BRITISH CABINET MEMBERS AGREE ASK ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY

PHYLLIS HARRIS DROWNS NEAR WILLOW POINT

Slips From Log Into Deep Spot; Unable to Swim

WITNESSES DO NOT REALIZE DANGER

Boy Scout Tries Vainly to Revive Her; Nelson Born

Tragedy was enacted in front of a Willow Point summer home Wednesday afternoon, when residents sitting on the front porch saw 8-year-old Phyllis Patricia Harris drown just out from the north shore of the West Arm.

The tot had been paddling on a log only a few feet out, and when she slipped off, witnesses, thinking that she was safe in shallow water, gave little heed. Gerry Fitzsimmons, who was sitting on the porch of the W. J. Mohr residence, was first to realize that the girl was struggling for her life and ran out to her. The house is some distance from the water, and by the time he reached her she was floating face down in the water.

EFFORT VAIN

Having gained knowledge of artificial respiration through Boy Scout work, he brought her to the beach and worked on her for a time and was later relieved by John Applewhaite. Dr. P. M. Auld, who was summoned with Provincial Constable J. Lawrence Smith, pronounced her dead when he arrived.

She was born in Nelson and was the daughter of the late Roy Harris and Mrs. Harris, now of Trail, and was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. W. Spooner. Mr. Harris was formerly of the B.C. Telephone company at Nelson and was at one time in charge of the Cranbrook office.

An inquiry was conducted by Coroner Dr. H. H. MacKenzie.

PLANE LOST IN THE NORTH

DAWSON, Y.T., Aug. 21 (CP)—Five airplanes were combing the air route between here and Fairbanks, Alaska, today for a service air lines plane piloted by Arthur F. Hines of Fairbanks, unreported since it left here Monday morning with three passengers, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lonz and Alton Nordale.

Hines took the plane into the air here at 10.30 a.m. Monday but failed to arrive at Fairbanks and it is believed he may have been forced down somewhere in the Tanana valley. It was last seen flying high over Chicken Creek, Alaska.

The search planes, three equipped with wheels and the other two pontoons, left this morning. They were piloted by J. E. Lynn, M. W. Sassoon, Perry Hubbard, Jerry Jones and Vernon Bookwalter.

Van Paassen Talks With Mussolini About the War

Il Duce Tells Newspaperman That Affair Will Be "Mere Play"

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN
Central Press Canadian Writer

ROME Aug. 21 — Through the curtainless high windows of his sculptured work-room Mussolini looks down upon the monuments of ancient Rome ranged along the new Imperial highway, his own creation. Caesar, Titus and Augustus and the conquerors of Germania, Britannia and the Orient stand there in constant, silent reminder to the new "master of the world's game," that from this spot the Eternal City poured its vitality into the four corners of the earth and civilized the world. From these marble statues outside, to the immense hall where Mussolini works from morn till night, goes a mute, mystic thread of communion through an atmosphere of undeniable grandeur. From the Forum Romanum beyond, once the hub of the universe, radiates the silent force from which the Duce draws his inspiration, his dreams of a world-empire. Colossal is the man's ambition. His ideal is the Pax Romana, the Roman Peace, which with an unchallengeable superiority of arms held the world in suspense four centuries long.

Mussolini speaks few words in private these days. He reserves his strength to fan the flame of war in the hearts of the youth leaving for the unknown adventure in the scorching deserts of Africa. For

FUNERAL OF WILL ROGERS TODAY

Auditorium May Be Built as a Memorial

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21 (AP)—To an empty home, emptier than words could express, came the family of Will Rogers late today.

They gathered in the rambling ranch house at Santa Monica canyon. On the low porch, looking out toward the hills, was Rogers' father's rocking chair. Inside, all the little intimate things were just as he left them a few weeks ago.

No sign of the pain of his lonely home-coming showed on the faces of the mother and her children as they entered the house.

Meanwhile, in a simple bronze casket at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, in Forest Lawn Memorial park, Glendale, the body of their beloved lay, awaiting a last tribute tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the privacy of today will be surrendered to permit the folk who loved Will Rogers, and who were loved by him in return, to file by his casket placed under pine and olive shade trees on a broad expanse of lawn near the entrance of the cemetery.

The memorial that his friends are planning for the man who held a unique place in the nation's life will be useful, said the committee of 13 in charge. Fred Stone, Billie Burke, and Mary Pickford are among those shaping the tribute, which will be an auditorium or some other public edifice.

PAYS PENALTY

EDMONTON, Aug. 21 (CP)—William Hawryliuk, 43, died on the scaffold this morning for the murder of his wife last winter. He was cut down 10 minutes after Hangman Arthur Ellis sprang the trap.

The condemned man had refused a meal and stimulants and walked to the gallows unassisted.

Hawryliuk was found guilty last June of having poured kerosene over his wife and set fire to her. She escaped momentarily and dashed out into the snow, rolling in it to put out the flames. He beat her with an iron bar, then left her to freeze to death.

173 MONKEYS ESCAPE

MASSAPEQUA, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—A chattering horde of 173 monkeys swung merrily through the Long Island woods tonight after their escape from Frank Buck's "jungle" park on Sunrise highway.

Nassau county police donned stout leather gloves and set out to "bring 'em back alive" since the big game trapper was somewhere on the Pacific returning from Singapore.

Despite warnings that the monkeys scratch and bite with wild abandon when cornered, numerous residents of the vicinity joined in the hunt, lured by offers of cash rewards and season passes to the zoo.

The little creatures swarmed to freedom when one of Buck's employees laid a plank across the moat that surrounds their artificially landscaped park, preparatory to cleaning it out.

FINAL RESULTS MAY BE HELD UP

Candidate Must Have Majority to Be Elected

EDMONTON, Aug. 21 (CP). — Campaign speech-making ended tonight, literature was tucked away and the bid of 240 candidates for 63 seats in the next Alberta legislature depended on the support of the electorate on its trail to the polls tomorrow in the eighth provincial election since Alberta became a province in 1905.

With four parties each having sufficient candidates in the field to take control of the legislature, voters in the province were faced with the greatest array of nominees in the history of any western province.

But exactly when the final fate of the candidates would be known

POST'S FUNERAL TODAY

MAYSVILLE, Okla., Aug. 21 — (AP). — Wiley Post's home town paid him homage today, with simplicity and dignity.

The quiet crowd that gathered from the farming countryside was far too large for the tiny church where the famed flier's body lay, and the brief service was conducted in front.

The Maysville service was arranged to comply with the aged parents' wish, so that those who knew him long before he flew to fame might attend. The final rites will be at Oklahoma City tomorrow afternoon at almost the same time services are being held in California for Will Rogers, who died with Post in an Alaskan crash last Thursday.

Words were brief at the church today.

Post's father and mother and brothers and sisters had not come from their farm when the body arrived from Oklahoma City with its escort. They preferred to wait until the others, hundreds of them, had an opportunity to walk past the flag-draped bier.

FOREST FIRES WIPE OUT FIFTH TOWN; OTHERS ARE IN DANGER

Two Large Villages Threatened In Maritimes

HALIFAX, Aug. 21 (CP).—Forest fires which wiped out four small settlements in the maritime provinces were adding a fifth to their toll today and threatening half a dozen others, including two large villages in New Brunswick.

A total of 54 homes had been destroyed besides scores of barns and fishing shacks, thousands of acres of timber and grain crops.

While residents of the New Brunswick villages of Upper Gagetown and Loggieville deserted their homes, flames roared through the Cape Breton fishing settlement of South Head.

Ten cottages, the Anglican church, the schoolhouse and numerous small buildings had been razed and although the belleaguered fisherfolk were makin a brave stand there appeared to be little hope of saving the other 14 houses in the path of the fire, which had advanced along a narrow peninsula after laying waste to the settlement of Wadden Cove.

Women and children of both Wadden Cove and South Head were given shelter in the town Dominion, across the bay, while their men remained in the fire zone with volunteers from nearby communities.

Careless blueberry pickers were believed to have started the conflagration, which destroyed all the possessions of the fisnerfolk except boats. Assistance was sought from the provincial government last night in a message advising Premier Angus MacDonald of their plight.

ONTARIO ENDS FARM LOANS

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP)—Economy screws, tightened by the Ontario cabinet in a special session today, squeezed out the Ontario agricultural development board and started a thrift drive which Premier Hepburn said would affect three major departments, health, northern development and relief.

The agricultural development board, thrown entirely into the discard, was organized by the former Drury government. Provision was made to collect the $49,000,000 invested in farm loans.

Final winding-up of the farm loan business will be made under the direction of James Fraser.

BANDITS STILL FREE

VICTORIA, Aug. 21 (CP)—With a posse of provincial police and citizens close on their trail it appeared today that the two armed bandits who robbed the bank of Toronto at Pioneer mine of more than $1000 yesterday, had successfully evaded pursuit for the time being in the foothills surrounding the mining town.

Provincial police are seeking two suspects in the case. All interior stations have been notified by radio to watch for the gunmen, who bound and gagged the bank manager and a woman customer before the robbery.

BALLOTS TWO FEET LONG AS CALGARY GOES TO THE POLLS

Two Systems of Balloting in Alberta Voting Today; Must Count "First Choices" Then Second Choices, and So on

CALGARY, Aug. 21 (CP)—Alberta's election machinery, facing its biggest test in the history of the province, was ready tonight to swing into action tomorrow.

Two systems of balloting will be in use—in the rural constituencies the single transferable ballot, and in the urban ridings proportional representation.

In the multiple-member urban ridings, a candidate must reach a fixed quota, based on the number of candidates and the total vote. No quota is necessary under the single transferable ballot. If a rural candidate has a clear majority over all others combined on the "first choice" count, he can be elected.

Under the direction of J. M. Miller, city clerk, a recognized national authority on the "P.R." system Calgary's experts were ready for the close of the polls. A staff of 50 will handle the Calgary city votes.

"FIRST CHOICES"

First the ballots will be counted for "first choices" at the individual polls by returning officers; then they will be sent to the central compiling office in the city hall. There a quota will be fixed and first choices checked and counted again. Immediately this is completed a "second choice" count will be made and then necessary counts until all six candidates to represent Calgary in the next legislature are elected.

The first count made at the central office will necessarily be slow, Mr. Miller explained today. There must be a sorting of the ballots and the fixing of the quota. Subsequent counts can be made rapidly.

The "P.R." staff will work through until the final count is made. In the 1930 election this was not completed in Calgary until 4.45 a.m., more than eight hours after the close of the polls.

With a ballot 25 inches long, 20 candidates named on it and a record vote expected, it may be many hours before definite results are known here.

The same system will be followed in Edmonton, the only other multiple-member riding in the province.

In the rural constituencies, a more rapid count will be possible.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Senate passage of a seven-point policy-reversing neutrality program tonight stirred President Roosevelt to the sudden calling of a white house conference to seek an agreement on the legislation.

A division of opinion already was apparent in the house as Mr. Roosevelt privately expressed his views of the sweeping anti-war declarattion, including major reversals in the United States government's traditional policy.

The president summoned to the conference Secretary Hull and As-

RUSSIA FEARS GERMANY PLANS TO SEIZE AUSTRIA AS ITALY WEAKENS

MOSCOW, Aug. 21 (AP)—Belief that war in Ethiopia would lead to complications involving other powers than Italy was expressed tonight in the official press.

No doubt was left by the tone of the inspired articles that the Soviet Union would consider an Italo-Ethiopian war one of conquest and would heartily disapprove.

The angle which created the keenest interest here was that of a possible weakening of Mussolini's position in Europe through a drain of troops and money for an African campaign.

There have been repeated charges in Soviet papers that the Nazis of Germany are preparing to gobble up Austria, accompanied by the opinion that a weakening of Italy in Europe would hasten the operation.

Troops Marching

ROME, Aug. 21 (AP)—Italy's military consciousness grew steadily tonight as the extent to which the energies of the nation are bound up in preparations for an East African war became increasingly clear.

The streets of Rome continually resounded to the measured tread of detachments of troops moving through the capital on their way to embarkation points. Uniformed men were everywhere — streets, sidewalk cafes, restaurants, parks and shops. Military news dominated space in newspapers.

Spain Orders Troops

MADRID, Aug. 21 (CP)—Faced by an impending conflict between Italy and Ethiopia the Spanish government today ordered out troops to protect Spain's interests at various points and to enforce its neutrality.

VICTORIA, Aug. 21 (CP)—People in the polling division of South Kelowna will vote September 5 on whether or not they wish to have beer sold by the glass. The writ for the balloting was issued today and F.J.C. Chaplin named returning officer.

No More Insurance

LONDON, Aug. 21 (CP cable)—There was no record today of any transactions in war-risk insurance at Lloyd's but the Daily Express said Lloyd's brokers were refusing to consider further transactions against the risk of an Italo-Ethiopian war, and the premium would be prohibitive.

Press Tone Softens

ROME, Aug. 21 (CP-Havas)—The tone of the Italian press to Britain, formerly bitter over the latter's intervention in the Ethiopian problem, was somewhat softened today. The authoritative Giornale d'Italia assured its readers that Italy harbored no hostility to Britain and her empire.

Germany Neutral?

BERLIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Germany's attitude toward an Italo-Ethiopian conflict will be one of strict neutrality and disinterest, it was stated tonight in informed circles.

The reich, it was reported reliably, will not send munitions to either nation.

PRIEST FINED IN GERMANY FOR REMARKS DURING A CONFESSION

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—The secrecy of the Catholic confessional was placed into jeopardy in Germany today when a Roman Catholic priest, Father Horoba, was fined 500 marks (about $200) for "abuse of the confessional chair."

The state attorney at Gleiwitz prosecuted the priest for allegedly attempting to dissuade a woman during a confession from sending her son into the Nazi labor service.

She afterward told her husband and he denounced the priest.

Pleading that the confessional is secret, Father Horoba—a war veteran with medals—declared himself a supporter of the present regime, but said he had orders from his bishop to see that the religious training of the young men in the labor service was not neglected.

The state attorney, acting on special instructions from Franz Guertner, minister of justice, said this was a clear case of "political Catholicism."

(High German Catholic clericals are meeting now at Fulda to consider the Nazi drive against "political Catholicism". A dispatch today indicated that a compromise might be sought.)

Every Catholic, the attorney asserted, should be urged to report such "gross abuse of the confessional chair, constituting a perfidous attack on the state."

The court held that "the belief of the Catholic mother in government labor measures must have been rudely shaken" by what Father Horoba told her and the latter "has gone far beyond his duties as a spiritual adviser."

PLUMS MOVE AT CRESTON

CRESTON, B.C.—Fruit shipments from all points in Creston valley are comparatively light just at present and will be on the light side for another week, or until the end of the month at which time it is expected Wealthy apples will commence to roll. Just at present the earlier varieties of plums are to the fore, and the move in tomatoes and cucumbers is steadily increasing. With the lull in outgo the night shift at the C.P.R. express department has been withdrawn, and the depot is now operating on its usual schedule of hours. While no statement has yet been issued it is figured Creston did less business this year in strawberries, but there is a considerable gain in the outgo of raspberries.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Stallwood of Nelson arrived at the end of the week on a visit with the latter's parents, Col. and Mrs. Lister. Mr. Stallwood has since returned but Mrs. Stallwood will stay until the end of the month.

W. Fraser was a Sunday visitor at the C.G.I.T. camp at Lockhart beach, on Kootenay lake, which is in charge of Mrs. Fraser, who has about 15 girls under canvass.

Miss Dorothy Seaver of Spokane is a visitor this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stewart at the ranch east of town.

R. J. Long was a business visitor at Nelson the latter part of the week.

C. B. Twigg, district agriculturist, was at Boswell a few days the past week. He is completing his orchard survey and tree census of the Creston-valley-Boswell district.

Municipalities Asked to Apply for Money, R.R. Crossings Fund

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—With $1,000,000 at its disposal for the elimination of level crossings, the board of railway commissioners is awaiting applications from local authorites for expenditures from the fund, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, chairman of the board, announced today. As a general rule the board will pay 70 per cent of the cost of crossing elimination out of the fund, leaving 30 per cent to be paid by the province, municipality or railway interested.

By provinces, the applications so far approved are: British Columbia, $12,499.00; Saskatchewan, $35,486.00; Ontario, $300,967.32; Quebec, $4,950.00; Nova Scotia, $76,922.66.

No applications have yet been received from the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba, New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island.

"The fund was established for the purpose of affording protection to the travelling public, and also for the purpose of providing employment throughout Canada. There are many railway crossings throughout Canada where a moderate expenditure would greatly improve the safety of travellers upon the highways, and municipalities throughout Canada are invited to make application to the board of railway commissioners as soon as possible in respect of dangerous highway crossings under their control."

MORE ABOUT ALBERTA VOTES

was obscure. More than one count of ballots was expected in most of the 51 single member rural seats and the two six-member urban seats of Edmonton and Calgary. The single transferable vote system of electing representatives is in effect in the rural constituencies and proportional representation will prevail in the urban seats.

SECOND COUNT

Polls in the rural constituencies will close at 6 p.m. M.S.T. and the urban polls will close an hour later, 7 p.m. M.S.T. Immediately the polls close, the first count of the ballots will be started and if the successful candidate cannot then be declared, a count of the second choices will be made.

Most of the rural constituencies have four candidates with some having five names on the list. Under the single transferable vote, a majority must be attained before a candidate can be declared elected. Thus, polling officers explained, the final result may not be known until all but two candidates have been eliminated.

Polling officers would not hazard a guest as to how many counts would be required in the Edmonton and Calgary constituencies under proportional representation. Twenty-seven candidates have been nominated there and 20 in Calgary. The first count result will disclose the quota required to declare a candidate elected but several additional counts may be necessary before the new members of the legislature are decided.

Close observers of the political situation in the province pointed out that the result of first count of ballots in both rural and urban constituencies might not indicate the successful candidate. Second choices given by electors to the low candidate might easily elect the candidate standing second, third or fourth at the end of the first count.

VOTE TO BE HEAVY

With campaigning concluded, party chieftains awaited the result of the polling and indications from all parts of the province indicated the voting would be heavy. Testing the strength of the United Farmers of Alberta, government party for the last 14 years, will be the Liberals, Conservatives, Alberta Social Credit league and other parties.

William Aberhart, leader of the Alberta Social Credit league, will not be a candidate but his party has candidates for all 63 seats. Liberals under W. R. Howson, M.L.A., nominated in 61 seats. Premier Reid's U.F.A. party has nominated in 45 seats and the Conservatives, under D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., have 39 candidates in the field. Mr. Duggan and Mr. Howson are candidates in Edmonton and Premier Reid seeks re-election in a five-cornered fight in Vermilon.

All members of Premier Reid's party, except one, face four or five-cornered fights in their constituencies. Attorney-general J. F. Lymburn is the only U.F.A. candidate nominated in an urban seat and he is among the 27 candidates nominated in Edmonton. Hon. J. J. MacLellan, minister of public works, faces a three-cornered fight tin Taber.

Four-cornered fights are faced by Hon. H. E. Baker, minister of education, in Cypress; Hon. Hugh Allen, minister of municipal affairs, in Grand Prairie; Hon. George Hoadley, minister of trade and industry, in Okotoks-High River, and Hon. F. S. Grisdale, minister of agriculture, in Olds. Hon. J. Russell Love, provincial treasurer, is one of five candidates in Sturgeon.

'OPEN NECKS' FOR OFFICERS

BRUSSELS—New designs for Belgian officers' uniforms—on American and British lines—are provided for by a royal decree. Instead of the high-collared "choker" type, officers will shortly have easier fitting tunics with roll collars. The same modifications will be made in the uniforms of the rank and file.

7-3 SCORE AS NANAIMO TIES TITLE SOCCER

Aldred Goes Down to Defeat in Second Encounter

THIRD GAME IS FRIDAY NIGHT

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (CP).—Exhibiting a sparkling return to form, Nanaimo, sturdy soccer champions of western Canada, humbled Montreal Aldred, eastern titleholders, 7-3, to tie the series in their three-match final for the Dominion Football association challenge trophy. The third game will be played Friday night.

A crowd of 2000 people saw the Pacific coast champions show superiority throughout the match, counting three goals in the first half and added two more in the second.

"Daisy" Waugh, fleet center-forward on the British Columbian squad, supplied the thrills when he scored four of his mates' goals and supplied the pivot-thrust for the majority of Nanaimo's attacking force.

Aldred attacked throughout with more method than result and the score hardly does the easterners' justice for their fine effort. Injuries to Berdell, Larry Fitzpatrick and Fallon, star forwards, also handicapped the Montrealers.

The teams travelled at top speed throughout. Nanaimo opened the scoring early in the first half but the eastern attack was always dangerous. Aldreds were unlucky when several shots rebounded by the cross-bar or were deflected by the brilliant netminding of Pete Inkster.

Nanaimo assumed the offensive early in the first half when Waugh picked up his rebound to flash the ball past Nelson on a brilliant individual. Davie McLean equalized for Aldred minutes later but the westerners rallied strongly. Singles by Gordie Bell and Waugh gave the Pacific coast titlists a 3-1 margin at the halfway period.

Aldred appeared to be rattled on the resumption. Bud Sandland increased the British Columbians' margin and Waugh came through with the hat trick to hoist the score to 5-1 mid-way in the second half.

Charlie Fitzpatrick netted the easterners' second goal on a brilliant play. He took a perfect pass, close-in, from Joe Berdell to whip the ball past Inkster. The effort, however, went for naught. Scotty Stewart added another for the westerners which was partly offset by Abbie Bejshak's drive from the 18-yard line.

Waugh made victory certain with his fourth goal of the match two minutes before the final whistle sounded. Easterners were playing strongly at the close, despite their injured lineup, contributing to one of the best soccer exhibitions seen here this season.

BIG PLANS FOR WYNNDEL FAIR

CRESTON, B.C.—Now the berry season is over and there is a little spare time, attention is being given to the prize list for Wynndel's 1935 fall fair, which is to be held in the community hall at that point Wednesday, September 18, with entries to close August 16 with the secretary, Mrs. R. Andestad.

The list of awards totals about 125, including the school fair, with special attention given needlework, flowers, home cooking. There are 17 classes in the school fair, with two or more competitions for each of the eight grades. Along with the school fair is also a list of school sports, numbering a dozen events, which are to be run off commencing at 4 p.m.

The fair is under the direction of the Women's Institute, who have made a splendid start in bringing the fair back to the high standard set in 1933. Last year the show was confined pretty much to flowers, but this year a live committee took charge of canvassing the business men of Creston, Wynndel and other points and due largely to their efforts an attractive lot of awards has been assembled. To expedite matters the list of awards in the needlework section was issued early in the year and there has been much activity amongst the fancyworkers in preparing for this year's fair.

The flower show should be the best ever, if fine weather continues. This has been a good year for garden culture, with plenty of rain throughout the season. There are 28 classes in the flower section, practically all of which are for cut flowers, and the display should be one of beauty.

In the fruit section the awards have been confined to varieties grown in Wynndel, and the same practical care has been shown in vegetables, a feature of which will be the collection of vegetables and fruit for school children, in judging which age will be taken into consideration. A prize of $5 is arranged for the party making most points.

Exhibitors may enter two exhibits in each class. An exhibitors' fee is charged which includes admission to the fair. At the institute meeting Thursday last arrangements were completed for the serving of refreshments and the operation of the hot dog stand and the old reliable bran tub.

Rossland Man's Brother May Fly Atlantic Ocean

Jack Van Planning to Fly From Liverpool to Quebec

Jack Van, a brother of V. M. (Bob) Van of Rossland, president of William Baker Ltd., is "preening his wings" in England for a Liverpool to Quebec flight.

A description of Jack's proposed flight is given in the following clipping received by The Nelson Daily News:

Jack Van, twenty-year-old son of Major and Mrs. H. R. Van, of 18 St. Denis Avenue, Quebec, who already has over 250 hours of solo flying to his credit, expects to leave England any day now on a Liverpool-Quebec, non-stop, 2500-mile solo flight, the Chronicle-Telegraph learned today.

The young Quebecer, whose flight is being supervised by William Courtney, who supervised the Mollison's flight, is using a Percival Gull plane and expects to cover the 2500 miles in about nineteen hours which would give him a cruising speed of about 135 miles an hour. He will carry in his plane, which is the same kind as was used by a British airman who recenlty flew from England to Africa and back again on the same day, sufficient fuel to carry him 3000 miles.

Mr. Van first took up flying in Quebec about three years ago and later continued his studies in Montreal where he passed his various aviation examinations. He was successful in obtaining his Canadian pilot's licence two years ago and will have been in England continuing his aviation studies, apart from brief visits home two years next month. He spent six months at the Aeronautical College, at Chelsea, and, for the past year and a half, has been stationed at the Broxbourne Airdrome, in Herefordshire where he has been following various aviation courses and, always, carefully preparing for his great flight. Jack Van, who is the youngest member of the Aeronautical Society and other Broxbourne Airdrome, obtained his commission in the Royal Air Force Reserve in June.

"The intrepid local youth, according to the last information received by mail here, was sent to take several days' complete rest at Beltinge, Herne Bay, in Kent, at the end of July and the beginning of August, and was to have spent last week tuning up and testing his machine. And now his takeoff governed by favorable weather conditions and other circumstances, is expected to occur any time.

"Detailed information about Mr. Van's plane or exact route is not available here but it is believed that, generally speaking, he intends to follow the shortest land-to-land route across the ocean.

"Mr. Van, who has planned his trans-Atlantic hop for several years, has made a most careful study of flying and weather conditions over the route he intends to follow and has laid his plans so farefully that, upon his trips to Canada, he would proposely choose some particular freighter which would permit nim to make a more thorough and detailed study of conditions encountered at different periods in going across.

"His plane, which is a specially constructed one, is now in readiness and his flight, it is understood, is being backed by a number of commercial firms having varying interests in the aviation industry. Mr. Van who has flown over most of Canada, has also flown over a considerable part of Europe since he has been abroad.

"If he succeeds in his venture, he will be the first Quebecer, or Canadian for that matter, who will have flown the Atlantic in a westward crossing from Liverpool to Quebec or even from England to this province. Of those who have succeeded on the westward crossing by air most of them have landed in the United States or elsewhere and the few who have landed in this province did not start their flights from England.

"All Quebec, therefore, will eagerly await news of the flight of this young Quebecer who, any day, will hop off on his great and dangerous adventure."

The bosky shades and shady dells of Hall's Grove echoed and reechoed with the music of laughter and song last Thursday when the ladies of the local Community club entertained the members of the Bonners Ferry Readers club to a picnic and open air entertainment.

Shortly after one o'clock a delicious luncheon was served to guests and members numbering 45, and the remarks of acclamation amply rewarded the efforts of Mesdames Hannah, Balf and Prettywood who had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. W. E. Hall, the president of the local club delivered the address of welcome and the assembly joined in singing "For Your Friends Are My Friends."

Mrs. S. E. Gunn assisted by Mrs. M. E. Olson had charge of the program of entertainment and did their work so well that there never was a dull or unoccupied moment. A humorous sketch entitled, "A Serious Operation" was most capably acted and was one of the hits of the days' proceedings. The artistes were Mesdames Prettywood, Balf, Appel, Thomes, Thomson and Hannah.

Mrs. J. B. Gray on behalf of the Bonner's Ferry, thanked the local ladies for the splendid afternoon they had had. and hoped that it would not be long before they were asked to return.

Five car loads of members of the Kimberley Moose lodges arrived in Kingsgate on Saturday afternoon on a lodge outing and as a fraternal visit with Mr. Williams of the Royal hotel. The fact that there is no available hall to hold any function did not deter them from having a splendid time.

Clearing out the big Williams garage, it was not long after dark before the strains of the Moose impromptu orchestra were sending out an invitation to all to come and join the dance. The news spread fast for soon cars from Yahk, Cranbrook and Kimberley were making their appearance and their occupants swelling the crowd of local people who were already sharing the Moose festivities.

Dancing and singing entertained the company until a late or rather early hour. Most of the members of the Kimberley lodge remained in town until Sunday afternoon before proceeding homeward.

THEIR FUN'S INSURED

PARIS—"Rain, rain, go away; come again another day!" This little nursery rhyme has lost its meaning to French holiday makers. For the French Nord railroad has guaranteed to protect trippers to Le Treport and Boulogne-sur-Mer from rain—or pay the cost. One-day seashore excursionists get an automatice insurance with their tickets. If it rains more than three millimeters between the hours of 2.30 and 5.30 p.m., the Nord company will reimburse them the price of the ticket or give them a free pass for another day.

Social News of Rossland

ROSSLAND, Aug. 21.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Terhune, LeRoi Heights, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Monday afternoon, when their daughter Islay became the bride of Daniel McNaughton. The ceremony was performed under an arch of baby breath and pale pink sweet peas in the bay window of the living room, which was flanked with large baskets of pink gladioli. The bride, who entered the room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Mary Rogers, was a dream of loveliness in her floor-length gown of pale pink satin, made Queen Anne style, with white accessories, and long white hale style veil, caught up from her brow with organge blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations and roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Terhune, who wore a floor-length gown of white organdie, blocked in red, and carried a shower bouquet of cream roses, carnations and maiden-hair fern. Rev. The table was centered by the wedding cake, beauitfully decorated with touches of silver, and topped by a tiny silver vase containing carnations and baby breath. MORE ABOUT VAN PAASSEN such is the spell of this man's magic that millions unquestioningly will throw themselves into the jaws of hell at his word of command.

"BLOSSOM-HOUR OF FATE"

He has grown older. But his face is more massive and the lines are yet sharper. By constant athletic practice he has hardened his body to granite. You feel a will of steel. No picture, no graven image of Mussolini conveys an exact idea of the compelling magnetism of the dictator. His very appearance imposes silence and fascinates. That millions consider him an enemy of humankind, that he has climbed to glory over the slain bodies of the noblest citizens of Italy, that he has caused to flow rivers of tears and has turned the face of countless multitudes over the length and breadth of the earth back to the past, back to the principle of brute force and primitive emotions, are flashes of unexpressed thought that flit through the mind as you look upon this self-willed reincarnation of Caesar.

"This is not the moment to talk," said Mussolini, after he had risen and motioned me to the one other chair in that hall-like room. "The time has come to act. . . This is the blossom-hour of fate," His words came in sharp staccato French, because he remembered that that was the language in which we conversed the first time in 1926. He asked me where my travels had led me of late years.

CLAIMS ABYSSINIA MENACE

To Russia, I told him, to Palestine, to America, to Addis Ababa, and then I had to tell him what I had seen in Abyssinia last February, although I had been granted but ten minutes and his automobile was waiting below in the Piazza to speed him homeward to the Alban hills. I told him of the Ethiopian tribesmen, of the army, of the Japanese banks and warehouses, of the horses that fed on human flesh and lastly, of my audience with the emperor and how Haile Selassie had expressed his great desire for peace.

A cloud passed over Mussolini's face when I mentioned the Negus. There was a moment's silence, Outside a crowd was gathering to watch his departure and the shrill voices of boys could be heard calling: "Duce, Duce, Duce, let the cannons talk!" Then he said slowly: "I trust the Negus has counted the cost of peace . . . There is no comparison, of course, in the relative strength of Italy and Abysinnia . . . For me an expedition into Africa would be mere play, a military exercise for my troops. No more . . . The Negus still has time to consider. Still! But I cannot forever have Abyssinia at my back like a loaded pistol. There will be an end to this menace. And the end will be as I desire it!"

"NOTHING WILL HAPPEN"

A journalist cannot argue with the head of a state. He is required to listen and be silent, I looked at the man before me, utterly confident of himself, majestic almost in his determination. Was it real? Was this the twentieth century of enlightenment and progress and not the age of Charlemagne and the barbarian hordes knocking at the walls of the empire? I thought of the mountain ranges of Ethiopia of its warriors who have guarded their country's independence for 2500 years and of the young men of Italy, who are to leave their vineyards and pleasant cities to pour out their blood.

Mussolini was silent for a moment, as if waiting for a question. "But if", I ventured hesitatingly, "if your back is turned and others take advantage of Italy's . . ." I got no further. "I am ready for every eventuality," the Duce interrupted me . . . "Every chance and possibility has been weighed and calculated. . . I will not be taken by surprise . . . Nothing will happen in Europe without Italy having a full say in the matter . . . I have a million men on my frontiers . . . I have eight more millions within immediate call . . . Nothing can happen that will upset me . . . I am ready.'

He rose. The interview was over. I bowed and walked out. I have heard the voice of destiny. I thought to myself, as I walked down the carpeted stairway, out of the back door of the Piazza Venezia. But that destiny does not lead toward the sun!

HECK-ROOM AT PARK POPULAR

ver 5500 Checks to Date Despite the Off Weather

n the last seven days at Lake- park, and that includes a com- te blank on Sunday of the nearly day rain, the check-room at- dants, Misses Avonia Hancock Dorothy Rowe, have handled checks of swimmers and bathers, ny checks representing a num- of individuals, as in the case of milies.

altogether the check-room has en care of 5725 patrons from y 13 to August 21. The cold ather and cold water in early y kept the numbers negligible practically a fortnight, but on y 13 the girls in charge, with tickets used during the day, rted to keep a formal record.

The very next day, a Sunday on ich Nelson experienced a heat ve, produced the season's record date, with 328 checks issued, and next highest number was on following Sunday, July 21, when checks were dealt with. The rd highest day was the Wednes- y just passed, the day of the an- al water gala, 294 checks being itten. Of the six Sundays since ly 13, when the record started, ee have been perfect blanks so as the check-room was con- rned on account of weather. On other three, two of which made high records mentioned, a total 856 checks, or over one-seventh the season's total, was attained.

Many swimmers and bathers do t use the check-rom facilities to y extent, especially when not rrying valuables, and the check- om record is very far from being rceord of all those who go into e water. On any hot day this mmer, the dressing rooms have en full of clothes of swimmers d bathers who fail to avail them- lves of the protection provided r their personal effects.

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 21 — Mike Wolfe gave his team the Bantam Baseball league series title Wednesday afternoon when he hurled a no-hit-no-run game to defeat the Cubs 12-0 after Giants had tied for first place with the Beavers. The Giants played errorless ball to back up their hurler to the full. Only one Cub reached first on balls, but three others arrived there safely after being hit by pitched balls. Besides striking out 10 men in the seven inning game, Wolfe fielded his position well, getting four assists.

Lorne Tognotti at first put out eight men, two unassisted.

Don Michaely, Cub hurler, allowed only two hits from which three runs were collected up to the end of the fourth, but was hit all over the lot in the fifth when Giants collected seven hits, three of which were circuit clouts made by Faust Angerilli, Eddy Gri and Pacifico Buna.

Seven runs were scored in the fifth and another homer by Buna in the sixth for a total of 12. Michaely struck out nine, walked two and allowed 11 hits.

Caught by Leg as Leaps From Window; Man Also Pulled Below

Tug-of-War on Side of Building Causes a Halt in Traffic

SEATTLE (AP)—A tug of war with a man stretched against the outside of an office building between 12th and 11th storey windows stopped afternoon shopping crowds and halted traffic.

The man had tried to leap from the window of a physician's office on the 12th floor, but his brother-in-law caught him by one foot and held on until help arrived.

A dentist on the eleventh floor, seeing the man's hands hanging down, grasped him by the wrists and tried to pull him in a window.

For several minutes the rescuers struggled before the dentist released his hold and the man was drawn to safety.

Dr. Tolbert Dalton, from whose window the man jumped, refused to disclose his name or that of the brother-in-law.

Camp Lister Girls Will Play Nelson

Coming Here in September

In a letter received from Jean Fisher, former Nelson junior high school softball star, and at present one of the star players of the combined Camp Lister-Huscroft ladies softball club, by local softball officials, Miss Fisher states that the Camp Lister-Huscroft team is definitely coming to Nelson for a three-game series in September. Dates suggested are September 14 and 15, but a switch to a week earlier may be made.

As the above named club has scored victories over the strong Creston club, they will no doubt make the Nelson girls step their best if they wish to win the series.

A practice of all players on the rep team that played against Trail as well as any others wishing to try out for a place on the reps, who have a few more games lined up is called for Friday evening at 5 p.m. The practice will also be used to get the team in shape that will represent the Toronto Stars against the strong Rossland team here on Sunday evening at 5 p.m. or immediately following the cricket match with Rossland. It was stated last night that Barbara Kingzett will be able to play against Rossland on Sunday and she will probably start at second base.

Any Nelson team able to go to Trail on Sunday are asked to get in touch with Joe Stern, and the game would have to be played at 12 noon.

SAFEWAYS MEET F.A.C. TONIGHT

Game Must Be Started by 5:50 to Finish Before Dark

The Safeways and Fairview A.C. Men's softball teams will meet at the recreation grounds this evening in the second game of the best two out of three game series for the right to meet the league leading Hume Hotel team for the J. P. Morgan trophy, as darkness spoiled the last game, the teams are requested to be on hand by 5.50 p.m.

The Safeways nine won the last game by a 15-14 score, but the score in no way indicates the play as the winners held a commanding edge on the play until the ninth inning when the Fairview team scored nine runs under conditions when it was impossible to see the ball.

While he Safeways are favorites to make it two straight wins this evening, a number of regular players were missing from the Fairview line-up on Monday, and should the full team turn out Fairview will no doubt make a stronger showing this evening.

Rossland Beats Nelson 10 to 8

Ezart Gets Five in the Boxla Game; Fast Match

ROSSLAND, B.C., Aug. 21—By getting their say-so in first, the Rossland senior boxla team defeated the Nelson boys at Rossland 10-8 in a West Kootenay league fixture at the golden city Wednesday night. They got four goals before Nelson replied, but once Nelson found their feet the game was a good one. The visitors were without five of their regulars.

Ezart, diminutive forward for the winners, was practically a team in himself and got five of Rossland's goals. It was Jackie Bishop and DesBrisay who shone for the Nelson boys. Proudfoot got three of Nelson's goals, and Callicano, who received a cut lip and was forced out of the game, got two.

As is usually the case, Rossland stepped out early in the game to establish a lead. Ezart helped himself to three and Vickers got one. Proudfoot and Gallicano then scored for Nelson to put the lake city in the running.

Ezart added two more, Poff got a couple, Vickers got one, and Walmsley one. The last goal by Walmsley was a "beaut" and he went through the Nelson team alone. He also got a couple of passes during the night for goals. Poff played a fine game.

Bishop, Heatherington and Melneczuk added goals for Nelson in the final period.

The game was rough and fast, but only four penalties were handed out.

Teams were:

JEWS RETALIATE

BERLIN, (CP-Havas). — Anti-Nazi reprisals, including the threatened ruin of a factory town by boycotting its products and the beating and disfiguring of a storm trooper, caused apprehension as reports of active resistance to Nazi measures came from many parts of the reich. TATTOO HALIBUT

VICTORIA, (CP).—A full-rigged sailing vessel on the chest, or entwined hearts and an arrow on the forearm, used to be the marks of a sailor. Presently they may be merely the identification tags on a Pacific halibut. The international fisheries commission, in advices to the British Columbia department of fisheries, drew attention to marked success obtained this year with the tattooing of halibut, in place of the cumbersome tagging system first used to keep track of migration and age-limits on the various halibut banks. No really fancy designs have been attempted yet, it is understood.

Apples Coloring Well at Creston

Frost Did Not Hurt Garden Stuff

CRESTON, B.C.,—The latest crop bulletin by the department of horticulture assures that the apple crop is sizing well and for this time of year is showing splendid color on all varieties. The weather has been ideal for color, with showers, cool nights and quite a generous supply of sunshine. A year ago the situation was just about the reverse and to aggravate matters the heavy pall of smoke from forest fires still further interfered with the color process. With a very liberal supply of rain since June the apples on unirrigated lands are just about the equal for appearance with the irrigated product.

Saturday night's rain will cause some less loss to the second cut of alfalfa, cutting of which had just nicely got under way a few days previous. The second crop is heavier than the first and of much better quality, according to most reports. The James Huscroft baler is at present at work in the Canyon area.

Careful enquiry reveals that the three degrees above freezing recorded in town on Friday morning was somewhat lower at outside points but at none of them was any serious damage was done to flowers or garden stuff. In addition, the frost went in streaks, which lessened its destructive effort also.

A favorite drive these days, especially for prospective land buyers, of whom there are more than a few, is across the flats for an inspection of the wheat crops on the Reclamation farm and the dyked lands of Creston Reclamtaion Company, Limited. Everyone is agreeably surprised with the showing of the latter acreage, which is in crop for the first time, and is showing stands of wheat and oats that are on a par with the farm crops. The weather is back to normal again and a prolonged spell of warm sunny days is hoped for to mature the fields which were late in being seeded.

Creston Valley Post Canadian Legion members, with their wives, families and lady friends, will picnic this year at the baseball park at Canyon, on Sunday afternoon, and a full turnout of members is hoped for. Appropriate sports for the children and other amusements have been arranged for by the Legion social committee.

Sunday's inclement weather necessitated the postponement of the baseball game here between Cranbrook and Creston. The weather also prevented a tennis tournament at Boswell between players from that center and Wynndel. The tournament will be staged next Sunday, weather permitting.

Work is nearing completion of the 50x50 foot two story addition to the warehouse of Creston Co-operative Fruit exchange. Part of the upper story will be required to house the new rotary grader which is, likely to get under way next week as pears are due to arrive at the warehouse any day now. A few Clapp's Favorite came in on Tuesday, but picking of this variety is not general as yet.

Macs Win Baseball From Lumberton

LUMBERTON, B.C.—W. Gorman and family arrived Tuesday last from Calgary to visit with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wood.

On Wednesday evening the locals met the MacDonald's Consolidated on the local diamond. This was the second baseball game of the two out of three playoff series. The game was sort of ragged in the first innings as the "Macs" collected four runs to take a strong lead. Mason and Thompson had the misfortune to let hit balls through to give the wholesalers a home run and a three-bagger. From the first inning on to the ninth the game was interesting and exciting to watch as the locals managed to keep within one run of the "Macs". In the last bats the score was 5-4 for the "Macs". The Locals managed to get two men on and none out, but they did not have the scoring punch. It resulted in the final score 5-4 for the "Macs". It was a hard game to lose as it put the locals out of the final playdowns. Thompson, Van Toot and D. Downey were new faces on the team and proved to be the best "finds" of the season in their respective positions. MacDougall and Hunter did the umpiring.

An invitation has been received from the Fernie Softball association to enter a team in the sports day celebrations on September 1 and 2. Owing to the "Community Workers" picnic on one of those dates, it has been decided not to enter.

Kaslo Has Tag and Pet Parade

KASLO, B.C.—The tag day and pet parade sponsored by the Kaslo Ladies' Hospital aid, the third event of "Hospital Week", was the program Wednesday. The tags were sold throughout the morning and these entitled the holders to votes on their favorites in the parade which took place in Vimy park in the afternoon, where a large crowd was assembled.

There were many more entries than had been expected, unfortunately the full list of these is not available, but entrants and spectators were enthusiastic over the success of the affair.

Mrs. D. J. Barclay was the chairman of this committee and was ably assisted by a small body of capable co-workers. Many of the contestants were in costume which made the long parade very colorful.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hartin carried away the major portion of the prize money, David being first choice, Jack Hartin tying with Ronald Matthews as second choice and Gilbert Hartin being the popular third choice. A number of horses, ponies, pedigreed dogs, painted cats, puppies and kittens seemed to be the favored pets of the young exhibitors. The day was given over to the children who enjoyed it to the fullest extent. A goat led by Mrs. Whitaker, in costume, caused no small amount of amusement though the said, very well behaved goat was not entered for competition.

With the large crowd in attendance, this like the first two events of "Hospital Week," proved very entertaining and far exceeded expectations in so far as financial results were concerned.

A doll being raffled was won by Miss B. Brown, R.N., of the Victorian hospital nursing staff.

Hospital Drive Closed at Kaslo

Big Dance and Week's Activities Bring Over $400

KASLO, B.C.—Culminating "Hospital week" a Cinderella dance under the convenership of Mrs. E. H. Latham was held in the drill hall Saturday evening when over 200 danced to the "peppy music of a local orchestra. During the evening J. Muir catered to the appetites of the throng.

The dance started at 9 o'clock and the "Home" waltz was played at midnight, bringing to a close the week of activities sponsored by the Kaslo Ladies hospital aid.

J. A. Riddell was the ever capable master of ceremonies during the evening: Mrs. J. N. Murphy and Mrs. C. F. Archer were on the door, Mrs. Lockhard and Mrs. S. J. Mayzes assisted by Mrs. H. T. Hartin and Mrs. W. F. Marlea tagged the dancers as they entered the hall.

The beautiful "hope chest" and its lovely contents were drawn for by Dr. D. J. Balclay and was won by Mrs. Leonard Garland.

The president of the aid at this time took the opportunity of congratulating Mrs. Garland on her good fortune and in a few words also expressed the gratitude of herself and her co-workers for the generosity of the public which had so graciously responded to the various appeals made. The Monday tea, Tuesday card party, Wednesday pet parade, Friday golf field day and Saturday dance were much more popular and successful than even the most optimistic women had hoped for, she said. Her personal thanks were also extended to the members of all committees for their hearty cooperation in what had at first semed a very big undertaking.

NET WELL OVER $400

S. J. Mayzes, Fred Webber and Miss Underwood were also given thanks for their kindness in supplying dance music. As the first venture of this nature ever sponsored by the ladies, the financial returns of well over $400 was a splendid reward for their untiring efforts in preparing and carrying out the extensive program.

The concert which was unavoidably post-poned from Thursday evening, will take place in the near future and the proceeds will be turned in to those of "hospital week."

PORPOISES IN THAMES

LONDON (CP)—Eight porpoises took a look at London recently. It is believed warm weather enticed them up the Thames as far as Gravesend and the ebb tide carried them up to Tower bridge.

Good Housekeeping

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENUS, RECIPES and HINTS

Boiled Ham — Corn Pudding
Sliced Tomatoes — and Cucumbers
Sliced Peaches — Sponge Cake
Tea

Ham ends may be purchased quite cheaply and, boiled in a spicy mixture until tender, taste very good. Salt foods usually are appreciated in warm weather. Cabbage may be boiled with ham or not, as you choose, or potatoes, but the corn pudding in this recipe is intended to take the place of potatoes. Wash the butt of ham, put on in cold water to cover and let come to a boil; pour the water off, cover again with cold water and simmer gently until tender, adding one tablespoon of brown sugar, one tablespoon of vinegar, a small stick of cinnamon and some cloves to the water in which it is cooking.

Today's Recipes

Corn Pudding—Twelve ears corn, one cup milk, one tablespoon butter, melted; two egg yolks, beaten; pepper, salt. Scrape the ears of corn and mix with milk, butter, egg yolks and seasoning. Pour into Baking dish and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until crust is golden brown.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Stains

For ink stains try cold water, and then use an acid or a bleaching substance.

For iodine stains use warm water and soap, alcohol or ammonia.

For black coffee and tea stains use boiling water, bleaching if necessary.

Drain Fat

It is best to drain fat through cheesecloth before putting it away for future use. Thus all food particles are removed and the fat may be used over and over.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Miss I. Kent and G. Bentley Wed

Newlyweds Will Reside in Rossland

KIMBERLEY, B.C.,—The Anglican church, Kimberley, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Friday, August 16, at 11 o'clock, when Rev. F. V. Harrison of Cranbrook united in marriage Ida Frances, only daughter of George F. Kent and the late Mrs. Kent, and Norman Stanwood, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bentley.

A profusion of flowers arranged by friends of the young couple made an artistic setting for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming in a floor length gown of white suede lace over satin cut on long, princess lines. The coronet style veil, falling to the hem of the skirt was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Lace mittens and white slippers completed the costume. She carried a nosegay bouquet of sweet-heart roses in pink and cream. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Louise Irvin of Rossland as maid of honor and Miss Olla Bentley, sister of the groom. Miss Irvin chose for her gown shell pink flat crepe with which she wore a wide brimmed white hat trimmed with a single large pink rose. Miss Bentley wore pale green organdie with white accessories. Both attendants carried bouquets of rose snapdragons. The groom was attended by his only brother, Donald Bentley, while Garnet Coulter and Murray McKenzie acted as ushers. The wedding music was supplied by Mrs. H. Raynor, who played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, Mendelssohn's wedding march, and during the signing of the register, "I Love You Truly".

After the wedding ceremony about 20 immediate friends and relatives sat down to the wedding breakfast at the home of the groom's parents. The house was tastefully decorated in shades of mauve and yellow, while the bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake resting on a mauve and primrose base.

The happy young couple left in the afternoon for Spokane en route to Rossland where they will make their home. For travelling the bride wore a black and white ensemble. The good wishes of the community are extended to this popular young couple.

Mrs. Louise Irvin and Miss Eleanor Erskine left for their home in Rossland Saturday morning, after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bentley of Blarchmont.

PROTECTION FOR SWANS

HELENA, Mont.—In an effort to save the trumpeter swan from extinction, the federal government has set aside the Red Rock lakes, 30 miles west of Yellowstone national park, as a migratory bird refuge. Formerly plentiful in the United States and Canada, their number has been reduced to less than 100, largely through the depredations of the duck hunters.

WHALE HAVING A WHALE OF A TIME AT COAST

Soaks Folk on Ferry With Flip of Tail; Delays Trip

VICTORIA, Aug. 21 (CP)—Residents of southern Vancouver Island thronged to Brentwood today, hoping for a glimpse of a 60-foot whale which yesterday crashed into the Mill Bay ferry, causing intense excitement among passengers, and delaying the ferry 15 minutes on another trip.

George Mowatt, one of the passengers, reported he saw the huge mammal sporting in the bay as the ferry crossed. Once it dived and came up under the boat. With a flip of its tail, it sent a shower of water over the bridge, drenching two lady passengers and a deckhand. One woman fainted but the other passengers crowded the rails to watch the creature.

Later in the day, the whale forced the boat towards the shore, delaying it 15 minutes before it reached Mill Bay. The huge creature has been in these waters since Sunday.

A VILLAIN IN THE FORAGE

Last week's dispatches from Winnipeg regarding the epidemic among horses, and the death of a famous race horse waiting with hundreds of others for a meet, and the suggestion of encephalitis, which attacks the brain and spinal column, with quick collapse and death, were disturbing, and the subsequent news that the experts had excluded encephalitis, and were looking in the forage for an explanation, was distinctly reassuring.

It would be bad to have Winnipeg, that the Broncho, Mac Rochon's fast stepping gelding, trained on Red river ice, to the world, become associated with the start of a costly disease epidemic that would decimate the equine realm.

Poisoned forage will suggest to most Canadians the thought of Phar Lap, the great Australian horse that died in a California paddock from cropping the grass beneath tree that had been sprayed with an insecticide. But more likely the explanation is some poisonous weed, and the scientists should soon have the villain traced to its lair.

Loco weed, in the American desert country, sends horses, cattle and sheep that eat it, demented, and it has given to American literature and speech the phrase, "go loco."

Iroquois Dahl, who conducts a correspondence page in Field and Stream, asserted a couple of years ago that the humble and widely distributed bracken was under suspicion as a cattle poisoner, though he admitted he did not know whether the bracken research had come to a definite finding. Bracken grows all over Canada.

The scientists' report will be awaited with interest, for the betting will be 10 to one that it will point the way to cure.

It would be sad indeed if the case of the horses were like that of the ducks that die on Canadian prairies and American plains from alkali poisoning, with nothing that can be done about it.

A MAN OF DESTINY

No one can read the resume of the work, usually behind the scenes, of P. H. Sheffield in the years that he has been in Nelson, without being struck with the reflection that Mr. Sheffield is a man of destiny.

Since he came to Nelson promoted from a school principalship to an inspectorate, he has, in addition to the work called upon from him as an elementary schools inspector, completed his B.A. degree course, produced a considerable number of elementary school textbooks, both mathematical and English, assisted in revising the courses of study for the schools of this province, and done a large number of other things of permanent value.

Dealing with the problem of the Doukhobor schools was in the course of his work, and he has had not only to create respect and confidence among a people initially hostile, but to train teachers for this special work, and to administer these schools for a number of years as official trustee, the result being that he can look at an immense progress accomplished, as he leaves. It was characteristic of him that he studied the Russian language in this connection.

It would be hard to enumerate all his contributions to Nelson community life. He was an unofficial fount of information when the citizens were making their decision to have a junior high school. He was a prime founder of the Fortnightly club. He served other community organizations ably, including his service club and his church.

It is really no wonder that a busy inspector, who found time to do so much on the side, so much of value to schools, province, and community, was selected by the minister of education to have charge of the experiment in government administration of schools in the Fraser valley. In essence, he will be a dictator, assisted by the late school boards in an advisory capacity, for both administration and school management will be in his hands. Already, as the train takes him to his new field, he is dwelling on the opportunity to make the schools of the amalgamated district living schools, related both to the current life of their communities, and to the opportunities and needs of the area in question.

Whether the direction in which the government of the province is looking with relation to the schools is democratic, or wise, or fair, or will find favor with the people, is not pertinent to this comment regarding Mr. Sheffield.

He has been chosen for a singularly delicate and critical task, and the manner in which he performs it will have a bearing upon the determination of one of the biggest and most controversial issues ever to be raised in this province. He was chosen because he had shown himself singularly qualified as a creative teacher, as an administrator, and as a diplomate, besides a man of extraordinary industry. His Nelson friends, and they are legion, will be quick to believe that unceasing industry is one of the recipes for producing a man of destiny.

DISTURBED EMOTIONS CAUSE PAIN

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The tired patient, who feels toxic and weak, was discussed yesterday. We are forced to the conclusion that the cause, in most instances, is not physical, but a combination of mental and emotional inedequacy to meet the stress of life. To those who experience some difficulty in believing that so much disability could be caused by the work of the mind, it may be said that emotions can produce any symptom.

Pain, for instance, is usually an indication of some real disorder. It is Nature's danger signal. It seems to most people to mean something real. Besides, you hardly would suppose that anyone would impose anything so uncomfortable as pain on himself. Yet it happens—often. The reasons are various and not easy to determine, but the fact remains that pain can be due to emotion.

And as an eminent American student of the problem points out, the pain is not imaginary. These people do have some sort of pain, although one cannot defend them to the point of saying that the pain is not exaggerated.

HEART PAIN FROM EMOTION

Pain over the heart—pseudo-angina—occurs often from emotional origin. A woman of 33 was overly conscientious, addicted to self-medication. She would frequently count her own pulse. She had palpitation of the heart. One day she suddenly developed a pain over the heart, for which she sought medical consultation. The pain radiated down her arm and left leg. It was constant, whether at rest or exertion. This differentiated it from true angina because rest usually relieves that.

Careful examination failed to reveal any physical basis for the pain. Hopeful skepticism was expressed, and she was given capsules containing a sedative. She took these a few days, but experienced no relief. She gave an emotional description of the antics of her heart, none of which could be confirmed on examination. The mechanism of her symptoms was "denounced," a procedure which she did not enjoy. She had dominated her family for years, played the despot, but in spite of her firm hold, her sister had announced her intention of marrying a man of whom this patient did not approve. When she did it anyhow, the "angina" got better.

It had been brought on by emotion, partly as a means to keep her sister under submission.

FEAR CAUSES PAIN

Another cause of pain is fear. Cancer phobia is frequently responsible.

A woman who dominated her family by illness was much in fear of cancer. She insisted on being examined once a fortnight or so. Nothing wrong was ever found. She developed a pain in the side of her head which she insisted was cancer. When it was explained that cancer did not grow in the head, she still had the pain. She wanders from doctor to doctor, trying to find one who will operate on her. Some day she will find one.

DOCTOR WHO SAILED WITH ADMIRAL BYRD GIVES IMPRESSIONS

Although Admiral Richard Byrd had placed the United States flag in "Little America", international litigation would be necessary before he could legally claim the territory for his country, in the opinion of Dr. W. B. Highet, youthful New Zealander who sailed 2000 miles from Dunedin to the formidable Ross Barrier last spring and spring and returned with Byrd's second Antarctic expedition.

"Scott, Shackleton and others touched Antarctica before him, but I do believe Byrd penetrated farther inland than the others. The work done there is remarkable," said Dr. Highet when he paused in Saint John, N.B., enroute for postgraduate work in England.

Bizarre skulls and eerie idols from isolated Easter Island grinned in the doctor's stateroom as he gave a first-hand account of sailing through danger-fraught latitudes of "the shrieking 60's". When Admiral Byrd's "The Bear of Oakland" called at the island, said to be far more isolated than Tristan da Cunha, natives who had not seen a ship for nearly two years acted crazily with joy. Odd bits of clothing were swapped for miniature idols and curios.

"Little America" is situated on a monotonous plain of ice, said Dr. Highet. Tinned goods, cheese and other supplies left there from the first expedition were found in excellent condition when Byrd and his men arrived a second time.

Radio and books provided the chief means of passing spare time in the bleak territory. Members of the expedition were of United States, Danish, Swedish, Greek, Norwegian and British nationalities. No serious injuries resulted from two airplane crashes during the sojourn in Antarctica.

The New Zealand doctor displayed a valuable collection of expedition photographs and souvenirs. One iceberg sighted, a shimmering mass of blue-green beauty, was a replica of the Taj-Mahal. Another, with a cloudy background, was the image of L'Arch re Triomphe in Paris. Younger men on the ship wanted to sail beneath the arch. As they approached the massive formation it disentegrated, with a thunderous crash, into icy powder. The previous enthusiasm for a thrill also disintegrated.

Proceeding from Dunedin to pick up the explorers, the Bear of Oakland passed "The Home of the Blizzard" off Cape Adare and hove in sight of the Antarctic coast. "It was tremendously impressive" said Dr. Highet. "The deep blue waters of the Ross Sea contrasted to the 'shrieking 60s' through which we had just passed. Once, the soup tureens were thrown clear of the table into an adjourning cabin—all over the floor."

A projected jaunt into McMurdo Sound, former base of Scott's camps, was abandoned owing to dangerous ice conditions. After passing Ross Island the men had a thrill. Mount Erebus and Mount Terrior stood like ghostly sentinels, clad in chill white. And Mount Erebus was smoking amid the vast Antarctiv waste.

Then came the gigantic Ross Barrier, a sheer cliff of ice ranging from 100 to 400 feet high. For two days the little ship, outlined against this massive wall, plodded toward Discovery inlet. As it neared the scheduled meeting spot, dark specks could be seen moving along the huge white field. They were members of the ice party which came by dog sled from "Little America" to greet their friends with all the enthusiasm engendered by 19 months of isolation.

From Discovery Inlet the ship continued to the Bay of Whales, where 52 of the base party were waiting. Byrd's base was 17 miles away and this distance was covered by sled in about four hours.

COSTS $5000 WHEN BIG LINER WAITS TWO HOURS FOR TARDY PASSENGERS

The Italian liner Rex, fastest liner in the world until her record was lowered by the Normandie, got a slow start from New York recently on her run to the Mediterranean. Scheduled to sail at noon, the great liner waited more than two hours for a group of passengers to arrive by plane from the Middle West.

Eleven residents of Cincinnati had booked passage and by noon only two of them, Dr. J. Louis Ransohoff and Mrs. Ransohoff, were present and accounted for. Seven were reported on their way by airplane from Pittsburgh after having been delayed by floods which washed out railroad tracks in western Pennsylvania.

Two others, Mr. L. John Block and Mrs. Bayard L. Killgour, reached the dock in time. But Mrs. Block refused to sail without her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Mack, and Mrs. Killgour would not depart without her friend, Mrs. B. A. Wallingford, sister of the late Nicholas Longworth, former speaker of the house of representatives.

Their luggage was taken off regretfully. Then the ship officials said they would hold the ship two hours. The luggage went back. When the time limit was up, with no news of the laggards, the luggage went off again.

But hardly had the last piece of hand luggage reached the pier when news came that the plane had landed at Newark, and that the party was rushing for the Holland Tunnel with a police escort. The baggage parade wheezed back into the Rex for the last time, and the two women went aboard again.

Later, it was found that two of the party had been on board all the time. Three only arrived by plane. It was estimated that the line's courtesy in holding the Rex would cost around $5000 in overtime pay for tugs and dock workers, and extra fuel in making up the lost time.

Mrs. Wallingford and others in the Cincinnati party are to attend the wedding of the Marquis of Chambrun and Marie Jose Laval, daughter of Premier Pierre Laval. The marquis is a nephew of the late Mr. Longworth, whose sister, the former Clara Longworth, was married to Count Jacques Adalbert de Chambrun in 1901.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. SHEPARD

WELL-MEANT STRATEGY

Sometimes well-meant strategy turns out to be the most advantageous thing which could have happened for opponents, as it did on the following week-end deal played in Locust Valley, Long Island.

North: ♠6 ♥8 6 5 4 2 ♦9 7 6 5 4 2 ♣9

West: ♠A J 9 7 2 ♥9 7 ♦A 8 ♣J 8 7 5

East: ♠K 10 8 5 ♥Q J ♦K Q 3 ♣A Q 6 3

South: ♠Q 4 3 ♥A K 10 3 ♦J 10 ♣K 10 4 2

Bidding went: South, 1-heart; West, 1-spade, which I jumped to 3-spades, as my partner is inclined to be timid rebidding over an opening bid unless the opening bidder rebids, which would not have been done with her hand and we would have missed game; West, 4-spades, with considerable reluctance.

The opening lead was the 9 of clubs. From my position as dummy I knew a singleton had been led, hoping that South held the missing ace and would give North a ruff, after which South could win her two heart tricks, certainly defeating the contract. I wondered if my partner would put up dummy's ace. She did, but danger was not over for our side. The majority of declarer's go for the drop with only four cards, including the Q missing. The odds in favor of going for the drop, rather than finessing on the first round, are 33 to 23, so my partner led dummy's K of spades, dropping South's 3 and North's 6, marking South with possession of the 4 and North with no more trumps or the Q alone. The odds in favor of taking the finesse on the second round, as against going for the drop, are 27 to 23, but my partner played her ace, only to find she had established the Q in South's hand.

As my partner played the hand we would have one down a trick if North had led a heart, as two heart tricks, losing to the Q of spades and to the K of clubs would have given defenders four tricks.

However, my partner did not go down. She led off her ace of diamonds, then dummy's K and Q of diamonds won tricks. Upon the last winning diamond led from dummy my partner discarded one of her losing hearts, so defenders after all won only one trump, one heart and one club trick, enabling us to fulfil our game contract. It could have done South no good to ruff the third lead of diamonds, as declarer would have discarded one of her losing hearts just the same.

North's well-meant strategy was due to bad judgment. There were less than even chances for South to hold the missing ace of clubs, even if she had opened the bidding.

FROWN ON SPENDING

Nobody doubts the wily Welshman's sincerity. He is genuinely anxious to do something for his country. But he has chosen the wrong method and the wrong medium. The British press appears to be a solid unit against him, with the solitary exception of the News Chronicle—his own organ. And it (the press) has the nation behind it for no great bullk of public opinion in Britain today is in favor of embarking upon schemes involving a tremendous disbursement of public moneys that must come from the public's purses.—Montreal Star.

In Cabinet

One of the ablest and most popular of the younger members of parliament, James Earl Lawson, K. C., Conservative member for West York, took to politics like a duck to water. Still a young man—he is in his 44th year—his elevation to the Bennett cabinet will be hailed across Canada as a merited promotion. He is a particularly interesting figure in this country just now in view of the fact that he is Dominion Organizer for the Conservative party. He is energetic, with a pleasing personality and the desirable virtue of being able to impart optimism and enthusiasm to those with whom he comes into contact.

His general capacity is indicated by the fact that he is a successful lawyer in Toronto, is a director in two business organizations, and has attracted attention by the ability which he has shown at Ottawa since he was first elected to Parliament in 1928 at the age of 37. His popularity in his own city is suggested by his having been chosen president, at different times, of the Liberal-Conservative Business Men's club, the Lawyers' club, and the Empire club. He is now a member of the Albany club, the famous rendezvous of Tory strategists in Toronto. He succeeded Sir Henry Dayton as M.P. for West York, a very strong Tory seat just outside Toronto.

Mr. Lawson is of medium build but his physique suggests the athletic type. He keeps himself in trim at handball and golf, and he is no slouch at either game. He belongs to two golf clubs, Mississauga and Islington. He also is on the register of the Laurentian in Ottawa and the Art Gallery, Toronto.

Mr. Lawson is a Canadian, born at Hamilton, October 21, 1891, but there is a Scottish strain in his blood coming from his father, James Lawson, who was born in Scotland. While Mr. Lawson has spent much time in Ottawa due to his Parliamentary activities, the capital is no new place to him. He was educated there at the public schools and collegiate institute. His law course was taken at Osgoode hall, Toronto. He is mason, an orangeman and a member of the royal black preceptory. His first election to the house of commons was by acclamation in 1928. His re-election came at the general elections of July, 1930.

Optimism and enthusiasm, as already stated, are among Mr. Lawson's characteristics. He went to work as organizer at the first of the year, and while Mr. Bennett was broadcasting his series of campaign speeches, Mr. Lawson was hieing himself off to the Maritime provinces to begin a thorough organization of Conservative forces from the Atlantic to the Pacific. High courage and a convincing optimism are dominant characteristics of Earl Lawson.

Mr. Lawson is the father of two children, Dorothy Jane Lawson and James Bolton Lawson. His wife was the former Anita Blanche Bateman, daughter of Lewis James Bateman of Toronto. Mrs. Lawson also is a qualified lawyer and first met her husband at Osgoode hall where they were studying law. In addition to being a full-fledged barrister, Mrs. Lawson has proved herself quite helpful in the role of advisor to her husband on political and legal matters.

IF GRASS DIES, SOD WORM BUSY

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Central Press Garden Expert

Occasionally small dead spots appear on the lawn in midsummer, in which the grass dies, and which steadily grows larger by spreading outward. If a web can be found at the edge of the dead portion, on the live grass, if robins and grackles are active there, the presence of the sod web worm is indicated. The live grass around the dead spots should be sprayed or dusted with arsenate of lead, which should then be well washed down into the grass with water.

Another pest which occasionally undermines lawns and garden plants, such as irises, dahlias and gladiolus, is the white grub stage of the common June beetle. If these grubs can be found under or near plants which die mysteriously, an attack should be made on them by mixing five pounds of arsenate of lead in one bushel of soil and spreading it over each 1000 square feet of area to be treated. The poisoned soil should be well raked and watered into the lawn or garden where it is used. Wire worms often cause similar damage and should receive similar treatment.

SMUGGLERS DEAL IN HUMAN CARGO

A daring band of smugglers who deal in human cargo, enticing unemployed West Indians to take a chance of entering Venezuela illegally, is operating on the Caribbean sea, according to the Trinidad Guardian.

A group of boatmen operating out of several West Indian islands "do a lucrative business" according to the Guardian, and "every week persons unaware of the hazards of the trip are taken across the Caribbean sea."

Dangers of the trip are many and include the risk of being shot at by Venezuelan coastguards who direct fire on sight at any vessels that fail to heave to at their orders.

Many of those attempting immigration illegally into Venezuela are caught and imprisoned at Macuro or sent back to the colony from which they came. A few are successful.

The way the smugglers go about their operations is described like this:

"Several persons are said to have been lured into making the trip by boatmen who went around Port of Spain and informed them that it was very simple to do the crossing.

"A party was then arranged, as the more persons going, the cheaper the trip was to be. The party subsequently assembled at an agreed rendezvous some time in the afternoon.

"At the appointed time the boat moved off with an apparently innocent fishing party or perhaps it might have given the appearance of a party going to the islands.

"The afternoon hours are usually selected and are supposed to be the most suitable for leaving Trinidad as this enables the adventurers to reach some point on the coast of Venezuela at an early hour next morning when all is likely to be still."

Running the gauntlet of coast guards was described as extremely "hazardous." If parties are detected near shore, it was said, the boatmen swamp their ships and direct their passengers to swim ashore and sneak into the thick vegetation that grows right up to the Venezuelan coast.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

POLICE DUTY TO PROTECT PRISONERS IN THEIR CUSTODY

While a prisoner was being escorted by the police from a train at the London station, photographers made an effort to secure a photograph. The man in custody held his hat over his face, and in the struggle to make him remove it, his arm was struck and broken. So far as is known no charge of assault has been laid.

It goes without saying that a prisoner in custody should be absolutely safe from manhandling either by the police or by anyone else. The fact that this prisoner was injured while in police care is a discreditable reflection on the failure of the police to discharge their manifest duty.

Photographers are naturally anxious to get the pictures for which they are sent. But press photographers cannot properly be encouraged to resort to strong arm methods to accomplish their purpose.

OLD TIME DANCES

Announcement from Toronto that one of the features at the Canadian National Exhibition this autumn is to be old-time "square" dances is one of interest to those of us who are not as young as we used to be, for we well remember the good times had by all at just such dances. Each generation has its own type of music, its own type of song, and its own type of dances. And we are not among those who denounce those dances, which are now in vogue. They are popular, they are graceful (most of them) and the young people enjoy them. And enjoyment is the real purpose of dancing. Nevertheless, one cannot but feel that the young people of today are missing a good deal of fun. The old square dances tended to create good fellowship and a good time.—Windsor Star.

ONTARIO'S AMUSEMENT TAX

Amusement tax for admission to purely amateur games is not justifiable. Only purely professional amusements should be permitted within the meaning of the act. Politically, it is a mistake, as it is an irritant imposed upon those who are giving their services for the love of some worthy cause. All irritating taxes are political errors of judgment.—Sherbrooke Record.

TO DAISIES, NOT TO SHUT SO SOON

Shut not so soon; the dull-eyed night
Has not as yet begun
To make a seizure on the light,
Or to seal up the sun.

No marigolds yet closed are,
No shadows great appear;
Nor doth the early shepherd's star
Shine like a spangle here.

Stay but till my Julia close
Her life-begetting eye,
And let the whole world then dispose
Itself to live or die.
—Robert Herrick.

PARTING GUEST

What delightful hosts are they—
Life and Love!
Lingeringly I turn away,
This late hour, yet glad enough
They have not withheld from me
Their high hospitality.
So, with face lit with delight
And all gratitude, I stay
Yet to press their hands and say,
"Thanks.—So fine a time! Good night."

THE DEVIL'S MANSION

COPYRIGHT — By REX JARDIN

READ THIS FIRST:

Answering a newspaper ad for a companion, pretty Janet Lord finds herself in a big, old house with a speechless servant named Nita, a fiendish dog that answers to a mysterious whistle, and an elderly mistress, Miss Boisevain, who wears a live chameleon around her neck and admits she is peculiar. On the way to the big house Janet met Blair Rodman who came with her in a truck from the village to retrieve his car, mired in the ditch near the Boisevain house during a terrific storm the night before. Refused shelter there and chased from the house by the dog after his accident, Blair delays his trip west to investigate the mysterious house and satisfy his curiosity. After one night in the house Janet tries to leave but her employer declares the dog will not let her go. During a walk about the grounds Janet sees the face of a girl in one of the high towers of the house. Although beginning to like Miss Boisevain, everything about her and the great house mystifies Janet. Back in her room, which is barren except for a small cot, Janet opens a note which has been transmitted to her in a napkin.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

Chapter 21

"Burn this note as soon as you finish reading it, and throw the ashes out of your window. You need not fear anything for three or four days. I shall warn you, later, of the exact time. In the meantime do not ask any questions until I give you leave. Remember you are being watched at all times, except when I tell you. If you do as I say, you may be able to get away from this prison. Above all, do not try to get away tonight. If you so much as make the attempt, you will never succeed in leaving. Remember, too, that I am your friend. M.B."

The note was from Miss Boisevain, and not Nita as Janet had supposed! "M.B." The handwriting, too, was familiar. Janet had seen it before in the letter she had in answer to hers when she applied for the position.

She read and re-read the note. Miss Boisevain her friend! Yet, she was keeping her here, against her will!

Her instructions were to burn the note as soon as she had read it . . . Why? Why did Miss Boisevain have to be so secretive about it? Why had she taken such a round-about method to get the note to her? In a napkin which Nita gave her . . . why could she not say what she wanted in her own house? Was there someone else here? She had felt a sinister presence, several times, especially when Miss Boisevain had acted so peculiarly.

Frightened by her thoughts, the girl quickly held the paper to the candle flame. She already knew the contents by heart. The paper burned slowly, she thought. It was heavy with a dull surface. When the ashes were black on the floor, she carefully scooped them up and slipping to the window, threw them out and brushed the window sill with her handkerchief.

Then, pulling up the blind, she looked out. Away in the distance she saw two lights gleaming, lights close together. They must be on the road. A car, she thought, perhaps a mile away. They were still, so the car must have stopped.

She watched the lights for some time, expecting the car to move any minute. But it did not. Whom could the car belong to, standing quietly on what apparently was the road? She could see nothing but the twin gleams in the dark, silent night.

Blair Rodman! the thouhgt came to her suddenly. Perhaps he had come back — was watching the house, for some reason!

She raised the blind to the top and stood outlined in the window, so if it were he, he would recognize her. Yet, what would Mr. Rodman be doing there! The car, she imagined, was at the bend of the road. If it were Blair Rodman, was he waiting for her to come out to him? Did he suspect something might be wrong?

The lights of the car suddenly blinked twice, and then were bright again. Then off again.

Had he seen her? Was he signalling?

She reached for the candle and then waved it twice before the window. An instant later, he lights of the car blinked twice.

It was Rodman—or someone, signalling to her! She waved again to be sure. Once more, the lights snapped off and on twice!

Janet stood, the candle in her hand, undecided on what to do.

Miss Boisevain's note had warned her explicitly not to attempt to escape tonight . . .

She saw the bold writing again before her: "Above all, do not try to get away tonight. If you so much as make the attempt, you will never succeed in leaving."

Then the end: "Remember, too, I am your friend."

Queer, wasn't it? As if Miss Boisevain were not the person holding her virtually a prisoner. How could she be her friend if she refused to let her leave when she wanted to?

A sudden feeling of pity came to her for this woman who seemed to be so unhappy, such a misfit. Janet was no longer afraid of her, afraid that she was mad. For Miss Boisevain, despite her peculiar actions, seemed very rational at times.

Perhaps it was Nita who was the evil force in the house! Nita. No, it could not be. Nita had warned her that morning that she must go right away. Nita had helped get Miss Boisevain's note to her . . . it could not be Nita.

Rajah, then. But this seemed so fantastic she dismissed the idea from her mind. As she thought of him, she looked about the room, half expecting to see him sitting at her feet, his red, bloodshot eyes glaring up at her.

She shivered with nervousness, and looked out again in the darkness to the two lights in the distance. They were still gleaming.

What should she do? Slip down the stairs and make her way to the car? Try to escape regardless of Miss Boisevain's warning? Her hands grew icy cold as she thought of Rajah . . .

She did not notice the candle flickering in the wind that had arisen, she was so absorbed in her plans to get away. Did not notice that the flame was whipped about in the breeze like a bending graceful flower.

Her eyes were on the lights ahead, shining between the rift in the trees. Suddenly she felt warm wax dripping on her bare hand, and looked down. A quick wind had snuffed out the flame of the candle, and she was in darkness.

Wondering how she would relight it, she walked to the cot, the holder in her hand. She had no matches, and her light was gone. The room was in complete darkness, except for the starlight that crept through the open window, a feeble light at best. The moon had not yet arisen.

Soon, however, when she could make out objects in the room, she groped through her suitcases, and found what she was looking for. A navy blue scarf which she bound around her light hair. Then she slipped off her oxfords, and lay on the cot for a while to think.

There was that tower room where she had thought she had seen a face? The stairs to the third floor started almost at her own door. But these towers, they were higher even than the third floor. There must be some other way they were reached.

Cautiously she crept to the door, and listened at the keyhole. She heard nothing.

With her hand on the key she hesitated. She might have been mistaken this morning. It was perfectly possible. She might have only imagined she had seen a face at the small window. But she was not accustomed to imagining things. Janet was practical if nothing else.

Again she listened. She could hear nothing but her own careful, quiet breathing.

The key turned in the lock with a little grating noise that made her jump. She waited a little longer, before she opened the door. When she finally did, she expected the door to mutter loudly in its hinges. Instead it went back quite easily without a sound. She was in the hall, and had her foot on the stairs to go up before she realized it. Her hand was on the railing to guide her in the black darkness that surrounded her.

Did she hear anything? What was that? Her imagination? A faint scratching she tried to place. She had heard it before . . .

Rajah at the kitchen door! Her ears were becoming as sensitive as Miss Boisevain's!

No time to be lost . . . she was back in her room, the key turned, trembling as she leaned against the door for support.

A noise on the stairs, as if some heavy animal were leaping up. It was Rajah, and she had escaped to her room just in time!

Why was she so afraid of this dog? He was lying outside her door. She knew that . . . she could hear him breathing . . .

BAER AND LOUIS SLATED TO MEET AT N.Y., SEPT. 24

Mike Jacobs Expected to Announce Plans Noon Today

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—Despite financial pressure that has his head swimming a little, chiefly from a guarantee of personal profit of $100,000 from Detroit, Mike Jacobs is going to announce tomorrow at noon that Joe Louis and Max Baer will fight right here in the Yankee stadium on the night of September 24.

Fending everyone off with the same astuteness that used to mark the manoeuvres of Tex Rickard in the old days, Jacobs refused to put this in so many words today, but asked that all be present at the offices of the New York state athletic commission tomorrow to hear his announcement.

He dallied over an offer from Detroit, brought to him here by a man who said he represented the Ford Motor company, an offer of $100,000 in cash for himself and the same for Louis and Baer if the fight were staged in Detroit and was radio broadcast by the company.

The match will be staged at the Yankee stadium, instead of the Polo grounds, for two reasons. One is that it involves less conflict with the baseball schedule. The other is that the American league park's capacity is bigger, around 85,000 for boxing.

Louis, in pretty good shape right now due to having fought twice since Baer last saw action, will arrive here August 27, and probably will go into training September 1.

Jacobs wants him to train at Jack Dempsey's old stamping grounds at Saratoga, N.Y. Baer is already in camp at Gene Tunney's former stronghold at Speculator, N.Y., 70 miles farther into the Adirondacks.

DURANGO AGAIN UPSETS DOPE

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP) — Durango, six-year-old gelding from the J. L. Scobey stables, who surprised early in season by winning a handicap at boxcar figures, upset form students again today when he defeated Mr. Bun and Happy Jester in the Ladysmith handicap, feature on the Brighone park racing card.

Durango set his own pace, withstood repeated challenges and fought off Mr. Bun in the stretch to capture the mile and one sixteenth event by a head.

The winner paid $16.20, $7.75 and $3.75 in the mutuels.

Big Pine from the Emerald stock farm, Vancouver Island, nosed out Standstill after a strenuous drive in the opening race. Big Pine paid $12.50 for a two dollar mutuel win ticket.

B. C. OPEN GOLF POSTPONED

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP) — The British Columbia open golf tournament, originally scheduled for September 6 and 7 at the Quelchema Golf club, has been postponed to September 20 and 21, Harry Winder, professional at the University club announced today.

The visit of Joyce Wethered, outstanding British woman golfer, on the former dates was given as the reason for the postponement.

SCHUMACHER BEATS REDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—Hal Schumacher exercised his "jinx" at the expense of the Reds today and beat them 3-0 to enable the Giants to maintain their three-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Schumacher, who never lost to the Reds until this season, turned them back for the 15th time in his major league career today after a keen mound duel with Rookie Gene Schott. It was Hal's 17th victory of the season and he got it only after being on the wrong side of the argument for seven innings.

The Giants did all their scoring in the eighth after being held to two hits in the five frames and six in all up through the seventh. Schumacher had given seven in that span.

TRAIL BEAVERS BEAT FAIRVIEW

Take 10-7 Baseball Game at Nelson Wednesday

A second snappy team of midget baseballers that would be a credit to any city, invaded Nelson Wednesday afternoon from Trail and took a 10-4 decision against the Fairview team. Dr. Muir's Beavers looked like a real ball team all the way and they quite earned their decision. Like Rube Demore's Giants, who played here on Sunday, they have class, and they played like veterans. A good sized crowd was present.

The Beavers outhit the Fairview team 14-7 and carried an edge of the play. Joe Maripodi for the locals got three hits in three official trips to the plate, one a homer, one a single, and the third would have been a homer but the umpire ruled he did not touch first base. There were two on when he got his homer in the first inning.

Julie Bileski, pitched for the Beavers, got three hits out of four trips to the bat, two three-baggers and a two-bagger. He pitched a good game and was credited with 10 strikeouts, the same as Floyd Waterer who chucked a good game for the losers. Floyd was also credited with 10 strikeouts. He gave two walks against the same number by Julie.

Three runs in the first inning and one in the sixth accounted for Fairview's runs, and "Doc" Muir's Beavers counted in all but the second, fifth and seventh. Four errors were marked up against Nelson and three against Trail.

Four hits and a walk paved the way for the Beavers three-run opener and they also counted three runs in the sixth. The other innings they counted it was two in each case.

A walk, an error and Joe Maripodi's home run accounted for three runs in the first inning, and although they got men on bases each of the remaining innings, they did not score again until the sixth when George Milne singled, and the following two batters, Graham Reid and Jack Dawson, did the same to send him home.

Julie Bileski and Lawrence Davis each got three hits for the Beavers, and Dickey Price, Gerald Simpson, Harvey Smith, each got two. Smart and Davis also got two-base hits. Maripodi with three hits and Graham Reid with two, led Nelson batters.

The fielding throughout was good and the seven errors were not of the soft variety. Trail was stronger in the hitting and it was more than sufficient to swing the tide of victory in their favor.

Harold (Lefty) Gillett umpired the game.

Batting Leaders

By the Associated Press

Buddy Myer shoved Hank Greenberg out of the big six yesterday in one of the almost-daily changes in the ranking of the American league hitting leaders while Arky Vaughan, big six pace setter, went hitless four times at the plate and still didn't drop below the .400 mark. Myer, hitting three times in six attempts, sent his average up two points to tie Doc Cramer for the second American league berth while Greenberg hit only one out of seven for a three-point loss. Joe Vosmik led the clouting with four hits in nine times up while Joe Medwick and Gabby Hartnett each hit three out of five.

GOLF

BY ALEX MORRISON

Much has been said about the triumphs of the unknowns, Sam Parker, Jr., and Alfred Perry. They have been hailed as "unorthodox players."

The terms leads followers of the game to believe that there are many ways of playing a successful shot. Action pictures prove that there is but one way to hit a truly and consistently successful shot.

Position of the various parts of the body at the moment of impact must be correct if the ball is to fly properly. The simplicity and ease with which a player reaches this hitting position is the measure of his consistency. All roads may lead to Rome but this doesn't mean that they're all as direct or as easy to follow as the right road.

Black Board Wins

LONGACRES TRACK, Seattle, Aug. 21 (AP).—With a driving finish, Black Board of the Giami and Barnes stable won the six-furlong Olympia handicap today in 1:11 4-5 from Linden Tree.

DISCOVERY IS SECOND IN BIG RACE IN EAST

Top Row Wins by One Length and Half; Howard Third

NARRAGANSETT PARK, Pawtucket, R.I., Aug. 21 (AP)—Back on the track where he set a world record for the distance, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery today bowed to A. A. Baroni's Top Row in the $25,000 added Narragansett special of a mile and three-sixteenths.

Top Row's time, 1:55 4-5, was 4-5 of a second slower than the record set by Discovery last fall, but then Discovery carried only 119 pounds instead of today's 139-pound burden. Top Row bore an impost of only 110 pounds.

A crowd of 45,000 backed Discovery down to a one to four favorite in the mutuels as the Vanderbilt four-year-old went to his first defeat after taking eight consecutive major turf purses.

Top Row had a length and a half on Discovery at the end of the race. In third place only one length away from Discovery was Mrs. Walter E. O'Hara's Howard, while Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's Time Supply, winner of the stake in its first running last season, finished fourth, two lengths behind Howard.

Elden Auker got credit for the second game, although he allowed 11 hits while John Welch was holding the Tigers to six safeties. Airtight fielding behind Auker and timely hitting saved the game for the Tigers.

OLD TIMERS DEFEAT CUBS

Rally in Last Inning to Win 2-1

There was slow music playing for the Cubs at the end of the game with the Old Timers at the Recreation grounds Wednesday night for the stars of yesterday walked off with a close 2-1 decision in a seven-inning baseball affair. It was the kind of game that makes the cash customers frantic, and even those who were peeping over fences and around buildings forget themselves enough to venture out in the open.

Jack Ryan's squad, straining at the leash from the first, were not given the gun until the seventh inning and then they brought in their two runs. The Cubs scored their run in the sixth. Richardson doubling and then Goble doing the same to score his team mate.

The game was pock-marked with double plays, the Cubs getting four and the Old Timers one. In fact the Cubs brought the first three innings to a close with double plays and the fans were impressed.

OLD TIMERS GET TWO

At the start of the seventh Coach Ryan adjusted his third pair of glasses and seemed to be peering into the future. The Old Timers thought it was the signal to start hitting and they did. Arcure walked and Gillett singled. Arcure's leg opened and closed like a jack-knife and he started sliding almost as soon as he reached second. He came to a screeching halt at third, beating the throw by 14 feet six inches. Gillett made second. Then Watson singled between first and second scoring both Arcure and Gillett. The next two batters went out second to first, as Waiman, the leadoff batter, had also done.

Hitting was even with both teams getting four. Of the four Cub hits, three were two-baggers, Richardson getting two and Goble one. Smith singled for the other. Gillett, Watson, Drew and Kraft got singles for the Old Timers, and Cherrington, on the mound for the Cubs, issued five walks. He struck out four batters. "Lefty" Gillett pitched a heady game for the Old Timers and struck out six batters. His control was so perfect in the pinches he began to think he was a stoic.

Tony Arcure, who seldom speaks unless addressed twice, provided a great deal of fun when he began arguing with the ump, thinking he had called him out on a foul that Richardson caught on the bounce. It would appear that Tony was speaking in tongues for the 17 nationalities represented at the game knew what he was saying perfectly. And "Metzy" Metzgaar ran out enough close foul balls to make two runs. Rather than risk another he struck out.

Late in the evening it was reported that Pete Kapak, manager of the New Grand Cubs, got strings on the whole team of old timers, and if he gets another hard game this year, he will likely use all of them. Not knowing what to do after the game, the Cubs gathered together and read a few chapters of "Alice in Wonderland".

Walter Hollman and Lyman Carter were umpires.

BUDDY BAER IS BATTLING JACK DOYLE TONIGHT

Clash at Madison Sq. Garden; Baer Is 260 Pounds

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—A couple of vocally prominent young heavyweights, Jacob (Buddy) Baer brother of Max Baer, and Jack Doyle, husband of the motion picture actress Judith Allen, are down for six rounds of unusual fistic entertainment tomorrow night in the Madison Square Garden bowl on Long Island.

Baer, who scales a modest 260 pounds and makes his big brother Max look small by comparison, has piled up a string of one-round knockouts over a list of one-round heavyweights, operating mostly in New York state and the mid-west. Doyle, imported from Ireland, has been doing the same, chiefly in New Jersey, where he is now under suspension for failure to fulfill an engagement.

Baer has only been beaten once, in a four-round decision bout with Babe Hunt. Doyle, who weighs about 205, knocked out Jack Pettifer in England for his greatest single achievement.

Both warriors sing well. Doyle's specialty is "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," in a high tenor voice. Baer has performed as a baritone in vaudeville and over the radio.

Carroll to Meet Wallace or Jones

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP)—Eddie Carroll of Ottawa will meet either Gordon Wallace of Vancouver, or Sonny Jones, also of Vancouver, at Ottawa, September 16 to determine the wearer of the Canadian welterweight crown, Tommy Gorman, manager of the Forum, announced here today.

The winner of the Ottawa bout will meet the third man in a match at Montreal, the victor of which will challenge Barney Ross, New York battler, for the world's welterweight title.

Preliminary plans called for Carroll to meet Wallace but Jones wired the Montreal boxing commission and the Ontario boxing commission, claiming the Canadian welterweight title.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

By The Canadian Press

To Harvey Fulford, one of the great hockey defencemen of all time. He was born Aug. 22, 1875, and achieved fame with the Ottawa Silver Seven, Stanley cup winners. He helped Ottawa Roughrider football teams win Canadian championships and was a star lacrosse player and oarsman.

Armour-Diegel Golfing Wizardry Overshadows Canadian Open Tourneys

Leo Holds Lowest Score Record, Has Four Victories—Scot Is Triple-winner and Defending Champion

Here are the two veteran golf wizards who more than any other club swingers have dominated play in Canadian open golf tournaments. Left shows the smoothstroking Tommy Armour, lining up a putt. Armour also shown, center, with the Canadian championship trophy, is defending champion this year and thrice holder of the title. He started winning back in 1927. Right, the old master, Leo Diegel, four times winner in Canadian open play, and holder of the record score of 274, which he shot at the Kanawaki course in 1929. Both are probable starters this year.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 21. — Stalking the supreme in-and-outer of golfdom, Tommy Armour, the embattled legions of the open golf wars are heading for Quebec's rolling hills to warm up for the Canadian Open golf championship, August 29-31, at the Summerlea Golf club here.

Armour, rated one of the greatest stylists in the game, has been ambushed in the last two United States open championships, fading out of the flying squadron while younger players went on to glory. But in the Canadian classic he, like eccentric Leo Diegel, is at his dazzling best, for the beauty and charm of the French-Canadian countryside seems to have a rare tonic effect on these two temperamental experts. Armour has won the Maple Leaf crown three times, in 1927, 1930 and 1934, and Diegel, who has still to win the American Open crown, has annexed the Dominion title no less than four times, in 1924, 1925 and in 1928 and 1929.

Diegel's fourth conquest was scored over the Kanawaki golf course, also in the Montreal district, which is the only championship course in the world laid out on an Indian reservation. In 1929, Diegel here perpetrated a one-man "Indian massacre" when he slaughtered par with a 72-hole score of 274 which still stands as the record for the Canadian Open, first competed for in 1904 at the Royal Montreal club and won by J. H. Oke of Ottawa. In the last ten years other winners of the title have been Macdonald Smith, 1926; Walter Hagen, 1931; Harry Cooper, 1932; and Joe Kirkwood, 1933.

Foreshadowed by the new deal at Oakmont when Sam Parks, Jr., the dark horse Pittsburgher, won the United States crown and long-hitting Jimmy Thompson finished second, Canadian golf experts half expect a youthful victory at Summerlea. A year ago Parks, then unmarked for glory, tied with Walter Hagen at 303, sixteen strokes behind the winning score made by Armour.

AMATEURS RATED LOW

Stellar Americans who are expected to challenge par of 70 for Summerlea's 6500-yard course, studded with three tough water holes, are Ky. Laffoon, the flashy westerner who finished second in the Canadian at Lakeview last year; Willie Macfarlane, 1925 United States Open champ; Al Watrous, 1922 Canadian champion; Gene Sarazen, who has won every important golf title except the Maple Leaf championship, and others.

In this galaxy of pros, little hope is held out for an amateur winning the title but there will be a strong simon-pure contingent, including many American sharp-shooters who since the opening of the summer season have been readying their weapons in play over Quebec's 100 golf courses, scattered from the rugged tip of Gaspe to the greenwood mountain resorts of the Laurentian district.

It is a curious fact that in the last five years every championship has had to be decided by a playoff round as the championship rounds have found the leaders tied. Diegel and Armour themselves started this habit in 1931 with the smooth-stroking Tommy finally emerging on top. Last year the same Scot went through a terrific playoff round with Ky. Laffoon before capturing his title.

Market and Mining News

METALS SOAR AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP) — Metals soared on the Montreal stock exchange today and provided the necessary impetus for the list to halt its reactionary down trend.

Consolidated Mining & Smelting closed at 173 which erased yesterday's substantial loss of 4 points and added another 4 for good measure. Nickel moved up to 29¼, its highest point since 1930, before closing at 29, up ¼.

Power issues did not fare so well. Ottawa Power slipped one to 75½ while Quebec Power dropped 1¼ to 14¼. Power corporation and Bathurst eased fractions. Montreal Power gained ⅛ at 33⅛.

Brewery stocks, with only one exception, were stronger. National Breweries common advanced ½ to 37 while the preferred stock picked up 1½ at 41½. Associated Breweries eased ¼ to 14.

Consolidated Up at Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP). — Metals, oils and liquors had points of strength on the Toronto industrial share market today but these were more than offset by spotty weakness throughout the list.

Consolidated Smelters climbed 7½ to 173. Nickel touched a new high mark for the year at 29¼ and closed at 29 for a fractional gain. Ford A had a net loss of ½ to 27¼. Brazilian and C.P.R. were quiet and steady.

International petroleum recovered ⅝ of yesterday's loss. British American and Imperial were both up ⅛ at the close. Trade in the distillery stocks was largely confined to Distillers Seagrams which closed at 24⅞ to show a gain of ⅜.

Steel of Canada issues, Dominion Bridge, Canadian Car common and Dominion Steel registered fractional gains but lower prices prevailed in the construction issues. Dominion tar stocks lost ⅜ to a point, Canada Cement pfd. 2 points and Gypsum ¼. Banks were slightly off color also.

District Manager at Nelson

C. G. HOGARTH, C.L.U.

The Great-West Life announces the appointment of C. G. Hogarth, C.L.U., formerly of the Vancouver Branch Office, to the position of District Manager at Nelson, B.C. In September of 1932 he was transferred to Vancouver to be placed in charge of the Service Department of that Agency. He is now charged with further responsibilities in opening up the district in and around Nelson for the Company.

Mr. Hogarth has been prominent in Life Underwriters' activities. In 1927 he secured his degree of C.L.U., was elected President of the Regina Branch of the Life Underwriters for 1932, and until leaving at the present time is Vice-President of the Vancouver Life Underwriters' Association.

FLOUR TO PAY FOR RAILWAY

TOKYO, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Soviet government has contracted to take 400,000 sacks of Japanese flour in part payment for the former Chinese Eastern Railway and further similar orders are anticipated, according to the newspaper Yomiuri.

The transaction is believed largely responsible for a considerable rise in the price of Japanese wheat and flour.

The agreement by which Manchukuo bought the railway provides that, after the first payment in cash, further payments might be in products of Manchukuo or Japanese origin.

WINNIPEG GAINS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (CP)—Higher prices for wheat ruled in the world's grain markets today as crop conditions in the large producing countries remained decidedly unfavorable. Futures on the Winnipeg exchange closed 1⅞ to 1¼ cents advanced.

Contributing to local strength was the sale for export of an estimated 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat—the second day of half-million-bushel sales—and futures closed at their best prices, August 87¾, October 86⅞ and December 86¼ cents.

Trading here was active throughout. Export interests were credited with supplying most of the market's support which absorbed fairly heavy selling without difficulty. Today's advance followed a 1¾-cent gain yesterday.

U. S. DOLLAR OFF

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP)—The pound sterling eased 5-32 of a cent to 4.99⅛ on Montreal foreign exchange today while the United States dollar was down 1-16 of 1 per cent to 1.00 5-32, the French franc at 6.64 was off .01 of a cent.

WALL STREET TURNS HIGHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP). — Wall street's attack of legislative chills appeared to be passing today.

Led by steels, farm shares and a number of active specialties, the stock market started to climb back up the hill after its recent tumble. Gains in a number of prominent shares ranged from major fractions to a point or so, while a few pushed ahead several points.

Many of the steels, including U.S. and Bethlehem, made new highs for a year or more before receding slightly, as reports from the industry continued cheerful. The best gains in the stock list were in the industrial division, with utilities generally confirming their advances to fractions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .4 of a point at 48.4. Turnover of 1,757,380 shares was smaller than in the early part of the week when stocks were under pressure.

BONDS STEADY

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—A steadier tone in United States government loans paved the way for modest improvement in the bond market today.

Strongly supported from the outset, offerings of both treasury issues and guaranteed obligations dried up considerably when bids of small fractions above Tuesday's finals made their appearance during the first half hour.

CHICAGO GAINS

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two cents was added to wheat futures prices again today amid war talk, the possible bullish effect of which, if any, was obscure.

Selling pressure in the wheat pit eased with lightened hedging operations corresponding to a further decline in the movement of southwestern grain.

BLACK COCK'S WORK PLEASES THE SYNDICATE

Calgary Men Inspect Vein Discovered in Raise

CONNECTION IS ABOUT THROUGH

Property Expected to Be Shipping Ore Shortly

R. W. Wallace, C. A. Crist, A. J. Bartle and T. B. Stevens of Calgary, members of the syndicate financing the operation of the Black Cock gold property on Wild Horse creek near Ymir, arriving in Nelson Sunday, paid a visit to the mine Monday accompanied by Alfred McMillan and Mining Engineer W. M. Myers of the A. H. Green company, and expressed themselves after the inspection as highly pleased with the result of the development work done during the past two months.

The raise being made from the lower tunnel to connect with the main shaft has developed what is believed to be a new vein of five feet or more in width, carrying values of from $22 to $35 per ton.

This work is expected to connect this week with the shaft, which connection will release the water and enable these workings to be reopened. In earlier years shipments of ore from this shaft ran from 1½ to two ounces in gold per ton.

PLANT POSSIBLE

It is expected the Black Cock (Ymir, B.C.) Mining Syndicate will be shipping ore to the smelter at an early date, and if present indications are fulfilled, this may lead to the building of a milling plant in due course.

The Calgary visitors were greatly pleased and impressed with the highly important developments taking place in the mines in the Ymir area, and with the Yankee Girl and Ymir Consolidated mills recently built and now under continuous operation.

LITTLE DIFFICULTY LOADING

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Shipping Federation of British Columbia expects little inconvenience to the port of Vancouver through refusal of workers connected with the Maritime Federation of the Pacific coast to handle British Columbia cargoes, President J. E. Hall stated today.

"The embargo applies to vessels flying the American flag and, as the bulk of export and import traffic of British Columbia ports is handled by ships of Canada, Britain and other countries, there has been and will be little interference with our normal business," Mr. Hall said.

Wholesale Prices Unchanged

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—The index number of wholesale prices for the week ended August 16, stood at 71.6 and was unchanged from the previous week, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported today. The index is computed on the base 1926 equals 100.

MORE ABOUT

Selassie Weeps

The war, he predicted in the solemn tones of a medieval prophet, not only would drench Italy and Ethiopia in blood, but might drag in the whole world.

"Unhappily," he cried, "if such a conflict leads to a world struggle between the white and black races the very existence of humanity itself will be threatened.

"We will be back in 1914!"

"There will be no more security for the world than there was then. International treaties will have no more validity than the word of a thief."

His eyes smoldered as he proudly declared his own people have "sufficient courage and patriotism to bear the assaults of Italy alone."

A "DISASTER"

But he warned:

If other nations are drawn in, as surely they will be, it will be a disaster of the first magnitude.

"I pray to God each day that such a catastrophe may be averted."

As he spoke, his tense capital, echoing to the weird ululations of frenzied warriors, demonstrating their zeal in mimic war, heard reports from over the empire that a wave of patriotism is sweeping the land.

From the hands of native runners came word that the emperor's subjects in all provinces have been shaken from their traditional lethargy.

The emperor disdained his glittering throne and sat in an ordinary armychair behind a flat-topped desk as he talked to the correspondent.

The United States, Great Britain and the other great powers, he said, "do not realize the gravity of the situation."

In measured tones of the ancient, semitized Amharic, interpreted by George Herouy, son of his foreign minister, Selassie opened the interview with the greeting: "Peace be unto you."

"It is kind of the Associated Press to send somebody who attended my coronation and who knows my country," he said.

"We have had little more with which to fight Italy than the weapon of publicity, which, I hope, ultimately will enable peace to triumph over war."

Big Crowd Watches Swimmers, Divers in Action at Lakeside; Three Girls Tie for Aggregate

John Hunter Heads Boys; Rivalry Keen

Stealing a march on the weather Wednesday afternoon, which for the first time in several days was bright and sunny, Lakeside park officials staged the annual city water sports for the enjoyment of one of the largest Nelson crowds to watch aquatics at the park for some time.

From the toddlers to the more experienced, it was a fight to get into the swim, with races and diving drawing as many as 15 or 16 entries in one event. The youngsters went into competition with a splash and a vim that proved the keenest possible rivalry.

Something of the rivalry that was displayed in the fight for the handsome medals provided by the city, for first place, was realized in scanning points following the meet.

THREE TIE FOR HONORS

On the 5-3-1 point-basis for first, second and third, three girls tied for first place with 19 points, Atta Lahaise, Lillian Hickey and Molly Murray of South Slocan. Peggy Triggs was right on their heals with 18 points.

Atta Lahaise and Lillian Hickey took first, one second and one third for their 19 points, and Molly Murray had one first, four seconds and two thirds.

John Hunter, with 20 points, four firsts, took individual laurels in the boys' section. John Norris was second with 15 points and his brother, Mac Norris, was third. Honors, other than first, second and third place winners, were fairly well distributed among the boys.

Backed by the city, Olivia Dickson, Lakeside park instructress, Life Guard Norman McLeod and R. E. Potter, city engineer, put on a fine program of diving and swimming during the afternoon. First place contestants received neat bronze medals, which are to be engraved free of cost to the holders. Second place winners received red ribbons, and third place contestants, blue ribbons.

LAKE SWIM

One of the feature events of the afternoon, the swim across the West Arm from the north shore opposite the park, saw many entries, nine of them girls. John Hunter and Atta Lahaise won the girls' and boys' events to add five points to their total. Molly Murray, diminutive entrant, was a close second in her event. During the swim Jean McDonald was seized with cramps and had to be taken from the water.

Races and diving brought to light some splendid material as well as keen competition.

Diving was judged by R. E. Potter, city engineer, and in the case of the more advanced events, is included one standing front dive, one running jack-knife, and two optionals. Paul Brook and Frank Stewart assisted with the supervision of the sports.

Duck diving for small tin plates and a life-saving race, when a swimmer had to tow in a subject, brought the program to a close about 5 p.m.

Among the big crowd attracted to the park for the sports were Mayor J. P. Morgan and Aldermen Roy Sharp, T. W. Slader and H. B. Lindsay.

FOREIGN OFFICE

The foreign office in the last 24 hours has seen representatives of all the great self-governing dominions, leaders of the opposition parties in parliament and other important political figures, called in to be acquainted with the detailed governmental view.

The dominion's representatives who saw Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, and Anthony Eden, minister for league of nations affairs, were not asked to make an special representations to their dominions. Their action is left to their own discretion.

Also informed of the present critical position, as is the usual procedure in circumstances like the present, were Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the Liberal opposition, and George Lansbury, official leader of the opposition and Labor leader.

Another visitor, David Lloyd George, was invited rather because the foreign secretary regards the wartime prime minister as an elder statesman with vast experience of European politics, and in preparation for the decisions that must be taken the government is leaving no stone unturned. Winston Churchill was also at the foreign office.

There is no question that the great issue is that of imposing sanctions of an economic and financial nature against Italy once she becomes an aggressor.

The meeting between the foreign secretary and the Dominion representatives lasted three-quarters of an hour. It was said that no similar meeting was contemplated again immediately at least.

The foreign secretary did not mention the possibility of Dominion participation in any military preparations.

Those attending were Col. G. P. Vanier of the Canadian High Commissioner's office; Stanley Bruce, Australian High Commissioner; Sir James Parr, High Commissioner for New Zealand; J. W. Dulanty, High Commissioner for the Irish Free State, and a representative of the South African high commissioner.

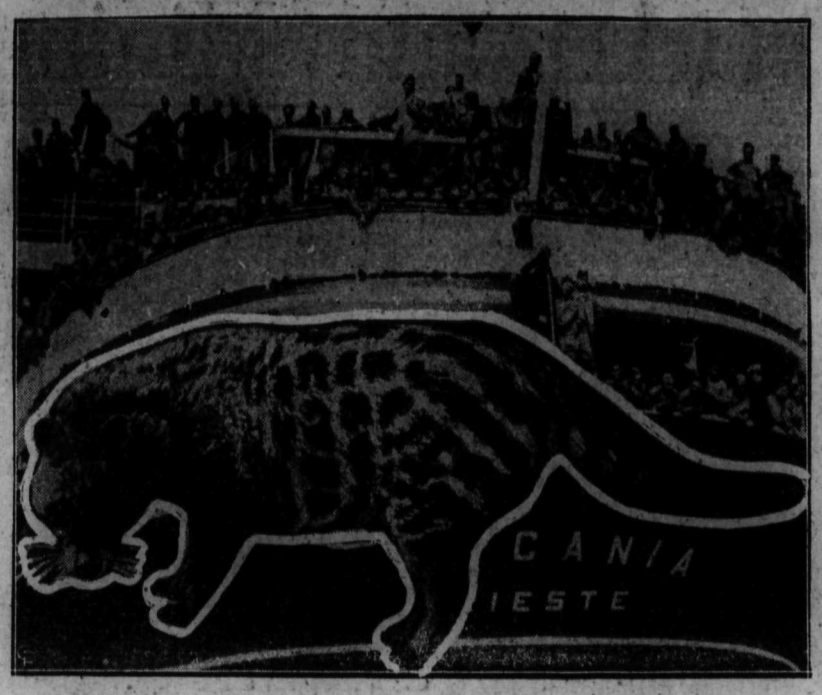
The Canadian high commissioner, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, will be another week on holiday in Scotland and it is not proposed that he return sooner.

PRAY FOR RAIN

LOGGIEVILLE, N.B., Aug. 21 (CP) — With the blessed sacrament exposed upon the altar, a continuous prayer for rain was uttered tonight in the little Catholic church here while smoke from the worst forest fires in years hung menacingly over this industrial and fishing village on the Miramichi river.

Although no residences had fallen prey to the flames in this district many residents began to remove furniture and other belongings from their homes in preparation for any necessary evacuation from the village.

Ethiopia Developing Her Own Primitive Gas Attack



Italian soldiers may have very latest deadly gases at their disposal for the discomfort of Ethiopian troops, but the Ethiopians, backward though they may be, are cultivating a gas attack of their own in the person of the civit cat, which is an enlarged edition of a skunk, and which is said to give off an odor three times as potent. The Italian soldiers shown above, embarking for Eritrea, will probably experience contact with these animals.

Harding Memorial Is Rededicated

Thousands Gather at Stanley Park

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP) — Thousands of Vancouver citizens today joined 1200 delegates to the 18th annual convention of the Pacific northwest district of Kiwanis under the stately fir trees of Stanley park to witness the rededication of the Harding goodwill memorial.

The words of the late Warren G. Harding, first president of the United States to visit Canada while in office, in an address in Stanley park July 26, 1923, were recalled:

"Our protection is in our fraternity, our armor in our faith, the tie that binds more firmly year by year is ever-increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens; and the compact is not of perishable parchment but of fair and honorable dealing which, God grant, shall continue for all time."

Kiwanis international erected the memorial, dedicated Sept. 16, 1925, to commemorate President Harding and the historic event of the first visit of a United States president to Canada.

The United States was officially represented today by Hon. Clarence D. Martin, governor of the state of Washington, and Canada by Hon. George M. Weir, British Columbia provincial secretary and minister of education.

MacDonald Says

This policy will be placed before an emergency meeting of the full cabinet tomorrow.

At the same time the government kept parliamentary leaders, the dominions and the United States fully informed of the situation.

(The United States senate adopted a resolution designed to safeguard American neutrality in the event of a foreign war).

The special informal meeting of cabinet heads in the prime minister's office, held in an atmosphere reminiscent of the 1931 domestic crisis and the days of 1914, lasted two hours.

SIX MINISTERS

There were six ministers on hand at the beginning and later Malcolm MacDonald, son of the former premier, who has charge of the colonial office, arrived.

The others were Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council; Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary; Anthony Eden, minister for league of nations affairs; Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer; Sir John Simon, home secretary; Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

MacDonald, who acted as prime minister until Baldwin's arrival from France, previously declared that the situation "is the most serious we have faced since 1914. It is a very grave situation."

The cabinet is studying whether to lift the ban on exports of arms to Ethiopia and Italy, with authoritative quarters hinting that the ban will be lifted for both nations.

Sentiment of the key ministers was against recalling parliament now and the cabinet is likely to approve the stand, informed quarters said. It was felt that a parliament session, however, may follow the meeting of the league council September 4 on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Great Britain, it was said, does not intend to push for an earlier meeting at Geneva, desiring to let the council meet at the scheduled time.

The "Perfect Crime"?

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP)—The mysterious slaying of Mrs. Gladys Glena Fair, golden-haired employee of the naval board of inspection and survey, was termed today by Captain of Detectives O. M. Murphy a "perfect crime".

"We have no clues as to the identity of the killer or the motives for his gruesome crime," Captain Murphy said. "We are not able to establish within 10 hours the time of the slaying."

BRITANNIA TAKES OPTION ON TYEE

VICTORIA, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Britannia Mining & Smelting company, one of the larger operating companies in British Columbia, has optioned the Tyee Consolidated Mining company's holdings at Mt. Sicker, near Duncan, Vancouver Island, and will commence an immediate plan of exploratory development. The Britannna company today completed an arrangement with the Tyee organization by which it obtained control of 75 per cent of the Tyee stock.

If the expectations of remaining values are realized it is proposed to erect a modern flotation mill on Mt. Sicker and develop the properties in a large way. In addition to the possible ore reserves underground the former ore dumps aggregate 240,000 tons.

To Confer on Trade Agreements

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A group of western members headed by the acting majority leader, Colorado's representative, Edward T. Taylor, plan a conference soon with President Roosevelt in regard to reciprocal trade agreements with Canada and South American countries affecting the live stock industry.

Taylor, as dean of the western delegations, was asked to make the White House appointment. He said he was hopeful the group could see the president before the week is out.

Many Cups and Prizes at Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 21—Any time of day or night almost anywhere in the city can be heard the skirl of pipes being warmed up for the Caledonian sports day, August 24.

With a splendid representation of Trail athletes, and competitors from outside points for the sports events, field competition promises to be keen. A struggle will be well recompensed for splendid prizes are being posted for the different events. Thirty-four cups grace a local window on Cedar avenue, while windows of two adjoining business places exhibit the valuable prizes.

AGAIN HEADS THE K. OF C.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—Bishop Francis C. Kelley of Oklahoma City today told the supreme council of Knights of Columbus that the president of the United States could stop "religious persecution" in Mexico if and when he so desired.

"The president can do this if he wants to," said the bishop. "In fact, no government can survive more than six months in Mexico without the approval of the government of the United States."

The bishop's address followed the renaming for his fifth two-year term of Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., as supreme knight of the order and the election for a full slate of officers.

PATTULLO URGES A LIBERAL VOTE

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP) — Premier Pattullo tonight urged British Columbia electors to vote for Liberal candidates in the coming federal election.

In a public address he outlined various problems of this province and quoted Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King on the matters concerned.

The provincial government had repeatedly urged that primary responsibility to deal with the problem of unemployment rested with the Dominion, the provinces and municipalities to cooperate. Obviously, a national organization should be created to formulate necessary measures and to cooordinate all effort to that end.

Mr. King "has declared that a national unemployment commission should be set up along the lines indicated."

The provincial government had upon innumerable occasions urged the necessity of a works program to supplement private endeavor.

Mr. King had made "the positive statement that a works program is essential and indicated various directions in which such work could profitably be carried on."

Tariffs and freight rates were responsible in large measure for the adverse balance against British Columbia in eastern Canada and "there must be a readjustment to place us on a sounder basis economically in the confederation."

U.S. SENATE

sistant Secretary R. Walton Moore of the state department and Chairman McReynolds (D.-Tenn.) of the house foreign affairs committee.

While he has made no statement on neutrality legislation, intimates of the president believe he favors permissive rather than mandatory legislation to conform with existing policy.

BRIEF DEBATE

With the dark days of 1917 in mind the senate passed with only brief debate a resolution encompassing a mandatory ban on arms shipments to belligerents and a declaration that Americans would travel on belligerent vessels "at their own risk." Both provisions departed from previous neutrality policies.

The resolution also would provide for the first time federal licensing of muntions manufacturers and exporters. This would be made a permanent policy.

House action was uncertain because of opposition to the senate's mandatory arms embargo feature, although nine representatives assured President Roosevelt of favorable action if a vote could be had before adjournment.

The senate resolution omitted a proposed ban against loans to belligerents.

CHARGE BIG CAMPAIGN BY SERVICE COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—An intensive campaign against the administration utilities bill—enlisting even the aid of filling station attendants—was charged up against the cities services company today by the senate lobby committee.

From William B. S. Winans, comptroller of the company, chairman Hugo Black (D.-Ala.) drew an estimate that more than $200,000 had been spent and an agreement that a "mistatement" was made to employers urging them to solicit telegrams to Washington expressing vehement opposition to the measure.

FIRES LIGHT IN NELSON AREA

VICTORIA, Aug. 2 (CP).—Vancouver Island and the coast region which is included in the Vancouver forest district was the only bad spot on the British Columbia fire map as the last week closed, according to forest branch reports. Other sections of the province had cool and showery weather and a small fire toll.

In the lower coast area, 32 fires occured last week, bringing the total for the season to 319 as compared with 176 to the same date last year. The total for the week in the rest of the province was 36 outbreaks.

Interior districts have had a very light fire season so far. In the Nelson section 207 blazes have been reported against 403 last year and in the Kamloops area 139 compared with 271 for the corresponding period of 1'34. As a result the toll from a provincial point of view is well below last year with 771 fires to date against 966.

PROTESTS CUT IN JEWS QUOTA

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 21 (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, veteran Palestine labor leader, accused the British government today of having "committed robbery" by artifically cutting the immigration quota of Jews seeking to enter Palestine.

In a speech to the 19th Biennial World Zionist congress Ben-Gurion was quoted by the Jewish telegraphic agency as declaring:

"We must complain to the world from here that despite the sympathetic interest of the Palestine high commissioner, the mandatory power has robbed us, nevertheless, in these difficult years of oppression for world Jewry, of justified immigration possibilities and of thousands of Jewish laborers who might have been employed on public works, by raising artificial immigration barriers."
