BRITISH HOUSE WILL DISSOLVE ON FRIDAY; LIBERAL WINGS UNITE TO DEFEND FREE TRADE

BRITISH VOTERS MUST MAKE UP MINDS QUICKLY

Baldwin Would Use Revenue From Duties to Start New Industries

LABOR'S SOLUTION IS A LEVY ON CAPITAL

Liberals as Yet Have Only Negative Policy of Standing on Free Trade

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—The voters of Great Britain must make up their minds in the enormously complicated policy of protection and must make them up in a very few days. Probably a majority of the voters who will go to the polls on December 6 had had no special education on the subject because it has not been a conspicuous issue in British politics since Joseph Chamberlain was swept under by the free trade flood in 1906.

A New Generation

The new generation of men voters and some millions of women have succeeded those who thought they saw at that time either salvation or disaster in protection.

Moreover, economic conditions have vastly changed. Protection today is a new issue, say the politicians, because 1923 is not 1906.

The strong point of Premier Baldwin's campaign is that he proposes an immediate remedy for the blight of unemployment, which is reaching a critical stage.

Against him stands the Labor party, which does not rest on the old free trade argument of the "hands off" system under which Great Britain became the greatest financial power of the world, but offers as an alternative a levy on capital.

Against him also are the Liberals, who have compounded no specific panacea, ut point out the dangers in a hurried reversal of the country's fiscal principles.

Mr. Baldwin's protection is limited protection; he stands by his promise not to tax wheat or meat, and, as a special hint that the old free trade war cry against a tax on food no longer applies, a special committee which meets tomorrow under the chairmanship of Lord Milner is officially termed a "committee to advise his majesty's government in connection with the preparation of proposed duties on manufactured goods."

Bonus With New Revenue

There is the novel feature in the plans for new protection that the taxes gathered from this source are to be devoted to subsidizing other branches of industry and writing off existing duties on some of the necessaries of life. The new balance sheet is to show in one column large revenues from the tariff on manufactured goods with incidental impetus to home factories and increased employment, and in the other column subsidies for the relief of agriculture, development of cotton growing within the Empire and a reduction of duties of tea and sugar.

Already Imperial preference, as decided upon when the Imperial conference met, is being forgotten under the absorbing interest in the far-sweeping changes. There was some complaint that Imperial preference gave all the advantages to the dominions and none to the mother country. One of the arguments that will be most used in the campaign will be that if all other great nations protect their industries by tariffs why not Great Britain?

Levy on Wealth

Labor's scheme for a capital levy, so far as it has developed, appears to be impressment by the government of a certain percentage of fortunes of £5000 and more, which the Labor leaders argue is merely a form of taxation and a perfectly legitimate one.

The general view is that United Liberal party, whose union is likely to lack vitality because the healing of the enmities between many of the Asquith and Lloyd George supporters can hardly be deep and wholly sincere, is an outsider so far as chances of winning the election goes, particularly if the party brings forth no plan for dealing with unemployment and the depression among the farmers.

The Unionist orators will make the most of frightening the people with small and large fortunes over the threat of a capital levy and the dreaded word "Communism."

Free Traders May Quit

Already there is talk of resignations from the cabinet by the free trade members, conspicuous among which are the earl of Derby and Lord Robert Cecil, and undoubtedly some of the politicians will be forced by their convictions and consistency to step from one party to another.

One of the day's rumors in Westminster was that the Cecil brothers, Lord Robert and Lord Hugh, and the earl of Derby, at the cabinet meeting, protested bitterly against bringing the prodigal son, Birkenhead, back to the family board.

SHEFFIELD CONFERS FREEDOM UPON KING

SHEFFIELD, England, Nov. 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Premier King arrived here this morning. He visited Vickers and the principal cutlery manufacturing establishments, and lunched privately with the lord mayor. Afterward he received the freedom of the city.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Exports from the United States during October amounted to $402,000,000, compared with imports of $303,000,000, leaving a favorable trade balance of $99,000,000.

Prints Alleged Libel on Armistice Taggers

MALCOLM BRUCE

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—Proceedings will be taken against The Worker, a Toronto publication, for printing an article entitled "Armistice Day," reflecting on the character of tag-day women workers, Chief of Police Dickson stated today.

M. Bruce, editor of the publication, said today that he stood by his editorial and that he had nothing to retract. He denied that there was anything wrong intended in his article.

WILLIAM HOHENZOLLERN CALMLY SAWING WOOD

Nations Unnecessarily Excited; No Return to Germany Contemplated, Friends Claim

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 13.—William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, goes calmly about his customary tasks at Doorn house, notwithstanding the reports which have gone abroad that he was preparing to depart for the fatherland.

It is asserted here that there is no foundation for the report that he and the members of his entourage have been granted passports for a journey to Berlin or elsewhere in Germany, and those close to him declare that he has no intention of leaving Doorn.

It is said that the ex-kaiser is not in good health, and his personal physician, who resides in Amsterdam, has been here for some days.

No Confirmation

PARIS, Nov. 13. — The French foreign office had received no official confirmation up to a late hour this evening of the ex-kaiser's reported intention to reenter Germany.

CROWN PRINCE HAS HAPPY DINNER PARTY

Sits at Table With Wife and Children For the First Time in Over Five Years

OELS, Nov. 13. — The former German crown prince, his wife Princess Cecile, and their children, made a happy dinner party tonight, this being the first complete reunion of this branch of the Hohenzollern family in more than five years.

Frederick William, who traversed the 400 miles from the Dutch border by automobile, drove up to the castle at 6 o'clock. The autumnal dusk had fallen over the hills, so that the small crowd of townspeople who had gathered had but a fleeting glimpse of their newly arrived neighbor.

Gazette Is Angry

FRANKFORT, Germany, Nov. 13.—"The return of the former German crown prince to Germany is anything but an auspicious omen, and the German people have a right to know why the government permitted it during the present situation," observes the Frankfurter Gazette, the leading German Liberal organ.

REPLACE MENNONITES WITH YANK SETTLERS

Big Mexican Landowner Says Mennonites Are Happy Down There; Arranges for More

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—"Contrary to reports the Mennonites who left western Canada for Mexico are perfectly happy in their new environment and are certainly making their farms pay," according to Alfred Russek, millionaire landowner from Mexico, who is on his way to Saskatchewan, where he will prepare for the migration south of 1200 more Mennonites.

Replacement of the departing Mennonites with 1200 white settlers from the northern states in the Union is the scheme which Mr. Russek hopes to perfect in the next few months. He will buy the land which the Mennonites forsake, which he expects to be valued at $2,500,000, and either rent or sell to incoming Americans, he declared.

DEPOSITORS FAIL TO PUT IN STATEMENTS

Only Half of Home Bank Depositors Have Complied With Rules; Holds Up Advance

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—That the payment of 25 per cent to the Home bank depositors is being held up by scores of the depositors themselves, was the statement made today by E. L. Weldon, solicitor for the depositors. In the last two weeks only 50 per cent of the depositors have filed their claims. Mr. Weldon stated that no payment can be made until all the claims are in.

POINCARE RIDES AS ROUGHSHOD OVER CHAMBER

Refuses to Answer Questions and Makes It a Vote of Confidence

GETS BIGGEST MAJORITY SINCE DIVISION ON RUHR

Supplementary Credits Call for Huge Additional Sums for Government

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Premier Poincare, riding rough-shod over all opposition, scored a signal victory at the reopening of the French chamber today. He succeeded in placing the discussion of the supplementary credits of the 1924 budget at the top of the order of the day, and absolutely refused to discuss interpellations except on one day each week, which means, in effect, indefinite postponement, as interpellations would probably average one for each sitting and therefore only four or five could be disposed of before the December recess.

Opposition Groups Unite

M. Poincare's uncompromising attitude, however, caused crystalization of all the opposition groups, the Radicals, Clemenceau adherents, Socialists and Communists voting solidly against the government for the largest majority on a question of confidence since the Ruhr occupation.

The premier made his request that Friday of each week be set aside for the discussion of the interpellations, numbering 40, a question of confidence involving responsibility of the government, and he was supported by the chamber by a vote of 379 to 166.

As presented by the government the order of the day, in which a majority of the chamber concurred, calls for, first, discussion of the 1924 budget's supplementary credits; second, a tax on revenues, and, third, reform of the electoral law.

The next attack upon the government by the left groups will be on the first item, calling for extraordinary credits to the amount of nearly 1,500,000,000 francs over the 1923 budget adopted as a standard for 1924. This amount is made up of expenditures in Morocco totaling 352,000,000 francs, and in the Saar valley and near east 248,000,000 francs, and an item described as "extraordinary expenses" 847,000,000 francs. The latter includes the expenses of the Ruhr occupation since June, amounting to nearly half a billion francs.

The opposition groups are training their guns on these expenditures with little chance of success. It is admitted, even in the most bitterly oppositional quarters, that the Poincare government is safe, at least until the elections.

DIED BY OWN HAND, CORONER'S JURY SAYS

But Relatives of Vancouver Bank Clerk Believe Murder; Wrote Check for Mother for Exact Bank Balance

SOUTH VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 13.—William Woodruff Bayley, aged 23, bank clerk, found shot to death last Friday in his rooms over the bank in which he was employed, died by his own hand. This verdict, without any comment, was returned by a coroner's jury, which today heard evidence to show that young Bayley, having brought his books up to date and leaving them in perfect order, visited his mother in Vancouver on Friday, returned to the bank to sleep, wrote a check in his mother's favor for the exact amount standing to his credit in the savings bank, telephoned his mother at 3 o'clock in the morning that he was feeling ill, but could take care of himself until morning, and then apparently returned to bed.

He was found with a bullet in his brain, and a revolver on the floor beside him.

No motive has been discovered for suicide, and his relatives refuse to believe it was not a case of murder.

The Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association will be represented by J. A. Maharg, president, and A. J. McPhail.

CUT PRODUCTION OF WHEAT, SAYS THE COMMITTEE

Grow Alternative Crops on Part of Present Acreage; Increase Consumption

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The production committee of the wheat council of the United States, at the close of a two-day meeting here tonight, made public a report embodying its idea of a program for the solution of the wheat problem in the United States.

Decreased acreage, the growing of alternative crops on acreage formerly used for wheat, the increasing of domestic wheat consumption, assembling of reliable figures on cost of production in various sections, and a program extending over a long period of years, were some of the recommendations made.

Call Regional Conferences

As a means of accomplishing this program the committee, headed by Sydney Anderson, president of the wheat council, recommended that the council call a conference of states or regions, of leading representatives of all interests, for the discussion of state or regional problems, to be coordinated with the national program.

Present wheat acreage, the committee's report said, should be reduced from 62,000,000 acres to 50,000,000 acres, this being made as fast as alternative crops can be provided. Sufficient wheat can be grown on 50,000,000 acres, the committee said, to care for all domestic needs. A return to prewar domestic consumption of wheat, the committee said, would absorb about 90,000,000 bushels of wheat over present domestic requirements, and the committee recommended that a committee to increase consumption be encouraged.

Cooperative Exporting Doubtful

Concerning cooperative production and marketing, the committee said it believed that cooperative elevators and selling associations have resulted in demonstrable advantages to the farmers, but that the advantage of cooperative selling secured in other commodities and in foreign countries had not yet been secured in wheat production.

WILL PROSECUTE FASCIST REBELS

Dictator Von Kahr Is Making Good His Control in Bavaria in Face of Hitler Sympathizers

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—It is reported from Munich that the public prosecutor of the supreme court at Leipzic has received instructions from the central government to institute proceedings against the participators in the Nationalist putsch at Munich, on charges of high treason.

The Bavarian government, it is added, had already decided that the rebels should be dealt with by a special court at Munich.

Bavaria More Tranquil

MUNICH, Bavaria, Nov. 13.—The situation in Bavaria was considerably more tranquil today. Dr. von Kahr, the dictator, apparently is succeeding in defending his authority in the face of the uncompromising discontent of the followers of Adolph Hitler, who are keeping up desultory political warfare against Von Kahr and General von Lossow, commander of the Bavarian reichswehr.

Farmer Gives Life in Attempt to Free Frozen Canada Goose

MELFORT, Sask., Nov. 13. — Slowly freezing in the icy waters of a lake near Maisberry, while his friends made unavailing efforts to rescue him, Robert Thorpe, farmer, lost his life, Sunday, in an attempt to set free a wounded Canada goose, frozen in the ice.

With his brother Chris, Thorpe started out on his errand of mercy across the frozen surface of the lake.

Some 400 yards from shore the ice gave way, leaving the two brothers struggling in the freezing water and thick mud. Chris Thorpe worked his way out, and was pulled ashore by neighbors who threw him a rope.

It was found impossible to rescue Robert, and he finally collapsed from exposure, after determined attempts at rescue had failed. His body was recovered and buried today at Melfort.

RHINELAND AND RUHR DESERTED BY THE REICH

Berlin Announces They Will Have to Shift for Themselves Under Powers

IS NOT SANCTIONING AUTONOMOUS STATES

But Reich Finances Can't Stand Further Strain; Hold Powers Responsible

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The central government, in a statement issued here tonight, virtually admits its inability to support the Ruhr and Rhineland any longer.

The government's action is considere as having resolved itself into an abandonment of those territories, and leaving their populations to their own fate and at the mercy of the occupying powers.

All-Day Secret Conference

After permitting to go unchallenged throughout the day reports to the effect that the German government was about to proclaim an autonomous Rhineland Ruhr state within the German federation the official communication issued tonight threw a strange light upon a secret conference which was in progress at the chancellory all day. At the conference President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann and others of the cabinet discussed with the premiers of the federated states and a committee comprising Ruhr and Rhineland leaders the question of liquidating the economic chaos of the occupied zone.

The Berlin government declines to discuss the question of an autonomous state. It declares that this is an issue which is wholly determined through the application of paragraph 18 of the federal constitution and that the question of such a state has no present bearing on the situation in the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

The statement issued tonight said:

Not Sanctioning Separation

"With regard to many reports abroad that an autonomous Rhineland was to proclaimed with the consent of the government it is stated in authoritative circles that the government maintains its attitude that no discussion is possible with regard to alterations in the legal relations of the Rhineland and the Ruhr to the reich.

"The government will never take any step in this direction and will never sanction the proclamation of a Rhineland republic. The only authority for any alterations in the relations of the Rhineland to the reich is the constitution of the reich."

Since the foundering the negotiations between the French authorities and the industrialists the Berlin officials have realized the hopelessness of liquidating the situation in the occupied zones out of Germany's own resources, and today's action, which in its final analysis is considered amounting to relinquishment of German administrative jurisdiction and the withdrawal of financial and other support from the Rhinelad and the Ruhr, are the only remedies at Germany's disposal, it is said, unless she courts disaster for rest of the country by attempting to salvage the Rhineland and the Ruhr in the face of Franco-Belgian economic opposition and political resistance.

Would Doom New Mark

Any attempt to stabilize the currency or to safeguard the renten mark which is to be put in circulation this week is considered as doomed to defeat if the government is called upon for further subsidies or unemployment doles in the occupied areas, and its position as reflected by today's momentous meeting is that it has resolved upon the grim determination to hold France and Belgium morally and financially responsible for the welfare of the German people in the zones occupied by them.

San Yat Sen Has Captured Wachow From North Army

SOUTH AFRICAN COLOR LINE DECLARED ILLEGAL

Supreme Court States Governor-General Cannot Make Such Regulation Without Backing of Statute

PRETORIA, South Africa, Nov. 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters).—An important decision on the question of drawing the color line in South Africa has been given by the supreme court, which declares that the color bar is opposed to the general law of the land.

The case arose on the application of the attorney-general for a ruling in an action against a mine manager, who had been charged with contravening the mining regulations by permitting a native to take charge of a locomotive. Justice Klause, the presiding judge at the trial, asserted that there was no justification for differentialism among classes or colors, and in the absence of an express statutory provision it would be dangerous to hold that the governor-general had power to make such a regulation.

GRANT GERMANY HEARING ASKED

Will Be Held in About Ten Days; French Inquiry Very Much "Present"

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Action on Premier Poincare's suggestion that the reparation commission appoint an expert committee to conduct an inquiry into the reparations question was deferred by the commission today, until German delegates shall have been heard regarding the reich's capacity to pay.

Worse Than the Other

The suggestion, made through M. Barthou, was that the expert committee be charged with estimation of the "present" capacity of Germany, and Sir John Bradbury, the British representative, is understood to have declared that it would provide for an even closer restriction of the inquiry than that proposed by the French in the case of the Hughes plan.

The French idea was that, after estimating the present resources of Germany at home and abroad, the committee should fix the amounts Germany could pay during the ensuing three years. M. Barthou dwelt especially on the necessity of ascertaining the total German assets in foreign countries.

The German request for a hearing was granted without opposition, and without restriction, the date being left open in order to allow them to make arrangements for their representation, but, it is thought, the first hearing will take place in about 10 days.

Would Include Ruhr

Sir John Bradbury declared he regarded it as right that the commission should, without fear or favor, execute its mission, investigating all the causes that have led to the present condition of Germany, and fearlessly apply or recommend whatever remedies it may deem necessary, after investigation.

The impression in reparation circles after today's meeting was that the commission was losing effectiveness, and that the reparation question could and would be settled only by the governments.

French comment on M. Barthou's proposition was unavailable, but it is understood that M. Poincare's idea is that, the Germans having been heard, an expert committee, such as proposed, will be able to do all that can be done at the present under the treaty, which he maintains must remain untouched under all circumstances.

When Germany's present situation is brought out, then it will be for the Germans themselves, he holds, to indicate what further procedure is necessary, by showing their will to pay or by persevering in their resistance.

Two Indian States Have Prohibition; Two Parties For It

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.—Prohibition, already in force in two states is destined to spread all over India within a few years, Professor Yohan Masih, president of the Presbyterian Theological College of India, told members of the Kiwanis club at a luncheon here today.

"The Liberal party has come out for prohibition this year," Professor Masih said, "and will stand for it at the next election. The other group is appealing to the British government to halt the traffic in intoxicants.

"Country-wide prohibition, another symbol of India's moral and social awakening, is certain to come within a few years."

BALDWIN ASKS BRITAIN FOR A NEW MANDATE

Asks to Be Released From Bonar Law Pledge and Given New Weapon

LLOYD GEORGE, ASQUITH BURY LIBERAL HATCHET

Chamberlain and Holdout Conservatives Will Throw Weight to Government

LONDON, Nov. 13.—In a speech explaining his position, to the house of commons today, Premier Baldwin said that after giving the subject much thought he became convinced that he could not undertake to remain in his present position to steer the country through the winter, unless he were allowed to use an instrument which he had been precluded from using, having regard for Bonar Law's pledge.

Explaining that he wanted a mandate in time to include the new duties in the next budget, he declared it was necessary to have elections at the earliest possible moment. He had advised the King accordingly, and he saw no reason why parliament should not dissolve Friday. Elections will be held December 6.

Brief criticisms of the government's procedure followed from the Liberal leaders, who actively accused the government of rushing the elections to prevent the country from either knowing or discussing what the government proposed to do and with voting a motion giving the government the whole time of the house.

The exciting proceedings ended, the house settled down to a routine discussion of the Workmen's Compensation bill in committee, which must be finished in the remaining few days.

Parties Will Realign

The immediate effect of the government's sudden change of policy will be a certain realignment of parties, or rather of party leaders. The two opposing Liberal wings, led respectively by Asquith and Lloyd George, have become reunited under the free trade banner, while, if the Conservatives are returned to power, the new government will be greatly strengthened by the inclusion of Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, and probably Sir Robert Horne, who has abandoned his projected visit to the United States in order to assist his party in the election campaign, and will possibly abandon his business interests in order to rejoin the government.

Reconciliation of the Liberals was fully effected today, and an official statement issued tonight says that the Asquithians and Lloyd Georgians will fight the election as a united party, without regard to past differences. Mr. Asquith and Lloyd George today settled upon all plans, and Liberal candidates will go to the polls in such numbers as to make a united Liberal government a practical alternative to the present government.

Should the Conservatives be returned to power, the new Conserva-

PROVINCES FIGHT THE GOLD EMBARGO

Ontario and Quebec Ministers of Mines and Miners and Capitalists Protest to Ottawa

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—Protesting testing against the federal government's action in maintaining the embargo on gold exports, and refusing to pay for Canadian-produced gold on the basis of New York funds, Hon. Charles McCrea, Ontario minister of mines, and Hon. J. E. Perrault, Quebec minister of mines, will head a deputation of Canadian gold miners and international capitalists who will meet the federal minister of finance here tomorrow morning.

The claim of the provinces, the miners and the financiers, is that by saddling the entire United States exchange against Canadian funds, upon Canadian gold reserves, the federal government is making Canada the least favorable of all countries in the world for investment in gold mining.

Doubles Tax

The exchange rate against Canada in New York is now between 1 and 2 per cent, and McCrea estimates that upon that basis the government's proposed action will cost Ontario gold miners considerably more than the present 3 per cent provincial tax on profits, thus effectively staying the imminent gold boom of Ontario.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

NAKUSP HONORS THE MEMORY OF FALLEN

United Service Is Held in Monument Square; Addresses, Roll of Honor, Wreaths, Last Post

NAKUSP, B.C., Nov. 13.—Armistice day was observed in a most impressive manner in Nakusp, Sunday. Special services of the united churches were held at the Monument square, corner of Broadway and Slocan avenue at 10:45 a.m., which was attended by fully 400 people, standing in line and order around the memorial, on which was inscribed in golden letters the names of 24 local men who made the supreme sacrifice in the great war.

The local G.W.V.A., which is annually instrumental for the services, attended in a body, W. F. H. Waterfield acting as chairman of the occasion. Nakusp lodge, No. 42, Knights of Pythias, the Pythian Sisters, the C.G.I.T., and the members of St. Mark's Sunday school also marched to the square in a body.

Rev. F. Ramsey of of the Anglican church, and Charles Gregory of the Methodist body made the chief addresses, which were very earnest. The proceedings opened with the hymn, "Fight the Good Fight," after which prayers were offered by Mr. Ramsey.

Then at 11 o'clock there was a silent prayer of two minutes' duration.

Then Mr. Gregory addressed the citizens, referring to the men who had given up their lives, among whom was a son of his, and he wondered if such a sacrifice was worth while when wars were the offspring of selfishness among nations. He closed by saying that if all men carried out the Christian principle of "doing unto others as they would be done by" there would be no occasion for wars, and all nations would live in peace and happiness.

Inner Memorials

The hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" was then sung, followed by Rev. Mr. Ramsey's address. He declared that it was most fitting that such a beautiful monument should have been erected by the citizens of Nakusp, and that they were to be highly commended for what they had done. But, to do justice to those who had died that Canada might live, the erection of monuments only was not sufficient, but it was necessary that the conduct of citizens' own lives should also be a living monument of perfection, worthy of the great sacrifice made on their behalf.

The honor roll of the 24 names was then publicly announced to the gathering by H. W. Herridge, the names being Frank Benton, Marvin Bowes, Peter Bryant, William Clease, E. Mervyn Edwards, Charles T. Gregory, Ernest Hall, Walter Hoare, John Ion, Alec James, Charles Jeffries, Frank LeBarge, William Marsland, Alfred Moul, Eric Stokes, Fred Swires, Hugh Taylor, Horace Waterfield, Alfred I. Mosely, Samuel Reid, Robert E. Stobo, John Ward, Joseph Robinson and Chris Marsden.

Then followed the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," during which a large number of beautiful wreaths were deposited at the foot of the monument.

The Benediction followed, and the singing of the national anthem and the sounding of the "Last Post" by E. E. Lamberton.

The united church choirs led the singing with Mrs. L. Parkinson presiding at the organ.

The wreaths were from the G.W.V.A., the Presbyterian Ladies' aid, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory and family, the Knights of Pythias lodge No. 42, Jesse Ion and monther, Mrs. A. E. Powell, the Martha chapter, No. 24, Order of Eastern Star, Frank and Jackie Benton, the Methodist Ladies' aid, Myrtle lodge, No. 16, Pythian Sisters, the Star of the West, No. 51, A.F. & A.M., the W.C.T.U. and the C.G.I.T.

tive government will complete its organization probably with Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead and Sir Robert Horne taking the place of its free trade members like Lord Derby, the duke of Devonshire and Lord Robert Cecil.

Great crowds, sensing something of the crisis, gathered outside the parliament buildings this afternoon. There was even more animation in the house itself. The usually quiet assembly for prayers was punctuated by ironical cheers exchanged between the different parties.

Liberals Cheer Leaders

Neville Chamberlain, as the son of the great protectionist, Joseph Chamberlain, received hearty cheers from the government benches. When Asquith entered, the whole Liberal force rose and cheered, and even a more enthusiastic reception was accorded Lloyd George a little later.

The prime minister got an ovation from the Conservatives.

Members Desert Westminster

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Interest in the proceedings in the house of commons this evening evaporated after the statement of Premier Baldwin announcing the dissolution of parliament and his decision to go to the country on the protection issue.

The members quickly trooped into the lobbies, and discussed their prospects in the coming general election, and, as the divisions in the course of the evening showed later, large numbers had left parliament to look after itself.

The government majorities fell to small figures, but no one seemed to care. The majority of the ministerialists appeared reconciled to the situation and eager for the fight upon which their leaders had decided.

The Liberals were rejoicing in their new-found unity.

Labor Expects Understanding

The Labor members preferred to talk of the issue as being between protection and their own policy, but unofficial arrangements for avoiding a split in the votes between the Labor party and the Liberals is expected to be the next step.

Austen Chamberlain and his party have not yet formally joined the premier, and the position of Lord Birkenhead is still in doubt.

CRESTON OBSERVES JOINT THANKSGIVING

Three Churches United for Mass Service in Grand Theater; Collection for the Monument

CRESTON, B.C., Nov. 13.—The seating capacity of the Grand theater was taxed Sunday night for the memorial-thanksgiving service, which was held under the joint auspices of the Anglican, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, with the collection going to the soldiers' memorial committee to wipe off a small debt remaining on the granite pillar.

The service was featured by an abundance of congregational singing of familiar hymns, assisted by the massed choir of the three denominations, with Mrs. J. A. James presiding at the piano. A popular feature was the rendering of "O Canada" by the choir, with the people uniting in the chorus, whilst the offertory number, "Three Meetings With the Savious," was splendidly rendered by the choir. Eminently fitting, too, was Kipling's "Recessional," which was admirably by Mrs. James as the big throng made its exit.

Two Addresses

The gathering was in charge of Rev. J. A. James, with the prayers, scripture readings and addresses by Rev. G. Knox and Rev. H. Varley.

The former took as his text "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise, be thankful unto Him, and bless His name." The speaker's plea was for a very genuine thanksgiving, not the common sort that merely expresses thanks in the hope that such a show of gratefulness will evoke still further kindly consideration.

Rev. H. Varley based his 10-minute talk on the words "Wherefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us," urging that while the assembling together of the people to render thanks was very much in order, it was possibly the least important feature of acceptable thanksgiving. What really counted was the quality of gratefulness, which could best be exemplified in the righteous conduct of everyday life.

The collection taken amounted to almost $60.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

For the Cough That Sicks

Common Cough Syrups Won't Help—You've Got to Make Your Own

Cheap and Best

For any kind of a cough, but especially for the stubborn one that persists and keeps you awake nights this home made cough mixture will quickly loosen the phlegm, allay the inflammation and stop the cough.

You can make it yourself at home in two minutes by following these instructions:

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one of this mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hang-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

It's a mighty fine remedy for chest colds and acute nasal catarrh, and remember that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is found to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Parmint and get better.

FOREST FIRE APPEAL CASE IS TAKEN UP

Judge Forin Hears Evidence of Witnesses for Prosecution

DEFENCE WILL PRESENT CASE THIS MORNING

Verdict in Case Being Heard Likely to Settle Several Other Actions

The appeal of George Benwell Sr. against conviction and a fine of $25 in connection with a forest fire that burned down a Sheep Creek cabin and spread to a bridge on the road, partially destroying it, was opened yesterday before Judge J. A. Forin.

The whole afternoon was required to hear the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution, and the defence will open its case this morning.

The evidence heard yesterday was, in the main, the same as at the previous hearing.

The case is of a test nature and will determine the verdict in regard to the other defendants—George Benwell Jr., Herbert Pitts, A. Roubinheimer, W. Freno and Fred Payant.

Fire and Bottles

G. A. Pickford, who conducted the case for the forestry department, told of the fire and of the steps that had been taken to determine the responsibility. It had been found that the defendant and several others forming a hunting party had left the cabin on the morning of the day when it was destroyed. It had been found that the party had had two fires—one in the cabin and one outside.

Mr. Pickford described the location of the cabin and its surroundings and sustained a severe cross-examination by Eric P. Dawson of Brown & Dawson, who appeared for the defence. "Is it not a fact," asked Mr. Dawson, "that fires sometimes start from bottles—the sun shining on bottles?"

Mr. Pickford replied that he had had only one suggestion of fire from such a course.

Judge Forin—A firewater bottle, I suppose?

Mr. Pickford asserted that since the fire in question had occurred he had searched the ruins and had found the piece of tin that had figured prominently in the previous case as a matter of protection for the fire in the cabin. He produced a photo showing the tin in question, which he declared was merely the cover of a large biscuit can.

He admitted that an auto had been seen in that vicinity that day, but stated that the number had been secured and the forestry department had fully probed the movements of the car. It belonged to a Trail resident.

Harold Lakes, superintendent of the Mother Lode mine, told of having driven his car along the road on the day of the fire and of having found the cabin burned. The fire had then reached the bridge. He had tried to put it out. It had been about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. In answer to a question Mr. Lakes asserted that he had passed a car on the road that day.

Ground Was Cleared

Christian Hansen of Sheep Creek told of having seen the fire when he was passing along the road about noon. He had gone to Salmo to get help to fight it and had returned at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The fire, he stated, was then burning fiercely. The fireplace outside the camp was one which he, with Mr. Price, the forest ranger, had constructed when they had been fighting forest fires a few weeks before. The ground around the fireplace at that time had been thoroughly cleared away.

David Thomas Graney of Ymir told of having fought a fire in that vicinity on August 28 and of having stayed in the burned cabin. There had been indications then that someone had been occupying the cabin. The party at that time had not used the fireplace in the cabin, but had instead used it for the storing of food.

William Barker testified that he had built the cabin, and supplied technical evidence as to its size and location. He declared that some people had made a practice of dropping into the cabin to rest.

Sand and Water

Fred Payant of Salmo, one of the five defendants in the case, stated that with George Benwell Jr. he had stayed up practically all night to watch the fire in the cabin. This had been ringed around with stones. He swore that he had seen that sand and water had been placed on the fires that morning.

James O'Shea, who conducted the prosecution, made some reference to the witness as to a plan which, it was alleged, was used close to the outside fire, which led to the production of a snapshot taken by the hunting party just before they left the cabin that morning. Judge Forin after studying the photo questioned any particular significance to the plank. The fire, he stated, might have originated from a dozen other sources. The plank had evidently been used as a windbreak.

Suspected Trouble

Payant, in continuing his evidence, was positive that sand and water had been placed upon the fires.

Under questioning by Judge Forin he admitted that he had told Mr. Pickford that the party had been at Wilson's cabin because he had been afraid that there might be some trouble about the fire.

The case will be resumed at 10:30 this morning.

SERVICE COMES BEFORE SELF

Ideals of Rotary Set Forth in Interesting Address at Weekly Luncheon

Fellowship is one of the chief objects of Rotary, stated Denis StDenis in an address to the Nelson Rotary club yesterday.

Analyzing Rotary, Mr. StDenis pointed out that Webster defined the word "rotary" as meaning "turning like a wheel on its axis." When the Rotary club was formed by Paul Harris and his associates they used to meet in each other's offices, and probably the word "Rotary" was used to exemplify the manner of meeting.

"Now what is the meaning of the word to us Rotarians of today?" asked Mr. StDenis. Paul Harris and his associates, he continued, gave the first motto to the club, which was "Service Before Self." Arthur Sheldon in 1911 gave the new motto, "He Profits Most Who Serves Best." Members in Rotary were, therefore, likened by Mr. StDenis to a wheel revolving on the axis of service. But the word "service" could be abused. Rotary ethics No. 2 said that as Rotarians they desired to improve themselves, increase their efficiency, enlarge their service, and by so doing attest their faith in the fundamental principle of Rotary that he who served best profited most.

Depends Upon Members

Rotary, said Mr. StDenis, was not a religion, yet it had secured membership all over the globe to the number of about 100,000.

There was no obligation on members of Rotary, yet it sometimes seemed that members wished to impose obligations on the club. Yet the actions of the club must depend upon the actions of the members.

If Rotary were not a religion and if membership called for no obligations it would seem strange that such a large body of men all over the world was willing to assist in the work. Mr. StDenis said that his interpretation of the reason was that it was the fellowship created among the members of the club. He did not mean a fellowship created for a purpose; not a fellowship created, born and dead in a day, but a fellowship which was the same today and tomorrow and the day after, a fellowship that was lasting. That was the fellowship which counted. There were several interpretations of the word "service," but Mr. StDenis advised his hearers to read what Dr. Sheldon had to say on this question in his speech "The Philosophy of Rotary."

Means Sacrifice

C. F. McHardy said that Mr. StDenis' speech had the right ring in it and that if he, Mr. McHardy, put the matter in another way they both had the same purpose in view, the furthering of the activities of the club. The speaker said that he had an ideal of Rotary and if it were not right he was not in the right pew; if he were right then Rotary had not been accomplishing as much as it should have done.

"Service Before Self" meant that the members must sacrifice some time, some pleasures and some money in order to put over any Rotary work they might undertake. Mr. McHardy said that he was not advocating that the club should take up any very big work, because funds were not available, but there were lots of small but very important matters which the club could put across if the members would do so. Two afternoons with all the members on the job would make a beauty spot of the lot near the war memorial, yet it had not been done. "Are we lazy or are we selfish?" he asked. If everyone would work there was nothing a body such as the Rotary club could not put across.

Constructive Criticism

Dr. L. E. Borden, who had been asked to contribute to the discussion, which was destined to ascertain the views of the members upon the activities of the club and the lines which they should follow and at the same time secure an interpretation such as that given by Mr. StDenis of the functions of Rotary, but was able to speak for two or three minutes only on account of a professional call. The doctor spoke of the value of constructive criticism, which meant criticism which would suggest some means for betterment. He also explained that the reason the crippled boy Harold Hardie was being sent to Seattle for treatment was that the orthopedic hospital at that place offered the best facilities for treatment of this particular case.

Following the discussion Mr. StDenis moved a resolution, seconded by Thomas Wilkinson, which would give the president of the club power to instruct any member to carry out any club work, the idea being to get away from too much work falling on those members who volunteered. This resolution will be discussed at the next meeting.

We have a new line of Radio A and B Batteries at very attractive prices. Try an Exide Radio Battery on your radio set. You will be surprised at the difference it makes in the clearness of reception.

Every car owner now can afford one

Experienced drivers consider the Exide the economical battery because it lasts so long. Yet some men, while recognizing Exide as the standard, have held off from buying because of the higher first cost.

Now, every car owner can afford one. The experienced driver for the same money can get, in the XX type, an even better Exide, while the owner who is compelled to consider the first cost, can now secure the old standard XC type at a price within his reach.

Long service and short repair bills make the last cost of either type—XC or XX—so low that it will astonish you.

Any reliable Battery Dealer can now sell you an Exide. Insist on having one. If he has none in stock he can get one over night from a nearby distributor.

Will Baldwin Succeed Where Chamberlain Failed?

Not since 1906 has there been a general election in Great Britain of such direct interest upon economic conditions in the dominions overseas.

Premier Baldwin has decided to stake the fate of his government upon the policy of Imperial preference, which broke up the government of Arthur Balfour in the years from 1903 to 1905, causing the resignation of Joseph Chamberlain, and the establishment in office at the end of 1905 of Sir Henry Campbell - Bannerman. Balfour declared in favor of the principle of protection, but expressed the opinion that the time was not ripe. The burden of the fight when the Liberals went to the country in 1906 was therefore carried by Chamberlain. The country gave a decisive opinion in favor of the Liberal policy of continued free trade.

Conditions have changed in 15 years. There was, in fact, much less antagonism to protection after the election in 1906, which was fought largely on that issue, than there was during the election. Lloyd George himself, for example, introduced a few years afterward an act making invalid foreign patent rights unless the articles made under their authority were manufactured in Great Britain. After the war, the Lloyd George government brought into effect a tariff measure which in principle went farther in principle than any act on the statute books of Canada. This measure, designed to protect British industries against cheaply made foreign goods, was not carried far in practice, but the principle was there.

The Baldwin government will have another advantage. In 1906 the Conservative party was suffering from errors in the management of the South African war and from the reaction of a khaki election which, like Lloyd George in 1918, it held immediately after the conclusion of peace, while the nation was still flushed with victory. It also suffered from the issue of Chinese labor in the Rand, which influenced large numbers of votes. Mr. Baldwin has also avoided the pitfall of a duty on wheat, which in 1906 was translated into the "large free trade loaf and the small protection loaf" cry which aroused the fears of wage-earners in the industrial centers who might otherwise have favored a tariff policy which would tend to increase employment for them.

Mr. Baldwin will apparently be able to fight the battle as a straight issue, with little else to cause any diversions of opinion, and he will undoubtedly be favored in the policy of Imperial preference by the fact that the people of the motherland today are much more closely in touch with the overseas dominions than they were 15 years ago. To "think Imperially" comes more naturally since the war.

That Mr. Asquith and Lloyd George should have buried the hatchet, which until now had never lost its edge since it was sharpened by the memorable overthrow in 1917 of the Asquith government in favor of a more virile war administration under the little Welshman, is a good thing for the country.

A divided Liberal party has been a source of weakness in the British house of commons. Without two strong, cohesive and well-organized parties, divided along natural lines of opinion, the British system of government does not function at its best.

China Needs Stable Government

If Sun Yat Sen's victory over the armies of the northern Chinese is decisive enough to insure the establishment of a stable government in China, it will be a splendid thing for world trade.

China has for years been a market which has consumed large quantities of some classes of manufactured goods, particularly from Great Britain, though other countries have shared in the trade. That was the reason for the unanimity among the nations on the maintenance of an open door into China.

Since revolution brought anarchy in its train, the Chinese market has been virtually closed, not so much through inability to ship goods into China as because of the fact that Chinese credit has been practically valueless. No merchant can afford to sell goods unless he has reasonable assurance that they will be paid for.

China, therefore, has been in much the same category as Germany and Russia in recent years. If Sun Yat Sen can restore order it will reopen China as a market and relieve pressure of goods upon other markets.

ON "MAKE-UP"

It seems that
The less some girls
Put on their BACKS
The MORE they PUT ON Their CHEEKS
And a man's
Coat SLEEVE.
And it seems
That many women
Who put powder
On their OWN nose
To make it WHITER,
Are quick to CRITICIZE
Girls who put PINK
On their CHEEKS
To make them PINKER.
Some girls who use
Make-up are ARTFUL,
And many are
Quite ART-LESS.
A few are artistic;
But MOST of them lack
Artifice and are merely ARTIFICIAL.

A little girl has written to ask me how to make pop corn balls, so I am publising this recipe with two others.

Pop Corn Balls—Put one tablespoon of pop corn into your popper, fasten down the wire lid, and hold the popper over intense heat till popped. Then put another tablespoon of the corn in the popper and repeat the process. When you have popped four quarts of the flaky white kernels put them in a large bowl and proceed to make the following:

Syrup to Mix With the Pop Corn—Put into a saucepan one cup of molasses, one cup of granulated sugar and one teaspoon of vinegar; mix well, then place the saucepan on the range. In five minutes this mixture should begin to boil. Let it continue to boil from 10 to 18 minutes, until a little of it becomes brittle when dropped into a cup of cold water. Then remove the pan from the fire, add one teaspoon of baking soda and one teaspoon of vanilla, stir well, and pour this over the popped corn in the bowl. Mix together with a spoon till all the white kernels are a light brown color, then butter your hands and begin making the balls. This recipe makes 17 pop corn balls the size of a baseball. Lay them on a buttered plate to dry before eating.

Pulled Taffy—Use a graniteware kettle. Put into it three tablespoons of butter and, when melted, add two cups of Porto Rico molasses and three-fourths of a cup of granulated sugar; stir till the sugar is dissolved, then boil till brittle when a little is tested in a cup of cold water. Now remove pot from fire, add one tablespoon of vinegar, and turn the candy into a well-buttered pan to cool for a few minutes. When not too hot to handle take it out of the pan and begin pulling it till it is porous and light colored. Cut it into small pieces with a sharp knife or a pair of large shears, and lay these on a buttered plate to cool.

Molasses Candy—To make this simply follow the recipe given above entitled "Syrup for Pop Corn Balls." Only, instead of mixing the syrup with the popped corn, pour it into a buttered pan and let cool; when almost hard, mark it into squares with a buttered knife. Or, if you wish to make peanut brittle of it, cover the bottom of the buttered pan with broken shelled peanuts before pouring in the syrup. Coconut molasses candy can be made by covering the pan bottom with shredded coconut before pouring in the hot syrup.

The Lighter Side

Civilization is just a slow process of getting rid of our prejudices.

It's not sweating but cooling off that hurts.

Modesty at times is just a conceited man's subtle way of calling attention to how good he is.

A well-raised child is one that is too polite to tell its parents what it really thinks of them.

The man who knows it all doesn't know one thing. He doesn't know how he tends to encourage homicide.

The old-fashioned buggy was slow, but you could hug the driver without flirting with the undertaker.

A banana peel is not without virtue.

We saw a pompous citizen slip on one and make a poor tired delivery man laugh.

The difference between character and reputation is that one depends on the heart and the other on tongues.

Inhaling deeply in the early morning is practiced by the modern girl, also, but she does it through a cigaret.

No doubt the Filipino wonders dismally at times if independence consists in belonging to an independent country.

High blood pressure is a sign that you must never try to help little Willie with his lessons.

There are lots of us who don't like mayonnaise dressing, but we haven't yet organized to persecute the mayonnaise eaters.

Still, the old-fashioned preacher who talked theology was just as nearly inspired as the new one who talks geology.

Styles

BY LENORE

If this little puppet came to life you would see a delightful frock of apple green moire, another one of those designs which show that front drapery is still prevalent and popular. For the bow which had its place in the back of a frock and helped to create the effect of a bustle has departed. In its stead we have this oriental effect, the bow in front, which sometimes is of wide ribbon, with full length ends, and supporting a cascading drape; or there may be merely two loops of the material and a pulled up effect to the skirt, as in this youthful frock.

It is also important to remember that the great outstanding feature of the season's fashions is a clinging silhouette, and this is as true of draped dresses as it is of the sheath models.

This frock may be copied also in one of the shades of pink—there's a whole wide range of pink, you know, and it is the smart color for youthful evening dresses.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Using Up Your Emergency Ration

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

I sometimes think that the gland in the front part of the neck, the thyroid, which is so interesting to everybody these days, is much like the large tank of water that you see on the roof of may maufacturing plants.

The tank is for fire protection, and often is the source of supply for the "sprinkler" system.

If there were continuous little fires, leaks in the sprinkler, which constantly used up the water, it would be a serious matter should a real fire occur.

Now, Your thyroid gland regulates many of the actions and secretions of the body. Should it be called on for "extra" work every day, you can readily see that it will not be "at full efficiency for emergencies."

Now, what are the extra things, the extra work that it has to look after?

Well, all the little indiscretions on your part, such as overeating, undereating, overworking, underworking. Perhaps a tooth that is decayed, a tonsil that is not healthy.

But the most frequent cause of "leaks" in the system, that give the thyroid more trouble than anything else, is the poisoning of the system by the accumulation of waste matter in the intestine.

This poison actually keeps the secretion of the thyroid so busy trying to take care of it, to prevent it injuring the system, that the thyroid has no power left to look after the "leaks" that occur elsewhere.

And, so, physicians who have much to do with these cases do everything to free the system of poisons.

Accordingly, they search for bad teeth, for infected tonsils, for a stagnant condition of the circulation in the gall bladder, a chronic appendix, poisons from the nose or back of the throat and from the caverns adjoining the nose in the cheek and the forehead.

By going after it thoroughly they are usually able to locate it, and after the cause is removed there is a great improvement in the general condition of the patient.

The improvement in the nervous condition is very marked. The heart slows down, there is less "jumpiness," and a good sound sleep comes to the aid of the sufferer.

Now, while a general all around search of the body for infections is a wise proceeding, the first sign of improvement is usually noticed just as soon as the intestine is made to work daily and freely.

In fact, physicians will tell you that the intestine is the cause of the trouble in more cases than all the other parts of the body combined.

WILLOW POINT WILL HAVE TONSIL CLINIC

Miss Corbett Addresses Women's Institute on Duties of Public Health Nurse; Japanese Relief

WILLOW POINT, B.C., Nov. 13. — The Willow Point Women's institute held its monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at Crystal hall, Mrs. E. H. Applewhaite being in the chair, Miss R. A. Corbett, district health nurse, making a special trip from Procter to address the meeting.

Miss Corbett gave a very interesting lecture on "Duties of the Public Health Nurse."

Miss Corbett and Mrs. Ian Campbell are arranging for a tonsil clinic to be held this week.

A letter from the Canadian Red Cross was read, asking for funds to assist the Japanese relief, and ways and means of raising funds were discussed. The offer of Mrs. Ian Campbell's house for an afternoon tea and sale of small gifts was accepted.

Mrs. Applewhaite, as the delegate from this institute, will attend the coming conference to be held in Nelson.

During the afternoon Mrs. T. A. Airey and Mrs. E. Applewhaite served tea.

SOUTH SLOCAN SEES THE BASKET PEOPLE

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., Nov. 13. — The Junior Red Cross gave a very amusing and enjoyable entertainment in the public hall, Wednesday evening, before a large audience. The arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. S. J. Dedrick.

The program opened with a comic sketch, "Famous People," in which Marjorie Russel took the part of "Mother Hubbard;" Edith Erwards, "Wee Woman;" Edna Edwards, "The Old Dame;" Emil Meineruck, "Monkey Boy;" Eliza Edwards, "Indian;" and Tom Anderson, "Jack Who Built the House."

A very pleasing trio was Edna Watts, Millie Potosky and Winnie Russel as "The Three Mothers," whose impersonations were cleverly carried out.

The next number, "The Last Day of School," by Marjorie Russel, Jack Edwards, Arthur Dedrick and Fred Edwards, was very well rendered.

One of the most colorful numbers was "The French Minuet," danced by Evelyn Dedrick and Esther Oliver, which was repeated to a very hearty encore. A dialogue by Dixie Edwards and Bain Oliver was very amusing, followed by another in which Esther Anderson and Evelyn Dedrick were very effectively gowned as "grown-ups."

A very humorous sketch, "A Second Topsy," by Marjorie and Winnie Russel, caused roars of laughter.

The crowning piece of the evening was "The Magic Basket," a Red Cross play, in which the dramatis personae were "Ococo the Genl," Bain Oliver; "Christopher, the Despondent Boy," Henry Wheildon, the boy to be a healthy citizen; the Basket People—"Milk," Esther Anderson; "Carrot," Esther Oliver; "Beet," Dixie Edwards; "Tomato," Eliza Edwards; "Tooth Brush," Marjorie Russel; "Soap," Jack Edwards; "Egg," Edith Edwards. The Droils — "Candy," Arthur Dedrick; "Coffee," Marwood Yeatman; "Chewing Gum," Emil Meineruck; "Banana," Tom Anderson; "Cucumber," Fred Edwards; "Pickles," Julian Yeatman.

After the entertainment, refreshments were served under the charge of Mrs. E. Anderson, assisted by Mrs. M. Downie. The children enjoyed some romping games before dispersing.

Mrs. G. K. Ashby gave her services as pianist for the entertainment, and Miss M. Binnie and Miss J. Potosky assisted in the stage management.

W. Bradbury has moved into C. M. Edwards' house.

Miss Marguerite Griffith entertained a Halloween party on November 1. The evening was spent in playing bridge and dancing. The guests, beside the family, were Dr. and Mrs. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Beard, the Misses Rachel Madden, Evelyn Lea and Evelyn Bean of Fernie, and D. S. Mowat, W. Dunning, R. Boyington, Hedley Resor and Claire Morrow.

INVERMERE, B.C., Nov. 13.—The following motion was passed at a meeting of the council of the Windermere district board of trade, Wednesday:

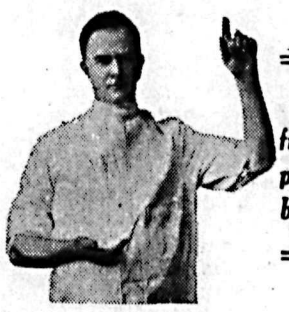
It Pays to Kick



Quality comes first, but a wise person refuses to be overcharged.

When it comes to dentistry you demand proper attention, quality materials and unexcelled workmanship. The individual dentist must add to these costs, rent, heat, light, salary of office girl, outside laboratory profits, lost accounts and his own excessive profits.

Dr. Wilson reduces these costs by group dentistry and businesslike methods. Your money goes for efficient dentistry, that is absolutely guaranteed. You receive the benefit.

Dr. Wilson's practice is continually growing because folks are kicking about the excessive prices elsewhere.

Examinations Are Free

When you realize the quality, you'll appreciate the price.

Markets and Finance

SLUMP IN STOCKS STILL CONTINUES

Speculators Bid Up Railroad Issues, but Cannot Completely Check Liquidation of Industrials

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. — Speculators for the advance succeeded in bidding up the railroad issues in today's stock market, but were unable to completely check the liquidation of industrials, which continued to yield on profit-taking and a renewal of bear selling in some speculative favorites. Recessions in such pivotal shares as United States Steel, Baldwin, Studebaker and American Can were held to a ½ point each, but they ran as high as 3 points in some of the automotive and chemical shares.

New Haven was selected as the leader of the railroad group today, occupying the position held by the Erie issues yesterday and Southern Railway on Saturday. Increasing optimism of railroad executives in the immediate future of business as reflected in the recent decision to again spend huge sums on equipment next year, also has been a factor in the steady accumulation of the issues.

Further downward readjustments of crude oil prices and rumors of additional gasoline price cuts had a somewhat unsettling effect on the oil shares, Tidewater Oil breaking nearly 5 points and losses of a point or more being recorded by Pan American A and B, and Marland.

Copper shares showed a tendency to strengthen on reports of a rising trend in the price of the red metal.

Total shares amounted to 987,000 shares.

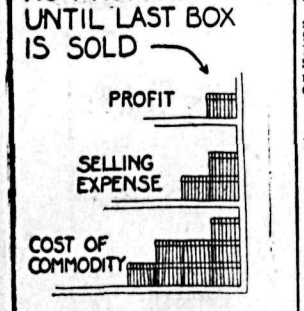
AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments



The last box of goods is the merchant's profit. Speed of turnover is therefore very important.

Consider the problem of the dealer in hosiery. Assume that he buys a dozen boxes of hosiery at $10 a box, to sell at $15, with a selling expense of $45 for the lot.

As is shown in the illustration he will have to sell eight boxes to get his original $120 which he paid for the hosiery. He has to sell three more to make his expenses of $45. The last box will give him a profit of $15 on the deal. However, he has to sell this last box before he makes anything.

Consequently he is interested in moving the goods quickly; in other words, he wants a quick turnover. If it takes a long time to sell that last box perhaps it would be more profitable to sell the whole bunch at $15 a box, and they only make a profit of $3.

It would certainly be more profitable to make six $3 profits in the same time that it would take to make one $15 profit. This means the merchant must take the speed with which a product will sell into consideration when making prices.

Police Magistrate Says It Is Wonderful

The Tanlac records show upwards of seventy-five thousand (75,000) published testimonials, hundreds of them the people of Canada, as proof of the wonderful merits of Tanlac.

Business men, professional men, ministers of the gospel, judges, lawyers, doctors, trained nurses, in fact, people from all walks of life, have publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Tanlac treatment for the benefits they have derived from its use.

Another endorsement, that will add both force and dignity to this long list of testimonials, was given recently by Thomas H. Stedman, Police Magistrate at MacLeod, Alberta. Mr. Steadman said:

"I have used Tanlac and it is a wonderful medicine, and accomplishes all that is claimed for it."

The safest and surest protection against influenza and other contagious and dangerous diseases is a strong constitution and well-regulated system. Tanlac has a reputation for producing and maintaining this most desirable condition.

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

WALLACH'S MEN ARE VICTORS

Defeat Team From Fairview End of City Raised by Jake Rothery

A. Wallach accepted the challenge broadcast by J. Rothery of the end footballers, and Monday afternoon his huskies made good the acceptance by running away with the game by a 3-to-0 score.

Considering the time which the players have been off the field the game yesterday was pretty fair, and only the good work of McVicar in the winners' goal saved the situation. He saved two penalty shots, one from Dawson and one from Bradley, and seemed to be in the road of every shot taken at his goal.

A good crowd of spectators and fans turned out to watch the game, which was refereed by W. Rogers.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE DEPOSES ITS PRESIDENT

William McCarthy Announces He Still Considers Himself President and Will Fight to a Finish

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Yesterday's coast league baseball battle was only a skirmish in a fight that will be carried to a finish, according to a statement made today by William H. McCarthy, deposed president of the league.

He advised that he still considered himself league president, and would act as such.

Harry Williams, Los Angeles, elected by the "big five" to succeed McCarthy, has announced his intention to open offices here immediately.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—John McGraw, veteran manager of the New York Giants, departed on the George Washington today for a trip to Europe.

TONGUE COATED BAD TASTE IN MOUTH EYES TINGED WITH YELLOW

Liver Trouble the Cause

Mrs. A. C. Brown, Oromocto, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with my liver for a few years back, and was so bad I did not feel able to do my work.

"I had severe pains in my stomach, so bad I could hardly stand them at times; coated tongue; bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning; whites of eyes tinged with yellow, and had a muddy and sallow complexion.

"I had read a great deal about Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and decided I would try a vial, and after taking two or three I found I was greatly improved, and can truthfully say that I felt more like living and can now do my own work without any trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SASKATOON, Nov. 13.—Newsy Lalonde, playing manager of the Saskatoon Crescents, will lead his hockey talent over the Rocky mountains to Vancouver, where they will train for the opening game of the season, which will be with the Maroons on November 26. The party, which leaves here tomorrow, consists of 12 players.

ARGENTINE IDOL ANGERS BOLIVIA

Firpo Won't Raise Hat to Crowds, Absents Himself From Game and Demonstrations in His Honor

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from La Paz, Bolivia, says that Luis Angel Firpo incurred the displeasure of the residents of that city by his indifferent attitude toward the enthusiastic reception they accorded him.

Firpo, the dispatch says, was in a sulky mood when he arrived in the La Paz railway station. He was met by cheering crowds, who were displeased when their idol hastily fled in an automobile from their presence, and they raised hostile cries when he refused to raise his hat in acknowledgment of their greetings.

The boxer added to the irritation of the Bolivians when he refused to attend a football game held in his honor and when he failed to appear for other demonstrations prepared for him.

BRITISH RIFLE RULERS REJECT CANADIAN IDEA

Mother Country's Team for Kolapore Cup Will Continue to be Selected on the Latest Form

LONDON, Nov. 13. — After considering the question raised during the last Bisley meeting by General Swift, commandant of the Canadian team competing in the National Rifle association's annual shoot, with regard to the selection of the team to represent the mother country in the competition for the Rajah of Kolapore's challenge cup, the council of the association has decided that it is inadvisable to make any change.

General Swift suggested that the mother country's marksmen in team matches should be selected on the basis of form shown at the previous Bisley meeting, instead of subsequently. Canada's team virtually is selected a year ahead of the Bisley meeting, as General Swift pointed out, and if the suggested change were made, it would place both countries on terms of more equality.

However, as stated, the council of the National Rifle association decided against this.

McTIGUE IS ORDERED TO KEEP CONTRACT

Must Keep Jacobs as Manager or Else Get Release by Due Process of Law

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Mike McTigue, world's light-heavyweight boxing champion, was ordered today by the New York boxing commission to live up to his three-year contract under the management of Joe Jacobs, with whom he quarrelled after his recent bout in Georgia with Young Stribling.

McTigue sought to evade what the commission ruled was a legitimate contract, charging his manager had not paid him in full for the Stribling bout, to which Jacobs answered with an accounting.

If McTigue does not care to continue under Jacobs' management, he was advised by the commission to go to court.

LABOR WILL MOVE CENSURE BALDWIN

MacDonald Motion Declares Tariffs and Preferences Conceived by Capitalists in Own Interests

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Labor motion of censure, which J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition, announced today he would move against the government in the commons on Thursday, declares:

"This house censures the neglect of the government to deal with the pressing needs of the unemployment question, regrets its failure to devise and pursue a national policy calculated to restore the interests of the country abroad and reestablish international peace and trade, and condemns the decision of the government to leave millions of British people in want in order to fight an election on an undisclosed scheme of tariffs and preferences, conceived by sections of capitalists in their own interests, the effect of which must be to increase the cost of living and encourage the formation of anti-social trusts and combines."

The motion is interesting as indicating the line Labor will pursue in the coming elections.

STANDARD BANK PAYS FIRST HOME ADVANCE

Depositors Besiege London Institution to Get Money, Following Published Announcement

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 13.—The Standard bank, which on Saturday made public its decision to pay Home bank depositors their first 25 per cent dividend, was literally besieged with Home bank depositors today. Crowds of men and women jammed the corridors, and the teller was engaged all day paying out the first money many of them had seen in months.

Other local financial institutions got in touch with Joseph Dambra, president of the Home Bank Depositors' association, and volunteered to do anything in their power to facilitate the payment of a 25 per cent dividend.

Of 59 separate Home Bank Depositors' associations, the local organization is the only one that has been successful in persuading a bank to make a 25 per cent advance on savings accounts.

COAST TRADES COUNCIL LEVIES FOR STRIKERS

Asks Organized Labor Men to Give Half a Day's Wages Weekly for Longshoremen

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13.—An effort will be made by the Vancouver trades and labor council to have organized labor in Vancouver give financial as well as moral support to striking members of the international longshoremen to the extent of contributing half a day's pay each week to a strike fund, it was decided at a special meeting of the council tonight.

A public meeting is planned for next Sunday, under the auspices of the council, when speakers will review the situation from the strikers' standpoint.

A delegation was appointed from the ranks of the council to interview the shipping federation of British Columbia, and go over the strike situation with officials of that organization. The same committee will get in touch with the minister of labor, interceding in behalf of the International Longshoremen's association.

Pulpwood Embargo Opposed by Timber Farmers of Ontario

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—The general opinion expressed by witnesses appearing before the federal royal comission on pulpwood here today was that if an embargo were placed upon pulpwood it would be detrimental to the timber farmers of Ontario.

One constructive was made that the embargo might be put on in a few years' time, thereby giving the United States buyers an opportunity to erect pulp mills in Canada. That it would practically kill the Ontario market if it was decided to impose the embargo in the near future was the emphatic statement of another witness. It was strongly contended that the United States market governed the pulpwood prices in Canada.

DISSOLUTION WILL DELAY PREFERENCE

No Legislation Will Be Introduced in Three Remaining Days of the Session

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable) — Dissolution of the British parliament will delay the coming into effect of the British government's offer of increased preference, which was made to the overseas dominions at the economic conference. The offer requires legislation to give it effect, and, with the dissolution of parliament next Friday, there is no likelihood of a bill being introduced into the house of commons this session.

If the Baldwin government is returned to power, however, there is no doubt the offer will form part of the wide protection scheme to be introduced in the next budget.

Fireman Killed and Four Injured When Train Rams Engine

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 13.—Fireman F. H. Preck of Ottawa was almost instantly killed tonight when a light freight engine, which he was firing, was rammed from behind by No. 59, the Peterboro evening train, on the Canadian National railway. Engineer George Haningan of Lindsay, his mate, was badly scalded. Thomas McCabe of York, engineer on No. 59, was hurt about the head and his fireman, J. L. Evelly, was scalded. Conductor Hoover of Lindsay, who was riding on the freight caboose, was thrown off and injured.

Pool Directors for Buying of Elevators

CALGARY, Nov. 13.—A resolution recommending that the Alberta wheat pool purchase or build its own elevators at the end of the crop season, if in the opinion of the trustees conditions are propitious, was unanimously passed at the first meeting here tonight of the elected delegates to the pool organization.

These meetings are open to anyone in the city who is interested, and not to members of the institutes alone. At this morning's session Mrs. W. Garland Foster will speak on "Food Values," while in the afternoon C. S. Squires of Robson will deliver an address on "The Agricultural Situation," his subject touching on fruit, vegetables and the egg markets.

In the evening an address of much interest and well worth hearing will be given by Mrs. W. C. Todd of Victoria, who will speak on the subject of "British Columbia Industries and the Buy in British Columbia Campaign."

HUMMING BIRD GROUP BONDED

Will Start Development Work as Soon as Snow Goes in Spring

The Humming Bird group of mineral claims, owned by Robert Qua and situated at the Head of Five Mile and Roaring creek, was last week taken under lease and bond by W. F. Van Vactor, for some time a resident of this city, who, after taking the claims under option made a trip across the international boundary line, where he made arrangements for capital. This property has a remarkable showing for the amount of development work that has been done, the resident engineer's report as given in the annual report of the minister of mines for 1921, gives the values as taken from an average sample from across the 10-foot vein as follows: Gold 6.26 ounces, silver 3.9 ounces, lead 5.5 per cent, zinc 1.9 per cent. Selected specimens of quartz and arsenopyrite from the same place gave gold 3.14 ounces, silver 2.3 ounces, lead 2.4 per cent and zinc 0.4 per cent.

At the present time the property is reached by trail from the Mountain station above the city, but a new trail of moderate grade and length of about five miles from Apex on the Great Northern has been surveyed and brushed to about one mile from the workings.

Start Work in Spring

Owing to the lateness of the season Mr. Van Vactor states that no work will be started until the spring, but that as soon as the snow conditions would permit, he expected to do considerable development work. A crosscut tunnel will be driven to cut both veins now opened up on the surface and should the values at this depth warrant it, a small mill will be installed after sufficient ore has been blocked out.

Mr. Van Vactor expects to leave for the United States shortly, where he will complete the organization of the company. He will return to Nelson to take active charge of operations. After being in and around the district for the past year, and after seeing many prospects and properties, Mr. Van Vactor is of the opinion that there is much in store for this district.

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM NOT AS IT SHOULD BE

Women's Institutes Will Study Question for Next Year

DELEGATES FROM DISTRICT POINTS

Nelson Resolution Asks for Exclusion of Ever-Increasing Orientals

Two important resolutions were adopted at the opening day's sessions of the Kootenay & Boundary Women's Institutes' district conference which is being held in the city this week. The first, submitted through an address by a member of the Harrop women's institute, dealt with the present educational system, which was declared as not as it should be. The second resolution was from the Nelson women's institute and dealt with the oriental question, asking for the exclusion of the orientals from the country.

Three sessions were held in the Memorial hall yesterday, the members who are in the city from all portions of the district turning out in large numbers to the sessions, which were presided over by Mrs. M. E. Lyne of Creston, who is chairman of the advisory board for British Columbia.

Asked for Cooperation

In opening the conference's meetings yesterday morning Mrs. Lyne asked for cooperation of all members, both in attendance at the meetings, and in the discussions. She hoped that the members would come in the proper spirit to do their part and, when in discussions, if their questions were voted for or against that they would loyally back the work and be equally ready to see new points. She hoped that with the appointment of the standing committees of the advisory board that they would be loyal to the members.

Mrs. R. W. Chalmers of Thrums responded to the address from the chair, and was of the same opinion as was Mrs. Mrs. Lyne in regard to the meetings. She hoped all discussions would be with an open mind.

"Education and Better Schools" was the subject of a report by Mrs. C. D. Ogilvie of Harrop, from which a resolution was drafted. Education of the child should continue in thrift and honesty, as Canada of the future needed great leaders who are at present pupils in Canadian schools. Moral rectitude was also needed.

Educational System Faulty

Discussion of Mrs. Ogilvie's address was lead by Mrs. O. Foxlee of Robson. The result of the discussion was an opinion that the present educational system was not as it should be, and a resolution was drafted whereby the members of the institutes were asked to bind themselves to study the educational system for one year and to present their findings at the annual convention next year. The mover and seconder of the resolution were Mrs. W. Garland Foster of Nelson and Mrs. E. H. Applewhaite of Willow Point.

Mrs. J. H. Porter of Burton gave a report on legislation, declaring that women should become more familiar with the laws, especially those relating to themselves. Discussion was lead by Mrs. Kennedy of Boswell.

Wish Orientals Barred

Mrs. M. E. Lyne, reporting on immigration, portrayed the need of right settleds in Canada as she declared these new settlers would in time mix with the Canadian children. She recommended careful scrutiny of immigrants. Mrs. R. B. Kirk lead in the discussion of the above paper, and after a lengthy discussion of the oriental condition the following resolution was moved by the Nelson institute, through Mrs. W. Garland Foster:

"Whereas, Orientals now maintain the balance of power in unskilled occupations in this province; and,

"Whereas, The Japanese birth rate in this province is three times as high as the British birth rate in the 1922 report for this province; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the members of the Nelson and district women's institute both individually and collectively use every effort for the exclusion of the orientals from this country; and, therefore be it further,

"Resolved, That in pursuance of this undertaking this institute both collectively and individually refrains from employing orientals wherever possible, be it for gardens, laundrymen or as cooks, or in whatever capacity they may occur."

A Canada-Wide System

Mrs. A. V. MacLachlan, provincial secretary of women's institutes, gave a lengthy report of the biennnial convention of federated women's institutes dealing with the work of the institutes in the various provinces across Canada, especially with the child welfare and public health nurse activities in the different provinces. She also dealt with the use of the foreign port of Portland, the chief point being to have cooperation in trade. She advocated the need of one system of health nursing throughout Canada, as, she stated, other provinces were now realizing the importance of child welfare work.

Mrs. William Rutherford of Nelson gave a report of the convention on public health nursing and child welfare. The speaker outlined these works, touching among other things on the clinic held by the Nelson institute in the Kootenay Lake General hospital. Mrs. Rutherford suggested that members of local institutes get in touch with her in regard to this work. Miss D. N. Corbett, R.N., of Procter, district public health nurse, spoke, telling of the work being done in the district.

At the evening session Mrs. W. G. Foster gave a report on home industries, Mrs. Foster was acting on behalf of Mrs. H. H. Pitts, president of the Nelson women's institute, who was unable to attend the meeting. The report told of the work being done by the various institutes in the district, such as handicrafts, making of rugs, cut lace work and rag rug work. The institute had reported the indorsation of the Made-in-British Columbia campaign.

Real Canadian Literature

Mrs. A. V. MacLachlan, secretary of the province's institutes, brought forth numerous subjects during the afternoon and evening sessions. Last night she urged the members to try to build up Canadian literature by the placing of books by Canadian authors in the libraries. She also urged the purchase of British Columbia goods when possible.

Suggests Industry

A new industry was suggested by Mrs. MacLachlan to those persons who raise sheep, the plan being the making of wool-filled comforters. Sheep raising, declared Mrs. Chalmers of Thrums, was one of the best industries and had been successfully practiced at Thrums, the great enemy of sheep being the coyotes. Mrs. W. Garland Foster stated that to make the industry safe and a paying proposition it was necessary, first, to find just what branch of sheep raising to enter or whether the sheep were to be raised for their wool or for killing for mutton.

Institutes Report

Reports of various institutes in the district were given last night. Institutes reporting and those making reports were: Bonnington, Mrs. C. B. Martin; Boswell, Mrs. Kennedy; Burton, Mrs. J. H. Porter; Cranbrook, Mrs. Baynes; Crawford Bay, Mrs. S. E. Kidman; Castlegar, Mrs. Walter Sahlstrom; Creston, Mrs. James Cherrington; Harrop, Mrs. R. McConnel; Fruitvale, Mrs. Hepburn; Kaslo, Mrs. Hewitt, Kootenay Valley, Mrs. R. W. Chalmers; Nelson, Mrs. Hector Mackenzie; Nakusp, Mrs. McLean; Rock Creek, Mrs. Clark; Slocan Valley, Mrs. B. A. Smith, Willow Point, Mrs. E. H. H. Applewhaite.

The sessions continue today.

DWELLING IS RAZED BY FIRE

Rosemont Residence Wiped Out in Mysterious Blaze; Chinese Owner

A log cabin owned by Eng Louise, a local Chinaman, who a few months ago was removed to New Westminster for treatment, burned down in Rosemont last night.

The origin of the blaze is a mystery in that the building had not been occupied for some time. It is suspected that boys may have been responsible for the fire.

A large crowd witnessed the blaze, which was spectacular, in that it being outside the city limits, the building burned down without any attempt to save it.

Dr. Underhill, Vancouver medical officer of health, says children are dying of infectious diseases who could be spared if there was proper accommodation.
