BRITISH FORCES ENTER VALENCIENNES

WILSON MAY NOT REPLY

Hun Note Is Now at U.S. Capital

DECIPHERING IS DIFFICULT

Say War Council to Decide President's Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The official text of the German reply to President Wilson will not be delivered by the Swiss legation until tomorrow. This was announced late today at the state department.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The prevailing belief here tonight is that any action President Wilson may take as a result of the new German note will await and largely be guided by a decision of the supreme war council in France.

Shrewd diplomatic observers and some officials take this view, though no intimation of his own attitude has come from the president, because admittedly the one question immediately at issue is a military problem—that of the evacuation of evaded territory by the German armies is the only condition upon which the plea for an armistice even will be given consideration.

Huns Evacuating Now

The Germans now are evacuating Belgium and northern France as rapidly as they can move before the sweep of the allied and American soldiers. Since the government at Berlin says they want to get out without further fighting, apparently the issue is one for the allied war council to determine—whether it shall be suggested through President Wilson that Marshal Foch be applied to for terms, or whether, without further diplomatic parley, the approach of a white flag from the German lines shall be awaited.

The official text of the German note reached the Swiss legation here by cable early today, but it was not delivered at the state department because the entire day was spent at the legation on the tedious task of deciphering the document and preparing an English translation of the German text. The translation was made with the greatest care by Frederick Oederlin, the Swiss charge, because there are obscure phrases in the unofficial version received yesterday by wireless which may be cleared up by a more accurate rendering of the German. When the charge's work was done, Secretary Lansing had left his office and an engagement was made for delivery of the note at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

This incident in itself was pointed to later as evidence that exchanges between London, Paris and Washington have been proceeding since the arrival of the wireless version and that pending word from the war council of the military situation demands, the president is in no hurry to know the exact verbal definitions between the official and the unofficial texts. There also were reports that any action might wait upon the diplomatic conference about to convene in the allied capitals, but these found no official confirmation.

Are They Whipped?

Whatever form any further diplomatic exchanges may take, one official said tonight, after all there is but one question: "Are the Germans whipped?" If they are whipped and ready to surrender when attempts at bargaining have failed, the surrender will come quickly enough, as quickly as the men who let the truth sink home upon the German people." Some diplomatic reports support the theory that they are restrained from revealing the real situation abruptly and taking peace at any price only from fear of more than a revolution. Notes approaching gradually a final capitulation serve to give the German public the news in broken doses, and at the same time to take every possible chance of finding a loophole in American and allied harmony with the hope of avoiding ultimately throwing the German nation upon the mercy of its enemies.

Others Not Mentioned

Austria-Hungary and Turkey were barcely mentioned here in today's discussions of the situation, though it was noted that the present German note says nothing whatever about "in harmony with our allies."

It seems that both the allies and

OVER 50,000 CIVILIANS LIBERATED BY OUR BOYS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN THE FIELD, Oct. 22.—(By J. F. B. Livesay, Canadian Press Correspondent)—We are now everywhere in contact with the enemy, but whether it is his main force or his rearguard, it is impossible to determine. It has rained steadily the past two days, adding much to the difficulties of our troops, who yet with the highest spirits push forward in long marches. The enemy has blown up almost every bridge. Craters on corner roads make transporation difficult, though Canadian engineers and railway troops are working night and day without intermission to restore communication. All this makes it extremely difficult to get up rations here. French civilians we have delivered have come to the help of our tired soldiers, taking them coffee at outposts and overwhelming them with kindness.

The Canadian corps has now rescued over 50,000 of these unfortunates, among them being even young men. Sir Arthur Currie, the corps commander, yesterday visited the recaptured area and was everywhere enthusiastically greeted. French flags flew from every window; even the muzzles of our guns passing to the front carried bouquets of flowers; nothing is too good for the Canadian deliverers.

"I cannot believe it," said a woman whose sons escaped and have died for France. "I cannot believe it. I fear I shall awake. It has been one long nightmare, not so much of ill-usage as of fear. To think you Canadians should have crossed the seas to be our deliverers."

Our line this morning is pushed out east of Rouvignes, Herin, Oisy and Bellaing. Outposts are within two or three hundred yards of Valenciennes. Though opposition is light and sporadic, this advance is making great demands on the powers of our men, who, nevertheless, march blithely.

PROVINCE PIPER'S FATHER WILL RECEIVE SON'S V. C.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Limited)—Five Victoria Crosses have been awarded, the recipients of three of which have been killed. The most thrilling account accompanies the award to Piper James Richardson of a Manitoba regiment.

Prior to the attack he obtained permission to play his company "over the top." As the company approached its objective it was held up by a very strong wire and came under an intense fire, which caused heavy casualties, and which momentarily demoralized the formation. Richardson, realizing the situation, strode up and down with the greatest coolness. The effect was instantaneous.

Inspired by his splendid example, the company rushed the wire with such fury and determination that the obstacle was overcome and the position captured.

Later, after participating in bombing operations, he was detailed to take back wounded comrades and prisoners. After returning 200 yards he remembered that he had left his pipes behind. Although strongly warned, he insisted on returning to recover his pipes. He was never seen again and is accordingly presumed dead, through lapse of time.

Richardson's father is the chief of police of Chilliwack, B. C. He was in his 23rd year. It is understood that the original application for a cross was turned down, but that a later one was successful.

KAISER MUST NOT KEEP AWAY PEACE

Karlsruhe Newspaper Declares Hohenzollerns Must Not Be Cause of Delay to War's End.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

GENEVA, Oct. 22.—Peace must not be delayed a single day on account of the Hohenzollerns, if they are an obstacle to it, declares the Volks Freund of Karlsruhe, which also is permitted to speak of the disappearance of the superstitious belief that the emperor was chosen to rule by divine right.

The Schwabische Tagwacht says that everybody is now convinced the allies will not accord Germany a cheap peace, "but if the glory and power of imperial Germany is the price the German people are ready to pay."

In permitting such items to leave Germany the German censorship apparently is preparing public opinion for coming events.

SAYS HUN ARMY IS NOT BEATEN

Reuter's Correspondent Does Not Think New School Politicians Would Decline Ludendorff's Invitations.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

FRENCH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 22.—(Reuter's)—Reuter's correspondent at French headquarters, discussing the enemy's military position, expresses the opinion that if Germany surrenders quickly it will not be because its armies are beaten, but because of the internal plight. The German military situation is not hopeless. Ludendorff and Von Scheer are certainly now pledging the Erzbergers and the Scheidemanns that Germany can hold out forever on the line of the Meuse, and meanwhile that the submarines will by next spring have brought England to a more reasonable frame of mind.

Whether the arguments will stand depends on the internal situation, but for those of us who knew Germany before the war, it is difficult to believe any politician of the new school could resist an invitation to dinner from Ludendorff.

The correspondent referred to above was Reuter's representative at Berlin before the war.

FRENCH DEPUTIES CRY INDIGNATION

Denounce Most Abominable of Hun Crimes As Returned Member Tells of Practises.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The chamber of deputies today enthusiastically welcomed Deputies Delory and Ragheboom of Lille, returning to their seats, after a year in the hands of the Germans. Amid an impressive silence M. Delory said:

"It is impossible to denounce all the German crimes, but the most abominable was the carrying off of women and girls of 16 and 19 by enemy soldiers, their enforced submission to medical examination and they being obliged to work under fear of machine gun fire for the German army."

The chamber shouted its indignation One member cried:

"We'll teach our children that—we never forget."

Thence M. Delory resumed: "The Lens plains are nothing but an immense area of ruins with not one house intact. There cannot be a Frenchman who does not wish those culpable chastised."

M. Ragheboom told of how German soldiers had insulted and violated Lille women and how they had forced 15-year-old children to work for them.

HUN COMMITTEE INVESTIGATES CHARGES OF DEVASTATION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The German propaganda service announces that a commission of neutral citizens of Brussels has gone to the front to investigate charges of devastation and destruction without military objects during the German retreat in Belgium. Baron von der Lancken, civil governor of Brussels, went with the commission.

REGINA COUNCIL CANNOT DECIDE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 22.—Members of the council of public health for the province of Saskatchewan met today at the executive buildings, but owing to the absence of two physicians no definite action was taken in regard to one of the objects of the meeting, which was to decide whether the restriction on the sale of liquor by druggists would be modified or not.

GERMANS RAID AMERICAN LINES

Bombs Fall Near Red Cross Hospital But no Patients Are Seriously Hurt.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 22.—5:30 p.m.—In retaliation for the destruction wrought by American bombing planes within the enemy's lines recently, German aviators last night raided the American front and back areas in the largest force since the American offensive began on the Meuse and in the Argonne. In addition to attacking the infantry, the Germans bombed the region around Clermont, Mont Faucon and Rarecourt. Four bombs were dropped near the American hospital in the region of Rarecourt, one of the bombs tearing down an outbuilding. The glass ends of four former French barracks, now used by the Americans as hospital wards were shattered.

A Red Cross nurse, Margery Sawyer of Buffalo, N.Y., was blown from her bed but was not injured. All the patients were taken to dugouts, none of them being injured. Another Red Cross nurse, Mabel Butler of New Haven, Conn., was in the same building with Miss Sawyer but was not hurt. Both of them immediately went to the aid of the patients.

When the first bomb fell, the hospital attendants gave their first attention to their charges, leading or carrying them to shelter. Rocks thrown up where this bomb struck broke the windows in the southern end of the building. Ten other bombs were exploded in succession in a great semi-circle. Throughout most of the night German planes were heard many times passing over.

1600 AUSTRIANS BAGGED IN EAST

Franco-Serbian Forces Break Through Strong Defenses and Make Big Gains.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The official communication dealing with operations in the eastern theatre says:

"On Oct. 21, French forces reached Lom-Palanka on the Danube, in Bulgaria, 22 miles southeast of Vidin, which they occupied; they captured a convoy of enemy barges loaded with merchandise and wheat.

"North of Alezsinatz, Serbian forces have progressed, notwithstanding very strong resistance by the enemy. Serbian cavalry has reached the region east of Paracin, capturing part of the headquarters of a German division, including the archives and baggage of Gen. Von Gallwitz, commander of the division.

"In the region of Ipek and Novipazar, detachments of Serbians of Comitadjis and Montenegrins, supported by French troops captured in the course of an engagement with Austro-Hungarian forces in retreat more than 1600 prisoners and important booty."

HUN NOTE IS TRAP, SAYS SENATOR LODGE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, in a public statement today branded Germany's latst note as "a clumsy trap, awkwardly set, to involve us in discussions," and said if it is answered at all it should be with demands only for unconditional surrender.

"It seems unbelievable," said Senator Lodge, "that anyone should be taken in by the latest German note."

ALLIED AIRMEN BOMB METZ FORTRESS AND RAILWAYS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—An official statement on the operations of the independent air forces, issued tonight, says:

"Two of our squadrons attacked the barracks and railways at Metz Monday. Another squadron set out to attack the factories in Rhine towns, but the formation was split up by the dense fogs. Seven machines have not up to the present been located. Monday night we dropped heavy bombs on the stations at Mazieres."

PEACE TALK ANSWER IS REDOUBLE EFFORTS, SAYS GEN. MEWBURN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 22.—"I do not take much stock in this peace talk," said Major-Gen. Mewburn, minister of militia, tonight.

"Our answer to the German government's note should be to redouble our efforts. We shall send over every man and gun and every ton of supplies that we possibly can. Canada will not slacken its energies for one moment. That is the best way to obtain peace."

Gen. Mewburn said that arrangements were being made to establish a discharge depot for returned men with a local board to handle the cases.

TELLS OF ALLIES REACHING OSTEND

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Limited)—The first authoritative account of the Ostend landing has just been received here and is as follows:

"Yesterday the last German left Ostend, but already Vice-Admiral Keyes had landed and the king and queen of the Belgians have visited the city. A crazy enthusiastic crowd had secured an aviator who had landed on the famous beach. The people knelt around the machine and trampled on each other to touch it and to kiss its least hem. A coastal motor boat, which carried me towards Ostend stood in towards the beach. Great monitors lagged asteri, but off of the town was a patrol of motor launches. Incessant shells from Lecocq churned the water. Entrance was made by means of Belgian fishing boats and w hen the western pier was rounded the whole ruin and disarray of the port was visible. A covey of airplanes whirled into the sky. Breden and Lecocq clothed them in shrapnel smoke, until groups of civiliants flag wagging quickly indicated the easiest means of landing. Scores of children on the road came running and everyone seemed to have a British, Belgian or French flag. Even one innocent, obviously having to have some flag, pranced under German colors.

"You English?" they demanded. "You American, you French?" surging up in a multitude that compelled an answer. Getting it they burst into yells of joy. Many children and adults broke into tears.

CANADIAN GUN MEN ARE HEROIC

Remarkable Exploits Are Performed During Battle for Cambrai and Canal du Nord.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN THE FIELD, Oct. 22.—By J. F. B. Livesay, Canadian Press Correspondent.—Some remarkable exploits were performed by Canadian gunners during the battle of Cambrai. In storming the Canal du Nord on the morning of Sept. 27, it was of the utmost importance to have the field artillery right up in support, as failure to make a good crossing near Inchy meant holding up the entire battle plan of the previous day. A lieutenant made a personal reconnaissance along the canal for his battery and that night took his section of 18-pounders in front even of our outpost line losing half his horses and ammunition, but being able there to open fire across the canal with open sights at point blank range.

During that advance, a lieutenant of the divisional column made a reconnaissance under heavy shell fire of the passages across the canal and then, by his persistent disregard of danger and good leadership, took a column of wagons forward and established an ammunition reserve depot 1000 yards east of the canal. He kept up the supply there until the bridges were built. Throughout the fighting since Aug .8 this officer has on every occasion pushed forward ammunition dumps into the thick of the battle, thus enabling him to give immediate support to advancing infantry lines.

ALLIES REACH VANTAGE TOWN DESPITE FIERCE RESISTANCE

Fall of Valenciennes to Haig's Troops Is Imminent---Progress in Belgian and French Flanders Slows Up but Material Gains Are Made at Many Points

(By the Associated Press.)

The fall of Valenciennes to Field Marshal Haig's forces is imminent. Despite the desperate resistance of the Germans, the British have entered the city on the west, while to the north they have made deep thrusts into the great Raismes forests and are moving in the direction of Conde, near the angle of the Scheldt.

Historic Town.

Valenciennes had been in uninterrupted French possession since 1677 until the onrush of the Germans early in the present war led them many miles into France. It is now about to be added to the rapidly growing list of towns, the redemption of which has brought joy to the French people.

Appreciable Gains.

Although the progress of the allied forces in Belgian and French Flanders has slowed up somewhat in the face of the stiffening of the lines of rear guards aiding the retreat of the German armies, appreciable gains have been made, some of them of much importance.

Hollain and Bruyelle, on the Scheldt, south of Tournai, are now in the hands of the British and north of Tournai the village of Froyennes has been cleared of the enemy, who is winding toward the Scheldt. There has been sharp fighting for the crossings of this waterway at Pont-a-Chin. The Germans are fighting hard to keep the allies from outflanking Tournai on the north.

Foe Masses Troops.

Behind the Schedlt the Germans are massed in strength; their machine guns on the east bank are active, and are receiving the support of artillery and trench mortars. In the northern battle area, the Belgians have reached the Lys canal along their entire front and have captured a bridgehead, with numbers of the enemy west of Meerendre.

The French are still moving actively to the north of Laon and have now completed the occupation of Chalandry and Grandlup.

To the southwest of Ghent they are firmly entrenched on the east bank of the Lys, having made crossings at several points, against which the enemy resisted with determination.

Haig's Statement.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct .22.—British troops have entered the western suburbs of Valenciennes, Field Marshal Haig reported from headquarters tonight. The text of the statement reads:

"We have entered the western suburbs of Valenciennes and north of that town have penetrated deeply into the Forest de Raismes toward the angle of the Scheldt at Conde."

French Take Chalandry.

PARIS, Oct .22—French troops have captured Chalandry and Grandlup, north of Laon, according to the war office announcement tonight.

In part the text reads: "In Alsace the enemy on three different occasions attempted to reach one of our centres, but were driven back.

"On Oct. 21, along the west front and in Flanders our observation squadrons carried out important work of serveillance behind the enemy front. Two enemy planes were brought down."

Foe South of Scheldt.

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN BELGIUM, Oct. 22.—The enemy appears to be in strength in the angle south of Valenciennes, formed by the Scheldt and Ecaillon rivers, probably indicating that he has a defensive line south of the Scheldt on which he is going to attempt to stand for a while.

West of Tournai the British rave reached the village of Orcq. Tournai is rapidly becoming the peak of the salient being driven toward the Scheldt by the British.

Counterattacks Fail.

HAVRE, Oct. 22.—The official communication issued by the Belgian headquarters tonight says:

"The enemy sought to maintain the positions on the Lys and the canal from Deynze to the Dutch frontier. He attempted several counterattacks for the purpose of forcing us back west of Peteghem, which we had occupied Sunday. All these attacks failed with heavy losses. The Belgian army crossed at several points the Canal de Bervat de la Lys.

"In their recent retreat the Germans were compelled to throw 200 vehicles into the Bruges-Ghent canal near Miserle, west of St. Georges.

French Take 1100 Men.

"The French troops have established south of Deynze a bridgehead to a depth of three kilometres over an extent of four kilometres. Patrols have traversed the course of the Lys further south of Vive St. Eloi. In the course of these operations 1100 Germans were taken prisoner by the French.

"The second British army has advanced on a front of 1600 metres (about a mile) between the Lys and Scheldt and have established a bridgehead on the right bank of the Scheldt east of Pecq."

Bridgehead Holds.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Several counterattacks by the Germans to retake the bridgehead established by the British yesterday east of the Lys river failed with severe losses to the Germans, says an official statement issued tonight on British operations in Flanders. The statement says:

"Throughout the day, the enemy endeavored to maintain his positions on the Lys and on the canal between Denyze and the Dutch frontier.

"Several counterattacks were launched in order to retake the bridgehead we established yesterday. All failed with heavy losses to the enemy."

Quiet on U. S. Sector

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 22, 9 p.m.—The clear weather early this morning permitted of some aerial work and the Americans downed a Hanover plane at Bayonville, a Rumpler at Buzancy and a balloon in the vicinity of Tailly.

Aside from the normal harrassing artillery fire of the enemy on the front lines and the rear areas, and similar activity on the part of the Americans, the day passed without incident. There was no infantry action of importance, and the line remains as it was last night.

Berlin Official.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The official statement from general headquarters tonight says:

"Strong attacks in Flanders and southwest of Deynse and east of Courtrai resulted in a limited gain of territory by the enemy.

"On the eastern bank of the Aisne, on both sides of Vouziers and east of the Aire, violent French attacks failed."

CZECHO-SLOVAKS TAKE VILLAGE IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press.)

An item of great interest appears in the latest announcement by the French war office concerning operations along the Aisne. It says the Czecho-Slovaks with the French retook the village of Terron.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The official statement tonight carries the following:

"Czecho-Slovaks, recaptured the village of Terron, north of Vouziers, which had temporarily fallent into the enemy's hands.'

PRISONERS SAIL SEA FOR LIBERTY

Eight British Officers Reach England Safely After Thrilling Escape from Turks.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Canadian Press despatch from Reuter's, Limited.—Eight British officers captured at Kut el Amara reached England today after thrilling adventures. The party escaped from the Turkish prison camp in the interior of Asia Minor. They journeyed seaward across the Taurus mountains. Food supplies were short but the party deemed it wiser mostly to travel by night. The sea was reached after a fortnight. A Turkish patrol boat was discovered in a creek and the party took possession of it during the crew's absence. Sailing toward Cyprus and steering by the sun and stars, they reached the island when on the verge of starvation, having crossed 120 miles of open water,

Dangerous Antiseptics and Germicides Are Unnecessary

A dependable antiseptic has come to be considered a necessity in most homes. Especially is this true since Absorbine, Jr., has had such a wide introduction, because this liniment is not only a powerful antiseptic and germicide, but it is absolutely safe to use and to have around the house. It is not poisonous and it cannot do harm even if the children do get hold of it. That is a big point to consider.

Absorbine, Jr., is concentrated and is therefore economical. It retains its germicidal properties even diluted one part Absorbine, Jr, to 100 parts water—and its antiseptic properties, one part Absorbine, Jr. to 200 parts of water

The antiseptic and germicidal properties have been repeatedly tested and proven in many prominent chemical laboratories. Detailed laboratory reports mailed upon request.

Absorbine, Jr. combines safety with efficiency; $1.25 a bottle at most druggists or postpaid. Send 10c for liberal trial bottle.

GRIPPE CLAIMS MANY VICTIMS

Influenza Continues to Attack People of Continent—Some Reports Are Optimistic

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—Further evidence that it is the young people that are largely falling victims to the influenza epidemic is furnished in the reports received by the vital statistics branch of the provincial board of health. For the first 22 days of this month 600 death certificates have been received at the department from undertakers outside of cities, the persons having died with either influenza or pneumonia. Ordinarily the number of deaths from communicable diseases average between 150 and 200 a month.

Of these 600 deaths 65 per cent were persons between 20 and 30 years of age. Another 16 per cent were persons between 15 and 20 and the remainder over the 30-year mark.

Twenty-six hundred more doses of vaccine were provided for various municipalities today and it is being sent out as fast as it is manufactured.

Two thousand doses were placed at the disposal of the military authorities today.

More Vaccine Coming.

By the end of the week the provincial board of health will have large quantities of the vaccine on hand for the treatment of the general public. Reports received by the Ontario license board today indicated that the demand for liquor is easing. This they attribute partly to the fact that a number of druggists have agreed to dispense liquor during the epidemic.

With 127 deaths today, Toronto showed an increased rate, though the health authorities believe the peak has been reached. Deaths for the month numbered 700.

Hamilton had 15 deaths in the past 24 hours.

That the influenza has ravaged the mining district of New Ontario is indicated by a Cobalt despatch, which records 10 deaths in the township of Tisdale.

With only seven deaths in three weeks, St. Catharines believes the epidemic is nearly over.

There was on death at Port Hope today.

With the exception of Galt, which reports the situation worse, with three deaths, western Ontario, as a whole, is hopeful that the worst is passed.

The situation at London is unchanged with five deaths in the past 24 hours, none of them being among the military. Guelph has 1500 cases and Kitchener, with three deaths, declares the situation improved.

At Sarnia the influenza epidemic is reported to be on the wane. New cases are fewer and no deaths have occurred since Sunday. Six deaths and about 500 cases is the total to date.

Conditions Improving.

At Stratford conditions are improving. Doctors are receiving fewer calls and think the epidemic is on the down grade. Three deaths are listed.

At Brantford, 17 deaths were reported during the last 24 hours, but few new cases have appeared and the situation is much improved. Starting on Thursday, stores will not open until 9:30 to permit fumigation and afford rest to the depleted staffs.

Chatham reports that the disease is on the decline. Three deaths were listed for the day.

Two deaths are reported at St. Thomas and it is believed that the disease is well in hand. One doctor is using a serum with good results.

Slight Improvement in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A slight improvement in the influenza situation over the country was indicated by reports received today by the public health service, but in many places the epidemic apparently has yet to reach its crest. In the far west and on the Pacific coast, the situation has not proven nearly as serious as it did in the east and south.

Continued abatement of the epidemic in army camps was reported today to the officers of the surgeon general of the army. New cases during the 24-hour period ended at noon today totaled 2773, against 3007 the day before, while deaths decreased from 404 to 392. There was a slight increase in the number of pneumonia cases.

Army medical officers said influenza may now be said to be epidemic in only five camps, the others reporting less than 50 new cases each day.

In the east and south generally conditions among the civilian population are rapidly improving according to reports to the public health office.

Health Officer Has It.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 22.—Regina public schools close tomorrow until further notice, owing to influenza. The medical health officer is down with influenza and official details of the new cases for the last 24 hours cannot be secured until a successor has been appointed.

One Death in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—Seventy-five new cases of Spanish influenza were reported today, with one death. The total number of cases reported since Oct. 3 is 615, with the low average of 10 deaths. Nearly 200 cases already have been released from quarantine.

40 Die in Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—Influenza still retains a firm grip on the community. The death rate took a decided jump today, the toll for the 24 hour period ending at noon being 40 as compared with 29 the previous day. New cases are being reported, a statement by the doctors showing an increase of three cases over the previous day's record.

There are approximately 3500 cases of influenza and pneumonia in the city. As a report a week ago showed there were about 400 cases, this would indicate there has been no material decrease.

Toll Now 155 in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Today new influenza cases reported totaled 1063 and deaths 155, bringing the total since Oct .1 to 11,264 and 1861 deaths. Reports received by the central provincial board of health show the disease epidemic to be in 20 municipalities.

Now 866 at Victoria.

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct .22.—Thirty-five new cases of Spanish influenza developed here today, making a total of 866 to date among the civic population.

127 Yesterday at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 22.—There were 127 new cases of influenza reported here officially today, a large number of which doctors reported as light attacks. There were 12 deaths at one hospital. There is a total of more than 1600 cases here.

WILSON MAY NOT REPLY

Germany regard the lesser central powers as virtually out of the war, through the forces working within their borders have a little more to do before surrender comes.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader and ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee, issued a statement during the day denouncing the German note as another poorly laid trap and reiterating his opinion that only one demand should be made by the president: "Unconditional surrender."

Huns Await Reply

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—President Wilson's reply to the latest German note may, perhaps, bring certainty as to the result of the negotiations, Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, said today, according to a despatch received here from Berlin. "Till then we must prepare to resist a peace by violence."

Prince Maximilian continued:

"A government which acted otherwise would be left to the mercy of the fighting and working people. It would be swept away by public opinion."

See Difficulties Ahead

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Theodore Wolff in the Tageblatt of Berlin says that great difficulties will be caused if President Wilson or the allies refuse to negotiate for an armistice as proposed by Germany.

Paris Sees Craft

PARIS, Oct. 22.—(Havas Agency.)—The German reply to President Wilson excited much comment in the lobby of the chamber of deputies this evening. It was considered on every side as denoting that a spirit of depression and demoralization pervades Germany. Concerning the reference to the conditions of evacuation and armistice, the note is regarded to be wilfully equivocal, crafty and obscure.

Parliamentarians are unanimous in the belief that the so-called constitutional reforms in Germany afford no guarantee that the reforms will be lasting or efficacious.

The newspapers express the opinion that the note is a moral abdication of the German emperor. They say that Germany feels the need of peace and is giving way, but the government would like to attain peace without accepting just and necessary sacrifices, and declare that an armistice cannot be considered unless it gives the Teutonic allies at once exactly the same guarantees as a complete victory.

Paris Press Comment

PARIS, Oct. 22.—In discussing the German reply to President Wilson, the Temps says:

"Now, more than ever, the decision must be with the military and naval chiefs of our allies. To make the French public believe the German yields and to insinuate that peace is coming along the pathway of least effort is an outrage to truth and an ill service to the country. There is only one way to spare French blood and that is to refuse the enemy until he capitulates."

The Temps reviews the German note and points out that it contains no word of apology for crimes committed. The note, it says, is composed of two parts. One part, which is short, carries the need of the general staff for a respite from fighting. The other, which is verbose, answers the need of the German government for sustaining hope in Germany.

In regard to the German demand that arrangement for an armistice should be according to the power on both sides of the field, the Temps wonders what General Hoffman would have said about that before the Brest-Litovsk negotiations.

"What is the good," it adds, "of telling us the German regime has been radically transformed when the reichstag has not deliberated on any of the three replies to President Wilson. To say it is dark at midday deceives nobody."

CALGARY STRIKE IS CALLED OFF ENTIRELY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 22.—The freight handlers' strike was called off this afternoon, the men accepting the offer of the C.P.R., which came through Senator Robertson. Automatically with the calling off of the strike of the freight handlers, the street car and other sympathetic strikes came to an end.

The settlement of the strike is in the form of a compromise. The union is recognized in a definite manner, according to the satisfaction of the men, which was the chief question at issue. The men all return to work with the exception of 25. The disposition of these 25 together with the relation between these employees and other questions of a similar nature are to be determined by the war board.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—The executive committee of the freight handlers has been called to meet tomorrow morning at the Labor Temple, advices having been received from G. W. Eastty, international representative, which probably suggests the termination of the strike.

The man or woman with a "mild" case of Spanish influenza is a public menace if he or she goes out on the street or mixes with others. "Mild" cases should stay at home and not risk endangering the health of others. —City Health Department. (585)

ITALY APPLAUDS PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY TO AUSTRIA

ROME, Oct. 22.—President Wilson's reply to Austria was received with jubilation here. The Messagero says that the president's reply is Austria's death sentence and that it surprised nobody except Austria and Germany.

Other papers comment at length along the same line, warning against new Austrian traps, since Emperor Charles attempted to deceive the world with his proclamation of the federation of Austrian nationalities.

The Stefai agency publishes the following:

"The thought animating President Wilson's reply to Austria-Hungary is perfectly clear and is equivalent to a refusal to recognize the Austro-Hungarian government as the legitimate representative of the various populations in the dual monarchy and as a government with which negotiations, an armistice and peace can be entered into. The promises made in Emperor Charles' proclamation do not suffice to change the situation. The president's declaration affirming once more the legitimate aspirations of the peoples who are fighting for independence can only give fresh force to these aspirations and thus hasten the complex movement which is driving towards the dissolution of this condition."

'PEG STREET RAILWAY SAYS MATHERS AWARD HITS HARD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—While the motormen and conductors of the Winnipeg Electric railway have notified the minister of labor at Ottawa, that they will accept the Mathers award, the company officials state that they will be forced to refuse to accept the award unless the city council grants immediate relief by allowing higher street car fares. If the council does not grant the increased fares, the company officials look for a strike and liquidation.

Mayor Davidson announced today that he would call a special meeting of the council for Wednesday afternoon to consider the application of the company for higher street car fares.

The company is asking the council to permit the raising of fares from 5 to 6 cents, with the abolishment of the workmen's and Sunday tickets, now 8 for 25 cents, and the reduction of school children's tickets from 10 to 7 for 25 cents.

THOUSANDS OF SAILORS PARADE IN PETROGRAD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

STOCKHOLM, Monday, Oct. 21.—Several thousand insurgent sailors stopped the performance at the Marinsky theatre in Petrograd on Oct .14 and compelled the orchestra to lead a march to the Smolny institute, in protest against the order of M. Zinovoff, head of the Petrograd commune, conscripting all sailors, according to neutrals arriving here today.

The Bolsheviki organized a resistance and the sailors were attacked and defeated. Many of these were later executed. Street fighting and riots continued for days as a result.

The sailors have been discontented since the summary execution in June last of Admiral St. Chasnig, commander of the Baltic fleet, who saved it from capture by the Germans.

Simultaneously with the outbreak in Petrograd, there was trouble in Moscow but its extent is not known. It is attributed to an uprising of the social revolutionists.

MATHIAS ERZBERGER SHOWS CONSIDERABLE INCONSISTENCY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—It is recalled by the Times' correspondent at Bernie that Mathias Erzberger, leader of the German centrists and member of the government, formed to convince the outside world of the peace-loving character of this government, in a newspaper article written in February, 1915, expressed sentiments quite the contrary to those he is now supposed to entertain. He wrote:

"The greatest ruthlessness is in reality the greatest humanity. If it should be possible to destroy the whole of London, that would be more humane than to allow our fellow countrymen to bleed to death on the battle field because such a radical cure would lead most speedily to peace.

"England has stolen from us more than 400 merchant ships. The answer to this should be that for every German merchantman, one English town or village will be destroyed by our airmen."

HEAVY SNOWFALL IN ARCHANGEL TERRITORY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

The allied soldiers are being equipped with semi-Arctic uniforms, including sheep skin great coats and Arctic felt boots.

SAPPER DIES OF FLU IN WINNIPEG HOSPITAL

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—Sapper Leo McDermott of the engineers, died at the I. O. D. E. hospital here today of Spanish influenza, aged 25. His home is in Regina and his brother, M. McDermott, of that city, will arrive in the city tomorrow to take the remains to Port Hope, Ont., for interment.

Trading Centres in High Grade Investment Issues—Petroleum Takes Sharp Decline

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The stock market seemed to draw away from the war and its more immediate influence today, a very large proportion of the trading concentrating in high grade investment shares. There was a pronounced expansion of the recent buying movement in rails and coalers under guidance of Reading, gaining 1 to almost 4 points, while Pacific and many low priced transportation gained 1 to 3 points.

Shippings also reflected a revival of inquiry from substantial quarters, mostly at the year's maximum. Atlantic Refinery showed an advance of 6 points and Marine preferred and the 6 per cent bonds gained appreciably, foreshadowing early announcement of the company's capital readjustment plan.

Mexican Petroleum was heavy during the day, showing a decline of 17 points at the end, while Royal Dutch forfeited 12 points, and Texas company 3 points.

United States Steel closed unchanged at 110⅞. Bethlehem, Crucible, Lackawanna and Midvale Steels as well as Baldwin and American Locomotives and American Car and Industrial Alcohol gained 1 to 4 points at their best.

Tobaccos were among the few specialties to exhibit marked strength with the low priced motors. General Motors, however, weakened at the close. Sales, 1,100,000 shares.

Bonds strong on the further rise in speculative railway issues. Liberty issues continued to ease. Total sales, par value, aggregated $10,250,000. Old United States bonds unchanged on call.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct .22.—The national Jugo-Slav council, formed of all the political factors of Croatia, has rejected the imperial manifesto of Emperor Charles, announcing the federalization of Austrian states. COMMISSION TO ACT IN RUSSIA

Government Appoints Body to Take Charge of Canada's Economic Interests in Russia

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—The commercial interests of the Dominion in Russia are to be placed in the hands of an economic commission, which, in conjunction with commissions named by other allied countries, will endeavor to restore the commercial activities of Siberia and assist the people of that country, to secure the things necessary to equip them to carry on their industries. The personnel of the Canadian commission was announced this evening to consist of the following persons:

C. F. Just, chief Canadian trade commissioner in Russia.

W. D. Wilgress, Canadian trade commissioner at Vladivostok.

Col. J. S. Dennis, liason officer of the Canadian Siberian expedition.

Ross Owen, transportation officer in Russia of the Canadian Pacific Railway company.

Messrs. Just and Wilgress are officers of the department of trade and commerce. Col. Dennis and Mr. Owen place their services at the disposition of the government for the work of the commission without remuneration.

Three More Members

It is the intention of Sir George Foster, to whom the commission will report, to later on increase the commission by the addition of three members representing the agricultural, the mining and the banking interests of Canada. These three additional members will proceed to Vladivostok early next year. Mr. Just and Col. Dennis will leave for Vladivostok at once. Mr. Owen and Mr. Wilgress are already in Siberia.

The order-in-council naming the commission states that its members will be expected to make a careful study of local conditions in Siberia, both economic and social, to inquire into transportation facilities, to ascertain the wants of the farming community in respect to agricultural implements and to note the possible improvement in the methods of handling grain and in mining, forestry and fishing operations.

To Investigate Opportunities

The commission is also instructed to investigate the opportunities present and prospective for increasing commercial interchanges between Canada and Russia.

The government is of the opinion that similarity of natural conditions between Siberia and western Canada, as well as the problems connected with agriculture, transportation, mining and fisheries, are factors which will enable Canada to cooperate under present conditions in the supply of the commodities urgently required and also from experience and adaptability to afford practical assistance by advice and reconstruction along the lines particularly vital to Siberian reconstruction.

It is also recognized that Canada's interest in trade with Russia is unbounded. Besides assisting in the protection and pacification of Russia by means of the Canadian force now being mobilized, it is proposed in conjunction with other countries to reorganize her financial and commercial activities, which have been thrown into confusion by a long period of war and internal disorder.

The British government has appointed a commercial commission to work in connection with the British high commissioner in Vladivostok and has intimated its willingness to attach a representative of Canada to its staff.

U. S. MAY SPEND $600,000,000 ON ADDITIONS TO NAVY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Congress has been asked by the navy department to authorize a second three-year naval program to produce 10 additional superdreadnoughts, six battle cruisers and 140 smaller vessels, at a cost of $600,000,000. This was disclosed tonight by Secretary Daniels after his appearance before the house naval committee to explain the application.

SHOELEATHER NOT WASTED IN UNITED STATES CAMPS

CAMP CODY, N. M.—The government is the greatest shoemaker in New Mexico. In the shoe repair shops at Cody is machinery and equipment for repairing and conserving thousands of pairs of army shoes sent there by the company and other unit supply officers. This great shoe shop is only a part of the reclamation department of the divisional camp here. But because of its importance in the welfare scheme of the enlisted men, it is given more attention than any other branch of the reclamation work. A poorly repaired shoe means a discontented fighter, the reclamation department officers say. For this reason the work is done more carefully and with better machines, tools and leather than is the repair work on civilian shoes in the large cities.

Once an enlisted man's shoes begin to show signs of wear they are inspected by the company supply officer. If the repairs needed are only minor ones, the regimental shoemaker is detailed on the job. This prevents overcrowding the camp shoe repair shop. Should the shoe be too far gone to be repaired by the regimental shoemaker it is sent to the repair shop for the division where it is properly tagged and the repairs needed noted. The shoes also are inspected there for any faulty manufacture or for foot diseases which might be remedied by prompt action.

When the necessary repairs have been made, the renovated shoes again are inspected to see that the work has been properly done and that the shoes are in condition for hard marching. They then are returned to unit supply officer sending them to the shop, and, if possible, they are returned to the man who wore them originally. In the event the first owner has been transferred or sent overseas, the shoes are reissued by the quartermaster.

Should the shoes be too far gone to repair they go to the salvage department, where they are cut up to be used in repairing other shoes less worn, used for repairing harness and other camp equipment. Not a piece of leather is wasted. Even the worn out uppers are cut up for leather thongs and shoe laces.

Save! Remember Canada's war bill is still a million a day.

THIS COOK IS AN EXPERT MECHANIC

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash.—"As a cook he is an expert automobile mechanic," was the memorandum sent by officers in charge of the trade tests here to the commanding officer of a company to which a certain cook was attached who had been sent to take the tests.

The trade tests for men arriving here was established to learn the fitness of men for the various occupations needed by an army. Already nearly 4000 men have been examined in the few weeks since the tests were established and it is estimated approximately 60 per cent of the men arriving here will be given them.

Through the tests it is possible for the personnel office to know exactly what a man is fitted for and his degree of efficiency. In case of the cook above referred to it was discovered he had been assigned as temporary cook. He did not care for his task and made application for a position with an automobile unit. He was tested in both cooking and with automobiles. According to the tests he was a novice as cook but expert with an automobile. He was assigned to a motor truck unit.

Every trade and profession is included in the tests given here and at the present time particular attention is being given to automobile and truck drivers, mechanics and stenographers. Many of these are needed to fill demands of the 13th division.

Through the trade tests it is not necessary for commanders of various units to train men for special occupations as the tests tell what men are proficient in each line. Thus a call may come for 300 carpenters and from the record cards kept in the personnel office these can be drawn from organizations to which they were assigned pending a call for special duty.

MUST EXPECT GERMANY TO FIGHT TO THE LAST DITCH.

Out of the discussion brought about by Germany's latest peace maneuvers one supreme point stands forth clearly. The allies will not consider peace with Germany except on a basis of German surrender to the allied forces. Not until Germany has admitted defeat on the field and admitted it in such a manner as to protect the allies against a reopening of the struggle will peace be agreed to. There is no other safe course for the allies and they will take no chances.

But there are two ways in which Germany can surrender. It can capitulate now in somewhat the same way as did Bulgaria, thus saving many lives and incalculable suffering. Or it can continue the war until it has been forced by further bloody fighting to make surrender after its armies have virtually been destroyed.

If Germany decides upon the latter alternative, and the indications are that its rulers are a long way from the conclusion that they should throw up their hands, the enemy can continue the war for months. Germany's armies have the strength and the supplies to wage defensive war for a period that can only be regarded as indefinite.

It is upon a decision by the German rulers to fight to the last ditch that the allies must base all their plans. To base plans upon an expected early surrender would be to play into Germany's hands and basely betray the heroes and heroines who have suffered and died in order that the allied cause may triumph over that of the Huns.

VICTORY LOAN WILL KEEP SHIPBUILDING GOING.

The relation of the shipbuilding industry in British Columbia to the success of the forthcoming Victory loan is an important factor to keep in mind. Possibly some people will fail to grasp the idea till they are told, on no less authority than the finance minister of Canada, Sir Thomas White, that:

> Every shipbuilding plant in Canada is working today at capacity—a fortunate situation which would not have been possible had it not been for the success of our last Victory loan.

Get these figures: The imperial munitions board has on contract or under construction in this country 90 ships, 44 of them steel, representing a deadweight tonnage of 340,000 tons and a value in money of $66,000,000. Of this huge program 318,000 tons will be completed this year, an output equal to the entire output of all Canadian shipbuilding yards from 1902 down to the outbreak of the war, and one-fourth of the output of mercantile ships in the Unitesd Kingdom during the year 1917. Then there are many contracts for war vessels for Britain and her allies, including submarines for the British government and Italy; 550 motor submarine chasers for Great Britain and 36 for France, and a number of steel lighters, trawlers and drifters for Great Britain.

That is a prodigious output for Canada, where the industry had fallen low, but it is only the beginning.

TONNAGE OF SHIPS.

A writer on shipbuilding in the New York Sun, says:

"Without going into all the voluminous details of the rules governing ship measurements, about which there is considerable misunderstanding on the part of the public, the general rule is that the gross registered tonnage of a ship is her total cubic contents expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet.

"The net registered tonnage of the same ship is arrived at by deducting from the gross registered tonnage the cubic space occupied by the engines, boilers, fuel space and crew's quarters, also expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet.

"The deadweight tonnage of a ship is an altogether different matter and is the number of tons of 2240 pounds weight which the ship will carry on her official load line, and this tonnage includes cargo, fuel, boiler water, stores, equipment, etc.

"The displacement tonnage is still another feature and represents the weight of water which the ship displaces and which, of course, varies as to whether she is in light condition or in loaded condition.

"As a practical example take the case of a steamship of 5000 tons gross registered tonnage.

"This means that the cubical contents of this steamship, including machinery space, boiler space, fuel space, crew's quarters, etc., will measure 500,000 cubic feet. Her net registered tonnage will probably be in the neighborhood of 3300 tons, which means that 170,000 cubic feet is deducted from her gross registered tonnage as the space occupied by machinery, boiler space, fuel space, crew's quarters, etc., leaving available for cargo approximately 330,000 cubic feet.

"The deadweight capacity of this steamship would be 8000 tons, which means that it will take a load of 8000 tons (of 2240 pounds) of cargo, fuel, boiler water, stores, etc., to put her down to her official load line.

"The displacement of this steamship—that is to say, the weight of water which she would displace in her light condition—would be approximately 4000 tons; while in her loaded condition at full draught the displacement would be approximately 12,000 tons—that is the weight of water displaced when light plus the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc., of 8000 tons would make a total water displacement of 12,000 tons.

"Of course, practically every steamship varies, and the illustration I have given above represents about the situation on a modern cargo steamship not built for speed; and practically every steamship works out differently depending on the fineness or shape of the hull in its relation to the load that she will carry, as naturally a steamship with fine lines will not carry anything like the load that a steamship with coarse lines will carry, for the former, because of her lines, will submerge with a given weight faster than the latter."

President Wilson is mighty with the sword, but neither is he any slouch with the pen.

Maximilian Harden appears to be preparing the German people for the noise of something dropping.

Spanish grippe would be a real friend of the kaiser if it were allowed to interfere with the success of the Victory loan campaign.

According to the map the kaiser is running a little ahead of schedule in the several months time he estimated it would take to evacuate Belgium.

A terrible thing has occurred. Someone has had the temerity to tell the Boche people that the kaiser has no divine right, that he is not "the vice-regent of God." Truly must startling events be about to occur in Germany.

Italy does not intend to be fooled by Austria and Germany. It has a very vivid recollection of certain happenings which arose on the Asiago plateau as a result of the Huns convincing two or three Italian armies that the war was practically over.

TOLD IN RHYME

"TO THE MOTHERS"

We shout "Hurrah" for king and country,
And for the boys "out there,"
But those dear old gray-haired mothers,
Do you think of the burden they bear?

They have no soldier comrade,
No changing scenes that cheer;
Their battles must be fought alone
Through each long year.

So we'll spare a "Hurrah" for mother,
And say a prayer for her, too,
For though her heart may be breaking, boys,
She bravely fights on for you.

A MAD WORLD.

Fear is the most prolific source of all evil. Of course if fear were understood in its full metaphysical significance, it would be understood to be the provoking cause of all evil of every sort. But even from the ordinary point of view of the world, fear, when it communicates itself to numbers, is capable of causing greater disaster than any other phase of the human consciousness. The pagan philosophers realized that there was such a thing as the fear of fear, in other words, as they stated it, the fear of death was worse than death itself. Centuries later Shakespeare appropriated the idea, and put precisely the same sentiment into the mouth of Isabella in "Measure for Measure," and indeed, anyone who knows anything at all of history knows how disease was spread upon the wings of fear in the case of that awful visitation of the fourteenth century known as the Black Death, and again when a pestilence of a similar nature swept London in the seventeenth century.

Some day the world will come to see that what it calls contagion is a mental contagion, and that what it calls infection is the infection of one mind from another. Orthodox medical practise today largely recognizes this, but it draws back from the logical consequence of its own admission, and endeavors to shelter itself in a halfway house, which is built partially out of mind and partially out of matter. Any person who has watched the ravages of such a disease as cholera in the east must know exactly what this means. The European sahib, going about doing his duty, and quite fearless of consequences, moves through the cholera camps with perfect immunity from the disease. But the native, stricken by this disease, lies down almost where he is overcome by it, whether in his house or by the roadside, convinced, in the suddenness of the shock and the confusion of his wear, that the moment has come from which it is useless for him to attempt to escape.

In such conditions it is surely obvious that the sanest treatment is to do everything possible to destroy fear. Fear in a Christian community should be self-condemned. Some nineteen centuries of reading the Johannine epistles should surely have effected this if Christendom is understanding what it reads. It is little to the point to say that fear is uncontrollable, for any person who has ever had anything to do with causes which produce fear knows that this is not the case. Probably every man who has made the sea his profession has been through periods of fear which he has had to overcome in order to gain that sereneness in danger without which he would be a liability instead of an asset on board his ship. Practically every man who has ever been into action on land can tell you something of the sickening sensations of his first experience in battle. But as time goes on the veteran rises superior to fear, when the prevailing tone of the human mind, in the midst of the conflict of Armageddon finds expression in an epidemic that a Christian country should rather restort to its churches to relieve itself of its fears, than close their doors so as to sound the top note of human agony in a belief that God's hand is so shortened that it cannot save.

Let any person who has been in contact with the conditions of today ask himself frankly whether it is not fear which is playing such fearful havoc in the world. Everywhere men and women are afraid. Afraid in the areas of war of a storm blast that may at any moment strike over them; afraid within the orbit of the air squadrons of the sound of the terrible engines whirring in the darkness overhead, and of hearing the bombs explode all around; boys sleeping fearfully in the trenches, waiting for the summons in the gray morning to go over the top, and men and women sleeping in towns and villages, miles and thousands of miles away, fearful of what in that very moment may be happening to those whom they love; men and women at sea, waiting as it were for the explosion of torpedoes; or even men and women in immediate physical safety, wondering what effect the war is going to have on their incomes and their lives. A great fear has stricken the world, and it is little wonder if out of this fear there have emerged pestilences and diseases which have mounted on the winds of fear, and scattered their seeds in every direction.

In such circumstances what would it be expected that a Christian community should do? Would it not, remembering the words of the Bible that "perfect love casteth out fear," be to ask itself if there were not something amiss with its understanding of love which makes love powerless to overcome fear? And should it not naturally fling wider open the doors of its churches, confident that in doing right, by worshiping God, no ill could touch it? Have Christian countries so completely come to distrust the doctrines they profess that the 91st Psalm is no longer a protection against fear and against disease, against pestilence and against war: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. . . . There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling." Yet, at the very moment when the churches should be filling the minds of the people with peace, and reassuring them of the impotency of evil, it is proposed that these churches shall be shut, and that the admission shall be made that it is dangerous for men and women to congregate to worship God, for fear the Lord's arm is so shortened that He cannot contend with microbes. On the other hand if people believe that God sends pestilence into the world, for the good of the world, what right have they to protect themselves against this pestilence, and to attempt by the drinking of drugs, by methods of segregation, or by any means at all, to prevent the anger of the Lord from taking effect. The very fact that all men and women endeavor to protect themselves against disease, at all times, is the proof, to any sane person, that in its heart the world does not believe that discord proceeds from Principle, that death comes out of Life, or that reprisals are the work of Love.

"The way," writes Mrs. Eddy, in a famous sentence on page 201 of Science and Health, "to extract error from mortal mind is to pour in truth through flood-tides of Love." Now not even the natural scientist will deny that the way to overcome any condition at all, is to learn the truth about it. Until the truth has been learned a man fights with his hands tied behind him, or at the best like the boxer in the Greek games, who, Paul declared, beat the air. The Christian religion is perfectly clear on this point. Jesus of Nazareth himself declared, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." If the truth will not free men from microbes, it will not free them from anything at all. Now it is perfectly certain that if the truth about Christianity exists anywhere, it exists in the Bible, and that one way to learn this truth is through the churches consecrated for the purpose of promulgating it, and not by closing their doors in token of their impotency. The church which closes its doors practically proclaims its impotency, and the admission is a terrible one when it is made in the hour of a nation's need. If the arm of the Lord is so shortened that He cannot save, what is the good of the siren whistles to call people to prayer every day at midday. It is to be supposed that the prayers for the success of Truth in the war will be more successful than the prayers in the churches for freedom from influenza? Let the sirens shriek on week days, but the churches be closed on Sundays. Surely it was a wise man who once said, "A mad world, my masters!"—Christian Science Monitor.

GROWING MENTHOL IN CANADA

The feasibility of cultivating black mint in this country for the production of menthol crystals and oil is the subject of a special report by Vice-Consul E. I. Dickover of Kobe, Japan.

Several attempts to import black mint plants have been frustrated by the long journey across the Pacific, during which the plants have died. Once arrangements were made with a steamer purser to care for the plants and they arrived in good condition, but were killed by disinfection in entering the country. The consulate now is attempting to obtain mint seeds, a difficult task, since the plant is cultivated almost entirely from slips.

Two widely different climatic areas are devoted to the cultivation of mint in Japan corresponding to the southern Pacific coast of British Columbia, or to the temperate southern States. About 92 per cent of the Japanese mint is grown on the Kokkaido Island, where the average winter temperature is 60 degrees, with rainfall of 38 inches. The remaining 8 per cent of the Japanese crop is grown on Nippon, where the average temperatures are 38 and 50 degrees and the rainfall 42.5 inches.

GOATEE COMING BACK IN U. S.

In the Civil war period it was quite the military thing, in the United States for men to wear a small, pointed tuft of hair just under the centre of the lower lip. The third Napoleon was credited with the invention of the imperial, as the French called it, and those sufficiently interested may see it in nearly all of his later portraits. On the western side of the Atlantic it was known as a "goatee." Strange to say, the style is reappearing in the United States cantonments, under the alias of "dodad," which is slang for a useless and inane little thing.

A treasury report shows that one three-quarters of one per cent of the $766,000,000 war savings stamps sold to date have been presented for redemption.

SOLDIERS' HELMETS HAVE MANY USES.

The "tin hat" or "battle bowler" is by now an accepted part of the "Christmas tree" which the soldier carries about with him.

Some of the old Mons veterans, however, still regard it as an upstart invention of doubtful utility. One struck on the head by shrapnel and saved from instant death by his steel helmet, on coming round, muttered: "Shook me something 'orrible, that did. I never did like them tin 'ats!"

Tommy is an expert in the use of his steel helmet as a saucepan, a seat, a washbasin, or a weapon, and it is no uncommon thing to see a couple of eggs merrily boiling in one, minus the lining, over a crimson blazing ground flare.

The French, who first introduced them, evolved a typically French helmet, sightly and chic; so becoming, indeed, that it was for a time all the rage among French actresses. Imagine an actress wearing one of our "soup plates."

The British type, though highly efficient, looks like a rather bad practical joke, while the German type with low neck and ear pieces, is a sinister symbol of the Boche cult of "the frightful"—as well as a useful pot for geraniums or fuchsias.

EVEN DEVIL FISH BLUSHES

The octopus frequently changes in color, as if it were a marine chameleon. It would appear from recent studies of this creature, that the colored pigment whereby this change in color is effected is contained in an envelope in its skin, in the tissue of which are muscular fibres actuated by nerves. Should these fibres become relaxed, a dark pigment appears. The phenomenon is said to be analogous to blushing. If the octopus is as wicked as Victor Hugo and other writers painted him, he ought to blush!

If a German could blush, black would be the color we should expect him to turn also.

At Cobourg Robert Hunter was sentenced to two years in Kingston penitentiary on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses.

THE COVERED BARNYARD

The covered barnyard possesses advantages both summer and winter. In summer it affords protection from the heat and flies, while in winter it provides animals a certain amount of freedom which in severe weather they could not have otherwise. It is possible to keep them in this covered yard many nights in the year when one would ordinarily be compelled to stable them.

The yard should be provided with openings on three sides so that in summer it is always possible for an abundance of air to find its way through. The place will always be cool on summer nights and it is never as hot at midday as the open lot. For winter use the siding effectively breaks all winds. Save in extreme weather the interior is almost as warm as the stable itself. There should be several doors, each high enough to permit driving in with an ordinary load of fodder or straw. A tank provided with a heater might be placed at one end. A swinging panel in one door could provide access to the tank by animals from the outside requiring a drink.

NO GERMAN IN BRAZIL

The German language, as a basic language in the many schools of Santa Catharina, Brazil, has been forbidden, according to advices reaching Washington. The authorities have decided to permit teaching of German in the curriculum, but Portuguese is ordered as the basic language in all schools, public and private. In a single district of Santa Catharina there were before Brazil declared war, 134 German schools, supported in part by many grants from Germany, where nothing but German was spoken.

PLANT QUARANTINE OFFICERS WILL HAVE CONVENTIONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—A series of conferences and conventions which are expected to bring together the plant quarantine officers of several western states, British Columbia and representatives of the governments of the United States and Canada, California fruit and vegetables growers, farmers, nurserymen and county horticultural commissioners of California, will be held "horticultural week," Nov. 11 to 16, inclusive, at Riverside, Cal.

Joint action by western states to establish a rigid quarantine against the possible introduction of insect pests from eastern states will be considered, according to George H Hecke, horticulturist commissioner of California.

Quarantine officers from New Mexico, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, British Columbia and California have been asked to attend.

"We will discuss measures for making the quarantine rules and regulations of western states strict and uniform," Hecke said. "We feel that concerted action must be taken to protect us against the introduction of new insect pests from eastern states, particularly during the war."

The cotton boll weevil and gypsy moth are two pests which California and Arizona are more particularly anxious to guard against, he said. The gypsy moth defoliates deciduous trees.

On Nov. 11 and 12, the interstate plant quarantine conference, California nurserymen's convention and California horticultural commissioners' convention will be held. Separate and joint sessions have been planned.

Nov. 13 the California fruit growers and farmers' convention will open. Irrigation, fertilization, the agricultural labor question and horticultural legislation will occupy the attention of those attending this convention. Practical demonstrations in the pruning of deciduous and ictrus trees and orchard fumigation will be given.

On Saturday, Nov. 16, vegetable and potato growers of California will confer to devise ways and means of standardizing and certifying vegetables and potatoes.

Plans have been made for at least one joint session of all the interests represented during the week of conferences, Hecke said.

It is expected that legislation affecting California and all western states will be recommended and an effort will be made to form a western states association of plant quarantine officers.

INLAND MEN HAVE BETTER TEETH

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash.—Draft registrants called here from Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Nevada and other inland states have better teeth than men from the coast states of Washington, Oregon and California, according to data just compiled by Col. C. R. Wolven, chief of the dental corps here.

"Eighty-five per cent of all draft men brought here need dental attention, and get it," said Colonel Wolven. "Ninety per cent of the men from the three coast states need work, however, against 80 per cent of those coming from interior states."

No reason for the variance in the condition of the teeth of men from different sections has been given. One theory is that there is more lime and mineral in the water of the inland states and another that this shifting population of the large coast cities may cause men to become more neglectful than those living at permanent homes.

THOUSANDS OF CARIBOO PASS DAWSON CITY

DAWSON CITY, Y. T.—Thousands of cariboo have been reported in the hills near here, bound for their ranging grounds near Forty-Mile, a Yukon river point west of Dawson. Every year at this time, the cariboo move in large numbers. Reports said this year's run was very large.

FRENCH ARMY HAS SOLVED PROBLEM OF CARRYING FOOD

Trench warfare certainly interferes with the fighters' meals. After capturing the enemy's position in particular, is the fighter as a loss to know how he will get his regular rations; for no sooner does the enemy find himself dispossessed from his original trenches than he opens up with an intense barrage fire designed to prevent ammunition and food from reaching the new occupants.

The French army believes it has solved the problem of carrying food to men in isolated trenches, in its lunch dogs. Carrying light lunches and coffee, and even cartridges for the men in the first line trenches when the combat is hot and protracted, these splendidly trained dogs are more certain to get through a barrage than men.

The equipment of each dog, says a writer in the Scientific American, consists of a sort of double bag, strapped tightly over its body, and provided with numerous pockets for food, coffee cans, ammunition and other supplies. It is at the military dog training grounds at Paris that dogs are prepared for this service. Not only are these four-legged couriers taught to avoid the enemy and beware of tricks, but also to crawl on their stomachs in order to escape flying bullets. Special masks are provided for these dogs when they must pass through a poison gas area.

ROLLED EIGHT MILES OVER BAD ROADS TO RAILROAD

A novel method of transporting a 3-ton block of Texas granite to the railroad is described and illustrated in Engineering and Contracting (Chicago). Says this paper:

"The quarry from which this granite was taken is situated eight miles from the town of Llano, the nearest railroad station. A poor road and weak bridges connected the two. Furthermore, there were no wagons in the vicinity capable of handling this weight, so that it was decided that the only practical method of transporting the stone was to roll it to the railroad. This was done by tying small logs to the stone with wire rope, which acted as a tire and as protection to the block. The motive power was supplied by an engine mounted on a truck which followed the path of the rock. The block was moved forward by unwrapping a wire rope which had been previously wrapt around it, by winding the other end on the drum of the engine. The friction between the block and the rough road prevented it from traveling faster than desired down the grades. Several streams were crossed but no unusual difficulty was experienced. When the block reached its destination it was finished to size seven feet square by ten feet before being placed on the railroad car. Its final resting place is the Terry Ranger monument on the capitol grounds in Austin, Texas."

NEW DRAFT AGES CREATE MANY PROBLEMS

TACOMA, Wash.—Increasing the draft ages from 18 to 45 years has created so many problems in claims for exemption and questions misunderstood by registrants in the Todd shipyards here that it has been found necessary to establish a new department with several employees who will do nothing but advise employees of the yards and look out for their interests.

MOORE REPLIES TO ORDER DETAILS

President of Trades and Labor Congress Says Hasty Action Would Be Fatal.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—In connection with a reply made by him to the government's statement made today apropos of the interpretation of the order regarding strikes and lockouts Tom Moore, president of the trades and labor congress of Canada declares that any hasty action on the part of the government may precipitate deplorable consequences, in view of the temper of even the most moderate thinking of labor men in Canada at the present time.

In his reply to the government's statement Mr. Moore takes up the reference to the fact that it is the government's policy to consult labor on matters of public policy affecting labor and the war by pointing out that labor was not consulted prior to the passing of the recent contentious order in council. He declares the government's statement of today is not in accord with the facts of the situation. A statement by Mr. Moore says:

"The official statement does not seem to carry out its purpose of correcting misinterpretation of the recent order in council prohibiting strikes and lockouts during the war time. It must be apparent to even the casual reader that there is a great difference between the voluntary cooperation to the end that no strike or lockout should occur during the war, to which labor representatives agreed, and the order in council which provides that there 'shall be none.' Labor does not desire to strike at any time and when mutual agreements have been reached providing reasonable safeguards for working conditions, they have been entered into in many instances providing that these agreements should remain in existence for the duration of the war subject only to such revision of wages as may be necessary to meet the increased cost of living as shown from time to time, by the official labor gazette. This was emphasized when the labor policies were published under order in council of July last year wherein the first clause states 'there should be no lockouts or strikes' and we might add at this time that where a measure of justice has been given to the workers, that there have been no strikes or lockouts.

"Let me emphasize, however, that labor's representatives have never been consulted about, and would not consent to cooperating in any measure taking away the liberty to strike when all efforts to obtain justice by any other method had failed."

The statement proceeds, saying: "Labor requested in return that it be consulted on important matters of public policy relating to labor and the war. This question has been carried out in good faith as evidenced by the facts. Does the government consider the order in council prohibiting strikes as an important matter of public policy relating to labor and the war? If so why was labor ignored on this question? The rest of the article showing how labor has cooperated with the government only emphasizes my statement of a week ago, that labor was doing its duty to the end that industrial harmony should prevail.

"It was on labor's protestation previous to the issue of the July order in council that the first clause was made to read 'Should' be no strikes or lockouts instead of the word 'Shall' being inserted at that time. Therefore the statement that the recent order in council only carries into effect the war labor policy already approved and accepted by representatives of organized labor does not coincide with the facts of the situation."

BIG CELEBRATION MARKS ALASKA SOLDIERS FAREWELL

FAIRBANKS, Alaska.—"These men, I believe, are made of the finest material in the world," declared the commanding officer at a farewell celebration held at Fort Gibbon, Alaska, recently for the drafted men of interior Alaska's "Sourdough Contingent" on their way outside to join other forces of the United States army.

Men from several interior points were in the contingent, made up at Gibbon. At the celebration civilians from sections up and down the Yukon river and from far back on the hills and creeks came to bid the boys farewell. There was an all night dance, a vaudeville entertainment, a baseball game, dinners and exhibition drills.

The commanding offificer was high in his praise of Alaskans as soldiers. He spoke of the raising of the draft ages to 45 years and said he believed a company of young "sour doughs" could not be surpassed for endurance and resource.

WOMAN FIGHTS TRIO TRYING TO DITCH WAR TRAIN

UNIONTOWN, Pa. — Barricading herself in the tower at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at Gist, near here, Miss Em Vensel, signal operator, pluckily held her post and fought a revolver duel with three men who attempted to wreck an ammunition train by placing ties across the tracks. With bullets crashing through the sides of the tower house, she returned shot for shot until the arrival of the freight train frightened away the intruders. Miss Vensel had noticed the men tampering with a switch and ordered them away. They pointed revolvers at her, and, retiring to the tower house she procured a pistol and opened fire. The crew of the freight train, which she signaled to stop, found a pile of logs dragged upon the track and switches and telephone line tampered with.

BOLSHEVIKI—WHO AND WHY?

What the Bolsheviks are is easy to answer; but why they are is difficult. Not even the Russian people themselves know why.

In Russia when Czarism ruled and to be a Socialist was to be a revolutionary, there was founded the Russian Social Democratic party. Plehanov, who died the other day in exile in Finland, was the founder. He, the son of a land owner, believed thoroughly in the brand of Socialism taught by the German Karl Marx and after his university career ended, he sought to propagate his opinion among the Russian working classes. The police soon pursued him and he became an exile in Switzerland for 37 years. While there he was the leader of the Russian Revolutionary Socialists. He was a keen student, widely read and capable.

In Switzerland at the same time was Lenine—or Uljanov, to give him his real name—a bitter opponent of Plehanov, but belonging to the same party. In 1902 a dispute began between them as to the details of party organization. Lenine wanted to have the central governing committee of the party all-powerful, Plehanov wanted to have the local party committees autonomous. Lenine won. His section got the majority, whence the word "Bolsheviki"; Plehanov led the minority, or "Mensheviks."

Thenceforward the party split into two bodies+ Lenine's stood for revolutionary Socialism and terrorism; Plehanov's for evolutionary Socialism by the ordinary means and methods of political and social development.

Plehanov's party was fairly powerful in Russia after the overthrow of the czar. It stood for fighting Germany on the basis of a defensive war. But the Lenine element, averse to fighting Germany, fought the Mensheviks and finally ousted them from power. Plehanov, who was welcomed in the ex-czar's palace in April, 1917 as one of the leaders of Russian freedom, a few months later through the machinations of the Bolsheviki, was an outcast. He went to Finland and died there—probably broken hearted.

And the Bolsheviki, having abandoned all pretense at democracy, now rule Russia with a tyranny as great or greater than czarism.

2000 FOOT IRRIGATION DAM AT LAS VEGAS

EAST LAS VEGAS, N.M.—Although nine months will elapse before the big dam of the Las Vegas irrigation project is completed, the reservoir contains many feet of water, the outlet canal is finished and it would be possible to irrigate many acres for the 1919 crop. Delays caused by the war, the most serious of which was labor shortage, made it impossible to finish the great project this year, as had been expected.

The irrigation system is being built by San Francisco contractors, on land belonging to the Las Vegar grant, a tract given to the community under the terms of an old Spanish deed, hundreds of years old. The acreage to be watered is 11,000, with 5000 acres lying near what can be put under ditch.. The dam is 80 feet in height and 2000 feet long. It will impound 30,000 acre feet, forming a lake a mile wide by three miles long. The total cost will approximate $600,000. It will operate as a private enterprise.

The water is drawn from the Gallinas river, a mountain stream, through an inlet canal two miles long. It is carried through an outle' canal 20 miles in length, a portion of which, 2500 feet long is in a concrete lined tunnel. Another portion is carried in a 1200-foot flume and still another is carried under the Santa Fe railway right of way in a concrete lined syphon.

The contractor and the board governing the grant are determined not to throw the project open to settlers until it has been proved a success and because they are not exploiting it, have been reticent to the point of near-silence in regard to the work being done.

It is believed the project will have an inspiring effect on agricultural operations in this locality and that it will mark the end of "hipped-in" vegetables. Several other large projects, including the La Sueva and the Los Alamos will join with the system to put 40,000 acres under ditch near Las Vegas. The La Ceuva and Los Alamos systems are partially in operation now.

BARBED WIRE FENCE TO KEEP OUT SMUGGLERS

NOGALES, Ariz.—A barbed wire fence which is to protect the Mexican border from smugglers is to be built. Both Gen. Plutarso Elias Calles and Brig.-Gen. DeRosey C. Cabell have obtained the approval of their governments for this project.

The fence will be erected between Douglas and Agua Prieta Naco, Ariz. and Naco, Sonora and Nogales, Ariz., and Sonora. The wires will be strung six inches apart, will be high enough to prevent anyone from climbing the fence and guards also will be stationed on the American and Mexican sides of the fence. This will limit the passage between the two countries to one gate at each port and in this way, the two governments will be able to control the traffic. The fence was proposed by Gen. Cabell at the time of the Nogales shooting affair and approved by Gen. Calles at a conference held on the line here.

Stanley J. Czarnecki, intercollegiate heavyweight champion, is now a lieutenant in the engineer corps.

SEEKS RECOGNITION FOR SOLDIERS WHO DIDN'T GO OVER

SEATTLE, Wash.—National recognition in the way of some button or insignia for soldiers who have offered their lives for their country, undergone the training and hardships of camp and through no fault of their own been discharged as physically unfit for service, is sought by Granville Hawkins of Kansas, a former private at Fort Lawton.

Hawkins was honorably discharged after amputation of an arm as the result of a railroad accident. He feels that act ion by the war department, such as he proposes, would show to the world that these discharged soldiers are not slackers or unpatriotic but entitled to the same consideration as men in uniform. At present, he says, many such men are pushed aside when seeking employment.

SPORTSMEN FALL ON BATTLEFIELD

Many Well Known Leaders on British Football and Other Grounds Listed As Casualties

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The severe fighting on the western front has brought a large number of British sportsmen under fire, the latest casualty list issued containing the names of several well known sportsmen.

Lieut. J. W. Garnett, who is reported missing, was coxswain of the Pembroke eight at Cambridge and coached the Trent eight at Cambridge in 1908.

Lieut.-Col. Bastow was also a sportsman. He played a good deal of cricket and racquets for his regiment both at home and in India.

Capt. A. G. Thomson, reported missing, is now stated to have been killed in action. He had a distinguished career at Edinburgh university, where he won the gold medal as duplex of the whole school of 1900, being in the rugby fifteen and cricket eleven in his last two years and winning the mile race in the sports of 1900. He just missed his blue for golf at Oxford, for he was a very fine player.

D. W. Jennings, the famous Kent county cricketer, has died from the result of being gassed and shell shock.

Two well known footballers have made the supreme sacrifice in E. D. Lightfoot of Tottenham Hotspur and Leonard Bradley, the noted Pontypool Rugby player.

Lieut. D. G. Frater, killed was a well known member of the Auriol Rowing club and striked the winning crew in the junior eights at Marlow regatta in 1915.

Capt. A. A. Peacock, another member of the Auriol club, who was recently wounded, has been awarded the Military Cross.

Lieut.-Col. H. L. Muir, wounded, is a prominent member of the Manchester Athletic club and of the West of Scotland Harriers. His brother, D. Muir, is the well known amateur starter, a member of the Manchester A. C. and Cheshire Tallyhoe H. and H., and one of the keenest lovers of athletics and rugby football in the Manchester district.

Lieut.-Col. Dooner, killed, was a well known sprinter and three-quarter back of the Bradford college and Royal Military Academy.

Capt. Drummond, killed, was a forward of Watson's college and West of Scotland F. C.

Jack Bolton, the well known Eccles and Rochdale Hornets, rugby player, has also fallen. Last week the remains of his brother, Capt. R. L. Bolton, who was drowned through the torpedoing of the Warilda, was cremated in Manchester.

SEALS' PITCHER IS NOW A SECOND LIEUTENANT

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Johnny Couch, former pitcher with the Seals and for Ogden, is a second lieutenant in the army, having graduated from the training camp at Camp Fremont recently. Couch started with the Seals in 1914, but was turned back to Ogden. He returned to the Seals in 1915 and apparently his work was good, for he was bought by Detroit in 1916. His retirement from the game took place in 1917, when he suffered from a case of blood poisoning.

MASS ATHLETICS TO FEATURE O. A. C. ACTIVITIES

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Mass athletics will feature the activities at the Oregon Agricultural college here this year, Dr. A. D. Browne, director of physical education, has announced.

Cage ball, replacing push ball, will be played, a regulation ball, 30 inches in diameter having been ordered. Any number of students' army training corps members will be able to get into the games. "Everybody fit" will be a slogan this year.

One hundred additional pairs of boxing gloves have been arranged for and Dr. Browne intends to introduce mass boxing with 300 soldiers in action at a time. One day a week may be set aside for competitive work. The best man in each squad will compete with representatives of other squads.

INTERSERVICE GAMES IS 'FRISCO FOOTBALL PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—An interservice and, at the same time, an intersectional football championship is the aim of Capt. Lynn B. Coovert of the United States Marine corps. Capt. Coovert is in charge of the marines football team, stationed at the Mare Island navy yard, and he is so certain his aggregation will beat everything on the Pacific coast that he is anxious to take the eleven as far east as feasible in order to meet the best service team of that section of the country.

"It is too early in the season as yet to determine which of the eastern army or navy service teams will prove to be the best of the lot, but as soon as there can be no question as to a team's superiority, we are anxious to arrange a game to play for the army and navy championship of the United States."

It is understood here that Camp Grant, Camp Sheridan and the Great Lakes training station all expect to have good teams in the field. The Mare Islanders want to play whichever one of these elevens, or any other for that matter, which clearly stands out as the best of the eastern teams at the end of the season.

The Mare Island team, which last year won the championship of the Pacific coast, again is made up entirely of veterans of college and university teams. Every man is an experienced player so that no time has been lost in learning the rudiments of the game. The men started right in at perfecting their team play and their trick play. The backs average approximately 180 pounds, which, admittedly, is all impressive figure, especially when combined with speed, of which Capt. Coovert says his men are liberally provided.

"Such a game," said Capt. Coovert, "would arouse a great amount of interest and the big gate receipts which would result would add a substantial sum to any war fund which it might be determined to help. Wherever it was played there would be tens of thousands of men in training and the attendance would probably be quite up to the numerical standard of a Yale-Princeton or Yale-Harvard game."

It is expected that games will be arranged with teams in the northwest for the latter part of this month, to be followed by games in Southern California in November.

SPORTSMEN SEEK TO REDUCE AREA OF REFUGE

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal.—Sportsmen of this section are planning to seek a change in game laws by which the game refuge district on the San Bernardino watershed, considered by many too large for the proper enforcement of laws, would be reduced in size. The supervisors, who are in close touch with the sporting interests of the country, which recognizes fully the value of its fish and game attractions, are disposed, it is said, to favor a reduction of the refuge.

Trapping "varmints" is a profitable business now. One man, in ten days, caught 47 foxes, the pelts of which he sold for $5 each. Mountain lions, with the state paying $20 for each skin of a male and $30 for that of a female, are being killed frequently, thus increasing the bank accounts of the hunters and reducing the menace to deer.

The heaviest plantings of trout possible in the San Bernardino watershed were made in the summer just ended. One million fish went into the Santa Ana, Deep creek, Mill creek and smaller of the streams, and 500,000 into Bear lake.

To provide the famous golden trout for the sportsmen of southern California, 25,000 were brought from the Mt. Whitney hatchery, transported carefully up the south fork of the Santa Ana river to the 10,000-foot level on Grayback mountain, where it is thought they may thrive. This experiment is interesting both anglers and fish cultural experts, who know how difficult it is to extend the range of this beautiful but delicate species.

FAST BOUTS GIVEN BY ARMY RECRUITS

FORT BLISS, Tex.—Recruits for the cavalry units in training here are furnishing much of the athletic program given at the army camps and on the elevated platform on the post parade ground. Recruits recently sent here gave a program of boxing in this outdoor stadium recently at which six bouts were staged between fighters of various classes. An officer acts as referee and master of ceremonies and the bouts are always fast.

NORTHWEST HOCKEY MAY BE SEEN AGAIN THIS YEAR

PORTLAND, Ore.—Pete Muldoon, manager of last year's Portland ice hockey team, arrived here from Canada a few days ago and his resultant conference with E. J. Bryans, owner of the ice palace, gave rise to hopes that the sport might be revived in the northwest this winter. Muldoon had talked to the Patrick brothers, who manage Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., hockey clubs, and held some hope that the fans might see the game before many months.

A few of the star players of last year's teams have gone into the service, either with the Canadian or United States governments, but most of them, it appears, either are working in shipyards and are married and have dependents, or have been given deferred classification on account of some physical disability. They would necessarily have to continue at some useful occupation, but could do their practising at night, it is held. They would not have to be absent from work more than the day when making trips to Seattle or Vancouver from here.

HOP BUYERS CANCEL LAST SPRING'S CONTRACTS

YAKIMA, Wash.—A number of hop buyers who last spring contracted to purchase Yakima crops have obtained agreements canceling the contracts on payment to the growers of their costs up to the present time plus one and one-half cents a pound for the amount of hops covered by the contracts. As a result of the government order stopping the brewing of beer after December, Yakima hop growers are laying plans for growing other crops next year.

PUBLICITY "STUNT" IS TOWN'S NAME ON TANK

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Do you want to have the name of your town painted in large letters on the side of an American tank as it crashes its way toward Berlin. As a publicity "stunt" for any community it is considered the most unique ever devised.

There is only one way in which a town or city may achieve this honor. This consists in "going over the top to the utmost of its ability in the coming Fourth Liberty Loan drive. In as much as only ten tanks are apportioned in this plan for the twelfth federal reserve district, it means that the ten towns or cities which exceed their quotas by the greatest percentage will gain the coveted honor. The method of making the awards already is being worked out and announcement of their decision will be made in the near future. A system will be devised which will be fair alike to both small and large communities.

SALT LAKE LOAN PARADE SURPASSES ALL FORMER ONES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—More than 20,000 residents of this city participated tonight in the "March to Victory," a pageant organized by the Liberty Loan committee as an impetus to the Fourth Liberty Loan drive.

Tonight's procession surpassed anything ever offered in Salt Lake in size, variety and inspiring aspect. The great war was the general motive for the pageant. There were electrically lighted floats symbolic of prominent events in the war, being used to illustrate these developments.

After passing through the principal streets the procession disbanded at the state fair grounds, where the annual state fair is in progress and where addresses by prominent speakers were delivered in behalf of the loan.

ASK WILLARD TO DONATE SERVICES TO UNCLE SAM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Jess Willard, heavyweight champion of the world, was requested by telegraph today to give his pugilistic services in the nation-wide campaign to raise $170,000,000 for the various welfare missions engaged in furnishing comforts to the American soldiers. The telegram which was sent to Willard at his home at Lawrence, Kas., does not mention the name of a prospective opponent. It simply asks him to volunteer his services, as many other big champions are doing.

HONOR PROMINENT WOMEN BY NAMES ON GUNS

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Governor Ernest Lister has been notified by Lieut. J. de Brion, commander of the 5th battery, 55th regiment, French artillery, that the first gun of his battery has been christened in honor of Mrs. Lister. Her name is painted on the gun barrel. All the guns in the battery, said the officer's letter, have been christened in honor of prominent French and American women.

LOOTING KING'S PALACE.

Germans in Belgium are looting the palace of King Albert, according to word received in Amsterdam. During the last week, Germans have brought into Holland pictures, furniture and books known to belong to the king's collection. Originally the Germans declared King Albert's possessions to be "quite sacred" to them.

On them the Shadow fell

THESE, our little Canadians, born to freedom, to a heritage of happiness, Germany's greed would enslave!

For they were heirs to Canada's boundless wealth—our mines, our forests, our teeming fields—the Hun hungered for these riches of Canada.

In his plans for world power, Canada was not overlooked in the German scheme of plundering the nations.

Doubtless there are to-day in Berlin plans for the apportionment of concessions of Canada's natural resources, plans for the government of Canada, for the policing of our cities, the levying of taxes, for enforced adoption of the German language as was done in Lorraine after 1871, and all the other systems of government by German methods.

And a brutal German soldiery would have enforced those systems by which the people would have been enslaved and every vestige of freedom and independence destroyed.

If Prussian plans had carried the smile would have passed forever from the happy little faces in our homes.

Our boys and girls—heirs to Canada's riches—would have worked as slaves in their own mines, in their forests, their fields and factories.

The fruits of their toil, the wealth of Canada, theirs by right, would have been borne across the seas to fatten the German beast.

While the beast lives, his venom, his gall, his merciless, monstrous ambition threaten our homes.

Canada—young, high-spirited, independent—must stand firm.

Canada must use the wealth the Hun lusts after to crush him to earth.

Canada's strength, the united strength of each and every true Canadian, must raise the shield of protection for the generations to come.

The call will soon come for more of Canada's wealth. It is your money that is needed—every cent that you by cheerful sacrifice and loving self-denial can lend to your country.

Be ready when the call comes to buy Victory Bonds

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada

FIT UNIVERSITY STUDENTS FOR U. S. MARINE CORPS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, — Second Lieut. Jack B. Loraine has just assumed his duties as head of the United States marine corps section which is to be organized here in connection with the Student Army Training corps. As far as known here, Stanford and the University of Washington are the only Pacific coast educational institutions where students will be trained to fit them for places as marine corps officers.

Lieut. Loraine went into the marine corps as a private. He was in Pekin during the 1912 rebellion and has seen service at all the Asiatic stations of the United States.

RAT AND NAPOLEON'S HEART

When that unhappy slave of ambition, the kaiser endeavors to emulate, Napoleon Bonaparte, died at St. Helena, an English physician took charge of his heart, depositing it in a silver basin filled with water. Two tapers burned near it, but the custodian felt nervously anxious while watching it through the night, and did not sleep. In the silence of midnight he heard a rustling sound, then a plunge into the water, and a rebound on the floor—all occurring with the quickness of thought. He sprang from his bed to see an enormous rat dragging the precious relic to his hole. A moment more and the heart which had been too vast in its ambition to be satisfied with the sovereignty of continental Europe, would have been more degraded than the dust of the Im*perial Caesar.*

AMERICANS ANXIOUS FOR CHANCE TO GO OVER

CAMP KEARNEY, San Diego, Cal. —Another evidence of the readiness of the average American to serve his country wherever he may be of use was given here recently in examination of draft recruits by personnel officers, who sought to determine their fitness or preference for different branches of the service.

"Have you any preference where you serve?" an examiner asked one recruit.

"No," said the man, quietly, "I don't care what branch of the service I go into, so long as I get a chance to go 'over there.'"

WASHINGTON BOYS ARE MAKING GOOD

Third Infantry at Camp George D. Robertson Gets Good Reputation.

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash.—The 3rd Washington infantry, which recently was encamped at Camp George D. Robertson, just adjoining Camp Lewis, made an enviable reputation among the regular army officers for the military proficiency shown by the guardsmen in the short time since the regiment was organized. The regiment was formed after other Washington militia organizations had been called into federal service following the declaration of war with Germany. Most of its men are those having deferred classification in the selective draft, or boys who until the draft law was amended were too young to be called.

The representative men forming the regiment was shown by a search of the record of the 13th battalion. In this battalion there were 11 attorneys, six registered pharmacists, three druggists, one chemist and two drug clerks. In one company there were found 60 mule drivers, or "skinners," according to army lingo. Scores of automobile drivers and mechanics were found. Lumbermen, railroad men, civil engineers, millwrights, contractors, printers, newspaper writers and publishers, from stores and offices of many kinds and even seven ordained ministers were tabulated.

When the regiment moved into camp Sunday, Sept. 15, it never before had been assembled, yet it made record time in establishing a camp. That same regiment set up its tents, drew its commissary rations, drew rations of straw, made up its beds, policed camp and every company went into mess halls on the minute scheduled and were fed hot food.

The third battalion composed of eastern Washington lettered companies, an Everett company and the machine gun company of Ellensburg was the last to arrive in camp. It arrived shortly after 3 p. m., unloaded its baggage, marched half a mile to its camp site and yet at 6:15 it was ready for the first hot meal which its cook prepared.

Every man in the regiment is anxiously awaiting the announcement they expect from Washington calling them into federal service. The regiment already has been inspected by regular army officers for this purpose. Records of the regiment show that since its organization it has become a recruit depot for both the army and navy and that already 1004 have enlisted in federal service. The men used the companies of the regiment as a place to receive their preliminary training. That this course was valuable for the men is shown by former regiment members who are now commissioned or non-commissioned officers in the army or marine corps.

Headquarters company and the first battalion of the regiment are located at Seattle. The second battalion has companies in Aberdeen, Bellingham and Centralia. Two companies of the 3rd battalion are located in Spokane, one in Wenatchee and one in Everett. The machine gun company is from Ellensburg and the supply company from South Bend.

The recent camp was the first time the men, with the exception of the Seattle battalion, ever had drilled in battalion formation. The second day in camp, however, they all responded to battalion drill call and drilled as though this were an every day event.

The camp is the largest strictly guard camp ever held by the National Guard of Washington. Percentage of attendance of members also was said to be the largest, approximately 1500 men coming here out of an enrolment of less than 1800.

Fire destroyed the Pike Coal company's mine at Petersburg, Ind., with loss of $125,000. Blame is laid on incendiaries.

MAN BEAT WIFE, HOW DOES HE STACK AGAINST HUN?

AKRON, O.—Henderson Dugen, aged 28, cigar clerk, whipped his 18-year-old wife. He was taken before Judge Paradee who pronounced the following sentence: "As you appear to be a fairly good fighter, the sentence of this court is that you go to Camp Sherman or any other training camp the government may designate and prepare to fight for your country during the duration of the war."

TRAINING SCHOOLS ARE PLENTIFUL AT KEARNY

CAMP KEARNY, Cal.—Schools, more schools and yet more schools are the rule here, though "school call" rarely is heard, and they go about their work quietly. In a typical case, that of the 64th field artillery, eight schools are in progress, independent of the divisional or regimental schools many officers and men must attend.

Four of these are for officers and four for men. Those for officers include map reading, mathematics, tactics peculiar to the 6-inch howitzer with which the regiment is armed, and use of fire control instruments. Those for the men involve more elementary forms of the first three subjects and motor mechanics.

GUARDIAN SAYS ALLIES MADE TWO ERRORS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's, Limited.)—Although the German reply to President Wilson is the engrossing topic of the papers today, they generally comment also upon Field Marshal Haig's despatch.

The Daily Graphic says:

"The despatch has disposed of the criticisms of General Gough and the fifth army."

The Daily Express says Gen. Gough is now agricultural student at Cambridge.

The Manchester Guardian attributes the reverses to two prime errors which it says the allies made on the western front, namely, they waged war for three years without a common commaad or a common policy and they did not believe in the possibility of a surprise attack.

The Manchester Guardian says it does not see that this particular situation can with any advantage be carried much further.

"President Wilson," the paper goes on, "insisted from the first that as a preliminary condition to an armistice the German armies must be withdrawn on all fronts within their own frontiers, and this condition has already been accepted by Dr. Solf. The conditions of an armistice, therefore, can only be considered with this as a starting point and the actual position of the forces in the field cannot be taken as a standard."

SONS OF SIR CLIFFORD SIFTON ARE HONORED

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—For gallantry in the battle of Amiens, two high honors have come to the family of Sir Clifford Sifton. His sons, Major Victor Sifton, 4th C. M. R., and Major Clifford Sifton of the 13th battery, have each been awarded the distinguished service order.

Both boys attended the university here in 1911-12. Major Sifton joined the C. M. R. here in 1914.

GROSSMITH WILL REMAIN IN CITY

Musician Pleases Nelson Audience at Monday Concert and Will Make Prolonged Stay.

Although Leslie Grossmith was unable to stage his entertainment in the Eagle hall last evening owing to the enforcement of the Spanish influenza regulations, he has decided to make a prolonged stay in Nelson.

Many local music lovers have voiced their appreciation of his entertainment on Monday evening and general gratification has been shown that such an accomplished musician should see fit to remain in the city.

C. P. R. MODIFIES CONDITIONS; STRIKERS WILL WORK AGAIN

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Oct. 22—The following telegram has been received here from Winnipeg:

"It is understood that, at the express request of the Dominion government, the Canadian Pacific railway has modified to some extent the conditions under which the Calgary and other strikers would be permitted to return to work. The strikers, rather than remain out any longer, have accepted the modifications, although they by no means embody the demands the men hold out for."

Conservation of tin was urged at the American Institute of Mining Engineers at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Martha Cleland, Erie, Pa., who wandered away from home, was found dead in a shock of corn on a farm near the city.

Beware of Walking 'Flu' Cases They Are Worst, Says Dr. Arthur

"Spanish influenza is probably the most infectious disease known," was the statement of Dr. Isabel Arthur, medical health officer, yesterday. She said that the disease, which had all degrees of severity, had spread with great rapidity over the world. There was the mild type, in persons traveling around the country giving to everyone they came in contact with. Then there was the very severe type which compelled persons to remain in bed.

"Beware of the person with the mild type," Dr. Arthur said. "He tells you he is afraid he has the disease and hopes you won't get it. Make it so unpleasant for him that he will go home and stay there. He is a menace to society. You will almost certainly get the disease if you are exposed yourself to it, and it is criminal for anyone to be about if there is the least suspicion that he has Spanish influenza.

LOAN COMMITTEE IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Further Details Are Arranged for Victory Drive at Meeting Held in Headquarters Rooms

Enthusiasm and determination marked the meeting of the Victory Loan committee in the headquarters last evening. Mayor McQuarrie, chairman of the unit, addressed those present and spoke optimistically on the plans of the local Victory Loan committee. He said that it would not do for those at home to fall down now in the face of the wonderful victory being gained by the allied armies. His belief was that Nelson would uphold her reputation as a patriotic city.

Mayor McQuarrie called on the chairmen of the different committees for reports of the progress of their work. Definite plans were put before the indexing committee regarding the allotment of names for the different districts.

It was decided to offer a prize of $5 for the best suggestion for a slogan for the campaign in Nelson. The slogans are to be given to the secretary, G. A. Hunter, and are not to contain more than seven words.

It was decided to have a booth at the corner of Ward and Baker streets for the purpose of selling Victory bonds. The booth will open at 10 a.m. and the committee have asked that every patriotic citizen in Nelson be present to line up and buy their bonds. This plan, it was thought, would assist the canvassers in their work and would ensure the commission being obtained for the Kootenay Lake hospital.

Several members expressed their opinion that the prohibiting of public gatherings would not materially effect the campaign as they believed every citizen of Nelson would be ready to do his share in helping Canada win the war.

It was announced that the Hudson's Bay company had arranged to advance Victory loans to their employees at a nominal rate of payment. It was thought that Canadian Pacific railway employees would also get this privilege from their company and Mayor McQuarrie said that the city would endeavor to adopt the same idea.

A final committee meeting was arranged for Friday evening and Mayor McQuarrie said that the meeting was allowable uader the Spanish influenza regulations as, insofar as he could find out, Red Cross and Victory Loan meetings had special privileges.

PREMIER SPEAKS AT LUNCHEON

Says Government Did Not Promise to Forward $2500 to Hospital—Other Questions

The Ymir road, the grant for the Kootenay Lake General hospital, the soldiers land settlement problem, the government ferry and several other questions of importance were discussed with Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, both at the court house yesterday and at an informal banquet at the Hume hotel in the evening.

At the Hume in the evening, C. G. G. McInnes, on behalf of the Nelson district branch of the Great War Veterans, told the premier that the veterans of this district at the present time did not wish to criticize the British Columbia land policy but wished to request that in allocating land for settlement of returned soldiers, that all lands available and suitable in this district be set aside for that purpose. The premier gave his assurance that, insofar as it lay in his power, the request would receive every consideration. He also stated that arrangements were underway whereby the soldier settler, under the act, could procure the title to his property in order that he might take advantage of the federal loan policy. He said that the government of this province had pretty well completed its plan. He himself had been to Regina giving a lecture and information to other premiers regarding the plan of the British Columbia government. Hon. J. A. Calder, during his visit to the province, had looked into the British Columbia land settlement act and asked Premier Oliver to undertake this mission.

Premier Oliver said that it was possible there would be a convention of premiers in Ottawa some time next month at which soldiers land settlement questions would be discussed.

Ymir Road Question

At the gathering several members of the board of trade urged the necessity of the Ymir road. The premier assured the men that the government was in need of funds, but that the Ymir road question would receive due consideration. He said he plainly saw the necessity for the road but war needs were to be first considered.

Regarding the hospital, the premier said he could promise nothing definite this year but that if anything was left over in the estimates the government would try to forward another sum to the Kootenay Lake hospital. Asked concerning the $2500, which the representatives of the hospital said was promised, the premier denied that any such promise had been made.

With regard to the ferry the premier mentioned that it might be possible to consider running the ferry later, but he considered it would be necessary to charge a toll for the late trips. However, he thought it could be tried out in order to ascertain whether or not the traffic would warrant the lengthening of the service. He thought another man would also be required in case the change was made. He suggested the appointment of a local committee, probably from the automobile club, to take up the question.

J. R. Hunter, president of the board of trade, was chairman of the banquet. Others present were: Hon. John Oliver, Mayor McQuarrie, J. A. Irving, R. W. Hinton, E. W. Widdowson, F. A. Starkey, A. L. McCulloch, John Bell, Edward Ferguson, C. F. McHardy, W. J. Meagher, J. Fred Hume and C. G. G. McInnes.
