Fred Blakeman, Nelson First Aider, Is Promoted

Is Named First Aid Instructor for the Canadian Pacific With Winnipeg as Home; Has Numerous Honors

Frederick Blakeman, for several years captain of the Nelson C.P.R. first aid team, has been appointed first aid instructor for the Canadian Pacific railway, western lines, according to announcement made by W. M. Neal, general manager. Mr. Blakeman will succeed E. G. Noble, who died recently.

FREDERICK BLAKEMAN

Mr. Blakeman has lived in Nelson since 1922, and during that time has been connected with the mechanical department of the railway. He has always shown a deep interest in first aid work, and has made an enviable record with the teams he has captained in the tests across the Dominion. Under his leadership the Nelson team has won the British Columbia championship for the past 10 years, has won the western lines championship twice, and is, in fact, the present holder.

Mr. Blakeman holds all the first aid degrees in the St. Johns brigade of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

He hailed from Newport, Shropshire in England originally, and is 53 years old. He is married, and Mrs. Blakeman is also a first aid enthusiast.

Yearly, Mr. Blakeman has held first aid classes in Nelson, nurses, Scouts, Guides and others taking instruction from him.

At present he is in the east.

B.C. Indian Escapes Custody and Makes Way Into Bushes

Is Carrying Gun; Five Police Take Up His Trail

VICTORIA, Nov. 27 (CP) —Jimmie Decker, Indian, carrying a high-power rifle but possibly without ammunition, was leading British Columbia provincial police a hard chase in the William's Lake district tonight.

He is wanted on a charge of murder and, it was revealed today, has once escaped from custody mounted on a fleet horse, and has been hunted for the past fortnight.

English Decker, a brother, is being held on a charge of murder in the same case, the death of "Shorty" Charlie, also an Indian, who was shot in the back and burned in his cabin. Another Indian, Freddie Jack, is held as a material witness.

Jimmie was also arrested near Alkali lake but got away at 130-mile house while being taken to Williams Lake. He had been told by a constable to help him loop a hitch. Jimmy made his loop, tossed the rope-end over the pony's back to the officer and backed toward the bush and got away before the officer realized it.

Jimmy, through the night got a horse and has set a hard pace since using all his wile and knowledge of the interior British Columbia country.

Today three constables caught up with him near the Alkali reserve and he was forced to abandon his horse to get away into the bush, still carrying his rifle, but leaving behind a full box of ammunition.

Two more constables have been sent to the district and police hope to effect an arrest within a couple of days.

HE WASHES GOLD FROM DIRTY SOCKS

NORBUCK, Alta., Nov. 27 (CP) Ole Thompson, grubbing stumps for T. L. Duncan, is an old gold prospector. He washed gold on the Saskatchewan last spring and made sufficient exploration of the streams here to convince him gold is to be found around Norbuck.

Saturday, at the close of the day's work, he took out his "pan," washed his socks and found "color" in the result. He will try the streams again in in the spring.

BLIZZARD HALTS NAVIGATION

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov 27 (AP) —A blizzard, accompanied by near zero temperature tonight halted navigation on the St. Mary's river. The steamers Keewatin and Bayton reported six inches of ice between Lime island Detour.

Stockport Member Pulls "Hat" Trick

Claims Japanese-Made Hats Sell in Africa as Empire Goods

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP cable)—Captain A. V. Dower, Conservative member for Stockport, startled the house of commons today by suddenly donning a 40-cent Japanese hat and raising it in salute to J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions. It was a light grey soft felt with black band.

This was the type of hat, Captain Dower declared, selling for about $4.20 a dozen in South Africa, under a designation which would lead to the belief it was an English hat. He asked what did the secretary intend to do about this latest form of Japanese competition.

Mr. Thomas replied each Dominion had a right to settle its own position.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE STILL FIGHTS BUT HIS CONDITION REPORTED GRAVE

MONTREAL, Nov. 27 (CP) —"Sir Arthur Currie is holding his own," read the official bulletin issued tonight by physicians.

"There has been no change in his condition in the last 24 hours," the bulletin continued. "As far as his condition is concerned it is just about the same as last night. His temperature of 104 degrees has not changed since late Sunday evening. His respiration remains between 34 and 40, which is about the same as Saturday. His pulse is between 100 and 110, also about the same. There has been no extension of the pneumonia."

During the late afternoon and early evening the condition of the commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps in France continued grave. He was still receiving oxygen as the 21st day of his battle for life from a critical illness drew to a close.

At noon he had rallied slightly under the oxygen treatment. Faint hopes of his McGill university friends revived slightly. They felt his roust constiution and sturdy spirit were bearing the brunt of the latest complication in his illness splendidly. Admiration was expressed by his doctors who declared: "Sir Arthur is making a wonderful fight. His condition is grave, however."

GOVERNOR IS PLEASED WITH THE GOOD JOB

"They'll Learn They Can't Kidnap in This State"

ROTH REFUSED TO CALL GUARD

Will Never Pardon Kidnappers; the Sheriff Hurt

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 27 (AP)—Frank approval from Governor James Rolph Jr. and other state officials for giving "a fine lesson to the whole nation" eased the taut nerves of this normally peaceful town today, scene of the lynching last night of John M. Holmes and Thomas H. Thurmond, confessed kidnapper-slayers of Brooke Hart, San Jose youth.

"They'll learn they can't kidnap in this state," were the ringing words from the governor in Sacramento. "If anyone is arrested for the good job I'll pardon them all."

Such was the assurance from Rolph as the tense town came to a realization of the seriousness of summary justice dealt out in pioneer fashion by the mob that stormed the jail and seized Holmes and Thurmond.

THOUSANDS CHEER

In St. James park, across the street from the jail, the victims were strung up to separate trees while thousands of men, women and children, looking on in carnival spirit, cheered with a lustiness that could be heard for blocks.

The governor's attitude brought a flood of messages to his office in Sacramento, some praising and some condemning him.

He went beyond giving his approval by saying he would like to

BRITISH MARKET ACT APPLIES IN THIS DOMINION

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—Principles in the British marketing acts were applicable to Canada also, L. F. Burrows, Ottawa, secretary of the Canadian horticultural council, told the Canadian agriculturists' leaders in conference here today.

"In this country, as elsewhere," he said, "legislation has proved necessary to put the standardization of farm produce on a national basis."

Although others are affected, the producer has most at stake and most to lose by continuance of the present economic troubles, according to Burrows. Cooperation of all agriculturists was necessary, he emphasized.

Burrows said that under the British acts a two-third majority of producers must favor a marketing scheme before it comes into force. When approved the marketing scheme would have the force of statute.

Light Unanswered as Boy Strangles

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Nov. 27 (CP) A call light on a telephone switchboard blinked unanswered in a Brooklyn apartment house today.

Had someone been there to answer it, this story might never have been written, for on the other end of the wire in an upstairs hallway Joel Sipner, a three-year-old boy, slowly strangled to death in the coils of a telephone cord.

NEW YORK—Father Charles E. Coughlin defending President Roosevelt's monetary program at a mass meeting declared the purpose of the "Wall street and Morgan attack on the administration" is to "ruin Mr. Roosevelt and build up Ogden Mills for president in 1936."

NEW YORK— James P. Warburg writes Senator W. E. Borah that he favors return to "modernized" gold standard, on a bullion instead of a coin base, with early revaluation of the dollar. Thirty-eight Columbia university teachers call for return to a gold standard, warning of major financial crisis. Dollar bounds upward, Wall street viewing stationary gold price as suggestive of a leaning toward a more stable dollar.

London—dollar closes at $5.11½, a net gain of 8¾ cents over Saturday.

DENOUNCES "SNIPING"

Boston—Major Curley denounced "sniping" of President Roosevelt's National Recovery act as intended to maintain obsolete system "through which 80 per cent of the people have been impoverished for the enrichment of 20 per cent of the people." Assails Alfred E. Smith and other critics.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Officials of the American Federation of Labor, the American legion of New York and the Crusaders of America, tonight joined hands in a mass meeting of "sound money advocates" at historic Carnegie hall for the announced purpose of stopping "the flow of greenbacks."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The plan for Governor Eugene Black of the Federal Reserve board to visit the praident at the little White House in Georgia set reports buzzing, none of them confirmed, that a new move in the monetary program was in the making.

GAINES CASE TO END TODAY

State Asks Verdict of Guilty Against "Cunning" Lady Woman

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 27 (AP) — In a cold reasoning appeal, devoid of dramatic eloquence, Prosecutor Louis A. Bunge asked a superior court jury today to convict Lily Banka Gaines of first degree murder for the shooting of her husband, Dr. James I. Gaines.

He did not demand the death penalty, leaving the sentence to the discretion of the jury, if it convicts the attractive young widow. It can either be death on the gallows or life imprisonment.

Describing Mrs. Gaines as a calm, cold, sphinx-like woman, who planned a murder for money, Bunge spent two hours and 45 mintues telling the state's story of the crime, as brought out by more than 40 witnesses.

Pointing to her as that "cunning woman, that cruelly cunning woman," Bunge went over step by step his conception of how and why the crime was committed.

George A. Gormley, convicted as an accomplice of the countess, was given from four to eight years and a motion for a new trial was overruled by Justice W. Cox of the District of Columbia supreme court.

They were convicted of taking money from Miss Maret, after having her "arrested" by a "policeman" while she and Gormley were parked in an automobile on a lonely road.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP).—The Liberal government of Premier T. D. Pattullo won four out of six seats today in deferred elections in Victoria and Vancouver Center for the British Columbia legislature, and elected two cabinet ministers.

The Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, already recognized as the probable official opposition, made a gain of one. The sixth seat went Independent.

Liberals 34.
C.C.F. seven.
Independents two.
Independent Non-Partisans two.

Labor one.

Victoria city divided its political allegiance by returning two Liberals, one Cooperative Commonwealth Federation candidate, and one Independent.

R. C. CONNELL was the successful C.C.F. nominee, while HERBERT ANSCOMB, former mayor, was elected as an Independent.

It was a hard fight among 23 candidates, and two or three of the Independents ran neck-and-neck, with the successful four making a gradual draw-away.

Winning two seats in Vancouver Centre for the Liberal government of British Columbia today, HON. GORDON SLOAN, attorney-general, and GORDON WISMER, polled a total of 13,561 votes.

W. M. Lefeaux and J. S. Taylor, who put up a strenuous fight for the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, received a total of 10,373.

Two candidates running as Conservatives but without official backing polled a total of 2776. They are D. H. Kent and A. DeB. McPhillips.

WOMAN DOCTOR DENIES CRIME

Says Confession Was Put Into Mouth by Police

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP) —Dr. Alice Wynekoop was reported by her attorney tonight to have repudiated from her cot in the country jail hospital the statement that she shot her daughter-in-law, Rheta, as the girl lay dead on a surgical operating table.

Police and prosecutors expressed amazement at the reported retraction, pointing out that the 62-year-old woman physician had been emphatic in declaring she would not do so. However, they said the repudiation would have no effect on the state's case.

"Dr. Wynekoop replied. No, I didn't shoot anyone,' when I asked her whether she had shot Rheta, Attorney Frank Tyrrell said. "She told me the police had put the words of the statement into her mouth after they had questioned her for hours."

SOLAR SYSTEM IS CLUB TOPIC

Lanskail, Fleet, Meek and McDowell Speak

One of the most interesting lectures presented to the Nelson Amateur Radio society was given Sunday night by W. G. C. Lanskail at the third of the regular meetings of the present season. Mr. Lanskail's topic was "The Solar System", and after the lecture he answered a number of questions.

Commencing with the central point of the solar system, the sun, Mr. Lanskail took each planet in turn, giving data and interesting features of each, finally ending with the newly discovered planet Pluto, outside the orbit of Uranus. Considerable attention was given to the various accompanying orbs of these planets, and the particular uses they have to astronomers in measuring the speed of light, and in defining the mass of the heavenly body around which the satellite revolves.

Towards the close of the lecture, the fixed stars were touched upon in a more or less elementary way, the immensity of intervening space, which defies the imagination of the average man being brought out in a comprehensive manner. The eclipse of the earth, a feature of great importance was illustrated by the lecturer on the blackboard, and the phases oft he moon was demonstrated by means of a tennis ball in relation to the central light of the club rooms. Certain features of the comets were touched upon, and one or two theories regarding same which have been advanced recently.

Quite a number of questions were asked at the close of the lecture, which Mr. Lanskail answered and illustrated. Later on he pointed out a number of constellations in the sky, which was clear, but as the moon was very bright, rather dimmed many of the stars in its proximity. Mr. Boyd Affleck was an interested visitor.

FLEET IS SPEAKER

The previous week, the evening was devoted to a very enlightening lecture by Gordon Fleet on "Lightning—and its static effect." A considerable amount of data had been accumulated by the speaker, and it was well illustrted, and a few theories of his own were advanced regarding the origin of static. John Applewhaite of Willow Point was a visitor at the Club, and gave several of his experiences and observations of lightning while on forestry patrol in the upper peaks of various mountains.

The first lecture of the season was given by R. J. Meek and Gordon McDowell, who spoke on their observations and impressions of the electrical and radio exhibits at the World's Century of Progress Exhibition at Chicago, where both members visited during the summer. At an exhibition of such vast size it was quite natural that two observers, although interested in the same subjects would see different sides of the many exhibits, and have entirely different impressions.

GYROS TO AID WELFARE FUND

To Sponsor Concerts; Gyrettes Attend Luncheon

Gyro members were hosts to their wives, the "Gyrettes", at a luncheon held in the silver ball room of the Hume hotel Monday evening, when preparations for two Christmas Cheer concerts were discussed and a novelty program, featured by a talk given by Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, was enjoyed.

The C. M. and S. Male Glee club members of Trail have offered to put on a program in Nelson under the auspices of the Gyros and some 44, including three lady soloists, will come over.

Wives of the Gyro club, with members of the Trinity Service club, will be responsible for the second concert for Christmas Cheer and welfare purposes. Miss I. Fleury, convener, Mrs A. Baird, Mrs. G.A.C. Walley and R. D. Barnes were named to represent the Gyros and "Gyrettes."

Gordon Bennett was in charge of the program which was of an impromptu nature. Ven. Archdeacon Graham, who was asked to speak "in a lighter vein," declared that having forgotten about the request to speak, would talk on a poor memory. The speaker's formula's for memory cure proved a care cure as well and those present were kept in laughter throughout the talk. He thought that "Gyrettes" was the wrong interpretation of the Lady Gyro. He thought it should be a Gyroines—a word which, he said, was sweet scented and came trickling from the tongue.

Harry Ferguson won a silent acting contest, another fun producer. Members were allowed the task of representing some incidents in their everyday lives, lawn cutting etc. J. D. Notman, Charles Doctor, Dr. G. A. C. Walley, Harry Ferguson and others took part in the contest which was judged by Miss Fleury, Mrs. G. C. Arneson and Mrs. P. E. Poulin. The Gyro vocalists, who aspire to honors in the community festival, were heard and orchestra numbers were given.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Mrs. C. Hookings called attention to the street in front of her residence on Nelson avenue, and to the fact that water ran off the street on to her premises, asking that something be done to remedy the situation. She will be advised that a cement curbing, which is necessary, cannot be laid so late in the year, but that a temporary fixture will be placed there.

Madame Papazian wrote to the council asking that the light bill for the rooms over the old Starland theatre during the time in which they were occupied by Captain Miller, be not charged against her, as she had had conversations with the city office when the bill was accruing and obtained an agreement that she would not be liable for it. The matter will be checked and reported at the next meeting.

A request from L. S. Bradley for a new water service at his 911 Josephine residence, was reported as carried out.

A bill for repairing a car of W. E. Keyt's which was damaged by one of the city's street cars, was ordered paid.

TRAIL COUNCIL BRIEFS

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 27.—Assistance to construct a road and retaining wall was asked of the city council by W. J. and F. J. Owen, who proposed to put four lots at the rear of the city hall into condition for a residential construction. The two men stated that they would deed 10 feet of the front line of their property to the city so that the road could be built to only necessitate about a 10-foot retaining wall. Plans were produced to show the new proposal. The matter was left in abeyance pending a visit to the site by the council.

A refund of road tax collected from L. E. Askew in 1932 was moved, a letter from Mr. Askew showing that he was over 60 years of age at the time, which made him exempt of road tax.

A communication from the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood asking cancellation of the penalty on arreared taxes for 1932-33 provided they paid the amount owing by December 15, was ordered filed, the council having no authority to make any change.

Recommendation of the board of works submitted by Alderman J. H Woodburn, chairman, that the Topping street hill be terraced with two rock walls, was accepted.

The exchange of $5000 Dominion four per cent bonds for $5000 British Columbia 5 per cent bonds was reported by Alderman E. L. Groutage, chairman of the finance committee. "The exchange will cost nothing," stated Mr. Groutage, "the city making one per cent on the deal."

That a Christmas bonus of $5 be given city relief workers for December was an order ruled by the council.

Mayor Bruno Lerose, Aldermen E L. Groutage and J. H. Woodburn will go to Nelson Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Union of Kootenay Municipalities at which officers will be elected and the constitution, recently drawn up, ratified.

Final reading and adoption was given two tax-sale-lands bylaws.

Seek to Kindle Fire of Religion

Children Worship at Separate Service at St. Paul's

Sunday a new type of worship was inaugurated at St. Paul's, the parents and older children meeting together, and the younger children forming a junior congregation and meeting in the school room.

Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson, continued the thought of the previous theme, when he presented Jesus seeking to start a fire on the earth, or in modern language, to kindle the passionate enthusiasm for the welfare of each human personality. To fire men's hearts with zeal, to save human life from the destroying forces of evil and to give them possession of a Godlike life was the aim of the Master.

At time the fire was kindled it had cost Him a bitter crucifixion, but men took fire. First the blaze was seen in his most intimate friends, then in the mighty mind and heart of Saul of Tarsus.

NEW ENTHUSIASM

Through Him this new enthusiasm captured hearts throughout Asia Minor and then it leaped into the great European cities of Athens, Corinth and Rome. Ever since this zeal for the creation of lives worthy of God, has burned in great souls. Casey took the passions to India, Morrison to China and Livingstone to Africa, and these were followed by thousands into all the world. Today this fire burned in every land and in myriads of Christian homes. The business of the church and the object of every service of worship was to inspire young and old with the life that refuses to injure any human being and will only spend itself in noble helpfulness to family, neighbor and nations.

"This is the grand human passion that saves the human soul from smallness, vice and decay.

"How then can this power be put into the possession of each person? Each life must get contact with some personality that has this vision or passion. Best of all is Jesus Himself, learn His thoughts, see His visions, feel His spirit until this passion to help each human life burns within us and consumes all greed, lust and folly."

Hurry to Get Into Game Is Costly

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 27—Fred Stoushnow was sentenced to a fine of $25 and costs of $2.50 or to 30 days in the Nelson jail by Police Magistrate Noble Binns in the city police court Monday morning. Stoushnow paid the fine.

Stoushnow appeared in police court on November 22 on a driving to the common danger charge and pleaded not guilty. Magistrate Binns gave him the option of altering his plea Monday and Stoushnow pleaded guilty.

Sergeant McMillan testified that Stoushnow passed him on Bay avenue at Spokane street travelling from the direction of the bridge at about 45 miles an hour.

Chief of Police Laurie also gave evidence that Stoushnow passed him on Riverside going at between 45 and 50 miles per hour.

Giving his own evidence Stoushnow told the court that his wife and kid had called for him and he had taken them home. He said he was hurrying back to Morrison's to get back into the game before closing time.

"I have no sympathy with a man driving a car in that manner to get in a poker game," said Magistrate Binns just before he sentenced the charged man.

Bonds Indicate More Strength

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP) — Bonds, especially United States government issues, exhibited further strength today as the domestic gold price was again unchanged and the United States dollar bounded upward in foreign exchange markets.

Today's advances in the government list ranged from 4-32nds to 26-32nds of a point. The best gains were in the treasury loans.

Rails advanced 1 to around 3 points.

French, British, Swiss and other European categories had losses of 1 to around 4 points.

TRAIL BASKET TEAMS COMING

Three Teams Will Play in Nelson on Friday

Inter-city sports will return to Nelson on Friday evening when Trail will send over three of their strongest basketball teams, to play the local representative teams.

Although the local players have only started their league games, they have been practicing steadily for many weeks and are now in top notch condition. Last year a team of players was selected from the junior league to play the Trail Sheiks for the West Kootenay title, and although greatly outweighed, they put up a great battle, only losing out after a close game.

This year in addition to all of last year's players, Bill Vance, Bud Greenwood and other heavier players are turning out. The addition of these more experienced players is expected to add sufficient punch to the local teams to give them victory over district teams. Should the fans support the game, it is the intention of officials to bring in other outside clubs including a strong Spokane team.

With more enthusiasm being shown than for many years, Nelson will field one of the strongest women's basketball clubs ever to wear the Nelson colors. Sue Wilson is playing the best game of her career, and a number of new players are also turning out.

59th Annual Meeting

A BETTER TONE IN BUSINESS

Bank's Assets Increase by $6,700,000

MR. FRANK A. ROLPH, President,

said in part:

Since I addressed you a year ago we have been passing through a period of uncertainty and adjustment, but during the past few months conditions have become more hopeful. The business of the Bank has been conducted on the usual sound principles of banking, as you will see by the Balance Sheet before you.

General Business.

In British Columbia lumbering, fishing and mining industries are all enjoying better conditions. The Port of Vancouver continues to handle large quantities of grain and other commodities. The political situation there has been clarified, and the people, generally speaking, are in a happier and more hopeful frame of mind.

In the Prairie Provinces reports would indicate that the people are in a more hopeful frame of mind. The farmers are deserving of praise for the courage they show in carrying on under very difficult circumstances. Owing to the quotas obtained on behalf of Canada by our Prime Minister, the outlook for the producers of wheat, bacon and other products is much more satisfactory to-day than it was a year ago.

In Ontario we find conditions much more encouraging. The mining industry is prosperous, manufacturing on the whole has improved considerably, unemployment throughout the Province has been considerably reduced. The newsprint situation shows increased production, but prices altogether too low to render operations profitable.

In the Province of Quebec and in the Maritime Provinces conditions are also distinctly better, all reports indicate a decided betterment both in volume of production and in prices obtained.

The improvement in Canada's trade, both import and export, began in May last and continued during the succeeding months, the exports for the month of September being larger than for any month since May, 1931. Canada's trade balance for the first six months of this year compared with the same period last year shows an increase of over fifty million dollars. This is very encouraging.

Exchange.

We are looking with much interest to the development of the great experiment which our friends in the United States are making. We wish them well, but in the meantime a condition of uncertainty in regard to the value of currency causes disturbance in carrying on business. It is difficult to see how stabilization of exchange can be accomplished until the great question of reparations has been satisfactorily dealt with and the Gold Standard restored in some form or other.

Railway Matters.

The people are still awaiting the appointment of a Commission to handle the railway affairs of the nation. There is no more important or more pressing problem in this country than our railways, the Government-owned portion of which continues to be such a steady drain upon the resources of the people. It is to be hoped the appointment of a Commission will soon be completed, with an adequate personnel for this important task, and that a basis for greater co-operation and for reduction of unnecessary and wasteful expenditure, which will be fair to both railway systems, will be found.

Balanced Budgets.

There is evidence that individuals, corporations, Governments and municipalities are beginning to realize that they must keep their expenditures within their incomes; in other words, balance their budgets. This is another hopeful indication, and while much still remains to be done along these lines, it is becoming generally recognized that taxes must be measured by the ability to pay and not by the capacity to spend.

We are passing through strange and troublous times. Let us keep up our courage and carry on our tasks from day to day and keep our heads clear and level. I am not prophesying anything as to the future, but conditions are certainly better than they were and there are many definite signs of improvement. Let us avoid strange paths which may lead us to disaster.

I would once more like to express my high appreciation to the entire staff of the Bank for their continued interest and faithful service and for the efficient manner in which they have carried on their work.

MR. A. E. PHIPPS, General Manager,

said in part:

The profits are $1,204,038.70, just $1,300 less than the profits for the year ending October, 1932.

General Statement.

Notes of the Bank in circulation, $7,900,218, stand at practically the same figure as a year ago.

The deposits not bearing interest, $21,148,927.38, are nearly five millions in excess of last year.

The deposits bearing interest, $83,300,122.47, are approximately the same—just $27,000 less than they were at the end of 1932.

The total liabilities to the public of $118,733,282.52 are $6,050,000 more than in 1932, the increase being largely in demand deposits, which are unusually high.

Cash Assets $22,366,607.

Current coin, Dominion Government notes and United States and other foreign currencies total $9,983,497.15, compared with $8,379,242.44 a year ago.

Deposits in the Central Gold Reserves, in the Circulation Fund, Notes and cheques of other Banks, and balances due from other Banks in Canada and abroad, total $12,383,109.92, bringing our total cash assets up to $22,366,607.07, which equals 18.83 per cent. of liabilities to the public.

Investments $29,224,564.

Dominion and Provincial securities not exceeding market value, $22,849,083.16, are $3,200,000 up; Canadian Municipal securities not exceeding market value, $6,209,590.51, are $500,000 up. Railway and other bonds, $165,890.57, show a decrease of $4,000. Total investments in Dominion, Provincial, Municipal and other bonds, $29,224,564.24, approximately $3,750,000 more than last year.

Loans to Provincial Governments, $2,878,575.88, are about $200,000 down. Loans to Cities, Towns, Municipalities and School Districts at $8,540,192.46 are some $550,000 less. Call loans, with securities of sufficient marketable value to cover, are $5,987,721.87, about $600,000 up.

Quick Assets $68,996,000.

Adding together the amounts I have mentioned in the preceeding three sentences we get a total of quick or readily realizable assets of $68,996,000, or 58 per cent. of the Bank's liabilities to the public.

Current loans and discounts, after making full provision for bad and doubtful debts, stand at $57,465,120.06, almost exactly the same as last year.

The total assets of the Bank are $134,491,101.26. A year ago the. were $127,792,665.68.

Central Bank.

In a press cable from London, November 15th, Lord Macmillan is reported as saying, "nothing impressed Sir Charles Addis and myself more than the high character, sense of responsibility and integrity of the bankers of Canada." As you know, the Commission was not unanimous in its findings, the two Commissioners forming the dissenting minority consisting of a very highly trained and experienced Canadian banker and one of Canada's most successful former Ministers of Finance. As a banker of over forty years' experience, I believe that these two experienced Canadian financial men are more likely to be correct in matters concerning Canadian finance than even the very distinguished gentlemen who came to their conclusions after an examination of the Canadian situation lasting approximately two months. I am still of the opinion that the expense and disturbance of creating a Central Bank at this time is unnecessary, and might even be mischievous, and that certainly nothing should be done until the entire project has received a great deal more study by our Government, who, I think, would be well advised to pay more attention to the views expressed by the Canadian Bankers' Association before the Commission, and consult freely with the Canadian bankers who have at heart nothing but the welfare of this Dominion.

The President and myself both stress very strongly our objections to a Central Bank, but I don't want the shareholders to get the idea that it is because we fear the competition of a Central Bank. Our objection is that we believe it is unnecessary, and that the present time is inopportune to interfere with the banking structure of Canada. The Canadian Banks have always been able to adjust themselves to circumstances, and we feel that if a Central Bank is established we will be able to adjust ourselves to the new conditions that are brought about.

Emerging From Depression.

In spite of the fact that money conditions are still much disturbed, particularly in the United States of America, I believe that Canada and the rest of the world is slowly emerging from what has been termed the great depression. It is hard to definitely describe the improvement, but a comparison of the condition of business, unemployment, commodity prices, bond and stock values, and other indicators, with a year ago makes the improvement at once apparent, and as we go from day to day we see similar signs. For instance, within a week we have been told in the press that the national revenue for October showed an increase of $2,569,000 compared with a year ago; that Canadian exports for October were greatly increased over a year ago, and reached the highest point since late in 1930; that Copper production has risen over September by 8.7 per cent., and that International Nickel Company's profits have doubled, totalling the huge sum of $3,770,000 for the third quarter ending September; that Gold production in October in Ontario totalled $3,450,000, not taking the premium into account, which was an improvement over October of last year and over September of this year. The production of our mines from month to month makes a very substantial addition to our national wealth. Among the feature that remain unsatisfactory may be mentioned the depressed condition of all branches of agriculture, construction work of all kinds which means the production of lumber, steel and other material, and the continued unsatisfactory condition of our Railways.

Forecast.

In our own instance the moderate increase in our total assets and the fact that we have been able to earn as much as we did in 1932 and put a little to one side for contingencies is a fulfilment of my closing remarks last year that the Bank could look confidently toward the future, and I hope that if and when I meet you again next year I will be able to present still more substantial evidence of the correctness of that forecast.

NECROMANCY IS DENOUNCED

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 26.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;" (Ephesians 6: 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong defence" (p. 234).

INTEREST IS HIGH IN SILVER OUTLOOK ACROSS THE BORDER

Congress May Talk Use as Monetary Metal Reserve

RISE IN PRICE HOARDING SIGN

Metal Is Up Nearly Twice as High as Year Ago

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The injection of additional silver into the monetary metal of this country is expected to be one of the main topics to be considered by the next congress which convenes in January.

The belief in Wall Street is that this question will be considered along with the ratification of the silver pact adopted last July at the world economic conference in London by delegates of India, China and Japan holders of large stocks of silver and Australia, Canada, the United States, Mexico and Peru, as producers of silver, with a view of mitigating the fluctuations in its price.

Rumors have been current in the financial community for the last two or three weeks to the effect that the administration was considering doing something with silver so as to increase its monetary uses. This, together with the fact that the price of gold has been increasing in the world markets, resulted this week in bar silver increasing to around 43 cents an ounce, the highest level in the New York market in more than three years. About a year ago the price of silver was quoted at only 24¼ cents an ounce.

METAL BEING HOARDED

From the fact that silver prices here this week were at times from 1½ to 2 cents an ounce over quotations in London and Shanghai, many feared that, in view of the huge stores in these centers, it might be difficult to maintain present prices for the metal, barring the severe inflation of the dollar or monetization of a large amount of silver. However, it was believed that it would advance in about the same ratio with gold. For the past year, the price movement of silver and gold has been in about the same ratio.

At the world economic conference an agreement as to silver was worked out largely through the efforts of the delegates from this country, and the assumption in some quarters is that one of the reasons for the stand of the United States delegates. This was due to the fact that the administration at that time believed that it was necessary to increase the price of silver as an aid to economic recovery, because of its wide use of money in the Orient, and in some of the Latin-American countries. The fact that in the Thomas amendment the treasury had been authorized to accept up to $200,000,000 silver at 50c an ounce in payment of war debts further strengthened the assumption of a wider use for silver for monetary purposes in the United States.

Following the announcement of the gold buying policy by the administration a few weeks ago, the belief has been increasing that silver would play an important part in the future monetary policy of the United States. Reports from Washington have been to the effect that a plan of issuing currency based on both silver and gold was being studied and that the authority for issuing such currency probably would be asked from the next congress.

Instead of going to a fixed ration with gold or bimetallism, many advocates of the increased use of silver as a monetary base are of the opinion that United States currency should be supported by both silver and gold in order to give an adequate amount of sound money in case of necessity. For instance, it is pointed out that in 1929 during the height of the boom period $5,000,000,000 in currency was ample to carry on all necessary business because of the complete confidence of the public. However, in 1932, with decidedly small volume of business, it is estimated that more than $15,000,000,000 in currency was needed because of the lack of confidence. For such emergencies, it is argued that the monetary metal base should be such that a great expansion in currency could be made without any difficulty.

SILVER BACKING FOR MONEY

One of the plans suggested to Washington calls for a dollar containing a certain amount of gold at a fixed price. The balance back of the dollar would be silver at its market price. For instance, if the dollar should contain 60 cents of the gold, the remaining 40 cents would be made up in silver at the market price. In the event of its redemption the holder of the currency would receive 60 cents in gold and the balance in silver at the world market. In this way, the chief objection to bimetallism would be removed, it is argued, and at the same time there would always be a dollar with the proper metal backing.

Another plan under consideration involves a currency backed by both gold and silver at a fixed ratio. For instance, instead of an indefinite amount of silver back of the dollar, there would be a certain quantity of silver and also a certain amount of gold. The objection to such a dollar it is stated, is that it would fluctuate with the value of silver, especially in the foreign exchange markets. A dollar based on a certain amount of gold and the remainder in silver at the world market, it is believed, would be virtually stable in the foreign exchange markets and always be worth par.

Trail FROM Day to Day

by A. R. J.

Entering a cafe to partake of some victuals, saw six gentlemen seated at a large table—for, it would take a large table to provide for six—with all the extra crockery and display of cutlery—seated at the head was Ben Downes, himself in person the gentleman who is still often called "Chief".

"Don't say a word," Mr. Downes warned the other five, "Or it will be in "Trail, Day by Day."

"How's curling, Chief?"

"Mm-mm—I'm dumb."

"After a short silence, was introduced to a stranger at the table.

"Meet Winter" said Mr. Downes, "It'll be here soon." The gentleman's name was Mr. Winter.

Then Mr. Winter began to speak. "The most amusing occurrence that I know of in which my name was involved," he said, "Was one time when I purchased some goods. No bill was ever sent to me and while later talking to the gentleman who had charged me with them, I learned he had sent the bill to a Mr. Snow."

Saw Bill Emsley admiring some beautiful Christmas suggestions in a jeweller's gorgeous window display—Christmas is coming, yoho, yoho—or was it the camels, no Campbells—well, camels are significant of Christmas and the camp bells ring too—was told by a certain hardware merchant that he didn't like to see his name in print—he talked as though he meant it—so here it isn't—saw A. G. Cameron and R. J. G. Richards joking with Fred Edmunds about an onion. Fred has in mind a tonic of which onions form an important portion of the ingredients—Fred said he was presented with the onion by F. W. Warren—he found it on Fred's door step—and instead of kicking it in the gutter as most people would do—brought it in to Fred—"Hello Comrade" Fred's habitual salutation.

Over 300 toys of all kinds, many of them in first class condition and others needing a little repair work only, were piled up in the lobby of the Rialto theatre Saturday morning at the special toy matinee in aid of the Scout-Guide toy shop. The admission price was a doll or a toy. Among the 300 articles were 60 dolls. There were about 60 toys and dolls and other playthings which will not need repairing.

Even so this ought to keep the Scouts busy in their toy hospital for a while.

Some young roughnecks belittle a Boy Scout when he passes the tough gang in his uniform of which he is justly proud. The Boy Scout movement is a wonderful thing for young lads and everything they are taught is of great benefit to them.

The spirit of helping the other fellow who is perhaps a little less fortunate is kindled in the Scout when a young boy by doing such work as is now being done in the toyshop.

The Pathological Lab. and Its Work

Dr. F. M. Auld in his address to the Nelson Rotary club effectively set out the good work which is being done by the pathological laboratory at the Kootenay Lake General hospital under its director, Dr. Simmonds. The laboratory has been in operation about six months and has already proved its immense value to the district from a general health standpoint and to scores of individuals who have benefitted from its work.

It functions in preventive work. Witness the value of the milk tests.

It functions in early diagnosis. There is the striking case of the 11-year old boy who was going to school. He did not feel well, had a slight temperature, but no definite diagnosis could be made. Tests by Dr. Simmonds proved the case to be one of tuberculosis. The result is that the boy is being given the correct treatment at a comparatively early period in the development of the disease and has been removed from the school, where scores might have caught the disease from him.

It functions in aiding patients in recovery, because by laboratory tests, medical men can ascertain to what extent patients are responding to treatment.

It will shortly be functioning in the making of vaccines, manufactured from serum taken from the patient concerned, and which are consequently most suitable for the treatment of certain types of disease.

Altogether, the laboratory is proving as successful as its proponents promised us.

Excellent work is being done in another branch of Nelson's public health service, and that is by Miss Gordon, the school nurse. Her appointment has been completely justified by the results which are being attained.

To Dr. Auld himself a tremendous amount of credit is due. He has not only been among the strongest advocates of an adequate public health service for Nelson, but he carried on for months without remuneration the work of medical health officer, donating the salary for the work to the capital funds needed by the laboratory, but he is continuing to assist, ungrudging of his time, in the work of Dr. Simmonds as M.H.O.

AUSTRALIA COMES BACK

Australia a few years ago was on the verge of bankruptcy. Her credit had been exhausted, there was a venal Government in office and the entire British Empire was disturbed over the Australian situation. Yet in the last two years, even with the world business and commerce depressed, Australia has made a wonderful comeback. According to the Commercial Intelligence Journal, published by the Ottawa department of trade and commerce, the fiscal year which ended July 30 had witnessed a general improvement in Australian conditions, and the first two months of the current period have afforded grounds for increased optimism.

Not since the beginning of the depression four years ago has such confidence in the future been evidenced. Official statistics reflect the general improvement, and the weekly clearance of the trading banks, savings bank deposits, quarterly returns, building permits, motor car registrations, etc., disclose satisfactory improvement, an indication that more prosperous conditions are returning. Unemployment is still a grave problem in Australia, but the numbers of jobless have steadily declined during recent months and there is reason for hope that a further improvement will be recorded. Seasonal conditions following spring rains throughout most of the pastoral and wheat-growing areas are now particularly favorable, and all fears of drought have been dissipated. An upward movement is discernible also in the wholesale and retail business of the Commonwealth.

It is encouraging here in Canada to learn of this improvement in conditions in our distant Commonwealth. The British Empire, as it has led the world in colonization and industrialization, is similarly leading the world back to recovery after a period of severe depression.

In fact there is no doubt some one of the players will be called "Buck Saw" this winter.

Discovery of a large deposit of silver ore on a golf course in Oregon was made by men who were digging a well. Why the well was being dug is not explained, but, possibly members of that Oregon golf course wanted to make their course different, by creating the only links in the country serving water at the nineteenth hole. Finding the silver ore was a valuable stroke, which, no doubt, winds up the season with a satisfactory balance to the good. It must have been heard with keen satisfaction by members of the club who had been digging up all over the course for years with no apparent result.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

DIANA, HUNTRESS MOON

Last week the moon was but a lantern, swaying
Beneath the branches of the nearby wood;
Had I been there, among the pine trees straying,
I could have reached and touched it as I stood.
It dangled from an unseen giant's fingers
To mark a pathway for the feet of night;
In ruddy radiance its memory lingers,
A moon for lovers and for love's delight!

But, ah! Tonight it is Diana racing
Across the saphire meadows of the sky;
Too cold for love, too chaste for love's embracing,
Serene and proud, the goddess moves on high!
She leaves a spell, not to be banished soon,
Upon the heart, Diana, huntress moon.

THE HOME STRETCH

The recent appreciation in the value of the Canadian dollar in the United States has made it easier for this country to meet its obligations south of the border. The revenue from the sales and excise tax is rising. The speedy and overwhelming success of the new Conversion loan caps the climax for Canadian good news. We have a long road to travel back to full prosperity, but we are on the way.

Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

PLAY THE ODDS

Many Declarers when playing a contract, the success of which apparently rests on a finesse, rush in and take the finesse without trying to plan a campaign that will give them a better than fifty-fifty chance of winning. The hand given below, played in the Eastern Pennsylvania State Championship, is a striking example of this statement.

NORTH: ♠A-J-9-5-2 ♥Q-9-3 ♦6-4-3 ♣A-Q
WEST: ♠K-8-6-4 ♥7 ♦A-8-7-2 ♣J-10-9-6
EAST: ♠Q-10-3 ♥5-4 ♦K-J-10 ♣K-7-5-4-2
SOUTH (Dealer): ♠7 ♥A-K-J-10-8-6-2 ♦Q-9-5 ♣8-3

The bidding at most tables was South one Heart, West pass, North one Spade—East pass, South two Hearts, West pass, North three Hearts, East pass, North four Hearts, which became the final contract.

West's opening lead was the Jack of Clubs and after the dummy hand was exposed, most of the Declarers felt that their only chance to fulfill their contracts was the Club finesse. They visualized three losing Diamond tricks, no Heart or Spade losers, and staking all on the hope that West's lead had been from a King-Jack—10 suit, played the Queen of Clubs. East won with the King and logically led the Jack of Diamonds up to dummy's weakness. As a result, East and West, in addition to a Club trick, cashed three Diamond tricks and the Declarer was down one.

When East led the Jack of Clubs, two Declarers paused to consider the chances of fulfilling their contracts. They realized that the Club finesse had an even chance of success, but they also weighed the possibility of setting up a long Spade in dummy. They knew that with seven cards of a suit outstanding between the adversaries, in sixty-two hands out of a hundred the cards would be distributed 4-3; so the chances of establishing a fifth Spade in dummy were far greater than the even chance of the Club finesse. So these Declarers played the hand accordingly.

The first trick was won with the Ace of Clubs. The Ace of Spades was then led, followed by a small Spade which Declarer ruffed with the Ace, the Jack of Hearts was led, overtaken with dummy's Queen and a third Spade led, which was ruffed with South's King. The Eight of Hearts was next led, overtaken with North's Nine, and the fourth Spade led and ruffed with South's six. The Deuce of Hearts was led to trick 8, won by North's Trey, and on the play of the thirteenth Spade, South discarded his losing Club. He had to surrender his three Diamond tricks, but succeeded in fulfilling his contract by playing with the law of averages rather than against them.

TOMORROW'S HAND

The following hand will be the subject of tomorrow's Bridge article. Before reading the description, make up your mind how it should be bid and played.

NORTH: ♠9-7-5-2 ♥10-8-6 ♦8-6 ♣7-5-4-2
WEST: ♠K-Q-10-6-4 ♥8-4-3 ♦K-10-5 ♣10-8
EAST: ♠A-8-3 ♥7-2 ♦J-9-7-4 ♣Q-J-9-6
SOUTH (Dealer): ♠J ♥A-K-Q-J-5 ♦A-Q-3-2 ♣A-K-3

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PANIC IS PROLONGED FEAR WITH FEELING OF INSECURITY

In referring a mental case to a specialists recently the physician asked the specialist for his diagnosis or opinion as to what was the type of mental ailment that was causing the trouble.

The specialist stated "I've got to the point where I don't call the ailment any particular name, I simply treat the patient for any symptoms I find."

In other words the tendency today is toward a study of the individual, what he does that is not just in line with what the average everyday sensible persons does, and a study of the reasons or the situations which cause him to act differently from other people.

One of the developments of considerable importance is panics.

Dr. Oskar Diethelm in Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry, says that in the study of fear and panic reactions he arrived at the conclusion that panic is not merely a high degree of fear, but a fear based on prolonged tension with a sudden climax, which is characterized by fear, extreme insecurity, suspiciousness, and a tendency to disorganization, or inferiority complex, and to delusions such as a feeling of being persecuted or hearing voices.

The individual becomes keen and alert mentally because of his suspicions, and best describes his difficulties in thinking as "bewildered", "hazy", "perplexed", "puzzled" or "confused".

Naturally these difficulties in his thinking increase his lack of decision because being "panicky" he doesn't know from which direction the "danger" is going to come.

Fright is the fear reaction to sudden disaster where the only escape is flight. If the individual can flee, the fright passes away. Fright disturbances are usually found after accidents and in war time.

In treating panic the specialist frankly discusses each and every thing that is causing the panic, brings it out to the full light of day, tries to correct any home or other situation that is helping to keep the patients in this condition of prolonged fear, and helps him to make his own fight, his own decisions as he gradually gets back to normal.

PREMIERE

By ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

CHAPTER ONE

The radio announcer stood beside his microphone with a fox-smile on his face and a sleek dinner coat on his back. Great drum-shaped searchlights poured floods of glaring illumination into the forecourt of the theater giving everyone a look of waxen artificiality.

Here in the balmy open air, amid Babylonian columns with the starry sky overhead and marble mosiacs underfoot, mingled the most beautiful women and the best-fed men on earth. The rabble—too far back to smell the expensive perfumes—was held in check by ropes and policemen who wore white gloves for the unusual occasion.

Whenever a polished motor car brought up another star, or even an established featured player, the multitudes on the sidewalk cheered and clapped hands. The announcer's excited voice began to fall over itself.

"Just a minute folks! Here comes Sybil Hall, the screen star. She's wearing a—ha, ha!—good evening, Miss Hall. Miss Hall—Miss Hall—ha! ha!—would you say a few words in the microphone, please, to the folks out there on the air—"

Miss Hall consented in a voice warm and living. A silvery evening dress glistened on her body. The announcer's eyes worshipped her loveliness, for a moment before he turned to worship the next glittering arrival.

Before the evening was over the whole galaxy of Hollywood passed before the microphone and said—approximately the same thing. All confessed themselves to be in a high state of excitement and anticipation and professed the keenest affection for the absent Leni Luneska.

The announcer, who was not going to see the picture at all, declared repeatedly that motion picture history was being made tonight and his words grew increasingly electrical.

At home his wife listened in a shuddering fear that his tongue would slip and he might say what he really thought about the whole affair. It had never happened but Mrs. Announcer lived in terror until all was safely over.

A stocky gentleman arrived and spoke a few words into the ether. He was the mayor of the city.

A domestic looking man in a gray suit—Tom Mulrooney, chief of detectives—was ignored by the announcer and passed inconspicuously into the theatre.

The announcer craned his neck hopefully toward the curb as a tall young man wearing a negligent top coat over his dinner jacket approached. Several women turned their heads to look at him.

This was Lucky Cavanaugh — gambler—with his athletic boly and step elastic as a cat's. His skin was clear and tanned over high cheekbones, a bold Roman nose, and a solid chin. The eyes were gray, steady, unconsciously arrogant.

No one mistook him for an actor. The bony structure of his countenance belonged to a generation antedating Hollywood; to the period of frontier and plain and sun baked cattle towns. This heritage was in his face yet his voice vibrated musically and his manners bore the unmistakable stamp of a cultured superiority.

"And here comes Lucky Cavanaugh!" cried the announcer into his contraption. "There's a rumor around he broke the bank at Caliente last week. Maybe he'll give us his system."

The young man smiled faintly and addressed the microphone.

"Don't you believe a word of it, citizens," he said easily. "There's only one way to beat roulette—and that is to own the wheel. I didn't."

There was a burst of cheering from the street and Leni Luneska arrived triumphantly on the arm of a middle aged gentleman in a silk hat.

She was small and slim in an evening wrap of platinum material wrapped tightly across her figure. The searchlights gave her a metallic sheen; around her blonde head there was, almost an aura.

Her voice when she spoke for the radio audience was slightly agitated and had the quality of golden wine with bubbles rising. The scarcely perceptible accent carried the flavor of Europe.

"This night," she said, "is the climax of all that I have ever dreamed for and hoped for and worked for. If I am happy, I am also a little frightened. Give me, please, your good thoughts . . ."

Lucky Cavanaugh took off his dark felt hat and stood quite near, watching her. As she left the microphone it was necessary for him to stand aside.

She passed so near that he sensed magnetic radiations from her body. Her face had the fresh young vitality of a flower, but the violet-colored eyes were slightly shadowed as from fatigue.

Lucky Cavanaugh's admiration was suddenly complicated by a twinge of pity. He had caught, with his gambler's sixth sense, the bewilderment, the lonely and troubled uncertainty of the lovely Leni Luneska as she stood balanced precariously on the very pinnacle of fame.

This knowledge was purely instinctive with him. He was by profession, a gambler and endowed with some strange quality of human understanding akin to telepathy. Frequently this sense deceived him, but more often it was amazingly accurate.

Up until this moment the matter had been only idle speculation with him when a man's guttural voice broke out from the crowd held back by the cordon of ropes and policemen.

"Leni! Leni! It is I—Karl! Karl Kruger!"

The voice, apparently, struck the girl like a bullet. She stopped and even before she turned her head, the color began to recede from her face.

Before the nearest policeman could stop him, he had stooped and dashed under the rope like an animal. With rapid steps he crossed the forecourt and was beside her. Lucky Cavanaugh, no more than five feet from Leni Luneska, saw and heard. The man was a foreigner, shabby, emaciated. His eyes protruded and burned with excitement. The lips were thin and slightly twisted.

"I am starving Leni," he rattled in his throat. "Do you want me to tell everybody—the whole world—to shout it from the housetops—" He began to fling his hand and change color as policemen came rushing up. "Tell them I'm all right Leni!"

Leni Luneska's face became smooth white marble. As the police seized the man she spoke in strained, muffled words.

"Leave him alone please . . . I will speak with him . . . old acquaintance . . . later on—on the inside . . ."

Her escort's face was blank with lack of understanding, but Karl Kruger's step was jaunty as he walked behind the girl. There was no trouble at the door. Luneska's word was sufficient. Directly after Kruger sauntered Lucky Cavanaugh, utterly at ease.

LOOK OUT FOR THESE SYMPTOMS OF CONSTIPATION

Get Relief With Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexions, and sleeplessness are often warning signs of common constipation. Unless checked, constipation may impair health.

Today, you can get rid of common constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears the intestines of wastes. How much better than taking patent medicines.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Walter Alexander McLennan, Aged 4

By H. E. RITCHIE

Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting;
The soul that riseth with us, our life's star,
Hath had elsewhere its setting,
And cometh from afar.
Not in entire forgetfulness,
And not in utter nakedness
But trailing clouds of glory do we come
From God who is our home.

True words to all spiritually minded lovers of children. Those trailing clouds—what surprising shapes and colors they take, but all gloriously reflective of the light of heaven.

In Procter we are all intimately acquainted with each other's children, and all are appreciated for their particular trails of glory. The passing of little Walter McLennan last week has brought home to us in a most poignant way how much of the joy of living we owe to these little ones who

"By the vision splendid
Are on their way attended"

Walter was of the manly type. I remember the day he demanded emancipation from his bib and in proud possession of a grown up serviette announced that he would not have his 'taties cut up either. That was almost two years ago and even then it would have seemed incongruous (except under one's breath) to call him "darling." "Young fellah-me-lad." "old top" or "old man" seemed much more appropriate.

He was friendly with all of us and exhibited a man-to-man manner which cheered the loneliness of several bachelors whom he would accompany in a matey way to post office or store. Should "Daddy Bichy" be home, however, Walter would not be seen abroad. He then became a carpenter and talked learnedly about tools and their uses, when not romping hilariously on the floor.

One of the writer's last recollections of him is the story of his surprise that a visitor from Nelson could not share his intimacy with us Procter folk. "Doesn't oo know Mr. Witchie?" he asked, astounded; then as he looked from the window for further acquaintance —"Well see— See that dog? That's Mr. Witchie's dog. Now you know Mr. Witchie's dog." And his beaming face showed his satisfaction that her suffering ignorance should be relieved thus far.

He was deeply attached to both Mr. and Mrs. Bichan (Auhty Bichy) with whom he and his mother have their home and his delight to do her a favor resulted in a very funny incident lately when he dashed into the store and demanded "A loaf of bread please and hurry up, I've got to be quick."

How he loved to swagger along with his coat unbuttoned!

Not even the bribe of an all day sucker was sufficient to tempt him to forego that delightful fascinating flapping of his fronts. The nearest he came to succumbing was the cold morning he thoughtfully surveyed the dainty while tentatively fingering his top button. But suddenly he turned his back to the tempter and flapping wider than ever said with a sigh, "Maybe I det it tomorrow."

Since "their angels do always behold the face of the Father" is it irreverent to suggest what tenderness and joy would attend his introduction to that "home for little children, above the bright blue sky?"

In fancy I see him the center of happiness and calling over his shoulder as he swings confidently along the Golden street "leave the door open. My mummy will be coming when school is out."

Happy Walter! We salute you! Not to everyone is it given to radiate such joy and good fellowship even in three score years and ten.

KNOCK DEER'S TOOTH OUT

J. Daly and J. Rankin of Ymir took careful aim at the deer below, fired, and hurried to the spot. They knew they had hit it. To their amazement they found on arriving there, not only a trail of blood leading away, but also a tooth hanging in a fork of some brush to the side. Now the boys have decided to collect a set.

Speaking at the Rotary club luncheon Monday afternoon in the Hume hotel silver ballroom, Dr. F. M. Auld spoke on modern health service, especially in relation to the city of Nelson and the new laboratory. Medical knowledge and science had made great advances in the past 20 years he stated, and preventive medicine was also gaining a fair domain. Dr. E. G. Simmonds, medical officer of health, was also a guest at the luncheon.

The Nelson laboratory, although only in existence for six months had already done wonderful work, stated Dr. Auld, not only concrete work, but in spreading health knowledge to the public at large. And the laboratory had been laudably supported financially and in other ways during that time.

FOUR MAIN FUNCTIONS

The laboratory performed four main functions, he observed. First, it served to prevent disease. This was performed by study of milk, water and communicable diseases. During the period in which Dr. Simmonds had been in Nelson he had made 89 examinations of milk supplied in Nelson. The examinations revealed that the milk supply was not what it should be. The water supply was excellent, he had reported, and had congratulated Nelson on that score. In the control of diseases, the laboratory was in position to render invaluable service. In the case of diphtheria, taking but a single instance, the laboratory could determine accurately and efficiently if a person were suffering from it, and so act accordingly, and without delay. Formerly a swab had to be taken and then sent to some larger center to be diagnosed, and this entailed two or three days.

Secondly, it enabled earlier and accurate treatment of diseases. Citing a local case, Dr. Auld told of a boy who had not been feeling well, and being noticed by the school nurse, had been brought to the attention of the family doctor. The case had proved puzzling but within a little over two weeks Dr. Simmonds had found that the boy was suffering from tuberculosis. Within the laboratory it would have taken weeks or months. During that time the harm that might have been caused to his playmates, his own family and himself would have been inestimable. Cases of skin disease, cancer of the stomach, and ulcer of the stomach had also been treated. The latter cases had both been obscure and unsuspected. Cancer onset was often unsuspected, declared Dr. Auld, and therefore was a most insidious disease. The value and importance of early diagnoses could not be stressed too much.

PROGRESS OF TREATMENT

A third function which the laboratory performed was that it enabled progress of treatment to be watched. Hence if the treatment was being successful, or otherwise, rapid or slow, etc., could be known.

Lastly, it afforded methods of treating diseases by vaccines. At present the laboratory was without the facilities for making vaccines but an order was on hand.

So the scope of the laboratory covered the entire field of health, dealing as it did with causes of diseases and ill health, manifestations and cures.

In closing Dr. Auld paid tribute to members of the Rotary who had contributed to the laboratory, or had assisted in any way, and extended an invitation to visit the laboratory.

The meeting was in charge of Dr. W. Laishley.

LEIGH McBRIDE IS IMPROVING

R. Leigh McBride, who has been confined to his home for the past week due to sickness, is reported to be improving rapidly. It will be several days yet, however, before he is able to return to work.

A NATIVE DELICACY

Canadian sweetened condensed milk is looked upon as a great delicacy by the natives of the Straits Settlements and by the Chinese residents there. They like to drink it from the can. Milk made from powder does not appeal to them.

GENERAL DROP AT NEW YORK

Commodity Issues, Silver, Cotton in Decline

By JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP).—With dollar exchange and investment bonds still following the recovery road, speculative markets weakened today as the Reconstruction Finance corporation left its gold price at $33.76, thus rounding out a week of no change.

Whether this cessation of official pressure against the currency reflected Washington's desire to see firmer bond markets as the time approaches for mid-December treasury financing went unexplained officially.

Stocks and many of the commodities weakened. Shares lost 1 to around 7 points, with largest declines in the "inflation" groups, particularly metals. Wheat was down major fractions of a cent net, cotton $1 to $1.25 a bale, while rubber and silver also backed up, the latter rather hastily. U.S. government obligations, on the other hand, improved 4 to 26 32nds of a point net. There were liberal advances throughout the corporate bond section.

The Canadian dollar eased to ⅞ per cent premium.

Several mining stocks backed up 3 points or so. In this group were Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting and Dome, with Howe Sound off almost as much.

U.S. Smelting broke nearly 7 and Homestake tumbled just 7. Allied Chemical, Du Pont and Western Union lost 4; Union Carbide, Westinghouse, Santa Fe and Chrysler around 3; and U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Telephone, Union Pacific, General Electric, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Sears Roebuck and Harvester 1 to more than 2. Case yielded 5. Transactions reached the moderate volume of 1,536,739 shares. The market was fairly steady until noon when the decline became more pronounced.

STOCKYARDS TIED UP BY STRIKE

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP).—Striking employees of the Chicago union stock yards today caused a virtual cessation of the live stock market.

Only about 800 men were on strike, seeking 1929 wages, but they were the key men of the yards, the handling crew. Trains and trucks poured in as usual, but there was no method of getting them unloaded, except for the few head that salesmen for commission houses were able to drive out of the cars.

The union which called the strike is the Live Stock Handlers union, and officials said 7000 men were out in sympathy. However, government live stock authorities say only about 800 were out.

STERLING OFF DOLLAR IS UP

Little Change on the Dollar Premium at New York

MONTREAL, Nov. 27 (CP).—Further broad declines were recorded on Montreal foreign exchanges today as the British pound sterling led the general list of currencies lower. The pound, after opening about even with last week's final quotation, dropped off steadily to a low of $5.05 and then recovered shortly before the close of trading to finish the day at $5.06¼, off 6 9-16 cents from last week's closing level.

The United States dollar continued to strengthen, firming another ½ of 1 per cent to close at ⅞ of 1 per cent discount. The French franc was off .08 cent at 6.01 cents.

DOLLAR AND FRANC OFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (CP).—Currencies made further progress in the swing toward normal conditions in the foreign exchange markets. Sterling, the Canadian dollar and the French franc closed with substantial declines.

Sterling opened at $5.05½ for a maximum loss of 13½ cents. It steadied from this figure, however, to close at $5.11½ for a net loss of 7½ cents. The French franc finished at 6.07 cents, down a tenth of a cent.

The Canadian dollar remained stationary throughout the day at an average premium of ⅞ of 1 per cent against Saturday's rate of 1¼ premium.

AMERICAN DOLLAR UP

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP). — The United States dollar, helped by continental bear covering, wound up on the exchange market today with a net gain of 8¾ cents over Saturday's final rate and closed at $5.11½.

The improvement was hastened by news that the United States gold price was unchanged.

The French franc finished at 84.50 to the pound, compared to an early level of 83.93 and the official close at 84.46.

In Paris the United States dollar closed at 16.32 francs (6.12 cents to the franc) 25 centimes higher than the official close of 16.07 (6.21 cents) of Saturday. The opening rate was 16.06 francs (6.22 cents).

A CORRECTION IN SMELTER RETURNS

Dry weight of ores and concentrates received from customs shippers and from company mines at Tadanac for the first 10 months of 1933 totals 265,922 tons, instead of 360,540 tons as published yesterday.

Customs ores totalled 21,096 and company ore and concentrates 244,826 tons.

The difference was due to duplication, in the total, or ore already reported.

WHEAT PRICES ARE OFF AGAIN

Heavy Selling of the Winnipeg Futures Is Feature

WINNNIPEG, ov. 27 (CP)— pressure of offerings in the pit, together with weakness in outside exchanges, further depressed wheat prices on the grain exchange today, leaving them two cents to 1⅝ cents lower at the close.

November wheat closed at 60½ December at 60, May at 64½ and July at 68¾ cents. Pit observers reported heavy selling of Winnipeg futures against purchases of wheat at Chicago export business in Canadian wheat showed little improvement and sales were estimated at not more than 250,000 bushels.

Liverpool displayed easiness on larger world wheat shipments than had been forecast. Closing prices were ⅝ to ¾d lower, while noon quotations at Buenos Aires showed a two cent decline. Demand for cash wheat and coarse grains was dull.

Bar Silver Cut Is Felt on the Mines' List

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—The Standard Mining market was in retreat today, trailing a shaken New York market to lower levels.

McIntyre at the close at 37.10 showed a net loss of 1.50. Dome dropped $1 to $32, Lake Shore 1.45 to $45, Pioneer 15 cents to 8.25, Wright Hargreaves 20 to 6.60 and Teck Hughes 5 cents to 5.50. Hollinger gained 5 to 10.75 and Bralorne was down 10 to 8.40.

Noranda limited its loss to 25 cents but Nickel dropped 1.05 to 20.75, Coast Copper 55 cents to 4.15. A new cut in the price of bar silver put the skids under the silver stocks. Mining Corporation lost 14 cents, Nipissing 17, Eldorado 25, Castle 4, Bear Exploration 3½, Premier 4 and White Eagle ⅛.

Secondary gold shares showed losses of 2 to 5. Oil shares were narrowly lower.

SORREL LEADING SCORER IN NATIONAL

Gordon Pettinger Ties With Marty Barry for 2nd. Honors

Canadiens Well in the Lead in Northern Section

CHICAGO ONE UP ON DETROIT CREW

King Clancy Leads the Penalty Parade

MONTREAL, Nov. 27 (CP) — Scoring honors in the National Hockey league will remain with slim Johnny Sorrell of Detroit, in particular, and the United States division of the league in general.

Sorrell leads the whole league with seven goals and two assists in eight games, better than an average of one point a game. Second position is shared by young Gordon Pettinger, New York Rangers' gift to Detroit, and crafty Marty Barry, Boston Bruins' center. Each has six points.

Best in the Canadian division, sharing fourth spot in the whole league with three others, are Hooley Smith, captain of Montreal Maroons, and Earle Roche, upon whom Ottawa Senators were reported asking waivers a short time back. They both have five points as have Aurie and Wiseman of Detroit and Joe Lamb, of Boston.

A feature of the scoring lists, second to be issued this season by Frank Calder, president of the league, is some of the names that appear far down:

Howie Morenz, Canadiens speed-bull, has one little assist to his credit after eight games: Eddie Shore has a zero against his name as have Trottier and Haynes of Maroons.

Frank "King" Clancy, Toronto's defenceman, leads the penalty parade with 20 minutes, followed by Albert Leduc, Ottawa, and Lionel Conacher, Chicago, with 18 minutes each and Jean Pusie, Rangers and Harvey Jackson, Toronto, 17.

KIMBERLEY HOCKEY CLUB HAS SOME SPEEDY STUFF FOR TEAM

Hutton Is Available for Goal; Harry Brown, Redding and Moore Will Contribute the Needed Scoring Punch.

GOAL—Jack Hutton, Bill Douglas.

DEFENCE—Paul Kozak, Clarence Reddick, late of Trail; Max Bell, McGillivray, (McGill university); and Brander.

FORWARDS—Harry Brown, Edmonton Superiors; Ralph Redding and Ken Moore, both of Regina; Puffy Kemp, Doug. Keiver, Art Mackie, Dub Mackie, Hugo Mackie, Fred Botterill, Johnny Dicken, Jim Livingstone, Murray McKenzie, Bob Affleck, Bert Fisher, Carl Cavanagh and "Tick" Hall.

Above are the names of puck players in Kimberley, who will battle it out for place on Kimberley's senior and intermediate hockey squads, according to S. McL. Norton, one of the officials of the Kimberley club.

With Harry Brown, two Regina players, a McGill man and other new faces, and with Jack Pratt, former West Kootenay star in the role as coach, Kimberley Dynamiters will be something to contend with this coming season.

On November 17 the Kimberley Hockey club held its annual meeting and the enthusiasm displayed augurs well for a successful season. Lloyd Crowe, daddy of senior hockey in Kimberley, who has been boss of the club for a number of years and whose enthusiasm did a great deal towards putting Kimberley into the West Kootenay league was again elected president. William Lindsay was named honorary president and H. R. Banks, honorary vice-president. Mr. Crowe has an active executive to work with him and the majority of them had experience before. His vice-president is Joe Rochon, who formerly played in the boundary and then in Rossland. Joe has done some refereeing in the past few seasons. Art Southwell is secretary-treasurer and the executive is made up of Charlie Crisford, Alfonso Fabro, Robert Murray, Nick McKenzie and Jack Pratt. Stan McL. Norton is auditor and in charge of publicity.

POSSIBLE MANAGERS

The club left the matter of a manager in the hands of the executive and there is plenty of material for senior, junior and intermediate teams. Jack Pratt, Joe Rochon, Clarence Reddick and Eric McKinnon all know hockey as it should be played.

TO RAISE FUNDS

It was decided to put on a booster dance in December, with several novel features as added attractions, and as the Hockey club is also handling the opening night at the Arena rink, and propose to stage a carnival on that occasion, they should get away to a good start, both financially and from a publicity standpoint.

The drawing up of the West Kootenay league schedule is being eagerly awaited and visiting teams may look for a warm reception from the fans when "Old Man Winter" tightens his hold and ice is available for the opening game.

F. W. Slade, speaking on behalf of the Kimberley Intermediate Hockey club, stated that team had closed the season with a deficit of over $100, but this had been cleared off and they started the present season with a clean slate and with high hopes of again winning the Coy cup, emblematic of the British Columbia intermediate championship.

The meeting went on record as being heartily in favor of doing all in its power to encourage and foster junior and juvenile hockey, thus providing local material for the eventual strengthening of the senior teams. Special practice hours will be arranged, and several seniors have expressed their willingness to look after the coaching of the rising generation.

"Big League" BOWLING

By AL DEMAREE

Avoid too high a back swing. It is not necessary to lift the arm with a great effort. Let the ball do this for you naturally. The weight of the ball will bring your arm back like a pendulum of a clock and bring in forward in the same manner. Lifting the ball high over the head on your backswing also has a tendency to plunge your head and shoulders forward, which throws you off balance at the foul line and interferes with your footwork and co-ordination where you release the ball. Don't force your delivery.

November 28, 1913.—Chief Meyers, great Indian catcher with the Giants wrote me that his bankroll was approaching the $50,000 mark and he was going to quit McGraw and the Giants. He reported next year for spring training, however.

NELSON COLORS ON TOURNAMENT HILL

The Nelson Ski club is in receipt of a letter from the Spokane Ski club, asking for the Nelson emblem and colors so that they could be worked into color plaques for decorating the hill at Spokane for the tournament. Any suggestions that the Nelson club could make was cordially asked. Action has already been taken.

The Nelson emblem is a circle bearing "Nelson Ski club" around the outside in green block letters on a white background and the picture of a ski jumper in the center.

The local club is holding its annual meeting in the city hall Thursday night. Plans for the coming season will then be made.

ROSS ANSWERS TO THE CALL

Came to Nelson in 1900; Burns Co. Engineer

After well over a quarter of a century spent in Nelson, Hugh Ross, well-known refrigeration engineer, died Monday at the age of 64. Mr. Ross had been ailing for some time, but it was only recently that his condition became critical.

A Canadian by birth, he was born in Leith, near Owen Sound, Ont., to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ross. He was married to Miss Elizabeth A. Dodds in Dugald, Man., and came to Nelson in March of 1900.

On arriving in the city he was employed by P. Burns & Company as refrigeration engineer, a position which he held up until his recent illness.

Besides running the Nelson plant, of the company, he also had charge of all the plants in the district, which he visited from time to time. Prior to coming to Nelson he was employed in Manitoba as a threshing machine engineer.

Mr. Ross, in his ealler days, did considerable hunting and later was an enthusiastic taxidermist, mounting heads and preparing hides for local nimrods. At mounting heads he showed considerable skill and still had a number on hand for sale.

His spare time was divided between his hobby and his ranch across from the C.P.R. flats on the point which bears his name. Mr. Ross was a member of the Eagles Lodge, which he joined some 20 years ago, and was this term voted chief ranger.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. E. (Edith) Glover and Mrs. E. (Violet) Keatley of Victoria and Mrs. E. L. (Thelma) Bedford of Glendale, Cal., and five brothers, William and David of Victoria, Allan of Owen Sound, Ont., Andrew and John of Trehern, Man., also three grandchildren. A sister predeceased him.

Honey Producers' association of the lower mainland, the members congratulated each other on their success at the empire exhibition, placing British Columbia completely ahead of other Dominions and provinces in the empire.

Protest was made to the provincial government against the abrupt cessation of inspection work in the height of the season, said to be like half spraying an orchard, or half-testing a herd.

Qualifications for the new beemasters' certificates were discussed, the first examinations to be held next May.

Officers elected for 1934 included J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, honorary president; J. W. Winson, president; E. R. Freeman, vice-president; A. W. Finlay, honorary secretary-treasurer; auditor, M. V. Jenks.

CALGARY TIGERS RUN AWAY WITH THE VANCOUVER LIONS TO WIN SIX-TO-TWO

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP). — Lloyd Turner's Calgary Tigers continued their undefeated march at the head of the Northwestern Hockey league parade with a 6-2 win tonight over Vancouver Lions. It was Calgary's third straight win of the season and Tigers' second triumph over the Lions.

The smooth working Calgary front line found little difficulty in piercing the Lions defence and only a great exhibition of goal-tending by Hardaker prevented a higher score.

Tigers counted the first goal in the initial period on a solo effort by Smoky Harris, who batted in his own rebound.

Harris and Blyth combined with the latter taking the pass to score Calgary's second goal early in the middle session.

Two quick goals by Savage and Houbreggs on solo efforts late in the period gave Tigers a 4-0 lead.

Before the final period was half over foxy "Dutch" Gainor fed passes to Anderson and Harris for another pair of Calgary counters.

Mason and Creasy saved Lions from a shut-out with goals in the last five minutes of play.

MACPHERSON TO BE BANQUETTED

Cranbrook Anglican Ladies Hold Successful Bazaar

CRANBROOK, B.C., Nov. 27.—A most successful bazaar was held by the Anglican ladies in the parish hall on Thursday afternoon when stalls of cooking, candy, canned goods, all sorts of knitted wear, and fancy and manual training articles met a ready sale at the hands of a good crowd which attended. Several tea tables were kept busy throughout the afternoon. A substantial sum was netted for the church funds.

Miss Brenda Raven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raven, has left for Vancouver after a visit with her parents.

The dance staged by the Young People's society of the Anglican church on Friday evening was patronized by a good crowd of young people.

Verne Woodman of Vancouver is in the city with his parents recuperating from an illness.

Mrs. C. V. Edwards was tea hostess at the Women's Badminton club on Friday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Woodland of Revelstoke is the guest of Mrs. Woodland and Miss Woodland.

Mrs. F. M. Macpherson was guest of honor at a gathering of Kimberley ladies on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. C. Foote as hostess.

Arrangements are being made for a banquet to the Hon. F. M. Macpherson, new minister of public works in the Cranbrook auditorium on Wednesday evening. The Cranbrook and Kimberley boards of trade are staging the event at which there will be guests from all parts of East Kootenay. Mr. Macpherson will return to the coast on Friday and will be accompanied by Mrs. Macpherson.

Quite a good crowd attended the dance given at the Bluebird inn on Friday evening. The attractive building is built after a model seen in Europe by Mr. Veeberg and copied for the dancing public of Cranbrook. The floor is circular with the orchestra box placed in the center. Mrs. Otto Gill has the decorations in charge and the entire effect is novel and pleasing.

The senior basketball team of Cranbrook, the Pats, were winners in a league game with the Chapman Camp team on Friday evening with the narrow lead of 31-29. The game was one of the best of the season.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS GROWING IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Unemployment in the United States, calculated by the American Federation of Labor from government and union figures, reached 10,076,000 in October—an increase of 11,000 over September which William Green announced exceptionally small for this time of year.

Despite the large number of jobless, and while giving warning whole-hearted cooperation of the citizenry will be needed to keep the number from growing much larger through the winter, Green today reported a substantial number of favorable factors:

Average wages increased slightly from September to October, amounting to $1.20 a month, or 1.4 per cent.

Cost of living rose only ½ of 1 per cent, slightly reducing the individual worker's loss of real income since March, bringing this down to 1.1 per cent.

Dollar buying power of workers in October was $600,000,000 per month above March.

Real buying power, that is increased wages reduced by increased cost of living, rose 23.1 per cent above the March level.

The Christmas demand is expected to be good for Ribstons and Rusets in moderate quantities but the department warns that shipments of winter varieties should be restricted to prevent a carryover.

The following quations were received from London on British Columbia shipments: Cox Orange, 12-15 shillings; Jonathan, 6-9s; Grimes Golden, 6-7s; McIntosh, 6-3 to 7-6; King David, 6-7s.

MORE ABOUT LYNCHING

release all San Quentin and Folsom penitentiary inmates serving sentences for kidnapping into the custody of "those fine, patriotic San Jose citizens who know how to handle such a situation." He even had both prisons checked to determine how many inmates are serving kidnapping sentences.

NO PARDONS

"No kidnapper will ever be turned loose or pardoned while I am governor," was another statement by the governor, who added that "kidnappers will learn they are not safe even in our penitentiaries."

The governor's attitude was first disclosed before the two men were lynched when he said he would not send national guard troops "to protect those guys."

Sheriff William J. Emig, knocked unconscious while trying to protect his prisoners, was in a serious condition at San Jose hospital. He was suffering from a slight brain concussion which might prove to be a fracture, and also from complete nervous exhaustion and shock.

HART BURIED

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 27 (AP)—Funeral services were held today for Brooke L. Hart, kidnapped youth whose body was found yesterday in San Francisco bay and whose abductors were lynched last night.

THIRD MAN GETS TERM

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 27 (AP)—In a surprise move, authorities today rushed Anthony Serpa, convicted of manslaughter and for a time last night in danger of being lynched, here from San Francisco, took him before Judge R. R. Syer who sentenced him to one to 10 years in San Quentin, and hurried him off to the penitentiary.

Serpa, who was convicted of manslaughter for the slaying of Leonard Ramonda, ranch foreman, during an alleged poaching expedition, was taken to San Francisco last night for safekeeping after some members of the mob which lynched Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, demanded Serpa, too.

ALTOMAHS ARE THE CHAMPIONS

Tangle Over Western Canadian Rugby Title Is Cleared Up

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 27 (CP). —Calgary Altomahs, tonight were secure in their position as 1933 junior rugby champions for western Canada, and contenders for the Dominion title. Tangle over the title was cleared up when M. I. Lieberman, president of the Western Canada Rugby union announced dismissal of protests of Winnipeg Deer Lodge over the result of the final game in which they met Altomahs and which was awarded to the Calgarians.

The Winnipeg team held Johnny Abraham, Winnipeg, should have been referee of the game instead of "Squib" Ross of Calgary, and that the team should have been awarded a touchdown instead of rouge in the third quarter of the game. Calgary claimed their opponents had agreed to the official and that there were no grounds for protest. The Calgary contention was upheld by unanimous vote of the board of governors.

Wheat Prices Are Down in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Despite a spirited advance late today, grain prices failed to hold upturns, and wheat ended at a loss.

The transient advance resulted from indications that federal relief agencies were buying immediate delivery wheat in all the leading markets. In the absence of any official statement.

Regarding the Washington administration's future financial policy, however, general speculative demand was not sustained, and wheat values fell back abruptly to the last.

Wheat closed nervous, ½ to ⅞ under Saturday's finish, corn ⅛ off to ⅛ up, oats ½ to ⅝ down, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 15 cents.

BASEBALL FAVORS NRA CODE, BUT-

How Can It Be Applied to Baseball Asks Heydler

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP).—Baseball men have no objection to flying the blue eagle, if it can serve any useful purpose, but one of the principal spokesmen, President John A. Heydler of the National league declared today he could see no practical way of applying an NRA code to the game.

"I have unswerving faith in the success of the NRA," said Heydler, "but I am puzzled to know how any industrial code is going to be applied in a practical way to sport. I differ with those who call the game a business of an industry. I invite their attention to the decision of the district of Columbia court of appeals, as confirmed by the supreme court of the United States. This decision specifically established baseball is a sport—not trade or commerce."

MONCTON ADDS TO PUCK LEAD

MONCTON, N.B., Nov. 27 (CP).—Moncton Hawks went further into the lead of the Maritime Hockey league by over-throwing Halifax Wolverines 3-1 here tonight. The Allan cup champions now hold a three-point margin over the Haligonians who are in second place.
