BROWNE MAY TAKE OFF FROM COPALIS BEACH

Start of Seattle-Tokyo Flight Delayed by Unfavorable Winds

NEEDS LOAD OF 950 GALLONS

Prize Offer Elapses on June 1; Plan Worth Consideration

SEATTLE, May 27—A proposal that Nathan C. Browne, New York flier, be permitted to take off from the long sandy stretch at Copalis beach at low tide, and touch his wheels to Boeing field here before beginning an attempted Seattle-Tokyo flight, was brought forward here tonight.

Browne has been delayed for several days by unfavorable winds, which prevented a take-off with his heavily laden plane. With the runway from north to south, he has needed a south wind to get into the air with a load of at least 950 gallons for the long flight.

When the plan was submitted to W. W. Conner, stage governor of the National Aeronautical association, he said he deemed it worthy of consideration.

The prize offer, which expires on June 1, requires that a take-off be made from within 10 miles of Seattle and a landing be made within 50 miles of Tokyo, with similar terms for a flight from Japan.

A short while later, at 8:15 p.m., Browne and Conner left their Washington Athletic club headquarters for the field, saying that within an hour the plane would be placed on the elevated ramp, for a possible take-off at 2 a.m. tomorrow.

The winds tonight were from the northeast and shifting, Charles O. Schick, meteorologist, reported at the field, but for the past several mornings at 2 o'clock they have been blowing from the south, the kind Browne needs.

Mrs. Read Charges Husband and Three Others, Kidnapping

OAKLAND, Calif., May 27—Kidnapping complaints charging her own husband and three other persons with abducting her were sworn out today by Mrs. Marion Young Read, young society matron.

Warrants were issued and officers were ordered to Placerville, Calif., to return the husband, Albert C. Read, broker, and Stewart Trumbauer, one of the others accused, who were arrested last night after Mrs. Read esaped from them.

Mrs. Read recently named Claire Windsor, motion picture actress, in an alienatio of affections suit for $100,000 and in a suit for divorce, made the charges upon returning home from Placerville, where she appealed to the authorities after her escape.

The escapade was an outgrowth of an alleged desire of Read to effect a reconsiliation. Mrs. Read asserted her husband seized her from in front of a friend's home here and forced her with a pistol to accompany him.

Change of Name Only Requirement for Vast Estate

LONDON, May 27 (By Thomas T Champion, C P staff writer) (C P cable)—J. Rutherford Chalmers, 27-year-old bachelor member of parliament for the borough of Edmonton, near London, has been left the residue of the estate of his great uncle, Sir John Rutherford, on conditions he adopts his great uncle's surname. The inheritance is worth more than $1,500,000.

"Of course I shall change my name," Mr. Chalmers said today. "I fear I may probably remain a bachelor like my great uncle, but if I marry I shall marry a Scotswoman."

Sir John was a prosperous Lancashire brewer. He owned Solario, the horse which won the St. Leger stakes in 1925. He refused an offer for the horse by H. H. Aga Khan of $500,000.

JEWISH AND ARAB ORANGE GROWERS TO ATTEND IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

JERUSALEM, May 27 (Jewish telegraphic agency)—A delegation of Jewish and Arab orange growers will shortly proceed from Palestine to attend the Ottawa imperial conference.

The delegation will seek to secure the exemption of Palestine oranges from the payment of import duty.

Lindbergh Passes Flying Test for Transport Licence

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., May 27. — Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is ready for another year of flying.

He flew here from his New Jersey home today, in Mrs. Lindbergh's small ship, took his annual transport license examination, received his usual high mark and flew home without being observed.

Major John A. Moulton, examining officer, pronounced the "flying colonel" fit in every particular.

BROMLEY IS FORCED DOWN SHORT OF GOAL

Texas Airman Covered 16,000 Miles of Non-Stop Flight

CAMDEN N. J., May 27—Harold Bromley, Texas airman, set his oil-burning monoplane down at Central airport tonight after bucking storms all the way from Dallas, Texas, and being forced to turn back from New York, the goal of his projected non-stop flight.

His flying time from Dallas was approximately 13 hours and 15 minutes, Bromley said, and he estimated in that time he covered about 1600 miles.

Bromley said he plans to take off for New York at daybreak tomorrow.

The flight was made for the purpose of checking his plane and tuning it up preparatory for a non-stop flight to Los Angeles or Seattle and thence non-stop to Tokyo.

Minister Cites Letter to Bishop in Own Defence

LONDON, May 27—The devotion of the Rev H. F. Davidson 62-year-old rector of Stiffkey, to the cause of fallen women was proclaimed today in Church house, Westminster, where the rector is defending himself against charges of immorality.

At the conclusion of nearly 28 hours of direct testimony and cross-examination, the elderly rector, accused of intimacies with young girls, cited a letter which he had written to the bishop of Norwich in which he had told of his efforts to assist women who had erred.

"I believe," the letter said "that if Christ had been born again in London in the present day he would be found constantly walking in Piccadilly. His attitude to women taken in adultery has always been my inspiration."

The rector reiterated denials made yesterday that a photograph showing him with a partially undraped young girl had been taken for immoral purposes.

IMMORALITY NOT A QUESTION OF TIME

LONDON, May 27 (AP)—Immorality is not a matter of time of day, the Rev. H. F. Davidson asserted today before the chuch consistory court trying him on charges that he had been intimate with young girls.

The 62-year-old rector testified that one night he missed the last train to Stiffkey, where he was the vicar and subsequently he went into a room occupied by Miss Barbara Harris. There was, he said, no harm in that visit, even if it was late at night.

"I don't take notice of hours," he said. "It doesn't seem to me that because I go into a room at five minutes to 12 my presence there becomes immoral at five minutes past 12. As a clergyman one spends one's whole life in bedrooms."

PROHIBITION CAUSE MAY BRING FORTH THIRD PARTY, U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (By Ken Clark, Canadian Press staff correspondent)—Out of 29 Democratic and 34 Republican state organizations so far considering policy for the presidential campaign, 15 Democratic and six Republican favore repeal or resubmission of the 18th amendment to the constitution.

Six Democratic organizations vitoed dry or against were propositions eight made no mention of prohibition. Of the Republicans, 10 were dry and 18 were non-commital.

Two weeks before the Republican national convention gets underway in Chicago, prohibition becomes a much more important issues than it was in 1928

It's Felsch

FORMER WHITE SOX STAR STILL IN THE GAME

If it isn't old Hap! Yes, sir, old Oscar (Happy) Felsch, who used to go and get 'em in the center garden for the Chicago White Sox. But back in 1919 the White Sox got into a crooked world series and Hap and several team-mates were permanently suspended. Now Hap is back, with permission from Judge Landis, so it is said, to play baseball for the Triangle Billiards, a sandlot team in Milwaukee. He looks a little heavier than he used to, don't you think? Wonder if he can still throw like he used to?

HARVEY MURPHY REMANDED FOR TRIAL, BLAIRMORE

Others Remanded; Work Continues as Usual at Coleman Mines

BLAIRMORE, Alta., May 27 (CP)—Harvey Murphy, arrested in Calgary and brought back here to face a charge of unlawful assembly in connection with disturbances at Bellevue recently, was remanded for trial by Magistrate Gresham late today. Murphy is alleged to have participated in a clash between Royal Canadian Mounted police and strikers near the property of the West Canadian Collieries, limited.

Three others, Pete Popniuk, Jack Nakoff and Carl Belik, scheduled for preliminary hearing today on charges of assault arising from a fight between factions of striking miners at Coleman, were remanded until tomorrow because the court required all day to hear the evidence against Murphy. Murphy conducted his own defence.

Work continued as usual at the Coleman mines and the McGillivray Coke company, limited, with strikes there concluded. At Blairmore and Bellevue, where strikes are still in progress, quietness also reigned.

FARMERS MUST STUDY MARKETS STATES PRINCE

BATH, Eng., May 27 (C P cable)—The Prince of Wales today told farmers assembled at the famous Bath and west agricultural show "we farmers must study our market." He said the only way British farmers could reduce transportation costs was by cooperation.

The prince urged modernization of agriculture in the United Kingdom. "We are still producing goods which were suitable in England 30 years ago, like big cheeses and meat joints," he said.

FATHER AND SON ESCAPE AS MOTHER KILLED IN CAR WRECK

CARBON, Alta., May 27—Mrs. Ida O'Rourke of Carbon was killed instantly yesterday when the car in which she was travelling crashed over a 12-foot bank and overturned Her husband, James O'Rourke, and a small son were uninjured.

MONTREAL, May 27 — Senator Charles Beaubien was elected a director of La Banque Canadienne Nationale at a meeting held here today.

ONE ABDUCTOR KILLED, OTHER IS WOUNDED

Girl Is Left in Car With Dead Man in Country Woods

NORRIS, Okla., May 27.—Kidnapped by three bank robbers, Miss Claire Aggas, 26-year-old bookkeeper, was shot today in a gunfight that resulted in the death of one of her abductors and the reported wounding of another. Two of the men escaped.

Guns blazed as the robbers emerged from the First State Bank of Norris with $800 loot and the girl their captive. Alone in the bank, she had sounded the burglar alarm, although threatened with firearms.

A storekeeper and a marshal opened fire as the bandits fled in an automobile. Miss Aggas was wounded in the exchange of shots, a bullet striking her in the jaw and shoulder.

Two miles from Coalton, the driver of the car turned into a woods. Miss Aggas was thrown out and the car abandoned, the body of the dead robber being left in the machine. One of the survivors was wounded, Miss Aggas reported.

The girl staggered to the road and fell unconscious. She was found by her fiance, Baron Skinner, who had joined in the pursuit.

Italian Air Force Gives Demonstration

ROME, May 27 (AP)— General Italo Balbo and his air force put on a gigantic aerial show today at Littorio field to demonstrate to transoceanic fliers of 11 nations the great development of Italian aviation in recent years.

Premier Mussolini sat in the midst of British, American, French, Italian, Irish, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Brazilian, Uruguayan and Dutch aviators while 400 aeroplanes roared overhead in intricate evolutions, dare devil acrobatics and mimic warfare.

CYCLONE KILLS 11; DAMAGE IS HEAVY

Senate Virtually Approves Schedule Rate, Revenue Bill

Two Cents Cheque Tax Is Accepted; Driving Finish

WASHINGTO N.May 27 — In a driving finish, the United States senate approved virtually all of the rate schedules of hte revenue bill tonight and reached the momentous dispute over the sales tax.

To speed th conclusion of the grind, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, asked for a session on Monday—Memorial day in the United States—when a vote is expected on the contest to substitute the 1.75 per cent general levy for the numerous special excise taxes.

Almost $300,000,000 was put into the budget-balancing legislation in today's nine-hour sessin. Increases in the first and second class postal rates, involving $160,000,000 new revenue, and the two cents checque tax, expected to yield $95,000,000 were accepted.

More than $0,000,000 was saved by a tie-vote—the forst of the session—on an attempt by Senator Howell, Republican, Neb., to exempt checques of five dollars and less from the two cents levy.

Gold Camps of the Nelson Mining Division Are Full of Operations and Deals

Sheep Creek Has Several Operations; Ymir Camp Extremely Active; Nelson List of Operations Is Long One

Widespread activity in the gold camps of the Nelson mining division suggests that the 1932 season will be a notable one for the number of active operations, with early realization on the values in the veins the objective of nearly all of them.

RENO-MOTHERLODE DEAL

In this activity the famous Sheep Creek gold camp is taking leadership by reason of several deals, the largest being the acquisition by Reno Gold Mines, Limited, of the Nugget-Motherlode mill, from a syndicate consisting of Allison Forbes of Victoria, A. E. Jukes of Vancouver, Arthur Lakes, and others. O. C. Tohmpson, managing director, already has a crew working on the mill, to get it in shape to handle the Reno ore, which will travel 1200 feet by tram. early resumption of the mining and shipping interrupted by the burning of the Reno cyanide mill some months ago being the immediate objective. The existing tram will serve any mining operation in the Nugget and Motherlode mines, which are inter-connected in the heart of Dominion mountain.

QUEEN TAKEN OVER

By a deal just made, E. V. Buckley, of Alma Centre, Wis., on behalf of the owners of the Queen, at the junction of Wolf and Sheep creeks, has given a lease and bond on the Queen-Yellowstone to A. D. Westby and associates, who have had the property under examination by representatives of American capital. The Queen workings have already been unwatered.

Shipments have been made for some time from the Vancoucer fraction, to Trail smelter, by Joe Gallo and C. W. Applegate of Calgary, who have a lease and bond from Frank Unfried. The Vancouver adjoins the Queen.

English capital is understood to have taken an option on the Ore Hill and Summit properties on Mount Vernon, from G. E. Eitell, of Minnesota, the deal having been put through by a Vancouver broker.

GOLD BELT OPERATION

Another Sheep creek property being opened is the Gold Belt, adjoining the Nugget-Motherlode. Arthur Lakes has formed a Vancouver syndicate for an operation on this.

J. Louis Peters of Los Angeles, who recently took a lease and bond on the Jumbo from P. J. Sheran, has formed the Jumbo Gold Mines,

GERMAN POLICE RETURN FIRE OF AMBUSHED MOB

Casualties Include More Than Score Injured; One Dead

BERLIN, May 27 (AP). — The riots which have harassed police in many German cities for three days continued throughout last night and part of today in several cities.

Casualties included more than a score injured and one dead. There were many arrests.

Gunfire from police was necessary to quell a wild disorder at Wuppertal. Pelted with bottles and flower pots by mobs of desperate jobless men, the constabulary retaliated with their pistols, wounding several.

The crowds fired on the police from ambush at Remscheid, and the officers returned the fire and charged with their blackjacks. In Duesseldorf and Stetting mobs demolished long rows of shop windows and took food.

Strictly political disorders at Chemnitz, Brunswick and Eisenach, Vice-president Brestchneider of the Saxon diet was brutally beaten, apparently by political foes, at Chemnitz. Nazi storm troop members ran wild at Brunswick and Eisenach, beating up several persons of opposite political affiliation.

The signal for these disorders apparently came when wild disorder broke up a session of the Prussian diet here two days ago.

FRIENDSHIP BEHIND HANDSOME PROFIT, NEW YORK MAYOR

Committe Counsel Attacks the Testimony of "Jimmie" Walker

NEW YORK, May 27—A newspaper publisher's explanation of a brokerage account from which Mayor James J. Walker drew $246,000 profit without a cent's investment was given to the Hofstadter legislative committee today.

The aftermath of Walker's own two-day appearance before the enquiry board ended with Samuel Seabury attemping to link the personal finances of the mayor and those of Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant.

Sherwood, testimony had shown, put nearly $1,000,000 into his bank and brokerage accounts between the day Walker became mayor and the day the $3500-a-year accountant disappeared.

ATTACKS TESTIMONY

Seabury, gray-haired committee counsel opened the day's session by attacking the mayor's testimony and contending the committee had proof in spite of Walker's denial, that Sherwood for years had been his personal business agent.

The story of the joint brokerage account from which the mayor profited so handsomely was given by Paul Block.

It was a story of a great personal friendship, in which Walker figured as an individual and not as mayor of the world's largest city.

Block testified that he never discussed with Walker the matter of the mayor's being repsonsible for a portion of any possible loss in the joint account. He said it was never his attention to allow the mayor to lose any money.

The publisher said the payment to the mayor had on occasions been in excess of the account's profits. He said he did not know how much payments of this sort amounted to.

CLEVELAND SPEED DRIVER IS DEAD AFTER ACCIDENT

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27—Milton Jones, 38, of Cleveland, injured when his racing car went through a wall at the Indianapolis speedway, this afternoon, during a trial run for the 500-mile race on Monday, died in hospital tonight. Harold Gray, 24, also of Cleveland, Jones' riding mechanic, was seriously injured in the wreck.

SYDNEY ISLAND MAY BE PRISON FOR THE DOUKS

VICTORIA, May 27.—Dominion government architects are drafting detailed plans for establishment of a Doukhobor compound on Sidney island, near Sidney, B. C., it was learned today. They will report to Ottawa immediately on the peasibility of placing British Columbia's band of imprisoned Sons of Freedom on the island for the three years of their penitentiary term. While the architects' views on the suitability of the island are not definitely known, the impression prevails here that the Doukhobors would be placed there.

CALGARY BOY IS KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Canadian Freshman of Colorado University Dies With Pal

BOULDER, Colo., May 27—Two persons were killed and four others injured, one seriously, late today in a collision between two automobiles on the highway south of Lafayette, Colo.

The dead: Harrison B. Allen, 20, of Calgary, Canada, freshman at the University of Colorado. Mrs. Phyllis Rosenbaum, 26, Louisville, Colo.

The automobile in which the students were riding was driven by David Higby, 19, of Monument, Colo. He suffered cuts and bruises. Alfred Greenman, 22, the other student in the automobile was cut and bruised and was believed to have suffered serious internal injuries.

PARDON OF FATHER OBJECT OF KIDDIES' VISIT TO HOOVER

Three Children Make Trip to Washington in Hopes of Seeing President

WASHINGTON, May 27. — Tired, travel-stained, and a little bewildered, three Feagan children—Bernice, 13, Irene, 11, and Clifford, 10—stepped off a Detroit bus today with high hopes of personally asking President Hoover to keep their father out of prison.

"They are taking father tomorrow," Bernice said as the three, bareheaded and carrying suitcases, were taken to a hotel. "He's awfully sick, and he will surely die if he goes to jail. And that's why we came to see the president."

Clifford was slightly ailing from eating candy on the way ,but Irene, plump and jolly, was smiling as she tried to see everything at once. Bernice was serious and told their story

Charles R. Feagan, the father, was arrested on a charge of unlawfully driving an automobile from St. Joseph, Miss., to Detroit. There are four other children at home with their mother. Feagan is now in the Detroit county jail.

"My father is not guilty of the charge," said Bernice. "He was out of a job in St. Joseph and a man gave him permission to drive the car to Detroit and see if he could sell it. He won't last long if they take him to jail, and we want to keep him as long as we can."

A student in the seventh grade, she related the story without faltering. Her plans to see the president are indefinite. The local manager of a bus line which is helping them hopes to arrange an appointment tomorrow.

Communists Refused Habeus Corpus Writs

HALIFAX, May 27 (CP)—Eight alleged Communists convicted as "undesirables" by an immigration tribunal and ordered to be deported, today were refused writs of habeas corpus in the supreme court of Nova Scotia.

Arrested in various Canadian cities early in May and brought to Halifax by Royal Canadian Mounted police, they will remain in the detention quarters here until appeals against the deportation orders have been considered by the minister of immigration. Three other prisoners, for whom habeas corpus action was not taken, also have appeals before the minister and are held here.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND ACCEPTS CONFERENCE INVITATION

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 27—(C P cable)—The general assembly of the Church of Scotland today voted by a large majority to accept an invitation of the last Lambeth conference of Anglican bishops to explore possibilities of closer union between the two churches.

COAST GUARD VESSELS FIND BODIES OF TWO

Chattanooga Picks Up Members of Grecian Crew

BLANKET OF FOG HANDICAPS HUNT

Bodies of Mess Boy and Ordinary Seaman Still Missing

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 27.—The steamer Grecian sank with the loss of four men off Block island early today after it collided in a dense fog with the Chattanooga.

The latter, virtually unoamaged, picked up the other 33 members of the Grecian's crew and started a slow passage to Boston.

Meanwhile coast guard vessels from the New London base, handicapped by the blanket of fog, recovered the bodies of E. L. Forest of Portsmouth, Va., second engineer, and Charles Crowl of Providence, R. I., steward.

They were brought here by the OG-405 while other service vessels continued to search for Jim Merriweather of Philadelphia, mess boy, and Zanry Lowes of Portsmouth, Va., ordinary seaman.

Some of the Grecian's men on the City of Chattanooga were injured, but none of the crew of the heavier ship was hurt.

HOOVER DECRIES PUBLIC WORKS PART OF BILL

"The Most Gigantic Pork Barrel Ever Proposed to Congress," He States

WASHINGTN, May 27—In angry tones and biting words, President Hoover today denounced the public works sectin of the Garner relief bill as "the mist gigantic pork barrel ever proposed to the American congress."

The president said many of the more than 3500 projects proposed in the bill had been discredited by congress because of "useless extravagance involved" and that many others had been authorized as justified only in the long distnce future.

"I do nt believ that 20 per cent could be brought to the stage of employment for a year," he said. "I am advised by the engineers that theamount of labor required to complete a group of 100,000 men for one year because they are in large degree mechanical jobs."

In the house of representatives, plans were going ahead for pressing the plan into action. Speaker John H. Garner was ready to go before the ways and means committee and the house itself, if necessary, to fight fr adoption of the program. He will be thef irst witness for the bill as hearings begin Tuesday.

Doukhobor Children Distributed at Coast

VANCOUVER, May 27—The party of Doukhobor children numbering 141, sons and daughters of the Doukhobors sentenced recently for parading in the nude, arrived here late tonight and tomorrow will be distributed to various institutions and homes. One hundred and six of the children came from Nelson and the remainder from Grand Forks.

TERRIFIC RAINS PUT AN END TO ONTARIO FIRES

SUDBURY, May 27—With Terrific rains drenching undergrowth, northern Ontario tonight is welcoming the end of a long, weary fight against forest fires which during the past week have raged in many areas.

Early today most of the fires were definitely under control following heavy precipitation of rains at the north Buy fire area rains were very heavy, while more than one inch fell in this district. Snow covered the ground and Rouyn and Matachewan, ending for the time being all fire hazards.

PRINCE WIRES WISHES TO PARTY BOUND FOR B. C.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., May 27 (C P cable)—The Prince of Wales telegraphed a party of British professional and business men which left here today for British Columbia wishing them a pleasant journey.

The prince said he knew the party, which will tour the Canadian province, will find the trip full of interest and will receive a warm and hospitable welcome.

FORKS TO MEET NELSON SUNDAY IN SWAT BATTLE

Mayor Morgan Steams First Ball Down to Alderman Dawson

FIRST NELSON HOME GAME THIS SEASON

Brilliant Exhibition Expected From League Leaders

Nelson's series of home games in the Kootenay Senior Baseball league will begin Sunday afternoon with the Grand Forks team invading Nelson. Mayor J. P. Morgan will sizzle the first ball across the plate in an effort to steam it through Alderman R. W. Dawson, who will be on the receiving end of the fire. The Boundary capital boys are invading Nelson with the intention of breaking the first-place tie between the two teams.

NELSON BOYS IN SHAPE

The Nelson boys held their final workout Thursday night at the Recreation grounds, and are in the pink of condition. Under the constant coaching of Manager J. Brennan the boys are continuing to improve, and are expected to show even better ball ability than they did last Sunday in Trail. A win this Sunday will put Nelson on top of the league and go a long way toward winning this year's Kootenay league pennant.

FORKS YOUNGSTERS AMBITIOUS

According to information received here, the Forks team made up of young bloods, who are raring to go, and with a battery made up of "Corky" O'Keefe on the mound and Walter Ronald behind the bat, they hope to climb to the top of the ladder and leave Nelson stranded on the second rung of the league ladder. With ambitions such as these, Sunday's game should be a first-class baseball exhibition.

ALLISON HURLS FOR NELSON

Dean Allison, a newcomer to Nelson, sport, will be on the mound for the locals. This boy has been under the careful teaching of his father, A. Allison, who spent his younger days pitching in the major leagues. With this background, Dean is sure to come through on top this week-end. "Slim" Kraft, Nelson's old standby, who outpitched Demore in Trail last Sunday, will be on hand and ready to pitch if called upon. G. (Fat) Richardson will complete the battery.

The team Sunday will be picked ffrom the following players: G. Richardson, Dean Allison, "Slim" Kraft, "Chic" Gillett, H. McLennan, H. Bey, G. Roynon, T. Arcure, H. Horswill, T. Harrison, "Lefty" Schumaker.

"Scotty" Notman will again call the balls and strikes, and will be assisted by an umpire from the Forks.

The game is called for 2:30 at the Recreation grounds.

Kimberley Golfers Defend Cup, Trail, This Afternoon

TRAIL, B. C., May 27.—Tomorrow Trail will be the scene of one of the district golf classics of the year. In fact the fun commenced today when nine Kimberley golfers under the able management of Norman W. Burdett invaded the city for the Eugene Phillips cup contest. This cup was presented to be played for annually by employees of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company who are members of Kimberley Golf club and Rossland-Trail Golf and Country club.

The cup was in competition the first time last year at Kimberley when it was won by the players of the mining center. The opinion is quite freely expressed that the odds are in favor of the group who are playing on their own course.

Play will get away at 1 o'clock sharp tomorrow with the players paired as follows, Kimberley players being named first:

1 p.m.—Dr. J. S. Haszard vs. P. F. McIntyre.

CRICKET PLAY AGAIN HELD UP THROUGH RAIN

LONDON, May 27 (CP cable)—Rain today prevented play in all county championship cricket matches scheduled to end today and left them drawn or won on the first innings. Four games were finished yesterday.

Results in four county matches and one friendly game remaining were;

At Lord's: Middlesex won on the first innings; Middlesex 336; Northamptonshire 161 and 187 for seven. At the oval; Surrey won on the first innings; Surrey 268 and 101 for four; Warwickshire 267. At Ilkeston; Derbyshire won on the first innings; Derby 116 Kent 114.

At Cardiff; Lancashire won on the first innings; Lancashire 192; Glamorgan 165 and 114 Fornnine. At Oxford (friendly game); Oxford University and Gloucestershire drew; Oxford University 139 and 28 for no wickets; Gloucestershire 196 and 280.

MOCK IMPERIAL CONFERENCE IS ROSSLAND EVENT

St Andrew's Church Young People's Meeting Is Unique Affair

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 27.—A mock "Imperial Conference" was the main feature of the Young People's meeting at St. Andrew's United church Wednesday evening. South Africa was represented by Miss Josephine Roscoria, who presented the claims of that Dominion very strongly, telling of the large variety of its products and querying as to why Great Britain did not purchase more from her own colonies and less from the United States. Canada's claims were presented by Miss Beatrice Jeffers, Jack Page, Charles Daly and Russel Jones, who felt that Great Britain hardly realized that Canada had grown up. A full list of Canada's imports and exports was given, as well as the viewpoint of the manufacturer, the grain grower and the lumberman. M. P. Desbrisay presented the claims of Australia, claiming that Australia must have free trade within the Empire if she is to remain British. Miss Thelma Pitt, Monty Graham and James Toogood spoke for the mother country, which had born the burden of Empire for many years and was surely entitled to first claim upon the trade of her colonies. D. McNaughton, acting as Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, welcomed the delegates.

MORE ABOUT LOCAL GOLD

Limited, with a capitalization of $2,000,000. The Jumbo is in the Lost creek section of the camp.

Besides operations, and deals having operations in view, there has been quite a lot of staking on Sheep creek and its tributaries recently.

The Ymir camp is also the site of much activity, both in the way of operations and of examinations and deals.

For many months past the Yankee Girl has been shipping to Trail from the Bear creek workings, E. P. Crawford having a lease and bond from the Texas Yankee Girl company.

BLACK COCK PAYMENT

Last week F. J. S. Sur and associates made a first payment on a lease and bond on the Black Cock, up Wild Horse creek, obtained from A. McMilland and associates of Calgary. A tram survey is being made, and it is anticipated that in a month the property will ship ore from the upper workings to Trail. A lower tunnel is being opened, and exploration there will start soon.

D. H. Norcross and A. G. Norcross, brothers, have started work on the Wilcox, on which they have taken a lease and bond, from the Ymir-Wilcox Gold Mines, Limited, and expect within the next few days to operate the property's stamp mill on ore already developed.

W. B. Pool has an option on the Goodenough with a view to interesting capital.

Interests from Seattle will make an examination of the Tamarack, across the hill from the Goodenough, next week, with a view to a deal if satisfied. The Tamarack is owned by E. W. Widdowson of Nelson.

ERIE DEALS

In the Erie camp the various properties of the Relief-Arlington Mines, Limited, are in the limelight. The Arlington and the Canadian King have been leased to Godfrey Birstch.

The Relief, one of the company's properties, is being examined on behalf of American capital.

Hall creek is the site of a placer operation being initiated by Stephen McDonald and Ernest Brasch. It is located on the flat where the creek empties, at the head of the Salmon valley.

A lode property above Hall creek, in the vicinity of the old Fern, was examined last week on behalf of outside capital.

MUCH NELSON ACTIVITY

One of the most active camps is the Nelson camp itself. Until the spring break-up, the Perrier, operated by F. J. S. Sur for Calgary capital, which has now incorporated as the Nelson Gold Mines, Limited, was the heaviest custom shipper of 1932 to Trail, and shipping will be resumed as soon as the water situation permits.

It is understood that the Granite-Poorman program of deep work is to be resumed by J. H. Fox, under arrangements made by Mr. Smith, the financial man of Seattle.

H. D. Dawson, J. C. Allison and George Allen, all of Nelson, have been breaking down ore on the Venus and Juno, on Morning mountain, for some months, in anticipation of shipping as soon as they have opened road connection.

TO MILL NEVADA ORE

The Norcross brothers and three Rossland associates are getting out ore on the Nevada, one of the properties in the late Kootenay Premier grouping, and plan to run it through the Granite mill.

A. C. Mesker of Midway has a few men working on the St. Anthony, adjoining the Perrier, and has 20 tons of ore ready for shipment to Trail.

W. Jarvis and C. A. Sorenson have some men working on the Silver Leaf and adjoining claims on Anderson creek.

The Eup' tes, which has been under development for some years, and is now controlled by H. M. Holmes, representing Portland capital, is understood to be on the point of resuming work for the season.

MAUREEN ORCUTT LEADS QUALIFYING FIELD OF GOLFERS

Holder of Canadian Women's Open Title Shoots Brilliant Golf

STAUNTON, Eng., May 27 (AP)—Blonde Maureen Orcutt, holder of the Canadian women's open title, playing in the best weather of a nasty day, shot a brilliant 73 this morning to lead the field by two strokes through the first half of the qualifying round of the British women's golf championship. The Englewood, N. J., girl stroke the 18 holes only two over par.

But the front rank of the British delegation, playing in rain and wind that sent scores soaring, turned in cards that will place them well inside the qualifying mark.

Enid Wilson, British champion, turned in a 79. Molly Gourlay took an 83, Elsie Corlett 81, and Diana Fishwick 87.

Finals, Jefferson Trophy Scheduled at Trail on Sunday

TRAIL, B. C., May 27.—Sunday should see the finals of the Jefferson trophy competitions of the Rossland-Trail Golf and Country club. T. A. Rice and Miss M. Beckwith reached the finals of the competition when they defeated R. G. Anderson and Miss J. Beasley.

In the other bracket the semi-final has yet to be played. R. C. Crowe and Mrs. R. G. Anderson meet T. W. Bingay and Mrs. P. F. McIntyre in this.

The Jefferson contest is for mixed two-ball foursomes, handicap, match play.

FINISH LADIES' GOLF TOURNEY SUNDAY AND PRESENT PRIZES

At the links of the Nelson Golf and Country club Sunday the ladies' handicap tournament will be completed, and prizes will be presented for this tournament, and for the competitions completed on Victoria day—the Wilson cup, men's first flight, and handicap mixed foursomes.

FALCONS DEFEAT HUME TO TUNE OF 12-10, BASEBALL

Falcons took a 12-10 victory over the Hume ball club in a Junior Baseball league game at the Recreation grounds Friday night. Hume held a three-run margin over the Falcon squad until the seventh inning when the Falcons crossed the home plate three times to tie the score and in the eighth the Falcons netted another two runs to take the match.

The summary of the score by innings follows:

Home	430 003 00—10
Falcons	210 040 32—12

Players were as follows:

Falcons—H. Moore c, Joe Hunden p, Phil Kuntz, ss, Walt Gillette 3b, H. Elliott 1b, J. Kuntz 2b, A. McInnis rf, L. Gillette cf, and D. Ball lf.

Hume—T. Bird cf, Pissoreta rf, Kirby 3b, Stirzaker, 1b, Romano ss, Bell p, Horswill 2b, Anderson c, and Defoe lf.

SCOTT THORNBERG BURIED AT KASLO

Was Old-Timer of the District; Leaves Wife; Many Floral Offerings

KASLO, B. C., May 27.—Funeral services for the late Scott Thornberg, who passed away Monday in Nelson, were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the United church. Mr. Thornberg was a native of Kentucky and was 63 years of age. He has been a resident in Kaslo for upward of 35 years and has long been interested in various mining projects throughout the district. He was also an ardent hunter. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. C. Mawhinney of Nelson. The church was filled with old-time friends and citizens, as well as a number from outside points who came to pay their last respects to one of the best known and most popular men of the district. A large number of beautiful floral tributes spoke of the esteem in which Mr. Thornberg was held. He is survived by his wife and brothers and sisters living in the United States. The pall-bearers, all old-time friends, were: O. E. Desmond, S. A. Hunter, William English, A. T. Garland, Robert McDougall and J. M. Allen. Interment took place in the city cemetery.

Senior and Junior High Schools Have Track Meet Today

An inter-school track and field meet between the Nelson High school and the Nelson Junior High school comprised of 16 field events and 15 track events will be one of the big features on Nelson's week-end sports program.

This meet, which has been called to foster the interest of young athletes who either were not fast enough to make the representative teams in the Kootenay Boundary schools meet at Kimberley on May 21, or juniors who did not make an entry, will bar all competitors in the Kimberley track events.

In the junior events, pupils 14 and under will be allowed to compete, the intermediates will be 16 and under and the seniors will be 17 and over.

The open events will be composed of a shot-put for boys, a mile race, a baseball throw for girls, and others.

There will also be several inter-class relay races on the program.

The opening event will be a 100-yard dash at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Merchandise tickets with the compliments of various Nelson merchants will be awarded the various winners as prizes.

Trail Baseball Team to Clash, Rossland, Sunday

TRAIL, B. C., May 27.—Trail baseball team is set to snary up the standing of the Kootenay Baseball league. The boys got to Rossland Sunday and they figure on bringing batting averages up to normal. Grand Forks plays in Nelson.

Sunday's games should show a little more of the relative strength of the teams. Nelson won the opening game with Trail and Grand Forks beat Rossland in its first league engagement. Nelson and Trail should win Sunday, but past performances so far this season are no indication of the probable outcome in either game.

PLAY PRESENTED BY GIRLS AT ST. PAUL'S, SUCCESS

'Little" Princess' Draws Good Crowd; Parts Are Well Portrayed

"The Little Princess", a three-act play, was presented at St. Paul's church Friday night with great success, by the members of the C.G.I.T., in aid of the children wishing to go to the summer camp up the lake this year.

The play itself was preceded by three short acts, which were enthusiastically received. "The King's Breakfast", written by Andrew Millett, was characterized by a group of Grades 1 and 2 pupils. This was followed by a piano selection by Miss Lillian Auld and three numbers by the St. Paul's boys' choir.

In the first scene of the play, the "Little Princess", Sarah, portrayed by Jean Gibson, is being given a pretty birthday party by Miss Minchin, at Miss Minchin's seminary. The other girls in the seminary object to the way that Sarah is being treated by Miss Minchin, so they have nicknamed Sarah the "Little Princess". Miss Minchin then hears from a lawyer that Captain Crewe, Sarah's father, is dead, and, finding that he has died inestate, tells Sarah that she must work and sleep in the garret with the kitchen-maid, Becky, who manages by her actions to keep the audience in laughter all the way through the play.

PLAN SURPRISE

The second act finds two Hindu servant men, who have discovered Sarah, for Sarah's father lived in India, preparing to surprise the "Little Princess" with good things which they plan to bring after she is asleep. They are in her garret. Sarah comes into the garret very cold and wet and sits down to think things over when a former schoolmate of hers comes in and brings her some books. Sarah tells her that she is so hungry that she "could even eat Miss Minchin". The other girl has just received a hamper from her parents. She brings it up and she and Sarah and Becky proceed to enjoy it. Miss Minchin breaks it up and Becky goes to bed. The Indians enter, leave the good things, and disappear. Sarah wakes to discover that she has "a friend".

In the third act appears Mr. Carmichael, the man who unwittingly caused Sarah's father's death. He has taken a fancy to Sarah, not knowing who she is, but meantime searching for her. She is heiress to a fortune, and decides to stay with Mr. Carmichael, ignoring Miss Minchin's pleadings.

The cast was as follows: Sarah, the "Little Princess", Jean Gibson; Miss Minchin, proprietress of the young ladies' seminary, Jean Ferguson; Miss Amelia, her sister, Effie Morris; Sarah's friends, Rose McInnis, Violet Young, Winnie Jardine; Becky, kitchen-maid, Janet Grimes; school girls, Stella Kellogg, Jean Richardson, Jean Dingwall, Lorraine Ferguson; Peggy, Isabelle Young; Mrs. Carmichael, Belle Ramsay; Mr. Carmichael, Audrey Smith; Mr. Carrisford, his lawyer, Helen Ferguson; Mr. Barrow, Captain Crewe's lawyer, Lillian Bennett, Guest Ram Das, two Hindu servants of Mr. Carmichael's, Agnes Gibson and Eileen Eperson; Emma, maid, Jessie Fraser.

McKENZIE TALKS ON EMPIRE DAY AT THE CONVENT

Addresses Convent Pupils on International Peace; I. O. D. E. Represented

Monday afternoon Very Rev. J. C. McKenzie addressed the pupils of St. Joseph's academy at a short Empire day program in the Catholic Parish hall. He took as his subject "International Peace".

The hope that the nations of the world will take effective measures to reduce armaments and thus promote international peace was expressed by Father McKenzie in the course of his address. Every nation might take as its watchword that quotation from Scripture which is the sum and substance of that second great commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself"—regardless of color, creed or race. Christ's first and last message to the human race was one of peace—"My peace I leave you."

Rev. Father McKenzie made reference to the great war and the havoc which it wrought to all nations, and pointed out the fact that we cannot promote the instruments of war and pretend to seek international peace.

Besides the pupils and members of the faculty, there were present as representatives of the I.O.D.E., Mrs. T. Brodie, Mrs. W. S. King, and Mrs. M. J. Vigneux.

The program was opened by the assembly singing O Canada, and closed by God Save the King.

DOUKHOBORS ARE QUIET IN JAIL

Were Told were to Moved But Order Cancelled at Victoria

There were no new activities at the Nelson provincial jail over Friday. Doukhobors incarcerated there, awaiting shipment to Oakalla, who had been informed in the morning that they would be leaving Nelson Friday night were informed later that the intended movement had been cancelled. It is expected that the men and most of the women will be moved from Nelson either tonight or tomorrow night. Inability for the authorities at the coast to make room for the convicted fanatics was given as the reason for delaying their movement to the coast.

Meanwhile there was little activity among the jail inmates. Since their children have been shipped to coast institutions the parents and others have become calm and apparently resigned to their fate. The usual singing was absent.

HOW HIGH WILL THE WATER IN THE WEST ARM GO THIS YEAR?

Present Height of 14 Feet Attained Three Weeks Ahead 1916 Rise

WATER REACHED 28 FEET IN 1894

Next Highest Record Over 21 Feet in 1903, and in June of 1916

One of the most talked of things in Nelson and throughout the district bordering the main Kootenay lake and the West Arm, is high water. How high will it go this year? That is the question uppermost in the minds of a lot of people. At noon Friday the water level stood at 14 feet, one-quarter inch above low water mark, a rise of one-quarter inch in the 24 hours.

How does this mark compare with the figures for 1916, when aside from 1903, the highest water reading to that of 1894 was recorded at Nelson. In 1894 the level of the lake reached a little over 28 feet. In 1903 it reached close to 22 feet and in 1916 it rose to 21 feet two inches attaining its high mark on about June 30.

According to water readings in the files of The Nelson Daily News of the spring of 1916 the present water level of 14 feet was not reached until June 17. In other words the present height of the water in the West Arm has been reached almost three weeks ahead of the spring of 1916. The level on May 27, 1916, stood at nine feet seven and three-quarters inches.

Figures for 1916 are interesting at this time. The readings as shown in the daily paper of that time were as follows:

May 27, 9 feet 7¾ inches.
May 29, 9 feet 9 inches.
May 30, 9 feet 10 inches.
May 31, 9 feet, 11½ inches.
June 1, 10 feet and one half inch.
June 2, 10 feet 1 inch.
June 5, 10 feet 3 inches.
June 6, 10 feet 6 inches.
June 7, 10 feet 8 inches.
June 8, 10 feet 10 inches.
June 13, 12 feet 1 inch
June 14, 12 feet 4 inches.
June 17, 13 feet 10½ inches.
June 19, 15 feet 2 inches (a rise of 13½ inches in 24 hours, accompanied by hot weather).
June 20, 16 feet 6 inches(rise of 15 inches in 24 hours. Temperature reading about 74 degrees).
June 24, 19 feet 11 inches.
June 26, 20 feet 9 inches.
June 28, 21 feet.
June 29, 21 feet 1½ inches.
July 4, 20 feet 5½ inches (level dropping.
July 13, 18.22 feet.

DEFENDANTS IN MURDER CHARGE, HINDU, ACQUITTED

University Connection of One Defendant Not Condemnatory, Says Justice

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP)—Purah Singh Dial, 26, and Sham Kour, 21, charged with conspiracy to murder the latter's husband, Mahar Singh, 44, were acquitted by a jury in assize court here today and an hour and a half's deliberation. Chief Justice Aulay Morrison ordered the discharge from custody of the two accused.

Mahar Singh died on April 5, 1931, on S. S. President Lincoln one day after he left Victoria, accompanied by his wife, for Hongkong, en route to India. The cause of death was cerebral hemorrhage. With a contented smile, Sham Kour left the court rom on the wheeled stretcher from which she followed the trial and testified before the jury. She suffers from asthma.

UNDERGRADUATE OF U. B. C.

Pura Singh Dial, bearded young East Indian, was an undergraduate at the University of British Columbia for two years, in arts and agriculture until he left to run a grocery store.

The accused reside with other Hindus in North Vancouver.

Discussing the accused, in the course of his charge, the chief justice remarked that one was an undergraduate of a university, "although that should not be a circumstance against him," and the other was one woman" "among a lot of husky unmarried men."

If the jury were to guess, he said, they might guess there was a feud among these men as to who should get control of this girl.

Dominion Supervision for Provinces Having Aid, Urged in Senate

OTTAWA, May 27 (CP)—Dominion supervision over the capital expenditures of provinces who have received federal financial assistance, was urged in the senate today by Senator W. E. Foster, former premier of New Brunswick. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader in the upper house, agreed with the suggestion and hoped the financial experiences of the provinces would have a chastening effect and leave them open to Dominion supervision.

The federal treasury went to the assistance of some provinces to avert serious financial repercussions, said Senator Meighen. Many provinces, replied Senator oster, had been extravagant and injudicious in expenditures, and were themselves to blame for their plight. New Brunswick, he said, had instituted careful scrutiny of expenditures and was in sound financial shape.

Spraying Delayed by the Unsettled Weather, Creston

CRESTON, B. C., May 27.—The unsettled weather that has prevailed since Thursday last is not to the liking of local orchardists, most of whom were in readiness to commence the calyx ray just as the weather broke. With the cloudy and rainy weather has come a threat of frost, the mercury getting down to one above the freezing point yesterday morning. Reports from all points in the valley are unanimous that all varieties of tree fruits are setting unusually well, and are making such sturdy growth that fear of the usual June drop is much abated. Thinning operations will be heavy this year in most orchards, although some will be in no hurry to commence, it being figured that if the British preference is definitely decided upon at the July economic conference, there will be a greatly enlarged demand for the smaller sizes to supply the overseas demand. Following the "off" year of 1931—due to frost damage—the outlook for cherries is about the best ever.

WIDDOWSON TELLS AMERICANS COPPER DUTY HELPS TRAIL

Nevertheless Northwest Mining Association Boosts for Tariff

ARIZONA MAN ASKS 8-CENT PROTECTION

Organization for "Reasonable Duty"; Means Reopening of Trail Plant

Though told by E. W. Widdowson of Nelson, director for this district, that a high American duty on copper was just what the Kootenay district would like to see, as it would mean that British Columbia coast copper ores now going to Tacoma would have to be refined at Trail, and that therefore he would not offer any objection to the association expressing itself on the matter, the Northwest Mining association, at its monthly meeting at Spokane Monday, took a position in favor of protection of American copper, and instructed its directors to draw up and forward to the senators from Washington a resolution advocating "a reasonable protective" tariff" on copper ores, blister copper, and copper matte entering the United States.

The association took this action after hearing a lengthy address by Horval Smith of Warren, Ariz., in advocacy of a duty of eight cents a pound on all copper imported into the United States. This would be double the four-cent duty just placed on copper by the United States congress, in the finance bill that is about to go to President Hoover for signature.

Mr. Widdowson, who went down from Nelson to attend the meeting accompanied by Mrs. Widdowson, returned to Nelson Tuesday night, and gave this information Thursday.

BLAMED BRITISH

In his address on copper ores, the Arizona man explained in considerable detail about the copper that was imported into the United States for use in American industry, and placed the blame for the condition chiefly on Great Britain, particularly mentioning the low cost at which copper was produce in South Africa with negro labor that was paid 1¼ to 1½ cents an hour. He also mentioned the copper imported from central Canada, specifying the sudbury copper that was turned out by International Nickel as a by-product of nickel, the Noranda copper, which is a by-product of gold, and the Flin-Flon copper which the Hudson Bay company produces at exceptionally low cost. Another factor was that in all these Canadian operations the ore had a far higher copper content than the copper mines of Arizona, which have an average copper content of 1¼ to 1½ per cent, and this factor, in conjunction with a high freight rate to eastern markets, made it impossible for the Arizona mines to compete with the Canadian, Mr. Smith contended.

Notwithstanding that copper was selling about 5½ cents a pound at the present time, Mr. Smith pointed out, manufacturers of copper were still being sold throughout the United States at 25 to 30 cents a pound, all copper manufacturers being highly protected.

AMERICAN-CONTROLLED

It was pointed out to Mr. Smith by one speaker that the various foreign copper properties he had mentioned as competing with United States producers to their injury were all controlled by American capital, and were practically subsidiaries of American industry. His reply to this was that if those people were good enough to be citizens of the United States, it was up to them to invest their money in the copper camps of Arizona or other mining states.

A long discussion took place as to the advisability of the Northwest Mining association taking any hand in the copper duty matter, as so many members of it were living in British Columbia, which was Canadian territory, and an equally large number were living in Seattle and Tacoma, both of which points would be adversely affected by any increase in the copper tariff.

As affecting Tacoma and Seattle, Mr. Smith claimed that the Tacoma smelter, one of the largest smelters of the American Smelting and Refining company, could turn its plant into a bonded warehouse and continue to treat copper concentrates from Britannia, Howe Sound and Allenby, on this side of the line, and re-export the refined copper.

WIDDOWSON SEES DISTRICT BENEFIT

Answering this contention, Mr. Widdowson pointed out to Mr. Smith that a parallel condition had existed when the United States enacted a high protective tariff against lead and zinc produced in British Columbia decided that if the United States didn't want their metals it shouldn't have the smelting of their ores, and today there was practically no lead and zinc leaving Canada to be smelted in bond in the United States.

Mr. Widdowson told the meeting that he didn't the least doubt that a similar condition regarding copper would shortly develop if the proposed protective tariff was imposed.

A strong objection to the association taking action was registered by some of the members, who argued that the members in British Columbia would be entitled to object to the organization taking any part in advocating the imposition of a tariff against their country.

On this point Mr. Widdowson pointed out to Mr. Smith that while he personally had a strong aversion to all tariffs that were protective in their nature beyond the requirements of revenue only, he felt that if Mr. Smith's resolution carried, and was given effect in legislation, it would be one of the best things that could possibly happen from the point of view of the Kootenay district in British Columbia, as the copper producers of British Columbia would no doubt send their concentrates and other products to Trail smelter, which had one of the largest copper plants in the Dominion and was not at the present time treating any copper at all. With their copper barred from the United States, the Brittannia, Howe Sound and Allenby operators would have to ship to Trail, and that being the case, he said he personally would offer no objection to the association taking any action on the matter that it saw fit to take.

The association then took action on the lines stated, adopting not Mr. Smith's resolution for an eight-cent duty, but a stand favoring a "reasonable protective tariff" on copper ores, blister copper and copper matte.

Actress Vigorously Denies Jack Dempsey Came Between Couple

Former World Heavyweight Champ Alleged to Have Started Other Conquests

LOS ANGELES, May 27—A petite Brunett, "very, very cross," as one might readily perceive by the vicious way she shook a newspaper, added a third barrage of words today to the rumor that Jack Dempsey had stolen Lina Basquette away from Teddy Hayes.

The principals were unanimous in denying that Dempsey emulating his he-man conquests of the ring, had stepped out and split asunder the romance between the actress, Miss Basquette, and Hayes, boxing trainer, and claimed her for himself.

In San Francisco the former heavyweight boxing champion said he wouldn't think of taking anything away from Teddy and was not prepared to marry a film actress, having just been divorced from one, Estelle Taylor.

Hayes said he and Lina were only "good friends." But Lina was more vociferous. She swept into Hollywood from Palm Springs like a miniature tornado.

"I'm tired and dusty and very, very cross right this minute," she scowled, prettily nevertheless, to the reporters.

"I have known Jack for seven years—in fact ever since he and Estelle were married about the same time I was married to Sam Warner (the late film producer). We were just good friends and I mean that." The reporters had no doubt of it.

"If Jack were seen in San Francisco at a dance and a ball game with a girl who looks like me, it's probably Miss Rosita Gonzales, the South American actress."

MISS NOUGIER TO GRADUATE AT WENATCHEE

CRESTON, B. C., May 27.—Mrs. E. Nougier and her daughter, Miss Helen Nougier, and her son Elsie, left at the first of the week for Wenatchee, Wash., where they will this week attend the graduating exercises at the Wenatchee hospital at which Mrs. Nougier's daughter, Mary, completes the three-year term as nurse-in-training, but where she will remain for a further three months to secure the desired R.N. diploma. From Wenatchee, Miss Helen Nougier, who a year ago completed her course in the same hsopital, will leave for Ketchikan, Alaska, where she has taken desirable position, and expects to be remaining for several months. Both the Misses Nougier are graduates of Canyon public school and later on attended Creston high school and their success in their chosen profession is gratifying to their many friends. Mrs. Nougier will make a short stay in Wenatchee before making the return journey.

Water Comptroller Inspects Soil at Reclamation Area

CRESTON, B. C., May 27.—L. A. Campbell, manager of West Kootenay Power & Light company, in company with Major J. C. MacDonald, comptroller of water rights, Victoria, were visitors here yesterday, along with A. L. McCulloch, engineer of Nelson. The two latter were chiefly engaged on business in connection with Creston Reclamation company who recently ed some requested data in connectic with the formation of the soil along the company's proposed dyke line, the comptroller being in conference with the directors of the company in this matter Wednesday afternoon. During their stay Mr. Campbell and Mr. MacDonald were down the Kootenay river as far as Bonners Ferry, making a survey of flood conditions on the river on both sides of the line. During the very heavy rains at the week-end the Kootenay made a somewhat unexpected rise and some apprehension is felt for the safety of the dykes at the old Reclamation farm, as well as those of some of the drainage districts on the Idaho side.

Frank Hill of Slocan City is spending a few days, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hird.

The Vallican Ladies' Social club met Thursday. It was decided to hold a beach pajama dance in the early part of June.

SCOUTS SPONSOR NOVEL GUESSING TEST, WEST ARM

Promote Guessing Contest on High Water Peak of West Arm of Kootenay

HALF PROCEEDS TO WINNING GUESSER

Half of Proceeds Go to Scout Building Fund; Past Records Displayed

At present there is a great guessing contest going on in Nelson—not a test on when the ice will break up in the Yukon—but a guessing contest on what the high water peak on the West Arm will be this year. This contest is being sponsored by the Nelson Boy Scout association and it will give both old-timers and newcomers an opportunity to vie with one another in the great Kootenay river water race.

This novel competition was launched by the Scouts association last week for the purpose of adding to their funds toward the building of their new hall which will be used in the promotion of Scout, Cub, Guide and Brownies work and which is being built on the southeast corner of the Recreation grounds.

CHARTS SHOW OTHER RECORDS

Charts showing the various levels recorded on the Nelson guage for Kootenay river from the record high water of 1894 to the high water mark of 1931 are on display in various Nelson store windows. On some of these records, there is also a scale on which is recorded the present stage of the water level from day to day. From this data for a small sum one may record his guess for the high water peak to be reached on the West Arm of Kootenay lake this year. Tickets for such may be obtained in stores showing these displays as well as other stores and individuals who are lending a hand in the work.

CLOSING DATE JUNE 4

Guessing entries may be sent in up to midnight on June 4, when the competition closes. The high mark may not be reached until some days or weeks later, however. The date for making the award to the winner will be some days after the peak is reached which is expected to be about July 1.

WINNER GETS HALF OF PROCEEDS

According to the entry tikets now on sale, 50 per cent of the proceeds will go to th person recording the nearest guess to the actual high water peak and the other 50 per cent will go to the association building funds.

Yesterday the water level was at 14. feet above zero by the government guage at the shipyards. There seems to be very keen interest in the height of the lake level this year and the guesses registered, so far, vary considerably.

Interest in running high as to whether it will be an old-timer or one of the younger fellows who shows the superior guessing ability.

CRESTON INCREASES AREA TO ALFALFA

CRESTON, B. C., May 27.—A considerable increase in the area planted to alfalfa in the Huscroft district is reported at the end of the month. John Huscroft, who has built up quite an extensive trade in this class of feed with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company farms at both Trail and Kimberley, is busy seeding 10 more acres on land which has just been cleared. Along with this he has just let the contract for the erection of a new hay shed which will be 20x50 feet, and will also be likely to erect still another of these sheds of similar size a little later in the year.

Bert Hobden, another of the Huscroft farmers who is increasing his operations with livestock, has just planted out five acres of newly-cleared land to alfalfa, and is busy with the erection of an additional hay shed, which will be 20x40 feet. In the mild winter just passed and with ideal moisture conditions, the first cutting of alfalfa will be a heavy one.

Widdowson Assured Northwest Body to Send a Delegation

At the monthly meeting of the Northwest Mining association in Spokane Monday, E. W. Widdowson, director for this district, speaking as president of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia, and on behalf of Acting Secretary J. R. Hunter of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia, strongly urged the association to send a fraternal delegation to the Associated Boards convention at Fernie next week, when silver resolutions from the Chamber of Mines will be up for discussion.

He was assured that the directors already had the matter in hand in consequence of the invitation received from Mr. Hunter and were arranging for a delegation to attend the convention.

The date palm industry is now well established in Arizona and California.

MIGRATORY BIRDS OFFICER TO VISIT NELSON ON JUNE 3

F. E. Denison, secretary of the Nelson District Rod and Gun club, received a wire Friday from J. A. Munro of Okanagan Landing, migratory birds officer for this portion of the west, advising that his visit to Nelson to give an illustrated address before the Rod and Gun club would be on June 3.

As the date named is just three days subsequent to the date for the May meeting of the club, President C. D. Blackwood decided to set back the monthly meeting of the club, President C. D. Blackwood decided to set the monthly meeting to the date of Mr. Munro's visit.

YOUNG BOY OF QUEENS BAY IS KEEN FISHERMAN

Matthew Aylmer, Aged 14, Lands Salmon Over 17 Pounds

Fishing honors on the main Kootenay lake so far this year appear to have fallen to Matthew Aylmer of Queen's Bay. He landed a 17½-pound salmon last week. A feature of thi is the fact that Matthew is but 14 years of age, though a very keen fisherman.

He landed his beauty while out in a boat with his school teacher, Miss Marjorie Brown, and Rev. Mr. Mahood. Matthew is the only grandson of the late Lord Aylmer of Queen's Bay

SIRDAR SCHOOL KIDDIES AND ELDERS HAVE PICNIC

SIRDAR, B. C., May 27.—Miss Frances Talarico was home from Creston on Monday for the 24th of May holiday, returning the following day to resume her school studies.

Many of the Sirdar school kiddies and a few elders went for a hike and picnic on the 24th. They held their picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mannarino. Unfortunately the weather was not at its best.

J. MacDiarmid of Nelson was a visitor at Sirdar on Monday, renewing old acquaintances. He returned the same evening to Nelson.

INSTALMENT XXVI

"Should you mind very much, Mademoiselle Toni, if we didn't dance? If I had not been one of a party I should have refused to come, for I have got that very unromantic complaint—rheumatism in my left knee."

"I don't want to dance particularly," Toni said. "I have danced enough. We had better go home soon, I think, unless Greta wants to stay on.

"I think your sister is enjoying herself," Ravel said with elaborate carelessness. "Mademoiselle Toni, I am sorry that play was what it was tonight. I had no idea of it. You must excuse my stupidity and clumsiness."

There was such real kindliness and vexation in his voice that Toni looked up at him swiftly.

"Why, of course," she said, with a return of something of her old spirit, "I knew you knew nothing about it. Besides, I suppose we must get used to it."

"But there is no need that your friends should make it harder," Ravel said. "I am sorry, little Mademoiselle Toni, but your sister, she was very upset, was she not? Has she worried very much about her share in this most unjust affair?"

He worded his sentence deliberately and Toni fell into the trap. He saw her start, saw her eyes dilate, saw even the faint color that was there fade out of her cheeks.

"Her share?" she echoed. "Monsieur Ravel, what do you mean?" and then could have bitten her tongue out at the way the question sounded.

Ravel shrugged his shoulders.

"She naturally felt that she had been to blame," he said. "After all, but for her forgetting her bag, the whole wretched affair would never have touched Monsieur Staire at all."

He saw Toni's tense body relax.

"No, of course not," she said. "I had forgotten that. I am rather stupid these days; you must forgive me."

"You are not stupid, you are tired, Mademoiselle Toni," he said. "When do you come to finish the painting? After that you shall go away south and rest."

"I am so tired of the south," Toni said wearily. "I would rather be at home just now. I don't want to do things much. I'm tired all the time."

"But you are not looking well, Mademoiselle Toni," Ravel said slowly. Are you well?"

Toni looked up at him, and the mask for one moment fell from her face.

"Well?" she echoed in a low voice that vibrated strangely. "Could you expect me to be well? Do you think for one moment I could forget—that I could have forgotten Feodor? You are a painter; you see, perhaps, through people's faces to their souls. Monsieur Ravel, if you see my soul, and I think you do, you know better."

He then leaned across the little table and laid his hand on Toni's bare arm.

"Yes, I see souls, Mademoiselle," he said gravely. "Sometimes I see more of them than I want. You must never blame me for that. If ever that vision of mine should cause you pain, remember there are some things about which there is no question, the elemental facts of right and wrong. Shall I tell your sister and Mr. Astley that we are ready to go?" Rising to his feet, he signed to the others.

"I am terribly sorry to break up the party," he said, "but I think Mademoiselle Toni is very tired."

Ravel, once the door of his apartment was shut behind him, did not attempt to go to bed. Instead, he went into his studio, threw off his dress coat, changing into an old painting overall, and sat down before his wood fire.

Ravel now had little doubt that Greta was guilty. Her behavior at the theater, in addition to the strange suspicion that Gigi's words had aroused, had swept away the hesitation that had been tormenting him. As he had said to Toni, he was used, like all great artists, to looking past the masks that people wore for faces, to their very souls, and in the soul of Greta he had read something that even she herself did not know was visible to the outer world—Fear. A constant nagging, unceasing fear. He realized that if Gigi had not spoken so definitely he might not easily have had his suspicions awakened, but now everything seemed to point to the one thing; yet he dared not, must not make a false step. He could not openly accuse her, yet in some way, if she were guilty, Staire must and should be freed. The only possibility, the only imaginable thing was that she must be made to betray herself—yet how?

Hours later, when the winter daylight was creeping over Paris, Ravel still sat in the armchair, watching the dead ashes with eyes that saw only the face of the man he knew to be innocent and the eyes of the child he was painting. What to do . . . and how to do it?

He went over to the portrait of Toni, pulled aside the curtain that shaded it, and standing there, felt the doubt and the hesitation that he had been struggling with all night, pass forever. Two lives against one, and that one worthless in so far as any human life could be called worthless—two lives—this man, Feodor Staire, and this child whom, as he painted, he had grown to love. For assuredly Toni's young life would never outlast the years of Feodor's sentence. Feodor would emerge from prison, no longer a young man, with his profession closed to him, his youth and early middle-age gone for ever and his love dead. Of that Ravel was absolutely certain; he was no doctor, but he knew human nature. Toni was dying by inches, dying with no single thing in the world to kill her save the loss of the desire for life. His chivalry had made him hesitate to believe so dreadful a thing of Greta, but now he drew the curtain almost fiercely across Toni's portrait, and hesitated no longer. He had made up his mind: Guilty or innocent, Greta should be made to explain her part in that evening's tragedy.

Scouting—Here There and Everywhere

BY E. R. H.

Who Will Follow Our Chief!—There has been much conjecture during recent months concerning the future leadership of the Boy Scouts Movement. Some newspapers have even reported that serious difference of opinion has arisen at headquarters over this very important question, but this has been denied by our Chief and was obviously incorrect to those who know the type of men we have at Imperial Headquarters. Lord Baden-Powell, in a recent article to the press says that this issue has to be faced like scouts. He gives us a good idea of the type of man required and expresses the opinion that we have them in our midst today. Speaking personally, I believe this to be true. The Chief in a carefully worded message, makes it very clear that the choice of the future Chief Scout, rests not with him but with the committee of the council. "B. P." himself cannot be replaced, but we have, fortunately, a number of men who could make admirable successors. In concluding his message he says, "you have only got to know the Boy Scout Movement to realize that they are not going to make a mistake. It is great and it is going to be greater."

England—A deputation of various societies interested in migration, recently waited on Mr. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominion. Mr. Thomas heartily approved of the work done by the societies represented in the field of migration. Lord Hampton, Chief Commissioner who represented the Boy Scouts Association, on this occasion, will be visiting Canada in September next.

The Eight Scout Musical Festival will be held in November next at the Royal College of Music, London. It is intended to institute a special feature of a whistling competition. This section will be open to both cubs and scouts. Rover Scouts too, will have their speciality and this will be a competition in three and four part songs. Singing, whistling and folk and country dancing has experienced a remarkable revival in England during the last five years. This may account in some small way for the manner in which they are getting through their difficulties

New Headquarters—The Woodgreen, London, scouts recently opened their new headquarters. The Ruislip scouts have also acquired a new scout hall. The Ruislip Group is nine years old and still has four of the original members who started the Troop. The Group has now a membership of sixty.

France—Our international commissioner, Mr. Hubert Martin has reported the formation of a Wolf Cub Pack at the English School at Nice. There is also good prospects of a scout troop being formed in the near future.

The West Indies—When Mr. N. D. Power visited the West Indies on private business he found time to attend Wolf Cub displays in Barbados, Antigua, Jamaica, Grenada and Trinidad. Mr. Power reports that splendid opportunity exists in the islands for Deep Sea Scouting. This branch of scouting undoubtedly has a great future.

CANADA

The first Galt, Ontario, group is eleven years old this year. It is a very live group, in fact, its activities average about 12 a week. The Rover-Scouts have been very busy recently making up hampers for needy people. The Scout's good turn has taken rather a novel aspect. They conceived the idea of putting a large basket in the grocer's shop with a notice asking customers to make just one more purchase for those who are not so fortunate, and place it in the basket. The Scouts collected the goods periodically and the Rover made up hampers. These were delivered by them to folks who have been hit by the times.

Wonder why:

Has water got a taste?

Jim was busy drinking a glass of water the other day when he suddenly stopped drinking and demanded: "I wonder if water has a taste?"

"Well you should know," I laughed "you're drinking it."

"But I don't know," he said.

"All right," I replied, "I tell you about it. Pure water has actually no taste at all. But none of us ever drink really pure water. The stuff we get out of the tap becomes charged with air when it is being cleaned by the company, and it is this air which gives the water a distinct taste.

"If we were to boil the water and drive out all the air, then drink it, we would find that it had no taste at all. So, you see, really pure water has no taste, but the stuff which we get out of the tap has air mixed with it and this gives it a taste.

"Every Cub should drink heaps of water, for it is very good for us all."

BABY'S OWN SOAP
IT'S BEST FOR YOU AND BABY TOO.

The Beauty Box

By Helen Follett

Tan has a policy; it sticks to its colors. Some of the gayest of tan collectors are, in the autumn season, the most ambitious tan fighters. Too bad the femmes can't shed their skins like so many snakes, fare forth blythely in a new cuticle suit. Since nature gave us no such beauty endowment, the would-be fair ones must fall back on bleaches. A simple one, in the form of a face pack is made by taking two heaping tablespoonfuls of oatmeal, adding the juice of a lemon and using enough buttermilk to form a paste the consistency of whipped cream. Place on the complexion and neck, cover with a layer of gauze, lay on towels wrung out of hot water. In five minutes remove the pack, dry the skin, use cold cream generously.

Do you know that there is a special and proper way of treating the end of the orange wood stick, the most important and necessary tool in the manicure kit? With a sharp knife, flatten both sides, giving the end of the stick the form of a chisel. Then slice away at the sides, until the chisel end is small. In that form the stick cleanses the nail eaves without injuring the delicate inner flesh. It attends to the business of lifting cuticle away from the nail better than if the end were pointed.

Only Four Years' Difference

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am very much in love with a girl who is 26 years old, and I am just 22. She claims to love me and I certainly love her, but my boy pals make fun of me and say I should find a girl of a more suitable age. Do you think when a girl is four years older than the man she loves that it makes much difference? It doesn't to us, but it seems to make a lot to the busybodies. GEORGE.

That a woman happens to be four years older than a man doesn't make any real difference in marriage; but it would be wiser, it seems to me, if a boy of 22 did not decide this very important question till he was several years older at least. Marriage brings such tremendous responsibilities that few boys of your age are able to cope with them. Why not continue your friendship with this girl and see what time will develop? As for your boy pals' comments—it's just none of their business.

Marriage or College

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've been going with a college boy who is a junior twenty years old. I'm going to graduate from the high school this June and am seventeen. "Bill" was studing to be a dentist, but now he wants to give up college and go to work so we can be married. I want to get married too, but I'd like to go to college first as my parents want me to. They are both college graduates. But "Bob" wants to get married, while I hate the idea of his crimping his education, because a college degree counts so much these days. His people are comfortably off and so are mine, but both decline to helps us if we get married now. BETTY ANN

Seventeen is entirely too young to fly in the face of parental objection and marry. You are depriving yourself of youth, for marriage brings many responsibilities, and you are depriving yourself and the young man of the very great privilege of a broader education. And I really wonder if you are as deeply in love with the young man as you imagine, for in the beginning of your letter you call him "Bill" and later on "Bob"—or are you just in love with love, as youth is prone to be, and "Bill and "Bob" are synonymous with this heavenly state.

Why Marry at All Unless It Is "Marriage for Keeps"

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
An Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

It appears that this young matron knows a little and suspects more, and that she wants to bring things to a crisis. Nothing is to be gained by watchful waiting. The lady is young, unhappy, wedded three years has no children and a husband perhaps too charming.

The wife doesn't tell me she is jealous in so many words, but that fact is obvious. She says she knows things against him, but she doesn't say what these things are. That's why I think that she suspects a lot and knows really nothing.

There is to my mind something not so attractive about the attitude of any person who talks of forgiving another. I'd rather have an honest scrap and be done with it than to live with a patronizing angel on stilts who has forgiven me.

And just what does she mean by bringing things to a "crisis?" Maybe she wants to threaten suit for separation with support, or divorce with alimony. That's a far from happy thing. Lawyers have to be paid. Courts won't act without specific and definite facts. Suspicions don't go.

Perhaps, my dear young lady, you are bored with an unproductive life. And I am not blaming you. If you had a job—something real to do—you would not be spinning webs and worrying because flies don't trap themselves.

A job that calls for definite hours and definite results day by day leaves no time for nonsense. It is not play. No excuses go. You are up against a grind that demands that you make good in comparison with others.

Of course, the position in which you find yourself is intensely annoying. You used to be the focus of all your husband's attentions. If there were others you did not know it, and now you are ready to believe anything. Why? Because you have made the mistake of entertaining the thought of your inferiority to a nameless someone else. It's like opening the door of your home to thieves and gangters—inviting them to come in and rob you.

There is trouble enough without making trouble. Thank your lucky stars that htings are not bad really. Look about you at the people who are worse off, and take a hand at helping them. I am sure you will have no trouble about finding worthy and grateful objects for your helpfulness.

Have I fully answered your question, "Forgive or Fight?" If not, let me add this word about fighting. How about the person that sows the wind and reaps a whirlwind? Granted that you know what you want to fight about, take stock and figure on this: Can I win the fight?

There is little for you or anybody else in bluffing. Get the best out of your life by putting into it all you've got of common sense and faith and LOVE.

SPRING STYLES

NEW YORK, May 26.—Jackets are as integral a part of the feminine ensemble this spring as they always have been of the masculine.

Suits lead over every other costume for a place in the Easter parade. The dress with the coat or jackets, in matching or contrasting materials, is also favored.

Most evening gowns feature separate jackets of taffeta, silk piqué velvet, roshanara crepe, or satin.

The suit jackets may be either hip-length or high-waisted. Usually it is double-breasted and fastens with many buttons. Several sporty ensembles feature a three-quarter length coat worn over a simple one-piece dress.

SHRIMP SALAD

2 cups shrimp, cooked or canned; 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 cup fine-minced pimentos, 1 cup chili mayonaise.

Mix the shrimp, celery and tablespoon of capers with half the mayonaise and pile into a salad bowl lined with lettuce leaves. Garnish the top with mayonaise and the rest of the capers or pimento.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Harold Gruhn, 16, probably saved his own life by having his hand on his forehead when he was struck by a stray .22 calibre bullet. The bullet, fired by a boy hunting in the woods, nearby, passed through Gruhn's hand into his forehead where doctors removed it.

LEADING DANCE AUTHORITY WILL VISIT KOOTENAY

Madam Gladys Attree to Conduct Dance Schools Nelson, Trail and Rossland

Of interest to all Kootenaians desirous of obtaining advancement, and to learn new up-to-date dances, without the expense of travelling to either Vancouver or the States, is the announcement that Madam Gladys Attree of the Gladys Attree Studios of Dancing, Vancouver, B. C., will open a three months summer school of dancing in Nelson, Trail and Rossland, commencing the week of June 6.

All tuition, which will include classes and private lessons in stage training, acrobatic, tap, Adagio, oriental, Spanish, Russian, classical, toe ballet, tango and modern ball room dancing, will be under the personal direction of Madam Gladys Attree, recognized leading dance authority in the west, assisted by Misses Joyce and Phyllis Hirst (2½ years Radio Keith Orpheum, New York).

The social advantages of a proper dance education are numerous. Dancing is becoming more and more a requirement for a social education. This three months summer dance school, therefore, offers people of the Kootenay an invaluable opportunity.

Features of the school will be classes, for babies from 2½ years, children under 7 years, children over 7 years, business girls physical health dancing, training for delicate children, and private lessons. There will be no advance in tuition fees in Trail, Nelson or Rossland. The same low fees charged in Vancouver will prevail. Pupils will be presented in an elaborate recital at the close of the course in each of the cities visited.

Further particulars may be obtained from the advertisement which appears on the back page of this paper, and the following announcement which will appear in this paper Saturday, June 4 • • •

Park Improvements

The Nelson City Council cannot go wrong in making improvements to Lakeside Park.

The City Council has given a great deal of attention to the development of this park in recent years, and since the Trail picnic last August, has made some very marked improvements. It has now been decided that lights are to be installed on the new promenade without further delay, while the playground and its equipment which is always a great centre of attraction for children, is to be further developed. This is very good business for Nelson. Every dollar spent in improvements to Lakeside Park will bring excellent results.

The Loan in London

It is a good many years since British Columbia floated a loan in London In the early days of British Columbia and up to about 20 years ago, far more Canadian provincial loans were floated in the City of London than elsewhere, but the trend for many years past has been to float loans either in Canada or in New York, or to make them payable in both Canada and in the United States.

The flotation of a British Columbia loan for a million and a half dollars in London, and the fact that it was 80% sold on the first day that it was offered to the investors of Great Britain, suggests that possibly provincial financing is taking a new trend, or, more properly speaking, returning to the older practice of borrowing money within the Empire.

The debentures are for an unusually long term, that of 35 years, though they can be called in 25 years. The rate of interest is 5%, and the investor is buying the bonds at 99. It will be interesting to learn the exact rate of interest this amount will cost British Columbia. The exact rate will depend chiefly upon the rate of exchange. Our last provincial loan was sold on a basis of 6 1-2% yield to the investor, and of course the cost to the province was little more than that on account of the brokerage fees and other expenses.

If the pound were at par, the cost to the Britsh Columbia government of the loan which has just been floated in London would be only a fraction over 5%, but instead of being par, $4.87, the pound today yields in Canadian dollars something less than $4.20. Thus the rate of interest especially if sterling rises, received in London, will be considerably greater than 5% face value in Great Britain.

On the face of it, it looks as if the government at Victoria has made a favorable loan, and that it will save a good deal of money as compared with the rate of interest it would have to pay on a domestic loan or one floated in New York.

What Makes Fish Flourish?

The Biological Board of Canada has decided to make an investigation into the food habits of fish in Kootenay Lake. No doubt this decision is a result of the discussion which has been taking place upon the rapid depletion of game fish which has been occurring throughout the Kootenay, as well as in most other parts of British Columbia.

The Biological Board will endeavor to discover the nature of the diet of both game fish and coarse fish, such as suckers and squaw fish. The coarse to be followed in future efforts to restore the game fishing resources of the Kootenay will be governed a great deal by the information which can be gained as to what extent suckers and squaw fish consume fry, eggs, and insects, which will give an idea of the extent to which the coarse predatory fish reduce the number of game fish available for sport in our lakes and rivers.

It is of importance also to know the most favorite food of the trout and of our so-called Kootenay Lake salmon. Once we know the nature of the foods upon which these fish thrive to the greatest extent, we will be better prepared to take steps for assuring that an adequate supply of these foods will be available. Fish, like any other form of life, cannot flourish unless well supplied with plenty of the kinds of the most suitable food.

Investigations by the Biological Board may also throw some light on the controversy which has been taking place for some time regarding the Kokanee trout or red-fish, which is also sometimes called silver trout. Until comparatively recently, great numbers of red-fish were speared or netted during the season when they ran up the creeks for spawning. This practice was prohibited on the theory that the red-fish form an important item in the diet of the Kootenay Lake salmon, and that if we decreased the number of red-fish, we would automatically decrease the amount of food available for the more important game fish. Lately, it has been suggested that the red-fish are increasing to such an extent that they are consuming a great deal of food which would otherwise be available to salmon and rainbow trout.

Anglers are being asked to cooperate with the Biological Board to the extent of shipping to the Nelson fisheries branch any squaw fish or suckers which they may catch, so that these fish my be examined as to the contents of their stomachs. They are also being asked to make observations as to the contents of the stomachs or rainbow trout and Kamloops trout which they may catch.

Anglers who thus cooperate with the Biological Board will do the district a real service. In the past we have been going more or less blindly in our efforts to bring about a successful restocking of our lakes and rivers. If in the future we can operate upon a more scientific basis, founded on more exact knowledge, the results which will be obtained will be infinitely more satisfactory.

The story is of a time when he administered a musical rebuke.

When the chancellor and Mr. Llody George were near neighbors in the country, and Snowdens usually dined with the Lloyd Georges on Sunday evenings. One evening a number of young Welsh candidates were staying with Lloyd George for the weekend. After dinner they were encouraged to sing folk songs in Welsh, and Lloyd George himself joined in.

The chancellor endured it stoically for about half an hour. Then he rose painfully to his feet, and announced that he would sing a song, too. He hobbled to the piano, his wife took her place at the instrument, and the iron chancellor proceeded to sing the whole of the famous (and be it said, almost interminable) Yorkshire anthem, "On Ilkla' Moor Baht 'at."

Lloyd George capitulated.

No more do rabbles thrill me
With feelings of delight,
And strangers only fill me
With nervousness and fright.

Misprint perpetrated by a volunteer writer for the National Institute for the Blind in London, gave a blind student a shock recently. In transcribing into Braille a "History of English Law," required by the student, the writer came to a passage on the court of commons pleas. By dropping a dot which converted the Braille "P" into Braille "F," he produced the sentence: "When the court left London, common fleas were not allowed to follow the King."

THE WEATHER BULLETIN

Monday, May 30 — Week begins with a storm low near Winnipeg, carrying with it a rain belt extending from southern Alberta to east Ontario. Being quite cloudy, the temperatures are rather low.

Tuesday, May 31—The eastern low passes into the St. Lawrence river valley, but a disturbance comes in via the northwest and Alberta, bringing on a wave of unsettled weather, yet leaving some clear skies in east Manitoba and Ontario where temperatures are slowly rising.

Wednesday, June 1—By today a high develops to south or southwest of Winnipeg retarding the east waridly progress of the Alberta low, tending to clear up the weather in middle Canada and the northwest, and causing generally rising temperatures.

Thursday, June 2 — The high dwells in regions northwest of the great lakes while storm low passes off the Newfoundland coasts. This causes clearing weather in all central Canada with probable southern winds, in British Columbia and Alberta probably some unsettled weather.

Friday, June 5—A low approaches via Alberta, carrying unsettled weather towards central parts of Canada and to the southeast. There is also an unsettled area south of Ontario and Lake Erie. This is a period of scattering showers along the south Canadian border.

Saturday, June 4—Except for an unsettled area about Alberta, this is a clearing weather period in central and southern Canada, with probably slowly rising temperatures.

Sunday, June 5—The dominant low is in the great lakes regions today, while the high and clearing areas are in the northwest, probably near Alberta, and drifting slowly to the eastward.

First of the week of May 30 to June 5 in west and middle Canada and the bordering states should be rather rainy, with slightly rising temperatures. About Saturday or Sunday, June 5, some danger of cool nights, probably the last cool nights of this season as the length of the day is now considerably more than 15 hours, while the night is less than nine hours long. Frost not expected in any cultivated region, but high in the hills this is about the last days of frost danger.

CROPS AND THE PRODUCE MARKET PROSPECTS, 1932

A forecast of general prospects as of early summer, 1932, seems to indicate that wheat and most grain crops in the southwestern portions of U. S. will be much below the average in account of lack of moisture. In northwest and Canada the conditions are much better and probably an average crop will be narvsted. In central regions of U. S. and all the northern wheat belt weather prospects are fair for good crops. In the cotton belt states weather has been favorable and probably will continue so. About great lakes regions and the northeast while spring is a little backward weather prospects are favorable for May and June.

Reports are that wheat acreage planted this year will be up to average but not much above. In the a considerable amount of corn land corn growing sections of the west is being put out to potatoes and food products, because of low prices on corn and also in view of the fact that in many potato sections acreage is being decreased owing to the steady rise in fertilizers. Cotton acreage will probably be increased slightly this year.

Prices of wheat and corn have declined since the middle of 1930, the producers are receiving only about 5c a bushel for wheat and around 35c for corn. True, living costs have also declined slightly, but these prices on grain are comparatively too low. Cotton in April reached a low, spot going in New Orleans at 5.15c a pound.

While it is true that crop prospects in general are fair, if not really good, at the same time there is some reason in the argument that while prices can drift lower they are not likely to go much further on this decline, for there must be bottom, somewhere. Cotton ought not to decline past June and the grain markets ought to be on the rally about August.

According to government reports as of March 1, 1932 following is acreage intended to be planted this year as compared to 1931 (as 100): corn 103, wheat 143, oats 108, barley 121, potatoes 102, sweet potatoes 115, tobacco 77, dry beans 88, peanuts 110, cow peas 122.

Crop conditions as of April 1, 1932 are: wheat 75.8 per cent, rye 79.0 per cent, pasture 73.8 per cent. On wheat the five-year average is 550,636,000 bu., but for 1932 estimate April 1 is 457,970,000.—L. H. Weston, Brightwood station, Washington, D. C.

What Do You Think?

Sons of Freedom Send Open Letter to Attorney-General

SIR—Excuse us for intruding upon your valuable time, but we have a matter which we wish to take up with you.

You have separated us from our children, which seems like an act of barbarianism to us. The Lindbergh baby was stolen from his millionaire parents, and you take away our babies and older children from us, put them in institutions of which we have no knowledge, and separate them from us by 500 miles. Now in both cases, the mothers' hearts are filled with sorrow, overflowing with tears and grief, and the mother hearts cry out in agony to clasp their little ones to their breast once more. By taking away our childen you wished to force us to fulfill an inhuman law. But remember this, you are not the first to attempt to enforce the law upon the Doukhobor people. Some hundreds of years ago, in Russia, the Doukhobors refused to serve the church and priests and to worship images. For this refusal the Doukhobor people were imprisoned, sent to Siberia for many years, were whipped, made to suffer unagonies, separated from their children, many of whom were never seen or heard of again, Many of our ancesters suffered strips of flesh to be cut for their backs rather than give up the freedom which they were struggling to attain. Also we wish to point out to you, that since coming to Canada we have suffered in jails, and 13 of our number have been tortured by forcing them to drink boiling hot soup by means of inqection. Doukhobors do not eat flesh of any kind and therefore refused to eat soup made from meat, so the above method was forced on them At this time also, children were separated from parents, and some never again saw their mothers.

But we would remind you of this, that through all our miseries and heart-breaks we have never lost sight of our ideal and we tell you truly that we never will.

In past times Christians all over the world have suffered tortures and indignities, such as being burned at the stake, or thrown into the arena for the wild beasts to devour, or stoned to death. King Herod also sent his men throughout all the lands to kill every male child two years and under, thinking in this way to destroy the Baby Jesus, and thus stop the spread of Christianity. But in spite of all these tribulations, the spirit of Christ was not suppressed.

Now, Mr. Pooley, when you were at Thrums, you told us you were a Christian, too, and our brothers and sisters of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood tell us they are Christians also, but your deeds and their works do not seem to coincide with your words. "By their works ye shall know them." This is a true saying, we believe, therefore we look upon this act of separating parents and children and chasing people out of their homes as being very unchristian and inhuman. Remember also the words of Christ when He said, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Now, in conclusion, we would say that we forgive every one who has made us suffer and hold in our hearts no ill will toward any man. Yours sincerely,

SONS OF FREEDOM

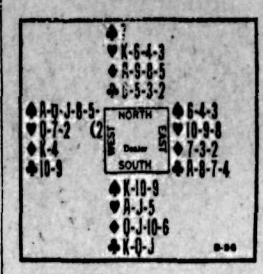
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority.
MILTON C. WORK

(This Article Is Intended for Contract Beginners)

A CRUCIAL OPENING LEAD



When the above hand was played at Contract, South bid two No Trumps on his count of 18 and at least one stopper in every suit; West passed, and North bid three No Trumps on his count of 7. West made a business double. If this hand were being played at Auction South would bid one No Trump and West confident of saving game, would refrain from declaring his Spades. North and East would have no reason for bidding.

West led the Ace of Spades, followed by the Queen. South permitted the Queen to win and took the third round with the King. To trick 4 South led the Queen of Diamonds which West covered with the King; Declarer won with dummy's Ace, took three more Diamond tricks and led South's Club King. East won with the Ace and, having no Spade to lead to West, led the Ten of Hearts which was covered, in turn, by the Jack, Queen and King. Declarer thus made game by winning four Diamonds, two Clubs, two Hearts and a Spade. Could game have been saved by logical defense?

THE CORRECT PLAY

The outcome of this hand was settled by the first card played. West expected that either his Heart Queen or Diamond King would provide an entry for his Spades, and consequently that a Spade lead from East would be unnecessary; whereas West should have realized that South held at least one stopper in Spades and that his own honors in Hearts and Diamonds were possible rather than certain entries. Therefore he had nothing to gain by leading the Ace of Spades instead of the Queen. South's King-Ten-Nine holding and West's double would allow South to mark West with the Ace-Queen-Jack. So South scarcely would dare risk a hold-up; (a hold-up, followed by a Club lead by West at trick 2, would set the contract three tricks) and even if South held up the King until trick 2, game would be saved because West would again underlead to trick 2. Then South would be forced to win. East securing the lead with the Ace of Clubs, would lead his remaining Spade. East and West thus would win a Club and five Spades—setting the contract two tricks.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON

TIME TO BEGIN HAY FEVER TREATMENT

It is estimated that about three out of every hundred people suffer with hay fever or asthma or both. That hay fever is due to the pollen from certain plants is now known, many hay fever sufferers dating the attack from the first day the pollen is being carried in the air, whilst many asthmatic sufferers have learned just what food or foods or other things such as feathers and hair bring on their attacks.

While we know that some individuals suffer with a sort of 'hay fever' or pollen catarrh due to roses and other plants, and to flowers that bloom in the spring, the majority of sufferers get their attack of hay fever toward the end of August and it remains with them until the frost or cold weather arrives.

Why has the medical profession not been able to find a cure or preventive for hay fever? Your doctor will tell you that hay fever can be prevented easily. All that is necessary is to go to a place during the hay fever season where there is no pollen in the air. Many sufferers have found these places and go there every year. In fact a regular community life exists at these places as these sufferers meet year after year, and engage in various forms of exercise, play, and outdoor occupations.

Another preventive and some individuals are able to endure the life. is to live for a goodly portion of each day in an atmosphere that has been kept free of the irritating pollen.

However both the above methods of prevention are within the reach of only a few individuals; the vast majority must remain in their home town or city.

What about the treatment of hay fever by the use of the pollen itself as now advocated by many physicians? Is this treatment always successful?

The largest percentage of 'cures' I have seen reported is 66 per cent but this is very much higher than that recorded by the majority of physicians giving this form of treatment.

Failures by this method are not always due to the method or to the physician but to the fact that the patient will not try it again if it fails the first year. Cures have been effected only after the second and third years of treatment in many cases.

It must be admitted that there have been many failures even after the most careful examination to get the right pollen, and three more or more years of treatment.

However the fact remains that there have been many cures, even in one year by inoculations twice a week for six or eight weeks before the attack usually comes on. It is thus worth trying, and May and June are the right months to begin the treatments.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-THREE

Often I see in my dreams the lands
That are far across the sea,
And the khaki-clad heroic bands
Of men who suffered death and brands
When I was twenty-three;
And they sang when they marched along,
In daylight or by the morn
A song with a lively tune,
For their courage was always strong.

I remember withstanding Egypt's heat
And the man who was our cook,
And the curried stew we e'er did eat
From the only recipe in meat
That was written in his book;
And again I wait at the Dardenelles
As the ship in darkness lurks,
And am listening there as the captain tells
Of the horrors of the poisoned wells
And the treachery of the Turks.

But I see in the shady roads of France,
In town and village too,
The maid with the sweet admiring glance
And little feet that began to prance
As we went swing through;
And the chorus of that quaint song
That had such a lively tune
She whistled or hummed it soon
If for English she had no tongue.

Some years ago, when we found how to retail all the natural cream richness in canning milk, we felt no other discovery of equal importance could ever be made.

We know, of course, that could milk be packed in vacuum cans it would bring it to the table with all the freshness of new milk.

It seemed impossible to pack liquids in vacuum but Pacific now announces success and this good milk will all be vacuum-packed in future.

TWO YOUTHS WILL BATTLE FOR GOLF TITLE OF BRITAIN

Second Time Youth Has Come On Top of Large Crown-Seeking Field

MUIRHEAD, Scotland, May 27—(C P cable)—Two youths will battle over the treacherous Muirfield course tomorrow for the British amateur golf championship. John de Forest, long hitting Londoner, and Eric Fiddian, 22-year-old star from Stourbridge, meet in the 36-hole final and it marks the second successive year youth has come out on top of the unwieldy international field seeking the crown.

It will also be the second successive occasion young De Forest has fought his way into the finals, equalling for the first time the feat of Harold Hilton in 1891 and 1892. The man who defeated him for the 1931 championship, Eric Martin Smith, was defeated in an early round of this year's chase.

The London youth staged one of the tourney's most throbbing struggles to eliminate Lionel Munn, the Irish veteran, by one up after 21 holes today.

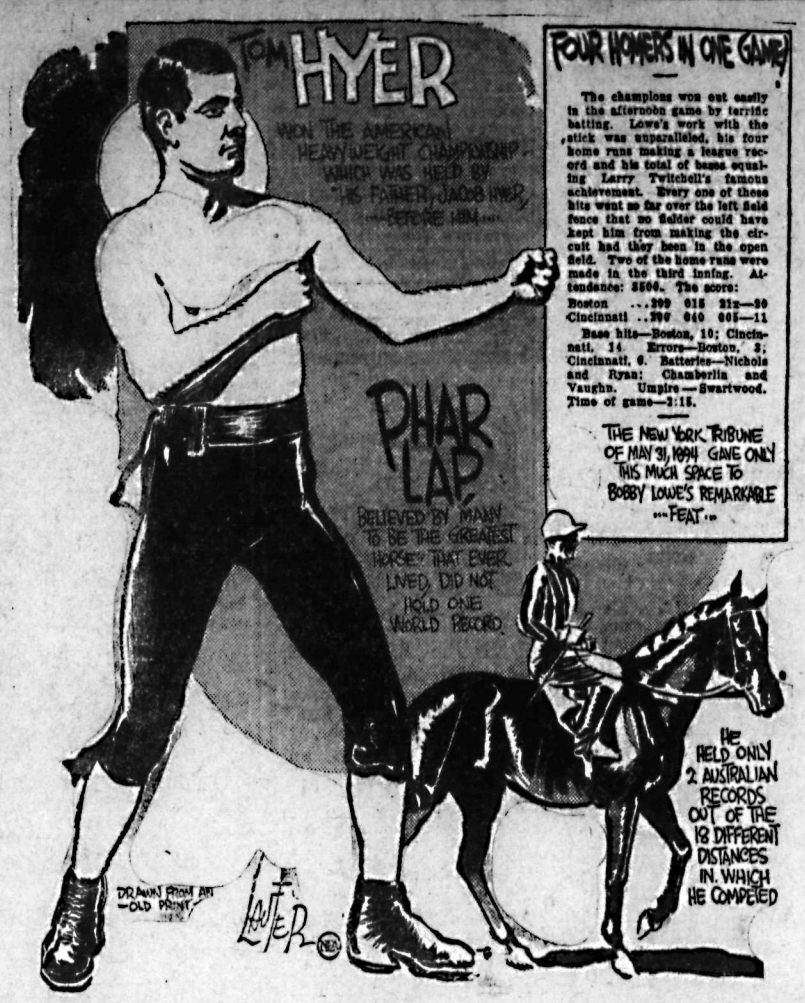
Final holes of the match today between De Forest and Munn pulsed with holding drama. After trailing for most of the tourney De Forest started placing his shots with unnerving accuracy in the closing holes and managed to square the match by winning the 18th. Munn had a yard putt for a win on the 19th and the match but he foozled.

LOOSE WORK COSTLY

Continued loose work on the green again cost Munn victory on the 20th but despite that, the courageous shooting of De Forest more than earned him the half he managed to eke out. After two perfect shots the Irish veteran was on the putting carpet and but eight yards from the flag. De Forest faltered from the tee and left himself a heart-breaking second. His ball close by a boundary wall, it was impossible for the London youth to take even a half-swing without fouling. After an even dozen practice strokes, the lengthy study of various angles, he managed a low wrist shot which carried the ball to the edge of the green. His run-up was still three yards short. Munn putted two yard past. He needed two more from there, while De Forest ran his home to carry the issue to the 21st.

Munn's game completely collapsed in the crucial test He was still hopelessly short after his third. De Forest's second struck a spectator and finished in long grass. He recovered brilliantly and dropped a three-yeard putt for the win and the match.

In the other match, McRuvie, who was highly favored to lift the crown, settled the issue himself on the 18th hole. He lifted his head, popped a weak shot into a bunker 40 yards away, and left his title hopes buried in the deep sand.



FOUR HOMERS IN ONE GAME

The champions won out easily in the afternoon game by terrific batting. Lowe's work with the stick was unparalleled, his four home runs making a league record and his total of bases equaling Larry Twitchell's famous achievement. Every one of these hits went so far over the left field fence that no fielder could have kept him from making the circuit had they been in the open field. Two of the home runs were made in the third inning. Attendance: 3500. The score:

Boston	200	015	21x	9
Cincinnati	200	040	005	11

Base hits—Boston, 10; Cincinnati, 14. Errors—Boston, 3; Cincinnati, 0. Batteries—Nichols and Ryan; Chamberlin and Vaughn. Umpire—Swartwood. Time of game—2:15.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE OF MAY 31, 1894 GAVE ONLY THIS MUCH SPACE TO BOBBY LOWE'S REMARKABLE "FEAT."

Will Ruby Bob's Shoes Fit Mickey

(By Al Demaree)

Mickey Walker, the so-called "toy bulldog" is proving to be very much of a bulldog lately along the heavyweights and exceedingly difficult to toy with.

Just whether it is possible for a man 31 years old, five feet six inches tall and weighing 170 pounds to win the heavyweight championship is open to debate. However, a bald headed man 35 years old and weighing 170 pounds did win the title a number of years ago. If I remember my ring history correctly his name was Bob Fitzsimmons.

So this little up-start, just lately emerging from the middleweight class, cannot be dismissed with a shrug of the shoulders.

He at least has precedent behind him and unlike the old Cornishman, the crop of heavyweights these days are not as tough as they were in Fitzsimmons' days.

However, it is hard to imagine little Mickey, who has such a tough time winning a doubtful decision from the late Tiger Flowers, knocking all these big fellows around.

U. S. CAPTURES ONE SINGLES MATCH ON AUSTRALIAN SQUAD

Rainstorm Terminates Play in Davis Cup Contests; Shields Wins

PHILADELPHIA, May 27 (By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press sports writer).—The United States tennis forces captured one singles match from Australia and were leading in the Davis cup contests at the Philadelphia Country club today.

Frank Shields of New York had begun the tie with a one-sided triumph over little Harry Hopman, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2, and Ellsworth Vines Jr. had his opponent, Jack Crawford, two sets to one when the storm descended.

Vines captured the first two sets with little difficulty, 6-2, 6-4, but the Australian champion came back to take the third, 6-2, and was holding his own in the fourth. The count was 3-3 when the rain came, Vines having run off the first three games and Crawford the next three.

After an hour's wait, in which there was no sign of a let-up in the storm, officials announced Vines and Crawford would finish their battle tomorrow, taking up at the point where they left off today.

The doubles match will follow, with Crawford permitted a suitable rest before taking the court with Hopman against Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn.

VINES MASTER

Vines clearly was the master in all but the third set, when he let down in receiving.

Shields' final showing against Hopman was gratifying to officials of the United States team, who decided only yesterday to give him a place in today's singles. Hopman, a head shorter than Shields, and lacking the American's strokes, was an easy victim after the opening set.

Vines apparently made little effort to pull out of the third set after Crawford had jumped into a 3-0 lead, but coasted along with an idea of conserving his strength until after the intermission. He returned to the court to find the Australian fighting vigorously, however, and they were treating the 2500 spectators to a great duel when the storm broke.

Kirchmeyer Wins Stunning Affair Against McCready

PHILADELPHIA, May 27 — Earl McCready, formerly of Amulet, Saskatchewan, and Roland Kirchmeyer—both former football players at Oklahoma A. and M. college—stole the show tonight in one of the most sensational wrestling bouts ever seen here.

After grappling for several minutes, McCready took off on a flying tackle at the same moment Kirchmeyer launched a flying scissors. The collision stunned them both, but Kirchmeyer was able to rise first ad apply a slam and body press that gave the victory in 4:22.

Dick Shikat, Philadelphia, defeated Sandor Szabo, Hungary, in what was billed as the headline bout, with a series of body slams in 38.51.

Betty Nuthall and Miss Whittingstall Reach Tennis Finals

Meet Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryon of the U. S. A.

AUTEUIL, France, May 27 (AP)—Betty Nuthall and Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, British teamm oved into the finals of the French championships today and will meet Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, United States, and her partner, Elizabeth Ryan, former Californian and now a resident of London, for the title.

The British pair defeated the Anglo-French combination of Muriel Thomas and Ida Adamoff 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, in the quarter finals and won their semi-final match from Mme. Rene Mathieu and A. Rosamberg, 6-3, 6-4.

Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan advanced by winning from Senorita Ella de Alvarez of Spain and Jose Sigart of Belgium, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The strong United States men's doubles combination of Sidney B. Wood jr., and Gregory Mangin was eliminated by the fine French team of Christian Boussus and Marcel Bernard, who scored decisively 6-4, 6-4.

Fred Perry and J. S. Oliff, of Great Britain, beat Roderich Menzel and Frank Marsalek, Czech pair, to advance to the semi-finals. They won 6-2, 5-7, 8-6, 6-8, 6-0.

CHICAGO 6; CINCINNATI 4

CHICAGO, May 27 — A six-run blast in the third inning today gave the Cubs a 6-4 victory over Cincinnati and increased their margin over Boston for the National league leadership to one and one-half games.

Lonnis Warneke was hit hard, yielding 12 hits, but was in serious trouble in only two innings and won his sixth victory of the season. He struck out six batsmen, and the Reds had men left on the bases in every inning.

The climax of the third inning splurge was a home run into the right field bleachers by Charlie Grimm with a man on.

PITTSBURGH 8; ST. LOUIS 4

PITTSBURGH, May 27—The Pirates continued their climb of the National league ladder today by capturing fourth place with an 8-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Larry French and Jess Haines were hit hard, but the Pittsburgh slabman kept the enemy blows scatterd. Grace and Barbee hit homers.

It was French's fourth win over the Cards; the Pirates' fourth straight victory.

MORE ABOUT SOX

The Sox are hard one to figure. It seems to be a good ball club on paper, but the boys do everything wrong on the field.

Louis Comiskey is generous and will pay well for meritorious performance. Fonesca will be a good manager, too, after the newness of his executive position wears off. The trades, without exception, appear to have helped build the club. Maybe the poor showing is due to the fact that most of the players' don't know one another's first names yet.

• • •

McGRAW CHAGRIN

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, has suffered more than one disappointment during this baseball campaign, but perhaps the one that galls him most is the failure of Outfielder Leonard Koenecke to demonstrate major league ability.

Mr. McGraw scouted Koenecke personally at Indianapolis last summer and placed upon him the stamp of a great discovery. Koenecke hasn't been clicking at bat or afield. Maybe he should have sent Dick Kinsella to Indianapolis to give the young man the once over.

• • •

HARPER IS BULLISH

Seven hundred men came out for spring sports this year at Notre Dame, 200 of these for football. The showing caused Athletic Director Jess Harper to bubble over with optimism.

"We are planning for a football season along normal lines," says Harper. "Things can happen between now and next fall to bring things a good bit of the way back. At least we're not anticipating any troubles. I shouldn't be surprised to find the crowds smaller than usual during the early part of the season, but for the big games the people will be there."

• • •

HOW ABOUT A TRIP?

Notre Dame travels far for football, but this year the schedule doesn't call for any games in Jugoslavia, where they play fairly strenuous style. Thus, the other day the Zagreb Football association passed new rules to takes roughness out of the game.

One of the new rules is that the players who jumps on another with both feet must be warned. Another restriction is against striking an opponent during a dispute, the penalty for which is being ruled off.

It sounds interesting. Maybe Notre Dame would enjoy a game with the Jugo Slavs.

"I'LL TELL YOU WHY" said Mr. Picobac

Mr. Picobac paused to press home a big fresh-lit bowlful of tobacco with the ball of his thumb.

"I'll tell you why," said he; "I'll tell you why Picobac has the quality and flavour it has. It's because it is made from tobacco grown in the county of Essex—and its sister, the county of Kent—down here on the Lake Erie front, 'the tropic belt of Ontario.' No county in the Dominion grows such a variety of products as the counties of Essex and Kent—nor ripens things to such perfection. They grow most everything that the rest of Canada can grow. They grow some things that no other county in Canada can grow.

"Kentucky Burley, grown in Essex and Kent." continued Mr. Picobac with firm conviction, "is the coolest . . . sweetest . . . most satisfying smoke in the world. In my opinion, mind you, in my opinion."

MRS. NEUTCE IS TO STAND TRIAL FOR INFANTICIDE

Jury Finds Child Met Death in Hands of the Mother

VANCOUVER, May 27—After a brief preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate W. M. McKay, Mrs. Pearl Neutce, charged with the murder of her 11-day son, who was found drowned on the shore of False creek on May 7, was committed to stand trial.

A feature of the evidence was the reading of alleged statements of the woman to Detective J. Copeland, who arrested her some hours after the body was discovered.

The woman, Detective Copeland said, broke down and cried. She told of taking the baby with her to visit a sister, walking across Kitsilano bridge.

"I put him in the water; the only thing I did. I did not even look at him, just laid him in the water," were the statements attributed to the accused.

NOT FORMALLY WARNED

Under cross-examination by Frank Lyons, defence counsel, the witness said that the woman had not been formally warned of her rights prior to making the statement. She appeared to be dazed or suffering under an unnatural tension, he said.

Mr. Lyons then made formal objection to the entering of the statements as evidence. Magistrate McKay declared he would leave the matter for the higher court to decide.

Detective W. Mackie corroborated the evidence of Detective Copeland regarding statements alleged to have been made by the accused.

At the inquest the coroner's jury brought in a verdict to the effect that the child died at the hands of its mother, who, at the time of the death, was "in an unsettled state of mind or deranged as result of conditions under which she was living.

QUIET SESSION FINDS LIST AT NEW YORK OFF

General Electric Dividend Cut Prevents Rally Railroads Lose

NEW YORK, May 27 — Stocks drooped unsuccessfully for a footing today and ended the quiet session in new low ground.

Far from following up yesterday's advance, the market showed early heaviness. If there had been any prospect of improvement before the close it was quickly dispelled by General Electric's dividend cut.

Net losses of 1 to 3 points in common stocks were plentiful. Transactions amounted to 899,020 shares, about half yesterday's turnover.

Heavy selling broke General Electric under 10; they closed 2½ points lower. Westinghouse, still on $1 annual basis, reacted even more substantially, losing 4⅝.

American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Air Reduction, Eastman, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe and General Foods suffered net losses of 2 or more, while U. S. Steel, American Tobacco "B" Liggett & Myers "B," Reynolds "B," National Biscuit, United Gas Improvement, Union Pacific, New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Canadian Pacific, National Dairy and American Can lost 1 to 1½. National Biscuit preferred struck an air pocket and was off 5. Beech Nut packing preferred had a similar loss.

The bond market was consistent today in recording another low average for the year. At the same time, however, there was a slightly better tone apparent, with a number of issues indicating they had reached the resisting point.

The railroads were the leading losers in the day's proceeding. A few transportation liens ran against trends.

WHEAT MIXTURE IN FRANCE IS RAISED TO 50 PER CENT

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—A decree published in the official journal today permitted flour millers to include 50 per cent of foreign grain in flour until the arrival of early wheat from the south of France and North America.

This is one of a series of similar decrees, the last previous of which raised the foreign wheat content to 45 per cent because of the shortage of grain in France.

DOLLAR IS OFF FRACTIONALLY

NEW YOFK, May 27—The Canadian dollar closed 1-16 cent lower on local foreign exchanges today at 7⅞ cents, after opening fractionally higher this morning. The pound sterling ended the day ⅞ cent higher at $3.69½ for cable transfers.

GROWING GREEN DUCKS POPULAR FARM SIDELINE

Method of Feeding and Use of Food Is Most Important

Growing green ducks is a specialized side line in poultry keeping and is becoming quite popular with many poultrymen and farmers. This is especially true with those engaged in poultry farming near large towns and cities. Profits received for money invested are very attractive, and the turnover is rapid.

Considerable experimental work with different varieties of ducks, and the use of different feeds fed in different ways has been carried on at the Central Experimental farm in Ottawa, and a brief summary of results obtained would indicate that ducklings of the Pekin breed make the best gains with the least amount of feed. When properly handled, ducklings of this breed make one pound gain in weight on 3.5 to 4 pounds of feed consumed. They can be developed to market age in about 10 weeks time when fed on a mixture of equal parts cornmeal, shorts and bran, with 10 per cent beef meal added. It is a good plan to add about one per cent ground charcoal to the mash. Mix thoroughly in its dry state before using.

Frequent feeding promotes rapid growth. Feed six times daily from the start until the ducklings are three weeks old, and five times daily until they are ready for market.

Duck mashes should be moistened with water before feeding. It is a good plan to moisten the mixture about two to three hours before feeding, so that the mash may become swollen and more easily digested. Add sufficient water to make the mash quite moist and let it stand for a few hours. When ready to feed it should not be sloppy but just wet enough that it will stick together. Sprinkle coarse sand over the mash before feeding. The sand serves as grit, and aids in the process of digestion. Feed only what the ducklings will eat up clean at each feeding.

Finely chopped green food should be added to the mash after the ducklings are four to five days old. Fresh cut clover or alfalfa which has been chopped fine makes excellent green food. Start with only a very small amount and increase the green food gradually until it represents about one fifth of the ration.

When the ducklings are about six weeks old, the green food should be gradually eliminated, and at the commencement of the seventh week the mash should be hanged to 50 pounds cornmeal, 35 pounds shorts and 15 pounds beef meal with a sprinkling of coarse sand.

By the end of the tenth week the ducklings should be in excellent flesh and have developed their first coat of feathers. At this time there should be no delay in marketing them. If kept longer they will change their feathers, which will slow up development and reduce profit. The profit made in the raising of green ducks is directly dependent on the successful marketing of the product at the proper time.

MONTREAL CURB TREND IS LOWER

MONTREAL, May 27—Prices again tended mainly lower on the Montreal curb market today, with a much heavier volume in Imperial Oil, which lost ¼ featuring transactions. Aside from a sharp break of 28 points in Southern Canada power preferred to a new low of 60, the day's changes were narrow.

Issues declining fractionally included Imperial Tobacco, Home Oil, Beauharnois Power and Hiram Walker preferred. B. A. Oil moved against the day's trend to lose ¼ higher at 8⅝.

Among the mines Siscoe was active leader closing two cents higher at 58 cents. Noranda was again easier sagging 10 cents at $13.90.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, May 27—Eggs:

Toronto: The market is unchanged in price with competition for business very keen.

Montreal: Market is steady and quiet. Receipts of Ontario graded shipments are selling on spot at extras 17½, firsts 14½, seconds 12½.

Winnipeg: Prices and conditions remain unchanged on the market here. Dealers are quoting producers and country shippers for ungraded eggs extras 11, firsts 9, seconds 6.

Vancouver: Paying prices to producers for eggs here are extras 10, firsts 9, pullet extras 8 at the farm or one cent higher if delivered Vancouver.

HAY PRICES ADVANCE

MONTREAL, May 27—Hay prices here have been advanced $1 per ton top grades with lower grades remaining unchanged. Scarcity of the best hay, coupled with advances in price at Toronto and Ottawa, were given as the reason. Extra number 2 Timothy has been advanced to $12 per ton, No. 2 to $11 per ton. No. 3 timothy and mixed clover were unchanged, each at $9 per ton.

SELLING WAVE HITS MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

Spends Force; Losses Are Fewer and Smaller Than Day Before

MONTREAL, May 27 (CP) — A wave of selling continued to sweep over the Montreal stock exchange today but its force was much spent as copared with yesterday, and the resulting losses were fewer and smaller.

The decline was large enough, however, to cause 10 new lows, three of them in the bank group.

Total trading of 13,834 shares which compared with 18,239 yesterday, brought out two gains and 14 losses.

Monteral Power again active leader, ended the day unchanged at 25 after touching 25¼. Breweries was unchanged at 11 while Canadian Pacific lost part of yesterday's gain at 9, off a point.

In the banking group Commerce sold at 135, down three points and Bank of Montreal eased eight to 162, Royal Bank of Canada, at 130, was off 14 points from its last board lot sale and off 9 points from a recent odd lot sale.

Poultry Breeders to Get Further Aid From Dominion Government

OTTAWA, May 27—Continuation of the assistance given by the government to poultry breeders desirous of securing registered cockerels for their flocks, was announced today by Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture. The assistance amount to transportation charges and a sum of $1.25 per bird toward the purchase price providing the cockerels pass the inspection tests and are shipped in lots of 10 or more.

The purchases must be made from bona fide breeders entered under the federal policies of registration or record of performance.

CHICAGO WHEAT CLOSES LOWER

Prospects of Huge Carry-Over of Wheat July 1, Causes Decline

CHICAGO, May 27 (By John P. Boughan, Associated Press market editor)—Jumped by trade prospects of a 400,000,000 bushel United States carry-over of wheat on July 1, wheat values underwent late tumbles today.

The huge carry-over suggested would be 65,000,000 bushels in excess of the total a year previous. Another disturbing element was uncertainty as to what would be shown in monthly private crop reports expected next week.

Wheat closed shaky, ⅜ to ¾ under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ¼ to ⅜ lower, oats unchanged to ¼ up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

BRICE IS GIVEN LAST TRIBUTE BY FORCE MEMBERS

VANCOUVER, May 27.—Tribute to a dead comrade was paid by members of "E" division of Royal Canadian Mounted police today when funeral services for Sergt. Thomas Crozier Brice, who died here Thursday, were held in Christ church cathedral.

Sergeant Brice suffered frozen feet in February while patrolling the Liard district in zero weather. He operated on himself with an old knife and later was flown out to civilization, where he was further operated upon.

Approximately 80 members of the force, clad in the traditional scarlet and gold, paid their last respects to the deceased, who joined the Mounted police 17 years ago and has seen service from the Okanagan to the Arctic circle. Obsequies were conducted by Rev. F. H. Wilkinson and Rev. C. C. Owen.

FOREIGN MARKET FIRMNESS BOOSTS WINNIPEG WHEAT

Closes Unchanged to 1-4 Higher; May Be Foreign Wheat Demand Soon

WINNIPEG, May 27—Indications that import countries soon would be in the market for North American grain, and firmness displayed by outside markets gave the bulls a slight edge in spotty trading here today. Wheat closed unchanged to ¼ higher.

May closed at 63⅝; July at 64; and October at 66⅛.

Firmness at Liverpool seemed to be the main factor in the advance which reached ½ cent at top levels. France was mentioned as likely to require large quantities of foreign wheat immediately. Liverpool firmed on this report and also by reason of the small world shipments anticipated for the coming week.

Cash wheat trade saw a much brisker demand for the top grades and a fair volume changed hands at improved spreads. Interest in coarse grains was slack and price variations were small all around.

GENERAL DECREASE IN TORONTO STOCK

Softness Sends Several New Issues to New Low Territory

TORONTO, May 27 (CP)—Softness that sent several issues to new low territory accompanied a decreased turnover on the Toronto stock exchange today. A total of 8837 shares were traded, involving 60 issues of which 8 were up at the close against 30 which closed with losses and 22 unchanged.

The day's heaviest turnover was in International Nickel which lost ¼ to close at 4½ with sales at 2265 shares. Smelters at 28 was up 1. Oils were softer Imperial was off ¼ to 8. Pete lost ⅛ to 10⅛ and McColl-Frontenac was down ⅝ to 8¾.

In the utility section Bell Telephone was firm after the preceding day's softness, closing unchanged at 82½. Brazilian Traction was off ½ to close at a new low of 8½ with a turnover of 436 shares. Canadian Pacific had sales totalling 562 shares and was down ⅞ net to close at 9⅛. Consumers Gas gained 1 to close at 146 and Montreal Power closed at a new low of 25 with a new loss of ¼.

RODGERS SAWMILL AGAIN OPERATING AT CRESTON POINT

Working on Pine Cut Used in Box Making for Use This Season

CRESTON, B. C., May 27.—The C. O. Rodgers sawmill at Creston is again in operation and is just now busy on a cut of pine which will be used in box making operations at the Rodgers box factory this season. The logs are part of the pine cut by Winlaw & Son in the winter of 1930-31, on their limits a few miles south east of town. They are coming in by auto truck, the contract for hauling having been let to W. Kelrn, who has three of them on the work. In addition to the box factory requirements lumber will be cut to fully sort up the stock now in the yard. Work is well along at the box factory on the make of strawberry cups and crates for the Co-Operative Fruit Growers' association at Wynndel, and then a start will be made at filling similar orders for growers down the lake as well as local ranchers. With the completion of strawberry shipping supplies attention will be turned to the 1932 make of raspberry crates and cups.

Empire-Wide News Service Is Belief of Victoria Editor

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 27—Belief that the Imperial press conference in South Africa in 1935 may sanction organization of an Empire-wide news service which will further unite the British commonwealth of nations, was expressed by B. C. Nicholas, editor of the Victoria Times, in addressing a local service club here today. "Power of the press and Empire unity" was his subject.

Proposals regarding an Empire news service, in which foremost British newspapers would exchange news, were advanced at the 1930 Imperial press conference in London, and at the next conference the idea might be accepted, he thought.

MIDGETS DEFEAT WOOLWORTH GIRLS 28-17, SOFTBALL

Midgets Heavy Hitting Features Game at Junior High School Grounds

GIRLS' SOFTBALL LEAGUE STANDING

	P	W	L	D	Pts.
Trinity	1	1	0	0	1.000
Junior High	1	1	0	0	1.000
Midgets	2	1	1	0	.500
Senior High	1	0	1	0	.000
Woolworths	1	0	1	0	.000

Midgets made a sensational comeback at the Junior High school grounds Thursday night, after taking a whitewash from the Junior High girls last week, trouncing the Woolworth girls 28-17 in the third game of the girls' softball league.

The teams appeared fairly evenly matched, with the Midget girls taking the hitting honors. Gladys Jarrett hurled for the Midgets, while Winnie Bebbington held down the mound for Woolworths.

LINEUPS

Lineups, with individual scores, were:

Midgets—Lena Limacher, c (3); Gladys Jarrett, p (3); Jean Massey, 1b (3); G. Skurato, 2b (4); J. Culls, 3b (2); Gertie Wood, ss (4); J. Pickard, lf (2); M. Burnett, cf (4); V. Harlow, rf (3).

Woolworths—Olive Gibbon, c (4); W. Bebbington, p (3); N. Thompson, 1b; K. O'Sullivan, 2b (1); S. Jorgenson, 3b ( ); O. Dahlquist, ss (2); E. Bates, cf (1); M. Muraro, cf (2); S. Kilbergh, rf (3).

The next match in the league will be a contest between the Senior and Junior High schools, at the Junior High school grounds next Monday night. These teams are evenly matched, and at present the Junior High girls are a step ahead of the Senior co-eds, and it is expected that there will be plenty of pep in next Monday night's game.

Thursday night's game was ably handled by Gilbert Goucher.

Cranbrook Girls Down Undefeated Kimberley Team

CRANBROOK, B. C., May 27.—The Cranbrook girls' softball team is edging the men's teams from the limelight, winning their first laurels by defeating the Kimberley 'Huskies' a hitherto undefeated team of girls who live up to the name they have chosen. The game was played on the Cranbrook field with the weather anything but favorable.

The game was a draw at the end of the nine innings so five more were necessary to break the tie. The score at the end of the 14 innings was 22-21 in Cranbrook's favor. Good ball was played by the batteries of both sides with good support from the field. J. M. Clark and J. MacKay umpired the game. A return game will be played in Kimberley on Sunday afternoon at 5.30 when the Kimberley girls will be out to avenge their defeat on the home grounds. A close, hard game is looked for.

FORESTERS LOSE TO FAIRWAY MEN IN SOFTBALL TILT

Morgan Jones Struck on the Eye by Flying Bat; Fairway's Second Win

Fairway team took their second straight win in the men's softball last night at the Junior High grounds by defeating the Foresters 17-16 in a game that was either team's until the final inning.

Both teams played first-class ball, neither having the advantage. T. Brigden held down the mound for the Fairway boys and was given able support by his team-mates. H. Moore started the chucking for the Foresters, and was later relieved by J. Fierro, who also gave a good account of himself in the box.

The first accident to occur locally in softball happened during the game, when Morgan Jones, a spectator, was hit in the eye with a bat. G. Meakins, in an attempt to hit the ball, let the bat slip from his hands, the end of it catching Morgan in the eye. The injured boy was rushed to the office of Dr. D. W. McKay and thence to his home, where it was reported he was suffering from a bruised eye.

The lineups of the teams were as follows:

Fairway—J. Sutherland c; T. Brigden p; W. Anderson 1b; F. Kraft 2b; B. Bingaman 3b; F. Postlewaite ss; E. Gray lf; J. Longdon cf; B. Gray rf.

Foresters—T. Bate c; H. Moore p, 2b; J. Fierro p; A. Wood 1b; B. Hamson 2b; J. Moe lf; J. Maber cf; J. Bate rf; G. Meakin 3b.

D. Ball umpired the game.

ESQUIMALT TO POLL VOTE ON BEER PLEBISCITE

Order in Council Allows Vote On Sale of Beer Once in Three Years

VICTORIA, May 27.—Electors of the municipality of Esquimalt will have an opportunity to vote for or against beer parlors Friday, June 24, it was learned today. The way for the plebiscite was paved at the last session of the legislature when Attorney-general Pooley introduced an amendment to the British Columbia Liquor act to provide for a vote to be taken to put out beer parlors in a district which had previously voted for them.

There was a close vote on the 1924 plebiscite when beer parlors were established by 665 to 560 votes.

Plebiscites on the sale of beer by the glass may be taken only once in three years under an order-in-council made public today. The order, passed at an executive meeting of the council presided over by Attorney-general Pooley as acting premier, and attended by Hon. S. L. Howe, Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Hon. J. W. Jones, Hon. W. A. MacKenzie, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe and Hon. W. C. Atkinson, sets out conditions under which petitions may be presented and plebiscites taken for votes on beer parlors.

The order specifies that 35 per cent of the electors of the area concerned must sign a petition before a plebiscite can be ordered.
