UNCLE SAM PUTS CARDS UPON TABLE

United States Ready to Scrap 30 Capital Ships if Britain Scraps 19.

BEATTY SCARCELY ABLE TO CREDIT HIS EARS

Swings Round in Surprise; Far Eastern Problems in Background.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—A step characterized by one of Great Britain's delegates as "pregnant with infinite possibilities for good," was proposed by the United States government yesterday when Secretary of States Hughes, head of the United States delegation, addressing the opening session of the disarmament conference, put forward the following scrapping program:

1. That there should be a naval holiday for not less than 10 years.

2. That the United States scrap 30 capital ships, built and building, with a total tonnage of 845,740.

3. That Great Britain scrap 19 capital ships, built and building, for a tonnage of 411,375, also certain second line ships, making a total British reduction of 593,375 tons.

4. That Japan scrap seven capital and other ships for a total tonnage reduction of 448,928.

In other words, that the powers take their first step from the mad race in naval armaments by wiping out at one full sweep 66 of their monster ships, with a total of 1,878,043 tons.

Bolt From the Blue.

Thus, at the first sitting of the conference, Uncle Sam has placed all his cards upon the table and it is now up to the others to show their hands. Mr. Hughes' program, unfolded with great care and fortified by a formidable array of statistics, and put forward without the slightest vagueness or indefiniteness, came almost as a bolt from a clear sky. Everybody expected the United States to take some kind of a lead, but nobody expected that it would have a disarmament program to submit to the first sitting of the conference or that it would be upon so prodigious a scale.

As the secretary of state outlined his proposals, it was intensely interesting to note the effect upon the delegates. The Japanese, grouped together at the opposite end of the table, sat motionless, inflexible, inscrutable. No word, nor whisper, nor gesture passed between them; not a sign to reveal what they thought. The Chinese were more outwardly moved. They leaned forward, intent upon every word, listening almost with bated breath. So also the Portuguese, the minister for the Netherlands and the representatives of Italy.

French Unconcerned.

The French, however, appeared less concerned. M. Briand, who, with M. Viviani, sat at the right of the United States delegation, and who resembles nothing so much as one of our Quebec M. P.'s, made no sign, while Viviani sat back with his thumbs in his vest, apparently oblivious to what was being said. The British, curiously enough, reacted more to the United States statesman's proposals.

Mr. Balfour, who looks much older than when in Canada last, and a little tired, sat straight up in unfeigned surprise; Lord Lee leaned forward with intense interest and as Mr. Hughes announced the United States' willingness to sacrifice 30 of the capital ships, Lord Beatty swung around in his chair as though he disbelieved his own ears.

The speech that followed was, of course, non-committal. Mr. Balfour, who earlier in the sitting, had moved that Mr. Hughes be made the presiding officer of the conference, did not speak again, but the delegates of all the other nations were heard in turn. The Japanese spokesman, who read from a manuscript, reaffirmed Japan's desire for peace; M. Briand favored disarmament "with security," (a significant pharse), and the other nations spoke in a similar vein.

Asmosphere Grows Favorable.

But tonight when the delegates have had time to study the proposals, to consult their colleagues and their experts and advisers, the atmos-

FURTHER DEALINGS UTTERLY USELESS

Municipalities Find Government Hopeless; Appeal to Popular Opinion.

VICTORIA, Nov. 12.—Having come to the conclusion that it is "utterly useless" to negotiate further with the Oliver government on taxation and finance problems, the Union of British Columbia Municipalities must now "appeal to popular opinion." Jack Loutet, president of the union announced today.

"We have negotiated for years with the government for aid for the municipalities of this province, and then we get the schemes outlined in the budget speech of yesterday," said Mr. Loutet.

"This has convinced us that it is utterly useless to deal with the government further and we must devise some other method of solving our problems. We have got to appeal to popular opinion, but we have not developed our plans yet."

Asked if it were true that municipal leaders were considering the formation of a new political party in British Columbia to secure more generous treatment for the cities and towns of the province, Mr. Loutet replied:

"I would like to say now. I will say, however, that supporters of the present government of the Union of Municipalities are prepared to abandon the government."

STEAMER SENDS WIRELESS CALL FOR ASSISTANCE

On Fire in Mid-Ocean, S. S. San Francisco Sends Distress Signals.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—The United States steamer San Francisco, afire in mid-ocean, sent today a wireless call for assistance which was picked up at the naval radio station here. She gave her position as latitude 35:20 north, 52:03 west, or approximately 1100 miles southwest of New York and 700 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland. The steamer, 3140 tons, left Marseilles Oct. 14 and Lisbon Nov. 3 for New York.

DENIES BREAK WITH COLONIZING SCHEME

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—Denying reports which he claims have erronously intimated that he has severed his connection with the Western Canada Colonization association, M. A. Brown, vice-president today stated that he had not thought of quitting the organization and had merely relinquished the duties of temporary manager. The latter duties he took over on the resignation of Maj. Gen. A. B. McRae and performed until the meeting of the board of directors at Regina last week, when he resigned.

"With the board's approval, it is my purpose to retain the vice-presidency until the task of organization is completed and the actual colonization work of the association is successfully under way,' Mr. Brown stated.

CRERAR CLAIMS WIDER OUTLOOK

Will Need Tariff for Years But Would Eliminate Protective Principle.

STRAFFORD, Ont., Nov. 13.—(Canadian Press staff correspondent).—Although the temperature was almost sub-arctic, the audience which greeted Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressives, in Stratford last night, filled the large skating rink.

"I claim for this Progressive movement," Mr. Crerar declared, "that it has the national outlook in a wider sense than either of the other two older parties," He referred to statements attributed to Hon. R. B. Bennett, minister of justice, that the United Grain Growers, of which Mr. Crerar is president, was a company simply existing as middlemen, to take toll from the farmers.

Mr. Crerar denied the charges. He asserted that the United Grain Gorwers was a cooperative organization taking toll from no one.

He attributed the railway situation as being largely "the result of the corrupting influence of railway promoters in the past." Te charged that the government had placed no constructive policy before the people. "They want you to sign a blank cheque," he declared, "and they will fill it out after the election."

Heckles Speaker

There was some heckling as Mr. Crerar referred to the tariff. He was speaking of "disappointing census returns."

"What will the population be if we have free trade?" An interrupter charged.

"If we changed our fiscal policy, Mr. Crerar replied, "our population would be greater, our whole wealth would be greater than it is."

"How did the United States get its wealth," was another from the back of the hall.

Mr. Crerar: "My friend had better go down and see. He will find out."

Mr. Crerar referred to unemployment in Canada. Was it evident, he replied, that Canada was prosperous under protection?" "The whole world is upset," shouted another heckler.

"Yes," retorted Mr. Crerar, "the whole world is upset and my friend a little upset."

Mr. Crerar held that the real wealth of Canada lay not in fact or case but "in mother earth."

"The policy we have submitted," Mr. Crerar added, "would bring about many changes in our fiscal policy such as would encourage the development of this national wealth. We should produce the things we can produce better than any one else, and sell them for the things that other countries can produce better than we can."

'Never for any length of time," said Mr. Crerar, "will the United States go back to the principle of protection in its tariff."

For years to come the Canadian tariff would be needed to provide revenue, but the protective principle might be eliminated.

On Saturday Mr. Crerar addressed a large meeting at Guelph.

FORECAST FAVORS GOVERNMENT WIN

Estimate Gives Meighen Majority in All Provinces Except Quebec.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—The prime minister has just completed one of the most remarkable political tours in eastern Canada. He spoke at over 100 meetings and the combined audiences totalled well over 300,000. Hon. Mr. Meighen is convinced that in the five eastern provinces the swing of victory is with him and that he will have a substantial majority over the Farmer-Liberal entente if he can but break even west of Fort William. There is no doubt that he has inspired his party with victory and in bringing to the government support, union labor, the Unionists, Liberals and the unattached women's vote has made victory probable where even the most optimistic two months ago could see only at best the largest parliamentary group.

Saturday's Montreal Gazette contains in its Ottawa dispatch a forecast of the result, based, it is claimed, on reports from well informed persons throughout Canada. This forecast has been verified by others in the several districts and may be taken as a fairly accurate estimate based on sentiment prevailing now. The forecast is as follows:

Prince Edward Island—Government, 2; Liberal, 0; Farmer-Labor, 0; doubtful 2. Total, 4.

Nova Scotia—Government, 7; Liberal, 5; Farmer-Labor, 1; doubtful, 3. Total, 16.

New Brunswick—Government, 5; Liberal, 3; Farmer-Labor, 1; doubtful, 2. Total, 11.

Quebec—Government, 10; Liberal, 38; Farmer-Labor, 2; doubtful, 15. Total, 65.

Ontario, West—Government, 16; Liberal, 3; Farmer-Labor, 3; doubtful, 3. Total, 25.

Ontario, Centre—Government, 29; Liberal, 2; Farmer-Labor, 1; doubtful, 4. Total, 36.

Ontario, East—Government, 14; Liberal, 2; Farmer-Labor, 2; doubtful, 3. Total, 21.

Manitoba—Government, 8; Liberal, 2; Farmer-Labor, 5; doubtful, 1. Total, 15.

Saskatchewan—Government, 4; Liberal, 0; Farmer-Labor, 8; doubtful, 4. Total, 14.

Alberta—Government, 3; Liberal, 0; Farmer-Labor, 7; doubtful, 2. Total, 12.

British Columbia—Government, 10; Liberal, 0; Farmer-Labor, 0; doubtful, 3. Total, 13.

Yukon—Doubtful.

Liberal Factor Decreases.

Whatever may be the result there can be no doubt of the effect of the prime minister's campaign. He has won thousands of votes for his party. In Ontario and the prairie provinces, representing 125 members, the Liberal party, as the election approaches, becomes less and less a factor in the fight, and are only conceded eight representatives in these four provinces by the government. The real fight is between the government and the Farmers, and the Liberal party are centering their efforts on the maritime provinces, Quebec and British *Columbia. Election betting all fa*vors the government, many wagers being placed that the government will carry 60 seats in Ontario.

In Quebec appears the greatest re*versal of sentiment and the estimate* quoted is very modest, compared to the expectations of government supporters in that province.

Premier Meighen's successful Quebec tour has inspired his supporters, and his castigation of Sir Lomer Gouin has driven that statesman into retirement. Ten days have passed since Mr. Meighen exposed in Montreal Sir Lomer Gouin's plot against the National railways and the Quebec leader has not appeared on the platform or in print since.

The government campaign in Ontario has been stimulated by the appearance of Sir Thomas White on the hustings, giving a complete endorsation of the Meighen policy. He will eb joined in Ontario this week by Sir George E. Foster, who has just completed a successful tour of the maritime provinces. Premier Meighen will return to Ontario and Quebec for the last two weeks. Sentiment appears to be strongly with him in the two great provinces, and his supporters claim that the swing to the government, which is quite apparent, will increase daily until the day of decision.

LIBERAL PARTY WIDENS BREACH WITH FARMERS

Mackenzie King Fears Three-Cornered Contests Will Favor Government.

MELVILLE, Sask., Nov. 13.—(Canadian Press staff correspondent.—If the Progressives desire unity with the Liberals in a joint effort to secure the passage of legislative measures sought by both of these parties, then the Progressives must seek to bring about that unity before the election by working with the Liberals for success in the campaign. This was the declaration of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party in his first speech on the prairies during the present campaign.

"The country is sick of coalitions," declared Mr. King, "if the Progressives have any idea of seeking to work with the Liberals, they should seek to work with us in a campaign now rather than in dividing the forces opposing the government and then hoping to make overtures later."

No Use for Progressives

"The Progressives," said Mr. King, "gave the people the idea that they had no use for either of the old parties: If that was the line the Progressives took, said Mr. King, then they could not hope that either of the old parties would 'have any use for them."

The Liberal party, declared Mr. King, was coming into power with a strong representation from all the provinces. Quebec was as strong Liberal as ever, as were the Maritime provinces.

British Coluumbia would return more than half Liberal members and in Ontario the Liberals were looking forward to winning many of the seats.

In the prairie provinces the indications were more improved for the Liberals so that there was little doubt but that the Liberal party would be returned with strength sufficient to act independently of any coalition. The Progressives were heading toward what could only be more or less complete isolation of the Prairie provinces, said Mr. King, and by bringing about three cornered contests in seats which the Liberals were almost certain to win, they were making it possible for the remnant of a Tory force to remain where otherwise it would be practically wiped out.

Regarded Farmers at Branch

"The Tory party would not have a remnant in the house of commons," said Mr. King, "if it were not for this force of Progressives which will permit of Tory candidates slipping in between."

Mr. King said that last year he had visited the west to deliver a message

SUBMITS BLUNT PROPOSAL FOR REDUCING FLEETS AND TEN YEARS NAVAL HOLIDAY

Disarmament Conference Not Yet Recovered From Shock of Suggestion; Britain and Japan Make Guarded Comments Only; Plan Makes Great Britain and United States Equal Except Extra Battle Cruisers for Britain; Tonnage Ratio, Britain, 604,450; United States, 500,650; Japan, 299700; Replacement Program Based on Fixed Tonnage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Delegates to the armament conference had not recovered today from the shock of Secretary Hughes' blunt presentation yesterday of the proposal for immediate reduction of the fleets of Great Britain, the Uniated States and Japan and for a 10 year naval holiday.

The concrete terms of the United States plan, laid before the opening session of the conference on limitation of armaments were still in the other two powers chiefly concerned. Pending their conclusions, no further step is probable. The spokesmen here for Britain and Japan made none but guarded comments on Mr. Hughes' suggesions. As far as they went, these statements were encouraging and it was the certain at least that no possibility of flat rejection of the plan existed. Without doubt it will form the basis for reaching whatever conclusions the conference brings forth.

Limits Size Permanently

With further time for study, the United States plan today began to stand out in its true proportions. Apparently it is far more than 10-year naval holiday that is projected, coup'ed with immediate heavy reduction of the fleets of the three powers. Beyond that it is a third, equally blunt and direct suggestions for a continuing agreement to limit the size of battle fleets permanently. That is what Mr. Hughes' naval replacement plan really amounts to.

In naming the ships to which each main battle fleet would be cut if the United States plan for immediate reduction was accepted, Secretary Hughes' statement shows that Great Britain and the United States would be on an equal exactly in the number of battle ships, but the British would retain, in addition, four battle cruises. The proposed Japanese fleet would be composed of six battleships and four battle cruisers while the United States would be content with battle ships alone. This may prove more significant as the discussion proceeds some naval officers believe. It appears probable that in proposing to agree that Great Britain and Japan should be provided with an equal number of these newest additions to the main fleet of nations while the United States made no attempt for 10 years at least to equip the United States similarly, the United States delegation to the armament conference sought to convey a very definite assurance that the United States, as *President Harding told the confer*ence, came to the discussion with no selfish purpose to serve.

Recognize Naval Necessity

In the proposal that the other two powers retain battle cruiser squadrons, also these observers saw a possible concrete expression of United States recognition of the necessities in naval forces in these countries; that they prosecute legitimate ventures over the world requiring far-flung merchant routes, and employ for protection of these routes naval craft they thought best suited to the need.

The actual business of negotiation of the conference will get under way tomorrow when the heads of the delegations will meet to discuss procedure, a situation likely to become one of the most important of the conferense. From every one of the interested powers have come expressions saying that the order in which the topics appear on the program would have a significant bearing on the ability of the conference to move quickly toward practical results.

To Agree Preliminaries

To agree on the preliminary details tomorrow, two meetings will be held. In the morning the committee on program and procedure for limitation of armaments, of which the heads of the British, French, United States, Italian and Japanese delegations are members, will assemble to consider the armament end of the program, and in the afternoon there will be a meeting of the committee on program and procedure for Far Eastern questions consisting of the heads of the delegations of all nine of the nations, holding seats in the conference.

During the afternoon the United States advisory committee of 21 will also meet and Chairman Sutherland will announce the personnel of the si sub-committees whose creation has been authorized to facilitate the handling of special subjects.

Technical Advisers Study

While these meetings are being held, technical advisers of the various delegations will further study the United States proposal under which tonnage figures in capital ships for the three powers for immediate reductions would be:

Great Britain 604,450.
United States 500650.
Japan 299,700.

The list of ships to be retained by each shows that the British pre*ponderance over the United States* is practically all in her four battle cruisers.

So far as battleships tonnage goes in the retained fleets, the British and United States forces would be about the same, around 500,000, and that of Japan just under 300,000. This links up directly with Mr. Hughes' suggestion as to a replacement program, based on fixed tonnae for each power, to apply only after 10 years of no buildin of any kind. Then, under the proposal, Great Britain would be allowed to maintain up to 500,000 tons in capital ships, the United States the same and Japan 300,000.

In other words, after 10 years, the British fleet must be brought down to the same tonnage basis as that of the United States, while the Japanese would remain substantially where it was at the time of the first reduction. Apparently it is expected that the British strength would be reduced sufficiently by attrition, the wearing out of ships during the 10 year period.

Statistics to the gun power of the the three fleets to be retained under the reduction program show that the United States and Japanese would have one ship each, mounting eight 16 inch rifles each.

Compares Gun Power

Great Britain would have 10 ships carrying a total of eighty 15-inch rifles; one carrying ten 14-inch guns, and her other seven ships would be armed with the British 13.5 guns, used by neither of the other powers. She would have seventy of these afloat. The United States, in addition to the 16 inch gun ship, the Maryland, just commissioned, would have eight ships carrying twelve 14-inch guns each and four carrying ten 12-inch each. Japan, in addition to her own 16-inch gun ship wouldtake afloat forty-eight 14-inch guns and twelve 12-inch on her battleships and thirty-two 14-inch on her battle cruisers.

In round terms, the replacement proposal means that under the agreement outlined, the fleets of the three powers in terms of capital ships would stand ultimately at approximately 14 each for Great Britain and the United States and eight for Japan.

The United States make claim to full equality with Great Britain in the replacement and there has been *no hint as yet that the British dele*gation will oppose it.

Japan's Rates Three to Five

It means also that Japan would stand thereafter at a fixed ratio of three to five in naval strength in comparison to the other two fleets. It was not clear tonight how thata would finally be received by Japan. The United States replacement plan proposes to limit tonnage allotments, that would mean main fleets of 14 capital craft each for Great Britain and the United States and eight for Japan, provided all are built up to the limit of size.

The heaviest tonnage of capital craft so far planned is understood to be in connection with Japan's projected battle cruisers, said to reach 44,000 tons. Such ships and also such vessels as the six new battle cruisers the United States is building, all well over 40,000 tons, would be prohibited.

Limitations in size strike at vital elements in naval construction. The factors of guns and armor weight, speed and cruising radius are those from which the size of ships is determined. Probably the 35,000 ton limitation would make impossible any ship carrying heavier batteries than eight 16-inch weapons.

No Limit Except Tonnage

It is to be noted that in the scheme no data as to new ships laid down as replacements would be required to be furnished by the power planning the ship to the other two, but the tonnage and the dates of contract, keel laying, completion and destruction of the ship displaced. No attempt is made to limit the design of the vessels, batteries, speed.

SUBMITS BLUNT FLEET PROPOSAL

fuel capacity, or other military characteristics, beyond the 35,000 ton maximum figure.

Excludes Coast Defenses

In outlining the plans for all the auxiliary craft that make up modern fleets, care was taken to exclude from the limitations existingtonnage in monitors or purely coast defense vessels and in supply and other train ships, tugs and the like. There would be no necessity to dispose of any excess of these craft any power might have, as they would not weigh much in the scale of the reduced main fleets. Otherwise with the exception of aircraft, the five to three ratio as between the strength of the British and United States fleets and that of Japan would apply all down the line. It is an exact establishment of this line of relative naval strength that has been worked out.

The figure may be significant. Naval officers always have contended that it would require a two to one preponderance of forces to carry battle to Japan across the Pacific if the attacking power lacked bases well out toward that side, because of the possibility of accidents to ships which would put them out of commision as total losses, although a nearby base might quickly have refitted them for the front line. Here is where the great importance of naval bases in the Pacific, not touched upon by Mr. Hughes, lies. On the five to three ration of naval strength, officers say that preponderance would not be available to Great Britain or the United States. It would take joint forces to furnish the ships and then, because of doubt, trains and divided commands, experts think a three to one preponderance necessary to make certain the result.

Merchant Marine a Factor

Another element of the program yet to be explained is the statement as to the inverse ratio importance of the merchant marine, compared to the naval strength maintained by many powers. That means that as the size of the naval force goes down, the possibilities of turning merchant vessels into warships, mounting guns on their decks, go up. With few fightin ships to meet, armed merchant men would be most useful fighting craft ready for battle with ships of their kind. If all navies were scrapped, Great Britain would have an overwhelming preponderance in potential naval strength, due to her 20,000,000 tons of cargo and passenger steamers as against the merchant fleets of the United States and Japan.

Apparently the United States delegation was influenced by some such consideration as this in reaching the figures as to size of navies to be maintained on a non-competitive basis, proposed.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

LIBERAL PARTY WIDENS BREACH

urging cooperation between the Liberal and Progressive forces. The policy of the Liberal party had not been antagonistic toward the Farmers. He had all along regarded the Farmer movements as a Liberal movement; as a movement designed to give one great body of producers fuller expression of their needs.

"We have come to the point," he said, "where we are face to face with the question whether we are fighting for a principle or for the triumph of a name."

Mr. King's speech was well received by the audience which filled the town hall to capacity. A heavy fall of snow had kept many farmers out of town during the day but there were many from the surrounding country districts in the audience. Mr. King reviewed the platform as put forth by the Liberals, and said that his party stood for downward revision and for relieving taxation as far as possible—implements of production in the agricuture districts, and necessities of life. The record of the Meighen government was attacked by the Liberal leader, who declared that a change of government was absolutely necessary in order to give Canada proper management.

Claims Western Gratitude

Mr. King said that if there was one part of Canada above another which had reason to be grateful to the Liberal party, it was Western Canada. The Liberal party had had to fight over every stage of the way against Toryism to make its policy prevail. These policies include a railway program which provided competition aimed against the monopoly of any one railroad, and to develop and people the western country; the establishment of a railway commission to help control rates; the creation of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta; the immigration policy; tariff revision in 1897 and in 1907, and the reciprocity policy in 1911, and British preference.

Dr. Michael Clark, former member for Red Deer, and in recent years an outstanding figure in the Progressives group in the house of commons was another speaker. Dr. Clark, who left the Progressive party and is now running as a Liberal in Mackenzie, Sask., constituency, declared that financial ruin faced the west if the present government were continued in office. Living costs in the west were abnormally high and only a change to Liberal government would bring about a reduction. Dr. Clark said he had been known as a free trader during his entire parliamentary life, but he knew that the "Millenium could not be reached overnight," and he had come to realize that the Progressive movement was a "class movement."

The Liberal party had the history, personnel and creed behind it to give Canada the government she required.

"It is with a feeling of sorrow," Dr. Clark concluded, 'that I can see any men allowing what might have been an advanced wing of Liberalism, to degenerate into a narrow and illiberal movement because all class movements are of necessity that."

Col. A. T. Thompson, of Ottawa, who is accompanying the Liberal leader, declared that the Liberal party was the most democratic in Canada. There was no great difference between the aims of the Liberals and Farmers and only lack of cooperation between these two bodies could prevent the greatest political victory of Canadian history.

Dr. S. C. Christy, Liberal candidate in Salt Coates, declared that despite contrary reports sent from west to east, Liberalism was very much alive on the prairies and the results on Dec. 6, would prove a surprise to those who thought otherwise.

Mr. King and party left Sunday morning for Edmonton where the Liberal leader speaks on Monday night.

UNCLE SAM PUTS CARDS ON TABLE

phere is astonishingly favorable to them. None of the delegates would issue direct statements, preferring to makek a closer study of the details of the program and to await a report from their technical advisers upon the large amount of data tabled by Mr. Hughes, but semi-officially and authoritatively it can be stated that both the Japanese and the British are favorably inclined.

Nevertheless—and this warning comes from high sources—it would be facile optimism to assume that disarmament is settled, that all that is now required is that the delegation shall accept the United States' proposal and sit down together to work out its details. In the background it is pointed out there is the Far Eastern problem. There is China, there is Siberia and there is the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Until these problems are out of the way, until the clouds of the Orient have been pierced, the path to realization of Mr. Hughes' plan will be beset with difficulties.

There is no doubt that there exists here a deep antagonism to great armaments. Mr. Harding's phrase,—

Delegates Applaud.

"We are opposed to armaments, and we hate war," brought 200 United States congressment, gathered in the gallery to their feet in shrill, approving cheers; and when later on Mr. Hughes used a similar phrase, a demonstration was begun which brought everybody, including delegates, to their feet in a sustained salvo of applause.

Meanwhile, experts are hard at work analyzing the details of the Hughes scheme. By Tuesday, when the conference resumes, their reports will be in the hands of the delegates and the way will be clear for an exchange of views.

Summed up, Saturday's gathering was an epoch-making, solemn and memorable spectable. Absent were the pomp and tinsel and the booted and spurred diplomatists of a dead and gone diplomacy; in their stead was a gathering of earnest men, the best of the citizenship of the great nations of the world. In the open, before the eyes of the world, under the glare of 500 journalists, they met together and with a prayer for divine pilotage began a sincere effort to make the world safe for democracy.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER LIVER FOR OVER 4 MONTHS

When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, water brash, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

quickly remove the secretions, clear away the effete and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Mrs. Alice Mehill, Napanee, Ont., writes: "I was very badly run down for over four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials and I am a different person today.

I can safely recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

FLOOD OF BEAUTY FILLS THE MAILS

Contest Committee Has Big Job on Hand; Variety Entertainment Near Perfect

Great progress is being made by the Nelson opera troupe towards perfecting its variety entertainment bill, which will be presented at the opera house on Nov. 23-24 in aid of the fund for local relief. Rehearsal after rehearsal was held last week at the Y. M. C. A. and it is to be recorded that the various numbers now need but the finishing touches to be in first class shape for production.

Some delightful numbers are listed. Three selections from Wagner's opera, "Tannhauser," should be well worth seeing. One will be the beautiful "Pilgrim's Chorus," sung by a large male chorus. Two others are 'Elizabeth's Prayer" and "Star of Eve," both sung by soloists whose previous artistic efforts have been very well received here.

Another attractive offering will be a humorous sketch in which the singing and dancing of a number of children and the humorous sallies of two adult comedians, are sure to be delightful features.

There are many other equally attractive turns, but none, perhaps, will excite such general attention as the Beauty contest. Already the contest committee is having a heavy daily mail consignment, and it is worth noticing that the selection committee is rather surprised at the shower of beauty pouring in. It is manfully doing its best to cope with the work, however, and as the members all possess different ideas as to what constitutes the ideal of female loveliness, the prize winner herself may be surprised.

The decision of the troupe to devote the proceeds of the entertainment to local relief work, or at least to anticipate the need of a local relief with a fund, has met with warm enthusiasm and support.

The local G. W. V. A., which is also very much interested in such work, has put the Dugout entirely at the disposal of the opera troupe for rehearsals, even going so far as to give it the use of the building on Wednesdays, the regular meeting night of the Veterans, in order to facilitate the good work.

INTRODUCE CANDIDATE WITH SOCIAL EVENING

The Farmer-Labor party opened its political campaign here on Saturday night with a social evening in Eagle hall, which about 400 people attended, the festivities being presided over by Frank Phillips

Levi W Humphrey, the party candidate, gave a brief address, avoiding politics, but being introduced to all present.

A fine musical program was given. Mrs. N. B. Bradley and Arthur Graham contributed vocal solos. J. Bellett sang several humorous numbers. John Lundie, impersonating Harry Lauder, rendered several Scotch songs.

After refreshments had been served the hall was cleared of chairs and dancing held sway until midnight.

Drayton Withdraws

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—Following opposition to his candidature, Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, withdrew from the Carleton—county government convention at Stittsville on Saturday afternoon. Wm. F. Garland, Ottawa druggist, and a former member of the house of commons was chosen as the government standard bearer.

Six aspirants for the nomination were before the convention, including George Boyce, former sitting member and Rev. Robert H. Steacy, who both withdrew. Sir Henry Drayton's withdrawal followed a refusal on the part of two of the nominees, R. O. Morris and Clark, to retire, and a somewhat spirited attack on the principle of choosing an outsider, delivered by Rev. Mr. Steacy.

NAME REGISTRARS FOR RURAL POLLS

Preparation of Lists for Urban Polls Under the Act Will Start Friday.

Registration of voters in rural districts will commence throughout Canada on Friday, Nov. 18, under the requirements of the Dominion Elections act On that date, which is 15 days before the day of polling, registrars will post the existing lists of voters in a public place for perusal, and for five days following, or until Oct. 24, will receive applications of voters desiring to be added.

In the West Kootenay, the rural registration will apply to all subdivisions not included in the cities of Nelson, Trail, Rossland and Revelstoke.

There will be a registrar for each rural polling subdivision, and each of these will indicate on the list which he posts for the public the time and place he will be available each day for purposes of registering names. In the majority of cases the place will be the registrar's own home, and he will be in the place he specifies for a stated time during each day of the registration period. There will be the most ample opportunity for every qualified person to get on the list. If an individual cannot appear in person the registrar will accept the sworn evidence of any other credible person as to the fact of qualification.

A considerable number of the rural registrars for this riding have already been appointed, and the others will be appointed in the next few days

CUT CURRICULUM NOT CHURCH WORK

Rev. Westman Answers Principal Mathers; Present Generation Shortsighted.

That Nelson parents could put no greater curse on their children than to encourage them in the idea that if any work should be cut out it should be church work, Rev J P. Westman asserted last night from Trinity Methodist pulpit This idea was altogether too prevalent now, he asserted, and to give it parental countenance would be to accept responsibility for very grave results.

The preacher took this position in answer to the deduction he made from the remarks of A. J. Mather, principal of the Nelson high school, to the Men's association of St. Paul's church, as reported in very brief form in The Daily News, that the principal considered that in some cases church work made undue demands on high school pupils. Mr. Westman asserted that between Monday morning and Saturday night Trinity church did not ask more than one hour or at most an hour and a half of any student's time. The Presbyterian curriculum for midweek activity was the same, and while he was not so familiar with the Baptist and Anglican churches, he felt sure their demands were not excessive To take away this hour or hour and a half of church associations from the students would be nothing less than a crime.

Fear of Curriculum

"If the school curriculum demands so much from our boys and girls that their participation in church life must be taken away, then the parents of Nelson should arise and tear that curriculum to pieces," he declared.

Unlike Joshua, around whom the preacher wove his remarks, he said the average parent was handicapped by "short looks." While the parent looked for exams, Joshua looked for a generation.

This fault in parents, Mr. Westman attributed to triplet evils, reading of newspapers, reading of monthly magazines, and reading of light novels with "nice murders" in them. These three obessions would destroy the possibility of God himself making their possessors big people.

Results of License

If one would know the result of a national craze for pleasure, the minister directed attention to Rome

For the results of class privilege, he pointed to France and the revolution

The dangers of boss rule were illustrated in the fates that overtook Athens and Venice

Other famous states and cities showed the results of communism

In opening his remarks, Mr Westman read a note from Principal Mather, stating that The Daily News report was a much abbreviated one, and that it had not fully set forth the thoughts he had tried to place before the men of St Paul's.

MEIGHEN STARTS TOUR IN PRAIRIES

Warns Danger of Absorption of Industries by the United States.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—Premier Meighen arrived here shortly after seven o'clock this evening, ready for his campaign in the prairie provinces. The premier was met at the station by Dr. M. R Blake, former member for, and government candidate in North Winnipeg; Major Andrews, who formerly represented Winnipeg Center and is again contesting that riding; Robert Cruise, government candidate in Dauphin, and other supporters of the National Libgral and Conservative party. Mr. Meighen leaves for Carman at noon Monday to address a meeting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. In the evening he speaks at St. Eustace in his own riding of Portage La Prairie. His Winnipeg meeting takes place on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15.

The premier's trip from Ottawa to Winnipeg was uneventful. He traveled over the Canadian National lines and made a short speech at Cochrane, where a crowd had gathered to see him go through. In this brief address he discussed the tariff issue, emphasizing the importance of a protective policy to Canada. The policies of either of the opposition parties simply meant absorption of Canada's industries by those of the United States, he said.

At Sioux Lookout, Mr. Meighen again left his car and met some of those who were on the platform to greet him. Among these was F. H. Keefer, K.C., government candidate in Port Arthur and Kenora, who had been holding a meeting in the village.

The premier's trip will take him as far as Moose Jaw and will comprise about 10 meetings. He will devote a couple of days to his own constituency of Portage La Prairie.

Wire From Coast Says Britannia Beach Case Urgent; City Pastors Urge Help.

"Are anticipating substantial sum from Nelson. We suspend appeal Vancouver tonight. Necessity demands prompt action in relief work distribution. Forward collections soon as possible. Fund totals $62,000; require $75,000."

This wire from B. A. McKelvie, acting for the Vancouver board of trade, was received Saturday by Fred A. Starkey, chairman of the Britannia Beach relief committee for Nelson and district, having been fileld at Vancouver Friday night. It was in response to a message from Mr. Starkey, asking what was the position of affairs.

The contributions through the Nelson fund, exclusive of the civic donation, still come to less than $200, and these have been from a relatively small number of subscribers. A town in this province has been wiped out, with great loss of life and untold suffering inflicted on many people. Women have become widows and children have been made fatherless and motherless. Food, clothing and shelter must be provided now and through the winter, pending rebuilding of the destroyed town on new lines.

Christmas will be a sad season at bleak and debris-strewn Britannia Beach, but it will be somewhat happier for many families of helpless if there is assurance that the wolf has been driven from the door until the reconstruction of their lives can commence.

In all the Nelson churches yesterday, the preachers placed the urgent case of these stricken fellow British Columbians before the congregations.

Compared with poor Britannia Beach today, Nelson is affluent, and few of its citizens would miss the dollar that would make a life a little brighter this winter for some destitute child or struggling mother.

Subscriptions may be left with either The Daily News or the Royal Bank of Canada and will be acknowledged in due course. In this case sympathy that does not carry something tangible with it will not mean a great deal.

REVISION STARTS IN NELSON TODAY

For One Week Qualified Voters Hitherto Unregistered May Get on Dominion List

Urban districts, as defined by the Dominion Elections act, come in this week for revision of their voters' lists, for which registration was in force a week ago.

For the Nelson riding, Judge J. A. Forin will sit each forenoon at 11 o'clock in the county court room, to receive applications from persons qualified to vote, but who failed to register. He will sit at this hour each week day until next Tuesday, November 22. He will also be available Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Any British subject who has resided in Canada for a full year just passed, is of the full age of 21 years, and has not incurred any disqualifications, and has resided two months in this province, is qualified under the Dominion Elections act, and may be placed on the list. Where there is a good reason why an applicant cannot appear personally, the act specifies that the revising officer may accept the evidence of another on his behalf.

VOCATIONAL OFFICER VISITS THE DISTRICT

G. F. Palmer of the soldiers' re-establishment department's Vancouver office, arrived from the Boundary Saturday night, to spend several days in this district. He will visit Shore Acres today, will spend tomorrow in the city, and will then proceed to Creston. He will take in Edgewood on the return trip.

He is a pension expert, but his work on this trip is almost exclusively with the vocational side, though he is also writing soldiers' insurance as opportunity occurs.

BOYS HEAR GREATEST CANADIAN STORY

Junior boys of the Y. M. C. A. heard the first chapter of an enthralling narrative on Saturday morning. At the conclusion of their physical training work in the gymnasium Capt. W. T. Tait related to them the story of Canada's entry into the great war and drew vivid word pictures of mobilization at Valcartier and the wonderful and inspiring spectacle of the First Canadian contingent embarked on transports ready and eager for the hazardous trip across the Atlantic to the war zone.

At that tremendously interesting point, the narrator, who had been an eyewitness of the events he related, dismissed his young audience in the manner of all good serial narrators—with instructions to be on hand next Saturday to hear of further and even more thrilling adventures.

Before the boys left the building, however, they were told of a treasure hunt that is to be held on Saturday. Each was given a set of mysterious cyphers from which to puzzle out the initial clues in the hunt. Those who can unravel the meaning of the cyphers by Saturday morning will be given a set of other clues. This second set, if followed up, will lead to the treasure, which is a year's free membership ticket to the Y. M. C. A.

FISHING SEASON WILL TERIMINATE TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be the last day of the angling season, and the inveterate fisherman are taking their last fling while the opportunity remains. W. S. King, who has last count of the salmon he has pulled out of the lake this season, went up to Proctor yesterday to have one more day of sport with the big fellows.

This season has been almost unprecedented for the number of salmon caught in Kootenay lake, and for the way in which the fish have kept running far beyond the normal time.

PROVINCES MAY CONTROL PRICES

Privy Council Ruling May Result in Provincial Regulation.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—Ontario and the other provinces of Canada may be empowered to institute machinery for the regulation of prices, in consequence of the privy council's decision that the Board of Commerce act is ultra vires of the Dominion parliament.

"It would appear to point that way," said W. L. Raney, attorney general, when asked if a clause in the privy council's decision stating that provincial legislatures posses quasi sovereign authority in regard to restriction and regulation of civil rights, would tend toward recognition of the right of provinces to control the prices of food and other necessities of life.

"If it is clear that the provincial legislatures have powers in this regard which were previously vested by the Dominion government in the board of commerce, we shall have to consider what steps shall be taken," Mr. Raney added declining to commit himself definitely at the present time.

OPPOSE SAME RIGHTS FOR FARM WORKERS

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A Reuter dispatch from Geneva says the international Labor conference on Saturday adopted a convention guaranteeing to farm workers the same rights of association and combination as the industrial workers enjoy.

The Australian and South African government delegates, Sir Thomas Oliver and E. Barrett, respectively, and the Australian, Canadian and Japanese employers' delegates, Messrs. Cookson, S. R. Parsons and Kosaku Tamura, respectively, opposed the convention.

The conference adopted a convention giving farm workers the benefit of the laws providing compensation for accidents and also adopted a recommendation urging governments to extend to farm workers sickness and old age insurance.

THE COUGH WITH THAT TICKLING SENSATION

A little tickling in the throat; now and then a dry, hacking cough; you think it is not bad enough to bother about, but every hack makes a breach in the system, strains the lungs and prepares the way for more serious trouble.

How many people have lost a good night's rest by that nasty, tickling, irritating sensation in the throat? The dry, harsh cough keeps you awake, and when you get up in the morning you feel as if you had no rest at all.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP is just the remedy you require to stop that irritating, tickling cough on account of its soothing, healing and expectorant properties.

Mrs. P. Johnson, Port Alberni, B. C., writes: "I have suffered for years, off and on, with a tickling cough. I could not sleep nights and had to sit up in bed to get relief; in fact, I coughed so I used to vomit. I tried different doctors' prescriptions until I heard of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I tried it and found great relief after I had taken the first bottle and have not been troubled since. I shall always keep it in the house."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Price, 35c. and 60c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

For Canada or For Uncle Sam.

The policy of either Mr. Orerar or Mr. King would injure Canadian industries and Canadian workmen. It would send to the United States more trade upon which we in Canada would pay the exchange which Uncle Sam exacts—exchange which would grow greater as our purchases from Americans increased. It would build up business in American tons, on American farms and in American lumber and mining camps which should be done in Canada.

Whether Great Britain has been right or wrong in its free trade policy is not the question. Conditions in Canada are different to conditions in Great Britain. Great Britain has depended for its prosperity upon buying raw materials, which it has had to import, cheaply. Canada is a country which possesses most of the raw materials it needs. A protective policy is based upon the belief that Canada should turn these raw materials into finished products at home, with Canadian labor. A non-protective or reduced tariff policy would send these materials to the United States or other foreign country to be manufactured by non-Canadian labor for the profit of Americans or foreigners. It is said that if we admitted American goods free we would buy them more cheaply. If that proved true it would do us no good if we had lost the bulk of our populuation through it having to go to other countries to get work. It does no good to have goods offered a little more cheaply if one has no population or money to buy them.

And no one should be deluded in imagining that the Americans would sell us goods cheaply once they had gained possession of our market. An American monopoly of Canadian trade would work the same as any American monopoly. It would exact the uttermost cent.

There Should Be No Cancellation of Debts.

It is good to note that Great Britain is earmarking in its next budget $250,000,000 which is to be used to pay off part of the debt to the United States.

This should tend toward silencing American writers and speakers who are incessantly suggesting to the public that Great Britain wants to cancel its war debt to the United States.

If any suggestion of this nature has at any time been made from British sources it has been that a wholesale cancellation of debts should take place, a procedure which would cost Great Britain a great deal more than it would cost the United States.

But there should be no such cancellation. Nations big and little which have war debts upon their shoulders will gain much in character and self-respect, as well as retaining the respect of the world at large, by working away until they have paid what they owe.

There is a still broader and more important aspect to the question. If cancellation of war debts were agreed upon it would weaken the whole structure of international credit. Once war debts were cancelled what faith could investors retain in future international offerings?

It may be that "bad debt" must be written against some of the obligations of the weaker nations, but let them at least try to pay and if they cannot then world welfare, which depends upon international credit, confidence and good faith, demands that they should bear the stigma of defaulting debtors.

There is the international credit aspect To cancel debts would discredit international good faith. There is the national character aspect. It may make a debtor feel easier when "bad debt" is written against his name, but it certainly does not add to his self-respect, or to this ability to play his part in life.

Where and When Is it Going to End?

The budget speech of Hon. John Hart in the legislature on Friday deserves a great deal of earnest consideration by the taxpayers of the province. And "taxpayers" includes all residents. Taxes are paid by the people as a whole, not merely by those who pay them directly.

Mr. Hart says the net debt of British Columbia on March 31, last, was $39,530,000. It is now, after making allowance for sinking funds, $53,951,436, or, including "temporary" borrowing, $55,000,000. The gross debt is $61,851,436. In 1916 it was $19,600,000. In 1903 is was $7,500,000.

In thirteen years from 1903 the debt of the province increased $12,000,000.

From 1916 to 1921, a period of five years, the debt has increased $36,400,000.

That is three times the increase in only a little over a third of the time.

This piling up of the burden of debt should give cause for serious thought. Where we owed one dollar in 1916 we today owe three dollars. Where we had to pay in taxes, directly or indirectly, one dollar for interest and sinking fund five years ago, we today have to pay three dollars. Other expenditures and taxes to meet them have also increased, but that is a question which can be dealt with separately.

The increase in the provincial debt stands out. And the greatest increase of all has occurred during the present year.

Efficient Housekeeping

CAN YOU BUILD A GOOD FIRE?

I received an amusing letter from a column reader, the other day. It was signed "Bride" and began: "Now, dear Miss Kirkman, before you tell me how to cook, please tell me how to build a fire. Every one I build goes out."

So I think an article on building fires—furnace, stove and hearth—may be acceptable, at least to young housekeepers.

To Build a Fire in a Coal Range: Close all the dampers except the oven dampers; remove the covers from the top of the stove and brush all soot and ashes into the fire box, then turn over the grate so as to dump the ashes into the ash pan below. (This is also the time to scrape off anything that has been spilled on the oven floor). Now lay either crumpled paper or shavings on the grate, filling the firebox at least one-third with this. Next place pieces of kindling, crosswise, on the paper, making sure that they reach the corners. The stick of wood should be loosely arranged in order to allow free passage of air.

It is now time to light the fire. Do this by applying a lighted match through the bars of the grate to the paper or shavings; when the wood is burning well, add 2 shovels of coal, not too large. Do not add more coal until the 2 shovels of it are glowing.

To Build a Furnace Fire: Follow above directions for building a coal fire in a kitchen range. For a furnace is only a large stove.

To Build a Wood Fire on the Hearth: Brush the ashes from previous wood fires far back in the fireplace (of course removing an excessive amount of them.) It is an economy to keep a certain amount of ashes on the hearth because when a fire is made these ashes will be heated again and thus will assist in throwing out more heat. But they must be kept far back so as not to blow and so as to throw the heat forward into the room. The next step, after pushing the ashes back, is to place a "back log" on the andirons, pushing it well back against the center wall of the hearth. This back log is a grat help in building a fire; usually a heavy, chunky stick of hard wood is chosen for it and it frequently lasts from one fire to another. Place crumpled paper or shaving between the andirons and cross kindling sticks on the paper—but more in a hillock shape than flat as when making a range or furnace fire. Lay a few heavier sticks on the kindling so that as the flame burns along the kindling it will be led up to the back log. When a back log is used for a new fire it will be smaller than it originally was because part of it will have burned away; when it becomes too small for use as a back log, it should be drawn forward and a new back log put in.

To keep a large log from burning late at night when a fire is no longer needed, stand the burning piece on end back in the corner or against the side, and as it is isolated from the heat of other pieces of wood it will soon stop burning. A fire screen is a most important piece of hearth-fire equipment.

To Build a Coal Fire in a Hearth Grate: Remove all ashes that are in the grate from other fires, so as to have free access of air to the fire. Place crumpled paper or shavings in the bottom of the grate and a few kindlings or charcoal on top of these. In grate fires soft coal burns with a yellow flame, and because it is porous and full of gases it burns quickly and makes a splendid grate fire. If small paper bags are filled with hard coal, (when this is used) in the caller and put upon the grate fire in the bags, this saves the dirt and unleasant noise of shoveling.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

BOUQUET FOR LOCAL TALENT

Rossland, Nov. 10, 1921.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir:—As one of the audience at a performance held in this town a few nights ago, under the title of "Whizz Bang," I feel compelled to express my appreciation of the same in these few lines. Having been an actor manager myself for a number of years, both in Australia and the Old Country, I have at various times been producer or co-producer of a number of shows of the same nature given for charitable purposes. I can honestly say I have seldom seen anything of its kind go so smoothly from start to finish, nor yet anywhere the talent, purely amateur, was so strongly sustained throughout.

A performance of this nature should be a great encouragement to all mateur dramatic societies and clubs in your district, for what one town can do another can accomplish equally as well.

Congratulations to all concerned.

F. WESTON.

Styles

BY LENORE

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of fashion. Here are two dance frocks of the vintage of 1921. Now who dare complain of the tyranny of fashion.

These two models illustrate the wide range of choice provided for greatly differing tastes and types. For the slender, classic type are the grace and simplicity of the Grecian frock (No 1) which may be copied in crepe de chine or crepe Romain. This model was shown in iris blue, the drapery caught up with beads in a deeper shade, and a garland of pink roses suspended from the girdle.

A petite, vivacious young belle will be able to do her deadliest in the lacy black buffant frock, built on the fashions of the gayest French period (No. 2). The foundation is of black taffeta, and flat roses of cerise velvet trim the skirt.

PATTERN NO. 306

Patterns for the above models (No. 306; styles 1 and 2) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36 and 38, by sending to LENORE, 8 WEST 40th St., NEW YORK CITY, your name, address, and 30 cents (each) in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketches and description of the garments to use as working models when the pattern (patterns) reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

NATIVES CONSIDER CLOTHING INDECENT

Fascinating stories of native life and character are recorded by the Rev. John Roscoe, English missionary, in "Twenty-five Years in East Africa," which has just appeared in London.

After passing through country after country of semi-clothed barbarians, little removed from the wild animals around them, the people of Uganda greet the traveler as an agreeable surprise. They are "gentlefolk with the courtesy and manners of highly educated people."

"The person of the King has even been regarded as most sacred," he says; "he was never allowed to walk outside his own enclosure, but was carried on the shoulders of chosen men. The shoulders of these men were sacrosanct, and no man, not even a friend, was allowed to place his hand upon them in a familiar manner; any breach of this rule was punished by a fine."

Surgical skill had reached a high standard. "Men whose stomachs had been ripped open with the bowels protruding had had a piece of gourd shell placed inside to keep the stomach in position, and the flesh was then stitched over it."

Belief in ghosts was an important part of religion, because of the conviction that they were able to help or harm the living.

"The ghost world was no far-off land separated from this world," writes Mr. Roscoe, "but it was part and parcel of it; indeed, each garden was the playground of these unseen visitants, who in the noontide sunshine might be heard rustling in the leaves of the trees."

Instead of letters and telegrams, messages were conveyed rapidly by beat of drum.

"There were literally several hundred different beats for drums," he says, "and each rhythm was known by the people, and conveyed a definite meaning to them, as the waves of sound do to the wireless telegraphist. The drum was thus equivocal to wireless telegraphy, carrying messages far and wide as quickly as sound travels. In the case of any urgent call or claim it was the duty of the first person at a distance who heard the rhythm to repeat the message, and thus in a few minutes a claim or call was carried hundreds of miles."

Even prisoners regarded escape as dishonorable. By bribing his warder a prisoner might get leave to visit friends on whom he count count for assistance in effecting his permanent release. But "not a single instance is known of the leniency of the guard having been abused by the non-return of the prisoner."

In the hills near Lake Victoria are found the Nilotic Kavirondo, the mystery of whose origin is still unraveled. These Nilotic people are nude and think clothing indecent.

"When a Christian mission was started among them," he says, "and some youths who had been staying at a boarding house went home wearing clothes, their parents scolded them for doing so, and told them they were to put their clothes away until they went back to school, and not to bring disgrace upon the village by wearing them."

PASSED AS GIRL FOR 21 YEARS

Twenty-one years as a girl, Charles C. Williams with his mother fooled the people on the little island of Ocracoke, of South Carolina, for two decades. When Williams was born the mother was bitterly disappointed that he was not a girl. She called him Vera and dressed him as girl. Ocracoke supports some 600 persons, mostly fisherfolk, and with the exception of the mother none knew that Vera was a boy. He grew up to be quite a good-looking girl with blonde fair and fair complexion, and did not leave the island until his twenty-first birthday, when his mother took him, dressed in women's clothes, to the mainland, where he made the discovery that Ocracoke was only a small place in the world. On his return to the island Vera wrote to a mail order house and obtained by parcel post and outfit of men's clothing. He cut off his long hair, took the money he had earned by sewing, and rowed to the mainland. Then he wrote his mother that he was tired of being a girl. She replied telling him that his real name was Charles. For two months Charles worked as a waiter in Baltimore. Then he became disgusted with the world. He has now returned to Ocracoke and the society of his girl friends.

The ancients often used to swear by naming the stars Castor and Pollux.

ROSE MAKES IMPRESSION AT NAKUSP

Abriel Makes Strong Appeal for Meighen Candidate; Fruit Industry in Danger.

NAKUSP, Nov. 12.—On Wednesday evening the first political meeting was held at Nakusp in connection with the forthcoming federal election, when Dr. W. O. Rose, the National Liberal-Conservative candidate, spoke to a splendid audience at the opera house. Dr. McLean was chairman and Thomas Abriel spoke effectively on behalf of the candidate and particularly dwelt on the effect of reduced tariff proposed by the other candidates, on the fruit growing industry of the Arrow Lakes, and contended that there had to be ample protection or fruit growers would have to go out of business. The United States product would simply swamp the markets with their overflows and on account of their earlier seasons across the line would obtain the high prices on the prairies and the British Columbia apples would have to take second place in prices, which would make it impossible to make a living. He advocated united support of Dr. Rose in order to protect the fruit industry of British Columbia, which in Okanagan alone had reached the large sum of eight million dollars annually in shipments.

Points to War Record

Dr. Rose, who has always been popular with old-timers and those with whom he has come in contact professionally, had an enthusiastic and hearty greeting as he rose to speak. The audience was particularly struck with his quiet and effective manner of placing all the advantages of supporting the Meighen government, a government which had gone through the most astonishing difficulties throughout the war and which was prepared to carry on the difficult task of reconstruction. He failed to see how the Liberal party or the Farmer-Labor party were going to make ends meet with any abolition of, or reduced revision of the tariff in view of the immense revenue that had to be produced to carry on the affairs of government. It was simply a matter of impossibility and the cry of reciprocity and reduced tariff was only a catch-vote cry, because in the past the Liberals had been unable to do away with the tariff. Industries would be paralized, factories would shut down, hundreds of thousands would be out of employment, and the United States factories would dump their surplus machinery and other wares into Canada.

Conducts Clean Campaign

Dr. Rose spoke kindly of his opponents, Dr. Hamilton, whom he had known since a boy, and Mr. Humphrey of Nelson, and said that he would carry out a clean campaign. But he really could not understand how Dr. Hamilton, a returned man, could probably follow a man like Mackenzie King as leader. Likewise as to Mr. Humphrey, he warned his hearers that Mr. Crerar's platform was a class one and lacked the broadmindedness one would expect with which to govern the whole of the people fairly. The Meighen government was the only safe and sane one to follow. Dr. Rose made a splendid impression here with those he had not previously met, who gave him promise of whole-hearted support.

He and Mrs. Rose, who accompanied him, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. McLean. Dr. Rose left by car on Thursday morning for Burton, where he had a large meeting at one o'clock in the afternoon. He continued his journey over the road to Fauquir and across the lake to Needles and on to Edgewood, where he had a meeting in the evening. Mrs. Rose left by today's steamer and the doctor will join her at Edgewood.

Speaks at Edgewood

Dr. W. O. Rose, the choice of the Liberal-Conservative convention of West Kootenay, addressed a large gathering of electors in the Edgewood hotel on Thursday evening. He supported Arthur Meighen and his policy of moderate protection. This country had everything needed in the line of water power, coal deposits, raw material, why not have the manufacturing done in this country? Unless protection was maintained the manufacturers would cross the line. Protected industries at present employed 600,000 men, supporting about 2,000,000 people, and there were 87,000 men employed by industries which had moved in from the States.

Col. Harrington was in the chair.

Of the 1,500,000 homes destroyed in Poland during the war, about 500,000 have been rebuilt.

EYE WITNESSES BECOME VAGUE

Many Participants in Stabbing Mix-up; Complaint Charges Three.

FERNIE, Nov. 12.—In connection with the stabbing affray Sunday night in which William Corrigan received a wound which has placed him in the hospital for some days and only miraculously missed penetrating vital organs, the police apparently are having great difficulty in sifting the matter to its source.

Either unintentionally or by design the numerous participants and eye-witnesses to the mixup are amazingly uncertain as to actually what happened or as to the identification of who wielded the murderous weapon. The vague details of the facts so far ascertained are that shortly after midnight when the repair gang from the mines were returning homeward and while on Victoria avenue near the Waldorf hotel, G. Casearin, an Italian, had his lunch pail kicked out of his hand by someone. It is alleged an altercation then ensued between Caesarin and Corrigan, the victim of the knife.

Then followed a street fight in which Caesarin, Corrigan, another Italian by the name of Mercine, and a man known as "Onychuk" and others who were English-speaking men, but whose names if known have not been given out.

An information and complaint, however, has been laid charging Caesarin, Mercine and "Onychuk" with assault occasioning actual bodily harm. The two first named have been arrested and are in custody at the city gaol, but "Onychuk" has not been apprehended, although the police state he is still in the city, and they expect to take him in before the preliminary hearing opens.

GET TOGETHER WITH A SWING

Board of Trade Hosts at Lively Smoker; Addresses, Music, Boxing Bouts.

GRAND FORKS, Nov. 10.—Not in the history of Grand Forks has there been such a unique and successful get-together gathering of the men of the city and valley as that which took place in the Davis hall last Wednesday evening in the form of a smoker under the auspices of the board of trade. Upward of two hundred were in attendance.

The evening opened with a dinner at 6:30, which was followed by an entertainment of a most varied and enjoyable character, presided over by Mayor Geo. H. Hull, and got away to a splendid start, with "Smile, Smile, Smile" in chorus. Five-minute addresses, bristling with optimist and get-together ideals, were intermingled with vocal selections. Features of the program were a sword dance by Dr. R. A. Brown, the pioneer of the North Fork; a skilful exhibition of rope skipping by Jack Berry, and four three-round bouts by local athletes. The first bout was between George Brown and Abraham Mooyboer; the second between Boyd Nichols and Noble Padgett, and the third between Abraham Mooyboer and Sheridan Ross. These contestants were all local school youths who have developed much cleverness under the training of L. B. Saunders of the R. C. M. P. The fourth and feature event was a fast three rounds put on by Mr. Saunders and Jack Berry, both of whom won much applause by their clever work. Saunders refereed the first two events and Teddy Waldron the latter two, the different bouts being called at intervals through the other numbers on the program.

Another board of trade entertainment is planned for January, when the ladies will be included in the invitation list.

DECIDE CITY BOYS THE MORE IGNORANT

CRANBROOK, Nov. 12.—The second meeting of the Cranbrook High School Literary socity was held in the assembly hall Friday, Nov. 4, when the meeting took the form of a debate: "Resolved, that the city boy entering the country is more ignorant than the country boy entering the city." The affirmative side was led by Mr. Eric MacKinnon, supported by Miss Eva Moir, and the negative side by Mr. Barry McDonald, supported by Miss Isabel Parker. Two members of the teaching staff, Miss Agar and Mr. Baker, kindly consented to act as judges.

While the judges were making their decision Miss Dorothy Hodgson favored the audience with a recitation entitled "Laska," which was very well received. Miss Jessie Baynes favored with a pianoforte solo, "Mazurka Melodie."

The debate was won by the affirmative side and in giving the decision Mr. Baker pointed out the main points in good debating which were very beneficial to all.

The literary society is planning two more debates this term, while the remaining meetings will take the form of mock elections and trials, stump speeches, etc.

DECIDE TO EXTEND THE CRYSTAL HALL

WILLOW POINT, Nov. 12.—A meeting of the Crystal club was held at Crystal hall on the evening of November 10. R. Dawson was in the chair. The secretary, Mr. Bayley, read the financial report and there being sufficient funds on hand it was decided after much discussion to add ten feet to the width of the hall, the space at present being too limited for the rapidly growing population.

HUNTING PARTY OFF THE TRAIL

Three Days Without Food; Encounter Snow Storms; Reach White Spruce Camp

FERNIE, Nov. 12.—A near tragic end to a hunting party which started from this city last Saturday was only averted by the pluck and perseverence of the members of the party in keeping going, without food or nourishment for three days, when late Thursday afternoon they reached the upper camps of the White Spruce Lumber company, where they were revived and rested. Saturday afternoon about 5:30 Melvin Commons, J. Hardy and E. Cartledge, three young lads who reside here, started on a hunting expedition in the region behind the Three Sisters mountain, a sanctuary for big game. They were provisioned for two days and intended to return Monday night. However, upon reaching the objective hunting ground severe snow storms were encountered and in attempting to work their way out they lost the trail.

The result was that they wandered aimlessly for miles in the desolate wilds, when not obliged to seek shelter from the severe snow storms that raged from Monday until five o'clock Thursday afternoon, when they finally located a logging camp in Hartley Creek valley of the White Spruce Lumber company. The provisions of the party became exhausted on Monday, and from that time until reaching the camp they were practically without food and unable to even comfort themselves from the warmth of a campfire. The boys, however, although physically exhausted and famished, soon recovered when fed, rested and reclothed, and later returned to their homes but little the worse for their harrowing experiences.

SOCIETY ENTERTAINS AT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

CRANBROOK, Nov. 12.—The assembly hall of the Cranbrook high school was "en fete" Friday evening last, Nov. 4th, when the literary society entertained the school board and ex-students at a delightful party.

The hall was beautifully and tastefully decorated with festoons of evergreens, among which were entwined orange and black streamers, while here and there black cats and witches glared with piercing eyes.

The program for the first part of the evening, which took the form of a very interesting game, was in the hands of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Baker, but owing to illness Mr. Wilson was unable to be present and Mr. Baker, with the aid of the other teachers and friends, carried the games to a successful finish. The party was divided up into four colleges: University of British Columbia, Manitoba, Toronto and McGill; each college was called upon to send out contestants to take part in the "track meet" and the college gaining the highest points won the penant. Manitoba and U. B. C. tied for first, while Toronto and McGill tied for second. This game proved to be very popular and was enjoyed by all present.

The latter part of the evening took the form of dancing, which was equally as much enjoyed as the games. The C. R. C. Jazz orchestra composed of H. S. students, supplied the music and it is said that this orchestra is one of the best in the city.

Refreshments were served at 11:15 p. m. and the happy party broke up shortly before midnight, each one wishing that the party was just starting instead of finishing.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE DISCUSSES BUILDING

WILLOW POINT, Nov. 12.—A meeting of the Women's Institute was held at Crystal hall on the afternoon of November 1, the principal business being the discussion of the advisability of raising funds for a building for the Women's Institute in a central position in the settlement. It was decided to do so, and as soon as possible to start raising money for that object—a dance being proposed in the near future—and the building committee was instructed to obtain information on the subject of a suitable building site.

A large number of members were present, Mrs. Applewhaite in the chair. Two signs warning motorists are being put up by the society on the road each side of the school to prevent speeding, and endangering the children. Mrs. H. A. Masters served tea.

Memorial Service on Armistice Day Held at Edgewood

EDGEWOOD, Nov. 12.—An impressive memorial service was held on Friday afternoon in front of the obelisks erected to the memory of those who fell in the Great War. The veterans paraded, in command of Major P. Brooke, and there was a large attendance of citizens and neighbors. Rev. E. A. L. Donaldson, addressing those present, reminded them of what the men who gave their lives had done to build up a better habitation for the whole family of mankind, and these remaining must continue and combine with them and other who had gone before.

At the conclusion Dr. Rose breifly addressed the gathering, reminding them of the love the men commemorated had displayed and that we owe them a debt of love and gratitude in return, which should not be forgotten, and what was done for those who returned should be measured only by the ability of the government.

CHURCH NOTES IN CRESTON VALLEY

CRESTON, Nov. 10.—The united Methodist-Presbyterian Thanksgiving service in the latter church on Sunday night attracted an attendance of almost 200 worshippers, and throughout was an exceptionally appropriate hour of worship for such an occasion. The address was by Pastor Knox of the Methodist church, and a combined choir of some twenty voices took excellent care of the music, which was supplemented by a solo by C. A. Eby, and a quartette, "Come Unto Me," which was rendered by Mesdames R. B. Staples and Oatway, and Messrs. W. Truscott and Oatway. The offering, which was divided 50-50, was exceptionally generous. This is the second of these services this year, and both have been so successful that it is likely another will be held on Christmas Sunday evening.

Rev. J. Barr Stirling of St. Paul's church, Nelson, will be here for both services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, in an exchange of pulpits with Rev. J. A. James.

Preparation classes in confirmation at both Creston and Erickson are now being conducted by Rev. H. Varley of Christ church, in view of an expected visit from the bishop of Kootenay early next month.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid had their annual Thanksgiving dinner on Friday night in Speers' hall, which was quite generously patronized, the net intake being a little better than $50.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church are observing the U. S. Thanksgiving day for their annual chicken supper, which will be served in Speers' hall on November 24th.

Christ church Ladies' Guild have decided upon Friday, December 2nd, for their annual bazaar, which is to be followed in the evening by a dance.

There yet remains one carload in the packing house, the total output being 16 cars.

A Cutler mechanical grader was installed at the packing house at McDonalds Landing last fall, which has proved a great success.

The usual annual dance was held after the conclusion of the season's operations at the new packing house at Willow Point, the packing crew being the hosts.

Markets and Finance

SPECIAL ISSUES ARE PROMINENT

Standard Oils, Linseed, Pullman Steel Car, Brake Shoe Go Higher.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Usual favorites among rails and industrials played no part in today's brief but expanded stock market, their places being taken by special issues, particularly oils and equipments.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was the most prominent feature at a further gain of eight points, Standard Oil of California gaining 6⅝. American Linseed common and preferred were 3½ and 5½ points higher. Pullman, Pressed Steel Car, preferred, and American Brake Shoe were the strongest of the equipments.

Coppers, leathers and paper specialties, also several of the textiles, were better by 1 to 2 points, these in turn being offset by moderate recessions in miscellaneous issues, including mail order stocks. Sales amounted to 365,000 shares.

The day's light dealings in bonds centered in Liberty issues, the 3½s and second 4s showing marked strength. Domestic issues of the railway and industrial types were dull and internationals showed irregular changes. Total sales, par value, $6,750,000.

Changes in the weekly clearing house statement reflects the interruption to business caused by the two holidays. Actual loans and discounts contracted by a little more than $22,000,000, reserves of members of the federal reserve bank increased by slightly over $23,000,000, and a cash gan of about $22,000,000 lifted the excess reserves to about $35,000,000 in contrast to the deficit recorded several weeks ago.

Trading in foreign exchanges was perfunctory and irregular. British and French rates held firm, Italian, Belgian and German quotations eased and of the neutral remittances a jump in Norwegian rates was offset by the reactionary tone of Spanish bills.

MONTREAL LIST

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—Beyond a sharp flurry in Quebec Railway there was little business on the stock exchange Saturday morning. The market wah ket was generally firmer in tone with a fair percentage of gains scattered throughout the list.

The steel displayed further easiness. Ontario sold 2 points lower at 42, and Steel of Canada sold off ¾ to 62¼.

It was the busiest half day in the bonds of the year and prices continued firm all along the line.

Four issues advanced to new highest levels for the year. These were war loans for 1937, up 15 to 89.75; and Victory bonds of 1933, up 25, to 99.70; 1934, up 15, to 96.25; 1934, up 15, to 96.90, and 1937, up 45, to 100.75. Quebec Railway bonds sold ¼ down, at 62¾.

C. O. Doders, manager of Canyon City Lumber company, limited, left on Sunday on a business trip to Calgary and other prairie points. The firm has quite a cut of logs on the skids and as soon as snow comes these will be hauled in and the mill commence operations.

H. Vaness of Edson, Alta., arrived a few days ago on a visit to J. W. Vaness, plant superintendent of the local telephone company.

Local musical circles suffered a distinct loss in the departure on Wednesday for Saskatchewan, Sask., of C. A. Eby. Both in concert and Presbyterian choir work his splendid baritone voice has been frequently heard in the past two years, and his place will be hard to fill.

Harold Goodwin, who has spent the past season at farming operations near Moose Jaw, Sask., is here to spend the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Goodwin.

Miss Irving, teacher at Canyon City, and Miss Campion, who has charge of the school at Camp Lister, spent the Thanksgiving holidays at their homes at Nelson.

Major Malladaine was a business visitor at Cranbrook a few days the latter part of the week, returning on Sunday.

J. D. Moore of Kaslo, provincial road superintendent, was here at the end of the week, and has started a crew at work diverting the road at the Simister hill so as to provide a better grade as well as a highey highway.

Vital statistics for the month of October show four births—two boys and two girls—no marriage and no deaths. The rainfall for the month was one and one-quarter inches. The coolest touch of the whole month was 23 above zero on the 12th.

Creston made a record for amusement tax collections last month, the total intake being almost $70. There is still a healthy demand for hunting licenses, the provincial revenue from this source being $155 for October.

AINSWORTH NOTES

AINSWORTH, Nov. 11.—Phillip Morrison has a lease on the Maestro and is going to work it this winter.

F. Fox of Nelson was a business visitor here at the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and their two little girls came in from Nelson on Friday night's boat. They have taken up their residence in C. F. Sherwin's cottage on the Hot Springs. Mrs. Anderson is suffering from a form of rheumatism and is going to try the Hot Springs cure.

A. T. Sheraden was out of town the last of the week.

Dan Grant and Henry Steel have gone up Woodberry creek for a few days' fishing.

A. T. Sheraden has got three more goats in from the other side. He now has a herd of eight.

Mrs. Steel was hostess at the first meeting of the "Thimble Circle," which is going to meet every week during the winter months. After a pleasant hour of needlework, afternoon tea was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Thompson, Cedar Creek. Those present were Mrs. Strobeck, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. L. W. Oughtred, Mrs. Lorne Thompson, Mrs. W. E. Lane and Mrs. J. H. Steel.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Oughtred and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fletcher at dinner on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fletcher and baby girl leave for Nelson Thursday morning for two or three days.

EDWIN W. FIELD,
Milwaukee, Wis.

"I'm convinced if I had taken Tanlac two years ago, when my troubles first began, I would have been saved a world of suffering," said Ed. W. Field, 538 Jefferson St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"My case proved that when a man's stomach goes wrong, everything goes wrong with him. The first thing I noticed out of the way was loss of appetite and the next, that no matter how sparingly I ate, I was sure to have an attack of indigestion. This was two years ago and from that time on, until after I started on Tanlac, I kept going down hill at a steady rate. I finally got so I couldn't walk a couple of blocks without having to stop and rest and I was so nervous that often I sat up in a chair all night long.

"Tanlac has made a new man out of me, my stomach is as sound as a dollar and I feel fine all the time. I am a firm believer in Tanlac because I know it delivers the goods."

Tanlac is sold in Nelson by the Canada Drug & Book Company and by leading druggists everywhere.

BIG UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL CAPTAINS

By Wood Cowan

When we think of football we at once associate it with cold, snappy weather, and even snow. So when someone ventures to state that there is All-American timber down among the cotton and peaches, it just does not seem quite right—if possible.

But with "Red" Barron, the auburn-thached youngster who is helping to build a great reputation for Georgia "Tech," Atlanta has a chance to show up in something else beside golf.

This boy is fast, shifty, sturdily built youth, who is exceedingly hard to throw off his feet. His forte is running from regular formation, with added opportunities here and there in the way of working on the receiving end of Tech's passing game. He has but one general assignment on offensive play—to lug the ball down the field, either through the line or around the ends.

Atlanta fans claim him to be the peer of any backfield man that has ever played in the entire south. And when you take into consideration that Joe Guyon, the old Carlisle star, wound up his collegiate football career at Georgia "Tech," it is readily realized that Barron's admirers are blanketing him with some praise.

"Judy" Harlan is captain and another hard line plunger of "Tech." He is one of the best fullbacks in the south and a kicker of no mean ability.

EDMONTON ESKIMOS ARRIVE TOO LATE

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—The Western Canada Rugby championship will not be decided until tomorrow as the scheduled fixtures between the Edmonton Eskimos and the Winnipeg Victorias here on Saturday did not take place, owing to the Edmonton team not arriving until 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, too late for the game. The visitors had a workout after arriving and looked quite formidable, and the locals will, no doubt, have to excel themselves to win Monday's final.

FOUR TEAMS IN LEAGUE.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—Four teams will comprise the Manitoba amateur senior hockey league this year. This was decided at a meeting held yesterday when Brandon and Selkirk from the outside and the Falcons and Winnipegs, two local teams, were admitted. The old Winnipeg senior league was reorganized with three teams, Victorias, Monarchs and Varsity.

Argonauts Defeat Ottawa Roughriders, Capturing Senior Series.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—The Argonauts had a good workout for the Canadian finals against the Ottawa Roughriders on Saturday afternoon and incidentally captured the inter-provincial senior series with a 28 to 5 victory, making six wins in as many starts this season.

The game was attended by about 3000 spectators but the weather conditions were far from ideal. The field was covered with about an inch of hard crusted snow; the weather was cold and the players had some difficulty in handling the ball.

Ottawa brought along about 16 men and they were all used, but with a few exceptions, they made little impression on the sculler's defense. The five points they obtained were somewhat of a gift. On an attempted run by the Sculler's halves, Cochrane passed the ball just as he was about to be tackled and Baker intercepted the ball and went 50 yards for a touchdown, just managing to get across the line before being overhauled by McCormick. Seldom were they in a position to increase their score and the few times that the ball went over the line the Argos back field men ran it out of danger.

PATRICK LOGICAL CHOICE

CALGARY, Nov. 13.—E. L. NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Pete Herman, New Orleans, former world's bantamweight boxing champion received the judges' decision over Ray Moore, St. Paul, in a 15-round bout last night. It was Herman's first appearance in the ring since he lost his title to Buff in September. Herman held a safe lead in every round but the eighth, in which Moore had a shade, and the ninth, which was even. The former champion's infighting was effective with Moore taking severe punishment from fast right and left hand body blows.

QUEENS TRIUMPH IN SENIOR RACE

Toronto Varsity Inter-Collegiate Champions Without Need for Play-off.

KINGSTON, Nov. 13—With snow falling fast and conditions far from ideal, the inter-collegiate football union senior race was decided here Saturday when Queens triumphed over McGill by a score of 6 to 3 and gave the University of Toronto the championship without the necessity of a playoff.

The football served up to a loyal and shivering crowd was not of the brilliant and extraordinary kind. Fumbles were all too frequent, neither team showing any sign of being of Dominion championship calibre and team play was not perfect, McGill being the worst offenders in the last named department. But the snow covered the field, the rather cool breeze and the insecure footing were partially responsible and perhaps had the game been played under more favorable circumstances the teams would have lived up to advance notices.

Timely Tips for the Physical Culturist

Following is the third of a series of weekly three minute health "talks" being given by Griffith Morris, physical instructor of the Y. M. C. A., to each of his classes in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, prior to the commencement of exercise.

Breathing for Health

This talk refers chiefly to exercises for strengthening and developing the lungs and the respiratory muscles, as well as for increasing lung capacity.

Everyone is well advised to make a special effort towards the development of a full and powerful chest, and thus provide space for, and freedom of, the internal breathing organs.

In ordinary circumstances, mouth breathing is detrimental and carefully to be avoided, except in some forms of strenuous exercises, such as swimming, tug-of-war, sprinting and so forth. In such exercises, one is forced to the limit of physicial exertion and needs air in great quantities without loss of time to prevent the lungs suffering from lack of oxygen. Mouth breathing then becomes natural and necessary and is an emergency method not to be condemned.

But it should be remembered, nasal breathing is the natural mode, and should be habitual. If during medium exercise sufficient air cannot be inhaled through the nose, there is reason to suspect the presence of adenoids or other nasal defect which should receive immediate surgical attention.

Breathing Exercises

Chest Breathing—With feet together, bend forward, touching the knees with the hands, arms extended. Slowly raise the arms above the head, raising the trunk, and inhaling to your fullest capacity, as the arms pass the head. Continue the movement of the arms downward and backward during the act of eqhaling.

Diaphramatic and chest breathing—Place the hands just above the hips and bend forward, inhaling, commence the expansion at the waist line, and allow the expansion to proceed upwards until the chest is fully expanded. Then bend forward again, pressing with the hands above the hips while exhaling.

Like all breathing exercises, these should be taken out of doors, or in a room with the windows open.

CORNWALL FORFEITS

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 13.—The Cornwall Rugby club telegraphed to the Westmount A. A., that they would forfeit their scheduled game Saturday afternoon to the home team, the outcome of the game would have had no bearing on the championship.

MONTREAL, Nov. 13.—According to L. O. Solman, Toronto sportsman, Montreal will receive a franchise in the international league next year, Mr. Solman, who has been interviewing local men with a view to securing their support, said the Montreal would get the Reading franchise.

SASKATOON, Nov. 13.—The Hill Tops rugby team of this city defeated the Battleford high school in an exhibition game at Battleford Saturday, 23 to 1.

RUGBY MEN ASK MORE PUBLICITY

Western Union Elects Officers; Provinces to Make Residence Rule.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—Nothing definite in the way of new rules was decided upon at the annual meeting of the Western Canada Rugby union held here Saturday, though considerable discussion took place on ways and means of improving the teams in the western provinces. All three provinces, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba were well represented at the meeting and many points of interest to all concerned were discussed.

Each province will be required to make a residence rule in the future so that players cannot be run in at the last moment. An effort will be made to have the newspapers give Canadian Rugby more publicity and the western dailies will be asked to carry more on eastern games.

New officers were elected as follows:

Past president, R. S. Fraser, Edmon; President, E. Chown, Winnipeg; First vice-president, Dr. W. R. Blow, Regina; Second vice-president, A. Wark, Calgary; Secretary-treasurer, Professor C. A. Hardy, Saskatoon.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The balk line billiard players and fans from all parts of the continent interested in the 18.2 cue game were gathered here today for the opening game tomorrow of the first world's championship tournament held in sixteen years.
