VOL. 17 No. 190 — NELSON, B. C., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20, 1918 — 50c PER MONTH

BUT FOR NAVY WAR WAS LOST, SAYS KING GEORGE; ARMY WORTHY OF FIRST 100,000

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Another precedent went the way of other precerdents today when King George, accompanied by Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales, went to the palace at Westminster to receive and reply to the loyalty message passed by the house of parliament yesterday. Heretofore it had not been the custom of his majesty to go to the house of parliament on such an occasion. The royal party drove to the palace at Westminster without escort and was loudly cheered along the route.

Arriving at Westminster, the king, the queen and the Prince of Wales went immediately to the gallery of the parliament where th commissioners and the lords, the latter with the officials of the houses in their robes of office, awaited them. The king was in morning dress. The lord chnacellor and the speaker of the house presented the addresses.

King George, after expressing his thanks, in a speech referred to the part played by the whole Empire in the "long and terrible struggle now being brought to a close."

Thanks for Loyalty.

King George said he was glad to meet the members of parliament and the representatives of India and the dominions beyond the seas, "that we may render thanks to Almighty God for the promise of peace, now near at hand, and that I may express to you and through you to the people whom you represent the thoughts that rise in my mind at a time so solemn."

The king said he was grateful for the spontaneous and enthusiastic expressions of loyalty and affection he had received in the metropolis and from all parts of the British Isles, as well as from every quarter of the Empire. He added that during the past four years of national stress and anxiety "my support has been faith in God and confidence in my people." The king declared that in the future he would strive to the utmost to discharge the responsibility laid upon him to uphold the honor of the Empire and to promote the well being of the peoples over whom I am called to reign."

"After a struggle longer and far more terrible than anyone could have foretold," King George continued, "the fleet of Great Britain remains inviolate. Our navy has everywhere held the seas and wherever the enemy could be brought to battle, it has renewed the glories of Drake and Nelson. The important work it has accomplished in overcoming the hidden menace of the enemy's submarines and in guarding the ships that have brought food and munitions to our shores has been less conspicuous but equally essential to success.

Might Have Starved.

"Without that work we might have starved and those valiant soldiers of America who have so much contributed to our victory could not have found their way hither. The fleet has enabled us to win the war. In fact, without the fleet the struggle could not have been maintained, for upon the command of the sea, the very existence of our land forces have from the first depended.

"That we should have to wage this war on land had scarcely entered our thoughts until the storm actually broke upon us. But Belgium and France were suddenly invaded, and the nation rose to the emergency. Within a year an army of more than 10 times the strength of that which was ready for action in August, 1914, was raised by voluntary enlistment, largely owing to the organizing genius of Lord Kitchener and the number of that army was afterward far more than doubled.

"These new soldiers, drawn from the civil population, have displayed a valor equal to that of their ancestors. Short as was their training ,they have imitated and rivaled the promess of the small bbut ever famous force, which in the early weeks of the war, from Mons to the Marne, fought its magnificent retreat against vastly superior numbers.

Praise for Dominions.

"Not less prompt was the response and not less admirable the devotion to the common cause of those splendid troops, which eagerly hastened to us from the dominions overseas—men who showed themselves more than ever to be born of our bone, inheriting all the courage and tenacity that have made Britain great. I shall ever remember how the princes of India rallied to the cause, and with what ardor the soldiers sustained in many theatres of the war and under conditions most trying and exacting, the martial tradition of the race."

Proceeding the king paid tribute to Field Marshal Haig, to the air forces, the mercantile marine, the fishermen, munition workers, both men and women, and to the medical units in the field and afloat. He referred to the importance of after-the-war reconstruction problems; to the necessity for liberal provisions for those who exertions by sea and land aided in bringing about the present situation and to the necessity of perfecting machinery to avoid the risk of further international strife. As to the future, the king said the duty was to create a better Britain.

CLAIMS DUTCH LED HUNS CROSS LIMBOURG

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Nov. 19.—(Havas Agency)—It appears to be a fact, says the Temps, that German troops, returning to Germany from Belgium crossed the Dutch province of Limbourg and that they passed the frontier with the sanction of the Holland authorities. This free passage of Dutch territory, granted to one of the belligerents, the newspaper contends, constitutes a precedent which the other belligerent powers would be justified in taking advantage of.

SUB SANK SWEEPER

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A British admiralty official statement issued this evening says the British mine sweeper Lucot was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, Nov. 10, off the southeast coast of England. Fifty-three members of the crew were drowned.

Twenty-one deaths were reported to day with 32 new cases. Approximately 4400 citizens who have been stricken with the disease, out of 8315 cases, have recovered and been released from quarantine.

HERBERT J. DRANT HEADS MORMON CHURCH

Owing to the influenza epidemic private funeral services will be held for President Smith, who died today.

DON'T NEED PASSPORT TO U. S. ANY MORE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—On May 24, 1917, with the object of preventing an exodus from Canada of persons likely to be affected by the Military Service act, the government passed a regulation providing that males between 18 and 45 desiring to travel must first secure a permit authorizing their departure. As this regulation imposed some hardship on the traveling public and as the conclusion of hostilities seems to render unnecessary the further enforcement of the regulation, the government has rescinded it and people are as free to leave the Dominion as they were before the outbreak of the war.

BULGARIANS WANT TO GET MACEDONIA

Claim Other Balkan States Will Be Rewarded With Territory Elsewhere.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—The future of Bulgaria will depend mainly upon the solution which will shortly be given to the Balkan problem, said M. Guechoff, former premier of Bulgaria, in an interview with the Associated Press.

"We, the Bulgarian opposition in 1915, did our best to prevent King Ferdinand from joining with Germany. However, we did not succeed, because the allies took too long in landing forces at Salonki in order to impress Bulgarians.

"When we gave extensive publicity to President Wilson's program of January 8, 1918, our people, who before and during the war were with the opposition, saw that article 11 contained the basis on which a just and lasting settlement of our questions could be secured."

(The eleventh point in President Wilson's program declared that Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro should be evacuated, occupied territories restored and the relations of the several Balkan states to one another determined by friendly counsel along historically established lines of allegiance and nationality and insiste dthat guarantees of the political and economic indepenrdence and territorial integrity of the several Balkan states should be entered into.)

"Further, believing that President Wilson would insist upon carrying out his program, we came to the conclusion that to continue fighting would be useless and refused last September to fight against the allies, and thereby brought about the Bulgarian armistice which shortened the war.

"The lines of nationality have been historically established, not only by international acts like the decision of the Constantinople conference in 1876 by the European powers, but also by American opinion. If these decisions are accepted as guides in the determination of the boundaries of the Balkan states, Bulgaria will be content and will be ready to enter a Balkan confederation.

"It may be submitted that the allies have conquered Macedonia. But is it might or right that will decide the question? As our neighbors will receive large compensation elsewhere, there is no reason why Bulgaria shold be partitioned as she was partitioned in 1876 at the congress of Berlin. The industrious, thrifty Bulgarian people should be allowed to become members of a peaceful and prosperous country."

M. Guechoff expressed the hope that the present minister of foreign affairs would meet President Wilson in Europe and explain to him the real situation in Bulgaria, which he was of the opinion was not known in America. Only by the help of President Wilson, added the former minister, could Bulgaria hope in the future to arise to a great nation.

WANT DEC. 11 DECLARED ANNUAL VICTORY DAY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 19.—The Rotary clubs in Canada press for legislation to make November 11 a perpetual holiday throughout the world to be known as Liberty day, is the request made by District Governor Hutchinson of Edmonton in a telegram to the local club. He says that the proposal was made by the Santa Barbara club and was approved by the international president.

More Talk Than Riots in Vienna--Field Marshal in Charge

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—By Associated Press.—The situation in Vienna appears to be that there is more talk than disorder, with urgent need for bread, especially for the poor of Austria. The correspondent was accompanied to Vienna by one French and one British officer.

Former Emperor Charles, who has retired for the present to his castle at Eckartsau, it is declared by the Socialist Arbeiter Zeitung, is living on the shortest rations and possibly may be starving with his wife and family. The former royal family has been unable to secure meat, milk and bread in the neighborhood or even to have its washing done. They have been obliged to send away almost all of their 50 servants.

Some disorders have occurred in Prague, the capital of Bohemia, according to reports received here, as the result of an attempt to remobilize the former soldiers into a national guard. There are also reports that Jews have been assassinated in Bohemia.

Wherever the correspondent passed on his way to Vienna, he encountered no difficulties and saw no disorder except along the railway lines.

An order was issued today that soldiers found in possession of plunder would be shot unless they surrendered it before Nov. 20.

The formation of a new republic here has apparently been no easy task. It is now merely a question of holding the people toegther until a stable government can be established.

There has been little bloodshed in Vienna. It is declared that two persons were killed accidentally during a great demonstration by Socialists and members of other parties last Tuesday when the republic war formed. Order is being maintained by Field Marshal von Boog, who has reorganized the old police force.

One of the most notable changes has been the granting of equal franchise to women. In the republic all the forms of the old empire have been done away with. No passports are required to travel nor must one have a residence permit.

Karl Has Not Formally Quit.

GENEVA, Nov. 19—Emperor Charles of Austria has not formally abdicated; neither has he renounced his rights, but only their exercise, says the Nieue Freie Presse of Vienna. This form of renunciation was new and unforeseen by the Austrian constitution. The emperor demanded that the state council grant him permission to remain in Vienna, which permission was accorded. The emperor, the newspaper adds, is still popular with the masses who do not consider him responsible for the war.

$16,000,000 RESERVED PAY FOR C.E.F. MEN

This Sum Will Be Distributed, in Addition to Discharge Allowances, to Canadian Soldiers.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—There is in the hands of the receiver general a credit for soldiers of the Canadian Expeditionary forces of approximately $16,000,000 deferred pay. This represents pay earned, but not drawn, with accumulated interest.

The majority of the men will have a sum of money which they themselves have saved immediately available on discharge.

There will be paid to every man a further sum, by way of free grant commonly called post discharge pay. This will amount to a sum equivalent to three months' pay and allowance, payable in three monthly instalments, including separation allowance to the soldier's dependent entitled to receive it.

On discharge every soldier who has donned uniform will also receive $65, which is intended to provide for the purchase of civilian clothing.

VICTORIA LIFTS BAN ON MEETINGS

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 19.—The ban on public meetings, theatres and church gatherings in Victria, which has prevailed owing to the influenza epidemic, will be lifted tomorrow morning.

500,000 HUN PRISONERS ADVANCE FROM SIBERIA

LONDON, Nov. 19—A Stockholm despatch to the Central News says German troops have occupied Minsk in Lithuania. A half million released war prisoners, the despatch adds, are advancing through the Ural mountains. Arrangements are being made to supply them with food and clothing.

BOCHE BANKS AFRAID; SEND OUT BIG SUMS

Money Goes to Switzerland to Escape Tax by Allies—Harden as Peace Envoy.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

BASEL, Nov. 19—The banks of Germany and Austria have been secretly exporting large sums in securities to Switzerland since the signing of the armistice, it is learned here. This is being done because of the fear that a heavy tax will be levied by the allies when peace is declared and a further tax imposed by the governments of Germany and Austria.

Harden May Be Delegate.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 16.—(Saturday)—The red flag is gradually disappearing from the streets of Berlin, as are most other external indications of the revolution, according to a despatch received here from the German capital. Black, red and gold, which were the colors of the German revolution of 1848 and insignias of classical German republicanism, have replaced them in large measures.

Guards wearing red brassards upon their arms are also less conspicuous than during the fore part of the week. The reichstag building is no longer the headquarters of the soldiers' and workmen's committees. These are now scattered over the city occupying the former quarters of various government departments. A government cabinet of six Social Democrats has been established in the former chancellor's palace next to the foreign office where Freirderrich and Hugo Haase, secretary of foreign affairs, and their associates are overrun with callers.

Matthies Erzberger, head of the German armistice plenipotentiaries, who has just returned from attending the armistice negotiations, is engaged in organizing a German representation to attend the peace conference. Maximillian Harden editor of Die Zukunft, is proposed as one of the delegates.

Soldiers Plunder Shops.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 19.—Soldiers returning from the front are responsible for riots in Baden and Wurtemburg. They are plundering shops and farms. The peasantry is organizing patrols to protect property.

Revolutionists Praise Hindy.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 19.—The workemn's and soldiers' council of Cassel has issued a proclamation in which Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is taken under the special protection of the council. After referring to Von Hindenburg's victories, the proclamation says:

"He did not abandon his people in their hour of trial."

SOCIALIST POLITICIAN MUST SERVE TERM

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 19.—J. O. Bentall, former Socialist candidate for governor, who was convicted of disloyalty in the federal court in Minneapolis last year, must serve a sentence of 12 months in Crow Wing county jail. This sentence was affirmed by the United States court of appeals at St. Louis, it was announced here today.

Bentall was convicted of assisting an employee on his farm, near Brainerd, Minn., to evade the draft. Bentall also was convicted of violating the espionage act and sentenced to five years at Fort Leavenworth. The court of appeals has not acted on Bentall's appeal from this conviction.

CITIES MAY NOT ISSUE DEBENTURES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—War time restrictions have been rescinded on the issue of debentures by provincial governments, municipalities, commissions and local governments. The restrictions will stand insofar as the issue of other securities are concerned, but it is probable that they will also be removed at any early date.

LAST OF HUN ARMIES CROSSES GERMAN BORDER, LOOTING AS THEY GO; ROADS ARE LITTERED WITH ABANDONED EQUIPMENT

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 19.—With the exception of a few laggard units the last of Germany's armies disappeared today behind their own frontier. From the villages located in the narrow strip of unoccupied territory between the American and German forces came reports during the day that the stragglers last night and early this morning had engaged in looting.

Appeals were received from the inhabitants that the advancing troops hasten to their relief. Investigation proved, however, that the villagers were more excited than injured and that most of the damage done by the little groups of Germans was to the Germans' own stores of food and clothing.

Abandon Wounded and Sick.

Other appeals were found to have more foundation. Those from the mayors of Halanzy and other neighboring towns reported the presence of wounded and sick in greater numbers than the local physicians could attend and at these points medical officers and supplies were sent. When the Germans abandoned these towns they took with them not only the medical and nursing staffs, but also the hospital supplies, leaving the sick and wounded to the mercies of the townspeople and the army of occupation. The Germans had taken all their own men from the hospitals, leaving only prisoners of war. The stories of the American and other wounded agreed that they had been accorded poor treatment. The nurses and doctors, they declared, had been indifferent in their attention and the food provided was no better than that served at prison camps.

Repatriated soldiers and civilians continued to march back to the lines today. The Russians offered the greatest problem. There are thousands of them, many of whom have contracted Spanish influenza. They are being sent to the hospitals in the back areas as quickly as possible.

Hard for Huns to Keep Order.

Reports brought by the repatriated population and by agents of the army agree that the German command is having difficulty in maintaining an orderly retreat. The main body of the German artillery is already beyond the city of Luxemburg, where the population is preparing to receive the Americans. An inventory shows that the guns, ammunition and general stores found attained much greater proportions today than previously. One dump of signal corps supplies is estimated to be valued at no less than $2,000,000. An enormous warehouse taken at Longwy was filled with general supplies among which are several big double-engined airplanes in good condition.

Americans Ready for Trouble.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 19.—Well into Belgium and within a few hours' march of the German frontier on the south, Maj.-Gen. A. T. Dickman's army gathered itself today for another jump into evacuated territory.

The line was unchanged. It was plain the march had been halted for a short time, while the heavier artillery, supply service and other elements can be brought up. However, Gen. Dickman's headquarters were moved on to Longuion tonight and corps and division commanders made similar advances.

As the Germans withdraw the concentration of the army of occupation is increased and not for a moment has vigilance been relaxed. All possible tactical advantage is carefully taken and the forces are so deployed that the peaceful march might easily, in the presence of the enemy, be converted into a hostile operation.

The second day of the advance served to confirm the belief at headquarters, however, that there was no thought of treachery in the minds of the German general staff and that the terms of the armistice will be faithfully carried out.

Enormous Stores Found.

There have been a few isolated cases where surrendered materials have been damaged but it is not thought such damage was wrought under orders of German commanders.

Enormous stores of ammunition and machine guns left were found. The electrical machiners in the shops at Longuion was fully wired and the tools were of the best. The railway yards at Montmedy and other places along the line that served the Germans as one of their main arteries of communication during the last stand against the allied advance were filled with locomotives and cars ready for use, while great quantities of general stores not mentioned in the terms of the armistice have been abandoned to the allies.

Undamaged stores left behind on every road over which the Americans advanced bear evidence of the great retreat.

At Virton was found a great salvage dump, where tons of clothing, gas masks and helmets had been thrown by the German troops, who had no further use for them.

Big Helmets Litter Road.

A road near St. Legar, over which the correspondent drove just behind the evacuating armies, was so thickly covered with big iron German helmets that at times they interfered with the operation of his automobile. However, it was not the litter of a battlefield hat one saw, or even that of a disorderly retreat under fire. It was merely the evidence of the passing of a tired, disheartened foe, who was going home.

The country generally presented a strong contrast to that fought over for so many years. The Americans camped today in towns most of which bear no trace of warfare. Here and there was one which showed evidence of the fighting at the time the French attempted to check the German march through Belgium. Among the exceptions are Longuion and Montmedy where a few torn buildings are damaged by aerial raids.

The roads on which the troops travel are in excellent condition, due to their distance back of the former German lines and the limited use made by the enemy of motor trucks. This, coupled with the almost constant work on the roads by the Germans kept them in a condition almost equal to those of France before the war.

The retreating army left on the roads dozens of steam rollers which had been working almost to the day of its departure.

Populace Welcomes French

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The war office tonigha describes the operations along the French front as follows:

"Our advance continued today without incident other than manifestations of joy by the civilian population. In numerous localities the inhabitants displayed touching thought in bringing forth, notwithstanding difficulties, food for our soldiers.

"The material abandoned by the enemy is acumulating as well as the number of liberated prisoners who have rejoined our lines.

"In Belgium we have reached the line of Boursiegne-Veilleriene.

"In Lorraine, in the meantime, a

LOAN LETS BRITAIN SPEND $250,000,000 IN CANADA

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Referring to the Victory loan, Sir Thomas White said tonight;

"It has been a triumph for the Canadian people. The announcement that Canada has more than subscribed her last and greatest Victory loan will profoundly impress the world as to our economic soundness and financial strength, after more than four years of war.

"I am more grateful than I can say for the spendid response of the public and for the magnificent work of the victory loan workers throughout the Dominion. The influenza was a most adverse factor. The conclusion of the armistice and the ensuing celebration hindered to some extent, but, on the whole, I think that was rather helpful than otherwise. Notwithstanding other drawbacks and vicissitudes, however, the loan went gloriously over the top. Its success ensures the liquidation of all floating indebtedness of the Dominion as well as providing funds to meet the expenses of demobilization and credits for the purchase of our agricultural and manufactured products during the period of reconstruction. Canada will enter this most important period splendidly equipped financially as the result of the Victory loan.

"To all the agencies that so powerfully assisted—the press, the pulpit, the various women's and other organizations, the great financial, railway and other institutions and to workers and helpers I express my most grateful thanks."

Of the proceeds of the loan about $175,000,000 will go to meeting floating indebtedness incurred in the provision of credits for munitions and so forth during the past few months. Of the remainder $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 probably will go to the provision of credits for wheat, foodstuffs and other purchases on account of the United Kingdom.

ASYS CANADA CAN PAY ITS DEBT BY RAISING LIVESTOCK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Representative livestock men, including breeders, dealers and meat packers from all parts of the country, met in conference today at the Chateau Laurier with officers of the department of agriculture and Chairman Thomson of the Canada food board to discuss plans or securing and financing the maximum business in livestock products for Canada from the United Kingdom and Europe during the period of reconstruction, upon which the world is now entering. The demand upon the livestock industry of this country during the next few years, in the unanimous view as expressed by thoise present today, was likely to exceed that of the four years of war.

Dr J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, presided at the opening meeting today, which was addressed by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture, Chairman Thomson of the Canada food board and H. S. Arkell, livestock commissioner.

Emphasis was laid throughout the discussion upon the important part livestock may be made to take in paying the national debt incurred by the war.

"Annual interest on our war debt alone will amount to over $55,000,000," said Chairman Thomson of the Canada food board. "Most of that amount has got to come out of the top six inches of the soil. It is my firm conviction that the livestock industry's development is the most important reconstruction work that can come before the government. The farmers of Canada won't be taking any chances by increasing their livestock operations in every direction. By increased production of livestock we can pay the interest on our national debt, wipe it off entirely and start the era of peace time prosperity Canada is entitled to."

It was the general opinion of the Leonard said a woman aided in the holdup and she was in the car with the man robber when the shooting occurred. The robbers escaped.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

MUNITION PLANTS MAKE PEACE GOODS

Dislocation of Labor in Canada Will Not Be Great—Prepare for Veterans.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Plans are under consideration for wide development of the repatriation committee's work. In each large centre of industry local committees are to be appointed, representative of employers, returned soldiers and organized labor. Women workers will probably be represented on the committee and it is likely that a central committee will be appointed. Inquiries made by the construction board indicate that the dislocation of labor resulting from a cessation of munition orders will not be so great as has been feared. Many of the plants turning out munitions are already preparing to transfer to industries for which there will be a peace demand.

PRAIRIE DELEGATES ASK FOR NATURAL RESOURCES

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—No final conclusions were reached as the result of the first day's deliberations of Dominion and provincial ministers called together by Sir Robert Borden previous to his departure for England to consider reconstruction and other problems affecting the Dominion. None of the provincial prime ministers was missing from the gathering when the conference convened and all were attended by from one to four colleagues. Quebec, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan had the largest delegations present.

It is understood that the representatives of the western provinces while asking for the natural resources asked that the present federal subsidies should be retained. They claimed that this would be fair because a large portion of the natural resources have already been alienated. On the other hand it was suggested by the eastern provincial ministers that if the natural resources of the west are restored a portion at least of the western subsidies should be distributed among the eastern provinces. This and other points of differen e, it is understood, was discussed when the provincial ministers met in conference. When the deliberations are resumed tomorrow, land settlement, including the settlement of soldiers on the land, will be considered. There may be an informal discussion of taxation including the overlapping of federal and municipal taxation in some provinces.

In connection with the subsidies in question, it was intimated tonight that there is not likely to be any general increase in the amount of provincial subsidies.

It was announced when the conference adjourned until Wednesday morning that the subject under discussion had been the transfer of natural resources to the prairie provinces, a matter that had been under consideration and debate at all provincial conferences.

THINKS VETERANS EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE SHOULD DO WORK

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 19.—In order to insure that proper attention will be given to the claims of returned soldiers for employment in civilian life and to prevent a too sudden transition from military dependence to the necessity of making their own way, the Saskatchewan returned soldiers' employment commission, following a two days' conference here of all branch secretaries and officials, has passed a motion which has been telegraphed to Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the conference of provincial premiers at Ottawa, the minister of labor, Hon. W. M. Martin, Sir James Lougheed, minister of soldiers' civil reestablishment, Hon. J. A. Calder and Hon. A. Meighen.

The resolution endorses the principle that the reestablishment of discharged soldiers should be undertaken by the Dominion government; points out that pending labor conferences indicate the establishment of a Dominion-provincial labor bureau; reminds the authorities of the existence of the returned soldiers' employment committee with a wide and effective organization; declares that there is danger that the interests of the returned soldiers may not be fully safeguarded and that unnecessary duplication of effort may result from a conflict of interests of the committee and the proposed labor bureau and concludes with the following:

"Therefore be it resolved, that this committee urges on the Dominion government the necessity of making provision for the direct supervision by the department of soldiers' civil reestablishment of the unemployment needs of the demobilizing army in the proposed federal coordination of general employment enterprises throughout Canada." The resolution was endorsed by the Regina Great War Veterans' executive.

CANADIANS OFF TO THE RHINE

Long for Time When They Will Be Homeward Bound, Says Sir Arthur Currie.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Sir Thomas White, acting prime ministe., has received the following message from Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian forces in France, which is in reply to the congratiatory message sent on behalf of the people of Canada to the overseas forces on the termination of hostilities:

"From the doubly historic battlefield of the Marne and on the eve of its departure for the Rhine, the Canadian corps acknowledges with a sense of deepest gratitude your message sent on behalf of the people of Canada. We join with them in humble and grateful thanks to God for the glorious victory vouchsafed to our arms. Our hearts go out to those to whom there remains only the cherished memory of their loved ones. BUILDERS ASKED TO AID IN RECONSTRUCTION PLANS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

REGINA, Sask., Nov. 19.—The Western Builders' exchange is being asked to send delegates to attend a conference at Ottawa Nov. 26, in which Hon. A. K. Maclean, head of the reconstruction committee of the cabinet is interested, to discuss the labor situation, wages, material and cooperation between contractors and supply houses in connection with the reconstruction period.

PLAN INTERNATIONAL STRIKE TO AID MOONEY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—After a protracted session, lasting until past midnight, the Seattle trades council, representing approximately 3500 workers, tonight voted to strike to bring about the release of Thomas J. Mooney and his codefendants convicted in the San Francisco preparedness day bombing case.

An attempt will be made to make the demonstration an international affair. The resolution passed by the council asks that Arthur Henderson, leader of the British labor party, be requested by cable to ask the British labor organizations to take similiaraction to secure Mooney's release.

The original resolution fixed the date of the strikes as Dec. 1, but this wasamended and the date left open to be decided upon by national labor officers in order to make the strike a general one. Notice of the council's action here is to be forwarded to the American Federation of Labor by wire tomorrow and the federation will be asked to recommend the strike of all affiliated organizations.

DISCHARGE CERTIFICATES NOT TO MENTION RECORD

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—The British war office has decided that on general demobilization soldiers' discharge certificates will no longer include what is generally known as certificate of character and the Canadian government will conform to this practise.

In other words, character certificates will not be issued to members of the Canadian expeditionary forces on discharge. Under army regulations assessment of a soldier's character is based upon his conduct sheet, which contains the record of offenses of a military nature. Many of these offenses which are considered serious in the army would not be so regarded in civil life and ought not to constitute a bar to civil employment.

Under these circumstances, it is felt that the issue of such character certificates might work a hardship upon many men seeking employment. Even should the character be assessed more than the highest class, a soldier would be handicapped in competition with a civilian as the latter would be able to produce in many cases a recommendation from a friend or well wisher probably out of proportion to his deserts. It is quite possible that a man with several years' service in the army might have been guilty of offenses which would preclude the issue to him of a military certificate of exemplary character whereas he might, and probably in many cases would, be eligible in every way for employment in a civil capacity.

The war office, with its long experience in such matters has given these considerations due weight and has arrived at the conclusion indicated above and the Canadian government with the full concurrence of the Canadian overseas military authorities considers it desirable on all grounds that all regulations applying to Canadian soldiers in this respect should conform to chose of the British army as a whole

STRIKE MAY CUT OFF OTTAWA'S PAPER SUPPLY

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—The paper mills of J. H. Booth were closed tonight owing to a strike of 400 pulp workmen and boilremen, who are demanding increased wages. The men claim Mr. Booth promised to accede to their request when he secured $3.50 per hundred for newsprint. The whole plant as a result has been shut down and the newsprint supply of the Ottawa papes is endangered should a settlement not be arived at immediately.

Sunlight dispels the shadow that once hung over wash day

IN fact many women do not say "wash day" any more. They say "Sunlight Day". It's a genuine pleasure to use Sunlight Soap because it means an economical wash, it means a quick wash. Why? Because, Sunlight is absolutely pure—you need only half the quantity as compared with ordinary soaps, nor will Sunlight harm any delicate fabrics, or hurt your hands. And it really takes the labour out of the washing in surprisingly little time as you will see by following the directions.

CANADIAN STOCKS ARE FIRMER AT MONTREAL

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—The irregularity of the past few days gave way to a firmer tone in Canadian stocks today. Dominion Iron ranked as the most active stock, the price rising ¾ to 61½ and closing at the best. Steel of Canada was also firmer, opening at 60 and holding at 60 to 60¼ throughout the day with closing bid of 60, or a fractional advance. Cement common improved ¼ to 60¼. Woods was unchanged at the recent 2-point advance of 92, making no response to the announcement of the 5 per cent bonus declaration. Spanish River common was on the heavy side, yielding ½ to 15.

A brisk demand for Brazilian at 55⅛ to ¼, against 55 on Monday, was the chief fluctuation in utilities. Montreal Power sold at 82 in a few broken lots and closed at 82⅞ bid; Shawinigan was also firmer, rallying ½ to 117. Other changes included a rally of ⅞ in Canada Steamships, which sold at 45½.

Bonds were moderately active with no striking price changes. Sales: Shares, 2880; bonds, $43,000.

TORONTO NOTES IMPROVEMENT IN DEMAND FOR STOCKS

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 19—Some improvemen in demand for stocks was noted on the local exchange today. The first local transaction in Nova Scotia Steel in some time was at 63½, repeating the low of the year. Steel of Canada firmed up 1¼ to 60¼. Twin City moved up to 51 with that price bid. Canada Permanent sold at 169½, the highest of the year and Colonial Loan repeated its high point of the year at 69. Mackay at 73⅛ was off ⅜ and Spanish river at 15½ was off ½.

BANKS SIT TIGHT ON SPECULATION

Will Loan Little Money for Operations on New York Exchange—Trading Small.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Dulness was the outstanding feature of today's stock market, trading dwindling to the smallest total since the signing of the armistice. The tone was steady to firm during the morning, but practically all gains were dissipated in the general selling of the final hour. Monetary conditions lost none of their force. Brokers experienced further difficulty in securing banking accounts for extension of business.

Four stocks contributed almost one-third of the day's output, United States Steel preferred, Mexican Petroleum and Southern Pacific leading more or less in the order named.

Steels started off at a moderately strong pace, but replaced its extreme advance of 1¼ points with a net fractional loss. Marine substituted a slight early gain with a subsequent setback of 2 points; Mexican Petroleum reversed its initial gain of 1½ points with an extreme setback of 9 points and Southern Pacific forfeited nearly all its gain of a point.

These movements were typical of changes elsewhere in the list, other rails, industrials and specialties falling off 1 to 3 points from the maximum in the reaction at the end. Sales amounted to 450,000 shares.

Bonds made a better showing than stocks, Liberty issues holding steady with marked strength in the industrial division, especially French government 5½s and French municipals. Sales aggregated $840,000. Old United States bonds unchanged on call.

RUN OF CATTLE IS SMALL AT TORONTO

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—The receipts at the Union stockyards today totaled 37 cars, 636 cattle, 72 calves, 248 hogs and 623 sheep. The run of cattle was small and everything was cleaned up early. Few really good to choice steers were offered but for them the price held quite firm. Common to medium cows were unchanged, but canners were about 50 cents higher. The trend was possibly a shade firmer for common to medium. The stocker trade was small but eight short keep feeders were bought at the big figure of $11.25. The milker and springer trade was unimportant, few animals of this class coming in. Four bulls prices remained about the same, with few choice animals offering. A few extra good veal calves sold at $17.50 per cwt. but the run was small and average quotations were lower than that figure.

Lambs were very firm, averaging 15 cents up, a few selling at $15.25. There was no sheep market but for any offered prices were much firmer.

The run of hogs was too small to call a market but the price commonly quoted was $18 fed and watered. A few selects brought $18.50, last week's price.

SINGLE HEAD FOR GOVERNMENT LINES

Minister of Railways Announces Transfer of Intercolonial and Transcontinental to C. N. R.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, announced tonight that an order in council had been passed transferring the management and operation of the Canadian government railways of Canada, which consist of the Intercoloanial railway and its branch lines, and the National Transcontinental railway between Winnipeg and Moncton, over to the board of directors appointed to manage the Canadian Northern railway system. This transfer now places all railways owned by the government under the direction and operation of this board.

There has been added to the board Thomas Cantley of New Glasgow, N. S.; A. P. Barhill of St. John, N. B., and Sir J. Laporte of Montreal. This change now makes a government system of about 14,000 miles, extending from Sydney, N. S., to Vancouver, B. C., all under the one management.

The board of directors a few weeks ago reorganized the Canadian Northern system and will now proceed with some changes that may be necessary on account of adding these railways to the Canadian Northern system.

It is understood C. A. Hayes, who has been general manager of the Intercolonial railway, will relinquish this position and become general traffic manager of the whole government railway system. His office will be changed from Moncton to Toronto and F. P. Brady, general manager of the Transcontinental railway, between Winnipeg and Quebec, is relieved of that position and becomes assistant to the general manager of all eastern lines, which include the Intercolonial railway.

L. S. Brown, general superintendent of the Intercolonial railway, will assume the position of chief operating officer of the Intercolonial railway under F. P. Brady.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES.

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Geo Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: 'I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it I have not been troubled since."

PROPOSE BRINGING TREES FROM FRANCE AS MEMORIALS

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The planting of a "battle-ground" forest of trees from every battlefield on which Americans have fought in the present European conflict has been proposed for consideration of the Sacramento city park board. The plan was urged by W. E. Briggs, director of the board, who said the grove of trees in the State Capitol park here, gathered from various batitfeilds of the Civil war suggested the idea to him. The Capitol park grove was planted by members of the G.A.R.

CANADIAN PER CAPITA BEATS UNITED STATES.

In the big war loan campaigns which have just been concluded, Canada, per capita, beat the United States by a substantial margin.

The United States Liberal loan totaled $6,989,047,000, subscribed by 100,000,000 people.

The Canadian Victory loan totaled $676,027,217, subscribed by 8,000,000 people.

The investment per capita in the United States was thus $69,89, while the investment per capita by Canadians was $84.50.

To put it another way: If Canada had had the same population as the United States and had maintained its per capita subscription it would have raised eight and a half billion dollars for the last Victory loan.

Canada certainly has reason to be proud of its Victory loan showing.

IS KAISER PLANNING AN "ESCAPE FROM ELBA?"

There is fear in London that ex-Kaiser Wilhelm has no intention of remaining an ex-kaiser very long and that his real purpose is to return to Germany at an opportune moment and seize the reins of power once more

"There is a strong suspicion," says the London Daily Express, "that his abdication may be a theatrical sham and that he proposes to return to the stage. Unlike Karl, of Hapsburg, he has signed no document renouncing his position and issued no farewell to his troops or people. After wearing civilian clothes a few hours he is again strutting about in full uniform. His bearing suggests nervousness, but neither repentance nor humility. What game is William Hohenzollern playing is a question over which the Dutch people are growing anxious. The Germans are still more anxious. An Elba just over the border is not to the liking of the new government. For the allies the question is one of justice as well as of precaution."

The Express mentions Elba. It was from that island that Napoleon escaped to France to enjoy the Hundred Days of power which ended at Waterloo.

Wilhelm II is no Napolean and would never personally lead the German army to the Waterloo it would meet, but he might attempt to regain power.

News regarding the influenza epidemic continues to be good. While there are some new cases from time to time there is no longer any doubt but that the epidemic has been got under control.

It is said that, technically, King Karl of Austria-Hungary has not abdicated. Neither has he renounced his rights, but only their exercise. It's all very interesting, but the distinction is not vitally important.

Medical scientists have before them a great work in endeavoring to discover the genesis and progress of the Spanish influenza germ and a means to counteract its effects. It may be 20 years before such another epidemic occurs, but now is the time for scientists to prepare to fight it.

TOLD IN RHYME

SIX O'CLOCK

Six o'clock in the tower and street,
The tune and tramp of hurrying feet,
The feeble flicker of smoke-dimmed stars,
The clatter and clang of cabs and cars;
A splash of fire from the dying sun,
Life with its duties shirked or won,
And people hurrying home.

Six o'clock in the mists and marts,
By the murky wave where the ferry darts,
By the lights, like stars, that glow and gleam.
By the ebbing tides of the human stream;
By the clicking flags and the hearth-stores far,
Where the joy of waiting households are,
By the tasks laid by that make on mar,
And people hurrying home.

Six o'clock in the tangled webs
Of the day lay snarled, but the forlk-tide ebbs
From the pebbled shore to the sea out there,
And the beach of the street lies bleak and bare;
Six o'clock the great piles there
Close shut, like prison cells of care,
And people hurrying home.
And people hurryig home.

COLD STORAGE

A woman believes everything a fortune teller says, provided she isn't told that her boy will not amount to anything.

The small boy sometimes sees straight and sees far. He reads the signs of the times unabashed. John, at the co-educational school, cut quite a good figure at the examinations, but failed to get the highest marks awarded in his mixed class. His father was astonished and incensed. John was beaten by a girl!

"John, I am surprised to find that you have allowed yourself to be defeated by a mere girl."

"Yes, father," says John, unblushingly, "I have, but I can tell you something—girls are not so very mere, after all."

"The young fellow who's callnig on your daughter, Smith, has a lot of 'go' in him."

"Not any to notice when he's calling on my daughter."

"Is it true that you are going into the aviation corps?"

"Yes, I'm going to join the ranks of the higher ups."

"Now, Rastus," said the captain,

RUSSIA'S VAST DOMAIN.

The Russian revolution of 1917 is a landmark of capital importance in world history comparable to the French revolution of 1789. For Russia it ushers in a long period of readjustment and construction which will consume many years or even generations. For the world at large it sets in motion political and social forces whose ultimate consequences may well be felt in the remotest corners of the earth.

The tremendous possibilities inherent in the Russian problem may be grasped by a glance at the bare size of the area and population involved. The Russian empire as it existed in 1914 covered an area of 8,500,000 square miles (nearly three times the size of the United States) while its population numbered 178,000,000 souls. Stretching uninterruptedly from Central Europe to the Pacific and from the Arctic ocean to the mountainous backbone of Central Asia, this huge political organism engrossed nearly one-sixth of the total land surface of the globe.

Like all great empires the begin*nings of modern Russia* were humble and obscure. Russia's germcell was the small principality of Moscow that, toward the middle ages arose in the centre of those vast East European plains which are the historical home of the Russian race. The principality of Moscow was only one of several Russian states which lay exposed to the devastations of the Tartars, Asiatic nomads, who from their seats in Southern Russia, terrorized the whole country with their savage raids. The little principality of Moscow produced a line of able rulers who performed the double task of breaking the Tartar yoke and uniting all the petty Russian states into a single realm—Muscovy—of which they took the title of "Tsars." They also laid the foundation of Greater Russia by encouraging Russian adventurers to cross the Ural mountains and occupy the uninhabited Siberian plains to the Pacific just as our pioneers later crossed the Appalachians and won the whole *breadth of the North America conti*nent for the United States.—American Review of Reviews.

JAPANESE EXPERT PROMOTING SHARK INDUSTRY IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, T. H.—Y. Horiye, an expert in fishery, for many years employed by the Japanese government, is here promoting a new industry, shark hunting on a commercial basis. The waters surrounding the Hawaiian isl*ands outside of the coral reefs, which* make beach bathing safe, are infested with enormous sharks. Mr. Horiye believes shark hunting for the oil and skins will be profitable.

CANADA'S RECORD

(By Lieut. R. S. M. Sturges.)

General Currie's special order issued on Oct. 3 adds yet another page to the already glorious history of the Canadian corps. The men of Canada are not professional soldiers; the permanent militia which constituted Canada's standing army in peace time, though efficient and well trained, was too small to be compared with a modern army. Yet the men of Canada have thrown themselves heart and soul into the war, they have elected to have conscription, they have subjected themselves to the strictest military discipline, which must at first have grated upon their natural love of freedom and independence, and they have made of themselves some of the finest troops in the world.

Their record in this war is one on which no Briton can look without a thrill of pride. Among their battle honors may be found names which will for ever be connected with Canada—Ypres, Sanctuary Wood, Zillebeke, Somme, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele and Amiens. Of these perhaps Ypres, Vimy Ridge, and Amiens have hitherto been the most famous, but it looks today as though Cambrai will take a very high place in the list.

The story of the second battle of Ypres will never be forgotten and that chapter of heroism will always be the most glorious in the history of the Canadian army. In that battle the odds were all against the Canadians. They were attacked and outflanked by four divisions; they had to meet a weapon hitherto undreamed of in civilized warfare, against which they had no protection; they fought withopt support of heavy artillery, for days and nights on end to save a line which was already broken, and to them it is due that the Germans never set foot in the town of Ypres itself.

Vimy Ridge also is Canadian country. The roads, the trenches, even the mine craters, all bear Canadian names and the whole area is covered with a network of Decauville light railways laid by the Canadians during the time of their occupation. The capture of Vimy Ridge on Easter Monday in 1917 was one of the finest achievements of the war. With the ridge still in the enemy's hands it would have been impossible to break the northern end of the Hindenburg defenses and to lay the foundations for the great campaign which is now proceeding.

The battle of Amiens is still fresh in our memories. Between Aug. 8 and 13 the Canadians defeated 16 German divisions, of which four were completely routed. In these five days they advanced 22,000 yards, extending their front from 7500 to 10,000 yards, and captured 10,000 prisoners, 150 guns and 1000 machine guns as well as 25 towns and villages.

Finally on Oct. 3, General Currie's special order enumerates their achievements in the battle of Cambrai. These include the storming of the Drocourt-Queant line, and of the Canal du Nord, the capture of Bourlin wood and of the commanding positions in its neighborhood, while the number of prisoners taken by the corps since Aug. 8 is given as 28,000. The area of country liberated in the same period exceeds 175 square miles, which include 69 towns and villages and 47 German divisions have been defeated by the Canadian corps withing two months. To this magnificent list of successes may now be added the capture of Cambrai itself.

The great reputation which the Canadians have gained has been fully earned. It can never be said that they have been specially favored with luck or given tasks to perform which were more dramatic than difficult. Rather is the contrary the case; the taking of Vimy Ridge and of the Canal du Nord are two of the most formidable tasks that have ever been given to any army.

It was thought by many that the capture of the Canal du Nord at the first attempt was almost an impossibility. It was thought that some considerable time would be expended in wearing down the enemy's defenses, which were of great strength in this area. But the fighting spirit of the Canadians was anything but daunted at the forbidding prospect.

On the evening before this particular attack a gunner officer was talking to a Canadian infantry officer who was "going over" on the following morning. The gunner remarked that the Canadians had a hard nut to crack this time; the whole line was bristling with machine guns and absolutely infested with wire. But the Canadian was not to be put out and he answered laconically:

"Don't you worry; that'll be all right."

"But," the other persisted, "I'm told the Boches have massed an enormous number of troops to defend the line."

This time the reply was even shorter but very much to the point:

"All the mort to kill."

This conversation reflects just that spirit of confident optimism which is characteristic of the Canadians and perhaps partly the secret of their success, for their optimism is fully justified by their actions. On the morning after this conversation took place, for instance, the Canadians took the defenses of the Canal du Nord in their first stride, to the amazement even of their own generals, and not content with that, pushed on and captured the commanding position of Bourlon wood by nightfall, thereby sealing the doom of Cambrai. It was a magnificent performance even surpassing the high standard set by their previous achievements.

But for all their successes the Canadians have not been spoiled. There is none of the empty vanity of the Prussian guard about them; they do not indulge in self-advertisement. This may be inferred from the tone in which the rest of the British army speak of them. All those who have fought side by side with them or have seen them in action are unanimous in singing their praises.

The Germans, moreover, have had cause to recognize the prowess of the Canadian Corps. Since the day when they crucified their Canadian prisoners, they have had many times over to pay the penalty for their brutality—and the Canadians have not finished with them yet.

Especially Soldiers' Gifts

Soldiers' parcels should leave here within the next week, for delivery at the Front by Christmas.

That means that there must be no delay in purchasing the gifts. Have you decided WHAT you will send?

Consider this! The Canadians are still on the move. In any event, it will be months before they are all home. Meanwhile many a soldier leaves behind and loses part of his belongings.

A great many soldiers are anxiously hoping that the folks at home will send them a Gillette Razor or Blades for Christmas. You cannot do better than decide to send a

Gillette Safety Razor

The Useful Gift

There need be no fear of duplication, for if a soldier has not lost the Gillette you gave him before, the Gillette set you send him now will be in great demand by less fortunate pals, and he can readily convert it into cash.

Much as the soldier appreciates the food and clothing you send him—and the smokes—if he hasn't a Gillette, he lacks what he NEEDS most, for clean shaving is the rigid rule in the army.

If you want to make your soldier happy this Christmas, send him a Gillette Razor or Blades and . . .

FERNIE RECOVERS FROM INFLUENZA

Lieut. W. J. Claridge Outlines Situation at Fernie—Praises Heroic Workers.

Lieut. W. J. Claridge of Fernie, member of the Victory loan committee, was in Nelson last night on his way to Vancouver university. In a brief interview upon the influenza situation now under control at Fernie, Lieut. Claridge stated that although Fernie had been very hard hit, the three emergency hospitals opened to house the hundreds of patients would probably be closed toward the end of this week. The number of deaths so far attributed to influenza would not be more than 45. Ex-Mayor Sherwood Herchmer and A. B. Trites, president of the Trites-Wood company and the Western Canada Wholesale company, are given great credit for the way in which they have devoted their full time to combating the epidemic. A. B. Trites, sacrificing his personal interests, took charge of Victoria hall with accommodation for 50 patients.

Speaking of the Victory loan campaign, Lieut. Claridge stated that the committee became completely disorganized by the flu during the first week of the drive and that it was only during the last few days that the wonderful results attained by Fernie were accomplished when the city went over the top.

Lieut. Claridge will leave this morning for Vancouver. While in the city he was a guest at the Hume.

ROSSLAND MINER DAILY SUSPENDS

Will In Future Publish as Weekly Only —Cost of Production Forces Change.

(Special to The Daily News.)

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 19.—Announcement of the suspension of the Rossland Miner daily issue and reversion to a weekly was made in last Saturday's daily issue. In part, the announcement reads:

"With this issue the Miner will cease to publish as a daily newspaper.

"However much we dislike to make this decision, conditions in the publishing business in Rossland will not warrant the continuance of a daily paper longer, although we hope when conditions become normal again, which appear to be in the offing, that the Miner will be given the support that will justify the publication of a daily.

"The Miner has no apologies to make for past performances. We have 'carried on' longer than business justified and against the advice of friends, for the reason only that vastly important world happenings made us feel we should serve the anxious public and cooperate the best we could in our humble way in assisting patriotic movements.

"Advances in paper costs, telegraph tolls, press reports, because of the war, together with government rulings regarding giving credit to subscribers enter largely into our decision to cease issuing a daily edition.

"Rossland will not be without a paper, however, for it is our intention, beginning Saturday, Nov. 23, to begin the publication of the Rossland Saturday Night Miner, which publication will carry all the news of the world for the day and until late at night and all the week's business, mining, local, social and other news carefully prepared as well as added features, the idea being to cover a field not now served by any other publication.

"We sincerely hope for the cooperation of citizens of this section, Rossland and Trail in particular, in making a paper worth while, until such time as conditions may warrant the resumption of a daily.

"To those supporters of the Daily Miner we feel deeply grateful and hope for a continuance of their patronage. It has been appreciated to the fullest.

"Every day endangering our health in continuing in the long and strenuous hours we have given to our work in the past and which pace we realize cannot continue indefinitely, is another reason for this regrettable decision.

"Citizens one and all, and this means the well-to-do; the business man, the capitalist, the backbone of our city—the mine worker, and all organizations, can, as in the past, count upon the new Miner to be to the front always in every movement tending to further advance our city or for the good of the greatest number.

"With this explanation, and again thanking all who have patronized the Miner in the past, soliciting the support of all that the 'home paper' can be made a creditable publication, the Daily Miner says au revoir.

"THE PUBLISHER."

NAKUSP, B. C., Nov. 19.—The Victory loan campaign came to a close on Saturday night. The Arrow lakes district has more than doubled its number of subscribers in comparison with 1917 and the amount raised is more than trebled. The subscribers are 339 with a total of $81,250, entitling the district to nine crowns in its honor flag, the latter being earned on the fourth day of the campaign. The average per subscriber is $240, equalling $59,74 per head of population, based on 1360 people in the district from Halcyon to Robson and Summit lake, all inclusive. One in four of the population subscribed and on Nov. 9 according to reports from the provincial headquarters, the Arrow Lakes stood in tenth place in all British Columbia, out of 127 units which had exceeded their quotas. Allen of the Methodist church conducted the service: the Anglican bell was rung calling the service; Catholics were in the choir and in the audience; hymn books of all churches were used; seats were provided from the Presbyterian and Anglican churches and representatives, wardens and managers from each denomination assisted in the arrangements.

Deputy Sheriff Van Vliet was shot above the heart and is in a precarious condition. Deputy Sheriff Anderson received several bullets through his clothes, but was uninjured.

This wise mother knows that the best and safest way to relieve a bilious, sick or constipated child is by giving candy Cascarets at the first sign of a white tongue, a feverish breath or a sour stomach.

Children love Cascarets because of the candy taste. Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, sour fomentations and poisons from the little liver and bowels so gently—yet so thoroughly. Each 10-cent box of Cascarets has directions for children aged one year old and upwards.

NAVAL QUESTION INTERESTS WILSON

It May Keep Him Near Peace Conference for an Indefinite Period.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Democratic senators who conferred with President Wilson for two hours, left the White House with the impression that the president now plans to remain in France indefinitely, or at least until the major portion of the work of the peace conference has been completed.

The president was understood to be especially interested in the application and in framing of the treaty regarding the principles of the freedom of the seas, which he enunciated in his 14 terms and on which the allies, in agreeing to discuss peace with Germany, have reserved the right of freedom of action at the peace conference.

The plan for a league of nations was another subject to which the president was said to have given much study. He was understood to regard this as essential for the maintenance of the peace of the world.

During his absence from the United States, the president plans to continue to exercise all the functions of his office. He will keep in communication with Washington by wireless while at sea and by cable, and if necessary by despatch boats, while he is abroad.

While in France, the president was said to intend to transact any necessary executive business at the American embassy. Technically he will then be on American soil. Should he visit London or any of the other allied capitals, the embassies there would become his executive headquarters. Besides discussing his plans for his trip abroad, the preident was understood to have taken up with the senators problems of reconstruction and necessary legislation. It was said that he opposes the creation of a reconstruction committee, either executive or congressional, preferring that the work be done by existing agencies such as the war industries board, the food administration and the war trade board.

WILL CUT DOWN THE OUTPUT OF SPRUCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 19.—In view of the military situation brought about by the signing of the armistice Major Austin C. Taylor, director of the imperial munitions board, department of aeronautical supplies, announces that the production of spruce in British Columbia for airplane purposes will be curtailed. From this announcement it may be assumed that the recent large production of airplane spruce lumber can now be considerably reduced and still meet the military demands of Great Britain and her allies.

LIBERALS TO CALL BIG CONVENTION

Dominion Wide Meeting Is Decided upon—Sir Wilfrid Guest on His 77th Birthday.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 19—Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier at a banquet tendered in his honor here tonight by western Ontario Liberals announced his intention of calling a national convention of all Liberals in the Dominion at a "not far distant date" to consider problems confronting the country now that peace seems assured.

The opposition leader declared that any statement of the policies the party intends to pursue would be premature at this date and intimated that such a pronouncement cannot be expected till the peace terms have been signed.

The banquet tonight came somewhat in the nature of a climax to the formation of the western Ontario Liberal association, when it was quite apparent that the framework of a national convention was established. Sir Wilfrid was extended a remarkable ovation by the 200 guests present and the banquet was in the nature of a celebration of the leader's 77th birthday. In his speech, Sir Wilfrid took occasion to score the government in connection with the administration of the Military Service act, laying especial emphasis on the promise that the farmers would be exempt from the provisions and the subsequent reservation in view of the serious situation in France. He declared that Sir Robert Borden and other members of the government who recently left for England might have found better use for their time by staying at home and deciding on some policy regarding soldiers returning from overseas.

The proposed league of nations was not so much a dream as some people imagined, he said, and he was confident that something definite along these lines would be arrived at in the peace conference. In this connection he referred to the friendly relations which have existed between Canada and the United States for the last 100 years. Although there have been disputes between the two nations they have nearly always been settled by negotiation.

ALLEGED FUR ROBBER MURDERS POLICE CONSTABLE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—Police Constable Frank Williams was shot and killed in W. G. Cross' livery stable while trying to arrest a man who gave his name as Frank McCullough, and said he lived on Palmerton avenue. McCullough, who was shortly afterward taken into custody, had just returned a horse and buggy to the livery in question and Constable Williams had been awaiting his return.

The constable was at the stable in response to a telephone message to the Claremont street police station from a College street storekeeper, who stated that two men in a buggy were trying to sell a quantity of furs under suspicious circumstances.

The dead policeman was on plain clothes duty tonight at the Claremont street station and was not in uniform when killed.

Although Prairie Fields May Be Covered With Snow, Flowers Grow In Nelson Gardens

This picture was taken at the city park and the view is that of Nelson as it was in the early days, looking east from that place. The business section lies in the opposite direction to that in which the camera man was looking when he secured this view over a decade ago.

Each year when the autumn leaves begin turning to golden hues it marks the beginning of a period of activity for the realty agents in the city for that is the time when they are placed at their wit's end to find enough houses to rent to families from the prairie who spend the winter in Nelson. This year has been no exception and practically all furnished houses in the city are taken soon after they are listed by those who happen to be going away for business or other reasons.

As in former years this year has also proved no exception to the general rule of a last year's visitor bringing with him a friend whom he has convinced should spend his winter in the mild Kootenay climate rather than go to the more congested and better known coast points.

During the last two weeks the arrival of families from the prairie who will spend the winter in the city include well to do farmers from Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta. One realty agent believes that at least six of the houses which he has rented during the last 10 days are for the winter homes of these prairie farmers.

A letter of inquiry which was received by one agent read. "Mr. Dickson, who spent last year at Nelson, has recommended your city as a good place to live for those of us who are used to, but are glad to avoid the severe winters that we have on the prairie. I do not mind wearing my overcoat, but during recent years I have objected to getting my nose frost bitten." This farmer's name was Mr. Donald and needless to say he has since arranged to come to Nelson for the winter.

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG

(From the New York Times)

One of the ablest soldiers the war has produced does not speak for himself or about himself. He praises others and is slow to censure. Sometimes his government has failed to send him reinforcements when his need of them was great; but he has not complained. In more than four years of war he has always been at the front, engaged with rare respite in what may be called intensive fighting, often of the most resperate character. The wonder is that he has gone through the ordeal with a sound brain and strength apparently unimpaired. There have been three commanders of the French armies since mid-December, 1915, but only one commander of the British. Has any other soldier in history been exposed to greater strain upon his faculties than Sir Douglas Haig has endured and triumphed over in the last three years less three months? Yet all that is known of him by Americans and by most of his countrymen for that matter, is that his name figures a good deal in headlines. It is impossible to disassociate him from the British army. On Sept. 10, Field Marshal in an order of the day thanked it for its valor and devotion:

"The capture of 75,000 prisoners and 750 guns in the course of four weeks' fighting speaks for the magnitude of your efforts and the magnificence of your achievements."

For once D. Haig, so he signs his name, showed more emotion than was ever wrunk from him before by success or failure. "We have passed through many dark days," he said in his address to his troops. "Please God these never will return." This great soldier, for such he is, goes to a little Presbyterian church behind the lines every Sunday morning and when he speaks the name of God, which is seldom, lest his piety seem ostentatious, it is with reverence. One of those dark days was on April 12 of the present year, when the British army was fighting for its life in the Ypres sector, where it had bled so much, but always indomitably. Sir Douglas Haig then issued his "Back to the wall" order of the day, in which he said with a simplicity with something of the sublime in it:

"Many among us now are tired. To those I would say that victory will belong to the side which holds out the longest. The French army is moving rapidly and in great force to our support. There is no other course open to us but to fight it out. Every position must be held to the last man. There must be no retirement."

What has Sir Douglas Haig not done in his four years and more in France that an accomplished and intrepid soldier should do? With Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, his fellow corps commander, he more than once saved the British army on its retreat from Mons. Its historian, Major Ernest W. Hamilton, says that one hundred Victoria Crosses were earned in that glorious retreat for every one given. One-third of the expeditionary army sleep the long sleep in France. Smith-Dorrien, whose health broke down under the strain, vied with each other in fighting rearguard actions until flesh and blood could endure no more. The escape of remnants of brigades bordered on the miraculous. "We shall have to hold on here for a while if we all die for it," said Haig on one desperate occasion. The British army was always holding on; every extraction from the German envelopment was like a forlorn hope. Smith-Dorrien, he of the eagle eye and massive jaw was never himself again. Haig, who did not take life so tragically, lived through many dark days with gleams of glory.

The first Ypres was as touch-and-go a busines sas anything experienced in the retreat from Mons. The 7th division, 12,000 strong when it left England, lost 336 officers out of 400, and 9664 men. On the darkest day when all seemed lost, down the Menin road galloped Sir Douglas Haig and his smart escort of the 17th Lancers, shells falling thick about them, to encourage the faltering troops—for no other reason, the general's place being behind the lines. On another day—it was at Gheluvet—he stood on a road in consultation with Sir John French, who had given an order for the army to fall back, when a courier rode up to say that the Germans were retiring. Sir Clarence Fitzclarence, an Irish soldier, had thrown a nNorfolk battalion into a breach in the enemy's line and turned the tide of battle. So critical was all the Ypres fighting, so suddenly did shifts of success pierce the pall of defeat.

Haig was Sir John French's right arm and when the veteran retired the government in naming the Scotchman for supreme command, reflected the hopes of the army. Upon the battle of the Somme, which he fought himself with tried and with green troops, Sir Douglas Haig's fame will mainly rest. It was the hardest and the longest battle ever recorded. The enemy had to be pried out of one Gibraltar after another, driven from one Plevna after another, but ever the British army under the tireless Haig, moved relentlessly forward. The British losses were 500,000, the German losses much greater. If the commanding general ever showed a trace of the tremendous strain nobody has made mention of the fact. The whole year of 1917, up to November, when Haig was in front of Cambrai, he pressed his advantage. Then came a loss of ground in a surprise attack and in March of this year began the German offensive which was to end the war. There were more dark days for the British army overwhelmed by numbers. The "Back to the wall" order held its ranks inviolable.

This Scotch gentleman, son of John Haig of Ramornie, in Fife, who commands 2,000,000 British and colonial troops, is in the prime of life at 57, "tall, lithe, well knit," a consummate horseman, fair of complexion, blue of eye, in manner gracious, reserved but kindly. "I have rarely seen a masculine face so handsome and yet so strong," said one who tried to interview him. He shuns publicity. An industrious student of the profession of arms, it is said that he never commanded a larger body of men than a regiment in battle before the great war. The influence of the genial Duke of Cambridge secured him a commission after he had been rejected for defective eyesight. Sir John French saved him from drowning in the Modder river in the Boer war. "Lucky" Haig he has always been called. He predicted the war with Germany in a letter to Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood years ago. He has refused a peerage, but is a Knight of the prized Order of the Thistle. He has owed much to his aristocratic connections, but infinitely more to the virtues of his race and to inherent soldierly qualities. He has a keen sense of humor. He is never visibly angry. Born in the purple and a favorite at Court and in Mayfair, he is a "soldiers' soldier." There are many Haigs on the British army list, but only one Sir Douglas. Modest and indifferent to fame, he will be reckoned among the great commanders of the greatest war in history.

CARIBOO ARE SEEN IN SWARMS UP NORTH

DAWSON, Y.T.—"Mountains and shores seemed to be alive and moving" declared Dr. H. C. Miller, a United States army doctor who was aboard the United States government steamboat, General Jeff C. Davis when she encountered a vast herd of migrating cariboo, or Arctic deer on the Yukon river. "At one time we could see between 2000 and 5000 cariboo from the deck."

Cariboo congregated on islands in the river, roved the bars, swam the stream and swarmed on both banks, Dr. Miller added. His estimate of the number did not include the several thousand which had gone over the hills or were on their way to the river from the north. One man, Dr. Miller asserted, said he walked 21 miles among the moving herds before he could get through them. For three hours the Davis ploughed among the animals swimming the river. The crew lassooed some of the cariboo and dragged them on deck for fresh meat.

"What do you think of this idea of getting next to the soil?"

"All right, if you can strike pay dirt."

EMPLOYMENT OF VETERANS SUBJECT

Provincial and Dominion Representatives Discuss Coordination of Work of Agencies

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—The coordination of the work of the Dominion and provincial employment agencies with that of the department of soldiers' civil reestablishment was considered with representatives of that department at the first of a series of conferences on unemployment here today. As a result it is probable that plans will be perfected which will permit the employment agencies to render the maximum service to returned soldiers when the time comes for their return to civil occupations. The conference today was of somewhat an informal nature but questions of policy were discussed and some progress was made in this direction. With the exception of the maritime provinces, which sent no direct representatives, but will nevertheless be represented by their premiers attending the conference of prime ministers, all the provinces sent delegates.

British Columbia is represented by J. D. McNiven, deputy minister of labor; Alberta, by C. R. Mitchell, provincial superintendent of employment agencies; Saskatchewan, by Thomas Mulloy, secretary of the labor bureau; Manitoba, by Premier T. C. Norris and Attorney-General T. H. Johnson, who are also attending the premiers' conference; Ontario, by R. W. Riddell, trades and labor superintendent; and Quebec, by Former Controller Ainey of Montreal, general superintendent of employment offices for Quebec; and F. Payette, superintendent of the Montreal employment office.

The adoption of standard forms and routine in the various employment agencies of the provinces so as to obviate any difficulty in communication and the adoption of similar terminology by the provinces was discussed at the afternoon session. It is necessary that the different provinces classify different trades in exactly the same way and apply to them similar names of the employment agencies are to operate successfully on a Dominion wide basis.

Another question which received consideration at the afternoon conference was that of office accommodation and arrangements and those present discussed the best arrangements for offices in the large cities and also the small towns.

The conference will probably continue for two or possibly three more days.

REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF PNEUMONIA

(Newcastle, N. B. Leader.)

A Leader reader sends in a letter which appeared in the Boston Transcript about three years ago, giving what purports to be a cure for pneumonia. He suggests that while the remedy given may not prove a cure-all in the present epidemic, and should not be used without the advice of a physician, yet it has proved effective in checking colds, in several cases which came to his notice, and he gives the letter for what it is worth. The letter follows:

Dear Nomad: Being a reader of the Boston Transcript nearly every day I was shocked to learn by last Friday's issue of the large number of deaths from pneumonia the last ten weeks in Boston. Also quite a number from la grippe, especially as these two ailments are speedily cured by the simple remedies that are hereby given, viz., "Remedy for the cure of pneumonia."

"Take six to ten onions, according to size, chop moderately fine and put in a large spider or stew pan over a hot fire; let them cook for a few minutes, then add about the same quantity of rye meal (if rye is not obtainable, use Indian) then add vinegar enough to form a thick paste. Let this cook for a few minutes, stirring it that it may be thoroughly heated. In the meantime, have two cotton bags made large enough to cover the lungs. Fill one and apply to the chest as hot at the patient can bear, and in very severe cases it is well to apply to the back also. During this prepare another poultice to take the place of the first, and apply in ten or fifteen minutes; then the first can be re-heated and applied again. Generally three or four applications will clear the lungs and the patient be out of danger."

This remedy I firmly believe would have saved the lives of every one of the large number named in your paper the Friday of last week. It is remarkable that double and typhoid pneumonia wield just as readily to it as cases of a milder form.

To prove this I will mention two or three cases. A friend of mine several years ago (Mr. Solon Wilder, treasure of the town of Lancaster, Mass.) was stricken with double pneumonia. Dr. Hartwell of Ayer, medical examiner, said there was no hope from the first, as there was no known remedy for double pneumonia, and his family doctor gave him up the day previous to me seeing him. It was only by the earnest entreaty of his brother that I was induced to go and apply the remedy. I found him just faintly breathing, and I doubt if he could have lived more than two or three hours at longest, when I applied the first poultice, as only a portion of one lung was in action and he was sinking fast. Yet after the third poultice his lungs cleared and he could speak in his usual tone of voice and was out of danger, and in a few days was able to attend to his daily duties.

This simple remedy cured one of the worst cases of the typhoid type of this disease that I have known in the thirty years that I have studied this malady. His name was John R. Pierce, a farmer, in the north part of this town. In his delirium he wold tear the poultices off his chest and throw them against the side of the room as fast as the attendant could put them on and it was only by anearly all night vigil that the remedy could be kept on long enough to clear his lungs, which was finally accomplished, I think, by binding them on. The family physician, Dr. Godfrey, was powerless to aid by any medicinal remedybut as soon as the lungs were cleared the fever and delirium left him, and in a few days he was able to be about as usual.

My friend, the late Dr. John Urich, one of the most successful physcians of Boston, used this remedy for several years and told me that he never lost a case after he had commenced to use it, having sixteen in one winter, one of which had been given up by two physicians; yet this remedy saved them all. Dr. John McCollister, of Waltham, told me that he never lost a case, using this remedy for more than twenty years, several of which had been given up by other physicians.

"The Grippe—This disease is caused by inhaling poisonous germs that float in the atmosphere and while those that cause fevers go to the intestines and secretions, these always go first to the stomach, and if not removed within three days, be absorbed into the system and will find their way always to the weakest part, generally the heart or lungs.

Genuine la grippe can be told from a severe cold by a peculiar distressed feeling in the head, followed by pains in the cords of the neck down to the shoulder. The germs then are in the stomach, and if two tablespoonfuls of castor oil mixed with a teaspoonful of lemon juice is taken, the poisonous germs will be carried out of the system and the cure is accomplished. I have never known this to fail when taken within three days after the attack, although I have seen a person where the disease was so far advanced that he was delirious, yet cured within 24 hours and in a few days took his seat in the legislature, to which he had been elected. This was during the scourge about 15 years ago, when over a thousand died in Boston alone.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA GOES TO GREAT LENGTHS

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico.—Copies of the bulletins issued by the German prapaganda office in Mexico City and distributed by the branch office here, show the extent to which the Germans go to distort the news in the United States and the allied countries. A favorite trick of the German propagandists is to isolate a single news item and make it appear as typical of the record of events in the United States. The arrest of a New York editor on a charge of murder referred to as "the arrest of the editor of the president's organ for murdering his wife."

The failure of concrete ships is given in his bulletin as a fact and credits the absurd statement to Charles Schwab, "the well known steel king."

The bulletin denies that more submarines are sunk than are built and declares false the figures given out by the British government that 150 submarines had been sunk.

A strike purported to have occurred among the London policemen for higher salaries is given the place of importance at the top of the bulletin and minor crimes occurring in different parts of the United States are given exaggerated importance and especially those having to do with any law violations alleged to have been committed by soldiers.

The propaganda office has been closed here for 10 days because there has been nothing but allied news recently. Three German agents in charge of the office have disappeared and it is believed the place will not be reopened.

The Cochrane board of trade passed a resolution urging that the Ontario government proceed with the extension of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario railway to James Bay.

MAY MAKE BRIQUETTES FROM SAWDUST AND SHAVINGS

Sawdust bricks for fuel are receiving close attention at the forest products laboratory of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, Wis. The shortage of coal which threatens to inflict itself upon the country next winter has caused a revival of interest in the possibilities of successful briquetting sawdust and shavings so they will compete commercialy lwith other fuels and thus aid in the relief work which may become necessary. In the past such processes have been successful so far as heatink qualities were concerned but have been rather expensive, so at present there is no established industry of the sort in the United States.

ONTARIO LIBERAL BODY PRAISES SIR WILFRID

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 19—First steps toward a greater democratization of the Liberal party in Canada were taken here today when Liberls in the western section of Ontario organized the Western Ontario Liberal association, to be composed of delegates of the party associations of 31 electoral districts, west of Toronto.

The outstanding feature of the constitution is the provision for the appointment of an advisory committee. This committee is to be composed of the officers of the associations, the federal and provincial members and 62 members to be elected by delegates from each constituency. Over 200 delegates, two-thirds of whom were women, attended the organization meeting and expressed confidence in the leadership of Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who replied briefly.

Resolutions adopted were regarding the rights of soldiers and sailors, congratulating the survivors of the Canadian army and calling attention to the importance of industrial reconstruction.

The War Time Elections act was condemned in another resolution. The meeting also expressed abhorrence at government by order in council.

George S. Gibbons of London, was elected president of the association.

Ground at Corner of Stanley and Baker Changes Hands First Time in 26 Years

For the first time in 26 years the 50-foot lot on the northwest corner of Stanley and Baker streets has changed hands. It has been purchased by A. W. McCune, who closed the deal, which was a cash transaction, through D. StDenis yesterday.

The building on the site was erected in 1892 by Lieutenant-Governor F. S Barnard of British Columbia and John Andrew Mara of Kamloops. It was occupied for the first six years by the Bank of Montreal, for which it was built, and for the last 20 years it was used by the Canadian Pacific Railway company as freight, ticket and telegraph offices.

Mr. McCune intends to repair the building and for the present it will probably be rented for business offices. Later, if conditions warant, Mr. McCune has stated his intention of building a block on the site.

Owing to the fact that he has succeeded in reaching the general hospital it is not considered that his injuries will prove serious, as it is believed that most gas cases which prove fatal become shortly after the poison is inhaled.

Pte. D. Peters has carried on with the 102nd battalion as a runner and gained his honor for carrying despatches under shell fire.

International Prohibition Conference Opens at Columbus—British and Canadians Attend.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19.—Preliminary to business sessions, which commence tomorrow, delegates to the world wide prohibition conference meeting here today and tonight compared notes on the prospect of a dry world a few years hence and joined in a "ratification thanksgiving" over Ohio, Wyoming, Florida and Nevada voting dry at the recent election.

Among the delegates to arrive today were Canon Johnston of the Church of England, Birmingham, and William Bingham, London, England, representing the United Kingdom Temperance alliance, and Ben Spence of Toronto, secretary of the Dominion Temperance alliance, heading a party of other Canadian dry workers.

The foregoing delegates were conducted in the afternoon to Westerville, a Columbus suburb, to view the public houses of the National Anti-Saloon league and the league's general headquarters. Speakers at tonight's thanksgiving included Frederick Fosdick of Boston and former Governor Pattison of Tennessee.

Blyth's celebration came to a sad ending when Reeve N. A. Taylor, 50, was accidentally killed by the overturning of his automobile. He had been reeve for Morris township prior to moving to Blyth eight years ago.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Demonstrations by the German soldiers in Brussels on Sunday, Nov. 10, the day before the armistice with Germany was signed, are described in the Journal La Belgique, a newspaper published in Brussels, for four years under control of the German censorship, in its issue of Nov. 11.

Thousands of soldiers without arms gathered in front of the north station and formed a procession which marched through the north boulevard, carrying red and French flags. The populace, at first dumb with astonishment at the strange sight, cheered the soldiers carrying the tri-French colors and shouting "Hurrah for Belgium," "Hurrah for France." The procession halted at the palace of justice where a meeting was organized and a banner raised on which was inscribed:

"Comrades, do not fight any more; do not shoot."

A Belgian demonstration was then organized and the German soldiers joined with the Belgians in singing the Brabanconne and the Marsellaise. An automobile truck, carrying German marines and decorated with Belgian flags, appeared on the Grand Place, where one of the marines spoke in praise of the Belgian king. An automobile, in which were some German superior officers, was halted by soldiers who tore the equalettes from the officers' shoulders. The demonstration continued throughout the afternoon and evening.

FLOOD SWEEPS CITY OF QUEBEC

Flu Patients in Bed Menaced by Drowning—Escape in Boats—Livestock Washed Away.

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

QUEBEC, Nov. 19.—Additional damage which will increase that already done by thousands of dollars, was caused tonight when the flood tide rose much higher and swept over the streets in the lower section of the city, again flooding cellars and ground floors of large warehouses and wholesale firms. The northeasterly gale which raged with such fury last night had somewhat abated tonight. But for this the havoc caused would have been much more extensive.

In Dalhousie, St. Andrew and St. Peter's street rowboats were used to remove employees who had remained late at their offices.

It is estimated that the water rose four feet over the wharves and in the business s treets there,weretwo feet of water when the tide was at its height. Wooden sidewalks were raised and swept away while the streets were strewn with timbers which were torn from wharves as the waves rolled in. In Limoilu ward, which fronts on St. Charles river, the flood swept over second and third streets. A lot of live stock, comprising chiefly hogs and poultry, were drowned. In one home, where a young man was suffering from influenza, the water almost reached the patient in his bed before it began to recede. The water flooded the power house of the public service corporation and, as a result, the transformers which light the city streets could not be operated. A number of the streets were in darkness, while the street car service was interrupted.

MAY AVERT POLICE STRIKE AT WINNIPEG

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.—With the police commission having decided to meet a delegation from the executive of the policemen's union tomorrow afternoon to discuss the matters in dispute there is a possibility that the strike of Winnipeg's city police force may be avoided.

The policemen made application to the minister of labor for a board of conciliation to which the executive has received a reply that the department is ready to establish a board as soon as a resquest for such is received from the police commissioners. Ald. Frank O. Fowler, chairman of the committee whose deciding vote at last Friday's meeting caused that body to refuse recognition of the affiliation of the union with the trades and labor council, declared today that he would not change his mind. Union officials declared as emphatically a strike would be called to enforce their demands if the city did not accede to them. Labor leaders declared organized labor was behind the policemen's union.

In an effort to avert a strike, a committee of the board of trade has been appointed to negotiate with the parties in dispute and this morning conferred with Ald. Fowler. The representatives of the union have been invited to meet the committee, but no word has been received so far as to whether the meeting will take place.

HOCKEY PLAYERS MUST GIVE OLD TEAMS CHANCE

(By Daily News Leased Wire.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—President Calder of the National Hockey league has issued a warning to all players that signing contracts with outside clubs without first giving their old teams a chance to again engage their services, is a breach of law, as shown in the judgment given against Ernie Johnson, who broke his contract with E. J. Lichtenhein, a judgment which will keep him an exile until he fixes matters with Lichtenhein.
