COLUMBIA STILL RISING BUT FERRY STILL HAS A MARGIN

West Arm Over the Highway at Thompson's and Airey's; Road Being Built Up; River Falling at Bonner's Ferry

Taking a fresh start after being stationary practically all Monday afternoon, the Columbia river stood at 23.65 feet at Castlegar at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after rising 5 inches in approximately 24 hours, Ferryman Jimmie Davidson phoned District Engineer William Ramsay in the afternoon. Tuesday evening he phoned that the river was rising little, if any, but was carrying much driftwood.

It is thought the ferry can operate up to a rise of 30 feet. A further report on the state of the river will be made Wednesday morning at 9.

If the ferry should have to tie up, owing to the impossibility of cars boarding or discharging, Trail-Nelson traffic would have to be diverted to the Nelson-Nelway highway, as was done in 1928.

The high water at Nelson was at or near the culminating point Tuesday afternoon, when it had registered a rise of a couple of inches or so for the 24 hours, and was standing around 17.8 feet. At Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, the Kootenay river dropped .3 foot for the 24 hours ending 7 a.m. Tuesday, the Great Northern daily wire stated. As it has been the East Kootenay

SEEK KIDNAPPERS IN MINNESOTA

Frank Adams Overpowered by Officers When Traced to Moyie

ST. PAUL, June 20 (AP).—Pursuit of the kidnappers of William Hamm centered in nothern Minnesota tonight as the millionaire brewer set out to search for the house in which he was held prisoner almost four days before his release yesterday.

Hamm, accompanied by Charles Tierny, inspector of detectives, and Detective Thomas Brown, drove north in an effort to locate the dwelling in which his five or six abductors detained him for $100,000 ransom, not all of which was paid before he was freed.

Meanwhile, Duluth, Minn., police sought two men, one of whom resembled description of Verne Sankey, the former railroad employee of Melville, Sask., who had been indicted for other kidnappings, here and in Denver, and M. F. Kinkead, Ramsay county attorney, offered immunity to any of the gang who would inform on his confederates.

The two, Duluth authorities said, were known to have stayed at an hotel there about the same length of time that W. W. Dunn, close friend of the millionaire brewer and negotiator for his release made his headquarters there while awaiting word from the abductors.

Alleged attempt of Frank Adams to draw a gun, when being arrested at Moyie Monday night by Provincial Constable R. H. Hassard of Creston and V. M. Palmer of Yahk for alleged thefts at Boswell and Kitchener, will figure in an additional charge against him Wednesday, when he appears in court at Cranbrook.

Report of H. Kunts of Boswell losing a bicycle, and of Mr. Cavarello of Sirdar having his cabin broken into and clothes and a razor taken, started Constable Hassard Monday afternoon on the trail of a man who had passed east on a bike. Picking up Constable Palmer on the way, the Creston officer ran his man to earth at Moyie.

The attempted gun act ended with Adams overpowered, and taken to Creston early Tuesday morning to be locked up. Tuesday afternoon he was taken to Cranbrook, where he will appear Wednesday both on charges of being in possession of stolen property, and on a charge of having an offensive weapon.

Municipal Commission May Sit in Nelson

VANCOUVER, June 20—Division of taxation fields between the province and municipalities on the basis of services rendered by the respective bodies, will be one of the proposals made by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to the provincial commission on municipal finances.

This was predicted today at the opening session of the commission's investigation by Mayor A. Wells Gray, M.L.A. of New Westminster secretary of the U.B.C.M. The union, however, asked that it be permitted to defer formal presentation of its case until the closing sessions, probably some time in September. Sessions today and Wednesday are more in the nature of preparatory meetings. The commission, which is meeting at the court house, consists of Judge A. M. Harper, A. D. Paterson and Herbert Anscombe.

Judge Harper explained that the commission will sit in Vancouver later. It also plans to hold sessions in various centers of the province, to hear representations of municipal authorities in all parts. He informed the city clerk of Nelson that the board will likely sit in that city in September.

FAWN HIT BY AUTO PLAYS POSSUM AS AUTOISTS PAT IT

BURTON, B.C., June 20—A good example of playing possum was displayed by a young faun when an auto rounding a sharp curve on the road between Burton and Arrow Park gave it no chance of escape.

The doe and faun were seen standing on the road, then the doe disappeared, and the fawn just lay down flat. The driver stopped the car and walked up to the little thing expecting it to jump up and escape, but it lay perfectly still, except that its ear moved ever so slightly when the people moved away. They patted its head and back, but it never moved, and was still there as the car passed, and it was left to recover from its unusual experience.

Fernie Mines Have 125,000-Ton Order

FERNIE, B. C., June 20.—Coal Creek mines, which will reopen almost immediately will have an order for 125,000 tons, Hon. H. H. Stevens declared today. This will give employment to about 300 men working half time, or 150 men working full time. Operations will be concentrated for the present to No. 1 East mine, dismantling of which was halted some weeks ago pending the result of yesterday's conference.

TRIES GUN ACT ON HIS ARREST

Start Roundup of Nazis in Austria

VIENNA, June 20 (AP).—A roundup of Nazi leaders and a thorough searching of their homes were undertaken by the Austrian government tonight in its efforts to stamp out allegiance to Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany in his native land.

Despite these drastic measures by the regime of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss bombings which terrorized the country most of last week were resumed today, more telegraphic wires were cut and Nazis in Innsbruck showed their contempt for the ban on the Nazi party emblem, the Swastika, by wearing the gold German colors—black, white and red—revived recently by the German Nazi government.

A small railway bridge on the outskirts of Vienna was dynamited and several bomb explosions, none causing serious damage, were reported in Carinthia.

FAY WRAY SAVED FROM DROWNING

LOS ANGELES, June 20 (AP)—Caught in a treacherous rip tide while swimming alone in the ocean, Fay Wray, film actress, was saved from death today by George Hill, film director, who heard her screams for help. He plunged through the breakers and dragged her ashore.

POUND HIGHEST SINCE 1931

Makes a Swift Advance; Canadian Dollar Moderately Strong

NEW YORK, June 20 (CP)—The pound sterling set a new high record of $4.20, on the New York foreign exchange market today after another swift advance against foreign currencies in London. The Canadian dollar displayed moderate strength.

At $4.20 the pound was at its highest level in New York since the United Kingdom suspended the gold standard in 1931. That level had been touched in London on June 12.

The pound later fell back ⅛ cent to close at $4.19⅞, up 1⅞ cents over Monday. The Canadian dollar finished at 10 per cent discount, or 90 cents, up 5-16 cent. This represented a premium on United States funds of 11⅛ per cent.

ADMITS SENDING EXPLOSIVES TO U.S. PRESIDENT

WATERTOWN, N.Y., June 20 (AP)—Joseph Dodo, 20, admitted to police here tonight he tried to send a package containing an improvised explosive to President Roosevelt last February and that he had mailed several other packages and threatening letters to the president since that time, Chief of Police Singleton said after the youth had been questioned.

He was arrested today in the Jefferson County National bank as he stood beside a rack containing railroad and steamship folders. The racks have been watched since a piece of railroad folder was found in one of the recent letters addressed to the president.

The youth, who police said was mentally deficient, is reported to have said he sent the bomb "just for fun." He was held on an open charge.

130 HOGS DIE IN OVERLOADED CARS

WINNIPG, June 20 (CP)—Packed into overloaded cars, 130 hogs died during three days in the intensive heat of last week at the Union stockyards here, it was learned today. Officials say every precaution was taken to prevent loss and that quick action of yard employees prevented a greater toll being taken.

JURY FINDS CAUSE OF DEATH UNKNOWN

VANDERHOFF, B.C., June 20—(CP)—A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the body found in the ashes of a fire at Tachyk lake was believed to be that of John Edward Bolk and that he came to his death through some unknown cause.

OLIVER HARDY SEEKS DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, June 20 (AP)—A suit for divorce from Mrs. Myrtle Lee Hardy was filed in superior court today by Oliver Hardy, rotund member of the film team of Laurel and Hardy, who charged his wife with mental cruelty.

25 Sons of Freedom Get Terms, Nude Parading

CANORA, Sask., June 20 (CP)—Sentences totalling 31 years and one month were meted out in R.C.M.P. court here tonight by Magistrate W. B. Scott of Regina to eight Doukhobor men and 17 women of the Sons of Freedom sect of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood when they pleaded guilty to charges of parading in the nude on a highway near Verigin Sunday.

All stated they were not guilty but admitted disrobing and taking part in the demonstration. One man stated he did not think himself guilty of an offence, because he only recognized the laws of God and as everyone was God's child people should not judge one another.

The most severe sentence meted out to the ringleaders was three years to three men to be served in the Prince Albert penitentiary, while other male offenders were sentenced to terms ranging from two years to two months in Regina jail.

Two year terms at Battleford was the sentence imposed by Magistrate Scott on five Doukhobor maidens, other female offenders were given terms ranging from 18 months to one day.

LORD MONTAGU DENIES ILL-TREATING FORBES ON CRUISE FROM SIDNEY, B.C.

VICTORIA, June 20 (CP).—Decision was reserved until tomorrow afternoon by Magistrate George Jay in provincial police court here today in the case of Lord Edward Montagu and Cecil Brooks, charged with assaulting John Forbes during a cruise of the gasboat Merman last week.

On plea of defence counsel, Magistrate Jay ordered ruled out remarks of Ronald Kindersley, defence witness yesterday, in regards to sheep stealing and slaughtering along the coast.

Taking the stand for the first time in the two-day hearing Lord Montagu, a son of the Duke of Manchester and a member of the party which planned to sail aboard the adventure yacht Carma captained by Walter Wanderwell before Wanderwell was slain last December 5, today flatly denied allegations that Forbes, a member of the Merman's crew, had been ill-treated by himself or other members of the crew. Forbes, who accused Lord Montagu and Brooks of knocking him down, kicking him and dragging him through the water at the end of a dinghy during a cruise from Sidney, B.C., to the mainland during which the Merman was wrecked and forced to return to Sidney for repairs, was highly intoxicated, the titled Englishman stated today.

When the Merman returned to Shell island to pick up members of the crew who had been left there, Lord Montagu declared Forbes was "stone" drunk, and fell overboard while attempting to get into the dinghy. Fearful of capsizing the small craft Lord Montagu said he put his arm around Forbes' head and towed him ashore, a distance of 15 yards. Here Forbes was given some whiskey to prevent him catching cold and efforts made to get him to go to sleep. Forbes, however, said Lord Montagu, kept getting up and finally struck Brooks. The latter struck Forbes twice.

Later the party returned to Sidney, with the exception of Forbes, who was left to "sleep it off." Returning several hours later Lord Montagu said he tried to waken Forbes and put his hands behind his back to assist him to get up. The party went back to Sidney and next day Lord Montagu said he requested Forbes not to continue on the cruise after which both shook hands.

F. N. Wright, boat builder at Sidney, corroborated defence witnesses' statements that Forbes was highly intoxicated when the Merman put into Sidney for repairs.

AUSTRALIA IS FAVORABLE TO ACREAGE CUT

Stipulate It Must Be Only a Temporary Reservation

MUST NOT BE ONLY MEASURE

Argentine Wheat Reduction Stand Remains Obscure

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 20 (CP cable).—Australian delegates to the four-power wheat conference today signified willingness to consider the Canadian-American plan for acreage reduction as a means of raising world prices. Should they decide to accept the plan they indicated, they would do so with the reservation it must be temporary. Final attitude of the Argentine remained obscure.

The Australian stand was revealed by Stanley Bruce, minister for the commonwealth at London, who told the economic committee of the world economic conference his country would not consent to acreage curtailment as the only method of raising prices, but "would be prepared to examine it with regard to individual commodities as a temporary measure."

This attitude was regarded with hope by other delegations as Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada several days ago had made it clear the Dominion held limitation of acreage should last only long enough to dispose of the world's huge carry-over.

Canada's contention that nations limiting acreage should be supported by efforts of consumer countries to increase their takings of wheat was given additional emphasis today by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Canadian finance minister. Producers, Mr. Rhodes said, should not be asked to make sacrifices if consumers were unwilling to aid them.

DROPS DEAD IN PASSENGER COACH

VANCOUVER, June 20—M. E. Sutton, a passenger, dropped dead on a Pacific Great Eastern railway passenger coach near Darcy on Monday.

Officials have been unable to learn any particulars of Sutton. He is believed to be a native of Wexford, Ireland, and to have resided in the United States before coming to British Columbia. He had lived in Armstrong and Vancouver.

Sutton was a passenger en route to Fort St. John, where it is reported that his brother died recently.

An inquest will be held at Lillooet.

INSISTENT ON STABILIZATION AS BASIC MOVE

Ready to Propose Adjournment If It Is Not Forthcoming

CHAMBERLAIN HAS CREDIT PROPOSAL

Britain and U. S. Do Not Think Stabilization Time Ripe

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 20 (CP cable)—Slowly and rather cumberously, the world economic conference drove forward today through a labyrinth of planes while French delegates, alarmed at the further fall of the United States dollar and fearful of France being forced off the gold standard, got ready to formally propose holding the whole thing up.

The French, steadfastly insistent that currency stabilization must be achieved before the conference can get anywhere, are ready to propose adjournment for a period to the steering committee tomorrow unless prospects for stabilization are brighter by that time. It is not likely they will be.

TIME NOT RIPE

Great Britain and United States are by no means of the same opinion as to the French regarding currency stabilization. They agree it must come, but they do not think it comes first. From Washington again today came word the United States did not consider the time ripe to consider currency stabilization.

Further discussion in the general economic commission of the French

MANUAL WORK IS EXPLAINED

Trail Rotarians Hear Instructor; Pennoyer Is New Secretary

TRAIL, B.C., June 20—F. R. McLean, manual training instructor of the Trail-Tadanac teaching staff was guest speaker at the luncheon-meeting of the Rotary club today.

Mr. McLean outlined 14 objectives of the manuel training course which were as follows:

1. A knowledge of industrial process and materials.
2. Opportunity to explore aptitudes.
3. Manipulative skill.
4. Ability to do repair work around the home.
5. Overcome isolation existing between school and life.
6. Teach creative interest and develop creative power.
7. Bridge gulf between thinking and doing.
8. Develop habits of accuracy.
9. Give knowledge and expetience for emergencies.
10. Correction with other school subjects.
11. Lay right foundation for all forms of productive and creative work.
12. To give training with economic value.
13. Muscular control for ordinarily muscular tasks.
14. Teach fundamental tool processes.

Mr. McLean enlarged on these objectives of manual training in the schools and also told of the cultural value of handicraft. It meant a certain sensitiveness to the great things of life, a certain sympathy with aspirations and achievements of the human race. Above all, it meant a creative power, a capacity to do things—to serve mankind by adding to the world's store of beauty and of usefulness. The perfect round was not complete without the arts and crafts, he said. Handicraft was the most fundamental. It was the beginning of human civilization and the first instrument of culture. It was found that the easiest way to get at the brain is through the hand. And this was just as true of the clever child as of the stupid child—in the earlier stages at any rate. Handicraft may be laid down as an axiom that if a man failed to enter into sympathy with any of the nobler achievements of mankind, he was to that extent uneducated.

The masses had been taught to read and write but they had not been taught to make things with their own hands and to realize when they were well made and badly made, when they fitly served their purpose and when they did not. And to give the citizens of the future a better taste the basis must be broadened on which handicraft was at present taught. To skill good taste must be added. Children must be taught to make things themselves; they must be made to appreciate the things that others had made better. If handicraft did not profoundly affect their future lives, whatever calling they may follow, it had not been taught in the right spirit. If it did not deliver them from a tradition of ignobly equipped homes and produce in them a love of things simple and sincere, if it did not lend a certain dignity to all their doings and their likings, it failed to effect its full purpose.

Practice and appreciation formed a mutually helpful pair. A course of instruction in handicraft, therefore, should involve visits to museums and a critical examination and discussion of the structure of common objects in the school, street, and the home, of desks, tables, doors, blocks, and houses.

Since handicraft achieved, in however small a measure, this vital purpose it should stand side by side in dignity and prestige, with the older subjects of the curriculum. Separation of art from craft should be insisted upon. For if art did not permeate the whole of life it was of little worth. To know what a boy likes was to know what he was about to become. It pointed to the spot at which his mind was growing.

The instinct to finger and to feel, to build up and pull down, to make things that would please oneself and please others, was so strong and universal in all young children that the teacher may safely build upon its promptings. The child's love of handicraft which welded him to his work also reconciled him to his school. To many a boy a school was prison against whose discipline his soul was in secret revolt. His own scale of values differed so widely from that of the school that the lessons seemed a distasteful intrusion upon the free current of his life. Handicraft was to him, as to his teacher, one of the things in life that were worth while—one of the things that he could pursue with passion and conviction.

There was no surer means of gaining the heart than through the hand. It was idle hands that gave Satan his opportunity

It was thus seen that in any educational scheme which was adequate and generous, handicraft must play a leading part.

In concluding, Mr. McLean thanked the members of the Rotary club for their kindness in giving him the opportunity to talk on manual training, a subject on the curriculum which boys dearly loved, and after 14 years of success regretted that it was to be taken away from them. He said that it was not a wise experiment to tamper with the education of future citizens, yet it was more of this kind of activity which was needed and not less. He said this valuable bridge which linked the school work with the life of the community so well, was to be discontinued on June 30.

Directors of the club meeting after the luncheon accepted the resignation of G. G. Cumming as secretary and named Frank Pennoyer to take his place July 1.

CROWN DROPS CASE AGAINST SID EWING

By order of the attorney-general, Hon. R. H. Pooley, the manslaughter charge laid against Sidney Ewing of Trail, driver of the car in which Alderman H. H. Johnstone of Rossland was killed when the car went over the bank at Upper Bonnington, has been withdrawn. The order was issued after the proceedings of the inquest and Ewing's good record were examined.

ment work on the group. This number will be augmented by seven or eight more when the installation of the equipment commences.

Work is being centered at the Anchor claim which is situated on the same lead as the Jewel mine, one of the big operating mines of the boundary district in the early days. May 9, a trial shipment was sent from the Anchor to the Trail smelter and returns of 1.285 ounces in gold and 10.1 ounces in silver were received. Recently a 90-foot crosscut tunnel was driven to connect the two levels.

The major operation proposed by the company, which is being financed by the Vancouver firm of Reed & Henderson, Ltd., is the drifting of a long tunnel on the Jewel lake side of the hill to connect with the vein on the 500-foot level. Only development work will be done for a while.

The Jewel group is situated near Jewel lake, famed during the past four or five years for its monster trout. Recently the edge of the lake has been turned into a popular summer resort, a pavilion having been built there about a year or two ago.

F.A.C. GIVES THE RANGERS BEATING

Fairview Athletic club handed the Rangers their first loss of the season on Monday evening, when they went on a wild scoring spree in the sixth inning to score 10 runs and win the game 25-13.

Rangers held a 12-11 lead at the start of the sixth, but after holding the Rangers without a score in their half of the inning, Fairview slammed the ball all over the field, which coupled with three errors gave them 10 runs. They added four more in the seventh.

Rangers scored one in the last inning to raise their total to 13. By the Rangers' defeat the Hume Hotel club, who are undefeated at present have a good chance to finish in first place for the first half honors. Harold Chapman of the Fairview team, and E. Aft of the Rangers hit home runs. Chapman, Ringrose hit two baggers.

Harriman was carried on a stretcher on his last appearance in court.

Uncover Plot Assassinate San Marino President and Create Reign of Terror

SAN MARINO, Republican of San Marino, June 20. (AP).—A plot to assassinate the captains-regent, presiding government officials of San Marino, the smallest republic in the world, seize the government and burn the city of San Marino has been uncovered by police.

Numerous arrests have been made here and in Italy.

The plot was disclosed in documents found on two young Sicilians who were arrested in San Marino while photographing public buildings.

The documents revealed, police said, that the two were agents of a band which planned to invade the smallest and oldest state in Europe from Italy and start a reign of terror.

San Marino authorities issued a manifesto assuring the populace they have the situation in control.

The city of San Marino has a population of 3500. The republic is situated high in the mountains 15 miles from the Adriatic sea.

British Nobility Greets King Feisal

LONDON, June 20 (CP)—King Feisal of Iraq arrived in London today on a state visit and was greeted at Victoria station by King George, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Gloucester, all of whom cordially shook hands with him.

Tragedy Follows Unheeded Warning

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., June 20—(CP)—Failure to heed a mother's warning resulted in Sunday's tragedy at Copper City in which three persons were drowned, according to particulars received here today. The dead are Mildred Clarke, 13, Gerald Clarke, 12, and George Dobbie, 12. The bodies have not been found.

Harry Clarke, ferryman at Copper City, about 75 miles up the Skeena river, had borrowed a car to take his wife and two children and the Dobbie boy for an outing. The car had been rebuilt into a two-seated cab with a box on the rear. Mr. and Mr. Clarke had been in the cab and the children on the rear. As the car was being driven onto the ferry, a cable-propelled pontoon scow, Mrs. Clarke stepped down, and called to the children to come out of the box. They remained inside, however.

The engine of the vehicle stalled and when Clarke stepped on the accelerator the wheels and front of the car overran the apron of the ferry when a support gave away, and the vehicle plunged into the fast current. The children were not seen again. Clarke jumped clear and was in the water five minutes in a dazed condition before Mrs. Clarke rescued him. He was saved from the current apparently by grasping a ferry cable.

Parts of the car were found two miles down the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns on Way to North

Leave Edmonton for Waterways; Seek News of Reported Tragedy

No further word was received in Nelson yesterday concerning the reported disappearance in the north of Robert Burns, son of John Burns, and two companion geologists, who were making a trip by canoe down the Athabasca river on their way to the Great Bear lake mining district. Only word received was that Mr. and Mrs. Burns, who left for the northland Saturday, had left Edmonton for Waterways in Athabasca. They are probably travelling by train as a line runs to Waterways from Edmonton. It is expected they will take an airplane from that point into the northland to investigate the reported tragedy for themselves. The empty canoe of the boys with some clothing was discovered at Fort Chippewyan, according to a report received in Cranbrook on Saturday last.

Reelect Thompson Head of Orangemen

REGINA, June 20 (CP).—Reelection of John Thompson of Toronto, as grand master of the Grand Black chapter of British America marked the concluding session of the fifty-ninth annual meeting here today. J. E. Walker of Toronto, was elected deputy grand master and Rev A. Walker of Lloydminster, Sask., associate deputy grand master.

The officers elected included J. Wes Benson of Toronto, reelected for the tenth term of grand registrar; C. H. Spooner, Toronto, reelected grand treasurer; W. Bush, Vancouver, deputy grand treasurer; J. L. Steele, Toronto, grand lecturer; W. Patterson, Hamilton, and A. McCullough, Toronto, grand censors.

Rev. W. C. V. Martin of Saint John, was named grand chaplain; Samuel Cotterell, Hamilton, grand marshal; G. Neish, Toronto and J. B. MacCallum, Campbellton, N. B., standard bearers.

Hull Disappointed

U. S. Delegation Unable to Commit Themselves on Questions

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—In quarters close to the American delegation it was being freely said today that Cordell Hull, as an ardent believer in international cooperation, is keenly disappointed in the turn of events which rendered it impossible for his United States delegation to commit themselves on many important world economic conference questions because of the Roosevelt-ian internal program.

It was understood, however, the American secretary of state was hopeful the ground work was being laid in tentative discussions which would result in greater progress on international problems when the American price-raising program had been achieved.

The absolute unity of the United States delegation was asserted at a press conference by Mr. Hull.

Four Teams Lined Up Trail Tourney

TRAIL, B. C., June 20.—To discuss plans for the July celebration and baseball tournament, the Trail Senior Baseball club held a special meeting here Tuesday night. Donations were reported as coming in fairly quickly and it was felt that sufficient funds would be on hand to put the celebration over in a big way.

Three teams from across the line and the Nelson team are already lined up and Grand Forks may also enter.

Instead of appointing a committee to take charge of the children's sports on the morning of July 1, it was decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of Jack Mackinnon.

DYKES BREAK AT BONNERS FERRY FLOODING FARM LAND

HURRAH! IT'S SUMMER AT LAST

It's here. What is here? Why summer of course. No matter how cold it gets, and there was frost Sunday last, no matter how warm it gets, no matter if the hills around the city and district are snow capped, it is summer. Summer has come at last. It was still spring yesterday. All this is so because the summer solstice, indicating the first day of summer, begins this morning, June 21, some time before the noon hour. But as the words of the song go, "Winter will come again."

MORE ABOUT CONFERENCE

proposals for restriction of production of basic commodities brought another afternoon of schemes and suggestions, particularly as affecting wheat. Portugal had a fresh set of suggestions.

The developments of a busy day may be summarized as follows:

1. Currency stabilization remained in abeyance, the British pound climbed to more than $4.19 in terms of the United States dollar and the consequent weakness in the United States dollar provoked alarm in France and other gold standard countries.

2. Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the British exchequer, introduced in the first monetary committee a resolution demanding that general banks cooperate and push a vigorous cheap money credit and open market policy. With strong support forthcoming its adoption was likely.

3. Wide approval was forthcoming for the United States resolution suggesting steps for restoration of the monetary standard, lowering the traditional gold coverage of 40 per cent including optional use of silver for one-fifth of this amount.

4. The United States policy on monetary standards as set forth by Senator Key Pittman in the above paragraph does not mean the United States is prepared for an unmediate return to the gold standard, Senator Pittman declared.

5. The committee dealing with the Pittman resolution accepted a British amendment by Viscount Hailsham which leaves the time and the parity at which nations will return to the former standard to the determination of each government.

6. Australia's readiness to cooperate with Canada, United States and the Argentine—the rest of the "big four" in measures to restrict production of wheat aiming at raising the price, was announced. But Australia fundamentally is opposed to this method and if it is adopted, it should be only temporary, said Stanley Bruce, Australian minister in London.

Pay Last Tribute to Mrs. Douglass

Funeral services for Mrs. Katie H. Douglass, who died here Saturday, were held at St. Saviour's church Tuesday afternoon, following which burial took place in the Masonic plot in the city cemetery. Many friends of the deceased were present and a large number of floral offerings received. A hymn, "Abide With Me," was sung at the church.

Pallbearers were Leslie Wightwick, T. H. Mills of Willow Point, John Fraser, Roy Sharp, John Lemon and Robert Irwin.

Floral offerings were received from: Margie and Carl and Charlotte and Mac, pillow; Dot, cross; David, Thelma, Jean, Kathrine and Sarah MacLean, wreaths. Other offerings were from: Mr. and Mrs. David Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bennett and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hall, Enid Etter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sargent, Mrs. J. Sturgeon and family, Dr. C. E. BROTHER OF TRAIL TEACHER INJURED BUT IS ON MEND TRAIL, B.C., June 20—Gordon McKenzie, one of a party of six whose car plunged 50 feet over a cliff and landed on stones on the seashore at Whitecliffe, near Vancouver, is a brother of Miss H. McKenzie of the Trail-Tadanac teaching staff.

In a telephone conversation with her family last night, Miss McKenzie learned that her brother was out of danger and that the other two survivors, Miss Helen Anderson and Alexander Macaulay, were doing well.

Women Labor Alongside Men to Check Flow of Water

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho, June 21 (AP).—Women labored shoulder to shoulder with their men folk tonight in a desperate effort to hold the raging Kootenay river back from this city and thousands of acres of rich farm land.

In defiance of the efforts of more than a thousand men and scores of women, about 400 acres of pea and wheat lands were lakes and the water was seeping gradually into the town through softened dykes. Numerous buildings and homes in low sections of the town were surrounded.

The dyke protecting irrigation district No. 10 in the Kootenay valley near Port Hill broke today, flooding 1875 acres of highly developed farm lands. A half dozen other dykes weakened by seepage, threatened to break. Five already have crumbled.

The dyke protecting irrigation district No. 1 crumbled early tonight, sending a flood of water into this town, but it was repaired within an hour. Truckloads of hay and 6000 sacks of sand were piled on huge sheets of canvas to close the gap.

Meanwhile Kootenay river, running bank full with the heaviest flow in 30 years, did not rise higher today, and some hope was held that an expected higher mark would not be reached until dykes were strengthened. A high wind that sent waves over the tops of the embankments yesterday died down today, but the temperature was high.

TRADE OFFICIALS ARE IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, June 20 (CP). — Four officials of the department of trade and commerce are at present in Vancouver.

K. J. Chamberlain, assistant deputy minister of the department of trade and commerce, and C. H. Bland, civil service commissioner, arrived today to interview orally the prospective junior trade commissioners who wrote their examination papers two or three months ago. They will be in the city for two or three days.

J. H. English, Canadian trade commissioner at London, Eng., and formerly at Dublin, arrived Monday and will be in the city until June 29. He will meet exporters in the British or Irish markets, his quarters being at the office of the Canadian Manufactures' association. He will return to London.

W. J. Riddiford, assistant trade commissioner at Hongkong, has also arrived and will be here for about 10 days before proceeding to New York as assistant trade commissioner.

Keep Missionary Anniversaries

Members of the St. Paul's Missionary society held their last meeting until September on Tuesday, and during the meeting celebrated the 60th anniversary of the Methodist church missionary work in Japan.

The 50th anniversary of the women's entry into the Japan mission fields was also observed and in an address the work of the missionaries in that country was described. Mention was made of the various advances made, especially in educational, children's and young women's work. A short account was given of the life and work of Dr. Kagawa, outstanding Japanese Christian.

Mrs. J. C. Hooker, accompanied by T. J. S. Ferguson, gave vocal solos.

L. O. B. A. WOMEN HAVE BUSY DAY

REGINA, June 20 (CP). — Two hundred members of the Loyal Orange Benevolent association, meeting here during the sessions of the grand lodge, put in a busy day which included a civic welcome extended by Mayor James Mcara and the first business session of the annual conference. There was also an honor tea and reception sponsored by the Past Mistresses' association.

BAIRD GIVES TALK, BANKING

Speaks at Gyro Luncheon on Soundness of Canadian System

A resume of the Canadian banking system, together with an answer to criticism raised against the rate of interest demanded by the banks and other undertakings, were given in an address by A. Baird, manager of the Nelson branch of the Royal Bank, at the Gyro luncheon in the Hume hotel Monday evening.

A history of Canadian banking, together with the service rendered by the branches in the way of facilitating commerce was also included in the talk.

The greatest agitation was made by those who sought to benefit by the funds of the more thrifty, he declared.

Speaking on the agitation for a central bank, he said that he thought that in the present system the people had all they needed. The operation of a central bank would mean an added expense.

People were of the opinion that the banks bought at three per cent and sold at eight per cent, whereas actually they brought at 103 per cent and sold at 108. There was little profit when collecting, and other costs were considered, he said. The Canadian banking concerns were not held by a few capitalists but by a large number of share holders scattered throughout the dominion.

He mentioned the favorable comments received by the banks from European countries and from various sources across the border.

The absence of frozen investments and foreign accounts, the diversity and experience of the employees, the absence of foreign real estate loans and the diversity of business, were given as reasons for the sound way in which the Canadian institutions weathered the depression.

Following his address, Mr. Baird answered several questions. The present high value of gold was due to the great demand for the yellow metal. Nations were looking toward gold as something stable, believing that it would remain the main medium of exchange. It was not speculation that was increasing the demand for gold, he thought.

Cement Work Starts on Creston Store

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—Excavation is completed and the pouring of cement commenced on the basement of the new store S. A. Speers is erecting next door to the present Imperial grocerteria, which latter building has been purchased by West Kootenay Power and Light Company, limited. Mr. Speers is hoping to be occupying the new quarters by the middle of August.

Creston Seeks Dry Spell for Hay Cut

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—Since Thursday, when the mercury got up to 94 in the shade, the weather has been somewhat cooler, with rain threatening at times. Dry weather, however, is hoped for in order to harvest the first cut of alfalfa which will take another three days.

NELSON LADIES GIVE PROGRAM

Take Part in Meeting of Robson Institute

ROBSON, B. C., June 20—The June meeting of the Robson Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Squires home with a large attendance, there being about 40 present, including visitors.

The president, Mrs. Carter, was in the chair. A letter was read from the Men's institute thanking the ladies for their help at the convention. A letter of acknowledgment for the donation sent for the federal institutes was read from Mrs. H. H. Pitts.

A most pleasing feature of the afternoon was a musical program which was entirely in the hands of six Nelson ladies. A hearty vote of thanks was given the ladies at the conclusion of their program which was thoroughly enjoyed. The program was as follows: songs, Mrs. J. T. Andrews; Paper, Mrs. W. C. Mawhinney; piano solos, Mrs. G. Webb Foster; Vocal duets, Mrs. W. C. Mawhinney and Mrs. T. E. Higginbotham; reading, Mrs. Gordon Allan; vocal solos, Mrs. E. Marsden.

Delicious refreshments were served by the joint hostesses Mrs. Squires, Mrs. Magee and Mrs. Martin.

LESSEES GET ORE RETURNS

The lessees, operating Rossland claims under lease from The Consolidated Company, which claims were thrown open at the old workings of the company, have received smelter settlements in some instances, the gross values running as high as $9 per ton, leaving a neat margin of profit for the lessees.

Trucks are being kept busy transporting the ore being taken out to the smelter at Tadanac, and it is anticipated, now that the workings are getting more fully developed, that even better returns will be secured.

Both the Midnight and I. X. L. mines are shipping to Trail from the O. K. Mountain area, while it is understood the Velvet Mining Company of Seattle, Wash., will ship from the Velvet soon to Tacoma.—Rossland Miner.

ERIK HOGLUND BURIED, CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C., June 20.—Erik Hoglund, a quite well known orchardist resident east of town, was buried in Creston cemetary on Saturday morning, following an impressive service at Trinity United church, which was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Andrew Walker, with a large number out to pay their final respects. He came here about seven years ago from Kimberley, and is survived by his widow and family.

VIOLIN STUDENTS PASS AT FORKS

GRAND FORKS, B. C., June 20—Word has been received that all pupils who took examinations arranged by the Associated Boards of the Royal Schools of Music, London, Eng. (the R. A. M. and R. C. M.), had passed successfully. Mr. R. Sterndale Bennett acted as examiner. The work of these pupils was specially commended, special mention being made of the memory work.

Mr. Bennett strongly advocated violin orchestra work as both a musical and mental stimulus and thought the work highly desirable particularly part playing for violins similar to that presented by Mrs. Ommaney's pupils at the recent Kootenay Festival and in which they made such a creditable showing.

In the violin class, Louise McPherson passed in grade V, higher division, and Audrey Market passed in (transitional) third grade.

In the piano classes, Fern Heringer passed in lower fourth.

Irene Frechette (transitional) grade III. Mabel Eureby grade two, Elva Kidd, grade one. In the preliminary grade, Jean Sutherland and Betty Reynolds both passed.

GREENWOOD MINE CLAIMS BONDED

Concentrator May Be Built at Denora

GRAND FORKS, B. C., June 20—Construction of an ore concentrating plant at Denoro, 12 miles from Greenwood, is one of the prospective developments in mining excitement at Greenwood that appears to have reasonable probability of coming of fruitition in the early future.

In Grand Forks last evening agreements were signed whereby the Bluebell group at Denoro has been acquired by J. W. Morris of Pasadena, California, and with the evidence of stability behind the concern there seems every reason to expect that they will be able to proceed with the plans which they have outlined.

Robert Forshaw of Greenwood, John Ludlow of Denoro and Malcolm Morrison of Grand Forks were among the interested owners of claims who were signing up with Mr. Morris, after a search of records had been made at the Government office. It is understood that Mr. Morris was able to pick up a number of claims at the government office with nominal payment and now has seven claims. It is understood that adjoining claims owned by A. N. Docksteader of Grand Forks are also to be acquired.

This is a group that has been attracting attention of mining men for a number of years and construction of a mill was under arrangement back in 1929 when the slump overtook mining. All the data that was then obtained after a gold deal of careful investigation is now being taken advantage of and there is said to be nothing in the way of proceeding with work when organization is completed.

The Bluebell group is in a zone that has shipped much excellent ore and the several properties have been thoroughly sampled and possess a great deal of development work.

EARLY ACTIVITY EXPECTED

Mr. Morris states it is to be the intention of his firm to get early action on the cleaning up work at the mine and get further development work under way and that while this is being done arrangements will proceed for the building of a concentrator without delay.

D. M. Macdonald, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who has found himself lately in the midst of the placer excitement of Rock Creek as well as the mine boom at Greenwood, was in town yesterday and says the outlook for a full measure of mining developments at Greenwood this fall is particularly promising.

DRIFT WOOD IS HARVESTED

The high water of the West Arm has paid back, at least in a small measure, for any destruction it might have caused. Every day for the past two weeks a number of residents on the water front have harvested considerable drift wood.

Tuesday, especially, was the wood-collecting activity noticeable. Boats were out from above the shipyards to below the unemployed community on the C.P.R. flats, in goodly numbers.

The Chinamen had several boats out and towed logs to the city wharf where it was sawed up. From the wharf the cut wood was transported to their homes on Lake street by the "good old fashioned" vihicle, the wheel barrow.

Stock Men Look Over Cattle at Yahk

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—Charles Sutcliffe and J. W. Dow, president and vice-president respectively of Creston Valley Stockbreeder's Association, were at Yahk at the end of the week, making an inspection of the herd of 400 cattle association members have ranging in the hills in that section during the high water period on the flats.

WINLAW MILL IS WAITING FOR LOGS

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—A number of local residents employed at the Winlaw sawmill at Wynndel have been home for a few days. The plant has shut down temporarily awaiting logs to come in in sufficient quantity to assure an uninterrupted run. White pine is being sawn for the Powell firm at Nelson.

EXPECT LARGE CHERRY CROP

Estimate for Kootenay District 29,000 Boxes; Apple Crop Light

This year the cherry crop in the Kootenay district, including all sections west of Kootenay Landing, has been estimated at 29,000 boxes as compared with the 1932 crop of 13,620 boxes and the average for a five year period of 28,633 boxes. The largest increase is noted in the Bings and Lamberts.

Moisture conditions are good and with the warmer weather growth should come on fast, states District Agriculturist E. C. Hunt in his report to the British Columbia department of agriculture. The set in most varieties has been fair to good. Some winter injuries is showing up in the cherry as well as apple orchards.

All stone fruits and small fruits will be ready for market about two weeks later than the average for the district.

APPLES OFF

The apple crop will be slightly less than the previous year. It has been estimated that the total production this year will be 106,000 boxes compared with last year's crop of 118,471 boxes. Cox's Orange and Rome Beauty varieties are likely to be heavier. Small fruits such as pears, plums and prunes will show a much lighter yield.

BAND CONCERT PLEASES CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—The downtown streets presented the busiest appearance in the town's history on Saturday evening, one of the reasons being the fourth of the series of Saturday night open air concerts given by Creston band under the leadership of Walter G. Hendy. Visitors from all points between Yahk and Sirdar were noted in the crowd. The band numbers 16 talented musicians and the programmes are well chosen to meet the approval of the general public.

Mrs. Eureby Hostess to the Ladies' Aid

GRAND FORKS, B. C., June 20—The Ladies' Aid of St. John's United church, were entertained at the home of Mrs. W. Eureby on Thursday afternoon. There was an exceptionally large crowd present. Mrs. B. Hoogerwerf entertained with several delightful piano solos.

Irrigationists Meet Comptroller at Robson

ROBSON, B. C., June 20—A general meeting of the Robson Irrigation district was held on Tuesday at which Major J. C. Macdonald, water comptroller, was present, and discussed matters relating to the subject.

PAYING BILLS IN GOLD DUST

Placer mining on the Pend d'Oreille river appears to be getting results, men operating in that area being reported as making purchases at stores in Trail with gold dust taken from their workings.

Merchants there accept the gold dust, ship to the assay office, and when returns are received, accounts are squared.—Rossland Miner.

MAKE PLANS FOR JULY 1, CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C., June 20—At a meeting of all the committees handling the K. P. children's day celebration on July 1, progress was reported all along the line. An added attraction will be a children's parade which will leave the town hall at 12:30, and march to Exhibition Park and officially start the big afternoon's doings. Prizes will be awarded for costumes, pets and best decorated bicycle. The day will be livened up throughout by the Creston brass band which has been engaged for the day.

Sheep Creek Road Opened Saturday

SALMO, B. C., June 20—James Donaldson motored to Nelson Sunday afternoon and was one of the first cars over the Nelson-Nelway highway since the wash-out Thursday and Friday. Mr. Donaldson reported the roads safe now where the wash-outs occurred.

The Sheep Creek road was opened to traffic Saturday noon. While this road was being repaired the mail and supplies for the Reno, Motherlode, Kootenay Belle, Gold Belt and Queen mines were transferred. A truck from Salmo taking supplies to the wash-out carrying them across and finishing the trip with a truck which happened to be on the other side of the wash-out.

A number of Salmo men are working on the G. N. R. wash-out at Porto Rico.

BLUE BIRD MINE MAY BE OPENED

It is reported owners of the Blue Bird mine in the South Belt are contemplating underwater mining the mine and putting it in the shipping list to Trail.

The old Blue Bird was operated in the early days, considerable low grade gold ore being taken from its workings.

It was stated large shareholders in the old company were here the first of the week inspecting the property, but this could not be verified.—Rossland Miner.

Dearborn, Michigan, had less than 2,500 inhabitants in 1920, but the automobile industry has since then brought in 50,000 people.

HE WROTE THE AGELESS SONG OF HOME, BUT NEVER HAD ONE

One hundred and ten years ago a song was sung at Convent Garden, London, that attained instantaneous success. It was "Home, Sweet Home." Its publishers made a fortune, and it has become a part of the folk music of the English-speaking world. London during this month has been noting the anniversary.

For the author, however, the song did not bring wealth or happiness. He was James Howard Payne, by turns an actor, a manager and a playwright. The loneliness of the roving life he was leading when he wrote "There's no place like home," inspired him to his supreme moment, voicing so complete an expression of a sentiment common to all human beings, that his simple song has become ageless. He longed for a home of his own and fell in love with a Georgia girl, Mary Harden, but she rejected him. Heartbroken, he sent her one last tribute—the manuscript of his famous song. Then he continued his wanderings, to die in Africa at the age of sixty, lonely and without a home.

His one song was all his life yielded. But if, as Lowell once said, "There is no work of genius which has not been the delight of mankind, no word of genius to which the human heart and soul have not, sooner or later, responded," then Payne has the claim to genius. But it is another of the ironies of the fates, as Disraeli once said, that "fortune has rarely condescended to be the companion of genius."

HOT WEATHER PRECAUTIONS

The general arrival of warm weather brings a new rush of business to the old swimming hole again; and this, very shortly, will bring the usual number of drownings unless the swimmers, juvenile and otherwise, pay attention to a few simple rules of safety.

It isn't wise, for example, to go suddenly into cold water when you are overheated, or when you have just finished a meal. It isn't wise to swim alone in a spot where no one can help you if you need help. It isn't wise to dive into a strange pool without first satisfying yourself that you aren't apt to land on a hidden rock or snag. It isn't wise to go in the water when you're under par physically, or to keep on swimming after you have got a cold or tired.

Those rules are perfectly obvious, of course. But every year a lot of people who forget to heed them get drowned.

A Scandinavian bloc of nations is the latest to emerge from the world conference. Formations of blocs and cliques is one of the things that the statesmen of the world should try to avoid.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

THE TREATMENT OF GOITRE BY RADIUM AND BY SURGERY

You may wonder at times why some acquaintance with goitre has been cured of the symptoms by simply resting for weeks or months, whilst another undergoes radium treatment to secure relief, and still another has to enter hospital and undergo an operation for removal of a part of the thyroid gland.

While there are various names for the various forms of goitre, it is all the same disease, and the types are simply different stages of development.

The first thought in all treatment is to try to remove any infection from the system such as that from bad teeth or tonsils, and to build the patient up by rest and nourishing food.

The cause of the severe type of goitre—rapid heart, trembling of the body, bulging eyes, and indigestion—is really not known, but early and skillful treatment brings results in the great majority of cases.

In the cases where radium or surgery must be used, as medical and rest treatment is not sufficient, Dr. S. Ginsburg, New York, suggests that a proper selection of the cases is necessary as to when radium may be used, or surgery actually needed to save life.

The types of cases in which radium may best be used are: (1) border-line or mild cases; (2) early cases; (3) cases with slight enlargement of the thyroid gland; (4) the average case where there is no compression of the trachea (windpipe); (5) cases that have been operated on, but the symptoms reappear; (6) severe cases, without compression in which operation is refused, and (7), cases which would not withstand an operation.

In all cases where radium is used the rest and medical treatment must still be carried out.

Surgery, that is removing a portion of the thyroid gland by the knife should be used in (1) cases which do not do well under the radium treatment; (2) cases where the goitre is compressing the windpipe and interfering with breathing; (3) severe cases where the patient cannot afford to rest or remain away from his work the number of months necessary to affect a cure by the rest and medical method of treatment, and (4), cases presenting such large goitres of long standing that surgery is required to remove the growth for the sake of the appearance.

I believe these ideas of Dr. Ginsburg as to the right method in the various cases would be accepted by most physicians, and should be of help to patients in deciding just what to do.

AUNT HET

"I reckon Amy is sincere, but I notice she enjoys her religion a lot more when the preacher is good lookin'."

"Between You and Me"

By "J.B.C."

In these days of cocktail drinking, and more-or-less sex equality, and social Bohemianism in which the various circles overlap like shingles on a roof, manners are almost as changeable as modes, Paul Hanlson of New York says. Go to a party on Park Avenue and you'll meet, possibly, a society bootlegger, an aviator, a bullfighter and a newly risen musical comedy star. Go to a night club, and in the same corner with some flashy Broadwayites of dubious antecedents you'll see a deb, a dowager and two millionaires.

These things being true, Miss Alice Leone Moats, pretty and pert little social registerite of 23, decided to write a book of modern etiquette. And this she has done, with a deep curtsy to Emily Post, a flip title called "No Nice Girl Swears," and an impressive foreword by Edna Woolman Chase, editor of Vogue.

Miss Moats' premise is that we no longer behave like convention-fettered human beings, and that we might as well break down and admit it. She says in print that a woman may smoke at any time or in any place; that it is nothing short of excess prudery for a girl who has been out one or two years to refuse to dine alone in a bachelor flat; that debs of 18 may and do drink champagne at dinner; that a display of intelligence handicaps a girl; that "it is absolutely impossible to give a successful party, much less a successful ball, without serving liquor."

The author declares that the most correct lady now walks in and out of her favorite speakeasy with the same unconcern she would display in going to her hairdresser. As for the modern house-party, it's no place to take an evil mind. If you breakfast in your room, other members of the party may come in, informally attired, and talk to you. "Nobody is shocked any more," says Miss Moats, "at the sight of pyjamaed youths sitting on a girl's bed, gnawing crusts of toast from her breakfast tray."

No nice girl, she reiterates, swears — much. An occasional "damn" passes unnoticed. She cautions that a reputation for being a "heavy necker" doesn't add to a girl's popularity; also that no girl can hope to get away with the "You're the first man I ever kissed" line with seventeen different men. Some day her name will be brought up over a bottle of brandy and her talents discussed.

The book is not just another sassy travesty on the serious times; it is full of definite instruction on everything from introductions to how to announce broken engagements.

Alice Leone Moats is the daughter of Wallace Payne Moats, a banker who divides his time between New York and Mexico City. She was born in Mexico, educated in convents in Rome and Paris, and in American finishing schools. She writes fashion and travel articles, lives in an apartment overlooking the East River, and gets around a lot with an assorted crowd of young socialites. She's afraid a lot of people will be shocked by her book.

"But I tried to face facts," she explained. "For instance, you never saw an etiquette book telling how a girl should deal with drunks. So I discuss the various types of intoxication — hilarious, lachrymose, taciturn, belligerent and amorous. And I advise the girl whose escort passes out in a taxi to get out right there and leave him—first giving the driver an address about ten miles in the opposite direction of his home."

What the Press Is Saying

THE BOWSER PARTY

The election campaign of the Non-Party organization having Hon W. J. Bowser, former premier of British Columbia, as its head is now under way. It had its inception a few days ago in Kamloops and it is interesting therefore to note the comment of the Kamloops Sentinel, 53-year-old journal of Interior British Columbia. In part the Sentinel says editorially:

"A suggestion had been thrown out that political history would be made at the Bowser meeting in Kamloops. It was made all right and he who went sat in on something rather original, perchance at a parting of the ways in this province. It was a strange atmosphere, difficult to define. There is none so brave as a dyed-in-the-wool Tory or similar Grit in his own convention hall; when they are sitting cheek by jowl at a "no-party" gathering they become pretty self-conscious Then there were present the old Bowserites. One heard an echo of the party worship of another generation, when men came in from Beresford, Krutaford, Westwold, Savna, Walhachin, and many other settlements, to sit at the feet of one Bowser and cheer him to the echo. And again there was the new generation, just a few of them, for hardly any young men are interested in politics today, but quite a number of young women, and their reaction was worth listening to!

"Mr. Bowser has lost much of his wonted fire. . . . But he has the personality, there is no doubt of that, still to lead a cause . . .

"It seemed, somehow, incredible, incongruous, that there, on that platform, should stand Mr. Bowser and fling away party as an ambition that had lost its savor and become an empty husk, dry and meaningless. But he was quite in earnest, and there was a touch of pathos in it too. Not that Mr. Bowser was sorry for himself, not a bit of it. There was no sentimentality about him at all. He was quite frank, it was his last trip to the arena, he had discovered party politics were no good, could be indeed very bad and he was even ready to join up with former Grit enemies, provided they were the right kind and could be trusted and would trust him. One felt somehow that Mr. Bowser was quite sincere. He has everything to lose if he does not govern well, even reputation, which nowadays he values more than anything. It is a last throw, he scents the battle from afar, he loves the fight, he likes power, he would be boss on his own patch. Let's go.

"Mr. Bowser received valuable support from Dugald Donaghy, K. C., and Dr. G. A. B. Hall, Nanaimo, two former "Grits" such as the leader referred to. PRAISES EDITORIAL ON LAKE FERRY

To the Editor:

Sir: I wish to thank you for your timely Editorial of the 12th inst., in regard to the Main Lake Ferry Service.

As one of those who interviewed the council of the Board of Trade, in regard to this service, I might say that our object was to point out the inadequacy of this service, not only as regards the settlers of the east shore of the lake, but the traveling public as a whole.

We were informed that this service was a part of the southern Trans-Provincial Highway, and as such, it must not be changed. We admit that it is a portion of this highway, but a very poor portion of it, in fact it is the bottleneck of that highway. There we have a twenty-four hour road, which bottlenecks into three ferries within six hours. This alone must deter a great number of tourists, for if they miss the ferry, say at Gray Creek at 4:30 p.m., they can only be about ten miles further upon their journey at 11:30 a. m., next day. And take the Fraser Landing end of this service. The first ferry arrives at 11:30 a.m., and the last ferry of the day leaves at 3:00 p.m. This coupled with the cost per car of ferry charges, precludes the possibility of visiting Nelson, by the people of these outlying settlements, for shopping.

An Opponent of Nelson

The sea-going world, on the 150th anniversary of Peter Willemoes' birth, is reminded of the days of Nelson, and the young Dane's encounter with the British admiral.

"Thank goodness," wrote a young sub, in the Danish navy to his father and mother on April 3, 1801, "thank goodness, I still have whole limbs, which I never expected to have; for I had round my little battery Admiral Nelson and two English ships-of-the-line that both kept up a steady fire with grape-shot, round-shot, and bar-shot. . . ."

In Denmark the name of Peter Willemoes is almost always coupled with that of Nelson. The thought of this boy of 17, with the turned-up nose and a shock of auburn hair, directing his frail little floating battery against the flagship of the victor of the Nile has never ceased to move the imagination of his countrymen; and Nelson's generous tribute to him after the battle has set the crown on his achievement.

Peter Willemoes was born on May 11, 1783, and in this, the one hundred and fiftieth year of his birth, the Danes are not likely to forget him.

It has always been something of a mystery how this novice from the Naval Academy came to be given the command of "Floating Battery No. 1," a vessel carrying 24 guns and a crew of over 120 men. There were 18 ships of different kinds—many of them were hulks without rigging—drawn up in front of Copenhagen to protect the city against bombardment. The average age of the officers commanding the other 17 Danish ships was 38; Willemoes was still not quite 18.

His craft was the only one of its kind in the line. It was really a glorified raft—140 feet long by 40 feet wide, drawing but 3 feet of water. It had a flimsy-looking breastwork in place of bulwarks, freely pierced for the 12 24-pounders mounted on either side; no rigging; no rudder. It could be navigated only with oars or with some kind of warp. It was so low on the water that many of the shots fired from a 74 passed harmlessly over it, and, in its capacity for getting at the vitals of an enemy ship, it was the nearest thing to a submarine which that era provided.

Danish accounts show that Willemoes several times got the Elephant between wind and water; and we can quite believe that, writes a correspondent of the London Times, when Nelson, disdaining Parker's signal, put the telescope to his good left eye, he was astonished to note the stripling who was doing the damage. Naturally a heavy fire was opened on the little battery, and the casualties came thick and fast. There is a painting by Christian Molsted (the Danish Willie) showing the battery as she is supposed to have looked at this moment. A gun's crew are shrinking back from a shot that has killed two of their number and knocked the gun-truck off its slides. Pointing with his ringstock to the wounded gun, the boy-commander is urging them forward to man the gun again.

They fought till nearly 40 per cent of them were killed or wounded—the biggest proportion on either side in the battle, and till five of their guns were knocked clean out and several others seriously damaged. When a ship's flag is shot away, there is a danger she may be thought to have surrendered. At the Nile Nelson flew six flags. Young Willemoes had only one, and that was twice shot away and finally lost. But the scarlet tunic of a dead marine was run up the mast in its place and proved quite as inspiring to fight under as Waldemar's heaven-sent banner. Finally, the Danish flagship broke loose in flames and threatened her own ships that were near her. So Willemoes cut his cables and, letting his little battery, still under a heavy fire, drift down the line, he warped her safely into harbor.

Apart from his share in "Denmark's Day of Honor," Peter Willemoes is well-remembered, especially in his own country, for the little incident of his presentation to Nelson, at Nelson's request, at the Crown Prince's palace six days after the battle. Nelson is said to have told the Regent that he ought to be made an admiral. "If," replied the Prince, "I were to make all my brave officers admirals, I should have no captains or lieutenants in the service."

Willemoes was lionized throughout his country. Still not 25 years of age, he met his death (1808) in the epic little action of Sjaellands Odde, when the last of Denmark's ships-of-the-line made a glorious end against a superior force of three British ships. He was buried, with many of his shipmates, in the little churchyard of Odde; and a beautiful inscription for their grave written by the poet Grundtvg, may still be read.

Auction and Contract Bridge

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

In some hands failure or success hinges on the first card that a Declarer plays. Therefore, he should plan his campaign before touching or naming a card in dummy This is illustrated by the following hand which was played in a duplicate game with both sides vulnerable.

NORTH: ♠ J-5 ♥ K-4-2 ♦ J-8-7-4 ♣ K-7-6-5

WEST: ♠ J-8-7-3-2 ♥ 10-9-7-5 ♦ K-6 ♣ J-2

EAST: ♠ K-9-6 ♥ 8-J ♦ A-9-5-3 ♣ 10-9-4-3

SOUTH (Dealer): ♠ A-10-4 ♥ A-9-6-3 ♦ A-10-2 ♣ A-8-6

At every table a contract of three No Trumps was reached with South the Declarer.

West led the Trey of Spades and the Declarer determined that with Queen and one other in dummy and Ace-Ten and one small in closed hand he should play dummy's Queen; the idea being that the lead had probably been from a King-suit and that two Spade tricks could be secured in that way. East covered with the King and South won with the Ace. Declarer next led the Ace and the Queen of Clubs from South hand, and then a third round of Clubs, dummy winning with the King. Dummy's fourth Club failing to become good, the Declarer next took a shot at the Hearts. He led the King from dummy and then a second Heart, winning with the Ace, and then a third Heart. West won and cashed a fourth Heart, East discarding the Eight of Diamonds. Then West led a small Diamond, East won with the Ace and cashed his fourth Club before leading a Spade. The Declarer took one Spade, two Hearts, and three Clubs and was set three tricks.

THE CORRECT PLAY

The Declarers who made the top score appreciated that with Queen-x in dummy and Ace-10-x in closed hand, two tricks in the suit may be made by the play of the Queen, but they are sure to be made by the play of the small card. With the Five of Spades played on the first trick, East played the King and South a small Spade so as to be able to win the second and third rounds rather than the first and second. A spade being returned to trick 2, dummy won with the Queen and, as six adverse cards are apt to be divided 4-2 rather than 3-3, did not attempt to establish either Clubs or Hearts. A small Diamond was led from dummy, East played small, closed hand the Queen and West the King. If East had played the Ace of Diamonds on this trick, game would have been saved but that play would have been unnatural because, from East's viewpoint, it is possible that West has the Queen of Diamonds and Declarer is planning to finesse King-10. After the King of Diamonds is played by West, nine tricks are taken without difficulty by the Declarer.

"SHARLIE"

By BEATRICE BURTON

CHAPTER XXVI.

All the rest of the night Sharlie and her father sat in the little living room of the flat while Edna and the doctor worked over Dodie behind the closed door of the bedroom.

The dawn was pink in the sky above the housetops across the street when they finally emerged. The doctor shook hands with Mr. Dunn, drank a cup of hot coffee, said that sometimes sleeping powders had extraordinary effects on people, and went away.

It was Edna who explained the whole episode to Sharlie's father. "And now," she said, when she had finished, "let's forget it! Dodie's acted like a fool lately, in a good many ways, but I think she's come to her senses now—"

"I'd like to see her," Mr. Dunn interrupted, and went on tiptoe to the door of the room where his wife lay half-asleep. Presently the two girls could hear them talking together in low tones.

When he came back into the living room Edna went on with what she had started to say. "Eldon, let me talk to you," she said in her quiet way. "You're coming back here now, of course, aren't you? And so am I . . . Dodie's had her taste of freedom, and now she's ready to take us all back. That's why she took all those powders. To frighten us and get us home."

There was anger in her voice.

"She's been acting like a spoiled child ever since I can remember—and we've all been letting her get away with it," she went on. "But now I think it's time she realized that she's not the important person in the family any longer."

Mr. Dunn threw her a mildly startled look, as if he couldn't imagine anyone being more important than Dodie anywhere.

"Sharlie's future is all ahead of her, and it seems to me that all of us ought to be thinking about it—especially her mother." Edna brought one of her capable-looking hands down flat on the table as she spoke, for emphasis.

"Why—her mother thinks about Sharlie," Mr. Dunn answered meekly. Almost always, when he said anything, he seemed to be apologizing for daring to speak. "She looks after her . . . She kept her here with her when we separated."

"Only because you told her that she had to," Edna told him flatly. "She's never really looked after Sharlie. And when the two of them were alone here, she was always telling Sharlie to stay away from home for dinner. She didn't want her around. I know because Sharlie used to call me up and ask me to eat dinner with her downtown. Heaven alone knows where she went when I had to turn her down on account of my own work."

"Well, that's all in the past," said Mr. Dunn easily. "Things'll be different now—"

"Not unless we all pull together and make them different!" Edna cut in keenly. "In a few months Sharlie will be ready to get a position. The one she wants may not come along the very day she leaves business school. She may have to look around for a while—and she'll have to have the right kind of clothes if she's going to make any impression at all in the right kind of offices. And she can't have a lot of cheap people in her life—telephoning her and waiting for her after work. If she does she'll never be able to hold a really high-class job."

Mr. Dunn shook his head.

"I don't understand what you're trying to get at, Edna."

There was a little pause while Edna gazed at him with her deep eyes as if she were trying to think of more simple words with which to tell him what she was trying to tell him.

"I mean this, Eldon . . . Sharlie's been going around with a lot of really awful people the last few weeks. Dodie's paid no attention to her at all. Just let her run wild—and, believe me, she has run wild. I met Jim Barnum in the street yesterday noon, and he told me I ought to speak to Sharlie."

"Then there's another thing," Edna's voice ran on relentlessly. Sharlie's clothes are—Well, they're not only shabby but they make her look cheap. Almost everything she owns has been handed down to her by Dodie, and they aren't the kind of clothes a kid like Sharlie ought to wear. They're too flashy. You can see that for yourself."

*MA'SH HAY

They are making hay on the
*ma'sh—
Men from the inland pasture, skilled in the land.
You can hear the rattle and splash,
Clear to the sunwarmed rock and the drifted sand.

They have drying nets to attend—
Men on the beach, well versed in killick and travel;
From the flats where the spring tides end,
Look: you can see the brown coils gather and fall.

They are neighbors, these, but a word
Comes to the lips of this one pitching his hay:
"Is there one man here who has heard
How in the world they can make that business pay?"

And a voice is raised at the nets,
Crisp with a puzzled word for a strange affair:
"Can you see what anyone gets,
Cutting wet grass on the drizzly swamp in there?

—CHARLES BRUCE

* Editor's Note; "Marsh" is the word here indicated, but Mr. Bruce's use of the word to rhyme with "splash" is perfectly correct. The pronunciation is difficult to explain Elision of the "r", of course, leaves "mahsh, which most people pronounce with a broad "a" Some flatten it slightly, but in every-day use in many parts of Nova Scotia, the vowel sound in this word is definitely flat, although usually somewhat elongated in utterance

CRAWFORD BAY FLOODS SERIOUS

Family Moved Out; Other Settlements Inundated

CRAWFORD BAY, B. C., June 20.—Mrs. Fox and family of Shutty Bench are in the Bay for the summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal were forced to vacate their home on Wednesday owing to the over-flow of Crawford Creek.

Due to several hot-sunny days the creek rose to a height of overflowing its banks. The water washed out a large part of Mr Neal's garden and also flooded a patch of alfalfa at L. Johnson's The mill road was also washed out badly for a distance of about 300 yards preventing traffic going that way.

The McGregor road is under water and three families had to use a boat to reach the settlement.

PROFIT TAKING ON NEW YORK

Levels Off the Stock and Commodity Market; Volume Heavy

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Profit taking levelled off stock and commodity markets today.

Shares had a steaming advance in early trading but gains of fractions to around three points were enough to bring out stock and prices tended to drift lower during the balance of the day. Offerings became a little more aggressive toward the close as "stop loss" orders were uncovered and the net result was an assortment of one to three point declines.

Volume, which assumed huge proportions in the first hour, tapered off as prices eased. The day's business came to 5,463,020 shares.

Markets were still deeply interested in currency problems and prospects, especially in a reiteration of the government's view that stabilization is not to be expected for the present.

There was further evidence of business improvement in today's reports.

MINE MARKET IS RAGGED AT CLOSE

TORONTO, June 20 (AP)—Buoyancy in the morning gave place to a declining trend in the afternoon and listings on the Standard mining exchange today presented a rather ragged appearance at the close. Losses in the gold group ranged up to 1.50 and only a few of the base metal shares were able to hold part of their early gains. Volume was 1,600,000 shares.

International Nickel shot ahead to $21 at the opening, a new top price for the year and Noranda pressed up to 33.75. At the close Nickel was off 45 cents at 19.55, Noranda down $1 at $32 and other results in the group were Hudson Bay down 25 cents. Base Metal Corporation up seven cents, Coast Copper unchanged, Pend Oreille up five and Sherritt up two.

All senior gold shares recorded net losses.

GOLDS AND BASE METALS ARE OFF

VANCOUVER, June 20 (CP)—Heavy selling developed in early trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today and prices fell rapidly but irregularly. Golds and base metals suffered chiefly while oils and silvers were comparatively steady. Major losses threatened during the day but the market firmed in the afternoon session and regained some ground lost during the hectic morning session.

Premier Gold was the only stock to record a gain. Climbing two points to close at 1.32. Reno was the most active issue and dropped 16 to 2.30 while Pioneer closed down 1.20 to 14.55, Bralorne down 30 at 7.20 and Cariboo down 20 at 3.00. The cheaper golds also recorded losses.

Pend Oreille and Noble Five were most active of the base metals and lost five and 1½ points respectively.

National and Beaver led the silvers in activity and were strong throughout the day although National closed down ½ at seven. Beaver was unchanged at seven.

PRODUCE STEADY

MONTREAL, June 20—(CP)—Prices on the Montreal dairy and produce market held steady during today's trading. Wholesale butter prices remained unchanged at 19 to 19¼ cents a pound for No. 1 butter in carlots or less. Offerings totalled 1956 boxes.

The egg market held at 18½ to 19 cents a dozen for extras, 14½ to 15 for firsts and 12½ to 13 for seconds. Arrivals amounted to 675 cases.

The cheese market continued at 11¼ a pound for Ontario cheese. Receipts were heavy, totalling 7644 boxes.

WHEAT DIPS IN LATE SELLING

WINNIPEG, June 20 (CP)—With the stimulus of "heat-wave" buying evaporated, trading lapsed into the featureless ways of last week on the Winnipeg grain market today, an outburst of selling near the close, that drove wheat futures prices as much as ¾ cent lower, providing almost the sole activity of the session.

Yielding the ground gained at the opening, values receded swiftly in the closing minutes today as traders, anxious to collect their profits of the past two days, sold heavily. Futures were scraping the day's bottom levels, ¾ to ⅞ cents off at the finish, July 65⅝, October 67⅞ to 68 and December 69¼ to 69⅜ cents.

Better demand for Canadian wheat abroad proved insufficient to halt the recession.

BONDS RESIST PROFITEERS

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Speculative operations lost some of their fervor in the bond market today, but prices, as a whole, displayed strong resistance to a large volume of profit-taking.

Trading was quite active throughout, with leading issues up substantially in early trading. Secondary loan groups were unable to withstand the sagging movement in stocks and commodities.

Rails made the best showing.

PRICES EASE ON PROFIT TAKING

TORONTO, June 20 (CP)—Profit-taking checked the latest phase of the inflation drive following an early burst of strength today and the easing down process continued uninterrupted throughout the afternoon session of the Toronto stock exchange. Early substantial gains were wiped out and all interlisted leaders closed behind minus signs. Domestic listings were affected in a lesser degree by Wall street's apparent weariness.

In the early drive forward International Nickel hit a new peak for the year at 20.90 and Smelters got up to 133. The close at 19.60 showed a net loss of 60 cents for Nickel while Smelters weakened $2 net at 128. Brazilian was off ⅛ to 16¼, C.P.R. down ⅝ to 17⅞, Ford "A" off ¾ to 12.

Wheat Tumbles as Heat Appears Over

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Indications the heat wave northwest had been broken tumbled grain values down about two cents a bushel today as compared with earlier top figures.

Upturns before the tumble took place had carried wheat to within a fraction of the season's high-price record, with corn, oats and rye all excelling the record.

Wheat closed unsettled near the day's bottom level, ⅝ to 1⅛ under yesterday's finish, corn also ⅝ to 1⅛ down, oats unchanged to ½ lower and provisions varying from 20 cents decline to a rise of 30 cents.

CHEERY OUTLOOK FOR CANADIAN GOLD MINES, DECLARES MINING SECRETARY

TORONTO, June 20 (CP). — "I cannot see anything else but a very cheerful outlook for Canadian gold mines as a result of the world economic conference," said George C. Bateman, secretary of the Ontario Mining association, today in an interview here. "The fact the pound sterling is rising and gold is steady indicates the belief over there gold will sell for present or higher prices.

"There are two possibilities arising from the conference so far as gold is concerned. One of them is a straight revaluation of gold which is not receiving much support, and the second is restabilization of currencies which is receiving great support. Obviously gold is not going to be stabilized on the basis of its old par. If we get stabilization on revalued currency in terms of gold, then it means increased purchases of gold.

"So far as Canada's silver production is concerned, the resolution of Senator Key Pittman of the United States delegation, by which paper money would have a 20 per cent gold backing and 5 per cent optionally in gold or silver would have little effect of course, if the price of silver was pegged at, say, 50c per ounce, it would undoubtedly help. But for the most part silver is a by-product in Canada."

Of the total silver produced in Canada during 1932, he said, less than 40 per cent came from straight silver mines, while 60 per cent was extracted as by-product from other ores. An assured price of 50c an ounce would start some mines in the Gowganda and Cobalt areas operating again, but generally, Canada would not greatly benefit.

Montreal Irregular on Profit Taking

MONTREAL, June 20 (CP)—Profit-taking in the afternoon session caused prices to present an irregular appearance on Montreal stock exchange today. At the close losses and gains were equal, a rare occurrence, but four minor issues mounted to new peak prices for the year. Sales volume was of moderate proportions, more than 38,000 shares changing hands.

Stocks closed at their lows for the day.

Canadian dipped ¾ at 13½. International Nickel lost 65 cents at 19.50 while Consolidated Smelters declined two points. New highs were established by Howard Smith preferred, up seven at 27, Twin City, 2⅝ higher at four, Alberta Grain preferred, up 2¼ points at 32 and International Power preferred which closed at 20 with a gain of ½ after selling at a new top of 20½.

COLORADO POTATO BEETLE APPEARS CRESTON DISTRICT

CRESTON, B. C., June 20.—The Colorado potato beetle has already made its appearance in the district, and the district agriculturist in co-operation with the Farmers' Institute, is making an early start to control the pest. Poison dust is being distributed free from the institute quarters in town.

Christina Wins Baseball Game; Big Fish Taken

CHRISTINA LAKE, B. C., June 20.—The Kokanee junior boys played a very snappy game of baseball and showed a great improvement when the Grand Forks junior team came down to challenge them on Saturday afternoon at Kinpley's ball grounds.

They defeated the visitors with the score of 6-4. Tom Benninger and Jerry Creech made a satisfactory umpire. Batteries for Grand Forks: George Ronald, pitcher; Barney Hlady, catcher. Kokanees: Irvin Kinpley, catcher, Albert Tambellini, pitcher.

GIRLS DEFEATED

The Kokanee junior girls were badly defeated on Saturday in a five inning softball game with the Grand Forks junior girls at Kinpley field. The visiting team showed some very flashy playing, but the local girls, due to lack of practice, were beaten to the tune of 26-6. Jerry Creech refereed the game.

Batteries were:

Grand Forks: Peggy Parks, pitcher; Gladys Clark, catcher. Kokanees: Marion Ness, pitcher; Nora Johnson, catcher.

Some very good game fish have been caught in the popular Christina lake waters lately. Just last week Frank Johnson, an old-timer, caught a trout weighing 13 pounds dressed and Billy Ness caught one weighing 20 pounds.

Fluffy ruffles at the shoulder line or cascading down the back of a skirt have come to be hallmarks of this season's more formal gowns.

Wrap-around fox scarves are sometimes dyed to match hyacinth blue dresses.

SENATORS BEAT FAIRVIEW 4-3

Senators and Fairview A. C. intermediate baseball clubs again dished up a snappy ball game at the Recreation grounds on Monday evening. The Senators ended Fairview's three game winning streak by staging a last inning rally to score the winning run after two batters were retired and won the closest game of the season by a score of 4 to 3.

Notman reached first on a fielder's choice in the first inning, stole second and scored the first run of the game on Fawcett's two-base hit.

Stein, first man up for the Senators, hit safely, McLellan filed out to Ioanin in centre field. Kitto hit into a double play, Waterer to Renwick to Notman.

Fairview was retired one, two, three in the second.

In the Senator's half of the second, Gillett hit a two-bagger to left field, Gibbons was safe at first on a hit through first, and both scored on Culley's hit to centre field.

Fairview again took the lead in the first of the third, Ringrose hit safely and went to second on Jeff's hit. Notman filed out to Realya. Fawcett reached first on McLellan's error, but Ringrose was thrown out at home. Ioanin hit to centre field to score Jeffs and Notman.

Stein tied up the game with a home run over left field fence in the last of the third.

In the next three innings, both teams were practically retired in succession, only one Senator reaching first, and no Fairview batsman.

In the first of the seventh Renwick filed out to Realya, Haines walked, Realya took Ringrose's fly for the second out. Waterer hit through third advancing Haines to second. Gillett took Jeff's grounder along first base line to throw the runner out at first.

In the Senator's half of the seventh, Realya hit safely along third base line. Ball walked with two on bases, Stein slammed the ball to left field for a two-bagger to score Realya for the winning run of the game.

Gillett struck out two, walked two and allowed five hits. Chapman struck out nine, walked two and allowed seven hits. Alex Ringrose filled in at backstop for the Fairview team and made a good showing.

ENGLAND MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP

EASTBOURNE, England, June 20.—(CP)—England today completed a clean sweep against Czechoslovakia in their Davis cup series, Fred Perry defeating L. Hecht, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, and Henry W. (Bunny) Austin winning from Roderich Menzel 3-6, 9-7, 6-0, 6-1, in the final singles matches.

SOMERVILLE SHOOTS SUB-PAR GOLF FOR MOST DECISIVE WIN

SIMMONS HAS REAL HITTING BAROMETER

By AL DEMAREE

"Lefty" O'Doul's glove plays a big part in his hitting rampages or slumps at bat. He uses it as a means of telling his fortune the next time at bat. When an inning is over, Lefty hails his glove to a nearby spot in the outfield and jogs to the bench. When he returns to the outfield he gives his glove a careful reading. If the fingers are pointing to right or right-centre field, he dances with glee, for it means a sure hit next time up. If the fingers are pointing toward the infield, it means just another time at bat. If they point to left field the chances of a hit are doubtful but not impossible.

Al. Simmons has a first-time-at-bat complex. His success on his initial appearance at the plate is usually a hitting barometer. If he gets a base hit the first time up, they usually have to call the fire department to put him out the rest of the day. But it's just too bad for Al if he strikes out his first trip up.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

June 21, 1928—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion won a questionable decision from Ace Hudkins at Comisky Ball park in Chicago. Walker had won the title in just the same way from Tiger Flowers previously.

PORTHILL NINE VICTOR AGAIN

CRESTON, B. C., June 20.—Porthill continues to lead the Kootenay Valley international baseball league, winning its fifth consecutive victory on Sunday afternoon when they trimmed Erickson 14-4, at the Huscroft recreation grounds, where Porthill is playing its home games while its home diamond is under water.

Creston Athletics retained second place by taking the measure of Wynndel 24-7, behind the steady pitching of Herb Couling, while the losers' infield, particularly, gave L. Benedetti wretched support.

The game was played at Exhibition park, and was followed by the struggle between Creston intermediates and Eastport, in which the boundary town nine nosed out a 12-6 win. The attendance at the double-header was rather slim. Erickson and the intermediates have a mid-week engagement at the local park, and on Sunday the pick of these two teams and the best of the Athletics will invade Kimberley for a game in return for the one Kimberley played here on May 24th.

SUPERIORS WIN SOCCER AT TRAIL

TRAIL, B.C., June 20 — In a Junior league football game at Butler park Monday night, the Superiors defeated the Rangers 2-0. In the first half Balfour, who turned out for football for the first time, scored a goal with a long shot. At the beginning of the second half Sommens scored on a penalty. The boys on both teams worked hard for the remainder of the game, but were unable to alter the score and many saves were effected by both goalies.

AMERICA VISITED IN 1462

Dr. Jaime Cortesao, Portuguese historian, lecturing in Seville, Spain, declared that he has found historical records proving that Pedro Vasquez de la Frontera of Palos, visited America in 1462, 10 years before Columbus made his first voyage.

Critchley and Nash Other Canadians in; Few Upsets at Holylake

HOYLAKE, England, June 20.—(CP Cable)—The weeding out process began in earnest as the big field battled the elements in the British amateur golf championship today.

When the day's struggles in rain, thunder and lightning had been completed over the sodden Hoylake links, the Canadian contention had been whittled from seven to three, the United States from six to four. But there were few upsets as the second round was completed and a start made on the third.

MOST DECISIVE WIN

Despite the miserable weather conditions, C. Ross Sommerville of London, Ont., the U. S. amateur title holder, shot sub-par golf for the most decisive victory of the day. Cyril Tolley and Roger Wethered, crack British amateurs, passed their tests and Jock McLean the Scottish champion, also progressed along with George Dunlap of the United States.

Along with "Silent Sandy," Canada still has Jack Nash, Sommerville's clubmate and Brig.-General A. C. Critchley, native of Calgary and French amateur champion, in the fray. Sommerville cake-walked into the fourth round with an eight and seven triumph over H. W. Sharpe of Dunbar, taking 42 strokes for the 11 holes played.

Brig.-General Critchley won his second round match over Rex Crummack of the royal and ancient four and three. Nash, who won two matches, did not play today but tomorrow he has a tough hurdle in the person of Lionel Munn, Irish veteran, who got as far as the semi-finals a year ago and more than once has won the Irish closed title.

TWO CANADIANS ELIMINATED

Two more Canadians and one more United States player joined the defending title holder, John de Forest, among the spectators today and William Sutton, prominent English amateur also went to the gallery after losing to the little-known J. W. Jones at the 19th hole.

Wethered eliminated R. J. MacCormack, Irish star, by one up and T. A. Torrance, last year's British Walker cup captain, had to go to the limit to get the decision over J. S. Powell. Tolley finished finely to defeat R. H. Oppenheimer four and three.

The four Canadians thrust out of the tourney by first match defeats are J. M. Burns of Welland, beaten five and four by F. McGleoin of Kent today; Paul Sampson of Gananoque, Ont., defeated four and three by T. W. Manners of Colwyn Bay and Don Anderson of St. Thomas, who lost by three and two to Lewis Ybarri of Spain. W. G. Wigle of Hamilton was beaten yesterday.

ACES WIN THEIR SEVENTH VICTORY

Aces won their seventh straight game of the local women's softball loop by defeating the Red Sox 43-7 to set up a record for women's softball in Nelson, if not for men too. The Red Sox could never get going in the style that has featured their previous games, and found the offerings of Arla Saare on the mound for the Aces to much for them.

Aces scored in every inning, crossing the plate five times in the first, three times in the second, eight times in the third, five times in the fourth, once in the fifth, seven times in the sixth, once in eighth and twelve times in the ninth.

Arla Saare was the high scorer for the winners with seven runs, Clara Talberg scored six, Maybelle Stephenson, Gladness Horstead, Lillian Wardell, Berna Kline, added five runs each to the winners' score. Jean Bell scored four times and Elvera Matheson and Eva Smith three runs each.

Rosa Stewart scored two runs for the Red Sox, Agnes Stewart, Naida Perrier, Junie King, Kay McDougall and Lena LePage scored one run each.

Berna Kline and Lillian Wardell slammed out two home runs each. Elvera Matheson hit one homer.

YAHK DUMB DORAS DRAW MATCH

YAHK, B.C., June 20—On Sunday afternoon the Dumb Dora softball team journeyed to Kitchener to play a return game with the local Pine Kats. The game was very even all the way through, batteries on both teams playing a good game. At the end of the ninth inning the Kitchener girls were one run ahead, giving them the game with a score of 20-19. H. Steves of Yahk umpired the game.

After the game the Yahk team formed a picnic just out of Kitchener. After lunch they were invited by a number of picnickers from Creston and district to play a few innings of softball. But owing to lateness the game was not finished.

ATHLETIC BODY IS REORGANIZED

Creston Valley Schools Plan Bigger and Better Track Meet

CRESTON, B. C., June 20.—There was a large and enthusiastic turnout of teachers and trustees from the different schools in Creston valley for the meeting at which the Creston Valley Schools Athletic Association was fully organized and officers elected.

Chairman James Cook, of Creston trustee board, was temporary chairman, and principal Marriott, of Creston public school, acted as secretary. There was an open discussion on ways and means of making the annual track meet still better, particularly in the direction of securing whole hearted support from the three of four schools that were not represented at the 1933 meet. The financial statement in connection with this year's field day showed a surplus of about $20, most of all of which will be required for paying the cost of engraving the several cups and trophies. Cash contributions to this year's meet were received from the boards at Erickson, Huscroft, Wynndel and Creston. Officers chosen for 1933-34 are:

President, F. Levirs; vice-president, J. B. Holder, Erickson; secretary-treasurer, E. Marriott; executive, J. G. Abbott, Wynndel; L. W. Stephens, Canyon; W. H. Kolthammer, Arrow Creek; D. Tully, Erickson; Miss Jessie White, Kitchener; J. J. Freney, Alice Siding.

Date of annual meeting was set for two weeks after the track meet. The semi-annual meeting will be held the last Saturday in January, and there will be a meeting of the executive in September, 1933. The aims and objects of the association will be placed before the various school districts at the annual ratepayers' meetings next month so that any grants may be included in the coming year's estimates.

Representatives to attend and meetings of the new association were selected as follows: Canadian Legion, J. B. Holder; Knights of Pythias, W. J. Craig; Kitchener, principal Miss Jessie White; Wynndel, Mrs. McGregor and trustee Abbott; Canyon, principal L. W. Stephens and trustee A. Bond; Arrow Creek, principal Kolthammer; Erickson, principal D. Tully and trustee E. E. Cartwright; Alice Siding, principal J. J. Freney; Huscroft, trustee Charles Huscroft; Creston, trustee James Cook, High school principal F. Levirs and Public school principal E. Marriott.

COOPER TIES WITH ARMOUR

CHICAGO, June 20 (CP).—Shooting a sub-par 70 while Tommy Armour skipped to a 75, Harry Cooper of Chicago, today tied the Scot for first honors in the Illinois professional golfers' tournament at Medinah Country club.

Armour's 75, with his one-under-par 71 yesterday, gave him a 36-hole total of 146. Cooper, the present Canadian open champion, needed a 76 yesterday, but blasted in today two strokes under even figures. They will play off for the title and a $250 prize Sunday.

Yahk Married Men Defeat Glenlily

YAHK, B.C., June 20—The married men's softball team journeyed to Glenlily Sunday afternoon to defeat the Glenlily nine by a score of 25-11. While this team won, the Yahk Bachelors defeated the team organized at Government camp here in town. Sandy McInnis umpired.

In the evening the school boys' team met the married men on the local diamond and defeated their opponents by a score of 25-8. Mac Brogan umpired and L. Lythgol was base umpire.

CRANBROOK FAILS LIFT TENNIS CUP

CRANBROOK, B. C., June 20.—A number of Cranbrook tennis players motored to Coleman on Sunday for a series of games with the Coleman club in an attempt to bring back the Crowsnest trophy held by the Coleman club since the games last year. Good games were enjoyed throughout the afternoon the Cranbrook players winning and losing evenly. The players of the pass failed to get the one set necessary to bring home the trophy. Those playing for Cranbrook were Dr. and Mrs. Fergie, Miss Helen Wright, Miss Elsie Wilby, Miss Marion Beale, Dr. Geddes, O. Gill, K. Dixon and B. Diffin.

Cranbrook Ladies Win Bake Contest

CRANBROOK, B. C., June 20.—In the baking competition held at the end of the week the winners in the biscuit competition were Mrs. H. Mott and Mrs. F. Woolley, in the pie competition Mrs. Mott and Mrs. D. Turner and in the chocolate cake competition Mrs. Alex Steele and Miss Ivy Dezall.

Deane Transports Auto Accross Lake

AINSWORTH, B. C., June 20.—Owing to the washouts on the highway there was not the usual crowd at the hot springs over the week-end although several carloads of visitors came and enjoyed a swim in the pool.

Sam Couch and J. Atkinson of Nelson were at the hot springs on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hobbs rowed over to Deanshaven on Sunday to spend the day as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. J. B. Fletcher was a visitor to Kaslo on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Mawer, A. Kraft and Walter Kitto of Nelson were visitors to the hot springs on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Whippingstall and baby Joan of Longbeach were in town on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Sherraden, Miss E. Truscott and A. Norberg made a trip to Kaslo on Tuesday evening. Mr. Norberg, who had a badly cut hand went to get medical attention.

Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Barclay motored down from Kaslo on Friday morning. Dr. Barclay crossed the lake to Riondel and examined the children at the school there. He examined the children at the Ainsworth school in the afternoon. Dr. and Mrs. Barclay were lunch guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hobbs and Mrs. Henry. They had tea in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fletcher.

R. T. Deane and his family were in town on Saturday. They brought over a raft and took over to Deanshaven their automobile which they had been storing at Ainsworth and which they will soon be able to use on the road they are busy finishing. This road will connect Riondel and Deanshaven with Kootenay Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Vassar and Mr. and Mrs. Rogotte were hosts at a very enjoyable small dance on Saturday night at the Silver Lodge inn. Music was supplied by Mrs. J. B. Fletcher, piano; C. E. Harmon, violin, J. Cossetto, guitar, Felix Delprota, accordian. Radio music was also enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Miss Marjory Brown, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCallum and Miss Eileen Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fletcher, have received word that they have successfully passed the recent pianoforte examinations which they sat for in Kaslo.

Mrs. J. J. Skillicorn and Miss Kathleent Streit of Kaslo were in town on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Grahame Brown accompanied by Mrs. Brown's mither and Mrs. Coleman, all of Deanhaven were in town on Friday.

MOIR FALLS FROM TRUCK

Kaslo Board Has Railway Protest

Ask Assurance Kaslo-Slocan Line Will Operate

KASLO, B. C., June 20.—Members of the Kaslo board of trade held a special session Thursday evening, in the city hall, president S. H. Green being in the chair. The meeting was called to discuss the local transportation facilities, the matter of train service between Kaslo and Nakusp being the main topic. It was pointed out that the C. P. R. had been given a substantial bonus, when it took over the old K. and S. railroad, with the understanding that the road should be altered from narrow gauge to standard and that it should be kept in continuous operation, and that as this had not been done, as far as continuous operation was concerned, it was up to the board of trade to make a formal protest. After some discussion it was decided that letters should be written to the powers that be, with the view of obtaining the assurance that the train would again be put in operation thus relieving the anxiety of those living at Retallack and other points along the line which are left for months without any mode of transportation to get in supplies or to get in or out in case of illness.

Cranbrook Folk See the Indian Parade at Mission

CRANBROOK, B. C., June 20.—Many Cranbrook citizens were in attendance at the Corpus Christi celebrations held at the Indian mission on Sunday. After the conducting of the church service and the usual parade the visitors were entertained by an exhibition of broncho busting and other rodeo events.

H. V. Collier returned on Tuesday from a visit of a few days in Lethbridge.

Mrs. Gilroy won the nine hole handicap medal competition at the Cranbrook Golf club on Saturday. Dick Large was winner of the men's 18 hole handicap medal competition. Tea was served in the clubhouse by Mrs. MacKinnon, Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Cameron.

Miss Norma Wallenger of Calgary is visiting in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Peckenpaugh.

Mrs. Fergie was tea hostess at the tennis club Saturday afternoon.

H. A. McKowan and Misses Aubrey and Ruth McKowan were Creston visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. S. McCleary has returned from a visit of a few days in Calgary.

VENEER PLANT'S CONVEYOR BELTS UNDER HIGH WATERS

Work Suspended; Match Block Factory Still Able to Work

Owing to the conveyor belts coming in contact with the water of the West Arm which has risen well under its foundations, the plant of the B.C. Veneer Works, Ltd., has suspended cutting and peeling operations. Glueing, etc., is being carried on as usual, as the water is still some four feet from the main floor of the plant.

While operations have not been suspended at the plant of the W. W. Powell company, match block manufacturers, it is believed the conveyor belts are close to the rising water. The boiler house of this firm, which has not been in use for some time, is flooded out.

The city incinerator is well above the present water mark, but the level is fast approaching the top of the dump.

Sawdust piles around the old Nelson sawmill at the foot of Ward street are being broken up by high water. The western end of the Nelson city wharf is floating and is torn away from its foundations. The eastern side is not floating. Water is surrounding the three sides of the T. H. Waters woodworking plant and the old sawdust piles of the former lumber mill in that vicinity are under several feet of water.

At the veneer plant the water has completely surrounded the building. Local shipments of veneer carried by truck are transferred by boat from the building to the shore. A boat is used to reach the office building. Logs, culls, wood, etc., around the building are floating and held in place by booms.

Out Fairview way, shacks along the lakeshore are still dry, but several are close to the water level and are being weighted down by huge rocks.

Water continues to creep up over the grass in Lakeside park.

At the C.P.R. shipyards in Fairview, men working on the steamer Moyie, which is on the yard ways, are forced to use rafts to get about under the boat. The water in most cases has reached the top of the ways and the carpenter shop on the eastern side has water around it. The water must come up two or three feet before it would enter the carpenter shop.

Seepage in the vicinity of the Veneer Works can be seen on the city side of the railway tracks.

On the C.P.R. flats most of the transients who had homes there, have been flooded out, only those who had foresight enough to put their homes on logs being residents there. The Chinese garden in that vicinity is completely under water.

The west arm is within a foot or so of the huge fence of the W. W. Powell company which is used to keep sawdust out of the main stream. Shipyard and government boats and barges tied up in Fairview are moored closer to the C.P.R. tracks than for years.

Heavy accumulation of drift wood is making its way down the arm, and many thrifty Nelsonites can be seen at all hours "booking onto" good pieces and towing them ashore to be beached for cutting into firewood.

SLOCAN PARK, B. C., June 20—C. Dickey of Appledale was a business visitor last week.

Lloyd Cursons, who has been visiting at Nakusp and other lake points, returned home by cycle on Sunday.

G. N. ASKED TO REPAIR FENCES ON LINE TO NELSON

ROSSLAND, June 20.—The board of railway commissioners have issued a formal notice to the Great Northern railway to repair its fences along the track between the International boundary at Waneta and Nelson. Fence posts have rotted and fences fallen, so that cattle and horses sustained injuries in entanglements with barbed wire. W. K. Ealing, M.P., presented the case to the board during the last session and the company has been notified to make immediate repairs.

MAKE ROAD FILLS

Building up of the Nelson-Balfour road at a couple of low points in the vicinity of Willow Point—by J. F. Thompson's and by T. Airey's—engaged crews of the public works department Tuesday.

Near Thompson's the water has overflowed quite an area, and the road has been built for quite a distance by a gravel fill, on which work is still continuing.

At Airey's, where the distance is shorter, there is a convenient bank just above the water level, and on that a temporary roadway is being graded.

In looking over the work done on the Nelson-Balfour road last week when the creeks were on the rampage, District Engineer Ramsay took particular satisfaction Tuesday in the fact that Kokanee bridge, which cost $7000, was saved.

BRIDGE WORK

While the channel of the raging creek shifted to the west, and cut out 40 feet of approach, while an overflow above detoured to the east to form a new creek a couple of hundred feet beyond the bridge, the west end of the structure was anchored by cable, and protected by a barrier of great rocks hauled by caterpillar. Later both this gap and the overflow to the east were temporarily bridged.

Kokanee bridge, which is the largest on the Nelson-Balfour highway, has a 90-foot Howe truss span, span.

In the case of Six-Mile creek, an overflow to the east made a third channel, probably 30 feet wide, which had to be bridged. Six-Mile now reaches the lake by three channels.

STEEL BOW IS BEING FINISHED

Steel Workers Busy on the C. P. R. Steamer Moyie

Work is continuing on the C.P.R. steamer Moyie, at present high and dry on the ways at the Fairview shipyard. Carpenters have about completed work on the composite hull of the vessel and new planking and keel work have been done. Paint is being added at present.

At the bow of the steamer steel workers are at present busy rivetting on steel plates. The bow of the boat was found to be considerably damaged when the recent inspection was made.

Decking and other carpenter work is being rushed ahead so that the boat can be put back into the water as soon as possible.

The hull of the steamer is what is known as composite construction, having steel ribs and upper works with plank bottom.

Kaslo Bride-elect Honored at Shower

KASLO, B.C., June 20—Friday evening, while quietly engaged in a friendly foursome of contract, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Giegerich, Miss Frances Latham a bride-elect of the month, was taken completely by surprise when nearly 40 of her friends arrived at the Giegerich home, headed by P. M. Elder and B. F. Palmer carrying a large basket decorated in pink and white and filled to over-flowing with daintily wrapped parcels which was presented to the guest of honor. Upon unwrapping the parcels Miss Latham found a very varied and generous supply of kitchen utensils, the shower having been successfully arranged by a number of her girl friends. The spacious rooms of the Giegerich home were the scene of much merriment while the gifts were being undone and ready for inspection.

In the dining room the table was very lovely with a white cluny lace cloth and pink and white decorations, it was centered with a vase of columbine and at the four corners were pink tapers, the refreshments were very dainty and the whole presented a very pleasing sight. Mrs. J. H. Stubbs presided at the coffee urn while the many guests were served by Miss Elaine Calvert, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Marjorie Speirs, Miss Hilda Chester and Miss Giegerich. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. George Abey, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Eight Words Are All Lindbergh Needed To Record His Flight Across Atlantic

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh tells his own laconic story of his various flights in his hand-written log which was made public here May 21, as it was placed in the Jefferson Memorial building with the other trophies of his flights.

The feat of crossing the Atlantic, about which millions of words were written, is told in a brief two lines in the log as follows:

"May 20, 1927, and May 21, 1927. "New York to Paris, 33 hours, 30 min."

However, in a notebook, also made public, in which he tells of preparations for the various flights, Colonel Lindbergh had written the following notes to jog his memory when he reached Paris:

"Arrange for care of plane. Arrange for guard. Cables. Arrange for clothes. Arrange for quarters." Then as an afterthought, "post cards—U. S."

In the log also are written meagre facts of Colonel Lindbergh's four parachute jumps which gained him membership in the Caterpillar club, to which only those who have saved their life by parachute jumps are eligible.

"March 6, 1925," the log reads, "free drop after collision. One flight 30 mins. (ending in a crash at about 4500 feet and chute drop. Complete washout)."

Ten days later, "chute drop with Cadet Love, 280 ft."

While piloting the air mail between St. Louis and Chicago, "Sept. 16, St. Louis to Chicago, via route and to 10 miles north of Ottawa—4 hrs. 10 min.—where chute drop became necessary due to fog and no more gasoline.

"Nov. 3 struck low visibility and snow over Pekin, Ill. Flare failed to function. Jumped from 13,000 feet near Covell, Ill. Plane washed out."

VINES AND HELEN LEAD AMERICANS

LONDON, June 20 (AP).—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Ellsworth Vines Jr. today led a parade of Americans through the first and second rounds of the London tennis championships at the Queens club, played as a tune-up for the more serious competition at Wimbledon starting next week. It was the first appearance of the two American aces in singles abroad.

Advancing with Mrs. Moody and Vines, who will defend their singles title on the Wimbledon course, were Cliff Sutter, third ranking United States player, Keith Gledhill, co-holder with Vines of the United States doubles title, Lester Stoeffen, Clyton Lee Burwell, Oxford student, Virginia Rice and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke, who won the event last year.

Mrs. Moody drew a first round bye and defeated Yvonne Hubback 6-0, 6-1 in the second. Vines' first opponent defaulted and he defeated L. de Borman 6-3, 6-2 in the second.

COLUMBIA RIVER HIGHWAY PRETTY DRIVE AT PRESENT

That the drive along the Columbia river highway in the States is the prettiest ever at the present time was the statement of A. J. Dill, who returned Monday night from a motor trip to Portland.

The Columbia river is in flood stage and is beautiful at the present time. Water is over the highway in several places but motorists were not forced to detour. Falls and rapids are particularly pretty. Some trouble was being experienced through high water at Kelso when he passed through, stated Mr. Dill.

TURKEYS LIKE ELBOW ROOM

Domestic turkeys partake largely of the habits of their wild ancestors, and if they are given as much opportunity as possible to gratify their wild instincts, such as ranging over unlimited areas in search of food and roosting in whatever sheltered tree or nook they may select, there will be a minimum mortality. Kept under these conditions, it will be found that the poults will be very little more difficult to rear than chickens.—Dominion Poultry Husbandman.

TORTURES IN SOVIET PRISON

Ogpu Methods Related by Escaped Professor

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LONDON TIMES

Sir,—In the Izvestia of March 24, 1933, the Chief Prosecutor of U. S. S. R., Vyshinsky, said, apropos the arrest in Moscow of the Englishmen employed by the Metropolitan-Vickers Company, that in U. S. S. R. the accused are not put to torture during the inquiry.

I was in the G. P. U. prison in Petersburg in 1930-1931, accused of being a "wrecker." I affirm that the G. P. U. inquiry consisted solely in trying to obtain from the prisoners by means of moral and physical torture a confession of crimes they had not committed.

In a cell measuring 75 square yards more than a hundred of the accused were kept. The cell was infested with bugs and lice. Food was insufficient, and the diet was such that almost all the prisoners were ill with scurvy. They were kept in these conditions from six months to two or more years awaiting their sentence.

The investigating officer wanted me to sign a statement that "I plead guilty to being a wrecker." As I refused to do so, I was threatened, by way of "bringing pressure to bear" upon me: (1) That I would be shot; (2) that my wife would be arrested, and my son, a boy of 12, would be sent to an institution for vagrant children; (3) that my wife would be kept in prison during the whole of the inquiry into my case; (4) that my wife would be sent to penal servitude; (5) that unless I signed the statement within three days I should be shot on the fourth day; (6) finally I was taken in the night as though to be shot.

In spite of this I did not sign the false statement. Then they did not cross-examine me any more, and sent me without a trial to five years' penal servitude at the Solovetsky Concentration Camp, from where I escaped in August, 1932.

Prisoners who were in the same cell with me had the following measures applied to them in order to wring "confessions" from them:—(1) "Standing"—the prisoner was made to stand without food or drink or sleep for as long as six days and nights; (2) "the cold punishment cell", where the windows were kept open in winter and the prisoner was undressed; (3) "the wet punishment cell," where the floor was covered with water to the depth of 6in. to 10in., where there were no sanitary arrangements whatever and no bed—only a narrow bench to sit on; (4) the "crowded cell"—as many as 300 people, men and women, were so crowded together that they had to stand closely pressed against one another; the room was kept very hot and they were forbidden to sit or lie down. Few could endure more than six days of this; (5) "conveyer"—the accused were made to run, 40 people at a time, in procession from storey to storey, from room to room, until they signed what was required of them or fell down senseless. Cases of death, suicide, and madness among prisoners awaiting trial are very frequent.

These tortures were inflicted in Leningrad prisons chiefly upon educated people, including many well-known scholars and scientists. All the convicts whom I met at the Solovetsky Camp told me that the same methods were used by the G. P. U. in other parts of U. S. S. R. as well.

I am prepared to supply all the details on the subject that are known to me.

Yours faithfully,
V. TCHERNAVIN.

Professor Vladimir Vyacheslavovitch Tchernavin, who was born in 1887, was from 1918 to 1923 senior assistant to the Professors of Biology and Zoology in the Petrograd Agronomical institute, and from 1921 to 1923 was Professor of Ichthyology there. He took part in many scientific expeditions, and after 1923 devoted himself entirely to research work. From 1926 to 1930 he was in charge of the biological and technological laboratories of the Northern Fisheries Trust at Murmansk. He was arrested in October, 1930; but in August, 1932, he escaped to Finland, together with his wife and son, who came to visit him at the Solovetsky Concentration Camp.

RISE IN LAKE STEADY, NELSON

Although considerably less, a steady rise in the level of the West Arm was recorded at Nelson Tuesday. During a 24-hour period from noon to noon, the rise was two and three-eighths inches.

At 9 p.m. the level stood at 18.73 feet above zero, at noon 18.8 feet above and at 5 p.m. 18.82 feet above. Last year the reading for the corresponding date was 16.2 feet above low water.

By an official proclamation the Prussian police have been encouraged to shoot Communists engaged in acts of violence, but are warned to cooperate with the Nazi storm troops and the Stahlheim of the Nationalist parties in action.

MANY JOBLESS WOMEN GO INSANE

In New York city it has been found that about 18 per cent of the 30,000 women applying for aid at the Central Relief bureau for the registration of the homeless are suffering from mental disorders due to unemployment.

THE WATSONGRAPH RADIO TYPEWRITER

The Watsongraph radio typewriter, successfully tested out in New York, enables the operator to be in one place and his typewriter several miles away. The system is expected to provide absolute secrecy and to be of great use in the navy, in large manufacturing plants, in news gathering, in forestry, in train despatching, and in police work.

Sub-inspector Kearns left by Tuesday's train, to act in the matter, the late game official having been a single man. He is thought to have been in his 50s.

SOCCER TEAMS PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight Nelson's junior and senior soccer representatives will turn out to play a practice game in preparation for their games with Trail. Nelson seniors will be out to get all the limbering up possible as they will have to win the next game with Trail here July 2, if they are to stay in the running for the West Kootenay title.

At the first of the season the two cities agreed to play two home games with total goals to count, but at Trail last Sunday, Trail players offered a new plan. If Nelson is able to win their next game, and Manager A. Wallach believes they will, the two teams will play an extra half hour to decide the issue.

The juniors are shaping up well and their first game will possibly be here during the Trail picnic.
