Wismer Claims Health Bill Drafted Deceive Members, It Is "Political Chicanery"

Vancouver Liberal Withdraws Latter Remark at Request of House; Clashes With Sloan and Says He'd Go to Country on Issue

PARTY LINES CUT WHEN DEBATE ON HEALTH INSURANCE BEFORE HOUSE

Accept Couple C.C.F. Amendments; Wismer Tries Put Bill Over to Fall; Dr. Sutherland Would Shelve It; Debate May Be Long

VICTORIA, March 29 (CP).—The British Columbia legislature rested today after battling across party lines Saturday on the health insurance bill which would provide essential medical services for wage earners getting less than $1800 a year.

The bill remains in committee running a barrage of amendments, some of which would widen it and others delay its coming into force or kill it.

The legislature accepted two amendments from the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation opposition widening two clauses.

Gordon S. Wismer (Lib.-Vancouver Center) attempted to put the bill over to the fall session of the legislature and declared the measure was drafted "to deceive members" and was "a piece of political chicanery," but on protest withdrew the remark. He clashed with his running mate in Vancouver Center in the last provincial election, Attorney General Sloan, and said the bill favored railway companies and other large enterprises which had their own insurance schemes. He was prepared to resign his seat and go to the electorate on the issue. Attorney General Sloan would learn the opinions of Vancouver Center people at the next election.

Mr. Sloan thought some of the opponents of the bill were shedding crocodile tears for the poor working class, while at heart capitalist-minded.

A fight over every clause of the bill with dozens of amendments to come, is promised for the coming week.

ACCEPT AGE AMENDMENT

The government on Saturday accepted a C.C.F. amendment raising from 18 to 20 the age of dependent children covered by the act, after a point of order which would have killed the amendment was defeated. In this vote Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, voted against other members of the cabinet.

The other C.C.F. amendment would give the benefits to an unemployed husband if the wife were working, whether he was incapacitated or not. It passed on a show of hands with cabinet members showing against except Mr. Pearson who did not vote. He pleaded for moderation in the proceedings and suggested some amendments might be accepted without injuring the bill.

No further details have been announced regarding the ticket which Mrs. Emily Hall of Vancouver is reported to have held on Bachelor Prince. The Hall family have maintained silence on the matter since a daughter Margaret Hall first indicated Friday that Mrs. Hall held the ticket. Mrs. Hall herself is ill. WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY MICE DINE ON CHOCOLATE

A scene presented to a couple of Nelson window shoppers Saturday night, on the outside looking in, might have well been titled "The Height of Ambition," or "When the Cat's Away the Mice Will Play," but to a couple of small rodents seen attacking the lower portions of a monster chocolate rabbit, it was just an advanced Easter party.

The small gray visitors were having a Roman holiday and appeared to be quite oblivious to the fun they were creating for those on the other side of the plate glass window.

Over 98 Per Cent of the German Votes Back Hitler

Germany Stands Behind His Program on the Rhine and Denunciation of the Locarno Treaty

BERLIN, March 30 (Monday) (AP).—Germany expressed in votes yesterday its overwhelming approval of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's policies, including his remilitarization of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno treaty.

Under the pressure of the Nazi propaganda machine, der fuehrer won the greatest majority the head of any state ever received, in the election of candidates for the reichstag.

The final official recapitulation of returns showed that 98.79 per cent of those who voted marked "X" in the sole circle of the ballots.

Of the 45,428,641 qualified voters, 44,952,476—or 97.75 per cent—cast ballots for Hitler. There were 542,954 invalid ballots, and 476,165 persons qualified to vote did not take advantage of the franchise.

If a voter left his ballot blank or treated it in any manner other than placing an "X" in the circle, it was counted invalid. This group, therefore, included those who wished to express disapproval of the reichsfuehrer's policies.

NO AGGRESSION FROM GERMANY

Such Is the Demand of Flandin of French Foreign Affairs

VEZELAY, France, March 29—(AP) — Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin, condemned Germany's "philosophy of force," demanded today that Chancellor Hitler renounce, "aggression" as a condition for France to consider his peace offers.

The foreign minister, addressing the French nation from his feudal village where Saint Bernard preached the crusades, said France would refuse to deal with Germany unless Hitler agrees to the naming of an international tribunal to arbitrate "Germany's conception of international life and that of other peoples."

Flandin specifically demanded that der reichsfuehrer declare "frankly" his "intentions" in regard to Danzig and Lithuania, lest the header "convince himself one day that he is free to condemn everything which resulted from the Versailles treaty," including the whole system of postwar boundaries.

WENDEL, ONCE TRENTON LAWYER, WAS HELD AFTER A "CONFESSION" HE LATER CLAIMS WAS "FORCED"

Charge of Murdering Lindbergh Babe Remains for Possible Consideration; Court Pardons May Step in; Prepare for Execution

WOOD EXPERT SAYS LADDER RUNG IS NOT FROM UPSTAIRS IN BRUNO'S HOME

Mrs. Hauptmann Will Visit Husband in the Death House Today; Judge Denies He Had Knowledge of Wendel Murder Charge

By SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

TRENTON, N.J., March 29 (AP).—A newly accused suspect in the Lindbergh baby murder was exonerated by state and county authorities tonight after a series of fast-breaking developments which produced more uncertainty over the scheduled execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the crime Tuesday night.

Paul H. Wendel, a former Trenton lawyer, was charged with the murder of the kidnapped Lindbergh child in a warrant sworn out by James S. Kirkham, chief of Mercer county (Trenton) detectives, who declared he had information "which warrants me in swearing out this complaint."

CONFESSION FORCED

With a crowd of 200 curious persons milling about the jail, the Mercer county prosecutor, Erwin E. Marshall, hurried there with other officials, questioned Wendel nearly two hours. Marshall disclaimed any connection with the new charge and expressed the belief the prisoner knew nothing whatever about the kidnapping except what he had heard and read.

Wendel repudiated in entirety, the prosecutor and other officials announced, a "confession" to the kidnapping and asserted it was forced from him.

The charge against him remained, for possible consideration by the country grand jury, but was completely overshadowed in importance by the possible effect of connected developments on the efforts of Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey and defence counsel to stay the execution of Hauptmann.

PARDONS COURT MEETS

With the quick elimination of Wendel from the case by state and county authorities, attention returned to the state court of pardons, which meets tomorrow morning to hear Hauptmann's second clemency plea, and the possibility it might establish a precedent by granting a reprieve to the condemned kidnap-slayer of the Lindbergh child.

Wismer Would Stop Work on City Hall Building, Vancouver

VICTORIA, March 29 (CP) — When the Vancouver Enabling act came up in committee in the legislature Saturday, G. S. Wismer (Lib., Vancouver Center) told the house that when the site of the city hall was being discussed, Mayor G. G. McGeer told all parties interested that they would be consulted before definite choice was made. This promise had not been kept and in Mr. Wismer's opinion the site was most inappropriate.

Mr. Wismer said the work on the city hall should be stopped.

Mr. Steeves said the work was being carried on against the wishes of a majority of the Vancouver ratepayers.

Mr. Pooley claimed the Vancouver delegation before the private bills committee for years had been the only delegations and committee had to watch. They never laid their cards on the table.

Progress was reported on the measure.

ROMILLY CHOIR PACKS CHURCH

Welsh Boys Returning Home Give Feast of Song

A packed St. Paul's United church greeted the Romilly Boys Welsh choir Sunday afternoon at the sacred concert arranged to take advantage of their passing through the district on their return tour from the Pacific states, and Director W. M. Williams and his talented young singers from the Land of Cymry made the same kind of impression they did on their visit here in mid-winter when on the westbound section of their continental tour. Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson presided.

The first section of the program opened with a Welsh air, "Ash Grove" in English, sung by the choir. Rubenstein's "Angel" was then sung as a part song, the choir singing in two sections. A violin number was then given, four of the boys playing in concert Lemaire's "Andantino." Georgie Hale sang as a solo "O Dry Those Tears." "Lorelei," from the German, and Brahm's "Lullaby" completed the first section.

TOUR AN EDUCATION

Director Williams in the intermission gave a short talk on the tour made by the choir since its earlier appearance here, and its visit down the Pacific seaboard, which extended as far as Los Angeles, the boys having been delighted with the orange groves, the bathing beaches, and the sights to be seen in the American cities. Every day either in the United States or Canada brought the boys new and interesting knowledge, he said, the latest being what they learned at Trail when they visited the plants of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company.

Part songs and madrigals opened the section of the program. First a four-part song, Palestrini's "Flowery Meadows" was rendered by the choir, and it was followed by a three-part one, Weelkes' "Nightingale," which was melodious with bird voices. Byrd's "Lullaby" was then rendered by the choir, this being followed by Handel's "Where'er You Walk," with nine voices and two violins. Tommy Storey sang a solo, "My Prayer," and the choir an English folk song, "Pretty Maiden." The choir then gave a Welsh air, of which the title in English is "David the White Rock," and Johnny Dunkley sang "God's Garden." The Welsh national anthem and "God Save the King" brought the concert to a close.

The numbers were warmly applauded throughout, some drawing ovations. The choir, which consists of 12 boys, was one short, owing to one of the boys being indisposed.

From Nelson the choir goes this morning to Cranbrook and Director Williams will be leaving Canada with his charges in May.

HERE ARE THE REAL FACTS ABOUT BRAN

Brought Out by Tests with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Some years ago, there was considerable difference of opinion regarding the use of bran. So to discover the actual facts of the case, the Kellogg Company asked for a series of laboratory tests at leading universities.

Experimental studies on a group of healthy women showed that the continued use of bran was thoroughly satisfactory. Unlike cathartics, it did not lose its effect.

Other independent tests on men indicated that, with certain people, the "bulk" in bran was more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Laboratory analysis proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplied vitamin B and iron as well as plenty of bulk. This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. It absorbs a great deal of moisture, and cleanses the intestinal tract.

ALL-BRAN corrects constipation due to insufficient "bulk." It is the natural way—far better than using pills and tablets. Serve as a cereal—or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Stewed Tomatoes
Carrot and Pea Salad
Baked Lemon Chiffon Pie
Tea or Coffee

This scallop is a tasty Lenten dish and may be varied to suit yourself.

Today's Recipes

Scalloped Eggs, Salmon and Noodles—One No. 1 can salmon, four hard-cooked eggs, one-half cup bread crumbs, one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth pound egg noodles. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Make a sauce of the milk, flour, butter and salt. Put into a greased baking dish a thin layer of noodles, and then salmon. On top of the salmon put a layer of sliced eggs, then a few crumbs. Repeat until all ingredients have been used. Cover top lightly with cream sauce and sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, until thoroughly heated and crumbs are brown. Served with a vegetable this makes an excellent meal.

Baked Lemon Chiffon Pie—One baked pastry shell, one orange, one lemon, one-fourth cup of water, three egg yolks, three-fourths cup of sugar, three egg whites, two tablespoons powdered sugar. Combine juice and grated rind of both orange and lemon with water. Heat quickly to boiling. Pour slowly onto egg yolks beaten with the sugar. Return mixture to double boiler and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Cool. Fold into egg whites beaten stiff with powdered sugar. Turn into pastry shell and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until firm, about 30 minutes.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Cinnamon Sweet Potatoes

Crush finely six sticks of cinnamon candy. Add one-half cup brown sugar. Cook six sweet potatoes, slice into a buttered casserole, sprinkling each layer with the candy-sugar mixture and dabs of butter. Bake until brown.

Angel Food Pie

One cup crushed pineapple, one cup granulated sugar, one cup water, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons cornstarch, two egg whites, one-half pint whipping cream. Place pineapple, sugar, salt and water in double boiler and mix well. When mixture is hot add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with a little water stirring while adding. Cook 20 minutes, cool. Beat the egg whites very stiff and fold in the pineapple mixture. Place in baked pie shell and cover with sweetened whipped cream.

Wife Preserver

Rub a chicken inside and out with lemon before roasting. It will whiten and make the meat more tender.

"I, ADOLF HITLER"

A recent editorial in The Boston Transcript makes a judical summary of the mental condition of Adolf Hitler and deduces sound reason why the "Fuehrer" is a world menace.

It is evident that Hitler suffers from the same psychological disorder as the ex-Kaiser—meglomania.

Instancing, as a minor evidence, the persistent and emphatic use of the first personal pronoun in all his statements regarding the multiple civil and military activities which he would have one believe emanated from him alone.

The article goes on to show that Hitler's insistence that he ever has worked for peace—but only on his own terms—includes the underlying threat that his propositions must be accepted or the peace of the world will be imperiled.

In the final paragraph the writer lays bare what Hitler represents, today, in world conditions:

"Such a man is clearly a menace to peace rather than its guardian. He is ruthless in his action under the spell of his ignorance and his self-glorification. Racial and religious persecution of the kind that has accompanied the Nazi regime is quite in keeping with his character. This is true whether he actively promotes the persecution or permits it. In international relations, it is only to be expected that he will break treaty obligations at will. He makes his law as the exigencies of the moment dictate. The messianic complex does not prevent resort to expediency, as, for example, when it may appear to be good policy to turn the thoughts of the people away from the internal troubles of the country. Despite Hitler's professions that his is a mission of peace, Europe must regard Germany with suspicion as long as he shapes its course. Success in meeting the present crisis will be no guaranty against new situations equally threatening."

MIRACLE OF THE CLYDEBANK

It's a long way from "the three men who went to sea in a tub" to the steamship Queen Mary, starting the seagulls along the coast of Scotland today. The story of civilization is reflected in the history of man's boat building activities. From the floating log and the hollowed tree-trunk to the discovery that things heavier than water could be made to stay afloat if the water were kept out, the story was one of slow progress in the conquest of the deep. Since then, great changes have been made in the boats themselves but no new principle has started a fresh marine revolution. Perhaps the hydroplane and the flying boat have come close to it, and they yet may oust even such majestic monarchs of the sea as the Queen Mary.

Until that day comes, however, we may marvel at the miracle of the Clydebank shipyards. A restaurant in which an old-time transatlantic liner and the whole fleet that sailed with Christopher Columbus could be stowed! Funnels larger in diameter than the tunnels of an underground railway! In his special article to the Journal, Mr. Cummings told of these and a dozen other extraordinary things about the great liner.

The ship is a floating hotel with all the comforts and conveniences that one might hope to find in the most modern of big cities. But will she always keep an even keel? Will even the great Queen Mary dip and roll when the Atlantic flies into a tantrum? These are the questions that will not down in the minds of timorous landlubbers whose stomachs turn over at about the third heave of any boat whose decks they ever have trod. To these, the pean of praise for the Queen Mary will lack somthing vital until the ship docks in New York harbor at the end of her maiden voyage, and the opinion of the frailest stomach aboard has been duly given to the ships' reporters.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

"BRONCHIAL CATARRH" MAY AFFECT HEART

A letter from a reader, written before the death of King George V of England, notes the fact that the King was reported to be troubled with bronchial catarrh and heart disease, and asks whether heart trouble is usually or frequently associated with bronchial catarrh. "To a layman it is difficult to see any reason why it should be, but that may be due to the ignorance of the layman."

There are three ways in which these two conditions can be associated. "Bronchial catarrh" is an old term. It may mean any kind of a bronchial infection. If it means acute bronchitis so severe as to be called broncho-pneumonia, it might cause the same circulatory failure as any form of pneumonia, which could be classified as heart trouble.

Secondly, there is a form of chronic bronchitis, which occurs particularly in elderly people, which weakens the heart simply by chronic sepsis.

In the third place, the official bulletins may have referred to the accumulation of fluid in the lungs, chronic passive congestion, which comes from any weakening of the heart. This would be particularly likely to occur in an elderly person with an aging heart, and the outstanding symptom might be not heart trouble, but simply cough and signs of distress in the lungs.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

B. M.: "I have been taught in physics that a calorie is the amount of heat that would raise one gram of water one degree Centigrade, but according to your statement, it is a thousand times that much. It does not seem to me that any food would contain such a large amount of energy unless it was the kind of spinach that Popeye, the Sailor, eats."

Answer: The calorie used in dietetics is the large calorie, which is a thousand times larger than the calorie which will raise one gram of water one degree Centigrade. This latter is so small as to make it inconvenient for calculations, as may be understood when it is realized that a gram of water is about one-third of a teaspoonful, and that it would not take much fire to raise that water one degree Centigrade.

The world's hottest weather does not occur anywhere near the equator, but in areas near the tropics of Cancer and Capricorn.

THE PROBLEM

The other day I ran the following problem:

1. In our village there are seven residents, whose names are: Mr. Bloodhound, Mr. Cocker, Mr. Mastiff, Mr. Peke, Mr. Pom, Mr. Pug, and Mr. St. Bernard.
2. They severally, but not respectively, owned a bloodhound, a cocker, a mastiff, a peke, a pom, a pug and a St. Bernard.
3. None of them owns a dog of a breed of the same name as himself.
4. Three of the villagers have dogs which are considerably larger than these villagers' canine namesakes.
5. Only one has a dog of a breed of which the name begins with the initial letter of his own name.
6. Mr. Mastiff's dog's human namesake is married.
7. The St. Bernard's owner is Mr. Pom's wife's sister's husband.
8. The mastiff weighs the same as his owner's fiance.
9. Mr. St. Bernard's dog's human namesake is the owner of the peke.
10. The cocker's owner's canine namesake is owned by the human namesake of Mr. Mastiff's dog.
11. Of the seven villagers Mr. Peke and Mr. Pug are the only two bachelors.
12. Which dog belongs to whom?

THE ANSWER

Over the week-end I received the following answer:

Dear J.B.C.:

With the abandon which the modern reading public gives to crime, murder and detective stories I have expected to see a solution of your dog mystery in your column ere this.

I pay tribute to Mr. Lanskail's and his brother's mathematical propensities, and to the way in which in true detective style people proposing to attempt an elucidation may have been led to expect that the problem should be solved by mathematics.

Mr. Lanskail handed me this problem some time ago and I have to confess that I made no use of mathematics whatever in solving the various ownerships.

Here is my solution and method of doing it, which is by a system of elimination.

Draw 12 columns on a sheet of paper, in the first write down, one under the other, the men's names. In the second, write the dogs they could possibly own according to the secondition No. 3. In the next write the three big dogs' names opposite the names of the men who have the names of small dogs i.e. Mr. Cocker, Mr. Peke, Mr. Pom and Mr. Pug. Condition No. 5 gets down to fine points, either Mr. Peke, Mr. Pom or Mr. Pug must be the men referred to and in the next column write down opposite their names the names of the only two dogs which they could own under the condition. I will not go to the length of describing all the stages but if this scheme is followed one comes quite naturally to the solution which is as follows:

Mr. Bloodhound owns the cocker, Mr. Cocker owns the St. Bernard, Mr. Mastiff owns the pom, Mr. Peke owns the mastiff, Mr. Pom owns the bloodhound, Mr. Pug owns the peke, and Mr. St. Bernard owns the pug.

I only hope that none of these dogs keeps the whole neighborhood awake all night long by constant barking.—H. D. Dawson.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. SHEPARD
"Teacher of Teachers"

WHY CAN'T IT BE DONE?

Last Monday I was shown the hand given below. It had been dealt at the Knickerbocker Whist club in a money game. South insisted upon playing the deal at 6-No Trumps. Each time North bid more spades, South bid no trumps higher. South played the hand well and fulfilled his contract. When I suggested that 6-Spades would have been more profitable, on account of the honor score, I was informed that a small slam could not be made at the trump call, as the opening lead would be a club. Suppose we see if the statement is true.

North: ♠ A K Q J 8 5 2 ♥ A J ♦ 2 ♣ 8 6 4
West: ♠ 9 7 ♥ 10 8 6 4 2 ♦ K J 4 ♣ K 9 7
East: ♠ 10 6 3 ♥ Q 5 ♦ 9 8 6 5 ♣ J 10 5
South: ♠ 4 ♥ K 9 7 3 ♦ A Q 10 7 3 ♣ A Q 2

Win the opening club lead with dummy's Ace. Take six of declarer's trump tricks, to squeeze West, or to end play him, West will follow suit twice in spades, then he must make four discards. Dummy must discard five times, and it has to discard before West does, preventing any squeeze. West will strip clubs to the lone K, and dummy will bare down to the lone Q. East will retain two clubs. Beyond that East's acts are of no consequence. He is powerless. West will follow dummy's red discards, as shown in the diagram of the last six cards held by each player at the table.

North: ♠ 2 ♥ A J ♦ 2 ♣ 8 6
West: ♥ 10 8 6 ♦ K J ♣ K
East: ♥ Q 5 ♦ 9 8 ♣ 10 5
South: ♥ K 9 7 ♦ A Q ♣ Q

Remove West's heart exit, by playing as follows: Play the Ace of hearts, followed by the J. Win with dummy's K. Lead dummy's last heart and ruff with declarer's last spade.

Lead a club giving West his first and last trick, as he must now return a diamond up to dummy's A-Q, insuring declarer's 6-Spade contract.

West must follow dummy's discards, or declarer possibly might make a grand slam. Suppose for example that West's first discard is a diamond, while dummy's is a heart. Then dummy's diamonds can be established against defenders, by leading declarer's single diamond, winning with the Ace, then having declarer ruff a low diamond. Dummy's K of hearts will enable declarer to enter dummy, and to discard both his clubs on dummy's diamonds.

G. S. REES BACKS UP THE FERNIE STUDENTS' KICK

The Editor, Nelson Daily News:

Sir—The letter published in your columns March 27 from "Dissatisfied students" at Fernie will find a sympathetic response among your many readers. There is no doubt that some features of our scholastic system should be spring-cleaned, and the earlier the better for all concerned.

The Fernie lads—and lassies—set forth pertinent queries, but not in a spirit of revolt against constituted pedagogy. Youth must be served betimes, and it is entitled to reasonable answers from the Elder Brethren. As a matter of fact, the questions the Fernie-ites put forward are similar to those that fathers and mothers of teenage youth have been asking of each other for some time without gaining satisfactory answers among themselves.

Mr. Average Parent is a somewhat inarticulate being when it comes to voicing views on current educational processes; he is averse to being involved in controversial argument with the powers-that-be, and beset by the fear of being worsted in any discussions by the sheer weight of twentieth century pedagogical academics, weighted as they are with a superfluity of psychological imports.

None the less, the man-in-the-street feels that all is not well in the Halls of Education, but waits for "the other fellow" to do something about it. The Coal City students have broadcast an S.O.S. One thinks that some kind of a life-boat should be launched to rescue them, in part, from their distresses.

A principal cause of the expressed dissatisfaction is what is claimed as an excessive amount of after-school study, known familiarly the world over, except possibly in Ethiopia and outer Mongolia as "home-work."

The writer only wishes to comment just now on this feature.

Under pressure of the current examination system, it appears that the time available in school sessions is all too short for the amount of "cramming" that has to be done, unless the teacher has that indefinable something that makes or mars a man or a woman as educators. For those who do not possess that something, there remains only one resort—homework.

It is generally held, despite contrary statements by the authorities, that homework in the higher grades has now reached such proportions that not only must stern "halt" be cried, but steps must be retraced with the object of lessening the burden on adolescent youth during his hours of "freedom."

One understands a minimum of homework as desirable and necessary, since all appreciate the value of such individual effort as a help towards the development of the ability to think for one's self instead of always relying on the ideas of others. Such homework would not deprive youth of needed recreation and pursuit of hobbies which in some instances can be more valuable than book-learning.

I believe that many Nelson parents have their home-evenings marred by asense of uneasiness as they watch their children wrinkling brows at difficult problems, and wrestling with text-books past a normal bed-time that they may pass muster in the class-room on the morrow. Semi-somnolent at retiring they awake with sleepy heads. Many of the growing lads are earning their pocket-money out-of-doors, and their hours for relaxation in play are thereby further curtailed.

Is it not high time for all earnest educationalists to realize to what extent home-work is literally spoiling the leisure of our youth, and to appreciate the fact that when it travels any appreciable distance beyond the putting into practice of such general principles as have already been fully expounded in the class-room, it must always be in danger of placing an undue burden upon the mind—the immature mind—of the pupil?

The pupil's evenings should not be allowed to become merely an extension of the school hours in which they plod on through unexplored territory. The writer is free to confess that his school-book knowledge now lags far behind that of Junior, as witnessed by the unsatisfactory answers he can only offer to the student's persistent enquiries! (I cannot even find the answers in the back of the book!).

It would be interesting to ascertain just how far the opinions expressed by the Fernie students really reflect the thoughts of parents in general. Some of their contentions likely enough can be ably counter-attacked, but one questions if the home-work feature can be disposed of so readily.

This being the case, then public opinion sooner or later should be able to bring about a reformation without a revolution, and future generations of school-children will "rise up and call us blessed."

G. S. REES.

Urges Hard Surface for Road From Gray Creek to Kuskanook

The Editor, Nelson Daily News:

Sir—I would like to discuss a piece of our highway between Gray Creek and Kuskanook. When this was opened up some six years ago, it was recognized as one of the best pieces of the highway. Now for the want of surfacing it is being ruined. It has been graded and graded till the blade of the grader scrapes on the bed rock in many places.

There is, as we know, one time and one time only when gravel can be worked in—that is when the road is soft. The best of a surfacing is easily got all along this stretch. In many places the beach gravel or shale is available, and is said, by our engineers to be the best surfacing there is. A heavy coating of this rolled into this road now will give a road comparable to any hard surfacing, and the only cost would be the hauling and rolling.

We notice the government is setting aside a sum of money to induce tourists from U.S.A. The one thing that attracts tourists is a good road bed, not washboards. You only need to spend some time, as the writer has, in an auto camp, to find out what is happening. The tourists who do come warn others to avoid this route and swing off at Yahk and go through the states. Does this help Nelson or the Kootenays? The scenery around the lake is comparable to any, but with the present condition of the roads it will not be appreciated. The main lake ferry trip is appreciated by most tourists, as it gives them a chance to limber up after riding over something similar to a railway track, minus the rails but not the ties.

Hard surfacing is O.K. for Vancouver contractors and the oil people, but on this stretch of highway nature has placed the best of surfacing free for use. Why not use it?

Let us keep in shape what we have made before we talk of roads to Alaska. We pay a yearly license, let's have a road that can give 12 months service. This closing of highways is silly, when they can be made of crushed rock and gravel that will hold up anything.

Suppose the C.P.R. said the road bed was too soft to run their trains and we could wait for transportation till they dried up? It would be just as practical. We have the men and material, but of course we have no money, only mountains full of gold and silver, waiting to be turned into things called dollars and cents.

What is the matter with us? Are we not ready for Ponoka?

"Yours, for Roads and Tourists"

PEACE

I many times thought peace had come,
When peace was far away;
As wrecked men deem they sight the land,

ADVANCE WEATHER BULLETIN

For Western and Central Canada, embracing British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

Monday, March 30, 1936—Along the southeastern borders of central provinces some disturbance, with light precipitation, though in general fairly clear with mild temperatures for this time of year.

Tuesday, March 31 — Nearly everywhere clear, fair and rather mild weather, except some light rains in southeast and east of Great Lakes of Manitoba.

Wednesday, April 1—Light rains about Pacific southwest and also near Great Lakes regions, but in general clear, fair, mild weather and no great change in temperatures.

Thursday, April 2—West and northwest fairly clear and mild; around southern sections of central provinces unsettled, but with only light rains in scattered showers.

Friday, April 3—Mild, fair conditions nearly everywhere, except slight disturbance and light rains about southwest sections and the Pacific southwest.

Saturday, April 4—Disturbed conditions, with some rain, sweeps the southern border sections, while to west and northwest changes to much colder.

Sunday, April 5—Clearer and colder in nearly all sections, though to southeast of Saskatchewan there is probably some rain, mostly in form of scattering showers.

Week March 30 to April 5, 1936, in central provinces begins with rather mild temperatures in all sections, while about the Pacific southwest extending east along southern borders somewhat rainy and disturbed conditions. The rains are probably scattering, light, and in a few sections the precipitation might be snow, although on account of the generally mild weather not much snowing is expected. Around end of week somewhat stormy, followed by a cold wave coming across from west or northwest. About normal precipitation in south.

As April comes on in this country and the duration of sunshine on clear days becomes more than 14 hours long the seasonal change from wintry to spring-like conditions progress very rapidly and this year the first part of April is expected to be really spring-like, yet the indications are for a very cold snap, carrying frosty cold waves throughout the central provinces from around 19th to 24th. It is to be remembered that in many of these sections killing frosts sometimes occur as late as the last of May, and this year frosty weather seems fairly certain in the third week of April and again around the first of May, but since May is likely to be quite warm a fairly early spring with satisfactorily long growing season may reasonably be anticipated this year.

Good Gardening

By DEAN HALLIDAY

DON'T BE TOO HASTY

March is known as the pneumonia month in the medical world, and this might also apply to the home gardener, for this is a busy month for those who "nurse" their gardens. In March it is wise to keep a "garden blanket" handy and an eye on the thermometer. Every gardener naturally is in a fever of haste to get the garden cleaned up and to remove various mulches from plants and shrubs, yet one must be sure to keep extra "garden blankets" or mulch material handy in case an unexpectedly late frost sends the garden into a relapse.

Evergreen plants, especially the conifers, should be uncovered now in order to insure the frost leaving the soil before hot spring suns burn the plants, which cannot replace evaporated moisture from frozen ground.

While bulbs also should be uncovered early, protective mulches on roses and perennials should be left until all danger of a late frost has passed.

Rhododendrons and laurels should not have their mulches removed at all. The perennial border and the rock garden should be checked over carefully to see if any plants have become heaved out of the ground by winter frost, and if so, these plants must be replanted.

YOUNGSTERS NEARLY TEAR HOUSE DOWN

Following an address before a large group of parents in Scranton, Pa., some while ago, a mother and father asked me about their seven-year-old boy, who is one of those many non-social, lonely children.

"I had a party for him recently, only inviting five children", she said, "but I cannot do this often, for they almost tore the house down." I am hearing and reading about such accounts more often week by week.

Of course, formal parties for children under adolescence are not of much value to the timid child. More often than not they are harmful, since they only magnify his feelings of inferiority.

Often in this column I have urged parents to make their house and other premises the play center for the children of the neighborhood. My wife and I have long done so and we believe that it approaches the ideal for education. Yet it seems I have overlooked a big problem which many other parents have—protection of their property. We never felt that problem. Perhaps the children of our neighborhood are better trained than children on the average; anyway, they have not been roughnecks in our home.

BEGAN EARLY

Of course, our technique may have had some contribution. We began early. As soon as toddlers began to come they learned that they had to abide by the rules of our home and leave the moment rough-house was begun—our own children learned this lesson first of all. But the stage was set whereby the youngsters all learned to have a good time playing non-destructively. I admit they had constructive guidance. They kept on coming and the same children have continued coming for years. Those who at three were careful, thoughtful guests and playmates are so at 12 or 14.

I have a notion that even children in the neighborhood who are not very well restrained can, if we begin early, learn to find social play enjoyment in our homes without being destructive. Nevertheless, in some neighborhoods a great deal of burden is thrown upon a very few homes to keep not only their own children civil, but to civilize their neighbors' children also.

But some who were once little demons in the neighborhood have grown into good citizens. Ah, but they played with a number of neighbor children who were disciplined. But what will happen when we run short of such neighbors? Their ranks are surely dwindling. What have been your observations? Why not write them to the editor of this paper? He might choose to print them.

Get together sticks or rods in readiness for runner beans.

CHINA CHAFFING BETWEEN FIRES IN WAR THREAT

If Side With Either Russia or Japan May Be Fatal

By C. Y. McDANIEL

NANKING, March 29 (AP) — China would gain little and possibly lose more than she has during the last five years should the never-smooth course of events in north-eastern Asia move toward the large-scale clash which many foresee as the inevitable climax of four decades of Russo-Japanese enmity and conflicting ambitions.

This is the mature Chinese official opinion which decries the popular hope of regaining what she has lost in territory and international prestige.

Nanking officialdom's fear that China would be the loser, no matter which way the fortunes of war turned, is based upon Japan's evident intention of setting the stage of war as far as possible from the Japanese islands and as near as possible to the heart of the great expanse which extends across Europe and Asia.

By taking Manchuria and Jehol, and extending her economic and military control westward across north China and Inner Mongolia, Japan is seen by Nanking as having commenced her attempts to stage manage the war drama which Tokyo's military actors have been preparing since the close of the curtain-raising Russo-Japanese conflict of 1904-05.

Scouting persistent reports that Nanking has reached a mutual assistance agreement with Moscow in case of war with Japan, civil and military officials at the Chinese capital explained that by joining hands with Russia, China would lay her long coastline and navigable rivers open to Japanese attack and occupation before a single shot would be fired along the Siberian border.

Some Chinese politico-military strategists are known to advocate open and active support of Japan against Russia. But Chinese statesmen cannot but picture China's sad lot as an ally to a defeated Japan.

May Open Space About Monument to King George

LONDON, March 29, (CP)—The national memorial to King George will probably take the form of a monument in London and a philanthropic scheme which shall "represent in some special way the late King's constant care of the welfare of his subjects, especially of those whose lives are straitened and who have been denied many of the opportunities open to others of a full healthy and happy life."

This, in substance, was the decision arrived at when a meeting of Lord Lieutenants, Lord Mayors and Mayors, Lord Provosts and Provosts was held at the Mansion House under the presidency of Sir Percy Vincent, Lord Mayor of London.

The Archbishop of Canterbury made a striking suggestion that a statue of his late Majesty should be placed at Westminster, on a site which would be furnished by the removal of certain existing buildings, close to the Abbey and Houses of Parliament. Such a scheme would afford for the first time a truly splendid view of the Abbey rising above its cloisters, of Westminster Hall and of the Houses of Parliament.

For years Europeans believed the bird of paradise to be legless, because all the skins imported from the birds' native islands had no legs. The dealers cut the legs off before shipping.

PLAY IN FORT WILLIAM END 50 MINUTES AS KIMBERLEY LOSES SECOND GAME BY 4 TO 2

Mackie, Smothered, Held to One Goal; Dynamiters Use Five-Man Attacks in First

Power-Plays Futile as Wanderers Lay Down Tightly Packed Defence; Too Much Petty, Baiting Tactics

FORTS SHOOT PUCK DOWN ICE EVEN IN FIRST PERIOD TO STOP PRESSURE

Tripping Breaks Up Kimberley Attacks; Jack Forsey Hurt; Campbell Stars; Deciding Game Is on Tap for Tonight

CALGARY, March 29 (CP).—Fort William Wanderers and Kimberley Dynamiters were all square tonight in their western Canada senior hockey final series. Wanderers defeated the British Columbia champions 4-2 here Saturday night in a dull game to pull up on even terms with Dynamiters who had won the first game Thursday 6-5 in overtime.

Final encounter of the best-of-three series will be played in Calgary Monday. The winner will enter the Allan cup finals.

Almost 5000 fans packed Victoria arena to see Wanderers grab two goals in five minutes of the first period and then lay down a tightly-packed defence that turned the game into a colorless affair. Some of the players indulged too much in petty, baiting tactcis for Allan cup hockey.

Ross Knowles, Wanderers' stocky defence star, got away to a bad start in the first period with three penalties but he settled down to play a great game. He tallied twice for Fort William, Ossie Hacquoil and Joe McArthur notching one each.

MACKIE SMOTHERED

Lakehead smothered Hugo Mackie Dynamiters' little machinegunner, and he scored only once. Bill Burnett counted the other Kimberley goal.

After the Manitoba-Thunder Bay champions had obtained two goals in the first frame, the encounter developed into a series of four and five-man Kimberley attacks with Wanderers shooting the puck the length of the ice or breaking away on occasional sorties toward the Dynamiter net.

Fort William had a goal before the fans were settled. Hughie O'Leary raced down left wing but was detoured into the corner. He passed out to Knowles, uncovered near the goal, and the defence ace batted the puck past Goalie King Campbell.

While Burnett, Kimberley defenceman, was in the penalty box four minutes later, Wanderers started a power play. Paul Kozak shot the puck up the ice to relieve pressure but O'Leary caught the puck at the blue line and sent a pass ahead to Hacquoil, parked in front of the net. The tiny center gave Campbell no change.

Although Knowles took the three trips to the box in the remaining 15 minutes and Kimberley launched five-man sorties, the British Columbia champions failed to score. Goalie Gordie Hacquoil handled only five shots during the session.

MACKIE SCORES

Dynamiters pressed from the start of the second and there was a hectic scramble behind the Fort William blue line for two minutes before Mackie drilled a shot between several players and into the net. Wanderers regained the margin three minutes later. Joe McArthur rushed down the ice and passed to Knowles as he hit the defence. Knowles drove in and beat Campbell with a hard shot.

McArthur missed the goal while in alone on Campbell three minutes later but Murray Teeple got the puck in the corner and passed quickly to McArthur. The hefty center had lots of time to pull the Kimberley netminder from the goal before lifting the puck into the net.

Burnett completed the scoring seven minutes later. After several minutes of passing near the Fort William goal, he got the puck 30 feet out. His low, hard shot fooled Hacquoil.

Dynamiter four and five-man attacks throughout the last period failed to break through the solid Fort William defence although play was behind the Wanderer blue line nearly the whole period. Fort William shot the puck the length of the ice repeatedly and then reorganized their defence.

Unlike the first game Dynamiters h . few opportunities to score. Fort William forced their opponents to shoot hurriedly and blocked many shots. Although Goalie Hacquoil was busy he had few hard shots to handle.

Play was in the Fort William end almost 50 minutes of the game but Hacquoil only had 20 shots to handle and he got his hands on 18 of them. At the other end Campbell was not so busy but most of his saves were made while one, two and three Fort William players were in alone on top of him. Four of 16 shots onto the goal beat him.

FORSEY INJURED

Jack Forsey, Kimberley center, was dragged off the ice in the first after Knowles flattened him with a hard body-check. It looked as if his ankle was broken. However, he came back a few minutes later and went at full speed for the remainder of the game.

Knowles was penalized three times in the first, once for tripping Ralph Redding when the Kimberley forward had split the Fort William defence, another time for fighting with Forsey and the third trip was for kicking the puck after he had dropped his stick while breaking away from the defence.

Fred Botterill was unlucky to miss a goal near the end of the first when he had an open net in front of him.

Knowles was banished for the fourth time just after the second began when he slashed Mackie. With Knowles off, a Dynamiter ganging attack almost brought results. Redding worked on Goalie Hacquoil but his shot hit the post.

TWO DYNAMITERS TRIPPED

Harry Brown broke through the Wanderer defence shortly after Mackie, Knowles and McArthur had scored, but Bob Keane tripped him. Botterill squeezed through a minute later but Bob McCranor tripped the forward. Both Keane and McCranor were banished.

Goalie Campbell rose to great heights in the final frame when he saved at least five times as Fort William forwards had him at their mercy. They had broken away from the five-man Kimberley attacks and had no one to beat but Campbell.

All Kimberley players fought furiously for the entire 60 minutes but they had little luck trying to solve the Wanderer defence. Botterill played a good game although suffering from a slight attack of influenza.

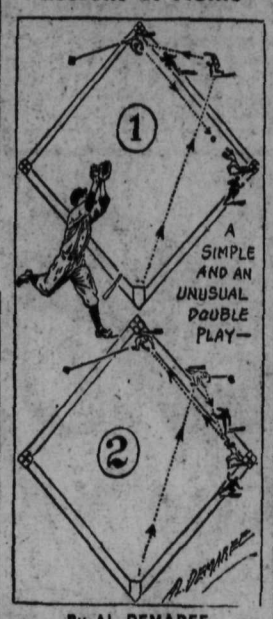
Spring Training Lessons at Home



By AL DEMAREE
Former Pitcher N. Y. Giants

1. Double-play—second to short to first. Broken line indicates course of ball as having been hit to second baseman, relayed to second, where short-stop covers bag, and then relayed to first. Continuous line indicated where shortstop left position to cover bag.

2. Double play—second base to first base to shortstop. Ball hit to second baseman on the line; man on first running to second stops to avoid being touched; second baseman runs him back to first, then throws to first baseman, putting out the batter and thus taking the force off the base-runner, who reverses and starts for second. He has to be touched to be put out, which results from the first baseman throwing to the shortstop covering second base.

Four Teams for Softball League

New Team Formed But Is Still Without a Name

At least four teams are assured as entries in the local girls' softball league with the announcement over the week-end that a fourth and new team has been organized, although no definite name has been chosen. Beatrice Lutkiwich, former Black Hawk and Ace player, who also played a few games with the local rep team when they won the West Kootenay title in 1934, has been chosen captain of the new team.

In 1934 six teams were entered in the Nelson Girls' Softball league, but last year the league had only three teams entered. Local officials hope to hold their annual meeting early next week.

According to word received from Trail softballers, who plan to organize for the season this week, considerable dissatisfaction was found with having girls as league officials, and this season they hope to have interested men in charge of the league.

No indication has been given that Nelson players will follow Trail's revised plan.

Badminton Popular in Windermere

INVERMERE, B.C.—Now that curling, skating and other winter sports, popular in this district, are over, badminton players are coming into their own. There are enough players here to have three courts in constant play, one in the Legion hall and two at the Fort.

There are also good clubs at Wilmer, Brisco and Spillimachene, and interesting matches have already been played between Brisco and teams of the local clubs.

It is planned to form these various clubs into a consolidated club and send players to contest outside tournaments.

SCOOPS GORGE ON REVENGE

Beat Reno 10-1 in a Return Puck Game

After having a vision that he was a Vezina, Gardiner, Thompson and Chabot all rolled into one, and still being in a dream an hour after the game. Leo Gowans only allowed one goal while stopping, blocking, kicking and catching a total of 33 drives from the sticks of the Reno players, to form an inspiration for his team mates on the Daily News Scoops' hockey team, who gained ample revenge for a former shellacking by taking a 10-1 victory over the Sheep Creek rubber chasers Saturday night in Nelson. The Reno boys, on the other hand, lacking Col. Perry, the spearhead of their attack, and the rear of their retreat, hadn't the heart to cope with the effervescing Scoops and they found themselves on the defensive shadow boxing with despair and inrushing News flashes and they found themselves on the defensive. Pat Fowler was so unaccustomed to the large sheet of ice he got lost twice in the first period and the referee had to give him his bearings once in the second period.

Dr. Eddie Morrison of Salmo, who starts and completes their power play, failed to arrive, and any power plays the team started without him, could not be finished and they ended with resounding thuds at the end of the rink.

REFEREEING TERRIBLE

Tommy Bishop, the 'bought" Nelson referee, judged everything fairly except when there was something at stake. He went so far as to put the Reno goal judge in the box.

In the scoring for the Scoops, "Otto" Wait laid most of the eggs and "Extra" Ramsden hatched them. Extra got four goals and two assists, while Otto got two goals and five assists. "Scoop Shot" Curran got two goals, "Five Column" Gibbon and "Want Ad" French one each. "Dark Brown" and "Axe-handle" Hooker each got assists.

Moyer got the only goal for the Reno on a terrific shot from the blue line that bent the goalie's stick double and then sneaked around the end of it to fall just inside the goal line with its tongue out. The Reno booster squad rose as a man (she was really a woman) to applaud the jolly fine effort. Mustard plasters had to be kept on Moyer the rest of the game to keep him anywhere near cool.

Teams were:

Reno—"Babe" Moore, Olie Carrington, "Red Horner" Donaghy, "Patricia" Fowler, "Biscuit" McCormack, "Speedy" Lennon, "Boxcar" Moyer, "Pee Wee" Sutcliffe and "Grandma" Patterson.

Scoops — "Vision" McAstocker-Gowns, "Parson" Reid, "Slugger" Gowans, "Want Ad" French, "Otto" Wait, "Five Column" Gibbon, "Axe-handle" Hooker, "Scoop Shot" Curran, "Dark" Brown and "Extra" Ramsden.

Trail Bantams Defeat Nelson

Visitors Show Great Scoring Attack in Hockey

Displaying a smart passing game all the way, the visiting Trail Bantams' hockey team, playing under the colors of Curley's Cubs, and coached by Rube Demore, set up a blistering pace in the second and third periods to quickly overcome a 1-0 lead obtained by the local M.R.K. bantams in the opening session, and when the final whistle went the flashy Trail squad had chalked up a 7-2 victory before a small but enthusiastic crowd here on Saturday evening.

Due to the fact that the sudden closing of the Trail rink to hockey teams, the Trail Bantam league finished with Curley's Cubs and the K. P.'s tied for the championship trophy and the visiting team was composed mainly of players from these two teams, with the addition of Smart and Edmunds of the Oddfellows.

The K.P.'s forward line of Billy Dimock, Earl Dwyer and Barse Dimock, snared most of the scoring honors, with six goals and 11 scoring points to their credit. While snaring only one assist, the second line of Allan Tognotti, Billy Rae and Nick Turik, played smart hockey and only brilliant work by Bernard McNicol kept them from entering the scoring column on numerous occasions.

All three defense men played a sound defensive game with the result that Sammartino had a very easy time in goal. Lorne Tognotti was the most effective and twice came back fast to stop what appeared to be sure scores. On the occasion of both Nelson penalties, the visitors put on effective powers, and their fourth counter came after five players were inside the Nelson blue line.

WINLAW GETS BOTH

Douglas Winlaw and Bernard McNicol were the outstanding players for the M.R.K. club. Winlaw scored both local goals after brilliant rushes through the opposing team. On his third period score he dodged and skated around four opposing players to tally on a fast back hander from close in.

Ernie Defoe, Harold Tapanilla, Johnny Wade and Wilfred Woods all played well but were unable to click in their usual form, and too frequent changes spoiled the locals' effectiveness.

SUMMARY:

First period:
1—Nelson, Winlaw, 7:29.
Penalty—Kuhn (1).
Second period:
2—Trail, Dwyer from Dimock 1:58.

Bunt—One Lesson

Lonnie Frey, infielder and excellent batter of the Brooklyn Dodgers, does a bit of bunting of the ball during batting practice, also for the enlightenment of amateur ball players. The TOP picture was made immediately after Frey had laid down a bunt. Note that the right hand (it would be the left hand if the batter were right-handed) grips the handle of the bat, near the end, while the left hand lightly grasps the bat near the top. When the ball hit the bat, Frey had drawn the bat back slightly, thereby giving very little resistance to the ball, causing it to pop to the ground and then roll weakly toward first, third, or the pitcher's box. Note that Frey then continues his "follow through" after hitting the ball, by dropping the bat to the ground and scooting off to first base, all seemingly, in one motion.

Change Basketball Games to Tuesday

Being unable to get the use of the floor this week at the junior high school, due to a school badminton tournament, and with the dates also limited at the high school gym, two playoff basketball games have been scheduled to be played at the high school gym on Tuesday evening, so as to clear up the final games. At 7:45 Toronto Star club and Jim Cherrington's Aces will meet in the second game of a best-of-three series for the local girls' basketball championship. The Rowing club and B.C. Telephone meet in the third of a best-of-five series. Telephones have two victories.

Having won five straight games, three of them in the semi-final and final playoffs, the Toronto Star club's supporters are expecting their favorites to pullicate last week's clean cut victory over the Aces.

IT WILL BE ELMWOOD VERSUS THE WESLEYS

WINNIPEG, March 29 (CP).—Elmwood Maple Leafs, Manitoba champions, won the right to meet Saskatoon Wesleys in the western Canada junior hockey final when they defeated Fort William Kams, Thunder Bay and district titlists 5-3 in overtime here Saturday night. Leafs won the first of a best-of-three series here Thursday night 9-4.

The western final is scheduled to start here Thursday night with a second game Saturday, and a third, if necessary, Monday.

DETROIT WINGS, PLAYING ON OWN ICE, ELIMINATE MAROONS BY 2-1 TO WIN NATIONAL HOCKEY TITLE

Wings Took Three in a Row for the League Title

DETROIT, March 29 (CP) — Thomas Patrick Gorman, the Irishman who seemed to have the Stanley cup nailed down on his personal shelf, watched Detroit Red Wings kick the battered trophy into the open here tonight by whipping his Montreal Maroons 2-1 and winning the National Hockey league title for the second time in three years.

While the lean leader of champions looked on sadly and 13,000 fans whooped it up throughout the second and third period, the Red Wings of Jack Adams complete a smashing conquest of the Stanley cup holders.

The Wings won the best-of-five series in three straight.

They set down the powerful Redmen 1-0 and 3-0 in Montreal and, in their only home appearance of the series, thoroughly outplayed Maroons after Gus Marker fired the one and only Montreal goal in the first period. The Canadian section winners went down when a wild but disorganized third-period assault failed to shake stocky Normie Smith in the Detroit goal.

Johnny Sorrell tied the score at the 14-minute mark in the second period after a passing play with Wally Kilrea. burly Scotty Bowman climaxed a mass attack early in the third frame by batting in the winner from the edge of the goal crease. The Red Wings nearly scored a half-dozen after that on fast breaks from Maroon rushes.

Slight favorites in the betting before the series, Maroons were humbled as thoroughly as they humbled Toronto Maple Leafs in the Stanley cup finals a year ago. Maroons started as under dogs that time and scored three straight wins.

But Maroons came to the big series of this year with Hooley Smith, all-star centre and No. 1 playmaker, in crippled condition. Hooley played all the first two games, despite an injured back, but tonight he played only a few minutes. Bucko McDonald, swashbuckling, gum-chewing hero of Detroit fans, sank the Hooler with a terrific body check.

Summary:

First period:
1—Maroons, Marker (Cain, Gracie) 12:02.
Pentlay—Kelly.
Second period:
2—Detroit, Sorrell (W. Kilrea) 14:00.
Penalty—Lamb.
Third period:
3—Detroit, Bowman (Barry, Aurie) 4:08.
Penalties—None.

Trail Midgets Beat Panthers

Take 5-4 Overtime Hockey Game in Nelson

Tying up the game at 3-3 in the dying moments of the final period and then outscoring their opponents 2-1 in the overtime session, Steve Matovich's midget Young Liberals nosed out Alderman N. C. Stibbs local Panthers 5-4 in a close and exciting hockey game played at the local rink on Saturday evening.

Both teams dished up a first class display of hockey and it was early apparent that the losers would have as much credit coming to them as the eventual winners. Three 18-minute periods were played and only one minute and 19 seconds remained of regulation time when the diminutive but tricky Sammy Saprunoff tied up the score.

Two-five minute overtime sessions were agreed on. Kendall gave Trail the lead in the first overtime period but despite Trail's defensive tactics DelPuppo tied up the game after teams changed ends. Devlin scored the winning counter when he circled the Panthers' net.

CAMPBELL AND SAPRUNOFF

Howard Campbell, hard-hitting Panthers' defenceman, and the flashy Sammy Saprunoff of the visitors, were the outstanding players on the ice. In addition to playing a sound defensive game, Campbell made the play for the opening goal and scored two himself on brilliant solo rushes through the entire opposing club.

Saprunoff scored two goals for the winners and was credited with two assists, although the smallest player on the Young Liberals' team, he was the most dangerous the locals had to contend with. Julie Bilesky, Don Michaely and Bob Kendall, along with Stan Layton in goal, were the pick of the rest, although the entire visiting club played sparkling hockey.

Max Graham, played well in the local goal, especially in the early part of the first period when Trail players had an edge on the activity. Victor DelPuppo formed a capable partner for Campbell on defence, and his overtime goal was well earned as he stickhandled his way through to tally.

Art Guscott, Joe Bengert and Leslie Trainer and the diminutive Howie Breeze, had a slight edge over the other forwards, but there was little to choose between any of those players on both teams. Breeze, Jack Morrison and Alf Ball turned in a good game on the Pee Wee line.

Summary:

First period: (1) Nelson, Morrison from Campbell and Parks. 7:52.

Penalty, DelPuppo (1), (1).

Second period: (2) Nelson, Campbell, 5:03; (3) Trail, Saprunoff from Webster, 8:27; (4) Nelson, Campbell, 11:16; (5) Trail, Kendall from Saprunoff, 15:09.

Penalties, Campbell (1), Breeze (1), Campbell (1), DelPuppo (1).

Third period: (6) Trail, Saprunoff from Michaely, 16:41.

Penalties, none.

Overtime: (7) Trail, Kendall from Saprunoff and Devlin, 3:11; (8) Nelson, DelPuppo 7:02; (9) Trail, Devlin, 8:28.

Penalty, Guscott (1).

RANGERS AND THIRD LANARK IN SCOTTISH FOOTBALL CUP FINAL

Champions Beat Clyde 3-0 While Lanark Is Victor by 3-1 Over Falkirk

GLASGOW, March 29 (CP cable)—Two noted Glasgow clubs will battle for the Scottish football cup at Hampden Park on April 18. In the penultimate round Saturday, Rangers won its way into the final with a 3-0 victory over Clyde while Third Lanark came from behind to defeat Falkirk 3-1.

Fifty-six thousand filled the stands and terracing of Queen's Park's great enclosure for the Rangers-Clyde dash and the other semi-final attracted nearly 48,000 to Tynecastle Park, Edinburgh.

Rangers are out capture the Scottish trophy for the 10th time and if successful they will equal a record that has stood since 1876. In that year, Queen's Park, famous amateur club, then in its heyday, won the cup for the third year in succession. Rangers were successful in 1934 and again last year. On the other hand, Third Lanark have emerged victorious in the final on only two occasions, the last time in 1905.

Both teams deserved their victories in Saturday's encounters, Rangers made Clyde look second-class but the Falkirk-Third Lanark match was a tight battle until well on in the second half when the first leaguers ran in two goals to make victory certain. The plucky Falkirk team, now certain of promotion to the first division at the end of the season, scored first and held the lead until near the end of the first half.

Two Ranger veterans, Meiklejohn and McPhail, gave the champions a 2-0 lead at halftime. The second half was only two minutes old when Main tipped a fast-travelling ball over the goal-line for the third and final counter. From then on the Rangers slackened their pace but although their opponents were a band of triers their efforts fell to pieces on a rocklike defence.

For most of the game Meiklejohn played on the Rangers' vanguard. Early in the first half he was hurt and went to outside right, later changing to inside right. Despite his injuries he was one of the best on the front line while Venters, in the right half position, was a decided success. Clyde contributed to its own downfall by mistakes in defence.

Third Lanark carried too many guns for Falkirk, who started in whirlwind fashion. Lawson put the second leaguers ahead after 17 minutes and it was not until near halftime that Carabine evened matters by connecting with a penalty after Kennedy had been brought down in front of goal.

Still fighting doggedly Falkirk kept the strong Third Lanark forwards at bay until the last 15 minutes when McInnes and Kennedy ran in two quick goals to make victory certain for the Glasgow team.

SUNDERLAND JOLTED BY 6-0 LOSS TO MIDDLESBROUGH; VILLANS WIN

LONDON, March 29 (CP cable).—Sunderland's campaign for the championship of the English Football league suffered another jolt Saturday. The leaders have captured only two points since February 22 and Middlesbrough, near neighbors, added to their discomfiture by administering a 6-0 drubbing.

At the other end of the league only five points separated the last nine teams. Aston Villa moved out of last place by a 2-1 victory over Birmingham at Villa park, leaving Blackburn Rovers in last place with 27 points. The Rovers lost 2-0 at Preston.

The Sunderland-Middlesbrough clash was marred by rough play and shortly before the end of the game the former's right wing pair, Carter and Davis, were ordered from the field. At that time Middlesbrough were leading by five goals scored by Cunliffe, Birkett, Camsell, Yorston and Higham. Birkett added another against the depleted team.

At Huddersfield West Bromwich played great football to defeat the home team 3-2. Richardson netted twice for the winners in the first period, Chivers reducing the margin. After the change of ends Boyes made it 3-1 with a header and Butt got Huddersfield's second counter seven minutes before the end.

Forty-two thousand saw Brentford snatch maximum points from Chelsea. The exchanges were fast and exciting, McCulloch giving Brentford a 1-0 lead at the crossover. This was increased by Hopkins and Argue counted with a header for the Pensioners' only goal.

Aston Villa made it 2-1 over Birmingham before a crowd of 55,000 excited fans at Villa park. The first half was scoreless although the home team's goal had several miraculous escapes. Villa's first goal was a lucky one, Hughes, Birmingham back, putting the ball into his own nets when trying to clear. Broome tallied a second for the home team and Pillingham sank the visitors' lone score.

In the second division, West Ham United and Charlton Athletic are engaged in a neck-and-neck struggle for promotion. West Ham managed to eke out a 3-2 victory against the lowly Hull City team at Hull. After Goulden had given the Hammers a lead early in the game Cameron and Spivey put their side ahead. In a desperate finish the United clinched the issue with two quick counters by Simpson and Ruffell.

Charlton, at home, proved too strong for Bury, winning 5-2.

Although Luton was held to a 2-2 draw by Aldershot in the third division of the southern section the team now has a two-point lead over Reading. Roberts and Boyd gave Luton an early lead but Aldershot retaliated strongly and before the end had equalized through Robson and Temple.

Chesterfield edged into the lead over Tranmere Rovers in the northern section with a fine 3-0 victory over Wrexham. Tranmere Rovers, now one point behind, played before 17,000 at Chester, the game resulting in a 1-1 draw. Horsman gave Chester a 1-0 lead at half-time and this was not wiped out until the last minute when McDonald put the teams on even terms.

Celtic Holds to Lead; Five Teams Fear Demotion as Season Nears End

GLASGOW, March 29 (CP cable)—Only a few weeks are left in the Scottish Football league schedule and five teams are still fighting hard to hold their berths in the first division. Four points separate the clubs in the danger zone and some real battles are expected before the 1935-36 season finishes.

Falkirk and St. Mirren, No. 1 and No. 2 respectively in the second division, have dominated minor league play and are assured of positions in senior company next year.

There were only six games played Saturday in the first division and those squads hovering around the relegation zone put up some game fights. At the top of the tape Celtic blasted Hibernians 4-1 to keep in the lead and Aberdeen scored a good 3-0 victory over St. Johnstone. Glasgow Rangers, despite their cup activities, remain in the runner-up position, and two points behind the Celts and one up on the Dons.

Airdrieonians fought hard at Ayr to get out of 20th place but the United, also on the brink of demotion, played heads-up football to win 3-1. Wylie opened the scoring for Ayr and Lyon retaliated with a hard shot that beat the United's netminder. Before the change of ends McGibbon put the home team in front and early in the second half Wylie came through again to score the final goal of the game.

By its win Ayr replaced Clyde in 17th position. The shipbuilders were out for two valuable points, and were soundly beaten. The Celts scored a pair in each half, Lyon, from a penalty, and Crum in the first 45 minutes and Murphy and McGregory after the rest period.

NELSON'S PLAYING HOCKEY TEAMS
No. 2 — Scout Bantams

A HARD WORKING BANTAM GROUP

This is another new hockey team, organized from Boy Scout material, and the younger of two teams put on the ice by the Boy Scout organization. James Dronsfield is manager and mentor. The team will probably be moved up into the Midget class next winter as a group, leaving the organization's representation in the Bantam league to a team of Wolf Cubs. It has been conspicuous for a strong defence. Left to right the players are Richard Hornett, Donald Gibbon, Everett Kuhn, Norman May, Thomas Cookson, John Holland, Michael Prestley, and Frank Christian. Two regulars are not in the picture, Barney Prestley and Robert Wilson.

BIG LEAGUE BOWLING

By AL DEMAREE

While most of the big time bowlers use the two-hole ball, there are many who find the three-hole ball suited for their strength and get good results.

In using the latter ball, use thumb second and third finger in holes with numbers one and four spread on the ball.

Many bowlers think a speedy ball is necessary for good results in bowling. As a matter of fact, too fast a ball causes it to slide instead of turning into the pins, causing bad breaks. Of course, too slow a ball is also ineffective.

The ideal pin-getter is a medium speed ball. This type of delivery allows the ball to take the curve or hook and also has enough momentum to carry the pins.

ENGLAND WINS IN CROSS-COUNTRY RUN

BLACKPOOL, England, March 29 (CP-Havas).—England, taking first and second places, won the international cross country run here yesterday with a total score of 41 points against the team.

France followed with 66, trailed in order by Scotland, with 112, Wales, 158; Belgium, 163; and Northern Ireland, 191.

Egan scored Hibernians' goal in the second half.

Albion Rovers, tied with Ayr in points, had an off day.

Pittodrie fans were treated to splendid soccer by their favorites who returned to old form against St. Johnstone. The Dons put up a sustained attack in the first half and scored all their goals through Mills, Armstrong and Beyon. There was no further scoring.

Arbroath had a good 1-1 draw with Motherwell. Playing at home, Arbroath went into the second half one goal up but Ferrier blazed in the equalizer after the interval. Carver scored for Arbroath.

There were no first-half goals in the Hamilton Academicals-Queen's Park game, but players warmed up in the second period with the Accies outscoring the amateurs 4-1. Park led with two penalty goals, with Douglas and McLaren finishing off the scoring. Buchanan netted for the visitors.

Falkirk was playing the cup competition and St. Mirren had an open date in the second division. Alloa, eight points behind St. Mirren, had a good chance to cut the margin but Brechin City, at home, defeated the third-placers 3-1.

HOCKEY CHATTER

by W.W.W.

The game between Kimberley and Fort William Saturday night did not compare with the first match and it must have proved somewhat of a disappointment to the several hundred fans who went on the special train from the East Kootenay to see their favorites play. The third period proved a sort of fizzle with neither team producing the type of hockey shown in earlier play. As that ties the western Allan cup finals at one-all, the game Monday night can be expected to produce the remaining resourcefulness and drive of the two teams.

As in the opener, Fort William took a two-goal lead but in the second they held tenaciously to it and were content to play defensive hockey and wait for the breaks. In the Fort William defence, incidentally, the Dynamiters are facing stiffer opposition than they have met all season. The Lakehead boys are big and they love the rugged type of body checking.

Mike Karakas, the Croatian-American barricade from Minnesota's iron range country, was National Hockey league's prize rookie of this fading season, in addition to putting across the biggest surprise. Sport writers who voted in the season-end Canadian Press poll were both impressed and surprised by the brilliance of the Minnesota Mike, first American-bred player to achieve such prominence in a freshman season. No one disputed the extra-ordinary ability of the Chicago Black Hawk netman. Few of the critics placed Mike anywhere else but at the top of their rookie lists, which featured such promising performers as Bucko McDonald, of Detroit, Joffre Desilets and Polly Drouin of the Canadiens, Phil Watson of the Rangers, and Nick Metz and Art Jackson of the Maple Leafs.

Good crowds turned out both Friday and Saturday nights to see the games between the Rossland and Nelson, and Trail and Nelson, when midget and bantam teams came here to meet local squads. The best Nelson boys could do was to tie the Trail midgets 4-4 in the second game Saturday night, the other Trail team, and the two Rossland teams, taking victories. It was something entirely new for the locals to play against outside teams and the experience was good for them. They learned a lot of things.

The visitors had nice style, aggressiveness and it was evident they had been well coached. It is safe to say the district is on the right track for hockey players.

The Daily News Scoops bet so hard on themselves on the game with the Reno Gold Diggers Saturday night they convinced the Sheep Creek boys the game was in the bag and the Scoops won easily. McAstocker, who was not noticed behind the huge pads in goal until the second period played a great game for the Scoops and turned back every effort of the Reno boys with incredible ease. As it was his first time in the nets he hasn't yet learned many ways of letting the puck past, and so in that respect he resembles Karakas. His style was perfect and we think he must have done most of his practising before a mirror.

BOLL WITH TWO AND H. JACKSON TALLY IN THIRD TO GIVE LEAFS THREE-ONE WIN OVER AMERICANS

WEST TORONTOS JUNIOR CHAMPS

TORONTO, March 29 (CP).—The junior "A" hockey championship of Ontario rested with West Toronto Nationals today.

Crowned here Saturday when they defeated the Porkies of South Porcupine 7-2 in the second game of their Ontario final, West Toronto will meet Quebec Aces in the first game of a best-of-three Memorial cup series here Tuesday night.

Schriner Does Double Duty But Fails to Get a Score

By ELMER DULMAGE

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Another bone-crushing defence tottered today across the Stanley cup scene as Toronto Maple Leafs turned into the semi-final drive, holding a one-game margin over the rugged, cautious New York Americans.

After plunging headlong into a steady barrier for 45 minutes last night without any success at all, Leafs suddenly got the idea and scored a 3-1 victory over Red Dutton's Americans while the unhappy red-head sat on the players bench. An injured hip kept Dutton out of the game.

But there remained almost enough defensive strength to keep the Leafs away from little Roy Worters without Dutton's help. A crowd of 13,658—largest that ever saw the Americans play here—had almost given up hope that the New York back division would yield when King Clancy and Buzz Boll succeeded in shaking it.

LEAFS PICKED TO WIN

As a result, the Leafs can win the best-of-three series at New York Tuesday night. If they lose, the conquerors of Boston Bruins will have the advantage of home ice for the third game. They were strong favorites to face Detroit Red Wings in the classic stage of National Hockey league post-season play.

Little Eddie Wiseman gave Americans a lead in the first minute of the second period when he hooked the puck from behind the Toronto goal and it glanced into the cage off a skate. It wasn't a picture goal by any means but it was just what Americans needed.

When Pep Kelly of Leafs and Tommy Anderson of Americans tangled along the boards and were banished early in the third period, Leafs evened matters.

CLANCY AND BOLL

The indomitable Clancy charged down and passed to Boll who split the Jerwa-Murray guard and scored with a low shot that slipped past the feet of Worters as the netman flopped. It was the first of two dazzling plays by Boll.

A half minute later, as Kelly and Anderson stepped back into action, the pepper-pot obtained possession during a Toronto rush, passed to Clancy and the King relayed it to Busher Jackson. A terrific backhand shot by Jackson caught the near side of the net before Worters could move.

After that deciding drive the Americans had few chances. They kept Dave Schriner, the league's No. 1 marksman, on the ice most of the time but the checking was so close that few passes reached the deadly Calgary boy who is poison to goalers from close range.

SCHRINER HARD WORKER

Impressive in defeat, Schriner did double duty most of the night. He worked with Art Chapman and Lorne Carr on the most effective line Dutton had and he took turns playing with Nels Stewart and Harry Oliver.

Schriner had one scoring chance in the third period when the puck came to him six feet in front of the Toronto goal during a gang attack. Instead of driving for a corner Sweeney passed forward to Carr who stood at the edge of the crease and Carr was checked before he could swipe the puck past Hainsworth.

A minute later Boll cut loose for the goal that decided the contest. Hainsworth cleared a shot out to the left wing and Boll cut down the left boards, swung over to center after stickhandling past the outer guard. He hit the Kalbfleisch-Red Doran defence at top speed, splitting the pair wide open, and went in to score with a high shot.

Summary.

First period—No score.

Penalty—Day (2).

Second period: (1) Americans, Wiseman :31.

Penalty—Murray.

Third period: (2) Toronto, Boll (Clancy) 6:23; (3) Toronto, H. Jackson (Clancy, Kelly) 6:55; (4) Toronto, Boll, 12:17.

Penalties—Kelly, Anderson, Horner.

CHARLIE CONACHER MAY BE OUT OF GAME WITH A WRIST INJURY

By A. E. FULFORD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

TORONTO, March 29 (CP).—A wrist injury that may keep Charlie Conacher out of Tuesday night's game in New York muted Toronto Maple Leafs' celebration of their 3-1 Stanley cup semi-final victory over Red Dutton's Americans.

The big bomber bruised his left wrist badly when he collided with Joe Jerwa, Amerk defenceman, in the fourth minute of Saturday night's game. It didn't bother him greatly until the final period when his effectiveness was lessened.

It was feared at first that the wrist was broken but an examination today revealed there was no fracture. He will be treated again tomorrow and probably will leave tomorrow night for New York. It is not expected it will be known before the game time Tuesday whether he will play.

Conacher's injury dampened enthusiasm somewhat in the Leaf's dressing room after Saturday night's game but there was a general feeling the team was well on its way to the finals. The players felt they would have no easy time taking the Americans in New York but felt they could do it.

While Conny Smythe was passing around the pay cheques, Coach Dick Irvin remarked it was inevitable there would be a let-down from the spirited play Leafs showed Thursday night. Manager Smythe remarked overcoming their opponents' goal leads was getting to be a habit with the Toronto team.

Red Dutton barred news hawks from the American dressing room for five minutes while he talked to his players and then had little to say about the contest. He doubted his injured back would permit him to play in New York.

The Americans left immediately after the game for New York while Leafs will not leave until Monday night. Irvin called a light practice for noon tomorrow.

Fairview Wins Challenge Game

Beats Bantam Team Saturday 6-1

Playing hockey with boys of their own age for the first time this winter, the Fairview midgets of bantam age, downed a bantam team composed of Panthers and several Blues Saturday morning 6-1. The Fairview team, made up of boys from Fairview, most of them having been with the F. A. C. midgets during the winter, had an edge of the play throughout and the only threat came near the end of the game when Defoe, Ferguson and Breeze held Fairview cooped up in the defence area for a short time.

The winners bore in better and showed better combination. Art Matheson figured in four of the six goals. He got the first two, and fed Sid Desireau for the second pair. George Ioanin and George Milne were the other scorers.

Milne, Matheson and Desireau provided most of the punch for Fairview and this line got results almost every time it went out. Breeze got the only goal for the Panthers, and it was on a nice solo effort. Cookson dropped to smother it and the puck slipped between his legs. Cookson looked good on the other shots. Morgan, Kuhn and Maloney played well on defence for the winners.

Ioanin's goal was on a clever solo effort.

Don Beattie and Pete Lutkiwich refereed.

First period:

1 — Fairview, Matheson from Milne.

2—Fairview, Matheson.

3—Fairview, Desireau from Matheson.

4—Fairview, Desireau from Matheson.

Second period:

5—Fairview, Ioanin.

6—Panthers, Breeze.

7—Fairview, Milne from Morgan from Desireau.

Fairview — Cookson, Maloney, Kuhn, Morgan, Milne, Matheson, Desireau, Smith, Ioanin, Christian.

Panthers — Morrison, McIntosh, Riesterer, Hunden, Guscott, Bengert, Selinger, Ferguson, Defoe, Breeze, Scott.

With All My Heart

CHAPTER 37

Thora Dahl always glanced hastily through the house mail if it came into her hands on its way to the library. There was always the hope that she might discover that longed-for letter with the Minnesota postmark, addressed in the familiar handwriting of her mother. But it had not come.

This morning, however, she had been amazed to find her name written in a bold flowing hand across a square white envelope. She sensed the writer's identity at once and was not in the least surprised when her guess proved correct.

The missive said:

Dear Thora Dahl:

If my legal mind has not lost its keen edge, you will be trying to decipher this on Thursday morning.

At 3:30 of that same date, to-wit, I shall be driving up to your door in my car. It is a green roadster, in case there is a traffic rush. You are to be dressed in your best and be ready to ride for the space of one-half hour, more or less.

By way of relieving your conscience, please note that I have made the necessary arrangements with your employer. I'm not sure what reason I gave for wanting to borrow you for so brief a time, but it must have been good.

Seriously, I must see you for a few minutes. Something has happened that I want to talk to you about. Please

And gratefully,
SHERM.

I shall sit in my car and honk until you appear.

So . . . in the interests of peace, etc.

Thora pondered over the message as she went about her work, half amused and half angry. She would have thought it a hoax of some sort, had she not believed she knew Gordon too well. What could he wish to talk about? And why had he gone to Mr. Marsh, first, instead of finding out if she were willing to go? Perhaps he hadn't. He might be trying to trick her into the ride, knowing that she would not be likely to check up on what he said. The more she considered it, the more certain she became that she could not speak to Mr. Marsh about it.

Slightly exasperated by the puzzle, she finally decided to refer it to Wilma. That young woman smiled as she read the note.

"Oh, that's merely Sherm's idea of being original. There's no deep mystery. I heard him telling dad that he was going out to his farm one afternoon this week and that he'd like to take you along and let you see it. He said . . . I remember . . . that you were the only person he could talk 'farm' to. That's what he wants."

"Then you think he will really be here?"

"Don't doubt it. Get ready and go with him."

"I'm not sure . . ."

"Nonsense! It will do you good, Sherm's pretty slow . . . and as safe as he is slow." Wilma laughed.

"I wasn't thinking of that."

"If you mean the neighbors . . . why should you worry?"

Reassured by this interview, Thora decided to be dressed and ready at the specified time . . . also to be within easy reach of the front door in case Mr. Gordon carried out the threat mentioned in the postscript to his note.

It proved to be a wise precaution for, on the dot of 3:30, there came the strident blast of a motor horn. And Gordon was on the point of sounding a second when Thora came hurrying out and across the porch.

"It worked!" was his greeting. "Thank you."

"This time," Thora discouraged him. "I'm not in the habit of answering signals." She tried to look severe, but the effort was not successful.

"All the more thanks, then." Sherman was assisting her into the car. "I had to resort to trickery, for fear you would refuse my request. I needed your advice rather badly."

"Are the potato bugs getting the best of you?"

"It's the beans . . . somebody's spilled them." Gordon started the car. "I am going to run you out and show you my place . . . only a few miles. You won't call it a farm, but I hope you'll spare my feelings as much as you can."

If he had something that he really wished to tell her, Thora decided that he was putting it off. He was strangely silent during most of the brief ride and his companion gave herself up happily to enjoying the countryside.

The Gordon farm proved to be a modest estate of some 80 acres. There was a small weatherbeaten house and several outbuildings on the place, but no tenant.

"I'm not doing anything here but raising a little hay and grain," the owner explained. "The man who lives on the next place does the work for me."

"That's no way to farm," Thora objected. "You should come here and live . . . do the work yourself. That's what a dirt farmer does," she reminded him with a smile. "That house could be made very attractive without much expense."

They were parked in the shade of a large oak tree that stood near a small barn.

"I may do that some day," Gordon remarked slowly. He took some letters and a pencil from his pocket and started making a sketch on the back of an envelope. "This will give you an idea of the layout and what I'm trying to do now."

For a quarter of an hour, they discussed the situation. Thora listened attentively, asked occasional questions and offered bits of information regarding crop practices in her native state.

"It sure is great to talk to someone like you," Gordon sighed happily. "You're a wonder."

"Did you bring me all the way out here to tell me that?" she asked good-naturedly. "I could have told you so before we left."

That same little feeling of happiness had stolen over her, just as it had happened that morning when she and Mr. Gordon rode out to the hilltop together. Again she was with someone to whom she could talk, be her real self. He was the only one who was like that. For some reason there was no barrier here. It was true that Mr. Gordon had very nearly spoiled things for both of them, but that would not happen again. She had misunderstood them. Everything was different now.

HAS CARD PARTY AT KINGSGATE

KINGSGATE, B.C.—Mrs. H. Hannah held a second card party Monday when there were five tables of contract in play. Prizes for ladies' high went to Mrs. Ashby; second to Mrs. F. Appel, and consolation to Mrs. Barry MacDonald. Fred Appel was high scorer among the men with H. Hanke second. S. E. Gunn and Harry Hogg tied for bottom place, and on cutting the cards they again tied, but a second cut Mr. Hogg won.

It was appropriate that Mrs. Appel should get a prize as it was her birthday. At the close of the evening's play she presented the hostess with a corsage of flowers, which she had received earlier in the day.

W. E. Bell has had several people staying at his tourist camp this week, the first since around Christmas time. The first of them arrived on the first day of spring.

There will be an election held early next month for the position of school trustee. The term is for one year only.

H. R. Graham spent the week-end in Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. John Mauldin and Mrs. W. E. Hall attended a banquet of the Eastern Star in Bonners Ferry Saturday, the occasion being a visit of the Grand Matron.

NICKEL FEATURES

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Offerings dried up on the Toronto industrial share market Saturday but the buying demand continued limited.

Only one stock, Nickel, had volume. It closed unchanged at 46. Oils firmed and gains of ⅛ cropped out in Brazilian, Ford A, Industrial Alcohol and Walkers common.

In the banks, Commerce was off a couple of points. Irregularity developed in the steels and construction issues. Massey-Harris eased a point.

GOLDS STRONG

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—The Toronto mining market finished the week with a note of strength, chiefly in the gold division.

In a late Saturday buying rush Pickle Crow pushed up to $5 for a gain of 45 cents. There were no recessions among the big golds while moderate gains were marked up for Lake Shore and Little Long Lac.

In the penny group Minto turned strong again and climbed 12 cents to close at 87. God's Lake drifted back to 85, off 3 cents.

WHAT ABOUT THE FRUIT GROWER?

The Editor, Nelson Daily News:

Sir—The plight of the fruit grower is not a happy one indeed if he has not gone under already for the third and last time, he is very close to it; and doubtless many have given up hope.

Surveying the several attempts that have been made during the past 15 or 20 years to enable the grower to obtain a living from his industry, it is safe to say that nothing beneficial has been accomplished. The price to the grower, or to be more correct, the residue of that price which is passed on to the grower, has shown a steady downward trend.

We had hoped for some decided improvement under the Marketing Act, but it has undeniably proved to be the biggest bubble we ever grasped at, and up to the close of the Mack deal it has burst and vanished leaving only red ink.

Now surely there must be a nigger in the woodpile somewhere if he can be located, for these several attempts to which I have referred have not been taken without due consideration and much personal effort on the part of some persons and expense levies to the grower. The other day I read in the Daily News an article by Mr. R. W. Ramsay entitled Consignment vs. Net Price to the Grower, wherein he lays the blame for the growers plight on the consignment of fruit by the shipper both to home or domestic and export markets.

There must be a reason why the shipper does this, for he does, which I will attempt to deal with later. In the last issue of the Country Life appeared an article by A. W. Gray of Rutland, B.C., entitled "A Price to the Grower, Is It Practical?" and his presentation of facts concerning the growers plight is ably presented but although Mr. Gray sees the nigger he does not think he is black, and so passes him by as harmless.

Both Messrs Gray and Ramsay realize the plight of the grower quite evidently, that the fruit grower is growing a crop for the exclusive benefit of the shipper, box and paper factories and their ever increasing employees; this year it is doubtful if the residue passed on to the grower will pay for haulage and picking costs including actual out of pocket costs of spraying materials and gas, leaving nothing at all for the owner grower labor and management. Now how long will this state of affairs continue? Well, with small variations, it will go on until we find the cause, and it is not consignment of fruit by the carload, roller cars if you will, but an actual unsaleable surplus of apples over production, under consumption, call it what you will, but it is a surplus over, or above normal demand, and unless we can control the quantity of fruit that leaves the orchard for the packing shed, so to fit the normal demand, we will always have consignment, roller cars auction sales, and what not.

It is not improbable that the domestic market would consume most, or all of the fruit grown in B.C. if they had sufficient purchasing power, for some can remember the prices received during war time years when the farmers were receiving a fixed price a bushel of $2.30 and higher, and had the largest crops ever harvested on the prairies. I say again that the nigger in the woodpile is an unsaleable surplus. Mr. Gray does not think so for he remarks that the crop has always been sold at a price, to be sure it has and at such a low price that the grower gets little or nothing, and this is where we have not to get into action, instead of thinking that the really all important thing to do is to sell all of the season's crop, get rid of it at any price, if some of it has to be given away as a bonus we should set ourselves as growers to fit the crop to that of normal demand, there is no such thing as demand these last few years, the shippers are keenly competitive in their efforts to get rid of their portion of the crop, and no wonder for the crop is at least 50 per cent too large for normal requirements, and the shipper can scarcely lose out. He is safe-guarded by a two-way contract wherein the grower actually permits hypothecation of his entire crop thus providing insurance for all risks, save his own. The only effective way to stabilize the market is to hold back such part of the volume of fruit as will interfere with normal demand. Crowd and jam the packing sheds to the limit of working conditions and there will be consignment by oven roller cars, and no price to the grower. The ranch, or point of production is the only place to dump an unsalable surplus, if there be one, before it begins to accumulate overhead costs that eventually will tend to force it upon the market. Six or seven years ago I read a statement by the federal deputy minister of agriculture that B.C. had that year produced three boxes of apples for one of normal consumption, or demand, and the annual production has gone on increasing due chiefly to new plantings coming into bearing.

That the present economic condition of the country generally has to do with the low purchasing power of the consuming public is acertainty, but we need not expect any improvement in that direction for some years to come. I have a friend who is ranching in southern Alberta who used to think in more prosperous days that from 25 to 60 boxes of apples was none to much seasonaly for a family of six, now he writes they count themselves fortunate to have one box at Christmas time.

Again I urge you to see that it is this unsaleable surplus that baffles all our efforts to get a living out of or by our industry until we cease this insane practice of crowding the packing sheds and each of us provide storage of a sort to hold at least half of our crop and use this storage to restrict delivery to the shipper and so provide for the maintenance of a normal demand.

We will never see a price to the grower until we are willing to create the conditions to bring it about, nature can through scanty polinization, reduce the crop to any percentage of normal but it is safe to say that with a 25 to 50 per cent crop, competition between shippers would disappear, if nature can in this way solve our problem. Why do we not take a lead and regulate our shipments to the shipper so to remove or control this competitive factor that is so destructive to our best interests. To do this we would need a centralized control of deliveries to shippers and sufficient storage at ranch to hold such amounts as may not be offered for sale at ruinous prices, let us get rid of the idea that the sale o fall the crop is the main idea, and adopt instead the sale of only such quantities as may be possible at a price that will permit a reasonable return to the grower. We have need to discard the element of sentiment, and realize the growing and sale of a crop of apples is, or should be a purely business proposition.

Yours for betterments,

WM. E. SEARLE.

Market and Mining News

WINNIPEG DULL

WINNIPEG, March 29 (CP) — Wheat prices churned about as much as they could within a ⅜-cent trading range on the Winnipeg grain exchange Saturday, and at the close of a dull session were unchanged to ⅛ cent under the previous finish.

Mild irregularity ruled throughout. The May future held at 82⅜, July 83⅛-¼ and October 83⅝-¾ cents.

A factor in market unsettlement was a dearth of interest abroad in Canadian wheat. Only 150,000 bushels were sold for export Saturday.

Cash grains prices closed practically unchanged. Coarse grains firmed.

MONTREAL DRAB

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—Drab trading kept prices near previous closes on Montreal stock exchange Saturday and the market closed slightly irregular in one of the dullest sessions this year.

Nickel turned over heavily, but finished unchanged at 48. Brazilian added ¼ to 12¼ and Power corporation firmed ½. Fractional declines ruled, however, for Shawinigan, Canadian Hydro-Electric preferred and B.C. Power B. Papers and liquors were steady.

PRICES JUMP AT MINNEAPOLIS

Chicago Traders Keep Sharp Watch on the Values

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP). — Spectacular action of the Minneapolis market in jumping 2⅛ cents a bushel from a season low-price record Saturday dominated the entire wheat trade.

Traders here kept sharp watch on values at Minneapolis as they suddenly reversed the trend of the last few days, and were inclined to see as a reason an outlook that imports of Canadian wheat into the United States have been definitely checked by recent severe downturns of Minneapolis cash quotations. Prospects pointed to alternate freezing and thawing weather in Kansas and Nebraska, conditions especially difficult for wheat crop welfare.

Wheat in Chicago closed firm at about the day's top, ⅝—¾c, above Friday's finish, May 96⅛—96⅝c, July 87⅛—87⅝c, corn also ⅜—¾c up, May 59⅞—60c, oats ¼—⅜c advanced, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 5 cents gain.

BONDS IDLE ALONG

Session Is Dullest Since Last October at New York

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP). — The bond market idled along Saturday, a mixed trend predominating in the corporate division and slightly lower prices recorded in the government group.

With sales at $5,358,000, par value, the session had the distinction of being the dullest since last October. This compared with $6,041,000 last Saturday. Sales of governments were around $1,000,000.

The Associated Press averages reflected the extreme apathy of the market by moving in a range of .1 of a point on the upside and .3 of a point on the downside. Rails and the foreign group were lower, and utilities and the low-yields a shade higher.

NEW YORK CALM

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP).—Faced with a new European gold bloc crisis, the stock market Saturday maintained a calm, stand-off attitude.

While the French franc dipped well below the level at which the yellow metal can be shipped to New York at a profit and allied currencies exhibited weakness, Wall Street did not appear particularly alarmed.

The equities list experienced its dullest Saturday session since September 28. Transfers totaled only 656,780 shares. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks managed to recover .1 of a point at 62.

The French currency fell to its lowest point since October 4, last, but strong support appeared and it closely slightly above its bottom figure for a net loss of .00⅝ of a cent at 6.58⅝ cents. The pound sterling ended ⅛ of a cent easier at $4.94⅛. The guilder shaded its extreme decline to end at 67.65 cents, off .26 of a cent.

Two Cranbrook R.R. Men Honored

CRANBROOK, B.C.,—A banquet, with about 100 guests present, was held in the Masonic hall to honor two city railway men who have been superannuated within the past few months. The men were John S. Taylor, trainman, and George Taylor, carman.

The banquet was prepared and served by the ladies of the railway auxiliaries.

J. H. Cameron, master of ceremonies, presented each of the men with reading lamps, on behalf of the organization. Their wives were also presented with gifts.

Among speakers during the evening were James Lunn, who spoke for the carmen, and Gilbert Lacey, who spoke for the trainmen.

George Twist, of Nelson master mechanic for this district, was present and gave a talk on the loyalty of the men in his department. Several other railway employees gave short addresses.

J. S. Manson and J. Sims Jr. rendered vocal solos, accompanied by C. V. Edwards at the piano. Charles MacDonald recited, and Jack Caldwell tap danced. Several piano selections were played by William Taylor.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

MAKE PLANS FOR POTATO QUOTAS

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP).—British Columbia's 1936 potato crop will be marketed on a tonnage basis in proportion to the arable acreage of each farm, whether owned or leased, and all potato growers will be requested to make a return to the board before April 10, giving acreage planted and tonnage harvested in 1935, also the acreage of second early and main crop varieties.

This outline for the coming season was given by A. H. Peterson, secretary of the British Columbia coast vegetable marketing board, at a meeting of growers in Richmond municipal hall.

HARAR BOMBED

"Monsignor Jaroseau, in charge of the French mission, refused to leave the altar during the bombardment,' the communique added. 'The church was wrecked but he was unhurt."

A group of 25 bombers roared over the city from one side and 35 came in from the opposite direction after dawn, but only scouted as the population evacuated.

Then 15 to 20 bombing planes arrived two hours later and for two hours and 15 minutes dropped bombs, leaving the city in flames.

JIJIGA BOMBED

The European quarter, until recently headquarters for more than a score of foreign correspondents, was reported badly damaged.

The town of Jijiga also was reported bombed again.

News of the air raid struck panic among natives in Addis Ababa, since the bombing of Harar, an open town and one which is reported to be completely demilitarized, seemed to presage a bombing of the capital.

Ethiopians predicted that the bombing of Harar, a great Moslem city, would inflame Mohammedans throughout the world.

TWO PLANES DOWN

ADDIS ABABA, March 29 (CP-Havas). — Ethiopian sharpshooters have brought down two more of Italy's bombing planes thus raising to 22 the total number of enemy aircraft destroyed since the opening of the war, it was officially announced here tonight. The bombers were shot down while raiding Waldia and Quoram last Thursday, the government said.

FORCES PUSH ON

WITH ITALIAN ARMY OF SOKOTA, March 29 (CP-Havas). — Marshal Pietro Badoglio's offensive toward Gondar and Lake Tana pushed forward with new intensity tonight after occupation of this strategic market and caravan center in the heart of northern Ethiopia.

RELIEF DEBATE IS ADJOURNED, VICTORIA

VICTORIA, March 29 (CP). — When the motion of Mrs. D. G. Steeves (C.C.F.-Vancouver North) calling for increased relief allowances for children up to 21 years of age, came up in the legislature Saturday, Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, gave a lengthy review of unemployment relief administration dating back to the previous government.

The federal government's agreement on relief expired at the end of the month and several wires had been sent Ottawa but only indefinite replies received. It was an extremely serious position the government was facing and he did not know how to tackle it, Mr. Pearson said.

Debate was adjourned when Hon. F. M. MacPherson, minister of public works, moved an amendment asking the house to give an opinion that it was not expedient at present to change relief scales, inasmuch as a federal commission was about to begin study of the matter.

INSURANCE BILL

Mr. Wismer's attempt to put the bill over to the fall was defeated with the C. C. F. supporting government ranks. The C. C. F. has approved the bill so far as it goes but wishes to widen its terms.

The health bill is sponsored by Dr. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary, and has been the subject of extensive public hearings for the past year.

The second reading, which was given 28-10 on Thursday, five Liberals voted against it.

HART OBJECTS

Under the platform of the provincial Liberal party a government measure may be defeated without involving the resignation of the government unless it is made a matter of confidence.

When the C. C. F. moved to extend the age of dependent children from 18 to 20 years, Finance Minister Hart objected that this was out of order because a civil servant might have a child who would be affected and no private member, he said, could propose anything which touched these revenues.

Mr. Pearson objected stating that the government should raise the point of order only when its revenues were directly affected.

"I'm not accepting that," Mr. Hart replied.

Premier Pattullo reminded the chairman, S. S. McKeen, that a point of order had been taken and asked for a ruling. Mr. McKeen supported Mr. Hart and ruled the amendment out of order. An appeal was made to the speaker and a formal division was called, the vote rejecting Mr. McKeen's ruling 24-15.

The amendment then carried on a show of hands.

When the C. C. F. moved to make the bill cover all classes of every income bracket, Attorney General Sloan objected that this obviously was out of order as the crown revenues would have to be used to cover such an extension. L. A. Hanna, in the chair, ruled the amendment out of order and this ruling was not appealed.

WITHDRAWAL DEMANDED

Gordon Wismer then moved to permit private insurance schemes established up to September next to stay out of the government scheme.

When he called the insurance bill "a piece of political chicanery for the purpose of deceiving the members," Mr. Sloan demanded a withdrawal.

"I withdraw," replied Mr. Wismer, "but only to this extent—if the house votes for the bill as at present drafted that will prove it has been deceived."

Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Lib.-Revelstoke, clashed with the premier when, supporting the Wismer amendment, he declared that a majority of the cabinet was against the insurance bill.

"That's infra dig," the premier protested.

Dr. Sutherland withdrew the statement, but insisted that the cabinet was generally guided by the advice of the minister in charge of a bill.

SUTHERLAND HAS RETORT

Mr. Pearson protested Mr. Wismer's statements as "designed to influence public opinion," and added that Dr. Sutherland didn't know what he was talking about in connection with the number of persons exempted.

"You'd think the minister of labor was the only man of wisdom in the house," Dr. Sutherland protested. He said he had made extensive investigations of his own.

Mr. Pearson said he would favor the removal of all exemptions from the government insurance scheme as it was improved and broadened. While it was wise to exempt a few satisfactory private schemes at this time a general exemption for private schemes in the future would ruin the whole program.

A sudden motion by Dr. Sutherland that the committee rise, which would kill the bill, was turned down without a recorded vote and debate on the Wismer amendment proceeded.

Mr. McKeen supported the amendment on the ground that after all satisfactory private schemes had been exempted there would still be 60,000 people under the government scheme, sufficient for an adequate experiment in health insurance for the first year at least.

Byron Johnson and Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberals, supported Mr. McKeen.

"NIGGER IN WOODPILE"

The house, said the premier, was always passing legislation of a compulsory sort and there was no need to worry about that. "But we do need to worry about amendments that would nullify the whole bill." He said Mr. Wismer had misread the bill in assuming that any private scheme would not get the opportunity to stay out of the government scheme.

Mr. Wismer persisted that there was "a nigger in the woodpile" and the private schemes apart from "a favored few" would be forced into the government scheme.

"The floor is dripping with crocodile tears of those who have had a change of heart on this bill," said Mr. Sloan. "The member for Vancouver centre (Mr. Wismer) knows why this change of heart has occured."

"The tears are shed by the supporters of the bill," Dr. Sutherland replied.

R. H. Pooley, Unionist, objected to Mr. Sloan's remarks as imputing motive against the rules, but Mr. Sloan said he was imputing nothing, but merely indicating the change of heart experienced by the bill's enemies.

He read sections of the bill with the purpose of showing that all private schemes would have ample opportunity to stay out of the government scheme and Dr. Weir asked that the Wismer amendment be rejected. While existing private schemes could vote to stay out of the government scheme, it would wreck the whole program if all private schemes established in the future could get exemption.

FIND OUT AT ELECTION

Leaning over his desk and looking at the treasury benches Mr. Wismer shouted: "I don't like the attorney general's statement about crocodile tears. He can go back to Vancouver Center and he will find thousands who don't like this bill. I don't represent capitalists, but working men. You'll find that out at the next election."

He declared 850 employees of Woodward's department store had voted to stay out of the insurance scheme.

"I'm not casting any aspersions," said Dr. Weir, "but I have been told that those employees were not altogether dragooned but given information as to what was expected of them."

When E. Bakewell, C.C.F., said Wismer was speaking for a bloc, The Vancouver Liberal jumped to his feet. "I'm prepared to resign my seat and go to the country on this question. I'm not acting for any bloc but for the people."

"We don't want any more by-elections now," the premier laughed.

"Why, this $1600 a year doesn't mean a thing to me," Mr. Wismer shouted. "I could make my living before I ever saw this house."

AMENDMENT LOST

Mr. Bakewell interjected he had said only that Mr. Wismer was speaking, not acting, for a "bloc," while Mr. Wismer was demanding democratic plebiscites on health insurance schemes, it was curious, said Mr. Bakewell, that Mr. Wismer had not asked for a public vote on the Special Powers act or the New Westminster bridge.

In the end the Wismer amendment was rejected 25-14. This was not recorded but a number of Liberals voted with Mr. Wismer and the C.C.F. supported the government.

Dr. Weir then lifted the bill out of committee. At the present rate of progress the house is not expected to dispose of it before Tuesday.

Mrs. Pawluk disappeared from her home last November and a search failed to disclose her whereabouts. Examination of the Pawluk farm yesterday unearthed the body which police said had been identified by relatives as that of Mrs. Pawluk.

Mrs. Nettie Machewski, a sister of Mrs. Pawluk, identified a red print dress found on parts of the body as one that she had bought for her sister in Selkirk. Mrs. Machewski's husband also identified the body by other articles of wearing apparel, including a black hat and necklace of white beads.

Examination of the Pawluk farm was conducted by several royal Canadian mounted police officers headed by Sergeant Stewart, equipped with digging tools. They first found a hip, an elbow and toes and later uncovered the torso.

Governor Hoffman, lacking the power to grant a further reprieve, was expected to take before the pardons court the results of his own recent investigations in an effort to induce the court to delay the execution.

There was no hope that the court would commute Hauptmann's death sentence to life imprisonment, but there was a possibility the governor might persuade it to grant a reprieve of several months to permit him to complete his investigation.

Wendel, who was quoted by prosecution officials as charging he was abducted in New York and forced into the repudiated confession, remained in jail pending disposition of the murder charge and of an old embezzlement charge.

DISMISS CHARGE IS HOPE

Prosecutor Marshall declined to forecast his action, but the impression was general that he would move to have the murder complaint against Wendel dismissed.

Disclosure of Wendel's "confession," followed closely by the filing of charges against him by Kirkham, caused a stir among the prosecutors of Hauptmann. Attorney General David Wilentz and his aides hurried to the jail to talk with the prisoner and later a letter addressed to Wilentz by Wendel, in which the latter repudiated the "confession" in its entirety, was made public.

WILENTZ IS ADAMANT

Wilentz, who insists Hauptmann alone was responsible for the Lindbergh crime, declined to comment on the latest development except to say:

"Judge Marshall and his statement speak for themselves."

Marshal declared he did not "authorize, direct or consent that a charge of murder be made against Wendel" and had no advance knowledge of it.

In repudiating the statement connecting him with the Lindbergh crime, Wendel said he gave it to Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives "only because of duress on the part of Mr. Parker." Parker countered with a denial that any promises or threats were used on Wendel and added "that is not my way."

PREPARES FOR EXECUTION

TRENTON, N. J., March 29 (AP). —Col. Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper of state prison, tonight went ahead with preparations to execute Bruno Richard Hauptmann at eight p.m. Tuesday but said he would recognize any stay that might be ordered by the court of pardons.

Hauptmann remained outwardly calm as the court prepared to meet tomorrow to consider his second plea for clemency. He was visited during the day by his lawyer, C. Lloyd Fisher.

His wife, Anna, who has taken a room at a local hotel, plans to visit him in the death house tomorrow. It will be the last time she sees him unless the execution is stayed.

Colonel Kimberling made arrangements to accommodate about 30 witnesses who will gather in his office and walk to the execution chamber, about 200 feet away, shortly before eight o'clock.

Charles Zied, Philadelphia gangster convicted of slaying a detectvie in a Camden holdup, was expected to precede Haputmann to the chair. In that event, Hauptmann's death would be delayed until about 8:30, as different witnesses will attend the executions.

NOT FROM ATTIC

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP). — Another United States government wood expert was reported today to have joined Arch W. Loney, federal materials engineer, in his contention that the famous "rail 16" of the Lindbergh kidnap ladder did not come from Bruno Richard Hauptmann's attic.

Roy Kanbenshue, described as an "interior department wood expert," admitted a statement concerning the two pieces of wood had been sent under his name to Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey, but refused to discuss the case. His statement was sent to the governor by George H. Maines, who has been working with Loney on the case.

"I'm employed by the government," Kanbenshue explained, "and I don't care for any publicity in this thing."

Maines said Loney's study showed that "rail 16" came from the heart of a tree, while the attic board from which it was supposed to have been torn came from the top, or "sap" of the tree. The floor board was fine grained, while "rail 16" was coarse grained, he declared.

MEXICO CITY, MARCH 29 (AP). — Thousands of Roman Catholic churches throughout Mexico were being reopened today after having been closed for more than a year, but otherwise there have been no changes in federal or state religious laws and none appeared to be in immediate prospect.
