allen of Long Beach, who was standing near the scene with a ventriloquist friend, vouches for the story.

DOCTOR SAID ABSCESS.

Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscroft, N.B., under date of Feb. 9th, 1918, writes us as follows: "About five months ago a lump came on my jawbone. I thought it was a boil and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger. I went to a doctor and he said it was an abscess and lanced it. He gave me a wash for it, so I went by his directions until it healed up, but it commenced coming again and in about three weeks it broke itself. I thought it would get better but it didn't. A neighbor advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. I sent and got a bottle and by the time it was all gone the abscess had disappeared, and now it is all better."

Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have never applied it to a cut, wound, sore or ulcer, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses. It takes out itching, stinging and burning and promotes the growth of healthy flesh. So, too, when taken internally by its power of eliminating all impurities from the blood and making that vital fluid rich, red and pure, it cuts off the origin and source of the foul matter that goes to make boils, pimples, sores, ulcers, abscesses and the like, and at the same time the purified and enriched blood creates healthy tissue where there was formerly, perhaps, a sore full of pus.

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for 40 years. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MONDAY MARCH 31, 1919.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IN CANADA.

Daylight saving is an accomplished fact all over Canada, as it is impracticable for the cities to work on a different time to that of the railroads. That was made abundantly clear in the past when local daylight saving movements failed on account of the fact that the railroads at that time remained on the old time.

For a day or two there will be a certain amount of confusion, but it will not be long before practically every city in the country will have to move its clocks ahead one hour.

As far as the rural communities in the prairie and east which have opposed daylight saving are concerned they are free to change to the new time or not. The question of conforming to railroad time is of less importance than it is to commercial communities as represented by the cities.

Perhaps, in the long run, the solution which has developed will prove more satisfactory all around than if the daylight saving measure had been passed at Ottawa.

FOREIGN TRADE, CREDITS AND PROSPERITY.

Before the war Canada borrowed three hundred million dollars annually. Leaving interest on past borrowings aside, roughly that was the difference, on the wrong side of the ledger, between Canada's imports and Canada's exports.

During the war this condition was reversed. Canada's trade balance changed to the right side of the ledger. The Dominion became a lending nation, instead of a borrowing nation.

In a general sense it works out that a country which exports more than it imports has to supply credits to foreign nations equal to the surplus of exports over imports, less any gold which may be sent in to maintain exchange upon a stable and satisfactory basis.

Two propositions are therefore clear. Canada must continue to expand its foreign trade in order to keep its international trade balance on the right side of the ledger. And in order to accomplish that it must have the capital to finance its foreign trade. Canadians have the capital. They have proved that by subscriptions to Victory loans. All that is necessary is that they should continue to buy government issues, which are necessary for the provision of credits to overseas nations which are willing to buy in the Dominion if they can get the necessary credits.

THE GARDEN IDEA.

There is a vast amount of merit in the plan of encouraging the boys and girls to plant gardens.

During the war days some of the best kitchen-gardens instituted and carried through to a very successful finish, were looked after by boys and girls.

That sort of endeavor not only provides very healthful recreation, but is an important economic factor in bringing down the cost of living.

The devoting of part of a yard to the growing of vegetables is not a fad. It is productive work of the most important nature.

Spring has come early this year and so a fine start should be obtainable by those who have been planning to plant kitchen-gardens this season.

Are the garden plans ready?

Have you put your clock forward yet?

Probably a number of people awoke an hour late this morning and then began to wonder what had happened when they got down town.

Another man has been attacked and shot in Vancouver. Hungary and the coast city are surely the exciting places on the may these days.

Lord Aberdeen will retain only 13,000 acres of his Scottish estate. Still it is not likely that he will go very strong on the agitation for a heavier land tax.

Premier Borden does not want the British ambassadorship to the United States. He prefers to remain premier of Canada and rightly so. Canada prefers it, also.

The mining suituation in Kootenay and Boundary continues to give promise of being more satisfactory during 1919 than for many years past, although the improvement in gold mining conditions and the lower prices for the base metals will have the effect of forcing a certain amount of readjustment.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

That Four-Hour Speech.

Premier Oliver made a four-hour speech on the budget last week and devoted considerable of his time to explaining why it was useless to further investigate the half-million contribution given in connection with the P. G. E. During the four hours, however, he did not find time to give any explanation regarding the government's determination to block every move made to investigate Mr. Findlay's prohibition operation.—Kamloops Standard-Sentinel.

TO GREET THE MEN WHO WIN.

Yes, it is good to battle, and good to be strong and free,
To carry the hearts of a people to the uttermost ends of the sea,
To see the day steal up the bay, where the enemy lies in wait,
To run your ship to the harbor's lip and sink her across the strait;
But better the golden evening when the ships round heads for home,
And the long grey miles slip swiftly past in a swirl of seething foam,
And the people wait at the haven's gate to meet the men who win!
Thank God for Peace! Thank Gog for Peace, when the great grey ships come in!

VOTES FOR WOMEN

A number of those interested in woman suffrage have been under the impression that the act passed last session at Ottawa giving women the right to vote in Dominion elections was held in abeyance because the War Time Elections act, giving the franchise to a limited number of women, has not yet been repealed. This is a mistaken view, as will appear from the following letter from the deputy minister of justice:

"The Women's Suffrage act, passed last session, is none the less operative because the War Time Elections act is still in effect. During the operations of the War Time Election act the enumerators' list govern, and it will be necessary for the women to see that their names are upon these lists, for which the provincial lists are adopted as the basis; and if their names appear upon the provincial lists they are entitled to go upon the enumerators' lists for a Dominion election."

The women of Canada are, therefore, entitled to vote at Dominion elections under the conditions of the act, namely, that they are British subjects, of the full age of 21 years and upward, with the usual conditions of residence and provided that they are not disqualified by nationality, race or blood, and they are not married to aliens. The letter from the deputy minister of justice quoted above describes the steps to be taken to be placed on the lists if they wish to exercise their right to vote.—Toronto Globe.

REPATRIATION PROBLEMS...

Sergt. Alex. Brereton, V. C., who stormed single-handed a German machine gun nest, captured the gun and its crew of nine, and thus saved the lives of many of his platoon, is conducting the "Veterans' Corner" of the Winnipeg Tribune."

In an editorial utterance in his column he says:

"The Canadian troops made good overseas. We showed them over there the stuff was in us and that we knew how to fight. Not let us veterans show the people back home here we are still real Canadians.

"Let's get into civil life with a vim and vigor that will keep the name of Canada in the limelight at all times. We soldiers, better than anyone else, can give Canada the proper kind of advertising she deserves—the advertising that is necessary to make her the better and more prosperous country she should be.

"Our boys proved it was a good country to fight for; now let's demonstrate it is a good place for other people to grow up in. Canada showed her spirit during the war; continue that spirit in helping to bring greater returns in manufacturing, industry, farming and commerce."

This statement of Alex. Brereton epitomizes the spirit that actuates the returned men, and if the people of Canada will co-operate with this spirit, Repatriation will be comparatively easy and a complete success.

MECHANICAL COW GIVES MILK IN BEER STEINS

NEW YORK.—Housewives of New York city will get their milk in beer steins from a mechanical cow propelled through the streets on a push-cart, if a proposal made by Loton Horton, president of the Sheffield Farms Dairy company, is put into effect.

Mr. Horton recommended for use in New York a milk delivery system which he observed in German cities in 1910. Under this scheme milk is carried from door to door in a tank on which there is a spigot from which the fluid is drawn into a container.

"A beer stein, because of its cover, would be the ideal sanitary container in which to take milk from this machine," said Mr. Horton.

Autographs of Field Marshal Haig and Admiral Beatty brought $75 each.

THREW WIFE AND EASTER CLOTHES OUT OF HOUSE

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—A story of alleged cruelty is told in a separate maintenance suit filed by Katherine M. Shirley against T. J. Shirley. She alleges that her husband has a violent temper, and that when in a rage he attacks her. Last Easter Sunday Mr. Shirley threw her against a door, it is alleged, and then threw her bodily from the house, tossing her clothes out after her. She said she had to break into the house to get back. Then she says she bought a gun for protection.

Mr. Shirley made another attack on her, she says, and, being in fear of him, she asserts she shot twice at him to protect her life. Her infant daughter was present at the row. Another incident is related where a son of her husband attacked her with an umbrella, and Mr. Shirley urged him on, saying he was too young to be prosecuted.

Mrs. Shirley asks alimony of $250 a month.

The London and Port Stanley electric railway will give its employees an eight-hour day and also an increase in wages.

The Week in the Legislature

LEGISLATIVE PRESS GALLERY, VICTORIA, B. C., March 24.—(By Mail)—Like every other last week this is filled to the brim with 11th hour work brought in during the dying hours and pushed ahead during morning, afternoon and night sittings so that the ministers can get back to their office duties and the members can get home again. There was a disposition on the part of some of the northern members to wind up at the end of last week, but the opposition leader and others took objection to the haste that threatened to be unseemly, hence the decision to run the session out through the greater part of this week.

The budget debate was the piece de resistance of last week and nearly all of the leaders of the house were heard. Naturally a good deal of interest followed the remarks of the leader of the opposition, the natural supposition of the gallery onlookers being that criticism is much more interesting to listen to than a more or less prosy recital of the intentions of the administration or a studied defense of the governmental policy. True to expectations the opposition leader gave the government an interesting half day of it. Most of his speeches centered around the allegation that the government had been spending money on overheads which it might well have alienated in favor of more public works. He pointed out that the government had allowed the ship building policy of the previous administration to die, just when its continued existence would have meant much to the province in the way of wooden ship pay roll, an added fleet for the carrying of British Columbia export lumber and other products and much activity in the lumber camps and mills of the province. He contended that the long promised reorganization of the civil service seemed to lie principally in the hiring of Liberals, and the increasing of salary of comparatively new appointees from the ranks of the faithful. His financial figures showed that in two years of rule the new government had borrowed over seven million, would this year borrow three and a half million more and would show a deficit for the fiscal year beginning on April 1, of slightly over three millions more. Although the old government had in 1916 been able to borrow money at the favorable price of 5.62, the new administration was only reaching that mark after two years or more of effort. The opposition leader spent some time in referring to the over governing of the province by means of newly created offices and boards adding largely to the civil service expense. He wanted to know why the administration had not yet given any specific details of how it intended to spend the proceeds from the new three and a half million dollar loan bill and accused the minister of public works of putting up a big financial sack for the hungry Liberals to reach after. That was either the case or else the vote was purely a paper one and no money would be borrowed for the general public undertakings proposed.

As might have been expected, the policy of the government was defeated by a straight party vote. Mr. Bowser took the occasion to get in a speech dealing largely with the prohibition question. He asked for details about a ten dollar long distance telephone conversation between Attorney General Farris and Findlay in Seattle, and also wanted to know why the attorney general had been so ready to give immunity to the former prohibition commissioner. Everything possible seemed to be thrown in the way of prosecuting Findlay and cleaning up the whole situation, he claimed.

Again General Wade and his somewhat ludicrous proposal to buy airplanes to pick out the valleys in British Columbia, find new routes for railways and do forest patrol work also came in for some attention from the energetic opposition chief.

Hon. J. H. King, minister of public works, in speaking on the budget, said that the expense of administration was considerably less than under the old regime. The system of road engineers had worked out well, he declared. He added that the roads in the province had been well maintained. Dr. King promised an investigation this summer into the rival transprovincial highway claims of the Hope-Princeton route and the Fraser canyon route. He took occasion during his speech to characterize the union government as a "get by" government.

Attorney General Farris was heard briefly in the debate. He said that his new labor bureau would save the laboring people of the province at least fifty thousand dollars a year in employment agency fees. He said that the game laws had been well administered and while expenses had fallen, receipts had increased. He charged the Dominion government with "passing the buck" to the province in connection with plans for soldier rehabilitation.

J. W. Jones of South Okanagan spoke of greatly increased civil service expenditures and over governing by means of new boards and officials. Mrs. Smith rapped the banks and the packing houses. Mr. Ross, former minister of lands, declared that the bulk of the energies of the government were apparently confined to providing jobs for followers. He said that the real test of the efficiency of the present game department would be found in a visit to the game districts. He told the house that twenty-five per cent of the revenue of the province was spent on civil service. In the east the per centage was four to six per cent.

Hon. Mr. Pattullo described the present land system of the province as excellent. The reason the former government's ship building policy had been abandoned was because it was no good. As an instance, he pointed to the fact that the ships built under the policy were not now sailing out of British Columbia ports. Hon. Mr. Pattullo announced that the province was at all times ready to turn over land to Ottawa for soldier purposes.

The speech of the whole debate, especially for length, was that of Premier Oliver. He talked for three hours and reviewed the whole realm of provincial affairs from A to Izard. The most striking statement of his address was that in reference to the P. G. E., when in defending the action of the government in refusing to pass the Hanes motion for an enquiry into the P. G. E. $500,000 campaign fund he said that Foley Welch and Stewart, the P. G. E. contractors, had actually lost $87,000 on the whole transaction, hence this fund could not have come from the public purse as opened for the railway construction. The money had come from personal funds of General Stewart, said the premier. In view of the frequent charges that the old government had overpaid the contractors about five or six millions and that from this amount came the half million campaign fund, Hon. Mr. Oliver's announcement was particularly striking.

Major Burde created a diversion the other night by holding up the progress of the estimates in committee, talking until midnight on the respective appropriations for Comox and his own district of Alberni. He claimed that Comox, which was represented by a government member who did nothing but vote for government bills, was getting fourteen thousand dollars more than Alberni. "You cannot pull that patronage stuff these days," he told Hon. Mr. King. The minister of public works promised to make a readjustment.

Salary increases, particularly the thousand and five hundred dollar jumps for new appointees created most of the opposition criticism during the committee work on the estimates. After some strenuous endeavor the opposition got details from the minister of public works on the lump sum of one million six hundred thousand dollars for roads, streets and bridges. The members opposed to the government had considered this too large a vote to pass without some details as to what it was all about. Dr. King eventually submitted a statement accounting for something over a million of the amount, divided up among the various constituencies. Mr. Bowser called the remaining half million the mystery fund.

The public accounts committee was at work all week. One disclosure which it made was that the sales from the government liquor store in Vancouver now average fifty thousand dollars a month as compared with six thousand dollars a month during 1918. In Victoria the sales have jumped from fifteen hundred a month to twelve thousand monthly.

The soldier members ran afoul of the government once or twice during the week, the chief controversy being over the trip of the Empress of Asia settlement representatives to Ottawa. Victoria had promised to back them up in whatever Ottawa might decide for them. Ottawa agreed to lend money for a community scheme if Victoria would guarantee it. The government here promptly said that the Dominion was merely evading responsibility. There was a warm debate in the house, the soldiers being quite hostile on the subject.

CHICAGO—Here is a report from the civil war archives concerning the capturing of a rebel battalion by a battalion of union troops, in which the major, detailing the engagement, wrote as follows: "Our left was trying to move around the rebel right, but the rebel right was also moving around our left. When the left of the rebel right moved around the right of our left, what was left of the rebel right was right where our right had just left. So when the rebel right's left was right where our right had left, our right was left right left of their right, and that's how it happened."

BUMP OVERTURNS AUTO AND HALTS WEDDING

CHICAGO—A bump in the pavement at West Congress and South Halsted streets prevented the wedding of Dominick Salenio and Miss Vera Guciardo, both residing at 916 Sholto street, yesterday, when it caused the yellow cab in which they were riding to get the license to skid to the curb and upset the bridal party into the street. All received minor cuts and bruises.

The party was taken home, where it was decided to postpone the wedding.

ELKO NOTES
(By Fred Roo.)

Holders of water rights secured from the province, who have so far failed to initiate any development work in connection with them, must be prepared to utilize their rights or have them taken from them, according to a statement made in the legislature by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, Victoria, B. C. At Elko, B. C., the Queen City of the Crows Nest Pass, has the greatest natural resources in the province, bar none. Elko's great and only drawback, its proximity to the one man town of Fernie, whose citizens will do nothing themselves nor let any one else do anything. They want it all or the machinery doesn't start. Besides Elko's great water power it has the best location for a pulp mill with material to keep it running for 30 years, and we have other resources of similar magnitude, and if Elko was as near to Cranbrook as it is to Fernie, these natural resources would be operating right today. Fernie is like the old woman's rocking chair, makes a lot of moves but never gets anywhere. It might sound Irish, but it's a fact. The reason Fernie has only a few thousand residents instead of fifteen or twenty thousand, is because they have played the same game as the old maid who could have been married if she had not put up her umbrella every time it began to rain kisses.

Jim Thistlebeak says: "That men who carry it in a bottle should use a flask. The round quarts bulge one's coat out of shape."

The man who fails is the sort of a chap
Who is always looking around for a snap,
Who neglects his work to watch the clock,
Who never misses a chance to knock.
He is grouchy and slow when work begins,
When it's time to quit, he jokes and grins,
He's always as busy as busy can be
When he thinks the boss is around to see.
He believes that a "pull" is the only way
By which he can ever draw bigger pay,
And he sulks and growls when he sees his plan
Upset by the "push" of another man.
He's on the job when he draws his pay,
That done, he flitters his time away,
While the men who ckle their jobs with vim
Keep pushing and climbing ahead of him.
The man who fails has himself to blame,
If he wastes his chances and misses his aim;
He'd win if he'd use his hands and wits.
The man who fails is the man who quits.

Jim Thistlebeak says: Don't run up a bill at your grocers; nor run down your neighbor; and for heaven's sake don't be forever looking at the hole in the doughnut. How far will a dollar go in Eklo, "Mabel?" That depends who is out with you, but if you are looking for something for nothing, get a bucket of water.

Contractor Alex Butts returned from Pueblo, Colorado, last week, where he holds big interests in the steel works at that place. He was glad to get back and says Canada for him. He left Monday for Flagstone and the Roosville valley, where he expects to buy up several timber limits and start logging operations.

Jim Thistlebeak says: The following is a good receipt for a good town: Is grit, vim, push, snap, energy, well attended schools, morality, churches, harmony, cordiality, good advertising. Talk about it, write about it, speak well of it, help to improve it, advertise in its paper, patronize its merchants. Elect good men to office; faith exhibited by good works; make the place healthy, and fire all the croakers, grouchers, loafers and deadbeats. Open all the windows of your receptiveness; let your friends come in. New wine blows up old bottles. Friendship brings happiness to its flood. Cheer up, the war is over and there's a good time coming if you will only do your share. Don't sit down and wait for the other fellow. Jump in yourself, and get your feet wet, the water's warm.

To prove that it pays to advertise, Fred Roo, general merchant, Elko, B. C., last week got a letter from Australia. Jim Thistlebeak says they must read the Elko Notes in Australia.

WINNIPEG WAGE QUESTION GOING TO THE BOARD

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

WINNIPEG, March 30.—Despite a strong plea from Mayor Gray that the city should be able to handle its own wage affairs without the necessity of obtaining outside assistance, the whole wage question is now almost certain to go to an arbitration board. Another fairly long session Saturday night with the firemen failed to bring about an agreement, the parties being diametrically opposed on the right of captains and lieutenants to join the union. Thereupon it was decided that the arbitration board might as well deal with this and other as equally important questions. The present week promises the most interesting in the whole situation. The civic federation representing the clerks has decided to reject the city's offer of a ten per cent increase and will stay by the demand for a $15 per month increase. Tomorrow night the electricians meet and are expected to stay with their demand for a 44-hour week and other points which the city has refused thus far to concede. The most important meeting will be that of the federated council, which is made up of representatives of all unions interested. This body is decided on the stand that the city must settle with all unions before any one of them will be satisfied. Such a step might mean all the whole wage schedules going to arbitration.

MONTREAL FIRE DAMAGE $100,00 0IS ESTIMATE

A fireman was overcome by smoke and several others had narrow escapes.

THUGS IN VANCOUVER SHOOT MAN; MAY LIVE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 30.—Martin Grellish, North Vancouver, was shot twice and seriously wounded by two young thugs Saturday night who attempted to rob his home. One bullet entered the man's chest near the heart and the other went through his left leg. He is expected to recover. The thugs made good their escape.

General News of the City

GOOD BYE SNOW! HELLO SPRING

There's Smell of Gas and Sale of Seeds and a Pair of White Shoes Out Saturday

Spring is here, there no doubt about it. There's real dust on the streets and newly opened cans of paint in the boat houses and there is the smell of gas on the streets and seeds are selling like hot cakes in the city stores, while on Baker street Saturday some one dared out in tennis shoes and occasionally there are signs of Easter coming.

There's a summer atmosphere around the lake and the sun is chasing the snow up the mountain. The birds are announcing their presence and the proverbial spring poet is with us again.

"Oh, boy! Oh, joy! It's surely great to hear the birdies twitter, and knowing winter's out of date I like a school girl titter. The day is spent in rounds of glee, I'm happy as a cocktail; I've soaked my furs and hockey skates and now I'll spend the hock kale. I'll buy me shoes both low and white, and trousers that are cotton, and sally forth in keen delight that winter is forgotten."

GIRLS RAISE $37 AT TEA IN PARISH HALL

Thirty-seven dollars was raised by the Junior Women's auxiliary of St. Saviour's church by a tea given in the parish hall, Saturday afternoon. Miss Mabel Astley was in charge of the tea table and assisting her in serving were Miss Daphne Rook, Miss Beryl GFraham, Miss Margaret Jarvis, Miss Evelyn Applewaite and Miss Doris Lee. Mrs. William Fotheringham did good business at the home cooking stall and Miss Helen Fowler sold fancy work at another booth.

Songs, pianoforte solos and recitations were given by the following: Miss Beatrice Campion, Miss Gladys Fotheringham, Miss Evelyn Applewhaite, Miss Mary Jarvis, Miss Doris Lee, Miss Margaret Jarvis, Miss Marion James and Miss Ethel Morrison.

McCULLOCH SPEAKS ON WATER POWER

"There are only four really great water power sources in Canada as far as water power is concerned. They are at Montreal, Niagara, Nelson and Vancouver," stated A. L. McCulloch in his lecture at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night on "Water as an Element Essential to Mankind."

He brought out the fact that three-quarters of the world's surface was water while one half of the land area was unihaabitable because of the lack of water. Mr. McCulloch dealt with the value of the rainfall at various seasons and conditions of soil which made dry farming possible. He took up the irrigation subject and showed the antiquity of this method of getting crops, as well as its great value at the present time. Speaking of the problems of cities in securing adequate and pure water supply, Mr. McCulloch instanced the case of Los Angeles, which city had gone 250 miles for an adequate supply of water and had tunneled 40 miles through mountains to get the supply to the city.

Why Can't I Get To Sleep?

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed, and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened except by the pernicious use of opiates or narcotics. Or again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way you can get relief is to sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way, Milburns Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peaceful as a child.

Mrs. James Latimer, 39 Leinster St., St. John, N.B., writes: "At night I could not sleep. I had to sit up in bed, my heart beat so fast and when I walked upstairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after using two boxes, I can sleep all night and am not out of breath after walking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

POLITICAL TRICK, SAYS GRAIN GROWER MUSSELMAN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Regina G. G. A. accepted a notice of motion on Saturday that the central office proceed to call a convention to nominate a candidate to stand on the platform of the Canadian council of agriculture.

UP TO BRITAIN TO UPHOLD FRANCE SAYS SPEAKER

(By Daily News Leased Wire)

LONDON, March 30.—The Earl of Derby, British ambassador to France, speaking at a banquet given in honor of Vice-Admiral Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet, at Liverpool on Saturday, expressed sympathy with France in her anxiety for the future. He said it was up to Great Britain to stand by France if at any time an ambitious foe crossed her frontier.

While preserving silence on the subject of the league of nations, the Earl of Derby said he felt that if anything can save future generations from the horrors of the past, let us, in heaven's name, try it.

The best foundation, the ambassador adde, was a strong alliance of Great Britain, France and the United States, supported by the British navy.

Canadiens Win Game; Series Race Is Tied

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SEATTLE, Wash., March 30.—Endurance won another great hockey game here last night and tied the rate for the world's championship. Coming from behind, after being out-played for two periods, the Montreal Canadiens defeated Seattle Mets in the secon overtime game of the series, 4 to 3, befor a crowd of 4000.

The finish was as spectacular as Wednesday's affair. The Seattle men were exhausted when Jack MacDonald, the visiting substitute, skated down the ice and hung up the talley which won the great contest.

Canadiens Work Fine.

Saturday night's game was simply another instance of a team playing out in the early stages, and succumbing to a squad which had conserved its strength. Seattle fought in that last fifteen minutes, fought to the last ditch, but they were battling against odds which were too great. The Canadiens were 50 per cent the stronger club in the extra perfod, and that they would eventually score the winning goal was evident to the close followers of the play.

To Captain Lalonde and his players credit is due for staging one of the greatest comebacks in hockey history. Many a hockey team with a 3 to 0 score staring it in the face has been known to curl up and call it a bad night. Realizing that they were better conditioned for the last period, the Montreal skaters made haste to grab their advantage by the forelock, and when they finally emerged winner, after the bitter extra session few fans begrudged them the victory.

Under Doctor's Care.

Several of the Seattle men are under the care of a doctor as a result of the strenuous game Frank Foyston, his injured thigh again wrenched after a mix-up in certre ice, is a sick man; "Cully" Wilson is showing the effects of the strenuous pace he maintained, and two or three others are nursing minor sprains and bruises. The Frenchmen are in much better shape, Corbeau being the only member of the visitors to show any effects from the hard game.

While Cleghorn was the man who scored the first Canadien goal, it was the great and only Lalonde who was more responsible for the Montreal win. Urging his teammates on, Lalonde not only was a tower of strength on defence, but he scored the second and tieing goal himself. His second effort, a brilliant stop of a rebound and a well-placed shot over Holmes' shoulder, was a beautiful piece of hockeyy strategy. MacDonald's fine goal was another great play. The Montreal substitute cleverly evaded the two Seattle defence men and shot through for a corner for the winning goal.

Not So Rough.

The game was not so rough as the Wednesday affair, but the checking was just as hard. In fact the hard-checking game of the Seattle men told in the latter stages. For two periods the advantage was all with the Mets, and Muldoon's players showing up much better at the six-man game than on former occasions. But their weakened defence allowed the visitors to break through, and when the final test came, the Mets were too leg-weary to get the needed goal.

Despite the loss, Seattle has a good chance to win the title Tuesday, when the deciding game will be contested. The game will be played under western rules, which will give the Mets any advantage which the regulations give. However, Muldoon was very much worried over the bad condition of his team after tonight's match, and it is doubtful if the Seattle pilot can put his full strength into the coming battle.

Manager Kennedy was tickled as a school boy at the victory of his team. "I always claimed I had a game team," he smiled, "and the boys certainly proved it last night. I expect them to win the championship now."

COPYRIGHT ACT TO BE CHANGED

Bill Before Senate Committee Would Alter Present Basis of Preliminary Registration.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, March 30.—A complete change, in the basis of copyright is proposed in the bill now before the senate special committee. Formerly in Canada there had to be registration before copyright.

There is to be an optional registration as a simple method of proof, but such registration is not necessary. How does the new bill affect the newspapers? In the first place, whatever is copyrightable in the paper becomes protected automatically. If registration is desired the whole paper and not merely individual articles can be registered. Moreover, one registration will serve to copyright all subsequent issues.

Provision is made for the rights of staff contributors to newspapers as well for the owner of the paper.

It the writer of a story or article is in the employment of another and the work is done in the course of his employment the employer in the absence of any agreement to the contrary shall be the first owner of the copyright, but there shall be reserved to a writer himself the power to restrain other publications. Bookrights, for example, will be reserved to the original writer.

There is to be no infringement of copyright if a newspaper publishes a report of a political address delivered at a public meeting. Lectures, however, can be copyrighted by notice, and made immune from report, but a newspaper can give a summary of the lecture.

All these decisions follow the decisions of the British act.

VOTES FOR ALLIANCE.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

Members of the inter-allied commission to Poland were present at the session and at its conclusion thanked the chamber for their recepton.

The inter-allied commission will leave Warsaw on Sunday for Paris. Premier Paderewski, also is going to the French capital, according to an announcement made here today, to make arrangements for the alliance between Poland and the entente.

FRANCE WANTS TO EXPORT WINES TO THE DOMINION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, March 30.—(Special Cable from Leon Trepanier)—The French government still maintains the restrictions on importations which have been strongly criticized. Le Matin, discussing this matter, expresses itself as follows:

"The minister of reconstruction has also devoted much attention to the boot and shoe industry. M. Loucher thinks that in order to bring the price of boots and shoes down to a decent figure, large quantities of boots and shoes from the United States and Canada must be imported without hesitation as was done before the war, the French output having always failed to meet the demands."

Various French organizations, including the section of Canadian exporters and the Canadian section of the Franco-Amerique committee are presenting memorials to the Canadian government earnestly requesting consideration of the enactments which prohibit the importation of light wines into Canada.

The dependence of France upon the exportation of her wine products is strongly urged, and the view is also put forward that the use of light wines has proven to be an antidote to alcoholism in European countries.

It is understood that the authorities of the medical faculty of the Sorbonne university are considering arrangements by which degrees granted in Canada will be equivalent to those of the Sorbonne. This will greatly assist Canadians who desire to complete their studies at this great university.

The Hudson's Bay Company
INCORPORATED 1670

AT THE THEATRES

Take a Guess!

You simply can't outguess the developments of "Hands Up," the Pathe serial, now being shown at the Gem theatre, featuring the beautiful daredevil Ruth Roland. Lovers of the odd and unusual will revel in its problems for one mystery follows another in rapid succession and the swift movement of constant peril keeps one breathless and expectant until the final episode which, at last, reveals who is who and what is what. This story by Gilson Willetts and produced by Astra is a masterpiece of baffling romance. Take a guess at it!

"Tarzan of the Apes."

Darwin was right, all right. But he never graded the degrees of descent. Edgar Rice Burroughs made some attempt at grading in his "Tarzan of the Apes," which is in motion picture form at the Starland theatre today and tomorrow. He runs the gamut this way—drunken sailors, brutal ship officers, slave trades and finally aristocrats. The apes really rank highest. Even the boy brought up by the apes ranks head and shoulders above his aristocratic relative. There are no class lines, no national lines, no mutual exploitation among our ancestors.

"Tarzan of the Apes" is bully adventure. Wild beasts roam through the scenes; a kindly elephant takes the wild man upon his back; in short, mix Stevenson's "Treasure Island" with Captain Baker's African stories and the happy combination is struck. The joy of the film lies in its kindly wild life rather than its civilized brutality. And in putting Burroughs' story into the film the National Film corporation has shown good sense of showmanship. "Tarzan" is better than most films which have been concocted for the screen and credit must be given to Scott Sidney, who staged it, and Isidor Bernstein, who edited it. Natural beauties, imagination and clean, free spirit make the film a delight.

LET KOOTENAY BATTALION BE PERMANENT PART OF MILITIA, SAYS COL. CAREY

Lieut.-Col. A. B. Carey, in command of the 54th Kootenay battalion, has written to Mrs. William Rutherford, president of the Nelson Women's institute, suggesting that the battalion should be made a permanent part of the Canadian militia, with headquarters at Nelson. He asks the support of the people of the city and district. The letter says:

Future of Unit?

"We are all thinking of what is to be the future of our unit. We want to see it perpetrated as a battalion in the Canadian militia and bearing its present name and number. Its headquarters, of course, ought to be in Nelson, where, I am told, there is a very useful drill hall, and it should be formed only of officers and men who have served overseas with the 54th.

"Similar movements have been instituted at other places by other battalions, as, for instance, the 7th, Gen. Odlum's old battalion, in Vancouver, which it is proposed, will replace either the 6th or the 11th.

Need Support of All.

"We need, of course, the support of all and we believe you are in a position to gain an expression of opinion from the women of the city. Would you be good enough to interest yourself in the matter and to work in harmony with the Ottawa member for the district? The principal thing is to get the government at Ottawa, through the minister of militia and defense, to agree to the proposal. Practical details can be worked out when we get back."

"PIGS IS PIGS," BUT HERE'S ONE THAT IS A FISH

"Pigs is pigs," but when a pig tries to be a fish there's something doing. Harold Selous and John Smith in a boat yesterday caught sight of a fat Berkshire swimming down the lake toward Ross' point.

There is a saying that when a pig tries to swim it cuts its throat, but evidently this particular porker said to itself, "I'm from Missouri," and put off from shore and sure enough, he made it, too, and clambered up on the rocks on the other side of the lake and was last seen evidently quite satisfied with his new home "over there."
