Diving will begin Monday in an effort to salvage the treasure in the ship, which is said to have been a pay ship of the famous Spanish Armada.

Reports said that it carried $2,000,000 in bullion and treasure.

The women concerned in the enterprise are Lady Edith Fox Pitt, Dymchurch, Kent, the daughter of the eighth Marquis of Queensberry and Mrs. Leask. The latter is a diver herself and says she has walked on the deck of the galleon which is at a depth of 60 feet.

Lady Fox Pitt was quoted as citing a legend which says that the ancient vessel's treasure includes a crown and sceptre blessed by the pope and brought from Spain for the coronation of the Spanish king in England.

BRITISH HIGH COMMISSIONER GIVEN WELCOME

Sir William Clark and Family Guests at Welcome Extended at Ottawa

PREMIER AND LEADER OF OPPOSITION SPEAK

Sir William First British Representative to the Canadian Government

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Canada last night gave official welcome to the first high commissioner from Great Britain to this Dominion. At a government-dinner presided over by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier, and attended by members of the cabinet, by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, and by others prominent in the political and social and business life of the Dominion, Sir William Clark and the members of his family were accorded an eloquent and hearty welcome to Canada.

And not only Canadians at home, but representatives of the dominions abroad joined in the welcome. From Canada's high commissioner in London and from her ministers at Washington and Paris, came greetings by cable and telegraph—messages of good will to the man who has been selected for the important post of first representative of the British government at Ottawa.

PREMIER WELCOMES

The importance of the step which has been taken by the British government in the appointment of a high commissioner to Canada found expression in the speech of Premier King, who welcomed Sir William and his wife and family to Canada, on behalf of the government.

BENNETT WELCOMES

The creation of the post would serve to knit firmer and stronger the bands and bonds of the British Empire, in the opinion of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, who joined with the prime minister in his words of welcome. No political differences could make the people of Canada depart from their firm devotion to that community of nations which made up the British Empire and which had become an assurance of peace in the world.

Canada was prepared to extend to Sir William all that children would give to the representatives of their parents.

Strange Story of Girl Burning Self Upheld by Doctor

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 4.—The strange story Elfreda Knaak told of offering herself as a sacrifice in a furnace fire was upheld Saturday by Dr. C. A. Barnes, Lake county coroner's physician, after performing an autopsy on the young woman's body.

Dr. Barnes announced his post mortem examination disclosed "nothing whatever" to indicate she had been attacked or beaten and accounted for her broken arm as resulting from a fall after she had attempted to walk upon her scarred feet. He said he was satisfied the young woman alone thrust her arms and then her legs into the furnace until they were burned to the bone.

Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle, following the autopsy, also announced his belief that the girl's burns were self-inflicted in her attempt to "purify her love and prove her faith,, for Charles Hitchcock, Lake Bluff policeman, actor and elocutionist.

COLLYER, FAMOUS PILOT, AND PASSENGER KILLED WHEN THE YANKEE DOODLE HITS CLIFF

Plane Attempting New Record Flight From Los Angeles to New York Crashes In Heavy Fog and Rain; Explosion Blows It to Pieces

PLANE AND PILOT HAD MADE FASTEST NON-STOP TIME WESTWARD LAST WEEK

Pilot and Passenger Attempted to Jump to Safety, but Too Late; Wreckage Found in Desolate Spot; Collyer Recently Circled World

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 4.—The monoplane Yankee Doodle, holder of two transcontinental records, caught in a blinding rain and fog in the Bradshaw mountains last night, struck against the side of a wall in Crook canyon, 23 miles south of here, and sent Captain C. B. Collyer, pilot, and Harry Tucker, passenger-owner, to their deaths.

The plane was en route from Los Angeles to New York on a non-stop flight.

Scattered bits of airplane were strewn along the canyon today and told searching parties the story of the wreck and resulted in positive identification of the aircraft and the bodies of Collyer and Tucker.

GASOLINE EXPLODED

It was believed by members of the sheriff's searching party which found the wreckage late today that the craft had struck the canyonside with tremendous force and that the heavy load of gasoline exploded with the impact.

The open parachutes of the pilot and the passenger indicated that the pair, realizing their plight too late, had made an effort to jump. Their landing flares had also been released.

J. B. Tomlinson, manager of the Storm Cloud mines, was the only eye-witness of the crash. He said he heard the plane come down through the canyon, sputtering as if the motor was failing, and after it had scraped the tree tops for a distance, crashed.

He said a loud explosion immediately followed the crash.

Rugged character of the terrain prevented searchers from reaching the scene of the tragedy until late today, when a 20-year-old youth, Frank Shields, found the scattered remains of the proud cross-cintinent, record-holding monoplane.

HAD RECORDS

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N.Y., Nov. 4. — Captain Charles B. D. Collyer and Harry J. Tucker, who were killed when their plane crashed in Arizona yesterday in an attempt to break the record for a west-east hop across the continent, only 10 days ago had set a new mark for a westward non-stop flight from New York to Los Angeles.

They hopped off from Roosevelt field October 24 in the monoplane Yankee Doodle and landed in Los Angeles the following day, making the hop in 24 hours and 51 minutes. The previous record for the east-west hop was 26 hours and 50 minutes, made in 1923 by Lieutenant John MacCready and Oakley Kelly.

Collyer, a well-known sky-writer, previously had come into prominence in flying circles when he and John Henry Mears set a new record for a trip around the world. The two left New York June 2 last. Traveling by plane, steamer and rail, they returned to New York July 22, setting a new record of 23 days 15 hours 21 minutes and three seconds for the trip.

Victoria Tories to Oppose McLean But Bowser Is Out

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—A Victoria dispatch says: "While the election of Dr. J. D. MacLean, Liberal candidate, by acclamation, has been widely suggested, Victoria Conservatives showed no sympathy for this scheme as they prepared for the federal byelection poll here on December 6. Conservative leaders said Saturday that the idea would not be entertained by their followers, as it would be regarded as an admission that they could not retain the Victoria house of commons seat.

"W. J. Bowser, K.C., former premier, finally disposed of the report that he would accept the Conservative nomination with a statement in which he said he would not allow his name to go before the party convention on Monday."

Three Passengers Injured But None Seriously; Several Cars Fish Destroyed

NORTHCOTE, Minn., Nov. 4.—Service was reestablished on the Great Northern railway here today as the wrecking crews completed their task of clearing the debris left by the derailment of the Winnipeg to St. Paul passenger train Saturday night. Three Twin City residents, who were injured when thrown off their feet by the impact from the derailment, were recovering at the Hallock hospital where they were taken and are expected to be discharged from the place within a day or two.

The injured were: Theodore Swift, St. Paul, first cook on the train; Mrs. M. G. Frederick, Minneapolis; and Miss Margaret Pike, Minneapolis.

The women received severe bruises about the back and hips, while Swift suffered a fractured arm.

The accident was said by railroad officials today to have resulted when a bar hanging beneath one of the cars struck the wing rail of the switch.

There were 13 cars in the train, 10 of which left the rails. Four cars loaded with fish were almost destroyed, one of these cars plunging into a small stream near the tracks. A dinner, baggage car, mail car, two day coaches and a sleeper also left the tracks. The train was traveling at about 50 miles an hour when the derailment occurred.

Boy Scout Doings

In the Kootenay and Boundary Districts

This colmn is open to all Scout organizations in the Kootenay and Boundary districts. Scout news must be in the editorial department by Saturday night at the latest.

FIRST TRAIL TROOP NEWS

Last Friday the First and Second Trail troops held a combined rally, in order to hear E. L. Hodge explain the rules of the map making competition, for which he has donated valuable prizes. The competition is open to all the members of the two troops and the result is to be a map 18 inches square, on which is to be placed all the requirements for the pathfinders' badge, as well as compass bearings and distances. The area covered has a radius of not more than three miles and not less than two. A second lecture is to be given at an early date, in order that the scouts may be more familiar with the subject.

The acting patrol leaders having served a month's probation, and proving to the satisfaction of the scoutmaster and the patrols that they were able to lead, were duly invested, with a short but impressive ceremony, with the rank of patrol leader. They are required to give an additional promise in addition to the regular scout promise, and the patrols in their turn are made to take a promise to assist their leader. The new leaders were also presented with their hat badges, which are worn on front of the hat. The seconds will be invested next week as soon as they have been definitely declared for the office. The job of patrol leaders and second is no sinecure and one that instills into the boy the idea of leadership and gives him an opportunity to use his organizing ability.

FIRST HIKE OF SEASON

The troop held their first hike of this season on Saturday, but owing to the fact that this news has to leave early, a detailed report will have to be held over till next week.

The anhual census returns have been sent in to our district commissioner, and a resume is given here:

Scoutmasters, 1; tenderfoot scouts, 10; second class scouts, 14; first class scouts, 1; king's scouts, 1; scouts with proficiency badges, 13; proficiency badges, 28; recruits, 6. One of the king's scouts, of which we have two, was transferred to strength of the Kimberley troop and he is not counted on the strength of the troop.

The boys are coming in quite freely, and everything points to the First Trail troop being able to do this annual nation-wide good turn at Christmas time, and so increase the value of scouting to the individual scouts.

First aid and basketball still occupy all the spare time of the members, when they are not busy getting tests ready to pass.

Third annual father and son banquet is only two weeks away, and great plans are being made for this gala occasion.

FIRST NELSON CUB PACK

There was a good attendance of the members of the Pack last Tuesday night in the armory in spite of the fact that a number were absent on account getting things ready for Halloween celebrations on Wednesday. The boys are making steady progress in connection with their test work, and it is expected that in a short time all will have passed their tenderpad and first star examinations, then it will be all aboard for the second star work, which, no doubt, will be completed before the winter is over.

Though the pack is a large one, and new boys are coming all the time, we still have room for a few more, for we know that as long as there is a strong pack of eager cubs, there is no danger of the scout troop going down for every year there are a number of cubs reaching the age limit, and are therefore promoted to the scout troop.

The cubs on Tuesday were divided into three groups, two of which were under the charge of Assistant Cubmasters Garnet Kerr and Bill Price, the third group was examined in tenderpad tests by the cubmaster.

The boys were examined to see what they knew about the promise and the law, the salutes and the flag. About 20 went up for this examination, but only nine passed in all subjects, the flag accounting for the failures. Those passing in all the subjects are as follows: Harry Ruppel, Alvin Openshaw, Donald Kerr, Ernest Luck, Teddy Ramsden, Denis Ball, Fred Graves, Carl Gallicano and Arthur. Luck.

Examinations will be held from time to time, as boys are ready for the tests.

KIMBERLEY SCOUTS ORGANIZE

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Nov. 4.—At a reorganization meeting of the Kimberley boy scouts held this week, new officers of the association were elected as follows: president, E. G. Montgomery; vice-president, N. W. Burdett; secretary-treasurer, H. L. Abbott; cubmaster, H. R. Wannop; scoutmaster, E. Taylor; finance committee—Mrs. P. Baragon, Mrs. J. A. Foster, Mrs. W. Barr and E. S. Shannon.

E. Taylor, who has been assistant scoutmaster, was named chief of the boy scouts here. The selection met with general approval. He has been an ardous worker in connection with the scout movement, and last year was instrumental in getting the boys a two-weeks' camping outing at Windermere. He succeeds O. C. Bennett, who left recently for Lethbridge.

At a meeting of the scouts held Wednesday evening Harold Stiff, formerly of Trail, and who is a king's scout, was elected as assistant scoutmaster.

FIRST NELSON TROOP BOY SCOUTS

This last week has been a week of shocks and surprises to the members of the First Nelson troop. They received a bad shock at the beginning of the week when they heard of the accident to one of our popular members, Brian Horstead. And we are all glad that he is recovering from his experience, and though he is a bit shaky yet, he was able to be with us on Friday night, and we are looking forward to the time when he will be his old self again.

ROTARY SENDS COAL

During the week we were notified by the Rotary club that they were donating the troop and pack a ton of coal, and hardly had we recovered from the surprise when the coal was delivered at the armory.

The boys appreciate the gift very much, for we suffered from the cold last winter, but with the help of our friends who so kindly supplied us with a ton, we expect that we will be a little more comfortable than a year ago. Not only do we appreciate the gift for the comfort it will bring, but also it will stimulate the boys to a greater effort to be of service to others. When the boys were informed of the kindness of our friends they nearly brought the hall down with three lusty cheers and a tiger.

GYROS SEND CASH

The troop also received a check for $50 from the Gyro club for work performed at the midway during the Nelson fair. Half of this amount will be forwarded to the Third Nelson troop, as their members helped in the work as well.

Last week-end was a busy time. On Saturday afternoon a party undertook the cleaning out of the furnace and pipes. It was certainly a dirty job, for it appeared to the boys as if all their neighbors had dumped the soot from their own chimneys into the furnace and pipes in the armory. However it was worth while the trouble and dirt, for the furnace works like a charm now and heats up the hall beautifully and we have not the slightest doubt but that the furnace will respond to every demand we make on it. Also during the week-end a small party hiked up Anderson creek in order to pass various tests. The various meetings were held as usual during the week, with the exception of the gym class which was cancelled on account of the celebrations at the Recreation ground. In connection with the celebrations two members of the troop, Garnet Kerr and Jimmie Orr, were members of the first aid squad which were on duty at the grounds.

TAKE TESTS

The attendance on Friday night's meeting was good, though there were quite a number away at the musical treat. The various patrol leaders carried on as usual and two boys were examined by the scoutmaster in tenderfoot work, both securing very high marks. The boys were Stanley Jackson and Carl Wilson. It is expected that every week now several boys will be ready for this examination.

A check has been made out for the amount raised by the scouts, cubs and officer for the proposed gift to Baden Powell, the head of the Boy Scout movement. The scouts and cubs are expected to give five cents each and the officers 25 cents toward the gift to him who has done so much for the boyhood of the world.

AUXILIARY MEETS

The ladies' auxiliary of the troop and pack met in the council chamber last Tuesday night with Mrs. C. Morris in the chair.

Various plans were discussed for the raising of funds for the troop and pack, and it was decided in the meantime to hold a bridge party in the near future, Mrs. W. R. Smyth being convenor. It was decided also that the membership fee for the auxiliary would be $1 a year, payable quarterly, half yearly or yearly as most convenient.

It was felt by those present that linking the secretaryship and treasurership together would be imposing too much on the officer holding the joint office, and it was moved and carried that they would have a treasurer as well as a secretary, and Mrs. M. Ritchie was appointed treasurer, with Mrs. Percy Bates as secretary.

FURNACE WORKS WELL

The armory is set aside on Monday evenings for the activities of the Second Nelson Girl Guides. This organization pays a share of the rent on the building, and half the fuel bills, the boys in return trying to make the hall as comfortable as possible for their sister organization and keeping the place clean.

The guides suffered from the cold last winter as well as the scouts, and we are glad that the trouble with the furnace has been rectified and from now on we do not anticipate having to worry on this score. The furnace was in operation on Monday, Tuesday and Friday night, and there was no trouble in having the temperature in the hall up to 60 degrees two hours after the fire was started and holding it there for several hours without further attention.

FLORENCE WORK REACHES A VERY ACUTE POSITION

Great Lime Bed Crossed; Quartzite Entered Which Above Ushers in Big Ove

INTERTWINING VEIN MAY PROVE FLORENCE

Crosscut Started to Pick It Up; Also Seek Distant Veins; to Raise for Ventilation

Search of the Kootenay Florence for a great body of ore at depth, by means of a great lake-level tunnel and laterals, has now reached a most interesting point, and expectations of its engineers are coming to a focus. The tunnel has just passed through the first lime bed of the Josephine formation, 100 feet wide, and entered a suceeding quartzite belt, distant 3762 feet from the portal, this being significant for several reasons.

LIME BED AND QUARTZITE

Theory of the depth project under both the A. G. Larsen and the Stobie, Forlong control, has been that where various parallel fractures going into the mountain from Kootenay lake penetrate the Josephine lime beds, concentrations of ore are to be expected. It was early realized, however, that the original estimate that the Florence shoot would be reached in approximately 3250 feet was wrong, a roll in the strata not having been allowed for, and when the new control went into effect B. W. W. McDougall, the company's consulting engineer, went on record in reports as predicting the strata would flatten out. This has been the case, and a dip that was originally allowed for has 45 degrees, on the basis of the upper workings, has flattened to under 30 on No. 9 level, as the new low level is called. This roll away from the lake is also said to have been predicted by Dr. S. J. Schofield, of the Dominion geological survey, while R. H. Hewer, who was general superintendent of the property during an earlier operation, is said to have voiced the belief that the shoot should not be expected before 3700 feet.

Snce 3030 feet, the tunnel has been in the Josephine formation, where experiences in Ainsworth properties has shown the chief ore occurrences to be. A great lime bed, natural association for ore, has been traversed, and a belt of quartzite which, on No. 5 level of the upper workings, ushers in big ore at least, up above these is, following such a lime bed, such a quartzite belt behind which ore had been found damned up—is being penetrated. These several factors certainly are suggestive.

VEIN OFTEN CROSSES TUNNEL

It has now been established, or at least, is accepted, that ore crossing into the big tunnel at various points, from away back in the Ainsworth formation, is all of one vein. This is the vein that first was cut then, at 2725 feet from the portal, an exploratory crosscut was started to the left to cut the Florence vein at right angles if it should prove to be near. On that line the ore quickly petered out, but, followed across the tunnel to the right, the vein quickly opened into an excellent showing of milling ore¼ which gave rise to the stock market flurry some months ago. This shoot bent around and paralleled the tunnel for a time, and it was thought it might be a branch from the big shoot sought in the Josephine formation. When this drift had gone 180 feet, it began to return to the line of the tunnel, and has now been dropped, as it lines up exactly with ore coming into the tunnel from the right a short distance ahead. Passing to the left again the vein is out of sight until the 3315 foot mark, where it is cut close to the tunnel by a crosscut to the left, and shows 18 inches of solid sulphide ore running 15 to 20 per cent lead.

again, and after a short distance has a After that it is soon in the tunnel tunnel width of ore for a considerable distance. Then it departs on the left again.

TO BE PROBED NOW

With identities of these various showings lined up as belongings to one vein, and as distance from the portal increases, suspicion grows that this may be the Florence vein, whose hoped-for big shoot is looked for ahead. While driving the main tunnel, which is designed for heavy work and electric haulage and must be straight, temptation to follow this intertwining vein has had to be desisted, but now that the objective is likely not greatly distant, this vein is to be explored. From the center line of the lime bed, accordingly, a crosscut was started a few days ago to the left, and on the vein being picked up, it will be followed to and through the quartzite. This might prove the easiest route to the ore body; if, in fact, there is not ore in the lime. At the same time, for futur oprating reasons, the main tunnel must go forward without deviation.

Aside from what may be ahead, and whether this is the Florence vein or not, the portions of this vein opened up to date have exposed a considerable tonnage of good milling ore which, while not itself justification for providing a mill, will make first class stoping when mill feed is required.

In all, there are six laterals from the main tunnel now, of various lengths and objectives. To the left or south there is first the short crosscut which was aimed to possibly reveal the near presence of the Florence vein, but which was dropped after 150 feet when nothing except cracks came in after the early showing.

SEE PRINCESS, LAKESHORE

Next on that side a long tunnel takes off at 3315 feet, designed first to reach the Princess vein in about 700 feet, and then the Lakeshore vein in perhaps another 800 feet. Just after being started this crosscut cut the intertwining vein, and about 100 feet further crossed a small ore showing. This tunnel has gone between 100 and 200 feet.

Third to the left is the newly started crosscut in the lime toward the intertwining vein.

On the right also are three laterals, the first being the drift that followed the intertwining vein for 100 feet, or till it turned back.

When the main tunnel left the Ainsworth formation for the Josephine a short tunnel to the right explored a rather distinct contact vein without turning up anything.

VENTILATING CONNECTION

From the point where the Princess-Lakeshore crosscut takes off to the left, a big crosscut earlier was started to the right, with two objectives, one being to make sure that nothing was missed on that side, and the other being to make the first connection with the upper mine for ventilating purposes. In the 210 feet so far, no veins better than streaks have been crossed.

With multiplication of faces and extending of the main tunnel and of laterals, development on No. 9 level has reached a point where lack of natural ventilation is the major factor in retarding the work. Four blowers are used, pending the connection soon to be made with No. 5. The ventilating crosscut, when it is 350 feet in length, will be followed by a vertical raise to No. 5, located to pass through the Florence vein in the lime bed, and give a line on the ore shoot at that level, which will be better than 200 feet vertically above No. 9.

Provision of the ventilating connection will speed up the work all round and particularly in the long drive for the Princess and Lakeshore veins, where fast progress is now impossible.

Nature intervened in the Florence operation last Tuesday, when the third round of holes in the just started crosscut in the lime tapped a body of water under heavy pressure. Superintendent H. B. Dennis has swung the crosscut out of line to get around it. If this does not serve, the underground lake will probably be opened up and drained, as occurred with the similar happening early in the summer.

SPOKANE GIRL TO APPEAR ON THEFT CHARGE NELSON

Admits Took Fur Coat From Dance While Under Influence of Liquor

WILL PLEAD GUILTY BUT CLAIM NOT RESPONSIBLE

University Student and Member of a Highly Respected Family

To take a fur coat belonging to someone else from a cloak room at the Eagle hall Saturday night while under the influence of liquor; to be arrested as she was in the act of returning it, and then to spend two nights and a day in the city jail awaiting her trial in police court this morning on a theft charge was the experience of a pretty co-ed from a Washington university and member of a highly respected family in Spokane. She will plead guilty to the charge and will be represented by E. G. Matthew.

SOLICITING SUBSCRIPTIONS

The young lady was chosen from her university in the sates, along with one girl from each of four other universities, and two men from another two to solicit subscriptions for magazines, their earnings to help put them through university. Being near the international boundary on Halloween, the party of seven decided to drive to Rossland via Grand Forks to spend that day.

While there they attended a dance held by a Vancouver orchestra which is touring the country and became acquainted with a member of the orchestra. He persuaded them to visit Nelson, the Queen City of the Interior, before returning to the States, and the party arrived here Saturday.

They attended the dance given by the same orchestra at the Eagle hall Saturday, the lady admitting she was under the influence of liquor at the dance.

CALL POLICE

Answering a call to the Eagle hall just as the dance was breaking up, Sergeant Alex Stewart and Constable Ralph Hale were told that a fur coat belonging to Miss Jean Gilker of Nelson was missing and that the college girl was seen leaving the hall with a bundle under her coat.

The officers commandeered a car and proceeded to a local hotel where the party was staying. As the officers' car pulled up at the hotel another car was pulling away. The car was hailed and as the officers approached W. Walton of the orchestra jumped out with a fur coat on his arm.

He explained to the policemen that the girl had taken the coat by mistake and that they were taking it back to the hall. It was pointed out that she had been seen leaving the hall with a bundle under her coat and that the circumstances did not coincide with the explanation.

"I'M TO BLAME"

The co-ed, who was in the car, stepped out and declared, "If anything comes of this, I'm the only one to blame."

The girl accompanied the policemen to the room she shared with one of the other girls in the party.

On her arrival at the hotel Miss Gilker indentified the coat, gloves and pencil as hers, and stated that a compact was still missing. A thorough search of the room and the car occupied by the young lady failed to produce the compact.

After being questioned again the student admitted the theft but stated that being under the influenc of liquor she had felt an urge to do something "smart." As soon as she realized what she had done, she said, she immediately set out to return the coat.

She was told that she would either have to go to the lockup or produce bail, and when no one could be found to go bond for her, she broke down and pleaded with the officers not to put her in jail. She had to be carried to the car, but by the time the car reached its destination she had regained her composure and yesterday she was bravely preparing herself for the ordeal of a first time in police court.

Yesterday the remainder of her party spent much time with her.

'BIG BILL' FRENO LEAVES FOR COAST TO SKATE COMEDY

Legion Bugle Band and Rugby Squad Give Him Royal Sendoff

Led to the station by the Canadian Legion bugle mand, followed by cars containing the Nelson Candian rugby team of which he was a member, William Freno, bettern known in Nelson as "Big Bill," left on last night's Kettle Valley train in search of fame as a comedy skater at the coast cities. He was given a royal send off, the band playing on the march as it surrounded him on the platform and again as he waved good bye to his friends who packed the station platform.

MAY GO EAST

"Bill" will appear with Gordon Thompson at Seattle on Wednesday, at the Rotary ice carnival at Vancouver on Friday, and at Victoria on Saturday. He may also go on an eastern circuit with Thompson, a skating artist who displayed his stuff at the Nelson carnival last year, assisted by "Bill," and who is responsible for the Nelson boy's engagement at the coast.

Freno was about the happiest boy in Nelson last night, as he shook hands with his friends and as the bugle band gave him three rousing cheers.

Just before the train pulled out a young girl presented "Bill" with streamers of Nelson's colors, which he declared he would wear while performing at the coast.

Two delegates will be sent to the annual meeting of the Dominion body and they will also be instructed to ask that the west gets proper consideration in the playoffs and that the far western winners be not asked to play too many games.

A. R. Dingman, Vancouver, was reelected president ad Stan Smith, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer.

President Dingham in his annual report, stated that the provincial intermediate playdowns, for the first time in history, had not only paid their way, but realized some profit. Playoffs had been held in the junior ranks as well and the British Columbia champions entered the Dominion playoff.

Reports were heard from all delegates and indicated that hockey is in for a banner season in all parts of the province. Juniors especially are in for much development.

On motion of George Warne, Victoria, is was decided to increase the league executive to six men. One other constitutional change was bade section "C" of article 5 being changed to read that " a delegate or an ex executive member may bear proxy and voting privileges for not more than two clubs at the annual meeting of the assomiation."

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 4.—Before a crowd numbering nearly 200, the first four games of the Trail basket ball season were played on the Memorial hall gym Saturday night.

The Diakonias and Pirates took to the floor for the first game. Their score was 16 to 31 for the Pirates.

Probably the most closely contested game was when the high school girls won from the Stenos 12 to 11.

The Maple Leafs won over the Hockey club by a margin of 20 points, to score 38 points.

The last game of the evening, between the high school boys and the Wood Butchers, ended in a 24 to 12 victory for the Butchers.

PIRATES TOO HEAVY

The experience of the Pirates proved the deciding factor in the first game. Although they played with only four men, their weight was a little too much for the Diakonias. The latter team put up a good fight.

The teams were:

Diakonias—Minton, Stanley, Robb, Harris, Nollie and Gibson.

Pirates—Gripich, Evans, McLeary and Murdoch.

The ladies' game proved to be the best game of the evening, and the well filled gallery became quite excited as each team alternately took the lead. A field goal in the final minute gave the high school team the victory. Francis Maudsley was outstanding for this team, and Doris Anthony and Marjorie Hastings did all the scoring for the Stenos.

The lineups were:

High school—Doris Hoefer, Mary Saprunoff, Francis Maudsley, Eira Davies, Minon Guillaume, Gladys Mawkley and Margaret Hoefer.

Stenos—Doris Anthony, Marjorie Hastings, Violet Hastings, Muriel Hall, Gina Vannuchi and Thelma Wharton.

SENIORS FAST

The senior game was exceedingly fast and kept everyone on his feet throughout. Play became faster and rough toward the end of the second period and one of the Leafs was banished to the showers. Evans, Chandler and Bailey were the pick of the Maple Leafs, and Mackie starred for the Skaters.

The teams were:

Maple Leafs—A. Evans, W. Evans, Bailey, Chandler, Routledge and Burrows.

Hockey club—Mackie, Bremmen, Cummings, Murdoch and Garland.

The final game between the Butchers and the high school boys was strenuously fought throughout. Green was high scorer for the Butchers and B Sommens starred on the shooting end of the high school team.

The teams were:

Wood Butchers—Green, Perkins Lauriente, Robb, Webb, Condy and Williamson.

High school boys—Martin, Daloise, Balfour, Bice, Broadhurst, Sommens and Mauris.

The games were refereed by W. Westwood and R. G. Anderson. J. D Hartley acted as judge of play.

More Divorces in B. C. Than in Any Other Province

"The greatness of service is the motto of the social service council of Canada, and its work is based on the principle found in the text 'Real godliness consists in service, both to God and man.'" said Rev. J. Phillips Jones, D.D., of Toronto, secretary of the council, in his sermon at Trinity United church last Sunday morning.

The society is at the service of the blind, the deaf, the crippled, children born out of wedlock, and the mentally defective of the Dominion, and has been carrying on this work for 20 years.

The council was always at the front in waging social war against the production of immoral books and plays and such vices as gambling and horse racing.

The root of all social evils, stated the doctor, was divorce, which struck at the very foundations of society—the family. There were 150 divorces in British Columbia in 125. In 1926 there were 167, and in 1927 a total of 197. These figures were greater than the totals for any other province of the Dominion.

Swing To Smith in North, to Hoover in South

Literary Digest figures for New York, a northern state, and Texas, a southern state, reveal some of the astounding breaking of party lines in this American presidential election. The wet and dry issue can account for them as well as any other.

While Smith has 140;770 straw votes in New York City, as compared with Hoover's 105,864, in the state at large Hoover leads by 218,920 to 185,659. If this should be carried out on election day, Hoover will carry Smith's own state. But watch the composition of the respective totals! Of Hoover's 218,920 declared followers, only 23,143, or about 12 per cent, were Democrats four years ago. Against this proportion, of Smith's 185,659, no fewer than 58,466 were Coolidge votes four years ago, while only 88,411 admitted voting for Davis. Democratic editors seize upon the point that nearly half Smith's New York strength in the Digest poll comes from recent Republicans, and from this satisfy themselves that Smith, if this proportionate gain is carried out, will be swept into the White House.

In many northern states showing big Hoover leads, Smith's following nevertheless has great contributions of Republicans, though in few is the Smith swing so pronounced as in New York.

An opposite trend in the southern states is well exemplified by Texas. It used to be that the Democratic national committee would refuse to send party funds into Texas, callously remarking on "the nerve" of Democrats who were not satisfied with a state majority of 200,000. The Digest poll shows 35,626 Texans who declare their intention to stand by Smith, and 52,864 who have made up their minds for Hoover. If this is carried out, Texas will be Republican for probably the first time since the civil war.

But Smith's Texas following among the Digest electors is composed of 26,205 Democrats, 3876 former Republicans, and 5336 new voters, while Hoover's following is a combination of 13,859 Republicans, 31,476 former Democrats, and 7360 new voters. This sensational Hoover swing is indicated in many other southern states, though not in so pronounced a degree as in the case of Texas.

While the Digest poll and the editors agree in indicating a Hoover result in New York, 33 daily editors of the state picking Hoover as winner, to 19 seeing Smith ahead, and two doubtful, the Digest poll on Texas and Texas editorial observation are diametrically opposed, 43 daily editors of Texas agreeing that Smith will carry the state, while only four entertain the opinion that its allegiance will be given to Hoover.

Trend of the Digest poll, and of local editorial opinion in the southern states as expressed in the Editor and Publisher's straw vote, it may be stated, is absolutely in conflict. While 24,018 Virginians have informed the Digest they intend to vote Hoover, 10,018 of them being recent Democrats, against 15,870 Virginians self-declared for Smith, the 14 Virginia daily editors answering the Editor and Publisher query are a unit in expecting Smith to carry the state. In the Digest poll, Smith leads in just four southern states—his entire Digest allotment for the United States—while local editors allot only Kentucky and Oklahoma to Hoover, with Missouri favoring him by a shade.

The best conclusion to draw is that New York and Texas and many of the southern states are doubtful.

The "solid south" has been held practically intact by a community of memory for over 60 years. It admired and applauded Rooseveldt but did not vote for him. For Hoover, the humanitarian and engineer, who has captured its imagination, it may wander from the hitching-posts to which it has remained voluntarily tied since the defeat of the southern confederacy. If this should occur, and if the eight years of Hoover, the "sectional south" might become a story of the past.

Chocolate Cake—Cream one-half cup of butter with one cup of sugar. Stir in the yolk of one large egg, then add two and one-half squares of bitter chocolate melted. Stir together one and one-half cups of pastry flour, two and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, and a pinch of salt, and add this dry mixture to the first mixture alternately with one-half cup of cold, sweet milk. Flavor with one-half teaspoon of vanilla and fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg. Bake in two greased layer pans for 25 minutes in a moderate oven and put together with ordinary uncooked frosting.

Fruit Cocktail—Open the smallest size can of grapefruit. To the contents of this add one cupful of crushed pineapple, two bananas sliced and a few Maraschino cherries. This recipe fills four fruit cocktail glasses. It may, however, be "stretched" to fill six glasses by the addition of a little diced orange, or an extra sliced banana, or a few diced canned peaches.

Baked Stuffed Potatoes—Bake six large potatoes in the ordinary way, then them from the oven, slice in half, lengthwise, scoop out most of soft interiors and to this add enough cold milk to moisten slightly, a generous amount of butter, salt and pepper to season well, then fold in the stiffly beaten white of one egg. Restuff the potato halves with this mixture, heaping it up in a mound, place the halves on a greased pan (not trying to put two halves together again to form one potato), and over each mound sprinkle grated cheese. Slip back into a moderate over only long enough for the cheese to melt and the potatoes to heat through again, then serve.

Meat Stuffed Peppers—Any ground meat leftovers may be used as a stuffing for peppers, but as Saturday night's dinner will call for veal loaf (or beef loaf, if preferred) I assume that there will be enough leftovers from this loaf to use as a stuffing for the baked peppers. Otherwise a little chipped dried beef mixed with cooker rice could be used as a stuffing—or a little chopped cooked ham mixed with rice.

Liver Not Really a New Treatment

Just now as the medical profession is feeling rather pleased with itself for discovering that liver will cure pernicious anaemia, Dr. H. R. Harrower calls attention to the fact that a record of medicinal uses of liver among the ancients was made as long as twelve hundred years ago, by Paulus Aegineta of the seventh century.

This old writer stated that if the liver of a mad dog be eaten, it is said to relieve those who have been bitten by him. The liver of goats relieve epileptic attacks; the liver of a lizard when put into decayed teeth relieves the pain; that of the bear relieves the bites of reptiles, and so forth.

Dr. Harrower says the above sounds "absurd" to us, and yet up to a very few years ago our present knowledge of liver treatment would have sounded just absurd.

He points to the three preparations now made from liver that have definite effects in the treatment of human ailments.

As you know, the liver manufactures bile which breaks up fats, kills harmful organisms, and is a natural purgative.

It is now possible to secure these bile salts from animals and use them in patients who have an insufficient supply.

Then the liver cells themselves destroy harmful substances. The liver serves as a great filter whereby the wastes carried to it from the circulation may be disposed of, and quickly removed from the circulation and from doing harm.

The substance in the liver that does this work was discovered by Drs. Macdonald, Major, Harrower, and others. It was found that this substance lowered the blood pressure simply because it destroyed or broke down the waste products that had been increasing the blood pressure.

And further, liver itself, as you know, simply eaten as food, stimulates the bone marrow to manufacture more red blood cells, thus enriching the blood and curing anaemia.

So you see that the liver of animals is now doing some of the work for man that should be done by his own liver.

THE MAGIC CIRCLE

The housewife who thinks it out is skeptical of the back door so-called salesman or the front door peddler. He's a stranger and what he sells loses its appeal first for that reason. She knows he is here today and gone tomorrow. If the merchandise proves of doubtful quality she is just "out of luck."

The Merchants of Nelson have invested large amounts of money in their business and expect to be here permanently. They could not afford to sell questionable products. So compare the housewife's doubtful state of mind in purchasing from outside sources and her confidence as she chooses from the stocks of a Nelson merchant.

Housewives who thoughtlessly patronize outside sources are sending their money away to build up other communities. Community prosperity progresses in a magic circle. Increased business affords increased employment, which in turn increases the amount of money in circulation, and the more money in circulation the greater the business becomes, and the greater the business the greater the increase in employment, which in turn increases general prosperity.

EGINA PATS TO REPRESENT WEST IN JUNIOR RACE

efeat Argonauts of Winnipeg 28-0 in Sudden Death Game for Title

EGINA, Sask., Nov. 4.—Pats, junior by champions of Saskatchewan, have e again proved their right to dom- te the junior grid circles of western nada. On Saturday afternoon here, ey defeated the Argonaut juniors Winnipeg, champions of Manitoba, 28 to 0, in a sudden death game the football championship of the pt.

The local aggregation demonstrated ir ability in no small way. The itors came here with a great repu- ion. They tried their hardest to live to it, but they were no match for Ritchie-coached footballers, who d a slight edge in the first half d then walked all over the double le in the second spasm.

Regina took the lead shortly after game opened when a Winnipeg mble resulted in a score for the ks. In the last session the locals nt big and trampled over the Winni- r team with great regularity. It s only the good work of McLaugh- Forsyth and Davis that prevented Pats from piling up a much ger score.

The lineup.

Regina—Renwick, Traynor, Douglas, rrie, Auld, Hayes, Busch, Mitchell, tzener, James, Arnot, Carswell, Sih- i, Brown, G. Brown, Foster, Wil- ns and Athey.

Winnipeg—Jones, Christie, Faires, Mc- bon, E. Manning, Lavis, Wigging- , Grant Forsyth, McLaughlin, Mc- earn, Hawkins, Crayson, Custes, Mc- nald, Miller, McNeill, Manning.

AMILTON TIGERS DEFEAT MONTREAL

ore Is 8-6 on Greasy Field; Huck Welch Is Tiger Star

ONTREAL, Nov. 4.—The ability of k Welch, Hamilton's youthful back- d star, to kick a rain-soaked and asy ball, gave the Tigers an eight six victory over Montreal at the A. A. A. grounds on Saturday. The ory clinched the interprovincial rue championshrip for the Tigers have now won five straight games. aturday's contest was played in a of mud during a continuous fall rain. While perfect football was of the question, the 3500 fans nessed a tight struggle in which ich's punting, Captain Fear's tack- , and several long runs by Perry Moore, the local team's sensation- backfielders, featured.

Figuratively speaking the Montreal it rank had much the better of battle between the two lines, the ls gaining yards nine times as inst three times for the much- nted Tiger forwards.

The visitors, however, made more of their backfield than of their it rank. Welch counted three ies with his toe, as against one Wright, while each team scored an onverted try, both touchdowns com- as a result of fumbles by the op- ng team.

The Hamilton touch was netted when ry, local back, dropped the ball ind his own line after receiving a t.

Montreal's major points came when nny Burrell dribbled the ball over Tiger line after Gibb of the visitors bled 20 yards from his own goal.

The Question Is "How Long Is a Quarter"

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"The most peculiar incident that ever happened in my football experience, happened this year between Vanderbilt and Chattanooga," said F. W. Thomas, football coach of the University of Chattanooga, to me the other day.

"The timer was so excited and interested in the game personally," said Thomas, "that he did not notice his watch was out of commission and did not record the time. The game started at 3 o'clock and when it stopped at four, each team had taken time out three times, which made 12 minutes and although we had been on the field for a full hour, we still had five minutes to play on the first quarter.

"We then played three more ten-minute quarters and finally finished at 5:45, the contest lasting two hours and forty-five minutes, just about a record for long distance football. Vanderbilt scored two touchdowns in the dark in the last five minutes of play, beating Chattanooga 20 to 0."

Speaking of football in the dark reminds me of a humorous incident that occurred a short time ago, when the University of Cincinnati played Hanover college a night football game. It was an ideal night, with a big full moon shining upon the field in conjunction with the immense electric lights. On the Cincinnati squad was a player nicknamed "Moon" Mullins.

"Look at the full moon coming out," remarked head Ciach Babcock to his assistant coach, just before the game started. "Moon" Mullins jumped from the bench, took off his gob shirt grabbed a helmet and rushed up to his coach for instructions.

When Babcock pointed to the real moon and explained the situation, he realized the joke and retired to his seat on the bench.

TORONTO ARGOS TIE OTTAWA ROUGH RIDERS

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Unless Ottawas accomplish the seemingly impossible task of taming the Tiger in his lair next Saturday, there is nothing left for the Senators but the lowliest position in the interprovincial rugby union standing this season.

A weakened Toronto Argonaut squad successfully beat back the Rough Riders' drive for third place in the Big Four here Saturday when before a chilled gathering of 2500 fans, the Oarsmen battled the old capital rivals to a 1-1 draw over a mud-soaked grid.

Neither team showed any great power in straight line plunging due to the slippery footing and most of the efforts at opening the way for scores were made via the aerial route.

NELSON RUGGERS AGAIN DEFEATED BY TRAIL TEAM

Lose Fourth Straight Game by Score of 27-2; Fumbles Galore

MARTIN PLAYS GAME WITH BROKEN NOSE

Freno, Gillett, Farenholtz Out of Game; Trail's Game Is Fast

Though fighting every bit of the way, Nelson Canadian rugby squad went down to a fourth and successive defeat at the hands of the Trail gridiron artists and by the largest score of the season, 27 to 2, when the two teams clashed in the final game of the season at the Recreation grounds here yesterday afternoon. The game had no bearing on the championship of the West Kootenay, already won by Trail.

The Nelson team was outclassed from the start but fought stubbornly on to the finish. The boys gained considerable ground at times, but for the most part lost ground, whether in possession of the ball or not. Its two points were scored on rouges.

BROKEN NOSE

Sandy Martin sustained a broken nose early in the first quarter but after taking a short rest went in again wearing a nose protector. He played a great game from start to finish, though making a few fumbles, that, however, was being done by the whole Nelson team.

With fake passes and clever signal play Trail gained ground again and again to score five touchdowns, four of them greatly due to the "sloppiness" of the Nelson team. Four of Trail's touchdowns were scored practically without any interference. The other, scored by McTeir in the third quarter, was well earned, the ball being barely shoved across the line after McTeir was pulled down.

SCORES EARLY

Taking the kickoff Trail advanced the ball to the Nelson backfield and when Martin fumbled, recovered it. Evans started on a run but was pulled down and as he fell passed the ball to Curtis who cleared the end to chalk up Trail's first touchdown before the game was five minutes old.

From the center off Archibald kicked the ball to the Trail line. It was kicked past the dead line, giving Nelson its first point.

A few minutes later Nelson lost a chance when Wilcox fumbled a pass from Archibald. Nothing could have prevented Nelson from gaining ground if the play had succeeded.

LONG RUN

Archibald drop kicked the ball and "Windy" Williams picked it out of the air as neatly as could be wished to make about the longest run of the game, nearly half the length of the field.

With Nelson in Possession of the ball again Deacon fumbled two passes from Archibald in quick succession and lost ground. Archibald recovered a Trail kick and made a splendid run but Curtis offset the advantage when he made two long gains in succession to get within 20 yards of Nelson's touchline.

Williams was bucking the Nelson line and was thrown a few inches from the touchline when the quarter whistle blew. He was carried off the field, having hit the ground in no soft spot.

SECOND TOUCHDOWN

"Patchy" Evans scored Trail's second touchdown shortly after the second quarter opened while the Nelson team stood and wondered what was going on. Evans crossed the line without a Nelson player being anywhere near him and circled around to place the ball in a good position for the concert. Trail did not convert any of its touchdowns.

Archibald fumbled McTeir's kick but Martin recovered it and saved ground. Martin fumbled directly after to lose ground.

WATCHFUL

On Trail's second down Halliwell took the ball and made a short run to score another five points for Trail on a touchdown while Barney Arichibald stood and watched him.

With the opening of the second half Wilcox and Martin fumbled in succession and this had much to do with McTeir scoring a touchdown. He was thrown just short of the line but managed to shove the ball across. For the balance of the quarter Nelson played a different game. There were no fumbles and the boys were passing, bucking the line and attempting runs which, however, never got them to the Trail touchline.

ANOTHER FUMBLE

Trail kicked at the opening of the last quarter and Deacon, a few yards from his own touchline, fumbled. Halliwell recovered the ball and touched it across the line for another five points.

A few minutes later Martin recovered Archibald's fumble and practically saved another touchdown. Shortly after Archibald argued with Referee Piper and was banished for the balance of the game, about six minutes.

TWO MORE

Just before time Trail added two more points when Wilcox was pulled down behind his own touchline after catching McTier's kick on Trail's third down.

Three of Nelson's best men were absent from the lineup, Harold Gillett, the captain, being out of town, Bill Freno, the team's heaviest man, and H. Farenholtz, being unable to play.

L. Piper of Trail, who has refereed all the West Kootenay games this season, again "amed a hit" with players and fans by the able manner in which he handled yesterday's game. He knows the game and every rule and he is not a bit backward in demonstrating to the players that he is in authority on the field. He refereed yesterday's game at the request of the Nelson team.

The teams were:

Trail—Chandral, Barron, Curtis, Carruthers, Basso, Piester, Halliwell, Williams, A. Evans, W. Evans, Campbell, Decembrini, Tonolli, McTeir, Young and Astrowski.

Nelson—Martin, Archibald, Wilcox, Richardson, Jeffs, Wood, Arr, Deacon, Gosline, Halsie, Bradshaw, Banks, Kirby, Stewart, Farenholtz and Ramsden.

McGILL DEFEATS QUEEN'S RUGGERS

On Set of Mud They Win by 8-2 Score; Biggest Surprise Canadian Rugby

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 4.—Batting with a vengeance that was not to be denied, McGill university jumped from almost oblivion for the rugby season to the position of near-champions, when they defeated Queens 8 to 2 Saturday, on a field that was a sea of mud. It was the biggest rugby surprise of the season and it changed the Queens from being the big favorite for the time. McGill have only to beat Varsity next Saturday in Montreal to be returned champions of the intercollegiate for the first time since 1919.

The presence on the back field for McGill of Ken Tremain made all the difference in the world to the red team. Tremain caught almost faultlessly, outdistanced the injured Carter and the inexperienced Munro and was the brains of the McGill team.

'SCOTTY' INKSTER TO BOX IN TRAIL

Noted Kootenay Welter Signs to Battle Spokane Boy; Visits Nelson

"Scotty" Inkster, noted Kootenay welterweight boxer, has been signed by W. Burnip of Trail to battle in Trail November 24. His opponent it is believed, will be Claud (Young) Terry of Spokane. Scotty leaves today to continue his training at Trail.

Don Inkster, brother of the big boy, will battle Jimmie Weir of Trail, it is understood, in a lightweight semi-final.

Scotty seemed to be in splendid condition when he visited the editorial rooms of The Daily News last night. He bore no marks of his recent battle in Spokane with "Happy" Childs of Wilkesbury, Penn., in which he was given an unpopular draw.

SHEFFIELD BEATS BLACKBURN; DERBY DEFEATS ASTON

Westham United Defeats Manchester City in Third Sensation of Soccer League

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The defeat of Blackburn Rovers by Sheffield United and Derby County's fine win from Aston Villa, were the outstanding features of games in the first division in the English soccer league Saturday. Another great win was the performance of Westham United over Manchester City.

The Blackburn Rovers-Sheffield U. game was a stern affair from start to finish. The teams were deadlocked at half time, one goal all, through the scoring of Roecamp and Matthews. In the second half Johnson headed in for Sheffield United from a free kick and this gave his club the victory.

All the five goals netted by Aston Villa and Derby County came after the interval. Derby went ahead when Olney put the ball through his own goal. Bedford and Robson added two more for the County. The Villa's tallies came from Walker and Dorrell.

Leeds United did not do so well against Portsmouth as was expected. Portsmouth had better of the first half and scored through Cook and McIlwaine. Wainscot goaled for Leeds in a rally just before half time. It was all Leeds after the rest, Jennings equalizing and White inserting the winning marker.

Leicester City and Sheffield Wednesday played to a draw with little between the teams at any time during the game. Hine registered for Leicester and Allan for the Wednesday in the second part.

BOLTON VS. UNITED

Manchester United can claim little credit for their game with Bolton Wanderers. They were behind until well on in the second half. Murphy scored for Bolton early in the match and Manchester's equalizer was goaled by Hanson after a clever piece of individual play.

Devine and Brunton had Burnley's goals against Everton, a goal coming in each half. Everton could make no reply.

Ruffell was the hero of the Westham side. He scored in the tenth minute of play in the first half and in the fifteenth minute in the second half. Yews added a third for Westham. Manchester City were a well-beaten team, never getting going.

SUNDERLAND WINS

Bury and Sunderland were tied up, one goal each, at half time, through the tallies or Amos, Bury, and McKay, Sunderland. Sunderland owed their win to the spectacular work of Halliday in the second half. This player scored twice for them.

Birmingham took a commanding lead early in their match with Liverpool and always looked like winners. Curtis and Bradford hit the target for Birmingham in the first half. Clark saved Liverpool from a whitewash by netting on a lucky shot five minutes of the end.

The presence of Gallagher on the Newcastle United team was a winning factor, he, with Boyd, scored in the first half and again in the second half. Lang made it four for the Newcastrians.

Goodall had Huddersfield's lone tally from a penalty near the finish.

ARSENAL AND CARDIFF

Arsenal gave the Cardiff City team a fright when Jones netted with Farquharson out of his goal from the kickoff. A doun struggle ensued and Cardiff who were on the offensive most of the time, finally managed to get by the Arsenal defence, and in a mixup, Sloan headed in.

Notts County in a second division fixture, with Barnsley, showed that they thoroughly deserve to be at the head of averages just now. They had Barnsley three down at half time, Andrews scoring twice and B. Mills once. Aston scored for Barnsley.

Hull City, second in the league table, played practically the same game as Notts County. They put in three goals in the initial half through McDonald, Walsh and Duncan got their fourth after James scored for West Bromwich.

The finest game in the second division matches was the win of Middlesborough over Bradford. Middlesborough set a terrific pace to begin with and were rewarded by getting three goals early in the struggle. Bruce opened the scoring and Kennedy goaled twice for Middlesborough. Bradford, in a fine reaction, scored through Quantrill. Middlesborough put in two more early after the crossover through Pease and Williams and just when it looked to be all over, Bradford came to life and the balance of the game was packed with thrills. Bradford got back two more goals when McLean and Quantrill beat the Middlesborough goalie.

Kilmarnock's win over Motherwell was unexpected in Scottish football. Cunningham with two goals, and Smith made up Kilmarnock's total and Ferrier scored twice for Motherwell.

NEW YORK RANGERS WIN FIRST BATTLE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—The New York Rangers, of the National Hockey league, opened the hockey season here tonight by defeating the New Haven Eagles of the Canadian-American league, in an exhibition game, 1-0. Bill Cook, right winger of the Rangers, accounted for the only goal in the third period which broke a deadlock.

RETAIN RUGBY CUP

FREDERICKTON, N.B., Nov. 4.—The University of New Brunswick retained the McTeir cup, emblematic of the English rugby championship of eastern Canada, when they defeated Montreal by six points to three Saturday. In the first half Adams, of the university team, fractured his jaw.

ALBERTA RUGGERS ARE INVITED PLAY, COAST

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 4.—University of Alberta, leader of the prairie rugby conference, has offered two games against the University of British Columbia, coast champions, here November 21 and 24. An invitation was wired the Albertans last night.

Following the local varsity's stirring victory over Vancouver yesterday afternoon, representatives of the Big Four, University and Canadian Football union met in conference and decided to invite the Alberta team to play here on the dates mentioned.

LOYOLA COLLEGE WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Loyola college of Montreal Saturday won the eastern intermediate intercollegiate championship and the right to meet St. Michael's of Toronto in the final, by scoring a 15 to 6 victory over Royal Military college in the second contest of a two-game series. The local collegians won the first game at Kingston last Wednesday, 17 to 11, thus taking the round, 32 to 17.

Playing With Fire

The Story of a Social Climber

By LUCILLE VAN SLYKE

ROSALIE BLANCHARD, a pretty little country school ma'am who has many ambitions, and

CHARLES FERGUSON, whose only ambition seems to be to marry her, and

EUNICE FERGUSON, his middle-aged cousin, who is a teacher in a fashionable boarding school for girls. A sudden attack of appendicitis makes it impossible for her to return to the school and Rose eagerly offers to go for her. Soon after her arrival at Pendleton Hall Rosalie meets,

R. Stuyvesant Converse, a batchelor cousin of Mrs. Stuyvesant Perry, who is entering her granddaughter, Nanette, at the Hall. Converse, a squire of dames, finds Rosalie's youthful prettiness and pertness decidedly entertaining.

CHAPTER VI

Perfectly Delicious Bargains

Never in the world did a pay envelope make a girl happier than that first pay envelope that Mrs. Hartswell pushed across the desk to Rosalie Blanchard. One hundred and fifty dollars in it. She wanted to dance down the tiled corridor!

Three other teachers were going shopping with her. They clambered into the smart little yellow station cart about two in the afternoon, bound for a clothes shop in a big hotel in a near by village. And for the first time since she had met those rather snobbish persons, she found them treating her with some degree of friendliness.

"My dear," bubbled the rather angular Vassar graduate who was the history instructor, "you never saw such bargains as we get every fall over here when the owner's summer trade is over and she is closing out her leftovers! She cuts prices to next to nothing. I got the swankiest hand embroidered sport frock last fall for thirty-six dollars!"

To Rosalie, used to Emsville prices, thirty-six dollars sounded like enough to buy at least two frocks. But she wisely said nothing as the little station cart bumped up and down the Westchester hill in the gorgeous September sunlight.

Two hours later, stacked with boxes, the cart was coasting down a long, curving hill with the teachers chattering gaily. Rosalie was so happy over her purchases that she wanted to hug them.

One box held a fascinating little cream-colored crepe dinner frock, charmingly decorated with pale yellow roses stenciled about its smartly flaring skirt. Another box held a pleated skirt of dove gray with an old rose jacket of flannel bound in gray, two silk blouses, a wee gray felt hat and the proper shoes and hosiery to wear with these things.

The Vassar girl was almost gurgling with pride because she had superintended Rosalie's purchases.

"My dear! You're being so small is the luckiest thing! All through life you will be picking up the most delicious bargains! I never heard of anything so ridiculous as your getting those yellow satin slippers for five dollars! They are worth at least eighteen!"

Rosalie's dark eyes shone and her usually pale cheeks were flaming with color.

Only one thing bothered her, the fact that she would have to wear her shabby old coat over that charming little evening gown. And being naturally of a rather straight forward nature she hated the idea that she would have to slip away, clandestine fashion, when the time came for her to meet Dick Converse that evening.

The village was at least a mile and a half from the school, she decided that she would rave to carry the wonderful new slippers in her coat pocket when she walked down the long hill.

"Like a servant girl," she thought miserably.

Every day that she lived at Pendleton Hall was making her unhappier. The simple life that she had lived previously was in startling contrast to the rather sophisticated simplicity of Pendleton Hall. The very things that she hated most about it she envied the most. Even these half-grown youngsters who were pupils had a sort of intuitive knowledge at what was the appropriate thing to do! Whereas Rosalie felt as though every thing she did or said was the wrong thing.

Yet already she had picked up little mannerisms and habits and was using new bits of speech with studied ease.

Shrewd little Nanette Quimby pranced about her as she donned her new dinner dress.

"Gee! Miss Rosy Lee!" she chanted "You're some gal!"

Rosalie blushed at the child's compliment. But her eyes narrowed thoughtfully. Nanette had dined the evening previous at her grandmother's house and she knew that Dick Converse had dined there too. Dick's little nickname for her was this "Miss Rosy Lee." Had he discussed her before the child?

She went downstairs sternly deciding that she would not accept Dick's invitation. Decidedly it was not safe to take chances like that.

For that very afternoon the Vassar girl had discussed the gallant Mr. R. Stuyvesant Converse with startling frankness.

"Saw you playing tennis with him," she had let fall with seemingly carelessness. "Know him very well?"

Rosalie had answered with dry lips.

"Not very!"

"Perfectly old tame cat, isn't he?" the Vassar girl went one. "Men like Dick make me weary. Has just enough income that he doesn't have to work. Ten years ago you'd have said that he was going to see the wild afire. Good looking, the right sort, corking tennis player, good at polo, voted the handsomest man in his class at college. But I don't know—his whole life is like his war record—he was one of those desk colonels on the terrible battlefront of Washington, D.C. I think, myself, that Elsbeth Perry and her crowd have been the ruination of him. He just fetches and carries for those old girls, most of them old enough to be his mother!"

It was at this point that Rosalie told herself that certainly she wouldn't go dancing with Mr. R. Stuyvesant Converse!

But three minutes later when the fat little mathematcis teacher asked: "Is it true he's a mervelous dancer?" and the Vassar girl murmured. "Perfectly ritzy, you want to cry yourself to sleeply with joy after a couple of fox trots with him," poor Rosalie wouldn't have been human if she hadn't wanted to risk one good crying spell!

Dinner was rather en event that night, the first time that the new dining hall had been used. Mrs. Hartswell was positively awe inspiring in trailing blac klace with a huge comb in her iron gray hair.

But she gave Rosalie the first pleasant word she had given her since her arrival when the little substitute teach-in trailing black lace with a huge new dress.

"Bless us! I thought you were one of the seniors!" she ejaculated good humoredly. "Nice frock, my dear, very nice!"

Again Rosalie waveringly decided she would not go to meet Dick!

But at eight o'clock Nanette Quimby winked at her in the big hall where the children were dancing.

"Dick said he'd be down by the tennis court for you at nine," she whispered. "He promised me a new tennis racket if I'd tell you and nobody else— a 'delicious bargain'!" she mimicked the history instructor.

TEACH HEATHEN BY EXAMPLE IS URGE DR. LAIRD

Toronto Minister Tells of Missions, St. Paul's United Anniversary

"To carry Christ's gospel to all men and to every corner of the globe is the work of the United Church of Canada," declared Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., of Toronto, to a capacity congregation at St. Paul's United church last night. Dr. Laird spoke also at the morning service, in connection with the celebration of the anniversary of the church.

"To carry on this work we need men, we need money," the doctor asserted. "But above all, before we can carry the word of God to the heathen we must live up to His teaching in our daily lives, so that the heathens may know that the Christians are not only men of word but also of action."

Canadian missionaries of the United church were so successful in the far east the four Korean ministers of state were Christian. Missionaries claimed that in very short time the whole of Korea would be Christian, stated Dr. Laird.

Not only was the United church sending missionaries to heathen countries, such as China, Japan, India, Korea and Trinidad but it also had home missionaries all over Canada, from Labrador to the Yukon.

In a half hour of music by F. E. Wheeler's orchestra, opening the service, the following numbers were presented: "March Pontificale," "Mignonette", "In Beauty's Bower," "March Celebre" and "Minnette". During the offering the orchestra played "Day Dreams". Mrs. J. C. Hooker and Mrs. J. Ward sang a duet, "Rock of Ages." The anthem was "Heavens are Telling." Miss M. Arthur, Miss Mackenzie, W. Coleman and R. Irwin sang a quartette entitled "Some Day".

BASKETBALL UNDER WAY AT KIMBERLEY

Well Contested Games Dished Up to Fans, Scores Are Close

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Nov. 4.—Basketball is all the go in Kimberley, the senior league being now well under way. Three games were played during the past week, producing some very evenly contested games.

In a match at Chapman camp the Concentrator team beat the Top Mine five by a score of 25-18. The game was keenly fought and the result was in doubt right up to the last.

Tuesday the crack Town aggregation opposed the team from the Tunnel at the McDougall hall. This game caused considerable excitement, the hall being filled with spectators. The Town team won, but only after a most strenuous battle, the final score being Town, 30; Tunnel, 14, which hardly represented the run of the play. The Tunnelites fell down at shooting, and missed several good opportunities to score.

FRENCH TENNIS

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Rene De Bussellet today won the annual covered courts tennis championship of France, defeating Casaugustine, 6-4, 6-4,6-1.

Trading Slows Up, but Usual Week-End Liquidation Is Easily Absorbed

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The stock market easily absorbed the week-end liquidation Saturday, which was augmented by further preelection evening up of accounts. A few specialties and oils made moderate gains, while a wide assortment of losses extending from fractions to 3 points cropped out at the close.

Trading was rather dull, as the large operators were apparently holding aloof from the market until after election.

Utilities encountered good demand, and accumulation of oils continued. American Power and Light and Public Service of New Jersey forged ahead 3 points, and Commonwealth Power, Electric Power and Light and National Power and Light recorded gains of more than a point.

In the oils, Sinclair was again heavily bought, gaining about a point, and closing fractionally higher. Pan American Petroleum B jumped more than 2 points, Richfield more than a point.

Woolworth climbed 6 points to a new high at 209½. Warner Brother issues made gains of about 5 points, and Industrial Rayon of 6 points. Numbers of gains of a point or so made earlier in the session were replaced by moderate recessions in the closing transactions, in such issues as General Motors, Chrysler, Radio, and International Telephone.

Dunhill International stepped up 2½ points to a new high, while Colorado Fuel and Iron, Federal Mining and Smelting, General Refractories, International Match preferred, and Timken Roller Bearing made gains of 2 to 3 points. Express shares were sharply irregular, American gaining 12 and Adams losing 11½ points. The coppers were generally steady. In the rails, Union Pacific improved fractionally, and Gulf, Mobine and Northern climbed more than 3 points.

SALES VOLUME ON MARKET IS LARGE

Capital Rouyn Fluctuated Narrowly; Teck Hughes Gains 20c; Pend Oreille Weaker

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—No new features developed in Saturday's short session of the Standard mining exchange, although the volume of sales was just twice as great as on the previous Saturday.

Capital-Rouyn fluctuated more narrowly than on the previous day, ranging from 24c to 25c, with last sales at the higher point, an advance of a cent. Noranda held fairly well and declined to $54.25, for a net loss of 25c. Malartic displayed a weaker tone, easing 4c to $1.08. Bathurst soared to a peak of 34½c, but eased off to 30c for a gain of ½c.

Teck Hughes made a gain of 20c to $8.75. Lake Shore advanced 25c to $21.00.

Sherritt-Gordon rallied to $6.90, an advance of 5c. Central Manitoba was steady at 80c. Hudson Bay Mining was 50c lower at $18.40. Mandy Mines slumped to $1.25, a new low for all time and ended at $1.26, off 5c.

Pend Oreille was 20c weaker at $11.80. Bigg Missouri was off 2c to 65c, and Kootenay Florence moved up 1½c to 18½c.

Wheat Close Heavy When Russia States Not in the Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Jolted by a straight from the shoulder notice that Russia is not to be a buyer, wheat prices today flattened out. The notice came as a decided surprise to wheat bulls who have recently been making capital of reports that large purchases of wheat for Russia would be witnessed.

Closing quotations on wheat were heavy, 1½c to 2c lower, with corn ⅝c off, oats showing ⅛c to ¼c to ⅜c decline.

Paul Prohn, head of the Illinois State Athletic commission, is the new president of the National Boxing association.

KOOTENAY BELLE SHUTS DOWN FOR WINTER SEASON

In Past Two Seasons Well Known Sheep Creek Mint Shipped 12 Cars of Ore

TWO VEINS DEVELOPED AND STOPED TOGETHER

Pilot Mill Proposed to Save Values but Realization Is Still in Abeyance

Operating up to October 31, the Kootenay Belle gold property on Sheep creek has closed down for the winter, Superintendent Frank Phillips paying off a crew that has run from 10 to 15 men all this season as well as last.

Altogether the old "K.B." has operated two full seasons, with a winter sutdown between and has in that period shipped 12 cars of crude ore to the Trail smelter, development and stoping being followed simultaneously.

The work has been on two veins 130 part, but connected by crosscutt, each vein being drifted on in both directions. These veins have a two to four foot width of milling ore with a high grade streak.

ORE TO JUSTIFY MILL

In the sumer the showing was such that it was practically decided that the Kootenay Belle should be equipped with a pilot mill to effect greensaving of values, development having shown ore there to justify such equipment. This project, however, has remained in abeyance.

This small scale but rich property of early day fame is owned by a syndicate composed of F. M. Black, Jonathan Rogers and Thomas Matthems, Mr. Black being chairman of the interior tree, fruit and vegetable committee of direction, and Messrs. Rogers and Matthews and Matthews big coast business men.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Stocks moved in an irregular manner in Saturday's brief session of the Montreal market, with losses in excess of gains at the close. Trading was on a broad and active scale for a week-end.

Brazilian came second in activity with a turnover of 7111 shares, and closed at 70¼ (xd), for a net loss of ⅝. SALMON RUN ONE OF LARGEST YET

Pack to Date 1,871,621 Cases; Half Million More Than a Year Ago

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—There need be no apprehension regarding the future supply of salmon in British Columbia for the run this season, with the exception of the sockeye variety, is one the largest in history, according to a statement made here Saturday by Major J. A. Motherwell, Dominion fisheries inspector of the north coast, where, he said, the fish have been making their way upstream in countless thousands. He made one qualification in his optimistic reveiw, stating that the regulations governing the industry have never been better enforced than at present, and that they are necessary to assure the future to the salmon fisheries.

The total pack to date is 1,871,621 48-pound cases, more than 500,000 cases greater than in 1927, with more than a week to run.

"The pack or sockeye, the highest priced variety of salmon, has been disappointing," Major Motherwell said, adding, "It is not the result of a poor run, however, but because the fishermen were not able to catch them. A close examination of the spawning grounds show that a most gratifying proportion of all varieties, including sockeye, has succeeded in escaping the nets of the fishermen."

To date 199,219 cases of sockeye have been packd against 308,032 in 1927. This is better, however, than the low pack of 163,914 cases in 1921.

Gypsum and Alabastine broke to 73½ for a lass of 2¼. National Steel attained a new high of 59, an advance of 3 points.

Kaslo Celebrates First Community Halloween Party

KASLO, B.C., Nov. 3.—Halloween was made the occasion for a community frolic on Wednesday evening when the majority of the Kaslo children and many adults joined in a monster parade led by the "Coon Town" band and "Napoleon," the elephant, the latter causing much merriment during the evening's fun.

After parading over both upper and lower town, the procession marched to the bathing beach, where a monster bonfire was lighted and an old witch was burned in proper fashion. The crowd then marched to the drill hall where cocoa and doughnuts were served to all and a jolly evening with games, music and sa on followed.

Practically every one was in carnical cotume and Kaslo's first community Halloween party was voted a huge success.

URGES PREPARE YOUNG TO FIGHT AGAINST LIQUOR

Mrs. Spoffard Declares Present Situation Worse Than Saloons, Bars

"Things don't just happen, as is the popular belief among young people," warned Mrs. C. Spoffard, at the opening of her address on "Citizenship at 21," dealing with prohibition, at the Baptist church here yesterday afternoon. "Behind even the most ordinary occurrences there is a period of preparation," continued the speaker.

The stadium of Stanford university was crowded to capacity on one of those big occasions which mark every semester. Students with flags in hand filled the air with collegiate cries, continued Mrs. Spoffard. When a large open car drove up every voice shouted cries of welcome, accompanied by hooters and sirens, as Herbert Hoover, prohibition's and the Republican party's candidate for the presidency, alighted.

This voiceferous indorsation did not just happen. Hoover's whole life prepared him for it.

In their youth young folk should be prepared later on take upon their shoulders the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

"How will they be able to handle the pressing matter of the liquor traffic, if we do not show them the way," asked Mrs. Spoffard. The speaker pointed out that the present situation was worse than saloons and bars.

"Let young and old fight against this, the great evil of our day, and once more have our country free from the evil influence of intoxicating liquor, knowing that he who is with us is stronger than all who can go against us," she concluded.

Pouch bags in various shapes are taking the place of the flat pochettes and they are small because they are new.
