SETTLER DIES QUADRA ISLAND FIRE
ROSSLAND FIRE TRAVELS 12 MILES IN NIGHT

ROSSLAND FIRE RUNS TWELVE MILES, NIGHT

Penticton and Beaverdell May Effect Junction Over Summit

FOREST DEPARTMENT ALMOST IN DESPAIR

Can Only Try to Save Timber and Let Them Burn, Says St. Clair

"Never in my seven years in British Columbia have I seen the fires as bad as they are now," said R. C. St. Clair, district forester, last night. "Some of the fires have grown to such proportions that we can only protect the valuable watersheds and valuable timber they might reach, and let them burn, in most cases up the mountains. The only thing we can do is to put out all the small fires as quickly as possible, and to hope for rain."

Big Sheep Creek Ablaze

A bad new fire is reported on Big Sheep creek west of Rossland, up the creek about eight or 10 miles on the west of the slope. This fire, owing to the exceeding dryness and low humidity, rather than to any high wind, travelled 12 miles on Monday night, Mr. St. Clair said.

Another new fire was reported yesterday, on Sheep creek, in the Solman valley near the boundary. The Americans are fighting spot fires from this on their side of the line, and the forestry branch sent a crew in to the fire on this side yesterday.

Ellis May Join Beaverdell

It is feared that the big Ellis creek fire, which has been endangering the Midway water supply, will join the Beaverdell fire, which is raging out all bounds. Mr. St. Clair, who has just returned from a trip to most of the fires in this district, left last night for this fire. He said that no reports of danger to mine buildings or timber through this fire had been received yesterday.

The Rock Creek and Beaverdell fires are both very bad. The Beaverdell fire is burning near Carmi and on the north and east slopes of Mount Baldy.

Westley Fire Held

Reports to the branch yesterday were that the big Westley fire is held at all fronts.

The Mount Sophia fire on the American side near Paterson, which threatened to cross the boundary, is held by forestry men on the north.

While it is not giving any trouble at present, the big Porcupine or Farron fire is still burning.

No reports were received yesterday from the Gerrard fire in the Lardeau, or the Arrow lake fires.

Planes May Be Used to Fight the Liquor Smuggling Over Line

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11. — Airplanes to track bootleggers may be asked of the government in view of traffic in liquor between Canada and the United States.

Federal agents here say it has been impossible to apprehend planes bringing liquor from Canada to Illinois. Numerous complaints have been made by Milwaukee residents, who have been roused in the early hours by the drum of airplane motors.

The planes do not stop in Wisconsin, and are believed to be following the same routes to Illinois, guided by ground lights.

INSTANT INTERVIEWS

Alderman A. I. Austin, in council—"We have been on the council many more years than some of the other aldermen who are now asking questions, but there were a devil of a lot of things I wanted to know 10 years ago I don't know yet."

D. StDenis, vice-president B.C.A.A.A.—The athletic commission which the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union is asking the provincial government to consider establishing is an idea borrowed from Ontario, where the plan works extremely well. There the commission maintains an important work, one item of which is promoting athletic instruction in the schools, and raises a revenue from a 10 per cent tax on proceeds of professional meets and bouts.

Otis Hawkins, Hail — President Wilson was a man of towering intellect, and his ideas were too advanced for men of the Hiram Johnson and W. J. Borah type. Bryan's ideas for democracy were also in advance of his time.

Staff-Sergt. E. Gammon — The Knights Templar gathering at Seattle was attended by 40,000 knights. There was one parade that took more than three hours to pass a given point. Our entertainment was lavish, and included a wonderful show or pageant in the University stadium. W. M. Archibald, of Rossland, is the new grand prior for the Kootenay.

W. R. Ross, K.C., Kimberley—Kimberley is expanding almost visibly. It is one of the most solidly prosperous towns in the province at this date.

Premier Veniot Bows to Will of the People; Clean Up in Two Weeks

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 11. people. We feel that we have—"I bow to the will of the given them a good government during our tenure of office, but if they vote to defeat us we must accept the verdict."

This was the comment made on Monday's provincial election by Premier P. J. Veniot over the long distance telephone from Bathurst this evening to the Canadian Press.

Premier Veniot said he would leave Bathurst for Fredericton today to clean up various government matters. He said that he expected this to take two or three weeks.

He told authorities the body would be found somewhere between Jefferson City and California, Mo.

LIGHTNING BOLT DROPS UPON TRURO

Pedestrian Stunned; Telegraph Out of Order; From Sunny Sky

TRURO, N.S., Aug. 11.—From a cloudless sky this afternoon a bolt of lightning accompanied by a deafening thunder descended upon Walker street, shattered a tree, entered a house via the telephone wires, burned a telephon box and left by an open door, in which a young child was standing. The child was unhurt, but a pedestrian on Walker street was stunned and several others were shocked while telegraph instruments a quarter of a mile away were put temporarily out of commission. There was but one bolt of lightning and one clap of thunder and through it all the sun shone brightly and not a cloud was to be seen. A similar occurrence was recorded here three years ago.

The addition of this seat will give Hon. Dr. Baxter, premier-elect, 37 of the 48 seats in the next legislature and will leave only 11 Liberals, headed by Hon. P. J. Veniot, the present premier.

The corrected totals given by Sheriff Skidd follows:

LONDON, Aug. 11.—An extreme reshuffling of colonial governments is being made. It was officially announced today that Sir Graeme Thomson is to leave British Guiana for Nigeria, replacing Sir Hugh Clifford, who was recently given the governorship of Ceylon. Sir Samuel Wilson, who relinquishes the governorship of Jamaica on being appointed a permanent under-secretary for the colonies, will be succeeded by Sir Reginald Stubbs, who, as governor of Hongkong, lately distinguished himself in his firm handling of the situation there and who stated a few weeks ago that he would cancel his return homeward if necessary to see "this nonsense through" but hinted that somebody would likely suffer if he did. Cecil Clements, colonial secretary at Ceylon, will take over Hongkong, and Sir Cecil Rodwell succeeds Sir Graeme Thomson in British Guiana.

Tudhope, Dr. Frederick Hoffman of Newark, N.J., and Sergeant Perry had a narrow escape from serious injury and possible death.

The flight had been specially arranged for Dr. Hoffman, who is touring the United States and Canada investigating aviation insurance conditions.

The fire started when the connecting rod of the engine broke. Sergeant Perry immediately set in motion the fire fighting apparatus and Major Tudhope volplaned to the water below.

Little damage was done to the plane.

DREAM OF RICHES IN POLAND FADES

Descendant of Polish Nobility Loses Claim to Lemberg and Jewels

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A countess for a day, with claims to the whole city of Lemberg, Poland, and 11 barrels of gold and jewels, Victoria Augustynowiez, 23-year-old bobbed haired stenographer, has seen her childhood dream fade after partial attainment.

The Polish consulate general recognized her contention that she was the descendant of a titled Polish family, but ruled that there is no longer a Polish nobility, the country now being a republic.

"Countess Victoria's claims to Lemberg and the treasure are mostly founded on a family legend," according to the consulate general. Victoria had claimed that the gold, jewels and land were seized from her great-great-grandfather by the Polish king in 1838.

TORNADO KILLS HOLLAND FOLK; MANY HOMELESS

Three Provinces Visited; Towns in Darkness; Lightning Terrific

TWO THOUSAND FOLKS LEFT WITHOUT HOMES

Public Subscriptions Opened for Victims; Sixty Houses Destroyed

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 11.—Several were killed, many injured and an immense amount of damage done by a storm of tornado violence, seldom experienced in Holland, which struck the country yesterday evening. Accounts still are fragmentary because of the destruction of communication but it is clear from isloated dispatches that a terrific gale accompanied by violent lightning, thunder and hail swept across the provinces of Brabant, Gelderland and Overyssel from the southwest to the northeast.

Roof Ripped Off

It first struck the important railway junction of Dala Roosendaal where the entire glass roof of the big station was ripped off. The town was left practically in darkness owing to the destruction of overhead wires while the neighboring countryside suffered severely.

The hurricane increased in violence over Brabant. In one village six were killed, many injured and 30 houses destroyed.

The commune of Borculo has fared worse than any other district from which reports have been received. It being estimated that the damage there will reach 1,000,000,000 florens (about $400,000). Much damage also is reported from the important industrial and textile regions of Overyssel of which Hengelo is the center. Details, however, still are lacking.

Two Thousand Homeless

The center of the storm was in Borculo, which has 5000 inhabitants. Two thousand of them are homeless, the rest are living in the ruins of their homes.

The governor of the province of Gelderland has arrived at Borculo, on foot, all the roads being impassable for vehicles because of fallen trees.

Queen Wilhelmina has sent a secretary to inquire regarding the extent of the disaster and public subscriptions have been opened for the victims, most of whom carried no insurance against the storm of such magnitude.

He declared he would try again and his only reason for abandoning the voyage after having been at sea 96 days and traveling 4000 miles, was injury to his eyes through sun glare and fear that his fresh water supply would give out.

TEXTILE STRIKE WILL CONTINUE

British Government May Become Involved in Dispute Over Workers

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Almost before it has finished with the coal dispute, the government appears likely to become involved in another industrial dispute, the deadlock in the textile trade in Yorkshire, where nearly 200,000 operatives have been on strike for the past three weeks against their employers' demand for a reduction of 8.7 per cent in wages. The men's leaders have refused to agree to any reduction whatever, but both sides have agreed to accept the findings of a court of investigation.

The employers want the men to resume work at a 5 per cent reduction in wages, pending the report of this court of investigation. This the men refuse to do, and all efforts to find a compromise hitherto have failed. It is expected that the government will be compelled to mediate in this dispute as it did in the miners' quarrel.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW A SHARP DECLINE PRICE

Eastern Houses Pour Large Volume Into Pit; Longs Hang On

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Immense selling of futures delivery of wheat, and severe setbacks in price resulted today from government estimates that wheat crops both in Canada and the United States would be much larger than a majority of traders had assumed would be the case. An extreme collapse of 7⅝c a bushel was witnessed.

The wheat market closed unsettled, 3⅞c to 5⅞c net lower. September $1.60 to $1.60¾, and December $1.58⅝ to $1.59. Corn finished irregular, ⅝c off to ⅛c up; oats, 1⅛c to 1⅜c down, and provisions at 5c to 32c decline.

Col. Beach Arrest Did Not Reveal Any Cache of Narcotics

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Reports that Col. Will Gray Beach, veteran chief of narcotics agents here, who was arrested yesterday with three of his agents, had revealed a secret cache where $250,000 worth of narcotics were stored, were denied tonight by federal officials.

Patrick Roche, of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau, who directed the arrest of Beach and his operatives, on charges of trading in narcotics to peddlers for stolen merchandise, said that Colonel Beach had made "damaging admissions," but had not told of a narcotic cache, or made any written confession.

The 53-year-old deposed chief, a native of Tennessee and 30 years in the government service, was closely guarded during the day after he had hinted that he might attempt suicide.

Beach and his three agents, one of them a former minister, were released late today under bonds of $5000.

FARMERS SEEK SAFETY NEAR EDGE OF ISLAND

Farm Houses Go in Flames; Mad Rush on Island

GOWLAND HARBOR MAN DIES HOSPITAL

Victoria Reports More Favorable Outlook, Settlers Move Belongings

FIRE NEWS AT A GLANCE

Several farm houses destroyed on Quadra island.

One fatality is also reported there.

Heriot Bay settlement still in danger.

Granite Bay settlement besieged; people rush out belongings.

Increased humidity greatly assists Vancouver Island fires.

Washington and Oregon flames sweep rich timber.

Fires break across Canadian line from Washington.

Situation serious through interior of British Columbia.

Departments can only wait and save timber, they say.

VICTORIA, Aug. 11.—Forest fires which raced across the northern end of Quadra Island, between northern Vancouver island and the mainland, yesterday, destroyed several farm houses in its path, resulted in at least one fatality, and today threatened to engulf the small part of the island which had escaped so far, according to long-distance telephone reports received here this afternoon. The damage caused by the fire will be very heavy, though so far it is impossible to estimate. The settlers who escaped the flames are huddling together at the southern end of the island, fearing that an unfavorable wind may sweep the fire upon them at any moment.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Henry Thomas, who was found unconscious at Gowland Harbor yesterday, died today without regaining consciousness in hospital at Campbell River. It is thought possible that others have perished in the conflagration, which was only prevented from completely sweeping the island when a drop in the wind which had been fanning the flames helped the settlers to make some headway against them.

Damage was serious at Heriot Bay, where many houses were burned. The settlement is still in serious danger.

Granite Bay settlement also suffered seriously. Many outlying homes were destroyed before their owners could remove any of their belongings. The settlers rushed through the woods ahead of the fire to seek shelter in the southern portion of the island, where the area of safety is gradually growing smaller.

Meanwhile the fire situation on Vancouver Island has shown great improvement in the last 24 hours, due to increased humidity.

Fires Defy Crews

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 11.—With two large fires still uncontrolled in the Kanikshu National forest, blazes from across the Canadian line are sweeping into the reserve, said information received here today. The Rhode fire, which has burned over more than 3000 acres, and the upper Salmon river fire, about 300 acres in extent, were defying efforts of large crews of fire-fighters, and more men were sent today to combat them.

Lightning Fires Burn

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The forest fire situation in Oregon was somewhat improved today, but in Washington, Idaho and Montana the fires were reported out of control. More than 50 fires burned in Trinity and Shasta county, California, having been started by lightning yesterday.

In western Washington a serious fire was burning in green timber near Mineral, to the edge of the Ranier National forest, near the Canadian border in Idaho and Montana. All fires were reported controlled in the Clearwater, Idaho, forest.

The 17-mile fire north of Libby, Mont., in the Kootenai forest reserve, has covered 18,000 acres and spread 3000 acres today. Another large fire was reported in Pend Oreille national forest in Idaho.

Sweep Over Canadian Line

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 11.—The 17-mile fire north of Libby, in the Kootenai national forest, today covered 18,000 acres. Spreading 3000 acres a day, it is being fought by hundreds of men with little effect. Two large blazes were sweeping across the Canadian line into the Kanikishu and Pend Oreille national forest today.

HAMILTON'S GRAND OLD MAN AND EARL HAIG

Notable among the events of Field Marshal Lord Haig's trip to Hamilton was his visit to Adam Brown, the grand old man of the Ambitious City. The former commander of the British armies brought to Mr. Brown greetings from his son in England, Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager of the Canadian Pacific railways. In honor of the visit of his fellow countryman, Mr. Brown donned a tam o' shanter. Despite the fact that he will be 100 years old next spring—having been born in Edinburgh on April 2, 1826—Mr. Brown is still hale and hearty.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railways, tonight opened the Vancouver unit of the company's broadcasting stations, completing the coast to coast chain of radio stations, owned or operated by the company throughout Canada. Sir Henry was introduced to his radio audience by Mayor L. D. Taylor. The Vancouver station is the first to meet the requirements of the new radio law which provides for remote control in broadcasting. This has been done by locating the antennae and operating room on Lulu island, 10 miles from the studio here.

Soap Box Orator Holds Up Traffic Saskatoon Talking Harvest Wages

SASKATOON, Aug. 11. — Traffic was jammed, and even trolley service delayed when a soap box orator who claimed to represent the I.W.W., gathered a huge and cheering crowd around him here early tonight. After being warned twice to move on, the speaker, who gave the name of Leroy Greenlee, was placed under arrest by the police. Greenlee advocated $4.50 per day harvest wages, eight-hour day in the fields, and free meals in the restaurants until that was forthcoming.

School Teacher Shoots Himself at Saskatoon

SASKATOON, Aug. 11.—Shooting himself through the head with a high powered rifle in the Marsden, Sask., butcher shop, A. N. Siddle, aged 36, a school teacher, committed suicide this afternoon. Financial worries are said to have been the motive.

"Is that CORN COMING BACK AGAIN?"

If you merely cut the top OFF it certainly will. The business end is the root. You must get it OUT.

Cutting the top of a corn off with a razor or burning it off with caustic lotions, etc., doesn't do any good. It may do great harm by causing infection or even blood poisoning.

Also it hurts and the root just sprouts right up again, so your corn soon has a brand new top on it bigger and more painful than ever. The top is only dead skin anyway. Get at the little pointed part or core that extends down into the toe. That is what hurts when it presses on sensitive nerves, and it is the part you have to get out. A good handful of Reudel Bath Saltrates dissolved in a gallon or so of hot water will soften corns and callouses, like water softens soap. Just soak them in this for a while, then take hold of the corn with your fingers, and out it will come root and all. The refined Reudel Bath Saltrates costs very little, and any druggist will have it. A half-pound or so is sufficient to rid the whole family of all foot troubles.

Obtainable at most drug stores for 50c, or direct from the distributors Macnamara Limited, New Birks Building, Montreal

RAJAH DANCES AT SUMMER RESORT

Heir to Jumza and Kassmir Thrones was Blackmail Victim

GULMARG, Kassmir, Aug. 11. — Rajah Sir Hari Singh, heir to the throne of Jumza and Kassmir, and more famous outside India as the mysterious "Mr. A." victim of the £300,000 blackmail case which stirred England last fall, has taken up his summer resort here, 30 miles west of Srinagar. His visit is attracting especial interest among the large European summer colony here because of the poor health of his father, which makes it possible that Sir Hari Singh will succeed to the throne shortly.

The rajah is amusing himself with polo and dancing. Since his wife is a strict purdah the seclusion in which Indian women of high caste life, he has had a private dance room built adjoining his dining room at the hotel, so he and his wife can dance unseen by guests in the main ball room.

The rajah is still limping from an accident suffered while tobagganing last year. He spent the first part of this year big game shooting in central India.

William Cooper Hobbs, a lawyer's clerk, has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment for his share in the blackmail plot, having been convicted of "receiving stolen property abroad." James Charles Arthur, formerly the rajah's aide, faces trial on a similar charge in France, the French government having refused to extradite him to England. The case had its inception when the rajah was induced to sign two checks for £150,000 each after he had been found in a Paris hotel with Mrs. Maude Robinson, wife of one of the men accused of complicity in the plot. He stopped payment on one of them. The other was cashed in France.

The case came to light when the woman's husband sued the Midland bank, of London, to compel payment of funds deposited in the bank in his name, alleged to have been part of the so-called blackmail plot's proceeds. During the early stages of the case, the British government, for reasons of state, prevented the use of the rajah's name in court proceedings, and he was referred to only as "Mr. A."

FARMERS EXPECT DOLLAR THIRTY

So States Doherty Talking Crop Returns; Pool Dividend September

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—That members of last year's wheat pool in western Canada would be able to defray at least a good part of the threshing costs of this year by means of a further 10 per cent payment of the 1924 crop, was the statement made tonight by Manning Doherty, former minister of agriculture, in Ontario, who had just arived here after a trip through the west.

This final payment, to be made probably in September, would bring the farmer's return on his 1924 crop up to $1.65 per bushel, said Mr. Doherty. "Last year's wheat pool had all the success any reasonable-minded man could expect," he declared.

Four Hundred Million Bushels

As to this year's crop, Mr. Doherty predicted a yield of between 350,000 and 400,000 bushels, his only qualification being that the crop escape frost for a few days longer.

"The general impression is that the 1925 crop will return the farmer between $1.25 and $1.30 per bushel for No. 1 hard at Fort William," stated Mr. Doherty. "There is a wonderful spirit of confidence among the wheat growers. Last year the good price enabled many of them to liquidate their indebtedness, due to previous reverses, so that the price of this year's crop, although lower, will allow them to buy. The big crop this year should have a very material effect on business through the whole Dominion."

VARIED CLAIMS ARE HEARD; WAR LOSSES

Over $70,000 Claims Against Germans for Illtreatment, Losses in Ships

EDMONTON, Aug. 11.—The sittings of the war reparations commission in Edmonton continued today and claims of Edmonton citizens who suffered loss in acts of illegal warfare committed by the enemy in the late war were considered. Some of the principal claims were:

William George Flint is claiming $12,000 as damage for having been interned in an enemy camp as a civilian prisoner for several months.

Elmer Livius Luck was interned as a civilian prisoner for nine months and his personal belongings were confiscated. He is claiming $2800.

Hesperian Claims

Colin McKenzie for injuries received when the S. S. Gitness was torpedoed between Crete and Malta is claiming $10,000.

W. G. Morris and Florence Morris for the loss of personal belongings in the sinking of the S. S. Hesperian have claim for £800.

Elizabeth Ann Gledhill, of Stony Plain has filed claim for $5,723.45 for the loss of property on the Hesperian.

William A. Graham, of Camrose, for the loss of a sister, a hospital at Largos, West Africa, has filed claim for $20,000.

Mrs. Charlotte Pye claims $1175 for the loss of personal effects on the Lusitania.

Soren Sorenson of Wainwright for the loss of personal effects on the Lusitania is claiming $573.

Mrs. Edith A. Bosworth of Prince George, B.C., who in company with her two children, was on the Hesperian when it was torpedoed has filed claim for $2250 for injuries received.

Hamilton Finds a Shortage in Tax Accounts as We

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 11. — An announcement was made today by Mayor Jutten to the effect that a shortage of slightly more than $4[illegible] had been discovered in the accounts of Cecil Stewart, until recently cashier in the tax department. Stewart was dismissed a few months ago and is now working in Detroit. This brings his shortages up to approximately $2000.

In all cases the shortages were in checks paid in by citizens for taxes.

The discovery of further irregularities follows a most rigid investigation by police officials and inspectors.

THE GUMPS—THE FORTUNE TELLER

'The Wolves and the Lamb'

By J. S. FLETCHER

CHAPTER IX.

Mr. Messenger, an elaborately-dressed gentleman, who might have belonged to the highest order of the peerage (as represented in the popular journals of fiction), awaited Mr. Carsdale and his young friend in the corridor which led to the suite of rooms of which the elder man had been speaking; near him, in an attitude of respectful attention, stood a clean-shaven, neat-figured person who was also very well and soberly dressed, and carried a silk hat in his hand, but whose garments, well cut as they were, seemed to suggest in themselves that they were carefully designed as a sort of livery. This individual greeted Carsdale and Richard with a deep bow and composed smile; Carsdale threw him an off-hand nod.

"See you presently, Kedgin," he said. "Now, Mr. Messenger, this is Mr. Richard Shrewsbury, and we'll look around the place at once. I've just been telling Mr. Shrewsbury that he's lucky to find such a convenient suite vacant. Let's see—Lord Yordimere had it last, hadn't he?"

"For three years, Mr. Carsdale," replied Mr. Messenger, in grave and measured tones. "And his lordship would have retained it but for the fact that his regiment was ordered to India for an indefinite period. Since his lordship left, however, Mr. Carsdale, the suite has been entirely re-decorated, and the reception-rooms have been fully refurnished, and I think I may assure Mr. Shrewsbury that—for a suite of modest dimensions, you know, Mr. Carsdale, and at a moderate rental—he could find nothing better in London. This way, gentlemen."

It did not occur to Richard at the moment that what is one man's notion of modesty and moderation is not another's; he was wholly absorbed in examining and admiring the place which he was invited to settle down in and to call home. It seemed to him to be a very palatial suite of apartments; quite a little house in itself, he thought, except that everything was on one level, and that there were no stairs. He listened and observed in silence while Mr. Messenger pointed out the features and advantages of the place. There was a properly-sized entrance hall. There were two excellent reception-rooms, each with an outlook on Berkeley Square. There were two equally excellent bedrooms; there was a bathroom with all the latest inventions and improvements. The accommodation for domestics was arranged, said the agent, on the most modern principles, and was designed for a married couple, who were provided with a bathroom, a sitting-room, a kitchen (to which was added a butler's pantry and wine cellar), the usual offices, and a separate entrance. Everything was perfect and fully approved as regards sanitation, ventilation and the supply of water. The suite was fitted throughout with electric light, and there was a first class and luxurious supply of linen, glass, and china.

"But not, of course, silver and plate," added Mr. Messenger. "Our tenants, naturally, supply their own silver and plate."

"Oh, of course, of course!" said Carsdale. "Yes, of course."

"And the rent," concluded Mr. Messenger, softly, "the rent, as the suite stands, is one hundred and twenty guineas per calendar month. "Or," he added, with a bland smile, and an air of conferring a great favor, "we would say fifteen hundred pounds per annum—on the usual terms of a yearly tenancy, of course."

"Very reasonable, very reasonable!" murmured Carsdale.

"You would advise me to take the suite on those terms?" asked Richard. "You know, of course, better than I do."

"I should certainly advise it," answered Carsdale. "You couldn't do better. As I said, you're fortunate in finding the place to let."

Richard turned to Mr. Messenger with an old-fashioned bow.

"Very well," he said. "I'll take the suite, then, on those terms."

Mr. Messenger also bowed and rubbed his hands.

"Thank you, sir,' he said. "You will not regret your bargain. Then you will bring Mr. Shrewsbury round, Mr. Carsdale, at your con——"

"We'll come around and sign the agreement in a few minutes," said Carsdale. "And give you a check for the first quarter, too. I suppose you've got a checkbook on you, Shrewsbury?" he added. "If you haven't I have, it's all one.'

But Richard had a checkbook on him, and made haste to say so, and Mr. Messenger departed with another bow, and Carsdale stepped out to the hall and called in the man whom they had left in the corridor. The man came in with a certain quiet assurance, in which confidence in himself seemed to be combined with the exact amount of proper respect due to a possible master, and as he drew up Carsdale waved his hands toward him in the fashion in which a seller might exhibit some thoroughly good article to a likely purchaser.

"Now, this, Shrewsbury," he said, "this is William Kedgin. I have known him for several years. He is a thoroughly honest, reliable man. He is a first class valet, a thoroughly experienced gentleman's servant. He has valeted several gentlemen of more or less note. He has a wife who is a capital housekeeper, and who can be guaranteed—with some assistance from him—to keep your suite of rooms in apple-pie order; she is, moreover, equally capable of sending in just what you would like a breakfast to be if you give a bachelor breakfast party. You can safely leave your clothes, your linen, your wine, in Kedgin's hands; your breakfast, your dusting, your cleaning-up, in Mrs. Kedgin's. And your terms are, I think, Kedgin, four pounds a week for the two of you, and find yourselves, eh?"

"Quite right, sir," replied Kedgin in a quiet, assured voice. "Our usual terms, sir. If Mr. Shrewsbury would wish to see our testimonials, Mr. Carsdale——"

"I don't think Mr. Shrewsbury need bother," said Carsdale. "Mr. Shrewsbury can depend upon me."

"Certainly, certainly," said Richard, who had already conceived a very high opinion of Carsdale's powers. "I shall be very glad to engage you on those terms," he continued, turning to Kedgin.

"Thank you, sir," replied Kedgin. "We shall do our best to give you complete satisfaction, sir. When would you wish us to enter upon our duties, Sir?"

"Why, that's just what I was going to speak of," said Carsdale. "Look here, Shrewsbury, you may as well come in here at once. Let Kedgin go to the hotel, pay your bill, and bring your luggage here. I'm going to ask you to dine with me, so you'll be fixed up for the evening, and Kedgin will have all ready for you when you turn in at night. That's your wisest plan."

And Richard acquiesced readily, and they gave Kedgin his orders, and went off to Mr. Messenger's office, and there Richard signed a document which Carsdale saved him the trouble of reading and drew his first check in London, and subsequently walked out with his guide and mentor, feeling that he was now an actual denizen of the great city.

"You made things very easy for me," he said, in the fulness of his gratitude. "I really don't know what I should have done without you!"

"Oh, you'll soon learn how to do things for yourself," laughed. Carsdale. "The in and outs of London life are quickly learned by young men like you. Now, we've plenty of time before evening, and I'll introduce you to three absolutely necessary people—the tailor, the bootmaker, and the builder of shirts and such-like. And perhaps we'll throw in the hatter, and you'd better see about fitting yourself out in the silver you want for your table. They're all together here, in Bond street or Saville Row—come along!"

They wound up the afternoon's proceedings with a quiet but remarkably good dinner at a certain establishment, whereto one could repair, said Carsdale, without the trouble of dressing, and by the time they had finished their coffee the elder man had formed a very accurate estimate of the younger one's powers and capabilities. And Carsdale was feeling very satisfied when he played his next move in the game.

"You won't care for a music-hall or a theater on this, your first night," he said. "What do you say to having a quiet cigarette, and a talk at Mrs. Walsingham's flat? She's a lonely woman, and she'll be glad to see us."

Richard's face betrayed his ready acceptance of this proposition. And Carsdale smiled as he turned away to reach for his hat.

ROOT HOUSE TO BE BUILT FOR THE HOSPITAL

Will Cost Seven Hundred and Will Be Partly in Bank

Building of a concrete root house, to cost approximately $700, was authorized last night by the board of Kootenay Lake General hospital, after plan and estimate reported by a special committee appointed some time ago, were examined. The committee consisted of J. A. Irving and Alderman George Turner.

These members of the board, with A. S. Horswill added, were named a committee to proceed with the project at once.

The site for the structure will be west of the adjacent nurses' home, and against the bank, in the vicinity of the fire escape at the rear of the hospital. The bank will be excavated, and 40 per cent of the building will be within the bank, below the road officially known as Bluffsyde. In dimensions the root house will be 20 feet long and 12 feet wide, with a roof sloping from a rear wall nine feet in height, to a front wall 7 1-2 feet in height.

C. F. McHardy and A. A. Perrier were appointed the current visiting committee.

Mr. McHardy occupied the chair in the absence from the city of President George F. Motion.

MINISTER TO OPEN LONGBEACH FERRY

Sutherland to Say "Go" Week From Coming Saturday

The new Harrop-Longview ferry is now at the Harrop wharf, having been towed from Fairview by the tug Ondot of Procter Monday afternoon. Stretching of the cable from Harrop to Longbeach is now being done. The cable is 2,700 feet across and is ⅝ inch thick.

Hon. W. K. Sutherland, provincial minister of public works, is expected to open the run of the new ferry, August 22. Mr. Sutherland was to open the Edgewood-Vernon road August 20, but owing to the fires burning out the bridges and the men being out fighting fire, it is impossible to have the bridges renewed by that time. The date for the opening of this road has been postponed in*definitely.*

FIRES DELAY WORK ON THE NEW ROAD

Rawlings Has Had to Give Seventy Men; Is Two Crews Short

The Queens Bay-Ainsworth road is being much delayed by the fire situation, and as yet there has only been a small stretch of the road cut. At the first work on the road there was a crew of about 90 men, and all but 20 men have been taken for fire fighting.

L. H. Rawlings stated yesterday that he is still in need of two crews, or about 30 men, for station work.

The firm has eight fully equipped camps between Queens Bay and Ainsworth. There are three camps at Queens Bay, four at Coffee Creek and another one stationed about a mile on this side of Ainsworth.

The Saskatchewan government has retained the services of Alex. McDonald, Winnipeg, freight rates expert, for the purpose of advising and assisting in the preparation of material on the equalization of freight rates as it affects Saskatchewan.

Duncan Says Coal Strike Will Take Place, The States

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—According to James Duncan, first vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, and for many years chief lieutenant to Samuel Gompers, the threatened coal strike in the United States will certainly take place, as there is nothing to avert it as far as he can see.

Mr. Duncan is here attending the Longshoremen and Hotel Employees conventions, now being held here.

"The greatest fight," he declared, "will be in connection with the check-off which the coal barons consider unreasonable, and which the men demand."

In conclusion, Mr. Duncan expressed the opinion that the miners were entitled to all that they are asking, although he described the present wages as "reasonably fair."

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—At a conference with Mayor L. D. Provision of an hotel was undertaken about 12 years ago by MacKenzie and Mann, the railway builders, as part of the terms by which they secured from the city for railway terminals, 160 acres of False creek tidal lands which have since been reclaimed.

Be Careful, Madam

Palmolive complexions do not come from other sorts of "olive oil" soaps

WE have led millions of women to expect fine complexions from olive and palm oils, as used in Palmolive Soap.

They have gained added beauty and fresh, clear skins. But some credit those results to olive and palm oils alone. And any "olive and palm" soap may claim to be a soap like Palmolive.

They are mistaken. Olive and palm oils have been used for ages. Cleopatra used them—Roman beauties used them. Castile soap—the real castile—attained its fame on olive oil alone.

But olive and palm oils in those forms never brought great results. Palmolive Soap has brought new beauty to millions. It has thus become the leading toilet soap of the world.

It is made in five countries to supply the world demand. And one is France—the home of fine cosmetics.

Just because Palmolive, based on 60 years of soap study, gives to these oils a new effect on the skin.

It has multiplied beautiful complexions. Now many times as many women keep their youth and charm.

There are soaps at 25 cents and over, which approach Palmolive in results. We know of two. But Palmolive sells at 10 cents—no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

Now countless "olive and palm" soaps are offered for like purpose. Some have artificial colors, some are over-fatted. They will cleanse, if you want mere cleansers. But don't expect such soaps to bring Palmolive results to the skin. That is impossible.

Note the unnatural "too green" color of Palmolive imitators. What does that suggest? Men don't paint nature to improve it.

Olive and palm oils——nothing else——give Palmolive its delicate, natural color. Olive and palm oils——no other fats whatsoever——are used in Palmolive.

No "super-fatting," no "super-anything"—the only secret to Palmolive is its blending. And that is judged one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish—but when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. Palmolive is nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

Soap from Trees

The only oils in Palmolive Soap are the soothing beauty oils from the olive tree, the African palm and the coconut palm—and no other fats whatsoever.

That is why Palmolive Soap is the natural color that it is—for palm and olive oils, nothing else, give Palmolive its green color!

The only secret to Palmolive is its exclusive blend—and that is one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.

(MADE IN CANADA)

Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

Another Spike in Third Party Coffin

One more nail, of spike dimensions, was driven in the coffin of third parties in Canada, in Monday's general election in New Brunswick, when the Farmers' party was wiped out at the polls.

In the late New Brunswick house, seven members sat and voted in the Farmers' party, though they variously described themselves in their sketches for the Parliamentary Guide. Three called themselves Independents, two listed themselves as Farmers, there was one Progressive, and one National Progressive.

Four several constituencies out of the 17 contributed members to this group. Carleton and Victoria counties gave it their whole delegations, consisting of three in Carleton's case, and two in Victoria's. Westmoreland and Northumberland contributed one each. Thus a quarter of the province had an interest in the Farmer house group.

In Monday's election the majority of the late Farmer members did not even offer themselves for reelection, while new candidates were nil.

The Carleton county delegation, however, consisting of the National Progressive, the Progressive, and one of the Independents—as listed in the Guide—which had made an extraordinarily fine run in the 1920 election, adhered to its faith, and asked to be returned.

It was returned—home.

As these three comprise the total Farmer offering in the election, the comparative figures for the two contests are interesting. Here are the available figures:

| | |
|---|---|
| Carleton, 1920 | |
| F. W. Smith (U.F.), elected | 3428 |
| R. Tracey (U.F.), elected | 3107 |
| S. J. Burlock (U.F.), elected | 2498 |
| B. F. Smith (Cons.) | 2248 |
| Dr. Commins (Lib.), lost deposit | 915 |
| R. L. Simms (Lib.), lost deposit | 915 |
| S. G. Barter (Ind.), lost deposit | 455 |
| Carleton, 1925 | |
| E. W. Melville (Cons.), elected | 2535 |
| B. F. Smith (Cons.), elected | 2499 |
| F. C. Squires (Cons.), elected | 2468 |
| F. W. Smith (U.F.), lost deposit | ..... |
| R. Tracey (U.F.), lost deposit | ..... |
| S. J. Burlock (U.F.), lost deposit | ..... |

In 1920, in a triangular fight, the Farmer trio caused three of their four opponents—two Liberals and an Independent—to lose their deposits, by reason of securing less than half the number of votes secured by the lowest successful candidate.

In Monday's contest, in a straight fight, the late world-beaters lost their deposits, their Conservative opponents having majorities over them looking very much like the total votes by which the trio secured election in 1920.

The Progressives Doomed

A review of the last provincial general elections in six provinces is not calculated to hearten the Dominion Progressives.

New Brunswick Monday returned no Farmers, where formerly there were seven.

Nova Scotia a few weeks ago likewise returned no Farmers where there had been seven, and no Laborites where there had been four.

Prince Edward Island, in 1923, returned no Independents where there had been one, and among the six defeated independent candidates were four who assumed the name Progressive.

Quebec has not been the scene of much of a third party drive, but in 1923 that province dispensed with its two Labor members, while permitting an Independent to be elected, and defeated the only Farmer candidate in its 85 constituencies.

Ontario, of course, made history by turning out a Farmer government with a voting strength of 45, not counting nine Labor and three Independents who voted with it, and reduced it to 17, its Labor allies falling to three.

Saskatchewan cut a provincial Farmer delegation of 12 down to six.

Possibly he is right. Possibly!

But in the light of political experience, with their friends wiped out in the provinces where they made gestures, and reduced to corporal's guards in the provinces where they seriously sought power, for practical purposes it is safe to say the Progressives are doomed.

And their federal allies in this province, which is getting pretty impatient with the pleadings to open Canada's markets for the United States manufacturers and workmen to hold junkets in, if wise will seek cover while the seeking's good.

"How can I cook rice so that each kernel stands alone?" asks many a bride. The following recipe is an adaptation of the Chinese and Japanese methods of cooking rice: Wash one cup of rice in several waters and allow it to stand overnight in water. In the morning drain off the water, put the rice into a large kettle and add to it two cups of cold water and one teaspoon of salt. I say "large" kettle so that there will be plenty of room for the steam. Put on a tin cover and let come to a boil. Stir once at the start, then do not stir again. The heat should not be intense enough to make the rice boil over. In 20 minutes the rice should be cooked (as the steam helps). Now remove the cover, put a folded clean cloth over the top of the kettle, and replace the tin lid. Stand the entire kettle in a pan of boiling water to keep the rice hot until you are ready to serve it. It is necessary to have it stand in this way, for a minute or two, after cooking, so that the steam may do its work. The dry folded cloth is put between kettle and lid to absorb excess moisture, thereby leaving each kernel dry and distinct, yet moist enough.

The oriental enjoys rice served by itself. But the occidental prefers it in combination with some distinct flavor. For example, the following sauce makes rice a delicious delicacy:

Italian Tomato Sauce—Put four tablespoons of butter into a saucepan, and when melted add three-quarters of a cup of finely-cut raw onion. Saute till the vegetable is a light brown and partly tender, then add one-half cup of minced green sweet peppers, one-half cup of grated or minced raw turnip, one-half cup of raw carrot put through the food chopper, one teaspon of salt, a stalk of celery, finely chopped and one more tablespoon of butter. Let cook over mild heat till all these ingredients are tender, then add two large cups of either stewed fresh tomatoes or canned tomatoes, and let continue to simmer for five minutes. Press all through a wide-meshed sieve, return to the fire, and thicken with a paste made of two tablespoons of cold water and two tablespoons of flour. Cook till thickened, stirring constantly, and serve.

Creole Egg-Rice Dish—Cook rice as above directed. Also boil six eggs hard in the shell, then remove shells and cut each egg in half. Spread the hot rice on a serving platter, dot it with the halved eggs, then pour over all this onion cream sauce: Barely melt four tablespoons of butter, then remove from range and rub into it one-half cup of flour. Add a pinch of salt, a pinch of pepper, and return to heat. Stir in one cup of cold, sweet milk slowly, and cook till thickened. Flavor with one teaspoon of finely-minced raw onion. Serve at once.

Bryan Self-Intoxicated

The life of Bryan was a curious one, an outstanding example of the force of the spoken word. Until the Democratic convention of 1896 he was but little known outside his adopted state of Nebraska. Then in a brief moment he sprang into the limelight. After his flaming speech of August 16, 1892, against the repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman act, that won him the Democratic nomination in 1896, he seemed, as Disraeli had said of Gladstone years before, "intoxicated by the exuberance of his own verbosity." Nothing could keep him down. Defeat seemed but to spur him on to greater efforts to maintain his place in the public eye. To the onlooker it seemed as if nothing mattered to him, not even the ruination of his party's fortunes, so his own ends were served. Ambition appeared to become his god, self his goal. But the great position he coveted, the presidency of his native land, was not for him.—Kamloops Sentinel.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Preparing for an Operation

Sometimes you may wonder why your doctor thinks it necessary for you to go into the hospital a few days before an operation.

You can recall other members of your family who went in at 9 or 10 o'clock the evening previous, and were operated on at 9 o'clock the next morning. They never had any trouble, and made a good recovery.

As a matter of fact, this might still be done in the majority of instances, because a few days in hospital to some individuals might take all the "fight," the pluck, out of them. In fact, there have been cases where the patient was "prepared" partly at home by the use of purgatives and abstaining from food, and then walked down to the hospital in the morning to undergo his operation. The reason here, of course, was that the night in his own bed to a nervous patient was the only way they could get him to consent to the operation.

However, the idea behind your doctor's desire to have you in the hospital for a few days is to enable him and the surgeon to make certain observations on your blood, your urine, the condition of your heart, and so forth. You have perhaps heard of cases where a man has walked into a hospital himself, has asked to have an operation performed at once, and as he has looked the picture of health and his heart was sound the surgeons have consented. Unfortunately there may have been conditions that only a couple of days' observations would reveal, and the result has been one that gave the surgeon and patient some hours of anxiety.

And so it is not unusual now for patients to enter the hospital about Thursday or Friday for operations Monday or Tuesday. Of course, where your family physician has been in close attendance with you and your family for years, these preliminary days in the hospital will likely not be necessary.

Thus with these examinations of urine, blood, heart action, reaction to exercise, the effect of foods, the action of certain drugs, and so forth, all carefully noted, and the anesthetist and surgeon in possession of all these facts before the operation, the effect of this knowledge and cooperation is going to mean not only "safe" operations but early and permanent recoveries. It is just good ordinary common sense when you think about it.

HEAVY TRAFFIC GAINS SHOW GERMAN PROGRESS

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(Associated Press.)—Heavy vehicular traffic in Berlin belies the idea that the city is still in a more or less paralytic state from the effects of the war, according to a traffic census taken recently by the National Zeitung at Potsdamer Platz.

Crossing this square, the center of traffic in Berlin, approximately 1461 automobiles, 1261 bicycles, 300 street cars, 162 buses and 179 sundry vehicles were counted in one hour. Subway tunnels from each of the eight tunnels of the Platz have been proposed as one means of relieving the traffic congestion.

STEEL TRAP IS VILLAINOUS THING

So States Mrs. Fisk, Who Will Start Campaign Against Its Use

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The steel trap to Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, the actress, "is the most villainous instrument of arrest that was ever invented by the human mind," and early this fall she will inaugurate a campaign among women for its extinction. Mrs. Fiske will visit many leading cities and will personally meet the women, not for the purpose of discouraging the wearing of furs, but with the object of outlawing the steel trap in the fur industry.

Mrs. Fiske for more than 25 years has been actively interested in anti-cruelty work. She believes that if American women knew the inside story of trapping and its subsequent torture, public opinion would stop the manufacture of the instruments.

"The human race is in terror of physical agony and spends millions of dollars a year in research to conquer pain," Mrs. Fiske said. "The scientist who discovers some new method to relieve pain is acclaimed a world hero, yet we are unawake to the suffering of the countless dumb animals which feel almost as we feel.

"The steel trap has no place in civilization, and we hope to awaken the modern woman to the shame and horror and degradation of it. When women know how furs are obtained they will band themselves and refuse to purchase or wear furs procured by the steel trap."

Americans Declined Nivelles' Invitation to Be Its Santa Claus

BRUSSELS, Aug. 11.—The American delegation to the congress of the international chamber of commerce here had the chance to assure for all time the playing of the American national anthem to the people of the town of Nivelles, Belgium, every Christmas morning. The only condition was that they find an American Santa Claus to present the town with a new set of chimes.

A letter to that effect was posted on the bulletin board of the delegation, but at the time the congress adjourned it was still awaiting action. Many members of the delegation thought they had already acted in part of Santa Claus toward a considerable number of Belgian merchants, hotel keepers and shop keepers.

POLICE OFFICER AND TOURISTS' CARS MEET

Sergeant Greenwood Holds California Man for Dangerous Driving

CRANBROOK, Aug. 11.—A bad automobile accident occurred on the road between Fort Steele and Wasa on Sunday, when a car of Sargeant Greenwood of Fernie, a provincial policeman, collided with the car of Otto Busse, a tourist from San Francisco. Mr. Greenwood, with his family, was traveling north, while Mr. and Mrs. Busse were on their way to Cranbrook.

The rear wheels of the two cars met in such a way as to cause the Greenwood car to swing around back of the other car and to go down the bank. The car kept on its wheels, but all the glass was broken. Mr. Greenwood was badly cut. Mr. Busse was able to come on to Cranbrook, and Mr. Greenwood's car was taken to the garage in Fort Steele for repairs. Mr. Busse was charged today by Sergeant Greenwood with driving to the common danger. He claims, however, that Sergeant Greenwood was driving too fast.

Mr. Young also has recorded work on the Niagara and Jolly Bor Fractional claims, which are also on Iron mountain.

In the old-time Leadville creek area E. J. West and C. H. Neligh have recorded Union No. 1 and Union No. 2 claims, respectively. These are silver-lead properties, and are in the neighborhood of those controlled by Leadville Mining company on which work has been carried on for some years past.

Huge Airplane Carries Supplies to Dease Lake Rush

TELEGRAPH CREEK, Aug. 11.—Considerable interest is being manifested in the operations of a large airplane in northern British Columbia. It is a Vickers-Vimy flying boat, equipped with a 400-horsepower engine, and at present is being used to transport vast quantities of supplies from Dease lake, the scene of the present gold mining excitement, to the Laird river country, largely unexplored. It is estimated that the gas and fuel bill of the expedition will run to a figure well over $100,000.

In this town, it is rumored that the expedition is mapping out a mysterious tropical valley of hot springs and rank vegetation which is reported by Indians to be rich in minerals.

Reports also indicate that the expedition is mapping out a route for a new railway, but confirmation is lacking from reliable railway sources.

Kelowna Man Has Success With Silk Worms; Italian Eggs

KELOWNA, Aug. 11—S. Torri hah successfully hatched silk worm eggs here, and the silk worms are thriving on a diet of mulberry leaves.

The eggs were brought direct from Italy last February. Kept in a cool temperature until April, they were then subjected to hatching heat, and eight days later developed the first Okanagan-born silk worms.

Torri thinks the only obstacle in the way of a local silk industry is a possible shortage of mulberry leaves.

Caught on the railway track, a Danville, Pa., man leaped on the locomotive of a train and held fast until it stopped. He was only bruised.

CRESTON BASS MAY RESTOCK ALBERTA LAKE

Edmonton Asks for Supply; Victoria Grants Permission for Fry

GUN CLUB SUGGESTS KILLING OF DOES

As Numerous Now as Bucks; Ask Restocking Creston Streams

CRESTON, Aug. 11.—Creston's renown as a bass fishing center is travelling far afield. At the August session of the rod and gun club on Monday night a letter was received from the Edmonton, Alta., club asking the help of the local fishermen to secure a supply of black bass fry to stock a lake near the Alberta capital. The Edmonton club is sending in the necessary containers and a man, and permission has been obtained from Victoria to take the fry. Fishery Inspector C. H. Robinson has been communicated with as to the date he will be here to supervise the taking of the young bass, and Creston will lend a hand with the operations.

A letter from the game conservation board asking for proposed amendments to the 1924 open season regulations resulted in the local club asking for one day's open shoot of pheasants, male birds only, and a bag limit of three. A grouse season from October 1 to October 31 is asked, and the deer regulations are asked to be changed so as to permit of the kill of does, the club members reporting the females in this section almost as numerous as the bucks. The bag limit was favored to remain at two—one of each. Cranbrook club will be written, asking indorsation of this request.

Ask Map Indian Reserve

The secretary will also write Indian Agent E. H. Small at Cranbrook, asking for a map of the local reserve, which will show what new lands, if any, have been added to the local reserve. A letter has also been forwarded the Nelson club asking what new developments there are in the situation affecting the proposed establishment of a game bird sanctuary on the flats fronting on Creston village.

On his next visit C. H. Robinson, fishery inspector, will be waited on by a delegation from the club relative to stocking other streams in Creston district with black bass. These fish continue to multiply in the Kootenay and the back bend, the average catch this year showing a continued improvement in the size.

The meeting was presided over by Major Mallandaine, and the attendance was about the best ever seen at mid-season, particularly with such a call for men for fire fighting.

MYSTERY CZAR'S SPY IS SOLVED BY HISTORIAN

Asew Died in Berlin Under Assumed Name; Lead in Revolution

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The mystery about Eugene Asew, famous spy of the late Czar of Russia, has been solved by Arthur Kneupffer, according to his revelations in the Berliner Tageblatt. To the world at large Eugene Asew was known as one of the principal leaders of the Russian revolution, until he was finally unmasked by the Russian historian, Wladimir Burzew, as a secret Russian agent and as such a revolutionary instigator.

At a secret revolutionary tribunal held by the leaders of the branch association of emigrants in London in 1909, Asew was sentenced to death. The condemned spy, however, was not to be found anywhere, despite the most diligent search by the secret Russian societies in all countries. He seemed to have vanished into space.

It now has been learned that Asew died in Berlin in 1918. He lived for a time in the west end of Berlin under the assumed name of Kerl Neumayer. Equipped with a passport he travelled aimlessly through the near east of Europe, continually fearing discovery by the powerful secret organizations of Russia. He then disappeared in the German provinces, travelling from one small town to another.

Arrested in Berlin

In 1915 Asew was arrested in Berlin as a suspicious Russian. In response to his request, he was not put into an internment camp but was kept in various prisons. After the peace of Brest-Litowsk he was set free and died soon after from general collapse. In his position as secret agent for the czar, Asew was obliged to remain a member of the secret revolutionary organization until he was discovered to be a bona fide agent by the police. It was his duty even to assume a leading role in establishing a revolutionary reign of terror and then to denounce some revolutionary coup to the police shortly before its consummation.

Kneupper characterizes Asew as "one of the most drastic characters of the last 25 years of Russian history."

No fewer than 44 large church buildings are under construction in the State of Washington.

Soft Ground Hampers Earthquake Rebuilding in Tokyo's Destruction

TOKYO, Aug. 11. — The softness of the ground upon which Tokyo is built is interfering considerably with the reconstruction work now under way. Recently Dr. Kishi, of the reconstruction bureau, recommended that all work on paved streets in the districts where the new subway is to be built be delayed until after the underground project has been completed. He based his recommendation upon observations made during the recent sewer construction.

In some places, it was found, the sewer excavations have caused the streets to sink more than a foot. Many houses and paved roads, Dr. Kishi discovered, have been seriously damaged because of the settling of the earth.

Aug. 11.—Attached to some wreckage. Aug. 10.—Attached to some wreckage, a brass plate has been washed ashore here which belonged to the American coastguard cutter Tampa. The Tampa, with heavy loss of life, was sunk by a German submarine in British waters, September, 1918.

BEARS LOOTED MT. LOGAN CACHES

Climbers Forced to Go Three Days Without Food When Two Caches Empty

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—Hungry bears which looted their caches of food helped to make the ascent of Mount Logan an experience unmixed with disappointments for Norman Read of Boston, and Robert Morgan of Harvard, two members of the McCarthy expedition reported on arrival here.

"Most of us were pretty nearly all in after running into snowstorms on the way down," said Read. "We realized that we had to get back as soon as possible, so we threw everything away, depending on food caches that we had left at frequent intervals on the way up. The only thing we carried was a can of sardines.

"Everything went well until we came to a cache that had been looted by bears. We had to go without dinner, of course. That wasn't comfortable, but it wasn't anything to worry about—until we got to the next cache and found bears had been there too. We had to stay on an involuntary hunger strike for three days, until we finally found a cache that the bears had overlooked."

Mosquitoes Take Hand and This Wedding Is Off

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11. — Mosquitos, which have descended in larger swarms than usual this summer on New Orleans and other places along the gulf coast, have been blamed for bad dispositions and almost everything else. But the latest charge against them comes from Tangipahoa parish, where the pests are accused of causing the postponement of five weddings in one week. The weddings were to have been outdoor affairs in keeping with the season.

A dry winter, which caused the deaths of thousands of small fishes and other forms of animal life that prey upon mosquito larvae, followed by unusual rains this spring, are the causes given locally for the unusual plague of mosquitos. Local health officials say that in the main they are harmless, at least insofar as germ-carrying goes.

Druggists that sell various ill-smelling oils have reaped a harvest this summer, and smudges of burning rags, rubber and Spanish moss are common sights in front and back yards and even on sidewalks here. Good screens keep most of the pests out, provided screen doors are closed quickly when one enters or leaves a building.

SWEDISH NAVY MANEUVERS SOON

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 11.—As a preliminary to plans for reorganizing the navy, there will be held in the Baltic this summer the most extensive Swedish naval maneuvers since 1914. The king will be in command.

The Swedish fleet at present consists of 111 vessels, of which 42 belong to the coast defence, 37 to local units and 32 to the reserve. Included in the main fleet, designed entirely for defensive purposes, are 12 battleships, 10 destroyers, one armored cruiser and a number of torpedo boats and submarines.

In view of the impending reorganization, appropriations for this year were limited to the continuation of the building program decided upon last year. The future policy will depend partly on the political developments abroad and partly on the experience gained during the maneuvers.

France offers to join international conference to restore peace and order with China.

PROVINCE HAS RACE OF GIANT SUPER-INDIANS

Tribe Building Proves Success; Giant "David" Started Body

PRINCE GEORGE, Aug. 11.—A new race of giant "super-Indians" is being developed in the wilderness of northern British Columbia, led by a tall patriarchal half-breed named David.

The story of the unusual experiment in tribe building, one of the most interesting and practical examples of eugenics known to mankind, has been brought here by Provincial Constable Thomas Van Dyke, who has just returned from the far-off trapping and trading post of Fort Graham.

Many stories have come out of the north concerning David and his adventure in tribal development, but it has remained for Van Dyke to furnish details regarding the adventure. David's father was a French-Canadian trapper; his mother was a squaw of a prairie tribe. When 12 years of age he left Winnipeg for the unknown regions west of the Rockies. That was more than 60 years ago.

Has High Ideals

David was a man of remarkable ideals and self-restraint. He scorned the habits that had humbled other Indians and other breeds. He was industrious and became one of the most successful hunters and trappers in the vast region over which he wandered. He avoided village life, for he dreaded the sigh and companionship of the majority of the Indians who had fallen into a life of idleness and intemperance. Yet he cherished a pride in his native ancestry and he began to dream of a tribe of super-Indians that one day might be developed worthy of the country which they were to inhabit.

With this ideal in mind he chose his mate carefully. He wed a Sicanes woman, the handsomest and strongest woman of her tribe. There were four daughters and when the time came for them to marry he sought afar for suitable bridegrooms—tall in stature, free from disease and bad habits, and powerful in physique. These four daughters of David and their four husbands formed the nucleus of a tribe that now numbers fifty-four, and soon the search will start for suitable grooms for the many granddaughters who are coming of age.

Constable Van Dyke was at Fort Norman when David and his tribe came in to market some furs. When they entered the settlement David warned his followers to avoid mixing with the village folk, and they camped on the opposite side of the river. Van Dyke says that he never saw a finer body of men and women. The children were also uniformly strong and healthy. They are a nomadic tribe, wandering over vast stretches of forest land, seldom seeing the people of other tribes or white men. When they wish to trade they sell their furs and depart.

David told Constable Van Dyke that he hoped to live long enough to see all his grand-children suitably married.

TELEGRAPH CREEK MINERS LEAVE FIELD

Hosts Disappointed; Gas Boat Operator and Hotelman Only Successes

TELEGRAPH CREEK, Aug. 11.—The out trail from the Cassair is being trodden today by a host of disappointed miners whose hopes of quick wealth in the placer fields of Lease lake have been blasted by the cruel reality of life in the inhospitable northland.

A few small strikes have been made, but there is little to show for all the excitement that was stirred up last winter by the announcement of the discovery of free gold in the ancient mining camp which was abandoned in the late '90s with the dawn of the Klondike's glory.

Only Two Made Money

As soon as the snow thawed this spring sourdoughs and chechakos thronged Wrangel, Alaska, and this town, ladden with supplies and equipment for the Dease lake country. Sid Barrington, operator of the gasboat fleet up the Stikine river, and the Japanese hotelkeeper here are likely to be the only members of the fortuneseeking multitude who made money out of the rush.

But the Dease lake field is not being deserted entirely. Veteran followers of the gold trail are still breaking in old-timers with their pack ponies and picks whose eyes have seen the flash of yellow metal in the Yukon, Cripple Creek and California and who have pinned their faith on the Cassiar. These are the sort of men, the people here will tell you, that are most likely to find the wealth of the old gold camp if it is hidden here. For they will go on digging until they do find it—or else hurl themselves as martyrs on one more of the goddess of late's sacrificial pyres.

British Columbia's Fire Losses Last Year Were Heavy

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—Sixteen hundred and eighty-two fires in British Columbia during 1924 caused a loss of $4,050,448, according to the annual report of the provincial fire marshal.

Six lives, one adult, and five children were lost during the year, the smallest casualty list in five years. Four of the children lost their lives through playing with matches.

The principal source of fires during 1924 was smokers' carelessness and 137 fires with a total loss of $553,325 are attributed to this cause. Of 18 schools destroyed, five occurred in the Doukhobor districts and were of incendiary origin and caused a loss of $11,350.

Why Goodyear Belts are Worth More

PRIMARILY, Goodyear Belts are worth more because they do more. They carry more power. They save bearings. They require less attention. They cause fewer shut-downs. They last longer.

By doing these things, they increase production. And if Goodyear Belts will increase the production in your plant even 5%, they are certainly worth more to you.

The virtues of Goodyear Belts are due entirely to their construction and application.

Every ounce of material used is selected with an eye to the job on which the particular belt will work.

Every feature of construction is used or rejected on the same basis.

And then every specification of the job is considered before the particular type and size of belt is recommended.

Information and costs on Goodyear Belts for your plant can be secured from the Goodyear Belting dealer or from the nearest Goodyear Branch.

Sportsmen Crowd Scottish Trains; Grouse Season Up

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Scottish trains have been running in triplicate for the benefit of the posts of sportsmen bound for the moors for the opening of the grouse shooting tomorrow.

The King is prevented this year from joining the Duke of Devonshire for the grouse shooting over the Bolton Abbey moors in Yorkshire, the Duke still being under treatment at Buxton. The duke suffered a slight stroke of paralysis at his Irish estate in April last.

After paying a visit this week-end, accompanied by the Queen to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles at Goldborough hall, the King will proceed to Balmoral castle for the shooting on the adjacent moors.

The grouse shooting this season probably will be considerably above the average in recent years in most parts of Scotland.

The Delaware Purse, a mile race Canadian breds was the feature of the day. Goldlands was the winner, beating Beau of the West by two lengths. ## Base Running Art Is Dying, Demaree Finds

By AL DEMAREE

Base running, one of the most attractive and spectacular parts of baseball, has fallen into decadence with the advent of the lively ball in the last few years. No base running of today even approaches the stolen base records of Ty Cobb, Bob Bescher, Wagner, Max Carey and George Burns when they were at their best.

And it is not altogether the base runner's fault. The lively ball has changed conditions. Formerly one run was a big run and amounted to something. Extra base hits were scarce and a runner had to steal second base to be in position to score on a single. Nowadays, his one run means comparatively nothing, and he is almost as good on first base as second as any hitter down the batting order is liable to bust out a double or triple any moment. And if the player tries to steal and is caught, it breaks up a possible big inning of five, six or seven runs that are all too prevalent these days. The old sacrifice hit or "army game" as the players call it, has gone the same way. Why play for one run as they used to do if the other club comes back with five in their half. McGraw has for years played a "cut and slash" game for the first seven innings and then, if it has developed into an old-time pitchers' battle, he goes back to playing for one run. But base stealing and sacrifice hitting of the old school is dead.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—Owners of the Hamilton professional hockey team were prevented, the Star says today, from accepting a satisfactory offer from New York interests for their team through the interference of the players.

Make Ice for Hockey in Switzerland From Red Wine, Writer Says

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 11. — Red wine for making ice for hockey matches is used by the Zuoz, Switzerland, college hockey officials, according to a letter received by R. C. Chambers, secretary of the Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey association, from James Gordon, sportsmaster at the college.

His letter contains a request for information regarding hockey, with the idea of promoting the game in Switzerland along lines followed in Canada. Zuoz college, Mr. Gordon states, has four rinks, and he is supervising a league of 12 teams.

Red wine, the letter states, has little harmful effect on the ice, but the writer would like to know what is used for that purpose in Canada.

TUNNEY SIGNED TO MEET WILLS IN SEPTEMBER

Wills' Manager Holds Off; Kearns Has Dempsey and Walker Signatures

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Confusion reigned today on the heavyweight pugilistic stage with leading figures in the pursuit of Jack Dempsey's crown congregating along Broadway to tug at the threads of tangled attempts to line up the champion and his most persistent challenger, Harry Wills.

The presence of Jack Kearns, recognized as Dempsey's manager in this state, and Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City promoter, who holds an agreement signed by Dempsey to fight Wills, only served to throw the situation into a more chaotic state. Statements poured in from all sectors but nothing tangible developed out of the conferences and negotiations which followed their arrival.

Tunney Signs Agreement

Today's leading developments follow:

Gene Tunney, United States light heavyweight champion, signed articles of agreement for a match with Wills to be promoted by Tex Rickard at the Yankee Stadium, probably Sept. 25.

Paddy Mullens, manager of Wills, conferred with Rickard but refused to sign any contract for a match with Tunney until he has exhausted all possible avenues for a bout with the champion.

Jack Kearns, arriving from Chicago, said he would appear at the New York state athletic commission Friday and sign Dempsey for a fight with Wills, and Mickey Walker for a welterweight title match with Dave Shade.

A gallery of 500 enthusiasts witnessed the performers around the links.

Barnes was easily the outstanding feature of the match, as he negotiated the course in 71, one below par. It took Hutchison 78 and the amateurs 79 each.

MISS HARRISON MAY ATTEMPT ANOTHER SWIM

Was Improperly Greased; Had Not Taken Sufficient Food in Last Try

BOULOGNE, Aug. 11.—Lillian Harrison may use a woman's prerogative and change her mind, and make another attempt this year to swim the English channel.

The Argentine girl, who on Monday night was taken from the channel in a semi-conscious condition after a swim from Cape Gris Nez to a point about eight miles off Dover, was examined today by a physician, who pronounced her fit to try again if she so desired. Later, she said, she thought she would have another try at the goal, which four times she has already missed.

In the opinion of the physician she had not been properly greased for Monday's swim, and also had not partaken of sufficient food before starting.

BOWLING SERIES IS A TIE DRAW

Tillicums Take Game From Railroaders; Count a Seven-End

The Skookum Tillicum Bowling club again defeated the C.P.R. in a very exciting game at the C.P.R. rinks last night, by a score of 27-20 points. This win ties the league as both teams have now made two wins and had one draw.

Scoring started for the C.P.R. team, which collected two points in the first end. The Tillicums got a point in the next end, but were shut out in the next two ends in which the C. P. R. captured two points. The next four ends went to the Skookum Tillicum club in which they collected six points, making the score on the seventh end, 7-4 for the Tillicums.

The C.P.R. took four out of the next five ends, and stopped at the lucky number 13, which seemed to be their hoodoo for the remainder of the game.

A Seven-End

Tillicums handled the next three ends, taking eight points, from which time they kept the lead, collecting seven points in the eighteenth, and two in the 20th, and came out at the long end of the score.

The teams were:

WALKER FACES LAYOFF IF HE REFUSES BOUT

Must Sign Contract Shade Bout; Siki Must Leave Country

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. — Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, will be indefinitely suspended by the state athletic commission at its meeting Friday unless Walker or his manager definitely signs contracts and posts a bond for a title match with Dave Shade of California at that time. This ruling was made by the commission at its meeting today.

The welterweight king, who was given a licence to box Harry Greb, middleweight champion, at the Italian Hospital fund match upon assurance that he would meet Shade on or before August 15, has consistently refused to sign for the match.

Siki Must Leave

Battling Siki, Senegalese heavyweight, whose antics in a match against Joe Silvani at a local club last Saturday resulted in his disqualification, appeared before the commission with his manager, Robert Levy, today and was given a suspended sentence by the commission upon Levy's word that Siki would leave the country inside of 30 days.

Why Total Assets and Liabilities Balance

Total assets and total liabilities are always equal on any balance sheet.

Why is it that assets and liabilities always balance on a financial statement? Many people wonder why, but few have the temerity to ask.

The reason is simple. It is found in the manner in which a balance sheet or financial statement is made up. First of all, the assets are totalled, then the liabilities are also totalled and subtracted from the assets. The difference is the net worth of the business. It rises and falls with profits and is usually represented by surplus and capital stock.

This net worth has to be shown on the balance sheet, so it is added to the liabilities, for convenience. Since it is the difference between assets and liabilities, its addition to the statement smply makes assets and liabilities and capital stock equal, and the statement simply makes assets and liabili-

BLACK RUST CAN'T TOUCH THIS WHEAT

Grain Grower Makes Discovery Which for Six Years Repulsed Rust

ABERDEEN, S.D., Aug. 11.—R. S. McFadden, grain grower announced today that he had discovered a brand of wheat which he described as invulnerable to the attacks of black rust.

His discovery followed 15 years experimentation on his farm and the success of his work has been tested by United States experimental stations where his claims were borne out.

The new blend of wheat is composed of a mixture of hard red spring wheat crossed with the emmer or spletz stem. This grain has stood six years of thorough tests and during this time has repulsed every effort to inflict the rust.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Officials of the agricultural department cereal investigation bureau said today that although the experiment of R. S. McFadden, in South Dakota, to produce a rust-resisting variety of wheat was a "starting point," it would take several years to successfully finish the experiment.

They added that in cross-breeding wheat such elements as yield and hardiness must be considered.

THINKS PEACE RIVER SHOULD GET RATES

Innes Says Country Entitled to Crow Rates Without Action

CALGARY, Aug. 11. — That the Peace river is entitled to the benefits of the Crow's Nest rates on grain and flour without further action by the government is the opinion of William Innes, local transportation expert, and chairman of the transportation committee of Calgary board of trade.

This opinion puts the present situation in the north in a new light as the general impression is abroad that reduction of rates to move this year's grain crop on the E. D. & B. C. would be a matter of negotiation between the government and the C.P.R.

"I am absolutely positive that the Crow's Nest freight rates should apply to the E. D. & B. C. line, as well as to any other in the west," declared Mr. Innes.

"I know," he said, "that the recommendations made by the provincial boards of trade, who recently met in Edmonton, to the Dominion railway commission, took it simply for granted that the E. D. & B. C. would benefit from the Crow rates just as the other prairie lines. It certainly would be unfair to suggest anything else."

KU KLUX INITIATION AT TORONTO

Above is an exclusive photograph of the reception of a class of new members into the ranks of the Ku Klux Klan of the British Empire at Toronto. The Klan has made strides of late and has now branches in Hamilton, Niagara Falls, St. Catharines, London, Woodstock, Brantford, Sarnia, Kitchener and other points. Public meetings and a parade in full regalia are planned for the near future. The picture is the only one of an initiation ever taken in Canada.

ITALIAN NEWSPAPER ISSUE SUPPRESSED

ROME, Aug. 11.—Today's issue of the Giornale d'Italia was suppressed because of its comments on a letter addressed by the pope, through Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, to a French organization, in which his holiness said: "It is well understood that authority should be always accompanied by healthy liberty."

The newspaper said that the ethical conception expressed by his holiness entirely agrees with the viewpoint of the opposition which was emphasized by the resignation of former Premier Orlando from the chamber of deputies, which, according to the newspaper, will have an important repercussion.

Will Worship as Presbyterians Even if It's in a Pig Pen

MONTREAL, Aug. 11. — The continuing Presbyterians of Verdun, Que., have been "thwarted at every turn in their efforts to secure accommodation" and that "influences have been at work to prevent the schools and other buildings being turned over for their use," and also that "they are being almost persecuted in their efforts to continue" was asserted by D. M. Rowat, chairman of the Presbytery finance committee, at a meeting of the Montreal presbytery of the continuing Presbyterians here last night.

Peter Brockie, chairman of the Verdun board of management, corroborated Mr. Rowat:

"We will worship as Presbyterians, even if it is in a pig pen", said Mr. Brockie.

Rev. A. E. Runnells, on behalf of the United church today assured an interviewer that he knew of no persecution of the continuing Presbyterians who had "repudiated any suggestion or offer of cooperation from the United church."

Definite Word About Wheat Pool Payment End of Week, McPhail

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—"I may be able to make a statement before the end of the week with regard to the final wheat pool payment, but I hardly think it possible," said A. J. McPhail, president of the central selling agency of the wheat pools, who presided today at an interprovincial conference of delegates representing the three pools of the prairie provinces.

Mr. McPhail said that the position of the Saskatchewan wheat pool was satisfactory in the extreme, and he confidently predicted that by the time the crop began to move, 8,000,000 acres would be under signature in that province. "As a matter of fact, I received applications covering 52,000 acres before I left Regina Monday," he concluded.

The conference will be continued here tomorrow.

HALIFAX, Aug. 11.—There was an exodus of more than 2000 young men and women from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island today en route to the grain fields of western Canada, according to figures compiled by the officials of the railways handling the harvesters. Many of the married men took their families with them, hoping to find it possible to locate permanently in the west, and special cars were set aside for the accommodation of the women. There were two special trains from Prince Edward Island, one from Halifax and one from Cape Breton, while several hundred traveled by regular trains and boats from the western end of the province. They will all travel direct to Winnipeg.

EARL OF YPRES LEFT ESTATE TO SOLICITOR

Widow, Two Sons and Daughter not Mentioned In His Will

EDWARD COX IS SOLE BENEFICIARY

Widow Not Surprised; Has Own Income, Leaves London Home

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Some surprise was caused today when the will of the late Field Marshal the Earl of Ypres was filed for probate, and it was found that he had left his entire estate of £25,161 to Edward Geoffrey Cox, his solicitor, and that the last testament, which consisted of only eight lines, did not mention the earl's widow nor his two sons and a daughter.

The bequest of the earl did not come as a surprise to his widow, however. She said tonight that she and her children had been informed of the field marshal's intentions some time ago.

"We have known about the will for some time," the countess declared. "There was no secret about it. I always knew my husband intended leaving his money to Mr. Cox, who was his lifelong friend."

Made Personal Gifts

Friends of the late earl asserted that they had understood he made personal gifts of money to his wife and children. They added that he had been possessed of a fortune larger than that mentioned in his will.

The Countess of Ypres has a somewhat large private fortune. She recently inherited £10,000 and the residue of an estate of £86,000, left by the Countess of Charlemont.

The present earl and his mother will vacate the family house in London, which is part of the late earl's estate and will go to Mr. Cox.

Edward G. Cox, the solicitor to whom the Earl of Ypres left his whole estate, had a distinguished war record as commandant of a London volunteer battalion.

House Peddling Is Started by White to Compete Orientals

VICTORIA, Aug. 11.—In an effort to forestall oriental penetration into various lines of commercial endeavor, especially with regard to the marketing of garden truck crops, white men have organized a house to house peddling system.

It is now more than 20 years since the first Chinese peddler with his big straw baskets slung on a stick over his shoulder appeared on the streets of British Columbia coast cities vending produce. During the past few years orientals have obtained a virtual monopoly on this business, the peddlers combining and working in conjunction with oriental farmers and storekeepers. A great many white storekeepers were forced out of business by the encroachment of their Asiatic competitors, who were able to offer goods for sale at a lower price because of their standard of living and reduced costs.

The white produce dealers have now decided that the best way to compete with the orientals is to adopt their own methods. Thirty house-to-house trucks are now a part of the white men's organization, which obtains much of its produce from white farmers growing truck crops in the vicinity of Victoria. The organization is meeting with success even greater than had been anticipated.

Close to Three Thousand Wild Horses Killed

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C., Aug. 11.—Seven cowboys, paid by the government $50 a month, killed 2950 wild horses in three months and rid the Chilcotin cattle country of one of the most serious of its menaces.

For years the presence of hundreds of wild horses, many of them undersized and crippled—useless strays from the old gold camps and their successors—have constituted a problem in the stock industry in this district. They broke down fences, ate valuable fodder and lured domesticated horses away from the corral. The ranchers complained repeatedly and the idea of hiring a squad of cowboys was conceived. An intensive campaign accomplished more than anything in the past and today the wild horses is almost an unknown creature in this part of the country.

Five Thousand Head Sheep Now in British Columbia

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—The sheep industry of British Columbia, although capable of much greater expansion, is steadily growing, and there are easily more than 5000 head of sheep in the province this year than in 1924, according to the estimates of the provincial government.

Better demand and prices for wool, coupled with the gradual elimination of the cougar and other carnivorous animals which in the past have been a constant menace to the flocks, have been the main factors in improving the situation.

There has been an abundance of feed this year, resulting in a good season for young stock and good grades of wool for the clip.

Briand Has Hopes to Complete Task With Chamberlain Today

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The conversations between M. Briand, the French foreign minister, and Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary dealing with a security pact with Germany, "are proceeding satisfactorily."

This was the announcement made in a communication issued by the foreign office tonight. It tended to confirm the impression prevailing unofficially that everything thus far is moving smoothly between the French and British statesmen with regard to a joint reply of their government's to Germany's last note on the security problem.

All Goes Well

M. Briand received the newspapermen at the conclusion of today's conference, and said he was very much satisfied with the way things were going. He and Mr. Chamberlain had gone over the proposed French reply to the German note but they had not yet finished their task.

"But we hope to do so tomorrow," said M. Briand. "I expect to leave for Paris on Thursday."

The king's action today in inviting M. Briand to the palace had not been generally anticipated. It is considered to have given a favorable start to the conversations.

SALARIES FOR ALDERMEN AND MAYOR MOOTED

Berrington Gives Notice of Bylaw at Council Meeting

CEMENT BRIDGE OR FILL, HIGH STREET

Council Orders Estimate; Two Cases of Whooping Cough

Notice of a new bylaw to provide for the payment of alderman and the mayor, and discussion of the relative merits of a culvert, fill and retaining wall, or a cement bridge, to replace the present High street bridge, were among the high lights of last night's council meeting.

Alderman J. T. Berrington gave notice that he would bring in a bylaw to provide for the payment of alderman and the mayor. Alderman A. I. Austin said he had been planning to do the same thing, and the two aldermen agreed to "get together" to draft the proposed regulation.

Estimate on Bridge Replacement

After a discussion during which it was decided that it would be unwise to spend much money on repairs to the present High street bridge, the council asked City Engineer J. A. Ferguson to make estimates on the cost of a culvert, fill and retaining wall, or as an alternative, of a cement bridge.

On motion of Alderman A. I. Austin, Alderman Berrington's bylaw to bring furniture and second-hand stores under the prevailing regulations as regards hours of closing was adopted. This bylaw received its third reading at the last meeting of the council.

The city fathers granted a request from W. H. Saunders, secretary, that the West Kootenay Central Farmers' institute be allowed to use the city hall for a semi-annual convention in September.

The fire, water and light committee will look into the matter of a water supply for a man named Herman, living near the old Great Northern depot in Fairview.

Is Quarry Dangerous

City Engineer J. A. Ferguson was asked to look into a report that the rock quarry on Cottonwood creek was dangerous because of loose rock at the top. Mr. Ferguson said that all loose rock was knocked down, but that he would make a report on this matter for the council.

When Acting City Clerk Fred L. Irwin announced that to date 81.6 of the city's taxes for 1925 had been paid, the council members expressed pleasure at this.

One Case Scarlet Fever

During the week ending August 1, Nelson had one case of erysiplas and two cases of whooping cough, according to the report of Dr. E. C. Arthur, city health officer. During the week ending August 8 he had one case of scarlet fever. This case developed in the hospital five weeks after the patient had been admitted for an operation.

In the absence of Mayor John Bell Alderman George Turner took the chair.

DEVELOPMENT ENGINEER VISITS AT CRANBROOK

CRANBROOK, Aug. 11. — H. B. Lumsden, development engineer for the C.P.R. in connection with the department of colonization and resources, was here last week-end on his first trip after taking over the work. His office is in Winnipeg. He is particularly interested in the possible locations of industries of all kinds in the west.

Edmonton expects a civic census this year will show a population of 65,000.

SEVEN FIRES OCCUR IN NELSON IN JULY

Chief Maloney Makes Sixty-Nine Inspections in Course of the Month

Fire Chief M. H. Maloney reported to the city council last night that he had attended seven fires during July, had held house drills every day except Sundays, and made all necessary inspections.

Fires occurred: July 5, house owned by Mrs. N. M. Kennedy, 515 Stanley street; and same day, roof fire at house occupied by Charles Shannon, 511 Vernon street; July 11, fire at L. Stedile's chicken house and stable, Silver King road; July 13, fire at water front boat houses owned by J. Brassfield; July 21, fire caused by burning rubbish at Lakeside park; July 22, fire at house at corner of Davies and First streets, Fairview, owned by Alsolem Clark; July 20, roof fire at skating rink.

House drills were held daily except Sundays, the chief reported, and the fire alarms were tested daily.

All boxes were tested and found to be in order on July 14. He made 69 inspections during the month, and gave seven orders for better conditions.

Three permits were issued for repair work within No. 1 fire limits, and two old places were torn down by order.

AUSTIN OBJECTS TO PLANS FOR CEMENT WALL

Spats With MacKenzie Over Seven Thousand Dollar Project

A lively discussion on the proposed retaining wall to be built by the city at the corner of Baker and Ward streets, under the Griffin block, took place at last night's council meeting, in which Aldermen A. I. and J. E. MacKenzie took spirited parts.

It arose when Alderman Austin, seconded by J. P. Morgan, was objecting to the cost of the footing of the cement wall, estimates for which had been submitted by City Engineer J. A. Ferguson.

"As long as we have a city engineer, why don't we let him do the work?" asked Alderman MacKenzie. "Why should every Tom, Dick or Harry criticise his plans and estimates?"

Not Tom, Dick or Harry

"I am not every Tom, Dick or Harry, and I have a perfect right to criticize any proposals of the city engineer's submitted to the council," said Alderman Austin.

"Have you had any experience in building walls?" asked Alderman MacKenzie.

"Just as much or more experience than the city engineer, perhaps," was Alderman Austin's retort.

In answer to a question, City Engineer Ferguson said the estimated cost of the whole wall was around $7000.

"That's an awful lot of money for the city to spend to hold one lot," said Alderman Morgan.

Engineer Defends Figure

"Nothing to what they will spend if they don't," said the engineer.

Alderman Austin's chief objection was to the amount of excavating that would be necessary for the footing if the city engineer's plan for the wall were followed. Mr. Ferguson said the cost of the excavation would be a minor cost of the work.

"Personally I cannot see the sense of spending so blooming much money to hold up the side," Alderman Austin said.

The engineer will make a further estimate on the cost of the work, to be submitted to the council.

Hoogerwerf Received Twenty-two Hundred Volts, Reports Coates

When City Electrician J. F. Coates reported on the accident to Jack Hoogerwerf, city work, severely shocked last week, to the city council at its meeting last night, he said that Hoogerwerf had come in contact with 2200 volts of the secondary. He had done this while changing wires from an old pole to a new one on Vernon street, and had been severely burned as well as shocked. Mr. Coates reported that he was doing well in the hospital, and that the case had been reported to the compensation board.

Alderman J. T. Berrington moved a resolution, which was passed, expressing the regret of the council at the accident, and its hopes for the victim's speedy recovery.

Turner Raps Council for Lack of Order; Sudden Adjournment

In the midst of a long discussion on matters that should be discussed by the council, being held by most of the aldermen at the council meeting last night, Acting Mayor George Turner rapped sharply on the table and said:

"Gentlemen, if you will come to order and address the chair one at a time we may get our business done. At present several of you are talking at once, and it is impossible to follow what is being said."

After a pause, one alderman moved that the council adjourn for a week. A second alderman seconded this. A third alderman, apparently dazed by the acting mayor's speech, followed this by moving the council adjourn, but had no seconder. The council then adjourned for one week.

URGES BREAK FROM AMERICAN MADNESS

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—"Let us break away from the madness of this Americanized life and return to the soul of Germany," was the plea of Prof. Hermann Platz, of Bonn university, addressing the audience which assembled in the reichstag today to celebrate Constitution day, the anniversary of the promulgation on August 11, 1919, of the republican constitution.

VISITOR SAW CHINESE RIOT AT SHANGHAI

Indian Officer Here for Brother's Wedding Talks

WITH FIRST WHITE FORCE IN KURDISTAN

Tigers and Snow Leopards Bagged; on Eight Months' Leave

Excited mobs of Chinese men and women, armed with banners and clubs, parading the streets of Shanghai in a bloodthirsty manner, waiting for an outbreak against the foreigners in China, was a sight recently witnessed by Capt. E. H. W. Elkington of the British army in India, who arrived in Nelson Monday evening from Duncan. He states that at the same time he was in Shanghai the mobs raided the police headquarters in a murderous attack, although without arms, and it was only through the police having fully equipped reinforcements, that saved the situation. The police killed many before the mob dispersed. This was the star of the Shanghai riots.

Captain Elkington is in the city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elkington from Duncan, and his brother from Bonnington, and stated that he was not here on business of any kind but merely here to attend his brother's wedding, which takes place shortly.

Medical Officer to Kurds

The British visitor has been stationed at Kurdistan, India, for the past three years, with the British army, and holds the position of political medical officer. Kurdistan never before had white troops, he said, owing to the intense heat in that belt. He says that during the day the thermometer rises to 129 degrees above Fahrenheit, and at midnight it will read anywhere around 108 degrees. The present heat in Nelson, states Mr. Elkington, seems to him as if he was in "God's country."

He has travelled throughout China, the Northwest frontier, and central Asia, and has made two complete trips around the globe.

Hunted Snow Leopards

Captain Elkington has done much hunting in India, but did not hunt the larger game in India. While in Kurdistan he has shot many tigers and snow leopards.

The sport in India is similar to that in this country and the old country, there being plenty of cricket, tennis, lawn bowling, grass hockey and soccer.

Captain Elkington left India six weeks ago on an eight months' leave from the army, taking the Empress of Russia. He has since that time spent a great part of his leave visiting his parents in Duncan, to which place he will return next week. In November he has planned to take a trip to England, where he will visit with relatives and friends. Thence he will return to India.

FIVE THOUSAND THE CITY LIQUOR PROFIT

The deputy attorney-general has written to the city council, enclosa a check for $5811.97, the city's share of liquor profits up to March 31, 1925.

His letter, read at last night's council meeting, stated:

"At the direction of the honorable minister of finance I enclose a check for $5811.97, being the amount due for liquor profits for the period ending March 31, 1925.

"This distribution is made in proportion to the accrued number of days attended by pupils annually in the public schools of the various municipalities of the province, as provided by section 17 of the Government Liquor Amendment act."

HASSARD FINDS ALL LANES, YARDS CLEAN

Twenty-two New People Have Signed Garbage Applications

The monthly report of R. H. Hassard, sanitary inspector, to the city council last night stated that on making a complete round of the city in July he found all lanes and yards clean.

"Outside of regular garbage taken away during the month there were 19 cleanups in the business and residential districts," he said.

During the month 22 new people signed application forms to have their garbage removed.

Out of 646 who are availing themselves of the scavenging service, 544 have cans in good condition.

Mr. Hassard reported several complaints about outside toilets and chicken houses in the city.

LIEUT. STEELE IS RIFLE WINNER

Scores of western competitors in this match who made 60 or over were: Lieut. D. Campbell, Calgary, 63; Sergt. R. J. Smythe, Winnipeg, 63; Sergt. P. Lum, Calgary, 62, and Lieut. J. A. Bowen, Alberta Dragoons, 61.

SEVEN ON ROBSON ON NEW GAS MAIN

City Will Put a Pipe Between Kootenay and Josephine

The city will extend its gas main in order to give service to seven householders on Robson street, between Kootenay and Josephine streets, it was decided at last night's council meeting, after a report from F. Stringer, gas foreman, had been read.

Of 21 people on the street called on by Mr. Stringer, to see if they wanted to have gas, seven said they did, two were undecided, six were not at home and two didn't want it.

He reported that it would cost $584.10 to put in the necessary two-inch main 1008 feet long, and to run seven services to the houses, and the council decided that it would be a good investment to give this service.

NO SMOKE AT GLACIER LEVEL, CLUB ADVISED

All Ready for Next Week's Big Hike; Thirty Have Signed so Far

Above the level of the smoke haze, the Molly Gibson mill is bathed in sunshine filtering unobstructed through the translucent atmosphere, and Kokanee glacier, at still higher altitudes, in the well-known ozone, invitingly awaits the onslaught of the mountain climbers next week—so two several parties coming down from the mill reported yesterday, the executive of the Kokanee Mountaineering club was advised last night.

This means that at the permanent camp, which will be the expedition's base, and on the glacier itself, atmospheric conditions are at the present time perfect for climbing, photography and all other purposes.

Road Repairs Made

Reports received by the executive from the committees in charge of different departments show that all arrangements regarding food supply, tents, cooks and transport for the outing have been completed, that William Ramsay, district engineer, has had the road to the Molly Gibson mill put in shape, this work involving the replacing of a couple of bridges carried out during the winter break-up, and that 30 persons have signed up to date for the trip.

With the exception of last year, when 50 made the trip, this is the largest enrollment in the club's history.

Cars as Far as Mill

An advance party headed by J. Fred Hume will leave Nelson next Monday or Tuesday, while the main party will leave on the Wednesday morning, taking cars which will be waiting at the corner of Baker and Ward streets, timed to catch the 7 a.m. ferry. The cars will convey the mountaineers up the Kokanee creek road and as far as the Molly Gibson mill. From that point there will be a six-mile walk up to the Slocan Chief mine cabins, at the edge of the glacier, where the club's permanent camp has been situated for a number of years.

Hope For Commodious Camp

While in the past the club outings have had an extreme limit of five days, it is the desire of the club to construct in the course of time permanent buildings, so that parties may go in and come out at their convenience any time within a period of from a month to six weeks, during which period a cook will be maintained at the camp.

J. Fred Hume presided at the executive meeting last night, the others present being H. Bush, G. A. Bladworth, Roy Sharp, H. Eperson, H. E. Dill, Ross Fleming and Alex. Leith.
