FRENCH WOMAN POISONER HAS SIX VICTIMS

LABORITES GIVE M'DONALD VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

He Carries Convention by Three to One After Attacks

TELLS CRITICS TO TRY IT THEMSELVES

Government, He Says, Is Very Different From Passing Resolutions

GLOUCESTER, April 13.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Congratulating the late Labor government on its achievements, the Independent Labor party, in convention here today, expressed its confidence in J. Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor party leader, by passing a resolution of congratulation, by 398 votes to 139.

At yesterday's session of the convention, the ex-premier calmly sat and smoked his pipe, while being severely criticized in connection with the late government. Many of the speeches evidently were intended as a challenge to him to go on the platform and defend himself and his former ministers, but he allowed them to pass without a reply.

Today when the attacks were repeated at the convention, Mr. MacDonald deigned to take notice of them, and in the end he won a gratifying victory over his critics by receiving the congratulations of the majority of the delegates present.

Mr. MacDoanld's remarks were entirely dispassionate, in striking contrast to some of the speeches which had been made against him.

Had Other Tasks to Do

In so many words, he told his critics to take the job of the Labor leadership themselves, and see what they could make of it. He said that during the Labor party's nine months of office, the members of the ministry really had only about one-third or one-half of the time to themselves.

"Government," he declared, "is a very different thing from passing resolutions at a convention of the Independent Labor party. The conception you seem to have of the Labor government is that it was a body of men and women who had a straight field before them, and if they failed to move along, they were neglectful of their duty."

A resolution which had been proposed at the convention, prior to the verbal attacks on former Premier MacDonald, to the effect that a universal living wage should be demanded, was touched on by Mr. MacDonald.

He declared that if a bill were introduced in parliament calling for a national minimum wage, such as was advocated by some of the delegates to the convention, the bill would not live half an hour.

Alluding to a question that had been raised as to whether the Labor party ever again should assume office as a minority, Mr. MacDonald said:

"I am not going to put ropes around my neck for other people to pull. If the question arises, we shall consider it in relation to the whole circumstances."

GIRL DRIVES AUTO OVER THE BRIDGE

Three Drown, Two Rescued, in Upper Waters of Red River

FARGO, N.D., April 13.—Three children were drowned, and two others were saved, when the automobile in which they were driving suddenly became unmanageable, and plunged from the bridge across the Red river, at Perley, Minn., yesterday.

The dead are: Arthur, Mildred and Bertha Heggeness, aged 13, 15 and 18, respectively. The bodies of the first two have been recovered, but that of Bertha Heggeness, who was driving the automobile at the time of the accident, has not been found.

Herbert Heggeness, aged 13, and Arthur Rensvold, a cousin of the other children, were rescued from the swirling waters of the river after a strenuous fight against undercurrents.

REICHSTAG FIGURE DIES AT DETROIT

Ashes of Dr. Paascha Will Go to Germany; Documents Are Lost

DETROIT, April 13. — Funeral services were held today for Dr. Paascha, former vice-president of the German reichstag, who died here yesterday. Dr. Paascha was stricken with pneumonia upon his arrival here for a lecture.

The body will be cremated, and president of the trade and labor conwidow, who will leave New York April 16.

An extensive search is being made for documents and photographs said to be of great historical value which Dr. Paascha lost on his arrival here a week ago. The package has not been seen since Dr. Paascha alighted from the train on which he arrived from Chicago.

COMMONS WILL RESUME BUDGET DEBATE TODAY

Ocean Rates Hearing Due Friday; Will Budget Be Carried?

OTTAWA, April 13.—The house of commons resumes its sittings tomorrow afternoon with the debate on the budget still unfinished, and the most strenuous half of the session ahead.

Apart from the division on the budget, main interest will now turn to the inquiry by special commission of the house into the contract between the Dominion government and Sir William Petersen, looking to the control of ocean freight rates, and the coming bill for revision of railway freight rates.

The special committee on ocean rates does not meet again till next Friday, but developments thereafter are expected to be swift. Numerous witnesses will be on hand. Sir William Petersen is on his way from London, and with other prominent shipping men will give evidence. The shipping companies will have a mass of data to submit. W. T. R. Preston, who investigated the north Atlantic "combine" on behalf of the Dominion government, also will be called.

Progressives Oppose

It was hoped that the budget debate would end this week, but unless the waiting list of speakers is curtailed, this is now unlikely.

In view of the fact that Robert Forke, Progressive leader, has announced his opposition to the budget proposals, the vote on the main budget motion will be awaited with unusual interest.

General expectation is that the government will have a majority of a dozen or so. Two years ago, when the main body of Progressives also voted against the budget, the government had a majority of eight.

RUM ROW TRIES TO HIRE PATROL BOAT

Officers Fall in With Plan and Make Rich Haul of Booze

NEW YORK, April 13.—A conspiracy to smuggle liquor from Rum Row aboard a coastguard patrol boat has been discovered, by a coast cutter, following the arrest of two alleged agents of Rum Row on the government patrol boat C. G.-203, and the seizure of 500 cases of champagne and whisky valued at between $100,000 and $150,000.

The men, who gave their names as Harry Corley and George Murphy, both of Manhattan, are said to have offered $4000 to officers of the patrol boat to bring in liquor from a bootlegger supply ship off shore.

Officers on the patrol boat pretended to accept the offer, they said, guiding their craft to the supply ship, and seized the whisky and champagne.

Corbin Miners Form Association of Own; Frame a Wage Pact

VANCOUVER, April 13.—A special to the Province from Calgary says:

"Breaking away entirely from the United Mine Workers of America, miners of the Corbin coal mines in the Crow's Nest Pass district have formed the Corbin Miners' association, and agreed to a rate of wages which will net the company approximately the Fernie rate, according to information given out by George Watkin Evans, general manager of the Corbin mines."

McLURG HASN'T ANSWERED YET

But Premier Armstrong Expects Conference Will be Held Today

HALIFAX, N.S., April 13. — While he had received no word from Vice-President J. E. McLurg of the British Empire Steel corporation, in response to the invitation extended him to attend a conference here tomorrow morning at which International President J. L. Lewis and District President McLeod of the U.M.W.A., would also be present, Premier Armstrong of Nova Scotia tonight expressed his confidence that the meeting would be arranged.

Both Lewis and McLeod have accepted, and the latter has intimated that International Board Member William Hayes of Springhill will also be present.

The premier expressed his regret that T. J. Brown, deputy minister of mines, would be unavoibably absent, but the minister of mines, Hon. William Chisholm, will attend the conference.

CALGARY MINISTERS TO EXHIBIT A FLOAT

CALGARY, April 13.—A float illustrating early Protestant missionary activities in the west will be arranged in the stampede parade, by the Calgary Ministerial association, it was decided at a meeting of the association today.

BRIAND ASKS ANOTHER DAY FOR DECISION

Idea of Forty-eight Hour Ministry Hatched and Abandoned

IT'S NOW UP TO THE SOCIALISTS

They Must Come Off the Fence and Take Office or Be Discredited

PARIS, April 13.—The ministerial crisis is entering upon the fourth day, and the only net result of the three days' consultations between President Doumergue and the most prominent politicians of the left parties has been to put it squarely up to the Socialists whether, with 104 deputies in the chamber, holding the balance of power, they intend to enter a cabinet led by Aristide Briand and assume some of the responsibilities of government.

M. Briand's maneuvering has left the Socialists no way out; they must decide tomorrow and announce exactly where they stand. He has already fastened upon them the responsibility of holding up the formation of a cabinet in time of stress with momentous problems facing parliament.

It was expected that M. Braind, who had been asked to form a cabinet, would give his answer today. But he encountered such difficulties that he was impelled to ask for more time.

He informed the president that he could not give a definite answer until tomorrow afternoon at the earliest, as he is awaiting the decision of the national council of the Socialist party regarding their willingness to participate in the new government.

A Cabinet for One Bill

The idea of forming a "48-hour" ministry for the purpose of presenting before parliament, for its ratification, a bill authorizing the Bank of France to raise the legal unit of circulation from 41,000,000,000 to 45,000,000,000 francs, has been abandoned. The Bank of France's weekly statement on Thursday next again must show more than 43,000,000,000 paper money out.

Close friends of Briand say the negotiations conducted by the seventime premier were aimed, perhaps, more for the purpose of weakening the Socialists than actually forming a cabinet which he knew would be doomed in a short time.

Socialists Cornered

They declare he has maneuvered the Socialists up against the wall, no matter whether he forms a cabinet with or without them; and furthermore, that if M. Painleve, or some other man from the left groups, heads the government with their cooperation, the Socialists will be greatly weakened by the events of the last three days.

The situation is stationary tonight, and probably will be for another 24 hours.

DOUKHOBORS DO NOT STAGE ANY MASS PARADES

Seized Chattels if Not Redeemed, Sold After Five Days' Grace

GRAND FORKS, B.C., April 13.—All has been quietness in the Doukhobor area, at least as affecting the prosecutions by the government for non-school attendance. It had been expected that there would be an attempt at parading yesterday, but such did not take place, except in the usual groups through their own settlements. The leaders refused to discuss the situation, and it is now presumed that the chattels which have been seized will go up for sale following the five days' grace allowed by law.

Enough to Cover Penalties

Motor wagons continued to haul grain and other chattels taken in seizure until late Saturday night, and it is now felt that enough has been taken to realize the amount of the fines, which total nearly $4000, being $100 fine and $7.85 costs in each of the 35 cases dealt with.

Pooley and Ministers in Grand Forks Fight; Premier's Going East

VANCOUVER, April 13.—R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader, will leave shortly to enter the by-election fight in Grand Forks-Greenwood, where J. W. Jones, the noted strategist of South Okanagan, is already helping Dr. C. M. Kingston, Conservative candidate.

Hon. William Sloan and Hon. J. D. MacLean will speak on behalf of Dougal McPherson, Liberal, but the premier, owing to his departure for Ottawa, will not assist.

Only Ontario Fruit to Meet Associated Upon the Prairies

VANCOUVER, April 13. — Following a tour of the prairies by E. J. Chambers of Vernon, president of the Associated growers, plans have been made to have the growers market their fruit direct this year rather than through the jobbers. The Winnipeg jobbers will have only Ontario fruit to handle in opposition.

Inscription Scratched on Board With a Nail Tells of Sinking Ship

MIAMI, Fla., April 13. — Wreck of the steamer New Haven is considered a possibility here with the finding today of a board with the following message on its surface:

"Sinking off Long Key—S. S. New Haven. One lifeboat left, heavy seas, loaded freight. All other boats lost. Captain Nelson."

The inscription evidently had been made with a nail.

No information leading to the identity of the boat is available here.

A HAIRY FURY, PARK BABOON ELECTS DEATH

Joe Tears Bars From Cage; Attacks Crowd; a Shot Ends Six-Hour Chase

NEW YORK, April 13.—Joe, baboon, today chose death in preference to life imprisonment in a cage of the Central Park zoo.

Ninety pounds of concentrated fury, Joe kept a score of keepers and a handful of police reserves at bay for more than six hours. With eerie cunning he refused all blandishments of proffered food and sweetmeats, and deftly dodged a dozen lassoes.

He was finally shot through the heart as he was about to leap from a window of the park monkey house, a stone's throw from Fifth avenue.

Suddenly Runs Amuck

The flawless day had taken many persons to the park, and several hundred, including scores of women and children, were in the monkey house when Joe stopped grimacing at his amused audience, ripped off two of his cell's iron bars, and leaped at the crowd. Screaming men, women and children trampled each other in fighting for the two exits.

A vigilant keeper shut the monkey house doors before the lunging baboon could get through.

Then the chase started, and kept up for six hours, to the accompaniment of the excited screams of the 75 monkeys in the cage.

DENNISTOUN MAY BE SUED AGAIN

American Woman Alleges Breach, but Case May Be Dropped

PARIS, April 13. — Dudley Field Malone, the lawyer who recently announced that an American woman was bringing suit for breach of promise against Col. Ian Dennistoun, defendant in the recent sensational Dennistoun trial in London, refused to confirm or deny reports today that his client had abandoned the action.

When the name of Lois Meredith, motion picture actress, was called to his attention as the client, he was understood to be representing, Mr. Malone remarked:

"I shall always refuse to divulge who my client was."

Malone, who will sail for New York Wednesday, said he would "handle the matter from this side a month hence, when I return." He added: "There is absolutely nothing new on the Dennistoun case."

WELL-KNOWN KASLO WOMAN PASSES

Mrs. Jennie Harris Dies at Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Garland

KASLO, April 13. — Mrs. Jennie Harris, a well-known old-timer of the Kootenays, died yesterday morning here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Garland, after a long illness. Mrs. Harris, who was 68, had been a patient in the Kaslo hospital for some time until a month ago, when she went to her daughter's house, where she remained until her death.

Some years ago Mrs. Harris ran the Sunnyside hotel in Nelson. She was always very much interested in mining, and also in the Doukhobors, until about five year sago, when she had a lawsuit, which she won, with Peter Verigin.

Beside her daughter, Mrs. Garland, she leaves a son, A. Harris of the Slocan. Mrs. Harris was a member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

VANCOUVER, April 12. — The provincial police are investigating a report that Wong Sing, missing houseboy in the Janet Smith murder case, was smuggled across the border into the United States on the night of March 29, and that a motorist has identified his photo as that of the man he took to the boundary woods.

Va., April 13.—State police who investigated an explosion of dynamite near the Continental Coal company's mine at Scott's Park here late tonight found that no damage had been done and that no one was injured. The explosion occurred in an open field. Five men were arrested for questioning concerning the blast.

CHARLES MATTHEWS JR.

Former deputy provincial treasurer of Ontario, now serving a term at Portsmouth penitentiary for misdemeanors during his term of office, during his further examination in prison by a special committee of the legislature, told of a "cigar box" in Provincial Treasurer McGarry's office containing "thousands of dollars." Hon. T. W. McGarry was provincial treasurer under Premier Hearst, Conservative.

SNOW SLIDES ON KASLO LINE CAUSE WASHOUT

Two Occur Eight and Nine Miles Up; at True Blue Mine Also

KASLO, April 13. — Two big snowslides came down on the Kaslo-Nakusp line yesterday at noon, respectively 8½ and 9½ miles above Kaslo. Both covered the C.P.R. tracks and each was 1000 feet wide.

The lower one dammed Kaslo creek with snow, which resulted later in the water cutting a 12-foot gap in the roadbed, which will have to be trestled before service over this portion of the line can be resumed.

In consequence, the train from Kaslo will now run only to Zwicky instead of going to a point beyond these slides, as it has been doing ever since the Rambler slides of several months ago.

There have been numerous slides about this district in the last 10 days owing to the hot weather. A large one came down Thursday at the True Blue mine, a dormant property, seven miles up Kaslo creek.

Peterboro Has a Destructive Snow; Live Wires, Fires

PETERBORO, Ont., April 13.—The heavy snowstorm of yesterday caused considerable damage in the city. The fire department had eight alarms in one hour because of live wires falling against buildings. Many awnings and trees were broken down by the weight of the snow.

UNEMPLOYMENT AMONG NURSES IN ONTARIO

Private Duty Nurses Have Hard Sledding, Annual Convention Admits

LONDON, Ont., April 13.—The unemployment situation among private duty nurses was discussed at a round-table conference held today at the annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses Association of Ontario. So important was the question felt to be that the matter was referred to tomorrow's general session. Among the reasons ascribed for the situation were increased public health activities and increased use of hospitals.

That more recreational facilities and more training in the science of play would lessen the social evils of the day was a suggestion made at the public health conference in the afternoon.

Smythe arrived at Marseilles on March 26, after paddling from Dover across the channel, thence across France by rivers and canals. He encountered much unfavorable weather. At Marsailles Smythe declared he must reach Rome within 30 days to win a wager.

The Fram left Tromsoe, April 9, and her companion ship, the freighter Hobby, with airplanes, has been delayed one day, and she is proceeding more slowly than the other.

Considerable ice was encountered, but "everything well" is reported.

Captain Amundsen, on this expedition, will endeavor to reach the north pole and make records of the arctic regions by airplane.

MINE WORKER REFUTES DUFF

Miners' Contributions to International Quarter of His Estimate

OTTAWA, April 13.—Tom Moore, the United Mine Workers' organizagress of Canada, today received a letter from Philip Murray, first vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, in which Mr. Murray said the assertions of William Duff, Liberal, Lunerburg, in the house of commons recently regarding contributions made by the Nova Scotia miners to the funds of the international organization, were "absolutely false."

Mr. Duff, in his speech, declared that more than $2,000,000 had been sent to the U.M.W.A., and Mr. Moore wrote to international headquarters for the facts.

The Figures

Mr. Murray informs Mr. Moore that since Nova Scotia miners joined the United Mine Workers' organization in December, 1918, until December, 1924, the total contributions were $460,192,40. Mr. Duff is reported to have said that nearly $250,000 had been sent last year from district No. 26, which covered the Nova Scotia fields. Mr. Murray gives the actual figures for last year as follows:

December, 1923, to June, 1924, for dues $40,432,41; special assessments, $7041; June, 1924, to December, 1924, dues, $34,325.75; assessments, $6735. Grand total, $88,534.26.

FRENCH POLICE SAVE POISONER FROM LYNCHING

Woman Posing as Nurse Is Held Responsible for Six Deaths

SHE CONFESSES TO MURDERING THREE

Put Insect Poison in the Food of Neighbors to Inflict Pain

NILES, France, April 13.—Six mysterious deaths in almost identical circumstances recently aroused much speculation among the 800 inhabitants of the ancient town of Saint Gilles. Public suspicion culminated today in the arrest of Antoinette Scierri. The police allege that she has made a confession that she poisoned three persons she was attending as a nurse.

It is declared also by the police that she named Rosa Lee Gire as her accomplice, saying it was Mlle. Gire who suggested the poisoning of their victims, with a preparation used in the district for ridding the grapevines of insects.

Poor Patient First Victim

The Scierri woman arrived in Saint Gilles in November. She was attending a poor woman named Marie Audourard, who died in December after terrible suffering.

Mlle. Scierri then installed herself in Mme. Audourard's room, with her brother-in-law, a man named Rosignol.

On Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Lachapelle, who ran a grocery store, and were friends of Mlle. Scierri, died of poison. Their deaths were attributed to their having eaten birds which were in a state of decomposition.

Rosignol, who was a cartman, left home one day at the beginning of March, taking his dinner with him. He died during the night after he had returned home. Mlle. Scierri said he had eaten mussels.

Neighbors Drink Coffee

At the end of March Mlle. Scierri invited two neighbors, Mme. Martin and Mme. Boyer, to have coffee with her in her room. Mme. Martin died the following day. Mme. Boyer only swallowed a mouthfull of the coffee because, she said afterward, it tasted bitter. Nevertheless she was taken violently ill, and has not yet recovered.

These two women, the evening before they were invited to have coffee with Mlle. Scierri, had eaten mussels, and the police say that suspicions against Mlle. Scierri were somewhat allayed until a woman to whom Mlle. Scierri had given her child to rear, a Mme. Gouin, died with symptoms resembling those which had been noted in the cases of the five other persons who died.

Claims Deaths Profited Her

The townspeople were furious, and the police saved Mlle. Scierri from lynching by placing her in prison, when she admitted having murdered the Lachapelles, and her brother-in-law lover, Rosignol.

By these deaths, the police credit the woman with admitting, she obtained 800 francs.

The Gire woman denies having been an accomplice. She says that she herself was taken ill after having drunk wine one day at Mlle. Scierri's home.

The police say that Mlle. Scierri has a morbid passion for inflicting suffering. They express the belief that her alleged crimes yielded her nothing. The woman's story that she obtained 800 francs on the death of Lachapelle and his wife and Rosignol.

OTTAWA, April 13. — Premier King returned here today after a brief holiday in the south.

MOTHERS LIKE TO TREAT COLDS WITH VAPORS

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Inflamed Air Passages.

It is no longer necessary constantly to dose the children in treating croup, throat, or deep bronchitis, sore chest colds. Many Canadian mothers now use the "outside" remedy, Vicks VapoRub, for the cold troubles of all the family, because it is just rubbed over the throat and chest—there is nothing to take. When so applied Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and making the breathing easier.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

SUSPEND NURMI; BROKE A DATE

Finn Is Laid Up With a Cold; Reconsideration Is Asked

NEW YORK, April 13.—Paavo Nurmi, olympic middle-distance running champion, has been suspended by the western association of the Amateur Athletic union for failure to appear at the Knights of Columbus games in St. Louis yesterday.

Word of the action was received by the national president, Murray Hulbert, today from Robert Probst, chairman of the western registration committee.

Nurmi, who suffered from a cold in his recent races in Ottawa and Detroit, is now at the home of a relative here.

Secretary Fred Rubien of the union made a personal investigation, and wired the St. Louis officials he was reluctant to insist that Nurmi make the journey.

President Hulbert, on receipt of the news that the Finn had been suspended, telegraphed a request that the western association reconsider its action.

'ROAD TO LOVE'

By ELENORE MEHERIN

CHAPTER XLIV.

As they started down the slope, Jim Parks and Opol just ahead, Nick and the blonde a little behind, Denny was disturbingly aware of the girl's hand pressed on his arm.

He was uncomfortable; wished he had broken away; hoped Steve wouldn't see him and guy him before Katy. The girl held to his arm, made no attempt to speak. He began searching uneasily for conversation.

"Enjoy the rally?" he asked carelessly.

The girl turned a face like a bright flower to him—reddish hair, light brown eyes ,a clear petal-like skin.

"Yes, very much. I love crowds," she spoke in a slow, measured tone as though her words were of great importance.

This and the glimpse of her face piqued his interest. Why, had such a pretty, quiet girl walked up and put her hand on his arm? Did she go to college? Was she in the habit of acquiring escorts in this manner? His curiosity was aroused.

"That was a great talk Roberts made wasn't it?" he sparred, hoping to learn who and what she was.

"Which one is Roberts? I don't know him."

"Yes—the yell leader."

"Oh—it was fine. But I like the singing better than speeches. You're a college student?"

"Yes—are you?"

"No—none of us are. We just came out for the rally." She seemed unwilling to talk further. A few feet in front of them Jim and Opal sauntered arm in arm, laughing like old friends. The poise of them affronted Denny's pride.

They took the north path through the trees toward Ridge road. Jim called back: "Follow us!"

"He's going to make a party of this," Denny thought, remembering suddenly the unfinished problem and the work he had left at the chemistry lab. He grew restless.

Jim Parks had a big attic studio where he lived, studied, dispensed hospitality to a choice circle of friends. He was leading the way there now.

"Where are we going?" the girl asked, her hand tightening on his sleeve . The two others had started up a flight of narrow steps climbing fantasticaly up the side of the house to a great octagonal room built like a belfry on the roof. These were Jim's quarters.

With her foot on the step, she drew back: "Oh, I'm afraid."

Denny was ready to terminate the adventure. It had taken an unpleasant turn. The walk was well enough, but he had no particular wish to bring this girl whom he didnt' know and who appeared so quiet, into Park's studio . They would probably stay till midnight; he would never get his word finished.

With almost too quick a relief he faced about:

"Dont' go in there,

"Don't go in, then. You don't have to."

The girl hesitated: "I can't leave them. I came with them."

Nick Breeden and the blonde reached the house, saw Denny starting down.

"What"s up?" Nick asked. "Devil of a fine fellow you are, breaking up the show.' '

Denny shrugged. The frowsy little blonde glared at the other girl.

"What are you pulling, Billie?"

"Nothing!" The girl who had walked with Denny answered:

"Let's go in."

They went up the steps.

From the room came a sing-song rag . . . a husky contralto voice accompanying the phonograph to the tune of "The Oceana Roll." Opal, snapping her fingers, her shoulders swaying, stood before an immense fish net stuck with pictures. She turned as they entered; heavy black eyes and vivid mouth sparkling:

"Say, isn't this some bird of a place Jim has?"

Jim was standing at a shelf built like a table against the wall. He was mixing drinks:

"Here you are, Opal!" He came over with a small tray, offered the cocktails.

The little blonde whisked hers down, began walking around the room, looking at the posters, the phonoprahps.

With a momentary sense of guilt Denny held the glass to the girl, Billie. She took it, but didn't drink.

"A pose," he thought, with a touch of contempt. "What is she doing with these?" Yet her face was so fresh, so pretty.

"Don't you want it?" he asked.

"Yes," she raised it quickly, drank it with a gulp, took the second that Opol brought over, then began to talk rather freely: "Let's have some more music. Oh, I'd like a big net like this. Isn't' this fun? Do many of you have rooms like this?"

Denny wound up the phonograph. The others were sitting on a couch. Opol had taken off her hat, her black hair in three buns, one at either ear, one at the nape of her neck. With their arms about each other the four were swaying back and forth in tune to the music. They were all laughing hilariously.

"Say, get in the party, Billie! Come on in! The water's fine!" The blonde whose name was Betty snapped her feet up and down. "Bring her over, Den! I'll show you!"

She jumped up, caught Denny's arm, pulling the two of them to the couch. He was a little angered. As though he didn't know what was what!

"Cheap layout," he thought impatiently. But Billie was delighted, and clung to his arm repeating:

"Isn't this fun. Betty's the limit!"

Betty was now looking over Jim's shoulder, giggling and saying: "Well, wait till you see the next one and the next!" They were looking over small snapshots Opal had taken from her pocket. The pictures were passed to Denny.

Photographers of Opal and Betty in diving costume. Billy blushed, tried to take them from him. It struck him as highly amusing. He closed his hand tightly on them.

"Please don't look at them now. She put her hands over his, glancing up with a quick pleading. Without turning them he put the snapshots in her lap.

"Thanks!" She let her face rest against his shoulder, her hair brushing his cheek. He glanced at the soft skin, the softer mouth and wondered.

He was baffled, impatient to have done with the affair. Opal and Jim had moved to a sofa in an alcove, the girl's husky voice singing dreamily. Betty and Nick Breeden sat with their arms about each other, drinking from the same glass.

Billie, with her fresh skin and pretty eyes, her uncertain manner, seemed out of place.

"Are you mad with me?"

She tucked her hand cozily in his. "I know you're not!"

Then Betty got up, whirled about, "I'm on my way, Nicky boy!"

From the alcove came a hearty, "So long, then! See you next week."

Denny got up with a distinct sense of relief. "Do you want to go?"

"Yes, Betty and I room together."

It was 11:30. Thank heaven, they were out in the air—a breeze. He would take the girl home ar make the last car back.

They got on the car. There were but five or six passengers inside. The drink excited Betty. She talked and giggled in loud mirth. Denny

"Let's go outside," he said hastily.

"Yes, let's," Billie answered. She was abashed.

put her arm through his, settled herself comfortably against his shoulder.

"Didn't we have a swell time, though? And, you know, I was afraid going in there. Betty's the limit."

"Have you known her very long?"

"Not very. You know about those pictures? Betty and Opal are in a diving stunt this month, and that's how they happened to have them."

"Are you in the diving stunt, too?"

"No—I'm going to business college now."

"How did you happen to meet them?"

"Oh, when I first came down, I met them at a dance."

"You're from the country?"

"Yes."

"If you're afraid of going places why do you chase around with these girls?"

"Oh, I won't always be afraid. They're fine. They've been awfully good to me and they know a swell crowd. They have lots of fun!"

A wistful note in her voice roused him. Perhaps it wasn't all pose. Her hand was soft in his.

As they got off the car, Breeden whispered: "We'll be along later. Don't be slow, Den. You're in strong there."

He didn't answer.

They walked to a big two-story rooming house. He took off his hat, bidding her goodnight.

"Wait a minute." She held his hand. "Wait till I light the light. I'm afraid to go in alone."

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me in other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine, and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Jos. H. Kidd, Box 56, Crandall, Manitoba.

Don't Squeeze Black-Heads—Dissolve Them

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxine powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash and the skin will be left soft and off, and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, the pores in their natural condition.

Accomplishing the feat was such a shock that the hen died a few hours later. 'Two More Payments and the Baby's Ours'

Twenty years have just been rounded out since the city of Nelson issued the first block of debentures, amounting to $150,000, for the municipal power plant to be constructed at Bonnington falls. A second issue of $50,000 a year and a half later completed the plant as originally schemed, with one electrical unit. A third issue of $85,000 constructed a second unit. The power house, without further extension, can take a third unit when required, and the layout permits of an addition that could house a fourth.

The handing over of $150,000 from the sinking fund duly provided, on April 1, to meet the first block of debentures, was really an event and should have been signalized in some way, for now the plant's cost has been more than half met. In 3½ years the last block will have been retired, and the plant, which cost $285,000, at a time when material was cheap and wages were low, will be wholly Nelson's, without encumbrance.

Like the fond young mother of the cartoon, whose hubby announced he had paid the doctor $20, collective Nelson might well exclaim:

"Just think, dear! Two more payments and the baby is ours!"

In its 18 years of operation the power plant's gross revenue has amounted to $1,186,503, annual gross credits ranging from $44,163 in the first year, 1907; up to $70,717 in 1914, down to $46,189 in the war year of 1918 and up to $100,830 for 1924.

As things are running now, around $25,000 a year clear above operating expenses and carrying charges is earned by the power and light department, to lessen the amount required to be raised by taxation. Carrying charges, in the shape of interest and sinking fund payments, have been around $26,000 a year. Thus in the year 1929, supposing volume of business to be the same, the city, on the basis of the present light and power rates, will have a surplus from that department of $50,000.

Whether the surplus of that day will be wholly returned to the ratepayers through lessened taxation for other services, or will be partly given back to the consumers in lower rates, or will be partly applied to the creation of a reserve toward the next extension, is a problem for that day, not this. It will be a pleasing problem, to have money to dispose of.

Nelson may congratulate itself on having had John Houston, among others, to set it on the path of ownership of such a utility; which utility, for one feature, at a time when other municipalities have been in straits for funds and have been applying to the government for new sources of revenue, has put Nelson financially among municipalities to be envied.

The Distance of Mira

Astronomers differ as to whether Mira is 30 billion or 21 billion times as big as the earth. And, on an important question of that kind we don't like to see a star of such magnitude kicked this way and that by astronomers as though it were a college football.—Ottawa Evening Journal.

Obey the Law or Get Out

Doukhobors of British Columbia declare they will not send their children to school. If attempts are made to force them, they say they will stage a nude parade in protest.

The dangerous thing about the presence of the Doukhobor in British Columbia is not his aversion to schools nor his propensity to travel in the raw, but his contempt for the laws of the country.

The question is bigger even than the question of education. It is bigger than the question of superficial decency. It is a question of whether or not people who are absolutely lacking in respect for law can ever become desirable citizens of Canada.

If the Doukhobors hold our school laws in contempt, they must necessarily hold all our laws in contempt. And, if their familiar deity commands them to raise their children in gross ignorance, there is no telling when he may command them toward other strictures of the law that may have an even wider-reaching effect on the life of this Dominion.

The situation will not be solved simply by jailing a few recalcitrant fathers and mothers, and dragging off a few miserable children to learn how to read and write.

The only way to deal with these people is to lay down a blanket ultimatum and stick to it:

"Obey the laws of the country or get out."—Vancouver Sun.

A Slipping Ministry

An influential member of parliament at Ottawa who broke away from his party two years ago because he disapproved of the fiscal policy of the King government, has openly returned to the fold to support the budget proposals of this year. He does not pretend to like these proposals, but swallows them lest the government of his party should be defeated. To him party counts before country. The government has signalized the return of this prodigal by making him chairman of the Petersen committee, in the hope no doubt that here too he will put party before country. It is doubtful if the Petersen proposal can be maintained even before this committee of the government's own choice, and the casting vote of the chairman may prove invaluable. —New Westminster British Columbian.

Daily Reader—What is the value of a sampler worked in 1734? Also, how are they used?

Answer—You would have to have it appraised by the proprietor of an antique store. Framed samplers are as interesting on the wall as pictures and I am particularly fond of seeing them hung in hallways.

A. A.—Would it be safe to dry clean my red canton crepe dress at home? It is beaded on front and sleeves.

Answer—The home woman is generally successful in washing such dresses in a basin of gaoline (doing the work out-of-doors, never near heat or flame). But beading complicates matters, for after the garment has hung on the line for several days (in order to allow the gasoline odor to evaporate) it must be pressed and it is most difficult to press a beaded dress properly. Perhaps it would be best to send it to a professional cleansing establishment. I cannot tell you what this would cost you, but I believe the results would be worth the price.

R. K.—What removes at fat stain from a silk crepe dress?

Answer—Gasoline, benzine, chloroform or ether. The two last named fluids never leave a "ring", but the two first named sometimes do.

A Faithful Reader—Is it possible to feed three adults properly on $10 a week?

Answer—As I have said before, in this column, the housekeeper should allow $5 per person in her food budget. Of course, if you are to have a kitchen garden, or keep chickens, it could be done on less than $15. But it is never economy, in the long run, to cut down table expenses. Cut on carfare, clothes, amusements—anything else!. Health comes first. Sometimes we put into doctor's bills what we save in a food budget.

Mrs. G.—Is there anything that will straighten celluloid knitting needles?

Answer—Yes. Hold them in the steam from a boling kettle of water and straigten them with your fingers, then plunge them into cold water at once, to harden. Remember, though, that celluloid is very inflammable and must never be held near open flame.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Too Much Acid

One of the words you hear almost every day now is acidosis. In former days you complained about certain pains in the abdomen, perhaps a "sour" stomach or intestine, perhaps spoke about heartburn, biliousness and extra desire for air, and so forth.

In former days also your parents very wisely, although ignorant of the causation, gave you some baking soda, just to "sweeten" up your system.

This condition is now so well understood by your physician and by yourself that you know that there is too much acid in the blood. The blood in its normal condition is slightly alkaline. It will handle a considerable quantity of extra acids in the system, because it has what is known as an alkaline "reserve."

When, however, this reserve gets used up, then symptoms such as mentioned above ensue.

Our research men are now in a position to estimate the amount of acidosis in the system. The acids are removed mainly by the kidneys and the lungs. An apparatus that measures the amount of carbon dioxide in the air in the lungs estimates at the same time the amount or degree of acidosis.

When too much acid gets into the blood it naturally attacks the alkaline contents, and the result is an overdose or increased amount of this waste gas, carbon dioxide.

Now, this gas must be thrown off because it is very poisonous. Therefore the center in the brain that controls the lungs immediately notifies the lungs to get busy and throw this gas out of the system. Thus when the blood comes to the lungs to be purified the lungs are working faster than usual, so as to get rid of this waste gas. That is the reason that one of the symptoms of acidosis is this feeling that you need more air, you are air hungry, as it is called.

Aside from keeping down on the amount of acid-forming foods, fat should likewise be eaten sparingly, fat in any form—that is, in meat, milk or eggs—where little or no exercise is taken. This is very necessary, as the fats do not get completely burned and form acids. Plenty of water is wise, taken in small quantities throughout the day.

Doukhobor Women Overlook Rights of the Children

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Kindly grant me a small space in your valuable paper in which to reply to a letter appearing in your issue of Thursday, the 9th inst., in which some of the Doukhobor women appeal for sympathy and leniency in their present difficulty, viz.: the question of sending their children to school.

They give as their main reason that it is against the teaching of our Lord Jesus Christ.

That is absolutely untrue. Our Lord was a Jew, and we know that Jewish children were well educated. They were taught to read and write, and were thoroughly acquainted with the Jewish law. Jesus was no exception.

At the tender age of 12 years, his parents found him in the temple at Jerusalem sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them and asking them questions. And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. (St. Luke ii., 46-47.) Then in St. Luke iv., 16, our Lord stands up to read the lesson in the synagogue at Nazareth, and sits down to preach on it, as was the custom in those days.

On all occasions our Lord urges upon his hearers the necessity for them to obey the civil laws.

Community Itself Has Laws

Do the Doukhobors think that laws are unnecessary? Surely, as a community, they have laws which must be observed by all their members. In the same way, it is essential that a country should have laws; and it is equally essential that these laws should be kept by all; otherwise they are of no avail.

The main fear in the minds of our Doukhobor friends seems to be that they may lose some of their chattels or suffer some slight material inconvenience in consequence of their refusal to obey our laws.

Even Monetary Benefit Misjudged

They do not realize that what their children would learn at school would be of far more benefit to them eventually, than their services in the field at the present time. The development of a child's character and the building up of a fuller life made possible by the free education offered by the government of Canada are advantages not realized by these people. Surely the mothers who cannot speak our language, and who are unable to read or write, are conscious of a serious handicap, and should welcome the opportunity that their children should not suffer in the same way!

There is no doubt but that every true English-speaking woman hopes that the government will insist that every child in Canada (Doukhobors included) shall receive a school education.

Keeping little ones from school so that they may assist in the fields savors too much of slavery to receive the approval of British women.

They say that the government of British Columbia is trying to ruin them. That, again, is false. The government only requires them to keep the laws.

From every point of view, a good education is an asset, and need not unfit a person for manual labor. So, why deny to the Doukhobor children what will undoubtedly bring a blessing and happiness into their lives?

Recreation Club Is Planned for Creston

CRESTON, April 13. — A meeting is to be held shortly at which an effort will be made to form a Creston recreation club. For a start it is hoped to feature tennis and lawn bowling—the latter being a new undertaking in the village.

What Quebec Man Says After Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. T. Simard found Dodd's Kidney Pills beneficial and suitable to his needs.

ST. URBAIN, Que., April 13.—(Special.)—After suffering for over two years from kidney trouble, Mr. T. Simard, a well-known resident here, is again in good health, which he attributes to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was always tired and nervous," Mr. Simard states, "and for some time my memory was failing. I was depressed and low-spirited, my limbs were heavy and I had dragging pains across my loins.

"I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have found them very beneficial and suitable to my needs. I am quite well now and work in comfort."

The road to good health lies through the kidneys. If they are kept strong and well all the impurities are strained out of the blood. But if they are weak and out of order, the impurities stay in the blood and disease is sure to follow. Don't delay; let Dodd's Kidney Pills keep you fit.

NEW YORK IS ADMITTED TO CANADA HOCKEY

Negotiations for Eighth Club Are Proceeding as Well

NATIONAL LEAGUE REVISING RULES

Eddie Gerard Proposes Code Changes Regarding Center Ice Play

MONTREAL, April 13.—The New York Hockey club was granted a franchise to play in the National Hockey league next season at the semi-annual meeting of that body held Saturday. T. P. Gorman, newly elected manager of the New York club, was elected a director of the National Hockey league, representing New York.

The admitting of the American organization has brought the league to a seven-team basis, and negotiations are now under way to bring the loop up to eight clubs.

Contrary to expectations, the meeting did not consider the question of the proposed new international league fostered by Eddie Livingstone of Toronto, and in connection with which Newsy Lalonde's name was mentioned as the manager of the Montreal team to operate in the new loop.

Confirm Action on Hamilton

The league confirmed the action of the Hamilton club owners, and President Frank Calder, in suspending and fining the playing members of the Hamilton team for their refusal to enter the final playoff games for the National Hockey league championship last March unless they were given $200 each for their services in the two game series.

Uniform rules for hockey were discussed at length, the question arising out of action taken at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association last month, the amateur body having approached the heads of both the National Hockey league and Western Canada Hockey league in the matter. A committee to go thoroughly into the question of rules was appointed, consisting of President Frank Calder, Art Ross, Leo Dandurand and Eddie Gerard.

Gerard presented a plan to unify the hockey code so that it will be acceptable to both pros and amateurs.

Alter Blue Lines

Gerard's scheme provides for the ice being divided into three areas, as at present. The differences are these:

He would increase the length of the center area from 40 to 50 feet, and instead of having the blue lines straight across the ice, he would extend them from the mid-line to a point along the board 50 feet from center ice. This would make the center or no-off side area 25 feet in length each way from the center on an imaginary line lengthways along the ice, but on the boards the line would be 50 feet, the lines being V-shaped toward each goal.

In connection with his scheme, Gerard also provides for an anti-defence rule, a change which is being viewed with favor these days. He would only allow the goalkeeper and two defence men between the blue line and the goal to await a rush, the center players being allowed to fall back only as far as the point of the V.

CLOUDBANK WINS AT KEMPTON PARK

Takes Queen's Prize by a Head Over Eastern Monarch

LONDON, April 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—By a head, Cloudbank, James White's 3-year-old chestnut colt, today won the Queen's prize, the feature of the Kempton Park spring meeting, Eastern Monarch, Sir Bullough's bay colt, was second, finishing a length ahead of Wandering Monk, C. Anson's chestnut colt.

Twelve horses started, Cloudbank being quoted at 5 to 1 against and Eastern Monarch and Wandering Monk 7 to 1 against.

The Queen's prize handicap of 1000 sovereigns is the premier event of the Kempton spring meet, and a very popular fixture. The race is run over the mile and a half course.

NAKUSP CREEKS RUN FULL FORCE

Snow Still Deep in Hills; Summit Lake Still Ice Coated

NAKUSP, April 13. — While the snow has disappeared from most of the railway lines in the district, the line between Nakusp and Rosebery still has a large amount along its banks, especially up in the mountains around Summit.

Summit lake, which is a large expanse of water, is still covered with its ice surface, although the ice is now pretty well rotted. Beaver creek, which runs through Beaver meadows and on into Slocan lake, is a roaring torrent, and is several feet deep. Along its banks in some places the snow still lies three feet deep. This particular creek has swollen greatly in the past few days.

Rumor Railway Line Kootenay Landing to Procter to Be Built

CRESTON, April 13. — The C.P.R. has now two work trains on the run through here from Canyon to Kootenay Landing, hauling earth and rock for a continuance of the filling in that has been in progress at the long trestle at Kootenay Landing for at least the past four years.

Walter Lawrie, assistant at the Creston depot, has been shifted to Canyon, and is in charge of the telegraphic work in connection with handling these extra trains at that point, with Bob Beaton of Cranbrook replacing him at Creston.

The rumor persists more strongly than usual that this year will see the C.P.R. starting on construction of the line around the lake to connect the Landing with Procter by rail.

Markets and Finance

STOCK PRICES TEND TO RALLY

Demand Centers Largely in Specialties; Several New Peaks

NEW YORK, April 13. — Rallying price tendencies characterized the opening of the new week in the stock market. The demand centered largely in the specialties and the motors, several of the latter attaining new peak prices for the year.

Further weakness cropped out in the northwestern rails, but the selling of these issues failed to unsettle the rest of the list. Maxwell Motors "B" was bid up nearly 4 points to a new high record at 67½, and then sagged about 1½ points from the top. Maxwell "A" duplicated its recent high of 104, but slipped back later to 103 for a small fractional loss. Hudson was bid up more than 2 points, to a new top at 47¾.

United States Steel common closed a point higher at 115⅛. Baldwin closed more than 2 points up, at 115¾. American Sugar jumped 4 points to a new record high for the year at 71. Ludlam Steel responded to reports of increased earnings by advancing 2 points, to 25¼.

Revival of selling in Chicago & Northwestern, which was hammered down to a new low at 47⅝, took place in the face of reassuring statements regarding the safety of the dividend by officials of the road. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Chicago Great Western and the Western Pacific issues closed fractionally lower.

Call money opened at 4 per cent, then dropped to 3½. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

Total sales—801,400 shares.

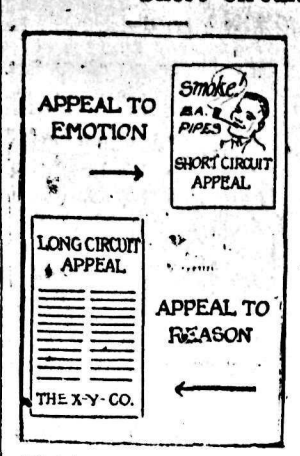
Two Types of Ad Appeal; Long and Short Circuit



What is meant by "long circuit appeal" and "short circuit appeal" in advertising?

* * *

In general, it may be said that long circuit appeal advertising appeals to the reason while short circuit appeal advertising appeals to the emotions.

If the message of the advertiser is a short, vivid one which can be told in a few words it almost always depends on its appeal for its emotional effect. Cigaret, perfume and toilet accessary ads usually use this appeal.

An ad which captivates your interest by some startling phrase and then goes into a discussion of the merits of the product it is advertising, is a long circuit appeal ad. Several motor manufacturers have put out some very good ads of this type recently. A careful study is necessary to determine which type should be used for any particular advertisement and product.

FRUIT JOBBERS THREATEN GET STATES FRUIT

Winnipeg Jobbers Express Unconcern Over Action of Associated

WINNIPEG, April 13. — Reports of an impending price war in the fruit trade as the result of the attitude of the Associnetd Growers of Vernon, B. C., planning to sell direct to retailers on the prairies, are not worrying local traders.

Herbert Emery, president of the Winnipeg Fruit Jobbers, stated today: "The fruit jobbers here are not worrying over the future of their business, even in view of the attitude of the Associated growers toward the organized trade of Winnipeg."

The new situation, however, may force the Winnipeg jobbers to handle more United States fruit, according to one of the leadding jobbers.

Local retail store managers have evidenced great interest in the British Columbia organization's plans, and declare that the cost of fruit to the consumers will be cut considerably.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO WEST UNIVERSITIES

Dr. Hincks, Hygiene Director, Says Point Grey Finest Site Ever

TORONTO, April 13.—Dr. C. M. Hincks, medical director of the Canadian national committee for medical hygiene, returned today from a tour of the western provinces, upon which he was accompanied by Edwin Embree, of the Rockefeller foundation. Dr. Hincks devoted much of his time to a study of the western universities and was much impressed by them.

"Canadians have reason to be proud of their seats of higher education," said Dr. Hincks. "The University of British Columbia has the finest location of any university on the continent, and it has also some splendidly developed departments."

The University of Alberta, he said, was distinguished for its medical school and research activities.

Dr. Hincks was also enthusiastic about the Universities in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The hygiene movement, he said, was doing well in the west, particularly in Manitoba, where there is being evolved a splendid system of training hospital nurses in the care of mental cases.

RESUME INQUEST M'CLINTOCK NOW

This Will Be Followed by One Upon Body of His Mother

CHICAGO, April 13.—A coroner's jury this week will resume its inquest in the death of William Nelson McClintock, young millionaire, as the start of the final steps preceding the arraignment of William Shepherd on a charge of causing his death by administration of typhoid germs.

The jury, which was summoned today, had little left to consider prior to rendering its verdict.

When first inquest is finished, another will be held on findings in the death of Mrs. Anna Nelson McClintock, "Billy's" mother, whose exhumed body was found to contain a large quantity of mercury poison, Coroner Wolff said.

M'TIGUE SIGNS FOR BERLENBACH

After Two Years Dodging Will Take Ring in a Title Bout

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mike McTigue, world's light-heavyweight champion, tonight signed a contract to meet Paul Berlenbach, New York, light-heavyweight, in a 15-round match at the Yankee stadium May 29 as the headliner for the annual milk fund bouts, according to an announcement by Tex Rickard.

The match will be for the world's championship, and will mark the first time since 1923, when McTigue fought Young Stribling, that the 175-pound champion has defended the title he won by outpointing Battling Siki in Dublin in March, 1923.

McTigue was recently reinstated by the state athletic commission after a year under the ban for his refusal to accept a challenge filed against him by Gene Tunney. His reinstatement was brought about with the stipulation that he would meet any opponent the commission selected within 60 days of the reinstatement.

Open Ball Field Honoring Gowdy First to Enlist

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)

Hank Gowdy field, the baseball section of the new infantry stadium at Camp Benning, Ga., was opened April 1 with a game between the New York Giants and the world's champion Senators. Hank was the first big league ball player to enlist in the world war.

Among other relics, Hank brought back from overseas the story of a red-headed Irish "striker," or orderly, of an American commanding officer. The French were relieving the American troops in the trenches in one of the sectors along the front. There was quite a ceremony attending this event, which ended when the different officers had a dinner at a small hotel in the town. As they were taking leave from each other, with much elaborate handshaking and gesticulating, the Germans started to bombard the town and the shells began to drop dangerously near.

Red, the American commander's "striker," became increasingly impatient and nervous as the shelling became closer and more frequent. Finally he could keep still no longer. "Let's beat it, general," he chirped. "Do your visiting some other time."

The Osaka Mainichi baseball team of Japan is planning a tour of the United States. They will reach San Francisco in May.

BANK HOLIDAY FOOTBALL HAS DRAWS GALORE

West Bromwich Passes Huddersfield; Second String Deadlocked

LONLON, April 13.—(Canadian Press Cable)—"Bank holiday" football produced the customary small scores that are looked for near the close of the season.

In eight games played in the senior department, only 11 goals were registered, and the same thing goes for the lower string. Despite that, only two games were drawn—both scoreless—in the first division, while the second produced a crop of five indecisive encounters.

The net result of the contests was to leave the league race as much in the air as ever.

West Bromwich Albion took two points from Arsenal this afternoon, and by virtue of this they were able to jump over Huddersfield Town into first place, but the Town were not engaged today. Tomorrow they play a return game with Bury.

Five Draws in Second

In the second division, Derby County and Leicester City still remain deadlocked. The City were unable to do more than divide the points with Southampton, while Derby County could not avenge their defeat sustained last Friday at the hands of South Shields, and were also forced to split the points. This left the situation in the second division exactly as it was. Nor did Manchester United register the improvement that was expected of them, as Chelsea played them to a goalless draw on the Pensioners' field.

Cardiff, Sheffield Repeat

With regard to the cup finalists, Cardiff City demonstrated that their recent record was more than a fluke by taking Sunderland into camp. On the other hand, Sheffield United succumbed to Newcastle, at Bramall Lane, a circumstance that bodes little good for the "blades" when the final tilt is played at Wembley on April 25.

West Ham were defeated on their own field by Liverpool, while Arsenal, as intimated, went down to West Bromwich. The spurs were not engaged.

HOLDOUT SIGNS

BALTIMORE, April 13.—Tommy Thomas, holdout pitcher of the Baltimore Internationals, today signed his 1925 contract.

EIGHT DIAMONDS ARE READY FOR 'PLAY BALL' CRY

East Meets East and West Meets West When Majors Open Today

NEW YORK, April 13.—Eight immaculate baseball battlefields are ready for war, and 16 well-conditioned armies await the zero hour tomorrow.

The national game, buried under football gridirons, rinks and tracks during the winter months, bursts forth once again in all its glory—the sun pouring into the bleachers, the fans cheering and hooting at once, and the players grim crusted, sweating in seething conflict.

West meets west and east meets east in the games tomorrow, the first of a warfare which will endure six months. The ranks in the early days will be depleted by injuries and illness, but will come to full strength when the sun is warmest.

As the seasonal conflict gets under way, the eyes of a quarter of a million enthusiasts will be upon the traditional foes. The Yankee stadium in New York, baseball's greatest structure, is expected to receive the largest throng, for there the world champions of 1924 will do battle with the Yanks.

Menawhile, the Giants meet the Boston Braves at the gigantic park in Boston, where another enthusiastic crowd is predicted.

Where They Play

The opening day games are:

American League

Washington at New York.
Chicago at Detroit.
Cleveland at St. Louis.
Boston at Philadelphia.

National League

New York at Boston.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at Cincinnati.

For the second time in three seasons the campaign will be started without the greatest of home-run hitters, Babe Ruth, in the lineup of the Yanks. Two years ago Ruth was disciplined by Commissioner Landis for participating in barnstorming exhibitions after the regular season. He appeared after several weeks of the schedule had flown. Today the Yankee outfielder lies on a hospital cot, suffering the after-effects of influenza which twice had sent him toppling into unconsciousness.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, for nine years the American league's leading batter, is also a victim to illness; while Walter (Rabbit) Maranville, will be unable to take his position with the Chicago Cubs, having suffered a broken leg in training. Denver Grigsby of the Cubs has a broken collar bone; Joe Hauser, first baseman of the Athletics, has a broken knee cap, and Fred Heimach of the Athletics has a sprained right shoulder.

BRAVES RELEASE STUFFY McINNES

Old First-Sacker of Connie Mack Free to Seek Best Job

BOSTON, April 13.—Stuffy McInnes, first baseman of the Boston Braves, who refused to go south with the National league club this spring on account of a salary cut, has been unconditionally released, according to an announcement tonight by Emil E. Fuchs, vice-president of the club.

In making his announcement tonight the vice-president said:

"In view of the long service of Stuffy McInnes, in order that he may give his services to any club which shall offer him the best terms, and to his best advantage and interests, the Boston National league club has today given Player John P. McInnes his unconditional release."

The contract sent to McInnes at his home in Manchester, Mass., this season, mentioned a smaller figure than was paid him in 1924, and he insisted that the former salary be restored.

SIXTEEN TEAMS AWAIT OPENING

Ranks Decimated of Some First Rank Stars; Off Tuesday

NEW YORK, April 13.—The 16 teams of the two major baseball leagues were home tonight from their long training grind in the south. Some were still camped a few miles from their own fields, but they were, nevertheless, near enough to feel the pulse of the welcoming fans who will send them away on their drives for the National and American league championships tomorrow.

In spite of accidents which have shunted many of the game's favorites to the sidelines, managers in both leagues pronounced the majority of their athletes in excellent physical condition for the six months' struggle.

Probably never before have so many recognized stars been hurt in the practice games of the southern tours as this year.

But although opening-day enthusiasm should be somewhat dampened Frisch, Cobb, Maranville, Hauser, by the probable absence of Ruth, Groh and others, hope was held forth that they would return to the lineups of their respective teams before the end of next week.

FRANCE LOSES FOURTH MATCH NARROW EDGE

In Second Half All Over England; Latter Third in League

PARIS, April 13.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Thirty thousand rugby football fans thronged the Colombes stadium here this afternoon and saw the last of the international games go to England, after a gruelling match, by 13 points to 11.

France sustained their fourth defeat of the season, each of the other countries having overwhelmed the Gauls. At the same time, notwithstanding their victory, England were unable to put themselves in the position of runners-up to Scotland, their place being taken by Ireland by virtue of better scoring average.

The English fifteen took the field as published, but several changes were made in the French team, and the general run of the game revealed that these changes were justified. Play opened with exchanges even.

The first points came when Luddington, England, obtained a mark, and sent the ball over the bar. The French made a strong comeback.

But the visiting three-quarters were able to show some fine combined runs, and it was from one of these that Wakefield, the English captain, dashed over for a try. Luddington converted.

France continued to press, Du Naoir passing to Piquiral, who made a fine touchdown. The kick at goal was successful. Play kept up in fine style until toward the intereval, and England again established their superiority when Hamilton-Wicks romped home for a try, which Luddington again converted. At half time the score stood:

England—3 goals (1 marked), 13 points; France—1 goal, 5 points.

With a margin of eight points to the bad, the French started the second half with great determination, and they kept the visitors on the defencive throughout. Cluchague got through the English defence twice, but in neither case was the try converted.

In the closing minutes, the English line was subjected to terrific pressure, with the French swarming all over them, but the defence held, and the game ended:

England—3 goals (1 marked), 13 points; France—1 goal, 2 tries, 11 points.

The final standing of the series is:

Team	P.	W.	D.	L.	F.	A.	Pts.
Scotland	4	4	0	0	77	37	8
Ireland	4	2	1	1	42	26	5
England	4	2	1	1	42	37	5
Wales	4	1	0	3	34	60	2
France	4	0	0	4	23	58	0

Miss Corinne Gordon, 14 years old, swimming marvel of Nicholas Senn hospital of Omaha, Neb., recently broke the world record, held jointly by herself and Miss Helen Wainwright, when she won the National Amateur Athletic union junior 50-yard freestyle, in 28 seconds flat. The event was held in a 60-foot tank. The former record was 29 seconds.

MONOCLES AND CANES SPORTED BY LADY FANS

New Famihine Mode Gets Most Attention at the Grand Prix

PARIS, April 13.—Two little monocles, more or less lightly screwed over the left eyes of two tall, athletic young women strolling up and down the lawn of the Auteuil race course yesterday detracted much attention from the running of the Prix du Presidente de la Republique.

Grand Siegneur Wins

Grand Seigneur, a 5-year-old bay horse, belonging to Camille du Bosco, and ridden by Robert Vayer, won the 100,000-franc stake. The price against Grand Seigneur was 10 to 1, and a crowd of more than 100,000 spectators saw him come home to capture the laurels and the purse.

Hydravion and Lauteret came in second and third, respectively.

Easter Sunday and the beautiful spring sunshine combined to give the dressmakers a splendid opportunity to hold their grand fashion opening, long delayed by inclement weather. The two little monocles were the latest weapons used by advocates of mannish styles of dress for women, as against adepts of the ultra-feminine style.

Monocles Win

The two currents of dress were clearly defined today, but the monocles scored heavily in favor of women supporters of masculine wear in dress. Frankly boyish bobbed and shingled hair, however, ran a dead heat with the plain bobbed hair and waved tresses.

Both the monocled girls wore gray, two buttoned homespun tailored suits, with the brims of their hats a little upturned at the side and held by a silver pin in the shape of a jockey's whip, and gray doeskin and brown leather sport shoes. Both girls carried canes.

William H. Matthews of Rochester, N.Y., 86 years old, has been elected president of the Old Guard at Ormond Beach, (Florida) Golf association. Only golfers more than 80 years of age are eligible for membership.

EASTER MONDAY VAUDEVILLE VERY MUCH ENJOYED

Follies Troupe, Pierots and Pierettes, Colonial Maids, Appear

Owing to a number of entertainments, the house for the performance of the Easter Monday vaudeville, given by local performers in the Nelson opera house last night was small, but the show went with a swing and a dash, and the audience made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Good voices, graceful dancing, and numerous attractive costumes all played their parts in the performance, which was staged, managed and arranged by W. S. King.

The musical revue, "The Passing Show," a pierot and pierette show, in which Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Rendell, Miss M. Irving, Miss G. Scott-Lauder and Alastair Hutchinson took part, was one of the best items on the program. From the rondeley sung by all the performers to the finale, in which Mr. Rendell took the solo part, every number was unusually good. Miss Irving's mellow voice was well suited to the "Sleep Hollow Tune," and Mrs. Rendell's "Dancing Lesson" was particularly well-liked. Mr. and Mrs. Rendell "fished" very successfully in "Ticket Cupid," and Mr. Hutchinson pleased the audience with his song "Rose in the Bud." Miss Scott-Lauder's beautifully-played accompaniments, not only in this revue, but throughout the evening, added much to the success of the performance.

Follies Troupe In "Poppy"

The vaudeville acts, "Doo Wacka Doo," and "Golfing Hazard Blues," put on by the Follies troupe, composed of Mrs. H. Lakes, Miss J. Hunter, Miss G. Cornish, Miss M. Arthur, Miss E. Townsend and Miss E. Phillips were perhaps the "peppiest" items on the program, and both were encored.

Harry Scott-Lauder's humorous songs were especially well-liked by the audience, particularly his laughing song, and the "Coue Betting Better" song. The clever and amusing doll song and dance, put on by Mr. Scott-Lauder and Miss Scott-Lauder, was encored. Mrs Leslie Craufurd accompanied this number.

Mrs. D. Cretney and Miss Margaret Allen made two dainty Colonial Maids, in very pretty costumes, and sang and danced pleasingly.

Mrs. C. W. Tyler, always a great favorite, sang "Carmencita" and "Love the Peddler," in costume, and received her usual enthusiastic applause. She was accompanied by Miss Ina Steed.

Miss Margaret Arthur was encored for her "Song of India." Her accompanist was Miss Ina Truscott.

W. Coleman proved as great a favorite as ever with banjo solos, songs, and banjo and mouth organ selections.

The two youngest performers were Norman Lauritz, who played a violin solo, and Robin Hall, his accompanist on the piano, and their performance was enthusiastically received.

Mrs. A. H. Crossley and Mrs. W. J. Waters proved popular soloists with their several songs.

The mystery number proved to be a guessing competition, in which Mrs. H. Lakes won the first prize, Mr. Benson of the Royal bank the second, and H. Lakes the third.

The orchestra, under the leadership of Ross Fleming, played unusually well, and was encored for its selections.

CENTENARY OF M'GEE, PATRIOT, IS CELEBRATED

Revolutionary, Loyalist, Statesmen Pay Tributes to Martyr

OTTAWA, April 13. — From every part of North America came people of Irish blood to celebrate in Ottawa today the 100th anniversary of the birth of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, who began his career as a revoultionary and ended it as a champion of Empire, and one of the fathers of Canadian Confederation.

Within a bugle call of the spot where, in 1868, McGee was assassinated by an Irish revolutionary, a year after he had helped to launch a Canada pledged to British allegiance and a few minutes after he had reaffirmed in the Canadian parliament his determination to continue that allegiance, some 500 people assembled at a banquet which has been planned by Canadian Irishmen for years to mark the McGee centenary. Governor-General Baron Byng, the leaders of Canadian politics today, a representative lawyer from New York, Chief Justice Latchford of Ontario, and the senior scion of the McGee family addressed the gathering.

Irish Minister Presides

The gathering was presided over by Hon. Charles Murphy, Canadian postmaster-general, and prime mover in the centenary. Having paid eloquent tribute to the memory of his countryman, Mr. Murphy introduced one by one the speakers of the evening.

First came the governor-general, Lord Byng commented on the variance of opinion which always existed as to the qualities of a patriot. It was a difficult role to fill. Quoting McGee's remarks, once made in a public speech, that he believed he had done more to conquer back the respect of the people of England and America for Irishmen than 50 of the demagogues put together, His Excellency said that if that was the spirit of D'Arcy McGee, he was proud and happy to be associated with this commemoration of him.

Memorial Speeches

The toast of the evening, "the memory of D'Arcy McGee," was proposed by Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, speaker of the house of commons, and seconded by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Memorial speeches were made by Premier King, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Martin Conboy, president of the New York Bar association.

Mr. Conboy gave a biographical sketch of McGee, with particular reference to his residence in the United States between 1842 and 1857. There, as journalist, orator and educationalist, McGee had done much for his fellow Irishmen in the States, particularly as regards education.

Winnipeg Also Honors

WINNIPEG, April 13. — "Although only a citizen for 11 years, it was Canada that received the service of the full flower of his genius; Canada that lived, not in the shadows of the past, but in the dreams of the future; Canada, the name that lingered at the last upon his lips."

So declared H. Gerald Wade, speaking of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, at the centenary celebration held here by the Irish Protestant association this evening in the National Assembly hall.

S. Harvey King, president of the organization, read to the meeting the telegram he had sent to Hon. Charles Murphy, at Ottawa:

"The Irish Protestant association of Manitoba is joining you tonight in the celebration of the McGee centenary, extending hearty greetings to all assembled."
