International Nickel and Mond Rumors Are Reported Denied Now

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The relation, if any, of the International Nickel company to the Mond Nickel company remained a mystery tonight. Reports of a merger which would give the combination virtually a monoply in the world's nickel, were unconfirmed while rumor which boosted the stock of both today, concerned itself with details of the consolidation.

Lord Melchett (Sir Alfred Mond, who was reported to have been present at a meeting of officials of the two companies at the International offices today, could not be reached tonight, but the London (England) Telegraph was quoted locally as announcing that he had denied rumors of the merger.

Charles Harydon, president of International, was said to have denied the merger while another source quoted him as having said the report was premature.

C. N. R. ENGINE MEN SUFFER INJURIES

Train With Cars of Grain Hits Slide 110 Miles East of Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Three trainmen leaped to safety when a Canadian National locomative and four cars were derailed by a rockslide this afternoon near "the Gorge," 100 miles east of Vancouver, according to word received here tonight. One of the men, L. J. Larsen, of Vancouver, was injured, but not seriously. John Johnson, engineer, and the fireman of the locomotive, whose name has not been ascertained, and Larsen, jumped from the cab as the engine and four cars of grain went over the embankment. The train was made up of 35 or 40 cars of grain. The line has been cleared.

DOWAGER EMPRESS MARIE IS BURIED

Only Small Group of Mourners Attend Copenhagen Services in Roskilde

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 19.—Only a small group of people were admitted to the mighty Roskilde cathedral today to witness the final ceremonies at the burial of the late Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, but these included two queens and one king and many other royalties.

The company made an imposing spectacle. The gorgeous costumes of the Russion priests contrasted strangely with the sober garments of the Danish glergeman who walked before the coffin. This was carried by officers of the royal guards, and accompanied by two of the empress' cossacks, with huge beards, and bristling with strange weapons.

Then followed King Christian, the two daughters of the empress, King Haakon, the Duke of York, the Swedish crown prince, and finally the rolay ladies, preceded by the queen, Danish princes, Russian grand dukes and members of the Russian colony. Most of the Russians were in ordinary dress, but a few of them wore the old Russian senatorial attire, with ancient decorations.

Later there was a special farewell service by the Russians, which was attended by all members of the royal families.

Regular Baptists Demand Return of Baptist's Funds

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—A demand for the funds of the Baptist church has been forwarded to the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec now in session in Hamilton, signed on behalf of 53 churches in the Union of Regular Baptist Churches. The letter protests against the modernistic doctrines of the convention church and declares that by the adoption of such doctrines, the churches have violated the trusts on which the funds were given and are no longer entitled to them.

GRAIN ELEVATOR BURNS AT CALGARY

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—Lighting up the country for miles around, the grain elevator operated by the Midland & Pacific Grain corporation, was destroyed by fire here tonight.

The loss was set at $60,000, fully covered by insurance. Earlier in the day a fire broke out in the building due to overheated ball bearings. It was extinguished after damage amounting to $50 had been done.

The elevator was built 12 years ago by Randall, Gee & Mitchell, and after amalgamation with the Midland Grain company the name Midland-Pacific Grain corporation was taken.

IS PARDONED ON CONTEMPT SENTENCE

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 19.—Governor Ed Jackson today issued a pardon for Dr. E. S. Schumacher, superintendent of the Indiana anti-saloon league, who this morning was taken to the state penal farm to begin serving a 60-day sentence for contempt of the Iniana supreme court. Dr. Schumacher will, however, have to pay the $250 fine.

NEGOTIATIONS ON REPARATIONS ARE UNDER WAY

"Quite Satisfied", So States Churchill Following Secret Sessions

J. P. MORGAN OF U. S. IS AMONG THOSE PRESENT

His Presence Confirms British and French Stand; Discuss German Payments

PARIS, Oct. 19.—Efforts looking toward complete and final settlement of the reparations problems began at Geneva last September, entered a decisive phase in Paris today.

Conferences were held this morning at which Premier Poincare, Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, and S. Parker Gilbert Jr., agent-general for reparations, were present, while this afternoon there was a luncheon at the British embassy which Mr. Churchill, Mr. Gilbert and J. P. Morgan were guests of Sir William Tyrrell, British embassador.

While the deepest secrecy surrounded the negotiations, Mr. Churchill, previous to his departure for London late today, said he was "quite satisfied."

The presence of Mr. Morgan at he negotiations is interpreted as showing that both France and Britain desire to confirm the decision taken 10 days ago to request that the United States unofficial member or members participate in the deliberations.

NEITHER RECEDE

The viewpoint of both France and Britain is that the United States must be represented on the new commission but neither country appears to have receded from its position concerning the reparations problem itself.

The policy of France is that France must obtain from Germany enough to repay the United States in addition to refund expenses incurred in the reconstruction of the devastated regions.

French circles onight declared that the representative viewpoint of Britain and France, although differing in certain details, were not irreconciliable.

Mr. Gilbert is reported to have explained to Premier Poincare and Mr. Churchill exactly how far Germany could meet them toward fixiation and commercialization of the war debt. It was generally agreed that concessions must be made on both sides and it was announced that exchanges of views between the interested governments would continue during the next few days.

Two Tiny Tots Die in Fall of Thirteen Floors

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Two small brothers today fell 13 storeys to their deaths from the roof of the Hotel Surrey, East 75th street. Their mother, Mrs. Hazel Waldeman, had taken them with her to the hotel roof.

A painter who saw the tragedy said that she had held Bejamin, 14 months' old, in her arms to let him look down the wall. Then Terrance, 4½ years' old, climbed up on a bench and apparently tried to make his mother pick him up also. The baby fell from his mother's arms and after him toppled the other child. The mother fainted. The painter summoned help, but the tiny bodies lying on the roof of a three-storey building were lifeless.

BABE RUTH MAKES APPEAL FOR SMITH

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Babe Ruth came to bat again for Governor Al Smith tonight—this time in a radio address over a nation-wide hookup.

It is because Governor Smith is "the greatest friend of American sport in public life today," and because he has never forgotten his boyhood friends, that the Yankees' home run king would like to see him elected.

"Governor Smth is the type of man who appeals not only to the baseball fan but to all red-blooded lovers of American sport," he sad.

"The thing that makes him so great is the very fact that he does not personally care for baseball or boxing, but is so broad and considerate of the other fellow's wishes and of the great good that all forms of athletics can do.

"The greatest thing about Governor Smith is that he never forgot his love for Oliver street. While some men desert their old friends, the home town and their obligations to the public for great big salaries, Al Smith, four times governor of New York, has given his life to the public."

Tiny Tot Recovering After Attack by Bees; Stung Thousand Times

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 19.—The surprising recovery of 2-year-old Marjorie Broadbent, who was badly stung by a swarm of bees, is arousing mush interest in local medical circles. The child was found crying in the garden of her home, vainly attempting to ward off the attacks of the insects. The stings inflicted on her were to numerous to count, but physicians estimated that they ranged between 300 and 1000.

Her life was at first despaired of, but she is now expected to recover.

TEACHERS TOUR TRAIL SMELTER; HAVE BANQUET

Round of Pleasure and Education Is Afternoon Program in Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 19.—Trail and Tadanac certainly lost no luster by the entertainment extended today to the public school teachers of the Kootenay and Boundary meeting here in convention. The afternoon was devoted to an outing at Tadanac, where the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, limited, played host, and in the evening the teaching staffs of the Trail-Tadanac schools entertained the visitors with a banquet and program. Numerous cars were provided for the 100-odd visitors, who assembled at the city hall at 2:30. At the offices of the Consolidated a corps of guides under Smelter Superintendent Buchanan and other executives and Mayor Herbert Clark took charge of the party. For two hours the teachers, a guide to each small group, toured the greatest nonferrous metallurgical works in the British Empire, inspecting some 20 or more plants.

In countless Kootenay class rooms no doubt the coming week the vast industry at Tadanac will be a lesson and essay to pupils.

BANQUET

At a big banquet in K. P. hall another side of Trail hospitality was exemplified, the local teachers acting as hosts. Here also Trail's fame was sustained, each visitor receiving a handsome booklet entitled "Trail, the Metallurgical Mecca of Canada," presented by Trail Times, with also a souvenir zinc ash tray bearing the Tadanac brand.

Rev. Beverly Oaten pronounced grace. A. E. Allison of Trail high school was toast master, proposing a toast to the King. Miss Helen Edwards of Trail high school, describing herself as "an old war horse," gave a racey account of her scholastic career as pupil and teacher, proposing a hearty toast to the visitors. As admittedly teachers did not grow rich on their salaries, she forsaw as the ultimate reward of many being old war horses.

For the visitors, Miss Bessie MacKenzie, Nelson, replied to this gracious toast, declaring Trail citizens could not be excelled in hospitality and that they had a city of which they might be proud. "This pride in Trail continued even when they moved to Nelson," she added.

Toasting the department of education, Wesley Mckenzie, Rosland, likened the educational forces of the province to a vast army, from the rural teachers with their little platoons of infantry, through the battalions of such centers as Rossland, up to finally the high command at Victoria and the heavy artillery of the university.

PRAISES MINISTERS

A. R. Lork of Vancouver normal school stated every one connected with the department was sorry to lose such an education minister as the late one, to whom they could go with assurance of sympathy and attention. They were pleased that his successor was of the same caliber and qualities.

Mrs. Morris of Trail declared the Trail-Tadanac school board one of the best possible to work for.

Trustee A. L. McCallum, in replying, expressed pride in the local teaching staff and how in four years the board had to provide 16 new rooms. His own particular problem was to combat the ravages of cupid in the staff and it kept him busy filling vacancies. (Laughter).

A toast to the ladies noted for its whimsical humor and lofty sentiments was proposed by Inspector V. Z. Manning of Cranbrook. A ministering angel though was the note on which he concluded.

MISS ETTER REPLIES

Miss Enid Etter of Nelson, in replying, expressed appreciation of the flattering tributes paid her sex and of pleasure it was to be in a position to enjoy Trail's hospitality. Standing up for her sex as students, she assured Inspectors Hall and Sheffield that men teachers were not alone in paying their $26 fees to the university summer school, or in buying and digesting books in the line of their profession.

After the toast list proper adjournment was taken to a smaller hall, where the entertainment entered. A pleasing sketch entitled "The Doctor's Patients" was given by Miss Doris Emsley, Mrs. Jean Quayle, B. Smith, Stan Whitehead and Eric Brown of Trail, and Verna Salisbury, Miss E. Horwell of East Trail and Miss C. Whittaker of Trail. Conclusion of the evening for most of visitors was at the annual Rebekah dance.

Hickman Pays Death Penalty for Murder of Marian Parker; Walks to Gallows Firmly; Crowd Present

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Oct. 19.—William Edward Hickman paid his legal debt to the state of California here today when he was hanged for the murder of 12-year-old Marian Parker, Los Angeles school girl, last December.

Hickman was hanged at 10:10 a.m., and 15 minutes later was pronounced dead. The youth's neck was not broken as is usually the case; he was strangled to death.

Marching with steady step the 30 steps or more from the condemned cell to the gallows and up the 13 steps of the scaffold to the trap, he smiled faintly as the noose was adjusted around his neck, and with palms upraised together whispered a hurried prayer.

As the black cap was placed over his head, the prison chaplain, Rev. William A. Fleming, read the litany of the dead.

Warden James B. Holohan waved his arm and three convicts, enclosed within a box-like superstructure over the scaffold, cut the ropes, one of which released the trap. Hickman's body shot through the open space like a plummet.

Of the crowd that saw the execution, approximately 50 were newspaper men. Two of the witnesses fainted.

Newspapers attempting to publish such speeches would be punished.

MANASOO CREW IS ABSOLVED BLAME

Coroner's Jury, However, Recommends Changes in Shipping Regulations

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 19.—Following two hours of deliberation, the coroner's jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Dugald McLean, fireman of the ill-fated steamer, Manasoo, which floundered in Georgian Bay, brought a verdict exonerating the officers of the ship from all blame.

In their verdict the jury made the following recommendations:

1—All freight and passenger boats be tested as to equilibrium under all conditions of loading, this information to be given owner and operators.

2—That life boat drill be enforced.

3—That a proper number of life saving stations be established at stragetic points on Canadian shores.

4—That all passenger and freight boats be compelled to carry automatic flares which will operate in case of sinking or extreme danger.

5—That all boats carrying passengers be equipped with wireless equipment.

The lake freight and passenger steamer, Manasoo, foundered suddenly during a gale in Georgian Bay early on the morning of September 15. The steamer was on her last trip of the season and had cleared from Manotoulin Island with a load of cattle penned on deck. Sixteen members of the crew were drowned.

Five persons, four members of the crew and one passenger were rescued from a raft more than 50 hours after the disaster.

LUNENBURG FISHING SEASON GOOD

LUNENBURG, N.S., Oct. 19.—The past season was one of the most successful in the history of Lunenburg fishing fleet. The total catch for three trips was 225,875 quintals valued at $2,000,000. The 1927 catch, while larger, was worth only three-quarters of this sum, due to the lower prices prevailing at that time.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A $12,000 payroll was stolen today by two armed bandits who held up Onias Humphrey, an official of the Watson Elevator company.

SEEK NEW TRIAL FOR PAMPHLET

Base Appeal on Ruling of U. S. Court; Ask Premier to Take Action

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—An attempt was launched here today to obtain a new trial for Captain Robert Pamphlet on the basis of the recent ruling of the United States circuit court of appeals that "a liquor laden ship, even within the three-mile limit, can not be seized unless there is evidence that an attempt is being made at the time to land the contraband cargo."

Captain Pamphlet, who commanded the schooner Pescawha, is serving a two-year sentence for violating the liquor laws of the United States. The new move was started here by the Canadian Merchants' Guild, Inc., a body having 900 masters and deck officers trading out of British Columbia, as its members. They have mailed a 500-word letter to Premier Mackenzie King calling attention to the recent court ruling and asking him to act through the proper channels in order to gain a new trial for Captain Pamphlet.

Captain Pamphlet and his vessel were captured when he came within the three-mile limit to rescue the captain and nine men of the American steamer Caoba.

The Merchant Service Guild letter argues that under the late ruling of the circuit court there was really no case against Captain Pamphlet.

Forke Believes B. C. Should Have Rail Representative

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Hon. Robert Forke, minister of imigration, told a delegation from the Vancouver board of trade today that he favored a western man for the vacancy on the board of railway commissioners and suggested it might be a good idea if British Columbia and Alberta got together and agreed on a man from this province.

Mr. Forke was asked for his opinion on a suggestion that in the event of the claims of one of the prairie provinces being found too strong, a place should be created for British Columbia representation. He replied:

"That might be a very good alternative. I shall certainly pass that idea along."

BRITISH FLYER UNHEARD FROM SINCE STARTED

Macdonald Believed Another Victim of Atlantic; Was Seen Only Once

WIFE REFUSES GIVE UP HOPE OF SAFETY

Canadian Flying Officer Recalls Stunt Pulled by Macdonald, Africa

LONDON, Oct. 19.—More than two days have passed since Lieut-Commander H. C. Macdonald, gallant naval officer, started on his long and perilious flight from Newfoundland for England, and still no news has come except an early report from the steamer Hardenburg, which yesterday located him about 700 miles east of St. John's.

Hope now has almost vanished, but the aviator's young wife and some of his friends, looking back to the providential rescue by a vessel in mid ocean of Harry Hawker, some years ago, refuse to give up. They are trusting that he has been rescued by some happy chance by a vessel which has been unable to communicate with its good news. Had Macdonald succeeded in landing anywhere, however remote, in the United Kingdom or Ireland, it is hard to conceive that he would not by this time have been heard from.

Reports of his flight must have reached the out-of-way places and everywhere, particularly in Ireland and Scotland, a sharp lookout has been kept.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

If, as it is beginning to be feared, another tragedy must be added to the history of transocean flights, there will be doubtless a renewal of the press discussions on the possibility of preventing such attempts without the most ordinary precautions for the avoidance of disaster. The general sense of the press, however, is that authority cannot properly step in to prevent risks inevitably attendant upon such development in science.

HIS STUNT WORKED

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—The courage and rapidity acquired flying skill of Lieut-Commander H. C. Macdonald, who unfortunately appears to have been added to the long list of those lost in attempts to conquor the Atlantc by air, was recalled here tonight by a close acquaintance of the intrepid British flier.

Flying Officer E. Dane Dawson, royal Canadian air force, who knew "Mac" in his early aerial days, told of an aerobatic exhibition which the new missing aviator put on in Africa before an Arab tribe and which probably saved his life.

"Mac" was captured by the tribe when he was forced down on an attempted flight from the old country to China. Officer Dawson related. Despite the fact that he had only 10 hours of solo flying experience before he started on that long hop, Macdonald staged the flying stunt show. That plan had been decided upon for just such an emergency prior to Macdonald's departure.

The flier crashed his plane during the exhibtion but the tribesmen were so awe-struck and delighted with the peculiar skill of their white prisoner hat they allowed him his freedom.

Bowser Asked Enter Federal Race, Victoria

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 19.—Only his reluctance to enter the field of federal politics can prevent W. J. Bowser, former provincial premier and Conservative leader, from being the Tory candidate in the federal byelection on December 6, it is stated by prominent party men here.

Mr. Bowser has given no encouragement to the many friends who have for weeks been urging him to take on the fight. It is now stated that he has his eye on another game; that, in fact, he has by no means given up the idea of returning to the provincial field at the first opportunity.

Such an opportunity may not be very far off. But in government circles it is stated there is a small chance of an opening for him in provincial ranks.

PROPERTY BOUGHT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Half a million dollars cash has been paid by William Dick for 75 feet on Granville street, adjoining the northwest corner at the intersection of Georgia, he announced today.

Goitre Not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. B 100, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Nomination Day in Newfoundland; Election Shortly

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 19.—Today was nomination day in Newfoundland and while Yull reports had not been received tonight, it was understood that government and opposition candidates had been nominated in each district to contest the general elections on October 29, when 40 representatives will be returned instead of 36, as formerly.

Former Premier W. S. Munro is contesting Bonavista as a government candidate.

With the good will of the United Newfoundland party, T. Ashbourne, Independent, is running against K. Brown, opposition, in Twillingate. There is a three-cornered contest in St. George's between T. Power, government; J. Downet, opposition, and W. Gillis, Independent.

The election campaign has been keen. In his manifesto, Hon. Mr. Allardyce stated his one issue was a moral one to prevent the return to office of Sir Richard Squires and others involved in the 1924 inquiry which found irregularities in the government of Sir Richard. The standing in the last house was: Government, 19; opposition, 17.

United Church at Fernie Has 'Home Week' Celebration

FERNIE, B.C., Oct. 19.—The United church of Fernie featured a home week in its services this week. Sunday evening over 100 were assembled when Mr. Shuttleworth began his recital, a feature of the Sunday evening services during October.

The pastor, Rev. E. L. Best, preached on the "'Old Home Church," recalling the old days when church was a social center and families attended en masse, each occupying its own family pew.

A lovely anthem, "Consider the Lilies of the Field," was rendered by the choir.

Miss Isabel Dicken favored with a solo, being accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Broley.

On Wednesday evening a congregational rally was held in the basement of the church.

HOLD RALLY

A program and community singing was the first order of the evening, during which the choir sang various medleys, the male voices singing one song while the women sang another. Miss Anderson and Mrs. Osborne sang a duet.

Old-fashioned games were engaged in. One game which was productive of great hilarity involved everybody calling everybody else by the nickname of their school days. Mrs. Osborne carried off the prize for this.

The Young People's club sang as a chorus "The Church in the Wildwood."

There was not a dull moment throughout the evening, which closed with the serving of delicious refreshments by the Ladies aid, headed by Mrs. Moses. About 150 were present.

McDONALD GETS JUDGMENT SUIT AGAINST HALL

Payment Printing Equipment Will Be Based on Ratio of Equipment

Judgment for the plaintiff was given by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in the suit of S. J. McDonald xersus Elmer D. Hall and others for an accounting and for return of money distributed by the Trail Printing & Publishing company to shareholders, in the concluding action of the civil assizes yesterday. Starting in mid-afternoon, the suit continued until 10 o'clock last night, with an adjournment of an hour and a half for dinner.

Archie Donaghy was Mr. McDonald's counsel, and Donald MacDonald of Trail acted for the defendants.

BASIS PAYMENT

His lordship ordered that the actual physical assets of the Trail Printing & Publishing company at the time of sale of these assets should be computed, and that the value of the printing equipment supplied by Mr. McDonald should also be valued. The ratio of the value of Mr. McDonald's equipment to that of the company equipment will be the basis on which $29,512.02, now held by Mr. Hall, will be shared between the plaintiff and defendant. Payment of $1000 has already been made to Mr. McDonald.

Mr. McDonald testified that he agreed to transfer his plant, consisting of a linotype and job printing equipment, to the Trail Printing & Publishing company for 322 shares of the company. The shares had a par value of $10. At the time this arrangement was made the Trail company was capitalized at $10,000. Mr. Hall held 998 of the 1000 shares, and Mr. McDonald's came out of these.

The capitalization was then increased to $75,000, and Mr. Hall obtained $65,000 worth of the new shares, which also had a par value of $10. The Trail company then sold out for $37,500. Mr. Hall paid Mr. McDonald $1000.

CLAIMS LIABILITIES

Mr. Hall testified that he paid $1000 to Mr. McDonald and was prepared to pay more. He was not prepared to pay all that Mr. McDonald asked. He cited various liabilities which he claimed should be deducted from Mr. McDonald's share of the selling price.

Mr. Hall admitted that the allotment to himself of 6500 shares under the new capitalization was not recorded in the minute book of the company, but he claimed this record had been lost. He also admitted that no report was made to the registrar of joint stock companies as to the distribution of the new stock.

C. R. Walker was the third and last witness called. His testimony attacked the credibility of Mr. McDonald.

MAYOR EXTENDS WELCOME; HEAR MANY SPEAKERS

covered the work, in preference to selecting five to seven questions with which an efficient pupil might be lucky or which the efficient pupil might have missed.

As to the passing mark, he said it was unfair to say the pupil must make a certain percentage to pass. While in the mass, the children were constant, the teachers constant, and the curriculum constant, the examination, because of the limits of the paper under present practice, was highly variable.

On certain subjects, by woking out a large number of questions, eventually useful standard tests could be arrived at.

The danger in the objective type of examination was that the ability of expression by the essay would deteriorate. If that was its effect, that was sufficient to impair its value most seriously (applause).

INSPECTOR HEARD

Inspector T. R. Hall of Kelowna also drew applause with his address on "Some Essentials of the Teaching Process."

In his six years of moving about the Okanagan inspectorate observing and advising teachers, Mr. Hall said he had seen some strengths and some weaknesses emerge.

One of the great lacks in the case of many teachers was as to definiteness of aim. In every lesson the teacher should have a specific aim, and should plan whether the method predominating should be study, drill or appreciation. In lessons emphasizing the study priniciple, a problem should be presented, one arising out of the work, the data with which the pupils were to work should be brought out, and finally the solution arrived at.

In the old times the principle of appreciation was hardly recognized at all, he said, but now was of great value to the earnest teacher. He suggested becoming familiar with this principle through reading Hayward and Thomas. Social appreciation particularly should be taught—the conduct that the pupil should manifest toward others and toward his group.

VARYING WORK

Mr. Hall said it might sound reactionary, but he held that drill as a method of teaching was not used enough. Drill was largely held unnecessary by that school that had grown up contending that school must be pleasant and that initiative and pupil activity must be developed. While demanding more drill, the Okanagan inspector said it could be used to good effect or to poor effect. Effective drill required, first, that the child must realize the need of this knowledge; second, the child's attention, and third, repetition. An effective way of getting attention was to vary the work, dividing it into two parts, or arousing emulation, such as pitting boys against girls, or one row against another.

In teaching spelling, giving the correct forms should precede holding the tests as to knowledge. In number work, he advised drill on the combinations found by practice to be difficult.

On the child's side, his interest should be aroused as the first step, he should be made to exercise his knowledge, and he should derive satisfaction, which he and the teacher should share. If the teacher secured these three effects in the pupils, 90 per cent of the taching problems would be soived.

There was too much formula in much of the teaching, said Mr. Hall. Instead of laying bricks and mortar, like a bricklayer, the teacher should have the spirit of the architect, having in mind a finished picture, toward which many parts and processes contributed.

He urged more extensive reading by teachers, and that every teacher should by plan acquire a certain number of books every year on taching subjects.

Another means of broadening and of improving technique was by attendance at the summer schools.

He cautioned against riding hobbies, such as the project method, socialization and dramatization and others, and applying them to everything.

The teacher of today, he said, was too teacher-centered. Activity of the pupil should be more the object and method.

Chairman Boyer suggested that teachers attending the Victoria summer school be given a one-way ticket by the education authorities.

INSTITUTE HEARS REPORTS; GIRLS LIKED COAST

Mrs. Crossley Reports on Creston Conference; Mrs. Thorpe Demonstration

A report on the annual conference of the women's institute held this year at Creston read by Mrs. H. B. Crossley; reports on the judging contest of domestic science read by Miss Frances Wheeler and Miss Annie Kerr, who were sent to the coast to represent the Kootenays at the Vaucouver exhibition in August; an interesting lecture on character reading from handwriting by Mrs. E. Thorpe, among other things featured the monthly meeting of the Nelson district institute yesterday. It was presided over by Mrs. H. H. Pitts, president, who has just returned from a tour of all the institutes in the section. After Mrs. Pitts opened the meeting the minutes were read and a vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Pitts for a donation of $50 from her salary.

Mrs. H. B. Crossely impressed upon the members that Nelson was looked upon by the other branches of the institute as their mother, and that the Nelson rest room was a great help to out-of-town members.

The president impressed upon the meeting that the women's institute was a nondenominational sisterhood and urged the bringing in of more members.

Mrs. E. Thorpe gave an extremely interesting lecture on character reading from handwriting, pointing out how one can see a person's character from his handwriting. Mrs. Thorpe demonstrated by the signatures of some of the nation's great men and women.

That their treatment while in Vancouver was excellent and that they enjoyed every minute while there was the essence of the report by the young girl judges. Aboupt 60 members were in attendance.

Attempting Beat Truck at Crossing and Speeding Brings Fines Trail Court

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 19.—The city coffers were enriched by $40 in fines and $5 costs yesterday when Evald Berg and Arthur Wilkinson were arraigned before Police Magistrate Noble Binns on charges of having driven to the common danger.

On Saturday last, acording to the evidence, Berg attempted to beat a transfer truck across the intersection of Pine avenue and Victoria street. He didn't do it. His failure has its climax in a fine of $20 and costs.

Wilkinson was found guilty of having driven his motorcycle at too great a speed along Rossland avenue. Constable McMullen adduced that Wilkinson was making 45 miles per hour along that thoroughfare. Evidence showed that it took the accused 60 yards in which to stop his vehicle after he had been warned to stop by the police. He, too, was assessed $20 and costs.

KIMBERLEY NOTES

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Oct. 19.—Miss Gladys Crueston was the guest of honor at a tea held at the home of Mrs. George James Wednesday afternoon. During the afternoon occasion was taken to present Miss Crueston with some lovely gifts in honor of her approaching marriage to W. Carter of Chapman Camp, which is to take place shortly. The decorative colors of the afternoon were pink and green, colors of the Rebekah lodge, of which the bride is a valuable member.

W. Emsley, who has been relieving in the Bank of Commerce for the past two weeks, left Thursday for a short visit to his home at Trail, en route to Kamloops, to which point he has been transferred.

Worried over his studies, 16-year-old Clifford Ogg, Plainview, Neb., committed suicide by shooting.

ASPIRIN

The whole world knows Aspirin as an effective antidote for pain. But it's just as important to know that there is only one genuine Aspirin. The name Bayer is on every tablet, and on the box. If the name Bayer appears, it's genuine; and if it doesn't, it is not! Headaches are dispelled by Aspirin. So are colds, and the pain that goes with them; even neuralgia, neuritis, and rheumatism promptly relieved. Get Aspirin—at any drugstore—with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Aspirin;- it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trademark.

From Manchester to the Woolsack; From Secretary for India to Newspaper Directorship

Perhaps it is not so far, after all, from the days in Manchester when F. E. "Galloping" Smith, K.C., beat Winston Churchill.

A man who could make in the British house of commons a maiden speech which won the enthusiastic encomiums of the oldest parliamentarian and at the same time created a sensation in the country, and then have the self-control and wisdom to refrain from making any more speeches for months, was bound to go far.

Usually the maker of a brilliant maiden speech gets the desire for more applause into his blood to such an extent that he can't keep off his feet. But not F. E. Smith. With a wisdom almost uncanny, he never spoiled the effect of that first great effort. He merely sat and listened until other opportunities occurred; then he appeared as one of themselves among the older debaters.

"F. E." climbed rapidly when his friends got into power. Several cabinet portfolios, then the lord chancellorship and the house of lords.

Now he resigns the secretaryship of state for India to become a director of a great string of newspapers.

Like many another man in Great Britain—a notable recent example was the Earl of Oxford— Lord Birkenhead has found that a quarter of a century of public life, rich as it may be in service to the public, is uncomcotrably lean in monetary reward to the statesman.

The Collection of Provincial Tax Arrears

W. C. Shelly, the provincial minister of finance, has been talking about the collection of taxes in an address he gave to Conservatives in Vancouver. He says he is surprised to learn that hundreds of persons in British Columbia are in arrears, some for many years, in their payments to the treasury. This condition, he says very rightly, is unfair to those who have paid their indebtedness. As minister of finance, he is going to insist on the payment of those arrears, following out in fearless fashion the policy of collection.

There are two sides to this question of the collection of provincial taxes, says the Victoria Colonist, just as there are two sides to taxation in the municipal field. Once taxes are levied any government is fully justified in doing whatever lies within its power to enforce collection. What should be remembered, however, is that both provincial and municipal taxation in British Columbia has been too onerous and wherever that happens there will always be a pertentage of the taxpayers who are unable to pay. The fact is illustrated in municipal taxation, where in many cities less than 90 per cent of the imposts levied is collected. It will continue to be illustrated just the same in the field of provincial taxation until such time as taxes are fair and equitable. Nevertheless, while the Colonist's point is well taken, those who can pay arrears should be compelled to do so. Otherwise it would be grossly unfair to those who have already paid.

Have you ever noticed that the happy housekeeper is she who takes life calmly—who refuses to get excited over upsets—who smiles her way through her day.

I have been studying my friends, lately and have noticed this the women who seem to get the most out of home making are those who don't cross bridges before coming to them and also those who, when they do come to unpleasant bridges, attempt to cross them with hope in their hearts.

For instance, I know of one young mother housekeeper who heard a report that a family with a most objectionable little boy was about to move into the vacant house next to hers; naturally this mother was alarmed at first thought: the notoriously naughty boy would play with her boy—would teach him things he should not know! Then she simply put the problem from her mind and refused to worry about it, hoping that something would prevent the unwanted neighbors from coming, after all. But they came. They brought their unruly offspring—who promptly proceeded to make friends with my friend's little son. So the bridge had to be crossed, after all. Yet she crossed it bravely—determined to use constant vigilance in keeping her child from the contaminating influence. Finally, after several annoying weeks—through which she smiled and fought on!—the family next door decided that they did not like their new "rent" after all and having no lease, they packed up and left.

It is like that in many lives—if we will but keep up hope. Worry does no good. Let us refuse to see our bridges before we reach them. And if we finally must cross them—let us do so with hope and courage. Living fearfully casts a shadow upon our entire household. We housekeepers, especially, must wear a brave face, for the housewife is the foreman of the home. She is the leader in household life and management—and what kind of a leader does a worried or fearful person make?

I do wish that all housekeepers could at least try out the plan of pushing their worries behind them. They would not only get so much more work done, but they would keep themselves in better health and make their families happier.

That Body of Yours

What Work Can Do

One of the few good things that resulted from the war is what is called occupational therapy.

Men who held positions of responsibility before the war, found on their return that they couldn't hold down the old job.

They felt that it was just a little too much for them, and that they would be likely to break down if they continued at it.

And so the government arranged to teach them other work that would more nearly fit in with their physical and mental capacity.

From 30 to 50 per cent of patients discharged from sanitariums for tuberculosis with the disease in an "arrested state, suffer a relapse in a comparatively short time, according to Dr. B. E. Hedding. In order to give these patients a chance to get strong, and to be able to adjust themselves to the world again, Wisconsn established a camp for men where sanitorium treatment was combined with the definite object of preparing the patients for productive work.

Under carefully guarded conditions, these men cut wood, built roads, plow fields, plant and harvest crops, clear stumps from land, until they are able to do a full day's work under ordinary industrial conditions.

After nine years of this experience it was found that two-thirds of all patients were sent out with their working ability restored.

Now there are two points about this. By working daily in the outdoors under sanitarium conditions, as to food, air, rest, aside from the exercise the patient became physically much stronger and able to do a "man's" work.

And also the very knowledge that he was becoming stronger physically, his old self, and that he was able to take his place in the world again, gave him that confidence in himself that is an essential part of a man's makeup, if he is to be able to take his place among his fellow men.

This same outdoor physical work is now a big factor in getting overworked business men, with mental ailments, back to normal.

And it has cured a good percentage of inmates of hospitals for the insane.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Last third of October is expected to average better than usual crop weather, furnishing favorable weather for finishing late northern harvest, general farm work, and an open period to give a good start to fall sown grains. Temperatures of ths period will average above normal and, excepting the last three days of the month, precipitation will average below normal. A storm wave of mild intensity of force will cross continent during week centering on 23, but will be of little importance other than to cause better than normal crop weather. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 30 will be of very severe intensity, the most severe of month, and will cause heavy general precipitation, unusually warm period and severe storms over the continent in general. While this period will not be pleasant, it will be of great value, as it will furnish the principal subsoil moisture for the coming winter; areas that do not get the moisture of this period will fare badly as to winter grains. Period of above normal temperatures that will accompany storm wave centering on 30 will continue several days into November and make a period generally known as an Indian summer.

Crop weather forecasts of general November features will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases of the near future occur as follows: Full, October 28; last quarter, November 4; new, 12; first quarter, 20; full, 27; last quarter, December 4.

The most important economical problem that confronts the American public today is a system that will afford the farmer, agriculturist or whatever name that may be applied to the millions of men who produce something for us to eat and wear with a just return for their labors. In large areas of Russia and China today there are millions of people starving; drought, locusts, hail, army worms, early frosts and other plagues have made conditions that have reduced the productive possibilities of these areas far below what would be necessary to furnish the present population with necessary food. At the same time, North America has raised the largest crop of feed for her people and feed for her animals in history. Through the mechanism of the Canadian pools, Canada has marketed her huge crop of 1927 and part of her carry-over from 1926 at a profit to her farmers; the United States politicians are at the same time trying to boost prices of farm products to a level that would do credit to the party in power; all living standards of North America are far above those of any other country of the globe, yet our farm products sell far below the general average price of the same products in importing countries whose living standards are far below those of North America. This travesty is explained as necessary in order that North American products will be on an export basis. This system does not consider the cost of production of farm products, the actual value of farm products relative to world supply and demand; there is no doubt but that export hedging and professional trading causes greater fluctuations in prices of farm products than does supply and demand, but such price changes are only temporary, while those established by supply and demand rule and are steady. Prices of American farm products should not be made in accordance with European conditions.

Know Her?

You ought to know this lovely New York City girl because her blonde beauty has been displayed on so many magazine covers. She's Marion Dahl, 35 Clarkson St., Brooklyn. Artists say she's a "type!" They fairly rave over her delicate flesh tints and the golden glory of her hair!

Miss Dahl says: "Everyone I know, tells me how wonderful my hair looks, nowadays. I don't feel like it's a personal compliment, however; I take it more as a compliment to the method I'm using to care for it. It's the rage among girls here in New York. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it. My hair was wiry and hard to keep in place, but Danderine makes it soft and easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours! My scalp fairly tingles with vigor after I use it, and it keeps my head so clean I don't need to shampoo half so often. It brings out the color of my hair marvelously, making it fairly glisten!"

Every application of Danderine tones and refreshes your scalp. It removes the oily film from each strand and makes dull, stringy hair gleamy, soft and easily manageable. It dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. It isn't sticky or oily. It doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drug store.

Big Game

By VIDA HURST

Rosalie was dead. Of the three shots fired the last had been the most effective.

Joshua Darien, unconscious and severely wounded, was removed to a hospital, from which Mona returned at dawn with hope of his recovery, although the outcome would remain uncertain for a few days.

As she re-entered the house, silent witness of the tragedy, she was thinking how impossible it was to continue living in it.

With or without her father! His first conscious question would be "Who let her in?" Then Annie would be dismissed. Annie, the one human being who had shown Mona any really unselfish devotion.

"We won't tell him," Mona decided, and called the weeping Annie to her room to warn her.

But Annie sobbed that she had already confessed to Ellen. In which case the truth would prevail. Ellen's rockbound honesty would permit no glazing of facts.

Mona knew if Joshua Darien lived Annie would have to go and her life would be utterly barren of affection. Without Annie, without Mabel, Johnnie or Bruce.

Without even Ruth, because since Mabel's death a coldness was creeping between them.

The old intimacy was a thing of the past.

Their memories of the friendship would remain intact but without Mabel they seemed to have little in common. Was it because of their unspoken rivalry over Bruce?

Signing Mona thought, "At any rate that will soon be over."

Before another week had passed Bruce would have gone away.

She slept exhausted until noon. Returning to the hospital to be told that her father was conscious but it would be better for her not to see him. Wearily, she came home to find that everyone she knew had left a telephone number. She could not call them all but she did telephone Ruth receiving her half-hearted invitation to "come there for a few days"

"You have enough to do," Mona replied, decisively, "I'm used to being alone."

Ruth said, "Well, Mona, we have plenty of room. Mother told me to ask you."

When Johnnie telephoned her not to worry over her decision, she was honestly bewildered. What was Johnnie talking about? Then she remembered this was the day she was to have given him his ultimate dismissal. . . .

Sheer lack of spirit kept her from doing so now. Anyway it would have been unkind to refuse Johnnie's proposal over the telephone. Mona could not be unkind.

She promised to let him know when she could see him.

That night she sat in the living room as she had done so many other times, but now the grimness of it was intensified by the recent tragedy. Rosalie had stood near the door leading into the hall.

A small burn on the rug marked the place her smoking pistol had fallen. Mona shruddered, unable to blot out the memory of the girl's drug-maddened eyes.

Even Teddy refused to talk, but crouched, glum and silent, on his perch.

The silence, the emptiness, the ghost-ridden corners, became a menace. Mona rose from her chair to pace the floor.

Ceased her pacing to gaze, fearfully, over one shoulder.

Had determined for the first time in her life to admit defeat and fly to the servants' quarters, when the door bell pealed, violently. . . .

Afterward she turned cold, recalling her hesitation in answering. It was after 10 and Annie and Ellen were in bed.

Would Bruce have returned if she had not opened the door that night? When she opened it and saw him standing there she was unable to speak.

"You're alone," he said, pityingly. "I was afraid you would be"

As if in a dream she watched him come inside. So many times she had pictured it thus. Expected him, prayed for him, but he had not come. And now, tonight, when she had ceased hoping. . . .

He asked, gravely, "Would you rather not see me?"

That roused her.

"I'm awfully glad to see you," she said.

He followed her into the living room which became a different place.

As if secret lights had lifted the somber shades to brightness. But the months of suppressed longing had left their mark on Mona.

It was with only a hint of her former spirit that she cried, "Sit down, Bruce. Don't you want to smoke?"

He lighted a cigarette and said formally, that he had heard about the accident and wondered if there was anything he could do.

"Nothing, thank you. But it was good of you to come."

He had not missed that furtive glance about the room, and he asked, "You were frightened, weren't you? Why don't you ask one of the maids to sleep on the second floor while your father is in the hospital?"

"Oh", she cried, "I'm not a coward. I'm not afraid of being alone."

"What are you afraid of then?"

With his question every pretense was pushed aside.

"Mona," he said, "you've changed! I was astonished when I saw you yesterday."

Mona said nothing.

"All winter I've pictured you as having a gay time in New York. Dan McIntyre told me—"

"Dan would!"

"He said he had spent the holidays with you and that you had had a wonderful time. That was true, wasn't it?"

"Yes," she admitted, "that's true. But Bruce—"

He interrupted, "You've been seen with him almost constantly since your return."

"Who told you that?" she demanded, amazed that he sould attempt to put the reason for their separation on her.

"I've heard it from different sources," Bruce replied, coldly. "What is there left for me to believe? Remembering how much he has meant to you an other occasions!"

"But, Bruce, Darling, Billy Bruce. ." parted her real self was speaking.

For the first time since they had Pouring out a torrent or incoherent excuses.

"I thought you didn't love me any more. I thought you were blaming me."

"I blamed myself," he admitted. "At first. I coulant discuss it. But I've never held anything against you, Mona."

"Yet you made no attempt to see me. You would have gone back to Chicago without telling me."

"Because I don't trust you, I know how you react when you are hurt and angry and every indication pointed to your usual course when you went to New York.

"I promised. . ."

"Promises are often broken," he reminded her. "There is a softness about you. A lack of resistance. . . ."

"It's because I've been too generous with you," she cried hurt.

"No, it's more than that. And it makes me afraid. Because I warn you I shall never share the girl I love with any one."

What will You do when Your— Children Cry for Castoria

THERE is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of this soothing preparation. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and Baby is comfortable. A few moments, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. Yet this is a vegetable product; a remedy meant for youngsters. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless.

September... Greatest Month in all Chrysler History

—Spectacular New Record for Chrysler Sales

PUBLIC demand for Chrysler products, after creating new sales records month after month, reached a most significant and spectacular climax in September.

Usually a month when automotive production declines, September for the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited, was not only the month of largest production throughout 1928, but the largest also throughout the entire history of Chrysler.

The demand for new Chrysler and Plymouth models, in fact, exceeded everything in Chrysler experience and requires even more than the vastly increased facilities of the Windsor plant to cope with the flood-tide of orders.

Chrysler is gratified by such an overwhelming expression of public confidence—and appreciative of the opportunity it offers to extend production facilities still further in order to satisfy the demand which is ever widening.

In the months and years to come, Chrysler is firmly resolved to continue true to the Chrysler ideals of leadership—in pioneering the new and important improvements in motor car design; in developing new ways of progress in scientific engineering and precision manufacture; in discovering new methods of raising quality and thereby constantly increasing the purchasing power of the automobile dollar. 100

AULINO KAYOES MAN AND THEN COMMITS FOUL

ses to Peterson When He Hits Big Boy Unconscious On Ropes

EBBET'S FIELD, BROOKLYN, Oct. —Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyght, fighting his first match of a American invasion, lost to Big Peterson of Minneapolis, on a in the second round of a 10-nd bout before a rain-sprinkled wd of 5000 here tonight. Uzcudun was disqualified for hitting mid-westerner while Peterson lay unconscious, his head hung over the middle rope.

Peterson after holding the Basque even in the first round, collided with Paulino's burly left hook to the head in the second and went down for a count of nine. As he staggered to his feet, almost helpless the Spaniard swarmed all over him with crushing short arm jolts to the head and body.

Peterson reeled into his own corner under the barrage and collapsed as Paulino nailed him cleanly with both hands to the head.

The mid-westerner went down and out, but Paulino in his anxiety, applied one punch more that was unnecessary. He hit Peterson, slipping past Referee Magnolio's guard to do so, and was promptly disqualified and the victory awarded to the unconscious battler.

Paulino weighted 199½, Peterson 201.

WEST KOOTENAY LEAGUE RUGBY HERE TOMORROW

Trail and Nelson Squads to Clash in Second Game of Series

Trail and Nelson Canadian rugby teams will battle in the second game of the West Kootenay league at the Recreation grounds here tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Trail won the first game at the smelter city last Sunday by a score of 19 to 1, after leading only 5 to 0 at half time.

L. Piper of Trail who refereed the first game, at the request of the Nelson team, consented to handle tomorrow's game. The Nelson squad paid tribute to the manner in which Mr. Piper handled the game at Trail and immediately after the game began negotiations to have him referee the second game her.

PRACTICING HARD

Both teams have been practicing hard all week, the Nelson boys with a determination to stop the Trail team this week and gain an equal footing with their opponents in the league standing, and the Trail boys to take the second game and materially increase their chance of coming out on top of the four-game series which will decide the championship for 1928.

Although they were beaten last week, the Queen City squad claims the defeat was not as decisive as the score indicated. Three clever and speedy runs, two by the fleet "Windy" Williams, accounted for three touchdowns and 15 points. It is claimed "Windy" will be watched more closely tomorrow.

THE TEAM

Famous Author's Tribute to Pelmanism

HOW THE PELMAN COURSE WILL HELP YOU

Everywhere Pelmanism is winning popularity and enabling men and women to achieve "better results."

All over the world people of every type and occupation are increasing their efficiency and consequently their earning power by this means, and are training their minds and developing their intellectual and business powers with the aid of the wonderful "Little Grey Books" issued by the Pelman Institute.

HOW TO USE YOUR MENTAL FACULTIES

This excellent sign of the times promises well for the future, for, as that accomplished writer, the late Jerome K. Jerome, pointed out, Pelmanism should be the basis of all education:

"Every youngster," he wrote, "comes into this world provided with a fine box of tools necessary for his life's work. It is neatly packed, and nothing is missing. He carries it in his brain. It contains CONCENTRATION, OBSERVATION, IMAGINATION (the mother of enterprise), ORGANIZATION—quite a number of useful tools mostly ending in tion. And, above all, MEMORY.

"Properly employed, they will enable him to accomplish any task to which Fate may call him. But nobody shows him how to use them.

MAKING FULL USE OF THE BRAIN

"'Oh, that's all right,' we say, 'he'll find out in time.' So he does, with luck, toward the end of middle life, after years of bungling and despair. But by a little help in the beginning, by the help of Pelmanism, by showing him —how to employ and become deft in the use of his brain;

—how to observe truly and perceive rapidly;
—how to concentrate his attention and arrange his ideas;
—how to think and how to reason;
—above all, how wto remember

he might have been a useful member of society from the beginning.

"As it is, he has to trust to hearing about Pelmanism. I am more than willing to help in making it known to him. He ought to have been taught it when he was young. The sooner he takes it up the better for him and his country. It won't turn him into a genius. It won't put more brain into him than the Lord gave him. But—"It will enable him to make full use of the brain he has been given.

"Most of us at present are wasting it."

This book contains a full description of the New Pelmanism and tells you what some of the most eminent men and women of the day think about scientific mind-training and its use in everyday life.

WHAT OTHER PROMINENT PEOPLE THINK OF PELMANISM

Jerome K. Jerome is only one of innumerable men and women of prominence who have advocated Pelmanism for everyone. Among them are renowned writers, statesmen of world-wide reputation, military and naval officers of the highest rank, leaders of finance and industry whose names are known all over the world. No movement of modern times has received such endorsement from men and women of the highest intelligence and distinction.

Here are some typical comments:

Judge Ben B. Lindsey, the famous founder of the Juvenile Court of Denver, has written several articles on Pelmanism. In one of them he said:

"As a matter of fact, Pelmanism ought to be the beginning of education instead of a remedy for its faults. First of all, it makes the student discover himself; it acquaints him with his sleeping powers and shows him how to develop them. The method is exercise, not of the haphazzard sort, but a steady, increasing kind that brings each hidden power to full strength without strain or break."

H. Rider Haggard, the famous novelist, one of the most ardent Pelmanists, said: "Pelmanism can and does improve the mental capacities of great numbers of men and women in all classes. I recommend it to those who really wish to learn and to become what men and women ought to be."

Lieut.-General Baden Powell, organizer of the Boy Scout movement, is another enthusiastic Pelmanist. "The Pelman System," he writes, "appeals to me because it deals with the individual and because it offers him in a practical form the cardinal steps to the development and strengthening of mental character, which is the foundation of success in any line of life."

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, known the world over as "Tay Pay", so long a member of the British Parliament that he is now "the father of the House of Commons," and for years a force in the world through his brilliant articles and equally brilliant speeches, says:

"Of two young men in business, one takes the Pelman Course and the other does not. Other things being equal, the young man who takes the Pelman Course will quickly pass the one who has not availed himself of this advantage in the race of life.

"Not one person in a thousand who takes this course but will find it a distinct benefit, as many thousands have done before him.

"The Pelman System is not only unique in itself, but deserves well of the country and of the world."

Other famous men and women who have advocated Pelmanism are of such diverse types as Harry Lauder, the well-known comedian; Prince Charles of Sweden; Admiral Lord Beresford, England's renowned old sea-dog; Sir Frederick Maurice, director of military operations for the British General Staff during the war; W. L. George, the famous novelist; Granville Barker, the theatrical manager and actor; Gen. Sir O'Moore Creagh, V.C., G.C.B., G.C.S.I., and others too numerous even to mention.

But in every field of human endeavor you will find men and women "at the top" who endorse and advocate the scientific mind-training methods of Pelmanism.

APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

Pelmanism is a system of practical Psychology which develops the Reverse Forces which exist in every mind.

A short course of Pelmanism swiftly and surely eradicates such mental defects and "handicaps" as:

Forgetfulness	Lack of ideas
Brain-Fag	Indecision
Inertia	Shyness
Weakness of Will	Lack of System
Mind-Wandering	Procrastination

which interfere with the effective working-power of the brain, and it develops in their place such valuable qualities as:

—Concentration	—Organizing Power
—Observation	—Directive Ability
—Perception	—Forcefulness
—Judgment	—Self-Confidence
—Initiative	—Self-Control
—Will Power	—Tact
—Decision	—Reliability
—Resourcefulness	—Salesmanship

and a Reliable Memory

Above all it develops Driving Force, Energy and a Mental Power—"Power that Endures."

Pelmanism is quite easy and simple to follow. It only takes up a few minutes daily. The books are printed in a handy "pocket size", so that you can study them in cars or in trains, or in odd moments during the day. Even the busiest man or women can spare a few minutes daily for Pelmanism, especially when minutes so spent bring in such rich rewards.

STOCKS AGAIN WHIRL UPWARD

Orders So Heavy Ticker Is 56 Minutes Late; Nickel Soars 23 to 190

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Speculation for the advance ran riot again in today's stock market. At least a score of high priced stocks were whirled upward 5 to 23 to new high records, but meanwhile heavy selling, some of it representing week-end profit taking forced substantial recessions in a long list of motors, tractions, farm implements and minor specialties.

Orders poured on to the floor in such gigantic volume that the ticker fell 56 minutes behind the market. Total sales were 4,686,300 shares.

The advance took place in the face of an increase of nearly $75,000,000 in brokers' loans. Call money renewed at 6½ per cent, the lowest since Monday.

International Nickel was the sensational feature soaring 23 points to a new high record at 190 and then easing to 184. Montgomery Ward ran up 19 points to a new high at 350 and closed a point below the top. Adams Express soared 22 to a new peak at 410 and retained all its gain. American Smelting retained all but a point of its 14 point rise to a new high at 260. Radio opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 220 and then ran up to a new top at 239, closing at 238 for a net gain of 20.

General Motors and Studebaker registered new peaks at 223⅞ and 87½, respectively, but the former lost all but a fraction of its gain and the latter closed 2⅜ net lower at 83. Hudson fell back three points. Motor Products fell 8 points to 181½.

NICKELS LEAD TORONTO TRADE

Mond and International Rise; B. A. Oil Off; Hiram Walker Is Active

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—In its most spectacular rise of the past week, International Nickel soared to a peak of 189¼ at the local stock exchange today. It eased off slightly towards the close for a net advance of 19¼ at 186¼. Mond Nickel climbed to 42 and held the whole of its gain at the close, recording a net advance of 6¾ points.

B. A. Oil again responded to buying with a rise to 48¼, but realizing sales carried the oil leader to a low of 47¼ and last sales at 47¾ represented a net loss of ¼, after trading in 10,420 shares.

McColl at 33¼, and Foothills at $2.85, showed no change. Beason Oil rose fractionally to 23¼ on light trading.

Hiram Walker maintained its leadership of the beverage group recording a net advance of 1¼ to 71¼.

Brazilian experienced unusually heavy trading, but after an advance to 71¼ sold off to a low of 69¾ and closed at 69¼.

Massey Harris common closed at 51¼, a gain of half a point. Canners second preferred closed ¾ higher at 25. Canners common rose 1 to 22, while the first preferred at 19½ represented a net rise of ½ point.

GRAIN PRICES GO TO HIGHER LEVELS

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Sudden new upturns in corn prices today whisked all grain to a higher level, but last minute rushes to collect profits forced values to react.

Corn closed irregular, ⅞c net lower to ⅜c advance, with wheat at ¼c to ⅜c decline, oats unchanged to ⅛c off and provisions varying from 15c setback to a rise of 10c.

Reports Justify Increase in Prices

Excellent progress reports from the mines regarding summer development work have appreciably increased the value of British Columbia mining stocks during the last few weeks.

Mining authorities express the opinion that 1928 will be the greatest year in the history of the mining industry in British Columbia from a production standpoint.

We recommend Pend Oreille, Lucky Jim, Ruth-Hope, Whitewater, Noble Five, Topley-Richfield, Bluebird and Cork-Province.

We are of the opinion that the above stocks will show an appreciable increase over present prices before the end of the year.

HOLDING COMPANY TO ABSORB MOND; INTERNATIONAL

The Deal Will Be Completed Through an Exchange of Stocks

INVOLVES CASH TO MOND COMPANY

International Stock Holders to Receive Preferred Stock, Share For Share

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Canadian interests in the International Nickel company and Lord Melchett, chairman of the Mond Nickel company, have virtually reached an agreement to merge the two companies, according to reports current in usually well informed Wall street quarters. The plan provides for the creation of a holding company which will acquire both of the existing companes through an exchange of stock.

The terms of the deal which are said to have been accepted by the Canadian nterests, provide for cash payment to the Mond Nickel company of $7,500,000. In addition, preferred stockholders of the Mond company will receive $18,750,000 par value of cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock in exchange for the various outstandng issues of Mond preferred for the common stock of the holding company share for share.

SHARE FOR SHARE

The International Nickel company's stockholders will receive preferred stock on a share for share basis, it is expected, while the outstanding common will be exchanged for common stock of the holding company in the ratio of 4½ shares of the new stock for one share of old Nickel common.

Since Mond Nickel has outstanding approxmately 2,500,000 shares, the international Nickel stock will be increased 417,000 shares and then the entire common issue will be split six for one. The additional 417,000 shares after the split up, will take care of the Mond common issue and the remainder of the new stock will go from the holding company to the International Nickel common stockholders.

Certain American interests in International Nickel are understood to oppose the proposed deal. It is doubtful, however, that the oppostion will prove sufficiently strong to block the merger because of the large concentrated holdings of the Canadian interests who have approved the proposal.

NICKEL ISSUES HOLD INTEREST

International Jumps to $190; Mond Up $6.50; Noranda Is Unchanged

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—On the Standard Mining exchange Intenational Nickel was probably the chief interest, due to its jump to an extreme top of $190, and its close at $187, up $17 for the day. Mond Nickel had sales amounting to over 50,000 shares and scared to a new high of $41.75, with final sales at $41.50, up $6.50.

Hollinger moved up to $8.25 and McIntyre was 5c lower at $19.90. Malartic again broke to $1.04, but a rally to $1.10 was effected during the afternoon as compared with the previous close at $1.16. Newbec dropped to $40 and finished at 44c, off a cent.

Paymee Kinkland opened at 19c and moved up to 20c. Late in the session liquidation drove the price back to 12c, but a sharp recovery was staged later to 17c, a net loss of 2c. Tough Oakes also fell back to 13c, a drop of 5¼c.

Noranda moved within a narrower compass than usual but showed signs of accumulation from $48 to $48.75. Final dealings at $48.50 were unchanged from its previous close.

Sherritt-Gordon was 5s firmer at $6.60. San Antonio declined 6c to 22c, and Mandy Mines was 3c weaker at $1.60.

Pend Oreille failed to recover from its recently weak position and moved back 45c to $11.05. Big Missouri scored a further gain of 2½c to 59½c, and Kootenay Florence was 1¼c stronger at 20c. Premier was off 4c to $2.26.
