ENATE SOLIDLY WITH CLEMENTEL

uge Chamber Majority for Postponement, No Indorsation

PARIS, April 3.—That political ents rapidly are developing toward a is from which the only issue will the dissolution of parliament and w elections, is the prediction tonight of impartial observers versed in rliamentary affairs.

The senate openly favors the stand M. Clementel, who resigned the portfolio of minister of finance last night his controversy with Premier Herot. A great majority of the senors sympathize with the former nance minister, express regret over s resignation, and comment on the emier's intervention in far from mplimentary terms.

Not Vote of Confidence

The chamber of deputies socalled vote of confidence, of 530 vote against 26, given the Herriot ministry today, was absolutely without signifcance, for M. Maginot, leader of the opposition, laid emphasis on the fact that while his followers were voting in favor of the government's proposal for a postponement of discussion of the interpellation of financial questions until the government's new bills were laid before the chamber, under no circumstances should the vote be construed as implying confidence "in this moribund government."

M. Herriot was a busy man this ternoon, appearing before friendly litical groups, and making a determined fight. But all indications tonght, from the viewpoint of political bservers, are that the political structure erected by the left parties in the y 1 elections is cracking.

Premier Herriot since yesterday has st his minister of finance, and 41 embers of his majority in the French amber of deputies.

De Monzie Can't Fill Gap

He has found another man, Senator de Monzie, to grapple with the task unravelling French finances, but ch political observers are of the inion that the premier will have a rd time filling up the break in the nks of his supporters.

Added to other difficulties, a break the coalition that has been solidly ck of the premier occurred this ternoon, when the group known as e "radical left, led by M. Loucheur, cided it could no longer support the licies of the Herriot government.

M. Loucheur had already hinted he ould abandon the coalition ship, even fore he refused the portfolio of nance last night.

Against Capital Levy

It is understood that his decision, in hich all the members of his group oncur, is due to the tendency of the erriot government to look with favor a capital levy.

The deflection of the Loucheur group ill bring the government's coalition rength in the chamber down to bout 300 out of 584 members, which a smaller margin than many preeding premiers have acquired to reain in power.

WILL REORGANIZE LETHBRIDGE JAIL

Will Eliminate Features Condemned by Walsh Inquiry

EDMONTON, April 3.—Hon. Alex Ross, minister of public works, announced in a report to the legislature today that it is the intention of the government to reorganize the internal arrangements of the Lethbridge jail, and make such changes in the personal of the staff of the institution as will be necessary in order to eliminate the objectionable features of prison life, as was indicated in the report by Mr. Justice Walsh in connection with the inquiry into conditions surrounding the reception and treatment of Edward Moore, who died there February 12.

Strong objection to the manner in which the prisoners were treated was voiced by several members, and a suggestion was made that an inquiry into all the jails of the province be held to determine what existing conditions were, with a view of preventing any mistreatment in future.

Mrs. Dennistoun Loses Main Suit

DOROTHY MURIEL DENNISTOUN

Who a few weeks ago was awarded a large sum by a London jury, as damages for breach of contract by her husband in failing to provide for her after their divorce, was deprived of the fruits of her victory yesterday, when Mr. Justice McCardie, who heard the suits, reversed the verdict.

JUDGE QUASHES DAMAGES GIVEN ON DENNISTOUN

Alleged Alimony Agreement Void and Cannot Be Enforced

LONDON, April 3.—Justice Sir Henry McCardie delivered his reserved judgment in the Dennistoun case this morning. He held that the alleged agreement for Mrs. Dorothy M. Dennistoun's support by her husband after their divorce was void, and could not be enforced by law. Therefore he ruled that Mrs. Dennistoun's claim for damages for breach of contract had failed.

The judgment sets aside verdict of the jury last month, awarding Mrs. Dennistoun nearly $25,000 for the alleged breach of contract.

The plaintiff, however, recovers £472 for sums loaned to Lieutenant-Colonel Dennistoun, and is awarded the costs of this part of the action.

The judge ordered a general stay in execution until further orders, and liberty to appeal.

Calgary Unemployed Prefer Jail Before Taking Dollar Jobs

CALGARY, April 3.—Calgary unemployed are willing to face acting Mayor Crawford's "work or jail" threat, and will go to jail rather than take part in the lowering of the working man's standard of living by accepting jobs at a rate of $1 a day.

This was the emphatic utterance of A. J. Boulter, president of the provincial unemployed council, when he delivered a slashing attack upon the government labor bureau and the attitude of the provincial government on the unemployed question.

TEN GUILTY IN CANADA LIQUOR RUNNING CASE

Thirty-two Members of the Canadiain Vessel's Crew Acquitted

SAN FRANCISCO JUDGE SENTENCES

Ship's Officers and Exporters Agents Are All Found Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Ten of the defendants in the Quadra liquor runner case were found guilty by the jury in federal court, which returned its verdict late tonight, and were immediately sentenced by Judge John S. Partridge.

Thirty-two members of the crew were acquitted. Two defendants had previously pleaded guilty.

The Sentences

The sentences were:

Captain George Ford, two years' imprisonment, and $1,000 fine.

Vincent Quartararo, San Francisco, agent of the Consolidated Exporters of Vancouver, B.C., two years' imprisonment, and $1000 fine.

Charles Bellanger, San Francisco, a director of the Consolidated Exporters, two years, and $10,000.

First Mate George Harris of the Quadra, 13 months' imprisonment.

Second Mate Jave Evelyn, 10 months' imprisonment.

Jack Allen, Carl Neilson, Edward McKenzie, and Emilio Pensotti, San Francisco, operators of small liquor running boats, eight months' imprisonment each.

J. H. Mason, chief engineer of the Quadra, $500 fine.

Boat Runners Plead Guilty

Marino and Salva Tore Cribello, San Francisco liquor boat runners, who pleaded guilty, did not receive their sentences tonight.

The defendants were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition enforcement laws.

Decision on Vessel Today

The Quadra was seized by the coast guard cutter Shawnee off the Golden Gate, October 13 last.

The principal defence raised was that the Quadra, which had sailed from Vancouver with a liquor cargo estimated worth several hundred thousand dollars, for Central American ports, was outside the zone in which it might legally be seized.

The Quadra is in the custody of customs officials here, who have held it since the seizure. It is expected that a court order will be issued tomorrow regarding its disposition.

MINIMUM WAGE IN SOUTH AFRICA

House Gives Bill a Second Reading by a Large Majority

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 3.—(Canadian Press Cable.), via Reuters.)—After an all-night sitting in the house of assembly, by a vote of 57 to 31, the members gave second reading to the wage bill enabling the introduction of a minimum wage in each industry in South Africa, and the establishment of a board to fix such a wage.

While agreeing to the principle of the minimum wage, the opposition objected to the bill on the ground that it placed control of the unions and industries in the hands of the minister of labor, and directly conflicted with the policy of conciliation and voluntary agreement between the worker and the employer, which they said, the minister desired to abolish.

The bill was referred to a select committee of the assembly.

NEITHER GROUP WILL APPOINT COMMISSIONER

But Manson Now Plans Bill to Charge Costs to the Churches

VANCOUVER, April 3.—Representatives of both sides of the church union movement were interviewed by Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney-general, today, with a view to coming to an understanding in the matter of appointing the special commission on church property, provided for in the church union bill passed by the legislature last fall.

So far it has been found impossible to appoint the commission because the duties are very heavy, and the legislature, holding that the purpose to be served did not affect the general public, provided no funds for the work.

Representatives of both the pros and antis have publicly stated that their respective organizations had no intention of raising funds for the purpose, as they had not asked for the commission.

Boss Solution

Mr. Manson stated today he was now confident of being able to appoint commissioners who would act.

"When their report comes before us, we can enact in the legislature that the cost shall be charged against the Presbyterian and United churches," he said.

The purpose of the commission is to examine the circumstances under which the congregational votes were taken, to inspect the church properties, and recommend an allocation of church buildings on a basis that will provide places of worship for minorities both for and against union.

Phanse said that Mumtaz was not considered as the Maharanee, at Indore, and had not received the honors given to members of the Maharajah's family.

In the attack above mentioned, Baula, the girl's escort, was killed, and she was slashed on the forehead, while a British officer who went to their rescue was wounded.

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—An appeal for a writ of habaes corpus for Andrew J. Pepall, held today for deportation to Toronto to stand trial on charges of embezzlement, will be made by his attorneys, it was announced tonight. Pepall, who is charged with embezzling funds of the Ontario government to the extent of approximately $600,000, has been in jail since his arrest nearly three months ago.

Commissioner Censures

In announcing his decision for Pepall's deportation, United States Commissioner Turney said:

"It is a regrettable duty to send a man back to the land of his forefathers with irons on his hands, but the defendant has only himself to blame. His participation in the despicable plot to loot the public treasury of Ontario, a plot which included the corruption of public officials, deserves severe punishment."

It was charged against Pepall that he went to England in 1920 as an official agent of the treasury department of Ontario, and in that capacity succeeded in the alleged embezzlement.

He was also charged with giving bribes approximating $150,000 to a provincial official.

HACKSAWS IN BANANAS ARE SIDETRACKED

Chicago Gangsters' Attempt for Nanaimo Pals a failure

SEATTLE, April 3.—Chicago gangsters gathering in Seattle, made what was declared by Sheriff Matt Starwich to be their first attempt to effect the liberty of three pals held in the county jail for the Nanaimo, B.C., bank robbery, and failed.

In a sack of fruit, delivered by a comely young woman at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the county jail, were found five hacksaw blades, each cleverly inserted and concealed in a banana.

Addressed to Another Prisoner

The girl who delivered the fruit, according to Jailer William Barr, asked that it be given to L. S. Brockway, embezzling Seattle bookkeeper, then hastily made her departure. This, however, Sheriff Starwich asserted, was merely a ruse.

He is in possession of confidential information, he said, that the saws were destined for the three Nanaimo robbery suspects, one of whom, T. H. Johnson, is confined in the same tank with Brockway—tank No. 2.

For more than a month, the sheriff said, he has been anticipating the delivery of saws, and day and night jailers, he explained, have been under instructions to examine closely every package delivered for a prisoner, no matter what his standing.

If Parents Still Defy Law, Prosecutions Start Next Week

GRAND FORKS, B.C., April 3.—Although two special schools were opened for the purpose, and accommodation was made available for nearly 100 pupils Wednesday morning, no Doukhobor children have appeared at the schools.

This followed a fortnight's warning given Doukhobor leaders, of the opening, and of intended prosecution for further failure to send children to school.

Officials Authorized to Enforce Act

Following representations from Grand Forks, the government recently appointed P. H. Sheffield, inspector of public schools, and W. R. Dunwoody, inspector of provincial police, both of Nelson, to take charge and see that the School act was enforced with regard to Doukhobor children attending school. These officials are to address a mass meeting of Community Doukhobors at Brilliant Sunday.

It is expected that prosecutions will be started next week.

PROFITS MUST PAY ENFORCING

Manitoba House Adopts Liquor Amendments Opposed

WINNIPEG, April 3. — Despite strenuous opposition from the Conservative and Labor groups, the government bill to amend the Liquor Control act passed through its final stages in the legislature today, and only needs the signature of the lieutenant-governor to become law.

The bill would charge part of the cost of the liquor law enforcement to the profits of the liquor commission. The sum to be appropriated must not exceed $50,000.

During the debate on the bill the government announced that the cost of liquor law engorcement had increased since the provincial Liquor Control act was put into effect.

Opposition to the amendment was made on the grounds that the appropriation would result in a decrease in the amount of profits divided among the municipalities.

Pains in Her Back Have Vanished

Quebec Lady Tells of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Madame Ed Prezeau is now in perfect health.

NOTRE DAME DU PONT MAIN, Que., April 3.—(Special.)—"Your Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me much good." So states Madame E. Prezeau in an interview.

"It was a trouble for me to work and I always had bad kidneys. Since I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills the pains in my back have all gone, and I am in perfect health and well satisfied."

Ninety per cent of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities out of the blood. If they fail to do their work, the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body.

Weak kidneys are not confined to grown people. They are too often found in children, sowing the seeds of future ills unless the kidneys are strengthened and put in condition to do their full work.

A BOY'S POCKETS

One Mother Says:

The contents of a boy's pocket often possess true merit in their owner's eyes, though seemingly worthless. When my young son's suit has to be sent to either cleaner or laundry I request him to go through all pockets and put away for safe keeping anything he regards as valuable. I never ruthlessly empty his pockets myself.

LOGAN REPORTS ON TRADE TOUR TO HOT LANDS

Only Met Two Canadian Commissioners in His Travels

ADVISES HAVING GENEROUS SUPPLY

West Indians Accept Invitation to a Conference

OTTAWA, April 3.—Another variation in the even tenor of the budget debate came today when Hance Logan, Liberal, Cumberland, N.S., gave the house a report of his official visit to the West Indies last year.

Mr. Logan carried to the West Indies an invitation to a commercial conference to be held in Ottawa in June for the purpose of improving trade relations between Canada and the Islands. The response to his invitation was enthusiastic, he said, and its acceptance general.

He remarked on the fact that though the commission which he had headed had visited the West Indies islands and several South American countries, he had met with but two Canadian trade commissioners. He recommended the appointment of a number of others, to be located at important commercial centers. The development of an interchange of commodities with these southern countries was Canada's opportunity for trade expansion, Mr. Logan declared.

Doucet Would Have Hard Coal Duty

Debate was resumed today by A. J. Doucet, Conservative, Kent, in criticism of the budget. He charged the government with "wholesale extravagance," and criticised the change in the tariff on coal. In this connection he advocated the imposition of a reasonable tariff on anthracite coal for domestic purposes. He thought the government "could very well do something" for the strike sufferers in Cape Breton.

J. A. Denis, Liberal, St. Denis, Montreal, supporting the budget, suggested the abolition of the civil service commission, on the ground that it was not performing a useful work. He made no criticism of the personnel of the commission, he said.

Hoey Says, Xing Soft-Pedalling

In the evening, R. A. Hoey, Progressive, Springfield, voiced strong criticism of the government's tariff policy. While the last budget had implied "the death knell of protection," this one contained no such promise.

He opposed the appointment of a tariff board. "It is going to be a smoke screen behind which the government will seek protection," he declared.

The two last speakers were H. C. McKillop, Conservative, West Elgin, who said the budget was like nothing so much as a crossword puzzle, and G. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, who supported it. The later approved the establishment of a tariff commission, favored the imposition of an export tax on power, and suggested using Canadian government ships, instead of entering into the proposed contract with Sir William Petersen. The ships could be handed over to Sir William to operate.

Adjournment of the debate was moved by A. R. McMaster, Liberal, Brome.

MAY HAVE BUFFALO BY TRAIN LOAD

Herds at Wainright Park Increase; Move Some to Alberta

OTTAWA, April 3.—The next great trek of the buffalo from the western plains will be by box car, if it takes place at all. The herds at Wainwright National park have increased, it is reported, beyond the number which could be supported in a dry season. The government, it is learned, is considering the possibility of shipping a thousand or more head from Wainwright to the Wood Buffalo park reserve in northern Alberta. It is proposed to transship only young buffalo as it has been found impracticable to ship the older stock.

The federal department of interior has opened negotiations with the railways as to the charges on such freight.

It is estimated that no more than 5000 head should be held at Wainwright, as the total number which the range can support. At the present time, despite the slaughtering of many hundreds of the animals, the National park holds in excess of 8000 head.

'ROAD TO LOVE'

By ELENORE MEHERIN

CHAPTER XXXVI.

Awe, like the deep note of an organ, touched her. She let her hands rest in his, looked through tears at the kneeling form.

Then he was placing the canes in the corner; his face white, pierced with tenderness. She laughed.

"Why does it make people sad, Clay, because I mean to get better?"

He came over and sat down, saying in a hurried tone: "Why, what makes you think that, Katy? Why, it doesn't at all. How could you think it does?"

"But your eyes are wet, Clay, and Denny never looks at me when I make plans and Stephen tries to laugh and can't. Is it because you all think I'm just fooling myself?"

"I've never thought that, Katy. It's just the other way. Why, sometimes when I've heard you singing I've forgotten all about it, you seem so much alive, and—why, you know, Katy, there have been some wonderful cures. Why mightn't it be the same with you?"

He leaned toward her, his face caught with earnestness, yet so eager it seemed to smile.

"It might be that way with you, Katy. Of course, I don't know much about it."

"Yes, it will be that way, Clay. I've always felt it."

"Well, I don't think you're fooling yourself, Katy. There's a doctor in Europe who has performed miracles—"

"Oh, indeed!" Katy arched her brows, laughed gaily:

"Do you think I'm going to Europe for that, Clay? Europe's so far away when I have an angel right here at my elbow."

"But you want to travel, Katy?" The dark, somber eyes scanned hers as though the question were a momentous thing. "You's always said so. Why, there's so much to see—"

Katy was afraid of these quick, breathless moods when he sat so rigid with his arms folded yet seemed in such a rush to speak. She interrupted lightly:

"Yes, and I say so again and again. But some of us are so greedy we'd need ten lives to live out our dreams. There, if I haven't forgotten the dinner and Stephen and Denny will be mad as hatters if anything is burned. Terrible to have two masters! Would you just swing over that chair if you please—"

He followed her into the kitchen, began to talk of the symphony concert, the class election, the plays he had seen.

"The 'Chocolate Soldier' is good, Katy. I wanted to tell you about it. You'd like the music. If you had heard it you could pick out the songs—they's tuneful. That's why I dropped in, Katy—to know if you'd come with me. Will you?"

"I? You want me to go?" Katy was beating cream for a pudding. She looked at him in astonishment, a sudden mist filming her eyes. Denny had taken her to concerts and several times to the theater. She had never gone with anyone else.

"Why, I don't know what to say, Clay. I never go out like that. Don't you understand."

"Yes, Katy, of course I do. I asked Denny about it today and he seemed willing enough. He said if you wanted to go it was all right. You don't know what a favor it would be to me, Katy. Why, every time I go to a show I keep thinking of you and how you would enjoy it and how fine it would be if you were there, too. So, will you come, Katy?"

"Well—Denny might think I'm not happy, Clay, and you know how he takes me almost everywhere he goes. I've been to every concert with him and I think he's only been to a show without me once. He might be hurt, and I wouldn't do that for anything. And—oh—it would make me feel queer, Clay, and you'd feel conspicuous, too. You couldn't help it. Everyone would stare at you."

"Katy—why—" She had told him to cut the bread. He stood with his back to her. After a moment he came over, finished, quietly: "You don't know how I would feel, Katy. I'd be so glad. But if you wouldn't enjoy coming, why then, I don't want you to. But when I've seen you at concerts, I've wished that I was Denny."

"Well, then I'll tell you, Clay, I'll talk to Denny and if I'm sure he doesn't mind, I'll go. But it can't help seeming strange."

So Katy took the matter to the highest court she knew.

"How do you feel about it yourself, Katy-kid?" Denny asked. "Do you want to go?"

"Not particularly, I'm perfectly happy yithout anything more than I have."

"That's all very well—but you ought to have a little diversion. I ought to take you out more but I never seem to get the time. Gee, it worries me. That's a fact now. It's a shame you're so much alone."

"Then you'd like me to go?"

"I'd like you to get out more. Oh, not with anybody!" He swung around from the shelf in the kitchen where he was hastily stacking cans of beans he had bought. Katy laughed:

"You mean I'm not to flirt, Denny. I'm not to try out my charms on the hoi-polloi?"

"But it won't hurt you to go with Clay, Katy. He's all to the good. And he has money. It's different going in a machine than in the street car."

"He's so sober, Denny. And I'll feel out of place with any one but you."

"At first I suppose you will. Go once, and if you don't enjoy it, don't go again."

So Katy accepted, but she was nervous and excited; couldn't make the glinting curls stay in place or get the collar to set right on her coat. She had to call Denny in as she pinned on her hat.

"Tell me honestly, Denny—do I look terribly homemadey?"

His eyes flattered her: "You look great. Pull your hat down more. More than that. They're not wearing them on three hairs any more."

Then Stephen was at the door, a cigaret in his mouth, a laugh in his eyes:

"A little powder on your nose, Katy-kid. You'll be the belle of Broadway." He gathered her gloves and purse: "I'll be your footman, Katy."

She looked at him swiftly, saying all at once: "I wish I wasn't going! I'd rather be home with you and Denny. You'll take me down, won't you, Denny?"

"Nothing to be nervous about, Katy." Yet as Denny carried her to the machine, a feeling of reluctance overcame him as though he was handing her over to another. His voice trembled and he stood on the grass staring after her until the car was out of sight.

"Think that moody devil's in love with Katy?" Stephen asked. Denny turned in alarm:

"Gee—no! Do you think he is?"

"I wouldn't be surprised."

"Oh, bunk. He knows better. Well Katy's not in love. She's not thinking about it. She'd never dream of such a thing—not now, anyway."

Katy, tucked in a robe in the big automobile, the hills and house flying past the warm air fluttering against her face became joyous.

"I feel queer, Clay," she said boastfully. And in one of his rare flashes of gayety, he answered:

"Oh, you do not feel queer, Katy-kid. You're happy!"

He was not broad shouldered or tall as Denny, yet he lifted her with ease, carried her without apparent effort to their place. They were almost the first to enter the theater.

Katy had soon forgotten her queerness, her reluctance and was talking as happily to Clay Andrews as she did to Denny. The play delighted her.

She came home radiant, cheeks flushed, chestnut curls fluffing over her face.

"Oh, it was heavenly!"

Denny was so relieved to have her back—to find her laughing, that he began helping her with her coat, saying excitedly:

"What did I tell you about your hat? Look at it, hanging on three hairs—stupid!"

"Oh, 'scuse me, Denny, but we had the magnificentest time and tomorrer, just wait till you hear Katy at the planner!"

The following week there was another show. During the acts Clay Andrews kept turning to her with eager, serious eyes. When he saw her laughing, his face relaxed.

"He pities me," Katy thought. Afterward as they were riding home he asked anxiously: "Did you enjoy it, Katy?"

"Oh, yes, Clay. You're kind."

"No, Katy. "Why, I've never enjoyed a show more. That's because you were with me. It was glorious. You didn't feel strange tonight, did you?"

"No—"

"And next week—"

"Oh, you feel sorry for me, Clay. You want to make me happy. I think it's wonderful in you. But I'm not lonesome. Sometimes I think no one feels more songs in them than I. But you think I pretend and so you want to give me all this pleasure. I've enjoyed it, but then—oh, I don't like to have you doing so much—"

"So much? Oh, that's not why I've done it, at all, Katy. You think it's pity? It isn't. Why, if anyone had ever told me I could feel like this I would have scoffed, but now I just want to be near you and talk to you and I would like to carry you away and take care of you always. I can't tell you how it is, but when I'm with you I feel something melting in me. Sometimes I could cry and then again I could laugh. The other day when I saw you standing against the wall I don't know what moved me, but I wanted to kneel down and pray. I've never felt that way before. So it's not pity, Katy. It's just that I love you. That's all, Katy. I love you!"

BOND BIG FIVE FOR A QUARTER OF A MILLION

Lardeau Property Will Be Developed by a Coast Group

TENTS, OIL STOVES, READY FOR SPRING

Government Will Build a Road as Far as Circle City

FERGUSON, B.C., April 3.—Tents, oil stoves, and blowers, the latter for the use of the blacksmith, are already stored here, to be used in starting work on the Big Jim group of eight claims, bonded a few weeks ago by Lew Thompson of Ferguson, and J. C. Kirkpatrick of Arrowhead, to William Hall and associates of Vancouver, for $250,000.

Glacier Revealed Ore

Like the claims on Sable creek, in the Cambourne camp, whose long-concealed vein a retreating glacier revealed, the Big Five, after 28 years, also had its greatest resources disclosed last summer when the local glacier 10 miles up the north fork of the Lardeau river melted back 600 feet further than in imspaceh' feet further than in the camp's history, large showings of silver-lead ore, including much high grades.

Altogether there are eight claims in the Big Five group, which boasts in all three leads. The first of these, containing bodies of milling ore, is five feet wide, and has been traced for 2000 feet. No. 3 ledge is three feet wide. Between is No. 2, which is featured by stringers of high grade ore, and runs into No. 3 in porphyry, the point where they come together being rich in galena. An assay of steel galena from the surface went $90, while an assay of a nugget from the joination showed a ton of similar rock would have metallic contents valued at $5000.

The provincial government is said to have promised to build 6¼ miles of wagonroad up the north fork, to Circle City, which will serve the Big Five, among other properties.

Work Required by July

Under the terms of the bond, the coast syndicate must start development work by July 1, and it will have until August 15 for its next payment. In point of fact, work will start as soon as conditions permit.

MINES BODY GETS GRANT FROM SLOAN

Five Hundred Dollars Given Towards Expenses of District Mining Meet

A grant of $300 has been received by the chamber of mines for easter British Columbia from Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines. The grant will be used as expense money in the coming west Kootenay convention. The check from the minister was forwarded after it had been requested by the body.

E. G. Matthew, provincial secretary for the mine's chamber, received a letter from Mr Sloan yesterday, in it being the check. Mr. Sloan said:

"I trust you will be established on a sound basis, and that it will long be active in the advancement of the mining industry in eastern British Columbia."

Plans are now well advanced for the coming meeting, which takes place here on April 8. The Rotary and Gyro clubs have been approached, and have given assurance of their support to the convention. Complete details of the convention will be worked out at the next executive meeting of the chamber of mines.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Ended by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fusilier, Sask.—"For two or three days every so often I would have such pains in my back and sides that I could not do anything — could not even lie quietly in bed, and my head ached, too. I was this way about three years, but was worse after I was married. I was on a farm with not a house nearer than five miles and there was not a person to advise me, as my folks lived in Manitoba. My sister-in-law told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took her advice and have been thankful for it ever since. After taking the medicine for three months I can say it has helped me a lot and I am doing fine. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to others and you may publish my testimonial." — Mrs. HELEN BALANOFF, Fusilier, Saskatchewan.

Often some slight trouble will cause a general upset of the system. Such symptoms as nervousness, painful times, irregularity, backache and headache indicate some form of female weakness.

Women so bothered should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. This dependable medicine has helped thousands of women and it is reasonable to expect that it will help you. Try it today. Your druggist sells this medicine. C

Conserving Brain Power

The members of the Engineering Institute of Canada, to whom Dr. Tory presented the need of encouraging scientific research in the Dominion were all probably well aware of how unsatisfactory are the conditions under which such work is now being conducted in this country. It is the general public which needs to be aroused.

We may take much pride in the statement of the educationist that Canada has been found to be the best intellectual recruiting ground on this continent, but what we want is to keep our best scientific brains at work here. They are all required in the working out of our own national problems.

Dr. Tory is absolutely right when he declares that "unless we awaken the powers of science, we deserve to be hewers of wood and drawers of water for all other nations." We have shown too great a disposition to be content with this role and in the new era of opportunity which is opening up it is one that should be definitely abandoned.

It could not have been altogether avoided in the early periods of our growth, but we have reached a stage where it can and should be.

The economic histories of other nations affords a sure guidance and, if they are studied carefully, we shall take measures that will ensure the employment of our best brain power at home.

Will Live to a Hundred Soon

Before the American Medical association congress, Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick declared that by the end of the present century the average span of human life will be 100 years.

He produced data showing that the average span in 1775 was 27 years; in 1875, 37 years—then came the big jump, because now the average human being may expect to live 57 years.

This increase is largely due to science, especially to the scientific treatment of germ diseases.

Believing that prevention is better than cure, Dr. Fitzpatrick recommends periodical examinations by all persons, even when they believe themselves to be in the best of health.

Like any other mechanism, the body mechanism works more smoothly and runs longer if kept in good condition.

What the Press Is Saying

Compensations

Perhaps the King government will contend that its lack of one policy on the government question is counterbalanced by the fact that it has at least two policies on the tariff question.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Ten Fat Years

The movement to western Canada this year will be double what it was in 1924, but it will be only the beginning of the movement which may be expected to continue under way for the next ten years.—Lethbridge Herald.

A Style That Would Pay

One of the things needed for this country is for someone to invent a government that can save faster than it can spend. There would be millions in royalties from other countries that would want to use the idea.—Winnipeg Free Press.

After all, parliament is the mirror of the nation; sometimes distorted, but the opportunity comes every few years to true it up. When the Canadian people are more united on liberal steps forward, liberal measures will get more support in parliament.—Ottawa Citizen.

ROME CHAMBER SEES PUGILISM

Fisticuffs Followed by Duel Challenge; Senate Defers Army Decision

ROME, April 3.—Important events developed almost simultaneously in both houses of the Italian parliament yesterday—a pugilistic incident in the chamber, culminating in a challenge to a duel, and postponement by the senate, upon the request of Premier Mussolini, of the vote on War Minister General Di Giorgio's army reform bill, the successful passage of which appeared threatened by strong criticisms from Italy's most prominent military leaders.

The uproar in the chamber was caused by the charge made by Deputy Viola, that the government had concentrated black shirts on the occasion of the recent election in Casterta commune, for the purpose of intimidating voters opposed to the Fascist candidates.

This charge led to an exchange of blows between Viola and the Fascist deputy, Botesi, and Botesi thereupon challenged Viola to a duel.

At an Easter party for young people the idea that spring has come is generally stressed. Hence the use of the flower contests described below.

Mount pictures of the early spring flowers on stiff cards, each of which bears a number; pin these cards upon a sheet, hung against the wall. Give each guest pencil and paper and ask them to write the names of all the flowers they recognize. At the end of four minutes collect the cards. A small, inexpensive booklet on "How to Know the Flowers" would be an appropriate booby prize! He who has the most perfect results, however, might receive a potted Easter plant.

Pussy willow contest — Give each guest pencil and a sheet of paper which is decorated with a sprig of pussy willow (either painted on, or pasted on). See who can write down the greatest number of words beginning with "cat" in three minutes. A small image of a cat would be a good prize for the winner.

Easter observation contest—Have a group of things suggestive of the Easter season arranged on a tray — such as a hymn book, a picture of a church, a jonquil, a rabbit, a colored egg, a fluffy stuffed chick, etcetera. Once more distribute pencil and paper. Nobody may write upon the paper, however, until the tray is whisked away, after three minutes of steady observation. He who can recall the greatest number of articles on the tray wins.

"Going home for Easter" is a more active game—Have a cheap calico bag for every guest. In each bag have some article of clothing—the funnier the better. Old jackets and sweaters are best. Mix the bags up in the middle of the floor. At a signal, everybody snatches a bag (not knowing what is in it) and races for the wall at one end of the room; there he or she must put on the article of clothing which is in the bag and run to the opposite end of the room, touch the wall, and race back to his starting place where he donned the garment. He who accomplishes this first, wins. This is a game which may be repeated again and again, the bags being mixed up each time.

The health of King Ferdinand of Rumania is giving great concern to his physicians as complications have arisen from the recent operation performed on him for ran intestinal trouble.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Gas Formation

A European physician has been investigating that distressing condition, gas formation in the intestine.

His observation was that it was found only among "white collar men." We can hardly admit that this is altogether true in this country, because a great many of our women folk are likewise affected. However his other observations, that too much food and lack of exercise are causative factors will find us in agreement.

There can be no question but that men and women, working with their brains, sitting at desks most of the day, are going to have trouble with gas.

The hurried meals of strange mixtures or combinations of food are bound to have their revenge upon the system.

The trouble is often due to nervousness or hurry, which naturally interferes with the nerves that control the muscles of the intestine, so that these muscles only do their work in a half-hearted manner. This means that the waste from the food which is in the large intestine doesn't get moved along fast enough and begins to ferment. This fermentation forms gas, and thus the pressure becomes annoying and often painful.

As the muscles of the wall do not have much better success in moving the gas along than with the food, a constant state of distress is the portion of many of these patients.

Of course, there is no question but the importance of this condition is so magnified by some that the very worry from it actually intensifies the condition.

And also it must be admitted that in severe abdominal conditions this gas formation is an unfavorable sign.

However, in the ordinary everyday cases, where there is no actual obstruction in the intestine, there are two or three things that can be of help.

First, the patient should try to get his mind away from the condition which is not in itself serious, and endeavor to locate the cause. It may be hurry, worry, or some slight infection somewhere. He should eat slowly of a well-mixed diet, with slight rest before and after meals.

If certain foods seem to be the cause, omit them from the diet.

The old-fashioned baking soda is still a standby, when gas is up high in the abdomen, and the soap-and-water injection when the gas is lower down.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Storm wave of week centering on April 12 is expected to cause the greatest extremes of temperatures and the most general precipitation of the month. Ground that does not receive moisture during the extremes of this storm wave is not expected to get wet during the month. The expected force of this storm will be of great benefit by carrying moisture to a great deal of the dry ground of the United States west of longitude 95, probably into the far south, saving much of the seed that is now in dry soil. Although this is the most promising period of the spring, it is not expected to produce sufficient moisture to more than half of this dry area, therefore I expect more than usual of the seed that has been put into dry ground this spring to be lost. Many times during the past three months these bulletins have advised planting only where sufficient moisture was in the subsoil, believing that it would not pay to take the chance of planting and then waiting for rain that was not likely to come.

The normal or average season brings decided increase in precipitation to all sections east of Rockies except the far southwest during April and May; west of Rockies and the far southwest receive very little moisture in spring and practically none in summer. Farming in the different sections is done in accordance to the average or normal precipitation and temperatures of past years, which is also anticipated each year and crops selected that will produce best under these anticipated conditions. Normal crop weather in any locality produces the greatest yields; the more that crop weather varies from normal, whether that variation be above or below normal, the smaller the production will be for that season. These bulletins have predicted favorable crop weather for spring of 1925 to April 1, except in the middle west and southwest, and I believe that April 1 will find conditions about as forecast. Excepting April 10 to April 15 the month is expected to average very poor crop weather, averaging considerably below normal precipitation and above normal temperatures except in eastern Canada, south Atlantic and east gulf states, where near normal crop weather is expected. This expected condition will be very deceiving, especially in northern latitudes, causing the impression that below normal rainfall in April makes better weather for planting and cultivation as long as sufficient moisture is present for germination, which would be true should sufficient moisture be received during following months. After April 15 I expect conditions to become more serious over a great part of this continent. Although the middle west, southwest and western plains states are not located in the heart of the area of severe drouth that I have predicted for the period of April to September, 1925, rainfall shortage of April will affect these sections the more seriously, due to their present dry condition. Private crop reports are now estimating a condition of 73 for the northern part of this area and 50 for the southern part. This condition will probably cause a great deal of late cotton to be planted where grain was intended for this year. I would advise that fall feeds would be more profitable on this ground and can be put into the ground after rains have been received. A shortage of provision animals is now certain for the next fall and winter, and a fair crop of fall feed will be more profiable than a poor crop of cotton.

London Laborite Wants Holidays for Work Folks

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 1

Tea as a Beverage

Tea first became known in China nearly 3000 years before Christ. In that country tea was greatly prized, both for its remarkable qualities as a beverage and for the almost religious ceremony attached to the drinking of it. Up to the sixth century, tea was used only for medicinal purposes. Even in the seventeenth century it cost $25.00 to $50.00 per pound. All tea caddies were constantly kept under lock and key. Today when even fine quality like "SALADA" costs less than one-third of a cent per cup, it is not surprising that the consumption of tea is increasing tremendously.

Croup at Night No Longer Feared by Canadian Mothers

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

Many Canadian mothers, who in the past have worried over croup and children's colds, are delighted with the "external" remedy for colds, Vicks VapoRub.

You just rub Vicks over throat and chest for croup, children's colds, bronchitis or deep chest colds. When so applied the body heat releases the ingredients as vapors which are inhaled directly into the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and reducing the inflammation.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster and thus aids the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion. Croup is usually relieved in 15 minutes.

There is no dosing in using Vicks. Nothing to upset the delicate stomachs of small children. You just "rub it on".

Daffodils in abundance graced the parlors of St. Paul's Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon when a decidedly successful spring tea and work sale was held by the members of St. Paul's Ladies' aid. Lights daintily arranged with yellow shades and yellow vallances on the prettily draped curtains all carried out to perfection the yellow and white color scheme, and contributed greatly to the effectiveness of the busy scene. The president, Mrs. R. A. Peebles, and Mrs. F. R. G. Dredge composed the reception committee who greeted the visitors. Mrs. E. Ferguson handled the handsome receipts. Mrs. Hector MacKenzie's circle had a fancy and plain work table as well as a bake table, the former being convened by Mrs. P. J. McAlpine, while the latter booth was taken charge of by Mrs. J. Donaldson and Mrs. W. A. Robertson. Mrs. H. E. Dill's circle had Mrs. William Stewart, Mrs. G. B. Russell and Mrs. F. R. Jelfs supervising the bake table, with Mrs. Alexander Carrie, Mrs. James Brodie, Mrs. W. T. Choate, Mrs. William Simpson and Mrs. C. S. Hingley looking after the fancy work booth. Mrs. N. Pitts, Mrs. Dan McEachern and Mrs. J. A. Skellern. Mrs. J. Allen's circle had Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Hugh McLean overseeing the fancy work, and Mrs. Charles F. The prettiest of all booths was naturally the spring flowers and garden table, where a complete variety of blooms, house plants and bulbs were on sale by Mrs. D. A. McLeod, Mrs. Hugh Ross and Mrs. A. T. Park. Under the convenership of Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. J. G. Foggo the candy booth did a good business. An orchestra provided excellent numbers during the afternoon. Mrs. W. H. Hoare conducted all tea arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. G. W. McBride, Mrs. W. Will, Mrs. W. L. Taylor and Mrs. David Laughton, who poured from a charmingly centered tea table, the center consisting of a silver basket of daffodils and pussy willows surrounded by four silver lighted candles, shaded with yellow. KASLO ADMIRES STEVENSON, BARD

Literary Society Studies Life and Samples of His Tales

KASLO, April 3. — At the Kaslo Literary society's meeting in Odd Fellows' hall, Tuesday evening, Robert Louis Stevenson's literary work, and scenes from his life, were the subjects for the evening.

An interesting resume of the author's life was read by W. H. Burgess.

Scenes of his early life in Scotland, and portraits of Stevenson, his parents and grandparents were thrown on the screen by magic lantern, and his home in Samoa and his place of burial were also pictured.

Miss Eleanor Ormrod gave a brilliant criticism of "Markheem," and the wonderfully clever points made of his dual personality, "Markheim," although similar, being far more subtle a representation than "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Miss Thurza Rosmund gave some well-read verses of Stevenson.

D. Battrick read parts of the famous donkey journey from Monastir.

D. Cowie gave a well-read comic sketch on the respectability of the umbrella.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson and Miss M. Giegerich gave a musical trio, and Miss Mabel Parker sang Stevenson's "Requiem."

Rev. W. P. Bunt managed the lantern.

John D. Rode on Bicycle When He Made Long Golf Shots

ATLANTA, Ga., April 3.—John D. Rockefeller rode a bicycle between long shots in playing golf 21 years ago, Dr. John E. White of Anderson, S. C., said in a letter to O. B. Keeler, sports writer for the Atlanta Journal, recently published.

Dr. White, now pastor of the First Baptist church at Anderson, said he was taught golf when the guest of Mr. Rockefeller while preaching in the Euclid Avenue Baptist church at Cleveland. The lessons were given on the private golf course of Mr. Rockefeller.

"Mr. Rockefeller at that time," Dr. White wrote, "rode a bicycle after his long shots. He would drive, mount his bicycle, and one of his men would push him along to the ball. On the bicycle was a little basket in which was ice and half-pint bottles of barley water. Mr. Rockefeller would take a drink now and then.

"His game was straight, gleeful and short. After a good drive he usually would start singing under his breath a little song, 'Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming.'"

Hoppe Misses Shot Because of Persistent Fly

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)

Of the many stories told by Willie Hoppe, billiard champion recently dethroned by young Jake Schaefer, the one about the presistent fly is his favorite.

Along toward the middle of a certain game Hoppe found himself near the side rail, confronted with a difficult Masse shot. He raised his cue and took his stance, only to find that a common house fly had alighted on the cue ball at exactly the spot he wanted to hit. Hoppe paused a second waiting for the fly to go away, but he didn't budge. The referee came over and took out his handkerchief, shooing the fly away. Again Hoppe lifted his cue, and back again came the fly, settling down again on the same spot. Once more the referee shooed him away, and once more the fly circled around and came back again to his old perch.

The spectators were laughing, and those nearest the table joined in the action. They waved hats, newspapers and score cards, in all kinds of threatening gestures that would have frightened an elephant, and each time when the excitement had died down, the fly came back and sat down.

Eighteen distinct times Hoppe raised his cue to shoot, only to be thwarted each time by the returning fly. The only satisfactory explanation he could give for the episode was that the fly had run across a grain of sugar or chalk on the ball, and was determined to finish the tidbit in spite of the billiard game. At last somebody killed him.

When Hoppe finally raised his cue for the nineteenth time he found all his powers of concentration gone and missed the shot by the proverbial mile!

FRENCH COLT WINS OVER RECORD ODDS

Two Hundred and Fifteen to One Price Against Les Rameaux

PARIS, April 3.—Les Rameaux, a three-year-old maiden colt, today won the second race at the Maisons la Fitte track at the record odds of 215 to 1 in the grandstand and paddock parimutuels.

Small betters in the field staged a war dance and jeered the more prosperous race goers for having completely overlooked the "good thing." Les Rameaux is French for "the palms," and followers of "hunches," realizing that the day after tomorrow is Palm Sunday, scattered enough five franc notes on the horses' chance to win to bring down his price in the cheaper ring to 80 to 1. And many of them there were who cashed tickets.

The official prices in the grandstand parimutuels was 2163 francs for 10, and in the infield, 407 to 5.

Yankee Squash Team Loses Farewell Match

LONDON, April 3.—In the last match of their English tour, the United States squash racket players were defeated by the Royal Automobile club team, four matches to none.

FOOTER FIGURE PASSES

Tommy Rogers Gets Decision Over Bellamy

CARDSTON, April 3.—Tommy Rogers won the decision over Harold Bellamy here Wednesday night before a crowd that jammed the gymnasium.

Bellamy was clearly outpointed but put up a game scrap against the cleverer fighter. The Olda boy drew blood on the southern fighter the first round, but it did not amount to much.

Rogers was naturally the favorite, and won the admiration of the fans by his clean, aggressive style.

Russell Sloan refereed the bout to the satisfaction of all concerned. Two hundred ringside seats were all sold.

Good preliminaries preceded the main tussle.

Friendly athletic relations have been reestablished between Stanford, the University of California and University of Southern California.

PLANT MAKES WORLD RECORD OTTAWA WALK

Granville and Frigerio Aid Him; Nurmi, Ritola Both Romp Home

OTTAWA, April 3. — Paavo Nurmi, Finland's great runner, Olympic champion and wonder of the age, gave the Ottawa public a wonderful demonstration of his ability here tonight. The phantom Finn, running in elegant style, outdistanced Jimmy Connolly of Georgetown university, Lloyd Hann of Boston college, and R. W. Cashin of Ottawa in a mile-and-a-half race, the other runners finishing behind him in the order named.

Nurmi's time for the distance, of 6:56, was below the mark set by him in Hamilton.

Each Walks Half Distance

Ugo Frigerio, the Italian and Olympic champion, relayed with Phil Granville, Canadian champion, to force Willie Plant, United States, to a world's record in their three-mile walk. The mark, 20:43, eclipses the previous best time made by George Goulding.

Willie Ritola duplicated his brother Finn's triumph in a two-mile-and-a-half handicap race. His opponents were Edward Faber of Montreal and R. W. Cashin of Ottawa. His time of 11:48 was just short of establishing a new mark.

Lower Mainland Football Body's Appeal Is Lost

WINNIPEG, April 3.—The Dominion of Canada Football association has rendered the following decision in the appeal of the lower mainland football association against the decision of the British Columbia association.

"That the receipts of the exhibition game played at Athletic park on February 28, 1925, between St. Andrews and Westminister United be handed over to the British Columbia Football association, and that all appeal fees arising out of the decision of the Lower Mainland Football association, and British Columbia Football association be returned. That all expenses incurred in hearings of such appeals shall be taken from the receipts of the said exhibition game, and the balance of the receipts turned over to the Lower Mainland Football association injured players' fund. In the event of the said receipts not being sufficient to meet the expenses of the appeals and a sum of $50 for the injured players' fund, the difference shall be made up equally by the St. Andrews and Westminster clubs, and handed over to the British Columbia Football association."

The Pittsburgh Pirates have signed a battery of brothers from Hays Catholic college, Hays, Kan. They are Ernest Lorbeer, catcher, and Adley Lorbeer, pitcher.

Soccer football is the leading Sunday sport in Spain, and members of the nobility, as well as the middle classes, and even the poor, patronize the games in preference to bull fights.

Miss Ethel Lackey, Illinois Athletic club, broke a world's record recently in the 110-yard free style swim, making the time of 1:10 1-5, two seconds better than her 1924 olympic mark.

Nineteen ball players from Maryland are playing in the major leagues this season. Among the leaders are "Babe" Ruth, "Lefty" Groves, Jack Gentley, Ed Rommel and Johnny Neun.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton have agreed that head coaches shall not receive a larger salary than the maximum amount paid to full professors, $8000. No alumni bonuses will be sanctioned.

STOCK PRICES ARE IRREGULAR

In Latter Part of Trading They Follow Grain Decline

NEW YORK, April 3.—Stock prices fluctuated within irregular limits during the greater part of today's trading, but drifted lower toward the close in sympathy with another sharp reaction in grain prices. Except for the further break in grain prices there was little in the day's news to affect quoted values.

Raising of the Allis Chalmers dividend was followed by the traditional "selling on the good news."

The stock dropped from 81 to 78¾, closing at a net loss of ¼.

In the oils, Atlantic Refining and California Petroleum each closed more than 2 points higher, but several others including Pacific and Houston, showed moderate declines. Coppers also showed net gains of about a point, and most of the others improved fractionally.

United States Steel common and American Can closed fractionally off at 114¼ and 162 respectively. Baldwin dropped back ½ point to 112¾. Studebaker showed a slight fractional gain at 43½.

Mack Trucks dropped from 138½ to 135½ rallying later to 136¾, a net loss of 1¾. Stromberg Carburetor fell back nearly 4 points, to 62. Good buying was noted in Chandler and the Pierce Arrow shares. Nash touched another record top at 312½, and then fell back to 303, a net loss of 4 points. Call money renewed at 3¾ per cent and then dropped to 3½. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

If You Would Sell a House Consider Looks

People seldom buy a house, they buy an impression.

If you decide to sell a house, the first thing to do is to put in the improvements to make a good impression. These will lead to a quick sale.

A furnished house is much easier to sell than a new unfurnished house with a littered front yard.

The real estate commission is relatively small, so offer the local real estate man an additional incentive. About $50 spent in the local newspaper describing the improvements will also prove profitable in most cases.

Arrange the improvements to give the best impression and the result should be a quick, satisfactory sale.

NERVOUS WRECK FROM BOWEL TROUBLE

Ten Years of Suffering Ended by "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. F. M. SULLIVAN

"For over ten years, I was a complete nervous wreck, owing to severe Bowel Trouble and Acute Indigestion. Though a big man, I could hardly lift the smallest weight without suffering pain. As a last resort, I started using "Fruit-a-tives." Like a cloud, the nervousness left me after using the first box. I use the tablets according to directions and follow carefully your diet rules. The result is, today I am free of Indigestion and Bowel Troubles, and cannot recommend the wonderful Fruit Treatment too highly."

Thus writes Mr. Sullivan of 19 Pine St., Geneva, N. Y. "Fruit-a-tives" are made from intensified juices of luscious fruits — there is no other medicine like them. 25c & 50c at all dealers.

CORN LEADS THE PLUNGE

Yellow Cereal Below Dollar; Whole Grain Trade in Stampede

CHICAGO, April 3. — Dipping suddenly down below $1 a bushel for all deliveries, the corn market today carried the entire grain trade along into wild runaway selling. The stampede resulted from half frantic efforts of corn owners to have themselves from losses which appeared to be impending and which were made certain by the stampede itself. As compared with yesterday's finish, the worst breaks in price were 7⅞c a bushel for corn and 6½c in wheat. Corn and wheat closed extremely unsettled, corn 6⅛c to 7⅞c net lower, May 92¼ to 92⅝; wheat 3c to 4¾c down, May $1.33¼ to $1.33½ and July $1.29 to $1.29¼, with oats 2c to 2⅞c off, and provisions ranging from 35c decline to 5c advance.

TRADE REPORTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Most Centers Report an Improvement; Prospects Excellent

WINNIPEG, April 3.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust association states:

Halifax—Trade conditions generally show a further improvement over last week.

Montreal—Boots and shoes trade during the past week or so has been fairly good. Hardware sales are holding up well, and dry goods show much improvement. Collections are fair. Prospects looking better than this time last year.

Toronto—Wholesale trade continues to be somewhat spotty. Nice orders coming in. Retail trade business fairly good. Departmental stores report a good volume of business. Optimism is very prevalent.

Winnipeg—Wholesale trade reported *good. Retail demand in the city con*siderably improved. Collections fair.

Regain—Wholesale trade conditions improving and a marked improvement noted in retail circles. Collections slow.

Calgray — Owing to the condition of country roads and continued cool weather, business generally still remains quiet.

Edmonton—Wholesalers report sales quite as good as last year, with collections fairly satisfactory. Decided improvement expected when road conditions improve.

MONTREAL STOCKS ARE FEATURELESS

Smelters Close Steady at Sixty; Quebec Power Is Strong

MONTREAL, April 3.—Prices again failed to reveal any definite tendency in today's stock market.

Brazilian assumed leadership in activity, closing unchanged at 51¼. Atlantic Sugar came second in activity and suffered a loss of ⅛, at 25. Smelters closed steady at 60. Quebec Power was the strong feature, regis*tering an advance of 1⅝ points, at* 88½. Canada Cement suffered the greatest loss, closing at 100¼, off ⅝.

Other changes: Asbestos, up ½ to the new high of 60, and the preferred up 1¼; Brompton, off ⅝; Canada Cement preferred, up ⅞; MacKay preferred, up ¾; National Breweries, up ¾; Steel of Canada, off ½ and the preferred off a like amount and the Winnipeg Railway shares off ¼.

Closing prices: Abitibi, 66; Brazil, 51¼; Breweries, 48¾; Brompton, 3½; Cement, 100¼; Spanish common, 105¼; Montreal Power, 74½; Smelters, 60; Steel of Canada, 85; Winnipeg Electric, 41.

WINNIPEG WHEAT IN THE DEPTHS

Market Lowest Since the Spectacular Rise Started Last Fall

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Wheat prices wallowed in the lowest levels reached since the spectacular advance started last fall. May delivery plunged down to $1.36⅝, representing a loss of 7⅛c from Thursday's close and 9c below the high point for the day. During the closing minutes of the session the market rallied, May finishing at $1.38⅝. July was comparatively stronger, jumping ahead of the nearby future to close at $1.39⅛. Buying power was lacking entirely, except for an early spasm which was traced to covering by local shorts. Experts report greatly improved weather conditions throughout the winter wheat belt, excellent rains having fallen in the drought stricken areas during the past 48 hours. The chief cause of weakness, however, was attributed to lack of export demand.

The coarse grain markets also were decidedly weak, rye slumping 9c, oats 3¼c, barley 1⅝c and flax 3c.

Canadian Beef and Butter for Japan

VANCOUVER, April 3.—A steady movement of Canadian beef and butter for the Japanese market is noticeable *in the manifests of the Canadian Pac*ific liners sailing out of this port for the Orient. The Empress of Asia, which cleared today for the far east, carried in her refrigerator space a fairly heavy consignment of these commodities in addition to a 2500-ton cargo of automobiles, Canadian cigarets, kraft paper, box shooks and general merchandise.

Featherweight Radio Has Long-Distance Range

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—Excellent results are being achieved with a radio set weighing 50 lbs. and having a sending range of 5000 miles, marine flying corps officials here state. Developed primarily for use on aircraft, where light weight is a vital factor, the "featherweight" radio has succesfully broadcast messages to the island of Guam, a distance of nearly 5000 miles from the army air field where the radio has been installed.

Old Faithful Ends Life by Watch Over His Master's Grave

LANCASTER, Ohio, April 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—A lonely death watch began last July by Nero, a dog, ended recently with the end of the canine's life coming as he stood guard over his master's grave.

When his owner was shot to death in a gun battle with prohibition men in July of last year, Nero followed the funeral to the cemetery, where he has kept watch daily, leaving the grave at short intervals only for food. All efforts to coax the dog away failed.

HER NERVES SO BAD SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Mrs. Grace Kitchen, St. George, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe attack of pneumonia I was left in a weak and run-down condition. My nerves were so bad I could not sleep nights, and in the daytime I had terrible fainting spells, caused by my heart being weak. Finally I got so bad I had to take to my bed for weeks at a time, but one day I read about so decided to try them.

After taking one box I felt a slight improvement. I have now taken five boxes, and have gained 35 pounds in weight. I am now more than able to do all my own housework as well as considerable outside work. I cannot recommend Milburn's H. & N. Pills too highly for those suffering as I did."

VACCINATION'S COST MILLIONS TO THE FARMS

Why Stop at One; Gain Immunity All Round, Urges Farmer

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir—We read with amazement the astounding proclamation in The Daily News announcing that by order of the department of health at Victoria, every person in British Columbia must be vaccinated forthwith. We should not have been more dumfounded had we been struck by a thunderbolt from a clear sky at zero temperature. Bewildered we gazed around and wondered if we were still in Canada, and then as the full significence of the proclamation was borne in upon us, the vials of our wrath broke loose, and we proceeded to exhaust our, by no means inconsiderable vocubulary of epithet and expletive, in the vain endeavor to fully express our opinion of the mental status of the author of the proclamation.

Should Join the Kaiser

We said we had fondly believed we had eliminated autocratic megalomania when we sent its last exponent to saw wood at Doorn, and now to our inexpressible horror we find that the elimination of the diseased individual does not eliminate the disease, and it has broken out with redoubled virulence in the department of health at Victoria, and we proceeded to consign this latest megalomaniac to a land that is, by virtue of its climate, devoid of wood.

We wondered if any dim realization of what this order is going to cost British Columbia had penetrated the dense cranial envelope of its author.

Costly to the Farms

The execution of the order (we would prefer executing its author) means a loss of millions to the farmers of British Columbia. Scattered as they are among the valleys of a vast territory, picture each farmer, with his wife and family, having to secure someone to care for his place while they may have to spend days on boats, trains and wagon roads and in hotels. Doctors to pay, transportation companies to pay, hotels to pay we simply cannot do it, and if we do not, $100 fine to pay, and all the before mentioned expenses beside, and on top of all this, if the vaccination be effective, to be incapacitated for days or even weeks, and all this at a time of year when every hour counts.

Can you wonder that we believe a raving maniac or an absolute fool is in charge at Victoria. Because a man in Vancouver had smallpox last winter 400,000 people, scattered over 350,000 square miles, must be vaccinated forthwith. Why focus on smallpox? Why not guard against the equally imminent horrors of malaria, typhoid, yellow fever and beri beri?

A Deadly Skeeter

Why not make a clean house? If we are to be vaccinated because a man in Vancouver had smallpox last winter, why not inoculate us against malaria, for I have on good authority that a wild unbridled anopheles was seen in California last autumn; that a licentious stegomyia about the same time invaded the environs of Timbuctoo, and it has even been told me that no longer ago than last autumn a streptococcus went careering madly down one of the streets of Nelson, and it is unquestionably true that the bones of a dinosaur were found quite recently in Alberta.

In the midst of life we are in death. Only last week a man died in London.

Please, Mr. Editor, bring these things to the cognizance of the health autocrat, and if we must be vaccinated let us also be inoculated and aerated, hydrated and desiccated, immunized and pasteurized. Let us either execute the orders, or the author of them, and personally, I much prefer the latter.

A FARMER WITH A FAMILY.

HAD BOILS ALL OVER HIM

There is only one way to get rid of boils and that is by going right to the seat of the trouble—the blood—as the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

cleanses the system and removes all the foul matter from the blood in a way that few medicines will do.

Mrs. Chas. Rankin, Bulyea, Sask., writes:—"A few years ago my husband had a terrible time with boils. On one arm he had 16 between his elbow and wrist; five on the back of his neck, and several more on different parts of his body. He tried everything he could think of, but got no relief until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, and to his surprise it completely relieved him of his boils in a very short time."

'SUMMER DAY' CASTS SPELL

People Feel a Bit Faint Without Realizing It's Sixty-six

Yesterday was a beautiful summer day, with the temperature so high that many people felt faint, without realizing the cause, until they learned the mercury had climbed within four degrees of 70.

Cottonwood Roars

Cottonwood falls, even at this early date, had a roar yesterday that could be heard on Baker street

Dominion public works officials state the lake has not begun to rise—is, in fact, actually still falling—but it is certain that if the heat is at all maintained, the Kootenay waters, fed by rivers and creeks all the way from the Windermere, through Montana and Idaho, to this point, will quickly reflect the melting of the snow.

The Warmest Days

Yesterday, according to J. S. Goulding, meteorologist, was the warmest day since last autumn. The thermometer climbed to 66 during the day, while the minimum was 35 degrees.

Thursday the maximum was 60, while the minimum was 35, Friday, March 20, was the third warmest day of the spring so far, when the temperature went to 57.
