COMMONS DISCUSS TAXATION

Business Profits War Tax Opposed as Discriminating Against Private Companies

OTTAWA, June 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Two of the government taxation bills were discussed at some length by the commons today. They were the business profits war tax, and the income tax act. The former after criticism, mainly contributed by Quebec members on the opposition side, passed through committee and was given third reading. The latter was left in committee.

Quebec members took the ground that the hydro-electric commission of Ontario should be subject to business profits tax. It was a discrimination against privately owned companies to exempt it, they said, especially as it was not giving the people light and power any cheaper than the private organizations. On the other side the argument was advanced that provincial or municipal institutions were not making profits for private gain. Surpluses earned were returned to the consumers.

Sir Henry Drayton said it was not merely a question of exempting the hydro-electric, but also the municipal enterprises all over the Dominion. The hydro-electric was giving service at cost and not for profit.

Income Taxes

J. A. Robb advocated doing away with the tax altogether on the ground that it was an injury to industry and the country. In connection with the income tax act, the minister of finance stated that provisions had been made for taxing incomes earned in Canada by nationals of other countries, notably of the United States. He felt that men who spent part of the year in Canada should be taxed for money they earned in this country. The taxation of investments made by citizens of the United Kingdom in Canada was being investigated by a royal commission.

Objection was taken to the clause providing that persons shall send in the amount of their tax with the declaration of their income. Jacques Bureau, Three Rivers, thought this provision unfair. The government should be responsible for billing the taxpayer. A comparatively short time at the evening sitting served to dispose of the amendments to the new bankruptcy act which woes into effect by proclamation on the first of next month. The house then went into committee on estimates of the Indian affairs department.

STATES' FARMERS PETITION WILSON

Notwithstanding Favorable Crop Report Say Nation's Food Supply Menaced

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Despite an improvement of 19,000,000 bushels in the winter crop during May, and an indicated spring crop 68,000,000 bushels greater than that of last year, the total wheat production for 1920 was estimated today by the department of agriculture at only 781,000,000 bushels, or 60,000,000 bushels less than the total for 1919.

Simultaneously with the department's announcement of its production forecast, a committee representing farmer organizations presented a memorial at the White House calling President Wilson's attention to what was described as the "critical situation existing on the farms and the resulting menace to the nation's food supply."

The wheat crop, the memorial said, was reported at 300,000,000 bushels short, and the late spring had seriously affected the corn crop. "World supplies are short," the memorial continued," and higher food prices seem inevitable. Bread lines and food riots are not beyond the possibilities of the next 12 months."

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8 (Associated Press).—Salii Ibrahim Effendi, a former naval officer, and other Nationalists, are being tried by court martial on the charge of having plotted to kill Damad Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier. It is alleged that intercepted letters showed that the suspects, who came from Angora, had been paid £5000 to commit the murder.

ITALIANS DISPATCH WARSHIPS

Assist Valona Garrison to Repel Albanian Insurgents Who Are Attacking

BRINDISI, Italy, June 8.—Several warships have left for Valona, Albania, to assist the Italian garrison against Albanian insurgents, who have begun a series of attacks in that territory. It is not believed the insurgents have heavy guns, but even if they have, the opinion is held here that they would not be able to successfully attack the entrenched camp.

On the night of June 5 an attack by the insurgents was repulsed by the Italians, who withdrew from the villages of Bostrova and Selitza with the object of concentrating their forces at Valona.

It is asserted that the Italian government has warned the governments at Athens and Belgrade not to help the insurgents.

WITHDRAW FROM FEDERATION

Amalgamated Iron, Steel and Tin Workers Will Accept No Compromise and Quit

MONTREAL, June 8.—The American Federation of Labor in its annual convention here today was asked to make, "Emphatic and earnest protest against the tactics" in congress which have resulted in postponing ratification of the peace treaty, in resolutions presented by delegates in support of the report of the federation's executive council.

The convention is also urged to warn the senate of the "Necessity of ratification without any reservation which would tend to injure the effectiveness of the covenant of the league of nations.

"In addition to labor's board interest in the treaty, from the viewpoint of American citizenship" the executive council has declared, "it has specific and definite interest in the labor section of the treaty." The council points out that American labor is deprived of representation in the international labor bureau a matter of "Vital importance," until the treaty is ratified.

Closer co-operation between the organized farmers and labor is also provided for in resolutions which will probably receive favorable action. These resolutions provide for the development of friendly, harmonious and co-operative relations with the great bona fide body of organized farmers."

These resolutions with more than 200 others, were being throughly considered today by the resolutions committee, which will probably make its report tomorrow.

While awaiting the resolutions report, the convention session was adjourned today after a brief session, at which the auditor's report and minor business matters were transacted. James Duncan, vice-president of the federation presided, in the absence of Samuel Gompers, who is in Chicago today to place before the Republican platform committee labor's demands upon that party.

The jurisdictional fight between the National committee for organizing iron and steel workers, and the Amalgamated Iron, Steel and Tin workers, promised today to become one of the big issues before the convention, when the Amalgamated officials announced that they would not accept any compromise and had withdrawn from the national committee for all time.

"We are through with the National committee for ever," said D. J. Davis, assistant president of the amalgamated, and cannot be forced back into their movement by the federation.

"We are ready for a fight on the convention floor and will welcome the opportunity to show our reasons for getting out of a movement which would have us violate our contracts, which we are honor bound to carry out."

The national committee will meet again tomorrow night to take further action toward having the federation condemn the amalgamated and compel it to rejoin the steel organizing movement or face suspension from the federation.

RICHARD MARPOLE DIES AT COAST

Veteran Officer of Canadian Pacific Railway Succumbs to Heart Trouble

VANCOUVER, June 8—Richard Marpole, Executive of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in British Columbia, died shortly afternoon today from heart trouble in his rooms at the Vancouver Hotel Annex. The late Mr. Marpole was born in Wales on October 8, 1850. In 1881 he became associated with the Canadian Pacific railway, first as contractor, and in 1882, he was appointed a member of the official staff, in the capacity of assisstant manager of construction on the Algoma branch, and the Nipissing division of the line. In 1886 he was transferred to the Pacific division, which office he held until 1907 when he was appointed to be general executive assistant for British Columbia. He was also vice-president of the Esquimault and Nanaimo railway.

The late Mr. Marpole was the first to prepare time tables upon the 24-hour system in America.

PRESBYTERIANS' EXTRA MILLION

Assembly Decides to Divide It Pro Rata on Causes Already Selected

OTTAWA June 8.—(Assembly)—A great question of principle was decided by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church this afternoon in the meeting in Chalmers Presbyterian church. The question arose in connection with the five million dollars collected by the forward movement in connection with the church.

It will be remembered that the objective of the church in financial drive was $4,000,000, and that before the drive was undertaken it was announced how the money would be spent. But owing to the generosity of the Presbyterian people five million dollars was subscribed, and the question arose as to whether the million surplus would be divided pro rata amongst the causes announced as participants in the four million fund, or whether the assembly had power to spend the extra million in good works according to the needs of the church.

The matter came up several times, and was finally referred to a committee. This afternoon the committee brought in a recommendation that the extra million would be divided amongst the causes provided for in the four million drive in ratio to the amount these causes were already to receive.

The decision was practically unanimous, although before the committee reported there were many solutions as to how the extra million should be spent.

Two of the institutions which hoped to participate in the benefits—in fact the question first came up in regard to these institutions—were the Ottawa Ladies college to the extent of $25,000, and the Westminster college of the west, to the extent of $75,000.

The committee recommended that, in view of the increased cost of living, a bonus of $100 be granted to all widows on fund.

Rev. Mr. Falconer made a strong appeal to all ministers to join the fund. A young man, he said, who did not take the precaution to make provision for his wife, should not be allowed to carry one around.

He also referred to the joining of the east and west pensions funds, but he criticized the fact that there were no easterners on the committee.

Rev. Dr. Campbell spoke for ministers' widows and orphans fund reports, which were adopted.

Rev. A. T. Love, ex-D.D. of Quebec, made an appeal for the teaching of both languages, French and English, to the youth of Canada. The church was now looking for a Protestant French inspector in connection with its French schools.

The report of the board of Sabbath schools and young people's societies was presented by Rev. W. J. Knox, of London. He stated the Protestant churches of Canada were not facing with frankness and candor the question of training the

BOLSHEVIK BRING UP CAVALRY

POLES CAPTURE WAR MATERIAL

Take Eight Hundred Prisoners and Enormous Quantity of Booty

WARSAW, June 8. — The Bolsheviki brought up an infantry division and 16,000 cavalry in an attempt to break through the Polish front between the Dnieper and Dniester, after they had been checked on the Dvina and Beresina, according to an official statement on the fighting yesterday. During Sunday's attack on Glubokoi, 85 miles north of Minsk, the Poles took 800 prisoners, and captured an enormous quantity of war materials.

GERMAN ELECTIONS PROCEEDING

Small Majority Is Expected for Coalition But Mandates Equally Divided

BERLIN, June 8.—Unofficial returns from 31 districts for 380 mandates, are about equally divided between the present Coalition government and the Right and Left opposition. It is generally believed that the allotment of the overflow votes to the general list will give the Coalition enough mandates to secure it a small majority.

The parliamentary leaders and press comment agree that the elections are inconclusive and that parliamentary chaos is inevitable in view of the awkward party line up.

DISCONTINUE WELSH GUARDS

Irish Guards Will Be Retained in Economic Scheme of War Department

LONDON, June 8 (Canadian Associated Press).—The Labor party, who are strong advocates of the war fortunes levy, interposed with a motion in the commons today favoring such taxation notwithstanding the Chancellor of the exchequer's statement of the previous day that he had abandoned the proposal. The motion was, as anticipated, somewhat summarily rejected.

Answering questions, Winston Churchill, the secretary for war, said that the economic scheme respecting the guards, had contemplated the discontinuance of the Welsh Guards as a regiment, but not the Irish Guards. The return to pre-war uniforms would be spread over a period of four or five years. There would be no scrapping of large quantities of khaki.

AIR LEAGUE TO EDUCATE PUBLIC

General Seely Says Aviation at Full Stop in Private Industry

LONDON, July 8.—The Air league of the British Empire, which is to educate public opinion concerning the importance of air power, was inaugurated at the Mansion House today, when Gen. Seely said that in 1918, "We were incomparably the best equipped in the air of all nations," but that today the position was indeed serious. The state had practically gone out of business, and private industry was at a full stop, whereas in Germany 18 large firms were preparing for the rapid development of aviation.

"Our navy," he said, "was not getting air equipment necessary for the efficiency of the national defences, and was suffering from sloppy control, there being no coordination between the army, navy and air services.

PREDICTS INCREASE OF FREIGHT RATES

Traffic Expert of Manufacturer's Association Gives Reasons for Expected Rise

VANCOUVER, June 8—An increase in freight rates of which some idea might be gained by freight rate increases in the United States, is predicted for Canada by S. B. Brown, of Toronto, assistant manager of the transportation department of the Canadian Manufacturers association. Mr. Brown is in Vancouver to attend the convention of the association.

"The $33,000,000 deficit of the Canadian National railways during the past fiscal year may be considered the biggest single agency liable to bring about an increase," said Mr. Brown, "but another and not so generally known is that the C. P. R., the king among railroads as far as efficiency is concerned, boasted a net surplus of about $840,000 in the past year's operation.

"This is in the opinion of transportation man far too small. The C. P. R.'s proportion of operation expenses to revenue ran somewhere in the neighborhood of 85 cents to the dollar, when American railway economists insist that 70 cents to the dollar is getting to the danger point. So, when the superior organization of the C.P.R. compared to the average American road at the present time is considered it is clear that the C.P.R. will also be forced to look for an increase in rates."

Asked as to the probable increase to be asked for Mr. Brown was cautious.

"The American roads applied for an increase of from 26 to 30 per cent, which, according to their financial statements, seems justified, but I scarcely think that when the Canadian roads ask for their increase they will expect that much, although it is declared that 50 per cent ore revenue would hardly place the government roads on the right side of the ledger, even counting the G. T. P. as a colonization road and not os a commercial proposition.

"As to when the application will be made, I do not know. In the East it is expected soon."

Mr. Brown is an expert traffic man and before being engaged by the Canadian Manufacturers Association to untangle freight rate cases, was connected with the traffic departments of Canadian railways for several years.

APOLOGISE FOR FLAG BURNING

No Law Under Which Irish Women Participaters Can Be Prosecuted

WASHINGTON, June 8.—A report on the burning of a British flag by Irish women in front of the United States treasury building last week, was made today by the police to the District of Columbia commissioners, who will forward it to Secretary of State Colby, of the state department. Accompanying the report are six photographs taken from the time the women arrived at the treasury building until the flag was burned.

The report is understood to name the women who participated in the incident, and to set forth that the police were told by the federal district attorney that no law under which the women could be prosecuted could be found. Secretary Colby already has made a verbal apology to the British Ambassador for the action of the women, and a formal apology is expected to follow the receipt of the report from the district commissioners.

EXCITEMENT IN CHICAGO INTENSE ON CONVENTION REPUBLICAN NOMINATION

Lodge, Wood and Lowden Parties Cheer Candidates on Eve of Selection; All Rally to Call of Sweep the Wilson Dynasty Out of Power; Flag Waving and Cheers from Great Audience Greet Lodge Who Thrusts Sharply at Wilson Administration; Old Party Leaders Favor Lowden; Wood Supporters Claim Victory on Selection of Committee Chairmen

CHICAGO, June 8.—Speeding up of the business of the Republican national convention was assumed tonight, when the temporary organization of the convention was practically made permanent and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, named permanent chairman. The convention will be asked to approve this selection of the committee on the parent organization tomorrow morning, and there was no indication tonight of a contest.

The convention demonstrated at its opening of the two-hour session today that if it lacked leadership, it would not lack harmony, for the preliminaries, at least. Most of the session was taken up with the keynote speech of Senator Lodge, temporary chairman. From the moment that National Chairman Hayes stepped out on the speaker's platform and called the assembly to order, until adjournment time, the onlooker might have though that all was over, but the shouting. There were no calls for favorites. No protests against the plans announced for the convention preliminaries, and all joined in shouting approval of Senator Lodge's call to the Republican party to rise up and sweep the "Wilson dynasty" out of power. Old-timers however, found the meeting tame. Observers felt that some of the factions were skating on thin ice. Today might have been the calm before the storm. Half an hour late in starting, the convention jumped into its work quickly.

The national chairman was received with a roar of cheers from the delegates, and then there was reverent silence while the chaplain pronounced the opening prayer. There was a roar of approval from the delegates when Chairman Hayes declared that the Republican party had met in free and open convention "to accept from the people a mandate of the government of the United States.

A second outburst followed quickly when he shouted that "There will be no bolt of this convention." The appearance of Senator Lodge, introduced as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of the United States, was the signal for the first real demonstration of the day. Delegates on the floor and crowds in the galleries stood cheering and waving flags, as the senator made his way to the platform. For an hour and a half he held the attention of the great audience and brought forth cheering by sharp thrusts at all the policies of the Wilson administration.

Wood Supporters Jubilant

The forces of Major General Leonard Wood are jubilant tonight, although the trend of the talk among old party leaders is toward Governor Lowden, of Illinois. The Wood men claim that they won a victory in the principal business transacted at the opening of the Republican national convention today.

Instructed Wood delegates won the two most important committee chairmanships, Senator Watson of Indiana, for resolutions, and Edward Duffield, of New Jersey, for credentials. Frank H. Hitchcock has been designated supreme strategist of the Wood army.

Lowden Favored

But it was clear that the drift of the gossip favored Lowden tonight. Old time party leaders, who had taken part in former conventions, kept the Lowden boom alive but it was known to themselves alone whether this was intended to affect delegates who are opposed to Wood or Johnson, or whether it was sincerely meant.

With less than half the delegates instructed, the sponsors of Lowden advocate a rapid succession of ballots to produce a cracking of the instructed support for Wood and Johnson. It is not made clear why they profess not to fear a cracking of Lowden support as well.

One reason behind the willingness of the Lowden advocates to take all the risks incidental to efforts to upset instructions, is said to be that the supporters of Lowden would be satisfied with any conservative who can be nominated and have a harmonious party behind him, whether it be Harding, Sproule, Knox, Coolidge, Hughes or one whose name has not yet figured prominently.

After the keynote speech ended, the usual announcements were made and organizations resolution passed. Then, on motion of Governor Beckman, of Rhode Island, the convention adjourned until 11 a.m. tomorrow.

TORONTO, June 8.—Where is John Doughty, former private secretary of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatical owner, of this city, who has been missing since December 2, 1919, on which date he received and deposited a check for $1,000,000 in connection with the sale of his theatrical interests for $1,750,000 to Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd.?

Mrs. Ambrose J. Small and the Capital Trust Corporation, of Ottawa, who have been given control of Small's estate by the court, hoping for some knowledge as to what has become of Mr. Small, have decided that the question of Mr. Doughty whereabouts must be answered if possible. Doughty was seen in Toronto on December 28, 1919.

Efforts to find Doughty are being made.

MARSHAL HAIG SPEAKS PLAINLY

Says Union Obstinacy Denies Work to Soldiers Who Fought for Principles

LONDON, June 8.(Canadian Associated Press.)—Marshal Haig made another outspoken address concerning the attitude of the trades unions towards ex-soldiers at today's meeting of the National association for the employment of ex-soldiers, declaring that through the bostinacy of some of the unions, thousands of these men who fought for the principles and the very existence of trade unionism, were denied work. The marshal added that no body asked the trade unions to abandoned their principles, but he did ask the unions and the employers to endeavor, even at the risk of some sacrifice, to meet exceptional circumstances by exceptional action.

EMPIRE NAVAL COOPERATION

Admiral Beatty Says Dominion Navies Integral Part of Imperial Defense

LONDON, JJune 8.(Canadian Press) —Earl Beatty, speaking at the Western Australian dinner here, said that the first most important lesson of the war, was that Dominion naval co-operation must form an integral part of Imperial naval defense. The royal Australian navy was an excellent example of the form co-operation can take. It had been accepted that the co-operation by dominion navies manned by Dominion men and based upon Dominion ports, will be the most useful way fostering, as it will, that national pride in naval affairs, and a knowledge of naval history, with which the empire is so intimately connected. He, therefore, asks all members of the empire to put away parochial views, and look at the problem as a whole, realizing that if disaster befell this unit, it affected the whole empire.

Sir John Connolly, Western Australian agent general said he was afraid that some departments working on overseas settlement were inclined to regard the governments of the empire as recruiting agents robbing them of their people. They ought to remember that they were sovereign governments, each entitled to regard itself as a center of the whole.

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with falling of my organs, pains around my heart and in bowels and down my legs, neuralgia in my face and head, and that terrible sinking feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the druggist to get the best remedy he had and he gave him Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend the Vegetable Compound, and you can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. CHURCH, Box 845, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

If there are any complications about which you need advice write in confidence to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

HOW AMERICAN WOMEN MAY KEEP FACES YOUNG

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F.C.I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles.

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has mercolized wax; one ounce usually is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

Gifts to Women Who Use Jiffy Jell

Jiffy-Jell users should write to the makers for a list of aluminum molds. Molds, spoons and measuring cups are supplied to users free.

Jiffy-Jell is the one dessert which has the fruit flavors in vials. A bottle of condensed fruit-juice essence comes in the package. So a Jiffy-Jell dessert is a real-fruit dainty. The flavor is not artificial. The sweetening is sugar, not saccharine. Women who once try it will always get it. Your grocer has ten flavors. Try pineapple and loganberry first.

ALBERTA SABBATH ALARMS METHODISTS

EDMONTON, June 8.—Increasing tendency on the part of Alberta people to devote the hours of the Lord's Day to recreation during the summer months, was viewed with grave alarm, and regarded as a serious menace to the moral and spiritual life of the nation, at the Methodist conference this afternoon.

Although agricultural operations were delayed by the late spring, it was felt that there was no justification for the widespread farming operation on Sunday, and belief was expressed that this practice could be checked and practically eliminated if the provincial police were more active. It was also urged that the attorney- general prosecute all such offenders.

Attention was called to the fact that in the cities and towns, aliens are permitted to carry on petty trading on Sunday, in some cases with apparent impunity. The conference urged that the subject of the observance of the Lord's Day be the theme of frequent discourses from the pulpit. A resolution deprecating the reintroduction of race track gambling at the coming summer fairs, was passed, and the Alberta board was instructed to communicate the protest to all exhibition associations.

CANADIAN SENTENCED

LONDON, June 8. (Canadian Associated Press)—James A. Burton, Sinclair; formerly a private in the Canadian pay corps, was today sentenced to 15 months on a charge of false pretenses. Some years ago Sinclair immigrated to Canada where he studied for the ministry. He was rejected and enlisted in the Canadian corps, but never went out of England. Subsequently he held several temporary ministries and displayed himself in a captain's uniform, covered with decorations. He became president of the Lancashire federation of discharged soldiers. The judge in sentencing Sinclair said that he had besmirched the Canadian corps.

YUKON CELEBRITY RETIRES

DAWSON, June 7.—Word comes from Fort McPherson, on the Arctic coast, of the retirement of John Firth, famous factor of the old Hudson's Bay company's post at that point, said to be the most northerly station operated by the company.

Probably every trader, trapper and whaler along the Arctic coast knows Firth. His son-in-low, Jack Parsons, has succeeded him as factor. The old factor will spend his remaining years in a home built for him at the fort.

LETHBRIDGE POLICE ARE SABBATARIANS

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 7.—Considerable protest is being voiced by farmers in certain districts in being interfered with by the provincial police in asking them to desist from working on the land on Sundays. The farmers claim they are obliged to work Sundays on account of the late season so as to make up for the lost time which the weather occasioned. The action of the police, it is said, is the result of complaints made by the Lord's Day Alliance of the province.

Faint and Dizzy Spells

Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

CANADIANS CAN FACE FUTURE WITH OPTIMISTIC SPIRIT

Addressing the Canadian Club in Toronto, took as his subject, "The Situation and the Outlook in Canada," and dealt with this comprehensive text in an illuminating review.

Discussing the immediate situation Sir John pointed out that before the war the annual expenditure was between $170,000,000 and $175,000,000. In the future we shall require to raise annualy between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000. The main estimates for this year, exclusive of the allowances for demoblization, total $500,000,000. Probably the supplementary estimates will increase the amount by at least $1,000,000. The revenue is estimated at $365,000,000. The deficit on the National Railways is $47,000,000 and if one may predict, without suggesting an attack upon railway nationalization—for many reasons explain the decision of the Government to acquire and operate a great railway system,—the annual deficits upon the national railways for some years to come, will run from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. And these deficts must be provided by taxation or by higher freight and passenger charges.

Debt is $2,000,000,000

Before the war the public debt was $336,000,000. It is now nearly $2,000,000,000. In 1914 the debt per capita was $43.49. It is now $215.

By the fall of exchange the value of Canadian purchases in the United States is increased by between $75-000,000 and $100,000,000. Besides the direct discount on the dollar the higher charges for transportation on American railways and the retailer's profit are added in Canada. Prices are also increased of many products for which there is a keen export demand and upon which the dealer in this country profits by the difference in value between the American and the Canadian dollar.

These are the obligations which lie upon nine million people, which cannot be evaded and which can be carried only be economy, by industry and by production. The load is heavy but is not far beyond our strength, and if we have faith and vision and if the resources of Canada are conserved and developed primarily in the interests of the Canadian people.

Economist Poor Prophets

At Ottawa a few weeks ago a political economist declared that Canada was bankrupt. The other day a professor from Montreal in an address at Toronto suggested that we had exhausted our natural resources. But that is not the temper of Montreal or Ottawa nor is that the conviction of Canada. Just as a reporter has a "nose of news" so an economist has a nose for bankruptcy. Over and over again the economists have ruined Great Britain. They declared the United States insolvent after the Civil War. They had France in bankruptcy after the war of 1870. So one recalls a sentence from the book "If the the thing happen not nor come to pass the prophet prophesieth it presumptuously; thou shalt not be afraid of him."

An economist, like public man out of office, is a natural incurable pessimist.

The war has made me an optomist for Canada and an optomist is stimulated by any comprehensive survey of the achievements and resources of the country.

Resources are Tremendous

If the national debt is $200 per head the national wealth is estimated at $2,000 per head. It is idle to say that our resources are exhausted. The truth is that they are undiscovered.

In 1918 the value of minerals produced in Canada was $211,401,879 and for 1919 the estimate is $167,-000,000. At Poscupine last year $7,-000,000 of gold was extracted and the reserves are said to contain over $41,000,000. The Klondike produced gold to the value of $175,000,000. The total production of silver at Cobalt is put at $181,570,561. The mines at Sudbury have yielded metals to the value of $200,000,000 and in 1918 the production was $37,000,-000. Coal was produced in Canada in 1918 to the value of $55,129,896

Professor Colman of the University of Toronto, states that the well explored areas of Canada from only a fringe along the St. Lawrence and the southern boundary of the country and that we have only begun to develop the mineral wealth of a territory covering more than 3,000,-000 square miles.

"The last 25 years," he says, "have seen the discovery of the Yukon placers, the Cobalt silver and the Porcu pine gold region, the operation of the Creighton nickel mine much the greatest in the world, and the opening in the world, and the opening up of the greatest coalfields in Alberta."

WELL, LOOW WHOSE SISTER SHE IS

The editor's sister, who is the assistant in their mother's drug store at Drinkwater, figured in a daring daylight holdup attempted yesterday, when a man dressed in laborer's clothes, pointed a gun at her and told her to hold up her hands, as she went to the till to change a five dollar bill for him. Instead of doing as she was bid she told the man he had better put down the gun and get out, which he did. He was later arrested at the C.P.R. station and taken to Moose Jaw to face the charge which will be preferred against him by the police.—Milestone, Sask., Mail.

RAILS SLUMP ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 8.—Business on the stock exchange today was again very superficial and almost entirely professional. The financial considerations were overshadowed by the greater interest manifested in the course of political events at Chicago.

The only untoward development of the session was the news that dividends on the common and preferred shares of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, an integral part of the Vanderbilt system, had been cut. After an unbroken record of 18 years at seven per cent, the common stock was reduced to a five per cent basis, while the preferred, with a similar record, was cut from eight to seven per cent. An unofficial announcement because of existing uncertain transportation conditions. Chicago Northwestern common, ordinarily one of the most inactive issues in the railway list, suffered an extreme decline of 10½ points to 70½ on very heavy offerings, and closed at a net decline of 87⅞, while the preferred dropped 10 points to 103 on a single sale.

Rails, as a group, notably Reading, a junior issue of the western and southern western territories, which had showed marked strength during the early and intermediate periods, broke sharply, the reaction extending to industrials and specialties. Almost the only issues to withstand the latter pressure, which was heightened by call money's advance to 10 per cent, were some of the oils and equipments. There were moderate recoveries before the close, however, when money eased to eight per cent. Sales amounted to 375,000 shares.

Yet another advance in Anglo-France five to a new high quotation for the present movement, was the feature of the bond market.

Liberty bonds were irregular, as were also most other domestic issues.

Total sales, par value $15,775,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

Atlantic Sugar, while not making the sensational gains of the previous day, moved up in both issues, the common by 7½, and the preferred by 3½. Further advances were made by the merger stocks, especially by Dominion Steel, which had a strong rally through a good part of the day and ended at 67¼, with a 2¼ point gain. In the morning it sold at 68. The day's turnover was 640 shares. Steamships common gained ¾ and the preferred one point. Nova Scotia steel was unchanged in bid at 62. North Star preferred scored a gain of 15 points to 375.

STATES WATCHING KOOTENAY MINES

Investors and Engineers from Across the Line Anxious for Mining Convention

L. K. Armstrong, secretary of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers, Spokane, is on a tour of inspection of Ainsworth properties. Interviewed yesterday, Mr. Armstrong said he was glad the mining convention was to be in July, as a number of engineers and inventors from over the border intended to be present, and the season would be more favorable for a subsequent examination of properties.

"I am convinced the Kootenay is in the eve of a mining revival," said Mr. Armstrong, "and the Nelson convention is an event mining men are looking forward to with particular interest this year. The Seattle Convention made a big stir, and in consequence more interest is concentrated on Kootenay developments than most people think."

FORMER BALFOUR RANCHER INVENTS TURPENTINE EXTRACTION PROCESS

Mr. Oliver Obtains Resin Leases and His Company Will Operate on Wholesale Scale; States Industry Will Be Leading One of British Columbia

A former resident of Balfour, E. S. Oliver, has secured from the provincial government large resin leases, and his company will extract resin, which is the base of turpentine, in wholesale quantities by tapping the trees by means of tubes. Mr. Oliver, while at Balfour, was joint owner of the Oliver & Edmonson ranch.

The remarkable story of Mr. Oliver, his invention, and his claims that the turpentine industry will become the great industry of this province, is told in a recent issue of the Vancouver Sun by J. S. Cowper, M.P.P., The following is the article in full:

"Every year there are enough wood products going to waste in British Columbia to equal in value the whole of the returns from the mines and fisheries of the province." This was the startling statement of E. S. Oliver, an industrial chemist and specialist on wood products, who, for the past 18 years, has given himself up to the study of how to get the maximum extraction of turpentine, resins, pitches, tars and the hundreds of chemical by-products of tree resin, without injury to the growing tree.

In that time Mr. Oliver, who came to this province originally as industrial adviser to Earl Grey, has been all over America and Europe pursuing his investigation. He has been in the forests of Russia, Sweden, France, Germany, and the Mediterranean countries, worked as a forest laborer in the Bavarian state forests and in France. On this continent he has worked and studied all the way from British Columbia, through the forests of the southern states, and thence down through Mexico and through Central America to Colombia.

Greatest Potential Source

After all this travel and research, Mr. Oliver admits that he learned more from book and laboratory research in the city of London, and that the province of British Columbia is the greatest potential source of turpentine and resin chemicals in the whole world.

"The turpentine and resin by-products industry in this province will be the greatest industry of the province," he calmly asserts. What is more to the point, Mr. Oliver is at the present moment actively engaged in demonstrating the truth of his assertions.

Early in the last legislative session Mr. Oliver and his business associates were instrumental in securing an amendment to the Forest act, whereby the provincial government can lease "resin leases" and collect a royalty of three-quarters of a cent a gallon on all resin collected therein, in addition to the rentals and fees to be paid to the forest fire protection fund. The amendment was only allowed after demonstrations and reports from forestry officials to the effect that the tapping of the tree resin does no injury to the growing tree.

Secure Many Leases

In addition to the large number of resin leases which Mr. Oliver's company has secured from the government, a greater area has been leased on a royalty and labor basis from settlers up the coast, who see in the collecting business the hope of treating rocky tree grown pre-emptions as if they were orchards bearing a profitable crop all the year round. In fact Mr. Oliver asserts that a rocky area growing Douglas fir for resin purposes is just as valuable as orchard property.

Numbers of pre-emptors up the coast are now engaged at work at $5 a day and with the promise of royalty of $1 a barrel in addition on all the tree resin they can collect, after being instructed in the special methods employed by Mr. Oliver and supplied with the patented tap channels and airtight vacuum flasks which are a feature of the process.

Queen Wrote Instructions

Some of the interesting history of this new and promising industry was revealed this week by Mr. Oliver, who pointed out that the very first ship which came to the shores of America from England bore instructions written in the hand of Queen Elizabeth herself as to the method to be employed in securing tree resin.

"And," he added, "curiously enough, on this continent the very same methods are still followed. It is an industry which has shown no improvements in its methods of collecting resin."

Trading With Russia

Great Britain, in discussing trade matters with a representative of the Russian government, does no more express approval of Bolshevism than it endorses Turkish atrocities in Armenia by discussing peace terms with Turkish envoys, or, as Lloyd George suggests, approve cannibalism because it sells gaudy cottons to greasy chiefs of South Pacific island tribes.

If the people of the British Empire had to approve of the politics, customs and morals of other nations before they would trade with them, this great empire would very soon have little trade to boast of—and if other nations applied a similar test before trading with us, no doubt they would find much in our methods to arouse their disapproval.

Every nation has its own characteristics and customs, and if these were a bar to commercial intercourse world commerce would perish. But world commerce cannot be permitted to perish. No nation can live without it. Hence the doctrine of trading only with nations whose national politics and customs we approve is impractical.

Trading with Russia will help that country to regain its senses. The fact that the soviet government finds international trade, on the so-called "capitalistic" basis, necessary is one of the evidences of the growing realization in Russia that the Bolshevik theory is fundamentally wrong as well as unworkable.

Enemies of Their Own Countries

When a nation is at war with another, the patriotic attitude of the good citizen is warlike. When a nation is at peace with another, the patriotic attitude of the good citizen is peaceful, says the Montreal Star, in reference to unfriendly statements which are frequently made and unworthy supicions entertained by members of the various allied nations against each other.

The offering of insults by the citizens of any country to a country with which their nation is at peace lowers the standard of patriotism in their own homeland. The offenders, by their conduct, proclaim themselves of doubtful status as citizens. Their disregard of respect due a friendly flag offers insult to their own flag. Their practices make for a lack of discipline and order in national thinking and organization, fraught with much more danger to their own country's welfare than their words can ever inflict upon a foreign power.

The question raised by press propaganda directed against a friendly nation is not an international so much as it is a domestic problem. The weakness displayed is in the nation which permits a noisy discord to insinuate itself into the place where true patriotism is harmonious, and harmonious in the best interests of national welfare.

When the allied armies went into battle, the soldier who shot at the representatives of an allied nation would properly have been treated as an enemy of his own flag. No nation in time of peace is any stronger than the discipline which makes its full weight of patriotism readily responsive to national leadership. Respect for friends is self-respect.

Violating Places Which Decent People Hold Sacred

The behavior of certain tourists of all nationalities visiting the battlefields in France has drawn a fine protest from the French general in command in Alsace. He says:

"It has been brought to my notice that certain persons have recently indulged in dancing on the summit of Hartmenns-Weillerkopf. Those who permitted or took part in such an insult to the dead are no doubt ignorant that there over 2000 Frenchmen were killed and lie buried and that besides them over 3000 Germans died, the first that Alsace might be given back to France, the second that it should remain German. This ground, so drenched with noble blood, is a place where tears should fall and heads be uncovered and not a place for thoughtless people. It is a place of pilgrimage, not pleasure."

There are thousands of bereaved fathers and mothers in Canada whose hearts will be wrung by that protest. That the battlefields—Ypres, Vimy, Passchandaele, Cambrai—on which their sons sacrificed their all should so soon become the operating grounds of thoughtless joy-riders is unthinkable. The indignation expressed in Paris will be endorsed everywhere.

elements have become oxydized by contact with the air, it was not possible to procure more than 17½ per cent bulk of turpentine. In Canada the highest production in any of the eastern plants was 15½ per cent. Under Mr. Oliver's tests, the lowest he has yet received was 33 per cent, or one per cent higher than in Germany, where the resin by-products industry has been developed to an art.

An Airtight Flask

Without disclosing any of the secrets of the process, it may be said that Mr. Oliver achieves his results by boring a very small hole into the tree trunk and hermetically sealing it to an airtight flask. In this way, instead of injury being done to the timber, the growth of the tree in aided. The resin being in the nature of fecal matter which the tree is seeking to rid itself of, the quality of the timber and the rapidity of its growth is aided, the small drain holes not affecting the efforts of the tree to send up sap and build up new cells.

Tree resin, which first became famous in the days when Venice was being built on the piles from larches which grew along the Mediterranean, gave its name to Venice turpentine, which was obtained from the larches which grew along the shores of the northern Adriatic.

The theory worked out by Mr. Oliver to explain why larches and pines send out resin is that the pines and conifers are the survivors of a cold epoch which swept over the northern hemisphere. The only way in which the germ of life in the tree cell could endure was by the tree evolving a non-freezable and non-swelling substance to enwrap and protect the cells. Such a substance is turpentine, which forms a large element in tree resin.

Surplus of Resin

"With a return of warmth," says Mr. Oliver, "these trees now find themselves with a surplus of resin for which they no longer have any use. The tree is always seeking to rid itself of the substance by discharging through the roots into the ground, and by forming abscesses in the tree trunk which grow with the tree as it sways and strains with the wind pressure. When the tree trunk is scarified or the bark injured the resin will come oozing out in its efforts for an outlet."

The Emperor Constantine is the parent of the resin industry, says Mr. Oliver, having had his foresters experiment with conifers by pruning to develop growth after ruminating on the way in which pruning had developed his fruit orchards. From the early resins thus obtained early chemists distilled the famous turpentines and oils which have made possible the art treasures of the Middle Ages.

Pointing out that Quebec and Ontario wood product plants last year, distilling chiefly alcohols, had produced $8,000,000 worth of products, Mr. Oliver pointed to the samples of valuable products which he has obtained as a result of his experiments with the high-grade resins from the British Columbia Douglas fir.

Makes Finest Varnishes

These include not only turpentine of the Venice standard and fir oils, which form the base of "fruit" extracts used at soda fountains, medical oils, etc., but also resins of very high grade, which make the finest varnishes.

Printing inks are also made from the resin. One of the most interesting samples is that of Burgundy pitch. Burgundy pitch has nothing in common with the stuff that Ethiopians splash on tarred roofs. Instead of being "pitch" black, it is snowy white. Its greatest value is as a white ink for use in lithographic work. From the resin comes also all colors of coal tar dyes, the proof of this being in the white emulsion of Burgundy pitch, white being a compound of all colors in the rainbow.

"The greatest satisfaction," says Mr. Oliver, who is a natural economist and man of research, "is that the industry will be a constructive one instead of a destructive one as practised in the southern pine forests of United States. Every tree, no matter how small or how illshapen, so long as it is healthy, can be made revenue producing. It will help the lumber industry, and itself become the greatest single industry in the province."

SEARCH OUTSIDE FOR CANDIDATES

WINNIPEG, Man., June 8.—The record of the government's administration is the real issue in the forthcoming provincial elections, R. A. C. Manning, chairman of the Conservative association general campaign committee, declared in an interview the Winnipeg Telegram.

"The Liberals have always right from the commencement in Manitoba tried to make the schools a public football," Mr. Manning said in regard to the educational policy of the government. "The Conservatives have never done that. They believe that the education of the children should not be made a political issue in any manner and they do not propose to change the public laws so far as they relate to the teaching of English and compulsory attendance.

"The real issue today is the record of the active administration of the Norris government. Whether they have conducted it in an economical manner or not, We say they have not. We say they have conducted the administration of this province extravagently."

The Liberals have nominated men for representation in constituencies in which they do not reside, Mr. Manning said. "The Conservatives only nominate men who reside in the constituency." He instanced the nomination of J. W. Arnenych, Ruthenian, residing in Winnipeg, to carry the Liberal flag for Fisher and of T. D. Farley, Winnipeg, to represent the government for Gimli.

Disfranchisement of hundreds of voters will be the result if the election is in the middle of the week, Mr. Manning opined. He believed that Monday is the best date for it as the weekend will give voters an opportunity to reaching the polling station and many of them would not vote if forced to remain from working during the middle of the week.

WANT GUARANTEES FOR FLIN FLON RAIL

THE PAS, Man., June 8.—Before the province of Manitoba will undertake to build a railway from The Pas to Flin Flon, a distance of about 80 miles, certain conditions must be met," decdared Hon. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer, addressing a meeting of his constituents here recently. "It was not enough " he said, "to have the guarantee of a joint stock company that aperations would be conducted at Flin Flon, but a personal guarantee of the responsible men behind it would have to be made before the province would act.

"Further a guarantee must be given that the erection of a 2000 ton customs smelter, to treat the ores of the small miner as well, would be undertaken."

Mr. Brown declared that the Canadian National Railway must agree to lease the road. "If these conditions were accepted," he said, "there could be no reasonable excuse for the government failing to construct the road when a request is made by the Flin Flon syndicate."

It is expected that the syndicate will come to a decision about the railway early in September next.

What You Will Be Tomorrow Depends Upon What You Do For Your Health Today—

You Must Keep Your Blood Filled With Iron To Stand the Strain of Modern Day Life Says Physician—Explains How

Nuxated Iron Helps Build Red Blood

Strength and Endurance

Have you ever stopped to look yourself squarely in the face? Are you getting anywhere? — or just drifting—a little weaker, a little more nervous, a little more run-down every day? Nothing slips away so easily as HEALTH. Unless YOU hold fast to HEALTH by your own efforts—by keeping your blood pure, red and rich in iron—the day may come when all you can do is WISH you had acted sooner. Physicians explain below how to help make rich, red blood and increase strength, power and endurance, through the health-giving, strength-building power of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is now being used by over three million people annually.

"Success is in the blood," says Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of the City of New York. "There are men whom fate can never keep down. They triumph over difficulties and ill-fortune because they have within them the never-failing source of courage, confidence and power—pure, red blood, rich in stamina-building iron. Where others hesitate and stumble, these men march forward with a firm step and take the best prizes of life. Their brains are keenly alive, their bodies are fortified with the strength and energy that enables them to take and keep the best the world has to offer. But in the rush and tear of modern day life, many a man and woman neglects to keep their blood filled with strength-building iron and as a result they find themselves on the verge of a physical and nervous breakdown at a time when they should be enjoying their best years. In my opinion, physicians cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity of keeping the blood pure and red with plenty of iron, and I believe they should at every opportunity prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for in my experience it is one of the best tonic and red blood builders known to medical science."

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, in commenting upon the foregoing statement, says: "Every keen, active successful man and woman of today recognizes that a sound, strong body is the basis of all real achievement and they leave no stone unturned to safeguard their health. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. I strongly advise every man who is fagged out by worry, work and other strains to build up his strength, energy and endurance by taking some form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for I consider it one of the foremost blood and body builders, the best to which I have ever had recourse."

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped as follows: N and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped into each bottle, so that the public may not be led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists in tablet form only.

Mr. Dilley and two daughters survive her. The funeral was a very large one, and was conducted by Mr. Atkinson, Episcopal student.

Church Union Movement

OTTAWA, June 8.—The question of organic union between Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists brought out a lively discussion in the Presbyterian assembly at its meeting tonight. The debate hinged upon when the war ended. In a resolution passed in the 1917 assembly, the vexed question of church union was put over until two years after the war. Rev. Hyslop Dickson, Alexander, Man., maintained that the war was over in 1918 and that the question had been presented to the 1920 assembly in such a manner that it could be definitely disposed of.

He said that the west would not be satisfied with the recommendation presented to the assembly last night, which simply provided that the committee on church union be reelected. He moved an amendment that the resolution go further, and instruct the committee to meet committees of Methodist and Congregationalists during the year, so they would be able to know the feelings of those denominations, and the assembly take definite action next year. He said the west would not be satisfied with postponing the question further.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, Montreal, clerk of the assembly, vigorously opposed opening up the controversy at this time. He said the action taken in 1917 had saved the church from going over the precipice and from being rent asunder. The east did not want the question reopened at the present time.

"It will begin an agitation which will wreck the unity of the church and prevent the spiritual movement you have been promoting for the past two years," he said. He claimed that since the blockade against Germany lasted until January 1920, the war did not end until then. "The assembly left the question open for two years to pray over it," he said.

The moderator ruled the amendment out of order and Mr. Dickson tried to introduce another amendment stating that, in the opinion of the assembly, the matter would be open for discussion next year, and the next assembly would be competent to deal with the matter; but this was also thrown out, and the original resolution reelecting the committee was adopted.

Addresses were given by Rev. A. E. Whycher, Philadelphia, who brought fraternal greetings from the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and Colonel Beattie, director of chaplain services for the Dominion, who criticised the government because of the low pensions given to returned men and widows of deceased soldiers.

What Supports the Heart?

By N. COOK, M. D.

The heart is the hardest worked organ of the human body. It beats on an average of seventy times a minute—from the minute of birth to the minute of death. Every half minute or every thirty-second beat, the whole of the blood in the body is pumped through the heart, so that the dual heart moves about six tons of blood in each twenty-four hours. On the purity of that blood health depends. On the strength of the heart depends the strength of the body.

The question then is, how can we keep the blood pure and the heart strong? What is blood? Blood is only digested food. No man is stronger than his stomach, because physical strength is derived from food digested and assimilated. Deaths ascribed to weak heart and "heart failure," should be called weak stomach and "stomach failure."

It is this dependence of the heart upon the stomach which explains the relief from "heart trouble" effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy is for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood, eliminating from it the substances which corrupt and poison it. Even this alone would take the strain from the overtaxed heart. But Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery also acts directly upon the heart itself. It strengthens the heart's action.

This is the time of year when we need a reliable tonic. Toxins (poisons) pile up within the body after a "hard winter," and we feel tired out, blue and discouraged. If you want vim, vigor, vitality, try this Spring Tonic of Doctor Pierce's.

ENCAMPMENT IN STRONG POSITION

Twelve Represented at Grand Gathering With Large Membership

With 12 encampments represented the grand encampment of Odd Fellows in British Columbia opened and completed its sessions in Nelson yesterday, signalizing the occasion by granting one new charter, with another in prospect. The new charter is issued to Okanagan encampment at Penticton, while an encampment is to be instituted at Kamloops shortly.

The business sessions were held in the forenoon and the afternoon, Grand Patriarch James A. McKay presiding, while the veteran grand scribe, Fred Davey, of Victoria, performed the secretarial functions. The annual report of Grand Patriarch McKay, which reviewed the work of the year and summed up the position of this branch of the order, was highly commended.

It was decided to make provision for an annual inspection of all the encampments in the jurisdiction.

Another measure of legislation was the decision to raise the fee for the various degrees. Both these moves were recommended by Grand Patriarch McKay in his report.

Reports submitted showed a total membership in the province of approximately 1000. The financial report was considered satisfactory.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand patriarch, A. H. Turvey, Chilliwack; grand high priest, J. McKinnell, Nanaimo; grand senior warden, W. J. Hesketh, Trail; grand scribe, Fred Davey, Victoria; grand treasurer, E. G. Cavalsky, Nanaimo; grand junior warden, E. C. Turner, New Westminster; grand marshal, R. Sanderson; grand inside sentinel, James Massey, Vancouver; grand outside sentinel, F. W. Doubt, Rossland.

Before adjourning in the afternoon these newly elected officers were installed, the installing officer being Acting Grand Patriarch McKay.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon the encampment took a recess, and escorted by the Patriarchs Militant in uniform, paid an official visit to the Rebekah assembly, in session in I.O.O.F. hall.

In the evening the encampment conferred the encampment degree on 10 candidates from subordinate lodges.

The 12 encampments participating in the grand encampment through delegates are: Vancouver encampment, Victoria; armony encampment, New Westminster; City encampment, Ladysmith; Nanaimo encampment, Nanaimo; Columbia encampment, Vancouver; Nelson encampment, Nelson; Samaritan encampment, Rossland; Lookout encampment, Trail; Acme encampment, Vancouver; Durbar encampment, Cranbrook; Chilliwack encampment, Chilliwack; Klondike encampment, Dawson, Y. CHAPTER NOT FOR PEACE TRAINING

Mrs. McCulloch Reports on Daughters of Empire Convention; Ban Hearst

At the meeting of the Kokanee chapter of the I.O.D.E., held in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon, the regent, Mrs. A. L. McCulloch, gave her report of the national convention held in Calgary recently, which she attended as delegate for Nelson and district. Mrs. McCulloch delivered her address with dramatic force and more than once was interrupted by an applause.

A resolution passed by the convention, that Canadian citizens, both men and women, be trained in time of peace for war, did not meet with the approval of the Kokanee chapter.

Another resolution passed at Calgary proposed the banning of the Hearst publications, of which there are 17, and that every member of the I.O.D.E. pledge herself to abstain from buying any of them. A partial list read by Mrs. McCulloch was found to include several widely read women's magazines, whereupon one of the members suggested that it would be "easier to elect a committee to murder Hearst than to ask the women to forego buying those magazines." Mrs. McCulloch stated that one of the Calgary delegates suggested that now that the Echo, the I.O.D.E. monthly, was to resume publication, it would be a good thing to print a few recipes each month and then it would be sure to take the place of the Hearst books. However, the convention had decided to take all the temptation out of the way by asking the government to prohibit the importation of these publications into Canada.

Mrs. McCulloch ended by remarking that, though the convention was marked by serious differences of opinion, "all's well that ends well."

Mrs. F. B. Hawthorne moved and Mrs. E. A. Crease seconded a vote of thanks to the delegate.

On motion of Mrs. Hawthorne and Mrs. W. O. Rose, it was decided that all meetings should be abandoned for the summer months and that the executive should attend to any important affairs that should arise during that period.

The meeting then closed by the singing of God Save the King.

PROHIBITIONISTS WILL REGISTER

Local Party Urges Near-Beer Licenses; Officers Are Elected

A resolution was passed at a meeting of the local Prohibition party held in the Methodist church last evening, whereby the city council will be requested to pass a bylaw to license all hotels and places selling near-beer. It was also decided to organize a committee to canvass the city to get prohibitionists to register.

Officers were elected for the coming year, Mayor J. A. McDonald being elected president; T. L. Bloomer, first vice-president; Mrs. James Weir, second vice-president; E. H. Evans, secretary, and J. A. Annable, treasurer. Many other matters were left to stand over until the next meeting, which will take place in the Baptist church at an early date.

MADAME MONTELEONE MAKES A STATEMENT

In connection with the city council discussion on the employing of women to sell near-beer, Madame Monteleone asks publication of the following statement:

"I do not understand my name being introduced at Monday's meeting of the city council. I serve beverages myself, at my own establishment when my husband is away, but I do not employ any women to serve them for me. I do not understand why I should be singled out for mention when it is well known that women serve beverages, including near-beer, at local hotels.

COULD HARDLY MOVE HER ARMS, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Arthur Olson Was Almost Helpless; Takes Tanlac and Is Now Well and Happy

"Come in I was hoping you would call, for I wanted to tell you how much good Tanlac has done me," said Mrs. Arthur Olson of 832 Pender street, East, Vancouver, B. C., when the Tanlac representative called to see how she was getting on with the medicine.

"Ever since I came from England a few months ago I have been in poor health," she continued. "My stomach was out of order and I was always feeling sick. I had no appetite and ate scarcely enough to keep a bird alive. I had to be continually taking medicine for constipation and was driven almost frantic with headaches, when I would have to lie down for hours with cold water bandages on my forehead. I had pains in the small of my back that hurt me especially whenever I stooped over and rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders so bad that for three weeks I could hardly move my arms. I had to give up all heavy work and it was as much as I could do to just straighten up the house. I got very nervous and rarely got to sleep before two or three in the morning. I was simply lifeless; to walk even a short distance would tire me out and I just wanted to lie down all the time.

"You can see by all these bottles how many kinds of medicine I have tried in my efforts to get well. But Tanlac did what all the others failed to do and now after taking only three bottles I am well and happy. It first of all gave me an appetite and settled my stomach so that my food agreed with me perfectly. I lost all signs of biliousness and the pains in my back and limbs disappeared. I am no longer constipated and haven't had a headache since I finished the first bottle. My nerves are much better and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I have lost that tired feeling and, in fact, am so full of energy I want to be out and about all the time. I walked for several miles the other day and I never even got tired. I just think Tanlac is splendid and I shall always recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in Nelson by Canada Drug & Book Store, and by the leading druggist in every town.—Advt

AMERICA CUP FINALS

NEWPORT, June 8.—The Resolute outdrifted Vanitie in an uncertain and flukey breeze in today's race in the America Cup trials, covering the 30 miles to leeward and return in only a few seconds less than the six hours required to make the race. When the Resolute finished shortly after five o'clock, Vanitie was more than three miles astern, and did not cross the line until more than half an hour later. Except as a light weather test, the race was unsatisfactory, but it placed the Resolute two victories to one over her rival in the series which is to determine the cup defender.

WINNIPEG VETERANS CRITICISE MARGESON

WINNIPEG, June 8.—Col. Margeson's denunciation of President Maxwell, of the G.W.V.A., at the Ottawa branch meeting Monday night, was strongly criticized by the central branch executive, Winnipeg, tonight, when a resolution was adopted, declaring that the executive believed Col. Margeson's opinion was only his own personal opinion and not the general opinion of the Ottawa command, of which the colonel is president. The resolution also alleged that the colonel's opinion might be influenced by his high salaried position under the Dominion government.

tered and respect for the obligations of international good neighborhood the raw materials of Canada should be carried to the last processes of manufacture within the national boundaries.

In 1908 64 per cent of Canadian pulpwood was exported and 36 per cent manufactured in Canada. In 1917 over 70 per cent was manufactured in the Dominion and only 30 per cent exported. Ten years ago 9,000 persons were employed in the Canadian pulp and paper industry. Now 25,000 persons are employed and the annual wage bill is over $20,000,000. The exports of this industry alone in the last fiscal year were valued at $100,000,000. Ninety per cent of the newsprint manufactured in Canada is exported.

That American Threat

One-third of all the newsprint used in the United States is of Canadian manufacture. And whatever may be the report of the committee which Congress has appointed to consider Canadian restrictions upon export it is conceivable that the United States will challenge the right of the Canadian Provinces to handle their own resources as they may determine just as it would be inconceivable that Canada would demand any share of control in property belonging to a state of the Union. For, remember, there is no restriction upon the export of paper but only provision for manufacture in Canada. One would hesitate to sanction any policy conceived in deliberate hostility to the United States However disturbing at the moment may be the behavior of Congress, the utterances of a portion of the American press and the temper of sections of the American people one feels the gods have ordained that sooner of later the United States and the British Empire in complete sympathy, if not in actual alliance and makes and keeps the words "safe for democracy." That phrase, melodramatic and evengelical perhaps, but great in its significance. Was coined at Washington, will redeem its own coinage.

Must Control Resources

At any rate Canada must control its own raw materials and develop its resources as sound national policy may require nor in violation of any international contract.

From 80 to 85 per cent of the total production of asbestos is mined in the Eastern Townships of Quebec The total consumption of asbestos in 118 was 155,000 tons and of this total 142,000 tons were supplied by Canada. In 1914 a year of small production $3,500,000 was paid for the raw Canadian product. In 1918 the amount was nearly $11,000,000. The value of the manufactured product in 1914 was over $70,000,000. Why should we not manufacture a greater proportion of the fibre in Canada, employing labor expanding industrial communities, and increasing the public revenues?

It is established that in Saskatchewan there is clay for earthenware which would afford the raw material for pottery industries. Indeed, according to one of the Provincial ministers a company is now producing "first class articles of clay manufacture" A discovery of white clay near James Bay is reported which with large deposits of feldspar and other minerals make it possible for Ontario to manufacture optical glass, fine chinas and ornamental glassware.

What Science Says

There is no doubt that the return from the fisheries could be enormously increased. The Council for Scientific and Industrial Research estimates the loss in solids, comprising chiefly fat and proteins in the 300,00 tons of waste that is thrown away annually at $10,000,000 and in oil at $2,000,000.

If the lignite experiments succeed in the West not only will industrial development follow but an annual saving of $18,000,000 involving, at the present value of the dollar, a loss on exchange of $1,750,000 will be effected through the substitution of lignite for coal now imported into Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are 57,000,000,000 tons of lignite in Saskatchewan and even a greater quantity of the better grade of this fuel in Alberta.

One cannot believe that the West with a coal production now greater than that of the Atlantic Provinces will continue to import coal from Pennsylvania. Alberta alone has 16 per cent of the world-s total coal supply.

Nor is it unlikely that the Atlantic provinces will send coal into Central and Western Ontario. For years the price of coal from the United States has been steadily rising. There is a prospect of further increases. Thus far we in Ontario have escaped a serious situation only by wise and wide distribution of Niagara energy. We, have too, a great safeguard for the future in the water powers of the St. Lawrence.

For a Better Wheat

Experiments in wheat breeding porduced Marquis wheat, the staple wheat of the West, and now the Research Council is trying to discover a variety of wheat which will ripen early, be wholly rust resistent, and have good milling and baking qualities.

A new process of making binder twine out of theflax straw of Saskatchewan has been discovered.

The Research Council is seeking to discover a method of utilizing the thousands of tons of waste straw which from year to year are burned in the Prairie provinces. The fact that we import iron and steel to the value of $154,000,000 should stimulate exploration and research in Canada. Ores which had practically no commercial value 20 years ago are now in high demand.

Another Rich Dicovery

The Natural Resources Branch of the Department of the Interior has just issued a memorandium on the subject of molydbenum. This steel is claimed to be the highest and strongest that has yet been produled It is said that there are over one hundred known resources of molybdenum in the Dominion, some of which have proved very productive. One mine in 1916-17 produced more than any other individual mine in the world. In 1918 the total production in Canada was 139,000 tons which was one-third of the world's production. And it is stated that Canada is in the most favorbale position in the Empire to supply this metal.

In remote northern Manitoba, beyond the Saskatchewan and north of the inland seas of the Province, in 1919 copper and gold ores, "through the surface has hardly been scratched," were produced to the value of $694,33, timber was cut to the value of $583,300, the lakes yielded fish to the value of $163,000 and furs were taken to the value of $1,367,000. One particular property in this territory is said to contain 20,000,000 tons of copper ore valued at $180,000,000.

Importations Still Heavy

From the United States we import wool to the value of $46,800,000 meat to the value of $20,000,000, hides to the value of $18,000,000. chemicals to the value of $15,000,000 and breadstuffs to the value of $19,000,000. But all these could be produced in Canada where the dollar is worth a hundred cents, to the common advantage of all classes and to the relief of taxpayers whose burdens have become very heavy.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, told the Legislature a few weeks ago of the discovery of a bed of sodium sulphite in the Province which it is estimated by engineers contains 6,000,000 tons.

"It is," he says, "93.36 per cent. pure, probably the highest in purity in the world." Sodium sulphite is used with wood pulp in the manufacture of paper. But it is the significant statement in Mr. Dunning's report." The Government views that deposit from the standpoint of the industrial development of the Province, not from the point of view of shipping it out of the Province but from the point of view of establishing the industry in the Province itself." He adds that those interested will be invited to establish a nindustry in Saskatchewan to develop this particular natural resource. In 1919 the 80,000 acres around Lethbridge in Southern Alberta new watered by irrigation producted an average yield of $55 an acre. The gross value of the crop from this area was $4,498,542. Some 2,500 acres were under crop in the Lethbridge railway division and had that whole area had irrigation or an adequate rainfall the total rethrn would have been $150,000,000.

Challenge to Pessimism

In face of all this, and the story could be greatly elaborated in detail and emphasize in national significance, who suggests that the natural resources of Canada are exhausted of that the country is bankrupt?

But these resources should be ionserved for Canada and manufacture carried to the last processes in Canadian factories.

At the Industrial Conference at Calgary last summer Capt. Robert Dollar of the Dollar Steamship Company said, "My ships are continually plying in and out of Vancouver, but only one-tenth of what they bring in stays in Canada. The balance goes to Seattle and Chicago and Detriot and later finds its way across the line to Canada in the form of manufactured goods. Wake up! Canadians! You should be ready to take that raw material and turn it into the finished product for your own use, instead of paying all those profits to your competors across the line."

Those who have ears to hear, let them hear, for surely there is no other national policy for the Canadian people whatever may be the fiscal faith which they have inherited or the economic creed which they profess. It would be a blessing of the gods for Canada if we would forget that we had a tariff controversy and if we could approach the questions which are vital to national unity, national expansion and national prosperity without the fettering and narrowing incumbus of old racial quarrels and party animosities. Through war, as has been said the debt upon the estate has been increased from $336,000,000 to $2,000,000 and if we are to reduce the obligation we must maintain and expand the industrial fabric and conserve and develop the natural resources.

A Striking Comparison

During the four years of war the half of our population which is not engaged in agriculture carried $83,397,099 of the war taxation while the half engaged in agriculture carcied $389,011—or only one half of one per cent. In this comparision I am not making any covert attack upon farmers but only emphasizing the heavy contribution of finance and industry and suggesting the heavier burden which must fall on agriculture and industrial workers if these special sources of taxation should be restricted or destroyed. And we must remember that domestic manufacture of raw materials increases wealth, employs labor and creates new communities and markets. Moreover we only get one tenth of the value of natural resources if they are exported for manufacture in other countries. Let us turn our own eyes to our own things and set our hands to our own tasks. If we protect and develop our Estate, we shall have a bountiful return and the future will be secure.

It is universally admitted that there is now a great scarcity of raw materials. The nation, therefore, which best guards its raw materials will make the greatest advances in production and prosperity in the years ahead. It is legitimate that we should import factories rather than export raw materials, and desirable that we should have immigration into Canada rather than emigration out of Canada. Industrial capital from abroad brings skilled workman and skilled workmen and farmers are the best classes that we can have in the country.

Clearly therefore, we must either manufacture the raw materials of Canada within the country, thus employing labor, rearing new communities, providing local markets for merchandise and producers, strengthening the national structure, making the back of Canada strong to bear its accumulating burden, or the sons of Canada will follow those raw materials out of the country, and establish themselves in American industrial centres.

Even the Board of Commerce admits that "business is, in the main, sound and honest" and "that despite high prices undoubtedly prevailing profiteering so-called, that is the Board's opinion, as common as may have been charged or claimed."

How seldom are the real causes of high prices explained. Wages in many industries have been nearly doubled and wages present 70 per cent of the cost of production. The prices of all food products have increased tremendously not through "profiteering" scarcity which is the inevitable result of the great war.

The speaker referred to the futility of ever-recurring demands for wage increases in the cost of living caused by these increases. To this can be added the enormous losses to industry and the public generally through industrial conflicts, in which during 1919 Canada lost at least $9,000,000 in wages alone and an equal or probably a much greater amount to employers by this cause.

He pointed out that every class, probably and to a large extent reply with the darky reprimanded by his master; "Marse, Andrew, I has enuff to answer for wid the Scusations whit i jest, widout havin' to be 'sponsible for dem what ain't so."

He questioned the general good result of restrictive legislation though necessary in isolated cases, and doubted the possibility of dicovering new ources of taxation, and expressed the opinion that the excess profits tax had a grave effect.

Grand Assembly Rrepesenting Forty Lodges Reports Fund Growing

Forty lodges of the Rebekah branch of the Odd Fellows order are represented at the Rebekah grand assembly, which opened its two-day sessions in Nelson yesterday, under the presidency of Mrs. L. Tait, of Vancouver, 95 delegates being in attendance. The sessions are being held in the I.O.O.F. hall.

The first business of the grand assembly was to confer the assembly degree on 45 sisters and 10 brothers.

Next the grand assembly received a formal visit from the grand encampment and the Patriarchs Militant, the latter in uniform, Col. R. A. Perry and Col. J. A. McKay, Capt. A. E. Harron, grand master, and Bro. Fred Davey being introduced, and the two colonels extending greetings.

In the afternoon the assembly framed a quantity of legislation, to be presented to the grand lodge of the order, which opens its sessions today. Although the Rebekah sessions may conclude today, this is entirely contingent on the speed with which the grand lodge acts on this legislation, which must be reported back to the assembly.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Minnie Dempster, Victoria; vice-president, Mrs. Helena Cozens, Vancouver; warden, Miss Elizabeth George, McKay; secretary, Mrs. Frances Afi Walker, Victoria; treasurer, Mrs. Gussie Motion, Nelson. When the newly elected officers are installed at the final session, Mrs. Walker, who wears the decoration for service, will be commencing her twelfth year in the secretaryship.

In the evening the local Rebekah lodge met, and officers of the assembly witnessed and judged a degree competition between teams from the Nelson and Trail lodges. The competition will be continued tonight.

Among the visitors present are: Mrs. Eva Pickering, a visiting sister from Huxley, Alta., and J. H. L. Morgan, a visiting brother from Edson, Alta.

One of the projects the assembly is taking due pride in is the furnishing fund for the projected Odd Fellows home. The grand lodge has the building well advanced, while the Rebekahs are accepting responsibility for the furnishing, the amount for this purpose now in hand being $3253.18, raised in the past three years. When this fund is finally expended, each subordinate lodge will be credited with its own contribution, to be applied to a particular room, or in any way the particular lodge sees fit.

ODD FELLOWS NOW POSSESS NELSON

Main Body of Delegates Arrive at Last for Grand Lodge Sessions

Proceded by various advance contingents, connected with the various branches of Odd Fellowship, the main body of Odd Fellows arrived in the city last night, to attend the sessions of the grand lodge of British Columbia, which open today, and the city is now in the possession of this army of visitors, hundreds strong.

"WELCOME TO OUR CITY I. O. O. F." is the way the great electric sign over the eastern end of Baker street phrases the community's greeting, which eso sc I.O. O.F ity's greeting, which is seconded by the hundreds of flags displayed from business blocks and floating over the streets, and by special designs in the store windows.

Four different branches of the order are now here, the department council of the Patriarchs Militant, the grand encampment, the grand assembly of the Rebekahs, and the grand lodge, the latter being the legislative and governing body for this jurisdiction, for all the subordinate lodges comprised in its territory.

The first of these bodies to arrive, the Patriarchs Militant, finished its business Monday, and now the Patriarchs devote the days to drills and to public parades, acting as escorts on official visits between the various bodies, their picturesque uniforms lending a touch of distinction to the convention Kaleidoscope.

Yesterday the grand encampment completed its labors, and for the rest of Odd Fellow week will be prepared to join in all the fraternal jollity going.

The Rebekahs are halfway through their serious business, but have at least a full day ahead for pleasure-seeking.

Two days sessions of the grand lodge open today, and will wind up in a monster social function tomorrow night.

Today and tomorrow visitors from all sections of the Kootenay will pour in, to swell the ranks of those already here, and to boost the registration on the official register at Eagle hall well past the 500 mark.

While these activites are in progress, the Automobile club is working on the problem of providing the necessary cars for the great joyride to South Slocan, which will take place Friday afternoon. Something like 100 cars will be required, it is estimated.

INVITE DIETIST TO MAKE REPORT

Hospital Board Asks Miss Fitzpatrick to Give Views; Laundry Tenders

An invitation will be extended by the hospital board, to Miss Fitzpatrick, dietitian of the, Balfour sanatorium, to visit Kootenay Lake General hospital, and report upon possible improvement of the system of handling the dieting.

This action was decided on by the board last night, after Mrs. W. G. Foster had reported asking Miss Fitzpatrick, to recommend a competent dietitian whom she might know to be available for engagement for the Nelson institution, Miss Fitzpatrick agreeing to render this assistance as soon as she knew of one who was free.

The question of awarding the annual contract for laundry work was the subject of considerable debate. The board had before it a verbal report from Mrs. Foster and Mrs. N. M. Cummins, recommending that the Nelson steam Laundry, receive the contract, and a written offer from the Kootenay Steam Laundry offering a cut of 25 per cent on its last year's price if given the work.

It was decided to call for tenders for the year's laundry work.

The past month's operation showed a deficit of $350. This was shown to be partly a bookkeeping deficit, however, as it included $99 for a barrel of tincture of green soap, said to be two years' supply, not yet delivered.

Those present at the meeting were J. A. Irving, in the chair, and William Irvine, Mrs. Foster, A. S. Horswill, L. K. Larson, D. G. Kurtz, John Cartmel and George Johnstone.
