SOLD SHEPPARD TYPHOID GERMS TO ADMINISTER

FORGAVE WIFE DOZEN TIMES; LOVE BADE IT

Colonel Dennistoun in Dramatic Scene Explains Why He Stood It

DIDN'T CONNIVE AT COWANS' ACTS

He Was Utterly Unable to Control Morals of His Wife

LONDON, March 16.—"I forgave her once, twice, a dozen times, for I loved the woman, and would go on forgiving her, and I probably would forgive her now."

This was the dramatic outburst made by Lieutenant-Colonel Ian Onslow Dennistoun in court today when pressed by the judge and counsel to say why he had not taken stronger action against the escapades of his former wife, who is suing for money she alleges she loaned him prior to their divorce.

The former Dowager Countess Carnarvon, who is now the wife of Lieutenant-Colonel Dennistoun, was not present in court when her husband told his story of his life with Mrs. Dennistoun, including the alleged misconduct on her part in 1911 with an American, Oscar Senhouse, who was killed in the world war.

Asked by Mr. Birkett of counsel for the defence what attitude he took when misconduct afterward was disclosed, Colonel Dennistoun replied.

She Was Dominant

"There wasn't much of taking any attitude. She was a much more dominant figure than I was all the way through. There was nothing for me to say. She had made up her mind to go to another man to make love to."

Colonel Dennistoun further related how, through the late Sir J. Cowans, the war quartermaster-general of the British army, he obtained the post of aide to General Manning, governor of Jamaica. Afterward, said Dennistoun, his wife told him she had been motoring with Senhouse, and that she had great difficulty in making up her mind whether she would elope with him or not.

Finally, Colonel Dennistoun continued, she made up her mind to stick to him (Dennistoun).

To repeated questions by counsel as to what attitude he had taken, Colonel Dennistoun replied:

"I did not adopt any different attitude than yesterday. I did not intend to sue for divorce, but hoped some day everything would come all right. As far as her morals were concerned, I had no control over her at all."

The witness said the last time Mrs. Dennistoun had seen Senhouse was when she was staying with Lord and Lady Ross Lyon. Stenhouse had come from the Windsor barracks. They were together until 4:30 o'clock in the morning, when Senhouse left for the front. He was later killed.

Promotions Through Cowans

Colonel Dennistoun further detailed advancements he had received through the assistance of Sir John Cowans, but he emphatically denied knowledge of any arrangements between Sir John and his wife until he became a lieutenant-colonel. He also denied that he left his wife in Paris knowing that she was going to misconduct herself with Sir John.

Asked whether he ever had urged his wife to break off her relations with Sir John, Colonel Dennistoun replied:

"I never suggested it. There was no possibility of my being able to break them off. I might as well have talked to a brick wall."

Previously Hannah Parker, former maid of Mrs. Dennistoun, had continued her testimony regarding Mrs. Dennistoun's style of living, when she supposedly was in straightened financial circumstances.

"Mrs. Dennistoun always was able to get heaps of the best Paris dresses, and moreover she entertained a good deal," the maid declared. She added that she had no ill-feeling toward her former mistress, but said she left her service as soon as possible after she learned of the alleged misconduct of Mrs. Dennistoun.

Court Crowd Laughs

Laughter, which the presiding judge firmly rebuked, pervaded the court room when a letter from one of Miss Parker's subsequent employers, written to Mrs. Dennistoun, was read. The letter said the employer had found a French chauffeur in Miss Parker's room late at night.

Miss Parker explained to her that the chauffeur had come to her room to borrow a needle and thread with which to mend his clothes.

"I had to speak seriously to Parker," said the letter, "but I more or less accepted her explanation, and as we were abroad I overlooked it."

Eastern Potatoes Shipped by Canal Arrive as Pulp

VANCOUVER, March 16.—Shipments of potatoes from eastern Canada to British Columbia by way of the Panama canal has proved a failure, it is said. Recently a trial purchase of about four tons was brought in to Victoria from New Brunswick by boat. Examination on arrival revealed that they had all gone to pulp and were entirely useless, according to advices from the island city.

The assumption is that the tubers were touched with frost on the Atlantic side, either before or after shipment, and that going almost immediately into the heat of the tropics there was instant deterioration.

Drinnan Expects Senate to Pass New Pension Bills

OTTAWA, March 16.—Walter Drinnan, British Columbia secretary of the Great War Veterans' association, states he is confident the senate will pass the new pension legislation. It is expected the $300 annual bonus will be made permanent. Widows married after appearance of disability and a year before death of a veteran will receive the status of widows whose husbands fell in action.

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—Kid McCoy, former pugilist recently convicted of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Theresa Mors here last August, was convicted in superior court today on three counts of assault growing out of a shooting affray in Mrs. Mors' antique shop the morning after her death. He will be sentenced Friday.

ACQUITTED ON ROBBERY COUNTS

The ex-pugilist was acquitted on four counts of robbery based on the antique shop raid.

McCoy heard the verdict without emotion. His two sisters, however, who had been waiting in the court, embraced him and wept.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., March 16.—The police are now looking for two other men in connection with the murder of Canadian Pacific railway Brakeman J. H. Calkins at Walsh station a week ago. Kollesevich, the Russian under arrest, claims he was hunting with two companions, who made him shoot at Calkins.

MINES FILLING; MEN CONSENT TO RUN PUMPS

Mine Workers' Executive Sends Wire to the Premier

MUST NOT BE FOR COMPANY

Offer to Bridge Period Until Government Can Arrange

SYDNEY, N. S., March 16.—The United Mine Workers' executive have decided to advise the provincial government that they are prepared to maintain the mines under the direction of the government.

Maintenance Proposal

The following proposal with respect to the maintenance of the mines of the district threatened with destruction by the withdrawal of protective men was forwarded to Premier Armstrong by the executive of District 26, United Mine Workers of America, tonight:

"In view of the rapid flooding of some mines, which is being permitted by the British Empire Steel corporation, we beg to make the following proposal:

"We will consult promptly with the deputy minister of mines with a view to reaching an agreement as to the conditions and details controlling protective measures for the mines of Nova Scotia to be undertaken by members of our union on behalf of the government of Nova Scotia."

Ask Government Relief

Further, the proposal insists that the men will not undertake to work for the benefit of the corporation, which, it is maintained, locked out the men, including protective men; the measures proposed are temporary, to bridge the time till the government ensures the operation of the mines under more competent administration.

Adequate relief by the government is urged for the distress which is attributed to unemployment and partial employment.

The decision of the executive to supply maintenance men on behalf of the government removes, it is confidently predicted, the possibility of any untoward happening in the coal fields.

Amherst Sends Potatoes

AMHERST, N.S., March 16.—A car is being loaded with potatoes at Maccan, and will go forward to relief headquarters in Glace Bay the latter part of this week as Amherst's donation to the relief fund for Cape Breton miners.

FEDERATED CHURCH LATER ON PERHAPS

Dr. MacKinnon Says Will Have a Place After Union

TORONTO, March 16. — After church union will come the opportunity for Dr. Drummond's suggestion for a federated church movement, in the opinion of Dr. Clarence MacKinnon, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, when interviewed today.

Dr. MacKinnon said there was a call for another conference to settle some issues in the church union movement that have developed, but he did not think any good purpose could be served by such a step now. He said:

Retain Individuality

"After union is effected there will no doubt be an opportunity for the suggestion of Dr. Drummond of Hamilton, of a scheme for a federated church movement, in which the various churches will retain their individuality, but will associate with one another for cooperative purposes.

"Should this happy result follow, and it is one I personally should strongly favor, such a federation would not necessarily be confined to the churches at present involved, but might embrace nearly all the other Protestant denominations that would wish to affiliate. This could result in nothing but good to the Dominion."

PROMPT ACTION OR AN ELECTION

If Montreal Council Does Not Act on Vice Report Citizens Will

MONTREAL, March 16.—If prompt action is not forthcoming from Montreal's executive committee with regard to Judge Coderre's report on the administration of the police department and vice conditions in this city, a delegation of citizens will go to the Quebec legislature to ask for a municipal election next month, declared Alderman Dubreuil, and A. T. Laurence, president of the St. Edward's Citizens' association, the fathers of the movement which resulted in the now famous "probe."

Small Stores May Be Allowed Nights

Ex-Chancellor Is Prussian Premier

RESOLVES AGAINST WATERED STOCKS

House Asks Legislation Desired by Campbell of Mackenzie

OTTAWA, March 16.—Without dividing, the house of commons tonight passed a resolution calling for legislation "which will make difficult, and if possible prevent, the practice of issuing what is known as 'watered stock.'"

The resolution was submitted by M. N. Campbel, Progressive, Mackenzie, who cited various stock issues.

He mentioned Lord Beaverbrook as responsible for the cement merger, and as now living in England on his "ill-gotten gains." Mr. Campbell thought there should be some government control.

Up Every Day, Says Copp

Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, held that the question of stock issues was being considered by his department every day. Anything that could possibly be done to improve administration of the Companies act, Mr. Copp promised, would be gladly undertaken.

Suggestions made during the debate was that tariff protection should not be granted nor bounties paid on steel until water was squeezed out of stock.

John Evens, of Saskatoon, with passing reference to present troubles in the Cape Breton coal fields, said the British Empire Steel corporation was squeezing its employees to pay dividends on watered stock.

COAST WILL SEND DELEGATION EAST

Board of Trade Opposes Petersen Subsidy; Want Peace Opened

VANCOUVER, March 16.—A delegation representing the Vancouver board of trade, headed by A. Melville Dollar, will leave here Thursday for Ottawa, where it will urge, in conferences with parliamentary representatives, early action to give the Peace river country an outlet to the Pacific coast.

The delegation also wil recommend against the proposed subsidy of ships by the government to break the alleged North Atlantic combine. Opposition to the government scheme was recorded recently by the council of the board of trade.

The government regulation barring goods packed in hay, straw or fodder, not properly certificated on seeking entry from foreign countries, will also be protested against.

CHURCH FACTIONS STILL DISAGREED

No Compromise Yet on Ontario Bills; Antis Refuse to Admit Union

TORONTO, March 16.—There seems to be little prospect of an agreement between church unionists and antiunionists before the bills proposed by the two factions come up for discussion tomorrow in the private bills committee of the Ontario legislature.

As a result of a conference between D. L. McCarthy, K.C., representing those opposed to union, and G. W. Mason for the unionists, and Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general, agreement has been arrived at regarding a few small matters, but the essential point of difference, the antiunionists' refusal to accept the actual union of the three denominations as provided for by the federal act, stil remains.

"That is the vital point," commented Mr. Mason, when asked today what chance there was of further agreement. "Is there a union or is there none? They deny that the Presbyterian church is going into union. We say that by the Federal act it goes in, after due and regular action of its own church courts."

"We take the view," he added, "that the fact of union must be recognized as a basis."

BRITISH 'PINK' IS KIDNAPED BY 'FASCISTI'

Is Taken From Train and Detained by Guards a Full Day

SENT HOME AFTER HIS MEETING OVER

Liverpool Fascisti Deny Any Official Connection; Probe Coming

LONDON, March 16.—An incident recalling the kidnaping exploits of the Italian Fascisti is reported from Liverpool. M. Pollitt, general secretary of the National Minority movement, which has "red" leanings, boarded a train at London for Liverpool Saturday to attend a demonstration and conference, to be addressed, among others, by Tom Mann, general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, and the Communist, Arthur McManus.

Carried to Automobile

Pollitt relates that when the train arrived at the Edge Hill station, on the outskirts of Liverpool, four men invaded his coach and, after a struggle, threw him from the train to a platform, where others surrounded him and conveyed him forcibly to a waiting automobile. He was driven about until 2 o'clock in the morning, and then taken to a hotel, where a guard was mounted to prevent possible escape until Sunday afternoon.

Finally he was placed on a train which brought him back to London.

The Liverpool branch of the British Fascisti denies any official part in the affair, but its secretary says:

"It is quite possible that some of the members have acted together and carried out the kidnaping unofficially."

Questions in House

Questions put to the government in the house to night suggested that several of the abductors were disguised as policemen, and that this prevented railway officials from going to Pollitt's assistance.

The government has promised to institute an inquiry.

KLAN KLONCILIUM OF CANADA MEETS

STAKE GOLD IN THE SNOWDRIFTS

Northern Manitoba Farmer Finds Yellow Streak Really Gold

WINNIPEG, March 16.—The gold discovery which has thrown the people of Minitonas and Swan River into a frenzy of excitement, and has resulted in the staking of more than 30 claims, covering approximately 51 acres, was made seven years ago, it was learned here today. It was not till last week, however, it was established that there was precious metal in the find.

The strike was made by D. McVicar, who farms about 5½ miles from Minitonas, Man. He was digging a well on his farm, when he came across a streak of yellowish substance, which to him resembled gold. He sent an assay sample to Cobalt, Ont. Years passed away and no reply was forthcoming. Then the other day he received a letter from Cobalt, saying that traces of gold had been found in the sample he forwarded seven years ago.

The news spread like wildfire throughout the community, and today the snow covered prairie surrounding the McVicar homestead is well staked out and claimed.

Excitement is running high and some of the more enterprising prospectors already have brought in machinery to begin operations with the first thaw.

Burglars Drop Safe in Alley; Little in It

VANCOUVER, March 16.—Some time during Sunday night thieves entered the premises of the Knight Motor company and removed a safe from the upper floors by lowering it through a window onto a stolen truck. The truck was removed less than 70 feet when the safe fell off, and, being unable to open it or get it back on the truck, the robbers were forced to leave it in the alley, where it was found this morning.

There was but little cash in the safe, the company reported.

OPERATORS TO SOUND MINERS ON NEW DEAL

Small Time Loss to All; Coming Big Contract Unattainable

CALGARY, March 16.—Representatives of the Western Canada Coal Operators and of the United Mine Workers of America, District 18, will meet in formal conference upon the economic situation tomorrow. The two parties, in an unofficial conference for the greater part of today, discussed the possibility of holding a formal conference.

J. Shanks, president of the Western Canada Coal Operators, in an interview with the Canadian Press this evening, stated that the operators have no idea of repudiating their agreement with the miners, but intend to lay before them the economic situation, and let them consider, whether they wish to approach the operators with a suggestion looking to the possibility of opening negotiations with a view of coming to a new agreement.

Great Railway Contract Due

"At the present time," explained Mr. Shanks, "we are working the mines one or two days per week. This is not paying us. We are losing money, and the miners are losing money. Neither want such conditions to continue, but under the present conditions there is no help for it. Very shortly the Canadian Pacific railway is going to place on the market a contract for 900,000 tons of coal at a price which we cannot meet under present conditions. This is practically one-third of the total tonnage of steam coal mined within the last three years, and it means much work if we can get it."

Quebec House Sees First Salmon Pack of the Government

QUEBEC, March 16.—First results of the establishment by the provincial government of the salmon canning of Gaspe salmon at Carlett, Bonaventure county, were received today at the legislative buildings in the shape of sample tins, with a net weight of 16 ounces, and with labels showing the packing to be done under the supervision of the Quebec government.

Optimism is felt for the future of the industry in this province, and it is suggested that it may become a rival to the product of the British Columbia canners.

Seattle Marriage Annuled in Canada for Reno Divorce

VANCOUVER, March 16.—On the ground that she was not a resident of Reno when she secured a divorce, but was instead a resident of Toronto, an annulment of marriage was granted Mrs. Violet Dennis, by the supreme court, from George Clark Dennis. The wedding took place in Seattle in 1920.

In 1909 she married W. G. Gordon in Australia. After several years in Toronto she went to Reno and secured a divorce, afterwards wedding Dennis.

Mr. Justice McDonald ruled the divorce at Reno invalid.

SAYS SHEPPARD GOT GERMS FOR MILLION DEAL

Bacteriologist Says Was Assured Fortune for Each to Ensue

TWENTY THOUSAND FOR SHUT MOUTH

Another Professor Consulted About Germs, Girl's Testimony

CHICAGO, March 16.—Charles C. Faiman, proprietor of a school of bacteriology, admitted tonight, according to assistant statess' attorneys, that he had given typhoid germs to William D. Sheppard, foster father of William Nelson McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," whose death was caused from typhoid fever and is now a subject for investigation by the grand jury.

Faiman said he had given the germs to Sheppard after the latter had told him that he was "going to inoculate someone with them" and that "it is a million dollar deal."

Sheppard said, Faiman told the attorneys, that each of them would be rich if the deal went through.

The statement was made while Faiman was in the room with Sheppard.

Sheppard nervous and pale, denied the accusation of Faiman.

"You're a liar," he said, almost in a whisper, according to Assistant State's Attorney J. S. Barbare. Then, clearing his throat, he said, with some of his old emphasis:

"You're a liar."

"I have told the truth, and you can't deny it," Faiman replied, looking steadily at Sheppard.

J. Savage, assistant state's attorney, announced that at 3 o'clock this morning, persistent questioning, Dr. Faiman had stated that Sheppard, letter he had written regarding a course of instruction, offered him $20,000 if he would "keep his mouth shut."

The proposed bribe was to have been paid, Dr. Faiman said, after settlement of the $1,000,000 estate left by young McClintock. Under the terms of the will Sheppard received the entire estate except for an $8000 annuity to Miss Isabelle Pope, who waited to marry young McClintock, when he died.

Sheppard was taken into custody shortly after midnight Saturday morning, after Dr. Faiman had informed Robert Crowe, state's attorney, that he had returned the letter to Sheppard for $50.

After weeks of investigation it was the first clue regarded as sufficiently tangible.

Dr. Fosberg, who testified at the McClintock inquest that Sheppard had consulted him about disease germs and poisons, was the first witness to go before the grand jury.

Vice-President's Wife Munches Sandwiches in Gallery of Senate

WASHINGTON, March 16.—So that they might miss no word of senate debate on the Warren nomination, Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the vice-president, and a party of friends brought their lunches to the senate gallery. In the early afternoon the packages were opened, and Mrs. Dawes and her friends calmly munched sandwiches, while a lunchless assembly in the crowded gallery about them looked on enviously.

Chatham, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did me a wonderful lot of good, and to women who go down in health during motherhood I would advise its use. I was very sick; especially did I suffer from 'morning sickness.' My stomach was so upset that I could not retain anything. I was afraid to eat. I grew nervous and weak, and my back ached. I just seemed to suffer with all the ills that come to prospective mothers. I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised and began to take it, and this medicine just kept me up fine, relieved me of all suffering and distress, and I was able to be around right up to the last. I have the greatest faith in 'Favorite Prescription.'"—Mrs. Margaret Phipps, 126 Inches Avenue. All dealers.

LASTING BEAUTY

One Mother Says:

I have two daughters in high school who recently were struck by the fad for cosmetics. They wanted to use rouge—"All the other girls do." They invested in fancy face powders. I had a long talk with them in which I did not decry their vanity, knowing it was natural for them to wish to look attractive. I told them how to take care of the skin, according to the best authority, in order to keep it fresh and clean. I told them how diet and exercise were necessary to a beautiful skin. And then I offered a prize to the one who could, at the end of the month, show the most perfect skin. I have turned their interest toward the acquiring of natural and lasting beauty.

Klondyke Old-Timer Lost From Steamer; Cabin Bloodstained

VANCOUVER, March 16.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of John Smith, old-timer of the Klondyke rush, and land agent at Campbell River, Vancouver island, who vanished during last night from the steamship Charmer, in the Gulf of Georgia, leaving behind him in a bloodstained cabin most of his clothing, his baggage, a bloodstained pocket knife, and a few spots of blood on the vessel's deck, as the only evidence from which the police are to solve the case.

There is no direct evidence of suicide, and nothing as yet to establish a murder theory, say the police.

RARE DOCUMENTS FOUND IN ATTIC

Native Iroquis Literature and a Brock Letter Unearthed

TORONTO, March 16. — Lying in boxes in the attic of the home of William Kirby, of Niagara-on-the-Lake, literary and historical documents regarded as of great importance have been discovered by Rev. Dr. Lorne Pierce. Mr. Kirby is a grandson of the writer of "Le Chien d'Or" ("The Golden Dog"), the novel of old Quebec.

While in Niagara-on-the-Lake recently, Dr. Pierce, in conversation with Mr. Kirby, remarked on the absence of any documents written by his grandfather.

Mr. Kirby then led the Toronto editor to the attic, where several boxfuls of literature were found.

One of the documents is believed to be the second piece of native Iroquois literature extant. It is an Iroquois classic of condolence on the death of the Caughnawaga chief, Asharegown, killed in battle in 1782. It was written by Chief Deseronto some time in 1782.

There is a letter written by Sir Isaac Brock to a Colonel Daniel Claus, a secret service agent in Canada. Brock was twice in Canada, and this is believed to be the only letter in existence from him during his first term. It was written September 23, 1805.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifuly, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

'ROAD TO LOVE

By ELENORE MEHERIN

CHAPTER XX.

To Denny, the campus with its stirring color, the excited rush of the new term, might have been the planet of Mars. Outwardly he was part of its spirited young endeavor; he was one of its time-pressed students hurrying from ivy covered library to red brick hall. Inwardly, he was lonlier, more bewildered than he had ever been in his life. He was an alien.

Young men in bulging corduroys and disreputable hats lounged on the steps of old North Hall or sprawled on the bench in front of the campus store, drawing lazily on their pipes, enjoying the sun and the gossoping; girls in white skirts and pretty waists trooped down the paths. They smiled brightly to the young men and the young men nodded with supreme indifference. Denny noted all this with awe and a shrinking heart. If any girl had bowed brightly to him!

Everyone seemed to be surrounded with friends; to be dashing from one engagement to another; to possess inside tips on the right professors, the best course, the short-cuts to knowledge and fun. In the midst of all this youth and vivid activity, Denny was a chill and isolated unit.

"Oh, well—" He squared his shoulders, walked with a little swagger into the store and over to the huge ink well where one might fill a fountain pen. Two girls behind him began to talk.

"Get your bid for Friday, Lou?"

"Yes."

"Who?"

"Pesky, of course."

"Well—Pesky's all right—"

"Suppose so. Oh, dear—" rustle of papers, the girl's books clattered to Denny's feet. He picked them up, glanced hastily into the flurried brown eyes of the girl, Lou noted her wonderful gold hair.

"Yours?" he asked, handing her the books.

"Oh, thank you." She must have liked the winning light in Denny's eyes, the eagerness in his boyish, fighting chin. "Yes—thank you so much."

Such a trifle! Those contempuous fellows sprawled on the bench wouldn't have stooped, perhaps, to pick up the books. They weren't starved for young companionship, as Denny was.

He went out of the store with buoyant singing heart.

Lucky Pesky! But Lou had smiled at him.

He wondered what course she might be taking; if he'd pass her again; if she'd bow. Two or three times when he saw before him the flutter of light hair he quickened his pace, stole a glance at the face. It was never Lou.

He began to think he was doomed to loneliness. He looked down a blank four years without friends, without pleasures, and there were times when he mocked the folly that had brought him to Berkeley—the conceit that had made him rate himself above the grocery clerk, above the plasterer.

In his courses he spoke to the men sitting near him, compared problems and notes. There was one tall fellow with flashing teeth and quick impulsive eyes who saluted Denny with a pleasant "Hello, there Brooks!" This was Stephen Adams. But aside from these occasional greetings he went to his classes, to lunch, to his home—alone.

Not for a fortune would he have admitted his depression to Katy. He came whistling into the barn at night, pretending to be thrilled with college; trying to cultivate the magnificent arrogance of other young students, but to himself thankful to heaven that another day was over and he was here in this big, delightful room with a table set for dinner and Katy following him with worshipping happy eyes. Here he counted; here he was somebody.

For Katy these first days flew—there were so many joys in this new home; so many tasks. It was such a problem to know whether the crazy quilt suited the couch in the great room where Denny slept or if it were better on her own bed.

Katy had a little space that was all sun and air, partitioned off in the north corner, pink matting on the floor; pink china bowl and wash basin—a rare treasure from Old Lady Traynor in the corner—and all over the wire screen that made the side wall, a joyous scarlet rambler splashed its roses.

Here, in the long August afternoons, Katy sat on the bed, sewing, reading, making beautiful Irish crochet jabots that were very much the style then and that Katy hoped she might sell. Why not—they were so smart and Katy was clever with her quick impatient fingers.

Then there was the kitchen and each day the great problem of dinner. Would Denny like this? Would be like that? She went over all the menus Aunt Josie had taught her, discarded tripe, codfish, liver. They'd never eat these again—not much! But plenty of apple pie, round steak, sliced tomatoes—well for Denny that he did the shopping himself or Katy, in her wish to please, would have made him a bankrupt.

He came home toward the end of the first week, his arms filled with books and bundles; his face sparkling with suppressed excitement. Denny had made a friend.

Katy was sitting at the sink, peeling potatoes. Denny unwrapped his bundles, soused some lettuce in water, tore off the outer leaves vigorously.

At last it was out. Stephen Adams, the breezy fellow who sat next to him at chemistry, had invited him to a fraternity dance. Denny was ashamed of his joy, so he pretended to Katy that he wasn't sure whether to accept it or not. But he was jubilant as a girl; excitement ran into his voice:

"You know, of course, I've got to find a job over here and I didn't come to dance, but then it's on Friday night and a fellow ought to have some friends. What would you do, Katy?"

Katy, whose feet would have been wings, dropped the potato:

"What would I do? I'd just run there! I'd make myself a dress right out of those scarlet ramblers and flame into the room. Oh, wouldn't I love it, though!" The wanton beauty that was Queenie Brooks flashed a moment over Katy's winsome face, stabbed Denny and he whispered a sudden:

"Ge—aw, gee. Gee, it's tough for you, Katy. Wish you could go."

"Some day—look how fine I can stand now. I'm ever so much better. You're to go, Denny. Oh, you bet I'd go."

"I'd have to borrow Jimmy Foley's tux, I suppose."

"Well, didn't you give Jimmy that set of tools? He'll be glad to lend it—"

"Perhaps I don't dance well enough?"

"Oh, Violet said you did—you dance lovely."

So Denny allowed Katy to coax him into acceptance not admitting even to her that college was a different world since Stephen Adams had offered his invitation.

He went to the city and got Jimmy's suit, brushed it, spread a damp cloth over it and pressed the creases stiff. There was a little tear at the pocket. Katy mended this, all but praying Denny would be the beau of the ball.

Such shaving and brushing and bathing. When he was ready he stood at the mirror in Katy's room, pulling up his suspendors, making her say a dozen times whether just the right amount of heel showed. Then he looked at his own exurberant image and chuckled with satisfaction:

"Humph! Ain't I the cholly boy, Katy kid? Now, honest, did you ever see such a handsome build before? He grinned happily, struggled with the bow tie and resigned the job to her. Katy's fingers fluttered with nervousness; as she pulled the bow deftly:

"I'll just die, Denny, if you come home a wallflower!"

"Pooh! I'll knock 'em dead, Katy kid." He came back from the door: "Will you be afraid here alone?"

"Course not! I'll be in bed. But you wake me up the minute you get in. Cross your heart now, you will?"

He promised, stepped out bravely. As he reached the great white fraternity house his confidence wavered. He was in the hall—a witching fairyland, flowers, softened lights, streamers of smilax, the strains of music, the fluttering in and out of girls with their hair in puffs, long trains swung gracefully over their arms. Denny had never seen such beauty, such color, such gayety.

He stood motionless a moment and then was bitterly conscious of his shabby overcoat, the sleeves nearly two inches too short.

Denny had indulged in one extravagance—a tailor made suit with a fine chalk line, at $35. He worried over this expenditure, deciding to do without an overcoat.

He shrugged it off quickly, looked anxiously for his friend, Stephen, saw him across the hall scratching his name on a dance program, giving it back with some laughing remark to a midget of a girl in a puffy yellow dress.

Denny assumed a man of the world air—walked casually toward Stephen. Girls, some shy as buttercups; others tall, cool as arrogant roses, swept by like queens. More than one looked archly into Denny's young, glistening eyes. Gratitude swept through him, bringing a flareup of confidence.

Men were rushing up partners to groups of girls; the violins tuned for the first dance. Denny was flushed, but let any one detect a quiver in his resolute calm! He knew that he wished like everything he was home with Katy. What a blind chump he was coming here—

"Hello, old fellow!" Stephen's vital tone; Stephen's impulsive hand: "Well, fixed up, are you? Suppose you know plenty of girls."

This was too much for Denny's composure. He felt his face iron into a blank, then he laughed.

"Plenty—don't know a darned one!"

"Holy smoke! Babes in the wood! Come on!"

He took Denny's arm, edged through the crowd, rushed Denny into a group and demanded with an audacious ease:

"A dance, Mary?" took the girl's program, scratched Denny's name. Three times he did this. They were stopping before the fourth. Came a little exclamation of pleased surprise:

"Why you!" It was the gold hair and the flurried brown of the girl who had dropped her books—Lou.

IRVING IS THE COMMODORE THIRD TIME

Kootenay Launch Club Report Shows Prosperous Condition

For the third time J. A. Irving was elected commodore of the Kootenay launch club at the annual meeting of the club held in the board of trade rooms last night. In addition to election of officers, a long discussion on the fees to be paid by members holding sites without boathouses on the waterfront leased by the club from the city, took place.

In this discussion L. F. Gilbert and G. L. Lindsay took part, both claiming that members who were away a good deal and therefore not using the walks to the boathouses kept up by the club, or profiting by their membership in any way, should not pay the usual annual membership fee.

May Change Constitution

L. B. DeVeber pointed out that any change in the fees might necessitate a change in the discussion, and H. E. Dill gave notice of a motion that a regular meeting might be called by the commodore, at which any special business could be transacted, on seven days' notice to the members.

Then Mr. Gilbert made a motion that members holding vacant sites should pay only half the annual fee, or $2.50.

The officers of the club will search the bylaws and constitution to see whether they have authority to call a general meeting in the near future, or whether they must wait until the next annual meeting before this motion can come before the club.

The annual report showed that the excess assets of the club over its liabilities were $3516.50, that $189.28 had been spent on repairs to the walks during the year, and that the sum of $278.04 had been spent on repairs altogether. The balance in the bank was $688.69.

Commodore Irving, in the chair, stated that he had inspected the boathouses and walks, and found the latter in better condition than he had expected, but that some of the old boathouses were in very bad shape. Secretary George Horstead owned to the possession of "one of the worst," and said he had given it away three times.

Last year's officers were reelected unanimously, and are: Honorary commodore, Rowland Bourke, K.C.; commodore, J. A. Irving; captain, A. A. Perrier; secretary-treasurer and mate, George Horstead; governors—L. B. DeVeber, Archdeacon Fred H. Graham and L. F. Gilbert; auditor, H. E. Dill.

The board of governors was given authority to cooperate with the Rowing club in any arrangements that might be made for a regatta this year.

It has a seating capacity for 44 passengers and has besides the engine and passenger compartments, a smoking and baggage compartment. The officials state that the trip from Calgary was made without mishap, and that the car performed well. It was viewed with interest by spectators yesterday.

GYROS HEAR OF IRELAND

Hanley Gives Talk; Quartet Competition Won by Myer's Singers

An interesting talk on Ireland, just for the commemoration of St. Patrick's day, by E. H. Hanley, a piano solo by Charles Driscoll, a flute solo by J. Cartmel, and several songs featured the weekly luncheon of the Nelson Gyro club, held in the Recreation club rooms last night.

At the last weekly luncheon a quartet contest was arranged for prizes donated by A. D. McLeod. The songs were sung, but the club in casting its vote favored five quartets. Consequently last night the best singers in each quartet, that is, one member from each quartet, was called upon for a song. Two of the quartet members sang—W. Myers and E. G. Mathhew. The other two chosen members, J. B. Gray and Charles Morris, tried to talk the club into awarding them the prize, while T. Crannage attempted to steal the prize with a sprightly step dance performed on the table.

A tie vote was recorded for J. B. Gray and W. M. Myers. The latter, mixing poetry, music and oratory, carried off the honors. Thus the quartet composed of M. Myers, E. H. Hanley, Dr. E. G. Smyth and H. C. Irving won the prizes.

A prosperous business was done by the seargeant-at-arms, while E. G. Matthew and Harry Ferguson presented songs to the club. A fine was imposed on members caught laughing, and many paid their dime willingly, stating that it was worth it.

The program was in charge of Jack Laughton.

UNIVERSITY WOULD CONDUCT RESEARCH

Mulock Appeals for Big Fund; Premier Ferguson Promises Aid

TORONTO, March 16. — Sir William Mulock, chief justice of Ontario, and chancellor of the University of Toronto, announced at a gathering of prominent citizens at the York club last night, that the establishment of a foundation for the financing of further research similar to that which led to the discovery of insulin, was the tentative plan of the board of governors of the university.

It was announced that the university was prepared to stand behind the work, but was not in a position to provide the funds. A fund of $500,000 is necessary.

Premier Ferguson promised the government's special support, and Mayor Foster said the city would do its part. Premier Ferguson added that his government would be inclined to be even more generous should the governors see fit to enlarge the foundation to include industrial research.

THROW THE OPIUM CONVENTION OPEN

League Invites All States to It; Postpone Action on Persia's Plea

GENEVA, March 16.—One of the last acts of the thirty-third session of the council of the League of Nations, Saturday, was to throw open the international opium convention, recently adopted at Geneva, to all states which neither were represented at the conference, nor are members of the League of Nations.

The council postponed until a later meeting the Persian memorandum which requested the appointment of a special commission to determine whether it was possible to substitute other crops for opium in Persia, thus permitting Persia to keep her production down to medical and scientific requirements. Persia's idea is to raise a crop loan in the United States. She calms she cannot cease opium growing until the peasants are given other means for livelihood.

Uncle Sam Cannot Be Detached From Europe

The London Times believes the appointment of Frank B. Kellogg as secretary of state brings the United States closer to Great Britain. It is very much pleased with Mr. Kellogg's performance as ambassador.

It describes him as not "afflicted with some hard-and-fast and highly developed theory. . . . He simply moved about among Englishmen, Frenchmen, Germans and Italians, and saw that they were men gravely perplexed but very anxious to do the right thing somehow. . . . He never exceeded his mandate, but he made the best use of it by treating the men he met simply as men."

It also brings the United States closer to all Europe, because, no matter what Washington may say, Uncle Sam can no more disassociate his interests from those of the rest of the world than he can make his crops independent of the weather.

German Competition in the Steel Industry

The year 1924 was a disappointing one for the iron and steel industry of Great Britain and France, Belgium and Germany not only captured customers abroad but even undersold British manufacturers.

At the beginning of 1924 there were 190 blast furnaces in operation in Great Britain, and at the close of the year the number blowing was 173. Notwithstanding the fall of wages in 1924, there were continued complaints that quoted prices were unremunerative.

For the first time in her history France produced more pig iron than Great Britain. This is largely accounted for by the regaining of Alsace-Lorraine. However, the difference between British and French pig iron production was only about 1½ per cent of the total output, and British authorities claim that as British production is increasing while the production of France is diminishing, there is reason to believe that within a year Great Britain will again be turning out more pig iron than France. Great Britain is seeking to expand her export trade, and is making great efforts to accomplish that result.

The output of pig iron in Great Britain in 1924 was 7,333,600 tons, or a monthly average of 611,133 tons, as compared with the previous 12 months' production of 7,438,500 tons, or a monthly average of 619,875 tons. The output of manufactured iron and steel in 1924 was 8,000,000 tons, less than the reduced scale of 1923. Continental firms undersold British concerns to the extent of about 28 shillings on semi-finished steel, and on occasions by as much as 40 shillings per ton in steel. Exports of steel totaled 3,856,600 tons in 1924, as compared with 4,319,570 tons in 1923.

The Sweetest Music

Ami has contributed to the Ottawa Journal an account of the whys and wherefores of earthquakes in eastern Canada that is as interesting as it is instructive, even although not completely reassuring. Racing News By Radio

The chief difficulty in preventing the transmission of racing news by radio will come from broadcasting stations in the United States. How can this be prevented? American broadcasters will not be amenable to Canadian law, and cannot be prevented from devoting hours, if they want to, to sending out the sort of racing news that gamblers desire. Nor will it be easy to prevent the owners of radio sets from listening-in and receiving this information. Pretty soon, part of the necessary equipment of a handbook man, and also of everyone who is a habitual patron of the handbook men, will be a radio set.—Hamilton Herald.

A reader—How are wool-filled comforters washed?

Answer—Make a generous lather with white soap, a little washing soda, and a few drops of household ammonia in enough moderately hot water to cover the quilt. Soak the quilt in this for 30 minutes, then press the dirt out with a potato masher or a croquet mallet. Avoid rubbing. Now squeeze the quilt with the hands, not wringing, and place it in the same amount of fresh moderately hot water to rinse, and once more use the potato masher on it. Hang on the line to drip, and shake it often. When partly dry beat with a rattan carpet beater to lighten the filling. (Note: Cotton quilts do not need to have the rinse water of the same temperature as the washing water. Indeed, many housewives, after washing them, hang them on the line and rinse with a hose, then let drip dry and beat with a rattan beater. But wool-filled quilts may not be given this vigorous treatment).

Mrs. G. R. — Can one dye old furs at home?

Answer—No, you will have to have a professional furrier do that.

Mrs. S. M. J.—If you were going to paint the walls of kitchen, living room, bath and bedroom instead of papering them, what colors would you choose?

Answer—I would choose a light tan or buff color for the living room because it makes the best background for pictures and also because it harmonizes with almost any color you may select in a drapery and furnishings color scheme. I would next decide upon either old blue or old rose for the bedroom walls (unless the room is a north room, without any sunshine at all—in which case I'd choose yellow). Sage green is a cool color for the bathroom walls. And a light gray is splendid for the kitchen. If you use a waterproof paint you will be able to wash down the walls and thus keep your home sanitary and spotless. I believe in painted walls.

RENEW SEARCH FOR TRANQUILITY

Herriot, Chamberlain and Benes Open New Discussion on Security

PARIS, March 16. — Premier Herriot's talks with Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, and Dr. Edouard Benes, the Czecho-Slovak foreign minister, today opened a new phase of Europe's search for tranquility, which probably will take the form of lengthy negotiations through regular diplomatic channels.

The outstanding facts of today's exchange of views are that France considers the League of Nations protocol may yet serve as the means of providing an eventual solution of the security problem, while Mr. Chamberlain regards it as dead; that any agreement that may be made with a view to guaranteeing peace will be made with all the allies.

MEIGHEN PLEASED AT GRAHAM STAND

Compliments Railway Minister on Secrecy Over Salaries of National

OTTAWA, March 16.—"I am pleased to see that the government is coming to my point of view," said Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, in the house this afternoon.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, had supported the attitude taken by the management of the Canadian National railways, that information in regard to all salaries of employees of the government system should not be published. The management had taken the ground that the giving out of such information might be injurious to the railway.

Mr. Meighen agreed that the information had better not be given out.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Growing Old

A United States health expert has been giving some very straight advice to the public in general.

He states that men and women simply allow themselves to grow old, thinking that as the allotted span is 70 years of age, if they can get anywhere near that they are doing pretty well. Accordingly, when they pass the age of 35 or 40, and notice teeth and hair disappearing, and a little slowing up and stiffening of the joints, they take it as a matter of course, thinking it is just the beginning of old age and they might as well put up with it.

His point, and it is well taken, is that there is no particular age at which one "goes downhill" or grows old; that these little things I have mentioned are just warnings from nature, and that if a little thought and care be exercised the span of life might be expanded 10 to 20 years.

Take the matter of teeth, for instance. If there are any abscesses at the roots of the teeth, or any infection in the gums, then this poison in the blood is bound to be carried to joints or other parts and cause stiffness. This very stiffness in turn will have the effect of lessening one's desire to walk or move about, and so heart and lungs get less work, and consequently becomes just that much less efficient.

On the other hand, if the teeth are removed and are not replaced by artificial ones, then the food is not chewed sufficiently, the saliva or mouth juice is not mixed properly with the food, and "indigestion" follows as a natural consequence.

There is nothing that "ages" one quite so rapidly as "indigestion." Thus, in just one part of the body alone, the teeth, neglect can lessen the span of life by many years.

The trouble has always been that unless a person has an ache or a pain somewhere he never thinks about his body.

Then even if he does have an ache or a pain, he thinks it rather weak on his part to investigate it, to report it to his physician.

Did you ever think that the pain is nature's protest against the trouble?

Now, you shouldn't worry about every little pain in the body. That would only make you many times worse, and you might become one of those folks that are called "nervous."

The best way to extend your span of life would be to see your family doctor at least once a year, and not wait for any pain or ache to wake you up to the need.

PORT ARTHURS BEAT REGINAS

Take Game and Round, and Qualify to Engage Coleman

WINNIPEG, March 16.—Port Arthur, the hope of both Manitoba and Thunder Bay for the Allan cup, emblematic of the Canadian hockey championship, qualified for the finals of the western playdowns by handing the Regina Victorias, Saskatchewan champions, a 1 to 3 trimming in the second game of the series here tonight, and won on the round on the two games by 11 to 4.

Port Arthur will now meet Coleman Tigers, Alberta champions, and conquerors of the British Columbia winners, Wednesday and Friday, for the right to meet the eastern champions for the Canadian honors.

The game was a tame affair, and was productive of very little brilliant hockey. The Vics are a hard-checking crew, but all their efforts were of the individual variety and seldom did they break through the Ports' defence. Although the Saskatchewan champions had the advantage of weight, practically man for man, they failed to maintain the pace set by the Manitoba champions in the final frame.

Sixty Thousand Wash Gravel in Diamond Search

MONTREAL, March 16.—According to A. Mayfield, of Para, Brazil, who is in Montreal today, says there are 60,000 people in Brazil engaged solely in washing gravel to find diamonds.

The stones, he said, were sought in three districts, in Matto, Goyaz and Para. They were unlike the blue South African diamonds, being black and white.

Last year, diamonds were unearthed in British Guinea worth approximately £2,000,000, Mr. Mayfield declared.

Government Plans Aid Coal Industry With Subventions

OTTAWA, March 16. — Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, indicated in the house late tonight government plans for the development of the Canadian coal industry. Two lines of activity were proposed:

1. Continuance of the financial assistance provided last year for the transportation of Canadian coal.

2. Legislation to assist the manufacturing of coke.

SEEK BANDITS; GET MANAGER

Hochelaga Bank Branch Manager Removed on Theft Charge

MONTREAL, March 16.—Joseph A. Boyer, manager of the St. Anne de Bellevue branch of the Banque d'Hochelaga, was today remanded until March 24 on a charge of stealing $3498 from the bank January 27 last. Bail was set at $5000.

Boyer reported to the police that he had been heldup and robbed by two armed bandits, who escaped with the money, but no traces were ever found of the robbers. At the time of the alleged holdup, Boyer declared that his assailants had struck him on the head with a bottle. He was found lying on the floor by a customer.

The accused is also charged with a shortage in his accounts of $1100 between June, 1924, and January, 28, 1925.

Runciman Urges Push Disarmament

LONDON, March 16. — The first allusion in parliament to the suggested disarmament conference came in the house of commons tonight from Walter Runciman, Liberal, during a discussion of the army estimates. Mr. Runciman said that if ever there was a moment when disarmament could be dealt with satisfactorily by the government, this was the time.

The secretary of war, added Mr. Runciman, ought to join hands with the prime minister and foreign secretary, and urge the holding of a disarmament conference in which Great Britain could take the lead.

BRICK OFFICIALS CHARGED THEFT

Ontario Government Plant Graft Alleged; Also Arrest "Briber"

TORONTO, March 16. — W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons and public charities in the provincial secretary's department, and his assistant Fred C. Williams, were arrested by provincial police late tonight on charges of theft connected with the stewardship of a government brick plant at Mimico.

The irregularities in the case of Dunlop are said to amount to $800 and to be $3000 in the case of Williams.

Robert Kyle, Toronto business man who lives at Mimico, was also placed under arrest on a charge of bribery in connection with the sale of bricks from the Mimico plant.

For some weeks an investigation has been in progress at the parliament buildings into the sales of brick at the Ontario government brick plant at New Toronto. The inquiry pointed to a discrepancy between the number of bricks made, and those sold. In the course of business Kyle is alleged to have induced Williams to take money in return for supplies of bricks.

CALGARY, March 16.—For the purpose of making Canadians more familiar with their own country—its history, art, literature and present day national activities—the Calgary Canadian club is arranging to supply community clubs, both in the city and at provincial points, with speakers on topics of the above nature.

FORKS FARMERS PLAN TO REVIVE THE FALL FAIR

Institute Is Also Erecting a Community Hall; Talk Cooperation

GRAND FORKS, March 16. — The farmers' institute, under the aggressive presidency of W. McL. Cooper, is showing much activity. It has decided to start a community hall on the upper story of the Growers' exchange, and already the carpenters are busy with material.

The hall will be a comprehensive one of about 50 by 70 feet, and is intended as a meeting place for the various farmers' organizations, and a place for entertainment as well, and will in a general way fulfill the name of community hall. A feature planned is the equipping of a rest room in connection with the hall.

Another important matter taken up is that of reviving the fall fair, and a decision has been taken to hold one next fall. It is felt that the district has had a serious setback by failure to hold the fair last fall, and plans are now under way to insure the fair as an accomplished fact for next September.

The important matter of distribution of produce, and particularly vegetables was gone into very fully by President Cooper, who pointed out to the meeting the possibilities offered through the Growers' exchange, which was anxious to cooperate in every way, and which had a valuable connection.

CRESTON CHURCH BURNS ITS NOTES

Bonfire Wipes Out Cancelled Securities Face Value Four Hundred

CRESTON, March 15. — About $400 of cancelled securities went up in smoke at the Creston Methodist church Friday night, when, at a congregational at-home, at which the ladies' aid were hostesses, three notes for a loan aggregating that amount, which was secured for the church building fund many years ago, made a miniature bonfire, set off by Mrs. T. M. Edmondson, the aid's first president; Mrs. Fralick, 1925 president; and T. Dickson, whose name appeared as one of the backers of the notes.

Ladies' Aid Has Done It

The $400 debt has been the objective of ladies' aid effort the past two years, and for three years prior to that they had been busy on a similar undertaking to clear the parsonage of $300 debt, so that today the church property is unencumbered for the time being.

The church was crowded with members and adherents, and a few invited guests, and a very pleasant evening was spent with musical numbers interspersing reports of the trustee board, board of management, Sunday school, young people's Bible class, ladies' aid, mission band, trail rangers, and a report on the work of the year to date by the pastor, Rev. G. Knox, while J. W. Robinson, chairman of the managers, presided.

Word from Spokane is to the effect that Mrs. C. O. Rodgers is now making a slow but sure recovery from a serious operation she underwent in Holy Cross hospital in that city late last week.

Mrs. Davis, another of Creston's hospital patients, who is undergoing treatment at Kootenay Lake hospital, Nelson, is also maging a satisfactory recovery.

Bass Won't Bite at Back Bend; Good Year Ago

CRESTON, March 16. — Although bluebirds are numerous, meadowlarks have arrived, and even the lilacs are bursting the bud, spring is not really as early as it might seem, according to officers of Creston Rod and Gun club, who on Saturday made the trip to the back bend of the Kootenay to catch a few bass for Sunday dinner, but did not even get a nibble.

YOU POOR KID, WHY ARE YOU SO SKINNY?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now, so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamines and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask Canada Drug & Book Co., Poole Drug Co., City Drug Co., or any good druggist, for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the original and genuine—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy.

TRAIL CLERK GETS SPECIAL SUMMER HOURS

Council Has Bylaw Drawn to Add Ross Block to the City

TAX RATE BYLAW IS INTRODUCED

Request to Government to Market Its Lots Is Endorsed

TRAIL, March 16. — In regular session tonight the Trail city council sat until 11:30 o'clock discussing routine business. Permission was granted to the city clerk to open his office at 7:30 each morning and to close it at 4:30 each afternoon between the months of April 1 and October 1.

An application by the Trail Garage, asking for permission to remove a gasoline stand to a point nearer the garage door, was referred to the city engineer for approval.

Five applications for water connections were granted, with the understanding that the costs of the connections would be paid the city before the water was turned on.

Following the action of the board of trade, the council went on record as urging the provincial government to put on the market, building lots retained by it in the city.

The city has been paying hospital fees for a ratepayer for the past two years. As a consequence the city is out of pocket about $1600. The city fathers are seeking a way out of further costs in the case. Mayor Clark was named by the council to use his influence in order to persuade the patient to dispose of her property so that the city might be reimbursed.

Tax Rate Bylaw Read

A bylaw setting the annual tax levy at 37.6 mills was given its first reading.

Lights on Riverside avenue, the end of Rossland avenue, and at the Methodist church have been ordered removed so that a better service might be given.

A block known as the Ross block, which is above Rossland avenue, is to be taken into the city limits. A bylaw is being presented to the city council to this effect. The property is recognized as one of the best residential properties available near the city limits.

CRESTON AFTER INSTITUTE HOME

New Building Would Cost Twelve Hundred; to Look Over Hotel

CRESTON, March 15.—At the March session of Creston and District Women's institute, Friday afternoon, there was an animated discussion on the question of the institute securing a hall of its own, which could also be used by other organizations for meetings, dinners, bazaars, etc., as well as to house the public library, and provide a rest room.

A special committee of Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. R. B. Staples and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, named in February, investigated the matter, and the report submitted by Mrs. Staples indicated that not less than $1200 would be needed to erect a suitable building on the institute lot on Barton avenue, this amount not including anything for furnishings, dishes and piano.

Might Buy Jointly

The matter was allowed to stand over till April, and in the meantime some of the members will endeavor to find out what the old King George hotel building on Fourth street can be bought for, the idea being that if it can be bought on advantageous terms it might be secured and other organizations in town "team up" with the institute to purchase and remodel it for a real community building.

The entertainment features were a piano solo by Miss Jeanne Hall recitation by Miss Kathleen Littlejohn and a solo by Mrs. A. T. Slingsby whose accompanist was Mrs. Jessie Lewis. The tea hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Dow, Mrs. James Cook and Mrs. George Cartwright, with the tea offering of about $2 going to the crippled children's work at Vancouver.

Trail Building Permits Eight Thousand Dollars

TRAIL, March 16. — City Engineer S. S. McDiarmid in his report to the city council stated that the building permits for the city during the past two weeks had amounted to $8900. All of this amount with the exception of $900 is for the erection of new houses.

He reported the new truck purchased by the city as working perfectly. A start has been made on the grading and street cleaning has started. Four new water connections were made during the past two weeks.

Trail Slayer's Hospital Bill Paid By City

TRAIL, March 16.—An account for $124.50 in favor of the Mater Misericordia hospital of Rossland, for treatment of Pat Hanley of Trail, who fatally shot Nurse Mildred Neilson of Trail, was passed by the city council tonight. Hanley, after shooting himself, was removed to the Rossland hospital for treatment.

Two weeks ago the council passed an account of $136.50, which was an amount owing for a board bill for the guards who were watching Hanley at the hospital.

MONTREAL, March 16. — President Calder of the National Hockey league declined to confirm or deny the report that he had fined the Hamilton hockey players $200 each as indicated in dispatches from Toronto. Mr. Calder refused to comment on the matter.

Newfoundland Lady Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to All Sufferers From Kidney Troubles

Mrs. John Collins is now feeling quite well.

Middle Amherst Cove, Nfld., March 16 (Special).—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are an excellent remedy for all troubles of the kidneys," so states Mrs. J. Collins, who is well known and highly respected here.

"For nineteen years I have suffered from kidney troubles, and seeing so many recommending your Dodd's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial. After using six boxes I am now feeling quite well and recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney troubles as I have suffered."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. They tone up and strengthen weak kidneys and put them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Strong, healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary if the blood is to be pure and the body healthy.

Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs the nourishment they need, keeps them sound and enables them to throw off disease of different kinds.

DOCTOR ADVISED AN OPERATION

Read Alberta Woman's Experience With Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. ROSE, 580 Notre Dame St., Lachine, Quebec.

STOCK PRICES GO TO PIECES; HEAVY SELLING

Wheat Break and St. Paul Rumors Start Heavy Liquidation

NEW YORK, March 16. — Stock prices crumbled 1 to 12 points today as selling orders for both accounts poured into the market from all sections of the country. Heavy liquidation was generally attributed to the further break in wheat prices and the persistent circulation of disquieting rumors concerning the St. Paul railroad, whose stock again touched record low figures.

United States Steel common and American Can showed good resistance throughout most of the day, but they weakened with the rest of the list at the close, showing net losses of 1⅞ and 4¼ points respectively.

Pipe Breaks Twelve Points

United States Cast Iron Pipe broke 12 points, to 208; General Electric dropped 10¾ to 262¼, and a net loss of 4 to nearly 7 points was recorded by American Locomotive, Atlantic Refining, Baldwin, Dupont, International Business Machine, Mack Trucks, New York Air Brake, Otis Elevator, Savage Arms and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Acute weakness of the textile shares was based on reports that conditions in the industry were showing little or no improvement over last year. American Woolen fell more than 3 points, to 40⅛, the lowest since 1916, and Consolidated Textile touched a record low at 3⅛.

Twenty Rails Slip Some

The average of 20 leading rails fell back more than 1½, to 101.13, or just four one-hundredths of 1 point above the year's low. Southern Railway and Texas & Pacific each showed extreme losses of about 3 points, while Chesapeake & Ohio, Atchison, Rock Island, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Southern Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna and several others closed 1 to 2½ points below Saturday's final quotations. Norfolk & Western was run up more than 2 points to 132¾.

Call money held steady at 4 per cent. Time money and commercial paper, unchanged.

Total sales—1,652,700 shares.

WHEAT FALLS EIGHT CENTS

May Delivery Now Down to Dollar Sixty-four; All Cereals Off

CHICAGO, March 16.—Sudden fright over a dearth of buying swept through the entire grain market today at the last, and resulted in big selling and a general upset of values. Wheat fell 8⅛c a bushel from the days' top figures, and closed excited, May delivery $1.64½ to $1.65, and July $1.45¼ to $1.45½, the bottom prices reached 4½c to 6⅜c under Saturday's close. Rye finished at 4½c to 4⅝c net loss; corn, 3¼c to 4c down; oats, 1⅝c to 2¼c off; and provisions varying from 7c down to 27c advance.

Lowest for Long Period

CHICAGO, March 16. — Wheat reacted during the last hour of trading today with the result that closing quotations were the lowest in several weeks. This was due in part to lack of outside buying support on the bulges, and heavy selling and stop-loss selling in the last hour, which turned bull markets into democratized bear affairs.

May wheat, which had opened at $1.67 after Saturday's close of $1.69½, went up to $1.72¾, but closed at $1.64½, which was the low for the day. July stopped at $1.45½.

Local sales were 710,000 bushels, of which 695,000 bushels was for export, this being the largest export sales reported in months.

Corn and oats reflected the action of the wheat market, advancing early only to react sharply late.

When preparing an ad remember the old warning "not to hide your light under a bushel." Don't hide the ad under a bushel of unsuitable type and illustrations. One of the chief ways in which an ad can be made attractive—and get results—is to pay proper attention to the layout.

Don't clutter up every inch of paper trying to say more. This angers the human eye and makes it hard for the eye to follow the message you are trying to get across in your ad. Display your message in an advertisement as a skilled merchant uses in fixing up his store windows.

A game is being arranged here for Friday with the local varsity juniors.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, and Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, Minn., will meet in a 15-round bout at the Milk Fund bouts at the Yankee statium, May 29, providing the managers of the two principals can be given assurance that there is no possibility of a title match with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, before the fall.

This was revealed by Tex Rickard today, following a conference with Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills.

Mullins withheld definite assurance that he would sign articles for the match with Gibbons, until Wednesday.

Wills will receive a guarantee of almost $150,000 for the Gibbons match, Rickard intimated.

ROSSLAND WINS BENEFIT GAME

Trail Defeated Three-Two; Game Staged Benefit Al Keating

ROSSLAND, March 16. — Rossland, British Columbia, amateur hockey champions, defeated Trail here tonight in an exhibition game by a score of three to two. The game was staged for the benefit of Al Keating, former hockey referee in the league, who is at present suffering in the south from rheumatism. More than 400 persons attended the game, while some 700 additional tickets were sold in Trail.

The game was fast and clean, no penalties being awarded by the referee, E. G. Fuller. Lauriente scored for Trail first. Norris later on a pass from Marsters tied up the score. Stevens put Rossland one up when he whiffed the rubber home on Jewell's pass.

In the second period P. R. McDonald scored for Trail on a pass from Dewar. The play continued throughout the period without a score. In the final period, near the end of the game, Molisky netted the winning goal for Rossland. The Elks' band was in attendance.

CANADIENS OFF FOR THE WEST

No Exhibition Game En Route; Will Reach the Coast Friday

MONTREAL, March 15.—Canadiens, awarded the National Hockey league championship for the season after the Hamilton Tigers were declared in default in the final play-off series, left last evening for the west, where they will meet the Western Canada Hockey league champions in defence of the Stanley cup.

Leo Dandurand was in charge of the team, and took along with him 10 players and the club trainer. The players included Captain Sprague Cleghorn; George Vezina, goal; Coutu, defence; Morenz, center; Joliat, wing; W. Boucher, wing; and as substitutes Odie Cleghorn, Mantha, Matz and Headley, and Trainer Eddie Dufour.

The quick departure had been arranged so as to allow the team to engage in possibly one exhibition game en route as a limbering up exercise President Calder refused permission for this, and in any case the advancing of the date for the first game to March 21 eliminated any possible chance for exhibitions.

The team is due in Vancouver Friday morning, and will have a good rest before opening in the first game, Saturday. If Calgary beats out Victoria, the first game may be played at Calgary on Saturday.

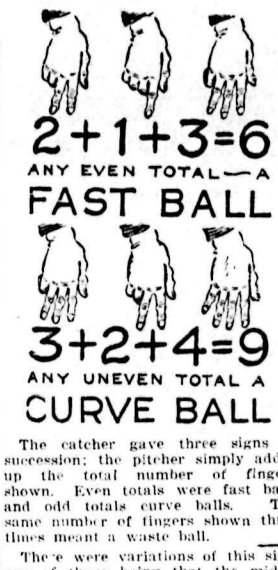
Gowdy Baffled Athletics With These Signals

Probably the first set of "combination" signs ever used by a catcher, were those shown below, originated by George Stallings, Pat Moran, Johnny Evers and Hank Gowyd for the 1914 world series to cross the Athletic base runners who were tripping catchers' signs to the hitter from second base.



The catcher gave three signs in succession; the pitcher simply added up the total number of fingers shown. Even totals were fast balls and odd totals curve balls. The same number of fingers shown three times meant a waste ball.

There were variations of this sign, one of those being that the middle sign alone counted, the first and third being ignored by the pitcher.

Richmond Hill Presbyterians voted for church union by a majority of one.

THREE TEAMS ARE OFFERED NEW YORK

Duggan Has Choice of Three Full Aggregations From Dominion

NEW YORK, March 16.—Announcement that three complete professional hockey teams had been offered to T. J. Duggan, president and owner of the New York Hockey club, and that consideration was to be given shortly to plans for an all-American or new international circuit by New York promotors, were the high lights in hockey circles here over the week-end.

Following a meeting yesterday which was attended by Tex Rickard, Col. T. J. Hammond, representing Madison Square Garden, Mr. Duggan and Tommy Gorman, manager of the New York team, it was announced that Mr. Duggan had closed an exclusive contract for professional ice hockey privileges at Madison Square Garden, and that Mr. Gorman would sign a five-year contract with the New York Hockey club as manager, with a part interest. Messrs Duggan and Gorman will represent New York interests at the meeting of the National Hockey association.

All-America Waits

No action has as yet been taken on the project to form an all-American professional ice hockey league, which would include clubs of such cities as Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, but it is authoritatively stated that a scheme to form such a circuit has been sugested to New York promotors.

WHO'LL PRESECUTE A FRUIT COMBINE?

Not Murdock; Not Manson; It May Be Up to the Growers

VANCOUVER, March 16.—If any action is taken to prosecute the fruit combine, which, according to the report of Federal Commissioner Duncan, operated illegally in restraint of Canadian trade, apparently it will have to betaken by the fruit growers themselves.

Attorney-General Manson stated today in Victoria that the matter is one for the Dominion authorities, while Hon. James Murdock, federal minister of labor, says "It is up to the provinces." The latter adds, however, that if no action is taken by them, then, on the complaint of any person, "The solicitor-general may cause information to be laid, and instruct counsel to prosecute."

While Mr. Manson thinks it is a federal matter, he states, however, that he intends to "see the thing through" to a finish.

The building was a large two-story structure covered with sheet iron. It was about 250 feet long, and 45 feet wide, and was used for storing general supplies. The loss to the building is estimated at $15,000, and the contents at $35,000.

McGREER UPHOLDS PETERSEN SCHEME

Criticizes Opposition of Vancouver Board as Shortsighted

VANCOUVER, March 16.—The proposals of the federal government in regard to the Peterson contract on the North Atlantic were upheld today by G. G. McGeer, K.C., chief counsel for British Columbia in the freight rates case, in an address before the Laurier club. The speaker took to task the Vancouver board of trade and Vancouver members of the house of commons for their opposition to the scheme.

Pointing out that the North Atlantic combine discriminated against Canadian ports, not only in the matter of outgoing freight rates, but also on inbound freight, Mr. McGeer looked upon the Petersen scheme as a good one, and suggested that, as the Canadian government merchant marine vessels were unsuited for North Atlantic trade, this fleet should be concentrqated on the Pacific in an effort to control grain and lumber rates.

The speaker prefaced his remarks with a demand upon the board of railway commissioners for a decision on the freight and express rates.

HOUSE REJECTS A MOTOR DUTY CUT

All Progressives Vote for It; Other Parties Vote It Down

OTTAWA, March 13.—By a vote of 86 to 85 the house of commons tonight rejected a resolution introduced by G. G. Coote, Progressive, Macleod, proposing a substantial reduction in the customs tariff on automobiles and motor trucks, entering Canada. All the Progressives, half a dozen Conservatives, and two Liberals supported the motion.

Mr. Coote, speaking to his resolution, urged that a substantial reduction in the tariff at least on the low priced cars, would result in a reduced price in Canada and increased employment.

Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, thought the resolution could very well have waited until the budget was down. He did not think the customs tariff necessarily regulated the price of autos. He urged that, whoever capitalized factories in Canada, these factories gave employment to and paid taxes to Canadians.
