Ross Urges Vets to Play Cricket

Minister of Pensions Promises Less Red Tape in Business

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP)—"We have a better opportunity of having a more favorable understanding with the government than ever before," Brig.-Gen. Alex Ross, Dominion president, told he annual convention of the Canadian Legion today.

He was expressing pleasure at remarks made earlier by Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions, who said less red tape and more humanity in dealing with war veteran affairs were the aims of the government.

The president took some members and branches of the Legion to task for various things. Speaking of licenced premises he said, "there is nothing radically wrong with a branch of the Canadian Legion with a full quota of members acquiring a licence to dispense beer, but when a branch with a membership of 24 consumes $7500 worth of the liquid at wholesale prices in one year, that's not exactly playing cricket."

"Was it a British Columbia branch," shouted one delegate, but the answer was lost in laughter.

"We have balanced our budget," General Ross said, "but we could have done much better if you had lived up to your obligations during the past year. If you vote for something, stick by it. Otherwise what is the sense of spending considerable sums on conventions."

Five Castlegar Doukhobors, convicted on a charge of failing to cause their children to attend school, were brought to the Nelson provincial jail Saturday. Tom Wolken, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $2 and costs or to spend 30 days in jail, paid the fine and was released.

Nick Horkoff, George Nazaroff, Alex. Nazaroff and John Androsoff chose a 14-day jail term rather than pay a fine of $1 and costs.

They appeared before O. B. Ballard at Castlegar. The prosecution was conducted by Constable George MacAndrew.

In Mansion house, where the drawing takes place, the famous drum, in which the millions of counterfoils are whirled in obedience of fate and luck, was decorated to represent the flags of all nations of the new world.

All drawers of horses, excepting holders of tickets on the first, second and third, will receive £714. Last year, in the same race, the horse prizes were worth £795.

Division of the £100,000 prize units for tomorrow's draw will be as follows: First prize £30,000; second prize £15,000; third prize £10,000; to 49 draws of unplaced horses at £714 odd £35,000; 100 cash prizes of £100 each £10,000.

Mayors Maintain Stand on Relief

Believe Burden Is Up to the Government; Urge Some Action April 1

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Reiteration of their proposal that the Dominion government should assume the entire administration and cost of unemployment relief was the chief feature of the deliberations of the various committees appointed today at the Dominion mayors' conference. It was urged that this responsibility on the part of the Dominion begin on April 1.

Another resolution, adopted by the committee on finance for presentation to a plenary session of the conference tomorrow, asked that municipal debts be included in any scheme for the refunding of federal and provincial debt.

A national housing plan was also recommended to be operated under a Dominion subsidy, while a comprehensive program of public works was suggested, the cost to be borne by the Dominion. The committee dealing with this subject requested, in addition, that the Dominion assist public works undertaken by the municipalities.

For the most part the resolutions emerging from the committees differed in few respects from those adopted by the conference at its inaugural convention in Montreal last March. Some features of the year-old resolutions have been deleted, while others have been amplified to make them conform to new conditions that have developed in the last 12 months.

WEIR DEFENDS START MADE TO INSURE HEALTH

Under-Privileged Will Reap Benefits Says the B. C. Minister

PROTECTION IS AN IMPERATIVE DUTY

No Intention Cripple Hospitals by Cuts in the Grants

VICTORIA, March 23 (CP)—While there was scope for honest differences of opinion concerning the advisability of enacting into law the proposed health insurance bill, a grave responsibility devolved upon the members of the house, declared Hon. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary and sponsor of the measure, in opening debate on the controversial legislation today. Opponents of health insurance might retard, but could not prevent progressive social changes, Dr. Weir declared. Since 1919 the question of health insurance had been widely discussed. Two royal commissions, one in 1920 and another in 1928 had found the people overwhelmingly in favor of the plan and the committee of 1934 also reported favorably.

Dr. Weir did not suppose a single member of the legislature was wholly satisfied with the present draft, but it was a good beginning and went as far as possible at this time.

The effort of the martial law decree was to suspend constitutional guarantees for Brazil's 47,000,000 inhabitants. Among these guarantees lifted was one forbidding the death penalty, banishment or perpetual confiscation.

7-YEAR RECORD ON COAST LIST

2,573,814 Shares Are Traded in Day at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—A new seven-year record was established on the Vancouver stock exchange today as stock sales reached 2,573,814 shares. The largest previous day was in 1929 when 3,000,000 shares were sold. The 1929 total, however, included about a million and a half shares of B.C. Montana which was selling for ⅛ cent.

Field reports at Minto, in the Bridge River district, started the present buying campaign about two weeks ago.

Since then interest has developed in neighboring mines including Reward, Federal and Morning Star.

Reward was the heaviest trader today with 516,500 and Federal followed close with 355,800 shares sold.

Only 211,000 shares of Minto were traded on today's session compared with 414,000 March 12.

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP)—Production has been curtailed at the Esperanza mine in the Portland canal district due to fire of unknown origin which damaged the compressor building, it was learned here today.

Guest Disappears and So Does the Hotel's Furniture

CALGARY, Alta., March 23—(CP)—Police are looking for a guest of a local hotel. Today his room was found as bare as the proverbial cupboard of Mother Hubbard. The guest had disappeared and along with him went dresser scarves, pillowslips, sheets and blankets, a table lamp and wall mirror.

Sailor's Death Yet Unfathomed

ALAMEDA, Calif., March 23 (AP)—Police fingerprinted the entire 36 crew members of the freighter Point Lobos and sought a woman for questioning tonight in attempts to solve the knife slaying of Chief Engineer George W. Alberts.

Officers would not disclose whether any clues had been unearthed from the prints, but said only one member of the crew, all of whom are held incommunicado aboard the ship, was found to have a police record and that was for vagrancy.

George Hard, investigator for district Attorney Early Warren sought a young stenographer reported to have been Albert's companion Saturday night. His knife-slashed body was found in his cabin shortly before the freighter was to have sailed Sunday noon.

English Pair Must Spend Month in Edmonton to Earn an Inheritance

Their Mother, Fearing They Will Be Lonely, Writes Mayor Asking Him to Provide Some "Jolly Young People"

EDMONTON, March 23 (CP)—Acting Mayor Fry has received a letter from a woman in London, England, and doesn't know just what to do about it.

The woman, Mrs. Ada V. Wells, wrote that her son and daughter, aged 27 and 19, respectively, recently received an inheritance from an uncle who specified in his will that his nephew and niece should spend one month in Edmonton, Canada, before they get the money.

Here is where the mayor enters. The nephew and niece are to come to Edmonton in order to qualify for the inheritance, which apparently, is substantial, but they don't know anyone here and are afraid they will have to spend the month "lonely and isolated in some hotel." The woman wants the mayor to put her son and daughter with some "jolly young people" or a ranch owner.

TRAGIC DEATHS SUFFERED BY SURVEY MEN AS TAPE HITS HIGH POWER LINE

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (AP).—Two members of a Shell Oil company survey, gang stood on opposite sides of a ravine in the Baldwin hills today, holding the ends of a steel surveyor's tape.

They started pulling the slack out of the tape, raising the middle from the bottom of the ravine. The tautening tape neared a high tension power line.

"Look out! High line! It's hot!" shouted a telephone lineman working nearby.

Wendell B. Nesbitt, 29, heard the warning. He lowered his end of the tape and shouted to Charles Fox, 26, across the ravine, 200 yards away: "Don't pull it any higher."

But just then there was a crackling flash as the tape touched the power line. Nesbitt screamed and fell dead.

On the other side, Fox also screamed and stood as though transfixed at the fate of Nesbitt. C. S. Hamner, surveyor directing the job, stood near Fox. He raised his heavy surveyor's notebook and knocked the tape from Fox's hand.

PRUNE DAMAGED TREES LIGHTLY

Roots Will Require All Leaves Possible

Because of the damage done to fruit trees in the late October freeze-up and cold snap February, pruning should be light, according to E. C. Hunt, Dominion horticulturist at Nelson. It is unlikely there is much root injury, he stated, and therefore the roots will require all the leaves possible to keep them alive. The late varieties of apples are liable to be injured the most, such as Wageners, Ontarios, Newton Pippins, Rome Beauties, and to some extent Spies. These should be pruned light or not at all. There should be little damage to Wealthy, McIntosh Red, Jonathan, Cox's Orange and Delicious. Where injury is light the usual amount of pruning may be done, said Mr. Hunt.

The exact amount of winter damage, he pointed out, was hard to estimate until growth started. Trees that do show the most effects of injury are damaged on the southwest side of the trunk, indicating that it was the February cold spell that caused the damage. Some fruit and leaf buds are injured. Where the bark of the trees, particularly the cherry trees, has cracked or lifted it is advisable to tack it down when growth starts.

MILLION AND HALF FOR DEVELOPMENT NORTH TAR SANDS

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP)—Development of the tar sand deposits at Fort McMurray in northern Alberta will begin immediately, Hon. C. C. Ross, Alberta minister of lands and mines, announced here tonight.

He said arrangements had been made by a private company to spend $1,500,000 in the next two years in erecting a plant at Fort McMurray to extract petroleum and other by-products from the tar-sands. The company is being financed by American capital.

League Awaits Word From Mussolini and Hitler

Warns of Possibliity of European War at Any Period

BRITISH HARDEN SANCTIONS IDEA

New Plea for Peace Is Sent to Italy and Ethiopia

By JAMES C. OLDFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 23 (AP) — With apprehension the League of Nations council awaited word tonight from two dictators—Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

Der fuehrer's all-important answer to the proposals of the four Locarno powers was still unsighted late tonight. It was linked closely by league circles with an expected message from the Italian dictator stating his basic demands for halting the war in Africa.

A definite hardening of the British attitude against the lifting of sanctions as a bargain for Mussolini's Locarno cooperation was voiced in authoritative quarters. These sources stated reports that Italian bombers "are using mustard gas" against the Ethiopians considerably lessened chances for a let up in the application of sanctions.

The league's committee of 13, which is the council without Italy, dispatched a new plea for peace directly to Italy and Ethiopia after resuming consideration of the war today. Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's special ambassador, dispatches from Berlin said may fly to London tomorrow bringing Germany's scheme for solution of the first part of the double dilemma confronting the league—the Rhineland crisis and the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, replying to questions in the house of commons, reiterated that the Locarno memorandum to Germany is in "the nature of proposals" and is not an ultimatum.

PROFITEERS ARE BEING ABOLISHED

Claims Britain Wants Make Italy Like a Barbarian State

ROME, March 23 (CP-Havas)—Premier Mussolini girded Italy for a possible European war tonight in a series of decisions strengthening the national defence system and tightening his attitude on international affairs.

In an address to the general assembly of corporations—delivered under the shadow of a statue of Julius Caesar—Il Duce announced the following moves:

1. Abolition of the chamber of deputies and fulfillment of his long expressed determination to create a completely corporate state.

2. Assumption of the state of control over all Italian industry, commerce and agriculture.

3. A reinforcement of the bonds binding Italy, Austria and Hungary by conclusion today of a new three-power accord.

TRADE TREATY TO THE SENATE

Bennett Makes a Last Minute Attack on the Bill

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—The Canada-United States trade treaty passed its final test in the house of commons tonight when the bill to ratify the pact received third reading. It now goes to the senate and will come up for discussion in that chamber this week.

Last word in the long commons debate on the pact came from Hon. Charles Dunning, minister of finance who said, "We believe this treaty is good for Canada and good business for both countries."

A last-minute attack on the Canadian-American trade treaty was made by Conservative Leader Bennett when the ratification bill was in its final stages.

Canada, said the Conservative leader, made a bad bargain and paid too high a price for concessions won from Washington. American benefits under the treaty were out of all proportion to benefits won by Canada.

There were good points to the treaty, Mr. Bennett said, concessions for ranchers, lumbermen and other primary producers, but industry had been struck a vital blow. Canada's army of unemployed would not be diminished by a single man as a result of the treaty.

Winch Says City Men Started Coast Riot

VICTORIA, March 23 (CP)—Men "in cities" and not relief camp boys, had started the strike riot in Vancouver last summer, Harold E. Winch (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said in public accounts committee of the British Columbia legislature today.

He had seen the men wielding saps, he said. One of them hit him on the shoulder.

"How do we know it was not special investigators that started the riot?" he asked.

YOUTH FAINTS IN WITNESS BOX AT ARSON TRIAL

Mrs. Storbo Tells of Seeing Smoke and Flames

MRS. RADCLIFFE HAD JUST LEFT

Cows an Element in Relations Between the Families

Collapsing in the witness box after testifying for half an hour on behalf of the crown, 19-year-old Richard Storbo of Slocan Park brought to a sudden adjournment late Monday afternoon the speedy trial of Mrs. Annabelle Radcliffe of Nelson on a charge of setting fire to her house and outbuildings in that settlement on May 22 last. The tall youth was being questioned in great detail by Prosecutor C. B. Garland, as to the location of the various structures on the Radcliffe property, when it was observed that his face was becoming pale, and he was grasped by a number of friendly hands that saved him from falling when he fainted. It was then 4:45 p.m., and Judge W. A. Nisbet adjourned court to the morning.

Only four witnesses were on the stand during the day, W. L. Affleck of the public works department, who had made a map of the Radcliffe place; Lawrence McPhail of the land titles office, who proved that Mrs. Radcliffe was the owner of the property at the time the fire took place; Mrs. Esther Storbo, Mrs. Radcliffe's nearest neighbor, who testified to seeing the fire break out a few minutes after Mrs. Radcliffe's departure after a visit to the place; and young Storbo, who, according to his mother's testimony, was with her when she witnessed the outbreak.

On Mrs. Radcliffe's pleading not guilty, Prosecutor Garland in outlining the case stated it would be shown that Mrs. Radcliffe had placed two insurance policies of $1000 each on the house prior to the fire.

Mr. Affleck, the first witness, produced the map he had prepared of the Radcliffe property subsequent to the fire, and Mr. Herchmer objected to it on the ground that it showed as fixed a point that was in dispute, a white square marking the purported site of one of the outbuildings. This mark was incorrectly placed, he said, and if allowed to be seen by other witnesses, would tend to make them corroborate that location. He said this matter was essential to the defence.

His honor overruled the objection, stating counsel could cross-examine on the matter, and the map was admitted.

Marking on the map the locations of the foundation of the destroyed house, a small bridge or trestle on the road, a small shack behind the house, and adjacent to the C.P.R. right-of-way, the Storbo house, the Reid house, a gap in the right-of-way fence, and the Poloinkoff house, Mr. Affleck said the foundation of the burned house was about 10 feet higher than the railway track nearby; that the distance between the house site and the Poloinkoff house was 2900 feet along the road; that the Storbo house was about 35 feet higher than the Radcliffe site and was on a small hill, and the intervening ground between it and the Radcliffe site was nearly level with some trees, a distance of about 1050 feet separating them; that the Storbo and Reid houses were 2025 feet apart; and that from the south end of the bridge to a point on the road opposite the middle of the burned house site was approximately 75 feet.

Under cross-examination Mr. Affleck admitted his location of the outbuilding referred to by Mr. Herchmer was "the vaguest thing on the map," and part because of the scale to which it was drawn, and he admitted it was not properly placed, though the rest of the map represented actual measurements by instrument. Placing it from memory about 13 feet from the house line, instead of in close juxtaposition to it, he said he would infinitely prefer to make a measurement, if permitted.

It was then arranged that he should go to Slocan Park, and give a corrected marking later.

Mr. McPhail testified that lot 12,-095 was registered in the name of Annabelle Radcliffe, and had been so on May 22.

To Mr. Ferguson cross-examining, he said the registration was dated February 28, 1934. On request, Mr. McPhail looked up the date of the deed at the land titles office by which Mrs. Radcliffe acquired ownership, and at a later stage resumed the stand to state it was February 19 that same year. He stated the property was transmitted to her from her deceased husband's estate.

Mrs. Storbo, the crown's star witness, was on the stand more than three hours.

On direct examination she testified to seeing Mrs. Radcliffe pass her place on the afternoon of May 22, Merion Brown being at the wheel. Later when they passed in the opposite direction she saw that a third person in the car was Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Storbo varied somewhat in her estimate of the time between her two observations of the car, at first putting it between two and three hours. At a later stage, when she testified to seeing Mrs. Radcliffe leave her place just before the fire, putting her departure at 3:45, she reduced the interval materially.

SMOKE AND FLAMES

The main point of Mrs. Storbo's testimony was that when she was hanging out clothes she saw Mrs. Radcliffe leave her place and go in the direction of Nelson, and 10 minutes later saw smoke issuing apparently from the end of a lumber pile between the house and the C. P. R. fence. Later she was weeding in the garden, and saw flames rising from where she previously saw smoke, and then saw smoke burst out from the house near the second story. She stated her son was with her and saw what she did.

To the judge she explained that the small outbuilding was obscured by the lumber pile, from her point of observation.

Under cross-examination before the 1 o'clock adjournment, the witness said she and the Radcliffe's had been neighbors for a number of years when her family first settled at Slocan Park. She said she had visited the place only a couple of times, one being after the fire. Denying there was bad feeling between the two families, she admitted burying a cow on the Radcliffe's place owing to there being no dividing line fence, but was unaware of any protest having been made to members of her family by Mrs. Radcliffe. At an early period, she said, she had visited the Radcliffe's when Mrs. Radcliffe had tied up or impounded the Storbo cow, claiming it was in her clover field.

Two hours of the afternoon session was taken up with the cross-examination of Mrs. Storbo. Defence Counsel questioned her at length as to the visibility of the scene of the fire from her property, periods of time prior to and during the fire, and detail of her activities during the day.

Mrs. Stobo stated that she thought that the fire was coming from a shack from behind a lumber pile. At the fire marshall's enquiry she admitted she stated that her boy had informed her that the shack was in the position named, but on the stand she said that she knew it was there herself, having seen it during the construction of the larger building.

The position of the lumber pile in relation to the buildings was described, with the aid of several pencils laid to illustrate the lumber.

Mrs. Storbo was also questioned as to her boy's education and mentality, which she described as average and normal.

Richard, her son, who was working in the garden with her when the fire broke out, was sent to the Reid home. Mrs. Storbo stated that she did not want her son to go to the fire alone because she stated that another son had been accused by Mrs. Radcliffe of setting fire to property of the latter some years earlier.

Mrs. Storbo stated that her son had gone to the Reid house, which was almost twice as far as another neighbor's, the Markin home, because one was English and the other Doukhobor.

Bill and Pete Markin, who were plowing the Storbo land, joined young Storbo to go to the fire.

Mrs. Storbo underwent a lengthy memory test, in which the defence counsel questioned her as to details of her day's routine.

Her son had returned about 10 minutes from chasing a cow down the road on his bicycle, when the smoke was first sighted.

She stated that with the exception of the time her son was away for the cow, he had been with her continuously during the afternoon in question.

Richard Storbo was the last witness, and after a lengthy description of the scene, positions of buildings in relation to one another, to the highway, and the railway tracks, fainted, whereupon court was adjourned for the day.

ROSSLAND TAX RATE IS SET AT 60 MILLS

ROSSLAND, B.C., March 23.—The rate bylaw, 1936, was considered by the council sitting as a committee of the whole, and then given its third reading, the rate was set at 60 mills, the same as last year. This made up of interest and sinking fund general 28.5 mills, interest and sinking fund schools 4.5, school purposes 20.4, general purposes 6.6. It is estimated that the city's receipts for 1936 will be $100,094 and expenditures will amount to practically the same sum.

C. Kalahovd offered $20 for two lots on the corner of Sixth avenue and Monte Cristo on which he plans to erect a bungalow 22 x 30 with four rooms and bath, work to be done immediately. His offer was accepted, title to be withheld until the building is completed.

Mrs. Rose Pitt offered $10 for a lot on the corner of Columbia avenue and Monte Cristo street on which she will erect a four-room plaster house to cost approximately $1000. The offer was accepted, title to be withheld until the house is completed.

URGE SAFETY DEVICE

H. A. Bathie, of the safety first committee, of the Rossland Transportation society, wrote asking that the council take steps to have some kind of safety device installed at the C.P.R. crossing on St. Paul street. Cars coming up the Trail road cannot see the speeders and flat cars coming down the track until they are right upon them and collisions have been narrowly avoided in several instances. City Clerk J. A. McLeod was instructed to write the C.P.R. superintendent asking the installation of a warning bell or other safety device. City Foreman J. Newman stated he hoped to have a water line to the Black Bear district cleared this week.

Residents of Butte street asked permission to connect with the Columbia avenue sewer, the board of works will look into the matter and see what can be done. Mr. Newman reported that Butte street and the adjoining alley were on solid rock and permission to cross private property might be secured.

The request of the Rossland Cricket club for the use of the ball park every third Sunday and for the necessary practices was referred to the parks committee consisting of Aldermen J. F. Cooper, R. J. Portman and City Clerk J. A. McLeod.

The Rossland Transporation society is anxious to find a piece of land near Rossland which could be fixed up for picnic purposes. As soon as the snow goes the parks committee will look over some acreage owned by the city east of the city cemetery. This land is partly timbered, but the underbrush has been cleared out and it should make a suitable spot for picnics.

Balfour Heads Trail Society

TRAIL, B.C., March 23.—Alex. Balfour was reelected president of Trail Caledonian society for his seventh successive term at the annual meeting of that organization Friday night. David Longmuir was named vice-president. Mr. Balfour was first elected to the presidency of the association in 1929.

Other officers returned were William MacLeod, secretary-treasurer, James Coupland and J. H. Leckie, who were again chosen as directors. Kenneth MacKay, official piper last year, was reappointed.

Officers outlined plans for an active year to include the Caledonian games, sponsored annually by the society, and expected to be staged in August.

TRAIL, B. C., March 23—Another session of the Trail city council passed Monday night with the police dog situation still in abeyance. After suggested imposition of special licences ranging from $10 to $25 the matter was left on the table for another week to inquire from the city legal department if the council has the power to exclude police dogs from within the city limits.

Request of a delegation of Trail Firemen's association asking that a fund previously granted by the council to take care of losses such as damage to clothes incurred by volunteers at fires, but which had been dropped in recent years, be restored, was referred to the fire, water and light committee. The council was in sympathy with the volunteers but could not decide whether to grant a lump sum for the year or to have bills for losses presented from time to time to the council. Mayor Bruno Lerose suggested that a banquet be tended volunteer firemen. The delegation comprised Ernie Cook, George Woods and E. B. Hollington. Six mattresses, six pillows and two pairs of rubber boots were ordered purchased for the fire department. Notification of the city being charged 70 cents a day for a patient admitted to a Vancouver hospital was read. As it was not known whether the patient had entered the institution of his own accord or by order, the matter was referred to the mayor and city clerk, W. E. B. Monypenny for investigation.

Dr. F. S. Eaton, medical officer of health, reported four cases of whooping cough for the past week.

Rate bylaw for 1936 and percentage addition bylaw for 1936 received final adoption.

Water applications by J. Kirker Spokane street and J. P. Garnier Robertson sub-division, were referred to City Engineer S. S. McDiarmid with power to act.

Kinsmen Hear the District Governor

Alex Smith Speaks at Luncheon Monday

Alex Smith, Kinsmen district governor from Victoria, outlined the program for the Kinsmen convention in Easter at the coast, and also brought a message of cheer to the local club when he visited with them Monday night at a luncheon in the Golden Gate cafe. Accompanying him was Donald McIntosh, also of the Victoria club.

Following discussion on the question of having the district convention in Nelson next year, the members were of the opinion that if the convention could be brought here, it would be better to have it late in May than at Easter, thus giving visiting delegates a better change to get in by cars. A special dispensation will be needed for such a ruling.

Mr. Smith thanked the club for changing the night of its meeting to accommodate his visit to the city. He extended a hearty invitation to the members to attend the convention at Victoria in Easter. An elaborate program had been planned, he stated, and those going would be assured a good time. The first part of the entertainment would start Good Friday evening. Saturday would be devoted to business sessions during the day and then the evening would be given over to entertainment. There would be a special trip to Sidney Park Sunday, and a boat trip to Sidney island.

KINSHIP WONDERFUL

Speaking about Kinship, Mr. Smith stated it was wonderful to go into a strange place where there was a Kinsman club, and immediately be among friends. Kinsmen were like brothers, like belonging to one big family. Not all members caught the full vision of its meaning. The emblem of Kinsmen, the cross and the square, symbolized sacrifice and service and uprightness and integrity.

A good Kinsman, he said, sought to improve his character, ideals, morals, and also to make his club better. The value of a club could be judged only by the good it did for the individual members and the community.

Mr. McIntosh promised the Nelson members plenty of fun in chasing gooey ducks at Sidney island. He also added a few words to Mr. Smith's, asking the club to try to assist other clubs, and create a good feeling within the home club.

For washing articles of artificial silk a little household ammonia in the water is of great assistance, as it not only helps to cleanse, but also to restore the luster to the fiber.

THREE HOCKEY GAMES TONIGHT

Three local hockey games will be played at the Nelson civic centre rink tonight, the first game, between the Panthers and Scouts, bantam teams, starting at 7 o'clock. In the second game, from 7:45 to 9, Comets play Hume juveniles, and Fairview and Scouts, midget teams, start the final game at 9 o'clock.

The Comets-Hume game is the second of a best out of three series for the city title. Hume took the first 1-0 and had a big edge of the play. Comets won the league schedule handily but they failed to hit their stride in the first playoff game. If Hume wins tonight they take the championship.

Pats Still Top Trail Hoop Play

TRAIL, B.C., March 23 — More than doubling their opponents tally, Pats defeated Tigers 29-14 to establish a margin of 15 points over Tigers in the first of a two game playoff series, total points to count, to decide the Trail city intermediate basketball championship, at Memorial hall Saturday. Tigers defeated Bon Tons in a close game last Wednesday to win the right to meet Pats, leaders of the league series.

Teams and scores were:

Pats—Clyde Kennedy 2, Clark Graham 7, Harold Coverdale 10, Douglas Murdock, Ed. Groves, Desmond Hood 6, L. Murdock 2 and M. Cusick 2.

Tigers—Elmer Hall, D. Mandeville 4, Phil Thatcher 6, A. Wilson 4, J. Brady and Ian Kingwell.

Trail Tigers Home From Prairies

TRAIL, B.C., March 23—A number suffering from colds and sore throats, Trail junior Tigers returned to their home town on the noon train Monday from the farthest advancement any Trail junior squad has made in quest of the Abbot cup. Even Trainer Bert Repton and Coach and Manager W. S. (Scotty) Ross were hoarse of the throat when they related highlights of their trip to the two neighboring provinces. Repton's voice sounded the worse for a genuine cold but "Scotty's" might have been the result of his continuous shouting from the box during games.

"Scotty" had no excuses to offer and was proud of his crew in going as far as they did. He said the Saskatoon Wesleys were a tough crew to beat recalling the fact they defeated Prince Albert Mintos 4-0 during the past season.

In the five games the Tigers played they suffered but one casualty, Kendall, star defenceman, receiving the butt end of a stick in an eye during the first game in Calgary. Despite pain and difficulty in seeing, he continued on through the series.

SPEAKER URGES EXCHANGE, IDEAS

Rev. Donnell Brings Pulpit to Gyro Meeting

Rev. J. A. Donnell of Trinity United church brought along his own pulpit Monday night and gave members of the Nelson Gyro club a picture of religion as it should be practiced, when club members met at a luncheon in the Hume silver room. After outlining the principal points of religion, the speaker spoke for a time on friendship, the club's chief aim, and made a strong appeal for an interchange of ideas through the medium of public discussions. His address followed a demonstration of conjuring by W. A. Wilkinson who had a bag-full of tricks for those present.

Gyro members voted against entering a choir in the Kootenay Musical festival, and welcomed Dave Jones of Nelson, Bert Cochrane, A. M. McTavish and Alex Meldrum of Vancouver, club guests.

Mr. Donnell, in announcing that he would speak on the subject most intimate to himself, religion, declared that the subject must needs be given from a pulpit, and unfolded a collapsible one before proceeding.

Religion, while given an exalted position by some and termed good enough for women and children by others, went to the very roots of life and the foundation of the universe, the speaker said.

MECHANISM PLUS

Religion was mechanism plus, plus a mind. The plus dealt with a conception of God. It was not easy for the thoughtful man to believe in God yet most of the great men of science and culture believed in Him.

In speaking of the Gyro club's motto, friendship, the speaker declared that he still clung to the thought that he was living in a friendly universe in spite of the strife that was ever present.

He wondered that in carefully selecting the members the club had an ultimate aim of promoting universal friendship, or meant only to retain friendship for itself.

INTERCHANGE OF IDEAS

The world was in need of more friendship, based on a better understanding that could be provided by an understanding, patient, tolerant interchange of ideas.

The press, through its correspondence columns, provided one of the best means of interchange of ideas, he declared in enumerating ways by which such interchanges could be carried out. Churches, service clubs, and friendship clubs had fallen short of the mark in this regard, he thought, stating that they discouraged rather than encouraged argument.

DISCOURAGED DISCUSSION

He described numerous incidents where various organizations had discouraged attempts to interchange ideas through public discussion.

The fact that the working class was reading and taking more interest in economic conditions than were the so called middle and upper classes, the businessmen, was an ominous sign. Self-satisfied, superficiality was more to be feared than ignorance. There was little crude ignorance in the world today, he thought.

In closing he urged the members to support a move to make the civic centre auditorium a place for discussion groups were individuals might exchange their ideas. It would be a great contribution to friendship, but it would have its difficulties, he said.

VANCOUVER — Victoria Dominoes, last year's Canadian titleholders, defeated Vancouver Province 34-27 here in the fifth and deciding game of the British Columbia men's senior "A" basketball playoffs.

Trail Man Guilty, Minimum Wage

TRAIL, B.C., March 23.—Besides being ordered to pay $102.10 to Olive Gianchiglia, a former employee, Harry Taylor, second hand dealer and furniture manufacturer was fined $25 and osts of $2.50 when found guilty by Acting Police Magistrate Donald MacDonald of violating the Female Minimum Wage act. Sentence included an alternative of two months in the Nelson jail. Taylor paid the fine and back wages.

Payments to Mrs. Gianchiglia represented the difference between wages received and wage fixed by the board of industrial relations.

Although not pleading guilty Taylor admitted he had not paid the minimum wage as called for by the act and that the statement of wages received by Mrs. Gianchiglia was correct. He had given her employment as a favor, he said, and not because an increase in his staff was necessary. He felt that under these circumstances he was justified in paying the wage he had.

In summing up, his worship said that these circumstances had no bearing on the act. If the accused had wished to avail himself of inexperienced help he could have done so by obtaining necessary licence and observing other requirements of the act pertaining thereto.

Castlegar Man Fined, Hours of Work Act

TRAIL, B.C., March 23.—For failing to keep record of hours of work of employees, as required by the Hours of Work act, Pete Fominoff was fined $10 and costs of $3.75 when he was arraigned before Acting Police Magistrate Donald MacDonald in police court Saturday.

Prosecution was conducted by B. W. Dysart, inspector of provincial department of labor.

Chilled Tomato Juice
Rice and Lobster Louisiana or Salmon Balls
Beet Relish, Green Peast, Buttered
Date Souffle Tea or Coffee

Try this menu over on your family or guests, whichever recipe you choose. Both dishes are delicious. Mushrooms browned in butter might be substituted for the peas.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Rice and Lobster Louisiana—One and one-half cups hot boiled rice, two tablespoons butter, two-thirds cup cream, one-fourth teaspoon celery salt, two-thirds cup canned lobster, one teaspoon chopped onion, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne, three tablespoons tomato sauce. Cook onion in butter five minutes. Add lobster, broken in pieces, rice and cream. When hot, add remaining ingredients and serve in hot serving dish. Serves five.

Salmon Balls—One cup salmon, one cup mashed potatoes, one egg, one-fourth teaspoon prepared mustard, one-fourth teaspoon celery salt. Combine and form into two-inch balls. Dip in a beaten egg combined with two tablespoons water, then roll in fine bread or cracker crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat or pour melted butter or oleo over each ball and bake in very hot oven.

Date Souffle — Four tablespoons butter, five tablespoons flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one cup milk, three eggs, one-third cup sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half package pasteurized dates. Melt butter, add flour and salt. Mix thoroughly; stir milk in slowly. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add beaten egg yolks, sugar, lemon juice, and dates. FOR THE SINGLE MEN

It is satisfactory to know that the Dominion government has come to grips with the problem of the single unemployed man. It is greatly to be hoped that the government's expectation that the 20,000 men now in the relief camps will all be absorbed into remunerative employment within a few months will materialize.

The relief camps, which have been the cause of so much irritation, will all be closed. In due course other camps will be opened which will be quite different in their character. They will be opened not merely to provide a place where single unemployed young men may be kept away from the towns, but because they are needed for specific purposes. They will be work camps in the proper sense. Some of them, it is understood, will be set up in reforestation areas, where ther is much valuable work to be done. The men employed will be paid on the basis of $15 a month and their keep.

Another outlet of even greater importance will be the maintenance-of-way work to be put in hand by the railways. It is estimated that 10,000 men will be required for this work during the summer, and that every province will benefit.

The placing of single men at farm work will continue to be an effective way of dealing with this phase of unemployment in the western provinces. Profiting by past experience this form of employment will be put on a more satisfactory basis. Some inducement will be offered to young men to continue at farm work with a view to getting established later on farms of their own.

These plans of the government should be given a fair trial. If they succeed a very pressing problem will have been ameliorated. If they should not come up to expectations, then something else of a more heroic nature must be tried. Canada cannot afford to have the young men who will be her responsible citizens in a few years' time continue to live in mental turmoil and spiritual frustration for lack of the useful employment they so earnestly seek.

KING'S KINDLY ACT

A story comes from Glasgow that is worth a place in anyone's scrapbook. The Left Wingers on the Glasgow city council, and they are the reddest of the red, refused, it appears, to be presented to the King at a public ceremony. They were pretty blunt about their refusal, too. When informed of their decision, the King remarked: "That's perfectly all right; tell them I'll come and have tea with them instead." And he did. It was a kindly act thus to show respect for the views of a certain small group of his subjects. Perhaps it will induce the Glasgow left wingers to show similar respect for others' views.

WITH THE PSYCHOLOGIST

GARRY C. MYERS, PH.D.

Head of the Department of Parent Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

SPECTACLES FOR A CHILD IS PROBLEM

"Dear Dr. Myers: My 10-year-old son had some trouble with his eyes last summer and the doctor fitted him with glasses to be worn for reading and study. When school began Ralph took his glasses with him but was reluctant about it. After several days I asked him if he wore them. He grinned sheepishly and admitted he had not, because the children would laugh. He could so easily have told me he was wearing them that I appreciated his truthfulness; still I want him to wear them. Can you suggest how this is to be accomplished?"

My reply in part: Your problem is not easy, especially since he has failed to wear them for some time. I am glad you see the danger of tempting him to lie. First try to find out whether he was laughed at by his schoolmates or his home playmates or both. By indirect, clever means you may be able to win a favorable audience with the leader among his playmates, who might be induced to prevail on the other children never to make fun of your boy again for wearing glasses, but rather to help Ralph to want to wear them.

Also see the teacher who, when Ralph is absent, will, we hope, take the other children into her confidence about your boy and his glasses and win their cooperation. She and they together might easily prevail upon your son to wear his glasses "so he could do his school work better and easier."

PLAN REWARD

Suppose you work out a plan with Ralph whereby you will keep a record of the times you find him, without prompting, wearing his glasses when reading or studying at home, with the understanding that when 10 or 20, says, of such favorable records had accumulated you would buy him something he would greatly like. In this way you would help associate the wearing of the glasses with pleasure rather than discomfort.

You might carry this reward scheme farther by having him ask his teacher to record the days when he wears them at school and to send you a report. Then you could reward the successes and ignore the failures.

Such a problem might be prevented in other children by setting the stage favorably for the child when he first gets his glasses. As a rule the damage is done within a day or two after the child puts the glasses on. If all the members of the family and his playmates and schoolmates are led to receive him favorably when he appears the first time with his glasses, there hardly will be a problem.

A similar problem arises with the child whose teeth are being straightened, to get him to be regular in the wearing of the rubber bands. Also the means of prevention or correction of the problem is similar.

TOUGH CANADIAN WINTERS

As far as winter is concerned—well it is just about over. Spring arrived a few days ago—but I came across a tall yarn from the old country concerning winters in Canada that is worth reproducing—

THE CATS' SNOWSHOES

The London Daily Telegraph recently presented its readers with the following tidbit: "In Canada, where a great deal of snow falls and people go about in snowshoes, those who have cats often attach to their feet little snowshoes. This enables them to move about outside without sinking through the snow. The cat's snowshoes are very much like those used by human beings except that they are adapted to the size of the cat. It is amusing to see a cat walking in its snowshoes." Indeed, it is amusing—when you see it.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Joan had been very tiresome, so her mother gave her a pencil and paper.

"Now, dear," she said, "write down the story of your life for me."

A few minutes later mother came back to see how Joan was getting on. Picking up the paper she read:

"I was born seven years ago in a horrid dirty London slum, while my beautiful, young and selfish mother was having a good time in Paris."

LATEST FICTION

The Barber Shop Murder—Late one night, the barber is found on the floor of his shop, smothered in hot towels. No money has been taken from the till. Is it a crime of passion or revenge? On wings of excitement, the story sweeps to a thrilling climax when the last customer shaved the night before is trapped into a confession.

Murder At Midnight—Here's a baffling story. The man who invented children's radio programs is found brutally slain, and ten adult radio owners who live nearby are under suspicion.

Who is the culprit?

Shot in the Dark—"Crack!" A sudden shot rings out, and an inoffensive citizen falls to the pavement from his new motorcycle. Is a jealous woman responsible? Or is it some neighbor who has taken a dislike to the unfortunate victim?

The Banquet Murder — Lights gleam brightly in the large dining-hall as the speaker begins the second hour of his address on "The Errors of Einstein." Then he falls forward, hit in the back by a poisoned arrow, which has sped silently through the smoke-laden air. Don't read this hair-raiser late at night.

The Prophet Passes—A gripping mystery. Police find the dead body of a man who has won some prominence, months before, by predicting a mild winter. Four suspects have no alibi.

Who kicked the victim to pieces when he wasn't looking?

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V SHEPARD

"Teacher of Teachers"

SPOTTING PENDING RUFF

Nobody can play successful bridge against alert opponents without keeping wide awake. All four of the players of the deal shown were wide awake, but it did no harm for South to try to put over the only possible means of defeating East's game contract, even if the attempted strategem made itslef as apparent as an approaching fire engine with screaming siren.

North: ♠ 9 8 ♥ Q 6 4 3 ♦ A K 10 8 7 ♣ Q 3

West: ♠ 4 ♥ 10 9 8 5 2 ♦ Q J ♣ A K J 10 7

East: ♠ K Q J 10 8 5 2 ♥ A K J ♦ 5 3 ♣ 6

South: ♠ A 7 3 ♥ 7 ♦ 9 6 4 3 ♣ 9 8 5 4 2

Neither side was vulnerable. Bidding went: West, 1 Club, short of quick trick opening bid strength, but atoned for, at least partially, by having a secondary five-card suit; North, 1 Diamond; East, 2 Spades, to show game strength and possibility of a small slam; South, 3 Diamonds; West, 3 Hearts; East, 4 Spades, which South doubled.

The way declarer and dummy had bid made defeat of the contract possible only in case at least one defensive ruff could be obtained, and that objective was back of South's double. When you hold a certain trump trick and one or more small trumps, useful only for ruffing, in case you also hold a singleton and at least two cards of a suit bid by partner, lead the singleton. When you gain entry with your trump trick, lead partner's suit. If he can win the trick and lead back the suit of which you led a singleton, you ruff. Then you try to again put partner in, to secure another ruff.

The opening lead was the 7 of hearts. Each of the three remaning players about the table knew what was up. Dummy's 8 covered, but North made no attempt to play his Q. He knew just how useless that would be. Declarer's J won the lead. Had East led a trump, South's A would have won the trick. Twice North would have been put in with a diamond, and twice South would have ruffed a return lead of hearts, giving defenders a total of five tricks, defeating the contract two tricks. That would have been fine for North and South.

What happened was quite different from what South had vainly hoped. East led a club—his only one—giving dummy two tricks in that suit. Upon the second club trick declarer discarded the 2 of diamonds, thus saving two tricks—one trick in dimaonds and one ruff of a heart by South. Dummy's only spade was led. Declarer's 10 fell before South's A, giving defenders one trick. South led a diamond for a second defensive trick. Back came a heart for the third trick, but when South led a second diamond East ruffed and pulled South's last trump, and so just fulfilled his doubled contract.

Results of physical and chemical studies and milling and baking tests of "bleached wheat" in Victoria, Australia, indicated that, aside from lowered bushel weight and bleached appearance, the exposure of ripe grain in the spike to heavy rain followed by drying before harvest had no appreciable deleterious effect on flour yield, baking quality, or other characteristics.

The pique weaves with quilted impressions are outstanding for 1936. They are making their appearance in trim little jackets and waistcoats to top the evening dress. Very chic for resort wear.

A Thought for Today

"Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

LITTLE FAST NOW WOULD BE BENEFIT

Whatever reason the church had for introducing a fast, and especially a season of fasting, there is no question that it is a good physiological procedure at this time of year. For most people! Like all other blanket advice, it usually is taken by the wrong people—the thin and underweight who don't like to eat anything anyway, while the fellow who needs to fast keeps on stuffing himself.

Just now, at the end of our long period of winter hibernation, when we have sat around inside and eaten all the delicacies from every corner of the earth, a little fast won't do us any harm in preparation for the spring season of activity. Sometimes a day of complete fast is easier to take than a partial reduction diet which simply teases and annoys the hungry victim.

A great deal of important scientific data has been accumulated by the study of fasting individuals. Succi, the professional faster, after fasting for 30 days, was still excreting 33 grams of protein exery day, which was about the same amount that he excreted whe he had been fasting 15 days. Nearly all fasters proclaim the fact that they feel better at the end of the fast, but this again depends on the type of person involved.

TEACHER CURED BY FASTING

Upton Sinclair, who used to advocate fasting as a way of life, wrote of "an anemic school teacher, who was threatened with consumption and a victim of continual colds and headache, miserable and beaten, with an exophthalmic goiter. She fasted eight days and achieved a perfect cure." That is a little hard to believe, and certainly that is not the type of person that should be recommended for a fasting cure.

DIET FOR WEDNESDAY

Breakfast — Apple or pear, or sliced peaches; cup of coffee without cream or sugar.

Lunch—Quarter of a head of lettuce; eight large slices of cucumber; tomato; sliced orange; glass of buttermilk.

Supper—An average portion of boiled ham; lettuce and tomato salad without dressing; cup of tomato juice; cup of tea or coffee without cream or sugar.

What is your weight today?

QPESTIONS FROM READERS

M.C.: "I have been advised to use a mixture of soda and salt as a tooth powder to combat a softness of the gums. In your opinion, is this treatmnet to be recommended? What would be the effects of swallowing this solution over a protracted length of time? Would it have either a good or bad effect on the stomach?"

Answer: I believe this is a very good mixture for a tooth powder and would have a good effect on the gums. The effect of swallowing any amount of this would not be harmful. Its effect on the stomach would be rather to neutralize acid than otherwise. The addition of a small amount of magnesium oxide would increase the alkalinity of the mixture, and the swallowing of magnesium oxide would not have any bad effect on the stomach. In fact, soda and magnesium oxide are the components of most tablets which are recommended to be taken by mouth to combat acidity of the stomach.

Good Gardening

By DEAN HALLIDAY

With spring calling, pruning can no longer be postponed. All winter pruning should be finished promptly and only the late flowering shrubs should be cut back now, such as the buddleias, hydrangeas and althaeas.

The gardenroses, the stone fruit trees and the Japanese cherries should not be pruned until a little later nor should the spring and early summer flowering shrubs be cut back if blooms are desired.

Removing the mummied fruits from all trees is a good practice, as many of them are disease carriers. They should be burned.

The cocoons and egg masses of insects should be destroyed by touching them with creosote, which may easily be appli l by means of a small paint brush tied to a stick of wood. Creosote is no longer recommended as a paint for wounds on trees.

White wisteria vines should not be cut back now (unless rampant growers) because this will result in the loss of all flowers on the branches cut except to yellow-eye wisteria. This is the time, however, to thin out or cut out branches of the clematis vines.

KIMBERLEY ENTERS WESTERN FINALS

PRINCE ALBERT IS SWAMPED BY 5-TO-1

Franks Plays Sensationally in P. A. Goal to Stop Rushes by Score All Through Game

Dynamiters Take Lead in First Period and Are Never Headed; Prince Albert Scoreless Until a Final Period Power Play

MACKIE AND FORSEY EACH GET TWO GOALS; HARRY BROWN GETS FIFTH

Franks Kicks and Bats Pucks Out From All Sides in Great Goal Minding Display; Penalties Are Few Till Last Period

CALGARY, March 23 (CP).—Before 5000 cheering fans, Kimberley Dynamiters advanced into the western finals of the Allan cup by defeating Prince Albert Mintos 5-1 here tonight. It was the third and deciding game of the best-of-three series between the British Columbia and Saskatchewan senior hockey champions.

Dynamiters will meet the winner of the Manitoba-Thunder Bay series.

The victory sent Kimberley into the western Canada senior hockey final for the second time in three years. The British Columbia champions will play either Fort William Wanderers or Flin Flon Bombers here Thursday in the first game of a best-of-three series.

Dynamiters won the first game of the series 6-3 at Nelson but Prince Albert evened the round with a 3-1 victory in Calgary.

Masters of the forecheck, Kimberley blasted Mintos from the playoff picture with a whirlwind attack that had Prince Albert's wobbly defence skating in circles. Only the great work of Goalie Jimmy Franks saved the Saskatchewan titlists from an overwhelming defeat. He blocked 32 shots during the game while Goalie "King" Campbell was turning aside 14.

Kimberley's two center men led the Dynamiter attacks, Jack Forsey, a classy play-maker, and Hugo Mackie, a close-checking midget, each scored twice. Harry Brown counted the other Kimberley goal. Bob McQuarrie tallied Minto's only counter.

FIRST PERIOD

Kimberley opened fast with a raid into Minto territory. Both teams changed forward lines twice within a minute. Redding drove in on Goalie Franks but his 10-foot shot was wide. Dynamiters kept play in the Minto end.

Jack Brown missed an almost certain goal as the Dundas-Brown-McQuarrie line broke away with only the defence to beat. His shot, from a few feet from the net, missed by inches.

Jack Forsey picked up a loose puck at center ice and surprised the Minto defence for the only goal of the period. He slid the puck between the defence, circled and after drawing Franks out, backhanded the puck into the net.

Hugo Mackie just missed another a minute later. Franks managed to beat him to a loose puck a foot in front of the open net during a scramble.

Bob McQuarrie got the first Minto shot on Campbell at about the 12-minute mark. Ken Moore was penalized for hooking Dundas. A five-man Minto attack failed to bring a score while Moore was off.

SECOND PERIOD

Hugo Mackie added another goal for Kimberley after a great rush by Harry Brown. Forced into a corner, Brown shot a pass to Mackie, parked just outside the Prince Albert crease. And Mackie deflected the puck into the net.

Forsey, a great play maker, led several sorties into Minto area but his wings failed to get in to take his passes.

Dundas was right in on Campbell but the Minto forward missed a wide open net.

A Dynamiter passing play between Mackie, Moore and Redding forced Franks to make two fast saves to prevent another score. Bill Botterill coasted in on Franks but the goalie took the puck in his pads.

Forsey broke away alone but Dewar batted the puck from his stick. MacFee shot wide while right on top of Campbell.

THIRD PERIOD

Despite their two-goal lead the Dynamiters continued their forechecking tactics and Mintos had all they could do to keep the puck out of their end.

Mackie added another goal for the British Columbia champions. His shot from 20 feet out hit Kirkpatrick's leg as he skated right in front of Franks and the goalie had no chance to stop the ricocheting puck. Mackie was sent off for tripping McQuarrie.

INTO OPEN NET

McQuarrie got Minto's first goal on a shot into an open net. Macrae's pass struck a Kimberley defenceman and Brown got it as Campbell dived for it. Brown passed to McQuarrie who only had to push it into the net. Harvey Dodge shot into the Kimberley net but the goal was disallowed as Dodge was inside the crease. Dodge was sent off for high sticking Redding. Burnett followed him in a minute for spilling Dewar.

Kemp banged a pass from the corner and Forsey gave Franks no chance. Burnett got his second penalty of the period for tripping Kirkpatrick.

While the Dynamiters were a man short, Brown grabbed the puck at the blue line, split the Minto defence and beat Franks to assure victory. The British Columbians were playing two men short in the last minute after Kozak was banished for slashing Dundas.

Two Basketball Finals Tonight

Having eliminated the St. Joseph's club in two straight games in the semi-final playoff series, the Toronto Star ladies' basketball club will meet the league leading Aces at the senior high school gym this evening at 7:45 in the first game of a best-out-of-three game series for the Nelson ladies' basketball title. The second game of the evening will bring the B. C. Telephone and Rowing club senior men's teams together in the second game of a best-three-out-of-five game series for the local championship. Last Thursday evening the B. C. Telephone club nosed out the Rowing club 31-30 in the first game of the series.

While the Aces, are favored to take the ladies' title on their seasons play, a close series is expected with the Toronto Star club having numerous supporters who declare that they may surprise the Aces. One thing that may go against the Aces, is their long layoff, while the Stars have just come through a close series with the St. Joseph's club in good shape.

The teams are expected to line-up as follows:

Aces—Mary Abbott and Carmella DelPuppo, guards; Arla Saare, Elvera Matheson, Margaret Thompson, Isabel Donovan and Edna Massey, forwards.

Toronto Star club—Opal LaBelle, Dorothy Campbell, and Berna Kline, guards; Pauline Stangherlin, Doreen Dunnett, Hazel Spiers, Beatrice Mathews, and Edna Gormley forwards.

While the Rowing club has not won a game from the B. C. Telephone team all season, they have given them several close calls. Last Thursday the Rowing club had only one spare, but expect more players to be available tonight. The second game of the girls series and the third game of the men's playoffs are scheduled for the junior high school on Thursday evening, and two intercity games will probably be played at the same place on Friday evening.

HOCKEY C-H-A-T-T-E-R

by W.W.W.

Preliminary arguments are over in the N.H.L. and the teams have chosen their partners for the next quadrille. The music starts Tuesday night and when the teams step out on the ice it will be Maroons vs. Red Wings; Toronto vs. Boston; Americans vs. Chicago.

Browsing back through the game records of the season will show how the playoff opponents have managed against one another. From the figures below you can pick the winners without going through the agonizing necessity of hours of idle speculation.

Montreal Maroons have the edge on Detroit Red Wings, as far as games are concerned. They have won their three games on home ice and tied the Wings on Detroit ice once, 2-2. Detroit took two games, both by large scores. The Wings too, outscored Maroons on the season's play 23-19, and managed to get one shutout.

Following are the game scores:

Detroit 2, Montreal 3.
Detroit 3, Montreal 6.
Detroit 3, Montreal 5.
Montreal 2, Detroit 2.
Montreal 0, Detroit 6.
Montreal 3, Detroit 7.

Toronto Leafs and Boston Bruins managed to break even on points, each team winning two, and two other games being ties. They played to one scorless tie and the other was a 2-2 affair, both being on Toronto ice. Leafs outscored Boston 13-9 during the season. And it would seem that the stage is set again for another marathon between these two teams.

Scores have been.

Toronto 2, Boston 1.
Toronto 1, Boston 4.
Toronto 3, Boston 0.
Boston 0, Toronto 0.
Boston 2, Toronto 5.
Boston 2, Toronto 2.

Americans and Chicago Black Hawks will discuss a two-game argument on the third rung of the playoff ladder. In this case the Amazing Amerks, in their second playoff series in their history, have an edge on the defensive Hawks. Amerks have won three games and tied one with the Hawks, and have outscored them 14-12.

These are the scores:

Americans 1, Chicago 3.
Americans 3, Chicago 2.
Americans 4, Chicago 1.
Chicago 0, Americans 3.
Chicago 2, Americans 2.
Chicago 4, Americans 1.

There now, we have done all the work. You have only to lay your bets on the winning teams and collect whatever money is due you.

* * *

Here and there . . . Toronto Leafs have recalled Jack Shill from Syracuse for the playoffs . . . Tiny Thompson, Boston Bruin goalie will get the Vezina trophy for the goal keeper in the N.H.L. having the least number of goals scored against him. And he should also get the Hart trophy for being the man most valuable to his team . . . Maroons have only lost three games since Chabot joined them and went into the nets. Chabot is a great money player and he will boost the Maroon cause greatly during the playoffs . . . Maroons and Detroit players each get $350 even if they are knocked out in the first round. If either of these teams survives, and manages to take the whole pot, the players will get about $1200 per man. This will be $200 more per man than under the old system . . . Over the past week there was an inevitable case of fratricide as either Frank Patrick's Bruins had to make the playoffs or brother Lester's Rangers. . . . Lionel Conacher is objecting to the words of Art Coulter to the effect that he, Conacher, was a poor old guy and that he was sorry for him, and he is, in turn sorry that the Rangers are out of the playoffs as he would like to meet Coulter. Said Conacher: "I shall have to pin his ears back at the first opportunity. This Coulter probably did not say so much as reported. It comes out though that I am considered an old guy just when I am at my peak. Which is not good advertising, no matter how you take it. Nothing can be done about it except to show this Coulter that old guys have their rights—and their lefts."

Cubs Out to Repeat With 1935 Lineup and Grimm Back on Job

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 23 (AP).—Those surprising young Chicago Cubs who rang up 21 straight home-stretch victories to beat the Cardinals out of the National league pennant last season, are out to repeat—but they're taking nothing for granted.

Last year's champs have another year's experience under their belts, Lon Warneke, star right-hander, is as good as ever and Chuck Klein is looking like the same fellow who led the National league in hitting in 1933.

Except that Manager Grimm will be back on first base, the Cubs will stake their 1936 chances on the 1935 lineup. A back injury kept Grimm out of the game virtually all last season.

Bill Herman, Bill Jurges and Stanley Hack will be stationed at second, short and third, with Elwood English, the highest paid substitute in the majors, and Gene Lillard, who clouted .361 for Oakland, on hand for utility work. Cavarretta will be Grimm's relief.

Grimm plans to use a staff of five starting pitchers, including Warneke, Bill Lee, the veteran Charlie Root, Larry French, the southpaw, and Tex Carleton.

Gabby Hartnett, again will head the catching department sharing the burden with James O'Shea and Walter Stephenson, both 1935 holdovers.

LONDON, March 23 (CP Cable)—Law Court, owned by Col. F. T. Halse, was quoted at 10 to 1 in today's callover of betting odds for the one-mile Lincolnshire handicap, to be run at Lincoln Wednesday, replacing Screamer as favorite.

Buddies to Enter Trail Hoop Finals

TRAIL, B.C., March 23.—Buddies, a hoop squad of high school girls, stepped into the limelight at Memorial hall Saturday when they downed Jimmies 20-17 to enter the two-game final playoff series with Orioles. For years past the final series has been a contest between Orioles and Jimmies, Orioles taking the title for the past two seasons by small margins. All through the season Buddies have been beaten by Orioles and Jimmies with the exception of rare occasions, the only team they were able to defeat easily being the Rossland girls, fourth team in the loop.

Buddies started their basketball in public school leagues and when they entered the ladies' league at the beginning of the season they showed few signs of attaining any height in the division. Consensus of opinion has it that they will take Orioles into camp in the finals.

Teams and scores were:

Jimmies — L. Saprunoff, Belle Smith 4, I. Wright 4, A. Gavrilik 2, and M. Gripich 7.

Buddies — Jean Hood 2, Hazel Weir 2, Hazel Mawdsley 6, E. Kennedy, Margaret Manducca 2 and L. Thorndale 8.

Kimberley Keeps Hockey as Topic

TRAIL, B.C., March 23 — Until Kimberley Dynamiters are ousted from their quest of the Allan cup hockey they will remain to be the major topic of discussion in the sports realm as far as these parts are concerned. During the playing of the first two games of Dynamiters and Prince Albert Mintos, every radio in the city that could be hooked up was tuned in on play as fans took a keen interest in how the B.C. champions were faring.

But in the meantime with spring having been promulgated March 20, (marbles of course going strong) spring sports are being talked of and tentative plans for the spring and summer cards are being laid. Beyond a doubt, baseball will be the next sport to attract attention and in lanes and sidewalks aspirants may be seen limbering up the "soup bone."

HANK HAUNTED

H. R. (Hank) Lauriente, who was manager of the Trail senior ball club last season, has been visited for several days past by last year members of the club anxious to know when the boys will be starting their spring training in anticipation of a duplication of the most successful 1935 season. Of last year's team only two are absent from the city and of course with the annual influx of ball players there should be good material available to step into these lad's spikes.

BANTAM BASEBALL

Bantam baseball, which received a grand ovation from the public last year will no doubt receive as keen interest during the approaching season but there will be new problems with which to contend. There are suggestions prevalent to step up the age limit for bantams a year so as to keep the last year's teams together and augment them with perhaps a few more youngsters so that next year a crack midget league may be put under way.

At present there are hardly enough lads to form a midget league and it would mean breaking up the old teams which have only played one year together, but which have shown remarkable advancement during that time. The manner in which the bantams are to be handled, under what auspices, is also a matter of discussion and it will be no doubt some time yet before definite decision has been reached in this regard. However these matters are for the adults to figure out while the youngsters may continue their training. With experience of last year to hand it is hoped to make some improvements which the supporting public may rest assured will be forthcoming.

Putting tennis courts into shape is also a topic of discussion among the racquet swingers but courts are hardly in readiness to receive their annual spring attention.

SWIMMING—BRR-RRR

And who would think it, it is rumored that plans are being laid to open the Memorial swimming pool April 15.

Cambridge and Oxford Crew in Practice Runs

LONDON, March 23 (CP Cable)—Unperturbed by the discovery that someone had damaged their motor launch by removing two carburetors, the Oxford eight in training for the boat race with Cambridge April 4 rowed this afternoon from Chiswick Steps to Hammersmith Bridge in record time.

While police probed the damage to the launch, which cost £1000 and was presented by Lord Nuffield for use in coaching the dark blues, the crew had both morning and afternoon pratices. The launch was tampered with at its moorings at Henley over the week-end.

Cambridge, using a new boat in which they will race against their rivals and a new set of oars, paddled from Putney to Chiswick in bad weather in the morning.

Sheiks Win School Hoop Title, Trail

TRAIL, B.C., March 23.—Close Trail schools basketball was marked with the final of the playoff series of Central school grades 7 and 8 boys' division league, Sheiks taking the two game series 60 to 31. In the first game Sheiks won out with the strong margin of 28 points but took the second encounter from Beavers by a single point, result being 16-15.

Teams and scores were:

Beavers—Tony Borsato 8, Alex Balano 6, Joe Simpson 1, Garth Barnes, Campbell Anderson.

Sheiks—Rolando Sammartino 6, Mario Matteucci 6, Oscar Lazarotto, Frank Turik 2 and Nini Forte 2.

CANADIAN BEATEN IN BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 23 (CP Cable)—Bobby Murray, Canadian tennis ace, went down to defeat today in a brilliant five-set match with Bryan Bitsy Grant of Atlanta, Georgia, in finals for the Bermuda amateur tennis championships. The score was 6-4, 3-6, 1-6, 6-2, 7-5 in a long, gruelling match.

"Sweeney" Schriner Ends Season Five Points Ahead of the Crowd

With 19 Goals, 26 Assists He Succeeds the Great Charlie Conacher as National Hockey league Star Point-Getter

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP).—In his second year of big league competition Dave (Sweeney) Schriner was hailed today as scoring leader of the National Hockey league.

Unofficial figures showed the quiet but effective left winger of New York Americans compiled 45 scoring points to succeed big Charlie Conacher of Toronto Maple Leafs on top of the heap. Schriner scored 19 goals, 26 assists to lead the whole league by five points while Conacher slipped from his 36-21—57 of last year to wind up in a five-way tie for third place.

Schriner

Scoring was lower all along the line this year with but three players amassing 40 or more points compared with nine that reached that figure last season. Twenty-goal men were scarce, three topping that figure against 10 last year.

TIED FOR SECOND

A fine closing drive by Marty Barry, center for Detroit Red Wings, landed him in a tie with Paul Thompson of Chicago Black Hawks at the head of the United States section and second in the whole league. Each had 40 points, Barry with 21-19—40 and Thompson 17-23—40. A year ago Syd Howe of Detroit was sectional leader with 22 goals 25 assists, 47 points.

While Conacher's 23 goals were far below the 36 he hung up last year the big bomber still remained at the top of actual goal scorers with 23, the same number as Bill Thoms, center of Leafs second line. The two, with Barry, were the only men to pass the 20-mark.

Thirty-eight point men were Thoms, Conacher, Hooley Smith of Maroons, Art Chapman of Americans and Doc Romnes, Chicago Black Hawks. All but Conacher are centers.

BARRY-LEWIS-AURIE LINE

Honor of most goals for a forward line went to Detroit's powerful Barry-Herb Lewis-Larry Aurie trio with 51. Chicago's Romnes-Thompson-March were tied with Maroons' Smith-Northcott-Ward for second with 46.

Most assists were supplied by Chapman, with 28, Schriner's 26 being next.

Red Horner of Toronto again took the "bad man" title with 167 minutes, a larger showing than the 125 minutes that headed the league last year.

Best scoring defenceman was Babe Siebert of Boston with 12 goals but Ebbie Goodfellow of Detroit nosed him out in points. Goodfellow had 5-17—22 and Siebert 12-9—21.

CHAPTER 32

Sherman Gordon turned swiftly on Selwyn Marsh.

"I do sound like a fool, no doubt. Falling head over heels in love with a girl at first sight, a girl I don't know the first thing about. And don't want to. Why, Mrs. Steele cornered me one day to tell me . . . Well, she intimated that there must be somethnig funny about Thora . . . taking a job here, and all that. How anybody could look into that girl's eyes and not know . . ."

"A woman's intuition works overtime, once it gets going," Marsh moralized. "You're right about Miss Dahl, Sherm. I can . . ." He caught himself up sharply, as if he had said more than he intended.

"Of course I am," Gordon said quietly. "I've an idea that you know more about her than anybody else. And I wouldn't ask you a thing. I don't have to. Just the same, I'm giving you due notice. If I can win that girl, I'm going to. She's the only one who can stop me."

To his surprise, there was no sarcastic rejoinder. Selwyn took his pipe from his lips and studied it thoughtfully. When he spoke, it was in an almost-subdued voice.

"Go ahead, son. I'm not stopping you. Or helping you, either."

"Thanks, Selwyn." Gordon gave a relieved smile. "I didn't want you to doubt my intentions. Whatever anybody else around here thinks doesn't bother me. If Thora lodges any complaints, you'll know what it's all about."

"Yes, I'll know."

Well . . . I'll toddle on. I'll be around later to take Ali Babba on for a round of golf. He's Scotch enough to make me look like an amateur. He can shoot, too."

"How do you know?" Marsh asked sharply.

"Why, I was showing him through the old gentleman's gun room one day . . . regular arsenal, you know. There was an automatic in the bunch. German make, I think. Anyway, it's one dad lugged home on the last trip across. Our friend was quite keen about it . . . seemed to know it was something new. First time I had seen him really enthused, so I dug up some cartridges and suggested we go out behind the barn and try it. You wouldn't believe the designs he put in a tin can at 50 paces."

"Umph. Come here." Selwyn lowered his voice. "You seem to know something about the affairs of the heart, Sherm. Do you think Wilma loves that fellow?"

"Yes, I do, Selwyn."

"I wondered. I don't know her well enough to ask her, but I thought she might have taken you into her confidence. I think, maybe, you're right. She's different than I ever saw her before. More quiet. I'd say thoughtful . . . if it was anybody else. It's queer."

"What is?"

"Why . . . I can say this to you. We don't know the first thing about that fellow. I can't figure that Wilma ever would take up with anybody that wasn't the right sort. But she's young, after all. I've been wondering a little if I didn't owe it to all of us . . . Wilma in particular . . . to hunt him up. You get what I mean. I suppose there are ways. You should know, being a lawyer."

"Yes . . . there are ways," Gordon hesitated.

"Could you shop around a little for me?"

"Sorry, Selwyn, but I couldn't. I don't want to be stuffy about it . . . but Wilma and I are too good friends for that. She's never forgive me if she thought I'd turned Sherlock behind her back."

"That's your idea, eh? You'd let her take a chance, before you'd help her."

"You know I wouldn't. Sleuthing is out of my line, anyway." Gordon smiled. "But I'll give you the address of some people who have done a lot of work for us. They're dependable. If you like, I'll make a contact there for you."

"I suppose they're in the city," Marsh growled. "All right. Let me have the address. I'm going in tomorrow." He pushed a memorandum pad in Sherman's direction and watched him scrawl a name and address hastily. "Thanks: If you don't mind, I'd like to get to work."

"Sure. I'll be seeing you . . . often."

Marsh put the address in his wallet, then reached down to rub the satiny ear of the dachshund who just then laid his stubby paws on his owner's knee.

"Pfeffernusse," he observed drylY, "if you have any children running about, my advice to you is to ignore them."

A never-ending source of delight to Thora Dahl was the old-fashioned flower garden at Fair Acres. She would have known without being told that it had, for many years, been the pride and care of little Mrs. Myron. The neat paths and prim beds looked like her, Thora thought. Much of her own spare time was spent in its upkeep, and now, in the late summer, it was gay with blooms.

This Sunday morning, she had arisen almost at her usual hour and had gone out to gather fresh flowers for the house. She was seated on one end of a rustic bench beside a heap of asters, sorting them in various color combinations, when she was aroused from her reveries by the sound of a step on the path.

She glanced over her shoulder to find Alec Babbas watching her with an amused smile. He was coatless and wearing knickers.

"You are a very busy lady . . . so early in the morning," he suggested, helping himself to a seat on the other end of the bench. An unlighted cigarette was hanging from the corner of his mouth. He took a silver lighter from his pocket and turned it aimlessly in his slim fingers. His gray eyes were fixed on Thora's face, but she felt that they were peculiarly expressionless . . . giving no inkling whatever to the thoughts that might be in his mind.

"You are up and about rather early yourself, aren't you?" she asked, with a slight smile, returning to her task.

"Frightfully. Wilma wanted to golf. I fancy I was a bit optimistic in thinking she would show up. But here I am . . ."

"It is a nice morning for playing," Thora agreed.

"Not bad. Don't you go in for golf?"

"I never have."

"I've been wondering what you do with yourself. I never get a sight of you, except at the table. Do you hide between meals?"

"Of course not. I have my work to attend to."

"Rather a pity. You have evenings off, I dare say."

"Oh, I have various odds and ends to attend to." Thora decided that this particular topic had been discussed sufficiently. She changed the subject by asking: "How do you like this country, Mr. Babbas?"

"Well enough." He snapped his lighter and held its flame to the end of his cigarette. "It's no new experience for me," he admitted. "I've been over on this side a good many times before. Have some interests that require looking after from time to time. Rather a bore, but it gives one something to do now and then. Is your home around here?"

"No. I have lived in the west . . . until rather lately."

"Ah! Out among the jolly old Indians and cowboys. This chap Gordon was telling me you have quite a way with horses."

"I like to ride."

"Can't say that I do. I like a fast car. But I'd rather go around on my own feet when I'm on the move. Horses are okay to bet on . . . if you're on the inside."

Market and Mining News

KOOTENAY BELLE COMES INTO THE SPOTLIGHT WITH STRIKE ON No. 3

By SIDNEY NORMAN
Mining Editor, Vancouver Sun

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 22—There has been another boiling market during the past week, with into the vortex of activity and recording another sensational advance to as high as 46½ cents per share as this is written, after sinking to a low of 32 cents through profit-taking earlier in the week.

It is generally rumored that "wise" buying came into the market to take up the slack, after various indisputable authorities had confirmed the importance of the recent high grade strike at the River level.

The urge of this excitement carried other issues with it on an upward flight, especially after the small-car dispeculators had realized their profits upon Minto and returned to their first loves, sold last week to provide wherewithal for the bets.

B. C. Nickel was another favorite upon news that a well-known engineer of international reputation and an expert on nickel ores, had joined the directorate.

Kootenay Belle ascended from 50 to 68 on news that east drift from No. 3 crosscut had been in ore averaging two ounces per ton for 105 feet, and Island Mountain strengthened five points upon prognostications regarding high rate of earnings and dividends for this year.

Others to show improvement and enjoy public interest were Bralorne, up 20; Pioneer, b'l $9.10, with no offerings below $11; B.R.X., up 2 points on news that the deep work is beginning to look every encouraging; Morning Star, Fairview, up from 2 to 4½ on report of milling operations to be resumed at once and debts retired; Congress, around 22 cents and Reno, steady around $1.10.

There is not the slightest question but that the Minto strike has placed an entirely different complexion on the outlook for the Bridge River area, which has already produced the richest per-ton gold mine on the American continent and among the first two in all the world.

Probable reduction of taxation on mines, suggested in the provincial legislature this week, and probability of repeal or material modification of the Securities act, have also had an effect upon the psychology of the speculating public, with some reasonable assurance that market activity will be cumulative till the midsummer months.

MINTO FURNISHES PROOF

The best evidence of the richness of the recent strike at Minto is furnished by estimated returns from a 41-ton carload of crude ore now on way to smelter, valued, according to mine assays, at $8516 for the lot or 5.95 oz., or $207 per ton.

With that shipment also went two carloads of concentrate, proving a remarkable increase in value of millheads. One was estimated to return $4969 and the other $5795 gross.

Mill is handling about 90 tons daily, with saving of 93 per cent since two new cleaner cells were added to the flotation equipment.

Analysis of the concentrate shipments suggests that heads are running well over $25 per ton, and in that event would be the highest grade mill feed now being handled in the province.

Ratio of concentration has improved from over 10 to five tons into one, according to Andrew G. Larson, M.E., to whom, with Superintendent W. A. Davidson, is due credit for the sensational developments of recent weeks.

At the time Mr. Larson left the mine last Tuesday, the drift had been in highgrade for 105 feet, a very respectable ore shoot in any man's country, especially when grade is kept in mind. The face was still in similar ore at last reports.

It is planned to delimit the shoot laterally and then sink a winze from the River level, later to be connected with the Working tunnel by raise, so that ore from below the latter can be transported economically to the mill.

B. C. NICKEL

Election of C. D. Kaeding, E.M., an internationally-known authority, especially on nickel, now associated with heavy financial interests in New York, formerly for five years with Falconbridge Nickel and other Lindsley ventures in eastern Canada, to B. C. Nickel directorate, has lent much color to reports, prevalent for some time, that there is something important in the wind.

While no official confirmation can yet be obtained, it is rumored that New York capital is going into the venture, with the idea of erecting a large-size concentrating plant and shipment of resultant product to Japan and via the Panama canal to eastern seaboard.

It is also suggested, and upon what appears to be good authority, that Mr. Kaeding will shortly assume the position of general manager of the company.

Over $1,250,000 has been spent upon development of the property in the past three years and around 1,000,000 tons of 1.3 per cent nickel ore placed in reasonable sight, with smaller values in copper, gold and rare metals.

If the present rumors are based upon fact, it seems likely that one of the most important mining enterprises ever established in the province will result.

The annual meeting is to be held April 8, when it is possible some official news of importance will be divulged.

KOOTENAY BELLE STRIKE

Kootenay Belle, in the Sheep Creek district, came into the spotlight during the week with news that the east drift from No. 3 crosscut, which is 330 feet vertically below the last level from which production has hitherto come, has been in ore averaging two ounces gold per ton for 105 feet, with ore still in the face and possibility of considerable further extension laterally.

The strike was made near the junction of "A" and "B" veins, where in upper levels a shoot of high grade ore was mined, but which was only about 50 feet long.

East drift is being continued in highgrade and another shift has been added to drift back on "B" vein, where it is expected further extension of the shoot will be revealed to the west.

SALLY OF BEAVERDELL

By a deal officially announced this week by Wendell B. Farris, president of Sally Mines, operating at Beaverdell, 100,000 shares has been purchased by Roy Staples, president and managing director of Bell Mines, which adjoins Sally, and Highland Lass, lying on the other side of Bell.

Bell and the Highland Lass have been worked jointly during the past few years under the direction of Mr. Staples and the new arrangement, by which he will also take over supervision of Sally, places practically all the heart of the camp, with exception of Wellington, under the same management.

Sally has produced well over $1,000,000; paid $243,000 in dividends through a predecessor company and owns 13 claims, immediately adjoining Wellington, where one of the richest strikes in the history of the district was recently made.

Bell, a private company, has been in operation since 1916, with production of over $1,000,000 and dividends last year of $53,501, while Highland Lass has paid a total of $132,461 in dividends, of which $52,368 was distributed last year.

NELSON LEADS WAY

Opposition to the present Securities act, and demand for repeal or radical modification, is gaining headway throughout the province. Nelson board o trade, one of the strongest in the province and representing one of the most important gold-producing areas, having broken the ice for public organizations by unanimous adoption of a strong resolution, after consideration of a scathing report upon the effects of the law prepared by the mining and natural resources committee.

The resolution alleged that but inadequate protection had been given to the investor, while impeding and inflicting all sorts of injustice upon the claim or mine owner.

It condemned the rule of one man, as opposed to direction according to law and concluded with the prayer that, as the act had signally failed to benefit the general public and had proved detrimental to the mining industry, the government rep at the law or drastically amend it, so that "present injustice, inequality and uncertainty be eliminated."

Copies of the resolution have been forwarded to Premier Pattullo, Hon. George S. Pearson, minister of mines and members of the legislature.

Letters have since been sent to other similar organizations in the province calling attention to Nelson's action and requesting consideration of the subject without delay and adoption of a similar resolution if deemed proper.

From Victoria comes a rumor that the government hopes to head off discussion of the subject by promising careful consideration of the subject and presentation of an amended bill at a fall session of the legislature, which, at the present time, does not seem certain.

CASH DEFICIT OF C. N. R. FOR 1935 IS $47,421,464; REVENUES INCREASE

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—An increase in operating revenue, slight betterment in the cash deficit and a reduction in interest charges as a result of refunding operations featured the report of the Canadian National Railways covering 1935, tabled in the house of commons today by Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of railways and canals. The report was presented by the board of trustees of which C. P. Fullerton is chairman.

Railways operating revenues in 1935 were $173,184,501, an increase of $8,282,000 or 5.02 per cent over 1934. The increase of class one railways in the United States was 5.5 per cent.

Operating expenses were $156,926,248, an increase of 4.6 per cent. United States roads increased 6.3 per cent. C. N. R. net revenue was $14,258,253.

After paying taxes, rentals and interest on the funded debt held by the public, the system had a cash deficit for the year of $47,421,464, a betterment of $986,436 compared with 1934. Interest on the funded debt held by the public was $53,468,792.

The combined interest on funded debt held by the public and on government loans for refunding required $54,252,462 in 1935 as against $55,811,745 in 1934. The decrease of $1,559,282 was principally due to lower interest rates.

The refunding transactions undertaken during 1935, the report stated, would effect an annual saving to the railways of $2,800,000.

"The situation confronting the Canadian National Railways is improving," the report declared, "but the dominant need continues to be one of rigid economy and careful administration."

WINNIPEG LOSES

WINNIPEG, March 23 (CP) — Rains and the weatherman's promise of more in the dust-ridden United States southwest were interpreted bearishly by traders on the Winnipeg grain exchange today. Futures prices closed ⅞ to ¾ cent lower.

Selling that came in the wake of declining prices in American markets, a direct result of improving crop conditions in the winter wheat area, left local values near the day's low levels, May at 82⅝, July 83⅛ and October 83⅞ cents.

MINES HEAVY

TORONTO, March 23 (CP)—The mining share market turned heavy today and finished with 54 losses showing against 37 gains. All groups shared in the display of weakness.

Oils were quiet and a bit heavy, Calgary-Edmonton losing 3 and Home Oil 4.

Dome and Wright Hargreaves recorded narrow gains while minor losses came out for Pioneer, Hollinger and Little Long Lac. Pickle Crow registered a gain, and Premier advanced 8 cents.

Base metal stocks were sluggish.

Canada Reduces the Duties on Rum and Cigarette Papers From France

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP)—Rum from France and the French colonies will enter Canada subject to a duty of $7 per gallon instead of $10 under a new arrangement between the two countries. The British preferentials rate on rum is $5 per gallon.

Announcement that an "exchange of notes" had taken place between Canada and France making some changes in duty rates on certain commodities was made by the department of external affairs today. The new rates go into effect at the end of this month.

The duty on cigarette papers from France has been decreased.

Under the arrangement France gives to Canada minimum tariff rates on selenium, needles for knitting machines, hair-pins and outboard motors. New quotas are extended to Canada on vacuum cleaners, porcelain insulators and electric heating apparatus.

Cigarette paper, gummed or not, in rolls, which has hitherto been dutiable at 20¼ per cent ad valorem, will be dutiable at 15¾ per cent. Cigarette papers, gummed or not, in tubes, booklets or packets hitherto dutiable at 27.63 per cent, will be reduced to 22.75 per cent. The British preferential rates on these items, since the budget of last year, is respectively 10 per cent and 17½ per cent.

The French government, on its part, has undertaken, in fixing import quotas for the future, to accord sympathetic consideration to Canadian products. Canada is accorded new quotas, covering the first half of 1936, on the following products in addition to those on which specified quotas are guaranteed under the protocol signed at Ottawa, February 26, 1935; vacuum cleaners, porcelain insulators and electric heating apparatus.

Canada is also accorded the benefit of the French minimum tariff on selenium, needles for knitting machines, hairpins and outboard motors, the latter subject to an import quota of 5500 pounds per annum. A number of items and subitems are affected, the reductions being substantial in each case as previously these goods were subject to the rates of the French general or maximum tariff.

TWO CHILDREN, ONE ADULT DEAD FROM DIPHTHERIA IN VANCOUVER

"Carrier" Child Communicated It Although Not Ill Herself, Probe Reveals

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—Two young girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Watts, and a woman neighbor are dead and a man and another child are in hospital, all victims of diphtheria contracted from a carrier of the disease, it was revealed by the city health department today.

The two girls, Barbara Eugene, four, and Lorna Beverley, three, were buried Saturday.

The carrier, a young girl, was a friend of the Watts children. She lived in another part of the city and the two girls contracted the disease while visiting her. Before their trouble had been diagnosed a woman neighbor visited them and she too contracted diphtheria. The woman's identity was not disclosed.

When it was discovered the three were suffering from the disease the health department started a search for the source and found the girl carrier. In her home a man and a child had contracted the disease.

None of those who had the disease had been inoculated against diphtheria but a son of the woman who died had been a given toxoid some time ago and he did not catch the disease.

The woman died about a week ago, one of the children died Thursday and the other one on Saturday.

Dr. J. W. McIntosh, city health officer, explained that carriers are individuals who are immune to the disease themselves, but who can carry the germs in their throat without harm. They are evidently quite healthy themselves, but innocently pass the disease along to others with whom they associate. The only way of finding them is by taking a swab of the throat and making a laboratory test, he said.

TEACHER SAVES LIVES

Near there, 30 country school children were saved by a quick-witted teacher, Miss Pauline Rader, 21. Seeing the dark cloud, she led the children from the building and ordered them to lie flat on the ground. They watched the storm carry the school house away.

A tentative checkup of the injured list showed at least 28.

Henry Elmore, injured in the collapse of his home near Oakland, was not expected to live. He was carried for several yards.

RIVER STILL RISING

CINCINNATI, March 23 (AP)—Cincinnati's first flood fatality was recorded tonight as a greatly pacified Ohio river climbed slowly toward a crest of 59 feet.

Paul Kearney, 18, of Newport, Ky., Xavier high school athlete, drowned when the kayak he was sailing upset in the river.

Kearney's death was Ohio's fifth due to the flood.

Dr. Charles E. Holzer of Gallipolis, president of the Ohio Valley water conservation and flood control congress, estimated $200,000,000 damage was caused between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati by floods of the last six days and called a meeting for Tuesday at Gallipolis to take steps toward securing congressional approval of the congress' $237,000,000 flood control program.

POWER PLANT SAFE

SAINT JOHN, N. B., March 23—(CP)—Run-off was in progress early today on rivers through New Brunswick and Quebec and provinces with further danger believed averted from floods that caused widespread destruction and distress in a score of points.

New Brunswick officials said the huge power plant at Grand Falls was out of danger with ice and logs pouring through open gates borne by high waters seeking their way to sea.

Fredericton recorded a drop of eight feet in the St. John river on which motor boats sped on an errand of mercy to the Maugerville district. Heaped high with bread and other necessities, the boats proceeded 20 miles down stream to the village where 400 people have been marooned three days.

SNOW IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA, March 23 (CP)— A week-end snowstorm which brought the winter's snow record to the highest in 12 years, tonight was still adding to the foot-deep blanket on the prairies.

Five and a half inches had fallen at Regina from Saturday to noon today. Another several inches were added this evening.

At Qu'Appelle 16 inches was reported. Snow covered the top of three and a half foot fences and a snowplow was run down the middle of streets to provide a pathway for pedestrians.

DUST IN OKLAHOMA

GUYMON, Okla., March 23 (AP) — Widespread dust storms which swirled through the southwest, ravaging wheat and reducing visibility to zero in some sections, diminished in intensity tonight.

Meanwhile farmers in southeastern Colorado hailed "life-saving" snows, the first in more than a year.

Residents of Gumon and Beaver Okla., wearily removed dust masks and goggles, worn today as silt whistled through the air in almost utter darkness.

FAVORITES FAIL AT LINCOLN

LINCOLN, England, March 23—(CP Cable)—The flat racing season opened here today with dull, mild weather prevailing. The track was in perfect condition.

Backers had much the worst of the exchanges today. Gordon Richards rode one favorite to victory and also rode two seconds. But in all other races outsiders were first to the winning post. The lone favorite to win was a stable-mate of G. F. X. Hartigan's Hidalgo, providing some sort of an omen to the omen-conscious who favor Hidalgo in the Lincolnshire.

MORE ABOUT WEIR DEFENDS

Being far from perfect, there would necessarily follow such amendments from year to year as were deemed advisable and provision was made in the draft for three revisions, the sponsor said. The bill would materially benefit the under-privileged.

IMPERATIVE DUTY

Protection of public health was an imperative duty of the legislators, Dr. Weir said. Tranquille, Essondale and other institutions were only too vivid reminders of the necessity for health study.

Results of medical science were not adequately available to all the people, he went on, as the poor can not obtain at reasonable costs the essential medical attention required.

The present system of dispensing medical attention was not satisfactory. There were complaints from all over Canada. When a workman is thrown out of employment and sickness enters his home medical bills pile up. The result is an economic loss to the workman, to his employer, to the community and a foothold for disease.

MACHINERY SIMPLE

"Homes, cars, accident and old age insurance are with us," he said. "Why not health insurance? The machinery for the scheme is simple, there is no new tax, only a fairer manner of distribution." It was shown that last year 75,000 out of 90,000 children in the province were suffering from various ailments. Parents were delaying treatment, being unable to meet the expenses. This situation meant the undermining of the very foundation of future citizenship.

The bill would make available the most essential medical services at an average cost of 40 cents to the wage earner, supplying free hospitalization, choice of own physician, necessary drugs and medicines and would include the entire family as a unit.

FARM WORKERS EXEMPT

It exempted farm workers, those insured in industrial schemes, casual workers, Christian Scientists and indigents, but permitted voluntary contributors, such as merchants, farmers and others not included, with a special method of payments for seasonal workers, with benefits taking effect four weeks after contribution. Insured would be taken care of during periods of unemployment and illness, and the measure did not conflict with the Workmen's Compensation act. It might take six months to set up the necessary machinery to bring the legislation into operation.

Indigents should be carried by general taxation, but he pointed out there was an obligation on the part of municipalities and province alike in this connection. This year the indigents will cost the province $230,000 and municipalities $110,000 and health services generally would cost the taxpayers $2,225,000 in the next fiscal year.

Hospital grants would not be less, he said and there was no immediate intention of cutting off these grants. No government would be willing to cripple hospitals and the bill would benefit them.

Fenwick Winner in Bermuda Golf

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 23 (AP).—Ted Fenwick of Montreal today won the Belmont Manor amateur golf championship, defeating S. P. Powell of Vancouver 6 and 4 in the 36-hole final.

Powell was one up at the end of of the first nine but at the end of the morning round, Fenwick was two up. Powell seemed to be bothered by the fast greens and a strong westerly wind affected the driving.

MORE ABOUT IL DUCE'S STAND

bility of a European war at any time and said his "plan for regulating Italy's economic life is therefore dominated by this promise."

He spoke defiantly of sanctions and assailed Great Britain as the "single state which would like to place Italy on the same level with a mixture of barbarous races."

"War is the determining element in the position of a state and in the economy of a nation," Il Duce told the assembly of corporations.

"Our plan for regulating Italy's economic life is therefore dominated by this premise, the fact that the nations will be called upon to undergo the ordeal of war," he said.

YIELDS ITS PLACE

"When and how no one can say, but destiny's wheel spins rapidly. If that were not so, how else would one explain the policy of colossal armaments instituted by each and every nation."

"The chamber of deputies, already anomalous in its composition, since some of its members are also members of the assembly, will yield place to the national assembly of corporations which will form itself into 'the Fascist corporative chamber' and be composed of 22 corporations," Mussolini explained.

"The methods by which the new legislative and representative assembly is to be formed, the rules under which it will operate, its attributes and prerogatives, its character—these constitute technical and doctrinal problems which the Fascist grand council will examine.

"This assembly will be the absolute political base, since nearly all economic problems can be solved only if brought into the political sphere.

DATE NOT FAR OFF

"You will ask me when this profound constitutional transformation is to take place. I reply that the date is not far off, although it is contingent on a victorious conclusion of the African war and political developments in Europe."

Business, under the corporate state, "will work directly or indirectly for defence of the nation," Mussolini declared. Credit will be placed under the direct control of the state, he added, declaring:

"Large industries which form their capital by investment as well as those which develop to the point where they became capitalistic or super-capitalistic—thereby posing problems not of an economic but of a social order—will be aggregated in great units corresponding to what are called industrial cartels. They will assume a special character in the orbit of state.

ABOLISH PROFITEERS

"In certain branches there will be direct administration, in others indirect. Industries which serve the national defence will no longer work for private consumption. Moreover, the new system will result in abolishing profiteers.

"The Fascist regime does not plan to commandeer, or, still worse, to take over the economic life of the whole country.

"It will be enough to control that life, and to discipline it by the work of the corporations. The corporations are organs of the state, but they are not merely bureaucratic organs of the state."

"DISCIPLINE" AGRICULTURE

Agriculture in its fundamental structure will hardly be affected by the decree, but will be "disciplined" by the state, he added.

In commerce, a distinction will be recognized between foreign and domestic trade, he explained, with the former becoming "a function, direct or indirect, of the state itself."

Returning to his study, Il Duce received Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria and Premier Julius Goemboes of Hungary and the three statesmen placed their signatures on the new agreement cementing the close economic and political lines between the three nations.

The new accord recognizes the "equality of rights" of Austria and Hungary and pledges the three nations to a "common" foreign policy. Diplomatic circles viewed the "equality of rights" clause as Italy's approval to both Austrian and Hungarian rearmament.

In the absence of a speaker at the Nelson Rotary club luncheon in the Hume hotel silver room Monday, the latter part of the meeting was used for the discussion of ways and means to raise funds for the crippled children's work. The fund was increased by $12.50 when money left over from the service clubs curling tournament, was given to the Rotary club.

Daughter and Two Grand-daughters of G. Noel Brown of Bonnington Arrive at Vancouver From the Philippines

Will Visit Mr. Brown, and Later Go to South Africa to Join Husband and Father

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—Two young daughters of Mrs. I. A. Hvidt, aged eight and 10 years, arrived here with their mother today from Manila aboard M.S. Kota Agoeng of the Silver-Java-Pacific line.

Their father is an engineer on a sugar plantation in the interior of the Philippine islands and as there are no schools available in the district, the girls have received their education to date from their mother. She is a former British Columbia girl and the group are to visit her father, G. Noel Brown of Bonnington Falls, B.C.

Mr. Hvidt has concluded an engagement of several years in the Philippines and is proceeding to South Africa where he will be in charge of a sugar plantation in Kenya. He will be joined by his family there in a few months.
