More than 10,000 men, women and children of all ages took part in the parade here which wended its way along Queen street to the cenotaph at the city hall where, in the presence of Premier Howard Ferguson and other notables, Mayor McBride accepted a large wreath from the loyal order and placed it on the cenotaph. Mrs. William Parmell, of Windsor Junction, was killed when she stepped off the local train to cross the tracks to her home, just as the Maritime struck the suburban. The local train was hurled back 80 feet in a mass of debris by the express. Mrs. Wilson Conrad, of Windsor Junction, was caught between the two cars of the local and seriously injured. PLANE TEARS; FLYERS QUIT LONGEST HOP

Californian Pair Make Perfect Landing After Over 246 Hours

MEN AND ENGINE IN GOOD SHAPE

Fabric Parted in Long Stretch; Unable Load More Gasoline

CULVER CITY, Cal., July 12.—After 10 days and a quarter in the air, two flyers completed a new aviation epic here today when they brought their biplane "Angeleno" to earth bearing a new record for sustained flight.

L. W. Mendell, of Los Angeles, and Roland (Pete) Reinhart, of Salem, Oregon, upon landing their Buhl sedan at 2:13:02 p. m., had been aloft 246 hours, 43 minutes and 32 seconds, exceeding the previous record by 72 hours, 42 minutes and 33 seconds. The "Angeleno," powered by a second hand Wright whirlwind motor, left the ground Tuesday of last week at 9:29:30 a. m. Since that time the previous record had been established at Cleveland.

ENDS IN DRAW

The grueling duel between man and machine in its magnificent test in the skies ended in a draw as such, for both man and engine were ready to carry on. It was the fabrication of the second hand ship which gave way. The flight was brought to an end when the tail group started fluttering and made it impossible to carry on the 38th refueling.

"We have to give the engine credit for everything," was the first comment of Chief Pilot Mendell, as he clambored from the ship. "Never before has an airplane engine done anything like this."

If the engine could talk, perhaps it would have paid a like compliment to the men, for never before have two humans undergone such a test.

AN OLD SHIP

The old "Angeleno" had travelled some 17,000 miles before the flight, and the Wright whirlwind engine had a similar record, some 450 hours in the air before it was re-serviced for this flight. In fact, it was just an undertaking of veterans, for the two flyers were veterans trained to discipline and endurance under trying conditions in world war field and sea service, and the re-fueling ship was a retired night mail flyer which had gone 250,000 miles.

The previous record for endurance flight with refueling was 174 hours, 59 seconds, made by Byron K. Newcomb and Roy L. Mitchell.

Deputy Minister and Air Director Saved

TORONTO, July 12.—Walter C. Cain Ontario deputy minister of lands and forests, and Captain Roy Maxwell, director of the Ontario air service, are safe at Sioux Lookout. Word to this effect reached Toronto tonight. The message announcing the flyer's safety said Captain Maxwell had flown the plane back to Sioux Lookout because of illness which seized Mr. Cain. The latter was operated on at a hospital shortly after arrival.

Government officials had believed the men lost when no word arrived here from them for more than 24 hours.

Urges Duty on Bread in New U. S. A. Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Appearing today before a sub-committee of the finance committee, H. M. Auman, representing the bakers and allied interests of New York, urged a duty of 20 per cent on bread in the new tariff bill. He insisted that the competition of Canadian bakers along the border was becoming serious. He said that Canadian bread is imported in large amounts and sold from 40 to 50 miles on this side of the border at prices that interfere greatly with the business of the bakeries in and about New York city.

Mr. Esling will make efforts for a further increase. Mr. Hannah enlisted in Trail in the 54th battalion in 1916.

JAMMING OF CONTROLS IS CRASH CAUSE

Pilot Tells of Struggle to Save Machine and Youthful Pilot

TORONTO, July 12.—Jamming of the controls caused the crash of the Waco airplane at Dufferin aerodrome Wednesday, resulting in the death of Jack Armstrong, 17-year-old Toronto pilot, said Floyd Banghart, pilot of the plane, in an interview today. Banghart is in a local hospital, and has not been informed of Armstrong's death. He may lose both his legs.

"Believe me, I fought her with everything I had, but she would not come out," said Banghart in describing his struggle to shake the control loose. "The stick was jammed hard and I couldn't correct it. I counted the spins. You know I have always said, 'don't let a ship spin more than twice.' If you can't get her out in two spins you can't get it out in 20. Jack is the gamest kid I ever say. He knew something was wrong, so just to assure me he wasnt going to freeze (take a death grip) on the control, he held his hands above the cockpit cowling."

Banghart said he tried to land in some trees when he realized his fight for control was useless. He missed the trees by several yards, the plane nosing into the ground and crushing Armstrong, probably Canada's youngest pilot, to death.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The American aeronautical corporation announced today that a cable had been received from Italy stating that Roger Q. Williams and Captain Lewis Yancey are contemplating a return flight to the United States in a flying boat.

LABOR SEEKS END TO ROW IN THE PARTY

Restlessness Among Back Benchers Will Be Dealt With at Once

ATTACKED BOTH ON FLANK, REAR

Most of Critics New Members; Not Yet Indicated In Procedure

LONDON, July 12.—In the privacy of its own following the parliamentary Labor party is to discuss the restlessness among its back bench members. For in the last day or two the government has found itself attacked both on the flank and in the rear. The opposition's commendation for the moderation of the government's legislative program is received by some of the Labor back benchers with misgiving.

When the government's scheme to increase the treasury grant to the unemployment insurance fund was before the house yesterday, for instance, there was criticism not only from the Clydeside Laborites but also from a number of Labor members who are not usually associated with the left wing of the party. Most of the back bencher critics within the Labor party, new members with no real desire to it is observed in Labor circles, are embarras the government.

They simply have not learned the art of making their influence felt without increasing parliamentary difficulties. At least this is the semi-official explanation put forth. But a number of Labor's own critics have considerable parliamentary experience and there lies the difficulty.

AN INSTANCE

Today, in a minor degree, there was another instance of back bench murmurings. The house was discussing the government resolution for appropriation of the equivalent of $5,000,000 to assist in development work in the crown colonies. It is a part of the Right Hon. J. H. Thomas' unemployment schemes. W. J. Brown, Labor member for West Wolverhampton, urged that if the money was to be placed at the disposal of private enterprise it should be given subject to certain Labor principles. Apparently, in order to cope with the unemployment problem, assistance was to be given to private enterprises, he said.

"Unless there are restrictions operating in a socialist sense, we shall find the Labor government will become more popular with the capitalist interests than with Labor," Brown added. "Is any of the money to go to private enterprises?"

HOT RETORTS

"I respectfully suggest," Mr. Thomas returned, "that a few more weeks in parliament would enable the honorable gentleman to know better than to ask such questions."

"I hope I do not desire to descend to the level and the manners exhibited by the right honorable gentleman," Brown retorted warmly.

Mr. Thomas added that the governmental paper clearly showed there might be grants for state owned railways and harbors. But was it wrong, for instance, to lend money to a settler to enable him to buy a tractar?

"Then it may go to private enterprises?" Brown questioned.

"Yes, if that is what you mean by private enterprises," replied the minister. "I intend to do all that is humanly possible to do in order to have the money spent in a common sense and business like way."

The parliamentary Labor party is meeting next week and the complaints from the back benches will be taken up then.

Does 100-Yards Dash in Nine and Three-Fifths Seconds at Vancouver

PERCY WILLIAMS

Percy Beats Wycoff of California in First Heat 100 Yards

10,000 SEE IDOL IN GREAT RACE

Other Olympic Stars Do Well in First Day's Events at Coast

HASTINGS PARK, VANCOUVER, July 12.—Percy Williams here tonight upheld the reputation which he made last year at Amsterday as the Olympic sprint champion, by outrunning Frank Wykoff, who came from California to beat him, and equalled the accepted world's record of 9 3-5 seconds. The event was the first heat of the 100-yard dash at the mid-summer carnival and grand amateur athletic meet here, which opened this evening with the greatest aggragation of sprint stars present that has ever gathered on the Pacific coast. The final of the 100-yard dash will be run tomorrow.

It was the first time the Olympic champion came into world's record time for the 100-yards.

PEOPLE GO MAD

Ten thousand Vancouver people who came to see their hero run against first class competition for the first time on his home grounds, went mad as he shot into the final 10 yards one yard ahead of the speeding Wykoff. In contrast to the smooth cinder track of the Dutch stadium, Williams and his team mate, Johnnie Fitzpatrick who came 4000 miles patrick who came 4000 miles to run with him and place third ran on a track inches deep in loose dirt and dust, one usually used for horse racing.

Saturday, Williams will face an even more severe test when he comes up against Wykoff and Fitzpatrick again, and also Bracey of Texas, Eddie Tolan, University of Michigan and Milton Maurer of the Los Angeles A. C.

In the two terrific fields which faced the starters here today these were the six who survived the preliminary tests, even such a runner as Hank Cumming of the Newark A. C. being eliminated.

WILLIAMS' SPURT

Williams and Wykoff started together and they were running alongside each other. At 50 yards Williams threw caution to the winds, and head down, sprang into that driving finish that took him to victory.

Although the race from the start lay between Wykoff and Williams, Fitzpatrick was having his own battle in the second rank with Cumming. He also came in ahead on the last 10 yards and won his place in the final.

The second heat of the 100 which brought Bracey, Tolan and Maurer in a group to the tape to finish in that order was easily run in 10 flat. In this event all men were obviously saving themselves for tomorrow.

In the final of the 220-yards, however, Canada will have but one representative, Johnnie Fitzpatrick of Hamilton who placed third in the second heat. Percy Williams announced that he had withdrawn in order to save himself for the final 100 yards on Saturday. Vic Pickard's team mate from the University of Pittsburgh won the first heat from H. Cumming and Eddie Tolan in the easy time of 22 seconds and in the second heat Wesley Foster, Washington State college, and Frank Wykoff, Glendale, ran ahead

Cotton Workers In Manchester Threaten Strike

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 12.—A big lock-out in the cotton manufacturing industry, possibly affecting a half million workers was expected tonight to result from the decision today of the federation of master cotton spinners to enforce a reduction of 12.82 per cent in wages from July 29.

The balloting of the federation was overwhelmingly in favor of reduction.

The weaving side of the industry had already decided without a ballot to apply the reduction. All the workers' unions have agreed to reject the demands of the employers.

There seemed little hope of reaching any compromise before July 29, unless the minister of labor intervenes. She may do this if the parties themselves are unable to arrive at a settlement.

This is the first big labor dispute since the Labor government came into office.

Ask That Chinese Woman Be Turned Over for Smuggling

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Chines Minister Wu today requested Secretary Stimson to turn Mrs. Ying Kao, wife of the Chinese vice-consul at San Francisco, over to Chinese authorities for trial on charges of opium smuggling.

Unofficial opinion here, however, was to the effect that the secretary would not grant it.

Horticultural Reports From Kootenay Points

The orchards are looking very well. Growers were warned by the press of a predicted dry summer. Very little seeding has been done by way of maintaining cover crops this year.

Cherries are commencing to size, drop was heavier than anticipated, about 6,000 crates expected. Shipping may start second week in July.

Plums and prunes are up to average. There will be enough to fill all orders.

Pears are heavy, the drop is just about over. Growers should commence thinning early varieties. Expect yield to double last year's total.

MIXED FARMING

Haying operations started this week and if the weather is favorable until the end of the month heavy crops of good quality will be put in the barns.

Early potatoes are now in flower. The total acreage is small. Should be on the local market the first week in July.

All pastures have been greatly benefited by the recent rains, the stock at present are up on the upper benches. The flats are still flooded but the high water is receding rapidly.

The spring seeding of wheat on the reclamation farm comprising 1600 acres, was practically undamaged by seepage or floods.

C. B. TWIGG,
District Field Inspector.

EAST KOOTENAY DISTRICT

The month of June opened up clear and warm until the eighth of the month, when it became partly cloudy with some nice showers of rain. On the 12th it became clearer and warmer for a few days but after a few days it clouded again and some very wet weather was experienced until the 16th. Then it became very windy and much cooler until the 21st of the month, when it became more clear and pleasant, and we then experienced some very good growing weather until the end of the month, there being some frost on the 23rd which slightly frosted some of the potatoes and more tender vegetables on the low lying lands.

CRANBROOK DISTRICT

The vegetable and grain crops for the most part are looking very well indeed, though on account of cool nights growth was somewhat retarded for some time. In some sections in this district rye and wheat have attained a height of 2 ft. to 3 ft. On the 22d of June the first cutting of hay was noticed. In some cases alfalfa had gone down badly with the wind. Vegetable crops are looking just fair, but with favorable weather that is not too hot should produce a good crop. All fertilized plots in this district are looking very well indeed and some very good results should be shown when harvesting time comes. Considerable potato bug poison has been distributed from this office and with the co-operation of the growers with the official in charge, Mr. Marsack, injury from this pest can be kept down to a minimum.

WOOL SHIPMENTS

The carload of wool for the Kootenay districts was assembled at Cranbrook and shipped on June 29th to the Co-operative Wool Breeders at Weston, Ont., there being around 18,000 lbs. There were a few lots which did not arrive in time for the car, but these will be shipped to the secretary of the B. C. sheep breeders at Kamloops for shipments from that point to Ontario.

The pigs in the pig clubs are looking in very good condition and growing fast.

FERNIE AND NATAL DISTRICTS

At the time for the last visit to these districts, crops were for the most part looking very promising. Hay crops especially look as if they will produce a heavy yield. For the most part, the season appears to be rather later than in the Cranbrook district, but with the excessive moisture that these districts set, the crops will possibly be heavier than in the Cranbrook district when harvesting time comes.

WINDERMERE AND POINTS NORTH TO GOLDEN

The crops in these districts for the most part are not looking quite as far advanced as those around Cranbrook. This is due possibly to a lesser amount of rainfall and no doubt has a tendency to make this district appear somewhat later than the sections further south. Hay cutting is now on in these districts.

WALDO, BAYNES LAKE, GRASMERE, NEWGATE DISTRICTS

In some parts of these districts, especially the Grasmere section, hay crops are looking exceptionally good, but in other parts crops appear to be very late. This is, no doubt, due to the fact that these parts of the district did not have the amount of rainfall that some others did.

H. S. FRENCH,
District Agriculturist.

CHILCOTIN

Grazing conditions are of the best in this section. Grazing had not yet commenced at end of June. The meadows and alfalfa crops are looking well. Cattle have now completely overcome effects of the winter.

BIG BAR MOUNTAIN, GANG RANCH AND CANOE CREEK

This area is suffering a little from a grasshopper outbreak on the range. Bait is being put out and ranchers have every hope of checking any further outbreaks. Moisture conditions have been good and the ranges at present are in excellent shape. On the Big Bar mountain the wheat growers are expecting heavy yields since the ground has retained the June and spring moisture. The wheat is beginning to head out. This area has not suffered any summer frosts.

CLINTON AND DISTRICT

Alfalfa is being cut and crops in general are looking good. The ranges are in a healthy condition.

FOREST GROVE, 100 MILE HOUSE TO 150 MILE HOUSE AND DISTRICT

The season has been somewhat backward. The grain crops are late but moisture conditions are good and there is no doubt that during July rapid growth will be made. The hay crops are promising a good yield. The garden and potato crops have been touched by frost. Beans suffered the most injury. Grazing and pasture conditions are excellent.

150 MILE HOUSE, HORSEFLY, BEAVER LAKE

Frosts have been heavier here than to the south. Hay crops are coming on well. Peavine over the range is in abundance in these localities and grazing is good.

SODA CREEK, DOG CREEK

There has been less rainfall here than in other sections of the Cariboo. However, as irrigation is practised crops have not suffered. Alfalfa crops are doing well and the end of June will see the bulk of it in stacks or bales. A small amount was cut during the middle of the month. Frosts did not touch here.

KERSLEY, AUSTRALIAN & DISTRICT

On the higher levels frosts have injured to some extent potatoes and garden stuff. The grain crops, although somewhat backward are heading out. Alfalfa will be ready to cut at the beginning of July with other hay crops coming later. The yield will be a fair one. Those potatoes not touched by frost are going well.

QUESNEL, DRAGON LAKE, WEST QUESNEL

June frosts and cold nights throughout these districts gave the crops a setback, especially the truck and potato crops. The grain crops are a little backward but have a rank, dark color.

G. A. LUYAT,
District Agriculturist.

GRAND FORKS DISTRICT

All crops in the district are looking exceptionally well. The fruit crop will not be quite as heavy as was at first expected but the quality, on the whole, should be superior to that of last year.

Field crops have responded wonderfully to the generous rainfall during the first three weeks of June, and growing conditions have been excellent.

The first cutting of alfalfa hay is now under way, and with continued favorable weather, will soon be completed. Cutting was delayed for from 10 days to two weeks by the frequent showers, and this will make subsequent cuttings also late. However, if irrigation water is turned on immediately after the first crop is off, the second crop should come on rapidly, and a third cutting be possible before too late in the season.

Grain fields are looking remarkably well. Wheat, oats, rye and barley are all headed out, and give promise of a good crop generally.

Potatoes, in most instances, are making rapid growth. The color of the leaf is generally dark green and thrifty looking. Except on some fields belonging to the Doukhobor community, where mosaic and other foliage troubles are showing up quite extensively, the potato acreage of the valley is generally clean and free of disease. There is, unfortunately, the wireworm damage to be reckoned with, and this it is feared may prove to be more or less serious, as was the case last year.

The corn crop, which was somewhat backward during the wet weather which prevailed after germination, is now coming on rapidly.

Onion fields, which were only a fair stand in some cases, due to poor seed, are making good growth, and give promise of a fairly satisfactory crop. All other hoed crops are very thrifty in appearance.

LIVE STOCK.

Feed on the range is plentiful and cattle, which were generally thin when turned out, are now in good condition, an doing well.

Paul C. Black,
District Agriculturist.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

June on the whole was a very wet month, the total rainfall being nearly five inches, most of which came from the first to the 18th. The weather during this period was quite cool but no frost. This was followed by warm to very warm days with an occasional shower and good growth has taken place in all crops during the past two weeks.

TREE FRUITS.

All tree fruits are making excellent growth. The "June Drop" is just about over and indications are that most varieties of apples and pears have a good set. Growers are now busy thinning and more spraying foh the control of apple scab has been carried out in the Kootenay orchards than usual and where growers made their applications at the proper time, the fruit is very clean and little trouble is expected in such orchards from this disease. The unsprayed orchards are showing a lot of scab and a poor crop will be the result. Very little damage is expected from insect pests, although in some orchards aphis are quite bad. The cherry crop will be later than usual, shipment of Bing and Royal Anne starting around the 15th, with heavy shipments by July 20th. Lamberts a few days latter. Some of the old cherry trees are showing a light crop, but with the young trees starting to produce, the total shipment may equal that of last year. Apples indicate an increase over the last year while other tree fruits will average about the same as the 1928 crop.

SMALL FRUITS.

Strawberries are just staring to move in quantity from the Lake points, the season being delayed by the cool, rainy weather during the first half of June. Most of the fields are showing a heavy crop and with good weather the fruit will be of good quality. While a very large tonnage of the crop will go to the jam factories at Brilliant and Nelson, there is expected a considerable increase in the crate shipments over that of last year. Raspberries are showing a very heavy crop and shipment of this fruit will start about the 12. Gooseberries are on the market and there is also a good demand for this fruit at the jam factories.

GENERAL.

The June rains were a great help to all grain, hay, pasture and root crops and vegetable crops. Haying has been quite general in all sections during the past 10 days and the crop is quite heavy. The cutting of alfalfa was delayed a week or more by the heavy rains, and the first cutting will be somewhat coarse. Excellent pasture can be found for all live stock, and this condition will last well into the summer.

Potato crops are coming on in fine shape and where good seed has been used a very good yield is expected. The June rains were very helpful for this crop. Local grown new potatoes are on the markets although the supply is quite limited at this time.

All truck garden crops are coming on rapidly, and a number are supplying the demand for the local markets.

E. C. Hunt,
District Horticulturist.

CRESTON VALLEY

The fore part of June has been cool and cloudy, with heavy showers and not until the last few days has the weather become warmer and clearer. The rain was of great benefit to all crops and compensated us for our loss of fall and winter average supply.

Strawberry picking started on the 12 June, the season being expected to last until the middle of July if weather does not turn unexpectedly hot. No contracts made this season for jam berries. First week in July peak expected.

Raspberries. Shipments may start early in July. An average crop can be expected.

Tomatoes are growing rapidly, increase in acreage in Erickson and Sidar. Growers busy cultivating. Some early blossom has already set.

Sidar growers have increased their plantings in peppers as compared to last year, not much change in the quantity of cucumbers.

TWO ELLISON OFFICIALS ON VISIT, NELSON

Guests of Mayor Barnes; See Trail Plant and Power Plant; to Return

M. P. Ellison and George W. Green, prominent officials of the Ellison Milling and Elevator company, both in the United States and Canada, were city visitors yesterday. They were guests of Mayor R. D. Barnes, local manager of the company while in the city. Mayor Barnes drove the visitors to Trail where they saw a portion of the Consolidated plant there. On their homeward journey they were shown through the power plant at Bonnington Falls.

Mr. Ellison is secretary to the Canadian company of the Ellison firm and is assistant general manager to the firm on the United States side. He is a member of the legislature for Utah and represents many large interests in the U. S. A. including banks, sugar factory, flour mills, departmental stores and he is owner of a ranch of 30,000 head of cattle.

Mr. Green is genered manager for the Canadian interests of the company.

Following his drive through the district, his first visit to the Kootenays, Mr. Ellison, who is a man much-travelled, had nothing but praise for what he had seen. He stated that the beauty of the district excelled that of Switzerland. He too, was amazed at the industrial work in the district and of the great possibilities. He stated his intention of returning next year with an automobile party to spend more time in the Kootenays.

INDIAN ELECTION DATE INDEFINITE

Viceroy of India Will Postpone Dissolving Legislative Assembly.

BOMBAY, India, July 12—With reference to the recent announcement of the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, that the Legislative Assembly would not be dissolved at the end of September and that the election would be postponed to a date not yet fixed, the Times of India, in a leading editorial says:

"There are two reasons in favor of the postponement of the assembly elections. One of these, a minor reason, was urged upon the Governor General by the members of the Central Legislature committee co-operating with the Simon commission before their departure for England. They pointed out that if the elections were held this autumn they would therefore find themselves penalised for having undertaken the work of assisting the commission. The other reason, and the one which had led Lord Irwin to take his decision has reference to the position created by the Simon commission's report.

"The elections would normally take place in November; the report of the Royal commission will certainly be made public by the end of January of next year. Were the elections to be held before January the electors would be asked for their verdict on a blind issue. In the words of the Viceroy, at the time when the elections would normally be held, there would inevitably be speculation as to the possible recommendations of the commission and its Indian committees, and forecasts, most of which must necessarily be without foundation, would be widely published. The resulting uncertainty would not fail to be embarrassing both to the candidates and to the electors. In other words, the extremist parties would fill the air with denunciations of the Simon commission, while the Moderate candidates would have nothing to put before the electors.

"A legislative body brought into existence under these circumstances could not possibly represent the will of the people on the subject of future constitutional advance in India. This being so, it would be futile to submit to it any scheme which the Simon commission and its Indian committees might propose.

"The extent to which the assembly's life should be prolonged is another matter. If it is lengthened by six months or a year the reports of the Simon Commission and the Indian committees would then be before the electors. We do think it would be desirable, since two to three years may well elapse before the new act receives the Royal assent. The holding of the elections after the Simon commission' report has been given wide publicity would enable the government of India to test the state of feeling in the country. They would then be able to shape their course accordingly, since there is little use in granting to India a constitution which the people refuse to work under."

Old-Timers Win in Baseball, Cranbrook

CRANBROOK, B.C., July 12.—The final playoff to establish supremacy between the Old-Timers and younger ball players of the city was staged on the recreation field on Wednesday evening. The All-Stars or Old-Timers kept a lap ahead throughout the game, emerging victors by a narrow margin, with the score 16-15.

The game was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd of spectators who cheered their favorites with or without reason. McLaren and Musser were the battery for the Old-Timers. Sharpe and Pasquzzi for their opponents. W. P. Doran was the umpire.

The game was close enough to give the youngesters hope that, with time on their side, victory may yet be theirs.

Cranbrook Sunday School Picnic Is Largely Attended

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 12.—The annual Sunday school picnic of the United church was held at Green Bay on Wednesday afternoon with a record attendance of something over 250. Though the weather was not all that could be expected of the middle of July the children seemed capable of enjoying themselves in spite of it and races and games took place on the sandy beach.

A delicious supper, with all the ice cream the children could eat, served in the shelter of the willows, concluded the afternoon. The general comment, on the way home was: "anyway on a windy day there are no mosquitoes."

Mr. Spreull and Mrs. McClaren, superintendants of the junior and senior Sunday schools; Mr. Wallace and the teachers and officers of the school, also the transportation committee, and those responsible for the refreshments, were congratulated on the smoothness with which the events of the day moved.

CRANBROOK, B.C., July 12.—The Cranbrook Gyros maintained their supremacy in the soft ball field when they defeated a Y. M. C. A. team on Thursday evening with a score of 15-12. The game was even throughout and well worth watching. The score at the seventh inning was a tie. In the eighth inning no score was recorded but in the ninth the Gyros in a splendid rally, sent their runs to 15.

Morris Clark and G. Sinclair were the battery for the "Y" team and Ira McNaughton and J. P. McLaren for the Gyros. Bill Doran was umpire for the game.

CANADA MUST PROTECT ITSELF

Senator Borah is quite correct. Foreign nations have no right to object to American tariffs. They are the business of the American people.

But foreign nations have the right to protect themselves, and the right to retaliate, if they so desire.

Canada, for example, not only has the right to protect itself against higher American tariffs and their effect on Canadian farmers and Canadian industries, but it owes it as a duty to itself to do so.

It might prove to be a very good thing for Canada if the new American tariff forced the issue at Ottawa.

NATIONAL LINES SHOWING BETTER

To establish a basis of comparison for the net revenue of the Canadian National railways is not easy. The figures as they stand cannot be compared to those of the C.P.R. on account of different methods of bookkeeping and to all sorts of considerations which enter into government operation as compared with private operation.

Nevertheless an increase from $41,000,000 net operating revenue in 1927 to $54,000,000 in 1928 is a good showing and illustrates the extent to which the business of the railroad, which is illustrative of the business of Canada, is growing.

What the Press Is Saying

SASKATCHEWAN RESULTS

We have fought the provincial Conservatives because there have always existed among them influential people who were ready to attack us and to give us grave reason to be anxious about these very few rights of ours whose maintenance we demand, if they were returned to power. But we should not forget, on the other hand, that it is the Conservatives who have been our best friends in Manitoba, and that in Ontario it was Mr. Ferguson who abolished Regulation XVII. Maybe, now that they have come to power, the Conservatives will follow these good examples. We will judge the new Government by its acts, being resolved all the time to stand for our rights. And if experience shows that our fears have been ill-founded, we will consider it our duty to give the French-Canadians of the province complete liberty of action as far as voting goes. Among them there are many Conservatives who would gladly vote for a party which has always been theirs.—Prince Albert Patriote de l'Ouest.

FIRST FRUITS OF DIVISION

The election results give ample ground for misgiving. The Conservative party has lost seriously; the Liberal party's position is practically unchanged; the Socialist party has made many gains.

If the Socialists had a majority this would be the direct consequence of forgetting the principle which Sir Austen Chamberlain laid down in 1922 when he declared, "with all the earnestness of a great conviction, that union should be our first consideration in the face of a common (Socialist) foe, and that it would be criminal to allow personal ambitions or narrow party jealousies to sacriface the interests of the country." Personal ambitions and narrow party jealousies have been allowed to stand in the way of co-operation between the two sections of anti-Socialist opinion in the country, and instead of fighting the common enemy they have been cutting each other's throats.—London "Daily Mail."

FACE THE FACTS

The hour of victory is also the hour of defeat. Many splendid men have gone down in the battle of the polls, and the first thought of the nation should be out of gratitude for their labors in the past and sympathy for them in their discouragement of the present. But their passing is only temporary. Good men are not so numerous that fortuitous circumstances can keep them down. Such men as Sir A. Shirley Benn, Coloney Moore-Brabazon, and Sir R. Mitchell Banks will find their way back to Westminster. The nation needs them, and their place is in the nation's service. But the King's Government must go on, and the urgent consideration of the nation must now be given to the victors, to the men who will comprise the next parliament. — London Daily Mail.

WAX FLOWERS

A reader friend, Mrs. A. H., has kindly written to tell us how she successfully waxed flowers. I feel sure that many other women will be glad to have these directions:

Formula for Waxing Flowers: Into a deep kettle put four pounds of paraffine wax, four ounces or spermaceti and one-half of a plumber's candle. Melt over a slow fire to 130 degrees F., using a candy thermometer in the kettle. Remove the wick of the candle, and when this degree of heat is attained turn off heat. Now, holding the flower by the stem, dip it into this hot solution (it should cover the flower) and withdraw quickly, shaking off surplus wax into the kettle. Reshape petals if necessary. In about ten minutes, dip the stem and leaves into the hot solution, also; or you may use a spoon to pour the hot waxy liquid carefully over the stem.

Flowers may be redipped several times, each time lowering the temperature slightly but never below 120 degrees Fahrenheit. After each dipping, place the flowers in an upright position to prevent any pressure.

If a glossy finish is desired, break up a stick of transparent amber sealing wax in enough denatured alcohol to cover, and apply this. The waxed flowers should stand till thoroughly dry (about seven hours) and then be brushed with the sealing wax solution, a camel's hair brush being used to apply this gloss.

Compact flowers do not wax nicely (carnations, asters, etc.,). Roses and peas, however, which have larger petals, do wax well.

Those among our readers who have gardens will no doubt want to preserve many of their loveliest blooms in this way, to place on buffet on dining table next winter.

That Body of Yours

By JAS. W. BARTON, M. D.

INFECTION REMOVED BUT RHEUMATISM STILL PRESENT.

"Nothing else so annoys a doctor as a patient who persists in having rheumatism after his teeth and tonsils are out!"

I got a good lough out of the above myself and most other doctors will also, because it has really a grain of truth in it.

Now your own doctor will tell you that nearly 80 per cent of rheumatism can be traced to infection of the teeth and tonsils and that in removing them he is going to be right four times out of five.

The fact that he has seen scores of cases of rheumatism clear up in a few days or weeks makes him persist in the removal of teeth and tonsils.

The reason that many individuals persist in having rheumatism after teeth and tonsils are out "is that their system still holds some of the poison."

As I've said before the removal of teeth and tonsils is like closing down a factory. But as the factory has been manufacturing its product-poison-for years, and hasn't sold or got rid of its product by throwing it out of the blood, then it finds itself with much of its manufactured goods on its shelves.

These shelves that are holding the poisonous products are the blood, muscles, gall bladder, and large intestine.

If the individual will help his system to get rid of this poison by means of excercise, hot baths, massage, alkalies to keep the alkaline reserve of the blood, prompting intestinal action, then he will get rid of his rhematism. It takes some time for poisons to get out of the system. The enlarged glands due to poison from bad tonsils, sometimes take as long as three years to get down to normal size after removal of tonsils.

If however he puts it all up to the doctor and expects the removal of teeth and tonsils to rid him of his rheumatism immediately he may be one of the disappointed ones.

He will be the fellow who annoys his doctor by persisting in having his rheumatism.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A period of below normal temperatures was expected to center on July 11; after center of this cool wave has passed your vicinity, average temperatures are expected to rise until near 27 and be mostely above normal during 13 to 28. A storm wave of severe intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on 14, causing the first of a series of heat waves that are expected to average considerably above normal for this continent; highest temperatures of these heat waves will be expected to center on 27 20 and 14, in the order as named. As storm wave centering on 14 moves eastward, conditions will be favorable to hot winds in southwest and severe local storms in southern and eastern Great Central valleys. Precipitation during this storm peroid will be expected to be above normal in all of cotton belt and in all of eastern Great Central valleys; this precipitation, while mostly from severe local storms, will probably prevent a great deal of serious crop damage. Areas that do not receive sufficient moisture during this storm period will probably suffer from hot, dry weather during the following two weeks; the average for the continent, however, will be too much rather than too little moisture. Mild storm wave expected to center on 20 will be of little importance excepting where dry heat may damage areas in central and western parts of sections one and three. Cool waves during period 13 to 28 will be expected to be very moderate and to seldom go below normal temperatures.

RAIN MAKING.

When drouth and famine strike a section of any country, the people are willing to place faith in any suggestion that may be offered for relief. Recent experiments with powder called "declin," supposed to condense moisture by refrigeration, thereby causing clouds to precipitate their moisture, failed to in any way relieve the disastrous Hongkong drought, according to the A. P. Suce chemicals, electrified sand, or any other rainmaker that may be successful in an atmosphere that is sufficiently saturated with moisture would fail to produce rain in a drouth area. When drouth affects an area, moisture near the earth's surface just is not there in sufficient quantity to be precipitated to the earth. I will expect quite a large area of North America to be under the influence of drouth during part of 1930 cropseason; this will be the first drouth area forecasted by this bureau for any part of North America since 1925. The condition that has predominated the northwest during the past several months, is not termed a drouth in these forecasts, but t moisture shortage; excessive evaporation. which is always present in a true drouth in these forecasts, but a moisnorthwest during this peroid. Jupiter will still be making plenty precipitation for North America during 1930 cropseason, but other influences will prevent its falling on some areas.

When they arrived at their journey's end; the boys were told off to gather wood, fetch water and help in the making of camp, and supper. The next day was spent in skipping, bathing and swiming.

'No Mere Words Can Overtell The Lure The Kootenay Fosests Spell'

The Kootenays are a sportsman's paradise. The grizzly lurks in its dark, deep forests and the gamey salmon in its deep, blue lakes. Its forests are redolent with the tang of rich, growing trees, trees from which a wood is cut world famous for its quality.

Kootenay timber is fine in grain, solid in texture. Few trees really overgrow, making lumber of quality hard to equal anywhere for building purposes.

Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Improvements in Streets of City Urged

VISITS MANY CITIES

The use of Bitumuls is a success, the street official says, and is one of the city's greatest advancements in the matter of macadam maintenance, as it provides non-skid, non-bleeding and non-bumpy surfaces.

In obtaining information on which to base his report and recommendations, Thomas visited San Jose, San Mateo, Palo Alto, Martinez, Alameda, Oakland, San Francisco and several other cities. While making the surveys of the various cities the assistant superintendent of streets invited officials to visit the local corporation yard.

Many officials, he reports, were surprised that Berkeley should investigate other cities, as he felt that Berkeley had no need to conduct such a survey or to improve its methods. He says that Berkeley is looked upon by many Bay District cities as being a model to be copied.

BULLS KICK UP DEMONSTRATION ON WALL STREET

More Than Three Dozen Issues Hurled Up to Record Peaks

NEW YORK, July 12.—The decline of brokers' loans this week, while negligible in volume, was such a pleasant experience after the advances totalling nearly 500,000,000 during June, that the bull forces staged one of the wildest demonstrations witnessed in months on the stock market today.

More than three dozen issues were hurled up to record peaks in heavy trading carrying total sales for the session to 4,759,130 shares, the largest turnover since May.

Call money again held at 9 per cent.

Cons. Gas was a leader of the utilities group, mounting more than 7 points to a record price. Western Union came to the front in the late trading with an advance of 11½ points carrying it to a new top at $221½. Standard Gas, Columbia Gas, Public Service of New Jersey and North American were others breaking into new high ground.

U. S. Steel mounted 5¼ points to a record level at $203¼, about 40 points above the year's low, Midland Steel Products preferred jumped 8 points, but lost its gain in realizing.

In the rails, Union Pacific advanced over six points to a peak above $252, while Chesapeake and Ohio, and Great Northern preferred also recorded new peaks.

Chrysler was again a soft spot, dropping more than 2 points to $71, but five points above the year's low, and Greene Canenea, Coty, National Biscuit, Liquid Carbonic and Advance Rumeley fell back 2 to 3 points.

Detroit Tigers Feared By All League Hurlers

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

That the Detroit Tigers have been a dangerous ball club to play with dynamite sprinkled all the way down the batting order, is no surprise to ball players on the other seven clubs.

Almost without exception the athletes themselves pick the Tigers to finish third in the pennant race. Bucky Harris has put lots of hustle and pep in the Jungle Cats and they are bound to make trouble all season. With Alexander, Johnson, Hellmann, Gehringer and the rest of that wrecking crew operating, there are few pitchers in the American League asking to pitch against them.

Waite Hoyt, the Yankee sharpshooter, told me he wound sooner face any club in the league than the Tigers.

Edmonton Jockey Creates Record in Seven Races

CALGARY, July 12.—Jockey Dwight Hurlburt, an Edmonton youth, under contract to Pat St. Peter, stole the show at the annual Calgary expedition and stampede Friday afternoon when in seven races he finished first in six and third in the other. This is believed to be a record for organized racing in western Canada.

Hurlburt had winning mounts on Foy in the first race; Albert L in the second; Compline Bell in the third; Captain Adams in the fifth; Miss Peggy Docile in the sixth and Pop Shot in the seventh. In the fourth race, which Jockey Longon won on Happy Imp, Hurlburt finished third on Clem Lewis and with any kind of a break he might have made it a clean sweep.

PENNOCK WINS FIFTH

CHICAGO, July 12.—The Yanks backed Herb Pennock's fine pitching with 15 hits here today and won the second game of the series by 12 to 2. It was Pennock's fifth straight victory. Ted Lyons was blasted from the box by a 7 to 0 Yankee lead in less than four innings. The Yankees attack was featured by homers by Bob Meusel and Sammy Byrd.

TIGERS BEAT SOX

DETROIT, July 12.—By scoring four runs in the ninth inning, the Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox today, 13 to 12. The decisive run was pushed across when Ray Robens hit Gehringer with a pitched ball with the bases loaded. Each team got 15 hits, Bucky Harris using four pitchers and Bill Carrigan three. The victory was credited to George Smith.

ATHLETICS WIN TWO

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The Athletics jumped farther ahead of the American league pack by defeating the Browns in both games of a double header here today 10 to 0 and 8 to 2. Grove pitched a five-hit game in the first and Earnshaw was touched for only seven when he retired because of wildness in the seventh inning of the second game. Simmons hit his twentieth homer of the season in the opener and his 21st in the night cap. Fox slammed a circuit drive in the afterpiece.

Cleveland, July 12.—The Indians bunched hits off Myles Thomas, former Yankee pitcher, in three innings today and enabled them to win from Washington, 7 to 2. The Senators could score in only one inning off Joe Shawute and then only with the aid of two errors by the Indian hurler.

'The Foolish Virgin'

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"It is from escapades like this most unfortunate one of last night," pursued Mrs. Broome smoothly, "that we are trying to save Maisie. Dr. Broome was simply—crushed, this morning. 'I would rather—' he said to me—'rather see our oldest daughter lying still in death, as poor little Ursula is lying, than to find her as I found Pamela Raleigh!' Pamela—just a moment, you shall say all you want to, presently!" she interpolated, as the girl, nettled and angry, made a quick interrupting motion. "Pamela are you going to tell your mother of this?"

"I have told M'ma, Mrs. Broome."

"Not the whole story?"

"The—yes, the whole story. There's no story to it! It was just a —sort of combination—of most unfortunate—circumstances——"

"Most unfortunate indeed!" Mrs. Broome agreed fervently, as Pamela floundered. "What explanation did you give your mother—your poor mother," she asked, "of the interval?"

"Of what interval?"

"The interval between half-past eleven at night, when you discovered that Hatter's—disgraceful place!—was closed, and five o'clock this morning?"

"We had no gas," the girl explained patiently. But she was inwardly sick with terror and shame. "Coming up the hill the car—one of Mr. Porter Hilliard's cars—simply stopped short. What could we do? It was bitter cold—it gets frightfully cold between those mountains——'

"You sat in the car all night? That's—obviously—impossible!" ejaculated Mrs. Broome, nettled in her turn at not being able to land her fish more promptly. The girl was showing fight.

"No. There was a sort of—shanty, near there, that Chester knew of—it belongs to his uncle. We went there."

"How do you mean shanty?"

"Well—a little ranch house, down there a mile or two above Hatter's;"

"Oh? I know that place. But that's a seven or eight room farmhouse; I should hardly call that a shanty!" said Mrs. Broome. "It's furnished, isn't it?"

"Well, yes—after a fashion."

"I think I've been down there with dear Jessy Stokes," said Mrs. Broome throughtfully, pursing her lips. "They used to have a Portuguese man living there. There's no caretaker there now?"

How Pamela hated her! How she atedh her!

"No, nobody at all. That was it!" she admitted, grudging every word, every concession. "If there had been a man there, anybody there—with an old horse and cart—anything! But there wasn't."

"So you made a fire and stayed there all night?"

The cruel shrewdness of the cross-examination seemed to shrivel Pamela's heart.

"Mrs. Broome, what else could we do?" she said desperately, youthfully. "When people—when people are wrecked on a desert island nobody questions them, nobody supposes that they intended anything wrong!"

"My dear Pamela, we are not talking of shipwrecks; they are acts of God. We are talking of a perfectly modern young girl, who after a day at the Rodeo and evening of dancing, goes at midnight," Mrs. Broome recapitulated it with a relish, "to a questionable roadhouse with a man she hardly knows. If your father were living, Pamela,' the other woman interrupted herself suddenly, "do you realize that he might send for Chester Hilliard to-day and demand that he marry you?"

"Oh, nonsense!" the girl said, bursting into uncomfortable laughter.

"If it were Maisie, I should feel it was the only possible thing," Maisie's mother persisted solemnly. "And Jessy Stokes," she added, playing a trump deliberately, "is of the same opinion."

Pamela's colour faded a little. It was all very well to have this spectacled matron, who retained, even after twenty-two years of married life, the academic ideals of the dean of a girls' school—which she had been—all very well to have her criticize and moralize in her own absurd way. But to bring young Mrs. Stokes into it was quite a different, and a much more serious matter.

Jessy Hilliard Stokes had been the sister of that charming Jimmy whose death had indirectly brought Chester to Carterbridge a few weeks before. Her father, Porter Hilliard, was on every important directorate in town, and Jessy, married to one of the younger bankers of Carterbridge, was socially preeminent, president of the Cinderella club, deep in theatricals and charities and concerts and golf and everything else that concerned the very nicest upper circle of Carterbridge society.

"Jessy came in here to speak to Doctor about poor little Ursula," Mrs. Broome said, seeing that she had made an impression, and pleased therewith, "and Jessy agrees with me in regarding it as—well, as most unfortunate, to say the least!"

"And I entirely agree with you and Jessy," Pamela said, trying to speak lighly and easy. "Mind you, Mrs. Broome," she asserted courageously, "a great deal more than what we did last night goes on at every dance—kissing and petting and all the rest of it! But technically—technically—it was wrong, and I'm heartily sorry. I'm willing to tell the girls that—to admit that I did a silly thing and that a miserable lot of accidents followed——"

"Willing, you mean, to tell Maisie and Sue Ross and Carol that you and a man you met Wednesday spent last night in the old Hilliard ranch house! Honestly, Pamela," said Mrs. Broome, "I don't know what society is comming to when a girl can say that she has no objection to confessing such an escapade to her friends!"

There was a short silence, in which Pamela attempted to look unconcerned and succeeded merely in looking rebellious. Then the girl said sulkily:

"I don't see what my having met Chester Hilliard last Wednesday has to do with it!"

"It has this to do with it. Doctor said two or three times that agrand passion—a really deep love—he could understand and forgive! But that to go off carelessly with a man you hardly knew—— No, Pam," the older woman said sharply, inflexibly, "it doesn't bear analyzing, my dear, and if you could have seen the tears in Doctor's eyes, and seen poor Jessy, standing in that very window, staring out and saying, 'I can't believe it of Pamela Raleigh!' you'd realize that it is very serious indeed."

"A grand passion—why, but that's nonsense!" the girl said, laughing nervously. "There's never been any talk of a grand passion between Chester and me—we're just friends."

"Well, I am afraid that you have done your friend a very poor service," Mrs. Broome said neatly, as she paused. "For Jessy feels now that it will be impossible to send him an invitation to the Cinderella club—poor boy, he would, of course, have had one of them, if it hadn't been for this."

Now for the first time Pamela showed agitation.

"That would be a cruel and senseless thing to do," she said hotly, briefly.

"Jessy doesn't want to put it to the girls, she doesn't want to mark him or mark you," the older woman said, with an air of consideration. "She merely means to let the matter of his invitation drift, and she—I must tell you frankly, Pam—she feels that the only thing for you to do is hand in your resignation."

There was a moment of silence in the overfurnished, bright room, with its books and lambs and vases and etchings and clocks and trays and photograph frames. Pamela, leaning forward in a rather high, uncomfortable chair, regarded her hostess steadily, with hostile, shining eyes. Mrs. Broome returned the gaze equably, her head a little on one side, her expression pitying, yet firm.

"Resign from the Cinderellas?" the girl asked, in a whisper, after a while.

"I really am afraid so, Pamela. That would be better than being asked for your resignation, wouldn't it?"

"But—but——" Pamela fell silent. "I couldn't imagine the Cinderellas—without me," she muttered, blinking, biting her lips, clearing her throat.

"Jessy and I," Mrs. Broome said judicially, "fell that that is the wisest thing for you to do."

(To Be Continued)

Stronger colors are announced for the fall bathroom, and there will also be a tendency to decorate the walls and ceilings ornately, and to carry out a well-defined scheme of decoration throughout the room.

of Fitzpatrick but the Hamilton star was riding easy.

LOSE IN RELAY

Percy Williams was defeated in the only other event he entered. Williams ran anchor for a special relay team composed of Claude Bracey, John Fitzpatrick, H. Cumming and himself. They were beaten by Frank Wykoff's combination of Milton Maurer, R. F. Bowen, Eddie Tolan and the Glendale school boy, when Wykoff was handed a 10-yard lead. The Vancouver flash put everything he had into his 110-yard flight in an effort to catch Wykoff but failed to gain an inch. The time was 41 1-5 seconds.

No member of the Canadian Olympic girls' relay team failed to place for the finals of the 50 and 100-yard dashes and in most cases they had easy victories. Myrtle Cook won both of her heats, and Ethel Hogarth placed first in her heat, the 100-yard, and Florence Bell in her heat of the 50 yards. The only member of the team to suffer a measure of defeat was Jean Thompson who allowed Lillian Palmer a 15-year-old high school girl, to steal a march in the 100 yards and run second to Myrtle Cook.

Vic. Pickard, the Canadian Olympic star, and Ben Herron, Washington State college, eliminated all local competitors in the pole vault and when darkness drove the athletes from the field they were jumping at 13 feet one inch. They will continue this competition Saturday.

RESULTS:

50 yards (women) first heat—1 Myrtle Cook, Montreal; 2 Marry Frizzell, Vancouver; 3 Madge Gurney, Vancouver. Time: 6 2-5 seconds.

50 yards (women) second heat—1 Florence Bell, Toronto; 2 Jean Thompson, Toronto; 3 Francis Davies, Vancouver. Time; 6 2-5 seconds.

50 yards (women) third heat—1 Ethel Hogarth, Toronto; 2 Lillian Hamer, Vancouver; 3 E. Nicholson, Vancouver. No time taken.

Three miles, final—1 C. Halstead, Los Angeles; 2 T. Herd, Vancouver; 3 A. Ferrie, Los Angeles. Time: 16 minutes 11 1-5 seconds.

100 yards (women) first heat—1 Myrtle Cook, Montreal; 2 Lillian Palmer, Vancouver; 3 Jean Thompson, Toronto. Time 11 3-5 seconds.

100 yards (women) second heat—1 Ethel Hogarth, Toronto; 2 Florence Bell, Toronto; 3 Marry Frizzell, Vancouver. Time: 12 seconds flat.

Men's 100 yard heat—1 Percy Williams, Vancouver; 2 Frank Wykoff, Los Angeles; 3 Johnny Fitzpatrick, Hamilton.

100 yards (men) second heat—1 Claude Bracey, Rice Institute, Texas; 2 Eddie Tolan, Michigan university; 3 M. Maurer, Los Angeles. Time 10 seconds flat.

220 yards (first heat)—1 R. F. Bowen, University of Pittsburgh; 2 H. Cumming, Newark, A. C.; 3 Eddie Tolan. Time: 22 second flat.

220 yards (second heat—1 Wesley Foster, Washington State college; 2 Frank Wykoff, Los Angeles; 3 Johnnie Fitzpatrick, Hamilton. Time: 22 seconds flat.

440 yard relay—Won by Maurer, Bowen, Toland and Wykoff; second, Bracey, Fitzpatrick, Cumming and Williams. Time: 41 1-5 seconds.

Quarter-mile bicycle race—1 Jimmie Davies; 2 Leo Marchiori; 3 Harold Davies, all Vancouver. Time: 32 4-5 seconds.

Half-mile bicycle race—1 Jimmie Davies; 2 Harold Davies; 3 Maurice Irving, all Vancouver. Time: 67 1-5 seconds.

Ashamed to Go Out. Lasted a Year. Cuticura Healed.

"My face was badly affected with pimples. When they first started they looked red and were hard. Later they became larger and soon began to pester me by itching. I scratched them which only caused more pimples. They disfigured my face so that I was ashamed to go out. The trouble lasted about a year.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some, and within two weeks there was a great improvement. I continued using them and within a month my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Katherine Klassen, Box 59, Conquest, Sask.

When the Son judges the Father!

THERE comes a time when nearly every son sits in mental judgment upon his father. Sometimes, alas! that time does not come until the father is dead. The son, perhaps, may be a mere lad, faced with the knowledge that his is the task of helping to look after mother and, perhaps, younger brothers and sisters. Then it is that he judges his father. Then it is that he remembers his kindnesses, condones his weaknesses, and then it is that he wonders sorrowfully, why his father did not make better financial provision for his mother.

If you have known of an instance where a son has thus sat in judgment upon his father, remember that the time may come when your own son (or your daughter)—if you have children—will sit in judgment upon you. What will their verdict be insofar as it applies to your provision for their, or for their mother's and your wife's maintenance?

If you haven't provided sufficiently for their maintenance until they are able to look after themselves (and their mother)—isn't this the time to do it—by means of Confederation Life Insurance?

Write for the pamphlet "No Matter What Happens". You will find it very interesting—to say the least. Address your request now to—

Nephew of Nelson Man Is Hero When Home Is Destroyed

Herbert Pierre, son of S. D. Pierre, a resident of Nelson up till 1897, was the means of saving the lives of six persons recently when the Pierre home in Midland, a suburb of Tacoma, Wash., was destroyed by fire. The boy is 17 years old and is a nephew of John Pierre of Nelson. Midland is about 12 miles out of Tacoma.

"The youth awoke, choking and gasping, groped his way downstairs through crackling flames and swirling smoke, and placed a ladder against an upstairs window, down which his parents, his 16-year-old sister and three house guests clambered to safety in their night clothing. Herbert carried his cousin, six years old, to safety down the ladded," a newspaper clipping received here says.

Cement Sidewalk May Be Solution, Seepage Trouble, Vernon Street

A solution to the problem of Nelson residents living along the north side of Vernon street between Josephine and Ward streets, who have been worried for some time past by the water seeping down the slope from Vernon street, under the board sidewalk fronting on their premises and into their basements, is in sight. A petition among the property owners of this block has been signed by all but one of the majority of residents necessary to have a cement sidewalk installed in place of the board one by the city.

Having secured the final name the city will proceed to build a waterproof concrete sidewalk along this section with a specially constructed curbing which will prevent any possibility of water flowing down into the basements below. The water will drain harmlessly away along the curbing to the catch-basin at the corner of Ward and Vernon streets.

IDAHO SHRINERS ARRIVE IN CITY, SPEND WEEK-END

20 More From Spokane to Drive Here Today, Banquet Last Night

About 30 Idaho Shriners arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon for a week-end holiday. They came by car, members of the club driving from Coeur d'Alene, Boise and Payette, Idaho. Another contingent of 20 shriners from Spokane will be arriving in the city to enjoy the holiday with their fellows this afternoon.

After a week-end of informal pleasure, which will include much golf on the links of the Nelson Golf and Country club, the Shriners will return to their home towns Sunday evening.

A much-enjoyed banquet was arranged last night in Pitners for the Idaho members, who are an organization within the Shrine club, known as the "Jesters". All attending the banquet were Americans with the exception of four Nelsonites. They were Dr. L. E. Borden, M.P.P., J. A. Kerr, J. Smith and Staff-Sergt. E. Gammon, of the provincial police. Doctor Borden and Sergeant Gammon gave short addresses welcoming the Shriners and wishing them a good holiday.

Kootenay Kilties pipe band, after playing outside the banquet hall, marched in and played several selections, all of which were heartily applauded. J. Stout Jr., was called back repeatedly to play several bagpipe solos.

Visitor at Kaslo Lands a Nineteen Pound Lake Salmon

New Anglican Pastor Arrives, Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B.C., July 12.—Rev. A. B. N. Crowther, M.A., the newly appointed vicar of All Saint's church, has arrived in town, and will begin his work here on Sunday. Mr. Crowther, after graduation from Oxford served as missionary in Bashtoland, South Africa in the diocese of Bloemfontain. By a rather singular coincidence his predecessors, Rev. W. J. Crick, who a short time ago accepted a call to the Anglican church, Nelson, served in the same diocese before coming to Canada.

Mr. Crowther is not a stranger in this part of the province; he was in charge of the Michel field, Crow's Nest Pass, from 1908 until 1911. The vicar elect has been accorded a kindly welcome by the people of All Saints.

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

ORANGE LODGES CELEBRATE JULY 12 IN NELSON

B. here yesterday and took part in the parade to the rifle range led by Worshipful Master J. F. Coates, mounted on a white horse. At the rifle range a basket picnic was held, followed by sports in which young and old took part. Splendid prizes were awarded the winners.

After an afternoon replete with fun the lodgemen, women and children adjourned to the K. P. Hall at 8 o'clock where a program was presented, followed by social and dance.

Musical selections during the evening included selections by Mrs. Ashby and Mrs. Blakeman; songs by the May sisters; string selections by the Wilson boys and a recitation by Mrs. Ashby.

Supper and several hours of dancing were enjoyed by a crowd that filled the hall. Novelty dances were especially attractive.

Suggests Stocking Kootenay Lake With Eastern Whitefish

Heddle, well known Nelson rancher and fish breeder suggests that an effort should be made to stock the waters of Kootenay lake with eastern whitefish. These fish would, according to Mr. Heddle, be perfectly adapted to Kootenay lake conditions and would flourish and multiply. They could be placed in the lake with very little expense.

Besides being an adaptable fish, whitefish are excellent for eating purposes. They are caught in large numbers in most of the larger lakes of eastern Canada and marketed, Mr. Heddle declared.

Whitefish would be a great asset to this district, both as a game fish and as a market fish. They could easily be placed in the lake and would do no harm to the species of fish already inhabiting its waters.

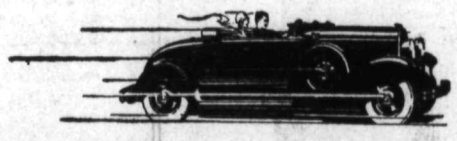
REVOLUTIONARY IN 1924—STILL MORE SO TODAY

APR 19 1924

"It was inevitable that Chrysler should attract a degree of scientific interest accorded no other car in the past fifteen years. + Engineers, naturally, were first to appreciate that Chrysler, while adhering strictly to soundest principles of design, is a distinct departure from previous motor car practice and performance. + They recognize in Chrysler an advance in automobile engineering as revolutionary as the development of the X-ray in medicine."

—Advertisement April 19, 1924



HOW HAS CHRYSLER DONE IT?

When an unknown motor car sets out—as Chrysler did—to grasp the leadership of a great industry, and with the speed of a meteor, sweeps to a foremost position in popularity and sales, it must possess extraordinary quality and ability.

When the first Chrysler car was placed on exhibition five years ago, the whole industry looked in amazement at what Walter P. Chrysler had accomplished. Within four years, Chrysler had leaped to third place in the industry.

How has Chrysler done it? What is the secret of this success? Simply that Chrysler gave in the beginning—each year since has given increasingly—and today gives in still greater measure—not only a finer grade of basic quality but a higher order of performance, beauty, style, power, acceleration, safety, comfort—all at most reasonable prices.

Such sweeping success must prove inevitably to the buyer of a Chrysler car today that he can count on the most advanced, the soundest, the safest and the most satisfying motor transportation his money can command. Let us prove these facts in a demonstration.
