the very opening of the session he told the witness that his oath ad it necessary for him to tell the he truth in the investigation.

tuttle's efforts today were an di- ed toward an attempt to find just a witness misunderstands of distress d been sent out prior to the SOS, to whom they were directed, and ther any instructions were sent to vessels in response which might ain why the SOS was not sent ll the middle of Monday morning, hours before the ship sank with rescue vessels within many miles.

OTHER MESSAGE?

eschere said that he was on duty n 8 to 12 day and night, and that n the time the ship left New York ll it sank he only sent one mes- e other than personal ones from engers, and that was a weather ort to Washington.

AVIATOR SOARS THREE AND HALF MILES INTO AIR

Establishes New Canadian Altitude Record; Lands With Dead Engine

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—A new Canadian altitude record of 18,200 feet wes set over Lindbergh field here today, when E. Leigh Capreol soared more than three and one-half miles into the air during a test flight. The aviator was up more than 90 minutes, rising gradually in ascension until the ground from his plane, appeared no larger than a pinhead. Reaching the 12,000 ceiling in descending, the machine's gas supply became exhausted and Capreol was forced to land with a dead engine in semi-darkness.

The new record eclipses by 700 feet the mark of 17,500 feet set by William Van Worden of the Hamilton, Ont., aero club, recently.

Germany's Position in South African Trade Not Stronger

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 16.—The publication today of the recently negotiated trade treaty between South Africa and Germany reveals there is no ground for the fears expressed in Britain and South Africa that Germany had been given a position in South Africa's markets equal to that occupied by Britain herself.

The treaty is based on the most favored nation treatment, but Germany does not receive the imperial preference privileges South Africa is accorded by the other dominions and the colonies.

Under the treaty Germany and South Africa agre to respect the freedom of trade.

Leans on a Taut Shoe String Long Enough to Strangle

This morning he was found leaning with his throat across a shoe string which was stretched between the posts of his bedstead. He had apparently leaned on the string heavily enough and long enough to cause death.

Police believe the man was mentally deranged.

The officials declined to indicate the nature of the evidence. Northcott was allowd 15 days from the date of extradition orders in which to file his appeal.

BLAME TRUSTEES FOR TEACHER'S SUICIDE, ISLAND

"Unjustifiable, Unfeeling and Underhand Criticism" Caused Suicide

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 16.—Death through a self-inflicted gunshot wound while temporarily insane, a condition brought about by "unjustifiable unfeeling and underhand criticism," on the part of the members of the school board, was the verdict brought in by the coroner's jury, sitting at the inquest held in Duncan Friday into the death of Miss Mable Estelle Jones, 20-year-old school teacher, who was found in her house at Camp Six of the Cowichan Lake Logging company late Wednesday morning.

The jury's verdict reads as follows: "This jury is of the opinion that the deceased came to her death through a self-inflicted gunshot wound, while temporarily insane.

"We are further of the opinion that this mental state was the result of unjustifiable, unfeeling and underhand criticism of her work on the part of the two members of the school board.

"Further, we are of the opinion that the School act should be amended in such a manner as to place the affairs of the school board in small isolated assisted school districts in the hands of copetent trustees, not necessarily elected, thus freeing the teacher from the gossip of irresponsible and petty citizens."

YANKEE GIRL GETS JUICE BONNINGTON

First Use Is for Lighting but Soon It Will Drive the Whole Power Plant

WILL GIVE SPEED ON DEPTH TUNNEL

Wild Horse Camp and Equipment Now Complete; Mill for Next Year

Electric power developed by the whirling turbines at Bonnington is now being transmitted by the West Kootenay Power & Light company over its new transmission line to the substation at the Yankee Girl mine at Ymir.

This event is significant for two reasons. It marks the arrival of commercial hydro-electric power in the Salmon valley, now a series of active mining camps, it being logical to expect that this power service will ultimately be extended to many mining operations in the valley and it marks an important stage in the evolution of the Yankee Girl mine, now in the midst of a great development program that to date has given highly satisfactory results.

Owing to misintrepreting of an order placed for machinery, the proper transformers have not yet arrived for installation though they are now on the way, and at the moment the Yankee Girl is using the commercial current for lighting only.

However, in a short time the compressed air which the big compressor of 1800 cubis foot capacity will be delivering at the face of the new deep Wild Horse tunnel through 800 feet of six inch piped will owe its origin to the precipitation on the Kootenay watershed, and the mine will be entirely on an electric power basis. This will replace gasoline power at present used for the drills.

AMPLE POWER PLANT

The power plant and transformer station are in a single building, recently completed. The current, coming from Bonnington at 22,000 volts, will be steeped down to 2200 for the main drives while another transformer will further reduce to 110 volts the "juice" for domestic purposes. A motor generator set will handle the tunnel haulage and there is the big compressor that is now ready to go. Operation of the blower at the mouth of the Wild Horse tunnel, whose fan displaces 4000 cubic feet of air per minute, will take about 60 h.p. and the entire power load for development will run to 450 h.p.

The mill to be built later will, of course, have large power demands.

So far as air for the machine drills is concerned the installation just effected is considered to be sufficient for all future requirements, for the 1800 cubic feet capacity of the big compressor may be considered supplemented by the 500-foot water-driven compressor on the Bear creek side, available for the upper levels, this giving in excess of 2000 feet for all purposes. The main air pipe, six inches in diameter, will remain at that dimension throughout the 5000 feet of Wild Horse tunnel, to the foot of the contemplated raise, branching thereafter to smaller sizes.

UPPER MINE NOW IDLE

It is now over two months since the last activity in connection with the upper mine, developed from the Bear creek side, was discontinued, though in the early stages of camp construction on Wild Horse creek for the deep driving some ore occasionally came down the Bear creek aerial tram to give gravity power for tramming up supplies. This followed still earlier cessation of shipping, as, once a mill was definitely in prospect, there was no object in depleting an ore supply on which the mill would give superior returns.

No operation whatever from the Bear creek camp is contemplated for this winter and the present expectation is that there will be no activity there until the deep tunnel has made its objective and the raise is through to the upper mine.

Reorganization of the Yankee Girl operation, with the Wild Horse creek site as a basis, is now practically completed, except in certain electrical details. The construction crew is working on the final building, the blower shed at the portal of the Wild Horse tunnel.

COMPLETELY EQIUPPED

Beside the power plant and transformer station already described, and its compressed air, ventilating and lighting connections, the mine equipment includes a substantial warehouse for supplies, stables, blacksmith shop with sharpener, and a great trestle crossing Wild Horse creek from the tunnel portal to the mill site, this structure being 800 feet long and 80 feet high at its highest point.

Camp accommodation includes boarding house with seating for 115 men, with rooms for cookhouse staff on upper floor, together with accommodation for guests; a two story bunkhouse with 28 double rooms, every room having verandah entrance, with a recreation room for each floor; an an office building, with staff rooms in the upper story, and a steam heating plant serving the camp buildings.

In connection with the construction program, a small portable sawmill is being operated, on the headwaters of Bear creek, one and a half miles from the new camp.

GET DEPTH AND ECONOMY

Development of new ore by getting the downward continuation of the known Yankee Girl ore bodies, and economical mining of the large Yankee Girl tonnage already developed, are the dual objects of the new deep development from the Wild Horse creek side of the mountain. The Wild Horse tunnel will be eight feet square

GOVERNMENT TO PARTICIPATE IN FRUIT AFFAIRS

Agricultural Official to Aid Growers in Prairie Campaign

VICTORIA, Nov. 16.—The provincial government today launched a definite effort to secure the cooperation of the prairie provinces in the marketing of British Columbia fruit in competition with American importations. Dr. David Warnock, deputy minister of agriculture, has been sent to the prairies to cooperate with British Columbia fruit growers in establishing prairie connections.

Meanwhile the government is considering plans for a nation-wide conference on marketing problems. The proposal to call a national council of farmers, marketing experts and others interested in agricultural marketing was outlined to the cabinet by J. A. Armishaw of Sayward, B.C., representative of the United Farmers of Canada. It was suggested that all parts of the Dominion be represented in the proposed conference, with a clew to encouraging the marketing of Canadian products in Canada.

AS FAR AS WINNIPEG

Dr. Warnock will go as far east as Winnipeg, interviewing farmers organizations and distributing organizations. In this he will cooperate with a delegation which the B. C. Fruit Growers' association is sending to the prairies.

The delegation, among other things, will combat any idea that British Columbia fruit growers are asking parliament for excessive tariff protection while at the same time holding up the price of fruit through the provincial produce marketing act. The growers hope to convince prairie consumers that they are seeking only reasonable protection, against American dumping.

This is preliminary to a request by British Columbia members in parliament for the reimposition of the former dumping duties on fruit.

FIFTEEN YEARS ARE SENTENCES MAIL ROBBERS

Three Get Stiff Terms; Fourth Is Handed 10 Years in Toronto Court

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—Finlay McLeod Sr., 50, Toronto, Everett McKibben, 33-year-old Detroit barber, and James Brown, alias Sullivan, 28, Toronto, were each sentenced to 15 years imprisonment and Ray Bovin, 30, Detroit truck driver, was sentenced to 10 years by Mr. Justice Wright today for their parts in the $300,000 mail car robbery at the Union station here on June 19 last.

Bovin, the last to be tried, was found guilty late this afternoon. Jurors had returned "guilty" verdicts in the cases of the other three during the past two weeks.

Mrs. Ray Bovin, wife or Ray Bovin, and Alex McLeod, brother of Finlay this afternoon, both changed former pleas of not guilty to guilty and were allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Bovin's clean record influenced the court in giving him five years less than his associates. McLeod denied actual participation in the robbery but admitted he had given information obtained while he was a post office employee, which made the robbery possible.

GALE OF GREAT VIOLENCE HITS SOUTH ENGLAND AND WELSH COAST; LIVES LOST

Described as Worst Blow in Many Years Along Channel Ports and Bristol Ports; Ships Scurry to Shelter; Buildings Are Wrecked

COASTAL STEAMER CRAWLS INTO PORT MINUS HER FUNNEL; LARGE LINERS STAY IN PORT

Sign Boards and Chimneys Toppled; Falling Tree Kills Two Persons; Lecture Hall Collapses, Injuring Several People; London Among Suffers Damage

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A southwesterly gale of great violence whipped over south England and Wales today, crippling wire communication, buffeting such shipping as ventured abroad, and causing widespread damage to property as well as injuries to innumerable persons. Six deaths are reported.

Along the channel ports and the Bristol coast, the storm was described as the worst in many years. Through out the day it frequently attained a velocity of from 60 to 70 miles and it continued in dangerous force tonight.

In London, poles, chimneys, wires and hanging signs came down before the force of the blow and many persons were injured. A mighty wind, sweeping through Westminster, disarmed one of Britain's historic warriors. The sword of the heroic Richard the Lion Hearted, just outside the house of lords, was snapped from his hand and hurled to the pavement.

The costal steamer Edity crawled into Liverpool during the day minus her funnel which was lost overboard during a battering by devastating seas. The crew was without food two days and was forced to crouch down stoke holes. Extensive damage was reported in Cardiff districts; the fronts of houses were blown in, roofs were torn off and the harbor craft forced to remain in their docks.

WORST IN HISTORY

The gale at Bristol, was called the worst within living memory.

The channel seas were tremendous leading to fears that shipping might have suffered, but at nightfall no distriss signals had been received.

Bristol streets were blocked with wreckage of chimneys, masonery and sign boards.

A number of people were hurt at Portsmouth when a lecture hall collapsed.

The cross-channel traffic was greatly delayed and in some places trips were calcelled. Giant waves broke over piers and promenades while at Southampton huge liners bobbed about at the docks. Among others, the big Cunarder Alaunia, postponed her departure. At the quay-side, four huge cranes were uprooted, one crashing through a refreshment room injuring three of 20 customers.

Two storm deaths were reported tonight at Bristol and Exeter, falling trees causing the fatal injuries. The Euston station thronged with homegoing crowds, was isolated for more than an hour tonight, and all traffic lines were blocked by storm debris.

HOPE FOR LOST MEN VANISHES

Seven Believed to Have Been Swallowed Up in Blizzard in Barren North

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 16.—Government and police authorities here had no word tonight of the message from the Churchill party, comprising seven men, which disappeared 13 days ago on the trail between Churchill and the end of the steel on the Hudson Bay railway.

By men who know the north country, the fear that the party had perished in the snow-covered barren lands, was retireted, as it is known that blizzard conditions have prevailed since the party left Churchill on November 3. The chances of the men obtaining shelter in an Indian or trapper's cabin are very remote, but there still is one point. This chance is not overlooked by searchers, who have been hunting for the past 11 days traveling by airplane, dog teams and afoot.

The party's food must have given out many days ago. They had supplies for only five days when they disappeared from the trail. They were not so far as known unequipped with firmearms, and even if they had been game is exceptionally scarce in the now swept barren lands through which they were to travel to the end of steel camp.

Their fate may never be known, but while there is a chance of rescue, searchers continue to brave the inhospitable barrens in hope of finding the missing men.

HIGHER TARIFF ON SHIPMENTS TO AUSTRALIA NOW

But Ruling Will Not Hurt Western Manufacturers So Much as East Is Said

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 16.—Decision of the government of Australia to include full rail charges from eastern Canada points to Vancouver when calculating the duty on goods shipped through the port of Vancouver to the commonwealth as indicated in a statement issued from the office of the Australian high commissioner in New York, and published in Toronto today, is looked at askance by shipping men here.

Figures at the offices of the Vancouver harbor board show that only an approxmate of 125 tons of eastern Canadian manufactured goods are shipped via Vancouver to Australia and shipping men here declare that the Australian action will unquestionably hurt eastern industries to some extent. Exactly what freight goes through Vancouver to Australia from eastern Canada cannot be reckoned readily. It includes automobiles, pianos and other articles which in the past went a long way toward selling the Dominion's favorable trade balance and the business of this port.

NO HARM IN WEST

Manufacturers in Vancouver or other British Columbia coast cities will not be affected by the new tariff regulations, it was stated, but the transcontinental railways, Canadian-Australian Royal Mail line and port trade here will suffer.

J. C. Irons, manager here of the Canadian-Australian line of vessels plying between Vancouver and Australia, would make no statement on the matter today. He wished to study the situation carefully. It was possible, he said, that it might not affect his business at all, but on the face of it, it did not look encouraging.

Other shipping men declared that in their opinion the Australian action appeared to be hitting at United States factory branches situated in Canada which were enjoying the preferential rates ordinarily extended only to British exporters.

WESTERN EXPORTS

Lumber, boxes, canned salmon and pilchards, oats, lead and zinc are the chief exports to Australia from British Columbia, port figures show. The balance of freight shipped out of Vancouver to Australia was made up of automobiles, pianos, largely products from eastern Canadian factories, and goods from the middle western United States. But, shipping men pointed out, there is a line of ships operating between Montreal and Australia direct which carried the major portion of the eastern manufacturer's business with the commonwealth and these firms would not feel the added duty, as much as others.

"This higher tariff may not be so hard on Vancouver as it would appear at first glance," another shipping authority stated.

Whether or not official action will be taken by the harbor board, merchants exchange and board of trade in conjunction with other local bodies has not yet been decided.

Grain Rush Now on in Full Before the Lakes Closed by Ice

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16.—With the closing of navigation on the lakes not very far distant, grain is being rushed down the lakes, according to reports at the Canadian Pacific this morning. In the past seven days, 21,441,000 bushels, approximately, have been carried out of lakehead by the giant transports. Wednesday's figure of 5,092,000 bushels being this year's record for one day's shipment. Storage at Lakehead elevators this morning is down 49,915,000 bushels.

Farmers marketed 3,017,394 bushels on Canadian Pacific lines yesterday, and 2233 cars were loaded and moved. Transcona moved 1436 cars east, delivered 1033 to Lakehead and unloaded 1337 cars there.

Vancouver's storage is 8,138,341 bushels and 212 cars moving in that direction by Canadian Pacific from Calgary yesterday. Interior elevator storage is down to 49,693,137 due to the heavy loadings of the past few days.

KNOW WHAT IS BEST

What Doctors Say About the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy Cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from Cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy Cascarets.

What Will you do When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

Sour Stomach Sign of Carelessness

POLITE society frowns on those whose stomachs "grumble." For careful people heed this warning that the contents of the stomach is sour and fermenting. Those who don't, may someday develop gastritis—or even ulcers.

Nine times out of ten indigestion and allied stomach disorders are due to excess stomach acid, which impedes normal digestion and forms sour gases that cause intense pain. To restore good digestion you must eliminate this cause. A tablet of "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or when pain is felt will instantly neutralize the acidity and banish all digestive trouble and pain.

So, do buy a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today. This not only means instant relief, but by soothing, healing and strengthening your weak and disordered stomach a little "Pape's Diapepsin" keeps your digestive system healthy and helps to prevent various disorders.

TRAIL'S SCOUT TROOPS MAKE MERRY BANQUET

Stimmel, Chairman of Organization Given "Thanks" Badge; Blaylock Speaks

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 16.—That Trail's Boy Scout organization is an enthusiastic body and that it is composed of three enthusiastic troops of scouts was evidenced at the annual banquet which was held in the Memorial hall tonight. The organization has reached that stage in its growth where its expansion will be rapid, and it was predicted tonight that within the next two or three months Trail would be able to boast of no less than five troops.

The banquet was presided over by B. A. Stimmel, chairman of the local scout council and seated with him at the head of the table were Mayor Herbert Clark, Reeve E. M. Stiles of Tadanac, Mrs. F. E. Dockerill, regent of the Arthur Chapman I.O.D.E., S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, and James Buchanan.

Following "O Canada," the first toast proposed was that to Sir Robert Baden Powell, founder of the boy scout movement. It was proposed by E. L. Hodge, who clearly outlined the origin of scouting. The toast was responded to by A. Annandale.

REGRETS

A letter was read from R. E. Motley, distrct commissioner, of Bonnington, stating his regret at being not able to attend.

Scout Eric Caldicott proposed a toast to the parents, to which C. Wright heartily responded. Mr. Wright explained the rapid growth of this movement in Trail.

J. Raid gave an outline of the scout camp held during the past summer, which bespoke well of the training the boys are receiving.

Scout J. Clitherow proposed a toast to "Our Guests". In reply Mr. Blaylock stated he was glad of the opportunity of expressing his appreciation of the manner in which the movement had grown in Trail.

At the request of Scout "Brick" Balfour, Secretary J. H. Owen made a presentation of a "Thanks" badge to Mr. Stimmel on behalf of the local scouts. In replying to a toast "To Boy Scouts of all the world" Scoutmaster D. G. McArthur explained the significance of the badge presented to Mr. Stimmel. The toast was made by Troop Lealer Ralph Taylor.

During the evening songs were rendered by Scouts Arthur Kinnis and Peter Clitherow. A number of selections were given by the Scout Troubadours, who included J. Minton, Glen Mason and P. Clitherow.

Again Shows Need for Large Auditorium in Nelson

Last Sunday's Daughters of of the Empire Armistice day concert at the Capitol theater again illustrated the need in Nelson for a large auditorium, which could also be used as a fair building and for large gatherings of all kinds.

The Capitol has large seating capacity, but fully 600 people were unable to gain admission.

Still more would probably have attended if a larger building had been available and it had been known that there would be ample seating space.

Immigration From Great Britain

Hon. Angus McDonnell member of the British house of commons, has the right idea when he says that immigration from Great Britain to Canada should be to the benefit of both countries.

That is to say, unemployed should not be encouraged to immigrate merely because they are unemployed. They should be encouraged to immigrate if they are unemployed and if they also will make suitable new settlers for this Dominion.

The majority of immigrants do make good, though we usually hear far more of the few who fail.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

How Did You Take It?

You have suffered a severe business loss, have been disappointed in love, or have tried for some goal and have failed to reach it.

Now it is the way you "take" this loss, disappointment in love, or failure to reach your goal, that determines whether ou have a "neurosis" or not.

A neurosis, as Dr. Joseph Fetterman defines it, is a "disheartened reaction to a physical or social reverse."

You remember the lines:

"For a trouble's a ton, or a trouble's an ounce
A trouble is just what you make it
It isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts,
It's only 'how did you take it?' "

And so when your doctor says that you have a neurosis you know what he means. His first thought, of course, is the cause of the neurosis.

"In one case it may be sudden ill-health, in another it may be "love", it may be financial reverses, and in a fourth it may be due to an injury.

In speaking of these cases due to injury he says "in the susceptible individual the neurosis born in fright, is fed by fear, and then as it grows it develops as its aim, getting for the patient sympathy and shekels."

Who are "susceptible" individuals? Nervous individuals.

As has been said "every normal person is a little neurotic or nervous, and every neurotic much normal."

After an injury, whether slight or severe, these very nervous individuals develop a neurosis. There is sleeplessness, rapid heart beat, and general symptoms whereby hope is replaced by fear, and calmness by anxiety.

And the treatment and prevention of a neurosis?

Courage must be taught to the young.

When the injury or accident occurs the treatment must be physical and also mental.

Everything should be done to the injured part so that the patient can't claim there was carelessness or lack of attention, but the patient's mind should receive equal attention.

"Fright should be lessened; fears should be calmed; all the worries anticipated if possible." I believe that Dr. Fetterman's ideas will appeal to my readers.

Mrs. O.—"I wonder if other housekeepers would like to have my formula for Washing Fluid: Dissolve one can of potash in one gallon of cold water in an earthenware vessel. Let cool, then add one ounce of salts of tartar and one ounce of lump ammonia. Do not stand over it when mixing. Seal tight in a gallon glass jug. This is how I use it: I fill my boiler three-quarters full of cold water, then add one cup of my homemade washing fluid and one-half bar of soap shaved, and put in only white clothes; bring to a boil and empty out into the washtub. All I have to do is rub neckbands and wrists of shirts, as not other rubbing is necessary. I rinse in clear water and hang out to dry. This does not hurt the clothes."

New Reader—"I have read in your columns about women sending in household hints to help other women, so thought I would tell you about how I cleaned my baby's white fur carriage robe: I heated ordinary sawdust in my oven till it was very hot, then I rubbed it into the fur thoroughly. It took several applications before the robe was white again, but the result is splendid. I finished by brushing the robe in the open air till the sawdust was entirely out of it."

Miss H. H.—"Some time ago another reader asked about setting colors. I always set the color before washing a new garment, and I always have good luck. I haven't had a dress 'run' in years and this is the rule I follow: Before I make up new wash goods into dresses, I soak them in one-half gallon of water in which one cupful of salt has been dissolved. Salt has been found especially satisfactory for setting black, brown and pink. For blues, however, I use vinegar in the proportion of a half cup of vinegar to one gallon of water. To set lavender, I use sugar of lead (a poison), the proportion being one tablespoon of sugar of lead to one gallon of water. After this soaking, I simply wash the garment in the usual way—with soap and warm water, then rinse in clear water."

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Period centering on November 15, was expected to bring the lowest temperatures of season to date and to carry frost and cold a little farther south than usual. This cold wave centering on 14, will be followed by a gradual rise in temperatures that will reach considerably above normal as mild storm wave centering on 18 crosses continent. Precipitation during middle two weeks of November will be expected to be considerably below normal. The most severe storm period of month is expected to cross continent during week centering on 25; this storm wave will not be of the dangerous tpye but will be expected to cause above normal precipitation, wind and generally disagreeable weather reaching far into the south as storm center and following cold wave cross continent.

Winter moisture, 1928-29, is expected to be much less in western than in eastern parts of sections 1, 3 and 5; in western parts of these sections, the average field of winter grain will not make as good a yield as will early sown spring grains. Thaws during December and January will uncover much of the winter grains in these areas of least precipitation and these thaws are expected to be followed by sharp cold waves that will probably do much damage. Excepting these areas in western parts of sections 1, 3 and 5, winter grains of North America will average among the most profitable crops. My advice to sow semi-hardy spring grains as early as possible in sring of 1928 was worth millions to those who followed it in spring wheat belt. For 1929, I will expect early sowing of semi-hardy grains to be just as profitable as an average, but for different reason than that of 1928. When killing frosts nor cold waves are expected to catch plants during their critical stages, early sowing is advisable, especially so when early fall frosts or wet harvest period is expected.

Map of weather sections or answer to questions other than future crop-weather forecasts may be had by enclosing return postage with your letter and addressing Ned W. Foster, Box 1930, Washington, D.C.

"November 15 to December 15, 1928, heavy precipitation will be expected along east costs of North America, South America and Asia; too much precipitation in Australia and southern South America; severe cold waves central and northern Europe near November 15 and 29." The above remarks were issued from this bureau more than a year ago; reports are now current that rainfall is making a material increase in both Australia and Argentina. it will at least be interesting to watch the verifications of these forecasts.

Mr. Edwards Protests at Having Poll and Road Tax Deductions

To the Editor of The Daily News.

Sir: I buy and read your paper daily with more or less profit, so I am asking you to allow me a little space to air a kick I have against your city dads and the treatment they have given me. I am employed in the city and my family reside at our home at South Slocan. I pay taxes at South Slocan on my home there. I also pay a miner's license, a game license and have to pay a motor license. Recently my employer, as is customary, kept the poll tax of $5, also a road tax of $2 off my pay check. I wrote a decent letter of protest to the city council, but up to the present have not received even the courtesy of an answer one way or the other.

Today a single man from Creston who is working on the same job with me and who is in an unorganized district the same as I am called at the city offices and secured a refund. Right after work I called, expecting the same treatment and was informed I was out of luck.

There are probably other men employed in the city in the same fix who would like an explanation of such discrimination. I am informed that this poll tax is collected in Nelson for school purposes. I do not cost the city a cent for the education of my kids and am not likely to. I pay my taxes in my own district. I work in the city and I also spend most of my earnings here so I do not consider I owe the city anything because of having a job here as I am sure that if I didn't give value received for my day's pay I wouldn't last long on the job. Yours truly.

M. EDWARDS.

The Story of a Social Climber

By LUCILLE VAN SLYKE

Concerning the joys and sorrows of—

ROSALIE BLANCHARD, a pretty little country school ma'am who has many ambitions and

CHARLES FERGUSON, her fiance, whose only ambition seems to be to marry her, and

EUNICE FERGUSON, his middle-aged cousin, who is a teacher in a fashionable boarding school for girls. A sudden attack of appendicitis makes it impossible for her to return to the school so Rosalie eagerly offers to substitute for her until she recovers. Soon after Rosalie's arrival at Pendleton hall she meets

R. SUYVESANT CONVERSE, a bachelor cousin of Mrs. Stuyvesant Perry, who is entering her 11-year-old grand-daughter at Pendleton hall. Converse is a squire of dames but generally speaking, rather elderly dames—and he finds Rosalie's youthful prettiness and pertness decidedly refreshing.

Against her better judgment she goes clandestinely with him to a supper dance at a smart little country restaurant known as the Foxes' Nest where she meets a few socially prominent persons who snub her, and a few not so socially prominent ones who tease her. Her escort, after a drink or so too many, goes casually off to another party leavng a friend of his to see that she gets back to the school. But the next day, Sunday, sober, he attempts to apologize to her, when Mrs. Perry takes her home with the little granddaughter for luncheon. His apology is interrupted by the unexpected return from the west of Harrison Quimby, Nannette's widowed father. Dick remarks that Rosalie looks like Nannette's mother. Mr. Quimby arranges for Mrs. Perry to leave with Dick. He will take care of Nanatte and Rosalie. Rosalie receives a note from Dick begging for forgiveness.

CHAPTER XVII.

Tea and Some Other Things

Rosalie was a charming little figure as she walked demurely around the corner of the gymnasium building toward Dick Conserse. An she knew it. For her brief glimpse of herself in her new clothes had gone to her silly head. She had blown a brief congratulatory kiss at her mirrored self.

Even at that she was utterly unprepared for the effect she would have on the blase Dick. He was slouched down in the driver's seat, a cigarette hanging from the corner of his rather cynical mouth, wondering to himself why he had bothered to come.

"Just a little fool of a country school ma'am," he was thinking grouchily, "But, hang it, she is standoffish-it does put a chap on his mettle." And besides he had the grace to be a little ashamed of himself for his Saturday night's rudeness. He really wanted to square himself with her.

"Good afternoon," she interrupted his revery demurely.

With on swift glance he beheld the neat gray hat, the smartly pleated skirt, the trig footwear and the gray rose sport coat. Her cheeks and her lips were even rosier than the coat and her dark eyes shone joyously from under the ridiculously brief brim of the hat.

He fairly leaped from the car.

"Well, well," he congratulated himself loudly and comically. "You are a lucky dog Dick, me bucko, to be going to tea—and other things—with a peppy peach like this——" he caught her hands in his, lifted them to his lips and kissed them contritely, his heavy lidded eyes grace with mock solemnity as he added. "Say, you forgive me, Rosy Lee, Oh, do say you have."

She pulled her hands away pettishly.

"I don't know that I have," she began stiffly. "You know perfectly well that I shouldn't."

"And that I was a beastly rude oaf," he berated himself. "I've no alibi at all except that beastly Scotch of Freddy Patterson's. It completely doped me. It was plain woozy. Why, figure it for yourself. Would anybody but a woozy man leave a beautiful creature like you to go off with a lot of middle aged of frumps like those old gals who abducted me? I ask you? 'Pon my honor, 10 minutes after I left you I was kicking and screaming and biting my kind nursie and weeping on Mrs. Wardwell's shoulder, ruining her frock—'cross my heart I was. You can ask her, she had a terrible time controlling me. I nearly jumped out of the car as though I were bored and then I go flooey and—oh, well," he tucked a daring hand under her elbow and began to propel her gently toward the car. "You're too young and innocent to understand remorse like mine. I am dust beneath your pretty feet and putty in your pretty hands and you can't forget it or forgive it, but an angel like you can give a poor dub like me another chance—you know you can—you know you can—say it with me—try a little Coue Say, 'He will be better, he will be better——!"

He pushed her into the car and clambered to the wheel, ostentatiously kissing the hem of her new skirt as he stooped to release the brake.

Another moment and they were rolling swiftly down the hillside with Dick singing softly.

"Rosy Lee, I love you.
'Deed I do, my Rosy Lee.
I'm going to dazzle the country club with them"

For inspite of the aspiration he had a recently cast at Freedy's Scotch, the truth of the matter was that just before he had started out from the club he had two good hookers of the same and was feeling what he called too hople. His hair was still glistening from his afternoon golf shower, he was immaculate in fresh linen and smart gray flannels and, without asking for it, he had borrowed a spiffy little French roadster with which to dazzle the pretty school ma'am. It was a tiny boat-shaped affair, its engine hummed sweetly and its cushioned depths were as comfortable as a boudoir chair. Rosalie settled back with a little sigh of delight. Short-lived delight, for suddenly her mind pictured for her, her country town fiance, coming dusty from the freight yards in his rickety flivver to escort her to a baked bean Epworth League supper.

The contrast was so startling that her mouth grew sulky with scorn and her dark eyes were somber with discontent. He stole a glance at her, stopped the car and put an arm about her shoulders, giving her a friendly little slap.

"Look here," he said bluntly. "I'm sorry and I said so, very humbly, Lady Clare Vere de Grouch, but have a heart. Be yourself and quit acting so sniffety. You're ruining my whole day. Say you're glad I'm sorry—or something like that."

She roused herself.

"Or something like that," she mimicked his tone.

"Atta girl. Now, let's kiss and make up."

She drew herself prudishly away from him. She was beginning to be a little afraid of him. But he only laughed at her as he started the car and he sang his "Rosy Lee" song all the rest of the way to the club.

Which to her unsophisticated eyes looked like a sort of palice, though it was only rather crude concrete and imitation Spanish tile builded into a semblance of graduer. Gay awnings fluttered from its windows, huge parasols of the same material dotted the terrace before it and a long line of cars was drawn up in the parking space in which they stopped. He lifted her out with ostentatious tenderness.

"Now then, smile for the ladies and wave your little hands at the gentlemen," he admonished her. "Then Dicky will buy you a nice tall lemonadde and some little cakes."

A group of men were coming from a locker house at the side. Dick waved his hand at them. By this time he was none too steady on his feet, but as rocking back and forth with a beautific grin upon his florid face.

One of the men came toward them quietly. He lifted his cap gravely, eyed Dick critically and said:

"How do you do, Miss Blanchard?"

It was Nannette's father. She blushed as she spoke to him, feeling somehow rebuked at his stern manner.

"Run along, Dick," he said coldly. "Get yourself some coffee."

Dashed if I will," Dick began crossly.

"I I'm going to take Miss Blanchard up on the porch. We will wait there for you," Mr. Quimby said firmly.

Proposals!

A glance at her blonde loveliness tells better than words why this beautiful New York City girl has received such flatterng proposals from kings of movie and stage land. She's Collette Francis, of 255 East 25th St., Brooklyn; now one of the charmers in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita."

Miss Francis says: "Since I've been on the stage, so many people have asked me what I do to get the beautiful golden gleam and sparkle in my hair that I am beginning to think I'm really taking wonderful care of it. I really never thought much about it. What I do is so simple. Like so many of my girl friends here in New York, I just put a little Danderine on my brush each time I use it. That keeps my hair silky and gleaming, makes it easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours. My scalp was very dry and I had a lot of dandruff when I first started on it, but all of that trouble stopped quickly. And Danderine keeps my hair so clean I don't need to shampoo half so often, now."

Danderine removes that oily film from your hair and gives it new life and lustre. It isn't oily and doesn't show. It gives tone and vigor to the scalp. The generous bottles are just 35c at any drug or toilet counter. A delicately fragranced necessity for the well-groomed girl.

Round three—Townsend stung Roy with a left and right to the face. Roy hooked a right to the face and took a right cross to the jaw in return. Townsend's punches, however, appeared to have little effect, failing to slow the Montrealer up. Townsend came out with rights and lefts. Townsend's round.

Round four—Townsend left jabbed Roy into the ropes and beat the champ in the infighting. They exchanged body jolts. Roy dropped Townsend for a count of nine with another vicious left to the jaw. Townsend came back and carried the fight to Roy. Roy's round.

Round five—Roy rushed to the attack but Townsend bored in and rushed him to the ropes. They stood toe to toe and slugged, Roy slugged heavy with rights to the head. Roy's round.

Round six—Roy landed lefts to the head and made Townsend miss by getting under his swings. Roy rocked the challenger with a left and a few seconds later floored him for the count.

HARLOW BACK IN CITY AND IS IN FINE CONDITION

Sauer Didn't Hurt Local Battler He Says; Wants to Line Up Return Bout

Looking hale and hearty and unmarked George Harlow, Nelson's heavyweight battler, returned to the city last night from Calgary where on Thanksgiving day he lost on a technical kayo to Augie Sauer, Calgary heavyweight.

Interviewed last night the local battler had no alibis for his defeat. He did complain, however, that the ring in which he fought Sauer was below regulation size and that the ropes were saggy.

Harlow stated that Sauer put up a good scrap and for the three rounds he had let Sauer swing at him. None of Sauer's wallops affected the local battler, and it was more or less hard luck that the bout terminated the way it did.

As explained by Harlow, Sauer came at him in the third. The local boy backed away letting Sauer come in. Getting to the ropes, George leaned on them for a spring when the ropes collapsed and he went through into the spectators' area. Landing on the sharp edge of a chair, Harlow sustained injuries to his left hip and right leg. He stated that despite injuries, he was willing to go with the bout, but was counted out before he was able to gain the ring. Sauer, he stated, had the lead up to this point.

Following the bout, through his manager, Dean Pearse, Harlow attempted to line up a bout with Sauer either in Calgary or at Nelson or anywhere at any terms suitable to Sauer. So far efforts have failed.

Manager Pearse stated last night that he would continue efforts to get another match with Sauer either here or at Calgary.

Badminton Is Popular Game Now, Convent

Every afternoon when school is dismissed pupils of St. Joseph's academy may be seen heading for the Knights of Columbus hall, where, under supervision, they spend on hour or more playing the ever increasing game—badminton. Racquets and shuttlecocks are provided and the net is loaned by the Catholic Badminton club, which was organized last year and is now away to a good start for a second season.

The plan of setting aside a period for the children to encourage them to take up the game was inaugurated last year, and met with the approval of the pupils. This year even more have turned out to take part in the scratch matches each afternoon.

SENIOR PLAYERS

Senior club players are out early each afternoon and again each evening for matches. On Saturday evenings the week is brought to a close by matches in which all members of the club take part.

When the hall is not in use for badminton the basketball teams of the convent get in time in strenuous practice. There is probably not an afternoon or evening during the week, except, Sunday, that the hall is not in use.

Basketball in Kimberley Is Keenly Played

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Nov. 16.—Basketball still continues to be the chief attraction in indoor sports in Kimberley and the senior league games have been drawing large crowds, and the games have been evenly contested.

The Town team continues to head the league and now have won four straight games. On Tuesday they beat the strong Concentrator team at Chapman camp by a score of 28 to 10, and incidentally were the first team to lower the Mill boys' colors on their own playing area for the past three years.

By their victory in this game it looks as if the Town team have the honors for the first half of the season safely tucked away.

TOP MINE ALSO WIN

In a senior game played at Warren hall between the Top Mine and Concentrator Thursday evening the former team won by a score of 16 to 20 after a most interesting and closely contested game. The hall was packed with spectators.

In the first half the Mill five had a slight advantage and were leading by stanza saw a brilliant display of basketball with Miners on top, and coming to their score and held the Concentrators to two field goals, winning a most exciting tussle by 20 to 16.

The Top Mine team are now right at the top of their form and have only sustained one defeat this year and are well up in the running. Their next game will be against the Town team Tuesday and this should prove to be the battle of the season.

Rules Committee Trying to Kill Dribble Play

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

It seems that they're still determined to eliminate the dribble as far as possible from the cage sport. Several years ago the rules committee voted it out altogether, but the protest was so strenuous that their action was quickly revoked. This year the dribble is still in the rules, but its activity has been restricted.

The committee has clarified the situation of a dribbler runnng into a guard by putting the burden of the blame on the man with the ball. "If a dribbler charges into an opponent or makes personal contact with an opponent, without an apparent effort to avoid such contact, a personal foul shall be called on the dribbler," the rule now reads.

An effort is also made in this year's rules to eliminate "stalling" or killing time by a defensive team trying to nurse a couple of points during the closing minutes of play.

A "held ball", says the rule, "is declared when two players of opposing teams have one or both hands firmly on the ball or when one closely guarded player is withholding the ball from play or is making no apparent effort to put the ball into play."

SAUNDERS HEADS ROARING GAME AT KIMBERLEY

Plan Best of Ice and Icemakers; 60 Attend the Annual Meeting

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Nov. 16.—Kimberley curlers got away to a good start Wednesday evening when their annual meeting and election of officers was held in the McDougall hall. The meeting was most enthusiastic and was attended by about 60 members, and looks bright for the approaching season.

The officers elected resulted as follows: Worthy patron, W. M. Archibald, Rossland; honorary president, A. B. Ritchie, Trail; president, George C. Saunders; vice-president, Arthur Ward; second vice-president, Bert James; secretary, Mickey Edmunds; treasurer, J. D. Burnyeat; chaplain, Rev. W. J. Crick.

Executive committee—Andy Chambers, C. A. Foote, Dave Sutherland, H. Whitford, J. Shraddon and E. S. Shannon.

Ice committee—Harry Parsons, W. Douglas and George Holland.

At this meeting Superintendent E. G. Montgomery took the opportunity of thanking the local club on behalf of the British Columbia association for the invaluable assistance the Kimberley curlers rendered, stating that much of the success of the big 'spiel was due to their efforts.

In order that there will be no question that Kimberley devotees of the roarin' game will have the best ice, the club have decided to make an offer to Mr. Ward of Cranbrook, at the rate of $150 per month during the playing season.

The lady enthusiasts will again be allowed the use of the rink during the afternoon, and judging from all reports, the fair sex are likely to have a strong folowing this year. Altogether it looks bright for curling in Kimberley this season.

CRANBROOK FORMS ASSOCIATION FOR WINTER ICE SPORT

A. Gray Is Elected President; Plan Affiliation With B.C. Amateur Body

CRANBROOK, B.C., Nov. 16.—The Cranbrook Hockey association held the first meeting of the season and election of officers in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Officers elected for the ensuing year were O. Gray, president; J. Barber, treasurer. A motion was carried recommending that the secretary should interview representatives of teams planning to enter a district league with affiliation with the British Columbia Amateur Hockey association in view.

A motion that players trying out for the representative team be free from buying the regular season ticket was pointed out as inadvisible by Mr. Moir, secretary of the Cranbrook Amateur Athletic association. But those making the representative team might have their money refunded. The expenses incurred in managing the rink by the athletic association are too great to allow adults to have the privilege of free practice unless they are members of the representative team.

By reference to the financial statement Mr. Moir pointed out that no money was made from hockey for the promotion of any other sport except for a certain sum to help defray expenses for the athetic field and rent for the rink.

At another meeting the formation of a city league will be discussed with representatives of probable teams to compete present. A. B. C. Amatery Hockey association rule book will be obtained by the secretary and extracts posted in each dressing room.

Basketballers May Play at Trail December First

Nelson Association Sets December 1 and 15 as Preferable

In reply to a letter from I Hastings of the Trail Basketball league, J. Notman, secretary of the Nelson Basketball association, will write that a representative team from Nelson would prefer to play at Trail on December 1 and December 15, with a Trail team invading Nelson on December 7 and December 21. This was a decision reached when Mr. Hastings' letter, inviting a Nelson team to play a series of home and home games, was read at an executive meeting of the basketball association in the city hall last night.

Mr. Hastings suggested in his letter that a Nelson team play at Trail on November 24 and on December 15 but stated that if those dates were not favorable, the team could be accommodated on any two Saturdays, with the exception of December 8.

and approximately 5000 feet in length, at which distance it will have nearly 800 feet depth on the dip of the vein, or 740 vertical feet, below the 1265-foot level, the bottom level of the upper mine. The dip of the vein is toward the tunnel, at an inclination of 65 to 70 degrees.

So far progress of the tunnel has been slowed up by the broken character of the ground at the point of attack and the necessity of handling sliding rock. The tunnel has gone about 50 feet or so through this and is getting solid rock to a height of several feet now. In another 30 to 40 feet the tunnel will be past this moving ground and from that point with the big electrically driven compressor should make speed. The engineers look forward to beating 600 feet a month—on the Lorne up north, another Stobie, Forlong operation, 22 feet a day is being maintained—and with ventilation permitting re-entry 15 minutes after the shot, there will be a minimum of lost time, with a possibility of getting up to five shots in the 24 hours.

At an early stage a mechanical mucker will be used and there will be electrical haulage of waste after the first 1000 feet.

LARGE ORE BLOCKED OUT

The development that has led to the large program now being carried out by Yankee Girl Consolidated mines—recently Enterprise Consolidated Mining company—has given westerly distance and depth on the Yankee Girl's previously known ore areas.

Thus, in addition to westerly development of the Yankee Girl vein, on numerous levels, there is the case of the Spur vein worked by early operators down to the 400 level. The present operators, after completing development of the Hobson shoot on the 800 level, poked across into the foot wall to explore for the Spur vein. In 119 feet it came in as a streak, and 50 or 60 feet later showed four feet of ore. It was folowed for approximately 600 feet, when it practically intersected the Yankee Girl vein. In this 600 feet distance there were only three patches, each less than 20 feet long, that were not commercial ore. On the 1000 level also the company has the Spur vein, which has been followed from the shaft westerly for 400 feet, 60 per cent of it being ore. Thus, there are backs on this vein from the 1000 to the 400 level.

MILL NEXT YEAR

Ore of the Yankee Girl has been shown to be amenable to milling, and it is stated there will be no difficulty at all in getting high recoveries in marketable form, of all the contained metals, for gold, silver, lead and zinc; the gold providing approximately 60 per cent of the values.

Provision of the mill, probably by units, to meet the requirements of tonnage developed, will be a major item in the coming year's program.

COOLIDGE TALKS MARKETS MATTERS

Scientific Production and Co-operative Marketing Solution for Farmer Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Cooperative marketing was stressed tonight by President Coolidge in an address delivered before the National Grange in which he reviewed the problems of the farmer and described as "hazardous" proposals of a subsidy which he said the American people would not pay for in any length of time.

At the same time Mr. Coolidge told the representatives that any attempt at price fixing of farm products or the entry of the government into the business would prove fatal to agriculture. Assistantce necessary to render the cooperative effort more effective through a board supplied with funds to demonstrate its soundness in its experimental stage might well be provided by the national government, he said. Declaring that no government ever gave an industry more aid than agriculture has received in this country, he said that further improvement in the farmers' condition could come from more scientific production and above all from a wider application of the cooperation principle.

NOBLE FIVE NOW HAS TWENTY-FIVE FOOT ORE WIDTH

Crosscut in Deep Deadman Shoot Goes That Far Without Showing Foot Wall

DRILL HOLES REVEAL FURTHER FIVE FEET

Probing of Width Follows Halting of Drifting for Want of Mill Storage

A 25-foot width of clean ore from the hanging wall, with no foot wall yet in sight, is the result of the first attempt of Manager Paul Lincoln, of the Noble Five mine, to probe the width of the Deadman shoot found this fall at 1100 feet new depth, the sensation of the season in the Slocan.

After following the new shoot for 150 feet for the greater part of the distance with a tunnel width of 10 feet, Mr. Lincoln a few days ago discontinued drifting in this shoot with the face still in ore, for the reason that all the bins were full of high grade mill feed, and there would be no bin space until the modernized mill should start up, which will be this month.

FOOT WALL MISSING

To keep up exploration of the shoot, however, it was decided to raise from a point where the ore was cleanest, and therefore of shipping grade, first finding the foot wall, since development ore from such a point could be shipped direct to Trail without intervention of the mill. Sill sets for the raise were prepared, but the cross-cutting did not reveal the foot wall.

When Mr. Lincoln left the mine for Nelson yesterday afternoon, there was a 25-foot width of high grade ore, particularly rich in grey copper, which in the Slocan is a silver carrier, and the drills had the first holes in a further five feet of ore, without indication that the foot wall was yet tapped.

WINNIPEGGER TO HANG, JANUARY

Guilty of Murdering Woman Jury Finds After Four Hours' Deliberation

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16.—Convicted of murdering Mrs. Lottie C. Adams, whose battered and shot-riddled body was found in a snow-filled ditch in a suburb February 16 last, Albert Victor Westgate, 30-year-old automobile mechanic, tonight was sentenced to be hanged January 23 next.

The death sentence was pronounced by Mr. Justice Dysart after a jury in the assize court had delivered its verdict of "guilty" folowing deliberations of more four hours.

Westgate took the verdict calmly, and declared to the court: "I have been wrongfully accused and convicted; I am innocent."

The trial had occupied the attention of the court for four days during which time Mrs. Jean Westgate testified in defence of her husband, whom she held innocent of the crime.

Mrs. Adams, who was 30 years old, disappeared from her home in February. Wide search was instituted and finally the body was discovered in the snow-filled ditch, close to the suburban highway. Later Westgate was arrested police charging that he had killed the woman during a quarrel in an automobile. He was known to be on intimate terms with Mrs. Adams and had been under surveillance of police from the time of her disappearance.

SPECULATION IS MOST AMAZING WORLD KNOWN

Increase in Sales Over Million More Above Record Made During Week

BEARS TAKE MERCILESS LACING; COPPERS UP

Rails and Motors Come Forward; U. S. Steel Soars; 70 Issues Make Records

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The stock market, a market of superlatives all this week, completely surprised itself today in the most amazing orgy of speculation the world has ever known, rolling up a total of 6,714,400 shares, an increase of more than 1,000,000 shares over the record of 5,670,600 made only Monday.

Little fellows and big fellows seemed to fall over each other to plunge into the surging market.

More than two dozen issues from all sections of the list were wildly bid up from 5 to 23 points, and about 70 stocks chalked up record prices for the year, many for all time.

The public appetite for stocks was whetted ravenously by the negligible increase in federal reservie brokers' loans. A gain of more than $100,000,000 had been anticipated and speculative joy was boundless when the increase turned out to be less than $2,000,000.

With the generall rising market of the past few days a short interest has developed in expectation of a technical reaction. Probably never have bears taken such a merciless lacing as today, as frantic short covering was a factor in the mighty total of sales.

Call money renewed at 6½ per cent and was held at that figure by the calling of $15,000,000 by banks to adjust their position with the federal reserve. Radio and Montgomery Ward again led the advance, both making extreme gains of 23 points. Montgomery Ward touched a new peak at 417 and closed at 414. Radio reached a new top at 298 and closed a half point lower. Wright Aero soared 18 points to 210.

Coppers were most conspicuous in group strength. Greene Cananea spurted 10 points to a new top at 167½, while Cerro de Pasco and Anaconda climbed about 5 and 7 points, also to new peaks. The response of the oils was limited, although Mexican Seaboard climbed 8½ points to a new stop at 70.

In the rail group, Atchison mounted 5 to a record at 204, and Northern Pacific more than 4 to a new top at 110¾. Pullman gained nearly 8 points.

Motors came forward with Packard, advancing nearly 9 to a new high at 118⅞, and Chrysler rallying about 5. General Motors was an exception, declining fractionally.

U. S. Steel advanced more than 3 points to a record of 172½. The market was almost all on the upside with decline negligible.

Smaller Boys Trying to Get in on George Copper at the Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16.—A sudden rise in George Copper on the local market yesterday and today is believed by local financiers to be a determined move locally to secure a small portion of this stock not yet secured by the Consolidated, which recently closed an option on the property.

One broker stated today that less than 7 per cent of the stock not already held by the Consolidated.
