WORKERS RISK LIVES ATTEMPT SAVE FELLOWS

Forced Back on 500-Foot Level Crosscut by Dense Fumes

OTTWA, Feb. 10.—A special dispatch to the Ottawa Journal from Timmins contains a graphic description of an attempt to rescue the trapped men, made by fellow workers. One of the miners, who asked that his name not be used, who was on a rescue crew which attempted to penetrate through the deathly wall of smoke and gas, said:

"We were working on the 1200-foot level without any knowledge of what was going on above when the cage descended and the cage tender called out that we were to go to the surface at once. We were rushed up with all possible speed and as we got higher and higher we could tell that something was wrong. Volumes of smoke were descending the shaft. One of our number was almost overcome in the cage, so strong and pungent were the fumes, but we immediately volunteered for rescue work as soon as we reached the surface. Our offer was accepted and once more we made the descent.

FUMES DENSE

"Arriving at the 550-foot level we made an effort to make our way along the crosscut, but we were forced back by the intense heat and an overpowering flow of smoke and gas. However we battled along but our efforts were of no avail as that portion was already clear of men.

"We knew that comrades and fellow workers with whom we had laughed and joked a few hours previously were entombed as thoroughly as if a brick wall was between us. Our frantic efforts were useless. One would make a heroic dash only to be driven back.

"Then another would try until we were all exhausted and knew that we were battling with forces which would not give way.

"Reluctantly we made our way back to the cage to be rushed to the surface once more. One of our number collapsed and had to be carried at the shaft head."

Bill to Raise Money by Loans Gets First Reading Ottawa House

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—A government resolution authorizing the raising of loans not to exceed $500,000,000 was given first reading in the house tonight.

In answering questions respecting the Dominion finances, Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of finance, said that bonds held in New York maturing between 1929 and 1952 totalled $225,000,000. And bonds held in London maturing between 1934 and 1960 totalled $311,000,000.

"The debt of this country is largely held in Canada," added the minster.

In answer to further questions Mr. Robb said that he hoped to be able to meet the following loans from revenues: $53,000,000 in 1928; $65,000,000 in 1930; $32,000,000 in 1931, and $73,000,000 in 1932.

Crew of G. N. Train Arrested; Smuggling Liquor Into States

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Feb. 10.—Nine men, the crew of a Great Northern railway freight train, southbound from Vancouver, B.C., were arrested and the train put under bond here by U.S. Custom Patrol officers who last night seized a contraband cargo of liquor which a few hours before had been smuggled across the international border in a box car.

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 10.—The Saskatchewan gasoline tax bill was introduced today in the legislature by Hon. S. J. Latta, provincial secretary. The measure calls for tax of three cents on each gallon of gas sold, and will come into force May 1.

Explosion Starts Fire at Atlantic City; Three Apartments Are Burned

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 10.—Fire which started with an explosion, has burned three apartment homes and is threatening the whole block at Mediterranean and North Carolina avenues in the negro belt of the city.

The fire was largely confined to the three structures on Mediterranean avenue, although several small frame structures on City avenue, a small street running between North Carolina and Pennsylvania avenues, were several times ignited. The blaze was started by the explosion of a still. The loss is estimated at about $25,000.

ROBB PROPOSES REFINANCING

May Take Up Some Bonds Now Exempt From Operation of Income Tax Act

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of finance, proposes to do some refinancing. When the government resolution to authorize the raising of loans not to exceed $500,000,000, was before the house this afternoon, Mr. Robb explained that there were maturities of four hundred and thirty-odd million dollars falling due in 1933, and five hundred and thirty-five millions payable in 1934. In the interim, there were a number of small maturities. For this year, these maturities totaled $53,000,000; for 1929, $69,000,000; for 1930, $65,000,000; for 1931, $77,000,000; and for 1932, seventy-three-odd million dollars.

These maturities carried a high rate of interest in comparison with prevailing rates. It had been contemplated that all maturities up to 1934 would be retired in cash. Money was, however, cheap in the market today, and he had advised that it was opportune to do some refinancing and take up some of the bonds now exempt from the operation of the income tax. He wished to point out for the information of bond holders, however, that it was not the intention of the government to immediately proceed with the scheme, but time would be taken to work out a complete plan.

The resolution will be further considered by the house.

Ruth Elder and Eddie Stinson, Famous Flyers, Lost for Time in Plane

DETROIT, Feb. 10.—A passenger plane piloted by Eddie Stinson, famous airplane designer, and carrying Ruth Elder, transatlantic aviatrix, which left Chicago at 1:05 p.m., for Detroit, had not arrived here tonight. In addition to Miss Elder and Stinson, the plane carried a number of prominent local persons.

FORCED DOWN

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Feb. 10.—The Stinson-Detroit monoplane, en route from Chicago to Detroit and piloted by Eddie Stinson, landed on the farm of Joseph Wise, one mile north of here, at 5:15 tonight after battling heavy clouds and fog for four hours. The plane had lost its way. It was not damaged in landing.

FOUR OIL DERRICKS BURN AT LONGBEACH

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 10.—An explosion in an oil refinery absorption plant at Thirty-second and Atlantic streets, inside the city limits, rocked a considerable section of Long Beach early today and started a fire which resulted in serious injury to one man and the destruction of four oil derricks.

TEN OIL STILLS EXPLODE TAKING FOURTEEN LIVES

More Believed Dead in Red Hot Ruins Following the Catastrophe

EVERETT OIL PLANT AND DISTRICT WRECK

Hundred and Fifty Working Near Scene; Flames Shoot Into Air

EVERETT, Mass., Feb. 10.—With a concussion that rocked this city and was felt for miles beyond, a unit of ten large stills in the refining plant of the Beacon Oil company here exploded late today, causing heavy loss. A check-up late tonight showed 14 known dead, but it was believed that other bodies lay covered in the red-hot ruins of the still section. At least 50 were injured, many seriously.

The plant of the oil company occupies a tract of about 50 acres on the bank of the Mystic river in East Everett, opposite Charleston. The stills affected form one unit in a total of 25 in the plant. The explosion probably was caused by the failure of a low pressure still.

It was shortly after 3 o'clock that the explosion came, shaking Everett and the Charleston section of Boston, and shattering windows for a wide area about the plant.

GO UP SINGLY

The stills blew up singly or in pairs. Flames shot up at a height of 80 feet above the 100-foot structure, and a pall of dense smoke hung over the plant, hampering the work of rescue. About 300 persons were employed in the entire plant, of whom 150 were in the section chiefly affected by the explosion. Most of those killed were at work about the stills, but in the machine shop nearby, four men lost their lives. That building and the boiler-makers' shop adjoining, suffered severely from the explosion and fire. When the fire was brought under control about two hours after the first shock, six of the stills had fallen and the other four were badly damaged. Property loss is estimated at $75,000.

WATER BELT BILL READ THIRD TIME

Hon. Charles Stewart Explains Bill in Accord With the Provincial Law

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—An act to amend the railway belt water act was given third reading in the house of commons this afternoon.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, explained that the purpose of the new bill was to suspend section 11 and repeal section 12 of the old act. In British Columbia the federal government controlled the railway belt and the Peace River block. The provincial government of British Columbia had passed a bill controlling water rights, and an effort was made some time ago to bring the federal statute in line with this legislation.

Section 11 gave the minister of the interior the right to pass on and approve permits issued in the railway belt. This section was objected to by the province, and, said Mr. Stewart, he had reached the conclusion that it was not worth while insisting upon it. The act as amended would be in complete uniformity with the provincial law.

Toronto Man Claims Beaten and Robbed of Large Sum of Money

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Eric Ostron of Toronto claimed that he had been beaten and robbed of $6100 when he was brought to court today on a charge of being intoxicated. He was fined $10 and costs. Ostron asserted that he had been seized by four men in a downtown resort last night, beaten and thrown into a taxi, in which he was thrown out. Of the $6100 taken $6000 was in nonnegotiable notes and $100 in cash.

Hollinger Mine Third Largest Gold Mine in World; Many Tunnels

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Previous Canadian mine disasters:

Year	Place	Lives Lost
1890	Springfield, N.S.	125
1912	Fernie, B.C.	102
1914	Hillcrest, Alta.	189
1918	Stellarton, N.S.	88
1922	Cumberland, B.C.	123
1923	Cumberland, B.C.	50

Hollinger is the third largest gold mine in the world, and the largest in North America.

The plants cover 560 acres of ground. Every day of the year something like 6000 tons of rock are crushed. Since 1911 it has produced approximately $121,000,000 in gold and paid about $40,000,000 in dividends. There are 100 miles of underground workings and probably 90 miles of tracks with electric cars carrying ore to the chutes and hoists.

Hollinger's mining operations are carried on through three shafts. Underground it is like a subterranean city. Veins and crosscuts run in every direction like a tangle of steel.

The report of the disaster states that the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in an old stope where rubbish and sand had accumulated. A stope is an excavation in the rock from which ore is extracted either above or below the floor of a level.

Rescue Equipment Is Being Rushed to the Scene of Disaster

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Laden with gas masks and fire fighting equipment, a group of expert rescue men left Toronto tonight for the Hollinger mine at Timmins, Ont., on a special train, consisting of a standard sleeping coach and a baggage car. The train left the Union station at 8:30 and is scheduled to complete the 500-mile journey by nine o'clock tomorrow morning, thus cutting eight hours off the regular time.

CONDITIONS WORSE

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—A special dispatch from Timmins to the Ottawa Journal stated that 9 o'clock tonight smoke was pouring up from No. 11 shaft of the Hollinger mine and that conditions on the 550-foot level where fire broke out this morning ,would appear "to be getting worse instead of better."

WEATHER FREAKS AGAIN, BRITAIN

Gale, Thunder, Lightning, Rain, Snow and Sleet; Accidents Minor

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The British Isles again today suffered weather freaks. Late in the afternoon there was a sudden fall in the temperature of 11 degrees, with a terrific gale, accompanied by thunder and lightning, snow and sleet. This lasted about 40 minutes, and London was in temporary darkness.

The wind, especially in Ireland, was of hurricane force, in some places 80 miles an hour, with torrential rains.

Thus far, many minor accidents and property damage by lightning have been reported, but no fatalities.

Ontario's Premier Says Subsidy Should Come From Dominion

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—An subsidy to the railways for transporting Alberta coal to Ontario should come from the Dominion government and not from Ontario, said Premier Ferguson in the legislature today in reply to a question by J. G. Lethbridge, Progressive leader.

Mr. Lethbridge asked what the attitude of the government was in view of the recent suggestions made in the press. Mr. Ferguson pointed out that the railways wanted $9 a ton whereas the actual cost as determined by the railway board was $7. The real cost, he thought, was nearer $6.75. There was a suggestion, said the premier, that if the Dominion government would contribute a subsidy of $1 a ton the province of Ontario and Quebec should join in providing another dollar.

"The problem, however," said Premier Ferguson, "is a national one rather than a local one and inasmuch as the province of Ontario has already spent many thousands of dollars in establishing before the railway board the actual cost of transporting the coal, any subsidy required should be made up by the federal and not the provincial government.

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 10.—Having accepted responsible posts with the Midwest Utilities, limited, two of the city's prominent officials in the persons of W. J. Murphy, superintendent of the electric light department for the past eight years, and Bruce M. Hill, technical assistant, gave notice of their resignations to the city commissioners this morning. While no definite time was stated, it is expected that they will leave the civic service about March 1. Mr. Murphy is to be operating superintendent and business manager of the Midwest company, which is to be a subsidiary of the International Utilities corporation.

BURNING REFUSE FILLS THE PASSAGES OF GOLD MINE WITH GAS; RESCUE EFFORTS FAILURE

Blaze Originates on 500-Foot Level and Spreads Throughout Underground Workings; Gas Masks and Oxygen Supplies of No Use; Continue Pump Air

FOUR BODIES RECOVERED IN ONTARIO DISASTER; RESCUE CARS RUSHING IN; HEART RENDING SCENES

Employees of Adjoining McIntyre Property Brought to Surface; 900 Men Rescued in Hour; Pittsburgh Rescue Car Will Arrive Timmins Today

SUDBURY, Ont., Feb. 10.—The bodies of five men employees of Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines have been recovered and hope has been practically abandoned for 44 others who are imprisoned by a fire which broke out on the 550-foot level about 9:45 o'clock this morning. Officials of the mine declare that the cause of the fire is as yet unknown, although early reports stated that it started among some refuse which has been thrown into an abandoned stope in the vicinity of No. 11 shaft on the 500-foot level.

RESCUE CAGE OPERATES

TIMMINS, Ont., Feb. 10.—Hope still springs through anxiety and dread in the mining town tonight, as the rescue cage in shaft No. 11, of the Hollinger gold mine, runs up and down, without an operator, guided by the rescuers at the shaft head, in the odd chance that some one or more of the 44 workers believed trapped in the mine may be able to struggle to the cage, climb aboard and be drawn to the top. Several were rescued in this way during the afternoon.

Four bodies were raised to the surface before the smoke and fumes from the blazing stope forced the rescuers to discontinue their efforts. Two of these victims were identified—Martin Graham, shift boss, and Ira Graham. The other bodies are being viewed by relatives of missing men in an effort to learn their identity. There is hope that some of the missing 44 may have come up to safety unreported. This may not be known definitely until the official checkup tomorrow.

RELATIVES WEEP

Meanwhile weeping and praying relatives and friends are thronging the works and haunting the brilliantly lighted shaft head, awaiting the news of missing workers.

Late tonight the volume of smoke seems to be lessening and it is thought the fire is dying out. Further rescue work will be attempted as soon as possible. Gas masks and oxygen supplies here are insufficient. Extra equipment in this line is expected by airplane tomorrow. Reinforcements of doctors and nurses and hospital equipment are coming on a special train from Toronto.

Meanwhile rescue crews are waiting for the sufficient abatement of the smoke and fire to enable them to proceed down the shaft. No effort will be spared in the attempt to save the lives of the men trapped in the mine—if they still live.

The officials of the Hollinger mine here promise a full statement tomorrow.

Attempts at rescue were definitely abandoned at 9 o'clock tonight on account of the gas becoming worse. The only chance of the men being alive, it is stated, depends on the air line pipe. Compressors are being kept working, pumping air into the mine, but it is only a chance that the effort is worth while.

All Parties Agree on the Vehicle Bill Change, Saskatchewan

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 10.—Complete accord by all parties in the legislature was expressed at today's sitting on the proposed amendments to the Vehicle act which have to do with autoists bringing their cars to a complete stop at railway level crossings where stop signals are erected, before attempting to make a crossing. The amendment was introduced by Hon. S. J. Latta, provincial secretary, as an attempt to eliminate level crossing accidents.

HOPE IS ABANDONED

SUDBURY, Ont., Feb. 10.—Little hope remains that 44 men trapped by a fire which broke out this morning on the 500-foot level of the Hollinger gold mine at Timmins will be rescued alive. Four bodies have been recovered.

Word received by the Sudbury Star at 6 o'clock this evening in long distance communication was to the effect that it was feared all the imprisoned miners were dead. So strong were the carbon monoxide fumes which saturated the entire workings of the mine that a canary which was lowered in a cage lived for only two minutes.

Death came to the known victims as a result of suffocation from smoke and carbon monoxide. It is practically certain from authentic reports that the men in the mine were at no time in actual danger from the fire itself, but were in constant peril from lack of air and the effect of confined combustion.

RESCUE SWIFT

Although the fire commenced shortly before 10 o'clock it was nearly noon before the flames had penetrated to the low levels. The work of emptying the mine was carried out as swiftly as possible. It is estimated that between 800 and 900 men came up the cage through the various shafts between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock noon. Owing to the vast extent of the Hollinger property the seriousness of the situation was not apparent for some time. As soon as it was realized that the menace was spreading to other sections of the mine the word was passed throughout the entire mine to vacate and the mighty hoises, the largest on the continent, began hauling to the surface their loads of human freight. Near the surface the smoke and fumes were so thick that men coming up

To overcome an oily condition and to brighten and clarify a sallow faded complexion try this three times a week. Get a little Peroxine Powder from your chemist. Apply hot cloths to the face and then rub gently with the powder using a rotary motion. Follow with hot and then cold water. Apply a good cream (we recommend Cerol creme). This helps to restore that dry velvety finish to the skin, improves its texture and brings natural color to the cheeks.

TRAIL CHURCH ORGAN ARRIVES

Knox United Congregation's Ambition Realized; Is Fine Instrument

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 10.—Officers of Knox United church, and particularly Dr. J. B. Thom, were delighted today to find out the three-manuel pipe organ ordered some weeks ago has arrived here. It is to be installed in the church without delay. An organ assembler is due to arrive in the city tomorrow from the manufacturers factory in Ontario.

This organ, which will be the third pipe organ in this city, has long been the ambition of the congregation of Knox church and a few outside friends and lovers of organ music who have all either contributed or promised contributions to the organ fund.

The instrument, which was rated highly by touring musicians here in discussing the various makes with local people, is to cost $6000, of which $2000 is already subscribed and $2000 more is in sight. Dr. J. B. Thom has been the prime mover in bringing the church's aspiration in this regard to success.

MRS. EVANS IS DEAD, ROSSLAND

ROSSLAND, B.C., Feb. 10.—One of Rossland's pioneers passed away at an early hour Friday morning, in the person of Mrs. Fania Evans, wife of John Evans of Davis street, death coming as a merciful relief after many years of suffering.

Mrs. Evans was born at Wendsfield Heath, near Wolverhampton, Stafford shire, England, being the daughter of James and Jane Evans. Thirty-seven years ago she was united in marriage to John Evans, who survives her. Two sons were born to them, one dying in early childhood, the other passing away three years ago. After leaving England Mr. and Mrs. Evans resided for a time on the prairie, coming to Rossland 27 years ago last May.

PROMINENT IN CHURCH

A lifelong member of the Wesleyan church, Mrs. Evans' religion was no something kept for state occasions, but wood out the wear and tear of every day life. Her sufferings were borne with remarkable serenity and fortitude. She had a remarkable understanding of the scriptures and did a great deal of good in her quiet way. For several years she had been a devoted member of Maple Leaf Temple No. 4, Pythian Sisters.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Evans is survived by a brother, William J. Evans of Rossland, and a brother and three sisters in England. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from St. Andrew's United church.

ISAAC HENDRICKSON DIES AT ROSSLAND

ROSSLAND, B.C., Feb. 10.—Death claimed one of Trail's most popular contractors yesterday afternoon, when Isaac Hendrickson passed away at the home of his brother here after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Hendrickson, who has been a resident of Trail for nearly 20 years, was born in Sundvik, Sweden, 38 years ago, and was unmarried. He is survived by two brothers. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon from St. Andrew's United church, Rev. C. H. Daly officiating.

ABANDON HOPE FOR RESCUE OF TRAPPED MINERS

in the cages were at times almost suffocated.

NO COMMUNICATION

Conflicting opinions are held as to the location of the victims. On one hand it is reported that they were together in a single stope near the origin of the fire, while other information is that they are scattered in various parts of the mine. Owing to the depth at which the accident occurred, it has not been possible to communicate in any way with the imprisoned men.

Rescue work was abandoned at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, as the most valiant attempts to reach the men had proved futile. There is only one first aid car on the continent, it is said, which is sufficiently equipped to cope with the circumstances that today claimed the lives of 44 men, and that has been in service at the mines of Pennsylvania. It is being rushed from Pittsburgh, and is scheduled to reach Timmins by noon tomorrow.

NEARLY LOSES LIFE

An hour before the frantic rescuers were ordered to discontinue the search, Charles Williams, mine superintendent at the Hollinger, nearly lost his life in a heroic attempt to locate the victims. With a party of men he fought the stifling fumes as far as the 300-foot level, only 200 feet above the workings where the flames were eating into the treacherous mass of refuse, from which there issued the poisonous gases. At 300 feet it was considered unsafe to proceed, but, courting the same fate as had befallen his workmen, Williams went alone to the 400-foot level. He was overcome when they brought him to the surface, and grave fears at first were entertained as to his recovery, but later he regained consciousness.

McINTYRE CLEARED

As the workings of the McIntyre mine break into those of the Hollinger at the 400-foot level, all employees at the McIntyre have been ordered to the surface, and operations have been suspended.

It is understood the blaze originated among rubbish on the 500-foot level. The four bodies recovered have been brought to the surface.

It was shortly before noon when evidence of smoke and gas was detected in the upper levels of the mine, and when an investigation disclosed fire smoking in a refilled stope at the 550-foot level, men in the vicinity of the smouldering fire were hurried to the cage at No. 11 shaft, and made their exit to the surface. Crews working at lower levels of this part of the mine were warned as quickly as possible, but in some instances the warning was too late to permit easy exit. There were several hundred men working in the mine on the day shift.

MASKS NO USE

The gas and smoke attained such density that the regulation gas masks were not adequate to permit search parties to explore all the workings before the rescuers were driven out. The missing men are believed trapped at the further end of the workings.

Before the rescue work was stopped by the dense smoke, many of the workers were brought up in the cage.

There were heart-rending scenes at the head of the shaft when wives, sweethearts and children saw loved ones emerging in safety from the bowels of the earth into which they had gazed for hours as into a tomb.

Relatives of the men still in the mine are tonight haunting the shaft heads in the glare of floodlights in earnest yearning for news.

INDIGESTION SPOILS YOUR LIFE

How to End Stomach Trouble

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is surprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse. Be on your guard then.

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flautlence is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after meals or whenever pain is felt. This quickly stops your discomfort by neutralizing excess stomach acid and preventing fermentation, and at the same time soothes, heals and strengthens your delicate stomach lining.

Get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today—every druggist sells it and recommends it, as a sure remedy for stomach troubles. Don't let indigestion spoil your life—you can't have stomach troubles and "Pape's Diapepsin" too!

Bill—Don't break off the engagement. Tell Merlo the difficulty. (2256)

TRAIL DEFEATS ROSSLAND THREE GOALS TO ONE

Wheatley and Fred Lauriente Tangle; Jim Hanson Gets a Goal

GOOD CROWD SEES SPEEDY CONTEST

Both Goal Minders Produce Hair Raising Saves From Close and Far

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 10.—Trail hockeyists came out victorious with 3-1 score in their last battle with Rossland in the West Kootenay League series, played here tonight before a good crowd of fans.

With the exception of 10 minutes in the opening frame, which was marred through a personal battle, it was scintillating hockey, clean and cleverly played, and full of thrilling incident.

Play opened prettily enough, with good combination by both forward lines, and individual raids by Bond and Pat Dewar. Trail opened scoring at 4:50. Anderson, breaking up an attack, went up by the boards, passed clean to Gustafson, who shot, and shot again on the rebound from Johnson's pads, and scored. The goal was a tonic to Rossland, which attacked vigorously with persistent pressure, Molisky, D. Dewar and Norris all taking shots.

THE SCRAP

At 11 minutes, with Wheatley and Hanson pressing around the Rossland goal, Wheatley and F. Lauriente got into a personal mixup, and battled up to center ice, breaking their sticks, and then trading rights and lefts. They were chased off for 10 minutes, reducing the game to five-man hockey for the remainder of the period. Bond, particularly speedy skater, made several spectacular rushes, and penetrated the visitors' defence twice before they began to freeze him out with body checking. The first time he got through Johnson made a great save of his sizzling low shot.

At 16:30, D. Dewar pulled a great play, coming down center ice glued to the puck, he feinted, lured Anderson aside, and shot a hot low one into the corner of the net.

TRAIL LEADS

Twice in the early stages of the second period, Rossland gave the fans real thrills with attacks that developed into melees about Trail goal, one with Ferko attacking with Norris and D. Dewar, and once with Molisky. Brennan, Kendall and Mackie staged the same siege on Johnson a few minutes later. At 10:30 Anderson went up with Mackie and centered from the corner. Mackie drove hard and sure, giving Trail the lead. At this stage Pat Dewar's good defence play was a big factor in blocking shots from the hard-working Trail forwards. D. Dewar and Molisky, in a pretty play, came dangerously close to evening the score in the last minute.

HANSON SCORES

Johnson saved a hot shot on the ice from Bond as the opening thrill in the third period, while Rossland commenced in four-man defence style, H. Lauriente and F. Lauriente doing the attacking.

There was a real thrill when P. Dewar went up with F. Lauriente, passed out, and a few yards from the goal, got the return only to shoot too wide.

Following a vigorous attack by Mackie and Wheatley, Hanson, lagging, got a rebound and scored from the blue line at 17 minutes for the final tally of the game.

The teams were:

Rossland — Johnson, goal; P. Dewar and Ferko, defence; Molisky, D. Dewar and Norris, and Nelson, H. Lauriente and F. Lauriente, forwards.

Trail — Jackson, goal; Anderson and Bond, defence; Gustason, Kendall and Brennan, and Wheatley, Mackie and Hanson, forwards.

OFFICIALS

E. Jewell, referee. Goal umpires— A. Kerr, Rossland; S. Meredith, Trail. Timekeepers—H. Raynor, Rossland; C. Dodimead, Trail.

PENALTIES

First period—Wheatley 10 minutes, F. Lauriente 10 minutes.
Second period—Molisky, 1.
Third period—Gustason, Mackie.

GOAL SUMMARY

First period—Gustason from Anderson, 4:50; D. Dewar, 16:30.
Second period—Mackie from Anderson, 10:35.
Third period—Hanson, 17:00.

Ontario Rewards Bonny Fighter

Alex. Hodge, farmer of Beeton, Ont., last summer killed with his fists a man who tried to rob him at his farmhouse. He has just received a gold watch and a purse at the town hall from the citizens of Beeton and surrounding district, and has gone to take

"a position on the experimental farm at Whitby, accorded to him by the Ontario government in recognition of his action which ultimately resulted in the arrest of the gang of Beeton cattle rustlers."

To see a man rewarded with an appointment as a distinction for genuine service performed is a refreshing novelty. It is interesting to note that the appointment is evidently regarded by all concerned as a distinction. It is also interesting that this able citizen evidently sees a future for himself in the service of his province, and in his chosen line of work. Whether a man who has been used to ordering his own way, as a farmer does, will take kindly to a life of being bossed—obviously someone must boss him unless he is going to fit in very high up in the scale—is a point of possible doubt, but that is up to the Ontario citizen honored, and he evidently thinks for himself.

This kind of thing could not happen under the Dominion government. The civil service commission, which awards all jobs, from those of $35 a month up, would have to examine the applicant suggested for distinction, and if he passed, would place him on a waiting list with all other successful applicants. Take a job of head plotman, for which there is at present one opening, advertised in every postoffice in the Dominion. Mr. Hodge—and all other potential candidates—would be advised that preference would be given to a man who had invested two years of his life at an agricultural college Then, he must have had experience in the work of a plotman, and he must possess executive ability. With education, experience and qualities that would ensure him success almost anywhere, he would learn that, if he got this job, his services would be appraised as worth say $100 a month, and that after a decade or so of effort he would find his check $125 a month.

Even if such a job were handed Mr. Hodge on a platter, which it couldn't be under the Civil Service act, it is certain Mr. Hodge would consider that the farm that he so valiantly defended looked much too good to him in comparison for him to consider leaving it.

Kootenay Poultry May Cross Rio Grande

A. Wallach, Kootenay breeder of a particular variety of poultry, was one of the British Columbia poultrymen that put his yards at the service of the province in preparing a creditable provincial exhibit for the Dominion poultry exhibition in connection with the World's Poultry Congress at Ottawa last summer. He mated selected birds in November and hatched chicks in January. Four young birds that he eventually tendered for the exhibit were accepted, and went to Ottawa to represent the province in that variety.

As a direct result of that exhibit, for which there could be no financial returns, as there were no prizes to award, Mr. Wallach has had requests for quotations on stock and eggs from as far east as Ontario, and as far south as Mexico.

There are as many morals in this as one cares to take out of it. One of these is that if he had not shown this enterprise, which he undertook from motives of local patriotism, it is extremely unlikely that a demand for his strain would have sprung up east of the Great Lakes and south of the Rio Grande.

Let Us Hope for More Immigrants

Federal estimates for the immigration and colonization service, published yesterday, call for $3,383,000. Of this amount, $300,600 is increase, principally to cover a proposed larger expenditure in connection with the Empire settlement scheme.

That the King government proposes to make larger use of the Empire settlement scheme, which is largely financed by the British exchequer, is good news, and the extraordinary thing is that it has in the past held down to small limits the number of British families coming out under this scheme, while Australia gladly took its full quota.

On the other hand, that the immigration and colonization service as operated under the King government chiefly operates as a deterrent to immigration is an impression that won't be removed until there is sign of a conversion on the part of the government. A vast inertia seems to possess the King government in regard to any active measures to secure immigration, and a vast energy seems to possess Canada's immigration staff to apply every possible knockout test to any immigrant who may dare to apply at Canada's portals, or in England to think of doing so.

That Body of Yours

Development From Play

As it has been discovered that a great many of our heart cases of middle age can be traced to childhood illness, I speak often about the necessity of keeping youngsters in bed for a few days after the temperature and pulse are normal.

Unfortunately some damage sometimes is done to the heart, and the parents are naturally so careful that the youngster is not allowed to do anything for himself, even go messages, and play is absolutely forbidden.

Now I have pointed out before that not allowing the child to play is a big mistake, because the only way the heart muscle can get strong is by exercise, by play.

However, there is another point that is overlooked, and that is the mental, and I might say also the moral, effect upon a youngster who is not allowed to play.

You can readily see that if he is not made to go messages, to do some of the chores about the home, he is going to lean upon the other members of the family, and thus it will be hard to prevent him from becoming selfish.

This is why play is so beneficial. Each youngster has to go "it," has to be "in the field," in baseball, and do other things in these games that make him sink his own interest or desires for the benefit of the team.

If a youngster in the excitement of a game, when he is worked up to the highest pitch, and anxious for his own satisfaction to play the ball or puck, yet unselfishly passes it to a team mate, real progress has been made toward the development of unselfishness of character.

Also when a youngster is kept out of a game, is not allowed to play, you can readily see how other youngsters will size him up, and also how he will size himself up.

He will begin to feel that the other youngsters are stronger physically, are more self reliant, and a feeling of "inferiority" is bound to creep into his mental and moral makeup.

He is thus not only handicapped as a boy, but this dependence on others, this "inferiority complex," may become permanent, unless the parents wake up in time to see the result of their extreme "carefulness," and send the youngster out to play games with others.

So it isn't for physical reasons alone that supervised play is doing such a real work in the community.

All housewives are busy women, but when I use the term a "busy housewife" I mean more than just the bustle of performing our daily tasks; I mean a woman who is too busy to be trivial.

And, oh, what a godsend hard work is when one has some little worry nagging at one's consciousness, or when one has had some dear hope turn its back on one! Hard work not only heals, but it protects.

For instance, I know a young wife who has an invalid aunt who is constantly filled with self-pity (that most contemptible of all human emotions). This girl said to me recently, "What would I do without a big heap of ironing to work off, or a day's cleaning? When auntie gets one of her whining spells, I just plunge into work and say to myself, 'Poor soul, she has time to feel sorry for herself, but I haven't.' You see, I can positively feel superior because I have work to do which raises me above the petty and mean and unworthwhile. And that feeling of superiority is not conceit—it is the most comforting thing in my life, sometimes. Just that knowledge that I have more important things to do than sit and complain—just that feeling that I am bigger mentally through my work—gives me strength to smile and keep an even temper!"

I wonder if half of the divorces in the world would happen if more women tried to rise above the bitter things of life in this way? I wonder if there would be so many cruel "in-law" situations (which darken so many, many lives) if more housekeepers turned to their housework as to a healing influence over their nerves, as this girl did, whom I have quoted above?

I like to repeat to myself, sometimes, that old quotation: "The dog barks but the caravan passes on." We housekeepers should picture ourselves as the caravan—serenely passing on, no matter how galling our burdens. Let us keep too busy ever to have time to stop and listen to the barking dogs of life!

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—February 11 is expected to be the central date of one of the coldest periods of the month, and probably of the season. This below normal temperature wave will travel well into southern states, but will be most severe in vicinity of and eastward from the Great Lakes. Precipitation during this period will average about normal for the continent; most precipitation east of 10th meridian; least precipitation from Rockies eastward to longitude 97. Most precipitation during February was expected to occur during severe storm periods centering on 15 and 20, during which periods light rains will probably occur over the entire southwest, reaching western cotton belt where so badly needed, but not in such quantity as is needed.

February 15 to 27 is expected to be a period of very disagreeable weather as an average for the continent, averaging above normal precipitation and storm force and below normal temperatures. Storm force of this period is expected to be most severe during the passage of storm waves centering on 15 and 20, both of which storm waves will be expected to travel well to the southward. February southern planting weather will be a few days late, but, where ample moisture is present, this handicap will soon be overcome. We are entering another season that will be very favorable to insect breeding; central and eastern cotton belt must wage a relentless fight during 1928 or stand a heavy loss from these pests.

CROP AVERAGE 1928

Specialists are agreed that North American acreage of cotton, wheat and corn has been increased during the past decade until a bumper crop of any one of these three crops mean almost certain loss to producers. This is especially true of cotton. While Russia and California are threatening to become material factors in world cotton production and many other localities of the world are making every effort to profitably increase cotton acreage and yields, our gulf states, the best cotton country of the world, must, for the good of that area, reduce, or at least not further increase cotton acreage. This may not look reasonable. It is estimated that 1927 American cotton cost between 18½ to 19 cents to produce. There are countries within the cotton belt of world where cost of land, labor and living expenses, during a favorable season, would permit cotton production at half this cost. Cheaper production of North American cotton is not to be expected. Present dry condition of western belt and probable weevil infestation of central and eastern belt, with price of cotton hovering around actual cost of production, following a season of below normal yields, do not point to a profitable increase in North American cotton acreage.

Good Bye, Boyishness, We're Through— by Paris Advice

A "JAZZ AGE", yes—but sometimes a touch of contrast brings out charm in a most delightful way. This evening gown is distinguished for its truly lovely lines. Its grace is as timeless as a Grecian statue, and its dignity is only equalled by its real feminity. Dressy enough for any occasion this side a Court Ball, it is so satisfactory for less formal wear that it blends perfectly—and yet is never mistaken by any eye for "just an old thing to put on." To Chanel we owe the unusual treatment in joining the circular flared skirt in a scalloped outline; but all the Paris designers are insisting on the irregular hemline. In this frock it is achieved by the fabric bow ending in a scarf in back and falling below the skirt. Whether it be made of satin crepe, crepe de chine, soft light weight velvet or metallic fabric it should be lovely. (Copyright, 1927, by Butterick)

Public Hall Is Free of Debt at Crawford Bay; Church Aid Meets

CRAWFORD BAY, B.C., Feb. 10.—A hall meeting was held in the public hall on Tuesday evening, January 31. The financial statement was read by the secretary, J. Henderson Cleland, showing a balance in hand of over $70 and the hall clear of debt. It is intended to build a new ladies' cloak room this year, and the lighting system will be improved. The hall committee were re-elected, J. Henderson Cleland, D. Dale and H. Richardson.

The Church Helpers held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Borerru, Mrs. Dale, president, being in the chair. There was a very good attendance. Mrs. Francis read a report of the parochial meeting held in Procter in January. Major J. S. Gooch was appointed parochial church warden. It was decided to hold a social evening early in March. Tea was served by Mrs. Bourne and Mrs. Richardson.

MASQUERADE FUN AT SUNSHINE BAY

Ranchers' United Club Is Host at Fancy Dress Ball; Big Success

SUNSHINE BAY, B.C., Feb. 10.—Rancher's United club put on their best entertainment of the season in the shape of a grand fancy dress dance and masquerade recently.

Sunshine Bay hall was tastefully decorated under the supervision of Captain L. Smith and Mrs. Smith, while O. B. Appleton undertook the installation of colored lights with the assistance of N. Dozenberger, C. Sewell, H. C. Carne and others. The resulting effect of the decorations and lighting combined with the varied and picturesque costumes was a delightful and charming scene.

Judging of costumes was by popular vote. In the ladies' division the competition was close. "Gentlemen prefer blondes," Miss L. MacLean, and Indian chief's wife; Mrs. Soles tied for first place, followed closely by a Dutch girl, Mrs. Kennedy; a court lady, Mrs. Western; Espanola, Miss R. D'Amore; pierrot, Mrs. L. Smith; Little Red Ridinghood, Mrs. Carne.

Among the men Le Mousquetaire, J. Kennedy, ran away from all competitors.

Other favored characters were the piper, Roderick MacKinnon, and Italian fisherman, R. Quin.

The comic was another runaway affair, the hobo, S. Course, being perfect. Other excellent representations in this class were Uncle Sam, Neil Macleod; pierrot, Captain L. Smith, and the dude, W. R. Bradley. The identity of Harlequin, C. Muirhead, had everyone guessing.

The piper was useful as well as ornamental, as he enlivened the music and helped the dancing with his pipes. Mrs. Dozenberger, Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Carne had charge of the refreshments.

Among the costumes not already mentioned were—Five Roses, Miss Foy; Mrs. Bouncer, Mrs. Major; jazz pierrette, Mrs. L. Serres; pierrot, Mrs. Cote; boy scout, Olive Muirhead; Alice in Wonderland, Annie MacKinnon; fairy, Elsie Johnston; C.G.I.T., Violet Muirhead; pierrette, Miss H. Quin; little girl, Cherry Sewell; senorita, Florence Ogilvie; Miss Canada,, Myrtle Johnston; Rube, the Hayseed, Arthur Cromach; Count Doolittle, A. R. Johnston; French-Canadian lumberjack, O.B. Appleton; clown, W. Soles; highlander, Angus MacKinnon; pierrot, R. Stevenson; Mark Anthony, E. C. Francis; bag of bran, H. C. Carne; scarecrow, H. Sykes.

Special mention is due to the Perriottes, who were dressed in gayly colored costumes, and sang a medley of old southern songs. Mrs. A. B. Clark sang "In an Old-Fashioned Town," Miss Ethel Greene sang "Dawn," which was heartily applauded, Mrs. L. M. Prochnow being the pianist. Those taking part were Mrs. H. Stevens, Mrs. A. B. Both Mother and Daughter Praise Dodd's Kidney Pills

"I suffered terribly from Backache, which at times made me feel right ill," writes Miss Dora Wyatt, 87 Alyward Street, Toronto. "I tried other Kidney Pills, but they seemed of not much use. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and am feeling fine now after using two boxes. I praise them for their good work. My mother used Dodd's Kidney Pills for her Backache and Weak Kidneys. She was unable to brace herself upright for about three weeks and then used your Kidney Pills. She derived great benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills and still continues to use them. She thinks they are fine medicine."

TWO GRADES OF POTATOES ONLY MAY BE SHIPPED

Committee of Direction Issues New Instructions; Prices Equalized

A revised order on marketing of potatoes has been issued from Kelowna by the interior tree fruit and vegetable committee of direction under Tuesday's date.

The only grades that may be shipped are "A" and "B", and these can only be shipped on bona fide order, and cannot under any circumstances be "rolled" unsold, or shipped to storage.

BASE PRICES

Base prices f.o.b. Ashcroft and common points, to jobbers, $2.50 per ton being added for retailers, are as follows:

	"A" Grade	"B" Grade
Gems	$25.00	[illegible]
Whites	22.00	14.00

In the case of shipments to eastern points on the coast on the one hand, on the prairie provinces on the other, the difference between the freight from the point of shipment and that from Ashcroft must be added or deducted as the case may be, to the invoice prices to give equality between the various parts of the province. CHAPTER XXXIII.

By pure chance Eileen met Ted Chandler, Helen Bishop's brother, on Park avenue, while John was west. She was walking down town, aimlessly; her mind was full of her problem; she was vaguely conscious of eyes fixed upon her for two or three minutes; thought, just for a moment, as a man fell into step beside her, that he was trying to flirt with her. The idea amused her; she was smiling faintly as she looked around and recognized Chandler.

"Well!" he said. "A dollar for your thoughts!"

"A penny's the usual price, isn't it?" she said.

"Oh, but I'm sure yours are worth much more. A dollar's what I bid, anyway."

"They're not for sale," she said.

A curious sense of exhilaration had come to her. She did not analyze her mood; there was no time; she had no inclination to do so. She liked this boy; she knew as women do know such things, that he liked her. There was salve in that knowledge for her wounded spirit; it is a good thing for the spirit of any woman in Eileen's station to know that some man has found her attractive.

"I suppose not," he said, cheerfully. "Where are you bound?"

"I don't know," she said. "I'm at loose ends, really. I want to buy a hat some time today—I'll have to eat lunch—oh, I haven't any plans!"

"I have," he said, with his boyish laugh. "Look up at the sky! Breathe this air! And then tell me two reasonable human beings have any business staying in town!"

"It is silly," she admitted. "But——"

"Now I," he went on, "have all sorts of ideas—and a plan, too! To begin with—you wouldn't want me carried off to a felon's cell, would you?"

She considered the matter, her head a little on one side.

"No," she said, soberly. "I don't think so. Why? What crime have you been committing?"

"Look straight ahead—down in the next block, in front of the Racquet club," he said. "Do you see that slightly shopworn green roadster?"

She nodded.

"It's mine," said Ted. "Free and clear. It's also parked in a place where you can't leave a car for more than an hour, and it's been there for 55 minutes, and the cop on the corner is laying for me."

"Well—why don't you move it?"

"You may well ask! I will—on terms. I'll move it very fast and very far if you'll get into it with me. We could motor up to the Hudson and have a latish lunch at Longue Vue. Then we could strike across country—do you play golf?"

She nodded.

"I haven't, for ages—but I used to. I love it."

"Better and better! I belong to a club in Connecticut where they give you food that really is food. We could get there in plenty of time to play nine holes, anyway, have dinner, and still get back in time to see part of a show. How does it strike you?"

"Golf—in these things?"

She made a despairing little gesture about her smart dress, her high-heeled shoes, her silk stockings.

"We'll stop by your house, and I'll wait downstairs while you change——"

"I haven't any clubs."

"Get everything you want at the club. Come on!"

"Oh, I'd love to! It sounds heavenly—I will!" said Eileen. "Are you sure you don't mind waiting while I change?"

He laughed.

"I'll try to possess my soul in patience," he said.

She looked marvelous, and she knew it, when she came down 20 minutes later to get into his car. Her short sports dress was perfect; her legs looked as slim and lovely in wool as they ever had in silk; her brogues were absurdly feminine for all their masculinity of cut. She was wrapped in a thick wool coat.

They drove straight out of brick and stone and plaster into spring. Everywhere in the northern outskirts of the city the yellow forsythia blazed; the brooks among the trees were outlined in the vivid green of skunk cabbage; the trees were newly in leaf.

"I'm renewing my youth," Eileen said as they sat at their table looking up the river and across the wide, still expanse of the Tappan Zee.

"Renewing it!" he said, and laughed. "You'll never be anything but young! Helen's so envious of you that you'll have to be careful! She thinks you're the loveliest thing she's ever seen—and that sister of mine is a critical wench, I can tell you!"

"She's a darling," said Eileen. "She's been awfully good to me."

"She likes you," said Chandler. "She's a good sort, if she is my sister. She's a good one to tie to, Helen is. Anyone who's in any kind of trouble can always find her home."

"I think I'd know that, just from seeing her," said Eileen.

"And Mort's a good egg, too — my brother-in-law. He's strong for your husband, by the way."

"Does he know John?"

"I think he's met him. He's talked about him a lot, anyway. He says MacVeagh made that gang of Foster's play dead for him. Mort hates Foster and that whole lot—he was tickled to death when MacVeagh put him over the jumps."

"I see," said Eileen, thoughtfully. "How do you feel about Mr. Foster?"

"I? Oh—I don't count!" said Ted, uncomfortably. "I'm just a sort of head office boy in Mort's shop—learning the ropes, really."

She looked at him, quizzically.

"I know what you're thinking — I'm pretty old for that soft of talk. I am, too. I've wasted a lit of time, I guess. Couldn't see any particular sense settling down to work when there were so many things I'd rather do. But you get fed up with fooling around, after a while."

"I think that's true," said Eileen. Suddenly her voice was passionate. "I know you do! I know I have!"

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia, aspirant for the featherweight title, suffered a dislocation and possible fracture of the right shoulder bone in the early stages of his losing battle with Tony Canzoneri in Madison Square Garden tonight, Dr. W. G. Fralick announced after the fight.

Bass said the injury occurred in the third round and followed the throwing of a punch that missed his opponent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In one of the most vicious battles the New Madison Square Garden ever has seen, Tony Canzoneri, youthful New Yorker, tonight clinched full claim to the featherweight championship by whipping Benny Bass, bulldog of Philadelphia, in 15 slashing rounds.

Bass cut loose at a furious pace in the first round, ripping into Tony with short, driving hooks to the body. Canzoneri stepped about coolly, finding the range. A heavy right to the chin stung the Italian, but Tony opened up toward the close of the second session with a blistering body barrage.

A series of lefts and rights to the chin dropped Bass for the count of eight in the third round. Canzoneri stepped about Bass calmly, and kept the Philadelphia boy backing up. Hardly breathing heavily, Canzoneri punched Bass around in the sixth. Bass began punching low in the seventh, fouls so obvious that the referee twice warned him.

Infuriated, Canzoneri belted Bass steadily in the eighth. As Bass wavered under a smashing volley to the head in the ninth, he shot a right so far below the waist line that the fans hooted steadily. The referee motioned that one more warning meant disqualification.

TONY NEARLY OUT

After wavering again in the tenth, Bass suddenly shot a left and right to Tony's chin that sent the New Yorker reeling into the ropes, badly hurt. Tony reeled through the remainder of the round, and was out on his feet with fists bursting on his chin, when the bell rang.

The eleventh was a mad session, with Canzoneri slugging toe to toe with his heavier hitting rival. Bass slashed Tony's body rosy in the twelfth, but Canzoneri nearly floored the slugger with a volley of lefts and rights to the head near the close.

Bass nearly finished Tony in the thirteenth, and a sharp right hook gashed Canzoneri's left eyelid. Tony's speed was waning, so he locked heads and slugged through the fourteenth on even terms with the Philadelphian.

Al Winkler, Philadelphia lightweight, bettered Bobby Burns of New York in an eight-round semi-final.

FRED NELSON, HOTEL KEEPER, LAID AT REST

Old-Timer Operated Tremont for Five Years; Connected With Balfour Hotel

Fred Nelson, old-time hotel man of this district, was laid at rest in the city cemetery here yesterday. He died at the Kootenay Lake General hospital Monday morning aged 57, following a week's illness in the hospital.

Mr. Nelson emigrated at the age of 17 from his native land, Sweden, Gottenburg being his birthplace.

As an immigrant he worked in the eastern United States, and in eastern Canada. He worked his way west, and lived for a time at Vancouver before he came to this district.

When the Balfour hotel was operating before the war, Mr. Nelson was actively associated with it. When it closed he came to Nelson and for a time worked in the shipyards here.

OPERATED TREMONT

In 1917 Mr. Nelson took over the management of the Tremont hotel, giving it up in 1922 to go to Ymir, where he operated a combined hotel and store. He was connected with the hotel until he came to Nelson to enter the hospital.

Mr. Nelson's funeral was held yesterday from the Standard undertaking parlors. Rev. W. C. Mawhinney of Trinity United church officiated. The pallbearers were V. Melin, C. Johnson, J. Gustafson, A. Sudergren, A. Johnson and J. Bremner.

Floral tributes paid included, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson, cross; by J. B. Bremner and J. Bremner, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dowling and A. Johnson, all of Ymir, wreaths; A. Coleen and V. Melin, wreaths; Gust Stenberg, C. Johnson and Miss M. Johnson, sprays.

John Bell President Fifteen Hundred Club

John Bell was elected president of the Nelson Fifteen Hundred club when that body, in recent annual meeting, elected its directors for the year. J. W. Holmes became vice-president, and J. A. Irving, George F. Motion and A. D. Emory were elected directors. John Teague was reelected secretary-treasurer.

The directorate for 1928 is composed of the same men as made up the 1927 board.

New Hair Mode from Broadway

"Everyone admires my hair, now that I'm doing it the new way that nearly every really smart girl I know is using," says Miss Agnes Traney, popular dancer, now appearing in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita." "My hair doesn't need shampooing more than once a month, now. My scalp feels better than it ever has felt. I have gotten rid of all my dandruff. My hair is much easier to arrange, and it stays that way. All I do to keep it like this is put a few dashes of Danderine on my brush every time I use it. It's wonderful how Danderine adds to the beauty of your hair, makes it look so silky and lustrous."

Danderine is not oily. It removes the oily film from each strand of hair and restores the natural color and lustre. It dissolves dandruff, cleanses and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragranced. The big bottles are just 35c at all drug stores. Beautiful, smooth, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear-up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascarets.

Western Rinks Are Treated Roughly in Winnipeg Bonspiel

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—Despite adverse weather conditions with the "bonspiel thaw" maintaining its steady grip on the ice surfaces, good progress in the Manitoba Curling association's 40th annual spiel today.

Many rinks continued to advance toward the jewelry stage, though some strong contenders were eliminated from the race today.

Rinks from the west suffered defeat in the ma'ority of cases in the afternoon. In the Hudson Bay Leavens of Vancouver suffered a 10-6 loss in the afternoon, while the Finlay collected another victory from the Dr. Jamieson rink of Winnipeg, 11-9, in the Walker competition. It was Finlay's second win of the day.

In the Birks McLeod of Saskatoon was eliminated by Trumpour, Winnipeg, 12-10, while Robertson, Kamsack, advanced in the Hudson Bay and lost out in the Walker to Manwaring of Birtle, 9-7. Craig of Foam Lake was knocked out of the Walker by Sinclair, Welwood, 13-12.

Chief Knew His Onions, Also His Eggs

By AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants.)

Ball players aren't "eating themselves out of the big leagues" as much as formerly, due probably to the system of the clubs of making the players sign checks for their grub on the road trips instead of giving them the cash.

John McGraw admits that he traded Hank Wilson to the Cubs because he figured Hank would eat himself out of the league in a couple of years, but Hack crossed him. Elmer Flick, old Philly outfielder, though, overate and got fat and had to quit the game.

In the old days players were given $2.50 or $3 per day for food, and the gormands would overeat, while the tightwads would starve themselves out of the game. A tightwad would start on a trip with 15 cents and end it $15 to the good from his meal money. He would buy a half dozen bananas or some doughnuts and coffee and get so weak he couldn't play.

Now the players are allowed $4 or $5 for food, and if they are short of their amount they'll order strawberries and cream to fill it out. Sometimes as jokes they sign each other's checks. They did that on "Chief" Meyers once, and "Chief" complained, "This isn't my check. I've had the same check for breakfast for ten years. Bacon and eggs."

The teams were:

Central—Gee Soot, Bush (2), Hadden, McQuaig and McDonald.

KIMBERLEY IS VICTOR OVER NELSON STARS

Take Exhibition Basketball Game 30-20 After Fast and Rough Battle

MILLER, COLE AND McVICAR ARE STARS

Cadets Down Wolves "B" in the Preliminary Match 27-17 Score

Kimberley basketeers downed the Nelson All-Stars 30-20 last night at the Central school before a good crowd in a fast and exciting exhibition match. Except in the first three minutes of the game when Kimberley scored and Nelson evened up with two penalty shots, the visitors led all the way through.

OPENED FAST

Kimberley started with a rush and Miller scored after only a few seconds. McVicar was fouled by Cole and Dupoise in rapid succession, scoring on both penalty shots to even things up. Cole put Kimberley in the lead when he put a nice one in from under the basket, followed shortly by another by Martelle. Nelson took the play for a few minutes, but were unlucky at the basket. Cole scored two more baskets in the next few minutes, while Carter put one in for Nelson from a rebound of a shot by McVicar, McVicar following up with another basket. Miller added another for Kimberley, to make it 12-6 for Kimberley at the end of 10 minutes.

FINE COMBINATION

Both teams opened fast and furious after the rest, Carter failing to score on a fine long shot. Cole and Miller added two more for Kimberley in rapid succession, Carter, fouled by Swanson, scoring on the penalty shot for Nelson. Directly after Miller and Cole put two more in for Kimberley in rapid succession. Kimberley was showing some very fine combination and effective checking, although a little inclined to be rough, while the fast pace set by the visitors was rapidly tiring out the Nelson boys. Jeffs came out of a scrimmage and scored, to make the score 20-9 when the whistle blew for half time.

SPEEDS UP

Both teams came back on the floor greatly refreshed and started fast, Nelson scoring first when Jeffs put in a neatly placed basket. Miller dropped one in for Kimberley in the next few minutes, after which Nelson stormed the visitors' basket, missing several times but finally scoring on a shot by McVicar, after Carter and Jeffs had both failed when unchecked.

As fast as the game had been up till then, both teams seemed to tear right into it after Nelson's basket and a few fouls resulted, Cole of the Kimberley squad getting hurt in a scrimmage. After several shots, Vance scored for Nelson on a penalty shot. Archibald, McVicar and Jeffs were showing up good and for a few minutes neither team had any advantage, both checking very effectively. Finally McVicar scored nicely when he was left unchecked, Cole dropping one in a few seconds later for Kimberley.

McVicar scored two more baskets before the end of the 10 minutes, bringing Nelson within two baskets of tieing with Kimberley.

TEAMS SLACKEN

Both teams slackened up a little in the final 10 minutes, although Kimberley had the edge throughout. The visitors held Nelson to no score in this period and added three baskets to their cause on two shots by Miller in rapid succession, followed after five or six minutes by one by Martelle. Dupois fouled Carter and referee E. C. Hunt allowed Carter two penalty shots. Carter missed both shots, McVicar touching the first shot in on the rebound, which, however, didn't count.

PRELIMINARY GAME

Wolves "B" and high school Cadets mixed in a preliminary match, the Cadets emerging victorious 27-17. The game was fairly fast, with the Cadets in the lead throughout. McLean netted 10 points for the Cadets in the first period but seemed to lose ground in the second, only getting one basket. Richardson was best for the Wolves in scoring, netting seven points, while Jeffs was good at guard, making beautiful long passes the length of the floor that resulted in more than one basket for the Wolves.

Ted McVicar refereed the first half of the preliminary game, while E. C Hunt handled the second half. Mr. Hunt also handled the main game and was fairly lenient with both teams.

The teams were:

MAIN GAME

Kimberley—Miller (14), Cole (12) Martelle(4), StDenis, Chisholm, Du poise, Swanson, Gill.

Nelson—McVicar (12), Jeffs (4) Carter (3), W. Vance (1), Archibald Fish, Wallach, Farenholtz, L. Vance.

Personal fouls—McVicar (2), Archbald, Carter, Miller, Dupoise (2), Swanson.

PRELIMINARIES

Wolves "B"—Richardson (7), McInnes (2), Wallace (4), Arcure (1), Jeffs (3), McLeod.

Cadets—Martin (8), Hoswill (6), MacLean (12), D. McQuaig (1), Saare, Conway, Murraro, Stewart.

OLYMPICS GET START TODAY

Canada Draws Bye in Hockey Contests; France's Objection Is Rejected

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 10. — The 1928 olympics get under way tomorrow—opening day of the winter sports competition. Due ceremony will mark the inauguration of international athletic rivalry with a winter sports parade as the principal pre-competitive feature.

On the eve of actual competition the Scandinavian countries ruled favorites to capture a majority of the laurels. In some events, however, they were expected to meet with stiff competition from other countries, particularly Canada and the United States.

Canada was an overwhelming favorite to retain the laurels in 1928 in hockey. The Dominion representatives, the Toronto Grads, are rated so high that they have the unprecedented honor of being chosen arbitrarily for the finals.

The executive commission of the olympic committee cleared one dispute surrounding the hockey event today when, in effect, they ruled out the French protest against the makeup of Britain's team. The French had charged that two Canadians were members of the British aggregation.

EVEN CHANCE

The United States is being given an even chance to win in several of the winter sports events. Andres Haugen, former national champion, Rolf Monsen and Charles Proctor, present a formidable American front in the ski-jumping competition. Both Canada and the United States have crack entries in the speed skating events.

"We want a principle established, this is not a matter of spite," Frantz Reichel, general secretary of the French committee which lodged the hockey protest, told the Associated Press today. "We had the same trouble at Chamonix in 1924, but France then, as the organizing nation, could not raise the question. There are seven Canadians on the British hockey team, but we specifically object to two men just recently imported from Canada for olympic purposes."

Nelson and Trail Agree to Earlier Date Owing Other Attractions Wednesday

Nelson and Trail hockey teams came to an agreement yesterday whereby the first game of the West Kootenay playoff series will be on Tuesday night in Nelson instead of Wednesday as at first arranged. Owing to the Nelson Operatic society's first showing of "H.M.S. Pinafore" and to the Trainmen's ball on Wednesday, the hockey game was moved ahead so as not to conflict.

Both Trail and Nelson reached an agreement yesterday, Frank Willis of Trail and Harry Ferguson of Nelson representing the teams. The final playoff game will be on Friday, in Trail, as had been arranged.

SEPALLA LEADS IN DOG DERBY

Has 32-Minute Lead on St. Goddard in New England Contest

LACONIA, N.H., Feb. 10.—Leonhard Sepalla, veteran Alaskan musher, had a commanding lead over the rest of the field at the end of the first leg of the point to point race of the New England Sled Dog club tonight. His seven Siberian huskies loped into this city after a 57-mile north from North Conway with an advantage of 32 minutes and 30 seconds over the team of greyhounds driven by the youthful Emil St. Goddord, from The Pas, Man.

The Alaskan, who won the race a year ago, covered the distance in five hours and 19 minutes, while it took St. Goddard five hours 53 minutes and 30 seconds. Earl Brydges, another youngster from Manitoba, finished third in six hours nine minutes and 27 seconds.

Shorty Russick of The Pas finished fifth in 7:18:00. Mrs. E. P. Ricker Jr. of Portland Springs, Me., the only woman entrant, finished last, her time yas 7:50:55.

When two of his dogs developed lameness, Hi Mason of Tamworth withdrew.

Otto Kemmerich, a German professional swimming champion of Musum, has a sea lion as a training partner and pacemaker. He expects to make another attempt to swim the English channel with the beast as a possible strong arm bodyguard. His previous attempt to swim the channel in 1926 failed when a large fish attacked him.

Nelson First Adocates Site at Ferry Landing as Best in Every Way

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Re the promised bridge over the West Arm, at or near Nelson, and location of same:

We believe this bridge was promised our constituency, which is mostly contained in the city of Nelson, by the party in power, upon the election of Mayor McDonald as M.P.P.

Now we understand that the ideas of the people are divided as to the location of the promised bridge. The board of trade, some time ago, opened the matter of the location of the bridge to discussion, debate and straw vote, as there appear to be at least three locations in the minds of the citizens of Nelson. One we believe to be near the C.P.R. flats, one near the wharf and the other at or near the ferry site, where we shall contend it should go, if found to be feasible, as the place that will do the most good to the most people, and hereby offer some of our reasons for considering the ferry site to be the best location for the bridge.

SHOULD TRAVERSE NELSON

We have heard some talk of putting a road from Taghum around the North Shore, thereby cutting Nelson off the direct tourist route. If time was taken to look into this matter and make inquiries of older settled countries, cities and towns, it would invariably be found that these places worked in a manner so that the tourist routes led through the best parts of their city. Imagine the new transcontinental highway not passing through Nelson but going along the North Shore! Could a greater calamity than this befall Nelson?

TRAFFIC IS EASTWARD

Why do we want a bridge over the West Arm, at or near Nelson? Is it not so that the residents of Nelson and the visitors from the west may go on to the east, and that those of the subdivision on the North Shore and people from the east may more conveniently get into Nelson? We have a good bridge at Taghum over which to go west. This being the case, we find that a bridge at the ferry site would cause no hardship for any resident of Greater Nelson, for there are no better roads to be found than those leading out of Nelson at the present, and transportation can get east more quickly by these roads than by roads not yet built.

AFFECT ON FAIRVIEW NORTH SHORE

Now, what about the residents of Fairview and the North Shore? Those of the North Shore could no longer make use of the street car service, but would be compelled to walk at least a mile farther in most cases to get over to Nelson. New arrangements would have to be made for the children living on the North Shore who now attend the Hume school. And what of Fairview, which is the only logical place for Nelson to spread and build in future?

With a bridge at the C.P.R. flats, we would have to go from our north extremity, about three miles, to reach a point opposite on the North Shore. For years all paving and road building have led toward the ferry site, people have consequently come to look on it as the natural crossing place.

We must expect an ever increasing tourist traffic to Nelson, which it must be admitted, is a beautiful little city, with a tourist park seldom equalled anywhere, and Lakeside park, where all like to spend the warm summer days. What better way can we advertise Nelson than by having visitors come through, Baker or Vernon street, past the hospital, nurses' home, Tourist park, down Nelson avenue to Lakeside park, and then, if they wish, on across a fine bridge to sightsee along the North Shore?

QUESTION OF ECONOMY

Now, what about economy? Some say a man would have to be kept to open the swinging bridge. Very well, grant that we do, and suppose we pay him $2000 per year. Some think it possible to build a bridge west of the wharf, high enough to permit boats to pass under. We should like to know just how high the farthest out support of such a bridge would be. We are convinced that it would be a very expensive bridge, but we will not dwell on the cost. A road would have to be built along the North shore to connect with the one at the ferry site. Such a road would have to be built through some good ranches and homes, which places will be sought after by persons desiring a quiet and retired home. This road, we believe, will amount to $50,000 or more. Figure interest on this amount at 4 per cent, which would amount to $2000 a year. This sum would give the salary required to keep a man to attend to a swinging bridge at the ferry site.

In conclusion, we will say that we honestly believe that for the good of Nelson, now and in the future as regards convenience, cost and taxes, there is no place so well suited for the proposed bridge as the ferry site.

START CANVASS FOR THE NEW ST. SAVIOUR'S

Citizens at Large Won't Be Asked to Assist, but May Volunteer Subscriptions

AMOUNTS PAYABLE OVER THREE YEARS

Bishop to Confer With Congregation Wednesday; Architect Is Summoned to Aid

Setting for itself an objective of $32,000, or $1000 or so over the figure reported by the church committee to St. Saviour's congregation as necessary, the canvassing committee has outlined its work, apportioned it, and actually begun the work of obtaining subscriptions for the building and furnishing of a new St. Saviour's church, to replace that destroyed by fire and to also realize the full plans for a church, adapted to diocesan purposes.

Solicitation of subscriptions will be made only of those to whom St. Saviour's congregation would in the ordinary way feel at liberty to appeal for aid in parish matters, it being decided not to take advantage of offers of friends outside the Anglican communion to canvass members of the public.

VOLUNTARY SUBSCRIPTION LIST

On the other hand, there being no reason whatever to doubt the sincerity of the many offers of financial and other kinds of help from citizens to whom the congregation would not feel at liberty to appeal, it has been decided to afford full opportunity for voluntary subscriptions to be made, and for this purpose a subscription list has been left in the office of the Robertson Realty company, for the convenience of friends desiring to assist the congregation in this way.

Subscription forms printed, and now in use by the canvassing committee, make possible the extension of payments over a period of three years.

Rt. Rev. A. J. Doull, D.D., bishop of Kootenay, who announced some years ago his intention to seek to be enthroned in a cathedral at Nelson whenever one should be provided, has written to the rector, Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, in a most sympathetic strain, and he will confer with the congregation or its representatives next Wednesday, the congregation having made its decision to build on the full plans "subject to his approval."

BISHOP TO MAKE VIEWS KNOWN

Until the bishop is actually here, it will not be known how closely the plans hitherto thought ideal for St. Saviour's purposes will correspond with the ideal held by the bishop, or whether slight modifications would bring them within his approval.

The rector is endeavoring to secure the presence here at the time of the bishop's visit, of Mr. Curtis, the Vancouver architect, who drew the plans for the chancel some 15 years or so ago, in keeping with the original church as it then existed. This will make available expert service in the discussion of possible alterations or improvements.

Bishop Doull is now in the East Kootenay, having reached Golden Thursday, and proposing to come down through the Windermere valley to the Crow. He will arrive in Nelson by the Crow boat Wednesday night, and the conference will begin on his arrival.

TRAIL SCENE OF DEANERY SESSION

Rural Deanery of Nelson Has Two-Day Sitting; Discussions Interesting

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 10.—Attended by clergy representing 10 of the 12 parishes within its boundaries, the Anglican rural deanery of Nelson held a very interesting and instructive two-day session at St. Andrew's church here, Tuesday and Wednesday, under the chairmanship of Rev. N. D. B. Larmonth, rural dean.

Preceded by the celebration of holy communion at 8 o'clock, the deanery went into a purely business session Tuesday morning. In the afternoon Rev. J. Silverwood presented a paper on the "Spirit of the Age," which opened an interesting discussion.

All attended the opening service of East Trail mission, conducted by the vicar, Rev. W. S. Beames, with Ven. Archdeacon F. H. Graham of St. Saviour's, Nelson, performing the dedicatory ceremony in the evening.

Rev. D. F. Cowie of the Church of the Redeemer, Nelson, opened a discussion on certain passages in the Greek testament under study by the deanery, Wednesday morning. Rev. W. S. Beames presented a paper, "Notes of the Holy Spirit," and Rev. L. J. Thompson of the Upper Arrow Lakes district, gave a paper on the resurrection. In the afternoon Rev. C. Harvey of Procter conducted the "quiet hour."

Those attending left for their respective parishes Thursday. Luncheon and tea were served on both days by various members of the women's auxiliary.

Among outside clergy attending were Rev. D. S. Catchpole, Bonnington; Rev. J. S. Mahood, Queens Bay; Rev. T. A. B. Stoddard, New Denver; and Rev. C. Reid, Kaslo.

LIBERALS WIN TORY SEAT IN LANCASHIRE

LANCASTER, Eng., Feb. 10.—The Liberals attribute their victory in the by-election in the Lancaster division of Lancashire yesterday when R. P. Tomlinson, Liberal, captured the seat from the Conservatives in a three-cornered contest, largely to the bitter attack made on Lloyd George by Lord Ashton, a former Liberal member.

Montrealer Guilty and Sentenced to Hang

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Fred Trewing was found guilty of the murder of William Cowie, in the court of King's bench today, and sentenced to hang on May 11, by Mr. Justice Wilson. The jury in its verdict recommended mercy. Trewing shot Cowie in a law office building over a debt of $1, on April 16, 1927. Both were employed in the building.

AGGRESSIVE WARFARE

QUOTATIONS ARE DOWN, NEW YORK

General Motors Close Is Unchanged; United Cigar Soars; Atlantic Refining Rallies

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Erratic fluctuations in today's stock market reflected the mixed character of the day's news developments. Final quotations were generally lower.

General Motors dividend action was also fairly well discounted, and the stock closed practically unchanged at 138.

United Cigar Stores crossed 34 to a new peak on buying influenced by the announcement that George Whelan had accepted the presidency of the Tobacco Products corporation to work out a plan to dissolve that corporation and divide the assets among stockholders. Tobacco Products issues also were under accumulation, but profit taking cut down the early gains. About 80 per cent of United Cigar Stores common is owned by Tobacco Products.

Atlantic Refining rallied six points to 103 on the declaration of the regular dividend, previously reported in danger. Most of the other oils lost ground in reflection of poor trade conditions. Rubber was heavy.

A break of five points in Deleware & Hudson was one of the few features in the railroad group.

Total stock sales, 2,220,400 shares.

NEWFOUNDLAND TO HAVE BIG SMELTER

Holt, Gundy Interests May Enter Field on Behalf of Rothmeres

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—The Toronto Star says today:

"The Holt, Gundy interests, whose operations embrace so many industries, are now reported to be entering the field of base metal mining.

"This time the scene of their operations is said to be the Buchan mines area of Newfoundland, which for several years has been under development by the American Smelting & Refining company. The area contains one of the world's greatest ore deposits.

"The Newfoundland properties in question are situated in the Rothermere timber limits. American Smelting have 50 per cent of the mineral rights, the Rothermere interests retaining the other 50 per cent. It is now stated that the Holt Gundy interests are acting in financial capacity for the Rothermeres."

The Star concludes as follows:

"It looks as though there is the making of one of the biggest base metal developments in America, comparable to those in the districts of Sudbury, northern Manitoba and Trail, B.C."

WRIGHT HARGRAVES MAKES AN ADVANCE

Teck Down Then Up; Pend Oreille Strong; Premier Off at Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Points of resistance on the Standard Mining exchange today were very scattered, by far the greater part of the issue participating in a decline. The volume of sales amounted to 1,441,752 shares.

It was expected that Hollinger would drop abruptly when the news of the fire became general, but shareholders evidently decided to wait definite reports of the amount of damage done, and only 4005 shares were liquidated during the day. Closing transactions were at $17, a decline of 75c.

Wright Hargreaves closed at $4.50, 35c up for the day. Teck Hughes moved down to $8.10, but later rallied to $8.35, off 15c. Lake Shore was the weakest stock on the board with an abrupt decline of $1.65 to $22.

Noranda continued to recover and made a gain of 65c to $19.05. Pend Oreille was outstanding in strength, soaring to $12 and closing at $11.90, an advance of $1.

Premier was 7c lower, at $2.65.

International Nickel jumped $1 to $93.50 and Sudbury Mines was 4¾c weaker at 28c. Treadwell Yukon lost $1.75, at $26.25, and Sudbury Basin 30c, to $14. Sherritt-Gordon fell rapidly to $6.85 and finished at $6.95, a decline of 95c. Central Manitoba fell back to $1.59.

BLASPHEMOUS LIBEL BILL IS UP AT OTTAWA

Question by Hon. Mr. Bennett Leads to Grant for Further Debate

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—A slight flurry swept the house this evening when J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Center, moved the second reading of his bill to amend the criminal code with regard to blasphemous libels. The proprietary of reading in the house of commons an article, the writer of which had been convicted on blasphemous libel, was questioned by Hon. R. B. Bennett, opposition leader, and the decision was invoked in order to allow the discussion to continue. The motion for second reading was declared lost, after the speaker had called for the "ayes" and "nays."

Speaking to his motion, Mr. Woodsworth declared that the statute governing blasphemous libels had been used very rarely in England and only once in Canada. He outlined the case of E. B. Sterry of Toronto, who had been charged with blasphemous libel in an article entitled "The Jewish God." The trial judge had made a statement declaring that "When a man begins to express opinions in a way that hurts others then he should be curbed, whether these opinions are right or wrong." That, contended Mr. Woodsworth, was going too far.

There was, said Mr. Woodsworth, no definition of blasphemy. The religious beliefs of one group were undoubtedly blasphemous in the eyes of other groups. It was not necessary to have such a law on the statute books. It stood as a menace to free expression of opinion.

SPEAKER INTERFERES

T. W. Bird, Progressive, Nelson, arose and was on the point of reading the article complained of when Mr. Bennett objected.

An appeal was made to the speaker, who asked Mr. Bird to let him have the article, when he would then be in a position to pronounce upon it.

Mr. Speaker ruled that parliament was the center of free speech and free thought; and he could not prevent members from expressing their views if they did so honestly and in decent language.

Mr. Bird declared that he had had no intention of reading the article, but merely wished to refer to it. The incident passed over, and the house turned to other business.
