RUSSIA PROTESTS TO JAPAN OVER PLANES

FRANCO'S TROOPS SWEEP INTO LA RAPITA

STRONG GOV'T. RESISTANCE AT RIVER WEAKENS BEFORE ADVANCE

Insurgent Columns in North Move Nearer French Border

MANY CONTINUE FLEE TO FRANCE

HENDAYE, France, April 11 (AP)—Spanish insurgents striving to open a direct way to Barcelona today swept into La Rapita, controlling important crossroads in Lerida province.

La Rapita is a short distance east of Balaguer, 14 miles northeast of the city of Lerida.

Fierce government resistance which disrupted the insurgent crossing of the Segre river at Balaguer yesterday diminished as General Franco's forces pushed east.

Dogged bands of militiamen still clung to mountain positions, however, making clean-up operations necessary to protect flanks of the advancing columns.

With La Rapita, the heights commanding Balaguer on the east were taken, putting that city outside the range of government bombardments.

In the north, Franco's columns were drawing steadily nearer the French border from Tremp.

Refugees continued to flock into France, bearing on their backs what personal effects they could.

Heavy Damage in Southern Floods

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 11 (AP)—Flood waters receded in the southern United States today baring thousands of dollars damage to crops and property while Georgia counted 13 dead, Alabama two and Mississippi two from rampaging streams.

In Alabama efforts were concentrated on aiding 3000 evicted by high water. L. A. Edmonson estimated crop damage from floods in the Montgomery area alone would amount from $70,000 to $80,000. General planting operations were slowed by the rains of last week.

HITLER'S NEXT MOVES WORRY WORLD NATIONS

BERLIN, April 11 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler's next step was debated tonight in the wake of the greatest vote of confidence ever accorded him.

His creation of a greater Germany by annexation of Austria March 13 drew approval of more than 99 per cent of the nearly 50,000,000 persons who voted in Sunday's plebiscite.

Germans speculated whether he would be inspired to take rapid action on other Nazi "unfinished" business.

Issues seen as particularly pressing in this connection were:

1. The minority problem of the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia.

2. Reunion with Germany of former German territory, such as Memel, now a part of Lithuania, and the Polish corridor with the free city of Danzig.

STRIKERS DOUBLE AS PARIS GOV'T. SEEKS A 3-MONTH RULE BY DECREES

Strikes Said to Be in Protest of Blum's Resignation

NEARLY 130,000 NOW ON STRIKE

PARIS, April 11 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier, determined to strike before opposition could be consolidated against him, drew up a revised plan today to obtain for his "national defence" cabinet sole power over France's destiny for the next three months.

As the new premier worked on his program, spreading strikes paralyzed the metal industries in the Paris region despite his appeal for discipline. Workers from a dozen large factories joined some 60,000 strikers already out, swelling the total to nearly 130,000.

Leaders of the strike, which up to tonight had closed nearly 150 factories including a number of nationalized plants working on national defence projects, appealed to workers in other industries to join the movement. The Renault automobile motor plant was occupied by its 35,000 workers.

Edmonton Jobless May Join Strikers

CALGARY, April 11 (CP)—Offer of Edmonton's unemployed to call a sympathetic strike will be considered by the Calgary Unemployed Married Men's association at a meeting tonight

For the first time since the strike started, pickets were on the job today.

ROOSEVELT PUTS RAIL PROBLEMS UP TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — President Roosevelt today told congress, in effect, to figure out for itself how to cure the ills of $21,000,000,000 railroad network of the United States.

He refrained from sending many recommendations of his own as he delivered a mass of recommendations from his advisers. He suggested it would be the part of "common sense" to consolidate the seven federal agencies dealing with transportation into two, one handling executive functions, and the other all activities of a judicial, or legislative character.

He declared it was "more important for all of us to cooperate in preventing serious bankruptcies among a large number of railroad companies, great and small," He said immediate legislation was necessary pending formulation of a "permanent program."

BRITAIN SEEKING RECOGNITION OF ROMAN EMPIRE BY THE LEAGUE

Asks Ethiopia Matter Be Considered at Next Meeting

FRANCE TO LINE UP WITH ITALY?

LONDON, April 11 (AP) — Great Britain laid the groundwork today for a new friendship with Italy. She showed her willingness to recognize the conquest of Ethiopia against which in 1935 she played a leading part in League of Nation's 52-country boycott of Italy.

Recognition of Italy's African victory is one of the chief terms of the Anglo-Italian friendship agreement being drafted in Rome.

Without waiting for formal signing of the pact, the United Kingdom government asked the League to put the question of Ethiopia on the agenda of the League council meeting opening May 9.

That will be the second anniversary of Italy's annexation of the country.

Britain intends to request that the League free its members of the pledge not to recognize the results of the Italian conquest.

Jackie Coogan to Sue Mother for $4,000,000 Assets

LOS ANGELES, April 11 (AP)—Jackie Coogan, the "Kid" of the silent screen, filed suit against his mother and stepfather, demanding they turn over to him $4,000,000 worth of property and assets he earned as a film star.

Coogan, now 23, set forth that he was "virtually broke", dependent upon his small earnings in occasional pictures. His mother, he charged, was under the undue influence of her present husband, Arhur L. Bernstein.

Coogan's father was killed in an automobile crash in 1935. Jackie was married recently to Betty Grable, film acress. Superior Judge Emmet Wilson appointed a temporary receiver for Coogan's assets and those of his mother and Bernstein and set April 20 as date for a hearing.

Lanctot Named In New Warrant

QUEBEC, April 11 (CP)— The little old man who resigned as Quebec's assistant attorney general when investigators turned fire on the province's late Liberal regime faced an arrest warrant tonight as the outgrowth of public accounts committee revelations.

The name of Charles Lanctot, K. C., was on the warrant sworn out on instructions from the department where he worked 45 years. But the charges against the frail and bedridden septuagenarian lawyer remained a secret from all but the police and government officials.

Premier Maurice Duplessis, whose legislative investigating committee is digging deeply into the financial history of the old government, would not say what the accusation was when he announced issuance of the warrant to the committee today. And police promptly clamped down a tight silence.

No Trace Body Kulic of Ymir, Drowned Harrop

Ogilvie Hears Cries Boys After Boat Upset

No trace has been found of the body of Paul Kulic lately of Ymir, who drowned when he jumped out of a leaking rowboat crossing the West Arm between Longbeach and Harrop at the week-end. His packsack was found, floating, shortly after he disappeared, but dragging operations conducted by the provincial police failed to locate the body.

Kulic apparently walked or obtained a car ride to Longbeach, intending to cross the West Arm there and at Harrop board a freight east, aiming to go to the prairie.

At Longbeach he asked Albert Maloney and Clarence Maloney, aged 14 and 16, how long he would have to wait for the ferry and upon being informed it was tied up for the night, he persuaded them to take him across, though they protested the boat was leaking.

During the crossing the boat began to fill and Kulic jumped out. He was not seen again. The boat upset but the two boys held to it, shouting for help. Their cries were heard by W. D. Ogilvie, who pulled them out.

Kulic had been working in Ymir district lately, it is understood, and leaves a married sister resident in that district.

NEW PROBE OF WHITNEY CASE

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The securities commission called another hearing tomorrow into the affairs of Richard Whitney, former president of the New York stock exchange, who was sentenced today to serve five to 10 years in prison for grand larceny.

The hearing will be the first in Washington, but there have been preliminary hearings in New York. It was said to be for the purpose of determining what, if any, new regulations are necessary to prevent similar cases in the future. These witnesses were summoned: Herbert G. Wellington and Bertrand L. Taylor, jr., governors of the exchange, and Paul Adler, a former governor.

Canadian Pavilion at Empire Fair Is Nearing Completion

GLASGOW, April 1 (CP) — Reduced to a pole of tangled timbers by a terrific gale early in February, the Canadian pavilion at the British Empire exhibition at Bellahouston park is rapidly nearly completion.

By employing augmented crews of workmen in day and night shifts, the time lost through collapse of the framework has been fully made up and contractors are now well abreast of their original schedule.

Facing the most beautiful avenue on the grounds, Canada's pavilion presents a striking picture among the colorful and unique buildings representing the other dominions and colonies.

Archbishop Duke Denies Church Is Supporting Quebec

VANCOUVER, April 11 (CP) — Archbishop W. M. Duke of Vancouver has said "nothing could be more misleading" than statements that the Roman Catholic church in Quebec province "had given an official endorsement to totalitarian policies of government as against democracy in that province."

Speaking at mass in Holy Rosary cathedral here Sunday, Archbishop Duke said Cardinal Villeneuve, archibshop of Quebec and Archbishop Gauthier of Montreal had recently "refuted that false *charge against the church in Que*bec."

"Those who say the church is pro-Fascist have forgotten the early struggle between the Holy Father and incipient Fascism," he said. "That contest ended in the Italian concordat by which Italian Fascism adopting a limited state of absolution, granted the church her rights."

Sees Possibility Helen Grier Fired Gun to Kill Self

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 11 (CP)—The supreme court jury at Vernon Spencer's murder trial here today was instructed by Mr. Justice C. P. McTague to disregard certain evidence of Dr. Irvin H. Erb, Toronto pathologist, expert de*fence witness, who declared it was* his belief that Spencer "did not shoot" Helen Frier whose body was found in a hunting cabin north of here last October.

Spencer is charged with the murder of the pretty 28-year-old Pontiac, Mich. stenographer who was his companion on a hunting trip, one of many the two had been on in the same district in the last five years.

Dr. Erb said that from experiments he had carried out, it would have been possible for the girl to have fired the gun herself.

Sanitarium Doctor Denies Patient Ill-Treated After Action Mooted

GUELPH, Ont., April 11 (CP) — A private sanitarium fills a valued place in the community, Dr. F. H. C. Baugh of the staff of Homewood Sanitarium here told a royal commission inquiry into the institution's affairs today.

A government could not possibly maintain an institution for mildly insane persons and most of the inmates of public mental hospitals in Canada were dependent or on the margin of dependency.

Dr. Baugh was on the witness stand most of the day before F. N. Barlow, K. C., royal commissioner, and was closely questioned about the case of Angus McIntosh, wealthy Montreal exporter, who had al*leged he was wrongly detained in* the sanitarium and blamed Dr. Baugh for his detention.

McIntosh was decidedly mentally ill when he was acquitted, said Dr. Baugh. He was restless and chewed his finger nails. In his room a chair was smashed. He had disturbed oth*er patients.*

Personally he had no feeling toward McIntosh except that of a doctor towards a sick man. He regarded the patient's grievance against himself as one of the characteristics of the disease, diagnosed as paranoia.

OPERATORS $100

Pleading guilty to the charges of operating gaming houses, Howard Bush of Bush's Cigar Store, Ole Olson of the Cabinet Cigar Store, John Petas of the Club Cigar Store and Edward Johnson of Wright's Cigar Store, pleaded guilty and paid fines of $100 each. The alternative was four months.

HELLENIC CLUB PROPRIETORS IN TRAIL ARE FINED $200 APIECE

In Addition Are Assuming $900 Worth of Fines Against Patrons; Court Says Gambling Must Be Stamped Out

TRAIL, B. C., April 11 — W. S. Ross, charged with keeping a com*mon gaming house and George* Cady, charged with having charge or control of a common gaming house on premises at 1241 Cedar avenue, known as the Hellenic Colonization Association club, each pleaded guilty and each was sentenced to a fine of $200 without costs or two months in Nelson jail with hard labor, when they appeared before Donald MacDonald, police magistrate, this morning. The club had been operating under a Dominion charter.

Charges of being found in a common gaming house laid against J. T. Benoit and C. F. Graham were dismissed.

Eleven others pleaded guilty and each were sentenced to a fine of $10 and costs or 10 days in Nelson jail with hard labor. Fines were paid.

Charges against Benoit and Graham were withdrawn when R. J. Clegg, crown prosecutor, told the court that they had entered the *premises after the police had en*tered it and applied for their dismissal.

COUNSEL MAKES PLEA

"Pretty hard fines were assessed previously," said Parker Williams counsel for Ross and Cady, when he submitted their plea of guilty. "The object of the whole prosecution was to exterminate this place. *That no doubt has been accom*plished. The club has expired as far as its accomplishments are concerned. These men were presented with a charter. You or I know that a Dominion charter does not make illegal, legal. Some were absolutely innocent of wrong doing. Some were sitting down reading. If they had known they were liable to a fine no doubt they would have done the same elsewhere just as conveniently.

LIFE MAGAZINE IS BANNED FROM CANADIAN SALE; PUBLISHER TO BE CHARGED IN NEW YORK TEST CASE

Some Eastern U. S. Cities Also Ban Issue of Picture Magazine With Photos Depicting Childbirth; Some Sold in Windsor

ROSSLAND MAYOR CALLS PUBLIC MEETING TO TALK PLANS BUILD RINK; SEEK MEANS TO FINANCE

Referendum May Be Taken on Garbage Collection

ROSSLAND, B.C., April 11—A delegation consisting of George West, Ernest Chesham, George Kent and Edward Walters, waited upon the city council this evening to request that the mayor call a public meeting to ascertain what could be done toward building a new rink. The delegation realized that extra taxation or floating of bonds was out of the question but thought some other means of financing might be found.

Mayor W. A. Turner and members of the council expressed sympathy with the project, but thought it would be better to have definite plans to lay before such a meeting.

It was proposed to ascertain the cost of buildings such as had been constructed in Coleman, Kimberley, Lethbridge and Vernon.

It was finally decided to call a public meeting in the city hall April 20 at which a committee would be appointed to secure the information and lay plans.

SIX FEVER CASES

Dr. E. E. Topliffe, medical health officer, reported notifiable diseases during the past two weeks were: scarlet fever six, one being fatal; chicken pox one; measles one; and bronchial pneumonia one.

Alderman Philip Gallie, chairman of the board of works, reported distribution of work from March 27 to April 9 was: street maintenance, 63 days; sewers and drainage, four days; city hall sewer, four days; fire hall, four days; ditching, 24 days; rink, three days.

The Percentage Addition bylaw received two readings, providing for 5 per cent to be added to current unpaid taxes July 1, and a similar percentage October 1.

A. Bourget submitted a tender to take down the old rink for $350, taking all the material, or for $700, leaving the material for the city. No action was taken.

A grant equal to the amount of the taxes on his lot on Butte street was authorized for W. F. Lingle for as long as the lot was used for an alley.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Garbage collection by the city was the subject of a heated discussion. The council finally accepted the recommendation of the board of works that a referendum be taken at the annual election, or earlier if one-fifth of the voters petitioned for it, on whether the city should institute collection service. Alderman Gallie warned that it the referendum favored institution of the service it would mean employing more men and buying another truck.

The High School Debenture bylaw received second and third readings and was considered in committee of the whole. It will be submitted to the ratepayers April 26. Alderman R. J. Portman told the council that 51 per cent of the bonds had already been arranged for subject to the bylaw passing.

The recommendation of the fire, water and light committee that Fire Chief Kenneth Martin keep fees collected for electrical permits as remuneration for his work as electrical inspector, turning in an itemized account to the city clerk for inclusion in the annual financial statement, was referred back to the committee.

MORE ABOUT TRAIL FINES

"The club has realized that, and is desirous of paying fines assessed and that will be assessed. For that reason I ask you to consider carefully the amount of the fine, and to let them off as easy as possible. These men (operators) are going to have to dig down. They were under the understanding that the charter sold to them by a Vancouver firm was more important than it was. The club has only been operating for a short time. They donated money to several organizations around town. They owe considerable money. Already fines have amounted in the neighborhood of $900.

"I ask consideration especially owing to the fact that they are paying the fines. The purpose has been attained.

"It does seem the organizers of this club were somewhat led astray," said R. J. Clegg. "They seemed to think there was some virtue in the charter to enable them to break the law. Now they have realized that it has no virtue. As far as the prosecution is concerned, the objective has been attained. As for the paraphernalia and monies found on the premises, I ask that they be confiscate to the crown."

George Cady stated he would like to absorb any blame as inmates were probably misled by "this so-called Dominion charter."

CHARTER A CLOAK

"This charter was really nothing but a cloak for what is known as a gaming house," said the magistrate. "No doubt Mr. Cady was taken in, and I am sorry that you (Ross) have been taken in. If you both stopped to think at all you would know it is difficult to beat the law, especially in a law-abiding city as this one. This is not a loose community. That place has been a source of grief. It has caused a lot of affliction. It is much worse to have a semi-decent place where young fellows go than a joint in a back alley where the scum of the earth might sneak in. This charter gave them a false security. It might have given you some too.

"How many months since you got the charter?"

Cady explained that the charter was issued in 1935, but the club opened under it last November.

"You spent money," declared the magistrate, "in the hope of making profit later. You were caught."

GIVES ROSS CREDIT

"There is a lot of credit coming to you in this town," said the magistrate to Ross. "You have looked after our junior hockey boys with considerable success. I know people appreciate what you have done for these boys. I think that is in your favor, and you haven't gone far enough but what you can redeem yourself. No doubt you were misled. If you had gone into the legal aspect of the thing you would have found you couldn't do this.

"I'm taking into consideration that you are folding up, so to speak."

"That is right," Cady replied.

"The object of law enforcing is to prevent crime,' continued Magistrate MacDonald; "not to fine you and then let you go free. My idea of law enforcement is to stamp it out. Some people have to be hit between the eyes to make it register. That is why I have been imposing heavy fines. I also want it to register that these men can't beat lady luck. It's a serious criminal offence, and we want to stamp it out.

"I have no use for gambling, because of the injury it does to the young fellows.

"The average young fellow would not go into a joint. But he goes from the reading room into the other place. You make a gambler out of him.

"You can't run a place like that without seeing tragedy happening. You've got to have a heart of stone, and if you haven't one you soon develop it. You get the idea it's a matter of business.

"I intend to deal with all gambling cases pretty severely.

"You were sports enough to reimburse what has been fined the victims.

"I fine you each $200 without costs, or two months imprisonment in Nelson jail with hard labor."

Magistrate MacDonald issued an order confiscating everything seized but the chairs and $124 which had been the personal property of Mr. Ross.

ILLINOIS VOTE A FIERY AFFAIR

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP) — A quarterless fight for domination of the Democratic party in Illinois pits Governor Henry Horner's organization against the Kelly-Nash faction in state-wide primary elections tomorrow.

A force of 5000 regular and special police and at least 6000 watchers was recruited for duty at Chicago polls.

Both factions joined in the unusual precautions against violence amid reports of two sluggings and a shooting and conflicting interpretations of the election laws.

National Committeeman P. A. Nash, who shares leadership of the Chicago organization with Mayor J. Kelly, instructed his watchers to challenge Republican voters who seek to cast a Democratic ballot. Nash contended all who voted Republican in the 1936 primary must do likewise in this election. Governor Horner appealed to Republicans to aid in "slashing the Kelly-Nash machine" by switching to the Democratic side. Horner and the Chicago board of election commissioners insisted such action was legal.

Morris May Not Play Tomorrow

SASKATOON, April 11 (CP) — Late tonight Coach Elmer Piper of Trail Smoke Eaters stated it was doubtful if Jimmy Morris, playmaking Trail defenceman, would be able to take his place in the line-up in the first game of the Allan cup finals against Cornwall here Wednesday night.

Morris aggravated an ankle injury in the last game against Port Arthur Bearcats and whether he will play rests with the decision of Bert Repton, trainer of the team. If he is unable to play his place will be taken by Jim Haight, former Saskatoon Wesley junior, with the possibility Morris will be ready for the Calgary game.

CREEK DAMMERS LECTURED

Two boys were lectured by Mayor E. L. Groutage for having diverted McQuarrie creek a few days ago. When he asked them if they had realized what expense the city might have been put to by possible damage, they replied that it had not occurred to them. They apologized and were dismissed.

A complaint of S. G. Biagioni that the sewer was backing up into the basement of his property at the corner of Cedar avenue and Victoria street, was referred to S. S. McDiarmid, city engineer.

A petition for the opening up of Kitchener street was laid on the table. The city engineer pointed out that it was difficult to make an ascending turn on to the street from Reservoir road as private property would have to be used.

The rates bylaw for 1938 received three readings, as did the percentage addition bylaw for 1938.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

It was decided to hold a clean-up week, beginning April 18, and dates that city trucks will be in different parts of the city to haul away the refuse will be advertised.

An application to buy sewer pipe was refused, as it was considered it would be competing with local merchants.

The building and fire limit bylaw amendment bylaw received final adoption.

Water application of J. Urkoski, 467 Rossland avenue, was referred to the fire, water and light committee and the city engineer with [illegible] from E. A. Burrows, 1553 Fifth avenue, was approved.

A bylaw providing for the levying of permit fees and inspection of installation, replacement, renewal, alteration or repair of commercial or domestic oil burning equipment, was given third reading.

During the month of March there were three fires in Trail, according to the report of A. A. MacDonald, fire chief. Causes of fire were: smoldering rag in woodshed, careless smoker, and grease overturning on kitchen range.

Queen Mary Has Rough Crossing Passengers Hurt

PLYMOUTH, England, April 11 (AP)—The liner Queen Mary arrived from New York four hours late today after battling a 24-hour storm which sent great waves crashing over her decks, injuring about 40 persons most of them slightly. It was the worst storm the big liner has encountered.

Marc Connelly, American playwright, said the storm was "worse than a West Indies hurricane."

Lilly Pons, French opera star, kept her promise and sang for the passengers during the 60-mile gale.

"Ropes were stretched across so the audience and artists could hold onto them. While I was singing I let go of the rope and the next thing I knew I was sliding across the stage, but I kept singing."

The liner suffered no damage except to furniture and fittings, which were smashed in every department. One alleyway became a river of wine when four hogsheads smashed through a storeroom door and burst.

Ship's Survivors Mourn Hero Who Effected Rescue

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP). — Saved by the timely arrival of three tankers, 29 of the 31 crew members who survived an explosion aboard the Greek steamer Mount Kyllene today mourned the death of the hero whose ingenuity accomplished their rescue.

The explosion—its origin still undetermined—split the Kyllene in two, 200 miles north of the Azores Saturday morning.

Radio Operator Papa Theodorou quickly rigged up an emergency wireless set aboard the floundering forepart of the vessel and sent out SOS calls that brought the three tankers, the Kaia Knudsen, Inverlee and Athelfoam, to the scene.

The last man to leave his post, Theodorou drowned when he leaped for a lifeboat and missed. Heavy seas prevented his rescue.

Expect Trans-Atlantic Air Service in August

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Officials returning from a European air conference at Dublin said yesterday they expected regular trans-Atlantic passenger and mail service to be in operation by early August.

Officials of the airlines involved indicate, however, New York-to-London commercial flights probably would be delayed well beyond that date because of requirements for new equipment.

Edward L. Yuravich, an official of the United States bureau of air commerce, said the flight will start with two airliners — an Imperial Airways "pick-a-back" plane and a Pan-American Airways Boeing seaplane, with cruising speeds of 150 to 200 miles per hour. The planes will take off simultaneously from opposite sides of the Atlantic on a 24-hour schedule.

FIND STEEL COMPANY GUILTY EIGHT COUNTS

CLEVELAND, April 11 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board's action in blaming Republic Steel Corp. for death of three C.I.O. strikers at Massillon, O., in last summer's steel strike "is wholly unsupported by the evidence," Tom Girdler, Republic chairman, declared today.

The labor board Saturday found that Republic violated the Wagner Act on eight counts. It ordered employee representation plans broken up at its five Ohio plans and among other things ,ordered reinstatement of 5,000 strikers with back pay.

H. B. Carpenter, manager of Republic's Cleveland plants, said no strikers applied for reinstatment today—first normal working day since the order.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., April 11 (CP)—British Columbia police said today they believed the wreckage of a trolling boat found last week in Hudson Bay Passage, Dundas islands, was "associated" with the disappearance last October of J. M. Jackson, elderly crab fisherman.

Meanwhile officials sought Joe Levine, 60-year-old fisherman and rancher of Porcher Island, missing for more than a month. His small dwelling was in order and his rowboat in place. Police believed he might have fallen into the water and drowned.

The mayor's office released the text of her letter but withheld the name of the girl, "a selling girl in a drug-store of profession." The picture of a comely lass accompanied the letter.

LONDON IS ENJOYING THE SUNSHINE OF RECORD SPRING

Advises Plucking . . .

Says Pruning of Eyebrows Should Be Done Each Day

By JULIET SHELBY

This season smart eyebrows have reverted to the natural. Those abbreviated pencil lines are definitely out. Even in Hollywood they are going in for the heavier line, the "swallow's wing" instead of the faint suggestion.

JEANNETTE MacDONALD
Her eyebrows are well groomed

The trend is really a very fortunate one because most of us look a lot better with a brow that gives the eyes a setting. Of course eyebrows vary. Nature starts you off with a brow that is more or less suited to your eyes. But this does not mean that you can just relax and let your eyebrows grow like the weeds. The best behaved brows need a bit of tending.

The "swallow's wing" is so named because it is actually the shape of that bird's wing. It is a fairly sturdy brow, with a slight curve which tapers gradually as it extends outward. Whether you prefer this or your own style of modeling, you can't have bushes over your eyes, or even worse, those straggling hairs, full length or starting, that are begging for a grooming. The bushes give an unfortunate masculine look to the most flower-like face, and the stragglers just make you look ill-kempt and give your skin a dirty cast that all the washing in the world can't eradicate.

Nothing is more unromantic than a beautiful face when it breaks down above the eyes and goes astray with wandering brows. After all, its in the closeups that our husbands or beaux get their allusions or lose them.

PLUCKING ADVISED

This department has long thought that the best way to handle the eyebrow problem is to pluck them or have them plucked. Then you can take a look every few minutes and see how they are shaping up. If you are planning to do the job yourself, here are a few points that may make the process a lot less painful.

This pruning really should be a daily thing. If you stick to it it won't hurt nearly so much and will only take a second. It's the old story about nipping them in the bud. First apply towels that have been dipped into hot water on the areas that you are going to pluck. Get the surrounding skin warm, with the pores open. Then, after drying the skin, rub a little cream or vaseline into the brows to soften them.

Next brush your eyebrows forward, then back toward the temples, and brush them as nearly as you can into the shape you wish. Now for the plucking. Always use a tweezer that you have had soaked in alcohol or some other disinfectant. This is to prevent any slight infection, in case your hand slips. Pluck the hairs one at a time, and don't get the idea that you can yank out lots of them.

Tolerance Plays Important Role in Rearing Child

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Your articles which I read daily in a local newspaper have proved invaluable to me in the rearing of my children. I agree with you on almost every point. I am writing mainly in regard to the letter a young girl wrote you some time ago about young people having complete freedom from parental questions as to their whereabouts and doings at night.

"I have a daughter who is attractive and popular and who had the same thoughts as this other one and she lied to me and tried every way to deceive me so she could do as she pleased. My husband lost all patience and wanted to send her to an institution (neither of us wanted to beat or personally abuse her.)

"I could not bring myself to do this so I talked things over with her and agreed to let her be her own judge of her companions and have all the dates she wanted, stipulating that all boy friends must come in the house and meet us and get acquainted.

"Well, for about a year we were nearly crazy, met countless boys and, to our surprise discovered that the majority of them were attractive, personable and honest young fellows.

"Our girl gave us several shocks during this time, came home drunk once and once in the hands of the police for being in a party of young people where some of the rest were drunk. She stayed out all night at a party without letting us know, and had a long walk home twice. Then suddenly she seemed to change and to grow up mentally, began to be more discriminating about her friends and stopped going out so much. Now she has plenty of nice girl and boy friends and is pleasant and agreeable to live with.

"Now we trust her and have every reason to feel that she has every confidence in us, and we know all about and enjoy her affairs with her set.

"We also have a fine son who was backward in school where the girl was ahead of her age. Your advice in your column helped us to be tolerant and understanding with this boy so that with the help of a wise and kind teacher, he is regarded as one of the best boys in our neighborhood, and promises to be a good upright man, where he easily could have gone the opposite direction. He was very sensitive and easily hurt because he could not read well and had to suffer many heartaches, but that is all over now and he says himself that his mind is just beginning to work (he is thirteen). . . We never did anything to discourage him, praised every good point and passed over the poor ones, and were careful never to compare his grades with his sister's, and she, fortunately, was not the disposition to hurt him that way. A great deal of our success has been due to your help."

One More Wedding!

By HELEN WELSHIMER

READ THIS FIRST:

Barbara Kingsley, pretty young society editor of the Martinsville Post has just "covered" another wedding. She is tired of the routine but Peter Baxter, managing editor, cheers her fading spirits. Garry Page, New York newspaper man in town for the wedding, misses his train back and Barbara, at the train to pick up pictures, offers to drive him to the Junction to catch the last train that night. They have dinner and, at the Junction, run into the wedding party, including Barbara's proud cousin, Julia. A few weeks later Natalies Kendall, a close friend of Barbara's who is a New York fashion columnist, wires Barbara of an opening on a child magazine. Barbara learns that Garry Page is a good friend of Natalie's. Then she phones him. Next day Garry sails for a few weeks in Europe. Barbara and several other friends of his, including Ruth Merryweather, an attractive heiress, are at the pier to see him off.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 6

Garry was holding her hands, saying goodbye, and Barbara pushed away the memory of the breakfast he had shared with Ruth.

"Maybe I'm a cockeyed goof, Barbara, but I wanted to see you. And I'll be back in a month."

Then very quickly the whole gay party was on the dock, the orchestra was playing gaily, the ship was moving. At the rail Garry and the producer were waving their hats. Barbara waved her handkerchief. She wondered if she imagined it, or if Garry smiled down at her as the boat began to pull away.

She had not time to contemplate. A man with cynical eyes was speaking. "Have you had breakfast?" he asked.

"Some coffee."

"Good! Nobody can live long on coffee. I missed Ruth's breakfast because I didn't get up." Ruth's breakfast! Then Garry hadn't invited her—she had asked him. "How about you and me going over to Mario's and getting some scrambled eggs and bacon and fruit and coffee—much more coffee?"

"I think it would be grand," Barbara answered, and knew that the man must wonder why all of a sudden she came to life. So Ruth had given a party for Garry! He had not asked the girl to be his guest on this, his last morning.

He told her his name as the cab took them uptown. He was Jack Metcalf. Barbara recognized the name. He wrote books. A couple of them had been best sellers. He was quite tall and thin and he gave the impression of forever being slightly bored. His lips twisted ironically sometimes but unexpectedly a twinkle would come into his deepset eyes. He was an easy person to talk to, though.

"Although it may be because I'm happy," Barbara reflected.

"Known Garry Page long?" he asked as they were being served.

"I met him last summer."

"Know Ruth?"

"I met her this morning. I liked her."

"She's aces with a lot of us. I hope she doesn't get hurt any more."

Barbara glanced up quickly. Was he trying to imply that Garry was Ruth's and she might be taking him away?

He went on. "Ruth was engaged—madly in love—with a nice enough person but a girl from out-of-town took him away from her. It didn't happen very long ago. Maybe you'll be meeting the man and the new girl. They haven't been married long. It's better for you not to know them when you see them so I won't tell their names."

Then he changed the subject: "Where are you going to live?"

"I have to search for a place."

"An apartment?"

"Not at first—"

"Ever seen Garry's rooms?"

"No, I just came yesterday, you see."

"He has a nice setup. My lease is up so I'm staying there this month while I hunt around. Why not come over for tea this afternoon? Say, around half-past five? A few others may drop in."

When Barbara told Natalie, over the telephone, where she was going, the older girl gasped. "Babbs, does he know you're staying with me?"

"I honestly don't know. No, I guess I didn't mention it."

"Good! I'm going along with you, my dear!"

Barbara was only mildly interested in Natalie's announcement. Natalies probably knew the author well, and anybody went to anybody else's house at tea time in New York, unless the hour was being spent in a quiet place where music and soft lights and low voices added intrigue to the twilight zone.

However, when Jack came to the door with his easy, long-legged grace, she caught the surprise in his eyes although he quickly banished it. One thing was uppermost in Barbara's mind: Jack Metcalf was not glad to see Natalie.

"It is a surprise, Natalie," he was saying. "You are looking as charming as ever — younger, I believe."

"And you are as flattering as of old, Sir Lancelot," Natalie answered. "I'm chaperoning."

"Chaperoning? My dear Natalie, whatever gave you the idea that a guest of mine needed that old-fashioned encumbrance? Not that you're old-fashioned, Natalie—forgive me. Or are you?"

"Very." She went into the fire that had been kindled against the coldness of the rainy day. "I like Garry's rooms."

Daffodils Piled High and Violets Grow Larger; Women Rally in Park

By MOLLIE McGEE
Canadian Press Correspondent

LONDON, April 11 (CP)—London is flowering in the glorious sunshine of a record spring. In the early morning in Covent Garden market, daffodils piled in golden masses build walls high above the heads of the passerby. Six cents a dozen is the current price at the hawkers' barrows at street corners.

Violets sold by the flower girls of Piccadilly have grown larger, sweeter and cheaper as the sunny days go on. An explanatory interview in the papers told how the violet expert, an old gardener in Cornwall, has developed flowers this year till they were 1½ inches to two inches across and stood on stems a foot high.

A panegyric on the English love of flowers blossomed out in the midst of the political crisis in a Berlin daily paper and had been sent in by their London correspondent. "Where the Germans plant forests and the French plant vegetables, the English plant flowers. . . . It is by such traits that one can know the Englishman is not altogether a materialist. . . ." wrote the stolid Teuton, doubtlessly swayed by the brilliant barrow-loads in London streets.

SPINSTERS RALLY

Out with the flowers have come agitators in Hyde Park. Every week-end sees its particular gathering with police in fatherly surveillance protecting the speakers from their audiences. The most pretentious rally in the offing is to be completely feminine, yet even seasoned rally goers find something a little depressing in the idea of 10,000 unmarried women of over 40 gathered together in one place.

Plans are almost complete for the second annual spinsters' rally to take place in Hyde Park on ——, it is hoped —— a sunny Saturday in May. Miss Florence White, doughty organizer of the movement for pensions for spinsters at 55, is busy touring the country getting the "unclaimed treasures" rally-minded.

Three special trains are to be run to London from Lancashire, Yorkshire and the west of England and dozens of buses have already been chartered. More than 2000 women arrived from the provinces last year and this time that number is expected to be at least doubled. Probably the old park will have seen nothing like this assemblage since suffragette days.

YOUTH ON SKATES

Aside from meetings the main seasonable disturbance in London's open spaces are youthful roller skaters who come from narrow alleys to where concrete stretches in tempting expanse. Trafalgar Square has been invaded to such an extent the "regulars" who feed the pigeons have called on policemen to see that the birds are able to strut and eat without getting indigestion.

Watch Strawberry Bed for the Leaf Roller

As you remove the cold weather cover from the strawberry bed and then throughout the season watch for the strawberry leaf roller.

As shown in this Garden-Graph,

Strawberry leaf-roller

this pale green caterpillar with a brown head, rolls up and lives in the folds of the leaf.

If there are only a few such infested leaves you can pick them off by hand and burn them. Do this as soon as the "rolls" are noticed. When the plants are heavily infested, dust with 85 per cent hydrated lime plus 15 per cent lead arsenate, or spray with lead arsenate, using three tablespoons to a gallon of water.

At this season great care should be exercised, when digging in the vicinity of any of the perennial vegetables, such as asparagus and rhubarb, lest the young shoots be broken as they start up through the soil.

Except on heavy clay soils work can probably start in the vegetable garden soon, but should not start, of course, as long as there is any frost on the ground It is better to be late with the job of preparing the garden than to spoil everything by working the soil before it is ready.

Youth's Weak Heart Spoils Their Romance

By VIRGINIA LEE

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am writing to you for advice and hope you can help me. I am a young girl of 18, and have been going with a boy six years my senior. He is everything a girl could want in her husband. He is kind, considerate, nice looking, plays a guitar and is the life of a party.

"His only fault is a weak heart, and the doctor does not see how he has lived this long. I love this boy dearly and he has told me that he feels the same way. He says he could never marry, as he cannot work and support a wife. He thinks it is best for us both if we quit, and says that I should find myself a nice boy friend, but I know that is impossible. We broke up just before Christmas and I kept company with other boys and tried to forget him, but I couldn't, for I still feel the same. We are now going together again, but he thinks it best if we don't go steady. What shall I do? DISCOURAGED."

I don't see anything for you to do but to go with other boys and try harder to forget this one young man, Discouraged. You can see for yourself that if he cannot work and support a family he cannot marry, unless he is willing to wed a girl and have her support him for life. I am sorry, as this young man is so ideal in every way, but there is nothing else I can advise.

You are sure the boy's heart is as bad as he says, are you? Has the doctor told you about his condition? I don't want to distrust the doctor or the young man but it is proverbial that a "weak heart" is a good excuse for not doing a good many things that one doesn't want to do. I have also known many folk with weak hearts who lived to be old. Possibly, too, there might be room for disagreement among doctors. Has he consulted several physcians? Is this young man sickly looking.

If the answer to all these questions still is that young man's heart is too weak to allow him to do anything to earn his living, you will have to be brave and decide to go with others and definitely put him out of your life, insist upon marrying him and supporting him—which I presume he would not agree to—or never marry and just be good friends as long as he lives. These are the alternatives. Sorry I cannot be more comforting

Hints for Housewives

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Roast Veal — Boiled Potatoes
Gravy — Dandelion Greens
Apple, Carrot, Celergy Calad
Maple Ice Cream — Coffee

It is nice to use the maple syrup in as many ways as possible while it is fresh, Maple puddings, maple frosting for cakes, maple ice cream, etc., are all good ways to use it as well as over griddle cakes and waffles. I have a maple cream recipe, too, that I have been using for several years, and I'll give you the recipe of that before long. Dandelion greens are good spring food, containing iron and vitamins, but I must confess they take work to get ready to cook.

Today's Recipes

MAPLE ICE CREAM — One cup milk, two eggs, one cup maple syrup, one cup whipping cream, one teaspoon vanilla. Scald milk and pour slowly over beaten eggs. Return to stove and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture coats the spoon. Then let cool and add syrup, vanilla and whipped cream. Pour into tray of electric refrigerator and freeze quickly, stirring twice while freezing. Serve with this tiny cup cakes iced with maple icing: Two tablespoons butter dissolved in half a cup heated maple syrup, adding a pinch of salt and enough powdered sugar to thicken sufficiently. Chopped nuts may be added.

New Furniture Colorful

The colors of the rainbow will be brought into the home by the season's new furniture lines, reports the Modern Home Institute.

Designers of the new furniture are providing color in myriad ways—in woods, in finishes, in upholstery, in marquetry and inlay, in mirrors and hardware.

The trend is toward lighter, brighter hues, with such shades as "tweed," "tawny" and "wheat." Knotty pine is appearing in a putty color. Transparent lacquer is being used on light-toned Philippine mahogany to accentuate the ribbon grain. "Tweed" finish is obtained by using a deep-toned filler on walnut. Hickory, long used in rustic furniture, is being modernized and is seen in drawing rooms.

In upholstery, tweeds and homespuns are enjoying the spotlight, with blues and reds continuing to be popular.

Colored marquetry and inlay are being adapted both for traditional and modern furniture.

Blue mirrors are to be found on many modern pieces, contrasting with highly-polished hardware.

Cleaning Rugs

Hot water with some turpentine poured into it is a favorite mixture for cleaning rugs and carpets. Just dip a broom in the solution and sweep thoroughly.

Another good carpet cleaner in an emergency is cornmeal dampened with kerosene.

Reports Are Not Always Accurate Says the Doctor

By LOGAN CLENDENING M. D.

People who write medical news for the newspapers and magazines often get very close to the truth in spite of the fact that they never have treated a patient or been in an operating room in their lives but exactly for that reason they often just miss the truth. For instance, I find the following statement:

"Most advanced hospitals now utilize a method of preserving mother's milk (often needed in a hurry for premature babies) for periods up to one year. The milk is drawn from the donors into sterile containers then poured into metal molds kept by dry-ice packing at 109 degrees below zero."

Of course, no advanced hospitals do any such thing, because it is perfectly easy to feed a premature baby for a while on water and sugar, and after than on artificial mother's milk, such as S. M. A. The problem of the premature baby is not feeding, but breathing.

Another statement:

"Surgeons have realized since the time of Lister that the air of the operating room is a dangerous source of wound contamination."

This is the kind of statement that emanates from people who goggle at an operating room from afar. Practical surgeons gave up the idea that the air contaminates a wound before Lister died, and practical surgeons know that if their instruments, towels, etc. are sterile and their hands are clean and uncontaminated, their percenteage of wound infection is less than 1-1000 of 1 per cent.

"SERUM EXCHANGES"

And still another:

"Hospitals in several large cities have established 'serum exchanges' by which lifesaving serums for pneumonia, diphtheria, measles and other diseases may be preserved for indefinite periods without loss of their germ-destroying powers. The serums are frozen solid at 100 degrees below zero, then 99.9 per cent of the water present is 'sucked off' in a vacuum, leaving dry serum crystals which are sealed in containers."

My comment on this piece of newspaper medicine is that it is unnecessary to have serums for diphtheria and pneumonia because true antitoxins for these diseases are available with preserving human serum. In other words, they can be obtained from ordinary diphtheria antitoxin and pneumonia antitoxin. The kind of serum this writer is talking about is a convalescent serum from a patient who has had the disease. In the case of measles, he is right. Convalescent serum has been used in measles, which makes his batting average for accuracy 33 1-3 per cent. That is all right in the National league but not for medical science.

"Do you know that Ontario and Quebec courts say that in law at least Mr. McIntosh is a sane man?" Dr. Baugh was asked.

"Yes" was the reply.

The doctor denied McIntosh was worse treated after he had received word the patient was going to take legal action, that his privileges had been taken away. He said the patient was restricted only because visitors disturbed him. He was not aware a Hamilton lawyer had scaled the walls to visit the patient.

Asked by C. L. Snyder, commission counsel, why William Roche of Halifax had been held a year and two months longer than his contract called for Dr. Baugh said he assumed it was because the superintendent felt he had a responsibility towards authorities in Halifax.

Earlier in the day Harry Wilding, night supervisor at Homewood, told the commissioner, McIntosh had chased him upstairs. He had told the patient to "go to blazes" but had apologized for the remark because he thought it good judgment to do so.

Wilding said he had been instructed by a nurse in the administration of hypodermics and administered them whenever he had a doctor's order. Before joining the Homewood staff he had worked on a farm in Canada and as a steamfitter in England. He was shell shocked during the war.

SAYS PATIENT DIED FROM "EXCITEMENT"

Questioned about a patient named Flaherty, said to have been found dead in his bed, Dr. Baugh said the man had died from a heart ailment due to "a wild state of excitement."

The doctor said they tried to keep restraint to an absolute minimum and to avoid physical force, but occasionally it was necessary to "pack" a patient, wet or dry. He knew nothing of where a pair of handcuffs used on a patient had come from.

Wilding in his evidence said a patient who kept clapping his hands until they were sore was handcuffed for a few minutes.

Where a patient was roughly handled by an attendant the attendant was discharged. This seldom happened.

Dr. Baugh said it was believed a patient named Radmore who died from an overdose of drugs had stolen the drugs from a nurse's tray. Everything possible was done for him and after his death the coroner and the crown attorney investigated.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c (Advt.)

"PURELY POLITICAL"

Employers said the strikes were purely political, designed to show workers' discontent at the resignation of Leon Blum's Popular Front government. Strikers, however, blamed the walkouts on the employers' failure to keep wages up to the rising cost of living.

Daladier's new program, as drafted at present, provides the cabinet shall have decree powers over all France's internal and external affairs.

The time limit on the proposed powers was cut from six to three months as a concession to Leftists in parliament who let it be known they would vote against such long-term powers.

The proposal will be submitted to the cabinet tomorrow morning, and if approved, will be sent to parliament.

How much of the program would be disclosed in Daladier's ministerial declaration before parliament tomorrow remained the premier's secret, but it was learned that as it now stands it includes:

1. Government by cabinet decree for three months with decrees to be ratified by parliament at the end of that period.

2. Fifteen billion francs (about $488,600,000) for a defence loan to be raised in France if possible, abroad is necessary.

3. Five billion francs (about $192,900,000) to be advanced by the bank of France to meet the treasury's immediate needs.

IN THE HYGIENE COURT OF JUSTICE

Typist Accused of Headaches

(Before Mr. Justice Kruschen)

PROSECUTING COUNSEL: This, my lord, is a case of a young woman charged with habitual headaches. It is a sad case, because her affliction renders her unfit for work or play, a misery . . .

JUDGE: What is a headache? (laughter)

COUNSEL: The dictionary defines it as a continuous pain in the head.

JUDGE: (addressing prisoner): Why do you have a continuous pain in the head, young lady?

PRISONER: I don't know, my lord. It isn't my fault.

JUDGE: The question of whose fault it is will be decided by this Court. Do you admit the charge?

PRISONER: Yes, my lord.

JUDGE: What steps do you take to prevent these headaches?

PRISONER: I sometimes take a sedative, my lord.

JUDGE: Sedative? Do you really mean to tell me that a sedative prevents headaches?

PRISONER: No, my lord, of course a sedative doesn't exactly prevent them, it. . . .

JUDGE: Have you ever heard of Kruschen?

PRISONER: Yes, my lord. I used to take it regularly.

JUDGE: And did you have headaches then?

PRISONER: N-no.

JUDGE: Young lady, you may count yourself fortunate in being brought before me. In this court we regard preventable illness as a crime. The complaint from which you suffer is caused by nothing else but neglect—neglect of the very first rule of sane and healthy living. It is caused, like so many other afflictions, simply and solely by constipation—or that even more dangerous and far more prevalent condition of semi-constipation. A pinch of Kruschen Salts—as much as will lie on a ten-cent piece—taken in a cup of coffee, tea, or a glass of water, every morning will help to finally and completely rid you of your trouble. My ruling is that you go straightway and get a bottle of Kruschen and begin this necessary practice tomorrow morning.

PRISONER: (smiling through her tears): Oh, thank you, my lord.

COUNSEL: About costs. . . .

JUDGE: Quite insignificant. The cost of 'the little daily dose' is much less than 1c a day.

KRUSCHEN SALTS

relieve constipation and rheumatism

Kruschen is a combination of several mineral salts which your body must get, in some way, to keep the blood pure, the inside clean, and the system generally toned up, but which you can't get in Nature's own way without abundant exercise and fresh air. You should have those salts every day; hence the importance of the "little daily dose". Every drug counter sells Kruschen in 25c, 45c and 75c bottles. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Cough Colds Often Dangerous

People are beginning to recognize the fact that a cough cold is a serious ailment, and when you contract a cold or cough the first question you ask yourself should be, "How am I going to get rid of it with the least possible delay and expense?" The answer is, "Use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup."

This cough medicine is composed of the well known properties of the Norway pine tree, wild cherry bark, and other soothing, absorbent, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, barks and balsams. A few doses should convince you it is just the remedy you have been looking for.

MRS. H. HALLIGAN, Camborne, Ont., writes:—"My father had a terrible cough, and we thought he was never going to get rid of it, as he had tried so many remedies without getting any relief.

A neighbour told us about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it was the only medicine that helped to give him relief."

Clergymen Can Be Candidates in Eight Provinces and in Federal Election; Six Members in Alberta

By the Canadian Press

New Brunswick doesn't want clergymen in its legislature, but any minister who seeks a direct hand in legislation elsewhere in Canada may try for election in any of the eight other provinces or run for the house of commons.

An old clause barring clergymen from membership was retained Saturday by the New Brunswick legislature in considering a proposed new elections act. A survey by the Canadian Press found ministers of the gospel in the legislatures of Ontario and Alberta and the house of commons. In several other provinces they have run for office in the past but none are now sitting.

Ottawa's clergymen are Rev. Daniel McIvor (Lib., Fort William), United church; Rev. Ernest G. Hansell (S. C., Macleod), Christian church; and Rev. Thomas C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn), Baptist.

Alberta's legislature leads the list with six, all Social Crediters. They are Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, and Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasured, both school teachers by profession but Bishops in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints; Rev. Peter Dawson, speaker, and Rev. Roy Taylor, deputy speaker, both United Church; Rev. W. A. Wingblade (Wetaskiwin) Swedish Baptist; and Rev. I. M. McCune (Gleichen), Church of the Brethren.

Ontario's one representative of the church is Rev. A. W. Downer, Conservative member for Dufferin-Simcoe, an Anglican. Rev. W. G. Martin held the public welfare portfolio in George Henry's Conservative government which was defeated in 1934, but is not now in the legislature.

Clergymen have been prominent in British Columbia's provincial politics. Canon Joshua Hinchliffe, Anglican, served as minister of education in the Tolmie Conservative government from 1928 to 1933. Rev. Robert Connell, also an Anglican led the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation in the legislature from 1935 until he broke with the party in 1937, when he ran as a B.C. Conservative and was defeated.

AN IMPOSSIBLE JOB FOR A GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

In one issue of the Vancouver dailies recently Dr. J. F. Walker, deputy minister of mines, was criticized in a court case for having failed to warn the public sufficiently early in the Hedley case and in a news report, for having sent out warnings recently against over-exuberant enthusiasm concerning the Zeballos camp.

Governmental attempts to protect speculators is a sweet job.

The solution to the problem is that the soundest course in the long run is dependance upon the anti-fraud clauses of the Criminal Code of Canada. It is virtually impossible for a government bureau to deal with the question effectively.

LOGICAL, BUT—

A Vancouver newspaper asserts that the federal government at Ottawa should have the power to pass any law upon any subject it pleases. And, of course, should have power to enforce any such law in any part of Canada.

That is what abolition of provincial legislatures would mean. The central government would have supreme legislative and administrative powers over the whole of this vast country, with its varying local conditions, and divergent local needs and customs.

THE DIGNITY OF THE CROWN

There seems to be a growing tendency among the provinces today to treat the office of lieutenant-governor with little respect. Premier Hepburn of Ontario likes to pose as a roughneck, and he is quite in character when he speaks derogatorily of the office of lieutenant-governor and is content to see it shorn of its early dignity. The example of Ontario is being followed in Alberta, where it is perhaps not surprising that, after the events of the past few months, the government should have it in for the lieutenant-governor of that province.

But, after all, the lieutenant-governor of a province holds his position under the Canadian constitution and represents the crown, just as much as does the governor-general of the Dominion. Canada has not yet become a republic and still remains a monarchy, and it is not fitting, as long as we recognize a monarch, that his representatives in Canada should be held in contempt.

In discarding all the pageantry that has been connected with the representatives of the king, Canadians are diverging from the British practice, which has been so strongly exemplied in the pageantry with which the coronation was surrounded and which was accepted by the British as a fit and proper ceremonial. The roughneck style can be exaggerated until it is detrimental to the dignity and hence to the efficacy of our methods of government.

The formality that surrounds our Canadian law courts, which is entirely in the British mode, is conceded to add to the dignity and impressiveness of the administration of justice. That administration comes down directly from the crown through the ages and anything that is done to compromise the dignity of the crown and its representatives strikes at the foundation of our system of government.

The refusal of a provincial government to contribute to the upkeep of the lieutenant-governor may result in something that is far less democratic than we have under our present system. If no person can afford to hold the position unless he has private means and is willing to defray all his own expenses, the time may come when the question of the fitness of any man to hold the position will be determined by the amount of his wealth. No one whose personal income is below a certain figure would be able to accept the offer of a lieutenant-governorship.

? Any Missionaries or Rum

In Tristan da Cunha, where until latterly there was no bread or other cereal and the main food was milk, mutton, fish, eggs and potatoes, there was no rheumatism or arthritis and the teeth were relatively free from dental caries. In recent years well meaning people have been sending flour and sugar to the island and, as might be expected, the first curse of civilized communities, tooth cavities, are increasing among the children. — Journal of American Medical Association, Chicago.

Escape?

Here is the latest story told on Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Lawrence Cramer, youthful, unimpressive-looking governor of the Virgin Islands, came to call on Ickes, gave his name to a doorman merely as 'Cramer', sat down to wait. Thirty minutes passed, then 45.

The young governor concluded that he had not made his name and position clear. So he approached the doorman and explained that he was the governor of the Virgin Islands.

Flustrated, the doorman picked up the telephone. "Mr. Secretary," he said, "there's a virgin here from Governor's Island."—Time, New York.

So Polite

How courteous is the Japanese:
He always says, "Excuse me, please."
He climbs into his neighbor's garden,
And smiles, and says, "I beg your pardon",
He bows and grins a friendly grin,
And calls his hungry family in;
He grin, and bows a friendly bow;
"So sorry, this is my garden now."
—Ogden Nash in Lilliput, London.

All This in One Pound of Butter

Butter is one of the most expensive foods but one which is quite important in the well balanced diet. As one pound of butter is 85 per cent fat and average milk contains 4 per cent fat, it requires about 21.25 pounds of milk to make a pound of butter and 255 pounds of dry fodder to yield one pound of butter. To produce 35 pounds of butter therefore requires 8925 pounds of feed.—From the Scientific Monthly, New York.

Mercury, the Metal Minor God of War

Without mercury fulminate, the only successful detonation for high explosives, not a gun could fire. This organic compound of quicksilver ignites so quickly that it must be retarded to set off the explosive in the shell. Bought and hoarded as the war-makers' best friend, mercury is the indispensable material. Almaden, a Spanish mine which has been supplying mercury for 2000 years, and Idria, a mine in Southern Austria now owned by the Italian government, provide 80 per cent of the world's mercury supply and 90 per cent of Europe's. D. S. Rosier in Coronet believes mercury may well be one of the reasons why Italy keeps her finger in the Spanish pie. Were she to dominate a Fascist Spain, she would have a virtual monopoly.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

As Written by SHEPARD BARCLAY

HARD TO FORGET

IT IS NOT easy to give courage to a partner who has made a light opening bid. No matter how powerfully you bid your own cards, he fears he has been the cause of an impending disaster and can't quite forget his early sin. As a consequence, the side may wind up in too low a contract, despite his original boldness.

North: ♠ K J 10 8 ♥ A Q J ♦ A 8 ♣ K 10 7 5
West: ♠ A Q 9 7 ♥ 6 4 ♦ K 10 9 ♦ J 9 6 ♣ 4
East: ♠ 5 3 2 ♥ 7 6 5 3 2 ♦ 5 3 2 ♣ Q 9
South: ♠ None ♥ 8 4 ♦ K Q 10 7 ♣ A J 8 6 3 2

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

Because of his distribution, South decided to open with 1-Club, even though his two-suiter happened to be the minors. West overcalled with 1-Spade and North doubled. After East passed, South took out in 2-Diamonds, because of his light opening. North then jumped to 4-No Trumps. When this came around to South he was panicky and decided to let well enough alone, for, if he bid again, he was sure North would take the bidding beyond their depth.

West figured there was something wrong with the whole setup, so doubled. North, unable at this point to decide what had happened to his partner, went to 5-Clubs. With all the encouragement North had given, South still refused to bid a slam.

West led his singleton club against this contract. South won it and from then on cashed every trick.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ K J 10 7 5 2 ♥ 8 6 4 ♦ None ♣ Q J 10
West: ♠ A Q 6 ♥ K J 7 5 ♦ A 8 5 3 ♣ A 7
East: ♠ 8 4 3 ♥ A 2 ♦ Q 9 4 2 ♣ K 8 5 4
South: ♠ 9 ♥ Q 10 9 3 ♦ K J 10 7 6 ♣ 6 3 2

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

How should West play for 3-No Trumps after the lead of the club Q?

?? Questions ?? ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers is open to any reader of the Nelson Daily News. In no case will the name of the person asking the question be published.

Inquirer, Nelson—Are there many Christian Science churches in Canada? Can you give me some information about the denomination?

There are 76 Christian Science churches in Canada, 20 of which are in British Columbia. There are many other Christian Scientists in Canada residing where churches have not yet been organized. As a whole, the Christian Science denomination in Canada is not separately organized, each church being a branch of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., the Mother Church of the denomination, but each church has its own self-government. In each province, there is a Christian Science Committee on Publication, while in the larger cities and towns there are public practitioners of Christian Science, the number of such practitioners in Canada at the present time being about 250. The Christian Science denomination has no ordained clergy, but each church has two Readers who are elected for stated terms from among the members, and who conduct its services. Each church also maintains a public Reading Room, where the authorized literature of the denomination may be found. The total number of adherents in Canada, per 1931 census, was 18,418.

B. G., Salmo—What is the present population of Kentville, Nova Scotia?

According to the 1931 census (the latest information available) it is 3033.

K. L. H., Trail—How many new countries were created in Europe after the World War?

In Europe proper eleven sovereign states were created.

M. A. H., Nelson—What are sippets, frequently mentioned in English cook books?

These are small thin fingers of toast, dry and crisp, served with wine, soup or as a garnish to made dishes such as ragouts and minces.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Letters may be published over a nom de plume, but the actual name of the writer must be given to the editor as evidence of good faith. Anonymous letters go in the waste paper basket.

Adjudicator Makes Some Corrections in Drama Reports

To The Editor:

Sir:—May I take this opportunity to express appreciation of the kindness and hospitality I met with during the drama festival and my enjoyment of the dramatic work being done in and around Nelson. I see in your issue of April 8 I am quoted as saying "It does not pay to select a good class of literature". This is exactly the opposite of what I was trying to say. Experience shows that beginners can usually do better with a good play than they can with a poorly written one.

There is one other point I would like to correct—keep the up-stage leg forward but kneel on the down-stage knee.

With the best of intentions an adjudicator is sure to make some mistakes and I am very ready to admit mine when I recognize them.

In "Indian Summer" I criticized the young lady for not being French. I realize now that she was supposed to be an American girl visiting in France. I apologize to her. I always like to study the plays to be presented, before attending a festival, but in the case of the Nelson festival this apparently was not possible. I had an opportunity to read "Indian Summer" just before its presentation but evidently failed to notice this important point

Urges Merits of Rerouting Main Road to Coast

To The Editor:

Sir: — "Seen from a Rossland Eyrie" is rather decided in his views about Christina lake and the various routes for the Southern route of the trans-Canada highway.

We will grant that the scenic views of Lake Chistina are a natural wonder, we do believe that places such as Christina lake should be well advertised to the tourist traffic.

We do not agree with you, Rossland Eyrie, in regard to highway matters. No doubt, you have travelled the Rossland-Cascade road and well remember the switch-backs on it. Have you thought of a way to eliminate them without having to turn the road south into the States? Don't you agree with government engineer's reports that claim the only logical route is the one from Castlegar to Cascade via the Arrow lakes? Aren't you aware that the Rossland-Cascade road is open only five months a year whereas the Arrow lakes route would be a year-round road?

You also claim this is the shortest route from Rossland to Cascade. We will grant this. But is Rossland the centre of this district? Isn't the southern highway for the whole of the Kootenay and not for just Rossland? If we take Castlegar as the central point, you will find that from Castlegar to Cascade by the Arrow lakes is shorter by about 10 miles than the Rossland route.

No doubt, Rossland Eyrie, you are aware of the boom in Castlegar (or are you?). This boom is also spreading up the Syringa road. What is the cause of the boom? Simply people from Trail finding a more economical place to live. Couldn't they come still farther up the Arrow lake if there was a good highway?

There are spots on the Syringa road and, if the road is extended and we hope that it is, many other places of beuty between Syringa and Renata; there are views of the Arrow lake, that fully compare with the beauty of Christina. Again, when and if, the road from Renata to Cascade is completed, there are views of Christina over the divide that will compare to the view from Mile 4 on the Rossland-Cascade road.

Renata Roads Committee.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

NEED REALIZED

Discussion on the Canadian defense estimates, so far as it has gone, has been less critical than in recent years. This is not due to the $2,000,000 reduction from the previous year, but to the fact that members who formerly opposed military expenditure as a matter of habit have come to realize, in the light of recent developments, that Canada must make something more than a pretence of taking care of her own defence.— St. Thomas Times-Journal.

"For use in cooking or on the table Pacific Milk has that extra something that makes it the choice of our family," writes a user at Bralorne. "The kiddies think there is no other to compare with it for their morning porridge or on fruit of any kind."
Such letters give a point of view valuable to know—how Pacific Milk is appreciated by those who use it.

Close Creston Basketball With Prize Giving

CRESTON, B. C. — Creston Valley basketball league season was officially closed Friday night when the league officers and players celebrated at a supper and dance at the new Catholic hall. The affair attracted a good turnout of players, sponsors, and a sprinkling of hoop fans of both sexes.

F. V. Staples, league vice-president, was toastmaster and in addition to the talks there were some vocal and tap dancing numbers, and community singing, that went over in capital fashion.

Public school principal, E. Marriott, submitted a condensed review of the year's operations, which indicated the league had enjoyed better financial support than the year previous and that rivalry in the intermediate division had equalized a falling off in competition in the men's senior section, which had only three entries.

The ladies' division furnished an exceptionally keen race. Wynndel quintette had been slow in starting but came strong in the last half of league play to take both the league championship as well as the playoff honors. Wynndell also took the men's championship, and the intermediate honors came to Creston high school.

Reeve Mallandaine was guest speaker, in addition to which he presented the cups to Miss Opal LaBelle and Ben Crawford, who were adjudged the most valuable players to their respective teams the past season. Mr. Crawford was also remembered with a cigarette lighter by Canyon men's team. It was their first year in senior circles and the gift was in appreciation of help given them in getting acquainted with the sport prior to the league opening.

In the absence of Frank Nadon, donor of the cup for ladies' championship, the presentation of the silverware was made by Mrs. Nadon. It went to Wynndel, and was acknowledged by Mrs. Fred Martello, captain of the squad. Associated with the presentation were Miss Olive Norgrove, coach of the High School girls, and A. W. Dickinson, who sponsored Creston Motors.

The silver cup, emblematic of the men's championship, donated by H. F. Packman, also went to Wynndel. It was presented by J. F. Hunden of Canyon, in absence of the donor. The recipient was Fred Martello. Both spoke in felicitous terms of the play in the men's section. Associated with the presentation were E. Browell of Canyon, and C. F. Hayes, sponsor of the cellar champion Canadians.

Frank Putnam, M. L. A., presented his own cup, going to Creston High School, intermediate king pins, and was received by Wilfred LaBelle. Associated with this gift were T. Gauthier, coach of the high school boys; Allan Speers, sponsor and coach of the intermediates, and E. Uri of Wynndel.

With Miss M. Shera at the piano, surrounded by a group of volunteer vocalists, the community singing was hearty and harmonious. Miss Ethel VanAckeren was a favorite with a vocal number, and Miss Thelma Erickson's tap dancing was loudly acclaimed. Dancing followed.

Hockey Fever Grips Saskatoon as Trail-Cornwall Game Nears

Sell-Out Indicated Tomorrow Night as the Smoke Eaters and Flyers Open Allan Cup Finals; Flyers Look Good

EXPERTS SEE IT AS A 50-50 SERIES; PIPER HOPES GET BOYS GOING EARLY

SASKATOON, April 11 (CP) — The hockey fever which gripped this city in mid-March and resulted in nine straight sell-outs at the local arena but which ebbed away after the local team was knocked out of the play-offs was raging here again today.

Early this evening, rink officials stated there was no doubt the "S. R. O." sign would be hung up long before the first game in the Allan cup finals starts here Wednesday night. Ticket sale opened today and already more than two-third of the seats have been taken and phone reservations and letters continue to pour in from every part of the province, which will witness its first Allan cup final when Trail Smoke Eaters and Cornwall Flyers clash Wednesday.

CORNWALL IMPRESSIVE

Both contenders for the historic trophy had brisk workouts today and Cornwall impressed the few railbirds who saw them with their speed and clever stickhandling. They will have a decided edge in weight over the Smoke Eaters, but that is nothing new for the British Columbians who have faced that condition several times in their triumphant march through western provincial champion teams.

Smoke Eaters polished up their passing plays today and Coach Elmer Piper is attempting to find some way to make his charges go their best in the early periods. Throughout the play-offs Trail have been "late starters" and they failed to display their flashy brand of passing in the third game against Port Arthur Bearcats until the second overtime period. Then they really went to town and rammed home five goals, almost certainly a record for overtime play in an Allan cup zone final.

50-50 SERIES

The experts trying to assess the chances of the two teams figured it was a 50-50 series and while they rate Smoke Eaters as among the greatest teams produced in the west they are not under-estimating Flyers who they figure must have had "something on the ball" to take out Falconbridge in two straight games.

Many players and scouts of major league teams have made reservations for the game which is expected to produce some of the most brilliant hockey seen in Allan cup series.

Both teams were guests today of service clubs and after practicing they spent some hours visiting points of interest around the city but the hope of the Cornwall boys to find some bucking broncos was not satisfied. The old west just "ain't what it used to be" they discovered.

Fishing to Open Friday 10 Lakes in East Kootenay

Former Barren Lakes Now First Interior Open to Fishing

Ten lakes in East Kootenay open for fishing Friday, the earliest trout fishing available to residents of the southern interior.

These are all stocked lakes, most of them barren previous to the planting of game fish in them. They are being declared open at this time because the fish in them do not spawn, although in one or two instances they are beginning to go up small creeks and some natural spawning is in evidence. Had it not been for stocking these waters, there would be no angling for sport fish in the interior until May 1, it is pointed out by officials of the fish culture branch, B. C. game department.

The season is about 10 days more advanced than last year, it is reported, some of the lakes a year ago being frozen almost up to the opening day of fishing. They are all open now.

The lakes opening Friday are: Premier, 45 miles northeast of Cranbrook; Horseshoe, between Bull river and Fort Steele; Smiths, four miles west of Cranbrook; Echo, near the Skookumchuk ferry; Twin, seven miles south of Cranbrook; Quartz, near Wasa; Manistee, near Galloway; Loon, near Roosville; Mud or Rock lake, one mile south of Caithness; and Tie, near Jaffray.

BARTENDER, CLERK AND SOLDIER TO TRY FOR WALKER CUP SQUAD

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—The Royal and Ancient Golf club today named an Irish bartender, a St. Andrew's cigar store clerk and a Welsh soldier among those selected to complete the British Walker cup trial squad.

The squad of 25 will play May 5 and 6 for places on the team which will meet the United States at St. Andrew's, June 3 and 4. British amateurs never have beaten the Americans in the international competition.

The bartender is J. Fitzsimmons, present Irish amateur titleholder who serves drinks at the Portrush Golf club in County Antrim. Andy Dowie is the clerk and St. Andrew's amateur champion the past three years. A. A. Duncan, a member of the Welsh guards, holds the British army title and is rated one of the best putters in the game.

To make the selection as democratic as possible, the committee even chose a left-hander. He is Ivor Somerville Thomas of Liverpool, who reached the sixth round of the British amateur championship in 1933.

Other additions, made after protest by London sports writers who accused the selection committee of ignoring some of the country's best prospects, were: Harry Bentley, D. H. R. Martin, James Lindsay, W. R. S. McLeod and Eric McRuvie.

POLICE FRISK HOCKEY FANS AT CHICAGO GAME

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP).—Six thousand hockey fans occupying general admission seats were given a general frisking before they entered Chicago stadium last night to witness the bruising game in which Blackhawks defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1.

As a result, police confiscated about 50 to 60 bags containing lemons, tomatoes, bottles and overripe fruit.

Police failed however, to pick up numerous decks of cards which at periods were tossed from the two top galleries to the ice and scattered in every direction.

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., April 11 (CP) — Sterling Brooks of New Glasgow, a member of the Glace Bay Miners hockey team, died in hospital today after a fellow-member of the Nova Scotia senior champions had given a blood transfusion in an attempt to save his life.

Brooks was innjured in play-off game against Antigonish.

LONDON (CP) — Arsenal football club's visit to Vienna at the end of the English season seems "very remote, but no official decision has yet been made," says George Allison, manager of the Gunners.

Col. Fraser is a former resident of the Federation of Rifle Associations of the Ottawa district. Captain Worsick was a shooting member of the 1936 Bisley team.

MILLWALL, England, (CP) — First-team players of five years' service will be given a £500 ($2500) benefit by Millwall, English soccer league, southern section team whose big "gates" are envied by major division clubs. Benefits may go to £650 ($3250) if the team gains second-division status.

Winners Want Change in Today's St. Boniface-Oshawa Tilt Officials

TORONTO, April 11 (CP)—A big push, instigated by Oshawa Generals, was under way tonight to have the referees changed for tomorrow's Memorial cup hockey game against St. Boniface Seals.

Considering Oshawa won the first game of the best-of-five series here Saturday, 3-2, the demand was unusual. Even more strange was the Seals' defence of the officials, Russ McBride of Winnipeg and Hap Shouldice of Ottawa. Usually any squabbling about officiating originates in the losers' camp.

Gil Paulley, manager of the Manitoba team, declared late today his players were satisfied with the officiating. "In fact it was excellent," he asserted.

McBride is the main bone of contention. The Generals maintained it was unethical for one who had officiated in St. Boniface games during the regular season to participate in the current series.

Officials of the Ontario Hockey association took up the matter with Cecil Duncan, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association, at Ottawa. The O.H.A. suggested two National league whistle-blowers be conscripted.

Aside from the officiating, Oshawa's coach, Doc Rowden, has another worry—that of filling Dan McTavish's place. This sturdy defenceman was eliminated from further competition when he fractured his wrist in the first three minutes of play Saturday night.

Ross Knippel dropped back from his wing position to fill the breach, but Rowden is said to be toying with the idea of giving Brick Calhoun a chance on the rearguard. Calhoun has not seen service for several weeks.

Hawks Favorites as Go Into What May Be the Deciding Game Tonight

Leafs on Short End of 13-10 Betting Odds at Chicago

By SYDNEY GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, April 11 (CP)—Chicago finally got around today to installing the scarred Black Hawks, who have laborated somewhat on Red Dutton's famous "Keep Punching" cry, as favorites to win the Stanley cup. It was bound to happen sometime as long as they kept pulling surprises from the National Hockey league playoff hat.

As the regular season finished three weeks ago, Chicago fans were pleasantly surprised to find the Hawks in the playoffs, even though they made it backwards—by Detroit's inability to win. And Bill Stewart's veterans went on without break.

They were only one victory from the cup today, leading the once-favored Toronto Maple Leafs two games to one in the best-of-five series resuming tomorrow night. Not once have Hawks, overcoming injuries and rookie substitutions for veteran stars, started as favorites against the National league champions.

But last night's 2-1 victory, taken after Leafs for the third straight time shot the first goal inside two minutes, brought renewed respect for the Hawk chances. Betting houses here quoted them 13-10 favorites to succeed Detroit Red Wings as world professional champions.

There was gloom in the Maple Leaf camp. Displeased by the work of one goal judge and the penalty timekeeper last night, Manager Conny Smythe telegraphed President Frank Calder at Montreal asking that new minor officials from New York be appointed for the fourth game.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Toronto's Larry Gains, unbeaten in three years' campaigning in England as British Empire heavyweight boxing champion, was dethroned by Don McCorkindale of South Africa five years ago tonight at London. Rated then as outstanding challenger for the world title, Gains was knocked out in the 10th and last round.

VANCOUVER, April 11 (CP)—Permission was granted late Sunday night by the track and field committee of the B. C. branch of the A. A. U. to the Clan McLeary of Nelson to hold a meet in the interior city on Labor day.

It was reported earlier in the evening that decision had been reserved on the Clan application, erroneously said to have been for a Dominion day meet.

Rossland Sport Spot

By M. W.

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 11, 1938.

Gathering from what Referee Curly Wheatley had to say about the type of hockey that the Trail Smoke Eaters were playing, it would indeed be a revelation for the Trail Smoke Eater supporters and others to see them in action again. Perhaps they are a bit surprised themselves to learn that they have such a potent reserve of hockey strength to call into action in emergencies.

Those who make the trip to Calgary will need every ion of strength within them for the verbal support that they will lend this great hockey machine from Trail in order to help in downing the eastern representatives from Cornwall.

When the laurels are handed out at the conclusion of the Smoke Eaters' hockey activities for this season, those who were instrumental in building up and securing such material as Ab Cronie, Mickey Brennan, "Bunny" Dame, Benoit, Scodellaro, Snowden and others should receive their share of recognition. This year's executive has unquestionably built up an appreciative and truly enviable record, but they would be the first to admit that the Smoke Eater team was not made into a championship squad in a year.

Sunday night B. C. A. H. president, A. W. McDonald, who is en route to the annual meeting of the C. A. H. A. at Ottawa, was fortunate enough to be able to cast his approving or disapproving eye (we'll learn which, on his return) over the Chicago Black Hawks and the Toronto Maple Leaf teams who meet in Chicago in their third of a best of five series for the N. H. L. championship. "Gus" left for Spokane Saturday morning, and via American route will be in Ottawa Thursday for the first session.

GONZAGA EVOKES SNICKERS

Reading a story about the Gonzaga University hockey team, which recruited players from Rossland and Trail and other Canadian points, the high compliments indirectly handed out to Canadian hockey players in the following excerpts from a Spokane paper are quite interesting: "Gonzaga's 5 to 1 victory over the University of Minnesota here last week apparently has writen finis to the most phenomenal athletic record ever attained by a northwest University in any sport." "Gonzaga ripped a dazzling swath through the ranks of American and Canadian amateur and collegiate teams, establishing themselves at the apex of the sport west of the Mississippi river." As I lift my sleeve and laugh I feel that I am alone, but nevertheless I must laugh.

CHANCE FOR BASEBALL

Due to the rather unfavorable situation existing in the lacrosse ranks as a result of the action taken in connection with the Rossland rink, baseball has a great chance to lift its head and gain a footing equal to hockey and lacrosse in the West Kootenay if organized properly and immediately. I see no reason why the competition in baseball could not be worked up into a keenly contested sport between Rossland, Nelson and Trail, and possibly one or two other entries.

"Casey" Jones, Trail's classy first sacker and a slugger of note, when approached on the subject, expressed identical ideas. The only snag seems to be in getting Nelson and Rossland to compete against Trail's usually superior nine. Yet if the other two clubs went after ball clubs in earnest, an interesting and paying loop could be formed.

Wearing a Seattle sweater, one of the many teams for which he performed during his pro hockey days, Oliver Reinnika gave us a bit of his philosophy Saturday night when accompanied by Rossland's recent hockey acquisition, E. Cormier of Lethbridge, in regard to refereeing and hockey players in general. Oliver, who has spent the better part of his life playing amateur and professional hockey, never donned a uniform this winter, and after refereeing in the western Canada finals last winter and in the W. K. H. L. during the early part of this season, was suddenly dropped from the staff of referees, but he will probably be ringing the bell again in the W. K. H. L. next winter and feeling better.

"Jimmy" Schrump, who played with the Rossland Miners a year ago, recently acquired a car. The other morning he went out to start the crate but the darned thing wouldn't even cough.

After considerably priming and coaxing he discovered that someone had filled the gas tank with ashes. Sunday he was seen with a magnifying glass and a Philo Vance expression on his face, Rossland may yet have a "G" men's organization.

SPORT SIMMERINGS FROM WIRE

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 11 (CP) — Polls among jockeys and horsemen favor War Admiral over Seabiscuit in their proposed $100,000 matched race—but not Nick Wall, Canadian jockey who beat out Seabiscuit in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap while aboard Stagehand—he thinks Seabiscuit is "the greatest horse in training."

Bill Terry Jr., son of the New York Giants manager, is a regular on the University of Virginia team—he pitches and plays second base.

Eighteen months of fisticuffing brought Henry Armstrong, the featherweight fighting king, some $35,000—Tommy Farr is reported eating only two meals a day now, a habit developed while training for Jim Braddock—Father Bernard Hubbard, the "Padre of the Glaciers," booming sport interest as well as Christianity in Alaska, has a "frozen gloves" amateur boxing tourney scheduled for Thursday.

ONE MORE WEDDING!

chairs and divans. Rows of books lined the walls, and the firelight shone on polished copper and brass. It was a man's room. Instantly Barbara liked it. She wished that she could get acquainted with it alone. These two people, though one of them was Natalie, spoiled it for her.

Jack Metcalf had thrown open a door. "Want to leave your coats in here?"

The door led into the bedroom, which was furnished in the same mode as the living room. It had a large desk and notebooks. There were a few good prints, and a careless assortment of photographs overflowing a leather holder. A few had fallen on the floor. Barbara stooped to retrieve them. One was a photograph of a famous actor. The other was a girl. She recognized the face—Ruth Merryweather. She did not mean to read the inscription but the letters grew and grew until they blotted out the face: "To Garry, in memory of something, Ruth."

In memory of something — in memory of what? Three breathless words, a snow ride through Central park, or a magic moment on somebody's terrace with the bridges, hanging slim and luminous, against the sky and river? In memory of something—

She put the picture away with steady hands. Jack had said there might be other guests. She hoped there would be. She would be very gay, very happy. That is, the people would think she was. An idiotic idea seized her. Had Jack Metcalf meant for that picture to fall? But why should he take such an interest in hurting her? Or did he want to be kind? This morning she might have thought so. Not now. She had found something she did not like in his eyes when he had seen Natalie. Something in the man's eyes, as he stood there, so tall, so dark, so handsome, so sure of his charm. Yes that was it. His sureness—But what had he to do with Natalie?

And what interest could he have in her, just in from the middlewest? Did he think she was going to be swept away by his name and grace? That she would be another victim, someone to put on a pin, like a butterfly, so she would squirm and squirm for a chapter in a book?

Across the room her eyes met in the square mirror — Garry's mirror —and held their own reflection steadily. She was small, but she was sturdy. She would keep her feet in their low-heeled brogues on the ground. She was glad that she had not worn something fragile and decorative to this tea. For some reason she did not understand she had chosen brogues and a green knitted dress. Maybe because she did not want to go to Garry's in a party frock.

From beyond came the low, well-trained murmur of voices, where Natalie, who had rejoined Jack, talked to the author.

Barbara's remark was planned to be light and trivial as she joined the two.

"How do you keep your voices so beautifully modulated? Against this overture to outside noise—" that was rather bad — the noise was muted by the time it climbed 23 flights to Garry's rooms — "I should think you would go around screaming gently."

"A New York habit," Jack answered lazily. "We eat out most of the time and we don't want our neighbors to overhear our words."

"You have such secrets that it matters?"

Jack's eyes met Natalie's for an imperceptible second but Barbara saw the glance. "Sometimes. In the days when people did their dining behind locked doors, people made a lot of light love. That's where the habit started. Gay love, Barbara — the kind to be cherished for the evening and forgotten day after tomorrow."

"But women and elephants have such a time with their memories," Natalie was saying. Barbara's eyes opened wider.

"An airmail stamp for your thoughts," Jack was saying wickedly.

NEWSPAPER MADE FROM BLACK GUM PULPWOOD

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 11 (AP).—Successful printing of a daily newspaper on paper manufactured from black gum pulpwood was announced Saturday by Dr. Charles H. Herty, chemist who first developed newsprint from slash pine.

Bankers throughout the United States will receive copies of the Savannah Evening Press, printed on both black gum and slash pine paper, Dr. Herty said, in a nationwide effort to attract attention to "a profitable investment field."

PERSONAL CELEBRATION FORDS' GOLDEN WEDDING

DETROIT, April 11 (AP).—Henry Fort and Clara Bryant Ford today reached the 50th anniversary of the partnership they began in the parlor of a Greenfield village farmhouse on a day when there were no motorcars and Ford's parents expected him to become a farmer.

Because Ford generally discourages celebrations and observances, the golden wedding anniversary celebration is to be personal and informal.

SEPARATION GRANTED

DUBLIN, April 11 (CP).—Mrs. William Francis Lynch, 31-year-old wife who was spanked by her husband "one one would beat an unruly child," was granted a decree of judicial separation in the high court on grounds of cruelty. Mr. Justice Hanna told the husband his conduct had been "insulting and degrading."

Gains Wiped Out as Dull Session Closes, Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, April 11 (CP).—Moderate new-crop wheat export purchases failed to offset profit-taking and adverse intermarket spreading on Winnipeg grain exchange today. Opening gains of more than a cent were wiped out as the dull session closed ⅝—1⅛ cents lower, May $1.24¾, July $1.13⅛ and October 89⅞ cents.

Canadian export sales were estimated at 300,000 bushels mostly for shipment next October or November. Slow cash wheat demand and the hesitant trend at Chicago were inducements for liquidation.

Reports from the United States southwest winter wheat belt indicate moisture received recently more than offset any damage caused by freezing temperatures.

Liverpool finished 1 to ¼ higher with Italy expected to purchase quantities of foreign wheats. United Kingdom millers took three cargoes of Australian and several parcels of Indian wheat during the week-end.

Cables also stated a revised Australian government estimate places Australian wheat crop production at 180,000,000 bushels, 30,000,000 higher than 1937.

Buenos Aires moved ⅝ cent ahead at noon.

Cash wheat demand was slow. Sales were made with spreads lightly easier both for Red Springs and Durum grades. Coarse grains moved within a narrow range.

World wheat shipments last week were 9,336,000 bushels, slightly lower than the previous week and 4,000,000 below those of last year. North American clearances totalled 1,506,000 bushels.

The production of gypsum in Canada during January was recorded at 6,159 tons, compared with 71,272 in the previous month and 8473 in January, 1937.

WALL STREET PRICES LOWER

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP) — Stocks put on an orderly retreat in today's market, leaders generally dropping fractions to two points with a few suffering wider declines.

While the news was not particularly disturbing, the sharp Friday-Saturday upswing apparently inspired traders to cash in part of their gains. Some short selling was also in evidence, the theory here being that last weeks recovery was a bit too speedy and that a setback of at least technical proportions was due.

The principal development of the day, the president's railroad message to congress, was viewed as moderately favorable in financial quarters, but failed as a prime stimulator for carrier shares.

TORONTO LOSES

TORONTO, April 11 (CP)—Shedding its gains in the closing period, Toronto market finished the day with minor losses showing for all index groups except the western oils. Aggregate turnover was only 586,000 shares.

Dome recorded a ½-point decline. Other senior golds were steady while prices were off narrowly for Hard Rock, Little Long Lac, MacLeod Cockshutt, McKenzie, O'Brien Pickle Crow, and Teck Hughes. Central Patricia, Macassa, Premier and East Malartic held up.

Noranda scored a point decline and Hudson Bay and Nickel fractional losses. Smelters held a minor gain.

Steels, banks and building shares maintained a margin of gains over losses.

16 STRIKES, LOCKOUTS IN CANADA IN MONTH

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP)—There were 16 strikes and lockouts in Canada during March involving 206 workers and resulting in time loss of 10,134 working days, compared with 11 disputes in February involving 1644 workers with time loss of 4456 days.

Seek Explanation of Activity in United Kingdom Wheat Market

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 11 (CP Cable).—United Kingdom traders today still were seeking an explanation of the sudden and mystifying activity of the wheat market the past three trading days, bringing a sharp rise in prices after almost a month of decline.

It is estimated approximately 8,000,000 bushels were purchased Friday, Saturday and today, one of the most active periods in months, with the bulk of business ascribed to British millers. Today's buoyant session, however, was largely ascribed to speculative support.

Traders are inclined to doubt reports the millers are in possession of private information which justified placing the price outlook in a more favorable light, prompting the following comment from the Financial News:

"It is quite probable the millers were acting for the British government. And if they were, has the outlook for wheat prices changed a great deal? . . . It is more likely to mean the government has merely decided to utilize existing storage capacity more fully. If that is so the effect on wheat prices would largely be temporary. . . . The millers' buying policy during the next few weeks should show whether this view of the government's intentions is correct or not."

Royalite 29 Hailed as Large Producer

CALGARY, April 11 (CP)—Following acid treatment of the upper producing limestone Royalite 29, far-north crude producer in Turner Valley, was put on the separator Saturday, and has shown a substantial increase in production, J. H. McLeod, Royalite president, said last night.

Local oilmen hail the proving of Royalite 29 as a large producer as the most important development in the valley since completion of Commoil, largest well in the field, on the west flank last summer. They believe it opens up hundreds of acres in the northern end of the field and may bring about wide changes in drilling programs of many companies.

WOULD BUILD SEADROMES TO ASSIST AIR TRAVEL

VANCOUVER, April 11 (CP)—E. Heiser, the Australian engineer who has dreamed for 20 years of a day when giant man-made islands floating in mid-ocean would make possible regular passenger flights around the world, was in Vancouver today seeking sponsorship for his project.

He said the plans he carried in a brief-case had been inspected by British and American scientists and termed "highly feasible".

MEALY BUG CONTROL IS OBJECT OF EXPERIMENTAL SPRAYS MADE AT HARROP BY DENNYS AND HUNT

Four Plots in Slater Orchard; Hope Get Parasite

Seeking control of mealy bugs, which within the past few years have spread rapidly in Kootenay orchards, four experimental plots have been laid out in E. W. Slater's orchard at Harrop and sprays applied. The experiments are being carried out by A. A. Dennys jr., entomologist of Vernon, and E. C. Hunt of Nelson, horticulturist for the West Kootenay district.

Examination on the day following application revealed that the sprays had been of some effect, but it was too early to reveal the full effect, Mr. Hunt stated. Another examination would be made in May, when it would be more nearly possible to determine the effectiveness of the control measures.

Using oil sprays, experiments have been carried out previously at Willow Point, Boswell and Creston, these sprays giving fairly satisfactory control, Mr. Hunt explained. Last year, however, control was not as good and it was decided to test out oil sprays again as well as new materials and combinations.

THE EXPERIMENTS

The sprays used on the experimental plots in Mr. Slater's orchard, the horticulturist stated, were:

Plot 1—6 per cent oil spray.

Plot 2—1 per cent dispersing oil and 5 per cent extract of rotenone, half pint to 100 gallons, and soap flakes, two pounds to 100 gallons.

Plot 3—4 per cent oil plus lime sulphur, 1 to 15.

Plot 4—1 per cent elgetol, by weight (eight pounds per 90 gallons).

Eighty gallons of spray was used on each plot.

HOPE GET PARASITE

Mr. Dennys stated it was hoped shortly to obtain a parasite to combat mealy bugs, application having been made for a supply. Mealy bugs apparently were not native to the Kootenay, he said, but were brought in some years ago. This was why there was no parasitic enemy of the bugs in the district now. If it were introduced natural control would be of marked assistance.

The mealy bug might spread rapidly if there was no control, Mr. Dennys added, for each female laid 400 eggs.

Seven Transfers For Men Nelson Forest District

Four Rangers in New Posts; Allen Will Have New Aid

JUNIOR FORESTER ADDED TO STAFF

Four transfers within the southeastern interior district and three others between the Victoria and Nelson offices of the forest branch are now under way in a reorganization of forest branch personnel it was announced Monday by R. E. Allen, district forester at Nelson. The reorganization is expected to be complete May 1 upon arrival at Nelson of K. C. McCannell of Victoria to take over as assistant forester.

The changes within the district follow upon the promotion of J. E. Matheson, ranger at New Denver, to fire inspector and his transfer to Prince Rupert. Under the new line-up Frank Pym, supervisor at Cranbrook, takes over the duties of Robert Cameron, ranger, and will carry on this work with his own. Ranger Cameron goes to Fernie and H. J. Coles, ranger at Fernie, is transferred to Kaslo, while G. E. Palethorpe, ranger at Kaslo, takes the post vacated by Mr. Matheson at New Denver.

MARLING AT VICTORIA

S. E. Marling, who came to Nelson about a year ago from Prince George to become assistant forester under Mr. Allen, is now at Victoria as assistant to E. B. Proud, forester in charge of the timber administration office.

Mr. McCannell, who will succeed him, has been in charge of Young Men's Forestry Training projects and of Forest Development projects on the coast. He was formerly with Mr. Allen at Prince Rupert, when the latter was forester for that district.

JUNIOR FORESTER

A junior forester is also to be added to the Nelson district staff, R. R. Douglas being slated for transfer from Victoria to Nelson.

As part of the reorganization the district covered by T. W. Brewer, supervisor at Nelson, has been extended to include East Kootenay so that he may relieve Supervisor Pym of Cranbrook at times of extra work. Previously Supervisor Brewer covered West Kootenay and the Boundary.

MORE ABOUT SOVIET-JAPAN

Persistent rumors of preparations—lacking official confirmation—and bellicose statements on both sides have intensified public anxiety.

In informed quarters it was understood Japan recently moved some regular army units from China battlefronts to Manchoukuo to man the border of Manchoukuo and Soviet Siberia.

(Russia is believed to have an army of 500,000 men near that border; Japan's forces in Manchoukuo and Korea have been estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000.

WOULD ATTACK RUSSIA FIRST

Many Japanese leaders have been described as advocates of an attack on Russia before the Soviet army could strike.

The foreign office spokesman expressed widespread feeling when he said, in comment on alleged mistreatment of Japanese in Russian Sakhalin: "If Russia cares to aggravate the situation we will not hesitate to respond."

Tokyo newspapers today gave prominence to a statement attributed to Marshal Vassily Bleucher, commander of the Soviet far eastern army, that: "Now is the time to fight Japan."

"Certain quarters here"—the conventional designation for the Tokyo government—were said to have received authentic reports of this statement.

(Japanese and neutral military writers have agreed Japan's best divisions were not being sent to China but to northern Manchoukuo. Recently there have been reports the Tokyo high command refused to send additional divisions from the homeland to reinforce the armies which have met reverses or been held to a stalemate in Central China.)

In high circles there are known to be many who favor an immediate "preventive war" against Russia.

JAPANESE RUSH TROOPS

SHANGHAI, April 12 (Tuesday). (AP)—Trainloads of Japanese troops and amunition rolled into north central Shantung province today in a race against time as beleaguered Japanese at Yihsien continued to hold out against repeated Chinese attacks.

Chinese admitted their threat to Tsinan, provincial capital, had been brushed aside as Japanese reinforcements passed through that city and streamed southward on the Tientsin-Pukow railway toward the southern Shangtung front.

The Chinese right wing began to feel new pressure also as Japanese reinforcements from Tsingtao, Shantung port, passed Chuhsien and began driving at the Lini sector.

In the opinion of foreign military observers there was no question but that the Japanese were preparing to intensify the Shantung offensive tremendously by using seasoned regulars and the latest equipment to avenge Chinese attacks at Taierhchwang.

Rotarians Are Advised Guard on Propaganda

Rev. Mr. Silverwood Tells Club Lot in Nelson

"As business men you ought to be on your guard against propaganda," Rev. W. J. Silverwood advised Nelson Rotary club members at their luncheon at the Hume Monday when he spoke on "The Psychology or Conduct of Propaganda."

He illustrated his talk by various local and international examples and described various types of propaganda. He described also three features of it — camouflage, the appeal to the instincts and confabulation.

As a local illustration Mr. Silverwood stated that on one occasion he had been informed four or five men "got together" with the avowed object "to put a certain man out of business," and that he found their propaganda against this individual to be ruthless and without foundation. By going to the principals and giving them 48 hours to prove or disprove their statements or face legal action, the campaign was broken up. Mr. Silverwood described the work of this group as "deliberate, malicious, lying propaganda."

It was unfortunate that, "for lack of a critical faculty, the unsuspecting are led astray," being "unable to separate the wheat from the chaff."

"There is a lot of it going on in Nelson," the speaker declared, asserting that as long as he was able he would fight against propaganda of this nature.

Propaganda had two legitimate functions, to foster group unity and to brighten the lives of the people, Mr. Silverwood added. But it could be a menace.

The man using untrue propaganda to achieve an object degraded himself, as did any nation using it similarly. Mr. Silverwood declared "propaganda which must resort to lies is a most despicable form of propaganda."

Thanks of the club were expressed by E. P. Dawson.

MORE ABOUT ANGLO-ITALIAN

Formal recognition of Ethiopia as Italian then could follow.

The action today took the form of a note to Geneva in which Britain called attention to an "abnormal situation" which should be "cleared up."

The note pointed out "many states which are members of the League, including not less than five represented on the council, recognize that the Italian government exercises sovereignty over Ethiopia or have taken decisions implying such recognition, while other member states have not."

ITALO-FRENCH RELATIONS TO FORE

PARIS, April 11 (CP-Havas)—Prospect an Anglo-Italian pact will be signed this week brought the problem of Italo-French relations abruptly into the foreground in Paris tonight.

Normalization of diplomatic contacts was seen as the first question to be attacked. The French embassy in Rome is conducted by a charge d'affaires, Jules Blondel, due to France's refusal to accredit an ambassador to Victor Emmanuel as king of Italy and "Emperor of Ethiopia." The Italian embassy here is similarly conducted by a charge d'affaires.

Premier Edouard Daladier's new cabinet is seen as reflecting a tendency toward improved relations with Italy, containing such believers in this development as Camille Chautemps, vice-premier, and Georges Bonnet, who, before appointment as foreign minister, was mentioned as a possible new ambassador to Rome.

HITLER SYMPATHIZERS ATTACKED AT HYDE PARK

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Hon. Unity Freeman-Mitford, 25, pro-Hitler daughter of Lord Redesdale, rubbed her chin, bruised by anti-Nazi kicks in Hyde Park Sunday and declared today "I didn't feel frightened one bit."

She lost the swastika badge which the German fuehrer gave her, inscribed with his signature, and escaped with police help in one of London's big red buses when set upon by angry men and women at the fringe of a "save Spain" rally in the park.

Five men who displayed a swastika flag at the park gathering also were pummelled.
