Rossland Citizens Back Council

ECIDE TO AID COUNCIL TO RUN CIVIC AFFAIRS

izens' Association Deals ith Conditions; Turn Down Administrator Idea

E. TURNER NAMED PRESIDENT OF BODY

scuss Loan Proposition; Water Mains Not So Bad; Discussion Pointed

OSSLAND, B. C., April 15.— The sland Citizen's association met to-ht in the Rossland armories to dis-s matters of business and to elect executive.

W. H. Littlejohn was in charge of meeting which he addressed as lows:

As several topics of interest to the izens have lately come to the fore, was decided to call this meeting. ere will be a meeting of the school ard tomorrow evening and we feel t the citizens should have the op-tunity to place their wishes before school board with regards to fill-the regretable vacancy now exist-

It has been suggested that the cutive committee of this associa-n be increased from 15 to 25.

Mr. W. Baber unfortunately finds impossible to act as president and will therefore be necessary to elect president at this meeting.

IAT OF LOAN

As we understand that the city ncil had been empowered to raise oan of $25,000 without reference to ratepayers, we feel that this should an extremely opportune time for s association to express a definite nion as to the wisdom of being dled to a debt of this magnitude, t is to be spent by the present ad-nistration.

ou all know the past history of the ncil, but it is well to refresh your nory on the most outstanding points refer to the water system, the neg-ed condition of the headworks and elines, the apparent lack of pro-on for the expense of replacement the system as it wears out for ch a sinking fund should normally e been provided; the neglect of pre-tions to preserve water, and the ure in the past to obtain skilled ice.

In view of the above we think that definite expression by this meeting to our confidence or otherwise, in present council, is very much in er.

TO RATEPAYERS

Do not forget that the council is ut to borrow $25,000 without the sent of the ratepayers to spend as think fit. You will be the ones will have to foot the bill. We y realize that money has to be ed and that we shall have to pay e taxes, this is inevitable. The issue ave we one business man in our ncil? If not, would it not be better apply to the government for an inistrator who is a business man? may ask, what will and adminis-or cost the city. To which we would y, 'What has the council cost the to date, and what state is the city s a result of their efforts? An ex-sion of opinion by yourselves now this meeting does not involve you ny expense, but will merely author-your executive to obtain information the government as to what a rnment administrator would cost

GOES TO JAIL

Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, will spend the next three months in jail because of his appeal being disallowed by the United States supreme court recently. The sentence was passed as a result of the refusal of Sinclair to answer questions asked him by a U. S. senate committee in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal four years ago.

BRACKEN FAVORS PRIORITY PERMIT TO POWER OUTFIT

Would Grant British Capitalists Right to Develop White Mud Falls

WINNIPEG, April 15.—When the Manitoba legislature met this afternoon, Premier John Bracken introduced a resolution urging the granting of priority permit to the British Dominion's Power corporation for the development of White Mud Falls on the Nelson river, northern Manitoba. Granting of the permit will be subjected to Dominion regulations.

The British Dominion Power corporation is headed by Sir Reginald Brade, prominent English financier. The corporation was organized in London, England, recently. The plan of the English company is to supply power to all the mining companies now engaged in development work in the vicinity of White Mud Falls as well as towns, including The Pas and Cold Lake, Manitoba. The amount of power available is approximately 300,000 horsepower. Development of the falls would mean an outlay of about $50,000,000. The English syndicate also is reported to have secured valuable pulp wood lands in the north and intends later to build pulp mills to utilize surplus power.

Mr. Bracken intimated that the government was considering the establishment of a power commission which would deal with all matters pertaining to water power site development.

Debate on the resolution was adjourned by Lient.-Col. F. G. Taylor, Conservative leader.

AIR AND WATER CAUSE LIVELY COUNCIL TIFF

Alderman Morgan Disagrees Mayor Barnes on Water Charges

MAYOR BARNES DOES NOT AGREE ON AIRPORT

Says Cost more Like $83,000 Than $20,000; Can't See Revenue

That "the people of Nelson had a habit of going off half-cocked" and that "the council felt that a full investigation should be made before such a large investment as was asked should be undertaken," was a statement of Mayor R. D. Barnes after hearing C. F. Sedgwick and E. C. Wragge, a delegation from the board of trade which appeared before the council last night to ask its indorsation of an airport for Nelson. The council passed a motion to the effect that it would consider the question "when there was something to authorize taking such a step."

SECURE AT ONCE

Mr. Sedgwick, in presenting his case, stated that it was urgent that an airport be secured at once and that the initial cost would be about $20,000. He believed without doubt that revenue would pay the interest on the investment, stating that for light planes a fee of $1 would be charged; for middleweight planes, $2, and for heavy planes $3. In reply to a question from Mayor R. D. Barnes as to when the revenue would begin Mr. Sedgwick stated as soon as the landing field was in shape.

The mayor stated that he had talked with Flight-Lieutenant Mortee, in charge of the Dominion government survey plane here and that he had said he believed the Calgary-Vancouver air line would use trimotored planes and that commercial planes were safe when equipped with three motors. Therefore, the mayor continued, only other types of planes would use the Nelson airport. Mr. Sedgwick stated that government planes would use the port to which the mayor said he understood the government was using all seaplanes. He believed that not much revenue could be expected from the landing field.

The mayor agreed that an airport would be an asset to Nelson, but if located, as planned, at South Slocan, he thought it would be less of an asset. Mr. Sedgwick replied that the Vancouver airport was 16 miles from the city.

Viceroy of India and Lady Escape Railway Accident

LONDON, April 15.—A Reuter's dispatch from Dehradun, India, reports that a small bridge caught fire accidently near Hardwar, shortly before a train bearing the Viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, and Lady Irwin to Dehradun arrived. One sleeper on the bridge was burned and the viceroy's train was held up for an hour until it had been ascertained that the bridge was safe.

A Delhi message to the Exchange Telegraph gives a more alarming but unconfirmed version of an accident reprinted from a Delhi paper. This report states that an attempt to wreck the train bearing the Viceroy and Lady Irwin to Dehradun was made early Saturday a short distance beyond Saharanpur.

WORK ON P. G. E. SURVEY IS NOW AN ACTUAL FACT

Engineer on Group at Quesnel; Pack Trains Are Arranged

QUESNEL, B. C., April 15.—With the arrival here of J. Calloghan, deputy minister of railways of Alberta, chief locating engineer for the Pacific Great Eastern railway in 1913-14, and who has now been appointed by the British Columbia government to propose a route for the P. G. E. between Quesnel and Prince George, the first stage of the government's railway survey is under way.

Calloghan was met here by L. C. Gunn, engineer who worked under him on the Grand Trunk Pacific and later in 1913 made the reconnaissance survey for the P.G.E. between Squamish and Prince George. Mr. Gunn had previously engaged a small crew and had made all arrangements for the necessary pack.

The craft, of various sizes, "appear to have been stolen" Carey Ferguson, collector of customs declared.

The collector has been informed that the boats were moored without a guard over them because the government had no other place to store them.

'Peace Is Imperative,' Says Meighen at Coast; War Is World Suicide

VANCOUVER, April 15.—"When the people realize that they are never going to reach the goal of peace except by compromise, compromise is going to be reached." said Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former premier of Canada in an address before the Canadian club here today, in which he dealt with the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen

Describing the advances made in scientific warfare, Mr. Meighen said war today would be world suicide. Peace was imperative, he declared.

The speaker said the Anglo-French pact was an honest effort to get together in a spirit of compromise, not an attempt for mutual gain. He traced the formation of the preparatory commission. There was much misunderstanding of the commission, he said, in the United States as well as in Canada, nor was it wholly eliminated now.

Mr. Meighen's introduction was marked by an exchange of pleasantries, Brig.-Gen. Victor W. Odlum, an old political opponent in Vancouver, in introducing the speaker, declared he could state feelingly "that the people of Vancouver were always loyal to Mr. Meighen."

"Your president has been good enough to place me among that galaxy of ex-premiers of Canada," said Mr. Meighen in reply. "I remember I held that office twice, and, at least, can boast that I hold all belts, medals and records for the brevity of time which I have held the office on both occasions," he said, amid laughter.

DIVORCE BILLS CAUSE TROUBLE

Woodsworth Raises Objection to Procedure; Vote Ignores Party Lines

OTTAWA, April 15.—Threatened opposition to the present method of handling divorce bills in the house of commons became a reality today. It developed early in the afternoon when the members found themselves confronted with a list of 45 of these measures all standing for second reading. In the past the house might have run through the list as quickly as possible and sent the bills on to the private bills committee. By unanimous consent, it might even have saved itself the trouble of reading the title of each separate bill. The bills might have been passed en bloc.

But today saw a most decided change in their procedure. From the moment of the first of these bills came up for second reading opposition of the most strenuous character developed. J. H. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg, north center, led the fight against the passage of the first bill as well as of the subsequent measures. He made it clear he was not opposing divorce. Still less was he opposing the individual applications because he declared, members of the commons could not be expected to familiarize themselves with the details of all divorce bills. He was opposing the principle of dealing with legislation which the members knew little, or nothing about.

Finally the first bill was put through on a record vote which resulted in the approval of second reading by a majority of 35. Party lines were ignored in the division, and the number of votes reported were small, an appreciable proportion of members not being in the chamber.

MAY TRY ELEVATED HIGHWAYS, ONTARIO

TORONTO, April 15.—Elevated highways for through interurban motor traffic loom as possibilities for Ontario some time in the near future. Hon. George S. Henry, minister of highways, following a tour of inspection in New York City, is greatly impressed with the elevated system of highways.

British Budget Proposals Seen in Brief Form

LONDON, April 15.—The budget proposals put forward by Right Hon. Winston Churchill today may be summarized briefly as follows:

The duty of eight cents a pound in tea is repealed immediately.

The betting tax is immediately repealed, but a $50 licence duty on bookmakers and $200 tax for each office telephone used by them is imposed, the licence being as formerly.

Half of one per cent of the "takings" in the totalizer betting machines will go to the government.

The railway passenger duty will be repealed on condition that the equivalent in capital will be expended in modernizing rail transport.

The relief of local taxes on agricultural land and buildings will be operative immediately, while the relief for industrial and transportation property must wait until October.

An increase in grants for road construction is made with additional grants for schemes in which half of the men employed are drawn from the distressed areas.

A 25 per cent reduction in retail liquor licences is made.

The only new duty is an additional levy upon brewers, distillers and tobacco manufacturers, aimed at taking from these industries the relief they would have received under the derating proposals.

CAUSED ANXIETY

Anxiety for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh spread across the United States when it was learned he had been unreported since the afternoon of April 9, when he hopped off from Mexico City for an unnamed destination in his own country. It was not until noon the following day that he was located, 20 hours after his taking off, in Texas.

TEA DUTY AND BETTING TAX GET THE AXE

Churchill's Budget Estimates Surplus of $15,800,000; House Crowded

ONLY NEW DUTY IS LEVY ON BREWERS

Budget Address Brings Labor Criticisms; Saving Noted in Armaments

LONDON, April 15.—The tea duty and the betting tax are to be abolished forwith. These were the two most striking proposals Right Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, submitted today when he opened his fifth and what most peope at Westminster believe will prove his last budget speech. Whatever may be the result of the general election the impression prevails that Mr. Churchill's course in any future ministry will lie in other directions than the exchequer.

The budget was balanced by the cha[illegible] estimated ex-[illegible]4,000 and an [illegible] 850,000, [illegible] surplus of [illegible] pounds (about $15,800,000).

The house was crowded to overflowing this afternoon, the members and visitors awaited Mr. Churchill's speech with intense eagerness. Among his auditors, the most prominent was the Prince of Wales occupying his usual place above the clock. Near him were such commercial and financial magnates as Lords Melchett, Danesfort and Ashfield, as well as the portly form of Archbishop of York whom, no doubt, has learned at first hand a good deal about the troubles of industry, both at the top and bottom, during his years in Manchester.

CHEERS FOR LEADERS

The members of the house of commons gossiped audibly during the questions' period for everybody was waiting for Mr. Churchill.

Premier Baldwin received a party cheer on entering the house. So did former Premier Ramsay MacDonald and Right Hon. Phillip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer in Mr. MacDonald's short-lived ministry. Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal member, came in a minute or so after Mr. Churchill had begun his address and dropped into a back seat unnoticed.

The government benches gave the chancellor of the exchequer a rousing welcome when he advanced to the table.

He opened by remarking the financial year just closed resembled its predecessor and that the "failure of beer had been repaired by the ravages of death," meaning that what he had failed to secure on beer duties he had secured on death duties. He then struck a provocative note.

"The industrial disaster of 1926 struck a deep gash into the statistical records of our national life," he declared.

"The same old story," cried the Laborites with other interjections.

BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

"However," contended Mr. Churchill, "on a reveiw of the past five years I must admit matters worked out a good deal better than I had hoped or expected."

"Or deserved," returned some Socialist still smarting under the chancellor's reference to the general strike. This interruption was the only one in which any real heat was engendered although Mr. Churchill alluded more than once again to the disaster of 1926. The opposition after that allowed it to pass with only mild expressions.

"In spite of the injuries to every form of national life which resulted from these follies of 1926, we have realized a respectable solid surplus in the year just closed," continued Mr. Churchill. For more than two years we have had the longest lucid interval since 1914 without a general strike, a general election and a general war."

FIGURES FOR PROOF

Mr. Churchill then resorted to sta-

Preparatory Commission at Geneva May Debate Disarmament Issue, Naval, Air, Land in Public

GENEVA, April 15.—Indications tonight confirmed the idea that suggestions will be presented at public sessions of the preparatory commission for a disarmament conference which held its opening session here today rather than that they will be subject of private conversations between the chief delegates.

Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, is likely to propose appointment of a special sub-committee of the five great naval powers to study the naval question. This may be opposed unless a sub-committee also is designated to study land and air armaments. Some of the naval powers object to singling out the naval question and to the creation of ideals in the world that naval differences are alone holding up disarmament.

International socialism made a strong bid tonight for swift action in the reduction of burdens imposed by armaments. A delegation from the second Internationale, headed by Louis De Brouckere, of Belgium, called upon President J. Loudon of the commission, backed by petitions forwarded from many countries.

Up to the present about 7500 such petitions have reached Geneva and they still are coming in at the rate of several hundred daily.

stics in proof of his contentions instancing the increase in savings deposits in banks and saving certificates, the number of persons in insured trades which had gone up by 591,000 and the cost of living which had declined by 18 points, although wages were almost exactly at the same level as in 1924.

The chancellor then alluded to the progressive diminution in the consumption of alcoholic liquor, an incident to which he returned more than once later. Contrasted with this he referred with satisfaction to the increase in the consumption of tea and sugar and in the purchase of motor bikes, silk garments and similar articles, and to the extended ability of the populato take advantage of excursion trains.

TRADE BALANCE BETTER

In the commercial sphere he said the balance of trade had steadily improved and the country had displaced its power to invest capital abroad by an increase in foreign investments from $430,000,000 in 1924 to $745,000,000 in 1928. Now capital issues from home investment showed an increase of $500,000,000 since 1924.

"Whatever may be the condition of particular industries or particular localities," Mr. Churchill remarked, "there is no doubt we dwell today in a more powerful, more wealthy, more securely founded country than we did five years ago and compared with most European countries, we are regaining our pre-war level.

Our progress though has been relatively far out-stripped by the United States which gained advantage during the war and has displayed far higher stability of purpose ever since," he stated.

This last observation provoked a somewhat mild demonstration but the meaning of it in such a crowded house was not apparent.

Then the chancellor, turning himself directly towards the opposition benches, began to banter them on their policies.

GOES AFTER OPPONENTS

"I should almost hesitate to mention public economy," said Mr. Churchill looking his blandest. "We are assured the only way to gain approval with the modern electorate is to spend money as fast as possible and on an enormous scale. The Labor party would get the money by taxation and the Liberal party by borrowing."

Mr. Churchill then went on to describe Lloyd George's road building scheme as "the making of roads and tracks for well-to-do motorists to make the ordinary pedestrian skip." The opposition listened to all these sallies with complete good humor. Mr. Lloyd George was perhaps the closest listener of them all and was chuckling as freely as the rest.

NAVAL SAVINGS

"The greatest economy effected in this parliament has been on armaments," said Mr. Churchill, resuming the entirely serious note of his speech. "The navy, the army and the air force have yielded savings of more than $37,500,000. The Labor government laid down five cruisers which cost Lord Chelmsford, first lord of the admiralty in the Labor ministry, only $7,500,000, but which have cost the present lord upwards of $50,000,000. Great credit is due to the first lord of the admiralty, Rt. Hon. William Bridgeman, for the way in which he has provided for the heavy cost of the navy without any appreciable increase in the estimates.

"If you take the increase of the non-effective services and the transference of the fleet air arm to the navy and the actual depreciation is about $8,750,000. This represents five years of careful work which naturally went against the grain of the naval men and I admire them for the perserverance with which they have carried it out.

"The army has been administered with progressive and increased economy. Every single year the minister of war has affected further reductions. There can be no reduction in the navy below what is necessary for the preservation of our island and the unity of the Empire. Reductions in the army depend largely on international agreements but we cannot reduce that part of the army which is a police force."

In a brief discussion of the gold standard Mr. Churchill was interrupted by Miss Ellen Wilkinson, (Labor, Middlesbrough east). The interruption provoked the chancellor to interject a reference to the "small intellectual school among us which reaches its fullest expression in Russia and which proclaims it is much better for the nation to go through the bankruptcy court and start business again as most of the continental belligerents have done".

GOLD STANDARD PERMANENT

The benefit of the gold standard, he declared would come later and would be permanent.

The dead weight of the national debt has been reduced by $485,000,000, he said, and went on to indicate that debt amounting to $5,500,000,000 had been either repaid or converted. With one single exception, he declared, every conversion represented a saving to the taxpayer.

At the end of an hour and a half and, as proved, at the beginning of his last hour, Mr. Churchill had read his proposals for the current year.

BEER REVENUE

I cannot estimate the revenue from beer at more than $395,000,000," he said, which though an embarrassment to the treasury is an advantage to the nation. Wine shows a reduction of $775,000 but spirits are up by $1,500,000."

"That," added Mr. Churchill as he drank a tumbler of colored liquor, "can be attributed to the cold weather." In further dwellinng on the results of liquor taxation, Mr. Churchill spoke amid laughted of the "results of regulated freedom directed by high taxation compared with those achieved elsewhere, through prohibition tempered by bootlegging."

BETTING TAX "FIASCO"

Coming to the betting tax the chancellor described it roundly as a "fiasco" and admitted quite readily that he had been responsible for its imposition.

"In practice it failed," he said, "because of the volatile and elusive nature of the betting population. The progress of collection showed tht tax was being paid exclusively by the honest bookmakers."

"Sir," said Mr. Churchill, with mock solemnity, "in the words of Burke's if I cannot have reform without injustice I will not have it at all." Then with another look at the Laborite he said, "Mr. MacDonald told the country the government, in deriving revenue from betting, were parasites on damnation. Yet only a month ago in the South Battersea by-election a hundred bookmakers by offering him their support showed that he himself was only too ready to be a parasite on damnation."

REPEAL BETTING TAX

"I have decided on the turnover. The betting tax shall be immediately repealed but we shall continue to levy a personal licence duty of $50 on all bookmakers and $200 on every telephone in a bookmaker's office. On the machinery of the totalizator will be imposed a tax of one half of one per cent of the total takings. The cost of these changes will be $4,500,000 for a full year."

Mr. Churchill then went on to indicate that he intended to raise the manufacturer's duty on brewers, distillers and tobacco makers, the equivalent to the relief obtainable by them under the rating reform scheme. Complaints which had been made for years against the high cost of retail liquor licences would be met by a reduction of 25 per cent, And the licence holders would be permitted to sell single half bottles.

Cheaper telephone service for the rural districts was next foreshadowed and increased road grants to provide employment with special grants where 50 or more per cent of the men employed on the roads were drawn from the distressed areas.

An old railway duty bringing in about $2,000,000 per year would be repealed, he said, on condition that a capital amounting to $32,500,000 was used in the developing and modernization of freight transport.

In the true tradition of budget day Mr. Churchill kept his biggest secret to the last. This was abolition of the tea tax.

TEA DUTY

There has been a tax on tea since the reign of Queen Elizabeth," he said, "and I am glad to think that the reign of George V, will witness the total end and I believe the final abolition of this duty. I have every reason to believe reduction of four pence in the price of tea will reach the consumer immediately."

Immediately prior to this, Mr. Church ill had announced his intention of bringing the government's scheme of relief from local rates so far as agriculture is concerned into immediate operation although other industries would have to wait for this relief until October.

Many members were leaving the house when Mr. Churchill sprung a little surprise not actually connected with taxation details. Owing to the eminence of the general election, the government proposed to have two finance bills. The first would contain only the provisions necessary to express the government's policy and carry on the public services. All complicated details would be left to the new parliament.

"It will not therefore be open," he said, "for honorable members to move a long series of new clauses setting forth electioneering lures and wiles, until after the general election has taken place."

Boyd C. Affleck at his request, showing that the initial expenditure in connection with the establishment of an airport would be near $83,000. Mr. Sedgwick attempted to take issue, but the mayor continued, stating that the council had to be shown before it would indorse the plan.

Mr. Sedgwick protested that if the port was earning money the investment would be safe. Mr. Sedgwick agreed with the mayor that the revenue would amount to about $45 a month.

SUGGESTS MAN FROM OTTAWA

Mr. Sedgwick urged again that the city must get busy at once or it was to be left, to which Mayor Barnes replied that the council had to be satisfied that the investment was worthwhile. He suggested that a man be secured from Ottawa to investigate the matter and guaranttee that such an airport would be acceptable. The mayor continued that he had been advised that planes were being perfected that could take off on a small surface and that probably in a few years a large landing field would not be necessary.

ON WATER SYSTEM

"The people of Nelson have a habit of going off half-cocked," the mayor said. "As an incidtnt some years ago approximately $120,000 was spent on the water system without the necessary investigation. There was supposed to have been enough water under the new plan to serve a city of 20,000 population, but it was proved last fall that there wasn't enough for Nelson. I feel that a full investigation should be made," the mayor continued, "before an investment of this size is made."

SAYS SITE IDEAL

Mr. Sedgwick extended an invitation to every member of the council to go out to the proposed site and look it over for themselves, and said that in the meantime the board of trade would give them all the information it could concerning the question.

Alderman Dr. H. H. MacKenzie asked about fog and mist near the proposed site, to which Mr. Sedgwick replied it was negligible.

Alderman W. M. Walker pointed out that Flight-Lieutenant Morfee had made four attempts to reach Nelson by air, but Mr. Sedgwick showed that the plane had encountered its difficulties at the coast. He described the district surrounding the proposed site as ideal.

In closing Mayor Barnes said, "We have got to have this thing fully understood before the council can take any action. We would advise that you get in touch with the department and get full particulars on the question."

Following the motion of the council Mr. Sedgwick stated that City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck had agreed to accompany him to Spokane on May 21 where the airport would be inspected and some pointers taken.

MORGAN RESENTS STATEMENTS

Taking issue with Mayor Barnes' statement on the water system and his accusation of a full investigation not being made before the expenditure was made, Alderman J. P. Morgan stated that the council at that time did everything possible before taking the step.

The mayor repeated his statements that there was said to have been enough water to supply 20,000 people and that it had been proved there was not, to which Alderman Morgan replied that the report was that there was enough water to supply 12,000 people. He objected strongly to the statement that there had been no investigation saying that the council had had the advice of an engineer and had considered the question carefully. The mayor replied that somebody was to blame and repeated that the investigation was not full enough. He was repeating the words of the engineer, he said.

WAS A DRY FALL

Alderman Morgan stated that the fall had been exceptionally dry and that there had been enough water last summer. The mayor replied that that was the trouble, the fall had been dry, and there was not enough water coming into the system to supply a city twice the size of Nelson as was claimed.

'I still maintain that there was not a full investigation," the mayor said.

"I beg to differ with you" Alderman Morgan replied.

"Well, alright," Mayor Barnes said, "you're entitled to your opinion and I am entitled to mine."

Mayor Wants Extension Telephone Upstairs in Fire Hall; No Action

Stating that the firemen's quarters at the city firehall were too far away from the telephone, Mayor R. D. Barnes advocated at the city council meeting last night that an extension instrument be placed upstairs so that the firemen would not have to go downstairs to answer the telephone. No action was taken pending investigation of expense.

The mayor stated that he had visited the firehall and had ascertained that when the telephone, which was located near the front door, rang, the men, in their quarters upstairs, had to cross a room, slide down a pole and cross downstairs to the phone.

DECIDE TO AID COUNCIL TO RUN CIVIC AFFAIRS

and as to what his powers would be. Gentlemen, the future of the city must lie in your own hands."

At the conclusion of the report a spirited discussion was held and the experiences of South Vancouver under an administrator were recounted. A standing vote showed a majority of those present to be in favor of getting behind the present council and helping them run the city rather than bring in an outsider. It was pointed out that the people were well satisfied with the present council at the January election when no one showed interest enough to oppose them.

MAINS NOT SO BAD

City Foreman W. D. Willson stated that there was an impression abroad that all of the city mains were rotten. He had been busy on the mains for the past month and had found only 68 feet that had to be condemned. Most of the pipes still had many years to run.

A. Petrie asked the city foreman how much water there was in the reservoir at the present time. Mr. Willson replied that it was one-third full.

W. McKenzie brought up the matter of making the Black Bear pond a safe swimming pool for children. He said he thought it could be drained, the bottom covered with sand and the water properly disinfected for a sum not exceeding $100, and suggested that the committee bring this to the attention of the council. After considerable discussion it was decided that the executive go thoroughly into the matter and if necessary, have the work done by public subscription.

C. E. Turner was elected president and W. Evans vice-president. The following were added to the executive: G. Hanson, H. L. Reaney, C. Beaulieu, Mrs. F. D. Erskine, S. J. Hackney, H. ristian, W. G. Mara, Mrs. J. Deley, G. Schwartzenhauer, W. Trenbach, G. C. Cobb, W. McKenzie.

BRACKEN TACKLES TORY 'BLOCKADE'

Will Move for Suspension of Rule Providing Automatic Adjournment

WINNIPEG, April 15.—An attack against the Conservative "blockade", which has been enforced in the Manitoba legislature since last week whenever estimates were brought forward for consideration will be launched by the government.

The government is lining up "its attacking machinery" and the first assault will be launched tomorrow by Premier John Bracken.

At present the house automatically adjourned at 10:30 o'clock Tonight, Premier Bracken announced that he would move that the rule providing automatic adjournment be suspended. In this way, the premier hopes to curtail the long speeches which have been made by the Conservative blockaders, and to speed up the business of the legislature. If the premier's motion is carried, the house would continue in session until the government permitted adjournment.

If this fails to "lift" the blockade, other plans, it is understood are under consideration by government leaders.

May Throw Pavilion at Lakeside Park Open to the Public This Year

Dancing pavilion at Lakeside park may be thrown open to the public for picnics during the day and those evenings not in use for dances this summer it was intimated at the city council meeting last night when the subject was brought up by Alderman J. P. Morgan and elaborated on by Alderman C. F. Coates, chairman of the parks committee. No action was taken on the question as the pavilion will not be let till the first of June.

The proposition was not to exclude dancing, Mr. Coates pointed out, but to provide a place during the day for the public. It was originally built for the public, he said, and yet during last year it was closed day and night except on the two nights of the week on which dances were held.

Gyro Members Hear Cartmel on League

Club Takes Membership in Local Chapter League of Nations Society

President John Cartmel of the Gyro club spoke on behalf of the League of Nations Society in Canada at the club luncheon held last night at the Canadian Legion.

Stating that the formation of the League of Nations was the evolution of international relations in answer to the call following the "slaughter" in the last war the speaker went on to state that the great voluntary association of nations was doing much and would proceed to do more in the pursuance of peace.

Enumerating the many functions of the League of Nations the speaker concluded that since the League of Nations Society in Canada was the only organization of its kind in Canada for the purpose of educating its citizens along the lines of world peace, it should be promoted by every means within their power.

Before the meeting closed the members voted in favor of subscribing to a club membership in the local chapter of the League of Nations Society in Canada.

Makes Plea for Study of Cinema for Use of Child

VANCOUVER, April 15.—A plea for the National Council of Education to undertake a study of the cinema in its relation to the education of the child, with a view towards finding means by which this medium could be employed in teaching, was made by Dr. E. Leslie Pidgeon of Montreal at Saturday night's session of the council.

Dr. Pidgeon said he sought not only a negative policy of protecting the child from harm but desired to find a means by which the cinema could be utilized in a way which would aid the child in its learning.

Commenting on censorship in Canada, Dr. Pidgeon said much good had been done but that this was only eliminating danger. The same comment applied to those Canadian provincial laws which barred children under the age of 16 from films unless accompanied by parents. In these provinces, he added, most children managed to gain admittance through pressing strangers into service as "parents".

Dr. Pidgeon said the new Quebec law which drastically banned all children under 16 from theaters, certainly removed the peril of the motion picture as far as they were concerned but it did not fully meet the problem, as it shut the cinema, one of the most plastic of modern means of expression, entirely away from the child.

Fifth Street Residents Petition for Extension of Plank Sidewalk a Block

Thorvald Hulls, George Sutcliffe, Harriet M. Heath and Peter Johnson were the signatures on a petition presented to the city council last night asking that the plank sidewalk on Fifth street, Fairview, be extended from Cottonwood street to Davis street. The petition also pointed out the necessity of street lights at the corner of Cottonwood and Fourth street and the corner of Cottonwood and Fifth streets and stated that the road was in a deplorable condition due to being used often by heavy trucks hauling gravel City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck was instructed to investigate.

On the recommendation of Fire Chief M. H. Maloney the city council last night granted Firemen John Leslie and George Mills a increase in salary of $10 a month. The firement had served the specified time, the chief's recommendation stated.

GYROS TO BRING LECTURER, NELSON

Gyros at their luncheon last night heard A. G. McDougall of New York, advance agent for Admiral Gordon Campbell, V.C., D.S.O., Croix de Guerre, who is travelling through Canada on a lecture tour which embraces the facts of the British naval campaign against the Germans during the great war.

Deciding that it would be folly to miss the "thrilling adventure story" of the admiral, which is accompanied by slides, the Gyros arranged for a matinee and evening program to be given in the near future.

Admiral Campbell is a world figure since his distinguished service during the war when he rose to the post of admiralship in the short span of two years, a feat never before accomplished in the British navy in so short a time.

Since then it has en favorable, though, due in rt to lower prices received r staple products exported, ere has been a substantial cline in the favorable trade lance for the past three ars. On December 31, 1928, stood at $151,812,000 as mpared with $151,664,000 in 27, $275,597,000 in 1926 and 92,905,000 in 1925.

Of the increase in the value f import trade in 1928, 90 r cent was attributable to reign countries and 10 per nt to countries of the British mpire. Greater purchases rom the United States ac- unted for 13 per cent of the crease in value and from the nited Kingdom for 6.3 per nt of this. Purchases from ermany increased in the year 3,084,000; from Belgium by 1,583,000; from Japan by 978,000; from the Nether- nds by $573,000, and from rance by $387,000. Of the crease in export trade in the ear foreign countries ac- unted for roughly 65 per nt and countries of the ritish Empire for 35 per cent. reater sales to the United tates accounted for 13 per nt of the increase and to the nited Kingdom for over 20 er cent. There were large in- reases in the value of exports to several foreign countries, notably to the Netherlands, which grew in the year by $21,119,000; to Germany by $5,445,000; to Japan by $9,046,000; to Belgium by $9,662,000, and to France by $2,618,000. At the end of the year Canada's favorable balance of trade with the United Kingdom amounted to $257,171,000, this figure being only exceeded in recent years in 1925, and the unfavorable balance with the United States at $312,049,000, the highest it has ever been.

Of the increase in imports in 1928 over 1927, raw materials accounted for 21.8 per cent, semi-manufactured products for 2.7 per cent, and fully manufactured products for 75.5 per cent. The nature of these manufactured goods was such as to indicate rising national prosperity and increasing agricultural and industrial activity. The greatest increase was in the iron and products group, accountable in the main to increased purchases of machinery, rolling mill products, autos and auto parts, and farm implements. All groups of imports reported substantial increases in values. The greatest increase in exports was in the agricultural and vegetable products group, this being very largely accountable to wheat, the value of this commodity exported being $94,144,000 greater than in the previous year. The item to show the next greatest increase was newsprint paper, whose value was $17,882,000 more than in the previous year.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES

L. S.: Please publish recipes for Ice Box Cookies, and Macaroons.

Answer: The following was contributed by another reader: "Ice Box Cookies: Cream together one cup of butter and two cups of brown sugar. Stir in two slightly beaten eggs. Sift three and one-half cups of pastry flour with one teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-third cup of sugar, one-half teaspoon of ground cinnamon, and one-fourth teaspoon of ground nutmeg. Mix all well together (no milk necessary). Flavor with one-half tablespoon of vanilla and form into rolls three inches in diameter. Put into the ice box to become firm. Next day slice one-eighth of an inch thick, sprinkle slices with a mixture of sugar and cinnamon, and bake ten minutes in a medium oven."

Macaroons: On a smooth board, work together one-half pound of almond paste and three-eights of a pound of confectioner's sugar. Then add three egg whites and work till mixture is smooth. Shape with a pastry tube on a pan covered with buttered paper or drop the mixture in small dabs one inch apart, from the tip of a teaspoon. Bake in a slow oven for 18 minutes. To remove from pan without breaking, invert pan and while it is still hot lay a cloth wet with cold water steam and release the cakes.

S. C.: "I recently ate some rolls made by a professional caterer, which appeared to be like the bakery whipped-cream rolls, but were filled with a hot, thick sauce, evidently made out of chicken stock. (These were served with cold Chicken Salad.) Do you suppose any other reader can tell me how to make these rolls and their fillings?"

Answer: I hope somebody will be good enough to send us this recipe, for I feel sure we would all like to try such a delicious-sounding kind of roll!

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton M.D.

HOW WE DIFFER FROM ONE ANOTHER

Those of use who have had an opportunity of examining athletes representing all branches of athletics come across many little peculiarities about the outer part of the body. Differences in the individual as to color of eyes, insides of chest, one side usually well developed, the other side lacking a portion of the chest muscle; one leg longer than the other; one foot longer or wider than the other; an extra toe or finger; bony lumps on different parts of the body; and other unusual conditions.

Now these individuals are all athletes in excellent condition able to take part in the most strenuous forms of sport. These outward peculiarities have little or no effect upon their health or strength. Similarly there are differences inside such as an extra rib on one side, an extra loop of intestine, some of the bones of the spinal column that have grown together, peculiarities in the shape of bones or organs. And these little peculiarities generally speaking give no trouble; do not interfere with the working of the body in any way.

However, there are some peculiarities or differences from normal that do have an effect upon the individual's health and happiness and physicians are now seriously studying this matter.

For instance, the ductless or endocrine glands in the body have a regulating influence on the different processes. The thyroid gland working properly is like the proper draft for a stove or furnace; the fuel burns well and gives its maximum of heat and minimum of ash. If the thyroid gland is too active, it is like a forced draft in a furnace which burns up the fuel in a short space of time. If the thyroid is not secreting sufficiently the draft is poor and the fuel, instead of being burned or used, is stored away as fat in the body.

The adrenal glands, one above each kidney, have a sort of check on the thyroid gland and help to slow up and strengthen processes which would be rapid and weak.

And so with other ductless glands. You can readily see therefore that when a physician undertakes the treatment of a case he must keep these facts in mind.

Further, you and I inherit some little peculiarities of mind or mannerisms from our parents, and this likewise the physician has to keep in mind. He can quite calmly tell one person that he has an organic heart ailment and also quietly outline a manner of life that must be undertaken. With another individual, with a condition much less serious, he must use the most careful and cheering language possible, of the individual will sink into the depths of despair.

Told in Rime

A SPRING SONG

Awake you flowers all,
Respond to Nature's call;
Winter hath said farewell,
Spring is singing her silver bell.

Out of the ground peep tiny heads,
Tired of sleeping in the earthen beds.
Birds sing brightly in the trees,
The air filled with the buzzing of bees.

All the world is full of life and beauty,
To make it so is Nature's duty;
So she stands Queen of Spring,
And makes her silver bell to ring.

ROTARIANS HEAR ADDRESS ON THE LEAGUE NATIONS

Rev. J. C. McKenzie Gives Brief Address Dealing With Meritorious Work

ALL MEMBERS JOIN CHAPTER OF LEAGUE

Luncheon Experiences Attendance of Hundred Per Cent

Nelson Rotarians turned out 100 per cent strong for yesterday's luncheon at the Hume hotel, and in addition to the record attendance the Rotarians responded to a man in taking out membership in the League of Nations society.

Another feature of the Rotary luncheon was the address given by the Rev. J. C. McKenzie in connection with the League of Nations and the movement under way to organize a local chapter of the League of Nations society in Canada.

Stressing the necessity of an international court of justice such as was agreed upon by the ambassadors from the great nations of the world after the last great conflict, the speaker went on to enumerate points that justified such an organization as the League of Nations.

The fathers of the great organization were at first severely criticised and labelled as faddists and dreamers by certain skeptical quarters, however, during the years of democracy that have followed the so-called dreams are beginning to continue to prove the necessary antidote for preventing the world from another precipitation into chaos.

As proof that we, as Canadians, are pioneers in the field of promoting peace, Father McKenzie cited the case of the pact formed in 1814 between the United States and Canada in which those two countries agreed to abolish war between them. That the treaty has been successful needs no further proof than the thousands of miles of unarmed boundary between the two countries, and the fact that all difficulties have been amicably settled by the action of representatives.

Humanitarian activities of the League are amazing in their extent and at no time in the history of the world has such a force been needed more than at the present.

Such an organization deserves the greatest possible interest and support of the people, concluded the speaker.

Following the address President W. Meagher suggested that the entire club membership be added to the roster of the local chapter of the League of Nations Society in Canada when the drive for membership opens tonight. The members, to a man, responded immediately by coming forward and paying their membership fees.

Large Audience Turns Out to Hear the Glee Singers at Cranbrook

RONALD SEAL WINS ORATORICAL TEST

Accorded High Honors in Cranbrook District Finals; Two Others Try

CRANBROOK, B. C., April 15.—Ronald Seal of Proctor was accorded high honors in the district finals of the International Oratorical contest, which is sponsored in British Columbia, by the Vancouver Sun. The contest was staged in the auditorium of the Cranbrook high school on Friday evening, the building being filled to capacity.

The other contestants for final honors were Catherine Gowans of Grand Forks and Helen McClure of Cranbrook. Both these entrants gave the winner a close run in points, all of the orations being of such a high order that the audience unanimously voted it an evening well spent.

Musical numbers by students of the high school interspersed the program and an amusing act, "Melle-drama" put on by the fourth year students elicited much appreciative applause.

The position of chairman was ably filled by C. Barclay, principal of the Cranbrook high school. In his opening remarks Mr. Barclay explained that all high schools in the district from Grand Forks to the Alberta boundary had been invited to send contestants. The winner of this district will contest with winners of other districts for the British Columbia title. The British Columbian champion will go east, where, at some city to be chosen, he will compete with the champions of other provinces.

The all Canada winner will be given a trip to Europe, and will probably compete with oratorical title holders of other nations.

The winning contestant's subject was "Canada Among the Nations." He touched on Canada's trade position, her important relationships with the United States, her place in the British Commonwealth and in the League of Nations, concluding with a resume of her human and natural resources conductive to national greatness.

Those who acted as judges were: Mrs. Evah McKowan, Rev. H. Wallace, Rev. J. C. McLean-Bell, Alan Graham, and W. G. Morton.

A letter was read from the Crippled Children's hospital thanking the Institute for the two tubes of dimes—82 in all.

This resolution was passed unanimously.

A second resolution was necessitated by the influx of Doukobors to Willow Point since the beginning of 1929. Mrs. C. Shannon moved and Mrs. A. This resolution was passed although many members refrained from voting. Mrs. and Miss Jackson were tea hostesses.

Aerial Tram Break Delays Shipments From Rock Candy

GRAND FORKS, April 15.—Just as the Rock Candy mine was starting to get into production, having turned out about 500 tons of ore, the cable supporting the aerial tram line broke down on Wednesday, and eleven ore cars ordered had to be cancelled. Supt. Matheson came to town and got in touch with headquarters of the Consolidated company at Trail. Repairing of the cable will probably require from two to three weeks.

GRAIN PRICES HAVE UPTURNS AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 15.—Grain price upturns, based on farm legislation prospects amounted to 1⅜ cents a bushel in many cases today, but increased selling led afterwards to setbacks. Uncertainty among traders was apparent regarding the market effect of several clauses of the farm bill introduced in the house today at Washington, especially the clauses which referred to minimzing of speculation and made mention of insurance against price declines.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, the same as Saturday's finish to five-eighths of a cent higher corn finished three-eighths to five-eighths of a cent up; oats at one-fourth to 1⅛ cents advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

PRICES UNDERGO LOWER TREND, N. Y.

Dullest Season on Wall Street Since August; Hoover's Message Was Dreaded

NEW YORK, April 15.—Prices drifted moderately today in the dullest session of the stock market experienced since last August, with the exception of two days in December, traders being nervous over the possible market effects of President Hoover's message to congress. Total sales aggregated but 2,643,260 shares.

Call money was in ample supply throughout the day at eight per cent. Commercial paper was said to be moving a little more freely at 5¾ per cent, little having moved under six per cent in recent weeks.

Pan-American Oil issues, Simms Skelly, touched new peaks, while Maracaibo, Producers and Refiners, Prairie, Wilcox Richfield issues and General Asphalt made fair progress. Houston, however, sagged two points. Some of the food shares were also in demand, including Austin Nichols preferred, Park and Tilford, and Continental Baking "A", the last reaching new high ground on reports of higher earnings. Royal Baking Powder sold up about three points in anticipation of the announcement of the acquisition of Chase and Sanborn.

United Aircraft ran up some five points to a new high, Sparks Whittington also reached new high levels. White Sewing Machine and Allis Chalmers were in demand and Adams Express moved up 30 points to a new peak, closing at 680.

Coppers were again under pressure, Anaconda and Greene Cananea losing about three and five points respectively. U. S. Steel and Radio each sagged six points. Western Union and Wright Aero each sold off about six points. General Gas and Electric dropped 12½ and Case Threshing dropped 35 points to 415.

MINING TRADE LIGHT AT COAST

Heavy Demand for Oil Shares; Home, A. P. Con., Calmont Mayland Lead

VANCOUVER, April 15.—A heavy demand for the oil shares imparted general strength in these issues during the morning trading on the stock exchange but selling for profit developed buying the afternoon cutting down the gains in numerous issues and in a few instances the closing bids were below Saturday's finish.

In the mines, little of interest developed with the trading rather light and the trend easier.

Home Oil, A. P. Consolidated, Calmont and Mayland were the heavy traders, the former after opening at 85 cents stronger at $23.00, moved up to $24.00, but before the close dropped back to 23 for a net gain of 35c. A. P. Consolidated started 15 cents stronger at $3.80, moved up 5 cents and then fell back to finish at $3.70, up 5 cents. Calmont on a heavy trade finished unchanged at $3.05. United Oil was the strong feature, selling up to $16 and closing 75 cents firmer at $15.50. Royalite, on a small trade, jumped $5 to $156. Mill City, on a few transactions was $1 higher at $7.75 Dalhousie was fairly steady all day on a good demand between $6.10 and $6.25, closing 20 cents stronger at $6.15. Advance lost 10 cents to $9.40. and Devenish fell back 8 cents to $1.20. Hargall was 10 cents off at $1.75 after selling at $2.

In the mines, Pend Oreille, on a moderate trade, slipped back $1.25 to close at $8.60, after starting out at $9.50. Reeves McDonald eased off 25 cents to $2.60. George Copper 30c to $7.50 and Golconda 5c to $1.40. The balance of the list ranged from steady to two points weaker.

New Machinery Is Being Installed Kimberley Plant

CRANBROOK, B. C., April 15.—Production at the wonder mine of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, Kimberley, continues to show increased shipments of concentrates to the Trail smelter. From 20 to 30 cars of the metal arrive at Cranbrook by every train, each pulled by a double-header. Each car carries from 60 to 65 tons, a practical demonstration of what the Sullivan is producing.

Indications are that two trains will shortly be needed to handle this ore. New machinery for the addition to the concentrator at Chapman is being forwarded, several carloads going up this week including crushers and ore cars.

Consolidated Closes Coast Office of the George Gold Copper

VICTORIA, April 15.—The Consolidated Mining & Smelting company at the annual meeting of the George Gold Copper company here today, removed all the directors of the company with the exception of W. B. George and P. M. Linklater and replaced them with Consolidated officials. At the same time the company ordered the George Copper head office here closed out and removed to Trail, B. C., where it will be merged with the head office of the Consolidated, which has now assumed full control of the George subsidiary.

OIL ISSUES ARE ACTIVE, TORONTO

Movement Not Uniform; Leading Mining Stocks Are Reactionary

TORONTO, April 15.—Oil stocks were again the most active group on the Standard mining exchange today, although their movement was by no means uniform. Sulphuric acid has such an important place in chemical work that it may be considered as representative of the industry as a whole. Though some of it is sold, in the main it represents an intermediate stage in the production of other chemicals.

Production of sulphuric acid in Canada has now reached over 200,000,000 lbs. per year. About one-fourth of this is exported, while the main part is mostly absorbed in the manufacture of acids, alkalies, salts, explosives, fertilizers, wood distillation, electrical apparatus, petroleum refining, coke and its by-products and production of wire and sheet metal products.

The principal plants engaged in its production in Canada are Algoma Steel Corporation, limited, Sault Ste. Marie; Dominion Iron and Steel company, Sydney; Graselli Chemical Company, limited, Hamilton; Nichols Chemical company; with plants at Sulphide, Ont., and Barnet, B. C.; Mond Nickel company, Coniston, Ont.; Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, Trail, B. C.; and Triangle Chemical company, New Westminster.

The price of sulphuric acid is shown in cents per hundred-weight. By successive stages it has declined from $2.25 per cwt. to $1.60. This is still more than it was before the war. The peak year was 1918, with an average of $2.85.

Al Picks Cubs and Yanks to Win Pennants

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Another major league season opens today and all the teams start off even in the percentage column.

In the above cartoon I have picked the teams the way I think they will finish in October. In making my selections I have talked with scores of ball players and dozens of sport writers and the above selections represent the consensus of their opinions.

Quite a few of these critics picked the Athletics to top the Yankees and the Giants to win out over the Chicago Cubs.

Many of them look for Detroit and Washington to finish well up in the first division in the American League.

However, I'll string along with my selection and declare myself right now.

Past them in your hat if you wish and look at them next fall to see whether I'm a false prophet or not.

'YOU THIEF—HE'S SAFE', ETC. WILL BE HEARD TODAY

230,000 Fans Expected to See Opening Games in Big Leagues Today

The dope sheets can now be wrapped up and it will be just as well if old man fan and his youthful companions wrap themselves up comfortably, too. The prospect is there will be as many chills as there are thrills when the 16 major league baseball clubs swing into action today for the grand and gala opening of the 1929 pennant race.

If the weather does not deal too harshly with the ceremonials, approximately 230,000 spectators probably will turn out, not only to see the flag raising, the parades and notables, but to determine for themselves how close the experts have come to the facts in picking the New York Yankees to win the American league race in a romp once more or the New York Giants and Cubs to set the hottest pace in the National league.

DODGE BAD WEATHER

The teams dodged a lot of bad weather by putting off the 1929 start a week but not all of it. the prospect is for cool and probably raining conditions along the entire eastern half of the big league battle front. Only slightly more favorable reports come from the western trenches.

The biggest crowds of the days, close to 50,000 each are expected to witness two of the outstanding openers—one in the east featuring Babe Ruth and the world's champion Yankees in conflict with the Boston Red Sox at the Yankee stadium, and the other in the west, heralding the first appearance of Rigers Hornsby with the Chicago Cubs as they start the campaign against the Pittsburgh Pirates in Wrigley field, Chicago.

The nation's first fan, President Hoover, is expected to be among the 25,000 who will see the Washington Senators, managed for the first time by their old favorite, Walter Johnson, in the opening encounter with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics.

The Yankees, highly favored though they are to repeat, face a threat from at least four clubs—the Athletics, Senators, Browns and Tigers—in what critics expect to be the warmest among league contests in years.

Mr. Jinks Shortest Priced of Derby Contenders, Epsom

LONDON, April 15.—Major McCalmont's colt, Mr. Jinks was the shortest priced of the outstanding derby contenders in callover of betting odds on the Epsom classic today. The quotations were nine to one against Mr. Jinks; 100 to one against Somerville Tattersall's Biernz, 100 to eight against the Aga Khan's Costaki Passa.

The same against Lord Astor's Cragadour; 100 to seven against Anthony De Rothschild's Refrector and Lieutenant-Colonel R. H. Hodge's Reedsmouth; 20 to one against Sir Victor Sassoon's Gay Day and Bulwark, and against James Burns' Kopland Lord Derby's Bosworth; and 25 to one against Major Calmont's Empire Build, and the Aga Khan's Grand Terrace.

"Babe" Ruth Takes Out Licence to Wed Actress in New York

NEW YORK, April 15.—George Herman (Babe) Ruth, heavy hitting outfielder for the New York Yanks and home run champion for some years, stole a march on his teammates today when it was learned he had obtained a marriage licence. He will marry Mrs. Claire Hodgson, 26, New York widow. She is well known on the stage.

Babe Ruth

Babe's divorced wife was burned to death last fall. An only child of Ruth's is being raised in an eastern convent.

Ruth will start the baseball season tomorrow with the Yanks, who meet Boston on New York grounds.

Kimberley Plans to organize for Softball Season

Several Already in Favor; Plan Eight Teams Play Four Days a Week

KIMBERLEY, B. C., April 5.—Efforts are now under way to form a softball league in Kimberley and several already have intimated their willingness to play. This sport is proved quite popular in other towns and while a considerable amount of skill can be obtained through practice, any novice can take up the game and get lots of fun out of it.

The proposition now under way is to form a league for the town and endeavor to get six or eight eams lined up. If this can be satfsfactorily arranged, it is proposed that games be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening. Larry Piper and Len Colvin are the prime movers and those interested in the game have been asked to hand in their names to them as soon as possible so that a meeting can be called and if there are sufficient entries, teams will be drawn and the ball started rolling. This game is open to all ages from 18 to 100 years,no exceptions.

Americans Beat Canadiens 5-3, Vancouver Ice

VANCOUVER, April 15.—In an exhibition hockey game here tonight between New York Americans and Montreal Canadiens, the former handed out a five-three defeat to their opponents. The New Yorkers started out to make a runaway game of it and at the end of the second period were four goals up on the Canadiens. In the final period the final period the Frenchmen held the Americans scoreless and pegged the cage for two more counters. A good sized crowd saw the contest.

ACE HUDKINS WINNER OVER EMMANUEL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 15.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wild cat", tonight battered and tore his way to a decesive 10-round victory over Armand Emmanuel, youthful San Francisco heavyweight, to prove the fallacy of the age-old adage that a good big man is better than a good little man.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE IS PROPOSED FOR NELSON THIS YEAR

Proposition Meets With Favor; May Form a Commercial Loop

GAME IS GOING GOOD AT VANCOUVER; 24 TEAMS

Daily News Will Enter a Team; Good Substitute for Baseball

Followers of baseball, who have watched the game in other years from the bleachers, althought at one time not such dusty players themselves, will in all probability have an opportunity to show their stuff this season if present plans to form a commercial softball league in Nelson materialize. While not exactly the same as baseball, softball offers a splendid recreation and competition and acts as a great substitution for baseball.

Not necessarily requiring skill, but a game where skill can be obtained by practice, softball, it is expected, will meet with the favor of retired baseball players in the city besides attracting others who, not having played, have often longed to get on the diamond and "sock the old pill."

BALL LITTLE LARGER

The ball used in the game, contrary to general belief, is only a little larger than the ordinary baseball. No gloves are needed, although the ball is not so soft as to detract from its liveness. A good wallop would drive a softball far enough to enable the batter to circle the bases if he didn't loaf on the way.

The bat used is smaller and lighter than the ordinary one, which tends to make it harder to hit the ball to offset the loss of speed caused by the size of the ball. The ball may be thrown by the pitcher overhand, but it being a little larger than a baseball, a little less speed it obtained and little or no "stuff" is on it. hTe pitcher also has to think of the catcher who must catch bare handed.

ORGANIZE AT KIMBERLEY

The game is being organized at Kimberley and it is expected six or eight teams will compete in a city league. At Vancouver this year 24 men's teams will compete in a softball league, besides a good-sized ladies' league. The game proposed for Nelson would be the men's game in which the ball is considerably smaller than in the ladies' game.

The proposition has met with favor wherever it has been mentioned, and it is hoped to establish about a six-team league to play at the Recreation grounds. No other baseball league is planned for the Recreation grounds, the only league in the city being the Trafalgar league up the hill.

If a league is formed there will be a Daily News teams, probably a butchers,' grocers,' and druggists' team, while two or three other concerns in Nelson are expected to enter teams.

LARRY GAINS IS VICTOR OVER THE AUSSIE CHAMPION

Toronto Heavyweight Takes All but One of 10 Rounds Over George Cook

TORONTO, April 15.—Larry Gains, of Toronto, Canadian heavyweight champion, clearly outclassed George Cook, Australian heavyweight title holder in a 10-round bout here tonight. Gains led all the way over the Australian, having height and reach advantage, but giving away five pounds in weight.

Cook absorbed plenty of punishment from the rapier left and hard overhand right of the Toronto nigger, but always came back for more. A lunging right and left proved Cook's best offensive, but it came in frequently and most of the time he was busy covering up or leaning his weight against Gains.

Gains took every round, with the ninth possibly even.

In the fifth the Canadian negro drove the "Aussie" all over the ring with a series of right smashes flush to the face.

Cook scaled 194½ while Gains came in at 189½.

ASK EXTENSION OF CRANBROOK CITY BOUNDARY

To Include Block South of Dennis Street; Referred to City Superintendent

CRANBROOK, B. C., April 15.—At the regular meeting of the city council Thursday evening, at which Mayor T. M. Roberts and Alderman MacPherson, Belment, Flowers, Jackson, Collier and Attridge were present, J. F. Scott, representing owners of property on the south side of Dennis street, addressed the council, asking that they pass a resolution confirming the expediency of extending the city limits to one block south of Dennis street between Lumsden and Watt avenues. It was decided to refer this request to the city superintendent for report as to cost of improvements in this area.

A letter from the secretary of the board of trade was read requesting the council to meet with the board of trade to discuss the proposed air harbor. It was decided to hold this meeting at as early a date as can be arranged. There was also a request from the board of trade for a grant sufficient to cover the city's account for the lighting of the mineral specimen case for the year 1929. The decision was to grant this request.

GRANT TAG DAY

A request from the Orange lodge was read asking permission to hold a tag day on Saturday, May 18 in connection with the drive for funds for the orphanage home in New Westminster. This permission was granted.

A letter was read from one of Baker street's merchants complaining of being billed for two water rates for his property divided into two stores. The city clerk was instructed to furnish the mayor with a list of stores not paying the carrying charge, in order that he might take the matter up with the police department.

Alderman Collier read a letter from the Mother's Pension board stating that a grant of $57.50 was being paid to a city family and asking if the city was willing to make the usual grant of $10 a month. The health committee was instructed to obtain further information of other cases in town.

The finance committee presented accounts amounting to $14,168.96, which were moved paid. Reports from the light, fire and works committees and from the city bandmaster were received. The council declined to meet a request of the assistant city electrician for an increase in salary.

CONTRACT FOR SAND, GRAVEL

The City Transfer company was given a contract for sand and gravel for cement work at prices quoted, and the Cranbrook Cartage received the contract for bank run gravel for use in reservoir construction.

Several by-laws dealing with construction of sidewalks were given a final reading.

At a meeting of the finance committee, A. E. Jones' tender for alterations to the city clerk's office amounting to $397.00 was accepted, also for linoleum for the floor of the city office at a price of $74.00.

WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract. When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowls in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont. It will be sent FREE.

In buying be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

The Man Hater

By Lorna Libby

The story so far:

JACK HEMINGWAY is ostensibly murdered in a night club in Louisville. With him at the time is

JEAN HARPER pert, pretty and an excitement eater. She is the daughter of an influential politician. Right after Hemingway's shooting, the lights go out. When they reappear the corpse is mysteriously gone. Under cover of the attendant excitement

SPIKE ANDRUS a clever newspaper man in love with Jean effects her rescue so that no one knows she was Hemingway's companion. The next day

LOLA MONTEZ New York woman of the world, and old friend of Jean's, arrives in town, Spike has reason to suspect her of complicity with the gang responsible for the murder. Jean, realizing Spike's love admits that she loves him too and they plan to get married. Wanting to get evidence against Lola, Spike trails her to a joint and finds with her

LEFTY WEIN a suspicious character, Lola wanting to turn Jean against Spike tells her that he has been seen under incriminating circumstances with another woman. She also hints that Spike only wants to marry her for her influence. In spite of Spike's denial of the woman episode she presists in beliving Lola and when he unfortunately happens to mention a way she can do him a business favor she flares up and tells him her love has turned to hate. Lola and Jean arrive in New York where they plan to spend the summer at Lola's apartment. Lefty Wein is nervous—he can't understand why Lola should be so interested in Jean

CHAPTER XIV.

"I should worry," said Jean to herself. "I've only got one life and as long as I don't get killed I don't care much what happens. All my life I've dreamed of adventure and excitement and if I'm any judge of signs, my dreams are going to come true. A lot of people besides Steve Brodie took a chance. Women, to—look at Joan of Arc and Madame Pompadour!"

A few minutes after Jean had retired for the night Lefty rang the doorbell, Lola let him in and he followed her into the library where she stretched out on a divan near the wall, lighting a cigarette and looking at him half impatiently and half amusedly.

"I came back to leave the car keys," he explained, tossing them on the table, "and here's the ticket. I left it at Olsen's garage near West End Avenue."

"Thanks," murmured Lola, "but that isn't what you came back here for. You came back here to squawk about the Harper girl and ask me what the devil and so forth."

"Well, what if I did," snarled Lefty, groping in his pocket for a cigarette. "What if I did—ain't I got a right to know something? You gave me a quick shuffle out in Louisville and hang around risking a tipoff when you should of come back here right away with me. What's more the Big Boss is sore. He only asked me today why you didn't get back here when you was supposed to be. I told him you were out looking up a friend—a girl friend—not that, that part made any difference to him but that's what I told hom.

"He says we should of come back right after the job. Well, what I want to know is what's the idea of draggin' this kid clear across the country for a pleasure stay in New York? The Boss says this ain't no pink tea and if you ain't got enough girl friends in New York he can arrange for you to be hostess at the Berford Reformatory and attend receptions every Thursday afternoon and meet a few nice lady pickpockets. That's what he says. Now what I say is I can't feature the idea. I don't make it at all."

"Are you all through?" enquired Lola, casually, reaching out and killing her cigarette on a nearby tray. "because if you aren't it's about time you signed off and bent your cauliflower ear this way. You might learn something—and again you might not.

"I've got my reasons," continued Lola, "for bringing that girl to New York and whether or not she knew Hemingway doesn't make any difference. You say Louis Bartels getting anxious because I hung around Louisville and began to look up a girl friend? Does he know I brought her to New York today?"

"How could he know?" whined Lefty. "When you only got in tonight. I don't suppose you sent him any wires."

"No, I didn't," snapped Lola. "But he'll soon know enough and when he does he'll begin to grease his own skids."

"That's pretty sharp talk," protested Louis, slightly horrified. "What's the idea of the quick grudge? As for as I know you haven't any cause for a squawk. You got an even break."

"Sure, I have as far as you know, but that's just the trouble, you don't know far enough. Listen, Lefty, you're pretty good guy. You're a little dumb and you work crude but I'm going to tell you something for your own good."

Mystified, Lefty hitched his chair closer.

"I've known Louis Bartels longer than you have," began Lola, "I was working for him when you were down on the west side working the morphy racket with "Coke" Hammels and that crowd. That was about five years before Bartels got your brother-in-law a job at Police Headquarters so you could stool pidgeon the dicks. As I say, I've known him a long time.

"I knew him when he didn't have a nickle to his name. I was the first girl he ever had and I used to tell him how to dress, to. I told him to get rid of his cap and the narrow knee pants and the cracked patent leather shoes and showed him how to walk into the Ritz so they couldn't tell him from a gentleman I told him what it was all about and from that time on he began to make money.

"Well to make this short and to the point he played me a dirty trick. He double-crossed me after he began to put on the high hat and I swore I would get even. That's where he's dumb. He thinks I've forgotten and I'm still crazy about him—he thinks everybody's crazy about him. It doesn't make any difference what he did to me but ever since then I haven't lost track of the fact that I owe him a dirty deal. And now I see my chance."

"What't this all got to do with me?" asked Lefty.

"Just this," explained Lola, her eyes flashing. "It will put you wise that Bartels is going to trip himself up and you can lay your lines accordingly. A guy like that cant go on forever and when he falls he falls hard and his gang falls with him—if they don't look sharp. Don't say I didn't tell you."

"I don't make you yet," said Lefty. "What's your racket?"

"Bartels' one weakness is women," went on Lola, "and I know the kind he falls for, I know his type. He likes 'em young, dark and with bobbed hair. He likes someone who can answer him back, and who is smart enough to want a good time without being quite sure she is willing to pay for it. Uncertainty is what lends spice to the game for him.

'Jean Harper is made to order for him and that's why I brought her to New York. Once he sees her he'll want her like a man with his clothes on fire wants a bucket of water. She's a country kid and can't tell the counterfeit stuff from the genuine article. With hs smooth manners, money and suave line she's bound to be impressed."

"And then what?" asked Lefty, fidgiting in his chair. "And then what happens?"

"Here's where it gets good," said Lola with relish "He's got one woman on his string now, Babette isn't his type but she's made him think she is. She's just the opposite from Jean in looks and everything else. Just now she thinks she's got him but when he sees this kid Jean, then the fun begins. No man can handle two women at one time and Louis will be just silly enough to think he can be an exception. And when any hell cat like Babette sees a nifty little country chippy step in and try to steal her time, well—Lefty, then somebody's going to be sorry and it won't be me."

'I don't want it to be me either,' added Lefty, anxiously lighting another cigarette. "Listn Lola—I wish you'd leave me out of this. If Louis ever heard I was mixed up in a scheme like that he'd bump me off—you, too. No, I don't want to know anything about it."

"Stop crying," advised Lola tersely. "If anybody's going to be bumped off, it's Louis himself. If Babette gets jealous, she's just as leave stick a knife in him as eat an egg for breakfast. Maybe I'm figuring on just that, too. Don't be so nervous. I'm only telling you this for your own good so yu won't be caught short when the explosion comes. Of course, you're wise enough not to run to him with what I just told you. It won't do you any good—he hates a squealer and he wouldn't believe you, anyway, and though you won't admit it I think you'd just as soon see him croaked as not."

"Don't get the idea that I don't appreciate what you told me," said Lefty, evading her surmise. "I do—only I don't want to have any connection that's all. Say, listen Lola," he asked after a moment's pause. "What happens to this kid Jean—I mean she'll be all mixed up in it—what do you think's going to happen to her?"

Lola shrugged her shoulders. "That's her look-out," she answered.

Tomorrow: Jean sees Louis Bartels.

Kaslo Hospital Repairs Are to Start Shortly

KASLO, B. C., April 15.—The regular monthly meeting of the Victorian hospital board was held Friday afternoon in the office of the president, James Anderson. There was a good attendance. Projected repairs and improvements of the hospital buildings is to start as soon as weather permits, E. H. Latham and W. G. Robb being the committee in charge of the work. The representative of the hospital ladies' aid, Mrs. George Scott, put forth the proposition that the ladies install a laundry in the out building. The matter was left in abeyance until further particulars could be obtained.

TENDERS CALLED FOR NEW CHURCH FOR CRANBROOK

New United Church Building on Baker Street to Be of Most Modern Type

CRANBROOK, B. C., April 15.—Plans for the new United church building to be erected in Cranbrook on lots owned by the congregation at the corner of Baker street and Garden avenue have been completed by H. M. Whiddington, architect, and approval by the official board of the church. Tenders are being called for, to be in the hands of the building committee by May 3. At a meeting to be held on May 6 these tenders will be submitted to the congregation for its decision.

The plans call for a structure of brick veneer, with full cement basement for Sunday school use. The main church auditorium will be 31 x 48 feet in dimension, with a seating capacity of two hundred persons. At the rear of this will be a social hall 27 x 47 feet, large enough to accomodate a badminton court. Folding doors will connect this with the church proper, allowing of extra seating space for about one hundred.

LADIES PARLOR

Next to the social hall and fronting on Garden avenue will be the ladies' parlor. This will be equipped with a fireplace and will accomodate about 45 people. The level of the floor of the ladies' parlor will be two feet, nine inches above that of the social hall, and folding doors will make possible the use of this room as a stage for the hall.

A modern kitchen, equipped with range, sink, cupboards and tables, will be connected with the ladies' parlor and social hall.

The entrance, off Garden avenue, will give easy access to the church auditorium, ladies' parlor, social hall and Sunday school rooms in the basement. At the side of the entrance will be a tower, containing staircase leading to classrooms over the ladies' parlor, and with space under its roof for a bell.

The organ will occupy the left hand corner of the front of the church and opposite will be an exit stairway and access to the basement. At the center of the front, behind the pulpit and choir and facing on Baker street, will be three Lancet windows of leaded light. Other windows of the building will repeat their design and colouring.

The plans call for a heating equipment of two hot air furnaces, equipped with ventilating fans.

Pain like a Knife

then doctor ordered Kruschen

"I had a pain just like a knife ripping all down to my shoulder-blade. The doctor told me it was rheumatism, and that I had been sitting in a draught.

"He told me to take Kruschen Salts—half a teaspoonful in my tea every morning. I took one bottle, but this did not seem to do me much good, so I took another bottle, and I got a lot of relief from that.

"Then the rheumatism went suddenly, and I have not had it since. I am now taking the daily dose of Kruschen every morning in the first cup of tea." —(Miss) E. B.

Original letter on file for inspection.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at drug and department stores in Canada at 75c. a bottle. A bottle contains enough to last for 4 or 5 months—good health for half-a-cent a day.

LENGTH OF LIFE DEPENDS ON DIET TO LARGE EXTENT

Noted Food Expert Makes Startling Statements

Lecturing, last week, one of the country's greatest food experts remarked that few people realize the importance of food in their daily life. "We can add years to our lives," he said, "increase our strength and vitality, ward off our most dreaded diseases by what we eat.

"Old age diseases," he continued, "breaking down of the heart, hardening of the arteries, diseases of the kidneys, nervous and digestive disorders—are developing in younger people more and more.

"Our food is one of the most important factors contributing to this condition—depending on whether it does, or does not supply the elements our bodies need. I consider Grape-Nuts an excellent food for supplying these elements."

SIOUX INDIANS' LIFETIME TEETH SOFT DIET PREY

Change to Civilized Foods Brings Trouble

The North American Indians, in their primitive state, possessed remarkably fine teeth. One historian who examined great numbers of skulls of the Sioux tribe, says: "I was forcibly struck with the exceptional completeness and soundness (and total absence of malformation) of their beautiful sets of teeth. The teeth do not decay, but preserve their soundness and enamel and powers of mastication to old age."

But experience has proven that the poor Indian fares no better than other races when civilization brings him a soft, deficient diet. His teeth rapidly become inferior and decay. He suffers much from rheumatism and other troubles which result from teeth infections.

CENTRAL COPPER-GOLD IS LOOKING WELL SAYS LAKES

Texada Island Properties Promise Great Things Under New Prospecting

RADIORE INDICATES MILLING ORE AS WELL

Diamond Drilling Is Confirming the Radiore Findings; Opened by Andy Larson

That the properties of Central Copper Gold on Texada Island which A. G. Larson, well known recent Kootenay engineer and operator opened up last fall, are looking particularly well, is stated by Arthur Lakes, now consulting engineer for the company, and just returned here from a detailed inspection of them. Mr. Larson, though interested in the company, is not now actively associated in the management.

The Central Copper, which produces high grade coper, has a past production aggregating $12,000,000, while the property at Marble Bay has been worked in ore to a depth of 1700 feet below sea level.

RADIORE WORK SUCCESSFUL

Radiore prospecting has been employed to indicate where large ore bodies should be looked for, the electrical method of prospecting being particularly feasible there for two reasons, first, because 80 per cent of the ground is covered by overburden, preventing outcrops, and secondly, because the mineral content is highly conductive while the surrounding rocks are non-conductive.

Diamond drilling is the next stage, and it will be very exhaustive. Already the diamond drilling, Mr. Lakes states, has borne out the indications obtained by the radiore surveying.

Ore occurrences in the ledges of these properties are in the form of lenticular bodies of copper-gold ore, running from $10 to $20 in gold and 10 to 30 per cent copper, over good widths, past production behind from ore bodies of this nature.

MILLING BODIES TOO

Recent prospecting as described has indicated the presence also of large bodies of lower grade milling ore, running about $4 in gold and around 2½ to 4 per cent copper. Whereas all production from past operations has been handled in straight shipments to smelter, if the recent indications of large bodies of low grade ore are borne out, this will mean a large milling plant, Mr. Lakes states.

Central Copper-Gold is a close corporation, and, Mr. Lakes states, it plans to carry exploration further, to establish the facts, whatever they may be, before permitting public participation.

SCHOOL PROBLEM ARISES, FERNIE; LIKELY BUILD

Principal Securing List of Pupils Anticipated at New Term; Reports Heard

FERNIE, B. C., April 15.—The regular meeting of the Fernie school board was held Monady evening. All Moscovitch wrote wishing to purchase the grass from the annex school. Mr. Lassalle also wants the grass. It will be tendered for.

The principal's letter was read outlining the number of pupils expected in the public school next September. When Mr. Pephry gets further information a special meeting will be called to deal with this, as it involves the question of building a new high school. The board intends to call for applications for a new principal of the public school. Applications for this position from Joe School and H. J. Gerhard were tabled for future reference.

Mr. Manning's report for the month of March was read and also the teacher's reports for the same month. Applications had been received for positions on the elementary staff but as there were no openings these were filed.

Tenders will be called for the work of surfacing the tennis courts. Pupils who are anticipating being attached to the elementary schools next season will be requested to put in their applications to Principal Pophrey accompanied by birth certificate as early as possible. It is expected that the school will be greatly congested next term.

SCHOOL NURSE

A letter will be written to the department relative to the school nurse extending her duities to include the Catholic separate school.

Accounts to the amount of $4235 were ordered paid.

Nurse Seymour's report was as follows; meetings attended, 3; letters received, 6; schools visited, 3; visits to schools, 57; hours spent in schools, 131½ ; hours spent in school work, 166; children sent by doctor, 27; children inspected, 1037; communicable diseases, mumps one, pink eye one, diseases three; interviews 34; investigations 48; home school visits 46; business calls, 19; health talks given, 26; minor treatments, 320; notices to parents, 64.

Abana has passed through stormy seas, the statements and counter-statements of the past six months having kept the street guessing what was next. However, Abana still has a future, even if the $30,000,000 ore reserve idea went up in vapor under a business-like engineering estimate. F. M. Connell and other board members have been congratulated for painting the picture as they found it.

U. S. TREASURY BALANCE

The U. S. treasury net balance for April 8 was $365,198,733.05. U. S. customs receipts to the same date for the month totalled $14,360,369.06.

W. B. Bamford Tells Gyros Interesting Points of Travels

Following the Gyro luncheon at the Canadian Legion last night, the members heard an interesting resume by W. B. Bamford of his three months' vacation spent in California.

Mr. Bamford sketched his interesting trip from Vancouver down the Pacific coast adding enlightening details concerning the various cities he had visited. Apparently the city which most impressed him was Longbeach, Cal., for it was here that he took up his headquarters. He stated that this city catered to the tourist traffic exclusively and that with its varied and highly specialized forms of entertainment, did an enormous business.

The trip to the Catalina islands was a fine pleasure jaunt with a good deal of interest added by the fact that it was this particular channel that the Canadian swimmer, George Young, had conquered not so many months ago.

Places of interest in the south all received their due from Mr. Bamford but regardless of the glamour of a pleasure trip one was always glad to return to the place where the old friends abound, was his contention.

Meanwhile, considerably more diamond drilling is to be done from the 300-foot level. Some two months ago important new ore, approximately 80 feet in width was cut by diamond drill. Plans to build a mill are suspended temporarily, awaiting results of exploration on old and new ore on the 100, 200 and 300-foot levels. Abana recently installed tanks with sufficient oil to carry them through to November of 1929.

Amulet pops out with more chatter. Now it is said directors have decided on a 300-ton mill, and their meeting in Montreal will be followed by a progree reports to date. If they decide on a mill, it undoubtedly means the problem of ore treatment has been solved satisfactorily. Early this year announcement was that ore would be shipped to Europe to find out relative cost of treatment there.
