KOOTENAY MEN FIGHT FIRE SAVE HOMES

BIG FIRE AT LAFFERTY HOLDS UP K.V. TRAIN

Canadian Pacific Fighting It With 150 Men; Tank-Car From Nelson; Wires Down; Train Is Getting Through

Holding up for several hours the eastbound Kettle Valley train due at Nelson Thursday evening, a large forest fire of dimensions not accurately known here, in the mountain section around Fife and Lafferty, is being fought by the Canadian Pacific with crews estimated at Grand Forks to aggregate 150 men.

The fire broke out on Baker creek Wednesday night, and at 1 a.m. Thursday a special train was sent out from Nelson, taking the tank-car and crew. Men were gathered in Grand Forks by the forest branch on behalf of the C. P. R. during the afternoon 80 men were said to be on the fire. Advices from Grand Forks late Thursday night raised the number to 150, stating that practically every available man in Grand Forks was on the job. Both H. R. Younger, division engineer, and A. J. Ironside, assistant division superintendent, are at the fire.

WIRES DOWN

Starting from Baker creek, near Fife, the fire worked up the slopes, and circled the mountain, coming out to the railway line again this side of Lafferty. Fife and Lafferty are seven miles apart. Telegraph lines are down west of Farron, presumably through the fire, and information at the C. P. R. general offices here is consequently very meager. It is not known whether the track has actually been damaged at any point. A line crew left on a light engine late Thursday, to repair the telegraph line.

At 11 p.m. the Kettle Valley was posted to get in at 1 a.m.

THREE DROWN AT A RESORT

Youth Drowns With Sisters After Heroic Rescue Attempt

PORT STANLEY, Ont., July 27 (CP)—Swept into deep water by a strong undertow, three persons were drowned at this summer resort tonight, while several others were rescued.

The dead—Nora Shibert, 19, London township; Willa Shibert, 22, her sister; Norville Shoebottom, 21, their cousin.

Shoebottom was drowned after he had made heroic efforts to save the sisters. He had brought Nora nearly to shore when she told him she no longer needed assistance and to go to the help of Willa. Exhausted, the youth sank just as he reached the drowning girl, while Nora sank before others could rush to her aid.

The three were members of a picnic party from the 11th concession of London township.

The bodies were recovered within half an hour.

A younger sister of the two girls, Margaret, was also in the bathing party and was in difficulties for a time but was helped ashore by a group of young men from St. Thomas who were nearby.

ALBERTA LOSES DUTIES APPEAL

LONDON, July 27 (CP cable)—Ruling portions of the old Alberta succession duties act were ultra vires, the privy council today dismissed Alberta government's appeal from a decision of the Alberta court of appeal. The judgment meant the Alberta government loses duties of $60,000 it sought to levy on the estate of the late I. K. Kerr.

U.S. RELAXES REGULATION, GOLD EXPORT

Gold Ore and Gold Concentrates Can Be Sent Abroad

WASHINGTON, July 27—(AP)—Relaxing slightly after the stringent regulations against exporting gold from the United States, the treasury decided today gold ore and gold concentrates could be sent abroad.

Earlier, Attorney-General Cummings told newspapermen gold hoarders who refused to return their metal to the government in response to a presidential order, would be prosecuted within three weeks.

In answering questions from gold producers, the treasury agreed to the relaxation but held smelted and imperfectly refined gold could not be shipped abroad without violating the president's embargo order.

In an opinion submitted to the treasury Attorney-General Cummings defined as gold the metal which has been smelted or imperfectly refined. Gold concentrated is the result of crushing and washing gold ore.

EMPIRE MEET REAFFIRMS THE OTTAWA PACTS

See Need of Restoration of International Gold Standard

LONDON, July 27 (CP Cable)—Reaffirmation of the agreements reached at the imperial economic conference held last year at Ottawa and the need for the ultimate restoration of an international gold standard are set forth in an important declaration signed today by Empire delegates to the world economic conference at a meeting held after the conclusion of the international gathering.

The declaration points to the necessity of higher wholesale prices and recognizes the importance of stability of inter-Empire exchange rates in the interests of Empire trade.

WEEKS OF NEGOTIATIONS

Today's announcement marks the conclusion of weeks of negotiations conducted in the strictest secrecy—sometimes in private houses and sometimes in cabinet offices in Whitehall—and is signed by representatives of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India. No signature was spended on behalf of the Irish Free State whose representative referred the matter to his government.

The delegates declared they were satisfied the Ottawa agreements had already had beneficial effects on inter-Imperial trade and the benefits were likely to continue. They reaffirmed the necessity for lowering inter-Imperial barriers to facilitate Empire and world trade.

500 Men Fight Big Washington Fire

SEATTLE, July 27 (AP)—Forest fire raging in the Beckler river valley, northeastern King county, was being driven into green timber by a strong northwest wind.

On the ground 500 men, most of them young civilian conservation corps members, were battling the flames, smoke grimed and weary.

Meanwhile, upward of two score other smaller fires were reported over western Washington, in the season's first serious outbreak of fires.

Upheaval of Dollar Caused Adjournment

LONDON, July 27 (CP cable)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald tonight paid the adjournment of the world economic conference to "the great upheaval now going on in the United States to recover prosperity," which "has unsettled for the time being the value of the dollar."

The prime minister said no one was to blame. Uncontrollable conditions had arisen and "we might as well blame the Creator as the American government.

"I am sure agreement is possible," he continued, "but not in a hurry."

LEADERS SAY PARLEY WORK MUST GO ON

World Economic Conference Adjourns Indefinitely at London

ROOSEVELT SENDS SURPRISE MESSAGE

MacDonald Says Conference Must Meet When Committee States

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, July 27 (CP Cable).—The world economic conference adjourned indefinitely today with British and United States leaders joining in declarations the work must go on at the soonest opportune moment.

Five hours of speechmaking, in which some of the leading delegates frankly confessed very little progress had been made, were capped by the declarations of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, chairman of the conference, and President Franklin D. Roosevelt of United States that the ambitious international effort to solve the world's problems must not be allowed to lapse.

NOT CLOSING

Prime Minister MacDonald emphatically told the conference, in adjourning it to meet again if and when the steering committee decides the situation is more promising of results, the conference was merely taking a recess, it was not closing down. "I bid adieu in the firm conviction that before many months have passed I shall have the pleasure of offering you a welcome again," he said.

President Roosevelt, in a surprise message to Mr. MacDonald as conference chairman, declared "results are not always measured in terms of formal agreements. They can come equally from a free presentation of each nation's difficulties and each nation's methods to meet its individual needs." He pledged his country's continued efforts for world recovery.

20th Century Limited Beats Time 2 Minutes

ELKHART, Ind., July 27 (AP)—The Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes whipped through the breeze side by side today as a famous engineer, William Gilbertson of Carlisle, shoved the 20th Century Limited from Chicago into Elkhart two minutes ahead of time.

Gilbertson and J. Jackson, his stoker on the Royal Scot of the London-Edinburgh run, took over the cab of the New York Central train on the first leg of their homeward trip from the Century of Progress at Chicago. The engineer and his fireman brought the crack British passenger train to the world's fair.

The 101-mile run here was made in 105 minutes, including a four-minute stop on the south side of Chicago.

"The experience," said Gilbertson, as he crawled out of the cab, "was a delightful one."

YOUTH SAVES TEN-YEAR-OLD FROM SLOW DEATH IN RIVER QUICKSAND

MERRITT, June 27—Plunging into the swollen waters of the Nicola river about a mile from here, David Ovington, 15, swam across to where Lawrence Ogden, 10, was being slowly sucked into a bed of quicksand, and held onto him for over an hour, until the little fellow was rescued.

When Barney Ogden, the boy's father, reached the scene, the child was embedded up to the waist. Attempts to pull him out proving useless, they dug around him with their hands, the sand filling in as fast as they dug. When at last they pulled him out, so great was the suction that he was pulled clean out of his boots.

There is no doubt that were it not for the pluck and presence of mind of young Ovington, the child would have been gradually drawn down and smothered.

POISON DEATHS BAFFLE POLICE

Poverty Stricken Woman Leaves Over $40,000

NEW YORK, July 27—(AP)—Two strange deaths by poison baffled police today. The victims were Henry Jellinex, 50, wealthy owner of an automobile concern, and Lillian Fields, poverty stricken appearing woman who lived in a dingy cellar.

The man entered a restaurant, ordered two poppy seed rolls, and died before finishing them.

Whether he had poured poison inside of the rolls before eating part of one is unknown. The woman, known for her habit of going around and picking up scraps to eat, entered the restaurant just as Jellinex collapsed, saw the unfinished rolls, picked them up, started to eat them and died almost in her tracks.

Police found over $40,000 in cash in her $7 a month room besides other valuables.

MONCTON, N.B., July 27 (CP)—Fire which broke out in the village of Albert, 35 miles from Moncton, tonight wiped out 21 buildings and threatened the entire village before it was brought under control.

SNAKE BITE IS FATAL TO MAN

REDDING, Calif., July 27 (AP)—William Henry, 81, died today of a rattlesnake bite he received Thursday when he attempted to pull the rattler from its hole by the tail.

KING IS KEEPING TAB ON BENNETT

BY RAY BROWN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE ALBERT, July 27—(AP)—"When I was prime minister of Canada, Mr. Bennett spent a great deal of his time seeing that I kept to the straight and narrow path. Now that I am an opposition, I am trying to see that he does not wander too far afield."

This was the smiling explanation which Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King made at a board of trade banquet here today for his not having visited Prince Albert more frequently. Mr. King was guest of honor at a non-political dinner tendered him by the Prince Albert board of trade. C. H. McIntosh, president of the board of trade introduced the speaker, and he was welcomed by Mayor H. M. Sibbald.

Large Fire Burns Near Beaverdell

A forest fire 10 miles in length was burning between Beaverdell and Carmi at mileage 33.35 Thursday, according to word received from Grand Forks Thursday night. Last night the fire had crossed the river and the road, and was threatening a section of the Canadian Pacific right-of-way.

No damage was reported but it was feared that if the wind kept up the Beaverdell and Wellington mines might be in danger.

A big fire was also reported to be burning on the north fork of the Granby river but no details were available.

Man Who Rode in Den of Lions, Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 27 (AP)—"Little Joe" Delorme, known as the first man to ride through the streets of American cities seated in a den of lions, died today in his bed. He was 75.

COLEMAN MAY FACE COURT NEXT WEEK

Merton Coleman, alleged and self-confessed slayer of Hettie Ball, his once-betrothed, in the cafe tragedy here of July 17, is so far on the road to recovery from his self-inflicted wound in the head, which drilled out his eyes, that he may be given his preliminary hearing on a charge of murder early next week, Chief of Police Alex. Stewart stated Thursday.

Coleman is under continuous surveillance, a night guard and a day guard relieving each other. When he first went into Kootenay Lake General hospital, he had a night nurse and a day nurse as well.

Mackenzie King Finds That Kissing Babes May Lead to Greater Things

BY RAY BROWN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE ALBERT, July 27—(CP)—The time-honored customs of kissing babies on political platforms may produce complications unless care is excerised.

Pretty little Joyce Schorr shyly proferred a boquet to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King before the Liberal leader spoke at Ridge not far from here.

"Does anything go with this?" smilingly asked Mr. King as he stooped and kissed her.

Later he expressed his thanks for the presentation and remarked the pleasure he had derived from what followed made him wish more donations of a similar nature might be made perhaps by some of the ladies.

But when he turned and found comely members of the Prince Albert ladies softball team waiting to thank him for a donation which he had made to the club, Mr. King looked startled while the crowd burst into shouts of laughter.

And then he shook hands with the ladies.

SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES

Huge Increase in Bank Clearings

WINNIPEG, July 27—(CP)—Said by business men to be the result of exceptionally heavy grain trade, bank clearings in Winnipeg for the week ending today show an increase of 366 per cent over the corresponding week last year. The figures for the week ending today are 151,304,682, compared with $40,672,877 for the same week in 1932.

B. C. Industrial Trend Is Upward

VICTORIA, July 27 (CP)—The industrial situation in British Columbia is improving and business generally is on the upward trend, according to Hon. W. M. Dennies, minister of labor, tonight in reviewing conditions throughout the province.

Authentic reports continued to indicate an increase in many lines of business and information from many sources would seem to point to a general upward trend. This is true in several of the basic industries, the increase in volume of the export lumber trade as well as the renewed activity in metal mining, being particularly noteworthy, the minister said.

Mr Dennies stressed the important responsibility of industry in relation to this evident improvement. "The low rates of pay obtaining in some industrial plants is to be greatly deplored, especially where a considerable disparity exists in wage rates paid by firms competing in the same line of business, making it extremely difficult for the employer who is trying to pay decent wages, when others are using cut-throat tactics by cutting down the wages of their employees and creating an unhealthy condition. The situation with regard to wages and hours of work is far from satisfactory. In some cases the wages paid in industry are not on what may be termed a subsistence level apart from a fair wage scale, and unless this condition is speedily corrected remedial measures can not longer be withheld," he declared.

Hundred Battle Flames Near Cranbrook, Fire Makes Half Mile Jumps; Mission in Path

Home and Buildings of A. Benson on Pattons Lake Razed; Dwelling Saved by Government and City Pumps

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 27.—Wednesday night a bush fire which has been raging on the hills just north of Cranbrook, destroyed the henhouse and $5000 barn of A. Benson on Pattons lake, Mr. Benson's residence being saved by the use of the city and government pumps. The stock and fowl were driven to a place of safety.

Lacking adequate government patrols, Messrs. Benson and Veeberg took out large crews at their own expense. A large number of residents also helped during the night.

Playle dwellings and dairy barns were vacated but up to Thursday afternoon the fire fighters had been able to save them. In the afternoon a high wind was carrying the flames north toward the St. Eugene mission.

That the forest fire adjacent to Cranbrook, driven by a high wind, made jumps of half a mile at a time Thursday, was information received by the forest branch here in a telephone conversation with Cranbrook. The fire, which was within half a mile of Cranbrook, to the northwest of the city, was four miles long and two miles wide, and was heading toward St. Eugene mission. Beside the government and city crews, it was reported that the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company of Canada and the East Kootenay Power company had men protecting the power line to Kimberley.

BUYING HELPS CREATE JOBS

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—Urging Canadians to do their bit to produce employment, Hon H H Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, in a statement today declared every purchase of commodities literally meant a contribution toward creation of jobs for "the other fellow." The statement, issued in support of a revival-of-business campaign in the Dominion, follows:

"While all the nations of the world have been struggling to find the solution of the universal unemployment problem, it may be well for us to remember that after all the solution rests in the restoration of purchasing power; therefore every purchase of commodities literally means a contribution toward the creation of jobs for the other fellow."

Spain Recognizes Soviet Government

Trotzsky May Become Reconciled With Moscow

MADRID, July 27—(AP)—Recognition of the government of soviet Russia was decided upon today by the Spanish cabinet and president of the republic.

At the same time newspapers published reports from France saying Leon Trotzky, exiled Communist leader, might become reconciled to Moscow and become first ambassador to Madrid.

The decision to establish normal relations with the Soviet state was taken at a meeting today of the cabinet with President Niceto Alcala Zamora at which harmony prevailed. Previously it had been predicted internal dissensions in the cabinet might bring on a government crisis.

The newspaper reports which advanced the name of Trotzky as a possible diplomatic agent of the Moscow government said the exile, now in France, might later be the first ambassador to Washington, if the United States recognizes the present Russian regime.

Opposing Liberals Nominate Candidates

NORTH VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Two Liberals were in nomination today to contest the riding of North Vancouver in the coming provincial election following door-crashing and an exchange of fisticuffs in a miniature "Donnybrook" last night.

A body of people who were refused admission to the convention in Knights of Pythias hall broke down the door against the efforts of those defending and took possession of the upper hall. They nominated J. M. Bryan.

The delegates already present before the door-crashing retired to the lower part of the building and nominated H. S. Wood, K.C.

It is understood an effort will be made to conciliate the differences between the two factions of the party in the riding.

HOME BURNED, GOOSE CREEK

Wind Spreads Fire Over Large Area; Five Families Vacate Homes

Fanned by a heavy westerly wind the Goose creek fire raged over a large area Thursday, destroying the small ranch home of Lee Langill and threatening three other homes.

The Langill home, only recently constructed, went up in flames about 5 p.m. when the fire swept over the brow of a hill and down into the clearing. Mr. Langill, who was in Nelson at the time, was notified of the fire on his way out. All of the household effects were saved.

While the Langill property was reduced to ashes the fire spared the home of John Black which has been threatened for the past two days, and last night Mr. Black and his family were able to return to their home. The forestry department is retaining a pump at the home in case the wind changes. Two men will be on hand.

In all, seven men are on pump duty and five pumps are stationed at various points. Owing to the distance from suitable water supply the department is unable to put in any more.

Pumps are stationed at the homes of two settlers by the name of Anderson, between the fire and the Little Slocan. A third home is also being guarded but there is no water from which to operate a pump.

Last night at least five families had vacated the fire area and had taken up shelter at Crescent Valley. Among the refugees were the families who occupied the three houses mentioned.

Smoke prevented an accurate estimate of the area covered by the fire but it is expected to be over a radius of about six miles. Up until last night little damage other than the destruction of the Langill home had been done. Should there be a wind today, however, it is expected that the timber around Slocan Valley proper may be endangered. R. E. Allan, district forester, was out at the fire Thursday and witnessed the burning of the Langill property.

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Body of Jack Beatty, bank clerk missing since Monday, was found by police shortly after noon in False creek, near the place where his clothing was discovered on a log boom. The remains were recovered by police dragging from the department's patrol boat.

Lord Ashfield Is Transport Dictator

LONDON, (CP)—Lord Ashfield, noted London traction magnate, has been transport "dictator" in the world metropolis since July 1, 1933, and now the million wheels of London's passenger vehicles that rattle and clatter unceasingly through the streets revolve around Lord Ashfield.

He sits in his office overlooking Broadway, Westminster, and has control over every omnibus, tramcar, tube and suburban train in an area of 2000 square miles. As far out as Dorking in the south, Beaconsfield in the west, St. Albans in the north and Gravesend in the east, the entire passenger transport system is running under his direction. Only the London taxi-cab is beyond his jurisdiction.

The authority to take charge of this huge passenger transport system—the biggest in the world—was vested in Lord Ashfield when the London Passenger Transport Board, of which he is chairman, officially came into being.

A great boon to the public as a result of this change is the issue of tickets inter-available on any of the vehicles controlled by the Board. The Board controls 6000 omnibuses, 3000 tramcars, 2200 tube and electric trains and 236 railway stations. There are 70,000 employes.

To the Princess Royal she left her collection of Pomanders and a dessert service.

800 Convicts Try to Escape Yearly

DEVIL'S ISLAND, French Guiana, (CP)—According to a Salvation Army official who has spent many years in this penal colony, about 800 try to escape each year, and 550 of the attempts are unsuccessful. Altogether there are about 5,000 prisoners. Of the other 250 attempts many of the convicts die at sea or in the forest, where they fall victims to wild beasts.

Escape by way of the forest is less sure of success owing to the bonus of 25 francs a head given to natives who denounce escaped convicts to the authorities.

Most of the runaways either steal, buy, or make a canoe and sail down the Maroni to the ocean. There the currents take them towards the north. Their chances of reaching Venezuela are one in 100; the other 99 per cent of the successful reach Trinidad. The other means of escape consists of crossing the Maroni by canoe or swimming to Dutch Guina. From here the convicts attempt to reach Paramaribo by travelling through the virgin forest, hiding by day and keeping away from villages. Convicts at Cayenne have only one means of escape, and that is by way of the sea towards Brazil.

On the same feed under the same conditions, wether lambs will grow bigger and fatter than ram lambs.

NELSON BOATS WIN AT KASLO

C. Clark of Vernon Carries Off Kaslo Cup in Five Mile Race

KASLO, B.C., July 27—Under ideal weather conditions, sponsored by the Kaslo Boat club, the annual water carnival got away to a good start at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The first day's events were confined to boat racing and though entries were not as numerous as in some former years, the interest shown by the contestants was very keen. Among entries from outside points were those from Nelson, Nakusp and Vernon. Although the program was not carried out strictly according to schedule, all races were eventually run, the marathon being the last. It finished shortly before 7 in the evening.

The results of the day's contests were as follows:

Bang-and-go-back race, open, first prize, Kaslo Boat club shield, won by Major J. H. Stubbs; second prize $2 in merchandise, won by Rev. C. C. Raven, George Abey coming in third.

Inboard race for boats with speed of not over 35 miles per hour: J. Learmonths' Sally B. of Nelson won first prize, a shield and $5 in merchandise; R. Andrew of Nelson, won second place, $5 in merchandise.

Class B out-board race, two heats, for the class B championship of Kootenay lake, the winner to hold the Boat club shield for one year—B. F. Palmer first, shield and $10 in merchandise; P. M. Elder, second, $5 in merchandise.

Outboard handicap runabout race, two heats, B. F. Palmer first, shield and $2; P. M. Elder second, $3 in merchandise. A. P. Allsebrooke started in this race but did not finish.

Class C outboard race, two heats: C. Clark of Vernon first, shield and $15 in merchandise; G. Grimwood and C. S. Leary tied for second prize of $10 in merchandise.

Class A outboard race: Rev. C. C. Raven won the Davis cup; George Abey second, $2 in merchandise.

Outboard handicap runabout race, lady drivers: Miss Elaine Calvert, driving B. F. Palmer's boat won the Boat club shield; Miss Kathleen Butler, driving P. M. Elder's boat, second, $2 in merchandise.

All races were run over a mile and a half oval course and were all open to any contestant paying the required entrance fee. The last, and possibly most exciting race of the day was the 15-mile marathon. This was won by C. Clark of Vernon who carried away the City of Kaslo cup which he will hold for one year. This race is for the outboard championship of Kootenay lake. The officers of the Kaslo Boat club are F. S. Rouleau, commodore; J. A. Riddell, captain; R. A. Chester, mate; board of governors, A. T. Garland, R. Hewat, W. L. Billings, A. W. Anderson, G. D. Bowker and A. P. Allsebrooke.

The committees in charge of the two-day carnival were, racing—J. A. Riddell, F. S. Rouleau, B. F. Palmer, R. A. Chester and J. R. Tinkess; finance—B. F. Palmer, R. A. Chester and J. R. Tinkess; aquatic—R. Hewat and A. T. Garland; works—J. A. Riddell, C. J. White, P. M. Elder and Jean Brochier; publicity—F. S. Rouleau and Walter Hendricks; dance and entertainment—W. L. Billings. The first named in each instance was the chairman of his committee.

All vegetable seeds should be put in now with the exception of string beans and corn. Also, sow any annual flower seeds you may have to sow outside.

AUTO AND TRUCK MEET UPON ARM

Car Skids on Oiled Surface Willow Point Curve

J. H. Thompson, well known Spokane mining man and formerly of the Slocan, driving to Nelson at noon Thursday on the Balfour road, with W. L. Bell, Spokane mining engineer, with him, had a slight collision with a loaded truck owned and driven by George Sutherland of Willow Point, the vehicles meeting on the sharp curve opposite A. D. Emory's place at Willow Point.

According to Mr. Thompson's report of the accident, both drivers were driving with care, but the rear of his car skidded on the oiled road, and side-swiped the side of the truck. The fender of the car was smashed and the body dented. The back board of the truck was torn off.

The airman was reported over Jasper at 3:21 p.m., and over Prince George, B.C., at 1 p.m. Mattern was at the controls as the big monoplane landed after circling the airport. About 3000 people were at the field.

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—Federal by-elections in three widely-separated constituencies will be held October 16, it was learned on the best authority today. Formal action fixing the date will not be taken until next week.

In the Saskatchewan riding of MacKenzie a vacancy was created by the appointment of Milton Campbell, Progressive, to the tariff board. Yamaska, in Quebec, was vacated through the unseating of Aime Boucher, successful Liberal candidate in the 1930 elections, and the death of Maximilien Cormier, Conservative, left a vacancy in Restigouche-Madawaska, New Brunswick.

LADY BIRD BREAKS SPEED MARK IN AN EARLY MORNING TRIP TO KASLO

Does 43 Miles in 57 Minutes in Spite of Much Driftwood

From Nelson to Kaslo in 57 minutes and three seconds was the record hung up by L. F. Gilbert and his speed boat, The Lady Bird, on Wednesday morning. The boat's speed was clocked by stop watch and official time keepers were J. B. Curran and J. B. Stark.

It had been the intention of Mr. Gilbert for some weeks to set a new speed record between the two points for a means of transportation with the exception of airplanes. With this end in view he had tuned up the 500 horsepower Liberty Car Wood motor and had made other arrangements which would give him every opportunity to make fast time. The mark of 57 minutes is surprising when it must be taken into consideration that the Lady Bird carried five people. The distance between Nelson and Kaslo by water is estimated at 43 miles. At times on the trip the Lady Bird was running well over 60 miles an hour and on the last three miles of the trip between Mirror Lake and Kaslo, the stop watch showed the distance covered in exactly three minutes or at the rate of a mile a minute.

In order to get the best conditions possible on the west arm and main lake, Mr. Gilbert and his crew pulled out from Nelson shortly after 5 o'clock in the morning. This was done for three reasons. First, to get away from the heavy glare of the sun on the water; second to assure safer travel; and third, to be assured of a placid surface.

In two instances Mr. Gilbert was lucky, but driftwood was heavy, particularly up the west arm. This resulted in the captain being forced to slow down considerable at various intervals.

It was when he reached the main lake that he opened the throttle and made up for a lot of lost time. Given ideal conditions Mr. Gilbert believes he can make Kaslo in a scarce 45 minutes. On his return trip to Nelson with four passengers in the boat, he made better time to about Eight mile, when darkness forced him to slow down considerably. At that he came from Kaslo to Nelson in 58 minutes.

LOG OF TRIP

Mr. Gilbert was clocked as he left Nelson at 5.21 a.m. He ran first at even pace to Willow Point in order to get his engine warmed up. Willow Point wharf was passed seven and a half minutes later at 5.28½. Between Willow Point and Kokanee driftwood was particularly bad and the Lady Bird was slowed down or swerved from side to side in order to miss large floating pieces and smaller stuff. Kokanee wharf was passed at 5.40 just 19 minutes out of Nelson. The boat speeded past Harrop ferry with the engine roaring just three minutes later at 5:43. She was abreast of Procter wharf seven minutes later at 5:40. The narrows were negotiated without trouble and without noticeable slackening of speed. In his whole trip Mr. Gilbert followed the course of navigation used by the steamers plying the lake.

Upon reaching the main lake driftwood was less noticeable and outside of a choppy section at the outlet and around Ainsworth, the water was ideal. Five minutes after passing Procter the boat passed the Queen's Bay wharf at 5:55. Opening up the throttle Mr. Gilbert pressed the Lady Bird past Ainsworth seven minutes after leaving Queen's Bay or at 6:02. Mirror Lake wharf was passed at 6:15 and three minutes later the Lady Bird came abreast of the Kaslo wharf with a roar and a burst of speed that had not been used the whole trip.

Upon arrival in Kaslo the monster carburetors, four in number, were heavily frosted. Gasoline consumption had been at a rate of about one gallon to each two miles covered.

CARRIED HEAVY LOAD

Besides five persons in the boat the Lady Bird was weighted down with 35 gallons of gasoline and 15 gallons of motor oil which added considerably to the weight. His engine weighs about 1500 pounds. The crew took every precaution on the trip and each man wore specially purchased jackets of unsinkable material. Goggles were also worn and ears were plugged with cotton batting. The boat was controlled at all times by Mr. Gilbert and Elmer Kline kept his eye on the machinery. George Marquis was seated in the front end ahead of the engine where he acted as lookout. On numerous occasions his signals guided Mr. Gilbert through heavy driftwood.

Kasloites were awakened by the heavy roar of the 12 exhaust stacks and many thought an airplane was arriving.

At about 11 a.m. Mr. Gilbert made several speedy runs on the Kaslo waterfront and had the boat up over 65 miles per hour.

However, it was in the afternoon when he gave the large crowd of regatta fans a treat, when with Dr. Ray Shaw of Nelson on a surf board, he made numerous turns around the triangle course. At times the Lady Bird was travelling at 45 miles per hour with the doctor trailing behind. Rev. George Kinney of Procter took several pictures with his movie camera. After the aquaplaning events Mr. Gilbert reduced the number in his boat and gave several demonstrations of its speed ability. During the day the boat was inspected by hundreds of Kasloites and other district people.

Other Nelson boats attending the regatta were driven in by George Benwell jr., John Learmonth and R. Andrew. These boats took part in the inboard races, but Mr. Gilbert did not enter.

HITLER COMPLETES CONTROL OF GERMANY

With the dissolution of all political parties except the Nazis, Adolph Hitler has completed the mastery of Germany. Parliamentary governmer is at an end. Henceforth one-man rule will prevail. Hitler has made it evident that there will be no toleration of any other authority than his own. There is now no more talk of the return of the Kaiser or the restoration of the monarchy. The Hohenzollerns are further away from power than ever before.

It is too soon to estimate what the ultimate effect of the Hitler regime will be in Germany. That country, however, was never enthusiastic over a democratic form of government. The German people prefer to be governed by a firm ruler rather than to govern themselves. They apparently lack the ability and the desire to determine their own policies. This fact was attested to recently by Dr. Otto Bruhn, Berlin psychologist, in an interview at Montreal when he said that "for the German mentality it is much better to have a ruler with a strong hand than to have a democracy."

Hitler obviously understands this attitude and it is quite apparent that he is ready to supply a strong hand to effect an organized regimentation of the country. And so long as he confines his efforts to the rebuilding of Germany and the improvement of conditions there, the rest of the world has no cause to complain. His international policies will require to be much less dictatorial than are those which he has pursued in internal affairs, however.

PROPERTY IN CANADA

Taxable real property for the whole of Canada was valued at $8,222,260,000 in 1932, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics finds.

This is in effect a total of the assessments of all municipalities, urban and rural, in the Dominion.

For 1930 the total was $8,467,559,699; for 1928 it was $7,753,091,861.

In other words, realty assessments, which had been climbing steadily for a number of years, continued to climb for some time after the depression started.

There is a natural time-lag between business conditions and the revision of assessments brought about by those conditions.

The fact that there is a drop of 255 millions between 1930 and 1932 probably indicates a further reduction of the total in next year's figures.

Data prepared by the Bureau are not sufficiently detailed to permit an accurate separation of urban and rural realty values.

Roughly, the ratio is about three to four, the urban valuation corresponding to the larger figure.

For 1929 the Bureau estimated farm values at a total of $6,308,353,000 and urban realty values at $8,251,011,000.

The former figure includes implements, machinery and livestock as well as land and buildings, while the latter includes tax-exempt realty and municipal works such as streets and sewers.

Complete data on these items was obtained in the 1931 census, but the work of tabulating them has not been completed.

For 1929, the Bureau estimated that the average Canadian's wealth amounted to $3,075.72.

This sum was analysed as follows: Agricultural wealth, $791.81; mining capital, $86.47; forests, $187.19; fisheries, $3.39; electric stations $55.28; manufactures, $141.42; construction plant, $13.73; trading establishments, $113.32; railways, $338.44; highways, $36.39; canals, harbors and shipping, $75.67; telephones, $29.08; urban realty, $822.88; automobiles, $75.64; furniture and clothing, $136.63 and currency, $20.06.

Noticed at the regatta—I was glad to see the smiling face of Bob Andrew, who had with him Bert Walton and Mr. Andrew's son Bobby—Mr. Andrew was wearing his usual buttonhole—There is only one other person in Nelson who decorates his buttonhole with a fresh flower every day and that is "Staff" Stephenson of the provincial jail—Johnny Learmonth out quite a figure with his classy launch, The Sally, and George Benwell Jr. was in real picnic mood with his boatload of Nelsonites—Lou Gilbert and his Lady Bird were no doubt the hit of the regatta and the aquaplaning staged by Dr. Ray Shaw was also one of the leading events on the program—

"SHARLIE"

By BEATRICE BURTON

CHAPTER XLIII.

"And so has your daughter been married!" Sharlie's mother interrupted him from the doorway. "It's silly to get sentimental about this. Sharlie's been in love with Mr. Collins for months, and if she cares for him it won't make any difference to her that he's older than she. She can take care of all that part of this marriage, but we're her parents and we've got to look after the financial side of it. It's up to us to find out just how well she is going to be provided for—and we've got to do it now. We won't know what's happening down in Arizona after they're married, except from what Sharlie tells us in letters, and you can bet your last dollar that she won't tell us much. Women hate to go to their families and tell them what a mess they've made of things after they marry!" She glared at Eldon as if she had been too proud, as a bride, to go complaining to her family about him.

"Well, we can't sit here all day!" she said briskly. "If we have company coming for one o'clock dinner we'd better begin to think about that dinner. Edna, will you make the dressing for the veal roast? I'd do it, but if I touch raw onions my hands smell of them for a week."

At one o'clock Mr. Collins arrived in his car.

He came, not as a worried suitor who wonders if he is going to be accepted or not, but as a man who is very sure of himself. There was a white pasteboard box under his arm, with a hole cut in one end through which the long stems of flowers protruded.

"Chrysanthemums for you," he said to Dodie, laying the box in her arms and dropping his overcoat into Eldon Dunn's hands as if he were a manservant standing there to receive it.

Dodie put on her best black satin dress for the occasion, a dress that curbed the lines of her figure that were just a little too full these days. "Hanging around home has made me put on pounds," Dodie had confided to Sharlie several times. "If I just had a little money I could take some Turkish baths and get rid of some of this fat. But there isn't any money."

Money, Money, Money. . . The word was like the chorus of a song in the household, and always had been. "Will you give me the rent money, please, Eldon? Mr. Gunderson is coming for it tomorrow". . . "I've got to have some money for new curtains". . "If we had the money we could go shopping for some of these Friday bargains"——

Edna and Sharlie put the dinner on the table. Roast veal with sage-and-onion dressing, thick gravy, mashed potatoes, broccoli, head lettuce salad, and apple pie with coffee. The heavy kind of meal that a man loves.

Mr. Collins ate enormously and drank two large cups of coffee with cream and sugar. "Sharlie, I hope you can cook half as well as your mother can," he said as he got up from the table, and Dodie beamed her thanks at him.

"I cooked this meal, Mr. Collins."

It was Edna's voice, low and calm, from the other side of the table where she had sat without saying three words all during the meal. She was gazing up at him with her deep blue eyes looking more blue than ever above the flush on her cheeks. Her hair was waved loosely over her ears instead of being brushed back into a flat coil on her neck, and she was still wearing the blue cotton housedress that she had put on for breakfast. Over it was an apron that she had not bothered to take off.

"See, this is where I burned my arm, taking the pie out of the oven," she said, and rolled back her long sleeve to show him a blister just above the wrist. "That was the first deep-dish apple pie I ever made—I remembered that it was your favorite pie."

He stopped on his way out of the room and stepped back to the table. "How did you know it was? he asked.

Edna sent him a smile that did not look like a very happy smile to Sharlie who stood watching her from the living room doorway. "Have you forgotten how many years we've known each other, Mr. Collins?—I seem to have picked up a great deal of knowledge about you in that time, somehow." She spoke quietly, still smiling up at him with her eyes. "I know more things about you than anyone in the world, I suppose. I know that you're cross if you don't get your lunch on time, and that you hate to go to the tailor's for a fitting, and that you don't like to sign checks or discharge people——"

"You've always taken care of the mean jobs for me, havent you, Edna?" He sat down again, holding his unlighted cigar and his engraved silver lighter in his hands.

Sharlie and her mother and father went into the living room, but his voice followed them there as he went on talking to Edna.

"I'm going down to Pheonix some time in January," he said, "to go into business there. Real estate and bonds and insurance. You know that I'm through here, of course. . . You'll go down there with me, won't you? I'm not taking anyone of the old organization except you. I couldn't run my business without you down there to help me."

There was a little pause and then he asked, "You'll go, won't you? —I thought perhaps you'd go on ahead of me and get things started. We can go into the details tomorrow at the office."

Richard Gahlsdorf, Salem, Ore., was pulled out of a mill pond and brought back to consciousness by an inhalator crew.

"My watch is wet," were his first words.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

YOUR THYROID GLAND DETERMINES YOUR APPEARANCE

"Have you too much activity of the thyroid gland in the neck?"

"Then the fires of life burn too fast and easily, the mind is too active in receiving impressions and meets life's troubles more than half-way, as shown by the staring eyes, the trembling hands, and the palpitating heart. Remove a portion of this thyroid gland and the wheels of life move with more smoothness and content."

"Possess too little thyroid gland; the fires of life become a smoulder, you are cold in body and mind, you are a dullard in feeling and appearance, slow in thought, word, and deed."

"Then take thyroid extract and once more you feel—and look—human.

"The active principle of thyroid extract thus determines your weal or woe by having either the right amount, or too much or too little."

"I am quoting the words of Lord Dawson, the king's physician as part of his presidential address to the British Medical Association.

This should explain to you why in the serious cases of goitre—inflammation of the thyroid gland—when rest, iodine, and even x-ray are of no avail, that surgery itself may not give satisfactory results.

You can see from Lord Dawson's statement that if just the right amount of the gland is removed by surgery the patient's heart will slow up to normal, there will be little if any trembling of the hands, and the digestive disturbances will disappear. If not enough is removed he will still retain some of these symptoms, and may feel discouraged.

But what happens when, in an endeavor to make it unnecessary to operate twice (remove one portion and then later remove another) the surgeon removes too much of the thyroid gland?

The patient becomes a little slow mentally and physically, may put on too much weight; in fact his whole appearance may change from a slender, nervous, active individual to one who is heavy, placid, and lazy.

As you know this condition in the thyroid gland which makes surgery necessary may be caused by infection anywhere in the body—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder, intestine—or by some emotional disturbance.

It is gratifying to know that by removing any infective condition, and by mental and physical rest, most of these thyroid conditions can be cured.

SQUEEZING A LONG HAND

Many a play which otherwise would be difficult, if not impossible, is made easy by the information conveyed by an adverse bid or double. An excellent demonstration of this is afforded by the following hand:

North: ♠ K-J-10-9-7-5-3 ♥ 9-7 ♦ 7 ♣ 8-5-3
West: ♠ 8-2 ♥ 4-3-2 ♦ A-K-9-5-4 ♣ A-Q-6
East: ♠ 6 ♥ A-K-Q-J-10-6 ♦ 3 ♣ 9-7-4-2
South: ♠ A-Q-4 ♥ 8 ♦ Q-J-10-8-6-2 ♣ K-J-10
Dealer South. Both vul.

With neither side vulnerable, South bid one Diamond. West, despite his strong holding, passed; his majors were too weak for No Trump and his suit-bid had been 'stolen.' North called one Spade, East two Hearts and South two Spades. West raised the Hearts to four, which North overcalled with four Spades. East, not realizing West's side strength bid five Hearts thinking it a sacrifice-bid which his 150 honors would reduce. South passed and West risked a small slam call on Hearts. North passed, confident that his partner's original Diamond bid meant the contract's defeat. A sacrifice bid of Six Spades would have been a profitable venture, if the Heart slam could be made.

South led the Ace of Spades, then the Queen. East ruffed, drew two rounds of trumps and then tested the Diamond distribution. When North failed to follow, Declarer realized that the suit was hopeless. He successfully finessed the Club and then conceded a one-trick defeat. Could the slam have been made?

THE CORRECT PLAY

After ruffing the second Spade and drawing two rounds of trumps, Declarer should "verify" South's Diamond bid by winning one round in dummy and ruffing a second in closed hand. With North discarding, East should lead a small Club, take with dummy's Queen; then lead a small Diamond and ruff. Since South's original bid marked him with side strength (probably King-Jack of Clubs), a squeeze could be produced. At trick 10 the cards would be:

North: ♠ K-J ♥ ♦ ♣ 8-5
West: ♠ ♥ ♦ K-8 ♣ A-6
East: ♠ ♥ 10 ♦ ♣ 9-7-4
South: ♠ ♥ ♦ Q-J ♣ K-J
Dealer South.

East would lead his last trump, forcing South to give up protection in Diamonds or Clubs; if South discards a Diamond, West will discard a Club; if South discards a Club, West will discard a Diamond. In either event Declarer will take the remaining tricks.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

IF THIS BE TRUE

Can it be true that even as I,
My brothers feel life's burdens le
So heavy, as the days go by?

Can it be true that all have known
The frets of years too swiftly flown
With life unlived and work undone?

Can it be true that some have tossed
Their best away, have risked and lost
The thing most loved, at fearful cost?

If this be true, why then my lo
Is that of all the rest, and not
Of some poor soul whom God forgot!

If this be true, then well I know
For reasons wise God planned it so,
That out of trial strength might grow!

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

An allegation sedulously spread among the single unemployed by agitators who are opposed to work in any form is that the government relief camps are being run on military lines. A visit to any one of these camps would expose the falsity of the charge, but it is still being circulated in certain quarters with a view to creating discontent.

Lieut.-Col. Spry, federal relief representative, who is now in the west on a tour of inspection, declares emphatically that there is no military discipline in the camps, nor is it planned. He said: "The men are treated as civilians, dressed in civilian clothing. They eat regularly, they get up and go to bed at regular hours. If that be described as military discipline then let us have lots of it. The object of these work camps is to house, clothe, feed and care for the single unemployed. The policy governing all camps is identical from Halifax to the Pacific Coast. There is no difference and no discrimination."

If a man gets a job while in camp he is given transportation to the place where he is to go to work. Colonel Spry pointed out further that the "comforts committee" of the department of national defence provides sporting equipment to all camps. The equipment consists of baseball and softball outfits, football equipment and material for other games. From the educational standpoint also, he said, the men are provided for. Men are given medical attention and hospitalization if required.—Calgary Herald.

BLAMING CAPITALISM

It has become the fashion to rail at capitalism. Just because the system has been having a run of hard luck all its good sides and past benefits have been forgotten, and a lot of people notably professors and publicists, cannot find words harsh enough to condemn it. Even the churches have become critical. As the New York Times points out, the cruel things that are being done in the world today, the ugly, stupid, debasing things, are not the work of capitalism, but of the anit-capitalists. It is the Hitlerites and the Stalins that set out to ride over human beings and crush them and destroy them if they stand in the way. Capitalism, at its worst has an interest in making people happy, certainly an interest in making them rich.—Ottawa Journal.

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of the factory:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 22½ miles per Imperial gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

This should answer a lot of questions.

Henry Ford

This letter from Henry Ford describes so clearly and simply the reasons for the remarkable economy of the Ford V-8 that it is reprinted here by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited

RAILS AND STEEL RISE

Advance in Grain Prices Overshadows Efforts of Stocks

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 27—(AP) — Broad advances in grain prices overshadowed efforts of stocks today, although shares managed to splurge in certain sections, notably steel and rail groups. Sales for the three hours from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. totalled 2,489,170 shares, around half a million more than yesterday

Rail stocks at one time got up 1 to 3 points or so, but finished mostly under their highs. Steels came forward at the finish in anticipation of an improved earnings statement by Bethlehem as well as the prospect of new business from the government's naval construction.

U. S. Steel rose 2¼ net and Bethlehem 5¼; for Youngstown, Republic and National the gain was 1½ to 2½. General Motors encountered good support and rallied one. Westingtouse, American Telephone, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, U. S. Rubber, Western Union, Consolidated Gas were up fractions to more than a point. New York shipbuilding jumped 2.

Uniform Quality in Wheat Is Essential

REGINA, July 27 (CP)—Sir A. Daniel Hall, British agricultural expert and milling authority, spoke words of advice to farmers of Canada here today.

Necessity of maintaining uniform quality was emphasized by the visitor in an address to the cereal chemistry section of the world grain conference. Western Canada's No. 2 northern wheat is in bad repute with British millers because the millers are suspicious it does not always contain the same quantity of the garnet strain.

"Producers and sellers should do nothing to weaken the confidence of millers," he said. "The genuineness of the article must be maintained. And the same thing must be said of any slack interpretation of grading rules."

Narrow Losses and Gains on Mine List

TORONTO, July 27—(CP)— The strong tone developed by the senior gold group around mid-day on the standard mining market petered out later and the close brought a mixture of narrow gains and losses.

Other groups indulged in a mild sell-off, with the golds.

Early enthusiasm for Nickel which ran the price up to 20.60 also flattened out and the big base metal closed 10 cents off at 20.15. Noranda did better, holding a 40-cent gain at 34.65 Hudson Bay lost 25.

Dome held a gain of 35 cents and Hollinger 5, but McIntyre lost 50 cents. Pioneer 90, Teck Hughes 20, Bralorne 15 and Wright Hargreaves and Lake Shore held unchanged.

Eldorado weakened 10 cents and other silver stocks were quiet. In the oil group recessions exceeded gains. Dalhousie lost 15, Calgary and Edmonton 17, Home Oil 31, Homestead 4, Associated 4, Nordon 1 and Royalite lost 61.

ACTIVE ISSUES SHOW EASINESS

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Active issues continued to show easiness on the Vancouver stock exchange today and with three exceptions price levels were lower at the close.

After opening stronger generally the active list turned reactionary in late trading and small gains were turned into losses of one or more points.

Calgary and Edmonton again was the feature trader of the day. After dipping to a low of 1.32 the issue came back near the close to 1.46, at which figure it closed, a net loss of two. Home Oil was off 15 at 2.60 after touching a low of 2.50; Dalhousie Oil was down 10 to .85; A.P. Consolidated and Merland both lost two to 30 and 36 respectively and Freehold was down one at 13. Amalgamated gained one to 14.

Meridian was the active leader of the gold issue. Opening stronger at 58, the issue eased off to end the day at 54, unchanged. Bridge River Exploration was down two to .55; Premier was off one to 1.28 while Reno was off seven to 2.21.

WHEAT SWEEPS 4 CENTS HIGHER

Buyers Anticipate Greater Deteriorations in Canadian Crop

WINNIPEG, July 27—(CP) — Wheat prices swept sharply higher on Winnipeg grain exchange today as buyers, viewing parched wheat areas of western Canada, anticipated further deterioration due to continued hot weather and purchased futures in large volume.

Peak levels were only fractionally shaded by profit-taking and at the close the market showed gains ranging from 4½ to 5½ cents above the previous finish. July future at the close was worth 88⅝, October 90½, December 92 and May 96⅛ cents. Aside from a short-lived selling wave after mid-session, offerings were decidedly light and values had no difficulty in holding their advance.

Support came from many and varied sources with selling attributed to profit-taking. The advance was orderly and devoid of any wild rush to buy. Nevertheless values quietly and steadily scrambled upward.

Leading Moneys Decline Sharply

NEW YORK, July 27—(CP)—Sharp declines were registered by pound sterling and other leading currencies in active trading on New York foreign exchange today. The pound closed 9¾ cents lower at a cable rate of $4.53.

The Canadian dollar experienced fractional losses at the open, and after mild fluctuations, closed unchanged at 93¼ cents. The premium in United States currency stood at 7½ per cent as against Canadian funds.

LIMIT CHECKS CHICAGO WHEAT

Skyrockets Eight Cents; Big Speculative Buying on Market

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, July 27—(AP)— Wild skyrocketing of prices whirled the wheat market up eight cents a bushel toward the zenith today, the extreme rise that emergency rules would allow.

Renewed big speculative buying on the part of the general public took place. Increasingly sensational bad crop reports from Canada and the American northwest aroused buyers to a fever point.

Wheat closed flurried, 7⅜-8 cents above yesterday's finish; corn 1¾-4⅛ up; oats 3½-4 cents advanced; and provisions varying from 40 cents decline to a rise of 10 cents.

From the outset all future deliveries were far above $1.00 a bushel and May touched $1.15, up 17¾ cents from last week's low point.

STERLING DROPS OVER 12 CENTS

MONTREAL, July 27—(CP)—Influenced by the weakness in New York, pound sterling dropped more than 12 cents on Montreal foreign exchanges today.

The pound opened with an overnight loss of 5¼ cents at $4.90½ and continued to sink lower throughout the session. It closed at $4.83 11-16, its low of the day, where it recorded a loss of 12 1-16 cents.

The United States dollar finished the day at 7¼ per cent where it held a gain of ⅛ of one per cent.

Other currencies followed the downward trend of sterling, the French franc losing .12 of a cent at 5.69 cents.

Produce Irregular

MONTREAL, July 27— (CP)— Irregularity prevailed on the Montreal dairy and produce market again today.

The butter market was generally quoted at 20 to 20¼ cents a pound for No. 1 butter in carlots or less, up ⅛ of a cent from yesterday's final prices. A total of 133 boxes was offered for sale.

Majority of Stocks Off on Montreal List

MONTREAL, July 27—(CP)—While a majority of Montreal stock exchange showed some resistance to weakness in today's session, losses predominated at the close of trading.

International Nickel reached its high for the day during the morning in selling up to 20.60 but eased back during the afternoon to 19.50 and closing at 20.20, off 30 cents.

Canadian Pacific Railway held a small gain during the morning but eased off with the balance of the market in the late trading to finish unchanged at 17½.

Brazilian Traction lost ⅜ at 14⅞ while Montreal Power held firm at 38. Canadian Industrial Alcohol "A" was off ¾ at 18¼ while the "B" spurted near the close to gain ½ at 17½.

Consolidated Smelters, Shawinigan Power, Power Corporation, National Steel Car, McColl-Frontenac, Cockshutt Plow and Hamilton Bridge all eased a fraction. Royal Bank dipped a point.

Sales 35,138 shares; bonds $25,800.

ADJOURN WHEAT NEGOTIATIONS

LONDON, July 27 (AP)—Negotiations between wheat delegations of Canada, the United States, Argentina and Australia for restriction of acreage were adjourned today until August 21.

SHE LIKES TROUSERS FOR GOLFING

LONDON, (CP)—Diana Fishwick, well-known English golfer, stated recently:

"For the first time in England I have seen two women playing golf in trousers. The morning had turned very wet, so they entered the professional's shop and re-appeared comfortably protected by loose waterproof trousers, such as men pull over their plus-fours.

"With coats of suitable length, they looked quite smart, and kept their stockings dry.

"It is easy to predict that breeks worn in this way will soon replace the mackintosh skirt which flops about and looks so wet. The trousers were sufficiently roomy to pull on over a short skirt without looking clumsy."

PHILLIES GET OUT OF CELLAR

Pirates Blank Chicago; Giants Whitewash Dodgers

PHILADELPHIA, July 27 (AP)—Philadelphia batted their way out of the National league cellar today by virtue of a pair of triumphs over Boston Braves in a double-header conquest, winning the first game 4-3 and taking the nightcap 2-1.

Second game:

GIANTS SHUT OUT DODGERS

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Carl Hubbell continued his shutout pitching today to give New York Giants a 2-0 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers and increase their National league lead to five full games. Hubbell gave only four hits, three by Joe Hutcheson, to ring up his 16th victory of the season.

Malahoff Enters Canadian Tennis

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Entries from Manitoba and Saskatchewan for the Canadian tennis tournament opening here Monday were received today by Secretary R. D. Kinmond of the Vancouver Tennis club. Although the entry list was officially closed tonight, Mr. Kinmond said several post entries were expected before Saturday night.

Manitoba association will be represented by three players new to national competition. Two juniors, Cuthbert Hopper and Marshall Smith are also entered in the men's singles and Gordon Horn completed the Manitoba trio.

Saskatchewan will be represented by three experienced players, all from Saskatoon. Vera Borland, former University of Saskatchewan stylist, will bid for the ladies' singles crown. The veteran chop-stroke artist, Fred Arscott, and southpaw Alf Bence are entered in the men's events.

NONE FROM ALBERTA

No entries have been received so far from Alberta although the Calgary junior star, Stan Haydon, now a resident of Vancouver, will be a formidable contender for the junior title held by Colin Milne of Vancouver. Haydon won the Alberta junior championship last year and reached the semi-finals of the men's singles. He is playing well this season and recently gained the quarter-final bracket of the British Columbia clay courts singles.

In addition to the troupe of 40 United States players now participating in the British Columbia championships at Victoria, several other American players are expected for the Canadian tourney. Entries of Merle Moore, Tucson, Ariz., and Max Thatcher, Los Angeles, were received today.

One of the British Columbia interior's star performers, Tommy Malahoff of Nelson, will compete.

"Big League" BASEBALL

Curve Balls

BY AL DEMAREE

All curve balls, whether they are side-arm, three-quarters or delivered directly overhand are held in the same manner. The ball is held between the first two fingers and thumb and by a double motion or snap of the elbow and wrist, the combination of sharpness and curve are obtained. The young pitcher should experiment with all three types of curves and see which one suits his style. If he can mix all three when pitching, so much the better.

The "sinker" is a fast ball, so called because it is a "heavy" ball and has a tendency to sink or drop as it approaches the batter. The ball is held loosely so as not to revolve too rapidly and when correctly thrown is a dead, heavy laden sort of fast ball.

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated leaflet on "Baseball Signs" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

July 28, 1913—America regained the Davis tennis cup when Maurice McLoughlin defeated Charles P. Dixon in straight sets 8-6, 6-3, 6-2 at Wimbledon, England.

Will Hold Double Header on Sunday

Two baseball game are listed for the local Recreation grounds on Sunday afternoon. Creston, Crows' Nest All Stars, will play the local senior team, and the Trail Junior team will meet the local junior representative team. Both local organizations had games listed for Sunday afternoon and several conferences were held yesterday to clear up the difficulties.

The gate receipts will be split fifty-fifty between the seniors and juniors.

CUBS AND YO YOS PLAY SATURDAY

Juvenile baseball league standing:

	won	lost	pct.
New Grand Hotel Cubs	6	0	1.000
Yo Yos	2	4	.333
Fairview Juveniles	1	5	.167

The New Grand Hotel Cubs meet the Yo Yos on Saturday morning in the fourth game of the season between the two teams. The Yo Yos who have held the New Grand team to close scores in all their previous games, have Pete Lutkowitch back on the pitching mound and will endeavor to hand the Cubs their first defeat in league games. Each team has four games to play, before the playoffs between the first and second place teams in a best two out of three game series. The worst the New Grand team can do is finish in a tie for first place.

Aimee States Hutton Through With Temple

BALTIMORE, July 26—(AP) — Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton indicated today her husband's connection with the $1,000,000 Angelus temple had been severed forever.

Commenting on the report of David Hutton, her husband and former choir leader in the temple, had opened his recent vaudeville debut with the statement he had been "acting" since he married her two years ago, the evangelist said:

"If he means that, he can never return to Angelus temple. We have not hypocrites."

She was not so definite what effect the purported statement would have on their strained martial relations.

"The temple and my home are entirely separate," she said.

Hutton recently started divorce action, charging he had been treated as a "pet poodle" and was tired of being the husband of a famous woman.

JACK WRIGHT IS THROUGH IN SINGLES

Has Followed Gruelling Trail Far Enough; to Play Doubles

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Dr. Jack Wright declared today he is through with singles play in tournament tennis. At the age of 31, veteran Davis cup player, three times Canadian champion, says he has followed the exhausting, perspiration-soaked trail to a singles title for the last time.

With the Canadian championships opening here next week, the doctor has refused to enter the singles. Only after much persuasion did he consent to enter the doubles as partner to Walter Martin, the Regina and Toronto star.

"I don't mind doubles," said Dr. Wright, "That's fun. But singles involves a terrific amount of hard work and I'm not as young as I used to be. I haven't had time to practice and there would be a good chance of some youngster, playing confidently after a summer of tournament tennis, beating me in an early round.

WAS BOOED

"Some years ago," continued the doctor, "I watched Willard Crocker, one of the greatest players Canada ever produced, trying to stage a comeback in a Montreal tournament after a long lay-off. He was beaten by a comparative unknown and the spectators booed him, called him names, said he was a quitter. I promised myself then and there I would never leave myself open to such treatment.

"I have won the Canadian title three times," stated the doctor. "What difference will it make to me 20 years from now if I have won it three times or four? There is nothing more for me to win in Canada, and I do not aspire to greater heights. I prefer to play the game in future as a game and not as a nerve-wracking, punishing grind of continual practice and gruelling competition."

Trail Team Ready for Barnstorming

TRAIL, B.C., July 27—The Trail senior baseball team is all set to start their barnstorming tour of the Okanagan and other interior points. They will leave Trail on the morning of August 5 to play the first game of their trip in Nakusp the same day.

"Scotty" Ross will act as manager of the team, Steve Matovich, regular manager, being unable to make the tour.

So far the team has been lined up as follows—Ross p, Decembrini c, J. Morris 1b, "Wish" Milburn 2b, Harry Rothery ss, "Rico" Martin 3b, Mike Buckna lf, Hank Lauriente cf, "Granny" Young rf.

The boys have been turning out to regular practices and practice games and appear to be in good shape for the trip. Judging from the type of baseball they played at Sullivan Lake, Wash., last Sunday, there is no doubt that they will make a good showing in their games.

So far only five games have been lined up but a number of interior towns have yet to be heard from. Final arrangements have already been made with Nakusp, Salmon Arm, Penticton, where two games will be played, and Kamloops.

When two Stradivarius violins were offered at auction one, made in 1725, was knocked down for $11,500, and the other, made in 1714, brought $4,000.

HENLEY COURSE, Port Dalhousie, Ont., July 27 (CP).—A four-oared crew that packed enough stamina to win two national championships in two hours today sent Buffalo's youthful West Sides away to a thrilling start in their drive to retain club honors at the 51st Royal Canadian Henley regatta.

Of 14 events contested on the first day of the three-day meet, the blue-and-white garbed invaders won seven, three of them national titles.

Stroked by Eddie Swanson, a Buffalo crew that took the junior fours at three o'clock in the afternoon, were good enough to sweep to a four-length victory over Hamilton Leanders in the 150-pound event a bare two hours later. West Sides' other national crown came in the junior 140-pound fours, won by an outfit stroked by P. Bombicino.

WRIGHT WINS

Joe Wright, Jr., former Diamond sculls holder, captured the only other national title at stake today when he finished two lengths ahead of Johnny Durnam, of Toronto Dons, in the quarter-mile sprint. His time was 1.14 1-5.

France and Britain Start Tennis Today

PARIS, July 27—(AP)—The British Davis cup team, victor over United States in the interzone final, tonight was primed to break the six year reign of France in the challenge round opening tomorrow on the Red court of Roland Carros stadium.

The British have an experienced team in Fred Perry, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, George Patrick Hughes and H. G. N. Lee, reserve player. They doubt that Henri Cochet, main reliance of the French, can defeat both Perry and Austin, even conceding that France will win the doubles.

TEST PILOTS GAVE GREAT EXHIBITION IN BRITISH PLANES

Single-Seater Fighters and Vertically Banked Turns Were Sensational

England's unknown airmen, the test pilots of the aircraft manufacturing companies, had their day at Hendon aerdrome recently. The supberb skill and informed daring of their flying brought expressions of admiration from the most critical crowd ever assembled to watch an aerial demonstration, the representatives of military and civil aviation in more than sixty lands who were the guests of the Society of British Aircraft Constructors at its second flying display and exhibition.

For two hours of the morning airplane succeeded airplane in perfectly timed demonstration flights Twenty-four machines, all of different types, were put through their paces. In the few minutes at his disposal, every pilot contrived to show to advantage the merits of his craft, its ease of control and wide speed range as well as its maximum speed and power in manoeuvre.

Inevitably, the most spectacular flights were made in the new high-powered single-seater fighters, craft capable in the dive of speeds ranging up to more than 400 miles an hour. Major Bulman, flying the modified Hawker "Fury" fighter which is stated by the Air Ministry to be the fastest military aircraft in the world, crossed the aerdrome, in level flight at the end of a power dive, at an indicated air speed of 320 m.p.h., recalling memories of Schneider Trophy racers. He rocketed vertically skywards, literally hanging on the airscrew, till he was lost in clouds at a height of about three thousand feet. His first approaching dive towards the aerodrome brought every watcher to his feet, as the tiny plane, urged by the power of its special "Kestrel" motor, devoured the miles separating the point at which the dive was begun from the centre of the flying field.

EQUALLY SENSATIONAL

Equally sensational was Flight Lieutenant Staniland's demonstration in the Fairey "Firefly" fighter, a craft which is standard equipment of the Belgian army air regiments. His vertically banked turns at full speed were made so low that spectators were able to look into the cockpit of his machine as it roared overhead.

The new fighters equipped with air-cooled engines, capable of level speeds ranging up to 220 miles an hour, were equally impressive for the expert watcher, though the engines have not quite the formidable bellow of the water-cooled units in the "Fury" and the "Firefly," and the blunt "nose" to the fuselage characteristic of the radial powerplant does not give the same illusion of sheer speed as the streamlined cowling of the "Kestrel." But Mr. Saint in the new Gloster S S. 19B, Mr. Uwins, incidentally, holder of the world's height record, in the Bristol "Bulldog IV", and Mr. Campbell-Orde in the Armstrong Whiteworth A. W. XVI, were able to satisfy the experts that there is little to choose even in ultimate speed and rate of climb between the two classes of fighter. From this group of three machines will be selected within the next few months the airplane which will re-equip certain squadrons of London's air defence system.

BIG SPEED RANGE

The bigger machines were handled with equal skill, the smooth mastery with which every craft was put through its paces earning many words of appreciation. Squadron-Leader England, flying the Handley Page "Heyford" twin-engined night bomber, showed the big speed range of this ingenious and efficient new machine most effectively in two runs over the aerdrome, one of them at full speed of more than 140 miles an hour, the other at minimum flying speed.

There could have been no better demonstration of the qualities of the Handley Page automatic wing-slot system, except only the astonishing show put up by the "Gugnunc," a small biplane which has an absurdly slow landing speed and a top speed of nearly two miles a minute. Mr. Summers did beautifully tight turns, with the wings vertical, in the new "Seagull V" amphibian flying boat. Space forbids detailed mention of more of these fine pilots, many of whom are men who fought air battles in the war and are now nearing middle age. No finer flying has ever been seen; from start to finish every manoeuvre was executed with that elusive little more than perfection which marks the work of the master hand.

106 FOR MOOSE JAW

Vies With La Fleche for Heat Honors

REGINA, July 27 (CP)—Moose Jaw shared heat honors with La Fleche today as southern Saskatchewan sweltered in the third day of a heat wave.

For the second day the mercury ran up to the 106 mark at Moose Jaw while La Fleche today climbed to that point for the first time. Other points had temperatures ranging from 100 to 105.

PILCHARD OIL FOR POULTRY

Pilchard oil, which is produced on the coast of British Columbia, has been shown by work at the poultry division of the Dominion experimental farms to be equal to poultry cod liver oil in supplying both vitamins A and D to the ration, and can therefore be used like cod liver oil when available. Vitamin D is the equivalent of the ultra violet rays in sunshine, and it is an essential point that cod liver or pilchard oil should be used at all times for birds in confinement away from sunlight. In considering these oils it is preferable to buy an oil biologically tested when possible for poultry use. That means that the oil has been tested upon rate or chicks by the manufacturer and found to be potent in these vitamins. On the other hand, some cod liver oils are produced which, although they may be potent in vitamins, are so rancid and unappetizing as to be unsuitable for feeding purposes. These oils are usually produced by what is called the "sun rotting" process.

Good Again Heads Cooperative Union

REGINA, July 27 (CP)—Reelection W. C. Good of Paris, Ont., president, the Cooperative Union of Canada tonight concluded its convention.

In final session, the delegates adopted resolutions urging removal or reduction of barriers to international trade between Canada and Great Britain or any other country disposed to trade with Canada, and abolition of the sales tax and substantial reduction of tariff schedules affecting necessities of life.

WEEDS PROVIDE EXCELLENT DYES

WINNIPEG, Man.—(CP)—The revival of "cottage industries," spinning and weaving, is responsible for the discovery of a new art in Winnipeg, says Lillian Gibbons in the Tribune. The extraction of dyes from weeds, barks and vegetables, that will produce a fast color for wool, has been converted by Mrs. E. J. Churchill, of Sturgeon Creek, from a hobby into an art. Wool is a substance hard to dye because of the oil in it.

In her own garden Mrs. Churchill has experimented with flowers and vegetables that will produce fast wool dye. On the prairie fields near her home she found weeds with equally good staining qualities.

This woman, who came to Canada from England 20 years ago with no knowledge of handicrafts but with a bent for botany and chemistry, has learned to wash wool card it, and finally spin it, within the last year. Her teacher was a Norwegian woman, Mrs. Mitzi Dale, who found this English woman a ready pupil. Not content with spinning, Mrs. Churchill wanted to weave, not with a shuttle, but with her fingers on a tapestry loom. At this point the need for colored wools not readily procurable was borne upon her, and in the fertile brain of her produced results.

A common weed on the prairie was the bedstraw, which Mrs. Churchill boiled, producing a rich geranium red shade. She removed the oil from her washed wool by soaking it in salt and soda, and immersed the fluffy mass in the red bath. The color "took" and with the addition of a mordant such as alum, cream of tartar, etc., the dye proved fast. Mrs. Churchill's simple test for fastness was to place the little gobs of colored wool in the sun, and turn them over in a few days to see if fading had occurred.

Success brought fun to the experiments and fascination to the work Birch leaves boiled with mordant produced green; marigold heads, a rich yellow; walnut husks, a soft brown. The vegetable field was experimented with. Instinctively the housewife in the artist chose those vegetables which stain the fingers most in cooking beets and onions. Thus far Mrs. Churchill is not satisfied with the beet dye, it is disappointingly and surprisingly pale in color, flesh-tint. But she has not given up the rich red root. "I'll try dying in an iron pot, when I can find one in a second hand store."

APPLES MAKE YELLOW

After the initial stages of the dyeing experiments had passed, Mrs. Churchill realized she had a new use for her scientific knowledge. She read botany texts, studied more chemistry and used her lovely garden for a school of practice. Apple bark can be stripped from the tree prunings—either wild or cultivated apple—and the peelings boiled to produce a delicate yellow. Poplar and willow bark, too, produce shades of yellow. Even spinach greens, tried just for luck, produced yellow.

Chickweed produces violet, and bloodroot brown. Chokecherries stain clothing, so Mrs. Churchill tried them for dyeing qualities. A pale amethyst shade resulted Oak bark gives black. When the wool is taken from the dye bath it is uneven in color, but in the carding the shades are blended miraculously.

Merino wool from Alberta is the subject of Mrs. Churchill's present attentions. The staple is very short, only four or five inches, so that the spinning of this wool presents difficulties. For Merino wool, therefore, the ingenious woman has reversed her processes; some of the oil is left in the wool so that it may be spun more easily; then the oil is removed from the skeins and the skeins dyed—for oil won't dye.

BOECKH ADVANCE TO THIRD ROUND

WINNIPEG, July 27 (CP)—George Boeckh, York Downs, Toronto, sensation maker of the Manitoba amateur golf championships advanced to the third round here today by defeating Alex Weir, five and four, after fighting his first hard battle of the tourney against Jack Hopwood and finally downing the St. Charles Country club member on the 28th hole.

Bobby Reith, 18-year-old defending champion, progressed easily by defeating Carson McWilliams, of Elmhurst, four and two, and then vanquishing his club mate, Dave Arnott, two and one.

Visitors to London this summer will see Big Ben in splints. Restoration of the decaying stonework has begun, and the clock tower will soon be wrapped in a network of steel scaffolding from top to bottom.

The largest meteor ever seen by the Shetland Islanders dropped from high in the heavens recently and burst like a huge rocket into glowing fragments which illuminated the interiors of houses like a flash of lightning.

A curious phenomenon was seen recently over the Oichiby Mountains in Japan when two suns appeared, one being a reflection in a cloud of frozen vapor.

Rogers Brothers, Genesee, Idaho, advertised their farm with cabbage heads set in a carrot field in the form of letters.

"SLOPPY" COURT DRESS REBUKED

LONDON, (CP)—"Sloppy" dress in court has been rebuked by the presiding magistrate at Bromyard, Herefordshire, police court. A witness who appeared to give evidence in a case was wearing a golf jacket, grey flannel trousers and a white shirt with collar open at the neck.

The chairman, Col M. T. Lutley, remarked that witnesses should be properly clothed. Exception, he said, had been taken in other courts to persons appearing sloppily dressed on the ground it did not show proper respect to the court. When the witness began to give evidence he was told by the chairman to take his hand out of his pocket.

FAMOUS SKIIER DIES IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (CP)— A tragedy in the northern wilds of Sweden when the "ski king," Anders Ahrman, lost his life was recently reported in the Stockholm press. He was 80 years old. Ahrman in his younger days, was one of Sweden's most famous bear hunters and ski-runners.

In spite of a heavy thunderstorm he went out in his boat to draw his long-line in the mouth of the Pearl river near the little Lapland settlement of Peuraure. A sudden squall upset the boat and Ahrman was thrown overboard. His aged wife, who saw the desperate plight of her husband, went to his rescue in another boat and managed to throw him a line and pull him ashore Ahrman spoke a few words to her and then collapsed and died, due probably from heart failure brought on by the exertion.

In the cottages and Lapp tents of the northland old people are now telling their children about the almost legendary strength and adventures of the "ski king." They tell how 50 years ago he took part in a ski run, one of the outstanding achievements of Sweden's ski history, covering a stretch of 210 kilometres through the wildest regions of Lapland. After finishing the run he danced all night. Without any rest, he again strapped on his skis and went another 110 kilometres to Peuraure. After a couple of hours of sleep he went out and single-handed killed a bear seen in the neighborhood.

FORMER SPOUSES' VIEWS DISAGREE

LOS ANGELES, (CP)—Helen Marie Haskin, screen actress and motor car and cigarette ad girl, and Col. McClelland Barclay, noted artist and illustrator, who have just been divorced here, had their own ideas about beautiful women.

"A red headed woman cannot depend upon her hair alone for charm," said Miss Haskin, former New York socialite, shortly before the family rift. She herself has red hair, which did not always show red in the advertisement and magazine covers. She was her husband's model.

"If red haired women lately have become preferred to blondes and brunettes, it is because of bright colors rampant in women's dress."

Barclay, who had been married once before, declared that for a woman to be really beautiful she should have Kay Francis' gait, Marlene Dietrich's legs, Wynne Gibson's knees, Marion Hopkin's chest and shoulders, Carole Lombard's hips, Sylvia Sidney's hands, Mae West's teeth, Helen Twelvetree's lips and Elissa Landi's carriage.

The most recent expressed idea of Nan Barclay, his first wife, was post-martial. She was reported seeking a patent for a "Reno Ring" for divorcees. The ring was of black onyx, plain like an old fashioned wedding ring and to be worn on the third finger of the left hand. Inside the band was engraved the word "free".

She also has been seeking additional security from Barclay to insure payment of $1000 a month alimony. They were divorced in Chicago in February, 1933.

Miss Haskin, in obtaining her divorce charged cruelty. She said Barclay had quarrelled with her over a game of backgammon last Christmas and the following morning refused to look at the Christmas tree she had decorated for their home. Barclay entered a denial but but did not appear in court.

They were married October 11, 1933, in a unique ceremony on Lake Kegar, Maine. They sat in a canoe while the minister read the ceremony from the shore.

A lost ball saved two lives when a Plymouth girl, searching in a trench by the roadside, discovered two men overcome by fumes from a fractured gas main and ran for aid.

Books exported from the United States in 1932 were valued at $3,405,391.
