CUBAN STORM DEALS DEATH AND HAVOC

CANADA SUFFERS LESS FROM THE WORLD-WIDE DEPRESSION THAN MOST LEADING TRADERS

Leads World in Production of Wheat, Nickel, Asbestos

OTTAWA, Sept. 1— (P)—Trade of Canada suffered less from the world-wide depression than most of the principal commercial countries of the world, says the weekly bulletin of the trade and commerce department. Thirty-one of the leading trading countries suffered a greater percentage decrease in their export trade in 1932 than did Canada and 22 suffered more than the Dominion in their import trade.

These facts are brought out in the 41st annual report of the department of trade and commerce issued this week. The report stated in the production of printing paper, nickel and asbestos, Canada leads the world; she occupies second place in the production of gold and zinc; in output of copper she occupies third place; and fourth place in the production of wheat, automobiles and lead. In production of wheat in 1932 Canada was exceeded by Russia, United States and China.

LEADS IN WHEAT EXPORT

In export trade the Dominion led the world in 1932 in the exports of wheat, printing paper, nickel and asbestos; occupies third place in exports of wheat flour; fourth place in exports of automobiles and wood pulp and sixth place in the exports of rubber tires. The exports of these staple products from Canada make up 50 per cent of the Dominion's total domestic exports.

Canada ranks high in the world's export of many other staple products such as lumber and fish, copper, barley, cheese, raw furs, whiskey, meats farm implements pulpwood, cattle, raw gold, silver, rye, oats, rubber footwear, leather and hides.

Other branches of activity recorded for the last fiscal year in the department's report show the value of new business actually reported through efforts of Canadian trade commissioners amounted to nearly $11,000,000. This amount represents, however, only business which has been voluntarily reported by Canadian businessmen.

The Chinese economist enumerated these problems as the growing hatred and resentment of Japan and the Chinese people; the check given to growth of democratic parliamentary institutions in Japan; and the almost complete destruction of the world peace machinery by militarism.

O'DUFFY MAY HEAD MERGED IRISH GROUP

Centrists and Cosgrave Party Agreeable to Joining Guards

COSGRAVE WOULD BE CHAIRMAN

McDermott Would Be the Vice-President of the New Organization

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Sept 1 (AP)—The Center party and William T. Cosgrave's Cumann na nGaedheal, in separate meetings tonight agreed to accept proposals to merge with General Eoin O'Duffy's banned national guard, thus taking definite steps toward establishment of a new united Ireland party.

Tonight's action came at conferences of leaders of the two parties and it was subject to ratification by the receptive general party conventions. The executives recommended party conventions be held September 9.

Under the plan, General O'Duffy would head the new party and Cosgrave would serve as the party's chairman in the dail eireann. Frank McDermott, head of the Center party, was designated as vice-president of the new organization.

The three old parties would have equal representation on an executive committee of 12 members.

Word O'Duffy would head the new party created a sensation here because it was generally believed any amalagamation would result in Cosgrave emerging as leader. It was understood O'Duffy plans to meet heads of the Cosgrave and Center parties Saturday for discussion of details of the projected fusion.

CONCILIATION BOARD MAKES RECOMMENDS

Urges Railway Company and Firemen and Engineers to Accept

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 (CP)—Urging both the Canadian Pacific railway company and the Brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineermen to accept its recommendations as a solution to a protracted dispute, the board of conciliation appointed more than 2½ years ago and presided over by J. H. Scott of Perth, Ont., today delivered its report.

The dispute, a product of the depression, centered on difficulties arising out of a practice which forced engineers in junior grades to revert to the status of firemen when due to decreased traffic, they were unable to earn 3200 miles a month.

The effect of this demotion was to displace junior firemen, a circumstance to which the latter took strong exception.

The report, after carefully traversing the whole policy of the railways in matters of this character, recommended that the minimum to be earned be reduced from 3200 miles to 2800 miles a month.

Cromie Speaks on Russia in Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 1— Robert Cromie, editor of the Vancouver Sun, was well received by a large and interested audience of 500 people in the Knights of Pythias hall here tonight when he gave a lecture entitled "My Impressions of Russia."

The purpose of his talk, Mr. Cromie said, was to give an insight into conditions in Russia and render comparison of Russia with other nations of the world to show exactly her position today. Although Canadians feel that Russia is in a far worse plight than the Dominion and the United States, when comparing Russia with India or China she is far better off than those countries.

It is true, said Mr. Cromie, that conditions there are 35 years behind our time, but they are living as we did that many years ago, know their handicaps and obstructions and are progressing toward an objective at a rapid pace. They are now copying our machinery in a drive toward progress. Everyone in Russia must do his part, the speaker said. Unionists are made to do their share as well as capitalists. Employment is mostly on a piece work basis and anyone doing more than their quota receive premiums.

The statement was made by Hugh S. Johnson as he rested at his hotel for the first time since he began the task of mobilizing industry in the war against depression. The administrator, however, worked on the speech he will deliver Labor Day at Chicago, the date he has set for the turning point in the reemployment drive.

STRAY HEN CARRIES OFF TWO FIRST PRIZES—LONESOME DRAKE THROUGH

David Fairbank Wins Poultry Awards in Odd Way at Harrop

"Dad, I guess we'll have to find another hen."

So stated young David Fairbank of Harrop to his father Herb Fairbank during the luncheon hour at the Harrop fair Wednesday.

"I wonder," he continued. "If we can get another off the baggage car?"

And thereby hangs a tale.

Young David two years ago was watching a train go by the Fairbank home west of Harrop, the car contained a coop of leghorns in transit somewhere. As the train passed a hen got out of the coop and left the train. David followed it and captured it. He took it home.

Fair time arrived and David used his mother's or dad's entry tag to exhibit his newly found hen. It won first prize. He exhibited the hen again on Wednesday at the Harrop fair. The leghorn again won first prize.

Dave thinks the hen has paid its way now and "besides we need another because our hen is getting scaley leg," he stated. He is watching all trains.

David also has a duck. A pretty drake. It has won in two consecutive fairs and Dave thinks it is about ready for a Christmas dinner. It is the only duck on the Fairbank farm and it sleeps and eats with the chickens. If ducks do sleep. But the duck may yet save its life, for J. F. Stevenson the Sunshine Bay poultryman has made a proposition whereby he will exchange a younger drake for the old one.

Newfoundland Gives General Approval to Banks but Suggest Improvements

By RAY BROWN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SAINT JOHN, Sept. 1 (CP)—With the maritime province viewpoint recorded, the royal commission on banking tonight turned toward the two provinces remaining to be visited, Ontario and Quebec.

Tuesday, in Quebec City, Lord Macmillan and his four colleagues will open their inquiry into banking problems of that province.

Today the commissioners were given a general assurance banks are, in the main, giving satisfactory service to the people of this province.

Welcoming the commissioners, G. H. Cockburn, president of the New Brunswick executive council, testified to the fact the banks are giving good service, although he suggested a loosening up of credit in certain instances might have helped. Mayor James W. Brittain of Saint John expressed pride in the Canadian banking system.

But, while the Canadian banks were given general approval, suggestions for improvement of finance and banking were not lacking. Through the medium of Saint John board of trade and local investment dealers, the commission was warned "a politically controlled central bank of Canada is undesirable and unnecessary."

Provincial governments, the board of trade suggested, should be granted a measure of joint control over banking.

The New Grand Hotel ANNOUNCES

The Opening of Its New Ladies' Parlor Addition

The New Grand

(Fully Licensed)

MR. AND MRS. P. KAPAK, Proprietors

After several weeks of building, remodelling and decorating, the new Ladies' Parlor portion of the New Grand Hotel, which will be known as the New Grand, has been completed and will be officially opened to the public today at 10:30 a.m. And Mr. and Mrs. P. Kapak, proprietors, take this opportunity to invite citizens of Nelson to visit the New Grand today, and inspect the new addition.

Mr. Kapak has lived in Kootenay 15 years, and is well known throughout the district, having resided in Kimberley and Trail as well as Nelson.

Comfort Assured

In carrying out remodelling and decorating operations in the New Grand Parlor, and in building the new addition, the desire of the proprietors has been to ensure their guests of every comfort and to provide for perfect cleanliness and the most effective of ventilation. And the equipment is the most up-to-date, and the fixtures and decorations are most attractive.

Ideal Temperature

Tables with non-inflamable tops and solid bases have been installed, the style chosen having been the most modern obtainable. The refrigeration and cooling system are both important features. The temperature of the New Grand will be airy and comfortable both in winter and summer. The pumps used in the New Grand Parlor are operated by fresh, clean air . . . and this is the only parlor using air pumps.

The outstanding features of the New Grand Ladies' Parlor are the fireplace, beautiful lighting and interior decorating, and the comfortable rest room. This new addition to the New Grand is 15 ft. by 21 ft., 6 inches. Panelled in birch veneer in walnut finish, and finished above the panelling up to the ceiling in richly colored stucco, with hand painted scenes, it is the last word in attractiveness. The distinctive, 6-foot fireplace, made of brightly colored cement, and squares of marble, together with the modern lighting fixtures, give it an atmosphere that is comfortable and homelike. To insure privacy the ladies' and men's parlors are separated by hanging curtains.

The Men's Parlor has been redecorated and changed considerably. Larger space, more floor covering, and a series of hand painted scenes on the newly painted walls give it an entirely new appearance. The men's restroom, which has been redone in tile, is the only one of its kind in the city.

Contractors Do First Class Job

Mr. and Mrs. Kapak wish to express their thanks to all the contractors for a 100% satisfactory job.

The general contract was handled by the A. H. Green Co., Ltd. Lighting and wiring work was done by the Standard Electric, and the B. C. Plumbing and Heating carried out the heating and plumbing work. Tile work was done by Wm. M. O'Neill Co., Ltd., of Vancouver, while the fireplace was built by Messrs. Smith and Anderson, and decorated by Mr. Roseman, Mr. Tim Player carried out the painting work, while Mr. Roseman attended to the decorating and scene painting. Mr. Kirby painted the signs designating rooms. Birch panelling was supplied by the B. C. Veneer Works, chairs and tables by the Hudson's Bay Co., linoleum, blinds and curtains by the Standard Furniture Co. Jack Talbot was in charge of frigidaire installation.

FRANCE SHOWS LITTLE SIGN OF DEPRESSION

Visitors Find Few Outward Evidences in Busy Cities

NICE, France, (CP)—The tourist visiting France is rarely halted by the French equivalent of the popular North American street question—"brother, can you spare a dime?"

The conclusion France is not suffering greatly from the depression is inescapable to the visitor not given to reading official reports, but impressed only by what he sees and hears.

Pulsating Paris, busy Bordeaux, mercantile Marseilles and blase Biarritz all in their own way reveal considerably activity, moderate business and a happy frame of mind. It may be the Frenchman is only trying to keep up a bold front but it cannot be gainsaid that crowded stores and busses, and restaurants and cabarets filled with people in joyous moods, do not bespeak hardships.

The tourist trade, particularly that from America, has greatly dwindled in the few years just passed but even that very important item on the French revenue sheet seems to be coming back to some degree this year. Almost weekly the great liners from New York and Quebec report heavy lists and at such watering places as Nice, Cannes, Biarritz and Le Touquet, hotel managers rub their hands in anticipation of the return of good "seasons."

From the moment of disembarking at Cherbourg where a great new maritime terminus has just been officately opened there could be sensed a very definite indication the people of this old republic were not on their backs. The perpetual motion that is Paris, with its smiling millions of jostling persons, further added to that impression. Business seemed good. People were buying, taxis were busy (as only Paris taxis can be), music halls and entertainment houses were enjoying good patronage.

Driving south through the Chateau country and its quaint old vilages presented still another picture of contentment. The condition of highways challenged any suggestion the country's coffers were low. And in the large provincial cities such at Tours, Bordeaux, Toulouse, Marseilles and Nice were few empty buildings along the main streets or silent factories. Many factories were working day and night.

Nor are factual indications lacking that things are on the move in France. At Auteuil, beautiful tennis headquarters of France, record crowds jammed the Stade Roland Garros to witness the fall of French colors both in the National Tourney and the Davis Cup play. Thirteen thousand people paid fairly stiff prices to watch tennis matches many days in succession.

Unemployment statistics show that since the beginning of March, 1933, unemployment has been reduced from 331,816 by 25 per cent to 249,198. These figures are for the whole of France.

While not indicating necessarily an abundance of money, the recent national fervor manifest in the great "Tour de France" bicycle race revealed the happy temperament of the Frenchman. Thousands lined the 2700 mile route around France following frontiers and coasts, and interest was said to have been unprecedented.

SEATTLE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Thirty-one valuable racing greyhounds owned by L. W. Thomas, of Miami, Fla., and Butler Brooks, of New York, died mysteriously aboard the Steamer City of Los Angeles, on the way from Seattle to San Francisco, Attorney James Crehan was notified Thursday.

YOUNG CORBETT WANTS A JOB

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 1—(AP)—Despairing of getting a return match with Jimmie McLarnin and thereby regaining his welterweight championship, Young Corbett III asked Governor Rolph for a job Thursday.

The Fresno battler told the governor there was no money in second-rate fights, and that he wants work. The governor, a long-time friend, directed his executive secretary, William C. McCarthy, to place Corbett, probably as a boxing inspector.

What One Girl Wore

By Betty Brownlee

Vacations are practically over and everybody is hustling back to town and activity.

Wide shoulders, slim lines, waistlines slightly below normal (what good news for the plump ladies)—all of these important points have been decided upon.

One of the first things you'll need is a warm street frock. You know how suddenly those first cool days are apt to arrive.

Woolen fabrics this season are as varied as you can imagine. Honors are divided between rough and smooth weaves. Close, tight-fitting weaves are popular.

A lovely frock for street wear is sketched today. Of rabbits' hair wool in a soft taupe-grey shade. It emphasizes the new wide shoulder line. This is achieved in a novel manner—the unusual way in which the sleeves are set in, and the slight puffs below them does it. The dress buttons to the knee with brown bone buttons and there is a brown silk scarf collar. Don't overlook the convenient slit pockets.

"GOLD IN CANADA" REPORT REVISED

A revised edition of a report on "Gold in Canada" has just been issued by the Dominion Department of Mines. Impressed by the unprecedented world wide interest in the exploration for, and the production of gold, Hon. W. A. Gordon, minister of mines, has thought it opportune that Canada's present position as a producer should be more widely known.

"The object of man's cupidity from the earliest times, gold has been perhaps more influential than any other metal in shaping the course of human history," states the author. "A somewhat remarkable fact regarding the influence that gold has exercised on human affairs is that it has not been due to the importance attached to its mere possession." "The value placed upon gold is purely symbolic, and at no time has it been desired merely for the industrial uses to which it could be put and the material services it could render to mankind."

The report furnishes a brief history; a record of annual production; such details of cost as are available; and a description of mining and milling methods for each property now in production. In addition there are short properties of gold; its rarity and modes of occurence; the history of its use; the gold standard; the history of the world's producers; the types of ores from which gold is produced; and the history of gold production in Canada.

IN CANADIAN PRISONS

Are convicts brutally and cruelly treated in Canadian prisons?

The riots some months ago started some lively questionings. The subsequent trials of some convicts at Kingston and St. Vincent de Paul brought out much interesting evidence.

Lately in the Toronto Globe Dr. Withrow, formerly a physician of high standing, who served a term at Kingston, has been writing a series of articles on life in that particular penitentiary. Other convicts have been coming forth with statements and impressions. General Ormond, now superintendent of penitentiaries, has issued a statement in defence.

Dr. Withrow's articles have attracted wide attention. He is clearly oppressed with the feeling that the convicts are inhumanly treated, so much so that his endeavor to make out a case does not quite ring true. There is a patent striving for effect that really destroys what he is seeking to create, says the Winnipeg Tribune.

At the same time his evidence does establish some weaknesses in the penitentiary system. He disposes effectively of the myth that a young prisoner may "learn a trade" in the penitentiary. Making big stones into little ones, or stitching up torn mail bags, is not learning a trade. His criticism of the library of 15,000 volumes at Kingston, of which much has been heard, reveals a shocking state of affairs. Clearly for political or personal favoritism the library has been loaded up, on several occasions, with hundreds of copies of a single more or less worthless book. As a library it is a hopeless mess.

These general questions apart, the Toronto doctor succeeds only in conveying an impression of a generally bad atmosphere made worse in particular cases through the ignorance and brutality of particular guards.

General Ormond's reply, setting forth the number of inquiries conducted in the past few years, the new regulations issued, and the procedure in this case of special offenders within the prison walls, is generally effective. The department of justice is clearly striving to attain an ideal in the conduct of penitentiaries—strict discipline, no molly-coddling of prisoners, but no brutality and no unnecessary hardship. The list of new regulations he presents is fair evidence that the administration of the prison system is in intelligent and capable hands.

What remains to be attended to is evidently to see that in all cases penitentiary officials, from wardens to guards, are chosen from the standpoint of fitness for their jobs and not by reason of political pull or any other consideration. It is clear from the evidence presented that Kingston penitentiary got into inefficient hands for some years, with a slackening of discipline and looseness of administration causing endless trouble, and it is more than suggested that political patronage was the cause. It is noteworthy that no other penitentiaries have had such charges levelled against them.

Canadians do not want prisons to be regarded as rest homes, or resort hotels, continues the Tribune. They exist to discipline offenders against society. Too much molly-coddling of prisoners can lead to most unfortunate results, as some American prisons have demonstrated. At the same time there is no excuse for brutality or cruelty, and a constant check should be maintained to prevent it from creeping into the penitentiaries.

Mary Pickford sums up part of the show business in this sensible language: "The moving pictures need more movement, more drama, more music, instead of so much talk."

"Between You and Me"

By J.B.C.

Al Horawill, the grocery man, wants to know:
Why does a lady
Who wants to order groceries
Wait until five minutes
Before the last delivery
Of the day?
Then she begins to inquire
The price of carrots
And are the grapefruit fresh,
And do you have any more of those
Nice little cakes
In the awfully cunning box?
And some sugar—oh, 10 pounds.
She supposed—and 10 bars
Of that soap you advertised
Last Tuesday,
Or was it Wednesday?
And the grocery clerk
Keeps saying
Yes, ma'am,
Very politely,
All the time thinking
He'd like to disguise his voice
And call her up at 5 o'clock
Every morning for a week
To tell her
Her house was on fire.
That would fix
The silly old
Cuckoo.
Yes, ma'am, it'll be right
Out.

The day after his first—and last—boxing match, a sad and disappointed man hobbled off to see a doctor. His head was bandaged, his arm was in a sling, his face was a mass of court plaster, and he had borrowed a crutch.

"Hurt yourself?" asked the doctor.

The patient grunted. Of course he'd hurt himself.

Feel any pain! He couldn't feel anything else.

"Looks as though you've had an accident."

"Oh, no," replied the patient, finding his voice at last. "Not at all."

"Then, perhaps," suggested the doctor, "you've been indulging in some rough sport?"

"That's it," said the patient: "I've been blowing bubbles."

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PREVENTING BAD DREAMS

You find yourself dreaming for two or three nights in succession and the dreams are not pleasant. All sorts of unpleasant situations arise in these dreams in some of which you are a coward, sometimes see terrible accidents occur, perhaps a loved one is in danger, and other distressing events occur, so that it is with great relief that you wake to find that it was only a dream.

You try to remember what you had eaten that night before you retired only to find that it was the same as usual, so that the bad dream was not due to food.

As you know we have those who can interpret dreams or at least claim to be able to do so.

There are many well known nerve specialists who have seemingly been able to help certain nervous cases by interpreting their dreams; bringing them into the light of day as it were.

What may be the cause of these bad dreams? Are they due to some "mental" or nervous condition?

There is no question but that our mental attitude, our mental condition (particularly if we are tired mentally) often has much to do with causing dreams.

However, one of the frequent causes of bad dreams and one that is overlooked, is that waste products remain too long in the system and act as a poison in the blood. It is this poison that often causes bad dreams. Dr. S. Kalter, Munich, was able to give help to a number of nervous patients afflicted with bad dreams by making sure that these wastes were thrown out of the body. The wastes usually accumulated by eating more food than the body needs.

By the use of medicines such as Epsom salts which remove wastes not only from the large intestine but from the blood also, dreams are prevented in many cases.

By the simple method of doing some hard physical work such as sawing wood, shovelling sand, perspiration is induced, the bowels move regularly, excess wastes are removed and no bad dreams occur.

This method of hard physical exercise, instead of complete rest, has cured many "mental" cases.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

URGES RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM

To the editor:

Sir—According to your correspondent, J. W. of Harrop, the men in the relief camps are doing a lot of serious thinking politically, which is a hopeful and encouraging sign. It is to be hoped that they are thinking intelligently and constructively as well as seriously.

One can scarcely imagine a place where a thoughtful man would be more liable to think seriously than in a relief camp or less inclined to consider untried theories instead of facing hard facts. These men are going through the first extensive attempt at "Socialization" and are getting a first-hand demonstration of its merits and demerits. They are learning from bitter experience that they are not needed elsewhere under Capitalism and that their first taste of practical Socialism is not exactly what it was cracked up to be. Both systems having been weighed and found wanting, about the only thing left is to tackle Rugged Individualism.

Even under "planned economy" or any other utopian scheme, the human race would still be composed of the same selfish individuals as it is at present and would still contain about the same percentage of men who would not conform to the standardized plans of the majority. Those who cannot keep their end up under our competitive system, would drag their feet under a cooperative system and in all probability be forcibly detailed to forced-labor camps which would be no improvement on our present road camps. No state can endure without discipline maintained by force, even though that force be either physical violence, economic pressure or merely the weight of public opinion. Every successful state has always been ruled by a dominant class who were most successful under whatever system prevailed at the moment never by those who were failures. Might has always triumphed over Right and probably always shall.

The boys would be much more profitably employed if they thought less about what the government should do for them and a whole lot more about what they could and should do for themselves. They would be getting somewhere if they realized that while their own existence is highly important to themselves, each and every one of us could fade out of the picture at anytime and not be greatly missed.

Once an individual realizes what an insignificant mite he is in that vast organization known as the human race, he begins to think intelligently. Only hyprocrites pretend to be their brother's keeper any more.

Society, being an old softie, feels morally bound to look after the mentally and physically unfit, the young and the old, but it gets real hard boiled when it is asked to care for the able-bodied. That is a one-man job for each and every one of us and it is sheer waste of mental effort trying to dope out a social system that will relieve us of that duty every man owes to himself. Even if we had a Soviet, the first important task the dictators would be forced to tackle would be to forcibly remove vast number of misplaced people from the congested centres of population, re-locate them in the most favorable spot available and tell them they must shift for themselves. The hardships incident to such wholesale deportations would be infinitely worse than our road camps, so the boys should be extremely thankful that a capitalist government is infinitely more considerate and humane than a Socialist or Communist government would be.

I sincerely hope the boys will keep on thinking for the man who thinks eventually gets around to his own troubles, and when he thinks for himself he acts for himself and when he acts for himself, he begins to get somewhere.

SEES ECONOMY IN BALFOUR WHARF

To the Editor:

Sir—I would like to draw J. Heuston's and others' attention that a ferry landing at Balfour would be a saving to the government and not a waste of money.

The present wharf at Balfour has roads running from east and west and also connections for Kaslo, Nelson, etc.

The government would not have to buy land from property owners to build roads, as these roads already exist and could be put into first class condition at a very small cost.

The ferry steamer would save about seven miles a day, being 2555 miles a year. Is it waste?

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

Monday, Sept. 4, 1933—Cool, mildly stormy and some rainfall in the southwest sections, extending east along the southern borders to regions about the great lakes.

Tuesday, Sept. 5 — Unsettled conditions, with rains throughout most of central provinces, now passes to east about great lakes country. Temperatures rising in the west.

Wednesday, Sept. 6—The rains continue but become very much lighter, the main disturbance slowly drifting to the southeast. Change to cooler in central parts.

Thursday, Sept. 7—Rains and cooler weather in western sections, but some clearing about the middle portions of central provinces, where there is some frost danger at night.

Friday, Sept. 8—Excepting for a few scattered showers should be fairly clear weather and in most parts slightly warmer, but soon changes to cooler.

Saturday, Sept. 9—Unsettled weather, yet only scattering rainfall, in spots, about the northwest and near great lakes. Definitely cooler.

Sunday, Sept. 10—Clearing and cool weather generally, except probably some clouds and light showers along the southern borders and about the great lakes regions.

Week of Sept. 4 to 10, 1933, in central provinces begins with mild storm conditions and continues unsettled most of week, precipitation probably being up to normal in most sections. In last days some clearing and as temperatures are expected to decline most of the week there may be frosty nights near the 10th, especially about the northwest plateau regions and the higher central plains. To the southwest and along the southern borders not much frost danger before the third week of September.

When the weather is unsettled and rainy the first part of September in this country, as is expected this week, there is usually a cool spell, soon followed by much warmer weather, there often being a number of very warm days about mid September. However, it must be remembered that in these regions September can not be considered a warm month. In the basin of the Athabasca the frosts frequently come on late in August; in the valleys of the Red river of Manitoba, the Red Deer river of Saskatchewan, the Qu'Appelle and Assiniboine, killing frosts rarely occur before the last of September. About northwest Alberta and in the Peace river district the valley lands are generally free of damaging frosts until after the middle of September.

This is said to absorb shocks.

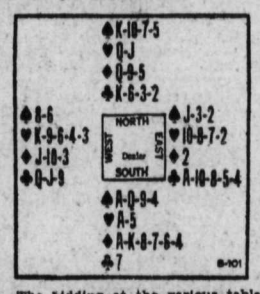
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

EIGHT TRUMPS ARE SOMETIMES BETTER THAN NINE

There is a general supposition among bridge players that there is some advantage to be gained by holding the greatest possible number of trumps in one hand, even when the total of the two hands is the same; consequently, with hands in which the partners have eight cards in each of two suits, it is more advantageous for one player to have five trumps and the other three than it is to have a 4-4 trump distribution. Of late years, that theory has been utterly dissipated in expert circles, 4-4 being recognized as a more advantageous trump holding, with the 5-3 as a side suit affording discard opportunities. But whether more tricks can be averaged with a 5-3 distribution than with a 4-4, the total trumps in the former case being nine and in the latter case eight, is till an open question. The following hand played in the weekly duplicate of a popular club furnishes a strong argument in favor of the 4-4 distribution.



The bidding at the various tables was reminiscent of the Tower of Babel. No two North and South pairs seemed able to speak the same bidding language and many orthodox contracts resulted. The sound bidding for North and South if using the Official system would be: Two Diamonds, two No Trumps, three Spades, five Spades, six Diamonds, six Spades. If using either the Culbertson or the Sims system, it would be: One Diamond, one No Trump, two Spades, four Spades, five Diamonds, five Spades, six Spades.

In the play the Declarers who tried for a Diamond slam were doomed to disaster because they lost one Club and one Heart. Those who were content to bid five Diamonds fulfilled their contracts and their games but failed to gather the small-slam bonus.

Those who played with a Spade contract had no difficulty in banking twelve tricks. All Wests started the play by leading the Queen of Clubs and, therefore, the first Club trick was taken by the adversaries, then a second Club was ruffled, the adverse trumps exhausted, and the North hand, which held the thirteenth trump, was given tree discards, two Clubs and one Heart, on South's long Diamonds. Consequently, the Heart finesse, which would not have succeeded, did not have to be taken and the advantage of a long side suit was demonstrated.

"MARY FAITH"

By BEATRICE BURTON

(Chapter XX Continued)

"Why don't you take that sixty dollars of mine and give it to Mr. McIntrae?" she asked him. "Why don't you go to him and make a clean breast of the whole thing, Kim? Everbody makes a mistep at some time or other in their lives, and there isn't a dishonest bone in your body, really." Her blue eyes pleaded with him, believed in him, trusted him.

But he wasn't looking at them. He was staring at the floor and his mouth was set in a hard stubborn line.

"No, I'll see him in Calcutta before I go near him," he said. "Besides I don't want his two-penny job any more. He can take it and give it to the office boy—If I had any money I'd open an office of my own. J'd show them whether I'm a lawyer or not!"

He looked at her then. There was a question written in his face.

"How much would it take—how much money would it take?" Mary Faith asked.

"Well, I wouldn't be able to count on getting very many clients for the first two or three months. I'd have to have a thousand dollars, anyway. You see, it would cost something to keep this flat going and I couldn't rent a decent office for less than a hundred a month. Then I'd have to have a girl to answer the telephone and look after things when I wasn't there."

"All right. I have a thousand dollars and you can have it, Kim," Mary Faith said and watched the look of relief that swept across his face. "I can be your office girl, too, can't I?"

"Oh, no. I may be a poor sort of a husband, but I won't let my wife work in my office," he said promptly and firmly.

Then he caught her in his arms, crushing her close to him. "To think of a little thing like you saving all that money, when I've never saved a red cent!" he said huskily. "Why, you're nothing but a gadget!"

"A very thrifty gadget," Mary Faith laughed, and then sobered all at once. "When I saved that money I didn't know how much happiness I was saving up for myself, Kim," she said.

CHAPTR XXI

They didn't let his mother know that he had lost his position with McIntrae and Westover.

"There's no reason why we should," Mary Faith decided. "It will only make her miserable, Kim. We'll simply tell her that you've made up your mind to set up shop for yourself."

And that was what they told her.

"I suppose that was your brilliant idea," she said to Mary Faith the next borning after Kim had left the house for an office. "But I think he'd been much better off if he'd stayed right where he was, making sixty dollars a week and having no responsibility at all! Suppose he fails—what then?"

"He won't fail. Don't you worry about his failing," Mary Faith said light-heartedly. She was very happy that morning.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE!

and so are the prices here marked downward, on every article a boy or girl needs for school wear.

2 Floors Covered With Bargains!

An Economy Guide to Parents Outfitting Children for School

TIME was when it was a real burden to equip John and Mary and Susie for school. But those days are no more and parents heave a sigh of relief when they contemplate such bargains as are featured here!

There are suits for the active boys and the low price carries with it no reduction in the sturdy quality parents know is essential to long wear. There are smart little frocks for girls from six to high school age—perky cottons and attractive woolens. All styles for the young miss in just the style she admires. At the low prices Fall 1933 brings there is no reason why every school girl should not have an interesting variety in her wardrobe.

ACCESSORIES FOR CHILDREN

Shoes—that bugbear of all mothers and dads becomes an easy problem now that prices have come down. New shoes can be depended to wear as well as they ever did at the higher prices and because prices have been so greatly reduced they may now be replaced with scarcely a dent in the budget.

Low prices, too, prevail on lingerie for girls and well made underwear for boys. Ties, stockings, socks, handkerchiefs, and hats all may be had at prices far below usual. Take advantage of these sales—you'll be well repaid!

and as Always—

. . . we are in the lead with the greatest stock, at the lowest prices, of all Text Books, Scribblers, Exercise Books, Clines Loose Leaf Books and Refills, Reeve's Pastels and Paints, Pencils, Erasers and the scores of items that are essential.

School Time Is Examination Time for Your TEETH

Give your children a chance—See that their teeth are in proper condition before sending them to school. Systematic care of children's teeth requires more than your own efforts. No matter how faithful you may feel that you are caring for their teeth, decay may somehow get a foothold. Only the Dentist's trained eye can detect such trouble before it becomes serious. Teach your children that the DENTIST IS THEIR FRIEND and that if they visit him faithfully he probably will not have to hurt them. Encourage them in the habit of having their teeth examined twice a year. Many people go through life handicapped by a miserable, unhealthy mouth—AFRAID TO VISIT A DENTIST—because of an experience in the dental chair as a child, which they can not forget.

LIST REVISION SEPTEMBER 18

Applicants Must Appear Personally

Proclamation of the nomination and election dates, the latter as November 2, leave the monthly voters list revision of September 18 as the last before the closing of the list, John Cartmel, registrar of voters for the Creston-Nelson electoral district, stated Thursday.

This makes of no avail the large number of applications handed in since August 21, the last revision held, as they must be in hand for 30 days before the revision on which they are acted upon. This does not mean, however, that these applicants may not get on the voters' list, Mr. Cartmel stated, as they will be entitled to be placed on the list if they appear at the September revision in person to prove their qualification.

ABOUT 6800 NAMES

About 60 names on the existing lists have been objected to, of persons who are deceased or have moved away, and the striking off of these will just about balance personal applications at the September revision, it is thought.

Thus the figures as of August 31 will probably approximate those of the final list. On that date, the whole electoral district had 6783 names, the Nelson portion of the combined riding having about 200 more names than the balance of the riding, comprising the old riding of Creston.

FORMER NELSON BOY DIES COAST

Mrs. W. S. Crowther, Observatory street, has received word of the death of her brother, Michael Bernard Philbert, former Nelson boy. He died Thursday following an operation for appendicitis.

Bernard was born in Nelson and attended St. Joseph's convent. While moving to the coast with his parents about 10 years ago he was well known in the city and two years ago visited here. He was employed by the Pacific Construction company in its clearing operations done in connection with the Corra Linn dam construction.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Philbert, who reside at the coast, he leaves two brothers, William of Vancouver, and Arthur of San Francisco, and three sisters, Mrs. Crowther, Nelson, Mrs. Vanden Hurk and Marguerite at the coast.

MISS BELL DIES AT TRANQUILLE

Miss Agnes Isabella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bell, died at Tranquille, B. C. Monday and her body was brought to Nelson Thursday for burial.

Miss Bell, who was 20 years of age, was born in Lancaster, England, and came to Nelson with her parents about five years ago. She attended the Nelson high school and for three years attended first aid classes held by Fred Blakeman, receiving her certificate for each year.

About three months ago she was taken to Tranquille for medical treatment.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. C. Howard, and two brothers, Ambros and James.

WOMAN FINED IN LIQUOR CASE

CASTLEGAR, B. C., Sept. 1.—Appearing before R. A. D. West stipendiary magistrate, on an adjourned case having unlawfully kept liquor in containers which did not bear the official seal as prescribed by the government liquor act, Nastia Morosoff, through her counsel H. W. McInnes of Trail, pleaded guilty. Mr. McInnes pleaded that as this was a first offence that the minimum fine be exacted. A fine of $50 and costs of $7.40 was imposed and the liquor confiscated. Constable George McAndrew, prosecuted.

MINIMUM PRICE FOR FRUIT

AN OPEN LETTER TO FRUIT GROWERS

OKANAGAN MISSION, B. C., Aug. 28—I wonder how many of you fruit growers known what is happening and what is going to happen to your fruit crop?

Do you know that your fruit is going to be shipped on consignment? It has already started, i.e. price on arrival, and it is only a short step to straight consignment. Not only the grower but the shipper as well knows what this means; both will be holding the bag and no profit to either.

Is there a way out? I claim there is and that the grower is the only man to do it, as the shipper is helpless at the present time.

We have a growers' organization known as the B. C. F. G. A. that seems to be giving all of its time to telling us what it is going to do next year. It has always been next year with this organization, and in the mean time this year's crop is to be dumped, in spite of the fact that prices of all other commodities are going up.

Our newly elected President is asking for the support, moral and financial, of the grower. Mr. President, let me show you how to obtain it.

Show the grower that you and your executive have sufficient courage to adopt a bold stand when the occasion arises by announcing the following marketing policy:

No apples to be shipped from the Valley to our domestic market, unless they return a pre-arranged net price to the grower—I would suggest one cent a pound for this year. With an announcement of this kind from the B.C.F.G.A., the grower will give the support you are asking for—or he is dead from the ears up. Having the support of practically all the growers, you will then be in a position to notify all shippers, including the Associated, that all contracts are cancelled (this would be necessary if shippers agree to the plan), and then proceed to use a grower's contract drawn up by the B. C. F. G. A. containing the following:

1. The grower will pay the shipper the following packing charges . . . packing charges to be agreed upon by the shipper and the B. C. F. G. A. (40 cents in Wenatchee this year).

2. When the amounts received by the grower and shipper equalize, the balance, if any, to be divided between grower and shipper as arranged. (This would be an inducement for the shipper to obtain a price higher than the minimum).

3. In case of dispute between the grower and shipper, the shipper agrees to allow the B. C. F. G. A. to audit his books.

4. In case any shipper is unable to sell all of his fruit, he shall transfer to any other packing house, on request, at a price to cover cost of packing and minimum return to the grower.

5. In the case of any shipper owning an orchard or orchards, he shall include his own and his growers' fruit in a common pool.

In order to carry out the above, it will be necessary to set up a committee of three for the Okanagan and Main Line, and, as the work would be light, I would suggest a salary not to exceed $500 each per annum.

With this plan in operation, it would not be necessary to interfere with the shipper in any way and, with all shippers having a free hand, we would secure the maximum distribution. We could then turn to the export deal, as price cutting by the shippers has already taken place without justification.

I feel that, with the proper administration, this plan could be put into operation in time to handle the Mac deal.

If the above looks like a way out to the growers, then get in touch with our President of the B. C. F. G. A. and pledge your support and demand action at once. This is the only way you will receive a return for your crop this year, and you must take this action yourselves.

R. W. RAMSAY.

POOLE DRUG BANKRUPT SALE

MEDICAL ARTS BUILDING NELSON, B. C.

RENO'S VEINS PROVE RICHER

Long Life Predicted by O. C. Thompson to Shareholders

The Reno Mines' annual meeting was held in Vancouver when reports that were accepted as entirely satisfactory to the shareholders were submitted.

O. C. Thompson, managing director, sumitted a detailed statement of the developments at the mine showing that ore values were increasing in width and in richness as greater depth was reached.

Assets of the company had been greatly added to in the past year as a result of new equipment and developments.

Plans of future development covered projected operations of four or five years when it was intended that the various groups of mines now included in the Reno property would be inter-connected.

Shareholders expressed satisfaction at the report.

O. C. Thompson, managing director, explained in detail some of the difficulties that had been encountered in starting up the mill last winter and dwelt particularly on the successful development that had been carried on in the mine in the last six months. The results of this development would indicate, he said, that Reno has a long and successful career before it and that there is every reason to believe that a great depth will be attained.

The question was brought up of the number of hostile rumors that have been circulated lately. These were specifically denied.

OF DEVELOPMENT

Some of the encouraging developments as outlined by Mr. Thompson that have taken place at the mine are as follows:

The formation is dipping to the east, the east end of No. 3 level being approximately 57 degrees, that on No. 4 approximately 45 degrees, and the ore is following this dip, which naturally lengthens out the ore shoots.

On No. 5 the dip in that area, which is being driven through at the present time, lies at an angle of 22 degrees, definitely lengthening out the ore shoots to this extent. This is indicated by the character of the ore being encountered now and showing it to belong to the ore shoot further west on the upper levels.

How much the ore shoots will be lengthened out from this cause can only be determined by development, but the large shoot of ore which was encountered east of the fault on No. 3 and 4 levels has not yet been cut on No. 5.

The ore shoots on No. 4 level aggregated a total length of 1200 feet, which was much in excess of that on No. 3.

Indications on No. 5 are that the length of the ore shoots will be greatly in excess of that on No. 4 due to the flattening effect of the formation. On the west end the dip of the formation is slightly to the west and the ore shoots are following this dip.

A large three-compartment shaft to a depth of 1000 feet will be sunk as soon as the large ore body is cut to the east. The purpose of this shaft would lead to the major development of the property over the next four or five years and if the results anticipated are realized a tunnel would be driven from the Motherlode side to connect up the Motherlode, Nugget and Reno veins and also cut intervening veins. A winze has already been sunk to a depth of 90 feet and drifted to the east a distance of 60 feet and has definitely proved the ore at the fifth level to that depth.

CONCLUSIONS REACHED

The present situation can only lead to the conclusion that continuous and successful development of the property can be carried on for an indefinite period. One encouraging point brought up was that since the annual statement the returns for the first part of August were 31 per cent higher than for the preceding month and these figures should continue to improve.

The shareholders were very pleased with the information received and extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Thompson.

B. S. Wallbridge, vice-president, in his remarks brought out the fact that the fixed assets of the company, consisting of machinery and equipment, new construction, etc., had been increased by $198,000 during the period in review.

The board of directors elected for the ensuing year are as follows: Sir Kenneth Crossley, baronet; B. S. Wallbridge, K. G. Nairn, O. C. Thompson, John Anderson, G. F. Gyles, O. B. Allan and A. J. Hendry.

Grains Mark Time

By GILES L. FINDLEY
Associated Press Market Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Grains "marked time" in a desultory pre-holiday market today which saw prices yielding fractionally.

Issuance of private crop reports indicating a sharply curtailed corn crop had only a momentary effect on trading. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's remarks warning farmers inflation might prove harmful also was passed by without comment.

Wheat closed dull and weak, near the day's top levels, but ⅛ to ⅝ cent below yesterday's finish.

OIL ISSUES ARE UNIFORMLY STRONG

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP)—Toronto stock exchange closed higher today after one of the slowest sessions of the year. The holiday, prolonged by Labor day observance Monday, was a deterrent to trading.

Oils constituted the only uniformly strong group. International Pete. up 1⅛, represented a quarter of the sales over the whole board. British American gained ½ to 15, Imperial ⅜ to 14⅞, Crown Dominion 1½ to 4¾, McColl Frontenac ½, the preferred 1 and Supertest ordinary ½.

Prices Advance in Big Toronto Trade

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP)—Trading worked up to considerable volume on Standard exchange today and the day's best prices were boarded at the close.

A record high price for gold in London caused hardly a ruffle here. Dome finished unchanged at $34, Lake Shore off 25 cents, Pioneer down 50 and Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves off 5 cents each.

Ventures rose 6 cents to 1.14. Sylvanite gained 1, San Antonio 4, McVittie 5 and Macassa 2.

PEARCE WINS EASILY

nishes Strong Quarter of a Mile Ahead of Phelps to Win the World's Professional Sculling Throne

By ELMER DULMAGE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP).—Still toying with the great mes of sculling, giant Bobby Pearce, of Australia, to-ght took over the world's professional throne by defeat- Ted Phelps, stocky Thames boatman from England by arly a quarter-mile in a ee-mile duel for the title. t was just as easy for the six- blonde as it was for him to ep aside the amateurs in other s, and win two Olympic cham-nships, the historic Diamond lls and the British Empire title. rowd of 45,000 watched him pull y from the champion in the t 25 yards and parade along to finish in a grand triumphant rch.

Phelps collapsed at the finish, er pulling over the line, a min- and 20 seconds after the new mpion had driven his trim shell o new title waters. Pearce's time s announced as 19 minutes, 25:6 onds—one of the fastest three- le trips ever made in a singles ll.

ME STROKE

The same old 28-to-30-strokes-a-nute gait that left the amateurs ping in his wake all over the rld had Phelps beaten before the st one-mile leg was over. The glishman fought grimly to the st turn but it was all he could to stay within four lengths of arce. His short, deep stroke was sed to 34 at times to enable him do this well.

But, at the turn, the curly-headed ampion, who won the title on the ames in 1930 from Bert Barry of gland was on the verge of being t-distanced. Despite the fact he ade quite as good at about-face Pearce, he was whipped—trailing six lengths.

Not since the immortal Ned Han-n, handsome wonder sculler of e 80s, has a Toronto throng seen y sculler make an internationalist e look as slow as Pearce did helps.

IF IT WASN'T FOR—

There has been only one perfect umpire in the history of baseball and Bill Klem admits he is both of them. Although John McGraw claimed that he had never seen even a passably good umpire in over 30 years, Klem hastens to dispute him.

Bill modestly admits that he never missed a ball or strike or base decision in his life. "There are no ties," says Klem, "so how could I miss 'em"

Tim Hurst, the famous umpire of other days, was Klem's only rival in the "perfect" league. An inquisitive fan once asked Hurst just what salaries umpires were paid.

"We don't make much money," was Tim's answer, "but you must admit you can't beat the hours."

GIANTS TAKE 2 ON BRAVES

Drops Boston Into Third Place; Pirates Win Seventh in Row

By BILL KING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Mighty arms of Carl Hubbell and Fred Fitzsimmons both pitched and batted New York Giants into a double victory today that dropped Boston Braves into third place, a single point behind Pittsburgh Pirates, before 48,000 spectators, largest major league crowd of the season.

Hubbell out-classed Fred Frankhouse by a wide margin while hurling the Giants to a 2-0 win in the 10th inning of the opener. His famous screw-ball baffled the Braves as he chalked up his 20th victory of the season and his 10th shut-out. Fitzsimmons was almost as effective while working for his 5-3 triumph in the second half of the clean-sweep, which lengthened the Giants' lead over the virtually deadlocked Pirates and Braves to seven games.

Frankhouse, with his fast curve misbehaving, encountered plenty of trouble but the brilliant performances of his infield mates kept the Giants scoreless until the 10th, which the Boston right-hander opened by fanning the veteran Travis Jackson, in at third base for Johnny Vergez.

Fitzsimmons had the second game firmly under his thumb until the eighth inning, when the Braves bunched four of their six hits for three runs that tied the score.

First game:

New York	2	7	0
Boston	0	4	5

Hubbell and Mancuso, Richards; Frankhouse and Spohrer.

Second game:

Boston	3	6	0

Fitzsimmon, Luque and Mancuso, Richards; Brandt and Hogan, Spohrer.

REDS BEAT CUBS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1 (AP)—Their own pitchers wild enough, but those of Chicago Cubs wilder, Cincinnati Reds celebrated home-coming today with a 7-3 victory over the fourth-place Chicagoans. Granted eight walks, the Reds garnished them with five singles and a double to roll up their score.

Chicago	3	10	1
Cincinnati	7	6	0

Malone, Nelson and Hartnett; Benton, Frey and Lombardi.

Wins Pro Championship

ENID FALLS BY 6 AND 5 SCORE

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

EXMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, Highland Park, Ill., Sept. 1 (AP)—England's hopes of winning the United States women's golf championship was struck dead at Exmoor today by the defending champion, Virginia Van Wie of Chicago. She defeated Enid Wilson by the astounding score of 6 and 5.

Miss Wilson spread-eagled her field for four successive days with a burst of par-breaking golf. Then she went stale.

Joining Miss Van Wie in the finals was one of her firmest friends, Helen Hicks of New York, 1931 champion, who romped home with a victory almost as big as Miss Van Wie's, a 6 and 4 conquest over Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N.J. The two American girls will meet for the title tomorrow over 36 holes.

Miss Van Wie's victory over the English girl today was a rout from the first tee shot to the final note as the defending champion caught the tall, fair-haired girl from the Nottingham hills sadly off her approach game and riddled her hopes with shots that broke par by two shots.

Wholesale Butter Prices Are Firmer

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 (CP)—A total of 1800 boxes of butter will have been exported to the United Kingdom before the end of the week according to an announcement made here today by the board of trade. This follows a trial shipment of 1000 boxes made some time ago. With the local dairy and produce market butter prices practically at export level, exports can be expected from time to time, as Canada has a surplus. Montreal wholesale butter prices firmed slightly today, closing at 17⅞ to 18 cents per pound for No. 1 butter in carlots or less. This is ⅛ of a cent higher than yesterday. Receipts totalled 781 boxes.

PIONEERS TALK OF OLD TIMES

Annual Banquet at Nakusp Preceded by Afternoon Reunion

NAKUSP, B. C., Sept. 1—The old timers' banquet which annually has been successfully given by E. J. Leveque, took place in the Knight's of Pythias' hall. This year Mr. and Mrs. Leveque were assisted in entertaining by the Knights of Pythias. The affair was welcomed with great enthusiasm as on former occasions and the gathering was even larger.

During the afternoon a re-union was held on the grounds surrounding the hall. Horseshoe pitching, checkers and cards were in play. As each arrived he was asked to sign the register and was presented with a button-hole of sweetpeas and fern. At six the banquet was served. The hall was effectively decorated with evergreens and crepe paper novelties. About the room pictures of many of the old timers were posted. Across the front end of the hall was hung the motto "Old men for counsel, young men for achievement." Cut flowers of many varieties graced the tables. In a great arm chair at the head of the first table sat the "daddy of the party," M. M. Fry, who is 91 years of age.

The other guests included, D. W. MacDonald, J. Graham, H. Beck, J. T. Riley, T. Allshouse, H. Kelsall of New Denver, William Pratt, P. E. Hamer, G. Keys, J. Wagstaff, J. C. Harris of New Denver, H. E. Jones, H. Aalten, C. B. Hambling, Canon G. Thompson, J. D. Allen, J. Parent, Jr., J. Miller, J. A. Spiers of Kaslo, D. Dean of Silverton, Capt. J. Fitzsimmons, M. McLean of New Denver, R. Green, J. Cadden of Burton, R. F. Kirk, W. I. Mosley, A. Hartford, W. Morgan, W. Scott, G. H. Gardner, G. E. Webster, E. C. Murlow and A. E. Picard.

The ladies assisting were Mrs. E. J. Leveque, Mrs. F. Mayoh, Mrs. R. Buerge, Mrs. O. Salstrom, Mrs. C. S. Leary, Miss M. H. Butlin, Mrs. T. Lodge and Miss Edith Billy.

After dinner the guests, seated in a horseshoe, were welcomed by Mr. Leveque, who said that each succeeding year of entertaining the "old men" of the district gave him more pleasure than the last, and he stated that he was very pleased to see new faces among the group, including several from out-of-town. He expressed sorrow that three of the number had passed on during the last year, these being L. J. Edwards, Mr. McCormack and Mr. Maxwell and he asked for two minutes silence.

Capt. Fitzsimmons on his remarks commended Mr. Leveque and the Knights of Pythias on the interest they have shown in the old timers of the district. He spoke of the wonderful spirit of accomplishment which the pioneers left behind for those who follow on.

C. S. Leary, who also was present, offered the appreciation of all present for the hospitality shown them. This was reinforced by J. C. Harris of New Denver and J. A. Spiers of Kaslo.

Canon G. Thompson spoke very forcibly saying that although the years are slipping away, the best is yet forthcoming and urged that faith be stronger at the end.

Later the old timers were joined by many friends who enjoyed a convivial evening. A program of dances was varied by novelty numbers and several speeches. Miss Mabel Alpsen delighted her listeners as she whistled a somewhat plaintive melody. The selection showed talent. Another pleasing number was a tap dance given by Miss Doris Harvey. G. Hunter Gardner, Jr., caused much amusement singing a comic song. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. Parent, Jr., at the piano and Miss Alice Leveque on the violin. E. W. Somers spoke and in his remarks called for great respect of old age from the young. A humorous recitation was given by George Dodds.

The most striking item, however, was the address given by M. M. Fry.
