Two Die in Chicago Gang Battle; Thousands in Peril

GANGLAND OF CHICAGO STAGES ASSASSINATION

Tony Lombardo, Head of Sicilian Union, and His Body-Guard Riddled

THOUSANDS DODGE FUSILADE OF SHOTS

Gain Clothes Man Collars One of Assassins; Seven Machine-Gun Squads Out

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Tony Lombardo, president of the Union Siciliano, and reputed to be one of Chicago gangland's "best shots", was assassinated here today at one of the busiest corners in the city.

BATTLE ON THEIR BACKS

Lombardo met death by the guns of three men, who also shot down his bodyguard, Joe Ferrara. Both Lombardo and Ferrara battled back as they lay bleeding on the sidewalk, while thousands were endangered by the fusilade of shots.

One of the assailants, Frank Krejio, was arrested, unwounded, by Maurice Marcusson, a policeman out of uniform and off duty, who was walking across the street in the press of the rush hour crowd. He ran through the heavy traffic and collared his prisoner while the remainder fled.

The busy street was thrown into wild confusion as mounted policemen, drawing their guns, went galloping toward the scene, while bystanders swerved into areaways, alleys and into the paths of cars in search of refuge.

BOLDS CROWD AT BAY

When other policemen, reinforced by seven detective bureau squads with machine guns, arrived on the scene, they found Marcusson standing over his prisoner and the two wounded men, holding a curious crowd at bay with his pistol. Bystanders were unable up to that time to know but that the policeman was another gangster.

Godfrey and Graham Will Finally Hop Off from Saskatchewan River Today

EDMONTON, Sept. 7.—Major A. E. Godfrey and Sergeant Major Graham, who are making a transwest flight, are still in Edmonton tonight with their big seaplane, and will not resume their journey to the Pacific coast till Saturday morning.

The aviators had intended to hop off at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Lake Wabamum, 40 miles west of Edmonton, where they intended to remain till Saturday morning before continuing. However, it was decided to postpone the flight until Saturday morning.

Early tomorrow, if weather conditions are favorable, the plane will hop off from the Saskatchewan river for Lake Wabamum, where a stop of an hour will be made to load up with gasoline, when the flight to Vancouver will be resumed. Major Godfrey explained that it would be impossible to take off from the river here with its full load of gasoline and the mechanic.

Malkin Announces His Candidacy for Mayor of Greater Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—W. H. Malkin, pioneer business man of Vancouver, announced last night he would be a candidate for mayor of Greater Vancouver at the October elections. It is expected Mr. Malkin will head a Citizen's Progressive ticket with aldermanic candidates in all 12 wards.

Mayor L. D. Taylor is the only other candidate in the field at the present time.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—According to an announcement made today by officials the aquatic committee will hold two of the Canadian National exhibition, three-mile swims tomorrow. This will be in the nature of "consolation races"; one event for the contestants who were awarded money, and the other for those who competed, but received no money, will be run.

The only entries for the first event are George Young, Toronto, Norman Ross, Chicago, and William Erickson.

Police Captain's House Bomber Following Raid; Baby Buried in Plaster

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The home of Police Captain Luke Garrick was bombed early today, his wife, who is ill, being thrown from the bed. Their seven-months'-old grand-daughter was buried under eight inches of plaster as she lay in her crib. The damage was approximately $10,000.

Captain Garrick, a few hours earlier, had led a raid on the Minerva Athletic club, where 64 men were arrested for gambling.

COMMUNITY IS CHARGED AGAIN, AT GRAND FORKS

In Defiance of Committee and of Police, Car Was Shipped; Trail Today

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Sept. 7.—Information was laid today by E. F. Laws, representing the interior tree fruit and vegetable committee of direction, against the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Limited, for shipping a carload of fruit without a licence and after having been warned not to do so. The case will be heard before Magistrate J. A. McCallum Saturday.

This is the car of fruit that was ordered stopped last Friday by Inspector W. R. Dunwoody of the provincial police, Nelson, who was acting on special instructions from the attorney-general. The Doukhobors' organization disregarded the order and rolled the car.

This will be a second offence, as they have been previously found guilty of a similar offence at Trail.

SNOW, RAIN, SLEET STOPS HARVESTING

Heavy Snow Lethbridge Section and Fine Snow, Sleet Edmonton Area; Cold Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.— Throughout many districts of western Canada, harvest operations which had been making remarkably fast progress during the past week, were broke to a stop today by a combination of rain, snow and sleet, in other districts, threatening weather with thermometers taking a sharp drop, developed early in the afternoon.

In the Lethbridge section a heavy snow was reported, while in Edmonton and vicinity there was rain accompanied by fine snow and sleet. There was three inches of snow at Vimy, Alta. Tonight Calgary reported overcast conditions and signs of colder weather. Some sections of Saskatchewan had rain during the morning and a heavy mist during the afternoon. Saskatchewan was in the wet belt, but at Regina there was no rain but an overcast sky and a lowering temperature.

No rain was reported in Manitoba districts but it was forecast for Saturday and there was a sharp drop in temperature during the afternoon, after a morning of warm sunshine and ideal harvest weather.

Blazing Tar Is Hurled Over San Francisco Bay; Three Workers Perish

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Three workers were believed to have perished under a sheet of blazing hot tar spread over a portion of San Francisco bay by an explosion. Three others were injured, and the woodwork of a $2,000,000 pier under construction, was badly damaged.

The explosion occurred while a crew of about 20 men was applying the heated tar to the pier. A blow torch ignited a cauldron of tar, and the ensuing blast threw the fiery tar in every direction.

Parents of Youth Who Fired at Mussolini Given Thirty Years

ROME, Sept. 7.—Mammalo Zamboni and his wife, Virginia Tabaroni, today were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment for complicity in the attack on Premier Mussolini on October 31, 1926, at Bologna by their son Anteo Zamboni. Ludovico Zamboni, another son, was acquitted on the ground of insufficient evidence.

Anteo Zamboni was lynched by a crowd, after firing a shot at the premier which grazed a decoration on his breast.

TRADES UNIONS BURY SCHEME OF ONE BIG UNION

By Vote Seven to One It Is Rejected, Along With Idea of Internationale

SAME VOTE SHELVES UNITING WITH RUSSIA

Thomas Says Communists Will Face Labor Candidates in Next Election

SWANSEA, Wales, Sept. 7.—A resolution which called on the general council of the trades union congress to summon a world conference of unions to discuss ways and means of uniting the trades union movement under one trade union within each country, and internationally under an international, was overwhelmingly defeated by the trades union congress today.

On a card vote, 2,877,000 votes were registered in opposition to the resolution and 439,000 in favor of it. The resolution also would have asked the general council to work for recognition of the Anglo-Russian joint advisory council.

RUSSIANS LIED

On behalf of the council, J. H. Thomas, secretary of the railwaymen's union, said that a year ago they discontinued relations with Russia because the Russians not only misrepresented by "lied about the general council". Their disruptive tactics had not stopped, he declared, and at the next general election all Labor party candidates would face opposition from Communists where ever it was possible for the Communists to put a candidate in the field.

"We agree to every effort to resume diplomatic relations," said Mr. Thomas, "but while Russia continues to try to disrupt our movement, we are not grovelling to her."

Uproar ensued when John Horner, South Wales delegate, asserted the congress was determined on a united front, "not with the workers of the world, but with British capitalists against the workers."

VOTE BY CLOSURE

Closure was moved, and there was considerable excitement.

The congress finally carried a resolution that the constitution of the congress, grouping of unions, system and method of electing the general council, he reviewed in the light experiences gained and changes which had occurred, particularly the tendency to greater consolidation in the movement.

THOUSANDS AT WINNIPEG CHEER OLYMPIC HEROES

Williams Is Presented With a Bronze Figure of Runner and a Silver Cup

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Western bearers of the maple leaf colors at the 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam returned to Winnipeg today, and were given one of the most heartiest welcomes ever accorded a home-coming victor.

Thousands were at the railway station to greet the boys; hundreds attended a civic luncheon, and in the afternoon 6000 persons gathered at Polo Park, attending the fall meet of the Winnipeg Jockey club, added their voices to the welcome.

Percy Williams, Canada's Olympic running star, whose home is in Vancouver, was the center of interest, but the reception extended to the others, Dorval Pilling and Stan Glover and Jimmy Ball, and Brant Little of Winnipeg was none the less enthusiastically received.

ALL RECEIVE MEMENTOES

Following the reception at the station where Premier John Bracken, Mayor MacLean and others prominent in civic life were present, as well as representatives of various sporting organizations, the western boys were taken to Assiniboine Park, where they were guests of the city at luncheon, and each received a presentation.

A bronze statue, showing a runner at the mark, was then presented to Percy, while at Polo Park where Mrs. Williams, his mother, decorated the winner of the feature race, the lad from the coast was given a silver cup, suitably inscribed as a commemoration of his brilliant feat at Amsterdam and his welcome to Winnipeg.

Plane Stunting to Cure Boy's Deafness Kills Three Persons

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 7.—In an effort to cure a small boy of the recent arrest at Nelson of the loop stunt in his plane at 2000 feet altitude today. The plane crashed and three people are dead. Potholm took with him the deaf boy, Luke Brotta, aged six, and Abraham Mazer, 21.

The theory that stunt flying at high altitude might cure deafness induced relatives of the little boy to consent to the experiment. The older youth went along for the adventure.

Hundreds of people witnessed the tragedy.

CREW OF BRITISH SUB LOST BALTIC BURIED HONORS

Casualties of Baltic Expedition Against Soviet; Latter Shows Courtesy

PORTSMOUTH, England, Sept. 7.—With full naval ceremony the bodies of 41 officers and men of the submarine L-55, which was sunk by the Russians in the Baltic June, 1919, were buried in the naval cemetery here today.

Every branch of the service, including several representatives of foreign powers, followed the coffins as they were borne through streets lined with thousands of spectators.

The bodies were brought here Wednesday night on the cruiser Champion. The vessel received them at Reval, Esthonia, to which port they were transported from Russian waters on a merchantman.

PRAISES TREATMENT

Captain Dearing of the British merchant steamer Trurd, which called at Kronstadt, Russia, for the bodies, was lavish in his praise of the Soviet authorities toward his mission.

"If the dead of the L-55 had been their own people, the Russian authorities could not have paid them more honor and respect," he said. "They showed every possible courtesy to us."

Ottawa Banker's Companion Here in Coast Court

VANCOUVER, Sept. 7.—An echo of ther ecent arrest at Nelson of Gerald D. Bennett, wanted at Ottawa for the alleged theft of $37,000, from the bank where he was employed, was heard in court here today when Arthur Musclow was charged by his wife with assault.

Musclow explained that he had chastized his wife after he had found that she had been residing in a cottage near Nelson with Bennett.

Musclow was allowed his liberty on being bound over to keep the peace.

ALASKA FISHERS RUSH TOWARD THE ALEUTIANS

Crowded Tent City Springs Up at Dutch Harbor for Epochal Herring Run

FISHERMEN MAKING HUNDREDS A DAY

As Many Live Fish Held Nets as Packed; Pack May Be Worth $1,000,000

SEWARD, Alaska, Sept. 7.—A stampede worthy of the gold rush days was reported here today—but not for gold.

An unprecedented run of herring at Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutian Islands, was reported drawing fishermen from as far east as Kodiak and as far north as Bristol Bay. Coming in every kind of boat, men and women have literally swamped the little Unalaska island village, said men aboard the Redondo, of the Alaska Steamship company, which arrived here today with 800 barrels of fish.

Almost overnight, Dutch Harbor has been transformed from an unfrequented shelter for ships to a crowded city of tents, men on the steamship declared. An old dance hall was turned into an improvised bunkhouse to quarter those who otherwise would have been shelterless.

ALREADY 15,000 BARRELS

Reports of fishermen making hundreds of dollars daily started the rush. More than 15,000 barrels were reported to have been packed already, while an equal amount of live fish were held in nets until they could be barrelled. Enthusiasts predicted that perhaps more than $1,000,000, would have been more than 1,000,000, would have been caught by the end of the month.

The Alaska Steamship company has sent vessels on two special trips with supplies for the stampeding fishermen.

B. C. Airways Board Asks Probe Findings; Believe Plane Best

VICTORIA, Sept. 7. — Resolutions welcoming a public inquiry into the tragedy of the Victoria passenger plane in which seven persons lost their lives, and also asking for the findings of the secret inquiry board held in Victoria last Saturday before placing an order for a new machine, were passed at a meeting of the British Columbia Airways today.

Faith was expressed in the type of machine used, in a resolution which said that the directors were of the opinion that it was the best procurable for the service.

Condolence with the relatives of the seven occupants of the plane is expressed in a letter sent out by the president of the company.

OLYMPIC GAMES TOO STRENUOUS FOR FAIR SEX

Dr. Lamb, Canadian Team Manager, Backed by Committee, Feels This

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.— Supporting the stand taken at the recent international conference in Amsterdam. Dr. A. S. Lamb, director of physical education at McGill university, manager of the Canadian Olympic team, reiterated in a newspaper interview here that women are unfit for athletic competition as keen as that seen in the Olympic games.

Dr. Lamb is backed by practically every member of the Canadian Olympic committee, which is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the Canadian girls won the best aggregate, outpointing even the strong United States squad.

"Physically and mentally, women are unsuited for meets of this nature," Dr. Lamb said. "They are too high strung, and no matter what their physical condition may be, they are bound to compete with too much at stake. Dire results often follow.

"Whether these injuries are permanent or not, we do not know. Women have not been in athletics long enough for sufficient investgations to be made. But it seems evident that to some extent, they must be."

Scrap Anglo-Saxon Naval Pact Geneva

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Daily Herald Labor newspaper, says that the British government has decided to scrap the new Anglo-French naval agreement in order to allay suspicions which have been aroused in the United States. Its diplomatic correspondent writes that this move will be announced after a final conversation between Premier Baldwin and Lord Cushendun, now at Geneva, during the coming week-end.

The failure of Mr. Kellogg to visit London, acting, it is understood, on express orders of President Coolidge, says the Herald, has awakened the foreign office and admiralty to the sensitiveness of American public opinion on this subject.

DOUKHOBOR BODY PAYS TEN DAYS OR LEVY FOLLOW

Verigin and Shukin Are Removed from Court on Refusing Obey Magistrate

MAGISTRATE BINNS FIND GUILT COMPLETELY CLEAR

Committee of Direction Made Efforts to Secure Compliance; Law Defied

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 7.—Fine of $500 and costs amounting to $12.90 to be paid within 10 days and if not then paid to be levied for against goods and chattels, was handed down against the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Brilliant, by Stipendiary Magistrate Noble Binns here today for violation of the Produce Marketing act, in not taking out a shippers' licence. The case was heard here two weeks ago, a conviction being registered and sentence was reserved by the magistrate until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

LEADERS ARE REMOVED

Permission was asked by P. Ney to interpret remarks which Peter Verigen, Doukhobor leader in Canada, wished to point out to Magistrate Binns. This was granted, and a discussion ensued as to legal phases of the case and of the Marketing act, which, Magistrate Binns pointed out, should have been brought out at the hearing.

J. P. Shukin, who is in charge of the organization in British Columbia under Mr. Verigen, then became interpreter for Mr. Verigen, continuing his explanation, although instructed by the magistrate not to do so.

Magistrate Binns then found it necessary to order Acting Chief of Police J. Mitchell to have both leaders removed from the court.

REVIEWS EVIDENCE

Magistrate Binns' pronouncement was:

"I promised today to hand down the penalyt in this case. What are the facts of the case? On July 17, according to the sworn testimony of E. F. Laws, Mr. Laws inspected 56 cases of cherries shipped to the Royal Fruit company of Regina. These were shipped on July 17.

"On August 7 Mr. Laws went to Brilliant and saw Mr. Shukin and asked to see the books and papers as per section 10, subsection G of the Produce Marketing act. This Mr. Shukin refused to do, and acted in a very high-handed manner in refusing to show anything or to give any information.

"Mr. Laws showed Mr. Shukin his authority under section 10, subsection G, which was in itself an infraction on the act on Shukin's part in refusing to recognize that authority.

"On August 7 Mr. Laws on behalf of the committee of direction delivered a letter to Mr. Shukin showing him that he was breaking the act and was therefore liable to a penalty of $10,000.

DEFIANT ATTITUDE

"On August 17 Mr. Laws received a letter from Mr. Shukin, signed 'Assistant President and General Manager', acknowledging Mr. Laws' letter of the 7th and submitting same was submitted to the president. Mr. Verigen, and taking a very defiant attitude, that he did not wish to be bothered with any more letters, and also informing Mr. Laws that they needed no trustee to handle their business.

"It seems to me that the attitude of you people has been such that you think because you are a large community you are above the law. It is not up to you to question the law, except to the courts as to the legality of any act passed by the legislature, and so long as it is on the statute book it is up to you as good citizens to obey it.

"The evidence goes to show that the committee of direction as represented by Mr. Laws did everything possible to get your people to comply with the law.

"I therefore have no hesitation in imposing the following fine: Five hundred dollars and costs, $12.20 and to be paid within 10 days, if not then to be laid against your goods and chattels to satisfy same in full."

VERIGEN TO REPORT TO POOLEY

Mr. Verigen, following the close of court, stated that the "indignity of being removed from the court rooms is so painful that I will only be able to carry on my duties with difficulty as president of the community, until the authorities decide whether Magistrate Binns was justified in his actions."

Mr. Verigen also claimed that his ejection from the court room was so precipitate that he was unable to gather belongings and stated that it was his intention of taking the matter up with the attorney-general of the province.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MABEL WALKER, a spoiled girl of today, goes into a tantrum when she learns that her fiance—

BRUCE BERLON cannot attend a masked ball at which she is to appear in a new costume. She petulantly informs her mother that she feels like canceling their engagement. Arrival of RUTH MOREHOUSE and MONA DARIEN, friends of Mabel, save the situation for the moment as the three examine their butterfly costumes.

JOHNNIE MERRILL, who accompanied Mona to the ball, protests at her being such so much with Dan MacIntyre, who figured so much in two divorce suits. Mona laughs at him and then dances with an attractive stranger dressed as a Spaniard. He kisses her, believing she is Mabel, then apologizes as Mona removes her mask.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

To learn that the only kiss which had ever thrilled her belonged to another girl was misfortune enough. But to suspect the other girl of being incapable of appreciating said kiss was absolutely unbearable.

For a moment Mona felt dizzy. Almost ill. Then a belated sense of humor rescued her.

"Don't get upset about it. Your secret shall perish with me."

The stranger removed his mask, disclosing keen, gray eyes.

"I'm not worried about that," he said, gallantly. "You see I thought you were the girl I am going to marry!"

"Oh," Mona gasped, "you're Bruce!"

He nodded, smiling.

"But how did you get here? Mabel was broken-hearted about your telegram."

"I came by airplane," he explained. "I knew she'd be disappointed."

With the memory of the kiss between them, their gaze fell.

Mona said, "Well, I'd better be taking you back to her."

He said, "I hope you'll forgive me." Without warning tears rushed into the girls eyes, but she answered flippantly, "What's a kiss to a butterfly?"

A moment later she was leading him through the ballroom, crying "Here's something for you, Mabel."

Hearing Mabel's shrill "Why Bruce Berlon, where did you come from?"

It was ridiculous the way Mona's silly heart behaved.

Threatening to choke her when Mabel, with an important, possessive manner, introduced Bruce as her property. But wasn't he? At this hour tomorrow he would be Mabel's husband.

How Mabel would rave if she knew what he had just confessed to her friend!

"You've never kssed me lke that before * * *"

"Don't be a complete idiot," Mona admonished herself, sternly, "You've been kissed before. And this wasn't any different from any of them."

Yet every motion the man made seemed achingly familiar to her. Even the inflections of his quiet voice and the twinkle in his gray green eyes roused the feeling of a commonly shared past.

How could a girl like Mabel, selfish to the core and as cold as a fish, bring a man like that to her feet? That he was at her feet was evident. He looked at her adoringly.

Dancing with Dan, responding half-consciously to his bantering love-making, Mona let her eyes follow the other couple.

If only she had never discovered how "sweet" Bruce could be * * * Suddenly his gaze met hers. His smile was clear and friendly with no hint of a secret understanding.

It was evident they were to begin again as strangers * * *

After all, poor Johnnie was the one who suffered. Mona was in high spirits until they reentered his car. But when Johnne attempted to put an insistent arm about her, she snapped "Oh, leave me alone!"

"Why, what's the matter?"

"I do not choose to be pawed."

"And I don't care for you when you are trying to be smart"

"Alt right, then check!"

The ride was finished in frigid silence. But when they arrived at Mona's home, the boy whispered, hopefully, "Mona, please?"

"You take entirely too much for granted," Mona answered emphatically "Because I let you kiss me once in a weak-minded moment is no sign you can do it whenever you happen to have the inclination."

"But I love you, Mona."

"I've heard that before," the girl retorted cruelly. "And tonight, it doesn't seem to make any impression."

She swept up the steps and opened the door. What made her treat Johnnie like that? When she really liked him.

Now she would have to call him on the telephone and "explain". Their friendship had been one long series of outbursts and explanations.

Mona paused in the living room. Teddy, the parrot, was sleeping like a baby. Better not start him screeching.

She switched off the lights, but as she passed her father's door she saw the lamp burning beside his bed, which was undisturbed.

Joshua Darien was seldom at home. Unapproachable and taciturn on the occasions when he did honor the huge old house with his presence. No wonder her mother had written in her little red diary. "This place is stifling me. Sometimes I think I can't go on"

But Mona had known before she found that. She had heard the doctor say, "She didn't want to get well. It wasn't the attack of pneumonia that killed her."

Child though she was, Mona was too intilligent not to understand.

She did not blame her mother for losing every incentive to continue life with Joshua Darien. But in her fierce young heart she held her father responsible.

It was characteristic of the girl that she kept no photograph of her mother in the house she had hated.

"I need no picture to remember mother," Mona whispered, staring with bright, hard gaze at the distant stars. She liked to think of her mother as released. Free! Her mother was in the breeze which fanned the curtains while Mona slept. In the gentle dark which pressed against her closing lids. In the sun which wakened her to new adventures * * *

Lying in bed, rehearsing the events of the evening Mona found herself reliving the moment of Bruce's kiss.

She tried to analyze it. Surely the most effective method for destroying any memory. But the incident remained elusively fascinating * * * as she closed her eyes she was thinking mockingly. "He's probably lying awake mooning about Mabel."

Mabel, who this same day would become his wife. But who had never kissed him as Mona had. Who never would. Stupid Bruce not to realize this before it was too late * * *

Awaking at 11, Mona smiled at her fancies of the night before. She lay happily, listening to the sparrows on the roof. It was early May Clear, brilliant weather.

The wedding was to be at 4 o'clock A church wedding, with Mona and Ruth as bridesmaids.

What a stunnng bride Mabel would make! Her rich dark coloring and regular features gave her more claim to beauty than either of the other girls.

Ruth was a blond, but with a dark skin, and large mournful eyes.

At heart Mona preferred Mabel and her tantrums to Ruth, with her modest self-approving manner.

Ruth could be stubborn, too, albiet with no flicker of anger. Considering herself always right she felt no necessity for violence. Let the rest of the world rave and tear its hair!

Ruth would smile and turn another scam or nod, wisely, as if she might contribute something of priceless value if she wished. But why bother? Mabel was neither domestic nor artistic but Mona considered her more intilligent and enjoyed their clashes of opinion and rather heated arguments. Discussion with Ruth was impossible.

She sighed, realizing she was going to miss her friend. The newly married couple planned to go to Canada for their honeymoon. Mona could imagine Mabel in her langorous, seducive negligees—negligees so much more passionate than the girl herself—accepting Bruce's love—

Before she had finished breakfast, Mabel was telephoning.

"Do come over. They've sent the wrong kind of a cake. I ordered one with five tiers. They've only made it four. They would wouldn't they?"

"Compose yourself, darling! No one will know the difference."

"I'll know it," wailed Mabel, "Come over anyway. I want you to see the flowers."

Mona promised and a moment later Ruth was on the wire.

"Isn't Bruce wonderful, Mona? So attentive! Anyone can see he's madly in love * * *"

Mona stopped for Ruth. They found Mabel radiant. "Bruce has gone down to talk with the manager of the new advertising concern," she explained. "If they offer him enough, he's going to take it."

"Oh, darling, then you can live here"

"Yes, isn't it grand, Bruce hates to give up his position in Chicago of course. But except in a business way he hasn't any friends. I tell him there are just as many opportunities here."

Her cheeks were glowing, her eyes sparkling with excitement. Mona had never seen her so attractive.

Florists were busy decorating the house. Mabel's father was not wealthy, but the girls knew he would spare no expense for his only daughter's wedding.

Mabel had attended the most fashionable schools, she had spent a summer in Europe. It was on shipboard that she and Bruce had met, and again later in Chicago where Mabel was visiting. Lucky Mabel! Everything seemed to be coming her way!

Yet Mona could not think of her as married. Less than a month ago she had told her friends she did not intend to have children.

"No babies for me," she had asserted confidently. "I wouldn't go through that for any man."

"But Mabel," Ruth had said, shocked "When people are married * * *"

Mabel had laughed. Ruth was always protesting her innocence. Yet ever since they were 15 the three of them had dragged books from her father's library—ponderous technical volumes, with works they couldn't understand and illustrations which sent their hearts fluttering up into their throats * * *

Incongurously, Mona was thinking of this while the ceremony was being performed. Wondering if Bruce knew that Mabel had no intention of becoming a mother while she repeated the words which made her Bruce's wife. * * *

Mona cannot forget Bruce. Don't miss Monday's installment.

NEW TEACHING OF GEOGRAPHY

Its Place in Modern Education Shown by British Association

LONDON, Sept. 5.—More and more the British association annual meeting is becoming related to life as it is lived outside the professor's class-room or study. The provisional program for the meeting in Glasgow from September 5 to 12 reveales many subjects which are of vital interest to the national welfare.

Take the case of geography. In Scotland this subject is taught more on old-fashioned lines than in England. The universities in Scotland thought that it would be a good opportunity to have as president of the grographical section a man of the highest standing who had applied geography as an illuminating factor to his own special subject.

Therefore Professor J. L. Myres, author of that brilliant treatise, "The Dawn of History," has been elected to address the geographical section on "Ancient Geography in Modern Education". Later on there is to be a discussion on the teaching of geography in Scotland, and doubtless there will be suggestions as to how the subject can be applied to the study of races, commercial developments and trade.

There should be light thrown on an important phase of industry in the discussion between the economists and psychologists on "The Nature and Present Position of Skill in Industry." The conference of delegates of corresponding societies which will listen to Dr. Vaughan Cornish, on "The Preservation of Scenic Beauty in Town and Country", ought to secure ventilation of the urgent question of regional planning.

O. J. R. Howarth secretary of the association, has recently returned from South Africa, where he has been making arrangements for the holding of the 1929 meeting.

At the invitation of the South African association for the Advancement of Science, the association opens its parliament on July 22 that year in Cape Town and will also hold meetings in Johannesburg and Pretoria. Members will visit adjacent countries, including Rhodesia and Kenya Colony, which is likely to attract agriculturists and biologists.

The visit of he British scientists if being taken up with the greatest enthusiasm by their South African colleagues. The association has been asked to investigate the mysterious stone ruins in Zimbabwe in southern Rhodesia, discovered in 1868. This will mean survey and excavation by an expert. The age of the ruins is still in question. Some authorities assign to them great antiquity; others place them as not earlier than the fourteenth or fifteenth century, A.D.

NEW ASPHALT WILL BE USED HIGHWAY TRAIL TO ROSSLAND

Philip, Deputy Minister, Expected Go Over the Road With Ramsay

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 7.— An experiment will be made on the Rossland-Trail highway with a new asphaltic dressing which is being laid on certain areas of Trail's main thoroughfares at the present time.

On just which sections of the highway experiments will be made will not be known until P. Philip, deputy minister of public works, arrives. It is expected that Mr. Philip, in company with William Ramsay, district engineer for the department of public works, will go over the Rossland highway on Tuesday and that the decision will be made at that time.

It is believed that the experiment will be made on a short straight section of the road and also on one curve at least.

ADVENTURERS IN CANOE SUFFERED NO PRIVATION

Four Iowa Students Return From Successful Trip; Reindeer Meat Helped

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Under the leadership of John B. Fuller, party of four Iowa state university students, who for months have been exploring the far northern districts in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, returned from The Pas, Man., today.

They were in the best of health, and emphatically denied reports, broadcast some time ago from Lac du Brochet, a little Hudson's Bay post far north of The Pas, that they had been lost, or had suffered privation through lack of equipment to traverse the trails and streams of the northland.

Fuller and two of his companions, Peder C. Boddum and Gordon C. Armstrong, are returning to their homes in Iowa, while the fourth member of the party, Max Kane, will stay in the north, having accepted employment with a Dominion survey party.

During their three-months' journeying in the north country, Fuller and his companions met with only one mishap.

UPSET LOST MOVIE CAMERA

Starting north from The Pas on June 6, the students traveled via canoe and trail to Nueltin lake, just beyond the sixtieth parallel of latitude and while running the rapids their canoe capsized, and they lost their moving picture machine and some other equipment.

This was on August 6, when their supply was running low, but they encountered a herd of reindeer making the annual southward trek, and were able to slaughter a few of the animals and so replenished their larder. The herd of reindeer took eight days to pass, according to Fuller, and his companions obtained some excellent "still" pictures of the animals.

The object of the Fuller expedition was to explore hitherto unmapped areas of the north country, and to take pictures and obtain data on the wild life in the hinterland.

WOULD NOT WORK AS HARVESTERS AT FOUR DOLLARS

Party of 328 Miners Being Returned Old Country Organized Opposition to Wage

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—The following statement was issued today by the department of immigration and colonization regarding the return to the old country of a number of British harvesters:

"The 328 British harvesters who left Winnipeg on Wednesday night last to return to the old country are not returning because of lack of employment, but because they organized opposition to accept employment at $4. a day, and some of them were unfitted for harvest work. Their return was brought about in accordance with an understanding between the Canadian government and the British government reached in connection with the transfer to Canada recently of several thousand Britishers for harvest work.

NEVER UNDER RESTRAINT

"The division commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg refutes a statement made by a Labor member of the British parliament to the effect that these men were kept under restraint. When tickets were being arranged for return and on the evening they left Winnipeg it was necessary to keep the public from mixing with the returning men, and out of this necessary precaution has grown the story of the men being placed under guard. The division commissioner states that at no time since the harvesters have been in Canada have they been under restraint, and even their return to the British Isles is at their own solicitation."

FIFTY-TWO MINERS WAIT AT WINNIPEG TO BE SENT HOME

Complaint Some Is Temporary Jobs Offered; Majority Refused $4

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Fifty-two British harvester are at present waiting in immigration hall here, some of them for work and others waiting to be sent home to the old country. Interviewed the men did not complain of the treatment received at the hands of immigration officials.

"We have had fair treatment from railway officials except that we have not been able to get steady work as we understood we would get when we came out," stated one young miner from Newcastle, who had worked his way back to Winnipeg after seeking work, first at Sedalia, Alta., and later at Biggar, Sask. At the latter point he and a companion had been given temporary employment on railway construction. These boys declared they had been offered work for two or three days, and they had talked with many harvesters who had gone from one job to another and received only $1.50 to $2 a day.

"Of course, there are good and bad among farmers," they remarked, "but we seem to have been unfortunate in striking the bad. We are going to stay with it just the same, but want a guarantee of a decent wage before we go."

The large majority of the harvesters at the hall are awaiting to be sent home. It is stated that they have been offered $4 a day, with a possible increase to $5 should they prove satisfactory, which they have refused.

ARE COMMUNISTS BEHIND HARVESTER COMPLAINTS

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7. — Immigration and Dominion police in Winnipeg are investigating a report that an organized attempt on the part of communists to discredit the movement of harvesters from Great Britain exists. Police believe the originator of the movement is a communist from Motherwell, Scotland.

It Will Pay to Encourage Agriculture

Evidence of the necessity for encouraging the agricultural industry in British Columbia is given in the last annual report of the minister which draws attention to the fact that agricultural imports into the province once more increased over the previous year, the total being $21,059,361. Allowing for the value of exports from the province, this sum represented 25 per cent of the value of agricultural products consumed within the province that year. In other words, in spite of the unquestionable progress the province's agricultural industry has been making, for every $100 worth of farm products consumed by British Columbia's population $25 worth was brought in from other provinces or outside points.

Perhaps nothing could more pertinently illustrate the opportunity which exists in the agricultural industry of this province. British Columbia does not secure enough from its farms today to supply its population and the province is undergoing an industrial expansion which is steadily adding to its consuming population and increasing the demand for farm products. The lines in which opportunity exists are easily seen. The principal imports British Columbia made from other provinces were livestock $6,269,336; grains, $6,094,466; dairy products $3,364,884; and meats $1,140,234; and from foreign points, dairy products $1,058,506; vegetables (including canned) $675,765; fruits (including canned) $552,523; grains $700,167; and meats $456,410. The vast majority of these products could be raised within the province.

Despite the many attractions to farming in that province the agricultural wealth and revenue of British Columbia are less than that of any other province with the exception of the Maritimes, though the value of agricultural production has shown an increase since the end of the war. This was placed by the Dominion government in 1927 at $47,413,000, and the manner in which it is made up reveals the wide scope of agriculture in this province. Field crops accounted for $19,501,000; fruits and vegetables, $8,756,000; poultry and eggs $7,123,000; dairy products $5,826,000; farm animals, $5,578,000; honey $217,000; wool $143,000; fur farming $101,000; tobacco $87,000; and clover and grass seed $81,000.

Market Block in Denver Burning; Five Firemen Hurt

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 6.—Fire which started in the basement of the Loop market block in downtown Denver at 7:30 o'clock tonight was still out of control at 10 o'clock despite the fact that all available fire apparatus in the city was fighting the flames.

Five firemen had been injured by flying glass falling embers and smoke. Four of them were rushed to hospital apparently seriously injured.

At 10 o'clock it seemed probable that the first floor of the block-long building would cave in at any time. If this happens the fire damage will reach nearly $350,000.

I often hear it said that the women of today lack that interest in handiwork—in sewing, knitting, crocheting and creating with the hands—which was so large a part of our grandmother's life. Yet if you could see the many letters I receive from reader friends, asking advice or help concerning their needlework or home decorating, you would not believe this statement that the women of today are not interested in handiwork! One column reader has asked me how to crochet in two colors, so I will answer her first:

Filet Crochet in Two Colors—To work in alternate colors when crocheting is easy after you learn to keep your threads from twisting around each other. This can be done by placing each spool in its own receptacle, and having one on each side. When you have made the required number of stitches with one color, and wish to take up the next, simply use the second in making the last loop of the stitch in the first color, and work over the thread you do not use. This makes the first stitch all of one color. At the end, when turning, take both threads through the last loop of the stitch, then drop one color and work over it. Any pattern in filet crochet can be made with two colors and this enhances its beauty greatly.

Lace of any length and any width will answer the questions asked by Mrs. Q. and "Just Mary." It makes nice lace for underwear, towels and pillow slips. Make chain desired length. It is better to use two balls of thread. Make the chain from one ball and work with the other ball. In this way, if too short, you may easily chain more. Row One: One Tr. in fifth St. of ch from hook. Ch two, one Tr. in same t. Ch two, one Tr. in same St. Ch. two, one Tr. in same St.—thus forming a shell. Proceed whole length of chain in this manner, skipping three St. between each shell.

Row Two: Same kind of shell in center of each shell of first row—and so on till edging is as wide as desired. Some women make this edging with two rows of shells white, and then one row of pink or blue.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains a tablet of Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its free use, for it does not affect the heart. Every druggist has it, but don't fail to ask the druggist for Bayer. And don't take any but the tablets that are stamped with the "Bayer Cross."

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trade mark.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

Ventilating the Body

During the warm weather, I spoke about the necessity of ventilating the body even when you are outdoors in the sunshine. That a slight current of air is necessary to remove the heat and moisture of the body when it reaches the surface of the skin.

As this heat and moisture must be removed all the time, therefore, when you spend your time indoors you can readily see how necessary it is that this heat and moisture is not only removed from the surface of your body, but also from the room itself.

Now those of us who have to burn coal during the cool weather, are quite naturally thinking that keeping heat in a room is more important.

Yet, as your biggest asset is your health, the right kind of air at the right temperature, and with the right degree of moisture in it, is absolutely essential if you are going to keep that body of yours at its best.

If the temperature is too high, then the body doesn't lose as much of its heat as it should. And there is that "stuffy" feeling that makes you feel lazy, mentally and physically.

If the air is too dry, then the nose and throat have to give up too much moisture to the air going into the lungs, and sore throat and a catarrhal condition of the nose is likely to follow.

Where there is too much moisture in the air in the room, which sometimes happens, then moisture from your body doesn't get taken away as it should, and again you have that close stuffy feeling.

Hygienists tell us that the correct temperature of the home should be about 66 to 68 degrees F; for the small children about 70 degrees F.

Always there should be some way of creating a very light current of air, not a draught, that will keep the air circulating.

This may be done by mechanical means, or by the adjustment of one or more windows.

Where the air is too dry, water in vessels or other methods should be used. Neatly constructed metal vessels are now made to fit in behind the radiators. Unfortunately as they are out of sight, they are often "out of mind" and are not kept filled with water.

Remember you live on air, just as you do on food, so get it at its best. It costs nothing.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Most severe weather of September was expected during first 10 days of month, as the proverbial equinoctial storms come within this period instead of near the equinox on September 23 this year. Severe storm wave is expected to cross continent during week centering on 8, well to the south, storm center to be followed by a decided drop in average temperatures that threatens to be a northern cold wave near 10; greatest temperature extremes of month will be expected during passage of this storm wave. Storm waves centering on 5 and 8 were expected to occur during periods of above normal temperature with severe storm force and heavy precipitation confined to comparatively small areas, mostly in eastern half of continent. Storm wave of moderate force will cross continent during week centerting on 14; this storm wave will occur during a period of below normal temperatures and moderate precipitation, 10 to 18 being expected to average below normal temperatures and about normal precipitation.

During fall months of 1928, warm waves that will average considerably above normal temperatures will be expected to predominate, especially during late fall, October 15 to November 30; this feature will be expected to favor late pastures generally, adding to an already bountiful North American feed crop. The coming winter and early spring will average about to a little below normal, precipitation for the continent with storm waves of more than usual severity in northern hemisphere. Evaporation points will be in a general southerly direction from North America during the next six months with a general increase in precipitation in western half and a general decrease in easern half of continent and most precipitation on southern and western slopes and land approaching those slopes. When applying the above theory of average precipitation to your locality, slope must be sufficient to make considerable difference in elevation within a short distance; a high elevation hundreds of miles from a given point will have greater influence than a range of foothills close by. The most important feature that favors winter grains is sufficient moisture, both in subsoil and as covering during severe cold waves. Winter grains that have had sufficient moisture during winter, season will survive many hardships later in season. Moisture not only acts as a plant food, but also attracts natures carrier and builder, carrying material to and into plants, through the under side of leaves, from which each kind of plant uses its requirements of quantity and kind of material. Though plant food is present in a piece of land, plants on that land would not receive that food without the action of electro-magnetic force to carry the food to the plant.

Windiest spot in the United States is Mount Washington, in New Hampshire, which registered wind of 152 miles an hour.

SLOCAN BOARD TO ASK FOR FAIRER TAX DISTRIBUTION

Resolutions to Victoria; Fitzsimmons and Borden Address Board

URGE RAILROAD RETRACT REFUSAL TO LOAD ORE

Refer to Esling and C.P.R.; Ask Advertize Land Sales New Denver

NEW DENVER, B.C., Sept. 7.—An enthusiastic and well attended district board of trade meeting was held in the reading room of the Newmarket hotel New Denver Thursday morning. Representatives from Slocan City Silverton, Sandon, Rosebery, Three Forks and New Denver were in attendance as well as Captain Fitzsimmons M.P.P. for Kaslo-Slocan and Dr. L. E. Borden, member for Nelson. The president of the Slocan district board of trade, R. J. Johnson of Slocan, occupied the chair.

Four important resolutions were brought up at the meeting.

J. C. Harris read one pertaining to the proceeds of the mineral tax and also of the land tax, urging that instead of the whole of the revenue obtained in this manner going to the province, the government should endeavor to give the mining districts a proper portion for local purposes. This was approved and a copy of the resolution sent to Victoria.

A second resolution was considered regarding the unfinished portion of the connecting link of the government highways extending south from Silverton. At length after some discussion it was decided to leave the decision as to the new cutoff and which survey to use, to the engineers, William Ramsay and Mr. Roberts.

A resoluton, the annual tax sale and mineral claims urging the sale of all local lands should be held at New Denver and the sales should be published in a local newspaper, was passed

A resolution passed in June pertaining to the shipment of ore from the New Denver wharf asking the C. P. R. to retract its refusal to load ore at this wharf, was again referred to, since no definite satisfaction has been given by the railroad. It was decded to refer the matter to the Associated Boards of Trade and to W. K. Esling, M.P.

Captain Fitzsimmons then addressed a few well chosen words to the meeting expressing his desire to do all in his power to promote the welfare of the district.

After a short address by Dr. Borden of Nelson, on the importance of developing the Kootenay, the meeting adjourned.

Take Pack Horses Through Wild Country; Scorn Offers of Anxious Males

FERNIE, B.C., Sept. 7.—Four young ladies left Fernie "where girls are girls", on Wednesday on a journey from Waldo to Moyie, riding horseback and taking pack horses with them. The girls were the Misses Zora McNabb, Edna Johnson, Margaret Civine and Betty Evans of Seattle. They will follow a trail which goes up Gold creek and over the pass into the Yahk country. This is a district unfrequented except by bears and other wild animals.

The girls took some supplies but will depend a good deal for food upon their fishing rods as the fishing is excellent in Gold creek. They had numerous offers from friends anxious to accompany and assist them, but they scorned the help of a mere man, not even shying at the task of cinching a pack saddle. The intrepid young adventurers are expected in tonight.

Canada Opportunity Land for the British Worker States Governor Bruce

VICTORIA, Sept. 6.—Thousands of workers in England look to Canada as a land of opportunity and are eager to migrate to the Dominion said Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce, who has just returned from a trip to Europe.

The lieutenant-governor spoke of the indomitable spirit with which workers of England were facing the burden of debt left by the war.

"The exodus of harvesters to Canada is a direct refutation of the argument that the dole has created a spirit of laziness and indifference. A genuine anxiety to work led workers of Britain to seize the opportunity to secure employment in the harvest fields, and they came with full knowledge that it was hard strenuous work that they were to tackle."

A TREMENDOUS increase in Power -in what was already the most powerful automobile engine of its size in the world

NOT only does the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick eclipse all previous ideals of motor car beauty, but it provides a thrilling increase of that vibrationless power which makes McLaughlin-Buick's valve-in-head engine supreme among power-plants.

Vital engineering improvements—including increased bore and stroke, greater piston displacement, improved carburetion and a general development and refinement of the entire operating assembly—produce the highest degree of efficient, economical power ever developed by any automobile engine.

Moreover, drivers of the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick reap the full benefits of this mighty new power with any grade of fuel. And these benefits extend to all phases of car performance.

Lightning new acceleration—unrivalled flexibility—matchless hill climbing—and new top speeds far in excess of any driving need—all await you in the great new McLaughlin-Buick.

The famous McLaughlin-Buick valve-in-head six-cylinder engine was already the most powerful automobile engine of its size in the world. Now that leadership is greatly increased. Now the McLaughlin-Buick power-plant reveals even greater superiority, as you will quickly discover when you take the wheel and drive.

TRAIL AND NELSON BATTLE IN SOCCER GAME HERE TODAY

Fourth and Last Game West Kootenay League at Recreation Grounds

Trail footballers invade Nelson today to battle with the Queen City eleven at the Recreation grounds in the fourth and final game of the West Kootenay soccer schedule. The game is called for 4:30 o'clock with M. N. Gallpen handling the whistle. It will have no bearing on the championship of the league which the Trail team cinched by getting a draw at Trail on Labor day.

Battling to a 1-1 draw at Trail, both teams put up a great exhibition of football and it is expected as good if not a better exhibition will be seen today. Trail will be trying to get a win over the team of young fellows who held them to a draw and Nelson will be trying to put over what would be the home team's only win this season.

Norman Bradley, who played a brilliant game at center halfback for Nelson at Trail, will be out of the game today on account of an injury. Tom Nutter, clever and aggressive forward in many games this season, will fill his place.

After the game The Daily News cup and the W. R. Thompson individual medals will be awarded the Trail team.

The teams will be:

Trail—Marshall, goal; Kitchins and Cooper ,backs; Smith, Barr and Thompson, halves; Ross, Ferguson, J. McVie, T. Laurie and Minto, forwards; A. Laurie, spare.

Nelson—Hings, goal; Roynon and Ward, backs; Jeffs, Nutter and Wallach halves; Campion, Macrone, 'Arcure, Welsh and Bendy, forwards.

SENATORS AND THE LIVE WIRES CLASH FINALS TOMORROW

Double Header in Trafalgar Baseball Play-offs at Recreation Grounds

Joe Hunden for the Live Wires and Walter Gillett for the Senators will be the opposing pitchers in the first game of a double-header between these two teams at the Recreation grounds tomorrow afternoon at 1:30. The double-header will be the third and fourth games of a five-game playoff series to decide the grand championship of the Trafalgar Independent Baseball association's league. Boyd C. Affleck will probably be umpire.

Walter Kitto, pitcher of the Cardinals who twirled the Live Wires to their first victory in seven games over the Senators in the first game of the playoffs at the Trafalgar grounds last Sunday will be ready to relieve Hunden in the second game. Gillett will twirl both games for the Senators.

The teams will be:

Live Wires—Joe Hunden p; P. Hunden c; D. Bush 1b; W. Kitto 2b; A. Kirby 3b; D. McQuaig ss; W. Bush, J. Kuntz and R. Reisterer, fielders.

Senators—W. Gillett p; C. Arcure c; L. Realya 1b; Ken Fish 2b; Pasacreta 3b; G. Campion ss; C. Haddon, D. Jones, T. Deferro, T. Romano and Cy Jackman, fielders.

Babe Will Do Anything But Kiss Babies

BY AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

I noticed a news item the other day telling of Babe Ruth's visit to 13-year-old Brenton Stolz in a Boston hospital and giving him the autographed ball that he had hit for his fortieth home run. Babe had heard that the little fellow was near death and had kept asking for him and had left the ball park immediately after the game and gone directly to the hospital.

And I was reminded of just another instance of the hundreds of young boys that the Babe has visited and made happy in the hospitals all over the country. He has listened to the call of youthful distress so often that he has forgotten many of the names of the youngsters which causes him some embarrassment.

Waite Hoyt was telling me of one instance when the father of one of the boys that Ruth had visited in the hospital, came down to the bench to personally thank the Babe for his kindness to his son.

"Glad to meet you again, old man," said Babe, "I remember you and your boy well. How's everything? How's the boy getting along? Glad you looked me up."

The father of the boy was overjoyed at the warmth of Ruth's welcome. As he left the bench in a daze with one of the precious autographed baseballs, Ruth turned to one of the players and inquired—"I wonder who that old guy is?"

AS THE SPORTING EDITOR SEES IT

VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

George Harlow, Nelson's heavyweight, has gone into stiff training and has someone over him to see that he doesn't shirk. He has taken a job in a blacksmith shop and is getting paid, too.

GENTLE HINT

Sports should need no inducement to attract teams, but it has been suggested that if there was a cup at stake in the basketball league this year, players and fans might take even more interest than they did last year.

WHY NOT?

Pillow fighting might not be classed as sport by some people, but those that witnessed the contests at the huge Halloween celebration here last year will agree that it could be. It has been suggested that this year, not only the pupils of the schools engage in this contest, but also the teachers.

YES, POSSIBLY

"Errors galore" would have been a good way to describe last Sunday's double-header between the Live Wires and Senators. The errors were blamed on the condition of the grounds at Trafalgar school so there may be some airtight ball at the Recreation grounds tomorrow.

NOT RETIRING

No word has been given out as to what George Harlow's near future holds in the way of opponents. It has been contradicted, however, that Nelson's heavyweight boxer intends to follow in the footsteps of the great Gene Tunney and retire while the retiring is good.

BALL GROUNDS

Trafalgar junior high school, with a splendid gymnasium and a "not so worse" baseball diamond, which can also be used for soccer when graded, will soon be occupied. What Nelson needs is a few more ball grounds and gymns at the other schools.

BASKETBALL FLOORS

Nelson is indeed fortunate that in each of four schools and at the Convent there is a basketball floor. In addition there is the armory with a small floor, but still these six floors do not cope with the situation. What is needed is a centralized building with a floor that could be used for basketball, indoor baseball and badminton. The recreation grounds here are in a good location for outdoor sport, and would be similarly a good location for a gymn where intercity games could be played.

NELSON'S AUDITORIUM

Such a gym, situated at the Recreation grounds, could be built so as to be used for the exhibition, for dances, for big boxing cards, for civic and other celebrations, and for numerous other things both summer and winter. To go even further, the building could be Nelson's auditorium talked about the last two years.

CARDS OUTHIT BUT DOUBLE PIRATES SCORE

Phillies and Braves Divide a Double Header, Second Game Going 11 Innings

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Phillies divided a double-header with Boston Braves here today, winning the first game 4-0, but losing the nightcap 4-3, in 11 innings.

Milligan pitched for the Phillies and did not allow a hit until two were down in the seventh inning of the second game. With two out and Boston one run ahead in the ninth, Cy Williams hit the ball over the fence for a homer.

Again outhit, the St. Louis Cardinals bunched their efforts for a 6 to 3 victory here today, winning the second game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Chick Hafey clouted his twenty-fourth homer of the season Earl Adams of the Pirates muffed his first try in 236 chances in the eighth.

The Cubs pounded Lucas and Luque for 19 hits and routed the Reds 11 to 1 in the opening game of their series today. Root pitched perfect ball for the Cubs, and was never in any trouble, allowing four hits.

ATHLETICS AND YANKEES SHARE THE TOP RUNG

Former Beat Red Sox Twice While Latter Bow Twice to Senators

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Yankees dropped into a tie with the Athletics for first place in the American league by losing both ends of a double header to Washington today 11-0 and 6-1. Marberry gave the Yanks nine hits in the second game after Hadley had shut them out with only three in the opener.

In the second game, the Senators played the snappiest kind of ball and hit Waite Hoyt around mercilessly. The Yanks scored their sole run of the day on two passes and two singles in the first inning.

The Athletics took both ends of a double header from the Red Sox today, 1 to 0 and 7 to 3. After Grove had bested Ruffing in a pitchers' duel in the opener, giving only four hits, both teams went on a batting spree in the second game, Boston getting nine hits off three Philadelphia pitchers, and the Athletics getting eight off MacFayden and Griffin.

FAIRVIEW SCORES TWO-NOTHING WIN

Beats Falcons in Juvenile Soccer Game; Weight Is Factor

Juvenile Soccer League Standing

	Won	Lost	D.	Pts.
Callies	6	1	0	12
Scouts	4	3	0	8
Fairview	3	4	1	7
Falcons	1	6	1	3

Weight was a deciding factor when the Fairview squad defeated the Falcons 2-0 in a juvenile soccer league game at the Recreation grounds yesterday afternoon. The win put Fairview within one point of the second place Scouts in the league standing.

By far the heavier team, the Fairview boys pressed in hard in the first half but were not able to penetrate Falcons' defence to tally. The Falcons staged determined rushes and only the good defense work and quick thinking of the Fairview boys in the pinches saved them from being scored on several times.

In the second half the Fairview team had things pretty much its own way and was not often in danger of being scored on. The boys pressed hard on the Falcon goal and twice when the opportunity came they put the ball in to score.

Young Jake Rothery notched Fairview's first goal when, after pressing in for some time, he grabbed a loose ball and shot to tally. Bud McLeod tallied the second goal in a similar way.

LEAFS EXPECT TROTTIER IF HE BECOMES A PRO

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Connie Smythe, manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National hockey league, here on a visit, claimed that Dave Trottier, Toronto amateur star, will be with the Maple Leafs if he turns professional. It has been reported here that the Montreal Maroons had Trottier virtually under contract. Smythe says, however, that Trottier promised that he would play for the Leafs if he ever turned professional.

CONCILIATION WINS BY NOSE AT WIRE

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—Conciliation sprang the surprise of the day at Polo park this afternoon by capturing the six furlong dash feature of the card. On the back stretches she was nowhere, and came up in a hard drive on the home furlong to win by a nose from Proctor Hug. She paid $18.60 for a $2 ticket. Chicory, two lengths back, raced evenly all the way to place third.

RICKARD SIGNS STRIBLING FOR MATCH AT GARDEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Enthused at the showing Young Stribling made in scoring a technical knockout over Johnny Squires in two rounds last night, Tex Rickard today signed the Georgia youngster for a match at Madison Square Garden October 4. Stribling's opponent will be named from a field of six Rickard believes are outstanding. They are Knute Hansen, Paulino Uzcudun, Johnny Risko, Jack Dorval, Roberto Roberti, and Jack Sharkey.

WIGHTMAN, MALLORY ENTER FINAL ROUND

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 7.—Mrs. George V. Wightman of Brookline, Mass., today entered the final round of the middle states women's tennis tournament by defeating Miss Anne B. Townsend, Philadelphia, 8-6, 4-6, 6-3.

Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, New York defending titleholder, breezed through her quarter final match with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Eleanor Cottman, Baltimore.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—For the first time in the history of the Quebec Golf association, the crown is held by an amateur. In the tourney today, Jack Cameron of Rivermead, Ottawa, captured the laurels with a 36-hole total of 148. Cameron had but an average 77 in the morning, and as a result was practically neglected by the gallery in the afternoon. However, in the afternoon round he turned in a sterling 71, for a lead which withstood the assaults of all finishers.

LONDON MARKETS MAINTAIN TONE

But Expected Increase Business Does Not Materialize; Ship Building Prospers

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Though London markets generally preserved a fairly good tone during the week, and most important groups showed little change from the better conditions they have experienced lately, business did not increase in the volume expected.

The railway market remained dull. Breweries showed continued exceptional strength all round. The ship building industry reports double the amount of tonnage launched this year compared with the corresponding period of 1927, with good orders still being placed. Gold mines and rubber stocks were featureless, but talking machines issues continued lively. Columbia Record company declared a 60 per cent dividend with share for share bond.

WILD BUYING ON NEW YORK MART SWAMPS BOARD

Slight Increase Brokers' Loans Release Flood of Buying Orders

FIFTY ISSUES MAKE NEW ALL-TIME HIGHS

Volume Third Largest History of Exchange; Tidewater Oil 250,000 Shares

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Wild speculation for the advance in todays stock market carried total sales to 4,780,100 shares, the third largest in history. At least 50 issues sold at record high prices.

The unexpectedly small increase of $54,000,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans released a flood of buying orders which nearly swamped the trading facilities of the exchange. The ticker fell 30 minutes behind the market before mid-day and never caught up.

BANKS CALL LOANS

Call money held steady at 7½ per cent all day. Banks called more than $20,000,000 in loans but new funds were forthcoming to take their place.

Montgomery Ward soared 19½ points to 242 and then it dipped to 236¼ the year's low being 117. Sears Roebuck ran up eight points to a new high at 157 and then yielded to 154. United States Steel common attained a new peak for the year at 158⅝ but closed a point lower for a net gain of about three points.

Nearly 250,000 shares of Tidewater Associated Oil changed hands the stock touching a new high at 25. New high records for the year or longer, also were established by such widely diversified issues as Chrysler, Fox Film "A", International Nickel, Motor Products, and Timken Roller Bearing.

The rails took little part in the days advance.

GRAINS WAIT FOR CROP FORECASTS

Undertone Confident, However; Weather May Hamper the Bumper Canadian Crop

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Grains settled down today on a little firmer foundation to await the word of the government crop forecasts. Trading was inactive but beneath the surface was a more confident sentiment and the principal grains all closed at new advances for the day.

Canada's largest crop continued marketward in heavy quantities but Winnipeg felt that the unsettled and cool weather approaching would hamper the crop movement. Unfavorable weather forecasts and talk of new buying of Manitoba wheat by Portugal were the chief bullish features in the news.

Wheat closed firm ¼ to ¾c higher, September, 110¼; December, 115⅝ to ½; March, 119⅞ to 120; and May, 122⅝. September corn closed 1½ to 1¾c higher at 95½ to ⅝, and other months ending unchanged to ½c up, December 73⅜ to ½, March 77½ and May 79⅞.

Oats finished ½ to 1¼c higher, September 40⅛ and December 41¼.

With only one leg, Oscar Foseid, Madison, Wis., swam four and one-half miles in three hours and 15 minutes.

A life of hard work—but no provision for the stroke which cut off the earning power they had counted on all their lives. To-day, homeless—dependent on charity, friendless—all for lack of insurance protection.

Let us explain how you can amply provide for your old age and that of your loved ones.

OVER A HUNDRED THOUSAND IS FOR LAKE, RIVER WORK

Federal Public Works Plans Expenditure $21,000 on Repairs Wharves

OVER SEVENTY THOUSAND FOR CONTRACT WORK AREA

Dredging at Kootenay Landing, Procter; $8500 for Ginol's Wharf

Over $100,000 is to be spent on construction and maintenance of wharves on the Okanagan, Shuswap, Arraw and Kootenay lakes this season by the federal department of public works. P. E. Doncaster, district engineer, has received appropriations from Ottawa for this work, as well as for other extensive waterways operations.

An interesting experiment is to be made to control inexpensively, various rivers in the interior. At Arrowhead $1100 will be expended, and at Salmon Arm on Shuswap Lake, $1700. At Arrowhead the Columbia river has a habit of breaking out of the banks of its several mouths and depositing such quantities of sand along the wharf that steamers have difficulty in approaching and landing at the wharf.

TO TRAIN RIVERS

The department, in an effort to control the waters, will utilize a system of stake or fence retards to assist the river itself to build up protecting banks. This method is used extensively, with marked success in India. The experiments to be made at Arrowhead and Salmon Arm are expected to demonstrate whether the scheme can be successfully used in local waters.

To repair the existing wharf at Balfour and to provide a shear boom to keep debris clear of it will involve an expenditure of about $600.

Minor repairs and improvements to the various wharves on the Arrow lakes will necessitate an expenditure of approximately $1500. For similar works on Kootenay lake about $1200 will be expended. Elsewhere in the federal district of the interior this item will account for upwards of $2400.

WHARF REPAIRS

Specific works of wharf repairs on a larger scale include structures at the following points:

Locality	District	Cost
Canoe, Shuswap Lake		$1000
Salmon Arm, Shuswap Lake		8800
Sorrento, Shusway Lake		400
Frasers Landing, Kootenay Lake		1600
Kuskanook, Kootenay Lake		2800
Procter, Kootenay Lake		600
Princess Creek, Kootenay Lake		2000
Riondel, Kootenay Lake		4000
Willow Point, Kooteany Lake		1000
Faquier, Arrow Lake		2800
Seton Lake, Cariboo		1400
Nepanier, Okanagan Lake		5000
Total		$21,400

These items will be supplemented by others which may be dealth with from time to time as occasion requires.

CONTRACT WORK

Construction to be done under contract includes work at the following localities at the approximate prices noted:

Fort St. James, Stuart lake	$6000
Gray Creek wharf, Kootenay lake	7200
Ginols Landing, Kootenay lake	8500
Okanagan control dam, Penticton	29000
Okanagan river improvements	20000
Revelstoke shear dam	6000
Total	$76,500

For river improvement work the allotments are divided between Tochi river and the Crooked, Pach and Parsnip waterways. These are in the north central part of the province and are designed to assist prospectors, miners and land seekers bent on opening up the hinterland areas north of the Canadian National railway line connecting Edmonton and Prince Rupert—a vast belt of territory cutting across the central portion of British Columbia.

TO USE DREDGE HERE

Dredging in the district will be carried out on the Kootenay, Arrow and Shuswap lakes. The new dredge on the Arrow Lakes will perform its first full season's work. Its preliminary operations during the last part of the preceding season indicated it should be easily capable of maintaining a navigable depth between the upper and lower lakes.

On Kootenay lake the departmental dredge, P. W. D. No. 302, will again be in commission after a year's layup. The work will consist for the most part in dredging the entrance channels at Kootenay Landing and at Procter.

The season's dredging on the Shuswap lakes is now nearing completion. The Shuswap dredge has been in charge of Captain W. Allen of Nelson, and when this unit is laid up shortly he will return to take charge of the Kootenay lake dredge.

CITY ELECTRICAL ENGINEER HAS HAD BRILLIANT RECORD

Montgomery 28 Years Profession; Gallant War Record; Varied Career

M. Montgomery, formerly of Vancouver, who was recently appointed electrical engineer to the City of Nelson, has taken over the office vacated by J. F. Coates, who resigned.

Mr. Montgomery, who has enjoyed rapid advancement in his profession, was apprenticed 26 years ago to Mather & Patt, electrical and general engineers of Manchester, England. During his apprenticeship he earned a diploma in electrical engineering at the Manchester School of Technology.

For two and a half years he was junior engineer at the City of Manchester generating power house, which was then, and still is, the second largest power house of its kind in England.

Coming to Canada at the age of 22, Mr. Montgomery worked with the Canadian Westinghouse company at Hamilton, Ont., in the company's shops and factory, as a journeyman mechanic. He then entered the Westinghouse drawing room as draftsman, and later was employed for three years as traveling and erecting engineer. During this period he helped design and erect the City of Winnipeg power house at Point de Bois, on the Winnipeg river, and two sub-stations for the plant.

In 1913 Mr. Montgomery came west to Vancouver, finding employment with the B. C. Electric company. He was designing and construction engineer at the Jordan river plant, installing two 13,000 h.p. water turbines and generators to supply the City of Victoria with power. When the B. C. Electric shut down the work in 1914 he returned to Vancouver, and then to England.

GALLANT WAR RECORD

During this summer war was declared and instead of returning to British Columbia as he had planned, Mr. Montgomery joined a Loyal North Lancashire battalion. Enlisting as a private he served throughout the entire period of the war and saw action in France, Salonika and Palestine. For meritorious service he was mentioned in dispatches and given the rank of major.

On his return to British Columbia in the spring of 1919 Major Montgomery became assistant professor in electrical engineering at the University of British Columbia in connection with soldier's civil reestablishment.

When, a year later, the Canadian Westinghouse opened a service department at Vancouver, Major Montgomery was made manager and district engineer for the whole of British Columbia.

This post he held until in the fall of 1924 he joined F. J. Bartholomew of Vancouver, well known consulting hydro-electrical engineer.

A recent London bride carried and ostrich feather fan in place of a bouquet and had a most original wedding dress of net embroidered all over with a spider web design in gold thread, and for her bridesmaids' dresses she had chosen spotted silk net with blue sashes, and they carried enormous baskets with flowers that might have just been plucked from some herbaceous border.

Several new shades of brown, the presentation of original Parisian creations, and the deference shown towards ribbon trims as a necessary adjunct to the prevailing vogue of more feminine interpretations, are of particular importance in the millinery displays of the Fifth avenue shops, and among the new shades are chestnut; vanilla, a red brown, and autumn leaf, a pastel brown.

PROMINENT NELSON MEN FINED USE OF WRONG SIDE ROAD

Six Well-Known Drivers Pay $10 Each Using Left Side Nelson Avenue

William Rutherford, Ed Ferguson, P. E. Doncaster, R. H. (Slim) Morgan, Herbert Harrop and Andrew Life each paid $10. each in city police court yesterday as fines levied by Magistrate William Brown for driving on Nelson avenue on the left side of the road. All but Mr. Rutherford and Mr. Doncaster pleaded guilty.

Information was laid by Constable J. Gosline who, on duty at that section, took the numbers of cars violating the traffic by-law on keeping to the right. More automobile owners will appear in court this morning to answer similar charges.

Mr. Doncaster pleaded not guilty to the charge but was unable to swear whether he had kept to the right. Mr. Rutherford in his plea submitted that the road in that section was not in good shape and cars could not keep to the right.

The offenses occurred on Nelson avenue between the Hume school and Lakeside park.
