GUN MEN ROB ROYAL BANK IN NANAIMO

ROYALTY BILL IS APPROVED IN PRINCIPLE

Provincials Oppose With Two Labor Men, One Conservative

POOLEY SAYS IT'S ABOVE PARTY ISSUE

Has Amendment Helps Interior; Uphill Wants Mills Running

VICTORIA, Dec. 13.—With only six members against it, the timber royalty bill passed second reading in the legislature this afternoon, the division being called by two Labor members. T. H. Pooley, opposition leader, stated that he was going to support the bill, after very careful consideration although he realized he was missing a wonderful chance to upset the government, because he believed it was too important to be used for party advantage.

Premier Oliver expressed appreciation of the high tone in which the debate had been conducted.

Both he and Mr. Pooley quarrelled with arguments advanced in letters to the press by Gen. A. D. McRae. Joshua Hinchliffe broke from the conservative party on the issue, he with the three Provincials, and R. Neelands and Frank Browne of the Labor party, registering the six negative votes.

Listen Says Hard on Interior

Col. Fred Lister, member for Cranbrook, criticised the bills provision for the industry in the interior, saying that with the industry barely able to get along at present, and with higher operating costs than prevailed on the coast, the operations could not stand the increased rates provided in the bill.

Tom Uphill, Fernie, M. disagreed with two of his Labor colleagues, stated that the mills in his district were closed down, and while the industry had never been favorable to him or to the workers, he could not join those who opposed the bill because the rates were too low. He hoped that the bill would permit the mills to operate, so that work would be provided for the unemployed.

No Reason to Defer Says Uphill

The problem he said was to find a royalty that would be fair to the people, and keep the mills running. What would be the result, he asked, if by fixing too high a royalty, thousands of men were thrown out of employment in the mills, and British Columbia business conditions thrown into chaos. That had to be avoided, he said, and the error, if any, must be on the safe side.

He said, in reply to the suggestion that action be deferred a year for investigation, that a royal commission could not get more information in one year than the lands department had acquired in years of practical experience. The government had deputation after deputation on this issue, and had always thrown the door open to the press. In order that all sides might be heard, the government had advertised a public hearing and not one soul had shown up to criticise or oppose the views of which everybody had had ample notice.

Oliver Answers McRae

The premier set out to show a fallacy in General McRae's arguments, taking the cost of a typical operation, the general had put the interest, taxes, and rental on the operation's entire holding, up against each year's cut, said Premier Oliver, whereas he said, the carrying charges on the period contemplated was only a fraction of the amount named by the general. Instead of taking $7 per thousand out of the cost of the lumber manufactured in one year for carrying charges, the premier said only $1.28 should be taken out.

Mr. Pooley disputed General McRae's assertion that the bill was giving away $17,000,000 of the people's money. Forestry department figures showed that there were five billion feet of timber to be cut in the next 10 years if the same ratio of increase continued.

General McRae had advocated a $2 royalty. The difference between $1.35 and $2 for the whole 10 years' period would be only $3,000,000, he said, so that the general's figures were gross exaggerated. As a matter of fact, with the royalty jumping to $1.65 in the second period, the difference would be only $2,000,000.

"Suppose the worst happened, and we did lose this $2,000,000 in 10 years," suggested the opposition leader. "We can safely say that that change to stabilize the main industry we've got in this province."

Pooley's Suggestion

Mr. Pooley stated that in committee he would move to amend the royalty fixed for spruce in the northern district, which he said was too low, while in the interior he said, he would strive to have the royalty for the second five-year period reduced, the interior man was not on the same basis as the coast operator.

Mr. Pooley stated that no question had given him greater concern than this bill. The prime consideration was the welfare of the people. They were entitled to a fair revenue from their great natural assets, the timber. At the same time, if the royalties were too high, and the industry became stagnant, there would be no revenue.

Not "Rocking the Boat"

In announcing his determination not to oppose the measure, Mr. Pooley said:

"I know I am missing an excellent opportunity to rock the government's boat, and perhaps to send the skipper down to Davy Jones locker, but this is too important a matter to make a political issue out of. We are dealing with the people's property, and they want us to exercise proper business judgment. They want their assets protected, and the industry conserved under reasonably stable conditions, for the benefit of this and succeeding generations."

Mr. Pooley stated that fully 50 per cent of the people of British Columbia are interested in this bill in a direct business way, as the lumber industry is the barometer of business conditions in British Columbia.

Opponents Want Commission

The opposition viewpoint, as expressed by Messrs. Hinchliffe and Neelands, was that the 10-year period is too long for the royalties to be fixed in the perspective of the present year, admittedly one of the worst in the history of the industry. They advocated continuance of the present scale for another year and a royal commission to investigate the subject in the meantime.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.—The entire Canadian west is enjoying mild weather.

WIDOW IS HELD FOR HUSBAND'S MURDER

MR. AND MRS. JOE BAYTOIZIE

Mrs. Annie Baytoizie, widow of Joe Baytoizie, whose body was found on the mountainside at Hamilton recently, was under arrest in Hamilton on a charge of vagrancy, and a Russian, Yakum Seba, was also being held on a similar charge, until the inquest this week, at which the kiddies described how in the afternoon the mother stunned the father with a poker, the next morning in the cellar a man plunged a knife into his body, other men helping load the body into a truck. All five are now charged with murder.

'WILFORD, TAKE TOMATO SOUP'

These Words Alleged to Have Accompanied a Poison Dose

MOUNT VERNON, Ills., Dec. 12.—The prosecution in the trial of Lawrence M. Hight, deposed clergyman, and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, who are charged with the murder by poisoning of Mrs. Ann Hight and Wilford Sweetin, centered its efforts upon Mrs. Sweetin late today, its case against Hight being very complete.

W. S. Morland of Ina, Ills., testified that he was at the Sweetin home the day before Sweetin died, and that Mrs. Sweetin came to the bedside with a bowl of tomato soup.

R. F. Taylor, also of Ina, corroborated this statement.

"She said, 'Wilford, take some of this tomato soup.'" Taylor testified.

"'It will settle your stomach.'"

It is the contention of the state that the fatal dose of poison was administered in the tomato soup.

SENATE REPORTS SMUGGLING PACT

Liquor and Narcotic Information to Be Exchanged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—A favorable report was ordered by the senate foreign relations committee yesterda on the liquor treaty with Canada, signed June 6 last.

Treaties with France, Panama and the Netherlands, similar to the recent treaty with Great Britain were also reported favorably.

The treaty with Canada is designed to aid in suppressing smuggling operations along the border, and it is the hope of prohibition inforcement officials that it will aid them in preventing rum running from the Dominion. It also provides an arrangement which will facilitate the arrest and prosecution of persons violating the narcotic laws of either country.

Agreement is reached as to exchange of information concerning names of violators of the narcotic laws of either country, and as to the exchange of the evidence in the trial of civil and criminal cases.

The treaty permits the transit of liquor by the Canadian authorities through the territorial waters of the United States to Skagway, and thence to Canadian territory.

Husband Thinks Himself Savior; She Asks Divorce

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12.—Claiming that her husband would not allow her to sing hymns, and that he declared he himself was the saviour, Mrs. John Smith Bain has launched a suit for divorce.

Heard Shouts From Tunnel; Missing Youth?

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12.—That he had heard shouts from the mountains in the vicinity of the Canadian Pacific railway tunnel Saturday night, when Everett McDonald, aged 16, of Agassiz, B.C., became missing, is the statement of W. Kennedy, section man.

He responded but got no reply.

The boy has been missing since Saturday morning, and is believed to have become lost, and to have perished. Weather had help up the search, but it may be resumed tomorrow.

Eighth of Billion Voted by House for States Agriculture

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The agricultural appropriation bill, providing for expenditures of $124,000,000 has been passed by the house of representatives. It was sent to the senate today. The amount is $59,000,000 greater than last year's appropriations.

FLOODS ABATE ON THE FRASER; WASHOUTS OVER

Canadian National Trains Still Detour by Rival Line

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12. — Flood conditions in the Fraser valley and lower mainland showed considerable improvement tonight, with prospects for normal resumption of traffic on all lines some time tomorrow.

The waters showed signs of receding at several points, and no further washouts are anticipated by railway officials. Large gangs of men have been working night and day to repair the damage caused by the heavy rains of the past three days.

J. R. Cameron, assistant general passenger manager, Canadian National railways, stated gangs of men were working from both ends of the line to effect the necessary repairs.

It was still raining heavily tonight between Hope and Rosedale, but the flood waters showed signs of receding at several points.

In the meantime all Canadian National trains have been detoured over Canadian Pacific railway lines between New Westminster and Basque.

A BEER MANDATE WAS PRONOUNCED

Davie Declares Local Option Was Integral Part of Plebiscite Act

VICTORIA, Dec. 12. — "Whether the principle of local option is good or bad, the legislature adopted that principle in dealing with beer by glass," declared C. F. Davie, Conservative member for Cowichan-Newcastle, in continuing the debate on the Liquor act amendments in the house today.

He denied that the result of the plebiscite had been inconclusive when 23 constituencies voted for beer, and all but two of them by overwhelming majorities.

"For the government to shirk its clear responsibility under the mandate given in the June vote, would be trifling with the will of the people," he urged.

Asylum Patients Take Up Puzzles; Are Not Affected

WARREN, Pa., Dec. 12. — The cross-word puzzle has been adopted by patients at the state hospital for the insane at North Warren.

The new form of diversion has little effect upon the mental welfare of the patients, officials of the institution reported today.

Has Stolen Furs in His Possession

SASKATOON, Dec. 12.—Following robbery of $200, worth of furs from a Saskatoon wholesale fur house yesterday morning, Steve Bachnuik has been arrested by city police, and was today remanded for a week on a charge of having stolen goods in his possession.

Police asked the remand in order to investigate Bachnuik's recent activities. About a week ago a North Battleford store was robbed of $800, and another robbery in the district has also been reported.

Girls Seek Health Near Hudson's Bay

THE PAS, Man., Dec. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The bracing air of northern Manitoba will be tried out as a health restorer by a party of young women from Auburn, N.Y., who will arrive here on December 30 to make a dog team tour of the northern wilds along the shores of the Hudson Bay.

In search of health and physical development, Miss Florence McIntosh and two girl friends have arranged for three picked dog teams together with competent guides to take them on the lengthy tour.

Car Injures Woman; Must Pay Husband in Addition to Wife

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12.—Because his car struck and seriously injured Mrs. A. C. Ecken, J. Pearson must pay her husband $1000. Damages to be awarded to the woman are to be set later.

JUDGE SCATHING IN REMARKS ON BOYCE, ARNOLD

Against Public Policy to Uphold Such Promise of Marriage

PARTIES LIVED ADULTEROUSLY

She Should Not Have Won Divorce; Arnold Has New Flame

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12. — Scathingly arraigning Mrs. E. C. Boyce and the relations between her and C. S. Arnold, locay lawyer, Mr. Justice Morrison today dismissed the breach of promise case brought by the woman.

There was, says the judgment, a promise of marriage, but it was made while Mrs. Boyce was a married woman, and before she secured her subsequent divorce from Boyce. To allow the claim under such cincumstances would be against public policy. But, owing to the fact that the parties lived together in an immoral relation for some time, costs are not allowed either party.

Mr. Justice Morrison was anything but complimentary to the parties concerned.

Woman's Hands Not Clean

The history of the woman, he said, if brought out in a divorce suit, would disentitle her to a decree. Parties seeking the aid of the courts in matters of equity should enter the courts with clean hands. The plaintiff and defendant had lived in adultery part of 1923, and early in 1924.

"The plaintiff alleges she was so under the irresistible blandishments of the defendant that 'she succumbed,' said his lordship.

"If the bond were pure love, as counsel submitted, then if by consulting dictionaries for a definition of that term, one finds the directory legend 'see lunacy,' the terms would appear to be synonymous, or at least interchangeable.

Bird of Paradise Fell for Snake

"Having seen the parties, I would hesitate to conclude that the defendant exerted such powerful influence over the plaintiff that she fell into his net, unless it be explained on the theory advanced by naturalists, who observe the fascination which the garter snake has for the bird of paradise. The plaintiff seems to have swept the gamut of the courts."

The judgment continues that Mrs. Boyce then lived with R. W. Wood, mining millionaire of Fernie.

Then, referring to the relations between Arnold and Mrs. Boyce, the judgment says:

"Letters read at the trial, written by defendant to plaintiff at that time would, I make little doubt, be of service if the question of lunacy were really an issue."

Her Divorce Founded on Deceit

The court concludes that the courts of this province and of England would not have granted a divorce to a petitioner such as the plaintiff if aware of all the facts.

"If not made aware of such facts, then the divorce she obtains is founded on deceit and immorality, and it would be against public policy to allow an action to be maintained in which such divorce was an essential element."

Sued for Unstated Damages

Mrs. Boyce's action to recover $15,000 paid to Arnold for services in securing $100,000 damages from R. W. Wood for the loss of an eye was also dismissed by Mr. Justice Morrison earlier.

Arnold Takes Out Licence

C. S. Arnold, it is learned, yesterday took out a licence to marry Mrs. Florence Fleming, divorcee of Vancouver.

At his office it was stated he had left for a tour of the east.

Mrs. Fleming was formerly a stenographer in Chilliwack, and secured a divorce last March.

OLIVER ACCEPTS HINCHLIFFE IDEA

But Introduces Bill of His Own for Compulsory Byelections

VICTORIA, Dec. 12. — The government has accepted the compulsory byelection proposal advocated by Joshua Hinchliffe, Conservative, for the past three or four sessions.

At the opening of the house today, Premier Oliver introduced a bill amending the Constitution act, which required the deputy provincial secretary to issue an election writ within six months of receiving a warrant from Mr. Speaker, or two members of the house, notifying him that a seat has become vacant.

This makes two bills for practically the same purpose now on the order paper, Mr. Hinchliffe's proposed amendment, and the premier's amendment to the Constitution act.

The premier stated that the Constitution act was the proper place to deal with the subject.

Alleged Bankrupt Waives Extradition

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—Edward Ray Stevens, wanted at Asquith, Sask., for violation of the Bankruptcy laws, was surrendered by the British consul to a United States commissioner today and waived extradition.

DOUKHOBORS FIX ELECTION DATE COMING TUESDAY

Hear Open Air Exposition of Community Affairs by Cazakoff

NO WORD YET OF YOUNGER VERIGIN

From Kootnikoff Letter He Must Have Left Russia

In continuance of the business sessions which started Thursday at Brilliant, the Doukhobors yesterday heard an exposition of the affairs of the Christian Community of Christian Brotherhood, limited, by M. W. Cazakoff, vice-president, and decided that the "business meeting" at which the succession to the leadership would be decided should be held the coming Tuesday, instead of Monday. The reason for this was that the society's solicitor, J. A. Patrick of Yorkton, Sask., who is president of the Saskatchewan Bar society, will then be present. Mr. Patrick was due to leave Yorkton last night for Nelson.

Official Statement

An official statement on the day's proceedings was furnished over long distance telephone to The Daily News on behalf of the management, by Edward Graaf, of Eugene, Ore., last night. Mr. Graaf's statement was as follows:

"A mass meeting was held at Brilliant by the members of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood in my presence today, at which M. W. Cazakoff, vice-president and general manager of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, addressed a meeting and gave a full statement in connection with community affairs.

"The members were all well satisfied with the report.

"It was decided then that on Tuesday, December 16, a general meeting of directors and delegates will be held for the election of the president.

"(Signed) EDWARD GRAAF,
"Eugene, Ore."

The meeting was in the open air, from 3 to 4:30 o'clock, and 6,000 Doukhobors were stated to be in the assembly, asking questions on the business discussed, and receiving full replies.

Where Is Young Peter?

Has a six-foot four-and-a-half-inch Russian of huge shoulder breadth and a booming voice, probably clean-shaven, arrived lately at any of Canada's Atlantic ports?

This fits the description of Peter Verigin Jr., whom the majority of the Doukhobors believe they have by symbol declared will be their king, and whose name will be presented to the business session for actual election.

A minority, who might be described as intellectuals, insist that the young administrator has not left Russia, and that he will not do so, not having replied to the cable informing him of his father's death.

The Kootnikoff Letter

On the other hand it is contended that J. Kootnikoff wrote the young Russian at Peter's direction, not long before the Farron disaster, inviting him to come once more to Canada. The belief that the young leader is in Canada is based on the alleged answer to Kootnikoff's letter, which is said to have instructed Kootnikoff to address him no longer in Russia, as he would be following the letter.

Young Peter left Canada at outs with the then administration of the community, including his father, and was said to have asserted that he would come back only if it was the general wish. This would explain his not announcing himself as he might wish to satisfy himself of the genuineness of the desire for him.

Strong With Independents

When in Canada he associated with the Independents more than with the community, and disagreed with the policy of non-education. The Independents are strongly for him, and should he take the leadership it is possible he might bring their strength to the community.

Another 'Bump' at Springhill Kills Man; Injures More

SPRINGHILL, N.S., Dec. 12. — Another "bump" occurred this evening at No. 2 colliery here, causing the death of James Kever, aged 30. Several others were injured, and five were entombed for an hour

The bump occurred in the level below that in which several similar cave-ins occurred with fatal results a week ago.

Flocks of Gulls Head Down Lakes With Grain Ships

PORT ARTHUR, Dec 12. — The down-bound fleet of steamers from the head of the lakes will be accompanied by hundreds of sea gulls which have been hovering around the shores of the bay since the coming of snow and ice. This afternoon a large flock rose in the air and headed for the open, where ships are moving eastward.

CHICAGO JURY FINDS TORONTO MAN MURDERER

Fixes Punishment at Death on Gallows; Two Ballots

FORMER PROMOTOR NEAR A COLLAPSE

Scott Said to Have Confessed to Thirty-four Robberies

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. — A jury, after 45 minutes' deliberation, tonight found Russell Scott, former Canadian financial wizard, guilty of the murder of Joseph Maurer, 19-year-old cigar clerk, during a holdup last April, and fixed his punishment at death on the gallows. The jury took two ballots.

Scott, who had been near collapse during the day as he heard attorneys for the state ask the jury to hang him, accepted the verdict calmly. He turned pale as the word "guilty" was pronounced, and was rushed back to the county jail before being given an opportunity to make a statement.

Once Wealthy Young Engineer

Young Scott, at one time a wealthy Canadian construction engineer, was indicted with his brother, Robert, for the slaying of young Maurer, clerk in a town-town drug store, who was shot to death when two bandits tried to held up the drug store.

Robert Scott was never apprehended, and during the trial the defence attempted to prove that Robert, and not Russell, fired the fatal shot.

At one time Russell Scott, on advice of his attorney, pleaded guilty. The judge before whom the plea was entered immediately indicated that Scott would be sentenced to hang, and both Scott and his lawyer burst into tears and made a frantic appeal to withdraw the guilty plea, which they were allowed to do when an error was found.

During the trial which ended tonight, Scott had been identified as the slayer by two customers who were in the drug store at the time of the shooting.

Say Druggist Kept Liquor

He had maintained on the witness stand that his brother shot Maurer, and his attorneys, in their closing statement to the jury, charged that the drug store proprietor had testified against Scott in order to "save his own hide," it being charged by the defence that Scott and his brother had going to the drug store to buy liquor.

It was one of the quickest hanging verdicts ever reached. Burt Cronson, assistant state's attorney, said. Scott, he said, had confessed to committing 34 robberies.

Counsel for Scott made a motion for a new trial, which was set by Judge Lynch for hearing on January 3.

OTTAWA Dec. 12—Amongst the new companies incorporated in this week's Canadian Gazette is one which is empowered to take over and carry on as a going concern the Montreal Gazette newspaper. No change is made in the name of the company, the Gazette Printing company. The capital stock is placed at $3,000,000.

Other new companies incorporated include the S. R. Gust Stores, limited, Medicine Hat, $50,000.

Waterside Strike Parley Is Called

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 12—(Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters.)—Prospects of the settlement of the waterside strikes at all the Australian ports appear to be brighter at present, according to Premier Bruce, than at any time since the trouble began.

The premier has called a conference of ship owners and representatives of the Waterside Workers' federation, and has expressed a hope that the conference will be held at the earliest possible opportunity.

SOME GUARD AS OTHERS HOLD UP STAFF, PATRONS

Escape by Motor to Boat Harbor Where Speed Boat Waits

TOTAL HAUL IS FORTY THOUSAND

Patrician and Many Fast Craft Comb Gulf of Georgia

NANAIMO, B.C., Dec. 12.—The Royal bank, Commercial and Bastion streets, this city, was held up just about closing time, 3 p. m., today by, it is said between six and eight men.

Two men watched the doors, leaving two cars with engines running at the curb.

Another of the gang, with two guns, herded customers and employees to the back of the bank, compelling them to lie down on the floor.

Others of the gang rifled the safe and tills, and secured, it is alleged, a sack containing money for miners' pay tomorrow.

They then jumped into the waiting cars, and made off with a sum said to approximate $50,000.

Armed Posses Out

VICTORIA, Dec. 12.—Armed posses from Provincial police headquarters left here for up-island immediately on receipt of word of the Nanaimo bank robbery, and will patrol the country in an effort to shut off possible means of escape.

The bandits, it is thought, will have a speed boat lying in readiness somewhere, and police efforts are being directed to that end.

Some months ago the authorities had word that efforts would be made to hold up the payroll carriers of the mining interests in Nanaimo, but nothing came of it. The authorities were all prepared for the expected payroll robbery, but the bandits had word of their intentions and nothing occurred.

Try for American Waters

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12.—The bandits who late this afternoon held up the Nanaimo branch of the Royal bank of Canada, and escaped with $50,000 of the bank's funds, are endeavoring tonight to reach the American side of the international boundary in a speed boat, according to a long distance telephone message to the Canadian Press tonight from Nanaimo. The motor car in which the bandits made their escape has been found abandoned near Boat Harbor, six miles from Nanaimo, and two and a half miles off the highway. Contrary to first reports there was but one car outside the bank, into which the robbers jumped with their loot and escaped.

Boat Harbor is an abandoned landing stage now seldom frequented. The police theory is that the men in planning the robbery, selected Boat Harbor as a likely place to have a speed boat awaiting them in an attempt to get across the international line.

Tonight police boats are searching and combing the waters of the gulf, craft having been dispatched from Nanaimo, Vancouver, Victoria and other places.

American police have also been notified to be on the lookout for the bandits. The weather on the gulf is thick. The night is dark and misty with rain falling at intervals.

Payroll Not Secured

NANAIMO, B.C., Dec. 12. — It was learned tonight that the bandits who held up and robbed the Royal Bank here this afternoon secured about $40,000. The robbers did not get the miners' payroll, amounting to more than $100,000. This sum, contained in a sack, was in a section of the safe which could not be opened. It was the payroll that the bandits were after, officials believe.

Patrician Takes Up Chase

VICTORIA, Dec. 12.—H. M. C. S. Patrician has been dispatched from Esquimalt in an attempt to overtake the bandits which looted the Royal Bank at Nanaimo today, and who are reported to be speeding across the Gulf of Georgia for the American shore. The Patrician left about 9 p.m.

TWO YEARS FOR AN AUTO THEFT

SASKATOON, Dec. 12.—Following sentences totalling 14 months, imprisonment imposed on him for frauds, Eric T. Baker, 21, was today sentenced in city police court here to serve two years, less one day, in jail on conviction of theft of an automobile here last spring.

Baker was discharged from jail in Manitoba a few days ago, after serving six months' sentence imposed when he was captured with the stolen automobile in his possession, after a fraud at Brandon. The sentences are not concurrently.

Jury Frees Driver of Unlighted Truck on Killing Charge

WHITBY, Ont., Dec. 12. — A verdict of "not guilty" was returned tonight by the jury in the trial of Leonard McGlashen, charged with causing the death of Lieut. William Southam of Ottawa, by leaving a truck on the highway without a rear light, on the night of May 7.

The evidence was somewhat conflicting, and occupied the entire time of the court of general session for Ontario county today.

GOMPERS GAINS, AND THEN SLIPS

Great Labor Leader Now on American Soil; Subdued Welcome

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 12. — The following bulletin was issued at 9:35 o'clock tonight by attending physicians on the condition of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor:

"President Gompers' condition is practically unchanged. But the lower altitude may have a favorable influence, and it is hoped he will have a comfortable night. The condition is still grave."

This bulletin again dashed the hopes of friends of the aged leader, who was said to have been much improved earlier in the day.

It was said that Mr. Gompers would probably remain in San Antonio for a few days.

Crowd Bars Picture

The crowd was subdued, and prevented a motion picture cameraman from taking pictures of the removal of the veteran leader to his hotel.

IRISH TREATY IS 'DOMESTIC'

Britain. Says. Agreement With Empire Not Under League

GENEVA, Dec. 12. — The British government has notified the secretariat of the League of Nations with regard to the Irish Free State registering the Anglo-Irish treaty with the league, that it always has been Great Britain's view that no article of the league covenant or subsequent conclusions under league auspices, could apply to any part of the British Empire, which was one and indivisible as far as league business was concerned.

In other words, the notice says, any agreement between England and Ireland and England and Canada, or England and any of the other parts of the Empire, must be considered a domestic concern.

A dispatch from Geneva last July said international law experts of the League of Nations were greatly interested in Ireland's action in registering the Anglo-Irish treaty by which the Irish Free State came into existence. Official registration was considered as meaning that the Dublin government interpreted the treaty as an international instrument between two independent states.

MORTIMER SAYS GAVE WRONG TRIP

Admits He Described the Wrong Event Before Senate Forbes Probe

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. — Elias H. Mortimer's story of corruption and waste in the veterans' bureau during Charles R. Forbes' regime as director, was modified in an important detail today from the witness stand in the federal court.

Completing their five-day cross-examination of Mortimer in the trial of Forbes and J. W. Thompson, contractors, for conspiracy to defraud the government, defence counsel drew from the witness the admission that his entire testimony before the senate committee last year in relation to a trip with Forbes to Atlantic City, N.J., in March, 1922, was erroneous.

He made no such trip, he testified, but repeated testimony concerning a trip to the same city with Forbes in May and June of the same year.

AGREE UPON PLAN OF CHURCH UNION

Private Bills Committee Proposes Commission on Minorities

VICTORIA, Dec. 12. — Agreement on the church union question was reached by the private bills committee of the legislature today after weeks of debate and controversy between advocates and opponents of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational merger.

Under the plan agreed upon by the committee, a commission would be appointed to protect the property rights of minorities in the Presbyterian church opposed to the union.

This proposal will be recommended to the legislature immediately, but that it will have a stormy passage in the house seems certain.

ROME, Dec. 12.—Senator Fanous, of Egypt, who came to Rome in an attempt to obtain the intervention of the League of Nations council in the Anglo-Egyptian controversy announced this evening that he had been informed by the members of the council that they would be unable to take up the Egyptian problems under article 11., of the league covenant, because they had been assured by the British that no conflict exists between Great Britain and Egypt, that the Cairo government accepts all the British conditions, and that the situation in Egypt is now normal.

UNEMPLOYED 'TAKE' COUNCIL CHAMBER

Prairie Youths in Vancouver Storm City Hall; Demand Mayor

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12.—Unemployed, mostly youths who have "beat their way" from the prairies, adopted unusual tactics today when, after assembling in a side street, they treked into the city hall, took possession of the council chamber, and proceeded to hold a meeting.

The mob more than filled the chamber, and corridors and stairways were blocked until the police arrived.

J. R. Hawthorne, who has engineered similar demonstrations before, was the spokesman.

Upon demanding to see the mayor, they were informed that Mayor Owen was ready to meet a small delegation.

The outcome was that the mayor agreed to summon a meeting of the city council early to hear requests of the unemployed.

NORA LEE

Elenore Meherin's Greatest Story

Revealing the Heart and Soul of the 1924 Flapper

CHAPTER LXXII.

RICHARD OFFERS AN APARTMENT—AT NOMINAL RENT

Sally sat up in bed, her hands clasped about her knees. There were smudges of tears on her bright, clear skin. She stared moodily into Nora Lee's half open, drowsy eyes. "Lie there and take your ease, fool! We've still enough to eat. I smell the ham cooking. If Bill doesn't ruin it with tears!"

Sally fixed hostile eyes on the curtain flapping in the morning breeze. "I've got to quit college. How does that strike you? Connie's to get married: Minna'll proceed hell-bent. And you're homeless—"

Nora Lee laughed: "All at once and nothing first, like a bubble when it bursts."

Sally put her feet, with a disgusted shiver, on the floor. "The blow fell last night. Dad's bankrupt. This house is sold out right from under us. We're going to the place in Belvdere—" She stooped down till the red hair fell over her face. "Mackenzie Adams said I had a big future. I was just about sure to make Phi Beta Kappa. I call it pretty tough—"

Sally pressed her face against the blanket, roughly wiping the tears. She accepted Nora Lee's sympathy and questions with grudging thankfulness. "You've been through it—no good weeping, bum world that wastes a person of my caliber and gradually converting you into a sap."

Nora Lee blushed: "Am I a sap?" "Getting there. Not your fault. You're a victim of this worthless age. Shallowness is the fashion. Nothing to do with time but waste it. The day is coming when a girl of my quality won't have to compete with imbeciles.

"Men will get weary of this everlasting prettiness in girls. They're bored to death with it now. But they don't know what is sickening them. Red lips! Painted eyes. Curled hair! Everybody's got them. It's refreshing to see a clean, homely face. God, I wish I knew an Adonis who thought so!

"It's the devil and all to be a misfit!" Sally glanced across the dingy alley to a patch of brilliant blue sky. "I lay awake till nearly 1 waiting but as you're getting in deep with Max I suppose the night seemed young. I've got a plan. I hope you'll agree."

Nora Lee smiled. Her mind repeated: "A sap! Getting in deep with Max. Hop to it, ole dear!"

Sally's plan was brilliant—a life saver. They talked about it at the breakfast table, where they sat alone. Billie was moving disconsolately from room to room of the house that was no longer hers. Minna sat on the back porch sunning her hair and pouting in sulky disdain over her favorite magazine of jazzy stories. Connie—well, she should worry! So she was now dashing down the highway with Mickey Grant.

Sally, of course, would have to get a job. That much was settled. So she and Nora Lee would take an apartment. It would have to be cheap. Nora Lee hated cheap things, but when Sally got a job they could splurge. She would need but a month to spruce up on typing and shorthand. When both were earning they would, of course, live in becoming luxury.

They became hilarious filling in the details of this rather daring move. Their laughter echoed through the dismal silence of the halls. Billie, her hair brightly gilded against the white of her cheeks, listened in wonderment. The cool unconcern of her children bewildered her. They resented her weeping and were entirely callous about the loss of their home. It was but four wooden walls to them; it meant no more than a transient boarding house. She took up a small marble figure and dusted it carefully. Her hands trembled with a sudden realization of the impermanence of life. She had three children once—now she had three aliens. Not long ago three little girls—one in her arms and two at her skirts, rejoicing in her every word, her every look. Now they were three strangers, relieved almost glad—well, laughing at the thought of leaving—

Every afternoon at 4:30 the following week Nora Lee and Sallie hunted that elusive, sunny apartment with white cabinets in the kitchen, hot water, heat—nothing expensive, you know, but something cheery and clean and with an air about it. Furnished—yes—and for $50 a month.

They didn't find it. They became indignant, then grouchy, then abusive to each other.

And Nora Lee happened to mention their depressing disappointment to Richard. Richard solved the problem. Saturday afternoon he took the two of them to a big place on Taylor. They had avoided this district, agreeing that it was entirely beyond their means.

Now they stood in a beautiful living room with a sweep of bay and misty hills from its window and Sally laughed: "This is just what we want—it's about three times what we can pa" Our limit is $50."

That, Richard informed her, was the rent of this apartment. Finally he explained. Six months ago he had rented the apartment, intending to move to it from the hotel—as a matter of fact he owned the building and had kept this apartment vacant for himself. He intended, eventually—perhaps next year to occupy it.

In the meantime he was out the rent. Their fifty dollars would be velvet. If they wanted it they could have it.

They lay awake hours arguing about it. What did Richard care about money? Why shouldn't they take it? Lord! How could Richard Carlisle hurt them? That old stuff about men getting girls into compromising positions was ridiculous. He was affable as could be. Well, as for Sal, she'd grab the chance. Of course, she was safe. Richard wasn't showering her with lilies of the valley and all the latest books—

"But, then, we can move at a moment's notice, can't we? Besides, he says rents are coming down and he's not giving us much for nothing because we'll let him store some of his things there—oh, let's take it—"

Nora Lee clasper her arms under her head. Richard knew she was indifferent to him; there was nothing villainous or mean in his nature—why was one to suspect every man in the world of infamy?

Sunday afternoon they began to pack up their things. They went joshing about the room carrying books, roaring with laughter, nudging each other.

They took the apartment. Richard paid them a visit the evening they moved in. He carried them off to a little Greek restaurant for a ham and egg supper. He said he would send up a few pictures and other things he had in storage if they didn't mind. They could take care of them in return for the use.

Two weeks later Max stood in the living room. The sun played over the rich, living colors in the immense oriental rug; it caught a silver light from a mirror and threw it on the long black teakwood table so like its chaste carving that it might have been a match for Margaret's desk.

Max glanced at a picture, a small steel engraving of a man, a boat and a tossed sea! "This is a wonderful thing, you have here Nora Lee."

She nodded. An undefined alarm kept her chatting brightly. She wished Sally would hurry up and get in.

"Your mother had some very beautiful things, didn't she"

"Yes—this desk and those Chinese robes. I love the chest."

"This table is the best of them all "

"That's not ours. That belongs to Richard."

He wheeled about, an intense pallor enveloping his cheeks, spreading even to his lips: "Richard's!"

"Well, yes! And the rug is his and the pictures. We made the drapes. He's keeping these things here instead of in storage. It's extremely nice in here, isn't it?"

"Is that davenport his?"

"Yes—well what are you so incensed about?"

Max walked over to the davenport and pulled it roughly from the wall. He said quietly: "That's a brand new piece of furniture."

"It isn't. It came with the other things."

"Do you pay rent for this place, Nora Lee? Or is Richard nice enough to wave aside a trifling consideration like that?" She stared at him and for once her poise wavered. Her lips dropped.

"We pay rent, Max. You're both wrong and cruel. He did it for Sallie as much as for me. We thought a long time first—" She plunged recklessly into explanation.

She saw Max coming toward her, his eyes glowing; a pale anger on his lips. An arm swept about her—then Max had both hands gripped on her shoulders. "Are you telling me the truth, Nora Lee?"

She flung her head back in a threatening defiance.

But he stooped down to her, a blazing in his eyes: "That won't do you any good, Nora Lee. Fling your head back as far as you like. You'll answer!"

She gave a soft, daring laugh and was suddenly standing on her toes. "I'll tell you the truth, Max—the whole truth." She laughed more softly but holding him with her glance. "And you know it—don't you?"

He caught her in his arms and kissed her. She raised her face, still smiling: "Again, Max—again."

The outer door clicked. She moved swiftly to the window as Sallie entered the room. It was December. A light, powdery rain fell.

Max leaned over her shoulder: "Nora Lee, I'm going now. Tomorrow you must come out. I'll be here early—"

She felt inexpressibly sad. "Yes—I will."

When Max left Sally tossed the mail on the table. "A letter from Boston, faithful one!"

It was from Dane. Reading it, Nora Lee's eyes blinded—her thought stained with a burning sense of guilt. Suddenly it whispered with a numbing clutch of terror: "Well, you've ruined that!"

CARDIFF WANTS TO TRADE WITH THIS PROVINCE

Board of Trade Receives Communication; Oliver Writes of Roads

The development department of the municipality of Cardiff, Wales has been in correspondence with the Nelson board of trade in respect to the possibility of trade development between this district and Cardiff, according to letters read at last night's board meeting by the secretary, E. F. Gigot.

In its most recent letters the department spoke of the Canadian government merchant marine now operating a steamship service between Vancouver and Cardiff via the Panama canal, and asked for the names of any British Columbia firms which might wish to open up a new market in Cardiff.

That the Welsh city was receiving Canadian food products in increasing quantities from the eastern seaports of Canada was stated in this letter, and also that the Cardiff municipal authorities hoped to interest western exporters through Vancouver.

They stated that they had had a visit from the Canadian Trade commissioner, who was particularly interested in Cardiff as a port for Canadian lumber.

Reading of the letter was followed by discussion by the members of the board present, and it was decided to refer it to the industrial committee for action.

Premier on Road Question

The Hon. John Oliver, member for Nelson, will take up the matter of surfacing the Ymir road and the building of the new road between Kuskanook and Kootenay Bay as soon as possible. This he states in a letter sent in the summer to one from the board of trade, thanking him for work done in the district and asking him if anything could be done about these two roads.

Mr. Oliver also said he did not know just what the minister of public works had decided upon for the coming year.

After some discussion the question of supporting the publication 'Municipal Canada" was left in the hands of the publicity committee.

The secretary also read a letter from the Imperial Chamber of Commerce with reference to Judge J. A. Forin's appointment as Nelson's representative on its board.

Before the meeting closed, J. A. Irving, in the chair in the absence of J. R. Poole, president said he thought some arrangements for a banquet at the time of the annual meeting should be made.

Kootenay Shares in the Hot Wave; Snow Fades Away

With the continued light rainfall between 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon and yesterday at the same time, all the snow had disappeared from downtown sections by dawn yesterday, and very little remained up the hill.

J. S. Goulding local meteorologist, reported last night that in the aforesaid period .42 inch of rain had fallen. During the day the maximum temperature was 43 and the minimum 37, so that unusually mild weather for the time of year continues.

Queen Ena, of Spain, has among her prized collection a doll house given her by her grandmother the late Empress Eugenie, and the house, an exact model to scale of the Tuilleries, cost $7500.

FIRST RETURN RECEIVED FOR LUCKY JIM ORE

Carload Nets Company a Thousand Dollars; Two Cars Now Rolling

One thousand dollars was the net return from the first carload of ore shipped from the Lucky Jim mine, for which the manager, A. G. Larson, the well-known mining engineer, has just received returns from the Consolidated company at Trail.

This is the net amount, after deductions for freight and treatment. The car contained 50 tons.

Two more cars of similar ore are now rolling to the smelter. This ore is all being taken out without interferring with development, which Mr. Larson states is producing most satisfactory results.

A large amount of milling ore which runs 12 per cent in zinc and 10 ounces of silver to the ton is being piled up.

APPLICATIONS HEAR ROSSLAND COURT

Judge Forin Presides; Hours of Rain Stop Hockey Practise

ROSSLAND, B.C., Dec. 11.—Three applications were heard before Judge J. A. Forin in county court chambers this afternoon, and all were granted. The first was an application on behalf of the Workmen's Meat Market limited of Trail, to extend the time for filing returns of allotment of shares.

The other two applications were in actions Mitchell versus McConnell, and the Pierce Oil company, limited versus McConnell for payment out to the plaintiff of monies in court.

All three applications were made by Donald McDonald of Trail.

Rossland has had 24 hours solid rain, and the hockey team has had to stop practising.

FRED STARKEY IS HOME AGAIN

Mines Representative at Wembley Exhibition Returns to City

Fred A. Starkey, commissioner for the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia arrived in the city last night from Wembley, England. Mr. Starkey has been at the Wembley exhibition representing the British Columbia mines department at the exhibition there.

Mr. Starkey is in excellent health and stated last night that he had a wonderful trip. He was indeed glad to get home, but has nothing but praise for the way he was treated in London and at Wembley.

Mr. Starkey is a little lame in one leg and has a sore arm, the result of a fall in London when alighting from a bus. He has made excellent progress, however, and is in good shape once again.

He reports an excellent trip over the Atlantic, the steamer getting in on only the tail end of the storm which swept those waters last week.

"Wembley is wonderful and the Canadian building was a source of interest. Thousands of pamphlets were passed out to inquiring persons," stated Mr. Starkey. He is at the Hume hotel.

WANT NELSON FIRMS TO BUILD FLORIDA CITY

Board of Trade Secretary Advises Recourse to Asylum

The names of two reliable and capable firms in Nelson who would assist a British syndicate in building a city, erecting a moving picture studio and other centers in Florida are wanted by a New York man, according to a letter read by the secretary at last night's meeting of the board of trade.

The letter says:

"Will you kindly give me the names of the two best concerns in your city as to reliability and capability for handling the interests of a British syndicate putting on the most attractive development project ever attempted in Florida? We are to build a city, erect moving picture studios and art center, and a winter camp school, coupled with a large colonization project."

The secretary then read his answer to this letter, which was:

"The subject of your letter is not in our line, so advise that you try some asylum."

The Stormy Petrel

Cipriano Castro, who used to be the wild man of Venezuela, is dead n Porto Rico, where he dwelt as an exile. In his day he had mussed up South and Central America a lot.

He boosted himself from a presidency into a dictatorship and hung on until his country refused longer to take his dictation.

He had been in half a dozen revolutions and his idea of a good time was to take a ride on a merry-go-round.

He was better known as a disturber of Latin-American peace than as a patriotic statesman.

Sound Advice From Nancy Astor

Lady Astor, member of the British house of commons, told a group of English women recently something their Canadian sisters need to think about in their lamentations over the trend of the "younger generations."

"The only way we can affect youth," said Lady Astor, "is not in what we can do for them, but in what we are." In other words, if youth is slipping and needs to be reclaimed its recovery will not be in sermonizing, but by example of their elders.

This fact must be patent to most persons. A mother who chides her daughter for remaining out late to dances must herself get home early from such festivities.

A young girl who sees her mother rouge and powder in public just naturally does the same thing herself, and the lad who overhears his dad guffawng over an unsavory story merely apes his parent when he does the same thing.

So long as the examples are provided by the elders the youths can scarcely do anything else. All the heart-to-heart talks, all the tracts, all the disciplinary schools cannot neutralize, as Lady Astor says, "what we are."

There are many times that the housekeeper needs the knowledge of waterproofing. I believe that the following directions will be useful:

To Waterproof Woolens—Dissolve in three gallons of water, four ounces of powdered alum and four and one-half ounces of sugar of lead (a poison). Stir this mixture twice a day for two days, then pour off the clear liquid carefully and stir into this one-fourth ounce of isin-glass which has been dissolved in a little warm water. Steep the woolen material in this solution for six hours and let drip day. This completes the process.

To waterproof a Leaky Vase—Now and then the inside glaze of a pottery vase or flower bowl will be found imperfect so that when it is used a ring of moisture will be found on the table or surface upon which it stands. To remedy this nuisance warm the pottery with hot water and wipe. Then put into it a few spoonfuls of melted paraffin wax and turn the vase till its entire interior is coated before the wax hardens. It will then hold water perfectly.

To Waterproof Wallpaper—When ordinary wall paper is used on the walls of bathroom or kitchen, it can be made waterproof by a thin coat of spar varnish. After such treatment the wall may be kept clean and sanitary by being washed down from time to time.

To Waterproof Shoes—Mix together three parts of melted tallow and seven parts of neat's-foot oil and apply this to the seams of boots with a paint brush, and also to the soles and upper part of the boots with a cloth. Another way of waterproofing boots, is to stand them in a basin containing a little linseed oil till their soles are thoroughly saturated. (This oil should not be deep enough in the basin to rise above the soles). The upper parts, however, may be rubbed with castor oil with a woolen cloth, and the sams may be gone over with a small paint brush dipped in the best copal or spar varnish. Repeat the application of oil now and then, paying special attention to the junction of the soles and uppers. It is well, too, to give the edges and the bottom of the soles a coat of varnish every two or three months. Shoes thus theated will not only obviate the nuisance of wearing rubbers, but will also last longer than non-waterproofed boots. It is in just hese litle ways that money can be saved.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in charge of "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and province.

The habit of years is never forsaken without a struggle, and so some of the smartest dresses of the year are still built on uncompromisingly straight lines, despite the very real success with various innovations in the silhouette have met.

Pink satin crepe is used for the lovely evening frock illustrated above. The square scallops are a very new feature. Here they too, could be outlined with bands of crystal beading, like that which is used for the gracefuly looped band that hangs from the shoulders. The decolletage of the back is lower than in the front, also a new feature of the mode in evening dresses.

Stomach or Peptic Ulcer

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright act)

The number of people suffering from ulceration of the stomach, peptic ulcer as it is called, is undoubtedly a large one.

But the number of people who think they are suffering with this condition is many times as large.

Now the whole point of the matter is that an ulcer is an ulcer no matter whether it is found on the lining surface of the stomach, or elsewhere in the body.

Thus an ulcer of the stomach is a loss of substance, and a hole partly through the wall.

The causes of ulecrated stomach are still matters of debate, but all agree that something happens to the stomach wall that makes it lose its resitance toward the action of the gastric juice. The gastric juice itself simply digests a portion of the wall, because that particular portion can't defend itself.

Something gets in the blood nourishing that portion of the wall, the blood doesn't do its work properly and a little area seems to be walled off, and is attacked by the gastric juice.

Some people are able to trace their first stomach trouble, which afterward was diagnosed as an ulcer, to some trouble with their teeth, tonsils, or other infection.

That this is the cause the the majority of cases is not generall ad-admitted, however.

Now the symptoms are fairly definite once the ulcer really exists. An hour or two after a meal, and that means practically every meal, there will be a feeling of fullness, of pressure, or of actual pain. This is not caused by the food, whether that food is soft or rough, but is caused by the fact that digestion has got to such a point, that there is so much gastric juice that this very acid gastric juice gets into the ulcer, and causes the pain.

If all the food gets out of the stomach, then the pain goes away.

If, however, the stomach is very slow in emptying itself, then the pain may persist until some more food is taken. This stops the pain until digestion of the next lot of food gets fairly well advanced in the stomach.

The old-fashoned bakng soda, and calcined magnesia, a half teaspoonful of each will usually relieve the pain by acting upon the acid juice and neutralizing it.

So, if your pain comes regularly an hour or two after ever meal, you would be wise to see your family physician.

MENNONITES ARE COMING TO TAKE LAND

Three Thousand Expected From Russia; Farm Land Bought

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.—During the season of 1925, 3000 Mennonites are expected to come from Russia to take up land in Western Canada, and preparations for their arrival in this country are now underway. It was announced today that 10,000 acres of farm lands had been purchased for the Mennonite colonization board at a cost of $500,000. The deal includes the purchase of six farms between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie, on the Canadian National railways, which include some of the finest wheat growing land in the province.

Prominent immigration and colonization officials tonight denied reports that 1925 would see 80,000 Mennonites coming to the west. There are 30,000 Mennonites in Russia desirous of seeking homes in the Dominion, but it was pointed out that the Soviet government objects to their leaving the country, having imposed heavy passport charges and regulations, and Mennonites in general are not in a financial position to move.

SANDON CHILD IS INJURED IN SLED RUNAWAY

Dragged by Dog, Striking Head on Buildings; in Calgary Now

SANDON, Dec. 12. — Miss Lomatyke, accountant for J. M. Harris, while giving her little sister a ride on a sleigh with her dog attached, met with a very serious accident. The child's hand got caught in the sleigh and the dog ran, throwing her against the different buildings several times. The little girl was badly cut across the lower jaw and her teeth knocked out, and also the upper jaw fractured.

Brain fever set in, and Dr. W. E. Gomm was called from New Denver for consultation.

Miss Lomatyke left for Calgary with her to see Dr. Gunn, the specialist there, the Sandon nurse, Miss McLeod, accompanying her that far.

TRADE VOLUME IS VERY FAIR

Warm Weather Deterrent; Some Points Very Active Reports State

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12. — (Canadian Press)—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust association reads:

Halifax — Wholesale trade reported to be satisfactory and retailers report a decided improvement due to seasonable weather.

Montreal — Boots and shoes reported to be holding up fairly well. Hardware fair. Dry goods slow. Groceries continue fair. Collections fair.

Toronto — Wholesale trade reported to be fairly active. Retail trade shows no spectacular increases, but generally improving.

Winnipeg — Wholesale trade reported to be steady. Retailers benefiting by demand for Christmas goods. Collections fair to good.

Regina — Wholesale trade reported fair. Collections have fallen off considerably on old accounts.

Calgary—Business along retail lines is rather disappointing. The mild weather of late probably accounts for this to some extent. Collections fair to good.

CONSOLIDATED PAYS REGULAR DIVIDEND

TRAIL, Dec. 12. — At a meeting of the directors of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada at Montreal yesterday a dividend of 3 per cent for the six months ending December 31 was declared, payable on January 15 to shareholders of record on December 31. This dividend amounts to about $321,000.

After a suspension of dividend payment for several years, the Consolidated directors one year ago declared a dividend of 6 per cent for the year of 1923, following this up by a 3 per cent dividend for the first half of 1924, and now this 3 per cent for the second half.

In spite of moderating statements from time to time by the board, or on its behalf, speculators have plunged in the stock, on the basis of the return to normal earnings and of the big construction program under way, though warned that the policy of the board would likely be to build up a reserve rather than increase dividends.

At Stuttgart, the shock is estimated to have lasted 20 seconds.

ALBANIAN TRIBES IN INSURRECTION

BELGRADE, Dec. 12. — Newspaper dispatches from the frontier say the agitation in Albania is tending to increase. All the Llouma (Lyuma) region has arisen, it is believed, and fresh tribes have adhered to the movement.

The movement is attributed to politics, the leader of the insurrections being a former premier. Elections are being held on December 20.

WARNOCK PANS FEDERAL TESTS

Tuberculin Test Means Slaughtered Cattle, Safe or Not

CALGARY, Dec. 12.—Declaring that if the 120,000 dairy cows in British Columbia were subjected to the tuberculin test, as advocated by the federal department of agriculture, more than 5000 would have to be destroyed, and that a proportionate number would have to be destroyed every time a test was made, Dr. Warnock, deputy minister of agriculture in the British Columbia government, stated today that further research work should be carried on, and that every attempt should be made to eradicate the disease.

Dr. Warnock apparently was not in favor of slaughtering cattle every time a test was made and an animal found to be a reactor.

He said that in numerous cases animals which did not react to the test, but whose owners became suspicious that they were not healthy had been slaughtered, and it was found that the animals were in an advanced state of tuberculosis.

TRAIL PERMITS FOR BUILDING BREAK RECORDS

Hundred and Sixty Thousand Sets New High Mark for City

APARTMENT HOUSE TWELVE THOUSAND

Visitors Sleep in Corridors at Hotel and in Station House

TRAIL, Dec. 8.—Building permits issued by City Engineer L. S. McDermid during the year to date total $160,000, setting the high mark in the history of the city. This sum does not include East Trail or Tadanac, where in the former place a greater building boom has been evidenced during the summer.

A conservative estimate of the total amount for greater Trail would be $200,000.

Apartment House

During the month of November the largest single permit issued was to E. L. Grontage for $12,000, for an apartment house which, when completed, will alleviate the acute housing situation to a degree.

In spite of the fact that so much new building has been going on, the demand for living accommodation is greater than ever before, and the condition can only be described as acute with rents exceptionally high.

Every hotel and rooming house is crowded. The sample rooms and corridors are filled with cots and shakedowns; men are sleeping in the depot at nights as beds are not procurable.

Sleeps Over Bath Tub

One case is known where a bed was "fixed" on a bath tub in a prominent hotel last week.

Due to this shortage many families working in Trail are living in Rossland and in the words of a local real estate man, "approximately $10,000 monthly is lost to the Trail merchants on this account."

On houses nearing completion work is being continued seven days a week in order to finish before the frost and snow appear.

WORK UNRECORDED; CLAIMS ARE JUMPED

Thirty Thousand Spent; New Stakers Protect Investors

SASKATOON, Dec. 12.—Negotiations are in progress here to reach an adjustment between the Wekusko Mines limited, and May Brothers, both of this city, over a tangle in two gold claims at Herb lake, Man., formerly held by the former company.

According to the principles, this year the Wakusko firm failed to file affidavit that the work required by the mining regulations had been done, although about $30,000 had been spent on the two claims.

The claims were posted in the recorder's office at The Pas, and were relocated by the May brothers.

It was stated by the May Brothers that investors in the Wekusko Mines would be protected against actual loss.

Japanese Service Ship Sinks With Over Hundred Men

TOKIO, Dec. 12. — The special service ship Kwangto sank in a blizzard off Tsuruga, western Japan. It is feared that the loss of life is considerable as high seas are raging. The Kwangto carried a crew of 150 men.

Wouldn't You Like to Hear That Voice Again?

Perhaps at some distant point a friend or relative resides. Ordinarily you write letters to each other, and they are very welcome, yet at times they seem hardly sufficient. You long for something more personal, but a visit is out of the question. Then you remember the long-distance telephone, at your service. You place a call with courteous, capable "Long Distance," and soon—but what need for us to say more? Wouldn't you like to hear that voice again?

The New MAGNET
has a powerful attraction for housewives everywhere

Because it is beautifully finished in porcelain and enamel with polished top; because it occupies little space, yet has great capacity; because it is the culminating achievement of years of experience by the manufacturers of the famous Peninsular line of ranges, but most especially because of its unbeatable cooking qualities and surprisingly low cost—the New Magnet has taken hold of the hearts of all the women who have used this wonderful little coal or wood range.

It has insulated flue bottom and oven door—with thermometer, concealed smoke pipe, warming closet of twice the ordinary capacity, convenient flue clean-out under oven door, and many other features that contribute to easy operation and perfect cooking satisfaction—and is so strongly built that it will give a lifetime of service.

It takes quite a book to justly describe this up-to-the-minute cooker—and you'll find it very interesting reading, too. Send the coupon for full particulars. If you are interested in a coal or wood and gas range, write for information of our new combination range.

The names of the Rossland Intermediates have been misplaced and will be announced later.

Some of the names on the above teams were objected to at the executive meeting, and their chances of playing this winter rest with the decision of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey association.

It is the general opinion that Edward Murphy will be the official referee for all senior games this season.

Boxer Fights With Mind in a Blank; Barn With Matches

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12.—It was disclosed today that Joe Dundee, Baltimore lightweight, fought 11 rounds against Alex Hart of Philadelphia, here last Monday night, with his mind a blank.

His seconds held lighted matches against his back in an effort to awaken him from his ring somnambulism.

Dundee finished the fight through instinct, a great rally in the last round earning him a draw.

His manager says Dundee did not get right until they began dividing the gate receipts.

SEES BRITAIN EUCHER STATES

Ambassador Howard Jabs Senator Reed on Debt Question

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—An echo in less serious tone, of the remarks of Senator Reed of Missouri on the senate floor yesterday concerning discussion in the British parliament of the American-French debt conversion, provided sauceful entertainment for guests last night at the banquet of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, stating in his after-dinner remarks that he believed any differences between Britain and the United States could be settled around the table in amicable fashion, added smilingly, with a glance toward the Missouri senator,

"Even the question of debts can be thus settled."

The senator took up the challenge in good humor when his turn came.

"I know they can be settled around the table as you say, Mr. Ambassador," he said "but I want to be assured that you won't eucher us. I am not so confident of the ability of our diplomats when they go up against the experience and training that you British round-table talkers have."

JUDGE STOPS THE ALIMONY PAYMENT

When Wife Fails to Show Up in Court, He Penalizes Her

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—Declaring that he was inclined to look upon the sickness of Mrs. Hilda Betty Cooke, and her absence from court this morning in the case against her husband for alimony, as a ruse to delay the trial of the action, Mr. Justice Orde this afternoon ordered a postponement till January of further hearing in the case.

In the meantime, interim alimony, which the defendant, J. Henry Cooke, local lawyer, has been paying his wife, will be stopped.

STOCK MARKET BOUNDS UPWARD

Reversal in Sentiment Follows Favorable News Development

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — A sharp reversal in speculative sentiment took place in today's stock market, which shook off the reactionary tendency of the last few days and bounded upward in response to a series of favorable news developments. Extreme gains ran from 1 to 3 points, with 47 issues attaining new peak prices for the year.

Prices bounded upward from the start on the announcement that no change in the New York federal reserve re-discount rate was contemplated.

Nickle Plate common advanced nearly 7 points, to 125¼; Pere Marquette common moved up nearly 5 points, to 71; Chesapeake & Ohio advanced nearly 3½ points, to 98¼; and Erie first and second preferred, each sold 3½ points above yesterday's final quotations—all at new tops for the year.

Nash Motors jumped more than 7 points, to 192¼, while Maxwell Motors "A," White, Mack Trucks and Jordan all broke through their previous 1924 high levels.

United States Steel common closed 1⅛ higher, at 117½, after having touched 118. American Locomotive and American Car and Foundry mounted to new high ground.

Other outstanding strong spots included Lehigh Valley, Baltimore and Ohio, St. Paul preferred, Commercial Solvents "A," Postum Cereal, May Department Stores, Iron Products, United Drug, American Sugar Refining, Fisher Body, General Baking, Railway Steel Springs and Woolworth, the net gains running as high as 7 points.

Call money held steady at 3½. Time funds and commercial paper were unchanged.

Total sales—1,682,700 shares.

Money AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

What should be the three chief considerations in buying insurance?

In buying insurance the three greatest things to look after are quality, quantity and price. Their importance is designated in the order they are named. Unfortunately, many business men consider them in the inverse order of their importance basing insurance on price, quantity, quality.

Sound insurance is not, cannot be, and will not be sold down to a price. It must be sold up to a standard. Furthermore, sound insurance cannot be sold at "cost," because "at cost" insurance is without a background of capital, and without capital there can be no surety that the claims will be paid.

Standard stock companies in the fire and casualty fields, on the other hand, are sound business propositions which endeavor to earn a profit for capital, and they furnish real assurance that losses will be paid. Most of them today are old corporations and they will be "going concerns" when most of the "at cost" companies have become matters of history.

A Gift that Increases in Value

Presentation Covers are provided for Christmas Gift Books.

WHAT DID YOU GIVE LAST CHRISTMAS?

Toys for the kiddies—most of them broken by now. "Something useful" for the grown-ups—now worn out or forgotten. Cash to your employees—appreciated but soon spent. Other presents—hurriedly bought and perhaps ill-chosen. Are they remembered now?

Suppose this year you give them each a Bank Book containing an initial deposit, and urge them to add to it regularly. Could anything be more suitable?

Add "Royal Bank Pass Books" to your list of Christmas Gifts.

A well-known New York furrier foresees a grey fur vogue as a successor to the persistent browns.

HER NERVES SO BAD SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Mrs. Grace Kitchen, St. George, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe attack of pneumonia I was left in a weak and run-down condition. My nerves were so bad I could not sleep nights, and in the daytime I had terrible fainting spells, caused by my heart being weak. Finally I got so bad I had to take to my bed for weeks at a time, but one day I read about so decided to try them.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

"After taking one box I felt a slight improvement. I have now taken five boxes, and have gained 35 pounds in weight. I am now more than able to do all my own housework as well as considerable outside work. I cannot recommend Milburn's H. & N. Pills too highly for those suffering as I did."

NAKUSP CHURCH ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Glenbank Methodists Are Proud of Sixteen Year's Record of Work Done

NAKUSP, Dec. 11. — On Monday night one of the most enjoyable social gatherings in the history of church life in Nakusp was held in the Glenbank Methodist church when that congregation celebrated the sixteenth anniversary of their life as a church.

The entertainment took the form of a congregational supper to which all friends of any denomination were invited, and heartily welcomed.

Across the top of the church was stretched the pioneers' table, and here the pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. MaWhinney, was surrounded by those of the first members and active workers of the church as are now resident in Nakusp.

After all had done ample justice to the good things provided, a most enjoyable program was carried out, Mr. MaWhinney acting as chairman.

Stevenson Talks

The first speaker was a veteran of the Glenbank church and of Methodism, J. H. Stevenson. Mr. Stevenson outlined the history of the church and when he had finished all felt a tinge of envy for those men who had by their own efforts and with their own hands built the little loved log church where God has been worshipped by many faithful followers for 16 years. He paid a tribute to all who had individually given to the construction of the church, mentioning especially Mr. Abriel, who donated the land for the church; the Crowell family, who were most generous as to the furnishings; and Mr. and Mrs. Quance, who gave of all things most liberally; and others whose names time did not permit him to mention.

Charles Gregory, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke for that part of the church life. He told of the struggle the Sunday school had in the early days, and of the good work done by all the teachers and officers. He paid a most fitting tribute to Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, the pioneer teacher of the girls, and said truly that her memory and influence will go on down the years long after she has ceased her activities.

Keys Urges Union

George Keys struck a new and startling note in his address when he said that the time was ripe for a new church and that a union one, some place midway between the present Methodist and Presbyterian churches, and said the people would not be living up to the times and to their opportunities if they continued to overlook the need of a new building which would provide for the spiritual needs of the people, and make a meeting place to which the young people would be drawn and where they would combine their spiritual with their physical and social training.

Mr. Brown, one of the newer members of the church, was the next speaker, and he dwelt on the importance of surrounding the young with the influence of the church and getting them into the harness of the life as early as possible.

A letter of greeting from the Rev. Mr. Ramsay expressed the congratulations of the Anglican church, and E. W. Somers and H. L. Miller spoke for the Presbyterian church. The former spoke on church union and was a most earnest advocate in its favor, while Mr. Miller made an appeal for greater effort to foster the work of the Sunday school, outlining the importance of this training school for the church members of the future.

Young People's Work

The work among the young people was presented by Miss Annie Bowes and Miss Mary Kirk.

Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Bill and Mrs. George Keys, representing the ladies' aid and the women's missionary society, spoke briefly of the work done by these organizations.

Short addresses were also given by Mr. Bowes, E. Johnson and Ernest Bill.

Interspersed throughout the program were vocal solos by Mrs. G. Hunter Gardner, Mrs. Charles Harrison, George Davidson and G. Hunter Gardner. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are two of the members of the choir who sang on the opening day of service.

Before closing, Mr. MaWhinney paid a tribute to the memory of those members of the church who have passed over the bourne to the Land Beyond, mentioning Rev. J. S. Allen, who was a loved and faithful pastor of the church for some years, and who was consigned to his last resting-place on New Year's day last.

Choate; high priest, L. S. Marshall; recording and financial scribe, D. C. McMorris; treasurer, W. H. Watkins; junior warden, James Robertson.

Spring-Like Weather Swells Creeks; One in Fairview Runs

Nelson is at present in the throes of what might be called real spring weather. Last Wednesday the ground was covered with over eight inches of snow. A warm wind sprung up, and now there is not a sign of snow in the city.

Hills around the city which were snow covered for some weeks are now practically bare of snow. The warm weather has even swelled the creeks and in the instance of the Anderson creek in Fairview, it is again running strong.

CRANBROOK HAS LADIES' TEAMS

Bluebirds and Canucks Wish Competition With Outside Teams

CRANBROOK, Dec. 11.—The ladies in Cranbrook interested in hockey have formed a hockey league with two teams, one to be known as the Bluebirds and the other as The Canucks. The Bluebirds are composed mostly of high school girls. The Canucks are captained by Miss Della Greaves. The league is inviting outside teams in for games, and they expect to know definitely by December 17 what teams will be able to accept their invitation, and will then draw up a schedule.

Dances are being held to gather funds. The first one, under the auspices of the Bluebirds, is being planned for Friday night, and will be held in the Parish hall. Both teams are busy practicing, and it is expected that there will be some very exciting games.

Ladies' Progressive at Appledale Plans Masquerade Dance

APPLEDALE, Dec. 11.—There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Progressive association, held at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kopecki on Wednesday.

Arrangements for a masquerade dance to be given the end of the month were made.

It was decided to have a social hour after the business meetings during the winter. Mrs. J. Brooks and Mrs. W. T. Wynne are to be hostesses at the next meeting.

COUGAR FALLS TO HUNTSMAN

Two Shots by a Cascade Man Stretches Out Seven Footer

CASCADE, Dec. 11. — P. L. Clarkston shot a cougar seven feet in length today near the Christina lake road and about half a mile from here. Mr. Clarkston tracked the animal with a dog, and it went into a tree about 30 feet from him.

His first shot knocked it out of the tree, cutting the jugular vein. Believing it to be dead, he approached it, and it started to come towards him, when he fired a second shot, hitting it in the mouth at a range of about five feet.

Wife of Milk Truck Driver Wins Damages Totaling Ten Thousand

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 11.—Damage of $10,000 was awarded by a jury in circuit court yesterday to Mrs. Emma Tipton, wife of a milk truck driver, against Mrs. Bessie Worsham, wife of an automobile dealer for alienation of Tipton's affections.

Mrs. Tipton exhibited her four children as examples of the lack of the father's care.

WHARF REPAIRS BEING MADE AT BURTON

BURTON, Dec. 11. — Extensive repairs have been made to the Burton wharf in the way of redecking, etc. Piles have still to be driven to complete the work.

M. H. Chesbro is in the Burton district taking a census of fruit trees, etc. He expects to complete the district about the middle of the week.

The women's auxiliary of the Burton Anglican church held a very successful sale of work recently. A good supply of pretty and useful articles were offered to the customers. The tea tray that was raffled was won by Mrs. J. Watt.

QUARTER MILLION VISITS THE SHRINE

QUEBEC, Dec. 12.—Official figures given out today by the Quebec Power company show that 282,000 pilgrims from all parts of Canada and the United States visited the Ste. Anne de Beaupre shrine during the year.

DEPUTY MINISTER TAKES HIS OATH

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—W. Stuart Edwards, recently promoted to the post of deputy minister of justice, was sworn in today in his new position by E. J. Lemaire, clerk of the privy council.

QUEBEC, Dec. 12.—In the recent Temiscouata county federal election the majority of Jean Francois Poulliot, unofficial, Liberal, over Dr. L. E. A. Parrot, official liberal, was 3215.

Footwear

Give "Her" a Useful Present This Christmas

A pair of Oxfords or Strap Slippers would make not only a useful but an acceptable Gift to be long remembered. Here are a few favorites:

LADIES' TAN KID OXFORDS—Smart toe, military heel; a neat shoe that fits well. These are stocked in C, D and E widths. Pair $7.75

LADIES' BLACK KID OXFORDS—Same shape. Pair $7.75

LADIES' GREY BUCK BROGUE OXFORD—Flat heel; a very smart, natty shoe. Pair $7.50

LADIES' GUNMETAL OR TAN CALF BROGUE—Flat heel. Pair $6.50

LADIES' BLACK KID SLIPPER—Flexible soles, military heel; makes a nice dancing slipper. Pair $7.75

LADIES' PATENT AND BLACK KID SLIPPERS—One-strap, military heel, medium-weight sole. Pair $3.95

If you give her a pair and the size is not correct, why, we change them, of course.

SO MANY ARE GIVING PRACTICAL GIFTS THIS YEAR.

A Chance That Seldom Comes Our Way

TO OFFER SAMPLE COATS OF SUCH STERLING WORTH AT SUCH A LOW PRICE AS $10.00 EACH

A manufacturers' sample collection of Men's Waterproof Tweed Raincoats. Good coats that will withstand the wind and rain and can be worn as waterproofs or overcoats. They come in splendid sample colors, too, of fawn, grey, brown and black Tweed; Raglan shoulders, and belt with strong buckle. Only by a very fortunate chance were we able to pick up such a plum, and we pass the value on to you. Special Price, $10.00 each.

You will easily see their real value. Inspect them today.

Also a few Tan Leatherette Coats, absolutely waterproof; Raglan shoulders, strap cuffs, and belt with buckle. Special Price, $10.00 each.

These coats were made to sell at a very much higher figure, but are now marked at a price that brings them within reach of everyone's purse. It's just a Christmas Gift to you.

Fifth avenue notes that in coat styles, the border trimming of peltry prevails steadfastly and whether it is a narrow band of only two-inch width in a flat inconspicuous fur, or a foot wide in a pelt of coloring never before brought to fashion use, the hemline is always marked with a border.

News comes from Paris that a great many women are letting their hair grow, and in consequence are combing the hair straight back off the face, and off the ears as well, and it is then caught low at the nape of the neck with the growing ends finished in little curls that fit themselves into the back of the hat and sometimes almost act as the trimming of the hat.
