VOL. 20. NELSON, B.C., THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1921. NO. 154.

FIRST INVENTS THEN RESENTS IMPUTATIONS

Meighen Discloses Crerar's Method; Never Called Farmers Disloyal.

SHOWS LITTLE CONCERN FOR INDUSTRIAL CANADA

Would Be Simply Supply Depot for States if Policy Carried Out.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Speaking to an audience of about 3500 persons in the rink here tonight, Premier Meighen dealt with a charge which he declared had been made against him by Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives.

"Mr. Crerar says that I have charged the western farmers with disloyalty," said the premier, "and he stands in righteous indignation on behalf of the west to defend them against this awful imputation. When Mr. Crerar resents what I say he usually invents what I say first. I never uttered the word disloyalty, I never challenged their loyalty, but I do say that not only these people but—and more to his discredit—Mr. Crerar himself have very little regard for the conditions of industrial Canada, very little interest and concern."

Premier Cites Shoes.

The premier went on to quote Mr. Crerar as stating, "If we cannot make shoes as cheaply in Canada as in the United States, then we have not reached the time in Canada when we should be making shoes."

This statement, declared the premier, showed very little concern for the works of industrial Canada. Mr. Crerar was in the position of every recent immigrant to this country, "but the position is far less creditable to him. If his policy was carried out we would have no industrial Canada today, but would simply be a supply depot to the United States," declared the premier.

Speeches were also delivered by T. E. Simpson, candidate in West Algoma, and Hon. R. J. Manion, of Fort William, minister of soldiers' civil reestablishment.

Hon. Mr. Manion said that he was supporting Mr. Meighen because the prime minister's policy was the only one which meant peace and prosperity to Canada.

Mr. Crerar, said Dr. Manion, was representing a selfish class interest in the west.

WIRTH FORMS NEW CABINET TO CARRY ON

Named "Cabinet of Predicament;" No Change in Silesian Viewpoint.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Having succeeded in forming his cabinet, Dr. Wirth, upon making his announcement to the Reichstag, declared that the new government's viewpoint regarding Upper Silesia differs in no way from that of the preceding government. He declared the German government would protest against the recent decision of the council of the League of Nations concerning Upper Silesia on the ground of the illegality of the allied supreme council's having referred the question to the League of Nations. This procedure, he said, was not provided for by the treaty of Versailles.

The "cabinet of a predicament," so named to distinguish it from the "cabinet of fulfilment," which Chancellor Wirth headed last May, was late in reaching the government bench in the Reichstag this afternoon.

Lacks Finance Minister.

Up to five minutes of 4 o'clock the cabinet still lacked a minister of finance. Andres Hermes, the minister of food, then decided to take on the added duty of finance. Although it was announced that the post of minister of reconstruction would temporarily remain unoccupied, it is generally believed that Walter Rathenau will resume his old post within a few days.

Although Herr Gessler, minister of defense, also ranks as a Democrat, his retention of the portfolio was due to pressure of Pesident Ebert, Wirth and others, who were of the belief that the war ministry was the one governmental department which should not be exposed to the effects of the present crisis.

Herr Groener remains as minister of communications; Dr. Rosen, the foreign minister, and Herr Schiffer, minister of justice, are the only members of the former cabinet who are definitely out of the government.

Seeks Able Volunteers.

Dr. Wirth devoted a great part of last night and all of the forenoon today and even the hours up to the opening of the Reichstag late this afternoon seeking men who would voluntarily take posts in his provisional makeshift cabinet. Around the corridors of the Reichstag the assertion was made that no more careful search ever was made for able men than was carried

DISCHARGES DEBT OF HONOR

FOLLY OF DOUBTING THAT WOMAN HAS ARRIVED.

An immaculately dressed man recently startled Londoners by wheeling a baby carriage and pulling an indignant sheep through the street. He had bet that Mrs. Wintringham would not be elected to the British house of commons in the Louth byelection.

ORATORY WINS OVER CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Briand Going to Washington; Scores Notable Victory in Confidence Debate.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Premier Briand will take passage for New York on Saturday on his way to attend the conference on the limitation of armaments at Washington, with the prestige of one of the greatest victories of his political career, in which he has already fallen from power and been recalled as head of the cabinet six times.

The majority of the chamber of deputies, which seemed to be moving away from the premier yesterday after Andre Tardieu's attack on the cabinet, dwindled into a little minority after the premier, in a masterly fashion, had replied today to all the criticisms against his administration.

M. Briand received as a final vote of confidence 381 to 186.

Passion at High Pitch.

Political passion had been worked up to the highest pitch by the aggressive attacks of M. Tardieu yesterday and when M. Herriot, leader of the Radicals, opened a counter attack today it soon became a tumult which required more than an hour to calm.

"There is one question of the utmost importance to disarmament, namely, the security of France," said the premier. "I am sure it is not in the minds of our friends in the United States to refuse the national security we need."

After recess M. Briand, who appeared to have lost control of the chamber yesterday, seemed to have regained it by what his friends regard as one of the greatest oratorical efforts of his life.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26.—It is stated tonight by a local paper that Hon. A. B. Hudson, former attorney general of Manitoba, has refused to seek election in South Winnipeg as an Independent candidate.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26.—A special to the Free Press tonight says that Dr. Michael Clark, former member for Red Deer, and up to recently first lieutenant of the National Progressive party, will be present at the Liberal nominating convention for Mackenzie constituency at Canora, Sask., tomorrow. His name will come before the gathering as a candidate.

STORMY SCENES OCCUR AT DISCUSSION OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF BILL IN COMMONS; ORDER LABOR MEMBERS TO LEAVE HOUSE

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Labor members of parliament, led by John Robert Cylnes, are making a strong fight to induce the government to increase the amounts payable to the children of unemployed persons under the government's unemployed workers' and dependents' temporary provision bill.

Stormy scenes occurred when John J. Jones and Will Thorne were both ordered by the chairman to leave the house for refusing to withdraw abusive epithets.

Such terms as "political tricksters" were leveled at the supporters of the government. Finally Mr. Clynes announced that the Labor party would take no further part in the committee stage of the bill, as the government had declined to make further grants, and a number of Laborites left the house.

DRAWS COMPARISONS BETWEEN THE PROBLEMS OF CANADA AND IRELAND

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press cable).—At the Canadian club dinner tonight in honor of the Duke of Devnoshire, which was presided over by Sir George Perley, Canadian high commissioner, in the absence of the Duke of Connaught, some interesting comparisons between Canada and Ireland were made by Winston Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies.

"I must be very careful what I say about Canada," declared Mr. Churchill. "Any word I say might be construed into interference in matters with which we have no concern." (cries of "don't worry")

"No, I am not going to worry," continued Mr. Churchill. "That is one advantage of the system on which the Empire is built. There is a great economic political struggle going on today in Canada and not one of us has to worry about it. We know that whatever may happen, the old flag will fly. How I wish that in similar elections which will be taking place in the near future we had no cause to worry. Canada gives us a feeling of encouragement. At the present time in the task we have in hand in regard to Ireland, we see that in Canada there have been many, if not indeed, all the difficulties which exist in Ireland; great differences of religion race and language, differences of history and party groupings, even differences which have led to bloodshed.

Do Not Threaten Integrity

"It would be affectation to sup*pose that all those differences have* been swept away, but in the Canadian constitution they have been reduced to proportions which no longer threaten the integrity of Canada as a nation or give cause for the slightest ground for anxiety to the motherland.

"The case of Ireland certainly is not exactly parallel. We must be guided in our treatment of that problem by an intense desire to penetrate the true secret of the Irish heart and lay aside once and for all these causes of medieval hatred which prevail to this hour. In solving the problem we may derive great encouragement from the manner in which difficulties in many respects similar, have been overcome in the Dominion."

The Duke of Devonshire, replying, declared that no question in Canada had ever arisen concering the relationship of the Dominion and the old country.

Anchored to Royal Family

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, toasting Sir George Perley, said that in all the vicissitudes of the years past, he believ*ed the royal family had remained* anchored to the affections of the Irish people. So long as that were true, he would never abandon hope that a time would come when representatives of Ireland would sit at the table of the Canadian club as members of the great Empire.

SUPREME COUNCIL OF MASONS MEETS

Confers Thirty-third Degree on Fifteen Delegates From All Provinces.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—Over 50 members of the supreme council of the Masonic order in Canada are meeting here for two days, the gathering being the annual meeting of the supreme council, which is the governing body for the entire Dominion and whose membership is made up solely of 33rd degree Masons.

The most interesting item on the program today was the ceremony of conferring the 33rd degree on some 18 delegates, who were admitted to membership by this ceremony.

Thirty-third degree Masons from Vancouver to Prince Edward Island are in attendance, some of the outstanding personages attending being Sir John Gibson of Hamilton, the only surviving past sovereign grand commander; J. R. Seymour, Vancouver, and Alexander Sheppard, Regina, Sask.

IMMENSE FUND FOR SOLID SIX ROUSES PUBLIC

Alberni Member Asks Oliver to Clear Atmosphere; Party Differences.

ACCUSES MRS. SMITH OF DESERTING CAUSE

Oliver Interrupts Criticism of Cromie-Campbell Case; Bowser Takes Issue.

VICTORIA, Oct. 26.—Declaring that it was the duty of Premier Oliver to "make an early move to clear the atmosphere," Major R. J. Burde, Independent member for Alberni, speaking in the house today, said the public mind of British Columbia had been stirred by charges arising out of the liquor board's warehouse deal, newspaper stories about an immense fund raised in Vancouver to elect the solid Liberal six in that constituency, and the reports of internal differences within the party itself.

Major Burde said that he would vote with the government in case a vote of want of confidence was put across by the opposition for political purposes. He disapproved of any further expenditure on the Pacific Great Eastern.

He accused Hon. Mary Ellen Smith of "stage play" and deserting the Independent cause.

J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, said that "a financial rampage" had resulted in the necessity for levying still higher taxes in British Columbia.

Premier Interrupts.

In the course of his criticism Mr. Jones referred to the Campbell-Cromie libel case, but was interrupted by Premier Oliver.

W. J. Bowser defended the South Okanagan member, declaring that if it was not possible to discuss evidence given on oath the legislature had better close.

Mr. Jones said that Hon. T. D. Pattullo's immigration scheme was a false alarm and accused the government of extravagance in connection with the South Okanagan irrigation project. He held that the Oliver government was not compelled to finish the P. G. E.

DECLINE TO ALLOW CARL IN ENGLAND

Too Close to Hungary for Permanent Exile in View of Recent Air Exploit.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Under no circumstances will former Emperor Charles of Austria be allowed to come to England. This was the answer today in official circles to a reported desire of the ex-emperor to accept exile in the British Isles and to take up life there as a country gentleman. Arrangements might be made, it was said, for him to be exiled in some remote British possession if no other place seems available, but in view of his airplane adventure from Switzerland last week England is considered too close to Hungary to be a place of permanent exile.

Foreign office advices today stated that Charles was still being held by the Hungarian government troops who captured him, that he would soon be transferred to an Allied guard and placed on a British gunboat in the Danube to await a final decision by the council of ambassadors regarding a place of exile.

Little Entente Sends Ultimatum.

BELGRADE, Oct. 26.—It was announced today that an ultimatum demanding the delivery of Charles and guarantees for the disarmament of Hungary and for the reimbursement of the costs of mobilization would be delivered immediately to the Budapest government by the representatives of the little entente.

The ultimatum, it was said, would stipulate that refusal to comply with it in 48 hours would mean that the armies of Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slovakia would receive orders to cross the Hungarian frontier. In political circles in the little entente it is considered that despite diplomatic activities by the great powers, Belgrade, Prague and Bucharest alone are in possession of immediately efficacious means for action.

Insufficient Postage on Canadian Correspondence Exasperates Business Men

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Business houses here which have much correspondence from Canada continue to suffer exasperation at the num*ber of letters surcharged upon ar*rival here, due, seemingly, to the new Canadian rates of postage to Great Britain not being yet grasped by the senders of the letters. The postage rate on letters from Canada to the British Isles is now 4 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each subsequent ounce.

ENQUIRES INTO TREATMENT OF FOREIGN LEGION

Spanish Officers Ill-Treat British Subjects Joining Army, Is Alleged.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Great Britain has asked Spain to allow a British representative to proceed to Morocco to make an independent and impartial inquiry into allegations of ill treatment by Spanish officers of British subjects who have enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion.

This announcement was made in the house of commons today by Cecil Harmsworth, under secretary for foreign affairs, in answer to a question by Earl Winterton. The latter asked if the government was aware of the serious allegations made against the Spanish military authorities by British subjects, mostly ex-service men, recently enlisted in the Spanish foreign *legion, who claim that condi*tions of pay and service, promised by Spanish consuls here, have not been carried out. Earl Winterton asked further if the government was aware that some of the British who protested were ill-treated, robbed and sent to Gibraltar, and that others who actually joined the legion had been kicked and beaten by Spanish officers.

Among the British subjects who enlisted for service in the British-Spanish forces against the Moroccans were a number of Canadians who had served in the war. One contingent of 300 recruits sailing from New York, Sept. 14, included 33 Canadian ex-service men and was in charge of Captain Donald McGregor, himself a Canadian veteran.

McGregor, who is a native of India, and was formerly in the British army in that country, enlisted in the Canadian army in the war and won his commission from the ranks. He had seen service in the South African war. The men were recruited through Spanish consulates. Each member of the expedition was guaranteed 90 cents a day and a bonus.

Queensland occupies the whole of the northeastern portion of Australia and the administration of the government is vested in a governor and executive council: There are two houses of parliament—the legislative council and the legislative assembly. The council consists of 49 members, who are nominated for life by the crown, while the assembly, consisting of 72 members, is elected by universal adult suffrage.

Program Gives Military Title of "Commandant General" to Michael Collins; Indian and Egyptian Nationalists Send Wreaths

IRELAND LOS[illegible] ENEMY, BRITAIN [illegible] FRIEND

Arthur Griff[illegible] Indicates Result of [illegible]eful Settlement; [illegible]g Sings "Soldiers' Son[illegible]" Sinn Fein War Hymn Since Easter.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The London Irish societies organized a demonstration in Albert hall tonight in honor of the Irish delegates to the peace conference. Though the occasion was described as nonpolitical, Republican flags were suspended in the hall and waved by the audience during the singing of patriotic songs.

The greatest enthusiasm was forced on Michael Collins, described on the official program as "commandant general," the first time any military title has been publicly given to him. Wreaths were presented to the dele*gates on behalf of the Egyptian Na*tionalists and representatives of the Indian Nationalists also were present on the platform.

Despite insitent demands on the part of those present for a speech from Mr. Collins, only Arthur Griffith, head of the delegation, spoke in reply to an expression of welcome. He said:

Feels Solidarity of Irish.

"We can not at this moment deal with a political subject, but when we gaze at this vast gathering of our exiled fellow countrymen, we feel the strength, solidarity and unconquerableness of the Irish race, we are wishful to make peace between our country and this country . We hope it may be so; we can not say. We hope the time may come when the fate that dooms millions of our people to exile may cease and that our people will not need to leave their own country, but will find prosperity and freedom at home, which they are now denied. But while we hope for peace, we must be equal to either fortune. If peace with honor and freedom comes, then I say it will be a great day not only for Ireland, but for this country, and a great day in the history of the world, for something will have happened which has not happened in many centuries—Ireland will have lost her only enemy and Britain will have gained a friend."

The Irish delegates tood up in turn and each was cheered. The meeting was concluded with the singing of the "Soldiers" song, which has been the Sinn Fein's war hymn since Easter week.

No Final Agreement

LONDON, Oct. 26.—It was disclosed in an official paper presented in parliament by the government tonight, giving the terms of the Irish truce as already published by both sides, that the terms were "the subject of an honorable understanding and were not embodied in any formal signed agreement."

"This misunderstanding," says the paper, "was interpreted in different terms in the communications issued

JURY RETURNS OPEN VERDICT

Mrs. Bogart Burned to Death, Origin of Fire Unknown, Is Inquest Finding.

NEW DENVER, Oct. 26.—On Monday morning word was brought to Dr. Gomer, the coroner, that the cabin at Six Mile, on the Bogart ranch, was burnt during the night. The cabin was occupied by Mrs. Bogart, the widow of the late William Bogart. Dr. Gomer and A. McInnes at once took a launch and went across the lake and visited the scene of the fire. The charred body of Mrs. Bogart was found on the part of the bed springs remaining. Yesterday (Tuesday) the remains were brought from Six Mile to New Denver and an inquest was held. Dr. Gomer, coroner, presided. A. Shilland was foreman of the jury. A verdict of burned to death, cause and origin of fire unknown, was returned. After the inquest the funeral of the deceased took place and the remains were laid beside the remains of her husband in New Denver cemetery. Rev. D. W. Scott, Methodist minister, officiated at the funeral.

FARMER-LABORITES APPOINT DELEGATES

Fifteen delegates from the Nelson electoral district were appointed to attend the West Kootenay Farmer-Labor party convention in this city on Nov. 1 at the meeting of the party supporters in the labor temple last night. Several of the appointees, being absence from the meeting, the names were not made public pending the consent of the appointees. Around 60 persons, farmers, miners and railroad men, attended.

C. H. Sewell and F. Simonds were confirmed as chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Nelson committee.

Two delegates from the riding were also appointed to attend a mass meeting to be held in Trail tonight, one of whom was John Norcross.

While the ballots were being counted brief addresses on the movement were made by T. Roberts of Silverton, R. L. Bloomer, W. T. Choate, T. Phillips and S. McBeth.

According to Mr. Simonds, farmers, miners, railroad men and other classes of labor are getting solidly behind the movement in each of the six districts in the riding.

COMPROMISE ON CAPETOWN STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press Cable.—A Reuter dispatch from Capetown, South Africa, reports the settlement of the strike called on Oct. 7, by the skilled artisans employed by that municipality. The strike arouse out of an announced 10 per cent cut in wages, which, it was claimed by the men, was a violation of the existing working agreement. The settlement was on the basis of a compromise whereby certain of the men who have long services records will be placed on a fixed establishment, with privileges, while the remainder will receive the trade union rates, without any privileges.

LOCAL MINING MAN IS GUILTY OF PLUNGING

W. B. Pool, president of the Reno Gold Mines, Ltd., and the man who staked the Nettie L and later sold it for $350,000 spot cash, according to Kootenay mining history, was forced to retire to his room at the Hume hotel at an extremely early hour last night.

When Mr. Pool sits down his knees are prominent, quite prominent. Also he has a remarkably fine length of leg. Thus it happened yesterday afternoon that when from a standing position he sat down, outboard, showing Dr. Prentise a clean pair of heels as he took the water. It was his original intention to become the guest of Dr. Prentise at his home across the lake.

The general dampness of the atmosphere concealed his state until he arrived back at the hotel. There confession was wrung from him. For his brief sojourn in the city he had only provided himself with one suit. The tailor had to have it. The diver sought oblivion between the sheets.

KING HARPS UPON SHELL SHIPMENT

Asks Why War Stores Arrive While Arsenals in Operation.

ORONO, Ont., Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press staff correspondent.)—That deliberate deception had been practiced by the government with regard to the expenditure of public monies on warlike stores and ammunition, was the statement reiterated by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, speaking here tonight. Mr. King examined the prime minister's public letter regarding shipments of shells coming into Canada and asserted that a great deal of further information must be forthcoming from the prime ministr and Hon. Hugh Guthrie with regard to war stores, which are arriving in Canada in spite of the continuance in operation of the arsenals at Quebec and Lindsay.

Worse Than He Supposed.

Mr. King said that the letter issued by Mr. Meighen disclosed a situation infinitely worse than he had supposed and would be a revelation to the people of Canada once its real significance was appreciated. It would be recalled, he said, that Mr. Guthrie had issued a statement to the effect that the war stores arriving in Canada were in the nature of a gift from England, a gift of which he had spoken in the house of commons in both of the last two sessions. It now appeared that the war stores being landed in Canada were not a gift at all, but, to use the prime ministers' own words, "Canada's own property, being part of war supplies credited to her on account of supplies furnished out of monies appropriated by the parliament of Canada, and raised through taxation or by loans upon which interest is being paid at the present time, and full repayment of which remains as an outstanding national obligation."

Throughout the whole of this debate, said Mr. King, not one word had been said in regard to any credits or possibility of securing munitions from across the seas. And yet, Mr. King said, according to the statement which Mr. Meighen had made, it was in the spring of 1920 before the estimates of the militia department were under discussion in parliament, that the financial settlement was made in England which entitled Canada to draw upon the old country for munitions required to meet the needs of active militia.

Quotes Hansard.

"What was worse than that," Mr. King said, "the minister of militia, when asked why so large a staff had to be employed at the arsenal at Quebec, now that the war was over, had stated, I quote his words from unrevised Hansard:

"All our heavy ammunition and quick firing ammunition, as well as large part of our rifle ammunition, is made at Quebec." In another sentence the minister had added, with reference to the ammunition at Quebec and Lindsay:

"'I doubt if any better ammunition is turned out anywhere.' Last session the 1921 parliament had voted nearly $1,000,000 more for munitions and warlike stores. How, in view of these purchases amounting to nearly $2,000,000 in two years, could Mr. Meighen say that no war material of any kind had been purchased since the armistice, or how could he say that not a dollar has been spent on munitions?"

RADIUM NEEDLES ELUDE DISCOVERY

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 26.—The search for the radium needles, missing from the city hospital, has so far been unsuccessful, although an expert from Pittsburg with an instrument capable of registering the presence of the mineral 50 feet away has explored the precincts of the hospital, refuse and sewer traps, and also the sewer disposal plant. He proposes tomorrow to walk along the route of the sewer pipe between the hospital and the disposal plant in the hope that if the radium has lodged in the pipe the instrument will register through the covering of pipe and earth. The missing needles are worth $7000 and were the property of Doctors Mobray and McGregor.

ATTACKS SPANISH KING'S RIGHT TO ESTATE

The King of Spain may have to appear in court in a Toulouse, France, or stand the chance of losing a legacy comprising an estate worth 3,000,000 francs, of which he has been the sole owner since the death of a semi-crazed French royalist whose family is now contesting the validity of his will.

The case dates back to 1908, when Sapene de Cazarilh, disinheriting his sister Gabrielle in a moment of spiteful madness, according to her attorneys, drew up his last testamnt, leaving everything to the King of Spain. The will transferred "all noble titles to which I am entitled," although there never has been any record of De Cazarilh possessing any. Moreover, the "Chateau de Montauban de Luchen," where the will is purported to have been signed, is merely a humble cottage where the testator lived miserably. The sister contends that her brother had been twice interndd as unbalanced mentally.

On one occasion he rode on horseback into a leading dry goods store shouting, "At last a true knight!" and terrified the salesgirls by brandishing a rusty sword.

The King of Spain, loath to give up such easy money, has engaged Paris lawyers to represent him. But members of De Cazarilh's family declare that they will not admit testimony by deposition, insisting that the King must testify personally whether the deceased had any claims on Spanish recognition.

NORTHCLIFFE SAYS CANCEL ALLIANCE

Avers Anglo-Japanese Pact Dominating Factor Pacific Problem.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance "undoubtedly is the dominating factor which now prevents an unfettered attempt by Great Britain, Japan and the United States to solve the problems of the Pacific," declared Lord Northcliffe to a Reuter correspondent, who interviewed the noted British publisher in Hongkong yesterday.

According to the correspondent's dispatch, Lord Northcliffe gave as a reason for his opinion that the alliance placed the United States outside of the very definite arrangements for the control of China."

"During the last two years," the publisher is quoted as having said, "I have been gradually coming to the conclusion that the Anglo-Japanese alliance has outrun its usefulness. Japan faithfully carried out the pact during the war, and she should be well rewarded for her services.

"The purpose of the Washington conference is to reach a mutual agreement, but if the United States is handicapped by an arrangement already made by Japan and Great Britain concerning the chief problem of the Pacific a prolongation of the alliance only serves to irritate public and official opinion in the United States, merely humiliates China and adds nothing to the prestige of Great Britain in Asia."

Alaska Radio Station Communicates Directly With Japanese Stations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The United States naval radio station at St. Paul, Pribitoff Islands, off Alaska, has established direct communication with wireless stations in Japan, it was learned today, although not yet open for commercial messages, it is understood that the new route will take up some of the inter-continental communication demands which will shortly be increased by the armanment conference. The St. Paul station is expected to prove invaluable as a reserve communication route in the event of a break in the trans-Pacific cables.

ROMANCE OF MYSTERY ISLAND.

A year spent among the simple friendly cannibals of Atuona valley, on the Island of Hiva-oa, in the Marquesas, has provided Mr. Frederick O'Brien with material for a fascinating book of travel and adventure, "White Shawods in the South Seas." Atuona Valley, the capital, is the home today of a simple and primitive people; the ideal island of the tropics. To a Marquesan woman tattooed legs are the highest reach of art. Of one, an Amazon named Titihuti, Mr. O'Brien writes: She said that people came from far valleys to see her legs, and I can readily believe it. It was so with the leg of the late Queen Vaekehu, a leg so perfect in mould and so elaborately and artistically inked that it distinguished her even more than her rank. Casual whites, especially, considered it a curiosity, and offended her majesty by laying democratic eyes upon the masterpiece. Theft is unknown in this wonderful land. The doors are never fastened, and the people, forgetting the brief encounters with the European idea of money and of the accumulation of property, have reverted to the ways of their forefathers, who were communists to a large degree.

SUPPORT SOLDIERS HALIFAX GARRISON

Army and Navy Veterans Urge Medals for Those Detained on Duty.

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—When the unemployment situation was under discussion today at the annual convention of the Army and Navy Veterans' association delegates expressed the disapproval of the system attributed to the British government of affording relief. Speakers understood the purpose was to dump British unemployed into the Dominions and that course was characterized as unfair.

A resolution dealing with the unemployment question will be laid before the convention tomorrow. During the afternoon there was an impressive ceremony arranged by the ladies' auxiliary, which took the form of a memorial service for the fallen veterans.

In order to support the soldiers who served at the Halifax garrison during the war and were accordingly prevented from going overseas, a resolution was passed urging the government to take immediate steps to grant them the same privileges and benefits as are enjoyed by the men of the C. E. F., including general service and victory medals.

The British Columbia provincial command brought in a resolution opposing any amalgamation of ex-service men's associations in which distinction is made in classes of membership, and suggested that any proposal for amalgamation should be on the basis of eligibility of all present members of the Army and Navy Veterans without exception.

TOWERS OF SILENCE.

Bombay has no more curious sight than the Towers of Silence, the Parsee cemetery.

The Towers, five in number, are situated in a very beautiful park, with little temples among the trees and flowers. Inside each tower, near the top, is an iron grating on which the naked corpses are laid, and no sooner are they there than the waiting vultures descend and consume the flesh.

I saw these grisly birds sitting expectantly in rows on the coping of the towers (writes E. V. Lucas in "Roving East and Roving West") and the sight was almost too gruesome.

The Parsees choose this method of disolution because, since they worship fire, they must not ask it to demain itself with the dead, and both earth and water they hold also too sacred to use for burial.

The sight of the cemetery that awaits us in England is rarely cheering, but if to that cemetery were attached a regiment of cruel and hideous birds of prey, we should shudder indeed. Whether the Parsees shudder I can not say, but they give no sign of it. They build their palatial residences in full view of these terrible towers, pass on their way to dinner parties luxuriously in Rolls-Royces beside the trees where the vultures roost, and generally behave themselves as if this were the bst possible of worlds and the only one.

PROHIBITIONISTS ACTIVE AT COAST

Urge More United Front and Abolition of Party Politics.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26.—The report of the resolutions committee came before the morning session of the prohibition convention in St. Andrew's church today. It caused a great deal of discussion and a number of minor differences which were smoothed away after much talk. D. S. Curtis, in speaking on the resolution, urged a more united front and the abolition of party politics in any shape or form from the convention.

"The reason prohibition was defeated in British Columbia," declared one speaker, "was that there are too many prohibitionists—of a sort. There are too many that cannot get outside their political party even in the interests of prohibition."

The resolution dealing with the government financial policy in connection with the liquor business was finally approved. Copies of it will be sent to every member of the house.

Further resolutions dealing with the question of the sale of beer by the glass and any such amendments as proposed to the Liquor act will be brought before the convention later.

BOTTOMLEY GIVES TROUBLE IN COURT

Complains of Intolerable Bias From Bench in Libel Suit.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press cable.) — Dramatic passages marked today's proceedings in the Bottomley-Bigland libel action, when Horatio Bottomley, M. P. and publisher of the Weekly John Bull, was called to the witness box for cross-examination by Comyons Carr.

Mr. Bottomley, when told by the magistrate, Sir Charles Byron, to answer questions and not make speeches, declared he was entitled to say what he did and that any judge would uphold him. He also declared:

"The bias I have had from the bench is intolerable."

Sir Charles told Sir Ernest Wild, Bottomley's counsel, that he must keep his client in order, as Mr. Bottomley did not seem to know how to conduct himself in the courtroom.

Later, Mr. Bottomley made another dramatic outburst and protested that "this thing is degenerating into a scandal. I am being accused of stealing this money and putting it on the horses."

The crowds in Bow street outside the courtroom were smaller than usual, but the arrival of Mr. Bottomley was signalized by cheering. The courtroom itself was crowded, with women in the majority.

Canada's Expenditure on Defense.

One of the most ridiculous charges which have been made against the Meighen government in this election is that it is militaristic.

Canada spends less money for defense than any country of its size and importance in the world.

Its per capita expenditure is only $1.69 a year. Australia spends $6.13 per head, the United States $13.13 per head, New Zealand, $4.80 per head. The expenditure of Great Britain for defense amounts to $23.35 per capita. Sweden spends $14.20. Even Spain spends $2.43 and the Union of South Africa spends $5.55.

Why Taxes Are High.

The Oliver government appears to be in for a hard session. Public indignation at its misgovernment of the province is being voiced by members of its own party in the house, as well as by the Conservatives and Independents.

It could hardly be otherwise. The Campbell warehouse deal alone should be sufficient to defeat a government.

Then there is the P. G. E. The Oliver government has spent already millions more than the $6,000,000 for which Foley, Welch & Stewart had contracted to complete the line to Fort George and the line isn't finished yet.

It is this waste of millions, not only on the P. G. E., but in the establishment of a multiplicity of officials and boards and commissions on land settlement and in wasteful administration generally which is burdening the people with the highest taxes of any province of Canada.

Veterans of the Great War

Proposals to amalgamate the various veteran associations is natural and in the best interests of those chiefly concerned. With so many veterans and so many conflicting views it was natural that a number of groups should form different organizations. In the course of time as the number diminishes it is inevitable that there should ultimately be only one association of Great War veterans. During the course of the war there was some discussion as to the name by which the world conflict of 1914-18 should be known in history. The question settled itself. It was naturally referred to by everybody as the Great War, and as such it will be known in history.

The Toronto Telegram thinks that whatever changes there may be in the various organizations there can be no more appropriate title than that of the Great War Veterans' association.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

DIRECTIONS FOR CROCHETING A TWINE SHOPPING BAG

"Please print directions for crocheting one of the new, round twine bags that everybody seems to be carrying nowadays when shopping or marketing," writes a reader of this column.

While I cannot always comply with requests to publish crocheting or knitting directions because of space restrictions—and also because this column is primarily devoted to housekeeping science—I am glad to accommodate a reader occasionally in this way.

Crocheting Directions for Twine Bag: Chain (ch) 4, join, and fill this ring with 13 doubles (d).

2d and 3d rows—2d in each st. From this point work in trebles (t) round and round, not joining rows, increasing a stitch whenever necessary to keep the work flat, about six times in each round. Continue until you have the desired size. This bag measures 12 inches across. Make another circular piece the same size and join the two with a straight side piece which is 2 inches or more in width and made in doubles; leave an ample opening at the top (this is done by having the straight side piece go only two-thirds around the circular discs). A handle of plain crochet is now made (this should be one inch in width) and attached to the top. The bag is now ready to be decorated by two small worsted roses made by the directions given below. A pale pink rose and a lavendar rose together sewed on one side of the bag near the top, make an effective finish. This bag, when finished, resembles the parchment "head" of a banjo—only of course, it has an opening at the top made by not having the sides (which correspond to the nickel part of a banjo-head) come together at the top.

To Crochet a Wool Rose: Ch 6, and join in ring, ch 2.

2nd round—Ch 5* 1 t in ring, ch 2. Repeat from * four times. Join with slip stitch (sl st) to 3d of chain 5 at beginning of round, thus forming six spaces.

3d round—(1 d, 4 t, 1 d) in first space, repeat in each space round.

4th round—ch 3, turn work and catch around first spoke of 2d round with sl st, ch 5, catch around next spoke, and repeat around.

5th round—(1 d, 6 t, 1 d) in each space.

If you wish to make a worsted leaf for your roses, follow these directions: Leaf: Chain 8, skip 1 st and make 1 d in each of next 6 sts, 1 sl st in end st, 6 d down other side of chain, 1 sl st in st that was skipped.

2d row: 1 d in each st around leaf with two extra stitches in point. Join, ch 2 for stem and fasten.

These bags are inexpensive to make. The twine used should be of the soft and "fuzzy" variety rather than the hard, smooth kind. Two balls of twine will make the bag—if they are large balls. A light buff color makes the prettiest bag. If you wish to give an extra finishing touch beside the roses, you can work a row of doubles in colored yarn around the top of the bag. Coarse cotton instead of yarn can be used for the floral decoration, but the wool is smarter. Crochet the bag loosely. Some women line them with colored silk to match the roses and this lining shows through the crocheted twine vvery effectively.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. —The Editor.

Judge Hears Libel Action With No Witness Either Side; Excludes Damages.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 26.—Justice H. H. Mowatt of Toronto, the newly appointed judge of the supreme court of Ontario, today began his career as a supreme court judge, when he conductd the fall assizes. Incidentally the lone case which he had to try turned out to be one without a parallel in the legal history of the province and without a parallel within the knowledge of the legal profession. The case was the $20,000 libel action of Homer D. Neely, barrister, of Woodstock, vs. Sentinel Review Publishing company, and the unique feature about the case was that not a single witness was brought forward to give evidence on either side, the case resting entirely upon the plea of counsel to the jury.

The presentation of the case hinged entirely upon the interpretation of law and in the end the jury brought a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, without damages, and a recommendation that the costs be paid by the defendant.

LABOR BOARD PUTS A POSER

Asks Direct Question if Board Will Be Obeyed; Leaders Say Cannot Cancel Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Executives of the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America, after a day of verbal jockeying with the United States railroad labor board, declared late today that no power on earth save a "satisfactory settlement" can prevent their men walking out beginning next Sunday morning at 6 o'clock.

Their declaration came at the close of a day of fruitless questioning when Judge Barton, chairman of the labor board, called each union president in turn and asked him four prepared questions, the third of which was:

"If the board shall declare a strike is not justified and you should not occur, and direct that the employees do not strike, will that order be obeyed?"

No Power to Control

The union chiefs, Warren S. Stone, of the engineers, W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, L. E. Sheppard, of the conductors, W. S. Carter, of the firemen and T. C. Casen, of the switchmen, declared in turn they had no power to cancel the strike order, expressing the individual opinion that their men would not obey an order from then or the board to remain at work, and reiterated their previous declaration that only a satisfactory settlement could avert the walkout.

Such a settlement, they said, would be considered by the labor board cancelling its 12 per cent wage reduction order of last July, or a movement by the individual railroads to confer with the unions and set the board's order aside.

Styles

By Lenore

PARIS.

The exactions of a hat do not often permit free play in arranging the hair, either with originality or most becomingly, but in the evening, ah! then one may take on the classic spirit of the Middle Ages or the charming whimsicality of the gayest Parisienne. A coiffure popular with French women today is the saucy chignon shown at the top of the sketch, particularly attractive for a narrow oval face.

A somewhat rounder face, and young, will look charming under the curly disarray of the headdress which follows, particularly if the features happen not to be regular, while the two styles after that may be attempted safely only by the smoothest featured, for nothing will so quickly emphasize such little mistakes as a somewhat unsymmetrical nose, for example, as drawing the hair tightly back on the forehead.

Another silhouette of the head shown in Paris is at the bottom of the sketch, enhanced by a gilt filet and comb to match. Combs, by the way, are becoming increasingly popular, and the newest ones seen in the smart French shops are made of shell carved with flowers tinted in blues or reds.

CANNED RED PEPPERS.

Wash one peck red peppers, cut a slice from stem end of each and remove seeds; then cut in thin strips by working around and around the peppers, using scissors or a sharp vegetable knife. Cover with boiling water, let stand two minutes, drain, and plunge into ice water. Let stand 10 minutes, again drain, and pack solidly into pint glass jars. Boil one quart vinegar and two cups sugar 15 minutes. Pour over peppers to overflow jars, cover, and keep in cold place.

QUALITY IS UNCHANGING

One thing that is mentioned to us by a number of women is that the quality of Pacific Milk never changes.

We know, of course, that it does not. It has been put up in British Columbia for a good many years and its quality has not changed during those years. Naturally, we are most particular on that point because, in the last analysis, it is the quality which makes it appeal to housekeepers. No matter how the label on any can of milk may read, still insist upon Pacific, for it is always good.

Quite a large crowd assembled in the baseball grounds yesterday to witness a game between the government staff and the legal fraternity of the city. The civil employees came off victorious with a score of 12-10, but they had a narrow escape, the legals were just getting into the form of their schooldays when the game was called at the end of the fifth inning. Harry Wright pitched for the government and struck out quite a number and never allowed anything worse than a three-base hit. John Elliott was in the box for the lawyers and held honors about even. Dr. Doherty was a satisfactory umpire.

LABOR INTERESTS ENTER THE FIELD

Meeting at Cranbrook Decides to Form Organization to Run Candidate.

CRANBROOK, Oct. 26.—The Labor interest at a meeting held in the Loggers Hall, Cranbrook, on Saturday, decided to form an organization for the purposes of running a candidate in the federal election.

A large number of railwaymen were responsible for calling the meeting and posters to district points, resulted in representatives from Fernie, Moyie and Wattsburg being in attendance.

Geo. T. Moir was elected provisional chiarman and Mr. Henderson acted as secretary of the meeting.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting was to bring to public notice the expression of quite a large following of railroad men of the desire for a candidate to represent labor. He stated there was no secrets in the matter, all cards were on the table, and it was up to the meeting to decide whether an organization for running a labor man should be considered. The general impression of the meeting was that a Labor member would representt his district best and after discussion a resolution was carried without dissension, that an organization should be formed to run a labor candidate at the forthcoming general election.

An executive committee of five persons was named to make the necessary arrangements, which will then call another meeting to appoint delegates to attend a convention for purposes of selecting a suitable candidate for the the constituency.

In his remarks the chairman stated it was his desire to see formed an organization based on constitutional lines with the 'Old Flag' as its symbol. There was no 'Red or Bolshevist" ideas about it and he knew from the expression and feelings he had met with other men that there were *fully in accord with him. Mr. Hen*dersons showed the audience that the National Labor Party had a splendid program and was of the opinion that a labor candidate had a splendid chance in this election to carry the riding. He told a story of how the politicians do in Cranbrook. "I heard a story on the street the other day," he said, "as follows:" 'A lady asked if Dr. King was running for the federal election and on being told that he was not, she replied, I thought he must be as he stopped me three times today and shook hands."

Speakers Give Views

Mr. Huchcroft, of the B. C. Prospectors association, said he was ready to support a labor candidate. He had lost all respect for the old parties, then there were now so many divisions such as Railroadmen, Lumbermen, Miners, Prospectors, the Women's Party, the Moderationist, Prohibitionist, Farmers, Progressives and many more. He believed that labor could embrace the largest proportion of the voters and give better representation in the House.

Others referred to many problems of the day facing the working people. The party politicians were responsible for the divisions created in ranks of the working classes. A labor meeting usually being classed as a Bolshevist or Red Meeting by them, thus misguiding the people. The English Labor Party has not been wrecked because there were a few radicals in its midst; today it is the real power in the land. There was much suffering through unemployment and there are some whose wages do not meet living expenses.

The executive appointed to complete organization comprise the following: Messrs Cameron, Macdonald, Huchcroft, Thompson and Gammon.

A resolution was passed requesting the Labor Convention to be held on the 23rd at Fernie, be indefinitely postponed, in order that all labor in the riding may meet at a more representative convention.

Too Changeable for Peace

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—"There will be no settlement in Ireland. Even if a temporary arrangement is patched up, it will not be of a lasting nature. The Celtic-Irish nature is too variable and too changeable, so given to unrest, that I speak with assurance on the outcome of the present negotiations between the Sinn Fein and the British government."

This is the view of Copeland Trimble, editor and proprietor of the Imperial Reporter, published at Inniskillen, Ulster, who arrived in the city today on a tour around the world. He is an authority on Irish affairs and is president of the Irish Newspaper association and a fellow of the Institute of Journalists in the United Kingdom.

"In three provinces of Ireland, England is regarded with passionate hatred. The people of these provinces will never consent to be addressed as part of the Empire," said Mr. Trimble.

Calls It Newspaper Crisis

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—The Irish Bulletin, replying to criticisms of the English papers of De Valer's telegram to the pope, describes the crisis of the last few days as a "newspaper crisis," and accuses the government of carefully concealing from the British press the fact that the answer to the pope was not a personal message but a statement drafted by the British government.

The Bulletin declares that De Valera's telegram was made necessary by "this British government declaration, while the negotiations were proceeding that the Irish people are a subject people." The Bulletin professes to see no reason for "such concealment" except that the phrase "insulting the King" would make a useful electioneering slogan.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—At the Irish headquarters here tonight it was said the delay in the reassembling of the Irish conferenc was caused by delegates who had not been able to meet today on account of other pressing matters. The Irish officials expressed the belief, however, that arrangements were being made for a meeting of either the special committee of the two delegations or of the full delegation tomorrow.

Southern Unionists Attending.

CORK, Oct. 26.—The Right Rev. Charles Benjamin Dowse, bishop of Cork, addressing the Protestant synod today, alluded to the Irish conference. He expressed satisfaction that the southern Unionists would have their views placed before the conference as a reshlt of the premier having yielded to the views of the provost of Trinity college and the Arcobishop of Dublin that three representatives of the southern Unionists be sent to London, with whom he could be in constant touch.

GALE RAGES ON FLORIDA COAST

Attains Velocity of 100 Miles an Hour; Property Loss Considerable.

FORT MEYERS, Fla., Oct. 26.—The fiercest gale this section has known in several years raged here for 36 hours—beginning at midnight Monday and attaining a maximum velocity of 100 miles an hour. Transmission service was prostrated while the property loss for Lee county is expected to total over a million and a half dollars. Reports from Sanabel and Captiva Islands said that water covered the islands entirely. Eatero islands, near here, on which two beach resorts are located, are badly damaged, the cottages and other buildings being wrecked.

Local railroad officials said this city would be without transportation service for three days. The highways would be out of Fort Meyers are almost impassible and many houses in Puntarassa were either badly damaged or washed away.

Known Death Roll Five.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 26.—Five persons are known to be dead in this city and St. Petersburg, across Tampa bay, as the result of yesterday's storm, which caused a local property damage estimated between one and two million dollars.

Sunset beach, a popular resort of Tampa, was completely destroyed Small houses were torn down and washed away and the white sands of the beach now show no vestige of ever having been inhabited. The damage in the city proper was for the most part confined to the unroofing of houses. A warehouse occupied by the Gulf and Southern Steamship company, however, was destroyed, as was part of the Mallory line docks.

Here and there throughout the city are stranded street cars, the victims of the sudden failing of the city's power plant. Telephone and electric light wires dangle in a tangled mass, giving little hope of an early resumption of service. Conservative estimates place the damage in Tampa at several million dollars.

CHANGE MINERS' OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Officials of miners' unions in the disturbed West Virginia coal fields were charged before a senate investigating committee today by M. E. out by the young bachelor chancellor during the past 24 hours.

Dr. Adolf Koester, who takes over the portfolio of minister of the interior, was foreign minister in Herr Mueller's cabinet.

The new minister of justice, Gustav Radbruch, is a professor in Kiel university.

At the sessions of the Reichstag Dr. Wirth announced that the government would appoint a delegate to the economic negotiations concerning the Silesian award and that his name would be communicated shortly to the Allied powers.

Flag Flies at Half Mast.

*The Republican flag over the Reichs*tag building was flying at half mast when the session opened, as a sign of mourning against the decision of Upper Silesia, President Loebe of the chamber, in his opening remarks, dealt with Silesia, saying:

"The Reichstag must take a position in the face of the terrible, perhaps insurmountable blow which strikes our nation, through the supreme council's decision on Opper Silesia. I must say, however, to the 220,000 adults who voted for Germany in the region ceded to Poland, 'allegiance for allegiance; no power on earth can, by means of violence, transfer our right into illegality.'"

Reichstag Votes Confidence.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The Reichstag this evening voted confidence in the ministry of Dr. Wirth. The vote was 230 against 132. The majority was made up of majority Socialists, independent Socialists, Centrists and Democrats.

Chancellor Wirth said:

"The most urgent, but withal the most painful task of the government is the execution of the decision concerning Upper Silesia. The new government declares its point of view of the previous Silesia differs in no way from the point of view of the previous government.

"The decision with regard to Upper Silesia is a great injustice to Germany.

Says Powers Evaded Issue

"The great powers alone, according to the treaty, were entitled to take a decision. They evaded the issue by asking the council of the league of nations' advice, meanwhile between themselves agreeing to ac*cept such advice whichever it may* be."

"Our reply to the allies," the chancellor declared, "will leave no doubt of the fact that we consider the decision of the conference of ambassadors opposed to the Versailles treaty and to right, and that the rights of Germany upon the territory which has been torn from us has suffered no prejudice through the state of affairs which will be created by force."

Confident of Support

Dr. Wirth said he was confident the government had the support of the German people in dealing with this most iomportant question.

During the afternoon it was announced that Herr Bergen, German minister to the Vatican, had been offered by telegraph the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs.

Herr Gradnauer, former minister of the interior, did not become a member of the new cabinet, having been appointed Saxon minister to Berlin.

Markets and Finance

EXCEPT FOR OILS MARKET IS DULL

Railways Reactionary; Steel Fluctuates in Narrow Limits; Exchange Confused.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Apart from the speculative issues, especially in oils, in which recent gains were enhanced, today's stock market was dull.

Railway shares, including several of the more popular investment issues, developed more reactionary tendencies. Call loans opened at 6 per cent, the week's highest initial rate, but relaxed to 5½ per cent in the last half of the session. In private negotiations brokers reported loans of this class at 5 per cent.

The cheaper oils were most favored and motors of the same type also moved forward, although trade advices respecting this industry were not especially favorable.

Food, leather, rubber and some of the independent steels displayed intermittent firmness, but United States Steel fluctuated within the narrowest limits, making no visible response to yesterday's quarterly report.

Equipments showed mixed gains and losses and coppers and tobaccos were susceptible to pressure. Selling of Mexican Petroleum contributed to the irregular close.

Sales were 650,000 shares.

Confusion marked the day's trading in foreign exchange, which was attended by rumors dealing with the proposed revision of Germany's reparations payments. Sterling was easier, as were also the French and Belgian rates.

Liberty issues closed mostly at gains and the general domestic list was steady to firm.

Total sales, $11,875,000.

TORONTO BOARD

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—There was less buoyancy in today's trading on the stock exchange.

Canadian General Electric was easily the market leader with a turnover of over 300 shares and another advance to 94. In the paper group Old Riordon slipped off nearly a full point. Spanish was firm and the steels were quiet.

Atlantic Sugar was more than a point higher.

ISSUE P. E. I. BONDS.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—The Prince Edward Island refunding issue of $125,000 10-year 6 per cent bonds was today awarded to A. E. Ames & Co. of Montreal and Toronto at 99.199.

PROVINCIAL BONDS BRING HIGH PRICE

VICTORIA, Oct. 26.—The provincial government bond issue of $2,000,000 has been awarded to the Dominion Securities corporation of Toronto, whose bid at 104.65 was the highest received. Seven tenders were received altogether. The bonds will be of the 20-year 6 per cent variety, payable in the United States and Canada. This is the highest rate so far secured this year.

MONTREAL LIST

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—A feature of the stock exchange today was the sharp advance in Dominion Coal preferred, which sold up to 75c. A 9¾-point decline in Twin City carried that issue to a new low level for the year.

Market leadership went to Atlantic Sugar, which closed at 31½. Detroit United was the next most active, declining to 71¾.

The papers were much less prominent, with prices generally lower.

Business in bonds showed a heavy decrease.

BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR HANDLING GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26.—The Canadian Pacific railway yesterday broke the world's record as far as handling grain is concerned by moving east from Winnipeg 1579 loaded cars in 24 hours. These cars were handled in 41 trains. They contained between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 bushels of grain. If the cars were placed in a continuous line without the locomotives attached they would cover a distance of 12 miles.

Holland was the world's diamond center even prior to 1727.

WHEAT PRICES CLOSE HEAVY

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Prices closed heavy today owing to assertions that exporters were selling red winter wheat back to primary markets at a profit. The close was heavy, 1¼c to 2⅛c net lower, with December $1.06⅞ to $1.07 and May $1.11⅝ to $1.11⅞.

Corn lost ¼c to ½c and oats ¼c to ⅜c.

Provisions varied from 5c decline to an advance of 2½c.

EGG MARKET

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—Egg exporters are reported to be offering 47c f. o. b. for straight storage stock.

Saskatoon dealers offering 38c to 41c, loss off.

British Columbia fresh firm, 63c country points, with 65c offered for specials.

Chicago, current firsts, 48c to 50c.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS LESS ACUTE

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—A slight increase in the volume of employment was reported by some 5000 employers during the two week period ending Sept. 24, according to a statement to appear in the forthcoming issue of the Bulletin, of the employment service of Canada.

At the end of the period under review, the index number stood at 90.2, as compared with 89.6 for the two weeks ending Sept. 10. The volume of employment reported by employers during the summer, the Bulletin will say, has never exceeded that of last mid-winter, although the index number for the period ending Sept. 24, was higher than any period since Jan. 15, of this year.

Reports for the two weeks showed 678,054 persons employed as against 674,110 for the previous two weeks.

SECRETS OF POISE.

Poise is largely the result of mental attitude, of calm and of control. Some outward manifestations by the women who possess it are:

They keep their hands away from their head and face.

They do not slip their rings up and down.

They do not pick up articles scattered about the room and put them down again as they talk.

If they carry a fan they do not open and shut it continually or tap their face or the furniture with it.

They learn to drop their hands in the lap, on the arm of the chair, and do not move them unless it is necessary to gesticulate.

They know that constant gesturing is foolish. A few gestures, gracefully and timely made, are eloquent. Fidgeting with the hands is annoying.

The tuberculosis death rate in the United States is dropping steadily.

United States Sportsmen Pay Wholehearted Tribute to Conquering Blue Nose

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—"More power to the Blue Nose. May her years be long and may she never know a water haul or a day's ill luck," is the wish the Tribune expresses for the winner of the international fishermen's trophy race. The paper declares that all United States sportsmen will concur in wishing the best to this year's winner, adding:

"The Canadian schooner is a true banker and defeated our little Elsie handily and in a way that leaves a good taste in the mouth of everybody who participated in the contests off Halifax."

REVIEWS STATUS AMATEUR PLAYERS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26.—Commenting on the suggestion from British Columbia and Alberta that amateurs should be allowed to mingle with professionals without losing their standing, the Free Press says today:

"After all, so far as the Canadian body is concerned, the status of the individual is the thing that counts, and if the individual player, whether performing in out-and-out professional ranks, or with the 'tainted' variety, lives up to all clauses in the amateur ruling except relating to the mere playing with or against a professional, it is difficult to see why he should cease to be reckoned an amateur in the wider sense."

U. of C., that he will be unable to attend the meeting of that body called for this week-end. He suggests that Murray Thompson, who will represent Saskatchewan at the annual meeting of the C. A. H. MILENKO WINS BY SHORT HEAD

Rothschild's Grey Colt Wins Cambridgeshire; Placed Horses Three Year Olds.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press cable.)—James A. de Rothschild's three-year-old gray colt Milenko, quoted at 100 to 7 against, today captured the Cambridgeshire stakes from a field of 24 at New Market-Houghton, winning by a short head from Leighton, quoted at 66 to 1 against Franklin, at 20 to 1 against, finished third, half a length behind Leighton. B. Lynch had the mount on the winner.

The Cambridgeshire stakes is run over a mile and a furlong and, together with the Cesarewitch run at New Market just two weeks ago, furnishes the medium for a popular betting "double."

The first three horses placed were all three-year-olds ,with Milenko carrying the lightest impost of the three —89 pounds. The race was an exciting one, but was marred by some difficulty in getting the big field away.

WITH LIVINGSTONE WHEN ARROWS FELL

Comrade of Great African Explorer Tells of Thrilling African Adventure.

"Livingstone was in the canoe behind me. Those arrows that you see on the wall were shot at him and me by the Africans from the river bank. I picked them up out of the canoes."

The above phrases fell from the lips of Sir John Kirk, the aged knight who was Livingstone's comrade for several years during his travels in Africa. Sir John was in the study of his home at Seven Oaks in Kent, and the words were uttered in the course of an interview with Mr. Basil Mathews, who declares that they brought "a curious thrill at once of astonishment and awe." Mr. Mathews gives his interview as follows:

"Living now in the quiet of his home at Seven Oaks, Sir John Kirk is in the evening of his long and splendid day, for his 83th birthday falls on December 19.

"'I have had a good innings,' he said to me.

"It seemed incredible that the companion of Livingstone in those journeys of 60 years ago—travels that seem to belong to a remote, Homeric age of heroes—could be living today and telling me of their adventures together. Yet it was so; for Sir John Kirk, who sat there, leaning his wrinkled hands on his stick of Zambesi ebony, his now almost sightless eyes still aflame with the visions of high adventure and great achievement, is the only living man who not only witnessed but himself played the part of a hero and comrade in that immortal epic—the opening up of Africa by Livingstone.

"It was Sir John Kirk, too, who after Livingstone's death carried out to a victorious decisiveness his last wish—the healing of that 'open sore of the world'—the Arab slave-raiding and slave-trading in Africa.

Maker of East Africa.

"When I recalled too that here was the man whom Sir Harry Johnston has truly called 'the maker of British East Africa'; the pioneer who blazed the trail for men like Sir Harry Johnston and Sir Frederick Lugard; and the imperial vice consul who, more than any other single man, paved the way for the peaceful British administration of Nyassaland, Uganda and Nigeria, the awe that I felt deepened to a profound reverence and a real hero-worship.

"Here, I felt, was one of the handful of living men, made knights by their king, who really today do lift modern knighthood to its ancient glory and ennoble nobility.

"So Sir John Kirk told me the story in that quiet study of his, hung round as it is with the barbaric trophies of Africa, the arrows, assegais and the shields, the horns and the skins, or walking in his garden decorated with monstrous skulls of elephants and hippopotami.

"It will be remembered as the background of Sir John Kirk's narrative that Livingstone had in 1840 first sailed to Africa (at once a trained doctor with a Glasgow degree and an ordined Congregationalist minister) as a medical missionary of the London Missionary society. Already, while in the society's service, he had explored the Kalahari desert to the Zambesi and thence had (accompanied only by Africans of the Makolo tribe) driven a course westward from the center to the Atlantic and then right back across Africa eastward, discovering the Victoria Falls en route; and gone out to the Indian ocean and so back to England.

Took the Rank of Consul.

"Livingstone now, in 1858, took the rank of consul under the British government to give him a stronger authority on his new explorations.

"Dr. Kirk was described as 'medical officer and naturalist to Dr. Livingstone's expedition to the Zambesi river.' For most of the next five years Dr. Kirk was Livingstone's companion, and may truly be said to have known him better than any other man ever did.

"The narrative of those journeys is so full of wonder that even a mere catalogue of the adventures and experiences would fill a book. Dr. Kirk knelt with Livingstone beside the grave of his wife 'anent Shupanga's brae' on the banks of the fever-stricken African river.

"Together the two men forced the rapids of the rivers Zambesi, Rovuma and Shire; together crept along the perilous precipices by the Morumbwa cataract, and stood in awe before 'Sounding Smoke'—the Victoria falls—where, today, the railway train is drenched by the rainbow spray of the thundering cataract.

"Livingstone and Kirk, side by side, faced howling savages, and converted them into friends, sawed the slave-sticks from the necks of rescued African boys and girls, men and women, and penetrated to those hidden beauties of nature and horrors of inhumanity which make the narrative of those marvelous journeys of African exploration one of the most majestic and moving epics in authentic human story.

Down the Zambesi.

"'I remember,' said Sir John to me, 'we were coming down the Zambesi from the Victoria falls. The river, which was in places miles broad, had narrowed to some 250 yards in the Kabrabasa gorge. We went past the open banks to the gorges where there was nearly precipitous rock on either side some yards in height, behind that a narrow plateau of rock from which mountains of jungle-covered rock arose. We knew that the Morumbwa cataracts lay some way ahead.

"'My canoe was leading, and Livingstone was in the canoe behind. The water, which must have been of fathomless depth, ran slowly. Suddenly there was an amazing swirl up from the depths which caught my canoe and turned it over against a rock. It came up like a mound of water, as though a huge hippopotamus were rising.

"'I shouted to Livingstone to keep back. My canoe was turned upside down, and all my notes, instruments, sketches and specimens were carried away, never to be seen again. Fortunately, the swirl of water set continuously against the rock, keeping both the canoe and myself there, otherwise I would have been drowned. The current dragged at my legs so violently that I thought a crocodile must have got them. Livingstone put back, landed, and pulled me out by ropes. We then found the previously unknown Kabrabasa rapids were ahead.

Saved From Certain Death.

"'We could not take our canoes overland, nor navigate them down these terrific rapids, so (having unloaded them) we sent men back with them while we clamored on to where we could overlook the rapids. Then the men let the canoes go. One went over the rapids and down, down under the water, and we never saw it rise again. Another went down and shot up again into the air, split in two from stem to stern.

"'If the accident of overturning the canoe had not happened to me we should all infallibly have been swept over the rapids, and nothing more would ever have been heard of us, for no trace could have been left, nor would any of our men have survived to tell the story.'"

HARROP RANCHERS PLAN IRRIGRATION

Farmers along the West Arm intend putting their land under irrigation and being independent of the weather man next summer, according to F. A. Starkey, who states that he has placed a straight carload of wooden pipes with three Harrop ranchers. The car is being unloaded there now. The joint purchasers are Armstrong & Slater, W. J. McConnell and H. B. Batley, a returned man. It is the intention to install the pipe during the slack season before the freez-up. Mr. Starkey judges that there will be a considerable number of irrigationists along the Arm shortly, from the number of inquiries for pipe he is receiving.

VETERAN BLOWS IN FROM NEW YORK CITY

J. Henwood, of New York city, who is an ex-member of the 54th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, spent yesterday in the city renewing old friendships with a circle of 54th men at the "Dugout" on Stanley street. He is en route to Park Siding to visit relatives.

Of particular interest to the verbose circle of "Vets" was Mr. Henwood's recital, (between refreshments) of how seven old 54th men, of which he was one, held a reunion of the battalion in New York city, on last Armistice Day.
