IRISH CRIMES BILL PASSES SECOND READING; ANGRY DEBATE IN BRITISH HOUSE

Asquith Starts Heated Duel With Premier; Says Cromwellian Treatment Needed for Irish Situation; Believes Dominion Home Rule Will Cancel Call for Republic; Days of Parnell Recalled; Lords Debate Without a Division

LONDON, Aug. 5.—After debate which developed great heat and personal scenes between Lloyd George and Herbert H. Asquith, the government at 11 o'clock tonight defeated the motion of John Robert Clines (Laborite) for rejection of the new Irish crimes bill, and the measure passed second reading by a vote of 289 to 71.

The voting was carried out under a motion moved in the house early in the day by Andrew Bonar Law, providing for passage of the bill by six o'clock tomorrow evening.

At the very opening of the debate the days of Parnell were recalled. Mr. Asquith started an angry duel with the premier by declaring the situation in Ireland needed Cromwellian treatment, but that he could see no Cromwell in the government.

The premier retorted by describing Mr. Asquith as Cromwell when he was in power. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, opened the discussion by explaining it was not intended for the bill to supercede the ordinary courts, it would only apply to disturbed areas at the discretion of the Irish government, and would not be operated in a revengeful spirit.

Mr. Asquith then spoke, blaming the government for the present position in Ireland. This met with angry cries of dissent. He declared he was not scared by the spectre of an Irish republic, because he believed that to concede dominion home rule to Ireland would cause the cry of a republic to dwindle away.

Adopt Guillotine Resolution

LONDON, (Can. Assd. Press)—The commons today gave second reading to the Irish crimes bill, to ensure the progress of which a special guillotine resolution was adopted.

Will Reject Colonial Home Rule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Eamonn DeValera, self-styled "President of the Irish Republic" made public here today a cablegram he has sent to Arthur Griffiths, acting head of the the "republic" characterizing as absurd reports that DeValera had written to associates in Ireland that he would accept colonial home rule. "From cable dispatches published here," his message said. "It is evident that an attempt is being made to fool the Irish people into the belief that I have written a letter indicating that I would acept colonial home rule. I have, of course, never at any time written any such letter. Any one in possession of a leter of mine, no matter how confidential, on any such topic, is free to publish it.

"Surely no one can think that now when the republic is established it would counsel a course which I refused to stand for when the republic was yet a hope. The whole thing is absurd.

Debate Without Division

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The house of Lords debated today without a division the motion calling attention to the deplorable condition of Ireland.

Allege Daily Press Demoralizes the Buying Public

REGINA, Aug. 5.—Allegations that "unfounded, untrue and ill-advised articles that appear from time to time in our daily press" were responsible for demoralizing the buying public, were made to the board of commerce by the Saskatchewan Retail Merchants association here today.

The merchants contended that publication of stories of declining markets had a bad effect on merchant and purchasers.

The merchants asked the board to make statements from time to time showing the varying cost of commodities, and conduct an education along these lines. "It would necessarily follow," said the statement to the board," that the press be requested not to give publicity to every rumor that circulated without submitting same to the trade section affected."

ANTICIPATE MAMMOTH GATHERING

Premier Meighen's First Political Address to Be at Stirling

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press).—The picnic in West Hastings county represented in parliament by Gus Hastings, at which Hon. Arthur Meighen on August 11 will deliver his first address dealing with political subjects since becoming prime minister, will be held at the town of Stirling, sixteen miles from Belleville.

Posters announcing the event received in Ottawa this morning indicate that the gathering will be of mammoth proportions.

Mr. Meighen has been asked to speak in St. John, N. B., and Colchester, N. S., the constituencies in which Hon. F. B. McCrudy and R. G. Wigmore respectively are seeking re-election. and he will very likely go to the Maritime provinces some time this month.

ENUNCIATES NEWSPAPER PRINCIPLES

Premier Addresses Empire Press Conference on Need for Truth

FAVORITE VIOLATION IS TELLING HALF-TRUTHS

Says Press Work as Vital to the Community as Government Itself

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (Can. Press).—Speaking before a gathering which included his excellency the governor-general, members of the government and of parliament, delegates to the Imperial Press conference from the four corners of the Empire, and other prominent men in the life of the Dominion, Premier Arthur Meighen tonight enunciated the principle which in his opinion should govern the writers and distributers of news.

The distribution of news is now the greatest trust in the whole body democratic, he declared. "The opportunities for good are infinite, the possibilities of mischief are just as vast. In my way of looking at it there is only one motto an editor need to bother much about and that is to tell the truth. For a good newspaperman, I think there is only one proverb, "The truth shall make you free."

Pleads for Fair Presentation

Mr. Meighen explained to the gathering that there were a number of ways in which newspapermen might fail to live up to the spirit of this principle. Misstatements might be made, under-statements or over-statements published, but the favorite method, he declared, was the half truth.

Certain facts were torn from other facts of possibly greater importance, and featured, with the result that a wrong impression was made on the public mind. He made a plea for a fair and just presentation of facts by the newspapers, declaring that they had a work to perform which was as vital a concern to the community as government itself.

Asks Support for League of Nations

The prime minister asked support for the league of nations. "Let us lay hold on every instrument and organization which makes for peace and give it our help," he said. "Let us encourage the league of nations. Canada intends to do her part in the work of making it succeed. He said

Woman Geologist to Explore Shores of Lake Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press)—Miss Alice E. Wilson of Ottawa, the first woman to be sent out by the geological department of the Canadian government, is making a 200-mile trip down the shores of Lake Winnipeg by rowboat to collect fossile for the department in Ottawa.

Miss Wilson has as her assistant a young school teacher who was graduated from Royal Victoria college, Montreal, in 1919. The two geologists will begin their explorations starting from Berens river. They plan to make the return trip in six weeks, going south, following the east shores of the lake. They are carrying with them their tent, camp outfit and provisions, as well as their geological tools, and are provided with fishing tackle, gun and revolver.

BRITISH MEET DISASTER IN MESOPOTAMIA

Kupah Garrison in Lower Euphrates Still Holds Out; Division From India

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—A London cable to the Montreal Star says:

"The Daily News learns that the British disaster in Mesopotamia was serious. The 300 casualties which the war office reported are nearly all killed.

"The defeated column was a battalion of the Manchesters, with miners, sappers and a six-gun battery. Only a few stragglers returned. Four guns were saved.

"A fresh division was ordered to Mesopotamia from India. Inquiries at the Ashton-on-Tyne depot of the Manchesters showed that the second battalion was commanded by Col. Wright, who went to Mesopotamia in March.

"The Kufah garrison, on the Lower Euphrates, is still holding out. The town has been partly burned up. The Arabs lost 130 dead and many wounded in a new attack northwest of Hillah."

BRITAIN PRESSES SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO CONCLUDE ARMISTICE WITH POLAND

Ultimatum Reports Are Unfounded, Says Lloyd George; Promises Full Statement Monday; Government Will Act If Necessary; Reds Refuse to Halt Advance in Poland; Reported That North Sea Squadron Ordered to Baltic and Blockade Reimposed

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A statement on the Russo-Polish situation made in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George showed that the report that Great Britain has sent an ultimatum to the government in Moscow was unfounded. The statement showed also that the real situation at present is that the British government is still pressing the Soviet government to conclude an armistice with Poland on fair terms, and agree to negotiate for pease at the conference already proposed by the allies to be held in London.

Lloyd George was closely pressed by questioners with a view to securing assurance that Great Britain will not become involved in war with Russia without the consent of parliament, but he could be drawn no further than to promise a full statement of the situation Monday.

He added that he hoped it would not be necessary to act but said that the government would certainly take action if it was found to be necessary. meantime news had reached London to the effect that Poland's armistice delegation had started for Minsk to meet the Soviet representatives, and it may be assumed that the Poles now have the necessary powers to discuss the principles of the peace which the Bolshevik demanded they should have.

An official statement issued tonight declared there is no truth in reports printed in newspapers that large quantities of war materials are being sent to Poland and that the war office would be able to send four divisions of troops there in the next few weeks. Arthur Henderson the leader of the Laborites in the house, is seeking by a circular to the local labor party throughout the country to rally the labor party into organising demonstrations against intervention in Russia or supplying men or munitions to Poland.

The circular favors the immediate raising of the blockade against Russia and recumption of trade relations with that country.

In view of the known hostility of the labor party to military aid for Poland it is believed here that the government will limit any action in its pressure of Russia.

BULLETIN, Aug. 6.—The Russian Soviet's reply to Great Britain's call for a halt of the Bolshevik advance in Poland is a refusal, according to the London Times. Newspapers say that the ground taken is that the armies would not obey an order to halt, and will only be content when they reach Warsaw, which has been promised to them for loot.

BULLETIN, LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Herald, the laborite organ says today that the British North Sea squadron has been ordered to the Baltic Sea and that instructions have been issued to re-impose the blockade against Russia.

The Times says the note to the British government was received by M. Kaneef, one of the Bolshevik delegates, Thursday night and will be handed to Premier Lloyd George Friday morning.

According to The Times, the note says the Bolshevik are entitled by military and international law to continue their advance until an armistice is concluded. They, however, are prepared to sign an armistice and cease hostilities immediately the Polish delegates return to the appointed place with power to arrange an armistice or peace.

The Bolshevik answer says it is felt this action is necessary, because of the Bolshevik fear that without such an undertaking the armistice negotiations might be prolonged merely to let Poland receive reinforcements. The answer further points out, the Times says, that the Soviet is prepared to offer Poland terms, including complete independence and wider boundaries than are provided for in the treaty of Versailles.

The Soviet government declares in the answer that its delegates now in London are empowered to sign a peace with Great Britain or any other entente power and that a separate peace with Poland is insisted upon.

The Soviet government repeats its willingness to join the proposed London conference, but refuses to agree to the admission to it of any of Gen. Wrangel's representatives, or the Russians who have taken up arms against the soviet.

POLAND STIFFENS DEFENSE AGAINST BOLSHEVIK AT GATE OF WARSAW

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Inspired by a wave of patriotism in the rear and encouraged by the arrival of arms and munitions the Polish army seems to be stiffening in their defense against the invasion of the Bolshevik who are virtually at the gates of Warsaw, Poland's capital. Although but vague and somewhat contradictory reports have reached Paris today, it is regarded here tonight that the Poles still have a chance of stopping the Red drive and limiting the extent of the disaster.

They apparently have not altogether abandoned the line of the Bug river. The Brest-Litovsk forts, at last accounts, were still in the possession of the Poles, and denial is made that the Bolshevik have reached Ostrolenko. The Polish staff even has been able to launch two counter offensives, in the north in the region of Tomza, and in the extreme south in Galicia.

Another factor held by military observers to favor the Poles is that in view of the immedate perfect transport of the Bolshevik, their rate of progress necessarily increases as the length of their line of communication increases.

The allies have not yet as far as is known, decided on what course to pursue in the Polish situation, but exchanges of views were going on between the French and British governments.

Hold Up Reds at Brest-Litovsk

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The Bolshevik are being held by the Poles at Brest-Litovsk and have suffered a loss of 500 men killed and drowned in repeated attempts to throw their forces across the Bug river, according to Wednesday's commingiue from Warsaw, which officially confirms facts previously announced.

The comminique announces that the Reds have forced the River Narew before Lomsea and that Bolshevik cavalry patrols have reached Ostrow, 53 miles northeast of Warsaw.

Near the Prussian border Bolshevik forces have occupied Kolno, 18 miles northwest of Lomsea, and have attacked the fortress of Ostrolenka, 22 miles southwest of Lomsea.

The Poles were reported to be making a stand at the latter place. The communication reports fierce fighting along the Bug, the Reds having forced the stream in the

BLAZE STARTS IN FIRE HALL

Coquitlam Lower Business Section Is Reduced to Smoking Ruins

PORT COQUITLAM, Aug. 5.—The entire lower business district of this little city was destroyed by fire at noon today. A dozen buildings in a group fronting on the paved highway just west of the bridge which crosses the Coquitlam river, were reduced to smoking ruins. The loss will be in excess of $200,000, it was estimated this afternoon.

Shortly before 1 o'clock the flames leaped the Dewdney trunk road and set fire to the C.P.R. freight shed. This structure was soon wiped out and employees of the C.P.R. were valiantly fighting to keep the flames away from the passenger depot. This building, which houses telegraph and ticket offices, was eventually saved.

An odd feature of today's blaze was that it started in the firehall itself, and the first thing that was "rescued" was the city's fancy fire truck.

Within the short space of an hour three buildings were razzed. The old Coquitlam Star office was next to go, and the residence of Mrs. Gatley, a house owned by Ronald O'Hanley, the home of R. MacKay, another owned by Mr. Sibley, the Wilson pool room and rooming houses, stables, blacksmith shops, two garages and some smaller buildings in the rear all burned quickly.

In the Rowland block, a three-story building, the upper story was ablaze and it can hardly be saved.

WILL AVENGE ESSAD PASHA

Blood Brother by Albanian Custom Swears to Keep Vengeance Oath

PARIS, AUG. 5 (Associated Press).—Vengeance for the assassination of Essad Pasha, head of the Albanian delegation here, is being quietly awaited by a "blood brother" of the Balkan leader, according to a circumstancial story by a French writer, published by the Excelsior.

This man, now rich and influential in France, the story goes, was one of several poor young men who 30 years ago met Essad Pasha, then known as the "black dagger of Abdul Hamid," in Constantinople, when he crowded into a card game and insisted on playing with them. Fearing Essad Pasha, they protested they were too poor to play with him, but he insisted, emphasizing it by placing his revolver on the table as a threat.

To meet this, the "blood brother" put down his dagger, poisoned, he said. Essad Pasha showed his surprise, then his pleasure.

"Young man," he exclaimed, "this is the first time anyone has defied me. Men like you are rare."

Drink Each Others Blood

Essad Pasha took his own dagger, opened a vein in his wrist and also in that of the young man, each sucked a few drops of blood from the other and they became "blood brothers," according to Albanian customes, sworn to avenge each others deaths.

"I am ready," this "brother" now is quoted as saying, "to keep my oath, but I have confidence that French courts will make it unnecessary for me to interfere."

Rustem Aveni, arrested on the spot for shooting down Essad Pasha as the latter was entering his automobile in the downtown district recently, is awaiting trial. He was a student who posed as the avenger of Albanian wrongs.

That a forest fire of large proportions, raging on the north fork of Salmon river yesterday afternoon had burned up large stocks of timber cut by the Northern Cedar company of Spokane, on their limits near Salmo, and was threatening to wipe out all the standing timber on the limit, was the report brought in by arrivals on the Great Northern train last evening.

The fire was stated to be ranging between Erie and Salmo, and at noon J. T. Price, of Salmo, the fire ranger, was doubtful if the crew of men he had fighting the fire was sufficient to gain control. It had completely destroyed all the buildings of the old Arlington mine in its passage and towards noon yesterday had encroached on the limits of the Northern Cedar company.

that there never was such overwhelming necessity to direct the currents of British public opinion and expression towards the ends of peace and goodwill among men, as there was today.

Mr. Meighen's speech was made at the official dinner tendered by the government to members of the Imperial Press conference, at which the governor-general presided. He took advantage of the toast "Our Guests" to direct the attention of the gathering to his views, and gave to the delegates a hearty welcome to the Dominion.

Lord Burnham, president of the Empire Press union, responded to the toast, and remarked that newspapermen "divided the loaves of truth among them, spreading them with their own particular brand of butter." He emphasized the importance of cooperation between the various parties of the empire and also of government. The press he said would do all in its power to assist in arriving at a solution of the grave problems of the day.

Urges Adequate Wireless

The provision of adequate wireless services throughout the empire was urged in a resolution adopted by the Imperial press conference at the close of its first day's session. The resolution which was proposed by F. Crosbie Rolles, chairman of the Asia and Near East delegation, and honorary secretary of the Empire press union, read as follows:

"This conference is strongly of the opinion that the principle should be established at once for the British Empire and the world to have the advantages of wireless telegraphy and telephonic communications, and it urgently requests the governments of the Empire to secure by public or private enterprise at an early date adequate wireless services throughout the Empire."

Postpone Cable Rate Discussion

When the conference had officially been declared open by his excellency the governor-general, and speeches of welcome had been made by Premier Meighen and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, discussion was entered into on the principal resolution on the agenda relating to cable rates and facts.

After several hours' debate consideration of the resolution was postponed to tomorrow to permit of its being reframed to include corrections and alternatives brought out during the discussion.

Right Hon. Viscount Burnham, chairman of the British legation, was elected chairman of the conference which will be continued in Ottawa until Saturday afternoon.

Premier Welcomes Delegates

Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, in welcoming the Imperial press delegates, remarked that the influence of a conference was governed not so much by the objects the members might have in common as by the public advantage to be derived by these objects being promoted and realized.

Mr. Meighen continued: "An organization, however legitimate and powerful in its parts can never hope, if its purposes are purely selfish, to attain the same importance, the same rank and elevation as one whose success can be built only on the foundations of public service.

"There can be no institution in a democratic country—and the British Empire is the most thoroughgoing democratic country on earth—no institution, with the possible exception of government itself, which is of such close and vital concern to the whole population as its press.

"This has always been true, and as time goes on, it becomes increasingly and predominatingly true. I said, with the possible exception of government, because ultimately a country like ours is governed by public opinion, and the press has more to do with the creation and direction of public opinion than all other factors together.

"On the tone and temper and wisdom of the press depends in preponderating degree the happiness of a people. Therefore, it is of first importance to democracy; democracy turns its eye and gives heed. That is why the presence among us and the deliberations of this conference are now engaging the interest of Canadians and of all British people.

"The only human institution that compares in power with the press," said Mr. Meighen, "is government, but a government operates under restraints, is debited or credited in the ledger of its fate. It moves under a system of checks—the preliminary checks, the electoral checks. But the press lives in a much freer atmosphere. In fact the essence of a really useful press is freedom. All the more need then of character in the man behind the pen—the most powerful man on earth; all the more need of fidelity to his trust; all the more reason why right-thinking people should require that the discharge his trust with an adherence to the truth.

Burnham Addresses Conference

Lord Burnham, with regard to Mr. King's suggestion, said they pleaded guilty to naming the conference an imperial one. It was the first Imperial conference held outside Britain They were proud of the name of Britain and of the British Empire, because it stood for liberty and justice and was not like the ramshackle and common empires of the past.

There were nations represented here today that while they would be loyal to the flag and make any sacrifice, yet they could not be named distinctly British. Yet these nations were embraced within the firm grasp of Imperial friendship.

Robert Donald, vice-chairman of the British delegation, moved the main resolution in regard to cable communication and rates. It recommends the governments of Great Britain, the self-governing dominions, and India, to increase cable communications and reduce rates. The resolution adds:

State Assistance Should Appear on Estimates

"This conference considers it essential that where any government assistance is given to the press by way of cable or other services, such state assitance hall appear specifically in the estimates of public expenditures, and that the selection or editing of news and other matter circulated within the empire should be in the control of newspapers and news agencies and should not in any way be subject to official influence."

Mr. Donald said that in regard to cable facilities, the position now was really worse off, as a result of the war, than it was in 1909.

Mr. Donald described what had been done in the advances made in wireless, and remarked that a former German cable from England to Halifax was now in British possession, and he hoped it would remain there as part of the big "indemnity which we are not going to get."

Advocates Cheaper Cable Rates

Mr. Donald suggested that the universal penny postage which obtained before the war was not more reasonable than a universal cable rate for British possessions of a penny a word. He proposed that the conference set this as its object.

Cannot Entertain Control

J. W. Dafoe, Manitoba Free Press, seconded the motion. It was the real business of the conference, he thought, as cables were the nerve system of the empire. He wished to emphasize the feeling of the majority of Canadian publishers that they could not entertain the idea of government official assistance which implied any sort of control or influence of news services by other than newspapermen themselves. The geographical barrier of the north shore of Lake Superior had been bridged by assistance from the Canadian government, and had proved of tremendous assistance in unifying eastern and western Canada. It simply removed an obstacle of unproductive territory which the newspapers themselves had been unable to deal with. But when a proposal was made to the membership of the Canadian Press, Ltd., at it s last annual meeting, that it accept a subsidy from the British government for a cable service between Canada and the motherland, the newspapermen present had almost unanimously decided against the acceptance of that subsidy.

POLICEMAN IN GRIP OF HUGE SNAKE

SINGAPORE — Few stranger things have happened at the east wharf, Tanjong Pagar, than accurred there during the early hours, one day recently. So strange and weird was it as to appear almost unbeleivable. It appears that a Malay policemen reclining against a railway goods truck waiting for his relief when suddenly he found his hand and part of his arm in the grip of a huge snake. The man catching on to the truck by the other hand attempted to free himself, but in vain, for the snake, sliding down from the truck, was drawing his victim towards the water Fortunately his relief turned up in the nick of time, and seeing the predicament his brother policeman was in, got hold of him by the waist and extricated him from the python's clutches, while the snake itself dropped over the wharf into the sea. The injured man, whose hand and arm are in a mutilated condition, is in hospital.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

IT Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

MINE GUARDS RAISE MINGO MINERS' IRE

Battle With Employers Wages Round Union Recognition

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Aug. 4.—(Canadian Press).—The campaign of the United Mine Workers to organize the 5,000 miners in the Mingo county bituminous coal field has precipitated a situation which each side declares can only end when it has won complete victory: In the conflicts growing out of this move 12 or more persons have lost their lives. Wages, apparently, form a secondary consideration, the battle being waged around recognition of the union and the right of mine owners to employ private detectives in and around the mines.

"The men and the operators could get together and settle this thing were it not for the question of 'the mine guards,'" said Charles F. Keeney, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces. "But in their present temper these men are not to be fooled with. Right now this situation is a powder mill."

"There is not a mineguard in Mingo county, and there has not been for years," said George Bausewine, secretary of the coal operators' association, of Williamson. "Private detectives are employed as other corporations employ detectives for intelligence work in and around their properties. They are not used for guarding the mines."

The question of wages hinges on the scale paid in the Kanawha field. The union leaders declare that adoption of this scale would increase the earnings of the miners in Mingo, while the operators insist that their miners under the scale now in force, are being paid more than it is possible for the Kanawha miners to earn.

However, little attention is being paid to that phase of the controversy. Recognition if the union is the big issue.

The Mingo field includes all of Mingo county and the mines along the Kentucky side of Tug river, a shallow narrow boundary stream which for miles in this region forms the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia. High mountains rise abruptly on each side of the river their sides covered with a heavy growth of bushes, long the mountain sides are the drift mines from which comes the coal, and nestling in the narrow valley are the little towns where live the miners and their families.

Fully 75 per cent of the miners in the region are native born, many of them the descendants of pioneers who entered the county more than 100 year ago, and who are proud of their lineage. Some foreign-born miners can be found in the camps, while numbers of negroes are employed. Often the miner owns a small acreage, for which in the planting and harvesting, he will abandon the mines.

In some places the miners live in brick cottages, each having its garden plot and front porch. Such a village is Bordertown, where early last month miners were fired upon from mountainside while going to work. In other villages the houses are of frame construction, each set in its own garden plot, and for which the miners pay at the rate of two dollars per month per room.

Williamson, the center of the region, is pleasantly placed in the valley, with substantial buildings and good stores. The Mingo county court house is one of the best structures, but the city hall also is a complete office building, while there is in course of construction a theatre which will cost $250,000. The 8000 residents of the town very generally enjoy the prosperity which has come to the coal trade in the past few years.

Demand Kanawha Scale

Early in the year the movement to organize the United Mine Workers was inaugurated by President Keeney from district headquarters at Charleston, and organizers were sent into Mingo county. They met with such success that a demand was made upon the operators for the enforcement of the Kanawha scale and recognition of the union. This demand the operators say, was answered by from 1500 to 1800 miners, but the union officials put the figure higher.

The companies, through their lawyers, took the position that the houses built for the miners who had gone on strike reverted at once to the owners.

The miners, in some instances, held that if the companies wanted the house of a man they must obtain possession of it by due process of law.

Ten Killed in Eviction Fight

Numbers of miners were evicted from company houses, and it was for that purpose private detectives, "Mine guards" the miners term them, were sent to Matewan, June 19, and where in the fight which followed the eviction of five families, 10 persons were killed.

Many miners, however, moved from company house without protest, and the United Mine Workers established for such persons tent colonies along Tug river near the places of their former employment. There the strikers and their families live in army tents, and there they declare they will stay until the strike has been settled and they have returned to work.

Stamp Out Cattle Tuberculosis in British Columbia

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4.—(Canadian Press)—"Ten years ago 80 per cent of the cattle in British Columbia were infected with tuberculosis; last year only 12½, or three per cent, were infected, and within a comparatively short time the number will be nil," W. W. Alton of Catier, provincial government veterinarian, states.

This year four per cent of the cattle inspected were ordered destroyed, but this is not an indication that tuberculosis is gaining ground again, as the whole province has not been inspected yet, and the disease is more prevalent in some districts than in others. Dr. Alton said.

Under an act passed ten years ago every bovine in the province is to be inspected for tuberculosis once a year if possible, and those infected with it are to be destroyed. To partly compensate the owner for his loss the government allows him 50 per cent of the value of the animal, grade cattle being valued at $100 and registered cattle at $200. As additional protection on all cattle imported into the province whether from other provinces in Canada, the United States or other countries, are inspected before they are admitted.

British Columbia is the only province in Canada which has an act allowing cattle to be prohibited from entering from other provinces.

The Case of General Dyer

The case of General Dyer, who was dismissed from the British army because of his action at Amritsar, when he ordered soldiers to fire on a mob which he feared would get the upper hand and bring about another massacre such as that which had occurred in the same district a few weeks before, has become of world-wide interest. General Dyer has been condemned by the British government, the ground taken having been that his action was hasty and that the firing was maintained longer than necessary. That is the case for the prosecution. The London Spectator, which takes another view, contends that General Dyer suffered not through his action, which it believes justifiable, but through having been misled by his advisers into adopting a line of defense which, instead of confining itself to the issue, went into all sorts of questions of Indian policy. The Spectator contends that he should have put his case in this way:

"When I went into the square at Amritsar with ninety soldiers under my command, only fifty of them having rifles, and found myself confronted by a mob of four thousand excited people, not unarmed, but armed with most formidable cudgels, or rather loaded quarter-staves, in the use of which they were expert, I realized in an instant that there was only one course before me, unless I was willing to let the men I was leading be rushed and bludgeoned to death like the Swiss Guard at the Tuilleries. I saw I could save them by an instant order to shoot. To avoid my men being massacred as were the bank managers and officials on April 11th and 12th, I gave the order I did, and I believe that any other man placed in my position would have done the same. I have nothing to be ashamed of. Whether I let the firing go on too long I cannot profess to say. All I know is that having once begun to shoot it was absolutely necessary to be quite sure that the mob was really dispersed. Nothing is more dangerous than to wound a would-be assassin but not to kill him. That makes your own death a certainty."

Probably there is a great deal to be said on both sides. British rule has never been founded on terrorism, while at the same time it must be recognized that a soldier in India when faced by a revolt has a terrible responsibility upon his shoulders, that of maintaining law and order and saving British men, women and children from the horrors of massacre.

Paradoxically enough, while General Dyer may have been justified it may be that the British government is also taking the right course in punishing him. Perhaps it has fallen to him to make a sacrifice for the preservation of order in India and for the maintenance of Indian confidence in British rule by kindness rather than by force of arms.

Japan Has Its Troubles

The predictions of those who have held that the financial troubles experienced in Japan would prove of some duration seem in a fair way to be fulfilled, according to financial experts. The first symptoms were heavy, and indeed disastrous, falls in securities on the stock exchanges, where speculation had produced highly inflated values. Similar conditions also prevailed in many of the produce markets, where also quotations came down with a run. A period of overtrading is stated to have created a state of affairs where sooner or later a crash was inevitable, and it says much for the strength of the Japanese banks that with few exceptions they have proved able to weather the storm. The only banking trouble of any real importance was the suspension of the Seventy-Fourth bank in Yokohama, and while this was announced as of three weeks' duration only, the period seems to have been extended. The silk exchange at Yokohama was thrown into a state of disorganization by the closing of the Seventy-Fourth bank, which was associated with certain interests in the silk trade, and the fall which took place in prices led to the suspension of business on the exchange.

While the banks have been not unnaturally displaying much caution of late, the government has endeavored to ease the situation by modifying the loan restrictions of the Bank of Japan and doing everything within its power to encourage exports. The government took various other measures with a view to increasing the available funds in the money market, and at the beginning of the stock exchange collapse the Bank of Japan is stated to have granted a loan of £4,000,000 to a syndicate of brokers. A certain amount of criticism has been leveled at the banks for the cautious policy they have pursued, their critics taking up the attitude that at such a time ultra caution was detrimental to the country's trade. There are two sides to this question, however. Admittedly a period of excessive trading and over-speculation has been experienced, and as a result of the working of economic laws this has been followed by a collapse in prices and financial difficulties. If a normal and healthy position is to be re-established the weaker spots should be eliminated and financial assistance conferred with much discrimination. This invariably provokes hostility among those interests suffering discomfort, but the return to sound trading may be achieved.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Having been sent to work on the farm a certain industrious boy was chased by a bull, kicked by a horse, fell off a load of hay, and stumbled into the pig pen. A contemporary explains that something had to be done to improve the boy's health so he got him a new job in a powder mill.

Latest Solutions of the Clothes Problem

What do I need for mid-season wear, is answered by this toast-colored crepe de chine frock with four tucks in the front, and only one in back. Pleated organdie, Georgette or finest tucked net with rows of Valenciennes frills, serve as the gilet and half sleeves, which are inserted at the elbows with elastic, the cuffs finished with black velvet ribbon.

Another version of the same idea was shown in gray crepe de chine, with the tucks reversed, four in back and one in front. The gilet was cut with rounded neck and peplum.

Light gray crepe de chine was also favored by a gown which had a pleated skirt joined to the bodice at a long waistline with wheels of matching soutache braid edged with narrow Valenciennes lace—a novel idea.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

The Undercurrents of History

Ever since Brest-Litovsk it has been charged that there has been more or less of an understanding between the German and Russian governments. The military successes of the Bolshevists have been attributed, in part, to the training and leadership of German officers. It is reasonably certain that few Germans are weeping over the disasters to Polish arms. They do not love the Poles, and they do not wish them any luck.—Baltimore Sun.

The Unthinkable Crime

That any possible controversy between the United States and Canada, regardless of arbitration treaties or any other peace-preserving machinery, could lead to war is unthinkable. And this is not because Canada is our second best customer, strong in their peace-preserving influences as our commercial relations are, but because of the people themselves and the spirit instinctive in their conduct. Racial ties and sentiment bind the Canadians to the British Empire, not as a dependency, but as an independent associate. Yet there is such harmony with the United States and such close geographical association that there do not exist today any other two nations under different governments so closely and harmoniously related as Canada and the United States.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Fall of the Curtain

Imaginative minds still see the closing tableaux of the last act in the drama of William's abdication when the Kaiser, the whilom champion of divine right, withstood Hindenburg's insistence that he should abdicate, and declared that, as he claimed he held his authority from from his soldiers, and to his soldiers only would he relinquish it; whereupon Hindenburg marshalled revolutionary soldiers in the town and persuaded them to write a demand for abdication and presented it to William, when then signed the tear-stained document, witnessed for the last time a march past of the Guard, and departed, forsaken by all save one old servant. Barring some sudden turn in the roulette of fortune, it may be said of William, no matter how long his years in a foreign land, that he died at Spa in November, 1918.—London Times.

When Surgeons Seldom Cut

Unsuccessful surgical operations were few and far between in the Babylonia of forty centuries ago and only men of rare and reckless courage advertised themselves as wielders of the forceps and scalpel. Only in rare instances would they consent to operate, and then their interest in their patient probably was more than a professional, scientific or monetary one. The penalty for failure was the loss of both the surgeon's hands, and the reward for success was not of a sort to provide silks and fine linens for the man of science. The maximum charge permitted by the state for an operation was 10 shekels (about $6). This could only be collected from the aristocrats or gentlemen, including professional men and merchants. The specified fee from the middle class was 5 shekels ($3) and from slaves, 2 shekels ($1.20). This information has been gleaned from a recently deciphered tablet, the "Code of Hammurabi," of 2000 B.C.—Kansas City Star.

3 ounces cornstarch.

Take the sugar and melt it with two tablespoonfuls of water and put to a boil. Add cherries and 3 ounces of cornstarch and stir mixture until it comes to a boil (before putting in cornstarch melt it with two tablespoons of cold water).

Lay out a pie plate with a pie-crust, and cover with waxed paper. Fill it up with dry white beans and bake in moderate oven for half an hour. After it is baked remove the paper and beans and fill up with hot filling.

Cover the meringue made with the whites of eggs and sugar. Put in moderate oven for ten minutes.

Whipped cream or ice cream may be used instead of egg meringue.

CATCHES GRASSHOPPERS FOR FEEDING CHICKENS

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 5.—If the farmers in Southern Alberta do not get a crop this year they should make a fortune by selling chicken feed. That is the way one farmer reasons things out in the Hillsspring country. This particular farmer has a scheme on foot to catch grasshoppers and place them on the market, alive, as cheap chicken feed.

He believes he can do better catching them than poisoning the pests and has invented a machine to collect them. This machine will be sixteen feet wide, hauled by two horses, and the 'hoppers will be collected in a receptacle in the rear, being carried there by the wind from a fan and the next step would be the market, and then the chickens.

They end corns
now in this scientific way

People who know—millions of them—now end all corns in this way.

They apply Blue-jay, either in liquid or in plaster form. It means but a touch and takes but a jiffy.

The corn pain stops. Then the Blue-jay gently undermines the corn so it loosens and comes out.

The modern way

Blue-jay was invented by a chemist who studied corns.

It is made by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

Old-time treatments were harsh and inefficient. Blue-jay is gentle, quick and sure.

Now all corns are needless. All these pains can be avoided. To let corns remain while you pare and pad them is folly.

You can stop a corn ache the moment it appears. You can end a corn completely before it can develop.

Blue-jay has proved these facts to millions. It will prove them to you—and tonight—if you let it.

Quit the old methods of dealing with corns and see what this new way means. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

FERNIE, Aug. 5.—An attempt to wreck a Canadian Pacific railway train near Sentinel, Alta., a short distance from the scene of last Monday's holdup of passenger train No. 63, was frustrated last night when the engineer of a freight train saw the steel rail obstruction placed across the tracks, in time to stop the train.

THE UNIVERSITY ON WHEELS

Agriculture is the Dominion's premier industry. Back of Canada's progress stands the farmer, and the country's advancement in agriculture is reflected in every phase of the Dominion's activity. The settlement of lands, better farming and every progressive move of agriculture is the concern of every resident in Canada no matter what his profession, the railways, the governments, industries and manufactures, and the consuming public are alike interested. The Federal and Provincial Governments and the railways, with a keen realization of this, have ceaselessly worked for the progress and development of this industry through the establishment of experimental farms, the circulation of literature, and other propaganda matter, and many other methods. They have never ceased to advocate better farming, the scientific study of soils, crops and systems, land conservation, and all that tends for greater and healthier production, enrichment of land, and improvement in living and social conditions in rural settlements.

No better system of education and aid to more successful farming has been devised than the "better farming train," or as it has come to be popularly termed "the University on Wheels," which journeys through the Prairie Provinces of the West under the auspices of the Provincial Departments of Agriculture and Education and the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is in truth a travelling university of agriculture bringing an agricultural course to the farmer's home with intensive classes and demonstrations of the highest educational value.

The train has two large machinery cars carrying the livestock and feed, and two large flat cars, one fitted up with pens to carry sheep and hogs, and the other for use as a demonstration car. These are fitted up in Winnipeg under the direction of Professor A. M. Shaw, professor in animal husbandry at Manitoba University. Three large coaches are used in displaying field husbandry exhibits and another car for the dairy, mechanical, building, and poultry displays.

Moving picture car films of an entertaining character are shown, as well as those of an educational value. Two coaches are fitted up as lecture cars for men and another for women. A nursery car is provided which contains sandpiles, slides and cribs, in charge of capable nurses, where mothers may leave their children whilst attending lectures.

The train and entire equipment is furnished free by the Canadian Pacific Railway, which has spared no pains to make the better farming train of the greatest possible service and assistance to Canada's agriculturalists.

Fighting Is Heavy at Novgard

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Fighting is now going on virtually on the plains before Warsaw, according to the Tageblatt's eastern correspondent. If the Red army succeeds in breaking through the Chorzelle-Pultusk line it will have arrived before the forts of Warsaw. (Chorzelle is about 70 miles north of Warsaw, while Pultusk lies about 35 miles north of the capital.)

Heavy fighting is reported by the correspondent to be proceeding at Novgorod. He says that on August 1 and 2 Russian reserves, comprising 30,000 infantry and a regiment of field artillery, passed through Orajevo on the way to Novogord.

Call Boys to Colors

WARSAW, Aug. 5.—The Bolshevik offensive against the Poles along the Bug river between Brest-Litovsk and the confluence of the Nurzeo has been stopped. The Polish counter offensive north and south is developing successfully and the new Polish army concentrated between the Bug and Narew rivers has driven the enemy back to the edge of the province of Grodno, nothwithstanding the pressure of the Bolshevik troops which crossed the Narew opposite Lonsea.

In Volhynia the Polish position upon the upper Styra, on the Pripet marshes are holding well.

With the Bolshevik actually knocking at the gates of Warsaw the populace has been aroused to the highest pitch of patriotism.

The entire press declares that Warsaw must not surrender to the invaders.

Fresh drafts of conscripts and many volunteers are moving to the front, many of them boys of 14 and 15 years of age. The government in its extremity has called to the colors the classes of 1890 to 1895 from the district between the rivers Stula and San for the defence of the section.

IRISH CRIMES BILL PASSES

meet the archbishop on his arrival.

Today's meeting of the corporation did not excite unusual interest. There was no crowd in the galleries, and less than 40 of the 80 members attended.

A cablegram was read from Irishmen at Capetown in which a protest was made against the government's attempt to prevent Archbishop Mannix from landing. Speeches made during the corporation's discussion assumed it to be certain that the archbishop would land despite the British government's decision to prevent him from doing so.

Knights of Columbus Pass Resolution

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Knights of Columbus in annual convention here adopted resolutions yesterday stating they believe "that Ireland has the right and ought to be a free and independent nation."

The resolutions were adopted a short time prior to the receipt of a letter from Eamonn De Valera, so-called "president of the Irish republic," appealing for the order's support in an effort to gain recognition by the United States of the "Republic of Ireland."

The convention will close today.

Both Sides Interrupt

Throughout his speech the premier was subjected to interruptions from both sides of the house. In the course of his reproaches against Mr. Asquith the premier said it might have been supposed from Mr. Asquith's speech that Ireland was a paradise in 1918, whereas, he declared the facts were that in that year there was an army of over 150,000 enlisted men in Ireland engaged in treasonable conspiracy and in negotiations with the Germans. He said this army had undertaken to attack Great Britain two months before the German offensive, of which it had been informed.

Find Treacherous Documents

"It was, in the same year," he went on, "we discovered documents in the pockets of men who are now leaders in south and west Ireland, showing there was an arrangement between them and the Germans to attack us at the moment of our greatest peril." Mr. Lloyd George's general argument was that the government was prepared to make great concessions for peace, good-will and partnership, but said any Dominion solution required definite arrangements regarding the army, navy and ports, and the position of Ulster, which could not be forced into a home rule parliament.

Changing Views Indicated

No disposition to accept such a solution, the premier continued, was apparent in south and west Ireland. On the contrary, he said, the south and west are demanding something Britain could never concede except as a result of disaster and defeat.

He believed there were hopeful indications of changing views concerning these extravagant demands, but while the camp legislation of outrage and murder continued, he stated, there was no alternative but the bill the government was now proposing.

BEARS ATTACK MANY TARGETS

Selling Wave Breaks Down All Resistance; Bond Market Alone Is Strong

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Unfavorable foreign news bearing on the Polish situation and renewed liquidation, and short selling, caused losses among industrial stocks of one to 10 points today. Except for an interval in the first hour, when a rise in railroad shares had a tonic effect in the first movement was continuous. The conditions in the foreign exchange and the money markets were more favorable but were ignored.

Reports that the banks had called loans on certain industrial collateral attended the decline. The bear fraction devoted their efforts to driving down individual shares, causing uneasiness among holders of other securities as to where the attack would be next directed. Oils, steels, shippings, sugar and leathers were the targets at various times and precipitated declines in these groups dragged down the balance of the list. Resistance was poor against the wave of selling, even the investment railroads falling back one to three points. Middle states oil crashed from 20½ to 10¼ on dealings of 250,000 shares. This break was a signal for active selling of other low priced oils and a varied list of specialties.

Total shares approximated 1,150,000 shares.

Uncertainties and lack of definite information as to business conditions and dividend policies of various companies also was instrumental in shaking confidence among shareholders.

The bond market maintained a fairly good tone in the face of the extreme weakness of stocks. Total sales, par values $11,375,000. Foreign issues fluctuated narrowly and liberty bonds were irregular.

Old U. S. Bonds were unchanged on call.

MONTREAL LIST

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Today's trading in listed securities on the local stock exchange consisted of a continuation of the liquidation of the past three or four days, except that it was on a much larger scale and prices around mid-day showed declines more drastic than on any day this year.

In the afternoon there was some bargain buying and Spanish River, Wayagamack, Laurentide, Atlantic, Sugar common, and Ames Holden preferred show recoveries, although in each case, except the last named, substantial net losses were incurred.

Spanish River showed effects of wild selling in the morning when a low for the day of 101 was reported and then recovered to 105¾, a net loss of nine points. The preferred slumped 19 points to 104 from which a sharp recovery to 110 was made, 13 points down for the day.

Laurentide dropped 8¼ to 104½ and then rose to 107½ reducing the net loss to 5½ points. Wayagamack dropped 10½ points to 107½ and rallied to 110.

Sugar common went as low as 131¾ then rose to 136. The preferred was active and one point lower at 165.

Brompton and Abitibi showed little rallying power from the low of the day. Abitibi sold down to 67, losing eight points net, and Brompton after touching 59, closed at 60¾ with a net loss of 5¾ points. Riordan was offered down to 200 without bids.

The cotton and allied stocks were especially targets for sellers, and as a group, showed the greatest weakness in the list. Textile dropped 14 points to 125 without recovery. Penman's dropped 6½ points to 125 despite the drastic shake up in this stock during the post 3 or 4 days. Elsewhere in the list, Car was down 9¼ points, Dominion Steel 4; Shawinigan 4; Merchants Bank 5; Breweries 3¾ and canners 3¾ and Asbestos 4.

Total transactions — listed 38,779 Bonds $7100.

WAR PROSPECT BOOSTS GRAIN

Wheat Springs Sixteen Cents; Other Grain Follows Suit; Also Provisions

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—War news hoisted the price today of every commodity in the exchange. At the topmost point, wheat was up 16 cents. The close was nervous 10 cents to 11½ cents net higher with December 2.40 to 2.40½, and March 2.42. Corn finished at 2¾ cents to 6¼ cents advance. Oats gained 1¼ cents to 2¼ cents and provisions 17 to 90 cents.

YOUNG WOMEN AVOID PAIN

This One Tells How She Was Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Regina, Sask.—"For two years I suffered from periodic pains and nausea so I was unable to get around. My mother had me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am much better and able to go about all the time, which I could not do before. I recommend Vegetable Compound to my friends if I know they suffer the same way, and you may publish my letter if it will help any one, as I hope it will."—Miss Z. G. BLACKWELL, 2073 Osler Place, Regina, Sask.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Blackwell did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, sidesache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

BRINGING UP FATHER By George McManus

W. H. Brandes, of Des Moines, Iowa, who declares he gained twenty pounds in thirty days after taking Tanlac, and now feels like a different man.

"Thirty days ago or a little more, I only weighed 125 pounds, but now I balance the scales at 145 pounds and Tanlac did it," declared W. H. Brandes, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Brandes has been looking after the plumbing work of the Des Moines Public Schools for the past nineteen years.

"And many of the teachers and scholars can tell you how different I look since I began taking Tanlac," he said, "I suffered from indigestion of the worst kind for the past year or more, and was often so weak and dizzy I couldn't stand up, let alone walk. Nothing helped me. I finally had to take my bed and stay there for several weeks. Finally, a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and I have never seen or heard of anything to equal it. It relieved me entirely of indigestion and put me right back on my feet. I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but I feel like a new man in every way. I just think Tanlac is the finest thing ever sold in a drug store."

Tanlac is sold in Nelson by Canada Drug & Book Store, and by the leading druggist in every town. Advt.

German Ex-Officers Now Have a Rough Time in the Fatherland

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—(Canadian Press).—No one in Germany sighs more frequently for "the good old days" of the Kaiser than the former army officer. Forced off the governemnt payroll by the reduction of the army, untrained for work other than soldiering, and so generally disliked by the population that he has difficulty in finding any kind of employment, the officer's lot in democratic Germany is a hard one. His pre-war world, in which he strutted about as the privileged pet of his emperor, has been utterly destroyed.

Many have been reduced to extreme financial straits. The middle-aged ex-officer gets a pension of 3800 marks a year, but that is only about a fifth of the amount required to maintain a family. So urgent is their need that a movement has been set on foot to form an ex-officers' association for the purpose of inducing the government to provide them with land and subsidies.

A farmer officer, dolefully discussing with the correspondent the plight of himself and his fellows, remarked that the expression once current in the United States, "There's no good Indian but a dead Indian," applied precisely nowadays to the German public's attitude toward the officer class.

Private soldiers bear out this statement. "At the beginning of the war," one said, "the troops were fond of their officers, who ate the same food, carried their own packs, and shared the hardships of the men. But most of the regular officers were quickly killed off, and those left were sent away from the lines for staff and other duties.

Brand of Officer Changes

"Their places were taken by reserves, who were an entirely different lot. They had to have special kitchens and milk and plenty of wine. They refused to march with the troops, always riding automobiles, and making the men carry their packs. They were bullies and tyrants, and the men grew to hate them. The civilian population felt the same way. I was in Belgium when the armistice was signed, and when we withdrew to the Rhineland the people there were willing enough to provide for us privates, but they refused to have officers in their homes. Those fellows now are only getting what's coming to them".

In a number of cases ex-officers have found themselves inadvertently applying for work to the very privates they once commanded. These former soldiers, business men and shopkeepers, taken keen delight it is said, in turning down their old superiors. Many of the young ex-officers are taking up engineering and other technical lines, staring at the bottom of the ladder as manual workers in overalls.

After the first revolution it was a risky thing for an officer to appear on the streets in uniform. They were emboldened by the Kapp coup last March and since then have been showing themselves in increasing numbers, especially student reserve officers, who are easily identified by their pale faces slashed with fresh sword cuts received in duels.

TORONTO BOARD

TORONTO, Aug. 5. — Prices chashed on the Toronto stock exchange today, following the demoralization of the Montreal market, as a result of an over-extended period of speculation. The tightness of money has resulted in considerable loaning on the part of private individuals. This is given as the outstanding reason for today's break.

Declines ranged any where from ⅛ to 18½. This is the worst break the local market has had in many months. As far as liquiduation went locally Brazilian continued to lead. The paper stocks suffered mostly in today's attacks. Spanish River broke wide open, the preferred in transactions of 175 shares, dropping to 104, a decline of 18½ points. The common was fairly active, with sales of 275 shares, and it declined to 101, but closed at 104, which was a decline of 3 points.

The second heaviest loss was in the papers. Wayagamack dropping 17 points to 108 in very light trading. Abitibi was heavily traded in, and was 9¼ points lower to 67. There was also considerable liquidation in Brompton, and a break of 7¾ to 59¾ was noted. North American Pulp with sales of 810 shares declined ¾ to seven. Laurentide broke 7⅜ to 105. Penmans was down 13½ points to 126½ at the close.

Atlantic Sugar was affected to a considerable extent, losing nine points to 133. Another noticeable decline was eight points to 52 in Canadian Car Foundry. Total sales listed 3623. war bonds $11,400.

A Long Sought Relief for Women

Woman's highly nervous and complex organism is very easily affected by the strain of her duties. The continual drain of housework alone, puts a burden upon the system which, if not relieved, soon makes an old woman out of many a young and energetic Mother before her time.

Especially is the back the point of severe strain and the cause of suffering. It is the pressure of strained, movable bones of the spine on the nerves that causes disturbed fuuctions and leaves women fagged-out.

Chiropractic Will Benefit

For this reason, women who are run down because of housework, or business duties, finds Chiropractic of benefit. The Chiropractor adjusts the spine, corrects spinal defects and removes the pressure from the nerves. Normal nerve function is thus restored and Nature goes about its work unimpeded, to build up the system, strengthen the weak and diseased organs and increase the disease resisting power of the body. There is nothing embarassing about Chiropractic. No drugs or surgery are used, yet it insures the best results.

KOOTENAY WATERS BEING RESTOCKED

Eighty Thousand Kamloops Trout Fry From Gerrard to Be Released

By the end of the month, 80,000 fry of the Kamloops Trout, or Kootenay Salmon, from Gerrard hatchery, will have been liberated in various lakes scattered over the Kootenay, according to C. W. Harrison, of Vancouver, of the Dominion fisheries department, who is now engaged in transporting the fry.

Mr. Harrison stated yesterday that lakes in East Kootenay had been stocked with the fry to the extent of 40,000 during the month. Of that number 12,000 had been put into Munro lake near Cranbrook; 8000, into the Minnehaha chain of lakes near Wardner; 8000, into Bayna lake, near Jaffray; 6000 into Silver Springs lake, near Fernie; 6000, into Surveyors lake at Waldo.

On Monday Mr. Harrison, will leave Gerrard with a batch of 20,000 fry which he will turn loose in Slocan lake at Rosebery. Later on he will taken another 20,000 to Christina lake near Grand Forks. Instancing the success of stocking lakes with Kamloops Trout from fry, he stated, F. A. Dunn, of the Dominion conservation board, of Cranbrook, landed a 30-pound specimen measuring 41 inches long and 25 inches in girth at Premier lake near Cranbrook in May of this year. That lake was barren at the time of inserting the fry in August, 1915.

AGENCIES WRITE FOR LITERATURE

Nelson Pamphlets Appreciated by Canadian Governmental Bureaus in London

That supplies of Nelson board of trade literature forwarded by Secretary E. F. Gigot to Canadian governmental agencies in Great Britain, are fully appreciated, is testified by immediate requests for more liberal allotments of the literature.

J. Obed Smith, Canadian commissioner of immigration, writes:

"I am very pleased to note that you have forwarded to me 50 leaflets issued by the Nelson board of trade. My only regret is that you have sent me such a limited supply, as, besides our own office, we have 12 provincial offices to keep supplied with up-to-date matter, and any one of these provincial offices could make good use of the number you are forwarding to me. However, we will make the very best distribution of the 50 leaflets I shall look forward to receiving."

F. C. Wade, British Columbia agent-general, writes as follows:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of 50 leaflets issued by your board which give a full description of Nelson city and district, and of the opportunities which present themselves to settlers, business men and tourists. It would be appreciated if a further supply of these leaflets could be sent as they would prove very useful to this office."

From the office of the Canadian high commissioner, Secretary W. L. Griffith writes:

"I duly received and thank you for your letter of June 21, advising the dispatch to this department of 25 copies of your leaflet."

ANCIENT COMPANY ISSUES SOUVENIR

Beautiful Presentation Volume Gives Synopsis of Hudson's Bay History

Souvenir copies of a beautifully illustrated volume, epitomizing the formation, incorporation and history of the Hudson's Bay company, prepared for presentation to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the signing of the royal charter granted in 1670 by King Charles II. to the Merchant Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay, have been received in Nelson.

Bearing the emblem of the company on its cover, the volume is illustrated with scenes of historical interest in the life and wonderful growth of the company, including a facsimile reproduction of the royal charter itself.

It gives in bold, rugged outlines a stirring account of the more momentous episodes in the life of the company and of some of its more notable servants.

Recalling the lure of the suppositious north west passage to the West Indies, and the incidental discovery of Canada, the book briefly sketches the explorations of Pierre Radisson, and his brother-in-law Groseilliers. It tells of the successful plea of those men to Prince Rupert, and through him to King Charles, to finance an expedition to Hudson's Bay; of the successful mission to, and winter spent on the shores of the Bay by Groseilliers, and of his return to England with a shipload of furs.

The formation of the company of the "Merchant Adventurers of England," and the granting of a royal charter conferring almost limitless powers on the company, is shown to follow the successful return of Groseilliers.

A chapter is then devoted to the more notable explorations and discoveries of some of the great servants of the company; to fights with Indians; to the discovery of the northwest; to the search for the western sea; to the discovery of Lake Athabasca by Samuel Herne; to the travels of Alexander Mackenzie, and to his ultimate arrival overland at the Pacific coast, after overcoming almost impossible difficulties in his travels along the Peace and Fraser rivers; all of those notable accomplishments are shown to be incidental to the prime object of the company, that of carrying on fur trading.

Later on, illuminating accounts of the life of the company's servants scattered over the length and breadth of Canada, is given, and of the life of the Indians and the relations that existed between them and the servants of the company.

An extremely interesting chapter is devoted entirely to natural history, the life and habits of Canadian fur bearing animals being outlined with a wealth of interesting detail.

From then on the book deals with the gradual change in the company's policy to meet changing conditions, with the aggression of the rival Northwest Trading company, and the establishment of more and larger forts, that reached out continually far in advance of any other civilizing influence.

It ultimately tells of the land and settlement policy adopted, and the phenomenal growth of the old forts into modern present day department stores, handling an unlimited variety of goods in addition to the one primitive commodity, furs, that was the lodestone responsible for much of the exploration and settlement of Canada as well as for the stupendous growth of the Hudson's Bay company.
