ABOUT 250,000 WILL SEE THE INAUGURATION

Roosevelt Address Is Expected to One of Briefest of Its Kind

GIVES MESSAGE ABOUT 1 O'CLOCK

Hoover Will Take Short Vacation Cruise With His Son

By EDWARD J. DUFFY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP). — Glories reserved for presidents only were ready tonight to launch Franklin D. Roosevelt on the morrow as the leader to whom the United States looks in this hour of need.

Thousands upon thousands of his fellow-citizens eagerly awaited the hours that will bring to him the honors accorded in years gone by to his acknowledged heroes, from Jefferson to Cleveland, the other Presidential Roosevelt and Wilson.

A mighty expectancy prevaded their ranks as they congregated through the evening on flag-bedecked streets, in friendly private gatherings and at varied pre-inaugural functions.

MESSAGE UNKNOWN

To the very last the president-elect kept to himself the message he plans to give them, when shortly before one p.m. he has been sworn as president on the banner-draped stand in front of the capitol.

Mr. Roosevelt today put the finished touches on the address.

He has made it among the briefest of its kind in history. He took advantage of the last minute views of

RAIL COMPANIES REQUEST BOARD OF CONCILIATION

OTTAWA, March 3 (CP)—The railway companies— Canadian National, Canadian Pacific and subsidiary companies—have made application to Hon. W. A. Gordon, minister of labor, for establishment of a board of conciliation to deal with a wage dispute with its employees. The disagreement grew out of a notification which has been given by these companies to their locomotive, trainmen and telegraphers of a proposed reduction of wages effective March 3.

Approve Emergency Bill in Committee

Alberta House to Give Third Reading Monday

EDMONTON, March 3 (CP).—Approved in committee of the whole assembly today, the bill, described by some as a "modified moratorium" to remain in effect temporarily until the next debt adjustment act is passed, was speeded on its way to third and final reading in the Alberta legislature next Monday.

Premier J. E. Brownlee told the house that arrangement had been made so that Hon. W. L. Walsh, lieutenant-governor, would be available next Monday to give formal assent.

Discussion showed that members in various parts of the house were convinced of the necessity for the emergency legislation to check the activities of creditor interests in making foreclosures and seizures before the new debt adjustment act came into operation.

Under the emergency bill, no action for a debt or account or execution or a seizure or distress, sale of land under a foreclosure or mortgage or sale of land under a judgment may be entered or continued without a permit first having been obtained from the director of the debt adjustment board.

BOEING AIRPORT MAY BE CLOSED

SEATTLE, March 3 (AP)—The country's $2,000,000 Boeing field airport will be closed unless private citizens raise a "substantial sum" to continue its operations, Chairman John C. Stevenson of the board of county commissioners announced today.

CANADIAN DOLLAR SOARS 2 1-8 CENTS IN HEAVY TRADE

NEW YORK, March 3 (CP). —In the heaviest trading recorded in many months the Canadian dollar marched steadily upward on New York foreign exchanges today as the United States financial outlook continued to take on a less favorable hue. The Dominion's currency added 2⅛c in value, standing at 86⅛c at the end of the hectic day.

FIND BEATEN BODY OF MAN

Colfax Poolhall Proprietor Victim of Torture and Beating

COLFAX, Wash., March 3 (AP)—Apparently the victim of torture and a terrific beating, the body of David S. Barnum, 30, was found in his home at Hoover, 40 miles from here, today.

The man's skull was fractured and his scalp lacerated, presumably with a railroad spike found nearby, and his body was bruised from one end to the other. His left wrist showed evidence of having had a rope tied around it as if to drag the body. The man's clothing was nearly torn from his body.

John D. Evans, county prosecutor, after a preliminary examination, expressed the opinion the aged man had been attacked by robbers who probably were seeking the key to Barnum's poolhall nearby. The establishment had been looted.

Thomas Beasley, a farm employee, said he saw Barnum about 7 o'clock last night, walking from his poolhall to his home. The man apparently was attacked as he approached his home, as blood was found on the wall and on steps leading to the kitchen. The struggle continued inside the house, as the kitchen was blood-spattered and disarranged.

Coast Magistrates Agree to Pay Cuts

Will Aggregate Saving of $5060

VANCOUVER, March 3.—Vancouver's magistrates are reported to have agreed to salary reductions aggregating $5060, following conferences with Ald. H. J. de Graves, chairman of the civic police and traffic committee.

Consent of Attorney-general R. H. Pooley to the adjustments will be sought Tuesday. Magisterial remuneration is fixed by the attorney-general, but is paid by the city.

It is reported that Magistrate W. M. McKay will receive a 10 per cent cut in his $6500 annual salary as police magistrate, and a 20 per cent cut in his juvenile court rating of $1500 a year. Deputy Magistrate J. A. Findlay is said to have agreed to a 10 per cent cut in a $5100 salary.

Deputy Magistrate G. R. McQueen will serve on a $1500 annual retainer instead of the former figure of $2400, and his services will be used when required. Deputy Magistrate Paul McD. Kerr last week resigned and will not be replaced. His salary was $2400.

It is reported that Miss Edith Patterson will receive a 20 per cent cut in her $1500 allowance as juvenile court judge.

The total saving will bring down the cost of magistrate's services from $19,400 to $14,340.

Alberta Gasoline Tax Is Increased

Surplus Shown in Budget; Heavy Reduction in Controllable Expenses

EDMONTON, March 3 (CP)—Surplus of $9700 for the fiscal year 1933-34 was estimated in the budget of the Alberta government brought down in the legislature by Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer, this afternoon.

An increase of one cent in the gasoline tax was announced, bringing the levy to six cents a gallon instead of five. This was the only increase in taxation contained in the budget. It is partially offset, however, by an adjustment in motor car licences.

Heavy reductions in controllable expenditure amounting to $1,701,734 were also announced.

Estimated revenue for the year was placed at $15,473,174 and estimated expenditure at $15,463,470, leaving an estimated surplus of $9700.

EXPECT JEHOL CITY TO FALL IN FEW HOURS

Japanese Brigade Presses Toward Capital After Taking Pingchuan

CHINESE DENY PINGCHUAN TAKEN

Report Heavy Fighting to Hold Defense Line; Reject Demand

By the Associated Press

SHANGHAI, March 4 (Saturday) (AP)—Latest reports reaching here this afternoon said that Chinese troops are offering stiff resistance to Japanese troops who seek to enter Jehol city, the capital of Jehol province.

CHINCHOW: A Japanese brigade pressed westward toward Jehol city, capital of Jehol province, after capturing Pingchuan. From Pingchuan to Jehol city it is only 50 miles, and the Japanese predicted the fall of the capital within a few hours. Foreign observers expected them to go below the great wall and seize Peiping.

Peiping: Chinese headquarters denied that Pingchuan had been taken, and reported heavy fighting in an effort to hold a defence line protecting Jehol city.

Nanking: The Chinese government instructed the commander of its garrison at Tientsin to reject a Japanese demand that all Chinese troops there be withdrawn.

MILLS CONFERS WITH BOARD

U. S. Government Moves to Aid of The Depositors

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Secretary Mills and members of the federal reserve board were closeted late tonight in the treasury building.

Mills went to the treasury after a conference with President Hoover at the White House. He was joined by members of the reserve board.

Passers-by could see lights gleaming from the windows, but what went on inside remained a closely guarded secret.

NEW YORK, March 3 (CP)—The United States government moved today to the support of banking deposits as the number of states declaring moratoria or limiting withdrawal of funds reached 31.

The federally-backed reconstruction finance corporation announced it would lend money to institutions in states with banking restrictions to pay the percentage of deposits agreed upon, if the banks lacked adequate funds and the loans were sufficiently secured. Bills to meet the situation were pushed forward in both branches of the United States congress and members of the house of representatives banking committees were prepared to meet for the purpose of considering unspecified banking legislation.

Canada Intercoastal Steamship Service Announced at Coast

Provides Monthly Service Between Great Lake Ports and Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 3 (CP).—Announcement was made here today of the formation of an all-Canadian intercoastal steamship service, by B. C. Keeley, Vancouver, formerly Pacific coast agent for the Canadian National steamships.

The company is organized under the name of the Great Lakes Intercoastal Line, Ltd., with headquarters here. It will provide a monthly service between Great Lake ports and Vancouver, with three steamers. The first ship, S.S. Canadian Farmer, it now in Toronto and will sail for the coast late in April.

Certain Finance Houses a Disgrace

Speaks on Amendment to Auto Regulation

VICTORIA, March 3 (CP). — Many financing houses to which persons were sometimes forced to go were a disgrace and should not be allowed, L. A. Hanna, (Lib.-Alberni) said in the legislature yesterday during second reading of an amendment to a section of the Bills of Sales act relating to automobile regulation.

The amendment meant more registration fees. It was evidently drafted for the benefit for financing firms who were well able to take care of themselves, Mr. Hanna said. People who are obliged to go to them were forced to pay through the nose and he thought the financing firms merited little sympathy.

The bill was given second reading as also was a bill amending the Conditional Sales act along similar lines.

POWDER TAKEN FROM THE CITY TOOL STORAGES

Someone who wanted blasting powder raided tool boxes of the city public works department in various parts of Nelson Thursday night, and accumulated six sticks, as many caps, and an appropriate quantity of fuse. The theft was discovered Friday morning, when three tool boxes were found short of that quantity of blasting materials.

Thefts of this kind have occurred from time to time in the past, though this is the first time that more than one box has been robbed. They have generally been attributed to persons who had some private blasting to do, and apparently thought the material taken would not be missed.

GERMANY WILL VOTE SUNDAY

Nationalist Movement Is Apparently Master of Field

BERLIN, Mrch 3 (AP)—The Nationalist movement apparently was master of the field today—the next to the last before German voters will elect a new reichstag and a new Prussian diet.

Chief spokesman of the movement, including Chancellor Adolf Hitler, Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, the minister of economics and agriculture, Vice-Chancellor Franz Von Papen, and Franz Seldte, leader of the steel helmet organization, in speeches continued to herald Germany's resurgence as dating from March 5.

Berlin's streets resounded to the tramp of 35,000 of Chancellor Hitler's storm troopers, who marched through the city. Great crowds acclaimed the paraders.

Professors in the universities of Berlin and Bo simultaneously issued manifestos today declaring that the Nationalist Socialist movement alone could save the fatherland. In Munich, the Bavaria Courier said the Bavarian people long for a king "to protect the country's rights and liberties."

MAY BUY THREE RADIO STATIONS

OTTAWA, March 3 (CP)—The Canadian radio commission may buy three broadcasting stations from the Canadian National railways, one each in Ottawa, Moncton, N.B., and Vancouver. A vote of $1,000,000 was included in this year's estimates for the commission and it is understood a part of this will be used to purchase the railway's three stations.

Sues the University of Alberta on Charge of Causing Insanity of Son

CALGARY, March 3 (CP).—Action for damages in excess of $200,000 against the University of Alberta was filed at the court house here late today by C. H. A. Powlett, Calgary, father of Charles J. A. Powlett, 18 years of age, now a patient at mental hospital at Guelph, Ont.

The action results from a form of initiation which the younger Powlett was compelled to undergo at the hands of sophmore students at the university in September, 1932, when Powlett entered the institution as a freshman. The father claims the university, its board of governors and senate, are responsible for the present unsound condition of his son's mind.

The statement of claim set forth the father met all financial requirements of the university, located at Edmonton, for the education of his son and therefore the university was responsible for his welfare.

It declares the initiation ceremonies were carried out "by the agent of the defendant with the full knowledge and approval, consent and supervision of the defendant." It charges the university was responsible to the younger Powlett "to supervise and conduct the said initiation in such a way as to cause him no physical, nervous or mental injury, in which duty they failed and were negligent."

SAYS SPEECH FROM THRONE IS NEGATIVE

Pearson Charges Government With Lack, Responsibility

STATES SITUATION HANDLED WRONGLY

Urges Remodelling of the Profit System; G. A. Walkem Speaks

VICTORIA, March 3 (CP) — Characterizing the speech from the throne as negative in quality and stating that the situation was much more serious than need be had the government been prepared to tackle it, George S. Pearson, Liberal member for Nanaimo, charged the Tolmie government this afternoon with lack of realization and responsibility.

The speech from the throne he said, expressed the belief that material improvement would come, but meanwhile the people must get along as best they can.

POLITICAL PROBLEM

Mr. Pearson asked what the government meant, when it said it would not be stampeded. In what direction has there been a desire to stampede. No one denies the serious economic situation confronting the province, but only through federal action can we get any material relief. It had now passed the point of being an economic problem; it was a political problem, not new, but never before equalled, and was being placed before the people much more intelligently than ever before.

The people will not accept excuses for inability any longer. They

MYSTERY SHROUDS CLASSIFIED AD

Calls Japanese Reservists to Report at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 3.—Mystery shrouds a classified advertisement published in local paper which reads: "All Japanese reservists report at consulate, 525 Seymour street, Seymour 836."

N. Nomura, acting consul for Japan, denied any responsibility for the statement and asserted that the "ad" did not originate from his office. The advertisement was telephoned to the newspaper office by a man who said he spoke from the consulate.

Japanese opinion in the city is that if the notice had been published with authority from the government at Tokio, it would have appeared in Japanese language papers here.

Leeming Scores Relief Camp Life

Convention Endorses Resolution for Those Who Rebel Against It

VICTORIA, March 3 (CP). — "Life in unemployment camps in British Columbia is mental death," declared Mayor David Leeming, Victoria, at the concluding session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities here Thursday.

The mayor was speaking in a resolution sponsored by the capital city with relief for single men and transients who refuse to go to the camps. The resolution claimed that agents of the government had advised the city that men who refused to go to the camps should be treated as vagrants and put in jail.

The convention was heartily in accord with the sentiments of Mayor Leeming and unanimously endorsed a resolution calling up the Dominion and provincial government to make provision to care for those single men who rebel against camp life, and not turn them back upon the towns and cities to be assisted.

DR. W. J. WANLESS DIES

GLENDALE, Calif., March 3—Dr. William James Wanless, 67, who was decorated by the King of England for distinguished service at the Presbyterian hospital in Miraj, India, died today.

Dr. Wanless, who was born in Toronto, Ont., was sent to India by the Presbyterian board of missions in 1889.

B. C. HAD 120,244 ON RELIEF, FEBRUARY

VICTORIA, March 3— There were 120,244 persons, including dependents in receipt of unemployment relief on February 1, according to a reply given L. A. Hanna, Liberal, Alberni, by Hon. R. W. Bruhn, these figures included 22,021 married or single with dependents and 27,300 single persons without dependents.

Hon. Mr. Bruhn, answering Dr. Gillis, said there were 5000 single unemployed men in camps on January 1.

TIDAL WAVE TOLL MOUNTS

1535 Known Dead; Rescue and Care Impeded; Boats Swept to Sea

TOKYO, March 3 (AP)—The few schools and temples still standing in the arena of destruction were converted into hospitals to care for the hundreds of persons injured by earthquake, tidal wave and fire which devastated the northeastern section of the main Japanese island today, leaving 1535 known dead.

Late tonight the full casualty list had not been compiled, as communications with many sections remained broken. It was feared the death total would be materially increased. Reports showed 7330 homes had been destroyed and the tidal wave had wrecked or carried to sea 1570 small boats.

A heavy snowfall impeded efforts to send relief to the stricken area by airplanes, which were forced to turn back. The navy came to the rescue, however, and doctors and medical supplies were landed from five destroyers.

Although much of the island of Honshu, the largest of the Japanese archipelago, felt the earthquake, the damage for the most part was confined to the prefectures of Miyagi, Aomori and Iwate and the island of Hokkaido, just north of Honshu.

MIDNIGHT FIRE AT YMIR RAZES VERIGIN HOUSE

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the five-room residence of Sam Verigin, Ymir logger and miner, at Ymir around midnight Thursday.

In a message to his daughter, Miss Helen Verigin of Nelson, Mr. Verigin said the family had lost almost all their belongings, including clothes, and asked her to send out some. She will go out to Ymir Saturday. Mr. Verigin did not give any details of how the members of the family escaped.

Aside from Miss Verigin, who has been in Nelson for some years, the family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Verigin and three children, two of them of school age.

Proceedings Started to Disqualify Taylor

Taylor Commences Action Against Registrar

VANCOUVER, March 3 (CP)—Six ratepayers commenced proceedings in supreme court today to disqualify Mayor Louis D. Taylor from holding office. A copy of the petition was served on the mayor. The return date is March 11.

The proceedings are based on section 21 of Vancouver Incorporation act, dealing with omission of a mayor to resign within 10 days after receiving notice of disqualification.

Notice of disqualification was given on February 20 by solicitors for Col. C. E. Edgett, dismissed chief of police. The notice alleged that the mayor is disqualified by reason of the registration on February 20 of Hans Hansen's 19-year-old $1067 judgment against lot 191, Hastings township, of which his worship is owner. The assessed value, it is stated, is $1250. The mayor is required to own property to the value of $1000, clear of encumbrance.

In the meantime Mayor Taylor has commenced proceedings against Registrar A. G. Smith of the land titles office, Vancouver, for a declaration that lot 191 is unencumbered. Hearing of this has been fixed for March 13.

BENNETT ASKS A RENEWAL OF BLANK CHEQUE

Gordon Announces Dominion to Limit Share to $20,000,000

WILL BE FOR DIRECT RELIEF

Wide Power Enabled the Maintenance of Credit Says Bennett

OTTAWA, March 3 (CP)—Canada has weathered the depression better than any country in the world, Premier R. B. Bennett told the house of commons today when asking for another renewal of most features of the unemployment relief legislation of 1932. The measures conferred wide powers on the ministry to cope with unemployment and other economic problems.

The financial and industrial fabric of the country, together with its general credit, had been maintained by the efforts of the Dominion government "and I would like the most captious critic in the house to say where we would have been if we had not had the necessary legislation to enable us to do so," the prime minister declared.

Tempers ran high during a stormy session of the house. For the first time this session the prime minister and Rt. Hon. MacKenzie King,

T. A. Love Is First Vice-President of B.C. Municipalities

VICTORIA, March 3 (CP)—Reeve William Crouch of Saanich, was elected president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities for 1933 at the concluding session of the convention here Thursday. The election was unanimous choice of the delegates.

Mayor Thomas A. Love of Grand Forks was the unanimous choice of the delegates for first vice-president.

Relief or Bloodshed

Howden-Warns Commons St. Boniface in Desperate Conditions

OTTAWA, March 3 (CP).—A demand to know if the federal government is prepared to furnish funds for relief in the city of St. Boniface "before we have bloodshed," aroused the house of commons today. Coupled with it was the statement of Hon. W. A. Gordon, minister of labor, that if the province of Manitoba would state that it is unable to supply relief in St. Boniface, the federal authorities will see to it that no one goes in want.

"We will certainly take action to see that no one suffers for the necessities of life," said Mr. Gordon. He added, however, that the people running the province could not sit back and shift responsibility to the federal government.

"In St. Boniface no relief has been paid for the last 19 days," declared Dr. J. P. Howden, Liberal member for that constituency in a fiery speech.

NOBLE FIVE MINES WILL DRIVE UNDER GOLD VEINS AS SOON AS SNOW IS OFF

President Lincoln States Deep Tunnels Planned for Both Athabasca and Venus-Juno; Driving Intermediate Now

Back from the coast after several weeks spent there in connection with the financing of the Noble Five Mines embarkation of gold mining on Morning mountain, Paul Lincoln, president and managing director, states no time will be lost by the company in pushing development of the combined Venus-Juno and Athabasca properties.

While the snow is going off, work will be confined to driving of an intermediate tunnel in the Venus-Juno, by a crew of half a dozen men under Foreman George Allen, to secure depth on the surface showing discovered last summer by the late Leasers, and from which one car of ore was shipped. This work was begun about two weeks ago, and as it is continuing existing under-ground work, can be prosecuted to advantage now. This surface showing, Mr. Lincoln states, was traced by the leasers for about 250 feet, and had a width of about two and a half feet, while assays ranged from $16 to $69 in ton values.

CONSTRUCT CAMP

As soon as the surface is exposed, Mr. Lincoln states, camp construction will be proceeded with for a large crew, and as soon as the men can be accommodated, new tunnels will be started at depth on both the Athabasca and Venus-Juno properties.

The work, he states, will be pushed vigorously all round, with the object of bringing the combined property into production at the earliest possible moment.

In view of the close proximity of electric power, it is probable, Mr. Lincoln states, that the company will be using it practically from the start for all power purposes, including compressor operation.

Must Clean Walls at Central School Entrance

High School Badminton club will stand prohibited from play in the Central school until assurance is received by the Nelson school board that defacing of walls on the fire escape entrance will be discontinued and the walls put in repair again.

Principal George Sparkes of the Central school reported to the board that walls had been defaced and obscene language written there. It was on motion of E. F. Dawson that the board prohibited further use of the hall until walls were cleaned and assurance given that the same trouble would not occur again.

SCHOOL BOARD AIDS LABORATORY

Nelson school board Friday night decided to set aside the sum of about $124, the total health nurse grant from late in October until February 22 for use of the pathological laboratory at the Kootenay Lake General hospital.

MORE ABOUT BENNETT

Liberal leader, clashed in one of their famous cross-chamber duels. At one time both leaders were on their feet, shouting at each other across the aisle while their followers cheered them on.

Hon. Wesley Gordon, minister of labor, announced the government would limit to $20,000,000 the Dominion's share of direct relief this year. In other respects, the government would seek the full "blank cheque" legislation under which relief had been administered from 1931.

BENNETT AND KING INTERCHANGE

OTTAWA, March 3 (CP)— A sharp interchange between Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, leader of the opposition, featured the debate on administration of unemployment relief in the house of commons this afternoon. Mr. King had just concluded a speech in which he criticized the government for seeking a "blank cheque" to cover relief expenditures in the past two years, and demand detailed information as to proposed expenditures under the 1933 relief act now under consideration.

Mr. Bennett followed the opposition leader.

"Mr. chairman, I wonder if the Rt. Hon. gentleman has any appreciation of what he is talking about," he began, and an uproar broke out among members of both sides.

"I mean that very seriously," the prime minister continued, "for that any responsible member of parliament should give us what he has been saying in the last 15 minutes is incomprehensible."

Mr. MacKenzie King — "Let the prime minister speak for himself."

Mr. Bennett— "It is incomprehensible that any irresponsible man would say in this house what has been said."

Mr. MacKenzie King—"I am as responsible as the prime minister. He is talking as an irresponsible minister of the government at the moment."

Mr. Bennett—"Don't get worried."

Mr. MacKenzie King—"No—and I won't stand any insulting words from my right honorable friend either. He talks about me not being responsible. I tell him that he does not know what he is talking about."

Mr. Bennett—"I am sure if the right honorable gentleman has no further knowledge of that than he has of what he has been talking about, his opinion is not very valuable."

"A cry fine exhibition by the prime minister," observed Mr. MacKenzie King. The incident closed.

SUPPLIES FOR SCHOOL OKAYED

Board Grants Permission for Certain Purchases

Nelson school board Friday night granted permission to H. McArthur, principal of the junior high school, to purchase library cards and to have binding of reference books done. He stated books would be sent to Vancouver for rebinding. Chairman John Notman asked if the books could not be done as cheaply in Nelson but Mr. McArthur declared that the cost in Nelson was almost prohibitive. E. P. Dawson believed a figure should be received from Nelson binders, and he moved that the Nelson Daily News job department be asked for a price. It carried. Mr. Notman appealed to school principals to conserve on supplies in 1933 and Mr. McArthur stated that the teachers were making every effort to cut supply costs.

Mr. McArthur stated he wished to order certain reference books and the board told him to do so but to remember that the estimates had been cut in half for this particular department.

Dr. John Gansner brought up the question of the school board supplying pupils with writing material. In the east the parents purchased these requisites. He wondered if the board could cut expenditure this way. George Brown declared the present was a bad time to start this kind of economy. Dr. Gansner suggested supplying free books to only those who could not pay. Mr. McArthur stated that on that scheme there would be no standard. If the board were to purchase to resell it would involve bookkeeping. On the present scheme ratepayers without children were helping to pay for books and if parents purchased them the cost would be higher. He declared the children were taught to economize on scribblers and that books had to be full before new ones were issued. He believed teachers could save on foolscap if closer attention were paid to this item. Mr. McArthur stated that he believed ratepayers should know that under the scheme in Nelson, parents were actualy saved money through the board buying cheaply.

ORCHARD FINED BUYING BOOKS FROM A MINOR

Under Mistaken Impression as to Scope of Bylaw

Pleading guilty to an infraction of the bylaw regulating secondhand and junk stores, through purchasing books from a minor, H. F. Orchard, proprietor of the Ark, was fined $6.50 by Magistrate William Brown Thursday, and paid the fine.

The case came to light following discovery of a burglary of north shore residences, in which a valuable set of books was taken from Mrs. J. H. Lawrence's place, the books being found at the Ark, having been sold to Mr. Orchard by the youthful purloiner.

It turned out that Mr. Orchard had made purchases before from this particular boy, on the strength of notes the boy had produced from his mother, being under the impression that so long as there was a note, the fact that the boy was under the legal age did not matter. In the present case there was no note, but he assumed the boy was authorized to sell to him.

Chief of Police Alex. Stewart, who prosecuted the case, pointed out that the bylaw made not exceptions, and that a parent's note did not legalize a purchase from anyone under 16 years.

believe the conditions now present were brought about unnecessarily. If not remedied soon they would consider the capitalistic system a failure. They demand relief now and if not forthcoming will bring about a remedy through some other form of government.

REMODEL PROFIT SYSTEM

Mr. Pearson urged a remodelling of the present profit system by eliminating evil features which make the system impossible to function. He was convinced there was no equitable distribution of wealth through that system.

"The present profit system can only survive as it increases the proportion of production distributed in wages and less in interest, dividends, surplus and fixed capital," he affirmed. "Only through wages can proper distribution of wealth be brought about. Capital and employers of labor are responsible for the present state of affairs."

G. A. Walkem, Conservative, Vancouver, followed Mr. Pearson. Mr. Walkem said he had no very great love for the present government. It had humiliated him greatly two years ago. Mr. Walkem was removed from the chairmanship of the public accounts committee in 1931, but now he considered that humiliation a great honor. He recognized it as a weak, incapable government, although to his shame, he had voted with it many times. At the close of the last session he had decided not to take his seat again but did not wish to embarrass the government by resigning and forcing a by-election in a constituency where the government had no hope of success.

MRS. McNEISH IS VISITOR IN NELSON

SLOCAN CITY, B. C., March 3—Mrs. T. McNeish went to Nelson on Monday to attend the spring session of United church presbytery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Schnesbele and baby and Mr. and Mrs. C. Christopherson and family of New Denver were visitors in town on Tuesday, guests of relatives.

J. Sutherland, engineer for the C.P.R. steamship service, visited his home here for a few days from the Okanagan, leaving again on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. Epelip was a business visitor to Nelson during the week.

FAIL TO OBTAIN PROMISE TO AID

Crouch Sees Cities and Municipalities Forced to Receivership

VICTORIA, March 3.—Members of the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities who waited upon the government today came away with little hope that their appeal for relief of the taxation burdens would succeed. Failure to secure promises of relief prompted Reeve William Crouch, president of the union, to remark that many cities and municipalities would be forced into receivership.

Several matters on which the union passed resolution at its convention which closed yesterday were brought before the cabinet. After the meeting members of the delegation expressed the view there was not the slightest prospect of a favorable reply to their appeal to give city councils control over school board financing.

LITTLE PROSPECTS OF CHANGE

They saw no prospects of a change in unemployment relief, either in relieving the share carried by the cities and municipalities or for an increase in the scale. During the discussion Hon. J. W. Jones, minister of finance, told the delegation the British Columbia government was doing everything it possibly could and more than the Dominion government authorized. It had overspent the allowance the Dominion government made.

In direct contrast to their plea for repeal of last year's legislation placing a share of social costs on cities and municipalities, indication was given that the cities would be called upon to bear a greater share of the cost than imposed upon them at the last session.

Regarding the application of the cities to secure government loans at reasonable interest rates the delegation was informed the provincial government had done all it could with the Dominion government in this direction and had not succeeded.

ORGANIZATION FAILS AT TRAIL

Cooperative Commonwealth Falls Through

TRAIL, B. C. March 3—Proposals to organize in Trail, a branch of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, failed when only two members out of a small meeting stood in answer to the call for a vote on organization of the new political party tonight. J. E. Gordon, president of the Rossland branch, presided.

L. Nimsick and H. S. Smith of Rossland were the speakers.

Several members of the audience went into argument when the address were finished. Mr. Gordon accepted a challenge issued by Mr. Fox for a public debate.

Predictions of inaugural officials were the visiting throngs would surpass 250,000 in number.

On a stand fronting the capitol, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes will administer the oath to the new president in the presence of thousands seated and standing across the immense plaza. Amplifiers will carry to the them the words of the inaugural address.

HOOVER TO CRUISE

At this point, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will leave to entrain—the former to New York with his son, Allan, for a few days before taking a vacation cruise; the latter to leave the train at Philadelphia with their other son, Herbert, Jr., for California.

While that train carries Mr. Hoover to private life for the first time since he undertook the cares of the United States food administration in war days, the man who was his associate as assistant secretary of the navy in those days, will assume his place in the court of honor to review the inaugural parade.

MILK FUND IS NOW IN FORCE CITY SCHOOLS

I.O.D.E. Plan Gives Drink Twice Weekly to Those Under Weight

Kiddies of Nelson's elementary schools who have been found to be under weight for their age are now twice a week receiving at the recess period a drink of milk to build them up, this being financed from the milk fund of Kokanee chapter, I.O.D.E. The plan went into effect at Central school last week, and at Hume school Friday.

Two years ago Kokanee chapter asked the late Dr. E. C. Arthur, city and schools medical officer of health, as to the state of physical development of the school children, and after a complete investigation Dr. Arthur reported that with very occasional exceptions the children were of proper weight.

Apparently the degree of unemployment existing has affected the physical welfare of the children, for Miss Kathleen Gordon, the schools health nurse, has found a material proportion of under weight kiddies—10 per cent in the case of Central school, and around 15 per cent at Hume school. Under weight children, it is said, are less resistant to disease.

To meet this situation, Kokanee chapter has undertaken to supply three gallons of milk twice weekly to Central, and two gallons twice weekly to Hume, to be dispensed by the teachers in accordance with a list furnished by Miss Gordon. In all cases Miss Gordon first wrote the parents, obtaining their consent for the Central list, and then with the Hume.

Mrs. W. S. King, regent of Kokanee chapter, pointed out Friday that it was for this object that the chapter is giving shortly a milk fund tea. She expressed the hope that the public might support the milk fund to a degree that would enable the milk ration to be given three or perhaps four times a week, instead of two—to speed up the process of building healthy, hearty children.

MR. PICOBAC ON TOUR

Mr. Picobac rested his bundle of newspapers, mail order catalogues, and miscellaneous third-class mail on the kitchen table while he found his glasses. With a table knife he slit the end of the big envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. Seated bolt upright on a kitchen chair he read aloud as follows:

"Dear Mr. Picobac:

"Knowing your enthusiasm for Picobac, the pick of the Burley tobacco grown along the north shore of Lake Erie, we have commissioned you to make a tour of investigation into pipe smoking conditions throughout Canada, at our expense. Please report to us regularly once a week. By next mail we will forward your suggested itinerary, beginning with the city of London . . ."

Here Mr. Picobac interrupted himself. "What's itinerary?" enquired he.

"You'll find out when you get there," replied Mrs. Picobac decisively.

The smiling face of Mr. Picobac of Essex County is well known. He has been commissioned by Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited, to make a tour of investigation.

Will he accept the commission? He has already done so and while you await his next message, try Picobac for a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke.

Good for making cigarettes, too.

INSTALLMENA 9

Dick was going to dance with the girl in white satin. The girl draped her arm around Dick's shoulder. Holding him much closer than she ought to. Looking up at him. Laughing a lot. And moving with him through the crowd. Graceful. A good dancer. Too good, almost professional, Judy thought. A flame of jealously swept through her. But now Dick was looking at Judy over the girl's shoulder, raising his eyebrow, nodding. Dick making words with his mouth without saying them.

Words? He didn't need to make words. She knew what he was thinking. All at once she didn't hate the girl in white satin. She found herself feeling rather sorry for her. For all the girls who listened to Dick's smooth, deep voice, and wondered about it and dreamed.—

The music ended. The people didn't want it to end. They didn't want to go back to their tables, to the smell of food, to the clink of glasses. But they had to. The music was over. The men in the orchestra were filing out of the bandstand, disappearing, hurried.

A man with a cigar and a violin was walking toward Judy's table with Dick.

Why should you feel so glad because Dick Mason is coming to your table? Judy's self asked Judy that. And Judy did not bother to answer. For Judy's self knew the answer, and Judy knew.

"Judy I thought I'd never get back," Dick said.

"You seemed to be happy dancing with that girl," Judy smiled.

"That's part of my job. Her father owns half of the station. So what?"

"So nothing," said Judy, somehow relieved. Just a job. Just part of being a public figure. And the girl in white satin might have a gown that cost ten times as much as Judy's but that wouldn't help her.

"Judy. I want you to meet Ben Bernie. You've heard of Ben Bernie, of course?"

"Heard of him? I've heard him and wanted to meet him for years and years. Only——"

Ben Bernie smiled.

"Not as young and handsome as I was, Miss Allison. But I've my charms. I'm the old maestro, you know."

"Yes. Of course. We used to listen for you every night back in Hiawatha."

"Hiawatha?"

Judy crimsoned.

"Its in Kansas. It's got 3,211 people and a thousand automobiles."

"Good for Hiawatha. And I'm glad to have met you, Miss Allison. We'll see you often, I hope."

"I hope so, too."

He bowed jerkily. A brief man, with a furrowed brow, with dark eyes, with a stronge twinkle about him. A man who seemed to be amused by this crowd as much as he amused them. A man, Judy remembered, who said things that, were true as often as they were funny. The old maestro. Old microbe, somebody called him once. Ond instead of being angry about the name, Ben Bernie liked it and used it and laughed at it. Nice man.

"Good by, Mr. Bernie.'

"Good-by."

He was gone, and people were saying, "Hy, Ben!" and "Hello, there, old pal!" and most of them didn't know him at all, most of them were just making their girls think they knew him because he was somebody.

But it wasn't that way with Dick. Ben Bernie had talked with him as an equal, Be Bernie, whose name went all over the country! Dick—

"Nice fellow," said Dick, sitting down, flashing Judy a quick, young smile. "One of the nicest in our racket."

"Why . . . you're not going to say you hate radio?"

"Oh." He nodded wisely. "Elton Day again, eh?"

"How did you know?"

He grinned. "First thing he tells every new girl. Very first thing. Let me see. Something like this." He made himself solemn, he leaned back with his hand almost covering his eyes, he began. "They're all fools in radio or they wouldn't be in it. And I'm a fool, too. I could be back home selling a story now and then, and being the boy prodigy, but . . ."

It was uncanny. His voice was like Elton's voice, almost exactly like it.

"Dick! Stop it! That's cruel."

"Cruel? Maybe. Only it's true."

"How can you make your voice sound so much like his?"

"I'm an actor, and he's an actor, and any ham can do what any other ham can do, Judy."

"Ham?"

"Thats what all actors call themselves when they dont want you to believe a word they're saying."

ELECTRIC HOT-BED ON TAPIS

Electric Engineer Fleet Is Toying With Idea of Stocking Them

Nelson house occupiers who have fancies for gardening may be invited shortly to purchase electric hotbeds from the city.

City Engineer W. D. Fleet is toying with the idea, and has ascertained that the electric-styled hotbeds could be handled at a very reasonable figure.

A hotbed heating apparatus for 36 square feet of space—the bed to be either six by six feet— or three by 12—can be had for $25, and as this wouldn't be a very heavy expenditure for the city to make for demonstration purposes, it is possible something may be heard of this proposition.

The apparatus is on the ordinary heater principle, and consists of a frame-work of wire beneath the wooden flooring of the hotbed.

It is asserted that the electric hotbed will develop plants to the transplanting stage while the old style one brings them to the surface of the soil.

FARMERS ORDER STUMPING POWDER

CRESTON, B. C., March 3—The Camp Lister-Huscroft Farmers' institute is the first of these organizations in the valley to place an initial order for stumping powder. The amount requisitioned is smaller than a year ago, but is creditable considering the depressing time the man on the land is experiencing. With so much rain in the fall, and much snow, land will be in rare shape for stumping operations this season.

Cecil Moore Has Purchased Garage

CRESTON, B.C., March 3.—Sole ownership of the business of Central Motors passed to Cecil Moore at the first of the month, when he purchased the interest of his partner, Charlie Cotterill. Mr. Moore is back from Cranbrook hospital, where he was a patient for four months, but is actively supervising the garage business, getting about on crutches. A. Goplin, a recent arrival from Saskatchewan, is opening out here in the painting, papering and kalsomining line. This trade has been unrepresented in town since the departure, almost two years ago, of W. S. Bush.

C. D. OGILVIE IS HARROP VISITOR

HARROP, B. C., March 3—The Harrop group of C.G.I.T. was in charge of the service at the United church Sunday evening.

The lesson was read by Miss Florence Howard and Miss Hazel Knauf read the paper on C.G.I.T. movement. The sermon address was given by the Rev. G. Kinney of Procter.

C. D. Ogilvie came in from China Creek and spent the weekend at the ranch.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

Monday, March 13—Cold and clear weather generally, but may be light precipitation along southern borders of the central regions and in vicinity of grest lakes of Manitoba.

Tuesday, March 14—A cold spell, but slightly moderating in west and about southern parts of Alberta; to the east and southeast some precipitation.

Wednesday, March 15—Remains clear and cold in most parts of the country, but somewhat unsettled about southern Manitoba and the great lakes sections.

Thursday, March 16—Very cold weather for the season, but soon tends to moderate in the west; precipitation very light, scattering and in spots along southern border sections.

Friday, March 17—Temperatures slowly moderate in the west, but remain cold in east and northeast sections; may be light precipitation about great lakes regions.

Saturday, March 18 — Generally clear weather, but about today a rise in temperature with scattered precipitation along southern borders of the central regions extending eastward.

Sunday, March 19—Unsettled and probably mild storm condition, with light precipitation, along the southern borders; temperatures generally rising in western sections.

Week of March 13 to 19, is expected to be clear and very cold until last days, when mild storm condition comes in via the west and temperatures slowly rise. At first of week very little snow, but in last days precipitation is expected in spots, streaks and very scattering along southern borders and about regions of the great lakes of Manitoba. Excepting a rather cold period about the 9th of April, this is the last extremely cold weather of the winter.

Snow, rainfall, precipitation and moisture are nearly the same thing as to final cropweather effect, therefore when it is said rainfall is expected to be deficient the first part of March 1933, about the central regions of the country, graduating from northwest to the southeast, it means snow, rain or moisture. In the northwestern parts of central Canada light snows in this period; toward the southeast near the Manitoba lakes much heavier; to east and in the States it becomes rainfall, with gradually increasing volume from Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard.

INSTITUTE WORKS ON FAIR PLANS

Committees at Kaslo Report on Progress

KASLO, March 3.—Members of the Kaslo and District Women's institute met Friday afternoon with the president, Mrs. John Keen, in the chair. Reports were given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Scott Thornberg, the financial report being exceptionally good. Letters were read from a Kaslo citizen and from the home for crippled children in Vancouver, both on treatment for a local child. After some discussion, Mrs. William Whitaker and Mrs. William volunteered to act as a committee to interview Dr. Barclay and others interested, with a view to reaching some definite arrangement.

The secretary was instructed to write letters of thanks and appreciation to the Orange lodge for the free use of their lodge room and to Messrs. Carney, Mayzes and McGibbon for supplying free music for the recently held whist drive and dance. Mrs. H. T. Hartin gave a report of this affair. Votes of thanks were extended to the members of all committees in charge of the program for the very successful evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Jack Paterson reported having sent flowers to two members who were ill.

A resolution on the improvement of the Kaslo-New Denver road was read and discussed but was laid on the table for further discussion at the March meeting.

Mrs. A. McGillivray stated that the dressmaking class was now established and regular sessions would be held in the future. The members voted $2 a month for the next three months to help defray the initial expenses of the class.

The committee appointed to interview the Farmers' Institute reported, through James Speirs, president of the Farmers' institute, that they were willing to lend every possible assistance to make the proposed fall fair a success, but could not see their way to cooperating on a 50-50 basis.

Progress reports were given by the various committees, these being the flowers, vegetables, home cooking and fancy work, etc. The committee in charge also reported having had a large number of prizes, both in cash and merchandise, donated by business men and citizens of the community, and these will be added to as time goes on, so that there is every indication that the prize list for the 1933 fall fair will be a handsome one.

REV. MR. REED SPEAKS

Rev. Mr. Reed was the speaker and gave a splendid talk on "Community Betterment." From his point of view this begins with the individual and spreads through the family municipality, country, empire and the world, all through nobler living of the individual. Faith was the foundation of peace in our lives and minds. He thought service clubs did much good although their methods were not always the best, particularly the ideas of raffles, sweepstakes and kindred measures.

Mr. Reed stated that there were at present 1,300,000 unemployed in the Dominion and that 99 per cent of its wealth was controlled by 18 men. In his mind patriotism was not primarily love of country, but love for the fellow men. To reach the ultimately desired peace and security in personal relationships one must dig much deeper than here-to-fore and build from the cellar up. He urged adherence to the motto, "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." Mr. Reed was given a hearty vote of thanks.

NELSON FIRMS PURCHASE HAY CRESTON DISTRICT

CRESTON, B. C., March 3—George E. Brown, of Nelson, was a business visitor in the district at the first of the week, and in a canvass of the hay growers at Lister-Huscroft succeeded in securing four carloads of baled alfalfa from the W. C. Edwards ranch at Camp Lister, who is one of the biggest holders of this feed in the valley. Baling of the Edwards crop will now be completed and shipping will start later in the month.

Frank Hollaus, another resident of Camp Lister, who was a weekend business visitor at Nelson, disposed of a carload of alfalfa while in that city, and the hay is now being loaded out at Erickson.

These latter sales will go quite away toward clearing out the balance of the 1932 alfalfa cut, which was somewhat heavier than in 1931 when the Camp Lister-Huscroft section alone shipped out well over 200 tons.

MISS PATRICIA COWELL IS WED

Edgewood Miss Is Bride of Victor Flick

EDGEWOOD, B. C., March 3—A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Agnes church, Edgewood, on Monday, February 27, when Gertrude Pratrica Dorothy Cowell and Victor Charles Flick, were united in marriage. Canon Thompson officiated. The bride wore a peach colored flat crepe gown with veil and gown ankle length. The bridesmaid was Miss Kathleen Jowett who wore an alice blue lace gown with blue hair band to match, and Miss Betty Jowett, flower girl, was very pretty in a quaint dress of blue muslin with white spats.

The bridegroom's present to the bride was a leather hand bag, and to the bridesmaid, a saphire pendant; to the grooms' man a silk neck scarf. The bride's present to the bride groom was a bill fold. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Cowell who wore a gown of black flat crepe, with hat to match.

The happy couple returned after the ceremony to the bride's home and a wedding breakfast was served to about 28 guests. The wedding cake was beautifully decorated with sugar, the work of Mrs. L. Littlewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Flick left for Prince George district, where they intend to make their home.

About 150 persons attended a dance at the Arrow Lake hotel, put on in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Flick, newly-weds, music was supplied by the Misses Betty Donselaar, Minnie Donselaar, Winnie Jordan, Cora Hopp and W. Webster, W. Jowett, A. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Flick, Mrs. W. H. Cowell, George Cowell, Willie Hopp, and Joe Hopp, motored to Nakusp, Tuesday.

BACK ACHED NIGHT AND DAY

Woman's Ten Months of Suffering

Backache is like many other complaints in that the only sure way to deal with it is to remove the cause. That is what this woman did :—
"I have suffered with terrific backaches night and day for this last 10 months, and have spent a great deal on various remedies—without result. A few weeks ago I decided to give Kruschen Salts a trial, and I am thankful to say I am feeling better and better ever since I have taken them. I take once a day a medicinal dose. If only people knew, they would not spend the money they do on other things when they could derive such benefit from Kruschen Salts."—(Mrs.) J. V. F.
If you want swift relief from the torture of backache—if you want to end kidney trouble for all time—put the six vital salts of Kruschen into your blood. The principle is this :—Kruschen Salts starts your kidneys functioning again as Nature intended they should. Poisons that have been allowed to accumulate in your system are promptly expelled. When these poisons go, those agonising aches and pains have to go too! And if you continue with the "little daily dose"—keep your kidneys up to a proper performance of their duty—there'll be no likelihood of any such poisons ever accumulating again. You'll be rid of backache for the rest of your life.

FREE TRIAL OFFER OF KRUSCHEN

Try Kruschen now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claims for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c. package. This consists of our regular 75c. bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorised to return your 75c. immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. Griffiths Hughes, Ltd., Manchester, England. (Established 1756)

Salary Scale Due for Revision

Salaries paid to teachers in the Nelson schools are governed by a schedule, established some years ago, on a basis which at that time was satisfactory to the school board and to the teachers. The basic principle of the schedule is that it establishes a minimum salary and a maximum salary, and that it provides for larger salaries to teachers of some years experience than to teachers with lesser teaching experience.

The effect of the schedule, providing that teachers remain in Nelson, is that ultimately they receive the maximum salary. Under normal conditions, the average salary which was paid was to some extent kept down by the fact that more teachers receiving the maximum or approaching the maximum would leave, and could be replaced with teachers of less experience, though quite competent to do the work required of them, at a salary closer to the minimum than to the maximum. Under present conditions, changes in teachers are relatively infrequent. Very few teachers holding a good job in Nelson are likely to run the risk involved of jumping out and seeking employment elsewhere, the more especially as the average salary in Nelson at the present time is considerably higher than that paid in other cities of about the same size. In fact, the average salary in Nelson, if not the highest in British Columbia, is very close to it.

A schedule governing salaries is necessary, but financial conditions in this municipality are such that circumstances will make it necessary for the school board to consider seriously, and in plenty if time before the opening of the September term, revision if the schedule. A schedule is necessary, because otherwise the principals of various schools are placed in extremely embarassing and difficult positions when decisions to increase and decrease salaries for individual teachers are raised at school board meetings. In the old days, before we had a salary schedule, the school board when preparing its estimates would give consideration to the question of increases in individual teachers. The principal affected would be consulted, and he would quite naturally be extremely loathe to advise against an increase to any teacher, or even to oppose an exorbitant increase for some particular teacher if one of the trustees happened to suggest it.

While, therefore, we should continue to work on a salary schedule, necessity will force us to modify the present schedule. For example, at a time when salaries and wages are being decreased all over the province in all lines of industry, it is utterly absurd for the school board to continue to give regular increases in salary. All increases should be suspended. Examination of conditions in each school would in all probability disclose the fact that in some classes we are paying far higher salaries than is necessary to obtain competent teachers to do the work effectively. There is no reason why the board should not establish not only a maximum salary for each class of school, but a maximum salary which will be paid during the present period of depression for each particular class in each school If it is only worth $1000 a year to teach class "C," and we can obtain a competent teacher at that figure, which would be indicated by whether other schools in a city of about this size were paying no more than that amount, then $1000 is what we should pay. If the prevailing rate for a teacher to teach class "D" is $1150, then we should pay that figure, but we should not pay $1500 or $1800 for work which other schools are getting done for $1000 or $1200.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

STRENGTHENING THE HEART WHICH IS TOO EASILY AFFECTED BY SLIGHT EFFORT

You may be lying down resting and putting your index and middle fingers on your wrist on the thumb side you feel your pulse beating regularly at 68 to 72 beats to the minute.

You rise to your feet and are surprised to find that the heart rate has increased by nearly 50 per cent, beating perhaps as high as 100 beats to the minute. Naturally you expect the rate to increase when you stand up, as the heart has a harder job pumping blood when you are standing than when you are lying down on the level. This is because the heart does not have to pump the blood upwards to the upper part of the body, and away down to the feet with enough power to bring it upwards all the way back to the heart again.

In the average person, arising from the lying down to the standing position increases the rate of the heart beat by six to 10 beats in the minute

What has made your heart beat so fast with such a little effort? Have you heart disease?

As a matter of fact you are likely in poor condition physically, and need some toning up.

Dr. W. Allan, Charlotte, N.C., reports 27 patients in which the heart rate increased an average of 35 beats on simply arising from a reclining position; in 25 the systolic pressure (with arm band tightly inflated) fell and in 26 the diastolic pressure (with arm band not inflated) rose, the difference between the two pressures being only 18 instead of about 40, the normal difference.

None of these patients showed any murmurs (leakage) or any enlargement of the heart.

Should these cases be given digitalis to slow the heart and advised to rest as much as possible?

No! Dr. Allan advises that if the tone of the heart and blood-vessels is to be raised it is necessary to feed the patient well and to restore the tone to the muscle by graduated daily exercise.

I believe most physicians will agree with Dr. Allan.

Exercise such as walking or simple calisthenics, calls upon the heart to send more blood regularly and rhythmically to distant parts of the body, thus building up the power of the heart muscle, and the muscles of the blood vessels.

Hog weighing 912 pounds has been given star rating in a Hollywood movie. Here's a star at last that won't take foolish risks in reducing.

The hog actor has one essential qualification for success in life. He was born on a farm.

The hog star's affairs are in capable hands. His manager is a pig business man.

A home has been built for the hog beside the studio and, in future he will earn his living by his pen.

The hog's directors believe they have his approval of the new arrangement. At least, they take it for grunted.

The hog star is heavily backed. All the other 900-pound swine are rooting for him.

Interviewed the other day, the hog at Hollywood said he felt quite at home among all those hams.

One night a man in a car was run down at a level crossing. Consequently the old signalman in charge had to appear in court. After a gruelling cross-examination he was still unshaken. He said he waved his lantern frantically, but all to no avail.

The following day the superintendent of the line called him to his office.

"You did wonderfully well yesterday, Tom," he said. "I was afraid at first that you might waver."

"No, sir," replied Tom, "not as long as that lawyer didn't ask me whether my lantern was lit."

You have heard all about these "contented cows" that Bill Gibbon often speaks about, but perhaps "revolutionary cows" may be a new one. The dairymen of Vienna recently made good use of that well-known medium, the parade, by driving a herd of 5000 cows to the parliament building where their moos were interpreted as a protest against taxation. The chief of police had warned that "this effort of revolutionary cows to moo the government down would not be permitted," and intimated generally that the idea was "the bull." The protest was carried out, however, and with such success that the coal dealers contemplate a similar protest by discharging coal from one wagon to another before the parliament building. Here's hoping the outcome will be, "Coal from contented Coal Dealers!"

"Bring your notes here and let me see them."

"Why, Tom, this is all nonsense."

"I thought so, massa, all the time you was preaching it!" rejoined Tom.

A new "twins" insurance has come into being in Toronto, according to a speaker at the Insurance institute—too late to benefit a father, whose first, a boy and a girl, arrived a week too early. It wasn't explained whether this would be classed as life insurance or casualty insurance, but anyhow, when the doctor announces "It's twins"—the happy (?) father collects his money from the insurance company. Samuel McAdam, who outlined this newly devised "twin insurance" described it as one of the varied types of "inland transportation insurance policies." That struck me as funny too.

"PLUSSAGE" CAUSE OF THE DEPRESSION

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:—It is a wonder perhaps, if a certain amount of conceit in our make up is not responsible for the present situation in connection with our schools. Has not the cart been placed before the horse? Some years ago it was believed it would be nice to have the Premier of B. C. as member for our constituency, and a Normal school was in the offing. The Junior High was born as a result of failure to establish Normal, regardless of the fact as to whether either was in public demand, so, to-day, Junior High's life is apparently full of trouble, likewise that of the Citizens. Viewing the situation dispassionately it seems as if supply has been foisted on us before legitimate demand was created, the result of which is the present problem. Politics in business has been condemned so often, no reiteration is called for here.

The situation however, to turn to lighter vein, seems to bear favorable comparison with a Negro Porter's ideas of "Depression", as indicated by the following quoted conversation which took place in a "Pullman" running on a Southern railway:—

"Well John, how is the depression hitting you?"

"What did you say, Cap'n?"

"How is the depression hitting you?"

"Boss, hit aint no depression; hits a inmpression".

"What do you mean by impression, John?"

"Well, hits like dis, Boss. Ise an old porter and dey sends me out on dese special trips, and I sees folks playin' jes as much poker for high stakes, stoppin' at jes as high priced hotels, and eatin' jes as spensive meals as ever, yet dey talk all de time 'bout what you call "Depression", and I say hit aint nothin' but "Impression"."

"Well, whatever it is, John, what is causing it?"

"Plussage, Boss; nothin' but Plussage."

"What do you mean by Plussage?"

"Well, Boss, hits like dis. I got a job, I got a wife and two chillen, and we all got good health, plenty to eat and a home to live in. Now, Cap'n, aint dat all de Lawd ever intended we should have—Health—Food—Raiment and Shelter?"

I replied: "Yes John, I guess you are right. But what is causing the "Depression" or "Impression" as you call it?"

"'Taint nothin' but Plussage and Ise gittin' 'roun' to splain dat cordin' to de way I sees hit. Hits dis way—and de nigger and white man is jes alike 'bout hit. Health, food, raiment and shelter aint never caused anybody any trouble and dey is all in de Bible, but we has all been tryin' to high hat each other, even tryin' to high hat de Lawd. We has been reachin' out for stocks, bonds, high-powered automobiles; ev'y neighborhood high hattin' de ôther to get finer lookin' schools, ev'y domination high 'hattin' each other to get more expensive churches. Poor man's sons and daughters tryin' to keep up wid de rich man's. All dis, Cap'n, is what I call 'Plussage'—and you don't find nothin' 'bout dem in de Bible; hits jes 'Plussage', and when we got to high hattin' each other an' den began to high hat God Almighty, he jes reach in de heavenly tool ches', took out a scythe and cut our high silk hats down to a skull cap, an' dats 'bout all we is entitled to wear. Yes sir, Boss, we ain't lost nothin' but 'Plussage'!"

This is so good that I cannot refrain from passing it along, believing that others will get as much enjoyment and good out of it as I have. I don't believe we are going to get out of this depression until the public generally, realizes that there "aint no more 'Plussage'" and we all shape our course accordingly. This applies to the private citizen and his activities, the corporation, the municipality and the nation, all alike.

Yours truly,
"TRAVELLER"

Another Citizen Replies to Norcross

To the Editor:

Sir: May I, with your permission, briefly discuss a few paragraphs from the letter of Mr. John Norcross appearing in this column on February 23, and I shall begin with the opening sentence. He writes: "It was with mixed feelings of surprise and amusement that I read the letter of "Another Citizen" who operates in the dark and should be ignored.".

Now may I say that the contempt expressed for one "who operates in the dark and should be ignored" is not at all consistent with the "amusement" he professes to feel. It reminds me of the little girl who once told me "My papa gets awful cross when he reads anything that amuses him very much." May I also remind Mr. Norcross that in this debate he is himself, the aggressor. In the first letter I did not even remotely refer to him in any way whatever. But he chose to deliver a sledge hammer blow at my unfortunate suggestions in which he intimated that the English language had no words to express his contempt for my theories. A blow from the shoulder always justifies one in return and the one I gave back had no more power behind it than the one I received. Mr. Norcross could well have ignored me from the beginning and having struck the first blow he has no right to squeal if he is hit.

I admire the boldness and assurance of Mr. Norcross and others who write above their own signatures and seem proud of what they have written. But the public, especially one's immediate friends, are too likely to impute wrong motives to anyone who appears too often in print. Without intending any reference to Mr. Norcross I have heard too many coarse jokes about "crowing cocks" and "braying jackasses" to have my name appearing in the daily press at the end of tiresome letters to the editor which nobody reads except to enjoy "mixed feelings of surprise and amusement" at the expense of the writer whose name may be attached.

But since Mr. Norcross opened the rebate by expressing a very adverse opinion of all my theories and suggestions he has no cause to complain if by way of return I furnish him with a little more "amusement." Mr. Norcross builds his theories on foundations that are longer, broader and deeper than the whole world of reality and then he jumps at ideal conclusions that are as far removed from this rough old world as the moon itself.

One illustration of the many that might be drawn from his remarkable letter, he says: "The greatest problem facing the farmer today is how he is going to keep out of the bread line himself." Now just what are the facts. I have before me the December issue of the "Country Guide" an agricultural paper published in Winnipeg. From this I learn that 55 per cent of the farmers in the three prairie provinces are entirely free of mortgage indebtedness and that the average mortgage indebtedness of the remaining 45 per cent is $3,139, or about 25 per cent of the value of the stock, implements and mortgaged farms. The total mortgage indebtedness on farms in the three prairie provinces is $346,154,600 and this is less than the value of a good crop at normal prices. As eighty-five per cent of the farmers own their farms, the farmers are still a long way from approaching the bread line themselves.

Mr. Norcross is just as wide of reality when he speaks of: "The vast wealth which a kind munificent providence has supplied." There is no vast store of wealth in Canada fresh from the hand of providence inviting us to occupy and enjoy. The fields, fisheries, forests and mines demand their full equivalent in toil, labor and sorrow ere they yield their treasures, grudgingly, to human skill and labor. What we are unwilling to wrest from nature we must get by robbery, violence, taxation or communistic propaganda and in my judgement the last method is fraught with the most labor, sorrow and dissapaintment.

This is, I judge, enough "amusement" for Mr. Norcross, for the present. I would suggest, however, a little improvement in his manner of solving humanity's problems. Let him find some better way of lifting the dark clouds of depression than by stirring up our esteemed friend Mr. J. C. Harris who at each prompting simply runs off to a bee-hive and warbles poetry. Poetry may be divine but facts, figures and common sense would do more to solve our present problems.'

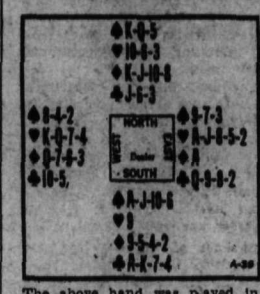
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority MILTON C. WORK

A WELL PLAYED HAND



The above hand was played in a tournament at Youngstown, Ohio, held in November, 1932. The bidding was about as varied as the limited number of four tables permitted; and the high score was obtained by Walter J. Roberts of Cleveland (who played the South hand at four spades), by a combination of overbold bidding by North and South who were not vulnerable, added to good playing and good luck.

The play developed some trying moments for declarer. West led the king and then a second heart, and South's first problem was the question of trumping the second trick. He knew, however, that if he held off, a third heart would be led and then he would have to ruff as he could not afford to let the adversaries take three hearts in addition to the one diamond which they were sure to win. Consequently South ruffed West's second heart lead.

Having used one of South's four trumps for ruffing, and foreseeing that he must use another for a similar purpose, declarer's only salvation lay in there being an equa. division of six adverse trumps. To trick 3 South led the deuce of diamonds and North played the 10 when West played small. The ace took the trick and a third round of hearts (a question-ble lead) was ruffed by South. The ace of trumps was led to trick 5, after which dummy's two high trumps won two tricks, and the adverse trumps were extracted.

Had declarer found the six adverse trumps divided 4-2 as was probable, things would have gone badly with him; but he was in a desperate situation and had to take desperate chances. He breathed much easier when he realized that the luck of the distribution was with him.

After the trumps were out of the way South was put in with a high club to lead the nine of diamonds. West played small and North played the eight which left South in the lead for a third diamond finesse. This also resulted successfully so the declarer in the end took five trump tricks (two with ruffs), three diamonds, and two clubs; and thus secured a well earned game.

Dislikes Idea of Woman Strawboss in U. S. Department

To the editor:

Sir—While the private affairs of President-elect Roosevelt's official family is nobody's business, and despite the fact that I attribute my downfall to not attending to my own business, I feel constrained in the interests of American manhood, to protest against a woman being straw-boss of the department of labor at Washington.

While it is true that we free-born British subjects have at times submitted to matriarchy, these dames have always been free from entangling alliances. Our own Mary Ellen was a demure and comely widow, who never cast a googoo eye, even at Tom Uphill. Canada's sweetheart, our little Agnes from Huron and Bruce, is a sedate and seasoned spinster, who attends strictly to her knitting and has ruthlessly rubbed out the "man" in romance. Even Margaret Bondfield of the first Labor government in Britain never had sheik trouble or lost any sleep about "where is my wandering boy tonight?"

While I salute the new secretary of labor, my heartfelt sympathy goes out to the little guy in the drab background whose only claim to greatness is that he is merely Miss Frances E. Perkins' husband. Just imagine, fellow-sufferers, having everything in your wife's maiden name. So let all us mere males arise as one hen-pecked husband, grab the cow by the horns and demand our rights. If women are to take social precedence according to the importance of their husbands' jobs, a husband must be given the same social recognition as is accorded his wife by virtue of her official importance.

We men must not stand idly by and see Mr. Wilson (age, creed, color and previous condition of servitude unknown) given the bum's rush socially, like that handed to the husband of Mrs. Dolly Gann. It will be recalled that Dolly, as sister and official hostess of the vice-president, created beaucoup heart-burning and strife by claiming a seat near the head of the table and making it stick, whereas old man Gann, if he could get away from his job of keeping the home fires burning, had to sit at the foot with the poor relations and the less important bootleggers. Our most precious hallucination, ye lords of creation, is on the spot and if we falter now, boys, the cheese is off.

MUSICAL NOTES

By MRS. T. J. S. FERGUSON

The British Broadcasting Corporation has won considerable approbation by its act in commissioning Sir Edward Edgar, to write a Symphony to celebrate his seventy-fifth year.

This outstanding and typical English musician is a man of many parts. Beside being an organist of the first class, he is also a violinist of no little merit. He played in Worcester orchestra as a boy, and it was soon evidenced that he was a born orchestral writer. In fact he was the first English musician to write for the modern orchestra with virtuosity" says Richard Capell a leading London music critic. Being English, he naturally was also a choral composer. The music of his "Gerontius" has proven irresistible—"like a sudden spell of heat in a tardy spring." His symphonies and a violin concert (dedicated to Kreisler) are perhaps some of the most supremely beautiful things in music. English romantic music owes much to the splendor of Sir Edward Edgar's compositions.

The "British Musician" gives us some interesting information regarding music in Soviet Russia. We read: "The government looks after music in Russia. Jazz records are forbidden. Music is provided for the work-people by means of opera and symphony concerts and the worker's clubs. The opera and concerts are practically free.

The official attention to music in Russia is determined by the slogan "Art for Life's sake" in contrast to the phrase "Art for Art's sake". Vulgar music of every description is taboo. The children are not allowed to hear it; and there are no films of the "Krazy Kat" type. Pictures dealing with sex subjects have to be clean morally and rid of that immoral suggestion which is the chief feature of many films exhibited all over this continent".

• • •

The difficulty which audiences generally have in hearing the words of choirs and vocalists brings to light the opinion of a prominent vocal artist of today. It runs "Reading aloud will help most towards efficiency in making the words carry to the listener." He says again "Let anyone read over the words of a song, not once or twice, but half a dozen times and then sing them."

De Quincy tells us that nothing will help strengthen the throat and voice so much as judicious reading. Lady Martin (Helen Faucit) says "The quickest method of obtaining resonance in singing is to read more, so the lip muscles get more frequent use and enunciate the consonants with a sharper delivery of tone."

• • •

Rachmaninoff, Russian composer and concert pianist, whose fame at 60 years of age grows greater each year, made a recent remark which may be of interest to budding musicians. He says "I am a great believer in scales and arpeggios. What is there to excel them? When you can play them well, you can study with the proper technical background."

Rachmaninoff's recent success in San Francisco is described thus by the S. F. Call-Bulletin "Sergi Rachmaninoff, at the Opera house, played such a concert that at the close the capacity audience arose as one unit and shouted bravos that resounded to the dome of the auditorium. And when the stately dean of the piano disappeared into the wings, few would have disputed his right to "the peer of them all". Amazement at the technique of Rachmaninoff became a kind of hypnosis. The audience succumbed to a spell in which it knew that grandeur was being made audible."

SNOW SURFACE ON ROADS NOW BREAKING UP

Plows Are Working Nelson-Kaslo, Nelson-South Slocan

While public works crews were shovelling out the remnants of the two slides at Clearwater, between Apex and the Golden Age, Friday afternoon, District Engineer Ramsay was in receipt of reports from various sources indicating that the hard snow surface of the highways throughout the district was beginning to break up, in consequence of the thaw and rains.

CARS CUT THROUGH

Busses, trucks and heavy cars were beginning to break through, it was reported, and in the case of Taghum hill, the department lent assistance Friday morning to a Greyhound bus that had got stuck on the top of the hill.

Now that the snow surface is beginning to yield, Mr. Ramsay is in hopes it will go soon, while the ground is still frozen, so that the two break-ups will not overlap.

Snowslides of the last couple of days include a new one on Sheep creek, on the lower side of the Motherlode mill, covering the road at the same point at which it was blocked by the slide of two weeks ago. It came down Wednesday. As this slide has not been reported to the public works department, it is presumed that the Reno has a crew shovelling it out.

The Clearwater slides, which came down Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, were finally cleared Friday afternoon, and the Nelson-Nelway highway reopened to traffic.

CLEAR NEW SNOW

New wet snow fell all Thursday night and most of Friday, and the Reno rotary plow, which was taken from Nelson to the slides Thursday, cleared the new snowfall in the Apex area Friday afternoon, first going back as far as the Perrier mine, and then proceeding through the newly opened slide section as far as the Golden Age. It stopped there for the night, and will go on today to Salmo.

Snow plowing is also taking place on the Nelson-Kaslo highway, between Queens Bay and Coffee creek, the Laird creek camp crew working in conjunction with the plow. This will go on for several days.

Meanwhile Queens Bay men are working on the mud slide at that point, which is still flowing, though the road is open.

The other Nelson plow was engaged Friday and will be today, between Nelson and South Slocan.

WALL STREET HOLDS GAINS

Spirited Rally in Finance Markets; Loses Interest About Noon

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Most financial markets rallied with some spirit today, thus carrying along the advance of late Thursday. Shares and commodities were more buoyant than bonds, which showed a small average net loss, but a number of good recoveries occurred in that market.

Stocks found a substantial backlog of short covering from which to draw buying orders. Repurchasing by erstwhile speculators for the decline reached its peak in the second hour when one of those sharp run-ups that resulted from a sudden scramble to cover took place.

A relatively short time was needed to push leaders 1 to nearly 5 points higher; but by noon interest had waned and the list lost half of its rise, thereafter holding rather steadily. Final quotations represented 1 to 3 point net gains.

Strength was generally attributed to expectations of developments in Washington where it was known the financial situation was being studied by both the incoming and the outgoing administrations. Professional traders apparently felt it advisable to assume conservative positions in advance of the inauguration, presumably on the theory steps would be taken to strengthen confidence. It was said an early session of the new congress could be expected. Sales totalled 1,493,480 shares.

MINING MARKET SLUMPS HEAVILY

Climb in Canadian Dollar Brings Reaction

TORONTO, March 3 (CP)—The gold mining share market which has thrived in recent months on the weakness of the Canadian dollar in New York, turned sick today when the dollar recovered sharply. Standard mining exchange issues slumped automatically as the premium on U.S. funds faded, losses extending to 1.75 in the cases of Noranda and McIntyre.

The market opened quite steady and when the rally struck the Wall street market around 10 o'clock Nickel and Noranda both advanced about 60 cents but the rise was cut short by the pick up in Canadian funds. Nickel sagged to 8.30, off 10, Noranda to $21, off 1.75 while Falconbridge, closing at 2.36, was off 8.

SMALL LOSSES ON BOND MARKET

Give Spirited Rally in Early Performance

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) —The bond market gave a rather spirited rally performance today but, in the final summing-up, it was found many net gains had been whittled down or transformed into small losses.

The reversal of the recent trend was generally attributed to reports Washington authorities were preparing to take drastic action in solving various outlying banking problems. Sales totalled $14,674,000, par value.

The utilities, as a group made the best showing of the day.

WHEAT SOARS THREE CENTS

Spectacular Upturns Unrivalled in Months at Chicago

By JOHN P. DOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP).—In spectacular price upturns unrivalled in many months, wheat today soared almost three cents a bushel.

Big purchase orders attributed to eastern sources started the wheat market skyward. Successive waves of general buying followed fast and were attributed largely to widespread expectance. President-elect Roosevelt's inaugural address tomorrow would prove constructive, and that the new administration at Washington would take the government out of the grain business.

Despite late setbacks on account of increased selling to realize profits, wheat closed buoyant, 1¾ to 2 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 1⅛ to 1⅜ up, oats ¼ to ⅜ advanced, and provisions unchanged to 28 cents higher from the outset.

Stock Prices Lower as Dollar Is Higher

Nickel Gains in Heavy Turnover

TORONTO, March 3 (AP)—A rise of two cents in the Canadian dollar in New York was reflected in lower prices on the Toronto stock exchange today. Interlisted shares took on a cheerful appearance when the New York rally got under way in the Market's second hour but the local tune was changed quickly when the Canadian dollar began to climb, thus reducing the premium on United States funds.

Opening slightly weak, industrial shares, especially the interlisteds, recovered. International Nickel climbing to 8¾ before the sell-off started. Nickel was the only stock of the group to show a gain at the end of the day. It was up ⅛ at 8¾ while Brazilian and Ford "A" were unchanged at 7⅛ and 6 respectively, C.P.R. was off ¾ and Consolidated Smelters was down ⅛ at 56⅛. The turnover in Nickel was heavy.

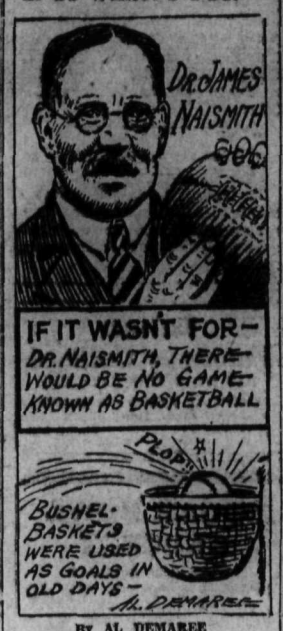
IF IT WASN'T FOR—



By AL DEMAREE

If it wasn't for—

Dr. James Naismith—there would be no basketball today. He conceived the game in the winter of 1891-92, Springfield college, where he was a teacher.

The game in its infancy was just what its name implies. Cane bushel baskets and when those were not handy, all kinds of baskets were used to toss the ball in.

Later the net "baskets" in use today were introduced.

During the past 25 years basketball has became America's most popular indoor game. Literally millions of boys, girls, young men and women are playing it.

While the game is still essentially an amateur one it has been introduced professionally with considerable success.

Jack Worthington beat R. Bush 300-174 to erase some of the lead compiled by the Gelinas players in past games with the Legion team members.

The game Friday night was played at the Legion. Although making the highest break of the game, 31, Bush could not get going. Worthington made breaks of 18, 27, 12, 13 and 11. The Gelinas team is 130 points in the lead with 1290 points to the Legion's 1152.

BURST IN WHEAT FUTURE TRADING

Close Is Off From High Point of Day

WINNIPEG, March 3 (CP).—Quiescent for some time, trading in wheat futures burst out in the liveliest splurge of activity in weeks on the Winnipeg grain market today. Boosted by bullish enthusiasm from Chicago, prices, at one period as high as 1½ cents above the previous close, closed a hectic session ¾ to ⅞ cent higher.

Earlier bullish enthusiasm cooled near the close and May delivery, easing half a cent from the day's top, finished at 48½, July 49⅛ to 49⅝, and October 50¾ cents.

Rumors the United States farm board would stay out of stabilization operations and prospects of a constructive inaugural speech by President-elect Roosevelt started an avalanche of buying orders rolling in the Chicago grain pit. This was quickly felt here and shorts scurried to cover as values pyramided.

C. N. R. GROSS EARNINGS OFF

MONTREAL, March 3 (CP) — Gross earnings of Canadian National railways for the week ending February 26, were $2,224,718 as compared with $3,107,766 for the corresponding period of 1932, a decrease of $883,048.

JONES REACHES SHUTTLE FINAL

Winnipeg Master Sensational; Meets Grant of Kingston

MONTREAL, March 3 (CP).—Tall, bespectacled Charlie Jones of Winnipeg, long a technical master o fevery badminton stroke, smashed his way to the final round for the Canadian singles championship here tonight with a fire to his attack that always had been missing when he needed it most.

The five-times champion who fell in the semi-finals of the last three Dominion tournaments, blasted T. B. Hayle, Oakville, Ont., star, from competition with astonishing ease to qualify for the final tomorrow when he faces Douglas Grant of Kingston, Ont.

Jones' sensational exhibition featured tonight's semi-final matches as finalists in five divisions emerged for title battles. He won in straight games, 15-6, 15-1, overwhelming Hayle with an assortment of smashes, cuts and drop shots that baffled the Oakville player.

A year ago Jones was on the verge of the finals but lost a brilliant duel to Jack Underhill, veteran Vancouver player who went on to the title. Underhill did not defend his championship this year.

Men's semi-finals:

C. L. Jones, Winnipeg, beat T. B. Hayle, Oakville, 15-6, 15-1.

D. Grant, Kingston, beat G. S. Challies, Montreal, 15-7, 15-2.

Women's singles:

Miss Ruth Robertson, Ottawa, beat Miss D. Mowat, Montreal, 15-6, 15-1.

Miss A. Boivin, Quebec, beat Miss N. Crossley, Oakville, 15-4, 7-15, 15-9.

Women's doubles semi-finals:

Mrs. E. W. Whittington and Miss N. Crossley, Oakville, Ont., beat Misses D. and L. Mowat, Montreal, 15-10, 10-15, 17-16.

Misses Ruth and Margaret Robertson, Ottawa, beat Misses M. Delage and A. Boivin, Quebec, 15-12, 15-6.

W. MACFARLANE TIES ESPINOSA

Jules Is Single Canadian Florida Open Golf Tournament

MIAMI, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Al Espinosa, veteran Akron, Ohio, golfing sharpshooter, tripped on a seven-foot putt today—despite the six-inch cups accepted by Gene Sarazen in his battle for eight inch cups—and took a 67 to tie Willie MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N.Y., another veteran timer, for first day honors in the 72-hole $5000 Florida year round club open golf tournament.

The event, first major tournament to be played with the larger cups, drew a Canadian entry in long hitting Jules Hout of Quebec. Jules went along evenly, carding a pair of 37s for a 74 that put him in the circle looked on to develop the ultimate winner.

Immediately behind the hot-footing pace-makers was a trio of 68s represented by Johnny Revolta, youngster from Menominee, Mich. Eddie Hassman, Miami, and the veteran Charlie Guest of Deal, N.J.

Gene Sarazen, British and United States open champion, was behind the leaders with a slow 72. He gave ground to Otto Dutra of Santa Monica, Calif., who had a 33-37—70 to land behind a half a dozen 69s.

The six-inch cup proved a life saver to many of the professionals. Of the 96 who started 25 per cent were below the regular par of the course, which is 35-36—71.

EARLY GAIN WIPED OUT

MONTREAL, March 3 (CP)—Prices expanded on the Montreal stock exchange today, leading issues gaining sizeable fractions, but the buoyancy was short-lived and the list closed with an easy tone. In several issues early gains were wiped out entirely and in most cases reduced.

The trading was largely in Canadian Pacific, International Nickel and Montreal Power. The rail issue fell back to its opening figure, 10¼, for a net loss of ⅛. Nickel lost all of its half-point advance, closing unchanged at 8¼. Brazilian held on to its ⅜ gain at 7⅞. Consolidated Smelters was a weak factor and lost 3½, closing at 56.

Basketball Problems

By NAT HOLMAN

Star Player, Coach and Author of "Winning Basketball"

Question—What is your opinion of the practice of pairing players on the offensive?

Answer—I think it decidedly good basketball to have two men pair up to make plays for each other. Two men who have become accustomed to each other's style of game and understand without previous planning when the other is attempting to work a play, can make a very dangerous scoring unit. This can be done very effectively without being detrimental to team play.

C. P. R. TRAFFIC RECEIPTS OFF

MONTREAL, March. 3 (CP) — Traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific railway for the week ended February 28 were reported today as $1,837,000, compared with $2,617,000 for the corresponding period of 1932, a decrease of $780,000.

BRALORNE LEAPS TO A NEW HIGH

Several Other Precious Metals Trade Heavily

VANCOUVER, March 3 (CP).—Sensational activity in Bralorne Gold which bounded upward to a new high mark, featured trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today. Reacting to the leader's activity several of the other precious metals and base metals issues were traded heavily with prices generally firmer.

Bralorne opening at $2.30, its closing quotation of the previous session, climbed rapidly to a peak of $2.30 for the movement and closed at $2.24 for a net gain of four above yesterday's close. Over 10,000 shares changed hands during the day.

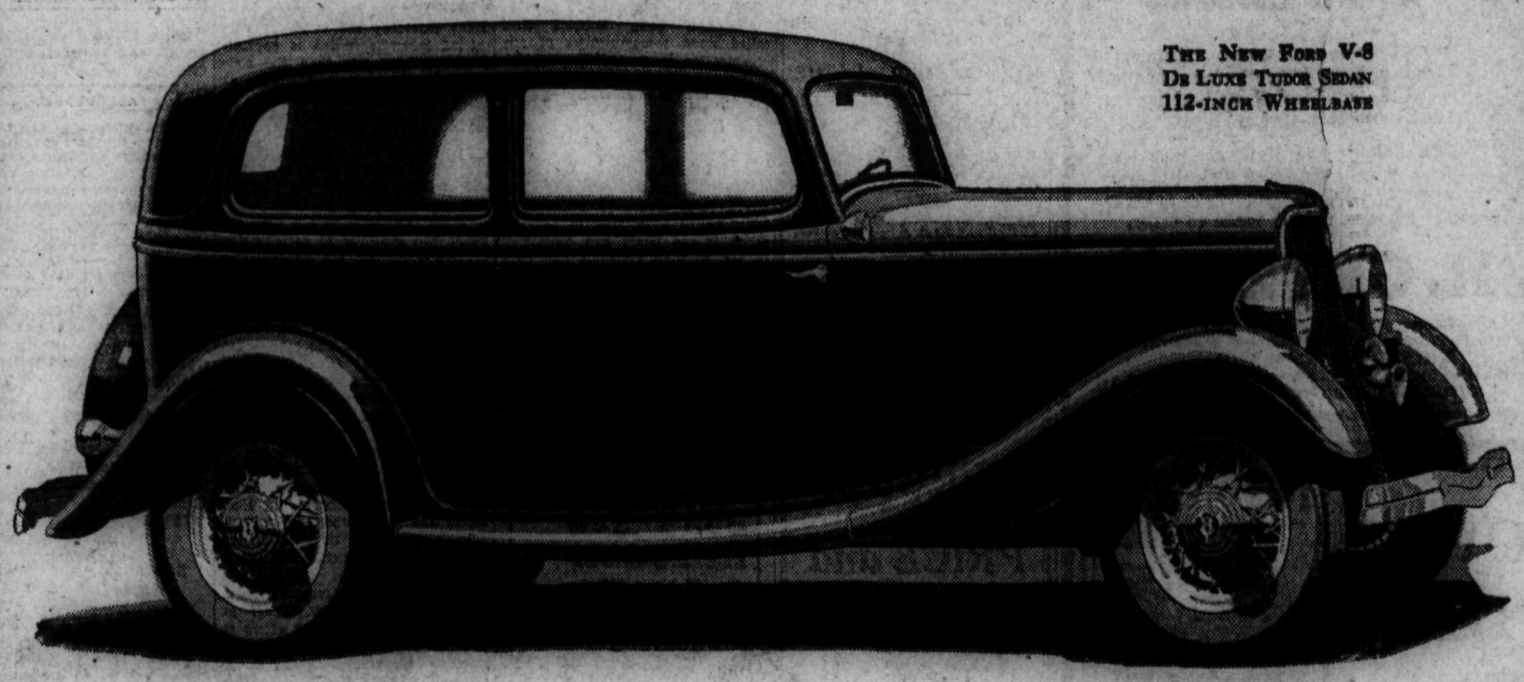
NEW FORD V-8 ON DISPLAY TODAY



THE longer, wider, more powerful New Ford V-8 is here! Today it is on display at the showrooms of dealers in this city. Today it introduces a new style of beauty, a new standard of comfort and a new pace in performance at a low price.

When you see the New Ford V-8 you will be particularly impressed by its size and attractive appearance. For it's a big car in every sense of the word, with 112-inch wheelbase and unusual interior room—the largest, most comfortable automobile at a truly low price. Its graceful streamlines express the newest, latest mode in motor car designing.

In mechanical design, as in size and body lines, the New Ford V-8 reveals much that is new and distinctive. No single feature is of greater importance to motorists than the V-type, eight-cylinder, 75-horsepower engine. It is a remarkable engineering achievement because it combines eight-cylinder smoothness and flexibility with low cost of operation and up-keep.

Ford "The Canadian Car"

An important factor in this low operating cost is a new quality feature—the all-aluminum cylinder head. This costlier metal is used because it dissipates heat rapidly, permits higher compression and results in increased speed, power, acceleration and smoothness, with greater fuel economy.

The development of this all-aluminum cylinder head and the one-piece casting of the cylinder block, exhaust passages and crankcase are among the most noteworthy advances in motor car building in recent years. They are typical of the high quality and advanced design of the entire car.

All New Ford V-8 cars have the new skirted fenders, new headlamps, new instrument panel directly in front of driver, adjustable driver's seat and a safety-glass windshield. All are furnished in a choice of rich body colors. All come equipped with five one-piece steel-spoke wheels. De Luxe cars have two tail lights and two matched-tone horns. De Luxe closed body types have safety glass throughout, cowl lights, arm rests in the rear compartment and a choice of luxurious Broadcloth or Mohair upholstery. Colored wheels are optional on all De Luxe types.

LONGER, WIDER, ROOMIER
MORE POWERFUL
ALL-ALUMINUM CYLINDER HEAD

112-inch wheelbase. Striking body lines and colors. Steel bodies. Double-channel, double-drop, X-type frame. Smooth-running V-type eight-cylinder engine; 75 horsepower. Engine cushioned in live rubber. Remarkable acceleration. Over 80 miles per hour. Unusual oil and fuel economy. Automatic spark control. Silent second speed. Silent, synchronized gear shift. Fully counterbalanced 65-pound crankshaft. Aluminum pistons. Down-draft carburetor, with silencer. Torque-tube drive. Three-quarter floating rear axle. Straddle-mounted rear-axle driving pinion. Safe, reliable four-wheel mechanical brakes, fully enclosed. New riding comfort because of the exclusive Ford-designed transverse cantilever springs, properly controlled by four double-acting, self-adjusting shock absorbers, with thermostatic control.

GENERAL CHETWODE IS PROMOTED

LONDON, March 3 (CP cable).—General Sir Philip Chetwode, commander of the 2nd cavalry division in 1915-16 and of the 20th army corps which captured Jerusalem in 1918, was today appointed a field-marshal in succession to the late Field-marshal Robertson.

JOHN STEWART DIES, NELSON

Resident of Trail and Nelson for 23 Years

John Stewart, a resident of Nelson and Trail for approximately 23 years, died Wednesday evening at the age of 77 years.

Mr. Stewart was born in Montague, Prince Edward Island, and came to Nelson as C.P.R. carpenter. He was in the employ of the C.P.R. for 15 years and since leaving the company he has continued carpentry work in both Trail and Nelson, where he was well known.

Mr. Stewart was a member of the Orange lodge, having joined the order 50 years ago in Montague.

He is survived by a brother and sister in Prince Edward Island and Sunday the body will be shipped to the place of his birth for burial. Besides his brother and sister he leaves a daughter, Mrs. D. E. McDaniel of Pendleton, Ore., a son Charles of Nelson and 10 grand children. Mrs. McDaniel was called to Nelson at the death of her father.

GREEN FRONT TO BECOME GARAGE

Building for Present Year Amounts to $1285

Repairs and redecorating in the Thurman estate, the building housing Smythe's Pharmacy, amounting to $400 and remodelling of the stone building on Josephine street at a cost of $150, constitute practically all the repair and building jobs for which permits have been issued during the past few weeks. The total building done in the city since the first of the year amounts to $1285. The remodelling mentioned above is being done at the old Green Front cigar store, which is being turned into a garage.

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES ARE PARED $12,064 FOR THE YEAR, FIGURES GO TO CITY COUNCIL

A. Browne of Parent-Teacher Association Expresses Wish for Harmony; Chairman Notman Says Saving Through Sacrifices by Teachers

Estimates for the operation of Nelson schools for the year 1933 tabled and adopted Friday night by the school board total $59,813.27. Compared with figures of $71,878.25 for 1932 they are $12,064.98 less than last year. Estimates this year are pared down by the sum of $981.33 which was carried forward as a surplus over operating expenses for last year. The estimates were ordered accepted and turned over to the city council for consideration at their meeting on Monday night.

Following are the figures presented by F. L. Irwin, secretary, to the board Friday night, showing a comparison with figures for 1932:

Total estimates 1932		$96,328.25
Less receipts	$24,450.00
Total estimates 1932		$71,878.25
Estimates 1933		$85,749.80
Less estimated receipts	$24,955.20
Less surplus for 1932	981.33
Total estimates 1933		$59,813.27

Adoption of the estimates followed a lengthy address from Chairman John Notman and the reading of the report published on Thursday last in The Nelson Daily News from the school board. Mr. Irwin's report in full outlined the board's proposals for hte year which were as follows;

"Continue both home economics and commercial classes at junior high to preserve rating.

"Reduce junior high teaching staff from 12 to 11.

"Retain junior high as at present in prefernce to splitting it up between high and elementary schools.

"Retain principalship of junior high as at present."

Figures in savings, etc., were published on Thursday last.

Chairman John Notman then called upon representatives of any organization to speak if they wished. A. Browne, president of the Nelson Parent-Teacher association took the floor.

Mr. Browne stated that the Parent-Teacher association had read the recommendation of the board finance committee but they had hoped there would be some statement as to acceptance or not. He asked if the board had considered it. Mr. Notman stated it had been considered.

E. P. Dawson—The finance committee is the majority of the board. The recommendation can therefore be considered as the recommendation of the board.

Mr. Notman— The reason the board is taking this stand is because it was agreed not to settle until we heard the viewpoint of the ratepayers.

Mr. Browne—Then it is safe to assume the agreement is accepted. Many of us agreed to proposals made by The Nelson Daily News. In the interval many of us were in touch with your good selves. Our association is only too glad to co-operate with the school board. If this matter is opened later we are only too glad to cooperate.

THANKS P.T.A.

Mr. Notman then thanked Mr. Browne and the P.T.A. He assured him that the board wished to co-operate in any difficulty that may arise in regard to school affairs. The board had worked long and hard in an attempt to find out what was best for the schools and the citizens. He commended the board for the way it had handled things and that any prejudice had been laid aside.

He wished to tell the ratepayers that there were several interests and viewpoints to consider and all that was asked was that the ratepayers would be reasonable and considerate. If there were difficulties in reference to school affairs, or if ratepayers wished any discussion they were welcome to that privilege. He believed the board deserved every credit.

Mr. Notman stated he admired The Nelson Daily News to a certain extent. Viewpoints of others must be considered or the board would be prejudiced. He did not agree with figures used in the paper as figures could be handled in many ways. People could be fooled by figures. He declared there were various viewpoints to be considered before real figures could be arrived at.

He would like, however, to impress upon the public that the board wished not only good working for the schools but full value for education given to the children. Through the children, he believed would come the best for the future in Nelson. He urged consideration from parents and ratepayers.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

Mr. Notman then read the covering letter which would be sent to the Nelson city council with the board's estimates. It was:

"Owing to the unfortunate circumstances through which we are passing, and the incessant cry for economy, the board thinks it advisable to make the following statement regarding the estimates submitted herewith, which is approximately $11,000 less than the estimates for 1932 and includes an extra $1000 of an expenditure on the health activities of the school board over last year, so that it is equivalent to the reduction of approximately $12,000 over last year, and is $9500 less than the expenditure of last year.

"I am instructed to say that the board will continue to exercise due caution regarding the expenditures for this year to make whatever saving is possible on these estimates."

Mr. Notman emphasized that the board had come to its conclusions through hard work. The saving had been worked out from the viewpoint of everyone. The board was trying to keep the schools in the best shape possible. The reduction of $11,000 was mostly in reduction of salaries. There was $1000 less in health expense than last year. He thought health work was commendable. The total saving would then be in the neighborhood of $12,000.

In closing Mr. Notman offered thanks for the presence and interest shown by the citizens. He thanked all for the response made, especially the teachers. They, he stated, had made a great effort to keep the schools efficient at a sacrifice to themselves. Then E. P. Dawson named adoption of the finance committee's report and it was passed by the board.
