BRITAIN, STATES REACH ACCORD ON RUM ISSUE

Uncle Sam Can Chase Rum-Runners While John Bull Will Have Ship's Bars

RUM-CHASING LIMIT 'ONE HOUR'S SAILING'

States Accepts Three-Mile Limit for General Maritime Rights

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The rum-running issue between the United States and British governments, which Ambassador Harvey in his conference with British officials repeatedly characterized as a dangerous menace to the existing good relations of the two countries, has been virtually settled.

On the occasion of his formal farewell visit to the foreign office the retiring United States envoy and Foreign Secretary Curzon gave final decision to the terms of a draft treaty which it is believed will clear up the whole question. The treaty is understood to meet the United States desire for the right to search suspected rum-running vessels beyond the three-mile limit, but at the same time gives to Great Britain the United States formal affirmation of the three-mile limit as governing British maritime rights generally.

It would also allow British ships to carry liquor into United States territorial waters under seal, thus enabling liners under the Union Jack to maintain bars en route to and departing from United States ports.

From the British side it only remains for the Imperial conference of premiers to place its imprimateur on a document embracing the points of the agreement. It was expected this would be done today, but as the document had not been completed it was possibly postponed until tomorrow, after which the draft will go to the United States for ratification by the senate.

At the request of the British the right of the United States authorities to detain vessels suspected of rum-running will not be confined strictly to 12 miles from shore or any other arbitrary limit, but will probably embrace the distance covered by the broad term: "An hour's sailing from the shore," which is reckoned roughly at from 10 to 15 miles. Thus a "12-mile" limit will not be mentioned in the treaty and the foreign office cannot be charged with surrendering its traditional principle regarding limitation of territorial waters.

In the connection the British attach much importance to the United States formal recognition of the three-mile limit, in questions of general maritime rights, as being likely to be invaluable to them. Only recently soviet Russia agitated for the establishment of a 12-mile limit for all maritime purposes, but, with the United States government supporting the British stand, it is expected the principle will remain as established by international law.

Mr. Harvey's farewell conference with Lord Curzon also disposed of the only other unsettled question which has arisen since his arrival—that of the Newcastle consulate.

It is believed that an equitable settlement is possible and that the consulate, which was closed on February 2 last, will be reopened within a fortnight. The consular officials involved will be persona grata with the British government, but, having departed for new posts, will not return to Newcastle.

With the settlement of the rum-running and Newcastle issues Mr. Harvey leaves London with no problems left over for his successor, who, as the ambassador said today, is likely to have troubles enough of his own.

It is reported that Frank B. Kellogg is sailing for London on November 11, but Ambassador Harvey hopes to be able to confer with him in the United States before he starts, and has cabled him asking the date of his departure.

PRETTY BLUE EYES BEGUILE OLD MAN

Wealthy Minnesota Retired Farmer Is Done Out of Fifteen Thousand by a Daughter of Eve

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—Ben Ferriday, 82-year-old retired farmer of Celwein, Iowa, was swindled out of $15,000 by a pretty woman here, he reported just before he left for his home town today.

According to Feriday, he met the woman, said to be about 27 years old, and "pretty, blue-eyed, and diffident." He received a letter from her, and came to Minneapolis to meet her.

Fake Officers Appear

She told Feriday she would get a divorce and marry him. One day, while he was in a local hotel lobby with the woman, two men posing as United States deputy marshals came up, flashed badges, and threatened to make "things tough" unless given $5000.

Feriday returned to Celwein, and, against the advice of his banker, he said, drew out the $5000, and paid it to the two men, who had accompanied him.

Makes Deposit

He met the young woman again, he said, and they talked over her plan to get a divorce. She wanted to be sure that his love would not grow cold in the meantime, and he agreed to deposit $10,000 in a safety deposit vault at a local bank as good faith.

Later he learned that the woman had withdrawn the money from the vault and disappeared.

COLUMBIA SLIPS LIGHTLY ALONG BUT WIND FAILS

"No Race" Is Proclaimed When Sixteen Miles Remain to Be Covered

HALIFAX, Oct. 31.—The second race of the series for the international fishermen's trophy was called off today for lack of wind with 16 miles still to go to the finish line, but the United States challenger cheered her supporters by demonstrating her ability in light airs.

In the first race. Monday, light breezes prevailed, suposedly Columbia weather, yet the big defender Bluenose of Lunenburg, famed for her rough weather performances, showed the Gloucester schooner her heels and defeated her by more than a minute on the 38-mile course.

Challenger in Lead

Today conditions were changed. With never a breeze above 8 knots an hour the challenger chested along over more than half the course in the lead of the champion, sometimes as much as half a mile ahead.

With only an hour of the allotted six left, not much more than half the course had been covered, and 16 miles of thresh to windward, slow going, lay ahead, so the commander decided to call the contest off and wait for better sailing conditions.

FEMALE FIGURES JAM THE TRAFFIC

Portland Is Excited Over Ornamentation on New Building; Commissioners Condemn

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31.—When protest was made today against a group of unclothed female figures in a bas relief on the facade of a new building in Alder street, official action followed with a promptitude seldom exceeded here. The city commissioners proceeded in a body immediately to inspect the cause of the protest.

Extra Officers Needed

After inspection and brief deliberation, the city fathers announced their verdict, which was that the decorations were highly improper and must come down. Just how their ruling was to be enforced, they left to the city attorney.

Alder street, in the neighborhood of the building bearing the figures, is always populous, but today extra traffic officers were stationed there to handle the crowds, particularly to try to keep them moving.

OKLAHOMA PAPER CHARGES BRIBES

Senate Orders Editor and Reporter to Appear at Bar; Have Secret Telephone Evidence

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 31.—Bribery charges against certain members of the state senate entered the situation tonight on the eve of the arraignment of Governor J. C. Walton for trial before a senate court of impeachment for alleged malfeasance of office.

Thrown into an uproar just before adjournment late today over an article said to have been published yesterday by the Muskogee Times-Democrat, charging that $10,000 bribes had been offered members of the court for their votes in the governor's trial, the upper house immediately launched an investigation and ordered the editor and publisher of the newspaper to appear tomorrow before the senate and explain the allegations. The editor also was directed to bring the reporter responsible for the story.

The newspaper, it was said, based its article on alleged evidence obtained by its staff representative here through the use of a secret telephonic device.

BLACK SHIRTS COMMEMORATE SEIZING ROME

For Five Hours Cheering Fascisti Legations Pass the Royal Palace

MUSSOLINI CENTER OF AN IMPOSING REVIEW

Streets of Capital Decorated; Celebration Ends With a Reception

ROME, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press) — The Italian Fascisti and their supporters united today in a great celebration of the first anniversary of their rise to power. It was a year ago today that the Fascisti army, after taking over other large cities, entered the capital and paved the way for the Mussolini government.

ROME, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The culminating feature of the anniversary of the Fascisti march on Rome was the procession of some 8000 "black shirts," which today wended its way before the royal palace, in review, with Benito Mussolini as the central and much-applauded figure. It was an ideal spectacle for a Roman holiday.

The sun shone brightly on the beflagged and decorated streets. Vast masses of the populace, and visitors to the city, witnessed the parade.

Many persons spent the night in the open in order to attend the celebration.

Shouts of "Long live the king" and "Long live the house of Savoy" were unceasing during the five hours it took the Fascisti legations to pass the royal palace.

The celebration of the Fascisti revolution ended tonight with a reception.

DOZEN PERSONS TRAPPED ESCAPE WINNIPEG FIRE

Hammond Building Goes With Quarter Million Loss; Was "Fireproof"

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—In a burst of flame and smoke which within 15 minutes converted it into a roaring furnace the Hammond building, one of Winnipeg's prefireproof office structures, ended its career this morning.

Only one person, Fireman R. J. Shearer, was seriously injured. He received dangerous injuries in a fall down a fire escape, and may die. A dozen men and women, some of whom seemed hopelessly trapped in the blazing building, escaped with minor cuts and burns.

The stage was set for tragedy. Inflammable contents, an elevator shaft which acted as a fuse for the leaping flames, a score of men and women cut off from the fire escapes by an advancing barrier of smoke and fire—all these elements combined to make death seem an inevitable accompaniment of the blaze.

But, in a series of thrilling rescues, where every second counted, the fire department succeeded in getting out the last man a minute before the building became a huge torch seething with flame from basement to roof.

The fire damage to the building and its contents is estimated at $250,000. Practically everything in the old Albert street structure was destroyed, and the wooden interior itself completely wiped out from the second floor to the roof. The fire lasted for only two hours—from 10:20 a. m. until noon.

Both "Beautiful Women" May Join Libel Action of Fairbanks-Pickford

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 31.—It would be "logical" for Marguerite de Lamottee, who acted opposite Douglas Fairbanks in a recent film production, to join with Mr. Fairbanks and his wife, Mary Pickford, in their contemplated suit against a film magazine which is said to have "suggested that Miss Pickford was jealous of the woman who stood opposite her husband," it was announced at the Pickford studio today.

It is also probable that Miss de Lamotte may file a suit on her own account, according to representatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks. Miss de Lamotte herself declined to discuss the matter.

Miss Evelyn Brent, who recently terminated a contract with Fairbanks, has already announced her intention to join the proposed Pickford-Fairbanks action.

FAMOUS ABBEY WILL SHELTER LATE PREMIER

Two Thousand Seats Will Be Arranged for Distinguished Mourners

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press)—Former Premier Andrew Bonar Law will be laid at rest in Westminster Abbey next Monday, amid the solemn splendor of a public funeral service which will be attended by a gathering of friends of all political shades, government officials and diplomats.

Distinguished Gathering

The presence of all the Dominion prime ministers in London will make the gathering representative of the whole Empire, while Premier Baldwin, at the head of a large group of ministers and former ministers, the archbishop of Canterbury, the bishop of London, and diplomats of all nations, will be in their places to represent the political, religious and diplomatic circles of life with which the late premier came into contact. Representatives of the King and Queen and other royalties will be among the prominent personages there to give requiem honors.

Seats for some 2000 persons will be arranged, but they will provide for but a fraction of those requesting admission, and the public will be allowed only a small number of tickets as the personal friends will command many hundreds.

The service will start at noon, when the coffin will be received by the minor canons at the side door of the abbey, and escorted to a place before the altar. The dean of Westminster, and probably the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London, will officiate. Only a few words will be spoken by the dean after the service.

Then the coffin will be carried, followed by a group of England's most distinguished personages, to a spot in the abbey yet to be designated, where the body will be laid in its final honored resting place.

The hymn to be sung at the service will be chosen by Bonar Law's family from among his favorites, and will be rendered by the choirs of the abbey and the chapel royal of St. James palace.

NAVAL OFFICERS CONDEMNED IN SWEEPING WAY

Bad Judgment, Faulty Navigation, Lost Lives and Seven Destroyers

UNITED STATES PROBE VERDICT UNEXAMPLED

Three High Officers Will Face Culpable Inefficiency Charge; Eight Lesser

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press) — Bad judgment and faulty navigation on the part of three officers caused the loss of 33 lives and of naval material to the value of $13,000,000, in the destroyer accident on Honda point, California, September 8, the board of inquiry declared in its final report to Secretary Denby.

On the recommendations of the board, Capt. E. H. Watson, the squadron commander; Lieut.-Commander Donald Hunger, commanding the Delphi, flagship, and leader of the nine destroyers which grounded; and Lieut. L. F. Blodgett, navigator of the Delphi, will be charged before a court-martial with culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty, and negligence. Eight other officers, including the commanders of as many destroyers which figured in the catastrophe, will face charges of negligence in the performance of duty.

The report was declared by veteran naval officers here to be almost unprecedented in its sweeping condemnation of those alleged to be responsible for the disaster.

Lloyd George Hugs Steel King While Audience Cheers

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The English-speaking peoples of this earth "can save civilization from doom—doom—doom," Lloyd George declared in an address here today before a great audience in the state armory.

The people of the United States and Great Britain, in acting together to insure order in the world, he asserted, need enter into no formal agreement to that end.

"Not by alliances, but by understanding," he said, "not by contracts, but by cooperation."

Lloyd George paid tribute to Charles M. Schwab, who was seated on the platform, for his war services, and the two men shook hands and embraced while the audience cheered.

The Debt to Schwab

"I owe him an especial debt of gratitude, and here I am, speaking for millions of my own people," the British war premier said. "He was one of the Americans who, from the start, placed the whole of his great genius for organization at the service of the allies."

Lloyd George told how the kaiser had heard that Dr. Schwab was supplying the deficiencies of the allies and made him an offer that would pay him three-fold in pecuniary profits for throwing up the allied contract, "and he stood by the allies."

LONGSHORE DISPUTE AN ENDURANCE TEST

Companies Refuse to Accept Negotiations With Union Officials; Non-union Men Load Ships

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31. — The strike of longshoremen, which has been in effect in British Columbia ports since October 9, settled down today to a contest of endurance between the strikers and their employers. The matter is at a deadlock, with the shipping and stevedoring companies refusing to negotiate with any official of the International Longshoremen's union, and the strikers refusing to concede more than that their representatives in any negotiations shall represent the workers and not nominally represent the union.

The strike is primarily one to enforce the men's demands for a five cents an hour bonus for loading lumber, the other demands for an increase in the wage base and a change in certain working conditions to be subject to subsequent arbitration.

The ordinary business of the port is continuing with the employment of nonunion strikebreakers, but in the loading of lumber it is practically at a standstill.

The employers have declared for open shop along the waterfronts. The strikers claim that inexperienced labor will cost the employers so much that they will be eventually compelled to meet the strikers' terms.

Conciliation Board Cannot Straighten Telegrapher Trouble

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—In a report made public tonight, the board of conciliation appointed by the minister of labor to deal with the dispute between the Canadian Pacific railway and members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, states its inability to discover a basis upon which the parties might agree.

Two members of the board recommend that the alterations asked by the men be not met. The third member, David Campbell, employees' representative, presents a minority report favorable to the employees.

NO RECOGNITION OF RHINE STATE BRITAIN AVOWS

Takes Sharp Issue With Proclivities of France and Belgium

PUTS POLICY PLAINLY IN NOTE FOR ALLIES

Central Government Must Be Maintained and the Treaty Upheld

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—By notes delivered to the French and Belgian governments today the British government puts into formal form the announcement made recently by Premier Baldwin that the government cannot view with equanimity the creation of separate states in Germany or the dismemberment of that country. The notes declare that Great Britain cannot recognize as independent the Rhineland republic, de facto or de jure, because such a republic is contrary to the Versailles treaty.

Wants No Police Duty

British action in this respect is inspired in the first place by the realization that the disintegration of Germany would leave no central government which could be held responsible under the Versailles treaty and, in the second place, by the fact that the recognition of the Rhineland republic would cause endless embarrassment to the British government in the Cologne zone, where the British troops might become involved in the delicate task of keeping order among the contending German factions.

While British troops are kept in the Rhineland—many vioces here recently have advocated their withdrawal—the government is obliged to exercise every care to avoid embarrassing complications.

Cologne Might Have Views

It is argued in London that it might happen that the inhabitants of the Cologne district would prefer to remain loyal to the reich, even if a Rhineland republic were established, and since much evidence has been forthcoming to prove that the French government favors the creation of such a republic this would bring the British into conflict with France at a time when, in view of the coming in of the United States to another reparations conference, it is more than ever necessary that nothing should happen to disturb the already somewhat strained relations between Great Britain and France.

MANSON MAKING PROHIBITIONISTS

Pooley Tells House Lax Liquor Act Enforcement Is Injuring Cause of Government Control

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—Laxity and inefficiency in the enforcement of the liquor act has confronted British Columbia with the prospect of a wave of anti-moderation, that may lead ultimately to bone dry prohibition, R. H. Pooley, Conservative, Esquimalt, declared in the legislature this afternoon while speaking in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne.

Mr. Pooley blamed the attorney-general, Hon. A. M. Manson, whom he held responsible for what he called "shameful conditions" in northern British Columbia.

Shameful in North

The Esquimalt member told the house that Mr. Manson's liquor firm had been engaged as solicitors for Ole Bessner as soon as he had been appointed attorney-general, and that Mr. Bessner and his chief lieutenant, Alexander Gooch, had fled to New Brunswick, ostensibly to evade exposure in connection with the wide open liquor trade in the northern port.

"If this province had a decent business administration, conditions would soon be remedied," he said.

MIXED JURY FREES MAN ON DRUG COUNT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31. — British Columbia's second mixed jury brought in another verdict of "not guilty" tonight when a jury of seven men and five women acquitted Garnet Eckhardt of charges of selling drugs.

"Some people will still think you are connected with this drug affair," said Mr. Justice Gregory in dismissing the prisoner. "You seem to be familiar with the thing. For goodness sake leave it alone, for the sake of society."

JAPANESE STEAMSHIP EMPLOYEES DETAINED

United States Officers Claim They Have at Aberdeen Agents of Big Japanese Narcotic Ring

SEATTLE, Oct. 31.—Eiji Okiozuno, chief steward of the Japanese freight steamship Ayaha Marue, and Jinzaburo Ofuka, purser of the same vessel, were being held tonight in Aberdeen, Wash., by United States customs inspectors from Seattle on a charge of bargaining to bring $1,000,000 worth of narcotics into the United States every few months, it was announced by federal authorities.

Plans called for the smuggling of 50 pounds of the drugs every time the ship docked, narcotic agents said.

The prisoners are said to be the representatives of the largest narcotic ring in the Japanese empire.

Swiss Seamen Are Attacked on Docks by Longshoremen

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31.—Attacks on men who had left their quarters on the Empress of Japan for an evening in town tonight resulted in the arrest of two men who admitted they were striking longshoremen.

Four men from the Japan, of Swiss nationality, only one of whom could speak English, were attacked as they were about to enter a theater. In the melee one of the men received a knife wound in his thigh, which he exhibited later at the police station. Beyond a few face wounds the others were rescued by the police without serious injury.

Cabinet to Take Up Eskimos' Case

Will Sit on Friday and a Reprieve of Execution Is Considered Quite Possible

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—The cabinet will meet for the first time this week on Friday. It is understood that one of the matters which will occupy the attention of the ministers is the case of the two Eskimos who will, unless the governor-in-council interferes, be executed on December 7 next.

The widespread demand for a stay of execution evidenced by the circulation of petitions to the minister of justice has resulted in a decision to reconsider the case, and it is now considered quite possible that a reprieve will be granted.

The appointment of Hon. A. K. MacLean to the vacancy in the exchequer court is expected shortly, and may be made at this meeting.

HANNA IS A WITNESS FOR MACKENZIE-MANN

Former President Canadian National Railways Testifies Against Salary Claim of Colliery Manager

CALGARY, Oct. 31.—D. B. Hanna, formerly vice-president of the Canadian Northern, and former president of the government-owned railways in Canada, was the main witness for the defence at the continuance, in supreme court here today, before Mr. Justice Simmons and a jury, of the trial of the action brought by Frank Moodie of Calgary against Sir William MacKenzie, Sir Donald Mann, P. Burns, et al.

The action involves more than $300,000, and the main point claimed by the plaintiff, Moodie, is for $24,000 back salary, which he claims he earned while manager of the Rosedale Coal & Clay Products company.

Mr. Hanna testified that no agreement had ever been made between the company and Mr. Moodie for back salary, and that no resolution to this effect had ever been passed by the directors of the company.

Western Assets Are Investigated by the Home Bank Delegates

TORONTO, Oct. 31. — Sales of Home bank property in the west, and the possibilities of selling timber limits in British Columbia which are listed as Home bank assets, are being considered by the liquidators and the depositors' committee of 15. Today nine members of the committee met with the liquidators in the head office of the Home bank to discuss these matters, but came to no decision.

J. E. Weldon, solicitor for the depositors, announced that the meeting had been called to discuss the western holdings.

"There are some minor details," he said, "but the chief business was the consideration of the sale of properties in the west."

SPEEDERS SPEED TOWARD ASYLUMS

Chicago City Physician Classifies Drivers Who Get into the Chicago Speeders' Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Early morning patrons of the speeders' court rubbed their eyes. What's this? Two judges on the bench? they asked. Mebbe we'll get double fines.

The other "judge" was City Physician David J. Jones, who will attempt to classify violators of Chicago's traffic ordinances after mental tests as thorough as the time will admit, and with his results lend his cooperation to Mayor Dever's safety commission to help decrease the mounting total of deaths and injuries.

Besides the customary questions asked of speeders, Judge Haas added some new ones suggested by the city physician. Among them were: "How old are you?" "How long have you been driving a car?" "What was your hurry?" (if the case be that of speeding) or "Why didn't you stop?" (if the offence was not halting at a boulevard or a through street) and "How much schooling have you had?"

Finds Two Classes

"The people here seem to divide themselves into two distinct classes," declared Dr. Jones, after a dozen cases had been through the mill. "The young, alert fellow, craving excitement, is the speeder. The older, less alert, slower-thinking driver is the one that misses the boulevard stop signs.

"In the eastern cities there are ordinances requiring a certain age before licenses are granted. After a week or more at Judge Haas' side, I will have material from which to offer some suggestions. As the law stands, now, licenses already issued can't be revoked. But in the future we may have legislation making it more difficult to get licenses to begin with. Some of the speeders I have seen are dangerous types who will soon land in insane asylums unless checked."

Rammed Line of Autos

Einer Nelson, whose education had ceased at the age of 18 in Sweden, was charged with driving in Halsted street while intoxicated and ramming a line of automobiles behind a street car. He admitted one drink of whisky.

"How often do you drink?" queried Dr. Jones.

"About every Saturday," answered Nelson.

The culprit received a fine of $150 and costs and was placed on probation for a year, which included weekly attendance at church and no more whisky.

Grover Herrin, a janitor, charged with cutting in and out of boulevard traffic, had been to the sixth grade. He was fined $45 and $5 costs.

"What's the $5 for?" he asked.

"It's fifty altogether," explained the judge.

"Thank you," responded Mr. Herrin.

Music Proves Eskimos and Indians One Race

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 31.—The Norwegian arctic explorer, Christian Leden, has returned from Greenland, bringing back a remarkable etnographic and zoological collection for the Peabody museum in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Leden believes that he has conclusively proved that Eskimos and Indians are an identical race. He arrived at this conclusion through the similarity of music.

STORE-BREAKER PLEADS GUILTY THEFT CHARGE

Gerald Naas of Hall Siding Remanded Till Friday for Sentence

STOLE REVOLVER AND SEVERAL KNIVES

Police Chief Makes Plea for Leniency; Was Injured at Halifax

Pleading guilty to the charge of breaking into the Hipperson hardware store and stealing one Colt revolver and pocket knives to the value of $18.50, Kenneth Gerald Naas was yesterday morning remanded till Friday morning for sentence by Magistrate William Brown. E. G. Matthew appeared on behalf of Naas.

A plea of leniency was advanced by Thomas H. Long, chief of the Nelson police department, as he stated the lad had realized the seriousness of the charge and had aided the police in securing the revolver, which he had hidden at his shack in Hall Siding.

E. G. Matthew stated that the youth, who is 21 years of age, had reached the city on Saturday night and had committed the offence on Sunday afternoon. The boy had lived in Halifax with his parents, and his father had been killed there while he and his mother, now a resident of Hall Siding, had been injured. Since the disaster the mother had stated that the boy was not right. He had been in mischief before in Ottawa, but at all times contributed support to his mother. He was an automobile mechanic by trade, and had come west for the first time this year on August 13, where he worked in the harvest fields as an engineer. The youth had served nine months in a reformatory in Ottawa on a theft charge.

Asked why he had committed the crime, Naas stated that he did not know. He had money and a place to live.

Entered by Door

His own story, as told to the court, was that he had gone down the alley in the rear of the Hipperson store and had been looking around. He peeked in the window at the rear and saw a hardware store. Having a hotel key in his pocket he tried it, and opened the door enough to allow a penknife to be inserted so as to drop the bar across the door. He entered, having no intentions whatever of taking anything. Someone entered the front door, and he made his exit through the rear door, to the alley, down the alley and over a hill.

Asked by Magistrate Brown if he had gone into the cash register, he denied that he had touched it. "I cannot say just where the cash register is in the store," he stated.

Chief of Police T. H. Long stated that the theory advanced by Mr. Hipperson was that the window had been pried up. This the youth denied. He told the court that he had arrived in Nelson for the first time on Saturday, midnight. He was before that in Saskatchewan and Alberta. His people lived at Hall Siding, and he went there on Sunday afternoon after going into the store, leaving the city about 3 o'clock. He had some money, he stated, as he had been earning good money on the prairies.

Magistrate Brown adjourned the case till Friday afternoon for his decision. He granted an order to have the stolen goods returned to W. Hipperson, the manager of the hardware store broken into by Naas.

Yesterday's case was the outcome of a diligent search by the Nelson police force for the storebreaker who entered the hardware store in broad daylight on Sunday last and who was disturbed by the manager, William Hipperson. The youth was arrested by Chief of Police Thomas H. Long.

TRESPASSER PAYS A FINE

Captive of Constable House of Railway Police Force Parts With Five Dollars

Charged, under the Railway act, with unlawfully trespassing on the property of the Canadian Pacific railway, David McFeeters yesterday morning appeared before Magistrate William Brown and was, on pleading guilty to the charge, fined $5.

McFeeters, in his story to the court, stated that he had been seeking work at Bonnington and was at the railway yards seeing some friends off Tuesday night. He had been chased by Constable House, who arrested him. He had no intention of taking the train out, via—the hobo's pullman—as, he declared, a man would be foolish to catch a train out in this manner at this time of year. "I plead guilty with being on the property," he stated to the magistrate.

Constable Houses's story was that when the coast train was pulling out the accused had made a dash for the engine and was intercepted by him. The man, however, ducked and made off. Ten minutes later Constable House placed him under arrest on Baker street.

McFeeters stated that he had sent his baggage to Vancouver by express, but that he had a room in the city on Tuesday night. Actions, he stated, did not always count. He had worked steadily all summer and intended to pay his way when leaving the city. Before sentence was passed McFeeters stated that he guessed when he wanted to leave the city he would have to via the Great Northern railway, as it was unlawful to go on the Canadian Pacific railway property. He paid the fine and departed.

Goddess Appears in India and Aids the Cult of Mrs. Gandhi

Writing from Bombay to a London paper an Anglo-Indian says:

A phenomenon which may prove interesting to students of psychology of the group-mind has been observed in western India, where it has attracted widespread attention.

A new goddess is declared to be stalking the land, as goddesses only can.

The goddess uses human beings as media. The spirit of the divine visitor enters the person of some villager, who becomes possessed and begins to make violent shaking motions and to utter all sorts of commands and prophecies in a chanting voice — the most stress being laid on the name of Mr. Gandhi, which is repeated over and over again.

People collect around the possessed one and take him to their village in procession, with music and songs. An awning is put up in front of every house, and the person possessed takes up his residence at each one of these by turn from day to day.

After a day or two of "possession," another person becomes affected, so to say, and the original "medium" is relieved of his or her oracular duties.

During the period of the "visit" all work is suspended, and from day to day people gather at the particular awning where the goddess may happen to be in residence.

The goddess commands perfect abstinence from all animal food and taking of life in any form and for any purpose.

People keeping goats and poultry for the market are ordered to liberate them. Fishermen are forbidden to ply their trade. Consumption of any kind of alcoholic drinks is strictly prohibited.

The village is to be cleared of every insanitary object. Men are enjoined to take two baths every day, and women three.

No person wearing clothes other than those made from "Khadder" — Mr. Gandhi's own favorite brand of hand-woven cloth—is tolerated in the "presence," nor are persons of higher caste permitted to attend the divine visitor. The day of the departure is celebrated with a feast.

Among the miracles the goddess is reputed to have performed is showing a likeness of Mr. Gandhi in bottles filled with water and petroleum. She claims, through her media, that Mr. Gandhi is her brother from the spirit world.

As a result of this psychological outburst people in the backward tracts have come to believe that the "Mahatma" Gandhi has escaped from his prison by virtue of his divine powers. Advanced believers of the cult claim to have seen Mr. Gandhi and the goddess engaged in spinning at the bottom of unused wells.

NELSON GRAPES OF THE BEST

Nelson Pioneer States Kootenay-Grown Fruit Equal to Any Grown in Province

"Grapes as fine and luscious as those of Portugal, the home of old port, and other good things, are now being grown out-of-doors on Vancouver island. E. Schaper of Victoria, the pioneer of grape growing here, has been exhibiting specimens of the classic fruit produced in this city."

So says a Victoria paper, which praises the great out-of-doors on Vancouver island, where the grapes have been successfully produced. But—one J. Fred Hume, also a British Columbia pioneer, but not of Vancouver island but of the "glorious" Kootenays, is out to show that Vancouver island is not the only place in the province where grapes can be grown out of doors.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Hume brought to The Daily News office four varieties of grapes on four different bunches, the fruit being luscious and ripe and the product of Killarney-on-the-Lake, Mr. Hume's summer home across the lake from the city.

These grapes, which will stand up to anything produced in the province, were picked but a week ago, and the vines from which they were picked yielded well over 200 pounds of the fruit without any care whatever throughout the year. Mr. Hume states that Moore's Early variety is one of the best growers for these parts. Nelson-grown grapes are at present on the local market.

Mr. Hume is loud in his praise for local-grown grapes, and states that Victoria and the Fraser valley have nothing on Nelson in this respect.

Discredited movie stars should take heart. A fallen star in British Columbia set the woods afire.

Katharine McEvoy Has Been Mining in the Kootenay District Since Eighteen Ninety-One

The Kootenay's woman prospector, Katharine McEvoy, who owns the Taft group, near Erie, is a visitor to Nelson. Mrs. McEvoy did all the assessment work on these claims herself this year, and states that she is planning to have development work started. She has been prospecting since 1891, and once, with her husband, walked all the way from Spokane to Nelson over a trail.

Home Banknotes Worth More Than Those of Solvent Banks

It is not very often that the banknotes of a defunct bank are worth more than the notes of the most solid and substantial financial institution in the country.

But that is the paradoxical condition of Home bank notes today.

Home bank notes are worth more than those of any other bank in the Dominion, in the sense that the holder can get more for them.

If you take a $5 Home bank note to the Canadian Bank of Commerce today you will get about $5.05 for it. The five cents represents interest since the bank suspended payment.

The reason for the payment of interest is that the notes of the bank are backed by gold reserve deposited by the bank at Ottawa and by other assets, and therefore are worth their full face value. The interest is payable because under the Canadian banking laws, which provide for a big gold reserve against notes issued by banks, holders of notes are protected against loss and consequently are entitled to interest to cover any period during which the notes may temporarily be unnegotiable. The Bank of Commerce has been appointed to take up all Home bank notes which are presented to it, according to a dispatch from Ottawa.

Looks Like Good Winter of Sport

There is every prospect for an exceptionally good winter of sport in this district.

Organization in Trail, Fernie, Cranbrook, Nelson and elsewhere of amateur athletic associations is an important advance in the development of amateur sport in the interior.

These associations should be particularly effective in places where, as in Nelson, the associations will father all forms of sport which attracts spectators and will have complete control of both the raising and the spending of money.

Trail has been tremendously successful with its association which performs this function, and there is every reason for supposing that Nelson and other centers which adopt this plan will find it equally satisfactory.

Sound Policy

Great Britain's note to France and Belgium opposing the division of Germany into separate states should meet with almost world-wide approval.

It is not in the interests of the world at large that Germany should suffer disruption. Broken up, Germany cannot pay its debts, it cannot progress and resume its place as a consumer of the products of other nations.

No policy of disintegration would be permanent. Germany might today be broken into a dozen different states, but it would not remain in that condition. Ultimately it would federate, but in the meantime separation into autonomous states would prolong the period of uncertainty as to the future and the economic and political weakness which is today the chief factor in preventing a return to settled conditions throughout Europe.

To tune up to concert pitch—
Then comes the DISCORD.
Some men marry a STRADIVARIUS
And can only play JAZZ—
Others marry a PENNY WHISTLE
And try to get GRAND OPERA
Out of it. Sometimes
A small man gets a BASSOON
And hasn't WIND enough
To keep her GOING.
Whilst his touch on a VIOLIN
Would have been
A SENSATION.
A CLUMSY man sometimes
Marries a HARP and breaks
Her heart strings,
For ALL women are at the Mercy of the MEN
Thaat play on their emotions.
Still, this is better than nothing,
For women without TIES are Often like the MERRY-GO-ROUND,
And go round and round in an Endless, senseless, noisy circle.

Radio Cake (easy to make in a hurry)—Sift together one and one-half of a cup of bread flour and two level teaspoons of baking powder; put this mixture into a mixing bowl and stir into it one cup of granulated sugar. Now fill a cup full of softened butter and also put into this cup two eggs; mix till well blended, then fill the cup to the top with sweet milk (using about one-half of a cup of milk). Turn the cupful of ingredients into the dry mixture in the bowl, and beat well. Add one teaspoon of vanilla and turn all into either small buttered loaf cake pans or bake in a sheet, having the oven not too hot (15 to 20 minutes of baking). Frost with the following:

Radio Cake Frosting—Melt on the back of the range, together, one cup of confectioners' sugar and one teaspoon of butter; add to this mixture two tablespoons of strong coffee, and heat till creamy. Then add two teaspoons of dry cocoa powder and continue to beat till it is thick enough to spread on the cake. Finely chopped nuts may be added if liked, or grated coconut.

Lemon Sponge Cake—Beat four egg yolks well, then mix with them one cup of granulated sugar and the grated rind of one lemon. Also add one tablespoon of lemon juice. Beat four egg whites stiff and begin adding them to the mixture alternately with one cup of flour (that is, mix in one-third of the flour, then a little of the beaten whites, then the rest of the flour, followed by the remainder of the whites). Turn into an unbuttered angel cake tin or a square tin. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in a slow oven. (Contributed by Mrs. W. N.)

Apple Sauce Cake — Cream together one-half of a cup of butter and one and one-half of a cup of sugar; add one teaspoon of ground cinnamon and one-half of a teaspoon each of ground nutmeg and clove, one tablespoon of corn starch and three tablespoons of dry shaved chocolate or cocoa powder. Now stir in two cups of cooked apples and two cups of flour which has been sifted with one teaspoon each of baking powder and soda. Bake in two layers for 30 minutes in a hot oven—or in one loaf for about 40 minutes.—Constant Reader.

Styles

BY LENORE

One of the marked features of the fall season has been the absence of the strictly tailored suit. Only for traveling or definite sport occasions when tailored clothes are at all in order the fashionable woman chooses the softer and more adaptable three-piece suit, the coat dress which is shown nowadays in so many good-looking versions, or one of those new checked or striped velour dresses. These come in lovely color combinations, but soft enough to suit the most quiet taste.

For the younger woman there is this slim model of green striped tan velour, with solid green to finish the neck and sleeves. Note how the slimness of the frock is accented by the fold of green material which appears on one side of the back, as shown in the smaller figure. The buttons may be tan or green.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

That Demon, Flu

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

The winter is at hand, and that demon, flu, may march through our midst again, leaving the victim whose life it spares weak, worn and devoid of all desire for work or play

The trouble is that he comes sneaking along, and you think you have just been working too hard, perhaps, ylaying too hard, not enough sleep, and that with the cold you've contracted you have really nothing serious, so you fail to recognize flu until you are down. There is the usual cold and headache, to which is added a severe backache and a feeling as if your whole body had been beaten by a club.

You are hardly sick enough to go to bed, and yet not in shape to do a day's work. You stay on your feet, and then the damage is done. And such damage.

Why, when an ordinary cold takes you, there is some sneezing, headache, restlessness, temperature, but you always feel that you'll soon be right again.

But with the flu?

Why, it just seems to pick you up, as a terrier does a rat, and shake and shake you until when you are put down you are nothing but a beaten piece of flesh and bones.

Why are its effects so terrific?

Because while it effects the entire system it would seem to make a particularly furious attack upon two very vital centers—the heart and the nervous system.

And, so, in watching flu, your physician keeps his eye ever on your heart. It is his chief thought throughout, and if it pounds along regularly, not too rapidly, and with good force behind it, he is free from worry. He guards the heart irrespective of all other considerations. And the nervous system gets a shock that perhaps nothing else ever gives it. The prostration is complete. And the lesson?

Remember that these two vital centers have received almost a knock-out blow. Don't worry about it, then, if you seem to be slow in getting back to your old self.

Don't give up your business or exercise, but come back to them gradually as your strength of body returns.

G. W. Goodall, western manager of Monetary Times, at Winnipeg, says 1924 will be a record business year at the coast.

Regular sleep fed Roosevelt's amazing personal energy

Through a lifetime crowded with the activities of public service, Theodore Roosevelt was a marvel of personal force and endurance to everyone who knew him.

Living his creed of the strenuous life, he renewed the energy he used so freely by keeping to strict and regular sleep habits.

He knew, like so many other eminent men, that undisturbed sleep alone has the power to rebuild the vitality and vigor on which any great achievement is based.

Give thought to your own sleep habits. Do they help or hinder?

KASLO HIGH SCHOOL GIVES SPOOKY DANCE

KASLO, B.C., Oct. 31.—Decorations of spooky black and autumn yellow, combined with green bowers, many-shaded lights, jack o' lanterns, black cats, ghosts and witches made the auditorium of the public school a setting for a very jolly at-home given by the high school pupils to their parents and friends on Friday evening.

A short program given by the pupils was much enjoyed, those taking part being Misses Ida and Dahlia Perkins, Norah Collins, Dorothy Parker, Queenie McQueen, Irene LaBelle and Billie Burkett and Page McPhee, Robert Hendricks, Leonard Garland, Fred Johanson, Gilbert Mervyn and the high school jazz orchestra.

A guessing contest was held, the prize-winners being Louise Billings and Gilbert Mervyn. The balance of the evening was spent in dancing, after which a dainty lunch was served. Those supplying music for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Anderson, Misses Glegerich, Miss F. Benzie, I. LaBelle and Miss Agnes Cockle.

Mrs. J. J. Binns was a Nelson visitor, Monday.

Miss A. Wilson, who has spent the past year with her aunt, Mrs. Murchison, left for her home in Manitoba, Friday.

Mrs. Best left last week for Edmonton, where she will visit with friends for the winter.

D. P. Kane was a Nelson visitor, Friday.

WEED ERADICATION ON MUNICIPALITIES

Alberta Minister of Agriculture Tells Convention Chief Onus is Not on Government

EDMONTON, Oct. 31.—While emphasizing the necessity of the most active campaign to lessen the menace of noxious weeds in the province Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture, in an address before the convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, which opened here today, declared that the onus of eradication was primarily on the municipalities and individuals, and unless a representative body like the municipal association directly urged the government to renew the work of weed inspection no appropriation for the purpose was likely to be indorsed by the legislature. The provincial inspection was discontinued last spring.

Several resolutions from the lengthy list that confronts the convention were dealt with during the afternoon, but when a number relating to school taxation and systems of collection were reached the conventon decided that a consolidation of resolutions should be effected as far as possible and turned many of these requests over to the resolutions committee to confer with the sponsor of the various motions.

PHASES AND PEOPLE IN BONAR LAW'S LIFE

DOMINION MAY WRITE TREATY AFFECTING SELF

Imperial Conference Adopts Report Which Recognizes New Departure

QUESTION OF INDIAN STATUS NOT SETTLED

Conference Expects to Wind Up Sessions With End of Next Week

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(Special Cable to the Canadian Press, by George Hambleton)—In a two-hour session this afternoon, the Imperial conference concluded its discussion on the status of natives of India in the Empire, adopted a number of committee reports, and passed a resolution of condolence to relatives of the late Bonar Law.

It is, however, understood that the most important of the reports adopted was that of the committee on treaties and international waters, which has been in session at intervals practically since the conference opened. The main features of its report are said to be:

1. Recognition of the right of a dominion to conclude a treaty alone, when the interests of the whole Empire or of any other dominion are not affected.

New Rum Limit

2. Recommendation of such means as, without abandoning the basic principle of the three-mile limit, will enable United States authorities, under defined conditions, to search British ships for liquor within a 12-mile limit of the American coast.

The conference discussed the question of Indians from all angles, but, according to the report, did not pass any formal resolution.

Among representatives of various dominions there was apparently a general acceptance of views that a resolution of the premiers' conference imposed no obligation on part of dominions to grant the franchise to Indians. Nor, as has been rumored, was any intention expressed of going beyond the scope of the 1921 resolution.

With the exception of South Africa, it is understood the various dominion representatives raised no serious objection to the proposal that committees of inquiry be appointed, which was made by the representatives from India, although in some quarters the point was raised that they might tend to stir up opposition, and thus defeat their own purpose.

The text of the discussion is expected to be published tomorrow.

Immigration and Preference

The principal business still ahead of the conference is that of immigration and preferential tariffs.

A committee of the economic conference is now at work in an endeavor to devise a plan whereby Empire settlement would be stimulated, and in regard to preference the conference is still awaiting any further proposals from the British government.

In any event, the death of former Premier Bonar Law, and the preoccupation of British ministers with reparations and the domestic political situation, it is unlikely that the subject of preference will be reached before Thursday next. But the conference expects to conclude its labors by the end of next week.

FRANCE TAKES PLEASURE IN BRITISH NOTES

Joint Invitation of Four Countries to States Is Very Acceptable

WANTS TO LIMIT PROBE TO PRESENT

French Government Claims Has Been Impartial in the Rhineland

PARIS, Oct. 31. — (By Associated Press) — The British government, through its ambassador, the marquis of Crewe, has sent two communications to the French foreign office, which were received there as in happy accord with the conciliatory spirit shown by France in recent intercourse between the two countries.

First Note on Rhineland

The first note drew the French foreign office's attention to the juridical consequences which might be entailed by the separation of Germany from certain provinces, in that such provinces were not signatories of the treaty of Versailles, and so would not directly have assumed obligations laid upon the reich by this treaty.

It has been reported that the note contained various statements, including criticism of certain measures taken by the French and Belgians in the zones of occupation, but it can be said that the note is limited to the above declaration, based on the treaty of Versailles.

An identical communication was made to the Belgian government.

Joint Invitation

The second note contained a proposal to the French government to send a joint British-French-Italian and Belgian invitation to the United States to be presented on the committee of experts which will make an economic investigation into Germany's capacity for the payment of reparations, and the means Germany possesses to fulfill her obligations. The joint invitation will express thanks to the United States for its collaboration, and beg the government to appoint delegates through its observer on the reparation commission.

Thus it can be seen that the British note neither raises objections, nor asks the French government to specify its intentions, as has been reported from London.

Premier Poincare did not have time today to draft replies, but as apparently not the slightest difference exists between the governments on the two questions treated therein, here is no doubt as to the nature of the replies.

With respect to the Separatist movement, the French government's view is that no responsibility can be placed on it or the Belgian government, as both have adhered to the principle of letting the populations concerned act according to their own will.

Wants Modifications

The French government is highly pleased at the participation of a United States delegate on the experts commission. But a semi-official statement issued tonight says it will probably demand certain modifications, notably, that the proposed investigation will have to do with Germany's capacity for payment, not in a general way, but on her capacity at the present moment, and France fully reserves the rights the repara- tion commission holds under the treaty of Versailles.

The Belgian government is expected to support the demand for modifications, and perhaps also the Italian government will do likewise.

California Racing Revived This Week After Long Slump

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. — More than 500 thoroughbreds are here for the opening of the new Tanforan race track on November 3, when horse racing will be revived in California after a lapse of 17 years, according John D. Stelling, secretary of the Pacific Coast Jockey club. Tanforan is known as the "betless track." The officials of the Pacific Coast Jockey club announce there will be no betting at Tanforan "either inside or out."

The Tanforan plant, valued at $1,000,000, will accommodate 600 horses and more than 50,000 spectators are expected for the opening day.

Tanforan's racing season will cover 25 days, with six races each day from November 3 to December 1, Sundays excepted. Nine stake events have been announced, seven having $2000 purses and two having $3000 purses. Purses of not less than $800 will be offered for each of the other races, the management has announced.

From Many States

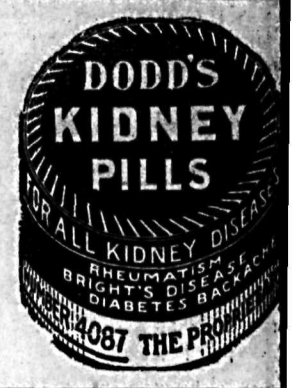
Horses from New York, Kentucky, Michigan, West Virginia, Wyoming, Washington, Colorado, California and Nevada are here to participate in the 25-day meet. Morvich, Chatterton, Bon Homme, Prince Tii Tii, War Cry and a host of other famed thoroughbreds are having daily tryouts on the new track.

While officials of the Pacific Coast Jockey club have announced that no betting will be permitted at Tanforan, no plan has been announced telling how gambling will be prevented. Rudolph Spreckles, vice-president of the club, stated that a "well-defined plan has been prepared which will prevent betting on horses at Tanforan." This plan, Mr. Spreckles said, will apply "either inside or out of the Tanforan track."

CHASE MOSQUITOES FROM PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Oct. 31. — The Philippines department of health and the Rockefeller Foundation will soon start a campaign to rid the islands of mosquitoes which have become numerous and because of their continued presence in many homes, dangerous.

The department of health has issued a warning to the people to fight the "residential" mosquito as the would a bitter enemy. The insect is blamed for the frequent recurrence of dengue fever.



POLICE GUARD CAR OF LLOYD GEORGE

Back in New York, He Has No Special Attention; Addressed People of Twenty Cities

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Lloyd George returned tonight to New York—the last stop of his triumphal tour of Canada and the United States—and will be the guest of John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, at Locust Valley, Long Island, until Saturday morning, when he will sail for England.

Tomorrow night Lloyd George will address the Lotus club, and Friday night a concluding address at the Metropolitan opera house will be given. Both will be broadcast by radio.

As the former prime minister's car sped across Manhattan tonight, headed for the Queensboro bridge to cross over to Long Island, heavy police guards menaced the route. It was denied, however, that this guard had been placed because of threatening letters Lloyd George had received.

Covers Six Thousand Miles

The arrival tonight concluded a trip of 6000 miles covered by train and automobile. Starting from New York after his arrival on October 6 the party traveled through various parts of Canada and the United States, going as far west as Winnipeg, Chicago and St. Louis, and as far south as Richmond, Va.

In that time Lloyd George made stops of considerable length at 20 cities, as well as rear platform stops at scores of other points, speaking directly to thousands, if not millions. Everywhere the distinguished visitor was received cordially, and frequently with demonstrations of enthusiasm which gave to his journey the aspect of a triumphal tour.

Lloyd George, in his addresses, thanked the United States and Canada for the part they played in the war; urged a proper adjustment of the German reparation situation and United States aid in achieving a peace of justice in Europe, and appealed for an understanding among the English-speaking peoples in the interests of maintaining a rational peace in the world.

Alberta Advance Polls Will Be Opened Today

CALGARY, Oct. 31.—Hundreds of Alberta voters go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether the present prohibitory liquor laws shall be continued or whether a new system shall be adopted, when the advance polls here and in other Alberta cities open at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, to remain open until Saturday. The great majority will not vote until Monday.

Seal Escapes From Crate in Warehouse; Gets Back to Briny

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 31.—A seal weighing 150 pounds, which was held in a storehouse on the dock awaiting shipment, escaped last night in a most remarkable manner.

It forced a hole in the wire net over its box, climbed on an other box and broke a window glass, 8 by 10 inches in size, forcing its way out on to the dock, a drop of 12 feet, and slid into the ocean.

How the seal got through the narrow opening in the window is a mystery, but it did so without cracking any of the other panes of glass.

EX-PRIEST'S SANITY TO BE PROBED AGAIN?

Montreal Court Circles Hear of Another Sanity Commission in Delorme Murder Case

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—The second trial on the merits of the murder charge against Rev. Adelard Delorme, accused of having killed his half-brother, Raoul, will not take place until Delorme's mental condition has again been ascertained, according to rumors here today in court circles, which hear of irrefutable law arguments discovered to force the appointment of another commission of experts to examine the priest.

It is predicted that the nomination of this commission will be made when the case is called in the court of King's bench on November 19, and it is expected that a second "sanity trial" will be held at the January term. If again declared mentally capable of standing trial, it is ex- pected he will be interned at the St. Jean de Dieu asylum, Longue Point.

United States Is Getting Ready to Nominate Experts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—United States government officials, while awaiting official word from Great Britain that the allied powers had agreed to a conference of economic experts to unravel, if possible, the reparation tangle, arranged today to move expeditiously with regard to participation by the United States in the discussion.

With the situation in Germany recognized as daily growing more serious, officials here are mindful of the need of prompt action. The impression was given by some officials in close touch with the situation that administration officials desired more than one member, possibly three, and that in the selection of representatives consideration would be given to differing groups of interests and to geographical consideration.

LOW URGES MIDDLE WAY IN FREIGHTS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31.—Drawing an optimistic picture of the greatness and potential wealth of Canada and the enterprise of the people, Hon. Thomas A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, declared to the Canadian club here today that the Dominion's progress in the past was nothing to what it was bound to be in the future.

Big as had been the increase in wheat shipments last year he was confident that with increased elevator capacity and the decrease in freight rates three times the quan*tity of wheat would be shipped* this year.

British Columbia of Future

After giving statistics of Canadian and British Columbia production in recent years he declared that of all Canada British Columbia had most to hope from the future.

Speaking of the potentialities of the oriental market he alluded to the freight rates issue.

"You have this, along with other questions, calling for our study and consideration in the east, and we, too, have ours. Somewhere we must find a middle way. But you of British Columbia cannot be held back by the barriers of man's erecting.

"Division cannot persist," he said, "if there is understanding and confidence. Forces of the past have been strong enough to make us a united nation. There was no east and west in the war, and surely the call for united construction can meet with equal response."

ALBERTA HEARS SONG OF THE SPELLBINDER

Prohibitionists Urge Clause "A" of Referendum, and Moderationists Urge Clause "D"

EDMONTON, Oct. 31.—From scores of platforms throughout Alberta there are being proclaimed each evening of this week the general arguments for and against prohibition, and specifically for and against the four proposals which face the electors in next Monday's referendum. The Social Service Council of Alberta is conducting the campaign on behalf of clause "A," which would retain the present system unchanged, and makes the claim on the platform and in its publicity that prohibition has been good for Alberta, socially, morally and economically, and that the enactment of clause "D" would reestablished the bar in all essentials.

Speakers for the Moderation league, which is urging that first choice be given clause "D" to establish government control of all liquor and legal sale of beer on licensed premises, assert just as positively that prohibition has been a failure, that it has not been and cannot be enforced, and that government control would eliminate bootlegging and reduce profits. They deny that the bar would be restored by a controlled license system.

Rural polls close at 5 o'clock on Monday, and in the cities at 8 o'clock. There are about 3000 polls in Alberta, and a considerable number of them are not on lines of communication, and, therefore, will not be heard from until the following day or, in some cases, much later. If there is any pronounced swing apparent on early returns, however, in favor of any one of the four proposals, the deferred returns will not alter the situation.

If the electors decree a change in the act the legislature will be called together at the earliest possible moment, it is believed.

National Derrick Puts Main Leased Wire Out of Order

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—Transmission of news over the Canadian Press leased wire between Ottawa and Winnipeg ceased at about 2:30 this afternoon when a number of Canadian Pacific railway telegraph poles were torn down by a Canadian National railway derrick, which was working on a minor freight train wreck near Rennie, Ont., at a point where the Canadian National railway tracks cross the Canadian Pacific railway.

At 7 o'clock this evening telegraph service had not been resumed and a news service for the newspapers of western Canada was being brought into Winnipeg from the Associated Press bureau at St. Paul, Minn.

The Canadian National railway's telegraph system was able to handle a limited amount of eastern Canadian news over its commercial wires. It was not expected communication with the east over the Canadian Pacific railway wires will be resumed tonight.

ESLING WANTS OLIVER FACTS

Rossland Member Asks About Railway, Office Staffs, Doukhobors, Steel

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—The Pacific Great Eastern railway, the Coast Range Steel project and Doukhobors are among the subjects on which W. K. Esling, Conservative, Rossland, is seeking information from the government. Tonight he posted a long series of questions, which will be formally brought to the attention of the government Friday.

Mr. Esling asks why A. B. Buckworth resigned as manager of the Pacific Great Eastern railway, and inquires into conditions under which office staffs are maintained at Vancouver and Squamish.

The proposed connection between the present end of steel, north of Quesnel, and Prince George, is also the subject of inquiry. Mr. Esling will ask the government for its estimate of the cost of making the connection and whether tenders were ever called for in connection with that project.

Burning of Schools

The Rossland member will ask the premier whether, at any time, he gave financial assistance to the Doukhobors of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood by way of a loan or otherwise. He wants to know how many schools in the Doukhobor settlement have been destroyed by fire and whether the government has been able to establish the responsibility for these outrages.

Regarding the Coast Range Steel scheme Mr. Esling inquires whether the premier, at any time, gave to H. J. Landahl, chief promoter of that enterprise, assurance that the government would guarantee the bonds of the company to the extent of one-third of the amount required and on what terms.

SUE STOCK EXCHANGE PIGGLY WIGGLY BAN

Hundred Thousand Damages Sought for Concern's Interference With "Cornered" Trades

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A bill of complaint seeking $100,000 damages from the New York Stock exchange and affiliated firms as a result of the exchange's action following the corner on March 20 of the stock of the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., has been prepared on behalf of Frank C. Milton and Walter L. Smith of Memphis.

While counsel for the plaintiffs asked that it be made clear that Clarence Saunders, former president of the Piggly Wiggly company, who engineered the "corner," was not involved in any way in the present action, no secret was made of the fact that the proposed suit would be in the form of a test action to determine the legal right of the New York Stock exchange to postpone the date of delivery of stock which had been sold "short."

Musselman Believes Continental Control of Wheat Fallacious

DENVER, Col., Oct. 31.—Speaking at a wheat conference here today, J. B. Musselman, managing director of the Saskatchewan Cooperative Elevator company, declared he did not believe Canada and the United States ever would form a marketing commission to govern the price of export wheat, as long as the United States growers admit they face the prospects of selling the surplus wheat for export at less than production cast and when Canada remains dependent on the present percentage of export to dispose of its wheat crop.

Mr. Musselman said he favored centralized control of marketing and warehouses rather than the pooling of wheat.

CANADIAN FLOUR OUSTING YANKEE FROM GERMANY

United States Exporters Demand Sight Drafts; Their Flour Also Poorer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. — Canadian flour is giving United States flour sharp competition in the German market, partly because of its quality, but also in consequence of the fact that Canadian mills are satisfied to accept payment in cash documents at Hamburg, whereas United States mills will only sell against sight draft, New York, says a report received by the United States department of agriculture from its commissioner in Berlin.

Flour importers in Germany, the report points out, are already handicapped by the depreciation of the mark, and find payment of sight drafts in New York an additional burden in view of the fact that it means a percentage for the exchange brokers.

If United States millers wish to take full advantage of the opportunities thus opened, it is suggested they will have to meet the Canadian competition in the matter of credit arrangements.

Brings Higher Price

Canadian flour, the agricultural commissioner reports, has lately obtained higher prices in Germany than United States flour. He says German consumers like the Canadian flour because of its sharpness. The demand for Canadian flour in Germany has surprised the trade, because it had been thought it would find a market only in Czecho-Slovakia and Poland.

Recently the Czecho-Slovakian government, to protect the native wheat crop and flour mills, prohibited the importation of flour into Czecho-Slovakia. Formerly, Canadian flour passed into Czecho-Slovakia through Germany. The movement into Germany continued in such volume after the Czecho-Slovakian embargo went into effect as to prove that the German market, too, was a good one for Canadian flour.

INSPIRED PARISIAN PAPER CRITICISES

Le Temps Describes Britain's Mediation Policy in Germany as Having Interested and Sordid Motives

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The semi-official newspaper Le Temps deals severely with the British foreign policy, in an editorial today.

Great Britain is described as seeking to induce the United States to enter upon a conversation which will inevitably end in the conclusion that the interallied debts ought to be reduced. She is trying to prove to the Americans, on the eve of an electoral campaign, the newspaper declares, that it is to their interest to loan money to Europe without demanding the integral payment of the European debts.

This is the delicate task which England is pursuing methodically, the writer states.

France, he adds, has no reason to undertake similar action toward the United States. Her doctrine is that Germany can pay, and even enrich herself in doing so, providing it is gone about in the right way.

Get about two ounces of peroxine powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts, and every blackhead will be gone. Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores, and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of peroxine powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition.

EXTRA DIVIDEND ON STEEL BULLS

Flood of Buying Orders in Stock Market Carries Active Issues to Higher Level

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — The unexpected declaration of an extra dividend on United States Steel common, on the strength of an unusually good quarterly earnings report, combined with the publication of a bullish forecast by one of Wall street's most famous speculators, brought a flood of buying orders in today's stock market, which carried active issues 1 to 5⅝ points above yesterday's close.

So great was the accumulation of buying orders for United States Steel common that it was some minutes before the common quotations could determine the official opening price, which finally was fixed at 38 to 38¼, as against a previous closing price of 36⅝. The price was finally run up to 91⅛, up 5⅛ on the day, on a total of more than 100,000 shares.

Net gains of 4 points or more also were recorded by Baldwin, Studebaker, American Can, Gulf States Steel, Coco Cola, Stewart Warner, Stromberg Carburetor, Mack Truck and International Harvester, while scores of others were up a point or more.

Initial gains ran from 1 to 3 points, but toward the end of the first hour, the upward movement was temporarily checked by the renewed business in oil shares, heaviness apparently being based on the publication of statistics showing that crude oil production reached a new high record in September and that another increase was reported for the week ending October 27, due largely to the increased yield of Central Texas fields.

The rails followed in the wake of the industrials with special strength being shown by the northwestern carriers on buying predicted on the sharp improvement in earnings and the optimistic utterances of Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific.

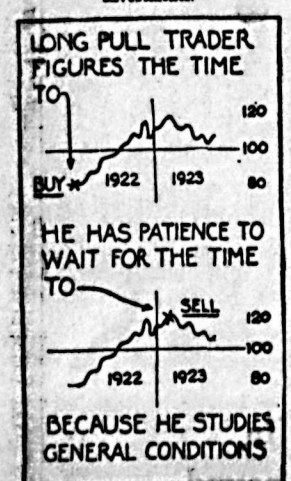
Money AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.



If anyone insists on entering the stock market he should first study the tactics of the long pull trader.

Long pull traders buy when they think they see a bargain. In other words, when stocks in general are low, they pick out a good one, buy it outright, and sit tight till times are better.

They expect to wait quite a while, perhaps years, and if the market fluctuates up and down in the meantime they don't worry.

Stocks have their ups and downs along with the cycles of business. The only difference is that stocks are usually from three to nine months ahead of business.

If a trader has the ingenuity to pick the times when prices of stocks are down, and then has patience to wait until they are up, he can make a fair profit. He won't make a killing though, and he must study general business conditions until he is a good judge of values.

VICTORY BOND ISSUE IS PAID OFF TODAY

Hundred Nineteen Million Will be Paid to Holders Who Did Not Convert; Minority Converted

OTTAWA, Oct. 31. — The department of finance, tomorrow, will pay more than $119,000,000 to holders of 1918 Victory bonds who did not convert their holdings.

Bonds maturing tomorrow total $172,000,000. Despite the success of the recent issue of Dominion government bonds, only from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 worth of the 1918 issue was converted. This left a balance of approximately $115,000,000, to which about $4,500,000 interest must be added.

Canadian Dollar Is Showing Improvement

OTTAWA, Oct. 31. — A distinct improvement in the standing of the Canadian dollar was reflected today in the order of the board of railway commissioners regarding exchange on international freight and passenger business for the next fortnight.

There is an improvement of 5-16 per cent in the exchange rate on freight, and of 1 per cent in the exchange on passenger business. The exchange in connection with freight shipments for the next two weeks will be 1 5-16 per cent, as compared with 1⅛ per cent for the two weeks just closed.

While the exchange rate on passenger business will be based on the 1 per cent instead of 2 per cent exchange, the surcharge on freight business remains at 1 per cent.

YOUNG COCHRAN BEATS MIGHTY WILLIE HOPPE

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—Welker Cochran of Los Angeles furnished the surprise of the world's 18.2 balk line billiards championship tournament tonight, defeating William F. Hoppe, the titleholder, 500 points to 230.

In defeating Hoppe, Cochran, the youngest American player in the tournament, made the highest run of the week, 146, and in finishing in 16 innings, set up the best average.

Hoppe, far off his game, never could get the balls rolling satisfactorily.

Correct this sentence: "I wear a number seven," she informed the shoe clerk, "and I am not at all sensitive about it."

YANKEES IN RUSSIA FILLED WITH "VIEWS"

Moscow Reports Visitors So Numerous and So Divergent That Impressions Curious Composite

MOSCOW, Oct. 31.—Soviet Russia has been so full of American visitors, commercially, politically and artistically inclined, during the past summer that more versions of the "truth about Russia" are likely to be aired in the United States during the coming winter than ever before.

Divergent views have been expressed here, and views equally divergent will be carried away. Some of the American visitors who talked only with disgruntled business men, or whose own pet schemes went awry because of some government code designed to prevent exploitaton and profiteering, probably will call Russia all sorts of names and paint the country as a huge Bolshevik viper waiting to sink its Marxion fangs into the world.

Visitors artistically inclined found painting, music, the drama, and the ballet in Moscow better than anywhere in the world, and these impressions will color all they have to tell their friends.

Many others found the soviet government firmly planted on strong feet, with no evidences in sight of an overthrow, while not a few were impressed by the great size of the country and its future possibilities.

The finding of the needle in the haystack would be simplicity itself compared to reaching unanimity of opinion about the desirable and undesirable traits of Russian Bolshevism.

RIVER DRIVER LOSES LIFE IN LARDO COUNTRY

Charles Rutkie Slips From Boom Stick into Icy Water

BODY LOCATED AFTER THREE HOURS' WORK

Body Taken to Kaslo by Provincial Constable C. F. Oland

Charles Rutkie, a river driver for Lindsley brothers, pole operators in the Lardeau country, was drowned yesterday afternoon at about 1:30 o'clock. He was at the time working on a boom when he suddenly slipped and fell into the water. According to C. P. Coates of Balfour, who saw the accident, the river man came to the surface and grabbed on the boomstick. He, however, silently fell back into the water, as if seized with heart failure. Mr. Coates was in a launch, about 200 or 300 yards from the man, when the accident occurred, but was unable to reach him.

A search was immediately started to locate the body, and after working all afternoon Pole Inspector R. C. Bush and C. P. Coates located the unfortunate man's body. Constable C. F. Oland of the provincial police at Kaslo was called to the scene of the accident and made the trip in Thomas Wilson's launch, bringing the body back to Kaslo.

Rutkie was between 24 and 25 years of age and had been in British Columbia only a short time, having come from Lethbridge. Before working in the Lardeau he had worked at Bull River, Wasa and on the coast. It is not certain whether an inquest will be held.

FISH EGGS NOW HATCHING HERE

Eastern Brook Trout Eggs Placed in Newly Constructed Hatchery

Close on to 150,000 eastern brook trout eggs have been placed in the recently installed government hatchery in the Maglio block in this city, the spawn having brought to the city on Tuesday from Violin and Boundary lakes. It is expected that close on to a million eggs will be in the hatchery during the fall.

Since the announcement that a hatchery was to be established in the city work has been going on continually, and at present two hatching tables, each consisting of five 16-foot troughs, have been built in. These 10 troughs will hold 2,000,000 eggs.

Each trough, which is about 14 inches in width, will hold approximately 150,000 eggs. The eggs are placed in hatching trays and submerged in the troughs, through which a continuous current of water passes, the current passing from the bottom of the trough through the trays. Hatching baskets are also used, but at present the eggs are too small to warrant the use of the baskets. However, when the hatchery gets under way, special baskets of eggs will be placed in the trough for the convenience of the public, so that the progress of the egg hatching can be followed, as it is the intention of the management to throw the building open to the public.

The eggs which were brought from Violin and Boundary lakes were packed in by an attendant on an especially-constructed carrier, on which were placed the trays, with the eggs in a cotton protector. The eggs were obtained from fish averaging four pounds in weight.

Rossland Choirs, Present and of Long Ago, Meet

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 31. — Mrs. William Arnett, Mrs. W. T. Trembath and Mrs. Rogers entertained the present choir of the United church and a number of former members of that body at a banquet in the Arnett home, last evening. A number of impromptu speeches added to the hilarity of the occasion.

Among other things, attention was drawn to the fact that some of those present were members of the church choir 27 years ago.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eccles, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tindale, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pontin, Miss Wilkes, Miss Morrison, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. W. T. Trembath, Miss Parker, Mrs. J. H. Crowe, Miss Norman, Miss Mary Rogers, Miss Pitt and Mrs. Sundstrom of Vancouver.

Gold Mouse Legend Applied to British by Cologne People

COLOGNE, Oct. 31.—British officers and soldiers of the forces occupying this city never tire of visiting its majestic cathedral.

A lifesize mouse of solid gold under an inverted crystal bowl set upon a marble table in one of the chapels invariably causes much curiosity and inquiries as to the cause of the little golden rodent's presence are frequent.

It is told that some hundreds of years ago the cathedral was infested with mice which were responsible for much damage to the paintings, sacerdotal costumes and other costly silk and cloth ornaments. All efforts to rid the cathedral of the plague had proved failures until someone suggested that the presence of a mouse of gold as a permanent fixture would prove effective in frightening the live ones away. The legend says that the remedy was successful.

"Do you really believe such was the case?" a ranking British officer asked of the old sexton the other day.

With a sad smile the latter replied: "Hardly; otherwise, I am certain we should have found enough of the precious metal in Germany to set up a gold statute of a British soldier somewhere in Cologne."

AVIATORS WILL FILM AN ACTIVE VOLCANO

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Oct. 31.—Attempts to take aerial photographs and observations of gas and heat directly above the continuously active fire-pit of Halemaumau in the volcano of Kilauea on the island of Hawaii, will be made by army aviators in the near future, it has been announced by headquarters of the Hawaiian department.

This, it is believed, will be the first time in history that airplanes will be used for the purpose. The photographs and observations will be used by scientists.

Work will be started immediately on a landing field and airdrome at the Hawaii national park, which includes the volcano. The air survey of the volcano will consume several months. The aviators also will photograph Hilo harbor and other strategical points on the island.
