Manufacturers' Association Discusses Big Propaganda Schemes

MONTREAL, May 12.—(Canadian Press.)—A million dollar fund for the propaganda of the Canadian Manufacturers association was foreshadowed tonight at the annual dinner of the Montreal Branch. Among the guests were Col. G. Grant Morden, Sir James McKenzie, head of the Vickers Firm, of England, and many of the business leaders of the province. T. P. Howard as president of the dominion manufacturers association said they had approached the government on the necessity for a scientific tariff board for Canada, and stated that it would receive the support of 1,600 labor unions of Canada, as well as the manufacturers and employers.

In a defense of great industrial mergers both here and in England Col. Morden said that both he and his colleagues were at present giving great attention to a plan that would be announced in due course under which "we will give our employees, not only an opportunity to participate in the success of the industry but also representation on the directorate."

Touching on the shipbuilding industry Col. Morden said the British Empire Steel Corporation was going to build ships. With the steel plants in Sydney and their wonderful facilities in having the railway material at hand it was obvious that with ships, there would be a complete circle in industry which would make Canada quite independent.

OLSHEVISTS EXECUTE WOMEN AND MEN ON EVE OF CAPTURE OF KIEV

WARSAW, May 12.—Eighteen men and seven women were executed by order of a Bolshevist extraordinary commission in Jitomir, just before the capture of that town, in the Polish drive on Kiev, according to dispatches from correspondents at the front, published in newspapers here.

The messages give details of the alleged occurrence, and add that after the executions, the members of the commission, hearing that the Poles were advancing, attempted to escape by train, one member committing suicide when the fugitives were surrounded by Polish lancers The others it is declared, offered resistance, and were killed.

The Bolsheviki, the reports said, contended that the persons who were executed attempted to launch a counter-revolution.

Spare Denekine's Men

LONDON, May 12.—Bolshevik authorities have agreed to spare the lives of soldiers captured from General Denekine's army in Southern Russia, and those of other anti-soviet troops who may in future be taken prisoner. A note to this effect was today received by British officials, in answer to appeals sent to Moscow by this country during the past fortnight.

From the British viewpoint, this is the most satisfactory on this subject yet received from the soviet government, and officials hope full protection can be guaranteed Denekine's men, with trade agreements or other concessions to Moscow.

FRANCHISE STILL THE CHIEF TOPIC

Preparation of Lists Discussed in Committee of House

QUEBEC IS AGAINST BIENNIAL REVISION

Premier Borden Arrives in Commons and Is Loudly Cheered

OTTAWA, May 12.—Again in the house today, the Franchise bill held the stage. During practically the whole afternoon and evening, one clause was under discussion in committee—the clause providing for the preparation of voters lists. Discussion ranged chiefly around a suggestion by Hon. W. S. Fielding that in Nova Scotia provincial lists should be used.

The suggestion was combatted by the solicitor-general. He did not think the Nova Scotia lists would be satisfactory. For one reason, appeals in Nova Scotia went to a sheriff to give an opinion, who was not qualified to do so.

A rather prosaic day was interspersed with lively incidents. Early in the sitting, R. H. Butts, of Cape Breton attacked Hon. W. S. Fielding. When prime minister of Nova Scotia, Mr. Butts declared, Mr. Fielding had disfranchised British subjects. Now Mr. Fielding was leading the cause of the alien.

"In '96," shouted Mr. Butts, "you were taken by some freak of fortune into the Laurier cabinet,—" The chairman interfered. But banging his desk, Mr. Butts demanded an answer. "Don't answer me. If you do I will drag you across to the library, and show you Hansard of the debate." But Mr. Fielding paid no attention to the attack.

D. D. McKenzie roused the committee by declaring that when leading the Liberals, he had a solemn agreement with the government that a Franchise act would be placed on the statute books. He produced a document, and passed it across to the solicitor-general. Mr. Guthrie, reading from the document, argued that Mr. McKenzie had been merely proposing a Franchise act to cover byelections until after next session of parliament.

Later Mr. Guthrie had a sharp battle with Fred Pardee, of Westlambton. It was over plugging votes. Mr. Guthrie had remarked that he could not teach Mr. Pardee anything in elections. Mr. Pardee wanted to know if an imputation was intended that he had "plugged votes." There were interchanged compliments, and finally Mr. Guthrie observed that he meant his remark as a good humored joke. Mr. Pardee accepted the claim, and the incident closed.

In Hand by Nomination

D. D. McKenzie asked when finality in the lists would be reached. Mr. Guthrie replied that unrevised lists would be in the candidates' hands on nomination day, and revised lists five days later.

Jacques Bureau protested that the biennial revision of the lists in Quebec cities would cause a hardship.

Mr. Guthrie asked that the clause pass as standing, without the schedule, and then a conference be held on the proposals made in regard to the needs of the different provinces. In regard to classification of polling districts, city or rural, Mr. Guthrie said the chief electoral officer must be required to state which were rural and which were urban. After discussion, the chairman ruled that the schedule was not part of the clause.

Mr. Bureau persisted that his amendments would come in the clause, on which re-consideration would be necessary.

The clause was finally allowed to stand and the house adjourned.

Senate amendments to the Maple Products act, and government resolutions on industrial alcohols, and other subjects, are to be taken up on Friday, Hon. C. J. Doherty stated.

Sir Robert Borden was in the house during the afternoon. On arrival he was loudly cheered.

DeVerneuil, acting French consul-general in Canada, has just been informed by wire from Paris, that Henri DeClerval has been appointed by the minister of commerce as French commercial attache in the Dominion. MENNONITES NOW DESIRE TO LINGER

Ask Manitoba Government to Allot Them Remote Wilderness Tract

WINNIPEG, May 12.—The Mennonite situation took a further new turn today, when it was learned that during the past few days, despite reports to the contrary, it has become evident that the Mennonites in Manitoba do not wish to leave the province, but would prefer to make a change in the location of their colony from the present well settled district to some more remote portion.

They have asked the provincial government, it is said, to go over the map of the province, and if a tract of country could be found where there was no settlement, and where settlers would not go because of the rigors of the climate or the poorness of the land, to allow them to take it over, with the privileges of education and religion which are denied them in their present location in southern Manitoba.

The Mennonites, it is declared, possibly have in mind the large tract of country bordering on the Hudson's Bay.

The provincial government, however, has not entertained for a moment any idea of making such concessions.

RADIO AT MOSCOW CEASES SENDING

All World Speculating on Reason For Its Sudden Silence

LONDON, May 13.—At 2.28 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Bolshevik wireless station at Moscow suddenly stopped sending in the middle of a sentence, and since then has been silent.

Wireless experts in all the stations of Europe are puzzled over this fact, according to a representative of the Marconi company in an interview with the Daily Mail. "They are all asking one another if they are able to explain the situation," says the Daily Mail. "Something unusual evidently has happened. The Moscow wireless usually was busy with all kinds of messages. It operated ceaselessly throughout the revolt, and during the Bolshevik regime, apparently being a most efficient station, and likely would have an emergency installation, which could be operated in case of need. But the fact that no emergency installation has been used suggests that the interruption is due to some unknown cause."

The Daily Mail, in speculating on the explanation of the silence of the wireless, refers to the report received from Mascow Tuesday saying there had been a series of explosions in the military depot near the Trades station, and last Sunday near the radio station. The Daily Mail suggests also that the Polish and Ukrainian successes may have given the cooperative societies and other enemies of the soviet government an opportunity to attack the Bolshevik.

The agreement was embodied in 12 articles, substantially as follows, the statement said:

2.—The groups of armed Russians shall withdraw from the following districts:

(a) Thirty kilometres to the east and north of the trunk line of the Usurie railway.

(b) From the line of the Usurie railway west and south up to the boundary lines of China and Korea.

4.—Russian patrol guards shall be detailed to maintain order in the districts and along the railways above mentioned.

5.—All arms and other war material of the Russian army found in said districts shall be seized by the Japanese troops, and the disposition of same shall be determined later on.

6.—Arms heretofore seized by the Japanese troops shall remain in their possession until the evacuation.

7.—The Russian authorities shall take preventive measures to guard against the destruction of telegraph lines and railways in the aforesaid districts, and the Japanese troops shall stand ready to help the Russians, if necessary, in the restoration of communications.

SAYS TREATY PARTY SUICIDE

Colorado Democrat Warns Against Versailles Peace Terms

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Senate Democrats were warned today by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, that if the party "pledges itself at San Francisco to the unconditional ratification of the treaty of Versailles, it will do so because it does not want to live any longer, and takes that means of making its dissolution known." The senators were discussing President Wilson's recent telegram to G. A. Hamaker, chairman of the Democratic central committee, of Multnomah county, Ore., on the League of Nations

DOMINION CIVIL SERVANTS RESTIVE

Reclassification Causes Wide Protest and Strike Is Suggested

VANCOUVER, May 12.—A general strike of civil servants extending from coast to coast is now being mooted, according to a high official in the postal service here, as a protest against the alleged unsatisfactory salary provisions contained within the reclassification schedule announced recently by the civil service commission.

During the last few days, it is declared, telegrams have been dispatched between the eastern and western cities, pledging full support to any action embracing the whole of Canada, which may be decided upon in protest.

COMMUNISTS OF BERLIN FIFTY THOUSAND STRONG DEMAND RUSSIAN PEACE

BERLIN, May 12.—Communists and Independent Socialists yesterday organized a great demonstration in Berlin against the new military conspiracy of international capital against soviet Russia. It is estimated that 50,000 men marched the streets, singing revolutionary songs.

George Ledebour, the Socialist Democrat leader, and Ernest Daumig, of the Independent Socialists, delivered speeches, in which they demanded the immediate resumption of political relations with Russia.

SLOCAN MINE OPERATORS AND WORKERS AGREE ON NEW SCALE

Average Wage Advance of Seventy-Five Cents Per Day; Agreement Is With International; One Big Union Is Not Recognized in Arrangement; Eight Leading Mine Groups Participate

NEW DENVER, May 12.—At a meeting of the operators of the Slicon mining district, and representatives of the International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, held at New Denver today, an agreement was reached for a new wage scale for the mines and mills of the Slocan.

The new scale agreed upon with the international union is practically an increase of 75 cents a day over the old scale. The mines party to the agreement are, the Roseberry-Surprise, the Noble Five-Reco, the Cunningham mines, the McAllister, the Carnation, the Lincoln, the Rambler-Cariboo and the Standard.

The strike which has been in existence practically since May 1, was not called by the International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter workers, but by the locals of the One Big Union at Sandon and Silverton.

Last Sunday the Silversmith mine at Sandon compromised with its employees at an advance of 50 cents per day and blankets furnished.

The statement recently published that "not a wheel turns in the Slocan" was not strictly correct, for the Rosebery-Surprise Mining company was able to operate the Rosebery concentrator throughout the strike period.

FEELING RAIL STRIKE BADLY

United States Freight Congestion Is Hitting Commerce

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Congestion of freight in the principal railroad terminals of the United States, probably the worst since the hard winter of 1917, is beginning to be felt seriously in business and commerce throughout the country.

Last reports compiled here by the committee on car service of the American railroad associations show 235,000 cars tied up or delayed in transit. Of this number, 85,000 are at junctions, with no labor to move them. On April 16, the total number of cars tied up was 288,000. Much of this was attributed by railroad people to the recent strike.

WOULD SMUGGLE D E VALERA ACROSS RAGING MAIN IN AN EAGLE BOAT

QUEBEC, May 12 (Canadian Press).—That a number of financiers friendly to the Irish republic are endeavoring to purchase from the American government some of the United States eagle boats, which wintered at this port, is the rumor published in today's issue of Le Soliel. The object of acquiring the vessels, the rumor states, would be to enable Eammon DeValera, the president of the republic, who is at present in the United States, to get from America to Ireland without being captured by the British authorities.

NEW YORK, May 12 (Canadian Press).—Dr. Patrick McCartan, one of the chief lieutenants of Eammon DeValera, self-styled president of the Irish republic, has just returned to New York, after a trip to Ireland, having successfully eluded the British authorities going and coming. He left the United States in March on a mission for DeValera, it is said.

BELFAST, Ireland, May 12.—Another income tax office here was raided tonight by five masked men. They seized and bound the two clerks, collected the documents and burned them, then made their escape.

Macready Frames Plans

LONDON, May 12.—Gen. Sir Nevil Macready, military commander of Ireland, has framed new plans by which he believes better order will be established in Ireland, shortly. Bonar Law announced in the house of commons today that the plans had been approved by the cabinet. The government leader's statement followed questions regarding the sensational murder of two policemen at Cork last evening, and queries as to whether Gen. Macready had taken steps to coordinate the police and the military forces.

Bonar Law said that the military commander had already taken most important steps, and at the cabinet meeting yesterday had proposed others, which met with the approval of the government. What these steps were, Bonar Law did not say. He declared, however, that the government would take any action, which, in its belief, would restore decent conditions.

Mr. Macready is at present in London for consultation with the officials, and the newspapers predict important developments. In this connection it is unofficially stated that additional troops are to be sent to Ireland, and that the government is prepared to give the Irish executive all assistance necessary to suppress lawlessness.

Nancy, France, is planning to utilize water power from the Rhine river.

The report shows that 19 of the 63 ships contracted for by the government were delivered during 1919. About 100,000 dead weight tons of shipping is operating with 280,530 dead weight tons still in the course of construction. The work is being done in Canada at different ship yards.

"Music is a great antidote for unrest," says Mr. Schwab, speaking in New York. "The most primitive and igorant are susceptible to music. It is a sedative and stabilizer and promotes beautiful thoughts. No normal person could do wrong or think wrong with the sound of music in his ears. TAG DAY BYLAW CREATES FURORE

Ald. Foster's Measure Brings Out Hostile Deputation; Action Delayed

There was quite a breeze at the regular meeting of the city council last night, when Ald. Mrs. W. G. Foster presented a draft bylaw to regulate tag days and street collections. The measure eventually was laid over.

About sixteen members of the general public attended, and various organizations were represented.

Ald. C. F. McHardy thought some notice of the by-law should have been given to assist discussion.

Mrs. Foster considered no notice was necessary, other than publicity already accorded. In speaking to the measure, she criticised adversely the means adopted in the past in promiscuous collections, and the lack of public control of monies so collected.

"We should quit making bylaws," said A. A. Perrier, "we have too many as it is."

Mayor J. A. McDonald observed that authorising tag days and street collections was a perogative of the office of mayor, and did not involve council approval.

Ald. Foster—That is not so in Vancouver.

His Worship—Pardon me, but I took particular care to enquire when in Vancouver, from the city clerk.

Mrs. Foster—The city clerk is not reliable.

His Worship—I know of no collections in Nelson that have not been for a worthy cause. (Cheers from the public.)

Mrs. N. M. Cummins, for the Hospital Aid society, and Mrs. Hawthorne for the I.O.D.E., spoke against the proposed bylaw.

Mrs. W. A. Thurman challenged Mrs. Foster's statements that there were irregularities in society collections, and asked her to name the societies.

Mrs. Foster disclaimed any individual attack, but asserted that there was looseness in control of funds.

A motion by Ald. McHardy that the bylaw be thrown out, was superseded by a substitute motion that it should lie on the table until the next regular meeting of the council, on May 25.

His object is to find out exectly what quantity of tobacco would be most suitable to British and French requirements, and what quantities could be absorbed by those countries. This information will it is expected be of great value to Canadian tobacco growers in determining the acerage and character of their crop this year.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

NELSON DEFEATS KASLO BY A RUN

Good Ball Game in Hudson's Bay Day Has Grand Stand Finish

In a game begun under a threatening sky, and featured by some good and bad baseball by both teams, the Nelson club, by a fine rally in the final inning, defeated Kaslo yesterday by the score of 10 to 9, in one of the matches featuring the Hudson's Bay company's anniversary celebration in Nelson yesterday.

Nelson drew blood first by scoring three runs in the first inning. Kaslo scored one in their half of the second, and Nelson duplicated it. Kaslo got another in the third, but their big innings were the fifth and sixth, they scoring four runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, due to some wierd baseball by the Nelson team, putting them five runs to the good. The local nine went out in the seventh, however, and staged a rally that netted them the game.

At the beginning of the sixth inning it was agreed to call the game at the end of the seventh. In the beginning of the last inning, Nelson being five runs behind, Hugh O'Neill sent a liner to the fence for two bases. He was thrown out at home a little later on a close play, when Dill hit for a single. Dill stole second and third, making a pretty slide under Abey's hand at the latter point. Wolverton singled, scoring Dill. Irving struck out. "Scotty" Notman walked on four wide ones and stole second. Buchanan, who had batted for Bush in the sixth, then hit down the first base line for a single, scoring Wolverton and Notman. Hunt walked. On a short passed ball, Buchanan was apparently trapped between second and third, but beat the relay from second to third, and the ball being thrown wild, he walked home. Hunt scored a moment later on a hit by Bert Whitehead, tying the score. Eddie O'Neil then put up a pop fly, which Abey allowed to dribble through his fingers, resulting in the winning run crossing the home plate.

Both Teams Played Ball

Eddie and Hugh O'Neill formed the Nelson battery. They worked well together, and Eddie pitched a very good game for the first of the season. He should not have been scored on more than two or three times with perfect support. Sutherland and Garland did the heavy work for the Kaslo team. Sutherland pitched good ball, having the Nelson players swinging wildly at his curves during most of the game.

Considering the fact that this was the first game for both teams for the season, they put up a good brand of ball, the uncertainty up to the final inning making it all the more exciting.

The Nelson Loyal Rooters turned out in goodly numbers and did their full share towards putting over the winning run in the final inning. Old Man Grump was also there with his hammer for a while but he disappeared later. Sid Disereau umpired the game to the entire satisfaction of both teams. There was not a single kick during the game over his decisions, he getting right on top of all the plays and giving his decisions promptly.

The batting orders were as follows: Nelson:—H. O'Neil, catcher; A. Dill, 2nd base and C.F.; J. Wolverton, 3rd base; A. Irvine, S.S.; J. Notman, L.F.; T. Bush, R.F.; E. L. Buchanan, R.F; Bert Whitehead, 1st base; E. O'Neil, pitcher. Kaslo:—Hunter, L.F.; Garland, C.; Willy, S.S.; Benzie, R.F.; Giegerich, 2nd base; Abey, 3rd base; Goodwin, C.F.; White, 1st base; Sutherland, pitcher.

Score by innings:

Kaslo	011,043,0— 9.
Nelson	310,000,6—10

SOCCER MATCH FAVORS NELSON

Fast Exciting Game Is Won by Local Seniors After Hard Tussle

After a hard fought battle, the big intercity soccer match between Trail and Nelson, which was part of the Hudson's Bay celebration program yesterday afternoon, ended in a win for the locals with a score of 3 to 1.

The game commencing at 3.30 o'clock, with a light breeze favoring them, the Trail boys were not long in working the ball up to the Nelson danger zone, and the first bit of real smart play was witnessed when Wolverton, the Nelson goalee, made two fine saves, one from a corner kick taken by Sales, and headed towards the net by Fowler, and the other a straight shot from outside the defence at left wing.

Trail Scores First

Shortly afterwards Trail's forward line again menaced the Nelson goal and a corner being taken by Sales, Kennedy succeeded in driving the ball through and got the first goal for Trail.

Attacking again in great shape, the Trail boys worked up to the Nelson defence, and a corner kick was again taken by Sales, but was put minutes the Nelson goal was conclear by Smith. For the next 15 stantly in danger, the Trail boys showing great combination work and besieging the backs and goalee, but the latter was a match for every ball that came his way for the rest of the game, and made save after save in quick succession. It was not too much to say that had it not been for Wolverton's work the Trail boys would have piled up a score difficult to equalize.

Throughout the first half the Nelson forward line was not up to the form of the visitors, the only three shots taken at the Trail goal being wide of their mark. The scores remained at 1 to 0 in favor of Trail at the end of the first half.

Talbert and B. J. Bernard were sent forward to strengthen the Nelson forward line in the second half, and Morris relieved Cruickshank at left back, he having received a kick that seriously hampered his movements early in the game. Fowler, of the Nelson, forwards, was sent to left half, where he showed up to better advantage.

Nelson Evens Tally

With the wind in their favor, the strengthened Nelson forward line quickly evened up the score, by rushing the goal when Rowley scored the first for Nelson within a few minutes.

Then Wolverton, taking a goal kick put the ball right amongst the forwards, when the forwards, playing the best combination work they put on through the game, worked the ball close in, were stopped by the backs, but Rowley, making a swift drive on the ball scored the second goal for Nelson.

Two more corners were taken by Cook, of Trail, but were worked clear, as were several others later on. The game lagged a little from then on, for a while, but about two minutes before time, Wallach made a pass from center forward to wing, and the line, rushing the Trail backs, Graves scored another for Nelson from close in. The whistle blew for time just after the next kick-off was taken. The final scores were Trail 1, Nelson 3.

Those on the Trail lineup were: Goal, J. Rutledge; backs, J. Balfour and James Leckie; half backs, John McHardy, C. J. Minton and James Young; forwards, Ed. Cook, John Leckie, Will Kennedy, Dennis Haggarty and Leslie Sayles. Nelson was represented by: Goal, J. Wolverton; backs, J. G. Smith and L. Cruickshank; half backs, G. Talbert, P. Kues, J. Morris; forwards, R. W. Fowler, P. Celle, A. Wallach, V. Graves and G. Rowling. P. G. Morey refereed the match.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three-fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore, it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used, and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes:—"From a child I was always very badly constipated, and I can well remember when quite young, my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning, and I got to dread it. NEW WAY TO CURL HAIR HAS MANY ADVANTAGES

You will find the following to be a very simple and excellent method of curling the hair. Apply a little liquid silmerine with a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair just before doing it up. In three hours you will be quite amazed at the result. You will have the prettiest curls and waves imaginable, altogether natural in appearance. Aside from this the advantages of the silmerine method are that the hair is curled so quickly, that it remains in curl a long time, that it has such a lovely sheen or lustre, and is so beautifully fluffy when combed out. A few ounces of liquid silmerine from your druggist will last for weeks. It is, of course, perfectly harmless.

LIQUIDATION IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12—Unfavorable industrial conditions surpassed the credit situation as a factor of primry importance in today's listless and lower stock market, provoking additional liquidation for both accounts. Reports from leading centers of the automobile industry conveyed broad intimations of a let down of activity, due in part to the failure of the steel mills to provide finished materials and in lesser degree to a reduction of demand.

The money situation also figured in the trade reaction, banks of the middle west exercising closer scrutiny of loans to automobile manufacturers, according to word received by local financial interests. Conditions in the steel and iron trade offered little ground for encouragement is indicated by the weekly reviews of the Iron Age, and other authorities. The railroad strike has curtailed factory and foundry operations to less than half of normal and in the Pittsburg district alone it was estimated that one million tons of finished steel were being held up by freight congestion.

Virtually no time money was offered here and call loans rose from eight to 10 per cent again yielding slightly at the close. Local money conditions are regarded as sound, however, with additional reduction of brokers borrowings.

The stock market traversed the ground made familiar by recent sessions, oils, sugars and occasionally shippings contributing to the constructive side, while motors, steels, equipments, leathers and textiles featured the heavy to weak issues. Losses of one to six points prevailed at the dull finish. Sales amounted to 750,000 shares.

Trading in bonds were again devoid of special feature, aside from moderate strength shown by foreign issues. The liberty division was irregular. Total sales, par value, aggregated $9,275,000.

Old United States 4's lost ¼ per cent on call and Panama 3's dropped two per cent.

TORONTO BOARD

TORONTO, May 12.—An increase in trading on the Toronto exchange today was largely the result of a heavy movement in Brazilian, combined with fresh interest in mining shares. Brazilian moved within a narrow range and closed the day with a loss of ⅛ at 42⅝ with a turnover of 555 shares. Interest in Canners continued high during the morning, sent the stock up to 62½, the close at 61¼ representing a net gain of 1¼. Buying of Canners continues strong. In a day of irregular prices, paper stocks held well, some gains being recorded. Brompton sold here as high as 101, closing unchanged at 100½. A few shares of Abitibi sold at 67½, making a small gain. Spanish River and North American Pulp were unchanged. Such merger stocks as were on the active list were slightly weaker, but Steel of Canada gained a point. North Star common lost 25 points to 650 and Hollinger which was busy all day lost five points at 6.00.

MONTREAL LIST

MONTREAL, May 12.—Trading in listed stocks on the Montreal stock exchange today amounted to 8,526 shares. More than a quarter of the total dealings were furnished by Brompton in which the turnover amounted to 2,520 shares. Brompton was bid up to 101½ in final sale and 101¾ in closing bid, with stock offered at 102.

Brazilian was again weaker, losing a large fraction at 42⅝, with 42¼ bid. Spanish River common sold between 84½ and 86, with the close at 85¾, a net loss of ½ point, with 85¾ bid for more stock at the close. The preferred was weak all day, selling down to 128¾ near the close, when a sale of 75 shares was made at an advance of nearly four points at 132 and that price was bid for more stock, a net gain of 2½ points.

Sugar opened at 93 and sold up to 95⅝, then eased to 93½ at the close, representing a net gain of a large fraction. Canners sold as high as 63 and finished the day at 61½, which represented a net gain of 1¾ points.

Dominion Steel lost a small fraction at 69, while the preferred gained a fraction at 78½.

FARMER MEMBERS RESENT STRINGS

Premier Drury Advised by Caucus to Press Bill For Superannuation

TORONTO, May 12.—"They told me to go right ahead with it," said Premier Drury, referring to the attitude of the Caucus of government supporters held before yesterday afternoon's sitting of the legislature toward the superannuation of civil servants. Following the letter of protest sent by T. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O., a petition was circulated among the farmer members, requesting that the superannuation bill be left over for a year. Some 16 members signed it, but on the whole it had a chilly reception.

"Will any of the farmer members oppose the passing of the bill?" the Premier was asked.

Some of them will, but it will be supported by quite a safe number, he replied.

There is a spirit of resentment against Mr. Morrison's action, among many members, who voiced their general feeling by saying, "The U.F.O. elected us, and now I think we can represent them without having constantly to be told what we should do."

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, May 12.—The totals that passed over the scales yesterday consisted of 248 cattle, 132 hogs and 12 sheep. Outward shipments were made up of 13 calves, 105 cattle, 43 hogs and 12 sheep to local packers. Shipments east comprised 18 bulls to Montreal. Receipts up to 9 a.m. today were 459 cattle, 837 hogs and 29 sheep. The cattle market today was steady to strong, with fair to good quality butcher cattle making up bulk of sales. Steers, heifers and cows all showed good quality and were readily absorbed at top prices. Good quality bulls and veal calves also found an outlet at firm prices. Stocker and feeder trade was quiet, there being little good stuff among the arrivals.

Steers, choice 14.00 to 15.75; fair to good 11.00 to 13.50.

Butcher heifers, choice 12.00 to 13.00; fair to good 9.00 to 11.00.

Butcher cows, choice 11.00 to 12.25; fair to good 9.00 to 10.50; medium 8.00 to 8.50; canners and cutters, 3.75 to 5.50.

Bulls, good, 8.00 to 10.00; common, 6.50.

CAMELS IN AMERICA ARE NOW EXTINCT

The camel tribe is represented in South America by four species of animals—the llama (commonly used as a beast of burden), the guanaco, the alpaca and the vicuana.

The camels anciently so vastly numerous in North America, and varying in size from that of a cottontail rabbit to the so-called "giraffe" species (much larger than any camel now surviving on the earth), vanished long ago. Why they should have become distinct on this continent nobody knows.

Camels and their near relatives the dromedaries have been introduced in this country from the old world at various times. Some were brought to Virginia in 1701. But, owing to lack of knowledge of their habits and of proper methods of caring for them, these attempts have proved failures.

On a number of occasions dromedaries have been introduced into various parts of South America, and employed with some success for travel on desert plains difficult for any other animal to traverse. But they have not long survived.

It has been asserted that without the dromedaries the intercourse of mankind over vast regions in Asia would have been confined to districts where abundance reigned. The products of one district could not have been exchanged for those of another; commerce would have been non-existent, and tribes distantly separated would have had little knowledge of each other.

A particularly desirable animal for this country would seem to be the "booghdee," which is a cross between the Bactrian camel and the dromedary of the plains. This hybrid is short limbed and very muscular. It carries 600 pounds on level ground or 400 pounds where the going is rough and hilly. Nearly as sure-footed as a horse, its greatest advantage as a mountain burden-bearer lies in the strength and development of the claw that terminates each foot.

The booghdee is almost as omnivorous as a goat, and browses cheerfully on desert plants of almost any kind. In the old world it is annually shorn, its long fleece (equal in quantity to the wool of four sheep) being used for weaving. The fleece is nearly as soft as the wool of Thibet. But the so-called camel's hair shawls are woven from Tibetian goat's fleece, and not from the hair of any camel.

WISCONSIN DEALERS HELP ADVANCE MUSIC

During the last annual Wisconsin State Fair, held at Milwaukee, the musical dealers of that city, and of the state generally, introduced some real community singing on the fair grounds, and held also a music memory contest for children. This musical festival reached directly more than 250,000 people, the attendance breaking all records.

The impetus given to music by these men helped on also a big convention of musical men under the auspices of the Wisconsin Association of Music Industries, a new organization. Much of the success of the whole affair was due to the recognition of the helpfulness of music during the war and reconstruction period.

The sun dial was the earliest timepeice.

CANADA ENTERS UPON DIPLOMACY

New York Evening Post Says Step Has Profound Implications

NEW YORK, May 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The Evening Post, says editorially:

"A long forward step in the development of the idea of "Imperial unity" within the British Empire, will have been made when a Canadian minister (appointed by King George on the advice of the Canadian cabinet,) takes his place at Washington. To the extent that he will be the channel of communication with our government on matters of 'Purely Canadian concern,' it is true for the present that the diplomatic unity of the British Empire remains formally intact. Nothing affecting, for example, the question of Canadian sovereignty, would be interpreted as of a purely Canadian concern, and to that extent, the formula is justified. That the Canadian minister will be in some respects, part of the British diplomatic establishment, is indicated by the provision that in the absence of the British ambassador, Canada's representative will be in charge of all affairs at Washington.

But for no one so much as for Englishmen do precedents and beginnings have a meaning. And this beginning of separate diplomatic representations of dominions carries with it profound implications. The sense of nationality in Canada, enormously developed by the war, and reflected in the provision of separate representatives for the dominions on the counsel of the League of Nations, will be still further enhanced.

"Statesmen of the Hiram Johnson frame of mind will discern in the latest evolution another instance of British guile. Canada's minister will be described as a catspaw for London's interests. But those who can rise above the partisanship of the moment will discern in Canada's movement towards the status of full sovereignty an evolution which we can regard with more than equanamity."

PRAIRIE PAPERS FACE SUSPENSION

Fort Frances Company Has Stopped Supplies to Canadian Customers

WINNIPEG, May 12.—Although the domestic production of newsprint is seven times the domestic consumption, the daily newspapers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, for the second time in six months, are again facing suspension owing to inability to get newsprint.

Until recently these newspapers were supplied by the Fort Frances Pulp & Paper company, Ltd., whose mill, because of its location 200 miles east of Winnipeg, is their logical source of supply.

Early in April, following the supreme court judgment in the Price Bros. appeal, the Fort Frances company notified its Canadian customers that they would have to get their supplies from another mill. It offered a limited supply in the meantime at $120 per ton, which was $30 per ton in excess of the standard contract price at which other Canadian newsprint manufacturers were exporting newsprint to the United States. The Canadian customers of the Fort Frances company paid the price demanded, and supplies continued for a few weeks.

Efforts to secure supplies from other sources were unsuccessful. Now the Fort Frances company has again notified its Canadian customers that they must get their supplies elsewhere, and this time has actually stopped shipments. Unless the Fort Frances company resumes shipments immediately, several daily newspapers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be compelled to suspend publication next week.

BRINGING BACK TREASURE

Untold millions in gold and silver and other precious commodities have been sunk during the war by submarines and otherwise. Naturally, men at once set their brains to work to try and recover some of this treasure, practicularly in those waters where sunken ships are strewn the thickest. Bradstreet's report that sunken treasure worth $200,000,000 has now been raised around the British Isles. It continues:

"The Restorer and the Reliant, two salving vessels that were bought by a British concern from the American Navy, have a new device, a oxyacetlene flame, which is worked under water for cutting holes in the sides of submerged vessels.

"Each ship has twentyfive electric pumps capable of pumping one million gallons of water an hour, and carries two divers, search-lights, line throwing guns, electric welding plants, rock drills, and other accessories. Each diver is equipped with a telephone."—Literary Digest

SOME NERVE

The former enemy shows some anxiety to be our friend. The Handley Page Company have received an application for a position as piolet from a flying officer of the German Army. His sponsors were German squadron commanders under whom he had served on the western front. He recommends himself by stating that he was familiar with English territory, having flown over the Eastern counties on many occasions. No vacancy was found for him. What a surprise! As Maupassant wrote at the end of one of his most fiercely ironic stories.

Xerxes I., Artaxerxes III and Darius III of Persia were all victims of assassins.

WANTS ESTATE OF MARSHALL FIELD

Grandson Seeks Possession of Hundred Millions; Widow Asks Dower

CHICAGO, May 12.—The residuary estate of the late Marshall Field, estimated at $100,000,000, is at stake in an action begun in the superior court here by Capt. Marshall Field III., a grandson, who asks immediate possession of the estate. The suit, which was brought to construe a section of the merchant's will, contends that, since the death of the plaintiff's brother, Henry Field, the entire residuary estate should be surrendered to Capt. Field.

Mrs. Nanny Perkins Field Tree, widow of Henry Field, who was married last week to Mr. Tree in London, has filed a cross bill, claiming a dower interest in Henry Field's share of the estate.

MOTORMAN IS NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

SASKATOON, May 12.—After being out less than an hour, a jury in King's Bench court here yesterday brought in a verdict of "not guilty" for Charles E. Stoneman, charged with manslaughter, arising out of the death of S. T. Smith a local mail carrier, who was killed last December when a street car operated by Stoneman ran over and killed him.

TO FEDERATE WITH MISSIONARY BOARDS

CALGARY, May 12.—Affiliation with the federation of mission boards of Canada was decided upon at the first session yesterday of the general council of the Women's Mission Society of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, which is convening here. The convention heard addresses on the assimilation of the alien born in Canada.

NEW HYBRID CATTLE

From Eastern Africa to Trinidad, and from there to the estate of Gen. Juan Vincent Gomez, the President-elect of Venezulela, the zebu has gone to find himself the subject of a remarkable experiment; for the distinguished general is one of the world's greatest cattle rairers.

In the cross-breeding of zebu bulls with Holstien-Friesian, Hereford, Jersey and other pure bred stock imported from the United States, a remarkable hybrid cow has been produced. It is slightly larger than the northern cow and it lacks the hump of the zebu.

The milk production of the hybird has been found to be very much greater than that of the northern cow, especially when it is raised in the tropics. The yield of beef is also better in quality and quantity. What is of great importance, also, the hybrid is immune to the tick and to the organic diseases to which domestic cattle are subject in the tropics.

WITNESSES FAVOR DEEP WATERWAY

Commission Sitting at Soo Hears Views of Big Manufacturers

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 12.—In his testimony before the international waterways commission at its sitting here yesterday, City Solicitor Goodwin expressed the opinion that a deep waterway via the St. Lawrence, from the Atlantic seaboard to the head of the Great Lakes, which would enable ocean going vessels to call at the Soo, would aid in the development of the resources of this part of Canada.

Colonel Jones, manager of the Spanish Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd., said that with a deep waterway, his company would be able to bring its sulphur shipments by waterway and also be able to compete the European markets.

S. V. MacLeod, of the Algoma Steel corporation, said he thought it would aid in the shipment of rails.

Developing a Democratic Government

It has taken Great Britain, the British Empire and the United States centuries in which to develop democratic constitutions and attain their present condition of liberty and equal rights for all.

To develop a free government of the people and for the benefit of the people a good form of government as a basis upon which to work and a people fitted by education, experience and ideals to derive its benefits are necessary. No People can successfully govern itself until it has learned to control its passions, to disassociate liberty from license and to respect the laws which are agreed upon by the majority.

Free institutions are never developed successfully in a hurry. It takes time. It took Great Britain, the mother of modern democratic government, centuries and even those countries which have had the advantage of the British system upon which to base their own system have found that they cannot establish a free democratic government merely by the scratch of a pen or an outburst of enthusiastic oratory.

One must remember this in considering the case of Russia, which for two or three years has floundered in the mud of all sorts of radical and unworkable policies. It will take Russia time. Russians have to learn what democracy is. They have to learn to govern themselves, in the full sense of the word. At first they did not realize that self-government did not seem the complete freedom of every man and women to do as they pleased providing that they possessed the power. They thought that democracy meant a sort of transference of autocratic powers from czardom to the mujik—and then they went to greater extremes than czardom had ever attempted. Now Russia is finding that this sort of "freedom" does not work. There are signs that it is coming to realize that "freedom" means freedom for all classes and not merely the right of one class to tyrannize over others, that the advantages of a democratic government bring with them great responsibilities also, that before a people can govern a country it must learn to control itself.

All Canadians Are Forest Owners

Canada is in a unique position in regard to forests. Not only has she still large forest resources, but about 95 per cent of the land in which these forests stand belongs to the Dominion or to provincial governments—that is to the people of Canada. Nor is this ownership merely nominal. The different governments receive from the lumberman a price per thousand feet when the timber is cut and a ground rental for every year the lumberman occupies the land. Thus, in addition to the benefit Canada receives from timber as a great basis of trade and manufacture, the taxes are reduced by the amount of this revenue. It therefore doubly behooves every Canadian to do all in his power to stop forest fires. Tourists may start a fire by throwing a lighted match from a smoking-car, or a clearing fire may get away from a settler clearing his land; or a hunter or fisherman may leave his camp-fire still burning when he breaks camp. Everyone should remember that every time these things happen and a fire starts every citizen in Canada is a loser.

MODERN FESTIVALS INAUGURATED IN ITALY

One of the first festivals of modern history was at Bologna, Italy, in 1515, when the court of musicians of Francis I, King of France, and of Pope LeoX Joined for a performance. Similar festivals were known in Rome, France Bohemia and Austria.

The constaint improvement toward the mechanical perfection of orchestral instruments has made the more modern music festivals more imposing in sound than their fore-runners of ancient history. The really great festivals from the musical standpoint date from the Handel commenmoration in London 1784-'87. Festival performances of Handel's oratorios were subsequently given in Berlin and other continental cities.

TOLD IN RHYME

ARROW PARK

Oh, take me back to the park again,
Down on the Arrow Lakes,
Take me back to my home again,
Oh, how my poor heart aches.

For the dear old room of the Institute,
And the dear old friends I met.
The happy chat in the social hour,
The tea and he table set.

Oh, take me down by the hall some night
When the folks are gathering round,
From North and South from East and West,
Their steps have a merry sound.

I shall hear the boats come across the lake,
And the lads and lassies shout,
While the old moon peeps o'er the Redland's hill
To see what it is all about.

Do you mind the time when love was young
In the days of long ago,
At the end of the week when our work was done.
We went trudging through the snow?

Over the hill to Rogerson's
Be it moonlight night or dark,
And the folks would come from far and near,
The good folks of Arrow Park.

When the boys from camp would tell strange ales,
And the old time songs we'd sing
The children play while the mothers danced
And the happy hours took wing.

But where are they now, that cheerful band
Who danced in the old log shack?
Oh, some are scattered far and wide
And some will never come back.

But take me back to the park again,
There's a remnant left to me.
I'll ne'er go again seeking happiness
But let happiness come to me.

HOW TO GO ABOUT TOWN PLANNING

By A. G. DALZELL
Dominion Town Planning Expert

Whether or not there is legislation in a province giving power to cities and towns to prepare town planning schemes it is desirable that certain maps and information should be prepared as the basis for the preparation of a plan.

When these maps and the data outlined below are obtained arrangements should be made with the town planning adviser of the commission of conservation, or some other person, to submit recommendations to the council with regard to the planning of the city or town. The value of this assistance will be greater in those provinces that have Town Planning acts, than in British Columbia, where no act is available. It is obvious, therefore, that one of the first things that the cities and towns in the province should do is to get adequate legislation similar to what has been obtained in the other provinces. A copy of the draft proposed by the commission of conservation can be obtained on application to the town planning adviser at Ottawa.

Until a Town Planning act is passed, every assistance that can be given is available for those cities and towns that are themselves prepared to do certain preliminary work as outlined below. In giving this outline it has been remembered that the problem of planning a city or town is not merely one of arranging the streets and subdivisions but also one of controlling the building developments. A city that is properly planned has to be classified in such a way as to prevent indiscriminate mixing of business premises, industrial plants and residences. This classification has to be accompanied by regulations dealing with the percentage of each lot that can be built upon in the respective business, industrial and residential zones.

Similar questions relating to height of buildings, sanitation and construction of pavements have to be adjusted to suit the three different kinds of building use.

In the western cities these problems have to be so studied as to prevent the cities being too spread out into large scattered areas which enormously increase the cost of providing public utilities and maintenance.

There are the incidental questions of the provisions of parks and playgrounds and proper building restrictions for controlling the erections of wholesome dwellings.

Data to Be Obtained

The following is the data required in any city that contemplates the preparation of a plan.

1. Tracing should be prepared on the scale of 200 feet or thereabouts to one inch, accurately showing the following:

(a) Streets and subdivisions already registered;

(b) Railroads, street railways and depots;

(c) Contours of land with interval of five feet between the levels.

(d) Sewers, watermains and power and light distribution.

Map 2.—This may should be a print of Map 1 and, therefore, does not involve the preparation of a second map. The print should be made on white paper and the following things indicated:

(a) Lots built upon, in one color, and those registered but not built upon in another color;

(b) Streets improved, with pavements and sidewalks, streets partially improved and those unimproved, in different colors;

(c) Circles showing land within one-quarter of a mile of street railways or places of employment where there are no street railways.

Map 3.—Same print to be used as for Map 2 and to show in different colors:

(a) Present business area;

(c) Likely extension of business area.

(c) Present area occupied by industries;

(d) Suitable areas for extension of industries;

(e) Present residental areas.

(f) Probable future extension of residental areas.

(g) Probable lines of main highways leading out or into city or town to afford main lines of communication;

(h) Parks, recreation spaces and boulevards.

(i) Public buildings, schools churches, etc.

Show Assessment Values

Map 4 The same base map No. 1 should be used and the following colors shown:—

(a) Assessment values in each block. For instance, values from $50 per foot upwards and other values from $40 to $50; from $30 to $40 and so on downwards.

Map 5. Print of May No. 1 again to be used and following colors shown:—

(a) Maximum percentage of lot occupied by building in each block, say if a building occupies 100 per cent of a lot in one block that would mean that the block should be colored as representing 100 per cent. occupancy or if in another block the most intense use of a lot was 30 per cent that would be colored as representing 30 per cent occupancy.

Map 6. Same base map No. 1 colored to show maximum heights of buildings, thus one color might indicate that on one block there was a building eight storeys high which gave that block a maximum height of eight storeys and so on with different heights.

Map 7. Same base map No. 1 indicating by color the lots built upon subsequent to 1911.

The above maps will not require a great deal of labor as they simply require the coloring of one map showing different particulars. If, however, it is found that too much labor would be involved in preparing maps 5, 6 and 7 these might be omitted. Maps 1 to 4 are, however, essential to enable a scheme to be prepared of any value.

CHURCH AND LIQUOR IN THE OLD DAYS

Passage by the Massachusetts Senate of a bill to permit the sale of beers and light wines with an alcholic content of not more than 2.75 per cent, reminds an accomplished Massachusetts antiquarian and philosopher to send to the New York Times the bill-of-fare for the ordination of a paster of the Boston Old North Church, the church of Increase and Cotton Mather, in 1722.

To be sent to Mr. Townsend's (for ministers entertained there). one plum cake, one Cheser cheese, ½ barrel beer, two bread bricks, ½ doz. Canary wine, two pounds fresh butter, ½ barrel ale.

From the cook shops; three small pattyes, 12 doz. tarts.

To boil: 5 hams, bacon, 5 leggs porke, 15 fresh tongues, 2 dozen fowles.

To roast: 5 pieces beefe, 5 loins of veal, 5 qrs. lamb.

All sorts of sauce, as anchovies, pickles, greens, sallets, sparrow grass oysters, onions, cramberrys.

Forty pounds butter, eggs, ¼ hunreasons, ¼ do. corants, spice of all sorts, 16 puddings.

Licquer: 1 bl., beere, 1 bl., cider, ¼ cask Maderia wine, ¼ hundred powder sugar, 1 loaf refine do., 1 gallon vinegar, ½ galloon lim juice Forty bread bricks, pips and tobacco, 1 doz. drinking glasses.

The Minister's Rum

In that time of rude plenty, low prices and able appetites, such were the banquets of clergymen, men of learning and piety, of strong heads in every sense. One wonder a little that there were only a dozen drinking glasses. How many guests were there to partake of that hugh quantity of drink? How far away and incredible now that pastoral wealth of "lickquer" looks! What a contrast between that universal customary moisture and the present modest desire of the Massachusetts Senate for the mildest beer and wine! Eager reformers are too apt to forget what gigantic advances temperance has made. In the late Alice Morse Earle's "The Sabbath in Puritan New England" I sprinted the tavern keeper's bill, "all Paid except the Minister's Rum" for "keeping the ministers" at a Hartford ordination in 1784. Twenty-four dinners and three breakfasts are charged. The rest of the bill is Falstaffian. Among the entries are "2 mugs tody, 1 pint wine, 3 bitters, 15 boles punch, 11 bottles wine, 5 mugs flip, 3 boles Punch, 3 boles tody'.' If our wise and pious ancestors among the clergy were equal to this—and no doubt every one at this Hartford festivity carried his "lickquer" unblenchingly and without a quiver—of what must the laity have been capable?

"Ordination Beer"

"Ordination beer" was well known The ordination supper was a great treat. Indeed, at every popular meeting "from a corn-husking or apple-bee to a funeral" says Mrs. Earle, a liberal amount of cider, punch and grog was supplied, which latter compound beverages were often mixed on the meeting house green or even in punch bowls on the very door-steps of the church" At the "raising of a meeting house in Medford "five barrels of rum" were furnished for the workmen and lookers-on. It is not difficult to believe that "two-thirds of the frame fell and many were injured." At Pittsfield in 1671 every workman "to raise the meeting house" got a shilling a day for rum and sugar. In Northampton in 1738 ten gallons of rum were furnished for the same purpose. The village doctor got "three pounds for setting his bone, Jonathan Strong, and 13 10s for setting Ebenezer Burt's thy," a sufficient commentary on the effectiveness of the rum.

Bars at the Church Door

What seems impossible to our age, bars were actually set up at the church door, and free rum and other heady "lickquers" given to everybody. Even in 1825, when Dr. Leonard Bacon, a great character and intellect was installed as paster of the first Congregational Church of New Haven, "free drinks were furnished at an adjacent bar to all who choose to order them." But enough of illustrations of habits and customs almost unintelligible to the moderns. Not with any intention of disrespect to men and generations that played noble and fruitful parts in American life and history are these curious details given here, but to show what vast improvements in drinking habits have been attained. In many respectes, doubtless, we are inferior to our predecessors, but at least our potations and compotations with theirs are as water unto wine.

DOLL MAKING IN ENGLAND

During the war, reports Consul Gasett at Leeds, Eng., there has been firmly established at Dewsbury, in the Leeds district, an industry which formerly was almost a German monopoly. Soon after the outbreak of hostilities not only were the children of the United Kingdom deprived of their customary supplies of German-made dolls, but British manufacturers lost the whole trade with the Central Powers, to whom they had been accustomed to send large quantities of making of dolls' wigs and in the construction of pads for women's coiffures. There was also an extensive business done with the continent, as well as at home in theatrical wigs and masks, hair frames and hair pads.

For several years before the war a Dewsbury firm had been engaged in handling mohair and other kinds of hair for a variety of purposes and had at its command trained labor which could be readily adapted to enterprises on somewhat different lines. The Board of Trade realized the practicability of this firm extending its business and thus helping to overcome the situation created by the lack of German dolls and the very small supplies that were coming from France and the United States.

Some dolls were being made in England, but they were outclassed by foreign productions with which there was no effective competition. In a remarkably short period these conditions have been changed and the Dewsbury firm is now carrying on a flourishing business in all branches of the doll-making trade at a large factory equipped with up-to-date plant and machinery. Already upwards of 300 workers are employed and the output has reached considerable dimensions, with constant developments under way. The range of designs in dolls number fully 1000 and many of the models are equal to any formerly produced in foreign countries. The position has been so revised that it is hoped that not only can the home market be adequately supplied, but a considerable number of dolls exported. The production of hair frames is also being developed; the output of these is over 20,000 a week. A large percentage of them are being sent abroad, there being an excellent demand for them in all parts of the world.

QUITE SAFE

An old lady was going down a coal mine for the first time in her life. As the cage slowly descended she noticed how she and the rest of the party were dependent upon a single rope for safety. "Do you think it is quite safe?" she asked a brawny miner, who was accompanying the visitors, as she glanced up at the rope. "Don't you fear, mum," was the reply, "You're quite safe. These here ropes are guaranteed to last exactly twelve months, and this one ain't due to be renewed till tomorrow."

ACTS SHAKESPEARE AT GOOD OLD AGE

LONDON.—Cheerfulness is Genevieve Wards' elixir of life. The world's oldest tragedienne attributes her youthfulness at 83 to her ability to be bright and cheerful. She is appearing nightly as Volumnia in Shakepeare's "Coriolanus," at London's historic home of tragedy, the "Old Vic."

In the den of her charming mid-Victorian home in Regent's Park, "Miss Gene," as her friends affectionately call her, discussed herself and others. Over the tea table which she served ginger bread and salted peanuts with China tea and real cream and sugar, the recalled the historic incidents of her long career, smiled happily as any young actress over the voluminous praise of the critics upon the occasion of her reappearance in Shakespeare and declared she was going on playing Shakespeare and any other roles she likes until she is "good and tired."

"Why, I'm just as happy and fresh as a girl of 16," she smiled, "and I'm still only a girl. No one can tell me that I'm not. I'm interested in everything and everybody and I know that as long as I do retain cheerfulness and happiness I'll never grow old." And she actually got up from her easy chair and danced a few steps, just to show how happy and agile she is.

"I feel something new in Shakespeare every time I play it," she said. "In this part on the first night I felt that I wasn't going to do it justice, so I started to work myself into the part before I went on. And the difference was noticeable immediately. Even the critics noticed it," she smiled, "and then I knew I must have made an impression. I love this part of Volumnia as well as any I ever played. I think it one of Shakespeare's greatest."

Has Wonderful Den

Miss Gene showed her visitor around her den as she calls it, to which it is a privilege to be invited. Great paintings of herself in many of her famous characterizations cover the walls and the top of the grand piano is filled with photos of herself and her friends and admirers. In the corner stands an immense case filled with mementoes of her tours —America, England, Australia, New Zealand, and many European countries.

"Sometimes I feel as though I could go out and start all over again," she said. "But I'm content to remain here. I wanted to go over to Africa again, but I do not now think I shall. Most of my old friends are gone."

Then Miss Gene began to discuss the girls of today. "I don't know what is to become of them. Their condition is perilous, to say the least.

"Why, I went to an afternoon dance the other day and all I saw was a lot of hips, wiggling and a lot of other motions. There wasn't any dancing. It wasn't like the dancing I did when I was a girl—the graceful waltz and the two-step. There was some sense to them —there's none to these so-called dances of today.

"I tell you these women today have altogether too much freedom. They are hysterical half of them. I suppose it is caused by the war, but it is spoiling them. Look at the way they dress—up to their knees and almost down to their waists.

"Look at Lady Astor! What does she want to be in the House of Commons for? She should be home taking care of her children, the same as should all the rest of the women who are trying to take men's jobs.

"God made man and women different—for different work in life, and why should we dare to presume to change His plans? I tell you we cannot do it. Women have enough to do bearing and rearing children, without taking on any more responsibilities. Woman wields enough influence over man as it is. She rears the boy and directs his life until he reaches manhood, and after that she pretty well does as she likes with him. But it wrong for her to attempt to assume his responsibilities."

Her sincerity was emphasized by the vigorous nods of her head as she spoke and the flashing of her wonderful blue eyes. She pounded the tea table to give further weight to her opinion on the frailties of modern women.

Favors Easier Divorce Laws

Progress of the divorce reform bills now in parliament is an item of intense interest to Miss Ward. As long ago as 1890 she spoke in favor of easier divorce in England.

"No sir," she concluded, "I'm not through yet. I've just received an offer of $500 a week to appear at the Strand theater in a new play, and I am accepting it. So I am feeling all right."

WANT ADS IN 1700

In the reign of William III. one John Houghton, who combined the business of apothecary with that of a dealer in "tea, coffee, and chocolate," commenced an advertizing paper which he called "A collector for the Improvement of Husbandry and Trade." In those old days the editor of the paper and the advertizer frequently spoke in the first person singular, while the advertiser also often spoke through the editor. The issues of this curious publication contained many advertisements regarding the musical profession, of which a few specimens taken at random will serve to give a tolerably good idea of the style then prevalent:

"I want a negro man that is a good house carpenter and a good singer."

"If any young man that plays well on the violin and writes a good hand desires a clerkship, I can help him to £20 a year."

"I want a complete young man that will wear lively, to wait on a very valuable gentleman, but he must know how to play on a violin or flute."

"I want a genteel footman that can play on the violin to wait on a person of honor."

"If I can meet with a sober man that has a counter-tenor voice I can help him to a place worth £20 the year or more."—London Musical Times.

WAR GARDENS

It is more necessary today in Canada to produce foodstuffs than it was during the years of the war. Chaos in Europe has produced a shortage that is taxing the lands where peace reigns and the tiller of the soil can pursue his labors unhampered. The War Garden should remain with us, an object lesson in industry, thrift and individual foresight. In our urban communities the necessities of the situation confronting us are quite apparent. As we sow we shall reap. The garden offers a chance to reduce living expenses to which sensible Canadians are committed. In Brantford the Expositor is urging citizens to produce. "Every vegetable which the back yard or vacant lot produces is added wealth, for all material wealth comes from the soil. Every cabbage, lettuce head or tomato produced from soil which would otherwise be idle is a contribution, however small, to the aggregate of production. With it, too, comes the satisfaction of having produced that wealth through contact with the soil oneself—and every housewife knows that no vegetables can be so crisp, so fresh, as those taken as needed from the producing soil adpacent."

The Brantford argument applies to Galt. Here we threw ourselves into the ward garden movement with an energy that was really surprising. We had good pilots and hundreds of willing workers, and back yards, gardens and vacant lots were made important resources of supplies for the table. Experience has taught us what to do, and we will be derlict in our duty to the country if we cease working the garden, back yard, vacant lot and poultry yard to the limit of our energy. The Reporter has been informed that in some quarters a disposition to chuck the movement exists. We trust there is no real ground for such an analysis of the situation in Galt. The community cannot afford to cease efforts in this direction.

TREES ARE ACTUAL LIGHTING SUPPLY

The candle-tree is to be found in the Pacific Islands. The nut which it yields produces a large quantity or oil, and the kernels of this candle-nut are strung together on a stick and lighted as a candle.

The fruit of the cradle-tree is usually about 42 inches long, and about an inch in diameter. Of a yellowish tint, the fruit, as it hangs on the tree, looks exactly like a collection of wax candles. Not only have these wonderful trees been discovered in the Pacific Islands, but it is recorded that some have been known to thrive in the Isle of Wight.

Then there is the Japanese wax-tree, the fruit of which is mostly pure wax. This is used in making wax candles. The 'wax fruit' which this remarkable tree bears, grows in bunches, just like grapes.

In China too, a wonderful wax is obtained from a shrub, called the "Stilingia Sebifera." This tree produces bunches of berries, and in the autumn, when these are quite white and the leaves have put on their autumn-color," a beautiful, striking Nature picture is presented.

And, finally, there have been known to grow certain luminous mushrooms! This may seem incredible, but the fact remains that Dr. W. H. Harvey has recorded that when in Port Jackson, in some woods one night, he was able to see the time from his watch by the aid of the light from some luminous "agarics" (mushrooms).—Answers.

CALGARY PAGEANT IS WONDERFUL

Creates a Canadian Record in Historically Magnificent Display

CALGARY, May 12.—Not since the Tercentary of Quebec has there been attempted in Canada, it is believed, a historical pageant on the scale of that which was offered in Calgary this afternoon, in connection with the 250th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay company. A pageant over three miles in length, taking an hour to pass, represented practically every feature of the history and development of the west since 1670. The Hudson's Bay section represented the history of the company from 1670, and the costumes were most elaborate. The other sections represented the growth of the province, the mounted police turning out in force, headed by Col. Walker, nearly, 80 years old, riding a charger, in the full uniform of a colonel of the Mounted Police of 1870. Indians and cowboys formed a big feature of the pageant. There were models of the Hudson's Bay ship "Nonsuch," models of the old forts, and other features. Prince Rupert was represented by an officer of the Strathcona Horse. Sir Robert Kindersley rode in front, with Lieut. Governor Brett. There were sections representing the growth of Calgary.

STAGE UPLIFT TO COMMUNITY LIFE

"It is not the stage that needs uplifting, but the community," said Tyrone Power, during the course of an interesting interview, when he briefly discussed the influence of the stage on the people, and its place in the community. He declared that he had found in Canada, in many places, that if one wanted to find the theatre devoted to the best in dramatic art, one would have to go to the meanest, dirtiest and most sordid streets in the city. If you were to ask me what relationship the theatre has to the life of the country, I would say none. It is regarded as a place to be used as a retreat from the cares of life, and the people enter it without any thought, and think that it has no bearing on life. Lord Macauley has said that the rise and fall of a nation may be traced through its drama. That is a great thought, and though I do not pose as a mentor or a guide, I find that the sort of plays I present have but a fleeting interest for many who attend. I am told that it is too intellectual, and that people want to see melodrama, and musical comedy. I am asked to speak at different places, and am told it will bring better business. I tell those to whom I speak that I want them to come and see the play, but my remarks will have no effect on the box-office receipts. The business of an actor is to act, and not to drum up trade. Though I am told my plays are too intellectual, and that I should give the people cheap melo-drama and slap-dash comedy, and so pack the theatre, I will not lower my standards, though I sink."

The Community's Fault

"If I should be asked why plays of a higher class nature do not appeal to the people I say the answer is with the community. We have acted in theatres that are a disgrace, and this is places where there are beautiful homes and churches. The influence of the theatre is none and is simply a place for a show and has no integral place in the life of the community. They do not take the theatre seriously. The names of great play writers are merely names to them, the names of men who have written potent and constructive dramas. I say it is not the stage that needs uplifting but the people."

Discusses the Movies

Mr. Power declared that the great bulk of the moving pictures of the day are demoralizing the people, and because of them they are ceasing to read and think. He also was of the opinion that a good deal of the responsibility of the betterment of stage productions rested a good deal with those persons who are entrusted with the writing of the criticisms of any play that comes to a community.

"They want to be kind to all and do not care to be candid and the result is the people have been hood-winked" he declared. "They feel they cannot trust what a paper says about a play. The people have a right to see the best, and the best is to be had, if the demand and place is at hand."

BENEFITS OF WEALTH

An objection to the variety of prohibition we have in Ontario is that it is a "rich man's law" The charge was made when provisions of the O. T. A. were first announced, and is repeated each time the subject is under discussion. It appears to be the fact that many Toronto citilens purchase thousands of dollars' worth of liquor in Montreal before the War Times Act prohibited such business, and have renewed their orders since the first of the year. Undoubtedly men who have the money and are willing to spend it on liquor can easily buy enough to serve their own personal needs and to entertain their friends for years to come. As far as they are concerned, prohibition does not operate. But the point that is lost sight of by those who are aware of the handicap under which the poor man labors when he desires to buy liquor is that it is the same handicap that he struggled against from the cradle to the grave, unless he happens to become prosperous. The poor man must buy in small quantities; he must often buy on credit, and both these forms of buying are more expensive in the long run than purchasing in large quantities and for cash The man who has to buy his butter by the pound, his tea by the half-pound and his ice in small cakes does not get as much for his money as his rich neighbor who can buy his winter supply of coal in the summer, when it is cheapest, and can generally purchase in wholesale quantities any time he sees a bargain.

The poor man may have to buy cheap clothes, while the wealthy man can afford to spend enough to buy clothing of good quality. The wealthy man can buy a fur coat that will last thirty years; the poor man may have to buy half a dozen coats in that time, getting less comfort out of them. No, it has not been left to the O.T.A. to prove that in the practical affairs of everyday life the rich man has a great advantage It is the same in the United States, where it is nearer the bone dry condition than in Canada. There is plenty of liquor to be bought if a man doesn't care what he pays for it. If a man is willing to part with a dollar or a couple of dollars for a drink, or $20 for a bottle, he can be supplied almost as certainly as in the days before prohibition. To make it a criminal offence for a man to have liquor in his home might be possible for legislators. It would be difficult to make a complete success of the enforcement of such a law. In practice it has been found that prohibition makes liquor expensive and inferior. It sobers those who drank only because the stuff was cheap and easily accessible.—Globe.

A SECOND JOAN ?

An illustration of the greatly revived interest in the supernatural which was given birth by the war is provided by the case of Claire Ferchaud. By some millions of French people she is believed to be a second Joan of Arc, a fact sufficiently attested by the 20,000 people who go every month to the little village where she lives. She is the daughter of a peasant at Lublanc, in the Department Duex Seyres, and was born in 1897. At the age of fourteen she told her family that she was receiving supernatural visitations, that the angels were appearing to her and communicating information concerning the future When war broke out the girl was told to say that victories would not come to the French armies until they were commanded by a true son of the Roman Catholic Church. At this time Joffre was in command and the girl's prediction was made use of by those who believed that the Marshal's period of usefulness had passed with the end of the Allies' defensive operations. In 1916 she was questioned by an ecclesiastical commission which sat at Poitiers and held its examination in the very room where the Maid of Orleans was catechised nearly five hundred years before. The commission, appointed by the Holy See, found that Claire was undoubtedly inspired from above, and thenceforward her utterances had the official approval of the Church.

When Foch was placed in command of the Allied armies the girl said that victory was certain, and she also predicted accuracy that France would have a stormy period after the peace treaty was signed This period will be extended until 1922, she says, in which year there will arise leaders who will be devout men, and will make public acknowledgment of the supremeacy of a Higher Power. When that day comes, Claire says that her mission on earth having been completed, she will pass away. The girl's revelations concern themselves largely with the Sacred Heart, and it is said that one of the results was that in the later years of the war the demand for these symbols far exceeded the supply. Cardinal Lucon took her to Paris and there she requested President Poincaire to have the images affixed to the flags of the French Army. She also asked Clemenceau to appoint a day for public intercession throughout France. Neither of these requests were granted, since they would have created political friction. It seems not improbable that the day will come when this ignorant peasant girl will take her place beside Saint Joan, France has not been so stirred by supernatural messages since the burning of the Maid of Domremy—Daily Mail and Empire.

EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN PLANS—RATES MODERATE

The landlords have opened their hearts and have already expended nearly six thousand dollars ($6,000) during the last six months on the dining room and enlarged a portion of this hotel as well as the main building and are ready to expend more. The object is to give Trail a firstclass hotel for the traveling public, which has been needed very badly. There have been six newly furnished bedrooms added to the hotel for the commercial trade which is a great asset in assisting the management to give the commercial man comforts; and the newly finished and furnished dining room is certainly a credit to the town of Trail. The hotel will run in the future first class both in service and quality of food at moderate prices that will satisfy the traveling public and make the Arlington Hotel popular.

TRAIL WEDDINGS DEPLETE STOCKS

Jewellers Find Demands For Gifts Making Heavy Inroads

TRAIL, May 12.—Owing to the numerous weddings and other occasions calling for gifts and presentations the local jewellers are finding their stocks getting down pretty low these days. This, however, should not be considered good grounds for complaint.

The first aid class met in the zinc plant dining room and had practice on bandaging and resuscitation, and also had an oral review of the lectures given up to the present time.

The indexing committee of the memorial building had a meeting Monday night, and made good progress towards alloting canvassing cards to the different groups and districts.

SOCIALISTS CUT CHURCH BIT OUT

United States Party Deletes Platform Reference to Souls

NEW YORK, May 22.—"The religious issue" today plunged the national convention of the Socialist party of America in a turmoil of excited debate, out of which conservative forces won the eradication of reference to churches from the first half of the party's 1920 declaration of principles.

Denounced as bad politics by Victor L. Berger, unseated United States congressman from Wisconsin, a declaration that a privileged few in this country own the peoples churches and "regulate their souls," was voted down by an overwhelming majority. After Berger had pronounced against the declaration, August Claessens and Charles Solomon, two of the five recently expelled New York assemblymen, explained the aid which the Socialist movement had received from clergymen and rabbis throughout the world, arguing against the "dragging in of this thing, which can do most to prejudice the masses against us."

MOUNTAINEER OF REVELSTOKE DIES

REVELSTOKE, May 12.—Harry Siegfried, a Revelstoke old-timer, died on the steamer Minto northbound, about one hour out of Nakusp, Tuesday afternoon, from paralysis of the throat. He was a native of Switzerland and an Alpiner, having climbed all the prominent mountains in this vicinity. He came here in 1900, and was an expert linguist.

It was also decided to arrange a new schedule of fees, and to cooperate with the bar associations of Regina and Moosejaw in this respect.

VANCOUVER, May 12.—P. Peterson, Pemberton Meadows, fitted out in a new suit of clothes, this week boarded the Pacific Great Eastern railway for his first train ride, and fully enjoyed the novelty. Mr. Peterson is a trapper, miner and rancher, and he is not only an old timer in the valley, but he is an old timer in British Columbia.

TRAIL PASTOR FOR CHILLIWACK

TRAIL, May 12.—It is understood that Rev. Field Yolland, of Fernie, has definitely accepted the invitation of the vestry of St. Andrew's church here to become the successor to Rev. H. R. Ragg, who is leaving this parish next month to take up work in Chilliwack.

Mr. Ragg has been rector of St. Andrews for five years, and has been very successful in building up the church, and it is only owing to the delicate health of his family that he is desirous of making a change. His parishioners will greatly regret his loss, but trust that the change will prove beneficial to the members of his family.

WILL AUCTION KAISER'S THRONE

Effects Seized After Abdication Now Offered in New York

NEW YORK, May 12.—The imperial German throne is to be sold here at auction. Household effects of the former Kaiser, and other members of the German imperial family, seized from the imperial palaces of Berlin and Munich for unpaid bills, after the emperor abdicated and went to Holland, also will be sold under the hammer here May 22, one of the city's largest art collectors announced today.

Sixty-five pieces are in the imperial collection which was brought here two weeks ago by the purchaser and importer Val Demar Povelson. He declared he had considerable difficulty in getting an export permit from the German government, which was obtained, he said, only after he had promised to buy food with the net profits, for resale in Germany.

Authenticity of the art objects is vouched for by one of Berlin's most reputable art firms.

Three complete salons with portieres embroidered with German Eagles; wall hangings; rugs and antinques which have belonged to the imperial German family for centuries, are said to be included in the collection. Three complete sets of furniture, including one made for the Empress Elizabeth, wife of Frederick Wilhelm IV., are also for sale. The Kaiser, according to Mr. Povelson, was not always prompt about paying his bills. Immediately upon his flight, trades people whose patience was exhausted seized household belongings in payment for their accounts.

NEW MINIMUM FOR METHODISTS

Dr. Chown Favors Basic Salary of Fifteen Hundred for Ministers

TORONTO, May 12.—"The Methodist church of Canada should have a minimum salary of not less than $1500 for its ministers," is the statement of Rev. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of that denomination in Canada. "The present minimum is $1200, and an allowance of $150 for horsekeep or automobile hire." Dr. Chown's declaration for a $1500 minimum is the first official intimation of what is likely to be the new policy of the church.

MINNEAPOLIS LAWYER AND BOOZE SMUGGLING

MINNEAPOLIS, May 12.—A warrant was issued late yesterday for the arrest of William M. Nash, a Hennepin county attorney, on the complaint of United States District Attorney Jacques, charging "conspiracy to receive, conceal and facilitate transportation and concealment of whiskey imported into Minneapolis from Winnipeg, Canada." Nash will be arraigned tomorrow.

MOTHER DIES ON ROAD TO CANADA

Tragedy Overtakes Happy Family Seeking a Prairie Home

NEW YORK, May 12.—Misfortune and misery were written tragically in to the records of the Ellis Island immigration station today, when the death of Mrs. King, in Bellevue hospital, released from the detention quarters her husband and their four little children, the eldest just turning five, and the youngest an infant of six weeks.

Happy in the prospect of a life of peace and plenty on a farm in Saskatchewan, Wilfrid King, 36, arrived here last week from England, accompanied by his wife and children. Elizabeth Counsell, a nurse girl, 19 years of age, was also a member of the party. When the voyage was almost completed, Mrs. King fell sick with pneumonia, and when the steamer docked she was in such a dangerous condition that she was removed to a hospital. The family was sent to Ellis Island, all but the baby. The dying mother insisted on taking her youngest to the hospital with her.

When news came to Ellis Island today that the woman had died, the immigration authorities took special care to prepare for a safe and comfortable journey to Canada for the bereaved family. Red Cross nurses cooked special delicacies for the children, and prepared a diet for the infant. The steamship company, according to rule, made arrangements for the burial of Mrs. King in a Long Island cemetery, and King left with his motherless family to finish his long journey.

GUGGENHEIMS IN GERMAN COMPANY

Believed to Be Prelude to Large Exports of Copper to Germany

NEW YORK, May 12.—Purchase by the Guggenheim interests through Kuhn Loeb & Co., of a large block of the new shares of the German Central Electric company of Berlin, was the subject of much speculation here today, because it was believed in the financial district to pave the way to similar negotiations by other interests in this country.

Representatives of the Guggenheim's declined to discuss the details of the transaction, but in the metal trade it was regarded as a prelude to exports of copper to Germany on an enlarged scale.

According to bankers in touch with the former Central empires, preparations are under way for heavy shipments of other raw materials to Germany and Austria, to be used as the basis of credit expansions. Leather, wool, and oils, chiefly lubricants, are expected to figure in these shipments. The fact that the United States still is technically at war with Germany, will not interfere with the importation of these supplies, it was declared.

ST. LAWRENCE OR HUDSON BAY FIRST

Western Unionists Decide to Wait For Further Information

OTTAWA, May 12 (Canadian Press).—Western supporters of the government held a meeting today to discuss the deepening of the St. Lawrence river as it will affect the Hudson Bay railway.

It was decided to wait until the international waterways commission, which is now in the west, has had a chance to put the whole case before the people. Several members reported having received requests from boards of trade to oppose the deepening scheme, on the grounds that the Hudson Bay proposition should be completed first, it requiring but four or five millions to complete, while the larger project will run to between two and three hundred millions.

The conference, however, decided that the "wait and see" policy was the better one to adopt at the present time. Dr. W. D. Cowan, Regina, presided.

CHOKED MAN DEAD FREED BY JURY

SASKATOON, May 12.—Fourteen days after choking to death Harry D'Orguerre, his landlord, John Arthur was acquitted of murder by a jury at Kindersley criminal court today. The jury took eight minutes to arrive at the conclusion that Arthur acted in self defense, when he got into a violent quarrel with his landlord, and, seizing him by the throat, choked his life out.

CHARGES FRAME-UP

MINNEAPOLIS, May 12.—Simultaneously with his formal plea of "not guilty" to charges connecting him with a liquor conspiracy case here, William N. Nash, Hennepin county attorney, today presented his temporary resignation pending the disposition of the charges. In a statement today, Nash charged his arrest to a "political frame-up" because of his activity in the prosecution of certain persons.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

First West Kootenay League Match to Be Played at Trail

At a meeting of representatives of the West Kootenay Football league held in this city last evening, officers were elected for the current year, and it was decided to hold the first league match of the season at Trail on May 24. In the absence of the president, F. J. Boles, president of the Nelson Athletic association, was asked to take the chair.

The business of election being quickly dispatched, a short discussion ensued as to the date and place of the first league match. It was finally decided to hold it at Trail. It was also decided that the visiting team should be allowed 14 round trip fares for their players.

A copy of the rules of the British Columbia Football association was handed over to the Nelson executive officer, A Wallach, from which copies are to be made for reference by the local seniors, it being pointed out that the West Kootenay league was affiliated with the British Columbia association, and must play according to the rules of the association. It was stated that Trail would ask Rossland seniors to join the league.

Those appointed to office were: Honorary president, S. G. Blaylock, Trail, and Mayor J. A. McDonald of Nelson; president, E. J. Fowler, Trail; vice-president, Jack Morris, Nelson; secretary-treasurer, P. McLennon, Trail. A. Wallach of Nelson and J. Balfour of Trail were appointed on the executive committee.

Those representing Trail at the meeting were: J. Balfour, E. J. Fowler, and P. McLennon. Nelson was represented by F. J. Boles, J. B. Smith, A. Wallach, J. Morris.

CANADIAN GOLF MEET AT OTTAWA

MONTREAL, May 12.—The executive of the Canadian Golf association yesterday decided to award the Canadian open golf championship to the River Mead Golf club, Ottawa, to take place Aug. 24 to 27. Amongst those participating, as far as is known, is only one western Canada man, George Aylon, of Regina. J. Douglas Egan, of Atlanta, Georgie, the present Canadian open champion, will appear to defend his title, and Karl Keffer, of Ottawa, will try to regain it. Vardon and Ray, the noted English professionals will probably take part also.

PRINCE RUPERT, May 12.—Chet Neff, of Seattle, was given the decision over Charley McCarthy, of Calgary, here tonight, at the end of a 12-round bout. McCarthy claimed the lightweight championship of Canada. The bout was fairly even throughout, but Neff was the aggressor.

DON'T READ WHEN DROWSY

To read or study when tired or drowsy is to strain the eyes to a dangerous degree, writes W. M. Carhart in Public Health. Avoid evening study whenever possible. If you are using your eyes by artificial light, be sure the light does not shine directly into the eyes, and try to have it come from behind and to the left side so as to avoid the harmful glare.

JURY ACQUITS SETO FONG AFTER THREE MINUTES DELIBERATION

Story of Revolting Cruelty Revealed at Trial for Manslaughter; Chinese Boy Turns on Step-Father Bully and Kills Him; Court Justifies the Act; Jury of the same Opinion

A story of revolting cruelty was revealed yesterday at the local assizes, before Mr. Justice Morrison, at the trial of Seto Fong, the Chinese for manslaughter of his step father, Seto G. Kim, which resulted in the acquittal of the accused man. Seto's story, corroborated by witnesses, was that he was treated as a slave, thrashed and abused, forced to extremely hard work and sometimes starved.

A witness related how on one occasion the inhuman stepfather tied the boy to a tree, with arms fastened behind, threw water on him in winter weather, and as a crowning infamy forced unutterable filth down his throat. Other Chinese stepped in and stopped the treatment.

Once the bully threatened the boy's life with an automatic pistol, but the pistol was taken away.

On the day of the tragedy the old man threatened the boy's life with a fence post, and the defence successfully set up by his counsel, A. Donaghy, was that he threw an iron wedge in self defence at his assailant, which killed him.

E. E. Guille, foreman, and the following jurymen, were sworn: H. Pitts, Jos. M. Armstrong, A. J. Gibson, Wm. Mack, C. R. Walker, A. W. Appleyard, John S. Page, J. H. O'Donnell, W. J. Gebracht, Jas. S. McGregor and Edward Doucette.

James O'Shea, crown prosecutor, outlining the case for the crown, said the accused was charged with unlawfully killing his step-father, Seto G. Kim, on Nov. 30, 1919. The accused and his father were working at the Apex lumber camp, cutting piles and posts. They worked together and lived in one room of a two-roomed shack. The other room was occupied by two other Chinese. On the evening of Nov. 30, accused told the other two Chinese that his father was dead. On the following morning he also told John St. Denis that his father was dead, and took him to a spot in the bush where they had been working, and there the body was found. The body was covered with bark, and as the conditions indicated that the old man had been killed, Seto Fong was charged with having unlawfully killed his father.

Witnesses for Crown

John St. Denis deposed that he knew the accused and his father, who worked on a contract at Apex cutting timber, about three-quarters of a mile from his camp. On the morning of Dec. 1, accused came to him and reported that his father was "broke." He took this to mean that the old man was hurt. He went to the shack and with the accused and the Chinaman, Der Muk, found the body. To his knowledge the dead man was a fighting bully who systematically ill-treated the boy.

Mrs. St. Denis, wife of the last witness, corroborated.

Wo Sing, a former partner of the deceased, spoke of his ungovernable temper, and cruelties to the accused.

Dr. Gilbert Hartin gave evidence of examining the body. He found an indented fracture of the left side of the skull, the wound which caused death, and injuries at the root of the nose and on the left shoulder.

Boy of Gentle Character

A. Donaghy, defending Seto Fong, made a strong appeal to the jury, spoke of the humble and gentle character of the boy, who had suffered insults, ill-treatment and indignities past all bearing, and had at last turned on his persecutor and in self defence thrown an iron wedge and killed him.

Seto Fong, giving evidence on his own behalf, admitted killing his step-father. The man had treated him badly, had thrashed him, overworked him and starved him. On Nov. 30 he had complained that he was cutting the posts too small, and rushed at him with a fence post, threatening him, with vile language, and saying he would "knock his head off." He was frightened and threw the wedge at him.

His step-father ducked and the wedge hit him on the left side of the head, and knocked him down. He tried to lift him up but could not. He dragged him to a pile of posts, and covered him with bark to protect him from wild animals, and went and told the Chinese. Next day he went and told Mr. St. Denis. He had been afraid for his life and threw the wedge in self-defence. The man had struck him in the morning, and was going to strike him again when he threw the wedge.

For the crown, Mr. O'Shea admitted the horrible character of the dead man, but challenged the evidence for the defence, which failed to explain a pool of blood at some distance from the spot where the body fell. The defence admitted a single blow, but the blood pool and the nature of the wounds proved that the man must first of all have been wounded and dazed, and then finished off with a further blow or blows, probably by a sledge hammer produced.

Summing up

His lordship, in summing up, spoke of the brutal and inhuman conduct of the dead man, and of the boy's patient submission and even defence of his tormentor, of the times he had been deprived of food, and the intense provocation received.

The plea of self defence he considered borne out in the evidence, and in this case self defence did not necessarily stop at a single blow. He had had reason to believe from past experience that when the step father threatened to kill him, he meant what he said, and was justified in following up one blow with another.

The accused had not subsequently behaved in a guilty manner, but had told his friends and had gone to Mr. St. Denis, and tried to telephone to Nelson.

He had not been heartless, but had wept when telling the St. Denis'. Moreover, he had fresh injuries on that morning, to support that the dead man had been the aggressor and had struck him.

If the jury believed the boy, they had to admit that the homicide was justifiable, and to acquit him.

After an absence of three minutes, the jury brought in a verdict of "Not guilty."

POSTPONE MEETING

A meeting of the Nelson Improvement association was called for last night at the city hall, but, the city council being in possession, it was decided to postpone the meeting for one week.

TWO YEARS FOR THUGS

SASKATOON, May 12.—Sentences of two years in the provincial penitentiary at Prince Albert were today imposed on Nick Perhinez and Mike Koraruk, who were found guilty by a jury in king's bench court tonight on a charge of obtaining money by violence. The complainant, a fellow Russian, was a victim of a wild automobile ride, following a poker game in which they failed to put over their coup to rake in his roll of bills.

Some of the most popular numbers at the concert Tuesday night, which opened the local Hudson's Bay company anniversary celebration, were vocal solos by Mrs. Pearson, the new vocalist who has recently arrived in Nelson.

CITY LICENSES FOR NEAR-BEER

Council Delays Decision to Special Meeting; Town Plans Ordered

What sum the city of Nelson will exact from parties wishing to sell near-beer in their establishments, for licenses, will be determined at a special meeting of the city council next Monday night, it was decided at the last night's council session. Mayor J. A. McDonald gave the council particulars of the new provincial act providing for such licenses.

It was considered that the whole license question should be revied, at the special meeting, in order to put licensing on a better basis.

Town Planning

Following debate on Mr. Dalzell's lecture last Monday, the council authorized the board of works to engage such special services as were necessary to have all plans prepared and data compiled as laid down in Mr. Dalzell's specifications, and then to submit the matter for his specific advice.

An application by the Nelson Women's institute for repairs at Connaugh Park, to the bath houses, tables, benches in the grounds, etc., was referred to the street railway committee, with power to act.

An application from the Chinese Masonic Hall owner that the sidewalk in front of its property should be repaired, referred to the board of works with power to act.

To Protect Mortgagor

Dr. W. O. Rose tendered payment of rates on Block 61 of Lot 95 as the only way he could, as mortgagor, secure title, as he could not get in touch with the original owner.

The council agreed that he should be protected, and acceded to his request.

His worship was authorized to make such electrical additions, and alterations as he considered advisable, in tendering welcome to convention delegates.

Publicity Question

Sympathy with the board of trade's objects and usefulness was voiced, and the question of what support should be given to its publicity scheme was referred to special meeting.

Ald. McHardy referred to the new act granting the municipalities an amusement tax, as a "municipal gold brick," probably unworkable.

Ald. Patenaude thought the views of amusement caterers should be taken and considered.

Ald. McHardy was requested to interview properietors of amusement places, and report back to the council.

Bylaws 317—Scavenging, and 318—Garages, were finally passed and adopted.

FATHER SUES TO HAVE CHILDREN

Case of Stahl vs. Stahl Being Heard Before Mr. Justice Morrison

An action in court yesterday before Mr. Justice Morrison was brought by Mr. Stahl of Nelson against his wife for control of the children of the marriage.

The plaintiff alleged that his wife did not look after the children, quarrelled about their schooling; abused both him and the children, and used violence.

He was a Protestant and she a Catholic and her sister, he said, had made all the trouble, forcing him for the sake of peace to go through a Catholic form of marriage.

Mrs. Stahl denied the allegations, and said she was always a good mother, and wished to live at peace with her husband. She corrected the children when they deserved it. Her husband had not objected to the children being baptised Catholics, and she considered it her right to have them brought up as Catholics.

A lady witness for the defendant volubly spoke of the defendant's qualities as a wife and mother. The husband she criticized severely.

At the closing of court the case stood part heard.

HUDSON BAY FETE A GREAT SUCCESS

Day of Sport at Recreation Grounds Draws a Large Crowd

With a full afternoon devoted to athletic sports, that included two senior intercity matches and numerous races for school children, and with the Veterans and the Kilties bands adding a jovial touch to the proceedings, the major part of the Hudson's Bay 25 th anniversary celebration program was witnessed by a crowd of adults and children that overflowed the grand stand in the recreation grounds yesterday afternoon, and lined the field of play four or five deep.

The first event was a baseball match between Kaslo and this city, in which the local boys retrieved what was likely to become a bad defeat in the last inning, and won by a single run.

From 3 o'clock until 5 was to have been devoted to running all the races for school children, but the youngsters appearing in such large numbers when escorted to the grounds by the Kilties band on their release from school, it was found impossible to conclude the races, and the remainder will be run off on Saturday afternoon.

Fire Chief Guthrie acted as starter, and F. J. Boles was the record keeper, while Mayor J. A. McDonald and Ald. C. F. McHardy were the judges. The races were run in heats, there being in some cases 20 entrants for a single event. Certificates were given to the first three in the final of each event, which when presented to any store in the city were to be exchanged for goods to the value marked on them.

The following were the prize winners in each class:
