Parliament Slashes 37 Millions From the Main Estimates

Estimates of Thirty-Three Services Cut; Only Nine Raised

European War Pensions Are Increased a Half a Million

$650,000 VOTED FOR GRANTS TO FAIRS

Main Estimates for Present Fiscal Year Are $386,394,408.83

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP)—Main estimates of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1932, totalling $386,394,83 were tabled in the house of commons late tonight by Premier R. B. Bennett. The total represents a decrease of $37,327,754.72 as compared with the main estimates for the previous fiscal year.

Of a total of 42 services, estimates for 33 have been reduced, and nine increased.

The estimates provide $50,500,000 for European war pensions, an increase of $500,000.

In the estimates for the department of agriculture is a new vote of $650,000 for grants to agricultural affairs and exhibitions, the total for agriculture being $9,929,000, an increase of $414,000.

For public buildings the following amounts are provided: Nova Scotia $201,000; New Brunswick $175,000; Quebec 1,076,900; Ontario $1,379,400; Manitoba, $81,700; Saskatchewan $176,050; Alberta $571,000; and British Columbia $81,000. While votes for public buildings generally amount to $562,300, for harbors and rivers the sum of $4,183,600 is recommended.

Civil government salaries from which a large proportion of civil servants at Ottawa are paid, show a decrease of $678,192.

PENITENTIARIES ESTIMATES UP

The total included for penitentiaries is $2,758,400, as compared with $2,249,462.

Immigration and colonization has been reduced by $773,000, owing to decreased activities in that department.

Soldier and general land settlement is reduced $366,000, for the same reason.

Requirements of the department of national defence have been reduced by $1,628,720 by means of extensive cuts in cadet services, engineer services and works, general stores, non-permanent active militia, naval service, and general.

The estimate for aviation has been reduced by $2,333,700 by reductions in the sums provided for training civil air operations, and air mail routes.

The estimate for railways and canals, capital has been reduced by $7,785,190, the decreases being $1,440,690 in the amount required for the car ferry between the mainland and Prince Edward island, and $6,-

KOOTENAY CASES SUMMARIZED BY W. K. ESLING, M.P.

Markland, Advocate, on Way to Kootenay; Will Hold District Sessions

OTTAWA, April 13—The majority of West Kootenay cases to be heard by the Soldiers Tribunal have been summarized by West Kootenay member W. K. Esling and have been forwarded to Colonel C. B. Topp chief pensions advocate. D. P. Markland, advocate for the interior is on the way to Fernie, Cranbrook, Creston, Nelson, Trail and Penticton and will remain at various points in East and West Kootenay until dates are fixed for sittings of the tribunal at which time Mr. Markland will present West Kootenay cases.

While in Nelson Mr. Markland will receive and hear applications from all parts of the surrounding districts. E. S. Keeling of Salmon Arm, who was recently appointed an advocate, will prepare cases of applicants for ex-service men in Revelstoke and adjacent points.

Mr. Esling returned today from a week's stay at Preston Springs where he has been receiving special treatment in connection with injuries incurred in an automobile accident last January.

ST. MARY'S, Ont., April 13. (CP)—At the funeral service of Mrs. Mary Jane Meighen, conducted in First Presbyterian church here this afternoon, Rev. J. George Miller of Fort Frances, Ont., lauded the late Mrs. Meighen for her firm grasp of the public problems of the Dominion. He referred to her as a woman of great vision.

Throngs of friends and relatives of Mrs. Meighen attended the service.

WOMEN'S FLYING RECORD SMASHED BY RUTH NICHOLS

Records Air Speed of 210.6 Miles An Hour at the Detroit Course

DETROIT, April 13 (AP)—Ruth Nichols arose before dawn today and before the sun was well over the horizon had set a new speed record for women at 210.6 miles an hour.

She made four flights over a three kilometer course marked by bed sheets along railroad tracks near Grosse Island airport, reaching a high speed of 226.68 miles an hour on one lap.

After the fourth lap she was signalled down by Harry Knepper, official observer for the National Aeronautic association, and R. A. Lovejoy, veteran timer who used the electrical apparatus of the Indianapolis speedway to time the trials.

Two barographs were in the plane, to be sent to the National Aeronautic association in Washington for checking.

BOSTON, April 13.—(AP)—A fine of $500 has been charged against Bernt Balchen, trans-Atlantic aviator, for on unauthorized landing at the East Boston airport on his return several weeks ago from a flight to Newfoundland in search of survivors of the explosion of the sealing ship Viking. Boston is not a port of entry for airplanes.

ENTIRE SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS

MADRID, April 13.—(AP)—(By Clarence du Bose, A. P. correspondent. Copyright 1931 by the Associated Press).—Count de Romanones, minister of state, announced tonight that the entire Spanish cabinet will resign tomorrow morning as the result of Republican victories in yesterday's municipal elections and that Juan de la Cierva, present minister of public works, will attempt to form a new Conservative-Monarchist cabinet.

EXTREMISTS ARE ONES WHO SAVE SCULLIN HOPES

Australia's Prime Minister Has No Love for Left Wingers, Regardless

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 13 (CP cable via Reuters)—Prime Minister Henry Scullin has no love for the extremists of his Labor party, and recently he had two of their representatives removed from the cabinet. But it is only with the aid of the extremists that his government remains in power. On three occasions lately the last-minute support of the left wings has saved the government from defeat.

Today, despite the dissensions with the party, a party caucus was held on the Melbourne express train. Premier J. T. Lang, who, while head of the New South Wales state government is still the leader of the extremists in the federal party, was present. It was decided that two left wingers should leave the train at Gouldburn and proceed to Canberra, where their votes will assure Premier Scullin of a majority in an impending division.

LYONS STILL BUSY

In the meantime Hon. J. A. Lyons, erstwhile cabinet colleague of Premier Scullin and now his most formidable opponent, addressed a crowd and enthusiastic meeting in the Melbourne town hall, the use of which had previously been refused to Premier Lang. Hon. Mr. Lyons declared the real problem was to find work for the people. The only reason that money was not available was because of lack of confidence in the government, he said, otherwise it would be possible to convert loans to a lower interest basis in London. This would immensely relieve the tax payers, but it would be impossible while there was talk of repudiation, he stressed.

WOMAN MURDERER STANDING TRIAL

German Criminal Has Confessed to Almost a Hundred Crimes

DUSSELDORF, Germany, April 13. (AP)—The trial of Peter Kuerten, 47-year-old workman and alleged perpetrator of a series of mysterious murders and attacks against women here last year, was begun today.

Although he had confessed to almost 100 assorted crimes, ranging from arson to murder, Kuerten is charged specifically with but nine slayings, in which men, women and children were victims.

Taking the stand, he said he spent much time in prison for thievery and arson. The impulse to kill first seized him in 1913, he said, when entering a house to steal he saw a girl, and "forgot everything else" in an overpowering desire to seize and choke her.

Te terrorized this industrial city in the winter of 1929-30 by his alleged complicity in a long series of homicides that mystified police.

HON. R. W. BRUHN ARRIVES HERE FOR HEAVY PROGRAM OF HIGHWAY INSPECTION AND MEETING BOARDS

Has Head Officials; Will Be Two Days in the Nelson District

Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works, arrived from Victoria by the Kettle Valley train last night, accompanied by F. Philip, deputy minister, and A. L. Carruthers, bridge inspector, for a stay of five days in West Kootenay, of which two will be spent in the Nelson district, with this city as his headquarters.

The minister was met at the train by Dr. L. E. Borden, M. P. P. for Nelson; Lieut.-Col. Fred Lister, D. S. O., M. P. P. for Creston, who arrived earlier on the Kootenay Express; Capt. James Fitzsimmons, M. P. P. for Kaslo-Slocan, who drove here to meet his father; members of the local Conservative executive, headed by President G. H. Ferguson; H. M. Whimster, president of the Nelson board of trade; and William Ramsay, district public works engineer.

Interviewed at his room at the Hume, where he was engaged in informal discussions with provincial members and local Conservatives, the minister was in a jolly mood, and declared himself ready for the strenuous program in the Nelson district, which is being compressed into two days.

A HEAVY PROGRAM

At 8:45 this morning the minister, accompanied by the three provincial members, all his technical staff, including Mr. Ramsay, and Conservative and board of trade representatives, the party requiring two or more cars, will leave for Nelway, to look over the Nelson-Spokane highway in detail.

The board of trade luncheon to the minister, at the Canadian Legion, will be held at 12 noon.

Canadian National Deficit $29,219,739

Is Amount Due Public on Interest Charges for Year 1930

MARINE OPERATION SHOWS A DEFICIT

Hotels and Summer Resorts Have Slight Revenue Drop

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—(CP)—Canadian National railways will this year require $29,219,739 from the Dominion treasury in order to make good its deficit on the interest charges due to the public for the operations of 1930. This was disclosed in the annual report of the system submitted by Sir Henry Thornton, president, which Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways, tabled in the house of commons today.

At the same time the Canadian government merchant marine and the Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships also experienced operating losses last year, the former showing a loss of $5,844,747 and the latter $1,362,655.

The railway report emphasizes that its reduction in revenue is not peculiar to the C. N. R., but that every transportation company on the continent experienced similar set-backs. While avoiding any explanation of the cause of the situation which brought about such a condition in its finances, the report attributes loss of freight earnings, to increased competition of automobiles.

TRANSATLANTIC SERVICES CANCELLED

Generally depressed trade conditions operated towards reducing the steamships earnings, particularly since those conditions compelled the cancellation of two important transatlantic services—those to and from London and Antwerp, and Cardiff and Swansea.

A hopeful note is stressed in the West Indies service where it is remarked that passenger transportation was fully up to expectations, while the northbound cargoes of tropical fruits held up well in spite of the competition of other steamship companies.

In the operation of hotels and summer resorts the railway sustained a slight drop in gross revenues, but due to reduction in operating expenses the net revenue was improved.

Tribute is paid by Sir Henry W. Thornton, president of the system, to the loyalty and efficiency of the employees.

FOUND GUILTY

FINED $8,000

L. M. Singer, official of the A. B. C. who was found guilty in Windsor of conspiracy in restraint of trade and fined $8000 or eight months in jail, and O'Connor, Belyea and Weinraub not guilty. Faddon and Warl were found guilty of the counts against them and sentenced to a fine of $300 or two months in jail. The judgment was given by Mr. Justice Wright.

MAY TAKE MORE WATER OUT OF NIAGARA RIVER

Special International Board Brings in Report After Two Years

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP)—Permission to withdraw temporarily 10,000 cubic feet per second of additional water through the existing passages on each side of Niagara Falls is the recommendation of the special international board whose final report in its two years' enquiry was released for publication today.

The board investigated the means by which the scenic beauty of Niagara falls might best be maintained coincident with determining what additional quantity of water might be diverted for power purposes. The personnel of the board were J. T. Johnston, C. E. director of the Dominion water powers branch, and Dr. Charles Camsell, LL.D., deputy minister of minister of mines, representing Canada and Lt. Col. Dewitt C. Jones, U. S. army, and J. H. McFarland, past president of the American Civic association, for the United States.

"The board's studies," says the report, "indicate the practical certainty that an experimental winter additional diversion around the falls of at least 20,000 cubic feet per second can be made in conjunction with the construction of the initial remedial works recommended, without doing material injury to any element of the scenic beauty or creating an ice hazard, and that the spectacle as a whole would be considerably better than under present conditions."

The convention based upon the board's recommendations was ratified by the Canadian parliament last year, but failed to receive approval of the United States senate.

SPOKANE DOCTOR CHARGED WITH BEING INHUMANE

SPOKANE, Wash., April 13 (AP)—Dr. Caroll Smith, prominent eye specialist, was arrested today for cruelty to animals, the Spokane Humane society swearing out a warrant saying he slew a dog brutally.

The county prosecutor said he would prosecute personally. The Humane society charged Smith brought a Boston Bull, changed his mind and asked the original owner to buy it back. On refusal, the warrant said, Smith cut the dog to pieces on the spot.

The doctor, former president of the Spokane County Medical association, was released under $250 bond.

ALFONSO NOT TO ABDICATE THRONE

LONDON, April 14—(AP)—Alfonso of Spain late last night informed the Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail that he had no intention of abdicting the throne and expressed the wish that the London newspapers publish this assertion.

It is his intention, he told the correspondent to act in strict accordance with the constitutional and royalist traditions of Spain.

LABOR TO MEET CRITICAL TEST NEXT THURSDAY

LONDON, April 13. (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press staff correspondent)—Without Liberal support, the government will have a close run on Thursday. Deaths and defections within Labor's own ranks have brought new perils for the government. Hitherto a Liberal decision to abstain from voting meant safety for the government. Now it is not so sure. There are five Labor seats vacant. Several other Labor members have joined the cross benches of Independents. As party heads can now be counted—assuming the Conservatives vote their full strength—the government must either have Liberal support or risk defeat. And defeat on the Conservative motion of non-confidence means either resignation or dissolution.

ESTELLE WRECKS DEMPSEY'S HOME LIFE SO HE SAYS

Is in Reno Admittedly to Get a Divorce From Former Film Star

RENO, Nevada, April 13—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former Heavyweight champion pugilist, is in Reno for divorce. He is not here of his own volition but at the request of his wife, he and his secretary, Leonard Sachs, admitted today.

Dempsey completely reversed his former statements in which he asserted that he and his wife, Estelle Taylor of the films, were still very much in love with each other and that he did not contemplate any divorce proceedings.

Today he concluded negotiations for lease of a large home in the residential district.

Told that his wife had made the statement in Hollywood that she did not believe he had issued any statement that would ask for a divorce here and that if he did contemplate such an action she would fight him, Dempsey said:

"I have no reason to go into any cross fire controversy. My statement speaks for itself and I have nothing further to say. My plans are definitely set and whatever Estelle cares to do is her affair.

"It is my wish to get this thing over with in the most peaceful way. I am not vindictive and bear no malice. What the trend of Estelle's mind is, I do not know."

Dempsey said he was going to seek divorce at the request of the film actress and that he had hoped to dodge publicity for her sake and for the sake of her cinematic and operatic career.

MISS BENNETT MARRIES TODAY

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13. (CP)—The wedding of Miss Mildred Bennett, sister of Premier R. B. Bennett, to Major W. D. Herridge, Canadian minister to Washington, takes place tomorrow in Chalmers United church here. It will be the most notable social event of the week in the capital, and all classes of the population are looking forward to it with keen interest. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. W. Woodside.

Following the wedding, the prime minister will hold a reception at the hotel in which he resides. The members of parliament, senators and a great number of friends have been invited.

DISCOVER POLICE COMMISSIONER IS MAN WITH A PAST

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 13.—At the meeting of the city council today Chief Constable W. J. Bingham filed a letter stating in effect that one Henry Burgess, whom the chief believed to be the same person as Police Commissioner Harry Burgess, had pleaded guilty toa charge of theft of lumber in Point Grey a few years ago and had been given suspended sentence.

The effect of this document was to bring into question the qualifications of Mr. Burgess to sit as a police commissioner.

After some discussion the chief's letter was referred to Corporation Counsel George E. McCrossan.

Alderman Miller commented: "Why bring up this stuff three or four years old? It looks as if Burgess had taken a plank, or something like that. Is it right that men in public life should have their past dragged out like that? I thought the days of political mud-slinging had passed."

Mayor L. D. Taylor denied that it was mud-slinging.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKE MONEY IS FURTHER TIED UP BY COURT

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 13.—(AP)—The $1,770,000 first prize in the Irish sweepstakes was further tied up today when Justice Meredith ordered sweepstakes officials to invest the money pending settlement of the ownership of the winning Grand National ticket.

The two countrymen of Emilio Scala, who held the ticket, have obtained a writ restraining officials from paying the money on the ground that they are part owners They are Toney Epicella and Matteo Constantino.

BURRARD INLET DEMANDS TO BE AIRED IN EAST

Mayor L. D. Taylor Goes to Ottawa to Place Demands Before Government

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 13. — Mayor L. D. Taylor will leave Saturday for Ottawa where he will support demands before the federal government of the North Vancouver city council for immediate solution of Burrard Inlet transportation problems, involving governmental sanction for the replacement of the Second Narrow's bridge. Other matters which will engage Mayor Taylor's attention while in the capital include the attitude of the department of marine on Vancouver's request for power to tax crown waterfront lands.

The North Vancouver delegation consisting of Mayor E. H. Bridgman, and Ald. J. Loutet, M. L. A., will leave for Ottawa on Wednesday.

STRIKE GOLD IN YUKON 40 MILES OUT OF CARMACK

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 13.—(AP)—Advices received here today from Skagway said gold quartz of a high value had been struck about 40 miles northwest of Carmack, in the Yukon.

About 100 claims have been staked, most of them on the snow. As soon as the snow disappears the ground will be proved. Because of the unemployment situation in the district, no one is allowed to enter unless he has $500 or more cash in his possession.

Representing the Treadwell Gold company, Livingston Wernecke has taken options on six claims.

No Report Received From Searchers at an Early Hour Today

MAY HAVE FALLEN INTO THE LAKE

Was Pioneer Resident of the Arrow Lakes District

A search party, organized early Monday morning, had not reported at midnight just what progress it had made in the search for J. J. Threlkeld of Deer Park, who disappeared at about 6:30 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Threlkeld was last seen on the Deer Park wharf, according to reports received by the local office of the provincial police. Police officers were in telephonic conversation with Arrow lakes authorities, but owing to trouble were unable to learn exact details of the case. It is presumed that Mr. Threlkeld had fallen from the wharf into the lake.

WAS A PIONEER

Mr. Threlkeld was a pioneer resident of the Arrow lakes district, having a residence of over 30 years at Deer Park, where he had a wonderful home.

During the war he was chairman for the Arrow lakes district of the exemption board under the Military Service act, and was later chairman under the soldier settlement board.

About 1924 Mr. Threlkeld ran as a supporter of the Provincial party in the provincial elections, and finished second to C. S. Leary of Nakusp, who was elected as a Liberal member.

Mr. Threlkeld has always been a consistent booster for better communication along the Arrow lakes. Of late he has been active in advocating a southern road outlet for the Arrow lakes.

WAS ILL IN HOSPITAL

A few weeks ago Mr. Threlkeld visited in Nelson following a period of illness in the Kootenay Lake General hospital.

Mr. Threlkeld lived alone at Deer Park, and as far as is known had no relatives. His disappearance occurred some time after the steamer had made its call at Deer Park.

KING GEORGE ON WAY TO RECOVERY

WINDSOR, Eng., April 13. (AP)—The King was believed to be on the road to recovery tonight, as indicated in an official statement saying he continues to make good progress in shaking off his attack of bronchitis.

Though still confined to his rooms, it is held likely that he might venture out of doors as soon as the week-end cold snap had disappeared. Lord Dawson of Penn, the royal physician, motored out from London to visit his majesty for the first time in four days.

FIELD OF WATERLOO YIELDS BONES

BRUSSELS, April 13.—(AP)—After a lapse of more than a century, the historic field of Waterloo has yielded the remains of another group of victims in that memorable engagement. Workers digging at La Haye Sante on the site of the battle found the skeletons of seven French soldiers, identified as members of the corps of Drouet d'Erlon, commander of the right wing of the French army in its struggle against the English.

CONSERVATIVE SOLICITOR-GENERAL CONDEMNS FRENCH LANGUAGE LAWS OF SASKATCHEWAN GOVERNMENT

Hopes That They Will Be Repealed in the near Future Clearing Up Matter

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13. (CP) — Condemnation by the Conservative solicitor-general of Canada of the Saskatchewan government's French language laws, a slashing attack on the government by the former minister of agriculture, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, and a protest against unemployment conditions in northern Ontario, gave renewed life to the debate on the address in the house of commons today.

It was a rejuvenated house which faced Mr. Speaker George Black when bells rang, calling members together again after 12 days' Easter recess. While there were some absentees, the attendance was good, and members appeared the better for their rest.

Speaking for the first time in the house of commons, Hon. Maurice Dupre, solicitor-general, made brief but strong reference to the Saskatchewan laws applicable to the French language in that province. Mr. Dupre, who, though a French-Canadian, is a graduate of Oxford university, and speaks excellent English, made reference to these enactments as "a very unpleasant matter."

"The laws enacted against the French language—one of the official languages—by the government of Saskatchewan, are an insult to the true Canadians established here for 14 or 15 generations," he asserted. "It was in the name of God, but in the French language, that the first cross was consecrated on Cana-

MAJOR J. S. ROPER HEADS CANADIAN LEGION, CANADA

OTTAWA, Ont, april 13. (CP)—Major John S. Roper, K.C., M.C., of Halifax, N. S., was tonight elected Dominion president of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, in succession to Lieut.-Col. L. F. Lafleche. In tendering his resignation, Col. Lafleche said pressure of other work was making it difficult to carry on the presidency, which he had held for three years.

ROTARIANS HAVE SOME FUN OVER NEW INCOME TAX

W. J. Meagher Officiates at Debate on Merits of New Impost

WHIMSTER, CARTER RIVAL GLADIATORS

By Mr. Meagher's System of Counting the Tax Is Approved

Unusual angles on the new 1 per cent income tax were voiced at the Rotary Club weekly gathing Monday, when speakers defending it and opposing it convulsed the members. The show was staged by W. J. Meagher, who had assembled, as he supposed, five orators, two of whom he succeeded in producing at the critical moment.

H. M. Whimster, warmly supporting the new impost, declared it absurd that such a worthy tax should need any defence, and deemed it a privilege to speak in its behalf.

The present government, headed by a native son of the province, direct from the cow stables of Saanich, had given the province the most efficient and economical administration it had ever enjoyed, and why shouldn't it, he asked, when it had adopted for its slogan "A government of Vancouver, by Vancouver, for Vancouver?"

AT VANCOUVER'S REQUEST

This tax was put on directly at the request of the citizens of Vancouver, who figured, Mr. Whimster claimed, that with hard times in their city few if any of them would earn $25 per week, most of them taking their meals from the relief department, from which it followed that the $4,000,000 which the tax would produce would be collected from central and southern British Columbia—and spent as usual within a 50-mile radius of the Marine building.

Members of the Rotary club would take pride in making their returns promptly, and details other than those required by the income tax forms would not be asked, except time and place of birth of each employee; do his ears move? does he make a noise when eating soup? did he vote Conservative next election? will he vote Conservative next election? does he consider Premier Tolmie the greatest Canadian up to the present times? should Ruttella be hanged? does he consider Pooley's wisdom greater than or only equal to that of Solomon? who bakes better bread than Shelly? will the Nelson bridge be built in the present decade? The employees, the speaker declared, would be only too glad to pay the tax for the privilege of answering the questions.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES

Mr. Whimster professed to see great possibilities for this tax, and a bright future for British Columbia with Premier Tolmie and his government returned to power at the next election.

If the question were asked what this government had done for unemployment, he replied that they had fired Davidson from the liquor control board and hired three men to take his place, had fired the government agent at Prince Rupert, hired another man in his place, and then hired Watt back again to show the new appointee how to run the job; and had added 152 people to the payroll of the province in the last year to relieve unemployment.

What more could a government do? he asked amid fits of laughter and loud applause.

JOE CARTER PROTESTS

After this eloquent defence of the tax, Mr. Meagher called on J. S. Carter to show its shaddy side.

Describing himself as speaking from the back benches "to protest against this iniquitous thing that has been put over on us," Mr. Carter first paid high tribute to the former government, whose earlier premier came from the farm, "where resides all the wisdom and most of the money," and who assembled about himself a cabinet of all the talents, including as attorney-general a "wily little attorney"—this being meant in a complimentary sense as it had once been applied to Lloyd George—and an equal wily finance minister.

That premier spread fertilizer all over the consituencies and told how the government vaults were bursting. What they were bursting with was the counterfoils of the bond issues they had sold, for building roads and bridges—on Vancouver Island.

"Then this new bunch took our place," related Mr. Carter. They required money also. He didn't just know why they required it, as the country that required roads and bridges, the coast, that alone got such things, already had them. But anyway, they required more money, and put on this tax.

SUGGESTS TAX ON FELINES

"I maintain that this new government didn't properly explore the different sources of new revenue that were open to it," he declared. For instance, a remunerative tax could have been placed on domestic pets, particularly felines. "There are a couple of tomcats that parade the fence near where I reside, every night, and they could stand any amount of income tax," he instanced.

"The tax comes hard on people, like myself, who haven't any income," the orator argued. For those with incomes he had no sympathy.

Recalling the case of Clive, who when impeached in the British parliament for the alleged misdemeanors of his administration in India, declared that when he reviewed the opportunities, he was amazed not at his excess but at his moderation, Mr. Carter said when he thought of all the things this government had promised the interior — and which it hoped some day to get—he was amazed that it stopped at a mere 1 per cent.

AN AMUSEMENT TAX

This tax really should be considered an amusement tax, he claimed for the pleasure of separating worthy statesmen, patriots and financers of the late government from the treasury benches.

Mr. Meagher here demanded a vote of the club on the merits of the debate, and after J. A. McDonald, ex-M.P.P., and Dr. L. E. Borden, M. Vice-President Howard Bush, who P. P., were debarred from voting by was in the chair, the vote was taken.

Four members voted in favor of the tax, and a whole roomful against it, but Mr. Meagher counted the vote as 4-3 in favor.

"You're a poor counter, Joe," was the laughing comment that closed the program.

ESTIMATES FOR CANADA ARE CUT OVER 37 MILLION

600,000 in construction of the Welland Ship canal, for which $3,000,000 is provided for 1931-32 as against $9,600,000 for 1930-31.

A total of $8,387,000 is provided for public works, capital compared with $8,946,855 for 1930-31, a decrease of $5,559,855. Public works income, is included at $17,673,262 compared with $28,188,472 for 1930-31, a decrease of $10,515,210. These two services show a total reduction of $16,075,065.

The total provided for mail subsidies and steamship subventions is $1,052,220, as compared with $1,394,077.

OCEAN AND RIVER SERVICE DOWN

The total required for ocean and river service is $3,697,800, a reduction of $688,600 under the appropriation for 1930-31, mainly due to large appropriations for construction of a new steamer and a new icebreaker which are not required for the new year.

Lighthouse and coast service has been cut by 606,371, mainly in the item for construction, maintenance and supervision of aids to navigation.

Estimates for the fisheries service total $2,072,300, a reduction of $345,101, mainly in the items for fisheries protection, fisheries development, fish culture and the Maine biological board.

The total provided for assistance to Indians is $4,516,313, a reduction of $1,206,542, spread throughout the various services.

Dominion lands and parks department of the interior has been reduced by $2,764,058, due to the transfer of the natural resources to the provinces, the services in this department showing the largest reductions are Dominion lands salaries $788,130, forestry $1,027,813, water power $2,225,000.

Railways and canals, collection of revenue, against which the principal charges are the cost of maintenance and repairs of the canals, has been cut from $3,291,500 to $3,000,000.

The outside service of the post office department is included at $86,339,976, a reduction under the sum provided for 1930-31 of $1,372,017. This reduction is due to decreases of $237,894 in salaries and allowances; $707,000 in mail service including mail service by air; and $427,120 in miscellaneous expenses. The largest decrease is a cut of $412,000 in mail service by air.

While the department of trade and commerce shows a net increase of $17,797 the ordinary services carried on by the department have been very considerably reduced. It had been necessary to increase the of statistics by $2,240,000 on account provision for the Dominion bureau of the census.

Adjustment of war claims has been reduced by $522,500 due to an appropriation for reparations claims not being required for 1931-32.

OLD REEL HOUSE WILL DISAPPEAR

Fire Chief Maloney Urges Demolition; Queer "Goings On"

An old landmark of Nelson's hill section, the old building on Observatory street, formerly used as a fire hall, for storing a hose-reel, and more recently as a storehouse for different civic departments, is to be demolished.

The city council Monday night ordered this fate for it, on recommendation of Fire Chief M. H. Maloney, who suggested that "The stunts that are pulled off inside said building would not look very nice in print," and quoted a resident of the street as losing sleep over expecting it to go up in smoke.

A suggestion from Alderman J. B. Gray that the building be reserved for the next Hallowe'en celebration, was pronounced by Chief Maloney not to be practicable.

Arranging for demolition or disposal is in the hands of Chief Maloney.

Masquerades were much in vogue in Europe in the 14th century.

Dr. Wood's

Norway Pine Syrup

Bad Cold On Her Chest Had To Stay In Bed

Mrs. J. C. Winters, Janow, Man., writes:—"I have every reason to praise Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup as it has done me a world of good. I had a very bad cold on my chest, and had to stay in bed two weeks, and could hardly speak on account of coughing so much. I tried every medicine and liniment I could think of, but I got no relief. My husband read about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup so I decided to try it. I took only one bottle and I am ready to recommend it to anyone with a cold."

Price 35c. a bottle; large family size 65c.; at all druggists or dealers; put up only by The T. Milburn Co. Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CRANBROOK TO BE BURIED THERE

VANCOUVER, April 13—The remains of Mrs. Bertha May Doolan, aged 30, wife of Edward Lawrence Doolan, of East Twenty-Fourth, who died Saturday, will be forwarded to Cranbrook, where funeral services and interment will take place.

The deceased, who born in Cranbrook, had resided in British Columbia all her life. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Betty, and a son, Terence, both at home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gill, of Cranbrook, and four brothers and two sisters also survive.

A brother, Pilot Officer S. A. K. Gill, was killed in an airplane crash at Camp Borden, on February 13.

GARBAGE CAUSE OF TROUBLE IN CITY OF TRAIL

Mayor Warns That Collection Charge Likely If No Cooperation

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Promise to charge a garbage collection fee if householders did not co-operate was made in city council tonight. Mayor Bruno LeRose stated that work of garbage collecting was increasing, and the collectors were working overtime. The cost of collection was 25 per cent higher. Mayor LeRose stated householders were not using proper receptacles, and were not leaving the receptacles where they would be easily accessible. He suggested that if this co-operation was not forthcoming it might be necessary to charge 50 cents a month for collection. While aldermen felt that co-operation was absolutely necessary, a charge should be avoided as long as possible. It was pointed out that a motion was on the books instructing the garbage collectors not to lift all receptacles not in conformity with regulations.

CITY DEBARRED FROM IMPROVING LAND TO LEASE

No power is possessed by the city to improve property for the purpose of leasing it to private parties, City Solicitor James O'Shea, K. C., has reported to the city council, thus putting out of court the proposal from Fairview residents, that the city grade and fence a certain tract of eight lots and lease it for 10 years to a club to be formed, for tennis and lawn bowling purposes.

With this opinion, which was more or less expected, in hand, the council decided to offer the tract for purchase by the Fairviewites at $200, or $25 per lot, which Alderman R. W. Dawson declared to be a fair value.

The offer will be communicated to Sid Haydon, who is secretary of the temporary committee, which has nearly 200 young people listed as desiring to join the proposed club.

Mr. O'Shea's report on the point referred to him was as follows:

SOLICITOR'S OPINION

"Replying to your letter of the 8th instant, re proposal of a lawn tennis club in Fairview that the city should improve certain lots owned by it in block 12, Fairview, and lease it to the club for a period of years for its purposes, I do not think the city has the power to acquire, hold, improve and lay out premises for the purpose of leasing same to private individuals or private clubs any more than it could build a house on these lots for the purpose of renting or selling it."

HON. R. W. BRUHN IS HERE FOR A HEAVY TWO-DAY PROGRAM

Then in the afternoon the party will drive down river, first inspecting Taghum hill and the road surveys for the new connection to Taghum bridge, and then the work of elevating the bridge, which is now in progress. The balance of the afternoon will then be spent visiting the river improvement and power plant construction at Corra Linn by the West Kootenay Power & Light company.

SEES LAKE HIGHWAY WEDNESDAY

Wednesday morning the minister will leave about daylight with a party that will probably have three cars, and make the trip from Fraser's Landing to Gray Creek by the Nasookin, which will be making her initial trip on the man lake ferry schedule, which opens that day. The entire day, up to the hour of the Nasookin's last departure from Gray Creek, will be spent in an inspection of the Gray Creek-Kuskanook link, newly constructed, and of the Gray Creek-Pilot Bay section that is to be standardized.

Returning to Nelson for dinner, Hon. Mr. Bruhn will meet the board of trade representatives in a highway conference Wednesday evening.

TRAIL-ROSSLAND THURSDAY

Thursday forenoon the minister will drive over the Nelson-Trail highway to Trail, where he will be the guest of the Trail board of trade at a luncheon at noon. He will spend the rest of the day at Trail and Rossland, and will, of course, inspect the Trail-Rossland highway.

Friday will be devoted to the Slocan, where he will cover as much ground in Captain Fitzsimmons' riding as possible.

"After that," said Mr. Bruhn, "I am due in Revelstoke, and from there will proceed at once to Victoria."

Asked regarding the East Kootenay, the minister said his present expectation was to return from Victoria to Revelstoke after a few days, to inspect the work on the Big Bend highway, and to then proceed to East Kootenay, to spend several days in inspecting the highway work and in meeting the boards of trade.

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES ARE OKAY, ROSSLAND

Council Accepts Figure of $13,191; Lots Sold; Light Petition Received

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 13—The Rossland school board presented to the council this evening an estimate of $13,191 prepared by Engineer C. A. Broderick. It covered necessary repairs. The council formerly disapproved of this addition to the estimates and the bylaw will be prepared for presentation to the electors.

The waterworks extension authorization and debenture bylaws received their first and second readings. These bylaws provide for expenditures of $6000 in renewing various pipelines throughout the city. The fire truck and fire hall improvement authorization and debenture bylaws were also given their first and second readings. These provided for borrowing $9000 to purchase a fire truck, and make necessary repairs to the fire hall.

F. M. Dowling of the British Columbia fire underwriters, wrote stating that if purchase of a fire truck were made, due allowance would be given in the regrading of the city. He also stated that further allowance would be made when underwriters were assured that Rossland's present abundant water supply was a permanent condition and not merely the result of the climate conditions of past winters.

The council endorsed the recommendation of Dr. E. E. Topliff that a local child be admitted to the Queen Alexander solarium.

The offer of $30 from A. Cleverley for a lot adjoining his property on Second avenue was accepted. The offer of $40 from A. Linberg for two lots on Columbia avenue was refused. Lot 5, block 38 was sold to John Whitehead for $25.

A petition for a light on the corner of Spokane street and Thompson avenue was referred to the fire, water and light committee along with one for repairs to the road at that corner to the board of works.

EXTEND WATER SELWYN STREET

Hlookoff and Roynon Will Get Pipe But Must Do Ditching

On the recommendation of City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck, the city council Monday night approved extension of water service to the properties of M. P. Hlookoff and Thomas Roynon, on Selwyn street, which will require about 1150 feet of inch pipe in all, about 350 feet being for Mr. Roynon's portion, Mr. Affleck reported that a third house might also be erected, which would use this line.

The city will lay the pipe, costing about $200, and the owners will dig and back-fill the trench.

OTTAWA HEARS DUPRE ON THE LANGUAGE LAWS

dian soil. Against these laws I must protest, and I hope they will be repealed."

The political school which exhibited justice and broadmindedness was the only one which could be successful in the long run, Mr. Dupre said.

DEFENDS IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

The Imperial conference, to which he was one of the delegates, was referred to by Mr. Dupre. The policies enunciated by Premier Bennett had met with an enthusiastic reception, he said. He maintained that London considered the Canadian delegation one of the strongest that had ever gone across, and British newspapers had supported its policies.

This view was not concurred in by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former minister of agriculture, and veteran member of the house. Mr. Motherwell's speech was punctuated by shafts of sardonic humor, directed at the government. The attitude of the prime minister at the Imperial conference had been "flamhad "spilled the beans" and come boyant, belligerent, bellicose." He home minus the bacon. Then he had gone out to Regina, hailed as a "new emancipator, a new Abe Lincoln," and had delivered a speech which was "humbug and piffle." It contained nothing hopeful for the western farmer.

Mr. Bennett's efforts to sell Canadian wheat were also criticised by Mr. Motherwell. The premier had gone to Paris, with the result that France had bought only half of her purchase last year. He had negotiated with China, and Australia had secured the business. Mr. Motherwell wanted to know why the government was reluctant to peg the price of wheat when it was low. He maintained that in 1917 and 1918, when the price was high, the government of that day was very willing to peg it so it would go no higher.

C. N. R. LINES IN EAST HAVE SEVEN MILLIONS DEFICIT

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP)— Net deficit of the Canadian National railways on its eastern lines was $7,272,057.43 for 1930, according to the annual report of the system presented to the house of commons today. The operating deficit was $4,429,062, compared with $3,187,375 for 1929.

The report says: "The statement on operation of the eastern lines of the Canadian National railways, covering the mileage east of Levis and Diamond Junction shows gross revenues of $28,598,553 in 1930, a decrease of $2,019,453. Operating expenses were $33,028,515 in 1930, a reduction of $786,866 from the 1929 figures.

DOUKHOBOR LADY HURT IN FIELDS AT SLOCAN PARK

Rock Dislodges From Bank Striking Mrs. John Glagoloff

Working in a field at Slocan Park Mrs. John Glagoloff, a Doukhobor lady, was struck on her head by a boulder which was dislodged from a bank above her. She received a nasty gash which necessitated several stitches.

Dr. J. P. Gussin and F. E. Howell made the trip to Slocan Park and brought her to the Kootenay Lake General hospital here in Howell's ambulance.

FIRE LOSS, TRAIL FOR MONTH MARCH AMOUNTS TO $198

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Report of Fire Chief A. A. MacDonald for March showed 130 inspections and eight orders under the Fire Marshals' act, with no appeals. There were three fire alarms in the month involving buildings and contents valued at $43,555, on which insurance was $11,000. Damage to buildings was $168, and to contents $30. Causes of the fires were defective stove pipe thimble, careless smoker, and washing clothes in gasoline near a stove.

A. A. Dowling of the Fire Underwriters' association, who made an investigation in the city in March, examined the members of the department in action and orally, all measuring up to requirements. The engineer also commented upon cooperation by telephone.

STAMP ATTEMPTS IDENTIFY SHORT SELLER OF WHEAT

Thinks "Long" Speculators Are Local Investors; "Shorts" Scattered

WINNIPEG, Man., April 13. (By Gillis Purcell, Canadian Press staff writer)—Mystery-cloaked identity of the "short seller" during a "bull" market on wheat was sought today by Sir Josiah Stamp, famed British economist, as chairman of the royal commission probing the effect of futures trading on the price of grain. Sir Josiah quizzed grain-dealers and bankers during the first day's session of an inquiry to be completed in two weeks.

Seven witnesses, all summoned by Winnipeg grain exchange, testified to the need for futures trading in grain dealing, and to the benefits conferred on the primary producer by the purchase or sale of grain for future delivery. Grain men stated that speculators, on the whole, lose out on their dealings to the farmers' advantage; bankers claimed that abolition of the option market would seriously affect financing of the grain movement.

STAMP HAS GREAT KNOWLEDGE

But Sir Josiah focussed his attention—backed by amazing knowledge of futures trading gained in only a few days on shipboard en route from London—on the cause of a bull market's frenzied rise. He was told that 90 to 95 per cent of speculators are "long", betting on a rise in prices, and he sought out the identity of the "short" seller, who, by hypothesis of the grain exchange's clearing-house system, must balance the buyers on the other side.

From the evidence so far adduced, Sir Josiah has formulated a provisional hypothesis — that "long" speculators are largely local investors, and that "short" sellers are spread throughout the world. But he sought in vain for statistical substantiation of the theory, since the Winnipeg grain exchange does not keep records of its transactions, and dealer-witnesses were unable to give the identity of the selling interest balancing the "bull" pressure. Tomorrow, James A. Richardson, one of the most prominent of Canada's grain dealers, is expected to take the stand to offer his explanation.

AUTHORIZE EXTENSION OF TRAIL SIDEWALK

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Extension of a sidewalk on Oak street was authorized by the city council tonight.

New Welland Canal Bank Section Caves in

UNDERMINED BY THAW AND WEIGHTED DOWN BY SNOW, SIDE SLIPS AWAY

The photograph reproduced above shows a section of the new Welland canal bank between Dain City and Welland South, Ont., which, undermined by thaws and weighted down by recent heavy snow layers, crashed down into the canal. Six poles carrying wires along the canal side were also carried away with the slide, as seen in the photograph. Workmen are now employed in attempting to repair the damage.

Legion Secretary Addresses Members Invermere Branch

INVERMERE, B. C., April 13.—On Tuesday R. Macnicol, provincial secretary of the Canadian Legion, paid a visit to the Windermere district branch. He was met by the local secretary, T. Turner, and by Mr. Lee of the experimental farm, who entertained him during the afternoon.

Before the regular business was entered upon, Mr. Cleland, on behalf of Colonel Dennis, presented to the Legion an historic weapon in the shape of an blunderbus used by the North West Trading compan for the defense of Fort Ellis, and probably dating back to the days when David Thompson was travelling around in 1807.

Mr. Cleland was thanked by the members, and a letter of thanks was sent to Colonel Dennis. Mr. Macnicol addressed the meeting, and in a very able and concise speech, listened to intently by his audience, discussed the achievements of the Canadian Legion up to date, as well as dealing with the problems which are likely to confront it in the future.

Several new members were presented with badges. Mr. Macnicol informed the meeting that Golden was about to make another effort to start a branch. About 65 sat down to a light supper.

There are now 111 branches of the Canadian Legion in British Columbia, with a membership of 80,000 in Canada.

Mr. Macnicol left by train for the south on Wednesday morning.

JAY WALKERS IN WINNIPEG OBJECT TO LATEST LAW

WINNIPEG, April 13. (CP)—The city council has passed a bylaw aiming to control pedestrian traffic in the Manitoba capital. Pedestrians are now required to cross all arterial highways only at intersections, whether the blocks on the street in question are long or short. They are liable to be hailed to the police court and fined if they cross arterial highways except at the intersections, where signals are installed. The object of the bylaw is to allow motorcars and street cars on the one hand, and pedestrians on the other, reasonable facilities for using the streets.

Commenting on the bylaw the Manitoba Free Press says: "If the bylaw is to be of any use at all it must be enforced at those places where it is particularly needed, and at those times when it is needed. Strictly speaking, any person is liable for crossing at the wrong place at any hour of the day or night and regardless of the presence or absence of traffic.

"Commonsense will no doubt be used in enforcing the new control of pedestrians. In determining a reasonable rate of speed for motorcars, all the circumstances are taken into account. It is to be assumed that something of the same sort of discretion will be used in regard to the control of pedestrian traffic."

Insects, fungi, windfall and other destructive agencies destroy more than 800,000,000 cubic feet of merchantable timber in Canada every year—almost as much as that destroyed by fire—R. J. Gourley, chairman of Manitoba's industrial development board, declared.

ANNUAL FLOWERS ARE USEFUL FOR LOCAL GARDENS

Annual flowers are very useful in any garden. In the new one they can be used freely so as to have abundance of bloom the first season, while the more permanent plants are growing. In an established garden they are needed to fill up bare spaces left by the early-flowering bulbs, and varieties that bloom late in the summer should be chosen for this purpose. Where space permits, rows can be grown in the vegetable garden so as to provide flowers for cutting without taking them from the borders.

The seeds can be sown in specially prepared beds and transplanted into their permanent quarters, or they can be sown where they are to bloom. The beds should be made in a well-drained situation and the ground should be well dug and raked, and the surface soil made fine. Shallow drills about six inches apart should be drawn across the bed and the seeds sown thinly in these. Very fine seeds, like poppies, need only a sprinkling of fine soil over them, but large seeds like sunflowers should be covered with one-half to one inch of soil, according to their size. The soil should be pressed down gently after covering the seed. If the seedlings are not too thick they can be left in the seed-bed until large enough to plant out in their permanent position. It is, however, desirable in many cases to transplant the seedlings once into rows before putting them into the flower beds. For anyone who has not time to transplant the seedlings and for the plants which resent interference after starting into growth, the seed can be sown in the borders. Be sure to sow very thinly and thin out severely so that each seedling has room to grow to its full size. There are a large number of varieties of annuals that can be sown outdoors but the 112 mentioned here are among the easiest to grow.

Alyssum is a dwarf growing plant suitable for edgings. It makes a neat border, covered with clusters of small white flowers. In August, when it is beginning to look untidy, the tops should be cut off with shears and in a few days it will be full of bloom again, and will keep in good condition until severe frost. Sow where it has to bloom.

Calendula, the pot marigold, has medium - sized, double daisy - like flowers in shades of yellow and orange.

Cornflower (centaurea cyanus) is easily grown from seed and will thrive in quite poor soil. There are single and double varieties in various shades of blue, pink and white. Sow where it has to bloom.

Dimorphotheca is a dwarf plant with brilliantly colored, daisy-like flowers in shades of lemon, yellow and orange.

Larkspur can now be obtained in many shades of pink, rose, lavender, purple and white. It grows from one to two feet, and the long flower spikes are useful for cutting.

Linaria resembles a small snapdragon and comes in various colors.

Mignonette is not very brilliant in color, but the fragrance is so delightful it should be in every garden. Sow where it has to bloom.

Nasturtium is too well-known to need any description. Sow where it has to bloom.

Phlox Drummondii has a straggling habit of growth. It is very floriferous, and blooms until severe frost. It can be obtained in many shades of pink, purple, chamois and white.

Poppy — There are the Shirleys, with their beautiful silky petals in shades of red, pink and salmon, and the varieties of papaver somniferum, such as the peony-flowered and the Mikado. Sow where it has to bloom.

Sweet peas do best when the ground has been prepared in the fall, but if this was not done, dig the ground well and mix in some bone meal and superphosphate before sowing the seeds. They are useful for making screens and growing up fences, or they can be trained into pyramids in the flower border. Sow where it has to bloom.

Sunflowers are one of the easiest annuals to grow from seed sown in the position where they have to bloom. There are a great number of kinds, varying in height and size of flower.

Manhattan Night

By William Almon Wolff

SYNOPSIS

Peter Wayne and Tack Thayer had been college mates at Yale. Thayer was shot to death in his penthouse. After being questioned by Inspector Connolly, Thayer's wife, Martha, had been permitted to go to the home of Wayne's sister Carol, Mrs. Steve Wentworth, although Connolly suspected Martha and Evan Ross. Martha was in love with Ross and Peter was in love hopelessly with Martha. Detective Sergeant Charley Mitchell quizzed Peter roughly at the Thayer penthouse but when he called later at Peter's apartment was a different Charley, and Peter's first instinct was to thrust, even like this roughneck, Charley said he did not believe Martha and Ross guilty, and asked Peter to work with him, saying that to solve the mystery wouldn't hurt him at headquarters. Through George Prentice, lawyer for Henry Cameron, Martha's father, and Peter's brother-in-law, Steve Wentworth, also a lawyer, Peter retained Arthur Bouton, famous as a former assistant district-attorney, to defend Martha. When Peter recalled an incident at Emma's night club, involving Martha, Bouton said it indicated blackmail. Ross had disappeared immediately after the murder but Connolly appeared at the Wentworth home demanding that he see Martha. He said Ross was in custody and had made a statement.

INSTALMENT XVIII

"We'll call it a statement—for the minute," said Connolly. "Whatever he may have said—and you'll understand, Mr. Wayne, that in a business like this I can't always talk freely as I'd like to—it's important for me to see Mrs. Thayer at once. You'll be well advised to do what you can to arrange that."

There couldn't be any doubt now of the threatening quality of the Irishman's voice. He was still suave and polite, but he talked, for the first time, like a man whose doubts had been resolved, who was completely the master of the situation in which he found himself.

"But I can't do anything," said Peter. "Mrs. Thayer is being kept quiet by the doctor's orders. He gave he an opiate of some sort this morning, and there hasn't been time, I imagine, for it to wear off. My sister explained that to you, didn't she?"

Connolly nodded. His eyes fixed themselves on Peter, in a direct and compelling stare.

"I understand all that," he said. "Mr. Wayne—I know more than I'm saying, maybe, I'm sorry for you. You're in a different situation. I'd like to help you. I'd like to help Mrs. Thayer. But—I must see her."

The doorbell rang just then. Peter and Connolly both turned, at the sound, and a moment later Jimmy Watson walked in.

"Here's Dr. Watson now, inspector," said Peter, and introduced the two men. "You'd better talk to the doctor."

Jimmy Watson listened to Connolly's explanation of his need to see Martha. Then he shook his head.

"I can't allow that, I'm afraid," he said. "If you'll wait a moment I'll take a look at her."

Connolly, reluctant, but oppressed a little, in spite of himself, by the authority of a doctor who was among the leaders of the profession, agreed to that. Peter was beginning to understand what had made Connolly hald his hand so far, The police of course didn't very often come in contact, in their work, with people of the sort who appeared at every turn in this case; people of wealth, of social and financial importance, people with far-reaching connections that might for all Connolly knew, extend to the mysterious political potentates upon whom not only his future but his tenure of his present extremely desirable post depended.

And Jimmy Watson, just by chance was dressed for the part he was playing, in a cutaway coat and trousers that even Peter had noticed with a certain admiring envy. He had been a speaker, Peter learned later at some medical congress during the afternoon. He came back after a few minutes, during which Peter and Connolly hadn't exchanged a word.

"It's as I thought," he said. "Mrs. Thayer is asleep, and I will not assume the responsibility of allowing her to be awakened. Her sleep isn't normal, you understand, inspector, but one induced by drugs; even if she were aroused, she would be quite incapable of talking to you rationally, or understand any questions you asked her."

"I'd like to decide that for myself, doctor," said Connolly, obstinately. "I've got authority—"

"Authority be damned!" said Jimmy Watson. "I'm dealing with medical facts, inspector, and there my authority is greater than yours. I'll guarantee that Mrs. Thayer will wake up tomorrow morning in full possession of all her faculties. You will have to wait until then, and that's all there is to it."

Deadly as he felt this game was, high though he knew its stakes to be, Peter couldn't help enjoying the spectacle of Connolly, with all the weight and power of the law and eighteen thousand policemen behind him, being put in his place by Jimmy Watson.

For the moment it seemed to be stalemate; Watson was the one now who was suave and unconcerned; Connolly was flushed and angry. And again, in the critical moment, there was an interruption—caused, this time, by the arrival of Steve Wentworth and Arthur Bouton.

Bouton nodded, with a certain condescension, to Connolly — who had, Peter knew, taken orders from the lawyer more than once in the past.

"Good evening, inspector," he said. "What's on your mind?"

"He's insisting on seeing my patient—and he can't!" said Watson.

"I must," said Connolly, heavily. "We've got Ross, Mr. Bouton, and he's made a statement. You'll understand—"

"I understand that Dr. Watson's decision in a matter like this is final," said Bouton, interrupting, sharply. "How soon can Mrs. Thayer see the inspector, Jimmy?"

"In the morning. She'll be as right as rain by that time."

"And, meanwhile, she's bound to stay where she is, Connolly. What's the matter with you?"

"I know my duty Mr. Bouton—and so do you. None better. You'd have held me responsible for doing it in your time—just as Mr. Barclay does now."

"Of course—of course. But my point is that since Mrs. Thayer is not able to talk, your duty won't be neglected if you wait 12 hours. Mrs. Thayer is my client, but I haven't seen her yet myself."

"Your client, sir? Why? Mrs. Thayer doesn't need a lawyer like yourself."

"No? That may be a matter of opinion, Connolly. At any rate, I'm acting for her. And you can't see her tonight."

"I can if I choose," said Connolly. "She may not be able to speak, but I can put an officer in her room—after I've satisfied myself that she can't talk."

"Possibly," Bouton agreed. "Assuming that you get a warrant. But I don't think you'll do that. Where's the fire? You say you've found Ross? And that he's made a statement? What sort of a statement? A confession?"

"That is my business, Mr. Bouton."

"Quite. Is Ross under arrest? Is he being detained?"

"I don't have to answer that, either."

"As you please. You know that I can find out in five minutes—and know how. You can't hold a man without due process, Connolly—and due process means publicity."

Connolly looked at Bouton, aggrieved.

"Ross isn't under arrest—yet," he said. "He's talking to Mr. Barclay, over in 51st street. The chances are he won't be held tonight. He's a material witness, but—"

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old short skirts conform to the new length was a problem to me until I hit on this plan. I dropped the hems; and as the part that had been turned under was darker than the rest, I redyed the entire dress, after having bleached the goods, following directions in the Diamond Dyes package.

"I used Diamond Dyes for the redyeing, of course. I have dyed many things with these wonderful colors. They have saved me many dollars and have never failed to give perfect results—smooth, even colors—fast to wear and washing. Friends think my things are new when I redye or tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors!"

Headliners Discuss Marriage, Divorce and Love

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

An Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Francis X. Bushman, as you very likely saw in the papers, has put himself on the auction block, matrimonially speaking, and agrees to marry a woman who can pay his price. Yes—it's the same Bushman who with draperies flying drove in the chariot race in Ben Hur.

"What is so dreadful about offering myself for sale?" inquired the one-time "King of Romance." "Is it any worse than the position of the chinless, brainless society youth who contrives to marry the daughter of wealthy parents and let them support him, as long as daughter is content?"

To which one feels terribly inclined to pull a platitude—the very ancient one about two wrongs not making a right.

Bushman goes on to say that his "purchaser will be pleased with her bargain because there will be a complete absence of love between them. That's the secret of the gigolo's success. He is polite at all times and lovers are jealous. Wives are jealous of their husbands and husbands are jealous of their wives—so in a marrying for money there but pleasant comradeship and understanding."

Without much effort one might start a new parlor game on that statement—marriages for money that have blown up in the divorce court with attendant scandals and sometimes shooting. The prize (not Mr. Bushman, of course) would go to the player who would remember the greatest number of fractured romances that had money for their object.

Now along come Burnita Shelton Matthews, clever woman lawyer and noted feminist. Miss Matthews, who is married (she's a Lucy Stoner) and the former president of the American Association of Women Lawyers says she "believes that divorce laws should be liberalized so couples of moderate circumstances can obtain divorces cheaply and quickly."

But with one marriage in every six going on the rocks, and states bidding against each other for "quick and easy" divorces, it seems to me that the business of "taking my little dishes and going home" is doing quite as well as could be expected.

And when the welfare of children is to be considered, isn't the pace of American divorce just a bit too hectic?

The trouble seems to be THRILL-SEEKING! Women standing with reluctant feet at the double-chin age expect their hearts to bound every time they hear their husband's latchkey rattle in the lock.

And men, who suggest the old-fashioned comic valentines, hug the delusion that they are still capable of bewitching young girls. The gold-diggers' grin they interpret as a tribute to their charms. At the expense of their children's welfare, their own standing and the fact that their romance is funnier to onlookers than the comics, they hug the delusion of being sheiks.

Paul Whiteman, pioneer of concert jazz, celebrates his third divorce with remarks which suggest sour grape concentrate. He thinks "marriage is a middle-class institution that works best for the average mode—somewhere between the hod-carrier and the banker." Mr. Whiteman qualified his statement by saying he "never had a home." It seems almost superfluous to point out that homes are still to be had.

And then there is the charming actress, Edna Best, who fled Hollywood and cinema love scenes with John Gilbert because she was lonesome for her husband. This seems to fulfill Dana's definition of news, which you remember, no doubt. The great editor of the New York Sun said if a dog bites a man that's not news, but if a man bites a dog, it is. Miss Best's rush back to her husband's arms, in this divorce era, comes pretty near being news.

The Beauty Box

BY Helen Follett

Pity the poor prodigal daughter who carries her fatted calves with her. She hates her bulky legs. She longs for those slender, deer-like ankles sported with so much vanity by the slimpy sisters. Let her lie flat on her noble back, lift her feet in the air and pedal an imaginary bicycle. High kicking is a good stunt. It stirs muscles to action and the muscles kick off adipose tissue. Gymnasiums are equipped with electrical machines for deg reducing that jiggle dimensions down to normal. Massage will help, if continued long enough.

Old age is entitled to wrinkles which are not always disfiguring, but young and middle aged women should be ashamed to let their portraits go to the wrinkle bowlwows. It is a question of prevention. At night, after bathing the face, apply a heavy cream, one that gives resistence to the finger tips. Pat the skin surface briskly with the finger ends, using them like hammers. Slap with the flattened palms. Begin the ray, every day, with a cold water facial tubbing.

Any thing that keeps the scalp warm interferes with the growth of the hair. Heat is depleting. Girls who wear their hats all day will find their topcrests wilty and depressed. At least once a week the hair should have a sun bath and the scalp be rubbed briskly for 10 or 15 minutes. Brushing cleans the hair, but is no special stimulant to the growth.

Time to get arms in condition for the summer season, since leeveless frocks will be all the go. Annoint with a cream, sprinkle on almond meal, cover with turkish towels that have been wrung out of hot water. Keep on for 10 minutes, bathe with tepid water and give a massage with talcum powder. The effects of this arm treatment are marvelous.

When tweezing away wild hairs about the eyebrows, begin with hot compresses. The hairs will be removed more quickly and with less lacomfort. Buy tweezer with rounded points—they take a firmer hold.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES

Miss F.: "How shall I clean and remove stains from a porcelain bathtub?"

Answer:: Any fine abrasive may be used to clean porcelain, or you may apply kerosene oil. Stains, however, may have to be bleached out with a solution of one part muriatic acid (a poison) mixed with ten parts water, and applied with a swab of cotton tied to a stick. Rinse well with ammonia and water to check the action of the acid on the glazed finish with a good rinsing of clear cold water.

Mrs. H. L.: "Please tell me of a good game to play at a Briday Shower in a living room where there is not much room to move around?"

Answer: Trousseau Game: Distribute pencils and sheets of paper to the seated guests and see who can, in five minutes, write down the longest list of articles which go into a trousseau or linen chest. Why not send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my new printed page of "Party Games for All Ages," which might also give you some good game suggestions? I will gladly send this page, as well as another new one on "Popular Cakes and Desserts" to any reader of this column (free, of course) who sends a stamp for return postage.

Mrs M. D.: "How can I make jelly out of bottled Grapejuice?"

Answer: Either with gelatine (following directions from gelatine cook booklets), or else with the manufactured bottled pectin sold at grocery stores under a trade name (which I cannot mention, as that would be advertising). You know, "pectin" is that gummy substance found in apples, currants, and a few other fruits in abundance, which makes a jelly "jell." Here is another way to make grapejuice jelly: Slice unpared, uncored apples, cover with water, and simmer till soft; turn juice through a strainer, and to each cup of this juice add one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of streng (undiluted) bottled grapejuice. Boil till jelly stage is reached, then turn while hot into hot sterilized glasses and when cold cover with melted paraffine.

* * *

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday at high mass at Francis Xavier church when Rose, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gerace, Government road, was united in marriage to Sylvio Romano of this city, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gino Romano, of St. Stefano Del Sale, Italy. Rev. Leo A. Hobson performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charmingly attired in a dress of bridal satin made on long flared lines and reaching to the ankles. Over this she wore an embroidered silk veil held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls. White shoes and hose completed the ensemble. Her shower bouquet was of roses, white and pink carnations and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by Miss Eda Vetere of Rossland as chief bridesmaid. Miss Vetere chose a dress of gold silk lace made on new, fashionable lines and wore hat and accessories to match. Miss Gilda Pace of Spokane was second bridesmaid. Her dress was of maize silk chiffon reaching to the ankles, with hat to tone.

Miss Liando Gerace and Miss Alice Gerace, sisters of the bride, as maids of honor were lovely in their dresses of pale green silk taffeta with hats to match. Each attendent carried a bouquet of carnations and lilies of the valley.

The senior choir supplied bridal music.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at Cristoforo Colombs hall, where Mrs. J. Gerace assisted in receiving the guests. She chose an ensemble of wine colored flat crepe, with corresponding hat. The table, beautifully arranged, was centered by a three-tier wedding cake which was cut by the bride. Mrs. Masci and Mrs. Marche poured. While Miss Delphina Vetere, Miss Dora Romano, Miss Eda Romano, Miss Helen Desantis, Miss Eva Rosso, Miss Victoria Ruelle, and Miss Ethel Vetere assisted in serving.

Among the guests from Rossland were Mr. and Mrs. J. Albo and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Vetere and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerace, and family, Mrs. N. Leface and family, Mr. Pete Corado and family, Mr. and Mrs V. Romano and family, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Maglio and family were present from Nelson. Guests from Spokane were Mrs. J. Surino, Mrs Paol and daughter Gilda, Miss Rose Laraglo, Mrs. J. Via, A. Albo and J. Zatt.

Mr. and Mrs. Romano will take up residence on Rossland avenue.

FITZSIMMONS IS OPTIMISTIC AS TO COUNTRY'S FUTURE

Legion Officials and the Gyro Governor Speakers at Gyro Luncheon

Robert Macnicol, provincial secretary of the Canadian Legion, H. E. Thain, secretary and manager of the local branch, Captain James Fitzsimmons, M.P.P. for Kaslo-Slocan riding, and R. E. Crerar, governor of district eight Gyros were speakers at a well attended gathering of the Gyro club in the newly remodelled Canadian Legion hall Monday evening. Musical entertainment was provided by J. Davidson, secretary of eight Gyro district.

Captain James Fitzsimmons, main speaker for the evening, spoke optimistically of the future. He congratulated the Gyros for the splendid work which they were doing.

He urged the members to stand behind the present provincial administration in its efforts to cope with present conditions. He also petitioned the mambers to assist in the campaign for the stabilization of the silver market.

Captain Fitzsimmons paid a tribute to the statesmen of the past who had helped to build up the country. "It is our duty to hold a warm spot in our hearts for those, who, without thought of political gains, built up this wonderful country of ours." He urged all to look upon the welfare of the country in the same unselfish attitude. "We should be wrapped up in the future of Canada and it should be our sincerest desire to make the most of our prosperous young country," he declared.

Residents of British Columbia might think that they were having hard times but they were not to be compared with other parts of the world. These countries were looking forward with optimism. "It is up to the citizens of the province of British Columbia to do so also," he stated.

"Depression cannot last forever. It will not be long before we will see the mines in operation, mills running and the lumber business flourishing," he concluded.

Robert Macnicol, provincial secretary of the Canadian Legion, congratulated the club on its activities and spoke on the work which was being done by the other service clubs. Mr. Macnicol is a member of the Lions club of Vancouver.

Mr. Thain spoke on the advance of the local branch of the Legion.

R. E. Crerar, past president of the local Gyro club and governor of Gyro district No. eight, gave a short resume of his trip east, where he went to pay his official visit to the various clubs.

CRANBROOK CLUB FLOURISHES

Mr. Crerar spoke of the progressiveness of the Cranbrook club. The construction of a pool at that city by the Gyros has been an incentive to the community and a larger membership resulted despite the fact that conditions were unfavorable he said. When the Canadian Pacific railway had removed the divisional point from that city, Mr. Crerar expected that it would result in a loss of membership, and he was afraid that the Cranbrook club would have to be affiliated with the Fernie one. But this did not occur.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The program included two vocal solos by Miss Dorothea Graham, and two vocal solos by J. C. Hooker. Both singers were accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Ball. Mr. Hooker's songs were of a humorous nature.

Al Hodgson delighted the members in a humorous tak-off on a "Cockney's" impression of the prevailing conditions of the country.

Harold Brown rendered two piano numbers.

Out on the west coast of Vancouver Island, where herring are manufactured into oil and fertilizer, the run of fish has been the greatest in 10 years during the last few weeks. The reduction works have been operating night and day.

He Knows What to Take for Pains in the Back

Manitoba Man Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. J. Stasiuk Is Very Thankful of the Benefits He Received

ASHVILLE, Man., April 14—(Special)—"I am writing to tell you what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me," states John Stasiuk, who resides at this place. "I have suffered with pains in my back for a long time. Have used different medicines but they failed to help me. One of my friends told me about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I tried them and found that they were helping me. I used a little less than one box. My pains vanished and have never returned. I am very thankful to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

It is astounding how many people go on suffering day after day with aches and pains, backaches and rheumatism. They suffer because they are not aware of the fact that they can get relief. Strengthen the kidneys, which are the source of the trouble and these pains vanish. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the Kidneys.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS HELD AT FORKS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark Entertain at Their Lonely Ranch Home

GRAND FORKS, B. C., April 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark entertained at their lovely ranch home the other evening in honor of their silver wedding anniversary, having been married at Killarney, Manitoba, 25 years ago. About 30 sat down at a splendidly arranged dinner and later in the evening about 200 were entertained at a dance. The home of the Clarks, recently built, is one of the first half dozen in the district with thoroughly modern appointments throughout, spacious rooms and attractive surroundings. Among the neat outbuildings is a large packing house which possesses a fine dancing floor and it was in this that the large number of guests, many coming long distances, were so delightfully entertained. Features among the program were some step-dancing by Robert Lawson, one of the pioneer and very successful fruit-growers, who amazed all with his splendid footwork; Miss Jean Murray danced a Scotch reel; Pat McKelvey gave a snappy Irish jig and Miss Ann Starchuk appeared in a striking Russian ballet number.

At the dinner gathering the health of Mr. and Mrs. Clark was proposed by Mr. C. F. R. Pincott and Mayor E. C. Henniger and heartily drunk. A. H. Eureby was toastmaster and called on others present who felicitated the bride and groom of a quarter century ago.

Although the guests had not been made aware until their arrival at the dinner of the nature of the occasion, they were alive to the occasion and messages were sent to town and later Mr. and Mrs. Clark were made the recipients of several lovely pieces of silverware, including two cabinets of flatware.

½ teaspoon Magic Soda
2 tablespoons milk or water

Mix and sift together the dry ingredients. Cream butter, add sugar and well-beaten eggs and vanilla. Then add one-third of the flour mixture, fruit and nuts. Add more flour and liquid alternately until all are used up. Mix thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased shallow pan and bake in moderate oven over 15 to 20 minutes.

This recipe and dozens of other equally delightful ones are listed in the new Free Magic Cook Book. If you bake at home, write to Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, and a copy will be sent to you.

Welcome to the Minister of Public Works

Honorable W. R. Bruhn, minister of public works for the province of British Columbia, arrived in Nelson last night with Patrick Philip, deputy minister. Nelson and district welcome the minister who only recently assumed the portfolio of public works. His present visit is the first to the district in that capacity.

Naturally every Kootenay center at which the minister will stop will present to him the needs of that particular district as far as public works are concerned.

In Nelson Mr. Bruhn will meet members of the Nelson board of trade whose prime object will be to show the minister the need of completion of the trans-provincial highway which will not only be a distinct advantage to this district, but to the province as a whole.

While in the Kootenays Mr. Bruhn will meet businessmen of ability whose arguments will be sane, safe and sound.

Canada's Fine Record of Bank Safety

Some time ago the Financial Post published comparative figures of bank failures in the United States and Canada. It was shown that in the past thirty years there have been 8500 bank failures in the United States with liabilities of $3,750,000,000, while in Canada there have been only twelve failures with liabilities of less than $73,000,000. On a per capita basis liabilities in the United States have been four times as heavy as those in Canada.

Even these figures do less than justice to Canada, for included in the Canadian list of bank insolvencies are two institutions that were wound up but that never suspended payment for a day. These were the Sovereign and Ontario banks. At no time did any depositor in these two banks ever experience any delay in the withdrawal of his funds. As the liabilities of these two banks made up very close to half the total represented in the Canadian insolvencies, it would be more correct to say that Canadian bank failures have represented only about one seventh as much as is represented by the American record.

British Engineering Leads World

When Kaye Don drove his motor boat through the water the other day at a little more than 103 miles an hour he recaptured for Great Britain a record for his type of speed test which Sir Henry Segrave set on the fateful day last year when he met his and which, in turn, was beaten by Gar Wood, the American, who, by the way, has announced that he intends to have a shot at the new mark set by Don. Segrave's speed in the boat used by Don was a little more than ninety-eight miles an hour and Wood's rather better than 102 miles an hour, giving the new holder a margin of a mile.

With Don's latest triumph the triple speed record is still held by Great Britain. The official speed which won the Schneider cup seaplane race in 1929 stands at 357 miles an hour while a few days later Flying Officer Atcherly sent his small craft through the air at 368 miles an hour, the fastest a human being has traveled by any means of transportation. Then came the feats of Segrave and Campbell at Daytona Beach, the former setting a new land record when his strange motor car covered the prescribed stretch at 231 miles an hour, to be bettered by the latter recently whose machine hit up the amazing land speed of a little more than 245 miles an hour. These three triumphs, therefore, furnish proof to the world that British engineering skill, to say nothing of the element of adventure which enters into all such undertakings, is a match for all comers.

Figures furnished by the Powell River company and Pacific Mills, Limited, indicate that newsprint production in British Columbia last year was valued at nearly $12,000,000.

Newsprint to the amount of 277,000 tons was manufactured by these two companies during the past year, representing a considerable increase in tonnage as compared with 1929. Pacific Mills production was down to some extent owing to the freeze-up and power shortage early in the spring.

It is probable that newsprint output during the present year will be the highest on record as a result of the completion of the new Lois River development of the Powell River company which will enable that company to average about 620 tons daily as compared with 500 tons the previous year. The No. 7 machine of Powell River company has been in operation since the beginning of the year.

Seen and Heard in NELSON

(By J. B. C.)

It appears, or has been told that Lee McBride, playing golf one day with three friends, followed a particularly slow foursome with a habit of holding long and intimate discussions on every green. Coming to a short hole, the confab lasted for a full 10 minutes, and the McBride group reached the last stages of nervous exasperation.

"Outrageous," J. M. Gordon is said to have exclaimed at last, stepping out on the tee. "I'm going to shoot."

"I wouldn't," advised Mr. McBride. "You might miss them.

Did you ever have the blues? A person must get them every once in a while. It is just a case of feeling out of sorts with the world and everything in general. You sit down to work, and you do it. But you do it with a feeling that if you could possibly get out of it, you would certainly do so. You kick the wastepaper basket, and grunt at the rest of the boys in the office. Everything seems wrong, but everyone around you seems jovial enough. It's a queer feeling. Down the street you meet friends with a curt "How do you do." Your best friend seems a bore and an ass. In fact, you feel like going down to the wharf and jumping off. But why? Springtime blues are here again.

* * *

Then after you have the attack for a time you begin to wonder what it is all about. After feeling sorry for yourself for some hours you suddenly come to. Now that is right. It has happened before and will happen again. But why get the blues? I don't know. Just a state of mental attitude we sometimes go through. When you get the blues just hit yourself a "bing on the back." Take a look at yourself in the mirror. Then if you do not disagree with your appearance and the general picture painted by the mirror, there must be something wrong. If you detect there is something wrong, figure it out for yourself. Get over the blues. If you can't see something wrong, visit a doctor. He may at least prescribe something that may save your life. It would also save your correspondent or some other newspaperman the task of having to write up a suicide. Kick the blues a blow in the pants. Cheer up! Even if you do live to be 100 you'll be dead a long time. So endeth the first lesson.

Often have we read and heard discussed the subject of companionate marriage. Here's a close rival—companionate divorce. It all happened in San Francisco.

* * *

Sanctioned by a superior court, a companionate separation through divorce which retains the semblance of a family organization for the benefit of growing children was entered into by Maud E. Coleman and her husband, R. C. Coleman, salesman.

* * *

The Colemans, their agreement indicated, will live in the same home for the next five years, although Mrs. Coleman was given a divorce from Coleman on mental cruelty grounds. For the same period of time they will use the same automobile, the wife during the week and the husband on Sunday.

* * *

Coleman was given custody of the 16-year-old son. At the end of five years the family property is to be sold and the money divided unless some other arrangement is reached in the meantime.

The Colemans were married in Illinois in 1910.

Well people of the Kootenay, we are becoming famous. We are gaining acclaim across Canada and the United States, and all because some Sons of Freedom women decided to undress and battle local provincial police offices a week or so ago. The report of this demonstration has fallen under the eyes of none other than the famous paragrapher and moving picture idol, Will Rogers.

* * *

Will must have been inspired by the report. For here is what he says in one of his copyrighted paragraphs which are syndicated to numerous United States and Canadian papers:

"BEVERLEY HILLS, Cal.—Say did you read in the papers about a bunch of women up in British Columbia as a protest against high taxes, sit out in the open naked, and they wouldn't put their clothes on? The authorities finally turned a sprayer that you use on trees on 'em. That may lead into quite a thing. Woman comes into the tax office nude saying I won't pay. Well, they can't search her and get anything. It sounds great. How far is it to British Columbia?"

* * *

Poor Will Rogers. How disappointed he would be were he to find his way to this portion of British Columbia and then miss a nude parade. But although this kind of publicity we are getting may not be the best that can be got, if we could get Rogers into this district he might do us a lot of good along other lines. But Bill, like other paragraphers, has to find a wisecrack every day. He might just as well pick on the Doukhobors as on anyone else.

When Big Bertha Roared

General Pershing's story of the great war which has been running serially in several western papers and the annivehsary of the Big Push which might have brought the struggle to a disastrous close for the allies at the end of March, 1918, recall to the writer a visit he paid to the American army in France at that anxious time. Armed with official credentials and an invitation from the American general headquarters, three of us found ourselves in Paris. The party included Tom Blaylock, the well-known Ottawa Press Gallery correspondent, who now represents the Toronto Mail and Empire, but then served the Montreal Gazette; F. A. Mackenzie, an old countryman who acted as overseas correspondent for the Toronto Star; and the writer, representing the Telegram.

GERMANS TOO CLOSE TO PARIS

It was the morning of Good Friday, March 29th, when we emerged from our hotel adjacent to the Grand Boulevards—and it was a very black Friday for Paris. Just a few days previously the Germans had smashed a great hole in the allied lines, driving back the Fifth British army and the adjacent French, for miles. The blow ha dbeen terrific and unexpected and the enemy forces were now dangerously close to the fortifications of Paris. Thousands of women, children and male civilians had been hastily evacuated from the city—sent south in train loads. A pall of gloom hung over every thing. To add to this, Big Bertha had lately begun her bombardment of Paris, and at intervals of about 20 minutes the loud crash of an exploding shell rent the air. Still a mystery was the location of that monster gun, which it was later discovered had been hurling its unheralded messengers of death from the forest of Coucy, a distance of 76 miles. During an intermittent bombardment of 140 days it slew 256 people.

BIG BERTHA SLAYS WORSHIPPERS

We had got used to shells during visits to the trench areas and were well accustomed to German air bombs in London. But the idea of the Germans firing on the target of a large city where women and children were going about the streets, buses running and the activities of peace-time in progress, seemed particularly horrible. "Bang" came that explosion at intervals of ghastly regularity. And though most of the missiles were directed at the east end of Paris and its munition works, many defenceless folk were victims of those shells. We were shopping in the Bon Marche when one nearby blast smote the air—"another shell," exclaimed the plucky little French saleslady who had a brother in the trenches, and smiled disdainfully at Big Bertha's bark. But is was that very shell or another like it which, that same morning, crashed through the roof of the old Paris church at St. Gervais, when crowded with women and children hearing mass. That shell killed and wounded 175 people.

Entering the portals of hoary Notre Dame, which has beheld Paris in warfare since the middle ages, we saw women kneeling before candle-decked altars in the vast dimness of the cathedral. They were praying for the safe return of menfolk from the war and for the souls of those who slept beneath the battlefields. They were also praying that the Germans might not march through the gateways of Paris as they had done in 1871.

ANNOYED AT PERSHING

Presently we called at the American military mission and introduced ourselves. Half a dozen officers were there, one of whom, a green-tabbed major of the intelligence staff, seemed very excited and indignant: "What do you think?" he exclaimed turning to us. "They say that General Pershing has consented to have our American divisions broken up and thrown into the line as re-inforcements for the British and French. Don't you fellows send a word about it to your papers. It must first be confirmed by Washington. Why, the people of the United States simply won't stand for it." In view of the fact that the British and French troops were holding on by the skin of their teeth against the huge German hordes just released from the Russian front, the re-inforcement idea did not seem unreasonable to us, but we did not deem it necessary to argue with the major chap.

FRENCH ARE SORRY, BUT. . . .

Rather to our surprise he sent us over, unaccompanied, to the French Maison de la Presse to obtain passes into the battle area. There the French officials expressed their deep regret that it would be quite impossible to grant our request. Newspapermen would help to clutter things up at this juncture when all available space on troop trains was required for soldiers being rushed up to the line. If we cared to return in say, two weeks, well perhaps they would be able to help us, but alas, not now. Returning chagrined to the American mission, we were greeted with: "I thought so. Just like the French to be so disobliging. Well, out of courtesy we gave them a chance to do it as you are going into their army territory. As they refuse we will assert our prerogative and issue you the passes. Just get aboard the train tomorrow morning. With these passes they can't stop you."

MEET FLOYD GIBBONS

Next morning at 8 o'clock three Canadian newspapermen dressed up in khaki, walked boldly into the Gare de l'Este, and unchallenged by anybody, boarded a railway coach half filled with French and American officers. En route we met what looked like a British flying officer, but proved to a French army captain who had lived in Saskatchewan and was on liason with the R. A. F. For some reason he was violently prejudiced against Americans and didn't mind saying so. Passing through shattered towns and stations which had been wrecked by shell fire, the train took us to Luneville. Here we met Floyd Gibbons, the American radio talker and writer, then a war correspondent and shortly to receive a nasty wound in the face from a shell fragment. He hoped we would have as good a time as the British and Canadians had given him. Here, too, we met the young American lieutenant, our official guide, who took us on by automobile to see Uncle Sam's dough boys taking over a sector of line from Foch's poilues. —From the Spotlight, Toronto Telegram.

There had been a terrible row in a sautmarket o'Glesca one Saturday night. Heads had been cracked and the local police had been hard put to quell the disturbance.

On Monday morning the culprits were haled before the ...ial and fined in different sums up to a pound and thirty shillings. The last to appear before his worship was the ringleader, a big powerful, navvy Josw McGraw.

"They tell me," said the magistrate sternly, "that it took several policemen to lock you up on Saturday night."

"Maybe, yer honor, maybe" admitted Jock with a smile, "but one would be quite enough to let me out this mornin', sir."

That Body of Yours

By JAS. W. BARTON, M. D.

WE DON'T BEGIN TO GET OLD AT 35

An employee of a Pittsburg coal company after 50 years of service, was called into the office and before all the employees presented with a check for $500, a solid gold watch, and informed that while his wages would be paid as usual, it would not be necessary for him to report to work anymore.

The employee accepted the $500 and the gold watch, but informed his employers that he would be at work at seven o'clock the next morning and every morning thereafter.

And as we think about it, we must admit that if he wished to live long, he was a wise man. The regular amount of sleep, the regular amount of food, the regular amount of work, and meeting with his fellow employees and the public generally, would keep him active mentally and physically for years.

Compare this life with the average life of a pensioned workman; up at irregular hours, meals at irregular hours, more sleep or rest than he really needs, and no regular contact with his friends and others. He doesn't usually live long.

There really isn't any physical reason for the idea that is abroad that once a man or women reaches thirty five years of age, the half way point in life as it is called; that they should be thought to be going down the other side of the hill; that they have reached the top mentally and physically.

As a matter of fact a man should go well on past sixty, able to do as much work as when he was thirty-five. Of course he can't do the heavy lifting, he will not be as agile, or as quick in his movements. He however has learned how to do his work intelligently and has learned just how much his body can stand; he will be watching his sleep, and food even more carefully than when he was younger. Dr. Grotjahn Berlin, a professor of social hygiene, says that in most employments where the employees are in normal health there is no reduction in their working ability before the age of 60 is reached. Even the coal miner working underground, under unfavorable conditions and artificial light, goes on till between 45 and 50 years of age, before there is any sign of any lessening of his working ability.

So let us all "keep a going," giving our best to, and getting the best from the world.

CANADIENS ARE FAVORITES FOR A WIN TONIGHT

Last Game of Series to Decide Winners of the Stanley Cup

MONTREAL, Que., April 13.—(CP)—Canadiens of Montreal, or the Black Hawks of Chicago, will be crowned professional hockey kings of the world tomorrow night at the Forum here, when the fifth and final game for the Stanley cup will be fought. The teams divided the first four games evenly in a sensational series, two of the games going into overtime, both of which Chicago won.

The crucial game will be played to a finish to decide whether Chicago takes the cup to the middle west of the United States for the first time in its history, or whether Canadiens will tuck it back on the shelf it has occupied since they took it away from Boston Bruins last spring.

Canadiens, by virtue of their smashing win Saturday night, have been installed slight favorites to become the first team to win the cup twice in succession since the league reached its present proportions. Ottawa Senators turned the trick in 1920 and 1921 when the league was a smaller affair. The showing in the last game when Canadiens came from behind, with a two-goal deficit, to win by 4-2 has convinced the betting fraternity of their ability.

It is likely Manager Hart will send out Morenz, Gagnon and Joliat to start the game on the forward line though this depends on the condition of Howie's shoulder. Cook, Adams and March appeared certain to get the call for the Hawks.

Cuyler Stretches Hit

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, New York Giants)

"Always make the turn at first base at full speed to a point about twenty feet past first base," says Kiki Cuyler, the greatest baserunner in baseball today. "At that point you can decide whether to go on to second or stop and get safely back to first.

"Many times I go from the plate to second base on a single. I figure it out this way—I know exactly how long it takes me to run two bases. And on a hit to center, right, or left center, especially, I know that several things can happen. Either the outfielder or infielder may field poorly, or the throw may be rotten.

"My advice to young baserunners if they are fairly fast is to run with their 'heads up' and take chances."

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated leaflet on "Base Running" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL AWAY IN STATES TODAY

Expect 230,000 Fans to Turn Out to Eight Opening Games

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—It's fair and warmer all along the baseball fronts for the grand opening of the major league season tomorrow.

Far from feeling any pinch of the times, the 16 American and National league clubs have marshalled reinforcements, increased the wages of many of their star performers and otherwise set the stage for a gala get-away as well as a brisk campaign and big business all summer long.

Approximately 230,000 fans are expected to turn out for the eight opening games, prepared to give the great American sport an appropriate send-off and attack the fresh supplies of peanuts, popcorn and soda pop with patriotic enthusiasm.

President Hoover heads the list of notables who will figure in the opening ceremonies, featured, according to time-honored custom, by formal parades, floral tokens and the hoisting of flags.

PRESIDENT HOOVER WILL BE THERE

The president, who saw the Philadelphia Athletics clinch the world series in the final game last October, will be on hand to watch Connie Mack's champions start the defense of their title against the Washington Senators, generally regarded as the outstanding rival of their's for the American league honors this year.

There will be no special attraction, except for the annual debut of the one and only Babe Ruth, but the New York Yanks and Boston Red Sox expect to draw an opening-day crowd of 50,000 to the Yank stadium. This was the top figure in advance estimates for all the openers.

More than 40,000, including Commissioner Landis, may see Rogers Hornsby and his Chicago Cubs start the National league campaign against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Wrigley field, Chicago.

GROVER CLEVELAND MAY PITCH AGAIN

TUCSON, Ariz., April 13.—(AP)—There is still a place in organized baseball for Grover Cleveland Alexander, who pitched in the majors for nearly 20 years, if he wishes it.

Al Whipple, secretary of the Nogales Internationals of the Arizona-Texas league, announced today he had telegraphed an offer to "Old Pete" to join Nogales.

"We need some old head pitchers on the club," said Whipple, "and if Alexander could pitch once a week for us, we would be satisfied."

Appointment of Alexander as player-manager of the bewhiskered House of David team, of Michigan, recently was announced.

Trail Will Send Delegates to Fire Chief's Convention

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Announcing that the first convention of the newly-organized British Columbia Fire Chiefs' association would be in Vancouver, May 26-29, Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas, in a letter received by the city council tonight, asked that Trail give its support by sending a representative of the council and Fire Chief A. A. MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald is to give a paper on Standardization of Hose Couplings in British Columbia.

Alderman C. H. Burgess, who will be at the coast at that time, will attend as council representative with the fire chief.

Post Office Parking Question Referred to Committee, Trail

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Question of parking at the post office was referred by the city council tonight to Alderman C. A. Newman's committee to take up with the police commission. Mr. Newman also complained of use of the river front for storage. The council will go over the ground.

FORTUNE'S FAVORITE WINS RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—(AP)—Fortune's Favorite, owned by L. T. Whitehill, won the Menlo park purse, feature race of today's meet at Tanforan. The winner led all the way and won by three lengths. Time for the mile and three-sixteenths was 1:59 4-5. Jockey J. Cunningham was up.

Longus of the R. C. stable ran second and Insa, owned by Charley Graham of Reno, was third.

Four dollar options on the winner were worth $12 while $4 secondary options brought $6.50. Four dollar secondary options on Longus were taken back at $7.50.

BRECHIN BEATS DUMBARTON

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 13.—(C. P. cable)—Brechin City defeated Dumbarton by one goal to nil in a Scottish league, second division soccer match today. The game was played at Dumbarton.

REFER WATER APPLICATIONS TO TRAIL'S CITY ENGINEER

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Applications for water by T. Lauriente, J. Mueller and the Kenney estate were referred to the city engineer by the council tonight.

After 103 years of publication the Athenaeum Magazine is disappearing from London news-stands through a merger with the New Statesman and Nation. The new magazine will be committed to no political body, its sponsors say.

UNIQUE MODE OF TRAVEL

PUTS SAILS TO TRAIN TRUCK

With five miles to and from work to travel each day, and with no means of transportation, W. H. Slater, a retired naval officer, devised this ingenious means of reaching his labors at Cliffe, Kent, England. The "sail-train" or land yacht, is constructed from an old quarry truck chassis and sails, and travels over the rails of the abandoned quarry at a fair rate of speed.

MONOPLANE LINER IS MARK IN THE PROGRESS OF BRITISH AVIATION

LONDON, April 13.—(CP)—Monoplane air liners now being built in Great Britain for operation by Imperial Airways on the African Trunk route and designed for fast flying over regular air lines anywhere in the world attain new standards of performance and efficiency. The secret of their construction was carefully guarded till a few days ago; though detailed design work was actually begun more than six months ago few people outside the firms immediately interested had heard of the enterprise.

Enough information is now released by the makers, the Armstrong-Whitworth Aircraft company, to indicate that these new liners will rank among the swiftest air transport vehicles in the world, being capable of a speed of 145 miles an hour and cruising easily at 115 miles an hour with four motors developing only three-fifths of full power. The design incorporates novel features.

The new craft, graceful and racy in outline, is a high-wing monoplane, lifted, that is by a single pair of wings located above the fuselage. From tip to tip these wings spread 90 feet. They constitute a cantilever structure, without exterior bracing wires or struts to cause air "interference" and thus diminish efficiency by increasing resistance to movement through the air.

AIR-COOLED ENGINES

In the front edges of the wings are placed four powerful radial air-cooled engines, two on either side of the fuselage—a most unusual engine arrangement. These motors are carried in stream-lined nacelles, or "power-eggs", which are designed to merge as smoothly as possible into the shape of the wings. The engines are cowled with Townend rings, a British device which markedly cuts down the resistance of the star-shaped radial motor. The landing wheels are encased in streamline fairings; throughout the machine every effort is made to avoid unnecessary excrescences likely to diminish aerodynamical efficiency.

The spacious cabin, measuring 17½ feet in length and with more than six feet of head-room, provides accommodation for 17 passengers and their baggage. There is a steward's pantry and buffet, a large freight compartment forward and wireless compartment. The main cabin, being well aft of the zone of rotation of the engines and airscrews, is comparatively quiet and the noise is still further lessened by taking the engine exhausts over the top of the main plane. Freedom from vigration, as compared with the normal three-engined air liner, is secured by the absence of an engine in the nose.

Safety typical of British aircraft construction is implicit in many details. With full load the aeroplane is designed to continue level flight at any height below 7000 feet with any one motor stopped and to be able to maintain in those conditions a true air speed of 90 miles an hour. The wheel brakes are strong enough to enable a pilot to bring the machine to a standstill on an aerodrome in less than 200 yards, even on a calm day. The cabin windows are so designed that at need they become emergency exits; a single sharp blow is sufficient to knock them out.

HANSON WILL BE IN ACTION HERE SATURDAY NEXT

Big Pacific Coast Wrestler Will Oppose Root in Local Ring

Charles Hanson of Seattle, the wrestling Swede of wide fame up and down the Pacific coast, who is known as one of the roughest actors in the wrestling ring, yesterday by telephone, reported to R. E. Kirby, local promoter, that he would be on deck here Saturday night next in the headliner of a monster wrestling card being staged at the opera house.

Hanson, besides having a large personal following up and down the coast, has a far larger radio following throughout the northwest. He is coming to Nelson as a substitute for John Freberg, Scandinavian, who was injured in a bout in Spokane last week when he met Cantonwine. Hanson, if any, is a faster man than Freberg and has won decisions over the best of those in the mat game. He will meet Bill Root in an eight-round bout, best two out of three falls. Each round is over the 10-minute route. Root is not unknown in Nelson as in the past he has conducted a physical culture class in the city and is known widely as a wrestler and boxer.

FAST PRELIMINARIES

Two fast preliminary bouts are also on tap for the fans. The first, over the three-round route, will bring together George Mahoney of Spokane and Jack Burton of Salt Lake City.

The semi-final bout will be over the five-round distance and will bring together Houston Stockton, prominent football star of Spokane and Chicago, and Jack Reed of Salt Lake City. Stockton is a former Gonzaga university star athlete.

Bouts will be staged in the opera house, which has been made over for the occasion.

Wrestling is a new sport for Nelson and district fans but it is all the rage along the coast, especially under newly-introduced rules which make it fast and furious. These bouts were to have been staged last week but were postponed owing to injuries received by Freberg, who was to have appeared in the main bout. Interest is at its height throughout the district and Promoter Kirby has already received several orders for reserved seats. Kaslo, Creston, Slocan and Trail fans have signified intention of viewing the bouts.

Canadien - Chicago Game on Air Tonight

MONTREAL, Que., April 13.—The broadcast of the final game of the Canadien-Chicago series for the Stanley cup will be made tonight on a Dominion-wide hookup from Quebec to Vancouver over Canadian Pacific railway radio transmission lines. Play-by-play announcement of the game will be by Foster Hewitt, recognized as one of the leading sports broadcasters of the continent.

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Following a discussion of telephone, gasoline, housing and other facilities at Trail's airport, the question was referred back to the special committee by the city council tonight.

GOLF TOURNEY IS UNDER WAY AT GRAND FORKS

Club House Nears Completion; Presidents Play Vice-Presidents

GRAND FORKS, B. C., April 13.—An attractive new clubhouse at the links of the Grand Forks Golf club is now nearing completion and is to be the scene of an auspicious opening in the course of a fortnight or two when Kettle Valley Golf club will be entertained at a friendly competition. At a later date, Greenwood and Osoyoos members will be entertained Enthusiasm at the local links continues unabated, where more golf is being played than for a dozen years or more. The course was open early this year and the fairways and greens are in fine condition. It is somewhat sensational with its teeing locations.

First of the season's competitions started last Saturday when the President's and Vice-President's competition for supremacy got under way. One feature of the competition is that the losing side will have to do considerable furnishing in tableware for the new clubhouse, so there is to be something with a kick in the competition. This is how the opposing factions are lined up for the battle: E. H. Cagnon vs. E. H. Henniger; H. Lightfoot vs. A. F. Crowe; D. McPherson vs. John Donaldson; D. C. Manly vs. James Grisdale; H. H. Henderson vs. Glen Manly; C. F. R. Pincott vs. E. S. Reynolds; H. C. Clark vs. Dr. W. D. Smith; H. Sutherland vs. O. G. Dunn; Donald McCallum vs. Ben Norris; W. O'Donnell vs. Jack Sparks; J. C. Hillyer vs. W. Huddart; Elmer Scott vs. Gordon Wilkins; B. Benson vs. Albert Deorter; J. D. Campbell vs. J. B. McDonald; Mrs. A. F. Crowe vs. Miss Marion Kerby; Mrs. W. D. Smith vs. Mrs. F. A. Newbauer; Mrs. John Donaldson vs. Mrs. H. Sutherland Miss Katherine Henniger vs. Miss Margaret Luscombe Miss Hattie Gaw vs. Mrs. J. Kenyon; Miss Bea Campion vs. Miss M. Patterson; Miss Berta McLeod vs. Miss Pat Cook; Miss Gertrude Cook vs. Mrs. Cagnon; Miss Ella Phillips vs. Mrs. C. F. R. Pincott.

KIMBERLEY REP TEAM DEFEATS CARDS BY 13-12

Score Even in Each Quarter Until Final; Trailites Are Banquet Guests

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Kimberley ladies' rep basketball team defeated Trail, 13-12, in an interesting and exciting game in Kimberley Saturday night. Until the last quarter play was absolutely even, being tied at 3-3 at the first quarter, 6-6 at the second and 8-8 in the third. In the final quarter Kimberley scored five points, while Trail countered four, the game ending at 13-12.

Following the game Trail players were guests at a banquet in the school. Later in the evening Trail players and friends enjoyed a chicken supper, Fred Martello being in charge.

Rose Severn scored five points for Trail, Margaret Owens four, Gladys Mawdsley two and Rene Balfour one.

Ralph Swanson of Kimberley refereed.

RANGERS BEAT VANCOUVER, 5-2

New Yorkers Slap in Four Counters in First Period and One in Last

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 13.—Throwing in a whirlwind attack that netted them four goals in the first period, and adding another in the final frame, while holding their opponents to single scores in the initial and last sessions, New York Rangers defeated Vancouver Lions 5-2 here tonight in an exhibition hockey game packed with action from start to finish. Rangers now have a 2-1 game lead in their five-game series.

Lions took a temporary lead just after the first period got under way, Osmundson scoring on a pass from Frank Jerwa. Halfway through the period Bill Cook took a pass from Joe Jerwa to score for Rangers and knot the count. Three minutes later Rangers went into the lead when Keeling and Thompson combined, Keeling taking the pass to beat Jackson, Vancouver goalie. Less than a minute later Bun Cook passed to Bill Cook for the Rangers' third goal. Thompson, on a solo effort, gave Rangers a 4-1 lead just before the period ended.

The second period was scoreless, both teams fighting hard and back-checking each other furiously.

Rangers added to their large lead near the end of the third period when Bun Cook took Boucher's pass and flipped the puck past into the Lions' net. Sanderson gave the Lions another counter just before the whistle blew for the end of the game, scoring unassisted.

SUMMARY

First period—(1) Vancouver, Osmundson (F. Jerwa) 1:56; (2) Rangers, W. Cook (J. Jerwa) 11:28; (3) Rangers, Keeling (Thompson) 3:17; (4) Rangers, W. Cook (B. Cook) :54; (5) Rangers, Thompson, 1:03.

Penalties: Keeling (2), Redpath, Osmundson, Bun Cook, Peters.

Second period—No score.

Penalties: Joe Jerwa, Bun Cook.

Third period—(6) Rangers, Bun Cook (Boucher) 14:43; (7) Vancouver, Sanderson, 4:20.

Penalties: Peters.

TOMMY FREEMAN AND THOMPSON FIGHT TONIGHT

CLEVELAND, April 13.—(AP)—Tommy Freeman, world's welterweight champion, will engage in his first defense of his title tomorrow night by meeting the sharpshooting young Negro, young Jack Thompson of Oakland, Calif. from whom he won the crown here six months ago.

They will meet in a 15-round bottle to a decision at the welterweight limit of 147 pounds.

eBcause of an unpopular decision resulting from their first championship engagement, a new policy in rendering decisions will be introduced tomorrow night. Two judges to be named by the Cleveland Boxing commission at the ringside, will cast their votes at the end of the contest, and unless they disagree the referee will have no voting power. Heretofore it has been the practice to use only a referee.

Freeman ruled a slight favorite to retain his title, although Thompson is firm in his conviction that he will regain the championship by a knockout within five rounds.

LARRY GAINS IS FAVORITE OVER SCOTT, LONDON

LONDON, April 13.—(CP)—Acclaimed as one of the greatest colored heavyweights, Larry Gains of Toronto, Negro heavyweight champion of Canada, rules a strong favorite in his bout with Phil Scott, British heavyweight champion, set for June 13. Gains signed up for the match today.

Scott, since his beating at the hands of "Young" Stribling at Wimbledon last July, has been running a beauty parlor in the suburb of Thoronton Heath, near Croydon. At first the venture proved a great novelty with the flappers, but it has not developed into a brilliant success.

SEVERAL LAKES, EAST KOOTENAY OPEN FOR TROUT

Open Earlier Tomorrow Because They Do Not Contain Spawn Grounds

Several lakes in the Cranbrook and Fernie districts will open for trout fishing tomorrow, according to C. H. Robinson, fisheries inspector, who is at present in Cranbrook on departmental business.

Premier, Horseshoe, Smiths, Rock or Stevens and Twin lakes, will open for trout fishing tomorrow, April 15. These lakes are situated in the Cranbrook and Fernie districts.

The lakes in question open somewhat earlier than other waters, owing to the fact that they contain no spawning grounds.

JUNIOR CHAMPS OF LAST YEAR PLAY IN SENIOR COMPANY

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—On Wednesday the Hornets, a speedy football aggregation just migrating from junior ranks, and who last year won the West Kootenay junior title, will meet the East Trail team in a city league game.

TRAIL PURCHASES SPRAYING OUTFIT FOR ROAD PAVING

Will Cost $840; to Carry Out Work Authorized by Last Year's Bylaw

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—The city of Trail has ordered and will take delivery in about a month's time of a 350-gallon spray outfit for spraying emulsions of asphalt and road oil. The new piece of equipment is being purchased at a cost of $840, and its first work will be in connection with the program of asphaltic road surfacing which will be carried out this season on Columbia avenue, East Trail, Pine avenue hill and Glover road hill. This work was authorized by bylaw which was passed by the property owners last year.

The new spraying unit will be mounted on skids so that it can be placed on and removed from a truck chassis at will, and will thus prevent the tying up of automotive equipment at those times when it cannot be used.

EQUIPPED COMPRESSION

It will be equipped with a 3½-inch by 4-inch air-cooled feather valve compressor, and a four-horsepower gasoline engine to drive the compressor.

Purchase of the equipment was decided upon after the civic authorities had ascertained that to rent a spraying outfit to do the work contemplated this spring would have cost 5 cents per gallon, or a total of over $1000. In addition, equipment will be available at all times should the city decide on a policy of extending its asphaltic surfacing campaign.

WOULD HIRE IT

Already there is on file at the city hall for rental of the equipment from a large firm of Vancouver contractors, who, if the machinery were available for hire, would use it in carrying out asphaltic surfacing work in the upper country.

The program of asphaltic surfacing this year will not be carried out until the warmer weather, when better results can be obtained. The handling of the asphalt in the hot weather is much more satisfactory and its penetrating qualities are far greater.

VANCOUVER LIST SEES PRICES ON MARCH UPWARD

Constructive Trend Is Headed by Premier Gold and Some Base Metals

VANCOUVER, April 13—Under the leadership of selected stocks prices advanced on the Vancouver exchange Monday. The constructive movement, stimulated by continued strength in Premier Gold and featured base metals issues, spread to the oils group, but the recovery in this division was offset by selling in Home and Mayland. Sales were light with the volume only exceeding the short Saturday session turnover by approximately 18,000 shares.

Accumulation on eastern boards imparted strength to Premier at the opening bell here. From an initial quotation at 92 cents the stock met moderate profit taking and sagged to a low for the day at 89 cents. The selling subsided before the noon interval and the price shot up to 93 cents, to close strong at that quotation, a net gain of 4 cents.

Pioneer Gold in strong demand rose 3 cents net to 1.62. The remainder of the precious metal class closed unchanged. Pend Oreille was the strong spot in the base metals. On a turnover of 600 shares the stock crossed the board at an even 1.40 and at that price, a net advance of 18 points. Reeves McDonald, in modest trading sold up 1 cent at 43 cents, while Oregon Copper rose 1½ cents to 8½ cents.

Pronounced weakness in Home was the outstanding feature in the oils. The stock dropped in easy stages from an opening at 90 cents to 86 cents, and closed a new minimum at 85 cents bid, down 5 cents below Saturday's close. Mayland lost 2 cents net at 51 cents, while minor gains appeared in Commonwealth, Lowery Pete, Merland, Model and Devenish.

CHICAGO WHEAT HITS UPSHOOT

Likelihood of Curtailment of Wheat Acreage Is Cause of Increase

CHICAGO, Ill., April 13.—(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press market editor)—Likelihood that dust storms and drought would sharply curtail spring wheat acreage in northwestern states and Canada jumped grain prices upward today. Some reports said seeding was useless under existing conditions. A big falling-off in the amount of wheat on ocean passage was shown, and No. 1 northern wheat went to a premium over May, the first time in months. December delivery of wheat established a new high price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1¼ cents higher; corn ½ to — advanced; oats ¼ to ⅜ up, and provisions varying from two cents decline to a rise of 12 cents.

TORONTO MINES LEADERS WEAK

Premier Gold Rises; Most of Precious Metals Group Leader Turn Lower

TORONTO, April 13 (CP)—The majority of leaders in all groups on the Standard Stock and Mining exchange developed a weaker price tone today, but sales volume was well sustained in most issues. Sales for the day amounted to 725,275 shares.

Wright Hargreaves opened at 2.76 and moved up steadily to close at $2.98, a gain of 23 cents. St. Anthony Gold opened at 15 cents and closed at 18 cents, a gain of six points for the day; Premier rose two points to 95 cents; Nipissing advanced 20 cents to close at $1.55.

Other leaders in the precious metal group turned reactionary with Dome and Lake Shore off 25 cents to close at $11.25 and $27.50 respectively.

In the base metal stocks price changes were comparatively small. While Noranda fell 25c to $26.50, Nickel rose 25c to $17.75.

While the higher priced oils showed a softening tendency, several of the lower priced issues developed strength. Cities Service rose 25c to $18; Mayland at 54c, gained eight points and Sarnia moved up five points to close at 60c.

MONTREAL CURB TURNS LOWER

MONTREAL, Que., April 13.—Prices on the curb market turned lower today, although a moderate recovery towards the close reduced the losses in some of the more active issues.

Dominion Stores was stronger, touching a new high for the year at 24 and closing at 23⅞, up fractionally. Other advances included International Utilities "A," up one at 44 and Hydro-Electric and International Utilities "B". Dominion Engineering was a weak spot, closing at 30, off three points, while other losses were made by British American Oil, Imperial Oil, International Petroleum, Robert Mitchell and Hiram Walker. Beauharnois Power equalled its low for the year at seven, but rallied to close unchanged at eight.

Abana closed fractionally lower; Moss was very weak, closing at 51 cents, off 1¼ cents. Noranda lost 25 cents at $25.75, Pawnee-Kirkland touched a new low level at 4½ cents off. 8¼ cents, and Teck Hughes lost 15 cents at $8.35. Siscoe closed higher at 52 cents, up a fraction.

Industrial Survey of Montreal Arranged

MONTREAL, April 13 (CP)—Al-L. C. Marsh, director of research for the social research council, McGill university, announced recently that the university would accept the work of conducting an industrial survey of the city. The request was made by the Montreal board of trade and J. B. Baillargeon, head of the civic industrial commission.

The survey will be carried on under the supervision of Dr. Meredith F. Burrill of the Oklahoma agricultural college, Stillwater, Okla., who is an expert in this work.

As part of the work of the council, the survey will be financed out of funds provided by the Rockefeller trustees of a sum of $110,000 to be expended in five years in social research development and unemployment research in the city of Montreal and district.

The plan, it is hoped, will bring out many of the problems in this city and will present for examination a record of industry, population, and social problems on the island, allowing a clear view of Montreal as an industrial center, the character of its peoples and their habits.

NEW YORK LIST HAS BEST DAY'S TRADE IN MONTH

Utilities Turn in the Best Group Gains; Chemicals Climb Upward

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—Covering by weary shorts today gave the stock market its best rise in nearly a month. The averages for 90 issues showed a net gain of 2.1 points, the largest advance since March 16—sales aggregated only 1,600,000 shares.

Utilities returned the best group gains, ranging from nearly 2 to 3 points on the favorites. Rails, sluggish until the final hour's flurry, reflected scattered covering which was translated into many gains of a point or so. Chemicals, led by the five-point advance in Allied, were strong, while both motors and coppers did reasonably well. Miscellaneous industrials, including U. S. Steel, American Can, Westinghouse and Union Carbide, closed 1 to 2 higher, and there was a similar improvement in the foods.

Special points of strength included Radio, up 2⅝, Worthington Pump, McKeesport, Eastman Kodak and Case, up 3 to 5, and Auburn, which got into the Rarifield 290's, closing 14 points higher. Gossip concerning the safety of the Vanadium dividend made that stock a bear target and it dropped 5 points, covering a fraction of the loss. Armour of Delaware 7 per cent preferred lost 4½ to 44.

The Spanish peseta reacted sharply to the election result, breaking more than half a cent, a loss that eliminated the steady advance since the recent stabilization loan was negotiated.

Other states were mixed, with the Dutch Guilder strong.

The bond market wavered back and forth in quiet trading and net changes were about half gains and half declines.

PROSPECTOR STILL IN HIBERNATION

Only Three Claims Recored Here in the Past Three Months

Although the weather is warm here, evidently the snow-capped mountains hold no thrill for the prospector who has been hibernating all winter, as little sign of his activity is noted in the district. Only three claims have been recorded at the government recording office here during the past three months.

Locations are:

Edward W. Klingensmith—"Della K.," February 19, about 1½ miles northwest of Creston.

Ray Crisler—"Skookum," March 12, about 1½ miles southeast of Canyon post office.

MONTREAL'S HALCYON DAYS ARE RECALLED

MONTREAL, April 13.— (CP) — Montreal's halcyon days, when after elections successful candidates set out barrels of porter and other aids to conviviality for the convenience of the electors, were recalled by Mr. Justice E. Fabre Surveyer who delivered a paper a short time ago before the St. James Literary society on Joseph Frobisher, who was associated with James McGill and Simon McTavish in the fur trade development which contributed to Montreal's commercial supremacy.

Frobisher in 1792, after his election to the parliament of Lower Canada, regaled the electors with porter and other beverages. An observer of the time writing in The Montreal Gazette suggested that a great benefit would be conferred on the country if elections of this kind were held oftener.

TORONTO STOCKS REMAIN SLOW IN A DULL, SESSION

TORONTO, April 13 (CP)—Trading was again dull on the Toronto stock exchange today, with only nominal turnover in most of the 90 issues traded. Price changes were in most cases in the direction of lower levels. Total turnover 19,793 shares, 7000 shares were in Macassa which closed up one cent at 49 cents.

International Nickel sold as low as 17 and as high as 18 where it closed with a gain of ⅛. Smelters was off three to 150 and Noranda at $25.50 was off 45 cents. Golds were almost all soft. Dome lost 25 cents. Teck Hughes was up five cents and Wright Hargreaves gained 10 cents.

There was slightly heavier turnover in some of the oil stocks. Canadian Oils was off 2½ to a new low of 15; British American was off ⅛ and Imperial was unchanged. Pete lost ¼, Service Stations one and Supertest gained ¼.

WINNIPEG WHEAT ADVANCES A BIT

Futures Move Upward; Million Bushels Wheat Worked for Export

WINNIPEG, Man., April 13.—(CP)—Wheat futures added fractional advances to their figures on the grain exchange today and May succeeded in moving over the 60-cent-per-bushel mark.

Exporters were busy and one million bushels of Canadian wheat were worked for export over the week-end, it was estimated. At the close of trading advances of ⅜ to ¾ cent were recorded with May wheat at 60⅝; July 62¼ and October 64⅛.

Cash wheat secured fractional gains and coarse grains succeeded in improving their values with barley the active feature, exporters taking a great interest in this grain.

HOT HOUSE TOMS ON THE MARKET AT THE COAST

Vancouver Island Cauliflower Appear; Saskatoon Business Slower

VICTORIA, April 13—Strawberry crop prospects: The continued rain during the past three weeks has prevented cultivation among berry patches and weeds have matted the rows. Several old patches have been plowed down with some more to follow. This may reduce the crop of the acreage old plants. Lulu Island reports heavy damage to the strawberry plantations due to the heavy rainfall.

All points in the southern states report that the strawberry crop of 1931 is below normal. Arkansas and Missouri, where the heaviest competition with British Columbia comes from, report a decreased acreage and crop prospects below normal.

VANCOUVER—There are very few changes to be reported on the Vancouver fruit and produce market, says the market news letter, department of agriculture, Victoria. Field rhubarb is now on the market from both British Columbia and Washington sources and is wholesaling at 5c per lb, as against 6½ to 7c for the hothouse product last week. Vancouver island cauliflower is now coming in, but not in sufficient quantity to shut out imports from California. The price on cauliflower ranges from $1.65 to $2.00 per crate. There are also a few light deliveries of hothouse tomatoes on the market. The apple deal is going very steadily and prices are being maintained without change. Fresh strawberries are in from California, but shipments are very light compared with former years. Ashcroft potatoes, Netted Gems, No. 2, are going to the retail trade at $28.00 per ton. Local potatoes are selling at $18 per ton.

IMPORTS

Fruit and vegetables imported into Victoria and Vancouver during week ending April 9. California: Strawberrie 48 crates; celery 545 crates; head lettuce 2274 crates; green peas 105 hampers; young turnips 77 crates; asparagus 2157 crates; cabbage 1072 crates; parsley 17 crates; radishes 16 crates. Washington: Rhubarb 326 boxes; spinach 1475 crates. Tomatoes 2001 crates from Mexico.

Poultry and egg prices: Egg prices to producer cases returned: Fresh extras 16c; fresh firsts 14c; pullets 12c. Poultry live, price to shipper. Light hens 12c; medium hens 14c; heavy hens 17c. Young ducks 20c per lb.

Hogs: Prime light country dressed to shipper 9c.

Veal: Country dressed to shipper 14c.

SASKATOON—Business has been slower this week. Boxed apple prices are slightly higher with moderate movement. A car of Washington Winesaps has arrived and is selling for about the same price as the British Columbia Winesaps, $2.75 per box. A small shipment of Louisiana strawberries arrived at the end of last week and moved fairly freely at $7.00 for 24-pint crate. Tomato supplies are limited. Hothouse cucumbers are still arriving from Illinois and selling for $3.25 to $3.50 per dozen. A car of British Columbia field rhubarb arrived and is meeting with fair demand. Potato movement slow, growers are selling mostly direct to retailers and consumers. Onion stocks are light, with movement fair and prices stronger. Dense dust storms have enveloped this city for the last two days.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—Toronto: Extras, 22½ to 23; firsts, 20½ to 21; seconds, 18, delivered. Carlots of prairie eggs are being offered at, extras, 24; first, 22; delivered, but buyers are not interested at these prices.

MONTREAL: Market steady and unchanged. Prairie eggs are offering at, extras, 24; firsts, 22; seconds, 19½.

WINNIPEG: Dealers here are quoting producers for eggs, extras, 17; firsts, 15; seconds, 12.

VANCOUVER: Wholesale dealers are paying producers for eggs delivered Vancouver, extras, 16; first, 14; pullet extras, 12.

CHICAGO: Spot, 18¼; Aprils, 20¾; Gov. refrigerators, 23½.

New York's Woolworth building, once the tallest, is today the fifth in height among the city's high buildings.

MACNICOL TELLS NELSON VETERANS OF LEGION'S WORK

Over 800 Branches in Canada With Membership of Over 80,000

PROVINCIAL OFFICE DOES LARGE WORK

Advises Interior Branches to Make More Use of Canteen Fund

Both the great national work of the Canadian Legion, in securing legislation to benefit disabled veterans and to assist dependents of the fallen, were ably reviewed Monday night by Robert Macnicol, provincial secretary of the organization, in an address to the Nelson branch.

President Joe Holland occupied the chair, and Second Vice-president E. M. Gillott was also on the platform.

Important as was the national legislation achieved last year, Mr. Macnicol said, the legislation regarding appeals was not giving quite the results hoped for, and though the tribunals were giving the returned man applying for pension the benefit of the doubt, as provided by parliament, the pension court at Ottawa, to which the pension board appealed against decisions of the tribunals, seemed to apply this only in a technical instead of a broad sense, and he expressed the view that further action by parliament would be required if the scheme was not to break down.

A BROAD ORGANIZATION

Giving statistics of the Canadian Legion's extent, Mr. Macnicol stated the Dominion command now had under its jurisdiction, nine provincial commands in Canada and 17 Canadian Legion branches in the United States. Branches in Canada exceed 900 with an enrolled membership exceeding 80,000 veterans. In British Columbia under the control of the provincial office are 111 branches, with a membership of between 10,000 and 11,000. Fifteen of these branches have been chartered since last June, and it is hoped to issue a charter at Golden very shortly. About 10 days ago Mr. Macnicol organized a branch in the city of Bellingham, Wash., under provincial jurisdiction.

The number of women's auxiliaries in the province was steadily growing, he said, and very excellent work was being performed by the ladies, who now had their own provincial command.

While exercising considerable influence and power in Canada, the Legion, he said, must be careful to use it in such a way that will at all times justify the general approbation of the Canadian people. There must be no idea of ever making use of the Legion strength on behalf of anything that might appear unduly selfish and harmful to the people as a whole, although it would not hesitate, should the occasion demand, to take a firm stand in retaining its rights and demanding at all times just and equitable treatment for veterans and dependents.

AJUSTMENT WORK

Adjustment service in connection with obtaining of pensions, he stated, had formed an important part of the Legion's work to date, and much success in this department had been met with by branches, provincial commands, and Dominion adjustment bureau.

In the year ending with March, the service bureau operated by the provincial office gave no fewer than 6291 interviews to veterans in connection with pension applications, and wrote over 3850 letters in this regard. Many cases were adjusted, amongst which was that of a veteran from this district, now located in another part of British Columbia, who was as the result of the bureau's efforts, granted pension and a payment of back pension exceeding $2300.

In connection with the British Columbia canteen fund, which had an office in Vancouver, it was the wish of the provincial office, he said, that branches in the interior should make full use of the fund, where they had members who were eligible for assistance under its regulations.

One of the activities of the provincial command, the speaker stated, was to right wrongs to returned men in the public service of either province or Dominion. It found it necessary to take a strong stand in regard to the dismissal of Norman Watt, a 50 per cent disabled veteran dismissed as government agent at Prince Rupert. The Legion's opinion of the case after studying the facts, was proved correct, and after an exhaustive inquiry conducted by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, which Mr. Macnicol attended, Mr. Watt was entirely cleared of the charges made against him, and was reinstated by the government, with no loss of seniority or other privileges. In taking up the Watt case, he claimed the Legion had done a service to every civil servant in British Columbia who pursued the correct course of refraining from political partisanship.

JAPANESE VETERANS

Another outstanding achievement of the provincial command was in obtaining by a narrow majority the franchise in British Columbia for 80 veteran Japanese who served overseas in the Canadian army. These men enlisted voluntarily and they voted in the 1916 war election. Over 50 of them, he stated, are naturalized, and not one newspaper on the coast raised any objection to the Legion's request. In no other province in Canada were Japanese veterans of Canada debarred from voting, and now British Columbia had granted the same status to those here. Among members of the house who fought to bring this result about, he mentioned T. D. Pattullo, H. D. Twigg, A. M. Manson, K.C., Mr. McIntosh, and Hon. R. W. Bruhn.

EDUCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

"We thank the provincial government for passing legislation which provided 85 educational scholarships for veterans' children last year," he remarked, this being a scheme that was initiated by the Canadian Legion in British Columbia.

The new building for veterans suffering from mental disabilities would be opened at Essondale next month, he stated, during the period of the provincial convention, which commences in New Westminster on May 26. Delegates to the convention will be present at the opening of this building. He expressed the hope that the Nelson branch would send its full representation to the convention, which promised to be a very successful one.

FAMOUS SILVER RELIC WILL BE AUCTIONED OFF

"The Duke of Grace Cup" Owned by Duke of Norfolk Goes Under Hammer

LONDON, April 13 (C P cable)—The Duke of Norfolk, premier peer of Great Britain, is shortly offering at auction a remarkable relic known as "the Howard Grace cup." This vessel of ivory and silver-gilt, which has been in the possession of the Howard family for more than 400 years, is the cup which Edward Howard, grandson of the victor at Flodden and standard-bearer to Henry VIII, bequeathed to Katherine of Aragon in 1513. The cup, then of plain ivory, is said to have been the drinking vessel of Thomas a'Becket. Queen Katherine had the cup superbly mounted by Italian craftsmen then in England. These mounts bear the London hallmark of 1526.

On Queen Katherine's death in 1537 the cup reverted to the Howard family, and apparently passed into the possession of various members, as at the end of the last century it was found to be in possession of Philip Henry Howard of Corby. From him it came into the possession of the late Duke of Norfolk.

Apart from the claims to association with Becket, the cup is an extraordinary relic of Tudor days, because hardly a vestige of Henry VIII's of Wolsey's silver survived except the 1623 cup which the king presented in 1540 to the barber surgeons. Yet when Mary was married to Philip at Winchester, 12 carts full of her father's silver were sent from the tower to grace the wedding feast.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE RAMPANT SOUTH RHODESIA

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 13 (AP)—The government has taken drastic steps to prevent the spread of foot and mouth disease which has bronken out in southern Rhodesia, close to the Union border. Approximately 23,000 cases are reported to have occurred.

All importation of cattle, sheep and pigs from Rhodesia have been stopped and extra police have been drafted for patrol duty along the border.

FURRIERS MEET IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont., April 13.—More than 200 prominent furriers from various parts of the Dominion attended the opening of the first annual convention of the Furriers' Guild of Canada, today.

F. D. Burkholder, Ottawa, in his presidential address, said: "We find today that the Furriers' Guild has become the most important factor in the fur trade of the Dominion," the guild, since its inception a year ago, having helped the furriers to their most successful year.

FARM BOYS' AND GIRLS' WORK IN CANADA IS ESTABLISHED ON BASIS WHICH INCLUDES WHOLE DOMINION

Will Be Guided by the Central Executive Quartered in Ottawa

A STEP FORWARD IN AGRICULTURE

Plan Comes Into Operation at Once; To Coordinate All Clubs

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP)—Establishment of all farm boys' and girls' club work in Canada upon a national basis, guided by a central executive with headquarters at Ottawa, representative of all the provinces concerned as well as the Dominion government and other organizations interested, has been effected during the past few weeks with the organization of what is to be known as the Canadian council on boys' and girls' club work.

The new plan considered to be an advanced step in agriculture, has been brought into being with the active cooperation and approval of Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion minister of agriculture, and already has the sanction of most of the provincial ministers on agriculture. The plan and policies of the new organization have been worked out by a committee.

The plan will come into operation at once, and a permanent secretary has been appointed in the persons of Alex. MacLaurin, who has resigned his position as livestock commissioner for the province of New Brunswick, to take up his new work at Ottawa at once.

The main object of the plan is to coordinate all the junior farm and club work of the various provinces, bringing it into line with a nation-wide agricultural policy. The importance of this lies in the fact that the boys' and girls' club work in the various provinces has developed during the last few years to such an extent, that it has become a very vital factor in assisting in determining the quality of livestock and other classes of farm production in many districts in Canada, and in influencing the methods of marketing of such products.

In the past each province has carried out its own particular policy with respect to the work of the junior farm clubs. Under the new plan, while the provincial agricultural authorities will continue to supervise their farm clubs as in the past, it is hoped through the medium of the new organization to effect a greater coordination of the club work, and a greater uniformity of policy.

The new plan will cover all classes on projects at present conducted by the various farm boys' and girls' clubs in the Dominion, but will for the present feature five main projects by the holding of national championship contests and exhibits at the royal winter fair at Toronto, namely for swine clubs, calf feeding and cattle breeding clubs, potato clubs, poultry clubs and seed grain clubs. All competitions at present conducted by private organizations, together with the trophies and medals for such, will be eliminated, and all competitions will be conducted under the direction of the central council, with trophies, prizes, trips, etcetera. Provided from a central fund to which contributions will be invited from railway corporations and other private concerns, service clubs, etc., who have been effective supporters of the work in the past.

Nearly 15,000 farm boys and girls are engaged in some form on agricultural club work, in the various provinces. The total number of clubs of various kinds now in existence is 820, with membership of 14,737.

PROVINCE TO TRY TO INCREASE HER LUMBER TRADING

VICTORIA, April 13—Within a month British Columbia will launch its greatest effort to capture a large share of the British lumber business, and thus to re-establish its lumber industry on a basis of prosperity, when a commissioner representing the industry is sent to London.

Following the provincial government's offer through Hon. N. S. Lougheed, minister of lands, to pay $15,000 a year toward the cost of this mission, British Columbia lumbermen are preparing to advance a similar sum and appoint the new commissioner immediately.

Mr. Lougheed was confident the offices would be opened in London before the end of May.

The commissioner will actually take orders and forward them to British Columbina. The allocation of all orders among the sawmills of the province will be handled by the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' association.

WOULD AMEND THE COASTAL LAWS OF DOMINION CANADA

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP)—Important amendments to the Coastal Shipping laws of Canada were urged upon the government today by the Dominion Marine association. It was proposed that Canadian boats be used more in the transport of export grain from the lakehead to Montreal. At the present time it is permissible for Canadian grain to be carried by United States boats to Buffalo and there transhipped to another United States boat and forwarded to Montreal.

The association desired the government to compel the use of Canadian boats to Buffalo and from there to Montreal. This would apply only to Canadian grain destined for export.

GEORGE MURRAY TO BE ORDAINED

TRAIL, B. C, April 13.—George Murray, formerly of Trail, has been graduated at the Presbyterian college at Montreal and is to be ordained Wednesday, it has been announced here.

Mr. Murray left Trail three years ago.

NOT BLAMED FOR SHOOTING YOUNG CAR ROBBER, 15

Lad Was Fatally Wounded When He Refused to Stop Fleeing Before Police

CLE ELUM, Wash., April 13 (AP) Marshal Frank Haight today stood exonerated of any responsibility in the fatal shooting late Saturday night of 15-year-old Bob McCreary, Ellensburg, the driver of a stolen automobile.

The McCreary boy was hit in the neck and fatally injured after several warning shots and the sounding of a siren had failed to halt the machine. Marshal Haight and other officers were watching for the automobile, which had been reported stolen a short time before at Ellensburg.

Pursuing the car through the streets here, the warning shots were fired and the siren sounded. The fatal shot was fired after the car, a sedan, had been turned about outside the city.

McCreary's companion, Leonard McDow, 14, who was slightly injured when the car crashed into a telephone pole after the shooting said McCreary had shouted, "No police are going to stop me."

The McDow boy was arrested on a larcency charge. The machine had been stolen from Robert Jones, Ellensburg normal school football player. McCreary was a junior high school student.

During the winter the McCreary boy had been arrested in southern Oregon for stealing an automobile and after being given a suspended sentence was returned to Ellensburg. His mother is a nurse in the Ellensburg General hospital.

EQUIPMENT IS ON ORDER FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Three Sets Include Swings Strides and See-Saws

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Three sets of playground equipment have been ordered by the playground committee of Trail Rotary club and are en route to the city. This morning the parks board and Rotary club committees met and allocated the new equipment.

One set will go to the new Rossland avenue playground, one set to the playground adjoining the tennis court near the slag heap, Victoria street, and one to Butler park.

Each set of equipment consists of a group of six swings, a giant stride, a slide and a four-board see-saw.

Members of the committees which met this morning were: George E. Murray, Alderman J. R. Anderson and Alderman A. Saunders, representing the parks board; Fred Edmunds, George J. Kinnis and S. S. McDiarmid, representing the Rotary club.

Purchase and installation of the equipment is being made by Trail Rotary club.

SUCCESSOR TO DR. MATHESON TO BE NAMED

WINNIPEG, April 14 (CP)—Clergy and laymen of the Church of England will meet here Wednesday to elect a successor to Rev. Dr. S. P. Matheson, former archbishop of Rupert's Land. Archbishop Matheson, until recently primate of Canada, has retired. His successor will become an archbishop immediately upon his appointment to the Rupert's Land diocese.

The gathering also will elect a bishop for the missionary diocese of Athabasca from which Rt. Rev. E. F. Robins recently retired.

SISTER OF CHARLES MORROW, TRAIL, DIES

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—Charles Morrow received word today of the death of his sister, Mrs. Leah Sequin, of Renton, Wash.

Mrs. Sequin, who was well known in Trail, had been ill for some time prior to her death. She was 42 years old.

She is survived by her husband, of Renton, and a brother, Charles, of Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow left today to attend the funeral.

BIG BEND ROAD IS PROGRESSING

Manning of Revelstoke Says It Could be Completed With Same Appropriation

TRAIL, B. C., April 13.—The Big Bend road from Revelstoke to Golden, which is planned as a portion of the proposed all-Canadian highway, is completed for 50 miles north and east out of Revelstoke, and given the same appropriation for furtherance of the work this year as last, the new section of the highway will be completed and ready for use in 1932, according to Horace Manning of Revelstoke, who has been a business visitor to Trail during the past few days.

Mr. Manning points out that while 90 miles of highway remain to be built, the most difficult and costly section of the work has been completed. There is little rock work to be done on the last 90 miles of highway. On the first 50 miles a considerable amount of expensive rock work was required.

Fred A. Walker, prominent Winnipeg business man and sales manager of Walter Woods, Ltd., died at the age of 49. He had been employed by the Woods company for 30 years.
